121ST YEAR — NO. 9

Albert Nelson of rural Wakefield puts his arm around one of his fowl friends that he and his wife Janelle raise. The Emu can grow to around 150 pounds. The Nelson's are out to promote the Emu as the healthiest meat and the oil the Emu produces has many uses.

New bird in town!

By Kevin Peterson
Of the Herald

There's a new bird around and if Albert and Janelle Nelson of rural Wakefield have anything to say about it, this bird is here to stay and those that choose to eat it and use the oil it produces, chances are they'll be around longer as well.

The Emu is part of the Australian Ratite Family and though the bird grows to be quite big, up to 150 pounds it is only second on the totem pole in its family as the Ostrich grows to be as much as twice the Emu's size.

So what's the Australian bird doing in Nebraska? Doing its best to clean up America, health wise.

"The Emu is a health conscious alternative to other meat," Albert Nelson said. "As far as consumption of the bird there really is no comparison to anything else because there is virtually no fat."

Raw beef, for instance yields about 6.76 percent fat while pork is at 5.66 percent. Chicken nets out at 4.31 percent fat and deer at 2.24 percent while the Emu stands at 1.83 percent fat. The Emu is high in protein and low in fat and cholesterol. It is high in iron and vitamin 12 and high in HDL, a cholesterol fighting agent while low in LDL, a cholesterol causing agent.

"We first became acquainted with the Emu when we were in Texas," Albert said. "We couldn't believe we saw them roaming around in driveways and alleys in town."

The Nelson's first began raising Emu's about two-and-a-half years ago and currently have around 90 of the birds although it is not uncommon to have a couple hundred on hand at once.

The Emu lays their eggs during the winter months because in Australia, December and January are considered summer months. "The change in climate doesn't bother them," Janelle says.

The birds will lay anywhere from 25 to 40 eggs during the season with an incubation period of around 52 days. "It's like clockwork,"

Janelle said. "The Emu will lay an egg every third day around 5 p.m.—approximately one hour before sunset."

As much as the Emu is an alternative for the health conscious, raising them is an alternative lifestyle for the Nelson's.

"We raised cattle and hogs for many years and we turned that operation over to our sons Craig and Blaine," Albert said. "Raising Emu's doesn't take a lot of ground to form the business."

Nelson said the Emu is a docile bird with no mean tendencies—unlike its cousin the Ostrich. There is virtually no odor in raising the birds which consume ground corn, soybean meal, alfalfa hay along with vitamins and minerals.

"The Emu has a digestive period of about eight hours compared to that of about 48 hours for the Ostrich. They are easy birds to care for with very little veterinary services needed," Albert added.

Fundraiser started

A Christmas fund-raiser has been started by Carla VanMeter of Wayne to generate funds for gifts for kids in the community who might not otherwise have a chance to receive gifts for the holiday.

Candles for Kids will co-exist with the Gifts for Kids campaign by the Jaycees. A Christmas tree will be put up at Pamida this weekend for the Gifts for Kids program.

Any name on the tree that is left following that promotion will be used in the Candles for Kids fundraiser started by VanMeter.

"I believe that every child should have a chance at having a quality Christmas," VanMeter said. "Hopefully, this will generate enough money that every child in this town that is in need, has a chance of receiving a Christmas gift they might not otherwise get."

The candles cost $4.98 and come in five fragrances including Cranberry, Baked Apple, Vanilla, Petals & Pears and Mulberry. "Each candle will burn for approximately 50 hours," VanMeter said. "They can be purchased at Carla's Gifts and Decorating at 321 West 5th Street in Wayne."

Those wishing to purchase candles can also call 375-4511. "Each order for candles is placed on Friday and received the following Friday," VanMeter added. "We will be taking orders until Friday, December 13."

VanMeter also said that any funds left over from the project will be used for the Head Start Program in Wayne. Candles are to be paid for at the time of purchase.

Fantasy Forest to begin

Fantasy Forest 1996 begins Dec. 5 at the National Guard Armory in Wayne.

Sponsored by the Wayne State College ASID Student Chapter and the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce, this year's display runs through Sunday.

On Thursday, the Wayne Rotary Club will sponsor a Soup Supper from 5-8 p.m. and St. Mary's Catholic Church will hold a bake sale from 5-9 p.m.

The tree-lighting ceremony will be held at 5:30 p.m. and the Wayne High Jazz Choir will perform.

The Chamber Coffee will be held at the Armory on Friday along with music by the third and fourth graders from West Elementary.

Santa will be available for pictures on Friday from 6-8:30 p.m. and the Junior High Youth Group from Our Savior Lutheran Church will hold a Bake Sale from 5-8 p.m.

Music will be provided by the WSC Brass Ensemble at 4 p.m., the Wayne Schools' strings students at 5 p.m. and Stepping Stones Pre-School at 7 p.m.

The trees will continue to be on display Saturday, from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. and on Sunday from 1-4 p.m.

Council approves contract

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

The Wayne City Council approved a contract for the last phase of the power plant project and listened to a property owner discuss reasons for keeping West 14th Street open during Tuesday's council.

Earlier this fall the council had rejected bids for the mechanical phase of the power plant expansion and authorized city officials to negotiate a bid for the work that needs to be completed.

At Tuesday's meeting the council accepted a bid of $556,407 from Mid States Erectors in Lincoln for the work. Start up date for the generators is tentatively set for August 1997.

Council also listened to a request by Randy Pick to reconsider an earlier council decision to close West 14th Street.

Pick is the owner of the property just south of 14th Street and requested that the city re-open the street to allow greater access to his property.

"I feel that the street is a necessity for my business and that I was not treated fairly in the closing of the street. I was not notified before it was closed," Pick said.

He also said he is in the process of selling the south end of his property and part of the current driveway and after this happens he will not have a way out of his property.

Thanksgiving Feast

The Pilgrims invited the Indians to a Thanksgiving dinner to celebrate their survival in the New World and to give thanks for a bountiful harvest. The Pilgrims were first graders at West Elementary and the Indians were kindergartners. The group enjoyed a "feast" of cornbread muffins and pumpkin dessert which they had prepared. The group also was appropriately dressed for the occasion.

Foundation offers opportunity to help

Providence Medical Center Foundation announces that for the first time citizens of Wayne and the surrounding communities will have an opportunity to participate in an exciting Christmas event at the hospital.

Residents are invited to display their concern for others by supporting the hospital's Holiday Home Health/Hospice Tree program during the Christmas season.

Individuals and businesses are invited to contribute to the effort. The tree will be placed in the lobby of PMC from Dec. 2-31 and will be decorated with hundreds of white lights and bright Christmas ribbon and cards bearing the names of loved ones whom people choose to honor.

"You might celebrate the birth of a child or grandchild, or the loving memory of a friend, relative or someone special in your life. It's an opportunity to show love with a 'Ribbon of Life' on the Holiday HomeHealth/Hospice Tree," said Foundation President Sandy Bartling.

"We invite those person who may not have received a card in the mail to come to the hospital personally, make a donation, fill out a card and hang it on the Holiday Tree where it remain throughout the Christmas season," Ms. Bartling said.

Cards will be available at the Foundation Office.

The Holiday Tree will be a centerpiece attraction at the Providence Medical Center this Christmas. Area residents and friends of HomeHealth and Hospice services are invited to join in the celebration, honor or remember a special person and at the same time help recognize Providence HomeHealth Hospice services with a donation.

