Time for giving thanks

As Thanksgiving approaches, many area residents will be able to spend time with family and friends, enjoying the bounty around us. We pause to give thanks for our blessings we have received this year and prepare to enjoy the hectic holiday season ahead. The staff of the Wayne Herald extends a sincere wish for a Happy Thanksgiving!

November celebrates home care services

The nearly 17 years existence of Wayne and the surrounding area have had the services of Home Health Care available to them. In addition, for nearly two years, Providence Medical Center has been able to offer personal care services. The month of November has been set aside to honor the services provided by the two.

In the early years, Home Health Care was affiliated with Edfuram Community Hospital in Norfolk. It became a part of P&R Personal Care in 1981 when its facilities are stable and discharged from Home Health Care. Helped but still need help to manage made an average of 100-120 per month with a total of 130 cases being provided each month.

Presently, there are eight certified nurses, five registered nurses and two licensed practical nurses that staff both the Personal Care and Home Health Care agencies in Norfolk.

The P&R services were among the home care services in the area and include services such as vital signs and making general assessment of the patient.

When a patient has been a part of Personal Care for over an EPA supervised the first year following that, the patient is checked every 90 days.

If a problem arises, the patient can contact an EPA on call and Primary Caregiver (certified nurse or Personal Care).

Home care is the oldest form of health care, having been traditionally given at home throughout the centuries.

Due to modern technology, it is now becoming more available across the United States.

Home Health Care is a professional health service provided by the physician and provided in the home of the patient. Its purpose is to prevent illness or to improve and restore health by providing quality care to people in their homes.

Home Health Care is also available to all persons of all ages in Wayne and the surrounding area within a 30-mile radius of Wayne.

Services provided include Skilled Nursing, Speech Therapy, Physical Therapy, Occupational Therapy, Home Health Aide Services and Consultation Services.

During the past year, there were approximately 100 Home Health Aide visits per month, 200 skilled nursing visits, also, 200 PT, OT and X-ray visits made by the P&R staff.

Fees are based on actual cost. The Home Health Agency is fully certified by Medicare and Medicaid. Wayne Insurance also covers Home Health Services or patient can be billed directly.

For more information on either Personal Care Services or Home Health Care, Contact Providence Medical Center at (402) 775-1200.

Music Concert set for Dec. 2

The Wayne High School music department will present a Christmas Concert on Tuesday, Dec. 2 at 7:30 p.m.

The concert will be held in the Lecture Hall at Wayne High School and will feature the choir, jazz choir, varsity band and cello band.

There is no admission charge for the event and the public is invited to attend.

The show is under the direction of Kathryn Toy and the bands are directed by Brad Weiler.

Sidewalk improvement on city council agenda

A proposal to create a sidewalk improvement district in the north-west quadrant of Wayne was presented to the City Council at Tuesday's meeting.

The district would replace sidewalk along the west side of Main Street from Seventh Street to 14th Street from Main Street to Sherman Street on 10th Street and on 14th Street and several small areas in that area.

Several other areas of new sidewalk, including on Third Avenue and Emerald Drive and west of Claydon Road would also be included in the project, allowing property owners to be reimbursed for the work and pay for it over a period of five years.

A public information meeting will be held Tuesday, Jan. 11 to allow property owners the opportunity to raise any questions or concerns.

In other action, the took no action regarding the awarding of a contract on health and accident insurance.

Robert Mayle, a representative of Insurance Consultants, Inc., advised the council to table the matter to allow the insurance carriers the opportunity to look at the health status of city employes before presenting a bid.

Vern Schultz, Superintendent of Public Works presented the new removal and recycling operations policy revisions to the Council for its approval. Schultz also explained the provisions in a new law for applying sand and gravel to city streets and for snow removal.

Three ordinances were passed amending the city code.

Ordinance 97-74 added a section to the code to handle the use of municipal property for commercial purposes.

Ordinance 97-75 added the word "sidewalk" to the parking regulations, which makes the code in compliance with state statute.

Ordinance 97-76 eliminates all exemptions to the occupational tax charged by the telephone company.

daily living needs such as bathing, minor housekeeping and transportation.

"Personal Care enables patients to stay in their homes as long as possible and still receive the care they need and deserve," said Terri Hunter, Supervisor of Personal Care.

Personal Care services are available to all persons of all ages in Wayne and communities within a 30-mile radius of Wayne.

A person may be referred for Personal Care services by an interested person, friend, neighbor, patient, hospital, nursing home or agency. The cost of Personal Care services are billed to the patient directly.

Within the last year the Personal Care staff at PMC has

Phone petitions now in Lincoln

More than the required 650 signatures have been gathered in Wayne, allowing the petition requesting a change in long distance phone charges to be sent to Lincoln.

Bill Dickey, chairman of the committee that has been working to gather the signatures, said the signatures are now on their way to the Public Service Commission in Lincoln.

The Public Service has received approximately 650 signatures, a large number of northeast Nebraska, in about monthly and the process of collecting these signatures may take some time, Dickey said.

Five of the 10 petitions received the required number of signatures. The request to have toll-free service in Emerson was the only petition which did not receive enough signatures to be sent on for further consideration.

However, the petitions for Laurel, Wakefield, Winfield, Allen,

Laurel, Olson, Concord, Pender, Winier and Pilger did have more than enough signatures.

The contingencies of Carroll, Wakefield, Allen and Winfield have also completed petition drives and their cases are also being considered by the Public Service Commission.

After the signatures are validated, the matter will then go on to U.S. West Communications where a fee will be negotiated which would be added to the long phone rate.

Before the new rate becomes effective, phone customers will have the opportunity to vote on the matter.

A ballot will be mailed to all phone customers, although the exact procedure of voting has not yet been determined.

Dickey indicated that it could be early 1998 before an exact dollar amount is determined for the increase in phone service.

We give thanks

Here at Thanksgiving Nebraskans are reminded of the preamble and articles in the Constitution of the State of Nebraska.

The preamble: "We, the people, grateful to Almighty God for our freedom, do ordain and establish the following declaration of rights and frame of government, as the Constitution of the State of Nebraska."

Article I. All persons are by nature free and independent, and have certain inalienable rights, among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. To secure these rights, and the protection of property, governments are instituted among people, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.

That's dynamite! Compare our freedom to govern ourselves with the tyrannical dictatorships in other societies. Whether it be nation or state, freedom comes at a high price in human sacrifice. At this season of thanksgiving, we are indeed grateful to Almighty God.

Our state constitution also says: "All persons have a natural and inalienable right to worship Almighty God according to the dictates of their own consciences." And again "Religion, morality, and knowledge, however being essential to good government, it shall be the duty of the legislature to pass suitable laws to protect every religious denomination in the peaceable enjoyment of its own mode of public worship, and to encourage, by all the means of instruction."

The constitution is too lengthy to reproduce here, but one more sentence: "Every person may freely speak, write and publish on all subjects, being responsible for the abuse of that liberty. Yes, God, we are thankful Nebraskans!"

