Large crowd hears zoning information

By Clara Osten

Of the Herald

More than 75 peòple were on hand to listen to information and ask questions during an informational meeting last week in regard to the possibility of rural zoning in Wayne County.

Renay Robison-Scheer and Lowell Scroeder with the Northeast Nebraska Economic Development District, conducted the informational meeting.

The two discussed what comprehensive planning is, a step necessary before any zoning regulations could be passed.

They informed the audience that at the present time, Wayne and Platte Counties are the only northeast Nebraska counties without

Junior Academy of Science Winter Workshop to be held

Over 100 scientists, researchers, mathematicians, lab technologists and doctors will donate their time and expertise on Saturday, Dec. 4 to promote science and math to students from all over northeast Nebraska.

HUndreds of junior and senior high school students and their teachers will have an opportunity to work with scientists and mathematicians as the Northeast Nebraska Junior Academy of Science holds its annual Winter Workshop on the campus of Wayne State College

This one-day conference consists of 93 different hands-on workshops designed to provide enriched learning experiences in science, mathematics and technology while creating student interest for future classes, research projects, science fair topics, college courses and careers.

This year the Key-Note Speaker will be Roger Jaeger of the Edgerton Explorit Center Jaeger's program will consist of special science demonstrations. The program begins at 9 a m in Ramsey Theater.

Each year the Winter Workshop offers special workshops for teachers. This year's feature is a Safety in the Classroom workshop for science teachers Rocketry and Project Wet & Wild materials will also be available for interested teachers. Once again there is no registration fee for educators who wish to attend.

"The success of the Winter Workshop is due to the low studentto-scientist ratio. The small group interaction gives area youth a "Mentor for a Day" with the opportunity for students to continue this mentor relationship beyond the Winter Workshop experience," said Ed M. Brogie of Laurel-Concord School, one of the organizers of the

Students will work in small groups with scientists from the Epply Futurekids, Institute, Cancer Transgenomic, St. Luke's, Nebraska Public Power, Waldbaums, Microbiology Lab, Wayne Veterinary Clinic and Providence Medical physicists and paleontologists from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, the University of Nebraska-Omaha, Nebraska Wesleyan University, Wayne State College and University Research Stations will also share their expertise with students.

Area teachers are invited to attend any or all of the sessions.

"Many award winning and master teachers from Nebraska, Iowa and South Dakota have donated their time to make the Winter Workshop a rewarding experience for students. This year we have volthe Nebraska unteers from Academy of Science, Nebraska Association of the Teachers of Science and the Nebraska Associations of Teachers Mathematics," Brogie said.

Materials for many of these workshops are provided through the donations and discounts from Nebraska Scientific, Estes, Carolina Biological, Flinn Scientific, Ken-A-Vision, Ohaus, Nasco, Hach Chemical, Pellets, Inc. and Sargent

All area schools are invited to studied, and a list of "attainable projects" were prioritized and assigned to various sub-committees within the Promotion Committee. Among the highest priorities was to decorate Wayne. It was decided that Main Street would ask Wayne businesses to decorate their stores with garland and that each business hang a wreath on

A work day was set to do this, Nov. 23. This day was called "Spruce up with Wayne," and was followed by a chili dinner at the Main Street office for all those who worked on the decorations. This was followed by the decorating and lighting of the State National Bank Park on 2nd and Main. In the final stages of being decorated is a 40- foot Christmas tree that was going to be cut down and cut up. Instead it was donated as a community Christmas tree and is standing in the Dairy Queen parking lot for all to see and enjoy.

A second promotional activity was "Early Bird Friday." Merchants were encouraged to run blowout. "early bird" specials and open at 7 a.m. on the Friday after Christmas. Many of the merchants participated and in their evaluation's stated this was a successful activity.

In addition to "Early Bird Friday," merchants were encouraged to develop "Wish Lists" so those buying gifts for special friends, parents, spouses, children, could refer to those lists to make a more informed purchase.

Another activity was the "Festival of Wreaths" which was held. Nov. 30. Businesses and organizations were encouraged to decorate wreaths, swags, and mantel garlands to donate to Main Street for a silent auction. Twenty-four entries were received and guests were asked to vote for their favorite wreath. This "People's Choice" will be displayed at the Fantasy Forest later this week. Proceeds of the silent auction will be used to help fund future Main Street projects Each Thursday during the Christmas shopping season has been designated as a different activity.

Dec. 2 is designated WSC night. Students and parents of students were encouraged during parents' day toluse the "Wish Lists" and this night is for these people to make their purchases and come downtown for the fun. "Human Foosball" will be set up in Carharts parking lot from 6 to 8 p.m. and teams are encouraged to get involved. It should be great fun!! Many of the merchants will be offering discounts to college students

Dec. 9 is designated as "Sights and Sounds of Christmas" night with a variety of activities for everyone. Many of the stores will have Living Windows depicting live Christmas scenes from 6 to 7 p.m. It is the night of the Jaycee's Parade of Lights at 7 p.m. There will be Strolling Carolers, and many of the retail stores will have open houses with food and beverages. Santa will have his Workshop at 210 Main Street, in the former Wardrobe building at 6 p.m. Santa will be there to visit children each Thursday evening and on Saturdays. Please check future advertisements and announcements for the hours. Santa will receive letters at 208 Main and Mrs. Santa will reply direct from the North Pole.

Der 16 is designated as "Scrooge Night" This night is focused toward men and also last minute shoppers Lists encouraged throughout the holiday season will come in handy for the many men who hate to shop and don't know what to buy their spouses, mothers, or girlfriends. The local restaurants and cafes have been encouraged to have specials and other activities to help boost the confidence of the "male shoppers" and to reward them after their shopping night.

Dec. 23 is "Cram Night" which is designed to help all those people who wait to the last moment to shop. Stores, restaurants, and bars have been encouraged to use their creativity to get these people in the mood for shopping, and to actually get their shopping done.