"Those of us who work with the hospice program certainly know that the community backs our efforts. We are so very grateful for the support. And, we certainly hope everyone is as excited about our Holiday Tree as we are," said Jean Kinney, Director of Providence Hospice Services.

Providence Center HomeHealth Services director is Terri Munter.

Anyone with questions on how to donate to the Holiday Tree should call the Foundation at (402) 375-5529.

Christmas Tour of Homes

(Fourth of a Five-Week Feature)

The Wayne County Historical Society is planning a Christmas tour of homes for Saturday, Dec. 7. Tours will be given between 1 and 5 p.m. Snow date for the event will be Sunday, Dec. 8.

Proceeds from the tours will be used for renovation and upkeep of the Historical Society Museum. A number of businesses have contributed to the decorating of the museum.

Homes on the tour will include Grandma Butch's Bed & Breakfast, Bob and Jodie Jordan's home, David and Kaki Ley's home and Carter and Nana Peterson's home.

One of these homes will be featured each week in the Herald until the date of the tour.

CARTER & NANA PETERSON, 502 Douglas Street
This Colonial Cape Cod house was built in 1942 for Anna and Nina Thompson. The crown molding in the living and dining rooms is original as are the oak floors, which were restored this past summer. The family room was added in 1977. The house features three bedrooms upstairs, four bathrooms and three fireplaces. The Petersons purchased the house in 1987. Most of their antiques are family pieces.

The Petersons enjoy auctions and antiquing and have been collecting Christmas ornaments, old and new, all of their married life. The collection overflowed into the living room and thus the pink tree evolved. The children's tree was added in 1995. Many of the ornaments on the fresh tree in the family room are 40 to 50 years old. Each year after Christmas Nana removes the ornaments, one by one, dusting and individually wrapping each for storage in a trunk.

The Emu takes approximately 52 days of incubation before hatching. It takes about 14 months before they reach the desired weight of 100-120 pounds.

Bird

Once the bird reaches the desired weight of between 100 and 120 pounds which takes about 14 months they are taken to slaughter and at the present time the Nelson's travel to Bronson, Kansas.

"The bird will dress out to around 35 pounds of meat with another 15 to 20 pounds of fat which is taken to another processing plant in Marlo, Oklahoma for the oil," Albert said.

Emu is very similar to extremely lean beef. Emu, however is very dark with no marbling in the meat. All the fat is deposited as a layer between the meat and the hide.

Being a relatively new and exotic food in the United States Emu marketing is done by the individuals raising them. "We're currently seeking out area restaurants to put it on the menu," Albert said. "We would prefer as Emu raisers that the product be introduced professionally."

At the present time, however the Nelson's will oblige any orders taken by phone day or night. Currently, the meat is sold in packages of three steaks for the cost of $12 and four patties in a package for $6.

EATING EMU isn't the only thing that gives this bird something to crow about. The oil from the Emu is and can be used for medicinal purposes, something the Aborigine people of Australia have been doing for more than 1,000 years.

The medicinal purposes of the oil is believed to come from the major monosaturated fatty acid, oleic acid, the acid which is known to enhance the movement of compounds in the skin.

The oil can be used in many ways such as an ointment for aching muscles, arthritis rheumatism, tendonitis, psoriasis, minor burns, scar tissue, itching, insect bites, melanoma's cramping, anti-inflammatory, acne, cold sores, moisturizer, dry skin, slowing of wrinkling and shingles.

Users of the oil say all you have to do is put a few drops on the desired spot and rub it in. The Nelson's say it is documented of an Emu oil user in Texas that went to a physician and was diagnosed with high cholesterol.

The individual went home and because he raised Emu's decided to try it to see if it would help him reduce his cholesterol level and within a 40 day span, his cholesterol dropped from 280 to 160 with the sole aid of Emu oil.

The Nelson's are seeking outlets to sell the oil and there are several places that have it on the shelf such as The Undercut Beauty Shop in Wayne, First Edition Beauty Shop of Wakefield, Mrs. Glen Frevert of Winside, Delmer Ganseboom in Osmond and Meyer & Meyer Grain in Randolph.

As the majority of people gather around the table this Thanksgiving to celebrate turkey or ham dinners, the Nelson's will be relaxing in the confines of their home with an Emu dinner.

It's not too late, however, to buy Emu meat or oil to give as Christmas gifts. Orders can be taken by calling 287-9091.

How to fix your turkey

Kindergarteners at St. Mary's Elementary School have shared their expertise on preparing a Thanksgiving turkey. Their teacher, Diane Gentrup, assisted them in writing down directions for preparing the perfect Thanksgiving bird.

Go to a field and shoot a turkey. Put it in a sack and put it in the truck. Pull the feathers off. Cut off the head. Take out the guts. Put it in a pan and put it in the oven. Cook it for 10 min at 350 degrees.

Nathan Sieler

Go out to a forest and kill a turkey. Take the feathers off. Cook it for 2 hours at 400 degrees.

Tiffany Wisnieski

Go to a forest and shoot a turkey. Take the turkey home and take the heart and bones out. Cook it for 10 min. at 350 degrees.

Taysha Murtaugh

Go to Pac 'n Save and buy a turkey. Take out the bones and cook the turkey. Cook it 2 hours on a very hot temperature.

Katie Kinney

Go to Wal-Mart and buy a turkey. Put the turkey in a pan and put it in the oven. Cook it for 10 min. at a hot temperature.

Anna West

I'd get my bow and arrow and I would go hunting with my dad. Then when we got home my mom, dad and I helped cook the turkey. I would first take the feather off. I would clean the turkey off. I'd put it in the oven for 5 min. at 350 degrees. I would then eat it for supper.

John Murray

Go to Pac 'n Save and get a turkey. Cook it for about one-half hour at 11 degrees.

Michael Denklau

Go to Quality Foods and buy a turkey. Put it in the oven and cook it for two hours at 400 degrees.

Zachary Braun

I would get my turkey at Pac 'n Save. I would put it on the stove for 3 hours.

Joe Whitt

Go to Quality Foods and buy our turkey. Put lemon juice and strawberry juice over your turkey. Bake your turkey for 4 minutes at 350 degrees.

Blood Bank stops at WSC

The Siouxland Blood Bank held a blood drive at Wayne State College on Nov. 19-20.

On Tuesday a total of 82 people volunteered to donate on Nov. 19 and 69 units of blood were collected, including 34 first time donors. On Wednesday, 112 people volunteered to donate and 78 units of blood were collected. A total of 53 first time donors donated blood that day.

Angela Kuhnes was recognized for being a one gallon donor.

"The Blood Bank would like to thank Jeremy Jamison and the TKE members for helping to arrange the blood drive," said Todd Gilmer, Donor Resource Consultant for the Blood Bank.

Pick who would maintain the street if it were re-opened. Pick said he would be willing to take partial responsibility for its upkeep and that maintaining it would be no more expensive than maintaining the grass that the city proposes to put in.

The street has been maintained by property owners in the past and for at least 30 years has not actually been used as a street.

Council asked Pick to draw up specifications for his plans for the area and have the information to the council before the next meeting.

In other action, the council authorized an agreement with the Nebraska Department of Roads relating to the Highway 35 Widening Project.

Bids will be taken in February with construction on the west part of the project to be completed in 1997 and the east part of the project to be completed in 1998.