SWEEPSTAKES FRAUD Targets Elderly in Nebraska

Sweepstakes fraud continues to be a major problem, especially among the elderly in our state. We estimate that consumers are losing literally millions of dollars each year to sweepstakes and prize offers that promise everything from trips to new cars to diamond rings.

We suggest the best way for Nebraskans to fight sweepstakes fraud is to just toss it. To just toss all those "free gift" and "prize" publications in the trash.

If a "prize" is received at all, the product usually will be cheaply made and worth only a fraction of its cost. Finally, every day our offices are flooded with another Nebraskan who has fallen victim to one of those scams. Often the calls to our office come from adult children of an elderly parent.

A young mother and part-time school secretary worker recently sent $1,000 to a Las Vegas group that convinced her that her contribution would be used to help orphans all day. She had also received a VCR. The material she received consisted of a telephone book and pencils. Finally, the substantial information she was told she would be sent. The VCR worked for one week.

In another case, a school teacher in "Southwest Nebraska" contacted the Attorney General's Office for advice. Her father-in-law, over a 10- to 15-year period, had lost well over $100,000 to numerous sweepstakes scams.

This pain caused by Nebraska families by these sweepstakes fraud artists is very real. My hope is that you, the victim of these crimes, will be able to do more to protect people from being taken in by sweepstakes fraud.

We offer the following warning signs of sweepstakes scams:

- Requirements to pay "shipping and handling" fees as a "gift tax" to obtain the "prize"
- Requests for credit card or a bank account number as a "with reference to" "verify" your identity
- High pressure sales tactics to convince you the commission that the truly is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity
- Use of "over night mail" to ensure to get your check or money order to "spread up the pressure"
- Requests for money "up front" to claim the "prize" via a requirement by your bank to open a new "prize" account
- Being asked to send a large amount of money to pay "taxes" or "debility" charges
- Requests for your personal number - social security, credit card and bank account
- Being told to keep your own secret from your family

For more information or to file a complaint, contact the Office of Attorney General Don Stenberg, Consumer Protection Division, 2115 State Capitol Building, Lincoln, NE, 68509, or call our Consumer Protection line toll free in Nebraska, 1-800-272-6417.

Answering the big question

By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

You might call it the $27,000 question.

Why was Don Leutenberger, the departing policy secretary of the Health and Human Services System, worth $113,800 a year to the state while Deb Thomas, his female replacement, will be paid only $86,800 a year?

State Auditor John Breslow says the answer to that question is simple: Breslow, who just happens to be auditing the government in 1998, called Gov. Nelson on the carpet for the salary discrepancy in a letter earlier this month.

Gov. Nelson, who John Breslow just happened to audit, said the Auditor was trying to grab headlines by spreading off without knowing the facts. Nelson said there were good reasons for Leutenberger receiving more money than Ms. Thomas.

Gov. Nelson said he had not intended to pay Leutenberger the $113,800 salary, but the Auditor was trying to grab headlines by spreading off without knowing the facts. Nelson said there were good reasons for Leutenberger receiving more money than Ms. Thomas.

The foundation stipend in support of Leutenberger's participation in Nebraska's grand experiment, the national reorganization of health care, was a major factor in his salary.

Leutenberger's participation in Nebraska's grand experiment, the national reorganization of health care, was a major factor in his salary.

Leutenberger's participation in Nebraska's grand experiment, the national reorganization of health care, was a major factor in his salary.

Leutenberger's check, with the state seal the Casey Foundation, is a check from the University.

You can't blame Breslow for speaking up, though. Those two salary levels looked mighty peculiar when the announcement was made that Leutenberger was leaving and Ms. Thomas would replace him.

Breslow argues, with some justification, that Ms. Thomas' job will be as difficult as, if not more difficult than, Leutenberger's since she will have the challenge of implementing a plan that already has generated a lot of controversy for its proposals to change

Nebraska's mental health system, to draw community service organizations more closely into a service provision network and to eliminate some state workers.

Ms. Thomas, who served as director of social services during Kay Orr's administration and as director of the Regulation and License Department in the new system, is up to the task. In fact, some folks around the Capitol smiled at the thought of John Breslow charging to the rescue of Ms. Thomas, who is more than able to speak up for herself.

Breslow is a long-time friend who once employed Ms. Thomas in the Auditor's Office. He said he raised the salary issue without Ms. Thomas' knowledge or consent.

Ms. Thomas is widely recognized as a dynamic and determined person. There are those who say that if Nelson would have kept her on as Social Services director, as she'd wanted in the change of administration back in 1990, there might not have been the need for the impetus to reorganize Health and Human Services.

The views expressed in Capitol News are those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Nebraska Press Association.

It just ain't like it wuz!

The data indicates that the use of technology in education is increasing rapidly. This is a good thing, but it also means that we need to be prepared for the challenges that come with it.

Merlin Wright

Merlin Wright is a leading expert in the field of educational technology. He has spent the last 20 years of his career in the area of technology, helping colleges and universities adjust to the challenges of the 21st century.

A study based on a Commission on the Future of Education, the American Educational Association (AEA) and the National Education Policy Center (NEPC) indicates that the biggest challenge facing education is the need to prepare students for a world that is constantly changing and where the skills of the past are no longer sufficient.

Merlin Wright believes that the key to success in the 21st century is to embrace change and to be willing to learn from our mistakes. He has spent the last 20 years of his career in the area of technology, helping colleges and universities adjust to the challenges of the 21st century.

Stopping retail leakage

During the 1980's, many outside communities lost population due to the fact that the region's economy was based on manufacturing and the decline of many employment. However, retailing in rural areas was doing just as well as in the big cities.

WSC runner earns All-American status

WAYNE—Wayne State College's James McGown earned All-American status last Saturday at the NCAA Division II Cross-Country Championships in Kenosha, Wis.

McGown, a senior from Cairo, Neb., finished 28th with a time of 12:52.4 in icy, muddy conditions. The top 25 finishers earn All-American honors. However, for every foreign runner in the top 25, All-American status will be given to that number of American runners beginning with 26th place.

McGown's teammate, Mark Merritt, also from Cairo, enjoyed a strong showing as well, finishing 93rd in 14:25.4. McGown and Merritt were the only runners, male or female, from Nebraska schools at the national meet.

McGown becomes WSC's first ever NCAA Division II All-American in cross country, and the school's first cross-country All-American since A.D. Benton finished 14th at the 1966 NAIA National Championships.

Becoming an All-American was a two-year wait for McGown. He qualified for the 1995 national meet, but a knee injury suffered at the regional meet hampered his performance at nationals. He sat out the 1996 season in order to have a complete rehab year of both cross-country and track and field.

"This has been a goal of James' for three years to be an All-American," WSC coach Brian Kavanaugh said. "He really wanted it this year and he worked extremely hard to get to this point."

