Foreign exchange students share their thoughts on life in Nebraska

By Lynn Slevers

Allen High School has five foreign exchange students this year. Two are from Germany, two from Brazil and one is from England.

Gabnele Steinhauser is from Munich, Germany. Her parents are Gerhard and Monika Steinhauser and she has a brother, Maximillian, 15-years-old. Her father is a physician and her mother is a geographer. Gabriele came here through the Youth for Understanding (YFU) pro-

She notes that life here is different than in Germany but that's what she wanted to experience by being an exchange student.

On the subject of school, she feels that a small school is more personal than a large school which helps a person to get to know people better but that it can also be more difficult if there someone is around that you don't like.

"I have met a lot of new, nice people, going to volleyball games and State, going out for basketball and learning English," Gabriele said.

Her host family is Mary and Larry Klemme of Allen and their shildren are Brittany and Shannon Markus Philipps is from Buchholz, Germany. His parents are Udo and Gudrun Philipps. He has no siblings. His father is the manager of an electricity company and his mother works for a computer firm. Markus came here through the Youth for Understanding (YFU) program

Markus says he has enjoyed his stay here in the United States and has become fond of the pizza served here.

He notes that meeting new friends and getting involved in school activities and experiencing another culture is what he likes most about his visit here in northeast Nebraska.

The American schools set more emphasis on sports than German schools. The German school studies are harder than in America," Markus

Markus mentioned that he likes bigger schools better because they can offer a bigger variety of classes. Markus notes that he likes to play soccer and tennis His host family is Allan and Marcia Rastede of Allen. Their children are Greg, Kelli, and Carla Rastede.

Pedro Souza is from Belem, Brazil. His parents are Carlos and Paula Souza and he has a brother, Pedro Victor, 14. His father is the owner of a civil engineer company and his mother is a psychologist. He came to Allen High School through the Youth for Understanding (YFU) pro-

Pedro notes that the friends he has made while here and the experiences he's had with them is what he likes most about his visit here. "I like a smaller school," Pedro said: "It's easier to make friends." When talking about school systems, he notes that the Brazilian education system is harder than it is

Parents' Guide to Teenage parties "For a great party with a happy ending"

• Plan in advance. Check party plans with your teenager and know the guest list. If you agree with who is invited, you can curb the "open party" situation

• Set a time limit. Set a definite start and ending, not too long. Consider daytime parties as an alternative to evening ones or plan activities such as swimming, skating or renting movies

· Agree to rules ahead of time. These should include. No drugs, including alcohol; no smoking, no leaving the party and then returning no gate crashers allowed; lights should be left on, some rooms in your house are off limits.

• Know your responsibilities. The responsible adult at a teenager's party is visible and aware. Remember — It is illegal to serve drugs, including alcohol, to minors. You are legally responsible for anything that may happen to a minor who has been served drugs or alcohol in

Q. What advice would you give to parents who want their child to have a party?

First, there must be parental supervision. Parents are legally responsible for what happens to minors in their home. Second, do not allow alcoholic beverages or drugs. Limit the number of guests and let the party be "by invitation only". A word-of-mouth general invitation brings party crashers.

·Editorials-Please vote on May 9

On Tuesday, May 9 residents of Wayne, as well as those throughout the state of Nebraska, will go to the polls to cast ballots in national, state and local races.

In the city of Wayne, two additional items will be on the ballot —that of repealing the midnight to 5 a.m. parking ban on city streets and whether or not the city should implement a one percent city sales tax for the purpose of constructing a Community Activity Center.

A Community Activity Center would be a welcome addition to the services provided by the city of Wayne and would benefit everyone, young and old, city and rural.

The Community Activity Center has been studied for nearly a year and a number of ideas have been discussed and shared with the community

On the ballot will be the question of whether or not to implement a city SALES tax. A number of rumors have been circulating through the city that if the facility is constructed, it will be funded by an increase in property tax. This is not

A city sales tax would be paid by anyone purchasing nonfood items in the city limits of Wayne. Non-prepared food is not taxed in Nebraska and therefore not subject to city or state sales tax

For five years the city collected a one percent sales tax to pay for improvements throughout the city including the construction of the Library/ Senior Center and the renovation of the City Auditorium. That tax expired on Oct. 1, 1999 and for the past six months the city has not been collecting the tax revenues. Many consumers are not even aware that the tax is no longer being collected.

