Youth learn fire safety

By Jeremy Bass
For the Herald

What should you do if you find matches or a lighter lying around?

According to several pre-schoolers and Smokey Bear, you should go and find an adult to come and pick them up and do page of them.

This awareness among children is the goal of fire prevention week which has run all week and concludes Friday.

Elementary and pre school students have been studying different various forms of fire prevention through several workbooks which have been distributed to the schools.

The books cover various forms of fire prevention and how students can practice and recognize it in the home, from matches to frayed electrical cords.

Also discussed are fire safety techniques, what to do if a fire is discovered in the child's home or building they are in.

"In addition to fire prevention week we have the junior fire patrol, and both of these programs are a big asset in raising awareness and preventing fires," comments fire chief Dutch Stizman.

The week was highlighted for many students by a trip to the fire station for a tour and a ride on a fire truck.

At the station students were taught they should not be afraid if a strange person is at their back side some night, because fireman Mike is not going to look like the man Mike when he has all of his gear on for a fire.

Everyone then got to feel what it is like to be a fireman when he has all of his gear on by trying it on. Most couldn't get the boots or the helmet yet but thought they might like to try again when they were a little older.

If history is an indicator, the fire department will see several of them.

"I presently have several fire fighters who say they had when they were young in part at least moved them to join the department," says fire chief Dutch Stizman.

If you heard siren around town, not to worry however, as it was just the various classes finishing their tour with a ride on the fire truck.

There have been a fairly common being around Wayne this year, with fireman responding to only 13 calls so far this year, and most of these being car and grass fires.

This is credited at least in part by officials to more awareness and some new laws.

"I think people are becoming more aware of the damage fires can do, and the fact that people in rural areas now need burn permits," says.

This decrease is also being seen statewide, with the total number of fires decreasing in the state by three percent in 1996.

This decreasing trend is what officials are pushing for through programs such as fire prevention week.

National Public Power Week

Crews strive to provide power

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Nebraska is the only state in the nation to have electrical power that is completely publicly owned.

During National Public Power Week, Oct. 5-11, this fact is one of many about the local power company that those involved in providing power to the city of Wayne would like to make known.

"Because we are a not-for-profit business we buy only the electricity we need. This also means that citizens of Wayne have some of the cheapest electricity in the country," said Cassie Hansen, superintendent of the Electric Production for the city of Wayne.

The rate customers pay for electricity covers only the cost of the electricity itself and operational costs such as salaries of the employees.

Currently, there are 15 full time employees in Hansen's department. They have a combined total of 83 years of experience with the Wayne electrical system.

"The city of Wayne is growing. We can see this on the electrical load," Hansen said.

Wayne has been going up approximately two percent per year. The electricity that is used by Wayne comes from two sources: Nebraska Public Power District (NPPD) and Western Area Power Administration (WAPA).

"We are capable of generating power with the generators located here in Wayne and should the need arise, such as a problem with NPPD's system, we can be up and generating electricity within approximately 30 minutes," Hansen said.

During a normal weather year Hansen and the crew can expect to have 2-3 outages. Usually these outages are caused by an ice line.

Hansen and his crew are awaiting the completion of the power plant with the hook up of two new generators. The project is expected to be finished late this year with an open house planned for early next year.

"The expansion is designed to pay for itself within 20 years," Hansen said.

Cary Postre, superintendent of Electrical Distribution, and his crew are in his department have 45 years of experience with the department.

They are responsible for doing the work that brings the electricity into homes and businesses.

"At the present time, we are keeping busy with the Highway 15 project. We will be doing over $1,200,000 worth of work. This amount will be completely reimbursed by the State of Nebraska but we still need to use our crews to do the work," Hansen said.

Among the activities which the department is responsible for are the replacing overhead wires with underground, running overhead wires out of the way, and replacing underground wires with new or repaired wire.

Public added that some of the work that needs to be done can't be completed until the construction work to the site is completed.

He estimates that his crew is responsible for maintaining 30 miles of overhead and under ground lines.

The electrical department is also involved with providing electricity to the site of the new First National Bank and Center and the construction area being constructed on the east edge of Wayne.

Annually, during Public Power Week, the fourth grade students from the power plant. They view movies on safety when dealing with electrical lines and in home safety.

In addition, the electrical crews read the 7,000 meters located in Wayne each month and make adjustments on their accordingly.

"The customer has come to expect electricity at all times. We do our best to provide them with what they want," Hansen said.

