Law officials are kept busy

A number of traffic accidents in the area have kept local law enforcement officials busy in the past week.

On Thursday, Feb. 11, blowing snow was responsible for a number of accidents which sent 18 people to Providence Medical Center for treatment of injuries.

At approximately 10:45 a.m. an accident occurred three and one-half miles west of Wayne. By the time the incident was over, six vehicles were involved.

An east-bound 1985 Jimmy, driven by Scott Lubischer of Hadar struck the rear end of a 1997 Pontiac van driven by Christian Bargholz of Wayne. The impact caused the Bargholz vehicle to hit the rear end of a semi-trailer driven by Todd Dondlinger of Lincoln.

The Bargholz vehicle then crossed the highway and struck a parked straight truck.

Following that incident, a 1991 Chevy Lumina van driven by Brian Anderson of Hoskins also struck the rear end of the semi-trailer. It remained on the highway.

Also involved in the incident was a 1993 Ford pickup driven by Leonard Brester of Fremont. Brester swerved to avoid hitting the Chevy Lumina van, crossed the highway and struck the Bargholz vehicle.

The drivers of all the vehicles involved and five passengers in the Anderson van were transported to Providence Medical Center. All but Bargholz were treated and released. Bargholz was later transported to Marian Health Center in Sioux City, Iowa.

The Wayne County Sheriff's office investigated the accident. They were assisted by the Wayne Fire Department, Wayne Rescue Unit, Winside Fire Department, Wayne Police Department and Nebraska State Patrol.

Highway 35 was closed for several hours before all the vehicles could be removed from the scene.

On Friday, Feb. 12 the Wayne Police Department investigated an accident that occurred at approximately 3:45 p.m. at the Wayne Greenhouse.

A 1994 Ford Aerostar van driven by Stanley Hansen was backing out of the greenhouse garage. The accelerator stuck and the van struck a retaining wall. It then bounced off the wall and landed on a Honda Civic parked nearby. The van then went forward and struck the wall of the greenhouse.

Hansen, who may possibly have had a medical condition, was transported to Providence Medical Center for treatment of his injuries.

Checking out the possibilities

Approximately 650 Wayne State College students attended the annual WSC Career Fair on Tuesday. There were 100 employers. Students were able to visit with employers about their respective companies. The goal of the career fair was to help students find part-time summer and full-time employment. Above, students visit with representatives of West YMCA of Omaha and Council Bluffs.

Main Street planning sessions continue through this week

Officials from the Main Street program are spending the week in Wayne, touring the city, interviewing officials and residents and helping plan for the future of the city.

A Wayne Main Street Vision and Strategic Planning Session was held Monday in the former Daylight Donuts building in downtown Wayne.

Dale Helmich and Michael Schroeder with the Main Street program, were on hand to conduct the design and market analysis meeting.

Nearly 60 residents, business owners, business managers, clerks and Wayne State College professors and students were in attendance. Over 100 Wayne businesses were represented.

With the year 2000 approaching, all those in attendance completed a three-page questionnaire, which addressed such issues as promotion, organization, design and economic restructuring which currently face downtown Wayne.

Those who attended the Main Street meeting were asked such questions as: "What are four things that should never change about downtown Wayne? What are four things that should change? What would you like downtown Wayne to know for in the year 2005? and What do you visualize a successful downtown Wayne would be like — how would it look, feel and function?"

The participants at Monday's meeting were separated into groups to answer those questions and many more. Following the small group sharing, the answers from each group were discussed and later ranked by each individual as to what are priority items and

Speech teams win at Hartington

Wayne High School's speech team took first place honors in both the novice and varsity divisions at the Hartington Cedar Catholic Invitational on Feb. 13.

Competition results were based on highest average speaker team score from preliminary round competition.

Medals were given to final round placers.

Receiving varsity honors were Jeanne Allemann, second in poetry; Kenneth Kopperud, second in entertainment speaking; Erin Mann, fourth in persuasive and fifth in extemporaneous; the drama team of Pritam Dalal, Tara Hart, Mike Lindau, Lindsey Martin and Bobbie McCue, fourth; duet team of Martin and McCue, fifth.

