Highway work to be discussed

The Nebraska Department of Roads will hold a Pre-Appraisal Information Open House on Tuesday, Feb. 23, concerning the improvement of Highway 35 in the Hoskins and Winside area.

The Open House will be from 4-6 p.m. at the Hoskins Fire Hall at 205 S. Main in Hoskins.

The Hoskins East project begins just west of the Hoskins Spur (S-90A) and runs east for approximately 5.5 miles, then north for approximately 0.5 miles.

The Winside South project begins where the Hoskins East project ends and extends north for approximately 4.7 miles to just south of the Winside Spur (S-90B). Work on both proposed projects on Highway 35 include grading, surfacing, culverts, and bridge replacement. Through traffic will be detoured on U.S.

Highway 81 and Nebraska Highway 98 during construction.

Controlled access and additional right-of-way will be required. Structures to be removed from the project include an abandoned basement, two storage buildings and a corncrib.

Around 1.34 acres of existing wetlands will be impacted. The mitigation site selected is located on the Hoskins East project in Wayne County.

Personnel from the Department of Roads will be available from 4-6 p.m. for informal discussions of the project with affected landowners.

Preliminary plans will be available for inspection at the Department of Roads District Office at 408 N. 13th St. in Norfolk, or in the Roadway Design Division located at 1500 Highway 2 in Lincoln.

Early morning accident

The Nebraska State Patrol investigated a one-vehicle accident eight miles west of Wayne on Thursday morning. The car left the highway and ended up on its top in the south ditch. No injuries were reported and no other information was available from the State Patrol.

Board adopts an amended budget

by Aubrey Parson
for The Herald

The Wayne Board of Education held a regular meeting Monday night. The main agenda item was adoption of the amended budget.

The Board voted unanimously to adopt the amended budget, which had been modified due to the passing of the bond issue last fall.

According to Dr. Joseph Reinert, district superintendent, the amendment gives the Board authority to spend the bond money once it is obtained. The amendment also keeps a record of where the money is going within the school district.

"In other action, the Board voted on a budget request made by District #57. The district had requested to increase the budget authority by $3608, making the total budget authority $41,556.

Dr. Reinert said District #57 plans to use the additional funds to increase salaries for teachers and to improve their fire alarm system.

"Status of the A+ High Ability Learners Program was discussed. Dr. Reinert reported that

City Council debates sidewalks, driveways

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Discussion about driveways and sidewalks took a considerable amount of time at Tuesday's Wayne City Council meeting.

Randy Pick spoke to the council about property his wife owns on Dearborn Street. Due to the Highway 35 construction, driveways on the property have been removed. Pick voiced concern that the driveways will not be replaced when the project is finished.

"I would like to have my original driveway back. I need two driveways on the east end of the property, as wide as the original driveways were. If this is taken care of now, the state will pay for the paving," Pick said.

Councilmen Doug Sturm said he felt there were lots of unanswered questions and the city should wait to see what the state wants to do with the driveway.

Pick had originally brought in three plans for the driveways and one of those had been approved by Pick and the council.

No action was taken on the request.

The council also discussed the proposed 1999 Sidewalk Improvement Project.

Work would be done in the southwest section of town and would involve replacing and installing new sidewalks in locations along Grainland Road, Third Avenue, First Street, Blaine Street

Main Street officials to visit Wayne

The week of Feb. 15 through Feb. 19 is an important week for the Wayne Main Street Program. Visiting Wayne and the Wayne Main Street Program during this week will be Michael Schroeder, Lied Main Street architect consultant.

Schroeder is affiliated with the Hoisington Koegler Group out of Minneapolis and has been working with Main Street communities throughout the country. The purpose of his visit will be to gain greater insight into the design needs of the Wayne community.

Schroeder will visit with numerous people while in Wayne including the mayor, city administrator, public works director, city engineer, and will attempt to gain an understanding of the history and culture of the Wayne area.

On Monday evening, Feb. 15, at 7 p.m. there will be a public meeting at the old Daylight Donut Building in downtown Wayne with Schroeder. The public is invited to share their ideas, opinions and feelings about how Wayne should look with Schroeder.

After several more days of visiting and learning more about the Wayne community, Schroeder will have another public meeting on Thursday evening at Riley's at 7 p.m. At this time it is expected that Schroeder will share his ideas about how the Wayne community could look and how the Main Street group may proceed.

On Thursday and Friday, Feb. 18 and 19, the Wayne Main Street Program is sponsoring four seminars covering the four areas of the Main Street Program. These seminars will be held at the Frey Suites in the Wayne State College Student Center. There is no charge and the public is invited and urged to attend one or all of the seminars or parts of any of them.

On Thursday at 9 a.m. a Promotion Seminar will be held led by Jan Schliessing. At 2 p.m. there will be an Economic Restructuring Seminar led by Dale Helmich. On Friday at 8:30 a.m. Jane Seaton will lead an Organization Structure Seminar. This will be followed by a Design Seminar led by Tim Reinders.

All seminar leaders are noted experts in their fields and have been presenting similar seminars throughout the country for Main Street Communities.

Their salaries and expenses are being paid for by the Nebraska Main Street Program and these services are being provided to Wayne and the Wayne Main Street Program as a service for being part of the Main Street Program.

Any questions about Schroeder's visit or the seminars can be directed to Reggie Yates or to any member of the Wayne Main Street organizing group Wayne students head to Washington D.C.

For one week in March, 28 Wayne High School juniors and seniors will be visiting the nation's capital.

The week of March 14-20 is the week for the Wayne High Close-Up trip and this year's group is the largest in recent history.

Among the highlights of the week's visit will be events such as Workshops Without Walls in which the students will visit a number of locations in the city.

Also on the week's agenda will be seminars, small group debates, speakers, and a visit to Capitol Hill.

The group will have the opportunity to meet with Representatives, Senators and their staff.

Visits to a number of monuments and a night at the theatre are also scheduled.

The group be accompanied by Wayne High teachers Judy Schafer and Annette Rasmussen.

"Close-Up pays for one sponsor with a minimum of five students. Because we have such a large group this year, they will pay for two sponsors to accompany the students," Mrs. Schafer said.

During the time the students are involved in workshops and seminars, activities are held for sponsors to attend. These include tours of the city, trips to locations such as Gettysburg, Annapolis and Alexandria, Sponsors and students go to Capitol Hill, the theatre and a final banquet together.

This is the fourth group of students Mrs. Schafer has sponsored for the trip. She stated that this is also the first time she has had sib-

Gas company to make changes

Beginning April 1, Peoples Natural Gas will no longer accept bill payments at its 208 North Main Street office in Wayne.

Peoples is seeking an alternate location in Wayne for its customers to pay bills, a company official said.

At the same time, the company is negotiating an agreement to allow Wayne's "Lied Main Street" project to use the front part of the office for its staff person on a rent-free basis.

"We will maintain our Wayne facility as an operations center for our four service and operations employees, and allow the city to use part of the building for this important community project," Scott Zaruba, customer operations director for Peoples in Norfolk, said. "Customers can continue to inquire about their bills and request appliance service 24-hours-a-day, seven-days-a-week by calling our customer service center at 1-800-303-0752.

Peoples made the decision to discontinue walk-in payments at the Wayne office following the planned retirement of Ruth Berglund. She served as Peoples' customer service representative at the Wayne office for nearly 20 years.

"Ruth has been an outstanding representative for Peoples in Wayne," said Zaruba. "She has been an excellent employee, and we wish Ruth the best in her retirement."

Zaruba said that in addition to paying bills in person, Peoples customers have several other bill-paying options. Of course, customers can always mail their payments in the return envelope that comes with each gas bill.

Another method is the CheckLINE® program, through which bills are paid automatically from customers' checking accounts.

Cholesterol screening planned

Providence Medical Center, the Wayne County Chapter of the American Heart Association and the Northeast Nebraska Area Agency on Aging will sponsor a cholesterol screening program on Thursday, Feb. 25.