After executive session, the council voted 6-2 to approve a pay raise for City Administrator Joe Salitros. Salitros will receive a four percent pay raise which is similar to that of other city employees.

Call for reevaluation

Motorists westbound out of Wayne drive 60 mph as per posted speed limits. Those heading east may also drive 60 mph. But the westbound traffic turning south at the eight-mile corner west of Wayne, headed for Winside, Hoskins and Norfolk, must slow to a posted 55 mph. Why?

The State Department of Roads has the responsibility of posting speed limits, thereby being liable if an accident occurs and it is proven the State did not act in a responsible manner. But is that 55 mph limit on Highway 35 appropriate when, according to the Wayne County Sheriff's office, the road was originally designed for 65 mph?

Sheriff Janssen says more accidents have occurred on the eight-mile stretch west of Wayne, and on the eight-miles east of Wayne, than on the strip now designated for 55 mph.

Information from the State argues the limit was left at 55 mph due to stopping sight distance, shoulder width, bridge width, horizontal curves and roadside obstacles. The state claims these conditions necessitate the slower speed.

Only four signs post the 55 mph limit: one south of the eight-mile corner, one north and one south of the Winside turnoff, and one at Hoskins. Out-of-the-area hunters or visitors pulling onto the highway from a country road may find it difficult to discover the slower limit.

The last Wayne County traffic fatality occurred in 1992, reflecting a four-year safety record.

We believe the state should reevaluate its statistical data, and post all of Highway 35 with 60 mph limits.

Safety is not always a result of slower speed limits, but rather the consequence of cautious, courteous and alert driving.

We disagree with the state in believing motorists would encounter an increased risk if the same 60 mph speed limit was posted for all of Highway 35.

ULG is latest government concept

By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Coming soon to a Legislature near you: ULGs!

That acronym that has the sound of someone choking on a Big Mac is the latest concept to help cut property taxes.

It's one of many that is expected to be served up in the Nebraska Legislature in January.

ULGs or "universal local governments" would be a combination city and county government, under a preliminary proposal of State Sen. Jerome Warner of Waverly, the main architect of the Legislature's property tax reduction plan.

"Consolidation" and "merger" are some of the hottest terms around the Capitol these days.

The idea of ULGs is if counties and cities could merge services — like the sheriff's office and the police department or the public works and roads departments — a whole bunch of cash could be saved. Saved cash means less property taxes.

Plus, such consolidations might mean fewer supervisors and more truck drivers and cops that really do the work of government.

That is the same concept behind the Nebraska Partnership for Health and Human Services, the Nelson Administration's plan for merging five state agencies into three.

There's too much duplication, the governor's people say, between the departments of Health, Social Services, Aging and Public Institutions and the Office of Juvenile Services. If we get these people better computers and better job descriptions, well, we'd save money.

But there's plenty of skepticism about such merger/consolidation plans.

The state employees union brass suspects that the Partnership project is just a ploy to privatize a whole bunch of state jobs. That means lots of union workers laid off, and a bunch of business for insurance companies and consultants that would take over the job of signing up welfare recipients and following the cases of juvenile delinquents.

The union folks claim that privatizing doesn't always work and doesn't save money, while government officials contend that giving services to the lowest bidder has to be more efficient.

Some different arguments come when talking about merging local governments or schools.

In terms of small-town schools, many folks like the idea of keeping their school in town open and don't mind paying the extra property taxes. (Under the Legislature's plan at this point, they'll be able to do that.)

I suspect that people also like the convenience of having a local city hall or county courthouse nearby, or knowing who is driving the maintainer down the road or who to call when the water main starts leaking.

Bigger governments means more impersonal governments. Are Nebraskans willing to give up some local control for lower taxes?

We'll find out in the next few months as Legislators get a good taste of ULGs and other cost-cutting ideas.

The views expressed in Capitol News are those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Nebraska Press Association.

A drawing is held at 11:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. Winners must be present in a participating business.

Chamber exec wants to communicate

Oops! I erred! Last week I mentioned that Fantasy Forest was originated by Sandra Metz. Sandra very graciously brought it to my attention that this Wayne Christmas festival was actually started some years ago. My sincere apologies are extended to anyone who helped begin this festival.

In any case, I am really looking forward to my first Fantasy Forest. I love Christmas trees!

In a change of topics, let's look at the activities of Wayne Industries, Inc. Several years ago Wayne Industries identified several areas of significance. Those are communication, recruitment of business and existing business retention and expansion. These three focus areas continue to provide direction for this local economic development group.

This column, for instance, serves as a means of expanding the communications of Wayne

Industries, a way of letting more people in the local area know what's happening.

Another form of communication, a web page, has been developed. An updated version of the Wayne Facts book will be put on the Internet. Wayne Public High School put this information on a floppy disk for our use in a direct mail campaign.

Last week I spoke to a group of Nebraska LEAD participants at Wayne State College. This group of forty-some individuals are all involved in either production agriculture or in agribusiness in both large and small communities throughout Nebraska.

My topic, "Three Steps to Small Town Survival and Success," emphasized the economic development efforts currently underway by Wayne Industries and the Chamber.

In addition to the direct mail campaign, long range planning for business recruitment has begun. A task of this magnitude requires well-thought, solid preparation.

Currently, Wayne Industries is working with economic developers from the Nebraska Department of Economic Development, Nebraska Public Power District and UtilCorp. in making these plans. Members of Wayne Industries received notification of an educational dinner meeting with representatives from these three groups.

Existing businesses are a major key to a town's economic development efforts. If those businesses cannot continue to exist in the economic environment of a community, it won't be long before that community begins to suffer and ultimately die. Therefore, both Wayne Industries and the Chamber recognize the importance of existing business in Wayne.

Preparation is underway for a Chamber Membership Blitz to be held in February. The Chamber's Ambassadors, along with the Board

Chamber Corner

By Gaila Gilliland
Executive Director of Directors will "blitz" or visit every Chamber member and potential member on a designated date.

In addition, members will periodically re-visit throughout 1997. Wayne Industries visits existing industries in Wayne.

You can call the Chamber office to either schedule a visit with Wayne Industries or to include your name on the Blitz list.

Let's communicate!

Let me count the ways!!

A "nuisance" is described as anything that annoys, irritates, or bothers.

Were you aware our city Code book has a (4-501) nuisance law? The code identifies nuisances as follows: a nuisance consists in doing any unlawful act, or omitting to perform a duty, or suffering or permitting any condition or thing to be or exist, which act, omission, condition or thing either:

1. injures or endangers the comfort, repose, health, or safety of others.
 2. offends decency.
 3. is offensive to the senses.
 4. unlawfully interferes with obstructs, tends to obstruct or renders dangerous for passage any stream, public, park, parkway, square, street, or highway in the city.
 5. in any way renders other persons insecure in life or the use of property.
 6. essentially interferes with the comfortable enjoyment of life and property, or tends to depreciate the value of the property of others.
- The mayor and chief of police are to enforce this nuisance code? Wow! This one code could by itself, with some imagination, keep the mayor and chief of police busy 24 hours a day!

Merlin Wright

Any unlawful act is a nuisance. We'd all agree shoplifting is a nuisance as it drives up the cost of each item a store offers. Then, there is spitting on the sidewalk. Yuk! Following another vehicle too close, and public intoxication sure fit the bill.

Note the "omitting to perform a duty" or "permitting any condition or thing to exist, which act, omission, condition or thing either injuries or endangers the comfort of others?"

