Wayne State College names Scott Hoffman head football coach

Scott Hoffman, head football coach at Dakota State University, has been named the new head football coach at Wayne State College, WSC interim director of athletics Greg McDermott announced Monday.

Hoffman was introduced to the public and the media at a press conference Tuesday afternoon.

"Having a successful football program is an important component of athletic department," McDermott said. "We were looking for a person with strong ties in the state of Nebraska, demonstrated sucress at the Division II level and a proven track record in terms of the ability to build a successful program.

"With the hiring of Scott, we feel we have accomplished this. Not only is he a great coach, he and his family will be a tremendous asset to our campus and the Wayne community. Hoffman enjoyed a great deal of success at Dakota State the past four seasons, where he built a strong program After inheriting a program See WSC, page 3A which had a 1-9 record in 1995,

Hoffman guided DSU to a 2-7 mark ın 1996

In 1997, Hoffman increased the squad size from 45 to 70 players. Although the Trojans were only 2-8 that season, the larger roster paid dividends in 1998 when the team tallied a 7-3 record, with all three losses coming to teams which qualified for the NAIA playoffs

In the process, Hoffman was amed the South Dakota named Intercollegiate Conference Coach of the Year. The Trojans were 5-5 this past season, giving Hoffman a 16-23 career record

Prior to his tenure at Dakota State, Hoffman spent 12 seasons as an assistant coach at the University of Nebraska-Kearney. He coached the wide receivers and tight ends from 1984-90 before being promoted to offensive coordinator in 1991.

In five seasons as offensive coordinator, the Lopers compiled a 28-22record. Additionally, in 1985,

"I am very excited," Hoffman said of becoming the Wildcats' 20th head football coach. "After my interview, I was very excited about the enthusiasm on campus, I can't wait to get started and do my part in getting the football program up to speed with some of the other programs. I am thrilled about this opportunity."

According to Hoffman, he believes the resources available at Wayne State will allow him the opportunity to field teams which annually compete for the Sun Intercollegiate Conference championship. Wayne State is coming off a 3-8 season in 1999. The Wildcats, competing in their first season in the NSIC, were 3-5 in league play. WSC compiled a 7-25 record in three seasons under Kevin Haslam, who resigned November 2nd. "The NSIC is becoming a much better conference from top to bottom," Hoffman said. "I would like to think that we can be in the hunt for

GUIDELINES FOR HOLIDAY GIVING Beware of Bogus Charities

Nearly 40 percent of the year's charitable donations are made during the months of November and December. Consumers should be aware that not all groups presenting themselves as the rities are legitimate. Some organizations use names that sound similar to your favorite charities with the intent to deceive givers. Others may misrepresent how your donation will be used.

The Nebraska Attorney General's Office suggests that before pledging your financial gift to a charitable organization, you consider the following:

KNOW WHO YOU ARE GIVING TO

With so many promoters and charities asking for contributions, it is easy to confuse one charity with another. Always ask the charity for the complete name and and address of their organization. A Nebraska address for the charity does not necessarily mean the charity is Nebraska based, or that your contribution will be used locally. Contributions addressed to a post office box or suite number may be picked up and sent to another state

If you have questions about the legitimacy of a charity, check with the Attorney General's Office, the local Better Business Bureau, or the National Charities Information Bureau, 19 Union Square West, Dept. FT, New York, NY, 10003-3395, phone (212) 929-6300. Be aware, however, that there could still be problems with a charity – even without complaints

FIND OUT HOW YOUR GIFT WILL BE USED

Do not assume that 100 percent of your contribution will go to the charitable cause. All charities have expenses in raising money. Request information in writing concerning the charity's specific programs and services before you agree to a donation. Find out what percentage of the charity's annual income goes to programs and services, administrative expenses, and fund raising activities. Be wary when less than 60% of your donation goes to programs and services, or more than 40% goes to

DON'T GIVE IN TO HIGH PRESSURE TELEPHONE APPEALS

Be wary of charities that harass you to contribute or use strong emotional appeals that may distort the charity's purpose. A reputable charity will welcome your questions and will be willing to send you a copy of the charity's annual report or financial statement. Never agree to mail a cash contribution and consider sending your donation by check rather than giving a credit care number or bank account or debit card number to a telephone solicitor.

