Local CHDO wins award

Linda Anderson of the Wayne Community Housing Development Corporation and Roger Nadrchal of the Elkhorn Valley Community Development Corporation of Norfolk were recently recognized for their "innovative partnership" to bring homebuyer education to the communities of northeast Nebraska.

Both organizations are CHDOs (community housing development organizations) and are private, non-profit housing developers.

The Readiness Education Awareness Collaborative for Homebuyers and Homeowners (REACH) made the award announcement at the first annual Best Practices luncheon held Sept. 19 in Lincoln. Lincoln Mayor Don Wesely was the guest speaker and helped present the awards.

REACH is a statewide collaborative working to remove the barriers to homeownership through a statewide education delivery system to enhance the success of homebuyers in achieving and maintaining homeownership. There are more than 50 organizations involved with REACH across the state including CHDOs such as Wayne Community Housing Development Corporation (WCHDC) and Elkhorn Valley Community Development Corporation (EVCDC). The Wayne and Norfolk CHDOs have partnered to contract with a professional educator to facilitate the workshops needed for their service areas. This partnership has made it possible for one person to be trained to develop and deliver a consistent, REACH-approved curriculum on a regular basis.

It not only fulfills the requirements of their organizations' affordable housing programs, but also offers the course as needed and desired to all residents of northeast Nebraska.

Wayne and Norfolk will soon be expanding their contract to include the newly formed Northeast Housing Initiative, a CHDO out of Allen.

More than 200 individual participants have benefited from this homebuyer education partnership to date.

Currently, from eight to 12 workshops are offered per year. In Wayne, one workshop is offered per quarter.

The next Wayne class will begin on Nov. 2. For more information, contact Linda Anderson at (402) 375-5266.

Breast Cancer Awareness Resources available

According to the American Cancer Society, an estimated 182,800 women will be diagnosed with breast cancer this year and 41,200 will die from the disease, making breast cancer the second leading cause of cancer deaths in American women.

In Nebraska, statistics indicate that 253 women died of breast cancer in 1998. While this was the lowest total since 1983, many women are putting themselves at risk by putting off getting a mammogram.

The American Cancer Society is spreading awareness about breast cancer and prompting women to take action by learning more about the disease during National Breast Cancer Awareness Month in October.

The American Cancer Society encourages women and their families to use its resources — a 24-hour help line at 1-800-ACS-2345 and web site at www.cancer.org — to get accurate, unbiased breast cancer information and support. The American Cancer Society is committed to saving lives from breast cancer by providing information about the disease and encouraging women to understand the risk factors and early detection methods.

"Thanks in part to American Cancer Society research and education programs, early detection and today's improved treatments have decreased breast cancer death rates 25 percent since 1990," said Jetrina Berry Johnson, detection and treatment director for the American Cancer Society, Heartland Division.

The American Cancer Society recommends the following breast cancer screening guidelines:

- Women aged 40 and older should have a screening mammogram every year;

- Between the ages of 20 and 29, women should have a clinical breast examination by a health professional every three years. After age 40, women should have a breast exam by a health professional every year.

- Women aged 20 or older should perform a breast self-examination (BSE) every month.

For women who have been diagnosed with breast cancer, the American Cancer Society offers a variety of community-based patient service programs that enhance the quality of life for patients, families and survivors.

In addition, the Society is continuing to make progress in the fight. The Society has awarded more than $140 million in breast cancer research since 1972 funded early research on recent discoveries such as Tamoxifen and Herceptin and advocated for quality mammography standards and Medicare coverage of clinical trials.

"We are partnering with women and their families in their fight against breast cancer," said Berry Johnson, "and we hope women will join us by staying informed, following early detection guidelines and living a healthy lifestyle."

In Wayne, Providence Medical Center offers reduced rates to women who get mammograms during the month of their birthday.

Students at Wayne and Carroll Elementary schools participated in a number of activities during last week's Field Day. The students took turns participating in events such as the tug 'o war above.

In addition, cheerleaders, dance squad and flag squad members from Wayne High School shared routines and what is involved in working as a team.

Older students in the school shared teamwork writing with the younger students.

On Wednesday afternoon, a non-competitive, fun-filled Field Day was planned with events such as a water bucket relay, tug o' war, sack races, hula-hoop and tennis shoe relay available for students.

Following Field Day, each student received a participant ribbon, certificate and pencil donated by the West Elementary Boosters (WEB) WEB also provided a refreshment stand at Field Day and a snack for morning reading time.

Date rape is topic of upcoming program

Dr. Paul Campbell, a social science professor at Wayne State College, will speak about Date Rape, a program presented by the American Association of University Women.

The program will be presented on Tuesday, Oct. 10 at 7 p.m. at the Freye Conference Suite in the Student Center of the WSC campus.

Date rape occurs on virtually all campuses, small or large, private or public, rural or urban. Unfortunately, it cannot always be prevented. The latest statistics indicate that one in 10 women will be a victim of rape during their lifetime.

Adolescents and young adults are the most vulnerable age groups and this directly impacts college student populations. Recently, this issue has become even greater for college-age students with the introduction of the "date rape" drugs such as Rohypnol, Ketamine and GHB.

All rape is traumatic but there is something particularly traumatic about a woman being raped by someone she knows and previously had like and trusted. Although only a small percentage of men commit date rape, these men do a disproportionate amount of harm

As women become more aware of what date rape is and how it occurs, they may be able to lower the chances of it happening to them.

Rape is not a private issue, but a public one. Acquaintance rape cannot be considered solely a "personal" issue involving a particular man and a particular woman. It is a problem that concerns all men and all women because it deals with the basic issue of the ways in which men and women relate to each other.

The more you know about it, however, the more likely it is that you can avoid being put in a situation where it could occur. Women can learn the early warning signs and how to react to them.

The Wayne branch of AAUW encourages women and men of all ages to attend this program.

For more information, contact Kathy Ellerton at 375-3475.

Term limits not a good idea

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Sens. Doug Kristensen and Bob Wickersham recently gave voters some good advice.

The lawmakers told a conference in Kearney that a proposal to impose term limits on state legislators is a bad idea, and ought to be shunned.

They were correct.

Kristensen also spoke up to put down the theory offered by some folks: That a term limits amendment to the constitution should be approved, just so voters can get rid of Sen. Ernie Chambers of Omaha, the only black member of the Legislature. In more than a quarter of a century in and around the Tower on the Plains, I have not heard of a dumber idea than that one - and, believe me, over the years there have been a river of dumb ideas around and about the Legislature and the executive branch.

Let's remember, neighbors, that Nebraska has a system of term limits. They are called elections. If you don't like your representative, get to work and have him defeated at the polls. If you don't like someone else's representative, write him or her a nasty letter.

Kristensen and Wickersham pointed out that the average stay of a Nebraska lawmaker is about six years. People, that is only 1.5 terms in office! If anything, having lawmakers who serve for so few years is likely to cause more problems than it solves - if it solves any problems whatsoever.

When it comes to being annoyed, frustrated, angry and outraged with what the Unicameral can do in the way of goofiness, it is unlikely that anyone in Nebraska (save maybe a governor or two) has suffered more stomach-lining damage than myself.

Representative government is a messy thing. All those human beings who are just like the rest of the folks - some smart, some decidedly not; some altogether scrupulous, some not; some with vision, some short-sighted. It's the way it is.

Voters here and everywhere need to get over the notion that, somehow, term limits would change the power of so-called special interests.

You will never meet an interest that isn't special to someone, including yourself. Old folk, rich folk, poor folk, car dealers, farmers, meatpackers, teachers, bankers. One person's "special interest legislation" is another person's perfect example of good government.

It has ever been beyond me to figure out how courts anywhere could deem term limits to be other than unconstitutional. From here, it seems that the people should have a right to elect who they wish.

You could throw lawmakers out every other day and it wouldn't change the fact that those whose interests can be influenced by government will always have lobbyists working for them. Lobbying is another right, folks. It's there in the First Amendment.

Weaken a Legislature with term limits and you put power in the hands of lobbyists and professional staff. They will be the only folk left who will know the ropes. Frustration should be vented at the ballot box. Period.

