College following a nationwide candidate search

President Sheila Stearns made the announcement today.

"Carolyn's professional and educational background are an excellent fit with Wayne State. 1 am confident of her continued leadership in this position and commitment to the campus community," Stearns said. Murphy has served as Wayne State interim vice president for administration and finance since July 1999 and budget manager and grants administrator since 1990.

She will be responsible for the College's budget, finance, accounting, business functions, grants administration process, physical plant and administrative services areas

As Wayne State budget manager for the past 10 years, her experience with the College's department and division heads has provided her with an in-depth knowledge of the budget systems and allowed her to work closely with the Nebraska State College Board Office and other state agencies.

"I feel very honored to be selected for this position. I am excited to serve under the positive leadership of Dr. Steams and to be so involved in the future of Wayne State College," Murphy said.

Prior to her positions at Wayne State, Murphy served as the city administrator/clerk/treasurer for Dakota City; town clerk for Akron, Colo.: and loan processor for First National Bank, Fort Morgan, Colo. Murphy received her master's degree in business administration and bachelor's degree from Wayne State College in 1994 and 1982 respectively.

Murphy's appointment is pending approval from the Board of Trustees of the Nebraska State Colleges.

funds. The initial grant was for $9,000 and was specific to the Highway 35 project.

Following notification that the city would receive the funds, joel Hansen, Operations Technician for the city, who is in charge of the project, met with Steve Rasmussen, District Forester. The two walked the area included in the project and determined potential sites for the trees

Hansen and Rasmussen also met with Mike Lutt of Country Nursery who gave recommendations on the types of trees best suited for the Following that, city crews located utilities and determined where the trees should be planted. Property owners were also contacted to ensure that there were no prob lems

Employees of Country Nursery began planting trees late in March and on Monday planted the last of the 40 trees that they were respon sible for

Among the varieties of trees being planted are small to medium such as Spring Snow trees Crabapple, Ivory Silk Japanese Lilac Tree, Eastern Redbud, American Masterpiece Crabapple, River Birch, Prairifire Crabapple, Indian Magic Crabapple, Royalty Crabapple, Princess Kay Plum, Thornless Cockspur Hawthorn and Columnar Common Hackberry, Northern Red Oak, Pin Oak, Kentucky Coffeetree, Bur Oak, Swamp White Oak, Green Ash, Colorado Blue Spruce, Autumn Purple Ash, Autumn Blaze Maple and Emerald Luster Maple.

Several of the varieties of larger trees will come from the city's tree farm

The city is in charge of planting the remaining trees which will take place throughout the month of April

The final tree is set to be put into place on Friday, April 28 during Arbor Day ceremonies at Wayne High School

One reason that more trees were taken out than are being replaced is that because of the highway being widened, 13 feet of space was lost Also, several of the trees that were removed were very close to other trees. Hansen said

Before any of the trees could be planted, the city had to obtain a spe cial permit to plant on state right-ofway

Country Nursery has guaranteed the trees they planted for one year. Abutting property owners can water trees if necessary but Hansen recommends watering only once a week with enough water to equal an inch of rain.

For more information on the spe cific varieties of trees, contact Mike Lutt at Country Nursery at 375 4643. For additional information on other tree projects throughout the city, contact Hansen at 375-1300.

Father's

John became interested in p 1 pictures while attending Wayne High. David plays a xylophone in the band at Wayne High, plays bells at Grace Lutheran Church, and plays the Thai flute at home.

"The music at home has numbers" on the pieces," David said. "Motes; here, are a little more difficult to read.

Another new experience for David, as well as for his father years ago, was that while they were here they saw and felt snow.

'lust like when his dad was here there wasn't much snow," Rhonda said. "But we did get a little and the first time David saw it, he rolled in it without a coat on and made a big snowball. He really liked it."

"People in Thailand shave only seen pictures of snow and they think each snowflake is big," David said. "It's really hot in Thailand. When we lived in Bangkok, the temperature would sometimes get to 100 degrees. It's so humid, too, there are rice fields all around us in Thailand."

Rhonda noted that they took him skiing with a youth group a couple of weeks ago to Winter Park, west of Denver, Colo. It snowed 18 inches while they were there.

