Band students, teacher honored

By Lynn Sievers
 Of the Herald

An honor coffee was held prior to the regular meeting of the Wayne Board of Education Monday night. Receiving recognition were Brad Weber, Wayne Chamber of Commerce Area Educator of the Year 2000. Also receiving recognition were students April Wicks and Scot Saul, both seniors at Wayne High School.

Wicks is a member of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Winter Festival for Winds and Percussion. She was selected to perform in the groups on Bass Clarinet. Saul was the alternate selection for UNL Winter Festival for Winds. One hundred seventy-seven students from eight states sent in audition tapes and only 60 students were selected to participate in the UNL Winter Festival on the UNL Campus, held Jan. 21-23.

At the Board meeting, resignations of teachers Sharyn Paige and Bob Porter were accepted with regrets. Porter is in his 37th year and Paige is in her 19th year at Wayne High School. The resignations will be effective at the end of this school year.

Also, the contract of Duane Spieker, currently teaching at David City Aquinas, who will be filling Judy Schaffer's position as English teacher was approved.

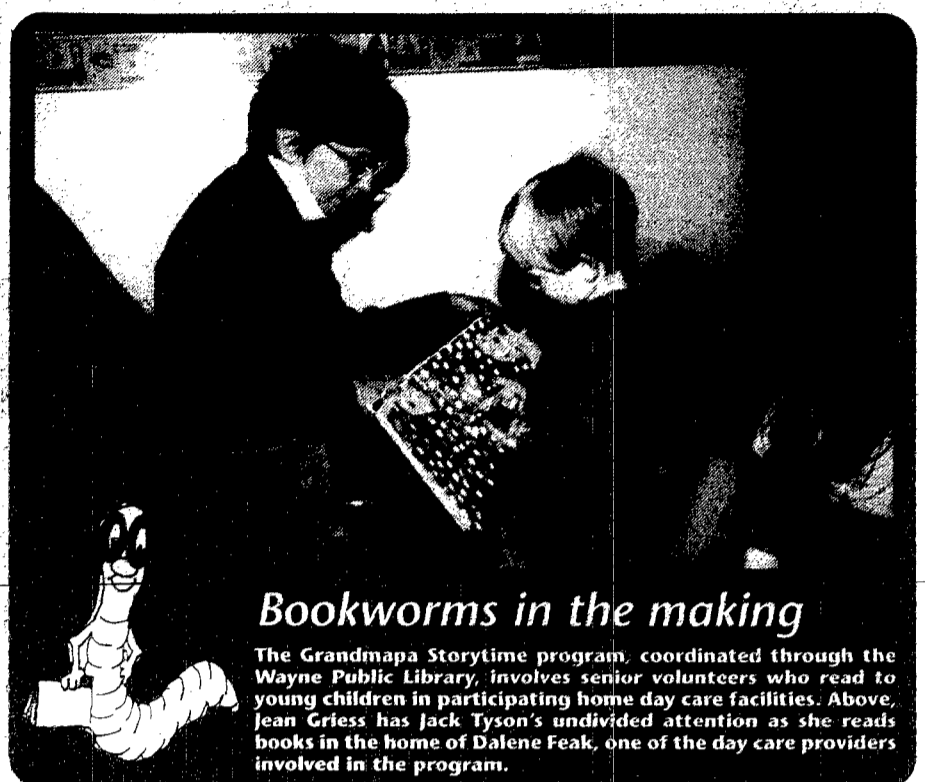

On Bids and Contracts, the board approved the bid from School Specialties for furniture for the new Science Lab at the high school. They accepted the bid of Beckenhauer Construction for installation of the new lab. The total amount on both projects is $21,536.

For public communication, several area residents were on hand and a couple of parents voiced their concerns on all-day Kindergarten. David Lutt, Wayne Elementary principal, said that in addition to surveys sent to parents of children scheduled to start Kindergarten, three open meet-

E-commerce assists businesses

By Clara Osten
 Of the Herald

For the past six weeks, representatives of 23 Wayne businesses have gathered each Monday evening at Wayne High School to take part in a special class.

The class, Nebraska Electronic Main Street E-Commerce Training for Nebraska Communities, was organized by Jack Middendorf of Main Street Wayne, and is designed to assist businesses in setting up their own web sites and developing an e-commerce business plan.

"The goal is to do one of two things with the information. One is to sell products to customers using the web page. The other is to purchase supplies sold in local businesses through the web page," Middendorf said.

Funding for the class came from a grant from the Community Technology Fund administered by the Nebraska Information Technology Commission.

Teaching the class are Tim Powell, a computer specialist at Wayne State College, Gayle Poirier, Government Documents Librarian at WSC and Kathy Ellerton, web master.

Businesses involved in the class include Arnie's Ford Mercury, Dairy Queen, Diamond Center, ERA Property Exchange, 1st Realty Sales & Management, Innovative

Future of District 57 to be discussed

By Clara Osten
 Of the Herald

In an effort to get input from the district's patrons and answer questions regarding the future of the school district, a town hall meeting will be held at District #57 on Monday, Feb. 28 at the school.

"We want to include everyone in the discussion," said Board secretary Michelle Meyer.

Meyer also said the board wanted to dispel rumors that the school is closing immediately.

"Although the school's closing is a possibility, nothing definite has been decided and whatever happens, we will remain open through the end of this school year," Meyer said.

She added that discussion of the school's closing stems from two issues.

"Because of financial constraints set down by the state, it has been made more difficult to fund our school operation," Meyer said.

In recent years, the amount of state aid received and the way the budget is set up have changed.

"We are affiliated with four districts, Wayne, Pender, Winside and Wisner, and if we would choose to exceed the state limits, we would have to have approval from all of those districts," Mrs. Meyer said.

She said that the school is already operating on a "no frills" budget and operating expenses continue to rise each year.

A second issue facing the district is that of option enrollment.

"Because of a change in the rural economy, many of those who live in our district have jobs in town and therefore have chosen to option their children into the town school," Mrs. Meyer said.

"A rural school does provide a quality, viable learning environment that is unique, but at the same time, we (board members) realize that certain circumstances make sending children to town school an appropriate choice for parents," Mrs. Meyer said.

At the present time the school has eight students from seven families. Three of these students are eighth graders who will be attending Wayne High School next year. While there are five students of kindergarten age, there is a likelihood that only one of those students would attend school at District #57.

The meeting on Feb. 28, which will be attended by an attorney the school has hired to help answer questions, will explain the steps that need to be taken, should the district choose to close the school.

"There is a process that needs to be followed if we decide to close. In addition, questions have been raised about an increase in taxation for land owners in our district and we hope to be able to answer questions that patrons have," Mrs. Meyer said.

The school is located four miles south of Wayne and all interested persons are encouraged to attend the meeting.

Other board members include Dave Baier, president and Bob Reinhardt, treasurer.

Dickey to run for election

State Sen. Bob Dickey announced that he is seeking election to a full term in the Nebraska Legislature representing District 18. The family farmer from Laurel has filed with the Secretary of State.

"I want to build on the experience I have gained as a member of the Nebraska Legislature," said Sen. Dickey. "I look forward to traveling across the 18th District meeting people and discussing the issues up to the November election."

Currently a member of the Agriculture, General Affairs, and Health and Human Services Committees, Sen. Dickey was appointed to the seat by Gov. Mike Johanns on April 27, 1999. In the short time he has spent in the Legislature, he has been a vocal proponent of rural issues.

"I am a rural person and I have a strong interest in the issues that affect rural Nebraska," Dickey said.

Sen. Dickey was born in Laurel, Nebraska, and has lived in the area for most of his life. He has a wife and three children.

Community Activity Center to be on ballot

The issue of whether or not to build a Community Activities Center in Wayne will be on the May 9 ballot following action taken by the Wayne City Council on Tuesday.

In a special meeting, the council listened to floor-plan proposals from Prochaska & Associates, the architectural firm that has been involved in developing the plans.

A number of members on the Community Activities Committee and Recreation and Leisure Commission were on hand at Tuesday's meeting to voice their support for the building which is to serve all members of the community.

The building is scheduled to cost $3.6 million based on the 2002 construction market. The proposed site for the building is just south of Hank Overin Field. Present plans call for a 36,000 square-foot facility.

Funding for the facility would come from a number of sources,

Making a commitment

More than 1,600 youth and adults sponsors were on hand at Sunday's True Love Waits Rally at Wayne State College. The event, which was in planning for nearly a year, featured music and worship, speeches by Tara Dawn Christensen, Miss America 1997 and Ron Brown, Nebraska Receivers coach and a concert by the musical group, Buck. Those attending were challenged to sign a pledge to practice abstinence until marriage. "I would like to thank the whole community for their support. This was a community effort and the community helped in many ways," said Pastor Cal Kroeker, one of the organizers of the event.

Cataracts affect over 60% of our senior citizens. In fact over one million cataract surgeries are performed annually in the U.S. alone.

New technological developments in implants, ultrasonic equipment, lasers, diagnostic testing, and surgical techniques have made cataract surgery one of the most effective procedures today. Currently, over 98% of cataract patients experience significant improvements in vision, without major complications.

Until now, the high cost of this new technology for cataract surgery was only available in the larger surgical facilities. This meant that you would have to travel for a complete eye examination and surgery. Not any longer.

Complete eye care and cataract surgery is now available at Providence Medical Center in Wayne. You don't have to travel outside of your community to have your vision tested for cataracts. With Dr. Wilcockson, Dr. Koeber and Dr. Magnuson offering comprehensive diagnostic and surgical services, you now have the most advanced eye care available right here in town.

Call Dr. Koeber or Dr. Magnuson for a complete eye examination and cataract vision screening today. If you would like more information on cataracts for yourself or someone you know who may be experiencing loss of vision, call today for a free informational brochure.

ings were held in January and February. The board listened to the concerns and asked Lutt to provide more information on all-day Kindergarten at the next board meeting. Dr. Reinert, Wayne School superintendent, voiced his concerns that with state aid cuts, all-day Kindergarten may not be feasible at this time. He is studying the issue and noted the goal of letting parents know by Kindergarten Round-up in April if all-day Kindergarten will be started in the Wayne School District.

Lutt also reported on Reading and Writing Standards and Assessments which are being developed by a committee he's on. Through their efforts there will be new guidelines to follow on future assessment of reading and writing and other studies in the Wayne School District.

Dr. Don Zeiss, Wayne High School principal, reported on the Driver's Education program. He noted enrollment is lower than last year with 51 presently signed up compared with 81 taking the course last year. Zeiss is studying changes which may make the program more financially sound for the school and the students taking the course. He is to present his restructuring ideas at the next meeting.

Dr. Reinert reported on new building construction changes. He noted there were minor changes in the Prep Kitchen drawings at the Middle School. Those changes include adding a dishwashing area and serving area which will contain movable stations. Bids will go out for equipment for the Prep Kitchen with the building bids. Plans for the Middle School are to be 95 percent complete around the end of February or first of March. A board meeting will be held to finalize the drawings and budget for the Middle School around that time.

He also noted that a core sample is needed on the north end corner of the Middle school building (under the old locker room area). A drilling 30 feet down to get that sample will be done soon.

Discussion has been held on the possible dissolution of District 57. Further discussion will be held on the issue. A town hall meeting to discuss the subject will be held Monday, Feb. 28 at 7 p.m. at the school four miles south of Wayne.

On ADA (Americans with Disability Act) compliance, the school must have ramps fixed and door openers may have to be installed at the elementary building to meet requirements.

The possibility of installing air conditioning at the high school has been checked into. It has been found that class rooms could be cooled using the present building set up. The hallways and gym wouldn't be cooled with present plan. Bids have been received from Siemens Company of Lincoln and from Rasmussen Company of Sioux City, Iowa. Loss of state aid, though, would affect this project as well as others planned.

Board members Sue Gilmore and Jean Blumenkamp and Dr. Reinert returned from a legislative meeting held in Lincoln Monday. They noted that two bills were espec-

Sacred music for voice and organ will be featured in a recital at Our Savior Lutheran Church, 421 Pearl Street, on Sunday, Feb. 27, at 3 p.m.

Presented as a Wayne State College faculty recital, the program will also celebrate the recent installation of the church's Schlicker organ.

"This recital will be a 'first' for Wayne in several respects, but primarily because we are performing literature that requires the kind of organ now enjoyed by the parishioners of Our Savior Lutheran Church," said Organist Ann Marie Rigler, assistant professor of music at WSC.

"Most of the vocal music is rarely performed, although it is quite beautiful and appropriate for church services as well as recitals. The program will also include a reading of poetry about the construction of a new organ. We are excited about introducing to northeast Nebraska some music that we've been delighted to discover and have grown to love."

She will perform with Robert Barefield, baritone, of the voice faculty at Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas.

Also performing will be David Bohnert, trumpet; and Christopher Bonds, violin; both music faculty members at WSC. The program will include works by Handel, Micheelsen, Krebs, Verner, Franck, Pinkham and Stanford.

The Wayne performance will be the first of several that Rigler and Barefield will present in 2000, including appearances in Dallas in March and in Seattle in July at the biennial national convention of the American Guild of Organists.

The WSC recital is free, although a freewill offering will be taken to defray special expenses incurred by the performers to present this program in Wayne.

Everyone is welcome to attend. For more information, please call (402) 375-7514.

Sharing their story

Tara Dawn Christensen and her husband John spoke to the students and adults at True Love Waits Rally on Sunday. Prior to Sunday's rally, Mrs. Christensen had visited area schools sharing her message of setting goals and abstinence before marriage.

The Feb. 15 deadline for incumbents to file for election has passed with a number of county officials seeking re-election.

Partisan filings include Robert Nissen for County Commissioner in District #2.

Non-partisan filings include Merlin Frevort for the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District, Sub. #5.

In the City of Wayne, incumbents Douglas A. Sturm (First Ward), Darrel Fuelberth (Second Ward) and Jane O'Leary (Fourth Ward) have filed for re-election to the City Council.

Logan McClelland and Carl Rump have filed for re-election to the Wayne Airport Authority.

Board of Education filings include Susan Gilmore for Wayne District #17 and Jean Suehl for Winside District #95R. All are incumbents.

The only non-incumbent to file for election at this time is Paul Roberts for one of the three seats open on the Winside District #95R Board of Education.

Non-incumbents have until March 1 to file for election to office.

worth watching. Those bills are LB1399 which deals with teacher salaries and what can be done to deal with the issue. The other one is LB812 which was passed last year and would force the school into giving children a State test in September. The State Board of Education is pushing an amendment to LB812 to allow local school districts to test students with locally developed tests.

On the agenda for the next regular board meeting which will be held Tuesday, Feb. 29 is discussion of self evaluations by Board members and discussion from Bill Dickey, Wayne Board of Education member, on the mentoring program. The Feb. 29 meeting is scheduled to begin at 7 p.m. at the high school in Wayne.

On the agenda for the March 13 meeting will be Special Education policy, the proposal on all-day Kindergarten, Driver's Education program restructuring, and clarification on annual report. The March 13 meeting is scheduled to begin at 7 p.m. at the high school in Wayne.

Open forum scheduled in Wayne

The public is invited to attend the unveiling of most popular design schemes recently voted on by the commercial district building and business owners.