Those wishing to have their blood tested can come to the hospital between the hours of 7:30 a.m. and 11:30 a.m. on that day.

The fee for the cholesterol screen is $8 and includes total cholesterol, LDL (bad) cholesterol, HDL (good) cholesterol, triglycerides and a calculated risk factor for heart disease. The Northeast Nebraska Area Agency on Aging will contribute $6 towards the fee for any senior citizen over the age of 60.

Persons taking part in this program should not ingest food for 12 hours prior to testing and should abstain from alcoholic beverages for 24 hours. Water intake does not need to be limited and regularly scheduled medications should be taken. A short questionnaire will be filled out prior to the blood being drawn by venipuncture.

Participants should plan on the whole procedure taking not more than 15 minutes and should obtain their results by mail within a week.

Educational material dealing with heart health, exercise and diet will be available.

Healthy hearts

In conjunction with American Heart Month and Catholic Schools Week, students at St. Mary's Elementary School participated in Jump Rope for Heart last week. The students spent the morning involved in a number of jump rope activities, including the Jump Rope Line. Approximately $1,500 was raised for the AHA.

committees dealing with standards and information gathering had been established.

Committee members will undergo in-service training that will help them develop standards to recognize high ability learners from kindergarten through 12th grade.

Dr. Reinert said that another issue the committee needs to address is how to deal with students that refuse to participate in school activities.

The Board discussed the details of a final disposition with Rambo & Associates. Dr. Reinert reported that he had contacted the firm about finishing up some of the projects they had already created.

"We're not sure how many of the plans they developed will still be used in the new plans," said Dr. Reinert.

The Board heard a report on the current status of the building projects. The elementary school project is on line and should be completed by August 31. Work on the roof will begin in March or April depending on the weather.

Dr. Reinert also said he had set up a meeting with Bahr, Vermeer & Haecker to begin contract negotiations on the middle school and high school renovation projects.

The Board selected the firm from a list of three potential candidates at a special meeting on Feb. 1.

"Our main priority is to get an educational consultant started on the job right away," said Dr. Reinert.

Dr. Reinert reported that the district is completing the final requirements for the Department of Commerce Distance Education Grant.

One requirement that still needs to be completed is the installation of a computer lab at the public library.

The district must also develop a transmission site at Northeast Community College in Norfolk.

Both of the projects must be completed by March 1.

A new computer lab was also installed at the high school using funds from the grant.

The Board voted in executive session to renew the contracts for the elementary, middle school, and high school principals.

The next regular meeting of the Board of Education will be held on February 22 at 7 p.m.

On parade

Kindergartners at Wayne and Carroll Elementary Schools put on a Penguin Parade last week for parents and guests. The children sang songs about penguins and each student recited a penguin fact. They also wore penguin outfits they had made. The activities came after a week of studying about the lives and habits of the penguin. Kindergarten teachers are Mrs. Patricia Jenkens and Mrs. Nicki Tiedtke.

and Wilcliff Drive.

Several areas in the district were discussed as to the feasibility and necessity of having sidewalks in certain locations. The project will be discussed at future meetings before being adopted.

Two public hearings were also held during the meeting.

The first dealt with a conditional use by exception permit to expand the current auto sales/display lot by Arnie's Ford Mercury.

A resolution allowing for the exception was approved by the council on an 8-0 vote.

The second hearing was a request by Lyle Remer to re-zone property on north Highway 35 from Agricultural to B-1 Highway Commercial.

A very specific area will be rezoned to allow for a building for commercial storage.

Following the public hearing, the council approved the ordinance allowing for the re-zoning and waived the three readings.

Representatives of People's Natural Gas were on hand to brief the council on changes in customer operations in Wayne.

Effective April 1, customers will no longer make payments at the present location on Main Street. Ruth Berglund, who has worked for People's Natural Gas for nearly 20 years will retire and the front part of the building will be used by Wayne's Main Street program.

A public hearing date of March 9 at 7:35 p.m. was set to consider a use by exception permit for a drive-up ATM at Seventh and Windom Streets for State National Bank.

In other action, the council received annual reports from the electric production department, the police department and the water/wastewater department.

Gene Hansen, Electrical Superintendent told the council that the electrical expansion project has been completed and the third engine which was purchased but not needed for the project has been sold.

Hansen also said his department is "doing everything we can to be prepared for the Y2K situation."

Lance Webster, Chief of Police, told the council that number of complaints and requests for service were up in 1998. There was a 34 percent increase in felony crimes and a 22 percent increase in misdemeanor crimes.

Chief Webster attributes the higher numbers to the multiple vandalism cases reported in November and the higher citizen awareness of the need to report crimes.

Harold Reynolds, Water and Wastewater Superintendent was present at Tuesday's meeting to answer questions concerning his report which had been presented at an earlier meeting.

Lions Club talent contest being planned

The Wayne Lions Club has scheduled its annual amateur talent contest for Sunday, March 21 at 2 p.m. at St. Mary's School basement.

Entry blanks for those wishing to participate will be distributed to area schools and teachers the week of March 1. The deadline for entries will be March 12.

Participants will compete in six divisions: eight years old and under; 9-11 years old; groups of three to nine persons, 11 years old and under; 12-14 years old; 15-18 years old and groups of three to nine persons, 12-18 years old.

The contestant's age on July 1, 1998 determine the division in which he or she competes. The age of the oldest contestant in a group determines the division in which the group competes.

Performances are limited to a maximum of four minutes. No acts using fire will be allowed. Judging is based on talent (30 points) perfection of performance (20 points) and audience.

First and second place winners will be named in each division and trophies will be awarded. First place winners will go on to compete in the Lions District Talent Contest in April and winners there will compete in the State Lions Talent Contest in Ogallala on June 4.

Those wishing additional information about the local talent contest should contact Fred Webber at (402) 375-1781.

Following the public hearing, the council approved the ordinance allowing for the re-zoning and waived the three readings.

Representatives of People's Natural Gas were on hand to brief the council on changes in customer operations in Wayne.

Effective April 1, customers will no longer make payments at the present location on Main Street. Ruth Berglund, who has worked for People's Natural Gas for nearly 20 years will retire and the front part of the building will be used by Wayne's Main Street program.

A public hearing date of March 9 at 7:35 p.m. was set to consider a use by exception permit for a drive-up ATM at Seventh and Windom Streets for State National Bank.

In other action, the council received annual reports from the electric production department, the police department and the water/wastewater department.

Gene Hansen, Electrical Superintendent told the council that the electrical expansion project has been completed and the third engine which was purchased but not needed for the project has been sold.

Hansen also said his department is "doing everything we can to be prepared for the Y2K situation."

Lance Webster, Chief of Police, told the council that number of complaints and requests for service were up in 1998. There was a 34 percent increase in felony crimes and a 22 percent increase in misdemeanor crimes.

Chief Webster attributes the higher numbers to the multiple vandalism cases reported in November and the higher citizen awareness of the need to report crimes.

Harold Reynolds, Water and Wastewater Superintendent was present at Tuesday's meeting to answer questions concerning his report which had been presented at an earlier meeting.

"CheckLINE saves" customers from having to write a check each month, as well as the cost of postage," Zaruba said.

Another payment option for customers is StreamLINE®, which bills customers the same amount each month. The amount is based on the average of their preceding year's bills.

"StreamLINE has proven to be a very helpful budgeting tool for many of our customers. And, when combined with the CheckLINE program, many customers find that bill payments become very convenient," Zaruba added.

Customers may sign up for either the CheckLINE or StreamLINE programs by calling 1-800-303-0752.

The group includes 19 juniors and nine seniors.

They are Alison Baier, Rebeca Brumm, Hailey Daehnke, Ryan Dahl, Billie Davle, Heidi Dickes, Kristin Ewing, Jessica Hansen, Heidi Headley, Monica Krenk, Erick Lutt, Jill Mader, Amy Magnuson, Erin Milander, Nick Muir, Molly Muir, Jason Parks, Scott Reinhardt, Scot Saul, Erin Simpson, Greta Smith, Abby Spahr, Ryan Stoltenberg, Brent Tietz, Lindsay Woehler, Jessica Woehler, Brian Hochstein and Kristin Hochstein.

