Renovation continues

Work is continuing at Wayne Middle School. On Tuesday, demolition crews from DemCon of Omaha removed a section of the building to make room for new construction. On-going demolition continues inside the building to remove non-load bearing walls and plaster. Removal of basketball court and several sidewalks and tree stumps has also taken place in recent days.

Construction begins on outpatient wing

Construction is underway on a new outpatient wing at Providence Medical Center in Wayne.

According to PMC Administrator Marcile Thomas, the new addition will include a procedure room, step-down recovery and three more outpatient rooms, oncology and cardiac rehab.

Mammography and ultrasound are to be relocated in an expanded radiology area.

The new ambulance garage will accommodate the latest ambulance size requirements and will house the mobile MRI truck.

The new and remodeled area will be approximately 9,000 square feet and is expected to be completed by late summer of 2000.

The new parking lot extension on the south side of the hospital is completed and provides approximately 27 additional spaces for patient and visitor parking.

According to Mrs. Thomas, hospital statistics indicate that approximately 12,000 outpatients will visit Providence Medical Center's 14 specialty clinics and emergency room this year. Since 1988, outpatient admissions at the hospital have increased from 3,508 to the current projections.

"I'm quite proud of the fact that Providence Medical Center not only provides quality healthcare services, but we also stand as an example to all other small rural hospitals in the entire state," Mrs. Thomas said.

"We have accomplished a great deal at PMC over the years and we continue to be most grateful for the support we receive from those individuals who share our vision," she added.

"The hospital Governing Board and the Benedictine Sisters are committed to providing quality care to all the residents of northeast Nebraska, as well as offering the best facilities possible to our physicians and nurses," said Sister Kevin Hermesen, Chairman of the hospital Governing Board.

Vice President

Search committees appointed

Dr. Sheila Stearns, Wayne State College president, has established two committees to conduct national searches for vice presidents for the College.

The committee to fill the vacant vice president for academic affairs position will be chaired by Dr. Ed Battistella, division head of humanities at WSC.

Other members of the committee include Donovan Conley, co-chair, HPLS; Paul Campbell, math/sciences; Bill Filter, business; Chris Bonds, fine arts; Paul Karr, math/sciences; Judy Lindberg, applied science; Bob Sweetland, education; Dorothy Weber, counseling center; Karla Hix, enrollment management; and Joyce Trevett, humanities. Pat Gross, who serves on the Wayne State Foundation executive committee, will serve as a community representative to the committee.

The second committee will seek applicants for the position of vice president for administration and finance. Dr. Paul Theobald, dean of education, will chair this group; Tony McEvoy, applied science, will co-chair. Also on the panel are Tammy Worner, math/science; Jerry Conway, business; Janet Roney, humanities; Chuck Parker, social science; Mike Wynn, HPLS; Ray Replogle, fine arts; John Dunning, network services; and Ann McGowan, operations and maintenance.

Both committees are currently working to fill the positions through a nationwide search process. They hope to extend an offer for both positions by the end of the academic year.

Ted Nugent to speak at WSC

Rock and Roll recording artist Ted Nugent who recorded 29 albums between 1967 and 1999, will appear on the Wayne State College campus at 12 noon, Tuesday, Oct. 26.

Nugent will speak to WSC students and the public on "Spirit of the Wild: A Conservation Seminar." Nugent began hunting in 1953 and playing guitar in 1956. To date, his 29 recordings have sold more than 30 million copies and he was one of the top grossing tour acts in the world in 1977, 1978 and 1979. Renowned as one of the world's leading guitar showmen, he is equally well known as a lifelong outdoorsman.

Dr. Kevin Alexander, assistant professor of biology at WSC arranged for Nugent's appearance at the college in conjunction with the Math-Sciences Division and the biology club.

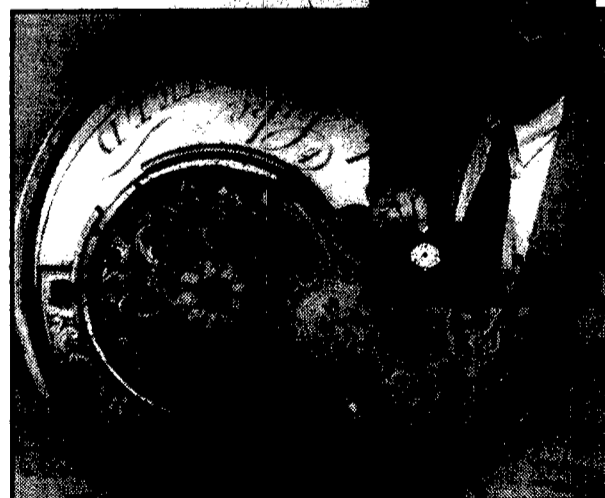

"What we've been trying to do is get conversation going about conservation issues here in northeast Nebraska," Alexander said. "We are very fortunate to get Ted Nugent here, especially this quickly." Alexander said Nugent's schedule has him in the area during the week of the 26th and he was eager to speak at Wayne State College.

"I think Mr. Nugent's remarks will bring many of the issues we are dealing with in our waterways and prairie lands to the forefront. This will ultimately help make people more aware of our environment and ways to protect it," Alexander noted.

For his efforts in conservation, Nugent recently received the 1999 Michigan Conservationist of the Year award and the 1999 National Arbor Day Celebration Award, as well as

The movement of the watch was made by Rob Lake more than 200 years ago.

Watch donated

The Stuhr Museum in Grand Island is about to receive a rather unusual acquisition, an early pocket watch.

The rare watch was acquired by Randall Pedersen of the Diamond Center in Wayne.

Pedersen is donating the watch in conjunction with the Board of Directors from The Nebraska South Dakota Jewelers Association. This is the same organization that has maintained this exhibit for over three decades. Pedersen is the immediate past president of the organization.

The movement in the watch was made by Rob Lake, who was a watch maker from 1770-1808 in Enfield, London, England. It was called a fusee which means it is a trumpet shaped pulley with a chain to provide an ever power drive.

The case is made of silver and can be dated to 1787-1788 by its hallmarks and date letter. This is the same time period the American Constitution was put into operation.

The case is believed to have been made by John Robertson.

This watch fits well with the Stuhr Museum because an heirloom watch is what the early settlers would have brought with them. A pocket watch was functional and small enough to carry as well as having intrinsic

During Senior Preview

WSC shows families options

A peek into the future would be helpful to anyone, however it becomes essential when making a decision about where to attend college.

High school seniors, who are looking forward to entering college, experienced Wayne State College during its first Senior Preview Day of the academic year on Oct. 15.

Senior Preview Day is a special campus visit program for high school seniors and their families. Additional Senior Preview Days will be Friday, Oct. 29 and Friday, Nov. 5. Preview Day activities start at 9 a.m. and finish with a tour at 1 p.m. "You need to look at what you are paying for educationally. There is more to college than books and classes," said Brian Taylor, director of admissions to an audience of students and their families.

