

Wayne State recognized

As a result of Wayne State College's outreach with public service activities, it has been listed as one of the "Outstanding 100 Rural Development Initiatives" as released by the Nebraska Rural Development Commission.

"Wayne State College continues to have a major impact in northeast Nebraska due to their efforts to aggressively reach out to area residents and deliver programs and activities. With these programs, Wayne State provides local leadership training, business development assistance and access to cultural programs and the arts. People have access to a variety of events, recreational activities, programs for children and academic enrichment for the schools. The College continues to position itself to remain a major educational, cultural and economic entity into the 21st century," according to the Commission.

"This award recognizes a commitment by the College and its President, Dr. Donald Mash, to regional development, not only for regional education, and community and economic development assistance, but for the arts as well," said Connie Keck, director of the Bureau for Economic Development.

The award was presented to Keck at a Nebraska Development Network Regional meeting at St. Benedict's Center, north of Schuyler. The award reads that Wayne State College's initiative represents innovation and excellence in support of rural Nebraska and the "Good Life" on the Great Plains with regional community and economic development efforts.

"This recognition for Wayne State College enhances our visibility in the northeast region of the state and says, 'We're a player. We're a partner," Keck said.

Wayne State College's recognition is part of the Nebraska Rural Development Commission's stated belief that celebrating success is important to their efforts to develop "One Nebraska." The Initiatives Report which lists Wayne State celebrates the diversity of development occurring throughout the Cornhusker State.

The Nebraska Rural Development Commission was created in January 1991 by Gov. Benjamin Nelson's executive order. The purpose of the Commission is to foster sustainable community and economic development initiatives. These initiatives should enable Nebraska communities to realize their own goals, thereby contributing to the growth and well-being of the entire state.

Highway funds to be increased

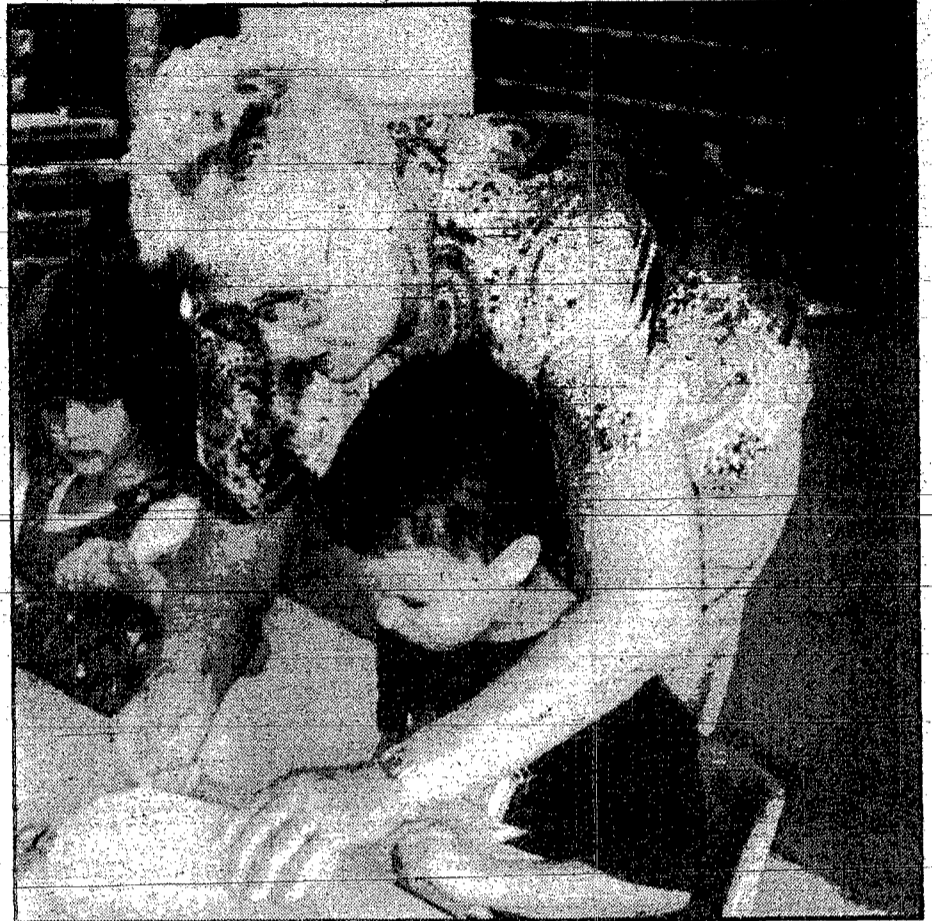

The final version of the highway funding bill approved by the House of Representatives on May 22 includes a 43 percent increase in federal highway funds for Nebraska, according to Representative Doug Bereuter, including 8.66 million for high priority projects in northeast Nebraska. That increase means that Nebraska will receive, on average, more than $61 million each year in additional highway construction funds over the next six years.

High priority projects that are funded in the bill for northeast Nebraska include $75 million for a Nebraska Highway 35 alternative and modified route corridor study from Norfolk through Wayne to Dakota City (meeting expressway standards); $3.375 million for expressway design and partial right-of-way acquisition for an alternative to Nebraska Highway 35 between Norfolk and Wayne; $3.0 million in additional funding for the authorized Vermillion, S.D.-Newcastle, Neb.-area bridge (approached from Nebraska Highway 12); $0.413 million for a corridor study from Wayne, to the approach of the authorized and partially funded Vermillion-Newcastle bridge; and $1.125 million for the Cedar County, Neb.-Yankton, S.D., U.S. Highway 81 bridge replacement.

Retirees find employment

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Doris Claussen of Carroll wanted a part-time job. Through her sister and an ad in the paper, she found employment with the Senior Community Service Employment Program (SCSEP), funded by the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP).

Since October, Mrs. Claussen has been employed 20 hours a week at the Wayne Elementary School as an aide in the kindergarten rooms.

"I help both kindergarten rooms, doing whatever needs to be done. I work one-on-one with students, help with art projects, put up bulletin boards and make copies," Mrs. Claussen said.

The SCSEP-AARP assists those over 55 years of age by locating part-time employment in non-profit institutions such as schools, senior centers, the city library, the City of Wayne and Wayne State College.

