Renovation is discussed

By Aubrey Parson
For the Herald

The Wayne School Board considered many issues in the last regular meeting of 1998.

The Board heard from Al Eveland of the Ameritas Financial Group in regards to the school bond passed in September. According to Eveland, the interest rate on the bond is a percentage point lower than originally projected.

Eveland said lower tax rates will be implemented throughout the district, saving taxpayers approximately $25,000 per year. Yearly payments on the bond were initially estimated to be $505,000 per year, but will now be lowered to $480,000. Taxpayers in the district will save approximately $280,000 over the life of the bond.

According to Eveland, bond purchasing is available through Reggie Yates at Edward Jones Investments. Dr. Joseph Reinert, district superintendent, can be contacted for more information.

David Slabaugh of Landis Building Technologies presented a proposal with three options for renovation of the Elementary School:

The first option is to replace the roof on the west and south portions of the building, replace all windows and wall paneling, and upgrade the unit ventilator. According to Slabaugh, estimated cost for this option is $279,000.

Option two, at $396,000, is to Taking requests

Santa has been busy making the rounds talking to hundreds of children and getting their wish lists. Santa stopped at the Wayne Public Library on Saturday to read books, sing songs and talk to children. Approximately 30 children and a number of parents were on hand for the activities.

Police investigate several incidents

Wayne Police officers responded to a report of a double hit and run accident at 1 a.m. on Saturday morning.

When they arrived in the 500-Block of West First Street, officers found that a 1978 Chevette and a 1988 Buick, both owned by Michael Dickes, had been struck by a driver who left the scene. The driver had struck the rear of the Chevette and pushed it into the Buick. Both cars sustained extensive damage. The car that caused the accident was also damaged, to the point that the front license plate fell off.

Officers went to the home of the registered owner and found the driver of the car within minutes of the first call.

A 39-year-old Wayne man was arrested for allegedly Driving While Intoxicated and Leaving the Scene of a Property Damage Accident.

Formal charges are pending. Officers of the Wayne Police Department also served an arrest warrant on 19-year-old John L. Kavanaugh for First Degree Sexual Assault on Monday.

Kavanaugh allegedly assaulted an 18-year-old Wayne State College student on the college soccer field early in the morning of Nov. 1.

Kavanaugh, of Sioux City, Iowa, was also a Wayne State College student at the time of the alleged assault. He is being held in the Pierce County Jail pending his arraignment and formal filing of charges.

Unto you this day

Council has final 1998 meeting

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

In the final meeting of 1998, the Wayne City Council passed seven resolutions and debated the wording of another resolution.

The first of the resolutions approved an application for a liquor license by Tim Schaefer of Citgo. City Administrator Joe Salitros stated that the Citgo building is more than 150 feet from a church, a requirement necessary to grant a liquor license.

Resolution 98-109 set a public hearing date for Jan. 26 at 7:35 p.m. regarding Sidewalk Improvement District 98-01.

Three resolutions passed involved interlocal agreements for dispatch services by the Wayne Police Department. These include Wayne State College, the village of Carroll and the village of Winslow.

The final resolution passed allowed for the final payment for work done in Storm Sewer Improvement District No. 97-01.

Ordinance 98-21 was passed and the three readings waived. The Ordinance makes it a misdemeanor for minors to have in their possession tobacco products. Wording on the ordinance had been changed following discussion at last week's meeting. Deleted was a section that placed an age limit on those minors who worked in situations which required them to come in contact with tobacco products, such as emptying an ash tray at an eating establishment.

The council also discussed whether or not Randy Pick was in breach of an agreement regarding his property at 13th and Main Streets.

Pick told the council that a four foot sidewalk had been taken out but he was being required to put in a five-foot walk. He also stated that he wasn't able to put a sidewalk in until the wheelchair ramp had been installed.

"When I found out that I needed a permit to put the sidewalk in, I came to the city offices three times and the permit was not finished. Also, I can't put the sidewalk in the same spot or I will be in violation of parking regulations on my property," Pick said.

The council voted to move forward with the breach of agreement on the property, but allow Pick until Dec. 31, weather permitting, to have the sidewalk installed.

Salitros told Pick and council members that the permit had been ready for several weeks but had not been picked up.

Mayor Sheryl Lindau presented Council person Jane O'Leary with a certificate of service for having served on the council for 10 years.

In other action, the council approved a request from the Wayne Chicken Show to block off and use certain streets for vending at next year's Chicken Show.

Karen Shattuck, representing the Wayne Chicken Show, told the council that the committee intends to block off the 100 block of East Second Street and the east portion of the 100 block of West Second Street at 4 p.m. on Friday, July 9.

The council also granted the Chicken Show $1,000 and asked the committee for an accounting of the Chicken Show's budget.

The council's next meeting will be Tuesday, Jan. 12 at 7:30 p.m.

Bomb threat at Wakefield

The Wakefield Community School was evacuated Tuesday morning because of a threat placed on an upper elementary teacher's desk.

The Wayne County Sheriff's office was contacted and the students were evacuated and taken off campus.

This is the second time school officials have had to deal with a bomb threat this year. In March, students and staff were not permitted to return to school Tuesday following a search by authorities, students were transported back to school and classes resumed.

Superintendent Mike Moody added that because of the incident and the loss of two hours from the school day, the students will not be dismissed early on Tuesday, Dec. 22 for Christmas vacation.

Christmas an ocean away

By J.L. Chirrick

The bells of holiday cheer won't quite ring the same for Michael S. Ellis on Christmas Day. Exchanging gifts and sharing the year's achievements over a meal with family and friends will only be heartfelt memo-

This year, Ellis will be thousands of miles away from those he loves, preserving the core of holiday tradition for all Americans.

Navy Petty Officer 1st Class Ellis, the 31-year-old son of Raymond Ellis of Allen and Margaret A. Starks of Jackson, is attached to the USS Chandler (DDG 996), which is homeported in San Diego. The 563-foot Chandler, a Spruance-class destroyer manned by 341 Sailors and Officers, began a six-month Southern Pacific deployment early in October.

"Protecting freedom and democracy was never easy, and I have made the sacrifice to ensure that America remains every vigilant against those who would threaten our liberties," said Ellis, a 1985 graduate of Allen High Consolidated.

Ellis, a cook who prepares meals for the entire crew, will spend the holiday season in support of counter-drug operations. He and the rest of the Chandler's crew will patrol shipping lanes and other areas known to be used by illegal drug traffickers.

Graduation ceremonies Friday

Dr. Ken Halsey, interim president of Wayne State College will confer 187 bachelor's and 86 master's degrees and three education specialist degrees during the College's Commencement ceremony on Friday, Dec. 18 at 2 p.m. in Rice Auditorium.

Addressing the audience will be honor students Lisa Ann Davids of Creighton and Janene Welch Reynolds of Ewing.

Davids graduates Summa cum Laude with a bachelor of science in math education, with special endorsements in computer science and coaching. She graduated from Creighton High School and is the daughter of Owen and Judy Davids.

While at WSC she has been a member of Kappa Mu Epsilon, WSEAN and Kappa Delta Pi. She has also served the college as a STRIDE tutor and a Learning Center peer tutor. Davids has been student teaching at Plainview High School this semester. She plans to enroll in graduate studies under an assistantship at the University of Nebraska at Omaha this spring.

Janene Welch Reynolds graduates Summa cum Laude with a bachelor of science degree in elementary education. She and her husband Steve have three children, Steven, Janette and Scotty. Their fourth child is due this spring.

Reynolds graduated from Ewing Public Schools. Several years ago she returned to school to earn a college degree, which she began at Northeast Community College in Norfolk. Reynolds completed her Associate of Arts degree in May of 1996.

She then transferred to WSC and has regularly commuted 80-90 miles one-way, to complete her baccalaureate degree.

While at Wayne State, Reynolds has been a member of WSEAN, and is currently President of the local chapter of Alpha Sigma Lambda, an honor society for non-traditional students.

Reynolds plans to teach while pursuing a master's degree with a specialization in reading. Her goal is to help children achieve a sense of accomplishment, a feeling of understanding and a love of knowledge.

WSC alumnus Dr. Archie McPherran, '41, will be honored during a ceremony with the Alumni Achievement Award, which is presented in recognition of his life-long accomplishments in the

Obituaries

Harry Hinnerichs

Harry Hinnerichs, 82, of Wayne died Sunday, Dec. 13, 1998. Services were held Wednesday, Dec. 16. The Rev. Jeff Anderson and the Rev. Brian Brian officiated.

Harry Frederick Henry Hinnerichs, son of Henry and Alvina (Voigt) Hinnerichs, was born Aug. 24, 1916 on a farm northeast of Wayne. He was baptized and confirmed at Immanuel Lutheran Church northeast of Wayne. He attended rural school at Immanuel Lutheran Parochial School. He worked as a timberman in California until he joined the U.S. Army in 1945, serving in Japan and working in Army Occupation. On Sept. 5, 1948 he was married to Margaret Kay at Reno, Nev. The couple made their home in Portola, Calif. He returned to being a timberman for many years before operating a Heavy Equipment business. The couple moved to Wayne in 1993. He was a member of Grace Lutheran Church in Wayne, the American Legion and V.F.W.

Survivors include his wife Margaret Hinnerichs of Wayne; one step daughter, Bonnie and Kurt Otte of Wayne; one step-granddaughter; one step-great-grandson; one sister, Irma and Walter Johnson of South Sioux City; nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his parents, one sister, Dortha Sampson and one nephew.

Pallbearers were Larry Sampson, Ron Mau, Lyle Samuelson, Tom Hagman, Brad Johnson and John Rebensdorf.

Burial was in Greenwood Cemetery in Wayne. Schumacher-Hasemann Funeral Home in Wayne was in charge of arrangements.

Edward DenHerder

Edward DenHerder, 61, of Wakefield died Saturday, Dec. 12, 1998 at Marian Health Center in Sioux City, Iowa.