One family, the Sederburgs of Omaha, said they made use of Preview Day to find out about a course of study.

"Our daughter is interested in graphic arts. We are here today to have a chance to explore how she should go about this goal," said Jim Sederburg.

Jim, Joyce and Jennifer Sederburg spoke with several divisions to find out more about what would be involved with this program of study and looked into possible independent study options.

Preview Day brought all the WSC divisions together in one room for the family to talk with a variety of instructors.

Another Omaha family, Mary and Rachel Thompson, said they also attended Preview Day to explore and see what options were available.

"We are getting different views and learning how to ask questions," Rachel Thompson said.

Expecting to enter early childhood education or elementary education, Rachel Thompson tried several different occupations before making a decision on attending college. She worked in banking and landscaping.

"She was trying to zero in on what she wants to do by working in different fields," said Mary Thompson, Rachel's mother. "She's been out of school for a couple of years. We came today (to Preview Day) to get a feel for the College and get more information on WSC. We heard that WSC had a good program for teachers. We have had a good impression. Everyone has been very friendly. The College is a good size. We were concerned about Rachel not having huge classes. Wayne State is more reasonably priced than some of the colleges that we have looked at."

Taking a look at WSC for Jeremiah Gillett, a Fremont senior, was something he said he was prompted to do because he knows other students already attending WSC.

"I like the campus. I'm looking to get away from home, yet still be able to travel back on a weekend. I'm interested in coaching and teaching," Gillett said.

Gillett said he was planning to spend some of his time talking to the WSC baseball coach during Senior Preview Day.

"I like the College a lot. I'm leaning toward coming to this college a little more now after attending this Preview Day," Gillett said.

One father said his family decided to attend WSC Senior Preview Day because of his impression of the campus.

"I was here 15 years ago and taught a course on campus. I was impressed with the campus then and now with all the recent campus improvements," said Jim Gleim of Burwell.

Gleim said he, his wife Jana and his daughter Jacey travelled to look at Wayne State because he feels being on a smaller campus will be good for Jacey.

Whether taking a look at campus, meeting instructors and current students or discussing financial aid, the process of looking at Wayne State College that parents and students are involved with is very important. This fact was pointed out during a WSC Senior Preview Day session with families given by Curt Frye, vice president and dean of students at WSC.

"Completing college is important in order to do that, you need to find out where you feel comfortable to complete a degree. Prospective employers are looking for employees who can get along with others. When you decide on a college, you need to take a close look at out-of-class activities. They are very important. Students need to learn in an environment where they can work on leadership skills and positions in a comfortable setting where they can become involved with others," Frye said.

"I never believed I had a chance to be without glasses."

"My vision got to where I couldn't see anything without my glasses. Now, after cataract surgery, Dr. Feidler tells me I won't need to wear glasses anymore to see in the distance. I wore glasses since I was three years old.

I've told, I don't know how many people, if they ever have to have cataract surgery, just do it. The results are amazing. And Feidler Eye Clinic is the place to have it done. Dr. Feidler is good. If you have questions he will explain things to you.

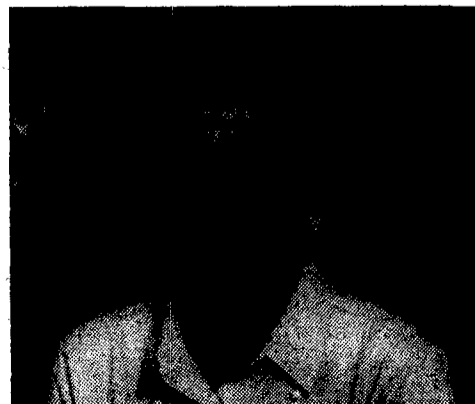

I never believed I had a chance to be without glasses. Now it is possible.

I think Dr. Feidler is an excellent eye doctor."

Teen Read Week to be at Wayne High School

"When was the last time you actually heard a teenager ask to read a book for fun?"

That's a question the Wayne High School Library/ Media Center (LMC) hopes will be answered during Teen Read Week, Oct. 17 and throughout the year.

Teen Read Week is designed to turn teens on to reading. The message is "Reading Rocks — Read for the Fun of it!" The LMC will join hundreds of other libraries, the American Library Association and the Young Adult Services Association in the celebration.

"Teens sometimes get so busy they forget that there's more to reading than just school books," said Sue Buryanek, library media specialist. "Teen Read Week aims to remind teens that reading is fun, it's free and can be done anywhere, anytime. We also hope it encourages parents and teachers to promote teen reading."

In addition to showcasing new books, student book reports and artwork are being displayed at the library.

Students are encouraged to participate in the American Library

Association's reading survey posted on the internet, to vote for their favorite book with the winner being announced Friday.

The school will also "drop everything and read for fun" during Activity period on Wednesday. Free bookmarks will also be given to everyone checking out book this week.

Among the ways teens can "read for the fun of it" include:

- Keep a book going all the time by carrying it in a backpack or read on the bus ride to school;
- Spend a few minutes reading each night before going to bed;

• If you liked the movie, read the book;

• Read to a younger brother or sister, or neighbor;

• Don't finish a book if it does not interest you. Pick up something else.

• Read while you're waiting for the computer to boot-up.

• Visit the library and ask a librarian to recommend great books for teens. Free booklists of good reads for teens are available at Wayne High School Library Media Center and online from the Young Adult Library Services Association at www.ala.org/yalsa

Join Adopt-a-Minefield campaign

Dear Editor:

There is a global tragedy that we can all help eliminate. Does this sound good? You bet! We can join the Adopt-A-Minefield campaign of the United Nations Association (UNA-USA).

The Lincoln Chapter of the UNA-USA has accepted the challenge of raising $31,850 to clear half of a 60 acre minefield in Velika Kladusa, in northwest Bosnia. The clearing will be done by men with dogs, a slow, dangerous process. When this minefield is cleared, some of the children of Velika Kladusa can once again safely play near their homes, people can plant vegetable gardens and can begin the reconstruction of houses destroyed by the civil war.

According to the U.S. State Department, there are an estimated 60-85 million landmines in more than 70 countries. Casualties number from 18,000 to 26,000 a year, one third of them are children. In Bosnia so many mines are buried that almost all the country is contaminated. Landmines cost as little as $3 to make, but clearing a minefield costs from $10,000 to $1 million. Landmines will last forever so they must be destroyed, one mine at a time.

The Adopt-A-Minefield campaign borrows from and combines the Adopt-A-Highway and Sister Cities programs and applied them to solve the landmine crisis. Its several partners include the United Nations Association of the USA, the U.S. State Department Demining 2010 Initiative, and the Humpty Dumpty (putting the pieces back together) Institute of the Better World Fund Foundation.