No quick fix solution to resolving community issues

Dear Editor,
Over the past several weeks much discussion has centered around off-campus drinking in Wayne, with diverse viewpoints being openly expressed. On the one hand it is heartening to witness freedom of speech in action; it is not a privilege enjoyed in many other parts of the world.

On the other hand, it pains me to see people at odds in a college community as warm and friendly as my family and I have found Wayne to be.

There are no quick-fix solutions to resolving issues like off-campus drinking, dance venues and street parking hours. I think the problem goes deeper than these issues, which I understand have been festering for many years. In particular, people seem not to be interacting and connecting with each other through enough dimensions - in such a way as to understand opposing viewpoints. This will take time and, on a positive note, is already happening.

At Wayne State College, an exciting initiative is taking root, known as service-learning. The initiative has implications for how students learn and make connections with their surrounding communities. Courses and student organizations are incorporating ways to bring the community into the classroom and vice versa.

Service-learning is much more than volunteerism because it encompasses two concepts - serving to learn and learning to serve. Core elements are (1) service activities that help address community needs, and (2) curricula that challenge participants to think critically about and learn from their experiences.

Service activities become learning opportunities and what participants learn further enhances their service. More information is available from <http://www.wsc.edu/frc/service-learning/>

Although service-learning is not a quick answer to present problems, it moves us along a path towards closer campus-community interaction that will, in time, facilitate mutual respect and understanding.

Development,

Column offends student

Dear Editor,
In response to last week's "Jimmy Jo's Jams," I have to say that I am very offended to be called a guest. I am a college student that lives in this city nine to 12 months out of the year, I vote and spend my money in Wayne businesses. I am a resident of Wayne, not a guest!

I also wanted to correct the statement that "being sued for slander would be a wakeup call." Actually, slander is a spoken falsehood. You would have to be sued for "libel," for publishing or writing untruths.

Also, I disagree with the statement that, "The Stater has been the voice of a minority number of students who want a police-hands off policy for off-campus drinking." Actually, I believe the majority of students do not agree with the new alcohol policy. While we expect the police to enforce the laws, we are not willing to sacrifice constitutional rights just to be free from off-campus drinking. The police are not enforcing the law as it is written and you should work on being more "accurate and fair" in your reporting.

The Wayne Stater does a good job on reporting the controversy and "big stories" missed by the Herald. The Wayne Herald more closely resembles a vocal version of Sports Illustrated, than a quality newspaper. You continue to miss some of Wayne's biggest news, while the Stater is able to at least pick up some of it.

Ethanol fuels supporter

Dear Editor:
It is interesting that my opponent has only lately found the subject of alcohol or ethanol-based fuels.

I noted in your paper that during his recent visit to Wayne he says he will become an active member of the Congressional Alcohol Fuels Caucus. I am a longtime member of that caucus, always active and have a voting and co-sponsorship record that shows me to be a true friend for alcohol fuels and the family farmers whose crops are used.

I would like to cite just a couple of examples. In 1997, I joined with other farm state members in stopping an assault on ethanol and maintaining the ethanol tax credit. I am currently co-sponsoring legislation which would phase-out the use of MTBE and promote the use of ethanol.

In fact, I have long been about as pro-agriculture as anyone in Congress and that is why nearly all the farm organization and commodity groups representing individual farmers have been supportive of me and my efforts.

Sincerely,
Doug Bereuter,
member of Congress

The public is welcome to attend these events. They are presented by PRIDE.

Dating guidelines

Just the other day my daughter, Sara, turned seven years old. My how time flies when you're having fun. So, I asked my daughter what she wanted to play at her birthday party. Her response was "spin the bottle." I thought my wife and I were going to have heart attacks. We asked her what she thought it mean. She told us and she knew. Kids these days are growing up so fast.

With that in mind, I thought I would start laying the ground rules early for any would-be suitor of my daughter. Please read this to your sons and I have copies for you to put on your daughters' walls.

Rules for Dating my daughter:

Rule One: If you pull into my driveway and honk, you'd better be delivering a package, because you are sure not picking anything up.

Rule Two: You do not touch my daughter in front of me. You may glance at her, so long as you do not peer at anything below her neck. If you cannot keep your eyes or hands off of my daughter's body, I will remove them for you.

Rule Three: I am aware that it is considered fashionable for boys of your age to wear their trousers so loosely that they appear to be falling off their hips. Please don't take this as an insult, but you and all of your friends are complete idiots. Still, I want to be fair and open-minded about this issue, so I propose this compromise: You may come to the door with your underwear showing and your pants 10 sizes too big, and I will not object. However, to ensure that your clothes do not, in fact, come off during the course of your date with my daughter, I will take my electric nail gun and fasten your trousers securely in place to your waist.

Rule Four: I'm sure you've been told that in today's world, sex without utilizing a "barrier method" can kill you. Allow me to elaborate: when it comes to sex, I am the barrier and I will kill you.

Rule Five: In order for us to get to know each other, we should talk about sports, politics and other issues of the day. Please do not do this. The only information I require from you is an indication of when you expect to have my daughter safely back at my house, and the only word I need from you on this subject is "early."

Rule Six: I have no doubt that you are a popular fellow, with many opportunities to date other girls. Frankly, I would much rather you did. However, if you absolutely must go out with my little girl, you will continue to date no one but her until she is finished with you. If you make her cry, I will make you cry.

Rule Seven: As you stand in my front hallway, waiting for my daughter to appear, and more than an hour goes by, do not sigh and fidget. If you want to be on time for the movie, you should not be dating. My daughter is putting on her makeup, a process that can take longer than painting the Sistine Chapel. Instead of just standing there, you may demonstrate to me why I should tolerate your existence by such acts as say, changing the oil in my car.

Rule Eight: The following places are not appropriate for a date with my daughter: places where there are beds, sofas or anything softer than a wooden stool. Places where there are no parents, policemen or nuns within eyesight. Places where there is darkness. Places where there is dancing, holding hands or happiness. Places where the ambient temperature is warm enough to induce my daughter to wear shorts, tank tops, midriff T-shirts or anything other than overalls, a sweater and a goose down parka zipped up to her throat. Movies with a strong romantic or sexual theme are to be avoided; movies which feature chain saws wielded on unsuspecting teenage girls males of your age group and general appearance are okay. Hockey games are okay. Old folks homes are better.

Rule Nine: Do not lie to me. I may appear to be a potbellied, balding, middle-aged, dimwitted has-been; but on issues relating to my daughter I am the all-knowing, merciless and vengeful god of your universe. If I ask you where you are going and what you will be doing, you have one very brief chance to tell me the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth. I have a shotgun, a shovel and five acres behind the house. Do not dare to trifle with me.

Rule Ten: Be afraid. Be very, very afraid. It takes very little for me to mistake the sound of your car by the driveway for a chopper coming in over a rice paddy outside of Da Nang. When my Agent Orange start acting up, the voices in my head frequently tell me to clean the guns as I wait for you to bring my daughter home. The moment you pull into the driveway you should exit your car with both hands held high over your head. Speak the permitter password, announce that you have brought my daughter safely home, then return to your car and leave immediately once she has exited the vehicle - do not attempt to come inside or even follow her to the door. The camouflaged face in the window is mine, as is the ruby red beam of laser-light targeted directly at the center of your chest.

I think I'm going to have a lot of fun when my daughter starts dating.

Arneson selected for youth summit

Erin Arneson of Wayne has been selected as one of three Nebraska youth out of 435 Youth Delegates for the National Youth Summit to Prevent Underage Drinking 2000.

This event is hosted by Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD). One student from each Congressional District in each state has been chosen to represent students across the nation.

Arneson has been chosen to represent District #1.

Washington, D.C. will provide the backdrop for the second such gathering of America's youth this fall. From Sept. 29-Oct. 4, in conjunction with MADD's 20th anniversary, high school students representing their respective U.S. Congressional District and U.S.

Territories will convene in the nation's capital for the summit. Throughout the five day event youth delegates will be given a forum in which to explore the issues surrounding alcohol-the most commonly used drug among young people. They will also discuss and develop proposed solutions to the underage drinking and other access to alcohol issues.

