By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

Betty Morris of Carroll was honored at the Board of Education Honor Coffee held prior to their special and regular meetings on Monday night. Morris has been

Betty Morris

Assistant Manager/cook since 1963. Recalling some changes through the years, she remembers there being between 60-80 students in the Carroll Elementary School, lunch tickets being $1.25 a week, wages being $185 a month, and most everything in the kitchen being prepared by hand. She said that when a mixer was purchased, she thought it was wonderful. She also mentioned that she hasn't missed more than five days for illness during all those years.

Honored too was Jodi Karabel of Tilden, who has been student teaching in Carroll. She said she will graduate in December and hopes to be substitute teaching in this area.

Also receiving recognition were the fourth graders for their writing projects. Each child spoke on something they have been involved in at school such as helping make reading books, memory books, and working with computers.

A hearing on the Wayne Community Schools tax request followed the Honor Coffee. Dr. Joe Reinert, superintendent for Wayne Community Schools, gave a review of the tax request citing the amount as $1,319,730.76 per $100.

The regular meeting began at 7:10 p.m. with the financial reports/claims being discussed and approved. Approved was the bid by Gill Hauling of Jackson for trash removal.

Also approved was the High School Band trip set for May 5-7, 2000 in Kansas City where the Band will attend the "Worlds of Fun Festival of Bands." The school makes sure that all band and choir students can attend one Kansas City trip during their high school years.

Other business discussed was All-Day Kindergarten. David Lutt, Carroll fourth grade students, left to right, Becca Dowling, Kendall Jones, Katie Claussen, Megan Loberg, Abigail Kenny, Shawn Jenkins, and Elizabeth Shulteis were honored at the honor coffee for writing projects that each have been involved in, which included them helping to make reading books, memory books, and working with computers.

Wayne Elementary School principal, introduced two Kindergarten teachers at Wayne and Carroll, Pat Jenkins and Nicki Tiedtke, who attended a conference on All-Day Kindergarten. Pros and cons on the issue were given by the teachers. They said they felt there were many benefits to All-Day Kindergarten. The down side of the issue is longer days for students and increased cost for the district for additional staff and space needed.

Lutt said a survey would be sent out to parents and the Board said they would discuss the issue further at a later date.

For Administration reports, Richard Metteer, Middle School principal, introduced representatives Loren Park and Jill Woodward of the Wayne/Dixon County Family Coalition and Team Mates Mentor Program supporters. They spoke to the Board about the benefits of starting the Team Mates program in the Wayne School system. The program consists of mentors working one-on-one with seventh through high-school-aged students.

The mentor program is recommended by Tom and Nancy Osborne and it is currently being used by the Wayne/Dixon County Youth Coalition and in numerous school systems.

Team Mates representatives noted they were meeting with the local Rotary Club who also has a mentoring program known as PIFAK with the school, to see if they could work together. They will report back to the Board and staff at the next business meeting.

The superintendent's report included Roger Kruse of Packer Kruse Associates, a food service independent consultant, speaking on the Central Kitchen Study. He has conducted Kruse found producing capabilities good at the Wayne Elementary School kitchen but that it is lacking in storage, both dry storage and in freezer space.

He noted that the Middle School was only suitable for a prep kitchen and nothing larger as too much space would be required.

Kruse asked the Board to consider remodeling the High School kitchen in five years as serving capabilities there are very poor. A couple of big downfalls for successfully serving students is the pass through window and the corridor in front of it.

He mentioned the amount of scratch baking being done by the Wayne Schools kitchen staff and that they should be commended as many district kitchen staff don't attempt such efforts.

Kruse will be designing a kitchen for the Middle School. The Central Kitchen Study will be discussed by the Board at a later date.

The next order of business included a discussion on grants by Dr. Reinert. Included in the list of grants the district applied for and received are Goals 2000 $50,000 (they will

Loan for coffee house approved

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Following a public hearing at Tuesday's meeting, the Wayne City Council approved an application from Mary Burt for $22,900 in revolving loan funds.

Ms. Burt plans to start up a coffee house business at 212 Main Street. The business expects to employ 1.5 full-time equivalent positions.

Ms. Burt told the council she feels "this is a great community project." She hopes to have the business open yet this year.

The Wayne City Council chose to take no action on repealing midnight to 5 a.m. parking in Wayne. The issue will now be put on the May 2000 ballot for the citizens of Wayne to decide.

Several council members said they had talked to citizens in the community who were opposed to repealing the parking regulations for a number of reasons including snow removal and cars being left parked in the same spot for long periods of time.

A petition had been filed with the city containing 825 signatures. Of those, 567 were valid. A total of 506 signatures, or 15 percent of the registered voters in the city, were needed for the council to consider the issue.

City Administrator Joe Salitros presented a report to the council on the status of corridor studies in northeast Nebraska.

The Department of Roads has undertaken two studies in northeast Nebraska that will impact Wayne. One involves alternate routes between and the Vermillion/Newcastle bridge and the other involves routes for a Highway 35 Expressway between South Sioux City and Norfolk.

Meetings will now be conducted to eliminate several of the proposed routes. The council passed resolution 99-53 which involves the city requesting and supporting reconstruction improvements along Highway 15, south of Highway 35.

Councilman Doug Sturm questioned the amount of say-so the city had in any future projects in regard to a number of problems that occurred during the Highway 35 project.

Mike Pieper, the city's attorney, told the council that the city doesn't have any control over a state project after public hearings are held before the project begins.

Tom Mitzel, representing the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department, presented an updated report on the proposed fire station.

Mitzel presented a sketch of the proposed new facility. Members of the department have indicated that a location on east Highway 35 has Link was raised in Cartoll. After his high school graduation, Link worked his way through WSC by teaching in rural schools in Nebraska. He earned his bachelor of arts degree in education from Wayne State Teachers College and married his wife of 58 years, Barbara in 1937.

After graduating from WSC, Link taught math in Belden and Albion. In 1946 Link moved to Pierce and managed a photography studio. During the 1950s, Link farmed in Plainview.

Following his time in Plainview, Link moved to Pullman, Wash. and earned his master's degree from Washington State. His next move was to Caldwell, Idaho where he taught and ended his career as a principal of a junior high school.

Link and his late wife have four children: Charles, Kathy, Greg and Pamela. Link is retired and lives in Boise, Idaho.

Firemen kept busy

The Wayne Volunteer Fire Department was kept busy during Fire Prevention Week. In addition to giving a number of tours at the fire station, they were called to fires on two occasions and assisted with two mutual aid calls. Extremely dry conditions contributed to all of the fires.

WSC hosts Annual Public Policy Institute

Participants gained experience and knowledge as they moderated public forums and led group discussions about the issue of alcohol abuse during the Wayne State College Seventh Annual Public Policy Institute (PPI) on Oct. 11-12. Participants were teachers, students, counselors, social service workers or other citizens with concerns about society's problems.

Dr. Sheila Stearns, WSC president, welcomed those involved and said their effort to attend the institute will help each individual become more effective at any position they hold. She also said their involvement will help them to become better citizens by learning effective ways to communicate for the common good of society.

