WAYNE, NE 68787

121ST YEAR — NO. 19

If you don't like the weather....

The heaviest, wettest snowfall in recent years fell on the Wayne area on Monday and Tuesday, with 8.5 inches blanketing the city. Police Chief Lance Webster said that his department investigated nine accidents from Monday afternoon until 1 p.m. on Wednesday, all of which the weather was a contributing factor. City Street Supervisor Vern Schultz said that because the snow was so wet, it was very difficult to move. City crews were out at 3 a.m. on Tuesday clearing streets and had completed clearing all streets by noon. However, because of blowing and drifting, it was necessary to go over some streets more than once. Schultz commented that during this winter season his department has used more sand and gravel than at any other time in the more than 30 years he has been with the department. The eight inches of snow and slush came after nearly a week of 50 degree weather which caused thawing in area creeks and fields.

February is Heart Month

With Valentine's Day in the middle, February has been chosen as Heart Month by the American Heart Association.

Many community minded people have agreed to being "Block Walkers."

"They will be arriving at your doorstep sometime between Feb. 8 and 16, hoping you have your contribution ready for fighting the number one cause of death in the United States," said Marian Simpson, Communications Chair of the Wayne County Affiliate of the American Heart Association.

Those who have agreed to be Block Walkers should have received their packets in the mail this week. Those who did not receive the packet should contact Terry at 1-800-642-8400. After finishing the Block Walking, packets should be turned in to Ginny Otte at State-National Bank.

Laura Gamble, President of the Wayne County Heart Association has proclaimed February as American Heart Month and urges all citizens of Wayne County to "get in on the action by making physical activity a daily part of their lives. I also urge all citizens to support the lifesaving mission car-

Number 1 killer in Wayne County, contributing to 27 deaths in 1995, compared to 16 deaths attributed to cancer.

A number of activities have been planned in Wayne County

The Wayne-Carroll Elementary School had their Jump Rope For Heart earlier this year. Third and fourth graders raised $1,552.00.

The Wayne Care Centre will hold a "Home for the Heart" cherry pie and ice cream fund raiser.

The Wayne Elementary School will be a part of "A Valentine for Your Heart." LuAnn Ellingson will be in charge of this event.

The Providence Wellness Center will conduct "Aerobic Dance For Heart" and the co-chairpersons will be Linda Carr and Jenifer Svitek.

The King and Queen will be an event scheduled for March.

"Wayne County has always been very generous in their support of the fight against cardiovascular diseases and we know 1997 will be no different," Mrs. Simpson said.

Because of the unusual weather, the dates for Block Walkers calling on residents may vary throughout the city.

Medical miracles start with research ried out by the American Heart Association volunteers during February.

Contributions of time and money will help in the fight against heart disease and stroke. During the 1996 residential drive, Wayne raised nearly $2,600.

"I urge citizens to help the American Heart Association meet its goal of raising even more during American Heart Month," Mrs. Gamble said.

Cardiovascular disease is the during February.

In addition to the start of the residential walk next week, the first annual Hoops For Heart will be conducted by students in grades 6-8. Lonnie Ehrhardt will be in charge of this event which will be an annual event for the upper grades.

Students at St. Mary's Elementary School will have their annual Jump Rope For Heart on Feb. 19. Todd Hart will be the chairperson for this event.

WSC plays key role in development

Several members of the Northeast Nebraska economic development council, some area city administrators, and business development officers gathered Friday at Wayne State College to take part in a nationwide satellite teleconference on Higher Education's Role in Economic Development.

Wayne State has been active for several years in economic development in Northeast Nebraska. Wayne State's president, Dr. Donald J. Mash, identified economic and regional development as a key portion of the mission for the public college shortly after coming to Wayne in 1988.

The satellite teleconference, which originated from Old Dominion University in Norfolk, Va., pointed to efforts, such as Wayne State's, as being vital to the long-term prosperity of the less populated, less metropolitan areas of the country.

Dr. Robert Templin, president of Virginia's Center for Innovative Technology, a panelist in the two hour satellite broadcast, said colleges (such as Wayne State) whose faculty are teaching focused, and not research focused, have a greater opportunity to impact the economic development of their area.

"These colleges must serve as a platform for economic development," Templin said. "They must provide an umbrella, or framework, for these efforts." Templin added that smaller four-year public colleges should work with area agencies and businesses and serve as a clearinghouse or broker of information to connect the appropriate groups together.

He also stated that colleges should "work with their strengths and educate their regions on the benefits of a strong regional economic development program as they seek to improve the quality of life in the region."

Wayne State College's public service activities have been enhanced significantly in recent years. The college has taken many positive steps, including the establishment of the Bureau for Community and Economic Development, the establishment of the Center for Cultural Outreach, and the development of a Kettering Foundation-related Public Policy Institute.

The Bureau for Community and Economic Development's programs involve three categories of activities: community enhancement, local leadership training, and community and economic development. The Bureau also pro-

Wayne State is working diligently with our community partners in Northeast Nebraska to enhance the economic base in the area, said Connie Keck, director of the WSC Bureau for Community and Economic Development. Keck said the conference pointed to many of the strengths Wayne State possesses in collaborative partnerships which focus on building the economic stability of this portion of the state.

"We're striving to serve as an effective regional center, a focal point, a catalyst in Northeast Nebraska, not only for the delivery of higher education, but also for the arts, cultural activities, and assistance with community and economic development efforts," Mash said.

Members of Friday's national panel said rural areas of the country are becoming increasingly attractive to companies who seek an educated labor pool.

The key consideration for those firms will be the availability of a well-educated labor pool, therefore responsive higher education will be the critical piece in the cause-effect relationship for rural revitalization, Mash stated.

"The challenge for public higher education and state governments is to increase the availability of the skilled labor pool while helping to enhance the quality of life in rural communities," he added.

"Many of the jobs of the future will use technology which will allow them to relocate anywhere. We need to work to attract more of these jobs to rural America," Mash said. "Jobs like these will enable rural areas to slow and hopefully reverse the out-migration of our young college graduates," he noted. "In so doing we will be building a base for future development."

Templin said the pay-off for the colleges who seize the opportunity to become involved in economic development will be to give faculty superb opportunities to enhance those things they bring into the classroom. The pay-off for students is a much stronger education and the pay-off for the region around the college is a stronger, enhanced economic base, according to Templin.

Millers enjoy A-harvest at WSC

Jennifer Miller owes her mother lunch. The Wayne State College sophomore had a bet with her mom, Jeanne Miller, who is also a full-time student at Wayne State, over who would have the highest GPA at the end of the semester.

Jennifer just knew she had a free lunch sewed up when she opened her grades and saw a 3.93 GPA on a 4.0 scale. That's all A's and one A-minus and it's all but unbeatable, she thought. But, guess what? Mom trumped her with a hand full of Aces.

has returned to school full time to earn the degree she put on hold several years ago when she became a full time mom. Now that her first born is in college and her two boys are both in high school, the Bancroft farm wife decided it was time to resume her education. She is the wife of Randy Miller who farms west of Bancroft.

