Highway construction continues to progress

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Progress continues to be made toward the widening of Highway 35 through Wayne.

Estimates indicate that 55 percent of the financial end of the project has been completed.

Scott Brummond, for the Nebraska Department of Roads and Rad Dobson of Dobson Brothers Construction, the general contractor for the project, indicate that 70 percent of the grading work is done on the project, 99 percent of the water, sewer and utility work has been completed, as has 95 percent of the box culvert work while 60 percent of the storm sewer work is finished.

Work continues on both the east and west portions of the project.

"We anticipate that by late next week traffic on East Seventh Street will be shifted to the south to allow for work to be done on the north half of the street," Brummond said.

"The rain during the past two months has caused some delays. We have had rain on 23 days since the west part of Seventh Street was closed. This means we have had to dry out dirt over and over again," Dobson said.

"The existing soil near Pac 'N Save was very wet and took a lot more time to prepare than we anticipated. However, we have worked everything out," he added.

In recent weeks Lincoln Street was opened across Highway 35 and will remain open until construction is completed on Sherman Street at which time Sherman Street will open and Lincoln Street will be closed.

On the west half of the project, paving on the south two lanes will be completed in a west to east direction and the north lane of the road will be done in an east to west direction. The projected date of completion for the west half of the project is Aug. 22.

On East Seventh Street, near the National Guard Armory, the box culvert work should be finished in approximately three weeks. However, Pine Heights Road will continue to be closed while work is being completed on the north half of the road.

"We will have key intersections open throughout the project. These include Logan and Windom Streets, Providence Road and Centennial Road," Brummond said.

Plans call for traffic on East Seventh Street to be shifted to the south late next week as construction begins on the north lanes. After the shift, crews will begin removing all of the existing roadway and obstructions and start work on the storm sewers in the area.

On the east half of the project, paving of the north two lanes will be done from east to west while traffic is allowed on the south lanes.

Both Brummond and Dobson stress the need for motorists to use caution in the construction areas.

"This will be even more important when work begins on the east half of the project when traffic will be reduced to one lane at times and construction crews will be closer to traffic. There will be lots of equipment pulling onto and off the roadway and the situation will be tight at times," Brummond said.

At the present time, a total of 30 people are working in the construction areas, including those from Dobson Brothers, the subcontractors and the State Department of Roads.

Dobson said that the majority of the grading work for the

Clowning around

Fun Days were held in Carroll on Saturday with a large crowd enjoying many activities. Shriner Clowns, Boblito and Farfe of Lincoln, made balloon animals for the children on hand. The clowns also entertained the children in the park with tricks and magic. Some of the other activities of the day included a Fun Run, a waterfight, Carroll Vs. Hadar baseball game, a coed volleyball game, a Tai-kwan-do demonstration, and a demonstration by K-9 dog "Dux." Fun Days is held annually to raise money for equipment for the Carroll Fire Department and Rescue Unit.

Wayne hosts baseball tournament

By Kevin Peterson
Of the Herald

Wayne will be the site of the 1998 Class B State Baseball Tournament.

The eight-team double elimination bracket will be set, Saturday with action beginning next Friday, July 31 and running through Tuesday, Aug. 4.

There will be four games played on the first two days of competition, at 11 a.m., 2 p.m., 5 p.m. and 8 p.m.

It will be the first state tournament held in Wayne since 1988 when the City hosted the Class B Midgets State Tournament.

Park employees and volunteers have been very busy preparing for the event which will also benefit the community from an economic standpoint.

A new grandstand has been put in and seating capacity with the grandstand and bleachers should be around 1,000.

A new tarp was purchased this season through the work of the Wayne Baseball Association and the concession stand has been totally renovated with running water, sink and new countertops.

Landscaping in front of the grandstand is new and a new sound system was purchased.

"Volunteers have really stepped forward to chip in to make Wayne's facility one of the more attractive parks in Class B," Wayne coach Jeff Zeiss said.

"We feel we have one of the better parks that we play on and from what we've heard from other teams, the feeling is mutual. We're looking forward to showing it off to the rest of the state."

Zeiss said young people that work at the Park take pride in what they do.

Zeiss credits the work put in by Chad Metzler, Dusty Jensen, Robb Nelson, Cody Niemann, Justin Thede, Ryan Sturm, Joe Lutt, Brad Maryott, Jaimey Holdorf, Paul Zulkosky, Jenni Beiermann and Brooke Parker.

During the State Tournament, an information booth will be set up with souvenirs, programs and shirts on sale from Stadium Sports.

A certified athletic trainer will be on hand for every game from Wayne State College.

Former Wayne baseball standout Jeff Griesch will return to do the public address announcing for State Tournament games. Griesch is a member of the Sports Information Department for the University of Nebraska at Lincoln.

Picnic tables will be set up behind the visitors dugout along with a tent and grills will be brought in as well.

Baseball flags will be put up and new bat racks have been put in each dugout.

The Chamber Coffee will be held at the ball park on Friday, July 31. Tournament directors for the state event include Roger-Niemann and Ray Nelson.

Car accident injures Hoskins man

The Wayne Police Department responded to a one vehicle injury accident Tuesday afternoon at Third Avenue and Oak Drive.

Upon arrival, the police officers found that a 1993 Pontiac Grand Prix had struck a tree in Ashley Park. Witnesses told investigating officers that they had seen the vehicle going very fast just prior to the accident.

Members of the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department Rescue Squad, assisted by Providence

Medical Center ambulance personnel, were able to extricate the driver, Neil Thelen, 37, of Hoskins, who was transported to Providence Medical Center.

Thelen was later transferred to Marian Health Center. The extent of his injuries is not known.

According to the investigating officer, Sgt. Bob McLean, the cause of the accident is still under investigation. The car had been eastbound on Third Avenue and crossed Oak Drive, jumped a curb and struck the tree.

There were no skid marks or other indications that the driver tried to stop prior to impact. Sgt. McLean is trying to ascertain if there was a mechanical failure in the car or a medical condition of the driver that may have been the primary causal factor.

According to Chief Webster, this accident could have been much worse.

"Thank God there were no children playing in that part of the park at the time of the accident," Webster said.

He said the tree that was hit was placed directly across from the stop sign, preventing anyone who went through the stop sign from going into the park.

"Had the tree not been where it was, this car would have gone into the park and struck playground equipment," he said.

Rescue personnel from the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department Rescue Squad and Providence Medical Center work to remove Neil Thelen from his car after it hit a tree in Ashley Park.

Halsey sets course for WSC

"The plan for Wayne State College during the coming academic year is to continue to build on our strengths and offer our students the same high quality education they are accustomed to at Wayne State," said Dr. Ken Halsey, interim WSC president.

"Wayne State's central theme has been 'Where Bright Futures Begin.' Within this central theme the College has accepted a challenge of 'New beginnings.' New Beginnings, however, does not require substantial changes at WSC," according to Halsey. Under the direction of a seasoned management team that works very well together, WSC stands ready to build on its proud heritage of student and regional development, Halsey stated.

"We will continue to offer outstanding student support services, which is one of the hallmarks of Wayne State," Halsey commented. He noted the faculty and staff are poised to assist students with the ever-changing technology and life-preparatory demands experienced at college.

The well-maintained campus shows on-going expansion and timely renovation and stands ready to welcome incoming and continuing students when classes begin in August. The renovation of the former power plant building into a teaching facility for studio arts is nearing completion. The Student Cafeteria is also undergoing a facelift this summer in preparation for the arrival of students in the fall.

In addition, Connell Hall has been vacated since the close of the Spring semester and is currently being completely renovated. When complete, Connell will be the home of the Social Sciences Division and modern classrooms. This project is scheduled for completion in the fall of 1999.

"Wayne State College enjoys the support of a legislature that expects, and deserves, no less than our very best. Under the watchful eye of a caring Board of Trustees and a capable System Office that assists in coordinating our endeavors to strengthen the State College System, the institution's general direction seems secure and certain," Halsey said.

"Of course, the students are what it's all about," he said, "When they come back to campus this fall, all of the pieces are in place to offer them a wonderful college experience."

John C. Neihardt, class of 1897, and Nebraska's Poet Laureate, said, "It was as though the college had been created for me. It lifted me to a higher creative level of being."

