Red Ribbon Week will be observed

By Molly Hill,
Wayne Middle School FRIENDS member

October 23-31 is the Red Ribbon Campaign. This campaign is designed to support drug-free, healthy lifestyles.

The Red Ribbon Campaign started when Federal Agent Enrique Camarena was murdered by drug traffickers in 1985. His wife began the red ribbon campaign to honor him and to publicize the importance of drug prevention.

The red ribbon now is the symbol to decrease the demand for drugs. The Wayne FRIENDS Drug Free Youth Group has been generating a great deal of red ribbon spirit and awareness during this week.

The Wayne Middle School

FRIENDS group is a drug and alcohol-free youth group with over 100 members. It is student-run, with Ms. Joan Sudman as the sponsor. The group publicized their message with the Wayne and Carroll Elementary Schools and Wayne Middle School with banners, posters and visits to each homeroom to give out red ribbons and candy.

They decorated the Middle School with red ribbons and posters and held drawings and contests to get students involved. Wear Red Day inspired many students to express their drug free spirit in living color. The grand prize went to sixth grader, Nate Summerfield.

Other winners included:
Fifth grade — 1. Faye Roeber; 2.

Activity center will not be built next to Wayne Schools

During the regular meeting of the Wayne Community Schools Board of Education held Monday night, Dr. Joe Reinert, Wayne Schools superintendent, gave an update on the Wayne Community Activity Center (WCAC). He told the board WCAC definitely would not be built next to the Wayne Community Schools location.

Reinert said one of the reasons the new facility would not be built next to the school is the WCAC committee felt there wasn't enough room on school property to build the proposed one-story facility and still have room enough for parking. Also, access to school property was a problem without building an access road. At this time, the two main locations being looked into building the WCAC in Wayne are next to Overin Field (the city ball park) and behind the new McDonalds location.

Other business included the resignation of Ted Blenderman, long-time Wayne High School (W.H.S.) teacher. For the past two years, Blenderman has been Head speech and drama coach; he was the art teacher at W.H.S. for 28 years. Blenderman noted in his letter of resignation that he would continue on his own time to assist Mrs. Jackson with speech if she wanted him to. The board accepted his resignation with regret.

Another topic discussed was the rising cost of fuel and what can be done to save money in the Wayne Community School system. Reinert presented a plan from the U.S. Department of Energy to the board.

Devin Bethune runs into history

By Kevin Peterson
Of the Herald

The old adage of "I'm going to run into history" was a whole new meaning for Wayne junior Devin Bethune.

The young athlete, State Champion in 1999, won the 100-yard dash at the 2000 State Meet with a time of 15.8 seconds. Bethune, a member of the Wayne Middle School Track and Field Club, was the only runner to break the 16-second barrier.

After 31 years of running just seven seconds, a second separated Class C runner Bethune said, "I just want to state meet with a time of 15.8."

Marching band gets a superior

The Wayne High School "Pride of the Blue Devils" Marching Band traveled to Lincoln on Oct. 21.

The band participated in the NSBA State Marching Band Competition held at Lincoln High School.

The Blue Devil Marching Band received a Superior rating and trophy along with Fillmore High School and Syracuse High School. There were 12 bands competing in Class B.

This is the 12th year in a row that the Wayne High School Marching Band has received a Superior rating at the State Marching Competition.

Band Director Brad Weber and the Blue Devil Marching Band would like to thank all the parents, relatives and friends who traveled to Lincoln to support the band. In addition, they would like to thank all the ex-Wayne High School band members who were there to cheer for the band.

"A special 'thanks' to all the people who helped sponsor the buses, drive the equipment trucks and the Cadet Band members for their help loading, unloading and moving equipment. We could not do it without these people. Your time, effort and support are greatly appreciated," Weber said.

The marching band will be participating in the Cavalcade of Bands Marching Competition on Saturday, Oct. 28 at Wayne State College. The competition starts at 3 p.m. with the Blue Devil Marching Band performing at 4:15 p.m. and the awards being presented at 5:30 p.m.

All area residents are invited to attend the event.

Substitute teachers

Program helps alleviate shortage

A collaboration between Wayne State College, Educational Service Unit #1 and 13 northeast Nebraska school districts is resulting in classroom experience for WSC education majors while helping to alleviate the substitute teacher shortage in the area.

The Northeast Nebraska Teacher Academy (NENTA) received a grant of nearly $300,000 over a three-year period from the Education Innovation Fund (state lottery funds). The program is believed to be the first of its kind in the nation.

"We believe this is an innovative way to address the substitute teacher shortage in the area," said Dr. Paul Theobald, Wayne State College dean of education and NENTA project director. "It's a win-win situation for everyone involved."

Theobald and Dan Hoelsing, Laurel-Concord Public School superintendent, wrote the successful grant application last spring. Wayne State College faculty members Dr. Joe Kreizinger and Dr. Tim Sharer are co-directors of the program.

The goals of the Northeast Nebraska Teacher Academy program are to increase the number of substitute teachers, to improve availability and equitable use of substitute teachers, and to enhance the quality of instruction delivered by a substitute teacher in the participating school districts.

Approximately 45 Wayne State College education majors are participating in the program this fall. All have at least junior status, have completed the requirements for local substitute teacher certification, and are enrolled in the Northeast Nebraska Teacher Academy Seminar that will provide a weekly opportunity throughout the year for support, review, and discussion about actual on-the-job situations.

Prior to their first assignments as substitute teachers the end of September, the students completed two two-day training sessions focusing on the art of effective teaching.

"This program is not intended to put regular substitute teachers out of work," said Theobald. "There is a serious shortage of substitute teachers in the area and across the state. Our students will be used for planned teacher absences. This will enable teachers in the participating school districts to take advantage of staff development opportunities. As part of this program, we are inviting regular substitute teachers to attend our NENTA training sessions after school hours."

In addition, the quality of substitute instruction in each of the participating districts will be enhanced by the consistent use of standardized lesson plan formats from one district to another, by staff development activities directed at substitute teaching performance, and by the substitute mentoring efforts that are built into the project.

"We believe that the Northeast Nebraska Teacher Academy will result in thousands of northeast Nebraska students receiving improved instruction from their regular teachers who will be able to more readily avail themselves of staff development opportunities, and also from a new pool of highly-trained, qualified substitutes who can facilitate ongoing instruction in the absence of the regular teacher," said Theobald.

School districts participating in the Northeast Nebraska Teacher Academy are Allen, Coleridge, Hartington, Laurel-Concord, Norfolk, Pender, Pierce, Ponca, Randolph, South Sioux City, Wakefield, Winside, and Wayne.

Housing residents

Authority holds dinner

Residents at the Wayne Housing Authority were guests of the board of directors for an evening dinner on Oct. 17 in the Community Room of Villa Wayne.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Johnson, Wayne City Manager, Dr. James and Mayor Sheryl Lindau and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Peterson were guests at the meal.

The event provided an opportunity for the residents to become better acquainted with the city's officials.

After the meal, the residents enjoyed listening to "Golden Oldies" played by Raymond Peterson on his accordion. Bertha Kinder, a resident since 1995, amazed those seated at her table by remembering the lyrics to these old songs. Ray played requests as the residents called out titles.

The Niemann family catered the meal with the help of their daughter, Claudia and granddaughter, Kayla, as well as a neighbor, Beverly Hansen.