Although the minimum legal drinking age is 21 in every state, studies show that more than half of all junior and senior high school students drink monthly. Eight young people a day die in alcohol related crashes.

The MADD National Youth Summit will consist of six general sessions, each focusing on specific alcohol related topics, as well as small discussions groups where youth delegates will address issues unique to their communities and states. Topics to be covered include legislation, alcohol accessibility, alcohol usage and curtail alcohol use. General sessions will be facilitated by policy makers, elected officials, researchers and youth and adult community activists.

At the conclusion of the summit, delegates will vote on recommendations to address illegal underage drinking and present their report to policy makers and elected officials. Most delegates will have the opportunity to meet with their elected member of Congress.

To find out more about the MADD National Youth Summit to Prevent Underage Drinking 2000 visit the MADD website at www.madd.org.nys.

Older Antidepressants Often as Effective as Newer, Costlier Ones

According to new guidelines from the American College of Physicians - American Society of Internal Medicine, both newer and traditional antidepressant medicines are equally effective for many persons with depression. Older medicines typically are in the class termed tricyclics (e.g., Tofranil, Elavil). The newer agents include selective serotonin reuptake inhibitors, or SSRIs (e.g., Paxil, Zoloft, Prozac).

The major difference cited between tricyclics and SSRIs are side effects. SSRIs are more likely to cause diarrhea, nausea, headache, and sleeping difficulties. Tricyclics are more likely to cause blurred vision, constipation, dizziness, dry mouth, and tremors. Interestingly, according to the new guidelines it is noted that St. John's wort may be effective against mild depression, at least on a short-term basis.

86 for top honors.

Kari Harder placed third with a 93 and Amy Harder was fourth with a 94 while Megan Summerfield carded a 96 for seventh place. Karla Keller finished at 109.

"This was a team effort," Hix said. "The girls are closer than ever now. We've had a lot of support from parents, students and administration all season."

Hix said Megan's top 10 finish proves that the number five position is critical in a team's success.

Homecoming game is Saturday

WSC falls to 0-5 with 26-19 loss

By Jason Sturek
For the Herald

The Wayne State Wildcats football team found their offense too late in a 26-19 loss at Minnesota-Crookston last Saturday.

Wayne State fell to 0-5 overall and 0-3 in the NSIC. Minnesota-Crookston pushed their record to 3-2 overall and 2-1 in the conference.

UMC amassed 402 total yards and dominated the time of possession with 35:27 to WSC's 24:33.

"I think we were better athletically, but their line killed us. They controlled the line of scrimmage on both sides of the ball," Coach Scott Hoffman said.

As in past weeks, the Wildcats awoke too late to recover from a double-digit deficit. Down 19-7 after three quarters of play, WSC got with in three points in the final stanza when Eric Kjar connected with Tavaris Johnson on a ten-yard touchdown pass. The extra point failed.

The Wildcats had possession of the ball twice after but failed to produce results.

UMC took control of the ball with a short field and eventually scored another touchdown with three minutes left in the game for a 26-13 advantage.

A couple of plays after the ensuing kick off, WSC's Justin Burhoop fired a pass to Curtis Boyd who scrambled 78 yards to bring the Wildcats with in seven at 26-19 with the failed extra point attempt.

WSC's on-side kick failed to travel 10 yards. The Golden Eagles took control and ran out the clock.

"We gave them short field position," Hoffman said. "And we forced ourselves into long play situations all day."

Eloy Brown carried the ball 16 times for 50 yards. He scored once on a three yard run.

Eric Kjar was eight of 17 passing for 92 yards and one touchdown. Justin Burhoop completed five of nine passes for 120 yards and one interception along with the long touchdown pass.

Tavaris Johnson led WSC's receivers with five catches for 75 yards and one touchdown. Curtis Boyd had three receptions for 103 yards and a touchdown. Damon Ruffin caught five passes for 34 yards.

The Wildcats accumulated 255 yards of total offense. WSC passed for 212 yards and rushed for 43.

Mike Baker had 13 total tackles for WSC. Six were unassisted. Johnnie Ostermeyer had nine total, six unassisted. Two of his tackles were for losses totaling six yards.

Antonio Jackson also had nine tackles with six unassisted and an interception.

"(UMC) controlled the clock, but the defense played pretty good. It's time for the offense to start taking advantage of what the defense gives us," Hoffman said.

Homecoming week will feature a showdown between WSC and Moorhead State. Neither team is enjoying successful seasons so far in 2000.

Consequently, Hoffman says they will be gunning for the Wildcats

"They're a lot like us. Offensively, they've only scored 10 points in their last four games. Defensively, they're pretty sound though," He said.

Hoffman feels his team is on the verge of turning the program around.

"The kids are frustrated, as are the coaches. They're beginning to see the light at the end of the tunnel. Once this team experiences some success, I think they're going to explode." He said.

Kick off is set for 12:30 p.m. at Memorial Stadium in Wayne on Saturday.

Wayne gave up a score on the first play from scrimmage as quarterback Brad Hochstein fumbled and Madison's Brian Anderson

The Blue Devils bounced back on the next series however, with Ethan Mann on the receiving end of a 67-yard pass from Hochstein and after Hochstein's point after kick, Wayne led 7-6—which held up until late in the third quarter.

On the opening play of the final period, Anderson broke to the outside and out-ran the Wayne secondary for 94 yards and a touchdown for a 20-7 lead.

"I thought we played well enough on defense and special teams to win," coach John Murtaugh said. "Offensively, we just need to take advantage of the opportunities that are given to us."

Murtaugh said he thought his team's effort was excellent and he said Lynn Junck's play on both sides of the ball was very good.

Wayne gained 88 yards on the ground and passed for 95 yards for 183 total while Madison rushed for 176 yards and passed for 62 for a 238 total yards—94 on one play.

Winside football team falls at Cedar Catholic

Winside's football team lost a 34-6 decision at Harrington Cedar Catholic on the scoreboard but that does not represent the closeness of the contest.

"We played our best game despite losing 34-6," Bear said. "We had two key penalties late in the third quarter that hurt us. The Wayne girls cross country team placed runner-up at the David City Aquinas Invite last Thursday, scoring 69 points.

Oakland-Craig won the meet with 42 points with Bishop Neumann placing third at 77 and Seward, fourth with 88 while Lincoln Lutheran rounded out the top five with 100 points in the 18-team field.

Amber Nelson paced Wayne with a seventh place finish in 16:42 with Katie Walton netting 17th in 17:06. Cali Broders was 20th in 17:15 and Jess Murtaugh, 25th in 17:33. Andrea Bethune was timed in 17:42 and Jacey Klaver, 17:45 to round out the varsity.

There were 109 total runners in the girls division. Wayne's JV girls got a second place effort from Faith Kroeker in 18:30 while Jeanne Allemann was fourth in 19:19 and Jill Meyer, ninth in 20:00. Tara Grone was 13th in 21:04 and Sheila Meyer finished with a time of 26:38.

"Our girls ran a great race despite the heat which was in the low 90's," coach Rocky Ruhl said.

Wayne's boys finished third with 67 points due to the fact that Brad Hansen did not finish because of dehydration.

Unofficially, had Hansen continued at his normal pace, Wayne would have likely won the meet.

Seward won the invite with 49 points followed by Bishop Neumann with 56. Crete was fourth with 89 points and Lincoln Christian was fifth with 111 in the 20-team field.

Devin Bethune led the Blue Devils with a third place effort of 17:30 while Jeff Ensz was 15th in 18:24 and Nick Lipp, 16th in 18:25.

Tony Carollo netted 33rd overall in the 115-man race in 19:11 and Roy Ley was 37th in 19:15.

In the JV division Jeff Pippitt paced the Blue Devils with a sixth place time of 19:53 with Ryan Hix placing 12th in 20:13 and Bryan West, 18th in 20:50.

Joe Holstedt rounded out the scoring in 26th place with a 21:16 effort.

Other Wayne runners included Brian Wetmore (21:55), Tyler Anderson (22:06), Mike Swerczek (22:19), Eric McLagan (22:27), Kyle Minds (22:48), Mat Habrock (22:50), Ryan Teach (22:53), Andy Costa (23:57), Brett Parker (24:20), Joe Brumm (24:57), Judd Giese (27:00), and Sean Peterson (28:22).