The process of informing the students about the benefits of the Close-Up program begins in May when Mrs. Schafer talks to all the junior and senior English students. Those that indicate an interest will receive a mailing with additional information.

The group begins meeting on a regular basis in September and parents are also required to attend informational meetings.

Fundraising begins in October. This year the group sold frozen pies and cookie dough, hosted a pancake feed and worked at the concession stand at athletic events. Several raffles were also held.

In addition, last fall the group earned money by working at an Open House at Pac 'N' Save.

"The generosity of the financial institutions, major employers and service organizations is very much appreciated by the students," Mrs. Schafer said.

Tips for Parents

Bringing Up Baby

You can't see them, but at birth your baby already has 20 primary teeth, some of which are almost completely formed in the jaw. Wiping baby's gums with a clean, damp cloth after feeding will remove the plaque and bacteria that can harm erupting teeth. Usually, the first four teeth begin to appear when the baby is between age six months and one year.

GOVERNOR JOHANNNS OFFERS DIRECT PROPERTY TAX RELIEF PLAN

By Governor Mike Johanns

Dear Nebraska Neighbors:

Since I announced my budget proposal and direct property tax relief plan last week, the reaction by Nebraskans has been overwhelmingly positive. Nebraskans recognize that the more government spends, the more tax dollars must be taken from citizens' pockets. The small business owner, the retired couple living on a fixed income, the family trying to save for a child's college education, the factory owner seeking to invest in Nebraska's economy, or the farmer facing difficult times are all affected by the tax burden.

I believe state government must work to be as focused and as efficient as possible. Tax dollars do not give us a licence to spend at will, but rather provide the precious resources with which to fund our state's priorities. In other words, we have a responsibility to take as little as possible from taxpayers and give back what we don't need. This is the basis for my budget recommendation and property tax relief plan.

My proposal challenges us to limit state spending consistently to about 3% annually. If we do and our economy can continue to grow, at least $400 million will go back into our local economies in the next three years alone.

The plan is straightforward and focused on direct property tax relief. To calculate your own property tax refund, simply take 11% of your property tax bill for 1999. This percentage can go up or down depending on Nebraska's economic strength, but whatever savings we can muster from efficient government and excess tax receipts will go back to Nebraska taxpayers. It's that simple.

Nebraskans want a government that is lean, focused, and accountable. But more importantly, Nebraskans also want and deserve tax relief. Not only because my plan proposes putting $400 million dollars will go back into the pockets of real property taxpayers, but because they need to send a child to college, or they're trying to open a new business, or they're on a fixed income, or times have been tough.

The issue of tax relief is one of choices. Who better can use Nebraskans' hard-earned money, government or taxpayers. I believe, as most Nebraskans believe, the answer is the family farmer, the small business owner, the rancher, and the Nebraska family.

This week marks my first full month as your Governor. The mood in Nebraska is positive and hopeful for the future. I am convinced, now more than ever, that quality and potential exist in every part of the state. As someone said to me recently, we are sitting on a gold mine; we just have to find a way to mine it. I believe we can do so as a "Nebraska United."

Students on Dean's List

Philip Morgan and Wendi Schroeder, both of Allen, are among the list of students named to the Dean's List for the fall 1998 semester at the University of Nebraska at Kearney (UNK).

Morgan is majoring in Music Performance and Schroeder is majoring in Social Work Comprehensive at UNK.

To earn a place on the Dean's List, university students must complete 12 hours or more (for which quality points are rewarded) with a grade point average of 3.5 or better on a 4.0 scale. Students earn 4.0 for an "A," a 3.0 for a "B," and 2.0 for a "C." Courses taken on a credit/no credit basis cannot be included among the necessary 12 credit hours, because quality points A,B,C are not awarded.

What might the last election mean?

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association
Sometimes a fellow sits down to interview a subject on the usual political stuff and, instead of coming up with the usual, manages to mine a little gold.

Among the first questions put to the subject of my inquiries: "What might the last election mean?"

"A period of prolonged and extreme political instability of the next four years are characterized by a domination of the Republican new right over the Republican Party," is one possibility, he said.

"The tone and rhetoric four years from now could be as harsh and as cathartic against American business, American corporate interests, as it was this time against big government and bureaucracy," said the fellow sitting across from me. "I think if that extreme pendulum swinging takes place our society is in great, great danger... of being torn apart... socially, economically and politically."

"The positive side is that the Republicans could take a moderate stance in governing, and contribute constructively to disciplining both government and corporate America," said my exceedingly experienced source.

"If the Republicans take an extreme stance, as the recent election would indicate they are prone to do, I think the reaction against that will be extreme," said my source. "You'll have a growth of extremism in terms of environmentalists... in terms of anti-corporate philosophy... and the bogey man of the next election will be, not big government, but government slavishly obedient to a few economic interests and, therefore, the enemy of the people."

My next question was: Who runs the government?

The answers:
The major, international oil companies. The military-industrial complex. The American health care industry.

"The size and cost of the federal government is primarily determined by the consumption of health care dollars and consumption of dollars for defense."

"You take these two components of our federal budget, and you have by far the largest portion of what is recognized today as uncontrollable costs," spoke my interviewee.

After reviewing the above quotations, I concluded that my subject certainly seemed to know his stuff. He was decidedly on top of the issues facing 1999 America.

One other thing... The contents of the above interview were first published on Monday, November 17, 1980. The subject was then Rep. John Cavanaugh, who had retired from Congress.

Every so often a fellow sits down to interview a subject on the usual political stuff, and, instead, mines a little gold.

Since the approach is out of the bag, I'll skip the window dressing and toss this one to you: "If I am elected governor it is not likely that there will be a nuclear dump in Boyd County or in Nebraska."

Remember? The subject was then-candidate for governor Ben Nelson. The publication date was Oct. 15, 1990.

Goes to show you what it goes to show you.

Giving more strategies

The last few weeks this column has reviewed some of the major findings from a National Council for Urban Economic Development study on economic development National Council for Urban Economic Development study on economic development implications for the "new economy."

The following are some ideas on how communities can assist local industries to succeed in meeting the challenges of the new economy.

Challenge: U.S. companies must learn to compete for foreign markets and customers.

Response: Local communities can help put local industries in touch with regional, state and federal organizations and agencies involved in exporting. Training can be made available within the community on meeting product standards and other market requirements. Most experts agree that the most effective assistance occurs when local companies receive one-on-one counseling on export trade. Perhaps the local community can help identify regional resources who can come into the community and provide such hands on assistance.

Challenge: Companies are downsizing, decentralizing and outsourcing.

Response: This provides a greater opportunity for smaller, more rural communities to produce products and services formerly produced in house by large corporations. Communities should work with local industries and former residents with ties to the large downsizing firms for leads on outsourcing business opportunities.

Challenge: High technology, particularly its applications, has spread to almost every kind of service and industry.

Response: Communities must strive to make the new technology infrastructure available to their local industries. This includes fiber optic cable, digital switching and employment related generic skills in such areas as: 1) basic reading, writing and computation, 2) speaking and listening well, 3) creative thinking and problem solving and 4) personal improvement and motivation.

Additional challenges and opportunities will be discussed next week.

Homeowners to benefit from new program

The Wayne Community Housing Development Corporation and the Farmers & Merchants State Bank of Wayne have been granted $105,664 from the Federal Home Loan Bank of Topeka "Affordable Housing Program."

The money will be available for downpayment assistance and owner rehabilitation loans for at least 30 low- to moderate-income families in and around Wayne.

Farmers & Merchants State Bank is a member of the Federal Home Loan Bank system and provides the community of Wayne access to the Affordable Housing Program. Wayne Community Housing Development Corporation (WCHDC) is the local nonprofit sponsor providing the program expertise to administer the project.