Your tax-deductible contributions to help clear this minefield in Velika Kladusa will be acknowledged in writing. Please make your check payable to Adopt-A-Minefield and send it either to Dr. Robert Raymond, UNA-USA Chapter Treasurer, 1940 South 53rd, Lincoln, 68506 or to me at 1605 Claycomb Road, Wayne, NE 68787. For more information, please call me at 375-5714 or Anita Fussell, Lincoln UNA-USA campaign coordinator, at 402-486-2330. You may also check it out on the Web page (www.landmines.org).

NIGERIAN SCAM LETTERS CIRCULATING IN NEBRASKA

An official looking letter from a foreign country with the offer to enter into a confidential "business arrangement" is supposedly going to put over four million dollars into your bank account.

Don't be too quick to respond with the name and address of your bank and your personal bank account number, as the letter requests.

You have just been solicited by the Nigerian Advance Fee Fraud scam, and you are a potential victim, not a potential millionaire.

Nigerian Scam letters have been circulating in the United States since the mid-1980's, according to the United States Department of State. The letter is a plea to help to get excess funds from over-invoiced contracts from a Nigerian company out of the country.

This is the way the scam works. Once the potential victim responds to the initial letter with personal information, he or she is told that there are fees involved in getting the money transferred out of Nigeria. The victim is then asked to pay various "transaction fees" before the money can be released. The victim can be strung along for months or years paying various fees and taxes before realizing that the promised money does not exist.

Hundreds of Nebraska citizens and businesses have reported to our office that they have received the Nigerian Scam letter. If you are the recipient of one of these letters, here are our suggestions:

- Do not respond with your personal banking information, letterhead stationary, blank statements or money

- Send the letter to the office of the Nebraska Attorney General, Consumer Protection Division so that we may further inform Federal authorities of this fraudulent activity

Remember, if an offer sounds too good to be true, it probably is. Never provide bank account or other personal information without first checking out the business requesting the data. And always be cautious about submitting advance fees for any business or sweepstakes offer.

For more information about this or any other consumer issue contact: Office of Attorney General Don Stenberg, Consumer Protection Division, 2115 State Capitol, Lincoln, NE, 68509, (402) 471-2682, Consumer Protection Line - 1-800-727-6432.

Capitol News —

Education in news, again!

By Ed Howard

Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Former Sen. Howard Lamb hailed from Anselmo and was quietly proud of the fact that some city folks would tell him: "Howard, your policy positions are 'too regional, but if I lived in your district, I'd vote for you - twice!'"

Lamb fought until his last day in the Legislature to keep Nebraska's Class I school districts safe - and the landowners who used them safe from the property tax burdens associated with a high school.

Howard was also a leader in fighting school consolidation. He took me for a ride around Custer County once. I agreed, going along what they call roads, that riding an extra 20 miles to school in Omaha is just 20 miles. In Custer County, it can be 20 mii-yiii-iiii-yiiii-yiles!

A Class I school district, for the record, provides only elementary education. Some of them are among the best teaching facilities I've seen.

For years, they also represented a tax haven for some landowners. Those who didn't live within a district that included a high school simply didn't pay property taxes to support it. When their kids went to high school, they just paid tuition until the kids finished. Since I benefited (one year) from that kind of deal, I can tell you it wasn't an easy one to give up.

Eventually, the ever-increasing number of voters in cities and towns turned the balance of legislative power. And, all sorts of people were complaining about property taxes, and they were talking about homes, not farms and ranches.

The inevitable occurred. The Legislature enacted a law saying that all property owners must pony up their share to help fund a high school district.

For one thing, it spreads the tax burden around.

There was what many thought was a hitch in the law, however.

See, if you live outside the school district you're supporting with your taxes, then you can't vote on things like school bond issues and local board of education elections. Let me acknowledge before going further that I am one of those in the aforementioned situation - and it gripes my guts.

Anyway, the Nebraska Supreme Court said the deal was OK. What can I tell you? It was the same Supreme Court that came up with that doo-whacka-doo decision on second-degree murder that gave a bunch of Yahoos a shot at new trials. In fairness, let me note there were some sound and interesting dissents.

Now, the case is in U.S. District Court.

Any long-time observer has to be of two minds at this point. On the one hand, it might be good if everyone who pays taxes to a school district gets a bit of representation via the vote - direct representation.

On the other hand, one can only imagine what sort of imbroglia would result in the Legislature, or how long it might last, or what the end result would be for education.

The Library Card

This column is written occasionally to inform the Wayne area as to what types of reading material and other items are available at the Wayne Public Library.

READING ROCKS! That's the theme of this year's National Teen Read Week, Oct. 17-23. We invite all teens to stop by the library and pick up a good book to celebrate their special week.

Looking for something new to read? The American Library Association suggests the following as 1999's top 10 best books for young adults (asterisks indicates the Wayne Public Library owns): "Rules of the Road" by Joan Bauer; "Corpses, Coffins and Crypts," by Penny Coleman; "Love Among the Walnuts," by Jean Ferris; "Among the Hidden," by Margaret Haddix; "My Louisiana Sky," by Kimberly Willis Holt; "No Pretty Pictures: A Child of War," by Anita Lobel; "Petey," by Ben Mikaelson; "Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone," by J.K. Rowling; "Holes," by Louis Sachar and "If You Come Softly" by Jacqueline Woodson.

The "Grandmapa Storytime" program kicked off its new season this month and will continue until next May. We would like to extend sincere gratitude to those special grandmas and grandpas who have volunteered to read and do crafts with the children of area daycare providers this year. Thank you Gloria Leseberg, Carolyn McEvoy, LaVon Biermann, Bonnie Sandahl, Jeanne Griess, Bev Ruwe and substitutes Gertrude Vahkamp, Shirley Hamer, Marilyn Rethwisch and Rodella Wacker.

The City Slickers / Country Mixers (ages 9-17) branch of the 4-H Club is exhibiting its wares in the library's display case this month. Area 4-H'ers in this age bracket learn about child care, clothing and textiles, citizenship, pets, safety, cooking, photography, woodworking, horticulture and much more.

Drop by and check out this informative display and discover why 4-H is such "A Winning Experience." If you're interested in joining 4-H or have questions about this important club, contact local leaders Valerie Palu or Mary Jarvi or the Wayne County Extension office at (402) 375-3310. An on-line site is also available at www.ianr.unl.edu/wayne.

The phenomenal success of J.K. Rowling's Harry Potter series is storming the country and is a hit with both children and adults alike. The library has all three books in the series: "Harry Potter and the Chamber of Secrets," "Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone" and "Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Azkaban." The library also has "Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone" as an unabridged book-on-tape.

Juvenile books-on-tape are a wonderful way to introduce children to their favorite characters as animated voices, especially on long car rides to grandma's house for the holidays. Consider the following books-on-tape the next time you get on the road or just want to experience books in a new medium: "James and the Giant Peach," "The Door in the Wall," "King of the Wind," "The Willows in the Winter," "Sarah, Plain and Tall," "How to Eat Fried Worms," "Where the Wild Things Are," "The Sign of the Beaver," "Sherlock Holmes for Children" and "Greek Myths."

