Season nearing completion

Area producers are winding up another harvest season following a month of ideal conditions and little rain. Yields have been reported to be somewhat higher than earlier anticipated, especially in the corn crop. At right, corn is unloaded onto a truck before being hauled to storage. Above, Carroll Grain and Feed has been storing corn on the ground temporarily. The corn is being contained by a number of large round bales.

Skateboards on tennis courts approved

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Area skateboards now have a spot to practice their talents following action taken during Tuesday's Wayne City Council meeting.

Mayor Sheryl Lindau recommended to the council that the city allow skateboarders to bring in ramps of up to three feet to the tennis courts located near the swimming pool.

Mayor Lindau is also in the process of appointing a six-member monitoring committee to keep an eye on the area and report to the council. Members include George Holm, Tim Sharer, David Knight, Pastor Paul Judson, Doug Sturm and a yet-to-be named youth who uses the skatepark.

A sign will be put up in the area requiring those using the skatepark to wear helmets and pads for safety.

Trash receptacles will be placed in the area to prevent litter being scattered throughout the area.

Among concerns expressed by members of the council were the fact that there are no restrooms in the area, guidelines in regard to use by those who use the area to play basketball and hours of use.

Following discussion, council voted to allow the area to be used as a skate park for a trial period of six months.

Resolution 99-54 was passed by the council, approving the wage and salary schedule for the fiscal year 1999-2000. The resolution allows for a two percent increase in wage rates and salary changes.

City Administrator Joe Salitros explained to the council a draft which will outline grant procedures to wear helmets and pads for safety.

Several council members recommended changes in wording and the draft will be brought before the council again in the future.

The council listened to a status report on the city's 1999-2004 goals.

Among the goals already accomplished were the establishment of a tree management policy, the institution of parking violation fees, a salary survey, partnering with Wayne Main Street and the establishment tax increment financing policies.

In addition, a Town Hall meeting has been set for Thursday, Nov. 4.

Discussion was held on the need for council members to receive packets of information prior to each council meeting.

Following the recommendation of Police Chief Lance Webster, the council voted to set the fees pertaining animal impoundment and vehicle towing and impoundment.

These fees will now be set at a minimum of $25 for animal impoundment and a minimum of $50 for vehicle towing and impoundment.

In other action, the council debated whether the leaves from the city's parks could be hauled to Garden Perennials south of Wayne.

Following discussion, the council voted to allow the city to haul the remaining leaves from the city's parks to Garden Perennials.

Informational meeting held

The District 3 meeting for the Nebraska Department of Roads (NDOR) was held in Wayne on Monday.

District 3 includes 15 counties in northeast Nebraska.

Approximately 75 persons were in attendance to listen to Don Cook, District Engineer with the NDOR, explain upcoming projects in the department's one and five-year plans.

Those in attendance also presented comments on several projects that are being completed in the near future.

Cook also listed several projects the NDOR has completed during the current fiscal year, including the Highway 35 project through Wayne and the re-surfacing of Highway 98 west of Wayne.

Getting ready for year 2000

A Town Hall meeting has been planned for Thursday, Nov. 4 at the Wayne Senior Citizens Center in Wayne.

The event begins at 7 p.m. and will address a number of issues regarding the readiness of the community for the year 2000.

Representatives from area financial institutions, including State National Bank, First National Bank, Farmers' & Merchants State Bank, Columbus Federal, Edward Jones, Phelps, Rath & Associates and Waddell & Reed will be available to answer questions.

Other groups represented included the Wayne County Red Cross, Providence Medical Center, TelePartners, Peoples Natural Gas, US West, Nebraska Power District and the City of Wayne will be on hand.

Those in attendance will also have the opportunity to ask questions.

City Treasurer Nancy Braden, who has been coordinating the city's Y2K plan for more than a year, encourages all area citizens to attend the meeting.

Wayne Airport seeking manager

The Board of Directors for the Wayne Municipal Airport is seeking to hire a new manager for the Wayne airport.

The contract for Midwest Flying Service of Nebraska, Inc., which has been managing the airport for approximately three years, was not renewed.

Planes are still able to use the airport and gas is available.

Jason Park is currently assisting with operations at the airport.

The Airport Board is in the process of contacting individuals in an attempt to hire a new manager. They have a number of criteria the new manager needs to possess including being able to provide flying lessons and having mechanical abilities.

The board includes Mitchell Nissen, David Ley, Logan McClelland, Carl Rump and Stanley Morris. Nancy Braden serves as the ex-officio treasurer for the group.

Middle School parking discussed

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

In a short business meeting on Monday night, the Wayne Community School Board approved payment of $19,786.95 to Beckenhauer Construction for Phase 1 reconstruction of the Middle School.

Also discussed was parking at the Middle School. Dr. Joe Reinert, superintendent, showed the latest drawing of on-site parking there.

Included in the parking plan is a bus drop-off/pick-up area that extends onto school property on the south side of the Middle School.

In this plan, the one-way on Fifth Street could be a two-way and buses could go up Fifth to Douglas Street, down to Third Street and then into the bus drop-off/pick-up area. This plan would ease the bottle neck situation that normally occurs with traffic coming up the one-way from the Elementary School onto Fourth and Sherman Streets.

Also discussed as part of the Middle School parking plan was use of the Elementary School alley to Third Street to the bus drop-off/pick-up area.

Diagonal parking for teachers and staff was shown as part of the parking plan. These parking spots would be on the north side of the Middle School.

There would also be parking by the track/football field. Extra parking for school activities would be in the proposed playground area on the south east side of the school as this would be partially paved for basket-

Spooktacular yard announces the season

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Starting with a paper pattern, Jeff and Jodi Loberg of Wayne have transformed their yard into a Halloween 'spooktacular' event.

The Lobergs have a number of wooden Halloween decorations that they have created almost completely from scratch.

Their lawn contains a graveyard, a witch, Dracula, Frankenstein and the Bride of Frankenstein, all constructed in wood. In addition, lights blink on and off and plastic pumpkin bags and heads adorn the front yard.

The Loberg's collection of lawn decorations also includes a number for other holidays including Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter.

The Lobergs started with the four large decorations last year and added a number of new ones this year.

"We generally order patterns from a magazine. They come on paper and then I glue them on to poster board so they are more sturdy," Jodi said.

Jeff then cuts the patterns out on plywood and Jodi draws the details on freehand.

"We can finish a set of four (Dracula, a witch, Frankenstein and the Bride of Frankenstein) in a week. We did the cemetery scene in less than one day," Jodi said.

After Jodi is finished painting the decorations, Jeff applies a clear coat to all the pieces to make them shine more at night and to protect them from rain.

Jodi said she has had no formal training in art or drawing but "have always been able to draw, as long as I have a picture to look at."

Jeff said he has done lots of work in the shop since his high school days and enjoys working with wood.

The couple has no definite plans for additional decorations but change the appearance of their yard from year to year.

"We really like decorating our yard and do it for the kids," Jeff said.

The Lobergs have one son, Jeremy and a number of children in the neighborhood to enjoy their creative works.

Jeff and Jodi Loberg home near Wayne. The couple has made a spooktacular yard.

ball courts. As part of this plan, lot space, trees and grass areas have been saved for playground.

The Middle School plans are not final and the Superintendent and Board will be kept informed of progress on the issue.

Present at the meeting were Wayne Staff, College Elementary Education students and a Music Education student fulfilling a class assignment for their Curriculum and Assessment class.

Prior to the regular meeting, a special Board meeting was held on Oct. 19 at the Middle School Modular 4B.

At this meeting, Beckenhauer answered Board questions and explained bids that had come in for the High School renovation/addition project.

Beckenhauer told the Board that a couple of bids needed minor clarification from subcontractors. Also, a couple of low bidders needed performance bonds, which would save $3,000.

Also discussed were a couple of alternates that were part of the base bid. They were leaving the family and consumer science room in the original High School building and adding a new science room in the new addition. And, not installing a stairwell outside the gymnasium to increase seating capacity.

Bids and the two alternates were approved by the Board at the bid estimate of $793,486.

After the Oct. 25 business meeting, Phyllis Spethman, Board president, presented a workshop on community relations. Dennis Lipp, one of the Board members, contributed information as well. Spethman and Lipp had attended a Pre-Conference Workshop at the State School Board meeting in Omaha a couple of years ago, where they had received in-put on ways to build good public relations.

The next regular Board meeting will be held Monday, Nov. 8 at 7 p.m. at the High School in Wayne.

Recital to include Fine Arts Division

Several Wayne State College Fine Arts Division members will participate in a faculty recital at 8 p.m., on Tuesday, Nov. 2, in Ramsey Theatre, located in the Peterson Fine Arts Building on campus.

Dr. Jay O'Leary and Dr. Christopher Bonds will be joined by James Day and Jane O'Leary during various-musical selections.

"I always enjoy performing. This concert gives us an opportunity to learn more by playing these pieces rather than just looking at them. It's a development project for us, a kind of research project," Dr. O'Leary said.

A Mozart trio for piano, viola and clarinet will be performed by Dr. O'Leary, Bonds and Day.

Bonds with Dr. Jay and Jane O'Leary will perform a Bach trio. Individual selections for Bonds will include the Bach Suite in G Major for viola. Dr. O'Leary will also perform two other pieces with piano.

For more information, please call (402) 375-7359.

Projects expected to be completed in 2000 include work on Highway 9 from Pender to Emerson.

On the list of projects to begin next year is a re-surfacing project on Highway 15 north of Wayne. The project involves 9.1 miles of road.

Two projects will involve work on Highway 35 between Winside and Hoskins. The first runs south of Winside and the second runs east of Hoskins for a combined total of 11.2 miles.

It is not expected that detours will be necessary in 2000 but will be required in 2001 when the project is completed.

Also discussed at Monday's meeting was the study being conducted for an expressway to be constructed between Norfolk and South Sioux City.

In conjunction with the corridor study, a number of public meetings have been scheduled to allow the public to view proposed options for an expressway. A consultant will be on hand to present the options and answer questions regarding the plans.

On Tuesday, Nov. 16 the first meeting will be held at the White House Inn in Norfolk from 2 to 4 p.m.

A second public meeting will be held at the Newcastle Firehall on Wednesday, Nov. 17 from 2 to 4 p.m. Later that day, from 7 to 9 p.m. a meeting will be held at the Marina Inn in South Sioux City.

Wayne will host Northeast Nebraska Community Builders

The Wayne community will be hosting the Community Builders program on Nov. 11 at 5 p.m.

Tours will begin at the model homes at Heritage Homes of Nebraska, Inc. located East on Highway 35. The group will then proceed to The Oaks for a tour of the independent living facilities and from there to a condo under construction in the Vintage Hill Addition. The dinner and meeting will be held at Geno's Steakhouse.

The program will consist of a panel of housing specialists from the area: Rob Bock, Vice President of Security National Bank of Allen and a member on the Governor's Commission on Housing and Homelessness.

*Darrell Miller, general manager of Heritage Homes of Nebraska, Inc.

*Linda Anderson, executive director of the Wayne Community Housing Development, Inc.

*Darrell Fuelberth, real estate agent with ERA Property Exchange

*Donna Liska, executive director of the Oaks

The public is invited and encouraged to attend. If you would like more information, please, contact Connie Keck at the Bureau for Community and Economic Development, Wayne State College, at 375-7533 or Lois Lage, Community Builders Coordinator at 585-4544.

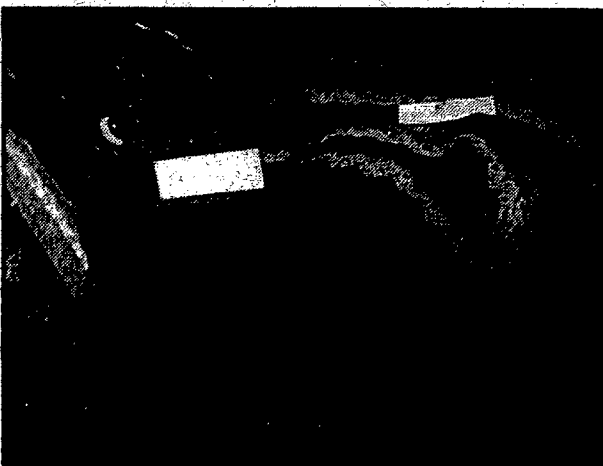

Sharpnack named as Alpha Lambda Delta member

Jessica Sharpnack of Wakefield has been granted membership into Alpha Lambda Delta, a national honorary organization for women at Doane College in Crete. The award was presented at the fall honors convocation on Oct. 16.

Sharpnack is a sophomore at the college and is the daughter of Randy and Carol Sharpnack of Wakefield.

Membership is based on the student's first year academic performance and requires a minimum grade point average of 3.5 on a 4.0 scale in the first year, with at least 28 graded credits.

Bazaar approaching

The Wayne Hospital Auxillary Bazaar will be held Thursday, Nov. 4 at the Wayne City Auditorium. A number of prizes, including an afghan, a quilted tablecloth, a wooden rocking horse and wreath, will be raffled off during the event.

Lead poisoning screening offered

Despite efforts at education and prevention, children in Northeast Nebraska continue to be poisoned by lead from peeling lead-based paint, lead-contaminated dust and other sources in their homes.

To draw attention to the problem, Goldenrod Hills Community Services is participating in national Childhood Lead Poisoning Week, Oct. 24-30.

If not detected early, children with lead in their bodies can suffer from damage to the brain and nervous system, behavior and learning problems, slowed growth, hearing problems and headaches.

Lead is also harmful to adults and can lead to reproductive problems, high blood pressure, digestive problems, nerve disorders, memory and concentration problems, muscle and joint pain, and difficulties during pregnancy.

Nationally, almost one million preschool age children have enough lead in their blood to harm them, says Anna Berg, RN at Goldenrod Hills in charge of lead screening for the agency's 12-county service area. Within that localized area alone, Goldenrod Hills staff have found five children in the past year to have high lead blood levels.

Goldenrod Hills sets up blood screening activities at various sites, including Head Start center, health fairs, and Women, Infants and Children Nutrition Clinics.

Anna Berg is available to speak on the topic upon request. Persons interested in hearing more about the effects of lead, or want to set up a presentation or a blood screening may contact Anna Berg at (402) 529-3513, next. 27.

National Childhood Lead Poisoning Prevention Week kicks off a major awareness initiative being unveiled this week by the Campaign for a Lead-Safe America. The National Campaign will produce a variety of materials that will be distributed locally, including brochures and fact sheets in English and Spanish, and public service announcements.

Other features of the new awareness initiative include: * A web site, www.lead-safeamerica.net, which provides information on lead safety, updates on Campaign activities, links to other resources and an exciting overview of lead poisoning prevention programs around the country.

* A national Partnership Program that leverages the resources of business, professional and trade associations, media and other organizations to disseminate and reinforce education messages on lead poisoning prevention.

*A Community Outreach Program that coordinates that activity of hundreds of local groups with the overall Campaign and its national partners to maximize the impact of all.

"Goldenrod Hills has been working in lead poisoning prevention since 1994," Berg said. "We are excited to be working with the National Campaign and look forward to coordinating our efforts with other national resources to better serve our local community."

Club receives grant

Recently, the New Generation 4-H Club of Dixon County received a Grant from the Nebraska Investment-Finance Authority

(NIFA) for $1,000 which is to be used to landscape or to beautify public property.

New Generation members spent a Saturday afternoon landscaping the Allen School property. They sowed grass, pulled weeds, and poured new cement.

The Club was recognized on Sept. 5 at the Nebraska State Fair for their efforts. They also met Gov. Mike Johanns as they received their award.

What size house payment will your income support?

Depending upon the loan program, your lender will usually require that your monthly house payment (including taxes and homeowner's insurance) not exceed 28-29% of your gross monthly income.

Your lender will look at the potential house payment, as well as your other obligations (vehicle loans, student loans, credit card balances, etc.) This total should be within 36-41% of your gross monthly salary.

Stop in for a confidential interview. We will help you check these ratios, combine that information with today's interest rates, and calculate a house payment that is right for you.

Congress has embezzled trust fund

Dear Editor,
Most people correctly believe that Social Security has been our most successful social program, however as the program has matured it faces many obstacles to its viability.
The first major crisis it faced was in 1981 when concerns were raised about the Trust Fund running out of money by 1983.
The Greenspan Commission was formed which made recommendations to resolve the short-term financing problems the program faced. A combination of legislation enacting the recommendations, low inflation and the economic boom has contributed to yearly Trust Fund surpluses until the proclaimed total is now in excess of $650 billion.
Unfortunately within the Treasury, Social Security taxes are co-mingled with general tax revenues which allows Congress to spend Trust Fund surpluses to fund other expenses within the budget.
For example, the 1998 $70 billion surplus existed only because Congress included the 1998 $99 billion surplus when the actual budget showed a deficit. To cover up the embezzlement of Trust Fund money by Congress, the Department of Treasury has been forced to issue non-negotiable IOU bonds to the Trust Fund.

Congress has exploited the comingling flaw in the Trust Fund to achieve a spending coup without having to increase income taxes, but at a severe cost to low-income workers. Workers have been hit hard when the regressive Social Security tax has also been used to fund other spending programs.
This has been particularly devastating to the self-employed business people such as entrepreneurs, farmers and ranchers who must contribute at double the normal Social Security tax rate. So much for Democratic and Republican compassion for workers.

Explaining situation of resignation

Dear Editor,
I have resigned my position as general manager of KTCH Radio for personal reasons. I believe it's time for someone else to occupy the G.M.'s chair at KTCH. It's been quite a ride from January of '95 as the sign-on announcer to General Manager.
I would like to wish the staff at KTCH the very best and hope they enjoy continued success and growth. They all care about the job they're doing for you.
I would like to thank each and every retailer and service oriented business in Wayne and the area, who have made an investment in their business through KTCH.
KTCH offers a viable product to Wayne and the area. Your continued support of KTCH, through advertising or listenership is important and appreciated. The staff at KTCH will continue their stellar efforts in working for Wayne and the area.

I will miss the personal contact I had with the business people of Wayne and the area. Enjoyable would be the best way to describe it.
My personal plans? I will begin working in the plant at Heritage Homes. That means you'll still see the little red car zipping around town. (The Diamond King describes my car as the snowblower with a heat houser on it!)
KTCH was successful long before I arrived and will continue to be successful. My leaving will cause a mere hiccup on the airwaves and that's the way it should be.
Thanks to All!!

Local members attend FFA national convention

Over 49,000 FFA members and guests from across the nation are preparing to leave on their "Signature of Success" in Louisville, Ky. during National FFA Convention, Oct. 27-30.
This is the first time the event has been held in Louisville, as the past conventions have been held in Kansas City, Mo.
Eight members of the Allen FFA Chapter will join fellow members from all 50 states including Puerto Rico, Guam and the Virgin Islands to develop premier leadership, growth and career success.
Members attending are Austen Stewart, Mick Oldenkamp, Justin Warner, Lyle Rahn, James Schneider, Russell Linafelter, and Jessica Warner, along with their sponsor Tom Wilmes.
The Convention is appropriately named "Signature of Success" which symbolizes the agricultural organization's desire to leave a positive impression on their communities and the agriculture industry. Members will be recognized for outstanding accomplishments while they participate in leadership workshops.

