Veterans are honored at board coffee

By Lynn Slevers
Of the Herald

With Veteran's Day at hand, honoring those who have served our country is a natural thing to do. This Veteran's Day, though, has been made special by several area veterans receiving their high school diplomas. With the onset of WW II, many were forced to leave and not finish their education.

Arthur Grone of Winside and Donald Denbeck of O'Neill, formerly of Wayne, were presented their diplomas Monday night at the Wayne High School during the Honor Coffee held prior to the regular school board meeting. Phyllis Spethman, Wayne Community Schools Board president made the presentation. The diplomas were made possible through a state program called "Operation Recognition."

Two more veterans, Malvin Nydahl of Winside and John Hansen of Wayne, will receive their diplomas on Veteran's Day during ceremonies slated in the area. Nydahl will receive his diploma at 8:45 a.m. in Winside at the Winside Elementary School multi-purpose room and Hansen will receive his at 6 p.m. in the Ley Theatre on the Wayne State College campus.

Grone went to country school at District 69 and then went to High School in Wayne. He completed the tenth grade and then went into active duty in the U.S. Army from February, 1946 to April, 1947. He was an Auto Technician, Tech 5 while stationed in Japan. Grone farms near Winside. His family consists of his wife, Ruth, and two daughters, Karen Vandervest and Gail Roach.

Denbeck attended school in Wayne and completed the eleventh grade before enrolling in the service in the Army Air Force where he reached Staff Sergeant. He was in active service from February, 1943 to April, 1945. In his younger years in Wayne, he helped in the family business, Denbeck Meat Market, which was located in the building where 'The Wardrobe' is. Later, he built the 'El Rancho' restaurant which was located 15 miles south of Wayne and about a quarter of a mile west on Highway #275. Denbeck was also in the hotel business having hotels in

WSC Basketball games to be broadcast on KTCH

The Wayne State College men's basketball games for the upcoming 1999-2000 season will be broadcast on KTCH Radio (104.9 FM) in Wayne, WSC interim director of athletics Greg McDermott announced.

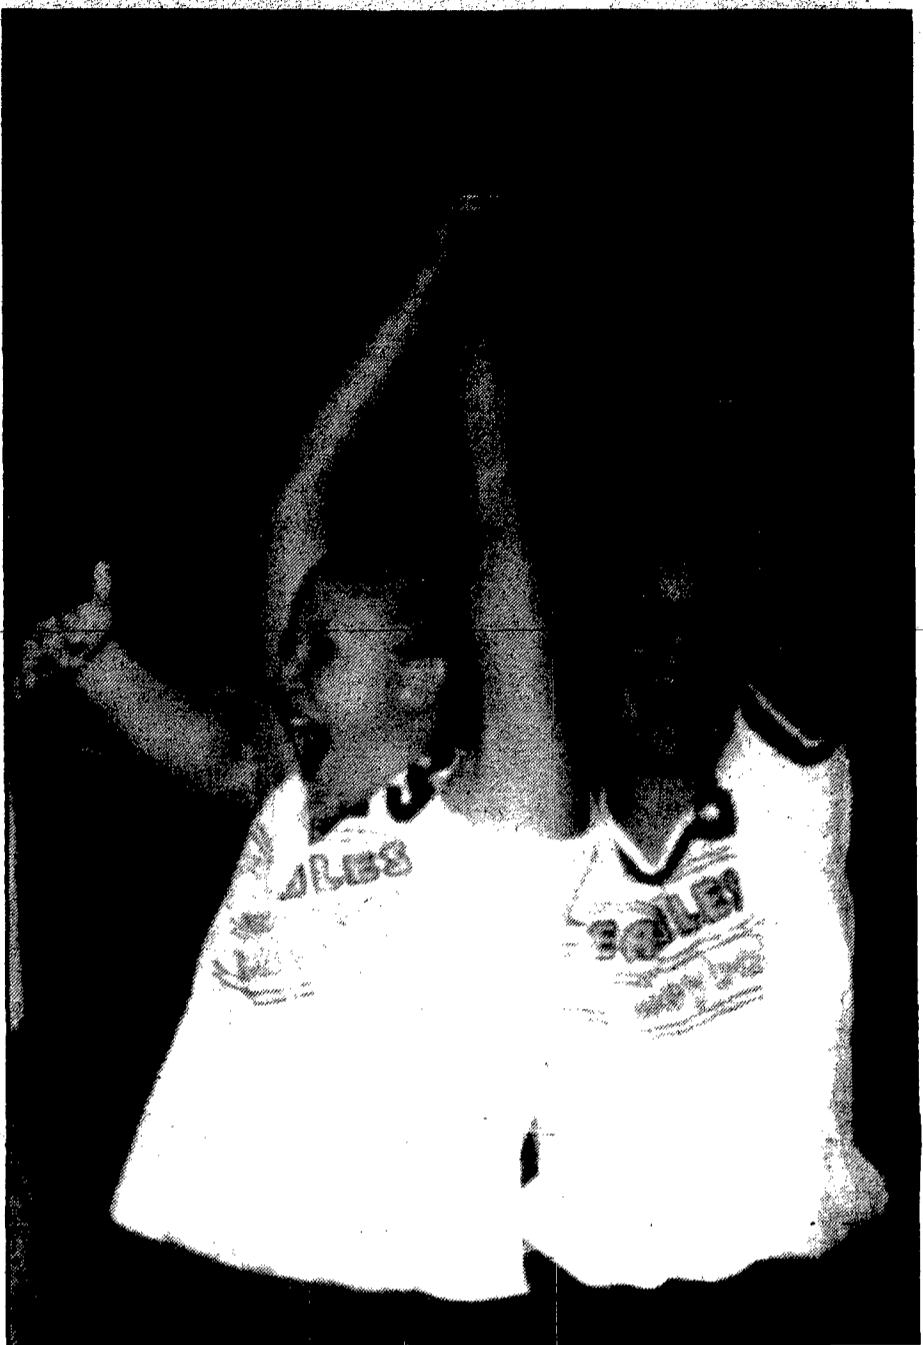

The switch to KTCH came after KWPN Radio (107.9 FM) in West Point said it could not honor its current contract with Wayne State due to scheduling conflicts.

As a result of joining the Northern

Sun Intercollegiate Conference, Wayne State will play almost all of its conference games on Friday and Saturday nights.

According to McDermott, KWPN representatives said that situation conflicted with their coverage of high school basketball games.

Scheduling should not be a problem with KTCH, McDermott said, because KTCH also has an AM sta-

Council discusses sidewalks

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

The issue of sidewalks was on the agenda at Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne City Council.

Council first approved Resolution 99-56, accepting work in Sidewalk Improvement District No. 99-01.

The work in this project has been completed and a schedule of assessments will now be prepared.

The Council also listened to proposed revisions in the sidewalk improvement policy for future work to be done.

Public Works Superintendent Vern Schulz presented several items for consideration. He stated that in the past, criteria for replacing sidewalks was not clear in all areas.

Schulz then showed a number of pictures and reviewed the list of criteria for sidewalk improvement in future projects. Among those are that any crack over one-half inch or any area with more than a half-inch difference between sections of the sidewalk will be marked for removal.

Work is planned for the southeast quadrant of the city during the summer of 2000.

Council person Jane O'Leary expressed a desire to have wording in the policy that stated that attempts would be made to preserve trees within the sidewalk district and Councilman Will Wiseman asked that wording be included that would state that any areas not fixed before the city's contractor arrives at a site, would be fixed by the contractor. Property owners do have the opportunity to complete sidewalk projects on their own rather than use the firm hired by the city.

Bob Keating and Pat Garvin, members of the Recreation-Leisure Service Commission, spoke to the council.

The group recommended the hiring of Prochaska & Associates of Omaha to develop preliminary concept plans for a Community Recreation Center. The firm will look at information already done by the group and work with the public group that originated the idea of a community recreation center.

The cost of the work done by the firm is not to exceed $12,000.

The firm is currently working with Wayne State College and has done other work in the community.

In other action, the council lis-

The meeting will be facilitated by the Northeast Nebraska Economic Development District, which is currently assisting Cedar and Cuming County to update their comprehensive plans and zoning ordinances.

All interested persons are encouraged to attend.

The Wayne County Commissioners are also trying to ascertain whether any residents would be interested in serving on a planning commission, the entity responsible for overseeing the project.

Two escape Dixon jail

Two male subjects escaped from the Dixon County Jail on Nov. 6.

The escapees made a small hole in the ceiling of the cell area and then crawled through the attic area before knocking a small hole in an unoccupied cell area.

The two then locked a dispatcher in the jail area, took the keys to her vehicle and after leaving the jail took the vehicle.

