Housing Board to begin project soon

Meadowview Estates, a 16-unit affordable rental housing project developed by the Wayne Housing Development Corporation, is going out for bids the week of Dec. 22. The $1.2-million project is being financed through the USDA Rural Development (formerly Farmers Home Administration) Section 515 program with Low Income Housing Tax Credit equity investment through the Equity Fund of Nebraska. Gap financing is being offered via the HOME Investment Partnership program of the U.S.

Department of Housing & Urban Development (HUD). Meadowview Estates will be sited just east of Park Avenue directly behind the residential property along West Hwy. 15. In a new subdivision known as Gary Downs Addition it will include eight 2-bed room flats and eight 3-bedroom units. Two of the 2-bedroom units will be adapted for handicapped or disabled and one for visual/hearing impairment. The 3-bedroom units will be two stories with one bedroom downstairs and two bedrooms upstairs. Meadowview Estates will be reserved for occupancy by families who earn 60 percent of the Wayne County median income or less. Additionally, the USDA Rural Development Section 515 program offers three rental assistance programs which insure that the tenant pays more than 30 percent of their actual income for housing," said Linda Anderson, executive Director of the Wayne Housing Development Corporation.

Hytrek featured on TV show

Being a tomboy has its ups and downs but for Toni Hytrek of Wayne it landed her a spot on The Jenny Jones Show.

Hytrek was one of seven women taking part in the program titled, "Girl I hate to be rude, you look like a dude," which aired on Dec. 3.

Hytrek's friend, Jessie Weber, was watching The Jenny Jones Show this past summer. The show requested that anyone who knew of a woman who looked "too much like a tomboy" to get in touch with the show. Weber thought of her friend, Toni, and sent them a letter and a photo of her.

"At first I didn't think they would even call," said Hytrek. "When they did, I didn't want to go but Jess wanted in and everyone said it was a free trip so I said that I would."

Hytrek and Weber were flown out of Eppley Airfield in Omaha on Oct. 15, compliments of The Jones Show. They arrived in Chicago where a limousine driver was waiting for them in the airport baggage claim area.

"It was just like you see on television. He had a sign so we would see him. He was nice, he told us about the clubs, where to shop and the names of the best restaurants," said Hytrek.

The driver took the couple to The Chicago Inn which is close to NBC Studios, home to not only The Jenny Jones Show but also where Jerry Springer's show is aired. The couple stayed at the Inn for two nights.

"They gave us money at the motel. We got an allowance to use there. If we went over that amount then we had to pay," said Hytrek. "The other girls on the show were also staying at the motel, but we didn't know that until the next night."

"We had a good time on the trip. We met my old room mate and my sister was there for a conference. We went out and saw the sights," said Hytrek.

One of the first things the couple had to do was to sign contracts. The contracts stated that if they were not happy up to The Jones Show if their segment would be shown on the air and whether or not it would be shown in its entirety.

Council receives update on power plant project

By Clara Egan
Of the Herald

that may petition to be part of the district.

The generators at the Wayne Power plant could be running as early as March of next year. If all the final bids lay up according to plan.

Ken Fairchild, of Clinton Associates, told the Wayne City Council that progress is being made but a number of setbacks and delays have kept the project from being complete.

Contractors plan to put all the boiler engines and the preliminary start up next week. An outage test will be performed in February.

Fairchild told Council members that the cost of the plant is $100 million. The utilities can't properly before they begin generating electricity and there is a possibility that the city could begin testing electricity in March.

In other action the council created "Solidwalk" Improvement District No. 28 of in the northwest quadrant of Wayne. There are also three areas outside the district.

An informational meeting will be held Tuesday, Jan. 13 to allow for any questions to be answered.

The council accepted a Litter Reduction and Recycling Grant to purchase a skid loader for the transfer station. The grant from the Department of Environmental Quality will provide $9,000 toward the purchase of the loader.

A meeting date of Thursday, Jan. 22 has been set for a joint meeting with the Wayne County Commissioners.

The council voted to delay acting on two issues. Instead they will consider the approval of a plat for Wayne East Addition and set a date for a public forum regarding the city auditorium renovation at next week's meeting.

Mayor Abdul Duda appointed Jerrill Johnson as an alternate to the Board of Adjustments.

The council will meet Tuesday, Dec. 16, rather than the normal fourth Tuesday of the month due to the holidays.

Board raises substitute teachers pay

By Kevin Paterson
Of the Herald

The Wayne School Board met in regular session, Monday at the high school.

It was noted to the Board the Band Boosters had given $2,000 to the school for parts of band uniforms such as ties, bags, hats, etc. The boosters will be donating another $9,000 to buy new uniforms to replace old ones.

The Wayne Band currently numbers 140-plus and that's not including the Cadet band.

The Board voted 6-0 to approve the lease/purchase of a Concord 15 for school purposes.

The vehicle will be used by teachers, administrators or other school officials when taking trips when representing the school instead of using the school van for one or two people, which consumed more money.

The cost of the vehicle was $16,921 and the down payment of $5,000 left a balance of $11,921 which will be financed over the next two years.

The Board also voted 6-0 in favor of increasing the pay of substitute teachers in the Wayne School District from $50 to $58.

"We went with an average of the school we called in the area which included Winnetka, Pigeon, Winnetka, Laurel-Concord, Wakefield and Peeler," Wayne Superintendent Dr. Dennis Jensen said. "That comes out to be an $8 raise per day for teacher's subs."

The Wayne Board approved a contract with Rambo and Associates for facility planning and also working with the community to discover what the community wants for their K-12 public school.

"I stopped driving because I was afraid of having an accident."

When I had cataracts, my double vision I carried in Foster Eye Clinic. It got to where I couldn't see like a blind man on my eye. I stopped driving because I was afraid of having an accident.

Dr. Foster said my cataract was really too firm off. When was coming in so I didn't have to have surgery and I lived so far away.

Cataract surgery wasn't anything. There wasn't any discomfort. I could see really well that same day. And I'm driving the car again.

