Noticeable progress

Board votes to raise growth rate

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

A special meeting was held prior to the Wayne Community Schools Board meeting Monday night. A hearing to exceed the basic allowable growth rate began at 7 p.m. The board voted to increase the authority of one percent over the growth rate provided by the State. The additional percent could be used for high or costs the district may encounter through the upcoming school year.

The regular meeting began at 7:10 p.m. The board approved increasing the full time equivalent for certified staff members from 100 to 105.

The board also approved non-certified staff members. Kara Duester will have a position.

Decisions regarding the size reduction contract. The board decided to do nothing about the last second semester when they may have a contract.

The board then held a meeting for board members. The meeting was held on Monday, Sept. 11, at the high school in Wayne.

Council gives permission

McDonalds can move forward

Plans continue to move forward with the construction of a McDonalds restaurant in Wayne following action taken during Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne City Council.

John Ryan, a representative of the McDonalds Corporation, spoke at the meeting and asked that the city waive the request to pave a section of frontage road on the north end of the property they have purchased along East Highway 35. They are hoping to construct the facility in such a way that Sixth Street could be extended on the south side of the property should the city decide to do so in the future.

The council gave its approval for a cost share for the paving of the frontage road and will continue to meet with the corporation to work out details on the building of the restaurant.

It is estimated that the facility could be operational by the end of the year.

The council also approved on first reading the issuance of Public Building Sales Tax Revenue Bonds in the amount of $3,000,000 for the construction of the Community Activity Center.

Phil Lorenzen of Kirkpatrick-Pettis explained that while the city sales tax does not go into effect until October 1, purchasing the bonds at this time would be a wise financial decision due to lower interest rates.

Lorenzen said that at projected sales revenues in the city, the bond debt could be paid off in nine to 10 years. At that time, the city sales tax would be discontinued.

No one spoke during a public hearing on the proposed acquisition of property for the new firehall.

Museum Quilt Show to be held at Winside

The theme for the Winside Museum Committee's quilt show is "Nimble Fingers: Then and Now." The dates of the show are Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 9-10.

The show will be held at the Winside Auditorium. Doors will be open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. both days. Local quilter Lin Brummels will be on hand to "white glove" or detail quilts for those attending.

The entrants for the event have been keeping with the theme and include both the young and the more mature. Quilts have been entered by a youth belonging to a Stanton County 4-H Club to a 97-year old Wayne Care Centre resident, Bernice Lindsay.

Mrs. Lindsay is a former Winside resident and is entering a quilt she made in 1944.

Quilts made by the late Mathilde Reeg are being featured as well. Mrs. Reeg was a member of the Theophilus Church and made several quilts for museum fund-raisers after the church was moved into Winside and used for a museum.

The committee is still looking for wall hangings, works in progress, antique quilts, mini quilts, baby quilts and modern day quilts to display.

Anyone wishing to enter a quilt or quilts should contact Lin Brummels, Rural Route 1, Box 154, Winside, 68790 as soon as possible. The quilt owner's names, address, the name of the person or persons who made the quilt, the year the quilt was made and the name of the pattern. Persons entering quilts should have them delivered to the auditorium between 5 and 8 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 8. The quilts need to be picked up between 4 and 6 p.m. on Sunday, Sept. 10.

There will be a $2 donation at the door during the show. The pattern of this year's raffle quilt is "Timber Valley." The top was pieced and donated by Della Holtgrew. Warner of Punta Gorda, Fla. and the hand quilting was done by the Trinity Lutheran Church Ladies.

Raffle tickets are $1 each or six tickets for $5 and are available from committee members.

In addition to the quilt raffle, there will be table vendors and door prizes. Vendors planning to be on hand for the two-day event are Holly Berry Creek and Company, Antiques on Main, Helen and Sue Holtgrew with leather crafts and pillows, Emma Burris with hand-painted crafts and Caroline Burris with greet-

Highway 35 group has meeting to plan strategy

A meeting of the Highway 35 Expressway Association was held in Wayne on Tuesday.

More than 15 members of the association were on hand to discuss the group's plan of action following four recent public meetings and the release of a feasibility study.

The study was undertaken by the Nebraska Department of Roads in an effort to determine if traffic numbers or economic development would make an expressway between Norfolk and South Sioux City necessary.

Sam Schroeder, President of the Association, asked those in attendance what steps they felt were necessary to move forward with attempts to have an expressway built.

Those in attendance felt that getting the proposed expressway on the state of Nebraska's Expressway Plan should be the priority. That step is necessary before the group can hope to obtain any federal funding for the project.

The group plans to visit with the State Highway Commission in the near future and express their feelings on the findings of the recent study of three separate roadways. They include Highway 81 from Norfolk to Yankton, a connection between Wayne and Vermillion, S.D. and the Highway 35 Expressway from Norfolk to South Sioux City.

The general consensus of the group was to focus their efforts on the Highway 35 Expressway and continue to gather local community support for its construction.

Theatre preparing for final show

The final show of the Wayne Community Theatre's 1999-2000 season will be performed Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 8-10 and Friday and Saturday, Sept. 15-16 at the Carriage House Theatre in the Mineshaft Mall in Wayne.

Traditionally the Community Theatre performs a musical at this time of year but due to renovations at Wayne State College and Wayne High School, space became a problem and the group opted to perform a mystery/comedy instead.

"Murder is a Game," written by Fred Carmichael, will be directed by Todd Young, who has been involved with a number of Community Theatre productions. The production is being produced by arrangement with Samuel French, Inc.

Others involved in the play include Casey Daehnke, Eric "Vito" Cole, Latricia Olsen, John Dunning, Emily Lutt, Jamie Dolezal and Joni Dolezal.

The play is about a mystery writing couple who both have writer's block.

Toby and Sloan Bigelow are sent by their publisher to an old movie mansion with a cast of extras, to act out a fictitious murder in the hope of getting their atrophied brains working again. All goes well until a real murder takes place.

Full of comedy and suspense, there will be something for the whole family in this show.

Performances begin at 7:30 p.m. each evening except for the Sunday, Sept. 10 performance which will be a 2 p.m. matinee. Tickets may be purchased at State National Bank & Trust Company, Sav Mor Pharmacy or at the door.

In addition to working on the final performance of the current season, the Community Theatre is about to begin its annual fund drive.

Area residents have been encouraged to become patrons of the theatre. Brochures will be mailed out in the near future with information on levels of participation. For more information, contact Mick Kemp, President of the Wayne Community Theatre.

Wayne High School students visit Germany

Six students from Wayne High School and their German teacher, Edith Zahniser had the pleasure of going to school in Germany during their summer vacation.

The group continued the partnership begun last year between Wayne High and the Staetisches Gymnasium in Steinheim, North-Rhine-Westphalia.

The students stayed with host families in the Steinheim area, which contained beautiful forests, fields and meadows and small towns and villages.

Wayne students attended classes in the morning, "shadowing" their host brothers and sisters.

The group also took part in several day trips and enjoyed a day at Expo 2000 (the World's Fair 2000) in Hannover. There, more than 180 countries and international organizations exhibited their vision of the world in the 21st century.

According to Mrs. Zahniser, "the central experience of the trip, though, was living with a German family, becoming part of its daily life, and — for a few weeks — finding a second home with brothers and sisters."

The Steinheim part of the trip was followed by a fast-paced four day stay in the capital city of Berlin, with waling tours of the downtown area and various neighborhoods and visits to the most important historical sites and the buildings of the "New Berlin," including the splendidly restored Reichstag.

A two-day family stay in Nuremberg gave students a chance to make new friends in a different part of Germany before flying back to Nebraska.

Now that the new school year has started here in Wayne, preparations are moving ahead for the visit of nine Steinheim students and their accompanying teacher, Martin Zurwehme.

Kristin Echtenkamp, Allison Lindner and Kathryn Taber, members of the Wayne group traveling to Germany, are eagerly awaiting the arrival of their German sisters to Nebraska. The other members of the group will stay with families in Wayne and Carroll.

The Steinheim group will attend to Oct. 14. For more information about this exchange, contact Mrs. Zahniser at the high school, (402) 375-3150.

Department gets new equipment

The Wayne Police Department has received a new Intoxilyzer 5000 evidentiary alcohol breath testing instrument from a traffic safety grant award.

The unit, valued at over $5,700, is being provided by the Nebraska Office of Highway Safety as part of the ongoing effort to reduce alcohol-related traffic crashes, injuries and fatalities.

The new unit will replace one purchased by the Wayne Department in 1984.