Services were held Tuesday, Dec. 15 at Evangelical Covenant Church in Wakefield. The Rev. Ross Erickson officiated.

Edward Wayne DenHerder, son of Edward and Wilhemina (VaderHorst) DenHerder, was born Dec. 16, 1936 at Sioux Center, Iowa. He graduated from Boyden High School and was in the Naval Reserves. On Nov. 12, 1955 he married Ella Ruby Brunsting at Boyden, Iowa. The couple came to Wakefield in 1966 where he was employed at the M.G. Waldbaum Company. He developed health conditions in 1990 which prevented him from continued employment.

Survivors include his wife Ruby of Wakefield; two sons, Craig DenHerder of Wakefield and Wayne and Diana DenHerder of Wayne; two daughters, Aletha and Corad Keck of David City and Gina and Mike Mahaney of Wakefield; four grandchildren; one brother Steve and Midge DenHerder of Chesapeake, Va. and two sisters, Elva and Fred Wirth of Garden City, Kan. and Muriel Smith of Estherville, Iowa.

He was preceded in death by his parents, two brothers, Don and Merle and an infant triplet sister.

Pallbearers were Rick Olson, Jon Pretzer, Mike, John and Joel Wirth and Charles Scheelhaase.

Burial was in the Wakefield Cemetery in Wakefield. Bressler-Humicek Funeral Home in Wakefield was in charge of arrangements.

Chat with Santa
Dylan Ellis of Carroll was one of many youngsters who was able to chat with Santa following the Carroll Elementary Christmas program last week.

Clifford Johnson

Clifford Johnson, 93, of Wayne died Saturday, Dec. 12, 1998 at the Wayne Care Centre.

Services were held Wednesday, Dec. 16 at First United Methodist Church in Wayne. The Rev. Gary Main officiated.

Clifford Albin Johnson, son of Charles W. and Jennie T. (Larsen) Johnson, was born March 26, 1905 on a farm south of Wayne. He was baptized and confirmed at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Wayne and attended school at Wayne Public Schools. He then worked for several years at Denbeck's Meat Market in Wayne. On Jan. 25, 1926 he married Wilma Helen Gamble at Burke, S.D. The couple farmed in the Wayne area during the 30's and in 1940 established Johnson Frozen Foods. They operated the business until retiring when their son and daughter-in-law, Larry and Lorraine Johnson, purchased the business. He was a member of the First United Methodist Church in Wayne for over 70 years and was a member of the Wayne Historical Society. He enjoyed working with horses and established a Saddle Club for the Wayne area.

Survivors include one son, Larry and Lorraine Johnson of Wayne; three daughters, Barbara Jo and Don Pedersen and Hollis Frese, both of Wayne and Cheryl Holliday of Orchard; 11 grandchildren; 21 great-grandchildren; one great-great-granddaughter; two brothers, Clemith Johnson of Fort Collins, Colo. and Buford and Winifred Johnson of Buena Vista, Colo.; one sister-in-law, Ethel Johnson of Wayne; one sister, Alverne Florine of Haines City, Fla.; nieces, nephews and cousins.

He was preceded in death by his parents, wife Wilma in 1982, one son, Gene, four brothers, two sisters and one son-in-law.

replace the entire roof, all windows and wall paneling, and to install a cooling system.

The third option includes reconstruction of all entryways, in addition to the improvements mentioned in the second option. Estimated cost for option three would be $464,000.

"The second option accomplishes everything we had previously discussed we wanted to do. Reconstruction of the entryways can be phased in gradually over the next few years," said Dr. Reinert.

Slabaugh suggested it would be more cost effective to install the cooling system now, instead of having to fund additional construction work later.

The Board met with Rambo and Associates in regards to the Middle School renovation contract. The Board projected final approval of the contract to be made at the January 11 board meeting.

Teachers and community members will also have the opportunity to meet with Rambo representatives in January to discuss the design phase of the building.

Representatives discussed an approximate timeline for the project. The grand opening of the Middle School is predicted in late 2000 or early 2001. The High School renovation, which is also included in the contract, is predicted to be completed by the fall of 2000.

Selection of a Technical Service Consultant was also discussed. Rambo and Associates will be in charge of selecting the consultant.

Dr. Reinert reported that a storage facility for overflow from the Middle School has been located. The building is currently under a one-year lease.

"The facility will be used to store desks, equipment, and anything else that will need to be replaced once construction is completed. It was the cheapest out of the options we had available to us," said Reinert.

Middle School Principal Richard Metteer, discussed the need to adapt curriculum to aid in the development of better social studies skills at the Middle School and High School levels. According to Metteer, Wayne students score lower than average on the social studies portion of standardized tests.

The Board has the option of developing a test designed to meet the needs of Wayne students, or to use a test developed at the state level. The tests will be one area of concentration at the upcoming board retreat in January.

Dr. Will Davis was recognized for his contributions to the School Board. He will be retiring this year after ten years of service on the Board.

The Board will hold a retreat on January 23 at Wayne State College.

The next regular board meeting is scheduled for January 11 at the High School.

Michael Ellis will spend this holiday season aboard the ship USS Chandler in the South Pacific.

often require Ellis to perform his duties in stressful conditions, and the thought of missing a Christmas at home doesn't make it any easier. Even though, Ellis says he's going to do his best to keep his spirits up and embrace the essence of the holidays.

"I plan to spend my holidays aboard, providing meals to the crew," Ellis said.

It is the bond of friendship that Ellis says helps sailors get through the months of separation from everything they hold dear, especially during the holiday season.

"There will never be replacements for those we love at home, but knowing there is a great group of people we work with and can rely on what makes us forget the hardships we have to endure," said Ellis, a 14-year Navy veteran.

While having good friends may help to ease the longing for a holiday at home, it can never compare.

So this year Ellis gives up his holiday in the interest of America, and his family will spend Christmas without him. None-the-less, Ellis says he will be with his family and friends in heart, even if he can't be there in person.

"I hope my family is enjoying the holidays together and I wish I could be there with them," Ellis said.

Family day

Alex Arneson brought members of his family to Wayne Elementary on Monday for Family Day. In addition to immediate members, Alex brought Willy Wildcat to help his classmates remember that his mother works at Wayne State College. ComNet provides Wayne with fastest connection to Internet Northeast Nebraska ComNet has announced the addition of 56K modems to its service packages.

The 56K modems allow users to download from the Internet 30 percent faster than the current 33.6 modems. The new service has been available to Wayne surfers since Dec. 11.

"You will never experience the Internet quite the same," said Josh Barney, Administrator at Northeast Nebraska ComNet.

This new service includes adding new equipment to the Wayne Point of Presence (POP) and the addition of digital lines to facilitate the analog (customer dialup) to digital (ComNet site) conversion. This conversion allows speeds up to 53K as allowed by the FCC.

Currently three standards have been implemented to support 56K modems. They are K56Flex, x2 and V.90. These three standards are not compatible with each other.

For example, a K56Flex modem could not call a x2 modem and connect at 56K speeds," Barney said.

V.90 is now the standard that all modem companies support. The 56K modems purchased today usually support both K56Flex and V.90 or x2 and V.90. Those having older 56K modems that do not support V.90 should check with the manufacturer of the modem for an update. Northeast Nebraska ComNet will support K56Flex and V.90 at the Wayne POP.

For more information on 56K modems, visit ComNet's Web Site at <http://www.bloomnet.com>

Northeast Nebraska ComNet has been providing quality Internet services, including Dial-up Internet Access, High Speed Internet Connections, Web Design and Web Hosting since 1996.

ComNet serves over 22 communities with local access to the Internet in Northeast and North-Central Nebraska. ComNet's Home office is located in Bloomfield.

Goldenrod Hills seeks volunteer assistance

The Tax Counseling for the Elderly and low-income (TCE/VITA) program offers FREE tax help to individuals who are low-income or who are age 60 or older or homebound.

The grant funds are made possible by an appropriation of the Congress. Related IRS activities are authorized by Section 163 of the Revenue Act of 1978.

This Act also authorizes the Internal Revenue Service to enter into agreements with private or non-governmental public non-profit agencies or organizations that will provide training and technical assistance to volunteers who provide FREE tax counseling assistance to elderly individuals or low-income individuals in the preparation of their Federal income tax returns.

Goldenrod Hills Community Services has entered into a cooperative agreement to sponsor the TCE/VITA Program within its 12 county area. Sponsoring this program means that Goldenrod Hills will be responsible for all aspects of operating a TCE/VITA Program including publicity, recruitment, site selection, and management of volunteers.

Volunteers other than professional accountants and enrolled agents are required to pass a test to demonstrate their competence and understanding of the Federal tax law as it applies to the elderly.

Volunteers are needed throughout the 12 county area to donate their time to help taxpayers (low-income and age 60 and over or homebound) file their tax returns correctly.

Volunteers attend an IRS training course of three days in length. This course emphasizes income tax preparation involving step-by-step completion of forms 1040, 1040A, and 1040EZ.

Volunteers must pass a test for certification. If interested in more information on the program or interested in volunteering your time a few hours a week or month, call Goldenrod Hills Community Services at 402-529-3513.

ONE NEBRASKA JOURNAL

By Governor Ben Nelson

December 11, 1998

Dear Nebraska Neighbors,

Since the Nebraska Lottery began operating in September 1993, the people of our state have certainly been beating the odds. This month, the Johnsons of Ayr became instant millionaires, the fifth Powerball Jackpot winners in Nebraska.

When I first ran for Governor eight years ago, I promoted the idea of a state lottery, with proceeds going to support two of our state's priorities — education and the environment. More than 60 percent of Nebraska voters agreed with me, approving a constitutional amendment creating the lottery in November 1992.

After five years of winning, it's not just the lucky ones like the Johnsons who have reason to celebrate. About $102 million has been raised so far by the Nebraska Lottery for its beneficiary funds. Those funds have awarded more than 540 major grants so far, supporting projects in every county in the state.