"Gifts" galore

Suppose an entity taxes you $100 which you pay out of your hard earned cash. After deciding it has taken too much, leading to a surplus, the entity, instead of returning your money, decides to keep it, and ask for $4.10 less the following two years. O yes, and also "give" you a $10 personal exemption credit. Should one celebrate?

The entity is the State of Nebraska. The cash is yours. Excessive taxes led to the state having a $240 million "revenue surplus" Return the money to its owners? No way.

LB401, passed by the Legislature this year, and signed by the governor, will cut state income tax rates by 4.1 percent and increase the personal exemption by $10. This is the state government's way of saying "Hey, we took too much, but we're not giving it back. What we will do is ask for a wee bit less for two years."

The tax "cut" and the credit increase will be effective for 1997-98 only. LB401 passed on a 38-7 vote, and was introduced to provide a way to deal with the state's $240 million revenue surplus.

Final version of the bill also allows the self-employed to deduct 100 percent of their health insurance premiums from state income taxes in 1997-98, and transfer $40 million from the cash reserve fund to the general fund on June 15, 1999.

Next time you borrow money, and don't use it all, just promise the provider that next time you won't ask for quite as much. However, don't expect the provider to be restate.

Sites, sights and citations

The "two double" signs posted along the Seventh Street construction project seem to be asking in shouting traffic, and reminding motorists to be on the lookout for work crews, barrels, heavy equipment and the unexpected.

Speeding in a construction zone can be costly. For instance getting a speeding ticket for driving 51 mph in a 40 mph zone can cost $400 plus court costs.

Police reports show no accidents occurring from Seventh Street west, however crashes have happened from Seventh and Main east.

Most drivers are, according to police, cooperating "pretty good" when driving in and around construction sites.

Motorists are tempted to do a little "silly" seeing a flashing construction cross, while also attempting to drive. There is currently no shortage of head turning. "Hey, what are they doing there?" "I bet they're doing it" are common about changing between driving and staring.

Increasing speed common during judgment is always a danger.

Concerns are shared

As a result of the 1987-88 Legislative Session, a number of bills, amendments, resolutions and public bills were introduced. The purpose of supporting the sponsor and others of the bills is to ensure that the bills are passed by the Legislature.

We at the Wayne County Public Library, Wayne County Public Library, and Wayne County Public Library are pleased to have the opportunity to support the bills. We are pleased to have the opportunity to support the bills.

One of the major concerns of the public is the impact of the bills on the economy. We are pleased to have the opportunity to support the bills.

Large industrial and regional developments, as well as power plants, are being developed in the area. We are pleased to have the opportunity to support the bills.

Our concerns are based on the fact that these projects...

public should have the right to be heard. It is our hope that these projects will provide jobs and economic growth for the area.

During the legislative process, we have been able to share our concerns with the Legislature. We are pleased to have the opportunity to support the bills.

Some of the bills we are supporting include: a bill to create a new agency to regulate the industry, a bill to create a new agency to regulate the industry, and a bill to create a new agency to regulate the industry.

This bill will significantly increase the number of jobs in the area. We are pleased to have the opportunity to support the bills.

Party finally fields candidates

By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent

The Nebraska Press-Association

A wave of relief rolled across the state last week after the Democratic Party finally fielded a couple of candidates for governor. The Republicans, and a couple of Democratic-leaning Republicans, had stolen all the thunder in the race, which will be decided in 14 months.

In that year, that's a lifetime, but in political circles, it's about time someone made a decision.

To no one's surprise, Bill Hopper, a former top aide to former Govs. Kerrey and Leon, tossed his bid into the mix. In several people's surprise, former State Sen. and former football player, Joe McElane, also said he'd run.

The early handicappers after the two Democrats also fields of defeating the Republicans, mainly because of the substantial support was first, followed by at least a couple of the GOP candidates.

Hopper, the thinking you may have trouble raising money in Omaha, that both of corporate and labor have, and some very things about the Omaha business community.

By a vote of 10-1, Hopper was named to be the Omaha business community's representative on the board. You'd hope to find some business leaders to help him out. Hopper will find out.

McElane, a politician for some time, has a long record in the big money area.

Hopper's candidate, in particular, is a former state legislator, and has a long record in the big money area.

As a result of the legislative process, we have been able to share our concerns with the Legislature. We are pleased to have the opportunity to support the bills.

get it done kind of guy.

