Trash debate goes on

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Garbage again was a topic of heated debate at Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne City Council.

Several citizens spoke to the council to voice their opinions against a proposal to mandate curbside pickup of garbage.

Bob Stanley, who has an apartment house in Wayne told the council, "we have been through this before. It is the city's duty to provide the alley and the city is closing alleys in the older part of town. I think the city should leave it like it is (garbage pickup in the alleys) because they have to maintain the alleys anyway."

Ralph Newell told the council that forcing curbside pickup would be a hardship to a number of elderly citizens.

"Also, why is the city getting involved with an issue that involves private owners and vendors. It is not the city's responsibility. Also, with trash cans at the curb, there will be more trash blown around town," Newell told council members.

Councilman Verdel Lutt said that garbage collection is changing and while no one likes change, it sometimes happens. He also noted there is often snow in the alleys and larger garbage trucks have difficulty getting through the alleys.

Councilman Doug Sturm referred to a letter the council had received from South Sioux City stating the benefits that community has seen with curbside pickup of garbage.

"At the present time, some people don't use garbage cans and broken bags are scattered around. Having the large garbage containers would provide a cleaner appearance to the city. Also, the fact that the containers are on wheels make them easier to tote," Sturm said.

He also stated that the large commercial dumpsters will remain where they are and that if a serious problem exists and residents are unable to get the containers to the curb, the haulers will probably go to the individual houses.

Councilman Willis Wiseman said

Bob Dickey chosen to represent District 18

Governor Mike Johanns announced that he has selected Robert Dickey of Laurel to represent District 18 in the Nebraska Legislature.

Dickey, 59, is a third generation Nebraska family farmer involved in corn and pork production.

Robert Dickey was sworn in as a member of the Legislature on Tuesday. He replaces State Sen Stan Schellpeper of Stanton who died earlier this month of an apparent heart attack.

Schellpeper was re-elected to a four-year term last November, however, his replacement will serve until a successor is chosen by voters in elections next year. Whomever is elected in 2000 to represent District 18 will serve the final two years of Schellpeper's term before standing for election in 2002 for a full four-year term.

"There were several exceptional applicants to replace Senator Schellpeper," said Governor Mike Johanns. "I'm pleased to announce the selection of Bob Dickey, who I believe will be an outstanding public servant for District 18. I was impressed during the interview process with his thoughtfulness and understanding of the issues facing our state and specifically Northeast Nebraska."

Dickey has served as Chairman of the U.S. Grains Council, representing U.S. corn, sorghum and barley sectors to foreign customers in Asia, Latin America, Europe and the Middle East. He has also served as a member of the Omaha-based Farm Credit Bank Board, gaining extensive financial planning experience working with and assisting individuals and businesses involved in agriculture-related investments in

Carnival Fun

Two year old Holly Grosz found the building blocks to be quite a hit at last Saturday's Day Care Providers' Carnival which was held at the elementary school. McGuff the crime dog was in attendance, as well as a clown. Holly is the daughter of Mike and Peg Grosz of Wayne.

Surveys are circulating in Wayne

The Community Activity Center Committee is circulating surveys to determine the needs of a community activity center.

The committee was formed by a group of Wayne citizens interested in promoting the construction of such a center.

Planning is still in the early stages and the community's input is essential.

The survey can be filled out with out a name and put in a drop box at the Wayne Herald or other local businesses.

People are encouraged to fill out the entire survey despite their response to the opening question concerning the need for a center.

The survey contains several fitness activities as well as general activities and choices for funding and suggestions for site of the building.

Residents are asked to check appropriate boxes for their beliefs in the needs for basketball courts, walking track, exercise/weight room, aerobics/dance room, tennis courts, volleyball, racquetball courts, sauna, whirlpool, indoor swimming pool, skate park, sand volleyball/horseshoes, etc.

General activities suggestions include a youth center, community room, kitchen, snack &/or juice bar. Choices for funding include donations/fund raisers, bonds, city sales tax, grants or other.

Surveys are to be returned by May 4 and will be collected by the committee.

Those interested in sharing ideas with committee members may contact any or all of the following: Doug Carroll, Rocky Ruhl, Mike Barry, Jan Magnuson, Bob Keating, Lesa Backstrom or Terry Luhr.

Renovation updates told

by Aubrey Parson
for The Herald

The Wayne Board of Education met in a regular meeting Monday night.

Dr. Joseph Reinert, district superintendent, reported on the numerous renovation projects being completed within the district. Bids for the removal of hazardous materials from the middle school will be completed on May 27. Bahr, Vermeer, and Hacker will begin demolition work the following week.

Building plans for the high school will be completed by May 6. Initial plans include a two story addition to the band room in the high school.

"The lower level of the new addition will be used as a band room, while the upper level will be split into home economics and art classrooms," said Reinert. "The existing home economics room will be converted to a science classroom."

Reinert reported that work on the elementary school roof has temporarily slowed down, and preparations to install the new boilers will begin soon.

"The Board approved the acquisition of one credit card to be used by the superintendent, high school principal and district secretary.

"There is currently not a card available for school officials to use when traveling or when companies don't accept purchase orders," said Reinert.

"Jean Bloomenkamp reported on the highlights of her trip to the National School Board Association Conference, which was held in San Francisco, CA.

The next regular school board meeting will be held on May 10 at 7 p.m.

Terroristic threats investigated

Wayne Police Officer Matt Hoffman was called to the Wayne Middle School April 22 to investigate a student making terroristic threats.

Wayne Middle School Principal Richard Metteer said that a former sixth grade student allegedly had threatened to return to the school and commit acts of violence. Several students heard these alleged threats and were very afraid for the safety of their fellow students.

The Wayne Police Department and the Wayne Public Schools are taking appropriate measures to ensure the safety of the students and the school. Wayne Police Chief Lance Webster said his department is continuing the investigation and will make a recommendation for the filing of juvenile action if necessary.

Chief Webster said there is certainly a heightened awareness of school violence given the tragedy in Littleton, Colo. last week, but he stressed that his department and the Wayne Public Schools are not handling this case any differently because of the incidents in Colorado.

Several parents have called the Wayne Police Department and the Wayne Public Schools to see if it is safe for their children to go to school.

"This may not have happened before the Colorado incident," Webster said. He stressed that the Wayne Public Schools and the Wayne Police Department feel the school is just as safe as it was before these alleged threats were made.

The reason for this safety is prior planning. The Wayne Police Department, the Wayne Public Schools and the Wayne County Chapter of the American Red Cross began working on emergency planning to deal with incidents of school violence or threatened school violence, long before this report came in.

Chief Webster said a parent told him that her sixth grade child came home from school upset and said, "It could happen here," referring to the Colorado incident.

Webster said he and school of-

Martin will be honored

Dr. Benjamin Martin of Pender will be honored at an open house on Saturday, May 1 at the Pender Legion Hall.

Dr. Martin was recently chosen by the Nebraska Medical Association as the Physician of the Year.

He has been a family physician in Nebraska for more than 35 years. He is the director of R-Way in Wayne and serves as the medical director at Pender Care Centre, Heritage of Emerson and Colonial Haven in Beemer. He has been chief of staff at the Pender Community Hospital and was instrumental in the recent hospital addition.

Having delivered more than 1,850 babies, Dr. Martin has acquired the humorous title of "Pender's Dr. Spock."

Saturday's event begins with a social hour from 6 to 7 p.m. and will be followed by supper from 7 to 8. A program is planned for 8:30.

The event is being hosted by the Pender Community Hospital and the Pender Medical Clinic. The public is invited to attend.

National Day of Prayer to be observed May 6

The 48th annual observance of the National Day of Prayer will be held Thursday, May 6. The theme for this year's event is "Light the Nation... With Prayer."

The Wayne Kiwanis Club will be sponsoring a prayer breakfast at Tacos & More, 509 Dearborn in Wayne, beginning at 9 a.m.

Coffee and rolls will be served, followed by a short program, special musical selections and prayers. The featured speaker will be Wayne Chief of Police Lance Webster. Music will be provided by Kiwanians Bill Dickey and Mary Murtaugh.

The public is invited to attend the event. There have only been three national days ever established by Congress — Thanksgiving Day, the Fourth of July and National Day of Prayer.

At the present time, all 50 governors and many of the country's mayors have issued proclamations designating May 6 as National Day of Prayer.

The Wayne Kiwanis Club urges all citizens to join them as they observe this day.

Celebration is planned

The community of Wayne, along with Wayne Industries, Inc. and the Wayne Area of Chamber of Commerce will celebrate the addition of Ameritas Life Insurance Corp., as its newest business with a ceremony and an open house on Friday, May 7 at 9:45 a.m.

The event, which will be attended by Gov. Mike Johanns Sen. Pat Engel, and Ameritas representatives Dave Moore, President - Group Division; Bill Nelson, Vice President of Group Claims; and other dignitaries, will take place at the new Ameritas location at 513 Main Street.

The weekly Chamber Coffee of the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce will be held at this

Main Street program explained

By Tony Kochenash

Before World War II, Wayne's Main Street, much like Main Streets in many towns and cities across the country, was Wayne's primary commercial hub. Downtown buildings usually had several tenants—typically a ground-floor retailer or shop-owner and frequently, several upper-floor offices or apartments; together, these tenants provided enough rent for property owners to keep their buildings in good condition.

The presence of the post office, library, banks and local government offices added to the steady flow of people downtown. Not only was Wayne's Main Street the center of the community's commercial life, it was also an important part of its social life, people thronged the streets on Saturday nights to meet friends, see a movie, window-shop, or to be entertained in the local pubs and eating establishments.

In the past 50 years, Wayne's

Wayne State College to host tea

The WSC Center for Cultural Outreach (CCO), in cooperation with the student chapter of the Music Educators National Conference, will sponsor a high tea and "English Entertainment in the Style of a Masque" in the lower level of the WSC Student Center on Sunday afternoon, May 2, at 2 p.m.

"For anyone looking for an unusual pre-Mother's Day present, this event provides a unique opportunity for an elegant afternoon meal and high quality entertainment," said Beverly Soll, CCO director.

The event includes an elaborate high tea, presented in buffet style. The traditional menu will feature tea sandwiches, a variety of succulent pastries and a fabulous English trifle.

The featured entertainment will be the re-creation of a type of entertainment popular in the courts of Europe during the 16th and 17th centuries. Masques were often presented for royal weddings or as special entertainment for guests at the court. Instrumental music by a brass consort, a woodwind group and a recorder consort will be interspersed throughout the event. Singers and dancers will participate in a semi-theatrical performance of a "masque" and an "antimasque."

As has been the tradition for the previous two high teas, a senior music student at WSC is musical director for the event. This year Austin Brown, a vocal music education major from Norfolk, is filling this role, assisted by Barina Buresh of Valparaiso with costumes/theatre direction and Amy Wilken of Le Mars, Iowa, as instructor of dance.

Reservations for the tea ($7 per person) may be made through April 30 at the Center for Cultural Outreach (Room 106, Fine Arts Building), and from members of the WSC Student MENC Chapter. For more information, call (402) 375-7492.

KEEP AN EYE ON EQUITY!

You've decided to sell your home, for $85,000. Your remaining mortgage balance is $60,000. The costs associated with selling and closing the transaction are $4,800. Your equity at closing will be approximately $20,200. Now - keep an eye on your equity.

Several situations may arise during the sale process, which can substantially reduce your equity. The most common is a low purchase offer. If the offer is 4% less than your asking price, the price would be $81,600, or just $3,400 less than you expected. Or, is it?

Keep in mind that the reduction in price comes straight off your equity. You had anticipated $20,200, which now becomes $16,800 - 17% less than expected. There is another, less obvious situation, which can reduce your equity even more.

Some buyers may offer "full price" while asking that you pay their loan related closing costs. Ask your agent to explain the impact on your equity, before accepting. If closing costs amount to 5%, your equity could drop to $15,950 - a full 21+% reduction.

Depend on your agent to provide a detailed estimate of your net proceeds. Protect your valuable equity.

"The alleys in the town will still have to be maintained so I am not convinced that this is a major issue. I see no good reason for the city to become involved with this issue," Wiseman said.

A motion to put the issue to a vote died for a lack of a second.

In a related issue, the council listened to a proposal for establishing solid waste fees at the Transfer Station/Recycling Center.

Fees are expected to be increased to help cover the costs of operating the transfer station and to pay for the cost of construction of the new addition over a 20 year period.

City Administrator Joe Salitros explained the costs involved with operating the Transfer Station and the estimated revenues from the haulers and those using the facility.

A number of increases have been suggested, including a 12.5 percent increase for licensed Class A haulers. The rate they pay to use the facility would increase from $14 to $15.75 per cubic yard. The rate for individual bags of garbage would increase from $2.75 per container to $4.

The proposed changes would take effect July 1.

The council also voted to adjust salaries of the council members and mayor. At the present time the council members receive $1,000 per year and the mayor is paid $1,500. The last increase was in 1973.

Thirty first-class cities were surveyed and those comparable with Wayne paid the mayor an average of $3,013 and council members an average of $1,800.

The council voted to raise the salaries to $3,000 per year for the mayor and $2,000 per year for council members.

An ordinance will be presented at council's next meeting for the purpose of adopting these changes. However, they will not take effect until December of 2000, following the next general election.

In other action, Mayor Sheryl Lindau read four proclamations at the meeting. The first recognized the week of May 2-8 as Municipal Clerk Week, the week of May 16-22 as National Public Works Week, April 30 as Arbor Day and April 25-May 1 as "Skip a Meal" for the World's Children," a Kiwanis activity.

A request for use of the Water/Waste Water property by the Wayne Jaycees for a fireworks display was approved. The council also voted to provide a financial contribution of $500 to the Jaycees for the event.

The council voted to accept a bid from Christiansen Construction of Pender of $68,617 for the Sidewalk Improvement District No. 99-01.

Bob Stanley asked council members why the city was so adamant about getting sidewalks put in. He said residents are being forced to put the sidewalks in and have no choice in the matter.

"Make people walk on the sidewalks. Ticket everyone walking in the street," he said.

Councilman Wiseman said all those in the district should be notified that they have the option of having the work done by someone other than the firm hired by the city. Notices will be sent to all property owners in the affected area.

A public hearing date of May 11 at 7:45 p.m. was set to discuss the proposed acquisition of real estate located on South Nebraska Street at Folk Street.

Threats

Officials have known for some time that Wayne, like any other community, is not immune from acts of school violence. This is why the emergency planning sessions began over a year ago.

The Wayne Police Department has recommended to the Wayne County Attorney's office that a Juvenile Petition be filed, in addition to criminal charges.

In an effort to keep abreast of the latest information in this area, Chief Webster and Officer Dave Heineman attended a seminar last week entitled "School Violence." The seminar was sponsored by the Midwest Crime Conference and featured several presenters who had been involved with the incident in Jonesboro, Ark.

Planned

The public is invited to attend the celebration ceremony and open house and tours will be offered.

"We look forward to expanding our partnership with the community of Wayne, and are excited to be in operation" said William Nelson of Ameritas in Lincoln.

According to Darrell Miller of Wayne Industries, Inc., "this project had many partners including the City of Wayne, Nebraska Department of Economic Development, Pecco, US West, First National - Omaha, Nebraska Public Power District, and numerous individuals. We are certainly pleased to celebrate the grand opening of Ameritas for Business and Industry Week in Wayne."

Tours of the Ameritas facility will be available following the grand opening until noon. For more information, contact Sue Nemeck at 375-3697.

Program

downtown, much like many downtowns across the country, changed drastically. The creation of the interstate highway system and the improvement of our state highway system and subsequent growth of suburban communities transformed the ways in which we live, work and spend leisure time. With improved transportation routes, people found it easier to travel longer distances to work or shop. Roads that once connected neighborhoods to downtown are now carrying residents to Sioux City and Norfolk and even Omaha to shop in the glamour of larger city malls and shopping districts.

Throughout the nation, in town after town, Wayne's story repeated itself. Downtown businesses closed or moved to the mall, shoppers dwindled, property values and sales tax revenues dropped. Some downtowns sank under the weight of their own apathy. Neglected buildings, boarded up storefronts and empty, trash-strewn streets gradually reinforced the public's perception that nothing was happening in many downtowns, that there was nothing worth saving there. People forgot how important their downtowns and their historic commercial buildings were in reflecting their community's unique heritage.

Wayne's downtown has never reached the "Out of Business" stage, and various business people, property owners, and other interested people have recognized the need to improve and update the community and downtown so it is more attractive to shoppers and visitors. This group did not want to repeat the mistakes that some towns have made in attempting to imitate their competition who are the shopping centers and malls of larger cities. So, after almost a year of research, the Wayne group decided to participate in the highly successful First Main Street approach to downtown and community revitalization.

In November the Wayne Main Street group's application was accepted by the Nebraska Lied Main Street Program as the 11th Nebraska community allowed to participate in what is often described as a "self help" program. The Wayne Main Street Program's major purposes include: attempting to reverse the decline of downtown and all business in Wayne; to revitalize the appearance of downtown and all of Wayne, and to generally serve as an economic revitalization program that will attempt to attract more retail and service businesses to Wayne and to fill all storefronts. Wayne Main Street wants to once again create a retail and social hub much like Wayne knew prior to and following World War II.

Why affiliate with the Nebraska Lied Main Street Program? The Nebraska Lied Main Street Program can provide the human resources and expertise that a community group needs to proceed and advance forward in the project. In February they contacted and paid for the four consultants who came to Wayne to provide seminars in the four Main Street areas—design, organization, promotion, and economic restructuring. They also brought in Michael Schroeder, a landscape architect, for a week. He spent time with various people and groups and submitted streetscape renderings for the community's consideration.

Main Street is recognized nationally as the leading organization for years of service to WSC. During his tenure at Wayne State, Halsey was named the Nebraska State College System's Teaching Excellence Award recipient in 1995. He served as faculty advisor to the Delta Sigma Pi business fraternity, where he received numerous awards for his work, including National Advisor of the Year honors.

Halsey has also been honored as Advisor of the Year by the National Professional Fraternity Association.

Halsey earned his bachelor's degree from Southern State College (South Dakota) in 1959, his MS Ed. from South Dakota State University in 1963, and his Ph.D. from the University of Northern Colorado in 1973.

Dr. Charles Maier began teaching in the biology department at Wayne State College in 1968. During his tenure, he has shared his love of plants and his expertise in plant science with hundreds of students. He has also served as the curator of the WSC Arboretum science 1978. Maier also served as a field research professor in the plant pathology department at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln (1972-78).

Maier earned his bachelor's degree in 1953, and his master's degree in biology in 1955, both from Emporia State University (Kan.). He completed his Ph.D. in botany at Oregon State University in 1959. During his career Dr. Maier has received numerous awards for his teaching.

Gilbert Vaughan, professor of English is retiring after 34 years of classroom instruction. He came to Wayne State College in 1965 and has taught courses in English, Shakespeare, literature, modern British drama, Bible, and science fiction.

community revitalization in the United States. More than 1,200 communities participate in their programs at various stages. The Main Street philosophy has eight principles of which the following seem highly appropriate for Wayne. Their programs are comprehensive and recognize that a single project cannot revitalize downtown, that an ongoing series of initiatives is vital to build community support and create lasting progress.

The second applicable principle for Wayne is that the Main Street projects are incremental, small projects building on each other to demonstrate that "things are happening" on Main Street and in the community. These projects are designed to hone the skills and confidence of the Main Street volunteers, skills that they will need to tackle more complex problems as time goes on.

Other principles are that these are action oriented, quality projects, designed to bring about change with self-help and by developing public/private partnerships. Every participant on the Main Street Board, Main Street Advisory Committee, and the four area committees is a volunteer that has expressed an interest in helping Wayne grow and change for the better. The only paid employee of the Wayne Main Street Program is the Main Street Director who coordinates, assists and pulls together the various activities; and plans of the Main Street Committees.

The City of Wayne is a partner pledging matching financial support to Main Street up to a limited amount and by providing active participation of the Mayor, City Manager, and Council members in the various Main Street Projects and on various Main Street Committees. The college has a variety of personnel involved in various committees. Various health care facilities, banks, investment businesses, insurance firms, real estate firms, retailers, and many private citizens are participating with financial contributions and volunteer help. So the public/private partnerships are evident.

However, more people are needed on the various committees to facilitate the planning and to help get a wider variety of ideas and feelings about the direction the Main Street Program should take. Volunteers and help are needed everywhere.

If you are interested in participating in any of the four area committees—Design, Organization, Promotion, and Economic Restructuring—please visit the Wayne Main Street office at 208 Main Street (the former Peoples National Gas Building) or call the office at 375-5062 for committee meeting times and locations. Your participation is needed to help Wayne grow to the community you want Wayne to be.

Breakfast to be held

A Mother/Daughter breakfast will be held Saturday, May 1 at 9 a.m. at Calvary Bible Evangelical Free Church in Wayne.

Wayne's two newspapers, The Wayne Herald and The Wayne Democrat were on opposite sides of a heated debate over the opening of Logan Street to traffic south of the railroad tracks.

The Wayne Herald, the depot manager, and the owner of the stockyards, R. Philco and Son were all opposed to the plan.

The Wayne Democrat's editorial writer wrote that the opposition's claim that the railroad-owned the area was inaccurate and that the stockyard manager's fencing off the area for stockyard use was illegal.

Nebraska Consumer

Bulletin

Attorney General
Don Stenberg

PYRAMIDS ARE ILLEGAL

Our Consumer Protection Division has recently received many inquiries about so-called "pyramid schemes" and "multi-level marketing" ventures, many coming from the Internet. Often they are advertised as a quick way to get rich. Unfortunately, some of these schemes may also violate the Nebraska Consumer Protection Act, Neb. Rev. Stat. § 59-1601 et seq. (Reissue 1998) or the Deceptive Trade Practices Act, Neb. Rev. Stat. § 87-301 et seq. (Reissue 1994).

Multi-level marketing has become a popular business in the United States during the past decade. Many are honest and legal businesses where participants are compensated for their own sales and sales of products by their recruits. Participants make money primarily from the products that they and those working under them sell, and not through the recruitment of new participants who may be required to pay a fee to enter the business.

An illegal "pyramid scheme" on the other hand, is a form of multi-level marketing where selling the product is secondary or may not be done at all. To join, you must pay an initial investment that gives you the right to recruit others into the company. For each person you recruit, you receive money or other bonuses. Large numbers of people at the bottom are required to pay money to a few people at the top - thus forming a pyramid.

