Football coach resigns position

Dennis Wagner, head football coach at Wayne State College the past eight seasons, resigned last Friday to become the assistant head football coach at Fresno State University, Wayne State director of athletics Pete Chapman announced.

Dennis Wagner

Wagner will be reunited with Fresno State's new head coach Pat Hill, who accepted the head coaching job 10 days ago, was Wagner's offensive line coach when Wagner played at the University of Utah during the 1978 and 1979 seasons.

At Fresno State, Wagner will coach the offensive line, in addition to handling administrative duties and community relations. Wagner will also coordinate the Bulldogs' camps and clinics

This is a great opportunity for my family and myself to be an assistant head coach at the Division I level," Wagner said. "Once we've done the things we need to do at Fresno State and establish the program as a contender for the WAC title, hopefully that will lead to myself becoming a head coach at the Division I level. It was a hard decision for us to leave Wayne State. But we felt that it was a career move for us that was benefi-

During his eight seasons at Wayne State, Wagner compiled a 44-37-1 record, including a 9-1 record in 1993. His 44 victories rank second in school history behind Del Stoltenberg's 62 wins. Over the past four seasons, the Wildcats have featured one of the most prolific offenses in Division II, finishing among the top five teams in the country in total of-fense. In the latest NCAA II statis-tics, Wayne State ranks second in passing offense (364.2 ypg) and third in total offense (491.3).

Wagner has also helped several of his players further their playing careers. Four of his former players have gone on to play in the National Football League (NFL) including Byron Chamberlain with the Denver Broncos and Brad Ottis with the Arizona Cardinals. Four other players have gone on to play in the Canadian Football League and Arena Football League.

"What Dennis has done for the Wayne State College football program and athletic department as a whole is immeasurable," Chapman said. "We hired him with certain goals and aspirations in mind, and we achieved the things we wanted from our football program.

Under Wagner's leadership, he and his coaching staff operate one of the largest football team camps in the Midwest. The camp, in its eighth year, now attracts over 1100 high school student-athletes from Nebraska and western Iowa during a two-week span, compared to approximately 40 individuals during its first year of existence.

That is a direct result of a lot of hard work by our assistant coaches, the administrators on campus and the people in the community,' Wagner said. "It's been a great recruiting tool for us as well as a tool to get people on our campus to see what Wayne State has to of-

In addition, Wagner and his staff conduct an annual high school oaches clinic which draws over 200 high school coaches.

We started the clinic with the thought of it not being a money making situation, but rather a service to the community, especially northeast Nebraska," Wagner added

— Capitol News — More than chicken feed 'Project' plans finally released

Anyone having to pay a speeding or other fine in the Wayne County Court is assessed $24 in court costs. Such costs are levied in every case with the exception of juvenile cases, small claims, and probate where fees vary

Who benefits from this fee? Itemized by category, the State of Nebraska gets $18; $3 is marked for a computer automation fund; $1 is designated for the judge's retirement fund; and the Law Enforcement Improvement Fund receives $2.00.

County court figures for 1995 show there were 2,239 cases wherein a $24 fee was assessed for a total of $53,736. Remember, this is separate from fines. The state received $40,302; $6,717 went for computer automation; $2,239 was deposited into the judge's retirement fund; and $4,478 went into law enforcement improvement

That is not the total as the court also collects fees of $22 in each of last year's 268 civil cases ($5,896); $9 in each of the 81 small claims cases ($729); variable fees in each of the 41 probate/inheritance tax cases (undetermined; $25 in each of four conservator/guardianship cases ($100); $10 each in six adoptions ($60); and $22 in each of 16 juvenile cases ($352). So that totals another $7,137 plus.

Now factor into the equation - there are 93 counties, some with greater population and court cases, and some less.

Fines represent large sums, and as you can see, "court costs" amount to more than chicken feed.

What a week!

Wow! What a fantastic week we've just had--right here in Wayne

The Rotary's soup and pie supper, the Madrigals at WSC, the Christmas Bazaar and Turkey Dinner at the United Methodist Church and finally, two more lucky winners of $500 each in the Wayne America Great Cash Giveaway tell me this was one fantastic week!