"People are living longer, are more active and they often find they cannot live on Social Security earnings. Our program is designed to be a stepping stone toward more permanent employment," said Carol Verges, Project Director for the (SCSEP), of which Mrs. Claussen and Adaline Jorgensen of Carroll, were employed.

The SCSEP is designed to provide temporary work experience for those whose incomes fall at or below the federal poverty level.

The goal of the program is for each of the clients to obtain employment outside the program.

"Our program has been around for 30 years. At the present time, we have openings for three people in the SCSEP in Wayne County," Ms. Verges said.

Mrs. Claussen said the school has been very appreciative of the work she did.

"The teachers I worked with were terrific. I love the kids and through the school year it even got to a point where they called me their 'Grandma Teacher.' This has really been a wonderful experience," Mrs. Claussen said.

Following placement in the SCSEP, clients must be supervised by someone in the non-profit organization. While working in this program, they are paid through the AARP. No money is put out by the organization.

In addition, all clients are evaluated by the agency every six months and can re-apply for ad-

French visitors tour Wayne

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

A group of French visitors toured Wayne and northeast Nebraska last week.

The three women and two men were members of a Group Study Exchange Team from Rotary District 1510 in France, sponsored by Rotary International. They arrived in Lincoln on May 6 and have spent the past month visiting Rotary clubs in western Iowa and eastern Nebraska.

Following introductions at Friday's Chamber Coffee, each of the French visitors spoke about their work and home in France.

Rachel Corillion is a lawyer in Angers where she specializes in business and property law. Edouard Goxe has been a financial trader at the Banque Populaire Anjou-Vendee for the past two years.

Anne Chiron has been a counselor at the unemployment agency in Anger for the past four years. Marie-Annick Pouvreau is a nurse in the operating theater of a hospital at Challans, a small town in the Vendee region.

The leader of the French team was Jean-Claude Luxey, a Rotarian for 20 years. He told the Wayne audience that women are not involved in Rotary in France and prayer, which precedes all Wayne Rotary meetings, is not a part of French meetings.

Jean-Claude retired after 19 years as general manager of an elevator firm in Angers. He earned a masters' degree from Harvard Business School in 1954 and was able to serve as the group's interpreter when necessary.

Following the Chamber Coffee, the group visited Tarbox Hollow near Dixon and toured Heritage Homes in Wayne. After spending

Police investigate several cases of vandalism

Wayne Police Chief Lance Webster has reported that his officers have handled several vandalism calls recently.

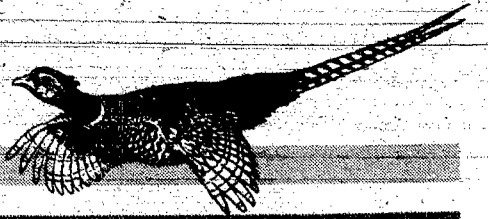

According to Chief Webster, one of the most disturbing was vandalism done at the new restroom in Sunnyview Park. Vandals tore the dispensers off the wall and plugged the toilet in the men's room and also broke three trees off at the ground level. The damage will cost several hundred dollars to clean up and repair.

"The Wayne Street Department works very hard keeping our parks in excellent shape and the addition of the restroom facility to Sunnyview was much needed. It is very disappointing that some very inconsiderate persons would vandalize a new facility in one of our city parks," Chief Webster said.

Chief Webster said his department has no leads so help is needed from the citizens of Wayne. Anyone who has any information about who was responsible for the vandalism at Sunnyview Park is asked to call the Wayne Police Department.

the night with several Wayne Rotary Club members, the group traveled to Norfolk on Saturday to continue their tour of the area.

The group is currently in Omaha and will return to France early next week.

Earlier this spring Wayne Mayor Sheryl Lindau was one of five Nebraskans chosen to visit France with a similar Rotary-sponsored Study Group.

"I was representing Rotary District #5650 and was sponsored by the Wayne Rotary Club," Mrs. Lindau said.

She was chosen, along with three people from Lincoln and one from Friend, last fall and began preparing for the group's presentation on Nebraska.

"We visited the central western coast of France and spoke to a number of Rotary Clubs in District 1510. Each of us made presentations on different aspects of Nebraska, including its history, economy and major industries," Mrs. Lindau said.

While in France, the group visited a number of factories, businesses and industries including schools, hog farms and airplane and car manufacturing plants.

"We stayed with Rotary members and their families and were treated like royalty the whole time. They took us to dinner parties and we were treated really special," she said.

The group stayed in each town two to five days. Town sizes ranged from those approximately the size of Wayne to those the size of Lincoln.

"We also toured a house built in the 14th century where Joan of Arc supposedly slept."

Mrs. Lindau found life in France similar to that of Wayne in many ways, including the fact that most homes have the same modern conveniences and the towns had American fast food restaurants.

"Women are not as involved in Rotary there. I did meet one female mayor and a number of female city council members," Mrs. Lindau said.

The group sat in on a city council meeting during their visit. The electoral process is somewhat different there and the council agenda had 56 items on it.

Since returning from France, the Nebraska Study group has spoken to the District Convention in Lincoln and to a number of other Rotary Clubs.

"My trip was very enjoyable. The people there treated us so well and a number of times thanked us for the help given by the United States during World War II," Mrs. Lindau said.

Rotary International sponsors a trip each year to a different location and non-Rotary members are invited to apply to be part of the study team.

Seventh graders score high in national testing

Six Wayne Middle School students qualified to participate in the Duke University Talent Identification Program for verbally and/or mathematically talented seventh grade students.

Elysia Mann and Andy Martin were invited to participate in the Grand Ceremony held at Duke University in Durham, N.C. on June 1 while Noah Judson scored high enough to be invited to the State Ceremony at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln on June 4.

Qualification is based on standardized test scores. The goals for the talent search are to provide additional information about the students' ability by administering advanced aptitude tests. (The Scholastic Aptitude Test or American College Test) and to provide a network of services and programs for academically talented students.

To be considered for the State Ceremony, students must have a 500 on the SAT Math or Verbal test or an 18 on the ACT Math test, 25 on the English test, 27 on the Reading test or 24 on the Science test.

Those qualifying for the Grand Ceremony, students must have scored 620 on the SAT Math or Verbal test or received a 22 on the ACT Math test or 29 on the English test or 31 on the Reading test or 29 on the Science test.