Thank Dr. Foster, he's really nice. I don't have to wear glasses anymore. That's what I like!

"Everything that we done with my hair and makeup was real quick. One person did my hair, one person did my makeup and one person helped me get dressed. The lady that did my hair was real nice. It only took 30 minutes to a half an hour to get done, but then Jenny Jones wanted my hair and lipstick done different. At first I was in a long dress and then I had to change to a short one. I was the last one to get done. They were waiting on me," said Hytrek.

There was a "Before and After" segment on the show and Hytrek changed in looks from a tomboy to a young lady.

"I wasn't impressed with the clothes that they picked out. Something nicer would have been better and it would have been better if they would have let me keep them," said Hytrek.

The couple went through two and a half hours of filming. "The audience reacted to us really nice. When I saw that then I carried down," said Hytrek.

Hytrek said that Jenny Jones is friendly but very particular. "Everything had to be perfect. Jones seemed to be in charge and it was as though she made all the final decisions.

"The people working on the show coach you a lot on what to say and how to act. They have a high energy level. Everyone was nice but the day of the show they shoved us around a lot but I guess they had to," said Hytrek.

"The trip was fun. We flew out on Wednesday, Oct. 15, were there all day on Thursday, Oct. 16, which we pretty much had to ourselves and then had to fly back on Friday, Oct. 17," said Hytrek.

When asked if she would take a chance would she go through it all again?

"Probably not," said Hytrek. "It's just too much work!"

Hytrek is originally from Stuart and came to Wayne in 1990 to attend Wayne State College. Two years later she started working at The Country Nursery in Wayne and recently bought her own lawn service.

"I started a business and bought a house in Wayne. I like Wayne, the people are friendly. I don't see myself leaving in the near future," said Hytrek.

Green Thumb organization looking for oldest worker

Who is Nebraska's Oldest Worker? Who is Nebraska's Most Outstanding Worker? This is the task that Green Thumb, in cooperation with America's Life Insurance Corp., the U.S. Dept. of Labor's Employment and Training Administration, and the U.S. Dept. of Labor's Employment and Training Administration on Aging, have set before them.

The winners will be announced and recognized in Lincoln at the Governor's Proclamation signing in February of 1998.

Nominations will be accepted up to and including Dec. 30, 1997. In early January a selection panel comprised of representatives from across the state will review the nominations and select the winners. To date, confirmed panel members include: Mike Dushenko, Vice President of 1st National Bank in Walthill; Steve Hoeller, Manager of Retail, Oklahoma and Company's Holdings in Plattsmouth; and Gary Richards, Program Specialist, Nebraska Division of Aging, Department of Health and Human Services.

The Most Outstanding Worker in Nebraska will also be honored at the Prime Time Awards Gala, Mar. 8-12, 1998, in Washington, D.C. Representatives from all 50 states and Puerto Rico will be attending the Awards Gala. Several events will be held to recognize the achievements of these older individuals.

"Hundreds of thousands of mature workers all across the United States want and need to work well past what is considered normal retirement age," says Green Thumb President, Andrea Wuesten. "We have planned a national gala to honor outstanding individuals selected from every state, and we thought it would be only appropriate to identify and recognize the oldest worker as well."

The Oldest Worker in Nebraska will compete against the other 49 states and Puerto Rico to see who receives the prestigious title of "The Oldest Worker in the Nation."

Are you 55 or more, and work at least 20 hours per week? If you do, you may be the person we are searching for!

To obtain nomination forms write to: Nebraska Green Thumb, P.O. Box 22060, Lincoln, Neb. 68532, or phone toll free to 1-800-674-6550. For a complete list of participating employers, contact the Green Thumb office by telephone. Workers may enter themselves or be nominated by their employer, family or friends. Volunteers who regularly work 20 hours per week are eligible for the Oldest Worker Contest only. All nominees will be recognized. Nominees for the Oldest Worker Contest will additionally receive a 90 minute prepaid long distance phone card from MCI.

Ordinance needs clarification

The City Council has passed an amended ordinance relating to the commercial use of city property.

In part, the ordinance states "It shall be unlawful for any person, business, corporation or organization to use any municipal or public property or public right-of-way for commercial use, to include, but not limited to, the sales and/or display of any item(s), merchandise or vehicle(s) for commercial use and the advertisement of any item(s), merchandise, place or property, except as may be specifically permitted by any other section of this Code, and except as may be allowed by the City Council for designated times and places."

Officials indicate the new ordinance will not affect such celebrations as parades, the Chicken Show, or county fair as such activities are approved.

The terraces between sidewalks and city streets are affected. Residents may want to get a clarification on the ordinance prior to posting any political posters, yard sale signs, or property for sale signs.

It is unlikely Council meant to eliminate children's lemonade stands, one-day yard sales or auctions, however one may want to ask city officials for clarification on exactly what the ordinance covers.

Or does the phrase "except as may be allowed by the City Council for designated times and places" make the Council either the "bad guy" or "good guy," depending on what is accepted or accepted?

Further clarification of the amended ordinance may be needed prior to any citations being issued.

The pros and cons of moving Peru State College out of Peru seem to be shifting towards the cons.

It's clear that moving the campus elsewhere would be a tremendously expensive. A recent report indicated that it would cost $117 million more to move the campus than it would to fix it up.