Naturally, none of these activities can even happen without the active involvement of countless individuals and groups. The Chamber extends a great big thanks to any one who helped make these events successful and enjoyable

With respect to the Great Cash Giveaway, it really pays to be in a participating business at 11:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. on Saturdays prior to Christmas! Congratulations to our $500 winners to date: Cody Hawley, Nancy Sorensen, Betty Addison, Sandy Peterson, Elsie Hailey and Babs Middleton. Condolences go out to the holders of these ticket numbers: 76756, 20336, 44790, 44058 and 26215.

To be a winner, you need to pick up a ticket from a participating business and then be in a participating business at those two drawing times on Saturday. You could be the next winner announced

In last week's Chamber Corner, 1 cited a study, which identified reasons why people migrate to Nebraska. Now, let's look specifically at some of those reasons most likely to compel someone to move to Nebraska.

Forty-eight percent of the people who moved to one of Nebraska's "small trade" locations indicated they wanted to be closer to relatives. Half of the new residents had previously lived in the state. While targe percentage (47 percent) moved her from adjacent states, 10 percent came from California, six percent from Arizona, four percent from Texas and 33 percent from Thirty-seven percent of the new residents said they were looking for a safer place to live and 20 percent thought the quality of local schools was very important.

What does this mean in our community? What difference does it make to Wayne and Wayne County if people decide to "come back home" or not?

First, it is important for each of us to remember we are all representative of Wayne, all the time. We all have opportunities to tell others about what a great town we live in; how progressive the county and area are: what a great school system our children attend and that we simply do not experience drive-by shootings here:

Second, most people have relatives living in other areas of the country. Often times people reach a point in their lives when they really vould love to "move back home. Here is another perfect opportunity to remind family members how wonderful it is to live in northeast Nebraska!

You know they are great people and you know they'd be remarkable asset to your community. Invite them to come on back!

The Nelson Administration finally released the plans for its super whopper government reorganization effort called the Partnership Project. It's massive all right, but in the end, it appears that the rigorous, two-year endeavor to downsize state government agencies will produce relatively meager savings, evenwhile cutting out 317 jobs.

The Partnership Plan will merge the state departments of Social Health, Public Institutions and Aging and the Office of Juvenile Services into three new state agencies on Jan. 2.

This is a big deal because those agencies employ about 6,200 workers — about half of all non university state employees. They serve 250,000 Nebraskans a year.

Under the Partnership Plan, 400 jobs would be cut over the next two years. But since the state is opening a new juvenile prison in Omaha, the actual job reduction will be 317

No one can argue with producing a leaner, meaner state government, especially if the same level of services can be delivered.

Nelson's people estimated that $88 million in spending will be reduced. But that didn't account for the extra costs for that new prison or the declining expenses for Medicaid and other aid programs.

When those are considered, the state budget office projects that the savings will be only $23 million over the next two years.

Those are both big numbers, but if you use the $23 million esti-less than 1 percent of the total bud-gets of those agencies over the next

The governor's people rightly point out that the declining expenses in the Medicaid and welfare programs are partly due to cost-cutting efforts already started by the ministration. But either way, total spending in the newly merged agencies will still rise (though at a slower rate) over the next two years.

This partnership program makes you realize how difficult it is to really reduce the cost of government. Cutting more than 6 percent of the jobs in three new agencies barely made a dent.

But what do you do? Eliminate programs that provide hot meals or nursing home care for the elderly? What about food stamps for a divorced, single mother? Or prisons for juvenile thugs? Or supervised homes for retarded citizens or persons struggling with mental ill-

In the end, the Partnership Project looks like a decent start on a very difficult problem.

After researching UFO data 37 years, Nuclear physicist Stanton T. Friedmanss convinced UFO's are alien craft from outer space. Other researchers agree. Are NASA engineers also convinced, thereby justifying billions in expenditures? IASA's probes and manned machines have landed on the moon numerous times. Looking only for rocks? Hardly.

An Important Announcement Concerning Emergency Room Services

from

Faith Regional Health Services

In October 1996, Faith Regional Health Services (FRHS) officially began service to Northeast Nebraska as a result of the merger of Lutheran Community and Our Lady of Lourdes Hospitals. Continuing to build upon the strength and expertise of our two founding organizations, Faith Regional is pleased to announce the consolidation of emergency services into one, full-service Emergency Services Department located at the FRHS west campus (formerly Lutheran Community Hospital).