The PPI offered by Wayne State is one of several that was originated by the Kettering Foundation around the country. The PPI is offered by Wayne State in collaboration with the National Issues Forums and the Kettering Foundation, who co-sponsored a number of similar institutes around the country. Wayne State has the only such institute in Nebraska. The main purpose of the PPI is to promote deliberative democracy, considering the pros and cons of several different choices instead of engaging in adversarial debate. Institute participants are trained to lead forums and group discussions on a variety of issues, including some that are framed nationally each year by the Public Agenda and others that are framed locally by the participants themselves.

One of the WSC organizers of the event, Chuck Parker said individuals learning about deliberation at the institute will be able to increase the chances that their decisions will be wise when they have to struggle with hard choices.

"Deliberation takes you beyond facts. Gather facts, but don't stop at facts. We have to think about what the things are that we truly value," Parker said.

For more information, please call (402) 375-7292.

China trip to be discussed at meetings

Tom and Pat Cook will hold two meetings in their home next week, in conjunction with their recent trip to China.

Pat make a presentation at her home at 1004 Aspen Street on Monday, Oct. 18 at 7 p.m. for the American Association of University Women.

The emphasis of this program will be on "Teaching English in China" and Wayne State College English as A Second Language students are encouraged to attend.

Guests will be served light refreshments.

"Since anyone can teach English conversation and writing with a bachelor's degree in anything at all, it is an appropriate program for AAUW. This is because being a college student pursuing a bachelor's degree or already having one are the only requirements for membership in AAUW," Pat said.

On Tuesday, Oct. 19 the Cooks will host a pot luck for Lions Club members at their home beginning at 6:30 p.m. Those attending are asked to bring two food dishes. Table service, apple cider and coffee will be provided.

A tour of the Cook home will be given to view the Chinese objects the couple acquired while spending nearly a year in China.

Following the meal, Earl Norman of Omaha, a former member of the Wayne Lions Club, will have a program on his latest bicycle ride in New Zealand.

Kiwanis to sell hot chocolate

Members of the Wayne Kiwanis Club will be going door-to-door on Monday, Oct. 18, selling hot chocolate. However, due to scheduling conflicts, Kiwanians may be out at other times.

Both sugar-free and regular chocolate will be available. The cost is $3 for one box and $5 for two boxes. Proceeds from the annual sale go toward various youth projects throughout the year.

Anyone with questions is asked to contact either Rusty Parker at 375-3470 or Sharon Luebbert at 375-5605.

Exhibit to be displayed at Wayne bank

A currency exhibit from the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City, featuring historical U.S. currency and current international currency, will be on display at the First National Bank in Wayne from Oct. 25 to Nov. 5.

There will be 10 actual samples of historical U.S. currency displayed: Silver certificates (which date back to 1878), Gold Certificates (which were first put into general circulation in 1882), State Bank notes (which first appeared shortly after the end of the Revolutionary War), National Bank notes (old series) (which were created as part of the finance program for the Civil War), National Bank notes (new series), fractional currency (by end of 1861, both banks and the government stopped issuing coins and in 1863, fractional currency took place of the coins).

Also being displayed will be: Confederate currency (Confederate money was printed in every denomination found in the North; over $1 billion worth of paper money was printed by the Confederacy), United States notes (known as 'greenbacks,' were the first real paper money issued by the U.S. government), Federal Reserve notes (a new type of currency that came into existence when the Federal Reserve System was created), and Federal Reserve Bank notes (created by the Federal Reserve Act).

Also on display will be six different types of current international currency: Egyptian pound, Mexican peso, French franc, Kuwait dinar, Japanese yen, and Australian dollar.

For further information, contact Cindy Douglas, Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City, at 816-881-2798 or 800-333-1010, ext. 2798.

Insurance has problems

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

In the minds of many, the insurance industry has earned itself a reputation.

Do I have to say more? See, by not tossing in any adjectives in regards to what kind of reputation some insurance people have earned, I do the Nebraska Press Association and myself a favor. That is, everyone is spared the drivel-laden piffle that some in any industry like to fire off if someone else says their industry has, even on good days, a reputation for being a pain in the you-name-it.

This look around the Statehouse, however, doesn't have to do with the insurance industry. It just has to do with insurance, and what it costs or does not cost.

In one day Gov. Mike Johanns had two situations on his desk. This isn't to say they were problems, per se. But, they definitely fall into the "situation" category.

In the first situation, Johanns was mulling the status of state employees who might get no real pay increase next January. That's when pay for a good many of them is supposed to go up 2.5 percent. Some won't actually realize more take-home dollars because their insurance rates are going to increase.

It's a little bit like living in the country and seeing a snake eat a bird. It's life. But, geez, it's not very pleasant to watch sometimes. Turn then, to the other situation of concern to Johanns. The fact is that if you are married, and both of you work for the state, you might not have to pay for health insurance - period. It winds up being a freebie because of a formula put in place many years ago.

The thing is, the state was all for that formula back then because, in fact, it worked out to be cheaper for the state in some instances. Johanns said it would be hard to defend the fairness of the latter situation. I understand what he means.

Some of the 999 people involved in marriages and state employment, who don't have to pay premiums, probably don't see a problem. I understand what they mean.

After all, one might liken their potential position to that of Native Americans a century ago. "Well, guys, here is what you get. Uh, wait a minute, what you got turned out to be better than what we intended you to have. Let's look at this deal again."

Then, by contrast, there are those folks who don't happen to be married to another state employee, whose increased premium costs will literally eat their pay increase. They've got to be saying, "What kind of deal is this?" I understand what they mean.

My bet is that if he looked into it, Johanns could probably find an insurance agent somewhere willing to address the problem. Probably by designing an insurance policy to take the risk out of unexpected problems that can arise as the result of insurance policies.

The government of Afghanistan is waging war on its women

Dear Editor,

The government of Afghanistan is waging a war upon women. Since the Taliban took power in 1996, women have had to wear burqa and have been beaten and stoned in public for not having the proper attire, even if this means simply not having the mesh covering in front of their eyes.

One woman was beaten to DEATH by an angry mob of fundamentalists for accidentally exposing her arm while she was driving. Another was stoned to death for trying to leave the country with a man that was not a relative.

Women are not allowed to work or even go out in public without a male relative; professional women such as professors, translators, doctors, lawyers, artists and writers have been forced from their jobs and stuffed into their homes, so that depression is becoming so widespread that it has reached emergency levels.

There is no way in such an extreme Islamic society to know the suicide rate with certainty, but relief workers are estimating that the suicide rate among women, who cannot find proper medication and treatment for severe depression and would rather take their lives than live in such conditions, has increased significantly.

Homes where a woman is present must have their windows painted so that she can never be seen by outsiders. They must wear silent shoes so that they are never heard. Women live in fear of their lives for the slightest misbehavior. Because they cannot work, those without male relatives or husbands are either starving to death or begging on the street, even if they hold Ph.D.'s.