The unveiling will be from 7 to 8 p.m. on Tuesday, Feb. 24 at the Wayne Main Street Office at 212 Main Street.

The design committee welcomes the public's input and suggestions on the proposed layout for downtown Wayne.

The original designs were generated in January of 1999 when Wayne became the 12th community in the Nebraska Lied Main Street Program. Since that time the downtown designs have been through two consensus building sessions in the Wayne community.

EXPERT ANSWERS TO TAXING QUESTIONS

How long am I required to keep old tax records?

Receipts, cancelled checks, interest statements and any other record that document income of a deduction shown on your tax return should be kept until the period of limitations for what return expires. This is usually three years from the date the return was due or filed, or two years from the time the tax was paid, whichever is later. However, there is no period of limitations when no return is filed or fraud is involved. If you are an employer, you must retain employment tax records for at least four years.

Money no political success guarantee

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

It's that time of year when the wannabes begin falling by the wayside.

Steve Forbes and a couple of other guys are out of the GOP contest for the presidential nomination. It has been suggested that, given the money he spends to indulge his political whim every few years, Forbes is a walking advertisement for confiscatory inheritance taxes.

Of course, money really isn't any guarantee of political success, at the national or state level.

Money is to politics what beauty is to the Miss America pageant. You might have one heckuva personal and professional background, but without money for the former and good looks for the latter, you ain't going nowhere.

One suspects that money was part of the reason for Lt. Gov. David Maurstad's exceedingly short-lived candidacy for the Republican nomination to the Senate. Maurstad doesn't have tremendous personal wealth. The big-dollar folks are rumored to be more interested in commitments to the Scott Moore and Don Stenberg and Ben Nelson sort than to the lieutenant governor types. Elliott Rustad and George Grogan, both wealthy and shopping for the GOP nomination, are nonetheless regarded as long shots at this stage.

The concern of many with the unbridled use of personal wealth in political campaigns is understandable. The U.S. Supreme Court has concluded that spending one's own money to gain political office is an expression of free speech. That conclusion is thus the law of the land. Simultaneously, the reality is that without the ability to compete with dollars, a person of character and ability has no chance in the marketplace of ideas. At least, not when the marketplace is located in the political arena.

Think about it. If money were as important in politics many years ago as it is today, Abraham Lincoln might not have had a shot at the presidency. A more gruesome thought: Depending on how well his opponents had locked up the big industrial money, he might have had to look South for his campaign war chest. Say, perhaps, to cotton growers?

Legislative session moves at fast rate

The 2000 session continues to move along at a rapid pace and with a number of vital to the rural economy of Nebraska. We are living

LB 1348 would allow grants of up to $150,000 for qualified projects from an agricultural opportunity fund. It also allows grants for community opportunities grants of up to $50,000. In addition, it pours $1 million more into existing micro-enterprise partnership program.

We need to provide tools for those in the rural sector of Nebraska to allow them the opportunity to build stronger local communities throughout the state. By enhancing and supporting small and innovative businesses in our communities, we will enhance self-employment opportunities in Nebraska. By doing so, we will be investing money wisely in the futures of our communities.

LB 1425 would foster economic development in the rural areas of Nebraska, in much the same ways as bills 1222 and 1348 would, by expanding educational opportunities and would make provision for an Agricultural Education complex at Northeast Community College in Norfolk. LB 1425 is designed to provide additional educational opportunities for rural Nebraska - and with more education - especially in the area of advanced technology, we will see more economic growth. This bill will ensure both the agricultural and industrial sectors that their futures will be secure with a good source of highly skilled employees and with it greater compensation for these employees.

It is the desire of many people to live and raise their families in rural Nebraska and I believe that we should, at the very least, provide them with that opportunity.

Your input, as always, is very important to me. If you have any comments or concerns on this or any other legislative matter, please contact my office at (402) 471-2801 or e-mail me at abbdickey@unicam.state.ne.us.

Capital Happenings

in a time of economic prosperity in the United States.

However, much of this economic prosperity has been felt primarily in the urban areas of Nebraska. For instance, Lincoln's unemployment rate for August was 7.9 percent; Omaha's was 2.3 percent. Meanwhile in Madison, Pierce and Stanton counties in the northeast had a 3.5 percent jobless rate. In northeast Nebraska, we are losing large numbers in both population and family farms. We see negative effects on our schools, main street businesses and even churches. I see two solutions to this enormous problem: economic development and education.

On Tuesday, the Agriculture Committee, on which I serve, heard proposals on how we as lawmakers can help our rural communities reap the benefits of economic prosperity and stabilize our local economies as well. LB 1222 and LB 1348 seek to spur rural economic growth in Nebraska. LB 1222 would allow grants of up to $50,000 to businesses and require that they be for enterprises adding value to raw farm or ranch produce.

Governor's ag conference planned

By Governor Mike Johanns

Dear Nebraska Neighbors,

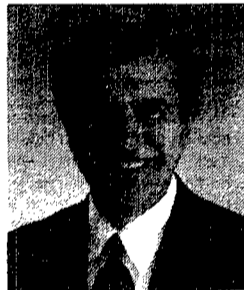

The 12th annual Governor's Ag Conference is just around the corner, and I would like to invite you to make plans to attend this very important event for Nebraska agriculture. Over the past several years, this conference has allowed producers and others involved with Nebraska agriculture to come together to exchange thoughts and ideas regarding our state's most prominent industry. After a great deal of planning, I am looking forward to another terrific event at this year's conference set for March 3rd at the Holiday Inn in Kearney.

The theme this year is "Preparing Today for Tomorrow's Opportunities," and our program brings together a variety of perspectives on several major issues facing agriculture today. Farmers, ranchers, and others interested and involved in Nebraska agriculture will have an opportunity to discuss several major topics which look to have a tremendous impact on the future profitability of Nebraska agriculture including trade, value-added efforts, biotechnology, consumer trends, and drought.

In today's global marketplace, the growth and future prosperity of Nebraska's economy, especially agriculture, depends in large part on foreign trade. When I took office just over year ago, I knew we had to be very aggressive in this area. I led trade delegations to Taiwan, Japan, China, and Hong Kong last year and look forward to planning others in the months and years to come.

When we get together for the Ag Conference on March 3rd, two speakers will address this important issue. Francisco Mayorga, Director of Agriculture in Jalisco, Guadalajara will talk about what trade with Mexico means - both the U.S. and Nebraska and how streamlining the border for both meats and grains could result in more profitability here at home. Teresa Howes, the Director of China for the U.S. Trade Representative, will also be on hand. She is currently working on negotiations for normal trade relations with China which would create much more profitable markets for Nebraskans in this region.

Value-Added Agriculture is another area we will address at the conference. Last December, we unveiled plans for the Nebraska Value-Added Initiative designed to return a greater share of the ag dollar to the producer and provide a long-term remedy to low commodity prices. We've asked Dana Persson of Golden Oval Eggs in Renville, Minnesota to talk about how he started his coop and its success. His insights may help producers who may not be sure on how to get started in value-added agriculture.

In addition, Governor Ed Schafer of North Dakota will be on hand to discuss his state's aggressive efforts in value-added agriculture and how continued development of value-added agriculture will make a difference for the ag producer in Nebraska.

Biotechnology is another hot topic these days as many grain companies, trade organizations, and policy-makers are deciding whether to label genetically modified products or whether to even accept them. We will look at how biotechnology works, studying both the scientific hazards and the potential for safe, wholesome products they can help to provide. We will also look at the issue of consumer trends and how they can help our farmers and ranchers take advantage of greater opportunity.

Finally, the shortage of precipitation as we near the planting season is causing many to fear drought. We want to provide producers with up-to-date information on sources farmers can turn to as the year goes along. Farmers will learn what precautions to take, how to monitor the forecasts, and what the state's Climate Assessment Response Committee is doing to prepare.

I really believe this will be a great opportunity to focus on very important issues facing agriculture in our "Nebraska United." For more information, or to register for the conference, contact the Nebraska Department of Agriculture at 1-800-422-6692. I hope to see you in Kearney on March 3rd.

Lives saved! Lives saved!

Dear Editor,
"LIVES SAVED! LIVES SAVED! LIVES SAVED!" Well, that is what the headlines of the Wayne Herald should have read after the blood drives on Jan. 27.

The Wayne Community Blood Drive at Providence Medical Center and the Great Dane Blood Drives both had outstanding days. Between the two drives, 164 volunteers registered to donate and 137 units were collected.

There are several donors who reached milestones in their giving and we want to especially thank them for their dedicated donations.

Gail Korn	5 gallon
Michael Sievers	6 gallon
Troy Reynolds	1 gallon
Donald Diedeker	3 gallon

David Longe	3 gallon
Karin Vaughn	1 gallon
Cyril Hansen	1 gallon
Madonna Tanderup	2 gallon
Jeffery Hansen	2 gallon
Shane Guill	2 gallon

Thanks you to all the donors who register at blood drives. What can be said to people who help save lives here in Siouxland but "Thank you from the bottom of our hearts."

The Siouxland Community Blood Bank serves all the blood needs of our 15 area hospitals and their patients. The ONLY way blood products are made available for area patients is if individuals in our communities volunteer to donate blood on a regular basis.

The Golden Years

British film director Charles Crichton was considered one of the brightest lights in the world of British comedy. The renowned director was seventy-five years old when actor John Cleese, a member of Monty Python's flying circus, recruited him to direct the flick, "A Fish Called Wanda". Shortly before his death last year Mr. Crichton confessed he had no idea what the film was about when he accepted the job but he had always wanted to direct a scene where someone was run over by a steamroller. In "A Fish Called Wanda", Crichton had his chance.

Joel Munson leads Blue Devils with season-high 28 points Wayne boys thump Madison in rematch

The Wayne boys basketball team used a 21-7 scoring run in the third quarter, behind the heroics of seniors Joel Munson and Klinton Keller en rout to a 74-48 thrashing of Madison last Friday night in Wayne.

The win, avenged an overtime loss to the same Dragons team at the Wayne State Holiday Tournament in December. Munson scored 12 of his season-high 28 points in the third stanza and Keller unleashed his long-range arsenal of three's to open up a three-point halftime lead of 32-29 to a comfortable 53-36 advantage.

Wayne out-scored the visitors, 42-19 in the second half. "No doubt our kids are playing with a lot of confidence right now," coach Rocky Ruhl said. "Of course, when you hit 62 percent of your shots from three-point range, the confidence will be there."

Ruhl said at halftime he asked his team if they could reach a little deeper and play better and they responded.

"Our defense did a nice job of recognizing the shooter in the second half," Ruhl said. "Blake Rotherham hurt us for 17 points in the first half and he finished with 23."

Ruhl said his team's offensive execution was the difference. "We did a good job of finding the open player and going inside-out," Ruhl added. "We've won three straight and we need to continue playing like this."

Wayne, 9-8 was led by Munson's 28 points with Keller pouring in 12 and Eric McLagan, 11.

Ruhl got solid play from Trevor Wright and Brad Hansen with six points each with Shane Baack netting four and Ben Meyer, three. Dustin Schmeits and Brad Hochstein each netted two points.

Despite not showing up in the scoring column, Jon Meyer's defensive play stifled Madison's guards all night.

Meyer had three steals and dished out five assists with Keller also notching five assists. Wayne finished with 20 team assists.

The Blue Devils also owned the boards for the first time in several outings, 35-27 as McLagan garnered nine rebounds with Schmeits hauling down five.

In the JV game the Blue Devils edged Madison, 41-39. Craig Olson led the winners with 12 points with Brad Hansen adding nine and Ethan Mann, six. Ben Meyer added five points and Shane Baack, four while Jeremy Foote netted three and Jon Ehrhardt, two.

The JV's improved to 11-2 with just two games remaining.

Wayne will host Crofton on Thursday and Pierce on Friday to close out the regular season.

The Blue Devils play Crofton in the first round of sub-districts on Tuesday night in Randolph at 8 p.m. Pierce and Plainview play the other first round contest at 6:15 in Randolph.

THE WAYNE GIRLS dropped a 48-42 decision to Madison, leaving John McClarnen's team with a 9-9 regular season record after a 2-15 regular season mark a year ago.

Wayne led 25-17 at the half but the Dragons went on a 21-8 scoring run in the third quarter to take a 38-33 lead.

"Madison hit seven-of-nine shots from the field in third quarter," McClarnen said. "They were also 7-7 from the free throw line."

Wayne narrowed the gap to three at 45-42 with 17 seconds left but could draw no closer.

Katie Walton led the Blue Devils with 13 points with Sara Ellis scoring a dozen and Monica Novak, six. Leah Dunklau and April Thede added four each and Karla Keller netted two with Kallie Krugman scoring one.

The Wayne JV's ended their season with a 12-3 record but a disappointing 38-31 loss to Madison.

James Gagner's team trailed 17-12 at the half and 27-17 after three quarters of play.

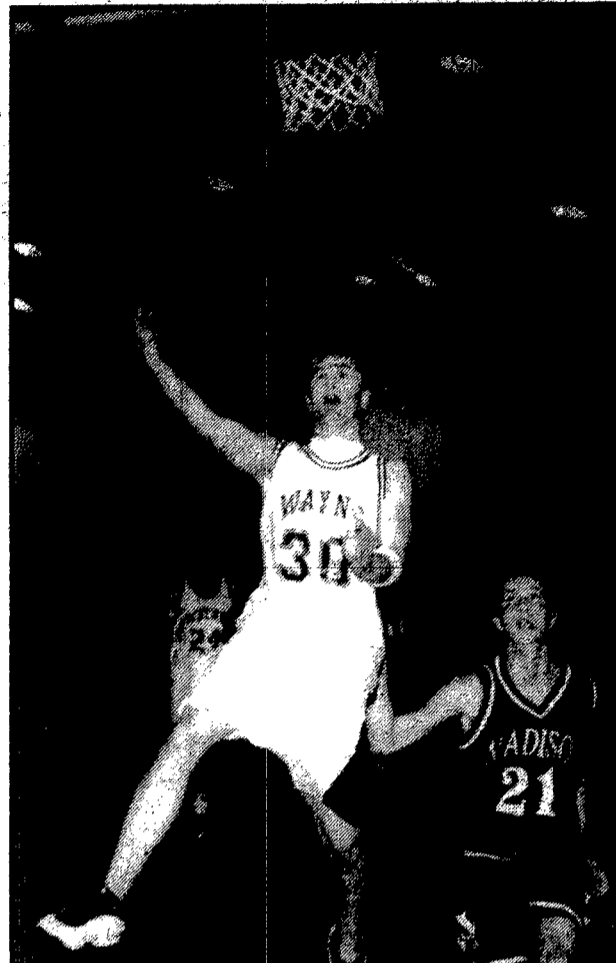

Karla Keller led Wayne with 10 points with Amanda Munter adding six and Amanda Maryott, four. Beth Loberg also scored four points and Amy Harder netted three while Christina Gathje and Alissa Dunklau scored two apiece.

Klinton Keller drives around a Madison defender during second half action of the Blue Devils 26 point win.

Dustin Schmeits comes up with the loose ball while seated on the floor during a scramble. Schmeits actually shot the ball while in the seated position.

Joel Munson lays up a shot for two of his season-high 28 points in the win over Madison.