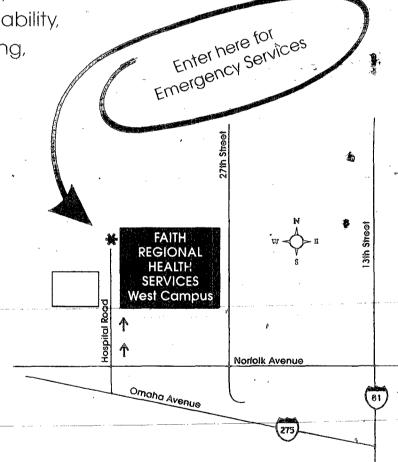

This consolidation of emergency services will allow Faith Regional to pool the expertise of two strong Emergency Departments, to continue services you already expect such as 24-hour physician availability, comprehensive emergency care, and the caring, personal service needed for times when emergencies occur. It will also provide an opportunity for the continued expansion of outpatient clinics and other ambulatory services at the east campus (formerly Our Lady of Lourdes Hospital).

The consolidation of emergency services is the next step in our continued development of Northeast Nebraska's premier health care system!

Haslam named WSC coach

the 19th head football coach at Wayne State College following an announcement by WSC Athletic Director Pete Chapman at a press conference, Tuesday afternoon.

Haslam, the Wildcats offensive coordinator this past season, replaces Dennis Wagner, who accepted the assistant head coaching position at Fresno State University

"I am excited," Haslam said. "This is a great opportunity for me to lead this program. Wayne State is obviously a very special place and this is a special program. I feel very fortunate to be in this position. I expect a lot of great things to happen here.

According to Chapman, the College feels Haslam has all of the qualities to lead the Wildcats, who are coming off a 3-7 season.

"Over the last eight years we have had an extremely strong program," Chapman said. "We have

The 29-year-old Haslam said he expects a smooth transition between head coaches. He will remain the team's offensive coordinator, but he said he will begin an immediate search for an offensive line coach, the position Wagner

Haslam also said the Wildcats will continue to run their highpowered offense which, over the past four seasons, has finished among the top five teams in the nation in total offense. In the latest NCAA Division II statistics, WSC ranks second in passing offense (364.2 ypg) and third in total offense (491.3 ypg).

The new Wildcat mentor also wants the program to continue its strong showing in the classroom. Last spring, the football team had a 3.1 team grade point average.

"In no way, shape or form is this program in need of rebuilding," Haslam said. "This is a very strong Haslam was also the wide receivers coach at New Mexico Highlands from 1989-91. A native of Tucson, Arizona, Haslam played tight end at New Mexico Highlands. He received is bachelor's de gree from New Mexico Highlands in 1991 and a master's degree from WSC in 1993.

McClarnen coaching debut at Wayne ends in victory

The coaching debut of Wayner girls basketball coach John McClarnen was a smashing success last Friday as the Blue Devils spotted visiting Sioux City West a 24-20 lead at the intermission before they roared back to dominate the second half and win, 55-47.

Wayne junior Molly Linster and senior Katie Lutt combined to score 36 of Wayne's 55 points with Linster putting on a show all by herself in the third quarter, scoring 16 of her game-high 22 points in the third stanza including a stretch of eight straight.

"Molly got into one of those zones and just did a great job," McClarnen said. "We tried to get her the ball during that stretch more because she was red-hot from the field.

Lutt began her senior campaign in fine form with a unique tripledouble with 14 points, 11 rebounds and 10 steals. The Wayne mentor said it was a tale of two halves as Wayne came out sluggish and somewhat sloppy in the first half, turning the ball over six times in its first nine possessions

"We did a much better job of taking care of the basketball in the second half," McClarnen said, "We finished with 19 turnovers for the game and 13 of those came in the first half.

Wayne forced Sioux City West into 31 turnovers and the Blue Devils dominated the boards with 50 caroms led by Linster's 14 and

Laurel girls off to 3-0 start while boys perfect after two

The Laurel girls improved to 3-0 and the boys won their second game to open the basketball campaign, Tuesday in Laurel as the Bears swept past Winside.

Once again it was the defense of Rick Petri's Laurel girls that spelled doom for the opposition as the Bears rolled to a 69-39 victory. Winside fell to 1-2 on the season and coach Lisa Schroeder credited the Bears pressing defense.