The first board/ resident dinner was initiated by Shirley Bergt, former Executive Director on Oct. 17, 1985. Herb and Joyce Niemann, with the assistance of their grandchildren, Kayla and Todd Koeber, have served the meal each fall since then.

A total of 45 persons were served.

Highway meeting set to be held in Wayne

The Nebraska Department of Roads and the State Highway Commission will hold a public hearing on Monday, Nov. 6 concerning a highway improvement project on Nebraska Highway 15 in the Wayne area.

The hearing will be held at 7:30 p.m. at the National Guard Armory, 800 East Seventh Street in Wayne.

The project involves reconstructing Nebraska Highway 15 from 13th Street to just south of Dog Creek. The improvement will include a new two-lane concrete roadway, concrete shoulders and curbs, storm sewer, culverts and grading.

To avoid impacting the golf course, the highway will be shifted 16 feet to the west of the area of the course. Additional right-of-way and control of access will be required.

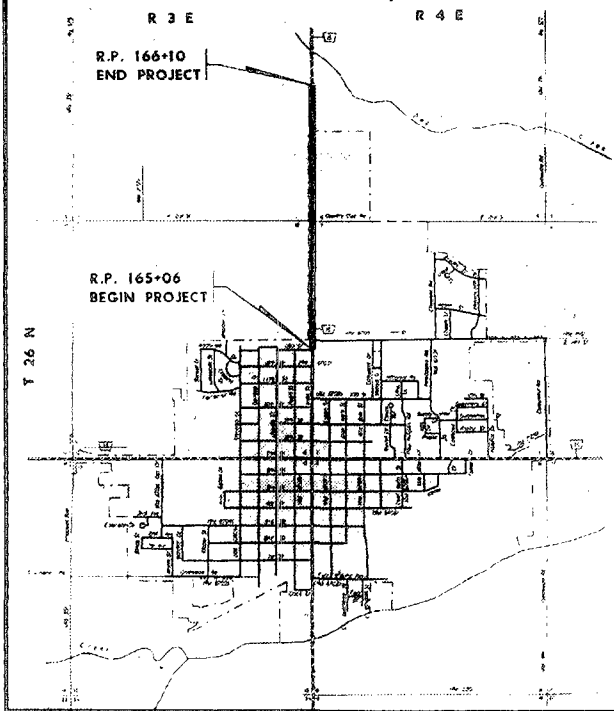

No detour will be needed during construction, but traffic will be routed on temporary roadways around work zones during some phases of the project.

The project involves potential impact to wetlands and may require mitigation. A channel relocation will be required.

Interested persons are invited to stop at the hearing location from 3 to 5 p.m., before the hearing, for informal discussions with Department of Roads personnel on any aspect of the project.

Preliminary plans, developed by the Nebraska Department of Roads, will be available for inspection by appointment at the District 3 Office, 408 North 13th Street in Norfolk; the Wayne Construction

year but I missed the first two weeks," Bethune said. "I went to practice for two days and then went and won my first race—from there running kind of became an obsession for me."

As a freshman Devin had one simple goal—to make varsity and by mid-season he did just that as Wayne's sixth runner.

"We lost four seniors that season and my immediate goal for my sophomore year was to be the number one runner on the team so I went out that summer and really worked hard, running in excess of 500 miles," Devin said. "The hard work paid off during my sophomore year."

Between his sophomore and junior year Devin ran more than 300 miles but most of his work entailed interval and speed work.

This summer he plans on surpassing the 500-mile mark again.

"I've run at the State Cross Country Meet in each of my three seasons at Wayne and the biggest difference this year was my mental attitude—I know that's what won it for me. Running can be a great teacher of discipline."

Still, looking back on the season Devin wasn't the champion of many races—two in fact, counting State.

"There are some great runners in Northeast Nebraska," Devin said. "I really wasn't letting the fact I hadn't taken first place in many races get to me as I prepared for State because in every race I ran, it was just a matter a few seconds that separated first from where I was."

Bethune said winning State came down to planning prior to the race—in his mind.

"You work all year on the physical aspects of running so there's really not much improving you can do at State," Devin said. "What it came down to for me was knowing my opponent's strengths and trying to counter them."

Devin said since Ryan Otto of Pierce had a great kick at the end, he knew the only way to compensate for that was to get a good lead so when the kick came, it'd be too late.

On that aspect Devin appears to be a genius. With 400 meters to go the lead was about 40 meters after Devin took off with 1000 meters left in the race.

At the tape there was less than a second between them.

"My first plan at State was to not let my anxiety and adrenaline allow me to pull out too quickly at the beginning of the race," Devin said. "I was probably in about 50th place after a fourth of the race and in the top 20 by the end of the first mile."

By the time mile two was complete he was in the top five and with about three-fourths of a mile remaining he was in first.

"If You Believe It, You Can Achieve It," Devin said. "I like that motto because it's true. I felt I would win this race hours before I ran."

When head coach Rocky Ruhl and Devin were discussing the race prior to it being ran, Devin just simply stated he was going to win it.

"Cross country is pure sport," Devin said. "The goal of all runners is to compete in what they love to do, run."

Devin also said he enjoys the camaraderie of the sport as runners from other teams support each other.

"The first guy that congratulated me after I crossed the finish line was Albion's great runner Kyle Wyatt, a former high school champ who now runs for Nebraska," Devin said. Bethune was quick to point out however that despite his success, winning was bitter-sweet as the team did not fare as well as he hoped.

"Seeing Brad Hansen go down couldn't have been a positive thing for our guys," Bethune said. "Fortunately for me, I had no idea he didn't finish the race until after the race was completed. I felt badly for him and for our team because we felt we had an excellent shot if everyone ran to their capability—and I still feel that way."

Devin will now focus his attention on staying in shape through the winter months until track season.

"I want the school record in the mile," he said. "It's 4:24 by Doug Proett in 1981. My best time is 4:41 so it will be a challenge."

As far as next year goes, Devin's goals include winning every race. Until then, the Village of Carroll will likely see a lot of him as he runs that 1.35 mile loop around the town.

Devin is the son of Ken and Pat Bethune of Carroll.

Practice, practice, practice

Although the Wayne High School Blue Devil Marching Band has received two Superior ratings already this year, band members continue to practice in preparation for this week's competition at Wayne State College.

Activity

Included in the plan were the following suggestions: adjust thermostats, reduce water temperature, install water flow restrictors, reduce lighting, seal heating and cooling ductwork, wrap hot water heaters, replace air filters, install programmable thermostats, install auto room lighting controls, clean heat exchanges, conduct routine maintenance on refrigeration equipment, seal off unused areas, turn off machines and equipment not needed, buy energy-efficient equipment, seal exterior cracks and holes, secure light-filling windows, shade sun-exposed windows/walls, repaint building with light colors, keep exterior doors closed as much as possible, block and insulate unneeded windows, buy energy-efficient vehicles, and encourage employees to be energy-conscious.

Of these suggestions, Reinert noted that turning down thermostats and installing set-back thermostats on the boilers at the Carroll School location and at Wayne High School will be their number one priority in helping save money. He noted the boilers are an on-off situation so that's why it's necessary to install set-back thermostats. He said they would also follow as many of the other energy-saving suggestions as they found feasible.

Reinert said lowering thermostats would likely bring temperatures in the school buildings down to around 50 degrees during off-hours (nights and week-ends). He also noted they may look into four-day school weeks and cut down on field trips and out-of-town busing as much as possible to help cut costs.