Sales taxes are generally a more equitable means of generating revenue. Those with the ability to purchase more taxable goods will pay a larger share of the tax than those who can afford less. In addition, many non-property taxpayers who use facilities in Wayne would also be paying their share of the tax.

All those using the facility would be charged the same fees, whether they are residents of the city, rural areas or any of the surrounding communities.

Please vote "Yes" on May 9 in regard to the sales tax increase for the construction of a Community Activity

A number of letters have arrived at the Herald both in support of the current parking regulations and against the regulations. Those taking the time to write have raised valid arguments on both sides of the issue.

Parking is and will continue to be an issue in the city of Wayne, whether or not the ban is repealed. Eliminating the ban will not magically create parking spaces, especially near Wayne State College when school is in session.

No matter what your opinion on any of the issues on the ballot next Tuesday, the important thing is to get out and exercise your right to vote. Those who do not are missing an opportunity to be heard. Every vote counts!

Indirect language gives leeway

By Ed Howard

Statehouse Correspondent The Nebraska Press Association

It's easy to get excited about that which we feel strongly.

The reproductive women are right up there, at or near the top, of the hot buttons that get millions and millions of people

The thought of the U.S. Supreme Court doing anything more to diminish the abortion rights spelled out in Roe v. Wade is enough to send armies of so-called pro-choice folk to the political barricades. The same thing happens on the so called pro-life side when opponents of abortion get to thinking there is the slightest chance that a Supreme Court majority might put an end to legalized abortion.

So, naturally, the zealots were around and about the nation's Capital and Capitol when the high court heard arguments centering on Nebraska's latest statutory effort to curb abortion. This time, it's a law that would ban a particular procedure, known as the partial-birth

One must stretch the imagination the way presidential candidates stretch truth to envision the high court using this case to fiddle in a meaningful way with Roe v. Wade. We'll acknowledge that in the world The Supremes who wear robes, anything can happen. But there is nothing to indicate that a court majority has a big change of judicial heart in mind, and is looking for a case upon which to hang it.

Attorney General Don Stenberg, whose campaign for the GOP Senate nomination has virtually consisted of a campaign against abortion, argued that state legislatures should wield more power (and thus, that the courts should wield less) in delicate matters of science and medicine which divide the medical community.

No one of any sense or sensibility would disagree with the justice who acknowledged that the abortion procedures being discussed are

But then, Stenberg was thrown the questions that nagged at and annoyed a good many folk ever since the Unicameral got into the "stop partial-birth abortions" busi-

If the Legislature, and all of those

(reasonable or 'wild-eved') who wanted to stop partial-birth abortions were sincere, why in the name of honesty, justice, plain language and common sense did they not simply use direct language? Why didn't the Nebraska law spell out that it is partial-birth abortions, and no others, that are targeted by the

Do you really need an answer? Since no anti-abortion folk have written acidic notes to me of late, I'll tell you why (and prompt some excess acidity, no doubt.) The fact is that there was the hope that the overly-broad language used in the law would, in fact, do exactly what vocal proponents said they were not trying to do that is: Lea e room for a court to say, "Whoops! Well, lookee here, the Harvard-educated attorney general and all those other folks just didn't look closely enough. This law does seem to ban all abortions in Nebraska!

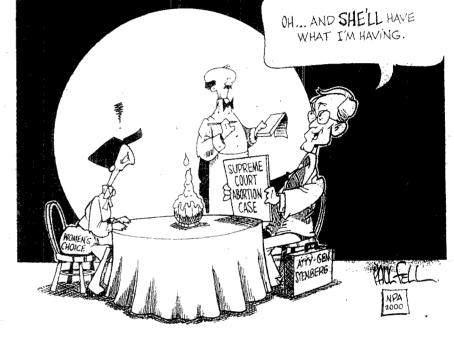

What Nebraska anti-abortion forces have accomplished over the years, statutorily, is to get a handful of laws passed - many of which were tossed in the circular file by the first federal judge to read-them. The same thing happened with the effort to stop partial-birth abortions. Two federal courts have already said that the law is too damed vague. Now, honestly, for as long as the leaders and the lawyers of the antiabortion forces have been at it, do you real-ly think they didn't know their latest effort was wanting in specificity? Do you think Stenberg, guy so good with books he got his law degree and his MBA from simultaneously, didn't know it?