Two deputies later spotted the subjects in the Concord area and began to pursue them east on a county road. The subjects then proceeded south on Highway #9 until turning east at the junction of Highway #35. They then ran into the rear of a deputy sheriff's vehicle, causing the deputy's vehicle to run into a semi trailer and then into the north ditch.

Deputy Brad Claypool was transported to Providence Medical Center in Wayne by the Wakefield Rescue Unit.

Two other deputies in pursuit of the escapees were assisted by the Nebraska State Patrol, Dakota County Sheriff's Office, Ponca Police Department and a Game Commission officer.

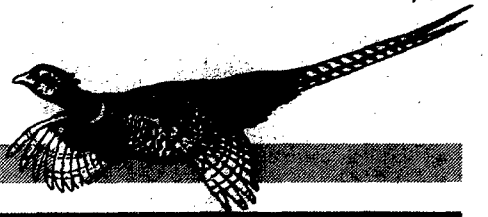

The subjects were captured approximately one and one-half hours after their escape by the Sioux City, Iowa, Police Department after they abandoned the vehicle.

The escapees were identified as Chad Luessbrink of Concord and Napae Luta Young of Mission, S.D.

Wayne State hosts LEAD conference

By Sarah Mason

Wayne State College will host the LEAD (Leadership Education Agricultural Development) Conference on Nov. 14-16.

Ten Nebraska public colleges and universities participate in the LEAD program, which is sponsored by the Nebraska Agricultural Leadership Council, Inc. The central location for LEAD is the Institute of Agricultural and Natural Resources at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

The LEAD program focuses on "Thinking globally, acting locally."

Participants, who are involved in agriculture, insurance, and banking, go through a two-year leadership training program. The goal of the program is to encourage future Nebraska leaders and educate them about other countries' economics and agriculture, as well as U.S. foreign policy, and provide them with other relevant information.

LEAD travels annually to three countries in different stages of development. This year, they will visit South Korea, which is in the moderate stage of development, Hong Kong, in the high development area, and China, which is technically in all three stages of development. At the conference, WSC speakers will give the 32 LEAD participants general information about the political-economics, history, culture and geography of these three countries.

In addition to WSC speakers, other experts are invited to discuss topics that are relevant to agricultural issues in Nebraska. This year, Arlie Schols will present on the Nebraska Farm Crisis Hotline, and Rose Jaspersen, from the Center for Rural Affairs, will present "Sustaining Your Rural Community: The Center for Rural Affairs Approach" about keeping rural communities economically viable.

The main speaker for the conference will be Chuck Hassebrook, who also is from the Center for Rural Affairs. He will likely be speaking on approaches to fix the Freedom to Farm Act and policies needed to address poverty in the rural Midwest.

Other presenters and their sessions will include WSC Professor Stacy McMillen, LEAD Campus Coordinator WSC Professor Bob Foote "Geographic Overview of China and Korea;" WSC Director of Admissions, Brian and Amy Taylor "Korea: The Land of the Morning Sun;" WSC Professor Joe Blankenau "Healthcare in Comparative Perspective;" WSC Professor Tom and Pat Cook "Culture in China;" Brian Taylor, WSC director of admissions, Wayne State College presentation, WSC Professor Stacy McMillen "Economic Development in China and South Korea;"

THE WATER BEARER

A water bearer in India had two large pots hanging on each end of a pole which he carried across his neck. One of the pots had a crack in it, while the other pot was perfect and always delivered a full portion of water at the end of the long walk from the stream to the master's house.

For a full two years this went on, daily, with the bearer delivering only one and a half pots full of water to his master's house. Of course the perfect pot was proud of its accomplishments - perfect to the end for which it was made. But the poor cracked pot was ashamed of its own imperfection, and miserable that it was able to accomplish only half of what it had been made to do.

After two years of what it perceived to be a bitter failure, it spoke to the water bearer one day by the stream. "I am ashamed of myself, and I want to apologize to you." The bearer asked, "Why? What are you ashamed of? I have been able, for these past two years, to deliver only half my load because this crack in my side causes water to leak out all the way back to your master's house. Because of my flaws, you have to do all of this hard work, and you don't get full value from your efforts," the pot said.

The water bearer felt sorry for the old cracked pot, and in his compassion he said, "As we return to the master's house, I want you to notice the beautiful flowers along the path." Indeed, as they went up the hill, the old cracked pot took notice of the sun warming the beautiful wildflowers on the side of the path, and this cheered it some. But at the end of the trail, it still felt bad because it had leaked out half its load, and so again the pot apologized to the bearer for its failure.

The bearer said to the pot, "Did you notice that there are flowers only on your side of your path, but not on the other pot's side? That's because I have always known about your flaw, and I took advantage of it. I planted flower seeds on your side of the path, and everyday while we walk back from the stream you've watered them. Without you being just the way you are, the master would not have this beauty to grace his house."

Each of us has our own unique flaws. We're all cracked POTS. But if we allow it, the Lord will use our flaws to grace His Father's table. In God's great economy, nothing goes to waste. Don't be afraid of your flaws. Acknowledge them, and you too can be the cause of beauty. KNOW THAT IN OUR WEAKNESS WE FIND OUR STRENGTH." author Unknown

Arkansas, Oklahoma, and in the town of O'Neill. Denbeck's family consists of his wife Darlene (Roeber) Denbeck, who is also originally from the Wayne area, and a daughter, Debbie.

As a part of the regular board meeting, bills were discussed and payments approved. A full house was on hand for the meeting with Wayne State students in the Curriculum and Assessment class and also a number of Wayne High students in the Building Construction class present. Several others from the area also attended.

Dave Hix, instructor of the Building Construction class, explained the format of the class which involves students working on various building projects around town. Hix said people call him if they're interested in the class working on something for them. He noted there is a charge and that the class is booked around a year in advance. The group just finished working on a storage building. The class is a year-long class where students can help in the design process during the second semester. Some of the students are taking drafting class.

On Administrative reports, Dr. Zeiss, high school principal, reported on a study taken of various schools and colleges who share football fields and track facilities such as Wayne High and Wayne State do. Fees for Wayne High to hold a football game at WSC is $750 per game which includes the use of their electrician's, security, clock person, announcer, etc. There are usually four to five home games per year. The fee for Wayne High to hold a track meet there is $200. Zeiss felt the gate receipts have been close to matching expenses and sometimes exceed costs.

As far as having Thursday night games, Rocky Ruhl, Wayne High athletic director, explained that when WSC has a Saturday game scheduled, having a Friday night game does not give WSC enough time to prepare the field for their game.

On the subject of All-Day Kindergarten, David Lutt, Wayne Elementary principal, discussed the survey letters that were sent out to parents of pre-schoolers. He said the result of the surveys should determine if the school will start All-Day Kindergarten or leave it as is. More will be discussed on the issue after surveys come back in.

On the high school renovation project, Dr. Reinert, Wayne Schools superintendent, gave updates on the high school renovation/addition. Dirt work and concrete removal on the west and south sides of the school is done and they are ready to start digging footings for the construction of the new band room, science and art room addition, as well as the wrestling room addition.

With the nice weather, the project is two weeks ahead of schedule. The goal is to be done with construction at the high school by August, 2000.

Reinert then gave updates on the middle school renovation which included some unexpected finds. There is a need for deeper footings for additional reinforcement on the south side of the building. Gas lines and telephone cables were found on the south side of the building where the bus drop-off was going to be placed. The cost of moving the lines and cable is too much so that means alternatives will have to be sought for bus drop off placement.

Also, the chimneys have been found to be aiding in the support of the building so they will not be removed, just taken down to the roof and capped. Re-shingling needs to be done as there are holes in the roof.

On the bottom floor, there's just dirt under much of the wooden floors, so that is where a lot of the moisture problems are coming from. Floors need to be taken out and concrete poured. On attaching the newer part of the building to the older part, that probably won't take place as planned before because the old section can't support the weight of the new section.

The Industrial Arts room on the second floor has been found to not be able to stand the weight of having a second floor installed on it to meet the level of the others on that level. Stairs and a chair lift will be installed to gain access to that room. Also, an elevator needs to be installed in the building.

The goal on the Middle School renovation is to be 35 percent complete by Nov. 23; look for the bidding process to happen in February, 2000; and to finish the project by August, 2001. Reinert said that the interest from the $300,000 bond money would hopefully be enough to cover the unexpected costs.

Richard Metteer, Middle School principal, has been in charge of relocating school desks, tables and other school equipment from the Wayne schools which will save the district from having to purchase new.

On the subject of old business, discussion was held on the Team Mates Mentoring Program. The Board has been recommended to go ahead with the program. The Wayne Rotary said they would go along with an alliance between their RITEK program and the Team Mates program. A coordinator is needed for the project. The Board approved starting the program.