This is the season when many of us want to share with others. Make sure that your charitable donations go to a reputable charity that will use

We are nation of laws

By Ed Howard

Statehouse Correspondent The Nebraska Press Association

This week's effort at columnizing has me in something of a difficult

Usually, I have a pretty good notion (right or wrong) about what goes into decisions that are made by officeholders and politicians

Last week there was one that I couldn't get a handle on

Cov Mike Johanns asked the president of the University of Nebraska to .put a stop to some research at the NU Medical Center

The reason: The Med Center was using fetal tissue in research involving various diseases of the brain, like Alzheimer's disease and others. The tissue came from aborted fetuses

NU President L. Dennis Smith refused the request. That move was as altogether understandable as it was predictable. He noted the research was federally funded, federally approved, similar to-research being done at other major universities and, not least, potentially invaluable to medical science.

Johanns has consistently opposed abortion. That position is a legitimate part of what he brings to public office and public leadership

What I didn't understand was Johanns asking Smith to order a stop to the research.

Johann's reasoning was that the fetal tissue used in the research resulted from abortion. He and many others find abortion reprehensible. Therefore, the research should stop.

As mentioned above: law sanc tions the research.

While the governor's request was no doubt based on sincere philosophical views, which in this case happen to also fall into the political

What is it that purports and often does make America different from other countries? It is that we are a nation of laws, not of men. Thus, friends of presidents can wind up in jail So can rich people and movie stars. True, it doesn't happen to them very often — but the idea is that a person or group of persons can't dictate what our society will or won't do simply by making a lot of noise or a lot of threats If the law allows it and you don't tike it, then you and yours get together and work to change the law. You have elections, the initiative petition process and constitu

It surprised me that Johanns, a guy much brighter than the average politician of either conservative or liberal persuasion, put such a request to Smith.

For one thing, he knew Smith couldn't and wouldn't honor it.

For another, Johanns is the common sense guy who did what he could as mayor of Lincoln to put the kibosh on some "dirty" public access TV programming. When the legal case didn't go his way, Johanns didn't posture and waste taxpayers' money filing untimely appeals for the sake of politics.

Later, fellow Republican Ion Christensen tried to smear Johanns for not doing a lot of useless, spendthrift stuff that would have amounted to showboating on the issue.

Johanns defended his position. Christensen got creamed in the pri-

Johanns knew, or should have known, that Smith had neither the power nor the inclination to unilaterally put a stop to the research at

There were any number of things Johanns could have done to voice concern over the issue. I can't figure out why he chose one that seemed to fly in the face of some very basic democratic principles.

sends holiday message Council

You Drink & Drive. You lose, is the message this holiday season as the Safety and Health Council joins other local, state and federal organizations for a public education campaign to kick-off National Drunk Driving (3D) Drugged Prevention Month in December

"The Council wants to get the word out that impaired driving is a dangerous, and too often, deadly crime that we cannot afford to over look in our community," said Kay Farrell, President/CEO of the Safety and Health Council. "It is time to address impaired driving as a serious issue that costs our residents millions of dollars each year in Tost time, lost property, and most impor-tantly, lost lives. The greatest tragedy is that deaths due to alcohol-related crashes are preventable these are not accidents.

nizations like the National Highway Safety Administration (NHTSA) and other traffic organizations, the Council hopes to save lives in Nebraska and help reach the national goal of reducing alcoholrelated deaths nationwide to no more than 11,000 by the year 2005.

While the number of deaths has decreased in recent years, alcohol remains a significant contributing factor to motor vehicle crashes. Last year, impaired drivers were responsible for almost 16,000 fatalities nationwide, accounting for 305,000 reported injuries and an estimated 1.5 million arrests

*Facts about impaired driving: *An average of one-alcohol-relat ed fatality occurs every 30 minutes *Motor vehicle crashes are the leading cause of death for teenagers

*Almost one-third of the pedestrians killed in 1996 were intoxicated

*Two-thirds of drivers involved in alcohol-rela raffic fatalities have a blood concentration (BAC) of .14 or higher

Americans will be involved in an alcohol-related crash at some time in their lives For more information, please call

Nebraska's manufacturers and small business benefit from trade

By Governor Mike Johanns

Dear Nebraska Neighbors:

Upon returning from my trade mission to China and Hong Kong last, month, I wrote in this space about the potential benefits Nebraska agriculture could see as a result of this trip and the possibility of increased trade opportunities should the newly-signed bilateral trade agreement between the United States and China be ratified by the U.S. Senate next year. As we look toward the future, however, I believe our efforts in Hong Kong and China will prove very beneficial, not only for agriculture, but for all sectors of Nebraska's economy.