Elysia Mann

Results of the testing were based on the 68,652 scores received.

SAT and ACT Assessment are designed for above average high school students in the 11th and 12th grades. The 1997-98 Talent Search participants represent some of the most able seventh graders from 16 states.

mission to the program if other employment ends.

The organizations in which we place clients benefit from the program in several ways. They get an employee without having to pay for them. Also, the more mature workers generally bring stability to the work place, often reduce training costs because of low rate of turnover and demonstrate outstanding loyalty and dependability," Ms. Verges said.

Patricia Jenkins, one of the kindergarten teachers Mrs. Claussen worked with, also had high praise for the work done by Doris.

"Mrs. Claussen has definitely been an asset to me. I don't know how I would have managed without her," she said.

Although Mrs. Claussen's position with the Wayne Public Schools has come to an end and she has found employment elsewhere, she has been assured that if funds become available through the school district, she will be hired as an aide.

Mrs. Jorgensen, who worked as an aide at the Carroll Elementary School, has been hired by the Wayne Community Schools in another capacity.

For more information about the SCSEP, contact Ms. Verges at (402) 379-3049, or Ruth Eloffson at (402) 727-3250.

Mrs. Eloffson, a former Wayne resident, was a client in the program and has moved on to a staff position. She currently handles SCSEP clients in Wayne County.

Prison site decision questioned

By Leslie Boellstorff Reed

Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association
The $74-million question finally has been answered. Tecumseh is the lucky winner of the Nebraska prison sweepstakes. McCook went home the loser.

What a wild and wacky selection process! Some loosely compared it to the $195 million powerball lottery. Yet the odds were lower for the contestants and there was so much more at stake.

In the final days, as the unexpected piled upon the unexpected; I struggled to find an analogy in pop culture for the farcical way this decision process played out.

Was it more like the Keystone Kops or the old "Who's on First" Abbott and Costello routine? In the end, I think it most resembled a Three Stooges bit: Larry sidwipes Curly with a two-by-four, Curly responds with a mallet, but it's always Moe that ends up with a kick in the seat of the pants.

I'll leave you to match our favorite politicians to each of those roles.

The whole thing started out so sensibly last year.

The Legislature approved the new 960-bed facility - which would become the state's largest prison - because the number of inmates was fast outgrowing the state's prison system. But skepticism brewed almost from day one on where the new facility would be built. Some lawmakers had protested that a new juvenile prison had been mandated for Omaha when cheaper and more readily available sites were available elsewhere in the state. Out-state Nebraska wanted its turn at the construction dollars, jobs and payroll that the project would bring.

Problem is, there's an awful lot of Nebraska outside Lincoln and Omaha.

Nebraska Gov. Ben Nelson and State Corrections Director Harold Clarke devised a plan designed to make the selection process as objective as possible.

A five-member site selection team, composed of people from across the state, would be appointed to evaluate each proposed site based upon more than 50 criteria set out by the Corrections Department.

But controversy brewed as early as last summer. Clarke, Nelson and State Economic Department Director Maxine Moul were flooded with calls after a newspaper report that said the criteria seemed geared to urban areas, with existing infrastructure, services and transportation.

It was just a precursor to the battle between the East and the West the state was treated to last week.

By then, the site selection team had dwindled to four members. As might be inevitable, the team split in a 2-2 tie over its final recommendation. Those objective scores didn't help much. Averaged together, the scores of the two towns were less than 6 points apart, with McCook having a slight edge.

Then Nelson, even as he insisted that the final choice would go to Clarke, just couldn't resist trying to fix things.

McCook folks reportedly were angry about comments from some corrections officials and site selection team members that distance from Lincoln would be the criteria for Clarke's final decision. It's a lot cheaper to transport prisoners the 45 miles to Tecumseh from Lincoln - than the 228 miles to McCook. In addition, the new facility will require the transfer of some existing corrections workers from Lincoln and Omaha to the new prison.

In this era of two-career households, it would be easier to find workers willing to transfer to Tecumseh than to McCook.

Nelson, however, said distance already was taken into account in the scores and that Clarke should not reopen the evaluation process.

That led Tecumseh backers to believe that Nelson - a native of McCook - was home-towning the issue. So now both sides were mad.

Late on Memorial Day, a decision was reached to reconvene the site selection committee, Nelson said. It was a joint decision made by him and by Clarke. Others whispered that Nelson strong-armed Clarke into reconvening the committee because he'd learned that Clarke was going to choose Tecumseh.

State Senators from eastern Nebraska were sending letters to Nelson protesting his "bias" toward McCook. Lawmakers from the western part of the state were objecting to the apparent favoritism toward eastern Nebraska sites.

What a mess. And it got messier.

The site selection team hastily reconvened on an emergency basis Tuesday afternoon - only to vote unanimously to back whatever decision Clarke made. It was a decision that made some of us in the office laugh out loud. Kind of like when Larry whacks Moe upside the head.

Incident embarrassing

May 23, 1998.

Dear Editor,

Today I was embarrassed to say my hometown is Wayne.

I was attending a 5 p.m. wedding at the Methodist Church. There had been a 2 p.m. wedding at another church in town. As we were standing in front of the church, waiting for the Bride and Groom to get into their car, the wedding "party" from the other wedding pulled up in front of the church in two pick-ups honking and yelling. Then to everyone's horror, they "mooned" the church - the minister - the Bride and Groom and all the guests.

What a sad way to start their married life together - "mooning." Why didn't they honor their family and guests?

How do you explain to guests from out of town - out of state, that this is not a normal occurrence here in Wayne?

After the incident the mooners hid their heads - ashamed?? I doubt it. Too bad these were adults - children would have felt bad.

More unemployment facts revealed

Last week we looked at how the government defines "employed" in reference to the current low unemployment rate. Today we'll consider the question, "What is the criteria to be considered unemployed?"

Unemployment means the individual had no employment within the reference week and, except for temporary illness, was available for work, and had made definite efforts to find employment in the month prior to the reference week.

Unemployment is also categorized according to the status of individuals at the time they began to look for work. The reasons for unemployment are

Chamber
Corner
By Gaila Gilliland
Executive Director

divided into five major groups.

