Council has full agenda

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Financing options available to fund the construction of a new fire department facility were among items discussed during Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne City Council. Phil Lorenzen of Kirkpatrick-Pettus was present at the meeting to discuss four options that are available to the city should the council move forward with plans to construct a new fire department facility.

The first of these would be to pay for the building with cash, which is generally not an option available to most cities.

The second method of financing would be a city sales tax.

Lorenzen presented projections of the amount of revenue that could be generated by both a one-half percent tax ($200,000 per year) and a one percent tax ($400,000 per year).

Based on an estimated construction cost of $1.2 million for the facility, the one-half percent sales tax would allow for the facility to be paid for in 10 years and the one percent sales tax would allow for a five year repayment.

This option would require voter approval and could be put on the May 9 primary ballot.

A third option for raising revenue would be a voted bond issue for the project. Money raised would come in the form of a property tax increase.

The final option for paying for a new facility would be through a public safety anticipation bond.

State legislation allows for a city to raise revenue through not more than a five cent increase in the levy for not more than 20 years through council initiative. This plan would allow for the collection of $575,000 toward the project. The remainder of the money needed would be taken from other funds currently held by the city.

The council will continue to discuss the issue before making a decision on which, if any, avenue to pursue.

Thefts occur at Wayne State

Beginning shortly after 7 a.m. on Feb. 6, the Wayne Police Department began investigating numerous thefts from vehicles parked on the Wayne State College Campus.

Sgt. Marlin Chinn responded to the initial theft report and then discovered at least 16 more cars that had been broken into during the night.

Wayne State College Campus Security assisted with the investigation, which revealed a total of eight car stereos, with a total value of almost $2,000, two pairs of stereo speakers with a value of $170 and one radar detector valued at $60 were stolen.

In addition to the items stolen, the suspects did over $2,500 damage to the cars they broke into.

Wayne Police Chief Lance Webster said the suspects used a pry type tool to break the windows of the cars that weren't unlocked. The dashes in some of the cars were also damaged.

Nebraska couple bike across China

Steve and Cheryl Welch of Richland presented "Biking China: A Wild Ride Beyond the Wall" to the Wayne Elementary second grade on Feb. 4.

The couple told of their seven month journey through China taken in 1991, the Chinese culture, and compared Chinese and American lifestyles.

Welch's bike ride in China was part of a three-year trip in which the couple traveled around the world. They have spoken of their travels to school children in 10 states but primarily in Nebraska. The couple said they may travel to Mexico this fall, biking and using their bikes, they rode trains. Some of the towns in which they stayed were quite primitive, having no electricity. Rooms and food were inexpensive. Rooms could be rented for 25 cents a night.

Of China, they told the children that when they could not ride their bikes, they rode trains. Some of the Chinese language look the same but take on different meanings by the tone they are said in. For example, he said the word "mother" and "horse" look alike and if you're not careful, you could accidentally call your mother a horse.

Mr. Welch wore a t-shirt with Chinese writing on it. He explained to the children that some words in the Chinese language look the same but take on different meanings by the tone they are said in. For example, he said the word "mother" and "horse" look alike and if you're not careful, you could accidentally call your mother a horse.

This program was made possible by the Nebraska Humanities Council and Wayne Elementary School.

Homeowner Rehabilitation Program provides financial assistance to eligible

There is good news for homeowners who have been putting off needed repairs to their property because of cost constraints.

Wayne Community Housing Development Corporation and Farmers & Merchants State Bank have partnered to create the Wayne Owner Rehabilitation Program to provide financial assistance to income-eligible homeowners to improve their living conditions through housing rehabilitation.

The types of improvements that may be funded include modernization of plumbing, heating and electrical systems, structural repairs to foundation, floors and roofs, weatherization improvements and any general renewal that will alleviate unsafe or overcrowded conditions.

The Owner Rehabilitation Program provides a dollar-for-dollar match of the property owners' financial contribution to the defined rehab project. The assistance takes the form of a deferred, interest-free loan, which is forgiven over a five-year period, at the end of which the owner owes nothing. Closing on the deferred loan will include a transaction fee of $350.

To be eligible for the Owner Rehabilitation Program, the projected adjusted gross income for the household cannot exceed $37,280 for a family of one or two persons and $42,872 for a family of three or more persons.

The property to be improved must be located within the zoning jurisdiction of Wayne, and its condition must not only be in need of rehabilitation, as determined by an official inspection, but it must also reasonably be improvable. After rehabilitation the home must, as a minimum, meet HUD Housing Quality Standards, as well as any local codes that apply.

Funding for the Owner Rehabilitation Program is provided by the Federal Home Loan Bank of Topeka through its Affordable Housing Program.

For more information or a copy of the complete program guidelines, contact Linda Anderson at the Wayne Community Housing Development Corporation at 375-5266.

Cholesterol screening scheduled

Providence Medical Center and the Northeast Area Agency on Aging will sponsor a cholesterol screening program on Thursday, Feb. 24.

People wishing to have their blood tested can come to the hospital between the hours of 7:30 a.m. and 11:30 a.m. on that day.

The fee for the cholesterol screen is $8 and includes total cholesterol, LDL (bad) cholesterol, HDL (good) cholesterol, triglycerides and a calculated risk factor for heart disease.

The Northeast Nebraska Area Agency on Aging will contribute $6 towards the fee for any senior citizen over the age of 60.

Persons taking part in this program should not ingest food for 12 hours prior to testing and should abstain from alcoholic beverages for 24 hours. Water intake does not need to be limited and regularly scheduled medications should be taken.

A short questionnaire will be filled out prior to the blood being drawn by venipuncture.

Participants should plan on the whole procedure taking not more than 15 minutes and should obtain their results by mail within a week.

Educational material dealing with heart health, exercise and diet will be available.

Studies abroad now available to Wayne

AYA is a not-for-profit program sponsored by the American Institute of Foreign Study Foundation, which is based in Stamford, Conn. For nearly 35 years, AIFS has been a leader in study abroad programs for American and international students. Close to more million students and teachers have participated in AIFS programs all over the world, with great success.

Students who choose to study abroad are not the only ones who benefit. By hosting a AIFS Academic Year in America international student, Wayne families can earn up to $1,000 towards exciting study abroad programs or up to $500 on summer or winter travel/study programs. In this way, students and individually families can experience all the aspects of a different culture.

The chance to study abroad gives high school students an added edge; the knowledge they gain will put them ahead whether it's in college, in a career, or in cultivating a broader understanding of the world we live in.

The Internet has been instrumental in bringing global communities together, but experiencing a new culture first-hand is still the most gratifying. What does it feel like to be immersed in a foreign culture? To speak a foreign language outside of the classroom?

American Youth Abroad (AYA) helps high school students find the answers to these questions and more in its new 2000 Brochure, with study abroad opportunities in Austria, Brazil, Chile, Ecuador, England, France, Germany, Holland/the Netherlands, Russia and Spain. There are more than 25 study abroad programs with costs ranging from $1,995 to $7,795.

Alexander helps with environmental issues

Dr. Kevin Alexander, Wayne State College math-science assistant professor, applies his biology experience to benefit the Missouri River and its environment.

Alexander's effort and knowledge prompted Senator Tom Daschle of South Dakota to request his participation in a Jan. 20 seminar in Springfield, S.D. on the future of the river.

"Senator Tom Daschle's Missouri River Summit" included Daschle, South Dakota Governor William Janklow and chairman Michael Jandreau of the Lower Brule Sioux Tribe as panelists before an audience of over 400 people.

"I enjoy working with these types of issues. I can come back to class and discuss them with my students. They find the topics interesting and it is important for them to see how the environment is affected by public policy," Alexander said.

The purpose of the summit was to discuss possible solutions to counteract problems that are a result of dams on the Missouri River.

The longest river in the U.S., it flows over 2,500 miles from its source in the Rocky Mountains. Barges and towboats navigate the river for 760 miles to Sioux City, Iowa. Above Sioux City, its flow is regulated by seven major dams: Gavins Point, Fort Randall, Big Bend, Oahe, Garrison, Fort Peck, and Canyon Ferry. The dams are part of the coordinated Missouri River Basin Project authorized by the U.S. Congress in 1944.

Essentially in the 1950s, the Missouri River became the longest regulated river stretch in the United

Public hearings were held on two issues during the meeting.

The first dealt with a request from Arnie's Ford Mercury, Inc. to rezone several lots of their property from B-3 (Neighborhood Commercial) to B-2 (Central Business District). Following the hearing, the request was approved.