Jeanne has work experience as a preschool teacher and teacher's aide and had taken a few classes at Wayne State on a part time basis leading up to last fall. She has affordability, class size, course scheduling and because her boyfriend, art major Harley VanKirk, attends WSC. The former valedictorian from Bancroft/Rosalie High School said she has not regretted her transfer decision and is not bothered by her mother's presence on campus.

"She doesn't check up on me too much," said Jennifer. She added that few of her friends realize her mother is also a full time student at WSC.

While the two have not attended classes together, they have shared books for courses in which they both have enrolled in different semesters. Another advantage of being mother/daughter coeds, said Mrs. Miller, is that she has a place to stay in Wayne on bad weather days when she can't make the commute back to Bancroft.

Mrs. Miller has scheduled her classes so they are all on Tuesday and Thursday, requiring fewer trips from the family's rural Bancroft farm. This schedule also gives her time to still be around for her husband Randy and sons, Tim, a junior at Bancroft Rosalie, and Justin, a freshman. Her studies haven't interfered too much with the running of the farm home, explained Mrs. Miller.

"Although dad has had to learn to cook," explained Jennifer. "He said he is proud of both of his girls," Jeanne added.

Jeanne Miller and her daughter Jennifer are both full-time honor roll students at Wayne State College.

Jeanne Miller was one of only a small percentage of students who earned all A's.

"We don't keep statistics on cumulative family grade point averages," said a chuckling Bonnie Scranton, assistant vice president for enrollment management at the College, "but if we did, the Millers would probably rank at the very top right now." No one on the College's current enrollment management staff can recall a mother/daughter combination attending school together who have posted a better academic record, said Scranton.

Jennifer and Jeanne Miller both began classes full-time at Wayne State last fall. Jennifer transferred to Wayne after spending her freshman year at Dana College. She is a human services counseling major.

Her mother is a junior-level elementary education major who two years toward her degree which she began at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln before she got married.

"It's not a big competitive thing," said Mrs. Miller of the Miller A-harvest. She sounded a bit embarrassed that anyone would think it unusual that a mother and daughter should both be honor students.

They have discussed the possibility that they might graduate together in 1999. Jeanne is scheduled to complete her degree in May of 1999 and Jennifer in December of the same year. However, if their schedules change they could cross the stage to receive their diploma's together.

Jennifer, who has an apartment in Wayne, said she transferred to WSC from Dana because of the Teachers take 'surfing' class via the Internet

The ability to surf, cruise and navigate will help determine our success in a future dominated by information technology, educators are being told.

Teachers are being asked to help their students learn about surfing, cruising and navigating when often the teachers themselves don't understand how the Internet works.

Wayne State College has designed a unique course to meet the needs of teachers who want to learn more about the Internet and incorporate it into their classrooms.

The course is unique in that it is being delivered online, via the Internet.

Offered through the College's Regional Education and Distance Learning Center, the course will teach educators to use the Internet as an educational tool by integrating it into their curriculum.

The first class meeting is scheduled in a traditional face-to-face session to allow each participant to confirm they have the hardware, software and knowledge to access the course via the Internet. After that, all remaining class meetings and assignments will be handled via the Internet, explained John Stoll, director of the distance learning program at WSC.

"This means the educators can attend class from anywhere, using

Head Start children kept busy

Editor's note: This is the first in a series of monthly updates on happenings at Wayne Head Start. The goal is to keep the public informed on the various activities taking place each month.

The first week of January our theme was dinosaurs. The children made big dinosaurs out of room. We hope they enjoyed the music.

During our third week we decided we were tired of this cold weather so we had a winter picnic.

The children wore shorts and swimsuits. We went surfing with the Beach Boys and played in our indoor pool. We ate lunch, picnic style, on the floor and dreamed of warm, sunny days.

We also visited our friends at the Wayne Senior Center on Jan. 28. We made shape puppets to use with our shadow puppet stage.

We will be making monthly visits to the Senior Center.

The children decided how to decorate their dinosaurs using paint, markers, sand, pom poms or styrofoam packing chips. Then we hung them from our ceiling around the room.

We had an exciting second week experimenting with rhythm and music. We made musical instruments out of oatmeal boxes, shoe boxes and Kool-Aid containers. We paraded our instruments through District 51's Cataracts affect over 80% of our senior citizens. In fact over one million cataract surgeries are performed annually in the U.S. alone.

New technological developments in implants, ultrasonic equipment, lasers, diagnostic testing, and surgical techniques have made cataract surgery one of the most effective procedures today. Currently, over 98% of cataract patients experience significant improvements in vision, without major complications.

Until now, the high cost of this new technology for cataract surgery was only available in the larger surgical facilities. This meant that you would have to travel for a complete eye examination and surgery. Not any longer.

Complete eye care and cataract surgery is now available at Providence Medical Center in Wayne. You don't have to travel outside of your community to have your vision tested for cataracts. With Dr. Willcockson, Dr. Koeber and Dr. Magnuson offering comprehensive diagnostic and surgical services, you now have the most advanced eye care available right here in town.

Call Dr. Koeber or Dr. Magnuson for a complete eye examination and cataract vision screening today. If you would like more information on cataracts for yourself or someone you know who may be experiencing loss of vision, call today for a free informational brochure.

WE'RE HAPPY TO DO IT!!!

said Rick and Bonnie Lund of Wayne. "We've made a charitable gift that is very satisfying to us. We've given to the Providence Medical Center Foundation in the form of a Charitable Gift Annuity. It's a good feeling knowing that our money will eventually end up helping the Providence Medical Center. Having a quality hospital close at hand is mighty important to us, and we want to do our part to make sure it remains here."

Gift Annuities from the Providence Medical Center Foundation offer donors an income for life on their money, and when they die the money goes to help Providence Medical Center. Donors also receive a charitable contribution income tax deduction and, if they desire, they can invest those savings for additional income. Nearly half of the lifetime income the Foundation pays donors is tax-free. Donors who fund their Gift annuities with appreciated property are also able to avoid partial capital gain tax liability.

Perhaps it would pay you to look into what a Charitable Gift Annuity might do for you. Ask your attorney, banker or financial advisor, and then call Sandra Bartling at the Providence Medical Center Foundation. She'll be happy to help you.

Are we ready?

Jerry Berggren, of Berggren & Woll Architects, is quoted as telling the Wayne County commissioners "Our biggest challenge is not the construction in this project, but rather the scheduling of the moving of the offices." The project to which he refers is the installation of an elevator at the courthouse to bring the building up to a standard of meeting federal guidelines.

This costly adventure is going to eat up a lot of tax dollars, create even less usable room in the old building, make offices even more crowded, and does not eliminate the real fire dangers inherent in any aging structure.

Unless taxpayers step in and suggest the commissioners provide the leadership toward erecting a modern government building, the remodeling will only meet the mandated codes until the next requirement comes out of a federal office.

