

Community helps Kudrna family

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

As if work and family are not enough of a burden some days for the average family, try having to cope with leukemia. This is what Marci Kudrna and her family have had to do since they found out last fall that she has an acute form of the disease.

With what appeared to be a severe cold last October that refused to go away, Marci went to Providence Medical Center with a very sore and swollen throat, a throat so swollen that it made it hard for her to breathe. Thus began their lives turning upside down. Tests were taken and Dr. Felber at Providence Medical Center referred her to Dr. Kahanic of Sioux City who practices in hematology and oncology there.

"Dr. Kahanic started her on a regiment of pills for 45 days prior to her scheduled time of starting chemotherapy. The pills were a drug that doctors have started giving to their patients to prepare them for chemo," said her husband Scott.

Marci was supposed to start chemo right after Christmas but a severe infection postponed this from happening. An infection of the port (a tube inserted into Marci's chest so she would not have to be poked with needles all over) forced her to go to the Bryan Memorial emergency room in Lincoln. Dr. Kahanic wanting her closer to treat her is what brought her back to Sioux City.

"On Christmas Eve we left

Lincoln and went to Sioux City where she was treated for her infection from Christmas Day to New Year's Day. After New Year's she has received full chemotherapy treatments for 24 hours a day for seven days. She is actually receiving a dual chemo process of the full chemo plus another of one time a day for three different days. One week on and three weeks off of chemo is the procedure being used on her," Scott said.

Marci will probably have to have another three to four times of receiving chemo one week on treatments and three weeks off. She can go home when her blood count gets better and she needs no more blood or platelets; hopefully around the first of February.

Scott said that Marci is feeling better and her prognosis is good. The doctors tell them that her cancer should go into remission but he said doctors never say that cancer is cured, just that it is in remission. He said that Marci has talked to others that have been in remission 15 to 16 years from the same kind of leukemia and they are doing fine. This type of leukemia responds well to chemo.

As the couple looks back on the turn of events, there were tell tale signs prior to her throat swelling such as she noticed bruises on her that couldn't be explained. Unexplained bruising is a classic symptom of leukemia. Scott said another symptom of the disease was her skin looked as though she had measles because her platelets were bursting under her skin.

"Marci had a bad year last year, she broke her leg the first of March and was off work and now this, she has been through a lot,"

Scott said, "We both have supportive bosses, though. She can pick up where she left off with her work at the Hair Studio in Wayne."

Scott remarked at how expenses have added up for them throughout this ordeal. Expenses such as trying to meet their insurance deductible, medicine for Marci as she is on a lot of it, out-of-pocket expenses for gas and food needed for the drive back and forth to Sioux City. The benefit should really help. Scott and Marci thank everyone who had a part in making this a very special time.

Larry Emanuel, a friend of the couple from their church, Calvary Bible Free Church, and a helper in organizing their recent benefit, remarked at how supportive the community has been. He said the pork benefit dinner that was served last Sunday at the Wayne Auditorium was a joint effort of the community, AAL Branches 1470 and 9609, and Lutheran Brotherhood Branch 8212. Over 65 businesses donated items to the Silent Auction held during the benefit, with Lutheran Brotherhood and AAL supplementing funds. There were around 750 plates of food served during the benefit so that means that between 750 to 800 people came to the benefit.

"Over $8,000 was raised from the benefit with AAL and Lutheran Brotherhood adding to that amount with their supplemental funds. Chartwells Food Service, located on the Wayne State College campus, a former employer of Scott, prepared the pressed pork that farmers had donated. He said Chartwells was very instrumental in

WSC program recognized

The Nebraska School at the Center Project at Wayne State College has been recognized by the American Association of State Colleges and Universities (AASCU) as one of 100 programs nationwide to receive the "Best Practices at Public Colleges and Universities" designation. This elite group was announced at the AASCU National Conference in San Francisco.

The Association released, Commitment and Success: A Compendium of Best Practices at AASCU Institutions, to illustrate that many state colleges and universities have responded to calls from policy makers and others for more efficiency and accountability.

During the Association's annual meeting, presidents and chancellors of public institutions were presented with an agenda for action that asked them to ensure that they could assess the quality of their educational product, that their institutions were serving the communities and regions where

Board appoints Stearns president

The Nebraska State College System Board of Trustees unanimously approved the appointment of Dr. Sheila M. Stearns to the position of Wayne State College President.

Stearns becomes the College's tenth president, and first woman to lead the northeast Nebraska four-year institution. She will assume the office on July 1. In addition to her duties as president, Stearns will serve as a professor of education.

Stearns' annual salary will be $120,000 plus a $14,000 housing allowance. The agreement calls for a contract extension through June 30, 2001.

Stearns is currently the Chancellor of Western Montana College in Dillon, Mont., a position she has held since 1993. By virtue of the affiliation with the University of Montana, she also serves as executive vice president of the University of Montana campuses at Missoula, Butte, and Helena.

Previously she was vice president of University Relations at the University of Montana, Missoula, where she received her undergraduate, graduate and doctoral degrees.

Stearns was selected from among 49 applicants for the position by a search committee composed of faculty, staff and administrators of the WSC campus, as well as alumni, foundation board members, area business leaders and state college system board of trustees representatives. The committee began searching for a president following the July 1998 departure of Dr. Donald J. Mash, who served as president for 10 years.

Stearns is married to Hall Stearns, a long-time teacher of western history, an expert of the Lewis and Clark expedition, and Brigadier General in the Montana Army National Guard. They have two children, Scott, 26 and Malin, 21.

Are Large Doses Of Vitamin C Dangerous?

According to Dr. JoAnn Mason from Harvard Medical School, "In contrast to fat-soluble vitamins such as A and D, which can be stored in the body for long periods, excess Vitamin C is simply eliminated in the urine." The body can't use more than about 500 mg. Per day. Vitamin C is water soluble and acts as an antioxidant, neutralizing unstable oxygen molecules called radicals that would otherwise damage cells. Doses in excess of 2,000 mg. a day caused diarrhea, but this is a rare side effect. The recommended daily allowance (RDA) for Vitamin C is 60 mg.

getting a good food product out to the public and he feels that added to the success of the benefit as the meat was excellent and very well prepared. The bars that were served were donated by many of the AAL and Lutheran Brotherhood members as well as others in the community," Emanuel said.

He added that it was exciting to see so many in the community come out and show their support for Marci. Support that still continues with added donations, interest in giving and helping more, and concern for how Marci is doing. People volunteering their time such as Lutheran Brotherhood and AAL members, Eric Smith who was MC during the benefit, Maria Brown and her sister Angie Brown along with some of their college friends all singing at the benefit.

Bonnie Fluent and Louise Calhoon of Wayne helped organize the Silent Auction which brought in around $1,000 to the total raised. Bill Dickey of Wayne taped the benefit with his video camera so that Marci could see and be part of the event as she was too ill to be present. He said that Scott's fellow co-workers at Quality Foods set up an account at Texaco to help the family with gas expenses while driving back and forth to Sioux City.

Scott and Marci will be married 10 years this year. The couple has three daughters: Ashley, 9, Amanda, 6, and Bailey, 18 months. Scott is the son of Charles and Marge Kudrna of Wayne and has lived in Wayne all of his life. Marci is originally from Lincoln.

based immunization clinics through Goldenrod Hills are held during the school year to prepare sixth graders (incoming seventh graders) for this requirement.

Goldenrod Hills requires $10 per shot for this service. Beginning on July 1, 2001, all students in grades K-12 will be required to have two doses of MMR vaccine.

Exemption for the immunization requirements are limited by law to two specific circumstances — contrary to religious beliefs and medical contraindication.