A recap was held of the NASB Area Membership meeting held in Norfolk on Sept. 27 which was attended by several Wayne Schools board members. Board members gave highlights of some of the sessions they attended. One session was on the NASB Policy Service that is being started. For a basic yearly fee of $395, NASB will assist the board with policy needs and administrative regulations. More discussion will be held on this subject at the next board meeting.

Phyllis Spethman, board president, discussed upcoming board conferences. A National Association of School Boards (NASB) meeting is scheduled for Nov. 15-17 in Omaha and a board member workshop is to be held at the Educational Service Unit (ESU) building in Wakefield on Nov. 28.

Future agenda items for the next Wayne Community Schools Board of Education meeting on Monday, Nov. 13 at the high school in Wayne include discussion on NASB Policy Service and a bus mileage comparison report from last fall to this fall.

The meeting ended with the board going into executive session on personnel matters.

Eyeglasses being collected

The Wayne Lions Club is again collecting used eyeglasses and used hearing aids.

The local club president will be taking these donations to a state Lions meeting at Kearney on Friday, Nov. 17.

Persons wishing to make donations are asked to bring carefully stored pairs of lenses (secured in plastic wrap so they can't be 'parted'), used prescription eye glasses in unbroken plastic or metal frames, prescription and regular sunglasses to collection boxes located at Northeast Nebraska Medical Group, Wayne Sport and Spine, Wayne

Vision Center and Magnuson Eye Care.

The hearing aids are re-distributed in Nebraska. The rest of the donated items are taken by truck to a regional sorting center in Wisconsin and distributed to third world countries which request them.

The broken metal frames are sold by Nebraska Lions as metal so they are accepted also.

Pat Cook (375-2003) is in charge of collecting, sorting and packing these donations in the Wayne area.

The eyeglass cases are discarded by Pat and she puts them in layers of plastic wrap. Those wanting to protect their donations may put each pair of glasses in plastic or keep them in the case, which will later be discarded.

In addition, the Lions Club recently conducted its annual candy sale. They would like to thank the community for a successful sale again this year.

Political ads are bunch of bologna

Capitol News
By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Add the current battle for the U.S. Senate to the fundamental changes in Nebraska politics that have occurred in your lifetime.

Don't be proud of it or happy about it, just scratch it up in the "it happened column."

Trends sweep the "global village" much faster than they did years ago, for good and ill.

It has long been understood that a trend on either coast, in language, dress, etc., will gradually reach its way to middle of the country.

For a good many election cycles, however, Nebraska never really got to the down and dirty, dumb and dumber kind of political ads that are now standard, daily fare on the boob tubes of Huskerland.

I have had the privilege of letting loose with a couple of cathartic rants in this space, dealing with what amounts to the dishonesty in the advertisements used by Messrs. Stenberg and Nelson. Each has used attack ads that are less than completely honest - with the prize for the most inventive examples of baloney going to Mr. Stenberg.

Today, the issue is simply the mindset behind such advertising.

Political advertising is like that for any other product. The sellers will do what they think they have to do to make a sale, and keep up with the competition.

America is returning to a political environment that wouldn't be tolerated (we hope) in any other area of manufacturing; like, say, bologna, for instance. If someone obviously put this much dirt in our food, we'd have a fit.

In the generic "good old days" of American politics, when ballot boxes were stuffed, the press was often ineffectual and votes routinely purchased, the blabberastic nonsense that poured from the mouths of politicians and their henchmen was, at least, often understood to be exactly that - at least, such was the understanding of even the least sophisticated among us.

Today we have candidates doing their "sincerity thing" in one ad, and their "attack thing" in another, and their bending the truth or outright falsehood thing in the rest of them. Mark your political history calendar.

It was in the year 2000 that Nebraska finally got completely in line with the rest of the country. Actually, it got down and dirty with the rest of the country.

It is one area where those of us in "the sticks" could have lived happily ever after without being brought up to speed with the rest of the country.

The minority will decide

The minority will decide the election. The election is now in its final weeks. Many of us have watched the debates, the majority of voters have already decided who their candidate will be. The small number of people who have not decided will determine the outcome of this election. This race is shaping up to be the tightest race since Truman vs. Stevenson. As for the substance of the latest debate, I learned nothing more than I had learned in previous two. As for who won the debate, I thought it was a tie.

Bush has the momentum; He needs to continue to press the failed energy policy of the Clinton Administration, Gore's perceived image of not being trustworthy and his leadership ability. Gore is still trying not to come off as a stiff shirt. Gore will press hard to push the point of Bush's record in Texas. He will also press hard about the social security issue. He will want you to look at how Bush will give a trillion-dollar tax refund and still fund Social Security at the same time. Fuzzy math is what it's called. Gore needs to continue letting people know that the economy is still sound and the stock market will recover.

One thing that I want you to see is that there is very little difference in the candidates on issues, only how they plan to accomplish it. Working with Congress is a very important, because it's Congress that will pass the bills to solve these problems, not the candidates.

The race is a dead heat by most polls and I have already decided whom I will vote for in this election. I hope you will look closely at both candidates and vote in this election. I personally feel that no one candidate has all the answers and the promises they both make are iffy at best.

I do know one thing, the person whom I'll be voting for has to do two things - Be able to work with Congress and get the job done and is not Bill Clinton.

Residents deserve much more

Dear Editor:

Imagine Nebraska nursing homes closing or going into bankruptcy, patients in other homes experiencing reduced quality of care and families forced to move their loved ones to facilities far from home.

A nightmare? Actually, this scenario is a very distinct possibility under the changes proposed by the Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services concerning Medicaid payments to nursing homes. In fact, these proposed changes come at a time when 10 percent of Nebraska nursing homes are already in bankruptcy protection.

More than half of all nursing home patients in Nebraska depend on Medicaid to pay for their care. Nursing homes rely on Medicaid funding to provide the kinds of staff, equipment, programs and services needed to ensure quality care for the most frail and vulnerable individuals in our state.

Nursing homes across the state have already experienced significant cuts in Medicaid funding during the past few years, having been underfunded by as much as $40 million. The proposed Medicaid plan could mean an additional drop in funding of more than $7.3 million during the first two years alone.

Rather than basing Medicaid funding on the current costs of caring for our seniors, as is done now, this new plan would establish a funding rate during the first year and then ignore nursing homes' actual cost increases for two more years before reevaluating that rate. In the meantime, nursing homes and the elderly Nebraskans who live in them will be faced with increasing costs and compromised quality of care. Essentially, the plan makes an educated guess that the proposed rate, with small allowances for inflation, will be enough to cover the need. Not so, however.

The State's own data shows that nursing home costs for nursing salaries alone increased more than nine percent from 1998 to 1999, a situation that will only get worse as more homes, particularly in rural communities, must turn to pooled labor sources for their nursing staff. This type of increase will surely exceed whatever allowances have been made for inflation.

On Nov. 2, Health and Human Services administrators will hold a hearing at the State Office Building in Lincoln to discuss the new payment plan which, if adopted, would cost nursing homes across Nebraska millions of dollars in support. But this issue is about more than covering costs - it's about caring for the people who took care of us and who built this great state - our seniors. Nebraska nursing home residents need your help.

Call Governor Johanns (402) 471-2244, Health and Service Administrator Bob Seiffert (402) 471-2306 and your state senator before Nov. 2. Tell them our elderly residents deserve the highest quality and most compassionate nursing care possible and that families shouldn't have to face the prospect of moving their loved ones far away. Ask them to say "no" to reduced Medicaid funding for Nebraska's nursing homes.

stereotypes. Many community members judge college students by their unpainted, run-down homes and unmowed lawns, but in most cases that's the way the house was when they moved in.