The project, known as the Wayne First-Time Homebuyer and Owner Rehabilitation Fund, call for three components. Ten families whose income is at or below 80 percent of the Wayne County median income will receive downpayment assistance to purchase their first home.

Fifteen families who presently own their own homes and live at or below 80 percent of the area median income will be able to rehabilitate their houses at 50 percent subsidy. Five families who own their own homes and are at or below 50 percent of the area median income will be able to rehabilitate their homes at 100 percent subsidy.

The project is also charged with assisting special needs families by committing at least three of the 30 units for large families, two of the units for elderly families and one unit for other-type special needs, for example, persons with disabilities. It will also empower its participants by requiring homebuyer education for all downpayment assistance recipients and providing other housing support services in partnership with the staff of the Meadowview Estates rental project.

The Affordable Housing Program grant is the first piece of project financing to be in place. The other element of funding involves matching funds from the Department of Housing and Urban Development HOME program. These funds will be sought by WCHDC during the month of February. Successful application for HOME funds will be announced in April. Therefore, Wayne First-Time Homebuyer and Owner Rehabilitation Funds may be available as early as mid-April.

Thank you for giving gift of life

Dear Editor,

To all those donors who give on a regular basis we say "Thank you." Words cannot express just how important the act of "Giving the Gift of Life" is to millions of patients in the United States everyday.

The Siouxland Community Blood Bank currently needs to collect 625 units of blood each week in order to fully supply the 13 area hospitals we are serving. This is an increase over last year and as with all things increases do not come easily.

To help us meet the increased need for the blood products, the blood bank has adopted a program called "Donate 4 Life."

If each of our donors who currently only give once or even twice a year would donate 4 times in this next year we would meet all our needs. If you are one of those people who wait to be called we need you to donate on a regular basis also.

"Donate 4 Life" will help get all donors in the habit of giving regularly. If you are willing to make the commitment to register to donate 4 times this year we will in turn give you a T-shirt with the "I GAVE THE GIFT DONATE 4 LIFE" logo, so you can show the world you are committed to Saving lives in Siouxland.

The Siouxland Blood Bank will be in Wayne on Feb. 25 at the Providence Medical Center from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. We need to see you there.

Hog prices have not changed

Editors' Note: The following letter was submitted by Janell Nelson of Wakefield. It was sent to her father. She noted the comparison in hog prices from 1930 to late 1998.

Aug. 22, 1930

Mr. Emil Tarnow
Wakefield, Neb.

Dear Sir:

We are inclosing account of sale of the 21 hogs which we sold for you today.

We cut out three head of butchers and sold two of the heaviest ones at 10.35 and one lighter one at 10.45. The balance sold at 9.00 with one out that had to go subject.

This looks fully steady with yesterday's market. Our market today was steady to 15¢ lower with the practical top at 10.85.

Thanking you very kindly for the consignment and trusting the sale will be satisfactory to you, we are,
Very truly yours,

Wildcats ranked third in nation with 20-2 record

WSC men win 17th straight

By Kevin Peterson
Of the Herald

Not even the flubbug could stop WSC's win streak last week as Greg McDermott's Wayne State men's basketball team improved to 20-2 on the season and stretched the school-record setting win streak to 17 games.

The 'Cats played in Marshall, Minn., against Southwest State with several players battling both the flu and the Mustangs.

Despite trailing by seven points at the half WSC rallied to post a 65-62 victory in the closest game they've played since November.

The 'Cats came out strong as Jon Dolliver scored the game's first points and Matt VanVoorst added the next three for a 5-0 lead.

The 'Cats built a seven point advantage at 27-20 on a pair of free throws by Jason Herlitzke but Southwest State closed out the final six minutes of the first half with a 19-5 scoring run to lead, 39-32.

"We dug ourselves a hole during the last part of the first half," McDermott said. "However, I thought Scott Hansen's three-point er late in the first half propelled us because we went into the locker room trailing by single digits and not by double digits."

As has been the case throughout this successful campaign, WSC went on a one of its patented scoring runs to open the second half.

A 13-0 run gave the 'Cats a 45-39 lead. WSC's biggest lead in the second half was seven points on three occasions with the last coming at the 8:03 mark at 59-52.

WSC did struggle during the game's final three minutes from the free throw line, hitting just two of eight from the charity stripe.

The game did come down to a last second shot with WSC leading by three at 65-62 with five seconds left. Southwest State hurried down the floor and Jason Diaz put some pressure on the shooter built he still had a good look at the bucket. Eric Henderson altered the final shot attempt which drew iron—conserving the win.

"I felt the start of the second half was the key to the game," McDermott said. "We had our backs against the wall with sickness but we still found a way to win on the road and that's what you have to do."

The 'Cats hit 45 percent of their shots from the floor but hit just 48 percent from the free throw line on 13-of-27 attempts.

Brad Joens nailed six, three-pointers en route to a game-high 20 points. Joens hit four of this three's in the second half including a shot clock buzzer beating 32-footer that did nothing but tickle the twine.

Matt VanVoorst scored all 11 of his points in the first half as the 'Cats had just two in double figures.

WSC edged the host team on the boards, 38-37 led by Dolliver's seven rebounds. Dolliver also led the winners with five assists.

SATURDAY IN WAYNE the 'Cats posted their 20th win of the season—the third consecutive season with at least 20 wins.

WSC took Minnesota-Morris' best shot in the first half and led 42-36 before blasting the visitors in the second half en route to an easy 85-60 victory.

"Morris played very well in the first half," McDermott said. "They hit some tough shots and after looking at the game film I'm not nearly as disappointed in our defensive effort because we had a hand in the shooters face consistently."

As hard as the 'Cats are to defend with a number of offensive weapons another offensive threat made his presence known as Rory Williams slam-dunked a couple of Morris runs with three-pointers.

"This was Rory's best game," McDermott said. "He hit a couple critical shots for us."

Brad Joens scored a game-high 20 points for the second consecutive game, this time with five, three-pointers.

Matt VanVoorst also scored in double figures with 17 points. Eleven Wildcat players entered the scoring column.

WSC edged the visitors on the boards by just one at 39-38 with Eric Henderson hauling down eight rebounds to lead the winners.

Joens also dishied out a career-high seven assists and had no turnovers in 27 minutes of playing time.

WSC will travel to play Drury College in Springfield, Missouri on Saturday afternoon before hosting Briar Cliff on Wednesday night.

Tyler Johnson incidentally, continues to climb the record charts at WSC. He is currently third on the all-time scoring list with 1,526 points—just 51 points shy of moving into second place ahead of Dennis Siefkes.

He owns the career assist mark at 668 and is currently second in free throw attempts (667) and made free throws (477). Larry Coney currently holds those marks at 699 and 525, respectively.

Although just a sophomore Brad Joens is already sixth on the career made three-point field goals with 132.

Mike Fitzner holds the record at 259. Joens has a chance to move into second place in made three-pointers in a season with 99. He currently has 77 with five games remaining and is fourth on the charts.

Jason Diaz is fifth all-time in made three-pointers for a career at 162 and Tyler Johnson needs just 37 assists over the final five games to etch his name in first, second and third in most assists per season.

Johnson dished out 184 assists last season which is first and he had 170 assists as a sophomore which is second. He currently has 130 assists and his eighth but Joe Peitzmeier's 160 total assists in a season is with in sight for third place.

WSC REMAINED THIRD in the national poll behind Kentucky Wesleyan and Salem Teikyo (W. Virginia). Pittsburg St. of Kansas is fourth and LeMoyne Owen—the nation's only ranked undefeated team is fifth.

Wayne State of Michigan is sixth and Cal-Davis is seventh followed by Fairmont St. of W. Virginia and South Dakota Southern Indiana rounds out the top 10 teams.

WSC, USD and Metro State are the only regional teams in the top 25.

Regionally, WSC held the top spot as of last week's ranking with USD in second place and Metro State in third.