The second hearing involved proposed natural gas rates. Earlier this year, Mayor Sheryl Lindau had served on a negotiating committee which arrived at a $1.75 million increase in non-gas costs for Peoples Natural Gas. This was lower than the $2.8 million People's had originally requested. Wayne customers will receive an initial refund from the gas company, for the two months that they paid the as-filed rates and after that time will see an increase based on individual usage.

The council also listened to a request from the Wayne Girls Softball Association and Men's Softball Association for funding to complete work on two of the fields at the complex.

Keith Jarvi, representing the Associations, said that the Gardner Foundation had awarded the group a $50,000 grant but that the estimated cost of improvements was $72,000.

"We want to make the facility safe for players and spectators and the place to start is with field conditions," Jarvi said.

Jarvi told the council that a number of fund-raising activities are planned, including the sale of signs along the fence. In the future, the association will continue to look for other grant sources.

The council voted 8-0 to allow for the signs on the city-owned fence and to allow for the group to sell old fencing. However, no decision was made in regard to the council providing any funding for the project. The issue will be discussed at a future meeting.

Ordinance 99-8 was also approved and the third reading waived. The ordinance provides for one hour parking restrictions in an area designated in front of Wayne Sport & Spine Clinic and on East 10th Street.

The council's next meeting will be Tuesday, Feb. 29 at 7:30 p.m.

States. The problem is that the dams prevent the river from carrying away sediments and nutrients. "Before dams, we had floods to clean out the channels and move sediments out to the Gulf of Mexico," Alexander said.

Since the creation of dams by the Missouri River Basin Project, the water becomes slower and sediment falls out at the headwaters of each reservoir.

Alexander said a prime example of this effect and one of the topics of concern is Lewis and Clark Lake.

"What used to be clear water is now a marshy area. The dam is backing up water into the tributaries, some farm land is flooding and deposition is happening where it is unwanted. Below Gavins Point Dam, erosion is occurring. Individuals from South Dakota and Nebraska came to the seminar to come up with some type of solution to the problem," Alexander said.

If the present situation continues without change, Alexander said information presented at the seminar indicated that Lewis and Clark Lake would be full of sediment in 75 years. The solution to pump out or dredge the lake would cost millions of dollars.

"What Senator Daschle is proposing is to create a trust fund that would allow the interest proceeds to help alleviate problems that are caused by these dams.

Anyone who loses land from erosion or owns a marina filled in with sediment would be compensated," Alexander said.

If the trust fund option is approved by government officials, individuals would be able to apply for grants to complete projects to aid this environmental cause through a type of competitive bid process. Alexander said this option was presented during the seminar to those attending, including game and parks representatives, farmers, ranchers, Native Americans, and college professors.

These individuals discussed aspects of the sediment problem which dealt with land use and ways to keep the sediment upon the land.

"One estimate was every dollar spent keeping sediment on land compares to six dollars to deal with sediment within the river or lake," Alexander said.

A few of the solutions that were brought up at the seminar included buffer strips along creeks, land enrollment in CRP and efficient grazing of cattle away from streams. Alexander said some conservation programs are already in place.

Involvement in the discussion and plans for these solutions ties into another role for Alexander in addition to his WSC duties, Alexander serves as president of the Northeast Nebraska Resource Conservation and Development Council, a group formed recently to deal with these types of issues.

Within the past year, Alexander said the group has accomplished a great deal of political work prior to his recent installation as president. He said he helps provide technical support for their projects and previously served as treasurer.

One concern for the group remains the bald eagle population around Gavins Point Dam. Alexander said their nests are built in cottonwood trees which are coming to the end of their life cycle, however new trees are starting to come up.

Trained in aquatic biology, Alexander's role for the Council will be to look at the ecological system and see what long-term problems and solutions are possible. He also will consider what's happening with the lake from a historical perspective.

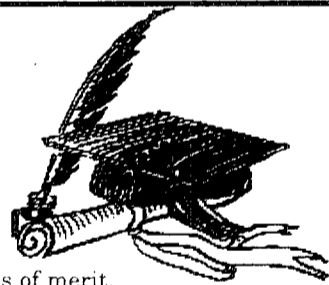

"Two stretches of the river still flow similar to historical conditions. They are the only two that aren't channelized," Alexander said. "One of the stretches is Gavins Point to Ponca and the other is the origin of Lewis and Clark Lake to Fort Randall."

Letters

To the community of Wayne

This letter has two purposes, so I apologize.

The first part is something that needed to be shared before now, but until now, I haven't taken time to do that. Perhaps this is the silver lining in what had happened.

Wayne has been home for the past three years to two of our children, and for additional years to two nephews and a niece, all students or graduates of WSC.

The school has been very helpful in providing a small school setting for these kids and many others over the years.

I know that there are many fine instructors, having been a part-time student there during summers myself. The extra time and efforts extended by coaches and administrators to make education a priority for their athletes is also appreciated. I know that many other parents also feel this way.

The downtown shopping area, as well as the recent street improvements have helped continue to put forth a positive image of the community. Wayne should be proud of its Chamber leadership and city council. Besides having a very good college, Wayne is a very good town.

Now, for the second part of this letter, please forgive this portion for taking away from the earlier positive comments, all of which are true.

Our second WSC is a sophomore criminal justice major. He has made his parents proud by working through the past three summers to help pay for school and his car.

This year he earned a football scholarship because of his perseverance in the weight-room and on the practice field. His "B" average in class is a credit to his coaches and the daily study hall they require. We have so much to be thankful for.

Last Sunday morning his car was stolen. It had only liability insurance. If it isn't found, his three summers of work will be wasted. Someone needed it worse than he did, his grandfather would have said. Back in those simpler, trusting days, the car came back.

I hope our son's will as well. I know how busy the Police Department can be, and how car theft may not be the only item on the day's blotter.

I would ask that anyone who might have seen a gray, two-door 1991 Ford Thunderbird to get in touch with the Wayne police. The rear bumper has yellow color showing through the grey.

I sincerely appreciate any help. Thank you.

Ericson

Capitol News —

Owe a debt of thanks to Osborne

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

The scribes back there in Washington owe a small debt of thanks to Tom Osborne.

There is talk this election year that the Democrats could, maybe, take control of the House of Representatives. With Osborne's entry into the race as a Republican, they will mark Nebraska's 3rd District "decided" a few minutes after Osborne wins the primary.

This is America and anything can happen. But Osborne's ascension to the House is about as close to a sure thing as one can find in politics.

The coach is decidedly a special case in the eyes of the Cornhusker electorate. The perception of Osborne as an honorable fellow who will do what he perceives to be the right thing gives him more advantages than any opponent's campaign-war chest is likely to overcome.

It's like one of those football games against a weak sister. The game is Osborne's to lose. He hasn't done that very much in life.

Interestingly, his philosophy in football probably will serve him well in his first political endeavor.

Control the things you can control, and don't worry about the rest of it, is a view Osborne has taken in coaching and, in a much publicized way, toward his health. The old sports analogy applies: Don't fumble the ball, stay with what works for you and keep moving toward the goal.

He probably doesn't have to worry much about a defense in this game. At least, not this season.

Try to think of someone else who could "move" from one district to another, announce his congressional candidacy, and then register to vote in the new district about a week later.

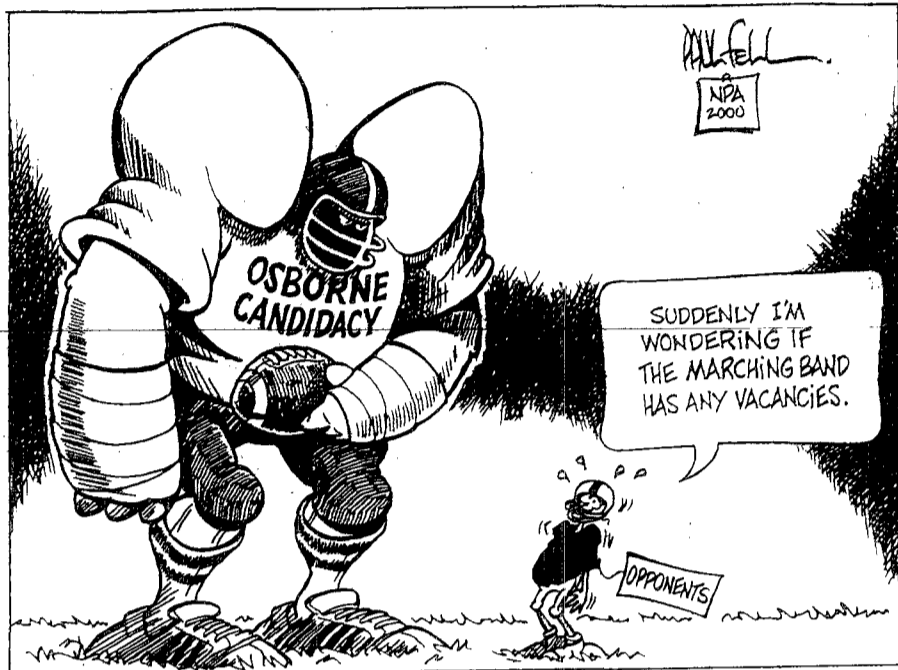

Perhaps the most interesting thing about politician Osborne is his willingness to get into the election-eering game. Even his own version of it.