The 'fact is, they might, just might, have had a judicial shot at the partial-birth procedure if they had dealt their cards from the top of the deck

There is no doubt that legions of sincere women and men find abortion abhorrent, that some view it as a holocaust on the unborn, as the most vile of our society's collective sins. Their religious faith and sincerity of conscience are subject to no criticism whatsoever from this cor-

Reader plans to vote yes for changes in parking restrictions in Wayne

I asked many citizens why they believe the parking ban is still in effect and did not receive a single logical answer, with the exception that it had always just been that way. The people of Wayne not only believe the ban is outdated and unnecessary, but the majority of cit-

Parking ban is good idea

I do believe that Mr. Vern Schulz deserves a loud "Thank You" and a hearty pat-on-the-back for that very fine editorial of April 27, "The Parking Issue in Wayne," which is a very important matter facing the voters on election day

Like Mr. Schulz, I am against any changes in parking regulations at this time and essentially for the reasons given by him.

However, in addition to the matters he listed such as increased vandalism, street maintenance, snow removal, law enforcement - and the city of Wayne serving as one narking lot add the word beautification."

Beautification is an old-fashioned work that many cities and towns used in the past to emphasize that one's standard of living and quality of life-style can be enhanced or diminished by the beauty (or lack of beauty) offered by the local envi-

Not too long ago the city of Wayne was considered quite a "lovely little town." But that is threatened today. We already have an immense increase in trucks -18-wheelers — rolling through our "lovely little town" which not only diminishes its beauty, but adds greatly to pollution of the total environment. Should we add to that by having cars, trailers, SUV's, etc. parked throughout the residential areas of the city?

I think that would be a disaster. Thank you, Mr. Vern Schulz You do us all a service.

that they claimed change was hopeless and that the city only does what THEY want to do. I helped to conduct a survey of other communities around Wayne and their opinion on the parking ban in Wayne was the same Everyone seemed to believe the ban is ridiculous and unnecessary.

It is obvious that snow and the streets can be cleaned effectively without such a restrictive ban on parking. Just take a look at the other cities around you.

Some residents displayed concern over the discrimination that they felt they received from the city's parking enforced throughout the city. Some residents are allowed to park all night while others receive a tick

As my door-to-door drive came to an end, the opinion of the majority was very clear. The citizens of Wayne want change. They want to progress instead of falling behind our neighboring towns and cities.

Plans to vote no on C.A.C.

Dear Editor

I am voting NO

Didn't this start out as a Youth Activity Center? Now it is a Community Center.

We have taxpayers in Wayne who have much money invested in this type of a business and now we are asked to use tax money to provide competition for them. This is wrong, not only the initial investment, but the ongoing costs of service and security and maintenance. We don't have the school remodeling on our tax roll yet and the fire department wants a new building and room for parking for the voluntary firemen. They need the parking, I am no judge of how badly they need a new building.

But, Wayne residents are paying a premium in taxes already. Our daughter and husband sold a house in Los Alamos, New Mexico for $170,000 on which they paid less than $1,000 in taxes and they had a state and local sales tax of four per-

They bought a home in Greeley, Colorado for $134,000 on which the property taxes are $780 and there is a state and local tax of 6.25 percent. This house is comparable to our home in Wayne on which we pay about $2,500 in property taxes annually. I think we need to pay for some outstanding bonds before we add on some more.

And, if it was going to be be a Youth Activity Center, it should be by the school so it could complient the school as to parking spaces and overflow athletic activities as well as security.

and hope you do the same.

Last session held

Sen. Engel gives legislative update

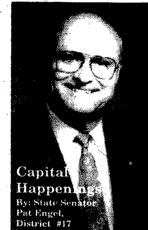

The session is finally over! After saying goodbye to four of our friends who will not be returning next year, the Legislature adjourned April 12. Before things start winding down, I want to share with you some of this session's legislation.

My priority bill, LB 1004, was signed by the governor tast week. As you recall, this legislation allows the use of out-of-state driving under the influence convictions for enhancement purposes. Amendments were adopted that provided for the same background checks for all violators and the use of authenticated copies to show a prior out-of-state conviction.

Two important rural economic development proposals passed this year. Titled the Rural Economic Development Act, LB 936, would allow small to midsized Nebraska businesses to qualify for income tax credits based on jobs created, wages paid and the amount of money invested.