Many residents blame college students for the drop in value of their neighborhoods. They should be pointing their fingers at the landlords. The landlords are the ones who have told the residents that they will upkeep the houses, but they don't. They are the ones who say that they will mow the lawn and that they will repaint the house, but they never do.

Nothing ever gets taken care of and it's the renters, in this case the students, who have to pay for it.

Cunningham concerned about farmers

Dear Editor,

It was with interest that I noted the prominent heading on the front page of the Oct. 18 edition of the Plainview News "The End of An Era." This was in reference to the closing of Alderman Variety Store after more than 40 years in business. Perhaps a sub-heading could have indicated "The Continuing Saga of the Demise of Rural Nebraska Communities."

I have lived in the Plainview community for 32 years and my wife and I raised our family here. I believe there is great value in living in a rural community and only hope and pray that our children will be able to raise their children and grandchildren in a similar environment.

But if I take off my rose-colored glasses, I am not so sure that my descendants will have that opportunity. For example, here in Plainview, I have seen many basic businesses close, not to be reopened - machinery dealers, auto dealers, grocery stores, hardware stores, feed stores, produce station, gas stations, clothing stores, drug stores, etc. and now Alderman's Variety.

Plainview is not alone. People I have talked with from other communities in the area share the same concern - the demise of Mainstreet. Schools are struggling because of declining or projected declining enrollments and funding problems.

Last Friday I had the opportunity to meet with Doug Cunningham and I heard him express the same concerns I have. He said that his first priority is agriculture. If we don't keep our younger independent family farmers on the farms, we will not have the customer base to maintain the businesses we have in our rural communities.

He knows that farmers are struggling because he has seen what his parents and brother and sister as well as other relatives have faced. Doug has proposals to help the independent family farmer and is committed to do all in his power to meet that objective.

As a business man in Wausa, Doug has become aware that his business will not prosper without an adequate farming economy. Young farmers must feel that they can make a decent living farming. They must believe that they can raise their families in the country and expect their children to receive an excellent education in the community school. Doug is committed to make this happen.

Can we curtail the exodus from the farm? Can we stop the demise of small town businesses? Can we reinvigorate schools in rural communities? I am enough of a realist to say I don't know. But after thinking about the value of rural community living, I believe we have to try. And I believe we have to elect people to public office that have our values and will lead the fight to save our communities.

Doug Cunningham is one of those people. Please vote for him as your District 18 legislator.

Remember; Nov. 7 is election

Dear Editor:

The importance of Election 2000 is beyond calculation: it is not merely democrat v. republican, with a half-dozen others thrown in; no, it is more than that.

This election pits Life against Death. For those who care about the society now being formed for our children and grandchildren - Nov. 7, 2000 is D-Day.

As a democrat, I cannot support Al Gore. Why? Because he is adamantly for abortion. What is abortion?

Abortion is the direct killing of an innocent human being in the womb of his mother. Further, Al Gore proudly stands with Bill Clinton on the matter of partial birth abortions. What are they? As New York's democrat Senator, Pat Moynihan - who broke with Clinton on this issue - said, "It is too close to infanticide for me!" In this killing field, the baby is turned and partially removed from the womb to make it easier for the abortionist to kill him. This is done on very big babies - into the third trimester.

This election will determine if America will ever again be a land of the living, for America has become "The Culture of Death". And all who are able to read this letter are responsible. We let it happen: democrats, republicans, independents, non-voters, all. It happened on "our watch" as parents and grandparents, as teachers, lawyers, doctors, business leaders, journalists, public servants, all.

While abortion is the defining issue in American history, there are supporting issues in The Culture of Death: pornography; homosexual practices, especially sodomy, same-sex unions, which mock family in America, and others that depict the steep decline in American morality.

This election forces us to face the question: will America continue the wanton killing of our children in abortion? If the answer is yes, then many more 'Columbines' await us in the near future. And we know why. There is no mystery here.

Election 2000 will be decided on Nov. 7, 2000

Against Initiative 416 (DOMA)

Dear Editor:

There are three reasons, among many, why voters should reject Initiative 416 (the so-called Defense of Marriage Act) on November 7:

1. In a front-page article in the Omaha World Herald on 9-17, David Kotuk stated,

"The sight of same sex couples is disconcerting to most Nebraskans" and that is one reason many support Initiative 416 that prohibits same sex unions. Several decades ago, the sight of mixed-race couples was probably "disconcerting" to many Nebraskans (as I'm sure it still is for a few benighted folks). Yet never was there placed in the state's Constitution a prohibition against such unions. If voter "discomfort" is to be the criterion for amending the Constitution or passing statutes, then our most basic freedoms in this state are in serious jeopardy.

2. Initiative 416 would enshrine discrimination in the Nebraska Constitution by limiting the rights of a significant number of our citizens. If it is considered wrong to discriminate on the basis of race, ethnicity, or sex, then this proposed amendment is equally wrong and immoral.

3. Should Initiative 416 be passed by the voters, it is certain that there will be challenges in the courts as to its legality. In the last year, hundreds of thousands of taxpayer dollars were spent in Don Stenberg's futile court challenges over the anti-abortion law that was struck down by the Supreme Court. Nebraska taxpayers should be wary by now of subsidizing ill-conceived attempts by the right wing to impose their moral agenda on everyone.

Vote NO on November 7 to Initiative 416.

Sayre Andersen,
Wayne

Housing is concern

Dear Editor,

I am writing with a concern about the quality and availability of off-campus housing for Wayne State College students in the Wayne area.

For a community whose economy depends upon the student population at WSC, the number of apartment complexes available is extremely low.

It's really great that Wayne takes such good care of its elderly and disabled residents, but what about the students? Many apartment complexes turn you away just for the mere fact that you are a student. Why are our living needs being ignored when we make up the greatest portion of the population? Of course there is the option of renting a house and there are a fair number of houses available at certain times, but renting a house is a much bigger responsibility and more work.

With living in a house also comes

Winside's Laurie Deck earns eighth place medal at State Cross Country Meet Devin Bethune wins Class C State title

By Kevin Peterson
For the Herald

Devin Bethune etched his name into the Wayne High School record books with a golden performance at last week's State Cross Country Meet in Kearney.

Bethune became the first Wayne boys cross country runner to ever win a state championship, individually.

The junior covered the 5,000 meter Kearney Country Club course in 17:00.1—just seven-tenths of a second ahead of Ryan Otto of Pierce.

It was a bittersweet day for the Blue Devils, however. Devin, of course being crowned a state champ but Wayne, with expectations of perhaps a golden performance of the team kind, saw their chances dwindle between the 2400 and 3000 meter mark.

Number two runner Brad Hansen suffered heat exhaustion and went down—something the other four Wayne runners saw as they ran past, dampening hopes.

"We had high expectations," coach Rocky Ruhl said. "When you have this type of setting everything needs to go right for you and we didn't have enough things go our way."

"It was truly bitter-sweet. Bitter because we finished lower (6th) than we expected but sweet because we brought home the individual state champion."

Ruhl said Devin ran the greatest race of his career. "In winning Devin defeated runners who seemingly had his number all season," Ruhl added. "He ran relaxed and with a smile on his face the entire race."