The Nebraska FFA Association has nominated 147 member to receive the American FFA Degree. The Association recognizes demonstrated leadership ability and outstanding achievements in agriculture, business, production and processing or service programs.
Of the 450,752 FFA members, only 2,324 will receive this degree and only three other Allen members have been nominated for this degree - Gilbert Mattes in 1954 and Renee and Sonya Plueger in 1994. This year's Allen recipient is Mindy Plueger.
To receive this degree, members must have earned $7,500 through supervised agricultural experience programs in which they start on their own or work for an existing agricultural enterprise which productively invested towards these earnings.

Capitol News

Is a study really needed?

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

This is sort of a quiz.
One of those recent news quiz things you see all the time.
Do you remember that fuss about some people wondering aloud about why cattle prices were low?
Do you remember if a study or investigation was actually undertaken?
No? Well, neither do I.
Do you have a sense that, whatever happens, it's probably not going to cause a lot of inconvenience for those big meatpackers? Me, too.
So, let's talk about some people who can count on a little inconvenience from law enforcement. The illegal aliens who sometimes work in those meatpacking plants.
(I know. "Undocumented worker" is politically correct. But if you are an alien in another country, and you are there illegally, are you not, in fact, an illegal alien? Geez.)
Here's the deal.

The feds didn't wishy or washy in a recent meeting with state officials about Operation Vanguard. That's the deal where the INS tracks people who might be illegal aliens, and then deports them if they are illegal aliens.
You might recall that some producers and meatpackers said the whole thing disrupts commerce - not the illegal activity, the enforcement of the law.
Well, the feds basically said "hard cheese, buddy!" An INS guy in Omaha said Operation Vanguard would continue and the law would be enforced. (You don't need a study before opening a can of gotcha' on people who can't vote and don't have lobbyists).

One really good thought, I thought, came out of that recent meeting.
One participant cited that very reality of industry, supply and demand. Where there are jobs, she said, people will come to do them. Even if they are jobs that most middle class Americans aren't going to do.
That piece of solid thinking brings us to the point of one recent column.
It has been suggested that the government issue special visas to those found working illegally in the packing plants, and to those who are willing to go work in the packing plants. There are lots of them. Cutting bovines into edible portions, toting carcasses and doing other stuff you don't want to read about in explicit detail is work that some among us are glad to have - it's just that some of them have arrived on the job without first complying with the legal niceties that will let you take a crummy job that can be dangerous, put you at risk of carpal tunnel syndrome and pay you wages that don't equal what a good many of us pay in taxes.

The longer this situation goes on, it seems, the better that idea looks. It's not like the workers will quit coming to the jobs. Heck, they are recruited from Texas and Mexico, among other places. It's not like the country is going to quit eating meat.

Since the Legislature passes resolutions about as often as Major Applewhite passes the football, perhaps the least we could hope for is a Unicameral effort (skip the study, just send the resolution to Congress) to get the feds to acknowledge reality and stop the repetitive motion and spending involved in rousting people who are just doing jobs.

Exchange Students gather

Foreign Exchange students recently met at the Pizza Ranch in Laurel. The students have been placed for the 1999-2000 school year in several area homes through the Program of Academic Exchange. Program Area Coordinator is Kathleen Grone of Wayne. Shown, back row, Severine Slebert of Germany. She is attending Randolph High School and staying with Butch and Margaret Korth; Johan Berner of Sweden, attending Laurel Concord High School and staying with Lyle and Sharon Van Cleave; and Bartosz Kubak of Norway, attending Wayne High School and staying with Gary and Karla Van Meter. Front row includes, left to right, Tamires Chevez of Brazil, and Simone Wolf of Germany, both attending Laurel Concord High School and staying with Dwayne and Margaret Freeman.

Lawyer to present at WSC

Lennox S. Hinds, Nelson Mandela's United States attorney, will present "Crimes Against Humanity" for the public in Gardner Hall auditorium, at Wayne State College, Nov. 15, at 4:30 p.m.
His presentation is followed by a reception. Hinds will be appearing as a guest faculty resident sponsored by the social science division.
"I would encourage everyone to attend the presentation by Professor Hinds because it is a rare opportunity to listen to a speaker of his caliber who has such extensive international experience with some of the most important human rights issues of our times," said Monica Snowden, assistant professor of sociology at Wayne State.
In addition to his practice as a criminal defense and international human rights lawyer, Hinds is a professor of criminal justice at Rutgers and counsel in the United States to the Government of South Africa, the African National Congress (ANC) of South Africa and the newly liberated nation of Namibia.

Hinds is one of few U.S. attorneys appointed to the panel of defense lawyers by the United Nations. He serves as vice president and permanent representative to the United Nations for the International Association of Democratic Lawyers with jurist members throughout the world. He has also worked for the release of political prisoners in Asia, Africa, Europe and the Americas. He assisted in drafting the Luanda Convention on Mercenaries in Luanda, Angola in 1976.
Hinds is a former chair of the Administration of Justice Program, Rutgers University, in New Brunswick, New Jersey. A Rutgers

Law School graduate, he was awarded the law school's J. Shelly Wright Award for contributions to civil rights.
Before joining Stevens, Hinds and White, P.C., as its senior partner, with law offices in New York, New Jersey, Great Britain and Johannesburg; Hinds served for many years as national director of the National Conference of Black Lawyers of the United States and Canada.
He also is involved in human rights issues within the United States and has represented politically unpopular clients, including Assata Shakur (Joanne Chesimard), the New York Eight and victims of police brutality and other governmental lawlessness including COINTELPRO.

Grant award received for fairgrounds repair work

With the help of the Gardner Foundation of Wakefield, the Dixon County Ag Society will be able to save their historic grandstand. Efforts are being made to repair the aging structure so that it is safe and attractive for area citizens.
The Dixon County Fair recently celebrated its 85th year of operation. Area residents have spent one week every August showing and exhibiting at the county fair. Many changes have taken place since the early "Fair Days." Yet, care is taken to keep the fair traditional. As the millennium fast approaches, the Dixon County Ag society desires to preserve the past and build for the future.
The oldest building on the fairgrounds, the grandstand, is in disrepair. Concrete work was needed on the foundation. The front grandstand steps were to be made handicap accessible. Siding on the grandstand itself needs to be redone. Improved seating within the grandstand is also needed. Total project cost is estimated at $30,000.
Last month the Gardner Foundation provided $20,000 for the grandstand renovation project. Debbie Borg, member of the Ag society, wrote the proposal and was extremely pleased to learn that the funds were awarded.
The Gardner Foundation generously donates to local projects that further their benevolent purposes. Additional dollars are still needed, however, to complete the project. Currently $800 has become available through local contributions.
The Ag Society has also identified additional items that would enhance the county fairgrounds. Picnic tables, portable bleachers, park seating, fencing and trees for landscaping has all been named. Specific donations can be given by contacting a member of the group.
Dixon County's grandstand is one of the few left in Northeast Nebraska. Built by the WPA, it represents an important part of the area's past. Because of this historical significance, the Ag Society is looking at pursuing designation on the national register of historic places.
To obtain additional information about this project, contact Debbie Borg of Allen or Brent Johnson of Concord.

Area team competes at State CC meet

Devil runners place third

By Kevin Peterson
Of the Herald

The Wayne boys cross country team ran to their strength at the State Cross Country Meet last Friday in Kearney and Rocky Ruhl's Blue Devils came away with a third place team finish—the second time in as many years.

Wayne tallied 72 points to finish behind state champs Fairbury with 34 and Albion, 52.

Centennial finished fourth with 80 and Wahoo Neumann was fifth with 93 followed in order by Elkhorn Mt. Michael, Lincoln Christian, Wood River, Minden, Gothenburg and Kimball.

"I was very pleased with the results," Ruhl said. "We were defeated by two quality teams who were very deserving of their places."

In placing third, Wayne finished ahead of defending state champs, Wahoo Neumann and Elkhorn Mt. Michael—both of which defeated Wayne at districts.

"It was one of our goals to beat the teams in our district and we accomplished that," Ruhl said. "When we began the year we were rated seventh and our boys wanted more and they worked very hard to achieve that."

The Blue Devils were led by Devin Bethune who finished 16th in 17:30 with Jeff Ensz placing 17th in 17:32. Brad Hansen placed 22nd in 17:46.3 and Brandon Garvin—the team's only senior was fourth in at 18:30.5.

Nick Lipp ran to an 18:44 clocking and Roy Ley, 19:03 to round out the Blue Devil runners.

"Brandon is the only runner we lose off this team," Ruhl said. "His leadership and enthusiasm were a great asset for this team."

Wayne's lone female athlete at state was sophomore Jessica Murtaugh.

"Jessica ran well," Ruhl said. "She was timed in 17:05.1 for 37th place.

She ran as hard as she could with the competition very tough. I think the nerves from being at state for the first time caused some tension and muscle tightness, not allowing her to run like she would have liked. She had a great first season and we are looking forward to her coming back next season."

In the Class D division Laurel-Concord's girls placed eighth with 125 points. Winside placed 12th with 168.

Bertrand won the team title with 41 points and Kearney Catholic was second with 50 followed by Oakland-Craig with 63 and Bridgeport with 72. Fort Calhoun was fifth with 112 and South Platte, sixth with 114 while Hebron netted 117. Axtell placed ninth and Weeping Water, 10th with Stuart placing ahead of Winside in 11th.

"The importance of the fifth runner was proven last Friday because we tied Axtell but our fifth runner defeated their fifth runner giving us the edge," coach John Jonas said. "Sarah Stark was injuring during the false start of the race. She ran about half of the course with a pulled muscle in her back before she was unable to continue. Kate Harder, Amber Haahr, Sarah Kneiff and Crystal Viterna stepped up to the challenge and all scored well for the team."

Kate Harder led the Bears with an 11th place time of 17:13 while Amber Haahr was 16th in 17:30. Sarah Kneiff was 43rd in 18:54. Crystal Viterna was 55th in 19:28 and Tara Vollbrecht finished 59th in 19:53.

The Winside girls were paced by Brooke Boelter in 17th place in 17:42 while Kayla Bowers was 33rd in 18:24.10. Cassie Anderson was 57th in 19:38 and Laurie Deck was timed in 20:30.

Deck was running in the top five before being injured. Emma Burris finished in 21:26.

Bears win NENAC crown

The Laurel-Concord volleyball team was crowned NENAC Champs after winning the championship match with Randolph, Tuesday night in Creighton.

Patti Cunningham's 16-5 Bears lost the first game, 10-15 before rebounding to win the next two games and match, 15-5, 15-4.

Lani Recob was nearly unstoppable for the Bears, notching 20 kill spikes on a 35-of-37 attack performance.

Brittany Burns notched nine kills. Kari Stewart was 97-99 with 37 assists.

Tori Cunningham led the defense with seven digs and Katie Peters had six while Burns netted five.

Cunningham paced the servers at 20-21 with one ace.

"I congratulate my players for a solid performance throughout this tough tournament," Cunningham said.

The Bears opened NENAC play against Plainview and won, 15-7, 15-13.

A well-balanced attack was led by Jeffery Demuth with six ace spikes while Lani Recob had five. Brittany Burns, Kari Stewart and Rebecca Johnson had three ace hits each.

Stewart had 18 set assists and the defense was led by Demuth with seven digs and Katie Peters netting six and Tori Cunningham, four.

Melanie Thompson led the team in serving at 12-12 with one ace while Burns was 10-10 with one ace.

"It was a team effort," Cunningham said. "They worked hard to maintain momentum and to keep the ball in play."

The Bears defeated state ranked Elkhorn Valley in the semifinals, 11-15, 15-6, 15-11.

Lani Recob pounded out 14 kill spikes and Brittany Burns had 13. Kari Stewart was 95-95 with 35 assists and Demuth paced the defense with four blocks while Cunningham had a team-high six digs.

"This match featured several long rallies and many powerful attacks and exciting defensive plays," Cunningham said. "It took courage to continue competing in the match and our girls were able to pull together and come out on top."

The Bears next action will come in the Class C-2 Sub-District in Laurel.

First round matches will pit Winside against Ponca while Laurel-Concord tangles with Hartington Cedar Catholic. The winners will also play on Monday night in Laurel.

State playoffs begin Thursday

Laurel blanks Tigers, 42-0

Laurel-Concord's football team closed out regular season action in fine fashion last Friday night with a 42-0 blanking of Tekamah-Herman.

Tom Luxford's Tigers improved to 6-2 and will begin post-season play-offs on Thursday night at home against 4-4 Pender at 7 p.m.

The Bears scored in each of the four quarters against Tekamah-Herman with Nick Manganaro beginning the six-touchdown night with an eight-yard pass from Nathan Beckman.

Matt Schroeder caught a 13-yard pass from Beckman for a score in the first quarter while Adam Hartung caught a 14-yard touchdown pass from Beckman in the second stanza for a 22-0 advantage at the half.

Tyler Kvols opened the second half with a 90-yard touchdown scamper on the kickoff and Ross Gardner scored on a one-yard run in the fourth quarter.

"I'm very happy for our kids to finish the regular season at 6-2," Luxford said. "It's quite a turnaround from a year ago. "Our offensive line did a good job and Chris Lackas ran the ball well, gaining 151 yards. Nathan Beckman was 7-10 for 101 yards and at one point he was 6-6," Luxford added.

Luxford was very pleased with his defensive team's performance. "Our d-line with Brad Hoelsing, Jon Erwin, Seppo, Adam Hartung and Evan Smith had their best game of the year," Luxford said.

The Bears racked up 424 total yards while holding the Tigers to 119 yards.

Lackas rushed nine times for a career-high 151 yards while Ross Gardner had 58 yards and Tyler Kvols, 37. Nathan Beckman had 28 yards and Blake Erwin, 22.

Adam Hartung and Matt

Schroeder each had two receptions with Nick Manganaro, Tyler Kvols and Ross Gardner each catching one pass.

Defensively, Laurel was led by Brad Hoelsing and Jon Erwin with 10 tackles each while Evan Smith and Ross Gardner each had nine stops with Greg Kvols and David Asbra netting seven each and Tyler Kvols, six.

The Bears are seeded second in their eight-team bracket. The winner of Thursday's game will play the winner of Scribner-Snyder and Osmond next Wednesday, Nov. 3.

Sub-districts begin Monday

Wayne spikers peaking at right time

The Wayne girls volleyball team showed no visible signs of rust after a two-week layoff as they won the O'Neill triangular against two quality programs in O'Neill and Hartington Cedar Catholic.

Joyce Hoskins' team downed the host team for the second time this season, 10-15, 16-14, 15-11.

Sara Ellis had 17 kill spikes to pace the offense with Liz Campbell netting 10 kills and Kallie Krugman, seven while Lindsay Woehler netted five.

Leah Dunklau had 41 set assists and Ellis paced the serving crew with a 20-20 outing that netted one ace. Campbell was 19-19 and Kristin Wilson, 14-14 while Brittney Frevert was 11-11.

Krugman paced the defense with three blocks. "I am extremely proud of how the girls came back after falling behind in the third game, 11-5," Hoskins said. "It takes a lot of desire and determination that we were lacking at the beginning of the season."

The Blue Devils swept Hartington Cedar Catholic, 15-10, 17-15. Ellis had 10 kills and Campbell added nine with Krugman netting four.

Campbell was 14-14 in serving with two aces and Brittney Frevert was 12-12 with one ace. Leah Dunklau tallied 30 set assists.

"We played very well in back to back matches," Hoskins said. "Cedar has some very tall girls that block well and we didn't let that bother us and just played really good defense."

Wayne improved to 15-8 on the season on Monday night at home against Hooper Logan View with a 15-5, 5-15, 15-10 victory.

Sara Ellis led the winners with nine kill spikes with Liz Campbell netting seven and Kallie Krugman, two.

Brittney Frevert was 11-11 in serving with two aces and Kristin Wilson tallied two aces while Leah Dunklau and Ellis had one service ace each.

Ellis also led the defensive charge with four blocks with Krugman and Dunklau netting three each.

"We played extremely well," coach Joyce Hoskins said. "Again our blocking and defense is what won the match."

Hoskins said her squad played with a lot of intensity.

Tuesday in South Sioux the Blue Devils won their fifth straight match and eight of their last nine with a 15-13, 14-9 win over the Cardinals.

Sara Ellis led the winners with 17 kill spikes with Kallie Krugman netting six and Liz Campbell, four.

Ellis was 12-12 in serving with one ace and Leah Dunklau was 14-14 with Mandy Hansen going 8-9 with one ace.

Dunklau notched 30 set assists and Krugman along with Beth Loberg had two blocks each.

"We were a little flat after our big win with Logan View on Monday," Hoskins said. "The girls were pretty drained both physically and mentally but they did what they needed to do to get the win."

Winside defeated

The Winside football team was man-handled by Randolph, 35-0 last Friday night in what turned out to be the season finale for the Wildcats who just missed the state playoffs.

The 4-4 Wildcats could not find an answer to Randolph's potent offense and running back Casey Sullivan who had 130 yards rushing on just his three touchdown runs of 28, 93 & 64 yards.

Dustin Wade paced Winside's rushing attack with 61 yards while Eric Vanosdall gamered 44 yards.

Adam Hoffman was 8-19 through the air for 67 yards as Winside was limited to just 208 total yards.

Ben Lienemann was the leading receiver with five catches for 33 yards with Mike Deck catching four passes for 26 yards.

Jeremy Jaeger was the leading tackler with 13 total stops while Nathan Suehl had 10. Wade and Vanosdall each had seven tackles.

"We had a good football season," first-year coach Terry Bear said. "The kids gave everything they had and never gave up at any time."

Thirty-two teams comprise the Class C-2 playoffs and Winside finished 34th in the playoff points.

Brandon Garvin keeps pace during the state cross country meet last Friday at Kearney. Garvin is the only senior on the Blue Devils varsity team.

WSC gridders fall to SW State, 44-16

By Missy Pavlich
Of the Herald

The Wayne State football team was defeated by Southwest State of Marshall, Minnesota 44-16 last Saturday, dropping Kevin Haslam's 'Cats to 2-6 on the season.

The visiting 'Cats were limited to just 206 total yards while the Mustangs rolled up 445 yards.

WSC fell behind 17-0 after one quarter of play and the deficit grew to 37-0 at the intermission. The host team blocked a WSC punt on the opening drive and recovered the ball at the 'Cats 20-yard line where they scored four plays later.

Southwest State's first three possessions started in WSC territory.

The defense got on the scoreboard for WSC in the third quarter as Seth Last recorded a safety.

The defense continued to put points on the board later in the third quarter as Kirk Steffensen returned an interception 25 yards for a score.

The 'Cats final score came in the final period as Chaka Smith caught a 23-yard scoring pass from Brandon Lavaley.

Eroy Brown's string of 100-yard rushing games came to a sudden halt as the Mustangs limited him to just 26 yards on 13 carries while Lavaley had 18 yards on two attempts.

Jaime Jones was 15-34 through the air with one interception and 104 yards.

Herman Gordon had six receptions for 66 yards and Tavaris Johnson had four catches for 43 while Chaka Smith and Dan Pugsley each had four receptions as well.

Southwest State had two running backs surpass the 100 yard mark as the Mustangs rushed for 278 total yards.

