Council says no

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Three public hearings were held during the Wayne City Council's Tuesday meeting and a large crowd was on hand to voice opinions to the subjects involved.

For more than one hour comments were heard for and against a request to rezone Lot 7, Block 2 of the Gary Donner Addition near Meadowview Apartments. A request had been made to change the zoning from R-1, single family dwellings, to R-3 multi-family housing.

The issue had already been presented to the Wayne Planning Commission which had denied the request.

The Wayne Community Housing Development Corporation (WCHDC) and Venture Realty presented a plan which would include the construction of three-four plex town houses and a community center-type building on a 1.5 acre lot just south of Meadowview Apartments.

Linda Anderson, Director of WCHDC, explained what the group had planned for the area. She stated that the townhouses would be two-bedroom units with attached garages which would provide alternative housing for senior citizens.

She also addressed issues which had been brought up at the Planning Commission meeting, that of drainage and encroachment of an R-3 area on an R-1 area.

The co-owners of Venture Realty explained to those present the income guidelines for living in this type of facility and described a similar facility being constructed in Tekamah. They told the council that a need has been found in the Wayne area for this type of housing.

John Vakoc spoke in opposition to the proposal, stating that the city council had already accommodated the WCHDC enough and that the group was not following its original plan for the area.

"The neighbors have reason to be concerned. Also, private sector development is most productive for this type of project," Vakoc added.

Steve Schumacher, who lives in the area, told those present that "you have to live in the area to understand. This idea is not well-planned out. There needs to be sound, serious planning before something can be done," he said.

Schumacher added that water drainage would not be a two to three-hour problem as indicated by the development plan, but instead, a two- to three-day problem and the proposed retention basin planned for the southwest portion of the lot would not stop the water at all.

Rod Tompkins also spoke in opposition to the project, stating that the estimated $90,000 per unit cost was considerably higher than a similar project he was involved in six years ago.

"There are also four privately funded projects that this project would be competing with. This money should be used to provide what private business can't do and this is not the way to go," he said.

Following the public hearing the council voted 8-0 to uphold the planning commission's decision of not approving the change in zoning.

A second public hearing involved the proposed acquisition of a lot at 216 South Nebraska Street. The land would then be cleared and resold or reused for city purposes.

No one from the public spoke at the hearing but several council persons voiced opposition to the acquisition.

Councilman Doug Sturm said that he felt the city should not be involved in what the private sector can do. He also said that the house is liveable and asked what the city planned to do with it.

Councilman Will Wiseman said that he was also opposed to the purchase because there is no clear purpose for use of the land.

The council voted 6-2 against the purchase of the property.

The final public hearing of the evening involved objections from property owners in Sidewalk Improvement District No. 99-01. Two written objections had been received regarding the installing of new or repairing of existing sidewalk in the southwest quadrant of Wayne.

Mike Mallette, who lives in the district and has several sections of Accident claims life

On May 12 at 2:36 a.m., the Dixon County Sheriff's Office was advised of a personal injury accident just east of the junction of Highway #9 and #20.

A 61-year-old rural Dixon man, Vincent E. Kavanaugh, was killed in a one vehicle accident.

Subject's vehicle was westbound on Highway #20 when the driver apparently fell asleep at the wheel, losing control. Vehicle then left the roadway on the north side, continuing in the north ditch and traveling in a westerly direction. Vehicle rolled several times, ejecting the victim from his vehicle.

Restraints were not in use.

The accident is still under investigation. Investigating agencies are the Dixon County Sheriff's Office and the Nebraska State Patrol.

And the walls came tumbling down...

Crews from Milo Meyer Construction spent Monday demolishing the former slaughter house on West Third Street. The facility, which served as the slaughter house for Johnson's Frozen Foods was built in 1947. At that time, there were only a few houses in the area. Today, the city of Wayne extends beyond that point and a number of houses surround the building. The lot on which the slaughterhouse sits is owned by Dave Hix. It is being cleared to make way for a house.

Hamer will retire from teaching

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

"I have truly enjoyed my teaching career and when I decided to retire this year, probably one of my toughest assignments was to turn in my resignation letter," said Shirley Hamer, a fourth grade teacher at Wayne Elementary School.

Mrs. Hamer will retire from teaching this spring after 40 years in the classroom.

"I decided to go into the teaching field because the learning process fascinated me and I have found nothing comparable to the joy in a child as he or she masters a skill," she said.

Mrs. Hamer grew up in Newcastle and graduated from Newcastle High School in 1957. She and her twin sister decided to attend college and enrolled at Wayne State College in 1957. At that time it was possible to begin teaching with a two year degree.

"My first year of teaching was in a rural school near Ponca. I was 18 years old and really apprehensive. I survived the first year and thought 'WOW,' this is really fun, so I taught in the same school the following year," Mrs. Hamer said.

She and Kenneth Hamer were married in 1960 and she began teaching in a rural school near Wakefield. After one year, the school was consolidated with the Wakefield Public School.

"I was very fortunate to be asked to teach in the Wakefield school system and taught there for the next seven years. I then decided that if I was going to continue with my teaching degree, I'd better finish my degree," Mrs.

Hamer said.

At that point she resigned her position in Wakefield and went back to college during the 1969-70 school year and received her bachelor's degree. She did her student teaching in Wayne with Doni Hurt. While she was teaching in the system, she received a call from Dr. Francis Haun, Superintendent of Wayne Public Schools, asking if she would be interested in a fourth grade teaching position.

The Board of Education voted Monday to approve contracts for three new teachers to join the district.

Emily Mooney, Matt Schauls and Thomas Slechtsa will begin teaching at the beginning of the 1999-2000 school year. Mooney will work full-time as a middle school special education instructor.

Schauls brings seven years of experience into the high school as a social studies teacher. Slechtsa will instruct American History and world studies classes in the high school. Both Schauls and Slechtsa also carry coaching endorsements.

"In other action, the Board heard that the district has been selected to receive an America 2000 Grant worth $50,000.

"The grant will be applied towards the development of assessment tools for instruction," said Dr. Joseph Reinert, district superintendent.

The district will receive official notice of the award in June.

Wayne Community Schools also received a $5000 State Matching Grant that will be applied towards the purchase of a satellite dish.

"The dish will hook into the Channel One network in the high school making broadcasts available in all of the classrooms, including the Distance Learning room," said Reinert.

"The Board decided to change the number of track and field coaches that will be hired next year. The boys and girls coaching positions will be combined to include one head coach, one assistant coach, and three additional sidewalk marked to be replaced, said that while there are cracks in the sidewalk, "they are no problem to anyone. I have put tar in the cracks. I think that by replacing these sidewalks, we are spending our money and the city's money foolishly. Someone needs to tell me why it needs to be done."

Gary Volk, who also lives in the district said that there are hairline cracks in his sidewalk which is only seven years old.

Kathy Henderson, a property owner on Emerald Drive told council members that she felt she was "being picked on unfairly."