"We really struggled against that press," she said. "Laurel has a tremendous ball team with a lot of offensive weapons, plus an aggressive defense that creates some of their offense.

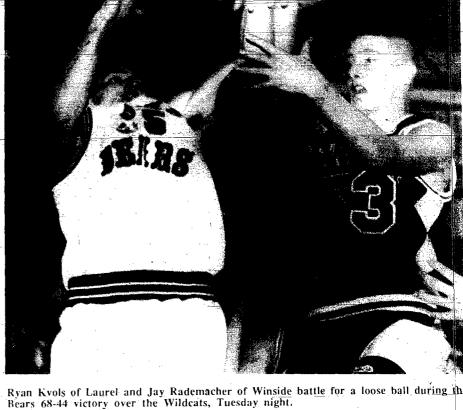

Schroeder said she did have some young kids come into the game and do a nice job and she hopes this kind of a loss will only make the Wildcats a better team down the road.

Laurel raced to a 17-2 lead after one quarter o₱play and led 37-14 at the break before taking a 53-24 lead into the fourth quarter. "We played a better game as we got off to a great start defensively," Petri-said. Our positive attitude along with taking great pride in playing defense played an important role in getting us started on the right foot. Our seniors are providing the leadership necessary to be successful whether from a starting role or coming off the bench."

School records were set in this contest with Tracy Ankeny notching 12 steals and Becky Schroeder dishing out 12 assists. Alissa Krie led all scorers with 20 points while Jessie Erwin scored 15. Tracy Ankeny was in double figures with 12 and Becky Schroeder tallied 10.

Winside was led by Jodi Miller with 10 points and Amy Riley with nine. Laurel out-rebounded Winside, 31-24 with Schroeder and Sarah Ehlers leading the way with seven caroms each. Jess Miller hauled down 10 rebounds to lead Winside but the Wildcats were forced into 38 turnovers while

THE LAUREL BOYS also

Ryan Kvols of Laurel and Jay Rademacher of Winside battle for a loose ball during the home opener. The Bears did the bulk of their damage in the second and third quarters as they out-scored the visitors by a 35-16 margin.

'We liked the way the team responded after the overtime victory in Crofton last Friday," head coach Clayton Steele said. "We executed like we wanted in every aspect of the game.

Andy Bose was unstoppable, pouring in a game-high 25 points and hauling down 20 rebounds while Ryan Kyols netted 13 points with Jim Quist adding double fig-

Winside was led by Jaimey Holdorf with a dozen points as the Wildcats slipped to 1-2 on the season. Winside was out-rebounded by a 43-22 margin and the Bears did a nice job dishing the ball to the open man as they netted 19 team assists led by Vince Ward's eight.

The Bears will host Randolph on Saturday night after a postponement from Friday.

How to judge person's human worth

Q: Why are feelings of inferiority and inadequacy so prevalent among people of all ages at this time?

A: The current epidemic of selfdoubt has resulted from a totally unjust and unnecessary system of evaluating human worth now prevalent in society.

Not everyone is seen as worthy; not everyone is accepted. Instead, we reserve our praise and admiration for a select few who have been blessed from birth with the characteristics we value most. It is a vicious system, and you and I, as parents, must counterbalance its impact.

It seems that human worth in our society is carefully reserved for those who meet certain rigid specifications. The beautiful people are born with it; those who are highly intelligent are likely to find approval; superstar

But no one is considered valuable just because he is! Social acceptability is awarded rather carefully making certain to exclude those who are un-

Q: I have a 9-year-old daughter who lacks confidence and self-respect. What can I do to help her?

A: One of the most productive means of instilling self-confidence is to teach methods by which the child can compensate.

Compensation occurs when the individual counterbalances his weaknesses by capitalizing on his strengths. It is our job as parents to help our children find those strengths and learn to exploit them for all the selfsatisfaction they will yield.