Big time politics, like big time sports, requires dedication because it can be exhausting, emotionally and physically. And, it can be frustrating.

In the eyes of many people, Congress handles business the way Ohio State plays football of late. Those guys (Congress and Ohio State) seem to have the ability to screw up an iron ball.

Osborne always had been a fellow dedicated to efficiency and goals.

His career in politics should be interesting for all of us.

Gratitude offered to Wayne

Dear Editor,

To the community of Wayne. I'm sitting beside the bed in which my father will probably die. It belongs to your community. He's laying in it right now for how much longer, I don't know.

His breathing is shallow and labored. His wife asleep (kind of) in the lounge next door (it has become our home these last days).

He's trying to find his way home to his father (both earthly and Heavenly) and he's struggling a bit. It's a difficult labor. He goes to drink from the wellspring of his life's experience and comes up empty - nothing to compare-no familiar response-no Avenue of Options.

And in the background of this slow motion slice of our lives and our father/husbands' death - is the quiet presence of your hospital.

This hospital is not made of stone or concrete or steel. It is made of flesh and blood, tender mercy and compassion. Built on the foundation of Sister Gertrude's prayers (and others like her).

It is a humble servant in a pharisaic world of hospitals whose bottom line has become the dollar and how much technology can be acquired. It breathes, it listens, it cries, it cares, it has heart, and that heart belongs to the people who come to his bed each day, who feed all of us, and clean his room-watching over my father-tending to his needs with mercy and compassion.

The days have passed as has my father. We no longer sit by his bed and hold his hand. We no longer sing to him or whisper prayers.

But we will forever hold in our hearts a debt of gratitude for the people of your hospital.

With sincerity and gratitude,

The family of Bob German

Legislature debates many issues

The Legislature just finished the fifth week of the session. Committee hearings are scheduled to last until the last week of February, which means floor debate will be held for the entire day starting in March.

Senator Ernie Chambers' filibuster on LB 175 ended on Feb. 1. Since Jan. 27, Senator Chambers has filibustered against LB 175 introduced by Omaha Senators John Hilgert and Mark Quandahl. The bill would give landlords the ability to charge higher security deposits by increasing the limit from one month to months.

LB 175 additionally changes the time frame in which an uncontested trial of the action for possession shall be held from not less than 10 days nor more than 14 days after the issuance of summons, to not less than five days nor more than seven days. LB 175 would also increase the value limitation from $250 and allows, after required notice, that property valued at less than $1,000 to be kept, sold or destroyed without further notice. Originally, the bill applied to guide dog deposits, but an amendment striking this portion of the bill was adopted by the legislature. Another amendment, still pending in front of the legislature, would reinstate the one month security deposit limit. After Senator Chambers' filibuster ended, the legislature voted to advance LB 175 to the second round of debate.

LB 510, introduced by Senator Chambers, provides that the office of Nebraska Attorney General be elected on non-partisan ballot. Proponents of the bill feel that one working as the state attorney should not be identified with a political party. The attorney general should have the state's interests in mind, not the interests of a particular party. I along with 32 other senators voted to advance the bill to the second round of debate.

LB 482, introduced by Senator Gerald Matzke of Sidney, advanced last week to final reading. LB 482 would allow a $1,000 refundable annual credit against a qualified Nebraska resident's income tax for each adopted child, claimed as a dependent, who is under the age of six years as of the first day of the year.

Though not a lot of bills were considered by the full legislature this week, many were heard by the various standing committees. LB 1004, legislation I introduced earlier this session and my designated priority bill, was heard by the Transportation and Telecommunications Committee on Monday, Jan. 31. This bill pertains to the use of out-of-state DUI and Refusal to Submit to a Chemical Test convictions for penalty enhancement purposes and has received tremendous support from my constituents. The bill was advanced to general file and should be heard in front of the full legislature within the next few weeks.

Four bills concerning the teacher pay issue were heard by the Education Committee on the evening of Jan. 31. It was reported that over 1,300 teachers attended the hearings to show their support of increasing salaries. Those attending primarily supported LB 1397, introduced by Senator Ardyce Bohke who is chairwoman of the Education Committee. This measure would spend $40 million in state money in 2002 and $32 million in 2003 in order to get Nebraska's salaries closer to the regional average. Senator Deborah Suttle of Omaha has designated LB 1399 as her priority bill for the session. This legislation proposes to study the teacher pay issue until October of this year. No action has yet to be taken on either of these bills by the Education Committee.

The Education Committee also heard LB 1272, introduced by Lincoln Senator David Landis, last Monday. The bill would allow teaching personnel to temporarily remove a disruptive student from the classroom. The student could not return to the classroom until the teacher and the principal have discussed the resolution of the student's behavior. Further, school boards could require counseling for a student suspended or expelled for the assault or battery of a teacher, school employee, volunteer or official prior to the student's reinstatement. Lastly, LB 1272 would add to the definition of student conduct that constitutes grounds for long-term suspension or expulsion from a school and the intentional false reporting of bombs or fires on school grounds, or the placing of a bomb on school grounds. I wholeheartedly support this bill so that teachers in the classroom can teach and students who want to learn can learn.

Another bill sponsored by Senator Landis and heard last Monday was LB 1218. This legislation would create the Motor Vehicle Insurance Identification DataBase to be developed and maintained by a private company contracted by the Department of Motor Vehicles. Motorists would be charged an additional $1 when they register their vehicles in order to pay for this database. The private company would, on a monthly basis, gather information from various insurance companies and compare that information with data collected from DMV. Law enforcement officers will have access to this information when they respond to various situations. If it is determined that an individual has been driving without insurance for the preceding three months, then the owner of the vehicle is notified and required to provide proof of insurance or risk a suspension of their registration. Action has yet to be taken by the Transportation Committee.

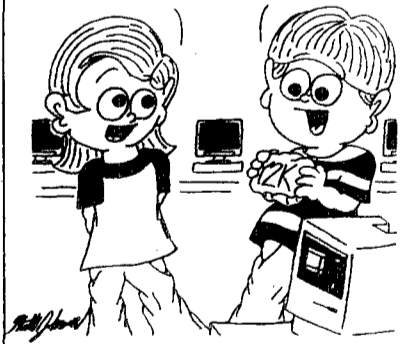

On Feb. 2, the Revenue Committee listened to several bills pertaining to agricultural property taxes. The reason why there were so many bills introduced concerning this issue is because there is no consensus as to the best way to lower these taxes. LB 1353 and LB 1124 propose to value ag land based upon the income it would produce. Another, LB 1044, would change the percentage of ag land valuation from 80 percent to 50 percent within 10 years. LB 1070 would give tax credits to alleviate the property taxes. As you can see there are many approaches but the revenue committee has taken no action on any of the above mentioned proposals.

Senator Paul Hartnett of Omaha announced last week that he would make LB 1405 his priority bill for the session. Senator John Hilgert of Omaha introduced LB 1405 earlier in the session. Hilgert's bill would make it unlawful for any state employee to engage in the use of aborted fetal tissue.

As always, if you have any comments or questions about any matter pending in the legislature, please do not hesitate to contact me at my office: Senator Pat Engel, District #17, State Capital, Lincoln, Neb. 68509; 402-471-2716 or e-mail lengel@unicam.state.ne.us

Wayne State men thump league-leading Winona St.

By Kevin Peterson
Of the Herald

Greg McDermott's Wayne State men's basketball team made up a two-game deficit in the Northern Sun standings last weekend after a pair of convincing home wins.

Included in that weekend package was a dominating 96-67 win over league leading Winona State. The Warriors also fell to Southwest State over the weekend which left WSC just a half-game behind first place with a 10-3 conference mark. The 'Cats, 16-5 overall started Saturday's contest with Winona State with a 12-0 scoring run and the Warriors never threatened.

Senior Jon Dolliver sparked WSC's solid start with seven of the 'Cats' first 12 points. He finished with a game-high 17 points to go along with seven rebounds.

WSC raced to a 47-33 halftime lead and then out-scored the visitors, 49-34 in the second half while grabbing a little revenge from a one-point setback on Jan. 2 to the Warriors.

