School Board holds monthly meeting in Carroll Auditorium

By Kevin Peterson
Of the Herald

The Wayne School Board met in regular session but not in the usual place, Monday night as they convened in the Carroll Auditorium.

The Board was informed of some gifts to the school district from the Wayne West Homecoming Society, the Student Council and the Athletic Boosters.

With tonight ceiling fans for the elementary building, approximately at a cost of $1,410 while the student council donated $2,200 this year for ceiling fans and $1,800 for ceiling fans last year.

The Athletic Boosters have donated $1,200 for weight equipment and $1,100 for a recumbent bike.

The Board accepted the bid from Lumber Co. Men for refuse pickup for the 1997-98 school year at the same cost as last year which was also done by that company.

The Lease/Fix have plan through America for a modular was approved. The modular will be placed immediately east of the weight room and will be available for usage by Nov. 1.

It will be used as a music facility. The modular was purchased from Countrywide Homes in Columbus at a price of $61,224.42.

The interest rate for the modular was 4.4 percent with the terms being from Oct. 15 of 1997 through Oct. 14 of 2,000. The total payback will be $66,689.55.

During Superintendent notes, Dr. Dennis Jensen spoke to the Board on several topics.

In a general report explanation it was shown the Wayne School District has received $370,292.19 in the past five years to grant money for different areas.

This total does not include federal entitlements but only grants that are competitive.

Grants expected for just the 1997-98 school year include: Goals 2000 - $5,000; Annenberg - $27,000; Vocational - $4,000; Distance Ed - $28,000; Lottery - $13,000 and Toshiba - $4,000.

In a recent building visit budget analysis, Dr. Jensen and Middle School Principal Richard Mettler along with the Board Facility Committee consisting of Marion Arneson and Joe Gibson traveled to Nebraska City and Dakota Valley, SD to look at middle schools designed by an architectural firm that are interested in talking to Wayne about its facility needs.

Nebraska City's Middle School houses 361 students in grades 6-9. The school is 60,000 square feet.

Board sets levy after a public hearing at $1.24

There was a hearing Monday night in Carroll as the Wayne School Board prepared to set the levy for the 1997-98 school year.

Setting the levy is an extension of the budget process. The levy is based on a mathematical formula using the total district property wealth and the amount requested from local revenue to meet the budget requirements.

The General Fund request from Wayne was $2,606,273.70 while the General Fund request from District 57 was zero. The General Fund request from District 51 was $30,457.00 bringing the total General Fund request for the county to $2,636,730.70.

The total affiliated property wealth for the county is $226,116,605 and the total General Fund Levy was set at $1,649.92.

The sinking fund request for Wayne only was $153,000 and total Wayne property wealth is $187,487,412.

The sinking fund levy was set at 0.818414 and the total levy with sinking fund was set at 2.468404.

This fund is $192,967.12 less from property taxes a year ago. The vehicle property tax was able to be levied which would have meant another $22,000,000 times the levy or $274,736 more income from property taxes for the district.

The 1997-98 levy is 2.92927 cents less than the 1996-97 levy. The Board approved the levy during the regular session of the School Board Meeting.

Royalty crowned

Lisa Walton was chosen as the 1997 Homecoming Queen at Wayne High School and Andy Wright was chosen as King. The coronation took place Tuesday at the High School and was one of a number of activities scheduled for this week. A parade will be held Friday afternoon at 2:45 p.m.

HARVEST DAYS

Producers took advantage of last week's warm weather to complete soybean harvesting. Yields in the area have ranged from the mid-teens to more than 40 bushels per acre. The weekend rains caused a delay in beginning corn harvest but ideal weather is predicted for the rest of the week, allowing farmers to move forward on bringing in this year's crop.

City Council votes to move forward with transfer station renovation

By Clara Otten
Of the Herald

On a 6-1 vote, the Wayne City Council voted to accept a bid of $48,000 from F. Porter Construction of Norfolk for the earth work phase of the Transfer Station Addition.

Councilman Verrell Lott voted against the project, stating that he questioned why the town needed to move and operate a transfer station and whether or not it was worth it for the town to have it.