Looking like a major game of "fruit basket upset", plans call for merging the offices of the superintendent of schools secretary and the superintendent, then moving the veteran's service office into that vacated space. The county court would then move upstairs into what is now the veteran's service office. Since the county court office has an enormous volume of traffic, moving the office to the top floor, necessitating the public to run up and down stairs during construction appears to be a serious mistake. Combine high traffic on a staircase and odds rise that someone will fall. How will a person using a wheelchair get upstairs?

The sheriff's office and extension offices will switch places. Imagine the work of just getting the phone lines and numbers changed?

Officials in Stanton and Pierce County caught the vision of future needs and built new courthouses years ago. Why does Wayne County appear to have a visionary deficit?

Eventually the county will have to build a new structure to house its government. Today's children, when mature, will face twice the building costs, and may well question their parent's lack of judgement.

Taxpayers will be shelling out nearly $200,000 for the elevator. A costly ride to even smaller offices.

Are we being frugal or just putting off the inevitable?

The incident at Bridgeport school lasted only a few seconds.

A teacher, admittedly frustrated at a student who was ignoring his attempts to verbally admonish his behavior, swung an open hand striking the student's head.

He called it a "tap" to get the student's attention.

A fellow student called it a "smack" that caused his classmate to cry.

School administrators called it something else — unreasonable force and a violation of state law prohibiting the use of "corporal punishment" in state schools.

The December incident, which led to a 30-day suspension without pay for the teacher, touched a chord across the state among educators and parents concerned about controlling conduct in Nebraska classrooms.

Can a teacher "touch" or "grab" a student to get their at-ention?

Was this a case of a teacher going too far or taking appropriate action against a student who deserved it?

Should teachers be given back the "paddle" to address what some think are classrooms out of control?

It is a debate that will likely be played out in the Nebraska Legislature this spring when lawmakers debate a proposal to clarify in state law what "corporal punishment" means.

Unlike most states, Nebraska law does not define the term (and whether, for instance, an intent to harm must be present).

Years ago, it probably meant spanking to a lot of people.

I can still remember the legends about our junior-high P.E. teacher and his infamous "paddle" with the holes drilled in it that he used to discipline the local hoods and bad boys.

Like missiles in the cold war, the mere threat of getting a spanking with that board (with the holes for extra sting, we were led to believe) was enough to keep us in line.

But times have changed. There isn't an athletic season that goes by without a parent suing a coach or school for kicking their child off an athletic team for behavior that would have deserved "the paddle" or worse years ago.

The same goes for complaints against teachers for striking students. Nebraska State Education Association officials said they get up to a dozen a week. Many, they claim, are from students who use the undefined state law to hamstring their teacher's efforts to bring discipline to the classroom.

The interesting thing in Bridgeport was that the local citizenry appeared to back the teacher's conduct 100 percent. They felt he acted appropriately in "tapping" an unruly kid who needed some discipline.

The student wasn't injured and, interestingly enough, did not press any charges against the teacher.

But administrators — and ultimately the Bridgeport School Board — ruled that the teacher not only acted unprofessionally but violated school guidelines for discipline, which called for teachers to verbally admonish students and practice appropriate behavior with undisciplined kids.

Fellow students at the school ridiculed the district's disciplinary plan, called the Boys Town Method after the famous boys' home. They said it involved teaching students routine things, like "how to say hello" (smile, look a person in the face and shake hands).

How effective a seemingly silly system like that is in bringing control to a school is another story.

But it appears essential that state lawmakers provide better guidelines on what is, and what is not appropriate "corporal punishment" by teachers.

Otherwise, we'll see more communities up in arms like Bridgeport.

The views expressed in Capitol News are those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Nebraska Press Association.

Economic development vital

We've already examined how leadership and community development help determine whether or not a community prospers. Today we will explore how economic development adds to a community's prosperity, or how a lack of it contributes to the decline.

Economic development is self-actualization for a community. The reason I say this is that in order to promote economic development in a community, it must have already completed the previous two steps of leadership and community development. It is at this point that a community can begin to grow and prosper.

Based on its 1984 research, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce concluded that for every 50 jobs added to the manufacturing sector, another 32 jobs are created in other sectors. As people move into an area, they need the services provided by the community. They need to buy or build or rent housing. They need to get to work; they need stores in which to shop; they need government services and places to spend their leisure time.

The research shows those 50 new manufacturing jobs will mean combined personal income will increase $1.3 million. Three new retail businesses will be established; population will grow by 101. School enrollment will increase by 31 students.

More income means more sales; new business means more business. Because of those 50 new manufacturing jobs, nearly $1 million is going to flow into retail stores.

Those dollars are then recycled throughout the community as retailers buy insurance, haircuts, fuel for their automobiles and take their families out to eat more often.

Wayne Industries is currently preparing to undertake a long-term business recruitment program. Partners in this process include the City of Wayne, NPPD, the Nebraska Department of Economic Development and UtiliCorps.

Over the past several weeks I have given some insight into why I believe some communities are prosperous and others are not. I emphatically believe in Wayne, America's prosperity.

Successful, prosperous communities do not just happen by luck or chance. It requires a lot of planning and vision by people willing to be leaders in their community, people who are willing to develop their community, people who understand the need for economic development and are willing to commit to that action within their community.

Both Wayne Industries and the Chamber are committed to economic development. Both organizations are actively involved in business retention and business recruitment.

Business retention — working to keep existing businesses in the community is critical to a community's survival.

Sam, what are you doing!

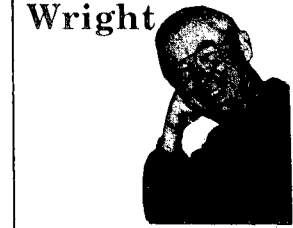

Ever wonder if Uncle Sam might be watching you? The answer: yes! And listening!

His electronic toys are almost beyond imagination!

Our skies are under continuous surveillance by the U.S. Space Command (USSC) buried deep inside Cheyenne Mountain near Colorado Springs. During the fighting in Kuwait, the USSC crew, watching monitors, could see any missile launched by Saddam Hussein's army via satellite. More like a telescope, the satellite can detect heat from a missile's flame. When the USSC staff caught sight of a missile launch, the sirens in Kuwait were triggered to warn the public. Star Wars! The system was originally designed to monitor missile launches in the Soviet Union.

During the 100-hour ground war in Kuwait, satellites were used to guide our helicopters to Iraqi tanks. Hussein didn't stand a chance!

How about our government's big ears in space! Since 1962 Uncle Sam has had satellites which eavesdrop on telephone conversations. They routinely listened to Khrushchev talking on his car phone! In 1997 the satellites monitor communication and computer centers around the globe listening to thousands of phone calls simultaneously. The signals are then routed through computers which search for key words that might threaten national security. The government's most important data comes, not from photo reconnaissance, but from "listening". You see, every army and every institution in the world communicates by voice or electronic signal. These satellite "cops", weighing between 500 and 5,000 lbs, listen continuously night and day. Yes, they can monitor your cellular phone.