The 1500-plus in attendance watched as WSC won its 29th straight regular season home game and 24th straight home win against NSIC schools.

"I thought the start of the game was critical," McDermott said. "At the end of last season I felt we struggled in big games early."

"Mac" said a focal point in practice all season has been the big picture of playing an entire 40 minutes of basketball and his troops are doing just that.

"Our approach is to take each possession and believe it's the most important," McDermott said. "That can only lead to the precision that we look for."

One of the keys to the Wildcats 16-5 record is the defensive intensity which is headlined by the in-your-face style of defense of Brad Manley.

"Brad is the difference in this team right now because of his defensive intensity," McDermott said. "Our defense played outstanding all weekend long."

Brad Joens poured in 16 points with Matt VanVoorst and Kevin Lingenfelter adding 11 each as the 'Cats finished with four in double figures.

Eric Henderson was very close to another double-double with nine points and a game-high 14 rebounds—10 of which came in the first half.

The 'Cats were outstanding on the boards with a 43-19 advantage. WSC hauled down 14 offensive boards.

LAST FRIDAY NIGHT WSC rolled past Concordia-St. Paul, 90-51 after the 'Cats led 39-24 at the half.

It was a season low point total for Concordia. The 'Cats shot very well from the field, hitting 57 percent for the game and 66 percent in the second half.

WSC used a 17-3 scoring spurt to open the second half which virtually put the game away at 56-27.

"We came out with the goal of winning convincingly so we could rest some players for the Saturday game with Winona," McDermott said. "I was pleased we were able to accomplish that goal."

One of the keys to the win was the play of Jason Herlitzke, who garnered 10 points after struggling some.

"It's good to get Jason back on track," McDermott said. "We're going to need him and I respect how hard he's worked to get through his slump. He didn't spend any time feeling sorry for himself, he just fought through the difficult stretch."

Once again the 'Cats had four players in double figures led by Kevin Lingenfelter with 16 points with Jon Dolliver and Matt VanVoorst netting 13 each and Herlitzke, 10.

Eric Henderson had six rebounds to lead WSC which won the boards battle, 35-34.

"It was a very good weekend but that's over now," McDermott said. "Our game at Southwest State on Saturday is extremely critical for us."

The Mustangs have won six of their last eight games and are 10-1 at home this season.

WSC thumped the Mustangs by a 77-53 margin earlier this season.

Wayne State women notch NSIC wins over Concordia, Winona St.

By Kevin Peterson
Of the Herald

The Wayne State women's basketball team got a little scare from visiting Concordia-St. Paul last Friday night before Ryan Williams 'Cats pulled it out at the end, 69-64.

The 'Cats went on to earn a week-end sweep of NSIC foes as they defeated Winona State on Saturday, 77-69.

WSC trailed the Golden Bears of Concordia, 61-60 at the 1:54 mark of the second half but the host team closed the game out with a 9-3 scoring run.

In the game's final three minutes WSC hit 10-of-14 foul shots.

"We got quite a scare," Williams said. "We didn't come out with the intensity and fire we needed to have to start the weekend."

Williams said his team made the plays however, down the stretch to earn the win. "We just weren't sharp," Williams added. "We shot poorly and quite frankly, were fortunate to win."

Sara Miller had her finest week-end as a Wildcat, scoring 19 points in the win over Concordia.

Krista Bernadt tallied 18 points and Karen Hochstein tossed in 15 as the trio combined for 52 of WSC's 69 points.

The 'Cats were out-rebounded, 42-32 with Hochstein leading WSC with eight rebounds. Miller dished out five assists and the winners had 11 turnovers while forcing 19.

SATURDAY'S CONTEST turned into the Sara Miller show as the junior college transfer from Gillette, Wyoming poured in a career-high 29 points en route to a 77-69 win over Winona State.

WSC led 30-28 at the intermission but trailed by a 39-35 margin at the 15:59 mark of the second half before it was "Miller time."

The 'Cats went on a 16-2 scoring run which was sparked by four, three-pointers from Miller and at the 12:40 mark WSC had erased the four-point deficit and had a 10 point lead at 51-41.

"We played very hard," Williams said. "We played as solid a defense as we had all season."

Williams said Winona State is an inside dominant team but his post defense tandem of Katie Sperling and Kristene Strait did a fantastic job of playing defense.

Krista Bernadt poured in 20 points to go with Miller's 29 and Ami Pendry finished in double figures with 10.

Once again however, the 'Cats were out-rebounded by a 40-27 margin with Sperling notching seven caroms with Bernadt hauling down six rebounds.

Both Bernadt and Pendry dished out a career-high six assists each and Pendry added six steals to her stat line.

WSC, 14-7 overall remains tied for second place in the NSIC standings with a 10-3 mark with five games remaining in the regular season.

WSC will play at Southwest State on Saturday at 5:30 p.m. The Mustangs are currently tied with WSC and Northern State with all three having identical 10-3 conference records.

Everyone is chasing Minnesota-Duluth who is 12-0 in the NSIC.

Track team competes

The Wayne State Wildcat track and field teams broke two school records and tied a third at the University of South Dakota Graphic Edge Open last Saturday.

Senior Marsha Krienke led the charge for the women, tying the 500-meter dash record of 1:20.3 set by Cindy Heesacker in 1986 in her first attempt at that distance. In the 1000-meter run, she clocked 3:05.24 to break her own mark from last year by over three seconds. She placed third in both races.

"Marsha is running extremely well right now," said head coach Brian Kavanaugh. "She is an All-Conference contender in several events."

The remaining school record was set by freshman Traci Bernecker, who clocked 26.99 for 200 meters to break Marian Borgmann's old record of 27.19 from 1982.

While the time was not good enough to place, Kavanaugh was pleased with the effort.

"This was her first 200 on an indoor track," Kavanaugh noted. "She will continue to improve and will hopefully be close to 26 flat outdoors."

Other placers for the women included junior Darr Nickerson, who improved her personal best in the mile to 5:22.73 to place seventh. Nickerson also ran the 2-mile run for the first time, clocking 11:52.82 for second place.

The latter is ranked third on the all-time WSC lists.

In the 5,000-meter run, freshman April Sachau and junior Shannon Short ran 20:40.55 and 20:46.21 for eighth and ninth place, respectively.

The women's 4x400-meter relay team of Krienke, Bernecker, Tabbi Raasch and Jen Olson placed seventh with a season-best time of 4:26.62.

On the men's side, junior Matt Kneifl was the highest finisher, placing fifth in the 55-meter high hurdles in 7.87 seconds. Senior Brad Hrouda placed sixth in the 1000-meter run and seventh in the 500-meter dash, clocking 2:39.40 and 1:08.48, respectively.

The latter moved Hrouda to third all-time on the WSC charts.

Freshman Shannon Schumacher placed sixth in the high jump, clearing 6'1.25".

Sophomore James Bruhn improved his personal best in the 5,000-meter run to 16:14.21 to place seventh, while sophomore Mike Wells placed seventh in the triple jump in a season best leap of 41'8".

Finally, the 4x400-meter relay squad of Adam Brandt, Hrouda, Kneifl and Bruhn placed seventh in 3:33.28, their best time so far this year.

Next up for the Wildcats is the Charlie Foster Classic at the University of Nebraska-Kearney on Saturday.

Tracy Williamson is uncontested on this lay-up during WSC's win over Winona State.

Krista Bernadt wrestles the ball away from a Winona State defender during second half action of WSC's 77-69 win.

Klinton Keller takes aim at a three-point attempt during second half action of the Blue Devils win over the Falcons. Keller scored 13 points—11 in the second half. Below, head coach Rocky Ruhl talks strategy with his team in a timeout.

The Wayne boys basketball team won a pair of games last week to even the season record at 8-8.

Rocky Ruhl's Blue Devils went to O'Neill and earned a 56-52 win last Thursday night before defeating Elkhorn Valley on Saturday night in Wayne, 67-50.

In O'Neill the Blue Devils used a 24-13 scoring advantage in the second quarter to post a 33-26 half-time lead.

O'Neill managed to trim the gap to six points after three quarters of play at 46-40 and down the stretch the game got to within two points before Wayne notched a four point win, largely due to successful free throw shooting.

"We did a super job of hitting the foul shots," Ruhl said. "I can't remember the last time our team hit 17-of-18 attempts."

Ruhl said his team played well overall. "We played 10 players and all 10 scored," Ruhl added. "We considered this a must needed win and we got it."

Eric McLagan led the winners with 15 points with Joel Munson scoring nine and Klinton Keller adding eight. Dustin Schmeits, Brad Hochstein and Shane Baack tallied six each and Ben Meyer, Jon Meyer and Trevor Wright netted two apiece.