If you really wanted government to run like a business, you'd want to see a kind of guy who can get it done. But don't count on any assistance among Omaha business types about Hopper's negative comments about corporate layoffs and job losses.

I'd say Secretary of State Scott Kluwe is another one of those candidates, experienced in state government as an influential state senator and legislative budget committee and a bright and even courageous politician. He's the guy who insisted on looking at the eye before voting to affirm his death sentence. That took guts.

But you probably won't see Moore in the race because he's a moderate of moderate means, at least not the kind of buck that Jon Christensen will be bringing from Washington, D.C. fund-raiser, or the money state Auditor John Beslow plans to invest from his wedding supply business.

Money, lots of it, is a key here, as well as many of the qualities we seek in Miss America (why does Christensen's girlfriend keep coming up) - good looking, young, energetic, conservative, pro-life.

It's too bad. An ex-convict with populist leanings like William Jennings Bryan wouldn't even make the starting gate now unless...

he think a few thousands from some special interests.

I still have some faith I think that someday, maybe 1998, a common sense, populist candidate in Nebraska who campaigns from the bed of a pickup truck could beat the big money boys.

But the way things are going, it looks like our next governor will be the one with the nicest smile and the best job, not the best quality a boss.

The views expressed in Capitol News are those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Nebraska Press Association.

Nice comments given

Today I want to share with you some nice comments received by the Chamber office regarding the recent "W.C.W." program. Even of the commenters noted their thanks and I pass those thanks on to those of you who made this program such a success.

Timothy Diering, a WSC judge from Huntington, said $50.00 "W.C.W." chamber. Burke Thomsen says he had a good time meeting nice folks on his stroll through town and walked into many places that never been before. In fact, he continued to suggest really noticed most of the businesses and services that these "businesses" provided. This is in spite of the fact that "all the best places have huge signs and it would be hard for a blind man to miss them."

Those appreciated how the program opened his eyes to what is in Wayne. Now, he says, he's been to countless Wayne business centers for all kinds of things. Now, he feels he's a part of the town, not as though he's a college student in "COOL town." He was surprised to Timmy receiving a coupon for a free food item when he brought his business cards and/or receipts to the Chamber for validation.

In a world where you receive citizens lectures for driving the speed limit and get cursed at for saying hello to someone, it is nice to see that someone actually cares about my business. Thank you, Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce!

you, Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce!

Another WSC judge, Bobbie Johnson, was so impressed to learn what the city of Wayne offers. She and her friend set out on a "baloney" afternoon, not realizing all the businesses in Wayne. Bobbie concluded her e-mail thanks, "This was a wonderful idea for the community to do for the college students. Thank you again for the $100.00 Chamber Bucks!"

On behalf of the Wayne Area Chamber, I want to add my thanks to all the businesses who participated in any way and to the WSC students who took the time to play "W.C.W." and get acquainted with the community. Thanks, Timmy and Bobbie to, for your kind words about our Chamber program!

"It really didn't sink in that our crew service was not up to par in the second game until the break between the second and third games," Vanis said. "We came out and played much better in the third game."

WSC football team falls to 0-5 with Homecoming loss

By Kevin Peterson
Of the Herald

Kevin Haslam's Wayne State football team remained winless on the 1997 season after a 35-17 setback to highly touted Drake on Homecoming last Saturday but not for lack of effort.

The 'Cats had Drake wondering throughout much of the game how they could be winless with the effort they were putting forth and if not for a momentum swinging 100-yard interception return for a touchdown the outcome of Homecoming may have been different.

WSC took the opening kickoff and drove 75 yards to the Drake six yard line before the drive stalled and Joey Hope was called in to give the host team a 10-0 lead on a 24 yard field goal. The 16 play drive took over eight minutes off the clock.

Drake's first play from scrimmage resulted in a fumble and WSC set up shop on drive number two at the Bulldogs 36 yard line but these plays later the 'Cats found themselves punting the ball as they had lost 14 yards in the series.

The Bulldogs went 41 yards in eight plays to score their first touchdown and led 7-3 after the opening quarter. Their lead grew to 14-3 early in the second quarter after a 43 yard drive ended with a three yard scoring run. Late in the first half Hope converted on a 22 yard field goal to tighten the gap to eight at 14-6 which is how the game stood at the intermission.

Drake went up 21-6 early in the third quarter on a 13 yard touchdown pass but the 'Cats answered with a 28-yard touchdown pass from Jaime Jones to Dameron Porter and Jones ran for the two-point conversion to make it a 21-14 contest.