Kavanaugh said at the beginning of the year, Mark Merritt had an outside shot of getting to the national meet. "He worked very hard during the year and he ran a very smart race," Kavanaugh added.

Junior high cagers down West Point

WAYNE—The Wayne eighth grade boys basketball team defeated West Point in the season opener, 17-21 in West Point. Brad Hansen passed the winners with a dozen points while Brad Hochstein added 11 and Bret Parker, six. Jeff Piggitt and Nick Tipp each added four points for the winners.

The seventh grade boys also defeated West Point, 26-14. Eric Sturm led Wayne with six points followed by Nathan Walker, Ryan Schmetts and Jon Elsholtz with four each. Ric Volk, Mike Swersak, John Jensen and Mike Spahn also scored two apiece.

Wayne will host Bender on Monday at the City Auditorium at 4 p.m.

Junior high girls compete with Schuyler

WAYNE—Lincoln's seventh grade Wayne girls basketball team won a pair of games over Schuyler in season opening action last week. Wayne won the first game, 24-12 led by Amy Harder with 10 points and Alexa Dunkler with six. Erin Javel and Katie Straight added four each. Harder also pulled down a team-high nine rebounds with Ashleigh Anikpata grabbing seven assists.

Wayne won the second seventh grade game, 16-14, led by Amanda Munter with 10 points. Ashley Libberg, Erin Gray and Megan Sommerfield each had two points. Amber Nelson and Melissa Hixson each had four rebounds to share team honors.

Jill Niemann's eighth grade girls won a 22-16 decision in their first game as April. These paired the winners with eight points, while Kara Keller added six and Elizabeth Jumpy, four. Faith Brunker and Jill Meyer scored two each. There had seven rebounds to lead Wayne.

Wayne fell in the second eighth grade contest, 40-18. Jamie Sharer led Wayne with seven points with Kari Harder adding five. Kalle Fishkin, Lindsey Mollenberg and Alexa Hixson added two each. Christina Galtje a seven rebounds was team high while Harder had six.

Wildcats ranked 24th

WAYNE—The Wayne State College men's basketball team slipped three spots to 24th in the first NAAC/District II Bulletin Weekly Top 25 Poll, released this week.

The Cats, ranked 21st in the preseason poll, had a letter two weeks out of action. WSC opened the year with wins over USD and Monmouth before losing at South Dakota at the Quad City Classic. That loss snapped the Wildcat's 11 game win streak, dating back to last season. At State Bakerfield is ranked number one with Southern Indiana second and Valley, Idaho, third. Cats face South Dakota State which comes into the Auditorium on Friday. It currently ranked fifth in the country. Other Regional teams ranked in the top 25 include Northern State, 13th, Fort Hays State, 20th, South Dakota State, 21st, Pittsburg State, 22nd.

WSC spiker receives post-season honors

WAYNE—Wayne State College volleyball player Renae Fuhr was named to the U.S. Academic All-America Division VII Volleyball Second Team.

Fuhr, a junior outside hitter from Columbus, is a mathematics major with a 3.7 cumulative grade point average. This season Fuhr led the Wildcats in kills (17 per game), and digs (47 per game). She set the single season school record with 626 digs as well as the career record with 1226.

Fuhr, who started every match this season, was a two-time Nebraska Division II Volleyball Player of the Week. She was named to the all-tournament teams at the UACI Ladies Day Tournament and the South Dakota State Renae King Classic.

Andy Brash will be competing for the 2 Wild Events circuit crown this weekend in Columbus. The Wayne senior is being sponsored by Logan Valley Implement of Wayne.

Wayne senior competing for wild bull riding title

By Kevin Peterson of the Herald

There are many types of athletes roaming the halls of Wayne High School.

You have your football players, swimmers, basketball players, track stars and volleyball players.

Some Andy Brash is enjoying his senior athletic season as well but it is not from one of the above mentioned sports.

Andy puts in as many hours of preparation as any other athlete might think. Andy is a bull rider.

A friend of mine got me interested in the sport about a year ago and I love it," Brash said.

If you don't think jumping on the back of a bucking bull weighing between 1700 and 2000 pounds and trying to stay for eight seconds with out falling off takes athleticism, Brash will be the first to tell you that you're really mistaken.

I've been hooked, hooked on it and everything else in my sport seems as a bull rider," he added. "So far the worst thing that's happened is a broken pinky."

Brash was hurt on a farm near Wayne and currently works for West-Kenya in Egypt.

The competitor on the 2 Wild Events Bull Riding circuit which has competitions throughout the Midwest every weekend.

We travel around Nebraska, Colorado, Minnesota, and Iowa mostly," Brash School. "I've competed in about 30 different events.

since coming on to the team.

Brash and he works out at J. Wablen's ranch north and east of Wayne. Wablen is the owner and founder of 2 Wild Events.

This weekend in Columbus Brash will be competing in the 2 Wild Events Circuit Finals in which only seven riders qualified.

You have to compete in at least 75 percent of the events to be eligible to compete in the finals," Andy said.

The event that qualified will be competing for a $15,000 purse.

"This is a very precise and delicate sport," Andy added. "Even though the goal is to ride for eight seconds there really isn't any room for a mistake or you're done."

Andy's goal is to ride pro rodeo some day and he believes getting to that level will include college rodeo.

"I plan on attending a college that has a rodeo team," he added.

"I want to major in agri-business but my present emphasis is riding bulls."

Brash's sponsor for the Circuit Finals this weekend is Logan Valley Implement of Wayne.

He is the son of Keith and Ingeborg Brash.

Wildcats 13-game win streak snapped by USD at Quad City Classic

By Kevin Peterson of the Herald

The Wayne State men's basketball team had their 13-game win streak snapped by the University of South Dakota at the Quad City Classic over the weekend in Vermillion, S.D.

Greg McFarmer's team opened up play at the Dakota Forum with a 72-68 come from behind victory over North Central Conference foe Monmouth on Friday night.

Wayne's 24.6% rebound to USD left WSC with a 2-1 season mark and brought an end to the Cats' season-opening run of games against the South Central Conference.

WSC fell behind the Chiefs of Monmouth, 17-26 at the half and the Cats actually trailed by 12 points with just under 14 minutes left in regulation before they went on a rampage, outscoring

Monmouth's squad by 18 points over the final 13-plus minutes to post the 72-68 win.

"We called a timeout when Monmouth went up by 17 and our guys seized the opportunity to get it going right into this game and it was the best," McFarmer said. "They responded real well as we increased our intensity on defense and took care of the ball on offense."

Junior point guard Tyler Johnson sank a pair of free throws with 23 seconds left to give WSC a four-point lead and it stayed that way.

Blindfolded junior four along with the bulk of center Eric Christensen, who contributed greatly to the come from behind victory.

Jason and Eric really stepped it up for us," McFarmer added. "Our full court pressure and depth paid off for us."

Mac also credited the defensive play of Brad Jones who was tagged with Monmouth's profile versus Durrelle Patton.