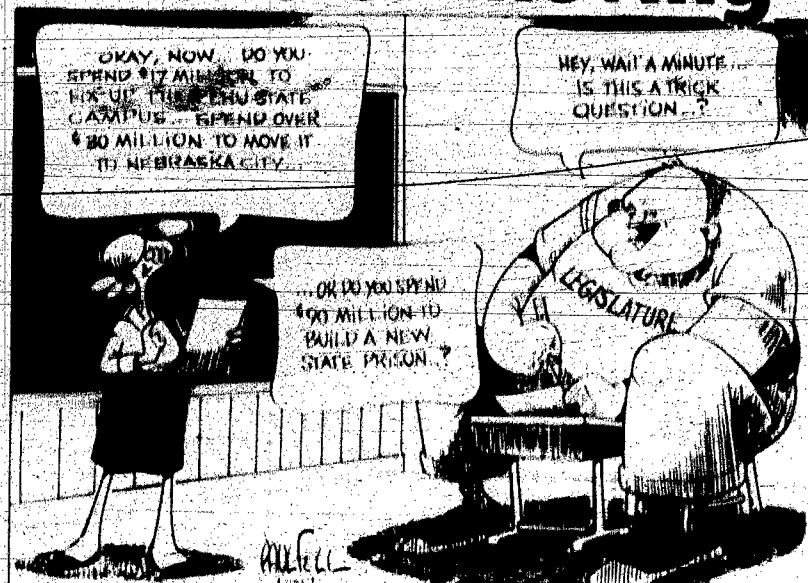

Any other community interested in winning the college (and Nebraska City) therefore would have to ante up approximately $14 million in donations and bond for the state to break even on the deal.

Actually, that might be quite a bargain for an up-and-coming small city (read Nebraska City) to obtain the prestige and economic boost of having a state college right in town.

It doesn't sound like it would be much of a college, though. The November report by the State College Board of Trustees said it would cost $35 million to build a brand new Peru State College, comprised of one classroom building, dormitories, a field house and a student union.

But if it's not moved, the Peru campus needs about $27 million to repair. It seems as if Peru is caught in a self-fulfilling prophecy. After neglecting the campus for many years, now the state is considering moving the campus because it's neglected.

Why what you will about Peru, it is a Nebraska tradition, the oldest of our state colleges. Generations of students who might not otherwise have gone to college got their opportunity for higher education at Peru. The college has emphasized providing an education for lower income students, farmers, factory workers and housewives in southeast Nebraska have relied on Peru as a way to improve their education, and better their lives. It's needed as a center for high school academic activities and a valuable supplement to the public school curriculum in the area. High school students go there to take their college courses again. High school speech, drama and music contests are held there. High school and young students have used the college to take computer classes, advanced science classes, even piano lessons.

And, of course, along the way, it's produced a cadre of teachers. Peru's far from perfect. I know it doesn't have a reputation as a school where there's little or no academic activity besides drinking. The town of Peru for all intents and purposes is Peru State College. I've always wondered about how students from urban multicultural parts of the country are able to cope in tiny Peru. In some ways, it sounds like a grand idea to move Peru to a big city town like Nebraska City. But that would mean saying good-bye to that gorgeous campus of a thousand oaks and a piece of Nebraska history. I hope our legislators are absolutely sure the pros outweigh the cons before they make such a move.

CONSUMER BULLETIN

Nebraska Attorney General

TRUE OR FALSE?

A Quiz For Holiday Shoppers

The Attorney General's Office receives thousands of inquiries each year from Nebraska consumers asking what may seem like simple questions with obvious answers. However, many consumers have misconceptions about what rights they have in the marketplace. We have designed an informative "True/False Shopping Quiz" that you might want to take before your next shopping trip.

TRUE OR FALSE? There is a lemon law that protects you on all big ticket items you purchase including used cars and under warranty.

ANSWER - FALSE. Nebraska does have a lemon law that covers new car purchases. But there is no universal "lemon law" that applies to all big ticket items. You should investigate the history of the used car or product and have it checked out by a mechanic or someone knowledgeable of the product before purchase.

TRUE OR FALSE? A store must give you a refund if you request one.

ANSWER - FALSE. Nebraska, like most states, does not have specific laws that regulate refund or return policies. Provided the goods were not misrepresented, each business may set its own return policy.

TRUE OR FALSE? You have a three day right to cancel any purchase.

ANSWER - FALSE. The three-day right to cancel exists for only a limited number of consumer transactions. For the most part, it applies to credit or cash transactions of $25 or more initiated through face-to-face contact (like door-to-door sales) away from the seller's regular place of business. The three-day right to cancel provision does not cover vehicle purchases.

TRUE OR FALSE? People cannot take money directly from your bank accounts without your written authorization.

ANSWER - FALSE. Merely giving someone your checking account number may result in their making withdrawals from your account. People can sometimes issue a "debit card" to you bank claiming you authorized the withdrawal, and the bank may pay it even though it lacks your signature. You may not know this has happened until you receive your next statement.

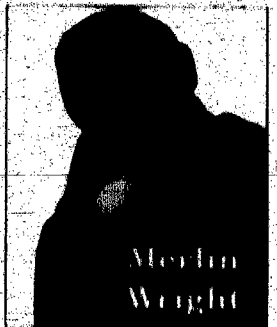

TRUE OR FALSE? Calling out your credit card number for identification or other similar purposes is "OK" as long as you don't authorize a charge.

ANSWER - FALSE. Carrying with access to your credit card number and expiration date may make unauthorized charges against your card. However, using a credit card to place catalog orders, make hotel reservations, or make other types of purchases from familiar, established businesses is normally safe.

Family, fun, the future, and computers

Buying a computer this Christmas? Then you'll want to know about the Internet.

Imagine all the telephone lines necessary worldwide to connect homes and businesses. OK? You can call anywhere, right? A personal computer, using a "modem" can do the same thing with other computers and is giving valuable information on any subject. People around the world, connected and communicating by computer, make up the Internet.

Instead of telephoning Harvard Yale, Stanford or MIT for information, you get it yourself using your computer, by searching through a student's data base. Want a copy of an article? The computer will transfer it.

Questions decision concerning project

Dear Editor,
I should not have been surprised that the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce once again has chosen to demand that shoppers crowd into participating stores for the "Way It Up in Wayne" drawings rather than simply posting the winning tickets in participating stores so that their shoppers could check their numbers over a week.

After all, I have been mystified for many months by the decision of the Wayne community to insist that Highway 15 should be widened in a major construction project, rather than building a by-pass road that would provide an alternative route for the many big trucks that must now roll through the heart of Wayne, no matter where they are headed. After spending all the money necessary to completely replace existing Seventh Street, it would be hard to afford the desperately needed by-pass road that would most likely go one mile east from the Traditions Station corner, south with easy access for Great Dane and the other industrial developments at the east side of Wayne, and then south of Wayne. Currently there is no real direct access route from the north to Providence Medical Center,

From your home you can read the news, attend public use, at least any religious, university, business, or governmental agency, plus monitor the latest weather.

