Modeling the fashions

Musicians to be showcased

More than 400 musicians will be in Wayne as Wayne State College hosts its annual Band Day on Saturday, Sept. 19.

This year's event will feature bands from approximately eight high schools with the Wayne State marching band under the direction of Mike Gillan.

In addition to Wayne State, the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce will be sponsoring the event and has arranged for a parade downtown.

The bands will be judged during the morning parade, which begins at 10 a.m. at the Wayne State College campus entrance. The parade route will end downtown at First and Main Streets.

All of the bands will later take part in the pre-game and half-time shows. Following the half-time performance, a representative of the Chamber of Commerce will present awards to the top performing band in each class. Dr. Ken Halsey, interim president of WSC, will be grand marshal for the parade.

"We're looking forward to a great day here at WSC," Gillan said of his second year organizing the event.

The bands who will be appearing at WSC Band Day include Ponca, Allen, Homer, Wayne (junior and senior), Winside, Wisner-Pilger (junior and senior), Wakefield (junior and senior) and Neligh-Oakdale.

Board approves budget

By Lynn Slevers
Of the Herald

The budget for the 1998-99 school year was approved by the Wayne School Board on Sept. 14. A special meeting was held on Aug. 31 to review the proposed budget. Notice of the meeting was posted in several public locations.

A public hearing was held prior to the regular meeting because the bid was to exceed the basic allowable growth rate from 2.5 to 3.5 percent which is the maximum amount.

A tax request by the Wayne Public School followed the budget hearing. The 1998-99 property tax request was $2.36 million in general fund, which is a 1.02 percent property tax rate, to $174,760 in special building fund, which is a .0957 percent property tax rate for 1998-99.

The tax request hearing was held for the purpose of conducting a public hearing on and to discuss and improve or modify the (district, multi-district school and district) property tax request(s) for the 1998-99 school fiscal year.

Other school matters included Duane Blomenkamp, Kathy Sump, and Nadine Fredrickson, all Wayne teachers, reporting on the "High Expectations" Discipline Program which has been implemented into the school system.

APL Associated Staff Development, a service used to teach teachers skills to become modern teachers and act as models for student behavior, is being used in inservices to help attain desired goals in the "High Expectations" program. Improved student behavior is expected or there are consequences if not met.

The teachers report they feel there has been improvement in student behavior on a whole as a result of the program.

Terry Munson, high school counselor, reported to the board on A.C.T. testing. Data shows that 71 percent of 1998 graduates in Nebraska took A.C.T. tests. In Wayne there were 78 percent of the 1998 graduating class who took A.C.T. tests. Nebraska ranked 12th in the nation on composite scores and Wayne students ranked above that.

Seth Northrup, TIAP grant coordinator, gave a demonstration on the virtual campus-distance learning project ongoing at Wayne Public Schools. The district had received $100,000 in grant money to test the project. Northrup said it is going well.

Forum discusses bond issue

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

More than 100 persons were on hand to listen to reasons why the Wayne Community Schools should either renovate the existing Middle School or build a new facility.

Sponsored by the Wayne County Jaycees and moderated by Mark Ahmann, the forum allowed both those in favor of renovation and those in favor of new construction to answer questions from the audience about the Sept. 29 bond election.

Representing renovation were Duane Schroeder and Ralph Newell while Kent Blaser and Bill Dickey spoke in favor of new construction.

Prior to the answering of questions, both sides were given the opportunity to present opening statements.

A history of past bond issues was also given. The first bond election was held four years ago. A second election was held two years ago contained two options, construct a new High School or construct a new Middle School.

"This time the campaign is being run by the community. We have a grass roots effort and public input," Duane Schroeder said.

"Bill Dickey added that "the need is there" and "with bond rates at a 30 year low, this is the time to do something."

More than 20 questions were presented from the audience.

They ranged from advantages of each plan for the welfare of the students, the time frame for completion of each project, traffic at each location and the possibilities of changes by the contractor and architect in each plan.

In regard to the welfare of each plan, both sides stressed location as favorable.

Those in favor of renovation said that have 900 students on one campus would lead to congestion and "put Middle School pedestrians with High School drivers."

Those in favor of new construction stated that having the students, teachers and the food source in one location is a plus for their plan.

When the subject of Middle School sports was discussed, both sides stated that their plans were identical with the exception of parking.

In terms of wheelchair accessibility, both plans call for elevators to be installed and both plans will meet all of the Americans With Disabilities requirements.

Both sides explained that the cost of the project is "fixed" and cannot exceed the amount budgeted. Should the project cost more than the amount budgeted, adjustments to the building would have to be made.

In summarizing the debate, Bill Dickey stated, "We (both groups) are all committed to passing the bond issue. Anything is better than the present situation. This issue is the kids and what is best for the kids."

Duane Schroeder said that, "We are really enthused about the process this time. Both groups are going the same direction. The ideas are coming from people working together and it is up to the community to decide. Both plans are essentially equal."

Homerun chase hits home

The recent homerun chase by Mark McGwire towards baseball immortality by overtaking the 37-year-old homerun record set by Roger Maris, drew the attention of most of America, whether they follow the game or not. Former KTCN general manager Mark Ahmann was watching the St. Louis-Chicago game the night McGwire hit number 62 to overtake Maris. Following the game he went to his attic and found a picture that was taken in 1961 in Sioux City of himself and Roger Maris, shortly after Maris broke Babe Ruth's homerun record. Ahmann was the sports director at KTV Channel 4 at the time and there was a tip that Maris was in town. Ahmann phoned him and he agreed to speak with Ahmann but not for it to be televised. "He was a classy man," Ahmann said. "We talked for about a half-hour and he signed a baseball box score of the game he broke the record for my son John, who was four years old at the time."

People had a chance to relive history and meet Eleanor Roosevelt portrayed by actress Elena Dodd on Sept. 10 at the Wayne Senior Center.

The one-woman theatre piece "Meet Eleanor Roosevelt: a One Woman Show" performed by Dodd entertained around 35 people with a realistic rendition of the part of Roosevelt, stirring up memories of the First Lady, her part as the president's wife and mother of their children, her role as a promoter of the United Nations (U.N.) and creator of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights which she felt was her greatest accomplishment.

Dodd took the audience back in time in Roosevelt's life to her early married years showing her as a timid woman taking orders from her husband Franklin, his mother, and even the servants to her mid and later life as an independent woman with more control over her life.

Both she and her husband viewed their life together as a chance for public service, a commitment to peoples' needs and not for personal gain. She pushed for human rights through the U.N. which her husband founded in 1945.

She and her husband also helped push the women's suffrage movement. She also worked in the Red Cross volunteering her time and her sewing abilities. After her husband became ill with polio and was permanently crippled, she became more involved in his presidency giving public speeches, traveling worldwide, writing a weekly newspaper column, and entertaining large numbers of visitors in the White House thus taking her from a shy, dependent role to a role of great responsibility; all while trying to raise a family in a "fishbowl" as she referred to their public life.

A quote by the First Lady that sums up her belief in human rights is: "Where, after all do universal human rights begin? In small places, close to home—so close and so small that they cannot be seen on any maps of the world. Yet they are the world of the individual person, the neighborhood he lives in, the school or college he attends; the factory, farm, or office where he works. Such are the places where every man, woman, and child seeks equal justice, equal opportunity, equal dignity without discrimination. Unless these rights have meaning there, they have little meaning anywhere. Without concerned citizen action to uphold them close to home, we shall look in vain for progress in the larger world."

The WPL, the local AAUW organization and the UNA-USA chapter of Omaha co-sponsored the event. Dodd performed at the Wayne State College Ley Theatre, at the Wayne High School Lecture Hall, and at the Wayne Public Library/Senior Center during her stay in Wayne.

The program was brought to the community by the Nebraska Chapter of United Nations Association with a grant from the Nebraska Humanities Council, the American Association of University Women (AAUW) Wayne Branch, the Wayne Public Library, the Wayne Library Foundation, the Wayne High School, the Lions Club, the Rotary Club, PEO Chapters AZ and ID, the Wayne Education Association and the Northeast Nebraska Resource Conservation and Development Council.

Dodd told the audience after the program she felt Roosevelt would be disappointed that some of the covenants (treaties) were never accepted in the U.N., that the civil conflicts in the world today would be a great disappointment to her, and that world peace was her greatest wish although she never expected to see it in her life time. She also mentioned that some Nebraskans may recall Roosevelt's visit to Lincoln in 1957 for a United Nations function.

The board and visitors got a chance during the meeting to go downstairs in the high school to view the new chair lift installed this summer. The location of the lift is behind the stage. The cost for the project was $13,000.

The board adopted standards of the State Board of Education whereby using state standards to prepare

The next regularly scheduled meeting will be held on Oct. 12 at 7 p.m. in Carroll at the Wayne-Carroll Elementary School.