Ruhl said Devin knew he had to give a good lead down the stretch because he doesn't have the kick of a Ryan Otto of Pierce.

"Devin went out at about the 1000-meter mark and got the lead and he stretched that lead," Ruhl said. "In the final quarter-mile Otto kicked it in for a great finish—seven-tenths of a second difference."

"It was a great finish to a great race," Ruhl added. "The rest of the team gave it their best shot but it was tough seeing a fallen teammate."

Nick Lipp was 34th in 18:17.3 and Jeff Ensz was 38th in 18:22.0 while Roy Ley was 58th in 19:02.4. Tony Carollo finished 65th in 19:47.0.

Elkhorn Mt. Michael won the State Meet with 46 points followed by Albion with 58 and Wahoo Neumann at 74. Centennial was fourth with 90 and Minden, fifth with 96 while Wayne netted 98.

Hastings Adams Central was seventh with 106 and Gordon tallied 106 as well followed by Kimball with 114 and Grand Island Central Catholic, 146. Fillmore Central was 11th with 182 and Fairbury, last at 192.

"This season was a great one, one of the best in history," Ruhl said. "The boys won seven meets, finished second once, third once and of course, sixth at State."

Devin Bethune makes the final turn of his gold medal run last Friday in Kearney during the Class C State Cross Country Meet. He's the first state champ in Wayne history.

Winside's Laurie Deck sprints the final meters of her high school career while placing eighth at the State Meet.

Tavaris Johnson nets 293 all-purpose yards in 'Cats 35-24 win WSC earns its first football win

By Jason Sturek
For the Herald

The Wayne State College football team overcame a 14-7 halftime deficit to beat Southwest State 35-24 last Saturday in the 12th Annual Incredible Edible Egg Bowl at Memorial Stadium.

The win over the Mustangs was the first of the season for WSC. The Wildcats are now 9-3 in Egg Bowl games.

Five SSU turnovers and an outstanding performance by WSC receiver Tavaris Johnson boosted the Wildcats to victory. Johnson finished the game with 293 all-purpose yards.

With WSC down 14-0 in the second quarter, Johnson took an SSU kickoff 84 yards for a touchdown. It was his second return for a score this season.

He also netted 209 yards on 10 receptions, a WSC record. His longest was a 68 yard halfback pass from Elroy Brown to put the Wildcats up 21-17.

"When we were down 14 (points) I knew I had to make it happen," Johnson said.

"I called the tailback pass because we're predictable in that formation. We had to loosen (SSU's defense). Regardless of whether we caught it, we were going to send a message to them. It worked out for the best." Coach Scott Hoffman said.

Quarterback Justin Burhoop was a happy beneficiary of Johnson's big day.

"If you get the ball in his hands, any time during the game, you're going to have a chance to win," Burhoop said. "He's probably one of the most amazing athletes I've seen on the football field."

Johnson was awarded the Egg Bowl MVP honors for WSC. Mustang linebacker Nate Von Behren received SSU's MVP. He had 16 tackles and an interception to lead their defense.

Wayne State came into the game 0-7. Against NSIC teams, the Wildcats had lost five games by a total of 33 points. Hoffman said he felt last week's three-point loss to Concordia-St. Paul was a turning point in his players' belief in the team.

"You can tell we're still inexperienced with winning. We had some chances to close the door with about five minutes left but we made some bone-headed mistakes," Hoffman said.

Elroy Brown finished the game with three rushing touchdowns along with his 68 yard passing strike to Johnson. He rushed for 83 yards on 27 carries.

Justin Burhoop played the entire game at quarterback for WSC. He completed 15 of 28 passes for 184 yards and three interceptions.

Besides Johnson, Dion Gaston finished with three receptions for 27 yards. Jeremy Hoelker caught two for 13 yards.

Nate Hale was 5-5 on PAT kicks. Defensively, the Wildcats penetrated the Mustang backfield several times. They sacked the quarterback six times totaling 40 yards in losses. Seven Wildcats tallied sacks. John Trujillo had two sacks for 18 yards.

Mike Baker led the team in tackles. His 11 brings him to 69 total for the season. He leads the Wildcats in that category.

Nate Herbst had eight tackles, followed by Desmond Grace with seven. Dennie Chambliss had five tackles for the winners.

All of his were unassisted including a bone crushing blow on SSU's Dan Linden to stop a third quarter

Curt Topf brings down a Southwest State runner during second half action of WSC's first win of the year. The 'Cats downed Southwest State, 35-24.

Elroy Brown looks for running room during the Wildcats victory over Southwest State last Saturday afternoon. It was the 'Cats first win and it came in the final home game of the 2000 campaign.

Wayne State quarterback Justin Burhoop finds an open receiver downfield and fires the ball.

Laurel-Concord improves to a perfect 8-0 with 34-0 shutout

The Laurel-Concord football team improved to 8-0 last Friday night with another shutout—this time a 34-0 blanking at Creighton.

Mike Halley's team will close out the regular season schedule on Friday night at rival Randolph. A win by the Bears would clinch the district title.

Halley's defense was dominant at Creighton, allowing just four first downs and a total of 52 yards on the night.

The Bears ran up 21, first quarter points before adding touchdowns in the third and fourth quarters.

Matt Schroeder scored on a 32-yard pass from Nathan Beckman and Greg Kvols darted 42 yards to paydirt while Chris Lackas scored from seven yards out for the quick 21-0 lead.

Bennie Surber scored on a 10-yard run in the third quarter and Nathan Beckman called his own number with a five-yard scoring run in the fourth quarter.

Adam Hartung was 4-5 on point after kicks.

"Our defense is playing extremely well right now," Halley said. "They are aggressive and confident. Our offense is becoming more physical every game which will help us to move the football successfully."

The Bears racked up 354 total yards against Creighton with Greg Kvols leading the way on the ground with 90 yards while Chris Lackas gained 74 and Bennie Surber, 42 while Brent Heikes tallied 38 yards.

Nathan Beckman was 6-15 through the air for 92 yards. Matt Schroeder caught three passes for 66 yards and Heikes, Surber and Hartung each caught one.

Allen slips to 1-7

The Allen football team was blasted by Coleridge, 53-6 last Friday night, leaving the Eagles at 1-7 on the season heading into Friday's season-ending contest at home against Lutheran Northeast.

Allen's lone score at Coleridge came on an 18-yard pass from Corey Uldrich to Micky Oldenkamp.

Oldenkamp rushed for 52 yards on 11 carries with Bart Sachau gaining 21 yards on two tries.

Uldrich was 2-11 through the air for 27 yards. Oldenkamp, Brett Keltges and Kelly each had one catch. Defensively, Bart Sachau led the way with eight tackles with Bryan Gotch and Oldenkamp each netting six stops.

"We felt we were ready for this game but we weren't prepared for the speed that Coleridge had," coach Mark Wemhoff said. "We now need to focus on our final game and Lutheran Northeast who is also 1-7."

Wemhoff said his team wants to end the season on a high note, especially since it will be the final game for the seniors.

Mustang drive and force them to punt.

Defensive Coordinator Monty Roe said his defensive unit learned some things in last week's loss to Concordia-St. Paul.

"Last week in the second half they played so hard. They figured out they just need to do that for four quarters every time we step on the field," Roe said.

The 'Cats will look to add to that winning feeling on Saturday when they travel to play Minnesota-Duluth in a 12 p.m. kickoff.

WSC's season comes to a close on Saturday, Nov. 4 at Minnesota-Morris.