Late in the third stanza the 'Cats were driving the ball for what appeared to be a game-tying touchdown when Jones two-yard pass attempt to Andy Fallett slipped through his hands and into the waiting hands of Noah Joseph who rambled 100 yards the other way for a 14-point swing. Instead of a tie game it was 28-14.

Joey Hope kicked his third field goal of the game from 32 yards out with two seconds left in the third quarter but the 'Cats three possessions in the fourth quarter ended with no points.

Despite the loss, the 'Cats showed marked improvement over the previous week's embarrassing blowout at Fort Hays State. WSC had more first downs, 21-14 and fewer turnovers, 2-1 than the visiting Bulldogs who are ranked fourth in the nation in NCAA Division I-AA.

BJ Helmstatter led Wayne State on the ground with 75 yards on 24 carries while Jones rushed for 56 yards on 14 attempts. Defensive signal caller Wade Jones through the air for 174 yards with Andy Fallett catching nine balls for 76 yards for team tops. Dameron Porter had three catches for 64 yards and Dan Purgley, two catches for 34 yards.

Defensively, WSC was led by Jesse Wasunick with 16 tackles with Brad Hicke, netting 12 and Brian Morrison, 11. Mike Cortes tallied nine stops and Rick Kukkonen, six. Jason Jensen had five tackles and Joey Evans, four. Cray Pica had a fumble recovery and Derrick Bixler intercepted a pass.

"Our football team took some giant steps against Drake," Haslam said. "The kids are giving it every thing they've got. I felt there was a lot of positives including our defensive stand at the end of the game, as we held Drake on the one yard line, and the special teams play of Keith Switzer and the blocking that was done by quarterback Jaime Jones."

WSC will play at Southwest State in Marshall, Minnesota on Saturday. The Mustangs enter the contest with a 1-2 record.

Wayne earns first win of year

The Wayne football team celebrated their first victory on the gridiron this season with a 28-19 win over West Point last Friday, spoiling the Cadets' Homecoming.

The game started with a bang for the Blue Devils as senior Brad Maryott took the opening kickoff at his five yard line and rambled 95 yards for a touchdown.

Wayne went up 14-0 after Maryott scored on a 47 yard pass play from Clinton Keller on a fourth-down and long call.

West Point managed to trim the lead to seven after one quarter of play on a nine-yard run by David Gowelle but late in the second quarter the Blue Devils struck it big as Keller launched a pass to Dustin Schmeits and 52 yards after an acrobatic catch, Schmeits found the endzone and the Blue Devils held a 21-7 halftime advantage, also on the aid of three point after kicks by Josh Murtaugh.

West Point bounced back and scored all 12 of its second half points in the third quarter on a 27 yard run and a 66 yard run. The two point attempt was thwarted on the second touchdown leaving Wayne up by two at 21-19 heading to the final stanza.

Joel Munson capped the Blue Devils coming on a 12 yard run midway through the fourth quarter.

"It was a nice win," coach John Murtaugh said. "This can serve as a springboard for us in the second half of the season."

The Wayne mentor said he was proud of his team and their effort. "We played hard for four quarters and it paid off," he added. "The offensive line did a great job taking control of the game in the second half. Clinton Keller, Joel Munson, Brad Maryott and Dustin Schmeits played extremely well at the skill positions."

Munson rushed for a career high 176 yards on 12 carries while Josh Murtaugh gained 60 yards on 14 tries.

Keller was nearly perfect in the passing department, going 9-10 for 166 yards and two scores.

Maryott caught three balls for 64 yards and Schmeits, two for 50. Wayne gained a season-high 384 total yards while holding West Point to 256 including just 24 yards passing.

Defensively, the Blue Devils were led by Tim Zach, Wes Sievers and Jesse Rellivitch as each netted eight tackles.

Paul Cunningham's team lost their first match to Wakefield, 2-15, 7-15 before falling to Wayne, 10-15, 15-4, 12-15. The Bears fought with a 10-15, 15-5, 15-6 win over Randolph.

Adkins was a perfect 2-4 2-4 in setting on the day with 50 as sets while Jessie Ewin and Kristin Hix had 17 kill spikes each for team top. Laurie Schneider had 11 kills and Katie Monson, nine. Schneider and Ewin paced the defense at the net with 10 and 10 blocks, respectively and Adkins had 11 digs with Monson netting 10.