Tonight you want to enhance your knowledge of astronomy. Using the Internet, join a group discussing the Orion constellation. Big Dipper or other star formations. Or perhaps your interest is gardening, so you talk to others with similar interests, or maybe your interest is learning, aviation, ITTC, education, sailing, finance, art, animals, sports, science or religion? Join a worldwide discussion and examine the scores of Mayan, Aztec, Inca, medicine, Broadway, math, games and history internet sites. Whatever the topic, people are exchanging their opinions. Like many things, one cannot compare the vastness of the Internet until experiencing it.

Fascinated by the Hubble Space Telescope? Looking for a job? Maybe you're interested in the price of real estate in Colorado. All such information is available by Internet.

I mailed a letter to you, Wayne area friends, letter to a son, daughter, or grandchild. You said and they have it, minutes later, even if they live in London, having distance changed the 12 cent stamp. The cost of initial costs include about $1,500 for the computer, an amount you lose about a new card on off the lot. Access to the Internet runs about $20 a month. School age children use the local school system. Fees are minimal compared to the world of information available. Your computer, of course, will have a myriad of other products use as well.

Grasping the concept of reading online newspapers takes time. One can read the New York Times as easily as the Jerusalem Post. If you're looking for something to challenge the family, go online. Read the news, ready as it happens!

When someone mentions the Net, your response can be "then there, done that!"

Scavenger hunt

Area youth were involved in a scavenger hunt to collect items for the Wayne Food Pantry. A total of 30 items were collected by the winning team comprised of left to right, Eric Hart, Leslie Danberg, Mully Mull and Tina Rowe. The event was sponsored by the Wayne County Youth Activities Coalition.

Wakefield girls roll past Walthill

The Wakefield girls basketball team ran past Walthill, Tuesday night to the tune of 81-15. The Lady Trojans led 49-7 at the half. Wakefield improved to 2-1 on the season. Kris Mast's squad was led by Amber Johnson with 15 points while Jen Simpson poured in 14 as did Jennifer Carson. Maggie Brownell netted nine points and Susan Bridgman, six while Kristin Bridgman tallied five.

"All 13 players on the varsity scored," Mast said. "It was a great team effort." Wakefield out-rebounded the host team, 37-5 with Carson hauling down eight carries and Erin Salmon, 7. The Trojans hit 28-of-41 free throw attempts.

Winside cagers fall to Laurel-Concord

The Winside girls and boys basketball teams fell to Laurel-Concord, Tuesday in Winside with Lisa Schroeder's girls losing a 37-32 decision to Stacie Koranda's Bears. The loss left Winside with a 1-2 record while Laurel-Concord improved to 1-1.

"We came out and played aggressive defense and forced some early turnovers which gave us the momentum," Koranda said. Laurel led 13-9 after one quarter of play and 30-16 at the intermission. "We played a good first six minutes and a good last six minutes but the 20 minutes in between we couldn't buy a bucket," Schroeder said. "We were getting and taking good shots but nothing fell."

Schroeder said her team played a great fourth quarter, out-scoring the Bears by a 13-4 margin. "Our defense picked it up and created some turnovers and we finally started getting the ball inside."

Jessie Erwin led Laurel with 17 points while Laurie Schroeder scored 10 and Kristin Hank, eight. Another Thompson scored six points and Magari Atkins, five while Melissa Thompson tallied four and Kay Stewart, two.

Winside was led by Jess Miller's 11 points with Mandi Topp adding eight and Sara Maritz, six. Stacy Wittler, Ken Nathan, Kelly Nathan and Magnus Jaeger each added two. Laurel won the battle of the boards, 17-10 with Adrien hauling down 1-1 to lead the Bears while also dispatching out seven assists. Jessie Erwin had seven rebounds. Miller and Maritz led Winside with eight rebounds each. Wittler finished with five assists and recorded six steals to set the pace for the Winside defense.

In boys play, Laurel-Concord broke open a close game after halftime to win by 16, 73-57. "It was a 27-22 lead for us at half but we got some easy buckets off the break in the second half which allowed us to get out to a 13 point lead," Laurel coach Clayton Steele said.

Wyatt Erwin led the winners with 23 points while Evan Smith poured in 14 and Nick Kvick, 12. Chad Jorgensen finished with a dozen while Andy Rose tallied five. Nick Mangarano, Nathan Beckman and Mike Strawn each scored four points.

Aaron Hoffman led Winside with 11 points with Scott Wittler adding a dozen and Brock Shelton, 11. Trent Smith was also in double figures with 10 while Jay Rademacher adding seven and Aaron Laxman, four.

Laurel won the boards battle, 17-16 with the Bears hitting 19-of-25 free throw attempts while Winside was 10-15. The Wildcats fell to 1-2 on the season while the Bears improved to 2-0. The Winside boys will play at Columbus on Friday with the Wildcats girls playing in Newville, Thursday. The Laurel-Concord girls and boys will play at Randolph on Friday.

Justin Thede tries to call a timeout while two Battle Creek defenders look to tie up the ball during season-opening action last Friday night in Wayne. The Blue Devils posted a big win with an 80-23 blowout of the Braves.

Wayne boys post big win over Battle Creek

The Wayne Blue Devils boys basketball team ignited the 1997-98 season in convincing winning fashion with a blowout win over visiting Battle Creek last Friday, 80-23.

Ricky Ruhl's troops led 16-10 after the first quarter and 19-19 at the intermission before exploding for a pair of 28 point quarters in the second half.

"The first game went pretty well," Ruhl said. "We played as a team and had some great passes. After we got through the adrenaline and unrenewedness of the first half our shooting improved."

Ruhl said the key to each game will be the defensive intensity. "If we show up and play hard we will be in every game," he added. "The stats speak for themselves."