A major factor in the eventual collapse of illegal pyramids is the shortage of any meaningful sources of income other than from new investors. They rely on funds from new investors to pay commission or bonuses to old investors. Pyramids collapse easily, causing most participants to lose their initial fee before it is their turn to collect the large sums of money that were promised. Even in the unlikely event that everyone is successful, the market will eventually become saturated and the plan breaks down.

Literature promoting these schemes often claims that income received will not be subject to state and federal taxes, that there is no risk involved in participating in the plan, or that the plan is legal under state and federal laws. Don't believe these claims! These proclamations are a sure sign that the offer is really an illegal pyramid. Individuals and businesses can be prosecuted for participation or promulgation of such a plan in the State of Nebraska. Fines can reach $2,000 per person each time a participant is recruited into the pyramid.

Laws Prohibiting pyramids exist to protect citizens from losing their hard-earned money. Don't let yourself become a victim of these types of questionable business practices.

Capitol News —

Ask for input and you get it

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Well, then. The thing about asking for input about one's writing on statehouse news and such is that one is likely to get some of it. Input, that is.

Such was the case in regards to a recent column having to do with the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission, some private property owned by former Gov. Ben Nelson, and some wild turkeys the commission put on Nelson's property at his request.

The column centered on the thought that the bosses at Game and Parks could have handled the situation a lot better. The thought offered was that, if Nelson was to get some free wild turkeys, the GOC could have asked him to host a turkey hunt or two each year for some youngster or youngsters involved in the sport. The kids could meet a former governor, maybe get a shot at a bird, and generally, have a good experience.

The respondents to whom I previously alluded suggested that those thoughts were wrong-headed.

Collectively, they suggested that a guy with Ben Nelson's multi-million dollar status could buy his own darned turkeys, that Game and Parks was kow-towing to a big shot and ignoring requests from "ordinary people" and "little guys" whose similar requests of GPC were denied.

Let me add that the respondents were adamant both in voice, demeanor and attitude. I have to agree, everything that my critics said had merit. My purpose was to point out that GPC just blew the whole deal in terms of how it was handled, and that maybe the Nelson Turkey Hunt For Kids could be a good thing.

The gist of my critics' offerings: the bosses at GPC were turkeys of a different sort, as was any columnist who suggested that doing the deed differently might have bettered the situation.

My promise when I took this assignment was to let you know when negative reaction to my reporting or analysis came my way. It came my way, and, now you know about it.

Nothing the Legislature will consider this year has more potential long-term impact than the proposal to put a two-year moratorium on carrying out death sentences for those now on death row.

Proponents of the moratorium argue that imposition of the death penalty is, or might be, unevenly applied. The U.S. and Nebraska constitutions require equal protection under the law -- that the laws be evenly applied.

Death penalty opponents argue that the ultimate punishment is too often reserved for the poor and/or minorities. Some also argue that prosecutorial discretion, the ability of a county attorney to decide who will be charged with first-degree murder and whether to seek the death penalty, might be unfair in itself.

The fact that the Legislature considered such a measure will almost certainly be cited in appeals by some death row inmates at some point. If the moratorium is enacted, or even if it isn't, a legislative-ordered study of the death penalty is virtually certain to raise questions for appellate courts to consider.

Wayne became the county seat in 1884

Wayne County, located in northeast Nebraska, was first settled by the white man in May 1869, when a group of farmers, mostly from Illinois, established their homesteads in the eastern part of the county. Not long after, in the spring of 1870, a German settlement was established in the southwestern portion of the county, at what is now the area in and around Hoskins.

Wayne County was officially organized in 1870, the town of LaPorte serving as the county seat. When the railroad bypassed LaPorte in favor of Wayne (then called Brookdale) four miles west and two miles north, many of LaPorte's residents and merchants soon followed, and Wayne became the county seat in 1884.

The following excerpts were taken from the August 17, 1876, and August 24, 1876, editions of the "Wayne County Review."

"For a few years previous to organization the territory now comprising this county was under the jurisdiction of Dixon county for judicial purposes, but during the summer of 1870 a petition was circulated through the county, signed and presented to Hon. David Butler, then Governor of the State, and he in accordance with law, ordered an election which was held at the house of George Scott on Coon creek in the eastern part of the county, on the 5th day of September, A.D. 1870, and the following named persons elected for officers.

For County Commissioners, W.E. Durin, M.T. Sperry, and Isaac Miner. County Clerk, C.E. Hunter. County Treasurer, B.F. Whitten. Sheriff, A.D. Allen. Probate Judge, A.A. Fletcher. County Surveyor, Wm. C. Vroman. Supt. Pub. Ins't., R.B. Crawford. Coroner, Nathan Allen. Judges of Election, Geo.

Hunter and Geo. Scott.

The first action for the erection of a building in which to do county business was taken April 19, 1871, and a house 18 by 24 feet in size was soon thereafter erected near the present town site of LaPorte, at a cost of about three hundred and fifty dollars. After the building was completed, it was occupied by the Treasurer and Clerk.

On the 24th day of February, 1874, at a special election, bonds to the amount of fifteen thousand dollars were voted for the erection of a brick Court House, 40 by 50 feet in size. The building was completed by Sawyers & Leach on December 8th 1874. The building is located on the public square in the town of LaPorte.

The first town site was laid out May 22nd 1874 by Solon Bevins, on his land, on the north half of the northwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 25 in township 26 north of range 4 east and was named, and is known as LaPorte.

The first house in the county was built by B.F. Whitten about the 1st of April 1869.

During the month of May 1869, a small colony came from Illinois and settled in the eastern part of the county, most of whom took homesteads on Coon creek.

In the spring of 1870 a colony of Germans settled in the southwestern township of the county, on Spring Branch.

The first census was taken by Geo. Hunter in the spring of 1870, and showed a total population of 180.

The first child born in the county was a son to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Phillips on the first day of June, 1869, near the Logan bridge in the eastern part of the county. The first death was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm Vroman, who died Aug. 6th, 1870, aged 8 months.

The first sermon was preached by Mrs. M.B. Richardson at the residence of Alex Scott, the last of September, 1870.

The first blacksmith shop in the county was put up in the summer of 1869 in the eastern part of the county, near Logan creek, and consisted of a sod forge, a pair of bellows, a pair of tongs, an anvil and hammer; the tools belonged to Willard Graves and every man who had work to do was his own blacksmith.

The first regular practicing physician was R.B. Crawford, M.D., who came here the first of June, 1869.

The first serious case requiring a surgical operation occurred in February, 1873, to A.S. Miner, who had a portion of both feet amputated on account of freezing.

The first store was opened up in June, 1872, and kept by C.E. Hunter and Solon Bevins near the town of LaPorte.

The first school district included the whole county and was organized Feb. 11th 1871, and was known as school district No. 1. The first school meeting was held Feb. 11th 1871, at the residence of C.E. Hunter, and the following officers elected, viz: A.A. Fletcher, moderator; A.S. Miner, director, and George Scott, treasurer. In April, 1871 the county was divided into three school districts, in May 1872 into six and again July 1st 1876 into nine. The first census returns made March 21st 1871 showed the whole number of children between the ages of five, and twenty-one years, to be fifty; twenty-seven females and twenty-three males.

The first teacher examined was Miss Jane Olin July 1st 1871 who was granted a third grade certificate, and taught the first school in district No. 2 during the same summer. The first school house was built in school district No. 3, in October 1871.

The first Post Office was established Sept. 8th 1870 near the Logan bridge in the eastern part of the county and was called Toffe, Wm. P. Agler was appointed Post Master and held the office until October 1871, when he moved to his farm and O.F. Crane was appointed to fill his place; he holding the office until Jan. 27th 1874, when it was discontinued.

The second P.O. was established at LaPorte Feb. 21st 1871 with C.E. Hunter Post Master.

A post office was established Dec. 18th 1871, on the mail route from West Point to Ponca, in tp. 25, range 5, with Joseph Boekenhauer post master who held the office until April 12th 1875 when J.W. Maholm was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Boekenhauer. The office and mail route was discontinued Oct. 12th 1875.

The first printing press was brought in, and operated in the county, was by C.E. Hunter Aug. 5th 1876.

Individuals interested in 500 pages of Wayne County history may obtain a copy of my recently published book, "Wayne County, Nebraska, Newspaper Abstracts, 1876-1899," by contacting Heritage Books, Inc., at 1-800-398-7709. ### 'Bring the children to worship' May 1 or May 2nd

Dear Editor,
Once again we see and hear of a terrible tragedy, the killing of children by children in one of our nation's high schools. In Littleton, Colo. there are parents asking, "Why?" There are parents and children saying once again, "This is not supposed to happen here."

Perhaps part of what is happening is children feeling as though they do not fit in, as though they are not part of anything valuable. If this were true, children could begin to think they have nothing to lose. Nothing to lose leaves little to gain, and sometimes ends in tragic consequences.

We are proposing that we take action. The statement, "it will never happen here" is only true if we make it true. Therefore, we propose that we make Saturday and Sunday, May 1-2, "Take the Children to Worship Weekend."

The secular world had a day last week that allowed us to take children to work. We suggest that while taking children along to work is a good thing, we need to have a reawakening of the importance of bringing the children to worship. On May 1-2, bring all children to worship. If you have children, bring them. If you know of a neighbor who has children, invite them. As an adult, be present to show the importance of regular worship.

Perhaps if we are pro-active in prevention of such tragedies as occurred in Littleton, we can reduce the risk of reoccurrence. The faith community has much to offer. Recently, a national survey discovered that the three things our society is longing to hear most are — 1. "I love you." 2. "You are forgiven" 3. "Supper is ready."

These are words that the church boldly proclaims and it is time to reclaim our place in the world.

Please take the time to "Bring the Children to Worship" on May 1 or May 2 and consider making regular worship a part of your family's life. Do what you can to make your children feel something of value beyond themselves. Let's see if we can make a difference. Sincerely,

Final home softball games slated for Monday

Wildcats end NSIC play at 7-7

The Wayne State softball team went 3-3 last week with a double-header sweep of visiting Minnesota-Morris last Saturday after losing two at UNO. Friday, the 'Cats split with South Dakota State in games played in Sioux City.

In Omaha the Wildcats lost both games by identical 9-1 scores. In the opener WSC managed five hits as Kim Nielsen took the pitching loss.

Heather Conley belted a homerun while Tara Minnick doubled. Michelle Lewis, Jennifer Berning and Carrie Ausdemore each had a single.

UNO finished with 10 hits in the contest.

In the second game WSC was limited to just two hits but one was a Codi Drieling homerun while Melissa Paces laced a single.

UNO finished with 14 hits in the game with 12 singles and two doubles with Michelle Lewis taking the pitching loss.

In the double-header with South Dakota State on Friday, WSC won the opener, 11-8 before falling in the nightcap, 10-8.

Both teams managed 11 hits in the first game but WSC suffered seven errors which kept the Jackrabbits in the game after WSC opened with eight runs in the first inning.

Tara Minnick led the 'Cats on offense with a triple and two singles while Heather Conley doubled and singled. Sarah Herrick laced a pair of singles and Melissa Paces had a double while Jennifer Berning, Amanda Schwedhelm and Sarah Micheel each had one base hit.

Kim Nielsen was the winning pitcher with relief aid from Heather Conley.

The 'Cats defensive woes continued in the second game with another seven errors in a 10-8 loss. SDSU out-hit WSC by a 15-9 margin.

Michelle Lewis was tagged with the loss with Kim Nielsen also seeing action from the mound.

WSC led 7-3 after three innings of play but SDSU led 10-7 after six innings of play.

Michelle Lewis, Heather Conley and Amanda Schwedhelm each doubled and singled to lead WSC while Melissa Paces, Codi Drieling and Sarah Micheel each singled.

"We got out to a nice lead in the second game but we just don't know how to put teams away yet," coach Mary Allman said. "Fourteen errors in two games shows it was an ugly afternoon."

WSC swept Minnesota-Morris to end its first season in the Northern Sun Conference with a 7-7 record—which puts the 'Cats in a no-worse than fourth place tie.

WSC defeated the Cougars, 8-1 and 1-0 as they improved to 15-31 overall.

In the opener WSC scored five times in the second inning and three in the three to lead 8-0 before Morris scored its lone run in the fourth inning.

Michelle Lewis went the distance on the mound to earn the win, scattering seven hits and striking out four.

WSC had eight hits led by Jennifer Berning's three singles while Tara Minnick and Michelle Lewis each doubled. Heather Conley, Amanda Schwedhelm and Sarah Micheel each had one base hit.

Kim Nielsen got the win in game two as WSC scored the game's only run in the second inning on a two-out rbi single by Carrie Ausdemore which scored Jennifer Berning who had just doubled.

Nielsen scattered four hits and struck out seven while WSC had seven hits led by Sarah Herrick's two singles while Berning doubled.

Michelle Lewis, Tara Minnick, Heather Conley and Carrie Ausdemore had base hits for the 'Cats who's 15 wins is the most in a season in five years.

"We really struggled with our bunting in the first game," Allman said. "It was nice to get the sweep however, leaving us with a 7-7 conference record in our first season."

WSC will play at South Dakota on Friday before playing at the Augustana Tournament on Saturday. The 'Cats will host Missouri Western in the final home games of the year on Monday.

WSC catcher Melissa Paces picks up a bunt from a Minnesota-Morris batter and throws her out at first base.

Tara Minnick keeps her eye on the ball and decides not to take a swing at it.

Wayne golfers win O'Neill invitational

Wayne finished with a 317-15 strokes ahead of runner-up O'Neill while Hartington Cedar Catholic was third with a 336.

Pierce and Ainsworth tied for fourth with 342's and O'Neill's reserves were sixth with a 349 followed in order by Atkinson West Holt, Ewing, Rock County, Hartington, Valentine, Elkhorn Valley, Neligh-Oakdale and Stuart.

The Blue Devils had four players in the top five led by junior Klinton Keller who was medalist for the meet for the second consecutive year with a 74.

Keller had three birdies and 11 pars in his round and hit 15 fairways on his drives and was on in regulation on 12-of-18 holes. He fired rounds of 36-38.

Adam Ellingson, Ryan Dahl and Joel Munson all fired 81's for a three-way tie for third place and after the playoff it was Ellingson placing third, Dahl fourth and Munson, fifth.

Ellingson scored a 45 on the front nine, then turned the tables on that same nine holes with a 36 on the back for an 81 while Dahl went 41-40 and Munson, 41-40. Nick Muir was the fifth player to compete for Wayne and the senior tied for 20th place with an 86 of the 69 players who competed with rounds of 43-43.

"The playing conditions were demanding with 46 degree weather and wind," coach Terry Munson said. "I was very proud of the effort. Klinton defended his medalist position from last year. I think it is fair to say we dominated the field with four of five individuals placing in the top five."

Munson said Adam Ellingson showed his potential and some character by following a bogey golf round with an even par round. The four medal winners played a total of 72 holes of golf with only five double bogeys and no holes above a double bogey.

Wayne will compete at the Columbus Lakeview Invite on Thursday before playing in the Oakland-Craig Invite on Saturday.

THE WAYNE JV team competed at the Wakefield Invite last Saturday and placed sixth with a 366.

Pender won the event with a 342 with Tekamah-Herman placing second with a 348. Coleridge was third at 350 and Lyons Decatur, fourth at 361 while Wisner-Beemer rounded out the top five at 365.

Fourteen teams competed in the tournament. Medalist honors went to Pender's Jeff Baker with an 81 while Wayne's Jason Parks was the lone medalist for the Blue Devils with a 13th place finish at 88.

BJ Ruwe fired a 90 and Mike Varley, 93 while Casey Daehnke notched a 95 and Nick Lipp, 96.

Finalists named for WSC awards

The Wayne State College athletic department will hold its annual honors banquet on Thursday night in the College's Student Center. The reception begins at 6:30 p.m. with the banquet to follow at 7 p.m.

Tickets for the banquet may be purchased for $20 per person. In addition, corporate tables with seating for six are available for $100. The table of six includes five guests and one WSC senior student-athlete. Tickets may be purchased by stopping by the athletic department or by calling 375-7520.

The featured speaker is Kurt Patberg, commissioner of the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference. During the banquet the athletic department will recognize its Male and Female Athletes of the Year and its Male and Female Freshmen of the Year.

The finalists for the Male Athlete of the Year award are football performer Jesse Wavrunek (Verdigre) and basketball player Tyler Johnson (Hebron). The Female Athlete of the Year finalists are volleyball player Jessie Pontow (Hastings, Iowa) and golfer Debbie Yahn (Sidney).

The finalists for the Male freshmen of the Year are cross country/track and field performer Andy Tucknott (Lincoln) and baseball player Aaron Hyde (Hastings). The Female freshman of the Year finalists are volleyball player Melanie Kershaw (Grand Island) and soccer/softball standout Sarah Herrick (Elkhorn).

WSC pitcher Michelle Lewis rocks and fires during the 'Cats 8-1 win over Morris last Saturday.

Sarah Micheel steadies her throw from second base to throw a base runner out at first.

Wayne State track teams take part at Nebraska Wesleyan meet

Despite conditions that were once again less than ideal, several members of the Wildcat Track & Field teams turned in some fine performances at the Nebraska Wesleyan Open last Sunday.

Matt Kneiff was the lone individual champion, clocking 15.1 seconds for the 110-meter hurdles. Earlier that day he clocked 14.8 seconds in the preliminaries, which was over a half-second personal best for him.

He also placed second in the 400-meter hurdles, running a season best time of 55.7 seconds for second place.

"Matt had been sick the last couple of meets, but really had a great meet today," said head coach Brian Kavanaugh. "Right now he should be ranked third in the 110-hurdles and first in the 400-hurdles in the NSIC."

Antonio Jackson also had a strong meet, placing second in the 110-meter hurdles in 15.4. He had run 15.1 seconds in the preliminaries.

Jackson also placed fourth in the triple jump at 43'5". James Bruhn placed second in the steeplechase, clocking 10:12.4 seconds in his first attempt at that race. That time ranks him third all time on the WSC lists.

Bruhn also placed third in the 400-meter hurdles in 1:01.6. Jason Kniefel placed third in the high jump, clearing a personal best of 6'6.75".

Both men's relay squads placed first, with the 400-meter relay clocking 44.5 seconds and the 4x400-meter relay timed in 3:37.2.

For the women, Tanya Kleinschmit raised the javelin school record to 97'10" while placing second overall. Marsha Krienke won her heat of the 800-meter run and placed third overall, clocking 2:23.5. Aisha Todd placed fifth in the 100-meter dash in 13.4 seconds.

The Wildcat track and field teams will wrap up their seasons at the NSIC Track & Field Championships May 7-8 in Moorhead, Minn.

Blue Devil track teams battle weather at Schuyler invite

The Wayne track teams battled the elements in taking part in the Schuyler Invite last Thursday with the girls placing fourth and boys sixth in the nine team field.

The girls tallied 58 points to place behind Elkhorn with 174, Columbus Scotus at 99 and Columbus Lakeview with 78.

David City Aquinas was fifth with 39 and Schuyler, sixth with 32 while Blair scored 23 and Wahoo, 16. Fremont Bergan rounded out the field of teams with eight points.

The Blue Devils had five, runner-up finishes in the meet with Leah Dunklau netting second in the 300 hurdles in 51.9 while placing second in the 100 hurdles in 16.4.

She was also a member of the second place 400 relay which was timed in 53.6 with Brooke Parker, Monica Novak and Amanda Maryott.

Jessica Murtaugh placed second in the 800 in 2:36.6 and the 3200 relay was second in 10:37.1 with Sara Ellis, Mandy Hansen, Jessica Murtaugh and Jessica Raveling.

Lilly Broders finished third in the 3200 in 13:00.5 and Monica Novak was third in the 100 in 13.4 while Raveling added a fifth in the 800 in 2:41.7.

Broders was sixth in the 1600 in 6:06.1 and Dunklau was sixth in the triple jump with a leap of 32-9.75 while Emily Kinney was sixth in the 3200 in 13:23.1. The 1600 relay also placed sixth in 4:41.4 with Mandy Hansen, Andrea Bethune, Jessica Murtaugh and Jessica Raveling.

"We had the majority of the team show improvement," coach Dale Hochstein said. "That's all you can ask."

Elkhorn also won the boys team title with 100 points with Wahoo scoring 80 and Blair, 73. Columbus Lakeview finished fourth with 67 and Columbus Scotus scored 63 while Wayne tallied 56 points. David City Aquinas was seventh with 47 and Schuyler scored 27 while Fremont Bergan finished with 12. Gabe Hammer was Wayne's lone first-place winner with a 23.3 clocking in the 200 meter dash while Brian Hochstein finished second in the 1600 in 4:56.4—just ahead of Devin Bethune in 4:56.5.

The 3200 relay placed second in 9:00.5 with Brandon Garvin, Dustin Schmeits, Devin Bethune and Brian Hochstein and the 400 relay was second in 46.5 with Dan Roeber, Josh Murtaugh, Jon Meyer and Gabe Hammer.

The 1600 relay finished third in 3:42.3 with Brandon Garvin, Dustin Schmeits, Dan Roeber and Gabe Hammer and Brandon Garvin added a third in the 800 in 2:09.5.

Jeff Enz rounded out the scoring with a fourth place time of 11:11.4 in the 3200.

"It was a very competitive meet and as usual, tough running conditions," coach Roger Reikofski said. "We're really pleased with how the kids are coming along."

Wayne will compete in the Columbus Lakeview invite on Thursday.

Wayne State sluggers win one of three at Winona St.

The Wayne State baseball team went 1-3 at Winona State of Minnesota last weekend, losing twice by one run.

The 23-16 Wildcats are 14-6 in conference play and are still in the hunt for a conference championship in their first season in the Northern Sun.

The 'Cats won a 3-2 decision in game one on Saturday as Brady Bomer continued his mastery from the mound, scattering seven hits and striking out nine while walking just one.

WSC scored three runs in the second inning and finished with eight hits. Half those hits came in the second inning with Clint Brown belting a homerun with Andy Ruetter, Matt Luckett and Joel Tremblay each hitting singles.

Gary Redden doubled and singled with Josh Stolpe and Eric Neumayer also netting singles.

Coach John Manganaro said his squad simply didn't show up for the second game of the double-header, falling 7-1.

"We played miserably," Manganaro said. "We had four errors and didn't hit the ball real well."

WSC had six hits in the game while Winona St. finished with eight hits—all singles.

The 'Cats were led on offense by Joel Tremblay and Josh Stolpe with two singles each while Matt Luckett doubled. Andy Ruetter closed out the hitting with a base hit.