"The same is true for students

Lederer family gathers at Hoskins for reunion

Lederer families started arriving at the Bud and Dorothy Lederer home three miles north of Hoskins starting on June 27 with the main reunion being held July 3, 4, 5 and 6.

On Friday, some of the families gathered for an evening fish fry, went to see antique engines that Val Gene Koehler restored and then had a surprise 70th birthday party for Bud.

On Saturday, about 23 Lederer descendants were in the Hoskins 4th of July parade, showing signs of states being represented, along with their own clown clear from Nevada. Then 26 relatives attended the annual Hoskins Community breakfast. All returned to the Bud Lederer home with more joining in for a day of visiting and reviewing the 44 volumes of books Dorothy has put together on family history dating back to before 1609 when Bud's seventh great grandfather was born.

Many family members enjoyed either the Hoskins or Norfolk fire works that evening.

The main day for the reunion was held on Sunday. During these days 96 relatives and six guests were present. All of the Louis Lederer living grandchildren were present. Besides ancestors of Charles Gottlieb attending, the Pfundsteins, John Friederick and Oltmanns were represented too.

The youngest relative at the reunion was Krystina Schuett (2 months) daughter of Gary and Cathy Schuett of Norfolk and the oldest was Clara Raasch soon to be 82, daughter of Walter and Laura Zumburum Lederer. Fifteen states were represented including: Neb., Ore., Mont., Colo., Ariz., Ala., N.C., Ill., Wash., Calif., Tenn., Iowa, Kan. Nev., and S.D.

The next reunion will be held in Lincoln, Mont., the first weekend of July 2001. The George Lederer descendants will be hosting the event with possible tours to Conrad, Mont., to visit the home- stead of George Lederer, now owned by his daughter and son-in-law, Elsie and Burt Johnson.

Charles Gottlieb came over to the United States from Geradstetten, Germany in 1855 and it was from him that the family originated in the U.S.

Sunscreens

Use Them Or Not?

There has been much reported recently on a study that questioned the belief that sunscreens prevent melanoma (skin cancer). However, dermatologists question that study and continue to tell their patients to use it. According to Darrell Rigel of New York University, "Until there is proof that sunscreens are ineffective, it would be irresponsible to discontinue all recommendations about using sunscreens."

A broad-spectrum sunscreen rated SPF 15 or higher is recommended. It should be applied 30 minutes before going into the sun. Since questions exist on its effectiveness minimize your time in the sun.

Dobson also said that when the pouring of concrete begins, crews will be working during late night hours to saw joints in the concrete.

"The sawing is completed after the concrete has cured to a certain point. It is necessary to work during the night when the concrete is ready. We will try to keep everyone informed as to when this procedure will take place," Dobson said.

He added that daily updates on the construction process are broadcast on radio station KTCH to keep the public informed on road closings and detours.

A May 1999 completion date has been set for the project.

Circus is coming to Wayne

The Culpepper and Merriweather Circus will be appearing in Wayne on Tuesday, July 28 for two performances, one at 5:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.

The circus, sponsored by the Wayne Kiwanis Club, will be located at the Wayne Fairgrounds.

Due to the public's renewed interest in live family entertainment, Culpepper and Merriweather Circus is once again traveling from town to town delivering world-class performances to sold-out crowds throughout the western United States.

As an added feature to the circus, an "endangered species show," will be held at 10 a.m. on the morning of the circus. This concept was developed to teach about the threat of extinction of certain animals for our earth. Those in attendance can see and hear of the intelligence of the largest of all land mammals, the African elephant.

The program will be followed by a tour of the circus.

Also, area residents are encouraged to go to the fairgrounds early that morning to watch the raising of the "Big Top" as it was done 200 years ago.

For more information on the circus, call 375-3868 or 375-1848. Advance tickets may be purchased at the three Wayne banks, the Chamber of Commerce office, Pac 'N Save, Quality Food Center and Sav-Mor Pharmacy.

Advance tickets are $5 for children 2-12 years of age and $7 for adults. Tickets the day of the circus are $6 for children and $8 for adults. A portion of the ticket sales will go to benefit Kiwanis-sponsored activities.

The group will perform at 7:30 p.m.

Saturday's events include the Nebraska Bush pullers sanctioned tractor pull beginning at 7 p.m.

On Sunday, the last day of this year's fair, the UFF-DA Polka Band will present a show in the Little Theater beginning at 1 p.m.

The final event of the fair will be the annual Demolition Derby scheduled to begin at 5 p.m.

The Mac Amusements will be on the grounds during the entire fair.

Included in the many exhibits at this year's fair will be the Mobile Nebraska Veterans' Hall of Honor, featuring service memorabilia, including uniforms, souvenirs and pictures.

Coalition receives grant

Capitol News — Analyzing politicians is complicated issue

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Some days, it's almost too much to believe.

It's like my cartoonist colleague, Paul Fell, once said: "Some days you gotta work for it, and some days they just hand it to you on a sieve."

Stay with me and I will explain.

You pick up the local newspaper and you read that Republican candidate for governor, Mike Johanns, is saying that whatever happens to the constitutional amendment to limit government revenues is really up to the people. He was big on it during the primary election, but now thinks it's not for him to say "yes" or "no."

A day or so later, the local newspaper has Mike Johanns saying he will sign the petition to put the amendment on the ballot, and he will vote for it if it gets that far.

And then...

You pick up the paper and you see what you thought you'd never see... Johanns does a "Bob Kerrey" to top just about any "Bob Kerrey" I can think of; and I can think of a lot of them.

(One example: Then Gov. Kerrey gave me and a guy named Fogarty an exclusive story. Kerrey said he would announce a special legislative session at an afternoon news conference. Fogarty and I get the scoop, strut into the news conference like a couple Irish guys who had a beer at lunch, and listen while Kerrey says... he will NOT call a special session. Hey, he changed his mind!)

Back to Johanns. What does Mike do to out-Kerrey the Kerrey? The political equivalent of a double-reverse is what he does.

He makes another pronouncement and says the petition/revenue lid issue is divisive. He says it has the potential to tear the state apart, and he's against.

On the 1-10 scale, I give the guy a 5, at most. The degree of difficulty was a whopper, but he blew the execution. (Kerrey gave great execution.)

The Johanns gambit of concern over a "divisive" issue won't flush. The tough issues always have the potential to be divisive. Slavery and Vietnam and civil rights on the big scale. Trying to dodge the tax burden and shove it onto someone else's shoulders on the lesser scale. The latter is a perennial at the national level and in most states.

What would have given Johanns high marks? Saying whether he thought the substance of the petition was good or bad. Some sincere businessmen and other folks think it's dandy. Still others, including Hoppner, think it could ultimately lead to the deterioration of our schools and put an end to legislative efforts to reduce property taxes. (And despite Ed Jaksha's lamentations to the contrary, recent Legislatures have, in recorded fact, enacted measures to generate property tax relief at the local level.)

The thing that has me scratching my head is that the Johanns of the double-reverse is not the Johanns that I observed in years of watching and writing about local and state politics. Johanns has enough beef in his britches to say what he thinks about an issue. Like Hoppner, his pronouncements and decisions give heart to some, and heartburn to others. That comes with the governing territory.

I don't believe for a moment that the Mike Johanns with whom I have conversed in recent years would take a pass on civil rights or a Vietnam conflict. But I would like to know if he opposes the petition because he thinks it represents bad policy.

It's good that he has concern for the "One Nebraska" concept to which Gov. Ben Nelson has given voice.

On the other hand, the Panhandle will not secede, the football team will not lose to the Lake Wobegon Whippets (if you say "what football team?", you're a tourist) and Johanns' Republican voter registration edge of 130,000 will not be diminished if he makes a statement of policy to go along with his statement of apparent concern.

So, Mike. Tell me something. Is the substance of the petition a lock on government revenues via direct democracy—a good idea? It doesn't have to be a "yes" or "no" answer. I'm not one of those pushy, talk-radio geeks. I wrote this for you, sort of. So, write one for me if you have time. I'll share it with the folks, one way or another.

Back to Paul Fell.

See, if a columnist tried to take this scenario and make it funny, like, funny ha-ha, it wouldn't work. It would slip through comedic endeavor like that sieve that Fell talked about.