Patton came into the game over scoring 15 points per game and dipped off 14 against the Cats in the opening half but began limited Patton to just four second half points.

"We hit our free throws down the stretch and we continually believed in ourselves," McFarmer said.

Johnson paced the offense with 17 points with Eric knocking down 15 and Christensen a career high 11. Patton's 10 was also in line.

Patton scored with 10 and Craig Phillips called time.

WSC was out outscored by a 17-14 margin with Henderson netting seven points to lead WSC while Eric and Dulliver had five each.

Wayne State receiver picked for Snow Bowl

Wayne State College wide receiver Stan King has been selected to play in the 1998 Snow Bowl on Jan. 10 at the FargoDome in Fargo, N.D.

King, a senior from San Diego, will play for the West squad. In nine games played this season, King led Wayne State in receiver with 72 receptions for 1166 yards and nine touchdowns. His 1166 receiving yards is the second-highest single-season total in WSC history, as was his nine touchdown receptions.

King established a school record with 274 receiving yards against Moorhead State on Sept. 20th. He also tied a school record with three touchdown receptions against Nebraska-Kearney on Oct. 25th. On both occasions he was named the Nebraska Division II Player of the Week.

King is the third Wayne State player to participate in the Snow Bowl, an all-star game for Division II players. Kevin Swayze took part in last year's game while Damon Thomas played in the 1994 contest.

Wildcats

The Cats were 12-18 from the charity stripe and they hit 28-of-38 shot attempts from the floor.

SATURDAY AGAINST the host Coyotes of USD the Wildcats came out on fire, building a 12-point lead.

The Cats settled for a 41.12 half-time cushion but USD came out with a different tune in the second half.

A 14-4 run by the Coyotes in the first five minutes of the half set the stage and tone for the rest of the game.

USD would lead by 10, 68-58 with 1:17 left in regulation and the Cats final rally fell five points short. It was a tale of two halves for WSC. After hitting 60 percent of its shots from the floor in the opening half, the Cats were just 9-32 in the second half for 28 percent.

"The first half was the best basketball we've played this season to date," McDermott said. "For some reason we're just not coming out of the locker room after half ready to play."

McDermott said USD's match-up game is very difficult to play against, especially those. But Coyotes' first game was on Friday when they defeated Minnesota-Morris by 17 points, 87-70.

"That's a tough team to play at their home," McDermott added. "They've only lost 18 or 19 times in the past 10 years at the Dottie under Dave Bruts."

WSC was led in scoring by Nathan Muller with 15 and Jason Diaz with 12 while Craig Phillip added nine. Tyler Johnson and Jon Holliver each tallied eight.

WSC was out rebounded 17-10.

with Diaz, Phillip and Henderson notching four each.

The Cats will host unbeaten Northwest Missouri State on Saturday (4-0) before hosting the number six-ranked team in America in Division II, South Dakota State on Tuesday.

"We're going to need everyone's support for these contests," McDermott said. "We hope to fill the stands as we seek to build on our 23 game home win streak."

WSC's gals struggle in road games

The Wayne State women's basketball team fell to 1-4 on the season following a pair of losses over the weekend.

Jeff Goldstein's team was defeated at Wisconsin Parkside last Friday, 60-52 in Kaukauna, Wis.

The Wildcats trailed 26-18 at the intermission before playing the host team to a 34-all tie in the second half.

Megan Murphy paced the Wildcats with 15 points while Stefanie Spits scored 17 and Tim Houtigan eight.

WSC won the battle of the stretch 41-40 as Spits nailed down a team-high eight corners while Murphy had six.

"We were in the game down the stretch," Goldstein said. "We failed by six points and had possession of the ball but we made a lazy pass which was stolen and on the ensuing defensive pursuit we fouled the shooter and she converted a three-point play."

The Wildcats' mentor said he doesn't have a problem with his team committing turnovers if they are aggressive turnovers.

The turnovers (10) hardly are the careless ones and at not putting the ball away passed and not coming to meet the ball.

The Wildcats suffered 25 turnovers in the contest while facing 20 Murphy-led WSC girls foul shots while Spits shot out a team-high three shots.

SATURDAY WSC was defeated by Lewis University of Rome, Ill., 54-31.

The telling stat of this game was Goals, 57 - WSC, 0.

That's how many free throws each team attempted for the entire 40 minute contest.

The out sign that's ever happened to a Wayne State team," Goldstein said. "I've certainly never seen it before where a team doesn't shoot a single free throw. That just shouldn't happen."

Goldstein said what's even more disturbing is the fact one of the officials had called the Cats game the night before against Parkside.

"I'm not going to get the free throw situation as an excuse," Goldstein said. "The bottom line is we just aren't putting the ball in the hoop."

WSC trailed Lewis 10-0 at the half and the Cats got just six of 24 field goal attempts in the second half, winning just 15 points.

Jonny Thompson led WSC with seven points while Megan Murphy and Ami Penley scored six each.

The Cats were out rebounded by a 41-15 margin with Murphy leading rebound with 11 points.

WSC will play at Simpson College in Indianola, Iowa on Wednesday night before hosting Northwood University on Saturday at 5:30 p.m.

Goldstein's crew will host DePaul on Wednesday at 7 p.m.

Wayne State offers scholarships to walk-ons

WAYNE State walk-ons for the Wayne State College football team will receive scholarships for the 1998 season, head coach Kevin Haslam announced.

The players include linebacker Nate Herbst (Cuba, Iowa), wide receiver Jonny Thonker (Pangley, Iowa) wide receiver Tim Peterson (Fort Collins), defensive lineman Jason Shultz (Verdugo), defensive back Eric Smith (Cuba, Iowa) and defensive back Kirk Steffenius (Ireland).

Herbst, Peterson, Shultz and Steffenius will be sophomore walk-ons while Herbst and Smith will be freshman freshmen. According to Haslam, it is important to reward walk-ons who make significant contributions to the program, both on and off the field.

"We want to develop our four-year players," Haslam said. "They are bringing stability to our program. We get guys who come in here and make a big sacrifice for a year, and you want to take care of them. One of those players performs both academically and athletically. They will be rewarded in the fall with scholarships."

Wheeler receives highest honor of Girl Scouting

Leslie Wheeler of Aurora, granddaughter of Ruth Reed of Wayne, received Girl Scouting's highest honor, the Gold Award during a ceremony and reception held Nov. 2 in Aurora.

Leslie Wheeler

She and fellow troop member Rachel Tomasek were honored for their work in compiling information about Hamilton County cemeteries, which the two have worked on for several years.

The girls organized family and friends to help clean up the cemeteries by pulling weeds, filling in holes, fixing fences and mowing.

The girls also compiled a research directory to assist people who come to Aurora to research their ancestry. Copies of this directory have been given to Plainsman Museum, Hamilton County Historical Society, Alice M. Fair Library, Higby Mortuary and the Hamilton Court House.

Leslie's parents are Dewey and Nancy Wheeler. Those attending the ceremony from this area were Ruth Reed and Richard and Nancy Reed of Winona.