Ryan Dahl goes up for the two hand slam dunk during the Blue Devils 16-point win over O'Neill last Thursday night in Wayne. Dahl finished with 22 points and had 11 boards. He also had two slam dunks.

Wayne wrestlers win Norfolk-Catholic meet to end regular season

The Wayne Blue Devils wrestling team captured championship honors at the Norfolk Catholic Invitational last Saturday—the final regular season outing before this weekend's district tournament.

John Murtaugh's team racked up 198 points to easily down runner-up Stanton with 162 and Pierce with 133.5. Albion was fourth with 111 and Battle Creek, fifth with 82 while Norfolk Catholic was sixth with 74.

Norfolk's reserves scored 41 points and West Point C.C. netted 24.5 while Madison rounded out the team scoring with 8.5 points.

All 13 of Wayne's varsity wrestlers came home with medals including a trio of gold medal winners.

Jay Endicott copped top honors at 125 with a 4-2 win over Randy Okon of Stanton in the finals while Tim Zach (171) placed first with a 5-3 win over Hank Hartl of Stanton in the championship. Casey Junck (215) placed first with a pin of Battle Creek's Robbie Klinetobe in the finals.

Wayne's Josh Murtaugh became the winningest wrestler in Wayne school history with 109 victories to his credit. He broke the mark of 107 set by Mike DeNaeyer.

Murtaugh suffered just his second loss of the season against unbeaten Randy Hansen of Stanton, 6-3.

"It came down to the end," coach Murtaugh said. "Josh felt he should have been more aggressive on his feet but it was a great match between two outstanding wrestlers." Murtaugh added that the match could benefit both Josh and Randy yet this season.

"Overall it was a solid performance by our team," Murtaugh said. "This should give us momentum heading into the district meet. Jay, Tim and Casey wrestled extremely well on their way to individual championships."

The Wayne mentor said it was great to see everyone of the Wayne grapplers medal in the regular season finale.

Wrestlers finishing second at Norfolk Catholic included Dan Nelson (119), Chris Junck (130), Gabe Hammer (140), Chris Woehler (145), Josh Murtaugh (152) and Darin Jensen (160).

Casey Campbell (103), Danny Roerber (135) and Jesse Rethwisch (189) each placed third and Lucas Munter (112) placed fourth.

Wayne will host the B-4 District Tournament this Friday and Saturday at the high school gym.

Action begins 4 p.m. with first round preliminaries. Quarterfinals and first round wrestle backs will take place around 5:45 p.m. and second round wrestle backs will take place at 7:30 p.m.

Saturday action resumes with semifinals and third round wrestle backs at 10 a.m.

Consolation semifinals will take place at 1 p.m. and the finals will begin around 2:30 p.m.

Wayne is hosting a district tournament for the first time in school history.

The last time a Blue Devils team went 8-0 in duels during the regular season was 1991—the year Wayne placed runner-up at State.

Rocky Ruhl's Wayne boys basketball team won a pair of contests last week to improve to 9-7 on the season with just three games remaining before sub-district play begins.

The Blue Devils blasted visiting O'Neill last Thursday, 68-52 in a game that wasn't as close as the final score would indicate.

The visitors jumped out to a 7-2 lead quickly before Wayne answered. The host Blue Devils led 16-14 after one quarter of play and stretched the lead to double digits by halftime at 35-25.

Wayne continued to distance themselves from the Eagles in the third quarter as they took a 51-37 lead into the fourth quarter where they eventually built the lead to 20 points before settling for the 16-point victory.

"We played four quarters of basketball and really stepped it up," Ruhl said. "We had to play with out the services of John Magnuson who sprained an ankle in practice the night before and wasn't able to put any pressure on it."

The Blue Devils responded by having four players in double figures led by Ryan Dahl's 22 points and 11 rebounds.

Klinton Keller shared Wayne's offense with four, three-pointers en route to a 15-point outing and Joel Munson tossed in 14. Eric McLagan was also in double figures with a dozen points.

Dustin Schmeits tallied three points and Jon Meyer scored two. Wayne edged the Eagles on the boards, 34-30 with McLagan adding seven caroms to Dahl's 11 boards.

The Blue Devils turned the ball over 12 times while forcing 16

O'Neill turnovers and Wayne's free throw shooting improve drastically from the game before with a 16-25 effort. O'Neill sank 20-of-27 attempts from the line.

Saturday in Tilden the Blue Devils overcame some red-hot shooting from Elkhorn Valley to post a 65-56 victory.

The host Falcons drained six, three-pointers in nine attempts in the first half and led Wayne by a point at 32-31.

"We challenged the kids to really step it up on defense in the second half even though we didn't play that badly in the first half," Ruhl said. "Elkhorn Valley really hit some big shots with a hand in their face in the first half."

Wayne's starters only gave up 20 points to the host team in the second half and Ruhl was very proud of the defensive effort.

After sitting out Thursday's game with O'Neill John Magnuson returned to the lineup on Saturday and enjoyed a career performance with 18 points while hauling down six rebounds.

Ryan Dahl scored 14 points and Eric McLagan tallied 13 while Joel Munson netted eight. Dustin Schmeits finished with five points with Jon Meyer and Klinton Keller scoring three each and Shane Baack, one.

Dahl and McLagan shared team honors with Magnuson on the boards with six rebounds each. Wayne hit 19-of-26 free throw attempts for 73 percent.

Ruhl credited Eric McLagan for playing solid defense on Elkhorn Valley's 6-6 freshman.

Wayne will play at Madison on Friday night—the team they will most likely play in the first round of sub-districts on Feb. 22.

IN JUNIOR VARSITY play the Blue Devils improved to 11-2 on the year with a pair of wins over O'Neill, 58-42 and Elkhorn Valley, 39-29.

Against O'Neill Trevor Wright paced the winners with 14 points while Dustin Schmeits and Jon Meyer scored eight each.

Adam Ellingson netted six points with Craig Olson, Ben Meyer, Anthony Sump and Shane Baack finishing with four points each.

Ethan Mann and Jon Gathje each netted two points with Jeremy Dorcey and Brandon Garvin scoring one apiece.

Wayne had three players with seven points each in the win over Elkhorn Valley including Trevor Wright, Brandon Garvin and Jon Meyer.

Shane Baack added five and Ben Meyer along with Brad Hochstein netted four apiece while Dustin Schmeits and Anthony Sump tallied two each. Kyle Minds rounded out the scoring with a free throw.

Wayne sophomore Eric McLagan draws two O'Neill defenders during second half action of last Thursday's game. Wayne takes a 9-7 record to Madison on Friday.

Allen boys notch third season victory

ALLEN—The Allen boys basketball team notched win number three last week with a 67-59 win over Walthill. The Eagles trailed 31-30 at the half but took a 44-39 lead into the fourth period.

"We jumped out to a 9-2 lead and looked like we might run away with it," Allen coach Doug Schnack said. "But a combination of cool shooting and Mike Parker from Walthill scoring 39 points made things exciting."

Allen had its own scoring sensation as Ken Rahn notched a career-high 25 points. BJ Gotch scored 15 and Micky Oldenkamp, 11. Austen Stewart finished with six and Brian Sullivan, five while Joe Sullivan tallied three and Adam Gensler, two.

"Ken did a nice job of taking the ball to the hoop," Schnack said. "He also recognized when the inside was plugged and hit the outside shot. He did a real nice job for us coming off the bench."

WSC cager Brad Joens earns MVP status

WAYNE—Wayne State College sophomore Brad Joens was named the Nebraska Division II men's player of the week last week for his contributions in the 'Cats wins over Southwest State and Minnesota-Morris.

Joens, a 6-3 guard from Cedar Rapids, Iowa helped WSC improve to 20-2 and extend its school-record winning streak to 17 games with a 65-62 win over Southwest State in which he scored 20 points. He matched his career-high of six, three-pointers and five rebounds. He was 7-15 from the field.