That's partly because it's a bit complicated. And partly, as Molly used to say: "Tain't funny, McGee!"

When I hear from Mike, I'll let you know.

One other thing. At least one person let me know that they objected to my saying in a recent column that Bill Hoppner was "at least as alert as the average dead person." Okay, I acknowledge that Hoppner is more alert than any dead person I've known.

IDENTITY THEFT IS ON THE RISE DON'T LET IT HAPPEN TO YOU

Identity theft crimes are on the rise nationwide. Having your identity stolen can devastate your good credit and can require endless hours of telephone and written communication to resolve. When an imposter obtains your personal identifying information such as your Social Security number, bank or credit card account numbers, that imposter can assume your identity. Your personal information can be used by the identity thief to fraudulently open credit card accounts, secure deposits on cars and housing, and even to rob your retirement earnings.

Identity thieves are information seekers. They obtain your personal information by sorting through your trash for discarded receipts and other personal information, accessing public records and even stealing from your mailbox.

You can greatly reduce your chances of being the next victim of identity theft by following some precautionary steps to protect your personal identifying information.

- Consider removing "extra" information from your printed checks such as your middle name or initial. Never have your Social Security number printed on your checks.
- Do not carry your Social Security card, birth certificate or passport in your wallet or purse, except when needed.
- You may not want to leave envelopes containing checks at your home mailbox for the postal carrier to pick up. Credit card payments contain all the information an identity thief needs.
- Never give credit card information or other personal information over the telephone to an unknown caller. Callers who indicate they represent your bank or need your personal identification numbers to confirm your identity to issue you a prize should be treated with suspicion. Check with your bank or with the Attorney General's Office before giving personal information.
- Do not give your Social Security number or a credit card account number as identification when cashing a check. It is a legitimate request for a business to ask to see your drivers license as a means of identification.
- Be careful when disposing of old bank account statements, bank transaction slips or anything that has your bank or credit card account numbers or your Social Security number on it. Identity thieves may be very interested in your "trash".

Many times you may be unaware that your identity has been stolen until you apply for a credit card or a loan for a new car or home and find your credit report shows inaccuracies or fraudulent use of your account. To avoid a surprise of this kind, you may want to order your credit report once a year from each of the three credit bureaus to check for any problems.

If you suspect that you are the victim of identity theft contact Attorney General Don Stenberg, Consumer Protection Division, 2115 State Capitol Building, Lincoln, NE, 68509, or phone 1-800-727-6432.

Benefits of 'Rebuild America' explained

Last week I introduced Rebuild America and described participation as a partner. To review, Rebuild America can help make your business or apartment building even more profitable. Why become a Rebuild America partner?

One benefit is free audits. Whether the needed assessment is simple or complex, the Energy Office or other skilled professionals will provide appropriate technical assistance free of charge.

A second benefit provides for on-site explanation of audit findings. The audit of your operation will identify options for saving energy and reducing costs. An energy professional will discuss those findings, as well as the estimated cost of any improvements.

Third, you will gain access to low-interest financing. Since 1990, only the state's smaller businesses have had access to low-interest rate loans, currently at six percent. By late 1996, more than 520 Nebraska businesses had gotten Dollar and Energy Savings loans from their local lenders to finance $8.34 million of energy efficiency improvements in their operations.

Now, by becoming a Rebuild Nebraska partner, commercial building owners of any size can borrow up to $100,000 for making energy efficiency and waste minimization improvements in their buildings and systems. Apartment building owners can borrow up to $60,000 per building for energy-saving improvements.

The Nebraska Energy Office agrees to provide partners with comprehensive information about the economic benefits of energy efficiency including lighting surveys and energy audits identifying the most cost effective improvements. The Nebraska Energy Office will help partners maximize their capital investment resources.

A handbook of financing options including local, state and federal programs, lease-purchase programs, guaranteed savings and utility demand side management programs will be provided to help partners identify financing sources for cost effective improvements.

Further, the NEO will develop a Rebuild Nebraska partner consortium that will help individuals as well as building owners have a better understanding of the benefits of energy efficiency, including occupant comfort, reduced utility costs and increased property value.

Partners' actions will be demonstrated and replicated to improve energy efficiency of commercial and multifamily residential buildings in other communities throughout Nebraska.

Softball teams end season

WAYNE—The Wayne 16-under and 18-under softball teams ended the season on Tuesday in winning fashion. The 16-under defeated Wisner, 17-4 with Heidi Echtenkamp earning the pitching victory. Stacey Kardell doubled and singled and Beth Loberg singled twice while Amy Magnuson and Heidi Echtenkamp each doubled. Danika Schuett and Beth Sperry each singled.

The 18-under team defeated Wisner, 20-8 as Jennifer Schaffer earned the pitching victory. Jennifer Beiermann paced the offense with a home run and two singles while Timoni Grono doubled and singled with Jojo Longe and Tina Ruwe each singling twice. Megan Meyer and Stacey Langemeier each had a base hit.

The 16-under team finished with a 9-15 season record while the 18-under team went 10-14 with one tie.

Juniors battle at districts

The Wayne Junior Legion baseball team continued Area Tournament play in Blair through Monday night with a 2-1 record.

Wayne defeated Arlington in first round action, 5-4 as Ryan Sturm took the win in relief of Justin Thede.

Sturm pitched the game's final two innings and struck out five of the six batters he faced.

Arlington finished with four runs on four hits while Wayne had nine hits.

Brad Maryott doubled to start the bottom of the sixth inning with the contest tied at four. Justin Thede then hit a ball to deep centerfield and Maryott tagged up and scored from second base for the game-winner.

Ryan Dunklau paced Wayne's offense with a double and two singles while Rob Sturm tripled and doubled while knocking in two runs.

Brad Maryott finished with a double and single with Justin Thede and Darin Jensen each netting a base hit.

Wayne lost its second round game against top-seed Pierce, 6-3 on Saturday night.

Both teams finished with five hits but Wayne suffered seven costly errors. Darin Jensen was tagged with the loss despite pitching a solid game with seven strikeouts.

Wayne led 3-1 heading to the bottom of the sixth inning when Brent Tietz erupted for four runs on just two hits and four Wayne errors.

Ryan Sturm doubled and singled to lead Wayne while Darin Jensen singled twice. Adam Endicott also had a base hit.

Monday night in Blair, Wayne blasted Hartington, 11-1 as Justin Thede earned the victory with six strikeouts while scattering four hits.

Wayne pounded out 14 hits as they improved to 22-16 on the season.

Brad Maryott spared the offense with an inside-the-park home run and two singles while Rob Sturm singled three times. Brent Tietz doubled and singled with Ryan Sturm and Justin Thede each netting two singles.

Adam Endicott and Darin Jensen had a base hit each.

At press time the only four teams remaining in Area play were Wayne, Arlington, Pierce and Blair.

THE WAYNE MIDGETS saw their season end at 20-17 following a 20-2 thrashing at the hands of Blair, Monday night.

Adam Jorgensen was tagged with the loss as Blair pounded out 17 hits while Wayne's lone hit came from Craig Olson in the form of a single.

Little League teams near end of season

The Wayne Little League and Pony League baseball teams continued season play last week with the Little League Red team splitting two contests.

Against Pierce the locals fell by a 3-0 margin as Dana Schuett took the loss despite nine strikeouts. Wayne's two hits came from Matt Nelson with a double and Dana Schuett with a single.

Wayne bounced back to down Pender Red, 6-3 as Ryan Hix claimed the pitching victory. Wayne notched four singles in the game from Matt Nelson, Ryan Hix, Dana Schuett and Josh Rasmussen.

The Pony League Red team lost to Pierce, 4-2 as Adam McGuire took the loss despite eight strikeouts. Dana Schuett and Eric Sturm each had a single to account for Wayne's only hits.

Wayne edged Pender Red, 10-9 as Eric Sturm was the winning pitcher with Adam McGuire earning the save.

Nathan Bull ripped two triples to pace the offense with Dana Schuett netting two base hits. Eric Sturm, Judd Giese and Tanner Niemann each had one single.

Wayne's Little League Blue team won 13-4 over Wisner with Brad Frevert taking the pitching victory with a dozen strikeouts.