Area girls teams win first round

By Kevin Peterson
Of the Herald

Sub-district girls basketball action took front and center stage on Tuesday night as Wayne Herald area teams battled to keep their seasons going.

John McClarnen's Wayne girls defeated Crofton, 54-47 in Randolph to improve to 10-9 on the season while advancing to the sub-district finals on Thursday night against top seed Plainview, also in Randolph.

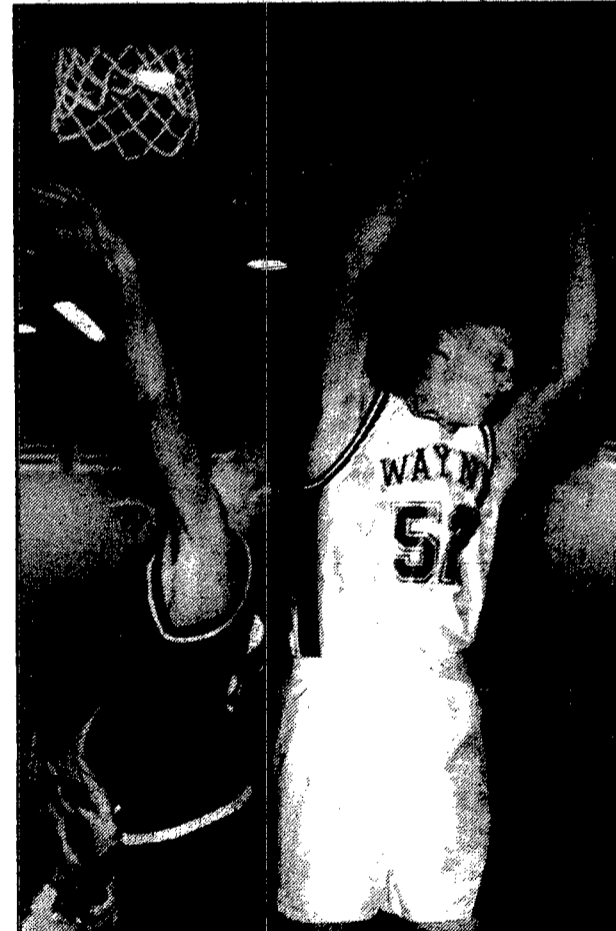

The Blue Devils trailed only once in the game with Crofton at 30-29 but Wayne went on a 5-0 run at that point and never trailed again.

"We got up by double digits and then with stood a Crofton rally in the final quarter," McClarnen said. "The game was tied at 22 at the break."

Sara Ellis led the winners with 13 points with Monica Novak and April Thede netting 12 each and Leah Dunklau, eight. Katie Walton finished with five points with Kristin Hochstein and Kallie Krugman scoring two each.

In sub-district action in Laurel, the Winside Wildcats ended Homer's season, 47-37 to advance to the

Soccer teams inks two

Two high school seniors signed national letters of intent to attend Wayne State College and play for the women's soccer team, WSC coach Justin Cole announced this week.

Inking letters of intent were Nikki Field of Norfolk and Kalle (Cal-lee) Wamsat (Wahm-set) of Valley, Neb. Cole also announced that Erin Taylor of Omaha, Neb. plans to walk on the team this fall.

Field is a midfielder/forward from Norfolk High School. Entering her fourth year as a starter for the Panthers this spring, Field was named to the All-Greater Nebraska Athletic Conference team as a junior. She was the fourth-leading scorer in Class A during the 1999 season. She currently holds the school record for assists in a game.

In the process, Field helped Norfolk set school records for wins in a season with 10. In addition, the Panthers scored a single-season record 54 goals en route to the GNAC championship.

"Nikki will add a lot of versatility to our lineup," Cole said. "She has tremendous ball skills and field vision, which should help our offensive attack."

Wamsat is a goalkeeper from Valley High School. Last spring she earned Class B all-state honorable mention recognition. A three-year starter, Wamsat last season allowed 1.14 goals per game while recording 142 saves. The Terriers compiled a 9-5 record last year.

"I think Kalle could potentially give us a great lift in goal," Cole said. "She has nice size and quickness and a really strong foot."

"Both Nikki and Kalle have great attitudes and work ethics," Cole added. "Those are the qualities we are looking for in this recruiting class."

Taylor enters her fourth year as a starter at Omaha Roncalli High School. She began her career as a forward, but last season played defender. Cole said he expects her to play defender for the Wildcats.

Taylor also has extensive playing experience with the Toro club team, where she was a teammate of Wamsat. In 1996 she was the team's second-leading scorer. Overall, Toro has won five state titles since 1994.

Cole said he hopes to sign approximately five more players during this recruiting season.

Wayne State posted a 12-6 record this season, breaking the school record for wins in a season. In their first year in the NSIC, the Wildcats went 5-4 and finished fifth. However, WSC placed fourth at the NSIC tournament. Cole will welcome back nine starters from last year's team.

sub-district finals where they will face Wakefield, a 65-45 winner over Emerson-Hubbard.

Winside trailed the Knights, 20-19 at the half but Marland Erbst's squad out-scored Homer, 28-17 in the second half for the 10 point win.

"It was one of our best games of the season from a turnover standpoint," Erbst said. "Claire Boelter came off the bench and scored six points at a critical juncture in the game which sparked us."

Julie Jacobsen led the way with 18 points with Sara Mohr adding 10. Boelter and Kim Nathan scored six each with Brooke Boelter netting five. Shannon Bowers and Jessica Wade each added a free throw.

Sara Mohr led Winside on the boards with 12 rebounds with Nathan hauling down eight caroms.

Wakefield's 20-point win over Emerson-Hubbard included 51 combined fouls and 70 free throw attempts.

The Trojans led 42-10 at the intermission and were virtually never threatened.

Maggie Brownell led the winners with 27 points including a stellar 15-of-18 performance from the foul line.

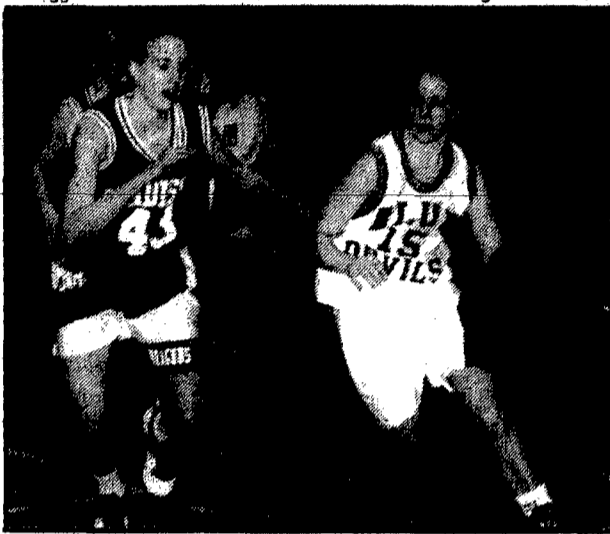

Timarie Bebee poured in 17 points and hauled down 16 rebounds with Annie Greve adding eight points and Amber Johnson, five. Megan Brown tallied four points with Kristin Brudigam and Lacey Brown netting two each. Brownell had double digits on the boards as well with 10 caroms.

In the biggest upset in Class C-2, Tuesday night the Laurel-Concord Bears at 17-3, were upset by Hartington, 43-41.

Susie Koranda's team led 37-33 after three quarters of play before being out-scored, 10-4 over the final eight minutes.

Brittany Burns led the Bears with 12 points with Kari Stewart adding nine and Lani Recob, seven. Jenny Demuth netted six points and Melanie Thompson, five while Katie Peters tossed in two.

The Bears will undoubtedly use the disappointing finish as motivation next season as they have no seniors in the starting rotation.

Sara Ellis looks to drive around a Madison defender during fourth quarter action last Friday.

Wayne has four qualify for state

The Wayne wrestling team notched a fifth place finish at the B-2 District Wrestling Tournament in Schuyler over the weekend with four Blue Devil grapplers earning a trip to the Nebraska State Tournament which gets under way today (Thursday) in Lincoln.

Lucas Munter, Gabe Hammer, Chris Woehler and Adam Jorgensen qualified for State with their respective performances at the district meet.

Jorgensen was Wayne's highest finisher with a runner-up finish at 160 pounds.

Munter (125), Hammer (145) and Woehler (152) each placed fourth. Four other grapplers came with in one victory of qualifying for state including Danny Roeber (135), Craig Hefti (171) and Ryan Haase (189).

"I thought our kids wrestled well," coach John Murtaugh said. "We have four qualifiers and four others who were close. I am proud of how the kids competed."

Munter will take a 24-15 record to state where he faces Ryan Hinrichs (27-6) of Seward in the opening round.

Hammer at 22-15 faces Brent Pankoke (28-3) of Centennial while Woehler at 24-19 squares off against Brandon Lotter (23-9) of Auburn.

Jorgensen at 26-13 faces Jeremy Slaughter of Waverly who sports a 29-5 record.

Brad Joens hits three-pointer to win the game WSC survives Mustang scare

By Kevin Peterson
Of the Herald

Sometimes destiny smiles on your side of things.

The Wayne State men's basketball team watched a seven point lead in the final two minutes disappear at Southwest State, only to have a reprieve in the final seconds—which they took full advantage of.

The 'Cats trailed the host Mustangs, 65-64 with just four seconds remaining and Southwest State had the ball under the WSC basket.

The other negative for WSC was having just four team fouls which meant they virtually had to find a way to steal the ball to get it back because there would be no way to get three fouls in four seconds to force the Mustangs to shoot free throws in order to get the ball back.

"Our defense really stepped to the forefront and they (Southwest State) had no timeouts left," WSC coach Greg McDermott said. "They ended up handing the ball in-bounds which is a violation and we got possession back with out any time elapsing."

The 'Cats called a couple timeouts to discuss the final shot attempt and options.

Rory Williams found an open Brad Joens in three-point range and Joens took one dribble and drained the shot—ironically his only three-pointer of the game which extended his consecutive game total with at least one three-point bucket to 62.

"We just didn't execute very well in the final two minutes but our guys never felt they were going to lose," McDermott said. "Southwest State did an outstanding job of taking away our outside shooting by extending their defense but our inside guys got the job done."

The win left the 'Cats in sole possession of second place and just a game behind Winona State with just four NSIC games remaining.

WSC led the Mustangs, 30-29 at the half and the biggest lead in the second half was by the 'Cats at seven points at 62-55 with 1:42 remaining.

The 'Cats hit five, three-pointers in the game on just eight attempts. Jon Dolliver paced the winners with 15 points with Matt VanVoorst netting 12 and Eric Henderson along with Brad Joens scoring 11 each.

WSC won the boards battle, 32-29 with Henderson hauling down a game-high nine caroms.

"Mac" said his squad suffered more turnovers that what he'd like to see with 18 while the Mustangs had just 10.

WSC improved to 17-5 overall and 11-3 in the conference, and will hit the road for conference play for the final time this season this weekend at Minnesota-Crookston and Moorhead State.

The regular season ends next weekend as WSC hosts Minnesota-Duluth and Bemidji State.

WSC, 67—Southwest State, 65 WSC: Jon Dolliver, 15; Matt VanVoorst, 12; Eric Henderson, 11; Brad Joens, 11; Brad Manley, 7; Rory Williams, 4; Nathan Mulder, 4; Kevin Lingenfelter, 3. FG'S: 21-43-49%; FT'S: 20-24-83%; TEAM RECORD: 17-5; NSIC RECORD: 11-3.

Nathan Suehl looks for a scoring combination during Winside's district tournament. Suehl earned a trip to the State Tournament this weekend by placing fourth at districts.

Winside wrestlers third at districts

The Winside wrestling team placed third at the Class D-2 District Wrestling Meet in Elgin last weekend with five Wildcats earning state tournament bids for Paul Sok's crew. Leading the charge was 152-pounder Eric Vanosdall who claimed a district championship with a 7-4 win over Adam Clark of Burwell.

Jared Jaeger (103) and Jeremy Jaeger (135) each earned third place honors with Brandon Suehl (112) and Nate Suehl (171) taking fourth's.

Elgin Pope John won the district title with 160 points with Newman Grove placing second with 107.5 followed by Winside with 96 and Humphrey St. Francis with 95. Osmond netted 91.5 and Greeley, 90 while Elgin/Petersburg scored 75 and Randolph, 66.

Burwell, Howells, Scribner-Snyder, Clearwater, Sargent, Palmer, Rock County, Ponca and Fullerton rounded out the field of teams in order.

"Placing third by a point is a credit to some of those individuals who did not earn a state tournament berth," Sok said. "Tom Wittler and Tom Schwedhelm each were with in a win of qualifying as they went 2-2."

Jared Jaeger won a 9-3 decision over Chris Dostal of Howells to place third with Jeremy Jaeger notching a 6-3 win over Aaron Wallin of Newman Grove for third place.

Sok said despite looking at a tough road, his team plans on making a run at another top 10 finish at this week's State Wrestling Tournament which begins today (Thursday).

Jeremy Jaeger with a 27-10 record will face Sam Waggoner of Franklin (17-6) in the first round while Brandon Suehl at 19-13 and a freshman squares off against Zach Clarke of Rushville at 27-5 and a freshman in the 112 pound weight class.

Jeremy Jaeger with his hefty 30-4 record will face Scott Isom of Mullen who is 25-9 at 135 pounds.

Eric Vanosdall at 32-4 takes on Nate Schumm of Harvard at 27-9 in the 152 pound weight class and Nate Suehl at 30-9 faces Adrian Backer of Sutherland who yields of 31-3 record.

Parent's Night set for boys basketball

WAYNE—The annual Parent's Night celebration for the boys basketball team will be this Friday at the high school during Wayne's regular-season ending tilt with Pierce. Parent's will be introduced between the JV and varsity game.

Freshman girls place third at Pierce

WAYNE—Wayne's freshman girls basketball team placed third at Pierce last weekend. Wayne lost to Pierce, 37-36 with a last-second shot attempt drawing iron. Amanda Munter led the way for Wayne with 12 points with Amy Harder adding 11 and Megan Summerfield, seven. Tamara Schardt scored four points and Heather Zach, two. Wayne bounced back to earn third place, 27-20. Erin Jarvi, Megan Summerfield and Amy Harder scored six each to lead Wayne with Heather Zach adding four. Ashley Loberg and Amanda Munter added two each and Alissa Dunklau, one.

Freshman boys win Pierce tournament

WAYNE—Rob Sweetland's freshman boys basketball team won the Pierce Tournament last Saturday with a pair of wins. Wayne downed South Sioux, 58-41 as Ric Volk led the way with 19 points while Mike Sturm poured in 14.

In the championship game Wayne upended previously unbeaten Pierce, 41-40 on an in-bounds tip play to Jon Ehrhardt with six seconds left. Volk led the team once again with 17 points while Jon Ehrhardt finished with 10. Wayne improved to 8-4 on the season.

Junior high boys split cage tilts with Laurel

WAYNE—Wayne's seventh grade boys basketball team downed Laurel, 46-33 recently as Brian Fink scored 25 points to lead the winners with Jared Jehle adding 13 for the 5-0 squad. Adam Munter and Wade Jarvi each added four points.