There are almost no medical facilities available for women, and relief workers, in protest, have mostly left the country, taking medicine and psychologists and other things necessary to treat the skyrocketing level of depression among women.

At one of the rare hospitals for women, a reporter found still, nearly lifeless bodies lying motionless on top of beds, wrapped in their burqa, unwilling to speak, eat, or do anything, but slowly wasting away. Others have gone mad and were seen crouched in corners, perpetually rocking or crying, most of them in fear.

One doctor is considering, when what little medication that is left finally runs out, leaving these women in front of the president's residence as a form of peaceful protest. It is at the point where the term 'human rights violations' has become an understatement.

Husbands have the power of life and death over their women relatives, especially their wives, but an angry mob has just as much right to stone or beat a woman, often to death, for exposing an inch of flesh or offending them in the slightest way. Women enjoyed relative freedom, to work, dress generally as they wanted, and drive and appear in public alone until only 1996.

The rapidity of this transition is the main reason for the depression and suicide; women who were once educators or doctors or simply used to basic human freedoms are now severely restricted and treated as subhuman in the name of right-wing fundamentalist Islam.

It is not their tradition or 'culture', but is alien to them, and it is extreme even for those cultures where fundamentalism is the rule.

Everyone has a right to a tolerable human existence, even if they are women in a Muslim country. If we can threaten military force in Kosovo in the name of human rights for the sake of ethnic Albanians, citizens of the world can certainly express peaceful outrage at the oppression, murder and injustice committed against women by the Taliban.

The current treatment of women in Afghanistan is completely UNACCEPTABLE and deserves support and action by the United Nations and that the current situation overseas will not be tolerated. Women's Rights is not a small issue anywhere and it is UNACCEPTABLE for women in 1999 to be treated as sub-human and so much as property.

Equality and human decency are a RIGHT not a freedom, whether one lives in Afghanistan or elsewhere. Write to your Congressman and Senators demanding an intervention and end to this.

Wayne girls notch a fifth place finish at state meet

By Kevin Peterson
Of the Herald

The Wayne girls golf team placed fifth at the Class B Girls State Golf Tournament at Grand Island's Municipal Golf Course which concluded Tuesday.

The two-day event saw the Blue Devils card a 754 (383-371). The 1999 Class B Champs, McCook fired rounds of 359-345 for a 704—eight strokes ahead of runner-up Ogallala at 712 (366-346).

Minden placed third with a 734 (373-361) and the surprise team of the tournament, Columbus Scotus was fourth at 752 (373-379).

Grand Island Northwest was sixth at 764 (391-373) and O'Neill/St. Mary's was seventh at 766 (394-372).

Gretna placed eighth at 781 (396-385) and Elkhorn was ninth with a 785 (391-394) while Gering placed 10th at 795 (410-385).

Crete placed 11th with a 797 (402-395) and Omaha Skutt Catholic rounded out the field of teams with an 818 (422-396).

Wayne trailed district foe Scotus by 10 strokes after the first day of competition and the Blue Devils nearly completed the come-back, falling just two strokes shy.

"We kind of shot ourselves out of contention on the first day," coach

Dave Hix said. "The girls just couldn't relax and play to their capability."

Hix said he's got players that could have shot in the 80's easily on that course.

"To put things into a little perspective McCook shot a 704 team score for two days," Hix said. "If you divide that by eight rounds it comes out to be an 88."

Junior Monica Novak, a state tournament veteran with this being her third trip, played consistent golf for the Blue Devils, carding back-to-back 88's to place eighth overall in the field of 74 players.

"Experience counts for a lot at state," Hix said. "Monica put two nice rounds together."

McCook's Elizabeth Morell was the state champ individually, with rounds of 78-76 for a 154.

Sophomore Kari Harder finished 19th with a 185 (95-90). Freshman Amy Harder was 25th at 187 (97-90). Sophomore Katie Nelson carded a 207 total (103-104) and sophomore Karla Keller carded a 210 (107-103).

"This was a great experience for our young team," Hix said. "With all five of these gals coming back and the competition getting better on our own team, the future looks bright."

Amber Johnson earns silver medal at State as Trojans place ninth

Wakefield senior Amber Johnson played her final high school golf tournament at the Class C State Golf Tournament at Grand Island's Indianhead Golf Course and she made it a memorable one.

Johnson fired rounds of 86-89 and placed runner-up in Class C to earn the silver medal.

As a team Wakefield made its first trip to State and the Trojans placed ninth with an 855 (431-424).

Grand Island Central Catholic won the team title with a 769 (393-376) while Oakland-Craig was second at 774 (395-379).

Plainview finished third at 788 (401-387) and Bennington was fourth, 805 (422-383).

Broken Bow finished fifth at 814 (418-396) and Gothenburg was sixth at 815 (425-390).

Kimball headed the second half of teams in seventh with an 829 (426-403) and Pender was eighth at 841 (419-422).

Syracuse placed behind Wakefield in 10th place with an 860 (440-420) and Superior was 11th with an 862 (445-417). Kearney Catholic rounded out the field of 12 teams with an 891 (453-438).

Johnson's 175 led the way for Iris Borg's team with Michelle Schwarten carding a 218 with rounds of 109-109.

Melanie Keim netted a 227 (117-110) with Erin Salmon finishing at 235 (119-116). Jessica Dutcher finished with a 242 (124-118).

"I was very pleased with Amber's performance and as well as the entire team," Borg said. "It was great to see Amber shoot well. She has worked hard, been dedicated and deserves the silver medal."

Wayne beats O'Neill, 17-10

John Murtaugh's Wayne football team improved to 4-2 on the season with a 17-10 victory at O'Neill Friday night.

Joel Munson scored on a six-yard run with under five minutes to go in the contest to break the 10-all tie.

Wayne tied the game at seven in the second quarter when Dustin Schmeits caught a seven-yard pass from Klinton Keller. Brad Hochstein booted the point after.

Hochstein was later called on for a 25-yard field goal attempt and the sophomore kicker delivered to give the Blue Devils a 10-7 halftime lead.

O'Neill answered in the third period with a 28-yard field goal to knot the game at 10.

"It was a big win for us," Murtaugh said. "The kids did a good job of coming through at critical times in the game."

Murtaugh said Dustin Schmeits played great on both sides of the ball. "I am pleased with the development of the defense," Murtaugh added. "Adam Jorgensen and Trevor Wright had excellent games." The Wayne mentor said his offense has a lot of weapons but would like to see more consistency in this week's homecoming game with Tekamah-Herman on Thursday night at 7:30 p.m.

Munson dashed for a game-high 174 yards on the ground on 22 attempts. Wayne garnered 242 rushing yards and Keller was 6-18 through the air with one interception and 87 yards.

Wayne finished with 329 total yards while holding the host team to just 220.

Gabe Hammer had 29 yards rushing and Trevor Wright, 25. Schmeits caught four passes for 75 yards with Shane Baack and Ethan Mann each catching one pass.

Wright paced the defense with 17 tackles and Craig Hefti netted 11 while Tyler Jorgensen and Klinton Keller had seven each.