According to Highway Safety Administrator Fred Zwonechek,

"This state-of-the-art scientific alcohol breath testing instrument will compliment the area law enforcement officer's ability to collect evidence from suspects in drunk driving cases."

The Intoxilyzer 5000 measures the blood alcohol concentration using a suspect's breath sample.

In Nebraska there were 2,022 alcohol-related crashes reported in the most recent 12 month period for which results are available. In addition, 13,119 individuals were arrested for driving while intoxicated in Nebraska in 1997.

The city is currently waiting for the results of soil borings and an appraisal on the property before final action can be taken.

In other action, the council passed a resolution approving Otte Construction, Inc., as the Contract Management Firm for the Community Activity Center Project.

Leo Ahmann, Director of Main Street Wayne, asked for permission to close part of Second Street on Saturday, Sept. 16 for "Wake Up With Wayne" activities. His request also included allowing crafters and exhibit tables in front of Main Street businesses and the use of the parking lot behind City Hall.

The request was granted.

Resolution 2000-44 was passed, authorizing the allocation of property taxes to the Wayne Airport Authority. The state law requires that the Airport Authority seek funds from the City Council as part of the city's operating levy amount. The Airport Authority requested $42,377.60.

Ordinance 2000-19 was passed and the three readings waived granting a non-exclusive franchise to HunTel Cable Vision, Inc.

The agreement includes the increase in pole rental fees from the current $3 per pole to $5 next year and $8 the following three years. In addition, the agreement allows for the collection of the current franchise fee of five percent of cable revenues and a non-exclusive 10 year term.

Two agenda items involved the Wayne Skate Park.

The first was the fact that $25,000 has been included in the city's budget for next year for a Skate Park and the second was a request for the city to submit an application for a Skate Park Grant from the Gardner Foundation.

The Wayne Herald

Vote smart, protect your right to ride

As most of you know, I am an avid snowmobiler. I love the outdoors and have seen great places while snowmobiling. I recently talk to Ed Klim of the International Snowmobile Council. He is very concerned with the Clinton/Gore Administration's attitude toward the wilderness closure issue. Here is a letter Ed wrote me and I would like to share with you.

"This upcoming election will be the most important election for recreationists in the history of the United States. We have a very distinct choice to make this fall in choosing our national elected representatives. Many Americans have stood on the sideline and have taken a passive approach in the election of a President or Congressman — not realizing the full implications of their vote on their recreation activity.

During the last seven years, manufacturers of all recreational vehicles have experienced the difference that a change in a federal government agency leadership can have on an industry and recreation activity.

The federal agency make-up is a complicated one and I would like to explain what we are dealing with and how and why the election is so important!

The U.S. Department of Interior manages the National Park System and the Bureau of Land Management recreation activities. The Department of Interior Secretary is Bruce Babbitt, who was the president of the League of Conservation Voters, an organization that was founded by Friends of the Earth. Mr. Babbitt was appointed by Bill Clinton. Mr. Babbitt then appointed his friends to key positions within the Department of Interior. Mr. Babbitt appointed Mr. Don Barry to head up the Fish, Wildlife & Parks Department within the Department of the Interior. It is Mr. Barry who initiated many actions to limit or stop recreational access to Department of Interior lands (i.e.: national Parks and Bureau of Land Management recreation areas.)

Mr. Barry has recently resigned from government service and is now the executive director of the Wilderness Society of the United States. To give you an idea of Mr. Barry's bend, all one needs to do is visit the Wilderness Society web site. The Wilderness Society proudly claims that there are 104 million acres of designated wilderness in the United States of America (roughly the size of Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin). Much of that wilderness is needed and supported by the vast majority of Americans. What is disturbing is that the Wilderness Society intends to 2000 million more acres of Wilderness to the designated Wilderness areas. (200 million acres is approximately the size of Texas and Louisiana). Therefore, the Wilderness Society's stated goal within the next 10 years is to have 304 million acres of designated Wilderness in the United States of America.

We believe that this is more wilderness than necessary. Remember, once an area is designated as "wilderness" that no mechanical devices can be used in the wilderness. Obviously, that outlaws snowmobiles, ATVs, motorcycles and off-highway vehicles, but it also bans the use of bicycles and horses. When a wilderness area is designated, the boundaries often extend all the way to the highway road system bordering the area. When that occurs, all trailheads, parking areas and access is removed for those that wish to park their vehicles and go hiking or snowmobiling. A wilderness designation always prohibits snowmobiles, but it often prohibits hiking since the trailheads are removed and you can't hike to most wilderness areas from Chicago or Detroit.

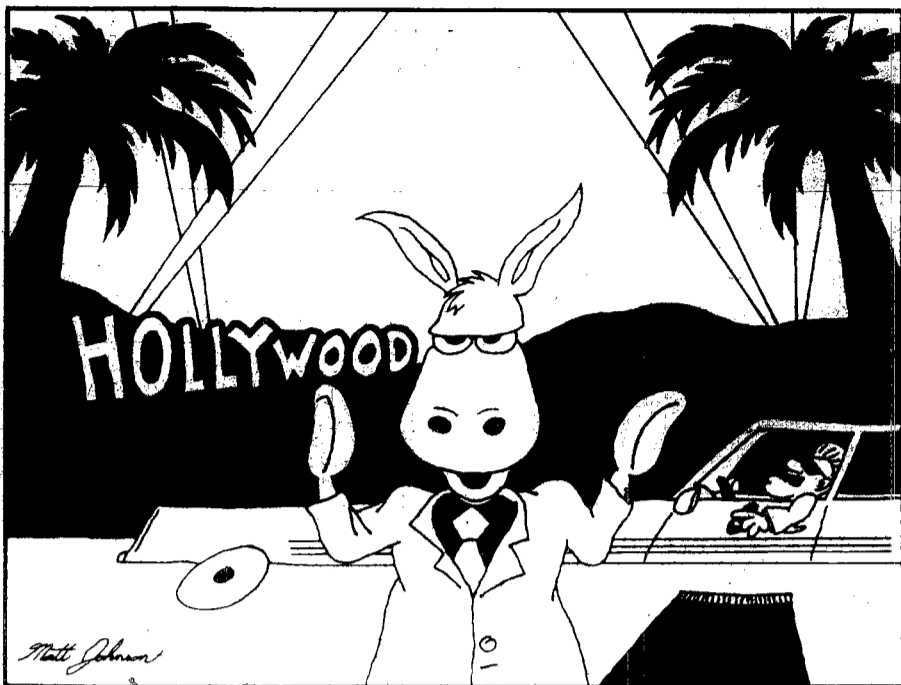

In addition to the Department of Interior, we work closely with the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Yes, the same U.S. Federal Department that assists our hardworking farmers throughout the U.S. also manages all of the U.S. national Forests. Please do not confuse them with our beautiful State Forests. The National Forests are managed by an individual named Michael Dombeck. Mr. Dombeck is a school-trained biologist from Wisconsin and is not an experienced Forester. Mr. Dombeck, not being a forester, views Forest Management as a preservationist and not as a recreationist or outdoor enthusiast. Mr. Dombeck is the individual behind the Roadless Initiative and the new Road Management Plan for the U.S. Forest Service. A few years ago the U.S. Forest Service changed their Forest management activities. They have fewer roads that can be used as fire breaks and, in many forests, they have halted the thinning of forests and the removal of dead or fallen trees. It is partially because of this action that we now have U.S. Forests covered in many feet of dead, drying trees that are nothing more than potential tinderboxes and fuel systems that are helping fuel these fires that we see destroying the forests in Montana, Idaho and more.

Most every state in the country is impacted to a certain degree by the management of our National Park system and our U.S. National Forests. It is important to remember that each of these land groups is managed by separate agencies within the Federal government. It is also important to note that the President of the United States of America appoints the individuals that manage these departments. This particular administration chose long ago to appoint preservationists and anti-public access individuals. Mr. Clinton has recently established more land monuments in the U.S. than any other president in history. These monuments not only remove land from the tax rolls but will continue to burden the Department of Interior with management issues. If these huge tracts of land, suddenly taken away from us are not properly managed, we can forecast greater recreation pressure on adjacent land and possible greater fires due to mismanagement.

So, the next time you ride your snowmobile through a U.S. National Forest, remember that there are some individuals in our country who are working hard to turn those forests into wilderness areas that will not allow any of us to enter. Also, remember when you visit a National Park, that there are some managers within the U.S. Department of Interior that wish to halt your ability to enter into the park in your privately owned vehicle.