The eighth grade boys fell to the Bears, 50-44 with Caleb Garvin leading Wayne with 10 points while Ryan Hix scored eight and Aaron Jorgensen, seven. Chris Nissen tallied six points and Josh Sharer, five while Heath Dickes netted four. Adam Steinbach and Kaylé Anderson scored two each for the 3-3 eighth grade team.

Junior high grapplers compete in Norfolk

WAYNE—Wayne's junior high wrestling team competed in a double-duel with Norfolk and Yankton in Norfolk recently with Dave Clausen's team winning 18 of the 32 matches they took part in.

Those earning pins for Wayne included Brandon Pilger with two pins and Brent Jones, Dustin Lutt, David Gangwish, Todd Wical, and Andrew Lowe. Matt Nelson also earned a pair of wins by pin. Dana Schuett, Matt Roeber, David Gangwish, Andrew Lowe, Josh Widner, Justin Modrell and Dan Reinhart earned decisions.

WSC gals fall to Mustangs

The Wayne State women's basketball team ran head on into a red-hot basketball team at Southwest State last Saturday night and the result was a 20-point loss in Marshall, Minnesota, 77-57.

Ryun Williams said the Mustangs played unbelievable basketball at times, hitting seven-of-nine three-point attempts in the first half while connecting on 60 percent of all their shots over the first 20 minutes en route to a 48-32 halftime lead. "They shot the ball very well," Williams said. "They came out ready to ambush us and we didn't match their intensity."

The host team connected on 10, three-pointers for the game. "We cut the lead to 12 at one point in the second half and that's as close as we could get," Williams said. "We need to regroup and learn from our mistakes."

WSC was led by Sara Miller with 19 points with Karen Hochstein adding 12 and Tracy Williamson, 11.

The 'Cats were out-rebounded by a 39-32 margin with Hochstein hauling down eight rebounds to lead the way.

The WSC mentor said defense will be the key for this weekend's games at Minnesota-Crookston and Moorhead State.

"It sounds like a broken record but again this is a very important weekend set for us," Williams said. "We fell to fourth place in the NSIC standings and we need to post some wins."

WSC sits at 14-8 overall and 10-4 in the NSIC. WSC, 57—Southwest State, 77

New head coach pleased with recruits

WSC gridders sign eight

A total of seven high school players and one transfer signed national letters of intent to attend Wayne State College and play football for the Wildcats.

First year head football coach Scott Hoffman announced the signings recently.

The 2000 recruiting class, which consists of six players from Nebraska, one from South Dakota and one from Wyoming, includes: High School Seniors Jon Carlson DB 6-0 180 Lincoln, Neb. (Lincoln Christian HS)

Tim Hornbeck DB 5-10 190 South Sioux City, Neb. (South Sioux City HS); Jeremy Houghttelling DL 6-3 215 Cambridge, Neb. (Cambridge HS); Kyle Lingenfelter RB/DB 6-0 190 Plainview, Neb. (Plainview HS)

Tyler Maas QB 6-2 220 Fullerton, Neb. (Fullerton HS); Travis Mattox TE/FB 6-3 195 North Bend, Neb. (North Bend Central HS); Ross Nelson WR 6-1 170 Sioux Falls, S.D. (Washington HS)

Transfer Eric Kjar QB 6-5 218 Kemmerer, Wyo. (Kemmerer HS/Snow JC)

"It's a small class, but a quality class," Hoffman said of his first recruiting class at Wayne State. "We

Wakefield cagers split with Bulldogs

The Wakefield girls and boys basketball teams split with Coleridge last weekend with Iris Borg's Lady Trojans earning a 54-39 win over the Bulldogs while Mike Clays Wakefield boys team fell by a 55-53 margin in the nightcap.

In the girls game Wakefield led 34-20 at the half and were never threatened in the second half.

Maggie Brownell and Timarie Bebee combined to score 40 points with Brownell pouring in 22 to lead the way.

Annie Greve chipped in eight with Amber Johnson scoring three and Megan Brown, two. Erin Salmon finished with a free throw.

Bebee notched another double-double with her 18 points and 11 rebounds.

Wakefield's boys team trailed Coleridge by 10 at the half, 31-21 and the Trojans still trailed by 10 after three quarters of play at 46-36 but Clay's crew went on a scoring run to take a one-point lead with 11 seconds remaining in regulation.

"They hit a three-pointer with just three seconds left in the game to win it," Clay said. "I was proud of the way our kids fought back in the fourth quarter to take the lead."

Ty Nixon led Wakefield with 24 points with Joel McAfee netting 10 and Ryan Carson, eight. Nick White tallied a handful of points with Wyatt Brown adding three and Todd McQuistan, two. Brett Brownell rounded out the scoring with a free throw.

feel we signed some kids who are really good athletes. For example, Carlson, Lingenfelter and Hornbeck could help us at several different positions"

Hoffman, who was hired as Wayne State's 20th head football coach on December 6, said he expects to sign three or four more players during this recruiting season. He said an emphasis will be placed on signing some offensive and defensive linemen.

Wayne State is coming off a 3-8 season in 1999. The Wildcats, competing in their first season in the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference, tied for sixth in the league with Minnesota-Duluth with a 3-5 NSIC mark. Although WSC played a league schedule, the Wildcats were ineligible for the conference title because the team exceeded the conference scholarship limit of 21.

With additional reductions this offseason, Wayne State is now at 21 scholarships and will be eligible for the NSIC championship in the 2000 season.

CARLSON was a two-year letter-winner at Lincoln Christian High School. A starting strong safety, he earned honorable mention All-Centennial Conference recognition. As a senior he recorded 105 tackles last fall and averaged 4.5 yards per carry as a running back.

Carlson has a 29-inch vertical jump and has been electronically timed at 4.7 in the 40-yard dash.

HORNBECK was a four-year starter for South Sioux City High School. A versatile player, he earned all-conference honors as a quarterback 1997, as a defensive back in 1998 and as an all-purpose performer in 1999. Twice he was named to the All-Metro defensive team.

He holds the South Sioux City career record for total yards, was named to the Lincoln Journal Star all-state team, received honorable mention all-state recognition from the Omaha World-Herald.

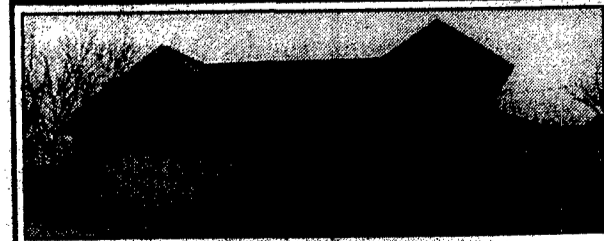

HOUGHTTELLING (pronounced Hoh-tell-ing) was a two-year starter on the defensive line for Class C-2 power Cambridge High School.

As a senior, he recorded a team-high 57 tackles, including 40 solo stops. He totaled 34 tackles as a junior. An All-Republican Valley League selection in 1999, he was also named to the Lincoln Journal Star Class C-2 all-state squad, named honorable mention all-state

Wildcat track teams place

The Wayne State track and field squads set 16 personal bests at the University of Nebraska-Kearney's Charlie Foster Classic last Saturday.

The biggest improvement came from senior Jennifer Olson, who improved her indoor best for 400 meters by over three seconds to 1:05.32, which placed her third overall.

"That was a career best for her at WSC," said head coach Brian Kavanaugh. "If she continues to run like that, by outdoors she should be under 63 seconds."

Freshman Traci Bernecker improved her best for 55 meters by 0.01 seconds, clocking 7.48 seconds in the preliminary rounds. She ended up placing fourth overall in the finals with a time of 7.52 seconds. Bernecker also placed third in the 200-meter dash in 27.42 seconds.

Senior Aisha Todd improved her best for 200 meters by 0.3 seconds, clocking 27.86 for seventh place. Earlier that day she ran a personal best of 7.82 seconds in the 55-meter dash.

Freshman Jodi Epping also improved her 55-meter best, clocking 7.97 seconds, and improved her season best for 200 meters to 28.42 for 12th place.

The highest individual placer on the day for the women was junior Darr Nickerson, who clocked 5:25.46 in the mile for second place. She also helped the distance medley squad to fourth place in 13:31.98. Freshman April Sachau ran a personal best in the mile of 5:48.43 for sixth place, and senior Marsha Krienke placed sixth in the 3000-meter run in 11:32.36, also a personal best.

For the men, junior Matt Kneiff improved his personal best for the 55-meter hurdles by a tenth of a second to 7.70. Kneiff placed second overall, and was only .06 seconds from the school record and .07 from a provisional national qualifying mark.

"Matt really looked good - relaxed and fast over the hurdles," Kavanaugh said. "He may get the school record and a qualifying mark next week if he continues to run as well as he has been."

Also scoring a personal best was sophomore Joe DeMilt in the pole vault, who cleared 13'9" for ninth place. That was a three-inch best for DeMilt, and was only three inches off of the indoor school record.

"Joe came close to clearing 14'3" on his second attempt," said Kavanaugh. "He may get that record this year."

Freshman Kellin Bretschneider improved his personal best for 55 meters to 6.69, which debuted him at ninth on the WSC top ten lists. He also recorded an indoor personal best for 200 meters of 23.94 seconds, which is tenth all time for WSC.

In the mile, senior Brad Hrouda improved his best for the mile by 10 seconds, clocking 4:35.77 for eighth place, and freshman Dana Rider ran 16:50 for 5000 meters, also a personal best. The men's distance medley team of Dustin Lippman, Kneiff, Hrouda and James Bruhn placed second, clocking 10:43.38, with Bruhn running a personal best of 4:27.2 for the 1600-meter leg. That relay time is second on the WSC charts.

Next up for the Wildcats is the NIAC Invitational in Lincoln this Saturday.

The NSIC Indoor Track and Field Championships are March 3-4 at Bemidji State University.

Home Testing for Urinary Tract Infections

Urinary tract infections (UTIs) are common, especially in women, and can be caused by bacteria, fungi, or viruses. The majority of all new infections and about half of recurring UTIs are caused by the bacteria E. coli. UTI symptoms routinely include pain or burning on urination and increased frequency of urination. Other symptoms include fever, nausea, and blood in the urine.

Recently the polymedical Corporation announced availability of Azo Test Strips - a home testing kit that can be used to screen for UTIs. Test strip pads are dipped into the urine specimen. After a specified period of time, the test strip pad colors are compared to a color chart that is provided with the kit. A positive test result should be reported to a physician. Treatment of UTIs typically requires prescription medicines such as sulfonamides and antibiotics.

Laurel girls and boys down Wisner-Pilger and Neligh-Oakdale Bears sweep two road games

The Laurel-Concord girls and boys basketball teams won a pair of games at Wisner-Pilger and Neligh-Oakdale last weekend as the Bears girls team closed out regular season action with a 17-3 mark while the boys team improved to 18-2 while being ranked second in Class C-2 by the Omaha World-Herald.

The Lady Bears handed Wisner-Pilger a 50-33 setback as Melanie Thompson led the way with 13 points with Kari Stewart netting 10.

"We did a good job defensively on a night when we weren't hitting all our shots," coach Susie Koranda said.

Lani Recob and Jennifer Demuth scored seven each and Brittany Burns netted six while Katie Peters netted three. Emily Schroeder and Kate Harder added two each.

Burns hauled down a game-high nine rebounds with Recob, Schroeder and Peters notching six rebounds each.

Stewart and Thompson each had four steals with Stewart dishing out three assists.

The offense was clicking at Neligh as the Bears pounded the host team, 70-41.

"We did a nice job of moving the ball around on offense and getting the open shot," Koranda said. "We ended up placing second in the conference to Elkhorn Valley."

Thompson led the winners with 16 points with Jennifer Demuth pouring in 14 and Katie Peters, 13. Lani Recob was also in double digits with 10 points while Kari Stewart and Brittany Burns added six each and Susan Pritchard, five.

Recob and Burns shared team honors on the boards with nine caroms each while Stewart and Thompson had four steals each.

CLAYTON STEELE'S BOYS team won the two games by a combined total of 61 points with a 78-40 win over Wisner-Pilger and 72-49 decision over Neligh-Oakdale.

At Wisner the Bears opened up a 33-21 halftime lead but went on a 24-5 scoring run in the third quarter to ice the game at 57-26.

"Good defense in the third quarter helped us put the game away," Steele said. "Our defense set the tone for our offense."

Nathan Beckman led 11 players in the scoring column with 20 points with Matt Schroeder adding 14 while Evan Smith and Nick Manganaro scoring eight each. Jon Erwin netted seven points and Blake Erwin scored five while Tyler Stingley, Ross Gardner and Adam Hartung tallied four each. Brandon Viterna and Johan Berner added two apiece.

Beckman also dished out seven assists and had five rebounds while Jon Erwin won the boards battle with seven caroms to his credit.

The Bears found themselves down by a 20-14 margin in one quarter of play at Neligh but Laurel rebounded to out-score the host team, 22-4 in the second quarter to take a 36-24 halftime lead.

"Neligh played an excellent first quarter before we got the handle on them," Steele said after his team improved to 18-2. "We finished the regular NENAC season at 6-1 and second place behind Randolph (7-0)."

The Bears committed just six turnovers while forcing Neligh into 22.

Ross Gardner paced the winners with 20 points with Evan Smith scoring a dozen. Blake Erwin and Nathan Beckman added 10 each while Matt Schroeder scored eight and Adam Hartung, seven. Nick Manganaro tallied three points and Jon Erwin, two.

Smith posted a double-double with 12 points and 10 rebounds with Blake Erwin and Gardner each netting eight boards. Manganaro and Beckman had eight assists each.

Winside loses home games

The Winside cage teams were swept at home by Osmond last Thursday night with Marland Erbst's girls dropping a 59-47 decision while Tom Meyer's boys fell by a 67-47 margin.

In the girls contest Winside trailed, 34-19 at the half and despite cutting into the lead in the third quarter, Osmond responded.

"We got behind by 10 points early and that is where we stayed for most of the game," Erbst said. "In the first half we had trouble stopping their inside game so we sagged on them. Then, their (Osmond's) guards got hot from the outside."

Julie Jacobsen paced the Wildcats with 19 points with Sara Mohr adding seven and Shannon Bowers, six. Kim Nathan finished with five points and Brooke Boelter, four while Shannon Jaeger and Jessica Wade along with Claire Boelter tallied two each.

Jacobsen led Winside on the boards with eight rebounds.

In the boys game the Wildcats led 9-8 after one quarter of play but Meyer's troops trailed 26-20 at the intermission and 46-31 after three quarters of play.

"We missed a lot of easy shots and didn't do a good job at the free throw line," Meyer said. "Those two elements would have kept us in the game."

Adam Hoffman scored 15 points to lead Winside with Scott Marotz adding 14 and Ben Lienemann, eight. Aaron Lessmann scored five points and Mike Deck, three while Nick Brogren added a deuce.

Wildcats volleyball team signs two recruits

Two high school seniors signed national letters of intent to attend Wayne State College and play volleyball for the Wildcats, WSC volleyball coach Sharon Vanis announced this week.

The 2000 recruiting class includes Sara Ellis of Wayne and Christine Ono of Omaha.

Ellis is a 5-foot-7 outside hitter from Wayne High School. She played middle hitter for the Blue Devils, which Vanis said will be beneficial.