The offense pounded out 10 hits led by Aaron Jorgensen with two doubles and a single while Chris Nissga doubled twice and Caleb Garvin singled twice.

Trevor Krugman tripled and Brad Frevert doubled while Jacob Kay notched a single.

The Wayne Pony League Blue team won 9-3 over Wisner with Andy Baker taking the win with eight strikeouts.

Brad Hochstein singled twice while Jeremy Foote doubled to pace the offense. Mike Sturm, Travis Luhr, Ryan Schmeits and Andy Baker each singled.

Wayne fast pitch softball teams compete at State

The Wayne 16-under and 18-under softball teams competed in the Nebraska State Softball Tournament in Hastings over the weekend.

The 16-under opened with a 10-1 win against Yutan as Beth Sperry earned the win, striking out four and allowing just three hits.

Stacey Kardell hit a triple while Heidi Echtenkamp doubled and singled. Sperry also doubled while Beth Loberg singled twice and Mandy Hansen had one base hit.

Wayne fell to York, 4-2 as Sperry was tagged with the pitching loss. Heidi Echtenkamp, Stacey Kardell and Danika Schuett each doubled twice while Lyndi Tietz, Amy Magnuson, Beth Loberg, Beth Sperry and Elizabeth Campbell had singles.

Wayne lost to Geneva, 14-2 in its final state game with Sperry again taking the loss.

Lyndi Tietz and Mandy Hansen notched Wayne's lone hits—both singles.

The 18-under team went two-and-out in Hastings as they fell in the opening game to Kearney, 15-5, with Stacey Langemeier taking the pitching loss.

Jayne Wagner also saw action from the mound. Jennifer Schaffer doubled to lead Wayne's offense while Jojo Longe, Tina Ruwe, Renae Emanuel and Timoni Grone each singled. Wayne fell to Lincoln Outlaws, 17-5 in the second and final game as Schaffer took the loss. Tina Ruwe doubled twice and Megan Meyer singled twice to lead Wayne's offense. Jojo Longe, Stacey Langemeier, Renae Emanuel and Brandy Frevert each hit singles.

PRIOR TO THE state tournament Wayne's 16-under team defeated Oakland, 10-3 as Beth Sperry earned the victory with relief from Heidi Echtenkamp.

Jennifer Schaffer singled twice and doubled while Beth Loberg doubled and singled. Amy Magnuson, Beth Sperry and Lyndi

Amy Magnuson, Beth Sperry, Jennifer Schaffer and Mandy Hansen each singled.

The 18-under team defeated Oakland, 15-5 with Stacey Langemeier earning the win with five strikeouts and allowing just two hits.

Jenni Beiermann had four base hits to pace the offense while Tina Ruwe, Carol Longe and Jennifer Schaffer each hitting two singles. Heidi Echtenkamp, Timoni Grone, Jojo Longe and Brandy Frevert rounded out the hitting with a single.

Wayne defeated Scribner, 15-8 as Langemeier pitched the game's first two innings before being relieved by Jennifer Schaffer, who struck out six in her pitching debut.

Stacey Langemeier tripled, doubled and singled to lead Wayne's offense while Jenni Beiermann singled three times. Timoni Grone singled twice with Amy Magnuson, Beth Sperry, Tina Ruwe, Jojo Longe, Jennifer Schaffer and Brandy Frevert each netting a base hit.

Wayne State's membership moved up

WAYNE—Wayne State's admission to the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference (NSIC) has been moved up one year to the 1998-99 season, as voted on by the seven current NSIC institutions at the recent conference meetings in St. Cloud, Minnesota.

WSC, which has been competing in the NCAA Division II ranks as an independent school, was accepted into the NSIC pending board approval, along with the Concordia University-St. Paul and the University of Minnesota-Crookston, in May for membership in 1999-2000.

However, WSC's membership was moved up when it was determined that the schedules could be re-arranged well enough to allow the Wildcats to compete for 10 NSIC championships during the 1998-99 season.

As a result, WSC will pay its league membership fee and be given full voting rights for the upcoming year.

"With the conference going from a seven-team league to a 10-team league, some significant changes and adjustments will be made," WSC director of athletics Pete Chapman said. "We are glad that the league thinks it is important to allow us to come in and contribute to this process."

WSC will compete for NSIC championships in the following sports this year: baseball, softball, men's and women's golf, men's and women's cross country, men's and women's indoor track and field and men's and women's outdoor track and field.

The Cats will compete as an independent in football, volleyball, women's soccer, men's basketball and women's basketball this season. They will begin conference play in 1999-2000.

Former WSC football standout honored

WAYNE—Former Wayne State College football standout Pat Donohoe is one of 12 individuals to make up the 1998 inductees into the Nebraska Football Hall of Fame. President Irving Veitzer made the announcement on behalf of the Nebraska Chapter of the National Football Foundation.

The other inductees include former University of Nebraska players Grant Wistrom, Aaron Taylor, Jay Bergquist, Derrie Nelson, Neil Smith, Mike Kennedy, Paul Rodgers, John Sedlacek and Dale Bradley. Former Doane College standout Fred Davis is the other player to be inducted. Former Nebraska Coach Tom Osborne will be inducted into the National Football Foundation Coaches Hall of Fame.

After excelling in football at O'Neill St. Mary's, Donohoe took his college ambitions to Wayne State where he played from 1973-76. A rugged defensive tackle, he earned four letters as a starter, winning defensive MVP honors three times. He was named to the All-District team two years, and in 1976 he ended his career as an NAIA All-American as a defensive tackle. He is also a member of the WSC Athletic Hall of Fame.

Donohoe has gone on to be a successful assistant coach. After stops at Houston and Mississippi State, Donohoe joined the Alabama-Birmingham coaching staff in 1995 as its defensive line coach. He is entering his 21st season this fall. Ironically, he will celebrate his induction by helping coach Alabama-Birmingham against Nebraska.

Tietz each singled twice while Stacey Kardell belted a game-opening triple. Heidi Echtenkamp doubled and Mandy Hansen singled.

Wayne also defeated Scribner, 17-0 with Sperry earning the victory from the mound. Stacey Kardell doubled and singled to lead Wayne while Elizabeth Campbell doubled.

The Wayne 16-under fast pitch softball team completed their season on Tuesday with a win over Wisner. Wayne's 16-under team ended the year with a 9-15 record.

The Wayne 18-under fast pitch softball team completed their season on Tuesday with a win over Wisner. The 18-under squad competed at the annual State Softball Tournament in Hastings over the weekend but fell short in both contests. Laurie Schaffer's team finished the season with a 10-14-1 record.

Professional management is logical choice

Pacific Rim companies are "hot," right? Wait! The yen's in trouble!

The European Monetary Union creates a single currency for the continent and tremendous investment opportunities, correct? What do you mean, the British aren't joining?!

"High-tech" stocks are almost always a good choice. - The Justice Department just filed suit against WHO?!!

Investment markets are affected by economic, legal and political events in the U.S. and abroad. But a change in management at a single corporation can influence general market performance, too.

So how can you keep up with the important and rapid changes that affect the performance of your investments? With several trillion (with a "t") dollars under professional management, mutual funds are often the answer for millions of "average" investors.

The Information (tidal!) wave - "Professional money management" in the context of mutual funds typically means a management team.

A single fund manager or chief investment officer might hold the ultimate responsibility for a fund's activity and performance, but, in reality, the resources of an entire company are "behind the scenes" working in support.

"By comparison," said Ric Wilson of Waddell & Reed, "it's difficult for an individual investor to collect, organize and interpret all the data that's available, and that's really required, to make informed investment decisions." He cited the "information challenge" as follows:

"Quantity. "There are thousands of investment choices," Wilson continued, "and a huge amount of information about each of them."

Assuming you have the technological capability to capture all this data, the limitations of a 24-hour day still would likely prevent a personal effort to study the information and use it meaningfully to invest.

"Speed. According to Wilson, it's not just the volume of investment information that's a challenge for individual investors; the capability for timely action, too, is an important advantage of professional management.

"Advanced technology and full-time commitment typically enable professional money managers to be 'ahead' of the general public in collecting and responding to financial information," Wilson said. Markets often move within seconds of breaking financial news.