On Special Education needs, Dan Fehringer, Special Education director, reported that the number of Special Education students is growing. The count is 100 students compared with 92 last year at this time. At this rate, more teachers will be needed. The District is in the process of looking for a general Special Education teacher.

The next regular Wayne Community School Board meeting will be held Monday, Dec. 13 at 7 p.m. at the high school in Wayne.

Veterans awarded their Wayne High School diplomas during the Wayne Community School Board Honor Coffee held Monday night were Arthur Grone of Winslow, left, and Donald Denbeck of O'Neill, right. Phyllis Spethman, Board president, made the presentations.

'The lessons of Vietnam'

This Veterans Day, the lessons of Vietnam are on my mind. In August, I was in Vietnam with my brother, Tom. Neither of us had been back to that country since 1968, when we fought there in the same infantry unit.

We returned to the sites where we were wounded together — twice.

I was surprised how quickly — and how raw and real — that experience came back to me as we walked down the same path, through the bamboo and thickness of the jungle, to within yards of where a mine wiped out half of our patrol. Tom was saying something, then turned away in mid-sentence. He didn't finish the sentence or the thought. He didn't need to.

I thanked God that I was not in that situation again — a long way from home and always half sick from the heat, humidity, the smells and the relentless pressure of carrying out the ugly business of war. Death lurked in the jungle, on the rivers and roads, in the rice paddies and villages. Mortality haunted us everywhere. We did what we had to do to survive.

That experience gave me an even greater respect for the men and women who serve our country in uniform. Most Americans do not realize the burdens borne by our service people and their families — the quiet heroes of freedom. Civilized society needs to be reminded of the price these quiet heroes pay to preserve the way of life we take for granted.

And America's leaders need to be reminded constantly of their responsibility to clearly define military objectives — and then do what is necessary to achieve them — when they ask fellow citizens in the armed forces to risk their lives. That was the fundamental lesson of Vietnam. Never again can we allow American lives to be sacrificed in a cause that is poorly justified by America's leaders.

I still believe the United States was right to fight communism in Southeast Asia. But in a democracy, a major war effort succeeds only if the public supports it. During the Vietnam War, the American public was confused. Our actions, and the reasons for them, were misrepresented by our political leaders. The American government lost the trust and confidence of the American people. Public opinion became so poisoned and divided that it became impossible to succeed in Vietnam. As Colin Powell has said: "Before you commit the armed forces, you must commit the nation." We did not do that in Vietnam.

You don't escape from an experience like war without scars, but you can make a negative experience work for you. You can allow it to give new purpose to your life. You can use it to sharpen your sense of responsibility. It can help you see the impact of what you do, and what you are capable of doing.

I have seen the horrors of war and do not wish them on anyone. Promoting peace and prosperity throughout the world is our best national security policy.

but if conflict becomes unavoidable and American lives are jeopardized, I will do everything I can make sure it is a vital national interest that has been clearly and convincingly explained to the American people. Anything less is unworthy of the ultimate sacrifice American men and women are asked to make in service to their country.

Capitol News —

Nebraska Supreme Court is greater mystery than the collective machinations of the Unicameral

By Ed Howard

Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

We all have our favorites. Favorite things, people, seasons.

My favorite seasons are pheasant, football, legislative and election. In that order, usually.

Obviously, three of those preferences have to do with my life centering (in part) on journalism.

There would be a fourth season in there, called "court" or "judiciary" but those aren't so much seasons as they are squalls, or flash floods and such.

You're never sure when they are coming and what they will leave in their wake.

Of course, the Nebraska Supreme Court has long held a special place in the hearts and minds of the citizenry and policymakers of the Cornhusker state. That's because the citizenry and taxpayers are often getting their collective knickers in a twist over things like property tax laws, formulas for paying state aid to schools and the death penalty in general and various murder trials in particular.

The high court is a greater mystery to me than the collective machinations of the Unicameral, Big Red fans or the maneuverings of politicians — even when the latter are characters like Jon Christensen.

The judges of the Supreme Court live in a rarified atmosphere and SEEMS to most of us that they sometimes just lose touch with reality — or that their reality is a lot different than ours. "Ours" meaning everyone else.

There was the time, years and years ago, when the high court said that a murder had manifested depraving, but not EXCEPTIONAL depravity (I think that was it) and thus had failed to meet the standard required for imposing the death sentence. And then, there was that business about second-degree murder and jury instructions and all those mostly bad guys looking for new trials. I never even met a lawyer or judge outside the court who got that one.

Sometimes, however, the Nebraska court seems ahead of its time, as well as the federal courts

Sometimes it's just a little thing. But it counts.

Example: The U.S. Supreme Court is looking at a case in which the issue is whether or not just RUNNING gives the police sufficient cause to stop you and question you.

The Nebraska Supreme Court answered that question some time ago. It said "NO!"

Personally, I thought it was an interesting decision in the best conservative or strict constructionist tradition.

The Nebraska court simply said that the birth and the history of the Republic are such that people are entitled to be leery of authority — and if they choose to avoid it, it's often their right.

Wait a minute! Wait a minute! Not ALWAYS. Just listen.

It's not one of those deals where a bozo running from a crime scene can't be stopped, or some clown with blood on his shirt or a dead body in his arms can't be run down and questioned.

It just means that heading in the opposite direction of the constabulary is not, itself, sufficiently suspicious to warrant a police stop.

The other side of the coin is familiar: "Yah, well, if ya ain't got nuthin' to hide, how come yer runnin' there, buddy?"

Good question. It's annoying to those who like to see the world in neat categories, but the fact is that seeing cops and wanting to beat feet might be a most understandable reaction among two kinds of people: bad people, and people who are afraid of bad cops.

Interestingly, the constitutional question can be argued from what our label-insistent society refers to as "liberal" as well "conservative" view points.

The right-wing "Don't tread on me (but ban abortion)" crowd might agree, with the liberal Mary Poppins brigade, that law enforcement shouldn't be able to interrupt a citizen's privacy without some cause other than a visible dislike of law enforcement uniforms and cars.

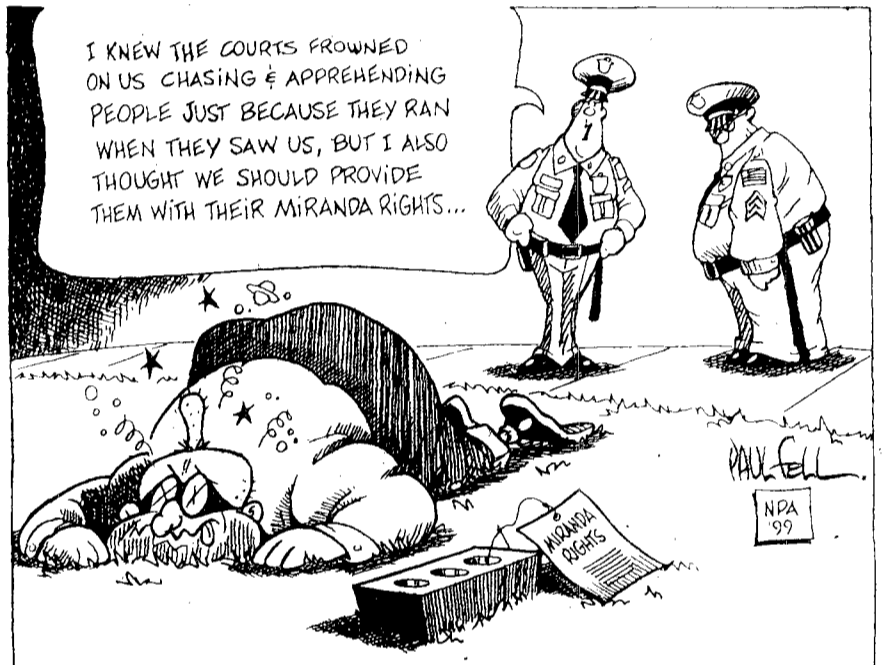

But some of those same conservatives might argue, as the late George Corley Wallace, that only "pointy-headed liberals" would say that a cop shouldn't be able to stop anyone, anytime.

Several state courts have taken Nebraska's position on the issue. Several others have taken the opposite stance.

Perhaps the most interesting question for the Founding Fathers, if we could reach them in the great beyond, would be whether they intended for the U.S. Supreme Court to answer the question for everybody.

Perhaps the ultimate solution would be to require everyone to wear turn signals on their shoulders. Then, cops could stop whole crowds with a single siren and single out the individuals who "failed to signal."

What's justice for the motoring public ought to be good enough for pedestrians. No?