They also mentioned clarification by the board's which states the desire to sell the old middle school

Renovation was not a serious consideration until experienced professionals recommended the necessary steps to put it on the upcoming bond election ballot.

For three years a grass roots movement by citizens like yourself were motivated by experienced professionals to give the voters a choice that delivers a superior building at a reduced price compared to new construction while fully meeting the district's educational needs.

Renovation is the only option to be confirmed by two architectural firms and endorsed by leaders in the construction industry.

School Bond issue discussed

Dear Editor,
The time has come for sober reflection on the needs of the Wayne School System, Dist. #17. The case for passing the forthcoming school bond issue has been convincingly presented in ads and articles in the local media.

Let us remember that we have had two prior chances/opportunities to provide our kids with adequate educational facilities; but we declined to do so for various reasons, some of which were valid.

It now behooves us as voters to set things right. Our school system has long been highly rated; let's keep it that way by voting "YES" at the upcoming election.

There are several compelling reasons for us to pass the school bond issue: a) we really need it — additional space and facilities are sorely needed; b) bond interest rates will probably never be lower; c) the current High School construction in the mid '60s "postponed" adding needed space; and d) government mandates as well as technological advances require more space for the current curriculum. We urge you to vote FOR the upcoming school bond issue.

When you vote, however, don't be disenfranchised by assuming that the school bond issue will fail. If it is successful, your vote on the second ballot for a) new construction or b) renovation, will enable you to tell how you prefer the funds to be spent. Should the bond election be successful, I believe it will be more cost effective and satisfactory to proceed with the renovation of our Middle School, plus repairs planned to the Elementary school and added space to the High School.

Not only will this produce the desired results for adequate space and facilities, it will be achieved for at least half a million dollars less than new construction (whose cost estimates are suspect). In this regard, Wayne State College elected to renovate four buildings, of similar vintage to the Middle School, at costs of less than 50 percent of new construction. Renovation just makes good sense. In the "big picture," however, you feel about "new" or "renovation" process, we owe it to our kids and grandkids to give them adequate educational facilities by passing the Sept. 29 school bond issue.

Dear Editor,
I would like to see the Middle School building remodeled too. But not as a school.

The old hospital was remodeled as a City Hall; the train depot as a restaurant; the Lutheran Church as a church for a smaller congregation; Connell Hall at WSC as a classroom building.

There are many other examples of older buildings that were given new life after it was determined they were no longer suitable for their original use.

The Middle School Building is a prime example of one of these.

Two separate community task forces have studied the issue in the past and on both occasions have determined that it would be more practical to build a new school rather than remodel the old building as a Middle School. Two separate architects have agreed with that conclusion.

Yet a few neighbors seem bent on spreading misinformation and forcing the community to accept remodeling for their own selfish interests.

What is best for the kids is a new building designed as a modern school on a location between the elementary and high school. That also happens to be best for the entire community.

It will be less expensive to build new and sell the old building for remodeling as private use. That will place it back on the tax rolls and everyone will benefit.

Dear Editor,
When I saw the ad, "Our Children are our future. Don't make them dwell in the past. Vote NEW!" many of problems of today's education suddenly came into sharp focus.

We've become so enchanted with modern technology, that we forget the importance of conveying to our children a sense of interest in history and heritage, and respect for the past and for standards and values.

I'll never forget many years ago on a tour of Oxford University in England we were struck by the spartan environment where the rich and famous were sending their promising young people to study.

Our guide explained when questioned, that it was important that these children often accustomed to a luxurious lifestyle, find that a lifelong enthusiasm for learning was never dependent on surrounding facilities, but rather on intellectual challenge.

I have been saddened on my many visits to Wayne during the recent past, to see many of the businesses along Main Street close, and many along Seventh Street struggle to maintain their businesses during road destruction and reconstruction.

The tax burdens that property owners in Wayne already face are often overwhelming, and often needed maintenance, such as roof repairs for city auditorium, are often neglected because of lack of funds. In private conversations with many of these business people, I learn that they often feel they would jeopardize their precarious business success if they openly spoke out.

Since at least $50,000 could be saved by remodeling the existing middle school to meet state mandated standards, and would utilize an existing building which has quality materials and workmanship, which are superior to much of what is available on today's market, it would seem that this would be a wise choice.

It would keep the younger children away from Seventh Street, which will have faster moving traffic, as well as keeping them separated from the older students.

In addition, in a small measure it would keep them in touch with the vision and dreams of those who helped create the Wayne we have today.

Some issues will never be resolved

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent

The Nebraska Press Association Mark McGwire just smacked his 62nd homer to become the first guy, in my book, to really break Babe Ruth's record for home runs in a season.

Some think it didn't matter that Roger Maris played in a season that contained more games than the one in which Ruth hit 60 homers. Thus, they also think it didn't matter that Maris needed those games to get to the 61 mark.

Personally, I think it mattered.

Speaking of issues that never will be resolved, let's talk about the governor's race. (My feeling is that a topic of moment usually offers the best opportunity for the least intrusive segue.)

In fact, for purposes of this discussion, you can talk about most major league political races. The gubernatorial race comes to mind because it appears it will continue to be a genuine contest, and because it offers the best opportunity to discuss the topic I have in mind: straight answers.

Actually, I only want one straight answer from each candidate. And, not just in this governor's race. In any governor's race it is tough to get a direct answer to one particular question.

The question actually goes like this:

"You have said you would reduce state spending through efficiencies, and budget cuts. Can you please tell us some specific efficiencies you have in mind, and enumerate some specific budget reductions you will propose?"

In terms of the English language and even a modicum of foresight, how tough is that question? If a candidate really didn't have some ideas about those things, my hope would be that he or she would be found out and turned down by the voters.

You know that when candidates say budget cuts will be proposed next January, they must have some idea as to whose oxen they intend to gore, whose buckets they intend to dip into, whose pet projects will likely be candidates for budgetary euthanasia.

What I think should be a ground rule for responding to the referenced question is that Reorganizing is not allowed. None of this "By eliminating waste, fraud and abuse" stuff. The Great Communicator used that one, and, in the view of overwhelming electoral majorities, delivered on it.

Good for him. He isn't running for governor of Nebraska.

And how come some candidates, in primary or general elections, condemn increased state government spending while calling for increased property tax relief.

Honest, folks. Sometimes it bothers me to think that there are people, let alone lots of people, who don't find anything contradictory in the former assertion.

Increased state spending generally has to do with the Legislature mailing state tax dollars to local governments to help hold down local property taxes. You want to see the Legislature cut state spending? How about if the 14th Street 49ers cut the state budget by, say, $500 million. You like that? They can do it simply by cutting state aid to local governments by that amount. Do you still like it?

Call me difficult. Call me unrealistic. Call me a dreamer. But do me a favor.

SHOW ME THE MONEY! SHOW ME THE NUMBERS! I WANT TO KNOW WHAT YOU THINK SHOULD STAY AND WHAT YOU THINK SHOULD GO, AND I WANT TO KNOW BEFORE I VOTE IN NOVEMBER!

If you are among those who occasionally venture into cyberspace, it is possible that you have witnessed the use of capital letters on the Internet; in chat rooms, for example. You might also have seen someone inform the capitalizer that, where "netiquette" is concerned, using capital letters is interpreted as hollering.

In my view, that's how it should be interpreted.

The same goes for questions posed in newspaper columns. If it's in capital letters, it is fair to assume that it is intended to represent hollering in print.

Like I said:

SHOW ME THE MONEY! SHOW ME THE NUMBERS! WHAT, SPECIFICALLY, DO YOU WANT TO CUT AND WHAT DO YOU WANT TO KEEP?

My computer has developed a raspy voice and needs to rest.

One can only hope that someone heard all that hollering.

Don't forget Wayne State College students will continue to play the "W.O.W." game in businesses throughout Wayne until 5 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 25.

The drawing for $500 in Chamber Bucks will take place during the Wayne Homecoming game on Sept. 26.

Again, thanks to those businesses who contributed program funding: Farmers and Merchants State Bank, State National Bank & Trust Co., Pac 'N' Save, KTCH Radio, Wayne East and Wayne Vision Center.

Following is the final installment of David Rumbarger's article "Small Town Economic Development Strategies" which appeared in the July issue of Partnership for Small Cities, Towns, and Villages.

Community Development
The last part of the modern day economic developer's portfolio is community development emphasis. The checklist for quality of life as listed in Area Development Magazine indicate the components of successful community development.

The success of a community to favorably reflect the quality-of-life components for all its citizens naturally attracts businesses, retirees and tourists. Only through long-range planning can a community be ready when industry calls.

Leadership
Enlightened, unselfish, visionary and productive are characteristics that successful community leadership demands. Participation by the public and private sectors, draw together diverse individuals with a variety of areas of expertise and insight.