Photo reconnaissance satellites, some the size of the Hubble Space Telescope, look earthward, and can examine from 100 miles high something on earth the size of your auto's license plate! Then it transmits the pictures to underground screens on earth. Such data is in real time in any weather day and night.

America's Defense Support Satellites (DSP) scan the planet every 10 seconds with infrared telescopes. Military personnel maintain a constant vigil. The USSC also monitors all satellites or anything else in orbit or that approaches earth. The Space Surveillance Commander oversees the Space Surveillance Center (SSC) which keeps its eyes on about 7,500 orbiting objects. The monitoring equipment is so sophisticated it can "see" an orbiting object seven inches long, such as pliers dropped by an astronaut.

Be careful what you say, be careful what you do, because Sam has his eyes and ears on you!

Sam's spy budget this year: $30 billion.

That ought to buy great pictures!

Sales tax issue is discussed

By Roy Frederick
Public Policy Specialist
Department of Agricultural Economics
University of Nebraska-Lincoln

Every year, you can count on a spate of sales tax bills to be introduced in the Nebraska Legislature. This year is no exception.

Unlike property and income taxes, where the focus is on tax reductions, any change in the sales tax rate or base is likely to be expansionary. It's not that additional sales tax revenue is needed for ongoing programs. But if state government decides to offset part or all of lower property tax revenue beginning in 1998, sales taxes seem certain to play a big role.

The sales tax is not a perfect tax. However, this revenue source is less unpopular than either property or income taxes, at least up to a point. Partly, that's because we mostly pay sales taxes a little at a time. The tax is simply added to the bill when we buy something; no big, separate check is necessary. Some people also say that sales taxes are fairer than other taxes because everyone pays at least some sales taxes. That's not true for property or income taxes.

The downside to the sales tax is that it is regressive; that is, those with low incomes spend a larger portion of their income on sales taxes than those with high incomes. Essentially, sales taxes penalize consumption but allow those who have money to save to "escape" taxation. In addition, the business community always worries about "border bleeding" if Nebraska's sales tax rates are much higher than those in adjacent states. (Technically, we have a sales and use tax that requires Nebraskans to pay taxes on items purchased outside the state. However, enforcement is difficult.)

Nebraska's statewide sales tax rate is 5 percent. In addition, 70 cities impose sales taxes at rates of 0.5, 1 or 1.5 percent. Thus, the highest combined state and local sales tax rate is 6.5 percent. Among adjacent states, the highest combined rates range from 5 percent in Iowa to 7.225 percent in Missouri. However, Iowa has a broader base, particularly relating to services, than many other states, including Nebraska.

These are some of the sales tax bills that I would be watching in the current session of the Legislature:

- LB 411 would increase the state sales and use tax rate to 5.2 percent. It also would expand the base to include more services, including haircuts, photo finishing and certain types of repairs.

- LB 719 provides for a sales tax on food, among other provisions.

- LB 821 also provides for a sales tax on food and broadens the tax base to include more services.

- LB 113 would require reports by out-of-state retailers to the state tax commissioner of purchases made by Nebraskans. Essentially, this is the same bill the governor vetoed in 1996.

Typically, lobbying is stronger against expansion of the sales tax base to services than it is against raising the rate. That likelihood is enhanced if the rate increase would be moderate, such as that proposed in LB 411.

Wayne girls defeated by Cedar Catholic

The Wayne girls basketball team had just one game last week and the Blue Devils were edged by rated Hartington Cedar Catholic in Wayne, 52-46.

John McClarnen's squad fell behind 14-10 after the first quarter but had the game tied at 23 by intermission. Cedar took a six-point lead into the final period at 39-33 and Wayne could not overtake the visitors in the final eight minutes.

"An 8-0 run to start the third quarter coupled with 13 offensive boards for the game were the keys in Cedar's win," McClarnen said. "Gayle Olson came off the bench and scored all nine of her points in the final stanza to keep us close but Cedar standout Karen Hochstein scored five in the final 2:30 to seal the win for the Trojans."

McClarnen said despite the loss his team gained confidence and hopefully that will continue through the remainder of the season including Saturday's game at Elkhorn Valley.

Molly Linster led the Blue Devils with 13 points while Katie Lutt tossed in 10 and Olson, nine. Katy Wilson netted eight points with Melissa Weber and Anne Wiseman tossing in two each. Lacy Bebee and Heidi Johnson rounded out the attack with a free throw apiece.

Lutt also dished out eight assists and led Wayne in steals with seven while hauling down five rebounds. Wilson had a game-high nine caroms to lead Wayne. Linster finished with six rebounds and four steals. The Blue Devils slipped to 9-7 on the season.

In the reserve game Wayne nipped the visitors, 50-49 after out-scoring Cedar by a 30-19 margin in the second half. Cayle Olson led the winners with 17 points and Jennifer Beiermann added 10. Heidi Johnson tallied seven while Lindsay Baack, Sara Ellis and Jessica Woehler each netted four. Jessica Raveling and Kristin Hochstein rounded out the scoring with two each.

Anne Wiseman looks to shoot around a defender in a recent Wayne contest. The Blue Devils are currently 9-7.

Paul Blomenkamp steps into history book in Wayne win

Wayne senior cager Paul Blomenkamp scored 19 points and pulled down 13 rebounds (both team bests) during Wayne's 78-68 win over West Point last Friday night at home.

The performance may not have been his best of his career but it may well have been his most memorable as he became the first Blue Devil in recent history to surpass the 1,000-point career scoring mark.

The 6-6 Blomenkamp didn't have a whole lot of time to savor the moment when he reached the plateau as a stubborn West Point team made the Blue Devils shoot a lot of free throws in a very long fourth quarter before the outcome was decided.

In fact, both teams combined to shoot 39 free throws over the final eight minutes with Wayne hitting 17-of-25 attempts for 68 percent. For the entire game, Wayne shot 38 times from the charity stripe while the Cadets had 23 total free throws.

"From what I saw of West Point in this game I was very surprised at their season record of 5-7 coming in," Wayne coach Rocky Ruhl said.

"They certainly put out a very good effort against us."

The seniors on the Wayne team experienced their first win over West Point dating back to junior high. The Blue Devils had four in double figures including Kurtis Keller's 15-point performance while Paul Zulkosky tallied 13 and Nick Vanhorn netted 10.

Wayne out-rebounded the Cadets, 32-25 led by Blomenkamp's 13 caroms with Vanhorn hauling down seven. Wayne took very good care of the basketball with just eight turnovers while forcing 16. Blomenkamp added four blocked shots to his arsenal and Matt Meyer dished out 10 assists while suffering just one turnover.

Wayne, 10-3 will host seventh-ranked O'Neill on Thursday night before they travel to play Elkhorn Valley on Saturday.