Another similarity between David and his dad is the fact that they both came to love beef while living here as they don't get much of it back in Thailand. Common meals in Thailand consist of three meals a day of rice accompanied with chick en or fish. A lot of spice is added to their dishes. There is a lot of fruit in their diet; especially papaya. Unlike here, all of their foods are bought daily at a market. There are no freezers there to keep food in.

David, like his father was, is in track at Wayne High. He notes that he played sports in Thailand although it wasn't as competitive as here. Soccer is a popular sport in his homeland.

School is a bit different in Thailand than here. There are 14 classes in high school where David even sends photos back and forth over e-mail. They probably talk on the telephone once a month."

Rhonda laughed, "There

David notes that items here are more expensive to buy than in Thailand; especially electronic devices such as digital cameras and computers. He remarked on the money exchange between Thailand and here.

"Right now it takes 40 'baht' (Thailand currency) to make one United States dollar," David said. "My airplane ticket to come here cost 40,000 'baht' or $1,000 U.S. dollars."

A big difference between classes here and in Thailand is that students there must either take military classes during high school or they must draw out a piece of paper from a can when they reach the age of 21. If they draw a red paper, they become a soldier. If they draw a black paper, they don't have to become a soldier. The paper drawing process at age 21 is avoided if students elect to take military classes while in school.

Being from the city, living on the farm was an adjustment for David. "When David first came to live

Ginkgo Biloba May Improve Alzheimer's Symptoms

Dementia is a disorder of the brain leading to progressive loss of memory and other determinants of intelligence. The brain decreases in size from the loss of nerve cells and the nerve tracts become distorted due to deposits of a amyloid protein called Although a number of medicines are under investigation currently, there are only one or two prescription medicines approved for mild to moderate Alzheimer's symptoms.

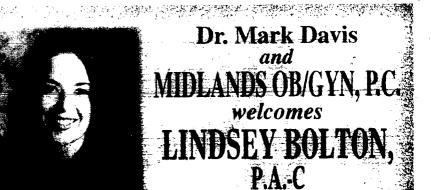

Researchers have shown interest in herbal medicines due to part to their generally low incidence of side effects. One such herb that is gaining interest in this are 'is Ginkgo hiloba, a species of tree used for medicinal purposes by the Chinese An analysis of 4 studies was published recently in Archives of Neurology. The 424 analysis involved Alzheimer's patients who took between 120 and 240 mg of Ginkgo extract every day for at least 3 months. Those who took Ginkgo scored about 2 points higher on memory tests than those who took placebo (take Ginkgo) Researchers involved in the analysis are calling for more studies to confirm these findings

From the earliest days of our nation's history, the spirit of volunteer service has been reflected in neighbors helping neighbors. The freedom and individual rights at the core of our society come from a shared responsibility for the health and well being of our communities and for each other. For millions of Americans, volunteering is the key to healthy, fulfilling and meaningful lives. Volunteering is giving. But there is so much we can receive. Volunteering renews our connection to our community and builds self-worth and social responsibility in our children.

Volunteers are the helping hand and human face of private and individual enterprise. They are the thoughtful, committed citizens who continue to change our world --- one activity at a time

And part of that world is right here in Wayne, Nebraska, where people like Luella Marra, Ruth Berglund, Doris Daniels, Esther Hansen, Betty Ream and Donna Hansen are making a difference. These volunteers have literally been the glue that has held the Main Street Office together over the past months. The members of the Main Street Wayne Program would not have enjoyed the successes that have been ours without these wonderful office volunteers.

It is timely and appropriate to recognize the Main Street Wayne office volunteers during National Volunteer Week, April 9-15. It is an opportunity for all of us involved in the Main Street Wayne Program to put these ladies in the spotlight. They represent that unique group of energetic, creative people called "volunteers" who continue to bridge gaps and connect individuals and communities.

Working together, it is indeed possible to create a new sense of community and a shared responsibility for our future.

Demonstrations given

Area youth skaters gave demonstrations of skateboarding and in-line skating prior to the 'Quality of Life Banquet' held Sunday night on the Wayne State College campus. Around 150 tickets were sold for the event. Adult and youth speakers focused on the impact service organizations have on the community. The purpose of the banquet was to recognize the over 60 service organizations that improve the 'Quality of Life' in the community and to open a greater line of communication between them on their needs, goals and ways they can work together. Proceeds from the banquet are being used to assist in the development of a Skate Park in Wayne Capitol News Fetal tissue issue debate dead?