And this brings us to a very important concept to be grasped: inferiority can either crush and paralyze an individual or it can provide tremendous emotional energy which powers every kind of success and achievement. Remember that the same boiling water that hardens the egg will soften Everything depends on the individual's reaction to stressful circumstances. The question is, will your daughter collapse under the weight of inferiority or will she use her emotional needs to supercharge her initiative and drive? The answer may depend on the direction you can provide in identifying compensatory skills. Perhaps she can establish her niche in music-many children do. Maybe she can develop her artistic talent, learn to write, cultivate mechanical skills, learn to cook, or learn to raise rabbits for fun

Regardless of what the choice is, the key is to start her down that road early... right now! There is nothing more risky than sending a teenager into the storms of adolescence with no skills, no unique knowledge, no means of compensating.

When this occurs, her ego is stark naked. She cannot say, "I may not be the most popular student in school, but I am the best trumpet player in the band." Her only source of self-esteem comes from the acceptance of other students . . . and their love is notoriously fickle

Dr. Feidler is real friendly and nice.

"I knew years ago I had the start of cataracts. My eyes were watery and blurry a lot. When I read I had to look so close. I went to my doctor and he couldn't do much for me so he sent me to Dr. Feidler. I had both eyes done. I felt it was important to see better. I read more now and can see the newspaper to read the local happenings

With cataract surgery you are safer. You are not as likely to stumble and fall.

Dr. Feidler is real friendly and nice. A real good person. I like the fact that he keeps you informed. His staff is wonderful, they treat you so good. It couldn't be better.

When everything turns out good, you'll be glad you had cataract surgery.

Allen boys get largest number turnout in years

The Allen boys have 17 players on the 1996-97 roster which is one of the largest groups in recent history for head coach Doug Schnack.

Returning from last year's team include seven letterwinners in Mike Blohm, Brad Smith, Jeremy Kumm, Philip Morgan, Cory Prochaska, Erik Olson and Brian Sullivan.

Other roster players that will be looking to aid in the Eagles bid to improve on last year's 1-17 record include John Stallbaum, Kenneth Rahn, Brooks Blohm and Robert Reves.

Newcomers to the squad include Brett Sachau and freshman Joe Sullivan, Adam Gensler, Austin Stewart, Randy Sullivan and Brandon Osbar.

"I'm looking forward to the season," Schnack said. "These are a-good bunch of kids and they know it's going to take a lot of hard work to be successful but they're ready to put their best forward."

One of the strengths should be the Eagles quickness. "We're not very tall but we should be able to get the ball up the floor quickly," Schnack said. "We need to be able to control the pace of the game for us to have a chance at the end."

Schnack said the key to the Eagles season will be the ability of the Eagles to rally around returning senior Mike Blohm who will undoubtedly draw top attention from the opposition.

rls seek winning year

The Allen Eagles girls basketball team will seeking to complete another winning season under the helm of veteran coaches Lori Koester and Gary Erwin.

"We're looking forward to the new season and excited about the group of girls we have to work with," Koester said. "The girls have put in a lot of time during the summer months and continue to work hard during preseason practices."

Four starters return for the Eagles and all are seniors with quality experience and leadership capabilities. "It's not very often, especially in a small school that you have a situation like we have where all four returning starters are seniors and we feel that experience will be a plus for us," Koester said.

Jaime Kluver will return to her guard position and looks strong according to the from Shanyn Moran and Mindy Plueger.

Moran averaged 12 points and eight boards a contest last season while Plueger is a threat to score from inside and out. "Mindy's versatility will be an added threat to opposition," Koester added.

Amanda Mitchell returns to supply quality help on the boards as well as being a solid defensive player. Freshman Stacey

Eagles coaches while inside help will come Martinson is making a strong bid for a starting position as are Jenny Sachau, April Sachau, and Wendi Schroeder.

We have a really good group of freshman and that will help to make practices more competitive and both our varsity and junior varsity games exciting," Koester said. "We as coaches are confident that with the kind of dedication and work ethic our girls possess, we will have a very successful season.'

Experience key to Winside success

Coach Jim Hoyt in his second year at the helm of the Winside boys basketball program is hopeful of improving on last year's 3-15 record.

The return of five players who started during that season bodes well for the Wildcats chances of doing just that. Seniors Jaimey Holdorf, who averaged 14.9 points per game while hitting 49 percent from the field and Chad O'Connor, who average over 15 points; per game will be the returning letterwinners for the 'Cats.

Brock Shelton also returns to the Wild-cats with nearly a nine point average from a year ago that included a 38-plus percent success rate from behind the 3-point arc.