Letters

Questioning the political views of Wayne High School students

Dear Editor,

While reading the Oct. 28 edition of the Norfolk Daily News while at work, I ran into a page titled "New Voices." It was a collection of articles written by Wayne High students focusing on politics.

The article by Jeff Ensz determined the top three qualities of a perfect leader were honesty, morality and intelligence based on a poll of current Wayne High students; yet, Erin Simpson's contribution showed George W. Bush was the favorite candidate among 55 percent of Wayne High students!

It saddens me to know a generation only four years younger favors a candidate clearly with none of these qualities.

For instance, did you know Texas is going to lose all federal highway funding in a year due to the worst air quality in the nation? It's a huge expense the state will not be able to pay itself. PERHAPS it's because any business operating before 1971 when the Federal Clean Air Act passed was given "grandfathered" status. These businesses do not have to use the best available technology (BAT) to deter pollution.

Did you know that if the loophole was closed, it would reduce air pollution in Texas by 21 percent? It would be a remarkable decrease especially meaningful to children and parents because of my next question.

Would you want your child to be exposed to millions of pounds of toxic air pollutants nine months out of the year because of going to school? No? There are 225,000 children in Texas that attend school within two miles of a "grandfathered" business. PERHAPS it's the reason why asthma and respiratory problems are the number one reason children are admitted to hospitals in Texas.

This is only one issue in which Bush exhibits "business as usual" syndrome. Texans want him out of their state. Do you really want him to turn OUR state and the rest of the country into something like his?

As a fundraiser for environmental and consumer rights groups for 18 months, a Wayne High graduate (Class of '96) and soon-to-be graduate of UN-L in 2000, I encourage all those eligible to vote in the presidential election to check out Bush's past policy-making record and lack of environmental law enforcement in Texas.

Or, if you wish, go buy an oxygen mask without delay as we'll be entering the "Smog Age." With the internet, it's easy to locate relevant information; use it as an excuse to check out the new Library / Senior Citizen Center YOUR money helped build.

As apathetic voters increase, let's lead by example in the new millennium and turnout at the polls in record numbers with informed heads on our shoulders.

Brett Otte,
Senior, finance, UN-L

Y2K information shared

Approximately 50 people were on hand at last week's Y2K informational meeting held at the Wayne Senior Centers. Representatives from the local banks, Providence Medical Center, Red Cross, Peoples Natural Gas, Nebraska Public Power District and the City of Wayne were on hand to explain what has been done to prepare for the new millennium. All those who spoke encouraged the audience to use caution when making decisions, especially those that involve their money.

Wayne State College plays and prizes are upcoming Editors Note: The following story was written by a Public Relations class at Wayne State College.

Wayne State College Theater Department presents the "Directors Showcase". Three student directed one-act plays will be performed by Wayne State theater students in Ramsey Theater, located in the Fine Arts Building.

20, at 8 p.m., Sunday, Nov. 21, at 2 p.m. and Monday Nov. 22 at 8 p.m.

The three plays written by the Italian nobel prize winning author Luigi Pirandello are entitled "The License" directed by Jason Hernandez, a funny, quick paced, slapstick style comedy about an 'evil eye' scam. It is a farce about the absurdity of law.

"The Vice" is being directed by Katie McCue, a play about a woman torn between two men. It is illusion vs. reality with a soap opera feel for mind games and guilt.

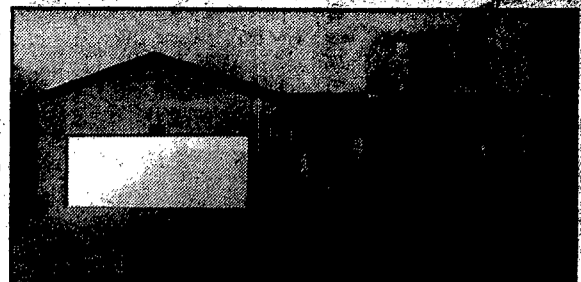

Darby Flook is directing "The Man with the Flower in his Mouth". This play is about a commuter who has missed his train, and in waiting for the next one, encounters a stranger with a flower in his mouth. It will make you reflect on your own life and how important the small things are.

Prizes will be given away after each of the performances with a grand prize following the performance of the last play on Monday evening. Tickets must be shown to claim prizes.

The Golden Years

Veterinarian David Fuchshuber is often referred to as the "Dr. Welby" to dogs and cats. Having practiced veterinary medicine for almost fifty years, he recently transformed an old Exxon station in Texas into a veterinary clinic. In a sense, he takes his work home with him. When he walks his two standard poodles, Mabel and Max, people often comment on how big, statuesque and healthy these dogs look. They are the perfect advertisement for his excellent care.

Herbs for Health

Cranberry Juice or Extract for Urinary Tract Infections.

Since the mid-1800's, cranberry has been used to prevent and treat urinary tract infections. The mechanism was thought to be acidification of urine. Now we know that cranberry's protective effects are due to prevention of the bacterium E. coli from binding to the bladder cells and other sites. The primary use of cranberry is treatment of urinary tract infections, and the secondary use is as a deodorant for incontinent patients.

The most cited study was a double-blind, placebo-controlled trial of 153 women. The women consumed 10 ounces per day of a cranberry drink or a placebo. Women who drank the cranberry drink were 58% less likely to have bacteria and pus in their urine as compared to women who received the placebo.

Dosing for adults is one 300 - 400 mg cranberry extract capsule daily or drinking several glasses of pure cranberry juice. The juice must be 100% cranberry, not the cocktail, which is heavily diluted and loaded with sugar. Side effects are rare, and there are no known drug interactions or contraindications.

Allen girls earn trip to State on volleyball court

By Kevin Peterson
Of the Herald

The Allen volleyball team captured the district volleyball championship to earn a trip to this weekend's Nebraska State Volleyball Tournament in Lincoln.

The Lady Eagles soared higher than the Hawks of Verdigre, winning in straight games, 15-4, 15-2.

Denise Hingst watched as her team virtually did what they wanted against Verdigre in a match that barely lasted a half hour.

The 22-4 Eagles played at a level much higher than they displayed during sub-districts which Hingst said was a must.

"We were definitely focused," Hingst said. "The girls were a little nervous in the fact if they didn't play well it would be their final match of the season and we've worked too hard for that to happen."

The seventh-ranked Eagles never trailed in the match and the quickness of the Allen lineup left Verdigre a step behind.

"I was glad we were able to maintain our intensity throughout the entire match and not let up any," Hingst said. "The girls need to remember that we need to play our volleyball in every match and not let our opponent's dictate tempo."

Angela Prochaska paced the winners with nine kill spikes with all-state candidate Stacey Martinson netting six kills. Shannon Koester finished with three ace hits and Jessica Bock, two.

Melissa Wilmes was 11-11 in serving with three aces to pace the winners and Martinson led the defensive charge at the net with four ace blocks while Koester had two ace blocks.

Allen's quick defense recorded 25 digs in the short match.

The Eagles drew the number five seed in Class D-2 and will play Wheeler Central, 22-3 at 12:30 p.m. on Friday at Lincoln Christian High School.

Ironically, the two teams actually played against each other during last summer's team camp at Northeast Community College—a match that had each team win one game.

"They're a team that we've seen play," Hingst said. "We know we have to play our best volleyball of the season this weekend and the girls are ready."

If Allen should get past its first round foe they would face the winner of top seed Giltner at 25-0 against McCool Junction (19-6) in a 7 p.m. match at Lincoln Christian High School on Friday night.

The championship game is slated for noon on Saturday.

The other bracket in D-2 has second seed Loup County (22-1) playing seventh seed Lourdes Central of Nebraska City (23-7) and third seed Hayes Center (20-2) against sixth seed Elba (21-6).

Team members include seniors Stacey Martinson, Shannon Koester, Kristin Hansen, Jessica Bock and Rachel Stallbaum along with juniors Melissa Wilmes, Michelle Marks, Danielle Bertrand, Jennifer Smith, Alicia Liebsch and Sarah Sweeney. Sophomores Elizabeth Bock, Katie Koester and Angela Prochaska.

Denise Hingst is assisted by Missy Sullivan.

Allen head coach Denise Hingst gets a congratulatory hug from her three-year-old daughter Brooke following the Eagles state qualifying berth.

Shannon Koester spikes the ball for an ace during the second game of Allen's two-game sweep of Verdigre.

Angie Prochaska looks to score on an ace spike during first-game action of Allen's district championship. The Eagles will play Wheeler Central in Friday's first round of state.

Wayne spikers fall

The Wayne girls volleyball team fell shy of their bid to qualify for the Nebraska State Volleyball Tournament, losing to O'Neill in the district championship last Thursday night in Tilden.