Mark Finn was a finalist in extemporaneous. Allemann and Finn were entered as novice speakers, attending this tournament for the first time. High scores ranked them in the varsity final round.

Speakers receiving medals at the novice level were Emily Kinney, first in dramatic interpretation; Faith Kroeker, first April Wicks received the team Sweet Success Award for her first superior rating.

"Having both our teams bring home championship trophies is fantastic," Coach Lauren Walton said. "This shows each speaker competing this year is a strong contributor to the team, especially since the number of participants has increased significantly."

Previous competition included Fremont's Tiger Invitational in which Erin Mann placed third in extemporaneous and Heather Stauffer and Jessica Agler received Sweet Success Awards for their first superior ratings.

Monday, Feb. 22 the team will challenge one another for high point honors in an intrasquad meet at Wayne High School. The public is invited to part or all of the performances from 4 to 8 p.m. Each speaker will perform at least twice during that time.

A schedule of performance times can be picked up in Room 104 from Lauren Walton or any team member. Those attending should enter the building from the east doors. Competition will be in the lower east school rooms.

Blue Devils place fourth at districts School record eight head to State

By Kevin Peterson
Of the Herald

The Wayne wrestling team set a school record with eight state tournament qualifiers following last weekend's district wrestling tournament, hosted by the Blue Devils.

John Murtaugh's team finished fourth in the team standings with 141 points.

District champions and predicted state champions, Omaha Skutt led the way with 230.5 points with Omaha Gross placing second with 163.5. Elkhorn placed third with 146 points.

Valley placed fifth behind the Blue Devils with 106.5 points. Pierce finished sixth with 80 and Boys Town was seventh with 75 followed by Schuyler with 69.5 and Blair, 68.5. North Bend (53), Omaha Roncalli (44), and Madison (13) rounded out the field of teams in order at the B-2 District Meet.

"We were hoping to finish a little higher in the team race," Murtaugh said. "However, we are very pleased about setting a new school record with eight state qualifiers. Our goal now is to wrestle our best at the State Tournament and bring home medals."

Wayne had nine wrestlers enter the tournament with a top four seed and with the top four finishers in each bracket a state tournament berth is secured.

Seven of Wayne's nine high seeded wrestlers qualified for state but second-ranked and second seeded senior Jay Endicott was upset in the semifinals and suffered a partial dislocation of a shoulder in the process which hampered his efforts in the consolation semifinals where he fell by a 4-3 margin—ending his season.

"I was very proud of his courage," Murtaugh said. "He showed a lot of guts to wrestle with his shoulder in the consolation semifinals and he nearly pulled it out, falling by just a point."

Chris Woehler, also seeded in the top four was knocked out of the tournament, just one win shy of qualifying for state.

The Blue Devils were led by district champion Josh Murtaugh who improved to 33-2 on the season and increased his school record win total to 112.

Murtaugh breezed through districts as the top seed, pinning Dave Steward of Elkhorn in the finals.

Runner-up finishes were earned by Darin Jensen at 160 and Tim Zach at 171.

Jensen scored a takedown with under 10 seconds remaining in his semifinal match to earn a 4-2 victory and a spot in the championship where he fell, 4-3 to J.D. Hoogstraaf of Pierce.

Tim Zach also used some last second heroics to stick his semifinal foe to advance the finals where he also fell by one point, 6-5 to Shane Minardi of Omaha Gross.

Jesse Rethwisch rebounded from a 5-0 semifinals loss to place third and the Blue Devils had four grapplers place fourth.

Casey Campbell placed fourth at 103 and Lucas Munter, perhaps the surprise of the tournament for Wayne, placed fourth at 112.

"We're very proud of Lucas' effort," Murtaugh said. "He reached down pretty deep and beat a kid that had stuck him just last week in the first round."

Dan Nelson struggled with a stretched nerve in his shoulder and did not wrestle his final match which left him with a fourth place finish.

If Nelson can get healthy before Thursday's first round he has the potential to do very well after placing at state last year as a sophomore.

Casey Junck also placed fourth and fought back after being upset in the second round to earn a state berth.