The Wayne

By Ed Howard Statehouse Correspondent

The Nebraska Press Association No sooner does a fellow have a column published about filibusters and fetal tissue bills and 'Ernie Chambers than the roof-caves in Well, not the roof. The sponsors of the bill were the ones who, probably unfairly, will be accused by some of caving in.

To the accompaniment of media drum rolls and dire predictions, the Legislature last week began debate on whether it should ban the use of tissue, taken from elective abor-tions, for research at the University of Nebraska Medical Center

Would there be 33 votes to stop a promised veto from Omaha's Sen. Chambers? Would other bills be held hostage, even before the targeted bill came up, in order to delay things? Would there be talk of new. Draconian rules to stop the Omaha orator? The man who rules through the rules? The dictator of debate? . uh, well, you get it. Answer: Naw!

After, a comparatively short palaver the chief sponsor of the bill stood up and acknowledged the reality of the situation - something more often worthy of applause than you might think in the Legislature.

He said the bill didn't have 33 votes to stop a filibuster, acknowl edged it wasn't going to have 33 votes anytime soon, and that to pursue it would be fruitless. End of story. Or: End of story

Once upon a time a reporter for a Lincoln newspaper wrote that "Thus and such an issue is dead for this year." He had to write it twice. He was wrong both times. Not that the Legislature didn't say it was putting the issue aside - twice. It just kept reversing itself and coming back to hat issue

The odds are, though, that for this year, really and truly, the issue of fetal tissue research is dead.

I think

Only seven days left in session

Greetings from Lincoln, Including today, only seven days remain in the session. The session has really gone by fast! In order to get to as many priority bills as possible, the speaker has scheduled the body to meet until at least 8 p.m. on Mondays and Wednesdays.

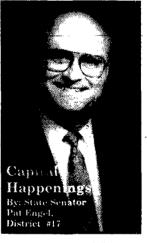

Last Tuesday the body considered LB 1405. Introduced by Omaha Senator John Hilgert and prioritized by Senator Paul Hartnett, this bill would have banned the use of aborted fetal tissue for research purposes. As I reported in last week's update, senators Kermit Brashear and Hilgert successfully motioned to pull the bill out of the judiciary Committee where it was stalled in a 4-4 deadlock. Twenty-eight senators, including myself, voted to pull. the bill. Tuesday morning, the body finally started to debate this legisla tion on the first round of debate However, debate only lasted until 11:30 a.m. when Senator Hilgert announced that he would pull the bill from the agenda, which means that with only a few days left of the session, the bill will not come up again. The bill was pulled because there were not enough senators to avoid a Senator Ernie Chambers' filibuster. After eight hours of debate, the body can vote for a cloture Senator Hilgert recognized that the 33 votes needed for a cloture were not there and decided to pull the bill. According to the Sate Paper, Senator Dwite Pederson has stated that he will introduce similar legisla tion next session

Senator Ed Schrock's priority measure, LB 1234, was debated last week on general file. In its original form, the bill would have mandated the use of ethanol blended fuel. Because I do not believe in mandates, I-did not co-sponsor the legislation and a few senators who initially supported the bill, removed their names after considering the effects of a mandate

Senator Matt Connealy of Decatur introduced a compromise amendment that softened the mandate by requiring the lowest octanerated gasoline at each station to be an ethanol blend. Even with Senator Connealy's amendment, opposition of the bill raised concerns of consumer choice.

After several hours of debate, the body gutted the original intent of the measure and replaced it with three amendments: a ban on MTBE, an oxygenate that helps fuel burn cleaner but is a suspected carcinogen, a study of Nebraska's rivers, streams and underground water, and a price and market study of ethanol. After the body adopted the above - amendments, the bili advanced to select file

This afternoon the body considered override motions to Governor Johanns' line item vetoes of the legislature's budget bill. In Governor Johanns cut $8.8 million from the budget, including monies earmarked for the University of Nebraska's health-care trust fund. mental health provider rates.

Sheldon Memorial Art Gallesy renovations, Region VI fees and services Centennial Mall improvements and aid to local libraries.