Wayne will compete at the Bloomfield Invite on Friday before the District Meet at Scotus on Thursday, Oct. 12.

TUESDAY IN WAYNE the Blue Devil JV teams competed against Norfolk JV's.

Wayne's girls won, 17-19 with Faith Kroeker placing second and Jeanne Allemann third. Jill Meyer was fourth with Tara Grone placing eighth and Sheila Meyer, ninth.

In the boys division, Wayne was defeated, 10-33. Jeff Pippitt led the Blue Devils with a sixth place effort followed by Ryan Hix in eighth and Bryan West in 11th. Tyler Anderson finished 12th and Eric McLagan, 15th followed in direct order by Joe Holstedt, Ryan Teach, Brian Wetmore, Mike Swerczek, Mat Habrock, Kyle Minds, Andy Costa, Brett Parker, Judd Giese, Joe Brumm and Sean Peterson.

WAYNE'S JUNIOR HIGH team also competed. Amy Anderson led the girls team in ninth place while Regan Ruhl was 12th and Anjulena Judson, 14th.

In the boys division it was Jesse Hill placing 18th and Jared Bethune, 19th with Reggie Ruhl netting 28th and Jason Carollo, 34th.

Ninth-ranked UNK downs 'Cats in Rice Auditorium WSC spikers beaten by Lopers

The Wayne State volleyball team fell to ninth ranked Nebraska-Kearney, Tuesday night in Rice Auditorium, leaving Sharon Vanis' team with an 8-11 season record.

The 'Cats fell 4-15, 13-15, 3-15 as UNK improved to 18-2 on the season.

"I didn't think we played well the entire match," Vanis said. "We just never got into the flow of the match."

Lindsey Koch paced WSC with 11 kill spikes while Jessie Erwin had seven. Kasey Meyer tallied 31 set assists and she shared team honors with Koch in digs with 10 each.

Erwin and Heather Schuller each netted eight digs and Janel Moody had six. WSC held a 6-0 lead in game two but the visitors eventually tied the contest at 11 and again at 13.

"When we got the lead I thought our players realized they could play with UNK," Vanis said. "But once they (UNK) made a run, we panicked a little bit."

WSC will host Bemidji State on Friday at 7 p.m. and Minnesota-Duluth, the 12th ranked team in NCAA Division II on Saturday at 5 p.m.

LAST WEEKEND the Wildcats breezed past Minnesota-Crookston in NSIC play, 15-12, 15-12, 15-4.

Rayna Nelsen had 13 kill spikes to lead the winners with Lindsey Koch notching eight. Kasey Meyer finished with 37 set assists and Jessie Erwin paced the servers with two aces.

Defensively, WSC was led by Koch with 15 digs while Nelsen had two solo blocks and two block assists at the net.

Friday in Moorhead, Minnesota the 'Cats fell to Minnesota State-Moorhead in a five-game match, 15-5, 15-11, 9-15, 12-15, 14-16.

"This was a very frustrating loss for us, especially after winning the first two games," Vanis said. "I felt we were in control but we just had a let-down."

Vanis was quick to point out that the host team played better in games three through five but that her 'Cats hurt themselves with missed opportunities.

"They're a very good team," Vanis said. "They came out and swept Southwest State on Saturday after they had gone five games with us the day before."

Jessie Erwin led WSC with 15 kill spikes with Lindsey Koch and Rayna Nelsen notching 11 apiece. Laurie Schroeder finished with nine kills and Linsey Boehm, eight while Kasey Meyer recorded 51 set assists.

Koch was the leader on defense with 24 digs with Meyer notching 17 and Erwin along with Heather Schuller, 15 each. Janel Moody was also in double figures in digs with 11.

Next meet slated for Oct. 14 in Wisconsin

WSC runners compete at USD

Andy Tucknott and Darr Nickerson paced the Wayne State College Cross Country teams at the Coyote Invitational held at the University of South Dakota.

Tucknott finished seventh in the men's race with a time of 26:57. Nickerson, meanwhile, turned in a time of 19:45 to finish eighth. She was one second behind South Dakota's Jennie Buller, who was seventh in 19:44.

"I thought both teams performed well," WSC Head Coach Marion Brink said. "This was not a meet that we were really trying to peak for, in fact, we hit our highest week of mileage of the season so far this past week. We were trying to have everyone run a pace that was a strong, controlled pace that we felt they were ready to handle. As the season has progressed, that time has gotten faster for each of them, so several of them consequently, ran some of their fastest time of the seasons. We still have three weeks to go until the conference meet and over a month until regionals, so we are not ready to have our athletes peak yet."

No team scores were kept. For the women, four runners turned in strong performances. April Sachau finished 18th in a season-best time of 21:12. Shannon Short was close behind in 20th place at 21:27. Jeanna Luebbe placed 29th in 22:58, while Gretchen Murphy was 33rd in a time of 23:48.

"Darr ran a good race," Brink said. "One of the things we tried to have her do was run a more evenly-paced race, which meant that she had to hold back some at the start. She did that, and then did a good job of working her way up through some of the top 15 runners to take eight place. April ran her best race of the season. She went out more aggressively and really raced this week. It was the best that she has looked all season. Jeanna Luebbe had a tremendous race. She took off almost two minutes from her best 5K time from last year. That was exciting to see her get such a huge personal best."

Next in for the Wayne State men was Dana Rider, who was 12th in a season-best time of 28:09. Dustin Lippman and Tom Whisnand were 14th and 15th, respectively in 28:12 and 28:13. Brett Struebing was 31st in 30:25, while Chris Meyer was 38th in 33:06. WSC's final runner, James Bruhn, did not finish the race after injuring his ankle.

"Overall, our men's team had a good race," Brink said. "Our top four guys ran well with Andy leading them and the other three running in a pretty close pack. We were hurt by the fact that we were missing Nick Hansen who was sick, and James Bruhn who was not able to finish due to an ankle injury. When we have those two healthy, we will be even stronger as a team. Andy tried going out a little faster today to prepare for the pace he will have to run in the conference and regional meet. He will adjust to that and be stronger because of his experience in this meet of running a fast early pace. Dana Rider probably made the biggest improvement today. He was our number two runner and is getting better each week."

The Wildcat Cross Country teams will be off next week before traveling to the Wisconsin-Parkside Invitational on Oct. 14.

WSC falls to Winona State

By Jason Sturek
For the Herald

The Wayne State women's soccer team lost in overtime to NSIC defending champions Winona State last Saturday.

The loss dropped the 'Cats to 9-2, but Coach Justin Cole said it solidified WSC's stature as one the best teams in the conference.

"I was really proud of the way we fought. The ladies played hard and really did a good job of combating what WSU was trying to do. I think we showed we can play with the elite in this conference. We're not quite there yet, but we're not far from being in that class ourselves," Cole said.

Winona State, 5-3 overall, picked up their 14th straight conference win with the victory. The overtime was the first for the Wildcats this season.

"Winona is a great team, but I was pleased with the way the ladies came out of the gate. We played hard and really stuck with our game plan. Our defense took some things away from them and made it tough for them to get into a flow in the early going," Cole added.

Sarah Herrick scored WSC's lone goal. She was unassisted. Michelle Mellenthin played 105 minutes as goalkeeper for WSC. She allowed two goals and accumulated 11 saves.

"Michelle had an outstanding game in goal. She just continues to get better and more aggressive with each match. She and Kalle Wamsat have formed a very nice duo for us in the net," Cole said.

The Warriors out shot the Wildcats 23 to seven.

On Sunday, the Wildcats bounced back and found their winning form again by defeating Concordia-St. Paul 2-1 in NSIC conference action.

WSC out shot its foes 32-3 with 21 shots on goal. Lisa Harfield had 19 saves for Concordia-St. Paul.

"I liked our tenacity on both sides of the ball, but we just couldn't find the net. A lot of that was due to their goalkeeper. At 6-1 she was tough to get by," Cole said.

Amanda Keller and Sarah Herrick each scored a goal for WSC. Abbey Kalblinger had an assist.

Kalle Wamsat stood guard at goalie. She had two saves and allowed one goal.