The turkey is probably not thankful

With Thanksgiving upon us, many will pause to give thanks for family, health, friends and jobs. However, the turkey may not be as thankful.
 Students in Mrs. Sue Olsen's third and fourth grade at Carroll Elementary School composed stories dealing with turkeys facing the dilemma of becoming the main course of the Thanksgiving meal.

The Thanksgiving Turkey by Kaurinsky Schmale, third grade
 Once there was a turkey named Turkietta Shalet Barvstine and his friend Henrietta the hen. They lived on a ranch in West, Nebraska. Everybody on the farm called them T and H.
 One day the T and H friends overheard Tomasetta the farmer and his wife, Lucretia say that they wanted either Turkietta or Henrietta to be the main course of the big Thanksgiving feast. But there was one little problem. They could not decide which one they would use. One week later Turkietta decided they would use Turkietta. Turkietta heard them say that.
 The next week Mr. Barvstine went out to get Turkietta. But Mr. Barvstine could not catch Turkietta. Turkietta ran all over the farm. One month later, Mr. Barvstine decided he would just buy a turkey.

The too many problemed turkey by Job Dunkleu, fourth grade
 Once upon a time there lived a turkey named Turkienska. He lived in Turkey. One day he was walking through the forest and suddenly gunfire came out of nowhere. Turkienska didn't know what to do. So he ran inside of a hollow log. The hunters surrounded him. All of a sudden a cop came and asked to see a hunting license.
 Turkienska had a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to escape if Turkienska got away but before he knew it, gunfire after gunfire. The hunters were back.
 "Don't run," cried Turkienska. "There is no where to hide." Just then the hunters ran out of but he ran to his house. "Oh no," he said. "I had driven over his house that made Turkienska mad and sad. He had two problems, a bulldozer had taken over his house. Hunters wanted him to be the Thanksgiving feast.
 "I need some time to think of a plan." Just then he saw an old shark. "I'll think of a plan to get a new being and chase off the hunters." He will hitch hike to America. He ran in front of the bulldozer and said "You hunters can't catch me but I am a smart turkey named Turkienska."
 The hunters were so terrified they dropped their guns and ran to their pickup and drove off. After that position, Turkienska found a nice farm and rode all the way to America and he was famous for talking.

His Name was Gordie by Matthew Davis, third grade
 He lived on a farm and it was Ken's farm. Gordie lived with his family. Gordie had three sisters and five brothers. His mother's name was Louisa and his father's name is Fred.
 One year Gordie was taking a walk. When he returned his family was gone. Gordie had to go to Mr. Hunt. "Have you seen my family?"
 "No," said Mr. Hunt. Gordie was crying.
 Then he asked Mr. Pig "Have you seen my family?"
 "No," said Mr. Pig. "He said 'Why don't you look in the barn?'"
 Gordie saw his mother, father and his three sisters and five brothers. Gordie was happy. Then the owner gave them their food.

The Thanksgiving Turkey by Heather Brandt, fourth grade
 Once upon a time there was a girl turkey named Mrs. Turkietta. Mrs. Turkietta was from the Wilson's Ranch in Montana.
 She was big and fat. She was married to Frank. A dog chased after her but she always got away. She had five kids. There was three girls and two boys.
 She got eaten by the family for Thanksgiving.

The first Thanksgiving by Emily Kuester, third grade
 Once upon a time a turkey named Tangle Wangle. Turkey lived in the forest with the other turkeys. He only had one problem. He got tangled up in everything.
 He was thankful for his beautiful feathers. The feathers were light red, blue, green, yellow and the prettiest purple you ever saw. But Thanksgiving was coming and that meant "hunters".
 That month he would ask Mom that Mom was gone. He hoped that Mom said he was big enough to take care of himself. He didn't want to go to his brother because he thought they would call him a baby.
 So he went to his favorite tree to think. He thought for two whole hours. And then he got an idea. It was to camouflage but he didn't know what that his beautiful feathers didn't camouflage. So when the hunters came, he camouflaged.
 But the hunters saw him. They wanted his beautiful feathers. Well, he was relieved when the hunting season was over. He was happy.
 So next summer he was on his way to Larry Twisty Town. When he stepped in that town he got all tangled and tangled everyday. Everyday at 12 o'clock every turkey laughed at him.
 Then he went to Larry Twisty Town's turkey table. He didn't help. He laughed. Then he knew how to solve his problem. He started the first Thanksgiving.
 He had a big feast. He invited everyone in Larry Twisty Town.

Saving the Turkey by Frank Hetti, fourth grade
 Once upon a time there was a turkey. His name was Ted. He lived on the Hetti's farm. Ted was afraid of the cat. He never got laid. He just cleaned up the corn around the place.
 "I got some corn out but he didn't come to eat. The dog or four Thanksgiving he got laid. I made a cage for him so he wouldn't get shot."
 The family wanted to kill Ted but I refused. I told them "No".
 He gets to stay another year.

Don't Eat the Turkey by Elizabeth Baler, third grade
 Once there was a turkey named Feather. Feather lived in the woods. Then one day two little girls found Feather. Their names were Ashley and Aubrey.
 They took Feather to their house. They dressed him up all day. When it was time to eat, they hid him in the attic. His worst day of Monday. Then they had to go to school.
 When they were gone, the cat saw the footprint of the turkey. Their little sister Morgan found him and he Feather out of the attic. Then he ran into the woods. When the cat saw that he got his gun and shot Feather.
 On Thanksgiving, the girls would not eat their turkey. He got Ashley, Aubrey and their little sister to catch a baby turkey of their own, and they named them the best.

The Thanksgiving Turkey by Katelyn Hurlbert, third grade
 Once there was a turkey named Mr. Ted. He lives at Mr. Jones farm. He was a wild turkey.
 The farmer thought he should kill the turkey but the turkey was too wild. The farmer shot but killed himself. Finally the farmer killed the turkey.
 Ted E. Bear
 By Paris Bethune, fourth grade
 Once there lived a turkey named Ted E. Bear. He lived in the country of Turkey. The problem was that Ted E. Bear was going to get married on Thanksgiving.
 But on the day before Thanksgiving, there were going to get hunting for him. Then finally the hunters came out with their guns and saw Ted E. Bear.
 They shot and hit him in the leg. When the hunters came Ted E. Bear acted like he was dead so the hunters couldn't get him.
 Then finally he came out after a week and he was pale. Even though he was pale he got married. He got the girl he wanted.

The Thanksgiving Turkey by Jared Bethune
 Once upon a time there was a turkey named Alfred. He lived on a farm named Smith Farm. He lived where he lived, but one day he heard David Smith talking to his friend man Chet about who should be the Thanksgiving turkey.
 They said "I think Alfred would be just great!"
 The next few days Alfred hid in the barn. The next morning Alfred went out to eat his food, but he got him and took him to the butcher man. He chopped his head off and skinned him. On Thanksgiving they ate him and he was good.