"We struggled throughout the day with serve receive errors, Cunningham said. "We missed crucial serves. Our team serving improved as the day went on. Our middles blocked well, but often got hot when the ball came off their hands."

In a final last Thursday in Laurel, the Bears breezed past Crofton, 15-6, 15-6. Monson was the leading server at 11-12 with two aces while Beckman was 9-9 and Ewin 11-13 with one ace. Wakefield drops two of three volleyball matches at tourney

The Wakefield volleyball team lost two of three matches at their regional robin tournament last Saturday. Marty Maughlin's team, however, earned their second game of the season, against Laurel, 15-9, 15-7. The girls' club squad played their first match of the tournament in the first match, Maughlin said. "We struggled in this game, for us from the start."

12 digs while Patton had nine. Digs and Owsdale, eight. "Randolph is a fine ball club," Maughlin said. "They took advantage of our poor defense and blocking. Our net play and defense were not at the level we needed it to be."

Stapleton responded long drive away and had 120 ace blocks to put the on fire. Kristin Beckman carded 12-12 in setting with one ace and the lead to kill spikes to the teammate. Beck, Owsdale, for team top. Patton also paced the defense with 13 dig.

The lineup dropped their third match of the tourney to Wayne, 2-15, 2-15. "This contest was a big disappointment for our club," Maughlin said. "Wayne played good but we were definitely out ready for this match. Hopefully, we can rebound from this and play with some confidence at our next meeting conference game."

Senior Braden set up the hit long spike with 13 assists and the drive had two ace blocks while Maggie Brown netted three ace blocks and six digs. Jessie VanDahl also recorded two ace blocks.

Sports seasons winding down; Media says goodbye to friend

As the high school fall sports season winds down toward districts and state it appears the Blue Devils remain no stranger to... The volleyball team under Joyce Hunkler's tutelage has been quite impressive to say the least lately winning 17 straight matches through Tuesday's contests in four days.

By: Kevin Gordon

For those who haven't seen the Blue Devils spikers play yet this season, Thursday would be a good time to go watch as they host O'Neill.

What a shame. Russ Hornum was what a shame about this profession. Both professions as he was a great worker and sports fan. He left the radio station.

John Moutaugh and company put together a solid performance. Wayne will look to double up on its speed during this Friday when they play at O'Neill before returning home for the final two games of the season against Tekamah and Blair.

It was a nice early legal person in his community who is something that can be called a good example for the younger generation.

The girls' golf team heads to the north this Thursday and Dave Hix's squad appears to be ready for the challenge of attempting to qualify for state.

At a surprise Saturday for him last week, nearly 1,000 people showed up to support their gratitude to a man that, based on establishing the community's youth and baseball programs and to mention but not all.

ONE THING, writers have no concern is their best for a simple camp that way, doing logic, there is a mutual chance of creating it up. Offer those who take things and and the best of the week. I had known each other for years and had definitely someone that I'll never forget.

Well, wouldn't you know it, I finally got one of those cages and still managed to escape it up. In the past couple weeks the loyal followers of the Wayne girls country teams have noticed that the jersey has not been mentioned in the articles.

That because I've only spotted the name but because I simply overlooked the jersey on the result sheet. Sorry about that. Elbe, you're doing a great season. My jersey is currently the third runner on the varsity team behind Sara Kinney and Sarah Hunkler.

ON A SAD NOTE, the final part of this column is written in memory of a media friend who passed away late last week. West Point's Russ Hornum, a long-time sports announcer at KWPN in West Point last his battle with cancer just two days after his 50th birthday.

DON'T PLAY WITH FIRE!

Fire Prevention Week

October 5-11, 1997

FIRE CAN STRIKE

Anybody... Anywhere... Anytime!
STOP FIRES BEFORE THEY START!

Practice Prevention and make it a daily routine. Fire related tragedies can be avoided when you are alerted to the possible hazards.

FIRE PREVENTION TIPS:

1. Matches left near children (Don't leave them where children can get them).
2. "Junk" in basement, attic or closets (Now is the time to get rid of it).
3. Ordinary extension cords on irons and heaters (Ordinary light weight cords are not meant to carry heavy loads such as an iron or electrical heater demands).
4. Overload electrical circuits (Have your electrician install more outlets for you).
5. Frayed electrical cords (Replace them when they're frayed. Electricity is a wonderful servant, but you must play by the rules).
6. Smoking in bed (Just one word -- DON'T)
7. Chimneys that spark (If it sparks it needs to be cleaned or fixed).
8. Cigarette carelessness (Squash cigarettes out every time and use safety type ash trays).