"Meaning. Getting and using information quickly are, according to Wilson only the mechanics of using investment data. "There's the information," he said, "and there's what the information means." Here, the experience of professional fund managers is advantageous.

Such experience also enables professionals to better understand the potential mid-to long-term significance of breaking developments, too.

Mutual funds and diversity. Mutual funds are the "pooled" assets of many individuals invested in a diversified portfolio - stocks or bonds, or both. Such diversification helps protect investors against dramatic downturns in a specific investment or investment sector, but it also requires knowledge of a wide range of investment choices.

The role of the individual. While professionals can analyze and interpret national and international financial events," Wilson said, "nobody's a better authority on your personal financial situation than you."

"A professional financial advisor can be helpful in understanding your specific financial issues and determining priorities-saving and investing for a first home or retirement, college for the kids, retirement income, and so on," he continued.

Matching specific investment strategies to specific objectives-mutual funds are designed to seek performance in different ways, and over different time frames-can be a shared task with a financial advisor, as well.

"But your goals remain precisely that...yours," Wilson said. "Acknowledging the needs of your financial future is a significant first step that must be taken before the benefits of professional management-expertise, experience and quick execution-can be realized."

Waddell & Reed, based in Overland Park, Kan., has been in the financial services business for over 60 years. Today, Waddell & Reed has grown to more than 200 offices nationwide. It offers a wide array of investment products and services, as well as a variety of insurance products through affiliates. The company manages, through its subsidiary, Waddell & Reed Investment Management Co., more than $20 billion for over one million mutual fund accounts. Waddell & Reed can be accessed on the internet at <http://www.waddell.com>.

Three members of auxiliary honored for years of service

Llewellyn B. Whitmore Auxiliary #5291 met July 13 at the home of Neva Lorenzen.

Senior President Neva Lorenzen conducted the meeting with eight members answering roll call.

A letter was read from the office of the 415th Base Support Battalion in Kaiserslautern, Germany, thanking the auxiliary for coupons sent. They are much used and appreciated by the military families. Coupons can be used six months past their original expiration date. Coupons for baby items are in large demand, especially diapers, formula, diaper wipes and baby food.

There are no Title II or WIC programs available overseas to supplement the cost of these items of the lower enlisted families.

In committee reports, the hospital committee reported on mailing cards to Fauniel Hoffman and Dorothy Dangberg. Eveline Thompson reported that five members have paid the 1998-99 dues of $13 which are now due.

Leona Kluge, safety chairman, reported on an article describing how running a red light leads to accidents and warned all to be aware of safety care in Wayne during the present highway construction.

Eveline Thompson reported on Gold Star and membership luncheons she attended at the Department convention. She also attended the Memorial Services.

Three members of the Llewellyn B. Whitmore Auxiliary #5291 were recognized with certificates for membership of more than 50 years. They include Marcella Larson, Gertrude Meyer and Eveline Thompson. Sally Schroeder of Winslow, Ariz. is a 40 year + member.

Eveline reported more on the convention which was well attended. Connie Lieback of Lincoln is the new Department President and Doris Nelson of Norfolk is Senior Vice President.

The 1999 convention will be at the Ramida Inn in Lincoln.

The Bingo and Birthday part at the Norfolk Veterans' Home was scheduled for July 22.

The audit report was read and accepted.

Pat and Tom Cook will be going to China for a year to teach and can use magazines.

Following the meeting, the group held a patio picnic indoors because of the weather.

The next meeting will be Monday, Aug. 10 with Verna Mae Long and Betty Helthold serving.

Financing family reunion can be group effort

Summertime means family reunion time. However, paying reunion expenses poses a problem in many families. Here are some ideas for financing your reunion and helping family members who might otherwise be unable to attend.

Be supportive. In most nuclear families, relatives know who has money and who doesn't. If you can afford to, volunteer to pay travel expenses for a sibling, parent or cousin.

Create a reunion fund supported by family members who can afford to contribute. Have a fair plan for deciding who will receive help from the fund for tickets or accommodations. At the reunion remind everyone that the fund needs donations for next time.

Hold a fund-raiser. Another way to raise money is to sell reunion hats, T-shirts and other family-generated products such as a cook-book, videotape or history book in book form. A prosperous family member might agree to pay or advance the money for these products or projects.

Reservations fee. Have the family treasurer collect a small fee from each person to reserve facilities for the next reunion.

Send a representative. One way to beat the money hurdle is to send one person from your immediate family to the reunion as a representative. Equip your delegate with a camera and lots of photos of all of you and remind him or her of all the family news you want reported.

Vanhouten-Cautrell wed in June ceremony

Connie Vanhouten of Winside and Nicolas Cautrell of Wausa were married June 13, 1998 at the Thabor Lutheran Church in Wausa. The Rev. Peter Friberg of Wausa and the Rev. Shirley Carpenter of Curtis officiated.

Parents of the couple are Dennis and Bonnie Vanhouten of Winside and Ron and Melva Cautrell of Wausa.

The bride is the granddaughter of Frank and Elvina Walter of Crofton and Dorothy Vanhouten of Stanton. The groom is the grandson of Laverne Acklie of Wausa.

Music for the ceremony was provided by Lori Munter of Wausa, organist and Lori Shimer of Wausa and Rev. Carpenter, soloists.

Maid of Honor was Sarah Wagner of Norfolk.

Bridesmaids were Cindy Fox of Wausa and Jennifer Beaudette of Norfolk.

Alyssa Fox of Wausa was flower girl.

Brian Beaudette of Norfolk was Best Man.

Mr. and Mrs. Cautrell

Groomsmen were Lou Porras of Bloomfield and Robert St. John of Norfolk.

Kyle Shimer of Wausa was ringbearer.

Ushers were Matthew Cautrell of Wausa, Brock Shelton of Hoskins and Adrian Boelter of Stanton.

Special personal attendants were Bryan and Carolyn Backstrom of Winside.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Wausa City

Auditorium. The hosts were Ken and Misty Gillilan of Wausa and Kevin and Becky Millikan of Bloomfield.

Peggy Poppe of Crofton attended the guest book. Gift carriers were Amanda and Emily Backstrom of Winside. Flower pinner was Joan Alvin of Crofton.

Betty Hamilton of Crofton served the punch and Sharon Winterringer of Yankton, S.D. served coffee. Serving the wedding cake were Eileen Stewart of Crofton and Mary Acklie of Wausa. The cake was baked and decorated by Eileen.

Following a wedding trip to Orlando, Fla., the couple is at home on a farm near Wausa.

The bride is a graduate of Winside High School and plans to attend Northeast Community College this fall. She is currently employed at Heritage of Bel Air in Norfolk.

The groom is a graduate of Lincoln High School in Gahanna, Ohio and Eastland Career Center in Columbus, Ohio where he received a degree in automotive trade school. He is employed at Kersten Auto in Bloomfield.

Eagles auxiliary to hold ice cream social

The Wayne Eagles Auxiliary held a meeting on July 20 with President Barb Heier presiding.

The Ice Cream Social will be held Thursday, July 30 from 5:30-9:30 p.m. The ice cream will be made on Tuesday, July 28, beginning at 5 p.m. All members are again asked to help make ice cream on Tuesday and bring pies or make a $5 donation for the social. Members are also asked to sign up to work for this Humanitarian project.

Mylet Bargholz was commended on the Chicken Dads Parade. Suggestions were made for trying to make things go more smoothly next year.

The group's serving of taverns and chips on Friday and lunch on Saturday following the parade were well attended. The Pitch tourney was won by Ray Jacobsen and his son.

Upcoming events include Steak Fries on Aug. 1 and Sept. 12. Serving will be from 6-9 p.m.

Anyone wishing to make salads for these nights is encouraged to do so.

Wayne will host the District #6 meeting on Sunday, Sept. 13.

The committee for August's Fun Night is Sheryl Doring, Doris Gilliland and Bonnie Mohlfeld. The committee will inform the club of their plans at the next meeting.

Serving at the meeting was Carol Brummond. Serving at the Aug. 3 meeting will be Sheryl Doring.

Vigorous Walking: The Best Medicine

A study released by a team of Harvard researchers in April 1995 found that only people who do "vigorous" exercise get substantial longevity benefits. In adults, it was found that thirty minutes of "hard" exercise five days a week reduced death rates by as much as 25% (as compared to obtaining no exercise).