First, there are job losers, comprised of (a) persons on temporary layoff, who have been given a date to return to work or who expect to return within six months (persons on layoff need not be looking for work to qualify as unemployed) and (b) permanent job losers, whose employment ended involuntarily and who begin looking for work.

Second, there are job leavers, persons who quit or otherwise terminated their employment voluntarily and immediately began looking for work. Third are persons who completed temporary jobs and began looking for work after the jobs ended. Reentrants are persons who previously worked but were out of the labor force prior to beginning their job search. And finally, fifth, are new entrants or people who have never worked.

Each of these five categories of the unemployed can be expressed as a proportion of the entire civilian labor force; the sum of the four rates thus equals the unemployment rate for all civilian workers. (For statistical presentation purposes, "job losers" and "persons who completed temporary jobs" are combined into a single category until seasonal adjustments can be developed for the separate categories.)

Next week we'll take a look at what the unemployment rate tells us.

Sturm's drive to lead by example is perfect

By Kevin Peterson
Of the Herald

Ryan Sturm had a focus heading into his final year as a high school golfer—to lead his Blue Devil team by example.

Mission accomplished!

The lone senior highlighted the Blue Devils efforts with a co-state championship at the Class B State Golf Meet last week at Lincoln's Highland Golf Course.

In fact, Sturm was the only Class B player to shoot a round below par after a one-under 71 on the opening day.

Sturm tied Seward's Brandon Urban for the individual title but lost to Urban in the third hole of sudden death.

The son of Jim and Mary Sturm of Wayne, Ryan placed fifth last season and followed it up nicely this year.

"I like to set goals for myself at the beginning of the season," Sturm said. "When I was a sophomore my goal was to make varsity. When I was a junior my goal was to place at state and this year my goal was to win state."

Being the lone senior, Ryan felt the pressure of having to provide the quality leadership needed for a young team.

"There was pressure but this team has a lot of talent. I am a firm believer in getting on the younger players to strive for improvement each time out," Sturm added.

One of those younger players pushed Ryan pretty hard when it came down to being the number one man on the team.

"Klinton Keller is a tremendous golfer with a ton of talent," Sturm said. "Being just a sophomore, I have no problem in passing the leadership torch on to him for the next couple seasons."

Sturm said the biggest difference in his game from his junior to senior seasons is maturity.

"Timing, working hard on the range and just growing up made a big difference in the success of my senior season," he said. "I'm stronger than I was as a junior, thus I'm hitting the ball further and my timing's a lot better as well."

Despite playing Wayne's course on a regular basis, Ryan feels the home course is among the toughest played. "I think it's more a matter of knowing the course so well that gets me in trouble," Sturm said. "Sometimes knowing too much can hurt you."

Ryan began striking the golf ball when he was five years old in Arizona with his father. The love for the sport grew from that.

"I watch a lot of pro golf on television and I study the swing of the players and I study the way they handle themselves. Watching pro golf is a good teacher."

"The state golf meet was a great experience and a good time for me," Sturm said. "I'd like to thank my friends, family and the huge number of people who showed up in Lincoln to follow me for those two days. It really meant a lot to me."

Ryan will enroll at UNL this fall and following what he hopes is a successful baseball season, his focus will turn to school and trying out for the Nebraska Cornhuskers golf team.

He wants to study business administration and someday he may want to attend law school.

Wayne golf team ends year at State

The Wayne golf team was knotted with Beatrice for a second-place tie after one day of the Nebraska State Golf Tournament.

The Blue Devils and Orangemen were just four strokes off the pace set by Lexington while Omaha Gross, the defending state champs was one stroke behind Wayne and Beatrice.

Things didn't go so well the second day, however, as Wayne slipped from second to tie for sixth with Seward.

"The State Tournament was much like the rest of the season—a real roller coaster ride," Wayne coach Terry Munson said. "After a good first day that put the team in contention, we were unable to sustain the caliber of play on day two of the meet."

Ironically, the two teams that tied for sixth place yielded Class B's finest players as Wayne senior Ryan Sturm and Seward's Brandon Urban tied for the individual state championship.

The playoff to determine the gold medal winner lasted three holes before Urban emerged as the winner.

Sturm, however, closed out a sensational career in Wayne as a two-time state medal winner—fifth in 1997 and second in 1998.

Sturm played the Highlands Golf Course in Lincoln to a one-under 71 on day one and three-over 75 on day two for a two-over 146 total.

He maintained a one-shot lead after the opening round and he led Urban by two strokes.

"Ryan was as calm, cool and collected as any golfer I have ever coached," Munson said. "It was very evident watching him play that he was totally focused on the job at hand."

"This was Ryan's third state tournament and second year in a row that he was in the final group on day two of the state meet."

Wayne sophomore Klinton Keller fired a two-over par 74 on day one and was sitting in fifth place.

Keller played solid golf on day two until the final hole which had his number.

He finished with a 91 and a 165 total to place second on the team. Joel Munson fired rounds of 85-86 to place third on the team at 171.

while Nick Muir went 92-85 for a 177. Muir, incidentally, was the only Blue Devil to shave strokes off his score from day one's tally.

Jason Parks fired an 88 on day one and netted a 91 on day two for a 179.

Lexington cruised to a nine-stroke team victory over Omaha Gross. Beatrice was third at 638 and Holdrege, fourth at 639. McCook garnered a 652 for fifth place before Wayne and Seward carded 655's.

"It will be tough replacing a state champion level player for next season," Munson said. "I think the key is for our eight returning letterwinners to use their experience to bring their play up a level so that our over-all balance is again at championship caliber."

Munson said the 1998 team finished fourth at the first invite of the season—Plus, and then reeled off six consecutive invitational/district titles.

"With Ryan Sturm the only senior in the lineup, we may have more potential in 1999 than any team prior," Munson added. "I am already looking forward to the season and I know the players feel they have some unfinished business to take care of."

Jason Peterson laps the field with 11-stroke Open victory

By Kevin Peterson
Of the Herald

Norfolk's Jason Peterson fired an eight-under par 100 over 27 holes to easily capture championship honors at the Wayne Men's Amateur Golf Open last Sunday as 216 linksters took part.

If he had been running the mile, Peterson would have lapped the field.

The Oakland native fired a five-under-par 31 to start the day and then followed up with a 38 on the back nine for an initial 18-hole score of 69.