Antonio Jackson paced the defense with 14 tackles and Kirk Steffensen had 12 while Seth Last and Mike Baker netted nine each. Ashley Toussaint finished with seven tackles.

WSC will host Minnesota-Duluth on Saturday in a 12:30 p.m. contest. The Bulldogs are 1-7 overall and 1-5 in the NSIC.

Last weekend the Bulldogs lost a 35-26 decision at Bemidji State. Minnesota-Duluth has lost five straight games dating back to a 27-24 win over Minnesota-Crookston on Sept. 18.

The Bulldogs give up 377 yards per game while the 'Cats are yielding 472 yards per outing.

The 'Cats offense however, is more potent, averaging 397 yards per game while Duluth is averaging just under 300 yards per game.

Wayne quarterback Klinton Keller gets time to throw the ball with the blocking of his lineman during Wayne's game with Pierce last week. Keller ended up playing his final high school football game as Wayne missed the playoffs. At right, Wayne's defense was vastly improved this season. Here, Blue Devils gang-tackle a Pierce runner.

Wayne team ends with 42-7 loss to second ranked Pierce

The Wayne Blue Devils football team had their season ended for good last Thursday night by Pierce, 42-7.

The Blue Devils, on the bubble in the playoff power ratings, fell shy by one spot when the list of 32 were released on Saturday afternoon.

John Murtaugh's team ended the year at 5-3. Pierce led the host team by a 28-0 halftime margin and the Bluejays built a 42-0 lead in the fourth quarter before Wayne scored on a six-yard run by Matt Webb with 5:25 remaining in the final stanza.

"We made too many mistakes early in the game to have a chance to win," Murtaugh said. "I am very proud of our players. Their effort and commitment was super throughout the season. This team deserves to be in the playoffs but unfortunately, things just didn't work out."

Wayne managed just 155 total yards against Pierce with the Bluejays netting 386. Wayne had four turnovers in the game (three fumbles and one interception) while Pierce had one turnover.

Individually, Joel Munson had 61 yards on nine carries with Trevor Wright gaining 15 on six attempts and Matt Webb, 11 yards on three carries.

Klinton Keller was 6-17 through the air for 61 yards with Dustin Schmeits catching three passes for 49 yards. Joel Munson had two catches with Shane Baack and Marcus Berns netting one reception each.

Trevor Wright paced the defense with 15 total tackles. Wright finished with 108 tackles on the season.

Ethan Mann out-jumps a Pierce defender to gain possession of a pass from Klinton Keller.

Laurel wins Wisner tourney

Patti Cunningham's Laurel-Concord volleyball team improved to 13-5 on the season with a pair of wins over Wisner-Pilger and Oakland-Craig last Saturday.

The Bears downed Wisner-Pilger, 14-16, 15-8, 15-12 in the first match.

Rebecca Johnson paced the winners with 13 ace spikes with Lani Recob netting nine and Emily Schroeder, five.

Kari Stewart netted 34 set assists as she quarterbacked the winners Erin Troyer and Jenny Demuth each recorded three ace serves with Toni Cunningham and Lani Recob each notching one ace.

Demuth was the defensive leader with five blocks while Recob and Schroeder had three each.

Katie Peters had nine digs for team tops and Cunningham had eight while Demuth and Troyer finished with six each.

"The girls did a nice job of keeping their composure after Wisner would put together a string of points," Cunningham said. "It was rewarding to see how the girls rose to the occasion."

Laurel defeated Oakland-Craig, 15-10, 13-15, 15-12. The well-balanced Bears were paced by Lani Recob and Jenny Demuth with seven kills each while Emily Schroeder and Rebecca Johnson had five each.

Kari Stewart was 53-54 in setting with 24 assists. Demuth had a team-high six blocks including four aces and Toni Cunningham had eight digs with Katie Peters netting five.

Peters and Erin Troyer each had three service aces and Demuth, two.

"We got down 7-0 and 6-0 at the beginning of the final two games but were able to find a way to win the match," Cunningham said. "I was pleased with the way the girls fought back."

Wayne State athletes earn weekly honors

WAYNE—Wayne State College punter Brian Johnson and volleyball player Rayna Nelsen have earned Nebraska Division II Player of the Week honors for their performances last week. Johnson received the Special Teams award for the third time this season, while Nelsen was selected as the Volleyball Player of the Week.

Against Southwest State, Johnson, a senior from San Jose, Calif., averaged 42 yards on six punts. He had two kicks travel over 54 yards. One punt travelled a career-long 70 yards and was downed at the Southwest State three-yard line, which set up a Wildcat safety. Johnson's next attempt went 54 yards and went out of bounds at the Mustang 13-yard line.

WSC, 2-6 overall and 2-4 in the Northern Sun, plays host to Minnesota-Duluth this week. Kickoff is scheduled for 12:30 p.m. at Memorial Stadium/Bob Cunningham Field.

Nelsen, a freshman middle blocker from Hubbard, sparked the Wildcat volleyball team to a 2-1 record last week. She registered nine kills and a career-high eight blocks in WSC's four-game loss to Number 10 South Dakota State.

Nelsen then recorded 12 kills and a .375 attack percentage in a three-game victory over Concordia-St. Paul. She finished the week with a nine kills, a .450 attack percentage and four blocks in leading WSC to a three-game sweep of Winona State.

WSC evened its overall record at 12-12, with an NSIC record of 9-3. The 'Cats have won five-of-their last six matches overall and seven of their last 10 league matches.

Junior high spikers close out seasons

WAYNE—The Wayne seventh and eighth grade volleyball teams closed out season play recently, with a couple tournaments. The seventh grade team lost to Laurel-Concord, 5-11, 11-8, 9-11. Keely Reinert, Amanda Luschen, Jenny Raveling and Marissa Roney were the leading scorers.

Wayne defeated Wakefield, 15-3, 6-15, 15-9. Jenny Raveling led the way for the winners. The seventh grade team also competed at the Wisner-Pilger Tournament and placed second.

Wayne defeated Wisner-Pilger, 15-3, 8-15, 15-11 before falling to West Point, 5-15, 1-15. Jenny Raveling led Wayne on the day through pool play and the tournament with 26 points while Ashley Carroll netted 14.

The eighth grade team went 1-1 in the Laurel tournament, downing Randolph, 4-11, 11-9, 11-5 before falling to Laurel-Concord, 8-11, 11-7, 4-11. Sarah Pieper, Karissa Hochstein and Lacey Wurdeman were the top scorers.

Wayne lost to Wakefield, 15-8, 6-15, 12-15. Amy Kemp and Karissa Hochstein were the leading scorers for Wayne.

Wayne lost twice at the Wisner-Pilger Tournament, falling to the host team, 14-15, 15-9, 8-15 and to Howells, 0-15, 8-15. Karissa Hochstein scored 14 points throughout the day with Lacey Wurdeman adding 11. Leah Pickinpaugh and Briana Theobald each scored eight points.

WSC runners compete at conference

The Wayne State cross-country men and women's teams placed second and fourth, respectively, at the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference Championships last Saturday.

While conditions weren't optimal for fast times, head coach Brian Kavanaugh was pleased with the performances turned in by his teams.

"This was a very difficult course, probably the hardest we've run on in a couple of years," Kavanaugh said. "Plus, it was cold and windy."

However, in most cases the runners finished in about the places 1 expected them to. They didn't let the conditions affect their races.

In the women's race, both junior Darr Nickerson and senior Marsha Krienke earned All-Conference honors by placing in the top ten. Nickerson placed 6th in 24:31 for 6,000 meters, with Krienke right behind her in seventh place at 24:36.

"I am very pleased with their races," said Kavanaugh. "Last year Marsha was 14th and Darr was 29th, so they really have improved in the last year."

Third for the Wildcats was freshman April Sachau, placing 31st in 25:59. Not far behind was junior Shannon Short, clocking 26:03 for 33rd place. Rounding out the top five was freshman Ely Harder, 45th in 26:44.

The University of Minnesota-Duluth won the team race with 21 points, followed by Moorhead State with 58, Winona State with 100 and Wayne State with 107. In fifth place was Bemidji State with 120 points, followed by Minnesota-Morris (164), Concordia-St. Paul (189) and Northern State (197).

"We've got a very young team with six of our top seven either freshmen or sophomores eligibility-wise," said Kavanaugh. "We are going to be pretty good in a couple of years as they continue to develop."

In the men's race, sophomore James Bruhn was the top finisher for the Wildcats, placing tenth in 28:01 for 8,000 meters to earn All-Conference honors. Sophomore Andy Tucknott, the defending conference champion and a pre-race favorite to repeat, finished a disappointing 14th overall in 28:17.

"Andy may have had a touch of the stomach flu, and felt pretty weak during the race," Kavanaugh noted. "If that was the problem, he should be ready for Regionals."

Freshman Dana Rider finished next for the Wildcats, clocking 28:28 for 15th place. Sophomore Tom Whisnand placed 16th in 28:46, with freshman Dustin Lippman rounding out the Wildcats' top five in 29:22 for 22nd place.

In the team standings, the University of Minnesota-Duluth won handily with a perfect score of 15 points. Wayne State was second with 57 points, followed by Northern State with 67 and Concordia-St. Paul with 113. Moorhead State did not field a complete team.

The Wildcats will wrap up their season at the NCAA North Central Region National Qualifying Meet November 6 in Fargo, N.D.

Other WSC Finishers:
Women - 51. Jamie Kluthe 27:18, 63. Gretchen Murphy 29:17, 64. Tammy Burnham 30:05, 68. Jeana Luebbe 31:38, 69. Jen Olson 31:47. Men - 26. Brad Hrouda 30:31, 32. Chris Meyer 32:17.

Soccer team splits conference games

The Wayne State women's soccer team went 1-1 over the weekend with a 5-0 win over Bemidji State last Saturday and a 5-2 loss to Minnesota-Duluth on Sunday at home in the final week of the regular season.

The 11-4 'Cats went 5-4 in conference play to finish the regular season in fifth place.

In the 5-0 win over Bemidji State Sarah Herrick had two goals and an assist while Mary McDaniel had two goals. Rachel Bennett had the other goal and Abbey Kalblinger had two assists.

"It was one of our better performances of the season," coach Justin Cole said. "I have been pleased with the ladies' progress as we continue to improve with each match. Our passing game was solid and our defensive played great."

Cole said his team gave a tremendous effort against Minnesota-Duluth despite the loss.

"They were ranked 15th in the nation last week and we led at the half," Cole said. "The final score was not indicative of the contest as it was tied at two with 15 minutes left in regulation."

WSC will turn its attention to this weekend's NSIC Tournament. The 'Cats will play either Southwest State or Northern State.

Sarah Herrick kicks the soccer ball through the defense of Minnesota-Duluth during action on Sunday at Wayne State.

Allen is runner-up

The Allen volleyball team improved to 18-3 on the season with a pair of wins in the opening rounds of the annual Lewis & Clark Conference Tournament in Allen, Monday night.

Denise Hingst's team cruised to wins over Walthill, 15-1, 15-1 and Emerson-Hubbard, 15-5, 15-6.

Against Walthill the Eagles used the entire bench to claim the easy win. Stacey Martinson had four kill spikes to lead the way with Michelle Marks notching three ace hits.

Alicia Laebisch was 11-11 in serving with seven aces and had a team-high eight points.

"We played relaxed and smart which left little room for mistakes," Hingst said. "We got a complete team effort."

Allen found itself tied with Emerson-Hubbard at 5-5 in the first game before the Eagles went on a 10-0 run to close the first game. Allen went on to post the easy sweep at 15-6 in the second game.

Jessica Bock had eight kills to lead the winners with Stacey Martinson netting seven. Michelle Marks had five service aces and Melissa Wilmes was 10-10.

"We need to be playing our best ball right now," Hingst said. "The post-season is here and we can't afford to come out slow against anyone."

The Eagles ended up placing runner-up in the tournament which concluded Tuesday night in Ponca.

Allen defeated the host team, 13-15, 17-15, 15-12 in the semifinals.

The Eagles ended up winning two-of-three from state-ranked Ponca and Hingst said intense net play and defense set the tone for this rubber match.

"We finished with 12 blocks in the match," Hingst said. "Stacey Martinson and Michelle Marks did a nice job on the block for us and Kristin Hansen hustled after every ball."

Angela Prochaska had a team-high 17 kill spikes. "No one could stop her so we kept going to her," Hingst said.

Martinson tallied 11 spikes and Shannon Koester, six. Prochaska was also a lethal force at the service line where she notched nine aces. "We finished with 17 ace serves in the match which was important," Hingst added.

The high didn't last long however as Wakefield upset the Eagles in the championship match, 10-15, 15-9, 9-15.

It was the first time during the season the two teams had met. "We just weren't into the match," Hingst said. "We were exhausted and mentally tired from a long match with Ponca."

Stacey Martinson had nine kill spikes and Angela Prochaska, six while Shannon Koester and Michelle Marks had three each.

Martinson also had a team-high three ace serves.

Allen's regular season ending record is 19-4.

Wakefield did not turn in any stats from the Lewis & Clark Tournament.

Eagles fall to Walthill

The Allen Eagles ended the football season with a goose egg in the win column as Walthill defeated the Eagles, 22-6 last Friday in the season finale.

Adam Gensler's nine-yard scamper in the second quarter put the score at 8-6 at halftime but Doug Wemhoff's Eagles failed to threaten in the second half.

Gensler, the leading rusher for the Eagles this season, had 107 yards on 31 carries. He netted 305 yards on the season.

Brandon Kelly was 3-11 for 23 yards through the air with Joe Sullivan catching three passes for 23 yards.

Micky Oldenkamp led the defense with 19 total tackles while Joel Sullivan had 17 and Adam Gensler, 14. Bryan Gotch finished with 13 tackles.

"Our offense was more consistent but we shot ourselves in the foot with penalties and turnovers when we'd get close to or in the red zone," Wemhoff said. "Our defense played a solid game with the exception of three plays which led to the three Walthill scores."

Despite the 0-8 finish Wemhoff said he noted much improvement in this year's team.

"I challenged the team to become better players during the off-season through weight-lifting and they agreed," Wemhoff said. "I'm already looking forward to the future."

WSC spikers win

Sharon Vanis' Wayne State volleyball team evened their season record at 12-12 while upping the conference mark to 9-3 with wins over Concordia-St. Paul, 17-15, 15-4, 15-3 and Winona State, 15-2, 15-9, 15-9 over the weekend.

In Friday's contest WSC was led by Lindsey Koch had 16 kill spikes to lead the winners while Rayna Nelsen netted 12 with Kyla Batten and Jodie Larsen notching nine kills each.

Melanie Kershaw had 38 set assists. Wendy Miller and Batten had three service aces each and Melissa Frahm had two.

Defensively, Frahm had 18 digs and Koch, 12 while Janel Moody had 10 and Jessie Erwin, nine. Laurie Schroeder had four assisted blocks to lead the defense.

In the win over Winona State on Saturday in Wayne, Jessie Erwin paced the winners with 12 ace hits while Rayna Nelsen had nine and Lindsey Koch, eight.

Melanie Kershaw had 24 set assists and Kasey Meyer tallied 13 assists. Jodie Larsen recorded three ace serves and the defense was paced by Koch with 14 digs while Kershaw had 10. Larsen also had six blocks with Rayna Nelsen and Laurie Schroeder notching four each.

"Friday's match with Concordia was a slow paced match," Vanis said. "We played well but it wasn't high quality volleyball."

Vanis said the match on Saturday with Winona State was a great match as both teams played well.

WSC will host Northern State on Tuesday.

Jr. Cats Clinic to be held next Saturday

The Wayne State College men's basketball program will be holding the Junior Cats Basketball Clinic on Saturday, November 7.

The clinic is scheduled to run from 9 a.m. until noon at Rice Auditorium and will be under the direction of WSC men's basketball coach Greg McDermott. The cost is $25 per individual and is for boys and girls in grades 1-6.

The clinic, which stresses the fundamentals of shooting, passing and ball handling, will conclude with a performance at halftime of the Wayne State-Minnesota State-Mankato men's basketball game on December 4. All participants will receive a Junior Cats t-shirt, a black and gold Wildcat basketball, an 8 1/2 X 11 autograph card of the Wildcat men's basketball team, free admission to all Wayne State home basketball games, a Junior Cats membership card and a pizza party.

The Junior Cats Basketball Clinic is sponsored by First National Bank of Wayne, Godfather's Pizza of Wayne, The Wayne Herald and Stadium Sports.

For more information, or to receive a registration form, contact the WSC men's basketball office at (402) 375-7515.

Winside improves to 13-8 on volleyball court

The Winside volleyball team went 1-1 in the Lewis & Clark Conference Volleyball Tournament, Monday night in Winside.

Tori Moser's team defeated Newcastle in the first round, 15-5, 15-6. Julie Jacobsen had nine kill spikes for team tops with Shannon Jaeger and Sara Mohr netting three each.

Shannon Bowers was 10-10 in serving with three aces with Jacobsen notching a 9-9 outing with one ace.

Bowers had eight set assists and Jessica Wade led the defense with four blocks while Sara Mohr added three.

"We did not look past Newcastle because you never know what to expect," Moser said. "They have some great athletes and it's unfortunate that Becky Kneiff was lost to a knee injury earlier in the season."

Moser said her team did a good job of getting everyone involved in the offense and the defense showed some good hustle. "This was a good team win for us."

The Wildcats fell to 13-8 on the season however, with an upset loss to Hartington, 17-19, 12-15.

Jacobsen had 10 kill spikes and was 13-13 in serving with three aces along with 12 set assists and nine digs.

Sara Mohr had four ace hits and had three service aces while Crystal Jensen and Shannon Jaeger had four kills each. Shannon Bowers netted 13 set assists and Jaeger had 12 total blocks to pace the defense.

Jessica Wade had 10 total blocks and Crystal Jensen had a team-high 10 digs.

"We didn't take advantage of given opportunities," Moser said. "You can't give a team 23 of their 34 points on errors. We beat them in the number of points earned off ace serves, stuff blocks and kills."

Winside led 14-6 in the first game and lost 17-19. "We just didn't finish what we started," Moser said.

Winside will play Ponca in the first round of sub-districts on Monday at 5:30 p.m. in Laurel.

Soup supper to be hosted

Wayne State College Habitat for Humanity members will be hosting a soup supper, Nov. 9, from 5 to 8 p.m., at First Presbyterian Church Fellowship Hall, located on the corner of 3rd and Lincoln streets.

Proceeds from the soup supper will benefit Habitat for Humanity projects.

Tickets prices are: adult - $4, student - $3 with WSC identification, 65-and-older senior citizen - $3 and child - $2.50 (ages 4 to 16).

The public is encouraged to buy tickets in advance, however tickets will also be sold at the door.

The mission of the campus chapter of Habitat for Humanity is to capture the imaginations, energy and hope of the students in order to productively and effectively involve them in the work of the International organization.

Campus chapters have three main functions: educating the campus and local community about affordable housing issues and the work of Habitat for Humanity, building and rehabilitating houses in partnership with Habitat for Humanity affiliates and homeowners, and raising funds for the work of Habitat for Humanity.