"By playing middle hitter, that gave her a lot of blocking experience, which will make her a better player," Vanis said. "She is very athletic with a lot of potential. Once she learns to make some adjustments to the college game, she will be a tremendous asset to our program."

Ellis, who was voted Wayne High's Most Valuable Player the past two seasons, was a two-time Class C-1 all-state honorable mention performer. A three-year letterwinner, she was also named to the Norfolk Daily News Top 12.

Ono is a 5-11 right side hitter from Millard West High School. A three-year letterwinner and two-year starter, Ono helped Millard West to a 15-20 record last fall. She led the team with 183 kills and was second on the squad in blocking.

"Christine is a very solid, well-rounded player," Vanis said. "She provides some size at the right side hitter position and she jumps really well. We were very impressed with her during her tryout, and she was excited about coming to Wayne State."

Vanis said she hopes to sign a middle hitter or outside hitter during this recruiting season.

Wayne State posted a 17-14 overall record last fall. Competing in their first season in the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference, the Wildcats tied for second with a 14-4 league mark.

The Wildcats return four starters from that squad, including all-conference selections Lindsey Koch and Rayna Nelsen. The Wildcats' roster next season will be filled with underclassmen, as there are no seniors on the squad.

WHAT'S AN ENCROACHMENT?

A survey of your property will disclose possible encroachments or easements.

An encroachment exists when one owner's property infringes onto another's land. Examples of common encroachments include fences, driveways, patios and tree branches or shrubbery extending over the property line.

Encroachments are generally not covered by title insurance. If there is doubt concerning the accuracy of the boundaries, a buyer may wish to have a survey of the property.

Watch for next week's discussion of easements.

Briefly Speaking

Merry Mixers hold February meeting

WAYNE — The Merry Mixers met with Ruth Wacker on Feb. 8. Roll call was "What we did on our first date..." The afternoon was spent playing cards.

Dorothy Brinkman and Dottie Wacker were guests. The next meeting will be Tuesday, March 14. A family party will be held at 11:30 a.m. at The Max in Wayne.

Roving Gardeners discuss Valentines

AREA — The Roving Garden Club met Feb. 10 with Joyce Magnuson as hostess.

The meeting opened with a reading, "Love to the Patron Saint of Love." Roll call was answered by telling of a favorite Valentine received. Old business included the planning of a family party on Thursday, March 9 at Geno's Steak House. A dinner will begin at 6 p.m.

The club toured the Hall Green House. They then returned to Joyce's home for lunch.

The next meeting will be Thursday, March 9 for the Family Party.

Daycare Providers to meet

WAYNE — The Wayne Daycare Providers will meet Tuesday, Feb. 22 at 7 p.m. at the Bank of Norfolk Building (formerly Columbus Federal).

This month's guest speaker will be Ericka Fink who will discuss organizing credit hours.

All day care providers are welcome to attend. For more information, contact Pam Henderson at 375-2950.

Acme Club holds February meeting

AREA — The Acme Club met Feb. 8 with Verdelle Reeg. Six members were present.

Verdelle Reeg presented the picture "Miss Bowles." The artist was Joshua Reynolds.

The next meeting for the group will be on Monday, Feb. 21 at 2 p.m. Marjorie Summers will be the hostess.

Klick and Klatter learn about San Francisco

AREA — The Klick and Klatter Club met Feb. 8 with Dorothy Aurich. Joyce Niemann conducted the meeting and led the group in the flag salute and read an article.

Six members answered roll call by naming a bird beginning with their first initial of their name.

Music Leader Dorothy Aurich led the group singing of "There are Crowds."

Reading Leader Barbara Sievers read an article, "Birds' Nicknames — funny, isn't it."

Viola Meyer brought the scrapbook and she received the hostess gift. Marcella Larson had charge of the program. She showed a film about San Francisco and also had pictures that were taken when she was there.

The next meeting will be Tuesday, March 14 at 1:30 p.m. with Barbara Sievers. Pauline Lutt will have the program.

Rineharts to be honored

WAYNE — The daughters of Elmer and Gladys Rinehart are requesting a card shower in honor of the couple's 60th wedding anniversary, which is Saturday, Feb. 19, 2000.

Their children are Alice Erickson of Hastings and Carol and John Sievers of Norfolk.

Cards can be sent to the couple at 1001 First Avenue, Wayne, Neb. 68787.

A sweet deal for a good cause

A pie and ice cream social fundraiser was held Friday at the Wayne Care Centre with proceeds going to the American Heart Association. A number of Care Centre residents and community members attended the event. The pies were baked by residents and their families.

Crane award winner

Wayne State senior art show scheduled

Kris Crane of Thurston was among five artists who earned awards during the 17th Annual Nebraska Art Teachers Association (NATA) Undergraduate Juried Exhibition, which will be on display from Feb. 6 through 25 in the Wayne State College Nordstrand Visual Arts Gallery, located in Peterson Fine Arts Building.

"It's an excellent program that the NATA sponsors and is hosted by each of the higher educational institutions across the state. It encourages students to share their art and represent their art departments to other young artists.

This experience enriches students' opportunities to show and provides an additional educational opportunity for students and the community," said Pearl Hansen, interim fine arts division head at Wayne State College.

Ronald Bernier, director of the Sioux Art Center, served as juror for the show and announced the awards during an opening reception on Feb. 6. Bernier selected a work by Kristine Bachman of the University of Nebraska at Omaha (UNO) as "Best of Show."

"Second Best of Show" honors were awarded to Jacqueline Kluver of UNO. Another UNO student, Carol Smolsky, and Marc Bierbaum of Dana College earned "Honorable Mention." The show's "Student NATA Member Award" winner was Kris Crane of Wayne State College.

Crane is an art education major who plans to graduate in December. She will feature her work in a senior show, Feb. 28 to March 17, in the Nordstrand Visual Arts Gallery.

"The show is a collection of works done while attending Wayne State College. It includes a variety of pieces including pottery, paintings and prints," Crane said.

In addition to the NATA and senior showings, Crane said her work has been featured in student juried shows.

Her WSC activities have included Theta Phi Alpha national sorority, Art Club, National Art Education Association (NAEA), NATA, Greek Council, golf, dean's list, dorm council, intramurals and Communication of Public Relations for Professional Educators of Art. Crane is the daughter of Kathy Harvey of Remsen, Iowa. She and her husband, Scott, have a son and live in Thurston.

Approximately 77 artists from Nebraska colleges and universities submitted 210 works for Bernier to review. He selected the work of 25 student artists to be included in the show.

The Nordstrand Visual Arts Gallery is open Monday through Friday, from 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. when classes are in session. There is no admission charge to view the show. For more information, please call the WSC fine arts division at (402) 375-7359.

Operation Recognition

Planned for the area

OPERATION RECOGNITION was a resounding success for the Nebraska schools and communities that participated in 1999! Nearly 700 veterans of WWII received high school diploma's in ceremonies held all across the state.

OPERATION RECOGNITION exceeded all expectations in terms of participation, public acceptance, publicity and the patriotic enthusiasm it inspired. For these reasons, Gov. Johanns has directed that the program be repeated in 2000.

The Department of Veterans' Affairs is designing a new diploma application form, which they will make available to schools, County Veterans' Service Officers and local veterans organizations.

The completed forms will be sent to Veterans' Affairs for eligibility verification. The cut-off for applications will be Aug. 1, 2000. On Sept. 1, Veterans' Affairs will sort the applications by school district and send each district their corresponding applications. The district will then be responsible to obtain a diploma for each veteran and arrange a presentation ceremony on Veterans Day, another holiday or Graduation Day.

If a veteran selects a school that no longer exists, or one that is not participating in OPERATION RECOGNITION II, Veterans' Affairs will arrange for the Department of Education to produce an "Honorary" Diploma, which will be mailed to the veteran after Sept. 1, 2000. Out-of-state veterans are eligible if they are a former resident of Nebraska.

All eligible veterans are encouraged to receive their diploma at a ceremony held at the school they selected. Those who don't, can pick up their diploma at the school. Every participating school is also encouraged to involve the student body in the graduation ceremony. Based on experience in 1999, it is known that the diploma presentation is enthusiastically supported by the students. The Dept. of Veterans' Affairs will develop a suggested agenda, including speeches for the graduation program and send it to all participating schools.

OPERATION RECOGNITION II is a proven way to honor WWII veterans for the sacrifices they made, to bring positive publicity to local schools and to the surrounding community, and to involve students in a memorable event which shows them the human price that has been paid for their freedom. Support of this endeavor is needed from every school district in Nebraska.

Veterans interested in getting their diplomas through the program should contact Wayne Denklau, Wayne County Service Officer, for an application.

True love waits

Ron Brown, receivers coach for the Nebraska Cornhuskers, was one of the speakers at Sunday's True Love Waits Rally at Wayne State College. More than 1,400 students from as far away as Atkinson, Elgin, Sloux City, Iowa and Yankton, S.D. attended the event.

Relay for Life kick-off has been set for February 29

Have you lost a loved one to cancer or know someone battling the disease? Honor them and their families during the Relay for Life on June 9-10 at the Wayne State Athletic field.

A kick-off to let businesses and individuals know more about the Relay for Life will be held Tuesday, Feb. 29 at 5:30 p.m. at Riley's. The kick-off will last approximately an hour. Snacks will be served and door prizes will be awarded.

On June 9-10, walkers and runners from northeast Nebraska will take part in an around the clock event in the battle against cancer. Sponsors and teams are encouraged to register at the kick-off to participate in the 12-hour relay against cancer.

A meaningful luminaria ceremony to help participants and those attending remember those who've lost the battle against cancer or are still fighting will be held during the June event.

The American Cancer Society's Relay for Life raises money for cancer research, education, prevention programs, and services for cancer patients.

Please 'Leap into Action' and join the fight against cancer by attending the kick-off and becoming a sponsor and/or joining the walk scheduled in June.

Praying For Sick Helps

So says a study by Mid-America Health Institute published in The Archives of Internal Medicine. Health patients were randomly divided into two groups and were not told of the study. In one, patients were prayed for daily by volunteers for four weeks; the other group didn't have anyone assigned to pray for them. Patients who had someone praying for them, even without their knowledge, suffered 10% fewer complications.

BELL TOWER REMOVED

The bell tower now rests on the ground after being removed from the "church house" in Hoskins.

The church was built in 1922 for the Evangelical United Brethren Congregation, and went through several different uses by several owners before being purchased by Tom Cook, who with his family, remodeled the building and reside there.

SENIORS

The Hoskins Senior Citizens met at the Hoskins Community Center on Feb. 8.

Nona Wittler served ice cream bars for her birthday and the group honored her by singing the Birthday song.

Prizes at cards were won by Vera Brogie, Hulda Fuhrman and Elsie Hinzman.

The next get-together will be Tuesday, Feb. 22.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Bill and Hildegarde Fenske were among guests at a birthday party for two-year old Cecilia Wheeler in Omaha at Play Daze on Feb. 10.

Cecilia is the daughter of Jennifer and Dan Wheeler and the great-granddaughter of the Fenskes.

The 'church house' in Hoskins now looks more like a house than a church since the bell tower was recently removed and rests on the ground. The house is home to Tom Cook and his family.

COMMUNITY CALENDAR

Tuesday, Feb. 22: Senior Citizens, at Hoskins Community Center, 1:30 p.m.

Thursday, Feb. 24: Hoskins Garden Club, at the Hoskins Community Center for no-host meeting, 1:30 p.m.

Red Cross provides crisis relief

The American Red Cross has activated its specially trained Aviation Incident Response (AIR) Team to provide emergency relief for the people affected by the Alaska Airlines Flight 261 passenger plane that crashed off the Western Coast of the United States.

Twenty-seven AIR Team members, including six mental health workers, were deployed to support the efforts of dozens of local Red Cross disaster relief volunteers.

Red Cross workers all along the West Coast immediately mobilized to offer emotional support and serve as advocates in helping families get the vital information they need in a protected environment. Red Cross chapters in California, Oregon and Washington each responded immediately and continue to mobilize human and material resources for families in need.

The Federal Response Plan for Aviation Disasters designates the American Red Cross as the lead agency to provide family care and mental health services to victims of air disasters and their families.

The family care and mental health component includes all support services that could help survivors, family members and response workers deal with the trauma and activities that occur following an aviation disaster.

These support services at the Family Assistance Center and the recovery site include:

- *Providing food and shelter
- *Mental health services
- *Spiritual care
- *Health services
- *Childcare

The American Red Cross is dedicated to ensuring the best care and support possible in the immediate aftermath of an aviation disaster for survivors and the families of those on the aircraft.

In addition to these services, childcare and spiritual care have been identified as important needs and the Church of the Brethren has expanded their disaster childcare services to the affected families.

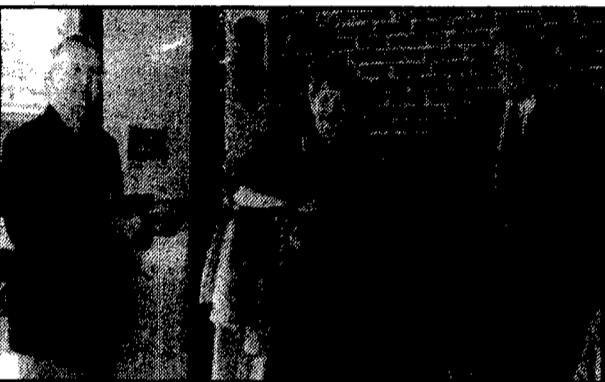

Members of the Spiritual Care Aviation Incident Response Team recruit and coordinate spiritual leaders from the local community and are currently working with specific religious organizations, including the Association of Professional Chaplains, the National Association of Catholic Chaplains and the Association for Clinical Pastoral Education.

These organizations to ensure that families' spiritual needs are being met in accordance with the Aviation Disaster Family Assistance Act of 1996, and the Disaster Services policies, regulations and procedures of the American Red Cross.

The American Red Cross is dedicated to helping make families and communities safer at home and around the world. A volunteer-led humanitarian service organization, the American Red Cross annually provides almost half the nation's blood supply, trains more than 11.7 million people in vital lifesaving skills, mobilizes relief to victims in more than 60,000 disasters nationwide, provides direct health services to 2.8 million people, assists international disaster and conflict victims in nearly 30 countries, and transmits more than 1.4 million emergency messages to members of the U.S. Armed Forces and their families.

If anyone would like to make a contribution to help with the Red Cross response and services being offered to this Alaskan Airlines Flight 261 crash, they may contact the Wayne County Chapter at 112 E. 2nd Street, or call 375-5209. If you want your donation to go directly to this disaster, please indicate "Alaska Airline Disaster" on your check.

Daffodil Days in March

The big day is Sunday, March 5. That's when Mother Nature will be helping the American Cancer Society's Wayne Unit by providing thousands of beautiful yellow daffodils. These flowers of hope will raise money for cancer research, education, and service for local residents.

DAFFODIL D·A·Y·S

Vicky Skokan, Chair of Daffodil Days will be taking donations for these flowers. The daffodils will be in bouquets or in larger quantities through advance orders.

Skokan, Chair of Daffodil Days says, "Putting a breath of spring in your home will help to raise your spirits, and making a donation to the American Cancer Society's Daffodil Days special event will help raise the hopes of many cancer patients and the residents of our community."