Does that mean if you're taking an afternoon nap, and I dial a wrong number thereby awakening you, that I am liable under the code? Got to make sure I've got the right number! Or maybe just calling you is a nuisance? This thing could get serious!

Doesn't this code cover all you who still smoke in that it allegedly affects everyone's health and is likely offensive to the senses? Should you prepare for a lawsuit?

Thanks community for support

Dear Editor,

I want to thank the Wayne Community for their enthusiastic support of this year's CROP Walk.

There were many volunteers from Wayne churches working together which helped the event to be a success.

Sixty walkers enjoyed the mild October Sunday and raised $2,017 to help relieve world hunger. Both

Last of all, notice a nuisance is that which essentially interferes with the comfortable enjoyment of life and property! Hey, that might be your husband or wife!

Also a nuisance is that which is "offensive to the senses". So you guys forget buying your sweetie any cheap perfume.

Also, be especially good to your relatives tomorrow ... as ... well ... you wouldn't want them finding you to be a nuisance.

That wonderful city code! Pass the turkey and Happy Thanksgiving!

young and mature alike worked together to do this.

This indeed is something to give thanks to God for this year.

To all of you who helped, may the blessing of giving and serving be yours in abundance.

November is Home Care month

November has been selected as National Home Care Month to make the public aware of options available in the field of health care.

A recent issue of Caring Magazine listed a number of reasons why home care continues to be in great demand.

1. It is delivered at home. There are positive feelings that are associated with being home. When we are not feeling well, we ask to go home.

2. Home care represents the best tradition in American health care. Home health agencies were started as public agencies to seek out the poor and the needy who otherwise would go without care. No one was turned away. This is still true for most of America's home health agencies.

3. Home care keeps families together. There is no more important social value and this is particularly important in time of illness.

4. Home care serves to keep the elderly independent. No one wants to be totally dependent and helpless and with some assistance, seniors can continue to function as viable members of society.

5. Home care prevents or postpones institutionalization. No one wants to be placed in a nursing home unless this is the only place where we can obtain the 24-hour care that is needed.

6. Home care promotes healing. There is scientific evidence that patients heal more quickly at home.

7. Home care is safer. Statistics show that a hospital is a dangerous place. The risk of infection, for example is high and it is not uncommon for patients to develop new health problems as a result of being hospitalized. These risks are eliminated when care is given at home.

8. Home care allows a maximum amount of freedom for the individual. A hospital or nursing home, out of necessity, is a regimented, regulated environment. Upon admission to either, an individual is required to surrender a significant portion of his rights in the name of common good. Such sacrifices are not required at home.

9. Home care is a personalized care. Home care is tailored to the needs of each individual and is delivered on a one-to-one basis.

10. Home care, by definition, involved the individual and the family in the care that is delivered. The patient and his/her family are taught to participate in their health care.

11. Home care reduces stress. Unlike most forms of health care, which can increase anxiety and stress, home care has the opposite effect.

12. Home care is the most effective form of health care. There is very high consumer satisfaction associated with care delivered in the home.

13. Home care is the most efficient form of health care. By bringing health services home, the patients does not generate board and room expenses. Technology has now developed to the point where almost any service which is available in a hospital can be offered at home.

14. Home care is given by special people. By and large, employees of home health agencies look at their work not as a job or profession but as a calling.

15. Home care is the only way to reach some people. Home care had its roots in the early 1900s when some method was needed to provide care for the flood of immigrants who populated major cities. These people usually did not speak English, had little money and did not understand American medicine.

16. There is little fraud and abuse associated with home care. There have been few, if any, major scandals related to home care.

17. Home care improves the quality of life. Home care helps not only add years to life, but life to years.

18. Home care is less expensive than other forms of care. Home care costs only one-tenth as much as hospitalization and only one-fourth as much as nursing home placement to deal with comparable health problems.

19. Home care extends life. The US General Accounting Office has established beyond doubt that those people receiving home care lived longer and enjoyed living.

20. Home care is the preferred form of care, even for individuals who are terminally ill. There is a growing public acceptance and demand for individuals who are terminally ill.

Banking women attend meeting

The Northeast Group of Financial Women International held their monthly meeting at the Neligh House in West Point recently. District President Julie Black shared the goals of the national organization and the impact it will have on those in Nebraska this coming year.

Ms. Black also touched on the FWI International Conference held in St. Louis in September. She noted that Dr. Lowell Catlett, a noted futurist, gave attendees a glimpse into where the future of the financial services industry lies.

Kathy Schmaderer presided over the business meeting. The group will watch a video at the November meeting entitled "Crossroads—Are You in Charge of Your Life?" Connie Mohfeld, education and training chair, will lead the program.

Rosalie Hastings, public affairs chair, will give the results of the spring national forum topic, "The New Career Challenge." She will also lead the discussion on the fall forum topic, "The Future of Retirement."

Members from Wayne include Karen Hart of Farmers & Merchants State Bank and Beverly Etter, Diane Roebler and Lori Beebe of State National Bank and Trust Co.

Are you dropping your hard-earned bucks all along the highway?

Let's face it. With the cost of gasoline out of sight and at times hard to find as well, it makes better cents, and dollars too, to shop locally.

Driving all over the countryside just to save a few cents just doesn't make sense.

The small amount of money you might save may be more than eaten up by the cost of gas. Shop locally, and save time, your energy, fuel and money.

No need to roam... the best shopping's here at home!

Wayne State basketball team falls to Mavericks

The Wayne State men's basketball team suffered their first loss of the season in Omaha last Friday with a 67-60 setback at the hands of the UNO Mavericks.

WSC led the host Mavericks by 12 points near the mid-way point of the second half before suffering a letdown led by the departure to point guard Tyler Johnson with an ankle sprain.

The Hebron native did return to the lineup with just over a minute remaining but UNO took advantage of his absence and some miscues by the 'Cats to come all the way back.

Johnson scored 23 points in his 25 minutes of playing time to lead all scorers. "Once again, much like the first game with St. Francis our defense played an excellent game," WSC coach Greg McDermott said. "What it came down to was a lack of ability to hit our shots from the field. We made just 29 percent in the second half and we hit just 56 percent of our free throw attempts for the entire game."

McDermott said his squad missed five or six lay-ups that really hurt their chances of building an insurmountable lead. "Hopefully we can learn from this game with the mistakes we made mentally," he said.

Craig Philipp was the only other player in double figures with 10 while Chad Nelson netted nine and Mike Fitzner, eight. WSC was dominated on the boards, 44-30 with Nelson hauling down a team high, five.

Johnson dished out five assists to lead the 'Cats and the turnover battle was even with WSC suffering 20 while forcing 19. Johnson also led WSC in steals with three.

WSC Scoring: Tyler Johnson, 23; Craig Philipp, 10; Chad Nelson, 9; Mike Fitzner, 8; Eric Henderson, 3; Jaime Jones, 2; Matt VanVoorst, 2; Jon Dolliver, 2; Curt Woodin, 1. WSC record, 1-1.

Third grade rec football

WSC women defeated twice at NWMS tourney

The Wayne State women's basketball team lost a pair of contests at the Northwest Missouri State Tournament in Maryville, Missouri last weekend, dropping first-year head coach Jeff Goldstein's record to 1-2.

The 'Cats dropped a 78-60 decision to the host team in the first contest as they fell behind by 16 at the intermission at 38-22 and they never recovered.