With teamwork, obstacles can be overcome in a timely decisive manner. Businesses locate where they are wanted and seek communities that have planned for success and can deliver.

Funding
The funding for operations can be an organization's greatest asset or its biggest liability. Secure long-term funding for the community economic development program is a must. The right mix of public/private funding can mean freedom to an organization.

Funding must be focused to execute a clearly defined strategic plan that promotes the community's strengths and addresses potential weaknesses in an ongoing manner.

The funds should then be strictly used to execute the strategic plan and complete financial integrity should be maintained to generate more trust and monetary support.

Each community must create its own plan to accomplish economic growth and retention. Successful communities provide a paradigm for others to emulate in strategic planning. The plan should be long-ranging and dynamic. Future issues will provide care analysis to generate ideas for communities to consider.

Quality of Life elements, ranked in 1997 by Site Selectors, indicate a low crime rate is considered necessary by 79.4 percent while rating of public schools at 69.7 percent and health facilities at 69.1 percent followed closely.

Number five on the list, housing availability, ranked 65.4 percent. Climate at 55.3 percent, colleges and universities in the area at 54.4 percent and recreational opportunities at 51.5 percent finish in sixth, seventh and eighth places.

Dear Editor,

The method of housing the Middle School has become a choice between an "old" or a "new" facility. What are the merits if each choice? First, new is not always better. One can look at the elementary school building to realize that new construction has no guarantee that it will survive for a half-century or more. The expertise of the architect, construction engineers, the skill of the workers and the quality of the construction materials all contribute to a building's durability or lack thereof.

Only time can measure the worthiness of new construction.

However, the 90-year old building on West Fourth Street has proved its durability. Contrary to rumor, the building has never been condemned. It is not a sick building as proven by the tests conducted by the Nebraska Labor Department. Two architectural firms have considered it to be worthy of renovation and its continued use.

Renovation would maintain the original facade of the building, rearrange the inside walls to meet current educational needs, provide a three-story addition, with complementary masonry facade.

These changes will furnish the necessary educational space. The renovation plan also includes providing adequate playground space, rearranging and adding parking spaces and easing the traffic flow around the school grounds.

Furthermore, in the construction field, renovation is considered to cost only two-thirds of that for new facilities. Renovation means you pay less and get as much as or more than new construction.

Second, neither building choice will satisfy everyone. Some persons take issue that teachers are required to move between buildings to teach certain classes. Actual data indicate that a very small number of teachers are assigned to both buildings. This is called an itinerant assignment and it is common practice in education.

Some teachers travel from town-to-town, as is the case with professionals working in the service units; some teachers travel from building-to-building as is the case with Wayne and many other school districts.

Other teachers move from room-to-room, as is the case for teachers delivering instruction in small enrollment courses, such as advanced courses. However, technology will come into play with this issue. Advanced courses and many more types of courses will be delivered by video via satellite.

I delivered a course from Wayne this summer to teachers located at down-line sites in Omaha, Columbus and Wayne via satellite. We could talk to each other and we saw each other. The reviews of the course were very favorable. These teachers know that satellite delivery will be the delivery method of the current time. The question of teacher-movement given to support the construction of the building located near the high school is not defensible if one considers itinerant practice and new technology.

Third, the space needed to provide quality education, for which Wayne schools are so well known, is of rightful concern. The concept plans, developed by the school board's advising firm, assure the voter that either building plan will provide the necessary educational space for instruction, programming and other instructional activities. Either building choice is appropriate educationally. One might ask, "How is new construction better for the students?"

Last, we Americans are a "hybrid bunch" — our history is what unifies us. Our history is so short compared to all other societies. Maybe that is why we value the artifacts of our historic events. The cannon in front of the Wayne County Courthouse is a reminder of the men who fought in the Civil War. Isn't it quite possible that veterans of the battles at Vicksburg or Gettysburg may have talked to students in the Middle School building? Those students may have been your grandparents.

Futuristically, the pioneers who settle colonies on Mars may come back to this building to talk to your great grandchildren! This linkage between persons through permanent elements is what history is all about.

In summary, vote FOR the bond issue. Our young people need a permanent educational facility. I encourage the readers to vote on the renovation of the beautiful historical building that has been the "center" of Wayne for 90 years? Daryl Wilcox

Dear Editor,

There are still a few things about the school bond issue that I believe need to be resolved and discussed among the citizens before it comes down to the final vote.

Regardless of our choice, renovation or new construction, will what we choose be taken care of? The track record is out there. The way I see things, the basic reason for this whole thing is because the care of buildings and grounds entrusted to elected officials has been neglected. Minor problems have become major problems to the point of no return. Will future administrators and school boards follow the footsteps of the past and present? The example set by elected, appointed and hired public officials, is part of the learning experience for young people.

Another part of that learning experience is what the voting public (taxpayers) can do when we spend millions of dollars and watch it go down the tube.

I might insert here that this is a problem that all local government officials might want to address. Many of us out here in the general public feel we, the citizens, have no promise, no rule, no regulation, no ordinance, no law that says "property that we entrust to our elected officials will be taken care of and properly maintained before it becomes a major problem."

Somewhere along the line I would like to see this situation taken care of before we spend more money.

I would also like to point out that, although we have been somewhat successful in putting "lids" on some government spending, we still haven't put a lid on the County Assessor. I, through some good fortune, bought a new house in 1994. In the past four years my taxes have gone up, on average 1.75 percent per year.

Not bad, really. But when I extend that increase 20 years (the life of the school bond) it adds up to a 35 percent increase, bonded debt adding even more to tax liability. With the compounding effect of percentages, it is probably more.

As I said in a previous letter, this is a hard decision for me. I, for one, don't want to hinder the education of our young people or the progress of our schools. But I also wonder in my heart if we can continue to be taxed more than we can afford.

Can, or will, the city and county take a deep reduction in fees and taxes so we can get our school taken care of? Will the business community and landlords not raise their prices and rental fees?

At my house, when we need a big ticket item, we have to make sacrifices. There's that Pizza a Month Plan again. I would like to see some tax sacrificing in other areas. The Sales Tax is soon to be in front of us. What will we do with that? Sacrifice, too, is part of the life long learning experience.

Just one last note from a 1996 Omaha World Herald article. In Lexington, after four failed bond attempts, the Lexington Foundation raised $1 million to help pass a school bond for work in their middle school. Perhaps that's an idea worthy of looking into.

I think a lot of folks would rather be asked to give what they can afford, than be forced into higher tax rates.

Please get to the polls on Sept. 29. Your vote may be the only one needed to express your wishes. I still haven't made up my mind.

Steve Gross

Dear Editor,

The Yes for Kids committee is a group of citizens who are concerned about the quality of education our young people are receiving.

These citizens are not just parents or educators; they are businessmen and women, home owners and retired citizens. Some of the committee members are pro new construction, some are pro renovation and then some are undecided which is the best alternative.

However, the common concern for all the committee members is that something needs to be done about our middle school. Wayne has been known to have a quality educational system and this committee is united in their efforts to see that we continue providing a quality education for the present and future students.

On Sept. 29 there will be a special election regarding our school system. The Yes for Kids Committee has taken on the responsibility of educating the citizens of School District #17 that they have a choice in providing that quality education.

The citizens will be given two ballots when they go to vote. The first ballot asks the voter to vote for or against a $7,500,000 bond issue. The second ballot lets the voter choose whether they want to build a new middle school or if they want to renovate the existing middle school.

Bond rates are at an all time low; therefore the school board feels that this is a good time to borrow funds to build. On $7,500,000 a one percent increase in the bond costs equates to $75,000 in additional interest for the first year.

If you are a concerned citizen and would like to help, join us on Thursday night at 7 p.m. at the high school and find out how you can help.

Nancy Braden,
Yes for Kids Committee member

Dear Editor,

There is a lot of hype going around regarding the upcoming school bond issue. We are no different than anyone else when it comes to additional taxes but we strongly feel something needs to be done for the children other than the present situation.

We have attended some of the meetings that have been held in order to be able to make a well-informed decision when we vote.

We are convinced that the only vote that makes good sense is to renovate and add to the existing Middle School. We were pleased to find that the air quality control would be remedied with the same type of ventilation system as would be put in a new structure.

The renovation of the present Middle School would make everything new but the outside structure itself, which is more solid than new construction today.

With the information given us, we are convinced that the renovation program for the old Middle School will be the best answer for the children and for the preservation of the existing neighborhood.

Best of all, the students will have their own "space" and so will the High School students.

Somewhat unbeknown to the Wayne community is a similar situation in the 1960s regarding continued use of the Federal building that houses our Post Office. After much research, the Federal people elected to renovate. This building is serving our needs after over 35 years.

We do hope the bond issue will be a positive thing for our Wayne Schools.