Joens scored 12 of his 20 points in the second half as WSC rallied from a seven-point deficit. He hit consecutive three-pointers to cap a 13-0 scoring run to start the second half.

Joens followed that with another 20-point performance in WSC's 85-60 win over Minnesota-Morris. He sank five, three-pointers and dished out a career-high seven assists to aid the third-ranked 'Cats.

Wayne freshman, sophomores compete

WAYNE—Wayne's freshman girls basketball team was defeated by Madison, 29-25 recently and fell to 7-2 on the season. The Blue Devils hit just 15 percent of its shots from the foul line and 27 percent from the field. April Thede led Wayne with nine points with Karla Keller and Kari Harder adding four each. Katie Nelson, Jamie Sharer, Christina Gathje and Lindsay Stoltenberg tallied two each. Harder hauled down a team high seven rebounds with Thede grabbing six.

Wayne gals fall to Lady Falcons

The Wayne girls basketball team fell to 2-15 on the season with a 47-26 setback at Elkhorn Valley last Saturday night.

John McLarnen's team trailed 29-10 at the half and 41-20 after three quarters of play.

"Poor shooting was once again the difference in the game," McLarnen said. "Despite getting a lot of good shots we were only able to hit 17 percent (9-52) for the game," he added. "I thought our execution of the offense was good but we were unable to get the shots to fall."

McLarnen said defensively his team did the things they needed to do. "We held them to a low shooting percentage at 35 percent, kept the boards cleared and forced more turnovers than what we had but we just couldn't overcome poor shooting on our end."

Sara Ellis led Wayne with seven points with Katie Walton, Heidi Johnson and Beth Loberg adding four each. Brooke Parker tallied three points and Jessica Woehler along with April Thede scored two apiece.

Kallie Krugman led Wayne on the boards with eight rebounds with Kristin Hochstein and Jessica Woehler hauling down five caroms each.

Then on Monday the Blue Devils will play Madison again—this time in the first round of sub-district play at Norfolk High at 6:15 p.m. The other first round sub-district tilt is between Wisner-Pilger and Norfolk Catholic.

Fr. Salanito to direct comedy

"It's a Scream," a comedy by David deBoy, will be presented by Wayne State College students under the direction of Father Al Salanito of Laurel on Feb. 21 at 2 p.m.; Feb. 22 at 8 p.m. and Feb. 23 at 8 p.m. in Ley Theatre, located in the Brandenburg Education Building on campus. There will be no admission charge.

Cast members include Professor Andre Sedriks of Wayne as "Alexander Moreau," Eric Dwight of Lincoln as "Spencer Pierce," Adam Baker of Omaha as "Maxie," Ivy McShannon of McCook as "Marie" and Becky Ziemba of Silver Creek as "Lizzie."

"It's enjoyable being just an actor. It's kind of relaxing," Sedriks said of becoming a cast member rather than his usual role as a WSC director.

The setting for the comedy is the home of Moreau, an older horror movie actor. A new young movie studio director believes he has "lost his scare." The comedy takes place in the late 1950s when movie monsters began to transform from mere scary monsters to the bigger, bolder monsters of the 1960s.

The younger director, Pierce, has inherited the studio and wants to make changes, starting with firing Moreau. To avoid losing his career, Moreau must scare Pierce. Moreau is assisted by his housekeeper and chauffeur. This motive provides the characters with three acts of slapstick comedy.

"The play will include physical comedy and movement of the actors for a slapstick-style action revisited with one-liners for the audience's enjoyment," Father Salanito said.

The physical comedy aspect of the play fits in well with Father Salanito's thesis and research on the past history of comedy and its influences from Greeks, Romans, and through the Middle Ages.

"The chance to be able to work with college students in the theatre is what I'm looking forward to most," Father Salanito said.

In the past, Father Salanito has worked with elementary, high-school and community theatre cast members. He said the college level performers have been very serious and professional. Many of the WSC cast members are freshmen.

"I have enjoyed my connection with the master of science in education program. I have focused on education and have been learning about making my teaching more effective," Father Salanito said.

Father Salanito is a graduate assistant in communications, serves as chaplain and helps with the Newman Club. His previous education includes an associate degree in nursing from College of St. Mary in Omaha, bachelor of arts degree in religion from Conception Seminary in Conception, Missouri; bachelor of science degree in theatre from WSC and masters in divinity degree from Mundelein Seminary in Mundelein, Ill. Father Salanito will graduate with theatre emphasis for a masters of science in education from WSC in May 1999.

Father Al Salanito

Father Salanito serves the parishes of St. Mary's Catholic Church in Laurel and St. Anne's Catholic Church in Dixon.

TRAVELS TO AFRICA

The place of Nebraska and the United States in the global community, understandings of others and opportunities for agriculture and commerce were observed first-hand during the recent 16-day Nebraska LEAD Program International Study/Travel Seminar to South Africa, Mozambique and Swaziland. Among the participants was Lisa Luna of Wakefield.

The purpose of the International Study/Travel Seminar is to encourage leadership development through concentrated learning and exposure to economics, foreign policy, education, religions, government, history, social-culture understanding, and the arts and the people of the areas visited, said Allen Blezak, Nebraska LEAD Program Director and delegation leader.

The seminar included formal briefings at American embassies and interaction with American businesses abroad, agricultural trade and commodity groups, as well as agricultural businesses, and producers in the various countries.

The group also visited schools, institutions of higher education, health care facilities, agricultural organizations and cultural sites, and participated in various cultural events.

LEAD "fellows" were not only excited, but at times nearly overwhelmed about their experiences and involvement with the cultures of people from other nations.

"The international study/travel experience has opened my eyes to the true meaning and impact of our 'global community.' We are all so interdependent upon each other," said Todd Iback of Summer.

"I have been truly blessed to be a part of such a well-organized, all-inclusive, educational program. So much, so fast, and yet so relevant and meaningful. This experience will truly impact my life in the years ahead," said Jeff Horst of Lincoln.

"The International study/travel brings all of our seminars together, through first-hand experiences and exposure, to provide an educational opportunity second to none," said Cash Ostrander of Gordon.

Other LEAD participants were Mark Casperes and Debora Heidzig, of Auburn; Boyd Stuhr of Brandshaw; David Messman of Bruning; Tom Beck of Clarks; Terry Dittmer of Crete; Edna Igerle of Elba; Anita Keys of Elsmere; Alan Feller, of Fremont; Joe Keiser of Gottenburg; Diane Keller of Harvard, Mark Swanson of Imperial; Dan Burling, of Kenosaw; Tim Gubbels of Laurel; Dawn Kucera of Madison, Mark Luetchens of Murdock; Craig Hoxmeier of Orlens; Steve Retzlaff, of Palmar, Steve MacGregor of Plainview, Kevin Slama of Rising City; Tom Hindman of Rushville; Brad Stephens of St. Edwards; Reba Bergt of Schuyler; Kelly Wertz, of Trenton, Lyle Rovik of Wausa and Todd Schroeder of Wisner

New tax laws go into effect

Estate taxes
The new Federal tax law (Tax Payer Relief Act of 1997) provides the gradual increase of the amount that can be transferred to heirs free of federal estate taxes.

The unified estate and gift tax exemption will gradually rise from $600,000 for an individual to $1 million by the year 2006. The 1998 exemption is $625,000. Therefore, the higher limits will provide greater tax savings to heirs. Below are the new exemptions by year.

Year	Exemption
1998	$625,000
1999	$650,000
2000	$675,000
2001	$675,000
2002	$700,000
2003	$700,000
2004	$850,000
2005	$950,000
2006	$1,000,000

In addition to the unified estate and gift tax exemption, heirs to family-owned businesses and farms may also get a tax exemption beginning in 1998 if the business or farm comprises more than 50 percent of the decedent's estate.

The over 50 percent ownership exemption and unified estate and gift tax exemption, combined, is restricted to $1.3 million. The exemption cap of $1.3 million does not change by year in the new law. This over 50 percent ownership credit is valued at $675,000 in 1998, but declines to $300,000 in 2006 due to the unified estate and gift tax exemption increasing.