Herbs for Health

St. John's Wort for Depression

St. John's wort (Hypericum perforatum) has been used to treat depression and has been popularized by the media - including coverage in Newsweek and 20/20. This herb has three main actions - antidepressant, antiviral and antibacterial. The mechanism of action has been shown to be through inhibition of the reuptake of serotonin - a chemical transmitter in the nervous system.

A review of 32 trials on 1,757 patients diagnosed with mild to moderate depression demonstrated the hypericum extracts were significantly superior to the placebo and just as effective as standard antidepressants. Side effects were reported by only 20% of patients on hypericum versus 53% of patients on standard antidepressant medications.

The recommended dose of St. John's wort for an adult is 300 mg of the standardized extract (0.3% hypericin extract) three times daily. Reported side effects include mild stomach disturbances, fatigue, and itching. The herb should not be taken with prescribed antidepressants such as fluoxetine. Tyramine-containing food, alcoholic beverages, narcotics and amphetamines should be avoided. Safety in pregnancy and lactation has not been established.

The Golden Years

Author E.B. White wanted some anonymity after the publication of his wildly popular book, "Charlotte's Web." He found himself inundated with tourists and wide-eyed children eager to tour and famous barn. On future publications, White used the dateline, "Allen's Cove", a destination only reachable by chart, and boat. This certainly cut down on the number of uninvited guests!

Red Cross classes offered for Wayne county people

Anyone interested in becoming involved in the work of the American Red Cross as a trained volunteer is invited to attend classes to be held at the Wayne County Red Cross Chapter of the American Red Cross located in Wayne.

The series of classes will prepare an individual to be well trained to respond as a Red Cross team member to disasters locally, across the state and across the nation.

The first course, Introduction to Disaster, is required before enrolling in other Red Cross courses. The courses available on November and December are listed and described briefly below. The Wayne County Red Cross Chapter office is located at 216 West 1st Street, Wayne, NE.

For more information and enrolling, call Loren Park at 375-5737 or the Chapter office at 375-5209. There is no charge for classes.

Introduction to Disaster*, Tuesday, Nov. 2, 7-10 p.m., and Thursday, Nov. 4, 7-10 p.m.

Delivery of services to disaster victims. Learn how the American Red Cross volunteers bring timely and effective help to disaster victims. You are introduced to disasters, community response and the role of the Red Cross Disaster Services. Class participants will get a behind-the-scenes look at the impact of a disaster on people and the community. This course is required before any other Red Cross can be taken.*

Damage Assessment, Tuesday, Nov. 9, 7-10 p.m.

Learn how American Red Cross volunteers gather timely and accurate information at the scene of a disaster which is used to verify damage caused by a disaster.

Emergency Assistance to Families, Tuesday, Nov. 16, 7-10 p.m.

Individuals and families who suffer from the effects of a disaster have immediate needs. Red Cross volunteers are responsible to help with these needs. Addressed are needs of a physical, an emotional and/or a material nature created or aggravated by the disaster.

Emergency Assistance to Families, Tuesday, Nov. 23, 7-10 p.m., Part 1

Continuation of Emergency Assistance to Families.

Mass Care, Tuesday, Nov. 30, 7-10 p.m.

Learn how American Red Cross volunteers provide regular meals and snacks to disaster victims in shelters and at fixed and mobile feeding stations. Disaster workers are also served. Mass shelters for disaster victims are provided and staffed by Red Cross volunteers.

Shelter Operations, Monday, Dec. 6, 7-10 p.m.

When large groups of people are temporarily displaced from their homes, the American Red Cross responds by opening and operating shelters. You will learn how Red Cross volunteers prepare to effectively and sensitively manage shelter operations as a team to meet the needs of people displaced as a result of a disaster.

Shelter Simulation, Monday, Dec. 13, 7-10 p.m.

Simulate shelter operation management.

Megan Adkins

Adkins receives Scouting award

Megan Adkins of Laurel was honored at the Scout Court of Honor ceremony on Oct. 18 and presented the highest achievement and recognition award in Girl Scouting, the Gold Award.

Miss Adkins has been a scout member for 13 years and involved in Laurel Brownie Troop #255, Junior Troop #308 and the Cadette-Senior Troop #340, all associated with the Prairie Hills Girl Scout Council of Nebraska.

The challenge address was presented by Nebraska State Senator Robert Dickey who emphasized that challenges and change provide opportunity to continually strive for higher goals. He presented Megan with an official poster picture of the Nebraska State Capitol.

Prairie Hills Girl Scout Field Executive Pam Sukup of Verdigris and Marietta Freeman, Scout Leader and Mistress of Ceremonies, conducted the Gold Award ceremony. They also presented Megan with congratulatory messages and certificates from the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., Prairie Hills Council of Nebraska, President and Mrs. Clinton, U.S. Senators Kerrey and Hagel, U.S. representatives Barrett and Bereuter, Governor Johanns, Senator Dickey and numerous other officials.

An encased American flag was presented to Megan by Dwayne Freeman representing the Laurel VFW and American Legion posts. The representative flag will be replaced with the official flag which was flown over the United States Capitol in Washington, D.C. on Oct. 18, 1999 in honor of Megan's Gold Award achievement at the request of Senator Bob Kerrey.

Certificates from the various branches of the military, the Department of Defense and the Department of Health and Human Services were also presented.

Megan presented her parents, Rick and Joan Adkins of Laurel, with the Gold Award parents' pins and expressed her appreciation to everyone involved in her scouting years.

Music for the evening, including the presentation of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," was provided on the organ by Janelle Emert.

The opening and closing flag ceremonies were conducted by Brownie Troop #255.

Several second year scouts received rededication certificates and nine new Brownie members were invested by the Brownie Scout Leader, Michelle Dietrich.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Fellowship hall at the United Methodist Church.

The Montana Repertory Theatre will present "It's a Wonderful Life" at Wayne State College on Nov. 10 as the second in the Black and Gold Series.

'It's a Wonderful Life' to be presented at WSC Nov. 10

A holiday tradition, "It's a Wonderful Life" will send the public into the Christmas spirit when the Montana Repertory Theatre presents the Frank Capra classic as the second event of the Black and Gold series on Nov. 10 at 8 p.m., in Ramsey Theatre, located in the Peterson Fine Arts Building.

Based at the University of Montana in Missoula, the Theatre group has been touring for 30 years. Principal roles are played by actors whose past credits have included Broadway runs and national tours.

The Montana Repertory Theatre is a company operating under an agreement with the Actors' Equity Association and the University Resident Theatre Association.

"Theatre is an on-going illumination of man, his problems, his dreams, his visions, the society which lifts him up and his relationship to God. This is what theatre is about and always has been about. It is also a celebration, communally, of the values a society holds. To be truly human has to be learned, and learned over and over again. And one of the places we learn about being human is in the theatre," said Greg Johnson, an award-winning artistic director for The Montana Repertory Theatre for nine years. Frank Capra, the creator of "It's a Wonderful Life," while first and foremost a filmmaker, is perfectly in tune with the above statement. Johnson stated that Capra is one of the most "theatrical" of filmmakers preferring character, plot and brilliant scripts to action and spectacle. Capra has been quoted as saying the following about his creation:

"'It's a Wonderful Life' sums up my philosophy of filmmaking. First, to exalt the worth of the individual. Second, to champion man, plead his causes, protest any degradation of his dignity, spirit or divinity. And third, to dramatize the viability of the individual, as in the theme of the film itself."

"I wanted 'It's a Wonderful Life' to say what Walt Whitman said to every man, woman, and babe in the world: 'The sum of all known reverences I add up in you, whoever you are...'" said Capra. "I wanted it to reflect the compelling words of Fra Giovanni of nearly five centuries ago: 'The gloom of the world is but a shadow. Behind it, yet within reach, is joy. There is a radiance and glory in the darkness, could we but see, and to see we have only to look. I beseech you to look!'"

"Today, people tell me 'It's a Wonderful Life' is classic, the kind of great film that 'they don't make anymore,' or even that 'can never be made again... I'm glad people want to keep on looking at 'It's a Wonderful Life.' I hope they'll keep on looking at it and loving it long after I'm gone. I think they probably will. For myself, I can only say... it was my kind of film for my kind of people," Capra said.

A heartwarming fantasy based on one of the most popular films ever made, "It's a Wonderful Life" begins as angels discuss George Bailey, a small town resident so beset with problems that he contemplates a Christmastime suicide.

In flashback we review Bailey's life, learning that he always wanted to leave his hometown to see the world. Circumstances and his own good heart, however have kept him in Bedford Falls. His guardian angel, Clarence Oddbody, shows him how dire life in Bedford Falls would have become without Bailey and his good deeds.

Tickets for the WSC performance may be purchased at the business office after Oct. 27, first floor of the Hahn Administration Building. Ticket prices are $5 for adults and $3 for high school age or younger. For ticket information, please call (402) 375-7224.

Seating capacity is limited for this performance. For more information on the performance, please call (402) 375-7359.

ZION LADIES AID
Zion Lutheran Ladies Aid and LWML met Oct. 7 with nine members and Pastor Riege present.

The ladies sang "My Jesus, I Love Thee."

The Christian growth topic was given by LaVerda Kruger, entitled "Greater Thou God."

Pastor Riege's devotion was taken from Acts, Chapter 11. President Joyce Sagebarth presided at the meeting. Roll call was taken and penny pot was to put in 10 cents for Mite Box Month.

The card committee reported sending one cheer card and four visitor cards.

Members decided to send the quilts that had been made this year to World Relief Rescue Mission, Grain Train and Bright Horizon. They will be divided during the month of November.

Green altar cloths will be looked into and ordered for the church in memory of Marie Rathman.

Geraldine Schultz will speak at the November meeting on the convention she attended in July in Minnesota.

Committees for the month include: Altar guild, Cheryl Riege, Liz Wiech, Kelli Koepke and Fran Anderson; flower committee, Diane Koepke and LaVerda Kruger.

Hostess for November will be Joyce Sagebarth.

The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer and table prayer.

Plate prize was given to Diane Koepke.

The next meeting will be Thursday, Nov. 9.

REFORMATION FESTIVAL

The area WELS Reformation Festival will be held at Trinity

Lutheran Church in Hoskins on Sunday, Oct. 31.

The worship service begins at 1:30 p.m. with the luncheon and presentation at 3 p.m.

Baby-sitters will be available during the presentation.

Teens learn leadership skills at conference

A total of 170 teens from northeast Nebraska participated in the 1999 Youth Leadership Conference "Tomorrow's Leaders Today" held Oct. 13 at the Lifelong Learning Center in Norfolk.

Twelve teens from northeast Nebraska were part of the Leadership team involved in planning the program and teaching some of the workshops. Eighteen schools had teams of youth participating.

Keynoting the Conference was Mike Remus of Nashville, Tenn. Mike encouraged the youth that their leadership skills can take them anywhere they want them to and what their leadership will have an impact on the quality of life in their communities and the nation.

Present and past state senators addressed the youth on current issues that will impact youth and families in Nebraska. Participating were senators Cap Dierks, Jennie Robak, Gene Tyson and Bob Dickey. Past senators Connie Day and Jerry Conway were involved. Arnie Harlan shared impact of the Omaha tribal leadership with the youth.

Workshops included team building, communication, character counts, dealing with conflict, service learning, developing a project and peer pressure. Youth participating had the opportunity to discuss a community project that can be developed. Grant funding is available to assist with the project.

Sponsors of the program were the University of Nebraska Extension, Northeast Community College, Northeast Nebraska RC & D. Grant funding from the Gardner Foundation assisted with program costs and grant portion of the program.

Winside students attending included Kayla Bowers, Lindy Fleeer, Kalynda Hokamp, Jessica Wade, Susan Wittler and Reba Mann, sponsor.

WSC play to make encore performance on Oct. 29

A special encore performance of Bernard Kops' play "Café Zeitgeist" will be performed this Friday evening, Oct. 29, at 8 p.m. in Ley Theater, located in the Brandenburg Education Building.

The one-hour play, set in 1944 Hungary during World War II and the Holocaust, explores the roots of ethnic oppression and prejudice.

The play made its world premier on the WSC campus earlier this month as part of the "Lessons of the Century" presentation. This special performance will complete a day of activities honoring Dr. Sheila M. Stearns, who will be inaugurated as Wayne State College's tenth president Friday afternoon.

The performance is open to the public and admission is free. Seating is limited.

SERVE THANKSGIVING DINNER
The Christian Church of Wakefield is planning to serve its second annual traditional Thanksgiving dinner for anyone who has no where to go or no one to spend Thanksgiving with.

The congregation will serve a traditional turkey dinner with all the trimmings including pumpkin pie at noon on Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 25, at no charge.

Last Thanksgiving, the church served around 80 people. Much of the food served at the dinner was donated. The Christian Church expressed appreciation to the businesses and individuals who donated to the project a year ago. Anyone interested in contributing or helping with this year's meal is asked to please contact Deloy Benne at 287-9952.

For those in the community who do not have transportation, Pastor Glen Davis adds the church will be happy to provide that too. Please call the church office at 287-2412.

If you have no other plans, plan to share Thanksgiving dinner with your friends and neighbors at the Christian Church.

PROCESSING BEGINS

The Waldbaum Company began recently emptying tank trucks of egg product into the tanks at the new processing plant on the east side of Highway 35. The facility passed its inspection last Monday and began processing on Tuesday of this week.

Early in November, 1998, the company announced construction plans and work began almost immediately. The new plant when completed will have two dryers, a tower dryer which is now ready for operation, and a box dryer. A crane was moved into the site to begin installation of the box dryer. The company has a target date of the first of the year to begin drying with this unit.

Only egg whites will be dried at the new facility. When at full capacity the plant will be able to dry 600,000 pounds of liquid whites a day.

Residents can plan on getting an up close look at the new facility, as the company plans an open house, but has not determined a date.

2000 REUNION BEING PLANNED
Perre Neilan has announced a planning committee for the Wakefield High School Class of 1990 reunion.

"We put things together in a short time frame for our five year reunion in 1995 and had a great time," Neilan said, "but I think we'll need to spend some more time planning this one." Neilan was the Class President his senior year at Wakefield.

Neilan stated that Shawn Meyer, Buffany (Blecke) DeBoer, and Jennifer (Neal) Omel have agreed to serve on the committee, which Neilan expects to convene in the next month. The committee will seek input on the events and location from all 1990 graduates.

Tentative plans are scheduled the reunion weekend of July 1, 2000, to coincide with the other Wakefield Class Reunions. Neilan said, "The July 1 weekend provides an opportunity for our class to be 'back home' the same weekend as a lot of our other friends from high school."

Neilan continued, "All our lives have changed in just the last five years in many different aspects. Most of us are out of school and married. Many of us have children. That wasn't the case in 1995. Also, I hope to have an internet web page dedicated to the reunion to help keep everyone up to date on the plans. In 1995, I'd never even heard of the Internet."

COMMUNITY CLUB REPORT

Discussion began with a report on the playground equipment project. Contributions in the amount of $2,150 have been received from vendors who do business in Wakefield. The Girl Scouts are planning to do a skate-a-thon for the benefit of the project. A snowball tourney is also being discussed.

The Community Club is seeking decoration/craft material to be used in the wreath decoration contest during the Christmas Promotion. President Val Bard is talking to two area piano players about playing during the December 18 events, and also extending an invitation to area choirs to sing.

Graves Library has agreed to host story time at the Legion Hall that day. Christmas Committee includes Don Kuhl, Todd Kratke and Mark Demke. The committee is looking for another helper.

Reports were given by Terry Hoffman for the Wakefield Health Care Center and Lions Club; ministerium planning hymn sings; and Supt. Mike Moody reported the school is planning an Open House for the new construction and remodeling on Oct. 29.

Dan Zulkosky gave a report on city projects including new employees; levy project; lagoons, electrical updates; recycling center and new water rates.

Other reports were from the Senior Center by Iris Larson, Graves Public Library by Eugene Swanson; Educational Service Unit by Rod Garwood; Wakefield Firefighters and Rescue Unit who are planning a breakfast Nov. 7; Little Red Hen Theatre whose next production will be "Sorry, Wrong Chimney" and a Fashion Show set for Nov. 7.

President Bard in encouraging businesses and organizations to advertise Wakefield events in the organization's publication ATTEND MODELING/ACTING SHOWCASE Whitney Rouse recently attended an open call for the NYMC (a New York based modeling agency), held at the Sioux City Hilton Hotel on Oct. 5. It started with an enrollment form and a brief interview by the representative of the agency.

Whitney and around 30 others were chosen among 100 youth ages 3-18. The next step is to attend NYMC Showcase in Chicago, April 23-24. The first day of the two-day event is a workshop and the second day is presenting to clients of the agency.

Whitney, a fourth grader, is the daughter of Tim and Betty Rouse.

NYMC has launched the careers of numerous models and actors world wide. Their talent discoveries have appeared in film, sitcoms, national print, TV commercials, magazine covers, as well as fashion campaigns for designers.

The NYMC agency handles clients such as Gap, Calvin Klein, Versace, Guess, Abercrombie and Fitch. Some children picked through the agency have been in commercials including Burger King, Toyota, Rebock, McDonald's and Cabbage Patch Dolls.

ARTISTS OF THE MONTH

Art Instructor Kirby Mousel recognized outstanding efforts by 29 high school, junior high, and elementary students with "Artist of the Month" certificates.

BOARD OF EDUCATION MEETS

The Wakefield Board of Education held its regular monthly meeting on Oct. 11 in the boardroom. Visitors were Dan Zulkosky, Marvin Borg, Sandra Driskell, Jan Johnson, Lowell Johnson, Gerald Muller, and Daryl Harrison.

First on the agenda was Marvin Borg who expressed concern about the step on the northeast entrance to the elementary school. Moody replied with information from Carlson, West, Provondra Architects.

Zulkosky reported on lighting progress on the elementary school lot, the city's approval to pay 50 percent of the preliminary architectural fee on a proposed community school recreational facility and the need for building lots in Wakefield.

Lowell and Kathy Johnson presented a proposal for a duplex of four plex and asked if residential property will be make available and if so in what capacity.

Jan Johnson stated there are 23 students with a wide range of abilities in the second grade she teaches. Johnson credited student Jamie Guzmann for being very helpful.

Principals reports: Widner reported on surveys received from teachers, aides and families who participated in summer school.

Widner updated the Board on leveling in the elementary classrooms, stating that an assessment committees is working on an essential skills list for each grade that will give a clearer definition of goals for the students at each level.

Heimann discussed faculty goals for the 1999-2000 school year. The goals are student centered and each teacher will give justification as to how and why the goals will impact students.

Heimann also reported that a committee of K-12 teachers has been formed to determine the course of this year's Wakefield Institute.

Last of all, Heimann stated that the distance learning room is operational; therefore, the student now using the ESU #1 distance lab is able to take the class at the school.

Committee reports: Moody advised the Board that the school would like to have an open house for the new addition/remodel project.

He discussed LB728 (the latest version of the Student Discipline Act) and urged the Board members to contact legislative representation concerning this bill.

Moody and Yolanda Dutton were invited to conduct a class at Wayne State College on Tuesday, Oct. 12. A small group of Wakefield ESL students also attended.

Committee reports: Policy: Kratke reported on activities completed and activities in the works Building and Grounds: McAfee and Johnson met with Harrison to view an area for a proposed storage facility.