I am not sure how America got to where we are in such a short period of time, but it appears that the era of big government is not over, but it has just put on a different mask, which needs to be exposed. You are encouraged to participate in this upcoming election in November and vote for individuals that represent your philosophy — hopefully one of democracy, enjoyment of our great land by you and your children and diminished federal government control."

Mr. Klim is the spokesman for the four main manufacturer of snowmobiles. All the manufacturers know and understand that better environmentally designed engines are needed and not far from being a reality. But President Clinton and his administration want an "all or nothing" approach which the American people will not stand for.

That GOP convention was nothing but a show for rich snobs! Ours is way different!

Study in progress to identify needed changes at the University of Nebraska

It is as dependable as road construction during the football season. Every so often the University of Nebraska will roll out the barrel and try to get the Legislature on the other side of it.

The NU system maintains that if it doesn't get more money, from somewhere, there will be dire consequences: Faculty and administrators will leave. All manner of educational effort will suffer.

There is, of late, a proposal abroad for a look at all the academic programs on all four NU campuses.

Well, dandy. We would say "it's about time," were it not for the unarguable fact that a glance at reality for the university system has been overdue for about 20 years.

NU President Dennis Smith is a hard-eyed realist who, behind the social graces that a guy in his job has to exhibit, can be as tough as nails. This is a good time for some of that toughness to be put to good use. He should see that this study is the real deal.

The idea behind the study, as we initially understand it, is to determine what NU can do best and then (perhaps?) concentrate on those areas. Such evaluations are always accompanied by assurances of fairness to all areas of academia, proclamations that each is important to the future of the university blah, blah and blah. If such were the case, there wouldn't be a study in the offering. It's also understandable that when academics in various disciplines wail about the importance of their field to the future of the world they are also thinking about the importance of keeping their jobs.

This latest business about NU and what it can and cannot be, because of money, is only the latest example of a syndrome that has long plagued Nebraska's educational efforts at every level - from rural, one-room schools all the way to the Lincoln campus of dear ol' Nebraska U.

That is, Public officials of all kinds proclaim the importance of a first-rate university system, a first-rate K-12 system, a first-rate this and a first-rate that. Fellow citizens, fellow taxpayers, that line of thinking is, as Harry S. Truman once said so eloquently: "Manure! Manure, manure, manure!" (The president was more plain spoken earlier in life, and Bess Truman was very proud of getting him to say manure rather than something with more proletarian flavor.)

Anyway, it's what all this decades-old jabbering about NU

College Scholarships from Ak-Sar-Ben are now being accepted

The Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben Foundation is now accepting applications for the 2001 Ak-Sar-Ben Leadership College Scholarship Program, made possible through funds raised at the annual Coronation Ball. All proceeds generated from this year's event scheduled for Oct. 21, 2000 will benefit future award recipients.

With the upcoming 2001 award cycle, the Foundation will again be awarding 20 scholarships. Each scholarship will be a $2,500 annual award for full-time study at a four-year institution in Nebraska and western Iowa.

To obtain an application form and a listing of eligibility requirements for the $10,000 scholarship, students are encouraged to contact their high school guidance counselors' office or visit the Ak-Sar-Ben web site at www.aksarben.org. All applications are due no later than Feb. 16, 2001.

This scholarship program is just one of those supported by the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben Foundation which was founded in 1895 "to build a more prosperous Heartland, where communities can flourish and every child can succeed."

wanting to be a first-class university amounts to - and it isn't going to change. NU has more openings for top administrators than the New York office of the Mafia. NU professors of substance with a desire for a better deal are not hard-pressed to find one.

NU is not going to be a Harvard on the Plains. It's a land grant school in a state that doesn't have population, major industry or oil. And if it did, they could all (probably) wheedle sufficient tax breaks through the Nebraska Legislature to avoid ponying up enough money to make a difference, anyway.

Nebraskans should hope that this study will give the state a clear and candid picture of what NU is doing, and what it can do best.

Such a study wouldn't guarantee an iota of practical action - but it would be a worthwhile start.

Ceremonies held at Welcome Center

Groundbreaking ceremonies at the Corps of Discovery Welcome Center took place on Aug. 5 at the scenic overlook just off Highway 81 south of Yankton, S.D.

Gary Kimm, committee member and vice president of the Upper Missouri United Chamber of Commerce, acted as Master of Ceremonies for the event.

Those taking part in the event included State Senator Bob Dickey, Gene Glock for Senator Bob Kerrey,

Jim Barr representing Congressman Bereuter, Bob Lingenfelter, Vice President for the Northeast Nebraska Resource Conservation & Development (RC & D) Council; John Craig, Director of the Nebraska Department of Roads, John Kingsbury, District Three Highway

Commissioner; and Leroy Hoising Chairman of the Lewis & Clark Natural Resources District.

Special thanks were given to Carmen Shaffer, Gary Howey, Tom Moser, Peggy Year, Phil Campbell, Gary Kimm, John Depe and don Cook for their service as the Corps of Discovery Welcome Center Committee.

Barb Hoffart, CloAnn Shamblen and Jan Jorgensen, RC & D staff were thanked for their hard work and efforts on the project.

The Reverend Larry and Karen Smith of Brunswick, Jim Wortman of Crofton and Cathy Harts from Mission Hill, S.D. provided musical entertainment.

Hal Stearns of Wayne, an authority on the Lewis & Clark trek, spoke to the group on some of the untold stories of the expedition and its membership. He focused on where the group was on Aug. 5 of each year of the exploration.

The Nebraska Humanities Council provided funding for his presentation. Orville Littleowl of Winnebago and his family demonstrated and explained Native American dances.

The Welcome Center will provide information about the region and all of Nebraska's tourist attractions. A small law enforcement office will improve traveler safety in the area.

Additional donations are still needed and can be sent to the Northeast Resource Conservation & Development (RC&D) Council Office, Rural Route 2 Box 67, Plainview, Neb 68769

'Cats spikers go 1-3 in Arizona tourney WSC wins first match

The Wayne State volleyball team opened season play in Phoenix, Arizona last Thursday and Sharon Vanis' squad earned a season-opening win over Southern Colorado in straight games, 15-9, 15-11, 15-8. Sophomore Rayna Nelsen hammered home 18 kill spikes to pace the winners with Lindsey Koch netting 13 kills and Jessie Erwin, seven. Kasey Meyer had 36 set assists and Koch led the team in serving with three aces. Koch had a team-best 14 digs with Erwin notching a dozen and Heather Schuller, nine. At the net it was Laurie Schroeder leading the way with seven block assists. WSC fell to Grand Canyon (host team) in match two in five games, 13-15, 15-11, 15-10, 12-15, 5-15. Lindsey Koch paced a well-balanced attack with 14 kill spikes with Jessie Erwin and Rayna Nelsen notching nine kills each. Kasey Meyer had 35 set assists and Lindsey Boehm notched two serving aces. Koch notched 24 digs to lead the defense with Jessie Erwin and Janel Moody notching 14 apiece. Lindsey Boehm finished with 12 digs. Rayna Nelsen paced the defense at the net with three blocking aces and six block assists. The 'Cats fell to Arkansas Tech in match three on Saturday, 7-15, 5-15, 11-15. Rayna Nelsen had 10 kills and Lindsey Koch, nine to lead WSC with Kasey Meyer notching 23 set assists. Koch also had 10 digs to lead WSC with Heather Schuller notching nine digs. Nelsen had four block assists for team tops. The tournament ended with WSC falling to Grand Valley State, 10-15, 6-15, 8-15. Rayna Nelsen had a dozen kills and Jessie Erwin, nine while Kasey Meyer tallied 36 set assists. Lindsey Koch had 16 digs. "We really played well in our first match against a pretty reputable school (Southern Colorado)," coach Sharon Vanis said. "We were the aggressors and there were very few free balls." Vanis said the match with Grand Canyon could have gone either way but the 'Cats may have panicked a little. "Grand Canyon had four seniors on the floor and we don't have any," Vanis said. "It may have been the case of maturity." The Wildcats mentor said her squad looked a little drained against Arkansas Tech and Grand Valley State. "It was 99 degrees in the gym while we were playing," Vanis said. "We're not real deep. We just got a little fatigued." WSC will play at the Morningside Tournament on Saturday with matches against South Dakota (8 a.m.), Quincy (2 p.m.) and Morningside (4 p.m.).