Currently, we believe thirty-three Nebraska firms are doing business in China. At least one of those companies, Behlen Manufacturing of Columbus, is enjoying tremendous success as a part of the recent construction boom in Shanghai, one of several stops during our stay in China. Everywhere you go in Shanghai, new construction projects are being planned and built. Representatives from Behlen Manufacturing who were along on the trade mission informed us that their company had been responsible for the construction of 23 buildings to date in Shanghai.

Another Nebraska success story in China is Election Systems & Software, Inc. Based in Omaha, ES&S designs, develops, manufactures, sells, and services hardware and software systems to automate all phases of the voting process for local, state, and national election authorities around the world. As a result of its foreign expansion, Election Systems & Software has grown into the largest company in the world focusing solely on automating the election process. Today,

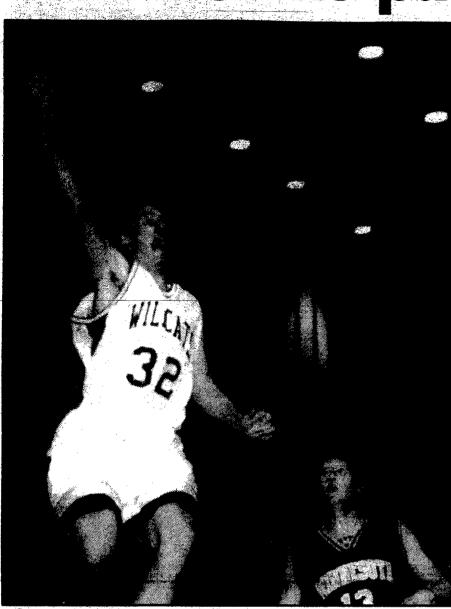

ES&S boasts facilities in eight states, and customers in all 50 states. Canada and multiple international installations including a strong presence in China

Behlen Manufacturing, Election Systems & Software, and many other firms such as Centurion International, Valmont, and MFS Harris for example, have been able to enjoy tremendous success in the Chinese market. What is perhaps more significant, however, is that they provide real world illustrations of the tremendous opportunities available for other Nebraska manufacturers and businesses in this

From the looks of things. China appears to be recovering from the Asian economic downturn that has occurred over the past several years. Over a three year span from 1995 to 1997, Nebraska's total exports to China fell approximately 46%. In 1998, however, that figure rose 19% to a total of over $23 million. During our stay in China, we saw the evidence of this trend first hand. The construction growth in Shanghai was just one example of the progress Chinese society is making toward. From computers and new technologies to consumer goods, more and more western products and companies are finding their way into the Chinese way of life.

In light of this positive trend, and on the heels of this most recent trade mission and the impending entry of China into the WTO, the time for exploring business and trade possibilities in China may never have been better. The Nebraska Department of Economic Development can provide a wide array of services and information to Nebraska firms looking to involve themselves in international trade. I encourage any Nebraska business owner or entrepreneur interested in trade opportunities in China and elsewhere in the international arena to contact the Department of Economic Development at 402-471-4668. The success of Nebraska's businesses and manufacturers in the international arena will go a long way toward boosting our entire economy for a stronger "Nebraska United."

The Wayne State men's basketball team knocked off two North Central Conference teams last week to improve the season record to 3-2.

Greg McDermott's team defeated Augustana College in Sioux Falls, S.D., 90-86 in overtime before blasting Minnnesota State-Mankato on Saturday night in Wayne, 87-72. In Sioux Falls the Wildcats trailed Augustana by one point at the half, 43-42. The 'Cats opened up a lead late in the second half before the host team rallied to force overtime with the score tied at 80.

WSC led by seven points with just under three minutes to go in regulation before Augustana managed to tie it up at the end of regulation.

WSC trailed by one point in the overtime period with under a minute to go before Brad Joens sank a long three-pointer to give WSC a two-point lead at 88-86

Augustana had one last chance to tie the game or win it with a threepointer but Eric Henderson stole the ball and through a baseball pass down court to Rory Williams who layed the shot up and in for the four point win,

"This was a big win on the road," McDermott said. "We haven't fared well in the past at Augustana. They are a much improved team from a year ago and I was encouraged we' found a way to win."