According to the medical journal Hippocrates, there is mounting evidence that walking can be considered "vigorous." In order to qualify, however, one must walk long enough, far enough, and frequently enough. This means that one must walk (1) at least four miles per hour, (2) a minimum of a half-hour, five times a week, and (3) with the arms pumping. According to the report in Hippocrates, if an individual knows he is walking 4 mph but cannot maintain that pace for 20 minutes, he should start out slower - at a pace he can maintain for 20 minutes - and work his way up to 4 mph.

The Library Card

This column is written occasionally to inform the Wayne area as to what types of reading material and other items are available at the Wayne Public Library.

WARNING — Steal not this book for fear of shame; In it you'll find the owner's name. And when you die, the Lord will say, "Where is that book you stole away?" And if you say "I do not know," the Lord will say, "Go down below." — Posted at the Fort Dodge Museum.

The Wayne Public Library is celebrating its first birthday in our new facilities! One year and going strong with almost double the circulation than in previous years. And what a value: Where else can you borrow items with just a promise to bring them back? Popular bestsellers are going for an average of $25 these days. At the Wayne Public Library you can not only borrow books, videos, magazines and music CD's, you also receive services in a number of formats. Library cards are free to those within the city limits and to those who own property in town. Otherwise, yearly fees are $15 for non-residents and $10 for college students. It is difficult to buy more than one paperback for that much!

Speaking of value for the buck — we are now offering access to OCLC's FirstSearch reference service. State funds will allow for free public access for the next fiscal year, beginning July 1. Please call or come by to set up a time to use the service. The databases include:

ArticleFirst (index of journal articles); ContentsFirst (Index of journal table); ERIC (guide to educational journal articles and reports); FastDoc (index of journal articles, including full-text documents); GPO Monthly Catalog (index to U.S. Government documents); H.W. Wilson Select (full text of over 470 journals); MEDLINE (abstracted articles from medical journals); NetFirst (bibliographic citations describing high quality, Internet-accessible resources, including hot-links); New York Times (all articles published within 90 days; abstract and index from Jan. 1994 to present); OCLC Electronic Collections Online (index & abstracts for journals in a variety of subjects); OCLC Union List (listings of periodicals in the local library and other libraries); PapersFirst (index of papers presented at conferences); ProceedingsFirst (index of proceedings published from conferences) World Almanac (database of The World Almanac) and WorldCat (online catalog of 38 million bibliographic records of books and other materials in libraries worldwide).

Remember, we have switched to summer hours. Our library hours are Monday-Friday, noon-8 p.m.; Saturday, 10 a.m.-6 p.m. and closed Sundays. Our phone number is (402) 375-3135 and fax number is (402) 375-5772. Fax charges are $1 per page.

Group travels to Oklahoma

Nineteen members of Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne returned from a recent trip to Tahlequah, Okla. where they worked among the Native Americans of the Cherokee Nation.

Their work included building a wheel chair ramp, painting two home and sorting clothing. The congregation is planning a future trip to Tahlequah this fall to repair and reshingle a chapel roof at the Cherokee Nation Heritage

Center. Participating in the trip from Our Savior were Dreama Anderson, Erin Arneson, June Baier, Gene Fletcher, Jack Hausmann, Glenn Kietzmann, Pastor Bill Koeber, Valerie Koeber, Kenneth Kopperud, Helga Nedergaard, Arlene Ostendorf, LaVern Ostendorf, Annette Rasmussen, Nancy Reinhardt, Michelle Richting, Corneli Runestad, Lila Splittgerber, Rowan Wiltse and Twila Wiltse.

Walton receives RHOP scholarship

Lisa Walton, Wayne, has been accepted into the Rural Health Opportunities Program (RHOP) at Wayne State College. She will begin study this fall.

Walton, the daughter of Allan and Lauren Walton, plans to study pre-dentistry at Wayne State prior to transferring to the University of Nebraska Medical Center.

Under the RHOP program, Walton is guaranteed early admission to the UNMC Medical School upon successful completion of her course work at Wayne. RHOP, a cooperative effort between Wayne State and the Medical Center, encourages students from rural areas of Nebraska to return to rural settings after graduation to pursue their medical careers.

Special consideration is given for admission to the RHOP program to students from communities of less than 10,000 population. Areas of study under the program include medicine, pharmacy, dentistry and dental hygiene.

Students in the RHOP program also become eligible for special student loan programs at UNMC and they are given opportunities to interact with various medical professionals and UNMC academic units during their undergraduate years.

Lisa Walton

A shortage of rural medical practitioners in Nebraska prompted the educational institutions to implement the RHOP program in 1989. Currently 29 students are studying in the program through Wayne State. Walton is one of only 10 students entering the program at Wayne this year.

Walton is a 1998 Wayne High School graduate. While in high school, she participated in cross country, track, choir, jazz choir, band, jazz band, the school musical, National Honors Society and W-Club.

Flute clinic planned at WSC

A flute clinic with Richard Hahn will be offered free of charge to flute enthusiasts of all ages on Friday, July 24, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in Ley Theatre, Brandenburg Education Building, on the Wayne State College campus. The clinic is being co-sponsored by Wayne State College and the Gemeinhardt Company.

"Hahn is highly acclaimed as a teacher of the flute and travels widely to present clinics and master classes for students at all levels throughout the United States, Canada and Europe. His numerous appearances in major cities as a performer, in solo and chamber music have earned him a national reputation as a performer of both early and modern compositions for the flute," said Dr. Jay O'Leary, division head of fine arts at Wayne State College.

"I'm excited that we were able to get someone of his caliber to come to WSC. Anyone interested in the flute should come," said Kate Bergman, Wayne State College flute pre-camp coordinator.

Hahn is a professor of flute and director of the School of Music at the University of Idaho. He began his career as a flutist with the Milwaukee Symphony and Milwaukee Chamber Players and was featured soloist with the Fine Arts String Quartet.

Hahn's educational background includes studies with Robert Cole, former assistant first flutist of the Philadelphia Orchestra; and with Donald Peck, principal flutist for the Chicago Symphony.

Hahn is highly acclaimed as a teacher of the flute and travels widely to present clinics and master classes for students at all levels throughout the United States, Canada and Europe. Students in his University of Idaho private studio have distinguished themselves as the recipients of Young Artist awards in regional, national and international competitions.

He frequently serves as an adjudicator throughout the United States and Canada, including recent appearances for the national finals of the Music Teachers National Association, for the National Flute Association and for many state and regional competitions sponsored by the Music Educators National Conference.

In addition to his flute performance and teaching accomplishments, Hahn is a maker of fine replicas of historical flutes, some of which are featured in his performances. He is a consultant for the Gemeinhardt Corporation. His duties as a consultant include extensive work in research and development which has contributed to improvements in modern flute design and construction.

Hahn is also a charter member of the National Flute Association and frequently serves as an adjudicator throughout the United States and Canada.

Hahn's Wayne State clinic may cover topics such as harmonics, long tones, articulation, finger callisthenics, etudes and more.

A lunch break is planned during the allotted clinic time, and the food court in the Wayne State College Student Center will be open.

Pre-registration would be appreciated, however it is not required. For more information or to register, please call Dr. Jay O'Leary at (402) 375-7359 or Kate Bergman at (402) 396-3405.

Knights of Columbus distribute Tootsie Roll funds locally throughout the year. The Schulz family purchased a chair for their daughter, Ande, who was born with spina bifida last year.

The Father Kearns Council of the Knights of Columbus recently presented checks of $400 each to the Terry and Leslie Schulz family and to Special Olympics.

The monies were raised through this year's Tootsie Roll Drive held in April.

Dan Sukup and Jerry Sperry, who chaired the drive, said "The Knights of Columbus would like to thank everyone who donated to the Drive again this year. Through your support we are able to give back to our community."

Special Olympics will use the money to purchase uniforms to be used at their various competitions

DONATE QUILT

Members of Salem Lutheran Church Quilting group have made a baby quilt and afghan to be donated to the 10th annual quilt auction sponsored by Carol Joy Holling Camp near Ashland. The auction is set for Saturday, Aug. 1 at the camp site.