The student or, if he or she is a minor, by a legally authorized representative of the student, submits a notarized affidavit stating the immunization conflicts with he/her religious beliefs.

Medical contraindications require a signed statement from a licensed physician, physician assistant or nurse practitioner stating the required immunizations (s) would be injurious to the health and well being of the student, or a member of the student's family or household.

A student may be provisionally enrolled if her or she has begun the immunizations against the specified diseases prior to enrollment and continues the necessary immunizations as rapidly as medically feasible.

The law provides a provisional admission when immunizations have been given appropriately, and the student is in a waiting period for the next required dose. A parent or legal guardian of the student must provide a signed written statement certifying completion of the course of immunizations required.

The provisional enrollment shall not continue beyond 60 days of enrollment. As such time, the school must be given written evidence of compliance with immunization requirements for that student.

CHURCH SPONSORS LUNCH/MOVIE

On Jan. 24, the First Lutheran Church members will sponsor lunch and a movie at the Fire Hall in Allen. Church members will be serving sandwiches, bars, chips, and coffee starting at 1 p.m. At 2 p.m., the movie "The Ride" will begin.

The movie is about Smokey Banks, a former world championship bull rider, who has spent the last few years mulling up his life with drinking and gambling.

Banks is assigned community service to Mike Stilwell at the Saguro Boy's Ranch for stealing their truck.

Since his only other option was jail, Smokey reluctantly agrees to the terms: Stay out of trouble and teach Danny O'Neill how to ride a bull.

Banks has no idea how drastically the people at the ranch will change his life — especially one 14-year-old boy.

The cost of this event is free will donation to help defray the cost of the movie. All are invited to attend. Remember, "A parable is a good story. He (Jesus) did not say anything to them without using a parable." (Mark 4:34. NIV)

Blake Lyon was the winner of this year's Geography Bee at the Wayne Middle School.

Lyon wins Geography Bee

Blake Lyon, a sixth grader at Wayne Middle School, won the school-level competition of the National Geography Bee and a chance for a $25,000 college scholarship.

The school-level bee, at which students answered oral questions on geography, was the first round in the 11th annual National Geography Bee.

The Bee is sponsored by the National Geographic Society and BANK ONE, which operates more than 1,500 banking centers in 12 states.

Approximately 95 Middle School students took a written test earlier this year. At that time the competition was narrowed to 10 students and finally to two.

Blake will now take a qualifying test which will be sent to National Geographic Society for scoring. If his score is within a certain range, he will advance to the state level for competition in Omaha.

State winners are then invited to Washington, D.C. for the national championship May 25-26.

they are located, that they were taking steps to ensure access and diversity, and that they were making efforts to communicate to the public and policy makers what they are doing.

The publication provides examples of programs that illustrate that schools are already producing results in many of these areas. A list of the programs is attached.

"It is always gratifying to have quality programs recognized," said Dr. Jo Taylor, vice president for academic affairs at Wayne State College. "For years Wayne State has worked to develop students' academic abilities and to serve as an effective regional center in Northeast Nebraska," she noted.

The School at the Center Project (SAC) is a natural extension of both Wayne State College's mission and some long-standing programs which were given new focus and dimension under the SAC program.

WSC faculty members associated with the Center for Economic Education traditionally worked with junior and senior high school business and social science teachers, but in keeping with the K-12 focus of SAC, faculty members worked with elementary teachers to determine ways to incorporate corporate economic education in the elementary curriculum.

"This has been a far-reaching program on our campus," Taylor said. She noted the SAC program also included faculty from the math and science division working with six elementary teachers to extend the knowledge and understanding of science and to find ways to provide hands-on math/science experiences to elementary students. In addition, WSC faculty in applied science and business have collaborated with teachers at regional partner schools as part of the SAC project.

The Nebraska School at the Center Project's goals and activities complement and strengthen Wayne State College's work to fulfill its mission of preparing students to be responsible citizens and enhancing the quality of life in our service region," Taylor said.

AASCB is a Washington-based higher education association of more than 425 public colleges and universities and higher education systems across the United States and the U.S. territories.

Give the gift of life

Most people think the only time someone would need blood is if they were in an accident, and that only happens to adults. Well, I am here to tell you otherwise.

Accident victims are only part of the total number of patients needing blood on a daily basis. Patients undergoing surgery, people receiving treatment for leukemia, cancer and other diseases — all desperately need blood to survive. The use of blood for cancer treatment is one of the fastest growing areas in blood usage.

Without volunteer blood donors, critically ill patients wouldn't have what they need to get well. Without volunteer blood donors, the Siouxland Community Blood Bank would not be a dependable source of safe blood, ready when it is needed. The contribution of volunteer blood donors cannot be overestimated.

This spring, we will formally recognize 69 donors who have achieved donation milestones of 10, 15, and 20 gallons. This means each individual has stopped by our center or one of our mobile locations 80, 120 and 160 times respectively. But the greater meaning of this is that these individuals have touched the lives of thousands of individuals in Siouxland and surrounding communities.

Because people care enough about the "what ifs" of life, they volunteer to donate blood.

What if you Blood Bank was not here? What if the Blood Bank was out of the blood type your relative needed? What if this relative needed blood to make it through the night or another day?

January is National Volunteer Blood Donor Month. Think about your "what ifs." What if you could make a difference in someone's life? What if you took time to donate? What if you encouraged someone else to become a new donor?

There are no "what ifs" when it comes to our many dedicated donors. I would like to say "thank you" to each and every one. For myself, as well as the thousands of patients who received their lifesaving gift. No "What ifs," — you all mean the world to me.

As I see it ...

By Dr. Willis Wiseman
Fourth Ward Councilman

This is the first of a bimonthly presentation which will be aired and printed the second and last Thursday to coincide with the City Council meetings which are held the second and last Tuesday evenings each month.

The purpose of this article is to provide timely advance notice of upcoming issues for the City Council. It is intended that with some advance notice you may find topics of personal interest that you will have time to research and to discuss with friends, neighbors and your ward councilman if need be.

Hopefully you will then be able to come to the next council meeting with your questions, comments and concerns.

This information will appear in the Wayne Herald in the issue one week following the most recent City Council meeting.

I have been told repeatedly that the citizens don't know enough about what goes on in government until it is too late. We are all too familiar with the grumbling which goes on after something passes City Council and someone disagrees with the vote and didn't know that the particular issue was even being considered.

These articles will not pretend to solve all this but will certainly attempt to make more citizens better informed in time to make their views known to City Council before the voting takes place.

This initial article is to give listeners information about how the city council functions and information about how many entities contribute to the information the council receives.

Each City Council member receives an information packet one or two days before each Council meeting containing a proposed agenda for the meeting. The meetings are held the second and last Tuesday evening of each month at 7:30 p.m. The agenda is prepared by Joe Salitros, City Administrator.

In the information packet is included detailed minutes from the previous meeting, which must be approved at the beginning of each meeting. In addition, there is a list of claims to be paid by the City and that must be approved as well.

There will be included in the packet any applications by businesses or individuals for variances to building permits, application for liquor licenses, proposed agreements between the City and other agencies such as other towns, schools and so forth.

There will also be a proposed wording of each resolution and ordinance that is to be considered at each meeting. Resolutions may be voted on and approved, voted down or postponed or reworded and considered at a later meeting.

Ordinances are handled in much the same way except that ordinances are to be read at three separate meetings unless that provision is waived by majority vote in which case the ordinance can then be passed with at least six affirmative votes.

There are also special requests by other agencies or individuals that require approval by City Council and are discussed at the meetings and voted on unless postponed for a later meeting to give more time to study the issue or be provided more information.