In order to override the governor's vetoes, a majority of the senators must agree to the motion and then three fifths of the body must vote favorably for the override

The Appropriations Committee of which I am a member, met this morning in order to give the body its recommendations. The commit tee recommended putting funds concerning mental health provider rates, REgion VI, university health care, Sheldon renovations and the Centennial Mall back into the budget. After almost two hours of debate, the override failed to advance

Also on today's agenda is LB 1021. Introduced by Senator Ernie Chamber, this bull would amend Nebraska Political the Accountability and Disclosure Act to prohibit principals, lobbyists or anyone acting on behalf of a principal or lobbyist from giving any gift or gifts valued at more than $50 per month to any executive or legislative branch official or employee or to any immediate family member of an executive or legislative branch official

Under the bill, no official or employee of the executive or legislative branch or any immediate family member of an executive branch official may accept a gift or gifts valued at more than $50 per month. Any person in violation of these prohibitions would be quilty of a Class III misdemeanor. Further, gifts given must be reported within 14 days to the Accountability and Disclosure Commission. Under the bill's original text, gift is defined as food for immediate consumption. tickets to state-regulated industries, facilities or events and transportation within the State of Nebraska.

The Wayne Herald, Thursday, April 6, 2000 Crystal Jensen sprints Winside girls to top of Stanton invite

- i I r

The Winside track teams competed in the first ever track meet held in Stanton last Thursday with Jim-Winch's girls team winning the Stanton Invite with 121 points.

Winside and Humphrey St. Francis were tied in the team standings with four events remaining but the Wildcats scored 44 points in those last four events to win easily as St. Francis netted 101 points for second.

West Point was third with 86 and Randolph, fourth with 57 followed by Nebraska Lutheran with 42 and Lutheran High Northeast with 38.5 Stanton tallied 33.5 points and Parkview Christian netted 14.

Senior Crystal Jensen was the catalyst for the winners, claiming first place honors in the 100 (12.7) and 200 (26.6) while running a leg on the winning 4x100 (53.1) and 4x400 (4:26).

Julie Jacobsen, Ashley Hoffman and Keisha Rees joined lensen in the sprint relay with Jenny Cleveland, Becky Krause and Rees joining CJ on the mile relay.

Jenny Cleveland won the 100 hurdles in 17.2 and she placed second in the 300 hurdles in 51.9. She added another second in the triple jump at 32-6.

Julie Jacobsen won the triple jump at 32-6. She edged teammate Jenny Cleveland through a tie-breaker.

Laurie Deck placed second in both the 1600 (6:14) and 3200 (13:25) with the 3200 relay team placing third in 11:37 with Deck, Kayla Bowers, Cassie Anderson and Brooke Boelter.

Jacobsen added a third in the long jump at 15-7 and Bowers was in 66.2 and Becky Krause was sixth in the 100 hurdles in 18.6.

Winch singled Crystal Jensen as really running well compared to where she was at the end of last season.

"Her 12.7 time in the 100 is around the third and fourth place times of last year's state finals," Winch said. "Her 26% effort in the 200 puts around the same area as last year's state finals in Class C." In the boys division, Stanton won its inaugural event with 115 points with West Point and St. Francis scoring 85 each. Nebraska Lutheran netted 72 and Randolph, 50 while Winside tallied 47 points. Lutheran High Northeast scored 21 points and Parkview Christian, 20.

Scott Marotz led Winside with first place showings in the shot (42-9) and discus (132-5) while Dustin Wade placed second in the shot put at 42-3

Adam Hoffman ran to fourth place times of 23.7 (200) and 55.1 (400) while running a leg of the fourth place sprint relay which was clocked in 47.0 with teammates Mike Deck, Justin Koch and Scott Marotz

Marotz added a fifth in the 100 in 11.6 and Kevin Boelter was fifth in the 3200 in 11:34 while the 3200 relay team placed fifth in 10:13 with Travis Yosten, Justin Bleich, Mike Hawkins and Kevin Boelter.

Hoffman closed out the scoring with a sixth place leap of 38-0 in the triple jump.