This trio will form the core of Hoyt's team along with juniors Jay Rademacher and Trent Suehl who both saw a lot of playing time last year with senior Adam Behmer and sophomores Koinn Rees and Aaron Hoffman adding depth.

Winside girls to look to perimeter

Look for Winside girls basketball coach Lisa Schroeder to go to the perimeter game when the Wildcats need to put some points on the board in a hurry this season.

Junior Jodi Miller, who shot 41 percent from behind the 3-point are a year ago and averaged 13 points per outing will lead the way with shooting help coming from Mandi Topp, who drained 19, 3-pointers last year.

Joining the junior letterwinners will be sophomore Jessica Miller who notched eight boards a game and shot 49 percent from the field as a freshman. She will be called on to establish the inside game for Schroeder's squad.

Sara Marotz and Kelly Nathan will join to round out the starting quintet. Junior Mindy Janke and sophomores Amy Riley and Stacy Wittler are expected to make contributions to the Wildcat varsity as the season progresses.

"We have the potential to be a very good defensive team," Schroeder said. "We have a lot of quickness and we will utilize it in an up-tempo, full court pressure type of game."

Schroeder also said the Wildcats will have a deep bench as she plans on using 10-to-12 people each night out.

While the perimeter game will be a strength for Winside, improvement is sought in all phases of the rebounding game. "Our posts need to develop and dominate both on the boards and in the scoring column." Schroeder added.

The Winside mentor will be assisted by Angie Means and Ryan Haughton. The conference favorite in Schroeder's opinion is Wausa while Laurel and Lindsay Holy Family are among the tougher teams on the Wildcats schedule.

Winside hoops

Quickness and floor speed will be among the Wildcats strengths and it will be these strengths relied on to play an uptempo match-up man-to-man defense against most teams they face this season.

On the down side, a lack of height will hamper the Wildcats with the taller players coming from the younger grades, needing a year to develop.

The Winside coach says Coloridge and Osmond are the teams to beat in the Lewis & Clark Conference while Stanton and Homer head up the list of sub-district and district competition.

Assisting Hoyt in the coaching duties will be Terry Warner.

Winside grapplers set lofty goals

Paul Sok's Winside grappling squad keeps on rolling as usual with out missing a beat. The Wildcat assembly line produces state champions (22) and state medal winners (86) with amazing regularity and the upcoming season should be no different.

"We should have a very good year," Sok said. "I look to finish in the top three in all our tournaments and we should be a competitive dual team. If we don't get hit by injuries we should qualify a number of individuals for the state meet in February."

The Wildcats return seven state qualifiers from last year's squad, five of whom won matches at the state tournament a year ago. Among the leaders returning to the team this season include Cory Brummels who was 35-2 last season, Justin Bowers, 30-5 and Joe Schwedhelm, 30-6. Brummels finished third at the state meet with Bowers placing fifth

This trio will be joined by state qualifiers Steve Rabe, Robert Wittler, Landon Grothe and Shaun Magwire who will be seeking his third state tournament berth.

Jeff Jacobsen, a two-year letterwinner and Ryan Krueger also return. This nucleus should allow Sok's squad to maintain the Winside tradition of top 10 finishes among the state's small schools. The 'Cats have finished with the clite of the state's small schools 21 times in the last 24 years.

Winside's goal once they reach Lincoln is to improve on last year's fourth place team finish. They also want to be in contention for a district title. Creighton, Rock County and Elgin Pope John are the leading district competitors in preseason prognostications.

Sok will be assisted by Max Kant and Jeff Gallop.

The Laurel-Concord School district ofhistory, this year after several years of joint wrestling programs with Wayne and Randolph High Schools. This was a sacrifice for the students and school district to provide transportation for these students each day for practice.

The Bears inaugural team is being fers wrestling for the first time in recent coached by Lyle VanCleave with assistance from Steve Rengo, Jason Stammer and Pastor Engebretsen.

> The young team consists of 10 grapplers. "With a new program it will take time to build a foundation for the future." VanCleave said. "Junior high and elementary programs are being planned to add support to the varsity."

Jared Anderson, David Lipp, Justin Anderson and Aaron Diediker are the most experienced wrestlers on the Bears squad this season. "These wrestlers have been working hard with the rest of the team to acquire wrestling skills and conditioning,' VanCleave said.