Tate Meier took the loss from the mound, pitching just 1 2/3 innings. Jason Sloger, Billy Meyer and Scott Kreshel also saw pitching action.

On Sunday the 'Cats lost the first game by a 2-1 margin with Adam Walkenhorst taking the tough loss.

WSC was out-hit by a 7-5 margin with Joe Rocz supplying the 'Cats' with their only run with a homerun in the fifth inning.

Joe Hartman, Josh Stolpe, Gary Redden and Brian Zimmerman each had base hits.

"Adam pitched a great game," Manganaro said. "We had opportunities to drive runs in but didn't get the job done."

The second game on Sunday's twinbill saw the 'Cats fall by a 3-2 margin with Aaron Hyde suffering his first loss of the season from the mound.

Both teams finished with six hits and neither team committed an error. Jason Sloger pitched the final 1 2/3 innings in relief of Hyde.

WSC took a 2-1 lead in the fourth inning but the host team tied the game in the bottom of the fourth and added the game-winner in the fifth.

Joe Rocz singled twice to lead the 'Cats with Matt Luckett, Josh Stolpe, Clint Brown and Brian Zimmerman each garnering one base hit.

"Our overall pitching and defense for the weekend was outstanding," Manganaro said. "Winona State has a very good baseball team and playing on the road is tough in this conference."

The Wildcats mentor said he was proud of his team's effort. "We're pretty young and playing on the road is tough but we hung in there pretty well and it made for some great baseball," he added.

WSC will play Briar Cliff on Thursday at Lewis & Clark Park in Sioux City at 1:30 p.m. in a single game before hosting Rockhurst in a three-game set this weekend with two games on Saturday at 1 & 3 p.m. and a single game on Sunday at 1 p.m.

Wayne State Wildcats Briefs

WSC men's golf team places at own invite

WAYNE—The Wayne State men's golf teams placed second and fourth at the Wayne State Invite on Saturday at the country club. Concordia University won the team event at 306 while Northwestern and WSC tied at 309. A second WSC team placed fourth with a 311 while Nebraska Wesleyan was fifth with Briar Cliff at 313 each. Northwestern's second team placed seventh with a 317 and Midland Lutheran was eighth with a 333.

Adam Lohman-led WSC with a 74 which earned him fourth place while Matt Vermeer of Northwestern won a scorecard playoff with Matt Blackford of Concordia for individual medalist honors at 73.

WSC's Matt Ruehing and Eric Burns tied for eighth place with 76's and Chris Schultz and Ryan Borer fired 78's to tie for 16th. Sam Loewe carded an 80 and Scott Claussen finished with an 81 while Rich Kortum scored an 84 and Doug Gilbert, 89.

WSC baseball pitcher earns NSIC honors

WAYNE—Wayne State College baseball pitcher Pat Coghlan was named the NSIC Co-Pitcher of the Week for his tossing a no-hitter in WSC's 8-0 victory over Minnesota-Morris on April, 20. The victory helped complete a double-header sweep by the 'Cats.

Coghlan, a sophomore from Grand Island Northwest, had a perfect game for 6 2/3 innings before issuing a walk to the second to last batter he faced.

Baseball team splits two with Minnesota-Morris

The Wayne State baseball team split a double-header at Minnesota-Morris, Tuesday afternoon.

The Wildcats gave the host team just their second conference win of the season in the opener, falling by a 7-2 margin.

WSC rebounded to win the night-cap, 5-4. In game one Tate Meier was tagged with the loss after going the first 2 1/3 innings. Matt Foral pitched the final 3 2/3 innings and allowed just one hit while striking out six and not allowing any runs.

Morris scored three times in the first inning to erase a 2-0 deficit and the Cougars added four in the third.

Only two of Morris' runs were earned. The 'Cats were out-hit by a 7-6 margin but WSC committed two errors compared to none by the host team.

Matt Luckett paced the offense with a double and two singles while Josh Stolpe, Clint Brown and Andy Ruetter each had one base hit.

Luckett led off the first inning with a double and Josh Stolpe drew a one-out walk to put runners at the corners. Luckett scored on Gary Redden's sacrifice fly to left field.

Clint Brown later singled and Brian Zimmerman drew a walk to load the bases. Andy Ruetter drew a walk which scored Stolpe.

WSC stranded three runners that inning and would leave a total of 12 runners on base for the game while Morris stranded just six.

WSC erased a 4-2 deficit in the second game with three runs in the fourth inning to notch the 5-4 win as Scott Kreshel got the win in relief of Patrick Coghlan.

Kreshel pitched 5 1/3 innings, scattering three hits and not allowing any runs.

WSC out-hit the Cougars, 9-6 led by Clint Brown with a double and single while Andy Ruetter doubled.

Matt Luckett, Mike Blohm, Gary Redden, Joe Hartman, Sergio Ruiz and Joey Baldwin each had base hits for the winners.

The winning fourth inning was aided by four consecutive hits as WSC improved to 24-17 overall and 15-7 in conference play.

Clint Brown and Andy Ruetter had doubles in the fourth followed in order by singles from Joe Hartman and Sergio Ruiz.

AMERICAN ESSAY

Roy Reed Unit No. 252, American Legion Auxiliary, Winside, sponsored an Americanism Essay Contest with the Winside Public School. Students of Mrs. Teresa Hypse, English instructor, were active participants from grades 7, 9, and 11.

The theme this year was "Voting-A Privilege and Responsibility." Each winning essay writer received a certificate and pen and all other essay writers received a certificate. The winners per grade are: Grade 7-First-Jenny Peterson, Second-Natalie Cromwell, and Third-Annette Boelter.

Grade 9-First-Ben Lieneman, Second-Sara Schwartz, and Third-Nikki Stueckrath, and Brandon Gore.

Grade 11-First-Aaron Lessmann, Second-Laura Neel, and Third-Tom Wittler.

YOUTH AMATEUR TALENT CONTEST

Something new this year for the Wayne County Old Settlers Reunion will be a Youth Amateur Contest on Saturday, June 26, at the Winside Main Street Park from 3 to 4 p.m.

Contestants will be awarded cash prizes for the top three performers in each age group. A purse of $250 is available for prizes. The age categories will be Preschool and Kindergarten, First and Second graders, Third and Fourth graders, and Fifth and Sixth graders.

This contest is open to individuals and/or groups. If a group participates an average of the school grade will determine which age group they will be judged for competition. Parental consent will be required from all contestants.

All contestants must pre-register by Saturday, May 1, 1999. Application forms are available at Oberle's Market in Winside. There is no entry fee for this talent contest. The purpose is to encourage the youngsters to come forward with their talent and provide the listening audience with some down-home in-the-park entertainment.

Suggestions for competition could be in song, dance, instrumental, speech, etc. There will be a limit on the competition to the first six registrations in each age group and allow 15 minutes for each age group to complete their performance. The performance should not exceed three minutes per entry.

For more information, contact Beverly Neel at 402-529-3593 or 402-379-4570.

CUB SCOUTS

The Wolf, Bear, and Webelo Cub Scouts met on April 6 with leader Joni Jaeger. The Wolf and Bears made props for their banquet, skit and made decorations. The Webelos finished their craftman badge with Chuck Peter. All practiced their skit.

On April 9, the boys met at the auditorium to set up for the banquet and practice their program. Travis Brockmann furnished treats. Mothers helping were Deb Janke, Lorna Brockmann, Michelle Carlson, Jane Fleer, and leader Joni Jaeger.

ALL SCHOOL PLAY

This year's High School All School Play will be held on Friday, April 30 in the Winside Multi-purpose room at 7:30 p.m. The play will be "Headin' For A Weddin"-a farce in three acts by LeRoma Greth.

Tickets are $4 per adult and $2 per student and are available in advance from a cast member or at the door. Doors open at 7 p.m.

Cast members include: Seniors-Jeff Kollath, Ryan Krueger, Stacy Wittler, Scott Wittler, and Becky Fleer.

Sophomores are: Angie Gnirk, Landy Fleer, and Katie Barg.

Freshman include: Trista Jaeger, Brandon Gore, and Nikki Stueckrath.

Crew members are: Nichole Wagner, Tiffany Jensen, Susan Wittler, Cassie Anderson, Laura Neel, Donya Carlson, and Heather

NEIGHBORING CIRCLE

Evelyn Langenberg hosted the April 8 Neighboring Circle Club with three guests, Vera Brogie, Virginia Langenberg, and Peg Hoffman.

Cards were played for fun. The next meeting will be held May 13 at Helen Muehlmeier's.

CONFIRMATION

St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Winside held confirmation on April 11 for three youth, Shane Jaeger, Travis Koll, and Brandon Suehl.

A pre-confirmation examination was held on April 9 at St. Paul's. AAL Branch 1960 held a reception afterwards for the youth being confirmed.

Chairman Dennis Dangberg presented each with a gift cross. Students introduced their parents and sponsors during a time of fellowship. A lunch was served by the branch office.

BUS TRIP

Aid Association for Lutherans Branch 1960 is sponsoring a bus trip to Midland Lutheran College in Fremont on Saturday, May 1, leaving Winside at 11:30 a.m.

The group will be attending the 2 p.m. play "Eleemosynary" an emotional introspection into family and forgiveness written by Lee Blessing and directed by Paul Wesley Alday.

AAL will pay $300 towards the bus cost. If the bus fills, the bus cost will be $3.75 each including the bus driver's tip. Cost for the play will be $4.50 per adult and $3 for senior citizens or children.

Following the performance, the group will eat dinner at a Fremont restaurant, U.S.A. Steak Buffet. Price is $9.15 with drink, $8.25 for seniors over 60, fifty cents times (x) age for children under 12. (Tips included plus tax).

Everyone is welcome. This is not limited to AAL or St. Paul's Lutheran Church members and a few seats are still available. Anyone interested should contact Arlene Alleman at 375-1457.

OLD SETTLERS

Plans are under way for another Demolition Derby on Sunday, June 28 with a $2,000 purse during The Wayne County Old Settlers Celebration. Anyone interested in this event should contact Ron or Cathy Prince at 286-4326.

Also planned is a street dance with The Rumbles on Friday evening, June 26. Saturdays activities will include the annual barbecue from 5-7 p.m. with the Touch of Brass playing during that time in the city park.

A teen dance will be held in the village auditorium on Saturday evening with music by The Music Machine of West Point. A full schedule of activities will soon be available.

The next committee meeting will be held May 4 in the old firehall at 7 p.m.

BLUE AND GOLD BANQUET

The annual Cub and Boy Scout Blue and Gold Banquet and Court of Honors was held on April 10 in the village auditorium. The color guard opened the banquet with Steven Fleer as caller, Matt Peter carrying the American flag, James Gubbels carrying the troop flag and Chris Tiedtke carrying the pack flag.

The invocation was given by Steven Fleer before the pot luck dinner was served. There were around 90 guests present. After the dinner, Scout Leader Joni Jaeger gave a welcome to everyone and introduced the 12 cub and boy scouts present. She then gave a reading on Knights of Steel and Code of Honor.

LeRoy Janssen gave a presentation on Friends of Scouting. Unit Commanders Sandy and Darrold Lidgett gave a talk on what their jobs are.

John Thies, representing the Winside Volunteer Fire Department, received a certificate of appreciation for their continued sponsorship.

The Wolf, Bear, and Webelo Cub Scouts presented the skit "Days of Our Knight," then the group sang the song "Knights of the Tournament."

Awards presented were given by Scout Master Joni Jaeger and assistant Gub Master Randy Gubbels. The awards include: Wolf-Badge-Jared Brockman and Chris Tiedtke, Bear-Badge-Will Janke, Gold Arrows-Jared Brockman and Will Janke, Silver Arrow-Will Janke, Webelo-Badge-Matthew Peter, Justin Tullberg, and Travis Brockman, Fitness, Scholar, and Acquaintance-Justin Tullberg.

All the scouts said the Cub Scout Promise and the Law of the Pack.

A special award-Arrow of Light-was presented to Chris Thies. He also received the Boy Scout Book, troop scarf, and Cub Scout arrow.

The Boy Scout Advancement Awards were presented with all boys saying the Oath and Law.

Rank awards-Star-Steven Fleer and James Gubbels, Merrit Badge for Dog Care-James Gubbels, Jeremy Jaeger, Chris Hansen, and Steven Fleer, Emergency Prep-Jeremy Jaeger and James Gubbels, Swimming-Steven Fleer. Jesse Thies received his first Merrit Badge for First Aid and a sash.

Twenty-five individuals were given scout show patches.

Special recognition for Region went to Tiger, Wolf, and Bear Cub Scouts. Will Janke and Jared Brockmann for "God and Me" instructed by Pastor Richard Tino of St. Paul's Lutheran Church. Pastor Tino also instructed Webelo Cub Scouts Travis Brockmann and Matthew Peter for "God and Family." The boys presented Pastor Tino with a cross as a thank you.

Pastor Charles Alkula of United Methodist Church instructed Boy Scout Chris Hansen on "God and Church."

Coming events were announced and thank yous for the past year were given. The banquet closed with a reading by Jeremy Jaeger and the retiring of the colors.

LeRoy Janssen named Lori Taylor as the contest winner for Friends of Scouting.

MERRIT BADGE NIGHT

Boy Scout Merrit Badge Night was held on Friday, April 11 in the old fire hall. Five boys brought their dogs and showed what they have learned in Dog Care. Jesse Thies finished his merit badge.

Two boys and one adult are eligible for the District Order of Arrow. They will find out who gets it at the Spring Event. The boys set up menus and duty rosters for the April 30-May 2 campout.

Their next meetings will be April 27 and May 11.

JUMP FOR HEART

More than 120 Winside Public School children in grades K-6 participated in the Jump Rope for Heart March 29-31 to promote their cardiovascular fitness and to raise money for the American Heart Association.

The event was coordinated by Lisa Schroeder from Winside and its aim was to educate the students on the benefits of regular exercise and to raise money for the American Heart Association's research and public education programs.

Schroeder said "The event was a great success. The participants raised over $3,500 for the American Heart Association. I think it is important to teach our youth about volunteerism and giving to people in need. The kids gave a great effort. I'm very proud of them."

AUXILIARY

Roy Reed Unit No. 252, American Legion Auxiliary, Winside, met on April 12 with one junior and 13 Senior members attending.

The meeting was called to order by President Beverly Neel, with prayers being given by Lorraine Denklau. The members recited the Pledge of Allegiance, sang the first stanza of the "Star Spangled Banner" and recited the Preamble to the Auxiliary Constitution.

Hostesses for the evening were

Adeline Anderson announced the Unit's Girls State delegate as Shannon Jaeger and alternate Amy Hancock. The judges advised it was a difficult task to determine their final selections. In addition, Junior member Laura Neel competed for the Junior Law Cadet Program, sponsored by the American Legion and Nebraska State Patrol.

Neel appeared before a panel of law enforcement officers from the Dixon County Sheriff's Office and Nebraska State Patrol on April 11 at the Wakefield Legion Post. Neel was selected as the first alternate to attend the training session at the Nebraska State Patrol Training Academy in Lincoln, should one of the two delegates selected be unable to attend.

The annual Poppy Poster Contest is drawing to a close with the fifth grade class at Winside Public School under the direction of Mrs. Nancy Berns, Art Instructor. All posters will be displayed on Main Street during the month of May. Cash prizes will be awarded to the top three posters with each additional fifth grade student receiving 50 cents for their participation.

Memorial Day Dinner plans will be finalized by the committee which consists of Beverly and Laura Neel, Mary Weible, Adeline Anderson, Bonnie Wylie, and Judy Jacobsen. All members are encouraged to attend the May 10 Unit meeting to receive their assignment for the dinner. Additionally, each member who is able, is asked to donate a large salad for the meal.

Election of officers, namely, Unit President and Treasurer, will be held at the May 10 meeting. The Nomination Committee is contacting members in order to draw up a slate of nominees to be presented in May.

The annual Poppy Distribution Day will be held on Saturday, May 22, on the main streets of Winside and Hoskins. This event raises funds for direct use by the veterans who make the poppies by hand and other veteran-related programs.

The Unit sponsored an Americanism Essay Contest with the Winside Public School with the English classes of Mrs. Terri Hypse participating in the 7th, 9th, and 11th grades. The theme this year was "Voting-A Privilege and Responsibility."

There were 77 essays submitted in total and the top three essays were selected per grade. The selected winners each received a certificate and two pens, with all other participants receiving a certificate.

Beverly Neel and Judy Jacobsen presented the awards at the school on April 14. Prize winners included: 7th grade-first-Jenny Peterson; second-Natalie Cromwell; third-Annette Boelter; Ninth grade-first-Ben Lieneman; Second-Sara Schwartz; Third-Brandon Gore and Nikki Stueckrath; 11th grade-first-Aaron Lessmann; second-Laura Neel; third-Tom Wittler.

The Unit will have a float entry once again for the Wayne County Old Settlers Reunion Parade held at Winside on Saturday, June 26. Additionally, the unit will enter the float in the parade for Hoskins' Centennial in early July. The overall theme this year for Old Settlers is "Party Like It's 1999." Members are asked to bring in ideas to the May meeting for creating a float based on the theme and still patriotic at the same time.

The Unit submitted two applications for scholarships to the Department for further judging. Although the deadline for applications has passed for this year, next year graduates are encouraged to seek out the many scholarships offered by the American Legion Auxiliary. All data is given to the Guidance Counselor early in the school year. Additionally, any student may contact Unit members for further details.

Prom royalty

Winside High School held Prom and a dance at Riley's in Wayne on April 17. This year's theme was "Moonlight and Roses." Crowned 1999 Prom King was Jay Rademacher, son of Jerol and Jane Rademacher. This year's queen was Amanda Paulsen, daughter of Michael and Peg Paulsen. Attendants were Jeffrey Farran and Alysa Staub. The Post Prom was held at the Winside Auditorium. From left to right are Alysa, Jay, Amanda and Jeffrey.

The Unit will be purchasing and installing vinyl fencing as a backdrop to the mortar shells, flag pole and cross at the local cemetery. Judy and Ray Jacobsen, Rose Ann Janke and Bonnie Wylie will organize this project. Plans are to have work completed by Memorial Day, 1999.

Next meeting will be held on Monday, May 10 at 7:30 p.m. with hostesses being Rose Ann Janke, Henrietta Jensen, Ida Hank and Mary Lea Lage.

The June 14 meeting will be a potluck supper for the Auxiliary and Legion members and families. Each family is asked to bring in two prepared dishes for the occasion. Girls State delegate Shannon Jaeger will take place by the Legion. Anyone having tattered and torn flags they wish disposed of should contact either a Legion or Auxiliary member for pickup.

COOK BOOKS ARE HERE

The Winside Library Foundation Cook Books fund raiser have arrived and are available at the Public Library during regular library hours, Monday and Wednesday from 1:30 to 6:30 pm and Saturday from 9-12 and 1-3 p.m.

Many recipes from area residents are included and the cost is $7 each. Anyone wanting more information can contact Daisy Janke at 286-4488 or Darci Frahm at 286-4872.

The donations box for aluminum cans will be soon put back in the vacant lot by Winside State Bank. Anyone may leave cans there to be used as a Library Foundation Fund Raiser. Around $2,000 was raised during the recent German Supper. Funds now total around $18,000 towards a new Public Library.

The next Foundation meeting will be held on Thursday, May 13 at 7:30 p.m. in the Winside Auditorium.

COMMUNITY MEETING

A number of Winside area residents turned out April 19 for a community meeting to make final plans for the May 15 and 16 community clean-up days.

Almost all Winside Main Street Businesses have agreed to purchase flower pots for volunteers to plant flowers in to help beautify Main Street prior to this year's graduation and alumni banquet.

The Blue Ribbon Winners 4-H Club has agreed to paint all fire hydrants and needed curbs by the hydrants. Members of the high school Youth Leadership Council and the United Methodist Youth Group are also planning on helping with the clean up. They started some clean up in the village park on April 25 because mowing will be needed their soon.

Other items discussed were the ball diamond, tennis court, park gazebo and tables, sand volleyball areas, trash barrels, and street signs. One senior citizen has requested help with her property. Anyone else who needs assistance should sign up at Oberle's Market or call 286-9010.

All those who can help on May 15 should show up at the village park at 8 a.m. Bring a sack lunch. Anyone who can bring a pan of bars or cookies should do so. Drinks will be provided.

SPEECH CONTEST

The Northeast District 1999 Peace With Justice Speech Contest (PWJ) will be held this year at Winside United Methodist Church, 401 Vroman Street. The event will be held Sunday, May 2 at 3:30 p.m.

All contestants must be members of the United Methodist Church and in grades 9-12 during the 1998-99 school year. District contest winners will compete at the Annual Conference on Thursday, June 3 at Lincoln.

The District Youth Council (DYC) will hold its Spring Picnic following the PWJ Contest.

CRAFTERS

Six members of the Creative Crafters Club met on April 20 at Carol Jorgensen's home. Each member worked on an unfinished project.

The next meeting will be Sept. 21 at Jane Rademacher's. All members are again to bring an unfinished craft project.

ALUMNI BANQUET

Winside will hold its 93rd annual Winside High School Alumni Banquet and Dance on Saturday, May 29 in the village auditorium. A social hour will be held from 5 to 6:15 p.m. followed by dinner at 6:30 p.m. catered from Double K Restaurant.

A dance will be held from 9 p.m. -12:30 p.m. with music by Corey Hille, DJ. Tickets will go on sale May 1 at Oberle's Market, Elkhorn Valley Bank of Hoskins, and Winside State Bank. Cost is $10 for both dinner and dance or $5 for the dance at the door.

This year's officers are Rick Bowers- president and secretary, Jerry Schwede- vice president, Fritz Weible- treasurer, Bev Gallop Neel- historian, and Dawn Janke Peter- table decorations and gifts.

CHURCH WOMEN

Twelve members and Pastor Ruth Larson of Trinity Lutheran Church Women met April 14. President Mary Ann Soden conducted the business meeting and opened with a devotional. Lila Hansen gave the secretary report and Dorothy Jacobsen the treasurer's report.

The Bible lesson, "Persecution for the Promise" was given by Lila Hansen.

The ladies will make a quilt to donate to Camp Joy Holling. Lois Kruger, Gene Rohlf, and Arlene Pfeiffer will donate the material and the ladies will quilt it. The making of baptismal towels was also discussed.

Helen Jones provided a reading "Spring Gardening." Birthdays cards were singed for Ella Field and Bertha Rohlf. Arlene Bargholz was the hostess.