The Wayne Herald, Thursday, April 6, 2000 MS-Walk planned for Wayne

MIS MULTIME SCHROSIS SOCIETY

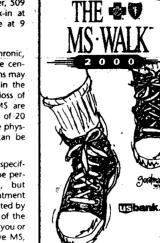

N. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 19

The annual Blue Cross Blue Shield MS Walk will be held in Wayne, April 29. The walk will begin at Hi-Energy Weight Control Center, 509 Dearborn Street, with check-in at 8:30 a.m. and starting time at 9 a.m.

Multiple Sclerosis is a chronic, often disabling disease of the central nervous system. Symptoms may be mild such as numbress in the limbs or severe-paralysis or loss of vision. Most people with MS are diagnosed between the ages of 20 and 40 but the unpredictable physical and emotional effects can be lifelong

The progress, severity and specific symptoms of MS in any one person cannot be predicted, but advances in research and treatment are giving hope to those affected by the disease. These are some of the symptoms of MS. If you think you or someone you know may have MS, contact your local physician. More than a third of a million Americans live with MS.

The National MS Society is dedicated to ending the devastating effects of MS. Funds received through The Blue Cross Blue Shield MS Walk support education, advocacy, research and local programs that enhance the quality of life for people with MS and their families When MS strikes, people are encouraged to contact their local chapters for assistance, advice, and programs.

Volunteers are needed. The Blue Cross Blue Shield MS Walk is not only for walkers. Lots of people are needed to be stationed all along the route-moving or staying put. Volunteers help ensure a fun, safe, and organized event for all involved, and really make The Blue Cross Blue Shield MS walk successful. Running registration, hosting a rest stop, or driving a support vehicle are just some of the many ways you can help.

Volunteers are eligible to earn prizes by raising donations. There are different prizes available for varying amounts raised.

If interested in contacting the National MS Society, call 1-800-755-3959, e-mail at info@nmss.org, or visit their web site www.nmss.org.

For a local contact, call Sherri Hoeman at 375-2444 if you want to volunteer to help or walk with The Blue Cross Blue Shield MS Walk to be held in Wayne or if you want more information.

Goodwill to be in Wayne

Goodwill's Ambassador trailer has been coming to Wayne as a regular visitor for the past few years in order to receive donations;

The trailer will be in Wayne from Tuesday, April 18 through Monday, April 24.

Serviceable, but no-longer used items to be donated to Goodwill should be placed in the Ambassador trailer at the Pac 'N' Save parking lot.

The trailer generally arrives by 4 p.m. on the arrival date and is removed by 10 a.m. on the departure date. It is open from 8 a.m. until 8 p.m. on other days

Those bringing items are asked to deposit all items as far forward in the trailer as possible.

Furniture and large appliances cannot be accepted, due to limited trailer space. Please do not leave donations on the ground before, during or after the trailer's arrival. Donated goods from Wayne will be processed and received into one of the Goodwill retail outlets. Goodwill is a non-profit organiza tion that provides rehabilitation services to over 400 persons with disabling conditions annually by providing work opportunities and train-ing, which enables them to become wage earners and tax-paying citizens. This service is funded by the sale of donated goods

Meeting to be in Wakefield Monday

Goldenrod Hills Head Start and Northeast Nebraska Early the Childhood Training Partnership are creating an opportunity for early childhood advocates in , Cedar, Dakota, Dixon, Knox, Thusson and Wayne counties to get together. A meeting will be held on Monday, April 10 at ESU #1 in Wakefield from 6 to 8 p.m.

The objectives are to brainstorm subjects such as strengths and resources in the community; what kind of trainings are needed and what are the needs and issues of parents with young children, childcare providers and other early childhood program

Ideas could be clearly identified about how to work together for children and families in addition to. helping identify trainings that could be provided by the Northeast Early Childhood Training Partnership.

For more information about the focus group meeting and to RSVP, contact Bev Frese or the Head Start office at Goldenrod Hills Head Start (402) 529-3512, ext. 42

Charitable Remainder Trusts

A gift of a partial interest in property to charity does not usually qualify for a charitable deduction. However, there are some exceptions, and the charitable remainder trust is one of the them. A charitable remainder trust is a special kind of trust which allows a donor to claim a charitable deduction for "split-interest" gifts, in which the donor or another individual receives income from the trust for life or a period of years, after which the trust principal (remainder) is distributed to a charity

These trusts come in two main forms: the charitable remainder annuity trust (CRAT) and the charitable, remainder unitrust (CRUT).