Bill and Rae Kugler
Wayne

Dear Editor,

On Sept. 29, the citizens of district 17 in Wayne face a most serious decision for the future of the community: whether or not to replace the current temporary and substandard modules bidding used in lieu of a middle school.

This issue is most pressing because we simply can no longer go on subjecting our children to the current conditions. Thus it is essential that everyone be registered to vote and then cast a ballot to pass the bond issue. This is the first and all-important step in restoring a quality educational environment for the youth of Wayne.

The second decision voters will make is whether to renovate and build an addition to the current Middle School structure or to build an entirely new facility next to the High School. In recent weeks, we have heard in letter to this paper well-stated arguments for each side, which I do not wish to rehash. But some of the points made deserve further comment.

In one letter, the location of the present Middle School is cited as the "main disadvantage" of renovating it. However, for many citizens it is precisely this separation of the middle-school-aged children from the high schoolers that is the chief attraction of the renovation/addition plan.

In addition to this benefit, with renovation there will not be the excessive traffic congestion in one location, a concern that I understand has been voiced by the Wayne Police Department. Although traffic flow is not strictly an issue of educational quality, it pertains to our children's safety, which is certainly an important concern.

Some proponents of new construction argue that renovation costs could more readily exceed the bond issue budget than would new construction costs.

Dear Editor,

Ask the supporters of Middle School remodeling for a guarantee.

I've built new and I've remodeled old. And the one thing you will never get when you talk to a contractor about remodeling is an iron clad guarantee.

If...unless...except... are always words thrown into any price promises when you talk about major reconstruction.

The contingency they have built into their price is way too low. If you chose remodeling, shortly after work begins there will be emergency meetings to determine what has to be changed,

This is total conjecture. With the current older building, we already have a durable, amazingly well-built structure that is a known quantity. One of the truisms of our time is that "they no longer construct buildings the way they used to" - a truth we ought to keep in mind.

With new construction, we have only a concept plan that, with cost overruns, could be radically altered, and most likely not for the best.

As for equivalent facilities, it has been agreed by the School Board that whichever option is chosen by the voters, the educational system provided will be the same. The students' educational opportunities will in no way be short-changed in a renovated and enlarged middle school.

And although there may be some inconvenience for the several teachers assigned to classes in both schools, it can be mitigated to a great extent by careful scheduling.

Finally, there is the question of aesthetic value and of maintaining our architectural heritage, an integral part of any child's total education, just as much as is computer training or athletics, but not often acknowledged to be important.

Although beauty may, to some, be solely in the eye of the beholder, many people in Wayne want structures such as the County Courthouse and the Middle School to be used for their original function if that is possible, as it would be with the renovation plan for the latter.

I find the reasons for renovating and adding to the Middle School compelling, as many other citizens do. But, even more compelling is the need to pass the Bond Issue on Sept. 29 so that, whatever choice is made at the polls, we can all once more be proud of the educational opportunities we give our young people.

Sayre Anderson

eliminated or cutback from the remodeling plan as those inevitable "unforeseen" problems arise.

And even after you are done remodeling, you have a building that still has a much shorter life expectancy than new construction. Plus, you have made numerous sacrifices or decisions to spend more along the way and you don't have exactly the spaces you want, because you had to work around the existing structural limits.

New construction is better for our kids and will be cheaper for the community.

Les Mann
Wayne

Dear Editor,

In reviewing the latest Wayne Community News and Review and the Wayne Herald letters to the Editor, it would appear renovation of the existing Middle School would be the better of the two proposals.

Remodeling of the existing building, which has stood strong and sturdy these many years would provide a sturdy base for any new additions and renovations. Why demolish a perfectly good building, a classic building with a great amount of historical significance to the town of Wayne?

Some questions have been raised relative to students and teachers moving back and forth from the Middle School to the High School causing problems. After having lived at 516 West Fourth Street, located between both the schools for a considerable number of years, we have never had any significant problems with the children. They have always been, by and large, respectful, friendly and courteous. We always look forward to Fall and the start of the school year.

We would hope that everybody will get out and vote on the 29th. Earl and Lois Echtenkamp Wayne.

Dear Editor,

The upcoming bond issue provides an opportunity for the citizens of the Wayne School District to unite behind a plan to greatly improve the educational facilities for our children.

This is how we see the options:

1. Bond rates are at their lowest level in about 30 years, making the project less costly today than it was three years ago.

2. The modular buildings may have been an acceptable stopgap response, but they were never a long term solution to our middle school needs.

3. Renovation of the old middle schools leaves the school district with an old building with new walls that will likely not last as long as a new building.

4. Renovation of the old middle school would cost the district in lost teacher time as they go to and from the middle school. This is necessary so that our brightest students can enroll in advanced classes once they are in high school.

Fortunately, we have 20-30 students that enroll in advanced classes each year and excellent teachers to challenge them. Now, we reward these students and staff by forcing them to walk three blocks to participate in these classes. A new building positioned to allow linking all three buildings via underground hallways would be a much more suitable accolade.

If we have expectations that some of these students will return to Wayne after graduating from college, we must first display an attitude of educational excellence. This second step is to show our commitment with action. Our best and brightest are leaving Wayne and Nebraska for many reasons. We believe that one of those reasons could be the lack of educational facilities available to their children.

5. The difference in cost between a new building designed to encourage learning and renovating the old building will be somewhere close to one cent per $100 in property.

a) That one cent will buy a building that will last longer than a renovated old building.

b) That one cent will buy a building that will reduce the time teachers spend moving from one building to another.

c) That one cent will reduce the time required to transport meals to elementary school students.

d) That one cent will buy a building that will attract more bright students, more employees and more businesses to Wayne, not serve as a reason for them to go elsewhere.

As you vote, remember this: We can have all these positive outcomes for an additional $6 per year for property valued at $60,000.

We encourage a vote for the future of Wayne, Neb. A vote that includes modern facilities for students and convenience for our teachers and staff. In our view, that requires a vote for a new middle school located between the elementary and high school buildings.

We urge everyone to vote for a new middle school on Sept. 29.

Dear Editor,

Even though my last letter to the Editor makes it seem otherwise, I do know how to count to 12. There really are more than a dozen reasons to vote for the school bond and for a new middle school.

Here is reason #10 plus two extra reasons: 10) The price difference between new construction and renovation is not one half million dollars, but nearer to one fourth of a million, when you take into account that the price includes $275,000 to demolish the old middle school.

This money will not be spent if the building and the block where it stands are sold to a private developer for housing or commercial use.

This leads into the two extra reasons: 1) If the block is sold for housing or commercial use, the area will be added to the tax rolls, something which cannot happen with the site for new construction.

2) The price difference between new and renovated construction, including demolition is $1.17 per month on a $70,000 house. Why make the compromises required to renovate when the price difference is so low.

Vote for the bond and for new construction.

WEEKLY TIP What Is Rosacea?

Rosacea is a disease affecting the skin on the face - where people flush. It usually starts with redness on the cheeks and can worsen to include other parts of the face. Because changes are gradual, it may be hard to recognize rosacea for sunburn, a complexion change, or acne and do not see a doctor.

Flushing can be triggered by exercise, menopause, and some medicines. The most common triggers are hot drinks, alcohol, spicy foods, stress, sunlight, extreme heat or cold.

The Wayne Herald

Bears place second, Devils third, Trojans fifth Wakefield hosts volleyball classic

By Kevin Peterson
Of the Herald

Four of the five Wayne Herald area coverage schools competed at the Wakefield Volleyball Tournament last Thursday and Saturday.

Wayne came away with a third place finish at 2-1 while Laurel-Concord went 2-1 and placed runner-up in the eight-team field.

Wakefield also went 2-1 and placed fifth while Winside finished seventh with a 1-2 record.

The Blue Devils defeated Winside in the first round, 15-6, 15-13 as Sara Ellis led the way with 14 kill spikes on 21 of 27 attempts.

Lindsay Woehler had eight kills and Shona-Stracke, six. Jess Raveling led the servers at 7-7 with three aces while Leah Dunklau was 7-7 with one ace.

Brooke Parker was 60-61 in setting with 22 assists.

The Blue Devils fell to eventual champs, Hartington Cedar Catholic, 15-9, 11-15, 11-15 despite a record-setting performance by junior Sara Ellis.

Ellis was 23-24 in serving with a tournament record eight ace serves. The previous record was five set by Katie Lutt.

Sara Ellis and Shona Stracke were each named to the first-team-all-tournament squad.

LAUREL-CONCORD had two players on the all-tourney team as well in Laurie Schroeder and Kristin Hank.

The two were instrumental in leading the Bears to a 2-1 record and 3-2 overall mark on the season.

The Bears began the tournament with a 15-4, 15-7 win over Lyons Decatur.