Joyce Hoskins' team had beaten the Eagles twice earlier in the season including once on each team's home court but on the neutral floor Wayne could not post a third consecutive win over the Eagles.

The Blue Devils won the first game, 15-10 but O'Neill bounced back to win the second game, 15-10 before closing out the match with a 15-8 decision.

"It's a disappointing way to end the season," Hoskins said. "We did however, have a great season. I am very proud of this team and the way they developed into a real 'team'."

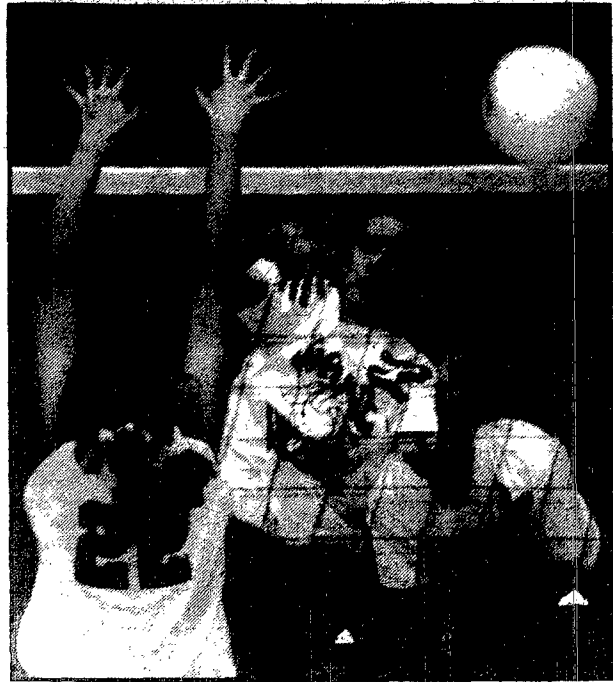

Sara Ellis and Lindsay Woehler shared team honors with nine kill spikes with Kallie Krugman netting seven kills and Liz Campbell, five. Beth Loberg tallied three ace hits.

Leah Dunklau notched 28 set assists for the Blue Devils and was the top server at 15-16. Kristin Wilson was 7-8 with one ace and Mandy Hansen was 7-7 while Campbell was 8-9. Brittney Frevert was successful on seven-of-eight serve attempts.

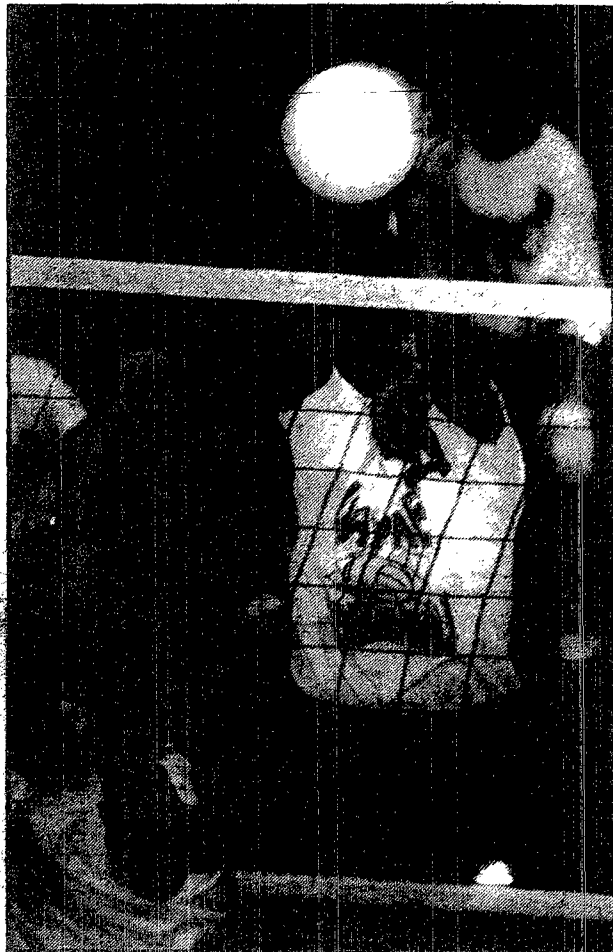

Defensively, Sara Ellis had a team-high five blocks and Lindsay Woehler had four while Liz Campbell netted two and Kallie Krugman, one.

"The six seniors on our team gave so much to the team and they will be missed," Hoskins added.

Wayne ended the year at 18-9. The six seniors include Sara Ellis, Liz Campbell, Kristin Wilson, Mandy Hansen, Brittney Frevert and Lindsay Woehler.

Beth Loberg spikes the ball for an ace during the Blue Devils match with O'Neill in the district finals.

Wayne volleyball coach Joyce Hoskins and assistant Phyllis Trenhaile go over strategy with their Blue Devils during a timeout in Wayne's district finals match.

Wildcats win pair of NSIC matches

The Wayne State volleyball team ran their win streak to six matches with a pair of conference wins on the road last weekend.

Friday, Sharon Vanis' team swept Minnesota-Crookston in a match that took just 45 minutes, 15-8, 15-10, 15-7.

Saturday, WSC was pushed to four games but managed to down Minnesota-Morris, 11-15, 15-6, 15-9, 15-12.

In the Crookston match Lindsey Koch pounded out a game-high 15 kills to lead the winners with Jessie Erwin netting six ace hits. Rayna Nielsen, Laurie Schroeder and Josh Larsen finished with four kills each.

Melanie Kershaw tallied 21 set assists and led the team in serving with five aces.

Koch paced the defense with 16 digs with Erwin notching 13.

WSC came from behind to down Morris on Saturday behind a career-high 22 kills from Lindsey Koch.

The Norfolk sophomores had 26 digs as well, also a team high. Jessie Erwin finished with 15 kills and Rayna Nielsen finished with nine.

Melanie Kershaw notched 43 set assists and had 15 digs while Erwin and Wendy Miller had 13 digs each with Melissa Frahm finishing with 11 digs.

Rayna Nielsen led the defensive charge at the net with 10 blocks including three solo.

The conference wins by the Cats pushed them into a tie for second place with Bemidji State at 13-3.

This weekend rounds out the volleyball action for Wayne State and ironically, they host the top two teams in the conference with top-ranked Minnesota-Duluth on Friday and the team WSC is currently tied for second with Bemidji State on Saturday.

At 16-12 the 'Cats are also guaranteed a winning season. "We can finish our first year in the conference with an outright second place finish," Vanis said. "Coming into the season we were picked sixth in the conference."

Vanis said her squad controls their own destiny.

Early in the season WSC was 2-7 but the 'Cats have won 14 of their last 19 matches.

Wayne State cross country teams compete in NCAA North Central Meet

The Wayne State men's cross-country team placed eighth while the women were tenth at the NCAA North Central Region National Qualifying Meet last Saturday.

That equals the men's highest placing, and is the women's best showing ever.

Sophomore Andy Tucknott regained his form to place 18th in 32:34.4 for 10,000 meters. Unfortunately, it wasn't quite enough to qualify for nationals as he was the third individual not on a qualifying team to finish.

The top two individuals qualified, with the final spot just 20 seconds and four places in front of Tucknott.

"We found out that Andy had a slight case of anemia," said head coach Brian Kavanaugh. "Once he started taking iron pills for that, he began running much better. Just two weeks ago he finished 14th in the conference meet. This week he beat everyone from the conference and almost qualified for nationals."

Next in for the Wildcats was freshman Dana Rider, clocking 33:55.2 for 40th place. Sophomore James Bruhn was right behind him in 33:56.8 for 41st.

Freshman Dustin Lippman finished fourth for the 'Cats in 51st place with a time of 34:54.3, followed by sophomore Tom Whisnand (35:20.7, 54th), senior Brad Hrouda (36:00.5, 58th) and freshman Chris Meyer (36:59.4, 64th).

As a team the men scored 202 points for eighth place.

For the women, senior Marsha Krienke closed out her cross-country career by finishing 29th overall in 23:26.5 for 6,000 meters. Junior Darr Nickerson was right behind her in 30th, clocking 23:28.4.

"Those two really ran outstanding races," said Coach Kavanaugh. "Going into this meet Darr was ranked 47th and Marsha 49th in the region. We've never had two women place this high before."

Third for the Wildcats was freshman April Sachau, clocking 24:41.8 for 60th place. Freshman Ely Harder was not far behind in 24:49.8 for 64th place, followed by junior Shannon Short (25:40, 83rd), sophomore Jamie Fluthe (26:04.6, 87th) and sophomore Tammy Burnham (28:03.5, 102nd).

The women scored 263 points for tenth place. "We've never finished higher than 13th in the region," noted Kavanaugh.