The Blue Devils hit nearly 60 percent of their shots from the floor, 43-56. The free throw line which proved to be the Achilles heel last season for Wayne, was not where Ruhl would like it at 34-24, for 57 percent, but Wayne forced 20 turnovers while committing 10 just 14.

Wayne also dominated the boards, 32-22 with Justin Thede leading down a game-high 10 carries. Thede was limited to four points in the first half but exploded for 27 second half points to finish with a game-high 31.

Ryan Dahl also finished in double figures with 10 while Matt Meyer and John Magnuson had nine each. Adam Endicott tallied eight points with Josh Munson and Brian Horchstein finishing with seven apiece.

Magnuson and Endicott each had six rebounds while Thede recorded six steals. Meyer dished out nine assists with Munson adding five and Dahl, four. In fact, Wayne finished with 23 assists, nearly double the number of turnovers.

The Blue Devils will travel to play Hooper Logan View on Friday before playing at Columbus Lakeview on Saturday. Wayne returns home to host Clay B-ranked Schuyler on Tuesday.

Answer: Cleaning your table cloth soon after using it. Some spills like sauce or milk, & wine won't show up until they yellow. Allow 1 or 2 weeks for cleaning down and leather coats respectively. Winside cage teams sweep Allen but lose to Wynot

The Winside girls and boys trap teams opened season play with a pair of games last weekend on the road.

Both teams earned a sweep at Allen on Thursday before being swept by Wynot Friday.

The Schroeder's girls trap racked up 29 points in Allen in an impressive season opener. The Wildcats led 26-8 at the half and 41-16 after three quarters before a 20-12 winning run in the final stanza.

"We really had a great effort from all 12 players," Schroeder said. "Overall, I was pleased with our defensive pressure play we kept the game at our tempo. We weren't real impressive on the offensive rebounding as we gave up 16 which resulted in several cheap points."

Winside showed great balance in the scoring column with three players scoring 11 each including Sara Maritz, Jess Miller and Mandi Topp. Mindy Janku scored eight and Kim Nathan added five while Shannon Bowers tallied three. Brooke Ruelter, Stacy Witter, Kelly Nathan and Amanda Jaeger added two each to round out the attack.

Winside out rebounded Allen, 18-10 as Miller had 10 rebounds and Maritz, eight.

At Wynot on Friday, however, Winside did not take advantage of its strength inside. "Wynot doesn't have a strong inside game and we didn't exploit that," Schroeder said. "Our lack of rebounding really needs to improve and we have to hit the lay up shot."

Winside was just 14-29 from the charity stripe. Mandi Topp poured in 24 points to lead Winside including four 3-pointers while hitting eight of 10 from the foul line. Jess Miller and Sara Maritz scored six each and Stacy Witter added four with Mindy Janku scoring two. Kelly Nathan and Brooke Ruelter each had a few three's.

Winside was not rebounded, 18-12 with Miller hauling down a team-high 12 while Maritz had eight.

IN BOYS ACTION, Winside first year coach Jerry Warner wanted his young team to win with defense and that's what they accomplished, 42-38. "We played real well on the defensive side of the ball," Warner said. "Our shot didn't fall but the kids didn't give up."

Winside out scored Allen 8-1 over the final three minutes to just the win. Aaron Hoffman and Trent Smith scored 11 each to lead the winners while Scott Witter added 10 and Jay Rademacher, eight. Brock Mollon rounded out the scoring with two points.

Winside dominated the boards, 11-18 with Rademacher hauling down eight rebounds while Smith had seven.

In Wynot on Friday, Winside was defeated, 36-44. In even its record at 1-1. "Defensively, we did not rebound very well," Warner said. "We gave them rebound and shot opportunities on the offensive side, and they exploited. Offensively, we need to be more patient and look for the good shot."

Winside trailed by just one point at the half, 22-21, and by five after the third quarter, 38-33. Trent Smith paced the Wildcats with 14 points while Aaron Hoffman added a dozen and Jay Rademacher, six. Brock Mollon followed with four and Aaron Leman along with Scott Witter scored three each with Jake Annonius adding a two point.

Winside was out rebounded by a 32-12 margin with Hoffman and Rademacher sharing team honors with four rebounds each.

Wakefield basketball teams are swept by Pender but girls rebound at Allen

The Wakefield girls and boys basketball teams kicked off the 1997-98 season at home with Pender last Thursday but it was not a successful start to the season at both were defeated.

In Allen Wakefield lost their first, 61-45 while Mike Clay's boys team fell shy, 62-30 in the night cap.

In the girls game the Trojans found themselves trailing by a 18-13 margin at the half which was too much to overcome. "Pender shooting and 25 turnovers in the first half was just too much," Meall said. "I was very pleased with the effort in the fourth quarter and glad to see we never gave up."

Maggie Brownell led Wakefield with 12 points while Susan Bridgman added eight as did Kristin Preston. Wakefield won the battle of the boards, 10-22 with Greve hauling down nine rebounds while Preston had six.

In the boys contest it was a similar start as the Trojans got off to a very slow start. "We managed to cut the lead in five with two minutes left but we couldn't get over the hump," Clay said. "We did ourselves a huge favor."

Wakefield trailed Pender by a 40-22 margin at the half. BJ Hansen led the Trojans with 19 points with Josh Holby added 14 and Jim Rusk, nine.

Holby led the first team on the boards with a dozen rebounds with Russ Gardner hauling down nine.

Saturday, the Lady Trojans played at Allen and hit Meall's team responded favorably on the first road trip of the season with a 35-31 victory.

"We played much better," Meall said. "We got rid of those first game nerves. Defensively, we controlled the tempo with out-press and offensively, I was once again pleased with our balance."

Wakefield led 25-14 at the half and 42-23 after three quarters of play. Kristin Preston led the winners with 16 points and five rebounds while Maggie Brownell added 13 points and three steals. Jenny Vansdahl finished with 10 points. Wakefield out rebounded the Trojans, 43-12 with Jennifer Cassin hauling down nine rebounds while Eric Salmon had eight.