"As a single parent, I can't afford this. This is a dead end street and I don't understand why both sides of the street are not being treated the same. The other side does not have to put in sidewalks," she said.

The council did approve an ordinance which will amend the salaries of the mayor and council members. The salary of the mayor will be raised to $3,000, up from the current $1,500 and salaries for council members will go to $2,000, up from the current $1,000. The last time there was an increase was in 1972-73.

Solid waste fees for the Transfer/Recycling Center were set at Tuesday's meeting.

Several other rates have been established through the passage of the resolution which takes effect July 1.

However, a committee of council members made a number of recommendations, including increasing the co-pay for prescriptions, excluding Viagra and related disorders and increasing the deductible from $300 per person/$600 per family to $400 per person/$800 per family. This will result in an approximate 5.9 percent decrease in the premium increase.

In other action, the council approved the mayoral appointment of Robert Woehler as Fire Chief for the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department.

Shirley Hamer visits with her students during a recent farewell party for their student teacher. Mrs. Hamer will retire this spring after 40 years in the classroom.

"I was elated. I took the position and have taught in this system for the past 30 years. During my teaching career, I have worked with two terrific principals, Mr. Metteer and Mr. Lutt. I give credit to the administration, staff and community for making my years of teaching so enjoyable," Mrs. Hamer said.

"The administration, staff and parents I have worked with—over these past 40 years have made my teaching career a real pleasure. I never had a day that I got out of bed and dreaded going to my job. If I was ever down about anything, all I had to do was walk into the classroom and in a short time, my troubles are all forgotten," she added.

"There's just something about being around little children. I could write a book on some of the things said and done. It is truly an uplifting job. I feel good about leaving a job where you still love what you are doing," she said.

Mrs. Hamer said that in addition to missing her students, she will really miss the social aspect of talking to the teachers and staff at the Elementary school.

Among the changes she has seen in her 40 year career, Mrs. Hamer lists: the fact that students are involved in more activities now than in the past. Technology has also changed, with four computers in her classroom at the present time.

Discipline has also changed through the years and Mrs. Hamer said changes in family make-up have led to changes in dealing with students.

The Hamers are the parents of two daughters, Colleen and Jennifer.

Colleen is married to Kurt Janke. They reside in Wayne. Colleen is presently a daycare provider. She received a teaching degree from Wayne State College in 1997 and will be opening her own preschool in the fall.

Jennifer attended college for two years with a background in bookkeeping. She is presently employed at the Bankcard Center in Wayne.

"We are also blessed with three precious grandsons, Parker and Payton Janke and Nathan Hamer. They are another joy in our life," Mrs. Hamer said.

Retirement plans include doing some substitute teaching, helping Colleen when ever she needs help at her pre-school and spending time golfing with her husband.

Kenneth, who has worked at Paus Motors in West Point for the past 11 years; is semi-retired, so the couple also plans to do some traveling and "spoiling our grandsons."

"Then, if time permits, I hope to find a little time to relax," she added.

paid assistants.

Dr. Reinert stated that the track coaches were in favor of the change. Currently there is one head coach and one assistant coach working for each of the boys and girls teams.

"Dr. Reinert informed the Board on updates made in the renovation/reconstruction projects.

Abatement of the three lower levels of the middle school will begin on May 19. Air Safe Environmental has been hired to complete the job, which is expected to be finished in 32 days.

Open bids will be taken after May 19 to complete abatement of the attic.

"Due to special precautions that must be taken, the attic portion of the abatement has to be completed separate from the remainder of the building," said Dr. Reinert.

Dr. Reinert also presented layouts for the high school addition. The layouts consisted of a band room on the ground floor, with art and consumer science rooms on the second level. A plan was also presented for the remodeling of the current home economics room into a science lab.

Mr. David Lutt, elementary school principal, announced that replacement of the elementary school windows will begin the day after Memorial Day.

"The roofing project is not moving as rapidly as we had hoped, mainly due to the weather," said Lutt. "We hope to have the entire project completed by June 1."

"Patrons of the district addressed the Board with concerns about continuing the District Strings Program. The program, which provides lessons for students interested in playing string instruments, is provided beginning in fourth grade and extending through high school.

The Board decided to begin advertising for a part-time K-12 music teacher to replace Bonita Day as strings instructor after she retires at the end of the school year.

"The Board voted to approve a one year contract with Nebraska School Bus. The contract involves a three percent cost increase over last year.

"Future agenda items for the month of June include discussion of a Community Activity Center. The Board will discuss donation of land and other resources to promote the project, which would proceed in conjunction with the City of Wayne.

The next meeting of the Board of Education will be held June 14 at 7 p.m. in the high school.

Carroll Auxiliary meets

Ten members of the Carroll American Legion Auxiliary met April 27 with Evelyn Hall. May baskets were made to take to the Norfolk Annex.

The regular order of opening was conducted by President Jo Ann Owens. She read a poem about "Smiles" and the "Thought for the Day" from the Star. She also thanked the group for the pin she received at the March meeting.

The District Convention will be held in South Sioux City next year.

Poppy Day will be held Saturday, May 22. Lucille Schnoor will be chairperson with Pauline Frink assisting. Pat Roberts and Doris Harmer will canvass the town in the morning with young girls assisting. Ruth Kerstine will canvass business places.

Henrietta Hale, Vicki Fisher and Jo Ann Stoltenberg paid serving dues.

The June meeting will be with Jo Ann Owens.

Let's hear it for Don Wesely

By Ed Howard

Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Let's hear it for Don Wesely.

Former state Sen. Don Wesely, that is.

He's the guy who was elected to the Legislature when he was hardly more than a kid, served in the unicameral for 20 years, and last week won election as mayor of Lincoln.

Why should anyone give a huzzah for Wesely (as I know some of you are asking with less than good natured patience) just because he got elected to a different job?

Well, for a couple of reasons.

For one thing, the guy actually got elected to another job. That means that he is NOT among the legislators who left the chamber and promptly became a lobbyist. To some people, simply NOT becoming a lobbyist, after serving in the Legislature, counts for something. Ask the folks at the League of Women Voters or the faithful at Common Cause.

For another thing, Wesely is the first person in my political memories of Nebraska who managed to be hailed as a hero of his state's party, just for winning a mayoral race.

When Democrat Wesely defeated Republican Cindy Johnson, some Democrats acted as though he were the reincarnation of Bob Kerrey. The logic was that Wesely's capture of City Hall marked the first "major office" that a Democrat had snagged in a long time.

That logic is okay as far as it goes. But it might go only as far as the Omaha turnoff on I-80.

If it gives comfort and a morale boost to Democrats, good for them.

Frankly, if Wesely is to make some sort of major league impression on the remainder of the state (whether for his own political benefit or that of his party) he will have to do more than be elected mayor of Lincoln.

He would have to do something that would REALLY mean something to folks around the state.

A couple of unsolicited suggestions:

--Find a way to make more parking available on those Saturdays when Nebraska plays a home football game.