In addition, by placing in the top 30% of their respective races Andy Tucknott, Marsha Krienke and Darr Nickerson will all be eligible for the NCAA Division II Cross-Country

Coaches Association's national All-Academic team, provided their cumulative grade point averages through the fall semester are at least a 3.25. "That's another first," Kavanaugh said. "We've never had more than one athlete eligible for the All-Academic team."

The Wildcat distance runners will take some much needed rest before beginning training for the 2000 indoor track and field campaign.

Your TOTAL house payment is more than the principal and interest payment that you figured, by using last week's chart. Property taxes and homeowner's insurance are expenses that need consideration, when determining the affordability of a new home.

Allen's Martinson is a winner

The Allen Eagles volleyball team earned a trip to this weekend's state volleyball tournament in Lincoln after winning districts last Friday night.

It was rather impressive to see nearly the entire town of Allen in attendance at the district finals match which was held in Crofton.

In fact, the match itself lasted just under 35 minutes as Allen's talent over-whelmed an under-matched Verdigre team.

Allen was predicted to have a solid volleyball season and head coach Denise Hingst has to have liked what she's seen all season from a talented group of players headlined by all-state candidate Stacey Martinson.

Martinson is one of those rare athletes that possess awesome talent with a strong desire to win and a heart as big as a lion.

She plays as hard as anyone you'll ever see and she has a constant smile on her face because of her love of the game.

In the matches I witnessed with Allen this season I often found myself on the opposite side of the court taking pictures which usually meant I was listening to the supporters of Allen's foes.

When Martinson would wind up and thunder a kill spike with her left hand, she would draw quick admiration from the opponent's crowd. More times than not I heard comments consisting of "That number 23 is sure good, who is that?"

Number 23 of course is Martinson and she's undoubtedly one of the premiere senior players in northeast Nebraska and I submit she's one of the elite Class D-2 players in all of Nebraska.

Allen hasn't qualified for state since 1992, thus people from across the state haven't had a chance to see the likes of Stacey Martinson before this fall, considering the Eagles don't travel that far for their season schedule.

Regardless of what happens in Lincoln this weekend at state, Martinson will get noticed for her talent and she has to be considered for a spot on the Class D-2 First Team All-State which comes out later this month by the Omaha World-Herald. If she's not, it will be a travesty and a combination of a shoddy selection committee.

The most impressive thing I've seen on the volleyball court this decade from any of the five teams I cover happened during the Eagles sub-district tournament in Wausa early this month.

Allen, seemingly in control of its first match with the host team, Wausa had just received a side-out and Martinson stepped back behind the service line.

She looked over at her head coach and received a nod. She took a couple steps back and then tossed the ball in the air and ran under it and just rocked it across the net where it landed with out being touched right in-between a couple defenders.

The impressive jump-serve isn't something you see often in Class A let alone Class D-2. Those of you skeptical of this accomplishment go try it.

It takes a massive amount of coordination to even attempt it let alone be successful and Martinson did it repeatedly.

She's a special athlete, something volleyball fans in our part of the state have known for the past few years.

I'm pleased the Eagles qualified for state for a number of reasons but one is the fact that her talents will be on display in front of the rest of the state.

Incidentally, the 1992 team that qualified for state was defeated in the first round by Wallace, 15-12, 5-2. The Eagles were coached by Tracy Kuester and some of the team members included Dawn Diediker, Christy Philbrick, Heather Sachau, Steph Martinson, Steph Chase and Shelly Smith.

Allen's 1990 team was a state qualifier as well, losing in the first round to Hastings St. Cecilia, 15-9, 15-6.

Allen was coached by Gary Troth and among the team members was none other than Denise Boyle (Hingst). There's something to be said about successful high school players going on to become successful coaches.

She was joined by Cindy Chase, Heather Sachau, Alyssa McGrath, Carla Stapleton, Heidi Lund, Robin Schroeder and Wendy Boyle.

of quarterbacking the team from her setter position. Wilmes has recorded 480 set assists this season.

Angela Prochaska is second on the team in ace spikes with 97 while Shannon Koester is third with 91 and Marks, fourth with 88. Jessica Bock has 75 ace spikes.

Elizabeth Bock and Kristin Hansen are also vital members of the team as Allen implements a rotation of about eight players.

Wayne State football squad rolls up 70 points and nearly 700 yards of offense in rout

By Missy Pavlish
For the Herald

The Wayne State football team ran roughshot over an under-matched Minnesota-Morris last Saturday and when the dust had settled, the Wildcats had crossed the goal line 10 times in a 70-21 rout.

The 3-7 Wildcats will close out the 1999 season this Saturday at Northwestern Oklahoma State—the second-ranked team in NAIA and unbeaten.

Despite a high-octane offensive performance it was the defense that came up big in a number of situations.

The Wildcat defense held the Cougars from cross the goal line on eight straight plays from inside the three yard line during the second quarter.

The 'Cats rolled up 21 first quarter points and led 49-7 at the intermission.

Most of the damage came from the running of junior running back Eroy Brown who etched his name in not only the Wayne State record books but the NCAA-Division II books as well.

Brown rambled for a school mark of 335 yards on 26 carries and four touchdowns. It was his first half-outing that rewrote the record books as Brown ground up 237 yards, breaking the mark set by Emporia State's Brian Shay of 226 in 1996.

Brown's 237 first half yards set a single-game rushing record for WSC which was 231 by Marcus Bishop in 1996. He went on to demolish the single-game mark by 104 yards.

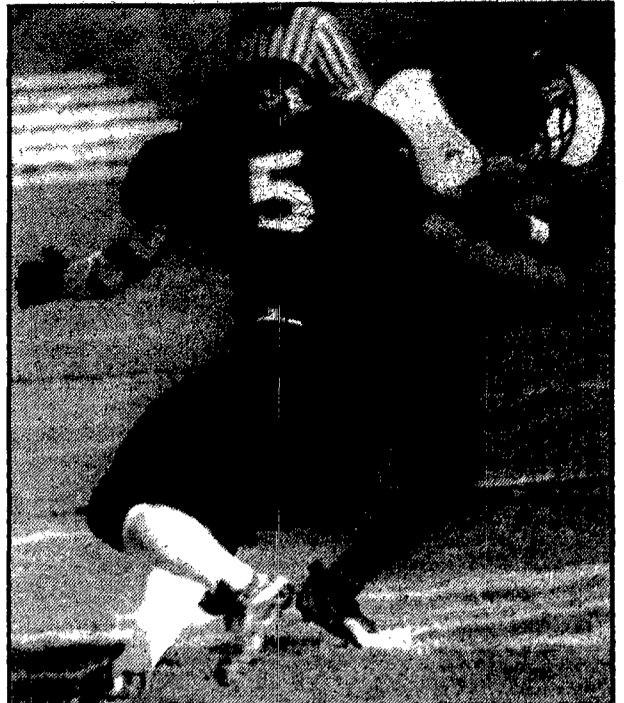

His four touchdowns increased his season total to 18, eclipsing Bishop's single-season record of 14 set in 1995. His 110 points this season is also a record, breaking Herve Roussel's mark of 96 set in 1984.

The scoring blitzkrieg began at the 10:11 mark of the first quarter on a one-yard run by Brown. Quarterback Brandon Lavaley scored on a one-yard run less than two minutes later before Tavaris Johnson caught an 18-yard touchdown pass from Jaime Jones.

Brown's second score was a 61-yard burst and Dan Pugsley caught a 20-yard pass from Jones for a 35-7 WSC lead. Incidentally, it was Pugsley's first touchdown reception since 1996 despite being among the leaders in pass receptions each game.

Brown sprinted 84 yards to paydirt late in the first half and with just seconds remaining until intermission Tavaris Johnson caught his second touchdown pass of the half from 73 yards out from Lavaley to give WSC a 49-7 advantage.

In the third stanza Johnson caught his third touchdown pass of the game from 13 yards out from Jones. Brown's fourth score came on a four-yard run in the final stanza while Ashley Hawkins closed out the scoring with a five-yard run midway through the fourth quarter.

WSC placekicker Nathan Hale converted all 10 of point after attempts including a 35-yard extra point after the 'Cats were penalized for excessive celebration following a second quarter score.

The winners racked up 657 total yards while giving up 376. "I thought the kids played with a high level of emotion and a lot of heart," coach Kevin Haslam said. "The offensive line did an outstanding job and Eroy of course ran very well."

WSC took possession of the ball on 14 occasions and scored 10 times while punting just once.

The 'Cats had 416 yards on the ground and 241 through the air. It was the first game this season in which WSC had no turnovers.

