Pines Trailers and Great Dane merge

The Crown and Pines Families of Chicago, Ill. announced the acquisition of Great Dane Trailers, Inc., a leading truck trailer supplier, from the Stamford Capital Group.

Assets of the acquired have been merged with Pines Trailer Limited Partnership, a truck trailer manufacturer owned jointly by the families. The union creates a new organization Great Dane Limited Partnership that is expected to generate more than $1 billion in revenue in 1997, making it the largest truck trailer manufacturer in the world. The combined company will become an operating unit of CC Industries, Inc., an affiliate of Henry Crown and Company.

"By uniting the strengths of these two organizations, we become the marketplace leader," said CC Industries' President and CEO, William H. Crown.

"The two companies are a strategic complement. Great Dane Trailers has offered a broad range of products and services including refrigerated and platform trailers, products Pines Trailer traditionally has not manufactured.

"Great Dane trailers has sold its products and services through a network of 19 company-owned branches, 49 independent dealers and 24 parts-only dealers. This system will augment Pines Trailer's five company-owned branches and direct sales expertise. Going forward, our customers will have more choices—the full range of both Great Dane and Pines Trailer products—with more parts and service locations to serve them."

Terry Hansen, plant manager at the Wayne Great Dane plant said that no changes are planned at the present time for the Wayne plant.

"We are excited about the merger and being the largest company of this kind, but both companies know that what is important is continuing to be the best," Hansen said.

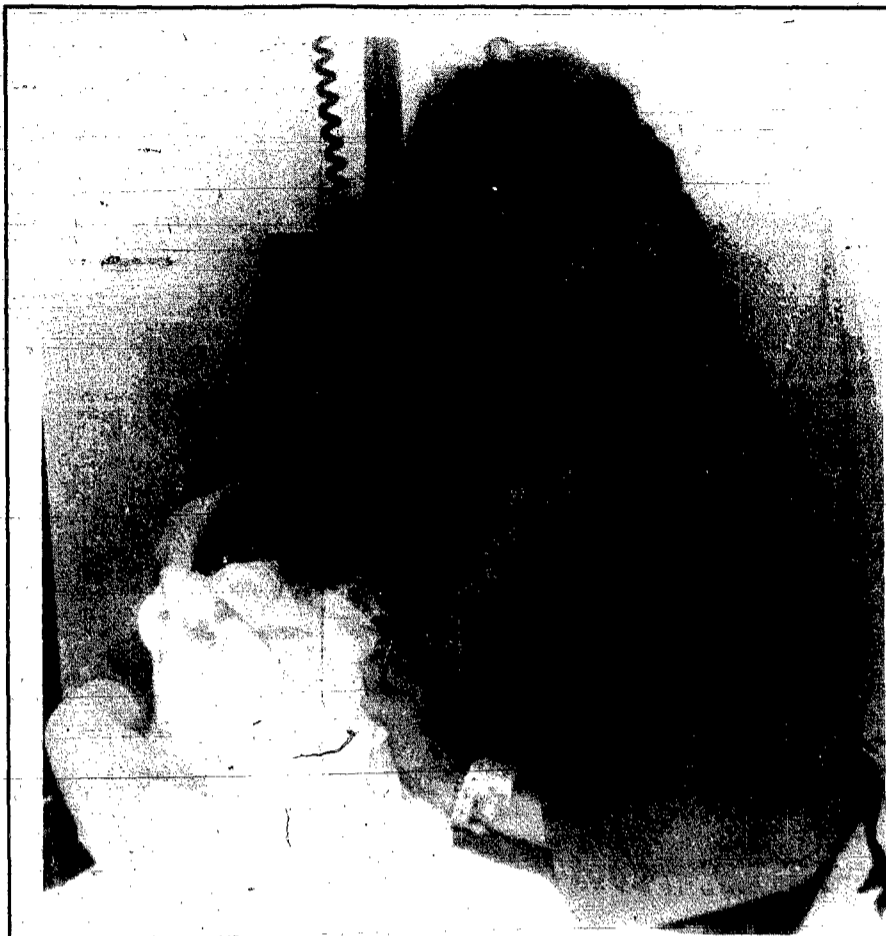

The Great Dane Limited Partnership will operate two divisions, both reporting to William Crown, C.F. (Kit) Hammond, the former Executive Vice President and CEO of Great Dane Trailers, Inc. will be named president of the Great Dane Trailers Division with its headquarters office in Savannah, Ga. This division will operate five manufacturing plants with locations in Savannah, Ga.; Brazil and Terre Haute, Ind.; Wayne and Memphis, Tenn.

Phillip Pines will be COO of the combined company and President of the Pines Trailer Division based in Chicago, Ill. The Pines Division will operate two plants in Kewanee, Ill and one in Greenville, Miss.

"The merger offers great synergies with little overlap in either products or our customer base," explained Phill Pines. "It is my belief that the combination of these two companies will enhance the efficiencies and capabilities of both. This will allow us to better serve our customers and provide more opportunities for our employees."

Great Dane Limited Partnership, headquartered in Chicago, employs 4,000 people across the US. CC Industries, also based in Chicago, is a holding and management company for a number of Crown family operating companies.

Financial details of the acquisition of Great Dane Trailers, Inc. by CC Industries were not disclosed.

First arrival

Blake Ronald Reimers made his appearance nearly a month early, but arrived in time to be the first baby born in 1997 at Providene Medical Center. Blake was born at 10:36 p.m. on Jan. 1, weighing 5 lbs. 13 oz. He was 19 1/2 inches long. The fact that he is somewhat of a celebrity did not appear to have any impact on Blake, as he slept through his first photo session. Holding the new baby is his mother, Heather Stapelman.

New firm takes over recycling

Stephen Rauch, owner of Pierce Recycling, will be providing a 10-bin recycling trailer in Wayne.

The trailer will be located on Windom Street, just south of the ball park, from 7-8:30 p.m. on Mondays.

In addition, a livestock trailer has been parked at that location for drop-off of recyclable materials at other times.

In addition to No. 1 and 2 plastics, steel and aluminum cans and glass, No. 4 plastics will be accepted.

The agreement with Pierce Recycling was arranged by the local garbage haulers.

Norfolk Recycling, the firm that had been collecting recyclable materials in Wayne is not able to come in to town to pick up the materials.

In the past, the Recycling Center has been staffed by volunteers from a number of service organizations in Wayne.

Girl Scouts in process of selling cookies

Girls of all ages will be securing the means to make their dreams through the great American tradition, the annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale.

Girl Scouts in Prairie Hills Scout Council will be selling the cookies Jan. 10-27. This is the only time of the year these special

Of the Herald

Despite a new law that went into effect on Jan. 1, services offered by the former Social Services Office in Wayne will remain as is for the time being, according to Kristin Williams, public information officer for the newly formed Nebraska Health and Human Services System.

Nebraska sported five agencies including Social Services, Public Institutions, Health, Aging and the Office of Juvenile Services.

These five agencies were combined into three agencies on the first of January.

The new agencies form an integrated health and human services system managed by a cabinet appointed by the Governor of the State.

The agencies are titled, Services, Regulation and Licensure and Finance and Support.

The idea behind the change is cost savings and improved services issued by the Nebraska Partnership for Health and Human Services.

The report issued by the Nebraska Partnership identifies cost savings over the next biennium of $88 million. Of this amount, $22.9 million will be realized in a reduction of 400 employee positions.

Over the same time period, more than 250,000 Nebraskans who are served through the system will see improved coordination of services.

People and programs regulated by health and human services agencies, such as physicians and child care providers, will see streamlined regulations.