The library also houses a considerable collection of juvenile periodicals. Children enjoy magazines as much as adults and the library provides a wide variety of topics to sate children's curiosity, from arts and crafts and nature to education, travel and sports. Titles include: Guide Posts for Kids, Highlights for Children, Hopscotch for Girls, Kid City, National Geographic World, Pack-o-Fun, Sesame Street, Sports Illustrated for Kids and Trail Tails.

The library's winter hours are as follows: Monday through Friday, 12:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.; Saturday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Sunday, 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. Our phone number is 375-3135 and fax number is (402) 375-5772. (Fax charges $1 per page)

JOHANNNS TO HOST AG ISSUES CONFERENCE

By Governor Mike Johanns

Dear Nebraska Neighbors:

I'm extending an invitation for you to attend the Governor's Conference on Agriculture Issues on November 1st in Kearney. The conference is intended for agriculture producers, farm leaders, community leaders, and policymakers. However, the future prosperity of agriculture is vitally important to all of Nebraska and therefore I am extending an invitation to all Nebraskans.

This conference is intended to bring focus to several key issues impacting Nebraska agriculture and our rural economies and the timing couldn't be better: Fall harvest will be coming to a close; the Congress has just completed work on its agriculture appropriations bill for the current fiscal year; and the 2000 legislative session is only about two months from its start.

The topics for this conference came from discussions I had across rural Nebraska this summer and early fall in Mead, Wausa, Bridgeport, Valentine, Beemer, Axtell, and Champion. Five of these events were organized by the Nebraska Department of Agriculture, farm groups, and local leaders. These informal meetings included representatives from a broad spectrum of the rural and agriculture economy and provided an opportunity to share thoughts and concerns. The meeting in Wausa, organized by local business leaders, and the Mead meeting, organized by U.S. Rep. Doug Bereuter, State Senator Curt Broom, and myself were also excellent opportunities to hear from Nebraskans about the state of agriculture and rural Nebraska. Throughout the course of these discussions several themes emerged.

The conference on November 1st is an opportunity to bring focus to those themes. Here are those themes:

Value-Added Agriculture. One topic on the minds of many agriculture and rural interests is our value-added initiative. I recently announced my directive to the Nebraska Departments of Agriculture and Economic Development to establish a coordinated value-added initiative for Nebraska's raw agriculture commodities. Many states surrounding us already have very aggressive value-added programs. At this conference we will review other state's programs as part of our effort to craft our own initiative.

Environmental Regulation. We will consider the impact of costly environmental regulation on agriculture in Nebraska and other states.

Property Taxes. According to a University of Nebraska study, Nebraska's property tax burden per taxpayer is among the highest if not the highest of the states in our region of the country. The $100 million is property tax relief we moved through the Legislature last session was a good start, but I want to do more and we need to do more when it comes to providing property tax relief. We have invited a representative from Michigan who will discuss that state's overhaul of its property tax system and a representative from Illinois who will discuss their method of valuing agland based on income potential compared to our system of market-based valuation.

Other issues on the agenda include trade policy, concentration or anti-trust, water issues, and future federal farm policy. At the conclusion of the program, we plan to place all of the day's presenters on a panel and invite conference participants to ask questions.

I really believe this will be great opportunity to focus on very important issues facing agriculture and Nebraska. For more information, or to register for the conference, contact the Nebraska Department of Agriculture at 1-800-422-6692. Most of the costs associated with the conference are being underwritten by the Farm Credit Services Agency, allowing us to offer a low registration fee of $15 per person. I hope to see you in Kearney on November 1st because together we can make a difference for all of our Nebraska United.

Herbs for Health

Ginkgo Extracts Benefit Circulation

Ginkgo biloba is considered the oldest living tree species in the world. The tree originally was found in western China but now grows in many moderate climates throughout the world. Medicinal agents have been extracted from the leaves of this attractive tree for thousands of years. Study of the medicinal properties of Ginkgo is one of the most studied herbs in the world, the subject of approximately 300 published studies.

In France and Germany, Ginkgo is distributed as a prescription or licensed medicine. In Germany alone more than 5 million prescriptions were written for Ginkgo in 1988. However, in the US Ginkgo is sold as a dietary supplement.

Two groups of active ingredients in Ginkgo are the flavonoids and the terpenoids. The flavonoids and the terpenoids are antioxidants that help prevent blood platelets from sticking together - and activity similar to that of aspirin. Both compounds are thought to give Ginkgo the ability to increase blood flow to the brain and other body parts - especially in the elderly.

Wayne blanks Tekamah, 27-0

Wayne's defense posted their second shutout of the football season last Thursday night with a 27-0 blanking of Tekamah-Herman.

The Blue Devils improved to 5-2 on the season and will host Pierce in the regular season finale on Thursday night.

Wayne, very much in the playoff picture is guaranteed its first winning season in half a decade.

John Murtaugh's crew stumbled early against the visiting Tigers, turning the ball over twice in the first quarter.

Things began to roll in the second stanza however, as Joel Munson scored on a two-yard run and Dustin Schmelts scored on a four-yard pass from Klinton Keller just before the half for a 13-0 advantage.

In the fourth quarter Munson scored on an 11-yard run with Ethan Mann catching the two-point pass from Keller for a 21-0 lead.

Trevor Wright got into the scoring act midway through the final period on a one-yard plunge.

"I am proud of our players," Murtaugh said. "Winning the Homecoming game was important to them and they came through."

The Wayne mentor was really pleased with the play of the defense and special teams.

"Offensively, we played well when we had too. We need to eliminate breakdowns in order to reach our potential."

Joel Munson rushed for 139 yards to lead the ground gainers with Trevor Wright rushing for 53 yards.

Keller was 6-12 for 125 yards and one interception along with the one touchdown pass to Schmelts.

Speaking of Schmelts, he was the top receiver with four catches for 83 yards while Joel Munson and Ethan Mann had one reception each.

Wayne rolled up 336 total yards while holding Tekamah-Herman to just 109 total yards with 88 yards on the ground and 21 through the air.

In fact, Tekamah had no pass receptions in the second half.

Trevor Wright paced the defensive efforts with 14 tackles while Adam Jorgensen had 11. Shane Baack and Craig Hefti finished with eight tackles each.