--Get the meter maids to stop writing so many parking tickets on those Saturdays when Nebraska plays a home football game.

--Stop the Department of Roads from tearing up one main thoroughfare or another that leads directly into or out of Lincoln, just prior to the start of the football season.

--Get a major manufacturer to open a major operation, west of Grand Island, but east of Scottsbluff.

This is not to suggest that there mightn't be a kernel of real political import in Wesely's victory.

Cindy Johnson was seen by many as a potential tool of Lincoln's perceived "big money" business establishment, including developers. (I was never sure that such a portrait did her justice since she did come out four-square against the Sanitary Improvement District concept for the Lincoln area - something that gladdened the hearts of a good many homeowners, as well as tree huggers).

It's the possible perception of Johnson as the candidate of the Deep Pockets crowd that might be worth another look. If such was the case, one may argue, then it's Vox Populi 2, Deep Pockets 0.

The first Deep Pockets loss was in a statewide contest that involved the unsuccessful backing of a constitutional amendment that would have limited government revenues.

The second, arguably, was Wesely's victory.

The thing is, the Deep Pockets fans might be warranted in yelling that, in the latest contest, the deep pockets belonged to Democrat Wesely. He raised more campaign money than did Cindy Johnson.

Of course, Wesely only began to see contributions take off AFTER he defeated Johnson by a healthy margin in the primary.

Whether you're business or labor, there are a couple of axiomatic things in the political world that one does not forget. Like, "Go with the winner if you can,"

and "If you can't go with the winner, try not to make the winner angry, anyway."

Wesely's substantial victory margin in the primary indicated he could win, and that he probably would win, barring a really effective campaign by Johnson. Those who say the latter never materialized are being charitable.

Wesely's final margin of victory exceeded 5,000 votes. Heck, when Bob Kerrey defeated Charlie Thone for the governorship, the victory margin was only some 7,000 votes.

Of one thing you can be certain: Wesely will go full tilt to accomplish some visible things for the City of Lincoln. Things people can see and understand, and remember when they next go to the ballot box.

Will we ever see a version of the headline one way predicted upon Wesely's election?

MAYOR TO LEGISLATURE: HELP THE CITIES, NOW!
My bet? You bet!

JOHANNIS TEAMS WITH HUSKERS IN DRUG FIGHT

By Governor Mike Johanns

Dear Nebraska Neighbors:

The Cornhusker football legacy of success has been an important part of Nebraska culture for many years. Season after season, the Nebraska Football program under the direction of Bob Devaney, Tom Osborne, and now Frank Solich, has given Nebraskans many reasons to be proud of our Huskers on the field.

It is off the field, however, where they may have achieved their most important and lasting legacy. At half-time of the annual Nebraska Football Red/White game on Saturday, April 17, I will join with Head Coach Frank Solich to lead Nebraska students and adults in a pledge to stay drug and alcohol free.

For the past twelve years, the University, along with the Omaha Public Schools, has hosted this Drug Free Rally in an effort to provide children and parents alike with positive role models and strong peer influences in the ongoing fight to keep our state's young people safe from the dangers of drugs and irresponsible drinking. Since 1988, this annual rally is estimated to have attracted over 60,000 young people to Memorial Stadium to make the pledge.

It may not be possible to estimate the impact this annual event has had on Nebraska's youth since its inception over a decade ago. However, this rally does clearly illustrate our acknowledgment of the ongoing problem of drugs in our state and the need to be ever vigilant in the effort to protect our youth from this epidemic.

Since 1991, arrests for drug abuse violations have more than doubled statewide. Methamphetamine, or meth, arrests alone rose more than 50 percent a year ago. State and local government, as well as parents, friends and neighbors have an obligation to adapt to these changes so that Nebraska's communities will continue to be safe places to live, work, and raise a family.

I have identified a crackdown on methamphetamine pushers as a priority during my first full day in office. LB 299, introduced by Senator Chris Peterson of Grand Island and prioritized this Legislative session by Senator Kermit Brashear of Omaha, would increase the penalties for anyone who knowingly or intentionally manufactures, distributes, delivers, or dispenses methamphetamine. A conviction for dealing one to seven ounces would carry a mandatory minimum sentence of three years with a maximum of fifty. A conviction for more than sixteen ounces would bring a sentence of twenty years to life. Currently, the penalty for those dealing in seven ounces or more of meth is as little as one year.

This proposal sends a strong message that involvement with meth in Nebraska carries serious consequences. I am optimistic that LB 299 will become law this year.

I encourage you and your family to attend the Red/White game and participate in the Drug Free Rally on April 17th at Memorial Stadium in Lincoln. I also hope parents and teachers across the state continue to talk to children about the dangers of drugs and alcohol. By working together, we can meet these challenge and protect our "Nebraska United."

Get t-shirts at Chamber office

They're here! The new "Tourism Works in Wayne County" t-shirts and the Wayne Chicken Show t-shirts are available at the Chamber office. Businesses are being asked to have their employees wear the Tourism t-shirts on Fridays the rest of May in recognition of National Tourism Month.

Pre-orders were accepted and the total number of Tourism t-shirts ordered was based on those pre-ordered. However, the Chamber does have a limited supply which will be sold on a first-come, first-served basis.

Todd Kirschenbaum with the Nebraska Tourism Office at the Department of Economic Development in Lincoln gave a presentation to attendees at the Chamber's general membership luncheon on Wednesday, May 12. Kirschenbaum stated that he often uses Wayne as a great example of a community that has developed tourism based on something no one else has: the Chicken Show.

Communities that spruce up the downtown and offer specialty shops will lure those visitors who enjoy the number one pastime enjoyed by tourists - shopping. In Nebraska we need to market ourselves not to our neighbors, but to people who live in other states. Often times tourists do not have wide open spaces, buffalo ranches, or an old-fashioned soda fountain.

Rural Nebraskans, Kirschenbaum said, will want to capitalize on our quality of life as we begin to think of tourism possibilities. He suggested that anything western is desired by tourists, and closely behind that category is anything Native American. Tourism development ideas include opening a farm home as a bed and breakfast, or something taken for granted by those of us who live in a community.

Plan now to attend the next luncheon at the Women's Club Rooms on Wednesday, June 9. Watch the Stakeholder for further information. See you then!

Retail promotion will begin to encourage hometown shopping

A retail promotion will begin in the Wayne area to encourage hometown shopping. A portion of the funds raised will be donated to the Wayne and Dixon County Youth and Family Coalition.

Several local merchants are participating in a campaign to stimulate more hometown shopping, improve customer loyalty, increase yearlong economic activity, and give area residents the opportunity to save hundreds of dollars.

The retail promotion, called the Community Courtesy Card, is based around a savings card to encourage patronage of several area merchants. Local restaurants, beauty shops, automotive services, recreation, and other retail businesses have each made enticing offers on the savings card.

The card can be used year round and features several hundreds of dollars in local savings for the consumer. The savings card will be sold by a professional advertising firm from Des Moines, Iowa, CREATIVE INNOVATIONS, INC.