To qualify for the tax credits, businesses would have to create or add full-time equivalent employment equal to at least .5 percent of the county's labor force. Further, the company would have to pay its new employees annual wages that would average the greater of at least 125 percent of the average annual wage paid by all employers in the county or at least 100 percent of the average annual wage paid by all employers in its geographic region of the state.

Business must be primarily engaged in manufacturing, ware-housing, transportation, research and development, financial services, insurance, telecommunications, data processing or administration. Qualifying companies would receive an annual income tax credit equal to five percent of the total compensation paid for new employment. The credit would be made available to the company for seven years.

Such companies would receive a one-time income tax credit equal to 10 percent of their new investment. This is a viable economic incentive tool in 70 of Nebraska's 93 counties and as a co-sponsor, I sincerely hope that this measure will help counties in this district.

The second piece of legislation is that I supported, LB 1348. Introduced by Sen. Roger Wehrbein, this bill will provide $1.25 million each year for the next three fiscal years for specific economic development grant programs.

The break down of the $1.25 million is as follow: $250,000 for the Microenterprise Partnership Program, which provides loans to microbusinesses, $250,000 for grants to individuals or groups who promote and encourage value-added agricultural development, $250,000 for a new program that would provide agricultural entrepreneurship opportunity grants, and $500,000 that would be distributed among the three programs according to demand and need.

Individual loans would be limited to $50,000 and grants under the value-added partnership and agricultural opportunities grant programs would be limited to $75,000.

After much debate both before and during the session, the Legislature decided on a study of the teacher pay issue. Introduced by the Education Committee Chairperson, Sen. Ardyce Bohlke, LB 1399 creates a task force that will study the issue until December of this year. Meetings, similar to town hall meetings, will be held in each judicial district. The bill also creates a program for $5,000 bonuses to be given to teachers who receive national certification.

Money for this program was taken out because it is helped that the state will seek a federal AmeriCorps grant that could result in bonuses of almost $5,000 each for 500 participating teachers. The bill also creates a loan forgiveness program. Gov. Johanns vetoed the funding for the program because it would be premature since the study will be investing the issue in the interim.

The most controversial issue this session was LB 1405 concerning the fetal tissue research at the University of Nebraska Medical Center Though the bill did not pass, I was happy to see at least some debate on this very important issue. To refresh your memories, it was reported last fall that the University had been using elected aborted fetal tissue for research purposes. I can only hope that we sent a message to the University that alterna tives must be sought. If not, it is my understanding that similar legislation will be introduced next session

I know this only scratches the surface, but all good things must come to an end. As always, if you have any comments or questions about any matter pending on the legislature, please do not hesitate to contact me at my office: Sen. Pat Engel, Dist. # 17, State Capital, Lincoln; NE 68509; 402-471-2716 or e-mail lengel@unicam.state.ne.us

Response to parking issue

As a resident and taxpayer in the City of Wayne for nearly 24 years, I would like to respond to the "observations of the parking situation" that Vern Schulz presented in last week's newspaper. I do not believe that residents of Wayne, myself included, are as gullible and naive as Vern makes us out to be

He begins by telling us about some traffic survey conducted "a number of years ago" which said that streets were not intended for parked cars. There are parked cars on every street in America." I believe that our beautiful lawns and terraces were not designed for parked cars.

In Vern's discussion on narrow streets, he reports to us that there are "many drivers hitting or jumping the curb" to get past an oncoming vehicle. Nothing could be further from the truth. Actually, there are many narrower streets in Norfolk and Sioux City that have cars parked on both sides of the street.

His "observations" go on to tell us about the danger of a child running out into the street, chasing a ball, between the hours of midnight and 5 a.m. Does Wayne really have children playing ball between midnight and 5 a.m.?

Vern is concerned that college students will park their cars and leave them parked all week. The City of Wayne already has a 24-hour parking limit on its streets, which prohibits a student or anyone else from parking their car and leaving it in the same spot for more than 24 hours. The parking congestion on the streets around the college occurs during the daytime hours, due to students that reside off-campus and students that commute. It does no occur between the hours of midnight and 5 a.m. and it does not involve residents in other areas of the city. We have visited with many residents who live near the college and they are very supportive of our parking drive.

Vern stated that the quality of snow removal will decline. This can only mean that he's not willing to do his job. Other cities do not have a midnight to 5 a.m. parking ban, yet they have very efficient snow removal. Why can't Wayne.