Councilwoman Patty Wickham said that following last year's decision to go with local garbage haulers rather than one hauler and allowing citizens to take garbage directly to the transfer station, she felt the city should continue to maintain the transfer station and allow citizens a choice.

She also said the city of Wayne could serve as hub for garbage collection if the transfer station were improved.

City Administrator Joe Valente told the council that the transfer station has run on a break even status for a number of years and is not intended to make money. He also stated that the city has been quoted another estimate on the $150,000 Department of Environmental Quality grant that the city received two years ago.

Council voted to accept a payment of $1,100 from People's Natural Gas to be paid to 20 employees who had not been charged an occupation tax/teacher fee. The amount reflects the amount that has not been collected from Jan. 1, 1997 to the present time.

The plans and specifications were approved for the East Water Tower Leveling Project. The project will involve pressure grouting existing the tower and replacing the concrete. It is hoped to be held at the council's next meeting and to have the work done by mid December.

The council also received the additional rental policy. At the present time the rate for a non-profit organization to rent the facility is $50 and $150 for any other group. There is an additional charge to users if set up is done the day before the activity. That will change following the council's decision to change all but the non-profit groups and additional half-day's rental ($75) if the building is used more than one day.

"If all our anxiety, stress is the only one we can not live without," said Condie Havelle, whose business, Back to Touch, offers its customers the benefits of massage therapy.

Back to Touch opened for business a week ago and already a number of persons have taken advantage of Mrs. Havelle's touch.

She received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Psychology, Sociology and Human Services Counseling from Wayne State College in 1989.

Mrs. Havelle received a clinical dependency certificate at St. Luke's Hospital in Norfolk, Nebraska where she worked as the assistant in patient department for four and one-half years.

She is currently employed at Grandland Mental Health Center in Wayne City as a case manager for chronically mentally ill and intellectually retarded persons.

She is nationally certified and licensed with the state of Nebraska to perform massages. To obtain this certification, she completed 1,000 hours of schooling at the State Institute in Omaha City.

New physical education teacher strives to develop life-time fitness to 150 kids

Rob Sweetland spends each day with approximately 150 children, motivating them to do something.

Sweetland is currently teaching Physical Education to kindergarten through fourth grade students at Wayne and Carroll Elementary Schools.

"One of my goals as a physical education teacher is to help children learn to do something, rather than watching TV and doing nothing," Sweetland said.

Sweetland is a graduate of Wayne High School and a 1995 graduate of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln with a degree in Physical Education and Health. He has been substituting teaching in the Chadwick Public School system where he was also involved with coaching basketball.

"I am doing a lot of the same things that Mr. Koenig did, but am trying to incorporate the different things I have learned," Sweetland said.

He teaches PE to kindergarten for 20 minutes a day, twice a week and works on very basic skills. All other classes have PE twice each week, for 40 minutes each session.

"You need work with the students slowly at first and patience is very important, especially with the young students. We do not get into team sports until second grade," Sweetland said.

Another goal of Sweetland's is to provide a number of activities for the students to allow them the opportunity to see for themselves what they would like to be involved in later in life.

"The thing we want to do is develop the young children's motor skills and help them understand how their hearts work. We want them to begin at an early age to develop a lifetime of fitness," Sweetland said. "I try to encourage them to do something that involves exercise rather than just

Highways and dieways

With an average of 15 teenagers being killed daily in the U.S. due to auto crashes, families with teen drivers cannot help but be concerned. Statistics show more than 100 Americans die daily as the result of auto crashes, consequently teens have a right to be concerned about their parents' safety. Why are Americans killing themselves and each other at such a rate?

Should the Nebraska legislature take another look at legislation governing the use of drivers using cellular telephones? Or maybe there should be restrictions placed on reading while driving? Most everyone would join in revamping the laws related to drinking and driving, assessing stiffer penalties. What about the kooks who go through red lights and stop signs?

Perhaps there should be laws against prepping, bluffing one's hair, paying attention to misbehaving children or swatting a bee in the car? Could lives be saved if laws prohibited all pets from riding in cars, due to the risk of distraction the driver?