Williams said when the transition phase is completed which could take approximately 30 months, people will be able to go to one place in Wayne to receive all the services with one case worker to coordinate instead of a different case worker for each service you are receiving. "Some of the cuts will come through the elimination of positions through attrition and with others taking different roles in the system," Williams said. "The ultimate goal is to have better coordinated services."

Williams did say that people should not get alarmed with the newly formed Health and Human Services System because it isn't concentrating efforts on making cuts to those receiving the services.

"When you have greater efficiency, you save money in time and by eliminating the duplication of services," Williams said.

The projected $88 million of savings over the two-year frame is aimed at saving nearly $23 million in payroll cost and another $11.8 million in operational spending.

The other $50-plus million in savings will stem from a reduction in the number of Nebraskans receiving ADC (Aid to Dependent Children) and costs offset in Medicaid.

"Currently, ADC case loads have been declining," Williams said. "We attribute some of that to a good economy and partly to Employment First, a Nebraska Welfare Reform Program."

Williams added that federal funding changes was another primary reason for seeking other ways to provide services to Nebraskans.

And the walls came tumbling down

Crews completed the demolition of the remaining wall of the Black Knight on Friday. The interior of the former restaurant had been filled in with dirt and removing the wall was completed in a short time. The building was destroyed by fire on June 26, 1995.

Pondering 1997

Yes, 1997 is over a week old and nothing stays the same. No power on earth can keep people, their activities, or things from changing. Change is a constant in the equation of living.

Guessing what may happen in 1997 remains only a guess. No doubt surprises and challenges will be numerous.

Regardless of what we confronted in 1996, as survivors most of us grab hold of renewed hope. On this ninth day we ponder the possibilities of 1997.

Society is daily invaded by hundreds of thousands of new immigrants that have never before had a chance to do their thing. We're talking about the daily arrival of new babies. Will those born in 1997 find it to be a happy year? Variable factors determining their experience include society's old enemies of hunger, poverty, domestic violence, disease, drunk drivers, murderers, neglect, etc. If a new babe can maneuver through all such obstacles, perhaps 1997 will be a banner year.

Will society reawaken the urgent need for values, ethics, morals, and spiritual faith? If it does, 1997 could be a brilliant star in the constellation of years. Should earthlings continue their collective or individual slide toward debauchery, seduced by greed, then the new year may be appalling.

Our attitude and decisions will construct 1997.

Hopefully it will be the best year ever.

In session again

Nebraska's legislators started another session yesterday and the countdown appears to be on for introducing numerous bills, some important and some are repeats.

Because taxpayers are tired of shelling out increasing amounts of money, the legislative mood this year may be to cut the Ten Commandments down to eight. Using the machinery of the law, representatives appear at times to simply be satisfied with creating more machinery. Let's hope that isn't the case.

Money is always the glue of politics, so when the legislators are all seated, ready for work, a person may have the same feeling one gets upon seeing a grandchild hanging out a seventh story window.

Abraham Lincoln is to have said "The legitimate object of government is to do for a community of people whatever they need to have done, but cannot do at all in their separate and individual capacities."

That's more like it.

If you have a computer and internet access, you may want to keep a finger on what the senators in Lincoln are doing by accessing the legislative home page at <http://www.lcs.state.ne.us>.

Glancing in new year at the various events

With the Nebraska Legislature back in session, as of yesterday, we again expect the display of ups and downs, challenges and consequences, praise and protests, quarrels and questions, accompanied by silliness and substance. But it is the way we govern ourselves, so everyone should take interest. Those having computers and internet access may read the Legislature's home page at <http://www.lcs.state.ne.us>.

Media headlines in 1997 will likely describe some of the following:

- presidential inauguration.
- more personal indebtedness for President Clinton as his lawyers continue handling the charges of Paula Jones, Whitewater, Travelgate, Filegate and Indonesiagate. If more gates pop open on the president's "bridge to the future" his second term may be a long one indeed. The Jones vs. Clinton case is scheduled for the U.S. Supreme Court on Monday.
- physician assisted suicide legislation.
- rules for home drug searches.
- validity of term limits.
- Comet Hale-Bopp to put on a dazzling sky show in March and April. Discovered July 23, 1995, the comet passes closest to Earth on March 22, 1997 at a distance of approximately 122 million miles while moving at 15 miles per second. Astronomers are unsure but believe Hale-Bopp may perform in eye-popping fashion.
- school choice legislation.
- World Wide Internet growth.
- Government will again attempt to find a way to tax use of the Internet.
- Federal authorities, initiating the will of President Clinton, will continue trying to hold "back door" keys thereby being able to read all computer encrypted messages.
- spring flooding along the Missouri River.

Merlin Wright

- Seventh Street construction in Wayne.
- nearly total lunar eclipse on March 23rd.
- U.S. Post Office will ask for a stamp rate increase.
- Congressional fight over line-item veto.
- Legislators will attempt to ban same-sex marriages in Nebraska.
- HDT, or high definition television, will make little impact on Nebraskans due to small TV markets being unable to afford the technology.
- Completion, dedication and use of the new Wayne Library/Senior Citizen building.
- candy-bar-size cellular telephones will hit market.
- cost of personal computers to decline.
- public debate over abortion and the death penalty will persist.
- NASA satellite to land on Mars July 4.
- this winter will go into the record books as a "hard" one.
- local juvenile detention center activates plans for move to Madison, NE.
- Governor Nelson to attend local airport runway dedication this summer.
- schools will continue encountering major funding cuts.
- All by guess and by golly!
Happy 1997!

Many decisions to be made

By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

It's that time of year again. Time to hang up the Big Red clothes, start worrying about whether you'll have to pay income taxes, and begin considering what the Nebraska Legislature might do to us.

Like the cranes returning to the Platte River, state senators flocked back to Lincoln this week for that two-year sausage-making process we refer to as "making laws."

Lawmakers will take another swing at reducing local property taxes, decide how much of your money state agencies will spend and pour over hundreds of other issues during the 90 working days that began Wednesday.

Plenty of their decisions will affect your life.

Here's a few of them:

-- Property Taxes. Legislators decide this year if they really meant what they did last year, which was to force spending cuts by local school districts, cities and counties until people's taxes truly went down.

We may find out that a majority of senators really wanted to just shift the tax burden so that we're paying less property taxes while more in sales and income taxes.

There are plenty of proposals floating around to let counties or school districts levy sales and income taxes to offset the loss of property tax revenue. Even Gov. Nelson, still stinging from his U.S. Senate defeat in November, has weighed in with a local-option tax proposal.

People need to speak up on this issue if they really want less taxes because the momentum, it seems, is behind a shift of some kind.

-- School Aid. Once again, senators are poised to change the complicated formula for distributing millions of dollars of state funds to local schools.

Administrators at smaller school districts suspect the proposed changes are intended to force them to close or consolidate. But the high number of school districts in Nebraska has always been blamed for our high property taxes.

-- Concealed Weapons. Gun rights advocates think Nebraska ought to join other states and legalize possession of concealed handguns for law-abiding citizens who show they can handle a gun and show they need one for self-protection.

-- License Revocation. Attention hunters and fishermen -- you may lose your license to hunt and fish (not to mention those to drive and practice law) if you don't pay your child support under this proposal, which failed last year.

This year, however, it is a federal mandate and it would cost Nebraska $11 million if it doesn't comply.

-- State Spending. The state budget has an estimated $150 million cushion. Senators get to decide whether they'll return it to you (in the form of an income tax cut advocated by Gov. Nelson), use it to fix the crumbling State Capitol, give it to schools in the form of higher state aid, or divide it in other ways.