Change is everywhere. We see it in our families, our friends, our neighborhoods, our schools, our churches and in our communities. We see changes in our health care, in the food we eat, the clothes we wear, the goods we purchase and the cars we drive. Mother Nature has also changed. Our winters today are milder than they were in 1961 when the midnight to 5 a.m. parking ban was enacted.

In our petition drive, the overwhelming response that we received from Wayne residents is that the midnight to 5 a.m. parking ban, or any parking ban which is used to facilitate snow removal, should not be in effect every single night of the year. Last year our committee surveyed over 50 cities in Nebraska; we did not find one other city that bans overnight parking every night of the year. If snow is the issue, it should be addressed on a night-per-night basis.

Another issue is tourism. Thousands of dollars in parking fines have been paid by visitors to our city, who left Wayne on a sour note after getting a parking ticket. It's ridiculous.

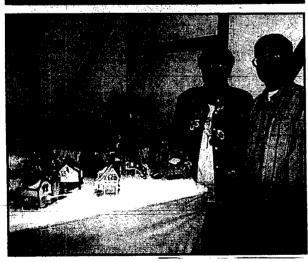

The riking ban is a real nuisance for residents that have limited parking space, for families that have many cars and for residents that can only access their driveway through the alley. We heard countless stories from residents who have to park on their lawns and terraces, from those who have to shuffle cars around in their driveway each morning and from those who simply fell asleep and forgot to move their car. Some residents even pointed out that for every $5 that is paid to the parking fund, that is $5 that will not be spent in a local business.

There may never be a parking ordinance which will work satisfactorily to everyone or in every neighborhood. However, from the large and enthusiastic response that we received in our petition drive, removing the midnight to 5 a.m. parking ban will greatly benefit the majority of the residents in Wayne. The parking ban is simply not in step with today's hectic, fast-paced and ever-changing society.

It has taken three long years to get this issue on the ballot and we may never have the opportunity again. Your "Yes" vote on May 9th will help hundreds and hundreds of Wayne residents, who believe that the parking ban is a nuisance and no longer needed in a progressive city. Together, we can make our community a better place to live!

For further information contact Dale Hochstein at 375-3150 WSC players earn Player of Week awards

WAYNE—Wayne State College baseball pitcher Brady Borner has been named the NSIC pitcher of the week and Sarah Herrick has been named the NSIC softball player of the week.

It is the fifth time in the past six weeks that Borner, a junior starting pitcher from Chaska, Minnesota has won the award. Last week he went 2-0 while pitching two complete games. In WSC's 2-1 win over UNK, Borner tossed a five-hitter and struck out seven. He surrendered only one unearned run.

Borner then was masterful against Northern State on Saturday. He pitched a one-hit shutout as the Wildcats won 9-0. He matched his own school record by striking out 17 batters, including the first nine he faced.

Borner is now 10-1 on the season, which is a school record for wins in a season. He also set the school record for strikeouts in a season with 106. That eclipsed his record of 90 from a year ago. Borner also increased his career record strikeout total to 234.

In four NSIC starts this season, Borner owns a 4-0 with a 1.33 earned run average and 50 strikeouts. On the season, Borner has a 1.72 ERA with seven complete games and four shutouts. Five times he has held the opposition to three hits or less.

Herrick, a sophomore from Elkhorn, enjoyed her best week of the sea son as she helped WSC to a 5-2 record. She was 12-22 at the plate with six runs scored and five RBI. She hit safely in all six games in which she played and she was perfect on all three stolen base attemps

"It will be very sad to leave Wayne State College. There are many hard-working students here and an excellent faculty, staff and administration. I've enjoyed working with Stearns this year," Battistella said. "Being dean of arts and letters at Southern Oregon will give me an opportunity to work in some new areas and to have some new responsibilities. That will be very exciting. College is about learning and this will be a great opportunity for me to further my education."

The School of Arts and Letters at Southern Oregon University includes nearly 1,000 majors in theatre, English, modern languages, art, music and communication. SOU is a comprehensive liberal arts university with 5,100 students.

Battistella has a bachelor's degree in Slavic languages from Rutgers College in New Jersey and a Ph.D. in linguistics from the City University of New York. He came to Wayne State in 1993 from the University of Alabama in Birmingham.