Kristin Hank had five kill spikes to lead the offense while Brittany Burns had four and Jenny Demuth, two.

Julie Abts was 13-15 in serving with five aces to lead the winners with Kari Stewart connecting on all six attempts with two aces. Stewart was also the sets leader with seven assists while Elly Harder had three.

Schroeder had five blocks and Burns, two to pace the defense while Abts notched three digs for team tops.

"Serving was our strength," coach Patti Cunningham said. "Our team played with more confidence and rhythm."

Laurel then cruised past West Point, 15-3, 15-2 as Burns posted five-kill spikes while Schroeder had four and Demuth, three.

Julie Abts was a co-leader on the team in serving with three aces with Schroeder also notching three aces and Hank, two.

Kari Stewart finished with nine set assists and Elly Harder had five. Schroeder led the defense with one block and three digs.

"We played with determination and intensity," Cunningham said. "We attacked well all along the net and our serving was again, a real strength."

The Bears were defeated in the championship by Cedar Catholic, 12-15, 14-16.

Julie Abts went 13-15 in serving with two aces while Kari Stewart led the setters with 19 assists with Harder adding 10.

Laurie Schroeder had a strong offensive game with 11 kill spikes while Kristin Hank had 10 and Jenny Demuth, four.

Schroeder also led the defense with four blocks and seven digs with Stewart also notching seven digs.

"We struggled early with serve receive errors and Cedar Catholic jumped out to a 7-1 lead, Cunningham said. "We fought back to tie the game at seven and we lost a close one down the stretch."

The second game was even throughout but Cunningham said the difference came down to service errors. It was the fourth straight year the Bears have been in the finals of this tournament.

WAKEFIELD BEGAN tourney play against eventual champs, Cedar Catholic and fell, 11-15, 15-10, 9-15.

Marty Slaughter's team got five ace serves from Amanda Ekberg while Lisa Potter notched 14 set assists and Kristin Brudigam, 11.

Kristin Eaton had seven kill spikes and Annie Greve added five.

"We had a chance to beat a very tough Cedar team," Slaughter said. "We were up 7-1 in the third game but then lost our composure."

The Trojans came back to down Winside, 15-7, 15-12 as Ekberg again led the team in serving with three aces while Eaton had two.

Brudigam notched six set assists and Greve had four ace hits to lead the winners while Maggie Brownell had three. Eaton also had seven total blocks and Greve, six.

"Our setters did a good job," Slaughter said. "We lost one of our key setters, Lisa Potter for the season with torn ligaments in her foot. Winside is a young team and we took advantage of their reception errors."

Wakefield defeated Lyons-Decatur for fifth place honors and a 6-2 season record, 15-7, 15-5.

Kristin Eaton was 11-11 in serving with four aces while Brudigam had four set assists for team tops. Greve and Brownell led the offense with four and three kill spikes, respectively and Timarie Bebee had four blocks to pace the defense while Brownell had two.

"We were dominant from the opening serve," Slaughter said. "We played a lot of non-starters that did a solid job for us. Jen Carson, Lacey Brown and Megan Brown all chipped in nicely."

THE WINSIDE WILDCATS went 1-2 in the tournament. They opened with a loss to Wayne, 6-15, 13-15.

Freshman Julie Jacobsen led the Wildcats in hitting with eight kills while going 12-17 in setting with six assists and 6-6 in serving.

Brooke Boelter was 10-10 in serving with two aces and Shannon Bowers was 17-19 in setting with six assists. She also went 7-7 in serving with one ace. Jessica Wade was 11-12 in hitting with six kills and she notched two ace blocks on defense while Crystal Jensen was 8-8 in hitting with three kills and she notched two ace serves.

"We got off to a very slow start," coach Lisa Schroeder said. "We just never got into a rhythm. We played much better the second game as we were more aggressive at the net. We led 13-8 but a let down in communication and intensity allowed Wayne back in the game and they took advantage."

The 2-5 Wildcats fell to Wakefield in the second match, 7-15, 12-15 as Jacobsen again led the team in attacks with seven kills while notching three service aces on a 12-12 performance.

Shannon Bowers was a perfect 10-10 in setting and Jessica Wade was 8-9 in hitting with four kills while notching two ace blocks on defense.

Sara Mohr was 7-7 in hitting with three kills and notched three ace blocks while Crystal Jensen was 4-5 with one ace hit. Stacy Wittler was 5-5 in serving with two aces and Heather Rabe was 7-8 in serve receive.

"Again, another slow start and we struggled with our passing game," Schroeder said. "We got up 5-0 in the second game but Wakefield regained the momentum to go on and win."

Schroeder credited her bench for a come-back attempt. "It's nice to know I have some depth and some mentally tough girls ready to play and sub in for those who are not giving a consistent effort," Schroeder added.

Winside defeated Stanton in the third match of the tournament, 15-7, 9-15, 15-9.

Julie Jacobsen was 19-20 in hitting with 10 kill spikes while going 19-19 in serving with five aces. She was 17-18 in setting with seven assists and she was 15-18 in serve receive.

Shannon Bowers was 29-29 in setting with 14 assists and was 7-7 in serving while Brooke Boelter was 13-13 in serving with two aces while notching 11 digs.

Stacy Magwire was 14-15 in serving with two aces and Jessica Wade was 19-22 in hitting with seven kills.

She also had eight digs and six ace blocks to pace the defense at the net. Sara Mohr had two ace blocks and was 10-11 in attacks with six kills.

"Once again, our bench production was great," Schroeder said. "Our blocking improved immensely with 11 total aces. Both Julie and Jessica had strong games at the net. I think Jessica Wade gets more aggressive each time out. Sara Mohr has also stepped it up as a go-to person in our weaker rotations as she had six kills in a very consistent performance."

Stracke was 8-9 in serving with two aces and Raveling notched an ace and was 10-12. Parker was 12-12 in serving and Dunklau, 7-7.

Ellis led the offense with nine kill spikes with Stracke notching three. Woehler and Liz Campbell each had two ace hits. Parker netted 17 set assists.

The 4-5 Blue Devils defeated West Point for third place, 15-3, 15-5 as Parker led the team in serving at 17-17 with one ace while Raveling was 8-8 with one ace and Stracke, 5-5.

Winside football team slips to 0-2 in loss to Pender

Winside slipped to 0-2 on the football season last Friday night after falling to Pender, 21-14 in Winside.

Randy Geier's troops fell behind 14-0 in the second quarter after Jason Buchholz tossed a pair of touchdown passes to Chris Peters.

Aaron Hoffman got Winside on the board in the second period, connecting with Scott Wittler from 46 yards out for a 14-7 deficit at the half.

Pender went ahead 21-7 in the third quarter on a third touchdown pass from Buchholz, this time to Elijah Starzl from 12 yards out.

The Wildcats scored for the final time in the four quarter on an I-back pass from Ryan Krueger to Aaron Lessman from 29 yards out.

"Our guys played real hard," Geier said. "It's been a tough start because we are a couple of plays away from being 2-0. We can still get things turned around, but we need to get things going this week.

We reminded the athletes that we were 0-2 in 1996 and still won the conference and made it to the state playoffs," Geier added. "Emerson-Hubbard is 2-0 and another very good football team and we play there on Friday."

Ryan Krueger paced the Wildcats with 76 yards rushing on 12 carries while Dustin Wade gained 23 yards on six attempts.

Aaron Hoffman was 9-17 through the air for 46 yards, with Aaron Lessman catching two balls for 42 yards.

Defensively, Eric Vanosdall had eight tackles with Krueger netting seven, Zeke Brummels and Scott Maritz each had six stops.

Steve Rabe recovered two fumbles and Vanosdall intercepted a pass.

Blue Devils use big plays to defeat Logan View

The Wayne football team used the big play to post a 28-12 victory over Logan View last Friday at Logan View.

The win left John Murtaugh's team with a 1-1 record on the season with the season's first two games on the road.

Wayne will now return home to play four-in-a-row with North Bend coming to town this week.

The Blue Devils took a 7-0 lead in the first quarter on a 49-yard scoring run by Joel Munson. Josh Murtaugh booted the point after.

The score stayed at 7-0 until the third quarter when Gabe Hammer scored on a 16-yard pass play from Klinton Keller.

Logan View bounced back and scored on a six-yard pass but Wayne retaliated with a big play as Joel Munson tossed a half-back pass to a wide open Gabe Hammer who sprinted to the endzone from 76 yards out.

Wayne added a third, third-quarter touchdown on a 12-yard run by Josh Murtaugh. Murtaugh, incidentally, booted all four point after kicks.

Logan View scored a touchdown on a one-yard run early in the fourth quarter for the final margin of 28-12.

"It was a nice win for the kids," Wayne coach John Murtaugh said. "They have worked hard and paid their dues so it was a well deserved victory."