The Education Innovation Fund is supporting projects that will serve nearly 70,000 Nebraska students this year alone. It has funded various distance learning systems, which are saving taxpayer dollars while allowing schools to share resources and interact with institutions of higher education. Other funded projects include programs to assess student achievement and efforts to prepare students for the workforce and post-secondary education.

The Nebraska Environmental Trust Fund has provided money for 53 lake and reservoir improvement projects; more than two dozen recyclable solid waste trailers; protection efforts for endangered species such as the Whooping Crane and Blowout Penstemon; and many other projects to preserve and protect our natural resources.

Grants from the Solid Waste Landfill Closure Assistance Fund are helping more than 90 Nebraska communities cope with federally-mandated landfill closure expenses. The environment is also benefiting through improved waste management and monitoring activities.

A share of Nebraska Lottery proceeds also supports assistance for compulsive gamblers, a growing problem as casino gambling grows in our region.

The Lottery's success is due to the teamwork and vision of Nebraskans. Educational and environmental interests, state and local governments and the retailing community came together to make this work for all of us.

Players of the Nebraska Lottery have won more than $300 million dollars, but by supporting important educational and environmental projects, the Lottery continues to make everyone a winner in this One Nebraska.

Letters from readers are welcome. They should be timely, brief and must contain no libelous statements. We reserve the right to edit or reject any letters.

Capitol News —

Pay dispute system takes the cake

By Ed Howard

Statehouse Correspondent

The Nebraska Press Association. Need something to look forward to in 1999, other than how Frank Solich does in his second season at NU?

Watch for headlines (they should be big enough to get your attention) that proclaim the Nebraska Supreme Court's decision in a wage dispute between the state and the State Patrol.

The system for handling negotiations and settling pay disputes with state employees is a cake-taker. The collective bargaining system Nebraska uses is virtually guaranteed to succeed; unless, of course, there is any kind of disagreement between the parties.

It would be foolish to suggest that a decision by the state's highest court would, or could, somehow lead to an era of good feeling and negotiations that would satisfy all parties. The possibility, however, is that the court could issue a decision that would somehow open a new chapter in the process.

As is often the case, the first thing the court may have to decide is whether the State Troopers even have the right to be in court.

The law says that when those employed by the state can't reach an agreement with the state, the whole deal is decided by an attorney who is called the "special master."

Last year, the special master gave a thumbs-up to the state's offer of a 2.75 percent increase in wages for the troopers. The troopers figured it was a raw deal and are appealing to the Supreme Court. The troopers say the law is unconstitutional because it effectively requires binding arbitration.

But the state says the troopers can't challenge the constitutionality of the law because they used it (the law, that is) to make a prior, unsuccessful appeal to the Commission on Industrial Relations.

To the lay person this may seem like the perennial Catch 22: if the troopers hadn't appealed to the CIR, then they would have been in a position of failing to utilize the appropriate law fully, etc., before going to the high court. Don't worry about that, because lay people don't count in judicial discussions.

The whole system was put together with a central objective of seeing to it that negotiations be completed, successfully or otherwise, in time for the legislature to handle its budget deliberations.

Gov. elect Mike Johanns indicated during his campaign that he thinks troopers deserve a better deal.

If the high court throws out the current blueprint for handling negotiations, the troopers, and other state workers, could have a shot at working out a better deal for working out their deals with the state.

If the system is upheld, or the high court simply decides that the troopers can't bring the case, the men and women with the badges and guns can hope to do better next time, when dealing with a Johanns administration.

Meanwhile, keep this in mind: for putting on a badge and gun and walking up behind motor vehicles at night to ask for a driver's license, a state trooper gets a starting salary of $22,357. The state proposal would give them $26,546. Currently, some 15-year veterans make about $30,000. The state maintains that, when benefits are considered, it's a square deal. The troopers, obviously, feel otherwise.

Interestingly, the state isn't likely to find much sympathy among local government officials. Local governments must adhere to a comparability standard — meaning what they pay their people is determined by what is paid in comparable places for comparable work. The problem, from the view of municipalities, is that Nebraska cities are compared to those in more populous, urban states, and the comparison is skewed.

In the meantime, rookie state troopers at least have the satisfaction of knowing that, if there really is a problem in spending on government operations, they aren't part of it.

Strategic planning for rural communities

Once again, the Chamber extends congratulations to the winner of the Great Cash Giveaway promotion!

Janice Newton, winner of the 11:30 a.m. drawing, was at the Bar M and won $475.

At the 2:30 p.m. drawing, no winners were present in a participating business.

Those holding tickets numbered 12397, 48940, 25827 and 71293 have until Friday to claim their $25 consolation prizes.

Conditions are vastly different than they were in the 1980's, when most rural community economic development programs were started. Full employment has changed the mission and the sense of urgency behind economic development programs. Need is down, while opportunity is up.

priorities, develop strategies, formulate action plans and develop new leadership. Often the first step is to convene a steering committee to manage the process. Data is collected, organized and digested as the basis for setting and prioritizing goals.

Next, sub-committees or task forces translate the priorities into specific courses of action including timetables and implementation responsibilities. The process works best when it involves broad-based participation including public officials, developers, business owners, environmental interests, social service agencies and others. This broad participation facilitates a sense of community acceptance and ownership.

The following are a few goals that I would like to see our community work on during this period of sustained growth and full employment.

1. Build on the community's economic strengths by supporting existing businesses and promoting industries where the community has a competitive advantage and can develop further synergy and relative productivity.

2. Increase quality job opportunities for women. Non-metro women are significantly less likely to be in the work force than are metro women, and non-metro men and non-metro women earn substantially less when they are employed.

3. Increase the supply of high-skilled jobs. Rural communities have difficulty retaining their educated youth for economic reasons. While non-metro residents with less than a high school education earn 96 percent of the income of their metro counterparts, high school grads earn 86 percent as much and college grads in non-metropolitan areas earn only 75 percent as much as their metro counterparts.

4. Help welfare-to-work succeed by developing strategies and programs designed to meet the needs and desires of both the new workers and area employers.

Students raise money to help fight heart disease

More than 150 students at Wayne Carroll Elementary participated in jump rope for Heart Dec 7-11 to promote their cardiovascular fitness and to raise money for the American Heart Association.

The event raised approximately $2,900.

The event was coordinate by Rob Sweetland and its aim was to educate the students on the benefits of regular exercise and to raise money for the American Heart Association's research and public education programs.

Sweetland said the event was a great success. "It's super when you see students working toward a goal of helping people through the American Heart Association's research and educational programs. It makes sense to give heart research the number one priority since cardiovascular diseases kill more Americans than all other causes of death combined."

"This year's group collected almost twice as much as last year's group," he added.

Top collectors were Leslie Sturm, Leslie Backstrom, Brooke Jones, Hailey Hintz and Josh Barker.

"It is important to teach our youth about volunteerism and giving to people in need," Sweetland added.

Fourth grade students were among those involved in this year's Jump Rope For Heart.

Jump Rope for Heart is held annually in Wayne to encourage children and adults to promote heart health in the community.

WSC men climb to 18th in national rankings at 8-2

By Kevin Peterson

WSC, 5—NCC, 1
Wayne State's men's basketball team closed out their season schedule against North Central Conference foes last week at Minnesota State-Mankato.

The Wildcats notched a 5-1 record against the traditionally strong NCC including a 71-56 victory at Mankato.

WSC was sparked by another stellar defensive showing, holding a prolific scoring Mankato team to just 56 points on its home floor.

The 'Cats fell behind very early in the game but came on strong to lead by 15 at the break, 43-28. The game was never in jeopardy in the second half as the 'Cats built leads of 20 and more points before settling for the 15-point win.

"Anytime you can win on the road it's a feather in your cap," WSC coach Greg McDermott said. "Especially when it's against a quality team like Mankato who is expected to compete for the NCC title this season."

McDermott said his team challenged every shot Mankato took with aggressive quarter court defense.

Tyler Johnson led a well-balanced Wildcat attack with 13 points while Brad Joens added 11, Jason Diaz and Jon Dolliver each scored nine points.

WSC was edged on the boards, 35-32 with Eric Henderson leading the 'Cats with nine caroms.

The 'Cats entertained Rockford on Friday night and despite a slow start, came on strong and lit up the scoreboard for 110 points.

Unfortunately, the 'Cats defense was not as dominant, giving up 82 as WSC improved to 8-2 on the season.

"This game kind of came at a bad time for us," McDermott said. "We've come off playing eight difficult games, it's right before finals and things just didn't go well on the defensive end."

The 'Cats mentor was impressed however, with the way his team stepped it up the final 15 minutes.

Jason Herlitzke scored a career-high 20 points and Tyler Johnson added 19 while dishing out seven assists. Johnson went over the 500 mark for career assists.

Matt VanVoorst tallied a season-high 18 points and Brad Joens notched 14. WSC owned the boards, 44-33, as Kevin Burgert hauled down a team-high eight caroms with Eric Henderson notching seven.

With the strength of schedule what it is, McDermott said he's pleased that his team has an 8-2 record at this point in the season.

The 'Cats incidentally, moved up six spots in the rankings this week to 18th. The lone losses came against four-ranked South Dakota State and 10th-ranked Wayne State of Michigan.

WSC's opponents in the Region have a combined record of 44-12 on the year.

The 'Cats will host St. Francis of Illinois on Saturday afternoon at 3 p.m.

Tyler Johnson cruises breezes past a defender for two of his 19 points against Rockford on Friday night. Johnson went over the 500-assist milestone as well.

WSC women notch seventh win of year

The Wayne State women's basketball team notched a couple huge road victories last week, knocking off 11-1 Doane by 12 points in Crete and defeating Northwest Missouri State by three in Maryville, Miss. on Saturday.

Ryan Williams' team improved to 7-4 on the year heading into Saturday's tilt with Winona State.