A portion of the funds raised from saving card sales will be donated to the Wayne and Dixon County Youth and Families Coalition.

According to Alicia Dorsey, activity coordinator, "The Community Courtesy Card has been an effective way to raise funds for non profit organizations in other communities." "We are expecting to raise money for youth and family activities and make a real contribution to our community by sponsoring The Community Courtesy Card."

Former area athlete signs with Briar Cliff

HARVARD—After helping her team make a run at the Class D1 state girls basketball title, Harvard multi-sport standout Jessica Miller (formerly of Winside) has signed a national letter of intent to play volleyball at Briar Cliff next fall.

The 6-0 Miller attended Winside High School for three years until her family moved to Harvard last summer. Between the two schools, Miller lettered all-four years in basketball and volleyball. She also earned three varsity letters in track.

She earned first team all-state, all-conference and all-county honors this past fall in volleyball. The 1998 Harvard volleyball squad rolled to a 20-0 regular season record but lost in the district finals. As a junior, Miller was an honorable mention selection in both basketball and volleyball at the state level.

Aside from being talented in athletics, Miller is also a standout in the classroom. The daughter of LaVerle and Kathy Miller of Harvard, yielded a 3.8 grade point average and was an honor roll member for four years. She graduated from Harvard High School on May 8.

brought the playing field together and equalized player ability."

'Cats compete at NSIC track meet

Tucknott, Kment earn conference titles

Despite the wind, rain and cold that forced the cancellation of preliminary rounds in most events, freshman Andy Tucknott and senior Angie Kment each claimed Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference titles at the NSIC Outdoor Track & Field Championships last weekend in Moorhead, Minn.

Tucknott, a graduate of Lincoln Southeast, won the conference 10,000-meter crown Friday night in his first attempt at that distance. Kment, a graduate of Stanton, won the conference shot put title Saturday morning.

"Andy showed that he can run with the kickers," said head coach Brian Kavanaugh.

"After averaging nearly 5:30 per mile for the first five miles, Andy ran a 4:49 final mile and a 65-second final 400 to out-kick Matt Loberg of Minnesota-Duluth."

In the shot put, Angie Kment threw a personal best of 41'10" to beat Tracy Gassman and Nichole Hall of Northern State, who placed second and first respectively indoors.

"This was a great way for Angie to cap a very successful career at Wayne State," said Kavanaugh.

"I'm glad she finally had the opportunity to win a conference title."

In addition to the two conference titles, Wildcat athletes won an additional two All-NSIC certificates and set two school records.

In the 800-meter run, junior

Marsha Krienke (Rierce) ran over a three-second personal best of 2:17.17 to place second and break the school record. The old school record of 2:19.14 was set by former teammate Kathy Dalton in 1997.

"Marsha ran a very smart race," Kavanaugh said. "The winner, Lori Schmidt of Minnesota-Duluth, has run 2:13 this year. Marsha just sat behind her and let her pull her to a fast time. Marsha was even gaining on her in the final 100 meters.

"I'm glad she was able to repeat as all-conference." The top two individuals and the winning relay qualify for all-conference honors in the NSIC.

Sophomore Matt Kneiff (Newcastle) also earned All-NSIC honors by placing second in the 400-meter hurdles, clocking 56.03 seconds. Kneiff also placed third in the 110-meter hurdles in a personal best time of 14.94 seconds.

"Matt was in the lead when he hit a hurdle really hard at about 200 meters and almost went down," said Kavanaugh. "To his credit, he recovered nicely and fought the rest of the way, edging Cory Appl of Northern State at the line for second."

The other school record was in the javelin, set by freshman Tanya Kleinschmit (Crofton). Kleinschmit threw 98'5" to place fourth and improve her own school record by seven inches.

Other placers at the conference meet include senior Jeremy Covey (Warrensburg-Latham, Ill.) and freshman Tom Whisnand (Norfolk). They placed fifth in 35:19 and sixth in 35:33, respectively, in the 10,000-meter run.

"This was also Tom's first attempt at this distance on the track," said Kavanaugh. "He ran very well. I think this will be primary race in the future."

Sophomore Antonio Jackson (Okeechobee, Fla.) placed fourth in the triple jump and fifth in the long jump with best marks of 42'10.75" and 20'11", respectively. In the 100-meter dash, junior Brandon Moore (South Sioux City) placed sixth in 11.22 second.

Junior Brad Hrouda (Schuyler Central) was sixth in the 800-meter run in 1:59.30, and Freshman James Bruhn (Charter Oak, Ia.) placed sixth in the steeplechase in 10:40.7.

All four relays placed fourth, with the 400-meter relay team of Jackson, Scott Asmus (Norfolk), Adam Brandl (Neligh-Oakdale) and Moore setting a season-best time of 43.34 seconds.

WSC nets three on all-conference team

Three Wayne State College baseball players have been selected to the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference All-Conference team, as voted by the league's head coaches.

The three Wildcats named to the team were sophomore pitcher Brady Borner (Chaska, Minn.), senior shortstop Matt Lockett (Livermore, Calif.) and sophomore outfielder Brian Zimmerman (Omaha).

Borner was the ace of the Wildcats' pitching staff, posting a 5-4 record with a 1.68 earned run average. He also set a single-season record with 90 strikeouts, breaking the previous mark of 73, set last season by Aaron Garmon and in 1991 by Steve Kelliher.

Brogie named top researcher

John E. Brogie, ninth grade student at Wayne-Carroll High School, is one of the top five high school science researchers for the state of Nebraska.

This award, presented by the Nebraska Junior Academy of Sciences, qualifies John to present his research at the national level.

The American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS) will host the national science fair competition at their annual meeting "Science in an Uncertain Millennium" Feb., 17-22, 2000, in Washington, D.C.

John's research project Reduction in Airborne Microbial Contamination using a homemade laminar flow was a direct outgrowth of his four-year yeast study.

The purpose of his project was to decide if a laminar flow could be built at home and could reduce the amount of airborne contaminants in microbiological plates. The HEPA filter used in this project was a commercial large room filter made by Sunbeam™. A laminar flow was constructed out of clear garbage bags and was sealed using duct tape.

A frame was then constructed out of K-Nex™ and fastened to the unit using rubber bands. Experiments were done inside and outside the chamber simultaneously at different time intervals to determine the effectiveness of the laminar flow. Two experiments were done on nutrient agar (for culturing bacteria) and two experiments on sabouraud dextrose agar (for culturing molds and yeast).

All the results conclude that the laminar flow was effective and greatly reduced the amount of airborne contamination. The second phase of John's research involved comparing his homemade laminar flow unit with commercial models used at Wayne State College and Nebraska Wesleyan University.

These results conclude that the homemade laminar flow is as effective as the commercial models in reduction of airborne contamination.

In Nebraska Job Corps launches new recruitment campaign

This spring, Job Corps representatives will take a message of success to the streets as they launch a nationwide recruitment campaign aimed at telling young adults about the opportunities for job training and career development that can literally change their lives.