The Wayne mentor said the key to the win was the play of the offensive line in the third quarter.

"Casey Junck, Craig Hefti, Ryan Haase, Ryan Dunklau, Brandon Hall and John Magnuson did a great job of getting control of the line of scrimmage."

Joel Munson rambled for a game-high 135 yards on 17 carries while Murtaugh rushed for 49 yards on 12 attempts.

Keller was 5-11 through the air for 89 yards and Munson, of course was 1-1 for 76 yards.

Defensively, Wayne was led by Casey Junck with 11 tackles while Darin Jensen and Wes Sievers had nine each. John Magnuson and Shane Baack each had eight stops and Josh Murtaugh, seven.

Wayne rushed the ball for 211 yards and passed for 165 for 376 total yards and two turnovers while Logan View had 335 total yards but lost six fumbles.

Wayne will tangle with North Bend on Friday at 7:30 p.m. with both teams coming into the contest with 1-1 records.

Wakefield gridders beaten by Ponca to even record at 1-1

The Wakefield Trojans football team fell to 1-1 on the season with a 35-12 setback at state-ranked Ponca last Friday night.

For the Herald

Wayne State volleyball standout Jessie Pontow continued to play stellar volleyball for coach Sharon Vanis last weekend but the 6-8 Wildcats were unable to spring any victories at the North Central Conference/Northern Sun Crossover Tournament in Mankato, Minn.

The 6-8 Wildcats have dropped five consecutive matches including the three played over the weekend.

Pontow led the team with 87 kills, in the three matches. In the first match of the tournament, the Wildcats fell to North Dakota by scores of 5-15, 15-9, 8-15, and 12-15.

Pontow contributed a team high 15 digs to go with nine kills. Senior outside hitter Renee Fuhr complimented Pontow with an 11-kill, 10-dig performance.

Kelli Parry finished with eight kill spikes with Melanie Kershaw notching 37 set assists. Amy Johnson was in double figures with digs with 10.

In the second match, St. Cloud State swept the 'Cats in straight games 5-15, 12-15, 15-17.

Pontow led the offense with nine kill spikes with Renee Fuhr adding seven and Jessie Erwin, five. Kershaw recorded 23 set assists and Pontow had two ace serves while the defensive efforts were led by Fuhr's 12 digs.

On Saturday Sept. 12, WSC was matched with sixth-ranked North Dakota State. The 'Cats managed to win one game with the Bison, 15-13, before falling 3-15, 10-15, 2-15 in the next three games.

Fuhr tallied 15 kill spikes and Pontow, 11 to lead the 'Cats with Kershaw notching 36 set assists. Defensively, Lindsey Koch led the way with 18 digs with Fuhr adding 13. Pontow led the defensive effort at the net with six blocks.

Head coach Sharon Vanis said she was a little disappointed with the outcome of the tournament but believes the 'Cats will improve on their home turf.

"We're playing pretty good in spurts but we're not playing good for 15 points and that's costing us," she said.

"We just have to be able to put a game away. Volleyball is a game of momentum and if you give a team momentum at the wrong time you'll lose the match, and that's what we've been doing."

Thursday, the Wildcats will entertain Briar Cliff at 7:30 p.m. On Saturday the 'Cats host Rockhurst.

"We're home for the rest of September and it will be nice to finally play in front of our home crowd. That alone will give us some momentum."

Wayne golf team breaks school record at Pierce

The Wayne girls golf team enjoyed a record-breaking day at the Pierce Invite last Saturday.

Dave Hix's team swept the 16-team field with a 30-stroke victory at 369 while runner-up Plainview had a 399.

Atkinson West Holt was third at 416 followed by O'Neill, 433 and Oakland-Craig, 440.

All five of Wayne's varsity players earned medals led by Lindsey Martin with a fourth place score of 88 while Traci Nolte fired a 93 for sixth, edging teammate Hailey Daehnke who also fired a 93 for seventh place.

Monica Novak finished ninth at 95 and Kari Harder was 10th at 98. Wakefield's Amber Johnson was medalist with a tournament record, 82.

Martin and Daehnke each fired 44's on the front nine with Nolte netting a 46. Novak and Harder each tallied 48's.

"It was a great day," Hix said. "I was really proud of the girls for staying focused in a seven-hour round of golf. It says a lot about their determination and understanding of the game."

Eagles fall to 0-2

The Allen Eagles football team fell to 0-2 on the season with a 52-6 setback against Wynot last Friday night.

The Eagles lone score came on a 50-yard pass from Garry Dowling to Micky Oldenkamp in the second quarter.

Wynot led 46-6 at the half and the game ended in the third quarter due to the 45-point rule in eight-man football.

"We are still pretty banged up from the Macy game in week one," Allen coach Doug Schnack said. "We had to move some people around and it hurt us defensively. We moved Adam Gensler from guard to fullback and I thought he did a real nice job. He always gives us everything he has."

Gensler ran for 36 yards to lead the offense while Dowling had 35 yards on the ground. Dowling was 4-13 for 63 yards and a touchdown along with two interceptions.

Gensler had two pass receptions for seven yards while Oldenkamp had one catch for 50 yards.

Defensively, Allen was led by Richie Lamprecht with 10 tackles and Oldenkamp with nine.

Wayne State blasted by Northwest Mo. State

By Louis Johnson
For the Herald

NCAA Division II ninth-ranked Northwest-Missouri State unleashed a ground game that yielded 226 yards and a passing attack that netted 264 yards in a 51-2 victory over Wayne State College (0-2) last Saturday in Maryville, Missouri.

WSC started strong defensively, as sophomore cornerback Chaka Smith, who had two interceptions in the game, intercepted All-American quarterback Chris Greisen on the Bearcat's first possession.

Defensive Back Roger Wooden snagged Greisen's pass on NWMSU's next possession at the 50-yard line.

However, the Wildcats offense couldn't capitalize, giving NWMSU that many more opportunities to strike.

The Wildcats' only score came in the second quarter on a controversial blocked punt that dribbled back through the Bearcats' endzone.

Wildcat quarterback Jaime Jones suffered a dismal output, going 6-30 for 38 yards. Five WSC backs gained 114 yards on the ground.

Fred Giraud was the Cats leading rusher, gaining 60 yards on 15 carries with BJ Helmstadter netting 24 yards on 11 attempts.

Ronnie Blair was the leading receiver for WSC with three receptions and 26 yards. Herman Gordon catching two balls for just seven yards.

WSC linebacker Jesse Wavruhek had 12 tackles including eight solo stops.

Defensive Linemen Seth Last came off the bench to record two quarterback sacks.

Kirk Steffensen had nine total tackles and Wooden netted six with Jason Jansen, Seth Last, Chaka Smith, Greg Davis and Yano Jones had five stops each.

"If you don't execute you won't have success," head coach Kevin Haslam said. "We were playing a top-ranked team and couldn't execute and that was highlighted with a 51-2 score."

Overall, Haslam said they (Wildcats) improved in a lot of areas. He noted the offensive line's performance. "The wide receivers improved in terms of flying around but they still need to get the little things done properly."

Defensively, we intercepted an All-American quarterback three times and contained him pretty well."

The host Bearcats are seeking a third consecutive trip to the elite eight in NCAA-II's national playoffs.

The score was only 6-0 after one quarter of play before NWMSU rolled up 28, second quarter points and added 10 more in the third quarter.

Saturday WSC will return home for a matchup with 1-2 Northwestern Oklahoma State University. Kick off is scheduled for noon at Memorial Stadium.

The game will be the first of five consecutive home games for WSC. Northwestern Oklahoma State poses some perplexing questions for the Cats after falling to a highly touted Central Oklahoma by a 3-0 margin. Central Oklahoma then blasted a top 10 team in Texas A&M Kingsville last Saturday.

The Ranger offense is a veteran group with nine senior starters in the lineup. Leading the charge is senior quarterback Terence Coleman.

Through three games, he is averaging 152 yards of total offense. His has passed for one touchdown and rushed for two scores.

Defensively, the Rangers have been opportunistic, forcing 13 turnovers in three games. Daryl Richardson has a team high 22 tackles while Corey Turner and Sherrick Harris have two interceptions.

Northwestern Oklahoma State was a semifinalist in the 1996 national football playoffs on the NAIA Division I level.

The Rangers are averaging 174 rushing yards per game and 125 passing yards while WSC is averaging 69 yards rushing and 130 yards passing.

Saturday is also Band Day with several area bands marching in a parade through downtown Wayne before performing at halftime of the football game.

Laurel-Concord quarterback Evan Smith eludes the grasp of a Neligh-Oakdale defender long enough to get a pass over during the Bears contest last Friday in Laurel. Tom Luxford's team won the contest to even their season record at 1-1.