The Library Card

This column is written occasionally to inform the Wayne area as to what types of reading material and other items are available at the Wayne Public Library.

Old Man Winter turned our "bracing" fall weather into downright penetrating winter weather. Before the calendar scheduled it! At the bulletin board say, "There's snow better time to read!" A good book before the fireplace on a cold, windy night is our idea of a good way to spend an evening. Hope you feel the same!

We do have some new books to tempt you. Two volumes from the Library of America series entitled "Crime novels: American Noir of the 1930's and 40's" and "Crime Novels: American Noir of the 1950's" contain a collection of noted mystery writers of the times. Dornick Dunne's new book, "Another City, not my Own," is a novel in the form of a memoir.

"The Letter," written by Richard Paul Evans is a continuation of "The Christmas Box" which was so popular. Oprah's Book Club latest selection is now in the library. Two novels by Kaye Gibbons, "Ellen Foster" and "A Virtuous Woman" were chosen.

Three more selections from the Library of America feature collected writings of John Muir entitled "Nature writings," "Writings" by George Washington and "Collected poetry and prose" by Wallace Stevens. This series was made possible to us by a grant and is a compilation of the writings of American authors from colonial times to the present. Look for them on our shelves. They are identified by their black covers. It is an impressive collection.

We have been working as fast as we can to place more video tapes on the shelf. Titles mainly include cartoons for the children, but you can find the musical "Rhapsody" among the new titles. Please remember to choose only the yellow card in the browser pocket to bring to the desk when you select your videos for viewing.

We have also added a number of books on tape for your listening pleasure: "Running with the steamers" by Terry Brooks, "Hawk O'Toole's hostage" by Sandra Brown, "Pretend you don't see her" by Meg Higgins Clark, "Hornet's nest" by Patricia Cornwell, "The intelligent investor" by Benjamin Graham and "The Thrust" by Peter Straub.

Plenty of good reading and listening for these cold winter nights. Our library is open Monday-Friday from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. and Sunday from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. Our fax number is (402) 375-5772. Fax service charge is $11 per page. Our phone numbers are (402) 375-1133.

Impromptu show

Head Start receives reading grant

The Wayne Head Start will soon be benefiting from the Reading Fundamental (RF) program conducted by Catherine Hols. Continually seeking for funds, Hols has been awarded a Reading and Writing Fund grant for materials and services for individualizing young children to read.

The grant consists of money awarded by the program nationwide, which will be used to purchase additional books for children.

The Reading and Writing Fund grant will help continue providing a wide variety of books that are available to young children. Hols, who is currently a Reading and Writing Fund Supervisor, RF program, makes suggestions to the staff and the parents to read to their children.

The RF program championed by the Wayne Head Start, are Linda Williams, Amy Dowling and Deb Altemus. They will be selecting and planning a special event for the distribution of the books. The first distribution was given to 19 of the school's staff.

Also at this time, the Wayne Women of Today contributed to the fund of purchasing of these books.

With the help of the community and great people at the Wayne Women of Today, Hols hopes these suggestions will be successful. The Wayne Women of Today have contributed to the Head Start program for the past several years. It is greatly appreciated by Mrs. Altemus.

Fundamental is a national nonprofit organization that helps children discover the joy and importance of reading through a nationwide network of 4,200 local points to help in the Wayne area.

Presbyterians launch web site

To further communication with its 16 presbyteries and their 967 congregations and to serve as an evangelism tool, the Synod of Lakes and Prairies, Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) recently launched a web site. "Believers in every time and place have looked to new ways in which to tell God's story and sustain and support each other on the spiritual journey," said Linda Paul Nishitskiy, associate synod executive for communication and integration. "Today the synod has the World Wide Web available as one means by which the faithful can communicate both these things."

Founded at <http://www.lakesandprairies.org>, the site features stories telling of the mission and ministry of Presbyterians in the upper Midwest. These stories help to provide ideas, inspiration and support to one another. The site also includes special announcements, a calendar of events, directories for synod and presbytery staffs and a devotional page. As an evangelism tool, the site provides information about the Reformed tradition of Christianity. The site seeks to offer a valid witness to the unchurched and provide them with an opportunity for further inquiry into faith issues.

Students present piano recital

Students of Mrs. Pat Cook presented an informal recital at the Wayne Care Center recently. The recital required memorization and most of the songs were played from the students' music books. First graders Morgan Campbell, Genelle Gardner and Joseph White played current songs from their lesson books. Morgan and Pat Cook played a duet medley based on Norma's "Pac-Man Dance" and "The Inch Worm." Genelle performed "Three Gralls" and Joseph played Gloria's version of "Gentle Wee Wee Spinn." Denis Rutlin played Patrice's "Starting" and "Freight Train." Later in the program played two Christmas carols while the audience sang along. John White played two John Thompson songs and Patrice's "Bingle Wangle Gangle." Mark Rault performed his two Federation songs, "Gloria" and "Mabel Procession" and Patrice's "Mabel and Tim." Rebecca Rasmussen played the first movement of a Diabelli Sonata.

and "Arabesque" and "Ballade." Ann McGowan performed several memory pieces she reviewed the fall including, "The Spinning Song" and all except from Gary's "Piano Concerto in A Minor," and another review song, "The States' Wally." Mrs. Cook ended the program by leading two Christmas songs with the help of Neal Diamond's "Christmas Altium."

Dixon County history book now available

A picture history of Dixon County, Nebraska, is now available. The book, "Dixon County-A Picture History," is the second in a series of picture histories planned by Norvin "Fuzz" Hansen, publisher of The Pender Times.

Books ordered prior to last week's publication will be ready to be picked up at several area sites by Thursday, Dec. 11. Those sites are:

Allen: Senior Citizens Center
Ponca: Nebraska Journal-Leader

Wakarusa: Wakarusa Republican
Wayne: The Wayne Herald

Books already have been mailed to those who placed orders and asked to have books sent directly to them.