Joens, who had no three-pointers in the first half, sank seven of the long-range bombs in the second half and overtime.

Eric Henderson put together one of the more impressive stat lines you'll ever find with 18 points, 15 rebounds, six steals, four assists and three blocked shots.

"We need to make sure we keep executing down the stretch no matter what the score is," McDermott said. "We didn't do that very well in the final few minutes which allowed Apqustana to tie the game and send it to overtime."

Joens with 23 and Henderson with 18 were the scoring leaders for the 'Cats with Matt VanVoorst also scoring in double figures with 10.

Nathan Mulder and Rory Williams each scored nine for the winners. WSC was edged on the boards, 38-37 with Henderson of course leading the way with his 15 caroms.

WSC had 26 turnovers compared to 19 for the host team and Williams dished out a team-high six assists.

SATURDAY IN WAYNE the 'Cats raced to a 52-38 halftime lead over Minnesota State-Mankato and despite leading by 27 points with five minutes to go, settled for a 87-72 victory

Eric Henderson notched his third straight double-double with 12 points and 15 rebounds.

"Offensively we played very well in the first half," McDermott said. "In the second half I thought our defense showed their stripes as we limited to Mankato to just 31 percent shooting.

"Mac" feels the first five minutes of the second half is always a critical juncture of the game and the 'Cats' allowed just six points to the visitors in the first 8 1/2 minutes of the half

Brad Joens and Matt VanVoorst shared team honors with 14 points apiece while Jason Herlitzke poured in 13 and Henderson, 12. Jon Dolliver and Rory Williams were close to double digits with nine WSC dominated the boards, 49 37 led by Henderson's 15 caroms Brad Manley dished out a team high four assists. The 'Cats took care of the ball much better with just 12 turnovers while Mankato had 13.

THE 3-2 'CATS WILL now change focus to Northern Sun Conference play as they host prefavorites conference Northern State on Friday night in Rice Auditorium.

The Wolves will come in to Wayne with a disappointing 2-4 record but the visitors, coached by former Wayne native Don Meyer are eager to get things back on the right track.

"They are still the conference champs until someone knocks them off," McDermott said. "It will be a great game and I encourage everyone to come out and support us.

In fact, fans can get a preview of the insights of former Wayne native and Northern State coach Don Meyer on Friday at noon at the Max as the Dunk Club hosts a luncheon with speakers, Meyer, McDermott, WSC women's baskethall coach Ryun Williams and if possible, Northern State's women's coach.

Wayne girls drop opener

The Wayne girls basketball team opened season play on Tuesday night at Sioux City West with John McClarnen's squad-falling, 61-44.

It was West's fifth game of the season as they improved to 2-3. The Blue Devils trailed 12-11 after one quarter of play but nine, second quarter turnovers led to a 23-point scoring outburst by the host team as the Wolverines held a 35-22 lead at the break.

"We were able to cut the lead to six points early in the fourth quarter but could not get any closer," McClarnen said. "We obviously need to improve dramatically in taking care of the ball if we are going ball team went 1-1 last week to heading into conference play this weekend at home.

The 'Cats lost a close decision at Augustana of the North Central Conference, 85-77 before rebounding to thump an under-matched Morningside team, 103-53 on Sunday night in Wayne.

Ryun Williams said it wasn't a lack of effort that saw his team go down

"We played well on both ends of the floor," Williams said. "We shot the ball well and played with a great sense of urgency. We put ourselves in position to win the game but what it came down to was we didn't have an answer for their 6-2 player Brittani Janssen.

Williams was quick to point out that Morningside is a better team than what they showed on Sunday and they are a well coached bunch.

Krista Bernadt led the scoring barrage with 19 points while Tracy Williamson had a career-high 17 and Sara Miller, 13. Erin Aakre, Beth Skogen and Katie Sperling each scored a dozen points.

Sperling notched a double-double with 12 points and 12 rebounds while Erin Aakre nearly pulled off a double-double with 12 points and nine assists.

Blue Devils to play at top-ranked Columbus Lakeview on Saturday

Wayne boys down Braves, 55-43

The Wayne Blue Devils boys basketball team opened season play with a 55-43 victory over Battle Creek last Friday night in Wayne.