"This probably wasn't our best offensive effort of the year, but I liked the way our kids battled just a day after a very tough, hard-fought loss. We played hard and found a way to win," Cole said.

The Wildcats went ahead 2-1 with just 2:40 remaining in the match. Keller sailed a shot from 15 yards to get the goal. "We nearly let this one get away from us, but were resilient enough to finish the deal."

Wayne State finished the weekend 10-2 overall and 3-1 in NSIC play.

Concordia-St. Paul dropped to 0-3 in the conference and 2-6 overall. The Wildcats will battle Southwest State on Saturday at 10 a.m. at the Wayne State College Soccer Field.

Laurel's Lani Recob notches an ace spike during the Bears win over Wakefield.

Laurel

Krugman led the defensive charge with three blocks with Allison Hansen netting two.

The Blue Devils lost to Laurel-Concord, 9-15, 8-15. Erin Jarvi had seven kills and Ashley Loberg notched four kill spikes while Leah Dunklau netted 14 set assists and Alissa Dunklau, four.

Leah Dunklau was 13-13 in serving with one ace while Alissa Dunklau, Erin Jarvi and Ashley Loberg each went 5-5.

Leah was also the top defender with three blocks while Beth Loberg and Kallie Krugman had two each.

WAKEFIELD FELL to 3-11 on the year with three losses in Wayne. The Trojans lost to Wayne, 4-15, 6-15 in the first match.

Megan Brown had four kills and five digs and Timarie Bebee had three kill spikes while Tanya Kay netted eight set assists.

In the loss to Laurel, 6-15, 3-15 it was Kim Hattig netting six kill spikes while Megan Brown had five. Tanya Kay tallied 15 set assists and two ace blocks.

In the loss to Randolph, 12-15, 2-15 Kim Hattig had five kills and Timarie Bebee, four kills and two ace blocks while Tanya Kay had 10 set assists.

Nebraska offers MAP Program

When I moved to Nebraska from South Dakota the only habitat available were the sparse fence lines and abandoned farmsteads.

In Northeast South Dakota, where I am from, there were shelterbelts, pastures and sloughs to hunt. These along with the road ditches which were open for hunting gave hunters numerous places to hunt.

Since all of the CRP habitat was in place, the Nebraska Game & Parks, Pheasants Forever and the Nebraska Environmental Trust Fund put together the Conservation Reserve Program-management Access (CRP-MAP) that gave land owners a payment for making habitat improvements on the land and opened the ground to walk-in hunting.

In the Midwest as the farming methods changed and irrigation became more popular, the fences came out as did the old farmsteads. With habitat disappearing, the pheasant numbers dwindled or became non-existent.

Since that time, the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) has been established and both the habitat and the birds have made a comeback.

The habitat created by the program, not only benefits pheasants, it also helps big game and waterfowl when CRP is located adjacent to wetland areas.

The CRP-MAP which is unique to Nebraska has created areas for pheasants and other ground nesting birds by providing food sources that are needed for brood survival and development. The program also helps to improve CRP lands for wildlife with tree, legumes and food plot plantings.

In 1999 there were 120,000 acres enrolled in the Nebraska program. This year hunters will find an additional 15,000 acres enrolled, bringing the total acres to 135,000.

The Nebraska program has created a lot of interest in surrounding states as there have been inquiries for information on how the program was established and how it is being managed.

Gary Howey
'Of the Outdoors'

It is very beneficial to both resident and non-resident hunters. Hunters from the adjoining states of South Dakota, Minnesota and Iowa have found the program very bene-cial. Because of the CRP-MAP they can extend their pheasant hunting season through the end of January and not worry about having a place to hunt.

To make locating CRP-MAP areas and other land open to hunting easier, a 111-page "2000 CRP-Management Access Program Atlas is available from Nebraska permit vendors and Nebraska Game & Parks offices.

The atlas also shows the location of Wildlife Management Areas, State Recreation Areas, Natural Resources District lands that are open to hunting, Waterfowl Production Areas and U.S. Forest Service lands.

Areas enrolled in the CRP-MAP are marked with orange and black signs so that hunters will know what areas are open to walk-in hunting.

Programs like the CRP-MAP, Wildlife Habitat Improvement and Walk-In programs have helped to improve habitat, bird populations and hunter access.

STARS Baseball Club member to represent USA in Australia

Jamie Belt, a senior at Pender High School and a member of the Pender Jr. Legion Baseball Team, has been selected as a team member of the STARS Baseball Club that will represent the United States of America in international play to take place in Brisbane and Sydney, Australia during the Christmas break.

The Baseball Federations of Queensland and New South Wales, in conjunction with the Australian Baseball Federation, will host TEA-MUSA for the fifth consecutive year.

Jamie was selected for his dedication in the classroom as well as on the playing field. Jamie attended the

Jamie Belt
Ken Griffey Jr. International Showcase in Minnetonka, Minn., last year where he was observed and selected to be a part to this elite team. Only 40 young men from the United States are selected. Two teams consisting of 20 members will play 14-18 games while there. He will leave on Dec. 15 and return on Jan. 6.

STARS Baseball Club is sanctioned by the United Baseball Federation.

An omelet feed fundraiser has been scheduled for Sunday, Oct. 8 from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Pender Legion Hall. Community members are invited to come and help him achieve this once in a lifetime experience and the opportunity to represent Pender and Northeast Nebraska.

Jamie is the son of Val and Lisa Johnson of Pender and Randy and Jill Belt of Wayne. He is the grand son of Jim and Fran Hallstrom and Evelyn Johnson of Wakefield.

Giving the 'gift of life'

Seventy-seven people and a total of 63 units of blood were collected during a blood drive at Wayne State College. The drive was sponsored by Tau Kappa Epsilon International fraternity. The Slouland Blood Bank reports that an estimated 189 lives will be saved with the number of units collected on Sept. 27. The Slouland Community Blood Bank serves all the blood needs of 16 area hospitals and their patients. The only way blood products are made available for area patients is if individuals in our communities volunteer to donate blood on a regular basis.

Fibromyalgia program upcoming

A program entitled, "Fibromyalgia: An Integrative Approach for Treatment" is coming to Columbus and Fremont in late October.

On Saturday, Oct. 28, the seminar will be held in Columbus at the Holiday Inn Express, 524 East 23 from 2:30 to 5 p.m. Or you may attend the Fremont seminar, to be held on Sunday, Oct. 29 at the Holiday Lodge, 1220 East 23 Street, from 1:30 to 4 p.m.

The featured speaker is Mary Moeller, a nurse and former fibromyalgia sufferer. She is the author of the "Fibromyalgia Cookbook, A Daily Guide to Become Healthy Again," "The Fibromyalgia Nutrition Guide" and "Fibromyalgia, Beginning the Road to Health."

The program will cover the topics of nutrition, natural pain control and ways to achieve a better night's sleep. The fee for each program is $15, payable at the door. Pre-registration is suggested but not required. To register, call 1-888-743-4276.

Fibromyalgia is a hidden illness. It causes you to live with pain every hour of every day, never getting a restful night's sleep. Millions deal with it daily, but few even know what it is. How do you know if you have it? Only a doctor can diagnose for sure. But even for them it is a condition which is hard to recognize.

Perhaps it is due to the fact that there are so many symptoms of fibromyalgia: pain/achiness in many or most parts of the body, low energy/often tired, difficulty falling asleep, sleep disturbance, poor muscle tone, headaches, high/low blood pressure, allergies, muscle spasms or twitches, easily bruised, craving of sweets/salty foods, moods of depression.

There is no known cure.

Researchers do not know the causes of it, but it tends to manifest itself after a major trauma: physical or mental. Fibromyalgia has been in existence since 1904. Only about seven percent of the population has been diagnosed. In their latest studies, the CDC has found about 11.5 percent has it, although many doctors are saying it is now in epidemic stages. About 75 percent are women between the ages of 20 and 40. Many researchers now feel the symptoms may be caused from a breakdown of the immune system, a yeast overgrowth within the body or hormonal and/or adrenal imbalances.

There are now tests that can be done to check for systemic yeast problems. Systemic yeast overgrowth, hormonal deficiencies and/or immune problems that may create fibromyalgia symptoms may also cause vitamin and mineral deficiencies.