The next meeting will be a Pentecost Breakfast on Wednesday, May 12 at 9 a.m. Committee will be Lois Kruger and Dorothy Jo Andersen. Pastor Ruth will have the lesson.

MODERN MRS.

Mary Ann Soden hosted the April 20 Modern Mrs. Club with Arlene Rabe as a guest. Prizes went to Arlene, Esther Carlson, and Bev Dangberg.

The next meeting will be May 18 at Fauneil Wieble's.

TOWN AND COUNTRY

Dorothy Jacobsen hosted the Town and Country Club meeting on April 13. Prizes went to Bonnie Frevert, Lorraine Pririce, and Marilyn Morse.

The next meeting will be May 11 at Loretta Voss' home.

HOSPITAL GUILD

The Faith Regional Service Guild workers from Winside for Friday, May 14 will be Rosalie Deck, Mary Jensen, and Gene Rohlf. On Tuesday, May 18 they will be Lois Kruger and Lena Miller.

HEALTHY LIFESTYLE CLUB

Members of the Healthy Lifestyle Club met April 21 for their weekly meeting. Several articles were shared and the April Showers Contest was up dated.

Meetings are held each Wednesday in the auditorium kitchen at 5 p.m. The Healthy Lifestyle Club is a weight loss support group for all ages. Guest and new members always welcome.

COMMUNITY RUMMAGE

A few more locations are needed for this year's June 12 Winside community rummage day. Ten locations are needed to make it cost effective.

Call 286-4504 if you would like to be included this year. Maps showing the locations and listing the items for sale will be available.

UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

Eight members of the United Methodist Church met on April 13 with Helen Holtgrew presiding.

Members completed their Seven Star Ribbon. The ladies decided to continue with the same pledge for missions.

Two members attended St. Paul's Lutheran Church guest day in April. This year's Bible School will be held from May 24 to May 27 with the program in the village auditorium on May 27.

The next meeting will be May 11 at 2 p.m. Audrey Quinn will be lesson leader and Helen Hancock will be hostess.

BUSY BEE'S

Helen Holtgrew hosted the April 21 Busy Bee's Club with seven members present. Club president Ruby Ritze conducted the meeting and opened with the flag salute and reading of the collect. Roll call was "What to do on a rainy day?"

Ruby Ritze thanked the club for the gift while she was hospitalized. Chicken Foot was played for fun with prizes going to Marian Iversen, Ella Mae Cleveland and Bonnie Wylie.

The next meeting will be May 19 when they will dine out at D.J. Brothers in Norfolk.

SEVENTH GRADE REGISTRATION

The Winside High School invites sixth graders, new students, and their parents to an orientation and registration meeting. While it is not mandatory for parents to attend this meeting but it is recommended.

The meeting will be held in the high school library at 9:30 a.m. on May 6. At this meeting Mr. s Fuhrman and Mr. Leapley will review high school operations and register students for fall classes. Anyone unfamiliar with the building will be offered a short tour. The meeting will last around an hour.

PHYSICALS

Seventh grade and athletic physicals will be given from 6 to 8 p.m. on Monday, May 17 in the Winside High School. The physicals will be given by Northeast Nebraska Medical Group of Wayne. All incoming Seventh graders and 8-12 grade athletes are required to have a physical. Physicals can be scheduled with any doctor and do not have to be done here.

Those having them done at the school need to bring a urine sample marked with the student's name. A school physical form with parents questionnaire filled out "including the date of the last tetanus shot." A check made to the Northeast Nebraska Medical Group for $24 will be needed.

JOB TRAINING

Nebraska Job Training is offering a summer Youth Work Program for disadvantaged young people to earn some money during the summer. Disadvantaged refers to income or disability. The ages served at job sites are 16 through 21. For more information, contact Ron Leapley, Winside High School or Nebraska Job Service at 402-370-3445.

Ten practical steps given to manage your finances

By Investment Centers of America, Inc.

You can't pick up a newspaper or magazine or listen to the radio or TV without getting some type of financial advice. Even "Cosmopolitan" has a column related to managing your finances.

How do you wade through the myriad of ideas, hot tips and market prognostications to help you with your own personal financial affairs? I believe the solution is to keep it simple, and follow the tried and true basics. I have compiled a few practical thoughts to remind you and help you keep your perspective.

1. Periodically review your finances- Make time to periodically take an inventory of what you own, what you owe, and see if you have improved over time. Sit down and work out a budget and stick to it, then review your progress annually.

2. Establish an emergency fund- Make sure you have at least three to six months of living expenses set aside for emergencies. If you don't currently have the funds set aside, save a little each month until you reach your goal.

3. Pay yourself first and take advantage of "systematic savings" opportunities- Maximize contributions to your company 401 (k) plan. If you don't at least put in the amount matched by the company, it's like throwing money out the window. If you own mutual funds, use the coupons that come with the statements. Treat these investments like they are a monthly bill and pay a little into the fund each month. Make this process a habit and you may be surprised with the results over time.

4. Simplify your record keeping by combining your investments at one brokerage firm-Placing all of your transactions through the same account can ease your record keeping and will make the task of managing your investments easier.

5. Don't read your mutual fund prices daily in the newspaper- Reduce the anxiety caused by market fluctuations by periodically reviewing your mutual fund portfolio over a period of time, rather than on a daily basis. Quarterly or semi-annual reviews should be frequent enough to tell you how well you are doing and to illustrate market trends without causing undo stress. Let your professional advisor worry about the day to day issues.

6. Make your "final" plans known- Write down instructions to your family spelling out funeral plans, a listing of your financial advisors, and where your accounts are held. Also list where your important papers (will, tax returns, etc.) can be found. Talking about the possibility of death can be unpleasant.

If you can't discuss these items openly with your family, write them down and give a copy to your attorney or designated estate administrator. If you have substantial assets in your estate, a visit to an estate planning attorney should be on your "to do" list.

7. Update your insurance coverage-When was the last time you reviewed your life, health, and property insurance coverage? If it has been over three years, you could be at risk. Even if very little has changed in your life, the cost of replacing lost income, maintaining your health and replacing your property continues to rise each year. Make sure you are fully protected.

8. Diversify your investments- While this practical advice is touted in every financial publication, many of us fail to practice good common sense. Your investment program should be reflective of your age, financial status, goals, and risk tolerance. Have a professional advisor review your portfolio to determine if there are any gaps.

9. Establish definitive financial goals- Studies have shown that people who have a formalized financial plan are more likely to reach their objectives and accumulate more savings and investments over time.

10. Use a financial advisor- If you don't have the expertise, see someone who does. There are many "do-it-yourself" software programs, manuals, and instruction guides on the market. But in reality, if managing an investment program is not your area of expertise, then recognize it and get someone to help you.

New equipment purchased

Some members of Wayne Rescue stand by new equipment they purchased. The money came from proceeds of dances sponsored by the firemen and from donations that were sent in for the past two years. The new equipment consists of three backboards, spider web strapping, EMS jump kit, and two blue head immobilizers. There are a total of 17 members on Wayne Rescue.

Magnuson receives award

Richard Magnuson, president of American Bank in Le Mars, Iowa, has been named 1998 Lender of the Year. He is the son of Sylvia Magnuson, grandson of Thelma James, both of Wakefield, and son-in-law of Tom and Verianne McClain of Wayne.

Magnuson received the award from the Siouland Economic Development Corporation (SEDC) for utilizing the U.S. Small Business Administration 504 Loan Program and for demonstrating good customer service.

He personally developed financing for three projects which were the Cardiovascular Center in Dakota Dunes, SD, the Nissen Chiropractic Clinic in Sergeant Bluff, Iowa, and the Meat Processing Concepts America (MPCA) in Le Mars. Because of Magnuson's efforts, 60 new jobs were created.

The SEDC is a non-profit economic development corporation based in Siouland and was formed to help small and mid-sized businesses get started in several Iowa and South Dakota counties, as well as in Dixon and Dakota counties in Nebraska.

Magnuson, and his wife Kathy, graduated from Wakefield High School in 1972. Richard graduated from Wayne State College in 1978. The couple lived in Wayne for a number of years and he worked at the State National Bank. They have three children and a grandchild.

Local student receives Presidential scholarship

Lindsey Martin of Wayne, has been selected to receive a Presidential Scholarship Award from Concordia University at Seward, beginning with the fall semester of the 1999-2000 academic year.

Martin is the daughter of Benjamin and Donna Martin and is a student at Wayne High School.

Martin's award, valued at $3,750 allocates $750 per year and is renewable for up to five years. Presidential Awards are given to students who demonstrate academic achievement, outstanding work in a particular area and positive contributions to student life.

In addition to the Presidential Awards, Concordia annually presents a large number of privately endowed scholarships and grants.

Dry Mouth Cause By Some Medications

One of the side-effects from some medications includes dryness of the mouth which can lead to tooth decay. Among the drugs that can cause dryness are antidepressants, water pills, antihistamines, some cold remedies, and blood pressure medication. Whatever the cause, if you have a problem with dry mouth, it is important to get frequent dental checkups. Saliva helps keep your teeth clean. To help keep your mouth moist sip water, chew sugarless gum, or use an artificial saliva product.

PROM '99
The Junior Senior Prom was held last Saturday night. The meal was catered by the Village Inn and it consisted of Prime Rib, baked potato, lettuce salad, pasta salad, and cheese cake provided by the parents.

The waiters and waitresses were members of the sophomore class who consisted of Jennifer Smith, Alicia Liebsch, Sarah Sweeney, Michelle Marks, Melissa Wilmes, Daniell Bertrand, Russell Linafelter, Lyle Rahn, James Schnieder, and Justin Warner. Later, the sophomores put on a skit.

After the dance, which KG95 was D.J., the group went to the Morningside HYPER Center in Sioux City. The buses were driven by Willie and Diane Bertrand. While at the center, the group was able to swim and play volleyball, basketball, and racquet ball. Gifts were raffled off.

The TV donated by Security National Bank was won by Kristy Sullivan. The portable CD player, purchased with money donated by a variety of sources, was won by Lisa Linafelter. Amanda Kumm won the $40 gift certificate given by Puckett's Studio. There were many other items given away and everyone went home with at least one gift.

CIVIL WAR SONGS TO BE FEATURED

On May 4 at 7:30 p.m., the Allen music department will be presenting their spring concert. Kindergarten through fourth grade students will be performing patriotic songs, fifth through eighth grades will be performing the "Blue and Gray" musical with singing and narration assistance from the high school choir.

Anyone who has clothing worn during the Allen Centennial who would be willing to let the children wear it during the performance is asked to contact Marcia Rastede. Please do so by April 30.

STATE CONVENTION ATTENDED

On April 7-10, 12 members of the Allen FFA Chapter attended state contest in Lincoln. The FFA Convention involved over 2500 of Nebraska's 6500 FFA members. Members packed Pershing Auditorium Thursday evening and on Friday, witnessed the catering of three new FFA Chapters in Nebraska.

BJ Robinson and Austen Stewart competed in the Ag Demonstration Contest at the State Fair Grounds Auditorium and received first bronze.

Three members competed in welding contest at Southeast Community College. James Schneider competed in ARC Welding, Micky Oldenkamp competed in MIG welding, and Justin Warner competed in OXY Acetylene welding and received a blue ribbon.

Three members competed in the Ag Mechanics Contest at UNL. BJ Robinson competed in Machinery and Equipment and received a blue ribbon. Travis Mattes competed in Structural Systems and received a purple ribbon. George Cooper competed in Energy and received a blue ribbon. As a team they received a blue ribbon and eighth place.

Four members attended meetings at the Nebraska Center for continuing education at UNL on behalf of the Allen FFA Chapter. They were Jessica Bock, Jennifer Smith, Elizabeth Bock, and Jessie Warner. Kenneth Rahn sang in the State FFA chorus at the Convention.

Thanks goes to Dave Rahn who helped by driving a van load of students down on Thursday and back on Friday.

FFA BANQUET

The Allen Chapter will have their annual FFA banquet Friday, April 30 at 7 p.m. They will be serving roast pork and barbeque pork.

SPRING CONCERT "BLUE AND GRAY"

On May 4, the Allen music department will be presenting their spring concert. Kindergarten through fourth grade students will be performing patriotic songs, fifth through eighth grades will be performing the "Blue and Gray" musical with singing and narration assistance from the High School Choir.

A special addition to the program will be Mr. and Mrs. Evan Knapp of Cherokee, Iowa. They will personify a Civil War soldier and a woman of that era. They have many items from this era on display and give an interesting and entertaining account of Civil War information. Everyone is invited to the program.

A free will donation will be taken at the door.

(Anyone who had clothing worn during the Allen Centennial and would be willing to let the children wear it during the program is asked to contact Marcia Rastede. Please do so before April 30.)

COMMUNITY CLUB

The Allen Community Club met at the Village Inn on April 19. Following the dinner, Rodney Garwood, Administrator of the Educational Service Unit #1, spoke to the group about the service unit located at Wakefield. He reviewed the services of staff development, media center, and technology training. He also noted that the education trends of using the internet and distant learning centers will be an asset for the smaller schools.

Following Garwood's presentation, President John Werner called the meeting to order. Members are encouraged to submit their dues to Rita Mattes. Dues are $25 for an individual/couple, $35 for a small business, and $50 for a large business. Employees of member businesses are members of the Allen Community Club, and everyone is invited to attend the meetings and help with the group's many projects to improve and keep the Allen community growing.

Community reports followed. Rita Mattes noted that donations to the Heritage Park fund will be used to put in a split rail fence. Marcia Rastede reported that trees and bushes will be planted by the students this year as part of the Project Wild activity.

Spring Clean-up will be May 12 with junior high students helping.

Melissa Loetscher

Two are inducted into honor society

Jolene Loetscher and Melissa Loetscher were recently inducted into Alpha Lambda Delta, a national honor society honoring academic achievement.

The purpose of the organization is to encourage superior academic achievement among students and to assist students in recognizing and developing meaningful goals for their roles in society.

Melissa, a Wayne State College elementary education freshman, is active in Rotaract, Circle K, Wesley Club, and is a Sunday School teacher.

Jolene, a broadcast journalism sophomore at Northwestern University in Evanston, Ill., is active in Student Admissions Council, Campus Blood Drive, Communications Residential College, and U-Wire College News Service.

Jolene and Melissa are the daughters of Eliene Loetscher of Wayne.

Jolene Loetscher

Volunteers with pickups and trailers are needed and should meet in the school parking lot at 1 p.m. Garage sales will be June 12 with advertising costs in the newspapers to be paid by the Community Club. Anyone wanting to have a garage sale should inform John Werner so the name and location can be included on the map.

New business was discussed. Rita Mattes reported on LeRoy Carlson's presentation at Ponca on March 18 on possible effects of Y2K. It was suggested that he be invited to a future Allen Community Club meeting as a guest speaker with the town hall format to address concerns of Y2K to the Allen community. It was also decided to have a speaker from NPPD come to the May 14 meeting.

LEGION AND AUXILIARY

The American Legion and Auxiliary held their regular monthly meeting April 12 at the Allen Senior Citizen Center at 7:30 p.m.

Prior to the meeting, a ceremony was held honoring Earl Potter and Darrell Novak for their 50 years of continuous service to the American Legion. Their ceremony was conducted by Legion Commander William Hagstrom who presented them with a framed certificate and read the history of their service to the Legion. District Legion Commander Ken Robertson from Tekamah, presented each of them with a 50 year membership star and spoke to the group. Dean Chase, District Commander Elect also spoke. Don Turney, Legion Chaplain, closed the ceremony.

The meeting was called to order by President Deenette Von Minden. Membership Chairman, Wanda Novak, reported on membership. Marcia Rastede told about the Blue and Gray Concert coming the 4th of May at the Allen School and urged members to attend.

Correspondence was read from the Department and from the District President Jan Twiford.

Several thank you cards were read. Poppy Days was set for May 8 and Donna Stalling, Poppy Chairman, reported that the Poppy Poster Contest is underway at the school. Posters are due by April 30, and will be judged and placed in store windows prior to Poppy Day. The Standing Rules were amended to include information serving March, the month of the Legion's birthday. Bonnie Warner and Deenette Von Minden served lunch.

The May meeting will be held May 10 with Marilyn Webb and Carol Werner serving lunch.

ATHLETIC BANQUET

Allen Consolidated Schools Athletic Banquet Banquet is Friday, May 7 at 6:30 p.m. The menu will consist of Roast beef, baked potato, corn, salad, rolls, and ice cream. They will be raffling a basketball signed by the UNL Basketball team as well as a free admissions pass to all home games for the 1999-2000 school year.

The featured event for the night will be Kate Benson a guest speaker. She is part of the University of Nebraska's Basketball Team.

Tickets can be purchased from any athletic member or call Dave Uldrich at 635-2484.

ATHLETIC CARNIVAL SUCCESSFUL

On March 26, the Allen Athletics teams and coaches held their Athletic Carnival for the third year in a row. Once again, it was very successful. There was a good turnout of children, young and old, to play all kinds of games and enjoy the food and raffles. There were around 10 booths for the children to play, as well as a funnel cake stand, put on by the girls' basketball team. There were also many prizes to be won at the raffle table.

Thanks goes out to the many donors for their generous gifts for the event. Thanks goes to CNOS (Paul Wilson), Hickory Farms, Carmike Theater, Trade Secrets Hair

Salon (Heather Benstead Dorman), Treasure Island, AAFES 185th, Walmart, Pac-N-Save, Pizza Hut, Dairy Queen, Dean Chase, Dixon Elevator, 185th Air Guard (Sioux City), Theresa Marks-Salon & Spa, Mark-It Sports, Garfield's Fitness Zone, Godfather's, Vicky Hingst, AAL Branch #9784, Cheryl Robinson, Riley's, Euni's Palace, Hy-Vee, Helzberg Diamonds, and ADCRAFT (Jim Kelly).

The event was very successful, as it raised around $1500 for the athletic department. A special thanks goes out to all those who worked hard to make the carnival a success. Hopefully, it can continue to be as successful in the future.

DISTRICT CONTEST RESULTS

District Contest results for Allen Band include Superiors: High School Band, High School Chorus, Andrea Swetnam, flute; Andrea Swetnam; piano, Jaclyn Karmann, alto.

The Allen Band also placed First in the "A" division of the World's of Fun Band Competition in Kansas City over the weekend.

Several receive national awards

Kari Hochstein of Carroll and Maggie Heithold and Courtney Vescio, both of Wayne have been named United States National Award winners.

Kari, a student at Wayne Middle School, was nominated for an award in history and government by Scott Lepke, a teacher at the school.

Maggie and Courtney were both nominated for awards in math by Rocky Ruhl, a teacher at Wayne High School.

Their names will no appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, which is published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever in America's history. Certainly, United States Achievement Academy winners should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the United States Achievement.

The Academy selects USAA winners upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors and other qualified sponsors and upon the Standards of Selection set for by the Academy.

Kari is the daughter of LaVerle and Kathy Hochstein of Carroll. Her grandparents include Adaline Jorgensen of Carroll and Elizabeth Hochstein of Hartington.

Maggie is the daughter of Brian and Mary Heithold. Her grandparents are Ed and Laverne Heithold of Wayne and Don and Dee Goaden of Wayne.

Courtney is the daughter of Kim Newell of Wayne and Mike Vescio of Lexington, Ky.

Rats help teach science

Students at Wayne Middle School recently completed a five week study called R.A.T.S. (Rats Are Teaching Science).

Students in Ellen Imdiekes' class acquired two albino laboratory rats to help teach nutrition. In R.A.T.S., the growth and development of the two rats are studied to show students firsthand the importance of eating a balanced diet.

The control rat was given foods from all five Body Building Food Groups while the "test" rat ate meat, fruit, vegetables and grain group foods but none from the milk group. Both received the same number of calories.

The students weighed the rats and measured their tails to observe the differences in the two rats' growth. Through their observations of the rats and the differences of the diets the students learned the value of eating a balanced diet.

At the conclusion of the project, the rats were placed up for "adoption" and are now in the home of two of the fifth grade students.

Volunteers honored

In observance of Volunteer Appreciation Week, which is held the third week of April each year, volunteers at the Wayne Care Centre were honored on April 22. Certificates of appreciation were handed out to all volunteers attending in recognition of their talents and generosity they share with the residents at the Centre. There are 40 volunteers and 20 attended the event. Susie Siefken, Wayne Care Centre Activity Director, is shown handing a certificate to Bev Ruwe, one of the volunteers. Also shown are volunteers Marla Carmichael and Margaret Ritze. Food and games were part of the activities for the evening. Volunteers play an important role in the residents daily schedules, giving unselfishly of their time, helping both residents and workers.

The Golden Years

Joan Mister, 65, a Brooklyn grandmother, heard the call of the open road. The road took her to 48 states in a 30,000-mile drive that lasted six months. She chose her itinerary as she went, with only one regularly scheduled item: a daily phone call to her husband in Brooklyn. As varied as the geography she encountered were the backgrounds of the many good people she came to know. "The people I met along the way affected me deeply. I don't know if the internal or external journey was the deepest," she said.

Laurie Lazzaro Knowlton, left, was the guest author at this year's Aspiring Author Festival. Having books signed are Claudia Koeber, Wayne Elementary librarian and Cheryl Banks of South Sioux City.

Aspiring Authors meet in Laurel for festival

Over 200 students, parents and teachers attended the eighth annual Aspiring Young Authors Festival at the Laurel-Concord school on April 10.

The event was sponsored by the Northeast Nebraska Council of the International Reading Association. Students from schools in northeast Nebraska in grades K-6 were asked to submit manuscripts for the contests in their local schools. Two winners from each school were then chosen to participate in the festival at Laurel.

Author Laurie Lazzaro Knowlton of Medina, Ohio, was the guest author for the day. She opened the day with a motivational speech about how all students need to be "Can Do" people.

Each student also got a chance to work with her in a small group setting on improving the "Bones of writing." Her four published books were available for students to purchase and have autographed by Ms. Knowlton.

Students also participated in activities throughout the morning where they each shared their winning manuscript, participated in reader's theater skits and were entertained by a local woodcarver.

Sectionals on different classroom topics were available for teachers to attend.

Support and donations from area businesses helped to sponsor this event.

Prior to the Festival, the Association held its annual Spring Banquet on April 8 at Wayne State College.

At this banquet, Marge Armstrong of Wayne was honored for her support of reading and literacy throughout the years.