Since 1993, the humanities division made a number of technological improvements under Battistella's leadership including upgrading the Wayne Stater journalism lab, providing TV/VCR stations and overhead projectors in classrooms, providing Destinations computers in six classrooms, revamping TV studio faciliJensen, Jenny Cleveland, Keisha Rees and Becky Kraise Cleveland placed third in the

The Golden Years

Bewitched, Bewildered? Born in London in 1922, Doreen Valiente was a sel proclaimed witch who back in the 1950's wrote part of the doctrine that is reversed by self-proclaimed witches today. What was then considered witchcraft, particularly in England, is commonly considered today to be New Age Mysticism. Valiente's most important contributions to her witchcraft practices were her books, "An ABC of Witchcraft", which she wrote in 1973, "Witchcraft for Tomorrow," written in 1978, and "The Rebirth of Witchcraft" written in 1989.

Dixon County Extension Office has copy of Kids Care Video available been a lost of media coverage on the findings of research studies on the development of children's brains.

Penn State University recently put together a video workshop, primarily for child care providers, on some of the brain research and activities that enhance brain development of children

The Dixon County Extension Office recently received a copy of the video. It is available for check out free of charge (or it can be mailed for $2.50) and returned within a two-week period

The new thinking about brain research says that development is an interplay between a person's genes and the experiences they have Early experiences have a large impact on the way the brain is

By the time children reach age three, their brains are twice as active as those of adults. These activity lev els drop off during adolescence

There are still many unanswered questions and a lot to learn about what parents and child care providers should be doing to maximize brain development. Current research about child development and child care tells us that high quality infant care givers

Older People And Alcohol

Occasional drinking can turn into a problem. It happens to millions of people over sixty. The problem is harder to detect among older people who live and drink alone. In many cases the shaky hands and memory loss associated with drinking are attributed to aging. Not everyone who drinks regularly has a drinking problem. But if alcohol interferes with your relationships or with your daily life, it is time to get help.

identification Program. The purpose of the program is to identify academically talented seventh graders and provide information about the students' ability and services and programs available for enrichment opportunities. A primary benefit of participation in the talent search is the experience of taking an advanced aptitude test either the Scholarship Aptitude Test or the American College

Test. Students also may be refit from the information gained when considering future educational options. The five participants included Ashley Gentrup, Nic Judson, Josh Rasmussen, Adem Rudin,

Survivor Supplemental Retirement Income Funded with life Insurance

Survivor supplemental retirement income funded with life insurance is an alternative to the company -provided survivor income options, using life insurance. It involves a two step procedure that combines a fife income option annuity election with the insurance on the returning worker's life. Be cleaving the full annuity benefit from a retirement plan, the worker receives the maximum monthly retirement benefit for life

Every married retiree who participates in a retirement plan will be laced with an important economic decision. At or before retirement, every worker-should decide how to arrange his or her payout. It's not an easy decision, whether to choose all the monthly moone the worker is entitled to by electing a life incomption, or settling for what can be a hetty out in benefits to provide a retirement income for the surviving spouse. What makes the decision even more difficult is that decision is often irrevocable after retirement begins.

Providing a survivorship annuity can result in a substantial decreasean the monthly benefit paid to the retiring worker. This mandatory-unless-waived provision exposes pension benefits to a risk that a survivor benefit will not be paid is the spouse dies tirst. And if the retiree remarries, there is no benefit for the new spouse, yet reduced-supplemental retirement income payments continue

Survivor supplemental retirement meome funded with hie insurance may ofter the best of both worlds ϵ

The greatest pension income available to a retiring worker, and

The assurance that a spouse who survives the refiree may not have to suffer severe financial loss if the retiree dies.
 That can translate into higher supplemental retirement income for both spouses.

RECEIVES 2000 CHEVROLET CHASSIS

The Wakelield Rural Fire District recently accepted delivery of a 2000-Chevrolet Chassis on which a water tank-is to be built. The keys were presented by Tom Brouillette of the Knoepler dealership to Lyle Ekberg and Galen Samuelson

The district expects the new water tank in around 200 days.

The truck features a 7.4 vortec V-8 gas engine and a 4-speed Allison Automatic transmission

The tank will have a lifetime warranty and is being constructed of half-inch thick Pt2 Polygrapylene and will hold 2,000 gallons of water. The sprayer according to district officers will be beneficial in fighting grass fires. The tank also features a 10-inch quick dump and a parallel

Cost of the complete outfit $92,500 being shared by Rural Fire District funds and a $46,250 grant from Gardner Foundation.