Also included in the information packet are the minutes of meetings of other groups that may affect City Council business.

Included are as follows: Airport Authority, Board of Adjustment, Board of Appeal, Board of Health, Civil Service Commission, Community Cable Services Review Committee, E-911 Advisory Committee, Library, Northeast Nebraska Joint Housing Authority, Planning Commission, Police Retirement Committee, Recreation/Leisure Services Committee, Recycling Committee, Rural Fire District Board, Safety Committee-City employee Rep, Senior Citizen Center Advisory Committee, Solid Waste Management/Recycling Committee and Wayne Volunteer Fire Department.

Did you realize that many groups of people help keep a community up and running?

I would like to remind the readers at this time that the people who serve on these boards, commissions, committees and so forth are volunteers who give freely of their time and talents at no compensation.

Next time you run into one of these fine citizens, just say thanks for serving. Even better, get involved and join or make yourself available for service.

In conclusion, if you like this idea of being better informed about upcoming issues before the City Council, contact KTCH or letters to the editor at the Wayne Herald. I will try to address your concerns as time and space permit.

Keep informed and become active. It is really your government. I'll be back with the next article on Feb. 4. Keep an eye out.

Advantage to being 'curbstone' lawyer

By Ed Howard

Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association
Hanging around courtrooms and the judicial system for 30 years or so tends to familiarize a reporter with the workings of the aforementioned system.

And, there are advantages to being a "curbstone" lawyer. When you're wrong, there's no shame in saying, "OK! This was a new one on me. Hey, I didn't go to law school."

When you are correct, there is a bit of satisfaction in knowing that your grasp of the law and its workings exceeds that of some whirling dervish who gets breathless over matters of little import, but doesn't see the obvious.

Thus, it interested me that, in the case of condemned killer Randolph Reeves, there seemed to be surprise in some legal and reportorial quarters when the Nebraska Supreme Court stayed his execution. Reeves faces execution for murdering two women in Lincoln.

This was more predictable than a candidate for public office championing the cause of "efficiencies" in government, without giving so much as a singular example of even one efficiency.

Opponents of the death penalty were no doubt gladdened by the high court's decision to review Reeves' latest appeal. But surprised? Probably not.

Anytime a new issue is brought before the state's highest appellate court, the odds are good that it will at least get a hearing.

So, Reeves' counsel marches before the high court with the usual litany of appeal arguments a few days before he was to be executed. However, this time, defense counsel has one new item.

It had to do with a constitutional amendment recently adopted by Nebraskans that put a new "equal protection clause" in the state charter.

Equal protection means that the laws are to be applied equally and fairly across the board. Opponents of the death penalty often point to the fact that people with enough money to mount a big league defense usually don't get the death penalty. Some point to race, nature of crimes and other things.

The point is, Reeves was virtually certain to get a stay of execution while the Supreme Court heard first-ever arguments on the new constitutional amendment.

Why does this development lead to handwringing and what not among some? Why wasn't it obvious to the body politic, either through experience or reportage, that Reeves was virtually certain to get at least one more day in court?

Do you remember the fuss about that lengthy constitutional amendment (which the public rejected) that was intended to limit government spending? What was one of the central arguments against it? To wit: that no one would really know what the amendment would do until the state Supreme Court interpreted it.

The thing to be kept somewhere in mind, fellow voters, is that:

A constitutional amendment means what a majority of the sitting Supreme Court says it means. This reality is just one of many to be considered when deciding to vote yea or nay on such proposed changes.

2. The state Supreme Court usually doesn't like to leave vagaries floating around and about the constitution. And, circumstances do, in fact, change judicial thinking. (Until Lake McConaughy had proved its worth to agriculture, it was unconstitutional to move water from one river basin to another. The wording of the constitution had not changed when the high court issued an historic opinion allowing transbasin water diversion.)

You might also keep this in mind:

The Legislature has before it a measure that would change the state's method of imposing the death penalty, switching from the electrical to the chemical method of dispatching the condemned.

It is a literal certainty that, if the law is changed to go from the chair to the needle, the Supreme Court is going to hear one or more challenges to the law, based on a variety of arguments.

On a related topic:

A proposal also is pending that would have district and county court judges elected. Proponents indicate that the hope is that judges facing election would be more accountable and responsive to the people.

The question such a plan raises are many. Remember the statute which at least purports to represent our judicial system? The one denoting blind justice? In the case of the judicial system, blind is not a handicap.

Consider what it would be like to live in a society where the law is interpreted and applied based on popular or political input.

If you think campaign contributions influence those in the legislative branch to an inappropriate degree, how would you feel knowing that the individual or corporation you are opposing in court had contributed a hefty sum to the guy with the gavel? And, what if you had contributed or campaigned for his opponent in the last election?

You get delusional, wondering if that statue of lady justice just peeked out from under her blindfold — and winked!

A DEATH PENALTY OPPONENT WE NEVER GET TO HEAR FROM...

Focusing on industry in 'new economy'

Last week I discussed some of the findings from an important new study from the National Council on Urban Economic Development (CUED) on the implications for economic development of the "new economy."

Last week's column focused on the implications for jobs and workers. This week I will focus on the implications for companies competing in the "new economy."

Fundamental changes facing American business and industry include:

Global Marketplace. American products are all subject to foreign competition; and our companies, large and small, are in a global marketplace. Historically American companies have had access to such a large domestic market for their products that they have been slow to pursue foreign customers.

However, in the "new economy" American companies must pursue foreign opportunities; and often it is our small and mid-size companies that are in the best position to succeed in the global market place.

Needs Have Changed. The new economy is altering the size, operating procedures and locational needs of industry. Employment at large companies is shrinking rapidly. As companies downsize, they are looking increasingly to out source processes and inputs.

that are shorter and shorter. Computer-aided design and production systems have dramatically reduced the time required for product design and production line conversions.

Computer-controlled inventory systems facilitate customer purchase data from retail stores to be directly translated into factory orders and production line decisions, and even to just-in-time orders to suppliers of the materials used on the production line.

Increasingly companies need to collaborate with their suppliers, customers and even competitors in the design and production of goods and services they sell.

Technology. Technology is a key driving force in the "new economy." High technology, particularly its applications, has spread to every kind of industry from service to manufacturing; and the trend will continue.

New applications like digital communications are likely to shape the next decade with an impact comparable to what the personal computer revolution had the past decade.

Next week I'll discuss steps communities can take to take advantage of fundamental changes occurring in the "new economy."

the importance of responding to participants' evaluations and needs."

WSC beats SW State, Rockhurst

Greg McDermott's Wayne State men's basketball team chalked two more victories in the win column last week which boosted the Cats record to 14-2 and made them winners of 11 straight games.

The seventh ranked team in America in Division II downed a stubborn Southwest State team, 84-67, in Rice Auditorium last Wednesday before WSC went on the road and defeated Rockhurst of Kansas City, 80-73.

In the Southwest State game WSC sprinted to an 11-0 lead only to have the visitors come back to take an 18-17 lead.

WSC broke a 32-32 tie late in the first half and led 37-32 at the break. The scoring run continued early in the second half as the host team jumped ahead by double digits once again at 43-32 with another 11-0 run.

The third scoring run came shortly thereafter, as WSC went on a 12-0 run to lead 55-36.

"I think that's a real strength of our team," McDermott said. "We have the ability to score a lot of points in a stretch and our defense is consistent enough to get us back into a game or to blow a game open."

"Mar" felt the start of the second half would be key and his squad responded with a 6-0 run to put WSC up 11.

Jason Diaz and Brad Joens shared team scoring honors in a well-balanced scoring attack with 18 points each while Tyler Johnson added 17 and Jon Dolliver, 12.