Amy Harder places first with an 82 Wayne golfers win

The Wayne girls golf team opened season play at the Wakefield Invite last Saturday and Dave Hix's team opened in fine fashion with a 27-stroke win over the closest competitor. The Blue Devils fired a 372 with Oakland-Craig netting a 399 and Humphrey St. Francis, third at 410.

Norfolk Catholic was fourth at 417 and Pender, fifth with a 430 followed in order by Cedar Catholic, Tekamah-Herman, Pender JV's, Elkhorn Valley, Pierce, Wakefield "A" (522) and Wakefield "B" (548). Sophomore Amy Harder captured medalist honors with an 82 including a 39 on the back nine while junior Kari Harder was fourth overall with a 94. Monica Novak placed seventh with a 96 and Karla Keller tied for 10th at 100. Katie Nelson netted a 106 for Wayne's fifth score. "It was a good way to start the season with a team win," coach Dave Hix said. "It was a little strange format as the par was set at 38." Hix said Amy Harder had most of her game working with the exception of putting. "She had 40 putts after hitting 14 of 18 greens in regulation. "Our top three girls should have shot one of their best rounds since the course is fairly easy," Hix added

WSC still to rely on youth on soccer field

The Wayne State College women's soccer team will look to continue its winning ways as the Wildcats begin their second season of play in the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference. Third-year head coach Justin Cole has the team pointed in the right direction after recording back-to-back winning seasons in each of his first two years. In 1999, the Wildcats finished with a 12-6 overall record and a 5-4 mark in the NSIC, good enough for fifth place in the final league standings. Seeded fifth at the NSIC Tournament, the Wildcats won their first round game and advanced to the semifinals, capping the most successful season in the program's short three-year existence. Riding last year's success, Cole and his Wildcats have their eyes set toward the top of the Northern Sun Conference this season. "We are definitely pleased with the progress we've made over the past two seasons," said Cole, who is 18-11 in two seasons after taking over a program which went winless in its debut season in 1997. "However, we have much to accomplish before we can afford to get too satisfied with our recent successes. We still have a lot of work ahead of us if we are to achieve some of the goals we've set before ourselves." If the Wildcats are to attain some of those lofty goals, it will have to come from the very young and gifted players. Wayne State boasts 18 underclassmen on this season's roster. Cole is hoping this young squad will rise to the challenge and play like veterans rather than rookies. "We are definitely going to have to have some solid contributions from our younger players," Cole said. "We certainly have a very talented freshman class, but I really like the improvements I've seen in our returners. This team is going to be very competitive down the line. How quickly we can reach that point depends a lot on how fast some of our younger players can pick-up the system and raise their games to this level of competition." Despite their youth, Cole welcomes back eight returning starters and three all-conference players to this year's roster. That should help provide some of the necessary leadership for the incoming class. "I have some quality young ladies returning that will do a great job of leading this team," Cole said. "There are obviously some challenges that come with such a large number of underclassmen, but I think our leaders are really excited about what the future holds for this program. We're anxious to see what we can be. I'm confident our returning players will help guide the younger players in the right direction." The Wildcats return three first-team all-conference players in junior forward Sarah Herrick, junior defender Brienne Abshier and sophomore midfielder Abbey Kalbinger. Senior defenders Sara Zimmer and Jill Eschliman will also provide some much needed leadership. Herrick led the Wildcats with 18 goals, a single-season school record, and 12 assists last season while Kalbinger added six goals and 14 assists. Zimmer, an honorable mention all-conference performer, tallied four goals and three assists. Abshier, Herrick, Zimmer and Eschliman have been chosen as captains for this year's team. Other key components of last year's squad include junior midfielder Alana Pfeffer, sophomore forwards Mary McDaniel (12 goals) and Jackie Arnold (nine goals) and sophomore midfielder Becky Woelfel (five assists). Cole said intensity on defense and an exciting offense should make this Wildcat team a fun squad to watch. "Pressure team defense is and always will be the backbone of our

Hoffman era begins Thursday night WSC to tackle UNK

By Jason Sturek
For the Herald

The Wayne State football team is set to launch their 2000 campaign tonight at Foster Field against host the University of Nebraska-Kearney. Kick-off is set for 6:00 p.m.

Scott Hoffman will be calling the plays for the first time since taking the head coaching job at WSC last December. The trip to Kearney is bitter-sweet for Hoffman, as he spent twelve years at UNK, three as the offensive coordinator.

Hoffman is the 20th coach in WSC football history. He inherited a program that is seeking to turn itself around.

The first game of the season could prove to be a difficult one. According to Hoffman, UNK has a talented team that is ranked 24th nationally and features the top ranked quarterback in the nation in Division II.

Tonight marks the 73rd meeting between Wayne State and UNK, a historical rivalry dating back to 1924. There have only been four seasons since that first game that the teams have not met. UNK has the upper hand in recent years, winning the last two times and four of the last six in the series.

Preseason Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference (NSIC) rankings project the Wildcats to finish seventh of 10 conference teams. The Wildcats tallied 8 fewer points behind sixth place Southwest State in the poll of 10 league head coaches. Northern State was picked unanimously atop the conference charts

This will be the second season of conference play for WSC but is the first year the Wildcats are eligible for the NSIC championship honors. Wayne State was asked to cut its scholarship players to 21.

Wayne State returns 14 starters from last year's squad. Hoffman is pleased to have that kind of experience returning but he expressed concern about overall team depth, especially when facing a ranked team in the first game of the season.

Among the most venerable returners is junior running back Elroy Brown. Brown scored 18 touchdowns in 1999 and rushed for 1,360 yards, both WSC records.

He finished eighth nationally in Division II with 110 points and had three or more touchdowns in four games last season.

Bob Barry's career rushing record set in 1979 could be in jeopardy if "Touchdown Brown" can duplicate last season's numbers. He is 1,228 yards from the 3,588 he needs.

The quarterback race has been tight in the preseason, but Hoffman has named Senior Brandon Lavaley the starter for tonight's match-up. As a three-year back up to career passing leader Jaime Jones, Lavaley waited a long time to step into the limelight.

Lavaley has one starting experience under his belt. He called the signals against Moorhead State and led the Wildcats to a 26-7 win last season. He completed 10 of 23 passes for 89 yards and rushed 19 yards for a touchdown.

Sophomore Eric Kjar is also expected to see some action in the opener at quarterback. He tutored under Hoffman at Dakota State but hasn't seen game action in three seasons. A redshirt season, a year away from school, and injuries have kept him from the huddle.

The UNK Lopers had a 7-3 season in 1999 and were third in the Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference (RMAC). They return 42 letterwinners and 17 starters from a year ago.

Justin Coleman, quarterback for the Lopers, has been picked the preseason All-American by several organizations.

In the backfield for Coleman is Zach Mader and receiver Trevor Weston. The three constitute a great deal of the Loper attack.

Defensively, UNK is led by Brandon Lindau, Jake Coryell, and Lavon Washington. Washington was an RMAC First Team selection in 1999.

Hoffman said he hopes that UNK would not overlook his team, but could see it as a possibility. Staying healthy and controlling the clock are primary goals for the Wildcats.

team," Cole said. "That being said, I think you'll see a pretty potent offensive attack as well. We'll use our team speed to our advantage on both sides of the ball."

The Wildcats finished 14th in the nation in scoring last season averaging 3.39 goals per contest.

Wayne State will have a wealth of new faces this season with the addition of 13 freshmen. Some of those expected to see some significant minutes early in their college careers include: Anne Collins (Brookfield, Wis.), Bria Cunard (Blair), Nikki Field (Norfolk), Amanda Keller (Fredonia, Wis.), Sarah Lepak (Green Bay, Wis.), Sarah Lund (Omaha), Erika Mather (Norfolk), Anne Paulsen (Sioux city) and Brea Rath (York, Mich). Michelle Mellenthin (Green Bay, Wis.) and Kalle Wamsat (Valley) will battle for the starting goalkeeper position. Amanda Ferguson (Wolf, Wyo.) is recovering from off season knee surgery. She should be a factor if healthy for this season.

"We've added some very good soccer players in the off season," Cole said. "But more importantly, we feel like we've addressed some needs in our program. We should have more depth this season than any other before it. I'm excited to see how quickly some of these young players can develop."

The Wildcats open the season at Concordia University (Seward) on Aug. 26 before hosting Augustana in their home opener on Aug. 31 at the WSC Soccer Field. Wayne State opens NSIC play against Northern State and Minnesota-Morris on Sept. 23 and 24.

"This has the potential to be breakthrough season for our program," said Cole. "We've added another five games to our schedule while strengthening our non-conference part of the schedule. The Northern Sun schools continue to improve and it should be a very tight race once again this fall. One thing is for certain-it should be entertaining."