The Blue Devils were out-rebounded by a 21-17 margin with McLagan leading Wayne with five boards. The difference came down to turnovers as Wayne had just five while forcing 21. Brad Hansen dished out a team-high four assists.

Wayne led visiting Elkhorn Valley by just three points at the half of Saturday night's contest, 22-19 but Rocky Ruhl watched his troops deliver a 45-point second half as they pulled away from the Falcons.

"I thought we played good defense in the first half but we just had too many turnovers with nine," Ruhl said. "In the second half we stepped it up a notch on offense."

Eric McLagan led a trio of players in double figures with 19 points while Joel Munson poured in 16 and Klinton Keller, 13 (11 in the second half).

Jon Meyer was close to double figures with eight points with Trevor Wright and Brad Hochstein scoring four each. Brad Hansen netted two points and Dustin Schmeits, one.

Once again the Blue Devils were hot from the free throw line, hitting 22-of-24 charity tosses but Wayne was out-rebounded, 30-26 with Munson leading the way with six caroms for Wayne.

Keller dished out a team-high four assists for Wayne who will host Madison on Friday night.

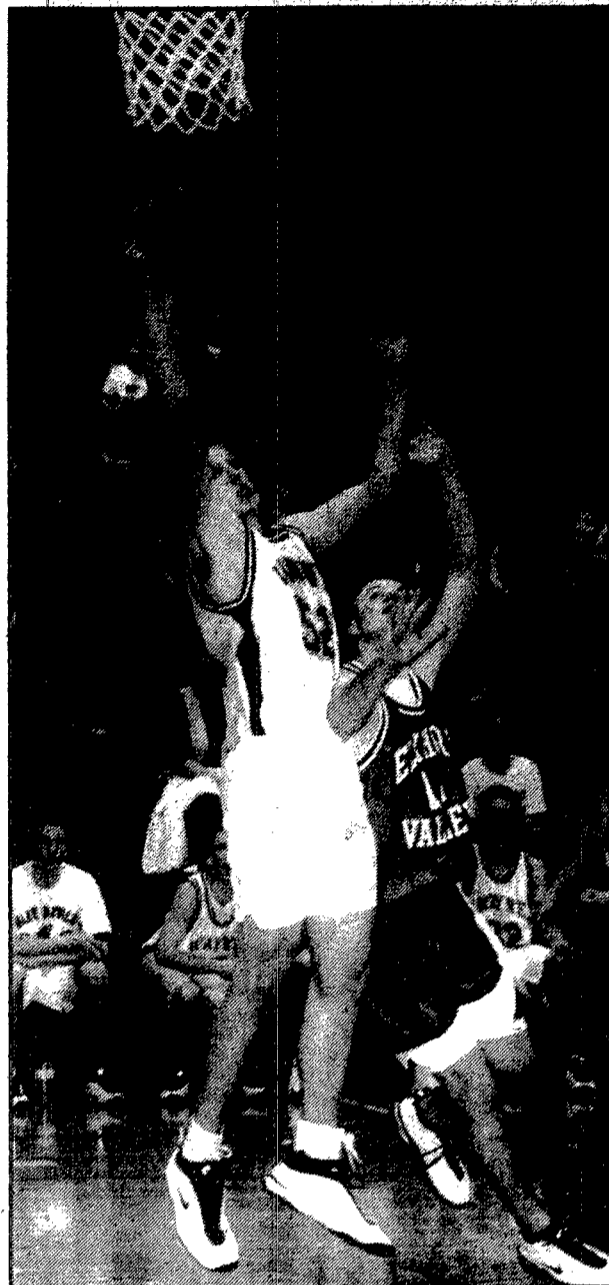

Wayne's JV team went 1-1 during the same stretch which left Duane Blumenkamp's team with a 10-2 record.

The Blue Devils downed O'Neill, 44-34 as Brad Hansen led the way with nine points while Craig Olson scored seven. Ben Meyer, Jeff Pippitt and Luke Christensen added five apiece with Brett Parker scoring four.

Jon Meyer finished with three points and Shane Baack, Ethan Mann and Leo Buechter tallied two each.

Wayne blew a four point lead with just 16 seconds remaining against Elkhorn Valley and lost 36-34.

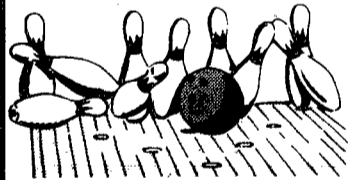

Jon Meyer led Wayne with 10 points with Luke Christensen scoring eight and Shane Baack, seven. Ben Meyer tallied three points with Jeff Pippitt and Brad Hansen netting two. Craig Olson and Ric Volk each scored one point.

Eric McLagan hauls down a rebound during first half action of the Blue Devils 17-point win over Elkhorn Valley last Saturday night.

No Increase in Breast Cancer Risk From Hormones

To combat osteoporosis, hot flashes, and vaginal dryness, physicians often prescribe hormone replacement from women at menopause and thereafter. Yet, there has been long standing concern that women who receive such hormones may be at increased risk for breast cancer.

However, in a study of over 37,000 women ages 55 - 69 who received hormones after menopause, breast cancer risk did not increase - except for an uncommon and highly treatable form of the disease. According to the study, which was published in Journal of the American Medical Association, women who received hormones and women who did not receive hormones had no difference in risk of fast-growing, life-threatening tumors that make up almost 90% of breast cancer. Women who took hormones for more than 5 years were almost 3 times more likely to have the least-threatening tumors.

Students chosen

Kathryn Ley, Director of the Wayne High Choral program, has announced that four Wayne High students have been selected, by audition, to participate in three honor choirs in February.

Jon Gathje, Sarah Holstedt, Noel Sunderman and Kenneth Kopperud have been chosen to sing at the UNO Festival Honor Choir on Feb. 18-19 in Omaha. There will be three choirs at the Festival.

Directors for the choirs are Dr. Paul Nesheim (Mixed Chorus), David Batter (Men's Choir) and Dr. Z. Randall Stroope (Women's Choir).

The final concert will be Saturday, Feb. 19 at 4 p.m. in the UNO Recital Hall.

Jon Gathje and Sarah Holstedt were selected to sing in the 2000 Plainsman Honor Choir Feb. 11 at Nebraska Wesleyan University. They will be singing under the direction of St. Olaf Women's Chorus faculty member, Sigrid Johnson. The final concert will be Saturday, Feb. 12 in the O'Donnell Auditorium, located in the Rogers Center for Fine Arts at Wesleyan.

Nearly 200 singers in grades nine through 12 have been selected to participate in the 31st annual event.

Jon Gathje was also been selected to be a member of the Nebraska High School Honor Choir which was held Feb. 3-5 at Hastings College.

The select choir was under the direction of Dr. Janet Galvan, professor of Music at Ithaca College in New York. A final concert was held Feb. 5 in the Kiewit Gymnasium on the Hastings College campus.

Participants in this choir were selected by members of the Hastings College music faculty during on-site auditions held in November.

Concert to be held in Ramsey Theatre

The Wayne State Chorale and the WSC Concert Choir will perform in a Winter Choir Concert on Thurs., Feb. 17, at 8 p.m. David Lawrence, assistant professor of fine arts at WSC, will be conducting both choirs.

The concert will be held in Ramsey Theatre, Peterson Fine Arts Building, on the WSC campus. There is no admission charge and the public is encouraged to attend.

The Wayne State Chorale will be performing works by Samuel Barber, Beethoven, Harry T. Burleigh, Jack Lane and Nikolai Kedrov. This will be the second performance of this choir, which is a non-auditioned group open to students, staff, faculty and community members.

The WSC Concert Choir will be performing Mozart's "Regina Coeli" for chorus and soloists. The soloists will be Jamie Dolezal of Hubbard, soprano; Mindy Orke of Wayne, alto; Matt Nealeigh of Norfolk, tenor and Darby Flook of Coon Rapids, IA, bass.

The choir will also be performing Eric Whitacre's "Water Night" and his award winning "Cloudburst." The "Cloudburst" received first prize in the 1993 American Choral Directors Association "Composers of the Future" competition.

"It uses a variety of sounds and instruments including clapping, snapping, whispering, handbells, bass drum, wind chimes and thunder sheets," Lawrence said.

Other selections will include those of David Conte, Moses Hogan and Anton Bruckner.

The Library Card

This column is written occasionally to inform the Wayne area as to what types of reading material and other items are available at the Wayne Public Library

Saturday morning (10:30 a.m.) Winter Storyhour is in full swing! Children ages three through six are particularly invited to enjoy having stories read to them by seasoned readers as well as participating in merry craft-making with their Storyhour buddies. This season's themes include: Hats, Valentines Day, Body Parts, Honesty, Grandparents, St. Patrick's Day, Food, Gardens and Fairy Tales. The program continues weekly through Saturday, April 1, 2000.