The Mustangs were kept in the game for quite a period of time by the shooting accuracy of their guard, Sean Smith who scored a career-high 26 points.

WSC won the battle of the boards, 40-32 as Dolliver led the winners with nine rebounds with Eric Henderson hauling down eight.

Johnson and Joens dished out five assists each and WSC suffered just 10 turnovers while the visitors had 14.

SATURDAY IN Kansas City—the Cats found themselves in unfamiliar territory, trailing at the half, 38-32.

"We haven't been behind at the half for a while but I thought we responded pretty well," McDermott said.

And respond they did! The Cats shot 64 percent from the field in the second half. WSC went on a 12-0 scoring run over a three-and-a-half minute span to take control.

The Cats were down 57-51 at the 13:19 mark and led 63-57 at the 8:42 mark.

The victory by WSC snapped the Hawks' five-game win streak. "I thought Rockhurst played a very good game," McDermott said. "We didn't play that solid on defense but in the second half our offense bailed our defense out."

Tyler Johnson led a group of four players in double figures with 21 points while Brad Joens poured in 17. Jason Diaz scored 14 points and Nathan Mulder tallied 13.

Diaz has been red-hot since Christmas, nailing 21-of-31 shots from behind the three-point arc for a 70-percent success rate.

"Jason's playing very good basketball at this point," McDermott said. "He's doing a great job of supplying senior leadership."

The Cats were beaten on the boards, 35-26 with Jon Dolliver and Mulder hauling down five cars each to lead the way.

WSC committed just eight turnovers in the contest and Johnson dished out a team-high seven assists.

McDermott felt the key in the second-half was his team's slight sense of urgency.

WSC will host Bemidji State on Saturday in a rare afternoon contest at 3 p.m.

The Cats will travel to play NAIA rival Briar Cliff on Wednesday.

Blue Devil matmen third

The Wayne wrestling team mustered a third place finish at the Elkhorn Invitational last Saturday despite wrestling a little short-handed.

State-ranked Jay-Endicott sat out with an illness while Danny Roeber sat out due to injury.

Still, Wayne managed to score 152 points. Gretna won the team title with 226 points with Nebraska City placing runner-up with 177.5.

Lexington placed fourth with 144 and Aurora, fifth with 141.5. Valentine was sixth with 110 and Elkhorn, seventh with 101 followed by Plattsmouth at 96.5 and Bennington, 76.5.

Falls City, Crete, Grand Island and O'Neill finished in order.

The Blue Devils had two champs during the meet including Josh Murtaugh at 152 pounds and Jesse Rethwisch at 189. It was the first championship for either wrestler at the Elkhorn Invite.

Murtaugh captured his 100th career win at the meet and should break the school record of 107 victories set by Mike DeNaeyer before districts, barring injury or illness.

Dan Nelson (119), Chris Woehler (145), Darin Jensen (160), Tim Zach (171) and Casey Junck (215) each placed third as seven of Wayne's 10 wrestlers medalled.

"We started out the tournament a little slow but as the day went along we wrestled progressively better," coach John Murtaugh said. "I was especially pleased with how we finished the tournament. I am very proud of how the kids responded to the competition level."

Murtaugh's crew went a perfect

7-0 in the medal round. "Chris Woehler did a nice job," Murtaugh added. "Several times during the day he showed great mental and physical toughness."

Wayne will host Albion in dual action, Thursday and Winside in dual action on Tuesday.

Girls fall at Norfolk Catholic while boys blast Stanton at home Wayne cagers split home and away tilts

The Wayne boys basketball team evened their season record at 6-6 with a 64-43 victory last Friday night at home.

The Blue Devils led 15-6 after the first quarter and stretched the lead to 11 by half at 30-19 before a 20-6 scoring run in the third quarter put the game on ice.

"I thought the key was solid defense," Ruhl said. "We forced 23 turnovers. I also felt our bench was vital in this win."

Junior Dustin Schmeits came off the bench to supply air-tight defense and he played solid basketball on both ends of the court, scoring 10 points including back-to-back possessions which resulted in three-point baskets.

"Dustin's really playing with a lot of confidence," Ruhl said. "We need that from him and the rest of the team if we want to continue our recent success."

Leadership down the stretch of the season won't be a problem as proven once again by senior Ryan Dahl who led all scorers with 19 points—17 through three quarters of play.

"Ryan's really stepped it up the last few games," Ruhl said. "He didn't play more than a couple minutes of the fourth quarter so all his scoring came in the first three periods." Sophomore Eric McLagan continues to improve and the 6-6 post scored 12 points as three Blue Devils finished in double figures.

Ryan Stoltenberg scored six points and Klinton Keller, five while Jon Meyer added four and Ben Meyer, three. John Magnuson and Brian Hochstein each scored two points.

McLagan and Hochstein shared team honors on the boards with five rebounds each; Wayne's only Achilles Heel came from the free throw line where they were a dismal, 3-12.

The Blue Devils will host 10-1 Hartington Cedar Catholic on Friday night. Cedar's only loss was against the Blue Devils in the holiday tournament.

Wayne's JV's improved to 8-1 on the season with a 62-50 win over Stanton as Shane Baack paced the winners with 19 points while Dustin Schmeits scored 13.

Trevor Wright netted eight points with Adam Ellingson, Brad Hochstein and Brad Hansen scoring four each. Ben Meyer and Anthony Sump each scored three points and Craig Olson and Jeremy Dorcey added two each.

THE WAYNE GIRLS fell to 1-11 on the year with a 49-37 loss at Norfolk Catholic last Friday night.

The Blue Devils trailed by just one point at the half, 24-23 and was with in striking distance after three quarters of play, 33-29.

"We had the lead as close as four points with about two minutes left in the game," McLarn said. "Norfolk Catholic hit 11-of-13 from the foul line to seal the win."

Heidi Johnson led the Blue Devils with 10 points with Sara Ellis adding eight. Monica Novak, Brooke Parker and Kristin Hochstein each scored four and Kallie Krugman added two with Brittney Frevert netting a free throw.

The Blue Devils will play at O'Neill on Saturday before traveling to play Tekamah-Herman on Tuesday.

The Wayne JV's fell to 6-3 on the season with a 47-44 setback at Norfolk Catholic.

Wayne's slow start proved costly as they trailed 24-12 at the half but out-scored the host team, 30-23 in the second half.

April Thebe led Wayne with 13 points and Leah Dunklau added seven while Mandy Hansen, Katie Walton, Elizabeth Campbell, Jessica Woehler and Amanda Maryott each scored four. Beth Loberg added three and Kari Hardef tallied a free throw.

Jon Meyer gets past a Stanton defender and looks to score two points during the Blue Devils win last Friday.

Ryan Dahl glides past a Stanton player in second half action of last week's blowout win. Dahl scored 19 points to lead the winners.

Wayne State women cagers post pair of wins to improve to 11-7

Wayne State's women's basketball team improved to 11-7 on the season with a pair of wins last week as first-year coach Ryan Williams continues a solid first season at the helm.

WSC's 11 wins is three more than last season's total but Williams hopes his team is far from finished with nine games remaining.

In Wayne last week the Wildcats held off Southwest State of Marshall, Minnesota by a 58-55 margin.

WSC led 27-17 at the half but an 18-6 scoring run by the visitors had the Cats down two at 35-33.

It was a battle down the stretch with the Cats hitting some clutch shots and free throws. Southwest State had the last shot but the three-point attempt to tie drew nothing but air.

"We came out a little flat in the second half," Williams said. "We didn't come out of the locker room with that closing them out mentality and we got a little complacent on both ends of the floor."