Shane Baack, Adam Jorgensen, Jason Beiermann and Ryan Haase each had six tackles.

Schmeits had an interception and a fumble recovery while Craig Hefti recovered a fumble.

Wayne's final two games will be played on successive Thursday nights at home.

Amy Harder chips the ball on to the number two green at the Blue Devils state tournament in Grand Island.

Our young players are really stepping up. We haven't lost focus on what we're trying to get done this season and we still feel we can accomplish our conference goals."

Wayne spikers get two weeks off before next match Blue Devils down O'Neill

Leah Dunklau and Kallie Krugman team up to block an O'Neill spike attempt for an ace.

The Wayne Blue Devils volleyball team improved to 12-8 on the season with a victory over O'Neill at home last Thursday night, 7-15, 15-6, 15-13. The visiting Eagles came in to Wayne's gym with an impressive 8-1 record on the season.

Sara Ellis paced the offensive attack with 16 kill spikes with Liz Campbell and Lindsay Woehler tallied four kills each. Beth Loberg had three ace hits and Kallie Krugman, two.

Ellis was 9-10 in serving with two aces while Mandy Hansen was 16-16 with one ace and Leah Dunklau, 16-17 with one ace. Dunklau notched 28 set assists.

Ellis, Campbell and Krugman had three blocks each. "I am so extremely proud of our team," coach Joyce Hoskins said. "It was definitely a team victory. It was so nice to see the girls come back after losing the first game."

Hoskins said defense is what won the match for her Blue Devils. "Sometimes defensive efforts are overlooked but Brittney Frevert, Mandy Hansen, Kristin Wilson and Amanda Maryott really did a nice job," Hoskins said. "Kallie had a great game in blocking which was big against good hitters."

Wayne's JV team lost, 6-15, 7-15. Malissa Fredrickson had six points to lead Wayne. The freshman squad won, 15-9, 13-15, 15-7. Ashley Loberg had five ace serves and Erin Jarvi, two.

Kallie Krugman spikes the ball over an O'Neill defenders out-stretched hands during the third and decisive game.

Tyler Johnson, Renee Fuhr earn WSC award

Wayne State College volleyball player Renee Fuhr and men's basketball standout Tyler Johnson have been named the 1998-99 Cunningham Scholar-Athletes of the Year.

The Cunningham Award, named for longtime WSC booster Bob Cunningham, is given annually to the male and female student-athletes who excel both athletically and academically. Fuhr and Johnson were recognized at halftime of Saturday's Homecoming football game between Wayne State and the University of Minnesota-Crookston.

Fuhr, a native of Columbus, was a four-year letterwinner and three-year starter for the Wildcats. She ranks in the top five in four career categories. She is the school's career digs record holder with 1,683 and is fourth in career kills with 1,358. Last season she was third on the team in kills and second in digs.

As a junior in 1997, she led the team in kills and digs, and was named to three all-tournament teams. Nationally, Fuhr ranked sixth in the nation in digs per game (4.7) as she broke Wayne State's school record for digs in a single season (626).

Beside her honors on the court, Fuhr earned GTE Academic All-District honors. She capped her junior year by being named the 1997-98 WSC Female Athlete of the Year. She also was a WSC Presidential Scholar Athlete and a member of the Student Athlete Advisory Committee.

Johnson, a finance and mathematics major, graduated in May.

Johnson, a Hebron native, was named to the National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC)/Chevy Silverado Division II Men's Basketball All-America First Team, as well as the Division II Bulletin All-America Second Team. Johnson was a key figure for the Wildcats during the 1998-99 seasons.

He averaged 15.0 points and 6.3 assists per game as he directed Wayne State to a 23-5 record and the program's first appearance in the North Central Regional Championships. Johnson led the Wildcats in scoring in 11 of 28 games this season, including a season-high 31 points in a 82-75 win over Morningside. The four-year starting floor general also recorded three double-doubles, bringing his career total to 13.

In leading Wayne State to its first appearance in the NCAA Division II tournament, Johnson became the school's all-time second-leading scorer, in addition to his career assist record. Johnson went over the 1,600 point and 600-assist plateau. He finished his career with 1,625 career points and 610 career assists.

Off the court, Johnson was a WSC Presidential Scholar Athlete and a member of the Student Athlete Advisory Committee.

Johnson graduated in May with a degree in mathematics.

Last Friday the Wildcats competed at the Bloomfield Invite in the regular season finale. The girls finished fifth in the meet in which Means' said her team struggled.

Shannon Bowers and Jacobsen shared team honors in set assists with 13 each and Nathan along with Jaeger had five blocks each.

"We had a lot of ups and downs," coach Teri Moser said. "Wynot did a good job of wearing us down by picking everything we hit at them. We had 115 attack attempts and got 34 kills as a team which says a lot for their defense."

Moser said she felt her team got a little frustrated and let that affect the fundamentals like passing. "If you can't get the passes to your setter you can't run an effective offense," Moser added.

'Cats to host Concordia-St. Paul this week WSC edged by Dragons

By Missy Pavlish
For the Herald

Despite out-gaining Moorhead State by nearly 125 yards, Wayne State's bid to notch win number two came down to the final drive with the Wildcats trailing by six points at 31-25.

Quarterback Jaime Jones moved the 'Cats from their own 17-yard line down to the Moorhead State 27-yard line in just under three minutes.

Jones however, was picked off at the five-yard line of the Dragons with just 12 seconds remaining on a third down and nine play which preserved the win for Moorhead State.

The 1-5 Wildcats led 14-7 in the second quarter after Chaka Smith had caught a pair of touchdown passes from Jones from 10 & 34 yards.

Moorhead State took a 21-17 lead after three quarters of play as Brian Johnson's 30-yard field goal amounted to all of WSC's scoring in the third stanza.

WSC actually fell behind by a 31-17 margin before Jones darted in from four yards out with 4:48 remaining in regulation. Brandon Lavaley connected with Elroy Brown for a two-point conversion pass to draw WSC to with in six points.

For head coach Kevin Haslam the loss was disappointing considering they were so close.

"It's a frustrating way to lose a ballgame," Haslam said. "We had chances to win this game and let it slip through our grasp."

Haslam said despite the closeness of the game his squad didn't perform particularly well.

"We just seemed to be a step behind," Haslam added. "We've played better football. In the final eight minutes we sparked but we need to find a way to get that going a lot sooner in instead of in a panic situation where we have to score right now."

WSC did convert 13-of-24 third down attempts and Haslam credited the wide receivers for playing a solid game. "We just simply weren't sharp," Haslam said. "The crispness wasn't there."

Jones finished the contest with 348 yards passing on 26-of-51 attempts with two interceptions and two touchdowns.

Jones added two more records to his resume in the Moorhead State contest including the all-time total offense leader with 5,801 yards—breaking Ed Jochum's 5,676 mark and the pass attempts mark for a career at 977—breaking the mark of 949 of Jochum.