Over 275 quilted and tie quilts will be displayed at 9 a.m. the day of the auction. Auction time is 10:30 a.m. All quilts have been donated by congregations and individuals from across Nebraska and neighboring states.

Funds raised by the auction will be used to sponsor ministry programs of Nebraska Lutheran Outdoor Ministries, the agency which operated Camp Carol Joy Holling.

This year's quilt auction will feature at least two antique quilts, a quilt from China and a quilt from Thailand. Again this year, a cedar chest handmade by Fritz Grueber of Nelson will be auctioned.

The barbecue dinner will be served from 11:30 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. In case of rain, the auction and barbecue will be moved indoors and run as scheduled.

Lifeguards will be on duty at the swimming pool from 10:30 until 5 p.m. Camp tours will be available all day.

HOLDS MEETING/ELECTION

The board of directors of the Little Red Hen Theatre held their annual meeting on July 8. Present were Mardell Holm, Lori Utecht, Kathy Muller, Val Bard and Betty Rouse. Board member Kaye Hillsinger was unable to attend.

Discussion was held regarding the theatre budget, clean up at the theatre, patronage letters distributed and the upcoming productions.

Officers were also elected. Kathy Muller is the new president, Lori Utecht will serve as vice-president and Betty Rouse as secretary-treasurer.

PURCHASES BALLS

A project of the National Honor Society this past school year was to purchase some additional play equipment for the elementary students. Each grade was given the opportunity to decide what type of ball they would like.

Elementary students, and representative of the Honor Society that were present were Bobby Lamprecht, Myles Brown, Kristin Preston, Kristin Eaton, Kelsey Skinner, Bonnie Kluthe, and Ashley Anderson.

MISSION TRIP TO COSTA RICA
Brindi Utemark traveled with a Mission group to Costa Rica leaving June 11. Brindi, who was a seventh grader at the Wakefield Community Schools last year, learned of the mission trip through a Christian Magazine for teen girls called "Brio."

Brindi said that teens applied to go on the trip and that around 250 nationwide were selected and around 200 made the trip.

She left from Omaha for Miami, Fla. In Miami each participant was equipped with a name tag and assigned a 'family group for the trip.' Participants were asked to provide a costume for the plays which would be presented in Costa Rica. While in Miami for three days, the teens learned to mime their performance to tapes with music and Spanish narration.

The Mission group left on June 14 on a chartered flight. Brindi said her group was the only one to make a presentation on Monday and that they brought around 100 people to Christ.

"We went out every day after that until Saturday. We went to a lot of Catholic and public schools. We also went to an orphanage and to a park."

Each of the six performing groups had their own bus, translators and a married couple of BRIO staff members as leaders.

"Every night we had FUAGNEM (fired up) and going nuts every minute. This was a time for worship, devotions, singing, skits, fun and games," Brindi said.

During the 11-day stay in Costa Rica the youth went Whitewater rafting on Saturday and shopping in an open air market in downtown San Jose on Wednesday. The rest of the days were spent going out and performing with Sunday reserved for worship and free time.

The group returned to Miami on June 25 and all went their separate ways.

"I know that God wanted me to go on that trip, and I'm really glad that he used me," Brindi said. "Next year I want to go to Brazil with the BRIO Mission Group." She said it was a wonderful experience, one she will always remember and she expressed her thanks to everyone for their prayers and support.

EARN SCHOLARSHIP

Doug Petersen was awarded a scholarship from the Nebraska State AFL CIO. Each entrant was required to write an essay on "How and why the American Labor Movement has historically acted as a Social Movement to improve the lives of all working people."

Doug will attend Wayne State College this fall majoring in history. He is the son of Glenda and Gary Petersen and is a 1998 graduate of Wakefield High School.

RING-JOHNSON REUNION

Descendants of John and Maria Ring and Johan and Maria Johnson gathered for a family reunion on July 3, 4, and 5 at Wakefield.

The family met at Merle Rings on Friday for a pizza party, singing and enjoying music. There was a variety of music enjoyed from "Children the Heavenly Father" in Swedish to "I am My Own Grandpa."

Brunch was served at Rings on Saturday and the afternoon was spent visiting at Gordon Bards, reminiscing, visiting local cemeteries, etc.

All gathered at Jim Stout's under a big top tent for a whole hog roast and sweet corn boil on Saturday evening. Val Bard directed a play titled, "The Change of the Bathrub Brigade. Family members were the actors. The evening ended with smores, hayrack ride, fireworks and root beer floats.

On Sunday noon there was a catered meal held at the Covenant Church Fellowship Hall. Several gathered at Rings in the evening for more singing and visiting.

Attending were Dal and Helen Bard, Julie Harter of Council Bluffs, Kent, Kerri, and Cassie Noel of Dallas, Texas, Merle and Donna Ring of Wayne, Lenora Ellison of Antioch, Calif., Austin and Susan Ring of Holester, Mo., Ailene McLinden of Toronto, Calif., Alice Dolph of Wadsworth, Ohio, Raymond and Irene Florine of Wayne, Doug, Jeanne, Lex, Melissa and Andrew Wolker, Heather Steele, Sean Auman, Becky Stout, Betty Fischer, Angie and Kayla Johnson of Lincoln, Steve, Jane, Courtney, and Andre Steel, Greg Wacker of Norfolk, Con. and Elaine Allesen, Mark and Linda Smith of Dickenson, Texas, Fran and Bill Zaruba of Phoenix, Ariz., Scott and Roxanne Thompson, Carol Bard, Jim and Barb Stout, Gordon and Coreen

4-H Presentation Contest held

On Tuesday, July 14, eight Wayne County 4-H'ers participated in the 4-H presentation Contest. The contest was held at the Methodist Church Fellowship Hall, serving as judge for the event was Theresa Brockhaus of Jackson.

Results of the contest include: Junior Division-Purple-Ginger Fleer, Hoskins with her presentation entitled A G-r-r-reat Start, Blue. Derek Schardt, Wayne, with his presentation entitled Raising Rabbits.

Intermediate Division-Purple-John Temme, Wayne, with his presentation entitled Milking Time.

Senior Division-Purple- Steven Fleer, Farm Safety for Life; Lindy Fleer, Take the Bugs Out of Food; and Jenny Fleer, Cone Fishing; all of Hoskins.

Blue Plus- Becky Fleer of Hoskins with her presentation entitled Don't Flutterbye Butterflies and Blue-Ann Temme of Wayne with her presentation entitled Stamp On It.

The top presenter in the Junior Division in the Ag/Miscellaneous Area was Ginger Fleer and Greg Schardt was the alternate. Ginger will receive a scholarship for 4-H Ponca Camp in 1999. Top Presenter in the Ag/Miscellaneous Area was John Temme. John will receive a scholarship to District 4-H Camp in Halsey in 1999.

Top Presenter in the senior division Ag/Miscellaneous Area was Steven Fleer with alternate as Becky Fleer and in the Home Economics Area, Lindy Fleer received top award with Anne Temme as alternate. Both Steven and Lindy will receive a scholarship to Expo Visions next summer.

Wayne County will send five representatives to the State Fair to present their presentations over Labor Day Weekend in September; those representatives are Steven, Lindy, and Becky Fleer and Ann Temme.

Another Sunday afternoon with scorching temperatures. We did have a soaking rain on Thursday evening, but so much of the state did not. We have guests from Florida who tell us they have finally had some rain, which they desperately needed. I just talked to a friend outside L.A. and it's even 90 degrees there, which is highly unusual.

The occasion for the call is to finalize plans for a video going out there tomorrow. Another classmate is turning 60 and her family is planning a bang-up party next Sunday. There will be well over a 100 guests. Since several family members and friends in Nebraska cannot attend, we are taping our birthday greetings.

I'm beginning to be a little jealous of these birthday parties. I heard of another gal who received 60 roses for hers.

The class ahead of me in nurses' training had its reunion at Mahoney this weekend, so I went over for coffee this morning and heard a cute story: a true one, too.

In the old hospital we trained in, the doctors' lounge was across the hall from the surgery recovery room. There was just room for four patient carts in that room and all four were usually occupied.

One morning, one of the docs got a page and picked up the phone in the lounge to respond. It wasn't working, so he went across the hall and tried the one in recovery. It, too, was non-function. He put it down and commented to the nurse, "I guess they're all dead." At that, one of the heads on the cart came up and a little voice said, "I'm not."