The Turkey Turkietta by Stephanie Owens, third grade
 We were going home the day before Thanksgiving. We saw a hot turkey on the side of the road. We picked the small turkey up.
 The hot turkey said "We took her home." We named her Turkienska. We took her to the vet. He said she was going to have a baby.
 I was so happy I got a great name and I gave her a hat and some food and water. She said to feed. The next day was Thanksgiving. I had a dinner. She had 14 babies and they are all good.
 I am looking at my beautiful family. My Dad wanted to eat the turkey. He said "I don't want to eat my baby's mother."
 Turkienska didn't want to eat either. So they kept the turkey.

The Thanksgiving turkey of Swamp Turkey Ranch by Cory Stoltenberg, fourth grade
 One day a hunter came to Swamp Turkey Ranch and asked Johnny if he could hunt for turkeys. A turkey named Johnny heard them talking and ran back to the pen and told the rest. They all ran out of the pen and into the garden and started to dig flowers.
 The hunter walked through the garden and stepped on a turkey. Johnny ran up and hid him. He got his gun and shot at Johnny and missed. Johnny's friend Ray ran out and got shot. The hunter and Johnny hid in the garden.
 They hid him for Thanksgiving.

The Fine Live Turkey by Sam Wilson, third grade
 Once upon a time there was a turkey named Alfred. He lived in the country. One day a farmer was walking along the country road.
 He spotted the turkey. He took the turkey to his farm and put him in a pen. A spider sat down and said "Why are you sad?" I am sad because they are going to eat me."
 The turkey thought of a plan. "I will make a web and let off" in the morning the web said "A special Turkey."
 When the farmer came to the pen, he saw the web and he let the turkey go. The turkey went to thank the spider and gave the spider a feather. Then the turkey set off back to the country.
 Then he got shot with a gun and people say he was a special. But he wasn't. He is still alive.

Mr. Gobbie and the Gobbie Family by Steven Schmitt, third grade
 Mr. Gobbie lived in Turkey Town where hundreds of turkeys live.
 Mr. Gobbie and Mrs. Gobbie have three children named Ted, Fred and Turkietta. One day Ted can all Mrs. and Mrs. Gobbie, looked and looked and looked for him.
 Finally they found him.

Handship for Handship by David Lorey, fourth grade
 Once upon a time there was a turkey named Handship. The family had been through a handship when he was born so that when he got his name.
 Handship had been a middle child when he was born. Another "turkey" family had adopted him. They lived in an old abandoned church. He had three sisters and two brothers. But one day a large family of it was going to see they didn't see each other and a meal.
 One day the ground shook. Handship's job of his parents' work. They said "In the place. A bulldozer came crashing past them. A sign was being put up. It said "Turkey Handship. Handship's family was... He came to a stop where he was not out a pinhead. The bulldozer was heading toward the church. He landed in a hole.
 There was a flash as the bulldozer ran into the church. Handship's sister flying out. He flew up to him. He told him he was the only one to escape. They found out the day had a bulldozer and they were not safe. They were out of it.
 That night it rained. He thought as he fell asleep. He got very... thing."

The Thanksgiving Turkey by Kelyn Roberts, third grade
 Once upon a time there was a turkey. His name was Buzz. He used to turkey hunt. A cat saw him and he got chased by the cat. The cat got too tired and gave up. One day a hunter tried to shoot him but he was too fast for him.
 Then he went to a pond. Then a cat was out and then a kid saw him and took him home with him. He kept him. Then his mom and dad saw the turkey and told him to take the turkey out. He made a little house for him.

The Thanksgiving Turkey by Jared Bethune

People are concerned with their drinking water quality

Many people are concerned about the quality of their drinking water. As a result, there are many water treatment devices on the market. You must know what the quality of your water supply is before you can choose the right water treatment device. Public water supply systems are monitored and should not require home treatment. Private water systems should be tested to determine the types of contaminants present in any contact the treatment office for bottles to test your water.

Distillation units heat water until it vaporizes as steam. Contaminants are left behind when the steam recondenses in another chamber as relatively pure water. Only those contaminants with a boiling point lower than that of water may be carried along and recondensed with the water. Distillation is a slow process and produces less than five gallons per day. Approximately five gallons of tap water are used to produce one gallon of distilled water. Distillers are relatively expensive and require frequent maintenance.

Activated carbon filters absorb impurities in the water through the filter. They are effective against taste, odor, organic compounds and chemical contaminants. They are not effective against bacteria, viruses and other microorganisms. They are not effective against lead, copper, iron, manganese, and hydrogen sulfide. They are not effective against fluoride, nitrate, and nitrite. They are not effective against radon, asbestos, and other suspended solids. They are not effective against heavy metals, pesticides, herbicides, and insecticides. They are not effective against pharmaceuticals, hormones, and other endocrine disruptors. They are not effective against microplastics and other emerging contaminants.

Reverse osmosis is a water purification process that uses a semi-permeable membrane to remove ions, molecules, and larger particles from drinking water. The membrane allows water to pass through it, but blocks most other substances, such as dissolved salts, calcium, and magnesium. Reverse osmosis is effective against a wide range of contaminants, including heavy metals, pesticides, herbicides, and insecticides. It is also effective against microplastics and other emerging contaminants. However, reverse osmosis is a slow process and produces less than five gallons per day. It is also relatively expensive and requires frequent maintenance.

For exchange (water softener) systems soften hard water by removing the minerals causing hardness. These minerals interfere with the cleaning action of soaps and detergents and cause scale buildup in hot water pipes, water heaters, and fixtures. Hard water is pumped through an exchange tank and sodium replaces the hardness minerals on the exchange resin. To function properly, the resin tank must be periodically flushed or regenerated with sodium chloride (salt). Failure to flush the resin tank could cause the use of a water softener with their physician. Remember, the only way to know what type of treatment device to use is to know the condition of your water.

NEW BUSINESS

Larone and Donna Johnson opened a welding and light manufacturing business on main street in Wakefield. The name of the new business is Johnson Welding. It is located in the former D. E. Otte Construction building at 219 Main Street.

In addition to welding repair work, the Johnsons will be custom building trailers designed to their customer's specific needs. Johnson Welding was opened for business on Nov. 17.

Lorence has been working at Nucor Steel in Norfolk for the past 18 years. Lorence has worked for the Day Care in Wakefield and this past summer at the Logan Valley Golf Course.

Although he will be holding in Wakefield, Demos Otte continues to offer digger, excavator and dump truck services.

HEALTH CARE AUXILIARY

The Wakefield Health Care Auxiliary met on Nov. 5. The records of the year's activities and financial report for 1997 were announced.

President, Sue Nelson said that approximately $3,500 was raised with more donations still coming. This was one of the best fund raisers the Auxiliary has held through the years.

A thank you was extended to all the members for their efforts and to the public for their generous donations and attendance. It was also announced that 183 guests were served.