Nebraska offers MAP Program

When I moved to Nebraska from South Dakota the only habitat available were the sparse fence lines and abandoned farmsteads.

In Northeast South Dakota, where I came from, there were shelterbelts, pastures and sloughs to hunt. These along with the road ditches which were open for hunting gave hunters numerous places to hunt.

In the Midwest as the farming methods changed and irrigation became more popular, the fences came out as did the old farmsteads.

With habitat disappearing, the pheasant numbers dwindled or became non-existent.

Since that time, the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) has been established and both the habitat and the birds have made a comeback.

The habitat created by the program, not only benefits pheasants, it also helps big game and waterfowl when CRP is located adjacent to wetland areas.

Since all of the CRP habitat was in place, the Nebraska Game & Parks, Pheasants Forever and the Nebraska Environmental Trust Fund put together the Conservation Reserve Program-management Access (CRP-MAP) that gave land owners a payment for making habitat improvements on the land and opened the ground to walk-in hunting.

The CRP-MAP which is unique to Nebraska has created areas for pheasants and other ground nesting birds by providing food sources that are needed for brood survival and development. The program also helps to improve CRP lands for wildlife with tree, legumes and food plot plantings.

In 1999 there were 120,000 acres enrolled in the Nebraska program. This year hunters will find an additional 15,000 acres enrolled, bringing the total acres to 135,000.

The Nebraska program has created a lot of interest in surrounding states as there have been inquiries for information on how the program was established and how it is being managed.

Gary Howey
"Of the Outdoors"

It is very beneficial to both resident and non-resident hunters. Hunters from the adjoining states of South Dakota, Minnesota and Iowa have found the program very beneficial. Because of the CRP-MAP they can extend their pheasant hunting season through the end of January and not worry about having a place to hunt.

To make locating CRP-MAP areas and other land open to hunting easier, a 111-page "2000 CRP-Management Access Program Atlas is available from Nebraska permit vendors and Nebraska Game & Parks offices.

The atlas also shows the location of Wildlife Management Areas, State Recreation Areas, Natural Resources District lands that are open to hunting, Waterfowl Production Areas and U.S. Forest Service lands.

Areas enrolled in the CRP-MAP are marked with orange and black signs so that hunters will know what areas are open to walk-in hunting.

Programs like the CRP-MAP, Wildlife Habitat Improvement and Walk-In programs have helped to improve habitat, bird populations and hunter access.

Giving the 'gift of life'

Seventy-seven people and a total of 63 units of blood were collected during a blood drive at Wayne State College. The drive was sponsored by Tau Kappa Epsilon international fraternity. The Slouland Blood Bank reports that an estimated 189 lives will be saved with the number of units collected on Sept. 27. The Slouland Community Blood Bank serves all the blood needs of 16 area hospitals and their patients. The only way blood products are made available for area patients is if individuals in our communities volunteer to donate blood on a regular basis.

Fibromyalgia program upcoming

A program entitled, "Fibromyalgia: An Integrative Approach for Treatment" is coming to Columbus and Fremont in late October.

On Saturday, Oct. 28, the seminar will be held in Columbus at the Holiday Inn Express, 524 East 23 from 2:30 to 5 p.m. Or you may attend the Fremont seminar, to be held on Sunday, Oct. 29 at the Holiday Lodge, 1220 East 23 Street, from 1:30 to 4 p.m.

The featured speaker is Mary Moeller, a nurse and former fibromyalgia sufferer. She is the author of the "Fibromyalgia Cookbook, A Daily Guide to Become Healthy Again," "The Fibromyalgia Nutrition Guide" and "Fibromyalgia, Beginning the Road to Health."

The program will cover the topics of nutrition, natural pain control and ways to achieve a better night's sleep. The fee for each program is $15, payable at the door. Pre-registration is suggested but not required. To register, call 1-888-743-4276.

Fibromyalgia is a hidden illness. It causes you to live with pain every hour of every day, never getting a restful night's sleep. Millions deal with it daily, but few even know what it is. How do you know if you have it? Only a doctor can diagnose for sure. But even for them it is a condition which is hard to recognize.

Perhaps it is due to the fact that there are so many symptoms of fibromyalgia: pain/achiness in many or most parts of the body, low energy, often tired, difficulty falling asleep, sleep disturbance, poor muscle tone, headaches, high/low blood pressure, allergies, muscle spasms or twitches, easily bruised, craving of sweets/salty foods, moods of depression.

There is no known cure.

Researchers do not know the causes of it, but it tends to manifest itself after a major trauma, physical or mental. Fibromyalgia has been in existence since 1904. Only about seven percent of the population has been diagnosed. In their latest studies, the CDC has found about 11.5 percent has it, although many doctors are saying it is now in epidemic stages. About 75 percent are women between the ages of 20 and 40. Many researchers now feel the symptoms may be caused from a breakdown of the immune system, a yeast overgrowth within the body or hormonal and/or adrenal imbalances.

There are now tests that can be done to check for systemic yeast problems. Systemic yeast overgrowth, hormonal deficiencies and/or immune problems that may create fibromyalgia symptoms may also cause vitamin and mineral deficiencies.

Week designated to recognize importance of the 4-H program

According to 1998 statistics, 122,763 youth participated in Nebraska 4-H, about one-third of the total Nebraska youth, age 5-19. This includes not only the traditional 4-H clubs, but also school enrichment and special interest programs, such as day camps.

What began as a method of providing "hands-on" practical learn-early version of Cooperative Extension. The first use of the term "4-H Club" in a federal document appeared in 1918 written by Gertrude L. Warren. By 1924, wider usage of the name "4-H" was adopted and used thereafter.

In Nebraska, the Youth Development program through their mission statement, indicates that the goal is to aid youth in the development of their fullest potential, done through utilizing the knowledge base of the land-grant university system. Through the experiential process, youth develop life skills, including critical thinking, problem solving, respect for self and others, career preparation, serving others, healthy lifestyles, and managing change and challenges.

If you asked a young 4-H'er what they were learning, do you suppose they would answer — "experiential learning?" Probably not. The purpose of experiential process is to experience the activity, to share the results or observations, to process through discussion or analysis, to generalize or connect with real-world experiences and finally, to apply what was learned to a similar or different situation or practice. That is the nature of non-formal education.

So what is 4-H? Is it meeting deadlines so that you can be considered an "enrolled" 4-H member? Is it four days of county fair with ribbons or rosettes or trophies on the shelf? Is it a completed record books so that a party can celebrate the end of the year?

What are your memories of 4-H? How many remember Ponca Day Camp when you stayed overnight? Do you still have the craft that you made at camp? How about memories of the bus ride to Halsey? Or the snickerdoodle that the family ate until they were tired of it? Or chasing — or following — the calf in hopes that by fair time, you would be leading it instead of it leading you?

Recently, Northeast Nebraska 4-H alumni who participated in county fairs between 1982 and 1990 were asked if their 4-H years had impacted them as adults. The results were interesting. Ninety-five percent of the alums surveyed said they learned to set and accomplish project goals. Ninety-three percent reported they learned how to meet people and build relationships; ninety-one percent reported learning more responsibility and how to win and lose graciously; eighty-eight percent indicated that they learned the importance of finishing what one starts.

Honesty also was mentioned as a skill learned through county fair participation by 81 percent of participants. And one alum stated, "The time spent with my family working on 4-H projects is priceless." What is 4-H? It is all of this ... and more! Because 4-H is all about people. It's about learning new things, it's about communication and leadership, but it's more about families working together. It's about youth meeting and interacting with other youth and forming solid friendships. It's about caring and compassion, about sharing and having fun!

Perhaps it is best reflected in the 4-H Pledge. When a 4-H'er recites "I pledge my Head to clearer thinking, My Heart to greater loyalty, My Hands to larger service and My Health to better living, For my club, my community, my country and my world," they are part of a program, almost 90 years old, that continues to encourage youth to explore, learn and have fun.

Join with the 6.6 million 4-H youth across the country in celebrating National 4-H Week, Oct. 1-7.

ing experiences for rural youth has evolved into a youth organization providing non-formal education through projects and learning experiences in eight curriculum areas, ranging from the traditional, such as livestock and food preparation, to more innovative projects, such as communications arts and environmental stewardship.