Last Thursday in Crete the Wildcats led the host Tigers, 29-23 at the break before winning by a dozen at 64-52.

"Doane has a very good team," Williams said. "I think the level of competition we played up to this point helped us in this contest."

Doane was ranked on the season and ranked on the NAIA level before the 'Cats victory.

"I think our defensive intensity had something to do with the outcome," Williams added. "Doane had some very good athletes inside and we played great defense on them plus we got some easy transition buckets. Ami Pendry really did a nice job for us."

Williams said he's very pleased with what Pendry brings to the team. "Ami is one of our better athletes who is a versatile player that is also tough," Williams said.

Pendry led the winners with 18 points while Kellie Schenk and Krista Bernadt tossed in 11 each. Kristene Strait added eight points while Erin Aakre and Katie Sperling tallied six apiece.

WSC was edged on the boards, 42-40, with Strait hauling down a game-high nine caroms to lead the 'Cats.

WSC took very good care of the basketball with just 12 turnovers while forcing 20.

SATURDAY AT Northwest Missouri State the 'Cats led by one point at the break, 23-22 and held on for a three-point victory against a traditionally sound Bearcats squad, 53-50.

"It was a close game all the way," Williams said. "I thought both teams played a little sloppy on the offensive end and we relied on our defense to pull us through and it did."

Krista Bernadt hit a big three-pointer for the 'Cats when the shot clock was at one second and the sophomore from Hebron sank two free throws with 20 seconds left to give WSC a three point lead.

Despite having 20 seconds, the host Bearcats failed to even get a shot off.

Bernadt led the winners with 15 points with Erin Aakre adding 11 and Kellie Schenk, 10.

WSC won the boards battle, 32-29 as Katie Sperling hauled down a game-high 11 caroms.

At 7-4 the 'Cats are nearing last year's win total of eight and Williams said the girls would really like to reach last year's win total the first semester and Saturday's the last game of the semester as the 'Cats host Winona State in a 1 p.m. contest in Rice Auditorium.

"It's kind of a mini goal that we set for ourselves," Williams said. "Our team has done a good job of staying focused and we know we'll have to play a complete game to put ourselves in position to beat a team like Winona State."

WSC, 64—Doane, 52
WSC: Ami Pendry, 18; Kellie Schenk, 11; Krista Bernadt, 11; Kristene Strait, 8; Katie Sperling, 6; Erin Aakre, 6; Stef Sjuts, 4. FG's: 23-57-39%; FT's: 8-16-50%.

WSC, 53—NWMSU, 50
WSC: Krista Bernadt, 15; Erin Aakre, 11; Kellie Schenk, 10; Kristene Strait, 6; Katie Sperling, 6; Megan Murphy, 2; Ami Pendry, 2; Stef Sjuts, 1. FG's: 19-46-41%; FT's: 9-12-75%. TEAM RECORD: 7-4.

Brad Joens drives around a Rockford defender and lays a shot off the glass for two of his 14 points.

Mick Collins drives the baseline and scores during the 'Cats 28-point thrashing of Rockford. WSC will close out 1998 play on Saturday when they host St. Francis.

Tuesday Night Sports Action

Wayne boys pounded by Schuyler

The Wayne boys basketball team fell to 1-3 on the season with a 67-43 setback to Schuyler, Tuesday in Schuyler. Rocky Ruhl's troops got out to a very slow start as the host Warriors sprinted to a 17-4 first quarter lead and never looked back, leading 30-15 at the half and 49-29 after three.

"Changes will be made," Ruhl said. "We just can't score right now and we aren't doing a very good job of stopping the other team. Twenty-five turnovers did not help our cause." Ryan Dahl scored 11 points to lead Wayne with Joel Munson and Eric McLagan netting eight each. Jon Meyer tallied five and Dustin Schmeits along with John Magnuson scored three each. Klinton Keller and Ben Meyer each added two and Shane Baack, one.

Wayne was out-rebounded, 32-21 with McLagan and Dahl netting six boards each. Wayne will play at Wisner-Pilger on Friday.

Winside cage teams defeated by B-R

The Winside girls and boys basketball teams were defeated by Bancroft-Rosalie in action Tuesday night in Bancroft. Lisa Schroeder's girls were beaten, 42-32 while Terry Warner's boys team fell, 71-34.

In the girls tilt Winside started slowly with just two, first quarter points, but the host Panthers only led 19-14 at the half. "We played a great 32 minutes of intense defense but our shots just didn't fall," Schroeder said. "I was very pleased with the intensity because it has been lacking lately."

Julie Jacobsen led the Wildcats with 13 points and six rebounds while Shannon Bowers scored nine points and dished out three assists while notching four steals. Jessica Wade scored four points and had six boards and Brooke Boelter added three points. Stacy Wittler scored two and Keisha Rees, one for the 1-4 Wildcats.

Winside's boys found themselves behind by a bunch early as highly touted Bancroft-Rosalie rolled to a 39-13 halftime advantage. Jay Rademacher led the 2-2 Wildcats with nine points with Jason Longnecker adding five. Aaron Lessmann, Aaron Hoffmann and Zeke Brummels added four each while Adam Hoffman and Scott Marotz each scored three. Scott Wittler finished with four points.

Wakefield splits twinbill with Emerson

Wakefield split a girls/boys twinbill with Emerson-Hubbard on Tuesday in Emerson as Mike Clay's boys improved to 2-1 with a 71-55 thumping of the Pirates while the girls fell to 2-3 with a 42-34 setback. In the girls contest the Trojans trailed 22-15 at the half and couldn't mount a come-back against the Pirates in the second half.

"We had a hard time keeping Emerson off the boards and it proved to be the difference in the game," Wakefield coach Iris Mestl said. Maggie Brownell led the Trojans with 13 points with Amber Johnson adding five. Megan Brown, Annie Greve and Jennifer Roeber scored four apiece with Timarie Bebee and Kristin Brudigan adding two each. Greve hauled down a team-high eight rebounds.

Wakefield took a 42-30 lead on Emerson-Hubbard at the half and stretched the lead to 18 after three quarters of play at 59-41. "We were able to get some shots to fall," Clay said. "Our rebounding picked up as well."

Bj Hansen poured in 24 points to lead the winners with Ross Gardner scoring 14 points and hauling down 13 rebounds. Josh Peterson added a dozen points and grabbed a dozen rebounds and Chad Mackling scored 10. Justin Paulson finished with six points and Wyatt Brown, two.

Laurel defeats rated Randolph

The Laurel girls and boys basketball teams split with Randolph last Saturday night in Laurel with Susie Koranda's girls falling, 51-34 while Clayton Steele's boys upset the state's third-ranked Cardinals, 63-55.

The Lady Bears fell behind, 16-8 after the first quarter and never really challenged as Randolph outscored Laurel in each quarter. Laurel fell to 3-1 with the loss.

"Randolph has a very solid team," Koranda said. "They were aggressive with their trapping defense and were able to force many turnovers. We will use this game to continue working on our weaknesses and hopefully learn from it."

Kari Stewart led Laurel with 11 points with Kristen Hank adding eight and Brittany Burns, six. Melissa Thompson scored five and Amber Thompson, two while Melanie Thompson and Kate Harder scored one free throw each.

In the boys tilt, the game was tied at 24 at the half and Randolph led 41-38 after three quarters of play but the Bears went on a 25-14 scoring run in the fourth quarter to win by eight and improve to 3-0 on the season.

"This was a big game for so early in the season," coach Clayton Steele said. "The win put us in contention for the regular season conference crown. Randolph was a preseason favorite and still will be a strong factor. Laurel has two wins over two of the stronger contenders in the conference."

Sophomore Matt Schroeder led the winners with 21 points while Wyatt Erwin poured in 20. Nathan Beckman, another sophomore added 10 while Evan Smith scored eight and Nick Manganaro, four.

Randolph's Jim Backer led all scorers with 29 points. Wyatt Erwin led the Bears with eight caroms with Schroeder hauling down six and Smith, five.

Erwin also dished out a team-high 10 assists as he nearly pulled off the infamous triple double with double figures in scoring, assists and rebounds.

The Bears will play at Plainview on Friday night.

Wayne wrestlers place runner-up at West Point Invitational

The Wayne wrestling team placed runner-up at the West Point Invitational last Saturday for the second consecutive week.

And for the second consecutive week the Blue Devils finished runner-up to Gretna, this time by a 193-173 margin.

Pierce was third with 143.5 with David City Aquinas, fourth with 133 and West Point, fifth with 87.5.

Blair placed sixth with 52 and Oakland Craig, seventh with 42 followed by West Point Central Catholic with 23 and Fremont Bergan with 19. Fort Calhoun tallied five points.

Wayne had a total of 12 grapplers earn medals with 11 coming from the varsity scoring. Robbie Sturm wrestled at 171 pounds. His point total was not included in the team scoring but he could wrestle for a medal and he placed fourth.

The Blue Devils had eight qualify for the finals with Dan Nelson (119) and Josh Murtaugh (152) coming away with championships.

Nelson got revenge for last weekend's loss in the semifinals to Gretna's Dan Eledge with a 5-1 win in the finals while Murtaugh continued his superb start to his senior year by remaining undefeated with a 6-1 win over West Point's Jordan Johnson in the finals. Murtaugh was named the tournament's outstanding wrestler.

Lucas Munter (112), Jay Endicott (125), Gabe Hammer (140), Tim Zach (171), Jesse Rethwisch (189) and Casey Junck (215) each placed runner-up.

Jay Endicott got the award for the fastest pin with a 16 second stick in the second round.

"I thought the effort of our wrestlers was very good," Wayne coach John Murtaugh said. "We were more solid and we made improvements in the area of our intensity."

Murtaugh said his squad struggled a little in the medal round. "We need to work on finishing stronger in the tournament," he added. "Dan Nelson and Josh Murtaugh wrestled great. Dan avenged his only loss of the season and Josh won a weight class that was loaded with quality wrestlers."