So fellow taxpayers, it's time to speak up -- and if you don't think speaking up makes a difference, just refer to last spring, when a tiny, grass-roots, anti-gambling group out-flanked a hoard of pro-casino lobbyists.

The views expressed in Capitol News are those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Nebraska Press Association.

Great events are planned

Some really great events are planned for the next couple of months, and I hope you'll choose to be involved in some of them!

The Chamber's Agribusiness Council is organizing and sponsoring an Ag Education Seminar on Wednesday, Jan. 22. Speakers include Nebraska Secretary of Agriculture Larry Sitzman; Dr. Raymond Ward of Ward Laboratories in Kearney; and KMEG weather personality Paul Hagar. All area ag producers are encouraged to attend this educational seminar.

Sponsorships are still available for the ag seminar at either $25 or $50. It's just good business for you to be involved in this seminar! Contact me at the Chamber for additional information regarding sponsorship.

How about helping to kick off "Chamber of Commerce Month" in February? You could attend the Nebraska Chamber of Commerce and Industry's 1997 Legislative Caucus and Annual Meeting. The Wayne Chamber anticipates a great response to this day-long event. Registration begins at 9 a.m. followed by speakers throughout the day. Luncheon speaker will be Gov. Ben Nelson. A reception at 6 p.m. and the Nebraska Business Hall of Fame Banquet and Program will conclude the day. We'll sponsor a senator and the senator's spouse for the evening dinner, and this will be your opportunity to visit with the senator. Call the Chamber at 375-2240 to make your reservation for this meeting on Thursday, Feb. 6, at The Cornhusker Hotel in Lincoln.

Later in February, on Sunday the 23rd, you will have the opportunity to attend the annual meeting of the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce. At this time the Citizen of the Year and the Educator of the Year awards will be presented. A wrap-up of the prior year and expectations for 1997 will be emphasized. Look for an invitation arriving soon at your business location. Employers are encouraged to bring employees and spouses to this annual event. If you have nominations for either award, or for further information, contact the Chamber.

Remember -- there are plenty of special once-a-year events within your Chamber of Commerce! Be sure to get involved.

Jaycee week

Mayor Sheryl Lindau, center, signed a proclamation declaring the week of Jan. 12-18 as Jaycee Week. The Jaycees have been active in Wayne for 42 years, providing such programs as JAYS, Citywide Clean-up, Leaf Pick-up, Youth Support Competitions, Vid-A-Kid and the Easter Egg Hunt. Witnessing the signing were Shani Kavanaugh, Community Development Vice President and Bob Keating, treasurer of the group.

Area athletes honored by Wayne Herald for volleyball and football

By Kevin Peterson
Of the Herald

There's an old adage that states "Better late than never." That is exactly the case in the annual All-Area Volleyball and Football teams announced by the Wayne Herald.

Due to darkroom technicalities and Christmas break at the five area schools, the annual teams honoring the best players as seen through the eyes of the Wayne Herald sports staff is somewhat late.

At any rate, there were some fine performances in the two fall sports programs and we lead off the list with the top volleyball players of 1996.

Laurel-Concord's 26-0 record and the first state championship in school history in volleyball was the highlight in the area along with Wayne's fine performance that netted them a state tournament berth as well.

Both the Bears and Blue Devils placed four players on the All-Area team including Tracy Ankeny, Becky Schroeder, Megan Adkins and Sarah Ehlers from Laurel-Concord and Katie Lutt, Melissa Weber, Gayle Olson and Molly Linster from Wayne.

The one-two combination of Ankeny and Schroeder made the Bears the most powerful volleyball team in Class C-2 and add in a consistent defensive-net play from Sarah Ehlers and it was the icing on the cake.

Megan Adkins did a marvelous job of quarterbacking the volleyball team from her setting position which rounded out a strong Bears team.

Katie Lutt made her mark on Class C-1 by smashing the all-time state record for kill spikes with 933. The old record was 774.

Melissa Weber also had a fantastic season from her setting position and also broke the state record for career set assists only to have it broken in the state tournament by a Grand Island Central Catholic player.

Molly Linster and Gayle Olson were consistent players all year long for coach Joyce Hoskins in playing defense, spiking the ball on offense or serve receiving.

Wakefield's Susan Brudigam is the lone Trojan to earn first team status on the All-Area Team. The Trojans struggled at times this year but it was Brudigam who was the most consistent player for coach Marty Slaughter.

Allen's lone player on the team is Jaime Kluever, also a setter. She was the difference on coach Scott Kneiff's squad in leading Allen to a winning record with her communication on the court and ability to get the ball to the right hitter.

The 11th and final player to comprise the All-Area Volleyball Team is Winside's Jessica Miller.

The sophomore hitter made gigantic strides in leading the Wildcats in hitting with 177 kills and a .385 kill efficiency. The six-footer also notched 60 ace blocks on the season.

When it comes to the player of the year in the Wayne Herald coverage area the nod goes to Laurel-Concord's Tracy Ankeny and Wayne's Katie Lutt.

The Coach of the Year honor is also a duo-award, with Patu Cunningham of Laurel-Concord and Joyce Hoskins of Wayne.

The honorable-mention players that deserve recognition include Allen's Shanyn Moran, Amanda Mitchell and Mindy Plueger.

Wakefield's Alison Benson and Kristin Preston are honorable mention selections as are Winside's Sara Marotz and Jodi Miller.

Katie Monson and Jessie Erwin are Laurel-Concord honorable mention picks as is Wayne's Katy Wilson.

Wayne's Brooke Parker deserves recognition for her serving ability which quite often changed momentum to Wayne's advantage and Jennie Beiermann is recognized as being the most improved player from the start of the season to the end.

TURNING TO football, the All-Area Team is honoring 30 players this year because it was a great year overall. For the five area teams.

Heading the list is Laurel-Concord who advanced to the state's final eight while Winside advanced to the sweet 16 in Class C-2.

The Bears top seven earning first team status includes Vince Ward, Ryan Kvols, Travis Stingley, Mark Patefield, Seth Harder, Ryan McCoy and Jimmy Quist.

Winside's premiere players consisted of Jamey Holdorf, Chad O'Connor, Robert Wittler, Landon Grothe, Shaun Magwire, Joe Schwedhelm and Brock Shelton.

Wakefield players earning first team status include Justin Mackling, Tyler Peters, Lance Jacobsen, Eric Beacom, Adam Ulrich, Heath Keim and Josh Hohn while the Blue Devils all-area first-teamers include Jeremy Lutt, Adam Danberg, Paul Zulkosky, Brian Fernau, Kurtis Keller and Jeremiah Rethwisch.

Allen's Michael Blohm, Brett Sachau and Brad Smith round out the first-team honorees.

No doubt Laurel-Concord surprised a number of people for what they accomplished on the gridiron this past season.

After losing 20-plus starters from the year before the Bears responded brilliantly led by the school's first 1,000-yard rusher in recent history in Vince Ward.

Ryan Kvols was also magnificent at the quarterback position and Travis Stingley played eight sparkling games before breaking his wrist.

Winside's Jamey Holdorf ended a spectacular career in which he literally rewrote all the Winside receiving records as well as kick return records.

Robert Wittler had a stellar career at the helm of the Wildcats and Chad O'Connor may have had the finest season that went unnoticed via post season honors.

Brock Shelton, Shaun Magwire and Joe Schwedhelm were the anchors to a very consistent line for Randy Geier on both sides of the ball.

Wakefield's Justin Mackling had another great season from his running back position but the Trojans defensive linebacker trio drew as

See ALL-AREA Page 5A

Laurel-Concord volleyball players on the first team of the All-Area squad include Becky Schroeder, Tracy Ankeny, Megan Adkins and Sarah Ehlers.