The new truck will replace a 1955 Army 6x6 that has a 1,100 gallon tank and was put into service in 1971. District representatives said the old truck may be transferred back to the Forestry Department in Lincoln or to another fire depart

The Rural District currently has another tanker, a 1975 IHC 6x6 that holds 3,000 gallons of water. Lyle Ekberg is chairman of the rural fire district, Galen Samuelson is secre-tary/treasurer. Other members of the board are Bob Jones, Bill Hansen and Rick Driskell

Healthy dining out tips given out and be healthy at the same

Janice Boyce, Extension Food Service Management Specialist with the University of Nebraska, shares these tips:

· Study the menu, Look for menu selections that may have descriptions such as "fress." Other terms to look for include items that say "roasted," "grilled," "steamed" or "poached."

These terms may mean the menu items have been prepared without excess fat, or that they have been prepared with water, bouillon or

 When ordering a salad, request that the dressing be served on the side. This allows you to decide how much dressing you want to add to your salad. The old standby of oil and vinegar is still a good choice for regular dressings. You may also inquire if low-fat or no-fat dressings are available and order these.

· It is wise to stick to reasonably plain dishes. If you are ordering the broiled fish, ask if it may be prepared without adding fat. This usually works if the fish is of the fattier variety, like salmon. A leaner fish, like halibut, may be brushed lightly with oil during preparation. Avoid tartar sauce on your fish. It has a high fat content. A better accompaafter they are cooked.

· Consider the appetizer selections. These items are generally a portion and request that they be served as your entree item.

 Another technique is to request a carry-out container at the beginning of your meal and divide your meal in half. This gets the food out of your sight and allows you to have another meal for later, If you decide use this tip, remember you should not leave the food out of refrigeration for more than a total of two hours from the restaurant. Put the saved meal into the refrigerator immediately after arriving home.

 Dessert may be another area where consumers are tempted to splurge, but there are menu selections that can fit into a healthy lifestyle. Fruit sorbets are a great choice since they are made without fat and generally have a high por tion of fruit juice and pulp. Cakes made with egg whites, such as angel food cakes, are another fatfree alternative. Fruit is also a great choice. There are many dishes prepared with exotic and traditional varieties of fruit. Again, ask which dessert items are prepared with fat or are lower in fat.

· Some restaurants may have worked with a registered dietitian to create special menu items. Ask if the restaurant participates in one of these programs. A special symbol for these items may be on the menu item itself or listed on the bottom of

Siouxland Master Chorale performing at Our Savior Lutheran Church on May 5

The Siouxland Master Chorale will be performing at Our Savior Lutheran Church on Friday, May 5 at 8 p.m.

This choral group rehearses week ly in Sloux City and is made up of adult voices from the Siouxland area of Iowa, Nebraska, and South Dakota. Area members are Morris and Elizabeth Anderson and Connie Webber of Wayne and Gerry Kent of Pender.

The concert will feature sacred as well as secular works including an Irving Berlin nostalgic medley and an arrangement of "America the Beautiful.

The compact is free of charge with a free-will offering being taken.

In preparation for their June 9-day tour of Japan, the group is giving several area concerts: May Wayne and May 6-7 at Epiphany Cathedral in Sioux City, and May 9 in LaMars, Iowa.

Gregory Fuller serves on the faculty at Brian Cliff College. He conducts the Briar Cliff Singers, Chorale and Chamber Singers. Choirs and study groups under his leadership have toured throughout North America and Europe.

Along with the Siouxland Master Chorale, Mr. Fuller is also the con-

Band and the Chancel Choir at Grace United Methodist Church. As a Cathedral Arts Guild Board member he is coordinator and conductor

Quilt winner

Leona Kluge displays the quilt she won recently in a raffle at St. Mary's Catholic Church. The quilt was constructed in approximately three weeks by the women of the Afternoon Council of Catholic Women. Following the completion of the first quilt, a second quilt was made and given to Father Robert Bester, who is currently serving as pastor at St. Mary's Church. More than $350 was raised during the raffle. The money was donated to St. Mary's School for use in the educational programs. Members of the Council of Catholic Women would like to thank all those who supported the raffle. Mrs. Kluge plans to give the quilt to her granddaughter in New York who is getting married this year.

Touching the Future With Care

National Hospital Week: May 7th - 13th

The new millennium carries with it an awesome responsibility. At Providence Medical Center in Wayne Nebraska, we have found a power! I way to meet every challenge - awesome people!