Wayne will now turn its focus to this Saturday's annual Blue Devil Invite to be held at the high school beginning at 10 a.m. The finals will be wrestled under the spotlight.

Wakefield defeats Wausa in twinbill

The Wakefield girls and boys basketball teams eaked out a couple wins at Wausa last Friday in Wausa as Iris Mestl's girls improved to 2-2 on the season with a 40-39 come-from-behind victory while Mike Clay's boys improved to 1-1 with a 55-48 win.

Wakefield's girls trailed 24-20 at the half and 32-30 after three quarters of play before out-scoring the host team, 10-7 in the final stanza for the one point win.

"Even though we trailed most of the game the girls played tough defense and fought hard," Mestl said. "They kept their cool and focused on what we needed to do and it turned out great."

Maggie Brownell led the winners with 13 points with Megan Brown and Annie Greve adding six each. Jennifer Carson scored five and Amber Johnson, four. Kristin Brudigam, Jennifer Roeber and Kim Hattig tallied two apiece.

The Trojans boys team led 38-30 at the half and 44-36 after three quarters of play.

"Wausa has a big physical team," Clay said. "We were able to build an early lead and hang on."

Bj Hansen lit up the scoreboard for 24 points with Ross Gardner adding 13 and Josh Peterson, 11. Justin Paulson and Chad Mackling tallied three each and Nick White, one.

The Trojans will host Hartington on Thursday.

Wayne's Monica Novak drives to the hoop during the Blue Devils contest with Battle Creek last Thursday. Kallie Krugman is pictured clearing the way for Novak. Wayne fell to 0-3 with losses to Battle Creek and Schuyler at home.

Blue Devils 0-3 after pair of home defeats

The Wayne girls basketball team remained winless on the season last week with losses at home against Battle Creek and Schuyler.

John McLarnen's 0-3 Blue Devils were out-gunned by Battle Creek, 48-28 before falling to Schuyler last Friday, 69-55.

Wayne trailed the Bravettes by just seven points at the half, 18-11 but Battle Creek outscored the Blue Devils, 19-4 in the third quarter to put the game away.

"We had 30 turnovers in the game," McLarnen said. "That pretty much eliminated us from being an offensive threat. We were also out-rebounded, 31-21."

Leah Dunklau led Wayne with seven points while Sara Ellis added six and Kallie Krugman, four. Brooke Parker tallied three while Monica Novak, Katie Walton, Jessica Woehler and Amanda Maryott added two apiece.

Krugman and Ellis led Wayne on the boards with six caroms each.

Though the game was high-scoring against Schuyler, Wayne was outscored in each quarter, falling by 14 at 69-55 on Friday night.

"We cut the lead to seven with five minutes to play but Schuyler hit a three-pointer and then hit 10-of-12 free throw attempts to close out the game," McLarnen said.

Sara Ellis had a career-high 17 points to lead Wayne with Katie Walton also scoring a career-high Sara Ellis hauls down a rebound during first half action of Wayne's contest with Battle Creek.

12 points with Brooke Parker adding 10 and Monica Novak, five. Leah Dunklau and Kristin Hochstein scored four each and Kristin Wilson, two while Beth Loberg tallied one. Ellis also led the Blue Devils with seven rebounds with Hochstein and Krugman hauling down four each.

Allen gals lose twice

The Allen girls basketball team dropped a pair of games at the Emerson-Hubbard Tip-Off Classic last Thursday and Friday to Emerson-Hubbard, 44-37 and Homer, 49-32.

The Eagles trailed the Pirates, 20-16 at the half and 36-27 after three quarters of play.

Stacey Martinson and Rachel Stallbaum led Allen with 10 points each while Danielle Bertrand added seven. April Sachau and Melissa Wilmes finished with four points each with Shannon Koester and Alicia Liebsch each scored one.

"Danielle Bertrand came off the bench and grabbed 12 rebounds and scored seven points," coach Lori Koester said. "We need some of our more experienced players to step up their game and give us some leadership."

The Eagles fell to Homer on Friday night, 49-32. Allen got out of the gates slow as Homer built a 16-6 lead after one quarter of play and stretched it to 12 at half, 26-14.

"Our girls worked hard to the bitter end but there are a lot of little things we need to get better at," Koester said. "If we can take care of the ball that will make a big difference in the coming games for us."

Stacey Martinson scored 13 to lead Allen with April Sachau adding six and Alicia Liebsch, four. Shannon Koester tallied three with Danielle Bertrand, Jessica Bock and Rachel Stallbaum netting two apiece.

Winside captures mat meet

Winside's wrestling team captured first place at the North Bend Invitational last Saturday leaving coach Paul Sok all smiles.

"This is notably a very strong tournament," Sok said. "We wrestled pretty well."

Winside landed six in the finals and walked away with four championships.

Winside tallied 163 points to out-distance runner-up Wisner-Pilger with 136 and David City, 129.5. Wahoo was fourth with 104.5 and Columbus Lakeview, fifth with 92.

North Bend finished sixth with 90.5 and Tecumseh was seventh with 53.5 followed by Milford, 52, Arlington, 41 and North Bend's reserves, 18.

Jeremy Jaeger improved his season record to a perfect 9-0 in winning the 130-pound weight class while Ryan Krueger improved to 8-1 with a championship at 152.

Eric Vanosdall upped his season mark to 8-1 with a championship at 160 and perhaps the surprise of the tournament came at 125 pounds where Aaron Paulsen took first place while improving to 5-4.

Winside got runner-up performances from Justin Koch (8-1) at 119 and Levi Trautman (7-2) at 171 while Jared Jaeger (5-4) placed third at 103. Tom Wittler (7-4) finished third at 140 and Justin Bargstadt suffered his first loss of the year at 145 and placed third.

"I thought everyone pretty much wrestled up to their ability," Sok said. "There were three matches that slipped away in the course of the meet. I felt we had the potential to place 10 and there was the real possibility of having eight in the finals."

Sok said he was proud of his team's work ethic during the past week. "We didn't have a letdown in a single match during the finals and that allowed us to walk away with a win over some traditionally tough teams."

Wrestlers competing at North Bend was failing to place was Dustin Wade, Dustin Nelson, Justin Bleich and Sam Stroman.

In dual action last week Winside tied with Pender at 36 and the Wildcats thumped West Point Central Catholic, 70-12.

The Wildcats will compete at the Wayne Invitational on Saturday which gets underway at 10 a.m.

Bryan Scott Stroman, the son of Kimberly and Rodney Doffin of Hoskins and the late Scott Stroman, left for the Marine's 13 week basic training on Nov. 16.

Stroman's address is: Rec. Bryan S. Stroman, 36003 Midway Ave., 2nd Bn. Echo Co. PLT 2014, MCRD, San Diego, Calif. 92140-5596.

He is the grandson of Harold and Janice Loberg of Carroll, Richard and Clona Doffin of Hoskins and Elzada Stroman of Lincoln.

Dredging the lake

The Wayne Lake, located four and one-half miles north and two miles west of Wayne, was recently dredged to deepen the lake in some areas. KAS Pond & Lagoon out of Garden City, Kan. completed the work. A 60 foot reach Linkbelt backhoe was mobilized to the lake. Seymour Lake was deepened between 14-16 feet and a portion of the main lake was also deepened to 16 feet. The work will accomplish three objectives: 1) Deter winter kill of fish; 2) Keep moss and algae from growing and 3) Allow for deep fishing close to shore. According to Scott Brummond, Local President, new memberships will be available soon for the 1999 season. They may be purchased at Doeschers' Appliance or by contacting Brummond at 375-4161.

Myth of the Mayo Clinic Diet Still Persists

According to Jennifer Nelson, a registered dietitian at May Clinic, "There is no Mayo Clinic Diet." Versions of the diet promise miraculous weight loss over a short period of time by eating lots of eggs or grapefruit and limiting carbohydrates such as cereal and grains.

According to Ms. Nelson, "These kinds of recommendations can be downright dangerous for some people. We tailor plans to include eating and exercise tips as well as suggestions for overall good eating habits."

On tumultuous seas Stock market tips for safer sailing

Short of a crystal ball, thoughtful planning may be the best advice for navigating your investments over the rough seas of recent volatile markets.

Wide market swings, like those of late, provoke many to question their investment decisions. The decisions of whether you should stay the course, drop anchor or head for calmer waters needs to be considered with your long-term financial goals in mind. And, what better time to check your investment compass than right now as you gather various year-end financial statements for tax preparation.

If you find your portfolio in rocky waters, don't despair. Listen to what the experts have to say. Investment veterans generally offer three strategies for smoother sailing.

- Long-term perspective
- Investment diversification
- Regular investing

Maintaining a long-term perspective

Anyone sailing toward financial freedom needs to remember that this is a long-term trip that can have many ups and downs along the way. However, investors should be less concerned with short-term volatility and more aware of the value of a long-term focus.

As measured by recognized indices, such as the Dow Jones Industrial Average and the Standard and Poor's (S&P) 500, the value of the stock market has continued to go up over the long term, outperforming other types of investments and outpacing inflation. (Of course, past performance is no guarantee of future results.)

Diversifying your investments

Volatile markets don't necessarily mean it's time to avoid investments in stocks and bonds altogether. Although there are degrees of inherent risk with all investments, diversification can balance your investment portfolio, allowing you to reduce risk associated with a particular security.

What mix of investments makes sense for you? Should you decrease your position in equities, own more bonds or increase cash? Each situation differs depending on you and your financial goals. That's why it's a good idea to consult a qualified financial advisor. He or she can recommend appropriate investments that match your long-term and short-term goals.

Make regular investing your top priority

Regardless of the financial course you chart, an excellent way to accumulate dollars for a future goal is through regular saving and investment. Fueling your investment with the same amount of money at regular intervals over time can soften the effects of market volatility. Treat investing as part of your monthly expense plan, along with your car expenses, rent or mortgage payments and utility bills.

