New member sworn in

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Swearing-in ceremonies were held for the four council members and the mayor during Tuesday's council meeting.

District Judge Robert Ens administered the oath of office to council members Verdel Lutt, Mel Utecht, Lois Shelton and Dr. Willis Wiseman and Mayor Sheryl Lindau.

Prior to the swearing-in ceremony, Mayor Lindau presented Patty Wieland with a plaque and thanked her for her eight years of service to the city as a council member.

Darrel Fuelberth was re-elected as President of the Council.

Jeff Morlok, chairman of the committee studying the renovation of the Wayne City Auditorium spoke to the council on the findings of his group.

Morlok cited the three highest uses of the auditorium, the Women's Club Room, city recreation activities and auctions, that were taken into consideration by the group.

A structural evaluation indicated that it would be cost prohibitive to expand the present floor area of the building. In addition, Americans with Disabilities requirements prohibit use of the current locker rooms.

Morlok said his group looked primarily at refurbishing the existing building including the installing of a new roof, heating system and electrical system.

Money generated by the city's one percent city sales tax will be used to renovate the auditorium.

In other action, the council approved two ordinances amending the city code.

The first deals with the fact that manufactured homes that are being transported from the point of manufacture to a new location or mobile homes in transit would not be required to obtain a building moving permit from the city.

The second ordinance will make public urination a misdemeanor violation subject to a fine of up to $500.

A third ordinance, which would make the possession of tobacco products by a minor a misdemeanor offense, will be brought before the council at its next meeting, after some of the wording is deleted.

The council reaffirmed its position on the plan for disposing of trailer court property the city owns.

The city recently purchased the Haase Trailer Court and has moved out three of the eight trailers that are owned by the city. The city plans to have all the trailers vacated by 2000 and make the property available for development by the spring of 2000.

A public hearing date of Jan. 12, 1999 at 7:35 p.m. was set regarding a use-by exception permit for a mini-warehouse and storage in a B-2 zone at 116 West Third Street, the former Johnson Frozen Foods building.

Students reach goal

Winside Elementary School students reached their goal of one million pop tabs for the Sioux City Ronald McDonald House.

The children and teachers in grades K-6 started their project in February of 1996 at the suggestion of third grade teacher Mrs. Marilyn Leighton.

The children collected tabs from their families, friends, neighbors and anywhere they could find them. Some even came as far away as Washington and New York.

At the end of every nine weeks, the students in each grade would count the tabs they had brought in during that period. Then during an

Vandalism investigated

Officers of the Wayne Police Department responded to 14 reports of vandalism to homes and vehicles Friday morning.

The rear windows of several vehicles were smashed with rocks and a lawn ornament. Windows were broken at several homes, using rocks, a beer can and a pumpkin.

According to Lance Webster, Chief of Police, "in most of cases, the suspects would have had to get out of their vehicle to commit the crime due to the size of the rocks used."

Some of the rocks recovered weighed 40 pounds or more. These rocks were landscape rocks that were stolen from a residence on Sherman Street. The suspects also picked up ornamental rocks from other areas of the city.

Chief Webster said this appears to be a random act of vandalism. There were cases reported in every section of the city with damage estimates ranging from $25 to almost $700.

Chief Webster said he doesn't have all of the damage estimates, so an estimate of the total damage cannot be made.

Webster said his officers are following up on one lead. A witness reported seeing two male subjects get out of a light blue Ford Taurus and pick up some rocks between 1 and 2 a.m. According to this witness there were also two male subjects that stayed in the car. One of the vandalism calls was less than a block from where the suspects were seen gathering rocks.

"Vandalism crimes are," Webster said, "the hardest to understand and can be hard to solve."

"When we have a rash of random vandalism like this, it is hard to find a motive for the crime. Most criminal acts are done to benefit the criminal but in here the evidence suggests that some young men got drunk and became destructive for no reason and without any motive."

Chief Webster expects to get more evidence as the investigation continues. He asks that anyone with any possible information relating to this investigation call the Wayne Police Department at 375-2626.

Four candidates

WSC Presidential finalist list complete

The search committee assigned the task of selection of the new president at Wayne State College has completed arrangements to bring two additional candidates to campus.

"We felt the pool of applicants was so strong that we needed to bring both of these individuals to campus to continue the search process," said Dr. Steve Glass, co-chair of the search committee.

The third and fourth finalists for the WSC Presidency are Dr. Phillip L. Beukema and Dr. Charles D. Foust.

Beukema is currently serving as vice president for academic affairs at Northern Michigan University. He earned his bachelor of science degree from San Diego State University, his master of business administration and his doctor of business administration from the University of Southern California.

Beukema has been a professor and vice president for academic affairs at Northern Michigan University since 1989. During his tenure he has initiated campus conversation of faculty roles and rewards, focusing on teacher-scholar concept and broadening definition of scholarship, with the goal of positioning the University as an active member of the Carnegie Teaching Academy and creating regional recognition of the University as a premier teaching university.

In addition, he enlisted the University's "First Year Experience" program, resulting in a significant increase in student retention. He implemented the Center for Native American Studies and established a Center for the Upper Peninsula, Center for Lake Superior Ecosystem Management and a Center for Interprofessional Collaboration in Human Services, which brings faculty and community together.

Beukema previously served as the special assistant to the president (1988-89), interim vice president and provost (1986-88) and professor of management (1982-89) at Eastern Washington University. He has also taught at San Diego State University and Loyola Marymount University.

Back to the classroom

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

After spending 20 years as a college educator, Dr. Carolyn Linster decided it was time to go back to elementary school.

Dr. Linster, who had served as Director of Field Experience at Wayne State College for four years, is currently on a sabbatical from her teaching duties.

"I have been talking with Mr. Lutt (Wayne Elementary Principal) for several years about doing something like this. I feel that if I'm preparing teachers to teach in these grades, I should be aware of what is happening in the classroom," Dr. Linster said.

She has spent the majority of this semester in the elementary building and has followed one first grade language arts class extensively.

While Dr. Linster had intended to spend only three days a week at the school, she has found that during more than 50 percent of the time, she has been at school five days a week.

"I find that there are are too many things I don't want to miss," she said.

During the semester she has been involved in field trips, one-on-one work with the students, helping get materials ready and even substitute teaching.

In addition, she was selected to be on the K-12 High Abilities Learning committee, attended teachers' meetings, and was the representative from the building for the Standards meeting at the Educational Service Unit.

Mr. Lutt had high praise for both Dr. Linster and the project.

"This (project) helps with actual experience. Working with different types of students during this 'hands-on' sabbatical is a benefit to us as well as the college," he said.

He went on to say that Dr. Linster was treated as one of the faculty members, attending conferences and other activities, including workshops before the beginning of the school year.

"I would like to see more of this type of partnership between us and the college. It helps build a great deal of faith and trust with the college," Lutt said.

"One of the activities Dr. Linster hoped to accomplish this semester but was not able to was preparing video tapes of teachers at Wayne Elementary presenting lessons. These tapes would then be used in her classroom at the college to help prepare teachers.

"I hope to continue working on this project next semester because I feel it would give my college students a chance to interact with teachers here," she said.

Peg Lutt, with whom Dr. Linster worked very closely this semester, said having her in the classroom was a valuable experience.

"Dr. Linster had a part in preparation, teaching, presenting group projects and team teaching. She brought in new ideas, strategies and techniques," Mrs. Lutt said.