Any law abiding citizen can testify that few drivers have any respect for speed limits. Those who claim to be the best drivers on the road are often the same people who respect speed limits only when they see a law enforcement officer.

Can respect for laws, others, and oneself be legislated? Not you!

Meanwhile the bloodbath continues.

Stay alert. The odds of becoming a victim appear to be increasing.

Good reading

Members of the Nebraska Board of Education approved a reading policy B.O. last week which states schools "will teach" phonics in the lower elementary grades.

Being only a policy, not an administrative mandate, schools are not required to use the phonetic method. The approved policy does, however, indicate the board's belief that phonics is essential in teaching reading.

Simply put, phonics is used in teaching children how to read words by learning and knowing the sounds of letters. Although it is not the only way to learn how to read, the methodology has been used with continuing success for at least a century.

Being able to read is directly related to survivability in a competitive world. Even those who read well, but choose not to read, are often at a disadvantage.

Persons familiar with the local elementary school are aware that phonics is an old ally. Good one too!

Commitment to local education for maintaining our schools on the leading edge.

An open letter goes to counties with no zoning

Dear County Resident:

Picture this: if you will, a beautiful day in Nebraska, you're just heading on your way to a good, sunny day. You're driving, you're enjoying the phone call, it's your neighbor, and he's talking excitedly. "Did you know that so and so sold some land right next to you and that they're going to put up a..."

There you are in the flat, 10,000 acre farm, you've just 25,000 pig banding and 30,000 head of beef. You've got a considerable number of chickens (uphill from a large city, but level nuclear earth dump). The lot can go on and on. The fact is, with today's technology, industrial climate. There are any number of industries that are looking for industrial places to establish the real estate. You wish for a pleasant family outing.

Let's go back and re-energize on another phone call that you can be making. "You've got to be doing something to..." Tell us the truth about your county, Commissioner. The Center for Rural Affairs, your neighbors, other kind of citizens, County residents, voters, are all looking for a pleasant family outing.

How painful must it become before we do something?

DEAR EDITOR:

As you know the 1997 Annual Fair is now in full swing in Wayne County.

As I thought of the things that a county that brought us there, again I was made aware of the starkness of 20th street and the surrounding road there (to) or in grandiose they had left.

Winside parents thank owners of Lee and Rosie's

Dear Editor,

We would like to publicly say "Thank You" to Leon and Route Koch of Lee and Rosie's Restaurant in Winside, for all the year (approximately 25) that they have donated a meal to the high school sports (the) at Winside's Homecoming (day). Each year they feed all of the football, basketball, wrestling, volleyball, track, coaches, cheerleaders, water boys and student managers. Each year the group gets bigger. This year 23 individuals were fed. At approximately 14 a meal, the expense comes to almost $400. The Koch's have also been letting the coaches of the football team use their facility for the football players Friday night suppers when they need a place.

We challenge each parent of a sports student to remember to personally express your "thanks" to Leon and Rosie for their generosity when you see them.

Grateful parents,

Senator plea bargains

By Melvin Paul, Statehouse Correspondent, The Nebraska Press Association. What was State Sen. Kenneth Brashear of Omaha thinking when he decided to challenge a $150 speeding ticket he got in Dawes County over the fourth of July weekend?

The fine, for going 40 mph in a 25 mph zone, was doubled to cause the infraction occurred in a construction zone.

He saved $140 when Dawes County Attorney Vance Haug agreed to a plea bargain that reduced the amount to $100 fine plus court costs.

All the plea bargains may cost him considerably more in public relations, depending upon how his own party, among others, interprets his actions.

Will it be viewed as a power play, in which a powerful state senator and his lawyer put the squeeze on a local county attorney? Or could it be considered an honorable challenge of an unfair speed trap?

Normally, the speed limit on the stretch of US-20 where Brashear was caught would have been 65 mph.

Brashear, a Crawford native, was stopped between Crawford and Whitby.

It was a holiday weekend. The construction workers in equipment were around, Brashear said. Road signs were the only evidence that work was being done on the highway.

I can't see the advantage to Brashear in fighting the ticket. It costs him more in money than to challenge it. It would be pay it. After all, he must have more than 600 miles away from Crawford. Travel expenses, lawyer fees, and time away from work surely mount up.