Give the tree, but keep the apples Because a gift to a CRT can pay a good - and sometimes favorably taxed - income to the donor for as long as he or she may live, it often permits the donor to make a major gift to a charitable institution - and gain immediate [ederal income tax benefits - without any loss of spendable income. An attractive alternative to a charitable bequest A CRT created during life is an effective alternative to a charitable bequest, which produces little or no income tax benefits for the donor.

Appreciated property can be transferred to a charitable remainder trust - and Sold by the trust - without incurring any capital gains tax. Funding these types of trusts with appreciated securities or other assets that. currently yield little or no income may Dramatically increase the donor's income,
Provide an immediate income tax charitable deduction,

Avoid capital gains taxes, and Give the donor the personal satisfaction of making a significant contrib to a charitable organization he or she considers important.

The late-night infomercials scream promises: "Lose 10 pounds in 10 days." "Eat anything you want and stay slim!"" More or less, the claims are true by following those diets, you'll probably lose weight. The trouble when you stop, chances are you'll gain it right back.

Fad diets have been around for years, seemingly offering the latest innovations in health medicine to the consumer. The truth is, very few of these diets offer anything new Similarly, almost none of them are good for you in the long run.

The majority of fad diets are grouped into three different types: semi-starvation (fewer than 600 calories per day), high-carbohy-drate, low-protein; and high-protein, low-carbohydrate.

The first type, semi-starvation or fasting can have detrimental effects. The body reacts, to a drastically reduced diet as if it is starving, which it essentially is. The body's metabolism slows down and after the diet ends, can take up to a year to return to normal. That means once regular eating resumes, the weight usually comes back

High-protein, low-carbohydrate and high-carbohydrate, low-protein diets are two of the most popular fad diets. Both deprive the body of essential nutrients needed to stay healthy. Eating a low-protein diet can cause quick weight loss; unfortunately, none of that weight is fat. Because lack of protein can dehydrate the body, the initial weight lost is water weight. Eventually, a low-protein diet will begin to tear down the body's muscle mass, leaving you in worse shape than before the diet

Low-carbohydrate diets act in much the same way. Glucose in carbohydrates provides most of the body's energy. When glucose is lacking, the body uses protein and fat to sustain itself. This causes a waste product called ketones to be released from the body, resulting in water weight loss. As with low-protein diets, muscle mass ultimately is lost.. Any weight gained back after this kind of diet is mostly fat. These types of low-carbohydrate diets are undergoing a surge of popularity

Members of Graves Public Library Board who are on the building committee have been looking at some new library facilities recently built in Northeast Nebraska. Making up the committee are Eugene Swanson, John Portwood and Tim Rouse, board members, along with Librarian Nancy Fredrickson.

"We found one facility we were very impressed with," stated Eugene Swanson. "The committee had had one meeting with an architect and is planning another in the near future, and at that time will possibly hire him." Other members of the Library board are Sue Banholzer and Barb Brazie

HONOR STUDENT

Two hundred fifty-five students have been named to the Dean's List at Briar Cliff College in Sioux City for the winter term. Full-time students with a term grade point average of 3.5 or greater received Dean's List recognition.

Richard Lichlyter-Klein Wakefield is among the students to achieve the honor list. NEED MORE PHOTOS

Paul Eaton, with the assistance of students at the Wakefield School, is working on a historical slide presentation on Graves Park. More photos of events are still needed.

Cancer compound isolated in meat and milk products By Jill Heemstra, Extension Educator

Beef, lamb and dairy producers

Red meat and dairy products have been criticized for being high-fat and helping contribute to the risk of heart disease, colon cancer and others. Now, a decade of research is showing that there may also be some dramatic benefits to the consumption of red meat and

Conjugated linoleic acids (CLA's) are fatty acids found in significant amounts only in foods produced by ruminant animals (Sheep, cattle, etc.). CLA's were first isolated about a decade ago by a University of Wisconsin researcher. They are generally found at a level of four to seven milligrams of CLA per gram of fat. They are not found in the lean tissue, but are a component of the fat. Pork, poultry, seafood, fruits and CLA's are linked to a number of anti-cancer and anti-diabetic properties. Some recent reports indicate that CLA's may help reduce body fat and increase lean muscle and bone density, very little research has been done on the effects of excessive consumption of CLA's. Therefore, a sources of CLA's.