Local students honored at April 9 convocation

Sandy Burbach, Ryan Junck, Krista Magnuson, Melinda Mohr, and Robert Wittler, all of Carroll, Denise Davis and Brad Johnson, both of Concord, Jennifer Fleeer and Michael Kollath, both of Hoskins, Megan Adkins*, Anthony Hall, Katherine Monson, David Ochsner, Mark Stone, and Penny Stone, all of Laurel, Alison Benson, Valerie Fischer, Sara Mattes, Andrew Muller, Michael Sty, and Alyssa Utecht, all of Wakefield,* Robbie Heier, Joe Lutt, Andrew Metz, Matthew Meyer*, Nathan Salmon, Aaron Schnier, and Bradley Woehler, all of Wayne, were honored April 9 at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Honors Convocation.

All area students received High Scholarship honors except for Davis, Muller, Sty, Heier, Lutt, and Schnier, who received Superior Scholarship.

*Students who have maintained all A's in courses taken at UNL are identified by an asterisk following their name.

More than 3,000 students were honored at the 71st annual All-University Honors Convocation held at the NU Coliseum.

The students recognized included 24 seniors honored as Chancellor's Scholars for earning all A's on graded work at the University and at all other post-secondary institutions they attended during their academic careers; 385 seniors honored as Superior Scholars for having grade-point averages in the upper three percent of their colleges or for being on the honors list since their matriculation as freshmen; and 2,840 students in all classes honored as High Scholars for having cumulative grade-point averages of 3.6 or higher.

Dogs are available to adopt

These dogs are currently available for adoption in Wayne through "Love of Animals," a member of the American Humane Association.

"Cain" is a very well behaved two year-old male German Shepherd. He has been neutered and fully vaccinated. He is house broken and loves people. He needs a family who will give him lots of attention.

"Smokie" is a female German Shepherd cross. She is fully vaccinated and somewhat timid. She loves to play and would make a good family dog.

The main purpose of "Love of Animals" is to care for stray animals and find them loving homes. The group is also trying to start humane programs to educate people about proper pet care.

The organization is in desperate need of contributions to continue its efforts. Through the generous donations of one citizen, an outdoor dog kennel was purchased. The group is currently trying to raise funds to buy cat kennels.

Piano students play in April 17 extravaganza

Several students of Mrs. Marcile Uken took part in Piano Extravaganza held at Peru on April 17.

A Piano Extravaganza is a special event that brings together many pianists playing duets together. A piano orchestra is formed with two pianists performing duet music on 16 pianos simultaneously.

Students learn music in various group levels and work on the music so they are confident and comfortable with the music and the day of the extravaganza they practice with their groups at assigned times during the day.

A mass concert was held during the evening with each group performing their music.

Students taking part in the extravaganza were Natalie Fendrick, daughter of Norm and Nancy Fendrick, Michaela Vander weil, playing in Group Two; Emily Bruffat, daughter of Alan and Madge Bruffat and Kayla Koeber, daughter of Don and Claudia Koeber, playing in Group Five and Kristin Brudigam, daughter of Lee and Mary Brudigam of Wakefield and Jennifer Taber, daughter of Douglass and Linda Taber, playing in Group Six.

A number of Wayne Middle School Band students auditioned for and were accepted to play in the Bloomfield Honor Band held recently.

Students chosen for band

A number of Wayne Middle School band students auditioned for and were accepted to the Bloomfield Honor Band recently.

Those participating included:

Alissa Hansen, Emily Brady,

Michelle Murray, Britni Bethune, Kari Hochstein and Megan Jensen, clarinet;

Emily Brady and Sean Petersen, tenor sax;

Kelly Mitchell, Noah Judson,

Chris Stuberg and Karissa Hochstein, French Horn;

Adam Steinbach and Tamara Schardt, trumpet and Kyle Schmale and Brittany Jareske, trombone.

Musicians participate in clinic

Strings students at Wayne Middle School attended the Norfolk Instrumental Clinic on April 17 at Norfolk Junior High School.

A number of awards were received by the students. They include: Superior solos — Anna Leathers and Charity Kroeker, violin; Brittany Jareske, viola; Chris Stuberg and Adem Ruden, cello and Chad Jensen, string bass. Superior duets — Charity

Kroeker and Anna Leathers, violin duet and Chris Stuberg and Adem Ruden, cello duet.

Superior ensemble — Anna Leathers and Charity Kroeker, violins, Brittany Jareske, viola, Chris Stuberg and Adem Ruden, cellos and Chad Jensen, string bass.

Later that same day Anna Leathers received a rating on her violin solo at the University of Nebraska-Omaha Spring Olympics. The strings students are under the direction of Mrs. Bonita Day.

Earth Day celebration

The highlight of Wayne State College's Earth Day Celebration on April 22 was a surprise tribute for Wayne State College botanist Charles Maier for planting hundreds to thousands of trees on campus during his 30 years at WSC. The event also featured a talk by Maier on "The Birth of Earth Day." He was honored by fellow faculty division members with a certificate for a tree with a plaque to be placed in his honor on campus.

'Endurance Contest' held County is music haven

Cass County, or at least this part of it, is a country music haven. Louisville has the Cornhusker Country Music Theater and there are frequent country music festivals at the fairgrounds at Weeping Water. There was a four-day "endurance contest" there this past week and two fiddlers stayed with us. One, 86 years old, had heart surgery last week. The other, half his age, was self-taught after attending a Blue Grass festival. They've been playing together for 10 years, and were a real joy to listen to.

I chuckled at the fact that the trophies said Cryin' Creek Festival. I've joked about that name for Weeping Water the way we used to call Battle Creek Fightin' River.

The little community on a river was a county-wide hub of activity on Saturday, with a health fair at the high school, garage sales, an auction and the music festival. And, fortunately, the weather moderated. Even though the rain is certainly necessary, it's also getting very old.

A highlight for me this week was the conference on End of Life Care sponsored by Nebraska Hospice Association and the Coalition for Compassionate Care. Most of you know that I am relieved that "Dr. Death" is off the streets. But I realize that terminal care should never cease, even when treatment does. I've devoted the second half of my professional life to promoting that care. At this conference, I heard national, and even international, speakers on this subject.

There was the historical perspective. The first speaker asked "Is physician-assisted suicide ever justified?" It has been considered unlawful and at one time, was "punished" by a stake through the heart. I'm well aware of churches that refused to bury those who had taken their lives, thus denying their families the comfort they desperately needed.

The two most-quoted facts about the needs of dying patients were reiterated. We want to die without pain, physical, spiritual or psychological; and we don't want to die alone. When those needs are met, fewer people will seek suicide.

There was also eloquent presentation of the five tasks of dying, especially by Ira Byock, M.D., who makes his points by telling stories. Stories that feature his patients, and the way they used these tasks, saying I forgive you, please forgive me, thank you, I love you, and good bye. And, he gives credit to a hospice nurse for teaching him the steps.

The Centering Corporation was there, on the way to Littleton, Colo. They provide written resources about grief, counseling and support. They were just back from an Oklahoma City memorial service. We collected money and messages to send with them. The contrast between sudden, tragic death and a lingering one in which necessary things can be said, is overwhelming. All we can do is pray, for everyone involved, in either kind of situation. And continue to search for prevention measures, and ways to help and people willing to help. May God help us find some solutions.

'You put your left foot in'

Rock In Prevention (RIP), an award winning prevention program, was in Wayne and Dixon Counties last week. The group met with high school helpers each morning then worked with students in grades K-4 in an effort to help them learn how to live happy, healthy, drug free lives. On Thursday they worked with students from Wayne Elementary and District #57 and on Friday with students from Emerson-Hubbard, Emerson-Sacred Heart and St. Mary's Elementary.

This year's academic competition on the WSC campus was the largest so far with over 450 students from 36 area Nebraska and Iowa high schools attending.

The event was coordinated by Dr. Patricia Arneson and was sponsored by the WSC Division of Business, Pi Omega Pi business education honorary, as well as Phi Beta Lambda and Delta Sigma Pi business organizations, the Association of Computer Machinery, and Advertising Club. For more information, call (402) 375-7255.

Students compete in 16 areas of competition: accounting I and II, advertising, business communication, business comprehensive knowledge, business law, computer literacy, "Consumer Smarts," filing, print calc machines, keyboarding I and II timings, sales presentations, young Business entrepreneur plan, "Web Wizardry," and college bowl.

Richie Dutton of Wakefield was named top young entrepreneur in the business plan event. Sam Larson of Lyons-Decatur was named outstanding salesperson.

Corbit has received residency position

Christopher Corbit of Wayne has received a residency assignment to Akron General Medical Center in Akron, Ohio.

Corbit is among 110 seniors at the University of Nebraska Medical Center College of Medicine who have received their residency assignments through the National Senior Match Day program.

Senior Match Day is an annual event held at the exact same time at UNMC and other U.S. medical schools. Residencies generally last from three to five years and allow the newly-graduated physicians to specialize in an area of medicine, such as internal medicine, family medicine, surgery or obstetrics and gynecology. Corbit's area of specialty is emergency medicine.

The residency "matching" system, which was started in 1952, placed 15,078 U.S. medical students this year into residencies in medical specialties. Under the program, students list several places they would like to train and then are matched through a computerized national system.

About 95 percent of the UNMC class received one of their top three residency assignments of choice. Sixty-three percent of the class, 69 seniors, were placed in primary care residencies this year, including 35 of the 39 seniors who will do residencies at UNMC or at a Lincoln-based family practice program affiliated with UNMC.

Primary care includes family medicine, internal medicine, pediatrics and obstetrics, and gynecology.

Corbit is scheduled to graduate May 8.

This fork is for...

A Business Etiquette dinner was recently served at Wayne State College for seniors and other interested students. Do Yanney of Sioux City, Iowa explained to those in attendance the proper procedures for eating during a business lunch or dinner, proper attire and the importance of moral values for success in life.

Blood Bank visits Wayne

Ninety-two people volunteered and a total of 75 units were collected at the Wayne Community blood drive. There were a number of people reaching certain donation marks at this last drive and they include:

- Alan Wittig 3 gallon
- Barbara Meyer 3 gallon
- Kenneth Halsey 2 gallon
- David Enz 1 gallon
- Randy Holdorf 1 gallon
- Christine Hansen 1 gallon
- Connie Kirkpatrick 1 gallon
- Donald Hyspe 4 gallon
- Bethany Milligan 1 gallon

The Siouxland Community Blood Bank thanks everyone for giving his or her donation. They also thank Evelyn Jerman and Bonnie Moomaw for registering all the donors at this last blood drive. Special thanks goes to the callers who call donors to remind them that it is time to give, Dennis Lipp and Joanne Temme.

The Siouxland Blood Bank appreciates the support of the Wayne Community and they visit Wayne at Providence Medical Center the fourth Thursday of every month. Donors must wait 56 days before donating again.

The Siouxland Blood Bank will be in Wayne again on Thursday, May 27 from 8:30 to 3 p.m.

"The Siouxland Community Blood Bank serves all the blood needs of our 14 area hospitals and their patients. The only way blood products are made available for area patients is if individuals in our communities volunteer to donate blood on a regular basis," said Jan King, Donor Consultant.

Woodcarving success

Steve Schumacher of Wayne recently attended the Great Plains Woodcarvers Convention in Wichita, Kan. He entered three of his carvings and came home with three first place awards. He entered carvings in the Ducks, Songbird and Birds of Prey categories. Schumacher has been involved in woodcarving for approximately 10 years and is a member of a woodcarvers club in Norfolk and one in Omaha. He has also been asked to teach a class in July at Doane College in Crete. Dick Carmen of Wayne also received recognition in the Game Bird class at the Convention.

call before you dig

It may seem like a simple task, but it can save your life. If you dig into a natural gas line, you could cause a fire or explosion. With more than a million miles of pipeline in the country, there's only one way to dig safely. Call 1-800-331-5666 or 1-800-642-8434 two days before you plan to dig.

KN Energy clearly marks where gas lines are located, and where you shouldn't dig. Calling for locations of natural gas facilities is more than just a good idea—it's the law.

And if you ever smell natural gas, leave the area immediately. Don't operate any equipment, don't flip any electrical switches. Simply get away and call KN from another location.

Please take the time to call before you dig. Your family will understand if you forget to pick up the milk.

Volunteers are saluted

How does a program like 4-H have such a positive impact on the lives of youth? The answer lies in our hundreds of volunteers who work so very closely with the youth who are enrolled in 4-H and participate in 4-H events.

These individuals are: club and project leaders, superintendents, teachers, neighbors, businessmen and women, leaders of the community, 4-H Council, Fair boards, and skills, which help youth learn responsibility and leadership skills. Volunteers create a "multiplier approach."

For example, twenty trained club volunteers can have 20 different clubs of 10 or more children each, thus reaching more than 200 local youth. Chances are, each volunteer will train at least one other adult volunteer along the way. It takes such an effect in the 4-H program to make things happen.

To everyone who works so diligently to help build today's youth into tomorrow's leaders, we salute you always. Thank you for investing your time and talents in the youth of our community. The following poem was written by Bonnie Hill of Colorado. This is a wonderful portrayal of what it takes to be a 4-H volunteer.

"Somewhere between the sternness of a parent and the comradeship of a pal is that mysterious creature we call a 4-H volunteer.

These volunteers come in all shapes, sizes, and ages, and may be male or female. But they all have one thing in common—a glorious twinkle in their eyes!

4-H volunteers are found everywhere at judging contests, country fairs, club meetings, and community projects. They always are preparing for, sitting through, taking part in or recuperating from a meeting of some kind.

They are tireless consumers of muffins, experts at taking knots out of thread, assistants of showmanship skills, peerless coaches, and they spend hours on the telephone.

A 4-H volunteer is many things—an artist making a float for the local parade, a doctor prescribing for an underfed calf, a counselor at camp, a lawyer filling out reports, and a shoulder to cry on when that 4-H project just did not turn out the way it was planned.

Nobody else is so early to rise and so late to get home at night. Nobody else has so much fun with so many boys and girls.

We sometimes forget them, but we can't do without them. They receive no salary, but were can never repay them. They are angels in aprons and saints in straw hats. Their only reward is the love of the kids and the respect of the community. But when they look around them at the skills they have taught and the youth they have built, there is an inner voice from somewhere that says, "Well Done."

On behalf of the University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension 4-H and youth program, we say thank you to all the 4-H volunteers who continue to support the 4-H program in our community.

Andersens celebrate anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Andersen of Hoskins celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary on April 10. Approximately 150 friends and relatives attended an open house reception at the Legion Hall in Winside.

The guests were registered by the couple's grandchildren. Guests were present from Wakefield, Stanton, Pilger, Bennington, Wayne, Carroll, Winside, Hoskins, Norfolk, Fremont, Blair, Randolph, Kearney, Fort Calhoun, Laurel, Wisner, Plainview, Pierce, Howells, Wisconsin, Indiana and Minnesota. The couple's attendants 40 years ago were Loretta Voss of Hoskins and Howard Andersen of Detroit, Ore. who could not attend.

Mrs. Russell Prince of Winside baked the sheetcake which was cut and served by Mary Andersen of Norfolk and Becky Allvin of Kearney. Donna Mattson of Ham Lake, Minn. served the coffee. Assisting in the kitchen were Mrs. Rick Kay, Mrs. Curtis Roberts, of Wakefield, Mrs. Bob Andersen and Mrs. Bernie Craven of Norfolk, Mrs. Wayne Denklaue, Mrs. Bryan Denklaue, Mrs. Duane Kay and Mrs. Roger Fredrickson, all of Wayne.

Marvin and Betty Ann were married at Trinity Lutheran Church in Winside on April 5, 1959. They reside in Hoskins. They are the parents of five children and have eight grandchildren and one great-granddaughter.

Extension boards, teens, and parents who have a vested interest in the lives of youth. This list could actually go on and on, but whatever the role that one has played in volunteering for a 4-H event, it deserves to be recognized.

April 18-24 was the week that volunteers across the nation were recognized. It is important, no matter what time of year, to realize the impact that each volunteer has on the youth program.

It is certainly true that volunteers are the backbone of the 4-H program. Each and every volunteer needs to know how important their role is. Without the dedicated support of adult and teen volunteers, the 4-H program would not have such a positive impact on youth. These volunteers teach life

Six Things You Should Know About Caring For

TREES

Use the 1/3 Rules for Pruning

The National Arbor Day Foundation
www.arborday.org

3 How to Make a Pruning Cut

Large Limbs:

Small Branches:

Make a sharp, clean cut, just beyond a lateral bud or other branch

1 Don't Top Trees!

Never cut main branches back to stubs. Ugly, weakly attached limbs often grow back higher than the original branches. Many arborists say that topping is the worst thing you can do for the health of a tree.

4 The Value of Mulch

A tree's best friend, mulch insulates soil, retains moisture, keeps out weeds, prevents soil compaction, reduces lawn mower damage, and adds an aesthetic touch to a yard or street. Remove any grass within the mulch area, an area from 3 to 10 feet in diameter, depending on tree size. Pour wood chips or bark pieces 2 to 4 inches deep within the circle, but not touching the trunk.

- Never remove more than 1/3 of a tree's crown
- Where possible, try to encourage side branches that form angles that are 1/3 off vertical (10 00 or 2 00 positions)
- For most species, the tree should have a single trunk
- Ideally, main side branches should be at least 1/3 smaller than the diameter of the trunk
- If removal of main branches is necessary, cut them back to the trunk to avoid leaving stubs
- For most deciduous (broadleaf) trees, don't prune up from the bottom any more than 1/3 of the tree's total height

5 Where Roots Really Grow

We don't always appreciate how far roots can extend. Understanding how and where roots grow will help you avoid damage from trenching and construction.

- Because roots need oxygen, they don't normally grow in compacted oxygen-poor soil under paved streets.
- Most of the roots are within 18 inches of the surface.
- Roots often grow outward to a diameter one to two times the height of the tree

6 Your Street Trees May Be City Trees

If you live in a town or city, the trees near the street (often between the sidewalk and street), are probably city-owned. The city should have a program for planting and caring for these trees. Support the Tree City USA community forestry program where you live. Respect local ordinances as to what trees can be planted, how to prune, etc. Encourage your town to fully fund a quality tree-planting and tree care program.

Join The National Arbor Day Foundation and get 10 Free Trees

10 Free Colorado Blue Spruces

The National Arbor Day Foundation, a nonprofit organization, is sponsoring a Trees for America campaign to plant millions of trees.

You can participate. When you join the Arbor Day Foundation, you will receive ten free Colorado Blue Spruces, or other conifers selected to grow in your area.

Colorado Blue Spruces have silver blue-green color and compact conical shape. They are guaranteed to grow, or the Foundation will replace them free of charge. Your six to twelve inch trees will come postpaid with easy planting instructions. Trees are shipped at the right time for planting in your area, February through May in the spring or October through mid-December in the fall.

You will also receive a subscription to the Foundation's bimonthly publication, Arbor Day, a membership card, and The Tree Book with information about tree planting and care.

(Rev. Charles Alkula, pastor)

Sunday: Hymn Sing, 10:45 a.m.; Worship, 11:05.

A new organ has recently been installed at Our Savior Lutheran Church.

Our Savior Church has installed organ

The Schlicker Pipe Organ Company is presently installing a pipe organ at Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne.

The pipe organ is a two manual and pedal 22 rank organ. The 1,202 pipes are contained in a free-standing red oak case which both serves to house the pipes and provides a cohesive ensemble. The instrument is presently being voiced for its new space to provide full support of hymn singing as well as for concert organ literature.

The congregation hopes to begin using the organ in worship sometime during the month of May.

Wayne UMW met with 25 present

The Wayne United Methodist Women met April 14 with 25 ladies present. The group had a noon meal catered by Joyce Niemann, assisted by Marj Porter and Norma Ehlers. Vice President Joyce Niemann conducted the business meeting in the absence of President Hallie Sherry. Donna Hansen reported new books are in. Marj Porter had four baby quilts to be taken to the district meeting. Mona Claybaugh distributed materials on disaster relief kits, flood kits, school kits and basic health kits that are needed. All members were encouraged to bring items by the next meeting. A box is available in the Fellowship Hall to put the items in. These will then be made up into kits and ready by the annual conference. The UMW will give $50 to this cause. The group was reminded of the district meeting at Verdigre on April 17. The quilts were to be sent to the Carroll ladies that were attending. Pearla Benjamin read an article on babies with aids and drugs. JoAnn McNatt reported on trays that are available. Correspondence was read from Fern Kelly and Hallie Sherry. Fellowship Day will be held Friday, May 7 at 9:30 a.m. at Our Savior Lutheran Church. The Birthday Song was sung for Maxine Robins and Fern Kelley. Dola Hussman was welcomed back. Pauline Merchant presented the program, "Christ and His Disciples." Two songs were sung by Connie Webber, "Hold Tight My Hand" and "Just a Closer Walk with Thee." She closed the program with a prayer. Joyce Niemann closed the meeting with a reading "God's Pottery," about molding and shaping us. The next meeting will be a dessert luncheon on Wednesday, May 12. Connie Webber will be the leader.

Our Savior Women ELCA gather for guest night

Our Savior Women of the ELCA held an in-church guest night on April 14. Sixty women attended the program. Slides from Pastor Russell's recent exchange ministry in Tanzania were shown. The visitation Committee had met March 17 with 14 visitors and Pastor Koeber present. A prayer was given for all doctors, nurses, and staff in hospitals and care centers. Sixty-eight Easter cards, one sympathy and one baby card were signed. Forty-nine members were visited or called. Marilyn Pierson turned in the monies gathered from the sale of greeting cards. Four members of Our Savior had attended the Spring Gathering in Bloomfield March 20. Our Savior will host the Spring Gathering in 2000. Faith Circle is in charge of Nursery cleaning in April and Joy Circle is responsible for May. Charity Circle will serve the WEL-COME House on Sunday, April 25. Thirty dish towels have been given to the WELCOME House. "Saved to Serve," a program to support the Laotian families around Dakota City, will be held May 21-23. One program involves gardening skills while the other deals with parenting skills and children's activities. The Circles have been challenged to make and provide layette materials. Still another part of "Saved to Serve" involves making quilts and bibs for residents of Bethpage. Information has been received for the WELCA Synod Convention this fall in Kearney. Scholarship materials are available for first time participants under age 25. A delegate will be chosen in May. Contact Sue Olson for more information. May Fellowship will be held Friday at 9:30 a.m. on May 7 at Our Savior. Refreshments were served by Faith Circle.