Wayne wrestles the first round of state on Thursday at 10:30 a.m. Action continues in Lincoln through Saturday.

"We need to work hard and wrestle on a higher level at state," Murtaugh said.

Wayne boys lose at Madison

The Wayne boys basketball team was defeated by Madison last Friday night in Dragons land, 70-59.

Rocky Ruhl's troops fell to 9-8 on the season heading into this week's regular season ending schedule with Crofton in Wayne on Thursday and the Blue Devils in Pierce, Friday.

Wayne will play Madison in the first round of sub-districts on Tuesday at 8 p.m. at Norfolk High. The first game features Norfolk Catholic and Wisner-Pilger.

The championship of the sub-district will be next Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at Norfolk High.

In Madison the Blue Devils trailed early but went on a run to lead 19-16 after one quarter of play.

Madison however, hit a three-pointer at the buzzer to end the first quarter and that propelled them to a 16-0 scoring run.

Wayne tried to answer and cut the gap to five by half at 37-32 but Madison out-scored the Blue Devils 19-10 in the third quarter to take a 56-42 lead to the fourth period.

"We need to pull together as a team if we're going to be successful over the rest of the regular season and sub-districts," Ruhl said. "You don't beat a lot of teams when you allow them to hit 65 percent of their shots from inside the three-point line, especially when they only get five offensive boards. We gave up a lot of easy shots that we can't afford to do."

Ryan Dahl and Eric McLagan paced the Blue Devils with 17 points each with John Magnuson tossing in 12. Joel Munson scored six points with Ben Meyer, Jon Meyer and Dustin Keller adding two apiece. Dustin Schmeits netted one.

Wayne did out-rebound the host team, 28-20 with McLagan hauling down nine caroms while Magnuson had eight.

The Blue Devils suffered 19 turnovers compared to 17 for Madison and Wayne was a dismal 8-17 from the free throw line with the Dragons hitting six-of-eight.

The Wayne JV's improved to 12-2 on the season with a 46-32 win over Madison.

Brad Hochstein led the winners with 15 points and Trevor Wright added 12. Craig Olson tallied five points and Dustin Schmeits along with Shane Baack scored four each. Brandon Garvin, Jon Meyer and Ben Meyer each scored two.

Wayne senior Heidi Johnson looks to move past a Stanton defender during the Blue Devils final home game.

Wayne girls beaten in sub-district play

The Wayne girls basketball team had their season come to an end with a disappointing 38-12 loss to Madison in the first round of sub-districts, Monday night in Norfolk.

The 2-18 Blue Devils shot just 10 percent from the field, hitting just four-of-forty shot attempts.

Wayne trailed 17-4 at the half and 27-10 after three quarters of play. Sara Ellis scored five points to lead Wayne with Heidi Johnson netting three. Leah Dunklau and April Thede added two each.

Ellis also led Wayne on the boards with seven caroms with Kristin Hochstein netting five rebounds.

"Poor shooting was once again the major contributor to the loss," coach John McLarnen said.

"Defensively, our girls did a good job. They played hard all night and never gave up. That was the attitude they had all season."

It was the second time in just three days Wayne played Madison as the two tangled last Friday night in the regular season finale in Madison with the host team winning, 58-20.

Wayne suffered 35 turnovers in the contest which directly led to numerous lay-ups by Madison.

Katie Walton led the team with seven points with Heidi Johnson adding five and Sara Ellis, four. Kallie Krugman and Brittney Frevert each tallied two points.

Wayne trailed 27-7 at the half and 40-16 after three quarters of play.

Sara Ellis is fouled by a Madison defender before she's able to get a shot off during sub-district action in Norfolk.

Katie Walton dribbles past a Madison defender during fourth quarter action of the Blue Devils season-ending loss to the Dragons at sub-districts, Monday night.

Wildcats to play at Bemidji State on Saturday

WSC women suffer losses

The Wayne State women's basketball team dropped a pair of games last week which left coach Ryan Williams with a 13-11 record.

After winning five straight games to push the record to 13-7, WSC has dropped the last four with losses last week to Northern State and Winona State of the Northern Sun conference.