WSC was sparked by the inside play of Stef Sjuts and the outside spark of Krista Bernadt.

Sjuts poured in a game-high 18 points and Bernadt tossed in 13 more while Katie Sperling and Ami Pendry were close to double figures with nine points each.

WSC was edged on the boards, 37-33 with Bernadt and Megan Murphy hauling down seven boards each.

Saturday in Kansas City, the Cats defeated Rockhurst, 57-49 for their third consecutive win.

The game was tied at 21 at the intermission but WSC never trailed in the second half, building a 10-point lead at 52-42 with less than two minutes remaining.

"Rockhurst had good perimeter players but our defense was very solid on them," Williams said. "Ami Pendry, Erin Aakre, Kellie Schenk and Krista Bernadt all did a great job on defense."

Ami Pendry drives the baseline and beats a Southwest State defender during the women's win last week.

Williams said the game plan at half was to pound the ball inside and that they did as Katie Sperling enjoyed a career-high 15 point outing.

"We got some transition baskets and we hit our free throws and that was the difference," Williams added.

Sperling led the team in scoring with Aakre and Stef Sjuts added 12 each. WSC was again edged on the boards, 32-30 with Sperling leading WSC with six caroms. Pendry dished out four assists to lead the Cats.

WSC will host Bemidji State on Saturday afternoon at 1 p.m. before an 11-day break.

Sara Ellis led Wayne with 14 points with Katie Walton netting nine and Brooke Parker, six. Kallie Krugman tallied five points and Monica Novak along with Kristin Hochstein had three each. Heidi Johnson and Jess Woehler finished with two apiece.

Winside cagers sweep Clarkson

Winside's girls and boys basketball teams earned a sweep of visiting Clarkson, Tuesday night. The Wildcat girls team won a five-point decision, 45-40. A 17-7 scoring run by Winside in the second quarter proved to be the difference.

"We got a lot of points in the first half off transition," coach Lisa Schroeder said. "We were a little more stagnant in the second half but we hit 13-of-16 free throws helped us maintain the lead." Stacy Wittler led Winside with 10 points with Jessica Wade netting eight and Brooke Boelter, seven. Shannon Bowers and Kim Nathan scored five each and Sara Mohr, four while Amy Rademacher, Julie Jacobsen and Keisha Rees scored two each. Rees and Wade had six rebounds each to lead Winside.

Winside's boys needed overtime to notch their seventh win of the year against three losses, 43-42. The Wildcats trailed 18-14 at the half but took a five point lead to the fourth quarter after a 16-7 scoring run at 30-25.

Adam Hoffman led the winners with 17 points and Jay Rademacher tallied nine while Aaron Hoffman scored eight and Scott Wittler, four. Aaron Lessmann netted three points and Jason Longnecker, two. Rademacher led the team on the boards with 12 caroms.

Wakefield cagers split with 'Cats

The Winside and Wakefield basketball teams split games last Thursday and Friday as Mike Clay's Wakefield boys edged Terry Warner's Winside crew, 45-42 before Winside's girls defeated Wakefield, 60-46 on Friday.

Thursday's game in Wakefield was a tale of two halves as Wakefield won the opening stanza, 29-20 before Winside roared back in the second half with a 24-16 scoring advantage, falling by just three points. "Winside did an excellent job of controlling the tempo," Clay said. "We shot a good percentage and Chad Mackling made a three-point-er late to keep us in front."

Ross Gardner paced the winners with 18 points with Mackling tossing in 10 and Josh Peterson, eight.

Justin Paulson tallied four points and BJ Hansen was held far below his season average with three points with Nick White adding two.

Gardner paced Wakefield on the boards with nine rebounds with Hansen hauling down seven.

Winside was led by Aaron Hoffman with 14 points with Jay Rademacher adding 12 and Jeff Kollath, seven.

Scott Wittler, Aaron Lessmann and Scott Marotz each added four points with Zeke Brummels netting two.

Winside fell to 6-3 on the season while Wakefield improved to 5-9. The Wildcats will host Wausa on Friday while Wakefield play at Wynot on Friday.

scoring run in the second quarter of the contest played in Winside on Friday.

Stacy Wittler scored a career high 18 points to lead the winners. She added seven assists and five steals for the 4-6 Wildcats.

Julie Jacobsen added 12 points and Shannon Bowers, 11 while Sara Mohr scored six and Brooke Boelter, five. Kim Nathan and Jessica Wade each added four points.

Jacobsen and Bowers were each successful on three, 3-pointers while Jacobsen and Wade shared team honors on the boards with five rebounds each.

"This was probably our most complete game of the season," Schroeder said. "Stacy had the best game of her career, stepping up her scoring and getting the ball to the open person. She really took charge of the offense."

Wakefield was led by five players scoring five points each including Maggie Brownell, Kristin Brudigam, Amber Johnson, Erin Salmon and Timarie Bebee.

Megan Brown, Traci Lueth, Jennifer Carson, Jennifer-Roeber and Annie Bierbower each added four while Annie Greve tallied a free throw.

Bierbower was the top rebounder with seven boards with Carson hauling down five for the 3-10 Trojans.

Winside will host Wausa on Friday while Wakefield plays at Wynot on Friday before hosting Homer on Monday.

Allen girls and boys net cage wins over Wynot

The Allen girls and boys basketball teams posted a sweep of Wynot, Tuesday in Allen.

Both Eagles teams won their second games of the year as Lori Koester's ladies won a 53-36 decision while Doug Schnack's boys held on for a 53-49 win.

In the girls' contest Allen led 30-18 at the half and 46-27 after three quarters of play.

"We've had some tough losses and it's hard to keep team morale up and keep positive when you're struggling to get a win," Koester said. "I was really proud of the girls and their aggressive play right from the start of the game to the finish."

Rachel Stallbaum led the Eagles with 15 points and 13 rebounds while Shannon Koester scored 12 and Stacey Martinson, 10.

April Sachau tallied six points with Jessica Bock and Alicia Liebsch netting three each. Danielle Bertrand and Elizabeth Bock scored two apiece.

"Rachel Stallbaum and Shannon Koester had outstanding performances on both ends of the floor," Koester added.

The boys game was close throughout as Allen led 24-22 at the intermission and 38-33 after three quarters of play.

"It was a great game," Schnack said. "A lot of fun to watch as our boys played 32 minutes of solid basketball."

Schnack's team may have set a school record with just four turnovers in the contest. "Our seniors are really starting to take charge," Schnack said.

BJ Gotch led the winners with 16 points with Micky Oldenkamp adding 10 and Brian Sullivan, eight. Joe Sullivan netted seven and Ken Rahn, six followed by Austen Stewart and Brooks Blohm with three each.

Gotch hauled down a team-high eight rebounds for the Eagles and what Schnack considered to be the key element to the victory, Allen hit 21-of-30 free throw attempts while Wynot was 7-14.

Winside grapplers finish third at B.C. invitational

The Winside wrestling team garnered a third place finish at the annual Battle Creek Invitational last Saturday, scoring 140 points.

Stanton won a close three-team race with 155.5 points with Elkhorn Valley placing second with 148.

Howells finished fourth with 112 and Randolph, fifth with 103 while Oakland-Craig netting sixth place with 64 points.

Battle Creek, Pierce, Osmond, Madison, Battle Creek JV's and Scribner-Snyder rounded out the field of teams in order.

Winside coach Paul Sok was pleased with his team's performance as nine of the ten wrestlers taking part, brought home medals.

"We had a good tournament," Sok said. "I felt we wrestled better than we did in the triangular two days earlier against Stanton and Howells."

The Wildcats had two champions at the meet including Justin Koch at 125 and Steve Rabe at 140.