He is on pace to break the passing record of Jochum. He currently has 5,513 yards with Jochum's record at 5,916. Over the next five games Jones needs to average 81 yards per game passing to eclipse that mark.

"Jaime is having a solid season," Haslam said. "The records are a testament of his four years here."

Elroy Brown led WSC's ground attack again with 103 yards on 26 carries. Chaka Smith had nine receptions for 129 yards with Tavaris Johnson netting six receptions for 83 yards and Dan Pugsley, five catches for 58 yards.

"Elroy Brown continues to run hard and have a great season," Haslam said. "Our offensive line is really doing a solid job of opening holes for him."

Defensively, WSC was led by Mike Baker with 10 tackles while John Bohan and J. Calabretto had eight each followed by Alex Mohanna and Antonio Jackson with seven each.

The 'Cats will host Concordia-St. Paul on Saturday at 1:30 p.m. The Golden Bears are 2-3 on the season and 2-2 in conference play.

Editors note: Wayne State head football coach Kevin Haslam had an unusually long weekend as his 'Cats prepared to play Moorhead State. In fact, for the first time in 10 years he missed a practice as his wife Kathy went into labor early Friday morning.

Kathy gave birth to a boy at 3:01 a.m. on football Saturday and the future gridiron star weighed in at 7 lbs., 14 oz. and Gehrig Robert joins a three-year-old brother Payton at home.

Kevin went from the hospital to Minnesota where he coached some 10 hours later.

Harriers run at USD

Several Wayne State cross-country athletes lowered their personal best times by wide margins at the University of South Dakota Open last Friday.

Leading the charge for the men was sophomore Andy Tucknott, placing second overall in 26:27. That was over a 20-second personal best for the Lincoln Southeast graduate.

Matt Hoyt, a several-time All-American for South Dakota competing unattached, won in 25:15.

"Andy had a great race," said head coach Brian Kavanaugh. "He probably would have been 15 seconds or more faster, but he was directed the wrong way on the course."

Second for the Wildcats and sixth overall was sophomore James Bruhn, lowering his personal best by over a minute to 27:18. Sophomore Tom Whisinnand was not far behind, clocking 27:29 for eighth place. That was nearly a two-minute improvement on his personal best.

Freshman Dana Rider placed 11th with a personal best of 27:36, and freshman Dustin Lippman clocked 29:21 for 19th place. Rounding out the top seven were senior Brad Hrouda (30:02, 27th) and freshman Chris Meyer (31:23, 28th).

Junior Darr Nickerson broke 20 minutes for the second time, clocking 19:48 for 10th place. Senior Marsha Krienke was right behind, placing 11th in 20:00.

Freshman April Sachau lowered her personal best by nearly a minute to 21:15 for 17th. Junior Shannon Short and freshman Elly Harder followed in 21:26 and 21:32 for 20th and 21st, respectively.

Rounding out the top seven were sophomores Jamie Kluthe (22:10, 25th) and Tammy Burnham (23:51, 33rd). Jeana Luebber was 36th in 25:08 and Jennifer Olson, 37th in 25:39. No team scores were kept in either race.

The Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference championships are October 23, followed by the NCAA North Central Regional Qualifier November 6.

Shabram honored

Jeff Shabram of Wayne State College, a Division II College Football Scholar Athlete and WSC Offensive Tackle, has been honored by Burger King Corporation with a $10,000 donation to be given to WSC's General Scholarship Fund.

An award presentation will be held before the Wayne State College Vs. Concordia University game at 12:30 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 16 at Memorial Stadium, Bob Cunningham Field, Wayne State College. Burger King representatives Vicki Uhlir and Sherman Saltzman and WSC Coach Kevin Haslam will present the award to Shabram in the form of a check.

Burger King gave recognition to Shabram for his outstanding athletic and academic achievements and his commitment to mentoring the community's youth.

Accomplishments for Shabram include: Academic All-State at Orchard High School; WSC Presidential Scholar-Athlete; Member of the Kappa Mu Epsilon Math Honor Society, GTE Academic All-District Second Team, Honorable Mention All-Nebraska Division II, Student-Athletic Advisory Committee, Leader of Christian Bible Study Group, and Summer Youth Baseball Coach.

He is a Math-Natural Sciences Education Major and Coaching Minor with a GPA of 3.8.

The Burger King College Football Scholarship Program was established in 1995 to foster the pursuit of academic and athletic excellence, while encouraging social awareness and community involvement.

Now in its fifth year, it is the single largest corporate commitment of its kind to the sport of college football and the only one that recognizes athletes for academics, community service and athletics.

During the 1999 college football season, Burger King Corporation will donate $1 million to the general scholarship funds of college and universities nationwide and name 80 college football scholar athletes.

At the end of the 1999 season, the Burger King College Football Scholarship Program will have contributed $5.3 million in recognition of players' outstanding educational, athletic and community achievements.

Ross Gardner turns and twists his way into the endzone during the Bears 25-13 win over Bloomfield.

Bears sting Bees

The Laurel-Concord football team notched its most impressive victory of the season with a 25-13 decision over Bloomfield last Friday night in Laurel.

The 4-2 Bears scored all 25 points in the second quarter to take a 25-7 halftime lead.

Quarterback Nathan Beckman put the Bears on the board with a one-yard run and Adam Hartung's point after tied the game at seven.

Beckman scored again on a 12-yard scamper to make it a 13-7 game before Ross Gardner added a pair of touchdown runs of seven and one yards.

"I'm really proud of our kids," coach Tom Luxford said. "We played hard all four quarters. Our offensive line with Brad Hoelsing, Greg Kvols, Tyler Stingley, Kyle Thompson, Jon Erwin, Evan Smith, Matt Schroeder, Nick Manganaro and Adam Hartung really did a nice job up front."

Luxford said his running backs also did a solid job with Ross Gardner gaining 125 yards and Nathan Beckman, 91 yards.

"We did a good job of controlling the line of scrimmage," Luxford said. "Defensively, we played extremely hard. It was a complete team effort."

Laurel netted 24 first downs compared to nine for the Bees. Beckman was 6-11 in passing for 119 yards while the Bears ground attack chewed up 292 yards for 411 total yards.

Matt Schroeder and Tyler Kvols had two catches each while Gardner and Evan Smith each caught one pass.

Nick Manganaro had three interceptions to lead the defensive charge with Ross Gardner netting nine tackles. Greg Kvols had seven and Tyler Kvols, six while Evan Smith had five tackles and a fumble recovery.

The Bears will play at Creighton on Friday night.

Soccer team 8-3

The Wayne State women's soccer team went 1-1 during the past week to move the season mark to 8-3, (2-3 in the conference).

Justin Cole's team blanked South Dakota last Thursday, 4-0 before falling to Southwest State in Marshall, Minn., 1-0 on Saturday.

"It was another good day for our young program with the 4-0 win over USD," Cole said. "USD had beaten Northern State earlier in the season so we wanted to prove we were better than what we played in Aberdeen a couple weeks ago."

Cole said Anna Eberle was super in goal, recording her fifth shutout of the season.