Rocky Ruhl's troops went into the locker room at the half, trailing by two points at 19-17 but a 20-8 third quarter advantage kept Wayne ahead for the rest of the contest.

"We started out fine, jumping out to a quick six point lead but we took a lot of quick shots and didn't take a good shot selection which allowed Battle Creek to come back and take the lead at half," Ruhl said, "We were 1-11 from three-point range in

Wayne went to Eric McLagan in the second half and the junior post player responded with a game-high 20 points while also notching a game-high 11 rebounds.

Joel Munson poured in 15 points and Dustin Schmeits tallied nine. Brad Hochstein finished with four points with Ben Meyer, Brad Hansen and Shane Baack adding two each and Jon Meyer, one.

"We executed a lot better in the second half," Ruhl said. "It's good to get that first game of the season under your belt and get into game

Wavne's defense came up big against Battle Creek holding Volk to just six points after he scored 19 a year ago in the Braves upset win over Wayne.

Wayne edged Battle Creek on the boards, 35-32 as Munson hauled down seven rebounds to go with McLagan's 11.

Klinton Keller dished out four assists Munson had three steals. Wayne hit 11-of-18 foul shots with Battle Creek going 7-10. "We made more than they shot from the free throw line," Ruhl added.

Wayne's JV team sprinted to a 10-0 lead before Battle Creek even crossed half court as the Blue Devils

Duane Blomenkamp's team was led by Luke Christensen with 10 points with Brad Hochstein and Brett Parker scoring eight each. Craig Olson finished with seven points and Brad Hansen along with Shane Baack tallied six each.

Jeremy Foote and Ethan Mann each scored four points and Jeff Pippitt along with Nathan Bull scored two each.

Wayne will host Logan View on Friday before going on the road on Saturday to face Class C-1's topranked team in Columbus Lakeview.

The Blue Devils return home to host Class B's second ranked team in Schuÿler on Tuesday.

Joel Munson breezes past a Wayne's victory. Wayne will

Laurel teams sweep Crofton at home

The Laurel girls basketball team wins on back-to-back nights over Coleridge and Crofton while the boys team blasted Crofton in the season opener last Friday.

Susie Koranda's girls team scored identical points both nights with a 66-46 win at Coleridge last Thursday before downing Crofton, 66-44 on Friday in Laurel.

The Bears actually Coleridge, 16-13 after one quarter of play but Laurel out-scored the host team, 17-5 in the second quarter and never looked back. Bears scored 41 points in the second and third quarter combined while limiting Coleridge to just 11 total points during that span.
"We picked our defensive intensity in the second quarter and the momentum began to swing our way," Koranda said "We forced Coleridge into 35 turnovers with our aggressive defense."

Lani Recob paced the winners with 14 points while Kari Stewart added a dozen and Melanie Thompson, 11 while Jennifer Demuth and Emily Schroeder netted eight each. Brittany Burns finished with seven points and Katie Peters scored four while Tori Cunningham and Melissa Smith

Laurel pounded Coleridge on the boards, 50-34 with Burns and Recob hauling down 11 rebounds

Despite a close first half against Crofton on Friday in which the Bears led by just three points at the half, 22-19 Laurel-Concord virtually had no trouble with the visitors as they used a 23-9 scoring run in the third quarter to put the game away.

"We did a great job of making adjustments at the half and they came out and took control in the third quarter," Koranda said.

Lani Recob poured in a gamehigh 19 points to lead the winners with Kari Stewart adding 16 and Melanie Thompson, 11. Burns tallied six points and Katie Peters along with Erin Troyer netted four each while Jennifer Demuth scored three. Shelby Tyrrell scored two points and Kate Harder, one.

Burns and Recob each had 10 rebounds to lead Laurel as the Bears owned a 39-34 board advantage.

THE LAUREL-CONCORD boys came out strong against Crofton on Friday night, doubling the score on the visitors in the first quarter, 20-10 en rout to a 68-48 season-opening Clayton Steele's team led 36-23 at the half and 52-32 after three quarters of play.

"We played well together," Steele said. "We played a strong defense that forced 24 turnovers."