Because of Dr. Linster's involvement on several reading and writing committees for the state,

Parade of lights

The Holiday Parade of Lights, coordinated by the Wayne Jaycees and the Chamber of Commerce, was held last Thursday night. awards assembly they would announce the number they had and combine them with those previously collected.

A paper thermometer was hung in the school hallway so the kids could see how much closer they were getting to their goal. With the past nine weeks contributions, they surpassed their goal. This nine weeks totals per grade were: Kindergarten-14,460, First-13,370, Second-14,729, Third-6,387, Fourth-14,440, Fifth-49,756, and Sixth-5,201.

The students made their contribution to Sioux City's Ronald McDonald House Executive Director Barb Knepper and to Lowell Cooper, a weekly volunteer at the House.

Mrs. Knepper thanked and praised the students for all the tabs and for all their work. She explained, "The reason for the Ronald McDonald House is to help families who have children who are in Sioux City to see doctors or are in the hospitals. Our House has six bedrooms so we can house six different families at one time. It also has a kitchen and pantry which we keep stocked with food for their convenience.

A van is available to transport them to the hospital if they don't have transportation. By saving these pop-tabs, we can send them to a recycling center. One million pop tabs weigh around 1,000 pounds and will bring the House approximately $450."

Mr. Cooper led the students in a cheer for their success and praised them for taking on such a worthy cause and reaching their goal. He also complimented them on their manners and behavior during the assembly. He told them they should be very proud of themselves.

Ms. Knepper presented Mrs. Leighton with a Ronald McDonald House certificate of appreciation for her leadership in the project. The sixth grade class boxed up all the tabs following the assembly for their transport to Sioux City.

Altman speaks to WSC students

Independent film producer Dana Altman spent time presenting some of his recent work and answering questions from an audience, Dec. 2 on the Wayne State College campus.

"I think it's very important that students be able to interact with industry professionals, particularly if they are alumni," said Maureen Carrigg, WSC associate professor. "Students with an independent spirit can excel in an environment with personal attention," Carrigg said.

Carrigg said Altman is an excellent example of how practical an education at Wayne State College is for many students in search of a versatile education.

"I could have gone to larger schools, but I chose Wayne State College," Altman said.

A 1988 graduate of Wayne State College, Altman said he thought about schools on the west coast like the University of Southern California before selecting Wayne State College.

Following his graduation from WSC, Altman said he worked at Universal Studios to "get his foot in the door" by doing anything available.

"Slowly, I became an assistant editor for the show, Columbo and spent time in development of scripts," Altman said.

Since he and his wife made the decision to return to Nebraska, Altman has started his own development company.

He said writers send him material. He and a partner take the concepts and make 30 to 60 second spots.

"We work on creating an emotional side to a product," Altman said.

Creating a feeling to attach to a corporation or product is more appealing than presenting just the facts or a price to the consumer, Altman said.

Several of Altman's projects were viewed by the audience including a film his company put together for tourism in Omaha.

The most recent project Altman said he is working on is a video with David Crosby for his band, CPR. Crosby is a former member of Crosby, Stills and Nash.

Two previous Altman productions discussed were Omaha: The Movie and his latest full-length motion picture project titled Kalobas which was completed this fall and will be released in 1999.

His grandfather, Robert Altman, received Academy Award nominations for directing MASH, Nashville, The Player, and Short Cuts. The two worked together in 1996 to make Kansas City.

Dr. Peterson featured at Forum

The WSC Economics Forum featured a lecture by Dr. Wallace Peterson titled "Can it Happen Again?" on Nov. 19.

Peterson is a professor of economics emeritus at University of Nebraska - Lincoln. His lecture covered the state of the economy and what can be done about it.

The United States is now experiencing one of the longest periods of expansion in peacetime. This period has spanned seven years and eight months, Peterson said. The only other period of this length included the Vietnam War in the 1960s.

The United States has experienced nine recessions since World War II, Peterson said. These periods have been shorter and less sharp than the Great Depression Era.

"The Great Depression Era was one of the truly shaping events of history," Peterson said. "The economy has changed since the great depression. The economic environment is different. A recession is very much overdue, however this doesn't mean we will have one," Peterson said.

This observation, as Peterson pointed out, is from a statistical standpoint.

"The administration in power will take credit, whether or not it has anything to do with it," Peterson said. "President Hoover was blamed for the depression, although he was really not responsible."

Since the end of the last recession, the economy has grown at a rate of about three and one-half percent a year, according to Peterson. This figure doesn't reflect inflation or price increases, however inflation has been very low.

"We are suddenly in an era when prices are not going up. Economists don't see anything in sight to bring a downturn," Peterson said.

"There is no way an economist can predict the future. We can only measure and look at why things happened in retrospect," Peterson said.

Past trends are the biggest piece of the puzzle for putting together a good economic picture.

Although economists can put together a prediction based on the past, Peterson said they don't know a way to avoid threats to the economy all together.

Recent threats to the economy are things happening abroad. How this affects America is becoming more visible.

"We live in an increasingly integrated world," Peterson said.

This could bring about conditions somewhat like the 1930s when the Bank of Europe failed which spread to the United States. Currency collapses in Pacific Rim countries could transfer to the United States by trade, Peterson said.

"The stock market could affect the economy. The market has taken a nose dive since July. Stocks in relation to earnings are far too high. Stocks are overvalued," Peterson said.

"Stocks should be valued at 14 times their earnings and recently they have been valued at 27 times their earnings, according to Peterson.

How the state of the economy is perceived by investors affects their confidence level and eventually affects economic indicators.

Tools to combat a downturn in the economy may include what Alan Greenspan attempts to do by reducing the discount rate, which makes it easier to borrow money and stimulates the economy. The Federal Reserve may allow more money to flow into banks or the administration may cut taxes to put more money into the hands of the consumer, he said.

There are some problems with stimulating the economy by fiscal policy. The country has had deficits since 1959 and the president can't cut taxes on his own without Congress, Peterson said.

Based on our past experiences, although a recession is overdue, there are no indications toward an economic downturn, according to Peterson.

"This has been a wonderful semester and my only regret is that it has gone so fast. I plan to continue to follow the first grade Language Arts class through the end of the year."

"I feel we are all going the same direction and are a community of learners. We teach children, not subjects," she added.

Plans get blindsided

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

It reminded me of that old, bad joke. The one about the gruff old Army sergeant, who had been reprimanded, and told to be a bit gentler in dealing with his men, particularly when it came to personal matters.

So, the sergeant has the platoon lined up one day and he says: "OK. Everyone whose mother is still alive, take one step forward."

As the men took the step in unison, the sergeant barked out: "Hey, Smith! Not so fast."

Anyway, that's what I thought of when the latest brouhaha over school funding began.

You talk about the best-intentioned plans of mice and lawmakers getting whacked from what apparently was the blind side. This was it.

Of course, the Legislature and taxpayers and governors and all sorts of others have been griping at school districts for years to trim spending. The record shows that these criticisms and demands have not been without reasonable foundation.

So, what happens? The school districts, facing a lid on local property tax revenues, along with the usual clamor to hold the line on spending, actually do a little line holding in the expenditures department.

Meanwhile, back at the legislative ranch, the policymakers adopt a formula intended to help school districts by providing a bit more aid to help them cope with the demands for less local spending and taxes, etc.