The largest difference between the two teams came in the turnover category as WSC suffered 32 while the Bearkittens had just 19. Jenny Thompson led the 'Cats with 17 points followed by Amy Brodersen with a dozen and Carla Schultz with 10.

WSC was out-rebounded by a slim 49-46 margin with Schultz pulling down an impressive game-high 13 caroms. Megan Murphy and Brodersen each dished out three assists to share team honors.

The 'Cats were 24 of 60 from the field for 40 percent while hitting eight of 12 free throw attempts. The host team was 30 of 74 from the field for 40 percent and they hit 18 of 34 free throw attempts.

ON SATURDAY, WSC fell to SBU, 77-65. Three-point shooting was the difference in the contest as SBU hit five while WSC managed one in nine attempts.

Both teams shot nearly 50 percent from the field and both were nearly the same from the free throw line but WSC suffered 11 more turnovers than their counterparts, 23-12.

Carla Schultz netted a career high 21 points in the game after hitting nine of 12 attempts from the field and three of four free throw attempts. The 'Cats actually out-rebounded SBU, 41-32 led by Schultz's 10 caroms. Brodersen dished out a team-high four assists.

This weekend WSC will travel to compete in the North Dakota Tournament with Friday and Saturday action including a contest with the second-ranked team in the country in the host squad.

WSC Scoring vs. NWMS: Jenny Thompson, 17; Amy Brodersen, 12; Carla Schultz, 10; Julie Heine, 7; Erin Hourigan, 4; Tonya Porter, 3; Pam Drickey, 3; Steph Sjuts, 2; Megan Murphy, 2.

WSC Scoring vs. SBU: Carla Schultz, 21; Amy Brodersen, 12; Jenny Thompson, 9; Megan Murphy, 8; Tonya Porter, 6; Renee Belz, 4; Erin Hourigan, 2; Steph Sjuts, 2. WSC Record, 1-2.

Wayne Herald area teams enjoy success in fall sports

It's been nearly three months since my return to Wayne and my apologies for this being the first column but you'll be happy to know that I've been quite busy during that stretch.

I am very happy to be back in what I consider to be my true home and covering what I consider to be my teams in Wayne, Laurel, Wakefield, Winside and Allen.

I thought it only proper I spend a few moments talking about some of the accomplishments of the fall sports teams because after all, there were some impressive moments.

We'll start with the Wayne cross country teams of which both enjoyed ample success including a repeat state championship by the girls team and despite the fact Sara Kinney didn't win back-to-back individual titles she did another outstanding job.

One sidelight of interest, however, about the state cross country meet. It seems the NSAA still has some work to do in making sure the state meet runs with out hitches.

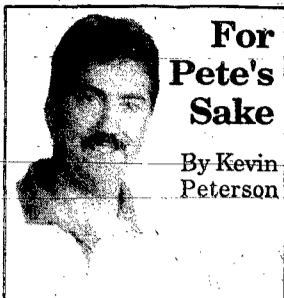

Kinney running well ahead of the pack of runners in the title meet seemed to be on pace for a repeat performance of a year ago when a meet spectator dropped a cigarette on the ground just yards in front of Kinney's path. The smoke was inhaled by the junior running sensation and though she'll never walk up to someone and say she would have won a state title but... it did affect her.

She immediately began having trouble breathing and soon she began walking—something she's never done. Two runners surpassed her including a girl from Arlington that she easily defeated in districts.

Though she tried desperately to make up the lost ground she couldn't and she settled for third. How pitiful. Some ignorant fan just had to have a cigarette during the meet and although it was not probably done intentionally, they had an affect on the outcome of the race.

Now for a lighter moment concerning Kinney. Following the district race at the Wayne golf course I was standing around talking with a good friend of mine, Steve Muir, when I noticed out of the corner of my eye Kinney approaching us.

I took my turn at congratulating her and she thanked me but that wasn't why she had approached us. She was interested in finding out about picture taking during certain light conditions. Unbelievable. The girl runs one of the finest races of her life and with in moments is interested in furthering her academics. Truly the meaning of student athlete.

For Pete's Sake

By Kevin Peterson

Congrats to all the runners on the Wayne cross country teams.

Also a quick congrats to Ann Swerczek for qualifying for the state golf tournament. She was the only senior on the Wayne team and she proved her leadership worth by qualifying for state—in what was other wise a disappointing district performance.

Good news for the Blue Devil linksters, however, they're very young and coach Dave Hix has a solid nucleus of golfers coming back next season and guess what?, they'll still be young.

THE WAYNE volleyball team had a marvelous year and Joyce Hoskins did a super job of leading the Blue Devils to the state tournament. Although they were defeated soundly by Grand Island Central Catholic, those that choose to judge the Blue Devils season on just that lone match are simply missing the point.

Seniors Katie Lutt and Melissa Weber etched their names in the state record books with Lutt smashing the old mark of 774 career ace spikes with 933.

Weber broke the old record of set assists with 701 but that record proved to be short-lived as a setter from GICC got to play a few more matches this season and out-did her at the state tournament.

Sull, what Wayne did on the hard court this season was outstanding and no one can take that away from them. Coach Joyce Hoskins was proud of her team and gave ample credit to all 13 members of the varsity. "They all played a role on a successful team," she said.

Lutt, Weber, Molly Linster, Jenni Beiermann, Gayle Olson and Katy Wilson often got the press but most of the work came in practice with the likes of competitiveness from Brooke Parker, Shona Stracke, Carla Kemp, Megan Meyer, Lindsay Baaek, Alycia Jorgensen and Mindy McLean.

The Blue Devils football team did struggle but they had some shining moments as well. Their defense was among the best of any around with the exception of the final two games and the future of Blue Devil football isn't going to be bad with the emergence of freshman running back Joel Munson who rambled for 107 yards in the season finale against Crofton.

Senior Jeremy Lutt had a phenomenal year for Wayne and was the spiritual leader of the defense. The offensive spark plug was just that—a spark plug in size with the highly prolific Paul Zulkosky.

The senior had outstanding ability to go into a double coverage and come away with the ball by out-timing the opposition—when he jumped. He provided ample big plays in both receiving and special teams play.

Brian Fernau and Adam Dangberg also had very fine years just to name a few of the highlighters.

THE LAUREL volleyball team capped a perfect season with an impressive showing at the state volleyball tournament and are among very few teams to go the entire season as the state's top-ranked team in their respective class.

Tracy Ankeny and Becky Schroeder were the headliners to this team which pounded out 26 wins and won 52 of the 57 sets they played on the year but once again it was a team performance all season that ultimately netted the Bears its first ever girls state championship.

Megan Adkins did a phenomenal job of setting the ball all year and she pretty much quarterbacked the team as the playmaker. Sarah Ehlers stock rose considerably as far as college volleyball goes with her outstanding performance at the state tournament which saw the senior net over 20 blocks.

Katie Monson and Jessie Erwin played very key roles for the Bears in the starting rotation and both played consistent volleyball all season for coach Patti Cunningham.

Perhaps, however, the finest coaching job done by any high school coach was that of Tom Luxford and the Laurel football team.

Replacing 20 of 22 starters on both sides of the ball would have most coaches scratching their heads and looking at a rebuilding season and to be honest, that's probably how the Bears entered the season.