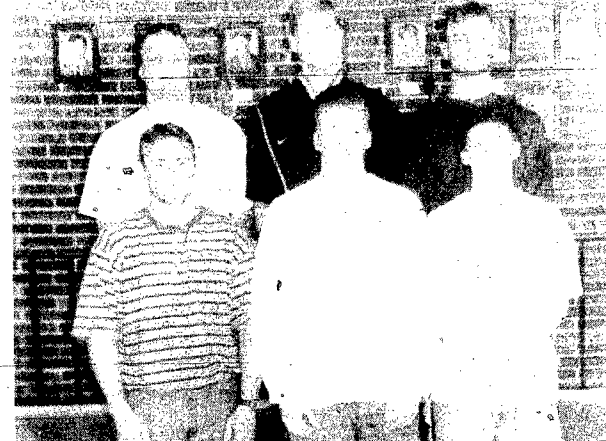

The Wayne Blue Devil volleyball team netted four players on the first team of the All-Area squad including Melissa Weber, Gayle Olson, Molly Linster and Katie Lutt.

Laurel-Concord football players earning first-team All-Area status included Vince Ward, Ryan Kvols, Mark Patefield, Travis Stingley, Jimmy Quist, Seth Harder and Ryan McCoy.

Three Allen Eagles football players earned first-team All-Area including Michael Blohm, Brad Smith and Brett Sachau.

Six Wayne football players are honored for first-team status on the All-Area team including Jeremy Lutt, Kurtis Keller, Jeremiah Rethwisch, Brian Fernau, Adam Dangberg and Paul Zulkosky.

much praise as any among the area. Mackling along with Lance Jacobsen and Tyler Peters wreaked havoc against their opposition.

Wayne's Jeremy Lutt was probably the area's most inspirational player while being a dominant force on the defensive line for John Murtaugh's Blue Devils.

Adam Dangberg was also a defensive gem for Wayne as was Brian Fernau while the offensive spark came from Paul Zulkosky who had the ultimate of seasons with his big play capability.

Kurtis Keller finished second on the team in receptions while taking advantage of his 35-inch vertical leaping ability and Jeremiah Rehwisch helped provide consistent line play on both sides of the ball.

Allen's Michael Blohm is just one of those natural players that could play for anyone with his ability to run with the ball, catch the ball and play defense. Brett Sachau led the Eagles in rushing this season and Brad Smith was one of the leading tacklers to earn a spot on the All-Area Team.

The Player of the Year honor goes to Laurel-Concord's Vince Ward for rushing for nearly 1600 yards. Ward ran for more than 750 yards in the post-season alone.

The Coach of the Year honor goes two-fold this season with Laurel-Concord's Tom Luxford and Winside's Randy Geier.

Honorable mention players that deserve recognition include Nick Vanhorn and Paul Blomenkamp from Wayne, Jeremy Kumm and Cory Prochaska from Allen, Jon Fritz, Chad Jorgensen and Andy Bose from Laurel-Concord, Todd Kahl, Jim Rusk and BJ Hansen from Wakefield and Ryan-Krueger, Cory Brummels, Scott Stenwall and Aaron Hoffman from Winside.

Incidentally, Joe Schwedhelm, Aaron Hoffman and Cory Brummels were inadvertently omitted from the Lewis & Clark All-Conference honorable mention selections.

Susan Brudigam is Wakefield's lone All-Area first teamer.

Jess Miller of Winside is a first-team All-Area recipient.

Jaime Kløver of Allen earned All-Area status on the first team.

Members of the Winside football team earning first-team All-Area include Shaun Magwire, Chad O'Connor, Jaimey Holdorf, Joe Schwedhelm, Robert Wittler, Brock Shelton and Landon Grothe.

Wakefield Trojans earning first-team All-Area on the football squad include Lance Jacobsen, Josh Hohn, Tyler Peters, Heath Keim, Justin Mackling, Eric Beacom and Adam Ulrich.

Winside defeats Walthill

The Winside girls basketball team improved to 3-4 with a 56-42 win over Walthill, Tuesday.

Lisa Schroeder's team trailed 11-8 after the first quarter but rebounded to take a 22-18 lead at the half and they never looked back, out-scoring Walthill 17-9 in the third quarter and 17-15 in the final stanza.

"We had a poor defensive effort in the first half," Schroeder said. "Finally, we got some intensity on defense in the third quarter and had a nice run to lead by as many as 20 points."

Amy Riley led a very balanced scoring attack with 12 points while Jodi Miller tallied 11.

Jess Miller hauled down a team-high 15 rebounds, edging teammate Nicole Mohr who notched 14 caroms.

Riley and Mandi Topp each had three assists to share team honors and the two along with Brooke Boelter had three steals apiece.

Winside will travel to play Beemer on Friday.

Winside 56—Walthill, 42 (Winside scoring) Amy Riley, 12; Jodi Miller, 11; Nicole Mohr, 9; Jess Miller, 7; Mandi Topp, 7; Kelly Nathan, 6; Brooke Boelter, 2; Mindy Janke, 2. Winside Record: 3-4.

THE WINSIDE boys notched their second win of the season against four losses with an 81-65 win over Walthill.

The Wildcats led 18-16 after the first quarter and 38-33 at the break before out-scoring the visitors, 43-32 in the second half.

Coach Jim Hoyt credited Jaimey Holdorf as having his best game of the season with 23 points, nine rebounds and nine assists.

Chad O'Connor followed with 17 points and Brock Shelton tossed in a dozen while Aaron Hoffman finished in double figures with 11. Winside out-rebounded Walthill, 46-34 led by Holdorf's nine caroms and the Wildcats forced 29 turnovers while committing 21.

Winside will host Beemer in action Thursday.

Winside 81—Walthill, 65 (Winside scoring) Jaimey Holdorf, 23; Chad O'Connor, 17; Brock Shelton, 12; Aaron Hoffman, 11; Jay Rademacher, 8; Trent Suehl, 7; Koinn Rees, 2; Aaron Lessman, 1. Winside Record: 2-4.

Wakefield girls blast Walthill to snap skid

The Wakefield girls basketball team snapped a four-game losing streak with a thrashing of Walthill, Monday in Wakefield, 66-19, leaving Gregg Cruickshank's squad with a 5-4 record.

The Trojans came out gunning in the first quarter and the defensive intensity was at a fever pitch, holding Walthill scoreless through the entire first quarter.

Wakefield entered the halftime break with a 37-6 advantage and then out-scored the visitors, 29-13 in the second half.

"Overall the girls played well," Cruickshank said. "It was the kind of game where things could have gotten ragged but the girls played disciplined basketball and did a lot of nice things. It was also nice to get a number of girls playing time."

Alison Benson led the winners with 20 points while Rachel Dutcher tossed in nine and Jenny Sandahl, eight.

Wakefield out-rebounded Walthill, 43-16 and the Trojans forced 29 turnovers while committing 15.

Walthill connected on just seven of 40 shots from the field while the Trojans were 29-70.

Wakefield will compete in the Homer Tournament on Thursday with a first round game with Homer. That tournament concludes on Saturday.

Wakefield 66—Walthill, 19 (Wakefield scoring) Alison Benson, 20; Rachel Dutcher, 9; Jenny Sandahl, 8; Erin Salmon, 6; Susan Brudigam, 4; Jennifer Roeber, 4; Jennifer Simpson, 5; Maggie Brownell, 2; Tanya Hohn, 2; Kristin Preston, 2; Jenny Haglund, 2; Jennifer Carson, 2.

Seventh grade boys win tourney

The Wayne Recreation seventh grade boys basketball team won the Wisner-Pilger Tournament, recently defeating one Wisner team in the first round and another Wisner team in the finals.