The problem, if that's what it is, arises when some of the school districts spend even less than the Legislature anticipates.

Because they spent less than anticipated, they don't qualify for some of the aid they had planned on getting. The way the formula worked just didn't work out for some of the school districts.

Enter Sens. Bob Wickersham of Harrison and Ardyce Bohlke of Hastings. It's good that both these folk have athletic-type builds because they certainly need broad shoulders. They share the thought that, since the schools were expected to get about $22 million more than the application of the formula will allow, the Legislature should just fix it. As in, do a little something to let the school districts have the other $22 million lawmakers thought they were going to get, anyway.

Enter Sergeant, er, Gov. elect, Mike Johanns.

You've got to understand how Johanns must have felt.

There he is, looking to be a budget-reducing chief executive, and here comes this deal where someone says: "Well, we planned on spending this $22 million, but the formula didn't work the way we thought it would, so we want to change a little something and spend the $22 million."

Johanns, understandably, gets that sergeant's look in his eye and wastes no time saying he wants to take a little time looking over this whole deal.

Sort of a: "Everyone who thinks it will just be OK to smooth this over by authorizing the spending of $22 million, step forward. Whoa! Wickersham, put the brakes on! Hey, Bohlke, at ease!"

So, another episode. Will it be a footnote, or is it the beginning of a chapter? Every time one of these little glitches comes along, one never knows if it will last 15 minutes or go through a minimum of 15 months in the court system.

But, it's a nice change of pace. It might take our minds off whether to move Peru State, give Peru State a makeover, or, (the most likely scenario) do another STUDY that will involve whether Peru State is an educational necessity or an economic nicety.

Another topic altogether:

By the time you read this, the deal may have been done, but I really got a kick out of a recent news story that said Sen. Bob Kerrey had, in fact, decided whether to seek the Democratic nomination for the presidency. He was just going to wait awhile to make his announcement.

No doubt the story was true. The thing is, it wouldn't do a reporter a lot of good to know what Kerrey had decided eight days in advance of his planned announcement. In eight days, Bob Kerrey could change his mind lots of times.

It wouldn't surprise me, altogether, if Kerrey announced that he wouldn't run for president, but that he was forming a universal meditation group (to be co-chaired by former California Gov. Moon Beam, aka Jerry Brown), with a goal of sending multiple tidal waves of positive thought to Congress on the subject of re-amping entitlements.

Don't laugh. It certainly would be as successful as anything else that has been tried.

TRUE OR FALSE? A Quiz For Holiday Shoppers

The Attorney General's Office receives thousands of inquiries each year from Nebraska consumers, asking what may seem like simple questions with obvious answers. However, many consumers have misconceptions about what rights they have in the marketplace. We have designed an informative "True/False Shoppers Quiz" that you might want to take before your next shopping trip.

TRUE OR FALSE? There is a Lemon Law that protects consumers on all big-ticket purchases—including used cars not under warranty.

ANSWER - FALSE: Nebraska does have a Lemon Law that covers new cars that are under manufacturer's warranty. But there is no universal "Lemon Law" that applies to used cars or any other big-ticket item. Before you buy, find out if the product comes with a warranty—and know exactly what that warranty will cover.

TRUE OR FALSE? A store must give you a refund if you request one.

ANSWER - FALSE: Nebraska, like most states, does not have specific laws that regulate refund or return policies. Provided the goods were not misrepresented, each business may set its own return policy. Ask about the return policy before you purchase, and if it isn't written down, ask the clerk to note the policy on your sales slip.

TRUE OR FALSE? There is a law that allows you to cancel any purchase within three days.

ANSWER - FALSE: Nebraska's three-day cancellation law applies only to sales made in the home or sales that occur in a location other than the seller's regular place of business. Any time you sign a contract or make a purchase at a business location, the three-day cancellation law does not apply.

TRUE OR FALSE? No one can take money directly from your bank account without your written authorization.

ANSWER - FALSE: Merely giving someone your checking account number may result in their making withdrawals from your bank account. A person may use your account number to issue a "demand draft" to your bank, claiming you authorized a withdrawal, and the bank may pay it even though it lacks your signature. You may not be aware that this has happened until you receive your next bank statement.

TRUE OR FALSE? Giving out your credit card number for identification or other similar purposes is "OK," as long as you don't authorize a charge.

ANSWER - FALSE: Con artists with access to your credit card number and expiration date may make unauthorized charges against your card. However, using a credit card to place catalog orders, make hotel reservations, or make other types of purchases from familiar, established businesses is normally safe.

Economic development conditions in rural communities have improved!

Once again, the Chamber extends congratulations to the winners of $500 in Chamber Bucks in the Great Cash Giveaway promotion!

Pasty Kallhoff, winner of the 11:00 a.m. drawing, was at State National Bank Drive-In and won on a ticket received from Wayne East. At the 2:30 p.m. drawing, Gary Wright held a ticket from Legends and was in Pac 'N' Save.

During the prior week, Sherrie Hampel of Wakefield claimed her $25 consolation prize.

Thanks to all the wonderful sponsors of the "Wrap It Up in Wayne" Great Cash Giveaway drawings. Those sponsors are why we can offer a total of $4,000 to be given away this Christmas season!

Remember, be present in a participating Chamber business at 11:30 and 2:30 Saturday, Dec. 12 to have a chance to win big bucks in the Great Cash Giveaway drawings. And don't forget, you can "Wrap It Up in Wayne!"

Economic development conditions in rural communities have improved dramatically. From 1990-1994 the average annual employment growth in U.S. non-metro areas is 1.6 percent, twice the annual growth for urban areas. Since 1994 metro job growth has been slightly higher than rural job growth.

If economic development is primarily about providing jobs and job growth, why are we still doing economic development programming in a time of full employment? My feeling is that this is the most exciting time to be involved in economic development.

While the need to create raw numbers of new jobs is down, the opportunity has never been better for economic development efforts to enrich local residents' lives by providing employment opportunities that meet or exceed their career expectations.

Two new officers are added at the Wayne Police Department

There have been some new faces on patrol for the Wayne Police Department in the past few months, those of Officer Jeff Billiar, and Officer Matt Hoffman.

Both new officers are graduates of the Nebraska Law Enforcement Training Center. After completing a 10-week Field Training Program with the Wayne Police Department, both officers have been assigned to patrol and investigative duties.

Officer Jeff Billiar came to Wayne from Valentine where he was a police officer. He grew up in the northeast Nebraska region and welcomed a chance to move back to the area. He is married and he and his wife have one child.

Officer Matt Hoffman came to Wayne after serving with the United States Air Force where he was a Security Police Officer. Officer Hoffman served with the Elite Guard while stationed at Offutt Air Force Base. He is originally from South Dakota.

Police Chief Lance Webster said the new officers are welcome additions to the Wayne Police Department. Both bring different skills and talents that integrate well into the needs of the Department.

Officer Billiar has replaced former officer Bill Harper, who left Wayne to take a position with the Department of Defense at Offutt Air Force Base.

Officer Hoffman has replaced former officer Eric White, who took a position with the Omaha Police Department.

Officer Tim McCoy has resigned from the Wayne Police Department to take a position with the Douglas County Sheriff's Office. Officer McCoy had worked with the Wayne department just over three years.

Chief Webster said he hopes to fill Officer McCoy's position in January.