With the small number of wrestlers it will be difficult to win duels, but we look forward to having them place in tournaments."

Laurel boys seeking repeat performance

The Laurel boys basketball team under the direction of Clayton Steele will be seeking another highly successful season after last season's 19-3 performance.

In order to do that, several players will have to step up and be accounted for after the Bears lost several starters to graduation including Tyler Erwin, who is playing college basketball at Midland College in Fremont this season.

Rich Rasmussen, Tyler Nixon, Danny Peters and Kyle Macklin also graduated and all started during the season last year for the Bears. Six seniors, four juniors and three sophomores, however, are prepared to pick up this season where the successful Bears of last season left off.

Among the key returners include Travis Stingley who averaged 17 points per game and eight rebounds but the Bears will be with out his services for six weeks due to a broken arm, suffered in football.

Vince Ward is the only returning starter and will be aided by other senior letterwinners Ryan Kvol's, Jim Quist, Mark Patefield and Brad Johnson.

Junior letterwinners include Andy Bose, Chad Jorgensen, Mike Strawn and Nick Kvols and sophomore letterwinners include Wyatt Erwin, Jesse Jelinek and Mike Stone.

"I look for the NENAC Conference to be very competitive this season including Plainview, who has the majority of its team back from last year's state qualifying team," Steele said. "Elkhorn Valley has good returning experience as do a number of other teams in the conference."

Laurel's non-conference schedule is very strong with the likes of Wayne, Hartington Cedar Catholic, Coleridge to name a few. "Laurel will have to depend on the strength of its guards early in the season," Steele said. "Hopefully, the inside game will improve by the end of the season. We hope to be very competitive by the season's end.".

Laurel girls looking to get back to state

The Laurel girls basketball team didn't have a lot of time to celebrate winning the state volleyball championship because the majority of those players are on the basketball team which began practice the Monday following the championship.

The Bears, under the regime of Rick Petri, return four starters from last year's state semifinalist squad and thoughts of another highly competitive season are expected.

Becky Schroeder, Alissa Krie, Sarah Ehlers and Tracy Ankeny will headline Laurel's squad. "These seniors have started for two or more years and will be the focal point of our squad this season," Petri said. "We will rely on the experience of these four to set an example for the rest of the team and provide the leadership necessary for us to have success again this season."

Petri said there are several underclassmen who he believes will give the Bears quality depth to compete for the entire game. "We will, however, be with out guard Megan Adkins, out until mid-January with a back injury," Petri added.

Laurel will looking to improve on a very respectable 20-4 record from a year ago. The Bears won't have to worry about being a small squad as the starting lineup consists of two players at least six-fect tall in Schroeder and Ehlers and two others at 5-10 including Ankeny and Jessie Erwin along with a 5-9 wing in Krie.

"The NENAC Conference should be very competitive once again as several teams have returning starters," Petri said.

"Because of this, there is no clear cut favorite and games should be close throughout the season. We expect to be one of those teams competing for the title."

Trojan girls return all five starters

The Wakefield girls will enter the 1996ence as Gregg Cruickshank's squad returns all five starters from last year's 9-13 squad.

Despite all that experience, Cruickshank says his team will have to be ready to play every night out. "This should be a great year for girls basketball in Northeast Nebraska," the Wakefield mentor said.

The veteran coach says there are a 97 basketball season with loads of experiplethora of strong teams in the area and all have a lot of experience returning. Pender, Wausa and Emerson-Hubbard are all on the December schedule along with six other > contests which will prove to be strong tests for the Lady Trojans.

> We have experience but so does everyone else," Cruickshank said. "Every team on our schedule returns between three-tofive starters."

Leading the way for Wakefield is senior Alison Benson. The 5-8 posst was an allconference selection last year when she averaged 15 points and four rebounds per out-

Jenny Haglund, Rachel Dutcher, Kristin Preston and Susan Brudigam also return to their starting roles with Benson, Haglund and Dutcher being seniors while Preston and Brudigam are juniors.

The Trojans depth will come from additional letterwinners Jennifer Simpson and Jennifer Sandahl. "Our athleticism and quickness will be a strength," Cruickshank said. "We feel we will be competitive, but that depends on our conditioning, pressure (man-to-man) defense, and our ability to compete on the boards.