For more information on the Wayne Unit's Daffodil Days or to order flowers, call Vicky Skokan at 402-375-3406. Daffodils are $5 a bundle.

The children are holding checks representing the amount of pennies raised by each class.

Charities benefit

Pennies collected by students

As part of their millennium celebration, students at Wayne-Carroll Elementary tried to collect 2000 pennies in each classroom.

The students far exceeded the goal and all together collected 50,807 pennies.

The money will be donated to the following charities: Wayne Food Bank, For the Love of Animals, City Recreation, Wayne Community Theatre, Senior Center, Ronald McDonald House, Salvation Army,

Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Wayne FRIENDS, Headstart, Haven House, Red Cross, Special Olympics, Rainbow Riders, Wayne County

Museum, and Wayne Public Library. The elementary faculty and staff thank all students and families for their support in this project.

Ewing named to honor list

Mary Ewing of Wayne has been named to the honor list for the 1999 fall semester at the University of Missouri-Rolla.

Those on the list carried a minimum of 12 hours and had a grade point average of 3.2 or above out of a possible 4.0.

Ewing is the daughter of David and Donna Ewing of Wayne.

Speech team competes in invitationals

Wayne High School's speech team has competed in two tournaments recently.

At the Fremont Invitational on Jan. 28, speakers and their events were Heather Stauffer and Emily Kinney, serious interpretation; Jessica Agler and Faith Kroeker, humorous interpretation; Emily Brady, poetry; Jodi Stowater and Ann Temme, informative and Mark Finn, Bobby McCue and Katie Straight, entertainment.

Miss Straight was awarded the team's Sweet Success Award for her first varsity superior rating.

The team claimed fourth place honors at the Feb. 12 Hartington Invitational. Additional speakers at this meet were Erin Simpson, persuasive and Jeanne Allemann, poetry.

Six team members received medals. They were Faith Kroeker, second; Jessica Agler, third; Emily Brady, fourth and Katie Straight, Emily Kinney and Ann Temme, seventh.

Team awards included Emily Brady, Sweet Success; Faith Kroeker and Jodi Stowater, Challenge Club; and Emily Kinney, Jessica Agler and Emily Brady, Century Club.

An intrasquad meet will be held Tuesday, Feb. 28 at the high school. The public is invited to attend all or part of the performances between 4 and 7 p.m.

In this competition, the students will compete against one another for total points and medals.

A schedule will be available at the high school office or from Coach Lauren Walton prior to the competition.

Variety of issues discussed

Financial conference held

On Feb. 5, the University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension and Wayne State College held a Money 2000+ Financial Planning Conference at the College Student Center in Wayne. The conference attendance was right at 100 participants. There were 12 sessions held in the areas of wealth building, retirement planning, and personal risk management.

The speakers provided great state and local expertise. Plus, the group enjoyed well known featured speaker Roger Welsch who humored us about "Finances and Life in General".

There are a variety of financial issues that people face today, a booming stock market, easy access to credit, and the likelihood of living to your maximum life span. The financial sessions touched on these issues.

One of the topics relevant to an aging rural population is Social Security and living off the assets a person had accumulated throughout their life time. When a person begins to receive Social Security retirement benefits, the benefits can be subject to taxes as high as 85 percent of the benefit. This tax determination depends upon the individual's or couple's modified adjusted gross income (MAGI).

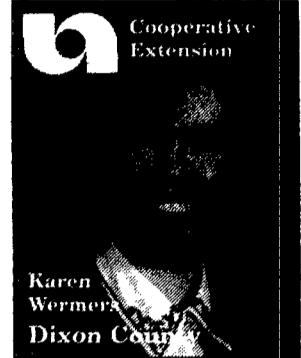

Here are few guidelines:
 The base amount of MAGI is $25,000 for a single person or $32,000 for a married couple filing jointly. If MAGI is below these levels, Social Security is tax-free. If the MAGI is above the base amount, but not above $44,000 (joint return) or $34,000 (single), either 50 percent of the excess over the base amount, or 50 percent of the Social Security benefits, whichever is less, is included as taxable income.

If the MAGI total is above $44,000 (joint return) or $34,000 (single), up to 85 percent of Social Security benefits are included as taxable income. See IRS Publication 915 for more information on the taxation of Social Security benefits.

At the Money 2000+ conference, there was a session held regarding the maximization of retirement programs at and in retirement. This was one of our highest attended sessions. The following examples are cases that you may or may not relate to, but they will be "food for thought."

CASE 1 - Not Withdrawing Enough From An IRA

John and Joan Smith did not want to draw any more than they had to from their IRA in their first retirement year. Although they could have safely withdrawn as much as $35,000 in annual distributions without endangering their savings needed throughout their retirement years, they instead withdrew the minimum they were required to distribute, $15,625. Their thinking was to save paying taxes the next year. They did save taxes for this one year, but they were not planning for paying less taxes over an extended period of time.

The Smith's would have been better off withdrawing a larger amount each year, while keeping their MAGI either below the 50 percent tax level. Their retirement asset would have continued to grow, but so would the required withdrawal amount possibly pushing them into the 50 percent and maybe into the 85 percent tax range depending on their circumstances. Retirees cannot adjust what they receive in Social Security, but they can control how much Social Security they elect to pay taxes on by careful management of IRA distributions.

CASE 2 - Not Controlling Social Security Taxes and Retirement Distributions to Last a Lifetime

Henry and Mary Jones had the opposite problem of the Smiths'. They took $25,000 in an annual distribution from their IRA account worth $250,000. The $25,000 and Social Security benefits put their MAGI into the 50 percent tax level for $6,050. In addition, they were depleting their $250,000 retirement nest egg. They would need to adjust their life style now to maintain the same life style in later years.

Some Basic IRA Distribution Rules

There is no penalty to take an IRA distribution after age 59.

At age 70, an IRA beneficiary must begin taking distributions from an IRA or face a penalty. The minimum amount that must be withdrawn in the first and all subsequent years is determined by taking the year-end market value from the prior year and dividing it by a life expectancy factor from an IRA chart.

If you take out less than the minimum, a 50 percent tax penalty is imposed. A beneficiary can take out any amount that exceeds the minimum, but subject to income taxes.

SUMMARY

To fully evaluate the impact of a particular distribution strategy on your Social Security lifetime tax bill, it is necessary to project your income and portfolio performance for an extended period of time of 15 years or more. Consult with one or more tax advisors to consider your best options.

Gift is given to St. Mary's from estate

St. Mary's Elementary School was the recipient of a $49,400 contribution to its Educational Endowment Fund from the estate of Fred A. Webber.

Webber was one of the Charter members of the Educational Endowment Fund when it was started in 1984, by the late Father James Buschelman.

Members of the current Board of Directors of the Educational Endowment Fund, St. Mary's Board of Education and the Parish Council gathered Feb. 6 for a dinner social to thank the Webber family for this generous donation.

Mrs. Connie Webber, Fred's wife, said that religious education was very important to Fred. The couple's children, Susan and Steve, attended St. Mary's Elementary School and took part in the 7-12 grade Religious Education Program.

"Since our family was blessed in our lives, this was one way we could say 'thank you' to St. Mary's Parish by supporting the five-day school which provides an opportunity for a Catholic education in the community and Religious Education Program," Mrs. Webber said.

Since its establishment in 1984, the Educational Endowment Fund has grown to over $150,000.

Carroll St. Paul Ladies Aid discusses upcoming events

The Carroll Ladies Aid and LWML met Feb. 8 with seven members and Pastor Engebretsen present.

The meeting opened with the League Pledge. The Bible Study, "An Ever-Living Faith," was led by the Pastor.

A monetary gift is to be sent to KTIV in Sioux City, Iowa for an Easter Message sponsored by the Missouri Synod.

The District LWML is to be held at the Lutheran High School in Norfolk June 23-24.

The Spring workshop will be held at Immanuel Lutheran in Laurel on March 25. It will be a Saturday Brunch with registration at 9 a.m. with the workshop from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. The theme is "Taking Care of Business — Our Children."

The annual Bake Sale will be held Sunday, March 12 in conjunction with the Firemen's Breakfast. The bake sale will be sponsored by the Lutheran Brotherhood #8212.

HYMN'S and HAW'S and Pat Sprague's Words of Wisdom were presented by the Christian Growth Leader.

UMW holds brunch with 35 members

Thirty-five members met Feb. 12 for the monthly United Methodist Women meeting. The Saturday morning group hosted a brunch.

Marj Porter offered a Missionary moment and a prayer. Each member brought an item for the Food Pantry. Each person then stood and was recognized.

The meeting was conducted by President Helen Rose. All correspondence was acknowledged.

A past president's pin was presented to former president Hallie Sherry for her two years of service. Making the presentation was Doris Stupp.

Pearla Benjamin handed out new program books she had made up.

The birthdays of Pearla Benjamin, Marj Porter, Verna Rees and Darlene Dolph were acknowledged.

Prayers were offered for Nicki Tiedtke, Alice Wagner, Donna Shufelt, Ruth Reed, Orville Brandstetter, Joy Gettman, Melva Wait, Bob Merchant and the family of Shirley Brockman.

Hallie Sherry and Helen Rose displayed several books from the church library. Hallie gave a short report on "Women of the Bible" and recommended the book, "Essential Grandparent." Everyone was urged to belong to the Reading Program.

Marj Porter reported that four quilts were finished to be sent to Quilts for Missions.

Mona Claybaugh spoke on the usefulness of the Unicameral magazine and its articles on the bills being introduced for the protection of juveniles.

Two electric roasters, two dozen glasses and some tote trays will be purchased for the kitchen. Two dozen glasses were donated by Mary Nichols. Joyce Niemann donated a large roll of Saran Wrap.

A letter received from the Nebraska Church Conference asked each church to nominate a Lay lady who has made a great contribution to the church over the years. A short narrative should be written and sent by sealed envelope to Norma before June 1.

A Christmas Fair Chairman is needed.

The next Church Women United meeting will be held at the First Baptist Church on Friday, March 3 at 1:30 p.m.

The committee for the brunch were Kyle Rose and Megan Rose, Nancy Sorensen and Phyllis Spethman.

The meeting was closed by all repeating the Lords Prayer.

Engagements

Koch — Sharpe

Tina Koch of Jackson and Craig Sharpe of Wayne are planning an April 29, 2000 wedding in Bow Valley.

The bride-to-be is the daughter of Randy and Mary Lee Koch of Hartington. She graduated from Wayne State College in 1999 and is currently a Special Education teacher for South Sioux City Public Schools.

Her fiance is the son of Bill and Jerry Sharpe of Wayne. He graduated from Wayne State College and attended Wayne State College for two years. He is currently a dispatcher at Sonlite Express in Laurel and owner of CBS Trucking.

Mary Davis presides over Carroll UMW

Vice President Mary Davis presided over the Feb. 9 meeting of Carroll United Methodist Women and opened the meeting with the group reading "The Purpose."

Roll call was answered by 11 members.

Anna Johnson reported on sending a get-well card to Alice Mohr. Cards were signed for Abbie and Hannah Kenny and Austin Fernau for surgeries and Josh Harmer for his elbow injury. A card was also to Clara Rethwisch for her birthday.

Doris Harmer purchased two, 30 cup coffee pots and a 12 cup coffee maker as a memorial to her mother, Babe Bowers.

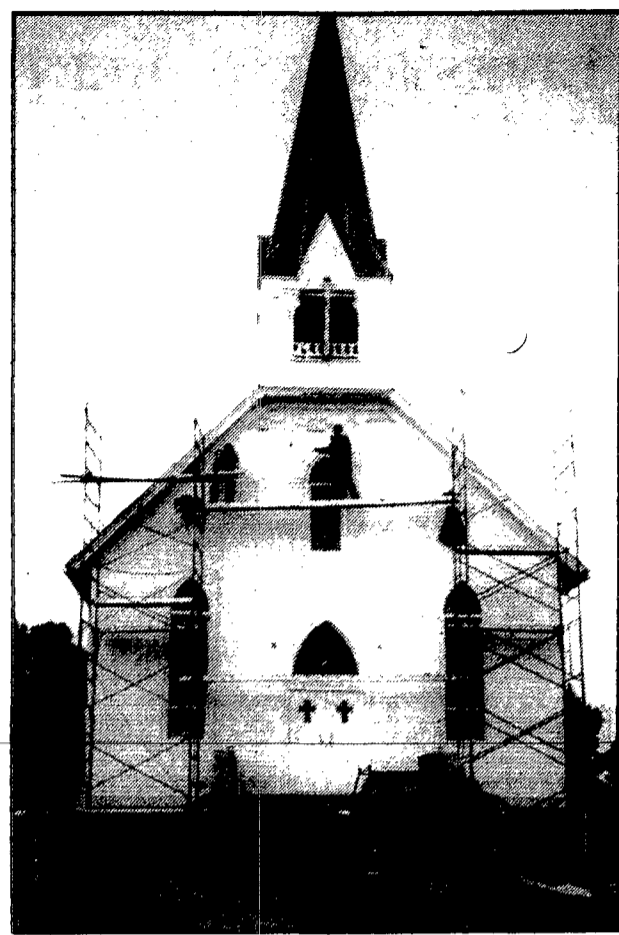

A Bible Study was scheduled for Feb. 15 at the Winside Methodist church. The Carroll women were to finish salads and desserts.

The group's rummage sale will be held Thursday and Friday, April 27-28. The August sale will be Aug. 24-25.

Mary Lou Couster will come to the April 12 meeting to visit the unit.

In March Virginia Rethwisch will give the lesson (she has asked that each member bring along a pair of shoes or overshoes) and Joyce Sandahl will serve the lunch.

Joyce Harmeier presented the lesson, "Who Touched Me? Whom did I touch in Jesus's Name?" She also served lunch.

Face lift

The front side of Immanuel Lutheran Church of rural Wakefield received new siding last week. Crews from Lindner Construction are in charge of the project. Members of the congregation have plans to side the rest of the building in the future. Work will also be done on the bell tower of the church which is more than 100 years old.

Carol Rethwisch conducts meeting for Evening Circle

President-elect Carol Rethwisch conducted the Feb. 8 meeting of the Grace Lutheran Evening Circle.

Christian Growth Leader Lanora Sorensen read "True Love" from the book, "Women of the Bible." Each member read selected passages on Love.

Carol Rethwisch read a letter from Kim Kantu thanking Grace Evening Circle for their continued support.

Mission Service Chairperson Lee Larson told about the mission project being sponsored by the Orphan Grain Train on building round houses for the flood victims in Central America.

Carol Rethwisch also gave a brief report from the Zone Rally. The theme for the District Convention to be held June 23-24 will be "Soar on Wings Like Eagles." The spring workshop will be held Saturday, March 25 at Immanuel in Laurel.

Mites were collected and the meeting was closed with The Lord's Prayer.

Pastor Anderson gave the lesson from the Quarterly titled, "Leaving a Legacy Through Prayer." Janet Casey was hostess.

The next meeting will be Tuesday, March 14.

Birthday to be celebrated

Norman H. Deck of Norfolk, formerly of Hoskins, will celebrate his 80th birthday with an open house on Saturday, Feb. 26.

The event will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Christ Lutheran Church Social Room, 605 South Fifth Street in Norfolk.