Lueth and McAfee discussed seminars they attended at the area NSBA meeting.

Old business: Discussion was held on a request for indemnification by Jeannie Surface. A special meeting will be held when the entire Board can be in attendance.

New business: They approved the Property tax request for the General Fund of Wayne County School District #90-05660 at $1,090,805 for the 1999-2000 fiscal year and the property tax request for the special Building Fund set at $82,921 for the '99-2000 fiscal year.

They approved the personal days requested by Kathy Johnson and Kathy Muller.

They approved the Sunday and out-of-state travel request from Kathy Mitchell.

They approved the request by the Industrial Arts Department to construct a 24 foot by 52 foot storage/accessory building on school property.

VISIT ZOO

Wakefield's second grade class recently made their annual field trip to Henry Doorly Zoo to further their study of the rain forest, its plants and animals and endangered species.

Classroom instructors are Jan Johnson and Janyce McQuistan.

Michelle Wiese, Goldenrod Hills Every Woman Matters Coordinator, puts up a poster telling about the importance of mammograms.

Every woman matters when it comes to health

As women age, their chances of getting breast and cervical cancer increases. Early detection is crucial to increase a woman's survival rate. According to the American Cancer Society, around 30 percent of deaths from breast cancer could be prevented if women aged 50 years and older received regular mammograms (or breast x-ray) for early detection.

In response to this statistic, Goldenrod Hills Community Services is offering a program called Every Woman Matters (EWM). The program is funded by the Nebraska Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, and targets women between the ages of 40 and 64 years that fall into specific income guidelines.

The Every Woman Matters Coordinator in the Goldenrod Hills service area is Michelle Wiese. She will be distributing information about the program, will be available for presentations on the subject, and will be involved with EWM enrollment.

The counties Wiese will be covering include Antelope, Burt, Cedar, Cuming, Dakota, Dixon, Knox, Madison, Pierce, Stanton, Thurston and Wayne, with particular emphasis on Burt, Cuming, Dakota, Dixon, Stanton and Wayne counties which have the lowest number of eligible women enrolled in Every Woman Matters.

Once a woman is enrolled with the Every Woman Matters program, she will receive a screening packet that includes a list of more than 500 participating clinicians she may choose from, along with a screening coupon. The screening coupon entitles her to a pap-smear, pelvic and clinical breast exam.

She may also be eligible for the following services:

- *Follow-up pap-smears, pelvic exams and clinical breast exams
- *Screening and diagnostic mammograms
- *Fine needle and cyst aspirations of the breast and lab work
- *Breast ultrasound
- *Coloscopy and Colposcopy-directed biopsies and lab work

Early detection is important to find breast and cervical cancer before it spreads to other parts of the body. The American Cancer Society recommends that when a woman reaches 40 years of age, she have a mammogram every other year.

When a woman reaches the age of 50, an annual mammogram is recommended. A mammogram, along with monthly self-exams and a diagnostic exam by a clinician, can be critical in a woman's long-term health care. An annual pap-smear is recommended for women over 18. Cervical cancer is almost 100 percent treatable if detected early on.

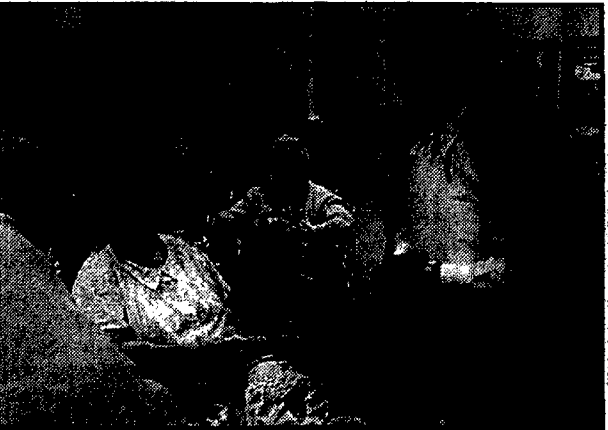

To determine income eligibility for the Every Woman Matters program, if there is one person in the household, for instance, yearly household income can be up to $18,540. If there are two people in the household, income can be up to $24,885.

Women interested in learning more about breast and cervical cancer, or in enrolling in Every Woman Matters may call Wiese at Goldenrod Hills at (402) 529-3513, Ext. 26 to determine eligibility and receive confidential information about the program.

Entertaining the residents

The residents of the Wayne Care Centre were entertained by several groups recently. On Oct. 22, fifth grade students from Wayne Middle School sang a Halloween song for the residents. They were accompanied on the guitar by Cheryl Kopperud. Students also presented each of the residents with a "ghost" they had made. The event was a part of the school's program in which the students do something each month for their "adopted grandparents." Below, members of the Wayne Area Kinship and Wayne State Psychology Club sponsored a Halloween Party at the Care Centre on Oct. 25. Dracula (Dan Miller-cosponsor of the group) visited with residents. Also included in the evening's activities was pumpkin painting.

WEEKLY TIP

Flossing Every Day Helps Keep Disease Away

People with gum disease have triple the risk of heart attack compared with those with healthy gums, according to research at the State University of New York. Unhealthy gums are linked to heart and lung ailments, osteoporosis, and diabetes. Brushing without flossing will not remove the plaque. Daily flossing removes up to 80% of interdental plaque. You should still see your dentist yearly to remove the plaque you've missed.

Another successful year

Members of the Wayne High School Blue Devil Marching Band traveled to Lincoln on Oct. 23 to participate in the NSBA State Marching Contest. The band competed in Class B with 10 other bands. The 154-member marching band received a superior rating for the 11th year in a row. Brad Weber, instructor of the band, expressed deep gratitude for the parents and others who traveled to Lincoln to cheer the band on or assisted in any other way through the marching season. "We had by far, the loudest and most fans," Weber said.

Red Ribbon Week celebrated

The Wayne FRIENDS Drug Free Youth Group is celebrating Red Ribbon Week, Oct. 23 - 31.

Red Ribbon Week is a national awareness campaign for drug and alcohol abuse prevention.

The Wayne FRIENDS is a drug-free youth group for students in grades 7-12. Members sign a one-year pledge to be drug-free and renew it annually. FRIENDS stands for "Facts Raising Interest Ending Needless Drugs."

FRIENDS planned a variety of activities to celebrate Red Ribbon Week and promote the drug-free message. Members of the Middle School FRIENDS group visited elementary classrooms and distributed red ribbons and pencils to the children, explaining to them the importance of staying drug-free.

A Red Ribbon Dance with the DJ Hitmen, was held for junior high students.

To commemorate the 10th anniversary of the FRIENDS group, which was started in 1989, a birthday cake, donated by Mrs. Sandra Gathje, owner of Tacos & More, was served.

The students organized a "Wear Red Day" with prizes, special home room announcements and a variety of other activities to raise awareness in the school and in the community.

FRIENDS members were encouraged to wear their "Don't Be Bullied Into Taking Drugs" buttons, purchased with funds from the Wayne United Way.

According to Joan Sudman, sponsor for Wayne Middle School FRIENDS, "kids need to belong and they need opportunities to direct their energies into healthy pursuits."

A drug free peer group is a support system and a source of fun and positive role models.

"The students want to make a difference. They decided to dramatize the 106 alcohol-related traffic fatalities that occurred in the state of Nebraska in 1998 by painting white body outlines on the sidewalk of the Middle School," Ms. Sudman said.

FRIENDS is part of a statewide network of drug-free youth groups. The group attends drug-free events sponsored by other towns. In September, 71 students attended a drug-free activity in Wakefield and in October, 56 attended a Fall Fun Fest in Wynot.

Some of the activities enjoyed by the participants included speakers, a talent show, games, small group discussions, energizers, refreshments and dances

Free flu shots are available for veterans

Veterans can receive free flu shots at the Veterans Center at 246 South Main Street in West Point on Friday, Nov. 5 from 9 to 11 a.m.

The event offers free flu shots (influenza immunizations) for all veterans provided by the VA Greater Nebraska Health Care System (Lincoln Division) and the Omaha Veterans Affairs (VA) Medical Center. No appointment is needed.

The flu shot is a vaccine that helps to prevent infection caused by influenza viruses. There are many kinds of influenza viruses, but the vaccine is produced to fight those most likely to cause flu in a particular year. This makes it especially important to receive a flu vaccine every year.

Veterans should bring a copy of their VA patient ID card or military discharge form (DD214).

Applications will be available for veterans who wish to apply for medical care at a VA facility. The VA Health Care System has many health care options to offer.

Wayne students to be radio show feature

Six 1999 Wayne graduates, Ryan Allemann, Melissa Fluent, Trisha Hansen, Erik Lutt, Ben Nissen and Christina Ruwe, will be featured on a half-hour radio program.

Nebraska Public Radio (89.3 FM) will feature the students on Friday, Oct. 29 at 6 p.m.

The program is one of Rural Voices Radio's series of six half hour radio programs in which students and teachers read what they've written about "place."

In Nebraska, four teachers submitted work from four schools and about 35 students read for the recordings, which took place at Waverly High School and Wayne High School.

Trisha Hansen of Wayne performed some of the music, along with a Michigan student and an adult writer/musician who is in the National Writing Project in Louisiana.

Rural Voices Radio emerged from a three-year project called Rural Voices, Country Schools (RVCS), in which English teachers gathered from time to time and talk about teaching writing.

Judy Schafer, English teacher at Wayne High School, is a member of the Nebraska RV, CS team.

RCVS is a project of the National Writing Project (NWP), out of the University of California at Berkeley. NWP believes that the best teachers of writing are the writers themselves. It now has what are called "sites" all over the country, in both urban and rural areas.

Philip Ross, a teacher at Waverly High School, was the local director for rural Voices Radio. Deborah Begel, a long time public radio producer, produced and engineered the program. The host is writer/teacher Kim Stafford of Portland, Ore., whose late father William Stafford was also a well-known writer.

The series was funded by NWP and the Annenberg Rural Challenge.

The other sites are Louisiana, Michigan, Washington state, Pennsylvania and Arizona.

"I was delighted to work with such a talented group of writers in Nebraska," Begel said. "Both the teachers and the students were top-notch both in their writings and the readings for the recordings."

Learning trip

Fifth grade students at Wayne Middle School, their teachers and several parents traveled to Lincoln on Oct. 15. The students toured Pioneer Park and Morrell Hall. While at Pioneer Park they took a nature hike through the park and learned a number of things about the plants growing there. At Morrell Hall, the group learned about the pre-historic animals on exhibit. Above, one group of fifth graders pose with their tour guides during the nature hike at Pioneer Park.

4-H program Helping youth succeed

The success of today's youth is very important for many individuals in our society.

Whether we are parents, teachers, coaches, relatives or friends, we share a mutual concern of making life a very positive experience for children and creating an environment in which they can succeed.

Many of today's youth are very positive learning environment. These skills are life skills that will allow an individual to succeed both today and in their future.

Sometimes however, success is not always easily achieved. One idea that the 4-H program uses to create more success is the involvement of parents and family members. One way this can be done is by helping a child identify goals.

The goal may be to make new friends, or acquire a new skill. Talking to the child about goals helps them be realistic about their time and abilities.

Showing support in a project will also help a child succeed. Often times a task is more interesting before the child begins, but being supportive and offering encouragement to get the job done gives a child positive reassurance and confidence when it is needed most. Let youth know that others are proud of them and appreciate their hard work.

Helping with time management is an important skill that is needed in every aspect of one's life. Sitting down with your child to work out a time schedule will result in less stress during a learning activity and greater satisfaction when the deadlines are met.

Sometimes things do not always go they are planned, but that is where caring adults can make a difference. Let the child know that most people learn more from their mistakes than from successes and that people who goof are not failures. These experiences only serve as stepping stones for more opportunities to learn and grow.

Volunteering in the activities that youth are involved in, shows them your willingness to share your time and talents. Even though things may turn out different than expected, be sure to notice that if a child is working hard on a project and cooperating with others, there is success there too!

Hopefully these ideas will help any child succeed in school, athletics or any other youth organizations in which they invest their time and talents. They are also a good formula for helping an individual succeed in life.

Red Ribbon Week

Students at Goldenrod Hills Headstart spent part of Monday decorating the city of Wayne with red ribbons in honor of Red Ribbon Week. The students and their teachers visited a number of business, handing out red ribbons and explaining what they symbolized. They also placed red ribbons on various places throughout town. The children emphasized that the red ribbons were a sign to "say no to drugs."

Briefly Speaking

'Because We Care' luncheon planned

AREA — The next "Because We Care" luncheon, sponsored by Providence Medical Center and featuring Mark McCorkindale, M.D. as guest speaker is slated for Wednesday, Nov. 10 at noon. This is a date change for this month only.

This month's luncheon will involve reviewing the survey handed out at last month's meeting on women's health issue.

These luncheons are generally held the first Wednesday of each month in the Education Room at PMC. Cost for the luncheon is $2 per person. Lunch concludes in time to allow guests to return to work by 1 p.m.

Those planning to attend are asked to make reservations by calling (402) 375-3800 before the day of the luncheon. Guests are also encouraged to keep in mind the date change for the month of November only.

Minerva Club discusses religions

AREA — The Minerva Club met Oct. 25 at The Oaks with Mary Defreese as hostess.

The program theme, "Religions of the World," continued with Minnie Rice giving the presentation on the Baptist religion.

The Monday, Nov. 8 meeting will be at the home of Beth Morris. Verna Rees will have the program.

Merry Mixers hold October meeting

AREA — The Merry Mixers Club met Oct. 12 at the home of Gertrude Vahlkamp with 11 members and one guest, Mrs. Vernon Godbersen, present.

The group enjoyed a trip to the Godbersen home to view a hobby display. They then returned to the Vahlkamp home where they each made a metallic candle holder.

The next meeting will be Tuesday, Nov. 9 with Ellain Vahlkamp.

Nov. 7 concert

Touch of Brass to perform

A Touch of Brass will present a concert on Sunday, Nov. 7 at 1:30 p.m. at Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne.

The group will also play at the 8 and 10:30 a.m. worship services at Our Savior on the same day.

The afternoon concert will feature a wide variety of music including Turkish Rondo by Mozart, Buckaroo Holiday by Copland, I Got Rhythm by Gershwin and West Side Story by Bernstein.

The concert is free and open to the public.

Members of the group include Denise Bender, French horn; Dave Bohnert, trumpet; Keith Kopperud, tuba; Keith Krueger, trumpet and Randy Neuharth, trombone.

Matilda Barelman, 60 years

LWML honors member

Pastor Brian Bohn opened the Oct. 13 LWML meeting with a lesson from the Quarterly "Free to Worship." Thirty-seven members attended.

The Care Centre committee helped with bingo at the Centre and served sandwiches to the residents. On the new Care Centre committee are Elsie Echtenkamp, Barbara Greve, Beverly Hansen, Esther Hansen, Ellen Heinemann, Laverne Heithold, Delores Helgren and Leona Janke with Barbara as chairman.

Matilda Barelman was honored for being a 60-year member of the Ladies Aid. She was presented with flowers and a pin.

Ruth Victor reported that the History Books have been brought up to date. She also reported on the September Quilting Day with five members helping. Six quilts were made. The group was scheduled to quilt again Oct. 28.

The visiting committee reported visiting the sick in the hospital and at home and sending many cards. New on the visiting committee are Dorothy Meyer, Melvy Meyer and Debi Morlok.

Esther Brader read some of the interests of the confirmation students as pointed out in a survey they had filled out. The students also asked the group to pray for them and their concerns.

Esther also reminded members of the LWML mission projects that have already been paid for and those to be paid for in the 1999-2000.

Bonnadell Koch will write to the Vicar this month. Mary Janke reported that the bake sale during Wake Up With Wayne was a success. A letter of thanks was read from the Wayne Chamber committee for participating.

The annual Cookie Walk will be held Dec. 11. Cookies are to be brought to the Student Center on Friday, Dec. 10 between 4 and 6 p.m. Money raised from the event will be used to purchase new window treatments for the church basement windows.

Bonnadell Koch also reported that 82 of the older folding chairs have been painted to match chairs which were purchased with money from last year's cookie walk money.

A thank you was read from Adeline Sieger. Everyone signed a get-well card for Mrs. Bernthal.

Bev Hansen gave a devotion that "others will see the light of Jesus through us." The group then sang "O Christ, Our True and Only Light."

The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer and the table prayer. Honored for October birthdays were Irene Victor, Esther Baker, La Von Beermann, Renata Anderson and Esther Stoltenberg.

Serving at the Nov. 10 meeting will be Bev Hansen, Milly Thomsen and Phyllis Nolte.

Methodist Women meet

Twenty members were present for the Oct. 13 United Methodist Women Executive meeting. President Hallie Sherry opened the meeting with a prayer. She also read a Litany with all members responding.

"Take My Life and Let it Be" was sung, accompanied by Connie Webber.

Several will be attending the officers training center on the 28th at either Osmond or Pender. Correspondence was read from Epworth Village and Duane and Betty Marburger. Hallie Sherry thanked everyone for remembering her on her 80th birthday with visitation, cards and money. She sent $130 to UMCOR.

New dividers will be made and installed in the silverware drawers per recommendation of Dorothy Brandstetter. It was suggested to solicit all food for funerals and not buy any at stores and charge to the families. This idea was rejected by the committee and they voted to continue as they have been doing in the past.

The Nov. 13 UMW meeting will be held at 9 a.m. with the new girls group.

Mission reports-

Donna Hansen, Spiritual Growth, reported several new UMW books were present and she handed out a new book list.

Marj Porter, Education and Interpretation, reported quilts will be tied in January.

Mona Claybaugh, Social Action, reported the hours of the recycling station.

The Christmas Fair and workers needed was discussed. Hallie gave out several stamped towels and pillow cases to be embroidered for the fair.

The UMW was presented several awards of achievement recently by the UMW of the Nebraska Conference, Epworth Village, The Pearl Level of Honor Award, two Certificate of Achievement awards and the Seven-State Ribbon.

Sherry installed all officers for the new year. Each received a corsage for Missions by Mary Wax. "Great is our Faithfulness" and "Freely, Freely" was sung by all, accompanied by Connie Webber.

Joyce Niemann and Doris Stipp presented "Out Pledge Service" with the help of Pauline Merchant, Marj Porter, Helen Rose, Mona Claybaugh and Verna Mae Creamer.

Birthdays remembered were for Norma Ehlers, Hallie Sherry, and Donna Hansen. The birthday song was sung for them. Prayers were offered for Kay Kemp, Verna Rees, Keith Brasch, Ray and Maxine Robins, and Lloyd and Lila Brown.

Tables were decorated by Rose Sedivy and Helen Rose, hostesses. A brown bag lunch was held at noon.

All joined hands and repeated the Lord's Prayer to close the meeting.

Fauneil Bennett calls Evening Circle to order with 12 present

Vice President Fauneil Bennett called the Grace Lutheran Evening Circle to order on Oct. 12 with 12 members and Pastor Anderson present.

Christian Growth Leader Carol Rethwisch led the group in a reading entitled "The Devil has many tricks but Jesus has many Treats." She also a reading on the Reformation which was the beginning of the Protestant churches in a great religious movement in the 16th century.