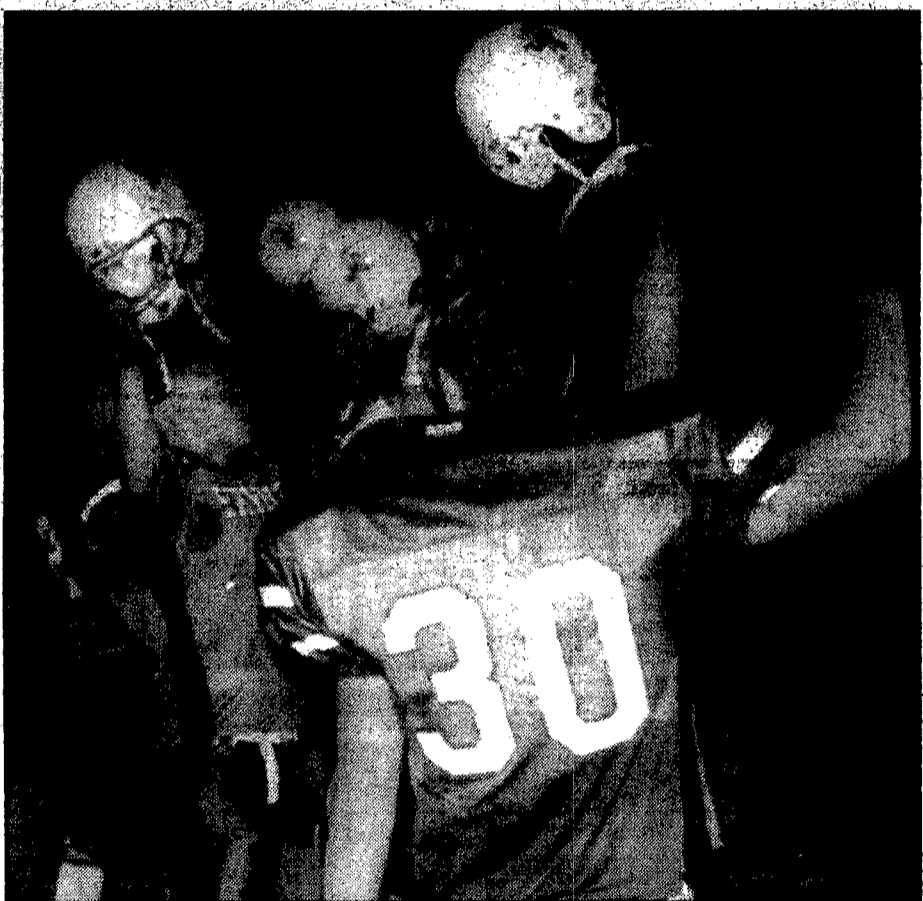

Jason Beiermann, Tyler Jorgensen and Ryan Haase had seven tackles each. Baack also had one fumble recovery and two interceptions.

Wayne senior receiver Dustin Schmelts catches a pass and turns up field for positive yards during Wayne's 27-0 blanking of Tekamah-Herman on Homecoming Night. Wayne, 5-2 will host Pierce on Thursday.

By Kevin Peterson
Of the Herald

The Allen volleyball team improved to 16-3 on the season with an impressive victory over Winside last Thursday and with a straight games win over Homer on Tuesday night.

Denise Hingst's team defeated the Wildcats, 7-15, 15-3, 15-10. "We had a tough time getting the ball to our setter Melissa Wilmes," Hingst said. "We could not get our offense and we let Winside have control of the game."

Allen dominated game two with a 15-3 thumping. The third game was close and with Allen leading by a 14-10 margin, Stacey Martinson slammed a spike between a pair of Winside defenders for the match winner.

"We had a tough time getting into our type of play early because the girls were a little nervous," Hingst said. "Winside caught us standing in the first game but we pulled together and got the win."

Stacey Martinson led the offense with 10 kills while Shannon Koester had nine, Jessica Bock, eight and Angela Prochaska, seven.

Melissa Wilmes had 30 set assists. Martinson had nine blocks to lead the defense with Michelle Marks netting five blocks. Elizabeth Bock had seven digs to jump start the Moser said Jacobsen had an exceptional night at the net with no attacking errors and 21 kills.

"Julie and Stacey Martinson of Allen are good friends and I think good rivals," Moser said. "This was a fun match for both of them."

Allen also defeated Homer on Tuesday night. "We played a slow moving and somewhat less intense match than what we did against Winside," Hingst said.

Melissa Wilmes recorded 18 set assists and was 13-13 in serving with one ace while Stacey Martinson had six kill spikes and Michelle Marks, five.

'Cats win Egg Bowl

Wayne State receiver and big-play man Chaka Smith tries to one-hand this pass from quarterback Jaime Jones.

By Missy Pavlish
Of the Herald

Wayne State running back Elroy Brown ran roughshot over Concordia-St. Paul last Saturday afternoon which resulted in a 39-21 Wildcats victory in the 11th Annual Incredible Edible Egg Bowl.

The 'Cats, 2-5 got 211 yards rushing including 155 in the first half from the junior running back who ran himself into the most valuable player of the game award.

"Elroy is running hard there's no question," coach Kevin Haslam said. "He's gaining a lot of yards after contact for us." It was Brown's fourth consecutive 100-yard rushing performance and his second 200-yard outing.

The game started off in track meet form as the visitors scored on a 25-yard pass play just three minutes into the game.

WSC scored one minute later to tie the game at seven after Herman Gordon caught a 35-yard touchdown strike from Jaime Jones.

Brown broke loose for a 38-yard scoring run in the first quarter and the score was 14-7 less than 10 minutes into the contest.

Concordia's second score which tied the game at 14 came on a 56-yard interception return but the 'Cats failed to let that dampen their afternoon as Chaka Smith scored on a 27-yard pass from Jones at the 4:03 mark of the second stanza and Brown sprinted to paydirt from 17 yards out with just 37 seconds left in the half for a 26-14 advantage.

Joe Scheppers got into the scoring act in the third quarter on an 11-yard interception return and Chaka Smith closed out the scoring with a 26 yard run early in the final quarter.

The 'Cats got great play from its special teams according to Haslam. "Justin Burhoop threw his body all over the place on special teams," Haslam said. "John Bohan played in many linebacker positions and had a solid performance for us. Both these players may not get noticed in the books but both are a thriving force for the team."

WSC rolled up 265 yards rushing and 161 passing while Concordia had 224 yards rushing and just 67 through the air.

Chaka Smith was the top receiver with nine receptions for 83 yards while Herman Gordon and Tavaris Johnson had four catches each.

Defensively, WSC was led by Mike Baker with 13 tackles while Antonio Jackson had nine and Brian Gohr, seven.

WSC's defense had nine tackles behind the line of scrimmage. Kirk Steffenen and Joe Scheppers had interceptions with Antonio Jackson, Jason Jansen and Seth Last had fumble recoveries.

The 'Cats will play at Southwest State in Marshall, Minnesota this Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

The Mustangs are 2-4 on the season and 2-3 in conference play. Last week they fell to Winona State, 13-9.

Southwest State's defense has only given up an average of 14.8 points per game but the Mustangs offense has struggled, scoring 14 or less points in five of the six games.

Wayne State soccer team nets two wins

The Wayne State soccer team won a pair of conference outings last weekend to improve to 10-3 on the season and 4-3 in conference play.

WSC defeated Moorhead State, 2-1 last Saturday in Minnesota before posting a 3-0 shutout of Minnesota-Crookston on Sunday.

In Saturday's tilt Sara Zimmer and Mary McDaniel scored goals off assists from Sarah Herrick.