Capital gains tax cuts
The new tax law allows investors to reduce the amount they pay on Federal income taxes due to a new capital gains tax provisions.

The rate of income tax on capital gains depends upon the holding period of the securities sold. The maximum marginal Federal tax rate imposed on capital gains is as follows:
Date of Sale: After July 28, 1997-

Cooperative Extension
Karen Wermers Dixon

Holding Period— More than 18 months— Maximum Rate— 20 percent—Date of Sale— After July 28, 1997— Holding Period— More than one year, but less than 18 months— Maximum rate— 28 percent— Date of sale— After May 6, before July 29, 1997— Holding period— More than one year— maximum rate— 20 percent— Date of Sale— Before May 7, 1997— holding period— More than one year— maximum rate— 28 percent

The maximum Federal tax rate for short-term capital gains (property held one year or less) remains at 39.6 percent regardless of the date of sale.

The maximum Federal tax rate will be reduced to 18 percent for capital gains on property held more than five years and acquired after Dec. 31, 2000.

Homeowners may also benefit from the new law in regards to capital gain: Capital gains on home sales can be excluded up to $500,000 for married taxpayers and $250,000 single taxpayers on homes purchased after May 6, 1997 as long as the home served as the principal residence.

See your legal and tax advisor to maximize the benefits of the new law.

"If I ask Dr. Feidler a question, he's got the answer..."

"If I ask Dr. Feidler a question, he's got the answer right there. To me that's worth a lot. He told me I had a cataract. It kept me from watching TV. I couldn't see very far.

Now, I can see things I hadn't seen in a long time, like different crops and leaves on trees. I'd recommend Dr. Feidler to anybody. I'd come here before I went anywhere else.

The staff at Feidler Eye Clinic make you feel real comfortable and if you need any help, they are right there to help you."

The day's activities featured presentations and demonstrations by university faculty on topics such as industrial, civil, mechanical, electrical, chemical and biological systems engineering, construction management, and computer science and engineering. The program also included a panel discussion with professional women engineers.

Pastor talks about Africa

Pastor Samweli Kiwelu who serves the Kotela Lutheran Parish on the slopes of Mount Kilimanjaro, who is spending time in northeast Nebraska, spoke to a group of Social Science students at Wayne State College last week.

Pastor Kiwelu discussed with his audience what life was like in Africa.

He said that he lives on a 10-acre farm, which is considered very large. The farm has dairy cows, goats and a number of fruits.

Pastor Kiwelu said that in his county "highways are very nice in my county but country roads are not good. Only 20 percent of the people have cars. Buses are very common."

He also told his audience that in Tanzania there are more than 120 tribes, each speaking different languages.

"You are born into a tribe. I was very lucky to have been born in Kilimanjaro. We speak Swahili and learn English in school," Pastor Kiwelu said.

He went on to describe marriage customs in Tanzania by stating that the community is involved. Families and clans are united through the rituals. Children belong to society.

The country has only a two percent divorce rate. Marriages are for life. Some tribes in the country allow men to have more than one wife.

"The women's jobs are to cook, wash, gather wood and go to the market. They are generally more responsible for child-rearing.

In the area of education, more than 80 percent of the people in Tanzania can read and write.

"There are seven years of primary school. After that there are four years of junior secondary school and two years of high school. Only a few students go on to secondary school because before being allow to go, you must take an exam," Pastor Kiwelu said.

Pastor Kiwelu stressed that everything that is available in the United States is available in his country.

"We have many rich people in my country but we also have many, many poor people. In some areas it is still necessary to boil the water," he said.

Pastor Kiwelu will be here until March 8.

Depression support group offered

The Wayne United Methodist Church has announced that it is starting up a group for people whose lives have been touched with depression.

The group is open to the community and will reach out spiritually to people in the midst of the hard times which do come to all of us at various moments of life.

Meeting times are Wednesday nights at 8 p.m.

The group will meet in the lower level of the Christian Education building. Those attending can enter through the east door into this addition and proceed to the second room on the north side of the hall.

(Some of this information was incorrectly reported in last week's Herald.)

Pastor Gary Main emphasizes that people at various stages of depression have been gathering for the past couple of weeks and felt a need for this group to continue. It is his hope that people who have experienced this process and have worked through it or are working through it can share with others who are in the beginning stages.

The group is a mixture of ages and personal experiences who feel a need to become a support for each other as well as reaching out into the community to help others.

"All of us have difficult times. Are you struggling with a lack of hope in your life? We invite and encourage people to come and share in this experience," Pastor Main added.

Anyone with questions concerning this group is asked to call the church office at 375-2231.

Is It The Flu or A Cold?

Each flu season we get many calls asking how to tell if a person has the flu. It's easy to get a cold confused with flu. Since treatments are different, it's important to know the difference.

If you have a sore throat, a runny nose, and a fever of not more than 100 degrees, you have a cold. Washing your hands is the best way to avoid a cold.

If you have a high fever, chills, your body aches, and symptoms come on your suddenly, you have the flu. Flu is spread through airborne germs. So try to avoid contact with those whom you know have the flu.

4-H'ers records judged

Three 4-H'ers from Dixon and Wayne Counties had 4-H project records among 23 other 4-H'ers in northeast Nebraska.

Their books were judged for achievement in a variety of 4-H project areas. 4-H leaders and staff from the Elkhorn Valley EPU recently met at the Lifelong Learning Center in Norfolk to review the 4-H records. There were 4-H'ers from 12 counties competing for the chance to represent the Northeast District at the state competition in March.

Greg Schardt, son of Lowell and Karen Schardt of Wayne will represent the district in the areas of Communication and Expressive Arts and Animal Science.

Ben Beames, son of Kent and Em Beames of Laurel was also chosen. His records are in the areas of Plant Science and Animal Science. Beau's sister Kylie will represent the district in the areas of Healthy Lifestyles and Personal Development and Leadership.

The Nebraska 4-H Incentive Program is implemented in five districts across the state. It provides incentive and motivation to youth through recognition for 4-H Achievements as recorded in their record materials. Through this recognition program many 4-H'ers will compete for the opportunity to attend the National 4-H Conference in Washington, D.C., National 4-H Youth Congress in Atlanta, Ga. or other 4-H multi-state events.

Several corporate and individual donors as well as Nebraska 4-H Alumni sponsor individuals from across the state to attend these events. Without their help this recognition of accomplishment by young people would not be possible.

Funds available

Lower Elkhorn NRD farmers and ranchers can now apply for nearly $120,000 of USDA funds through the Environmental Quality Incentives Program (EQUIP).

These funds will be used to install soil and water conservation practices, with the priority being livestock waste facilities under 1,000 animal units in size being eligible, according to the Natural Resources Conservation Service.

EQUIP was established in the 1996 Farm Bill to assist farmers and ranchers with protection of their natural resources. Half of the EQUIP dollars are targeted to livestock related concerns, with the remainder to other priorities like terraces, waterways, dams, installing wells and fences for livestock and other practices.

For the first time the $120,000 in EQUIP funds will be used for conservation practices strictly in the Lower Elkhorn Resources District. Producers will still be evaluated and ranked, but will only be competing against others in this NRD region. It is no longer a statewide competition. The cost share rate is 75 percent, which includes engineering and planning assistance, nutrient management and much more.

The funds will be distributed by the local work group, which consists of the NRCS, NRD, FSA and other groups or individuals with an interest in conservation.

Applications submitted to the local NRCS office by March 12 will be evaluated and ranked according to those achieving the most environmental benefits. Applications will be taken after March 12 and will be funded as dollars are available.

The local NRCS offices are encouraging people to come in early and meet with them. The landowner will need to decide on the conservation practices they want to complete. A NRCS official will then estimate the cost of the practices and include this in the application. This process does take some time to figure, depending on the practices, so to help producers effectively and accurately, timeliness would be appreciated.