Teri Sampson was the winner of the Wakefield Health Care Center power size applied quilt. Other drawing winners were Carol Baird and Betty Henchke. Quilts were made by Salem quilters, Edna Gustafson, gift certificate from the Fair Store, Luke Hillman, sweatshirt donated by Allied Business Uniform, Santa candy jar donated by Eleanor Park family.

Jan Schul, baby quilt made by Gladys Park, and Ruth Boerskenhauer, quilted wall hanging from The Quilt Shop.

A discussion was held on how to use the money raised this year and the money remaining from last year. A general vote designated $250 to the Wakefield

Health Care Center activity fund; $350 to the Wayne Area Hospice; $750 to replace the speaker system in the west lobby at the Center; and $6,250 will be placed in an open account at Nebraska State Bank in Wakefield to start a fund for a new van for the Care Center.

Election of officers was announced with Betty Brasser and Lois Berni continuing their current positions of secretary and treasurer, respectively for another two years.

Six new members joined the auxiliary. They are: Janelle Eaton, Barb Stanton, Angie Blatter, Sue Bartholmer, Beverly Kai and Cindy Miller.

Lucretia was served by Auntie Utecht, Mary Alice Utecht and Gene Walters.

The next meeting will be the first Wednesday in February at 2 p.m. Anyone wishing to join the Wakefield Health Care Center Auxiliary is invited to attend.

DONATED BLOOD

Twenty-five employees of the M.G. Waldhaug Co. in Wakefield volunteered to donate blood on Oct. 20. Twenty-five pints were collected.

Kim Barge and Gary Tullberg became two gallon donors and Terry Kallong is a gallon donor.

CONTEST WINNER

Wakefield has a winner in the Nebraska Municipal Power and Calendar Contest for the second year in a row. NMPP Energy recently selected 24 products from nearly 1,300 received as winners in the eighth annual calendar contest.

Bonnie Klotz was selected as one of the 12 second place winners for her efforts. Bonnie received a $10 certificate and four 1998 NMPP calendars with her drawing about energy on the front cover.

Mayor Lefty Olson presented Bonnie with an "I Love Wakefield" button and a Wakefield sweatshirt.

Janna Erickson was selected as a second place winner a year ago. Ashley Bowman of Emerson, Hubbard Elementary School was a first place winner this year. Her drawing will be featured on the calendar.

The contest is held every year during October in honor of Public Power and Natural Gas Week. It is open to fifth grade students in NMPP Energy communities. The 12 winning posters, based on the theme, "Energy is..." will be featured in the company's 1998 calendar.

Students are asked to create a picture showing what energy means to them and why it is important in their everyday lives. The 12 second place winners' drawing will be placed on the cover of the calendar.

NMPP Energy works in partnership with local utilities of more than 110 member communities in 10 states to provide electricity, natural gas and technical services.

TRUMPET MASTERCLASS

Seven Wakefield Band students recently participated in a Trumpet Masterclass. The purpose of the class was to teach the students the finer techniques of playing a trumpet, more about the instrument and its care.

The class was conducted at the Wakefield School by Dave Kolbert, new trumpet professor at Wayne State College.

High school students participating were Kristi Gustafson, Lacey Brown, Traci Luth, Jennifer Victor, and Jessica Sharpnick. Junior high students participating were Kayla Lynn, Ross Harrison, Ryan Carson, Daniel Simpson, Tabi Barge and Nick Miller.

Wakefield music instructor, Dan Keast, said the class gave the students an opportunity to learn more about the instrument they chose to play and gave them renewed enthusiasm along with the additional knowledge and skills.

VISIT FIREHALL

Two groups from the Little Stars Pre-School in Wakefield visited the firehall in October. They learned about fire prevention and equipment the firefighters use.

The Chief Dean Ulrich visited with students and gave them a tour of the firehall. He also explained how some of the equipment is used.

Those visiting the firehall were Allison Lulu, Amanda Swale, Audin Hollman, Brock Volckung, Brendan Nicholson, Ken Lutz, Amanda Lulu, Michael Eaton, Kristina Cedelland, Daniel Miller, Casey Crickshaw, Hannah Faxon, McKenna Hancock, Jordan Riggerstaff, Henry Groves, Paige Ellis, Katie Hoskins and Darcy VanderVeen.

Amy Swale is the director of the Little Stars Pre-School.

ACCEPTS POSITION

Kristi Lente of Wakefield has accepted a position with KCH Radio in Wayne as part of the station's sales staff. Ms. Lente previously was employed by the Wakefield School.

Kristi is a Wakefield High School graduate and received a degree in broadcasting from Northstar Community College in Norfolk.

The War On Obesity Must Continue

Two popular prescription weight loss medicines were withdrawn from the U.S. market last month (fenfluramine and desfenfluramine). These medicines made up half of the "phenfen" combination which also included phentermine.

Commenting on the voluntary withdrawal of these drugs by the manufacturers, former U.S. Surgeon General C. Everett Koop said, "It is especially important that physicians reach out to their obese patients at this time, understanding that the drug has not been chosen for help or hope."

Healthy Weight, Healthy Living provides helpful weight loss information for the layman. The publication may be downloaded from web site www.shapeup.org or send $3.00 to Shape Up America! Suite 306, 6707 Democracy Blvd., Bethesda, MD 20817-1129.

Thanksgiving is here Pondering our blessings

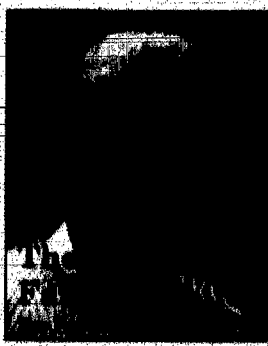

It's never difficult for me to list the things I'm grateful for. Good health tops the list and I never take it for granted.

When Thanksgiving rolls around, folks take time to write these down. Once a year is not nearly often enough. But I believe we need to encourage the pause, the four-day weekend, to breathe deep before the December mad, mad begins. Actually, I did see a Christmas tree already up this week. I'd like to make that illegal.

The grief group I've been meeting with watched a video about getting through the holidays. One bereaved person is quoted as: "It's still just one day. We shouldn't begin worrying about it three or four months in advance."

Others commented they were surprised that Christmas didn't turn out to be the hardest. Instead, it was Thanksgiving or Mother's Day.

Caref groups are offered by our hospice program four times a year bi-monthly as needed in the rural areas. This one just at the local nursing home and consisted of a woman who had lost her father, one who had lost her mother and ... who have lost husbands. I come home from it every week being thankful for my husband and my Mom, especially during the holidays.

For the last session the parties were to bring symbols of their loved ones lives, pictures, etc. anything that would tell us about them.

One brought two petals from the wheat spray, now in a pot plant jar. Another, a toy bear for because her man restored old International tractors. A third, a touching letter written to his family, asking them to "keep the faith" so he would see them again.

The oldest member of the group brought an album assembled by her family for their golden anniversary celebration, which took place just weeks before he died. Each child and grandchild wrote a letter of remembrance, plus, extended family and friends were invited to do the same. It was wonderful.