In the first game Wayne won, 30-12 led by Brad Hansen with eight points while Brad Hochstein had six. Brett Parker finished with four and Drew Slaybaugh added three followed by Adam McGuire, Nathan Bull, Luke Christensen and Cody Onnen with two each and Jeff Pippitt with one.

In the championship, the boys won, 33-30 over Wisner with Hochstein pacing the winners with 15 while Hansen poured in 11. Parker, McGuire and Drew Slaybaugh added two each and Jeff Pippitt rounded out the scoring with one.

The eighth grade boys finished third after dropping an opening round game with West Point C.C., 30-27.

Ben Meyer led Wayne with nine followed by Jon Meyer with six. Eric McLagan and Craig Olson had four each followed by Anthony Sump and Shane Baack with two each.

In the consolation game, Wayne defeated Wisner, 51-39 led by Jeff Ensz with 12 points while Eric McLagan netted nine and Ben Meyer, seven. Jon Meyer, Anthony Sump and Trevor Wright each scored six and Shane Baack, netted five.

WSC gals split road games

The Wayne State women's basketball team split a pair of road games over the weekend, leaving them with a 3-8 record.

Last Friday the Wildcats defeated Upper Iowa, 68-64 and Saturday, they fell to Winona State of Minnesota, 71-59.

At Upper Iowa, Amy Brodersen paced the Cats with a 22-point outing while Megan Murphy tossed in 15.

WSC led 31-28 at the intermission and built a second half lead of 18 points before Upper Iowa rallied to fall by four.

WSC hit 23 of 62 shots from the floor for 37 percent and they were 21-29 from the foul line for 72 percent while the host team was 25 of 68 from the floor for 36 percent and they hit 11 of 21 from the free throw line.

The Cats edged Upper Iowa on the boards, 50-46 led by Carla Schultz with nine while while Murphy had eight and Brodersen and Erin Pick netted seven each.

WSC committed 23 turnovers compared to 21 for Upper Iowa.

At Winona State on Saturday, WSC trailed the host team, 31-23 at the intermission before being out-scored, 40-36 in the second half.

Again cold shooting hurt WSC as they were just 23 of 70 from the field for 33 percent and nine-of-20 from the free throw line for 45 percent.

Brodersen once again led WSC in the scoring column with 19 points while Carla Schultz tallied 12.

The Cats were out-rebounded 53-47 with Erin Pick leading WSC with seven caroms.

Brodersen dished out a team-high five assists and Tonya Porter notched five steals for team tops. The WSC women's team will host Concordia College on Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

WSC 68—Upper Iowa, 64 (WSC scoring) Amy Brodersen, 22; Megan Murphy, 15; Tonya Porter, 8; Stefanie Sjuts, 8; Jenny Thompson, 5; Carla Schultz, 4; Renee Belz, 4; Erin Pick, 2.

WSC 59—Winona State, 71 (WSC scoring) Amy Brodersen, 19; Carla Schultz, 12; Megan Murphy, 9; Tonya Porter, 6; Erin Hourigan, 6; Stefanie Sjuts, 3; Renee Belz, 2; Erin Pick, 2. WSC record: 3-8.

Allen girls defeat Homer before falling to Wausa

The Allen girls snapped a five-game losing streak by downing Homer, 50-46 last Friday night.

Lori Koester and Gary Erwin's team out-scored the host team, 18-14 in the final period to post the victory.

Allen had led Homer, 26-20 at the half but the Knights rebounded in the third quarter to out-score the Eagles, 12-6 to tie the game at 32.

"We played our best game of the season both offensively and defensively," coach Erwin said. "We were pleased with the intensity we showed throughout the game."

Mindy Plueger led the winners with 17 points followed by Jaime Kløver with 14.

The Eagles out-rebounded Homer, 18-16 led by Shanyyn Moran with 10 caroms, and Plueger with four.

Allen committed 24 turnovers but forced Homer into 32. Kløver and Amanda Mitchell each had four steals with Mitchell also dishing out four assists while Stacey Martinson had three assists and two steals.

TUESDAY IN Allen the Eagles played highly ranked Wausa to the wire before falling, 56-51. Allen used a 16-9 scoring run in the second quarter to lead 25-22 at the intermission.

Wausa took a 34-33 lead in the fourth quarter before out-scoring the Eagles, 22-18.

"Our girls are playing with a lot of heart and determination and a lot more confidence and we're excited to see that again," coach Lori Koester said. "Although we didn't get the win we were proud of our team's effort."

Mindy Plueger and Shanyyn Moran combined to score 40 of Allen's 51 points with 22 and 18, respectively. The twosome also combined to haul down 20 rebounds with 10 apiece.

Allen out-rebounded the Vikings, 28-16 but the key stat was the Eagles 30 turnovers compared to just 11 for Wausa.

Amanda Mitchell dished out a career-high seven assists and Plueger added four steals to her stellar stats.

Allen will take its 2-6 record to Ponca on Friday night.

Allen 51—Wausa, 56 (Allen scoring) Mindy Plueger, 22; Shanyyn Moran, 18; Jaime Kløver, 7; Stacey Martinson, 4.

Allen boys beaten twice

The Allen boys basketball team remained winless on the season after dropping two games at the Homer Tip-Off Classic over the weekend.

Last Friday the Eagles fell to Homer, 83-44 and Saturday in the consolation round they fell to Emerson-Hubbard, 59-44.

Allen got off to a very slow start against Homer, trailing 21-4 after one quarter of play and 41-22 at the break.

"We gave up way too many offensive rebounds," Allen coach Doug Schnack said. "They were quite a bit bigger than us but we didn't keep them boxed out of the paint."

Mike Blohm paced the Eagles with 15 points while Philip Morgan, Cory Prochaska and Ken Rahn netted six each.

Allen was dominated on the boards, 42-14 with Blohm hauling down half of the Eagles rebounds with seven while Brad Smith tallied five.

In the consolation game the Eagles were out-scored by a 20-2 margin in the second quarter which more than made the difference in the 59-44 defeat.

Allen out-scored the Pirates, 32-

28 in the second half. "We had a big let down in the second quarter," Schnack said. "We took a break mentally and that was all they (Emerson) needed."

Blohm led Allen once again with 14 points while Brad Smith enjoyed his finest game of the season with 11 points.

Allen was out-rebounded, 31-19 with Erik Olsen leading the Eagles with seven caroms while Blohm netted five.

Allen 44—Homer, 83 (Allen scoring) Mike Blohm, 15; Philip Morgan, 6; Ken Rahn, 6; Cory Prochaska, 6; Brad Smith, 5; Erik Olsen, 4; Jeremy Kumm, 2.

Allen 44—Emerson-Hubbard, 59 (Allen scoring) Mike Blohm, 14; Brad Smith, 11; Ken Rahn, 6; Erik Olsen, 4; Cory Prochaska, 3; Jeremy Kumm, 3; Philip Morgan, 3. Allen record: 0-8.

Wayne's Justin Thede out-hustles a Columbus Scotus Shamrock player for a loose ball during the Blue Devils 14-point win over the previously eighth-ranked team. Wayne cracked into the top 10 this week in the number nine position.

Wayne senior guard Paul Zulkosky looks to drive baseline against a Columbus Scotus player during second half action of Wayne's 68-54 win over the Shamrocks.

Wayne boys down eighth-ranked Scotus

What a difference a year makes. The Wayne boys basketball team was blasted by Columbus Scotus a year ago by 32 points, 72-40 but last Friday Rocky Ruhl's Blue Devils atoned for that debacle with a 68-54 victory in Wayne over the state's eighth-ranked Shamrocks.