Formal establishment of 4-H occurred when Congress appropriated funds to the state land-grant institutions through the Smith-Lever Act, passed in 1914, creating the

CROP Walk to be held in Wayne

Wayne's 2000 Crop Walk will be Sunday, Oct. 15, with registration at 1:15 p.m. and the walk beginning at 1:30 p.m. The group will gather at the Church of Christ on East Hwy. 35.

New this year is the choice of three walks: a six mile, a three mile and a one mile. It is the hope that this will allow many more people to come out and walk.

For information call Rev. Mary Browne, 375-2231.

Last year, $2,350.24 was raised for world hunger. The Wayne Food Pantry and the Ministerial Assistance Fund shared 25 percent of the funds raised and 75 percent went to Church World Service or the church service fund designated by the donor. Last year, 240,000 took part in 1,908 Crop Walks and 67 interfaith and community events across the U.S. To help stop hunger, $14,435,248 was raised.

Every day millions of people around the world walk for food, for shelter, for water, for survival. Eight hundred twenty-eight million people in the world are hungry, more than the entire population of the Western Hemisphere. Of the 31,000 children under the age of 5 who die each day in developing nations, half perish from hunger-related diseases. One child dies for every breath we take.

Please consider walking or supporting a walker. Each person can make a difference.

Lori Carillo accepts a grant check from the Wayne Eagles Auxiliary. Representing the Eagles Auxiliary is President Jessica Olson, Secretary Mylet Bargholz, and Inside Officer Babs Middleton. Mrs. Middleton also serves on the Board of Directors of the Wayne County American Red Cross.

Auxiliary makes donation

Lori Carillo, Chapter Manager of the Wayne County American Red Cross, recently accepted a grant check of $1,000 from the Wayne Eagles Auxiliary.

The grant was obtained through Red Cross life-saving training that was given to members of the Eagles earlier this summer.

The donation will help purchase mannequins and face masks to be used in Red Cross CPR lifesaving classes.

The community is encouraged to make donations to the Red Cross at any time. All money received at the local chapter stays in Wayne. The Red Cross provides food, shelter and clothing to any victims of fire, floods or any other personal disaster at no cost to the people in need.

"With the support of community and civic groups like the Eagles, the Red Cross is able to continue their important work in Wayne and the surrounding communities," Mrs. Carillo said.

"I appreciate this wonderful donation from the Eagles to help the Wayne Red Cross so we can continue our important work in Wayne and the surrounding communities. The Eagles group does a lot of humanitarian work and support in the Wayne community."

Wayne Eagles Auxiliary President Jessica also presented the Red Cross with a donation from her business, Heartland Recovery, to help with Red Cross disaster relief funding.

'Denim Day' to be held at Providence Medical Center to help raise cancer funds

On Friday, Oct. 6, more than 125 employees of Providence Medical Center and members of Providence Wellness Center will don their denim on Lee National Denim Day and help raise awareness and money in the fight against breast cancer.

Lee National Denim Day is the world's largest single day fundraiser for breast cancer research, education, screening and treatment programs. The Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation receives 100 percent of donations gathered on Lee National Denim Day.

For the fifth year, the Lee Company has invited businesses and organizations to participate in Lee National Denim Day by allowing their employees to wear denim to work in exchange for a $5 donation to the Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation. Providence

Medical Center and Providence Wellness Center is committed to having a positive influence in the community, and Lee National Denim Day is the perfect opportunity for its employees/members to live out that commitment.

"We're proud to take part in such an extraordinary program that touches the lives of so many," says Linda Carr, representative of Providence Medical Center/Providence Wellness Center. "We totally embrace this program because it empowers our employees/members to take an active role in fighting breast cancer."

In four years, Lee National Denim Day has raised more than $16.5 million for the Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation. Donations from Lee National Denim Day have funded everything from research grants at the nation's most prestigious universities and teaching hospitals to local screening and educational programs in medically underserved areas of the country.

In addition, donations have provided funding for educational and informational tools like the Komen Foundation's award winning website, www.breastcancerinfo.com.

"Participating in Lee National Denim Day is just one way to fight breast cancer. Increasing awareness by talking about the disease is another. Talk to your co-workers, your family and your friends. Encourage them to be proactive in their own health assessments," comments Linda Carr.

Anyone interested in donating to this fundraiser or with questions call Linda Carr at 375-7927.

Benefit planned

Donated materials are shipped from Orphan Grain Train warehouses in steel containers the size of semi-truck trailers to Eastern Europe, Africa, Mexico and Central America where they are distributed by Orphan Grain Train volunteers in churches, hospitals, orphanages, old people's homes, schools and soup kitchens.

A free-will offering will be taken during the fish feed to benefit the Orphan Grain Train. Some of the donations will be matched by AAL Branch #1470 funds.

The public is invited to attend the event.

SIMPLE plans can be established by employers with 100 or fewer employees, who received at least $5,000 in compensation from the employer in the preceding year, provided the employer does not maintain another qualified retirement plan.

SIMPLE plans may be set up by self-employed persons as well as corporations. SIMPLE Plans are not subject to the anti-discrimination or top-heavy

In a SIMPLE IRA plan, contributions allowed are:

- Employee elective salary deferrals, (cannot exceed $6,000 in 1999) and

Public Power Builds Communities

A guest editorial by Rick Hemphill

Public Power Month noted

Nebraska is a unique state in many ways—from its one-house legislature that is served by nonpartisan senators to the mix of agriculture and commerce across the state. Nebraskans find their own ways with their own solutions. One of those definitive solutions is its non-profit public power system that has served the state for more than 70 years.

October is Public Power Month, and as such, it's a good time to pause and reflect on the ways public power benefits this state.

This system of delivering electricity as a non-profit service with local control is something many Nebraska residents take for granted. Yet, our system keeps electricity rates low, provides reliable service, local control, and reinvests money in the state.

Nebraska, through its public power utilities, is maintaining electric rates that are among the lowest in the nation. In fact, according to the latest data available from the Energy Information Administration, only nine states have electricity rates lower than Nebraska. Not only do low rates keep money in the pockets of the customers, but it also enhances economic development abilities of Nebraska communities.

When a new or existing business seeks to expand, one of the factors is that equation is the cost of utilities. Keeping utility costs low serves to enhance communities' chances of expanding the economic base. Power utilities also play a major role in economic development, working closely with communities and businesses in selecting the most appropriate development sites.

Public power keeps money in Nebraska and allows for reinvestment in the community. At a time when many states are opening markets to foreign or out-of-state utility owners, Nebraskans need to recognize the benefit to Nebraska of retaining the local decision-making ability that public power provides.

As a representative of four area utilities, I see what is happening in other states as a result of deregulation efforts. I hope that Nebraskans recognize the value and quality of public power before its too late, and that they continue allowing Nebraska utilities to provide this essential service through its customer-owned, locally controlled public power system.

Public Power in Nebraska: It's Your Power.

(Rick Hemphill is coordinator of a marketing services department that is shared among four northeast Nebraska electric utilities: Elkhorn Rural, North Central, Northeast Nebraska, and Stanton County public power districts.)

Holstedt selected

Sarah Holdstedt of Wayne is one of 339 freshmen selected to take part in the Oklahoma State University Honors Program this year.

Freshmen are admitted to the Honors Program based on their high school grade point average, which must be 3.75 or above, and standardized test scores, such as 27 or higher on the ACT and 1200 or higher on the SAT, according to Celeste Campbell, assistant director of the program.

"Freshmen are considered active in the Honors Program if their honors courses or individual honors projects constitute at least six credit hours," Campbell said.

"Everybody Just Treats You Like A Queen."

Lillian Marquardt had Cataracts

"I thought I'd get out of work but you could probably go back to work the same day. After surgery you come back about one o'clock and get checked. Then its three weeks before you come back again.

They don't force you to do anything here. You set the time you want to have it done. The first cataract came out so good, I thought why not do the other one.

There's nothing to fear. Anybody that has as much experience as Dr. Feidler, why would you fear to have it done. Everybody just treats you like a queen.