WSC thumps Augustana, UNO

The Wayne State men's basketball team upped their record against North Central Conference opponents to 4-1 with a blowout win over Augustana and a big road win at UNO.

Augustana came into Wayne with a 5-2 record and the Vikings quickly fell victim to the spell put on them by Wayne State sophomore Brad Joens who rocked the visitors with his three-point shooting artistry.

Joens scored 16 of WSC's first 20 points and the 'Cats rolled to a 29-point halftime cushion at 48-19 en route to a 96-62 romp.

Wayne State had three scoring runs in the contest that went unanswered by the visitors. The first was an 8-0 run early in the first half. The second was a 14-0 run midway through the first half and the third, a 12-0 run late in the first half and early in the second half.

The three scoring runs combined for a 34-0 advantage—the final margin of victory.

"Brad has practiced very well all season," WSC coach Greg McDermott said. "He just really hadn't got it going in a game but he's very capable of doing what he did against Augustana every time out."

Joens finished with a career-high 23 points and was 8-10 from the field including a 5-7 performance from three-point range.

Jason Herlitzke poured in a career-high 16 points. Despite the lop-sided win the 'Cats were actually out-rebounded, 41-35 with Eric Henderson leading WSC with seven rebounds.

The 'Cats had just nine turnovers while forcing 19.

LAST SATURDAY in Omaha the Wildcats jumped out to a 38-30 lead over UNO and were virtually never threatened in the second half, building double digit leads throughout the second stanza before winning by seven, 74-67, which left WSC with a 6-2 record.

The 'Cats entered the nation's elite in the weekly NABC/Division II Bulletin Top 25 at the number 24 position.

WSC's only two losses have come against fifth-ranked South Dakota State who is 6-1 and 13th-ranked Wayne State of Michigan, who is also 6-1.

"We played outstanding defense against UNO and Augustana for that matter," McDermott said. "Anytime you hold a home team to 40 percent shooting you're playing pretty good defense."

UNO entered the game with WSC with a 4-1 record with the 'Cats at 5-2.

Tyler Johnson paced the winners with 16 points and the senior playmaker dished out eight assists.

Brad Joens scored 13 points and Jason Herlitzke added 10. WSC won the battle of the boards, 38-33 with Eric Henderson hauling down 11 caroms.

WSC will host Rockford, Illinois on Friday night before hosting St. Francis of Illinois on the 19th—the last game of 1998.

Laurel-Concord cage teams open season with victories

The Laurel girls basketball team got off to a quick start with wins over Coleridge and Crofton last weekend while the Bears boys team blasted Crofton in the season opener.

Susie Koranda's girls team led Coleridge 17-14 at the half and 28-22 after three quarters of play before pulling away to a 45-34 win.

"Overall it was a very physical game," Koranda said. "In the second half we were able to push the ball up the floor and get some transition baskets. We were able to create 21 steals with our pressure defense."

Koranda said despite the win her team needs to focus more on transition offense.

Kari Stewart paced the winners with 13 points with Jenny Demuth adding nine and Melissa Thompson, eight. The well-balanced Bears got seven points from Brittany Burns and five from Kristen Hank while Amber Thompson added two and Elly Harder, one.

Stewart also hauled down a team-high six rebounds, recorded seven steals and dished out five assists.

Laurel raced to a 19-6 lead over Crofton after one quarter of play en route to a 60-41 victory last Friday night. The Bears led 37-22 at the half and 45-36 after three periods before closing out the game with a 15-5 scoring run.

"We played a more complete game by establishing a physical pressure defense and a quick paced offense," Koranda said. "We also did a much better job of taking care of the ball and making good decisions with the ball on offense."

Brittany Burns led Laurel with 15 points while Kari Stewart and Kristen Hank scored 13 each. Melissa Thompson finished with nine points and Jenny Demuth, six while Elly Harder and Melanie Thompson added two each.

Burns hauled down a team lead-ing nine rebounds while Melissa Thompson had six.

THE LAUREL BOYS broke open a close game with Crofton in the second half, cruising to a 70-44 victory.

Clayton Steele's Bears out-scored the host Warriors, 43-18 in the second half after a 27-26 halftime advantage.

"It was a very close game throughout the first half," Steele said. "Early in the third quarter we gained control and by the middle of the fourth quarter we had established ourselves."

Steele said he felt the biggest difference in the game was conditioning.

Wyatt Erwin led the winners with 21 points and a game-high 16 rebounds while dishing out three assists. Evan Smith scored 14 points and Nathan Beckman, 12. Nick Manganaro scored nine points and Matt Schroeder, seven while Tyler Kvols tallied three. Adam Hartung and John Erwin each scored two points.

Schroeder hauled down nine rebounds to go with Erwin's 16 caroms. The Bears will host Randolph on Saturday.

Grapplers score 150 points at Creighton invite Winside places third

The Winside wrestling team opened season action at the Creighton Invitational last Saturday and Paul Sok's team came away with a third place finish with 150 points.

Creighton won its own meet with 195.5 and Elkhorn Valley edged the Wildcats by one point for second place.

Neligh-Oakdale was third with 131.5 and Randolph, fourth with 128.5 while Pender was fifth with 98 and Osmond, sixth with 91.5. Plainview netted 91 points and Norfolk JV's, 63.5 with Creighton's JV's scoring 28 and Laurel-Concord, 26. Rock County tallied 23 points and Clearwater, 22.

Coach Murtaugh's comments, "I was impressed with the leadership Jesse showed at the Blair Invite. It is obvious that he cares about the performance of the team."

WSC women hand Augustana its first loss of season; 'Cats now 5-4

Ryan Williams Wayne State women's basketball team handed Augustana College its first loss of the season with a 60-45 victory last week in Wayne.

The Wildcats fell at South Dakota State, 76-61 last Saturday which left the 'Cats with a 5-4 record on the season.

The game with Augie was tied at 26 at the half and the visitors took the lead early in the second half and led 40-38 with nine minutes to play before the 'Cats literally stepped it up on defense.

"There's no doubt we stepped up our intensity the final eight-and-a-half minutes," Williams said. "Defense is the key when you close out the game with a 22-5 run."

"We quit giving Augustana second shots at the basket," Williams added. "I was pleased with the way we blocked them out on the boards down the stretch."

Ami Pendry came up big for the 'Cats, hitting a couple clutch buckets including a three-pointer as the shot-clock was about to expire.

When Augie was forced to foul the 'Cats delivered at the foul line, hitting 19-of-24 attempts from the charity stripe.

"This is a big win for our program," Williams said. Stef Sjuts led WSC with 15 points while Pendry poured in 13 and Kellie Schenk, 10. Erin Aakre was near double figures with nine points.

WSC edged the visitors on the boards, 39-38 with Katie Sperling hauling down nine caroms while Sjuts recorded eight.

WSC also did a nice job of handling the basketball with 14 turnovers while forcing 23.

Things appeared to be headed down to the wire at Brookings, S.D., on Saturday. WSC trailed the Jackrabbits by just six points and had possession of the ball with 6:33 remaining but things went south from there as SDSU stepped up its defensive intensity and went on to defeat WSC by 15 at 76-61.

"We had some costly turnovers and SDSU picked up their defensive intensity," Williams said. "They caused havoc for us and we had a hard time scoring."