Sure, Brashear, a nationally respected, successful lawyer in Omaha, could afford to fight it. He could also afford to pay it.

He saved a point on his driver's record - the violation otherwise would have cost him two points. Brashear already had picked up six points for a 1996 driving under the influence conviction and another point for a 1995 speeding ticket. Under Nebraska law, you lose your license when you get 12 points in four years. Will the difference be 100 or 200 miles and two points really affect him like the kind of high stakes that "you can't cooperate" scenarios?

It seems to me Brashear's only motivation was the principle of the matter - his sense that he was the victim of a speed trap.

Even so, it doesn't look very good. Haug must have felt the big guns were trained on him when Brashear selected his long-time friend, Kevin Bump, a prominent, politically active lawyer in Chadron to handle the case for him. Bump, a former president of the state bar association, is not a guy you typically think of appearing in traffic court.

The incident is typical of the image problems Brashear faces as a state legislator - problems that need to be resolved before he stands for re-election next year.

There's another Omaha law maker who's made headlines with his challenges of traffic tickets. Little Chabersky has taken his speeding tickets to the Nebraska Supreme Court - and he's made one case law on the accuracy and application of technical public use to gauge speeds.

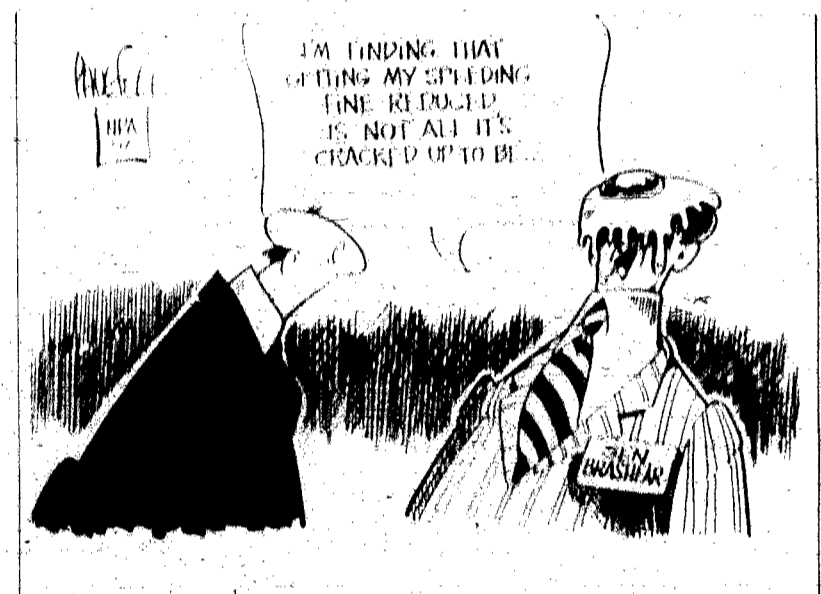

Chabersky's actions, though, play better with his constituency. He styles himself as a man of the people and a defender of the downtrodden and his constituents cheer him on when he takes on the establishment and wins. Sure, some people get ticked off by some of the things he does but they aren't the ones who vote for him.

Brashear, with his lawyer partner, does not come across as an underdog. He's knowledgeable, honorable and sleek. His sterling silver hair is always well-coiffed, his suits are always well-groomed, he speaks with precision and negotiates with skill. Some people in the press wondered why the former candidate for governor would ever consider running for the legislature. Surely there's more lucrative and powerful roles for Brashear to play elsewhere. But he's seemed to genuinely enjoy his service.

Brashear's strongest assets also can work as his worst liabilities if he doesn't carefully manage them. A challenge of a speeding ticket, no matter how well intentioned, can easily come across as arrogance if you're a man like Kenneth Brashear.

The views expressed in Capitol News are those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Nebraska Press Association.

and the students weren't crowded according to Dr. Jensen.

"The cost of their building in 1999 was $61 per square foot which is the first noticeable difference," Jensen said.

Nebraska City's project was $4.148 million at $61 per square foot. At that price, Wayne's 81,000 square foot project would have cost $4.94 million.