Anna Eberle had nine saves in the contest. "This was a good win for us," coach Justin Cole said. "We've lost a couple touch matches on the road this season and to beat a team like Moorhead with its tradition on its home turf was tremendous."

Cole said both his team's scores came off corner kicks. "It was a super job of executing and finishing," Cole added.

Sunday in Crookston, WSC got a pair of goals from Jackie Arnold who also assisted a third goal which was scored by Alana Pfeffer.

Mary McDaniel, Abbey Kalblinger and Carissa Garcia also had assists in the match.

"We knew coming into this match that a win would secure a top five finish in the conference for us," Cole said. "Jackie Arnold has done an unbelievable job for us this season despite playing with ankle problems."

Cole also credited the play of Alana Pfeffer who stepped in for the injured Sarah Herrick.

WSC will host Bemidji State on Saturday at 12:30 p.m. and Minnesota-Duluth on Sunday at 12:30 p.m. before the conference tournament which gets under way on Friday, Oct. 29.

Weigand Marina and the Lewis and Clark Lake near Crofton was the location for the O'Connor's Convenience Center second Annual Walleye Open. The tournament, held on Sept. 26 hosted 16 teams consisting of 32 anglers from three different states.

The winners of the tournament were Gordon Burkhead and Nick Mayfield from Omaha, weighing in a total of 19.25 pounds of walleye, the biggest being 3.4 pounds. The catch landed them a first place check for $550. In addition, the pair won an Intestate Marine battery valued at $84.

O'Connor's Convenience Center owners, Marty and Angie O'Connor, host this tournament once a year. The next tournament will be held in October of 2000. Marty said he expects at least 30 teams next year, with more sponsors, money and prizes to be given away.

"This is becoming a big event in the Crofton area," O'Connor said. "To attract anglers from three states and award the amount of money and prizes to the winners that we do, is something we are proud of."

There were 58 walleye caught for a total of 107.4 pounds, for the one day, eight hour tournament.

If you have any questions on next year's tournament, you can e-mail O'Connor's Convenience Center in Crofton at croftonwalleye@hotmail.com

Wayne State running back earns award

WAYNE—Wayne State running back Elroy Brown was named the Nebraska Division II Offensive Player of the Week for his performance last Saturday against Concordia-St. Paul.

It was the third time in the past four weeks Brown has earned the award as he led WSC to a 39-21 victory in the 11th Annual Incredible Edible Egg Bowl.

The Lincoln Northeast graduate, a junior at WSC, carried the ball 35 times for 211 yards, averaging 6.0 yards per carry. He also scored two touchdowns on runs of 38 and 17 yards. Brown did most of his damage in the first half, rushing for 155 yards and two TD's on 20 carries. His second touchdown came with 37 seconds left in the second quarter and gave WSC a 26-14 lead.

In addition, Brown was Wayne State's Most Valuable Player in the game. It was the fourth straight 100-yard rushing game for Brown and the second time in three weeks he has gone over 200 yards. He has 11 touchdowns in only six games played and is three shy of Marcus Bishop's single-season record of 14 set in 1995.

The match took close to 2 1/2 hours just one night after the 'Cats needed less than an hour to post a sweep.

"It was a great match," Vanis said. "Everyone had a part in the win. We trailed 8-1 in the fourth game and came back to win." Jodie Larsen notched a career-high with 20 kills with Lindsey Koch finishing with 15 and Rayna Nelsen, 14. Jessie Erwin was also in double figures with 13 ace hits.

Melanie Kershaw was credited with 51 set assists. Defensively, Lindsey Koch tallied a career-high 38 digs with Erwin and Wendy Miller notching 26 each. Kershaw netted 19 digs. Rayna Nelsen had six blocks to lead the winners.

"I was pleased with the way the girls stayed composed in beating both opponents," Vanis said.

Minnesota-Duluth heads the conference standings at 11-0 while Bemidji State is second at 9-1. Southwest State is third at 8-2 and the 'Cats are 7-3.

Wayne State Clubs planning haunted house

Featuring a 50-ft. slide, a haunted house titled, "The Wayne Witch Project" will be staged by Wayne State College Science Fiction/Fantasy Club and Music Club members from Oct. 28 until Oct. 31. Everyone is welcome.

Hours for the haunted house are 8 p.m. until midnight on Oct. 28; 6 p.m. until midnight on Oct. 29 and 30; and 6 p.m. until 11 p.m. on Oct. 31.

"We're planning a bonfire, roasted marshmallows, cookies, hot cider, hot chocolate and no alcohol. It is a club project that we are offering as a community service in a sense. We are using the project's proceeds to support WillyCon a Science Fantasy Faire scheduled for March. I have a big empty barn with room for parking and the club decided as a community service to provide an opportunity for entertainment," said Stan Gardner, WSC Science Fiction and Fantasy Club advisor.

The haunted house is located at 2212 N. Centennial Road. Directions from downtown (Main and 7th St. - Dairy Queen) are: go north on Main St. (Highway 15) to Country Club Road (the golf course), turn right and go to the stop sign, turn left to the first barn on the left (second driveway on left).

Another route would be to go east (toward Wakefield) on Highway 35 (7th St.) to North Centennial Rd. (Wayne East - Texaco Station). Turn left, go north one and one-fourth miles to the barn on the left with the light at the driveway.

"Our theme, 'The Wayne Witch Project,' provides a twist. The witches in the haunted house are the good guys. They will serve as tour guides or white witches for the customers who are warriors battling the forces of evil as they encounter different forces in different areas of the haunted house," Gardner said. For more information, please call Stan Gardner at (402) 375-3475 or contact club members at scifict@wscgate.wsc.edu or at www.wsc.edu/student/activities/club/sfclub/haunt99.html.

WSC ranked high

By Amy Brown

Wayne State College earned a third tier ranking among other Midwest Regional Universities in U.S. News and World Report.

"Wayne State looks great," said interim Vice President for Academic Affairs Bob McCue.

He said WSC is listed in the same tier as the University of Nebraska at Omaha and the University of Nebraska at Kearney.

WSC President Sheila Stearns said she is pleased with Wayne's ranking. Stearns said Wayne has an open admission policy while other schools may have adopted admission policies that enable them to move up in the rankings. Wayne State College admits any student who has graduated from high school.

"Fortunately, we are not driven by U.S. News's rankings. We wouldn't want to change our admission standards and thereby change our mission," said Stearns, adding that student development is the mission of Wayne State College.

"A college education creates both a better life and a better world," said Stearns.

To rank colleges, U.S. News first groups similar schools based on Carnegie classifications. For instance, WSC is not in the same group as UNL, because Lincoln is considered a national university, having a wide range of doctoral programs.

U.S. News then gathers data on "up to 16 indicators of academic quality" and tallies the results. The indicators used to measure the academic ranking for the Midwest universities fall into six categories: academic reputation; retention of students; faculty resources; student selectivity; financial resources and alumni giving. U.S. News finally ranks the colleges it chose to evaluate.