Pastor Anderson gave a Bible Study from the LWML Fall Quarterly entitled "Free to Share."

A motion was made to discontinue collecting stamps but to turn in already collected stamps by the end of November.

Carol Rethwisch reported on Stuart Rethwisch's activities as a seminary student.

Vice President Rethwisch reported that the officers for 1999 will be on the nominating committee.

Mites were collected and the meeting was closed with the Lord's Prayer.

Hostesses were Mardella Olson and Jan Casey.

'Breakfast' hosted at WSC

Wayne State College hosted their fourth annual "Eye Opener Breakfast" on Friday, Oct. 15, in the WSC Student Center. Twenty-nine area school superintendents, high school principals, and guidance counselors attended the event.

"This is an opportunity for us to showcase our campus and to let high school counselors and administrators see first-hand what students will experience when they come to Wayne State College," said Brian Taylor, director of admissions at WSC.

Taylor added, "The relationship with high school administrators is important to the college and the annual breakfast is one way we say thank you for supporting their regional public college."

The group also took a "virtual tour" of the WSC campus which was lead by Dr. Sheila Stearns, president at Wayne State College. Stearns described the many campus facilities and amenities available to WSC students and the academic facility and technology improvements made to the campus in recent years.

"We are justifiably proud of Wayne State College and of the quality educational experience students receive here," said Stearns, noting, "our continued commitment to our service region and our students has placed Wayne State in a tremendous position for the coming millennium."

Our Savior Circles have lesson on 'useful bridges'

The Program Circles of Our Savior Lutheran Women of the ELCA met Oct. 13 with a lesson on "useful bridges."

Madge B. Jar was leader for the Faith Circle and hostesses were Lone Dunklau and Gena Puls.

Elaine Menke was leader of Joy Circle and hostesses were Donna Lutt and Ruth Bruns.

Janice Barelman was leader for Love Circle and Marilyn Bodenstedt was the hostess.

Correspondence read included a thank you notes from The Oaks for the table favors made at the September meeting and the Megan Schwarten family for serving her funeral luncheon.

In the past month Christian Service Groups had served an Over 70's dinner, juice and cookies for Rally Sunday, Rally Sunday dinner, a golden anniversary and six funeral lunches.

The Visitation Group had met Sept. 15 with 12 visitors and Pastor Koerber present. Devotions were on music and the way it affects everyone's lives. Sixteen members had been hospitalized this past month. Dorothy Aurich will assist in sending cards due to the illness of Ardyce Reeg who had helped for several years.

Fifty-nine thinking of you, one baby and one sympathy card had been sent. Fifty-seven members were visited.

Lyla Spittgerber will take over Dorothy Grone's place in Church Women United.

The program circles will meet again on Wednesday, Nov. 10.

Thank offering boxes should be brought to the November meeting.

UNMC hosts Career Day

Wayne High School students April Wicks, Amy Magnuson, Mandy Hansen, Dustin Schmits, Kristin Wilson, Elizabeth Campbell, Terry Munson (advisor), and Becky Brumm, all of Wayne, attended Rural Health Professions Career Day recently at the University of Nebraska Medical Center (UNMC) in Omaha.

The UNMC Student Association for Rural Health, made up of students from rural areas studying at UNMC, held Rural Health Professions Career Day Oct. 4. The event introduced students with an interest in health careers to the multitude of careers available in the health sciences.

Around 165 high school students and teachers from 64 rural communities learned about opportunities in medicine, nursing, pharmacy, dentistry, physician assistant, physical therapy, medical technology and other fields.

They watched presentations, visited with health professionals and toured UNMC and University Hospital.

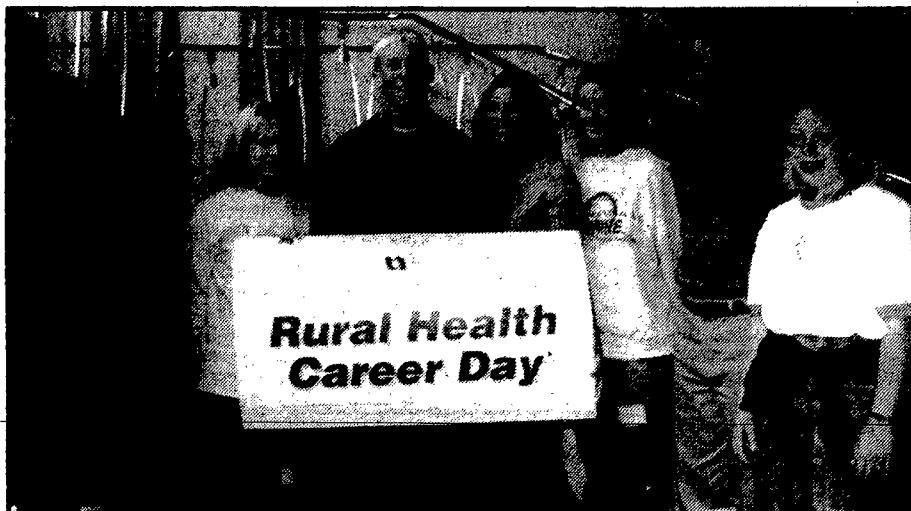

Students met with UNMC representatives from the colleges of dentistry, medicine, nursing and pharmacy, the school of allied health professions and financial aid.

In the afternoon, each student attended three 45-minute informational sessions from among nine topics: nursing, physical therapy, medical technology, financial aid, medicine, physician assistant, dentistry, radiography or pharmacy.

Around one-half of the physicians, pharmacists, dental professionals and allied health professionals practicing in Nebraska were trained at UNMC. The Rural Health Professions Career Day is one of many UNMC efforts to assist in "Growing Our Own" future health professionals for Nebraska.

"We see events like this as a chance to connect with high school students throughout the state and get them interested or acquaint them with UNMC and its educational programs," said Roxanna Jokela, Rural Health Education Network coordinator.

Lucky winners

Don and Delaine Matthes of rural Wayne are shown "stealing" the keys from Arnie's Ford Mercury Representative Ken Kwapnoski. The Matthes' were recent contestant winners in receiving a one-year lease of a Ford Explorer at a Sioux City Explorers Baseball game. Northland Ford Dealers and the Sioux City Explorers presented the contest.

Preparing for the hunt

Dennis Murray and Chuck Carhart, left were among the 40 adult mentors who were involved in the Youth Mentor Hunt held Oct. 16. Sponsored by the Logan Creek Chapter of Pheasants Forever, the first annual event involved the chapter acquiring a permit allowing the young people to hunt prior to the start of the hunting season. A total of 41 pen-raised pheasants were released for the youth to hunt. Assisting with the event were hunting dogs, Bandit (left) and Duck (right). Below, the chapter also sponsored a blue-rock shooting event to help hunters improve shooting skills.

Farmers may be eligible for loans

Farm Service Agency (FSA) Wayne County Office has announced that family farmers in Dakota and Dixon counties who suffered physical losses caused by excessive rain, flash flood, flooding, hail, high winds, lightning and tornadoes that occurred between June 22 and Sept. 1, 1999 may be eligible for FSA Emergency (EM) loans.

Thurston and Wayne counties also became eligible because they are contiguous to one or more of the designated counties. The current interest rate for the EM loan is 3.75 percent.

Family farmers interested in finding out if they are eligible should contact Mark Moser, Wayne County Farm Loan Manager in Wayne, Craig Rowland, Dakota county Executive Director in South Sioux City or Daryl McGhee, Dixon County Executive Director in Ponca for information.

They can be reached Monday through Friday between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. The Wayne County office telephone number is (402) 375-2453, extension #2. The Dakota County Office phone number is (402) 494-1950, extension #2 and the Ponca County Office phone number is (402) 755-2277, extension #2.

Emergency loan applications will be received through the local FSA county office from any applicant who qualifies for a physical loss in Dakota, Dixon, Thurston or Wayne counties. To qualify for an EM loan, an applicant must be an established family farm operator; provide evidence of having suffered a qualifying physical loss, be unable to obtain suitable credit from a source other than FSA.

The damaged or destroyed physical property must be essential to the successful operation of the farm to qualify for an EM loan. FSA loans covering actual physical losses may be used to repair equipment, livestock or buildings (including homes), lost through this disaster.

The deadline for submitting applications is June 8, 2000. Applicants for all FSA programs will be given equal consideration without regard to race, color, sex, creed, marital status or national origin.

Warner selected to 'Who's Who'

Justin Warner of Allen recently received notification from the Publishers of "Who's Who Among American High School Students" that he has been selected to have his bibliography published in their national publication.

Warner is the son of Jack and Rhonda Warner of Allen and the grandson of Norma Warner of Allen and Victor and Janet Knesche of Wayne.

He is a junior enrolled in the Allen Consolidated School. His activities include basketball, Tractor Driving, Livestock Judging Team, Welding team, secretary of the FFA and a junior escort at Homecoming.

He is a member of the Pleasure and Profit 4-H Club. He is junior member of the American Charolais Association and Nebraska Charolais Association and Nebraska Ayrshire Association.

Who's Who has been the largest, most respected publication in the nation recognizing students for their achievements in academics, athletics and extra curricular activities since 1967.

Only five percent of all high school students receive this award each year.

Programs Offered via satellite

The University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension is highlighting a Family Week, Nov. 7-13.

To support the program's educational component, two state-wide interactive programs are being offered via satellite on Nov. 8-9 from 7:30 to 9 a.m. at the Haskell Ag Lab in Concord.

The program on Nov. 8 is called "Raising Successful Kids" and on Nov. 9 is "Being in the Middle: The Sandwich Generation."

The panel of experts covering the Successful Kids topic includes three NU professors in psychology, ethnic studies and family and consumer science. This group will cover responding to and developing a child's interests, passing on goals and values, the impact of family stress and the impact of activities.

Under the Sandwiched Generation topic, four professors in counseling, public policy, nursing, medicine and family and consumer science will highlight communication, finding support, preventing crisis, working with siblings and legal, safety and financial issues.

Those interested in attending these sessions are asked to contact the Dixon County Extension Office at (402) 584-2234 or 1-800-755-7765 for a brochure and registration form.

The registration fee is $10 per person until Nov. 1 and $15 after this date.

Sun mysteries revealed at Planetarium

The peak of the sunspot cycle approaches as the Wayne State College planetarium show, "Day Star," is unveiled to audiences, Oct. 31 through Nov. 21.

Shows will be presented on Sunday afternoons at 3:30 p.m. in the Fred G. Dale Planetarium, located at the south entrance of the Carhart Science Building on the WSC campus.

"Day Star" will feature a look at the star nearest to Earth, the Sun. Special topics include include solar storms, the aurora and eclipses.

Special showings may be arranged for school groups and other organizations by contacting the planetarium at (402) 375-7343 or check out the planetarium web page at <http://www.wsc.edu/academic/mathsci/planetar/>

Tree colors are gorgeous during the fall season

It's been an especially frustrating week in health care. I'm going to work on the dried up flower beds this afternoon; hopefully, taking out my frustrations on the weeds. I've been covering plants that need to be brought inside, too. The hibiscus got nipped even with a quilt over it.

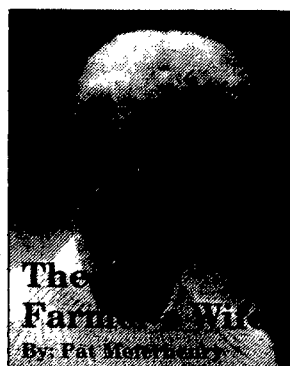

I've enjoyed the tree colors this month. Those in Nebraska City are especially gorgeous. Driving around in Seward yesterday, we saw some more. We grandparents, and even great grandma, visited St. John school for grand parent's day.

Just as in my days of school nursing, I marvelled again at the patience and talents of elementary teachers. I was jealous of the gym class. I still believe that, had I had the training these kids get, I would not be so uncoordinated.

We have five guests this weekend, sisters having a retreat, and they have been having a good time. We frequently have family groups like this, including moms and in laws, too. A month ago, it was five siblings and spouses, sans kids and grand kids. They get together every fall, and take turns hosting and planning it. A neat tradition.

We've been booked for New Year's Eve for two months. Judging from what we read, we should have doubled our prices. I can't believe what a furor the millennium is causing.

We had BLTs for lunch, one last time. The Big Farmer picked a bunch of tomatoes just before the hard freeze, and they are ripening nicely. They aren't as flavorful as they were a month ago, but are still better than those in the stores.

The Farmer's Wit
By: [Name]

Of all things, I've lost my glasses. I'm forced to wear my prescription sunglasses to write this or read anything, which looks mighty strange inside the house. The last time this happened, Mike found them in the yard, near where I park the car. They aren't there today, however; and I'm about to give up and order some new ones. Which is more expense I hadn't counted on, grumble, grumble.

At least it's sweat shirt and jeans weather, and sunglasses are appropriate for the yard work this afternoon. I'll enjoy while I can. Does anybody reading this do windows? I'll give you a bed and feed you.

Dates set for soybean referendum

Now through Nov. 16, 1999 the Department of Agriculture will provide producers an opportunity to participate in the Request for Referendum on the Soybean Promotion and Research Order at local FSA offices.

This request for referendum is being carried out under the authority of the Soybean Promotion, Research and Consumer Information Act. The Order provides that the Secretary, five years after the conduct of the initial referendum which was held on Feb. 9, 1994, will give soybean producers the opportunity to request a referendum on the order.

Producers may request a referendum by mail, facsimile or in-person in the county FSA offices from Oct. 20 through Nov. 16. Individual producers and other producer entities will be provided the opportunity to request a referendum at the county FSA office where FSA maintains and processes the producer's administrative farm records. For the producer not participating in FSA programs, the opportunity to request a referendum would be provided at the county FSA office serving the county where the producers owns or rents land.

Main requests must be post-marked by Nov. 16, 1999 and received in the county FSA office by Dec. 1, 1999. All other requests made by facsimile or in person, must be received in the county FSA office by Nov. 16.

To be eligible to request a referendum, you must have been a "person" engaged in the growing of soybeans in the United States who owns or shares the ownership and risk of loss of such soybeans from Jan. 1, 1997 through Nov. 16, 1999. The term "person" means an individual or a legal entity (for example, a corporation, partnership, estate, etc.) or a group of individuals with a joint ownership interest in soybeans (for example, a family, a cooperative, an association, etc.)

In this Request for Referendum, each eligible "person" may request a referendum once. Spouses who jointly produce soybeans are considered to be a "family" (i.e., a "group of individuals") and are not entitled to a separate request even in community property states. No one is authorized to request a referendum on behalf of an individual producer.

Questions about eligibility, challenges, the challenge resolution process, appeals of eligibility determinations, counting, reporting and related topics should be directed to county FSA offices.

Questions about Request for Referendum procedures (e.g., how to obtain ballot materials, where and when to request a referendum) should be directed to the county FSA office. Any other questions about the Request for Referendum should be referred to Ralph L. Tapp, at the Agricultural Marketing Service, Washington, D.C. at (202) 720-1115.

If the Secretary determines that at least 10 percent of the U.S. producers engaged in growing soybeans (not in excess of one-fifth of which may be producers in any one State) support the conducting of referendum, the Secretary must conduct a referendum within one year of that determination. If these requirements are not met, no referendum would be conducted.

Dixon County Teen Leader meeting to be held at Concord

There will be a Dixon County Teen Leaders Meeting on Sunday, Nov. 14 at 2 p.m. at the Haskell Agricultural Lab near Concord.

Chlamydia is US Most Commonly Reported Infection

According to the Food and Drug Administration, chlamydia is the most commonly reported bacterial infection in the US. Three to four million American men and women have the infection each year. Most are between ages 15 and 19.

The bacteria (Chlamydia trachomatis) is transmitted during sexual contact with an infected partner. Symptoms often are silent (up to 75% of women and 50% of men have no symptoms). A major concern of health officials is that, if the infection is not treated, the negative effects on a woman's reproductive system can be significant.

The good news is that this common infection can be treated with oral antibiotics. One of the best treatments is with a single dose of azithromycin. Although doxycycline may be used to treat chlamydia, it must be taken for at least seven days.

Great Dane Trailers, one of the largest trailer manufacturers in the United States, continues to grow because, according to the company's employees, they manufacture the "best trailer in the country." Great Dane Trailers, a division of Great Dane Limited Partnership, manufactures the Super Seal refrigerated trailer. Super Seal is one of the most popular units in the market today.

The Great Dane plant in Wayne is one of five plants where Great Dane trailers are manufactured. The first trailer built in Wayne was finished in April 1986. The plant was then purchased by Great Dane from Timptre Trailers in 1988.

In the first years of production, the plant averaged approximately 30 trailers per week. Today, Great Dane makes approximately 115-120 trailers per week. In June of 1999, the plant produced its 40,000th trailer. There are now more than 41,000 Super Seal refrigerated trailers hauling produce and frozen good across the United States and Canada.

Great Dane's success is largely due to a dedication to meet customer needs. Great Dane's growth has resulted from the dedication of the employees to produce a high quality trailer. The Great Dane Trailer division has manufacturing plants in Wayne, Memphis, Tenn.; Savannah, Georgia; and Brazil and Terre Haute, Ind. The headquarters for Great Dane Trailers is in Savannah, Georgia. In January 1997, Great Dane Trailers merged with Pines Trailers to form Great Dane Limited Partnership. To accommodate the plant's production increase, the Wayne plant has been expanded on three separate occasions, with the most recent expansion in July of 1998.

Great Dane offers its approximately 600 employees a benefit package that has expanded dramatically since the plant first opened.

If you like being part of a winning organization with great growth potential. A modern work environment and you like being appreciated and rewarded for your efforts to help the team continue to win, you should be a Great Dane Employee. Terrific benefits. Great opportunities for salary and job advancement and a generous bonus plan. all make Great Dane a family you should join. Three different shift options are available (depending upon openings at time of application)

CORRECTION

The Winside Halloween party being held Sunday, Oct. 31 in Winside Legion post will not be a costume judging party. It also will be only for preschool through fourth grade children.

Each child is to bring a picture that they have colored. Pictures will be handed out at school and preschool children can pick up pictures at Oberle's Market or at Winside State Bank.

These pictures will be judged for prizes and all children will be given treats.

The doors will be open from 5 to 6:30 p.m. The event is being hosted by the Roy Reed American Legion Auxiliary Post #252.

BUSY BEES

Irene Fork hosted the Oct. 20 Busy Bees Club with six members and one guest, Lavern Greunke, present.

Plans were discussed for the group's December Christmas dinner.

Chicken foot was played with prizes going to Marian Iversen and Bonnie Wylie.

The next meeting will be Wednesday, Nov. 17 at Ruby Ritze's home.

CENTER CIRCLE CLUB

Shirley Bowers hosted the Oct. 21 Center Circle Club with 11 members and two guests, Karen Hartman and Jami Jaeger. Club books were handed out and dues collected.

Club President Helen Holtgrew conducted the meeting. Committees were picked to check on places for the December Christmas party. The date will be Dec. 9.

Secret sister names were revealed and new ones drawn. The birthdays of Rose Janke, Betty Andersen, Cleora Fisher, Shirley Bowers and Audrey Quinn were honored.

The next meeting will be Thursday, Nov. 18 with Claire Brogrens. Roll call will be "What Do You Give Thanks for at Thanksgiving."