"She's got a bright future if she'll continue to work hard and improve the way she has this season," Cole added.

Jackie Arnold led WSC with two goals with Sara Zimmer and Mary McDaniel each netting one goal. Abbey Kalblinger had two assists.

Wayne State's loss to Southwest State was a tough one according to the 'Cats mentor.

"We thought we could come in and steal this one but sometimes it just doesn't work out that way," Cole said. "I thought we came out a little flat and the breaks just didn't seem to go our way."

It was the second conference loss of the three that ended 1-0. "These are games we have to learn to win," Cole added. "We've got to regain our focus and take three of our final four conference matches."

The 'Cats will play at Moorhead State on Saturday and at Minnesota-Crookston on Sunday.

Sav-Mor Pharmacy

Treatment Approved for Steroid-Related Osteoporosis

Nearly 4.5 million Americans take steroids such as prednisone on a long-term basis for chronic conditions such as rheumatoid arthritis, asthma, and inflammatory bowel problems (e.g. Crohn's disease). A significant consequence of using steroids on a long-term basis is osteoporosis - loss of bone that can lead to crumbling and fractures.

Recently the U.S. Food and Drug Administration approved alendronate (Fosamax) for the treatment of osteoporosis that is a side-effect of use of steroid-type medicines. The approval of alendronate was based on studies involving individuals who took at least 7.5 mg of prednisone (or its equivalent) every day on a long-term basis. Persons who took alendronate with a steroid were found to have less bone loss. In addition the medicine caused bone tissue to be rebuilt at the spine and hip, and it prevented spine fractures.

Knedler show continues at Wayne State College

The work of Cory Knedler, a recent MFA graduate from the University of South Dakota (USD) will continue to be exhibited until Oct. 16 in the Nordstrand Gallery, Peterson Fine Arts Building. Knedler was the second visiting artist of the year on Sept. 27. He is a mixed media printmaker who has spent considerable time at the Institute Frans Masereel in Kasterlee, Belgium.

Knedler spent time with WSC students during a slide presentation and a printmaking demonstration in the Studio Arts Building.

"Knedler also met with art faculty and students as well as area art educators from surrounding communities on the evening of Oct. 4. The meeting was hosted by the student chapter of the National Art Education Association and served as a networking tool for communication and relations with art teachers in our service area," said Pearl Hansen, interim fine arts division head.

One of the WSC art students spending time talking with Knedler at his show was graphic design major Mike Kolker, a junior from LeMars, Iowa. Kolker said not only did he appreciate the value of Knedler's visit as a connection for later in his career, he also appreciated finding out that his creative process had many things in common with the way Knedler worked. "I loved his printmaking presentation because what he does is what I like to do when I do my work. It was really great to hear that as an artist, Knedler's process involves what happens, happens. He works with whatever comes to mind during the process. It's wonderful to have visiting artists like this. It keeps us up to date with what's going on with contemporary artists," Kolker said.

Another benefit of on-campus visits like Knedler's was pointed out by art instructor Marlene Mueller. She said she gives extra credit to students for attending shows, demonstrations or presentations like Knedler's.

"This is how they learn. An experience like this gives them another perspective," Mueller said.

Knedler's work also fits in well with an assignment that Mueller said she will be giving her students later in the semester which involves collage, text and superimposition of images.

Knedler explained his process of working in mixed media printmaking during his demonstration.

"Printmaking is the transfer of an image from some type of plate to paper.

Printmaking has developed into its own art form over the last few years. Many artists are integrating the computer into their work. Printmaking was invented to make life easier and that's why the computer was invented as well," Knedler said.

"One of the problems with printmaking is losing the immediacy of drawing because you must make your design and then print it," Knedler said.

Although Knedler said he doesn't have his own studio space, he said the University of South Dakota (USD) allows him to come in to make his prints.

Knedler is responsible for the gallery at USD.

Printmaker Cory Knedler demonstrates techniques to an audience of Wayne State College art students and instructor Marlene Mueller on Sept. 27 in the Studio Arts Building.

"I usually come in early mornings to do my own work," Knedler said. In addition to working at USD, Knedler teaches as an adjunct faculty member at Morningside College.

Knedler said his years as a college student provided an opportunity to gain more experience than the average student because he was selected as an undergraduate student to help other artists print their work on three days of each week.

Knedler said this gave him an opportunity to see a good variety of printing work.

"Printers are very social people. We are often sharing images. Printmakers are always coming up with ways to make their own images and reuse them," Knedler said.

Collaboration between artists was a suggestion that Knedler made to his WSC student audience.

He explained how he is involved in a portfolio piece exchange program. He said he is able to send 40 images to other artists and get 40 different images back.

Knedler said this gives him an opportunity to see what an artist in another state is doing.

"I have been collaborating on a few pieces with a painter who lives in the middle of South Dakota. It's just like writing a letter only with art by using your own symbols," Knedler said.

As an idea evolves, Knedler said he will send it to this friend he graduated from college with. He will paint on it and send it back.

He will also send me art pieces. I work on his stuff and he works on mine. Sometimes we may send it back and forth six times. Other times we may think it is fine the way it is," Knedler said.

Knedler said his appearance at

Wayne State College happened from this same type of spirit.

"Travelling here to talk to students is part of saying I care enough about you and your program to come here." Sharing ideas is what art is all about. I love doing workshops and just watching someone else do their work brings ideas.

We're branching off from traditional communication and making a network of friends," Knedler said.

Knedler earned his bachelor's degree of fine arts in printmaking with kindergarten through 12th grade teacher certification. He earned his master of fine arts degree in printmaking from USD.

The Nordstrand Gallery is open Monday through Friday, from 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. when classes are in session. For more information, please call the WSC fine arts division at (402) 375-7359.

Goldenrod Hills Head Start is granted its accreditation

The Goldenrod Hills Head Start program in Wayne was recently granted accreditation by the National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC). This recognition has been achieved by approximately seven percent of early childhood programs nationwide. This translates into 6,215 programs as of May 1999 serving 574,402 children.

The Wayne program is the first in the area to receive this accreditation.

NAEYC accreditation is a rigorous, voluntary process by which early childhood programs demonstrate that they meet national standards of excellence. Child care centers, preschools, kindergartens and before and after school programs are eligible to seek NAEYC accreditation. Approximately 12,000 programs are engaged in seeking accreditation.

Programs seeking accreditation undergo an intensive self-study, collecting information from parents, teachers, administrators and classroom observations. They receive an on-site visit, conducted by early childhood professionals especially trained by NAEYC, to validate their self-study results. All of this information is independently reviewed by a team of national experts who grant or defer accreditation. When awarded, accreditation is valid for three years.

At the present time, there are 17 students enrolled in the Wayne Head Start Program which serves children ages three through five.

Classes are held at District #51 located four miles west of Wayne.

For more information about the Head Start Program or to volunteer at the facility, call 375-2546.

Recognizing community helpers

Keep Northeast Nebraska Beautiful has a fun program to recognize those wonderful individuals in the community who do environmentally kind acts such as cleaning up a park or a roadway, making sure weeds and trash are cleared from round their business, or maybe helping an elderly neighbor with yard care.