However, Luxford has built a winner in Laurel and tradition is an intangible that just can't be coached and Laurel has tradition and that equals success.

Vince Ward had an incredible season after relieving the likes of Jeff Wattier the past couple seasons. Ward closed out the season as being the first Bear running back in Luxford's tenure to garner more than 1,000 yards rushing.

Ryan Kvols was a first-year starter at quarterback after three-year starter Tyler Erwin graduated last spring and all Kvols did was play like a champion in leading the Bears to the state quarterfinals and perhaps with in an eyelash of the state title game.

It is often said a team is a direct reflection of their coach and I believe that and in the Laurel football team's case, that means C-H-A-M-P-I-O-N!

THE WINSIDE football team is another shining example of quality coaching at its finest with Randy Geier completing his 10th season at the helm of the Wildcats.

Geier led his team to the state playoffs in only the Wildcats second year in 11-man football which is quite impressive. Highlighting the squad was Jaimey Holdorf who has been Mr. superman since he was a sophomore in all aspects of the game. He owns virtually every receiving record at Winside High School.

Quarterback Robert Wittler literally rewrote the record books at Winside and was an extremely smart quarterback that just didn't make mistakes. He was the coach on the field for Geier.

Chad O'Connor did an outstanding job at his receiver's position as well as being a consistent punter and kicker. O'Connor's ability to play the game made it difficult for many opponent's to concentrate solely on stopping Holdorf.

At running back the outstanding play of Landon Grothe didn't go unnoticed as he led the team all season.

All in all it was an exceptional year of sports in Northeast Nebraska and this writer was thrilled to be a part of it.

Newest Medicine for Toenail Infections
 Eighty percent of all fungal nail infections occur in the toenails. In an earlier issue of Medicine Minute we discussed itraconazole (Sporanox), a medicine that had been approved for the treatment of toenail infections. That drug was the first significant approved treatment for fungal infections of the nails since the approval of griseofulvin.
 More recently, the U.S. Food and Drug Administration approved terbinafine (Lamisil). Terbinafine has been shown to be as effective as itraconazole for fungal infections involving the toenail. An important advantage of terbinafine has to do with potential drug interactions between itraconazole and other medicines. Itraconazole inhibits the metabolism of the non-sedating antihistamines terfenadine and astemizole. Rare but serious cardiovascular side effects can result. However, the interaction reportedly does not occur when terbinafine is used with these antihistamines.

Junior High teams beat West Point

WAYNE-The Wayne seventh and eighth grade basketball teams opened the season in successful fashion last week with a win over West Point. In the eighth grade game the locals won by a 40-18 margin with nine of the 15 who suited up, scoring points.

Shane Baack led the way with eight points while Craig Olson and Trevor Wright netted six each. Anthony Sump, Jon Meyer, Jeff Ensz and Adam Jorgensen each tallied four while Ben Meyer and Eric McLagan netted two each. McLagan hauled down a game-high eight rebounds.

The seventh graders won by a 33-19 margin with Brad Hochstein scoring nine to lead the way while Drew Slaybaugh tossed in eight. Brad Hansen finished with six and Tanner Niemann and Nick Lipp tallied four each. Jeff Pippitt rounded out the scoring with two.

Persian War veterans are being sought

The Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) and the Department of Defense (DoD) have joined forces to track down Persian Gulf War veterans who may have been near Kamisiyah, Iraq during the period March 4-15, 1991.

This unusual, if not unprecedented, partnership has two purposes: to find out more about the health effects of suspected low-level exposure to nerve gas and to assist in efforts to reconstruct events relating to the destruction by U.S. troops of Iraqi munitions at the end of the Persian Gulf War.

According to recent DoD estimates, 20,800 American soldiers were within 30 miles of sprawling ammunition storage site in southern Iraq shortly after the Gulf War ended. Evidence that chemical weapons, including the nerve agent sarin, may have been among the munitions destroyed on March 4 and 10 has triggered an intensified effort to reconstruct the events at that time.

In addition, the DoD is investigating the possibility of another detonation at the Kamisiyah complex on March 12, 1991. However, officials say it is not known if such a demolition occurred or if chemical munitions were involved.

Gunn-Hauptmann

JoAnn Gunn and Dan Hauptmann, both of Laurel, are planning a Jan. 25, 1997 wedding.

Parents of the couple are Jim and Shirlee Gunn of Laurel and Laverne and JoAnn Hauptmann of Neligh.

The bride-to-be is a 1988 graduate of Laurel-Concord High School and is currently employed at First Bankcard Center in Wayne.

Her fiancé is a 1988 graduate of Neligh-Oakdale High School and is currently employed at Lutt Trucking in Wayne.

What is most difficult period for adolescence?

Q: What is the most difficult period of adolescence, and what is behind the distress?

A: The 13th and 14th years commonly are the most difficult 24 months in life.

It is during this time that self-doubt and feelings of inferiority reach an all-time high, amidst the greatest social pressures yet experienced.

An adolescent's worth as a human being hangs precariously on peer group acceptance, which can be tough to garner. Thus, relatively minor evidences of rejection or ridicule are of major significance to those who already see themselves as fools and failures.

It is difficult to overestimate the impact of having no one to sit with on the school-sponsored bus trip, of not being invited to an important event, of being laughed at by the "in" group, waking up in the morning to find seven shiny new pimples on your bumpy forehead, or being slapped by the girl you thought had liked you as much as you liked her.

Some boys and girls consistently face this kind of social catastrophe throughout their teen years. They will never forget the experience. Dr. Urie Bronfenbrenner, eminent authority on child development at Cornell University, told a Senate committee that the junior high years are probably the most critical to the development of a child's mental health. It is during this period of self-doubt that the personality is often assaulted and damaged beyond repair.

Consequently, said Bronfenbrenner, it is not unusual for healthy, happy children to enter junior high school, but then emerge two years later as broken, discouraged teenagers.

I couldn't agree more emphatically with Bronfenbrenner's opinion at this point. Junior high school students are typically brutal to one another, attacking and slashing a weak victim much the same way a pack of northern wolves kill and devour a deformed caribou. Few events stir my righteous indignation more than seeing a vulnerable child being taught to hate himself and despise his physical body, and wish he had never been born.

Focus On The Family With Dr. James Dobson

Q: I keep hearing that it is unwise to get too carried away with the successes of your kids, but I can't help it. Is it wrong for me to feel a sense of fatherly pride when my son succeeds in basketball? How can I not care about the quality of his performance?

A: There's nothing wrong about feeling good about the successes of our children. The problem occurs when parents care too much about those triumphs and failures... when winning is necessary to maintain their parents' respect and love.

Boys and girls should know they are accepted simply because they were created. That's enough.

I'm reminded of John McKay, the former football coach from the University of Southern California and a former National Football League coach. I saw him interviewed on television at a time when his son, John Jr., was a successful football player on the USC team.

The interviewer referred to John's athletic talent and asked Coach McKay to comment on the pride he must feel over his son's accomplishments on the field. His answer was most impressive:

"Yes, I'm pleased that John had a good season last year. He does a fine job, and I am proud of him. But I would be just as proud of him if he had never played the game at all."

Coach McKay was saying, in effect, that John's football talent is recognized and appreciated, but his human worth does not depend on his athletic ability to play football. Thus, his son would not lose respect if the next season brought failure and disappointment.

John's place in his dad's heart was secure, being independent of his performance. I wish every child could say the same.