Ten point pitch was played with prizes going to Helen Holtgrew, Irene Bowers and Rose Janke.

MODERN MRS.

Bernice Witt of Winside hosted the Oct. 19 Modern Mrs. Club with two guests, Hilda Bargstad and Irene Ditman, present.

Prizes were won by Hilda Bargstad, Bev Dangberg and Arlene Pfeiffer.

The next meeting will be Tuesday, Nov. 16 in Wayne at Grandma Butch's at 1:45 p.m. with Esther Carlson as hostess.

TRINITY WOMEN

Thirteen Winside Trinity Lutheran Church Women met Oct. 13 for their monthly meeting.

Mary Ann Soden opened the meeting and roll call was taken. Kathy Jensen had the Bible lesson "Fall Up, Fall Down, Fall Apart."

Bertha and Adolph Kohliff have moved from the Pierce Manor to The Homestead in Norfolk.

A letter of thanks for the meal provided was read from Stephanie Lorenz of the WeLCoMe House in Wayne.

The junior youth group tied quilts that were made by church members. The quilt auction at Camp Joy Holling was discussed.

A new church sign has been made by the senior youth group and displayed on the north side of the Winside highway entry.

Dorothy Jacobsen was hostess.

The next meeting will be Wednesday, Nov. 10 with Dorothy Jacobsen as lesson leader and Gene Rohlf as hostess.

SENIORS

Twenty-eight Winside area senior citizens met Oct. 18 for an afternoon of cards. Norris Weible of Wayne was a guest speaker and discussed the early days of baseball in Winside.

VerNeal Marotz of the Winside Volunteer Rescue Squad took free blood pressure checks. Four October birthdays were observed with cake and ice cream.

The next meeting will be Monday, Nov. 1 with a potluck dinner at noon at the Legion Hall.

HEALTHY LIFESTYLE

Members of the Healthy Lifestyle Club met Oct. 18 for a weekly meeting.

The calendar contest ended and a new turkey contest will begin and run through Nov. 29. Several articles were shared and the importance of water each day was discussed.

Meetings are held every Monday in the auditorium kitchen at 5 p.m. Guests and new members are always welcome.

Members of Winside Brownie Troop #167 and their families recently enjoyed a hayrack ride and hot dog roast at the Larry Meyer home.

Winside Brownie Troop participates in activities

Winside Brownie Troop #167 has been involved in several activities in recent weeks.

On Sept. 27 the group met at St. Paul's Lutheran Church for a hayrack ride.

The ride took them to the Larry Meyer home where the investiture took place. All the girls were given their pins, certificates and an on-time patch.

A hot dog roast and smores followed the hayrack ride.

The Brownies met Oct. 4 with all 12 Brownies present.

Treats were brought by Cassie Mrsny. Games were learned and played to earn try-its. They included games from different countries.

The Pledge of Allegiance was recited along with the Girl Scout pledge.

The troop also met Oct. 25 with all 12 girls present.

Hillary Lineman brought treats. The Girl Scout Pledge and the Pledge of Allegiance were recited. The girls then sang "Happy Birthday" in honor of Juliette Low, the founder of Girl Scouts.

More games were learned to earn their two try-its. (Try-its are badges.)

The next meeting for the girls will be Monday, Nov. 8.

Scouts are reminded that they should return their pizza tickets and bring one or two first aid items, as well as a pair of old shoes.

Dr. Sheila Stearns

Tenth President of Wayne State College

October 29, 1999

Wayne State College to inaugurate Dr. Sheila M. Stearns Friday, Oct. 29

Wayne State College will celebrate the inauguration of Dr. Sheila M. Stearns as the school's tenth president on Friday, Oct. 29.

The ceremony will be at 3 p.m. in Ramsey Theater, in the Val Peterson Fine Arts Center, on the WSC campus. A reception will follow the ceremony in the WSC Student Center.

Delegates representing approximately twenty colleges and universities are expected to take part in the ceremony. Among those will be two of Wayne State College's past presidents: Dr. Ed Elliott and Dr. Donald J. Mash. Dr. Ken Halsey, who recently served as interim president, will also attend.

Stearns is the College's first woman president and the first woman to lead any of the three Nebraska States College System institutions.

Dr. Stearns, 53, was born in Fort Snelling, Minnesota. She attended school in Glendive, Montana, a small agricultural community in eastern Montana. She received her bachelor's degree in English in 1968, Master of Arts in History in 1969, and doctoral degrees in Education in 1983 from the University of Montana.

Dr. Stearns began her career in education as an English and social studies teacher in Wiesbaden, West Germany in 1969. Returning to Montana in 1972, Dr. Stearns served as Media Specialist and librarian in Missoula School District number one. In 1980, she held a graduate teaching position in the University of Montana School of Education while completing her Ed. D., a position she held until 1982.

Dr. Stearns was named Director of Alumni Relations at Montana University in 1983, and was promoted to Vice President of University Relations in 1987. In 1993 Dr. Stearns became Chancellor of Western Montana State College in Dillon, the position she held until coming to Wayne State College.

Dr. Stearns and her husband, Hal, have two adult children: Scott, 27, an attorney; and Malin, 22, a middle-school teacher in Charleston, S.C. Hal is a Brigadier General in the Army National Guard and a long-time high school history teacher. Hal, Scott, and Malin are all graduates of the University of Notre Dame.

Dr. Stearns gives her philosophy on education leadership

A Personal Perspective
Sheila M. Stearns, Ed.D.

ENJOY LEARNING for its own sake. An educational leader must love the heart and soul of the enterprise. Effectiveness in advancing the welfare of the University to internal and external audiences must flow from a thorough understanding and joyful appreciation of the University's educational mission.

WORK HARD but with balance and perspective. Students, faculty, trustees, donors, alumni, and taxpayers expect from a University President energy, enthusiasm, dedication, and skill. They are entitled to a leader who enjoys the good mental and physical health that derives from a satisfying personal and family life.

TRUST OTHERS, especially those charged with leadership of sectors of the University. Communicate clearly and frequently about shared goals and strategic vision. Trust others to help develop the vision and goals. Be respectful but wary of private agendas or requests for micromanagement. Trusted colleagues will be forthright about personal and institutional priorities. They will repay that trust many times over.

BUILD TEAMWORK among colleagues charged to assist with leadership and management of the University. Large organizations are too complex for lone rangers. It is not false humility to ask others for help and advice; it is wisdom.

FORM PARTNERSHIPS with community, business, and state leaders. Public universities must collaborate creatively for regional economic development, for unique projects of benefit for and beyond the University. Every private gift is a form of partnership with a valued donor.

PARTICIPATE FULLY in the life of the campus: student activities, staff socials and workshops, faculty colloquia, teaching and scholarship. The President does not have to lead nor attend every single activity, but she should enjoy playing a significant, appropriate role in the lively activities that make the University a special place in our society.

LEAD AND FOLLOW. The Governing Board is entitled to leadership from the President in the formulation of strategic goals. It is equally entitled to a President willing and able to follow the policies and vision that have been set, and who can convey that vision persuasively to all members of the University community.

SAY NO, when necessary. Not every idea or request is healthy for the University, writ large, even if it may have merit for a particular individual or department. The President, with the advice and assistance of other officers, should make well-informed decisions based on solid information. Consensus does not work for every decision. Unpopular decisions occasionally must be made, sometimes very quickly. The President must care more about credibility than popularity.

COMMUNICATE. Be well-informed, open, and honest. Speak and write with clarity and care. Get out of the President's Office regularly to look and listen.

HAVE FUN. If the President thoroughly enjoys her job and the people she serves, excitement for learning and high achievement are more likely to permeate the entire University.

Interesting one

Stearns' road leads to Wayne State

Editor's Note: Dr. Sheila Stearns is Wayne State College's new president, officially taking office on July 1. She comes to WSC from Western Montana State College in Dillon, MT. Her road to Wayne is an interesting one. In her own words, Dr. Stearns outlines her journey to becoming the tenth president of Wayne State College.

The Road Taken...

Hal and I have a sense of adventure. We left secure positions early in our careers to teach in Wiesbaden, West Germany. We spent every cent we earned to travel all over the world using the Frankfurt airport, 30 miles from our home on the Rhein River, as a launching pad. A highlight was visiting the temples of Angkor Wat in December of 1969, just months before they were closed to western visitors for almost a generation.

On the small-world side, at Wayne State we met faculty member Jan Dinsmore, who taught in the same junior high with me in Wiesbaden. Jan and I left at the same time, both of us to start our families. In Hal's and my case, we returned to Montana. I already had a degree in English and a master's degree in history. I decided to pursue a doctorate in educational administration.

My graduate research had been in educational history, writing my thesis and dissertation about remarkable educators at the college and public school levels. I knew from my research and writing that neither road in the educational world would ever be boring. In August of 1983 Hal and I took a long hike in Glacier National Park up to Granite Park Chalet.

I had just been offered two positions as I finished my doctorate. In one I would have been the first woman principal of one of Missoula's 18 elementary schools, at least the first one in many years. In the other I would become Director of Alumni Relations for the University of Montana, on a career path toward university governmental relations and administration. I had been a teacher and school librarian. Hal was a longtime high school history teacher. Public education was our world.

The other road before me was intriguing: university administration. We were at 8000 feet above sea level. I don't know if life-changing decisions should be made in thin air. But as we hiked upward with our two small children, it seemed as clear as the mountain air that I should take the road I had never expected to travel, toward college administration.

I accepted the position with the University of Montana. In 1987 I was appointed Vice President of UM, and in 1993 Chancellor of Western Montana College in Dillon.

Now a new path has lead me out of the mountains to the flatlands of north-east Nebraska. We didn't need to take another Glacier Park hike to make this decision. Wayne State College, its students, faculty, staff, trustees, and community supporters eased the way.

It's the people. I grew up on the high plains of eastern Montana, directly overlooking the Yellowstone River. A small proud community such as Wayne makes me feel instantly at home.

Visiting Wayne in mid-April, conversing with the variety of students at WSC's Open House on April 16, Hal and I enjoyed meeting many students with their own sense of adventure. Even brief conversations with current and prospective students energize us. They're better than caffeine or platform shoes or mountain hikes to lift me up.

Hal ended his 28-year teaching career in 1994 to devote more time to other careers: Assistant Adjutant General of the Montana Army National Guard, Coordinator of the UM-Western graduate degree in education, and Lewis & Clark buff and tour guide. It means that he is frequently absent with leave, but we've adjusted. Our long distance telephone company loves us. Our children are grown but not yet sending money to us. We can expect that soon, right?...fellow parents of twenty-some-things?

We like to golf, hike, dine out, travel, read and spend time with our children and extended families.

Education is our vocation and avocation. We have taken many roads, but they all seem to lead toward learners and learning. We are pleased and proud to be joining Wayne State College as fellow travelers in the educational adventures of a vibrant regional college of national distinction."

Gov. Johanns to speak at luncheon

Nebraska Governor Mike Johanns will be the keynote speaker at the inauguration luncheon of Dr. Sheila Stearns. The by-invitation only luncheon will be held at 1 p.m. on Fri., Oct. 29, in the Frey Conference Suite of the WSC Student Center.

"Building the Foundation of Tomorrow's Nebraska United." "This is a tremendous honor and I am pleased the Governor has taken time in his busy schedule to attend the luncheon," said Dr. Stearns.

Stearns noted the importance of government's support of higher education and the long-standing positive relationship Wayne State College has enjoyed with the leadership in Lincoln.

Born in Osage, Iowa, Johanns received his bachelor of arts degree from St. Mary's College, Winona, Minn. in 1971 and his juris doctorate from Creighton University in Omaha in 1974.

He practiced law in O'Neill from 1975 to 1976. Johanns moved to Lincoln, where he worked as a partner in the law firm of Nelson, Johanns, Morris, Holdeman and Titus until his election as mayor of Lincoln in 1991. After nearly eight years as mayor of Nebraska's capital city, Johanns was elected to serve as Nebraska's 38th governor on Nov. 3, 1998.

The inauguration ceremony will be held following the luncheon at 3 p.m. in Ramsey Theater, located in the Peterson Fine Arts Building on the WSC campus. The ceremony, as well as the reception following, is open to the public.

O where, and O where does the class of '15 dwell?
 O where, and O where do those worthy Seniors dwell?
 We dwell with "Alma Mater,"
 At the home we love so well,
 And it's oh! in our hearts
 That her praise our lips might tell.

O where, and O where is your class of '15 gone?
 O where, and O where have those worthy Seniors gone?
 We've gone to prove the fame
 Of the Normal on the hill,
 And it's oh! in our hearts,
 That we might be with her still.

Suppose and suppose that the '15 class should win!
 Suppose and suppose that the worthy Seniors win!
 The banners waving o'er us,
 Tell victory as we will,
 And it's oh! in our hearts,
 That bet trust we'll e'er fulfill.

ADMINISTRATION

THE SPIZZERINKTUM

"Our Administration Building"

What does the new Administration building mean to the Normal? What will it mean to the future of our school? These are the questions which every loyal student has often considered.

A few months ago we saw on our campus piles of brick, lumber and tile, heaps of sand and blocks of marble and stone. Now these have all disappeared and in their place we see the finished structure. Each brick and block of stone has found its allotted place and fulfilled its purpose. Does this mean that our building is simply an organized collection of brick, lumber and stone? Is it simply a heap of materials?

Looking at it from another point of view, this edifice existed even before all this material found its way to our campus. Every window, every door, every room and every ornament had received definite place on the blue-prints of the architect. Now each feature exists not only in imagination, but even in reality. For months a busy crowd of workmen have been engaged in bringing to a realization the plan and purpose of the architect. But do we mean no more than the apartments, rooms and hallways when we speak of our new building?

Surely it has a deeper, more lasting significance than this. For several years now our president and the men and women at the head of this institution have been planning and dreaming of the time when such a building might be possible. It has required much foresight, labor, and patience on the part of the president to bring his dreams and aspirations to a realization. In it are embodied his hopes, ambitions, and even prayers for the welfare and success of our institution. There have been times when the clouds of disappointment and failure were all too heavy and foreboding, but by patience and perseverance they were driven back and our new building has become an actuality. This building spells growth for the Normal and proves that the Wayne State Normal is a live, progressive institution. It also spells hope for the future and gives a reliable assurance of years of successful service.

We also see reflected here the high ideals and ambitions of the people of Northeastern Nebraska in educational lines. There was a time in the history of the state, not so very many years ago when Nebraska's only educational provision consisted of scattered one-room country schools. Now it demands for its youth, and is willing to provide, the best advantages possible. This building is an indication of the importance Nebraska attaches to the educational training of her sons and daughters.

Finally, this building is a lasting monument of the devotion of the present generation to the principles of education. For not only will this building serve this generation, but will continue as an inspiration and aid to those who shall follow. Thus this valuable material and equipment, destined to serve its purpose and fall into decay, symbolizes the spiritual struggles and ideals of the present generation and renders possible a noble service to thousands yet unborn.

Presidential medallion is designed and cast by WSC art professor

The presidential medallion for this inauguration was designed and cast by Mr. Ray Replogle, professor of art at Wayne State College. This medallion is the fifth Wayne State College presidential medallion created by Mr. Replogle and is a reproduction of the medallion made for Dr. Lyle Seymour's inaugural ceremony.

The 3 1/2" in diameter design represents the college initials and the lamp of learning which is featured on the official Wayne State College seal. The president will wear the medallion at appropriate academic occasions.

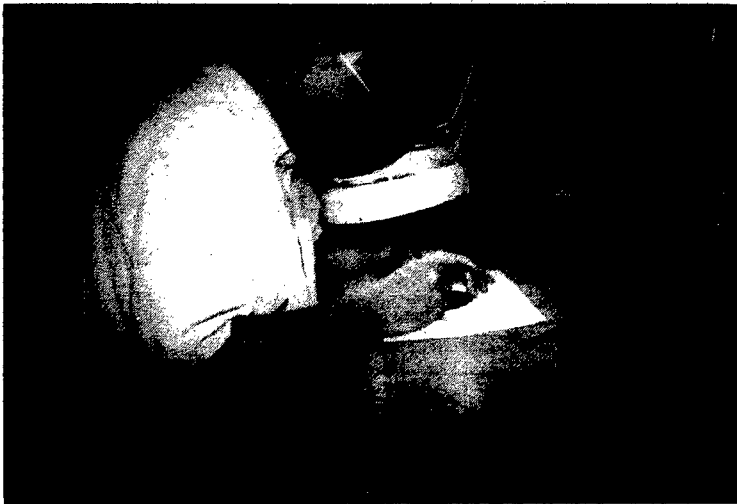

"I have been honored to be asked to design and produce each of the unique presidential medallions. The medallions each say something about the president who wore them. This one, for Dr. Stearns, is the start of what she hopes will be a tradition. I have made one for her to use during her tenure here and one to pass on to the next president.

Since this one is a reproduction of the medallion I made for Dr. Seymour, Dr. Stearns has seen fit to begin a academic tradition here and utilize this very striking design," Replogle said.

Replogle, who has been an instructor at WSC for 32 years, and served under presidents Elliott, Seymour, Coffey, Mash, and now, Stearns, believes the tradition of the medallion is a good one.

"It represents our College at academic functions such as commencement ceremonies. Colleges and universities are about traditions and academic achievement. I am pleased to be part of this tradition," he stated.

Replogle estimates he has worked for more than 25 hours on this version of the medallion. He initially created a wax mold, melted metal and the poured the molten metal into the mold. Once cooled, a great deal of sanding and hand polishing went into the medallion.

WAYNE STATE COLLEGE

NEBRASKA

Wayne State College was established as the Nebraska Normal College at Wayne in 1891, and founded and operated by Professor James M. Pile until his death in 1909.

In that year, the Nebraska State Legislature authorized the purchase of the property, buildings and equipment of the Nebraska Normal College and renamed in the State Normal College. It opened under that name in September, 1910, with Dr. U.S. Conn as president.

In 1921, by act of the State Legislature, the school became a State Normal School and Teachers College with legal authority to grant baccalaureate degrees in education.

In 1949, the Legislature changed the name of the institution to Nebraska State Teachers College at Wayne and granted authority to confer the baccalaureate degree for study in liberal arts. The graduate program leading to a Master's degree was authorized in 1955, and in 1963 the Legislature changed the name of the college to Wayne State College.

From the 75th Anniversary Book —

Genesis

"Mr. Pile's College" as it was called in the beginning was founded in 1891 and was the third attempt to set up such an institution in Wayne County. First had been the effort of Willard Graves who in 1871 deeded to a group of trustees 10,000 acres of land for the purpose of establishing a college in Wayne, Dixon or Cedar counties.

A proviso added that if funds matching those gained from the sale or lease of the land should come from Wayne County, the college was to be established in that county. The provisions were not met and the proposal died.

In 1887 a Lutheran Academy moved from Homer to Wayne. Classes offering high school and college subjects met in different places, including rooms above the State National Bank on Main Street. The town donated a site for a permanent academy building, and digging started for the foundation. Unfortunately, the Academy failed in 1889.

Summer schools in 1889, 1890, and 1891, conducted by the Wayne County School Superintendent, had been highly successful, chiefly because of James M.