"Coats and Cans for Christmas" is being encouraged by Main Street. In conjunction with the Presbyterian Church coat program and the local food bank, merchants are being encouraged to hold special sales and allowances for coats and cans. Watch for these in the various businesses or drop your coats and cans off at the Main Street office during normal business hours. Coats for children are especially needed

There is still room for people to get involved. Strolling Carolers and parade floats for Dec. 9 are needed. Call the Main Street office at 402-375-5062 for more details about this or any of the promotions mentioned

Silent auction successful

Main Street Wayne held a "Festival of Wreaths" Silent Auction on Nov. 30. Twenty-four wreaths were donated by various businesses, civic organizations and individuals throughout the Wayne area. Over 150 people attended with around $800 being raised for future Main Street Wayne projects. Attendees voted for a favorite wreath or mantel piece. The winner was donated by Swans. It will be on display at the Fantasy Forest. Left to right, Jacque Kinnett, Kathy Wiser and Bonnadell Koch, all of Wayne, view the many wreaths on hand for the event.

CHILD CARE COUNCIL DELIVERS REPORT

By Governor Mike Johanns

Dear Nebraska Neighbors:

In May I announced the creation of the Governor's Business Council on Child Care Financing, the purpose of which was to examine early child care and education in Nebraska from a business perspective in order to develop innovative methods to help enhance the affordability and accessibility of quality child care for Nebraska families.

Clearly, the issues of child care and early education have a tremendous bearing on the mental and physical development and well-being of children. That being said, the formation of the Council was also prompted by concerns about labor availability, productivity, and workforce development, and the positive impact affordable, accessible, quality child care in Nebraska has in this area. Today, roughly 71 percent of all Nebraska children under the age of six live in a household where both parents work. In addition, Nebraska has one of the highest percentages in the nation of working women with children six years of age and under. As a sesult, the affordability and accessibility of child care has a direct impact on employee productivity, absenteeism, and future workforce development and availability.

With an average annual unemployment rate in our state of roughly 2%, competition for labor is tight. Current business operations, not to mention additional growth and expansion, are dependent in large part on the ability of business owners and operators to find the necessary workers to fill these jobs. Over the course of my visits across the state, businesses from Omaha to Scottsbluff and everywhere in between tell me they are struggling to recruit and retain quality employees. From my perspective, quality child care is an important issue to help alleviate this challenge.

Over the past several months, members of the Business Council on Child Care Financing have been working to assess the overall sta-tus of child care in Nebraska and the positive impact quality child care has on our families, communities, and ultimately our entire state. On November 23rd, the Council released an executive summary of their efforts to date and a set of recommendations for addressing this

The Council's recommendations include the formation of the Governor's Business Partnership for Quality Child Care; efforts to raise awareness among the business community, policymakers, parents and childcare providers about the importance of early brain development and high quality care; a strengthening of the system for early childhood education providers which would link levels of preparation and training with incentives; coordination, consolidation, or elimination of multiple and duplicate commissions and boards for the purpose of efficiently administering, managing and monitoring early childhood care and education in Nebraska; and the creation of new sources of financing dedicated to early childhood development. This report is an important step forward in the process of improving child care in Nebraska. Ultimately, any strategies we develop and implement must involve parents and the private sector as partners with state and local government. With the best interests of children families, and business at stake, child care and early childhood devel opment are issues worth tackling with a "Nebraska United" effort

High school class helps future business persons

The Entrepreneurship class at Wayne High School is a class designed to help young entrepreneurs start their own business.

"We will be writing a business plan along with learning about financing and marketing your own business," said Annette Rasmussen, instructor of the class.

The class is continuing to run "The Emporium," a store started by the 1998 Entrepreneurship class.

The Emporium is a store that sells candy and school supplies during halls and before and after school

The class will also be selling tshirts, sweatshirts and polo shirts displaying a Wayne High School

Political scene is busy

By Ed Howard

Statehouse Correspondent The Nebraska Press Association

Ardyce Bohlke of Hastings has decided to leave the Legislature, a bunch of Republicans have endorsed Attorney General Don Stenberg for nomination to the U.S. Senate and the wide, wide world of initiative petitions is more wide open than ever.

Bohlke will be missed by a good many constituents and many of the more thoughtful individuals who have a continued interest in the state's educational institutions

As chairman of the Education Committee, Bohlke never hesitated when it came to acknowledging some of the realities involving the costs, in terms of local property of primary and secondary schools.

She was equally straight forward when it came to addressing the public's demand for services on the one hand, and for lower taxes on the other.

"Government provides services and it isn't any different, really, than shopping for other services in the private sector," Bohlke said in an interview. "Whatever it is you want, you're going to have to pay for it.

going to get less. It's not really com-plicated - except when it comes to the politics that attaches itself to government."

It would be hard to beat that one for a direct and candid assessment of Statehouse reality. Turning from Bohlke to Stenberg:

Stenberg has long desired a place in the U.S. Senate. He has long been denied that wish. Most recently, the denial came in the form of his defeat in the GOP primary when first-time candidate Chuck Hagel won the nod. Hagel then won the Senate seat by defeating then-Gov. Ben Nelson. (Nelson was woefully advised. History clearly showed, and still shows, that incumbent governors are not successful when they seek other offices).

Stenberg's hard Right politics sometimes made him unpopular among the moderate element of the GOP. It also failed to win anything for him other than the Attorney General's office, a job where talking like Attila is least likely to do a fellow harm.

No one of my acquaintance has ever suggested that Stenberg was other than a sincere family values guy. Few of my acquaintance would deny that he is as prone to the politically expedient as the next person. who wants one of the world's most important jobs.