These questions and answers are excerpted from the book Dr. Dobson Answers Your Questions. Dr. James Dobson is a psychologist, author and president of Focus on the Family, a nonprofit organization dedicated to the preservation of the home. Correspondence to Dr. Dobson should be addressed to: Focus on the Family, P.O. Box 444, Colorado Springs, CO 80903.(c), 1982, Tyndale House Publishers, Inc.

Auxiliary meets

The Wayne Country Club Women's auxiliary met to discuss the upcoming golf season.

Attending the meeting were Marta Nelson, Jessica Olson, Maribeth Stodola, Judy Nemeec and Terri Heggemeyer.

Topics of discussion included the Spring Banquet, Ladies League memberships, league format and tournament format for events sponsored by the ladies auxiliary.

It was decided to provide a suggestion/comments box in the clubhouse beginning with the 1997 season. Some suggestions and comments received will be published in the WCC newsletter.

The next meeting will be scheduled in February 1997.

ELCA has program for Thanksgiving

The women of the ELCA of Salem Lutheran Church met Nov. 21 in the church basement.

Shirley Woodward opened the meeting with the reading of Thanksgiving poems. Circle 2 presented the program with began with the singing of the hymn "Praise and Thanksgiving."

Dorothy Driskell gave a devotion of love and mercy.

Famy Johnson accompanied on the piano as Mary Ellen Sundell read "The Tale of Praying Hands" and "Thanksgiving." The offering, which included the Thank offering boxes was received with Dorothy Driskell giving the prayer.

The program concluded with the hymn "Now Thank We All Our God."

A short business meeting followed. Eunice Johnson and Elaine Greve were thanked for serving the campus ministry supper. Also thanked were those who donated food.

The Thanksgiving service on Nov. 27 will be served by Circle 3.

The Dec. 7 meeting will be the Christmas luncheon. Elected officers will be installed at that time.

Volunteers are needed to help with Christmas Cheer Boxes.

Right and wrong - teens want more lessons on values

Most American teens value principles of right and wrong, however, they give their public schools mixed reviews for their efforts to teach values to students, according to a new survey released by MeLife.

Sixty-three percent of students surveyed believe there are tangible benefits to be gained from teaching values and principles. Students who regularly experience social tensions and conflicts are more likely than other students to support increasing the level of emphasis currently being placed on teaching values in school. However, only one in two believes the value examples taught in class are realistic.

Other findings include:

- students least likely to support lessons on values are low-achievers (only 44 percent of students with C's or lower endorsed teaching values in school);

- female students show more support for teaching values than male students (69 percent vs. 58 percent);

- non-urban African-American respondents show a greater level of support than other groups (eight in 10 said values should be taught in the classroom. Proportions among white and Hispanic students are about 20 percentage points less);

- 56 percent said teens learn values primarily from their parents;

- 29 percent said peers are their primary source to learn values; and

- 61 percent said it's best for teens to make their own decisions and learn from their mistakes rather than to seek the advice of others whom they respect (39 percent).

Lynda Cruickshank Wayne County

"Students Voice Their Opinions: Learning About Values and Principles in School" was completed by 2,524 students between December 1996 and February 1996 by public school seventh through 12 grades throughout the continental United States.

Every public school had an equal chance of being selected. Many of the findings are discussed by grade level, race and geographic location. The survey was conducted by Louis Harris and Associates, Inc. for Metropolitan Life.

Free copies of the survey are available by writing: MeLife Teachers Survey 1996, P.O. Box 807, Madison Square Station, New York, N.Y. 10159-0807.

Wayne Jaycees to sponsor Gifts for Kids program

The Wayne Jaycees Gifts for Kids campaign will get underway this weekend when the Christmas tree is put up in Pamida.

The purpose of the program is to provide gifts for children in the community that might not otherwise receive any because of financial burdens in the family.

The income-eligible youth will have their wish lists on tags on the tree at Pamida and patrons wishing to help these youth have a Christmas in which they can receive a gift can do so by picking up a tag.

The tags will contain the sex of the child, age, size and wish list. The recipients of the Gifts for Kids campaign are kept confidential. The names were supplied by Social Services and other interested parties.

For further information on this project contact Kathy Berry at 375-3066.

Piano students present program

Pat Cook and seven of her piano students gave a fall program on Nov. 24 at the Wayne Care Centre for residents and students' families. Rebeca Brumm began the afternoon with "The Star Spangled Banner" with the audience singing along. After two classical pieces she and her sister, Sarah, played a duet, "Beach Buggy Boogie." Joe Whitt played four pieces including "Yankee Doodle" and

"Mary's Lamb." John Whitt played five pieces including two John Thompson pieces from his '97 Guild program, "Runaway River" and "Swans on the Lake." Deniz Rudin played a medley of songs from "Teaching Little Finger to Play." Mark Kanitz played "The Rainbow" by Palmer and a sing-along "When the Saints Go Marching IN."

Sarah Brumm played three solos, including "Jazz Miniature" which will be part of her '97 Guild "Jazz" program. Chris Stuberger played three solos including his memorized '97 Federation solo "Winter Wind." Mrs. Cook played the first movement of Rocherolle's "Sonata No. 2," which she learned this summer while studying with Dr. Beverly Soll.

Mary Jarvi presents at conference

Mari Jarvi of Wayne recently attended and co-presented a session at the Nebraska Title I Parent Involvement Conference held in Kearney. Mrs. Jarvi was a member of a team presentation. Other team members were Joyce Ease of Bancroft and Karen Heflie of Wisner. Their presentation was entitled "Let's Be Preactive-Encouraging Learning." Mary's portion of the presentation was entitled "Let's be Preactive." It dealt with keeping kids drug free and methods for parents and teachers to use.

Mrs. Jarvi is a member of the Wayne Sunrise Toastmaster Club. Guests and new members are welcome to join the group which meets at the Senior Center in the basement of City Hall on Tuesday mornings from 7-8 a.m.

Parade of Lights set for Dec. 5

The Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce and the Wayne Jaycees have organized this year's Holiday Parade of Lights, scheduled for Thursday, Dec. 5 at 6 p.m. The parade will coincide with Fantasy Forest and the Rotary Club Soup Supper. Santa has worked the parade into his schedule and will stay for pictures with the children at the Fantasy Forest. Area businesses and individuals are encouraged to enter the parade as soon as possible. The Chamber and Jaycees ask that entries be decorated with the holiday theme "Wrap It Up in Wayne, America." Entries should be decorated with lights as the parade will take place after dark.

TREE BOARD

The Wakefield Tree Board met Nov. 2. Alice Johnson reported on the park-picnic area her class is working on. Terry Nicholson will get a catalog to order a fountain. Plans include table, benches and a perennial garden.

Also discussed were the Tree City awards, wood chips for mulching, nurseries that will do next year's plant, maintenance and watering, memorial trees and trees for the volleyball court. Next meeting is Dec. 12.

SELLING FEEDERS

Jan Johnson's 2/3 class at Wakefield Elementary School is selling bird feeders. The project began as a means of purchasing seed to fill the classroom feeders. The students use clear plastic (recycled) pop containers. They have purchased seed in bulk and offer the feeders for sale, with or without seed.

The project will last all year and the profits will be used for other projects. Contact a 2/3 grader or call the elementary office for more information.