"It was a very educational trip for us," Jensen added. "One of the major differences was the size of the classrooms—800 square feet and they weren't crowded with the desks and cabinetry—far below the 1,200 square feet used commonly by architects using the Minnesota Model."

Jensen said the two company's, Dana Larson Roubal and Associates and RAMP have no picture in mind as to what our community needs—they would start forming ideas after meeting with people in the community.

"The drug abuse prevention committee approved Wayne Police Chief Lance Webster's request for a county wide coordinator of activities as a positive avenue against drugs and alcohol. The committee donated $2,000.

"Ed Riley, spokesperson for the LB1114 committee addressed the board with a status report from the committee.

LB1114 will set a bid limit on budgets at $1.10 for the 1998-99 and 1999-2000 school year and the bid will drop to a $1.00 for the 2000-2001 school year.

Riley told the board that it was his opinion that the committee is leaning toward opting out of LB1114 which takes a vote of the general public to get out of levy limits for five years.

"Senators Stan Schellpepper and Pat Engel were in Wayne during the past week at the invitation of Board member Sue Gilmore.

The purpose was to talk with them about legislation concerning sinking funds. The Board also talked with the senators about the school budget, recent surveys on facility needs and tours were given of the schools in Wayne.

Area schools sent survey on conditions at facilities

Seven area schools were sent a survey regarding condition of their facilities and the results were addressed at the Wayne School Board meeting, Monday night.

Allen, Wakefield, Pender, Walthill, Wintide, Wayne and Emerson-Rubham were included in the survey.

The average age of the elementary building is 59.13 years and the average age of the area high schools is 47 years.

In the last 10 years, a total of five bond issues were sent to voters and all five times the bond was defeated.

The total dollar figure of the five bond issues was $16 million. Three of the seven schools are planning another bond campaign in the near future including Wayne, Wakefield and Pender at a total dollar amount of $15.1 million.

The survey said the financial needs to repair or replace all current district educational facility needs was $27.7 million.

The reason this survey was done was to show the importance of sinking funds which is used for building improvements.

The total $27.7 million in facility needs should be 33 cents per hundred on a combined $833,111,700 of property wealth for the 2005 assessment.

Studies have shown that most bond issues surpassing 25 cents per hundred have a high risk factor of failing.

The question that arises from these figures seems to be if bond issues fail, what funding source do the schools have to rely on to maintain and attempt to improve their facilities?

Council

In other action, the council voted to amend the city's personnel policy in regard to temporary leave. The changes allow for bond flexibility to employees and the opportunity for each employee to petition for the use of additional sick days should it become necessary.

A bid of $131,129 from a bid of $161 was accepted for work on Spring Green Electric 27th Street Street from Road to Cooper Street. Work on the project will begin early next spring.

The council also set a public hearing for Oct. 20 at 7:15 p.m. for the purpose of discussing the federal grant assisted purchase of a complete street bus lane.

A council bid to allow for an exchange to amend the amount of the city utility deposits. A full year's deposit will be increased to $135. This includes water, gas and electric hookups.

Wayne girls qualify for state golf tourney

The Wayne girls golf team qualified for the State Golf Tournament with a third place showing at the District Tournament last Thursday at Central Hill in Columbus.

Dave Hix's team fired a 190 to place behind district champs, Columbus Scotus with a 175 and Columbus Lakeview with a 180. The 16-team district had Oakland Craig placing fourth with a 407 and Stanton fifth with a 423 while Pierce played sixth at 426 and Cedar Catholic seventh with a 436. Ponton was eighth at 443 followed in order by Central Hill, 449, Battle Creek, 457, Cedar Bluffs, 467, North Bend, 470, Allison, 486, Crofton, 508, Atkinson West Hill, 511 and Central City, 576.