The biggest key to the contest came on the boards where the 'Cats were man-handled to the tune of 39-20.

"We played against the best post player we've seen in Lora Kluis," Williams said. "She hurt us with 24 points. She was 11-13 from the floor."

Krista Bernadt led WSC with 13 points while Kellie Schenk added 12 and Kristene Strait, 10. Ami Pendry and Stef Sjuts added eight each.

Katie Sperling and Strait shared team honors on the boards with five caroms each.

WSC will travel to play Northwest Missouri State on Saturday before hosting Winona State on the 19th in a 1 p.m. contest.

Carson and Megan Brown led Wakefield on the boards with 11 and 10 rebounds, respectively.

THE WAKEFIELD boys made a valiant come-back against Pender in the season opener but Mike Clay's Trojans fell to the host team in overtime, 57-54.

Wakefield trailed 32-20 at the half and 47-36 after three quarters of play but out-scored the Penderagons, 14-3 in the fourth quarter to force the overtime period.

"Some early foul trouble took away some of our aggressiveness," Clay said. "We battle back from a 14-point deficit in the third quarter. I was pleased with the way our kids fought the entire game."

Ross Gardner led the Trojans with 20 points with BJ Hansen adding 13 and Chad Mackling, eight. Justin Paulson tossed in seven and Josh Peterson, four while Nick White tallied two.

Gardner led the team in rebounding with 11 caroms while Hansen hauled down 10.

Wayne girls open season against West

The Wayne girls basketball team was probably the last team in Class C-1 to start their season but things got underway on Tuesday night in Wayne as the Blue Devils lost a 48-42 contest to Sioux City West. It was West's sixth game of the year.

John McLarnen's team led 17-10 after one quarter of play but trailed by one at the half at 29-28. The Blue Devils were down by just three at 38-35 after three quarters of play and the game was tight throughout the fourth quarter. The game was tied at 42 with less than two minutes to go.

"West went 6-6 from the foul line in the final 90 seconds," McLarnen said. "Turnovers contributed heavily to the loss as we had 19, many of which were unforced." Amber Thompson hauled down 13 rebounds to lead Laurel with Burns netting eight rebounds.

The Laurel boys trailed visiting Winside 11-7 after one quarter of play but the Bears came back to lead 19-17 at the half. Laurel increased its lead to five after three quarters of play at 32-27 before winning, 47-38.

Allen girls 1-2 while Eagle boys are 0-2

Allen cage teams begin season play

The Allen Eagles girls and boys basketball teams opened the season with a pair of games last week.

The girls fell to Winside, 48-37 on opening night but rebounded to down Wakefield, 40-37 on Saturday night.

In the opener in Winside the Eagles couldn't put any scoring runs together.

"We lacked the intensity I know our girls have," coach Lori Koester said. "We looked like it was our first game of the year. We will take this game and learn from it."

Stacey Martinson topped the scoring charts for the Eagles with 14 points while Danielle Bertrand tallied eight and Shannon Koester, six. Alicia Liebsch tallied four while Rachel Stallbaum and Jessica Bock added two apiece. Elizabeth Bock rounded out the attack with one free throw.

In Wakefield the Eagles sprinted to an 18-9 halftime advantage and hung on to win by three points at 40-37.

"Our girls really played hard, aggressive defense," Koester said. "We created a lot of offense with our defense."

Stacey Martinson led the winners with 17 points with Rachel Stallbaum adding nine and Shannon Koester, seven. Alicia Liebsch finished with four and Jessica Bock, two while Carrie Geiger tallied one.

Martinson and Liebsch shared team honors with seven rebounds each.

Tuesday in Allen the Eagles were defeated by Winnebago, 68-40. "We have to give Winnebago a lot of credit," Koester said. "They are a very good team with solid players. We have to play much more intense defense to compete."

Koester said Stacey Martinson and Shannon Koester played solid on both sides of the ball but she said she needs the rest of the girls to step up their game.

Martinson and Koester scored 12 points each while Alicia Liebsch and Danielle Bertrand added six each. Melissa Wilmes and April Sachau each scored two.

THE ALLEN boys fell to Winside, 42-31 last Thursday night before losing to Coleridge in the Eagles home opener on Friday, 46-31.

In Winside BJ Gotch and Micky Oldenkamp shared team scoring honors with 10 apiece while Brian Sullivan added five and Ken Rahn, four. Joe Sullivan rounded out the scoring with two.

Gotch hauled down a team-high eight rebounds while Joe Sullivan had four caroms.

"We played pretty good defense," coach Doug Schnack said. "They had two big guys inside that held to five total points."

Schnack said his team had a difficult time getting into their offense. "It's a new offense and we're not used to it yet," he said. "It makes a difference when you play on a bigger floor than what you practice on."

Allen trailed Coleridge by just two points at the half, 16-14 but the Eagles were held to four, third quarter points and Coleridge took advantage as they went on to win by 15 at 46-31.

"I was real happy with our defense," Schnack said. "I feel we are putting good pressure on the ball and denying well in the middle."

Schnack said his team is playing and practicing hard.

Micky Oldenkamp led Allen with 12 points while Ken Rahn added eight and BJ Gotch, six. Brian Sullivan tallied three with Brooks Blohm and Joe Sullivan scoring one each.

The Blue Devils opened the 1998-99 basketball season as the sixth-ranked team in Class C-1 and Rocky Ruhl's troops were surprised by Battle Creek in the season opener, 52-48.

Wildcats boys and girls sweep Allen

Winside boys open year at 2-0

The Winside boys basketball team started the season at 2-0 for the first time in several years with wins over Allen and Wynot last weekend. Terry Warner's crew notched a 42-31 win over Allen in the season-opener and followed up with a 48-32 win over Wynot on Friday.

Against the Eagles the Wildcats led 22-16 at the half and 29-20 after three periods. Aaron Hoffman led the winners with 19 points and Aaron Hoffman tossed in 14 while Scott Marotz added four. Adam Hoffman and Scott Wittler tallied two each and Jay Rademacher, one. Rademacher led the winners on the boards with 10 caroms. Winside led Wynot, 24-14 at the half and was never threatened in the second half as they raced to the 16-point win. Aaron Hoffman, Scott Marotz and Jay Rademacher scored 11 points each to lead the winners while Scott Wittler added five and Aaron Lessmann, four. Mike Deck, Adam Hoffman and Zeke Brummels scored two apiece.

Rademacher notched his second straight game with double figures in rebounding with 10 caroms.

THE WINSIDE girls split their first two games of the season with a 48-37 win over Allen and a 50-48 overtime loss to Wynot.

Winside out-scored the Eagles in each of the four quarters in posting its 11-point win.

Kim Nathan led a balanced attack with 10 points while Stacy Wittler and Julie Jacobsen added nine each.

Sara Mohr and Jessica Wade each added six while Shannon Bowers scored five. Brooke Boelter finished with two points and Keisha Rees, one.

Nathan hauled down a game-high 14 rebounds while Jacobsen had eight and Wittler notched seven steals and dished out three assists. Bowers led the team in assists with four with Boelter dishing out three.

"We did a great job of creating second and third shots," coach Lisa Schroeder said. "Our team played hard for 32 minutes. I was pleased with our defensive performance, especially on the boards. It was also key for us to go 10 deep on the bench."