Citizens may write in and tell Northeast Nebraska Beautiful who they "catch".

Please send the names, addresses and phone numbers of these people to: Keep Northeast Nebraska Beautiful, c/o Linda Kastning, SIMPCO, PO Box 447, Sioux City, Iowa 51102-0447.

Messengers of Hope Crusade will be held at Ramsey Theater

Messengers of Hope will be presenting a five-day inter-denominational crusade in Wayne Oct. 27-31.

The event will be held at the Ramsey Theater in the Peterson Fine Arts Building on the Wayne State College Campus, beginning at 7:30 p.m. each night.

Rev. Terry Baxter from Clearlake, Iowa will be leading the crusade each evening with different themes each night.

Wednesday, Oct. 27 will focus on "Who is God?," Thursday, Oct. 28 will be "Pastors Night," Friday, Oct. 29 will focus on "The Family," Saturday, Oct. 30 will be "Youth Night" and the topic for Sunday, Oct. 31 will be "Spiritual Warfare."

Rev. Baxter, a Moody Bible Institute graduate, has been in the ministry for over 19 years. He has been a part of International Messengers for approximately five years.

"He and his wife have eight children, ranging in age from one year to 17 years of age. The family travels together 60 percent of the time and spends nearly 40 weeks each year on the road.

"We generally do 30 church renewals each year. In addition, I do two or three international trips each year and one or two large events, such as the one planned for Wayne, each year," Rev. Baxter said.

"The crusade has been in the planning since February. The local executive committee has done an excellent job of planning," Rev. Baxter said.

Members of the executive council come from a number of towns including Wayne, Ponca and Newcastle.

In addition, the music for the event will be presented by Rod and Kari Carlson of Klemme, Iowa who travel with Rev. Baxter. Beth Lamm of Sioux City, Iowa will be in charge of the children's ministry during the crusade.

On Saturday, Oct. 30, Soul Support, a group of young men from Lincoln, will be providing a free concert.

The event is being sponsored by Cooperative Campus Ministries in association with Northeast Nebraska Christian Fellowship Organization.

There will be no offerings taken during the crusade.

"All the money needed to put on this event was raised during the executive committee planning stages," Rev. Baxter said.

The crusade is inter-denominational in nature and involves members of churches from throughout northeast Nebraska.

"Our focus is the local church. It is a form of renewal, calling God's people back to him," Rev. Baxter said.

Each evening's activities are designed to stand alone and attendees are welcome to attend any or all of the programs.

Nursery care will be provided.

For more information on the crusade, contact Ralph Etter at 375-1641 or Rev. Cal. Kroeker at 375-4946.

Open house planned

The Church of God the Father is having an open house on Sunday, Oct. 17 for its first meeting in Wayne.

The group will be meeting at 10 a.m. at 115 West First Street in the Family Rummage Store Building. The church is an independent, non-denominational church.

The emphasis is on Love and Faith and how to apply that love and faith in the "real" world as opposed to dogma and ritual. The church offers an atmosphere where people can grow spiritually without judgement.

The meeting will consist of a lecture and then an open forum for questions and answers.

Everyone is welcome.

What parents can do to help children prepare for tests

As we all know, teachers test students with daily quizzes, chapter tests and quarterly or semester super tests that measure what students have learned — or forgotten.

Schools and school districts use national tests to measure both achievement and aptitude of individual students. Entire grade levels are tested to measure academic results over time. In addition, states are increasingly using tests for their own statewide accountability and in some cases, as a standard that all students must meet before graduation from high school.

And, for the high school student considering college, the last three years of high school includes Saturday morning taking PSAT, ACT and SAT tests. That's a lot of testing! What's a child to do? More to the point, what's a parent to do?

First of all, it is helpful to know that the purpose of a test is to determine both how much the student has learned and how much still needs to be learned. What a test cannot show is how hard a student has tried.

The most important advice for you as a parent is to decide ahead of time that, whatever the outcome of a particular test, your child knows that you still love him or her. This may seem trite to say, but it won't be from your child's point of view. Every child wants to do well, but realistically, it won't happen 100 percent of the time.

It is also important that you learn about the different kinds of tests administered to students, what they measure and why they are used. Read the newsletters that come home with your student, especially ones from teachers. Our school district also sends you special brochures explaining standardized and state testing. And don't miss opportunities to talk with your child's teacher. Ask specific questions at conference time — or anytime you have a concern.

Supporting life

Nearly 300 people gathered along the streets of Wayne on Oct. 3 for the third annual Life Chain. The participants, representing 18 area churches, gathered along Seventh Street and Main Street and spent an hour praying for an end to abortion.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker

The couple was married Oct. 17, 1954 at the Presbyterian Church in Wayne.

Internet used as commerce media

OXYGEN 24 HR. SERVICE
HomeHealth
 MEDICAL EQUIPMENT, INC.
 2804 W. Norfolk Ave. - Norfolk, NE

The growth of business over the Internet has sky rocketed. Companies are using the Internet as a form of internal communication, external communication, and as Electronic Commerce.

Under internal communication, businesses communicate for team building, product collaboration, research and development, as well as day to day correspondence.

External communications are a tool to stay in touch with customers, suppliers, professional contacts, advisors, and others.

Electronic Commerce (eCommerce) is used to describe anything from customer order processing, to business to business relationship building, to securing international monetary funds transfer.

eCommerce is becoming the way of business communications. But there are lessons to learn using the Internet as a commerce media.

Lesson 1: Claim your domain name: Choose an Internet domain name that fits your business name. A great reference site is <http://www.networksolutions.com>. It is also important to protect all trademarks including model names and claim the common name. One example is <http://www.hockeystick.com>.

To register a tradé name, go to <http://www.networksolutions.com>. This organization handles national and international registration for .org, .com, .net web sites.

The registration form can be completed on-line and costs around $70. A manufacturer can check the status of a domain name by visiting <http://rs.internet.net> and doing a search on their domain name. Pay particular attention to the three main portions of the record: the name of the registrant, the administrative contact, and the billing contact.

Lesson 2: Treat the internet as an integrated component of your comprehensive marketing mix. Look at the World Wide Web and Electronic Mail as media equivalent to printed and broadcast media.

Lesson 3: Walk before you run. Begin with email, move to one-way secured Web interface and eventually embrace transaction processing. All eCommerce/eBusiness models have unique challenges whether connecting your business to consumer, distribution channels, or your supply chain.

Lesson 4: Define your target online customers. Ask questions such as "Do your shoppers want to buy products online?" What products can be sold online?"

Lesson 5: Make your store information rich! User friendly sites offer contact information, frequently asked questions, company history, and other information to support the use of their products.

Lesson 6: Be patient with your expectations. Potential customers usually visit on numerous occasions before they place their initial order. Once you have a satisfied customer, you have a repeat customer.

Lesson 7: Collect and analyze world. Links lead shoppers away from your site so be careful in providing any links. If you must, seek a reciprocal link from those that are listed.