Following Brown's record-setting 335 rushing yards was Johnny Hawkins with Jones was 6-12 through the air for 96 yards and three touchdowns while Lavaley was 7-9 for 145 yards and one touchdown.

Wayne State signs six

Six high school seniors today signed national letters of intent to attend Wayne State College and participate in intercollegiate athletics.

Wednesday was the first day of the early signing period for basketball, baseball and softball.

The men's basketball team signed three players. They include Derek Archer of Bancroft, Neb., Todd Klostermann of Manchester, Iowa and Lee Sundahl of Neillsville, Wis. In addition, Justin Carey and Mackenzie Knoell, both of Elkhorn, Neb., signed with the Wildcat baseball and softball teams, while Beth Nelson of Bondurant, Iowa inked with the women's basketball team.

Archer is a 6-foot-4, 180-pound shooting guard from Bancroft-Rosalie High School. Entering his fourth season as a starter, Archer averaged 15.8 points, 6.0 rebounds, 3.5 assists and 3.4 steals last year as a junior. In addition, he was named to the Lewis and Clark Conference and Class D-1 All-State teams, as he guided his team to a 23-3 record.

Over the past three seasons, Bancroft-Rosalie has accumulated a 64-12 record.

Archer was a key figure in Bancroft-Rosalie's back-to-back appearances in the Class D-1 state tournament. In the 1997-98 season, Bancroft-Rosalie placed second, finishing the year with a 25-3 record.

Last season, Archer was named to the all-tournament team. "Derek is a very skilled player. He is an outstanding ball handler and passer. These skills coupled with his ability to shoot the basketball will fit our system well," head men's basketball coach Greg McDermott said.

Klostermann (pronounced Kloster-man) is a 6-6, 220-pound power forward from West Delaware High School. Last season, he averaged 21 points, 8.0 rebounds and shot 61 percent from the field as he helped his team to a 19-3 record.

As a result, Klostermann was named the Wamac Conference Most Valuable Player. He also earned All-State First Team honors by the Iowa Newspaper Association and Second Team honors by the Des Moines Register.

Ross Gardner looks for running room against the Scribner-Snyder Trojans state football playoff action last week in Laurel. The Bears were upended by the Trojans, 12-7. Laurel-Concord's season-ending record was 7-3.

Wayne State defensive back Nick Manganaro chases down a Scribner-Snyder player during a fake punt attempt.

Laurel football team ends year at 7-3

Tom Luxford's Laurel-Concord football team had their season come to an end last week as Scribner-Snyder handed the Bears a 12-7 playoff defeat.

The Bears, 7-3 on the season couldn't get their offense untracked as Scribner-Snyder's defense proved too stingy.

Both of the Trojans scores however, came on big plays as Larry Varicek sprinted 28 yards to paydirt following a Laurel interception in the first quarter and Brady Vacha sprinted 55 yards for a touchdown on another one-play drive in the second stanza.

Laurel showed signs of mounting a come-back in the final quarter but the Bears came up inches short on a fourth down and less than one play at the Trojans' 20-yard line.

Later in the quarter the Bears did strike paydirt on a one-yard plunge by quarterback Nathan Beckman.

The Bears had other opportunities but could not convert. "It was very disappointing to lose," Luxford said. "We played pretty flat at times in the first half and it cost us early."

Luxford credited the Trojans for having a nice ball team. "They controlled the line of scrimmage," Luxford added. "We can't however, forget what this team accomplished this season after being picked in the preseason to finish toward the bottom of the conference."

Laurel was held to just 95 yards rushing and 53 through the air for a total of 148 while Scribner-Snyder tallied 225 total yards.

Tyler Kvois led the Bears ground game with 71 yards rushing on eight carries. Beckman was 8-20 through the air for 53 yards and two interceptions.

Kvois and David Asbra had two receptions each while Nick Manganaro, Evan Smith, Ross Gardner and Matt Schroeder had one catch each.

Defensively, Laurel was led by Gardner with an impressive 20-tackle performance. Jon Erwin netted 14 stops and Matt Schroeder along with Tyler Kvois had 11 each. Seppo Ewarye had 10 tackles.

Wayne State

Klostermann, who has 855 career points, has also helped his team win two straight conference titles and berths in the Class 3-A state tournament. West Delaware has a 35-9 record over the past two seasons.

Over the summer, he was named to the All-American Team at the Mr. Basketball Invitational held in Kearney, Neb.

"Todd has a tireless work ethic. He is very effective post player but also has the ability to shoot the three-point shot," McDermott said.

Sundsahl is a 6-7, 235-pound center who attends Neillsville High School. As a junior last season, he averaged 20 points, 9 rebounds and 2 assists per game, including a 32-point performance against Wisconsin Rapids Assumption.

Named the Eastern Cloverbelt Conference Player of the Year, Sundsahl led the league in scoring and led his team to a second-place conference finish. Overall, Neillsville posted a 15-7 record last season.

Sundsahl, who has scored 609 career points, was listed among the Top 50 players in Wisconsin Men's Yearbook. He was also a member of the All-Northwest All-State team.

"Lee is a very good athlete. He has a big, strong body and great hands. His best basketball is definitely ahead of him," McDermott said.

A standout tight end on the football field, Sundsahl was recruited by several major colleges to play football.

"I am very excited about this group of young men," McDermott said. "They all possess a tremendous work ethic and great attitude."

They will fit into our program well. The fact that they committed back in July is certainly a credit to my coaching staff. They were instrumental in presenting Wayne State College and our basketball program in a positive fashion."

Carey, a 6-2, 170-pound pitcher from Elkhorn High School, has been a starter for the Antlers for 2 1/2 years. Last season he averaged 1.33 strikeouts per inning. He also hit .230 with five home runs.

In 1998, he led the Elkhorn Midget team to the state championship. He was the winning pitcher in three of the Antlers' five victories.

Carey is also a starter on the Antler football team, which is 11-0 and is in the semifinals of the Class B state playoffs.

"Justin possesses the ability as a pitcher to crack our starting rotation as a freshman," WSC baseball coach John Manganaro said. "We look for Justin to be a big part of our baseball program throughout his college career."

Knoell (pronounced Nell) played third base for Elkhorn High School. She hit .363 this fall and had a team-high 22 stolen bases while helping the Antlers to a 28-4 record.

A Class B All-State Second Team selection, Knoell was recently named to the Omaha World-Herald All-Omaha Area Team. In addition, Knoell carries a 4.00 grade point average.

"She is a great kid, not to mention an extraordinary athlete," Wildcat women's basketball coach Ryan Williams said. "An athlete with her size and ability will be an advantage for our style of play. Beth runs the floor better than any post player I have seen. She is an inside scoring presence who can defend the entire court and block a lot of shots. Our staff is looking for Beth to make an immediate impact on both ends of the floor."

What is Pneumonia?

Pneumonia is a serious infection or inflammation of your lungs cause by an infection. The air sacs in your lungs fill with pus and other liquid. Oxygen has trouble reaching your blood. If there is too little oxygen in our blood, your body cells can't work properly. Because of this and spreading infection through the body pneumonia can cause death.

For Y2k
Are you ready?

The media hype about Y2K surrounds us, but there is no need to panic. If you are the prepared type of person, the following ideas may help put you at ease.

The Y2K problem stems from the fact that some computer hardware and software is programmed to register only the last two digits of the year. These systems may interpret the year 2000 as 1900. There are other concerns. For example, some computers may not recognize the fact that 2000 is a leap year.

Many businesses are Y2K compliant in other words, they have tested their computer systems and are confident they will make the transition to the new century just fine. Some businesses have already experienced some sort of Y2K-related computer problem such as a courthouse issuing registrations and 1900 horse drawn carriages for automobiles that are registered historically.

If you are wondering how financial institutions and other businesses with which you do business are prepared for Y2K, ask them. The Year 2000 Information and Readiness Disclosure Act requires businesses to respond to such inquiries.

Experts say that common sense, not panic, is the proper response. Do not get caught in the Y2K hype. Do not make a run on the bank or grocery store. Beware of advertised quick fixes and wary of potential fraud.

For example, in one phone scam that has hit Nebraska, callers claiming to be from financial institutions tell consumers to withdraw all their funds and deposit them in a special fund if you get such a call, check with your financial institutions before doing anything.

Computer expert, Ron Roeder, of the University of Nebraska Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources predicts that consumers will continue to hear both "gloom and doom" and "don't worry" scenarios. Roeder says that the truth probably falls somewhere in between. A few problems and isolated crisis may persist for days or weeks, perhaps even months into 2000, but he encourages everyone to fix the "bugs in their own realm."

One practical suggestion is to approach Y2K as you would a possible blizzard or tornado. The following emergency preparedness steps are suggested for any emergency.