Allen was led by Stacey Martinson with 14 points while Danielle Bertrand added eight and Shannon Koester, six. Alicia Liebsch tallied four points while Rachel Stallbaum and Jessica Bock scored two each and Elizabeth Bock, one.

"Our defense played pretty well for the first game," coach Lori Koester said. "We just gave up way too many offensive rebounds."

Winside scored 23, first quarter points at Wynot to take a 15-point lead but the Wildcats failed to score in the second quarter and Wynot quickly closed the gap to two by half at 23-21.

"We played a great first quarter but then we lacked intensity and patience," Schroeder said.

"Obviously we're disappointed with the loss but if we can learn from this we will continue to improve." Wynot tied the game at 50 and forced an overtime period in which the host team out-scored Winside, 4-2.

Jessica Wade scored 14 points to lead Winside with Stacy Wittler adding 11 and Shannon Bowers, seven. Amy Rademacher tallied five as did Kim Nathan while Brooke Boelter and Julie Jacobsen added three each.

Wade was the leader on the boards with 13 caroms while Wittler notched seven steals. Bowers dished out four assists and notched four steals.

Rachel Stallbaum shoots over the out-stretched arms of Winside's Kim Nathan during first half action of last Thursday's tilt in Winside.

Scott Wittler flips the ball up and off the glass for two points during the Wildcats win over the Eagles.

Scott Marotz puts up a short jumper over Allen's BJ Gotch during second half action.

Jessica Bock goes in for the uncontested lay-up against a Winside defender during the Eagles season-opener. Allen bounced-back after the loss to down Wakefield, Saturday.

Winside's Shannon Bowers pushes the ball up the floor to try and get the advantage on the Eagles defense during Winside's season-opener last Thursday. The Wildcats won the contest but dropped their next two games.

Brian Sullivan slips past a Winside defender and looks to score two points for the Eagles.

McCue presents honors project

Kerry McCue, Wayne, presented her honors colloquium project on Dec. 10. Her presentation title was "Character and Caricature: Theatrical Makeup Design for Henry Fielding's Joseph Andrews."

An abstract of her presentation states, "Joseph Andrews, a classic 18th Century comedy, was written by Henry Fielding and adapted for the stage by P.M. Clepper. The project consisted of researching, designing and applying stage makeup for the play, taking into account such factors as historical accuracy, style, lighting, technique, cost and cast size. The process was documented through digital multimedia, and actors were instructed in basic makeup application. The designs were used in Wayne State's production of the play, which was an entry in the American College Theater Festival." Her project advisor was Dr. Andre Sedriks.

McCue, a 1994 graduate of Wayne High School, is a senior majoring in theater and English literature. Presenting the certificate was Company Commander Captain Davidson.

Following the presentation Sergeant Major Neel spoke briefly to the troops, inspiring them to "remember when promotions are earned, a good troop does not leave his fellow Marines in the shadow, but encourages and trains them to follow in the promotion standard. It is a duty of each Marine to assist those following as well as those ahead in reaching their full potential."

Sergeant Major Neel's military career began with the early enlistment program April of 1973 and admission to boot camp at the San Diego Recruit Training Depot in May of 1973.

Upon graduation he attended Air Mechanic School and was assigned to Millington Marine Corps Air Station (MCAS), Millington, Tenn. He later was deployed to Quantico MCAS, Quantico, Va. and spent a year in Okinawa, before returning stateside in October of 1977, ending his active duty.

Sergeant Major Neel joined the Reserve Unit at Millington, Tenn. in 1977 and remained active until 1985 when he transferred into the Omaha Engineer Unit. He remained at this duty post until March of 1996 when he was promoted to his current rank of Sergeant Major and assigned to Camp Pendleton, Calif.

His career included four years active duty and 21 years in the ready reserves.

Neel is a 1973 graduate of Maysville High School in Maysville,

Mo. and is employed with the Nebraska State Patrol.

Family members present at the retirement ceremony included his wife Beverly (Gallöp) Neel, children, Laura, John and James, all of Wayne and a special friend Lloyd "Buck" Trout of Sioux City, Iowa who served in the Omaha Engineers until retiring in March of 1996.

Sergeant Major Neel served as guest speaker for the 223rd Marine Corps Birthday Ball held at the Holiday Inn Central in Omaha on Nov. 14. He was presented a plaque of appreciation from the Omaha Engineers as well as a trophy plaque consisting of a piston, wrench and lug nut.

Something In Your Eye? Don't Rub It!

To remove a foreign particle from your eye try blinking quickly. This could dislodge the particle. Look upward and pull the lower lid down gently. Carefully blot a clean cloth between the eye and the eyelid; the particle may stick to the cloth. Irrigate the eye with a stream of water. If none of these approaches works the object may be embedded in your eye. See your doctor at once.

The Siouland Blood Bank to visit Wayne

The Holidays are for families. Unfortunately some of us will be apart because of accidents or illness this Holiday Season.

The Siouland Community Blood Bank wants to take this time to invite the families of Wayne to participate in the Community Blood Drive. The Blood Drive will be held on Thursday, Dec. 24 from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Providence Medical Center.

"The Blood needs of our 14 area Community Hospitals do not take a vacation just because we are all too busy to stop for a few minutes to donate. Each donation we receive will save the lives of three patients. These patients are given another Holiday to enjoy with their families and friends because of the generosity of blood donors. So please come as a family to the blood drive and help many others to enjoy the Holiday Season. The life you save could be one of your own relatives or friends," said Jan King, Donor Consultant.

Seven of 10 people are eligible to donate but only one out of 20 really do. That is less than five percent of healthy Americans eligible to donate.

"Come be in the top five percent of good Americans who Donate Blood. Requirements to register are: 17 Years of Age, Weigh at least 110 Pounds, and be in General Good Health. If you are taking medicine don't disqualify yourself. Many medications are currently acceptable. Even those who have had various heart surgeries and illnesses are eligible to donate, contact the Blood Bank at 1-800-798-4208 for Medical Qualification questions. We are always happy to answer questions about donating," King said.

Thanks goes out to the Wayne Community for supporting the Siouland Community Blood Bank.

The Principal's Office
Parents did you know?
(Eye Opener, third of three)
By Dr. Don Zeiss, Principal

Eye-opener #3: Alcohol and tobacco are very dangerous drugs for kids to use.

Alcohol causes more problems and hurts more youth than all other drugs combined. Sadly, nearly all deaths from smoking result from a habit acquired early in life, the teen years.

Alcohol and cigarettes are often called gateway drugs because they serve as a training ground or entry to the use of other drugs. In fact, kids rarely use illicit drugs (such as marijuana or cocaine) without having first used alcohol or smoked cigarettes. Inhalants and marijuana are usually the next drugs in the sequence used by adolescents.

Want proof? A person who has smoked cigarettes or consumed alcohol is 65 times more likely to use marijuana than a person who has not smoked or consumed alcohol. And, the risk of using cocaine is over 100 times higher for someone who has smoked marijuana at least once in his or her lifetime (National Institute on Drug Abuse). Not all kids who smoke cigarettes or drink alcohol will move on to illicit drug use, but many do. Just as important, those who don't use alcohol or tobacco almost never use illicit drugs!

(Adapted from "Quick-Facts Report" produced by the Alcohol and Drug Information Clearinghouse, Nebraska Council to prevent Alcohol and Drug Abuse).