In Aberdeen, S.D., WSC fell behind 36-26 at the half and never really threatened in the second half in a 79-55 loss.

The 'Cats got out slowly, trailing 7-0 before Ami Pendry hit a jumper for the first score of the game for the visitors.

WSC managed to tie the game at 20 before Northern State went on a 16-6 run to close out the first half.

"We came out flat against Northern State," Williams said. "They jumped on us early but we did manage to tie it up at 20 but just couldn't get over the hump."

WSC was led by Erin Aakre with 16 points—14 of which came in the second half while Kellie Schenk and Megan Murphy had nine each. Murphy scored all nine of her points in the first half.

The 'Cats were dominated the boards to the tune of 50-29 with Krista Bernadt leading WSC with seven rebounds.

"We just had a hard time finishing inside and outside," Williams said. "If I had the answer to why, we'd sure change it."

The first-year coach felt his team's lack of offense is spilling over to the defense.

"We've seemed to have lost some of that intensity we had earlier on defense," Williams said. "We're not doing the intangibles that we were a month ago."

Saturday in Winona the 'Cats were blown out by Winona State, 94-62. Earlier this season WSC defeated the same Winona State team by nine points in Rice Auditorium.

"We just didn't show up out of the gate," Williams said. "We were down 12-0. It was our poorest defensive showing this season."

WSC trailed, 41-27 at the half and was outscored by a 53-35 margin in the second half.

Erin Aakre led the 'Cats for the second straight game with 16 points while Krista Bernadt poured in 15 and Ami Pendry, 13.

Once again WSC was completely out-manned on the boards, 56-33. Katie Sperling led WSC with 10 caroms while Stef Sjuts hauled down nine rebounds.

"There's no excuse for the way we've been playing and we're looking to close out the season on a high note yet," Williams said. "I do feel our lack of depth is starting to wear on the team as we approach our 25th, 26th and 27th games of the season."

The Wildcats mentor said he expects his squad to respond. "A winning season is not only important to this year's team, but it's important to our program," he added.

The 'Cats will play at Bemidji State on Saturday before hosting Rockhurst in the season finale next Saturday, the 27th.

Wildcat runner breaks her own school record Krienke breaks mark in 1,000

Junior Marsha Krienke lowered her own school record in the 1000-meter run at the NIAC Invitational Feb. 13 at the University of Nebraska. Clocking 3:08.94 to eclipse the old record set by her last year by about a half-second, she placed 12th overall.

Senior Angie Kment also placed ninth in the shot put, throwing over 40 feet for the second week in a row with a toss of 40'01.50".

"Marsha was a little disappointed," said head coach Brian Kavanaugh. "We both feel she can run 3:07 or better. She just went out a little too fast this time."

Also performing well for the women was junior Deanna Gollobit, who placed 9th in both the long and triple jump, leaping 17'01.75" and 35'11.50", respectively.

Home loans are available in Allen

The community of Allen has announced the availability of Super-Targeted Mortgage funds for home-buyers. The Nebraska Investment-Finance Authority makes these funds available.

Funds in the amount of $300,000 will be available at 2.99 percent interest and $300,000 will be available at 5.99 percent.

These special rates are applicable to assist: (1) in the development for purchase, newly constructed single family homes never before occupied; (2) in the purchase of existing single family homes that will be rehabilitated before closing with a repair cost equal to or greater than $5,000; (3) refinancing of an existing first mortgage to include the cost of substantial rehabilitation within the cost parameters of NIFA regulations.

The major part of these funds are designated for new construction. The purchase price limits for existing homes including rehab is $57,677. The price limit for new homes is $108,300.

All of the 2.99 percent funds and $180,000 of the 5.99 percent funds must be used by households with incomes at or below 80 percent of the county median income, adjusted for family size. Eighty percent income limits are: one person, $22,300; two-person, $25,450; three-person, $28,650; four person, $31,850; five-person, $34,400; six-person, $36,950; seven person, $39,500; eight-person, $42,050.

The remaining $120,000 of 5.99 percent funds can be used by households meeting NIFA non-targeted income limits as follows: one and two member households not exceeding $45,700 and three or more family member household not exceeding $52,555.