A limited number of the books remain for sale at $49.95 each, plus $2.50 sales tax and $3 for shipping and handling. An offer blank space in an advertisement on the front page of this week's issue of the Northeast Nebraska Rocket, or orders may be mailed to The Pender Times, Box 289, Pender, Neb. 68047.

The book includes approximately 300 photographs depicting life in early Dixon County, everything from the survey crew that laid out tracks for the railroads through Dixon County to an interior view of the old telephone office at Emerson. Also included is a 1953 map with names and locations of the more than 70 school districts once in existence in Dixon County, a story on the 1862 massacre by Indians of the Hansen Wiseman children in Concord, and information on the origin of the names of communities in Dixon County, many of which are no longer in existence.

Pictures in the book are grouped by the nine communities in the county: Allen, Concord, Dixon, Emerson, Martinsburg, Meskeil, Newcastle, Ponca and Wakarusa.

"I'm really pleased with the way the book turned out and I'm sure the people who order the book will be very satisfied with it," said Hansen. "I'm especially happy with the impressive dust cover, for it dresses the book up and makes it a real collector's item."

The dust cover features two full-color pictures taken from an old calendar put out by the Sherman Brothers of Allen. The Sherman boys ran a general store in the community from 1922 until the store was sold in 1945. Helping make the dust cover possible was the M.G. Waldbaum Co. in Wakefield, which purchased the only advertisement appearing in the book.

"Their help was greatly appreciated since it meant that a professional dust cover could be printed for the book," said Hansen.

The hardbound book features a deep green cover with gold printing. The paper used for the pages is a high quality glass paper which enhances the reproduction of the old photographs contributed for use in the book. Hansen said nearly 100 people sent in more than 600 photographs for possible use in the book.

The first picture history book published by Hansen was for Thurston County. It is a 128-page book that features just over 300 photographs. The full color picture on the dust cover for that book is a reproduction of a painting done by painter artist Pat Samuelsen.

"There will be no second printing of the Dixon County book so individuals wishing to purchase the book should get their order in before the supply runs out," said Hansen.

The book will make a unique Christmas present for somebody with connections to Dixon County, Hansen noted.

Parents need to keep family out of fights

All parents argue at one time or another. When tempers flare, marital conflicts don't have to take a toll on the whole family.

Parents should keep children out of the argument. Children should never be asked to serve as a go-between in the heat of a conflict. Children should never be asked to withhold sensitive information from the other parent. The result of intimately involving children in marital conflict will be that children will see themselves as somehow responsible for the conflict.

When upset with a spouse, it is important not to talk negatively about the spouse in front of the children. Parents should do everything in their power to help their children feel secure and loved by both parents. While a parent may need to give up some power and authority, the rewards of self-esteem for the children are worth it.

As stress builds in a household, parents should set aside time to talk to their children about the stress. Even a minor argument between two parents may frighten a child. Talking to children about the child opens communication channels for a child to express concerns.

Regardless of how stressful things get, a parent should stay involved in the details of their children's life. Parents should pay attention to everyday incidents that give rise to your child's emotion. A little care taken at the time of stress can alleviate negative impacts on a child in the long run. Children also need to see positive examples of conflict management. Parents should also talk to them about healthy ways to handle interpersonal conflicts with family members and strangers.

Tree orders being accepted for planting next spring

The Nebraska Conservation Tree Program will have more than enough black walnut seedlings for planting next spring.

That's the word from Bill Lovell, Nebraska Forest Service forester. The public responded overwhelmingly to a recent request for 3,000 pounds of black walnut nuts they provided more than 2,000 pounds, Lovell said.

The nuts will be sown in the nursery and the subsequent seedlings will be sold through the state's conservation tree program.

Individuals can order black walnut and 19 other species of trees and shrubs beginning Nov. 1. The seedlings are sold to rural landowners for conservation purposes. Seedlings can be ordered in quantities of 25 per species with a minimum order of 100 seedlings. Cost is $55 per 100 seedlings, plus tax. In place orders, contact a local Natural Resources District or University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension office.

Tree-planting services are available through NRDs. Cost sharing is available in some cases through an NRD or Natural Resources Conservation Service.

For more information or to order trees, call (800) 600-1334. Trees will be shipped beginning April 1.

The Oshika family found out that their daughter, Jade, had a Wilms' tumor which is a rare childhood cancer that affects the kidneys. Jade was only seven years old.

Seven months have passed and Jade has completed treatments. Doctors have told the family that everything looks good. They recently returned from a week-long trip to Disney World in Florida.

Many companies and individuals provided the opportunity for the family to take the trip. American Airlines selected Jade as the child from Nebraska to sponsor and provided the flight. The family stayed at Glive Kids the World Village, which is for children with life-threatening illness and their families, so they can visit Disney World.

Children from around the world are given the opportunity to visit Disney World. The Oshika's next door neighbor at the village was a girl from Sweden. The village covers around 55 acres and Disney World is in the process of expanding it because of extensive use.

Jade has been through chemotherapy treatments, surgery and then more treatments. She had her last treatment early in October. At the end of October she had a body scan. Jade lost her hair from the treatments but it is starting to grow again. Her mother said that she is gaining weight and growing taller.

Jade started back to school full time near the end of October. She has to have checkups every three months.

The community has held fund-raisers for Jade and her family to help with expenses.

ATTEND TREE CONFERENCE

Peggy Gustafson represented the Wakefield Tree Board at the Nebraska Community Forestry Conference in Grand Island on Nov. 6 and Nov. 7.

Eleven speakers discussed various topics from community entry planting to most suitable tree to plant in Nebraska. Basic tree planting instructions were also given.

Neighbors and tree handouts were available. The State Arboretum had many books for sale.

There was a session on how Omaha and Lincoln areas could be restored after the recent storm devastation they received.

A valuable piece of advice given was the danger of adding more trees like a bagel, not like a volcano. Tips on mulching included not to pile it by the tree trunk because disease and insects become problems. Also to leave a few inches of bare space around the trunk and then mulch three to four inches deep from that spot out to the drip line.