Winside downs Hartington

The Winside football team etched win number three in the good column last Friday night with a 15-0 blanking of Hartington.

The Wildcats got on the board in the first quarter thanks to an 82-yard punt return by Adam Hoffman who also kicked the point after.

The 7-0 score stood until the third quarter when Hoffman plunged over from a yard out. Eric Vanosdall ran for the two-point conversion.

"We played a good game," coach Terry Bear said. "Our defense played its best game of the season and everyone seemed to play with emotion and heart."

Bear said his offense struggled early but he was pleased that it got going in the second half.

Vanosdall rushed for 94 yards on 13 carries while Hoffman picked up 54 yards. Hoffman was 2-14 through the air for 46 yards with Ben Lienemann catching both passes.

Defensively, the Wildcats were paced by Tom Schwedhelm with 10 tackles with Nathan Trautman garnering nine. Nathan Suehl and Lienemann had seven each.

Winside will close out the 2000 campaign on Friday night against Ponca in a special game at the DakotaDome in Vermillion, S.D.

It will be Winside's last 11-man football game for the foreseeable future as they return to the eight-man game next Fall.

Tucknott and Lippman both placed in the top 10 to help the men's team to a second-place finish with 53 points. Minnesota-Duluth, with five runners in the top six, won the conference title with 16 points.

Tucknott, the 1998 NSIC men's champion, prevented a Minnesota-Duluth sweep by placing fifth in a season-best time of 26:40. However, he was only five seconds out of second place. Lippman, meanwhile finished 10th in 27:16.

Nickerson stayed among the top three runners the entire race as she placed third in a time of 24:23, helping the Wildcat women to a fifth-place team finish with 139 points.

Winside wins L&C title

The Winside volleyball team rose to the top by claiming championship honors at the Lewis & Clark Conference Tournament in Wakefield on Tuesday with a 15-13, 16-14 win over Bancroft-Rosalie.

Tori Moser's team advanced to the finals with a heroic come-from-behind win over Wakefield in seminal action, 16-14, 13-15, 15-12. The Wildcats trailed 11-2 in the third game before posting the come-back win.

"I think there may have been a little bit of over-looking on our part because we had just beaten Wakefield in straight games last week in Wakefield," Moser said. "Even when we were down 11-2 in the third game I felt we had a chance and the girls did a great job of coming all the way back."

Moser however, was quick to give Wakefield credit for its performance. "They played great defense and took our hitters out of the match at times," Moser said. "We were trailing 11-6 with Kim Nathan serving when Wakefield took a timeout. In the huddle Kim told us she was going to serve out this game. Her confidence carried to the rest of the team and we got the job done."

Jessica Wade and Julie Jacobsen each had 10 kill spikes to lead the winners with Ashley Hoffman netting six kills.

Jacobsen and Hoffman combined for 31 set assists at 17 & 14, respectively and Jacobsen was 14-14 to lead the team in serving while notching two ace blocks and six digs on defense.

Heather Rabe was 11-11 in serving and shared team honors in digs with Jennie Cleveland at eight apiece.

Cleveland was 12-13 in serving with one ace and two ace blocks on defense while Jessica Wade notched two service aces and had six ace blocks. Nathan was 12-14 in serving with one ace and Hoffman was 11-12.

In the championship match Julie Jacobsen sparked the team with 15 kill spikes on 33-33 attempts. Jacobsen also posted 11 set assists, five digs and two ace blocks.

Ashley Hoffman was 20-20 in serving with two aces and she recorded 18 set assists while netting five ace spikes and two ace blocks.

Jessica Wade tallied seven ace spikes and had three ace blocks while recording 15 digs on defense and Jennie Cleveland was 7-7 in serving with one ace while leading the team in digs with 16 and notching four ace spikes and two ace blocks.

Kim Nathan was 12-12 in serving with an ace and had four digs on defense while Heather Rabe was 8-9 in serving and notched 10 digs.

"It was such a relief to just get to the championship game that we relaxed a little and settled into our type of game," Moser said. "We played with more confidence and our defense did a great job of picking up the hits and anticipating what was coming next."

It was Winside's first conference title in nearly a decade. "These 14 girls deserve it because they put a lot of time in over the summer," Moser added. "Perseverance, courage, pride and a lot of heart was displayed by this team and I'm very proud of them."

THE WILDCATS OPENED conference tournament play with a 15-9, 15-5 win over Osmond.

Jessica Wade led the winners with seven kill spikes while Julie Jacobsen had five kills and 13 set assists to go along with three digs and 8-8 in serving.

Wayne football team defeats Crofton, 20-10

By Kevin Peterson
Of the Herald

The Wayne football team, bullied their way to their sixth win of the season last Friday night in the home finale against Crofton, 20-10.

The Blue Devils ran roughshot over the Warriors defense as senior Trevor Wright rambled for a career-high 185 yards in work-horse fashion with 33 carries while scoring three touchdowns.

If Wright wasn't brusing the Warriors defense with his running ability then he definitely left his mark while playing defense, garnering 18 total tackles.

The visiting team took the opening kickoff and drove the ball the length of the field and settled for a field goal while taking seven-plus minutes off the clock.

Wayne took the ensuing possession—its first possession, and drove the length of the field and scored on a Wright one-yard run and a 7-3 lead after one quarter of play.

Crofton took a 10-7 lead at the half but the visitors never got close enough to threaten the scoreboard in the second half as Wayne dominated the line of scrimmage on both sides of the ball.

Wright scored twice in the third quarter with a pair of two-yard runs.

"Our offensive line took control in the second half," coach John Murtaugh said. "Caleb Garvin, Keith Shear, Jon Pickinpaugh, Chris Woehler, Tyler Jorgensen and Jason Rethwisch deserve a lot of credit."

Wayne rushed for 242 yards with Adam Jorgensen gaining 46 yards to go along with Wright's 185.

Brad Hochstein was 5-13 through the air for 49 yards with Shane Baack connecting on three-of-five pass attempts for 43 yards.

Ethan Mann finished with three receptions for 31 yards with Brad Heithold catching two balls for 24 yards. Marcus Berns, Caleb Garvin and Adam Jorgensen each caught one pass.

Joe Dangberg netted 11 tackles behind Wright's 18 stops while Shane Baack and Lynn Junck each had 10 tackles.

"Trevor Wright was simply a dominant force all night," Murtaugh added.

Wayne's 6-2 record is the first time the Blue Devils have hit the six-win plateau since 1994.

Wayne will visit Pierce on Thursday in the final regular season game.

Wayne quarterback Brad Hochstein barks out signals while Keith Shear keeps a watchful eye from his center position.

Wayne State soccer team ends regular season with 17-3 mark

By Jason Sturek
For the Herald

The Wayne State women's soccer team finished out the last three games of the regular season last week and the Wildcats extended their streak of wins to eight before dropping their final game to ninth ranked Minnesota-Duluth 2-0 on Sunday.

The 'Cats stand at 17-3 overall and 7-2 in the NSIC. They are seeded third in the conference tournament that runs this Friday through Sunday. The Wildcats also solidified a third place spot in the NSIC regular season rankings.

Winona State defeated Northern State on Sunday 2-0 to tie MDU for the conference crown.

Winona will have the first seed in the NSIC tournament.

WSC defeated the University of South Dakota in a non-conference game last Wednesday. The first half was scoreless.

The Wildcats lit the board quickly in the second half. Sarah Herrick scored at the 49:00 mark. Amanda Keller found the net 53 seconds later to put the 'Cats up 2-0.