Wayne, 78—West Point, 68 (Wayne) Paul Blomenkamp, 19; Kurtis Keller, 15; Paul Zulkosky, 13; Nick Vanhorn, 10; Matt Meyer, 6; Ryan Dahl, 4; Justin Thede, 4; Nick Hagmann, 3; Tony Hansen, 2; John Magnuson, 2. Wayne Record: 10-3.

WSC wins 16th straight at home

The Wayne State men's basketball team captured their 16th consecutive victory in the friendly confines of Rice Auditorium, Wednesday night against a stubborn Southwest State team of Marshall, Minnesota, 80-73.

The Wildcats had defeated the Mustangs, recently by double digits in Marshall but it was Perry Ford's visitors that led 39-33 at the break.

WSC trailed the Mustangs by nine points late in the second half, 63-54 before they rallied.

Curt Woodin ignited the 'Cats with a 3-pointer that sparked a 26-10 run to finish out the game.

WSC took its first lead of the second half at 68-67 with a pair of free throws from Chad Nelson at the 3:16 mark.

Craig Philipp continued his red-hot winter run with 24 points after hitting 10-of-16 shots from the field.

Tyler Johnson poured in 18 and Mike Fitzner scored 13 while Jason Diaz finished in double figures with a dozen.

WSC hit 26-50 from the field for 52 percent while connecting on 20-of-31 free throw attempts. The visitors were 27-56 for 48 percent and they were 14-15 from the charity stripe.

WSC out-rebounded Southwest State, 31-27 with Philipp and Eric Henderson hauling down eight each to lead the winners.

Johnson and Fitzner each dished out four assists to share team honors while Chad Nelson notched four steals. WSC suffered 16 turnovers while forcing 14.

WSC DEFEATED Bemidji State last Saturday night in Minnesota, 71-57.

The visiting 'Cats jumped out to a 28-23 lead at the break and out-scored the host team, 43-34 in the second stanza.

Four WSC players finished in double figures led by Craig Philipp with 20 points while Jason Diaz tallied 15. Mike Fitzner scored 12 and Tyler Johnson netted 10.

The 'Cats hit 55 percent of their shots from the field while hitting 18-of-29 free throw attempts.

The host team was 23-52 from the field for 44 percent while hitting 11-20 from the foul line.

WSC won the battle of the boards, 32-27 with Eric Henderson leading the way with six caroms and Tyler Johnson dished out a game-high five assists while Curt Woodin had four.

The 12-7 Wildcats will travel to play Denver University on Saturday and travel to play Kearney on Tuesday before returning home to host Presentation College on Feb. 15.

Wayne grapplers place

The Wayne wrestling team competed in three outings the past 10 days which ended with a shutout of Ponca, 74-0 in Ponca and a 38-37 setback at Creighton in dual action and a fifth place team finish at the Albion Invite last Saturday.

At Creighton the difference in the outcome was the six points that Wayne lost because of a forfeiture at heavyweight. "I thought our effort was very good," Wayne coach John Murtaugh said. "The biggest thing we learned as a team is that in a dual like this, every match point and team point counts."

Those earning wins for Wayne included Jay Endicott at 119 with a pin in 2:58 and his senior brother Tyler Endicott who won by pin at 140. The elder Endicott needed 4:58 to record his fall. Jeremy Meyer won by pin at 145 in 2:32 and Casey Junck (189) won by pin in 1:34. Eric Hefti won by pin in 2:33 in the 215-category.

Those winning by decision included Josh Murtaugh at 130 who notched a 14-6 victory while Tim Zach (160) won 9-4.

Chris Junck (103), Dan Nelson (112), Scott Reinhardt (125), Craig Hefti (135) each lost by pin while Darin Jensen lost by a 12-3 decision at 152 while Jeremiah Rethwisch (171) lost a 12-2 decision to Rick Hasenpflug.

"I was especially pleased with the way Tyler Endicott and Jeremy Meyer wrestled," Murtaugh said. "We moved both of them up a weight class and they both responded with pins."

In reserve action that night, Wayne won five of six matches as Gabe Hammer (140) won 13-5 and lost 8-7 in two matches while Nick Salitros (145) won by pin. Jack Dorsey (152) won by pin as did Ryan Haase (160) and Jesse Rethwisch (171).

In the Ponca dual the Blue

Devils won all 10 of the varsity matches held and five of the six reserve matches. Wayne earned four wins via forfeit at 103, 112, 119 and 135 while Scott Reinhardt notched his first win of the season at 125 with an 8-5 victory.

Josh Murtaugh won by pin in 1:33 and Jeremy Meyer won by pin in 28 seconds. Jody Campbell won by technical fall and Darin Jensen won by pin in 4:51. Tim Zach needed 2:30 to notch his pin and Jeremiah Rethwisch won by pin in 1:34. Casey Junck won by pin in 1:09 and Eric Hefti closed out the night by pinning his man in 1:11.

In reserve action at Ponca, pins were recorded by Craig Hefti, Nick Salitros, Jack Dorsey, Jesse Rethwisch and Jeremy Nelson while Ryan Haase lost by pin.

LAST SATURDAY at the Albion Invitational the Blue Devils placed fifth with 107 points. Kearney won the team title as the Class A team racked up 225.5 points. Lexington placed runner-up with 178 followed by the host team with 173 and Beatrice with 128.5.

York finished behind Wayne by one point with 106 followed by David City Aquinas, Neligh-Oakdale, O'Neill, Pierce and David City. Of the 11 grapplers that competed for Wayne in the 14 weight classes, eight brought home medals from the competition which placed the top six in each weight class.

"We were sluggish in the first round," Murtaugh said. "However, the kids did a good job of bouncing back which allowed us to salvage a fifth place team finish."

The highlight of the day came in the 130-pound weight class where Josh Murtaugh captured first place and in doing so defeated a defending state champ in David City's Roderick Boss, 5-1.

Jeremy Meyer placed runner-up, losing to a Class A wrestler from Kearney in the finals, and Jody Campbell placed third at 145. Jeremiah Rethwisch placed fourth at 171 while Tyler Endicott placed fifth at 135 as did Casey Junck at 189. Sixth place finishes were recorded by Dan Nelson at 112 and Eric Hefti at 215.

Wayne will travel to Norfolk for the Norfolk Catholic Invitational on Saturday in the final regular season competition before districts get underway on Valentine's Day at Logan View.

Lady Bears improve to 16-1 Laurel in semifinals

The Laurel-Concord girls basketball team improved to 16-1 with three wins in the past week including a 75-40 thumping of Elkhorn Valley, a 44-32 win over Wakefield and an 89-46 thrashing of Creighton in the first round of the NENAC Conference Tournament in Neligh, Saturday.

Against Elkhorn Valley the highlight was Becky Schroeder's landmark performance in which she surpassed the 1,000-point career scoring mark to become the first female basketball player in Laurel history to accomplish that feat.

Schroeder led Laurel with 18 points as five players finished in double figures in the scoring column. "We played excellent defense," coach Rick Petri said. "We limited Elkhorn Valley to just 26 points through three quarters of play and we dominated both ends of the court on the boards."