Wayne lead was trimmed to six but the Blue Devils responded and led 49-39 after three quarters of play. "I was pleased that we didn't allow them to have any big runs," Ruhl said. "Any run they did have was answered with a run of our own."

Wayne, 5-1 got off to a quick start and never trailed in the contest. "It was key to get off to a quick start," Ruhl said. "I thought our kids played well as a team." Wayne led 21-8 after one quarter of play and 37-26 at the intermission. Scotus came out in the third quarter and nailed a couple treys and the Wayne out-scored the Shamrocks by a 19-15 margin in the final period. Incidentally, it was the Blue Devils first home game in 10 months as the home game slated in December with Columbus Lakeview was postponed because of bad weather. Wayne's Paul Blomenkamp hit nine of 12 shots from the field enroute to a game-high 21 points while Justin Thede, tossed in 13 with Ryan Dahl adding 11. John Magnuson tallied nine points in his second consecutive start. Ruhl said he was pleased with the way his squad knocked down the free throws in the second half after hitting just five-of-ten in the first half. "We hit 11 of 12 in the second half," Ruhl said. Wayne hit 59 percent of its shots from the floor, 26-46 while connecting on 16 of 22 free throw attempts. Scotus hit 46 percent of its shots and was 4-11 from the foul line. Wayne dominated the boards, 39-18 led by Blomenkamp's 17-rebound performance while Justin Thede notched seven caroms. Paul Zulkosky notched four steals and Thede dished out six assists while Matt Meyer and Zulkosky had four each. The Blue Devils had 20 turnovers while Scotus finished with 10. Wayne will have a full slate of games during the week with a home game against Norfolk Catholic on Thursday before traveling to play Schuyler on Friday. Monday the Blue Devils play host to Columbus Lakeview and Tuesday they play at Laurel, Concord. Wayne, 68—Columbus Scotus, 54 (Wayne scoring) Paul Blomenkamp, 21; Justin Thede, 13; Ryan Dahl, 11; John Magnuson, 9; Matt Meyer, 6; Paul Zulkosky, 4; Kurtis Keller, 4. Wayne Record: 5-1.

WSC men dominate Nebraska Christian

Greg McDermott's Wayne State Wildcats mens basketball team blasted Nebraska Christian of Norfolk Tuesday in Rice Auditorium, 101-34. The win boosted WSC's record to 6-4 while Nebraska Christian slipped to 7-4. The 'Cats raced to a 50-19 lead at the intermission before out-scoring the Parsons 51-15 in the second half.

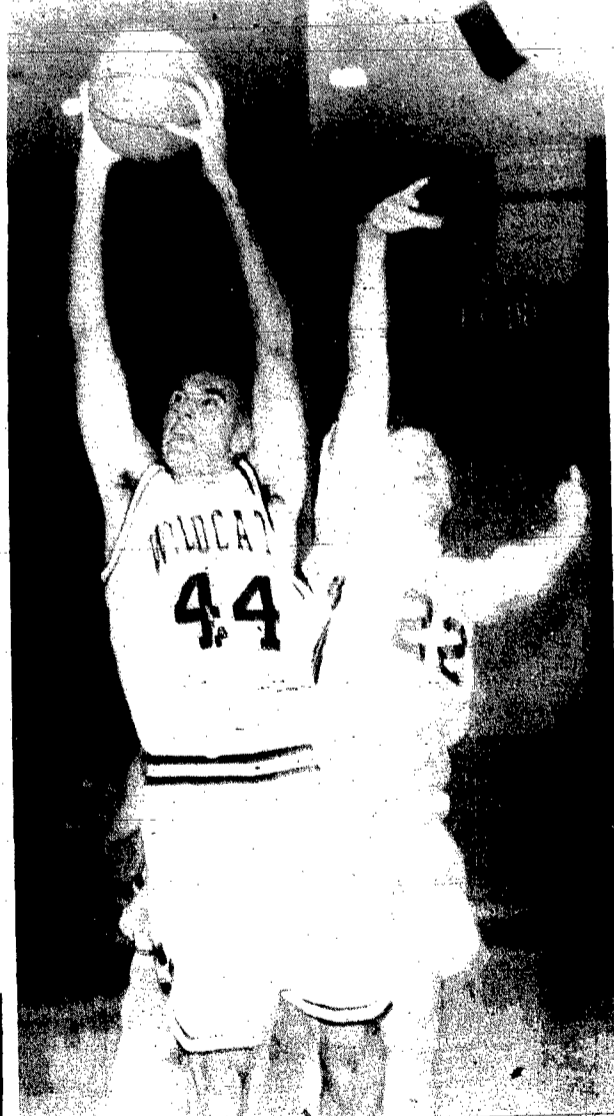

Henderson hauling down a game-high 10 while VanVoorst tallied eight. Seven of Henderson's rebounds were on the offensive end as WSC racked up 21 offensive boards which led to many second and third chance points. Curt Woodin dished out seven assists to lead WSC and the 'Cats forced 29 turnovers while committing 16. Dolliver led the team with four steals.

Jon Dolliver led the first half scoring barrage with 16 points on a perfect 7-7 outing from the field including a pair of 3-pointers. The Stanton freshman went on to post a game-high 22 points while another freshman, Matt VanVoorst followed with 14.

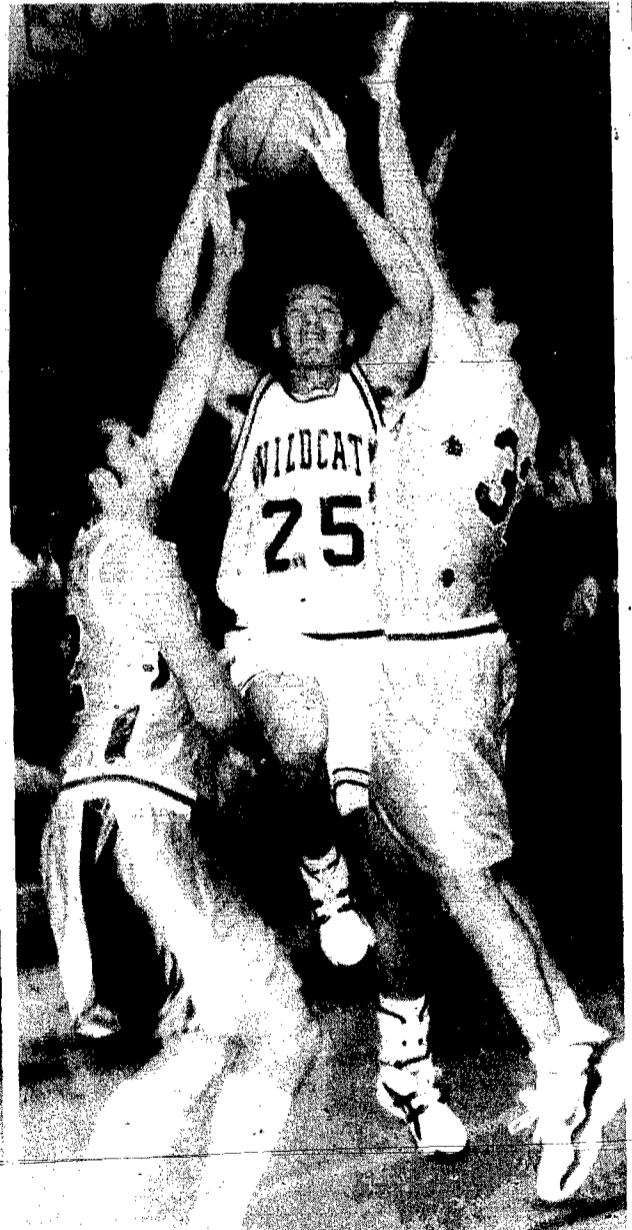

The 'Cats will be in action on Monday when they host Rockhurst College in a women's men's double header at 5:30 and 7:30 p.m., respectively.