Not only did the Blue Devils qualify as a team for the state tournament to be held at Indian Head Golf Course in Grand Island on Thursday and Friday but three of the five players qualified. Scotus' Sarah Pilon was district champion with an 80 while Carla King's fired an 89 to round up honors. Lakeview's Becky Carbers and Oakland Craig's Katherine Carlson tied for third with 94, while Hixley Doolittle of Wayne was fifth at 95. Lindsey Martin tied for sixth with a 97 but settled for seventh in the breaker. Kelly Stephan and Jenny Clomp of Scotus also fired 97's as did Lakeview's Hope Hudman while Stanton's Kylene Vogel and Wayne's Abbie Diederker tied for 10th with 98's with Diederker winning the tie breaker victory.

The top 10 individuals along with all ties also qualified for state but in this district, only two girls from teams that didn't qualify for state, earned berths in the annual championships.

"The girls and the weather were great," Hix said. "I had a good feeling about the day driving to Columbus as the girls were relaxed and forward. It was nice to have three earn medals and Tracy Holte also played very well shooting a 100 while Monica Novak carded a 105."

"Our net play both offensively and defensively was very good. Free Oswald was out with an injury and Annie Green and Elinor Akhremov stepped in and played very well. We switched Jess Simpson to the outside and she was very effective."

Laurel spikers fall to Elkhorn Valley

The Laurel Central volleyball team was defeated by Elkhorn Valley, Tuesday night in Laurel in straight games, 10-15, 4-15. "The team started off apprehensive and played well together," coach Pat O'Connell said. "Then Elkhorn Valley tied the score at eight and went on to win. Winside win streak ends at Ponca

The Winside Wildcats three game win streak was snapped last Friday in Ponca as the Indians came from behind to defeat Randy Carter's team, 14-10, leaving the Wildcats with a 4-2 record.

Winside built a 12-0 lead into the second stanza before Ponca responded. The Wildcats first score came on a five yard run by Ryan Krosinger with Krosinger starting to from 13 yards out early in the second quarter. Ponca came back to take a 14-12 lead on a pair of long runs of 57 and 42 yards by John McKinney and Robby Taylor but it was Winside who would lead 18-14 at the intermission after Aaron Hoffman hit Landon Gardner on a 13 yard scoring pass.

Ponca would score 20 second half points on a pair of one yard touchdowns by Adam McGill and a 15 yard punt to the endzone by Taylor.

"We need to show things up on defense and our point after two before we improve," Carter said. "Obviously, we need to cut down on penalties. Three different times we started out first and 15."

Carter said Ponca is a good football team that is also very physical. "We played real well at times but we had too many moments of breakdowns," Carter added. "We need to focus on beating Hixley this weekend which would allow us to draw in the conference title for the third time in the last four years."

Winside tallied 257 total yards led by Krosinger's 49 rushing yards while Taylor was held to 32 yards. Will Hefner hit return garbage Hoffman was 10-12 through the air for 140 yards. Prochaska led the Allen offense with 105 yards rushing on 17 carries while Sullivan gained 30 yards. The Eagles were held to 148 total yards. Defensively, they were led by St. Cath with 14 tackles and Tyler Schuster with 11. Allen suffered five turnovers.

"I thought our team showed poise and character by coming from behind like they did in the first two games," coach Sharon Vanis said. ALLEN - The Allen volleyball team dropped a 2-15, 15-11, 7-15 decision to Bancroft Royale, recently but coach Dennis Hingt said her team showed marked improvement.

"We played well," she said. "Our communication was great. Stacy Mattison had great net play and everyone had good passing. We came from behind in all three games and that's a big step for us. Jessie Beck recorded five service aces to lead the Eagles while Brad Stallbaum and Teroga Mack had two aces each. Brotha Bluhm had eight set assists with Mattison and Beck combining three-ace spikes each. Beck was the leading scorer with eight points. Mattison was the leader on defense with five digs and five blocks.

Wildcats fall to 0-6 as SW State comes from behind

The Wayne State football team looked as if they had victory with their sights in Marshall, Minnesota last Saturday as they took a 21-7 lead into the final quarter but it was the host Mustangs, that rallied, scoring 22 unanswered points in the fourth quarter to post a 29-21 victory, leaving WSC still in search of its first win in 1997 at 0-6.

"We played great for three quarters but we just didn't put the game away," WSC coach Kevin Haslam said. "We have to learn how to do that."