Hosting the event will be Norman's wife, Fern and his children, Karolyn and Charlie Slahn of Norfolk and Rodger and Betty Deck of Crawfordsville, Ind. He has five grandchildren and one great-granddaughter.

Just a few more things about our fiftieth state

We're having a wedding at the Farm House at 4 p.m. today, so I get to try out the new coffee service I received from the Big Farmer. Actually, I have a lot to do yet, but I'm taking a break to get this, and my valentines, in the mail.

Before I leave the subject of Hawaii, I want to tell you a few more things. Farm Bureau designated Feb. 9 as a day to talk about the price of groceries. I vowed I wouldn't complain after returning from Germany, and I haven't. Americans spend about 10 percent of their income on groceries. And for that, we get nutrition, convenience, variety, freshness; all of it.

Coffee in a restaurant in Deutschland was $2.50, and it was not a mug. All foreign countries spend much more on food than we do.

Coffee in our fiftieth state runs $1.50, and they raise it there. There are a few dairies, and milk is $5 a gallon. The Parker Ranch has ideal stock cow conditions, but very little grain, so ships the animals to the mainland to fatten and process. This makes meat expensive.

Everything else, except for pineapple, is flown in. This makes all food, and hygiene items, expensive.

They used to raise lots of sugarcane, but cost of labor got too high. They are affected by our minimum wage laws, too, and rightfully so. But labor in Brazil is far cheaper. The sugar companies simply pulled out, leaving machinery, land, refuse, etc. There oughta be a law!

Coffee trees are picked five times a season, by hand. Only the red beans are used, and they ripen unevenly. Pineapple is planted by hand, and picked that way. Something a lot of land is being converted to is macadamia nut trees. They are picked after falling to the ground, so you either stoop over or slide on your hands and knees. We all loved the chocolate-covered macadamia nut candy. Obviously, it's expensive.

Of course, there is lots of fish. But fuel for boats is expensive. On the western side of the Big Island, gas was $1.75.

Land for homes is scarce. What we would pay $75,000 for here in a house, brings $200,000 there, because of the land!

Of course, they don't have heat-

Nebraska teachers want higher salaries

By Roy Frederick
Public Policy Specialist
Department of Agricultural Economics
University of Nebraska-Lincoln

Good teachers are revered by large numbers of Nebraskans. In chorus-like fashion, we say that our schools are the key to the state's future. Everyone wants the best for Nebraska's youth.

Teachers, however, say that verbal praise isn't enough. They want higher salaries to back up the apparent worthiness of the teaching profession. But here the public squirms: More money for teachers means higher taxes. It's a classic case of collectively putting our money where our mouth is.

According to the Nebraska State Education Association (NSEA), the average salary for a Nebraska kindergarten through 12th grade public school teacher was $33,400 in 1998-99. This compared to a national average of $40,462. Nebraska ranked 41st among the 50 states and the District of Columbia.

To bring Nebraska up to the national average, the NSEA proposes increased annual spending of $420 million, spread over three years. In relative terms, this would increase teachers' salaries by 24 percent. Overall costs in a typical school district probably would increase by about 20 percent. Increased costs would be paid for by higher sales and income taxes.

The price tag of the NSEA proposal apparently is too high for many members of the Nebraska Legislature. A more modest proposal, Legislative Bill 1397, has been introduced that would provide $145 million over three years. This would bring Nebraska teachers' salaries up to the average of the six surrounding states. Whether even this more modest proposal will pass is, of course, still unknown. However, here are some of the debating points that are likely to surface on the floor of the legislature:

Proponents will say:

- Nebraska teachers' salaries must be competitive with other states because it's easy for teachers to cross state lines for higher pay. Those in other professions or businesses cannot move as easily.

- To assure a future supply of teachers, salaries must be competitive with other professions. For most young people, potential income is a factor in making a career choice.
- Some teachers must find second jobs to support their families. This takes away from the time they could otherwise direct to teaching.
- Opponents will say:
- It's not just the salary that matters. The cost of living is equally important, and Nebraska's is less than many other states.

- Nebraska teachers must consider benefits as well as salaries. Comparisons with other states' teachers and with other professions in Nebraska are more favorable when benefits are included.
- Nebraska has relatively smaller numbers of students per teacher. Increasing the number of students per teacher may be important to reducing costs.
- Pro or con, now is the time to make your views known to your representative in the legislature.

Weather topic of meeting

Anyone interested in how weather may affect the 2000 growing season are encouraged to attend an informational meeting on Wednesday, March 1 at 2 p.m. at the Haskell Agricultural Laboratory near Concord.

Brian Bledsoe, meteorologist for KMEG television will discuss key weather indicators for short and long range predictions. He holds a bachelors' degree in meteorology and is especially interested in the effects of weather and climate on agriculture.

University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension and Farm Service Agency staff will also discuss options for producers if dry weather continues.

There is no fee to attend the meeting. For more information, please call the Dixon County Extension office at (402) 584-2234.

Wayne, Dixon county Fun Day planned

All 4-H'ers and family members in Wayne and Dixon Counties are invited to attend the 4-H Fun Day, which will be held at the Wayne State College Recreation Center on Sunday, Feb. 27 from 2 to 4:30 p.m.

Cost per individual is $3, which will allow 4-H'ers to use the basketball and volleyball courts and the swimming pool.

Parents and leaders who would like to help supervise during the afternoon are asked to call the Extension Office by Wednesday, Feb. 23 at (402) 375-3310.

NORFOLK Each year the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District makes available low-cost tree and shrub seedlings to landowners through their conservation tree program.

The state of Nebraska has a long history of encouraging landowners to plant trees. Early programs encouraged landowners to plant trees by offering real estate tax relief through exemptions on forested acres. Other programs such as the Timber Culture Act of 1873 provided additional land for settlers that planted trees.

The Federal Government established the Prairie States Forestry Project in 1934 as a response to the "Dust Bowl." The purpose of this program was to "plant shelterbelts on the Great Plains, to an extent and degree sufficient to have some measurable effect on the physical conditions of the area." The goal of this project was to plant trees to ease drought conditions, protect soil, crops, and livestock, and provide useful employment for drought-stricken people. This was the largest single tree planting program in the history of our nation. It was responsible for planting many of the windbreaks that some of us still enjoy today. It also reinforced with many Nebraskans their longstanding commitment to planting trees. Which shows in the many new windbreaks that are planted each year.

Our present-day Conservation Tree Program has its roots in the Clarke-McNary Act of 1924. The Federal Government, trying to encourage tree planting for conservation purposes, passed into law the Clarke-McNary Act. The Clarke-McNary Act allowed states to sell tree seedlings and seed for conservation purposes either at or below the cost of production. This program would then directly reimburse states for up to 50 percent of their losses for operating a Conservation Tree Program. Although, the Federal Government repealed the Clarke-McNary Act in 1978, Nebraska, like many other states, continues to provide low-cost tree and shrub seedlings for conservation practices through the conservation Tree Program.

The Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District's Conservation Tree Program offers a variety of services to landowners interested in planting windbreaks, woodlots, or improving wildlife habitat on their property. These include the sale of conservation tree and shrub seedlings, tree planting service, chemical weed control services, weed barrier mats, and water conservation mulch and installation. The cost of these services are as follows:

- Tree and Shrub Seedlings - $0.50/seedlings
- Seedlings are sold in bundles of 25 by species ($12.50 for 25 seedlings)
- Tree Planting Services by NRD Contractors
 - Machine planting service - $0.30/seedling
 - There is a minimum planting charge of $100.00 per project
 - Hand planting service - $0.45/seedling
 - There is a minimum planting charge of $150.00 per project
- Chemical Weed control by NRD Contractor - $2.00/100 linear feet of tree planting row
- The NRD offers the chemical weed control service as a part of their tree planting service
- Water Conservation Mulch - $0.30/linear feet
 - Installation by NRD Contractor costs an additional $0.20/linear foot
 - Minimum order of 300' feet with mulch sold in either 300' or 500' foot lengths
- Weed Barrier Mats - $1.00/mat
- Landowners must order weed barrier mats in lots of 25 ($25.00 for 25 mats)
- The NRD does not offer an installation service for the mats

Last year the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District sold more than 144,000 tree and shrub seedlings to nearly 800 landowners throughout the district for conservation purposes. According to NRD Forester, John DuPlissis, "The conservation tree program is an important part of the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District's commitment to the conservation and land stewardship. Through this and other programs we work with landowners to promote the wise use of our natural resources."

He added, "However, for our efforts to be successful we need landowners who are willing to plant trees. Trees that will benefit both this generation and those to come. Plan a tree, if not for yourself then for your children. Our parents and grandparents did it for us. Just take a look around and see."

For more information on the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District's conservation tree program or if you need assistance with designing a conservation tree planting project, stop by our office or contact your county Natural Resources Conservation Service office. Stop by today.

Family business transfer timely process

One of the most important parts of a family business also is the least tangible -- and that can create great challenges when transferring the operation to a new generation.

Management is more nebulous than either assets or income, says Deb Rood, program coordinator for the University of Nebraska-Lincoln's Department of Agricultural Economics.

That's because personality and emotions are a part of any management team. However, the stakes may be higher for farmers and ranchers because they have so much invested in themselves and their assets: traditionally they are independent and their livelihood is their way of life, in addition to the business.

"When you have spent a lifetime building a business it can be difficult for parents to let go," Rood said. "But it is just as difficult for the next generation to not have a say in their future."

A transition plan helps the older generation unhook and helps the younger generation learn and commit to the business, Rood said. This four-stage plan can ease turning the responsibility of the decision making over to the next generation. The stages are:

- Testing. This stage helps both parents and children decide if they can work together.
- Commitment. This stage brings the younger generation's management and personal property into the operation.
- Establishment. At this point both parents and children are fully engaged in farming and the management can be turned over to the next generation.
- Withdrawal. This phase has the older generation stepping out of the day-to-day activities and into retirement.

Parents need to be open to new ideas and new ways of doing things, Rood noted. Just because "I've always done it that way" doesn't mean there aren't other ways to do accomplish a task, she said.

Parents also need to forgive past mistakes and forget the times when a gate was left open or a tank ran over. They must realize their children now are responsible adults.

These factors are key in working with family members or any business team:

- Mutual respect. Everyone must have mutual respect for the others and recognize that many skills are needed to make a good team, and each person has something to contribute.
- Acknowledge roles. Each person must know where he or she fits in.
- Clear understanding of responsibilities. Each person needs to know what he or she is responsible for now and in the future. Such responsibility and understanding gives people directions and a chance to think creatively. Children without responsibilities can never learn to make decisions.
- Sense of accomplishment. When a goal is achieved, everyone needs to feel they helped contribute to the cause. People stay when they feel they are needed and valued.
- Sense of equality. It is important for every person to have a voice and a fair chance to speak. The feeling of not having any say is one of the top stresses in work.
- Resolving differences. The business must have a regularly scheduled time to meet and talk about decisions. The time must not interfere with mealtimes or family gatherings.

- Training and skills. Everyone needs to continue growing in their part of the job and learn new skills.
- Get away. Parents need to get away for a week or two and let the younger generation be responsible for the operation. This demonstrates parents trust their children with the operation, and allows the children to make needed decisions.
- Work elsewhere. Children should work for someone else for a year or two if planning to come back to the family business. This helps expand their viewpoints of how things can be looked at and accomplished.

These ideas were presented during a Returning to the Farm workshop, sponsored by Cooperative Extension in NU's Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources. The workshops are offered annually in December and January.

Other factors to consider when transferring a business ownership are tax and income consequences. For more information on these aspects, contact Dave Goeller, NU beginning farmer program coordinator, at (402)472-0661.

CITY SLICKERS AND COUNTRY MIXERS 4-H CLUB

The City Slickers and Country Mixers 4-H Club met Feb. 6 at Bank of Norfolk with eight members present.

President Erin Jarvi called the meeting to order. Enrollment forms have been turned in and project manuals are ordered. Initiation for two new members was held.

The newsletter items of interest were mentioned.

After the meeting was adjourned, the group made tray favors for the hospital and Meals on Wheels.

The next meeting will be held

Sunday, March 19 at 3 p.m. at the Bank of Norfolk.

Max Kant has joined Producers Livestock Marketing Association

Max Kant Winside has joined Producers Livestock Marketing Association (PLMA) as the new beef marketing agent in northeast Nebraska to replace Terry Jones.

The announcement was made by Rick Keith, President of PLMA. Kant began his duties Feb. 14.

Kant has also gained experience in fat cattle sales through his father, Gary Kant, who has been in the business for 20 years, buying for Monfort. He is also experienced with future trading and hedging.

Max and his wife Ann live on a farm south of Winside with their two children, Myles, 4, and Jacey, 2.

Kant will be aided in the northeast Nebraska area by three other Producers Livestock beef marketing agents, Matt Sommers, Steve Maloley and Dennis Thoreson.

Producers Livestock Marketing Association is a user-owned cooperative providing marketing services, commodity services and financial services. Producers is headquartered in Omaha and has representatives located throughout the Nebraska, Iowa, South Dakota, Minnesota and Missouri region.

Six members of the Winside United Methodist Church Women's group met Feb. 8 with President Helen Holtgrew presiding.

New year books were handed out and dues were collected. A thank you was received for serving the executive officers dinner. The June annual conference was discussed.

A Bible study will be held Feb. 15 with the Carroll church. Guest day will be the second Tuesday in April. Daffodil Sunday will be March 5. Anyone wanting to order some should call Helen Holtgrew as soon as possible.

Bonnie Wylie gave the lesson and Helen Holtgrew was hostess.

The next meeting will be March 14 with Mary Weible as hostess and Audrey Quinn as lesson leader.

SENIORS

Twenty Winside area Senior Citizens met on Feb. 7 for a noon pot luck dinner. Cards were played afterwards.

The next meeting will be Monday, Feb. 21 at 2 p.m. at the Legion Post. All seniors are invited to attend.

HEALTHY LIFESTYLE

Members of the Healthy Lifestyle Club met Feb. 7 for their weekly meeting. The bingo contest was updated. HLC is a support group for individuals wanting to lose weight in a healthy manner.

Meetings are every Monday in the Winside auditorium kitchen at 5 p.m. Guests and new members are always welcome.

TOWN AND COUNTRY

Esther Carlson hosted the Feb. 8 Town and Country Club with Judy Jacobsen as a guest. Prizes went to Marilyn Morse, Bonnie Frevort, and Loretta Voss.

The next meeting will be March 14 at Marilyn Morse's.

BRIDGE

Mr. and Mrs. George Voss hosted the Feb. 8 Tuesday Night Bridge Club with Mr. and Mrs. Don Weible as guests. Prizes went to Don Wacker and Butch Weible.

The next meeting will be March 14 at the Norman Peters home in Pierce.

County officials attend workshop

Bob Nissen and Myron Miller, Wayne County Commissioners completed a three-day workshop conducted in Kearney Feb. 9-11 by the Nebraska Association of County Officials.

The 22nd annual County Board Workshop, part of a continuing education and leadership development series, provided county commissioners and supervisors with other 12 hours of specialized training. More than 225 local officials from across the state participated in the event, according to NACO Executive Director Jack D. Mills.