Advertising campaign launched for logo

The week of Oct. 5-11 has been set aside as National 4-H Week. This year 4-H launched its national public service campaign "Are You Into It?"

The campaign goal is to motivate youth to become involved in helping their communities through volunteer and community service projects.

The campaign premise is that youth are an untapped resource for community service, and that they through their volunteer efforts can be of benefit to their communities. 4-H will provide the infrastructure to create a close connection between young people and community programs.

The program "Are You Into It?" targets youth ages 10-13. Campaign focus groups found that youth viewed volunteering as "cool" and considered non-school related projects and family/leisure time to be the most familiar forms of community service. The focus groups also cited peer involvement and the opportunity to participate in fun activities as reasons to volunteer in their community. The 4-Hers involved with the campaign will educate youth and adults in their communities on the benefits of volunteer through community service.

This 4-H public service advertising campaign falls under the "Are You Into It?" campaign.

"Commitment 2000: Raising A Better Tomorrow." A total of 19 4-H youth from across the country assumed leadership roles in the development of this campaign with 4-H's volunteer advertising agency Bates USA.

Locally, 4-H clubs will be planning to work on 4-H community service projects throughout the year. 4-H is the largest non-formal youth education organization in the United States, numbering over 5.4 million youth.

In Nebraska, 4-H the mission is to assist youth in reaching their fullest potential through utilizing the knowledge base of the land-grant university system, learning by doing and developing life skills.

Any youth looking for an organization to meet these expectations while discovering new things, developing new skills, sharing with others and serving the community, has the opportunity to discover these opportunities through 4-H. For more information on 4-H contact the local University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension Office.

Reminiscing about life's turns

... sitting in the living room of the farm house at 9 p.m. on Sunday, turning a fan. Who would believe 90 degrees in October? Harvest is in full swing. The bean fields around us are bare. In fact, there were some farmers missing at church this morning.

As usual, I chickened out on the game last night. I believed all the hype about K State. I still don't want to play the Gators in the Semifinals, but the Hoosiers are looking good.

The guest from Oregon last week commented that he had never met women as knowledgeable about football as those he meets in Nebraska. Anyway, I baked cookies and visited with the young couple celebrating a first anniversary and turned on the radio periodically to check the score. For me, the radio broadcast has lost their appeal.

The guest from Oregon last week, the father of the bride, was Armonar. After he left, I had to drag out the encyclopedia. It looks like a Mediterranean country that has been brought over by the Turks especially, forever.

He had been raised on a dairy farm in River England. When his grandfather came to America, he left his wife and son behind.

The Fine

Before he could send for them, the Turks invaded and they were in a POW camp for three years. When released, they were deported to France and finally found by his grandfather when he went back to look for them. His name looks as he told this story, another example of the French effect of war.

Well, from enjoying apples, I go to Nebraska City a couple of times a week and there are so many orchards there. But there are trees across the road at the O'Connors house and Wanda has been keeping us supplied.

One of my favorite breakfast dishes is pan-fried, oven pan cakes, which call for stewed apples on top. One of my favorite salads is Waldorf, which starts with apples. I'm also a lover of apple crisp. And I hope to get some into the dehydrator, because we like them that way, too.

It's been 40 years since the Big Farmer graduated from UH. One of his classmates put together an Alaskan cruise for A.S. alumni this summer. It was tempting, but, of course, we could not get away.

It caused a flurry of nostalgia and wondering where everybody went. One old friend stopped in on the way to the game yesterday. Refreshed from the Ak Sar Ben, he's catching up. "South Dakota! The farm never really gets out of the blood."

After all, my brother retired from the Navy, is raising organic tomatoes in a grand green house. And getting a good price too. Apparently, retired in Iowa where our middle class will deposit it. They certainly never expected Mike to be running a Red and Breakfast and selling antiques.

Wonder what I will be doing if I ever get to retire from nursing. Hopefully, I'll get that book written.

Livestock Market Report

Strictly choice fed heifers were $65 to $66.10. Good and choice heifers were $64 to $65. Medium and good heifers were $63 to $64. Standard heifers were $56 to $62. Beef cows were $34 to $38. Utility cows were $14 to $30. Canners and cutters were $10 to $15. Bologna bulls were $40 to $47.

There were 305 feeder pigs sold at the Norfolk Livestock Market on Monday. Action was good. Prices were fully steady to $2 higher.