The interesting thing will be seeing whether Stenberg rolls out the hardline, name-calling rhetoric ("Liberal! Liberal! Liberal!") if he makes it to the general election and a contest against Democratic Sen. Bob Kerrey. For one thing, you'd be hard-pressed to show me a liberal who thinks Kerrey is a liberal. Most liberals of my acquaintance think Kerrey is a moderate conservative, even on most of his most "liberal"

An Interesting note from Stenberg's news conference last Stenberg has long been in favor of term limits. He said he still favors term. limits. He also served one more term in the Attorney General's office than he initially said he would (when his theory was that, out of respect for limiting government service in office, he would limit his own).

When asked how many terms he would serve in the Senate, Stenberg said he would leave that up to the people if and when he was elected

Commissioners know their interest in this matter by a phone-call (375-3233) or letter. And we hope the Commissioners will move forward in term limits, but he didn't bind himself to any voluntary term limit in the Senate

SEE SEE

Interestingly, it would be difficult for Stenberg critics on the other side of the fence to fault his latest position - if that's what it is

The pragmatic among those who like the idea of term limits still argue that it makes no sense for a state to unilaterally disarm itself (if it could constitutionally do so) by limiting Congressional terms. You're talking about a Congress where the number of terms you serve has every thing to do with how well you can serve your constituents. This applies most especially when it comes to bringing, home the federal dollars and getting breaks for your state from the federal government's bureaucracy in general.

Rather than annoy many of those who argue that their position is the one reflecting true conservatism, I acknowledge the view that: "We already have term limits: They are called elections."

Most interestingly, that is the view I hear most often from those who consider themselves to be true liberalism.

Thanks given for county zoning meeting and the good turnout

Dear Editor,
We want to thank the Wayne County Commissioners for sponsoring, and the staff of the Northeast Nebraska Economic Development District for facilitating the public meeting last Tuesday night to discuss the issue of comprehensive planning and developing zoning regulations for Wayne County.

The turnout of over 80 concerned citizens filled the Courthouse courtroom and is indicative of the widespread concerns in this matter.

Perhaps, as never before, both rural and city residents need to work together to come up with a solution to the changing situation in agricultural production, the lifeblood of Wayne County.

Legitimate concerns regarding quality of life issues and concerns over additional regulations for those involved in production agriculture were voiced; however, we see no reason why effective and fair zoning regulations could not be written to address the needs of all residents in the county. Such regulations could protect both the farmers in their operations and the city-dwellers.

And, since Wayne is one of only two counties (Platte County being the other) in northeast Nebraska that either has no zoning ordinances or is not in the process of developing them, it would seem that there are helpful precedents in the region to look to for guidance in

Community choral makes debut

Dear Editor,

Lots of our Wayne friends — high and college teachers, retirees, business and professional persons — were of one voice last Sunday evening (Nov21) as part of the inaugural concert of the Wayne State Chorale, a newly formed community choral group.

Folks, this is a group that, in its first concert, has already exceeded the efforts of many community groups that one hears across the land. No musical pablum here: their spirited singing is clean and tuned and their program derives from the center of accepted choral repertory.

This Saturday is Junior Cats recognition night WSC defeats Nebraska-Kearney

Of the Herald

It took nearly nine months but the Wayne State men's basketball team got some revenge over Nebraska-Kearney and at the same time picked up their first win of the 1999-2000 campaign last week in Rice Auditorium, 90-87

Coach Greg McDermott watched his team scrap their way to a 12 point halftime cushion, 49-37 only to have the visiting Lopers erase that debt in a big way three quarters into the second half UNK out-scored the 'Cats by a 38-16 margin over the first 13 minutes of the second stanza to take a 75-64 lead with 7:03 remaining.

WSC responded with a 26-12 scoring run down the stretch including a 12-2 sport in the final three minutes to win by three.

he 'Cats tied the game at 85 on a Nathan Mulder layup and Mulder did the honors of putting WSC ahead by two with another layup before Brad Joens closed out the scoring with three free throws in the final 27 seconds.

Five WSC players netted double figures led by Joens with 16 points. Mulder tossed in 14 and Matt VanVoorst tallied 13 followed by Brad Manley with 11 and Rory Williams with 10.

Harms netted 16. Lindley Thompson scored 11 with Nick Svehla, Domonic Harris and Mike Gitt scoring 10 each.

Harms was held 22 points below what he scored against the 'Cats last March in the NCAA Division II Regional Tournament in Wayne.

"We played a good first half and then went through one of those dry spells," McDermott said. "Plus, John Webber hit some tough shots against us and they (UNK) hit 58 percent from the field in the second

"Mac" was pleased with his team's, performance down the stretch as they gradually erased an 11-point deficit in the final seven minutes.

"We scored on our last 12 possessions and you, can't ask for more than that," McDermott added. "We put our most offensive group on the floor during that stretch with Brad Joens, Nathan Mulder, Eric Henderson, Jon Dolliver and Rory Williams and they got the job

"Mac" was also pleased with the defensive play of Brad Manley, Justin Sanny and Williams who teamed up to contain an explosive Anthony found themselves in a similar situation in all three games this season where they have led by comfortable margins and they have trailed by double digits.

'When we get up by six or eight points we have to be able to put a run together to push it to 20 instead of hitting a dry spell where we allow the opposition to not only come back but to build a good lead on McDermott said

WSC out-rebounded the Lopers by a comfortable margin, 41-34 as Jon Dolliver led the way with 10 caroms while Matt VanVoorst had eight and Eric Henderson, seven. Jason Herlitzke finished with six rebounds.

Brad Joens and Justin Sanny shared team honors in assists with four each while Jon Dolliver and assists each. WSC had 18 turnovers with UNK netting 17 and Dolliver recorded a game-high three steals.

WSC will host Minnesota State-Mankato on Saturday night at 7:30 in the first of five consecutive home games to close out first semester

WSC, 90---UNK, 87

WSC: Brad Joens, 16; Nathan Mulder, 14; Matt VanVoorst, 13; Brad Manley, 11; Rory Williams, 10; Jon Dolliver, 9; Jason Herlitzke, 8; Eric Henderson, 6; Justin Sanny, 3. FG's: 36-74-48%; FT's: 11-14-78%. TEAM RECORD: 1-2.