Health care is so different from those days. I expected things to change, but this is amazing. The latest development that affects me is the drastic Medicare cuts to home health care.

It reminds me of the farm crisis. First, the feds hand out the money. Farmers in the 70's were told to borrow, buy more land and expand operations. Home Health Care was to be the way to help seniors stay safely in their own homes.

As our population aged, and we figured out ways to deliver all kinds of health care to the homes, the bills rose. Besides, all kinds of "for profit" got involved.

The Farm Wife
By: Pat [Name]

Just as in the farm situation in the 80's, the loans are being "called in." Congress hurriedly passed a balanced budget act that cut home care benefits drastically. And they did it so craftily, saying the criteria was the same, but payments to the agency were reduced.

It's caused chaos in home health care: agencies closing, nurses laid off, and clients looking for services privately, from agencies on aging, or in care facilities. What a mess.

In self defense, folks are buying long term care insurance. I'll talk about that next week. Meanwhile, I'm heading to the pool.

PLEASURE AND PROFIT 4-H CLUB

The Pleasure and Profit 4-H Club held a meeting at Ponca State Park on July 12.

Nine families had a fun afternoon swimming and hiking with a family potluck supper in the evening.

The meeting was called to order by Darlene Roberts, organizational leader. There were 15 members present.

Members discussed the projects they were taking to the fair. The pre-fair clean-up will be on July 31 at 9 a.m. Members are to bring ice cream buckets, paint brushes and rags with them. The post-fair clean-up will be Aug. 6.

Wayne County 4-H Style Revue scheduled

The 1998 Style Revue will be held on Wednesday, July 29 at 7 p.m., in the Carriage House Community Theater in the Mineshaft Mall in Wayne. The public is encouraged to attend.

The event provides 4-H'ers the opportunity to model the garments they have sewn or decorated this year. Youth enrolled in the Consumer Management projects of "Shopping in Style," and "Attention Shoppers" will also model outfits purchased according to consumer selection guidelines learned in their project.

The Champion and Reserve Champion 4-H'er in the Style Revue will be announced at the end of the evening.

Marie Mohr of Swan's and Irene Fletcher of Legends are the sponsors of the engraved charms awarded to the winners. Dairy Queen of Wayne provides treat certificates to all participants.

WINDSURFING AT WILLOW CREEK

Corn rootworm scouting necessary

Corn rootworm beetle scouting can predict larvae damage in continuous corn and identify treatment measures, an expert reports.

Keith Jarvi, extension entomologist at the UNL Research and Extension Center of Norfolk, said that estimating numbers of the 1/4 to 3/8-inch corn rootworm beetles can determine the necessity of pesticide treatments now or at planting next spring.

"Regular field scouting is essential for prediction to work effectively," Jarvi said. "Fields should be scouted at least once a week."

Jarvi suggests that producers examine the entire leaf surface of at least 10 plants in five areas of each field, grasping the silk as they approach to trap any beetles that may be in the ear tip. If beetle populations never reach the threshold for plant populations listed below, treatment for rootworm larvae will not be necessary next season. See NebGuide G86-774, available at county extension offices, for more information.

Producers should differentiate between scouting results in first year and continuous corn, Jarvi said. "Beetle thresholds are lower in first year corn [than in continuous corn] because a higher proportion of the beetles in first year corn are female, and more eggs will be laid," he said.

If beetle numbers reach the above thresholds and ten percent of the females are gravid (with eggs), producers on a beetle spray program should consider treatment immediately. However, Jarvi warns that producers must determine female gravidity (whether or not visible eggs can be gently squeezed from the abdomen) to avoid spraying before eggs are present.

"Most early-emerging beetles are male," Jarvi said. "Spraying on beetle numbers alone may be too early, and having to spray beetles twice can exceed the cost of a single soil insecticide treatment in the spring."

Corn rootworm beetle scouting can also reveal beetle damage due to silk clipping, Jarvi said. Because silk clipping reduces pollination, control may be necessary if beetles have clipped silks within 1/2 inch of the year at 25-50 percent pollen shed and five or more beetles are present per plant. See NebGuide G86-774 for treatment guidelines.

Keith Jarvi is available at (402)-370-4016. NebGuides and other treatment information are available at local county extension offices.

Champion showman

Dawn Koepe, daughter of Larry and Diane Koepe of Hoskins, recently traveled to Minot, N.D. for the North Central Regional Junior Simmental Classic. She entered all the contests, including public speaking, sales talk, Herdsman Quiz, Beef Bowl, Sire Summary Quiz and judging contest. She was Reserve Junior Showman and her heifer, Patent, was third in her class. Patent placed sixth overall on point evaluation and Dawn placed eighth. On July 6-10 Dawn traveled to Columbus, Ohio for the Junior Simmental National Classic. She placed 15th overall in the Junior Showmanship contest and Patent was seventh in her class out of 17 breeding heifers.

Receives award

Jon Gathje of Wayne has been named an All-American Scholar.

Gathje attends Wayne High School. His name will appear in the All-American Scholar Yearbook, which is published nationally.

The USAA has established the All-American Scholar Award Program to offer deserved recognition to superior students who excel in the academic disciplines. The All-American Scholars must earn a 3.3, or higher, grade point average.

Gathje is the son of Rick and Sandra Gathje of Wayne. His grandparents are Darlene Gathje, and John and Helen Luscher, all of Wayne.

Blaser named to honor roll

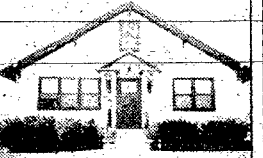

Sarah Blaser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kent Blaser of Wayne, was named to the spring 1998 honor roll at the University of Kansas.

Blaser is a senior at KU majoring in Liberal Arts and Sciences.

There were more than 3,000 students from the University of Kansas named to KU's honor roll during the 1998 spring semester.

Honor roll criteria varies among the academic units of the university. Some schools honor the top 10 percent of students enrolled, some establish a minimum grade-point average, and others raise the minimum number of credit hours to be considered for the honor roll.

About 68 percent of KU's 27,500 students are undergraduates. The average ACT score for entering first-year students in 1997 was 24, more than two points above the national average. More than 50 percent of KU's entering first-year students graduated in the top quarter of their high school classes.

PUBLIC NOTICE
Notification of Rights under FERPA for Elementary and Secondary Institutions
The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) affords parents and students over 18 years of age ("eligible students") certain rights with respect to the student's education records. They are:

(1) The right to inspect and review the student's education records within 45 days of the day the District receives a request for access.
Parents or eligible students should submit to the school principal (or appropriate school official) a written request that identifies the records they wish to inspect. The principal will make arrangements for access and notify the parent or eligible student of the time and place where the records may be inspected.

(2) The right to request the amendment of the student's education records that the parent or eligible student believes are inaccurate or misleading.
Parents or eligible students may ask Alpha School District to amend a record that they believe is inaccurate or misleading. They should write the school principal, clearly identify the part of the record they want changed, and specify why it is inaccurate or misleading.

If the District decides not to amend the record as requested by the parent or eligible student, the District will notify the parent or eligible student of the decision and advise them of their right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the parent or eligible student when notified of the right to a hearing.

(3) The right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student's education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.
One exception which permits disclosure without consent is disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A school official is a person employed by the District as an administrator, supervisor, instructor, or support staff member (including health or medical staff and law enforcement unit personnel), a person serving on the School Board, a person or company with whom the District has contracted to perform a special task (such as an attorney, auditor, medical consultant, or therapist), or a parent or student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks.
A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibility.

[Optional] Upon request, the District discloses education records without consent to officials of another school district in which a student seeks or intends to enroll. (NOTE: FERPA requires a school district to make a reasonable attempt to notify the student of the records request unless it states in its annual notification that it intends to forward records on request.)

(4) The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by the District to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the Office that administers FERPA are:

Family Policy Compliance Office
U.S. Department of Education
600 Independence Avenue, SW
Washington, DC 20202-4605

Directory Information includes personal information about a student that can be made public. It may include a student's name, address, and telephone number, and other information typically found in school yearbooks or athletic programs. Directory information for Wayne High School students under 18 years of age will not be released to the public without parental consent.