Craig Philipp also finished in double figures with 11 and all 13 of the Wildcats that suited up, scored. The sparse crowd due to school not yet in session, witnessed several slam dunks by the home team. The 'Cats out-rebounded Nebraska Christian, 51-24 with Eric

Service Station

Navy Petty Officer 1st Class Barry D. Farrar recently returned from a six-month deployment on the Mediterranean, Adriatic and Red Seas aboard the aircraft carrier USS Enterprise.

Farrar was one of 5,200 sailors and Marines aboard the carrier who traveled more than 50,000 miles as the lead ship of the USS Enterprise Battle Group before returning to their home port in Norfolk, Va.

Farrar is married to the former Jody Mitchell, daughter of Larry and Betty Mitchell of Wayne.

Navy Chief Petty Officer Elliot L. Fahrenholz, son of Truman L. Fahrenholz of Allen, recently returned from a six-month deployment to the Mediterranean Sea and the Arabian Gulf aboard the attack submarine USS Pittsburgh.

Fahrenholz was one of 124 sailors aboard the submarine who traveled more than 28,000 miles before returning to their home port in Groton, Conn., as part of the USS Enterprise Battle Group.

During the deployment, Fahrenholz visited Bahrain, Crete, Greece, Israel, Italy and Portugal.

The 1983 graduate of Laurel-Concord High School joined the Navy in March 1985.

Free exams are offered

A program to provide eye examinations to low-income working people and their families will begin in the area this month.

The program, called Vision USA, is being sponsored by the Nebraska Optometric Association and is part of a nationwide effort initiated by the American Optometric Association.

Local optometrist and Lions Club members are participating in the project.

Low-income workers can sign up for the free eye care by calling 375-1781 during the month of January, according to John Lange, O.D., chair of the Vision USA program in Nebraska.

The eye exams will be given in optometrists' private offices in March, coinciding with the sixth anniversary celebration of Save Your Vision Week, March 3-7, 1997.

The optometrists are volunteering their time and services as "a way of giving something back to the people of our community," Dr. Lange said.

To qualify for the free eye care, persons must: have a job or live in a household where there is one working member; have an income below an established level based on family size; have had no eye examination with the past two years and have no health insurance of any kind.

This is the sixth year the Vision USA program has been offered nationally. Last year, more than 55 NOA-member optometrists across the state donated their services and nearly 300 people received the free eye care.

Mitchell to help develop teaching methods

End of the season

City workers spent a portion of Thursday removing Christmas lights and decorations from downtown Wayne. The crews were fortunate to have completed the task before the weather returned to more winter-like conditions.

Health department issues alert

When the wind chill drops below zero, people going outdoors should take precautions against hypothermia and frostbite, according to the Nebraska Department of Health.

"Hypothermia develops when an individual is exposed to severe cold without sufficient protection. The condition, which is potentially fatal, occurs when the body's core temperature drops below 95 degrees Fahrenheit. Infants and the elderly are at greatest risk."

The elderly account for nearly half of all victims of hypothermia. With advancing age, people become less able to sense the cold and adjust to temperature changes.

Observable symptoms in someone developing hypothermia include: poor coordination, slurred speech, irrationality, blueness or puffiness of the skin, dilation of the pupils, decreased respiratory rate and a weak or irregular pulse.

Factors that increase an individual's susceptibility to hypothermia are poor physical condition, thin build, inadequate nutrition, insufficient insulation or protection from the cold, fatigue, illness and alcohol intoxication.

While alcoholic beverages may make the drinker feel warm, it actually interferes with the body's ability to regulate temperature. Someone showing signs of mental confusion could be mistaken for being intoxicated when he or she is actually exhibiting symptoms of hypothermia.

Hypothermia can be prevented by keeping the temperature of living areas to 65 degrees Fahrenheit or higher. Dressing warmly, eating enough food, drinking plenty of fluids and staying as active as possible are good ways to maintain body heat and avoid hypothermia.

Frostbite is another hazard experienced in extremely cold weather. The onset of frostbite is usually characterized by a sharp pricking sensation and numbness but body tissue may freeze without awareness of numbness or pain. Just before freezing, the skin turns a bright red.

Frostbite most commonly affects the feet. If it occurs, running warm water over the affected area is the recommended treatment.

Proper clothing is essential for protection from frostbite. Multiple layers of clothing are better than just one, because they provide better insulation and can be removed or added as needed.

It is important to know the wind chill index before venturing outdoors because most hypothermia and frostbite cases occur when the temperature drops and the wind velocity increases. The wind chill index indicates the severity of the weather in terms of the potential loss of body heat.

Scholarships are available

Scholarship application deadlines for various Elks Scholarship programs are quickly approaching and high school seniors are reminded that they need to meet these deadlines in order to be eligible for the various Elks Scholarships.

Applications for the "Most Valuable Student" scholarship awards must be received at the Norfolk Elks Lodge by Jan. 16 for judging at the local level. Awards vary in this program up to $5,000 per academic year for four years. Eligible students must have an outstanding academic record in addition to proven leadership activities as well as extra curricular and non-school related civic activities.

Other scholarship applications are due Feb. 15. Students interested should contact their high school counselors for information and applications.

Farm Show to be held in Madison

The 10th annual Northeast Nebraska Farm and Equipment Show will be held Jan. 15-16 at the Madison County Fairgrounds in Madison.

More than 100 exhibitors are expected for the show, sponsored by Farm Show Productions.

Show hours are from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Wednesday and from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Thursday. Three heated buildings on the fairgrounds, connected by green houses, are being utilized.

The information program on Wednesday is "Marketing Opportunities for the Beef Producer." The main speaker will be University of Nebraska Extension Farm Management Specialist Dillon Fuez of Scottsbluff.

Fuez will discuss "Cattle Performance and Hedging Possibilities" at 9:30 a.m. on Wednesday morning. His afternoon presentation, "Live Weight vs. Grid Marketing," will begin at 1 p.m.

Other speakers will represent the Farmland Alliance, Certified Herford Beef, Monfort Integrated Genetics, the Scotch Cap Alliance, seedstock producers alliances and Genetics Plus. All speakers are coordinated by Pierce-Madison County Extension Educator Curtis Alderson and will be on hand throughout the day to visit one-on-one with producers.

Thursday's programming will be "Farming for the 21st Century" and is coordinated by Extension Educators Dewey Teel of Antelope and Chris Carlson of Madison and Stanton Counties.

Computers will be set up for hands-on demonstrations of software for fertilizer and chemical application, bookkeeping and other ag-related applications, as well as a demonstration of Ag on the Internet.

All educational programs will be held in the meeting room of the McLeb Building, just east of the Fair Board office.

There is no admission charge for the event. This year's grand prizes include a drawing each day for 250 gallons of diesel fuel.

Wittig honored

Al Wittig of Wayne recently celebrated his retirement from the M.G. Waldbaum Company. He began working there in October 1990 and held various positions, most recently, a dryer operator. While working at Waldbaums, Wittig volunteered his time and effort to provide transportation to two Region IV clients who are employed at Waldbaums.

Open house is set for Sunday at RC&D office

The Northeast Nebraska Resource Conservation & Development office in Plainview is hosting an open house on Sunday from 1-3 p.m.

Marge Haverkamp of Plainview will have oil paintings on display and several pieces will be for sale.

The public is invited to attend and refreshments will be served.