UNK: John Webber, 28; Anthony Harms, 16, Lindley Thompson, 11; Nick Svehla, 10; Domonic Harris, 10, Mike Gitt, 10; Jeff Caha, 2. FG's: 39-71-55%; FT's: 2-6-33%

Justin Sanny floats to the hoop for two points during WSC's three-point win over the Lopers last week.

WSC women off to 2-1 start as they down Doane and Mt. Marty

The Wayne State women's basketball team captured victories over Doane, 81-66 and Mt. Marty, 81-61 following a season-opening setback to North Central Conference team South Dakota State, 77-64.

The 2-1 'Cats have had impressive second halves in all three games, out-scoring the three opponents by a combined total of 38 points.

Head coach Ryun Williams says despite the 2-1 start his squad needs to focus on playing the entire 40 minutes instead of just one half. "We're still trying to develop that chemistry as a unit," Williams said. "We'll get there."

WSC was tied with Doane at the half at 36 each, Tuesday night in Rice Auditorium but the 'Cats defense stiffened some in the second half and rode the shoulders of Karen Hochstein, Erin Aakre and Beth Skogen to victory.

"We did a nice job of getting to the foul line," Williams said. "We did have a lot of breakdowns on defense. We need to get everyone on the same page defensively and that will carry over to the offense." Hochstein, the freshman from Hartingon Cedar Catholic is playing anything but like a freshman after scoring 25 points and hauling down 13 rebounds against Doane.

"Karen is playing real well right now," Williams added. "She's playing with a lot of confidence on both sides of the floor."

Hochstein was one of four WSC players in double figures as Etin Aakre tallied 14 points and Sara Miller, 13 while Krista Bernadt tossed in a dozen.

Aakre dished out seven assists and Bernadt had four assists but WSC committed 29 turnovers which is far more than Williams would like Doane also suffered 29 turnovers.

Board wise, WSC dominated, 45 33 as Hochstein had the game high 13 caroms with Kristene Strait hauling down seven rebounds.

RODE THE WINGS of WSC Karen Hochstein and Krista Bernadt along with freshman Tracy Williamson in the 81-61 win over Mt. Marty on Sunday afternoon in

Again it was a tight first half with 'Cats holding a 34-29 advantage before out-scoring the visitors by a 47-32 margin in the second

"It was a tale of two different halves again," Williams said. "We played a great second half and our defense was dominant which set up our offense."

Hochstein Hit seven of her 10 shot attempts from the floor and converted 10-of-13 free throw attempts for a game-high 24 points. The freshman sensation also hauled down six-rebounds.

Bernadt was even more impressive from the field, hitting seven-ofnine shots from the floor including a perfect three-for-three performance

Williamson tallied 14 points for the winners. WSC dominated the boards, 42-32 as Kristene Strait led the way with eight rebounds while Bernadt had seven.

IN THE SEASON OPENER, WSC trailed highly tauted South Dakota State by a 15-11 margin before the visiting Jackrabbits went on a 17-0

That propelled the visitors to a 42-21 halftime advantage before WSC out-scored the 'Jacks by a 43-

35 margin in the second half. "We lost the game during that six-or-seven minute stretch in the first half," Williams sald. "We played right with them the rest of the way.

Sara Miller led all scorers with 20 points in her debut as a Wayne State Wildcat while Krista Bernadt tallied 1.5 points.

WSC was dominated on the boards, 51-37 with Katie Sperling leading the 'Cats with 10 caroms.

WSC will host Morningside at 6 p.m. on Sunday.

Lagoons and Their Effects on the Environment and People.

"In an agricultural community such as Nebraska, large-scale livestock operations are becoming more commonplace. One of the most critical aspects of these facilities is the waste lagoon. By taking a look at the structure of these lagoons, we can better understand the biology and chemistry involved in these waste basins. Effects on the environment, including air and water pollution, are of utmost concern. Nonetheless, the effects these facilities have on people cannot be minimized. By using hog waste lagoons as a model, the interrelationship between the lagoon, the environment, and people can be better understood," Tanderup said in her project abstract.

Local business accepted into Market

Kimberly Doffin of K & R in the Country has been accepted into the Genuine Nebraska Market to be held Jan. 23-24, 2000 at the Downtown Holiday Inn in Lincoln.

The two-day show will be open strictly to qualified wholesale buyers. Artisans must go through a jury process to be accepted into the Genuine Nebraska Market.

"The key thing about jurying is that it saves buyers time because they don't have to search for quality as they shop. It also enhances the image and professionalism of the industry we are trying to promote," said First Lady Stephanie Johanns, spokesperson for GROW Nebraska.

"Store owners who attended the Genuine Nebraska Market will not only have an opportunity to provide their customers with appealing and appetizing gifts gathered from all over Nebraska, but also promote

Wholesale buyers will be able to order Nebraska made pottery, furniture, glass, jewelry, ceramics, soft sculpture, woodcrafts, wreaths, folk art metal crafts wearable art, weavings, pillows, prints, quilts, paper crafts and unique foods.

Dave Miller, director of the Nebraska Office of Travel and Tourism said, "We are encouraging store owners to attend the Genuine Nebraska Market, This allows them the opportunity to put Nebraska products on their shelves that tourists are looking for."

There is still limited space available in the show and artisans and buyers should call toll-free 1-888-476-9632, ext. 102 for more informåtion.

Diabetics Should Get Flu Shot

Flu shots can be a life saver for people with diabetes. People with diabetes are three times more likely to die from flue and pneumonia than those without diabetes. More than half of diabetics did not get a flu shot in recent years. People may not be aware that diabetes can make the immune system more vulnerable to serve complications from flu, including death. Annually, 10,000 to 30,000 persons with diabetes die from complications from flu and pneumonia

Communication is important

Difficult times in agriculture can strain family relationships, so what families need to remember is the importance of communication.