Koch received a first round bye before pinning Oakland's Randall Brum in the semifinals. He pinned Randolph's Kyle Gubbels in 1:28 of the championship match.

Rabe cruised in his weight class, pinning Dentry Robbins of Madison in the finals in 3:02.

Jeremy Jaeger lost a heart-breaker in the championship match in the 130-pound weight class against Pierce's Ryan Stusse.

Stusse was credited with a reversal as time ran out to post a 4-3 win. Ryan Krueger fell to Stanton's Randy Hansen by a 4-0 margin in the championship at 152 pounds.

Third place finishes went to Jared Jaeger at 103 who pinned Whit Brummond of Oakland-Craig in the consolation finals while Eric Vanosdall won a 7-4 decision from Chris Coufal of Howells at 160 pounds for third place.

Levi Trautman placed third after pinning Ryan Morgan of Elkhorn Valley in the consolation finals.

The Wildcats fourth place finishers included Tom Wittler at 135 and Dustin Wade at 189.

While the varsity was competing at Battle Creek, several Wildcat grapplers competed at the Pender freshman-sophomore tournament.

Dustin Nelson placed first in the 215 pound weight class and Sam Stroman was runner-up. Justin Bleich placed fourth while Robbie Reed and Aaron Paulsen competed but did not place.

Food and medicine no longer separate topics

"You are what you eat" no longer is just an adage. A new study this past decade examines plant and animal foods linked to non-traditional physiological benefits.

Food and medicine no longer are separate topics, according to the National Institute of Food Technologists.

New knowledge about non-traditional components in common foods show health benefits beyond meeting basic nutritional needs, even reducing the risk of cancer.

The foods studied include oat and soy products, cranberries, green tea, wine and grapes, fish, dairy products and beef.

Biologically active plant chemi-icals, or phytochemicals, appear to account for a reduced health risk in addition to standard nutrient.

For example, lycopene, the primary phytochemical in tomatoes, has been associated in human studies with reducing prostate and other cancers.

Limonoids in citrus fruits, glucosinolates in cruciferous vegetables and catechins in green tea also appear to protect against a variety of human cancers.

Isoflavones in soy and lignans in flaxseed oil act as weak estrogens and may have a role in reducing the risk of breast cancer.

The cholesterol-lowering effects of the soluble fiber beta-glucan in oats and soy compounds are reputed to reduce the risk of cardiovascular disease.

Sally Ebmeyer
Cedar County

Omega-3 fatty acids in flaxseed oil and fish also appear to reduce the risk of heart disease.

Research indicates organosulfur compounds in garlic may have cancer-fighting, cholesterol-lowering, antibiotic and anti-hypertensive properties.

Probiotics or friendly bacteria in fermented milk products such as yogurt also appear to have multiple benefits. Probiotics have been associated with reducing the risk of colon cancer, lowering cholesterol and out-competing potentially disease-causing bacteria in the gastrointestinal tract.

Linoleic acid in beef may protect against a variety of cancers. This fatty acid increases in beef when it is cooked or processed. Functional foods aren't a magic bullet or universal panacea for poor habits.

However, proper diet and physical activity to lower stress and not smoking can promote wellness.

School districts qualify

Wayne Public Schools and Laurel-Concord Public Schools were among the 176 Nebraska School districts which qualified for more than $1.8 million in Education Innovation Fund grants, according to the Excellence in Education Council.

To qualify for the new grant program established by the Legislature in 1988, school systems had to:

- Adopt the new state standards in reading/writing, math, science and social studies/history or establish more rigorous standards.

- Develop alternative education policies or have alternative education programs in place.

- Have an average ACT score about the statewide average for graduating seniors.

School systems must continue to meet those quality factors and additional one to qualify for future grants.

To qualify for a Quality Education Incentive grant, projects must address one or more of the Education Innovation Fund's priorities, which include a variety of educational concerns such as at-risk youth, high-ability learner programs, educational technology, teacher training and special education.

"I had a friend who came to Dr. Feidler so I did, too."

"My vision was kind of filmy. It wasn't as clear as it should have been. It was hard to read. I told Dr. Feidler to do the cataract surgery as soon as he could.

I like Dr. Feidler. He's okay. He tells you what he's going to do. There's no discomfort and surgery was over before I knew it. I told my sister to go ahead and have it done. She's been worried about it, but I told her how easy it is.

Sharing pews

As part of the facility expansion project at Our Savior Lutheran Church, the congregation is tending to the physical needs of its older facility. "Our older facility will continue to serve as a vitally important tool to the ministry of Our Savior," Pastor Martin Russell said. The congregation recently donated 19 of its former pews from the old sanctuary to the Winside United Methodist Church. Pictured carrying pews out of the former Our Savior sanctuary are members of the Winside Methodist Church.

Our Savior hosts Tanzanian pastor

Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne is one of two Lutheran congregations in Nebraska participating in a unique exchange program with Lutheran congregations in northern Tanzania.

Pastor Samwell Kiwelu, who serves the Kotela Lutheran Parish on the slopes of Mount Kilimanjaro, is living and serving among the people of Our Savior. Pastor Kiwelu is sharing in the pastoral responsibilities of Our Savior with pastors Bill Koerber and Paul Judson.

Pastor Kiwelu arrived in Wayne on Dec. 15. He is presently visiting other ministries of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America returns to Wayne on Jan. 31. Pastor Kiwelu will return to Tanzania on March 8.

While in the Wayne area, Pastor Kiwelu will also be visiting area congregations and is available to speak to schools, community groups and organizations.

In addition, Our Savior will be hosting a special open house and forum on Sunday, Feb. 28 from 2 to 4 p.m. for members and the community who would like to meet and visit with Pastor Kiwelu.

As part of the exchange program, Pastor Martin Russell of Our Savior Lutheran Church is spending nearly six weeks living and serving among the people of the Kotela Lutheran Parish and the Northern Diocese of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in Tanzania. He is scheduled to return to Wayne on March 2.

The Kotela Parish is a large congregation with nearly 3,000 adults and 2,000 children. The 100 year old congregation has a rich history and was established after missionaries arrived from Germany in 1893. The congregation is part of the Northern Diocese of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in Tanzania. The diocese is located in northern Tanzania at the footsteps of Mount Kilimanjaro.

Mount Kilimanjaro is highest mountain in Africa and is often called the peak of Africa. This east African nation has a population of over 365,000 square miles. Swahili is the national language.

For more information on Pastor Kiwelu and his ministry in Wayne, contact the Our Savior Lutheran Church Office at 375-2899.

Special Sunday service planned

"Winning is Everything" is the theme for a special Sunday Service to be held at Praise Assembly of God Church in Wayne.

"This service will provide humor, contemporary music and drama, and it will challenge all who attend to decide what things in life are worth going after," said Reverend Mark Steinbach. "Those who live competition, those who are tired of the so-called 'rat-race' and those who are just curious will enjoy this special service."

The Service begins on Sunday, Jan. 24 at 10 a.m. and will be held at Praise Assembly of God, 901 Circle Drive (on Ninth Street, five blocks east of Main).

On Sunday evening, Jan. 24, at 6:30 p.m. Praise Assembly will be hosting a Special Service call a "Singspiration."

"The evening will feature special music and heart-felt, contemporary praise and worship music," Rev. Steinbach said. "Space is limited so we encourage all attending to arrive early, but I am certain that it will be an evening that will encourage and motivate everyone to serve the Lord with joy and gladness."

For information or transportation needs, please call 375-3430 or 375-3103. There is no charge of either of these Special Services and the public is invited to attend.