Laurel football team notches 24-21 victory over Neligh

Tom Luxford's Laurel-Concord football team notched win number one on the season with a 24-21 win over Neligh-Oakdale last Friday night in Laurel's home-opener.

The Bears led 16-0 at the half with Matt Lawyer scoring from six yards out in the first quarter while Evan Smith plunging over from a yard out in the second stanza.

Evan Smith hit Nick Manganaro for the first two-point conversion attempt with Wyatt Erwin hitting Evan Smith on the second two-point attempt.

Neligh fought back and cut the margin to just two points at 16:14 early in the fourth quarter before Chris Lackas intercepted a Neligh pass and returned it 35 yards for a touchdown.

Evan Smith's two-point pass to Adam Hartung proved to be the difference in the game because Neligh scored once again for the final margin of 24-21 with each team scoring three touchdowns.

"This was a big win for our kids," Luxford said. "We played a good first half. When a team has a lot of youth such as ours, it takes experience to put a team away and we had our chances to do that."

Luxford said the game came down to the point after touchdown success the Bears had.

"I thought our special teams play was outstanding," Luxford added.

"We've got a lot of work ahead of us, but it's nice to get a win and kind of see where we're heading."

The Bears were led by Matt Lawyer with 79 yards on 16 attempts while Wyatt Erwin rushed for 68 yards on 13 carries.

Evan Smith was 4-14 through the air to 55 yards.

Lawyer was also the defensive leader with 10 tackles while Nick Manganaro had nine and Zack Harder along with Wyatt Erwin had eight each.

Laurel will play at Plainview on Friday at 7:30 p.m.

Wayne cross country teams fare well at Lincoln Pius Invitational

The Wayne cross country team competed with some of the state's best at the Lincoln Pius Invite last Saturday and Rocky Ruhl's teams did just fine.

In fact, in the boys category the Blue Devils had five runners earn medals.

No team scoring was kept but had it been, Wayne would have defeated every C-1 school in the field with only Pius X and Lincoln East defeating the Blue Devils (two Class A schools).

"Our goal was to medal all five and we did," Ruhl said. "I believe that's the first Wayne team to ever accomplish that."

Brian Hochstein placed sixth, individually, in 18:08 while Brent Tietz was 19th in 18:50. Brandon Gunn was 21st in 18:53 and Nick Muir was 22nd in 18:56 followed by Jeff Ensz in 24th at 19:04.

The top 30 earned medals in both the boys and girls divisions.

Wayne's girls squad had two medal winners in Lilly Broders who was ninth in 17:14 and Emily Kinney, 23rd in 17:55.

Sarah Holstedt was close with a 33rd place effort of 18:28 and Katie Walton was 42nd in 19:22.

Tara Hart was timed in 19:27 for 45th place and Jeanne Allemann ran to a 19:57 clocking with Jill Meyer at 21:01.

"The girls continue to improve," Ruhl said. "This was a good test for us and should help us later in the season."

WAYNE'S RESERVE runners ran at the Norfolk Catholic Invite with Wayne winning the event with 22 points while Wisner-Pilger scored 29 and Crofton, 52. Albion was fourth with 87 and Plainview was fifth at 99 while the host team was last with 108 points.

Authors to visit Wayne State

Authors, educators, entertainers, panelists and poets will explore what makes Nebraska writing unique as Wayne State College hosts the Nebraska Literature Festival, Sept. 17-19.

The College will be joined in sponsorship of the award-winning Festival by the Nebraska Center for the Book and the Nebraska Humanities Council.

One special feature of the Festival at WSC will be the invitation of alumni of the Plains Writers Series. An estimated 40 authors from the Series will be attending the Festival. For over 20 years, WSC has been organizing and sponsoring the longest program of sustained contact between writers and readers in the state.

Friday morning readings will include a session at 9 for short story writers with an opportunity for the audience to speak with authors Dan Choan, Elizabeth Cook-Lynn and Neil Harrison.

Elizabeth Cook-Lynn is a poet, editor and professor who has edited one of the leading scholar journals for Native American studies professionals, Wicazo Sa Review.

Born on the Crow Creek Reservation at Fort Thompson, S.D., Cook-Lynn received a bachelor's degree in English and journalism from South Dakota State College and a master's degree in education, psychology and counseling from the University of South Dakota.

Cook-Lynn has also studied literary criticism at the University of Nebraska and at Stanford University.

What it's like to live in Nebraska will be the topic for readings by Joan Hoffman, Ron Block and Charles Fort at 11 a.m. on Friday.

Fort holds the Reynolds Chair in poetry at the University of Nebraska-Kearney. A MacDowell Fellow, Fort has received major literary awards from the Poetry Society of America, Writer's Voice and the Randall Jarrell Poetry Prize.

He has published his work in 10 anthologies of poetry.

Friday afternoon activities begin at 1 with a panel of novelists and historians discussing the writing process. This session, The Novel and History, will involve panelists Dennis Hastings and Anna Monardo.

Hastings is director of the Omaha Tribal Historical Society. He received his master's degree in social sciences from the Western Institute for Social Research in Berkeley, Calif. Hastings founded the Omaha Project, which later became known as the Omaha Tribal Historical Society.

Five years before founding the Project, Hastings was one of the American Indians who occupied Alcatraz Island in the San Francisco Bay.

Hastings and Dr. John Bilorusky collaborated with others to found the Western Institute for Social Research in 1975.

One of three authors presenting readings at 2 p.m. on Friday will be Nancy McCleery. Her publications include four books of poetry, most recently Polar Lights (1994) and Staying the Winter (1987). McCleery's poems have appeared in over 50 journals, several of her critical reviews have been published in Western American Literature and she has edited five student anthologies.

McCleery has taught poetry writing and related courses at Anchorage Community College, Avila College and Tarkio College as assistant professor of English. She also served as poet in residence at Tarkio.

"A Cowboy Gathering" is scheduled for Friday evening at 7:30. Poetry by Lyn DeNaeyer, Larry Holland and Paul Zarzyski will be read by each author.

Establishing a reputation as the "Female version of Baxter Black" or the "Erma Bombeck of the Sandhills," DeNaeyer is a third generation rancher and is sharpening her folklore skills by researching material for a book of early day Sandhills stories. She has entertained audiences from Nevada to Kansas with her original cowboy poetry and her book, "Downwind From the Smoke."

Another cowboy poet reading on Friday evening will be Zarzyski. Born in Wisconsin, he moved at early age to Montana and later rode bareback broncs for more than a decade. Zarzyski also rode for eight years as a member of the professional Rodeo Cowboys Association.

"Whereas I once lived for the jump 'n' kick, rock 'n' rowel bucking horse, I now live for the jump 'n' kick, rock 'n' rowel buckin' verse - the ring and ricochet of lingo off the stirrup bone of the middle ear, but I've never made a living at either," Zarzyski says.

Zarzyski's cowboy poetry appears in his collection, Roughstock Sonnets, can be heard in performances with the group Horse Sense, in their album titled Ain't No Life After Rodeo.

Saturday events will include several author readings, as well as a panel of editors of small presses.

Nebraska author groups have also arranged programming on Saturday. These groups are the Willa Cather Pioneer Memorial, the John G. Neihardt Center, the Friends of Loren Eiseley, the Mari Sandoz Heritage Society and the Lone Tree Literary Society.

At 9 a.m. Deb Carpenter will be among three authors presenting readings. Carpenter is a Rushville songwriter and performer with a bachelor's degree in literature from Wheaton College and master's degree in language arts, humanities and fine arts from Chadron.

After more than a decade of experience in education, Carpenter continues to teach reading and writing. In addition to working as an instructor at Oglala Lakota College in Kyle, S.D., Carpenter has twice earned Nebraska Arts Council Individual Artist Fellowship Merit Awards.

Carpenter was also chosen as instructor of the year at Oglala Lakota College. She has also served as an editor for several publications.

Candid Glimpses Into the Mind of a Writer is the headline session for Saturday, 9 a.m. Willa Cather's letters and what they reveal will be discussed by speaker Marilyn Arnold of Brigham Young University and moderator Patricia Phillips. This session was organized by the Willa Cather Pioneer Memorial.

Two other Saturday morning sessions at 9 involve a panel of small press editors and booksellers discussing their views on the future of publishing about the Plains and readings from four authors. Following at 10 a.m., the John G. Neihardt Center has arranged a session featuring its director and assistant director, Charles Trimble and Nancy Crump.

Expatriates and Out-staters will be featured in the 11 a.m. session as WSC's Gretchen Ronnow moderates a panel discussion about where the center of Nebraska literature is found.

Additional sponsors of the Festival are the Nebraska Humanities Council, the Gardner Foundation, the Nebraska Department of Education, Random House and the WSC Campus Bookstore.

There is no charge to attend the Festival, however teachers are asked to pre-register for Friday events to provide an estimated count.