Many of you have probably heard people say that God gave everyone two ears and one mouth, therefore we should listen twice as much as we talk. Sometimes we find it difficult to listen, but hopefully, the tips listed below will give you some ideas to use in your family

Focus on what the family member is saying. Many times when someone is speaking, we begin forming a reply before they even finish their thoughts. Concentrate on what the person is saying; it keeps your mind from skipping ahead to your reply.

Don't jump to conclusions. jumping to a conclusion when we hear something we disagree with is a large barrier to listening. The automatic judgements that we make on an idea or person turns our brains off and we refuse to listen to anything that is said on the subject we have an open mind throughout the conversation, we will hear ideas and views that will broaden our perspective.

Listen with your heart. By using our hearts, we see past the words to the emotions that are motivating them, what is the reason behind this conversation? Fear, unhappiness, joy, frustration, support and love are emotions that tell us more than the words. They express the true feelings of the person speaking. Turning into the other person's emotions help us to better understand what is being said.

Be patient. Listen to the complete idea of the person speaking. The hardest job of a listener is not interrupting a person or trying to assist them in completing their thoughts. The speaker is the only one who knows what they are going to say. By talking over a person, we are telling that person that what they have to say is not important, which in turn tells them that they are not important. Our response to a person will be more appropriate when we have to let them complete their thoughts.

Take steps to understand what is being said. Numerous conflicts in families can be avoided by making sure that each person understands what has been said and how it was received. Paraphrasing back to the person what you have just heard gives the person opportunity to agree or correct the assessment that you have made. Conflicts begin when a person perceives something that was not meant by the other person. By checking back with each other, families can keep misunderstandings to a minimum

Respect. Show respect to the person speaking by giving them your full attention. By listening to a person and considering their ideas fairly, you benefit from their ideas and perspective. You also need to build an atmosphere for family members to share their views without fear of being shunned. A person is more likely to accept a decision that they -may not completely agree with if their point of view has been heard and considered.

Take time to listen. True conversation where there is a sharing of ideas, an acceptance of differing viewpoints and collaboration on a decision takes time. In the hectic schedules of the day, there is very little time for true conversation Conflicts arise when we assume that everyone agrees, but we have not taken the time to check it out. A regularly scheduled family business meeting to discuss and listen to family members' views and ideas is essential in running a family busimess. Decision making takes time. A family business needs to recognize the value of setting aside time to listen to each other.

Listening is not a skill that everyone has just because they have ears it takes a commitment to the people in the family business to become a good listener.

Mission Sunday to be held

Have you ever wanted to travel to exotic places, getting to know people from cultures quite different

Dick Dungan, Chairman of the Board for China Harvest, and Rich Graf will share stories about their travels to China and the impact being made in the lives of the Chinese people at Calvary Bible Evangelical Church on Sunday, Dec. 5 from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Dungan has been leading teams of foreign workers (missionaries) to China since 1995. The mission of Chinà Harvest is to serve the persecuted church in China by bringing Bibles to believers, training church leaders, supporting humanitarian work such as medical teams and orphanage workers, bringing in teachers of English as a second language, helping churches "adopt" the unreached people of China and providing pastoral care (supporting and encouraging foreign workers who are adapting to a new culture).

Dungan also explained that Beijing, China has a population of approximately 15 million people. Within that city there exists seven "Three Self Patriotic Movement" Churches. Christianity is "legal". in China, but citizens must register and can only attend one of these seven churches provided for one church for the entire state).

Meeting outside the seven governmental churches is illegal; however, many Chinese believers host and attend House Churches to meet the ever growing needs of believers to hear and learn the word of God.

The election of officers results was omitted from last week's Community Club news. Results were Dale Strivens, President; Donna Schroeder, vice president; Marcia Rastede, secretary; and Rita Mattes,

The Allen Community Club is an organization open to all town and rural residents of Allen. It promotes activities for the betterment of the town including children's holiday parties, welcome packets, spring garage sale day, and clean up day, financial support of the summer recreational program, and sponsorship of the Historic Tree Grove. Heritage Park and Christmas activi-

Everyone is invited to attend the dinner and/or meeting held the third Monday of each month. The next meeting will be January 17, 2000. What better way of supporting and promoting Allen then by being a member of the Allen Community Club?

CHRISTMÁS DRAWING

The Town Christmas drawing will be Saturday, Dec. 18 at 2 pm. Businesses giving prizes need to get Village Office by Dec. 10. To be included in the Christmas drawing you just need to sign your name up at an Allen business after you make your purchase. Names will be drawn from all the businesses on the 18th At 2 pm, Santa-will be in town at the mini-mall. Be sure to bring your children to sit on his lap and tell him what they would like for Christmas.

In conjunction with the Drawing and Santa, the Dixon County Museum school house will be open from 10 am to 1 pm with refreshments. The decorations this year will be provided by the Newcastle school children.

Following the drawing Roy and Shirley Stohler will present a puppet show in the main museum building. Adults and children are invited to this activity. St. Paul Lutheran Church will have a bake and craft sale at the Village Inn. The Springbank Township Library will be open with refreshments served. The Senior Center will offer coffee and cookies. Plan on spending the whole day in Allen for this Community Event.

SCHOOL CENTS

Allen Consolidated Schools is again participating in the Southern Hills Mall Cash Program. The event goes until Dec. 31. Receipts from any store on the mall grounds can be saved and redeemed for points for Allen. Want to keep your receipt? Go to the Customer Service desk and them fill out a Points Pass. They will record you receipts and stamp them and you can keep

Points will be also awarded for Repot and GPA. The points will then be applied directly to the Allen's average points. Students in 9th through 12th grades can bring their Report cards to the Customer Service desk and have their points awarded to Allen. 4.0 GPA receive 100 points, 3.0-3.9 gets 75 points, 2.0-2.9 receives 50 points and Perfect attendance is awarded 100

This years program sponsors are Gateway2000, Pepsi-Cola, STAR 102.3 FM, KMEG- TV and Avery Bros. Sign CO. The top five places will receive a Gateway computer along with cash prizes totaling $25,000 awarded for 1st through 10th places.