Seniors will be "Surfin' the Net" at the library on Friday, Feb. 11 (Session 2: "Advanced" Beginners). Library staffers Beth Ann Sharer and Maureen Kingston will patiently help guide novice Senior users through their beginning Internet paces. In Session 1, basic access and communication skills were taught (computer vocabulary, mouse control, pointing & clicking, scrolling, setting up e-mail accounts). Session 2 will focus on advanced e-mail, use, visiting e-sites, exploring databases and much more! All the "dumb" questions in the world will be welcome at these sessions. Our goal is to educate and to liberate. Anyone interested in participating in future Internet classes, contact the Senior Center (375-1460) or the library (375-3135).

Just in time! A batch of hot new fiction has arrived. Visit the library and take secret pleasure in the spun tales of your favorite novelists. New titles include: John Grisham's "The Brethren," Michael Crichton's "Timeline," Karen Harper's "The Tidal Poole," Ursula Hegi's "The Vision of Emma Blau," William Bernhardt's "Silent Justice," James Michael Pratt's "The Lighthouse Keeper," William Safire's "Scandalmonger," Dorothy Gilman's "Mrs. Polifax Unveiled," Olivia Goldsmith's "Young Wives," Steve Martini's "The Attorney," J.A. Jance's "Kiss of the Bees," Carl Hiaass' "Sick Puppy," James W. Hall's "Rough Draft," Ian Frazer's "On the Rez," Nelson DeMille's "The Lion's Game" and W.E.B. Griffin's "Secret Honor."

On Feb. 1, 2000 the non-resident annual fee for library cards increased from $15 to $20. All persons who live outside the Wayne City limits are considered "non-residents." Individuals who live outside of Wayne but own rental properties or businesses within city limits do not have to pay the $20 fee because, like city residents, they pay for their library privileges through property taxes.

The library's Winter hours are as follows: Monday through Friday, 12:30 to 8:30 p.m.; Saturday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.; Sundays, 2 to 5 p.m. Our phone number is 402-375-3135; fax number, 402-375-5772 (sending or receiving fax charge is $1 per page).

Wayne students are challenged

During the last three weeks of January with our "Millennium Theme," the Wayne-Carroll first through fourth grade students took on the challenge of trying to read 2000 books.

On the final day the students had read over 1450 titles. Each student was given a new millennium pencil and bookmark for their efforts.

Top notch readers from the homerooms were: First graders- Drew Loberg, Sam Stoltenberg, Vanessa Christensen, Justin Anderson, Taylor Stowater, Alexandra Glassmeyer, Bugarby Roberts and Jessica Farenholz.

Second graders: Shannon Jarvi, Jessica Calhoon, Taylor Carroll, Rebecca Agler, Ashley Soden, Corey Foote and Karley Pilger.

Third graders: Amber Nelson, Zach Long and Megan Nissen.

Fourth graders: Heidi Garvin, Maddie Jager, Lucas Ruwe, Jesse Hill, and Max Stednitz.

Carroll students: Karissa Davis, Sarah Bart, D.J. Dunklau, Kendall Jones, and Megan Loberg.

Kick-off in February

The Relay for Life kick-off celebration "Leap into the Relay for Life" will be held Tuesday, Feb. 29 at 5:30 p.m. at Riley's.

The purpose of the kick-off is to let businesses and individuals know more about The Relay for Life event planned for Friday, June 9 and Saturday June, 10 at the Wayne State College athletic field.

On these dates, teams of walkers and runners from northeast Nebraska will take part in an around the clock event in the battle against cancer. Sponsors and teams are encouraged to register to participate in the 12 hour relay against cancer event.

The Wayne Relay for Life kick-off will last approximately an hour. Snacks will be served and door prizes will be awarded. An American Cancer Society representative will present a short program. The local planning committee and some of last year's participants will be on hand to answer questions.

If you would like to get a team together, become a corporate sponsor, have any questions or can volunteer in any way, come to the Wayne Relay for Life Kick-off.

The American Cancer Society is determined to ultimately eliminate cancer as a major health threat. The immediate goal of saving lives must be accomplished largely through education of the public to the dangers of cancer and the possibilities of a cure, the education of the medical community to the latest advances of diagnosis and treatment of cancer, and direct service to the patient and the family.

The ultimate goal of total cancer control can be reached through research. Scientists supported by American Cancer Society funds continue to develop treatments that can increase the number of lives saved. To date, the American Cancer Society has invested more than $2 billion in cancer research—more than $100 million each year. The results are exciting. Thanks to research, cancer death rates and new case rates are going down for the first time in history!

As the largest non-governmental funding source of cancer research in the U.S., the American Cancer Society is proud to report that the grants to organize the research grant program are only five percent of the total research budget. This careful management pays off. In fact, 29 American Cancer Society-funded researchers have been Nobel Prize Laureates.

In 1998, the American Cancer Society provided 17 new grants to researchers in the Heartland Division. The overall total for these grants was $2,284,000 and span from one-to-six year time periods.

Economic future explored

Individuals interested in the status and future of economic development in Northeast Nebraska can attend a two-day strategic planning workshop, March 15 and 16 at Norfolk's Lifelong Learning Center.

Sponsored by the Northeast Nebraska Development Network, the workshop will begin at 8:30 a.m. March 15, and end at 5 p.m., March 16.

Facilitator Jay Forrest will lead workshop-participants in answering the question: "Given what we know today, how would we ideally pursue economic development?" Forrest has facilitated indepth planning processes for corporations, such as Rolls Royce, Shell Oil, Texas Utilities and Bell Canada.

Rural telecommunications, workforce preparedness, downtown revitalization and other issues important to northeast Nebraska's future also will be addressed.

In 1998, NENEDD commissioned Neal Peirce and Curtis Johnson, two nationally-known experts on regional future, to conduct a study of the potential for regional collaboration. The result was the Citistate Project, which recorded data and input from nearly 100 residents in an 18-county region.

"This workshop is sure to provide valuable insight into all aspects of economic development for professionals and leaders whose goal is to help Northeast Nebraska transition comfortably into the new century," said Renay Robison-Scheer, co-chair of the Northeast Regional Network Group.

The free workshop is limited to 35 participants. Registration deadline is March 10.

To register, or for more information, contact Renay Robison-Scheer or Diane Ellenberger at (402) 379-1150, or e-mail Renay at rob-schr@ncfcomm.com

Be a good listener

Being described as a "good listener" has become a big compliment these days, when so many of us seem to be going in the opposite direction-interrupting and finishing other people's sentences. But there are good reasons to try to slow down, pay more attention, and change our only-half-listening habits.

For one thing, we will waste less time redoing tasks we misunderstood because we didn't listen closely in the first place. Good listeners also are seen as perceptive, smart and understanding-qualities that can lead to opportunities for advancement on the job.

The decline of listening skills. Our listening skills have declined for many reasons: the fast pace of our lives, media overload, competition to be heard, etc. This puts an even greater premium on good listening-and we all know how it feels to not be heard as we would like to be. Here are some suggestions for learning to listen to what's being said-and sometimes to the nuances of what's what's being said:

*Have one conversation at a time: To avoid getting distracted by a phone call, you might tell the caller, "I'm meeting with someone now. Can we talk later?" Or tell the person you're with, "Excuse me while I take this call. I've been trying to reach this person all week." Then return to your conversation and give the speaker full attention.

*Make sure you heard right. Avoid misunderstanding and potential bad feelings. If you have any doubt about what someone has just said, say so. For example: "Did I understand you to say that my depart-

Amy Malchow
Extension Educator
4-H & Youth

ment won't receive the new software?" Or, if you hear something you don't understand (or wish to expand on), jot down a word or two to remind yourself to ask later. If you need to remember specific instructions someone is giving you, take notes.

*Let people finish their thoughts. Interrupting people has become habitual for many of us. But it is still rude and may also be seen as arrogant. Develop your own strategy-whatever it takes-to break the habit of putting your words into someone else's mouth. Some experts suggest biting your tongue or sitting on your hands to control your gestures. Do what works for you.

*Don't be turned off by a speaker's style. Some people have a direct and appealing manner of talking while others have an irritating style. People have whiny voices or they may take too long to get to the point. Just force yourself-because that's what it will probably take to listen to what people are trying to say, not to how they are saying it.

*Ask yourself, "What is the speaker's purpose? Does she have important information to share? Is he just gossiping? Offering advice? Criticizing? Good listening on this level will suggest how much time and serious attention you will need to give to this speaker.