Eating out costs more in dollars and fat

More Americans are eating meals away from home than ever before.

Estimates are that Americans age 8 and over eat out at least four times a week, or about 200 times per year.

The most popular meal eaten out is lunch; however, breakfast and dinner are gaining in popularity. Even grocery stores are competing with traditional restaurants and fast foods in order to gain lost dollars going to the food-service industry.

Families and individuals need to remember some things when eating out. First, meal time should be a time for family interaction.

Linda Grunick Shank
Wayne County

Second, fixing meals at home is less expensive than eating out. Home-cooked meals also usually are more nutritious than those bought ready-made.

Most fast-food restaurants and grocery stores do provide nutrition information on their meals, available upon request. Finally, if the family is on a budget, try to limit eating out to once or twice a month.

Pat Anderson, Cooperative Extension nutrition assistant in Buffalo County, did a cost comparison of a fast food meal and one made at home. Comparison of the two meals is as follows:

Fast-Food Restaurant
Fried chicken, leg and thigh
Mashed potatoes and gravy
Biscuit with butter.
Coleslaw
Cost: $3.99 per person
Fat content: 54 grams

Home-Cooked Meal
Roasted chicken, skinless leg and thigh
Baked potato with butter
Dinner roll with jelly or jam
Lettuce salad with low-calorie dressing
Cost: $1.50 per person
Fat content: 15 grams
Price for family of four: $6
The dollar savings for the family's home-cooked meal is $9.96.

Why are more Americans eating out? The most common answer is convenience and time. With more Americans working out of the home and especially for women, less time is available to plan and prepare meals.

* Prepare a menu plan for a week. Try to think of how you can use leftovers the next day for lunch or dinner.

* Make your shopping list from your menu plan and write the list out.

* Select appropriate coupons from your shopping lists and use them for items normally purchased.

* At the store, stick to your menu plan and list. That helps avoid over shopping for unneeded items.

* Sometimes buying in larger quantities results in cheaper prices.

* Upon arriving home, remember to store perishable foods safely in the refrigerator or freezer as soon as possible.

* Meal time can be a fun activity for the whole family. Get the family involved in meal preparation. Try and make meal time a special family time. Be adventurous and have fun.

Our Savior offers new class

Beginning on Monday, Sept. 21 at 7:30 p.m., Pastor Bill Koeber of Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne will lead a six-week class on the Lutheran faith and basic Christian teachings. This class is for anyone who wishes to learn more about what it means to be a Lutheran Christian.

Pastor Bill Koeber

Martin Luther is known as the Father of Protestantism. He had studied to become a lawyer before becoming an Augustinian monk in 1505, and was ordained a priest in 1507.

While continuing his studies in pursuit of a Doctor of Theology degree, he discovered significant differences between what he read in the Bible and the theology and practices of the church.

On Oct. 31, 1517, he posted a challenge on the church door at Wittenberg University to debate 95 theological issues.

Luther's hope was that the church would reform its practice and preaching to be more consistent with the Word of God as contained in the Bible. The nailing of the 95 theses on the Wittenberg church door began what is known as the Reformation.

Lutherans still celebrate the Reformation on Oct. 31 and still hold to the basic principles of theology and practice espoused by Luther.

"We are saved by the grace of God alone, not by anything we do."

"Our salvation is through faith alone—we only need to believe that our sins are forgiven for Christ's sake, who died to redeem us."

"The Bible is the only norm of doctrine and life—the only true standard by which teachings and doctrines are to be judged."

"Scriptures and worship need to be done in the language of the people."

The community is invited to join Pastor Bill Koeber for this study. No advanced registration is required.

For more information, contact the Church Office at 375-2899. Our Savior Lutheran Church is located at the corner of 5th and Pearl Streets in Wayne.

Rings add to circle of life

My family can testify: I don't wear much jewelry. If God had intended for us to wear pierced earrings, he would have put holes in our lobes! If diamonds are a girl's best friend, I am in poor shape.

I do have some angel pins which I love and wear when I can; but my everyday consists of a plain gold wedding band. I asked for a plain band; knowing full well I'd be getting into some messes and washing my hands often. I don't even typically wear a watch, because it irritates my wrist. (I did paint the case with clear nail polish. It didn't help.) Or I might wear the plastic SWATCH I bought in Atlanta.

My mother bought me a lovely mother ring, which was on the ring finger of my right hand until it started to irritate, too.

When I say ring finger, I mean the fourth finger. I recently met a lady who had turquoise and silver on all fingers of one hand and Black Hills gold on the other! How can she get anything done? This intrigues me, just as the long, fake nails that are in vogue now amaze me. I doubt they would work well for making beds and cleaning bathrooms.

Speaking of Black Hills gold, I am fond of it. I love the Hills, this may account for it. Also, it's more reasonably priced. One of our guests mailed me a Black Hills gold angel. And I wear it. For one thing, it's small.

The Farm Wife
By Patricia W. Meyer

That's another thing about rings. I have short finger. Which are a handicap for a lot of things; piano, organ and guitar playing come to mind. They are another reason for small rings.

My dear family decided I needed at least one diamond, so they presented me with one on the big birthday this year. It's mounted in Black Hills gold, it's small and it's beautiful. I had to have it sized and I've now been wearing it, to church and special occasions, for a month.

I'm suddenly noticing the diamonds on other people's hands. For one thing, when I cross my arms, it scratches. What in the world do those one carat things do? Especially when mounted in a certain way. They must get in the way. How do they wear gloves? I'm amazed I never thought of these things before.

After much hinting, the Big Farmer gave me a pearl ring for the pearl anniversary. So now I have two "special occasion" sentimental rings to alternate. They are side-by-side, in my jewel box. I love them. But I'm still just wearing the plain gold band to work. I don't have time to fight with rings in my everyday life.

"The Diamond King" would go broke at our house. I'm pretty sure there will never be anniversary rings (circles of diamonds) or tennis bracelets (bigger circles of diamonds).

But I'll be happy to show you my birthday diamond. Catch me after church.

Lower Elkhorn NRD Budget Requires Property Tax Decrease

Norfolk -- The 1999 fiscal year budget for the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District will require a property tax decrease as adopted by the board on Thursday, August 27 at their regular meeting.

The 1999 fiscal budget calls for a tax requirement of $1.178 million, compared to the 1998 fiscal year requirement of $1.376 million -- a decrease of about $198,000 stated Lower Elkhorn NRD general manager Stan Staab.

The fiscal year 1999 proposed property tax levy is 2.575 cents per $100 of valuation. The fiscal year 1998 property tax levy for the Lower Elkhorn NRD, which covers all or portions of 15 counties in northeast Nebraska, was 3.31 cents per $100 of valuation. Staab said the district's new levy would be the lowest in several years.

The 1999 Lower Elkhorn NRD budget reflects a strong commitment to conserving soil and maintaining water quality. One of the largest budget items, $275,000, is designated for land treatment cost-share assistance.

Water resources programs are also considered a very important priority for the district. The board designated $270,500 for water resources programs, which includes the well abandonment, soil sampling, well-head protection and groundwater management programs.

The board also allotted $125,000 for intergovernmental cost-share assistance to build road structures within the district. The LENRD contributes 75 percent to the total construction cost of building a road structure with the county or state paying the remaining construction costs.

Other budget items include $100,000 for agro-forestry and tree planting programs, $50,000 for the Cowboy Trailhead project at Norfolk, and $25,000 for erosion control on construction sites in Norfolk and Wayne.

The district has also budgeted $136,500 for special projects, including: $75,000 for the Wakefield levee, $2,000 for the Pilger flood runoff study, $7,500 for Elkhorn River bank stabilization at Winslow, $1,000 for the Craig pumping station, $20,000 for a Stage Creek dam study at Pender, $25,000 for flood control at Dodge and $6,000 for Maple Creek bank stabilization at Howells.

Staab commented, "We're in excellent shape this year with our budget. The board has chosen to focus on several projects this year and we have budgeted the money to reflect those needs."

The next board meeting of the Lower Elkhorn NRD will be held on Thursday, September 24, 1998.

Legal Drugs: Major Cause of Highway Deaths in US

Prescription and over-the-counter drugs may be a major cause of US highway deaths - according to Advocates for Highway and Auto Safety, a non-profit Washington, DC group. The group notes that government statistics show over 100,000 crashes being linked to drowsiness each year - resulting in 1,500 deaths. Some crashes are due to overtired drivers, while others may result from medicine use.

Many commonly used drugs can cause drowsiness in some individuals - from high blood pressure medicines and antidepressants to cold and allergy products. Taking two or more medicines that tend to cause drowsiness can intensify the problem. Taking sedating medicines with alcohol - even in small quantities - can increase drowsiness caused by the medicine and the alcohol. For information on drowsiness and medicines you take, talk with your pharmacist.