With last week being the busiest shopping weekend, most of you probably forgot to drop off your receipts or couldn't get to the Customer Service Desk because of the crowds. No Problem-Just drop they have a collection box for your convenience. The students appreciate the extra effort and the extra computer items they will receive from the points collected.

Last year, they received $1,250 for the program. They were able to purchase swivel chairs, computer equipment, software programs, computer equipment, software programs, and a projection monitor.

This year the goal is a Gateway Computer and they need your help, so don't forget to drop off your receipts!!! If you have any questions, contact Mrs. Levine at the school. SENIOR CITIZEN MENU

Hosting Thanksgiving does has its benefits

It's noon on Saturday, and I've just had a lunch of sweet potatoes and cranberry salad; the extra benefits of hosting the Thanksgiving dinner. When your dining room is 21 feet long, and your table stretches to seat 15, it only makes sense that you will be having lots of family din-

This year, Jim and Linda were here from South Carolina, which made it a special holiday. When Thomas got ready to go home, hugs and kisses all around; he pointed at his great aunt Linda and asked his mother if she was in this family. When assured that she was, she got a hug, too.

Everyone brings something, so it really isn't such a big deal. And, long-ago, I discovered the secret of cooking the turkey a couple days ahead of time, carving it, and heating it up in its juices on the day. All the juice goes first into a sauce pan in the refrigerator, causing the fat to rise to the top for easy skimming.

While the bird is roasting, 1 cook the giblets for gravy; cut them up, and add em to some of the juice thickened with corn starch.

The carcass goes in a soup pot with onion and celery to which I add kluski noodles to make the

This family likes a crockpot dressing that comes from Kristi's family, so she made it. Sue made party potatoes, Ann did the sweet potatoes, and Mary does the spinach

We rely on Grandma for rolls and pie, and Kristi's Mom did a wonderful relish tray. I also make the cranberry relish ahead of time, grinding frozen cranberries, two oranges and two apples. You add these to a large box of strawberry gelatin, diluted in two cups of hot water, and mix in a carton of whipped topping before it

We have the dreaded green bean casserole, with French fried onions, for January; and lots of this season's sweet corn for the grand kids.

Needless to say, we were all stuffed. Isn't that supposed to happen on Thanksgiving?

I worked on Friday. Mike was watching Texas and A & M when I left. I was in Bellevue from 1 to 2:30, and turned on the car radio when left that home; 24 to 3, a comfortable margin

Later, I tuned in-to find it was 27 to 6. No touchdowns in the third quarter. I arrived home in time to see that fourth. Good Grief! What happened? The Colorado quarterback was unbelievable, we were out coached, and the awful fumbles kept happening. It was only a miracle that saved the game for us, a missed field goal. I think I'm going to find something to do next Saturday, during the Big 12 Championship. It really is Bobby Bowden's turn for the national championship

RENTING VS. BUYING!

Owning a home can be less expensive than renting in the long run. One benefit of home ownership is the tax advantage involved.

Did you know that your interest on home mortgage payments, as well as property taxes, are deductible?

This is a significant deduction on your taxes that paying rent does not afford you.

Stop in to check out the benefits and possibilities of home ownership!

Don't Let the Big City Gobble You Up This Year

Every dollar will turn over as many as seven times when spent in a community like ours. Can we afford to pass up the extra values that home-spent dollars give us in better schools, more jobs, and more prosperous businesses that serve us better?

All of us benefit every time a dollar is spent here, not just the merchants ... everyone! Let's keep a big smile on the face of our entire community by supporting the same people who support us.

REGISTER AT EACH OF THESE PARTICIPATING BUSINESSES TO WIN $150 (Each Friday) Sponsored by The Wayne Herald and morning shopper

Area cagers, grapplers to tip off seasons tonight

Basketball and wrestling seasons get underway tonight (Thursday) and all but one Wayne Herald area team will see action this weekend.

Only the Wayne girls basketball team will hold off the season-opener until Tuesday when they play at Sioux City West.

Looking at the five area teams on the boys basketball side, Wayne head coach Rocky Ruhl welcomes back four starters off last season's 12-9 team.

Returning starters include Joel Munson, Klinton Keller, Eric McLagan and Jon Meyer. The varsity 12 will also comprise Dustin Schmeits, Shane Baack, Brad Hochstein, Brad Hansen, Trevor Wright, Ben Meyer, Ethan Mann and Craig Olson.

Both Munson and McLagan were near the double digit mark in average last year at 9.7 and 9.0, respectively. Keller netted 7.4 points per game and Meyer just over two points per contest. McLagan was the leading rebounder at 5.6 boards per game.

"The schedule this year will offer many challenges," Ruhl said. "If our players can accept and understand their roles and put aside any differences, success can be achieved. The summer camps and league games helped the quys begin to blend."

Ruhl said pressure defense will be the focus with a number of players getting involved.

Wayne will open the 1999-2000 season on Friday night at home against Battle Creek.

THE ALLEN BOYS will be guided by a new coach this season as Brian Hoffman, a native of Osmond and a former Wayne State College player, takes over the reins from Doug Schnack.

"I have a promising outlook as I begin my coaching career at Allen," Hoffman said. "We have four returning starters back from last season's 5-14 record."

Add those four plus a foreign exchange student in 6-3 junior Andrew Purnell who will most likely play point guard and the Eagles just may ruffle some feathers this season.

Among the returning starters are Austen Stewart, Joe Sullivan, Micky Oldenkamp and Adam Gensler. Rounding out the varsity will be Justin Warner, Brett Keitges, Brandon Oshahr and Gui Manzatto.