The Cats struck paydirt first in the contest as Dameron Porter caught a 13 yard pass from James Jones. The game was tied at seven after one quarter of play as Southwest State scored on a two yard run in the opening stanza by Steve Yakesh, the quarterback. WSC led 14-7 at the half after Fred Giraud dived in from five yards out early in the second quarter. Late in the third quarter the lead expanded to 14 at 21:7 when Jones took the honors himself from two yards out but the Mustangs scored three, fourth quarter touchdowns in the final 12 minutes.

The first came on a 33 yard pass play from Steve Yakesh to Eddie Williams which capped a 67 yard drive. The game was tied at 21 after a 20 yard scoring run with just under 10 minutes remaining in regulation by Yakesh. That score came after a Wildcat fumble at their own 34 yard line which left the host team with a short field to work with.

The Cats next possession ended in a three and out and the punt went just 19 yards which left Southwest State with "another short field to work with as they set up shop in WSC territory at the 42 yard line." Six plays later the host team took their first lead of the game on a five yard run by DeMario Walton.

"We got the ball back with 6-14 remaining but an eight play drive ended with an interception at the 'Cats own 45 yard line. Southwest State got the ball and faced a third down and 10 play from the 45 yard line when the quarterback kept the ball and rampled 11 yards to keep the clock moving. Four plays later the host team went for a fourth down and three play and converted which left the 'Cats with no chance of getting the ball back as the Mustangs killed the clock in the final three plays.

"We moved the ball pretty well all day but we stopped ourselves with mental breakdown," Haslam said. WSC out yarded the Mustangs, 114 258 and 159 yards. The Cats were very balanced with 141 yards on 44 plays and 167 yards through the air.

RJ Helmstetter rushed for 63 yards on 21 carries to lead the ground attack for WSC while Fred Giraud had 48 yards and Johnny Hawkins, 31. Jones was 13-31 with one interception and 182 yards. Porter caught eight balls for 90 yards and Shaun King had four receptions for 81 yards.

Defensively, WSC was led by Jesse Wavrunek with 11 tackles with Leo Gutierrez netting 10 tackles and Kirk Steffenon, eight. Jason Jarven notched the game's only quarterback sack for the Cats for a four yard loss and Rick Kilken notched an interception.

The 0-6 Wildcats will look to crack the win barrier on Saturday when they play the 3-3 Northern State Wolves in Aberdeen, S.D.

Blue Devils defeated by O'Neill

Wayne's rushing offense was limited to just 42 yards in their last Friday which led to a 13-13 setback for the Blue Devils and a 1-5 record on the season.

John Murtough's team was held far below their season rushing average per game and despite a solid passing game. Jason Klinton had 10 TDs for 100 yards and a touchdown, the balance was put there. O'Neill scored first on a 32 yard run but Wayne came right back as Joel Munson tossed a half back pass to Brad Maryott who rambled 77 yards in the end zone and with Josh Murtough's kick the game was tied at seven.

The host Eagles would eventually build a 21-7 lead on a 45 yard run and a 19 yard pass play before Maryott could hook up on a 47 yard pass play. The time from quarterback Kuller to drive the Blue Devils to within eight at 21:13 heading to the fourth quarter.

O'Neill scored twice in the final stanza on a 33 yard run and a 17 yard run for the final margin of victory. "They shut down our running game and that forced us to depend too heavily on the pass," Murtough said. "We played pretty well in the first and third quarter however. Two quarters of good football is not enough against a team the caliber of O'Neill."

The Wayne coach singled out the play of Brad Maryott, Eric Belli, Jesse Bethwech, John Klinton, Darin Jensen and Klinton Keller for their performance.

Wayne's leading rusher was Joel Munson with 73 yards on 18 carries while the sophomore back was also the top receiver with five catches for 40 yards while Maryott had four catches for 133 yards. The Blue Devils offense mustered 219 total yards but gave up 380 to the Eagles including 377 rushing yards.

Defensively, Wayne was led by Darin Jensen with 17 tackles while Jesse Bethwech and Wes Meyers had eight tackles each. The Blue Devils will return home to host Tekamah on Friday before closing out the season next Thursday night at home against Pierre.