Petri was pleased with the balanced scoring attack in which all five starters scored double digits. "This was probably our best game of the year," Petri added. "We passed and shot the ball very well and our intensity on defense was excellent."

Tracy Ankeny and Alissa Krie each scored 15 points and Sarah Ehlers along with Jessie Erwin added 10 apiece. Laurel handled the boards, 42-22 with Krie leading the way with a dozen caroms.

Ankeny dished out nine assists and had five steals for the winners.

The game was not overly pretty at Wakefield but the Bears outlasted the Trojans, 44-32. Laurel led by a slim 16-14 margin at the half but used an 11-3 scoring advantage in the third quarter to push the lead to double digits at 27-17.

"Wakefield had an excellent game plan," Petri said. "They were very patient on offense and played great defense. I have to give our girls a lot of credit, however. We adjusted to the style of the game nicely, and kept our composure and came away with the victory."

Wakefield coach Gregg Cruick-

shank said his team played very well. "We're pleased with our performance," he said. "We executed well on offense and played hard, overall."

Alison Benson led all scorers with 14 points for Wakefield while Jessie Erwin led the winners with a dozen. Alissa Krie and Tracy Ankeny each scored nine for Laurel while Becky Schroeder tossed in eight.

Sarah Ehlers led the Bears on the boards with seven caroms while Benson hauled down five to lead the Trojans. Laurel edged the Trojans on the boards, 29-23.

The Bears rolled it up on Creighton, winning by 43, 89-46. "It was a great effort by the girls," Petri said. "We were able to get the ball inside on a consistent basis and the girls converted."

Sarah Ehlers career high 16 points ended up being third on the team which had four finish in double figures. Becky Schroeder poured in 25 to lead everyone with Alissa Krie adding 18. Tracy Ankeny was also in double digits with 13 while Laurie Schroeder and Jessie Erwin were near the double figure mark with eight and seven points, respectively.

The winners won the battle of the boards, 37-23 led by Becky Schroeder with 10 caroms and Krie with seven. Ankeny dished out a team-high nine assists.

Laurel boys win pair of games

The Laurel boys captured a pair of victories last week at Wakefield, 62-45 and against Neligh-Oakdale in the first round of the NENAC Conference Tournament, 72-63.

In Wakefield the Bears built a 15-9 lead after the first quarter and stretched it to seven at the half, 30-23.

The difference extended to 10 after three quarters of play at 42-32 and Laurel out-scored the host team, 20-13 over the final eight minutes to account for the 12-point win.

"We showed good balance in the scoring column with all five starters finishing in double figures," coach Clayton Steele said. "We were able to take advantage on the inside. Wakefield was scrappy and well-coached and they kept the intensity throughout the game."

Wakefield coach Brad Hoskins said his team just couldn't get the ball to go in the hole.

"We shot the ball 64 times compared to just 40 for Laurel," Hoskins said. "Yet, we only hit 17 and the Bears hit 20."

Allen trailed 25-10 at the half and never threatened in the second half as the host team rolled to a 39-14 advantage after three. Shanyn Moran was the only Allen player in double figures with a dozen. She also led the team in rebounding with eight while Mindy Plueger hauled down six.

Allen, 33—Coleridge, 34 (Allen) Mindy Plueger, 15; Stacey Martinson, 7; Shanyn Moran, 6; Amanda Mitchell, 3; Jaime Kliver, 2.

Honor band students

Four Winside band members played in the Wayne State Honor Band on Feb. 1. Students were selected through tape auditions from over 330 students. Those participating included, left to right, Lindy Fleer, Desiree Anderson, Maureen Gubbels and Heidi Kirsch. The high school band was directed by Fred Hanna of Wayne State College and the junior high band was directed by Jack Fischer of Norfolk.

The program of saving beverage can tabs began in Winside one year ago, on Feb. 14, 1996. Since that date the elementary students in grades K-6 have collected 159,554 tabs.

"Our goal is to reach one million tabs," said Eilene Jaeger, first grade teacher.

"The way the program works is that the tabs that we collect are large group bag and tells how many they collected during that time.

At the Jan. 24 ceremony, the following were collected by grades: kindergarten-6,793; first grad-4,236; second-4,515; third-5,900; fourth-4,668; fifth-2,955; 6A-4,841 and 6B-1,704 for a total of 35,612 tabs during that period. The Ronald McDonald House

Career/Job Fair helps connect students, firms

The 1997 Annual Career/Job Fair will offer students a chance to get in contact with various employers from throughout the region.

The Career/Job Fair will be held in the Wayne State College Student Center on Tuesday, Feb. 18, from noon until 4 p.m. More than 70 companies will be in attendance offering students information and answering questions that students may have about their companies.

Some employers will do on-site interviews, while others will have private interviews after 4 p.m., or will make arrangements for interviews at the place of employment. The Career/Job Fair gives students a chance to get in touch with or become acquainted with individuals from various companies.

This "networking process" helps many students to keep their names in the job applicant pool. In the past, the Career/Job Fair has led students to part-time, summer and full-time employment with local and regional companies and summer camps. College students of all ages and all career interests are welcome and encouraged to attend.

Jason Barelman, assistant director of WSC's Career Services, says the event has historically worked out well for students and employers.

"In the past, the Career/Job Fair has been an excellent opportunity for students to get in touch with companies and possibly get a job with them as well," Barelman said. "The ideal situation is for students to bring a resume with them that day, but if that's not possible that should not discourage students from attending."

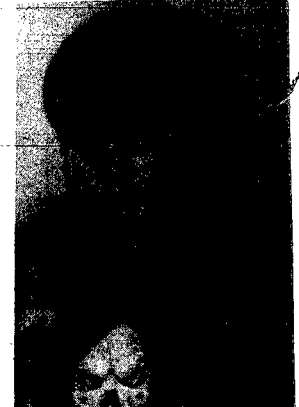

"Even without a resume, students should feel free to walk around and ask as many questions as possible," Barelman said.

Representatives will be around all afternoon to answer questions that students have about work or about any of the represented companies.

The Career/Job Fair was first established in 1989. Since then, support has grown and the Fair has become an annual event. Annual company attendance has steadily increased due to positive student reaction to the program.

With a growing number of employers and the continued support

Winside student wins national geography bee

Jason Taylor, a sixth grader, won the National Geography Bee at Winside Elementary School.

The National Geographic Geography Bee originated approximately 10 years ago to stimulate interest in the study of geography. Winside students have participated in the program the past two years.

Competition is reserved for fourth through eighth graders. Each classroom has a preliminary competition in the classroom conducted by the teacher. At the end of seven rounds, two winners are chosen from each class.

A total of ten students met with the program director in January for the final round. The top two proceed to the championship round. This year's championship contenders were James Gubbels and Jason Taylor.

Jason then took a written exam which was mailed to National Geographic in Washington, D.C. If he qualifies, he will be notified in March where the Nebraska competition will be held.