As inflation increases, even modestly, give yourself an annual "pay" raise by increasing the amount you invest.

But, remember, that regular investing is a long-term investment strategy and does not assure a profit or protect against loss in a declining market. Since a plan of regular investing involves continued investment in securities regardless of fluctuating price levels, you should consider your financial ability to continue purchases through periods of low price levels.

Regular investing can also increase the effect of compounding. This means your savings can multiply faster because you have the potential to earn money both on your initial investment and the earnings accumulated from prior periods.

Over the years, you can continue to earn money on the money you've invested and on the money your investment has earned. An easy way to pay yourself first is to have automatic, prearranged bank drafts which go directly into your investment account.

Chances are, no single investment can satisfy your need for high return and minimum risk. But by diversifying among different asset classes—use short-term investments for short-term goals, and long-term investments for long-term goals and objectives—you can achieve a more comfortable balance of risk and return.

More importantly, developing a financial plan and checking it regularly better your chances of reaching port on time and with your investment cargo intact.

Information Clearing House meeting held

The NRICHN (Regional Information Clearing House for Northeast Nebraska) committee met Dec. 10 at Providence Medical Center.

NRICHN's purpose is to develop an agency information database using World Wide Web. Member organizations represented this month included Providence Medical Center, R Way of Wayne, Stepping Stones Preschool, Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce, Wayne Community Housing Development Corporation, Wayne Head Start, Wayne Police Department, Wayne Public Library, and Wayne State College.

The focus this month was application to the Community Technology Fund for a grant to set up the NRICHN project. Dr. Jean Karlen addressed the group regarding the steps to be taken and decisions to be made for the application.

Dialogue included design of the database, the information gathering process and project budget. Phil Lewis, Multi-media Specialist for WSC, will assist the project with Web Site development. Both his and Dr. Karlen's contributions as consultants will provide in-kind match for the budget. Anticipated direct expenses include information gathering costs, Web Page design and initial data input, with minimal supplies and equipment.

The group anticipates involving approximately 500 agencies from 13 communities in the region surrounding Wayne. Agency listings will provide basic information plus provide a link to the agency homepage for further details.

Under this proposal there will be no initial cost to agencies to be set up on the database. On-going updates and added agencies will involve a nominal fee; costs will be contained by assessing the WSC Social Science Research Center for project management. Initial agency data collection is scheduled for March of April of 1999.

The NRICHN committee meets monthly at Providence Medical Center and is open to all community resource providers interested in networking to create an electronically stored database of resource information to be maintained for one-stop access to anyone in the region.

Interested parties may contact Sandy Bartling at 375-5529, Linda Anderson at 375-5266 or Carol Baier at 375-5741.

The next meeting will be Friday, Jan. 8, 1999 at 8:30 a.m. in the Chapin Room at PMC.

Amy Paysen is congratulated by Dr. Ken Halsey, Interim WSC President after being honored by Who's Who Among College Students.

academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and potential for continued success.

His national Who's Who program has annually honored outstanding campus leaders for their scholastic and community achievements. In addition to local and national publicity and recognition, each recipient's name will be published in the 1998 edition of "Who's Who Among American Universities and Colleges".

They join an elite group of students selected from more than 1,900 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign nations.

Those attending the Thursday, Dec. 10 ceremony were welcomed by Frank Teach, Wayne State College Student Center director. The students were presented a certificate by Dr. Ken Halsey, Wayne State College interim president.

Campus nominating committees and editors of the annual directory included the names of these students based on their

Kneiff travels to Denver

Matthew Kneiff, a freshman from Newcastle, represented Wayne State College's Alpha Lambda Chapter at a national conference in Denver recently.

Kneiff is this year's president of the ALD campus organization which is a freshman honorary society. In order to become a member of ALD, a freshman must have a minimum grade point average of 3.5 on a 4 point scale.

"Going to Denver was a great experience. Sometimes new ideas need to be brought into organizations to make them successful," Kneiff said. He noted the national conference has had an outstanding influence on the WSC Chapter.

Kneiff said he met people at the conference who he plans to stay in touch with via e-mail. He noted the ideas exchanged at the conference, and via e-mail since the conference have been incorporated by chapters across the nation. He said he plans to incorporate some of those ideas in the WSC Chapter.

Kneiff is the son of Eddie Moran and Romaine Moran of Newcastle.

Davis recognized

Will Davis was recently honored by the Wayne School Board for his eight years of service to the Wayne Community Schools. The board held a public coffee in his honor and presented him a plaque for his years of dedication.

Acetaminophen Improves Pain Relief From Narcotics

Acetaminophen (Tylenol, Tempra) is one of the most widely prescribed over-the-counter medicines in the US. Common uses include reduction of fever in children and relief of mild pain. Some people think of it as an aspirin substitute. As a pain reliever acetaminophen has been regarded as being less effective when compared to aspirin, ibuprofen and other nonsteroidal antiinflammatory medicines. While that may be true when the drug is used alone, new research indicated that acetaminophen may be useful in making narcotic pain relievers more potent. Researchers in New Zealand recently discovered that patients who received acetaminophen along with morphine following bone surgery did better. Periods of patient-controlled pain relief were shorter. Patients who got both drugs were more satisfied than were those who received morphine alone.

Double ring wedding unites Wayne couple

David Lee Koch and Julie Ann Bloom, both of Wayne, were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony on Nov. 21, 1998 at Praise Assembly of God Church in Wayne.

Pastor Mark Steinbach performed the ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Loren and Janice Ellis of Wayne and Cynthia Koch of Albuquerque, N.M., who was escorted by D. Jennings, also of Albuquerque.

Music for the ceremony was provided by sound system recorded tapes by Scott Metzler of Wayne, sound engineer. They included "Answered Prayer" which was played when the bride's sons, Schyler and Nolan Bloom, lit the candles, "Seasons of Our Love" and "Giving My Best." A special solo, "Come Into the King's Chambers," was sung by Robin Steinbach.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, fashioned and made her wedding gown with an empire waist, rounded neckline and long sleeves of white satin brocade with lace trim. The ankle length gored skirt of crepe was accented at the back with a peplum of satin brocade and a big satin bow with three satin roses attached.

Her hair piece was fashioned of satin roses, tulle and ribbons attached to a hair clip. She carried a bouquet of silk roses, ivy, tulle and gold and satin ribbons, which she created. She wore a crystal necklace, a gift from her sister from the Czech Republic.

Carol Fuoss of Wayne was bridesmaid. She wore a steel length dress of wine satin brocade with a white lace overlay on the shoulders. She carried a bouquet of wine colored satin roses with ivy, tulle, satin ribbons, also created by the bride.

Aaron Robbins of Wayne was the groom's best man.

The men wore black double-breasted suits, white shirts and wine colored ties, which the bride created.

Lisa Fuoss of Wayne was flower girl.

Ushering guests were Roger Fuoss and Larry Grone of Wayne.

Lois Spencer of Wayne attended the guest book. Gifts were received by Carissa Arickx of Wayne.

Mr. and Mrs. Koch

Wayne. Guest greeter was Jason Fuoss of Wayne.

A reception was held in the church fellowship room.

Kathy Winter and Kathleen Grone served the wedding cake which was baked decorated by Robin Steinbach.

Roxie Sievers and Debra Arickx served coffee and punch and assisted with the cake.

Bob Winter was photographer and Jacki Metzler was in charge of the video recording of the wedding and reception.

The bride is a missions coordinator for the Assembly of God Church, recently returning from a week trip to Lima, Peru, a home school teacher and provides assistance for Exchange Students in the area.

The groom is a carpenter and is employed by the Church Builders currently constructing the new church in Wayne.

The couple will make their home in Wayne.

Engagements

Raske-Runestad

Anna Raske and Eric Runestad, both of Minneapolis, Minn., are planning an Aug. 21, 1998 wedding at Bethlehem Lutheran Church in Minneapolis.

The bride-to-be is the daughter of Lee and Norma Raske of Marshall, Minn. She is a graduate of Marshall High School and Concordia College, Moorhead, Minn. She is currently employed by the YWCA in Minneapolis.

Her fiancé is the son of Dr. Cornell and the late Diana Runestad of Wayne. He is also a graduate of Concordia College in Moorhead and is presently the Executive Secretary of the Minnesota Music Educators Association.

Card/fax shower is planned for Gladys Tolman

A card/fax shower is being held for the birthday of Gladys V. Woodward Tolman by her family. She was born Dec. 25, 1903.

Residents are invited to send her a card to Mrs. Walter Tolman, Wood Bridge Home #120, 913 Highway 34, East, Plattsmouth, Neb. 68048, or fax greetings to: 402-296-5328.

Tolmans lived in Wayne around 1960. Mr. Tolman worked at the Northeast Experiment Station. Mrs. Tolman worked for Dr. Brown at the Vet Clinic while living in Wayne. The couple retired to Plattsmouth in 1974-75. Mr. Tolman died in March, 1997.

Gladys Tolman's children are: Hubert and Nancy Tolman of Dubach, La.; Marjorie Papenluss of Midland, Mich.; Ralph and Anna Tolman of Savannah, Ga.; and Caroline and Larry Bauer of Plattsmouth. She has nine grandchildren, 15 great grandchildren, and one great-great grandchild.

Opportunities are given for saving for college education

On Aug. 5, 1997, President Clinton signed the Taxpayer Relief Act of 1997 (TRA 97). Some of the changes were in IRAs, capital gains, estate tax, short-term hedge selling, college education saving and child tax credit.

This column covers the legislation that provides helpful opportunities for saving toward a college education through an IRA, tax credits and deductions and a new child tax credit.

EDUCATION IRA
 Effective in 1998, the new Education IRA allows for up to a $500 in annual, non-deductible contributions for a child.