The NIFA Super-Targeted funds can be used in conjunction with the down payment assistance program that the Community of Allen has been using for several years. The NIFA mortgages may be FHA, VA, RD or conventional loans.

In addition to these programs, the Allen Development Group Inc. will be able to offer a limited number of lots with interest free loans. Two different income guidelines apply for the interest free lots. The Nebraska Housing Trust Fund worked with the Allen Development Group Inc. to make the interest free lots available.

The Allen Development Group Inc. has six lots for sale in Village Estates Addition and plans to install the infrastructure on 13 more lots in the spring of 1999.

Security National Bank of Allen can answer questions regarding any of the above programs.

Chesterman brings art exhibit to WSC

Karen Chesterman, a Sioux City artist, presented her works at Wayne State College last week. Chesterman brought the show to WSC in preparation for a show in early March at the Olson-Larson Gallery in Des Moines.

Chesterman's work is done in oil, graphite, and charcoal, a medium she has been using for several years.

"I worked at the Sioux City Arts Center and began painting. I have been doing this for the past 15 years," Chesterman commented.

While showing her works at WSC, Chesterman also spoke with several art classes and presented a slide show about her works. She told the classes that she is interested in making paintings that quietly draw the observer into their surfaces.

"I think of them as accumulations of thought and decision making. I leave traces of what is underneath either by sanding or scraping the layers of paint," she said. Adding, "What is visible on the surface is not always the most important aspect of the art." She said sometimes the subtle relationships woven in the layers is important.

"Karen's talk to the students added a personal layer of how intimate the relationship is between the canvas and the artist," said Marlene Mueller, professor of art at Wayne State College. "The students heard about how she began painting as an undergraduate and how she has progressed in her work and her career. I think this is paramount," Mueller added.

Chesterman received her bachelor of arts degree from Blair Cliff College and her master of arts degree from the University of South Dakota.

The next guest artist exhibit scheduled for the Nordstrand Gallery will open on March 22. Bonnie O'Connell, from the University of Nebraska at Omaha will display.

Back Pain Treatments

Health experts indicate that 4 out of 5 Americans experience back pain at some time in their lives. Work-related back pain is one of the most common of all occupational disorders, according to the National Institute for Occupational Safety.

Prescription and nonprescription pain medicines may help relieve the discomfort associated with back pain. The most commonly prescribed pain medicines are the nonsteroidal antiinflammatory agents such as ibuprofen and naproxen. More severe pain may require narcotic pain medicines such as codeine or a combination product such as acetaminophen with codeine.

Non drug treatments for back pain includes exercise (determined to be better than bed rest in one recent study) and physical therapy to increase the flexibility, tone, and strength of back muscles. Surgical implants are sometimes used to help manage chronic back pain.

University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension will offer financial planning workshops

The University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension is offering a bi-monthly financial education newsletter call Money 2000 that provides ideas, information and tips to achieve financial goals and knowledge. Its goal is to help persons to be in better shape financially, improve the financial bottom line and feel more in control of their finances and financial destiny.

In addition, Money 2000 Financial Planning Workshops will be held from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturdays March 6, 20 and April 10 at the Haskell Ag Lab at Concord. The workshops are designed for individuals and couples to get a grasp on their current financial situation and where they are going and want to go in the future.

The workshops enable participants to actually work with their own financial data over a period of a month to establish their cash flow pattern plus make or update their balance sheet; income statement; irregular expenses; debt payoff; savings for retirement, college or other goals; records of personal property; insurance analysis for life, health, disability and auto; social security benefits; income tax planning; location of documents; record keeping; estate planning and learn and use computer software that can help them keep track of their progress over a period of years.

According to Karen Wermers, Extension Educator at Concord and program coordinator and instructor, "This is one of the most important tasks that we need to do in life, get our finances and records in order. We have offered other financial programs through Cooperative Extension, but this is the most concise program to allow participants to actually organize and think through their own situation and plan accordingly."

Men and women and individuals and couples are invited to participate. All personal data are confidential. Individual help times will be available.