The Bears used quality balance to defeat Crofton as Evan Smith, Matt Schroeder and Nathan Beckman talfied 10 points each while Nick Manganaro, Ross Gardner and Adam Hartung netted seven each split with Winside on opening night last Thursday in Allen with Lori Koester's Lady Eagles winning the girls contest, 53-35 while Brian Hoffman's boys lost to Winside, 49-40 in action at Allen.

Blake Erwin and Jon Erwin each scored four points and Bennie Surber netted three while Brandon Viterna, Chris Lackas and Johan Berner scored two each.

Allen's girls cruised to a 28-9 halftime cushion over the Wildcats but Winside responded with a run of its own in the third quarter to cut the gap to 10 at 36-26.

Koester's crew however, responded with a 17 point fourth quarter while holding Winside to just nine points:

"I was very proud of how the girls played the opener," Koester said. They showed a lot of heart and desire on the defense which is something we've really stressed in practice.

Koester said her team played with a lot of confidence. Rachel Stallbaum led the winners with 14 points including an outstanding seven-of-nine effort from the field.

Stacey Martinson scored a dozen points and had five steals and four assists while Shannon Koester tallied eight points and Alicia Liebsch, six,

Professor elected executive director

Maureen Carrigg, associate professor of humanities at Wayne State College, was elected as the Executive Director of the Nebraska Collegiate Media Association (NCMA) for the 1999-2000 term.

Carrigg, who has been a Wayne State faculty member since 1988, received her Bachelor of Arts degree from Queens College. She also earned her Master of Fine Arts degree from City University of New She currently is the faculty advisor for the WSC TV station, KWSC want to get students involved in the new technology and new media," Carrigg said.

Maureen Carrigg

The NCMA is a support organization for small college media. Although WSC is one of the larger of the twelve Nebraska colleges with radio stations. TV stations, and newspapers, any small college can belong to the organization.

One goal of the NCMA is to pro vide students with opportunities to interact with other institutes and professionals. In order to accomplish that goal, the organization tries to coordinate their spring meetings with a professional organization.

Another goal of the NCMA is to educate people about small colleges' media and the challenges that they face. They also want to provide a support system for one another, according to Carrigg.

In an effort to recognize college media, the NCMA holds the Golden Leaf Awards, which are held in the spring. This past spring, there were about 500 entries for the awards. and 46 of them were given to Wayne State College students. The NCMA also sponsors high school media contests.

"We are hoping to get high schools involved for the future of our organization," Carrigg said.

One of the new things that the NCMA is trying to accomplish is a tele-conference between the different schools, to avoid traffic and weather delays, which can sometimes postpone meetings.

"I'm honored to have been select ed as the executive director, and I am hoping to lead the organization into the new millennium," Carrigo

Nebraska's First Lady Stephanle Johanns is shown with the products Nebraska artisans make and which are marketed through the Genuine Nebraska Market.

Local artisan attends Columbus workshop

Jane Rebensdorf of Wayne recently attended a marketing workshop in Columbus. As a prelude to next vear's Genuine Nebraska Market GROW Nebraska conducted marketing workshops at North Platte, Grand Island, Columbus and Lincoln

"The training I got in Columbus last month at the workshop will help me display my products more professionally and negotiate their placement in the wholesale market place more successfully," said Jane Rebensdorf of Wayne. "Dottie White knows the wholesale gift market and how to display products so they appeal to buyers i can't wait to display my line of wood art at the Nebraska Market " Cenuine Rebensdorf was one of 41 artisans from around the state who attended the workshops at the four local

"We brought in Dottle White, a top-notch sales representative from Denver, to help those who attended workshops," said Janell Anderson. Anderson is the executive director of the Central Plains Development Center (CPDC) in Holbrook, which sponsors both GROW Nebraska and the Genuine Nebraska Market. Next year's Genuine Nebraska

Market will to held in Lincoln on Jan. 23 ann 14, 2000, at the Downtown Holiday Inn
"The products retail merchants

see at the Genuine Nebraska Market have gone through GROW Nebraska's rigorous jury process," says Nebraska First Lady Stephanie Johanns, spokesperson for GROW Nebraska.