Taxpayers may fund an Education IRA on behalf of a child if their adjusted gross income (AGI) does not exceed $110,000 for single contributors and $160,000 for married couples who file jointly. The amount taxpayers can contribute to the Education IRA begins to phase out with increasing income at $95,000 for single taxpayers and $150,000 for married couples filing jointly. Income derived from contributions is tax-deferred until withdrawn and tax-free if used to pay for certain education expenses incurred by the beneficiary. The eligible education expenses include tuition, fees, tutoring, books, supplies, and equipment.

The Education IRA beneficiary does not have to be related to the contributing taxpayer. Contributions may be made to the Education IRA until the beneficiary reaches age 18. The money must be withdrawn by the time the beneficiary reaches age 30. Any remaining assets can be rolled over to another child.

If the Education IRA funds are used for anything other than the eligible education expenses, income taxes and a 10 percent penalty will be due. The exceptions to the penalty apply in the event of the child's death or disability or if the child receives a scholarship or similar educational funding.

Contributions to the Education IRA are not associated with other retirement IRA contributions.

Education Tax Credit
 Cooperative Extension

Karen Wermers and Dixon Coum

There are three types of new education tax credits effective in 1998. A tax credit is an amount that can be subtracted directly off your tax bill. For example, if your income tax bill is $3,000 and your credit is $1,000, you will need to pay $2,000 in income taxes. The recipient of the educational financial support has to be someone claimed on the taxpayers return.

Hope Scholarship Income Tax Credit

Taxpayers may claim a Hope Scholarship Income Tax Credit of up to $1,500 per student during the first two years of college. The credit phases out with increasing income for single taxpayers with an AGI of $40,000 to $50,000 and married taxpayers with an AGI of $80,000 to $110,000. Both the Education IRA and the Hope Scholarship cannot be distributed the same year.

Lifetime Learning Income Tax Credit for Parents

Parents of college juniors, seniors, or graduate students may receive a Lifetime Learning Tax Credit of up to $1,000 (20 percent of the first $5,000 in expenses) through 2000.

Lifetime Learning Income Tax Credit for Working Adults

Working adults may use the Lifetime Learning Tax Credit for classes to improve their employment skills. Single individuals earning more than $50,000 in AGI and married couples with more than $100,000 in AGI are not eligible for the Lifetime Learning Tax Credit.

Tax Deductible Student Loan Interest

Also new and going into effect in 1998 is that interest on student loans will be tax-deductible up to $1,000 per year. The tax-deductible amount rises to $2,500 by the year 2001.

Child Tax Credit

The new tax credit per child for the 1998 year is $400. The credit is limited to children under age 17, and for single taxpayers with an AGI below $75,000 and below $110,000 for married couples filing jointly. Married couples filing separately are not eligible for a full credit after $55,000. The tax credit is phased out by $50 for each additional $1,000 in AGI.

Briefly Speaking

Roving Gardeners hold Christmas luncheon

WAYNE — Nine members of the Roving Gardeners met for a Christmas luncheon at The Max on Dec. 10. A short meeting was held and Esther Hansen was admitted as a member.

The afternoon was spent playing cards. A gift exchange followed. The Jan. 14 meeting will be with Joye Magnuson.

Klick and Klatter meets at Riley's

AREA — Seven members of the Klick and Klatter Club met Dec. 8 at Riley's for lunch.

The program books for next year were handed out and discussed by Viola Meyer. The hostess gift was given to Pauline Lutt.

Roll call was answered about past Christmas happenings. Loreene Gildersleeve gave a report on the first Christmas Program at LaPorte in Wayne County in the year of 1880.

Joyce Niemann gave a reading by Peter Marshall. Marcella Larson gave a reading about Christmas.

Viola Meyer conducted a game in a puzzle about many different Christmas songs.

A gift exchange was also held.

T & C Club holds final meeting

WAYNE — The T & C Club, which organized Feb. 11, 1972 in the Frances Nichols home, held its last meeting at the Wayne Care Centre on Dec. 10.

Due to age and health, there were just four of the original members attending. The afternoon was spent playing five hundred. Marjorie Bennett and Muriel Lindsay had high scores. Adeline Sieger was a guest. High scorer for the year was Marjorie Bennett.

Frances Nichols was hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Wieseler

Wieselers to be honored for 40th anniversary

Roger and Claryce Wieseler, formerly of Hartington, will celebrate their 40th wedding anniversary on Dec. 27, 1998.

An open-house will be held from 2-4 p.m. at Bruno's in South Yankton.

Claryce Nelsen and Roger Wieseler were married Dec. 29, 1958 at Holy Trinity Church in Hartington.

They have three sons, Morgan, Mark and Monte.

The couple requests no gifts.

Cards may be sent to them at 89758 554 Ave., Crofton, Neb. 68730-3013.

ELCA Women have Christmas luncheon

Our Savior Women of the ELCA held a Christmas Potluck Luncheon on Dec. 9 with approximately 50 in attendance, including three pastors and guests.

Table devotions were given by Pastor Bill Koerber.

President Eva Nelson welcomed the group and thanked Lowe and Tabitha Circles who were hostesses and in charge of decorating with the angel theme.

Rebekah Circle is in charge of nursery cleaning in December and Hannah Bible Study Circle is responsible for January.

Wayne Care Centre has asked if the young people of the congregation could again visit on the last Tuesday of December. Madge Bruffat will be in charge of the Dec. 29 program. Phyllis Rahn, Rodella Wacker and Helga Nedergaard will take care of refreshments for the residents.

Visitation Group met Dec. 2 with 16 visitors. Pastor Bill and Pastor Russell present. A total of 128 crosses had been made and were given to shut-in members and members over 83 years of age. There were also 132 Christmas cards and one baby card signed. Forty-five members were visited.

Grace Lutheran Evening Circle hosts guest night

Grace Lutheran LWML Evening Circle guest night was held on Dec. 8 with 16 guests and 17 members present.

Mary Lou Erxleben, president, called the meeting to order. Lanora Sorensen, Christian growth leader, read the Christmas story according to St. Matthew, following with a prayer.

The Grace Lutheran Cookie Walk was held Dec. 12 and members were encouraged to both donate and purchase cookies.

Election of officers was held and the following new officers were installed by Pastor Anderson: President: Lorraine Johnson, Vice-President: Fauneil Bennett, Secretary: Valores Mordhorst, Treasurer: Jan Casey.

Jan Casey thanked all who donated to the successful Bethesda toilet project. These items will be shipped to the Bethesda Home in Watertown, Wis., after the first of the year.

Cookbooks still available

"Are you looking for the perfect Christmas gift?" asked Peg Webster of Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne. "If so, an Our Savior cookbook may be just what you are looking for!"

Our Savior Cookbooks are $11 each. The cookbook features over 500 recipes from congregational members. Proceeds from the sale of the cookbooks go toward renovation of the Sunday School rooms.

To purchase a cookbook, contact the Church office at 375-2899 or Peg Webster at 375-1438.

Cookbooks are available while the supply lasts.

MINNIE CARLSON HOSTESS

The Pleasant Dell Club met on Dec. 10 in the home of Minnie Carlson. Nine members answered roll call with "The Christmas Program I remember."

A Christmas gift will be given to a resident at the Wakefield Nursing Home.

Hazel Hank and Betty Johanson presented a short Christmas program and Christmas carols were sung.

Secret Sisters were revealed with a Christmas gift. Secret Sisters were drawn for the coming year. Serving months for the coming year were drawn.

Coffee and Christmas cookies were enjoyed at the end of the afternoon.

Opal Carlson will host the Jan. 14 meeting at 2 p.m.

CONTRIBUTE TO LIONS PROJECT

The Platte Valley Chapter Club, which has several members from Wakefield, has donated $200 to the Lions Club annual Christmas Project to assist needy families in the Wakefield area.

Each year the project provides food, blankets and new toys to around a dozen families and more than 40 children.

Taking part in the presentation were Larry Clay and Mark Victor, treasurer and secretary of the Lions Club, Ted Tullberg, vice president of the Corvette Club and Brian Seiffert of Omaha, president of the Platte Valley Group.

A year ago, the Lions were able to not only help several needy families but also distribute small food baskets to a number of single member households.

A number of groups locally have assisted with the Christmas project and the Lions welcome and appreciate the assistance.

For health and safety reasons, the Lions can no longer accept used toys or clothing. Used toys may be given to the Goodwill or similar organizations, and local church quilt groups welcome used clothing.

EMPLOYEE OF THE YEAR

Bruce Luhr of Seward and a Wakefield High School alumnus is one of two people to receive recognition as a Nebraska State Patrol Employee of the Year.

Luhr has been with the State

Patrol since 1984 and is the Automated Identification System (AFIS) Administrator.

Luhr has demonstrated his expertise, particularly in the area of Crimes of Homicide, according to the Nebraska State Patrol. When Luhr was first with the State Patrol he was assigned a position in this area and live at Wayne for around five years before moving to Seward.

Implementing the AFIS System has proved his untiring work ethic and excellent attitude. As a result, over 700 identifications have been made in all manner of crime.

The Nebraska State Patrol is proud to name Bruce Luhr as an outstanding employee; Patrol officials stated, Bruce is the son of Mrs. Gina Luhr, Polis of Wayne and the late Clarence Luhr.

PROMOTION

The Mutual of Omaha Companies have announced the promotion of Devon C. Fischer to vice president of Information Services Administrative Services. His new responsibilities include information service budgeting, training and capacity planning and management of the Company's Year 2000 project.

Fischer joined Mutual in 1976 as a computer programmer. Since that time, he has held a variety of positions in the computer data services area, including programmer analyst, production supervisor, production manager, manager of group information systems, assistant vice president and director and most recently first vice president of Information Service Year 2000 Support.

Fischer is in the Life Management Institute and has earned his Chartered Financial Consultant designation. He was awarded a bachelor's degree from Midland Lutheran College in 1976 and graduated from Wakefield High School.

For the last three years, he has served as treasurer of the Cub Scout Pack 435. He also is a previous vice president of the St. Timothy's Lutheran Church Council.