"Our goals are simply to improve each day," Hoffman said. "If we can improve our free throw percentage, eliminate turnovers and play intense for 32 minutes a game, we feel we can be successful this season."

Allen will begin season play on Thursday night against Winside.

WINSIDE'S BOYS TEAM also welcomes a new coach this season as Tom Meyer takes over at the helm for Terry Warner.

Meyer, a Wayne State graduateand Humphrey native, has starters returning in Scott Marotz and Aaron Lessmann at the post and pointquard

Also returning is sophomore Adam Hoffman who saw considerable playing time a year ago.

Marotz with five rebounds per game and a 6.5 per game scoring average, Lessmann at 6.3 points per game and Hoffman at 4.7 points per game will give Meyer a nucleus to build his squad around in the early going while looking for the bench to develop as the season progresses.

The experience at the post and point guard positions should provide a solid offense and the speed and quickness of the top six or seven players should add to the team's success in the coming season.

In order for the Wildcats to be successful Meyer feels some of the youngers players need to step up and give the squad some quality playing minutes off the bench.

THE LAUREL-CONCORD boys basketball team will be under the direction of veteran coach Clayton Steele once again and the Bears mentor has to like what he has returning to the line-up in 1999-2000.

Steele, entering his eighth season at the helm of the Laurel-Concord boys squad has one state championship under his belt and this year's team may be one of the most talented in recent history.

Four starters return and 13 letterwinners are back from an 18-5 season last year.

Starters returning include Evan Smith, Matt Schroeder, Nick

Manganaro and Nathan Beckman.

The Bears were also recipients of some quality transfers in Ross Gardner, who played last season in Wakefield and foreign exchange student Johan Berner from Sweden who brings a number of basketball attributes to the table.

Other returning letterwinners include Brandon Viterna, Jon Erwin, Adam Hartung, Chris Lackas, Blake Erwin, Greg Kvols, Bennie Surber and Bob Haisch.

"There's no doubt we're expecting an exciting season," Steele said. "If our basketball team is anything like our football team we will have success"

Steele said experience will be the key for the Bears as several have varsity starting experience.

Laurel-Concord opens the 1999-2000 season on Friday night when they host NENAC conference foe, Crofton.

WAKEFIELD WILL BE under the direction of Mike Clay once again as he enters his third year at the helm of the program.

The biggest challenge Clay faces is replacing the school's second all-time leading scorer in BJ Hansen who was lost to graduation after scoring a career total of 1,070 points.

Also gone from last year's team is Ross Gardner, who transferred to Laurel-Concord. Josh Peterson and Chad Mackling were also lost to graduation.

Clay is looking at seniors Nick White and Richie Dutton to provide the leadership in the starting line-up.

They will be joined by juniors Wyatt Brown, Todd McQuistan and Ty Nixon.

Other varsity players include Ross. Hansen, Ryan Carson, Brett Brownell, Tucker Greve and Joel McAfee.

The Trojans open the season on Thursday night at home against Pender.

Wakefield was 7-15 a year ago but was very competitive. "We have a young and inexperienced team this season," Clay said. "We have some depth but the pre-season hard work will be key."

TURNING TO WRESTLING action in the area, Wayne, Winside and Laurel-Concord will be the three teams with wrestling teams.

WAYNE'S TEAM will begin the 1999-2000 season on Thursday at Schuyler in duel action before competing in the Blair Invite on Saturday.

John Murtaugh said he's excited about another approaching season. "We have established a "Tradition of Excellence" in our program and this year's team will look to continue that tradition," Murtaugh said. "If preseason conditioning workouts are any indication, we will have another successful wrestling season."

Ten returning lettermen should provide the Blue Devils with a good base of experience. "We expect our three seniors (Gabe Hammer, Ryan Haase and Craig Hefti) to provide us with the leadership that we need," Murtaugh added. "Six additional wrestlers, (Casey Campbell, Lucas Munter, Danny Roeber, Gabe Hammer, Chris Woehler and Ryan Haase had winning records last season."

Lucas Munter and Casey Campbell are returning state qualifiers.

"Our schedule will be as competitive as ever," Murtaugh said. "We like it this way because we understand that in order to be wrestling our best in the post-season tournaments we must wrestle tough competition during the regular season."

Wayne's first home duel will be on Dec. 7 against West Point. The annual Wayne Invite will be on Saturday, Dec. 18.

WINSIDE'S WRESTLING team will be under the guidance of Paul Sok, one of the most recognizable coaches in Class D for his success as the Wildcats mentor during a run of 17 top 10 Class D finishes in his 19-year tenure.

Sok has also compiled 92 duel victories during that era. There is no reason to believe that success won't continue this season.

While Winside may field a young team in 1999-2000 with eight of the 14 weight brackets filled with freshman and sophomores, they also bring back some experienced matsters.

Senior Jeremy Jaeger (140) and junior Eric Vanosdall (160) who both collected third place medals at state last season will lead the pre-season seventh ranked Wildcats into the season-opening invite on Saturday at Creighton.

Joining these state placers will be State Meet qualifier Jared Jaeger (103), a 23-match winner last year, along with senior Tom Wittler (145) and juniors Aaron Paulsen (130), Justin Koch (135) and Nathan Suehl (171).

Also expected to contribute to Winside mat success this season are freshman prospects Brandon Suehl (112), Travis Koll (112) and Tom Schwedhelm (189) along with sophomore returnees Sam Strohman (125) and Dustin Nelson (215).

THE LAUREL-CONCORD wrestling team will be directed by Lyle VanCleave and the Bears will be led by seven returning letterwinners including Jacob Gubbels (112), John Freeman (125), Evan Bloom (130), Tyler Kvols (145), Andrew Diediker (152), Dave Gries (160) and Brad Hoesing (275).