We are grateful to our team members who shade our spirit and give us confidence and hope for even greater successes. We are moving ahead on the strengths of our past - a past forged by people such as themselves.

And we are grateful to all of you, the people we are here to serve, for your faith in us and in our ability to provide you and those you love with quality medical care.

Like a voyage into the great unknown, hospitals across the country are sailing into the future. How we approach it will shape lives, so we're touching the future with care - care for our employees and our physicians, care for our patients, care for our community, care tor the world we live in, care for YOU!

Thank you for placing your trust in Providence Medical Center and for giving us every reason to celebrate National Hospital Week 2000.

Life like a patchwork quilt

It's May Day, and we've had another quarter inch of rain. A blessing, but not enough. Ironically, the Big Farmer and I had just arrived at the UNL ball diamond, ready to watch the team we've been reading about, when it began.

We found a picnic table under the bleachers and put up an umbrella, but gave up after half an hour. They did play, eventually, but I had to be in Syracuse at 5:30, so we couldn't wait around for two hours.

I'm not sure why these things come in bunches, but they always do. Last night was the third talk in four days. By then, "it was well rehearsed, but much shorter than the first time.

In 1986, the LWML retreat at Camp Luther had as its theme, Life is a Patchwork Quilt. As you can imagine, it was an easy and fun theme to decorate with. We still use two quilt-patch place mats from that retreat on our kitchen table. (Germans never throw anything away). I've used that talk several times since, admitting that my life actually resembles a crazy quilt.

So, when Judy Holling called about Our Savior Church's Victorian friendship Tea, I offered the patch work quilt once again; thinking it could be recycled. (This was Our Savior Church in Norfolk, by the way, not the one in Wayne.). She proceeded to plan for quilts.

Trouble is, I couldn't find my notes on this topic! They weren't where they always had been, and a quick survey of the box I call a file didn't turn them up. So, I had to re-

You know what? Life really does resemble a patch work quilt. It's made of all our experiences, birth to death, sad and glad, put together in

Our filling, or batting, is what we learn from said experiences and the backing can be likened to the faith that helps us deal with what life

Then, the quilt is placed in a frame and stretched while it is stitched. If it isn't adequately stretched, it won't turn out right. Finally, the quilt is used and washed and used again, until it is worn and frayed and wrinkled, which makes

Our life quilts may come in many sizes: doll size to king, depending on its length. Each is precious, I was told several weeks ago that the emergency room nurses at Bergan Hospital have created baby size quilts for the SIDS deaths. What a loving thing to do.

Anyway, my new talk has now been well broken in. Thursday night was very special; and very emotional. I saw lots of old friends, you know me, I collect friends. We probably only have half a dozen "friends of the heart" in our lifetime, friends we can tell our deepest thoughts and darkest concerns to. But there are many "friends of the road," and They are important, too. I appreciated all of the hugs.

Dee Breslin says in her book, "Friendships of Women," that women crave friendship in ways that men cannot relate to. And these can be nurtured around a quilt frame. Which may be one of the reasons there are quilts in every culture. I think it's a wonderful tra

ELECTION PREVIEW

EDITOR'S NOTE

Nebraskans will be voting on one issue when they go to the Primary Election polls on May 9. So that voters can better understand this important proposed change to the state Constitution, the Nebraska Press Association in cooperation with this newspaper has prepared a report on this issue. This report briefly defines the Issue, explaining its purpose and finally stating the Nebraska voters approved the English-only amendment in 1920, in a wave of anti-German sentiment arising after World War I. It was passed by 5-to-1 margin.

Even if voters pass this amendment, the Constitution still will require English to be the official lan-guage of the state; all official proguage of the state, and publications to be in English, and public schools to teach in English.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT 1:

A constitutional amendment to eliminate an English language requirement for private, denominational and parochial schools. A vote for the dment would delete "private denominational and parochial schools" from Article 1, Section 27 of the state constitution, which declares English to be the official language of the state and requires the public schools to teach in English. SUPPORT: Supporters say the amendment corrects the Constitution to reflect a 1923 U.S. Supreme Court decision that the state cannot force private and parochial schools to teach in English. The 1920 provision has not been enforced for more than 75

OPPOSITION: There is no known formal opposition to the proposed amendment, which was approved by the Legislature in a 48-0