Participants will receive a three ring binder with analysis and information forms to keep all their information together and easy to access. There is a $15 course fee per household which can be reduced to $5 if participants also register to for the Money 2000 newsletter which costs $15.

Contact the Dixon County Extension Office at (402) 584-2234, Haskell Ag Lab, 57905 866 Road, Concord, Neb. 68728 or your local extension office for a newsletter and workshop brochure.

Pre-registration is due Feb. 26.

A number of County Farm Bureau Leaders attended the Legislative Conference held recently in Lincoln. In addition to listening to speakers, leaders also met with area Senators Stan Schellepper and Pat Engel during an Appreciation Breakfast.

Farm Bureau leaders attend conference

A number of Farm Bureau leaders represented Wayne, Dixon, Cedar, Thurston and Dakota Counties at Nebraska Farm Bureau's 1999 Legislative Conference Feb. 9 and 10 in Lincoln.

They also hosted State Senators Pat Engel and Stan Schellepper at a Legislators' Appreciation Breakfast.

Speakers at the conference discussed topics from water issues to ballot concerns and grass roots lobbying.

Nebraska Governor Mike Johanns also dropped in to discuss his property tax refund proposal. Johanns pointed out that there are better ways to provide property tax relief than the state aid program.

"If we hold the line on spending, I assure you, farmers and ranchers will see property tax relief," Johanns said.

Merlyn Carlson, state agriculture director, spoke to the Farm Bureau members about the current state of agriculture and livestock in Nebraska.

Other conference sessions focused on current state and national issues.

Thoughts on visiting Arizona

I'd been to Phoenix 10 years ago, in June, and I swore I'd never go back in the summer. Mike had never been there and it wasn't high on his list of places to visit.

Folks in our community are snow birds there. The church his cousin's husband pastored in Mesa for 11 years doubled in size during the winter. The one she has been care coordinator for in Sun City for four years is entirely made up of senior citizens. Consequently, she has been dealing with many care needs. They both have just retired. In fact, they spent the Christmas holiday in Thailand with a daughter who teaches there.

Their other daughter teaches in Apache Junction, where they live. Her son is quite a baseball player. His Dad played minor-league ball and Troy has the desire to make it to the pros. He's played baseball all his life. I went to a Little League game of his when I was there 10 years ago.

At the community college he attended he had a great batting average and specialized in stealing bases. Since they just have to grandchildren, his grandparents follow him avidly. His sister plays volleyball for Kansas Wesleyan. They've been there, too!

Troy is now center field for the University of Arizona in Tucson. We attended two games with University of New Mexico. Naturally, Troy struck out and didn't have much center field action. His grandmother called last night to say this week's been much better, beating Texas A&M twice and another team three times. Troy has hits including a home run.

Anyway, we had lots of time to visit, on the two hour drive back and forth. We had planned to stay in Tucson, but it's "the season" there. I visited with baseball grandparents from Beatrice paying $110 a night for a room at Comfort Inn.

The first part of the week, we stayed in the condo owned by pen pal. She had just moved into a house, so we had it to ourselves; two bedrooms, two baths, kitchenette, a pool and a hot tub. It was very cool at night, warming to about 70 degrees during the day. The pool was heated. The sun was gorgeous, the sky very blue.

It's easy to get around because the town is flat and streets are square. We had a hard time with directions, though, arriving at night. We like to know which direction we're facing; and the sun frequently came up in the west for us!

On Sunday, we went with my friend to Scottsdale Bible Church, a mega church for sure. Probably 10,000 members, a choir of 125. Dr. John Trent and his wife are leading a Bible study on marriage there; the composer, John Petersoo, is a member.

We saw Erma Bombeck's mansion on a mountainside and the home of Michael Jackson's mother. We had lunch at Satisfied Toad in Cave Creek and visited some huge houses in Paradise Valley. Mostly, we visited and ate.

There are rows and rows of RV camps. I'm wondering though, if you don't golf or shop, who you do all day as a retiree. I'm not ready to find out, I know that.

It was 78 degrees in Omaha on Monday, warmer than any day in Arizona while we were there. Figures.