Zone Spring Workshop was hosted at South Sioux City

The Wayne Zone Lutheran Women's Missionary League Spring Workshop was held on April 18 at Hope Lutheran in South Sioux City. The theme was "Christ for All Generations." Fifty members and pastors attended the event. The Rev. Charles Horkey, pastor of Hope Lutheran, led the hymn singing and the opening devotions. Bonnadell Koch, Zone vice-president, greeted the ladies and pastors. She passed out the Link-up packets and led the group in reciting the LWML Pledge. Shirley Billiar, Hope Ladies' Aid President, gave the welcome.

The guest speaker was Shelly Stollberg of Scribner. She reminded everyone that the LWML must change to meet the needs of all generations. The Christian Growth Committee, which included Rhonda Sebade, Evelyn Lienemann, Connie Schutte, Marj Porter and Sharon Klatt presented the skit entitled, "Missions, the New Frontier." Rhonda Sebade gave the District report. Pastor Gary Klatt, Zone Counselor, gave the closing devotion and the group sang, "Lutheran Women, One and All."

Eastern Star plans activities

Wayne Chapter #194 Order of Eastern Star met April 12 for a regular meeting. Worthy Matron Connie Kirkpatrick welcomed those in attendance. An invitation was received from Wisner Star Chapter to attend their Friendship Night on Monday, May 3 at 8 p.m. Wayne Chapter is sending Lindy Fleer to participate in the Masonic Marching Band performance in Lincoln in June. Nebraska Grand Chapter session will be held May 11-13 in Pershing Auditorium in Lincoln. The 9th Annual Highway Clean-up date was originally scheduled for April 24 but postponed to a later date. Rosemary Mintz was introduced as a Grand Representative of Puerto Rico in Nebraska. The ceremony of Initiation was presented by Thomas Streeter. Following the business meeting a memorial service was held for Sister Verniece Breland, Worthy Grand Matron of Nebraska in 1963-64. Veryl Jackson was a substitute officer for the evening. Refreshment chairman for the meeting was Nana Peterson. The next meeting will be held Monday, May 10. Donna Liska will be refreshment chairman.

AWANA Grand Prix held

The AWANA Grand Prix was held on April 7 at Calvary Bible Evangelical Free Church in Wayne. Thirty-two Clubbers participated in the event. Trophies were presented for the best design as well as the fastest car. AWANA is a non-denominational program for youth from ages three through sixth grade. AWANA meets every Wednesday night at Calvary Bible during the school year. Participants began preparing for the event early in January by designing their cars.

Grace Ladies hold April meeting

The LWML League Pledge was said to open the April 14 meeting. Beverly Hansen gave a devotion from Luke 24, "Do You Want Your Heart Ignited?" "Amazing Grace" was sung. A memorial was given in memory of Frances Bak. Pastor Jeff and 31 members were present. On the new Care Centre committee are Milly Thomsen, Delores Utecht, Ellain Vahikamp, Irene Victor, Ruth Victor, Kathy Wiser, Betty Wittig and Renata Anderson. Delores will be the chairman. The Servers made six quilts in March. New on the Visiting committee are Ellen Heinemann, Delores Helgren and Leona Janke. Bev Hansen read a letter from the seminary student that the group sponsors and Esther Hansen will write this month. A new Bunn coffee maker has been purchased for the kitchen from the memorial fund. A total of 93 folding chairs have been ordered by Barbara Greve and Bonnadelle Koch with funds from the Cookie Walk. The Aid will again serve treats for Vacation Bible School. Renata Anderson and Rhonda Sebade are on the committee. Guests to invited for the May 12 Guest Day are First Trinity, Altona; Our Savior, Wayne; First United Methodist, Wayne; First Baptist, Wayne; St. John's Lutheran, Pilger and Grace Evening Circle. Pastor Anderson gave a lesson, "War and Peace." Honored for April birthdays were Kathy Wiser, Debi Morlok, Louise Langemeier, Bernita Sherbahn, Leoma Baker, Ethel Johnson, Dorothy Grone and Phyllis Nolte. Serving the Guest Day in May will be Verdell Reeg, Bonnadell Koch, Dorothy Meyer, Esther Broder, Ellen Heinemann and Delores Utecht.

Confirmation to be held at Our Savior

Fourteen young people will be confirmed at Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne on Sunday, May 2 during the 10:30 a.m. worship service.

"We rejoice with these young people and are delighted to celebrate with them as they are confirmed," said Pastor Martin Russell. "Our Savior is blessed with so many fine young people and we pray that God will bless and keep them as they are confirmed and as they continue to grow."

Presbyterian Women meet

The Carroll United Presbyterian Women met April 21. Moderator Jacquelyn Owens opened the business meeting with an article, "Be Still, and Know That I Am God."

Seven members answered roll call with a verse from the book of Jeremiah.

Eleanor Owens and Janice Morris gave reports on the Spring Presbytery held at Wayne.

The lesson, "The Temple Sermon," was given by Jacquelyn Owens. The song, "Spirit of God, Descend Upon My Heart," was sung.

A cooperative lunch was served.

Neighbor Awards for 1999. The Ak-Sar-Ben Foundation and the Omaha World-Herald recently announced the individuals from across Nebraska and western Iowa that have been selected to receive the 55th annual award.

These awards recognized individuals who within the past year have performed neighborly acts and deeds unselfishly without personal gain. Nominations are submitted by community members and approved by the Ak-Sar-Ben representative of the region. Each winner will be presented with a certificate later this year.

In the nomination for Lefty, he was cited as "having competed so many different projects for his community of neighbors, that they consider him an ambassador of good will."

OFFERS SCHOLARSHIPS

The Wakefield Education Association again this year is offering two college scholarships to graduating seniors. The scholarships, in the amount of $200 each, will be appropriated for second semester tuition.

Seniors interested in applying for the scholarship should contact Mrs. Jeanne Wilwerding at the school. Deadline for submitting an application is May 4.

Announcement of the winners will be made during graduation ceremonies on May 16.

COMMUNITY CLUB MEETING

The Wakefield Community Club held its regular monthly coffee at the Wakefield Family Resource Center, with the center as the host. Children at the center sang some songs for the club.

Reports were given from the resource center, health care center, senior center, ministerium, library, tree board, school, advance committee, theatre and the city of Wakefield.

Area square dances planned

May 2 — Town Twirlers, Laurel auditorium, 8 p.m. Mother's Day Dance, Jim Logan.

May 14 — Leather and Lace, Wayne City Auditorium, 8 p.m., Lanny Weakland.

May 16 — Town Twirlers, Laurel auditorium, 8 p.m., Lanny Weakland.

May 26 — Leather & Lace, Wayne City Auditorium, 8 p.m., Trails in-Singles weekend, Jerry Junck.

Members reviewed goals and events sponsored by the club and new ones to possibly undertake. Playground equipment at the park was considered as a worthy project for the club. A committee was set up for the project. Fund raising ideas were also discussed.

It was decided to begin sponsoring a weekly special events calendar in the Republican. Organizations will be encouraged to list special activities on the calendar at the Republican and to use the calendar when determining when to schedule activities.

The calendar will look ahead around six weeks at a time.

Discussion was also held on whether an alternative time would be better for regular monthly meetings and how to get more people involved. The Community Club recently had 80-some members. No decision was made.

Announcements were also made about some upcoming events.

The Wakefield Health Care Center will be the host of the May 13 meeting. It will be National Nursing Home Month. The meeting will be held in the West Lobby of the center.

TWO RETIRE

Mary Lou Erb and Pauline Karlberg recently retired from their employment at the M.G. Waldbaum plant in Wakefield. The company hosted parties for both women which included co-workers and friends.

Mary Lou, of Wakefield, began work at Waldbaums in March of 1982 and retired on March 30 of this year. During her 17-plus years with the company, she worked primarily in the hard boiled department.

Prior to her retirement she held the position of hard boiled operator.

Mary Lou told company personnel she was looking forward to spending time with her husband Eugene and their grandchildren.

Pauline Karlberg of Allen concluded her employment with the Waldbaum Company in mid March. She worked for the company for over 18 years beginning on Jan. 19, 1981.

Pauline held a variety of positions, but worked primarily in the hard boiled department. She said she will be enjoying her retirement with her husband, Marlyn.

WHO'S WHO PUBLICATION

Renee Felt, daughter of Merlin and Delores Felt of Wakefield, has received notification from the publishers of "Who's Who Among American High School Students" that she has been selected to be published in their national publication.

Only five percent of all high school students receive this award each year.

Renee is a junior enrolled in Wakefield Community schools. She has been involved in Future Business Leader's Association, Youth Network, band, basketball student manager, elementary student aid, and piano. She is a member of the Coon Creek Clover 4-H Club and a member of the livestock judging team. She is a junior member of the American Shorthorn Association and a junior member of the Nebraska Simmental Association.

Renee is a member of the Evangelical Covenant Church, has taught Vacation Bible School and has been both a leader and a guide for the youth program, Pioneer Club.

GRANT FOR BALL FIELD

The Community Recreation of Wakefield, Inc. (CRW), a non-profit organization, announced it has received a grant from the Gardner Foundation in the amount of $50,021. The funds will be used for a number of improvements on the three ball fields located at the park.

Some of these improvements include a player development area for softball and baseball players, new lights for the T-ball field, a right field viewing deck on Eaton Field for baseball and football games, a walkway and bench from the T-ball field to the softball field, moving of a park maintenance garage and equipment shed, new grounds keeping equipment, a cedar fence down the left-field line on Eaton Field and lights for the flag poles.

The Community Recreation Committee expressed gratitude to the Gardner Foundation for their generosity and leadership in supporting the youth of the community. The organization also thanked a couple longtime supporters of the summer youth programs, Paul Eaton and Butch Utemark. The pair spent many hours putting together the application for the grant.

The CRW committee feels this grant is a big step forward in solidifying Wakefield as the Baseball Capital of Nebraska and for insuring the youth of Wakefield have proper facilities to participate in summer activities.

Labor for the projects will come from community volunteers, School at the Center and the City of Wakefield. Anyone wishing to volunteer their time and services please contact any one of the Community Recreation Committee whose members are Stan McAtee, Gary Tullberg, Alan (A.J.) Johnson, Lefty Olson, Mike Wirth, and Dick Brownell.

Work on the projects is scheduled to start right away with a completion day by the State American Legion Class C Midget Tournament to be held in Wakefield beginning July 30.

APPLIES FOR LEGISLATIVE SEAT

Lowell Johnson, a Wakefield native, has applied for the District 18 legislative seat which is vacant due to the death of Senator Stan Shellpeper. The Governor's office reported that 25 people have applied for the position and that it is hoped that a replacement can be named within two weeks.

Johnson was interviewed over the telephone recently by a member of the Governor's staff. He said he was told the application would be narrowed to the top three to five and these applicants will be interviewed by Governor Mike Johanns. It is expected that a replacement for Shellpeper will be named next week.

NAMED TREE CITY FOR NINTH YEAR

Wakefield was recognized as a Tree City USA community for the ninth consecutive year. Cities that put forth extra effort to keep their town looking beautiful with trees were honored on April 16 at the Tree City USA Award ceremony at the Nebraska State Capitol building.

Governor Mike Johanns and Nebraska State Forester Gary Hergenrader presented Tree City USA Awards to 102 communities.

To receive the Tree City USA Award, cities must have a tree board or department responsible for public trees; use $2 pre capita on the city's tree resources; have an ordinance that deals with the city's tree resources, and have a formal Arbor Day celebration.

The Wakefield Tree Board, in conjunction with the school, will hold a program on Friday, April 30—Arbor Day. The program will be in the School Auditorium beginning at 2:45 p.m.

People in the community are welcome and encouraged to attend.

The program will be presented by the sixth grade students. Each sixth grader will be presented a tree seedling to take home to plant.

CINCO DE MAYO CELEBRATION

Cinco De Mayo, the fifth day of May, is a festive Mexican celebration which is in observance of that country's independence. The Wakefield School will be hosting a celebration on Saturday, May 8 from noon until 6 p.m.

The holiday is celebrated in the United States by Mexican Americans.

HISTORIC BARN TOUR

The advanced art class at Wakefield High School, under the supervision of instructor Kirby Mousel, will be hosting a tour of historical barns in Dixon County on Wednesday, May 5. Those interested in going on the tour should meet at the school circle drive for departure at 1 p.m.

At the site the students will be making presentations on the history and architecture of the barn. Stops will include Slama farms, Gerle Johnson, Elmer Carlson, Randy Jensen, Loren Lund, Doug Rickett, Sy Kneiff, Vernon Grosvenor, Elmer Lehman, Leland Miner, Marian Peters and the late Herman and Marian Stolle farm.

The students will also be producing sketches of the 12 barns which will be featured on a year 2000 calendar by the school art department. Those calendars will be offered for sale later in the year.

JUMP ROPE FOR HEART

The annual Jump Rope for Heart will be held at the Wakefield School on Tuesday, May 4 from 4-6 p.m. Severy-five elementary students have indicated they will take part in the event to help fight heart disease and stroke, the nation's number one killer.

The students are currently seeking pledges and donations for the event. Last year the Wakefield students raised $3,800 for the Heart Association. These funds held support cardiovascular research and educational programs such as HeartPower, according to the Heart Association.

Spectators are welcome and encouraged to attend the Jumping event. Anyone with questions may contact event coordinators Paul Eaton and Jason Lühr.

ATHLETIC BANQUET SPEAKER

University of Nebraska Kicker Kris Brown will be the guest speaker at the Athletic Boosters' Banquet on Tuesday, May 11. Tickets, which are $5 a person are now on sale. They may be purchased at Nebraska State Bank, City Clerk's Office or at the Gardner Foundation Office.

Brown completed his career at Nebraska and was drafted last weekend by the Pittsburgh-Steelers. Autographs will be available for those attending the banquet. There will also be tickets sold on a number of fundraising items including an autographed Nebraska football, Nebraska football, Nebraska game tickets and signed pictures.

Students in grades seven through twelve who completed a sport or were student managers during this school year will be given complimentary tickets by the Booster Club. Students may pick up their tickets at school Monday through Friday, April 26-30 in front of the high school office between 7:45 and 8:15 a.m. Students may also purchase extra tickets for family members.

The banquet will be held in the school auditorium beginning at 6:30 p.m. with serving of the catered meal. During the evening coaches will recognize athletes and the athlete of the Year Award will be presented. The Booster Club will announce the Fan of the Year Award.

"We want the banquet to be a family affair," states the banquet committee. "We are hoping for a good turn out and encourage all athletic parents and community members to attend."

Ticket deadline is Tuesday, May 4.

The club is also looking for interested persons to help with the banquet and needs electric roasters. If you can help please contact Dan Zulkosky or Leslie Bebee.

SELECTED FOR JUNIOR LAW CADET

Michelle Schwarten, a junior at Wakefield High School, has been selected to participate in the American Legion's Junior Law Cadet program this summer. Four eleventh grade students, two boys and two girls, from each of the 15 districts of the American Legion, Department of Nebraska, are chosen to take part in the annual program.

Selection is based on competitive evaluation, based on worthy character, interest, evidence of self-discipline and ability to share knowledge gained with others.

Separate sessions are held for the young men (June 7-11) and young women (June 14-18) at the Nebraska State Patrol Training Academy in Lincoln.

During the week participants learn about law enforcement responsibilities and training from representative of various city, county, state and federal agencies. The youth do daily calisthenics, take field trips to the State Penitentiary, attend classroom sessions, and learn about self-defense, firearms, operating radar and other police equipment.

Michelle, daughter of Vickie Schwarten, is active in volleyball, is a drum major for the marching band, a member of the concert band and of Future Business Leaders of America and a volunteer teacher's aide.

She is an active member of Salem Lutheran Church and its youth group. She worked part time for the Lowell Johnson became a five gallon donor.

STATE SPEECH CONTEST

Three speech students at Wakefield High School qualified for the State Speech Contest last month. Making presentations were Todd McQuistan, Kassi Anderson and Richie Dutton.

Todd and Richie both earned superior ratings in the State competition in Humorous Prose. Kassi qualified in Serious Prose.

Melissa Hansen and Jennifer Victor both placed third in the District competition in Informative Speaking and Persuasive Speaking, respectively. Jessica Moody received a fourth place ranking at the District event in Poetry. The students are all juniors.

Jamie Hickson, a senior earned a third place in Duet Acting in the District. Also competing was senior Adam Boeckenhauer, along with sophomores Traci Lueth, Kim Hattig, Annie Bierbower and Brian Boeckenhauer, and freshman Kayla Erwin.

Richie is a junior and Todd and Kassi are sophomores.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETS

The Wakefield Board of Education held its regular month meeting on April 12 in the board room. Visitors were BJ Hansen, Gary and Kathy Hansen, Deb Youngmeyer, Dan Zulkosky, and Jon Carlson.

BJ and Gary and Kathy Hansen spoke to the board about some concerns they had.

Deb Youngmeyer reported that there are 35 special education students. She explained classroom and student needs.

Dan Zulkosky appeared as an audience. Johnson thanked him for the information and help he has provided concerning specifications and electrical wiring.

Jon Carlson, architect, explained the building plans and presented building materials for the school addition.

Principals' report: Mrs. Widner advised the board of the following elementary events: April 13-first grade went to the circus, April 15-third grade attended the Wayne State College Theater performance, April 20-Kindergarten Parent's Roundup; April 23 was Kindergarten Roundup and the annual fourth grade trip to Lincoln; April 28-the fifth grade travels to Nelhardt Center; April 30, an Arbor Day Program and the Title I Carnival.

Mrs. Widner informed the board about the surveys received from schools that currently have all day, every day Kindergarten.

Lynette Haisch and Mrs. Widner attended the Title I meeting in Fremont, April 12, to learn of changes in the program.

Mrs. Surface reported that April has been a very busy month with the Wakefield Institute, Parent-Teacher Conferences, Arts and Humanities Conference, Leadership Conferences for FCCLA and FBLA, plus track and the student extravaganza.

Mrs. Surface discussed the senior trip to Mall of America with the board. She also advised the board of the following dates: April 16-the sophomores class attended a special exhibit on Ancient Egypt at Joslyn in Omaha; April 15 and 19, pre-contest band concert and pre-contest vocal clinic, respectively; April 17-Totad attended the Red and White Game in Lincoln; April 24-Prom; and Honors Night-May 3.

Superintendent's report: Mr. Moody presented the board with information from Mrs. Youngmeyer involving elementary special education. He included copies of positive comments from Paul Olson and Miles Bryant who are associated with Ammenburg and School at the Center.

Mr. Moody reminded the board that he will be attending the National Migrant Education Conference in Little Rock later this month.

Lastly, Mr. Moody spoke to the board concerning the soccer club and activities in conjunction with weightlifting.

Committee reports: Labor relations: Marcia Kratke reported that she has contacted the WEA as to their array.

Policy: Keim presented the board with restructured copies of board policy.

Building and grounds: Johnson discussed concerns about the use of the school building.

Old Business: Discussion was held on the sale of school land. They approved to sell lots 1, 2, 3, and 4 of Block 1, Second Addition, at a price of $7,500 each.

They approved the 1999-2000 school calendar as presented.

New business: They accepted the resignation of Jeanne Wilwerding, Mary Slaughter and Dan Keast at the end of 1998-1999 school year.

Horse handler to be featured

Wild horse handler, Bryan Neubert of Alturas, Calif., will be featured at the second annual Cattlemen's Ball of Nebraska to be held June 5 at the Robb Ranch southeast of Lexington.

An expert in horse handling and colt starting, Neubert will demonstrate his techniques in gentling a wild horse from the Bureau of Land Management's Wild Horse and Burro Facility at Elm Creek. Over a period of a couple hours he will gain the horse's trust and eventually halter and lead it.

Along with the wild horse handler, Lexington area trick rider Max Reynolds will be performing his Roman-style riding act which involved standing on the backs of two running horses and performing several stunts. He also will be doing some trick roping.

Additional entertainment will be provided by country artist Michael Peterson. Peterson's new album, "Being Human," is scheduled for release on June 8, just three days after the ball. The first single off the album is "Somethin' Bout a Sunday." His other hit songs include "By the Book," "From Here to Eternity" and "Love's Great."

Other event activities will include a style show, an art show, live and silent auctions, and wagon rides along the Oregon Trail. The day will conclude with a dance featuring Karen Briener and the Midnight Express. For people arriving a day early a 4-person scramble golf tournament will be held at the Lakeside Country Club near Johnson Lake on June 4.

The Cattlemen's Ball is held to promote beef in a healthy diet and to showcase rural Nebraska. All of the money raised will stay in Nebraska with 90 percent of the proceeds going toward research projects at the University of Nebraska Medical Center Eppley Cancer Center. Last year's ball raised $95,000 for cancer research in Nebraska. The remaining 10 percent will be directed to health care in the Lexington area.

"The Cattlemen's Ball has proven to be a significant resource for our fight against cancer here at the UNMC Eppley Cancer Center," said Margaret Tempero, interim director, UNMC Eppley Cancer Center. "We are looking forward to this year's event and the strides it will allow us to take toward reaching our goals in cancer research."

Tickets are now on sale for two raffles to be held during the Cattlemen's Ball. One raffle is for a new pick-up truck. The other is a race of plastic T-bone steaks down the Phelps Canal with winning participants receiving cash prizes. Winners need not be present to win. For raffle ticket information, contact Hap Hardesty at (308) 324-7741.

Memorial arrangements are available for Cattlemen's ball guests who are cancer survivors or who would like to remember a loved one who died of cancer. Donors can purchase an artificial arrangement for $100. They will be displayed during the ball and can be taken home at the end of the day. Contact the ticket office to place an order.

Only 3,000 tickets will be sold to the 1999 cattlemen's Ball. Tickets

4-H'ers are honored

Beau and Kylie Bearnes of Laurel, children of Kent and Kim Bearnes and Greg Schardt of Wayne, son of Lowell and Karen Schardt, recently submitted their 4-H Record Books to the state competition.

Their records first went through a selection process at the county level and then the district level, before being selected for state. Each of these 4-H'ers were represented in two curriculum areas: Beau in Animal Science and Plant Science; Kylie in Healthy Lifestyles and Personal Development and Leadership; and Greg in Animal Science and Communication and Expressive Arts. Record books were judged by Extension staff and 4-H volunteers across the state.

4-H'ers who are chosen as the winner in each category are eligible to participate in the National 4-H Youth Congress that will be held in

AID ASSOCIATION MEETS

The Aid Association for Lutherans Branch 1542 held their regular meeting Sunday evening, April 18, at St. John's Lutheran Church in Wakefield. Twenty-three members were present.