Wayne returns four starters

The Wayne Blue Devils boys basketball team returns four-and-a-half starters off last year's 8-12 season including seniors Paul Blomenkamp, Nick Vanhorn and part-time starter Kurtis Keller along with juniors Justin Thede and Matt Meyer.

Head coach Rocky Ruhl says the schedule again looks tough the whole way. "It doesn't seem to matter how good or bad we are, teams we play will undoubtedly give us their best shot," Ruhl said. "Our goals for the season include to improve each day and keep focused on our next game. "Obviously, every team has the goal to win state but on a simpler goal our goals are to win our next game and win our last

Leading the way for Wayne will be Blomenkamp, the leading scorer and rebounder a year ago with a 20-point average and 10 rebounds per game average.

Thede averaged over 10 points a game and as a team the Blue Devils garnered a 55 point per game average while giving up nearly 58 points a game.

Ruhl will be looking for solid contributions from senior Paul Zulkosky as a starter and Ryan Dahl, a sophomore coming off the bench and playing a lot. Nick Hagmann, John Magnuson, Tony Hansen and Neil Munson are also going to be relied on for quality minutes on the varsity level.

"Practices have been going pretty good," Ruhl said. "We have been focusing on defense and hope we can use our defense as our offensive weapon.

"Offensively, we need to get a good shot on each possession and convert. Req bounding will also be a focus and with out it we won't be a very good team," Ruhl added. "We hope to limit our opponent to one shot each possession which means we need to be aggressive on the boards."

Wayne girls get new coach

The Wayne girls basketball team has a new face pacing the sidelines in head coach John McClarnen this season.

McLarnen came to Wayne from Silver Creek where he coached the boys teams the past two years while teaching sixth grade. The Falls City native led Silver Creek to the district finals a year ago where they were defeated by Exeter.

McLarnen will be seeking to lead a Wayne girls team that struggled last season, finishing with a 5-15 record. The new Blue Devils mentor is pleased, however to have 13 returning letterwinners off that squad.

"Because of the strength of our schedule this season, we know it is crucial that we do not look ahead to any of our opponent's," McLarnen said: "We feel if we continue to work hard and develop as a team, we can be competitive with anyone on our schedule."

Leading the Blue Devils will be senior Katie Lutt, the leading scorer from last year's team and a three-year starter. Lacy Bebee, Melissa Weber, Anne Wiseman and Katy Wilson also return for their final seasons as returning letterwinners.

Juniors Molly Linster, Gayle Olson, Lindsay Baack and Jenni Beiermann are returning letterwinners as are sophomores Heidi Johnson, Brooke Parker and Jessica Raveling.

Senior Kellie Lubberstedt and junior Sara Kinney will be seeking to earn their first letters this season as well. "We will need to have strong senior leadership throughout the season," McLarnen said. "We have four returning starters back including Lutt, Weber, Bebee and Wiseman who will hopefully be able to provide a solid nucleus."

The Wayne coach said a lack of height will be a primary concern which they hope to counter with speed and quickness. "We must also communicate and work with each other so we can avoid any size mismatches that the opposition may throw at us," he added.

Wayne grapplers young but experienced

The Wayne Blue Devils wrestling team returns four state qualifiers from a year ago and despite that experience coach John Murtaugh still has a very young team.

Ten of the grapplers on the team are returning letterwinners including state qualifiers Jeremiah Rethwisch, Jeremy Meyer, Robbie Sturm and Josh Murtaugh.

Other letterwinners are Jay Endicott, Tyler Endicott, Jody Campbell, Darin Jensen, Nick Salitros and Casey Junck. "We have an interesting combination of experience and youth on this year's team," Murtaugh said. "The emphasis will be on working hard and improving with each meet."

Wayne will be looking to improve on last year's 4-3 dual record. "As always, our goal is to wrestle our best at the end of the season," Murtaugh added. "Our schedule will be competitive once again which will allow us to be "tournament tough" for districts and state.

Wayne will be involved in 15 varsity duals and meets before the district tournament which begins on Valentine's Day. District teams this year include Logan View (host team), Blair, Boys Town, Elkhorn, Omaha Gross, Omaha Skutt, Omaha Roncalli, Schuyler, Wahoo, North Bend, Pierce and the Blue Devils.