Harvest bounty

Harvest is in full swing in the area, despite recent rainfall of more than one inch. Many producers welcomed Monday night's frost to help kill stems and weeds, especially in soybeans. Above, is Vern Lundahl and his son unload beans at Wayne Grain and Feed. Lundahl reported that the field being harvested averaged more than 40 bushels per acre.

Business skills are emphasized

Today's beef producer knows that a good understanding of the business side of beef production is an important factor in their success.

Making good management decisions is easier with good records and key information about the operation. Bankers and financial consultants can work much more effectively with producers who can provide them with good information about the history and present status of their operation.

Producers who want to learn more and improve their skills in record keeping and management skills can take advantage of a new home study course offered this fall by the University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension.

This new course is titled, Beef as a Business and covers good record keeping, personnel and family study, financial and production records, as well as business plans and record keeping systems.

Beef as a Business is the fourth in a series of home study courses that the Beef Producers' and Extension faculty have teamed up to develop this 10 lesson course that you can take in the comfort of your home and at a time convenient for you.

Weekly quizzes help participants interact with the course coordinator. Those who complete the course will receive a certificate from the University of Nebraska. Best of all, an increased understanding of management skills and record keeping can be a benefit to any operation.

For a brochure describing the Beef Producers' Extension course in detail or for more information, contact the Parent Extension Educator at the Wayne County Extension Office (402/375-3310) or you can call 1-800-657-2100.

Buying robe is challenge

Not having a good dress robe during her pregnancy. It's for a co-worker who had been recently divorced when she began working in our home health care agency four years ago.

Last year, the single group from her church had a rummage sale down the highway over Labor Day weekend. She talked us all into taking all the free or the cheap goods. She said it was an opportunity to meet someone new. And she did.

Of course, we're all excited and happy for her and we wanted to do something special for her. I volunteered to find it and to buy a group gift.

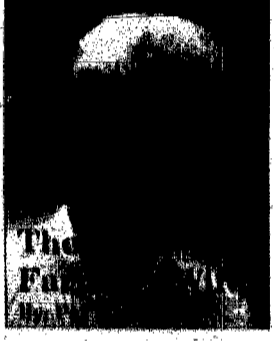

She said she didn't really want a pregnancy robe and she didn't want one that might appear to be a medical necessity. We're all needed was a nice robe.

Several years ago, when another group of us in the same area had a rummage sale, I found a beautiful green robe with the lightest green piping. It was perfect.

I thought they called for some thing else, and here, but she said she really would purchase any of the night gowns. I hadn't stopped for the green robe. It even looks a lot like being a nurse. And that's what she wanted.

I know there had been a bathroom night at Costco and I bought that first. The robe was a great fit. She was surprised to see me. Her husband called her $69.99, $150.00.

So I bought the robe and sent her to Oak View Mall. You have to walk

I really didn't care for really. I don't like to sleep. If I can't get it in Weeping Water or a catalog, I don't get it.

How I was spending group money on a personal item. The responsibility was terrible. I started at Dillard's racks and racks of sleepwear but nothing I had in mind. I walked way south to Tomberly. The same story.

By now I had lost all sense of direction. The directory said there was a Victoria's Secret. I set out to find it. Unfortunately, I checked out Sears. A clerk from Chicago tried to interest me in a plaid short, wrap around robe. In fact, all the robe robes were wrap around.

I tried again to find Victoria's and wandered into Penney's to start. This used to be my favorite store in Norfolk. I found it on sale, even a wrap and tie, but plaid, dark and opaque, rather than in fact. I whipped out my credit card and walked until I found my car.

At least I don't have to do it again until December. But even then, if I can find what I want in the catalog, let's hope.

Are You GUILTY?

Are you guilty of deflating our community economy, slowing street repairs, restricting education or eliminating your child's Little League teams? You are if you don't shop at home. The dollars you spend right here improve your community, not somebody else's. This theft from our community isn't intentional, but that doesn't remove the guilt. Money spent with home town merchants keeps bouncing around the community and eventually comes back to you.

Don't Plead Guilty to Big City Shopping Charges...

SHOP AT HOME... and Avoid the Guilt.