He took a five-stroke lead over a handful of players into the championship round.

The five that were chasing him included Wayne's Ken Dahl and Greg McDermott along with Sioux City's Dale Erwin, Omaha's Tim Marchese and Mission, S.D.'s Joe Prue.

Any thoughts of a challenge for the lead dissipated early as Peterson parred holes one and two before firing birdies on holes three, four, five, eight and nine for another five-under par 31.

The 11-stroke victory is the most in a Wayne open in the 90's.

Prue would win a tie-breaker for second place with a 111 followed by Ken Dahl with a 111.

Bob Wacker of South Sioux was fourth with a 112 and Kirk Eymann of Papillion was fifth at 112. Marchese settled for sixth with a 113 and Brian Evans of Sioux City was seventh at 113 followed by Tracy Mann of Norfolk with a 113 and Kyle Schellpeper of O'Neill at 113. Rod Dahl of Omaha placed 10th at 113.

The other event that drew a lot of attention was a hole-in-one recorded by Vermillion, S.D.'s Gary Prosser.

Prosseraced the number eight hole with a 6-iron. "It bounced in the front of the green and just rolled right in," Prosser said. "The pin was up front on the right side. We just watched it roll until it disappeared."

Eleven flights of golfers comprised the rest of the field with 81 of the 216 players competing in the championship flight.

There were a total of 19 local-member players who placed in the tournament.

The following is a composite of the flight winners with the local-member players in bold face.

First flight: Sam Prue, 72; Eric Perkinson, 76; Steve Blocher, 76; Tim Conzemius, 77.

Second flight: Jim Nelson, 76; J.R. Misfeldt, 77; Gary Prosser, 79; Reggie Yates, 80.

Third flight: Tim Carlson, 75; Kevin Peterson, 82; Marcus Wacker, 83; Glen Schuetze, 84.

Fourth flight: Val Kienast, 81; Nick Hagmann, 82; Fred Stinger, 83; Mike Logan, 83.

Fifth flight: Grant Ellingson, 82; Jim Broders, 82; Mark Ganseborn, 83; Joel Ankeny, 85.

Sixth flight: Doug Thompson,

82; Dennis Jensen, 84; Billie Roger, 85; Tim Jensen, 85.

Seventh flight: Gary Lubberstedt, 79; Tim Sutton, 85; Bill Sharpe, 87; Bill Patsios, 87.

Eighth flight: Corey Dahl, 86; Greg Urwiler, 86; Darrell Buhl, 87; Thomas Takowsky, 88.

Ninth flight: Roger Reikofski, 86; Scott Race, 88; Rob Stuber, 88; Monte Miller, 92.

Tenth flight: Brad Chapman, 88; Dan Redowl, 89; Dennis Merkel, 92; Steve Muir, 93.

Eleventh flight: Ron Surber, 94; Gary Swalley, 96; Darrell Metzler, 96; Kevin Armstrong, 99.

One of the state's most recognizable golf names, Tim Marchese chips on to the number three green during action at the Wayne Open, Sunday.

Jason Peterson ripped the local golf course to the tune of eight-under par over 27 holes to win by 11 strokes.

Wayne 18-under team runner-up

The Wayne 16-under and 18-under girls fast pitch softball teams opened season play last week.

Laurie Schaffer's 16-under team won 8-6 in the opener in Hooper as Beth Sperry was the winning pitcher.

Beth Loberg paced the offense with a double and single while Amy Magnuson, Stacey Kardell, Heidi Echtenkamp and Sperry each singled once.

Wayne fell to West Point, 26-9 in game two of the season. Amy Magnuson, Stacey Kardell and Beth Loberg hit safely for the locals.

The 16-under team posted a 1-4 record at the West Point Tournament over the weekend.

Wayne fell to McDonald's of Fremont in the opener, 7-4. Wayne's only hit of the game came from Beth Sperry with a triple.

Wayne fell to Pierce in game two, 9-6 as the only hit of the game for the locals came from Stacey Kardell's single.

Wayne fell to West Point-IBP, 12-6 with the locals notching four hits including two by Beth Loberg and one each by Stacey Kardell and Mandy Hansen.

The fourth loss of the tournament came at the hands of Lyons, 21-8. Wayne closed out the tournament with a 15-13 win over Wisner.

Monday night the locals fell to Tekamah, 13-9. Beth Sperry was the losing pitcher. Stacey Kardell doubled and singled to lead Wayne while Mandy Hansen singled twice. Elizabeth Campbell and Beth Sperry each had one single.

THE 18-UNDER team fell to West Point in the season opener, 5-4. Jenni Beiermann and Jennifer Schaffer each doubled for Wayne while Jessica Raveling and Carol Longe each singled.

Wayne did place runner-up at the West Point Tournament over the weekend.

Wayne defeated Cedar Bluffs in the opener, 9-6. Jo Jo Long, Jennifer Schaffer and Tina Ruwe each hit a pair of singles while Shona Stracke, Carol Longe and Stacey Langemeier each singled once. Stracke was the winning pitcher with seven strikeouts.

First Hall of Fame inductees honored

The Wayne Booster Club inducted four members into the recently established Athletic Hall of Fame at the Wayne High School spring athletic awards banquet.

This year, the Booster Club honored Al Hansen, Harold Maciejewski, Mike Ginn and Don Meyer. A permanent display at the high school will bear their names and those of future winners.

The Hall of Fame honors Wayne Community School athletes, coaches and others whose contributions to athletics are noteworthy. The athletic director collects written nominations, which must acquire the vote of 3/4 of the Board of Directors to be selected.

Once nominated, if not selected, the nominee will be automatically re-nominated each year for the next five years.

The Board, established for the purpose of reviewing Hall of Fame nominations, includes the current athletic director, current booster club president, Bob Reeg, Duane Blomenkamp, Ken Dahl, Lisa Backstrom, Richard Mettzer, Dan Johnson, Peg Kay, Harold Maciejewski, Laura Gamble and Al Hansen.

Al Hansen resides in Wayne with his wife Margaret, and they have three children, Donald, Marty and Tona. While in high school, he participated in baseball, football, basketball and track, earning nine letters.