Chairman Kenneth Thomsen opened the meeting with a devotion entitled "The Worth of Work That Abides." Secretary Evelyn Linemann read the minutes of the last meeting and Mary Baker gave the treasurer's report. All joined in reading the mission statement.

A fund-raiser will be held on Sunday, May 2, following services at St. John's to help with expenses on the chair lift at St. John's. A noon luncheon will be held at 11:45 to 1 p.m. Melvin Kraemer organized the fund raiser.

The evening program was led by Kenneth Thomsen and Larry Baker entitled "Membership Growth Initiative," which was an explanation on how to join AAL as an Associate member.

Cliff Baker was the winner of the door prize. Kitchen committee was Edna Hansen, Gertrude Ohlquist, and Mary Alice Utecht. Entertainment followed the luncheon.

The next meeting is May 16 with Melvin and Neva Kraemer in charge of the program and the carry-in lunch.

EVEN DOZEN CLUB MEETS

The Even Dozen Club met April 20 with Donna Roeber as hostess. Ten members answered roll call and Margaret Turner was a guest.

President Dorothy Meyer presided at the business meeting, and Mylet Bargholz read the minutes of the last meeting. Erna Bottger gave the treasurer's report.

Guest Day is planned for the next meeting on May 18. Each member is to bring a guest and read a Mother's Day poem or reading. Delores Siebrandt will be hostess with the meeting to be held at the Wakefield Fire Hall.

The group had a plant or bulb exchange. Cards followed with Dorothy Meyer winning high prize. SERVE ALL CLUB HOLDS MEETING.

The Serve All Club met on April 21 at the Wakefield Senior Center Haskell House with Ruth Boeckenhauer as hostess. Seven members answered roll call with spring flowers they had blooming.

Edna Hansen served as chairman in the absence of the president and vice president. The group will help with bingo at the Wakefield Care Center and dates are June 25 and Sept. 24. Members on the committee for June are Ruth Boeckenhauer, Ardath Utecht, Dorothy Driskell, Virginia Leonard and Gertrude Ohlquist.

The hostess had entertainment with Glee Gustafson and Ardath Utecht winning prizes. Edna Hansen was the winner of the hostess gift.

The next meeting will be June 16 with Dorothy Driskell as hostess.

Doug Samuelson, Eric and Casey of Grand Island were weekend guests in the Arvid Samuelson home. All were Sunday dinner guests in the Galen Samuelson home.

Twila Baker of Tigard, Ore., and Marcee Muller of Tecumseh were weekend visitors of their mother's, Viola Baker and Alice Muller, and also visited with other relatives and friends.

Teach selected

Tammy Teach of Wayne was one of 25 students at Nebraska Wesleyan University recently selected for the prestigious national honorary Cardinal Key.

Junior and senior women are selected for Cardinal Key based on academic success (junior students must have at least a 3.5 grade point average, seniors must have at least a 3.2 GPA), involvement and accomplishment on campus, and personal qualities which will contribute to leadership in others and take an active part in service to school and community.

SENIOR CITIZENS

Hoskins Senior Citizens met on April 20, at the Firehall. Betty Andersen was in charge of coffee. Card prizes were won by Hilda Thomas, Truda Meighenry, and Lucille Knorr.

The next meeting will be held May 4 with Vera Brogie in charge of coffee.

RETURN HOME

Bill and Hildegarde Fenske returned home on April 19 after a 10 day trip to Philadelphia, Pa. They were guests in the Paul and Pat Fenske home. While there, they also visited Robert Neuhauer in Lancaster, Pa., and did some sight-seeing which included the Independence Hall area of Philadelphia and Longwood Gardens at Kennett Square, Pa.

Later they spent two days with their nephew Joseph Reichtman in Alexandria, Va. With him they toured part of the Smithsonian, the White House and White House gardens, and attended an organ concert in the National Cathedral in Washington, D.C.

WEEK OF THE YOUNG CHILD

using special sound effects from the KNLN sound room.

Students were on the "air" answering questions about their field trip. After the tour at KNLN, students toured the Norfolk Police Station, including the weight room, dispatch room and were able to sit in a real Police Car.

Children had lunch at McDonald's and then went to Christ the Saviour Lutheran Church for a storytelling event by Alice Dietz of Norfolk. Last stop for the preschoolers was Central Park in Norfolk. Drivers for the field trip were Lisa Jaeger, Diann Doffin, Deann Kneiff, Pam Grunke, and Gwen Allemann.

OPEN HOUSE

Hoskins Community Center held an open house on April 25. Around 100 people toured the new building and enjoyed the coffee and cake. Hoskins Community Choir sang several songs. The choir is directed by Josh Glowacki. Members include Jon and Peg Behmer, Richard Behmer, Diane Borgmann, Larry and Jan Bruggeman, Nancy Deck, Diane Doffin, Gloria Doffin, Sharon Glowacki, Diane Gurk, Cindy Krause, Stan Langenberg, Dennis and Romana Puls and Arlan Sellin. Pianist is Jeanie Marotz. The event was hosted by Fritz and Deb Krause, Larry and Jan Bruggeman, Stan and Virginia Langenberg.

Tree donation

State National Bank recently presented the Logan Creek Chapter of Pheasants Forever with 100 spruce trees. The bank received the trees from the National Bankers Association and has annually given them to the group. Involved in the presentation were Galen Wiser, senior vice-president of State National Bank and Marty Marx, representing the Pheasants Forever Chapter.

Agribusiness Council

Statement released

Editors note: The following statement has been released by the Agribusiness Council in an effort to help rally the community behind those who produce agriculture.

The Agribusiness Council of the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce has a primary goal of enhancing and building strong communication between production agriculture and the general business community, as well as recognizing the significant contribution that agriculture makes to the Wayne area.

Agriculture is a huge industry in Nebraska. In Wayne County, production agriculture is a viable link to the economy. According to the Nebraska Department of Agriculture "AgStats" the county produces on an annual basis the following: 10,631,600 bushels of corn, 2,693,200 bushels of soybeans, 61,000 cattle and calves and 61,000 hogs and pigs. This does not include the other crops such as wheat, sorghum, oats, hay and more.

This production is a major part of the area economy. Many of the manufacturers in the Wayne area relate a portion of their business to agriculture and agribusiness and several rely completely on agriculture.

Nebraska ranks seventh or better nationally in virtually any area of production.

In recent months many negative statements have been made regarding production agriculture in the state of Nebraska. These comments relate to such topics as large versus small, environmental concerns, etc. Some have even expressed the opinion that our state would be better off without production agriculture, especially livestock operations. We know this is not true. The livestock industry provides considerable stability to the Wayne area economy.

All of the concerns need to be addressed, but the Nebraska community can choose to work on the issues instead of "taking sides" in a negative way. Any Nebraskan should be aware of how important production agriculture is to our statewide economy. Failures in the agriculture economy can have a devastating effect not only in rural areas but metro areas as well. We must be willing to support continuing developments in production based on sound science and common sense, not emotion.

The Agribusiness Council of the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce urges all organizations to adopt a statement of support for Nebraska's production agriculture. We need your help to emphasize the critical importance of this industry to the state's and rural communities' economies.

Adkins given honors at UNL

Megan Adkins of Laurel was recently named one of 10 Freshmen Notables of Mortar Board at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Mortar board, a national honor society, annually selects Notables who are individuals demonstrating the highest levels of dedication to academic excellence, campus leadership and community involvement.

During traditional Ivy Day ceremonies at the University of Nebraska, Adkins was also awarded one of the two Innocents Honor Society Memorial Scholarships. The Innocents Society, a Nebraska senior honor society, annually honors outstanding UNL freshmen with the scholarships.

Adkins is the daughter of Rick and Joan Adkins of Laurel and is a 1998 graduate of Laurel-Concord High School.

Livestock show announces new competition

The Ak-Sar-Ben 4-H Livestock Show officials have announced the addition of a premier exhibitor award program to the 1999 event scheduled for Sept. 21-27 at Ak-Sar-Ben Field in Omaha.

Designed as an opportunity for 4-H exhibitors to demonstrate project production and management knowledge, youth who will be juniors in high school or older that plan to exhibit at the fall show will be invited to compete in one of the following Expo divisions: Dairy, Feeder Calf & Breeding Beef, Horse, Market Beef, Market Broilers, Market Lamb and Market Swine.

Each candidate will be judged and scored during an interview, completion of a species-specific skill-a-thon station, a management quiz and live placing results. A winner will be selected in each of the seven divisions and therefore eligible to compete for an educational scholarship.

According to Expo General Manager, Sherman Berg, "The premier exhibitor award will allow youth who excel in animal production techniques the opportunity to showcase their skills along with their animals."

To obtain an entry form or to learn more about this program or any others offered during the event, individuals are encouraged to contact their local extension offices in June or the Ak-Sar-Ben 4-H Livestock Expo directly at (402) 554-9604 or write to 6800 Mercy road, Suite 206, Omaha, Neb. 68106. Entry deadline for this program is Aug. 13.

Ak-Sar-Ben Livestock Exposition scheduled

Market beef nominations are in for the 72nd annual Ak-Sar-Ben 4-H Livestock Exposition.

A total of 4,673 nose prints from seven different states have been approved to exhibit at the expo. The exposition will be held from Sept. 21 through Sept. 27 in Omaha.

The Exposition will begin on Tuesday, Sept. 21 with the 4-H horse show. The show will begin at 8 a.m. and will continue into the evening. The 4-Hers will finish the horse show on Wednesday, Sept. 22, beginning at 8 a.m.

Judging the 4-H horse show will be Bonnie Clay from Pilot Point, Texas. She will evaluate exhibitors in several different events throughout the two days of competition.

On Friday, Sept. 24 the 4-H feeder calf show will begin at 10 a.m. Doug Satree of Montague, Texas will evaluate the feeder heifers and steers. He will also be evaluating the breeding beef at the exposition.

On Saturday, Sept. 25 the judging of breeding beef, market lambs and dairy cattle will all begin at 8 a.m. Evaluating the market lambs will be Mark McCann of Watkinsville, Ga. Sharing the responsibilities of evaluating dairy cattle will be Floyd Marti of Sleepy Eye, Minn. and Dick Nichols of Lewis, Iowa.

Judging on Sunday, Sept. 26 begins with the market heifer show at 7:30 a.m. followed by the catch-a-calf show. Market swine judging will also begin at 7:30 a.m. and will continue all day. Evaluation of market broilers will begin at 9 a.m. and will also continue all day.

Market steer judging will continue on Monday, Sept. 27 at 7:30 a.m. and will continue into the afternoon with the selection of the grand and reserve grand champion steers.

Doug Hixon of Laramie, Wyo. will serve as the market beef judge with Daryl Tatum of Fort Collins, Colo. Bryan Hines of Quincy, Mich. will be evaluating the market swine and Jerry Wopley of Little Rock, Ark. will serve as the market broiler judge. Showmanship judges will be Brad Angus of Ottawa, Ill., sheep and swine; Gary Fike of Harlan, Iowa, market beef and Kent Thiesse of Lake Crystal, Minn., feeder calf, breeding beef and market beef.

The grand finale of the exposition is the Purple Ribbon Auction. It will be held Monday at 6 p.m. in Ak-Sar-Ben Hall. Those 4-Hers who have exhibited champion and reserve champion animals, division winners and various other purple ribbon winners will have the opportunity to sell their animal in the auction. Monies from the sale are paid to the 4-H exhibitors.

The Ak-Sar-Ben Livestock Exposition is the largest of its kind attracting over 2,000 4-H members and their livestock projects each year.

4-H'ers

November in Atlanta, Ga. The Nebraska youth will be among the more than 1200 delegates invited from 50 states, Puerto Rico and the District of Columbia. These youth are being recognized for outstanding accomplishments in 4-H projects and programs supervised by Cooperative Extension. Delegates will spend five days attending workshops, recognition events and educational tours related in the various 4-H programs and current social issues. This will be the 78th Annual National 4-H Congress.

Beau Bearnes was chosen the winner for the state in the area of Animal Science. He was also selected as first alternate in Plant Science. Kylie Bearnes was chosen as the winner in Personal Development. Greg Schardt was the ninth alternate in Animal Science. Beau and Kylie will receive a partially funded trip to attend the National 4-H Congress Nov. 25-30. As an alternate, Greg will also have the opportunity to participate in this trip. These are very high honors that the local 4-H'ers have received. It takes a great amount of time, project and community involvement, and organizational skills to complete the awards process.

4-H News

HI-RATERS 4-H CLUB

The Hi-Raters 4-H Club met April 18 at Tacos & More. The meeting was called to order by President Karissa Dorcey.

In old business, the road clean up was postponed because of wet weather. The group planned to meet at the home of Jerry Dorcey on April 24. This will also replace the May meeting.

In new business, Shellyn Sands, the leader of the club, updated members on important dates coming up. She also pointed out changes in the fair book. She encouraged parents and members to help with Contest Day. "Anyone who wants to apply for a camp

Emilie Osten gave a speech about gardening.

Jack Dorcey moved to adjourn and Brett Dorcey seconded the motion.

There will be no meeting in May. The next meeting will be Sunday, June 13.

The UNMC Eppley Cancer Center is a National Cancer Institute designated cancer center—a distinction held by only 55 centers in the country. Of the $34.3 million in competitive, external research grants and contracts awarded to UNMC in 1997-98, cancer-related research accounted for about one-half of that amount.

The UNMC Eppley Cancer Center was created in 1993 by the University of Nebraska Board of Regents in a move that united cancer researchers throughout the UNMC campuses into a larger single entity. It marked a major first step toward Eppley's quest to eventually become a comprehensive cancer treatment center, the most prestigious designation awarded by the NCI.

UNMC is the only public academic health science center in the state. Through its commitment to research, education and patient care, UNMC has established itself as one of the country's leading centers for cancer research and treatment and solid organ transplantation. UNMC's educational programs are responsible for training more health professionals practicing in Nebraska than any other institution.

Wayne, Nebraska April 20, 1999

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners met in regular session at 9:00 a.m. on Tuesday, April 20, 1999, in the Courthouse meeting room.

Roll call was answered by Chairman Nissen, Members Wurdeman and Miller, and Clerk Finn. Advance notice of this meeting was published in The Wayne Herald, a legal newspaper, on April 8, 1999.

The agenda was approved. The minutes of the April 6, 1999, meeting were examined and approved.

Current drainage problems; and the cost of paving a segment of Centennial Road were discussed with Jeff Morlok, Brent Pick and Pat Garvin. The county will pursue reclassifying the road and apply for Federal Aid funds.

Highway Superintendent Saunders was authorized; on motion by Miller, seconded by Wurdeman, to publish a notice of intention to waive the bidding requirements of the County Purchasing Act, and acquire a 1996 Ford 3/4 Ton, 4 x 4 pickup by special purchase. Roll call vote, all ayes, no nays.

Resolution No. 99-9, awarding the bid to Christensen Bros. Inc. for Federal Aid Project BRO-7090 (9), Wayne Northwest, the replacement of a bridge on 573rd Avenue, Mile 862 (3 miles west and 6 1/2 miles north of Wayne) was approved on motion by Miller, seconded by Wurdeman. Roll call vote, all ayes, no nays.

Safety Committee Chairperson, Shaolyn Biermann, told the Board that the new courthouse stair treads will be installed on April 30th, and the fire alarm system repairs will be made in the near future.

A $100,000 addition of securities by State National Bank & Trust Co. was approved on motion by Wurdeman, seconded by Miller. Roll call vote, all ayes, no nays.

A $200,000 withdrawal of securities by State National Bank & Trust Co. was approved on motion by Miller, seconded by Wurdeman. Roll call vote, all ayes, no nays.

Acting as a Board of Equalization, tax list corrections were approved for William Lueders, Hi-Energy Weight Control Center, JDR Farms Inc. and Dale R. Parker.

The need for a maintenance person whom would also be responsible for lawn care and sidewalk snow removal at the courthouse and social services building was discussed. Motion by Miller, seconded by Wurdeman to advertise this as a full-time employee position. Roll call vote, all ayes, no nays. Quotes for different lawn care and snow removal equipment will be also be sought.

Resolution No. 99-10, applying for Federal Aid funds to replace Bridge 13815 on 845th Road, Mile 569 (6 miles south and 1 1/2 miles east of Winside) was approved on motion by Miller, seconded by Wurdeman. Roll call vote, all ayes, no nays.

Six steps to better comfort in a home

Want to be more comfortable and save energy this spring and summer? Here are six home-comfort tips from Dr. Walt Lyons, a leading researcher on air pollution and local-scale weather patterns. Dr. Lyons, also known for his consumer education work for Honeywell, is the nation's only "indoor meteorologist."

1. Get — and use — a programmable ("setback") thermostat. Feeling too hot or too cold is the No. 1 home-comfort complaint, according to a Honeywell survey of 1,000 U.S. households. A quality programmable thermostat can help keep you consistently comfortable by maintaining your home's temperature to within one degree of the thermostat's setting. When used as intended, it may help you automatically shave off up to 30 percent on your annual heating and cooling bills, which could lead to an estimated savings of up to $200. A programmable thermostat can be set to switch automatically to an energy-saving temperature overnight or when you're gone, and return automatically to a comfort setting just before you get up or get home.

2. Tune up your central air conditioning system. Have a cooling system professional inspect and service your system each year to help ensure that it runs efficiently. This also may help spare you the headache of trying to get a broken-down system repaired on the hottest day of the year.

3. Wash or replace your system's filter monthly. After all, dirty, dusty filters can clog up your heating and cooling system and make it work harder. This can translate to an extra strain on your pocketbook, too.

4. Better yet: Add filtration "oomph" with a whole-house air cleaner. What's a more effective way to filter out particles from the air you breathe at home? A high-performance whole-house air cleaner, which operates as an accessory to your forced-air heating and cooling system, nabs about 94 percent of the airborne particles (0.5 microns or larger) passing through it. Honeywell offers a range of good-better-best whole-house filtration options, plus portable room air cleaners.

5. Get rid of pollution at the source. Encourage smokers to quit — or at least to smoke outdoors. Put the lid on hobbies, like model building or furniture refinishing, that involve fume-creating chemicals.

6. Zone your home. Banish too-hot or too-cold spots in your home with a zoned temperature control system. A zoning system maximizes comfort throughout the house and can help save heating and cooling costs by delivering heating and cooling when it's needed, where it's needed.

For the name and phone number of a qualified heating and cooling professional in your area, or for free consumer information on home-comfort solutions, call 1-800-345-6770, ext. 7142; visit <http://www.honeywell.com> and click on "Solutions for Homes"; or send e-mail to info@corp.honeywell.com.

When these homeowners converted their basement into a family room, they chose a prefinished hardwood floor — Yukon Red Oak Toast from Harris-Tarkett's Longstrip American Collection. As a natural material, wood flooring is easy to care for, doesn't trap dust, dirt and other allergens, and enhances the internal environment.

Healthy house begins with floor

Natural materials have long been touted as the products of choice when shopping or designing for a healthy home.

There are a number of design decisions we can make today to enhance the quality of our indoor environment. The first place to look is down, at your choice of flooring. By far, the most popular flooring choice for a healthy environment is prefinished hardwood flooring, according to Bill Clossin, director of marketing for Harris-Tarkett, a hardwood manufacturer based in Tennessee. Whether in planks, strips or parquet, hardwood flooring is naturally hypoallergenic. It has no fibers, dirt lines or embossing that can trap dust, grit and other allergens. And, with durable no-wax finishes, hardwood is easy to care for.

Another advantage of prefinished hardwood flooring is the factory finish, which eliminates the need for the attendant mess and fumes associated with the on-site sanding and finishing of an unfinished floor. "In many cases, the airborne sawdust and fumes from the finishing products can be very aggravating to homeowners," he notes. A prefinished floor is ready to be installed right out of the factory and features a UV-cured polyurethane finish that is tougher, generally more uniform in thickness and more durable than an air-cured finish applied on-site.

Installation options also enhance the healthy advantages of hardwood flooring, particularly the options provided by engineered floors. This new generation of hardwood flooring inherently is dimensionally stable which minimizes expansion and contraction with changes in the temperature and humidity. In addition, there are a number of installation options, including glue-down, staple-down and nail-down for engineered planks and strips, and glue-down, staple-down and a "floating" option for the Longstrip type of engineered flooring.

"The Longstrip floor might provide the most healthy option of all since it can be installed over most existing floors using the 'floating' method," notes Clossin. "This approach eliminates the need to rip up an old floor, possibly one containing asbestos, before installing a new floor."

There's also a healthy financial reason to choose a hardwood floor, adds Clossin. It immediately adds value to the home and enhances resale appeal.

The earth benefits too. "Hardwood floors are produced from renewable resources, with the industry planting up to six trees for each tree harvested for manufacturing," he concludes. "It's a win-win situation for everyone, including Mother Nature."

For more information on Harris-Tarkett's prefinished hardwood flooring products, call toll free 1-800-842-7816 or visit online at <http://www.harris-tarkett.com>.

Cleaning house simple with right tools

Investing in the proper equipment can make cleaning the house a simple task. According to "10,001 Hints & Tips for the Home" (DK), "Cleaning does not have to be hard if you follow a few basic rules. Invest in the right equipment, and take care of it."

Following are the essential items needed for keeping a house clean.

Buying a plastic storage box with a handle to store all the items makes carrying the equipment around your home simple. For houses that have more than one level, consider investing in two sets of cleaning supplies. This way, you won't have to lug them up and down the stairs. In order to keep the tools in good shape, be sure to clean each one after use.

- Household dust cloths • Chamois leather • Dustpan and brush • Sponge mop
- Long-handled broom • Acrylic dusting brush • Cloths for wet work

What's hot in wallcoverings

Despite an abundance of wallpaper patterns on the market, certain looks have become more popular with homeowners today than in days past. Stacy Senior, marketing manager for Thibaut, a leading manufacturer of wallcoverings and fabrics, tells about the trends her company sees relative to design, color and usage of wallpapers, borders and fabrics in the home.

- Novelty patterns — According to Senior, there is a growing interest in novelty designs — patterns that are unique, lighthearted and fun. For example, a pattern called Legacy from Thibaut's new Chronicles collection features a block-letter design in a neoclassic style. The pattern is adventuresome, yet subtle. "It is popular for use in master baths and powder rooms," comments Senior. Other novelty designs include a pattern with flowering topiary trees, and a Majolica pattern with whimsically painted porcelain vases, pitchers, teapots and planters. These are from the company's newer Front Porch collection.