Anne Paulsen scored two goals for WSC. She took an assist from Mary McDaniel at the 69:00 mark to score her first. She knocked another goal through 20 minutes later on a pass from Nikki Field.

"Any time you defeat a North Central Conference foe on the road it's a nice win. USD played much better than their record would indicate," coach Justin Cole said.

Sara Zimmer and Jackie Arnold also had assists in the game. Kalle Wamsat recorded five saves in the first half. The Wildcats out shot USD 22 to 11. USD dropped to 5-12 overall.

"We didn't play exceptionally well in the early stages of the match, but we played better as the day went on. It was nice to get some good contributions from our bench," Cole said.

WSC defeated Bemidji State 3-1 on Saturday. The effort was the 17th victory for the Wildcats.

For the third straight game, the Cats had to wait until the second half to unleash their offensive attack. Sarah Herrick turned things around abruptly in the second stanza. With aid from Sarah Lepak and Amanda Keller, she scored in the first five minutes of the half.

Six minutes later, Herrick scored again. It was her 20th of the season. Jackie Arnold and Mary McDaniel shared the assist. Mary McDaniel scored at the 69:00 mark to complete the Wildcat's scoring.

"We played pretty well in the early going but just couldn't find the net," Cole said. "I'm anxious to see the game where we do break out and find the net with some regularity."

The Wildcats out shot BSU 33-7. Kalle Wamsat played the complete game at goalie for WSC. BSU dropped to 0-6-2 in the NSIC and 3-8-2 overall.

"Our defense was solid again," Cole said. "Those girls just make it difficult for teams to be effective on our half of the field."

The Bulldogs had their day on Sunday as nationally ranked Minnesota-Duluth handed the Wildcats their third loss in 20 games with a 2-0 win.

The game was scoreless at the half, but the Bulldogs broke away in the 64th minute to go ahead.

Duluth has only allowed three goals against them all season. They've recorded 15 shutouts.

"Duluth is the number one team in the region and ninth in the nation, so this was a great test for us. They play on artificial turf and that's not something our kids see very often," Cole said. "We played hard and that's all I can ask for as a coach."

WSC was out shot 13 to 3. Michelle Mellenthin recorded seven saves, giving up two shots for goals.

"I'm convinced we can play at this level and our girls are anxious to get to that point in our program," Cole said.

State

Ruhl will return four varsity runners and have some underclassmen waiting for their chance next season.

WAYNE HAD JUST one girl qualifier in sophomore Amber Nelson and the first-time state qualifier ran very well, finishing 19th out of the 82 runners.

"Amber finished ninth at districts and then to finish in the top 20 at State is a tremendous accomplishment," Ruhl said. "She wanted to medal (top 15) but she put forth a great effort."

Ruhl said overall his girls team had a great season. "We were at our best at David City and Bloomfield," Ruhl said. "The district meet left a sour taste in our mouth but the season was a success."

The Wayne mentor believes his team is one of the top 10 in Class C despite not qualifying for State.

"We say goodbye to seniors Katie Walton, Lily Broders and Jeanne Allemann and they will be missed," Ruhl added. "We do return five of our top six runners for next season. I feel the girls could really be a force if they take care of their off season work."

Incidentally, district foe Columbus Scotus was the State Champs with 34 points followed by Gothenburg with 36 and Wahoo Neumann with 68.

Laurie Deck runs for medal. Winside's Laurie Deck, the lone qualifier in the Class D race from Winside, finished eighth and earned a medal in her final trip to State in a time of 16:30.0.

LAUREL-CONCORD'S GIRLS team placed seventh overall with 125 points in the team race.

Oakland-Craig won the State Title with 36 points with Bridgeport finishing second with 56 and Gibbon, third with 60. Kearney Catholic was fourth with 73 and Amherst was fifth with 105 followed by Stuart with 120.

Pender, Fort Calhoun, Weeping Water, Bertrand and Grant/Wheatland finished in order.

Lone senior Kate Harder led the Bears with a 20th place time of 17:06.0.

Sarah Stark was 45th in 17:33.5 and Amber Haahr was timed in 18:11.0 while Sarah Kneiff finished in 18:40.2. Bridgett Haahr, the lone freshman was timed in 18:51.6 and Holli Tyrell netted a 19:02.5 time.

Trevor Wright plunges over from a yard out for Wayne's first score during the Blue Devils 20-10 win over Crofton last Friday night in Wayne. Wright rambled for 185 yards on the ground and three touchdowns while racking up 18 tackles to lead the defense. Wayne will close out regular season action on Thursday at Pierce.

Wayne State volleyball team moves to 13-14 on the year

Sharon Vanis' Wayne State volleyball team went 1-2 in matches last week as the 'Cats fell to third-ranked UNO before splitting a pair of NSIC matches with Concordia-St. Paul and Winona State.

The 'Cats lost at home to UNO, 15-10, 15-8, 15-4 as the Mavericks improved to 20-1 on the year while WSC slipped to 12-13 after the match.

WSC was tied with the Mavs at 10 in the first game before UNO scored the final five points to capture game one in front of a season-high crowd of 700-plus.

"We played pretty well against UNO in the first game and in spurts during the second game," Vanis said. "We didn't play very well in the third game."

Lindsey Koch led WSC with 10 kill spikes with Jessie Erwin adding eight and Rayna Nelsen, seven. Kasey Meyer recorded 25 set assists.

Defensively, Koch led the way with 11 digs while Erwin had 10 and Meyer, nine. Nelsen finished with three block assists.

Last Friday the 'Cats defeated Concordia-St. Paul, 15-9, 15-7, 15-12.

Once again Koch led the way with 11 kills and 17 digs. Jessie Erwin followed with 10 kills and eight digs with Kasey Meyer notching 42 set assists.

WSC netted a .304 hitting percentage. Vanis said her squad dominated on offense. "We weren't as aggressive at the net as I would have liked but we played well offensively," she said.

Rayna Nelsen finished with eight kills and Laurie Schroeder, six. Koch had two service aces and Janel Moody tallied nine digs with Heather Schuller netting eight digs.

Nelson had two solo blocks and two block assists with Kasey Meyer finishing with 42 set assists.

Wayne State fell to Winona State last Saturday in straight games, 15-5, 16-14, 15-13 despite a 20-kill performance by Lindsey Koch.

Jessie Erwin had 12 kills and Rayna Nelsen, eight while Kasey Meyer netted 44 set assists.

Nelson had five blocks to pace the defensive effort at the net while Erwin had 10 digs to lead WSC. Heather Schuller finished with nine digs.

"We just didn't play all that well throughout the weekend," Vanis said. "We need to play at our level and not our opponent's level."

WSC fell to 8-4 in NSIC play and 13-14 overall. The 'Cats will play host to Southwest State on Thursday before playing at Northern State on Tuesday in Aberdeen, S.D.

April Sachau was next in for the women's team, placing 23rd in 25:47. "That was April's best race of the season," Brink said. "Shannon Short was 35th followed by Jeana Luebbe and Gretchen Murphy in 52nd and 53rd.

"We competed well as a team," Brink added. "I had hoped for more runners in the top 25 but we put forth our best effort. Darr ran a good race. She stayed the top three throughout the race, but she just couldn't close the gap on the number two runner."

Wayne State's Kyla Batten returns a free ball during the 'Cats match with UNO.