*Pay attention to what's NOT being said. It may be human nature to avoid dealing with difficult issues, but if a speaker seems to be avoiding bad news that you need to be aware of, be prepared to dig a little deeper. For example: "It sounds as if you have more to say on that subject. Can we talk about this again?" If a speaker uses stilled language, pauses a lot and avoids looking directly at you, you may not be getting the full message.

Don't be thrown by buzzwords. Many of us see red when we hear certain words that have been so overused they have lost meaning-and we all have our own list of buzzwords we would like to not hear anymore. Identify those words that trigger your emotions and try to "tune them out" as if they were static.

Families being sought to share homes

The SHARE! Program still needs volunteer host families in the Wayne area to provide a bed, meals, and a loving home for high school students arriving in August from over 28 countries including Germany, Japan, Brazil, Albania, and Poland.

The students, all between the ages of 15 and 18, participate in cross-cultural exchange, to learn about America and share their own customs and culture. Staying for five or 10 months, the students are screened both in their home country and by the SHARE! Program for academic excellence and English proficiency. The students are fully insured and are responsible for their own personal spending money.

The SHARE! High School Exchange Program is a non-profit educational foundation dedicated to promoting cross-cultural understanding as a way to develop understanding, tolerance and friendships around the world.

Interested families should contact the Nebraska State Office toll-free at 1-800-296-3738 or the Central States Office at 1-800-715-3738 as soon as possible because many high schools have deadlines for enrollment.

Research book focuses on the needs of young women

Last spring Wayne Branch of AAUW hosted a Sister-to-Sister Summit where area high school girls discussed their issues in a day-long conference.

Similar events took place throughout the nation. The following book is a summary of what the teenage girls across the nation are talking about.

AAUW Educational Foundation has published the research report in the book, "Voices of a Generation."

"Voices of a Generation: Teenage Girls Report on Their Lives Today," is now available in bookstores for parents and educators across America is a new resource that provides insights into how girls see and deal with their struggles with sex, peer pressure, and body image.

"Voices of a Generation: Teenage Girls Report on Their Lives Today," a report by Pamela Haag and the American Association of University Women (AAUW) Educational Foundation, describes and analyzes the social and psychological pressures that American pre-teenage and teenage girls face every day.

The book, published by Marlowe & Company, is based on Sister-to-Sister Summits held across the nation and sponsored by AAUW to bring together teenage girls ages 11-17 to talk openly with each other about the most important issues they face today. From November 1997 to November 1998, girls participating in these summits answered six questions about their daily lives. The report is a detailed analysis of responses by 2,100 girls.

"This report is a warning flag to America's parents and teachers. It reveals how teenage girls struggle with the pressures of sex, peer groups, and media images, and how these struggles vary according to race ethnicity and geography," said AAUW Educational Foundation President Sharon Schuster.

According to the report, sex, boys, and pregnancy are the number one issues facing teenage girls today. One girl suggests that schools should "educate everyone that there are other ways of showing affection besides sex." Girls say they need the tools to learn how to say no and how to negotiate emotionally charged relationships. While the majority of girls mention peers as major issues, a very small number mention their parents, family, or school.

In "Voices of a Generation," girls propose innovative solutions such as boy-girl summits to address the issues that boys and girls face together, better sex education that moves beyond "just say no," and portraying realistic images of women in the media.

"Voices of a Generation" reflects the conflicting pressures teenage girls face today - pressure to fit in, to look and act a certain way, to have sex, do drugs, and drink, and it notes the conflicting roles girls face as they struggle with what it means to be a girl today. Girls are torn between a traditional view of femininity and the contemporary realities of being a woman. As one girl writes, "Girls need a clear definition of girls or women. We are encouraged to be assertive through TV, magazines, and some adults, but we're punished indirectly by the world when we do."

"Adults across America are asking, 'What's wrong with schools today?'" said AAUW President Sandy Bernard. These girls are coming up with some of the answers as they call on schools to improve sex education and challenge the media to present realistic and powerful images of women and girls.

The AAUW Educational Foundation is one of the largest sources of funding for graduate women in the U.S. and abroad and commissions groundbreaking research on educational equity. AAUW, representing 150,000 college graduates in 1,500 communities, is the nation's leading advocate for education and equity for women and girls.

The American Association of University Women promotes equity for all women and girls, lifelong education, and positive societal change. In principle and practice AAUW values and seeks a diverse membership.

There shall be no barriers to full participation in this organization on the basis of gender, race, creed, age, sexual orientation, national origin, or disability.

Workshops on alfalfa quality, profit offered

Managing alfalfa for quality and profit is the topic of a two-day workshop at the Lifelong Learning Center in Norfolk. The Feb. 23-24 workshop will cover a wide range of topics in relation to profitable alfalfa production and management.

The workshop not only provides an excellent learning experience for agribusiness professionals and agricultural producers. Workshop presenter and NU Extension Forage Specialist, Bruce Anderson, says alfalfa growers need to use every tool at their disposal to compete in tomorrow's marketplace.

In this workshop, decision aids, evaluation methods and diagnostic techniques will be used by alfalfa growers as they discover ways to squeeze maximum profits from their crop by fine tuning their production and use practices.

Featured speaker will be Steve Barnhart, Extension Forage Specialist with Iowa State University.

Barnhart's insight and experience will provide valuable information to agribusiness professionals and producers.

Topics will include: irrigation and water needs; variety selection; grazing management; insect- disease and weed management; growth and development; stand establishment-factors for success; nutrient requirements and fertilizer programs; and harvest management, forage quality and feeding use. A dinner meeting on the first evening will also offer marketing insight provided by the Nebraska Alfalfa Marketing Association.

This workshop is sponsored by NU Cooperative Extension. Participants registering one week in advance will save $10. Registration at the door is $115. The workshops will meet from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. the first day and from 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. on the following day.

Property taxes near top of agenda

By Roy Frederick
Public Policy Specialist
Department of Agricultural Economics, University of Nebraska-Lincoln

It would be a real surprise if the Nebraska Legislature took no action on property taxes during the current session. Too many people want tax relief, both within and outside the legislature.

However, it probably would be a good idea to keep expectations modest. Twice during the 1990s, the legislature attempted to make a real dent in property taxes by upping state aid to schools by more than $100 million annually. Less money will be involved this time around.

At this stage, lots of ideas are floating in the form of bills, many of which have not yet had a formal hearing. Not all bills will emerge from the Legislature's Revenue Committee. Others will be amended. Some could be combined.

In the end, only one or two wide-ranging property-tax bills may be debated on the floor of the legislature. For now, here are some of the possibilities:

Legislative Bill 419 in its present form may seem relatively unimportant.

It specifies that abandoned farmstead sites be valued the same as adjoining farmland for property tax purposes. Eventually, however, the bill may have broader significance. That's because it's already been advanced in the second of three required levels of approval. Later in the session, other property tax provisions may be amended to it, speeding the legislative process along.

Much of the attention is directed to taxes on agricultural land. For example, LB 1017 would lower the property-tax valuation on agricultural land from its current 80 percent of market value to 50 percent over a 10-year period.

Two other bills, LB 1105 and LB 1124, would switch the valuation system from one based on the land's market value to its income-producing ability. LB 1044 would increase state aid to schools in districts where most of the property is agricultural land. And following the model in some other states, LB 1070 would allow a refundable income tax credit of up to $4,000 annually to offset agricultural land property taxes.

Switching to agricultural machinery and equipment, LB 1057 would exempt beginning farmers from paying taxes on such property for up to six years. The idea is to level the playing field for those just starting in agriculture.

A smaller group of bills has an urban orientation. LB 1039, for example, would require local governments to reduce tax rates for property valuation increases not caused by new growth. Proposals to tinker with homestead exemptions also have been introduced, as has been the case in most other recent years.

Perhaps LB 1107 has the broadest implications of all the bills introduced this session. Under the proposed legislation, the average school district would need to provide no more than 45 percent of its funding from property taxes.

Today, property taxes support slightly over 50 percent of school costs.

Finally, it may be worth noting that LB 1339 proposes creating a task force to study property taxes. It wouldn't be the first time that this issue has been studied in our state.

But we may be about to do it again: Two-thirds of the legislature are bill co-sponsors.

Aloha! It's 80 degrees on Kauai, sun shining, ocean waves pounding, sun bothers on deck chairs, and all the mainland farmers packed and ready to fly back to snow and cold. Actually, Nebraska has looked like an oasis on the weather maps for the past week.

Some of our fellow travelers have called home to New York, Maryland, Georgia, and Indiana to hear tales of snow, ice, and cold. There are three ladies from Raleigh who will face 20 inches of white stuff. I could hardly believe it; and even less, snow in Charleston.