Pile, professor of mathematics at Fremont Normal School, who instructed in them. In turn, he was impressed by the desire for higher education among the local people and their keen interest in making it available to everyone.

After teaching in the summer school of 1891, Mr. Pile moved to Wayne, intent on establishing a college here, counting on the good wishes and devoted help of friends in the town.

A group of such friends, officially recognized as the "Nebraska Normal College Association," purchased a tract of land and divided it into 600 lots, two of which were set aside for a campus. The rest were sold for $35 each, and the money raised (about $20,000) was used to erect and equip a college building.

The building was completed in the fall of 1891 and the Nebraska Normal College opened in November. Mr. Pile was elected president of the new institution by the trustees of the association.

The college building was a three-story brick edifice with an attic and was home to the five-member Pile family. It also housed the kitchen and dining room, the president's office, the music room, library, four classrooms, and the chapel.

In the attic were rooms for men and, in the sub-basement, were steam boilers and fuel bins. Its cost was just under $20,000.

In 1892 the college had a faculty of six, including both Mr. and Mrs. Pile. Classes ran from 6 a.m. to 10 p.m. President Pile taught nine classes daily in addition to doing the administrative work, counseling students, and lecturing on behalf of the college.

The college was organized on a schedule of eight-and-ten-week terms, and any student was admitted who could read an ordinary textbook. The students could attend for as long or as short a time as suited his or her needs. A student could leave when necessary, enter a class at any time, and receive credit when the subject was sufficiently mastered.

Tuition (by 1895) was $125 per year and included board and room. During the hard times of the 1890s, tuition was sometimes paid in garden produce, eggs, butter, mild and labor. Corn, worth only eight cents a bushel at the time, was accepted and burned for fuel.

During the first five years of operation, total annual enrollment rose from 237 to 910, with average term enrollment at

281. The campus grew to five acres, two homes on adjoining lots were acquired for temporary use as a gentlemen's dormitory, and, in 1897, according to the original agreement with the trustees, the property was deeded to Mr. Pile free of encumbrances.

Through the next twelve years until his death in 1909, Mr. Pile continued to advance and improve his school. New buildings were erected, the curriculum was expanded, and the campus was enlarged. Enrollment grew steadily and the faculty was increased. After the hard times of the nineties, optimism returned, and the solid growth of the college and its probable future prosperity became clear to all.

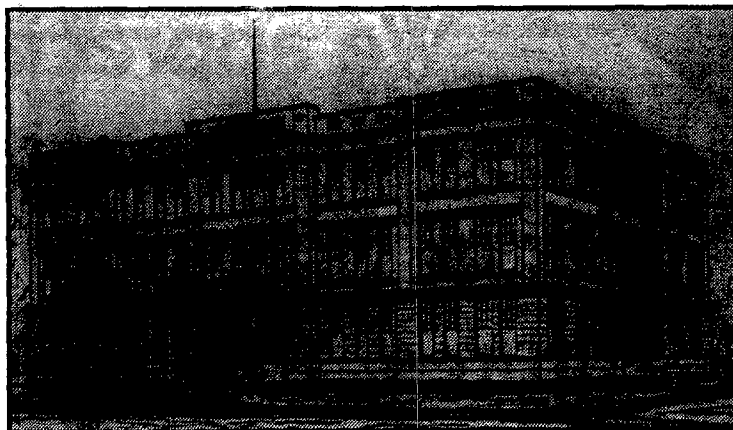

When Mr. Pile's health declined, he indicated he would welcome retirement. The idea of turning the school over to the state became very attractive to the people of Wayne. In anticipation of its sale to the state, Mr. Pile in 1903 pre-

The state legislature was inundated with objections to the choice of Wayne and with letters proclaiming the advantages of other schools in other communities.

Four men of Wayne are credited with the success of obtaining the passage of Bill 139 which eventually provided for the purchase of the Wayne school by the state.

After the introduction of the bill in January 1909, the group from Wayne became known as the "third House" in Nebraska's two-house legislature as they stayed almost continually in Lincoln working for its passage. They were Phil H. Kohl, Henry C. Ley, James Britton, and John T. Bressler.

After much anxiety and further opposition, the bill was finally passed, and on April 6, 1909, Governor Ashton C. Shallenburger signed it. Thus was born the Wayne Normal School, having pared an inventory listing in detail the assets of the college. He set a value on the property of $61,130, but he offered to sell it for $35,000.

Six years passed before the sale was made. In the meantime, building went on and 150 classes recited every day. The last major undertaking of Mr. Pile was the erection in 1906 of a three-story brick auditorium.

Conflict arose as soon as Wayne proposed the purchase of the school by the state of Nebraska. Other nearby communities had schools they would have liked to become state normal colleges.

acquired the necessary funds, offered $70,000 and the Pile family accepted.

Since Mr. Pile had recently died, Mrs. Pile was asked to continue running the school while faculty and staff members were chosen. Dr. U.S. Conn, an old friend of Mr. Pile and then teaching at Columbus, was selected as the new president.

The first session of the State Normal School at Wayne began on September 19, 1910.

Leadership

Dr. U.S. Conn, the first president of the new State Normal School, took office in September 1910. He had been a teacher in the Pile school and was a logical successor to the founder of the original school.

Like Professor Pile, Dr. Conn was dedicated to promoting scholastic ideals among students. He believed in hard work and the rewards thereof. He was kind, dignified, and a firm disciplinarian.

Available records show he alone among administrators one "rusticated" a student for behavior judged unsuitable.

Early in his career as president, Dr. Conn put the college on a traditional calendar of two semesters and required regular attendance by students. No longer could students come and go for a few weeks or months as had been the case in the Pile era.

In 1910 there were seven buildings on the campus in addition to the president's residence. Trees were small; landscaping was still to come. The faculty numbered fifteen. During the twenty-five years of Dr. Conn's presidency, immense changes occurred. He was aware of future possibilities for the college, and he worked steadily to establish a basis for that development.

Many new buildings were erected in those years and some of the older ones were torn down. Between 1911 and 1930 the library and science buildings, the administration building, the industrial arts building, and the training school were completed. Connell, Pile, and Neihardt Halls, all dormitories for women, appeared.

Trees grew rapidly, providing shade and lessening the campus' former barren appearance. An artificial lake, begun in 1919, also served as a skating rink in winter. The present Willow Bowl grew out of that beginning. The enrollment in 1919 was 354; in 1922 it was 449.

In 1921 the Nebraska Legislature changed the name from Nebraska Normal School to State Normal School and State Teachers College at Wayne. The faculty could now present four full years of classes and grant bachelor's degrees in education.

Other items of interest in Dr. Conn's long tenure include the appearance of the first college year-book, the Spizzerintum (or Spizz, as it was commonly called) in 1914. The campus was twice enlarged - by 40 acres in 1918 and by 11 more acres in 1931 when the athletic field was added.

In 1935 the newly-formed Katz Club found the bell which in Pile's day had been rung for classes by John G. Neihardt, refurbished it and mounted it on an outdoor pedestal. It was thereafter rung whenever Wayne's football or basketball teams scored a victory.

Alumni who remember the Conn years and recall him as a grave and dignified man, also remember that he willingly stood in loco parentis for any student needing advice and counsel.

He listened unhurriedly to whatever the problem might be and gave sympathy and encouragement, often resulting in the student's continuing in school instead of dropping out as had seemed the alternative.

Dr. Conn had taught Greek to student John G. Neihardt at Nebraska Normal College in the 1890s, and Latin was considered a desirable subject during his presidency. The English classes studied classical works; history and foreign languages were required courses.

There was a definite linking of modern learning with the great works of the past; thus an air of classicism held the school to past times as its president and staff planned for a brilliant future.

Dr. Conn resigned in 1935, and Dr. J. T. Anderson became the president of Wayne College from 1936 to 1946. In the years of his administration preceding World War II, hundreds of students took part in the growth of musical groups under the direction of John R. Keith and Professor Russel Anderson.

The Symphony Band and the Symphony Orchestra, directed by Keith, presented many programs. From the personnel of the band, thirteen members formed the Swing Band which furnished music for dances and proms.

The A Cappella choir, directed by Professor Anderson, presented the "Messiah" at Christmas time in 1941 and gave a concert at Joslyn Memorial in Omaha in April of that year. The culmination of all the increased enthusiasm in music was the first annual Music Cam held in June 1945. This popular summer program continues to this day.

New organizations on campus included the Future Teachers of America formed in 1939 and the Women's Athletic Association begun in 1944. Athletic activity was curtailed by the departure of many young men who entered military service in World War II. By 1945, however, football teams were again practicing.

The administration of Dr. Anderson was greatly affected by the second World War.

In 1940 Wayne was one of eighty colleges throughout the nation chosen as a cadet training center, and in 1941 it was one of the first schools in the state to receive approval for a flying unit. The three planes furnished for flying instruction were used for flight training by the cadets who came a year or so later.

In March 1943 an Army Air Force Crew Training Detachment, the 349th, moved to the campus, and Terrace Hall became a barracks. The last cadet class left Wayne in April 1944, and the school gradually resumed its former appearance with the return of veterans.

A Veterans Club for ex-service men and women was formed in 1946, and by the second semester of that year, eighty veterans were members. A government-owned trailer camp was acquired by the college for veterans and their families for a two-year period.

After ten years of service to the college, Dr. Anderson resigned in August 1946.

Dr. Victor P. Morey, the academic dean, moved up to the position of president after Dr. Anderson's resignation. He held the office until 1951 when he died suddenly of an apparent heart attack.

During the five years of his term, there was a steady growth in the numbers of campus clubs and organizations. Included were Greek chapters Alpha Rho of Pi Omega Pi, Epsilon Pi Tau, and Alpha Psi Omega. Students and faculty joined the World Student Service Fund which raised money to help their counterparts in war-ravaged countries. Various projects collected more than $450 on campus.

Athletic programs rebounded from the quiet years of World War II. In addition to the familiar basketball and football activity, there were indoor tournaments in volleyball, badminton, table tennis, and boxing, as well as outdoor sports of archery, horseshoes, tennis, golf, and track.

Wayne College went "on the air" when students first broadcast radio programs in 1951.

In 1949 the legislature again changed the name of the college to Nebraska State Teachers College at Wayne, and authority was granted to confer bachelor's degrees in liberal arts. The first such degree was granted in 1950.

In 1950 Wayne State Memorial Stadium, dedicated to World War II veterans, was completed. Governor Val Peterson spoke at the official dedication. Student enrollment in 1951 was 763.

After an extensive search for a new president, Dr. John D. Rice was chosen and took office in 1951. Dr. Rice had held administrative positions in schools since his graduation from college in 1924. He had been superintendent of several schools in Nebraska and was serving as such in Aberdeen, South Dakota, when he was called to Wayne State Teachers College.

Dr. Rice regarded his new job as a direct challenge to one of his basic beliefs.

Through his many years of directing and instructing, he had carefully observed the teachers working under him and had arrived at the firm conclusion that the excellence of schools was in exact proportion to the training that teachers had in preparing for their jobs. During those years, he had encouraged teachers of vision and had counseled those who needed to improve.

This, then, was one of his first priorities as president of Wayne: to see that teachers trained here excelled not only in mastery of their subjects but also learned to present those subjects in a way that appealed to students.

Dr. Rice found at Wayne a corps of interested faculty believing in his goals. He made friends with area school superintendents and sought their thinking. He began school administration courses and introduced a vocational homemaking program. The business department grew, training students for teaching or for jobs in business and industry. He gained the authority to grant master's degrees, but the program was not established until later.

Despite modern advances in technology and in the promoting of ever higher degrees for aspiring students, Dr. Rice's philosophy is widely echoed at the present time when educators are stressing the urgent need for better trained teachers for all our schools. Perhaps it can be said that Dr. Rice was thirty years ahead of his time.

In 1954 plans for a new library to be built on the site of the president's home caused the Rice family to move off campus. They found a pleasant house near the campus where they were living when Dr. Rice died in 1956.

Dr. William A. Brandenburg's presidency of seventeen years from 1956 to 1973 holds second place in length to that of Dr. Conn.

Only an outline is possible when summarizing the activities and growth of Wayne College under Dr. Brandenburg. Activities ranged from anti-Vietnam War dissent, to a trial run of a trimester calendar, to the observance of the college's Golden Anniversary. Additional buildings and improvements in landscaping went steadily forward.

Brandenburg a "builder," and a list of new and improved buildings during his tenure lends credence to that designation.

Continuing the building program envisioned by Dr. Rice, he saw the Rice Auditorium completed, Anderson Hall completed, and the Conn. Library enlarged.

New structure included the Student center, Berry, Morey, and Bowen Halls, the Val Peterson Fine Arts Center, the Carhart Science Building with its Planetarium, and the Benthack Hall of Applied Science.

The 1950s and 1960s saw widespread student dissent throughout the nation because of the war in Vietnam. At Wayne there were sit-ins, bomb threats, and other manifestations of student discontent, but compared to many other campuses, Wayne's anti-war demonstrations were far from riotous.

In 1960 Wayne State celebrated its Golden Anniversary, fifty years after its purchase by the state. Celebrities attending the event included Governor Dwight Burney, Ambassador to Denmark Val Peterson (class of 1927), State Commissioner of Education Freeman Decker, and Senator Gale McGee (class of 1936). Decker and McGee were awarded the Distinguished Service Award at that time.

The masters degree program was begun in 1962, and the first such degree was received by Vernon Broberg in that year. In 1962 Hahn High School was closed and the off-campus student teaching program was started. A trimester system was tried, but the results were questioned and the experiment was soon dropped.

In 1961 Dr. Brandenburg, with the collaboration of Val Peterson who was still in diplomatic service at the time, was instrumental in starting the Wayne State Foundation with the stated objective of providing scholarships and financing projects not covered by tax revenue.

In 1963 the college was given its present name, Wayne State College. In 1970 its eight divisions were organized into four schools, each headed by a dean: the Schools of Humanities and Fine Arts, Science and Technology, Behavioral and Social Science, and Education.

A wide variety of other activities included the approval of a seal for the college, the regular visits to campus of the Bloodmobile, and the beginning of the Christmas Elizabethan dinners with music by the Madrigal Singers.

Groups of singers, dancers, famous speakers, and musicians appeared on campus during the Brandenburg years. Pierre Salinger, Itshak Perlman, and opera tenor Jan Peerce were a few of the many of equal fame. The college administration was rightfully proud of furnishing such outstanding programs for the students and townspeople.

In 1973 Dr. Brandenburg resigned the presidency in order to return to teaching. He became ill and died in 1975.

When Dr. Brandenburg resigned in 1973, dean of faculties Dr. Lyle Seymour was named Interim President. He acted in that capacity while the State Board of Trustees interviewed a number of applicants for the job of president. A year later, Dr. Seymour was offered and accepted the position, and in April 1975 the first inauguration of any Wayne College president was held for him.

Among all administrators of Wayne State, Dr. Seymour is unique in one respect. Not only had he been a teacher in the school he now headed, but he had also been a student here. After graduation from Wayne High School, he attended Wayne College for two years before going to Iowa State University for his Bachelor of Science degree. From there he went to the University of South Dakota where he received the PhD in biochemistry.

During World War II, he served as a bomber pilot in England for the U.S. Air Force. He joined the Wayne State faculas a chemistry instructor in 1953. In 1961 he became chairman of the division of mathematics and science, and in 1967 he was appointed dean of faculties.

Dr. Seymour, after working with Dr. Brandenburg for several years, continued his policies in many respects. He encouraged the variety of education experiences among students by promoting trips abroad whereby they spent several weeks in Germany, Spain, or Scandinavia, earning college credits by taking classes there.

Special tours were available for groups to visit New York and Washington.

Enrollment, which had reached a high of more than 3,000 in 1968, decreased with the end of the military draft, and the result was financial problems for the college. Some faculty cuts were therefore required.

In March 1982 Dr. Seymour announced his retirement, and later that summer he became the executive secretary of the Wayne State Foundation, a position he held until December 1983.

The seventh president of Wayne State College was Dr. Ed Elliott who was appointed to that office by the State College Board of Trustees in July 1982.

Dr. Elliott's academic history included a masters degree from Columbia University in 1964 and a doctorate in education from the University of Northern Colorado at Greeley in 1969.

He came to Wayne State in 1971, and as a full-time faculty member was director of graduate studies in 1971-72. He was dean of special studies from 1973 to 1975, Vice President for Academic Affairs from 1975 to 1980, and Vice President of the College from 1980 to 1982.

Upon assuming the presidency, Dr. Elliott was aware that Wayne State needed greater visibility and that the enrollment problems were significant. His first objective was to organize an institutional advancement program on an aggressive and specific basis. Whereas most college enrollments are declining and will continue to do so until 1990, Dr. Elliott's efforts have resulted in an increase at Wayne State which now has the second highest enrollment in the history of the college.

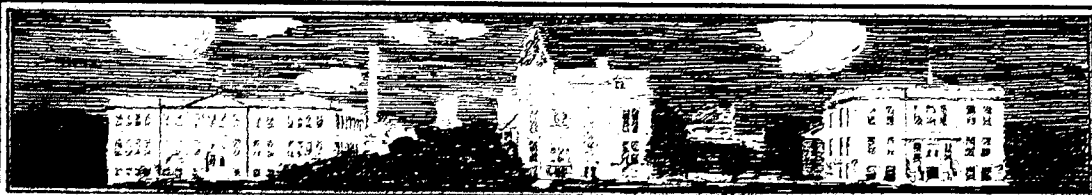

Dr. Elliott secured legislative approval for granting masters degrees in business administration (MBA) although the program has not yet been inaugurated.

He created a Nebraska Scholars Program which will attract top intellectual students from the northeast part of Nebraska. The program will become active in 1986.

Plans for an addition to Rice Auditorium have been approved by the state board and by the legislature. The addition will increase the size of the building by 50,000 square feet and will be ready for occupancy by 1987.

Dr. Elliott vigorously promoted the formation of the Wayne State College Alumni Association on a nationwide basis and worked with officers and trustees of the Wayne State Foundation to advance as rapidly as possible the effectiveness of that fundraising organization.

Dr. Elliott announced his resignation effective on July 1, 1985, to take the presidency of Central Missouri State University.

From a Former Student

College Hill is as pleasant a place

As ever I have found;
It overlooks Wayne County
For miles and miles around;
The College crowns its summit;
The jewel of its fame—
Its students from far and near
Its praises do proclaim.

Full twenty years have passed away
Since that old hill I've seen;
Should I attend commencement
Of nineteen fourteen,
When I climb that honored hill,
And note the change thereon,
My thoughts will be with other days
With Wayne Normal, the by-gone.

Professor Pile is there no more
With greetings to respond—
How changed and lonely it must seem—
He has passed to the Great Beyond.

Not one of the teachers shall I find
Of eighteen ninety-three,
Not one old College mate of mine
Will be there to welcome me.

The buildings all are different now.
It will be a rich surprise
To find anything except the hill
That I can recognize.
The hill stands like a monument,
And that I know I'll find,
A dedicated landmark,
A beacon for mankind.

It bears Nebraska's Northern Normal,
And who can measure or compare
The fame, the glory, the renown,
That in time may have birth there?
When twenty more years elapse,
If I am living still,
I'll try to go to Wayne again—
And visit College Hill.