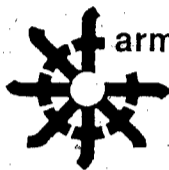

The Northeast Nebraska RC&D displays the work of a different artist(s) every two months. This offers an opportunity for artists in Antelope, Cedar, Dixon, Knox, Pierce and Wayne to display their work.

Interested artists may call (402) 582-4866 for more information.

'It's a Small World' at Wayne's After 5 Club

The Wayne After 5 Club will be hosting "It's a Small World" dinner party at Riley's Cafe in Wayne on Tuesday, Jan. 14 from 6:30-8:30 p.m.

Linda Martin of Newton, Iowa will present the special feature, "Dolls Around the World." She will also speak on "A New Year's Plan."

Wayne's After 5 Dollies will present the musical selections.

After 5 Club is part of an international organization with headquarters in Kansas City, Mo. It is interchurch and non-secretarian with approximately 2,400 groups meeting across the United States, Canada and around the world.

There are no dues or membership fees. Each month's program includes special music, features of interest and inspirational speakers.

All interested women are invited to attend. Reservations are appreciated and may be made by calling Deb Morlok at 375-3453 or Darlene Frevert at 375-3669 by Friday, Jan. 10. If a cancellation is necessary, call by noon on Monday, Jan. 13.

Financial seminar to be held in Wakefield Jan. 18

A quick look into the future will tell you things will be different. Health care is changing, nutrition recommendations are changing and how you meet changing financial needs will change.

The University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension in Northeast Nebraska is offering a full day of information on keeping up with life and the changes that happen. The event will take place Saturday, Jan. 18, 1997 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Educational Service Unit in Wakefield.

Participants can attend one or all sessions during the day.

"Forward Thinking: Planning your Financial Future" will be presented at 10:15 a.m. Over lunch time will be "Wellness thru Nutrition." Beginning at 1:15 p.m. participants will have a choice of "Spelling Out Changes in Health Care" or "Who Gets Grandma's Yellow Pie Plate, Transferring non-titled Property."

Pre-registration is preferred. More information is available from the local extension offices, Dakota County—987-2140; Dixon County—584-2261; Thurston County—846-5656 and Wayne County—375-3310.

Help offered for underachievers

Q: I have heard the term "classic underachiever" applied to children. Will you define that concept for me?

A: The underachiever is a student who is unsuccessful in school despite his ability to do the work. He may have an IQ of 120 or better, yet earn D's and F's on his report card.

If possible, underachieving children are even more numerous and less understood than slow learners or late bloomers. The confusion is related to the fact that two specific ingredients are necessary to produce academic excellence, yet the second is often overlooked.

First, intellectual ability must be there. But mental capacity is insufficient by itself. Self-discipline is also required. An able child may or may not have the self-control necessary to bear down day after day on something he considers painful or difficult. Furthermore, intelligence and self-discipline frequently are not correlated. We often see a child displaying one without the other.

Q: What solution would you offer for the problem of underachievers?

A: I have dealt with more than 500 underachievers, and have come to the conclusion that there are only two functional solutions to this syndrome.

The first is certainly no panacea: parents can become so involved in schoolwork that the child has no choice but to do the job. To make this possible, the school must expend additional effort to communicate assignments and progress to parents—Junior is certainly not going to carry the message!

Adolescents, particularly, will confound the communication between school and home as much as possible.

In one of the high schools where I served, for example, students had a 20-minute "homeroom" session each day. This time was used for the flag salute, council meetings, announcements and related matters. Very little opportunity for studying occurred there, yet each day, hundreds of parents were told that all homework was finished during that session. The naive parents were led to believe that the homeroom period was a two-hour block of concentrated effort.

Parents must know what goes on in school if they want to reinforce their child's academic responsibilities. They should provide support in areas where self-discipline is needed. The evening study period should be highly structured with routine hours and a minimum of interferences. To do this, parents must know what was assigned and how the finished product should look. Finally, negative attitudes should be withheld from the learning situation. Berating and criticizing an underachiever will not make him work harder.

I must hasten to say that this procedure is not an easy solution. It rarely works for more than a week or two, since many parents also lack the required self-discipline to continue the program. And when they quit, so does Junior! There must be a better way, and I believe there is.

An underachiever often thrives under a system of immediate reinforcement. If he is not challenged by personal satisfaction and motivators usually generated in the classroom, he must be fed some artificial incentives in the form of rewards applied to small units of behavior.

Instead of gifts or other desirable objectives being offered to the child for earning an A in English at the end of the semester, he should be given 10 cents for each properly diagrammed sentence.

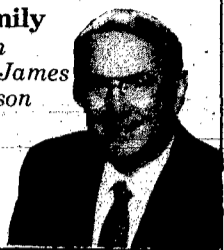

The use of immediate reinforcement serves the same function as a starter on a car! You can't drive very far without it, but it gets the engine going much easier than pushing.

For the idealist who objects to the use of the extrinsic motivation (which is often inaccurately called a bribe), I would ask this question: "What alternative do we have, other than to let a child grow out of his problem?"

Plenty of food is needed early in life to build good healthy bones

The four best ways to get enough calcium to build healthy bones are food, food, food and food!

Such was the recommendation of Dr. Robert Heaney, professor of medicine at Creighton University. Heaney recently spoke at a conference on women's nutrition and health issues sponsored by University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension.

Building strong, dense bones in younger years promotes a better quality of life in older, more mature years. High quality of life means being able to do the things you want and need to do for daily living.

Bone building begins at the start of life. Even after bone stops growing longer, it continues to become more dense and strong. Until the late 20's and early 30's, bones will improve in density as long as nutrients are available in the proper hormonal environment.

Unfortunately, during the teen years and early 20's, calcium intakes don't always reach recommended levels.

Among females, especially, there is a drop in use of milk and other dairy products. Emphasis on maintaining thinness, stress and exercise-induced amenorrhea are among the factors that can hinder bone development by affecting calcium-rich food intakes, and disrupting normal hormonal cycles that are also important in promoting bone health.

Current recommendations for calcium intake reach as high as 1,200 to 1,500 mg each day for 11-24 year-olds. That translates to three or four calcium-rich servings daily. One cup of milk or yogurt, one ounce of cheese or three ounces of sardines with bones are examples of high-calcium foods. Other foods that contain calcium, but in lesser amount per serving, include cottage cheese, ice cream or ice milk, frozen yogurt, tofu processed with calcium, dried beans and peas and leafy green vegetables. Eating these medium-calcium foods with some high-calcium milk servings will add significant calcium to the diet.

Whether or not good bone health is achieved may not be evident until a person gets older. Unfortunately, if proper nutrition was lacking, the consequences of poor bone health can result in painful and debilitating bone breakages, especially in the hips, wrists and spinal vertebrae.

It's important to let diet help you out in the best way possible in your early years by continuing to look for and eat good calcium-rich foods every day.

ACME Club meets

Zita Jenkins was hostess to seven ACME members and one guest, Ginny Beckenhauer, on Jan. 6.
 Delores Utecht read "Promise Yourself: Resolutions for the New Year."
 The two books purchased for the Public Library arrived and were on display. "Minerals" by Rupert Hochleitner is in memory of Ruth Hamer. "Dandelions," a children's book about a pioneer family that came to Nebraska, is in memory of Faun Kern. The book was written by Eve Bunting and illustrated by Greg Shed.

 A thank you from the Nebraska Children's Home Society was read.
 Pauline Merchant introduced Ginny Beckenhauer who presented the program on Ginny's Creations.
 The next meeting will be the annual brown sack luncheon at noon on Monday, Jan. 20 at the home of Elinor Jensen. The program will be Joke Day.