"Because these products have been evaluated through this jury process, retailers don't have to search for quality when they shop at the Genuine Nebraska Market," the First Lady said. "Storeowners who attend the Genuine Nebraska Market will have an opportunity to give their customers finely crafted products from all over the State of Nebraska, "she said. "And when we get these fine Nebraska-made products in the state and national wholesale gift markets, the image of Nebraska is enhanced and our economy is strengthened" "We encourage storeowners to attend the Genuine Nebraska Market. This them to put quality, Nebraska-made products on their shelves that tourists and gift shoppers are looking for," said Dave Miller, the director of Nebraska's office of Travel and Tourism

When a willing seller finds a willing buyer, a business transaction takes place that's what the GROW Nebraska marketing and training program does for Nebraska artisans who make hundred of quality products. These art and craft entrepre neurs know how to make fine prod ucts, but they need help selling

Storeowners will find a variety of appealing gifts at the market. These include furniture, glass, jewelry, ceramics, soft sculpture, woodcrafts, wreaths, floral, folk art, metal crafts, wearable art, weavings, pillow, prints, quilts, paper crafts and unique and appetizing food products "We still have some space left," said Anderson. Project Access, and Connie Barnes, Executive Director of Behavior Specialists and State Certified Alcohol/Drug Abuse and Addiction Counselor, will conduct "Kids Don't Stay Alcohol and Drug Free by Luck" workshop at the Norfolk Chapter Parent to Parent Network meeting

Thursday, Dec. 16 6:30- 8:30 p.m. St. John's Lutheran Church

Parents are the single greatest influence upon their children and have a major role in determining whether or not their children will experience alcohol or drug problems. Prevention begins at home The workshop will discuss some practical prevention strategies including helping kids learn how to say "No," setting rules and consequences and knowing your child and what is affecting them.

Parents will learn the warning signs in a child's behavior that there may be alcohol or other drug abuse. Information will be given concerning steps that parents must take to get help for their child that is actively involved in alcohol and drug Alcohol and drug abuse is very difficult to handle. This is not a problem that passes with time. Vetwo parents to this free workshop Parents must take an active role in helping their children remain alcohol and drug free. Being an informed and knowledgeable parent will benefit your children.

Wayne Technology State Education Collegiate Association (TECA) members competed in six contests, earning three first place finishes, three second place and one third place.

An all Wayne State final in the technology challenge (quiz bowl) determined the winning first place team of Travis Jelken of LeMars, lowa; John Hankel of York; Kora Kirk of Casper, Wyo.; and Jason Novotny Finishing second was the team of Randy Stribley of Bellevue, Todd Gronau of Vail, Iowa, Justina Manning of Valentine; and Will Winchester of Wolbach.

"Four TECA chapters competed at the West Regional. In addition to Wayne State, competitors came from Brigham Young University, Colorado State University and Fort Hays State University. This level of university competition validates the outstanding efforts=of Wayne State students," said Greg Vander Weil, WSC assistant professor.

Dr. Larry Claussen of Wayne serves as the International Student Officers Advisor for TECA. Claussen's experience and guidance is utilized throughout the nation as he attends each regional competition along with some of the international TECA officers. Supporting the Wayne State TECA students, along with Claussen, were Vander Weil and Steve Vergara, WSC assistant professor.

Have a safe holiday season it that is often expressed through giving gifts, breaking bread and gathering with loved ones.

It can also be one of the busiest times of year with parents, care-givers and children spending more time in the home. Whether you celebrate the season by decorating a Christmas tree, lighting a Hanukkah menorah or reflecting on your cultural heritage with the special traditions of Kwanzaa, be certain to: practice safety precautions to help ensure a hearty and happy holiday

During the holidays, parents and caregivers are often very busy preparing for festivities and may forget to think about potential safety hazards in the home. Holiday decorations can be hazardous to a child's health. That's why it's crucial for parents to supervise young children.

The National Safe Kids Campaign recommends the following safety tips on keeping your holiday safe: LIGHTS AND CANDLES

 Decorate your tree using only UN approved lights and cords Inspect lights for exposed or frayed wires, loose connections or broken sockets. Do not overload extension cords with lights. Use no more than three strings of lights on one extension cord and never run an electrical cord under a carpet. Be sure to secure electrical cords so that children cannot pull them and topple over the tree. Keep toddlers away from electrical fixtures and install covers on electrical sockets when they are not in use.