Twenty-one percent of Wayne State's alumni donated to the school during the '97 and '98 academic years. This is the highest number among all of Nebraska's four-year public colleges. It is also higher than a majority of the Midwestern universities in the tier two category.

McCue said the high alumni giving rate is a byproduct of the college, and it shows just how satisfied that the graduates are with the education they received from WSC.

According to U.S. News, 123 Midwestern universities were rated. The third-tier rankings for the universities start at 63, and the rankings for tier four begin at 97. Sixty-four of the universities ranked were private.

AHA Guidelines; Cut Cholesterol in Older Women

Heart disease is the single leading killer of American women. Because there is a link between high cholesterol levels and heart disease, the American Heart Association (AHA) is recommending more aggressive treatment of high cholesterol in post-menopausal women. Recently published AHA guidelines suggest that physicians consider prescribing a "statin" cholesterol-fighter and not rely totally on estrogen replacement in high-risk women - e.g., women who smoke, are obese, and/or have high blood pressure. The statins include simvastatin (Zocor), fluvastatin (Lescol), atorvastatin (Lipitor), and lovastatin (Mevacor).

Some health authorities are concerned about lack of scientific evidence that estrogen replacement protects elderly women against heart attack. A factor in favor of statin use in women is that women with high levels of LDL (bad) cholesterol get as much protection by using a statin medicine as do men.

Campus will be adorned with parents and families Halloween

The Wayne State College campus will be adorned with parents and family members on Oct. 30, from 9 a.m. until 7 p.m. Parents/Family Day Activities have been planned by the Student Activities Board and the Student Life Office.

"Parents/Family Day provides an opportunity for parents to get a look at their son's or daughter's residence hall room after they have settled in from August 'move-in,' and also gives families a chance to see just where they have that Chemistry lab where they work on that special Art project that will be part of their grade.

Although it lasts only one day, parents/families get a pretty good "snapshot" of life on the WSC campus—and have a little fun doing it," said Frank Teach, student activities and Student Center director.

Following check-in at the Student Center, families may visit the new Studio Arts Building or other academic buildings and residence halls on campus. The fine arts division members will host special events within the Studio Arts Building to allow visitors to see the studios and labs. Visitors may also witness the computerized learning opportunities available.

Exploration of the night sky will be possible through 9 and 10 a.m. planetarium shows and tours in Carhart Science Hall. Cooking for a crowd?

The University of Nebraska and Iowa State Cooperative Extension Offices are sponsoring "Food Safety for the Occasional Quantity Cook" program the last week in October.

This program is intended for anyone who prepares and serves meals on a volunteer basis. With reports of food-borne illness on the rise, this would be an excellent opportunity for learning specific helps and techniques for serving larger quantities of food.

Food-borne illness strikes Americans more than 12 million times a year. More than three quarters of food-borne illness outbreaks are blamed on food eaten outside the home.

While food-borne illness can be as mild as a stomach ache, it can be much more serious and sometimes fatal. Children and the elderly are among those most at risk.

Any organization that serves meals for fund-raisers or community events, such as pancake breakfasts, soup suppers, bazaars, food stands or other group meals, will find this program helpful. Unsafe food can "spoil" your group's reputation and its finances.

Three sites, times and dates are offered in the Siouxland area: Monday, Oct. 25, 7-8:30 p.m. at First Lutheran Church, 3601 Dakota Ave., South Sioux City; Tuesday, Oct. 26, 1:30-3 p.m. at St. Mark Lutheran Church, 5200 Glenn Ave., Sioux City, Iowa; and Thursday, Oct. 28, 7-8:30 p.m. at Siouxland Senior Center, 217 Pierce Street, Sioux City, Iowa.

Cost for the program is $3 per person. For more information or to register, contact the Dakota County Extension office at 402-987-2140 or the Woodbury County Extension office at 712-276-2157. Please pre-register by Friday, Oct. 22.

Research Center develops food guide pyramid for older people

Older adults looking for some good advice about foods to meet their needs as they grow older soon may not need to look much farther. A group of researchers at the U.S. Department of Agriculture Human Nutrition Research Center on AGing at Tufts University have developed a and protein is pretty much the same as in older days, if not higher in some cases.

The modified food pyramid for adults over 70 still follows basic dietary principles — eat a variety of foods, choose foods from all of the food groups and balance food intake with physical activity. In addition to these basic principles, the modified pyramid suggests that a "supplement" flag be added at the very top of the pyramid and that eight or more serving of water will make up the base of the pyramid. The "supplement" flag brings attention to the need for nutrients such as calcium, vitamin D and vitamin B 12 that may be harder to get as a person ages.

The recommended servings with each food group have been adjusted for older adults to more nearly match their energy needs while maintaining adequate nutrient intakes.

The modified pyramid recommends the following number of servings for the older adult:

- six servings of bread, fortified cereal, rice and pasta;
- three servings of vegetables;
- two servings of fruits;
- three servings of milk, yogurt and cheese;
- two servings of meat, poultry, fish, dry beans, eggs and nuts.

Older adults are encouraged to consider primarily whole grain, enriched or fortified foods from the bread, cereal, rice and pasta group.

To make additional gains in fiber intake food choices from vegetables and fruits should include the whole product more often than juices. Fruits and vegetables of deeper color will also be richer in vitamins. Along with encouraging a high fiber intake is strong recommendation to get more fluids. Fluid needs can vary depending on the older adult's level of physical activity, use of medications and kidney function.

One thing is certain — the thirst mechanism isn't a good indicator for when to take a drink because older persons don't always detect their thirst. The modified pyramid for older adults advocates at least eight glasses of fluid daily. Coffee, tea and alcohol shouldn't be a major portion of the fluid intake.

Around 85 people were in attendance. The confirmation roll was called with the following as the earliest present: Eleanore Claussen Heithold, class of 1918; Alma Claussen Weierhauser, class of 1919; and Clara Vahlkamp Frevert, class of 1923. Present from the last class of 1975 were David Ritze and Randy Ritze; all of Wayne. Each one was presented a pocket cross and a crocheted cross bookmark made by Adeline Anderson.

After a group picture was taken, a potluck dinner was served at the Village Auditorium. Around 100 people were present for the meal.

A drawing was held in the afternoon. An afghan was made and donated by Ruby Ritze for the drawing. Rosemary Mintz of Laurel was the recipient of the afghan. The winner of the 36 inch crocheted angel that was made by Ruby Ritze and donated by Irene Ditman was Viola Junck of Carroll. A gourd birdhouse was painted and donated by Emma Burris and was won by Callie Finn of Winside. Several plastic canvas bookmarks were presented to those who had a Happy Face sticker on their chair.

Helping clean the church for the event was David and Janice Schortinghuis; Warren and Virginia Holtgrew; Virgil and Nancy Schuetz and Donald and Evelyn Goodling. David Ritze took pictures. The Winside Museum Committee thanks all who helped make the day a success.

A quilt show is being planned by the Winside Museum Committee to be held on Sept. 9-10, 2000. The theme of the show will be "Nimble Fingers- Then and Now."