By all means see to it that you have good sight. I've heard of people way up in years that have had it done."

October is designated National Community Theatre month

Recognizing the hard work and dedication of the thousands of individuals across the state and nation who make community theater possible is the goal behind National Community Theater Month this October.

The Nebraska Association of Community Theatres (NACT), the state-wide sponsor of the month, currently boasts 28 member theaters from across the state, an all time high since the organization was founded in 1965. Wayne Community Theatre of Wayne is a member of the Nebraska Association of Community Theatres (NACT).

National Community Theatre

month celebrates the efforts of volunteer theater artists, supporters, and audiences who have made community theater the most attended and active art form in the United States.

Nebraska community theaters run the full spectrum of organizations from small groups who may only produce one show a year with no permanent home, to extremely active organizations with paid staffs producing shows all year in multi-million dollar facilities.

NACT offers community theaters from across the state the chance for networking and sharing information through conventions, newsletters and other activities.

In March, NACT will hold its biennial one-act play contest at the Minden Opera House in Minden.

Nationally Community Theater Month is sponsored by the American Association of Community Theatre (AACT) - AACT is the national network for community theatre supporting the efforts of the country's more than 7,000 community theatres.

PUBLIC POWER IN NEBRASKA

You've Got the Power.

Nebraska is the only state totally served by a consumer-owned public power system that delivers electricity as a nonprofit service. Publicly owned power guarantees that Nebraska residents enjoy local control with some of the lowest rates in the country and exceptional customer service. Public power is a Nebraska invention and, since 1936, a Nebraska tradition.

Antioxidant Vitamins May Lower Blood Pressure

Animal research suggests that foods containing the antioxidant vitamins C and E may help lower blood pressure and protect the body against the effects of high blood pressure. According to a Hypertension: Journal of the American Heart Association report, both nutrients may reduce blood pressure by protecting the body's supply of nitric oxide. Levels of nitric oxide were lower in animals fed disease-producing free radicals. Adding vitamins C and E to the animals' diets partially reversed the disease process.

Vitamin C is found in many fruits and vegetables; vitamin E in nuts and some food oils. The US Department of Agriculture recommends that we eat at least 2 fruit servings and 3 vegetable servings daily. Many Americans go day after day with few fruits and vegetables in their diets.

Wayne State students plan walk-a-thon

Approximately 40 Wayne State students under the direction of Deb Whitt have become part of a service learning project on the principles in human communication. The group is planning a 6.2-mile (10K) Walk-a-thon and plans to donate funds to "Great Strides: A Walk to Cure Cystic Fibrosis."

The walk will take place on Friday, Oct. 6 starting in the Wayne State College Willow Bowl at 5 p.m. Students who are involved will also be marching in the Homecoming parade on Saturday, Oct. 7 at 10 a.m.

"We are looking forward to getting community members, faculty and students involved with the walk. Proceeds will help find a cure for cystic fibrosis and will be sent to the Omaha-region charter of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation (CFF)," said Ronda Soules of Lyons, one of the student organizers.

Another student organizer, Michelle Johnson of South Sioux City, arranged for her friend, Jackie O'Brien of South Sioux City, to attend her WSC class to talk about her disease Cystic Fibrosis and how she and her family deal with it.

Cystic fibrosis affects approximately 30,000 people in the United States. A child must inherit two CF genes, one from each parent, to have the disease.

More than 10 million Americans are symptomless carriers of the gene. When scientists, supported by CCF, discovered the CF gene in 1989, they began a new era in the campaign to defeat the disease. CF researchers are conducting landmark gene-therapy studies involving people with CF.

New drugs to repair the protein product of the gene are also being evaluated. Additional clinical trials on new drug treatments are being conducted throughout the country. Any combination of these treatments should keep people in a holding pattern until the ultimate cure is discovered.

On the evening of the walk, the six-lap route will encompass the outside of campus, stretch from the Willow Bowl to Rice Auditorium, continue past parking lot #10, circle by Berry Hall and return to the Willow Bowl.

The walk is a pre-paid event and donations should be collected prior to Friday evening's walk. Prize levels exist for different amounts collected by walkers.

For more information about being involved in the walk, please contact Deb Whitt at (402) 375-

Each WSC student involved has been assigned a responsibility for the event plan.

Students and their responsibilities include: Route planning: Brandon Viterna of Verdigre (Viterna is also helping organize refreshments.), Chris Brandon of Omaha, Dustin Hoffman of Chambers, Susan Brudigam of Wakefield, David Lee Valentine Jr. of Omaha, Silas Clarke of Fremont Manage donations and pledges: Ben Nore of Seward, Justin Carey of Elkhorn, Heidi Kirsch of Winside, Abbey Kalblinger of North Platte, Michelle Johnson of South Sioux City (Johnson is also working on the organizing refreshments and promotion committees), Joseph Vannatta of Cherokee, Iowa Promotion: Ronda Soules of Lyons, Jessica Demke of South Sioux City, Sarah Ann Klug of Columbus, Tom Dorcey of Lincoln, Jayme Blume of Bellevue, Jessica Gall of Norfolk (Gall is also helping with recruiting sponsors.), Erin Milander of Wayne, Brandy Crosley of Verdigre, Wendy Bargstadt of Norfolk (Bargstadt is also helping manage donations and pledges), Robyn Lieber of Dakota City, Beth Nelson of Grand Island and Mark Bengé of Manilla, Iowa

Livestock Expo held

The 73rd Annual Ak-Sar-Ben Livestock Expo was held Sept. 19-26 at the Ak-Sar-Ben Livestock facilities in Omaha.

Eight 4-H'ers from Wayne County participated in this event by competing in various livestock areas.

Among the top award winners were Jara Settles, 11-year old daughter of Jerome and Joan Settles of Hoskins. She received third place in feeder calf showmanship at Ak-Sar-Ben. To participate in showmanship, a 4-H'er must be selected by the showmanship judge.

Jara also received an Ak-Sar-Ben belt buckle and a $50 cash award from the J.L. Thurmond Superior Showman fund. J.L. was an Omaha Businessman, breeder of purebred Angus cattle and an active Ak-Sar-Ben supporter.

Jara also placed fifth in breeding beef showmanship and received a cash award from the J.L. Thurmond fund along with a belt buckle.

Shoe purchase has finally been completed

Surely, you all have been waiting with bated breath to hear if I found shoes to go with the dress I'll be wearing for the wedding. Remember, "dresy, but comfortable?" Right!

When I got out my wedding dress a couple weeks ago, I also found the white satin pumps I'd worn. The heels were about an inch and a half; not bad at all.

I also got out the "going away" suit, and its matching brown pumps. They must have had three inch heels. I don't know how I got out of the church without breaking my neck!

Like the rest of me, my feet are bigger. I'd gone from 8 narrow to 8 and 1/2 medium; except that in a pump, I still need a narrow heel to keep it on. And, when you wear flats all the time: Reeboks, Naturalizers, Nursemates; any pump feels like it has too much heel. The one I usually wear is about one inch.

So, I went back to the same stores, looking in their shoe departments this time. And, I began noticing what other women were wearing.

It should be duly noted that there is a pair of navy pumps in my closet. I distinctly remember wearing them to my job interview with Tabitha nine years ago. They are very uncomfortable.

So, in Kansas City last week, Kristi said, "Take my car and drive over to the Design Warehouse. You'll find something there."

I got a little bit lost, but I found it eventually. It's huge, and there were rows of cars in front of it.

Inside, a shoe lover's heaven. Rows and rows of shoes, all sale priced. I was amazed. I started down one row.

But, when did these chunky styles become so popular? Of course, I've seen the ridiculous platforms, the slides, and the wide heels. On kids. Do they expect 60-year-old grandmas to wear these? I wouldn't be caught dead. I probably would be dead, from tripping over my own feet.

It took one hour. One hour of try-

Swine carcass results released

ing on, looking in those little mirrors on the floor, all the while carrying my Easy Spirit casuals.

But I found shoes. They really are cute, they felt fairly comfortable, and they weren't super expensive.

Of course, the Big Farmer has to wear the shiny things that come with the tux. I have a feeling we will both be sitting a lot. Oh well, we can't dance.