WSC women defeat Concordia in soccer

By Jason Sturek
For the Herald

The Wayne State Women's Soccer team took no prisoners in their opening game of the 2000 season with an 8-0 rout of Concordia last Saturday in Seward.

The 'Cats dominated the match, playing every member of the roster in the process and head coach Justin Cole liked what he saw.

"This was a great way to kick-off our season. We had a chance to let everyone play and get the first-game jitters out of the way."

Everyone made some sort of positive contribution during this contest and that's fun to be a part of, Cole said.

Sarah Herrick, Mary McDaniel and Anne Paulsen each netted two goals in the contest with Amanda Keller and Becky Woelfel each had one goal.

Abbey Kalblinger had three assists with Jackie Arnold and Amanda Keller notching two assists each. Herrick, Alana Pfeiffer and Sarah Lund had one assist each.

Freshman Michelle Mellenthin and Kalle Wamsat shared goalkeeper duties. A strong defensive effort allowed the two, five saves.

"Everyone knows this team is extremely young, so I was expecting some mistakes in the first half of the season. But to see how quickly this team made adjustments was a pleasant surprise."

"We certainly did not play a perfect game, but we continually got better as the game progressed. We made some adjustments at half and the ladies began to execute and apply the things we've been working on in practice. That's a great sign of things to come."

"I was a little concerned about our health as a whole coming into the Concordia match. We've been pretty banged up early on and I didn't know how that would affect our play."

It was pretty hot and I knew this early in the season we'd have a tough time playing 90 minutes. But, we've had some girls return to the field and we had a sensational contribution from our bench.

That will be pivotal if we are to make a run at the NSIC

Championship. If we can stay healthy and continue to improve it should be an exciting couple of months."

Area motorcycle riders gathered Saturday at The Whitehorse in Wayne for the annual Elworth Harley-Davidson Ride for Life. Among those meeting in Wayne and traveling to Norfolk to join other riders were, front to the far end, Jerry and Donna Schroeder, Jon Fink, Larry and Betty Mitchell, Roberta Engstedt, Eric Gothiel, Dennis Engstedt, Martin Oswald, Dean Nelson, Tim Bebee, Dann and Amy Sowards, Jason Erb, Ron and Karen Green, Dennis and Carmen Rodby, Carey and Laurie Rhoads, Randy Luebbert, Jim and Connie Granquist, Tom and Cindy Schmitz, Jeff Luschen, Bill Swinney, Jason Johnson, and Stacy Weber.

Riders participate in annual 'Ride for Life' for muscular dystrophy

Wayne area residents joined in the 12th annual Elworth Harley-Davidson Ride for Life on Aug. 26. The event is sponsored by Elworth Harley Davidson of Norfolk and is held to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Twenty-eight people and 20 motorcycles were involved in the Wayne ride to Norfolk where the group met up with others traveling to Creighton, Verdigr, Niobrara, Yankton and Crofton. Between $2500 to $3000 was raised in the fundraising ride.

Registration for the ride was from 8 to 11:30 a.m., Saturday, at Elworth Harley-Davidson in Norfolk.

Muscular Dystrophy is a disease that weakens and destroys muscles. Many children and adults stricken with this disease cannot be active in biking and other activities due to this debilitating disease. Fundraising money goes to giving these individuals help and hope.

Funds raised from the MDA Ride for Life help MDA provide a complete clinic program at the University of Nebraska Medical Center for anyone who has one of the 43 neuromuscular diseases covered by the Association. MDA also offers a summer camp program at no cost to children ages 6-21 who are registered with MDA. Money raised is directed to research projects.

The Harley Owner's Group is an established, broad-based rider's group that schedules events and activities of interest to most Harley-Davidson riders. A social, fun, family-oriented club, it has to date raised over $30 million for "Jerry's Kids" nationally.

The Wayne coach said Kari Harder and Monica Novak were both disappointed in their scores.

"We need to get better as a team and start to focus more on team totals and not individual accomplishments," Hix said. "The girls know their potential and they need to just let it happen."

Wayne will play at Norfolk in varsity and JV action on Thursday at Eldorado Hills.

JESSICA DUTCHER led Wakefield with a 15th place overall finish of 105. Jenna Paulson netted a 125 and Missy Moody, 145 while Leslie Beckenhauer carded a 147. Shannon Anderson finished at 148.

Melanie Keim led Wakefield's "B" team with a 120 with Andrea Salmon netting a 125 followed by Jessica Schroeder at 140 and Randi Barge.

Jane is a retired social worker and is the mother of three grown children and grandmother to four.

She asked her pastor to help her find a place where she could make a difference this summer. An ad in 'Presbyterians Today' from Homestead Presbytery caught her eye and here she is.

Kilgore arrived Aug. 1 and will be here most of the month. "With Jane's insights and prodding we are exploring the way we 'do church' and how we might 'do church,'" said Pastor Susan Banholzer, pastor of the parish.

Sunday school teachers have been trained, activities and program discussed and planned. Lay leadership will be a priority, states Pastor Susan.

Jane is here thanks to a grant from the Mission and Stewardship Committee of the Presbyterians. In addition to her work with Wakefield and Thurston Jane has met with the moderator of the church Development/Redevelopment Committee and members of the committee of Ministry who have been asked to consider establishing relationships between big and small churches within the Presbyter.

While Jane has been here she watched the Wakefield Juniors win the state championship, explored Sioux City, attended the Pallas family reunion, played Bible trivia and visited with residents of area care centers, presented a program to Presbyterian Women in Louisville, Ken. last month, attended the wedding of Kenneth Svoboda and Jolene Deaver, visited Camp Calvin Crest near Fremont and thoroughly enjoyed her first visit to Nebraska.

Jane spoke at the annual parish picnic and worship service where she expressed her thanks for her time here, encouraged the congregation to follow through with plans made together and remarked on the care and concern members of the Parish have for one another and also on their strong and sure Christian faith.

"This has been a new experience for both Jane and Unity Parish," said Pastor Susan. "We have talked about the possibility of a follow-up next year."

On Aug. 12, the Laurel Police Department and the Wayne Optimist Club, represented by Marlene Jussel and Lynette Krie, sponsored a Bike Rodeo for Laurel area children in Kindergarten through sixth grade.

Police Chief Gonzales, Jussel, Krie, and volunteers Brad Gonzales and Gene Jussel spent several hours teaching children how to safely use their bikes.

A video on bike safety was shown and Chief Gonzales gave some safety tips and reminded the participants that they were not to ride their bikes on the sidewalks on Main Street.

The children then participated in four events designed to teach them bike safety. The events were: an obstacle course, plank ride (bumping up on a plank and riding across it), steering skill event, and a slow race (riding as slow as possible between two closely spaced lines without losing their balance.)

Each event was scored and the winner in each age group was the child who accumulated the most points in all events.

Chief Gonzales registered the bicycles of each participant by recording the color, make and serial number to be kept on record by the Laurel Police Department.

At the close of the session, refreshments were served, winners were given prizes and each participant was awarded a ribbon.

WSC Community Chorus begins

Community members are encouraged to join Wayne State College students, faculty and staff to return to the Community Chorus hosted by the WSC music division.

Rehearsals are Thursday evenings from 6 to 7:20 p.m. in room 23 in the lower level of the Peterson Fine Arts Building. Rehearsals begin Aug. 31.

"New singers and returning members are welcome. The Chorale will join with the WSC Choir and several other choirs in performances of the Britten War Requiem with the Sioux City Symphony, as well as perform in the fall choral concert on campus," said Dr. Ronald Lofgren, WSC director of choral activities.

The purpose of the chorus is to give people who love to sing a place to perform high quality choral literature with a minimum time commitment. Anyone who has a desire to sing in a community group is encouraged to join. The group will perform a wide variety of music from all periods of history.

Selecting, preparing, and canning information provided for preservation of tomatoes

As everyone is harvesting a good crop of tomatoes, it is time to review your canning practices.

Tomatoes need to have acid added if they are going to be processed by the water bath method. Canned tomatoes produce a high-quality product, ideally suited for use in soups, stews and casseroles.