Last year's winner was Hans Julius who did qualify for state competition where he placed 11th overall.

Jason is a sixth grader and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor of Hoskins.

Four generation family
Jacob Steven Lutt, born July 11, 1996 became the fourth generation in the Don and Ella Lutt family. He is being held by his great-grandfather, Don Lutt. His grandfather is Dennis Lutt and his father is Steve Lutt. Each of the men are 27 years apart.

Terrible twos not so terrible

Q: Are the "terrible twos" really so terrible?

A: It has been said that all human beings can be classified into two broad categories: those who would vote "yes" to the various propositions of life, and those who would be inclined to vote "no."

I can tell you with confidence that each toddler around the world would definitely cast a negative vote! If there is one word that characterizes the period between 15 and 24 months of age, it is "no!"

No, he doesn't want to eat his cereal. No, he doesn't want to play with his dump truck. No, he doesn't want to take his bath. And you can be sure, no, he doesn't want to go to bed anytime at all.

Perhaps the most frustrating aspect of the "terrible twos" is the tendency of kids to spill, destroy, kill and get into things. They also have a knack for doing embarrassing things, like sneezing on a nearby man at a lunch counter.

During these toddler years, any unexplained silence of more than 30 seconds can throw an adult into a sudden state of panic. What mother has not had the thrill of opening the bathroom door only to find Tony Tornado covered with lipstick from the top of his pink head to the carpet on which he stands?

On the wall, is his own artistic creation, with a red handprint in the center, and throughout the room, is the aroma of Chanel No. 5, with which he has anointed his baby brother.

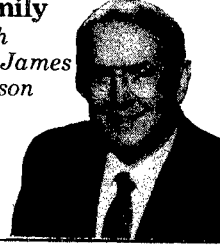

The picture sounds bleak, and, admittedly, there are times when a little toddler can dismantle the peace and tranquility of a home. (My son, Ryan, loved to blow bubbles in the dog's water dish—a game which still horrifies me).

However, with all of its struggles, there is no more thrilling time of life than this period of dynamic blossoming and unfolding. New words are being learned daily, and the cute verbal expressions of that age will be remembered for half a century.

It is a time of excitement over fairy stories and Santa Claus and furry puppy dogs. And most importantly, it is a precious time of loving and warmth that will scurry by all too quickly.

Q: Why are men so insensitive to women's needs today? They

Focus On The Family With

seem oblivious to the longings of their wives, even when every effort is made to communicate and educate.

A: I question whether men have really changed all that much over the years. Rather, I doubt if men have ever responded as women preferred.

Did the farmer of a century ago come in from the fields to say, "Tell me how it went with the kids today?" No. He was as oblivious to his wife's nature as husbands are today. What has changed is the relationship between women!

A century ago, women cooked together, canned together, washed clothes at the creek together, prayed together, went through menopause together and grew old together. And when a baby was born, aunts and grandmothers and neighbors were there to show the new mother how to diaper and feed and discipline. Great emotional support was provided in this feminine contact. A woman was never really alone.

Alas, the situation is very different today. The extended family has disappeared, depriving the wife of that source of security and fellowship. Her mother lives in New Jersey and her sister is in Texas. Furthermore, American families move every three or four years, preventing any long-term friendships from developing among neighbors.

And there's another factor that is seldom admitted: Many American women would not even consider inviting a group of friends to the house until it was repainted, refurnished or redecorated. As someone said, "We're working so hard to have beautiful homes and there's nobody in them!"

The result is isolation—or should I say insulation—and its first cousin: loneliness.

These questions and answers are excerpted from the book Dr. Dobson Answers Your Questions. Steenken-Bellar married in Wisner Joni Marie Steenken of Beemer and Travis Jason Bellar of Wisner were married Dec. 14, 1996 at Christ Lutheran Church in Wisner.

Pastor Jack Nitz officiated at the candlelight ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Roger and Linda Steenken of Beemer and Gary and Marj Bellar of Wisner.

Music for the ceremony was provided by organist Ellen Stigge of Beemer, pianist Jenny Wilcox of Lincoln and vocalists Josh Holtz of Beemer and Margaret Schultz of Wisner.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose an imported gown of white satin over dacron. Her fitted bodice had an open neckline with long fitted sleeves off the shoulders. Both the sleeves and bodice were decorated with schiffle lace enhanced with pearls and sequins.

The full skirt fell from a Basque waistline decorated with matching lace motifs. Scalloped lace edged the hemline that traveled into a cathedral train which was decorated with lace and sequins.

The bride carried a traditional cascade of white roses, Amazon lilies mini carnations and ivy.

Traci Steenken of Wisner, sister of the bride, was maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Stefanie Vanek of Lincoln, Michelle Holtz of Omaha, Laurie Klitz of Kearney and Brandi Hass of Fremont.

The women wore floor length dresses of holiday red crepe with a satin-edged, sequined lace bodice overlay and open shoulders slanted toward a rounded neckline.

They carried white roses and red poinsettias in a cluster tied with a gold ribbon.

Courtney Steenken of Wisner was the flower girl.

Jon Greve of Wisner was the ring bearer.

Mary Osmera served as personal attendant.

Candlelighters were Jamie Green of Lincoln and Randi Eggers

Mr. and Mrs. Bellar

of Wahoo.
Richard Breitreutz of Wisner, grandfather of the groom, was best man.

Groomsman were Eric Vyborny, Jeremy Green and Chris Weber, all of Lincoln and Tyler Steenken of Wisner.

Ushers were Chad Holtz of Omaha, Heath Holtz of Beemer, Joel Thompson of Pilger and Scott Kvals of Lincoln.

A reception was held at the Wisner City Auditorium.

Andrea Kelly of Norfolk and Heather Ott of Wisner were in charge of the guest book.

Host couples were Mr. and Mrs. Mike Jaeger of Winside, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Green of Lincoln and Mr. and Mrs. Rod Hosman of Aurora, Colo.

During the reception, a surprise visit was made by Santa and Mrs. Claus.

Following a wedding trip to Jamaica, the couple is at home in Wisner where the groom is employed by Wisner Feedlots and the bride by American Family Insurance.

Good nutrition necessary

With the recent push to combine nutrition and physical activity to build a healthy lifestyle, questions abound whether the guidelines and recommendations are the same for women as for men. Females who are regular exercisers or recreational athletes would do well to plan their diets carefully.

Carbohydrate-rich foods provide much of the energy for physically active people. Individuals who are intent on their exercise program are typically aware of this recommendation and do a good job eating a variety of breads, cereals, grains and pasta. They may not do as well when it comes to eating fruits and vegetables, which are also a good source of carbohydrates, and vitamins and minerals.

Protein-rich foods are also important for the exercising woman. Protein is used in muscle building so some women who are not into body building exercise may think that protein isn't as important for them. Not so!! Protein is needed for muscle repair and maintenance.