Carroll women meet and enjoy a soup dinner

The Carroll United Methodist Women met Jan. 13 for a soup dinner served by Doris Harmer and Pat Roberts. Nine members and two guests, Sandra Atkins and Phyllis Frahm, attended.

Rev. Gary Main presented a lesson on "Christian Women of the Bible Times -- and Now."

The group will send $25 to the Call to Prayer offering.

President Margaret Kenny conducted the business meeting. Rev. Main read the I. Corinthians, 1:1 and Margaret read "A New Year."

Roll call was answered by a "Women of Faith in Our Lives."

Cards were sent to Henrietta for sympathy and get well cards to Jan Davis, Doris Harmer and Alice Halfeen. Card will be sent to Pat and Dani Frahm and Frank Gilmore.

Reports were given on gifts given to nursing homes for Christmas. A bill of $1,400 was presented for the re-wiring of the kitchen.

The group discussed having chairs in the Fellowship Hall re-glued and fixed.

The Bible Study with Winside will be held at Margaret Kenny's home.

Joyce Harmer will be the hostess and give the lesson at the next meeting on Feb. 10. Each member is to bring a guest.

Benefit dinner

More than 700 people turned out for Sunday's benefit for the Scott and Marci Kudrna family. The event was sponsored by Friends of Scott and Marci and Calvary Bible Evangelical Free Church. Supplemental funds were provided by AAL Branch #1470 and AAL Branch #9609 and Lutheran Brotherhood Branch #8212.

Nominations being accepted

Nominations are now being accepted for the Nebraska Medical Association awards recognizing physicians who serve their patients, communities and the science of medicine as examples of excellence.

This is the third consecutive year that the awards will be presented to recognize the work of outstanding physicians.

The awards were introduced as a means of rewarding exemplary service provided by newly graduated physicians and physicians with established practices.

The two categories, Young Physician of the Year and Physician of the Year, are nominated by the public and are presented at the Nebraska Medical Associations Annual Meeting.

Last year's recipient for Young Physician of the Year was Dr. Jeffrey Strohmyer who practices in Papillion. Dr. Ronald Asher, who practices in North Platte was recognized as Physician of the Year.

Anyone wishing to nominate a physician for either the Young Physician of the Year or Physician of the Year awards may request a nomination form by calling Kelly Madcharo, Associate Executive Director of the Nebraska Medical Association, at (402) 474-4472.

To request a nomination form by mail, the following address should be used: Kelly Madcharo, NMA, 233 South 13th Street, Suite 1512, Lincoln, Neb. 68508-2091. Completed nomination forms must be received by Feb. 26, 1999 in order to be considered for this year's awards.

Medicine Use for Diabetes Treatment Should Increase

The most common diabetes type occurs in adults and does not require insulin injections. Oral medicines can help control blood sugar (glucose) levels -- provided the person with diabetes pay careful attention to diet. The number of persons with this diabetes type and the use of oral diabetes medicines should increase during the next several years. According to the report in American Journal of Epidemiology, the "fattening" of America is to blame.

For every one pound that an individual is overweight, there is a corresponding 2% increase in diabetes risk. This means that being 20 pounds overweight increases the risk of diabetes by about 40%. "Researchers who wrote the report suggest that 27% of new cases of diabetes could be avoided and, "new public health actions are urgently needed to prevent weight gain in the U.S. population."

Host families are needed

ASSE International Student Exchange Programs (ASSE) is seeking local host families for boys and girls from Europe, Asia, North and South America, Australia, New Zealand, and South Africa; 15 to 18 years of age, coming to this area for the upcoming high school year.

The students are personable, academically select, speak English, and are anxious to learn about this country through living as a part of an adopted host family.

The students are sponsored by ASSE, an organization founded by the Swedish National Department of Education. ASSE also cooperates with the Canadian Provincial Ministries of Education and the New Zealand Ministry of Education. The students are screened by ASSE. Families may select the student of their choice from applications, photos, and Biographical essays. The students arrive from their home country shortly before school begins and return at the end of the school year. Each ASSE student is fully insured, brings his or her own spending money, expects to help with household chores as well as be included as one of the family.

ASSE is also seeking local high school students to become ASSE exchange students abroad. Students should be between 15 and 18 years old.

Persons interested in obtaining more information about becoming a host family or becoming an exchange student should contact ASSE's local representative: Ken Morrison at (402) 887-5016 or call 800-736-1760.

Writing book isn't easy

Sunday evening and the last couple in America to see Titanic has just put the tape into the trusty VCR. That de Caprio is really just a kid and it's hard to believe there were not enough life boats because they cluttered the deck.

The Christmas puzzle, featuring all manner of Father Christmas figures, is finished. It is borderless and has five extra pieces. Mike put in the last piece about 6 p.m. and probably won't take it apart for awhile. It can stay on the card table. It's amusing to watch guests: some cannot resist putting a few pieces in.

I can't! And I haven't taken advantage of the nice weather either; at least not outside. I've been cleaning in the attic. I can only tolerate it up there when it isn't too hot or too cold. The forecast sounds as if I may be up there all week, drat!!

There was quite a surprise, in the Minneapolis Metrodome today and business as usual in Denver. I hope Elway can do it one more time.

There has been fruit basket upset in football coaching, college and pro. They don't get many second chances. And the great Jordan meant it when he said he was retiring. I know he's great, but I think we'll get over it.

Whether the NBA will get over the strike remains to be seen. Basketball will need someone like McGuire and Sosa to revive it the way they revived baseball after their strike.

A part of the Sunday paper I try to read is the book-review section. Then I wish I had the time to read the books. There must be a dozen Chicken Soup collections now.

Those guys knew a good thing when they saw it. They don't even write the stories, they just collect them.

One review I read, about a Russian spy in Japan, took 20 years to research and write. What does one live on while writing a book like that and how many people buy it?

I have two books in me and one is half done. It's a cook book. They sell and guests do ask for recipes. Of course, I've only been working on it for about four years.

The other is about 40 years in nursing: patients, families, doctors and such. My only problem is finding the time to write it. I've never learned to get by on less sleep (on a regular basis.) And I don't get everything done as it is (or I wouldn't be cleaning my attic now.) Hopefully, I'll live long enough after retirement to get it written.

Some weeks just getting these written is a chore. That's why I'm finishing on Monday morning. Now to find a fax machine, and hope Clara can read it.

Enjoy the weather and be glad you aren't in Buffalo.

COMBINATION KIDS 4-H CLUB

The Combination Kids 4-H meeting was held Jan. 10 at the Red Cross Office.

Roll call was one thing each member received for Christmas.

John Temme had a presentation on how to show dairy cattle. Serving lunch was Brooke Anderson and John and Ann Temme.

Old business included electing the same officers as last year. The club will meet the third Sunday of every month at the Red Cross Office at 1 p.m.

Adam Lutt became a new member. The group is trying to set some goals for the year and got off to a good start. Anyone needed extra scrap book pages should let Ann know by February so she can order them.

In February and March the club will be going to The Oaks to play games with the elderly. In May the group will clean road ditches. In July the group will have a club tour.

Members were asked to choose the projects they are going to take to the fair. Anyone who hasn't given them to Ann should do so, so she can call for information.

The girls chose to do quilts again this year and will have quite a few doing it this year.

The next meeting will be Sunday, Feb. 21 at 1 p.m. Serving at the meeting will be Jenny Brummond and Eric and Sarah Ekberg.

NU Visions will be distributed

The University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension Northeast counties, including Dakota, Dixon, Thurston and Wayne, have produced the seventh annual "Nu Visions" publication.

This year's issue will be inserted in this week's local newspapers and the Jan. 20 issue of the Rocket.