United States Department of Agriculture Extension Service provides recommended canning methods for most produce. Most altitudes in this area are over 1,000 feet and therefore need to have an altitude adjustment for processing. Quantity: An average of 22 pounds is needed per canner load of 7 quarts; an average of 14 fresh pounds is needed per canner load of nine pints. A bushel weighs 53 pounds and yields 17 to 20 quarts of crushed tomatoes — an average of 2 3/4 pounds per quart. Procedure: Wash tomatoes and dip in boiling water for 30 to 60 seconds or until skins split. Then dip in cold water, slip off skins and remove cores. Trim off any bruised or discolored portions and quarter. Heat one-sixth of the quarters quickly in a large pot, crushing them with a wooden mallet or spoon as they are added to the pot. This will exude juice. Continue heating the tomatoes, stirring to prevent burning. Once the tomatoes are boiling, gradually add remaining quartered tomatoes, stirring constantly. These remaining tomatoes do not need to be crushed. They will soften with heating and stirring. Continue until all tomatoes are added. Then boil gently for five minutes. Add bottled lemon juice or citric acid to jars. To ensure safe acidity in whole, crushed or juiced tomatoes, add two tablespoons of bottled lemon juice or one-half teaspoon of citric acid per quart of tomatoes. For pints, use one tablespoon bottled lemon juice or one-fourth teaspoon citric acid. Add one teaspoon of salt per quart to the jars, if desired. Fill jars immediately with hot tomatoes, leaving one-half inch headspace. Adjust lids and process. Recommended times are given in Table 1, Table 2 and Table 3.

This document was extracted from the "Complete Guide to Home Canning," Agriculture Information Bulletin No. 539, USDA. Reviewed 1994.

For more information on home canning, contact the University of Nebraska Extension Office. Information is available on other methods of canning tomatoes as well as other products.

Potential Problems with Antibiotics

British physicians concerned about appropriate patient use of antibiotic medicines are participating in the National Health Service's antibiotics: Not a miracle cure! campaign. Noted concerns in England could be equally applicable in the US:

■ Patients fail to take the full course of antibiotics prescribed for them. Drug-resistant forms of illnesses may result.

■ Patients forget to take antibiotics at the times prescribed.

■ Some persons think they can share the antibiotics of others - or use an unfinished course of antibiotics for another illness.

■ Patients experience adverse effects - ranging from unwrapped pregnancies due to decreased oral contraceptive effectiveness to overgrowth of yeast (thrush).

For advice on appropriate antibiotic use, talk with your pharmacist or physician.

Bishop to be installed

The Rev. David L. deFreese will be installed as Bishop of the Nebraska Synod, Evangelical Lutheran Church in America on Thursday, Sept. 14 at First Lutheran Church in Kearney.

The Rev. H. George Anderson, presiding bishop of the ELCA, will install Pastor deFreese as Bishop.

Although Bishop deFreese officially begins work on Sept. 1, he and retiring Bishop Richard N. Jessen have met to consult over the summer months. deFreese attended a gathering for newly elected bishops in July. Bishop Jessen announced his retirement last year and completes his service to the Nebraska Synod on Aug. 31.

"Please know the tremendous honor and privilege it is to serve as your bishop. Genuinely, it amazes and humbles me," deFreese said in his first written address to the Nebraska congregations through the Bishop's Update newsletter in August. "With God's kind guidance, I will respond with all the energy, insight and faith possible."

Pastor deFreese has completed his service at First Lutheran Church in Kearney and continues in the process of establishing a team to serve as staff for Nebraska Synod. He will meet with the Cabinet of Deans late this month.

GARDEN CLUB MEETS

The Hoskins Garden Club met at the Nona Wittler home on Aug. 24 for a dessert luncheon.

President Esther Rechtermann began the meeting with some quotes about "Education." The hostess chose the song "America, the Beautiful" for the group to sing. The birthday song was sung for Frieda Meierhenry who had recently celebrated her 90th birthday.

"I Know I'm Getting Older" was the title of a poem read by Frieda. Roll call was answered by telling "A picnic I remember." Seven members were present.

A thank you note was received from the best-over-all-rose recipient at the Wayne County Fair.

The plans were made for the annual September picnic. Nona conducted a flower quiz, read an article about growing apples, and a story entitled "A Pair of Scissors."

Esther presented the comprehensive study, "Tree Basics: Planting and Care," and "Heating and Cooling with Wood" and an article describing the new Lied Conference Center in Nebraska City.

Rose Pyls gave the lesson on the Mourning Dove. She also had a brief quiz.

The equipment was assembled on Aug. 17 with the help of a number of people

Babysitting; retirement goal

This week's column comes from Kansas City. Jon and Kristi have a two week babysitting emergency. Grandma Mary was here last week; so now it's Grandma Pat's turn. One for an evening. And, when they are in school, they can't stay at our house. Grandma goes to theirs.

Grandpa is working at the antique shop and watering the spruce trees; and hopefully, taking reservations.

I remember what a boost it gave me when my Mom just came for a weekend. Or, when my sis volunteered to come up for two days so we could get away. And I only worked a couple evenings a week when our kids were small.

Much as we love our children, it's nice to get away from them for a day or two. It probably helps them appreciate their parents more, too!

I didn't realize how little television I watch until last week, when everyone was talking about "Survivor." I did not see a single episode. Ditto for "Who Wants to be a Millionaire." And, you know what? I bet I can live a long, full life without either show.

But the "O Pioneers" house across the road continues to be a popular place for the Nebraska Film Company. A month ago, they shot a Coke commercial there. Rumor says it will be shown during the Olympics. And, last week, they were there again. We locals know the coded markers they use to direct their trucks.

And it takes a lot of trucks! They go to amazing lengths to transport people and equipment. Channel 7 was out, trying to get the story, but security was tight. They came to the Farm. House and interviewed us, instead. It's fun living on "movie row," even if we never see the end result.

This week, I'm watching "Barney," and "Reading Rainbow," and stuff like that. And reading "Mickey Mouse," "Little Red Riding Hood," and other enlightening material. They'll grow up soon enough. They'll grow up soon enough. "Thank heaven for little girls!"

4-H'ers compete

The 2000 Fanner Park Nebraska 4-H Horse Exposition was held in Grand Island July 16-20.

Area results are:
Katie Behmer of Hoskins — Blue in Advanced Western Pleasure and Advanced Western Horsemanship.

Adam Sellin of Hoskins — White in Dally Team Roping-Header and Dally Team Roping-Heeler.

Don Williams Wins Statewide Nebraska Certified Crop Adviser Annual Award

(Kearney) Don Williams, owner, Orchard Fertilizer Services, Orchard Nebraska, was announced as the recipient of the Dr. Ray Starostka Award of Excellence at the 24th Annual Summer convention of the Nebraska Fertilizer & Ag-Chemical Institute (NFAI) held at the Kearney Holiday Inn.

The Nebraska Chapter of the International Certified Crop Adviser program (NE-ICCA), which is associated with the American Society of Agronomy (ASA) is sponsoring the annual award. The Dr. Ray Starostka Award of Excellence is given annually to recognize a Nebraska Certified Crop Adviser who demonstrates superior service to agriculture in Nebraska in recommending scientifically sound environmental, nutrient, soil, water, animal waste and pesticide management practices on farms, ranchers, and livestock enterprises.

To be designated as a Certified Crop Adviser, an individual must pass two comprehensive tests demonstrating extensive knowledge in plant nutrient management, soil and water management, integrated pest management and crop management practices. In addition, candidates must demonstrate broad education and employment history, provide extensive character references, abide by a code of ethics and participate in 40 credit hours of continuing education programs every two years in order to maintain their certification.

The Certified Crop Adviser Program was instituted by the American Society of Agronomy to provide for professionalism and environmental stewardship for crop advisers to the nation's farmers and ranchers. Presently there are 15,000 CCAs internationally and more than 775 in Nebraska.

A recent study by the U.S. Department of Agriculture indicates that more than 80 percent of the nation's farmers receive their agronomic and plant protection advice from their local crop advisers. The program is intended to give producers of agricultural products information that those certified under the program have provided evidence through testing, background and experience, that their recommendations are based on the soundest environmental, agronomical and scientific practices currently in use.

Don Williams began his career in agriculture in 1968, and has twenty nine years experience working with producers, advising on best management practices and most efficient use of crop inputs. He has worked with a variety of crops including winter wheat, alfalfa, sugar beets, potatoes, corn dry edible beans, soy beans, sun flowers, oats, millet and rye.

He has worked with the NRCS to develop nutrient management plans and to qualify CCA's to write the Plans. He has also worked extensively on precision application on all crops as well as nitrogen management.

A native of the Oshkosh area, Don served in the U.S. Army from 1971 to 1974, assigned to the White House Communications Agency as well as serving in the Defense Communications Operations and Administration Unit. He received the Presidential Service Badge and the Meritorious Service Badge while in the military.