PRESENT RECITAL

Adam Goss presented his senior recital and seminar at Wayne State College on Dec. 2. He is a tenor vocalist.

Winter sports action got underway last week for all five Wayne Herald area teams. The following is a brief composite of each of the teams.

Wayne boys: Rocky Ruhl's team went 14-6 a year ago but the season ending left a sour taste in Blue Devils fans' mouths. This year's team looks to be quicker and will seek to get the ball up and down the floor at rapid pace.

Justin Theede and Matt Meyer will start for the third consecutive season and will be joined by Ryan Dahl, John Magnuson and Neil Munson.

Adam Endicott will see plenty of action as will Clinton Keller, Brian Hochstein and Chris Dyer.

Wayne girls: John McClanren's second-year as head coach of the Blue Devils sees just one returning starter in Molly Tinster but the Blue Devils will be competitive with the likes of five other letterwinners including Gayle Olson, Heidi Johnson, Jennifer Beiermann, Lindsay Baack and Brooke Parker and freshman Monica Novak.

Jessica Raveling, Sara Ellis, Mandy Hansen, Kristin Hochstein and Jenny Schaffer will round out the varsity team.

Wayne wrestling: John Murtaugh has 29 grapplers out this season and Wayne looks to be extremely competitive possibly to the tune of a top 10 finish at state.

Returning state medal winners Josh Murtaugh and Jody Campbell will lead Wayne as will Dan Nelson, Jay Endicott, Darin Jensen, Casey Junck and Eric Hefti—those who came with in one match of qualifying for state a year ago.

Winside wrestling: Paul Sok's Wildcats appear to be in solid shape heading into the season with the exception of seniors Cory Brummely, a projected state qualifier and medal winner, and Jeff Jacobsen, both lost to injury.

Still, the cupboard isn't bare as Winside hopes to finish in the state's top five in Clay D. Justin Bowers and Landon Grothe will lead the charge as they look to improve on a runner-up and fourth place finish at state a year ago, respectively.

Experience and youth will blend on the mats for Winside as seniors Rick Bussey and Jeff Baug return as do juniors Ryan Krueger, Steve Rabe, Levi Traufman and Justin Bergstadt along with sophomore Jeremy Jaeger.

Incoming freshman looking to make an immediate impact include Justin Koch, Aaron Paulken, Eric Vanosdall and Nate Suehl.

Winside girls: Lisa Schroeder returns four starters from last year's and the Wildcats mentor said she has a team with a good combination of size and quickness which should work to their advantage.

The top five appear to be Jew Miller, Sara Marotz, Mandi Topp, Mindy Janke and Stacy Wittler. Miller was an all conference player last season with Topp earning honorable mention status.

Winside boys: Terry Warner begins a new coaching era in Winside as the boys mentor. Warner's debut was successful with a 42-38 win over Allen last week.

Warner hopes to see his team improve from last season's 4-14 mark and he plans to do that from defense.

"We gave up over 72 points a game last season and that's the area we have worked on hard during pre season," Warner said.

Jay Rademacher, Brock Shelton, Trent Suehl, Aaron Hoffman and Scott Wittler are the returning letterwinners.

Laurel boys: Clayton Steel lost four starters off last year's 16-7 team but don't count the Bears out of the mix just yet this season.

The Bears return Andy Bove along with part-time starter Wyatt Erwin and those two have enough fire power to keep Laurel-Concord in most of the games.

Beau Bearney, Nick Kvolz, Mike Strawn, Chad Jorgensen, Adam Donner, Jesse Jolneck, Jeff Madola, Nick Mangano, Tyler Kvolz, Evan Smith and Josh Ankeny will fill out the roster. Laurel opened the season with a win over Crofton last weekend.

Laurel girls: First-year head coach Susie Koranda welcomed six letterwinners from last year's 24-2 record and state semifinals team and former letterwinner Megan Adkins.

Laurie Schroeder, Kristen Hank, Amber Thompson, Melissa Thompson, Heather Patefield and Elly Harder will return to lead the Bears team this season.

Koranda said the philosophy will be to let the defense dictate the offense through aggressive play.

Koranda was an assistant last season and coached at Prague for two years prior to that.

Laurel wrestling: Lyle VanCleave has 13 grapplers out for wrestling at Laurel for the school's second year of wrestling.

Aaron Diediker, Jeremiah Moore, Dave Tipp and Jordan Bloom look to lead the Orange & Black.

Solid conditioning and a positive attitude are attributes VanCleave is seeking for his young team.

Wakefield boys: First-year head coach Mike Clay has returned home to coach his alma mater. A 1983 graduate of the Trojans, Clay has spent the past seven seasons at the helm of the Clarkston program.

Headlining the list of returning letterwinners is BJ Hansen, last year's leading scorer. Josh Hohn, Jim Rusk, Ross Gardner, Kevin Johnson and Justin Paulson also return to lead the Trojans.

Wakefield girls: First-year head coach Iris Mestl returns to the area after a seven-year hiatus at Fort Calhoun.

Mestl is a native of Beerier and is excited to be the Trojans head coach. "We want to strive to be the best rebounding team in our conference," Mestl said.

Leading the Trojans this season is Kristin Preston, Susan Brudigan, Maggie Brownell, Jenny Sandahl, Jennifer Carson, Jennifer Simpson, Kim Hattig and Annie Greve.

Allen girls: Lori Korster has a very young Allen girls team this season which will be led by sophomore Stacey Martinson. The lone senior on the team is Jenny Sachau with juniors April Sachau, Carrie Getzer and Kristy Sullivan.

Shannon Koedler, Rachel Stallbaum, Jessica Beck, Amanda O'Quinn, Kristin Hansen and Ryan Schultz are sophomores.

Allen boys: Allen finished last season with three wins in the final four games and nothing would please coach Doug Schmack more than that kind of performance this season.

"We do have some experience back this season with seniors Cory Prochaska, Philip Morgan, John Stallbaum and Erik Olson along with juniors Ken Rain and Brian Sullivan and sophomore Joe Sullivan," Schmack said. "Those seven are my returning letterwinners."