He was a four-year letter winner in track at Wayne State College. Al received his bachelor's (1952) and master's degree (1961) from Wayne State College. He has been involved in coaching and teaching for 37 years.

He spent three years in Homer, four years in Chadron, four years in Pilger, three years in Wakefield and 23 years in Wayne.

Al was head basketball coach at Homer for three years and Pilger for four years. He coached track at Homer, Pilger, and Wakefield for 10 years. He also coached football at those three schools.

Al was Wayne's track coach for 21 years. He was head football coach at Wayne for 10 years and an assistant here before that. In his first year as head football coach, his record was 1-7-1. In the nine regular seasons after that his teams were 74-7-1. Al's career football record is 128-48-7.

His football teams were rated in the Top 10 six of the 10 years, and Al was a Shrine Bowl Coach in 1972. Health problems forced Al to give up football coaching in 1976. He has coached many all-state players throughout his career.

Harold "Mac" Maciejewski resides in Wayne with his wife Lavah. His daughters are Karen Maciejewski, Carol Richards and Vicki Roth (deceased). He has two stepdaughters, Rhonda Goery and Marla Petersen.

Mac graduated from Loup City Nebraska High School in 1938. He graduated from Henderson State College in Arkansas in 1942. He was a co-captain of the football team in 1941 and all conference in 1940 and 1941.

He had a professional contract with the L.A. Rams, but he enlisted in the Army in 1942, serving in Australia and Manila, Philippines.

Mac taught in Manila, Arkansas in 1946 and was a teacher and coach in Loup City 1946-57. He was a member of the Board of Directors of the Nebraska Athletic Directors Association and is a lifetime member of the Nebraska Coaches Association.

He has refereed high school and college football and basketball. Mac was with the Wayne Schools for 31 years from 1954-1985. He served as athletic director each of those years.

He was Wayne's football coach for nine years (1953-61), head basketball coach for 14 years (1953-67), golf coach for 31 years, track coach for nine years (1953-62) and boys' cross country coach for 22 years (1963-85). His football record was 48-5-1 with several conference championships.

His basketball teams won eight East-West, Husker Conference Championships. His basketball record is 246-81 (win percentage of 70%).

His teams won district championship seven times in five years and won the Class B State Championship in 1956.

In his nine years of track coaching, his 1956 team won the first conference title ever for Wayne. Every year several of his team members went to the state meet. Mac started the boys' cross country program in 1962 and had some fine runners who made it to state.

Mac's golf teams did not have district play in the early years, as teams went right to state. In 1965 Wayne won the district and went to state. His teams went to state ten times from 1965-1985.

In 1985 Mac's team won the state golf title, the school's first. Cole finished sixth in the individual state championship in 1974 and was the first Wayne golfer to do so. Girls' golf began in 1973, and Mac began managing the teams schedule.

Mac has received a number of awards over the years. He was the National Basketball Coach of the Year in 1945-46.

In 1980 he was presented an award for outstanding service to Nebraska High School Athletics by the Nebraska Athletic Directors Association.

The Blue Devil Boosters honored Mac in 1982 for 29 years of service to the students and athletes of the Wayne Carroll Schools. He was the Nebraska Athletic Director of the Year in 1985.

He received State Champion Awards from the Nebraska Coaches Association for basketball (1956) and golf (1985).

The Nebraska Athletic Directors presented him with an award in recognition of his years of service to high school athletics when he retired in 1985.

Of course, Wayne's Harold Maciejewski Invitational golf tournament is named in his honor as coach and founder of the tournament.

Don Meyer resides in Nashville, Tennessee. He is in his 23rd year as head coach of the David Lipscomb University Bison.

He and his wife Carmen have three children: Jerry, Brooke and Brittney. He received his B.A. at the University of Colorado and his Ph.D. from the University of Utah.

At Wayne he participated in varsity football and basketball for three years and varsity baseball for one. His team went to state in basketball.

Highlights of his high school career include his senior year of football under Coach Zapp, the accomplishments of the basketball program, and his senior year of baseball, which was the first year of the Wayne baseball program.

Coach Meyer has nurtured the Lipscomb University program, transforming it into one of the best basketball programs in the country.

His Bison teams have won more games than any other team in the country the past 10 years. Averaging over 33 wins per season, the 1989-90 squad set a national record with 41 wins.

His teams have consistently topped the nation in scoring over the past 10 years, averaging over 100 points per game. The Bison have been ranked No. 1 by the NAIA in five of the last 10 seasons.

He has taken the Lipscomb University Bison to 10 appearances in the national tournament, and his team won the NAIA National Championship in 1986.

They were in the Final Four in 1990 and 1996. The Bison have finished in the Top 20 for 12 straight seasons. Coach Meyer has had 20 All-American players.

Fifty-nine of sixty-one seniors, 97%, who have played for the Bison have earned degrees. Meyer hosts the largest basketball camp in the nation.

Meyer has reached the 600 win plateau faster than any coach in the history of college basketball. His record is 677-211.

He has received many awards, including being nominated to the NAIA Hall of Fame at age 42. He was named Coach of the Year in 1989 and 1990, and he was chosen assistant coach in the Sports Festival with Mike Krzyzewski.

Mike Ginn has been married for 20 years to his wife Laura, and they live in San Jan Capistrano, California. They have a son, John, who is 17, and a 15-year-old daughter, Gail. Mike received his B.A. from Nebraska Wesleyan.

He is currently managing director of the western office of the Gallup Organization, Inc. The business manages proprietary market research and consulting for Fortune 500 companies.

In high school, Mike played varsity baseball and football for four years and basketball for one year. He was all-conference in football for both offense and defense in 1971-72.

He was an all-state football player on offense in Class B that same season, rushing for over 1,000 yards.

His baseball team won the district championship in 1969, 1970 and 1971, competing in the state tournament those years. They were Class B State Champions in 1970. Mike was a pitcher and named to the all-state team in 1971.

He was the baseball team captain and most valuable player in 1971 and 1972. In 1971 he struck out 113 batters and averaged two strike outs per inning in 1971 and 1972. He batted .406 in 1972. He was named Wayne Athlete of the Year in 1972.

Mike played college baseball for four years: two at Wesleyan and two at the University of Nebraska. Wesleyan had 36 consecutive conference victories and two undefeated conference championships in 1975 and 1976. He was an all-conference selection as a pitcher both years.