Food-1 Have enough nonperishable food items on hand for three to 10 days. Canned, boxed, and bagged dried foods are examples. MREs (Meals Ready to Eat) are used by campers and outdoor adventurers.

Canned or dry milk; granola bars, cereal, raisins; peanut butter; crackers; cans of fruit, juice, soups, vegetables and meat such as tuna and deviled ham; dried snacks; and pudding cups may be part of the food stock. Store foods in a cool place away from any direct heat source.

Date the foods as you buy them. If they end up not being needed for any emergency, use them for regular meals and replace them with new groceries. Use crackers and cereals within three months and dried fruit, peanuts butter, dry milk, instant coffee, and cocoa mix within six months. Canned foods may keep indefinitely, but it is a good idea to use and replace within a year.

2 Have a non-electric can opener.
3 Keep a gallon of bottled drinking water for each person per day for drinking, cooking, hygiene, and washing. Store at least three days of water. Do not forget your pets. Bottled water may be stored safely for six months. Stored water needs to be treated to make sure it will safe to drink when you need it. Do not use milk cartons or glass bottles. Store water in plastic containers such as plastic soft drink bottles. Treat water by adding four drops of bleach per quart of water. The liquid bleach should have 5.25 percent sodium hypochlorite and NO SOAP! Seal bottles tightly so they do not leak.

Medication-1 Make sure your prescriptions last well into January, 2000.

Financial-1. Keep careful records of financial transactions for the last month or so of 1999. Know the current balance on the final day or the year. Verify balances into 2000 to make sure the amounts are correct.
2. Have cash on hand to cover a week into 2000.

Emergency Preparedness Kit- 1 Prepare for any power or utility outage such as after a tornado or blizzard. Have on hand water for drinking and washing, candles, extra batteries, kerosene or battery powered lantern, matches, flashlights, change of clothing, battery-operated radio, matches in a water proof container, toilet paper, signal flares, whistle, compass, shut-off wrench to turn off the gas and water to your home, aluminum, foil, pliers, fire extinguisher (ABC type), paper and pencils, needle and thread, plastic sheeting, soap, household chlorine bleach, plastic bucket with tight lid, and plastic garbage bags and a possible cell phone.

First Aid Kit-1 According to the Red Cross, include the following items in a first aid kit. The suggested items are sterile adhesive bandages of different sizes, sterile gauze pads, hypoallergenic adhesive tape, triangular bandages, scissors, tweezers, sewing needle, moistened towels, petroleum jelly, safety pins, soap, latex gloves, aspirin or pain reliever, antacid, syrup of Ipecac, laxative, and activated charcoal.

Test your own computer and electronic equipment-1. Test systems at home such as VCRs, timers, thermostats, and fax machines before the end of 1999. Change the year in the date to read 2000 or change to read 11:59 p.m., Dec. 31, 1999 and wait a few minutes. If problems arise, you will have time to resolve them before Jan. 1, 2000. Contact the manufacturer for remediation help.

2 Check the Y2K readiness of your home computer by consulting one of the following web sites: www.zdnet.com/pcmag/special/y2k or www.nstl.com/html/nstl_y2kmark2000.htm or the web sites of almost all hardware and software makers.

Miscellaneous-1. Have a full tank of gas the last day of 1999. 2 Call the Y2K information help line from the President's Council on Year 2000 for prerecorded messages at 1-888-872-4925.

DONATION MADE

A donation was made recently to Winside Public Librarian JoAnn Field in the amount of $250 from two representatives of the Wayne Eagles Auxiliary #3757, Babs Middleton (on the left) and Mylet Bargholz (on the right) during the weekly gathering of the Winside Senior Citizens. The donation to the library is for the purchase of large print reading materials.

The representative said that each year the Golden Eagles program of the Wayne Eagles Auxiliary #3757 designates seven humanitarian projects. Since Winside is in the process of fund raising for a new library, it was decided to split this year's donation between the Wayne Public Library and the Winside Public Library. Funds for this donation were raised from an ice cream social and from a Watkins party.

Wayne State College student Mandi Fishler will present her senior show in the Nordstrand Gallery, located in the Peterson Fine Arts Building. The opening will be held from 2-4 p.m. on Nov. 14, and will continue until Dec. 1.

Fishler is the daughter of Marvin and Vicki Fishler of Central City. She is a graphic design major with a minor in math. Her favorite art mediums are painting and print-making.

Future members and visitors recognized included Dianne Anderson, Lyla Splittgerber and Gayle Godbersen.

Committee reports were given. With Y2K imminent, all precautions were reviewed and discussed.

One item not previously discussed was warning members not to make any long distance phone calls around or after midnight on Jan. 1 or it might result in an exorbitant bill.

Everyone was urged to support the Food Pantries and other service organizations in area communities.

Brief reports were given on the State Convention. Everyone reported that the programs were excellent and members were encouraged to make plans to attend next year. The meeting will be Sept. 28-29, 2000 at Kearney. A change initiated this year was the elimination of the three workshops held in June.

Tillie Rastede, program chairman, introduced Pastor Brian Handrich and his wife of Wakefield, who presented a program about recreating Knighthood in Medieval times. The couple belongs to the Nebraska unit of this organization which has 12 kingdoms throughout the world with 28,000 members.

There are 4,000 members in the Nebraska kingdom and their name is the Calantir.

Knighthood in those times was considered a great honor. Because there were no strong governments at that time, each lord could rely on his loyal followers when his rule was threatened.

Pastor Handrich dressed in armor, all put on in specific order. All this weights approximately 70 pounds when worn.

Other memorabilia shown included the leg armor, breast plate, shield, helmet and gloves. Weapons shown were a 14th century cross bow and a bow and arrow.

During the noon luncheon Pastor and Mrs. Handrich provided entertainment as wandering minstrels and also brought a medieval sausage to share with everyone.

The next meeting will be Monday, Jan. 3, 2000 at 9:30 a.m. at Tacos & More in Wayne.

Fewer Strokes, Heart Attacks with Fish Oil

People use fish oil supplements for a variety of reasons, although the most common may be to lower blood triglyceride levels. Triglycerides are fats, and high levels have been linked with heart problems including heart attacks. In most studies, fish oil supplements have not been shown to lower cholesterol levels.

According to a 3 and 1/2 year study of over 11,000 Italians recovering from heart attack, use of fish oil supplements was associated with an overall 10% reduced risk of death due to heart attacks and strokes. It is believed that polyunsaturated fatty acids in fish oil protect against irregular heart beat (arrhythmia). Patients in this study were given fish oil (1 gram per day), vitamin E 300 mg per day (usually expressed in units), or both fish oil and vitamin E. No heart-related benefits were observed with use of vitamin E during this study.

Elsie Echtenkamp

Open house planned for Echtenkamp

An open house is being planned to honor Elsie Echtenkamp on her 80th birthday.

The event will be held Saturday, Nov. 20 from 2 to 4 p.m. at Grace Lutheran Church in Wayne.

The celebration will be hosted by her family, Donna Byers of Lee Summit, Mo.; Jayme Lynch of Warrenton, Va.; and Mike and Amy Fletcher of Des Moines, Iowa.

New building to be dedicated

A celebration is being planned for Nov. 14 as the Wayne Lutheran Campus Ministry hosts an open house for the building being added to the ministry.

The event will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. and everyone is welcome to attend. A special dedication service will be held at 3 p.m. at 14th and Walnut. There will be crafts for the children throughout the day.

The sight of Lutheran campus ministry at Wayne State College for the past 30 years has been the WelCoMe House. It is a big, yellow building east of the Student Center.

This building houses offices, chapel, and living quarters for five residents. The new building behind the garage of the house is now used as a living space for seven additional students and common area for Bible study, meetings, and social gatherings. The 12 residents between the two houses are called peer ministers. They are given inexpensive rent in return for inviting classmates over to participate in the different ministry opportunities.

"The Loft is another example of how Campus Ministry is in partnership with the church and community," states Paul Judson, campus pastor. The new house is owned by the Wayne State Foundation. Campus ministry manages the building, putting ministry related students into the house and returning a portion of the rent back to the foundation.

Over $3,000 of renovation have been done since campus ministry started management of the building at the start of the summer. Pastor Paul adds, "While the foundation has allowed us to manage the property, a number of volunteers from area churches and parents of students have given hours of work to help fix up the place."

This will not be the last renovation work to be done by the ministry. An additional $60,000 to $70,000 is being raised to bring needed renovations to the WelCoMe House.

These renovations include enlarging and improving the worship area, making the first floor and garden level completely handicapped accessible and installing central heat and air conditioning.

In anticipation of raising these funds, renovations to the house are planned for the summer of 2000.