- Animals — "Interesting animals from Africa — like monkeys, elephants, cheetahs, leopards and giraffes — are being incorporated into traditional floral designs," states Senior. The designs are not "cutesy," but sophisticated and elegant-looking. "The animals add a refreshing feel to the familiar traditional style, and the designs are appropriate for either formal or casual settings," she notes. According to Senior, leopard and other animal-print fabric patterns are a strong, continuing trend.

- The "fabric feel" — "We have incorporated 'relief' effects into many newer patterns, in which designs take on the look of worn or woven fabric," says Senior. The textural look is created through the design and the printing process (the paper is not actually raised or textured). "The result is a softer, more gentle appearance on the wall," she comments. Relief effects have been used to embellish everything from floral to paisley designs. One of Thibaut's newer collections, Stripe Resource, features relief effects in stripe patterns, some resembling the look of silk, linen and corduroy.

- Large-scale patterns — "The small-scale, mini-print patterns of the '80s are out," says Senior, "while more daring, large-scale designs are in." Small-scale tone-on-tone prints are good complementary sidewall patterns below a chair rail, or in an adjoining smaller-sized room, but larger-scale designs are being used in kitchens, master baths, bedrooms and dining rooms. "The popularity of larger-scale designs has stemmed from trends in building and remodeling, in which we see more open kitchen and family-room areas, higher ceilings, larger windows, and dramatic entry foyers," Senior comments.

- Tone-on-tone designs — For those who are hesitant to use bold, flat-painted color on their walls, tonal patterns are a popular, softer option. Tone-on-tone patterns usually feature a melodious design colored with "screens" of one hue (lighter and darker shades of blue, or yellow, for example). Tonal patterns in Thibaut collections include damasks, paisleys, scrolling architectural designs, stripes, and soft, subtle diamond, Harlequin or leaf-print designs. Tonal patterns are clever choices when trying to pull together the look of several rooms with varying patterns and colors. "They are good coordinating designs that help with the transfer from room to room," Senior points out.

- Fresh, clean colors — "Some of Thibaut's newest designs are colored with yellowy greens, grass-blade greens that are truer to nature, festive coral-pinks, dashes of purple, lemon yellow, sky blue and purplish-periwinkle," says Senior. The company sees demand shifting away from hunter green, teal, mauve and navy "jewel tones" that were popular three to five years ago.

- Earthy palate — Another popular color scheme includes more earthy tones, like olive green and khaki, plum, sage, clay, burgundy, brick red, wheat gold, and aubergine.

- Taupe and black — "Neutral colors still are popular," comments Senior. They complement all types of styles, including contemporary tastes, and work well in large open spaces. They also can add "resale" value to a home. When it comes time to sell, neutral colors usually have broad appeal with prospective buyers:

- Borders used to "coordinate" rather than "complete" — In years past, borders more commonly were used to "finish off" and complete the look of one room. "Today, we are seeing borders frequently used with tone-on-tone wallpaper to combine the look of two or more rooms," says Senior. While a prominent wallpaper design might be used in the master bath, for example, a coordinating border is used in the adjoining bedroom or hallway, paired with a tone-on-tone sidewall paper, to help achieve an overall "whole-house" effect. The border is not used solely by itself, as the look seems "unfinished."

- More color on the walls — "Homeowners are choosing patterns with more background color," says Senior. "Sage and a minty apple-green are popular grounds for many of our newer designs. Soft yellow has been a popular background color for the past several years, and sensuous red grounds also have become popular," states Senior. Thibaut sees consumers being more daring and experimental with their decorating choices, moving beyond traditional white and off-white grounds.

- The company's newer collections, like Chronicles, Stripe Resource, Front Porch and Treillage, which incorporate many of these new design trends, are available through interior designers and fine wall-covering and decorating stores. ## New computer program helps choose your siding

Before you plunk down thousands of dollars for new siding, don't you wish there was a way you could see it all together with your trim, roofing, stone, brick or stucco? Well, now there actually is a way you can see the whole picture — not from outdoors, but from your desk — on your computer. CertainTeed, a vinyl-siding manufacturer, offers an innovative computer program called Vinyl Link™ that lets you see all the color variables together.

This electronic siding-reference guide contains a catalog of an entire repertoire of vinyl siding, including a wide selection of decorative trim and accessories. The software allows you to see any number of siding styles and color combinations on a house style that closely matches yours. You even can add a different accent — like brick, stone or stucco — and a specific roof color to make your "test home" a closer match to your own home.

Because you make your selections electronically, you can change them as you like. In 10 minutes, you can see dozens of siding combinations with the click of a mouse. So, decision making isn't stressful — it's actually fun.

For a limited time, this $49.95 program is available for just $19.95. To order, send a check or money order to CertainTeed Corporation Vinyl Link Offer, Vinyl Building Products Division, P.O. Box 860, Before choosing siding, you can see how it will look on your home with Vinyl Link™, an innovative computer program from CertainTeed.

Say goodbye to winter colds... hello to spring allergy season

The good news is that cold and flu season finally is over. The bad news is that this means it's time for spring allergy season. Which is worse? "Colds win the contest by a nose," says Sean McCarthy, product manager for Space-Gard® High Efficiency Air Cleaners. "But allergies are close behind."

Either way, the costs are staggering. Americans spend an estimated $3.2 billion on cough and cold medicine each year and $2.4 billion on allergy medication.

"That's three times the amount spent worldwide to see the movie 'Titanic,'" McCarthy says.

Aside from medical expenses, colds lead to an estimated 15 million days of work missed each year, while allergy sufferers miss 3.5 million days of work, according to national studies.

"No one has found a cure for the common cold yet," McCarthy says. "But at least you can take steps to minimize allergies, making your home an allergy-free zone."

To keep pollen out of your indoor air, McCarthy recommends:

1. Keep windows closed to shut out pollen.
2. Shower before going to bed to keep pollen out of your face while you sleep.
3. Use a high efficiency air cleaner to remove pollen that gets into the home. A media air cleaner like Space-Gard removes up to 99 percent of pollen.
4. Run your heating or cooling system fan continuously to get the greatest benefit from your high efficiency air cleaner.

"Taking steps to minimize allergies can cut the costs associated with them. With the money you save on medication, you could see 'Titanic' a few more times!" McCarthy says.

For more information about how a high efficiency air cleaner can help you reduce your indoor pollen count, visit the Research Products Corp. page on the Internet at <http://www.Space-Gard.com> or call the Consumer Information Department of Research Products Corp. at 1-800-545-2219. Ask for the free booklet, "Air Cleaners for Allergy Relief." Research Products makes Space-Gard High Efficiency Air Cleaners and other products for indoor air comfort.

Money spent on remedies:

Americans spend lots of money on cough and cold medicine and allergy medications. A Space-Gard® High Efficiency Air Cleaner can remove pollen that gets into the home to help make it an allergy-free zone.

Ceiling tile emerging as new canvas for interior painting

Looking for a fresh, new way to revitalize a room? Look up! Why? Because today's generation of ceiling tiles offers exciting decorating possibilities and is fast becoming the hot new canvas for interior painting.

According to Thomas Hills Cook, director of interior design at Armstrong, a growing desire to add character and personality to a room is causing homeowners to focus more on the ceiling.

"Homeowners often believe they have little choice but to live with one vast expanse of drywall ceiling, usually painted an off-white," he says. "As a result, the ceiling becomes the great unclaimed territory, the Alaska of most people's homes."

"However, there's a wide variety of decorative ceiling tiles available today that not only add style, pattern and design to a room, but also can be painted to truly make the ceiling part of the overall decor. And, you don't have to be a Michelangelo to accomplish it."

Representative of the ceiling choices Cook describes are two 12-inch-by-12-inch tiles from Armstrong called Wellington and TinTile, both of which offer the look of a tin ceiling, but at a fraction of the cost. Both can be painted to duplicate nearly any metallic finish. The patina that develops on tin ceilings as a result of age can be duplicated as well, simply by sponge painting the base coat with shades of green and blue.

Another 12-inch-by-12-inch tile, called Kensington, also lends itself to painting. This particular ceiling tile features a lightly embossed, traditional pattern that imparts another rich, classic look to a room.

Cook says installation of these ceilings is quick and easy because they are installed directly onto existing drywall ceilings using adhesives, wood-furring strips, Armstrong Furring Tape, or a metal track-and-clip system that's included in Armstrong ceiling-tile installation kits. Most ceilings can be installed in a week-end.

Ceiling tiles are fast becoming the hot new canvas for interior painting. The center and perimeter of each of these Kensington tiles from Armstrong have been painted to accent other colors in the room.

Painting ceiling tiles is just as easy. If you're going to paint the ceiling one overall color, for example, Cook says no special technique is required. Simply paint it as you would any other ceiling. However, he does suggest that you install the tile first, then paint it with a 1/4-inch nap roller using a latex paint.

If your decorating plans require that you must paint the ceiling tile before installing it, Cook says be careful not to let the paint drip and accumulate on the sides of the tile. Otherwise, installation can be affected.

For help in choosing ceilings, visit <http://www.ceiling.com> on the Internet. Or, write to Ceilings, Dept. 818, P.O. Box 1000, Plymouth, MI 48170, or call 1-800-233-3823, mention Dept. 818 and request a free copy of "Ceiling Solutions For Your Home."

Today's materials create the charm of yesterday

Looking for an economical way to duplicate the charm of the past in your home? Decorative architectural products made from composite materials may be the answer.

Inspired by historical designs and typically made from either polyurethane or engineered wood — a quality wood product — these new-wave products include ceiling medallions, chair-rail profiles, fireplace surrounds and wainscot paneling. Milled similarly to real wood, but costing a lot less, classically styled composite architectural woodwork products look expensive when finished with a high-quality paint or stain.

Some wood-composite architectural products are covered in premium hard wood veneers and come ready-to-finish.

New Wainscot System Provides Custom Look

One such architectural millwork product is the New England Classic Raised Panel System from New England Classic Interiors.

The beauty of this system is that it duplicates, very authentically, the paneling and Old World feeling of classic New England architecture," says Susan Dearborn, president, Design Solutions Inc., Boston and Palm Beach, Fla. "It's ideal for either new homes or older homes whose paneling has been destroyed and complements other architectural elements like tin ceilings and balustrades."

According to John Crowley, president of New England Classic Interiors in Portland, Maine, the system can be installed as wainscoting or can cover a full wall. It's constructed from premium-grade, natural wood veneers laminated to an engineered wood core and is available in oak, maple, cherry and a paintable finish.

"When installed, the Raised Panel System costs about half of what you'd expect to pay for a similar application of custom architectural woodwork," says Crowley. "What makes the system different is that it's comprised of standard-size raised panels and pre-machined rails and stiles. Sold in kits, this system of parts can be installed easily by a professional contractor or an advanced do-it-yourselfer."

For more information about the New England Classic Raised Panel System, call (888) 880-6324 or visit the company's Web site at <http://www.homefittings.com>.

100-percent acrylic is a long lasting deck finish

Are you tired of using deck finishes that just don't last? Thanks to a new product from Wolman Wood Care Products, EXTREME Acrylic Wood Finish, your deck is guaranteed to retain its color without graying for a minimum of two years. This finish also is guaranteed to repel water for two years, providing an impenetrable barrier that prevents moisture absorption which can lead to warping, splitting and cracking of exterior wood.

Unlike all other deck finishes on the market, Wolman EXTREME is formulated with 100-percent pure acrylic resin — the same tough resin used in porch and deck enamels and even car finishes. Other so-called "acrylic" stains and finishes contain acrylic resin reacted with copolymers that can break down more readily and do not provide the same level of "toughness." The 100-percent acrylic resin makes the product extremely durable and scuff-resistant. Also, it won't blister or peel, delaminate or check. It even resists salty ocean spray and chlorine, making it ideal for use on pool decks, boat docks and around hot tub/spa areas. This new finish is formulated with technologically advanced, high-performance transparent iron oxide UV-blockers. These "trans-oxides" are basically pieces of metal that have been ground up microscopically and serve to reflect the light back out. They are clear enough to allow the natural look of the wood to show through, but also are unbeatable in providing long-term protection against graying and wood-fiber degradation.

Available in five shades: Honey, Cedar, Redwood, Gray and White. Wolman EXTREME imparts a beautiful, mildew-resistant, furniture-like finish with a lustrous satin sheen. For more information, call Wolman at (800) 556-7737.

Protect your deck from sun and water damage with new Wolman EXTREME Acrylic Wood Finish. This finish provides guaranteed water repellency and color retention without graying for a minimum of two years. It's available in Honey, Cedar, Redwood, Gray and White.

Waterproofing basement good idea

Waterproofing your basement is a smart and rewarding home-improvement project, as it creates new, usable space where you can set up a playroom, spare bedroom, hobby room or workshop. It also is fairly simple and inexpensive, but you need to understand the steps and tools required to do the job right — this isn't the type of project you want to do repair work on down the road. Bondex International, a leading manufacturer of waterproofing products, outlines the following basic steps that are involved:

- Direct water away from the outside of the house — Before beginning work on the inside of your home, make sure all outside gutters and drains are free of leaves and debris. Check for any leaks in downspouts and between gutter seams. Be sure rainwater is not being trapped near the foundation, and that water easily flows away from the house. Water pressure, sometimes referred to as "hydrostatic pressure," is caused by water being trapped between the soil and outside wall, pushing against the foundation, and entering through the basement's foundation wall. If necessary, fill in low spots around the foundation with gravel and soil, caulk around basement windows, extend downspouts, and replace broken splash blocks.

- Clean basement walls and plug holes or cracks to stop the flow of running water — Use a cleaning solution and a wire brush to remove all dust, dirt and grease from the walls. Scrape away all loose mortar. Repair holes and cracks with hydraulic cement, like Bondex Quick Plug. This product expands in the hole or crack for a tight seal and sets very quickly — within five minutes. It can be used to stop the flow of running water even when water pressure exists behind the wall.

- Clean "efflorescence" off the walls — After all cracks, holes and defects have been patched, inspect the walls for any white or grayish powder on the surface. This is known as "efflorescence" and is the residue from soluble salts being forced through the wall by water pressure. It is very important to remove efflorescence before applying a waterproof paint, so that it doesn't interfere with adhesion of the paint. Use a Concrete Cleaning and Etching Compound, like that from Bondex, following package directions carefully. With the Bondex product, 12 ounces of crystals dissolved in 1 gallon of warm water usually will remove the powder. Scrub the solution on the walls with a stiff bristle scrub brush, rinse and let dry completely before applying paint. Eye protection and rubber gloves are recommended while applying the etching compound.

- Paint the walls with a protective paint — Paint clean, bare concrete walls with a waterproof coating, again, following package directions carefully. Some waterproofing products are powder concentrates that are mixed with water and scrubbed onto the surface; others are ready-mixed water-based or solvent-based paints that are applied by brush or roller. Bondex makes a ready-mixed, easy-to-apply, water-based Mildewproof Waterproof Cement Paint that not only creates a waterproof surface but also protects your basement from mildew growth. The formula contains special agents that inhibit the growth of mildew on the surface of the paint film, and it penetrates to seal porous concrete from within for maximum protection against water seepage. Two coats normally are required, and the paint can be applied by brush, roller or sprayer. The paint comes in a super-white formula that can be tinted by your retailer to match your decor.

- Additional surface prep is required for previously painted walls — If your walls already have been painted with an oil or latex paint, you will have to sand-blast to remove all the paint and expose the bare masonry surface. No waterproof coating will work on concrete walls that previously have been painted with oil-based or latex-based paints. Waterproof paints are cement-based coatings, and they will provide effective results only when applied to bare masonry. If applied over existing paint, and if the paint beneath begins to peel, the waterproof paint will peel off with it.

For more information, Bondex has published a new, free booklet, "How to Waterproof Your Basement," which can be found at paint stores, hardware stores, home centers and mass merchants carrying the company's waterproofing products. Copies also can be obtained by calling the Bondex Consumer Hotline at (800) 225-7522. Additional information is available on the company's Web site at <http://www.bondex.com>.

Effective basement waterproofing involves cleaning the walls and plugging holes or cracks to stop the flow of running water. This easily is done with Bondex Quick Plug, a fast-setting hydraulic cement. Follow by painting the walls with Bondex Mildewproof Waterproof Cement Paint to prevent future water seepage.

Bent so your back won't be Better a bend in the handle than a major bend in your back. Such is the concept behind the new Ames® ErgoConcept Garden Rake and seven other long-handled tools designed by Ames Lawn and Garden Tools with input from ergonomists and medical professionals to keep the user in a more upright position. The strong contoured handles allow for proper leverage while reducing the bending and stooping that can produce backaches and muscle aches. Ames, which is celebrating its 225-year anniversary as the oldest continuing manufacturing business in the hardware and lawn/garden industry, also is offering two shovels, two lawn rakes, a garden hoe, cultivator and flexible steel-tined rake with the ErgoConcept handles. ## Personalize with lattice

Every year, homeowners spend lots of time and money landscaping, painting and re-siding their homes attempting to create a new look. Updating a home's exterior does not have to be an enormous project. Many homeowners are turning to lattice. It's a beautiful but inexpensive alternative that adds character and personality to a home without hassles.

Lattice is a framework of strips made from plastic, wood or metal interwoven to form beautiful patterns. It is available in a variety of classic styles and vibrant colors that complement any home.

While lattice often is used under and around a deck or porch, many homeowners are using it in creative ways to give their homes personality. Lattice adds texture and depth and gives a finished look to any style of home.

Try these easy projects using lattice to create a new and exciting look for your home:

- Give your home a quaint cottage look by accenting windows with lattice instead of shutters.
- Create a welcoming entryway in the colonial column-style by hanging complementary shades of lattice on both sides of a door.
- Add Victorian ambiance and a splash of color by painting lattice to complement or contrast siding, shutters and doors.
- Build a decorative lattice shield to hide obtrusive air conditioners or other unsightly objects and add instant country charm.
- Create a European garden-style facade on a bare wall by using lattice as a decorative accent and a place for ivy and roses to climb.

A home make-over is even easier with plastic lattice. It is versatile and sturdy, and can be screwed, nailed and sawed without cracking. Its color will not fade in the sun, and chips and scratches will not show because the color goes all the way through the lattice. Unlike wood, plastic lattice will not rot and is mildew- and insect-resistant. # An orderly technology center for work and play is man's best friend

If men are from Mars, the planet must sport endless rows of big-screen televisions and towering piles of remote controls. At least, that's what a recent consumer survey conducted by the Consumer Electronics Manufacturer's Association (CEMA) might lead you to believe. According to the study, large-screen televisions appear on men's wish lists but not on women's, and anecdotal evidence — if not research — indicates a gender bias towards peripheral electronic gadgetry.

Modern man's attraction to all things electronic may have found its origin in the behavior of his prehistoric counterpart. Early man had to cultivate power and achievement to survive. Today, many contemporary men remain drawn to objects that symbolize success and power: fast computers, jazzy electronic gadgets and powerful technology of all kinds represent control and accomplishment.

No wonder, then, that the modern male wants his big-screen television and CD collection in full view. However, with sales of consumer electronic products setting all-time records this year, according to figures from CEMA, a man's high-tech power symbols can become high-tech clutter.

"The question today not only is 'what to add,' but 'where to put it all after you've got it,'" says Mike Short, director of design,

Sauder Woodworking. "Whether it's audio and video equipment or computer peripherals, keeping up even minimally results in a host of products that require convenient, techno-cued storage."

Designers from Sauder Woodworking recently developed a new concept that's ideal for the modern male: a home technology center that combines business and leisure. Instead of separate rooms for the home office and the home theater, they suggest creating a combined space for power plays and instant replays alike.

Versatile, high-style furnishings with techno-cued details can make the technology center the hub of a man's home. Following are a few tips for creating a technology center in your own home:

- Know which high-tech components are "de rigueur" before choosing the furniture.

For example, a home theater usually includes a 32-inch or larger television, a VCR, a laserdisc player, an integrated audio/video receiver with surround-sound capability and four or more speakers, plus a satellite dish or cable hookups. A home office typically requires a computer monitor, printer, modem, fax machine, scanner and telephone. With your "must have" electronics list in hand, you're ready for your forage for storage pieces.

- Bear in mind that men value efficiency.

- When choosing a big-screen television, let the size of the room determine the size of the screen. Experts advise that screen size be one-fifth the distance between the set and the viewer, making a 35-inch screen suitable for a room 8 feet to 10 feet long, and a 32-, 27- or 25-inch screen suitable for smaller rooms.

- Control is a reflection of power in the eyes of most men. Just as the one holding the remote control is king of the room, the

Power tools are perfect for spring fix up time

As warm weather beckons, spring cleaning and home repairs begin to top everyone's "to do" list.

Power tools are a smart investment for the savvy do-it-yourselfer. Their versatility, speed and efficiency help complete projects faster, reduce muscle aches and improve workmanship.

Whether it is as simple as hanging curtain rods or installing new door locks in wood doors, or as challenging as building a treehouse or a new deck for the backyard, projects abound that would benefit with the use of power tools.

To help DIYers complete their home-improvement projects, Skil recommends a cordless drill/driver and a Skilsaw® as the two types of power tools homeowners shouldn't do without.

The Skil 2480:04 12-volt Warrior Drill Driver offers a speed range of 0 to 700 no-load revolutions per minute for power and control to handle a variety of demanding tasks. The tool features an ergonomic T-handle design for balance and easy handling, a 3/8-inch keyless chuck for fast and easy bit changes, a forward/reverse switch with off position, and a six-position clutch for setting the proper torque for the task.

It comes with a carrying case, three-hour charger and two batteries, all for around $89.

The 5155K Skilsaw Legend is great for framing or cutoff work, cutting plywood, paneling and siding with ease. With its special silver vein paint on the blade guard, this circular saw provides a powerful 11-amp, 2.4-horsepower motor with burnout protection that delivers 4,600 no-load rpm.

Weighing only 9.6 pounds, the Skilsaw Legend features permanently lubricated all-bronze ball-bearing construction for durability and quiet operation, a lateral lock-off trigger to prevent inadvertent starts, and a lower guard that pre-opens on bevel cuts. It comes with a 7 1/4-inch hard tooth combination blade for fast ripping and crosscutting, a blade wrench, and a sturdy carrying case. Available for around $49, it features a two-year warranty.

So, get a jump on spring projects with these and other power tools available at your local hardware stores and home centers.