Like it if Nebraska games get boring

A rare weekend with no guests and no NU game. We don't know how to act. So, the antique shop is running a 15 percent off sale, and the Big Farmer is heading into Louisville to help fend off all the buyers. If he can tear himself away from the Penn State, Ohio State game, that is.

Quite a few things need to fall into place before the Huskers can even be contenders for a national championship. One being a defeat of the Nittany Lions. Another, escaping Texas with a win next Saturday.

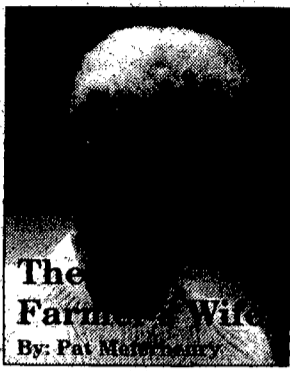

We went to the neighbors to watch the game last week. The two farmers watching with Mike had been combining all day, of course, and they both fell asleep! That's the way I like Nebraska games-boring. The news this week of Wilt Chamberlin's death brought back memories of the 1958 basketball game in Lawrence, when Nebraska defeated Kansas and its big center Bob Harry from York was assigned opposite him, and was told to keep him at half court defensively. He did, and it worked.

I remember it so well because it was the night of Lincoln General's Sweetheart Ball at the old Cornhusker Hotel. Someone found a black and white telecast of the game, and all the guys were watching it instead of dancing. It became a long night, with girls having to dance with each other.

Another news item featured the demolition of launch towers on a launch pad at Canaveral. It was cleared for the new Atlas rocket, which will not need launch towers. The left-over steel, seven million pounds, will be recycled. My little brother Jim's company engineered the explosion. Awesome!

I had a unique experience last night as guest presenter at a meeting of Omaha area otology nurses. A pharmaceutical firm rented the tent at Vala's Pumpkins Patch and served supper for entire families. There was even a bonfire at the end of the evening.

We had visited Vala's last year, and I was impressed by the animation, the displays, and general attention to detail. But I had not been there in the evening before. It's become a very big business, with private security guards directing traffic, WOW broadcasting from a mobile van, live banjo pickers, and thousands of munchkins running around. It was fun, but I think I will stick to classrooms and church basements!

Wakefield first grade students participate

On Oct. 4, first grade students at Wakefield Elementary began a seven week series of the Character Counts! program.

Character Counts! is a program that was developed by the Josephson Institute of Ethics. The focus of the program is on six pillars of character.

These pillars include: Respect, Responsibility, Caring, Trustworthiness, Fairness, and Citizenship. A decision making lesson is also included. Over the seven week period of time, first graders will participate in various learning activities that demonstrate each of the six pillars of character. So far the students learned about the pillars of responsibility and respect.

Character Counts! is a program that has been adopted by Nebraska 4-H, which is the youth component of the University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension, Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

Objectives of the Character Counts! program are to emphasize the need for character, teach the six pillars of character, encourage accountability, enhance decision making skills, create an atmosphere that encourages good character, and support character development activities.

Oct. 17-23 is National Character Counts! Week, so many youth across the state will be participating in activities related to Character Counts!

The sessions in Wakefield are being taught by Amy Malchow, Extension Educator 4-H and Youth in Dixon and Wayne Counties.

The first grade teachers, Kathy Muller and Cathy Stading, will also continue to reinforce the six pillars of character throughout the year and in their school system.

Wakefield first grade students are involved in Character Counts!, a Josephson Institute of Ethics program adopted by Nebraska 4-H. Oct. 17-23 is National Character Counts! Week.

NRD Develops No-till Planting Incentives

NORFOLK - Farmers, how would you like to receive $10 an acre on up to 160 acres for five years, have increased time to spend with your family, and save fuel, machinery, and labor costs at the same time?

You can do this by participating in the Lower Elkhorn NRD No-till Incentive Program in 2000. The 1999 group of participants have a network of 65 existing no-tillers with up to 25 years of no-till experience to share ideas and knowledge with you.

Due to excessive rainfall in areas, many farmers will be looking at fields and gullies washed in areas that typically aren't affected. The best way to deal with these problems is to use a blade to fill and pack them. Another option would be to drill rye or winter wheat in those areas to stabilize them until you can get crop established next year. Simply performing tillage in these areas will result in a lot of loosened soil that will readily wash away in spring rains. If the area is a problem every year, you may want to consider grassing it down permanently. Entering the grass-waterway area in CPR will provide a return on the area for you.

Dan Gillespie, Madison County NRCS soil conservation technician, says "Another reason to consider changing to a total no-till system is looming on the agriculture horizon. Congress is beginning to deliberate on carbon sequestration as a player in the upcoming farm bill legislation. Carbon sequestration is the storage of carbon in the soil in the form of organic matter. Carbon sequestration will have the dual benefit of removing greenhouse gases from the atmosphere (improving air quality), while improving soil quality to its greatest possible productivity."

Ultimately, there could be significant financial incentives to farmers to convert to no-till, plant trees, and seed grasses. There are power companies in the U.S. that are already purchasing these "carbon credits" in the form of easements on rain forest land in South America. Having the ability to document an existing no-till system may put you in a position to capitalize on this potential income source.

"It is our most cost effective conservation practice. With a no-till system, you can achieve results equal to or greater than terracing," stated Gillespie.

Gillespie continued, "Remember that a complete no-till system starts at harvest time. You must plan on spreading the crop residue evenly behind the combine. Avoid fall tillage on the fields and rip or subsoil your end-rows instead of disking them. Center pivot tracks should be filled with a track filling device or any equipment that will minimize field disturbance, if possible."

Sign up now to become a part of the no-till program. Contact your Natural Resources Conservation Service office for more information. They can help you set up a meeting with a no-till farmers in your area, and possibly schedule a total field plot in order to evaluate the system on a field size basis.

Teach working on Eagle Scout Award

Thanks to a cooperative community spirit, a special population of the Wayne area will soon have an additional recreation spot.

Working on a project for his Eagle Scout award in Boy Scouts, Ryan Teach has coordinated a fundraising and people power effort to construct a fishing dock for physically challenged and senior citizens at Ike's Lake, northwest of Wayne.

The project is a joint effort between the Wayne Isaac Walton League, headed by Scott Brummond, and the Wayne State College Industrial Technology Club, advised by Greg Vander Weil.

Partial funding for the project has been obtained from several Wayne organizations and businesses including the Wayne United Way, Pheasants Forever, Carhart Lumber Company, First National Bank, Farmers and Merchants Bank, State National Bank, and the Wayne Lions and Kiwanis Clubs.
Further donations for the project will be gladly accepted and can be made by calling Ryan Teach at 375-1521.

The cost of the $365,000 project will be paid back to the City by the M.G. Waldbaum Company. The project contractor was Penro Construction of Pender.

In addition to the new construction the dikes, around the existing ponds were built up about 24 inch-