Jaycees are sponsoring gift program

The Wayne County Jaycees are sponsoring a Christmas gift program for the residents of the Wayne Care Centre.

This year's goal is to supply all residents with men's electric shavers.

There is a need for 20 shavers. Many of the elderly residents have limited personal funds and are, unfortunately unable to purchase many of these types of items.

"As we all know, being well-groomed contributes to good self-esteem, as does being able to perform as many grooming tasks as possible, independently," said Kathy Berry, Jaycee member who is assisting with this project.

Those wishing to assist in this project should contact Berry at 375-3066 for additional information. Shavers may also be dropped off with Mardelle Hallstrom at the Wayne Care Centre.

Hochstein selected

Brian J. Hochstein, son of Dale and Laura Hochstein, has been selected by the Wayne High School as the "DAR Good Citizen for the Daughters of the American Revolution Good Citizen Scholarship Contest."

He is among seven senior students chosen by northeast Nebraska area high schools for the contest, which is sponsored locally by the Nancy Gary chapter, DAR, with members in Norfolk and eleven area communities.

For the contest Brian wrote of his activities and future goals. He wrote an essay on our heritage and obtained a letter of recommendation from someone in the school system.

Hochstein's entry has been sent to the Nebraska State DAR Good Citizens contest, where he will compete with other Nebraska high school seniors for a cash award. State winners' entries advance to the division and from there to the national contest where three scholarships of up to $3,000 will be awarded.

Jaycee honor
Nancy Modrell was chosen as the 1997-98 Jaycee of the Year. Quarterly honors were also presented to Curt Schavee, Ron Centrup, Dani Glassmeyer, Shani Kavanaugh and Gary Poutre. The Outstanding new member award went to Carolyn Sinniger.

"The staff at Feidler Eye Clinic is #1."

"Dr. Feidler goes way back in our family. He's operated on my sister and her husband years ago. He's a wonderful person and a wonderful friend. I was to the point I couldn't see very well. Things kind of ran together. Dr. Feidler told me I had cataracts. I went home the same day that I had cataract surgery. Now, I have 20/20 vision. It's just amazing. I quit, and now I can see to do the sewing. The staff at Feidler Eye Clinic is #1. I know most of them. You can not go any place and get better care than you can at Feidler Eye Clinic."

Management of Multiple Sclerosis

Multiple sclerosis (MS) is a progressive nerve condition that affects nerve cells throughout the body. A protective material called myelin surrounds all nerve cells. When a person has MS there is inflammation, swelling, and eventual destruction of myelin. This results in a disruption of impulses that travel to and from the brain. The loss of nerve function may cause muscle weakness, blurred vision, tingling sensation, numbness, and fatigue.

The exact cause of MS is unknown. Scientists suspect viral infections, as well as hereditary and environmental factors. MS is not curable, but steroids, pain relievers and other drugs may help relieve symptoms. Two beta interferon medicines (Betaseron and Avonex) are prescribed to slow the progression of MS symptoms. Researchers are now evaluating compounds that may stimulate myelin protein. Agents that affect the immune system are also being evaluated.

Indoor air quality is very important

Indoor air quality is important for children with allergies or asthma. Maintaining the quality of indoor air means balancing several factors such as ventilation, control of contaminants and cleanliness.

The following discussion should help bring more awareness to the subject of indoor air quality.

Biological contaminants including mold, mildew, dust mites, fungi, roach allergens, bacteria, viruses and other pests can spread infectious diseases and aggravate allergic responses.

They are one cause of indoor air problems for an asthmatic child. Biological contaminants are carried indoors by people and pets, or air handling and ventilating systems. These contaminants settle on indoor surfaces and become airborne again when dust is disturbed by walking and moving about.

One key to removing and controlling biological contaminants in the home is to have a cleaning process aimed at keeping the indoor environment healthy.

The potential impacts of deep cleaning and dust control with typical household and family care products has been documented in one study sponsored by the Environmental Protection Agency.

That study, conducted in a daycare center, reported that improved housekeeping reduced total fungi by 61 percent, airborne dust by 52 percent, volatile organic compounds by 49 percent and total bacteria by 40 percent. Frequent cleaning may reduce contaminants in the indoor environment. Other actions include changing or cleaning air filters and air filter bags, maintaining filtration and air handling systems and equipment, using extensive quality matting inside and outside frequently used doors, using quality vacuum systems, and wet cleaning surfaces.

Another study of children's bedrooms in Boston-area homes showed that mopping or vacuuming the floor at least once a week resulted in lower levels of fungi per gram of dust on hard floors than did less frequent cleaning. Use of sanitizers and other cleaners on accessible parts of the air handling systems in homes, along with regular maintenance to remove microbial growth and changing filters, attack the biological contaminants that infiltrate the home.

Sav-Mor Pharmacy
Kava-Kava for Rest and Anxiety

Kava-Kava has been used around the world since the days of Captain James Cook. In the US, the primary use for this herb which contains Kavalactones is in relief of anxiety.

Several studies have been conducted with this herb. In two clinical trials, patients with anxiety unrelated to mental disorders were given daily doses of 70 mg or 210 mg kavalactones or a placebo. Substantial reductions in anxiety were reported by those who took Kava-Kava. In other studies of persons with anxiety, use of the herb was associated with improvements in "vigilance," memory, and reaction time.

The recommended Kava-Kava dose is 60 to 120 mg kavalactones taken daily for up to 3 months. For insomnia and sleeping difficulties, the herb should be taken one hour before bedtime. In treatment of anxiety, beneficial effects may be noticed within 10 to 30 minutes of use and may last for 2 to 8 hours. There are few side effects. However, Kava-Kava should not be used during pregnancy or while nursing. Using dangerous equipment, alcohol, or sedatives should be avoided with Kava-Kava.

BASKETBALL SEASON OPENS

The Eagles started their season on Dec. 3 at Winside with a double varsity contest. The Junior Varsity girls played first and started out tentative but over all, they played a good game, although, they were not able to get their first win.

The score score ended up to be 16-24. Melissa Wilmes lead the JV scorers with 12 points and the rest of the teams four points came from Danielle Bertrand. The JV's next win with the score of 32-29. Melissa Wilmes led again with 16 points. Kristin Hansen put in five, Angela Prohaska and Katie Koester each had four points and Jennifer Smith added three points.

The Varsity girls also played Winside and Wakefield last week. Against Winside, it could be seen that it was the first game of the season as the girls couldn't get into sync.

Despite the 37-48 loss, Stacey Martinson had 14 points, Danielle Bertrand put in eight, Shannon Koester had six, Alicia Liebsch with four and Jessica Bock, Rachael Stallbaum, and Elizabeth Bock each had two points.

On Saturday, the girls traveled to Wakefield. This time the score went their way. The girls pulled off the three point win, the score being 40-37. The girls played a lot better as a whole and that made a very well rounded scoring effort. Stacey Martinson led with 17 points, Rachael Stallbaum had nine, Shannon Koester put in seven, Alicia Liebsch had four points, Jessica Bock had two, and Carrie Geiger had one point. The girls' next contest will be on Tuesday at Hartington.

SPECIAL MEETING

The Wakefield Board of Education held a special meeting on November with two main topics of business.

One, how best to deal with the continual growing enrollment, and second, to decide whether to continue as a member of the Western Nebraska Distance Learning Consortium.

Principal Jeanne Surface reported as of Dec. 1, the total enrollment is up to 488 students.