Among topics addresses were effective communication skills, compliance with levy limitations, the role counties have in the state's integrated highway and road system and the property assessment, valuation and equalization process.

The workshop also provided those in attendance with a review of some of the proposals currently being considered by the Nebraska Legislature.

Other factors to consider when transferring a business ownership are tax and income consequences. For more information on these aspects, contact Dave Goeller, NU beginning farmer program coordinator, at (402)472-0661.

The winners of five automatic car wash tokens from the Wayne Super Wash are: Melissa Abernathy, Morris Backstrom, Chad Carlson, Merle Carson, Wyatt Erwin, Robin Keenan, Betty Mitchell, Jeremiah Moore, Darrel Rahn, and Frank Teach.

The Grand Prize winner of $5,000 in cash was from Monmouth, Ill. The three vacation winners were from Watseka, Ill, Yankton, SD, and Butler, Ind.

The Watseka and Butler winners chose the $2,000 cash instead of the vacation. The (30) $1,000 cash winners were from Kearney, Marysville, Kan., Merrill, Wis., Nashville, Tenn.; Kaysville and Centerville, both in Utah; Bluffton, Lima, and Sylvania, all in Ohio; Shelbyville, Tell City, Corydon, and Brownstown, all in Indiana; Storm Lake, Coralville, Sioux City, and Knoxville, all in Iowa; Crete, Shorewood, Manteno, Pana, Jerseyville, Havana, Bloomington, Normal, Harvard, Morris, Olney, Aroma Park, and Rock Falls, all in Illinois.

The holiday giveaway is an annual event sponsored by Super Wash, Inc. and participating Super Wash owners.

Other factors to consider when transferring a business ownership are tax and income consequences. For more information on these aspects, contact Dave Goeller, NU beginning farmer program coordinator, at (402)472-0661.

Beef weigh-in dates told

Weigh in and tagging day for Wayne County 4-H Market Beef animals is set for Saturday, Feb. 26 from 9 to 11 a.m. at the Wayne Vet Clinic east of Wayne.

All market beef that will be shown at the county fair, state fair or Ak-

Sar-Ben must be weighed and nose printed on Feb. 26.

To be eligible to participate in the rate of gain contest at the fair, beef animals must be weighed in the county where the 4-H member is enrolled and the animal will be shown. Ear tags will be available at a cost of 75¢ each.

Wayne County 4-H'ers enrolled in the pen of three market beef project also need to bring their animals to be weighed and tagged.

Questions can be directed to the Wayne County Extension office at (402) 375-3310.

PURCHASES FUNERAL HOME

Steve and May Munderloh have purchased the funeral home in Wakefield from Gene Humlicek. Steve has been associated with his parents, Dennis and Georgia Munderloh, in operating a satellite home at Emerson for Munderloh Funeral Home of Pender.

Steve and Amy said they will be moving to Wakefield in the near future. The couple also said the funeral home will be known as Bressler-Munderloh and will continue to have the same phone number.

Steve graduated from high school at Pender in 1991 and from Nebraska Wesleyan University in 1995. He then went to a college of mortician science in Kansas City. Following his graduation, Steve worked for a funeral home in Omaha and the past two and one half years has been associated with his parents.

The senior Munderlohs have operated the funeral home in Pender since 1966.

Amy is a senior at Midland Lutheran College in Fremont. She plans to receive her degree in sociology in May. She is originally from Emerson and graduated from high school there in 1996. Her maiden name was Steele.

They said they are pleased to be moving to Wakefield and to be able to serve the Wakefield community and surrounding area.

PLAYGROUND EQUIPMENT

The Wakefield Community Foundation has set playground safety as its primary goal for 1999-2000. By the end of the summer of 2000, the Foundation working with the Playground Committee, will update the equipment at the Wakefield Community School and Graves memorial Park.

The Foundation joined forces with Wakefield Community Club to spearhead the project in the park. The Foundation is working through Paul Eaton and the playground committee at the school (including a working group of students). Several fundraising events have already taken place. The fifth graders at the school continue to collect boxtops from General Mills products which will be used for the playground. Many people from all of these different groups are volunteering their time to improve safety for the children of Wakefield.

One phase of the project will take place at Graves Memorial Park on the northwest edge of town. The committee is planning to place a $50,000 structure near the pool.

A second phase will take place in the area of the T-ball field with approximately $20,000 a unit for small children. This addition will provide age appropriate equipment for small children while their older siblings are playing in the ball fields and their parents are watching.

A third phase will improve and update the existing equipment at the Wakefield Community School. Added to the school's equipment will be around $50,000 of improvements including a multipurpose structure, sports courts and appropriate surfacing.

The Playground Committee is calling for donations. Donations to the project can be dropped off at Nebraska State Bank to the attention of Mark Demke, treasurer of the Wakefield Community Foundation.

Also important to the effort is the commitment of volunteers to help ready the ground and install the equipment this spring and summer. If you are interested in volunteering to help with the project, please call Laura Knox at 287-9980.

EARN TRIP

Liza Gaciano and Kasci Scott have earned a trip to compete in the State Family Career and Community Leaders of America (FCCLA) Contest in April. With their presentation on Entrepreneurship, the pair received the top superior rating at the District STAR event at Wayne State College on Jan. 26.

Also representing the Wakefield FCCLA Chapter were Randi Barge, Jennifer Jaeger, Andrea Lueth, Amy Leonard, Melissa Moody, Nikki Kay and Brittany Peters.

Randi Barge received an excellent rating in the Junior Parliamentary Pro competition.

Brittany Peters, Amy Leonard, Melissa Moody, Andrea Lueth, Nikki Kay and Jennifer Jaeger received a superior in the Senior Parliamentary demonstration.

The STAR (Students Taking Action with Recognition) events encourage active participation and emphasizes the positive accomplishments of FCCLA members. The objective is to assist students in developing leadership, citizenship and occupational knowledge and skills for personal, family and community living through Family and Consumer Science education.

ON UNK DEAN'S LIST

The University of Nebraska Kearney recently announced the names of students who earned a place on the Dean's list for the fall semester.

Katie Hoffman, daughter of Terry and Bonnie Hoffman of Wakefield is among the honorees. She is a freshman at UNK.

To earn a place on the Dean's list at UNK a student must compete at least 17 hours with a grade point average of 3.5 or better.

BUYS PLANNER

The Wakefield Community School's Industrial Technology program is the recipient of a $3,500 at the Center Grant. The grant was written to facilitate the purchase of a new Delta 20 inch surface planer.

A planer is used to mill wood to a preferred thickness.

A surface planer of this sort was not available to student, hobbyist or crafters in the Wakefield community. The focus of the grant and one reason it was issued, Daryl Harrison said, was to allow community members to benefit from its use.

Therefore, hobbyist and crafters are invited to stop by anytime during the school day to have wood prepared to a specific thickness for their projects.

Anyone with questions about community use of having wood planed should contact Mr. Harrison at the school.

TICKETS FOR BARN AVAILABLE

The Vocational-Industrial Club of America (VICA) has another yard barn constructed. Members of the club are currently selling tickets and the barn will be given away on Feb. 18.

Tickets will be available at the Lions Club Pancake Feed and until half time at the boys basketball games with Homer that night. Announcement of the winner will be made at halftime of the varsity contest.

This barn is similar to the one the students built last fall and gave away just before Christmas. Funds from the sale of tickets for the barn helped to purchase a new Makita 10 inch sliding miter saw.

INVITES NEW MEMBERS

The Wakefield Community Club is currently renewing memberships and also welcomes new members interested in promoting the community Major project of the club at this time is fundraising for new playground equipment for Graves Park. The venture is a joint one with the Wakefield Community Foundation to also place new playground equipment at the school.

A Memberships is a $30 or more donation for individuals and a $60 or more donation for businesses. Community Club meets monthly on the second Thursday, usually at the Senior Center, but sometimes at an alternate site announced by the club.

Meetings last around an hour and include updates form various organizations and planning of upcoming events, such as the Teacher's Appreciation Ice Cream Social on March 6.

DAFFODIL SUNDAY

Daffodil Sunday is a very special event representing hope in the fight against cancer. Purchasing daffodils in memory of loved ones is what makes it special.

A Daffodil Day was originally initiated by the American Cancer Society in 1970. Several million flowers are distributed by the American Cancer Society in early March every year throughout the United States. The daffodil has been chosen as a symbol of hope-hope for a world free of cancer in our lifetime.

The contributions greatly aid the programs of research, education and service to cancer patients. In 1999 in Dixon County, 5,000 daffodils were purchased, raising $2,500 for the American Cancer Society.

Daffodils can be purchased at all Wakefield churches. They are $5 a bunch or a donation. Orders will be taken from Feb. 6 to Feb. 20 and will be delivered to your church for Daffodil Sunday, March 5. Orders may also be placed with Betty Swarten at 287-2815 or Theresa Soderberg at 287-2731.

SCHOLARSHIP

Interested students are encouraged to apply for the Nuernberger Scholarship. The scholarship is worth $4,000 over a two year period.

Any high school graduate or graduating senior who has been employed at least one year at the Wakefield Health Care Center is eligible. Persons who have worked at the Care Center in the past and have applied for the Nuernberger Scholarship, but did not receive it, are also encouraged to re-apply. There is no requirement that studies or major be in a health related field.

For an application form or more information, please contact the business office at the Wakefield Health Care Center at 306 Ash Street.

STUDENT OF THE QUARTER

Brian Mattes of Wakefield was recently selected as "Student of the Quarter" for the Automotive Technology program at Southeast Community College, Millford Campus. Brian is a Wakefield High School graduate and is the son of Bill and Sondra Mattes.

The intent of the award is to recognize and honor students who make an effort to excel academically and to improve their job skills while attending Southeast. Students receiving the honor must have a grade point average of 3.0 or higher.

GENERAL MEETING

The Wakefield Health Care Center Auxiliary held their first general meeting of the year on Feb. 2. Twenty-five members were present, as well as one guest and one honorary member.

Terry Hoffman, administrator of the Care Center, presented the plans of the new addition. Work has been progressing well. Brick work and shingling is being completed. Electricians and those working on lumber are completing their work indoors.

It is hoped that Phase I of the project will be completed by July. At that time, 12 nursing home residents will be transferred to assisted living rooms.

Phase II will consist of remodeling some of the present area of dining, therapy, four more living rooms and other needs. Eventually, there will be 16 assisted living units and 49 beds for nursing home care. The Ash Street Apartments remain at six units.

The new van has been ordered with 40 percent of the cash from Auxiliary fundraising. Sixty percent of the cost is from federal grant money. When it arrives, it will be made available to people in the community who need handicap accessibility.

The AHCC Auxiliary Scholarship statement was read for approval of members and to clarify who is eligible to apply for the scholarship.

The Staff Appreciation Tea will be Feb. 16 at 3 p.m. in the West Lobby. Hostesses for lunch were Pat Lunz, Helen Muller and Suzanne Nelson.

GRANDDAUGHTER-BAPTIZED

Katherine Grace Kelley, daughter of Kevin and Kelly (Greve) Kelley of Batavia, Ohio, was baptized at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Wayne on Feb. 6.

Following the rites, guests in the Merlin and Faye Greve home, grandparents of Katherine, were the honorees parents and brother Patrick, grandparents Tom and Jane Kelley of Batavia; aunts and uncles, Keith Kelley of Destin, Fla., Bill and Kim Wigham and family of Dallas, Tex.; Tom and Kim Preston and Kevin and Stephanie Greve and families, all of Omaha; Great grandparents Mick and Morris Thomsen of Wakefield and Father Jim McCluskey of Wayne.

DONATE BOOKS

The National Honor Society Chapter of Wakefield Community School recently donated $150 worth of books to the school library. The books are for elementary level readers.

Members of the National Honor Society donating the books were Kristin Brudigan, Lacey Brown, and Lisa Potter. Librarian is Jeaneen Kindschuh.

RETURNS FROM VACATION

Walter and Dorothy Hale returned Feb. 8 from a three work vacation.

They visited two former Allen residents Boyd and LeVata Isom in Aoacke, Ill and Junior and Shirley Oshara in Mission, Texas.

They visited former Wakefield residents Jerry and Sally Groves in Tucson.

They went to Quartzsite, Ariz., where they visited Kenneth and Doris Linafelter of Allen and John and Jean Ralph of Romma, Calif. Doris and Jean are cousins of Walter's.

They stopped at Dorothy's brother Pat Young in Canyon, Texas.

Clean cat

This eight month-old kitten, known as "Vulture" disproves the theory that cats are afraid of water. Previous to her spending time in the washer, she was found in the shower (with water running). She also routinely drinks from a water faucet and was once nearly flushed down the toilet when she tried to get a drink.

Members have training

Officers and members of the Main Street Wayne attended quarterly training for Nebraska Main Street volunteers at Bellevue on Feb. 3-4.
 Fifty-two people, representing 17 Main Street and potential Main Street communities attended the training sessions held at the Student Center of Bellevue University.
 Training on the first day covered Economic Restructuring and Promotion and these sessions were attended by Jack Middendorf, local chair of Economic Restructuring and Tony Kochenash, Chair of Promotion.
 In addition, Middendorf and Kochenash attended the quarterly meeting of the Nebraska Lied Main Street Community Council at the Bellevue Chamber Building.
 The final day of the training began with a meeting of Nebraska Main Street Managers and Sandy Bartling, Vice-Chairman of the Main Street Board, attended this meeting.
 This was followed by training sessions on Fund Raising and Design. Bartling attended these sessions along with Board Members Lois Shelton and Ann Nolte.
 According to Tony Kochenash, "all of the Wayne representatives at the training sessions came away very pleased with the training."

Council approves transfer of cable

Carroll City council approved the transfer of the local cable television franchise from Carroll Cable Vision to HunTel Cable Vision, Inc., at its meeting Feb. 9.
 HunTel Systems, Inc. owns both Carroll Cable Vision and HunTel Cable Vision. The transfer simply moves the ownership of the franchise agreement to HunTel Cable Vision, a wholly owned subsidiary of HunTel Systems, from Carroll Cable Vision, an affiliate of HunTel's Eastern Nebraska Telephone Company.
 HunTel is in the process of transferring each of its five existing cable franchises to HunTel Cable Vision. Additionally, HunTel Cable Vision is acquiring the cable television systems in 11 other Nebraska communities. When the transfers and acquisitions are completed, HunTel Cable Vision will serve more than 4,500 local cable television subscribers across eastern and north central Nebraska.
 HunTel is a diverse family-owned business headquartered in Blair. HunTel's affiliates provide local exchange telephone service, cable television, Internet access, business forms, portable concrete equipment, communications engineering, business telephone systems and cabling, software development, consulting and service bureau administration.
 Additionally, HunTel is a partner in a number of national and international cable television and telecommunications ventures.

Teach to be performing

Tammy Teach of Wayne, member of the Nebraska Wesleyan Symphony Band, will take part in the Nebraska Wesleyan University and the Fort Calhoun High School Band joining together for a concert on Sunday, March 5.
 The concert, which is free and open to the public, will be held at 3 p.m. in O'Donnell Auditorium, located in the Rogers Center for Fine Arts, 50th Street and Huntington Avenue in Lincoln.
 Teach plays alto saxophone for the band. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Teach of Wayne.