- Turn off the tree lights when you go to bed or leave the home.
- Keep burning candles, matches and lighters out of reach of children.
- Teach children not to touch burning candles.
- Do not place candles near draperies or anything that might

HOLIDAY FOODS AND ORNAMENTS

Some foods and objects pose a choking hazard to young children, especially children under age five. To help prevent unintentional choking during the holidays:

- Keep round, hard foods and candies out of reach of your children, e.g., pieces of candy cane, nuts and popcorn.
- Keep small ornaments, tinsel and other decorations out of reach of young children. Young children have a tendency to put everything in their mouths.

POISONS

While preparing your home for the holidays, be aware of poisons that can come in innocent and unexpected forms.

- Open the flue in your fireplace when burning a fire to provide adequate ventilation. The risk of carbon monoxide poisoning increases dramatically in the winter. Proper ventilation reduces the risk of carbon monoxide poisoning. Install ULapproved carbon monoxide detectors in your home.
- Beware of fire salts used in fireplaces to produce colored flames. They contain heavy metals and

COLLECTING MITTENS AND HATS

One of the greatest needs and most appreciated items in the Christmas packages put together by the Lions Club are mittens and hats for children, according to Lions President Ron Wenstrand

The Wakefield Family Resource Center and Girl Scout Troops have volunteered to help the Lions with their annual Christmas project by Collecting mittens and hats to be given to the children in less fortunate families in the community.

Anyone who would like to join the youngsters effort and contribute may leave either good used or new mittens and hats at the Resource Center or at the Little Red Hen Theatre.

The Lions are currently accepting monetary donations to be used for the annual Christmas project. These donations may be left at Logan View Insurance Services Office.

The girls to needy families each also includes a box of groceries with a turkey or ham. The Student Council at the Wakefield School will again sponsor a food drive to help provide the groceries.

The Student Council has challenged each class to see which one can bring in the most canned food than usual. I can't decide if it's my age, or what. I'm on a committee planning a women's workshop for next spring; our meetings are at Midlands Hospital at 8 a.m. on designated Mondays

Last Sunday, we had an unex-pected guest and he needed to eat about 7 a.m. I had it in my/head that I had this meeting to attend, so I left him and the Big Farmer at the breakfast table and hurried to Papillion

After sitting in a reception area for 30 minutes, a secretary finally checked a computerized calendar No meeting! Later, at home, i checked my hand-written calendar on the kitchen wall. The meeting was Dec. 6.

t had learned last week, while having my car serviced, that there was a leak in the coolant reservoir. Even though it's a Chevrolet garage in Louisville, they ordered it for me, and scheduled an appointment for 8 a.m on Monday. I had rescheduled for 10:30, expecting the meeting to last two hours.

Fortunately, they were willing to take it at 9.1 waited 30 minutes in their lobby until the parts guy came in and informed me they had the wrong part and would order another one

A quick stop at home to change sheets and clean the bathroom; then on to Nebraska City. I did okay the next couple days, getting the right part at 8 a.m. on Wednesday. I made an appointment with the beauty shop at 4 p.m. on Thursday.

At 10 a.m. on Thursday, my boss the director of client services, called me in Nebraska City and said she wanted to confirm that I would be at a meeting at 3 p.m. that day. I told her I hadn't known there was a meeting that day, but I would be there. I cancelled the hair cut.

Case managers meet periodically, in Lincoln, so I assumed that was what she was referring to. I left for Lincoln at 2, arriving at Tabitha at 3. Where Hearned that the boss was in Nebraska City, looking for me! There was an inservice scheduled heard the subject in Lincoln, so had not planned to attend. Bummer!

On Friday, I met up with the local caterer in the grocery store. (change of subject). This gal caters everything from business lunches to graduation receptions to weddings and Christmas parties. It's fancy, and it's good. But, this time of year, it's particularly exhausting. She was buying dozens of cake mixes, for tortes; and she said she was averaging four hours of sleep at night.

I've stopped at her home. She has a separate building, complete with two commercial stoves, a walk in cooler, and all that stuff. She has a van, and lots of coolers. It's quite a business.

While we were talking, her husband came in and bought a carton of ice cream. He works nights, and they had not seen each other all week. But the sad part is, she says he exists on chicken noodle soup! Now, that's awful. "The cobbler's children don't have shoes." I do think she could share a few leftovers for him.

Anyway, I'm glad J'm only cooking breakfasts; and I'm going to try to keep my meetings straight the