The NRCS offices are eager and willing to help think of ways to utilize the money for the benefit of your property and our natural resources.

For more information, stop by or call 375-2733, Ext. 3, your local NRCS office.

High oil corn to be discussed

The current level of most prices in the agricultural sector has many farmers looking for ways to add value to their products. Raising high oil corn is one option.

The University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension Service is holding a series of meetings to discuss this emerging crop. Dr. Robert Caldwell, UNL Extension Cropping Specialist, will discuss variables to consider when deciding whether to grow high oil corn, including estimated costs of production relative to normal corn. Dr. Duane Rees, UNL Extension Swine Specialist, will discuss feeding high oil corn to pigs, including economic considerations.

Several meetings will be held in this area, including the following: Feb. 16, 1:30 p.m. at the Haskell Ag Lab near Concord; Feb. 16, 7 p.m. at the Court House in West Point; and Feb. 18, 1:30 p.m. at the Hartington City Auditorium.

Each meeting will last between two and two and one-half hours. There is no fee, however, pre-registration is required to secure the meeting. To register at any of the above locations, or for more information, contact Jill Heemstra at the Wayne County Extension Office at 375-3310 or at the Dixon County Extension Office at 584-2834. You may also register by calling Pork Central at 800-767-5287.

Sexual Dysfunction linked to Two Blood Pressure Medicines

Many high blood pressure medicines can cause sexual problems in men. A recent report in American Journal of Hypertension focuses on lisinopril, which may cause temporary problems, and atenolol, which may cause long-lasting effects. Lisinopril is categorized as an "angiotensin converting enzyme (ACE) inhibitor" a medicine class not generally associated with sexual dysfunction. Atenolol is a beta-blocker - a medicine class known to cause male sexual dysfunction.

Italian researchers studied 90 married, sexually active men ages 40 to 49 years with recent diagnoses of high blood pressure. The men first were given lisinopril or atenolol for 16 weeks, a placebo for 4 weeks, then the drug they had not taken initially for 16 weeks. During the first month of therapy, sexual activity declined significantly with both medicines.

Pen pal friend for fifty years

When I was 10 years old, my Sunday School teacher sent the names, addresses, and birth dates of the kids in her class to a national magazine published by our denomination and put them in a pen-pal column.

I heard from three different people with birth dates like mine. One lived in Chicago, and we are still pen-pals after these many years. Fifty, to be exact.

She was a year ahead of me in school (I was a late bloomer), and we invited her to Nebraska after her high school graduation. That would have been in 1951. On the train to Lincoln, fellow passengers warned of Indians, outdoor plumbing and no electricity.

My Dad had purchased a brand new red and white Chevy that year, and at the last minute he allowed me to take it to the train station to meet her. I was so nervous.

But we hit it off immediately, and we had a fun two weeks. She dated one of my old-boy friends, we taught her to drive in a hay field (stick shift, of course), and all my friends laughed at her "Chicago accent."

The year before I graduated from training, I took the train to the windy city and sang for her wedding. I remember being amazed at her parents' home in downtown Chicago; it was so close to the next one. No yelling at your kids in these houses.

In 1960, she and Lee rode to Lincoln with our best man, who was getting a doctorate at Champaign-Urbana, and she was my personal attendant. When we went to Champaign for the best man's wedding, we stayed in their apartment.

So it went. She became a Tupperware dealer and had a party at my home, on their way to the Black Hills. As our children grew, the get-togethers were less frequent but we always wrote. When Jon went to Nationals in 1987, the indoor meet was at the University of Chicago; the outdoor at Naperville which gave us another pair of opportunities to visit.

The Farm Wife
By Pat Memphrey

They finally made it to the Farm House last August. Lee was retired and they were on their way back from Phoenix. His sister and both their children live there and they owned a condo there. They had just purchased a lot to build.

He was having some bowel symptoms, and was on a restricted diet. When they got back home, he saw his doctor. There had been weight loss, so x-rays were done. You guessed it; cancer. There was surgery, temperatures, chemo. Next, it was in the lungs.

He still wanted to get to Arizona. So, a friend in his sister's church came to get him in a private jet. They stayed in a lovely resort his sister rents. They went to Mayo, Scottsdale. Here a scan revealed more metastasis, and hospice was ordered. On the day after Thanksgiving, he was gone.

I promised my friend we would come to see her after Christmas. And we did. We just got back. And on Thursday of last week, it was colder in Tucson than in Omaha! That's just not fair.

But it was a good visit, a welcome break, and I'll tell you more about it next week.

"Conservation Tree Program begins another season"

NORFOLK - Each year the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District makes available low-cost tree and shrub seedlings to landowners through their conservation tree program. The state of Nebraska has a long history of encouraging landowners to plant trees. Early programs encouraged landowners to plant trees by offering real estate tax relief through exemptions on forested acres. Other programs such as the Timber Culture Act of 1873 provided additional land for settlers that planted trees.

The Federal Government established the Prairie States Forestry Project in 1934 as a response to the "Dust Bowl". The purpose of this program was to "plant shelterbelts on the Great Plains, to an extent and degree sufficient to have some measurable effect on the physical conditions of the area". The goal of this project was to plant trees to ease drought conditions; protect soil, crops, and livestock; and provide useful employment for drought stricken people. This was the largest single tree planting program in the history of our nation. It was responsible for planting many of the windbreaks that some of us still enjoy today. It also reinforced with many Nebraskans their longstanding commitment to planting trees, which shows in the many new windbreaks that are planted each year.

Our present-day Conservation Tree Program has its roots in the Clarke-McNary Act of 1923. The Federal Government, trying to encourage tree planting for conservation purposes, passed into law the Clarke-McNary Act. The Clarke-McNary Act allowed states to sell tree seedlings and seeds for conservation purposes either at or below the cost of production. This program would then directly reimburse states for up to 50 percent of their losses for operating a Conservation Tree Program. Although, the Federal Government repealed the Clarke-McNary Act in 1978, Nebraska, like many other states, continues to provide low-cost tree and shrub seedlings for conservation practices through their Conservation Tree Program.

The Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District's Conservation Tree Program offers a variety of services to landowners interested in planting windbreaks, woodlots, or improving wildlife habitat on their property. These include the sale of conservation tree and shrub seedlings, tree planting services, chemical weed control services, weed barrier mats, and water conservation mulch and installation. The cost of these services are as follows:

- Tree and Shrub Seedlings - $0.50 / seedling.
Landowners must order each species in lots of 25 ($12.50 for 25 seedlings)
- Tree Planting by NRD Contractor - $0.24 / seedling.
The NRD offers machine planting services only.
There is a minimum planting charge of $25.00 per project
- Chemical Weed Control by NRD Contractor - $2.00 / 100 linear feet of tree planting row.
The NRD offers the chemical weed control service as a part of their tree planting service
- Water Conservation Mulch - $32.00 / 100 linear feet Installation by NRD Contractor costs an additional $0.18 / linear foot.
- Minimum order of 300' feet with mulch sold in either 300' or 500' foot lengths.
- Weed Barrier Mats - $1.00 / mat
Landowners must order weed barrier mats in lots of 25 ($25.00 for 25 mats).
The NRD does not offer an installation service for the mats.

NRD Forester, John DuPlissis, stated, "Last year the Lower Elkhorn Resources District sold more than 144,000 tree and shrub seedlings to nearly 800 landowners throughout the district for conservation purposes. The conservation tree program is an important part of the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District's commitment to the conservation and stewardship of the land." He continued, "Through this and other programs we work with landowners to promote the wise use of our natural resources. However, for our efforts to be successful we need landowners who are willing to plant trees. Trees that will benefit both this generation and those to come. Plant a tree, if not for yourself then for your children. Our parents and grandparents did it for us. Just take a look around and see."

For more information on the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District's conservation tree program or if you need assistance with designing a conservation tree planting project, stop by the NRD office or contact your county Natural Resources Conservation Service.