Job Corps, a 35-year-old U.S. Department of Labor program has trained more than 68,000 young people in one of 50 trades and helped them start careers. On May 1, Job Corps will have launched a nationwide recruitment campaign for 1999.

The campaign will educate young adults about Job Corps Centers throughout Region VII/VIII, including Pine Ridge Civilian Conservation Center in Chadron.

The recruitment campaign will target motivated young people ages 16 through 24 who wish to take advantage of the education and trade opportunities offered at Job Corps.

"Job Corps has a long history of training successful graduates in a variety of fields," said Donna Kay, acting regional director. "A Job Corps education teaches young people how to become a success."

Nebraska's Pine Ridge Civilian Conservation Center offers many options for prospective students. In addition to high school diploma and/or GED classes, young men and women can train in vocational trades such as business/clerical, building and apartment maintenance, culinary arts, welding, carpentry, cement masonry and painting.

Job Corps graduates compete for entry-level jobs, often earning as much as $12 an hour.

A primarily residential program, Job Corps provides students with room, board and some spending money while they learn. Some centers offer non-residential programs and provide day care for students' children.

"The new recruitment campaign is for young people who are not satisfied with their current situation, whether that is their present job or lifestyle," Kay said. "Job Corps provides them with an opportunity to start a career or get a better job."

Job Corps Region VII/VIII, headquartered in Kansas City and Denver, administers 14 training centers and oversees outreach and placement activities for students in Colorado, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, North and South Dakota, Utah and Wyoming. Depending on vocational interest, Job Corps applicants will be assigned to a center in the region closest to their homes.

For more information about joining Job Corps, call (800) 693-7669 in Nebraska or visit the Job Corps national web site at www.jobcorps.org.

PARTNER COMMENT on Real Estate

Alan Stoltenberg, Broker STOLTENBERG PARTNERS

MAXIMIZE YOUR BUYING POWER!

Buying a home usually means securing a mortgage, which entails finding the right lender. Here are some tips to make the right choice, while stretching your home buying dollars.

Ask your real estate agent to set up a pre-approval appointment with a local lender. Pre-approval means having a firm commitment from a lender for a predetermined amount of money. Once approved, you become more valuable to sellers. To them you are a "cash" buyer, ready to complete a purchase. This gives you the edge when competing with other buyers.

Ask the lender about their underwriting guidelines and what information you need to supply for the pre-approval process. Find out about all fees, i.e. "processing" or "underwriting" fees, "loan origination" fees, "warehousing" fees. Also ask if the lender offers fast mortgage approval. It is important to know, as quickly as possible, if you are eligible to buy the home you want. The sooner you can take your purchase to the settlement table, the more valuable you become to sellers.

Maximize your buying power by taking the time to talk to your local lender early in the home search process.

If you're curious about your eligibility to buy a home, stop in or give me a call. Historically low interest rates are a definite advantage.

The Benefit Of Aspirin Outweighs Risk

A new analysis of sixteen previous studies involving more than 55,000 persons confirms the benefit of aspirin versus risk. The benefit of taking aspirin as a blood thinner to prevent a heart attack or stroke far outweighs the risk of developing a hemorrhagic stroke in most of the population. The study appeared in the Journal of the American Medical Association. Always check with your doctor before taking any medication.

Exercise, healthy eating can help fight arthritis

For many people, arthritis simply is a part of life, something that must be dealt with and not yielded to. The condition affects more than 40 million Americans. There is no known cure for it. Yet, there are ways to make arthritis easier to live with, as well as easier to prevent. Arthritis exists in two main forms, inflammatory and non-inflammatory.

Although osteoarthritis is more common in women, men also suffer from the affliction.

The longer a person has arthritis, the more permanent damage it causes to his or her joints. Therefore, it's best to treat the condition as soon as possible. People who have arthritis, or want to avoid developing arthritis in the future, can do several things.

Regular exercise, such as walking or swimming, is good for retaining flexibility in the joints and developing muscle strength. Strength-training exercises, done for 45 minutes twice a week, are proven to be helpful in reducing joint pain, as well as improving balance and ease of walking. Stretching, in particular, can improve joint flexibility and help to maintain a range of motion that is helpful in daily living.

Maintaining a reasonable weight can reduce pressure on the joints, while contributing to overall good health. However, exercise moderation is important—too much exercise can cause wear and tear on the joints, allowing arthritis to develop more quickly. Before beginning any strength training program, particularly if arthritis already exists, it's good to visit with your medical care provider.

While healthy eating is beneficial in many ways, there's little evidence conclusively showing a healthy diet will reduce arthritic pain. However, some individual foods are found to have positive effects on arthritis sufferers. Research on some of these is still in the preliminary stages; still, fish containing omega-3 fatty acids—such as salmon, sardines, anchovies, tuna, mackerel and bluefish—may help relieve tender joints and stiffness. In addition, anti-oxidant rich fruits and vegetables containing vitamin C and beta carotene, such as citrus fruits, carrots and spinach, are thought to be helpful.

Inflammatory arthritis, which includes rheumatoid arthritis and the gout, is characterized by pain, stiffness and joint swelling. Osteoarthritis, a non-inflammatory arthritis, is the most common form of the condition. It's caused when the cartilage at the end of bones begins to deteriorate, leading to pain, swelling and stiffness. While it can take years to develop, osteoarthritis can become increasingly painful and debilitating.

National Day of Prayer observed in Wayne

The 48th annual observance of the National Day of Prayer was held at Tacos and More in Wayne on May 6.

During the observance the Wayne Kiwanis Club presented its Humanitarian Award. The recipients of this year's award were Miron and Louise Jenness.

Featured speaker at this year's event was Wayne Chief of Police Lance Webster.

The following is what Chief Webster told those in attendance:

"Micah 6:8 'He has showed you, O man, what is good. And what does the Lord require of you? To act justly and to love mercy and to walk humbly with your God.'

This is such a simple statement about what God expects of us, only three things: Act Justly, Love Mercy and Walk Humbly. How are we doing, both as a society and personally?

"As a society we are failing. We have recently experienced a record number school violence incidents, both nationally and statewide. We have high rates of divorce, single mothers, teenage pregnancy, teenage suicide, sexually transmitted diseases, abortion and drug and alcohol abuse at record levels. We have parents who willingly tolerate or ignore misbehavior by their children because they are afraid their kids won't like them.

"We aren't acting Justly for we have lost the ability to hold people accountable. It seems as if everyone else is at fault. If 'Little Johnnie' can't read, it's the teacher's fault. If little Suzie gets arrested for MIP 'the cops are picking on her' or, 'what do you expect, there's nothing else for her to do?' And it's not just parents. A lady takes the lid off a cup of hot coffee and puts it in lap while driving and sues McDonalds for negligence!!

"We aren't showing much Mercy either. Americans are trying to kill each other at an alarming rate. Aggravated assaults have increased almost seven-fold since 1957. This is the true look at how violent we have become.