What struck me about it was that her husband got to enjoy it, too. Instead of eulogies at a funeral, he could read all their love and appreciation while he was still alive.

This year, as you ponder your blessing, especially the people who are special to you, take an extra 10 minutes to write and tell them. Don't call or e-mail, write an old-fashioned letter, in long hand, on no computer and tell them why they are important to you. Send it in a nice envelope so they can keep it and refer to it. Hopefully, you will receive appreciation, too.

Happy Thanksgiving and God Bless.

Emergency loans are being made available to farmers

Farm Service Agency (FSA) Wayne County Office announced that family farmers in Dixon County suffered physical loss caused by excessive rain, flash flooding, hail, high winds and for which may be eligible for FSA Emergency (EM) loans. These counties and related disaster dates are:

Dixon, Dade and high which that occurred on Sept. 9, 1997.

In addition, the following contiguous counties also have an eligible because they are contiguous to one or more of the designated counties. The counties and related disaster dates are:

Hall and high which that occurred on Sept. 9, 1997.

Cedar, Thurston, Wayne, Dakota.

The current interest rate for the EM loans is 2.75 percent.

Family farmers interested in finding out if they are eligible should contact either Debra Pepper, County Executive Director, or Mark Kover, Agricultural Manager, for information. They can be reached on Monday through Friday between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. at the Wayne Farm Service Agency at (402) 375-2451, ext. 201.

Emergency loan applications will be received through the local FSA County Office from any applicant who qualifies for a physical loss in Cedar, Dakota, Dixon, Thurston and Wayne Counties. To qualify for an EM loan, an applicant must be an established family farm operator, provide evidence of having suffered a qualifying physical loss, be unable to obtain credit from a source other than FSA. The damaged or destroyed physical property must be essential to the successful operation of the farm to qualify for an EM loan. FSA loans covering actual physical losses may be used to repair equipment, livestock or buildings (including homes) lost through this disaster.

The deadline for submitting applications is July 7, 1998. Applicants for all FSA programs will be given equal consideration without regard to race, color, sex, creed, marital status or national origin.

TO: Wayne Municipal Electric Department, Employees and Customers.

SUBJECT: Thanks for the help.

On behalf of the citizens of Lincoln and the employees of the Lincoln Electric System (LES), I want to thank you, your employees, and the customer owners you serve for the assistance you so readily provided to our community during the major electric power outage we sustained.

Your willingness to help us in our time of need is one of those things that makes us all happy to be Nebraskans. I definitely hope you never have the need to call on LES to help restore electric service in your area; but if you do, rest assured that we will do everything possible to answer your call.

Again, my sincere thanks for your assistance, and the very capable staff members you sent to help us.

Weber leads highly rated band

By Clara Oster
of the Herald

Brad Weber has been the band director at Wayne High School for 12 years.

In nine of those years, the bands he has directed have received Superior ratings at all the marching contests they have attended.

However, the Randolph battle is quick to point out that the kids are wonderful they are the ones that deserve the credit.

Weber received his Bachelor's degree from Wayne State College and his master's degree from the University of Wyoming. At Wayne State he majored in psychology and had a minor in music.

From teaching at Wayne, he taught at Emerson Hubbard High School for eight years.

"We attend two contests each fall. With a school our size where a large percentage of the band members are also out for athletes, I feel it would be too difficult to ask the band members for more time," Weber said.

When Weber first came to Wayne in 1986, there were 24, approximately 20 students involved in the band in grades 9-12. Currently, the Marching Band is made up of 129 members.

"I don't take all the credit for the increased numbers. We have large classes at the present time than we did several years ago. Also, the community is very supportive of band and that helps a great deal," Weber said.

In 1986 and the marching band, the Wayne Band Field Band participated in the Randolph Marching Band contest.

Practicing every day, not every day, however, the students' confidence was up. The marching band is a hard to lead and it's a great challenge to our students," Weber said.

Weber got his marching band fall marching competition early in the spring when he gets the band and speaks up the marching band.

The color guard always performs in the spring and does a lot of work in the summer. Weber said.

He added that there is a lot of work in the summer. The color guard, although that is also done from year to year. There are several are not necessary members of the band.

Weber generally stays busy throughout the summer playing tennis and attending the Nebraska State Bandmasters Association in Colorado.

During the fall, Band Director Weber has several members and he is well known for their band.

When August rolls around Weber has generally planned for bands used for the fall. Each band is usually made up of four songs.

The band rehearses three or four times before school starts at times that do not conflict with sports schedules.

After Labor Day, the band begins practicing each morning at 7:30 a.m. Weber also reports periodically with various groups of band students.

They have been competitors at the National Band and Color Guard Championships in Dallas, Texas. The marching band and color guard both received Superior ratings.

The band is next competition was scheduled for Oct. 15 at Bellevue West for the National State Bandmasters Association Competition.

However, due to a snow storm, the contest was postponed a week and the band was forced to perform on the jacking lot instead of on a football field. The band again received a Superior rating.

After competition is completed in the fall, the band begins preparing for the Christmas concert.

"We also invited the elementary students to the Christmas Hill and play and have a special time," Weber said.

Weber is kept busy throughout the year with a number of activities.

The Wayne State Marching Band is held each spring. Most are in grades 9-12. Auditions for the event.

The Bloomfield Honor Band is designed for students in grades 7-9 and also requires an audition. The Lyubovitch International Band Olympics is another event requiring Weber's attention.

During the school day, Weber has several class periods in which he teaches and he says he can't teach without students in his classroom.

Weber also extended a thank you to the Wayne area Mayo Brothers who assist with fund raising for the band.

"The Brother's major fund raising is the 'Soup Supper' held each. Each it takes a lot of work to get everything ready but it's a lot of fun," Weber said.

Money raised by the brothers is used for uniforms, their salaries, awards, the annual indoor banquet and scholarship to music camps. In addition money is used for a trip to Kansas City, Mo., which the band periodically.

In addition to the time spent working with the students at Wayne High School, Weber is also an adjunct faculty member at Wayne State College. He is also a former member of the Snow City Symphony where he was vice band director.

"I would also like to thank the community for its support of the music program and send the fans at the contests were very gratifying."

Weber's family consists of his wife, Deb, and three daughters, Melissa, a freshman at Wayne State College, Megan, a freshman at Wayne High and Miranda, a fifth grader at Wayne Middle School.

Weber said that many of his former students return to visit after they have left Wayne High.

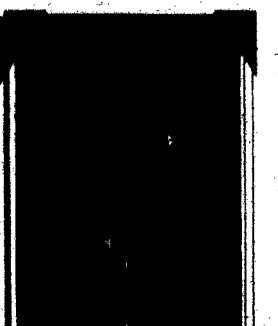

"Even though I have more than 100 students in band at one time these kids are great. I hope I can instill in them the desire to keep playing their instruments some later in life," he said.