Dietary changes by Americans have probably reduced our consumption of CLA's. We have been encouraged to eat leaner meat such as chicken and switch from butter to margarine. Farm producers have responded by raising animals that are leaner than they were 20 years ago. We can also buy fat-free or reduced fat milk in grocery stores. High-fat diets will probably not be recommended by any nutritionists, but we may need to become more selective about which kinds of fat we consume and which ones we cut out of our diet.

Animal management can alter the amounts of CLA's found in the fat components of meat and milk Research in Wisconsin has shown that dairy cows who graze had five times more CLA in their milk than dairy cattle fed silage or hay.

The same researchers were able to boost CLA content of milk from confined cows by adding extracted whole soybean and linseed oils to a corn-alfalfa diet. Other research in various parts of the U.S. and Canada has shown that the addition of plant oils such as safflower, sunflower and canola to cattle rations can increase the level of CLA in the fat.

It is not likely that producers will get' paid to boost CLA content of their product except in some small specialty markets. However, if consumption of red meat and dairy products increases because of the

Many activities Busy life continues

It's 9 p.m.on Monday; the Big Farmer, of course, is watching the last game of the Final Four. He still says the championship game was lowa State and Michigan state. And no one in this house ever roots for a Florida team if we can help it. (I did for Bobby Bowden, secretly.)

I've just thrown the sheets on the king-size bed, fresh out of the dryer, for a couple from Orlando. Thank goodness the housekeeper comes tomorrow. I'm heading to bed

On Thursday evening, I hosted a Weekenders party. Weekenders are coordinated knits that pack well, wear well, and go together in all kinds of combinations Unfortunately, out of 12 people i invited, only two came. So we had our own private style show. And then sat up and talked to the friends from Wayne who brought them.

On Friday, after seeing them off, I cleaned upstairs, made the twin beds into a king, and got ready for a 'houseful. After lunch, I drove to Auburn to visit a new patient.

The guests, 10 of them, arrived at 9 p.m In order to accommodate everyone; we slept in the hideabed last thing I heard before drifting to sleep at 11 p.m. was a song being played and sung by a daughter-inlaw and heavenly homegoing, another grand visit with friends and relatives. By the time I stopped for groceries, it was 6 p.m when 1 arrived home

Our guests went out to eat and oot back about 10:30 p.m. We were already tucked in, in anticipation of a short night with clocks set back. They, of course, lingered at breakfast, and I again left at 11:30 a.m. to meet at a bridal shop and watch Kay try on wedding dresses. We needed up at Wahoo, and I was home again by 5. p.m. There followed massive loads of sheets and towels.

This morning, I fixed lasagna and salad for 10 colleagues who were meeting in Weeping Water. They came for lunch, I went back to that office for a couple of hours, and then back to a grocery store. (And wouldn't you know, I didn't have my filled stamp certificates along!)

From the looks of the calendar, the month of April is going to be like this. And, of course, it includes Easter. We're having a bridal shower here Saturday and I don't have Easter decorations out yet. What do you bet, that will happen on Friday? As Scarlet said, "I'll deal with that tomorrow!"

Tractor Safety planned

"Tractor Safety . Live With It!" is the theme of the day-long program to be held Saturday, April 29 the Haskell Agricultural Laboratory near Concord

The program begins at 8:30.a.m. and runs until 5 p.m. and is designed for youths 12-16 years old. It will also allow 14 -15 year old youths to apply for an exemption from the Hazardous Occupation Order to work for a farmer other than their parents.

It is estimated that 103 children under the age of 20 die in farmrelated accidents each year. Another 27,000 are injured in farm-related accidents each year. Studies of 460 childhood farm fatalities in Wisconsin and Indiana revealed that half were associated with tractors.

This program will emphasize the following topics. Tractor Safety; Rollovers; Frequent Causes of Farm Accidents, PTO, Mowing and Transport safety and Rescues and Emergencies.

The program will also include hands-on tractor driving and a computer lab to access farm safety-related web site

Registration forms are available from the local county extension office and are due by Monday, April