Added to this year's Bears team will be a pair of Allen athletes including Clayton Bratcher and Kyle Oswald. "We have 20 athletes out for wrestling," VanCleave said. "Brad Hoesing is back at 275 pounds after setting out last year with an injury. We have good freshman and for the first time in the program's history we have a full team."

VanCleave is pleased with his program's growth since its inception a few years ago.

"We'll still be a young team but we look for Dave Gries, Brad Hoesing and Tyler Kvols to be the leaders of the group," VanCleave added.

VanCleave said he feels Creighton and Neligh-Oakdale will be the NENAC teams to beat and Winside and Norfolk Catholic as strong teams outside the conference which the Bears run into on several occasions.

Laurel-Concord will open the season on Saturday as the Bears compete in the Creighton Invitational.

Area girls basketball teams seek improvements over last season

THE ONLY AREA GIRLS team that experienced success as measured by a winning record was Laurel-Concord under the direction of head coach Susie Koranda.

The Bears were 14-9 last season and the third-year coach has a solid nucleus returning this season led by juniors Kari Stewart and Brittany Burns.

Stewart averaged 11.3 points per game and 4.2 assists per outing while Burns tallied 7.5 points per game and 6.1 boards per outing.

Returning letterwinners also include junior Jenny Demuth and sophomore Lani Recob.

"Although we have no seniors, we are looking for our juniors to step up and lead the team," Koranda said. "Our goal is to play strong, aggressive defense trying to create offensive opportunities with our transition game."

Koranda said early in the season her team will need several underclassmen to step up and play well, in order to develop the depth needed to play an up tempo style of basketball.

Koranda will look to start the above mentioned four with Kari Stewart, Brittany Burns, Lani Recob and Jenny Demuth along with Melanie Thompson.

"We'll look to go at least nine deep," Koranda said. "Kate Harder, Rebecca Johnson, Katie Peters and Emily Schroeder will also aid our cause."

The Bears open the season on Thursday with a contest at Coleridge before hosting Crofton on Friday night.

WAYNE WILL LOOK TO improve on last year's disappointing 2-18 mark as John McClarnen returns to the helm of the Blue Devils program.

"We're looking forward to the season," McClarnen said. "The girls worked hard during the off-season at open gyms, summer leagues and camps."

The Blue Devils return four starters and nine letterwinners. Heading the returnees is seniors Sara Ellis and Jessica Woehler along with juniors Monica Novak, Leah Dunklau, Kallie Krugman, Katie Walton, Beth Loberg and senior Amy Magnuson along with sophomore April Thede.

"The girls worked hard to improve their fundamental skills during the summer and they will be striving to implement those skills during game situations," McClarnen said.

Wayne's schedule will once again be challenging with some of the top teams in the state. "We're confident that we can have a successful season with hard work and dedication," McClarnen added.

Wayne won't open the 1999-2000 season until Dec. 7 when they travel to play Sioux City West. The Blue Devils will also play at Battle Creek on Friday and at Schuyler on Saturday before returning for the home opener on Friday, Dec. 16 against West Point.

THE WINSIDE GIRLS basketball team has a new coach this season as Marland Erbst takes over the reigns from Lisa Schroeder.

Erbst, a Stanton native inherits a team that has an abundance of experience and quality depth with nine returning letterwinners.

The Wildcats went 7-11 last season but are expecting better things in 1999-2000.

"Team depth will allow our team to push the ball up the floor offensively while putting a lot of defensive pressure on opposing teams," Erbst said. "We feel there's a chance we could play 14-to-16 girls."

Despite that, senior leadership will be relied on as well as returning experience to get Winside off on the right foot.

Seniors Shannon Bowers, Sara Mohr, Brooke Boelter, Keisha Rees and juniors Jessica Wade along with sophomore Julie Jacobsen all had extensive playing time a year ago.

Shannon Jaeger, a senior who sat out last year with a knee injury will also return to this year's squad.

Winside will open the season on Thursday night in Allen. The Wildcats will also play at Wynot on Friday.

THE ALLEN GIRLS basketball team will be headed by former Allen High and Wayne State standout Lori Koester and the Eagles mentor has a wealth of experience coming back from last year's team.

"We are returning eight letterwinners from last year's team," Koester said. "Four of those letterwinners are seniors who are now seeing a glimpse of the finish line and are determined to finish strong."

Koester said her team has a motto for the coming season: "Pursue your dream with Courage; Prepare your heart with Determination.

"These girls, every one of them have a lot of heart and they have been preparing both physically and mentally for the opening game on Thursday night at home against Winside," Koester added.

The Allen mentor said her team has been working on a lot of the little things that they fell will make a big difference.

The four senior returnees include Stacey Martinson, Shannon Koester, Jessica Bock and Rachel Stallbaum.

Junior returning letterwinners include Alicia Liebsch, Danielle Bertrand and Melissa Wilmes and sophomore returning letterwinner Elizabeth Bock will look to get the Eagles out to a quick start in 1999-2000

Koester says Michelle Marks and Angela Prochaska will contribute to the team's success as well.

Allen will look to continue a dream athletic year after the volleyball team advanced to the state semifinals in November.

THE WAKEFIELD TROJANS will be directed by Iris Borg once again this season and the Trojans will be looking to improve on last season's 4-16 record.

"We are returning all but two seniors off last year's team so we are hoping the experience will get us over the hump," Borg said. "We lost a lot of close games last season so one of our goals is to come out on top of those games this season."

Borg said her troops worked hard over the summer and during preseason drills along with a great attitude which could result in a successful season.

Leading returning letterwinners include seniors Maggie Brownell, Amber Johnson, Kristin Brudigam and Annie Greve along with junior Annie Bierbower and Kim Hattig and sophomores Megan Brown and Timarie Bebee.

Other seniors on the team include Erin Salmon and Lacey Brown. Other Juniors include Elisabeth Zulkosky, Nikki Kay, Nicole Hansen and Traci Lueth.

Wakefield will open the season on Thursday when they play host to Pender.