DRAWING CHOSEN

Janna Erickson, Wakefield fifth grader, was chosen as one of 12 second place winners in the annual calendar contest sponsored by Nebraska Municipal Power Pool. Janna's entry will be featured on the cover of the NMPP's 1997 calendar.

She received a $10 check, a certificate and copies of the calendar. Janna is the daughter of Ross and Paula Erickson.

HOME PAGE

Wakefield now has a home page on the World Wide Web. The home page was officially established on Oct. 22 with help from Nebraska Public Power District.

Local Internet users can find it at www.ci.wakefield.ne.us.

Briefly Speaking

Way Out Here plays pitch

CARROLL — The Way Out Here Club met at the Komer Kafé Laurel on Nov. 19 for supper. All members were present and husbands were guests. Betty Rohlff received her December birthday gift. Rose was a white elephant gift. A cooperative lunch was served.

Pitch was played with prizes going to Lowell Rohlff, Martin Hansen, Lester Menke, Betty Pohlff, Norma Hansen and Loretta Baier.

There will be no December meeting. The January meeting will be an evening card party at the home of Loretta Baier.

Happy Workers meet

CARROLL — The Happy Workers Club met Nov. 20 at the home of Henrietta Cunningham. Ten members were present. Prizes went to Phyllis Frahm, Evelyn Hall and Viola Junck.

The next meeting will be in the Viola Junk home.

Hospital Auxiliary meeting changed

WAYNE — The Wayne Hospital Auxiliary meeting will be Friday, Dec. 6 at 2 p.m. at Providence Medical Center.

This is a change from the original date.

ACME has Civil War program

WAYNE — Bonnadell Koch was hostess for ACME on Nov. 18. Seven members attended the meeting at Grace Lutheran Church. Delores Utecht read the poem "Riches" which expressed thanks for friends.

Bonnadell Koch had a program showing a picture of the Saveney-Farnsworth House at Gettysburg, Penn. The house, now a bed and breakfast, still belongs to the family of Bonnadell's friend, Ruth Maresh of Genoa. Mrs. Koch read a copy of the letter written Nov. 29, 1863 about President Lincoln's visit to Gettysburg to deliver the Gettysburg Address. The meeting was closed with the poem "One Nation Under God" by Helen Steiner Rice.

The next meeting will be the Christmas luncheon at the Haskell House Dec. 9 at 12:30 p.m.

BIRTHDAY CLUB

Lucille Krause entertained the Hoskins' Birthday Club Nov. 22. Guests were Ann Nathan of Hoskins and Elmer and LaVerne Gaskin and Kenneth and Elaine Marr of Norfolk.

Club bunco prizes went to Eva Hoemann, Frieda Meierhenry and Vera Brogie. Guest prizes were won by LaVerne Gall and Kenneth Marr.

Robert and Katie Fletcher of Santa Clara, Utah were Nov. 15-20 visitors in the Irene Fletcher home.

Darrel Puls of Elmhurst, Ill. was a Nov. 14-19 guest in the home of his mother, Rose Puls.

Wishing everyone a happy Thanksgiving!

The thermometer on the north porch is hovering very close to zero. I think that, more than the cold, it's the lack of sun that bothers me most. I was very glad I didn't have to go to UN-L women's soccer game yesterday, or to the state football championship games on Saturday. That had to be a neat experience for those guys though, playing in Memorial Stadium.

How are you all with CPR certification? How long has it been since you took the class. I had an interesting experience last week while doing a program for a local nursing home. I met a man who had had CPR for 12 minutes.

I have a team meeting at this home every two weeks. One day in June, after our meeting, I drove from the nursing home to the community hospital nearby. Right behind me came the local physician's assistant, tires spinning, gravel flying.

I had an appointment with the director of nurses, but the lady at the switchboard told me she was in the emergency room. It was all I could do not to find my way back there and see if there was something I could do. The patient later was Life Flighted to Bryan Hospital.

This man was that patient! He walks, he talks, he thinks! He has no recollection of the rest of that month. (He also says he did not "see the light.")

Jokingly, I said, "But you should have brain damage!" Grinning, he answered, "I know." I saw no evidence of any.

By Pat Meierhenry

Another lady in the group then asked me to guess how much she weighed at birth. I couldn't. The answer was one pound, two ounces.

I said, "How old are you?"

"Seventy-five" was the answer. This time I commented that babies that size did not survive that long ago; and again, I received a grin with "I know."

To me, the lesson is, "no matter what you know, or think you know, never give up hope." In other words, try.

Of course, the other side of the coin is, know when to quit. That isn't for lay people to decide. And we medical folks don't always agree when that should be. But we're working on it. As the lady physician told us at that workshop in September, "Don't always do everything possible; but rather everything appropriate." Appropriate is the key.

Have a happy Thanksgiving and let's trounce the Buffaloes!

JB Ranch is recognized

JB Ranch of Wayne, owned by Jack and Bev Beeson, was recently recognized by the American Hereford Association (AHA) for having produced three more cows named to the Benchmark Dam/Most Efficient Cow listings.

"These are the most efficient cows in the Hereford breed," said Dr. John Hough, AHA's director of research and performance. They've met the strictest requirements for early calving, reproductive efficiency, calving intervals of no greater than one year and weight ratios in the top end of the breeder's herd."

Some 2,500 cows were named to the prestigious list for this year. A complete listing of the cows and the 775 breeders who produced them is published in the November 1996 issue of Hereford World, the breed's official publication.

Directors to hold meeting

The Nebraska Soybean Association Directors will meet on Thursday, Dec. 5 at 9:30 a.m. at the Ramada Hotel in Lincoln.

Agenda items include committee reports, financial report and membership plan update for 1997. Following the regular business meeting, interviews will be conducted by the Young Leader committee for the 1997 ASA/DuPont Young Leader Award.

A complete agenda for the meeting may be requested by contacting the Association office at 1610 So. 70th, Suite 200, Lincoln, Neb. 68506 or by calling (402) 441-3240.

The Nebraska Soybean Association is a non-profit dues paying membership organization which works towards the goal of improving soybean profitability.

Membership dues, which are separate from the checkoff, fund legislative activities and supports educational and promotional programs for Nebraska Soybean producers.

PROCEEDINGS SPECIAL MEETING WAYNE BOARD OF EDUCATION

November 13, 1996
A special meeting of the Wayne Board of Education was held in Title Room #213 at the Elementary School at 3:00 p.m. on November 13, 1996. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss use of the middle school gymnasium for wrestling practice. Notice of the meeting was advertised over Wayne Radio Station KTCB.
Roll call was answered by Marion Arneson, Jean Blomenkamp, Will Davis, Sue Gilmore, Dennis Lipp and Phyllis Spethman.
The board held an audience with several wrestling parents who once again requested that the board consider reopening the middle school gymnasium for wrestling practice.
The board reviewed athletic practice schedules, discussed the legal aspects involved, insurance coverage, the need to open to the building to other groups including outside school activities if the gymnasium were opened for wrestling practice, wrestling parents signing a waiver would not release the board from responsibility, and other possible options for wrestling practice (location, etc.).
After much discussion it was moved by Arneson, seconded by Blomenkamp, to stay with the current policy of keeping the middle school closed based on the advice from legal service and that opening it up would open the board up to potential law suits, and parents signing waivers would not release the board from ultimate responsibility. Motion carried. No ayes.
The board requested that they be kept informed about decisions that will be made in regard to practices, etc.
The meeting was adjourned at 3:45 p.m.