After college graduation, his work record includes voluntary purchasing groups in Bonham, Texas, Farm and Ranch Fertilizer of Oshkosh, Panhandle Coop Association in Scottsbluff, Western Cooperative in Alliance, and since 1997, he and his wife Bonnie have owned Orchard Fertilizer Services in Orchard, Nebraska.

Don currently serves as Chairman of the Nebraska Certified Crop Adviser Program. Addition Directors of the Program are Dr. Bruce Anderson, UNL Department of Agriculture; John Nielsen, Diamond Hills Farms, Alliance; Rich Reiman, Bureau of Plant Industry, Nebraska Department of Agriculture; Gary Buttermore, Nebraska Department of Environmental Quality; Roger Kanable, Natural Resources Conservation Service; Mike Williams, PMC, North Bend and Dr. Ray Starostka, Agroservice, Inc., Silver Creek, Nebraska.

The Stuhr Museum is one the nation's largest living history museums in existence. The group will be guided through Railroad Town which features craftsmen and women creating goods the old fashioned way at such places as the tinsmith shop, blacksmith shop, Peters school, survey office, planing mill, and historic homes including the cottage from Grand Island where famous actor Henry Ford was born in 1905.

Next, the group will visit the Great Platte River Road Archway Monument near Kearney. revival museum building with a collection valued at over one million dollars!

Scouts hold Camp in Wayne

Over 40 girls from Wakefield, Winsie, Carroll and Wayne recently participated in one of 12 day camps sponsored by Girl Scouts of Prairie Hills Council.

The Wayne Girl Scout Cabin was the site that welcomed area Girl Scouts, ages five to 12 to a traditional three-day outdoor experience on Aug. 16-18 and overnight to Aug. 19.

A total of nine adult volunteers and six older Girl Scouts helped staff the camp.

This year's theme was "Leap to the Future." Activities included local speakers Irene Fletcher, Janet Sievers, Kari Hamer and Laura Knox. These ladies shared with the girls about their professions. The girls also played the "Game of Life." They ran relays and played "old fashioned" games like jacks, marbles, jump rope and hopscotch.

Today, as when founded in 1912, Girl Scouts help cultivate values, social conscience and self-esteem in young girls, while also teaching them critical life skills that will enable them to succeed as adults.

In Girl Scouting, girls discover the fun, friendship and power of girls together.

For more information regarding the Girl Scout Program, contact Susan Schroeder at 375-1194.

Girls will be competitive

The Wayne Blue Devil Volleyball Team will prove early to be very competitive. The dedication and commitment of this team was evident this summer with the large number of the girls participating in the weight room, open gyms, leagues and team camps.

"I am extremely proud of these girls and how hard they work," head coach Joyce Hoskins said. "The experienced talent of Leah Dunklau, Kallie Krugman, Beth Loberg, Amanda Maryott, Shanon Johnson, Malissa Fredrickson, and April Thede will make us a team to contend with all season."

Hoskins said they will also call upon the younger talent of Erin Jarvi, Ashley Loberg and Alissa Dunklau to step in and play a role in their success.

She noted there is a tremendous amount of talent in the rest of the sophomores and in the freshman class.

"We are extremely proud of how practices have been going and are excited for the upcoming season," Hoskins said. "We did have some coaching changes this year. Diana Hefner is the Junior Varsity coach and Jennifer Thomas heads the freshman."

"We are excited about the upcoming season," coach John Murtaugh said. "We return 18 letterwinners and of these players, 10 are returning starters." Murtaugh adds that one of their strengths this season will be the depth they will have in the offensive and defensive lines. "The team has put in a lot of hard work in the off-season with the goal of improving on last year's 5-3 record," Murtaugh said.

Blue Devil runners log miles during summer

This year's edition of the Wayne High School running Blue Devils has 36 members. Twenty-two boys made up of five seniors, 10 juniors, three sophomores and four freshmen reported on Aug. 14. The 14 girls representing Wayne include three seniors, six juniors, two sophomores and three freshmen.

The summer is a time for building base miles for cross-country runners. "The Wayne athletes did a great job logging miles," coach Rocky Ruhl said. "Sixteen boys turned in summer logs and totaled 2,992.75 miles. They averaged right at 187 miles each. Jeff Ensz led the way with 500 summer miles. Other leaders and their totals include Tony Carollo (303), Nick Lipp (281.8), Brad Hansen (259), Devin Bethune (251.24), and Roy Ley (243)."

For the girls, 12 runners turned in logs which totaled 2339 miles. The team averaged 194.92 miles per person. Jacey Klaver led the way with 405.4 miles. She was followed by Emily Kinney with 356.5, Katie Walton with 273.2, Jessica Murtaugh with 262.5, and Jill Meyer with 207 miles. The results show a solid base to start season workouts.

The boys' team is shooting for another top three spot at state. A district championship and top two in each meet are among their goals. They return five runners and an alternate from last year's team. They include seniors, Jeff Ensz and Roy Ley, juniors Devin Bethune, Brad Hansen, and Nick Lipp, and last year's alternate, Tony Carollo.

Ruhl noted that with 22 runners out, depth will be to their advantage. Now is when they need to develop quality depth. The junior varsity team will be used for this purpose.

The girls will try to make the trip back to state this season. "Our string has been broken for two years," Ruhl said. "The girls will have returning state qualifier, Jessica Murtaugh. Returning letter winners include seniors, Jeanne Allemann, Lilly Borders (state qualifier in 98), and Katie Walton, and juniors, Chris Jones, Emily Kinney, and Faith Kroeker.

Jill Meyer and Amber Nelson all have varsity experience and will vie for one of the top six spots."

The teams start the season at Beemer running the Wisner-Pilger invite on Thursday, Aug. 31. Starting times will be varsity boys at 5:30 p.m., varsity girls at 6 p.m., junior varsity boys, 6:15 p.m., and junior varsity girls at 6:45 p.m. The Wayne High invite is Sept. 12 at 5 p.m. The district site has been set at Columbus with Scotus hosting the meet. The boys team will be shooting for a sixth straight district championship on this course.

Ruhl added that they hope to see you on the links.

Everyone returns from district championships

Coach Dave Hix notes that as far as experience goes, they have everyone back from last year's district championship team.

"We should be one of the top teams in Class B," Hix said. "This should be the best squad Wayne High has produced. I am very excited about this season. Some of the girls have worked hard over the summer and we may not see the same five on varsity throughout the year. Sophomore Megan Summerfield played quite a bit during the offseason and is challenging for a Varsity position."

Hix added that their leadership will come from their lone veteran senior Monica Novak. "Monica has a great work ethic and is a tremendous role model for the rest of the team. The Harder sisters will be a big factor on this year's squad"

"Junior, Kari, has one more year of competition experience than Sophomore, Amy," Hix said. "Both will keep competing for bragging rights at home which will help during invites and duals. Katie Nelson and Karla Keller are the other two members of last year's varsity squad. We need consistency from both girls in order to be a championship team."

Hix notes that Junior Lindsay Stoltenberg, and Senior Karie Mitchell, have a legitimate chance at making the varsity spots throughout the season.

"This year's squad has the potential to rewrite the history books at WHS," Hix said.

"Our team scoring record is 358 and that will be one of our goals."

Winning districts again and becoming state champions is the ultimate goal. Districts are in Columbus at the Elks Country Club. Hard work and discipline will be the key. The rest of the squad will be working on their game and improve every time they swing a club.

"We need our Junior Varsity players to continue to improve and to keep trying to challenge for a varsity spot," Hix said. "Our schedule puts us on the road quite often this year. We start out at the Wakefield invite which is our first year there. Norfolk is next and this will be a good indicator as to how well we can compete."

WINSIDE CROSS COUNTRY

Peck brings running knowledge to Wildcats

Winside starts its third consecutive year of Cross Country competition with an experienced runner in Senior Laurie Deck, a two time letter winner and first year Coach Gary Peck.

Peck, a Calloway native and graduate of Kearney State College, should bring distance running knowledge to the Wildcat harriers having past experience in competing in half-marathons and long distance road runs.

Peck said, "Senior Laurie Deck brings experience and leadership to the team. We expect great things from her this year supported by Junior Kayla Bowers. Our boys team is younger so we expect to build on the improvements from last year and be competitive. Kevin Boelter is showing (early season) promise."