As a follow up to the meeting discussion the board instructed the administration to research the availability of off-campus space for two grades. The board has tentatively decided that if off-campus space is secured that the third and fourth grade classes will be moved off-campus.

This would involve, according to recent enrollment figures, 45 third graders taught by Janelle Eaton and Shelly Schultz, and 39 fourth graders whose teachers are Kathy Johnson and Michelle Hays. This is a total of 84 students.

The four vacated classrooms could then accommodate English as a Second Language (ESL) classes; Title 1 instruction; music and Special Education for elementary students.

Three of these groups currently meet in the mini-gym and music instruction is held in the lunch room.

The board is then proposing to remodel the mini-gym and music instruction is held in the lunch room.

The board is also considering remodeling of the two library areas. During the meeting the board voted unanimously to continue its membership in the Eastern Nebraska Distance Learning Consortium.

In order to accommodate the equipment needed for the Distance Learning Center, the board members discussed remodeling the library in the secondary wing to accommodate the learning center and for two business rooms.

The proposal is that the vacated business rooms then could be used for secondary Special Education and English as a Second Language classes.

With the elementary library and computer lab relocated to the Mini-gym area, this space could also be reclaimed for classrooms.

If suitable off-campus space can be secured, the board is looking at possibly implementing the proposals as soon as next semester.

ASSISTED LIVING MOVES AHEAD

The Wakefield Health Care Center received word through the mail recently from the Nebraska Health and Human Services System that the facility has been approved to move to the next stage of the process to receive a grant to convert some of the nursing home rooms into assisted living units and possibly an addition for added services.

Earlier this year the Care Center filed a notice of interest in receiving funds and also held a public hearing. The next step, according to the Dept. of Health, is to conduct studies into the architectural design and construction and also a financial review of the project.

When this stage is completed, according to Wakefield Health Care Center Administrator Terry Hoffman, there will be a propose design and cost figures available on the project. The financial study will show whether this project is sound from that standpoint.

The Wakefield Health Care Center Board of Directors has approved Excel Management Group to conduct the two studies. The Care Center has received $15,000 to be used for these reviews.

Hoffman added that he thinks sometime early next year he will have figures and drawings, and a second public hearing will be held on the project.

VOLUNTEERS COOKBOOK

Because the fifth and sixth grade students at the Wakefield School feel volunteering is important, they plan to recognize these special people by publishing a cookbook of their favorite recipes.

The students appreciate the volunteers who help out at school and know that in one way or another many people in the community volunteer their time and services to others, whether on an individual basis or through an organization they belong to.

The students are making an appeal to volunteers to submit their favorite recipe, and a line or two about their volunteer work or group. The recipe may be brought or mailed to the school. The school post office box number is 330.

The students hope to receive recipes from firefighters, members of the rescue squad, church workers, members of service organizations and auxiliaries.

If you have any questions about the project please contact one of the fifth or sixth grade instructors, Matt Brenn, Terri Samuelson, or Deb Garwood.

Growing older is definitely an honor

Today, Dec. 5, friend Marlyce in Orlando joins the rest of us as she celebrates birthday #60. She and husband, Pastor Jerry, spent Thanksgiving in York and stopped here on the way back to the airport.

Marlyce is now an eight-year cancer survivor, so she is very happy to be growing older. An area magazine features a full-page color photo of her on the golf course. And, she's giving back, as a Reach to Recovery volunteer.

Marlyce grew up a quarter of a mile from me. We went through all 12 grades together. Visits have been brief since then. But I'm sure she's one of those five "friendships of the heart" we have in a lifetime. And I hope she lives to be 100!

I did a couple of "info sessions" for the Cass County Healthy

The Farmwife
By Pat McHenry

Walkers this week. The schools in our county are opening the gyms for walkers, early in the morning and after 4. Some senior walkers are even staying to eat breakfast with the students. Once a month, there are educational programs and blood pressure checks.

My topic was basically, "getting through the holidays." I used my list of 10 Christmas myths; I'm going to share them with you all today.

1. The house must be immaculate. Why? Decorations cover things up. Clean in January.

2. All cookies must be homemade and in at least a dozen varieties. We're supposed to be cutting sugar and fat. Besides, the local bake sales need our support.

3. Cards need to have handwritten messages. Impossible! The printed letter really is okay, we all agreed; but be brief, and spare the superlatives.

4. Every one needs a new dress for Christmas. One year, I made matching pant suits for myself, three girls, and their Barbie dolls. Insanity! Wait until the after-Christmas sales. There's lots of winter left.

5. The holiday must be observed on the 25th. Be fair to in-laws and don't expect parents to drive many miles to both sets of grandparents.

6. The meal must be traditional. We happen to like turkey and dressing, but I've heard of pizza, Mexican and chili.

7. Gifts must be hand-made, of equal value, reciprocal. And wrapped beautifully! Thank goodness for gift bags. One woman told us she saves the Sunday funnies all year and uses them for gift wrap.

8. You need to be a professional to sing Christmas songs. Remember, Gene Autry introduced Rudolph. Everyone should sing: carols, popular songs, even the goofy ones, like, "Grandma Got Ran Over by a Reindeer!"

9. It must be a white Christmas. The older I get, the less important this becomes. I've appreciated the unseasonable warmth. Snow does make pretty pictures, but makes getting to activities more difficult.

10. There must be a pageant, with children and live animals! This is a lovely, hectic tradition, but I find a candlelight service more to my taste. Do take "in all the school programs, and choir concerts." And enjoy!

Horse around at UNL

Horse enthusiasts of all levels can participate in Horsin' Around '99 at the University of Nebraska Animal Science Building on March 13-14, 1999.

Pre-registration for the annual conference is Jan. 4 - March 5 and is limited to the first 450 paid registrations. Send registrations early, advised Kathy Anderson, conference coordinator and NU horse specialist.

This year's conference will focus on training and showing the western pleasure horse. Featured presenter is the nation's premier pleasure horse trainer, Cleve Wells of Burleson, Texas. Wells has trained multiple American Quarter Horse Association, Paint World and Congress champions, including all-time greats such as Zips Chocolate Chip and Chips Hot Chocolate, Anderson said.

While continuing to train and show some of the top pleasure horses in the United States, Wells also teaches champion western pleasure horse trainers. His nationwide clinics help people of all levels train and show pleasure horses, Anderson said. Wells will be demonstrating and explaining his methods to the audience on a variety of horses at all stages of training. Some topics Wells will cover include finding a pleasure horse, early training — developing the basics, snaffle bit work, calisthenics for pleasure horses and putting the finished product together.

Other presenters are Tom Kirshenbaum of Wolf Brothers Western Wear in Omaha and Tim Jennings of Professional Auction Services in Lessburg, Va.

Kirshenbaum will present "Saddles, Saddles, Saddles — Which One For You?" It will include information on selecting the correct saddle for yourself and the type of horse you have.

Jennings operates one of the most successful Quarter Horse Auction firms in the U.S. It manages such sales as the American Quarter Horse Association World Championship Show and Sale. He will discuss marketing horses in today's industry and provide insight into obtaining top dollar for all types of horses.

To preregister and for cost information, call (402) 472-6410. In Nebraska, contact a local Cooperative Extension office.

Horsin' Around '99 is sponsored by Cooperative Extension in NU's Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.