Lesson 11: eCommerce requires security. Security includes a firewall technology, internal and external intrusion detection server software, secure socket layer (SSL), and secure electronic transaction (SET). The business called CISCO systems can provide information concerning eCommerce security. Their web address is <http://www.CISCO.com>

Lesson 12: Remember these rules for eCommerce competitiveness. Find your niche. Know your customer. Offer unbeatable service. Build a well-organized and entertaining site and give away information.

The source for this column is the University of Minnesota at Crookston Northern Great Plains Initiative for Rural Development. A good site to find information for small and medium businesses about educational opportunities for eCommerce and links to other information sites is www.mfg.net.org. This site is based in Minnesota, but will be going national.

I would like to organize an eCommerce seminar this winter in the area. If you would like to attend or even provide input as to what you would like in the program, please telephone me at 584-2234 or e-mail kwermers@unl.edu at the Dixon County Extension Office in Concord.

information from your site visitors. Identify the pages and products that are generating the greatest amount of interest. Redesign your site to take advantage of the marketing information collected by your site and get an email address. It makes one to one correspondence possible.

Lesson 8: Decide how you will host your eCommerce initiative. An Internet service provider can be yourself or a commercial service provider. Decide what option works for you.

Lesson 9: don't save money on graphics. First impressions can be lasting ones. Your blend of color and supporting images need to lead to a pleasant experience or, if not well done, it will lead to a "short" shopping experience. Plus, compress the images to increase speed of transmission.

Lesson 10: Don't link to the

HOMECOMING ROYALTY

Allen celebrated its Homecoming last Friday. The 1999-2000 Homecoming King and Queen were announced at the ceremony. The King was Joe Sullivan, son of Bob and Julie Sullivan. The queen was Stacey Martinson, daughter of Barry and Linda Martinson.

Attendants to the King were Austen Stewart and Andrew Purnell. Attendants to the Queen were Shannon Koester and Michelle Williams.

The Homecoming Ceremony consisted of speeches by Coach Hingst and Coach Welmhoff. Each class then had their own skit. After the ceremony was the pep rally which consisted of class skits and cheers: "The Freshman class skit was deemed "We Luv the Eagles!"

The sophomores did their own rendition of "Jack and the Bean Stalk" helping the Eagles climb the ladder of success. The Freshmen were asked to sing the school song. The Junior Class paid tribute to the Senior Athletes by the game "Do you know this Senior" where they had to dress up and act like a Senior Athlete.

The Senior Class "mad-libbed" the Freshman Class. They also asked the Freshmen to sing the school song, the fifth and sixth grade girls and the Sophomore girls entertained with their own version of a song by the Spice Girls "If You Want to be an Eagle."

The band started the pep rally with a song and ended it with the school song. All half-time of the football game versus Macy, the elementary football team entertained the crowd. The High School Band also put on their half time entertainment.

Keeping some humor in busy life

This morning's guests requested breakfast at 7 a.m. and were on their way by 7:30, so I've had an early start on the day. Have lots of bedding to do, as there were nine guests on Wednesday. We slept on the hideabed that night.

The washing isn't all done because I made a quick trip to Norfolk on Thursday evening. I drove in rain about half the way. My talk on Humor was scheduled for 8 a.m. on Friday. (Whoever did that has a sense of humor). But then I had the rest of the day to see old friends.

Friend Peg is still recovering from the effects of the encephalitis relative to memory. It must be an awful feeling to lose years of your life. With time and effort, and therapy, she is retrieving them. Thank God for a sense of humor.

The talk was for the Nebraska Nurses Association convention at the Life Long Learning Center on the Northeast Community College campus. What a wonderful facility! I even got to hear a bit of Sen. Kerrey's speech at the noon luncheon. He said he quickly noticed when hospitalized, that when he put on his light, it was not a doctor who answered it, but a nurse. Of course, the audience loved that.

By: Pat Melchior

One of the guests on Thursday morning told me a cute story about a farmer that I want to share.

It seems the guy was harvesting with an old John Deere combine that was continually breaking down and giving him trouble. When it stopped for the umpteenth time, he jumped down, kicked the dirt, and kicked up an old bottle.

Of course, when he uncorked the bottle, out popped a genie, who said he was in a position to grant three wishes, two that day and one in a year.

Liska Angus Farms are recognized in report

Liska Angus Farms of Wayne owns one bull listed in the 1999 Fall Sire Evaluation Report published by the American Angus Association headquartered in St. Joseph, Mo.

Issued in both the spring and fall, the new report features the latest performance information available on more than 5,784 sires.

"The American Angus Association has the most complete and comprehensive beef cattle database in the world," said John Crouch, American Angus Association director of performance programs. "Of the sires listed in the main report, 58 percent have expected progeny differences (EPDs) for carcass traits, which should assist cattlemen in choosing genetics that will produce a more consistent, higher quality beef product.

EPDs are generated from performance data submitted by breeders through the Angus Herd Improvement Records (AHIR) program.

Traits in which EPDs are available include birth weight and height, and scrotal circumference, as well as carcass weight, marbling, rib eye area, external fat thickness and percent retail product. The analysis for the sire evaluation report is conducted at Iowa State University, by Dr. Doyle E. Wilson and Dr. Abebe Hassen.

Bt grazing is safe

The advice is the same now as it was 18 months ago: grazing Bt cornstalks should be safe for cattle, University of Nebraska experts say.

"The research data to date suggests there's virtually no detrimental effects of grazing Bt corn," said Terry Mader, beef specialist at the Haskell Agricultural Laboratory in Concord.

The question about the safety of grazing Bt corn arose in early 1998 when some producers suspected their cows preferred grazing non-Bt corn stalks, when given a choice between Bt and non-Bt. Then, as now, Mader and NU feedlot specialist Todd Milton and forage specialist Bruce Anderson say that's possibly because Bt fields have less grain to graze; cows naturally would graze where there's more grain available. This would be especially true if the cows have had previous exposure to corn stalks. Cows typically look for the corn grain to consume first and then the leaf, husk and other forage.

Bt (Bacillus thuringiensis) corn is genetically engineered to manage European corn borers, a major Midwestern corn pest that bores into stalks and causes ear droppage. It yields up to five percent more grain per acre, and as a result, less corn grain remains in the field after harvest for cattle to graze. Although Bt contains a protein toxic to corn borers, there is nothing to suggest it harms grazing cattle, Mader said. The protein most likely is broken down in the cow's rumen stomach.

"From what we know about ruminants, there's a small probability it's a concern," Milton said.

The Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources specialists say some cow owners may believe their stock perceive a palatability or digestibility difference in their Bt / non-Bt preferences, but there is no research so far to support these claims. More study is needed on the subject, Anderson said.

This is the third year Bt corn was planted in Nebraska, although figures are unavailable to how many of Nebraska's eight million corn acres were planted with Bt seed. An estimated one-fourth to one-third of all stalks are grazed after harvest, which can lower winter feed cost by one-third or more, Anderson said.