"Are we Humble as a society? Look at our favorite form of entertainment, television, for that answer. What a perfect medium for the 'Me' generation. CBS T.V. executives with children under age six are advised by their own company not to let their kids watch TV. Sadly, we have gone from John Kennedy's 'Ask no what your country can do for you, but what can you do for your country' to 'What's in it for me!!!' in less than a generation. We have a high divorce rate, often caused by the 'Self First' attitude of many marriage partners.

"Most of you see the sad state of society on your TV sets or in the newspaper. In my 22 years as a police officer I have seen a lot of truly terrible things. I have seen a little baby who was shot to death by his own father during a domestic fight, because his mom used him as a shield. I have seen countless children who have been the victims or horrible abuse, neglect and sexual abuse at the hands of their parents or a caregiver. I've seen people shot, stabbed, drowned and burned.

"I've seen more grief than I care to think about. But, I have also seen some special moments of people caring for others. I have survived the stresses of my chosen profession because of two things — my faith in God and the strong support of my wife and family.

"I feel great compassion for kids. Most of the kids I have dealt with professionally were the products of broken homes, single parent families, had chronic substance abuse in the family or were being raised by their grandparents. A lot of these kids were getting bounced back and forth between divorced parents. Often, they found themselves taking a 'back seat' to Mom's new boyfriend or Dad's new girlfriend.

"I very seldom dealt with any children from an intact, two-parent family where Christian love and limits were practiced actively.

"Am I a Doom and Gloomer because of my life experience? Absolutely not!! I know that God has a personal relationship with all of us. He never turns his back on us — it is always the other way around. So I know that even people who have made bad life choices can turn around and find God. We just need to help a little bit.

"The United States has long been on the slippery slope of moral decline and, much like an alcoholic, we must hit rock bottom before committing to a life change. WE decide where rock bottom is, NOT the government, NOT the news media, NOT the politicians.

"We have some obstacles. When Christians stand up for what is Biblically correct, we are labeled as zealots, intolerant or Right Wing fanatics, often by the very people who continue to perpetuate the moral decline we are in. We must stand firm in our faith. We must Act Justly, Love Mercy and Walk Humbly with our God!

"As a police officer I know that I deal with a very small segment of society. Most of the people in this country are 'salt of the earth' folks. They just need to see others who believe as they do and who are willing to say, 'enough is enough.'

"I also have hope because I am blessed. I saw most of the kids I mentioned earlier turn out pretty good. They grew up fine, in spite of their parents, in spite of their broken homes and often in spite of the abuse they suffered. I think the reason for this is simple — they found a positive role model to emulate — be it a teacher, a friend, a friend's parents, a coach, a pastor or even a police officer. These kids found someone they could look up to and 90 percent of the time that someone was a Christian.

"I pondered the tragedy in Littleton, Colo. for some time, searching for some good that could come out of this horrible incident. I found it right in front of my face. There were about 1,800 kids who got hugs from their parents that day. Moms and Dads left work and came to hug their kids. These kids were shown love, affection and devotion. They were also exposed to the Word of God and received a strong outpouring of love and support from their community and the nation.

"Experts tell us most kids join gangs because they are looking for something they don't get at home — a sense of family. I don't think many kids from Columbine High School joined a gang last month!

"Now comes the tough question. How are each of you doing? Do you Act Justly, Love Mercy and Walk Humbly with God in your daily lives?

"What can we do to meet God's requirements? Act Justly towards your wife or husband, towards your children, your friends, neighbors and those with whom you do business. Love Mercy — show compassion for those who are less fortunate, give generously to your church and charities. Remember, it is not your money to begin with — it's God's money and you are merely a steward of it. Be forgiving of those who may have wronged you, pray for them and others. And Walk Humbly with your God. Put God first in your life. After all, what you have and who you are are gifts from God. Serve others — don't expect to be served. Remember, Christ came to us as a Servant King. He led by example.

"As Christians we should all strive to live our faith daily! Many Christians seem to have forgotten this aspect of faith. We have often become tolerant of the 'Sunday Christian,' the people who come to church on Sunday, but can't be bothered by their faith Monday-Saturday. Our brothers and sisters of the Jewish faith set the example when they live their faith every day. If life were a pie, a Jew would say the entire pie is God's. Many Christians are willing to give a slice of the pie to Christ. Jesus gets wedged in between TV shows, sports events, drinking beer, fishing and hunting. Wouldn't it be wonderful if communities and schools scheduled their events around the Church instead of the other way around?

"What else can we do? Get involved!! Volunteer at your church, be a leader, be a youth mentor or a mentor to a newly married couple or a couple who recently had their first child. Stand up against intolerance and injustice. Share your faith with others. What you can't do is just sit on the sidelines and complain that the world is not how it should be or how it used to be.

Soren Kierkegaard said, 'Life can only be understood backwards, but it must be lived forwards.'

"Please join me in looking forward — prayerfully. St. Matthew tells us 'You are the light of the world... let your light shine before men, that they may see your good deeds and praise your Father in heaven. We can fulfill God's requirements and 'Light the Nation with Prayer.' It is simple to do — all we need is your commitment!"

RECEIVES EXCELLENCE

The second graders at Wakefield Community School are proud of their teacher, Jan Johnson.

Mrs. Johnson was notified recently that she had been selected as a 1998 Presidential Awardee for Excellence in Science Teaching in Elementary Education. The award was made by the National Science Foundation of Arlington, Va.

In making the announcement the foundation said, "Your exceptional talent leadership abilities and dedication as a teacher are qualities that place you among the recipients of the nation's highest honor for mathematics and science teaching. You stand firmly among the nation's best teachers."

The award includes a trip to Washington, D.C. for Mrs. Johnson and a guest to attend the formal recognition ceremony and meet with other Presidential Awardees and a $7,500 grant to the school.

Teachers are nominated for the award, in this case Principal Jeanne Surface submitted Mrs. Johnson's name for consideration. The nominee is then sent a nomination form with criteria questions. The nominee then must write a paper responding to these questions and explaining in detail how their teaching project receives a broad base of educational areas.

Mrs. Johnson's project revolves around birds. Throughout the year Mrs. Johnson's second grade class does a variety of activities around the study of birds.

Mrs. Johnson said that the judges look for unisex projects that are a cross study using various educational skills. She said they particularly like to see the use of technology. She explained that technology not only in the science of computers, but also including construction. This year's class is holding bird houses made from gourds. Last year's class made bird feeders.

She said they also like to see the fine arts involved and of course birds and music go together Mrs. Johnson's class listened to birds' songs and then charted their song on a musical scale.

The selection process begins in each state. Each state selects three nominees from each level. The levels are elementary science, elementary math, secondary science and secondary math. The National Science Foundation then chooses an awardee from each area. Therefore, each state has four Presidential Award Teachers.

Mrs. Johnson said she thought the foundation had been choosing teachers for excellence awards since 1983. Also, the selection process is getting recommendations for the award from associates.