Mike lists several highlights from his athletic career at Wayne: playing on a balanced, hard-hitting and well-coached football team in the fall of 1971.

"It was a fun group of guys with a lot of character that posted a 10-0 championship season," Ginn said.

Also, a highlight was playing with his brother Rick on an equally talented and fun baseball team that won the 1970 Class B state championship.

The mission of the organization is to encourage, educate and enhance opportunities for home-based businesses in Nebraska.

Its goals are: to build a strong network and provide marketing opportunities to home-based business owners; to provide educational opportunities and materials to NHBBA members and to assist members in marketing and promoting their products and services.

The Wayne Area Chapter of NHBBA is a local chapter of the state organization. It was formed in November of 1993 following a regional Home-Based Business Workshop organized by Carlos and Sheri Frey which was held at WSC.

Carlos was involved in getting the state organization started as well. Other local members who have served on the state board include Marvel Rahn and Tim Powell.

The Wayne Chapter meets at 7 p.m. on the second Monday of each month except August and December. Meeting places are announced via local news media.

Chapter meetings consist of a short business meeting, guest speaker or educational video with topics ranging from taxes to fi-ancing. The group generally has networking and brainstorming sessions where they share experiences, expertise and find leads to resources to help their businesses.

Many members have participated in the Entrepreneurial Training Program offered in Nebraska (Fast Trac now called EDGE) where they learned about starting a business and how to write a business plan.

New members are welcome at all meetings, whether they have a new or existing business or don't have a business idea yet.

Tarbox Hollow Living Prairie, located northeast of Dixon, is a recognition of the serene lifestyle and American Bison that once dominated the midwestern prairie.

Now in the third year, tours are conducted each spring and summer for children and adults to see what the prairies were like in Nebraska before the state was settled.

The buffalo ranch opened for the season on May 1 to serve the area schools. More than 19 schools have enjoyed the educational buffalo tours and prairie life presentations.

June marks the beginning of summer activities with vacationers coming to visit the native grasslands and ride the covered wagon into the buffalo herd.

Tarbox Hollow opens each day at 9 a.m. and closes at 7 p.m., seven days a week, through Oct. 1. Included in activities are a tour, buffalo lunches and hand-crafted gifts in a little, prairie-sized store.

According to Rose Mason, one of the owners of Tarbox Hollow, buffalo meat is gaining in popularity.

Buffalo meat (bison) has 35 percent more protein than beef; has less cholesterol than skinless chicken, turkey and is comparable to most fish. Bison are the only mammals that do not develop cancer and its meat is non-allergenic.

"We have buffalo meat sandwiches for sale here at Tarbox Hollow. We do not slaughter the animals we raise here. Instead, we purchase the meat from a packing plant," Rose said.

Visitors to Tarbox Hollow Living Prairie can observe nearly 200 head of bison grazing in habitat similar to what was available more than 100 years ago. The Mason family has been conducting tours of the area for three years.

There are approximately 200 buffalo at Tarbox Hollow, including the calves born this spring. Those sold are done so for breeding stock.

In addition to selling the buffalo, Mrs. Mason spins the buffalo "fluff" into yarn.

The second Annual

Mountainman Rendezvous will be hosted at Tarbox Hollow Living Prairie by the Sioux River Muzzleloaders. The event will be held June 19-21 as history will come to life.

The Rendezvous is family entertainment, free to the public and everyone is encouraged to see the tepees, lodges, contests and other activities. Also expected are activities by children of the Ponca Tribe of Nebraska.

Enjoy a relaxing time this summer with family and friends savoring the open skies, native grasses, wildflowers and wildlife!

For more information about Tarbox Hollow Living Prairie or to schedule a tour contact Larry, Rose and Monty Mason at (402) 584-2337.

all about Women
Women know the importance of annual exams, but many are concerned that it may bring bad news about their health. Abnormal pap smears, fibroids, ovarian cysts, irregular uterine bleeding or pelvic pain can be frightening...but are they always life-threatening? Early detection and treatment are crucial and can alter the outcome.

Divorced parents can ease visitation stress

Summer—traditionally the time for vacations and fun—can be a very stressful time for the children of divorced parents, especially during visitation or shared custody.

A divorce or separation probably will trigger strong emotional reactions in each family member. A parent who has custody of a child during the school year may be reluctant to send the child to the former spouse's new house. A parent who travels for business may worry about summer child care when traveling.

Family experts urge divorced parents to put any hostilities aside and make needed adjustments for the sake of the child.

Divorced or separated parents don't have to form a new friendship, but they do need to be able to communicate effectively about their children's needs. When person-to-person or telephone conversations don't work, a business letter or e-mail might be more effective until emotions are under control.

Using children as go-betweens isn't a good idea. Parents should encourage their children to express their feelings about the other parent, and listen without sharing their feelings or asking the child to take sides.

Once the visitation has been arranged, parents should talk to their children about the change positively, with the idea that it represents an opportunity for the child. Favorite books or a few toys should be packed for the child, to help make the new environment seem more familiar.

Linda Crumley, author of Cooperative Extension

To help with the transition, the parent preparing for a child's arrival should:

—Allow the child his or her own space, whether it's an individual room or even just a drawer.

—Allow time for adjustment by introducing new routines or new family member gradually. One-on-one time with the child is very important during the first few days of visitation.

—Pay close attention during a child's first visit to a new household, typically the most stressful visit. Younger children need more guidance than older children, but that doesn't mean older children don't need attention or supervision.

Circumstances can change a family structure, but each member of that family deserves a loving relationship.

MEMORIAL DAY PROGRAM

A Memorial Day Program was held on Monday, May 25 in the Winside Auditorium by the Roy Reed Post 252 of the American Legion.

The Post color guard advanced the colors and was followed by the Winside School Band playing the National Anthem. Post Chaplin Orville Lage gave the invocation.

Filling in for Wayne Denklauf this year was Robert Koll who welcomed everyone and made introductions. Boy Stater Justin Bargstadt read a speech given by Abraham Lincoln. Girl Stater Becky Flear read an essay and poem she had written.

Koll then read the roster of deceased Veterans who are buried in Wayne County and Wayne County Veterans who are buried elsewhere.