Fischer and his family reside in Omaha. He is the son of Melvin and Margaret Fischer of rural Emerson.

The Wayne State College Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, the International Social Sciences honorary, recently initiated 11 students. Wes Blecke, a junior from Wakefield, was among those students.

The honorary encourages excellence in the social sciences, social service and student support and leadership development among its members.

Pi Gamma Mu has around 30 members at WSC. Some of the programs that Pi Gamma Mu participate in are homecoming festivities, being a sponsor for the Spring senate and presidential debates and a yearly book sale fund raiser for regional and national conventions.

NURSING DEGREE

Jennifer Neal, a Wakefield graduate, will be among the graduates from Bryan School of Nursing in Lincoln. The school will hold commencement for 31 seniors on Friday, Dec. 18 at 5:30 p.m. at Southview Baptist Church in Lincoln.

Jennifer is the class president and the daughter of Nancy and Merlin Sebulj of rural Wakefield.

Bryan School of Nursing is a three-year, diploma-granting school associated with Bryan IGH Center East. Graduates are eligible to take the state examination to become registered nurses.

MATH OLYMPICS ACTIVITY

Wayne State student, Ruth Aschoff, is working with a group of Wakefield second graders learning about measurement through a Math Olympics game. Participating were Leonard Bega, Chelsea Sherer, Erin Johnson, Aaron Kaulman and Jesse Dutton.

This was a culminating activity by the WSC students for their clinical experience in the Wakefield School, according to Mrs. Janyce McQuistate, one of the second grade teachers.

The WSC students have been assisting not only the two second grade classes but also the fifth grade class. Jan Johnson is the other second grade teacher and Terri Samuelson teaches the fifth grade students involved.

Nebraska livestock featured at show

Whether or not Nebraska livestock breeders travel to the annual National Western Stock Show in Denver, Colo., they can still participate in this international event.

The Nebraska Department of Agriculture is collecting promotional brochures and videos from Nebraska producers for display during the Jan. 9-14, 1999 show.

Breeders interested in sending printed materials in English and/or Spanish, must do so by Jan. 5, 1999. Videos should be submitted by Dec. 22, 1998.

The National Western Stock Show draws livestock buyers from around the world to Denver, Colo., each January. By sponsoring a booth at this show, the Department of Agriculture promotes Nebraska's livestock industry and helps breeders make key contacts with interstate and international buyers.

The Department's booth (stadium booth #52) will display and distribute breeder promotional brochures and use a television/VCR to show promotional videos.

For more information on this promotional opportunity, producers should contact the Department's Ag Promotion and Development Division at 1-800-422-6692. Materials may be mailed to Mr. Chris Buechle, Nebraska Department of Agriculture, 301 Centennial Mall South, P.O. Box 94947, Lincoln, Neb. 68509.

Reading inspirational stories

During this second week of Advent, I've been reading a little booklet called "The Greatest Christmas Ever," inspirational insights for the holiday. "I want to share some of the stories."

The African boy listened carefully as the teacher explained why it is that Christians give presents to each other on Christmas day. "The gift is an expression of our joy over the birth of Jesus and our friendship for each other," she said.

When Christmas Day came, the boy brought to the teacher a "sea shell of lustrous beauty."

"Where did you ever find such a beautiful shell?" the teacher asked as she gently fingered the gift.

The youth told her that there was only one spot where such extraordinary shells could be found. When he named the place, a certain bay several miles away, the teacher was left speechless.

"Why, why, it's gorgeous, wonderful, but you shouldn't have gone all that way to get a gift for me."

His eyes brightening, the boy answered, "Long walk part of gift."

The second vignette states that there was a lady in the state hospital. She carried the card a friend of ours sent her in a little draw-string bag and during the entire Christmas season she would stop people and say, "Look at my Christmas card. The lady I worked for sent it to me. I'm not forgotten." We heard later that card, the only one she received was the beginning of her recovery.

"Do you know anyone in our local state hospital?"

The story is told of a little boy whose family was very poor. He received no gifts at Christmastime, but he spent what time he could looking in store windows at the pretty things other little boys could have, but he couldn't.

"One day he was run over by a car and taken to a hospital. One of the nurses brought him a toy, a troop of soldiers. As he touched them, he said, "There isn't any glass between."

In an orphanage in Bucharest, Romania, a boy named Ionut was celebrating his 12th birthday. On this day, a team of volunteers from Samaritan's Purse had come to the orphanage bearing gifts of love through Operation Christmas Child. The shoe-box gift, filled with toys and other items, was the only gift he received that year. When someone asked which gift he liked best, he smiled and answered "Everything!"

You can call World Vision International Gifts of Joy and Hope at 888-511-6511 and give gifts like polio vaccine, goats, reading lessons, seeds, and food in the Third World.

You can take an angel from the local angel tree and buy gifts for a child of a prisoner. Ours was a 6-year-old named Patsi who specified Scooby Doo ear muffs!

Seven dollars to Orphan Grain Train will pay for shipping, medical supplies, clothes, etc.

Norfolk Rescue Mission has been inundated with requests, as has the Salvation Army. And the Red Cross funds are depleted with Hurricane Mitch.

There's still time to practice the true meaning of Christmas gifts, including "a long walk."

Farm Bureau leaders attend convention

Several area residents were among those attending the 1998 Nebraska Farm Bureau Convention held Dec. 6-9 in Kearney.

Voting delegates Paul Stewart, Verlan Hingst and Dale Jackson and Jackson's wife Lori, all of Allen represented Dixon County.

Convention speakers included Governor-elect Mike Johanns, who announced his selection of Merlyn Carlson of Lodgepole as his choice for state director of agriculture.

In remarks to Farm Bureau members Johanns expressed his appreciation for receiving Farm Bureau's first-ever endorsement in the race for governor. Johanns said as governor he would "stand up for agriculture" and would be a "strong advocate for good, sound ag policy" at the national level.

Delegate action at the convention included additions to Farm Bureau's policies on how agricultural land should be valued. Delegates gave their support to creation of a new class of land specifically designated as recreational land.

Currently, agricultural land sold at premium prices for recreational purposes drives up the valuations for similar land used for agriculture.

The Farm Bureau delegates also urged that legislation be passed to remove the requirement that counties must be zoned before they can implement Nebraska's greenbelt provisions. Greenbelt laws allow land near cities to carry two valuations: one if the land is used for agricultural purposes and a second valuation when the land is not used for agriculture.

The Hi-Raters 4-H Club met Nov. 8 at the Columbus Federal Savings Bank.

The meeting was called to order by President Karissa Dorcey.

The club set the yearly goals for the group. They are 1) We will have a bake sale on Feb. 13, 2) We will have a road clean-up at the April meeting, 3) Project completion will be 90 percent and 4) Herdsmanship will maintain 100 points.

Each individual will have goal of 100 percent for attendance at meetings.

Karissa Dorcey, Katie Osten and Emilie Osten will organize the bake sale.

At the January meeting, Jack Dorcey will give a speech. Karissa Dorcey and Kate Osten will give a speech about parliamentary procedure.

After the meeting, the members and parents attended Achievement Night.

The next meeting will be Sunday, Jan. 10, 1999 at 7 p.m. at Columbus Federal Savings Bank. Brett Dorcey, News reporter

Buffer strip program is now available in Nebraska

Buffer strips are an effective means of reducing levels of sediments and other pollutants in surface water. The Nebraska Buffer Strip Program (BSP) was created by the Nebraska Legislature in 1998. The program is intended to encourage landowners to establish buffer strips along vulnerable surface water resources. Funding for the program is derived from a fee assessed on all pesticides registered for use in Nebraska.

Eligible Areas: Land eligible for enrollment in this program is cropland adjacent to perennial streams, intermittent streams or permanent bodies of water or existing buffer strips established after January 1, 1996 along these areas.

Payment Rates: On dryland cropland that is not enrolled in the CRP, the payment shall equal 120% of the CRP soil rental plus five dollars minus any payment from any other source. In no case may the payment from all sources exceed $150 per acre.

On dryland cropland that is enrolled in CRP, the payment shall equal 20 percent of the CRP soil rental rate. In no case may the payment from all sources exceed $150 per acre.

On irrigated cropland, whether enrolled in the CRP and/or any other program, the payment shall equal the CRP soil rental rate multiplied by an adjustment factor for that Nebraska Ag Statistics reporting district minus payments received from any other source. Rate adjustment factors for the districts are Northwest - 4.1, North - 3.0, Northeast - 1.7, Central - 2.5, East - 1.7, Southwest - 3.4, South - 2.8, and Southeast - 2.0. In no case may the payment from all sources exceed $150 per acre.

Process: Landowners interested in applying should contact their county natural resources Service (NRCS) and work on tentative plans for filter strip locations.

Landowners should submit completed application to the local NRD. The NRD and the Nebraska Department of Agriculture consider the applications. If approved, the landowner enters into a formal agreement with the local NRD and establishes the buffer strip according to NRCS requirements.

Deadlines: Initial applications for 1999 must be submitted to the local NRD no later than January 1, 1999. Following this initial enrollment period, applications may be submitted at any time.

For more information on this program, and its general terms and agreements, contact your local Natural Resources Conservation Service Office.

All was certainly appreciated. God's Blessings to all. Edna Hansen, Alice Muller, Clifford and Leoma Baker, Erwin Baker, Fred Von Seggern.

THANK YOU first of all for all the many prayers before my surgery - God was listening as I am doing well. Thank you so much also for all of the cards, flowers, balloons, phone calls, visits and food that I received after my surgery. Also thank you to the faculty and staff of the Wayne Middle School for bringing us supporters for so many nights. I was overwhelmed by the kindness of everyone and feel lucky to work in such a giving community. God has surely blessed me in many ways. A special thanks to Brad for being my pillar of strength, and to present and past players and coaches you helped so much! Joyce Hoskins