The $7,500 grant will be received over a five-year period and will be under Mrs. Johnson's direction as to how it is spent. It can be used for education, classroom materials and equipment.

"The education may be for the awardee to attend workshops or special classes or to provide education for other teachers. Mrs. Johnson said that she would have to give some thought and planning into the best use for the grant. Some of the monies may also be put into an account to earn interest or dividends so that it can be used over more than a five-year period, according to Mrs. Johnson.

The four-day trip to Washington, D.C. in June will include a visit to the Smithsonian National Air and Space Museum, a State Department dinner, presentations by the awardees, an awards ceremony, a number of meetings with distinguished guests, and an evening on a cruise ship.

On trial... again

The annual trial of Goldilocks was held last week at the Wayne County Courthouse. Those involved in the criminal procedure, including the county sheriff, police chief, county attorney and clerk of the District Court, spoke to fifth graders from Wayne Middle School. The students then took parts, including lawyers, witnesses, judge and jury members. The event has been organized for several years by Cheryl Connolly.

Wayne taking part in 'Town Day'

The City of Wayne is among 15 towns taking part in the "Town Day" program at the Ashfall Fossil Beds State Historical Park. The Ashfall Chapter of the Friends of the State Museum will again sponsor the program.

Wayne's "Town Day" will be Sunday, June 27 from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The Town Day program allows each town to pick a particular weekend day between May 15 and Labor Day to designate as its own Town Day in order to promote its town to the Ashfall visitors, who number from 300 to 650 on any one weekend.

Each Town's committee provides free refreshments to the Ashfall visitors on the designated day. The committee can also promote its town with brochures, advertising or entertainment.

The Town Day program has been in effect since 1995 and has proven to be appreciated by Ashfall visitors.

Ashfall boasts a new paved access highway, and a new $50,000 restroom facility completed in 1998.

Dale B. Morrill of Creighton is the 1999 President of the Ashfall Chapter. Retired District Judge Merritt C. Warren of Creighton is again the Town Day Program Chairman.

Why Use Standardized Herbal Products?

In some ways herbs are like wine. Wines vary in quality depending on many factors: grape type, extraction and processing methods, where grapes are grown and growing season characteristics. The same is true with herbs which contain numerous complex chemical agents and which vary in quantity from plant to plant. In some respects, herbal products are more complicated than wine. Wine comes from one part of the plant - the fruit. Herbal medicines can come from flowers, leaves, stems, roots, and other parts. Medicinal agents may be concentrated in one part of the plant and not in others.

Standardization helps assure consumers that a consistent dose of active ingredients is in each dose of herbal medicines. Standardized herbal medicines typically cost more than non-standardized products. And although some products are labeled "standardized," tests by independent laboratories may show that little or no medicinal agent actually is present in the product. Therefore, it pays to use quality brands of herbal medicines from reputable companies.

Mother's Day, birthday, are in close proximity

Most of you know by now that the Big Farmer has become a junk dealer in his retirement. He was always a collector; but now, he actually sells the stuff. Sometimes, for a lot.

The only antiques I really like are those that have been in our families. And I've been blessed with several items like that: a buffet, a curio cabinet, a small desk, a rocker. I will spend money on an item if it's something I really hanker for, like the pump organ.

There was one piece of furniture I coveted. A roll-top desk. Complete with cubby holes. My sister-in-law has a huge one, which she purchased for a bargain price. In fact, it's so large, I wouldn't know where to put it if I did find one like that. I thought I could afford. But there are smaller ones. I've seen them in the homes of some of my patients. They are never for sale.

Since Mother's Day and my birthday are always in close proximity; it really puts the stress on Mike, who is not a shopper. Except for garage sales.

Sunday morning, he informed me that my gift was in the garage. This garage is a huge metal building meant for two vehicles. It only has room for one because it is full of his "treasures." So it would be like a treasure hunt to find my gift. I wasn't having any luck until he said it was a piece of furniture and I spied an old quilt over a bulky object.

Yes! It's a desk, a roll-top, half-size, very old, and in good condition. Using my theory of how God works, he was in the store one day when a lady called to ask if he was in the market for a desk. He went to see it, made an offer, and brought it home. That was three months ago. When he plans a surprise, he really surprises. Now, the only problem I have is were to put it. The new room has filled up mighty fast. But I'll find a place, believe me.

More showers are predicted. Just so there are no more tornadoes. The lilacs around here are in full glory. And the graduations, confirmations, and receptions are in full swing. May is just a kaleidoscope of flowers, nostalgia, Memorial Day, Pomp and Circumstance, and alumni reunions. I love it. But I'm praying for sun. So are the farmers, I'm sure!

Training offered

Judging becomes more of a science and less of a mystery with the University of Nebraska cooperative Extension 4-H Judges' Training in June. Potential judges, 4-H'ers, parents and volunteers are invited to participate in the training. Six judging options are offered in judging basics, clothing, home environment, child development and foods. Participants will learn how judging fits the big 4-H picture, evaluate actual exhibits and network with other judges. Training will be led by NU faculty.

Training for 4-H'ers, adults and volunteers will be held Monday, June 14 at the Methodist Church in Wayne from 1 to 4:30 p.m. It will also be held in five additional sites across the state.

Registration of $10 is due May 20 to the State 4-H Office, 114 Ag Hall, University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Neb. 68583-0700. Make checks payable to the Nebraska 4-H Development Foundation.

Registration begins 15 minutes prior to the starting time. For a brochure or more information call the local Cooperative Extension Office or Cedar County Extension office at (402) 254-6821.

Good hatch

Character Counts! training is planned

Character Counts! will celebrate what's right with Nebraska's youth during training in May and June at six locations across Nebraska.

The University of Nebraska 4-H program enables young people to develop knowledge and life skills to enhance ethical and responsible behavior, said Kathleen Lodi, 4-H youth development specialist.

Participants will gain a solid background from the research of character development and an understanding of the six pillars of character: trustworthiness, respect, responsibility, fairness, caring and citizenship. They then will be able to take the information back to their communities to implement character-education programs in schools, businesses, community organizations and other youth serving groups.

Adults and teens who are interested in learning more about character education and what they can do to make a difference in their community should attend. Participants will get hands-on experiences in making these abstract concepts of character more concrete.

Featured trainer will be Mark Britzman, program director at South Dakota State University at Sioux Falls, where he teaches, counsels and advises students. He is a licensed psychologist, certified clinical mental health counselor and author of the book "Life: From Surviving to Thriving." He has served as executive director of Sioux Empire Character Counts! and has conducted character development workshops throughout the country.

A $25 registration fee, which includes lunch, braks and handouts, is due by May 15 to the State 4-H Office, University of Nebraska, Box 830700, Lincoln, Neb. 68583-0700. After May 15, registration is $35. Registration at each workshop begins at 8:30 a.m. with the program to conclude at 4 p.m. Registration forms may be obtained from the local Cooperative Extension office.

Character Counts! dates and locations locally include June 16 at the East Campus Union in Lincoln and June 18 at the Lifelong Learning Center in Norfolk.