Keith E. Fickenscher, Director of Veterans Affairs for the State of Nebraska, was the guest speaker.

Auxiliary president Beverly Neel asked Rosemary Mintz to come forward and receive a presentation for her sister Gladys Gaebler. Gladys was chosen by the Auxiliary Post 252 as "Unit Member of the Year." She was recognized for all her years of dedication and service to the Auxiliary. Gladys is also the only charter Auxiliary member living.

She recently turned 100 years of age and is a resident of the Laurel Care Center.

Following the program a service was held at Pleasant View Cemetery by the color guard and firing squad and Post Chaplain Orville Lage. James Neel placed a poppy wreath on a white memorial cross. Taps was played by Jeff Jacobsen and Rachel Deck.

Prior to the Memorial Day program, poppy wreaths were placed on all Veterans graves by John Neel, Jessie Thies, and Chris Thies. Auxiliary members Audrey Quinn and Lila Hansen gave a memorial day prayer at each of the following cemeteries: Theophilus, Immanuel, Swedish, Zion Lutheran, Trinity Lutheran at Hoskins, Community, and Spring Branch.

A dinner was prepared and served in the Post home from 11:15 to 1 p.m. by Auxiliary members with Rose Janke as chairman.

Pork meeting planned

Liz and Gary Doerr of Creighton say they learn something nearly every time they visit with swine producers who, like them, farrow fewer than 500 sows. So when they meet with a dozen other presenters and producers during a July 1 University of Nebraska swine networking workshop in Columbus, they'll likely go home with some new ideas or way of thinking.

"Networking—A Smorgasbord of Pork Production Opportunities" will help producers share information and ways of production or marketing. The day-long workshop is sponsored by NU's Pork Central, NU Cooperative Extension and the Nebraska Pork Producers Association.

Ron Oelling of Reca, a workshop panelist, will discuss a production network. Oelling farrows his own sows, then transfers 13- to 19-day-old pigs to a nursery/grow/finish facility belonging to other producers. With this Segregated Early Weaning arrangement, the pigs grow up with less stress and more specific feeding arrangements for better health and weight gain. Oelling can focus on using his farrowing management, facilities and labor to the fullest. While the arrangement works very well for him, Oelling admits it may not be for everyone. Communication and compromise are key for a successful relationship, he said.

Al Prosch, Pork Central coordinator, estimates 25 to 30 percent of Nebraska's producers are involved with some type of networking. About 25 percent of all Pork Central calls are related to network information, he said.

Topics at the July 1 networking workshop in Columbus will cover various types of networking, legal issues and opportunities.

In addition to the Doerrs and Oelling, presenters include other Nebraska producers; Chris Hurt of Purdue University, sharing insights on the many systems required by a changing pork industry; Ken Doyle of Doyle Associates at Gillespie, Ill., discussing how a network stays together over time; Dr. Phil Hardenburger, Nebraska Pork Producers Association president and Crete veterinarian, discussing the role of NPPA and allied industries; and NU Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources specialists Mike Brumm, Bob Willis and Dave Aiken, speaking on network coordination and legal issues.

The 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. workshop is at the New World Inn. Registrations are due June 26 and are $25 for the first person from a production unit and $10 for additional persons from the same group. To register, or for more information, call Pork Central at (800) 767-5287.

Pork Central is sponsored by the Nebraska Pork Producers Association and Cooperative Extension in NU's Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources. Pork Central offers one-on-one advice of production and management issues, publications, producer networking contacts and record keeping programs. Stories of life are amazing

ANGST! It was angst I was having over a birthday, not anger. Our dictionary defines it as a feeling of anxiety, or dread. It's German and it's one of those words that is pronounced like it feels.

Also, the fellow playing the pipe organ at St. John in Seward the other night was Charlie Ore, Professor Charles Ore at Concordia College, who plays the pipes the way they should be played. Just wanted to make those corrections.

We had a guest over the weekend who played the organ in our family room by ear, rag-time and golden oldies, and it also sounded very good. This guy is a professor, of astronomy, who machine quilts as a hobby. He has fun going to quilt classes and shows because the ladies never expect a man to quilt.

And speaking of quilts, the annual quilt show at Anna's begins next week. Anna's is the gourmet restaurant in Cedar Creek, presided over by a German Chef. Its owner, a lady, also machine quilts. Every year, she picks a theme, such as paisley or plaid and invites quilters to participate. This year, it's black and white and grey and bright and hers is already on display. It's gorgeous. If you like quilts, you should come see this show. Food's great, too, of course.

I never cease to be amazed at stories of life's coincidences. We have reservations in July for a couple from Florida who plan to visit her mother in a nursing home in Council Bluffs. We aren't exactly just down the street from there, but she doesn't like motels. (We have more and more guests like that.) She did find a phone listed for a bed and breakfast in the Bluffs and called there first. In the meantime, it had closed and its phone number had gone to her mother's room at the nursing home! When the lady in Iowa answered, her daughter in Florida said, "Mother, what are you doing in a bed and breakfast." What are the chances?

We also have had guests who attempted to make reservation at the Carriage House in Beatrice. After the number in the phone book appeared, that bed and breakfast also closed. Then an assisted living facility chain with that name opened.

It made for an amusing conversation with the Lincoln couple trying to reserve for one night and the facility spokesperson saying

"Well, we usually charge by the month."

We were thrilled to read of the three gold medals by a Winside grad at the state track meet. I understand that the school record in the 400 had been held by Randy Jacobsen. That is a long-standing record. Good job, Landon!

Protect Skin From Harmful Sun Rays

As the temperature rises, and we approach summer, more and more individuals head outdoors for swimming, sunbathing and other activities. Many will spend hours on the beach or at the lake in hopes of getting a "beautiful tan." However, excessive exposure to ultraviolet rays of the sun can cause severe sunburn. Exposure over several years can lead to premature aging of the skin and skin cancer.

Properly applied sunscreen products have been shown to prevent one type of skin cancer called squamous cell carcinoma. It is not clear whether or not sunscreens prevent melanoma, another skin cancer type. Broad spectrum sunscreens are considered the best - they block multiple harmful rays. Sunblockers such as zinc oxide and titanium oxide are effective also. Some health experts are concerned that over-reliance on sunscreens may contribute to people staying in the sun longer than they should.