Deck should fill the role of an experienced runner and team leader for both the boys and girls squads based on her past performance. She has earned medals in every cross country meet she has ran in with the exception of last year's state meet and last year finished in the top five runners in every meet. The Senior runner has been the Squad's most consistent performer since her Sophomore year.

A District Gold medal winner in 1998 and adding a silver medal at last year's district competition Deck also earned an eighth place medal in her initial State Meet in Kearney.

Junior Kayla Bowers has also been a consistent medalist for the Wildcat girl's squad and will be looking for her third trip to the State Meet in Kearney. Junior letter winner Cassie Anderson rounds out the Wildcat distance squad. The "Cats will be competing for individual honors since team competition requires a minimum of four runners.

Kevin Boelter, a Sophomore, returns as the lone letter winner for the boys team. He will be joined by Sophomores Nathan Staub and Brandon Suehl. Josh Sok will be the only Freshman on the Wildcat Cross Country team. Winside will field a boys team for the first time in District competition.

Coach Moser optimistic about upcoming season

Coach Tori Moser is optimistic about the upcoming Winside volleyball campaign despite the fact that she returns two starters from last year's squad that compiled a 13-9 win-loss record.

She said, "Coming into my second year, I am very excited about the possibilities that lie ahead of us. I think we are a strong contender to win the Clark Division and possibly the Lewis and Clark Conference tournament."

The Wildcats have a solid nucleus of returning letter winners to build their hopes of improving on last years record. Led by All-State player Julie Jacobsen as well as Academic All-State returnees Kim Nathan and Jessica Wade, the 'Cats will put a team on the floor with a lot of court experience.

The honors earned by Jacobsen last year speak well for her abilities on the volleyball court. She also was selected to the Lewis and Clark All Conference squad as well as being named the Sophomore standout and Most Valuable Player as a setter at the University of Nebraska camp in Lincoln this summer.

Jacobsen's 224 kills, 175 set assists and 92 percent serving ability with 56 ace serves show her versatility in the sport. Wade who recorded 69 kills a year ago as a middle hitter, returns as does Nathan, Jennie Cleveland and Heather Rabe. Showing promise and vying for a starting spot on this year's Wildcat team are Juniors Ashley Hoffman and Amy Rademacher.

Moser feels the team put in the necessary work this summer to contribute to a successful fall season, having attended two team camps as well as competing in the Wayne State College summer league.

She stated, "Most teams in our conference lost some key players from last season as we did. But, I think that we have the advantage in that we are filling those positions with some quality players." She adds, "I think we are one of the strongest teams in the Conference along with Bancroft, Allen and Wakefield. It will be an interesting year in the Lewis and Clark Conference."

The Wildcats are in a sub-district with Battle Creek, Laurel and Randolph and will open their seasons Saturday, Sept. 2 in a triangular at Battle Creek and Elkhorn Valley.

Bear has high hopes for football squad

Coach Terry Bear, in his second year as head coach, has high hopes for his Wildcat football squad.

"We are a very experienced team," said Bear. He adds, "we have eight returning starters on offense and nine returning on defense. We are expecting to make it to post season play. We should be a solid defensive team."

Standing in the way of Wildcat playoff hopes is what arguably may be the toughest C-2 football district in the state of Nebraska. Bear's team faces Hartington Cedar Catholic, Laurel-Concord and Randolph on consecutive Friday nights starting Sept. 29. The 'Cats must win at least one and possibly two of those three games along with beating everyone else on their schedule to have a chance at a playoff game. The Trojans, Bears and Cardinals are all included in the preseason Top 10 Class C-2 teams by at least one of the state's print media.

The Wildcats will feature an upperclass loaded team by starting eight Seniors and two Juniors on both sides of the line of scrimmage.

The offense rests in the capable hands of returning starter Junior Quarterback Adam Hoffman who will be distributing the football to Senior running backs Justin Koch and Dustin Wade. Fullback Eric Vanosdall should take up where he left off a year ago as the team's leading rusher. The receiving corps will be headed by Mike Deck and Ben Lienemann along with Justin Bleich.

All State candidate Scott Marotz will anchor the offensive line along with fellow classmen Josh Sellin, Nathan Suehl and Nathan Trautman. Sophomore Tom Schwedhelm should add size and strength to the offensive line.

The defensive side of the ball will find the same players with everyone being returning starters with the exception of Bleich, Schwedhelm and Lienemann. Sophomore Mike Hawkins is expected to see playing time on both sides of the line of scrimmage.

Bear said, "This year we were placed into a very tough district and we will have to be ready (to play) and step up to the challenge that has been placed upon us."

Should the Wildcats make it through their regular season schedule in good shape they could surprise in the post season.

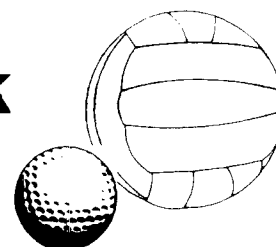

Winside opens its season Friday, Sept. 1 against Northeast High School of Lyons/Decatur.

Allen not lacking in leadership and experience

According to Coach Denise Hingst, Allen Volleyball Coach, "I am really looking forward to this year in volleyball. I have three returning that played all the way around in rotation and that played just back row for me. I will not be lacking in experience or leadership skills."

Hingst adds that these seniors have been waiting a long time to get on the court and they will fill the empty spots well.

"I have 23 out for volleyball and it looks really good for my B and C teams as well as my A team," Hingst said. "Putting this year's Varsity team together was not hard and the players are having an easy time adjusting to the change."

Hingst notes summer days were spent lifting weights and playing on league at Wayne State College.

"We won the Varsity division and placed runner-up in the junior-varsity to Wayne High," Hingst said. "We played against West Point, Emerson, Bancroft Rosalie, Wayne, Randolph, and Homer."

Eagles will concentrate on defense

This year will begin with a big freshman class which was very successful in Junior High (4-0).

"We only have nine upper-class men but they all got to see a lot of playing time last year which will help in the first couple of games," coach Mark Wemhoff said. "Despite going 0-8 last year, the team made a lot of improvements throughout the season in their blocking and special teams. We have 19 men out this year and that is the most that we have had for a quite awhile."

He noted that this year they want to fine tune the upperclassmen and get the freshmen prepared and familiar with their offense and defense.

"This year we are really going to concentrate on defense," Wemhoff said. "We can't win very many ball games when the opponent scores 60 points on us."

Wemhoff added that they stress unity and everyone counts on the team no matter where they are on the depth chart. The men seem more focused this year as they are hungry for the action and want to put behind the past and start a new tradition.

"We want to be competeable and have the other teams prepare for us instead of overlooking us," Wemhoff said. "We have the talent to do so, it's just up to the athletes to put everything out on the table and go for it."

Cunningham added that pre-season emphasis has included defense and ball control to provide a solid base on which to build an aggressive style of play.

New coach on the Bear sidelines

The Laurel Bears will have a new face pacing the sidelines of the gridiron this season as Mike Halley takes the reins of Tom Luxford, who resigned to take a position at Sioux City North.

Halley was the assistant football coach at Mitchell as well as the head girls basketball coach.

It won't take Laurel fans long to realize that football is in the blood of the Halley family.

Mike is the son of a long-time successful football coach in Wyoming and Nebraska and Mike's wife, Teresa is the daughter of a former Nebraska Cornhusker player—Dennis Koinzan.

In fact, the couple's two children have football names. Son Tracetan, three, has the initials TD (touchdown) for Tracetan Dean Halley and their nine-month-old daughter is named after the late great Nebraska coach Bob Devaney—Devaney.

All that aside, Mike is very excited about coming to Laurel with the tradition that Tom Luxford virtually built from scratch.

"We have a very good group of seniors this season with our quarterback Nathan Beckman, running backs Brent Heikes and Chris Lackas and ends Matt Schroeder and Adam Hartung along with solid senior linemen, Brad Hoelsing and Jon Erwin with Greg Kvols and Tyler Stingley" (all returning starters).

David Asbra and Bennie Surber will also be called on for the running back positions. Halley said the Bears had a mini-camp in July where they got to know each other and he's pleased with the attitudes and goals the team has established.

Laurel is excited over its new football field which will be christened in week two when the Bears host Pender.

Iris Borg, Wakefield Golf coach, says of her team this year, "We are back to a fairly inexperienced team but the excitement is there and I am looking forward to a good year. We may struggle early posting competitive scores but I hope by October we can find five that are scoring consistently."

Borg notes that right now they are just concentrating on the basics and hopefully it will pay off as they continue to build their program.

Greve notes that what they are probably lacking is experience in a couple of key positions but that should work itself out as the season progresses.