All individuals need an adequate daily supply of protein. For exercising women, the requirement may be slightly higher than non-exercising females due to a slightly greater muscle mass, and the need to repair muscle tissue that may have been damaged during physical activity. At least two servings of protein-rich meats, poultry, fish, dry beans, nuts and eggs are recommended daily. Significant protein also comes from milk products.

Sally Ebmeier
Cooperative Extension
Cedar County

Many Americans have heeded the message that dietary fat should be kept to a moderately low level. Physically active people have also embraced the message. However, don't be too restrictive. Some dietary fat is needed for normal body functions and to assist with the absorption of fat soluble vitamins. Athletes may go overboard in restricting fats in their diets. Physically active females, in particular, may think it healthy to reduce fat to a dangerously low level. Such an action will not serve them well over time.

Antioxidant nutrients, vitamins A, C, E and beta-carotene from fruits and vegetables, and sources of iron, zinc and calcium are particular concerns for female athletes. These micronutrients are easy to leave out if care is not taken to plan for several different kinds of fruits, vegetables, meats, and dairy products.

In particular, calcium is low in diets of young to older females. Adequate calcium intakes are essential for building strong bones during the first thirty years of life and then continuing to maintain strong bones for the remainder of life. Studies indicate that many females do not get recommended levels of calcium intakes. This can be avoided by including three servings of milk products daily.

Poor nutrition, severely restricted diets, and physical stress can lead to extremely low body fat, disrupted menstrual cycles, and loss of bone strength in young exercising females.

In many cases, the desire to achieve a certain body image and musculature for a particular sport or physical activity can lead to unhealthy decisions about food and exercise. Parents, coaches, teachers, and physicians are cautioned to watch for signs that diets are being extremely manipulated.

In such cases, young female athletes should be counseled back toward a more reasonable approach to food intake that is based on the recommendation to eat a variety of foods from all of the food groups within the Food Guide Pyramid. Regular meal and snack times are important to keep us fueled and healthy.

All men's night

Male residents celebrated All Men's Pizza Night at the Wane Care Centre on Jan. 21. The men and their guests were served by the Wayne Kiwanis Club. Following the meal, Casino games were played with "funny" money and prizes awarded. Guests winning prizes were Vern Morse, Eldon Helnemann, Ken Liska and Marty Marx. Residents who won were Alex Liska, Elmer Holst and Albert Nelson.

Program to be presented

"Who Gets Grandma's Yellow Pie Plate" is the title of the program that offers families several suggestions on how to approach the topic of transferring non-titled property amongst family members and provides suggestions on how to make the critical decisions of "Who gets what? And when?"

The program will be taught by UNL Extension Educators Carol Larvick and Lynda Cruickshank on Thursday, Feb. 13, noon till 1:30 P.M. at the Wayne County Courthouse.

There is great interest in this topic since research shows that many "adult siblings have been known to break off relationships with each other over how personal property was divided." (Titus, Rosenblatt & Anderson, 1979). One survey participant said, "You never really know someone, until you share an inheritance with them."

Pre-registration is required since space is limited. A registration fee of $3 covers the cost of the materials. Participants are asked to bring a sack lunch and enjoy discussing the variety of family heirlooms, collections, situations and solutions that occur in families. Call the Wayne County Extension office at 375-3310 to request a registration form.

Humans are three-dimensional beings

I turned over the calendar this morning and actually saw some blank spots for next week, which gives me hope for getting the paper work that has accumulated the past two months organized and cleared out.

Having some warm weather and seeing the sun has helped restore my optimism, too. We've had some extremes this week.

By Pat Meierhenry

I've been waking up at 5 a.m., which is a sure sign I have too much on my mind. Ordinarily, I'm not an early riser. It certainly is a good time of day for putting thoughts on paper.

The traditional Christmas puzzle was a 1,000 piece Dickens village. It's been sitting around, waiting for some brave soul to start. Last year's was a guardian angel and it didn't get finished until the last of March, when a friend from Connecticut visited.

Max is at a wrestling tournament this weekend so Ann and Myles are here. He went to bed early last night and Ann and her Dad tackled the puzzle. Of course, they won't have another opportunity until nap time today. An 18-month old has a way of distracting. His job is to explore!

There have been a variety of emotional experiences the past two months. My uncle Edgar died mid-December, after a very long hard struggle with cancer.

I admitted a fellow on Christmas Eve who was younger than me and he died on the 28th. We have another patient, same age, whose family is struggling with his care and has taken an enormous amount of staff time and energy.

So, yesterday, there were two events that helped me emotionally. The first was a staff bereavement meeting. The facilitator, a social worker, made lists of the deaths we have served in the past six months. We were invited to reflect on these and mention some that had impacted us the most.

Much of the discussion centered on the way our patients and families extended their trust to us and allowed us to share these very intimate times with them. There were boxes of Kleenexes and they were used.

In the afternoon, a male nurse who has worked with Therapeutic Touch presented a brief synopsis of this subject. It still sounds like a lot of hocus pocus to me; it always has. But it was relaxing and quieting and thought-provoking.

It all just proves again that we are three-dimensional beings: body, mind and spirit. And it behooves us to pay attention to all three; doing whatever it takes to maintain health; physical, emotional and mental.

I didn't get any paper work done. I finished the day with a walk and I'm ready to tear into it now.

Area producers to be interviewed for study

Virginia Gosch of Randolph will be calling on several Wayne County farmers in February, March and April asking for their cooperation on a major study, according to the Nebraska Agricultural Statistics Service in Lincoln.

The local farmers were selected to participate in the Agricultural Resource Management Study, which will collect information from approximately 17,000 farmers and ranchers nationwide.

The survey is being conducted by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's statistics-gathering agency, the National Agricultural Statistics Service and its state offices.

The statistical office in Lincoln, which is handling the Nebraska portion of the study, hired and trained Mrs. Gosch. She will be collecting data on production expenses, income, other farm financial information and risk management strategies. Only through information gathered from farm operators can reliable, objective facts be merged into data used in many ways that benefit the U.S. agricultural community.

"Being a farm wife myself, I know how busy farmers are and I know that surveys can be extra work," said Gosch. "But I also know how important it is to have accurate, detailed, up-to-date information. The results of the upcoming study will be used to assess how the changes in the new Farm Bill will impact operators. A farmer or rancher should participate in this study in order to protect his financial interests."

Gosch wants to make sure that Wayne County farmers are properly represented in the state and national samples, so that local farming conditions are reflected in the survey results. She pointed out that each farmer selected represents many other farmers in similar circumstances. Once a name has been selected, no one else can take that farmer's place.

To make the study interviews as convenient as possible for participating farmers, Gosch will conduct the interviews in the farmer's home. Most farmers selected for an interview have already been notified by mail and Gosch will try to set up a convenient time.

Responses to study questionnaires are confidential, Gosch said. After the summary data are fed into computers, all questionnaires will be destroyed so that no one can trace responses back to an individual farmer or farm operation.

Results will be analyzed by USDA, which will report its findings to Congress, farmers and the public.