One graduate level of credit in counseling and human resources is available through South Dakota State University. For more information at (402) 272-9012.

Character Counts! is a national program that originates from the Josephson Institute of Ethics in California. It is sponsored by Cooperative Extension in NU Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

ST JOHN'S LADIES AID MEETS

Eighteen members and Pastor Bruce Schut attended the meeting of the St. John's Lutheran Ladies Aid and LWML of Wakefield on May 7. Hostesses were Carolyn Kraemer and Lillian Fredrickson.

Wilma Bartsch led the opening devotions with readings entitled "Fulfillment" and "Mother's Love," closing with prayer. Pastor Schut led the study topic entitled "Divine Muscle" from the LWML Quarterly.

Martha Prochaska, president, called the meeting to order. Carolyn Kraemer read the minutes of the April meeting and Margaret Turner gave the treasurer's report, followed with the LWML Pledge. A report was given on the LWML workshop held April 18 at Hope Lutheran Church in South Sioux City.

The visiting committee reported sending two get well cards, one baby card, and made six visits. Martha Prochaska led the sing-along at the Wakefield Care Center on May 6. A group from the Aid will help with bingo at the Wakefield Care Center on May 14.

An invitation was received from Immanuel Lutheran Church of Wakefield to attend their guest day on Thursday, May 20 at 2 p.m.

A thank you was given by George

Holtorf for assisting with serving at his open house for his 100th birthday. A thank you was also received from Lutheran Family Services and Bethesda Lutheran Home.

Roll call was answered by 18 members. The birthdays of Arlene Benson, Martha Prochaska and Harriet Stolle were honored with the birthday song and the anniversary song honoring Beverly and Gary Herbolsheimer. The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer and table prayer led by Pastor Schut.

The next meeting is June 4 with Jolene Miller and Lois Victor as hostesses.

ATTEND BAPTISMAL SERVICES

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Krusemark attended the baptismal services on May 2 of a great granddaughter, Kari Lynne Greene, daughter of Jerry and Shelley Greene of Albion.

Services were held at Zion Lutheran Church in Albion. A cooperative dinner was held following the services in the church parlors. The group met at the Greene home in the afternoon and celebrated the third birthday of Brendan, son of the Jerry Greene's.

COUNTRY CLASSICS 4-H CLUB

The Country Classics 4-H Club was hosted by Stacy and Aaron Daum at Grace Lutheran Church on April 25.

The group began the meeting with a fun balloon and banana game. President Tamara Schardt called the meeting to order.

The 4-H leader, Chris Loberg, reminded those who owed dues and record book fees to submit payment to the club treasurer, Hailey Daehnke. She also reminded members to return enrollment records to her as soon as possible.

The members then shared ideas and voted on what the theme booth would be for the county fair. Before the meeting was adjourned, the club updated the Building Our Records books.

Then a picture was taken with all the pop tabs that the club had collected for the Ronald McDonald House.

The club will not meet in May but will have two meetings in June. On June 13 the club will meet at the Schardt farm and on June 27 the Nelson family will be hosting. Members will be notified about the meeting times.

HEAT PUMPS DON'T TAKE SUMMERS OFF.

WHEN YOUR AIR CONDITIONER QUITS WORKING, REPLACE IT WITH A HEAT PUMP.

A heat pump does double-duty. In summer, it cools your home like an air conditioner. And in winter, it works with your electric or gas furnace to heat your home...for less money. To find out more, contact NPPD, your local power supplier, or your heating and cooling dealer.

ALLEN FFA BANQUET

The Allen FFA held its annual FFA banquet on April 20. The banquet began with a dinner served by the mothers of the officers. Dinner was followed by opening ceremonies and then the FFA Creed was recited.

Later a recap of the year's activities was given with a slide presentation followed by the presentation of the FFA Awards.

Tom Wilmes, the Allen FFA advisor, then gave recognition to each of the graduating seniors involved in FFA. Monte Else, a past State FFA Officer, was the banquet's guest speaker. He spoke of life and its challenges and he gave advice to "Take opportunities given to you and never give up."

A special thanks was then given to everyone in attendance, and the 1999-2000 FFA officers were inducted.

THE BLUE AND GREY

On May 4, the Allen Music Department under the direction of Richard Lacy presented its Spring Concert. Students in grades Kindergarten through Twelfth grades participated in a program about the Civil War.

The evening started with the Allen High School Band playing "Voices From the Battlefield."

The Kindergarten then recited the Pledge of Allegiance. Next the students in the first grade sang "Down At The Station" and "Little Liza Jane."

Second Grade students sang "The Squirrel" and "The Animal Fair." Next the third grade students sang

"The Sow Took the Measles" and "Polly Wolly Doodle." Finally, the fourth graders sang "Roll Alabama Roll." All were accompanied by Michelle Saxon.

Even and Nancy Knapp from Cherokee, Iowa, gave a Civil War presentation. Earlier in the day, Mr. and Mrs. Knapp, Civil War buffs who participated in Civil War reenactments throughout the Midwest and put on informative assemblies for groups of all ages, gave a Civil War presentation to the junior high and high school at an assembly. They also let students wear some of their 1860's attire for the program. The presentation consisted on peculiarities of the Civil War and of what life was like for the soldiers.

The program ended with the fifth through Twelfth grades presenting "The Songs and Soul Of The Civil War," which consisted of songs and dialogue depicting life during the Civil War.

Thanks are extended to the many ladies in Allen and the Knapps for letting the students wear their clothing appropriate to the Civil War era.

ATHLETIC BANQUET

On May 7, the Athletic Departments held their annual athletic Banquet. The welcome was given by Dave Uldrich. A meal was provided by Mary Klemme, Patty Hough, Micki Sachau, and Linda Roth. Also the junior, high girls helped with the serving.

With each ticket bought, each person was entered in the door prize drawing. Winners were Adam Gensler, a season pass; Samantha Bock, a basketball signed by the UNL Women's Basketball team, and Angela Dowling, Kate Benson's practice jersey.

The guest speaker was Kate Benson, a past player for the UNL Women's Basketball team. She spoke of her basketball career and her advice was "As long as you give your best and work hard, it doesn't matter so much if you win or lose, it's how you feel about yourself."

One of her highlights was that as a freshman at UNL when was one of the two elected to help at Michael Jordan's basketball camp. She reflected that she was selected because of all the work she did in practice and on her own after practice to give her that extra edge, and she was selected even though she didn't have much playing time.

Kate Benson donated a few items to raffie. She gave up her UNL Big 12 wind suit with her number on it, a UNL letterman's watch, and a basketball signed by the UNL team. All of these items were raffied off with the proceeds going to the Athletic Department.

The last event of the evening, after each coach gave their lists of letter winners, was the announcement of the Senior Athlete Awards. The recipient of the female Senior Athlete Award was Teresa Marks. Kenneth Rahn and BJ Gotch were co-recipients of the boys Athletic Award.