The publication covers upcoming programs and descriptions of some of the work being done at the Haskell Agricultural Laboratory at Concord, the Northeast Research and Extension Center, Learning Center in Norfolk, the County Extension Offices and the 4-H Youth Program.

The publication's objective is to keep the public informed of program opportunities and various aspects of Cooperative Extension.

Hog producers may qualify for direct cash payments

Nebraska Farm Service Agency (FSA) State Executive Director Mark Bowen announced that USDA will make available approximately $50 million in direct cash payments to small hog producers to assist them in the current economic crisis.

Hog producers may qualify for the direct cash payments if they have marketed fewer than 1,000 hogs during the past six months of 1998 and are still in operation. The producers will not be eligible for payments on hogs that were marketed under fixed-price or cost-plus contracts.

The eligibility is being based on marketings during the last six months of 1998 to avoid distorting current marketings. The six month marketing period is also intended to accommodate the marketing practices of small producers, estimated to be approximately 6,000 in Nebraska.

Hogs producers will be paid up to $5 for a slaughter weight hog or an equivalent amount for feeder pigs. The actual payment to a hog producer may be less than the $5 since the amount of funding is limited to $50 million and will be prorated based on the applications received. Producers will only be paid up to a maximum payment per operation of $2,500.

Signup for the payments will be made through the local Farm Service Agency, between Feb. 1, 1999 and Feb. 12, 1999.

Producers will be required to certify that they meet eligibility requirements. The producer must provide to the FSA Office the name of the operation and a list of the persons involved, the number of finished and feeder pigs marketed in the last six months of 1998 and the buyers of those hogs and pigs.

Producers should be aware that USDA will be conducting spotchecks of the certifications and additional information may be requested. It is expected that payment will be made approximately three weeks after the end of signup.

Further program details will be available in the local FSA Office by Jan. 29, 1999.

Wayne County hog producers should contact the Wayne County FSA Office at (402) 375-2453 for an appointment.

Conservation funds available for area farmers and ranchers

Nebraska farmers and ranchers can now apply for nearly $3.4 million of USDA funds through the Environmental Quality Incentives program (EQIP). These funds will be used to install soil and water conservation practices according to a Natural Resources Conservation Service official.

Steve Chick, NRCS State Conservationist, said applications submitted to local NRCS offices by March 12 will be evaluated and ranked according to those achieving the most environmental benefits. Applications will continue to be taken after March 12 and funded as dollars are available.

"I am encouraging people to come in early and meet with an NRCS conservationist. The landowner needs to decide on the conservation practices they want to complete. The conservationist will then project the cost of the actions and include it in the application," Chick said. "Depending on the actions, normally this takes time and is not something you can probably do effectively on the last day."

The $3.4 million dollars are divided into two categories. The first category is a "priority area" and 12 such areas have been established in Nebraska. About $2.2 of the $3.4 million will go to farmers and ranchers in these areas. Farmers and ranchers not in these priority areas can apply for the remaining $1.2 million.

For the first time in $1.2 million in EQIP funds not in the priority areas will be divided and targeted to conservation practices based on natural resource district boundaries.

"This will make some funds available in each NRD that will be distributed by a local working group," Chick said.

The local working group consists of NRD, NRCS, Farm Service Agency and other groups or individuals with an interest in conservation.

The Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District received $119,524 of the total money allocated.

"There is a high demand for these dollars," Chick said, "so this year we also have a pilot project with the South Platte Natural Resources District in Sidney to match some of the EQIP funds with their local dollars." This NRD will commit $30,000 of USDA funds. This money is in addition to the NRD allotment.

The Nebraska Corn Growers Association will also receive $9,000 in EQIP funds to carry out an educational program on conservation buffer strips.

In 1997, Nebraska received about $5.3 million in EQIP funds and 739 contracts were written. In 1998, the state received $3.9 million in EQIP funds and 316 contracts were written.

EQIP was established in the 1996 Farm Bill to assist farmers and ranchers with protection of the natural resources. Half of the EQIP dollars are targeted to livestock related concerns, with the remainder to other priorities like soil erosion, water management or wildlife habitat. Priority areas are selected through the NRCS State Technical Committee, which is an advisory group of natural resource agencies, ag organizations and individuals.

Farmers may be eligible for FSA emergency loan

Farm Service Agency (FSA) Wayne County office announced that family farmers in Madison County who suffered physical losses due to excessive rainfall, excessive snow, freeze, high winds, tornadoes and hail that occurred between Aug. 25 and Nov. 11, 1998 may be eligible for FSA Emergency (EM) loans.

Wayne County also became eligible because it is contiguous to one or more of the designated counties.

The current interest rate for the EM loans is 3.75 percent.

Family farmers interested in finding out if they are eligible should contact either Debra Pieper, County Executive Director or Mark Moser, Farm Loan Manager for information. They can be reached Monday-Friday between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. at the Farm Service Agency office at 709 Providence Road in Wayne or by phone at (402) 375-2453, extension 2.

Emergency loan applications will be received through the local FSA County office from any applicant who qualifies for a physical loss in Wayne County.

To qualify for an EM loan, an applicant must be an established family far operator; provide evidence of having suffered a qualifying physical loss; be unable to obtain suitable credit from a source other than FSA.

The damaged or destroyed physical property must be essential to the successful operation of the farm to qualify for an EM loan.

FSA loans covering actual physical losses may be used to repair equipment, livestock or buildings (including homes), lost through this disaster.

The deadline for submitting applications is Sept. 9, 1999. Applicants for all FSA programs will be given equal consideration without regard to race, color, sex, creed, marital status, or national origin.

THANK YOU

THANK YOU does not express how grateful we are to all of the wonderful people who shared our grief over our loss of Michael. The visits, calls, food, cards, special notes, poems, the portrait, support and memorials, were overwhelming. It is comforting to know Michael touched so many lives. We will miss him very much but he is now at total peace and joy with God. What more can a family ask for? The Family of Michael Husmann

THANK YOU to all the friends and customers who have extended good wishes at the end of one stage of my life and the beginning of the next. I have enjoyed my years of working at State National Bank Drive-In so very much, and that has been because of all the wonderful customers who have become such good friends and the terrific people with whom I've been blessed to work. I will miss each and every one of you. God bless you for being a part of my life. Donna Hansen

THE FAMILY of Scott and Marci Kudrnia would like to thank all of the people of Wayne and surrounding communities from the bottom of our hearts! We were overwhelmed with the turnout and the generosity of everyone who attended the benefit on Sunday, Jan. 17th at the Wayne City Auditorium. Special thanks to the committee from Calvary Bible Evangelical Free Church for organizing the benefit. Thanks also to the AAL Branch 1470, AAL Branch 9609, and to the Lutheran Brotherhood Branch 8212 for their help and for matching some of the funds. Other thanks to: Chartwells Food Service for preparing the meal; To Quality Foods for providing the supplies needed for the benefit; For many businesses and individuals who donated items to the benefit and the Silent Auction; To Bill Dickey for video taping the benefit for Marci who was still in St. Luke's; To those who sang during the benefit; and to everyone else who had a part in making this a very special time. We Love You All! Love in Christ, Scott, Marci, Ashley, Amanda & Bailey Kudrnia

WE WANT to say thank you to family and friends for the many prayers, cards, phone calls, visits, food and memorials sent to us after the death of our sister, Irene Lutt, Matilda Barelman, Viola Bak or, Marin Ritzo, Evelyn Hoorman

WE WOULD like to say thank you to all who helped with our sale. Especially our relatives, friends, neighbors and Fair Board members. Also for the food you brought. We couldn't have done it without all your help. Thank you from the bottom of our hearts. Dick & Judy Sorensen.