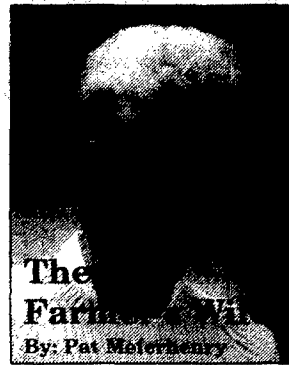

Weather in Hawaii has tended to be cool the past two weeks, with rain the day we visited Pearl Harbor. I went through a lot of Kleenex there, as we watched the film featuring actual newsreel of the Dec. 7 attack. It was every bit as moving as I expected it to be.

We have visited four islands, Waikiki on Oahu, Kona on the Big Island, Maui, and now, Kauai.

We've seen coffee plantations, pineapple farms, a macadamia nut factory, a large cattle ranch, and flowers galore. We've all commented on the lack of flies and mosquitoes, and the general atmosphere of outdoors in the restaurants and motels.

Regardless of what we raise, farmers all share the same concerns: affordable employees who are willing to work, environmental activists, and urban sprawl. And, most of all, a fair price for our product.

We've traded "war stories" about

By: Pat Materny

delivering calves, enduring snow, and driving tractors in mud.

We had a great Super Bowl party, arranged by the tour guides, that included chips and dip, drinks, and cake. We've tasted poi, eaten all kinds of fish, experienced a luau, and loved the fresh pineapple, and the coconut dishes.

We've seen every body type imaginable in shorts and swim suits, watched whales and dolphins, and enjoyed a day at the Polynesian Cultural Center.

Our fiftieth state depends on tourism and "hospitality" is its theme. The populations "chop suey" ethnic background has resulted in some beautiful people. Its slogan is "hang loose" and they do it with a vengeance! I hope we can remember it when we get home. Maholo! (Thank you)

Tamara Schardt participates in district event

Tamara Schardt from Wayne County had project records among the 26 applications which were judged for achievement in a variety of 4-H curriculum areas.

Volunteers and staff from Boyd, Holt and Knox counties recently met at the Knox County Extension Office in Center to review the 4-H records.

Four members from eight counties were competing for the chance to represent the Northeast District in the state competition in March.

Tamara, 15, is the daughter of Lowell and Karen Schardt of Wayne, qualified in both Animal Science and Family and Consumer Science. She will continue in the competition with her Family and Consumer Science record.

Tamara Schardt

The Nebraska 4-H Incentive Program is implemented in five districts across the state. It provides incentive and motivation to youth through recognition for 4-H Achievements as recorded in their record materials.

Through this recognition program, many 4-H'ers will compete for the opportunity to attend the National 4-H Conference in Washington, D.C., National 4-H

Youth Congress in Atlanta, Ga. or other 4-H multi-state events.

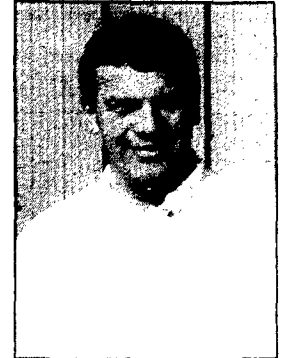

Several corporate and individual donors, as well as Nebraska 4-H Alumni sponsor individuals from across the state to attend these events. Without their help this recognition of accomplishment by young people would not be possible. Nebraska businesses may sponsor one or more delegates to insure broader recognition for Nebraska young people.

PROCEEDINGS WAYNE BOARD OF EDUCATION SPECIAL MEETING

January 31, 2000
The special meeting of the Wayne Community Schools Board of Education was held at Wayne High School in room 209 in Wayne, NE on Monday, January 31, 2000 at 5:02 p.m. Notice of the meeting and place of agenda was posted in three places: Wayne City Offices, Wayne Public Library, Wayne County Courthouse. It was published in the Wayne Herald and announced over KTCH radio.

The following Board members answered roll call: Marion Ameson, Sue Gilmore, Dennis Lipp and Phyllis Spethman. Jean Blomenkamp and Bill Dickey arrived late.
Adoption of the Agenda: Motion to approve the agenda. Motion carried.
Communications from the Public on Agenda Items: An audience was held with middle school faculty members Joyce Mitchell and Mary Ann Lutt. Representatives from Beckenhauer Construction and BVH Architects were in attendance to address any questions from Board members about the current middle school construction and renovation project. David Baier, Michelle Meyer and Bob Reinhardt, Board of Education members from District #57, attended the meeting.

Old Business: Middle School Renovation and Construction - Updated cost estimates were received from Beckenhauer Construction prior to the meeting. Some changes have been made with estimates increasing and declining as clarifications are being made between the construction managers and architects. Currently the cost of the middle school and high school projects is over the budgeted amount by $155,843. Dr. Reinert stated that the District still has $209,150 of contingency money but there may be some unexpected costs that are not yet determined as construction continues. Dr. Reinert stated that he would like to take to bid without relying on the contingency money and money earned from interest. Buster Beckenhauer of Beckenhauer Construction Inc. feels that he will continue to have budget reductions.

Board members were given clarification on specific items from Beckenhauer's standard estimate report. The standard estimate report breaks down each area such as general conditions, sitework, demolition, concrete, steel, framing, doors and windows. Mechanical costs still need to be addressed by Beckenhauer. These changes were explained to the Board members. General condition changes included the additional costs of removing debris from the site and dumpsters. Sitework additions included the paving to east of the building (playground area). An additional cost for the demolition included the removal of trees to the east of the building and preparation of openings for windows. Changes were made to the estimates for steel as questions about the erections of the gymnasium roof. The amount allotted for framing was affected. The cost of roof sheathing is yet to be determined as the cost cannot be determined until the shingles are taken off to see how much of the old building roof will need to be repaired. Another cost added to the framing was glassboard for the kitchen. Aligned amount for doors and windows increased with the addition of smoke curtains.

Mt. Mecher Middle School Principal met with Nicolette Amundson from BVH to discuss floor plan designs. The plans are currently 65% complete with additional changes that needed to be made. One area of concern included the lockers in the girls and boys locker rooms. There is currently enough room to fit enough athletic lockers but not for physical education lockers. The architects will look at making the benches shorter in length and width to fit the number of lockers needed. The training room will have a shower and sink instead of windowed bar. Placement of phone banks was discussed. Cable trays were discussed to run data lines, with wiring closets located off of the computer labs. They will need to be added to the plans and budget estimates.

Gary Bowler from B.H.I. stated that they are two-thirds of the way through the process of finalizing plans and specifications. This is the second budget estimate and represents less than 2% of the total cost of the project with cost flexibility in the windows and gymnasium roof. Beckenhauer Construction has not had enough time to dig into the mechanical area of the project but will be addressed.
Reorganization of District #57 - District 57 is discussing the idea of dissolving their school district at end of 1999-2000 school year. Dr. Reinert provided Board members with information concerning the financial impact it would have on District 17. If District 57 would consolidate with another school district, District 17 would lose $30 million in affiliation or gain $30 million affiliation if District 57 consolidated with District 17. Currently, District 57 pays taxes on 9-12 bond and general fund. Other financial impacts include decrease in taxes for District 17 and 57 (special building and K & B bond), assume the contract of teacher, additional six students and bus transportation.

Upon the possible dissolution of District 57 and consolidation with District 17, District 17 would assume 96% of assets and liabilities. The other 4% of affiliated schools includes Pender, Winnebago, and Wisner-Pilger schools. The building on the land would be handled by District 57. The land deed of the property has a reversion stating that if the land is not used for school purposes the land reverts back to the landowner in its original condition. Therefore, District 57 could do what they want with the building.

The petition process would have to be started by District 57. The dissolution can be done Board to Board without taking the issue to the voters. After District 57 would approved the petition, Wayne, Wisner-Pilger, Pender, and Winnebago schools would have to approve the petition once the petition has been approved by the affiliated Districts, the County Reorganization Boards and State Reorganization Board would have to approve the dissolution by June 1, 2000, to take effect by the 2000-01 school year.

Wayne District #57 Board of Education will hold their regular board meeting on Tuesday, February 1, 2000 at 8:00 p.m. Dr. Reinert, Phyllis Spethman, and Chris Connolly will be attending the meeting on behalf of the Wayne Community Schools.
Future Agenda Items: Continuation of discussing possible dissolution of District 57 and construction/renovation projects of the high school and middle school.
Motion to adjourn at 6:02 p.m. Motion carried.

The next regular meeting of the Wayne Community Schools Board of Education will be held on Monday, February 14, 2000 at 7:00 p.m. at Wayne High School.