Older Antidepressants Often as Effective as Newer, Costlier Ones

According to new guidelines from the American College of Physicians - American Society of Internal Medicine, both newer and traditional antidepressant medicines are equally effective for many persons with depression. Older medicines typically are in the class termed tricyclics (e.g., Tofranil, Elavil). The newer agents include selective serotonin reuptake inhibitors, or SSRIs (e.g., Paxil, Zoloft, Prozac).

The major difference cited between tricyclics and SSRIs are side effects. SSRIs are more likely to cause diarrhea, nausea-headache, and sleeping difficulties. Tricyclics are more likely to cause blurred vision, constipation, dizziness, dry mouth, and tremors. Interestingly, according to the new guidelines it is noted that St. John's wort may be effective against mild depression, at least on a short-term basis.

Despite anti-hunting campaign it's still an American Heritage

It seems like the only thing that we hear about hunting now days is the anti-hunting information.

For years, hunters have been content to do their thing and let it go at that.

Hunting is a big part of the American Heritage. When our fore fathers came to this country, they survived by hunting. Their clothing was made from animal hides; they used every part of the animal that they hunted. Nothing went to waste and everyone ate wild game to survive.

Back then we were more rural, either raising or hunting our food. Now a lot of the people live in "the big city." They have lost track of where they came from and how they got where they are at.

They get dressed up, put on their leather shoes, go to some super store and buy pre-cooked and pre-packaged meat or they go to Wendy's and pick up a burger on their way to the animal rights meetings.

They scream and hollar, shouting that animals should be left alone and allowed to run and live where ever they choose.

"Hello," is anyone home! Where do they think that the meat for the lunch or the leather for their shoes come from?

I'll bet they'd really scream if a bunch of wild critters moved in on their lawn, eating all of their "vegetable" garden, girdling their trees and making "deposits" on their sidewalk and lawn.

Well, if wildlife were left to itself, what "Mother Nature" didn't get through starvation and disease, would have to move onto our lawns and gardens to survive.

Hunters are a big part of the wildlife management system. They help to keep wildlife numbers at a sustainable number.

Wildlife numbers have been increased because of the purchase of hunting permits, habitat and waterfowl stamps and the taxes that was paid on hunting equipment by hunters.

Habitat has been created through organizations solely supported by hunters. Pheasants Forever, Ducks Unlimited, The National Wild Turkey Federation and the Rocky Mountain

Elk Foundation are just a few of the groups that hunters support. These groups of hunters have helped animal numbers not only to survive, but actually increase in numbers.

Hunters have helped to produce millions of acres of habitat for all species of wildlife. With the increase in habitat comes an increase in wildlife numbers.

Gary Howey
"Of the Outdoors"

Both game and non game animals benefit from the programs funded and built by the hunter, which means that both hunters and non hunters will benefit.

Hunters have chipped in with both time and money to create nesting boxes and platforms for waterfowl. They've planted millions of acres of trees, nesting cover and food plots.

These along with many conservation practices give all varieties of wildlife a place to grow and prosper. From song birds to predators, all species of wildlife benefit when hunters help to improve habitat.

Hunters not only support programs that benefit the wildlife, they also support those that benefit man.

Hunters pay to hunt with celebrities in Celebrity Hunts, like the Habitat For Humanity Hunt that will be held in Yankton, SD the first week of November and the Missouri Invitational Celebrity Turkey Hunt that is held in Warsaw, Mo. each spring.

Tens of thousands of dollars are donated from the fund raisers to help build homes in Yankton County South Dakota or to donate money to a children's hospital in Kansas City, Mo.

How many times have you heard any anti-hunting groups has done anything to help its fellow man.

Sure they help out rats, mice and other animals. It seems that people just aren't a big priority with these anti-hunting groups.

They're against using rats and mice to help to develop drugs that could save a human's life. They're just antis. Anti-hunting today, anti-farming tomorrow and anti something else the following day.

They'd like to make you believe that hunters have been the main reason behind the decline of animals, when in fact one of the major reasons for the decline of wildlife numbers in the loss of habitat.

Hunters have always been with us and have fed our hungry nation since the beginning. Now hunters across the nation have established programs that donate thousands of pounds of wild game to feed millions of homeless hungry people.

We're fathers, brothers, moms and daughters who not only care about people, we care about the wildlife and have and will continue to work hard so that both hunters and non-hunters can enjoy the great outdoors and all of its beauty.

The next time you see a Wood Duck, Antelope or hear a Turkey gobbler, thank the hunter, because these are just a few of the species that have increased in numbers because of the wildlife programs funded by hunters.

Antioxidant Vitamins May Lower Blood Pressure

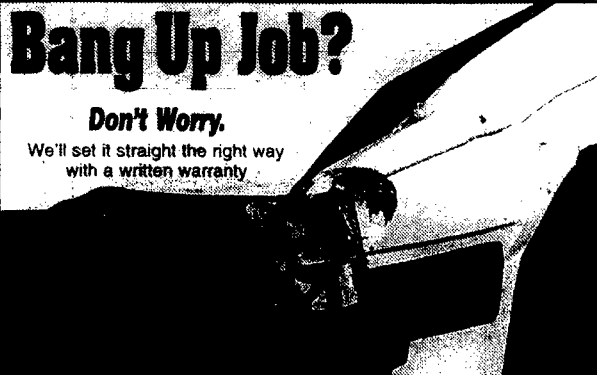

Animal research suggests that foods containing the antioxidant vitamins C and E may help lower blood pressure and protect the body against the effects of high blood pressure. According to a Hypertension: Journal of the American Heart Association report, both nutrients may reduce blood pressure by protecting the body's supply of nitric oxide. Levels of nitric oxide were lower in animals fed disease-producing free radicals. Adding vitamins C and E to the animals' diets partially reversed the disease process.

Vitamin C is found in many fruits and vegetables; vitamin E in nuts and some food oils. The US Department of Agriculture recommends that we eat at least 2 fruit servings, and 3 vegetable servings daily. Many Americans go day after day with few fruits and vegetables in their diets.

Nebraska Health and Human Services System Take steps now to prevent lead poisoning in your home

Lead poisoning is the number one environmental health hazard to children in the United States. Nationally, almost one million children under age six have enough lead in their blood to harm them.

"You can't tell if a child is lead poisoned just by looking," said Kimberly Hayes with the Childhood Lead Poisoning Program in the Nebraska Health and Human Services System (HHSS). "The only way to find out is with a blood test."

Children under age six are most at risk because their lungs are still developing and their play activities often take place on the floor. When a pregnant woman is exposed to lead, it can harm her unborn baby.

From 1997 to 1998, the number of Nebraska children tested through the HHSS Childhood Lead Poisoning Program increased from 6,300 to 8,300. More than 600 of those children had elevated amounts of lead in their blood. Lead poisoning can cause lower IQs and behavioral problems, and at very high levels can cause seizures, coma and even death.

"Lead poisoning is entirely preventable, and you can take action now to eliminate lead hazards in your home," Hayes said. Nebraskans can call 1-(888) 242-1100 for information about safe remodeling procedures.

While homes built before 1978 may have some lead paint, it can be found most often in homes built before 1950. Lead paint was used on windows, trim, doors, railing, columns, porches and outside walls.

Take these steps to make your home a healthy home:

*Keep paint in good shape, and repair peeling paint promptly.

*Work safely with lead paint. Wet down paint before you sand or scrape.

*Before remodeling a home built before 1978, have your home tested for lead-based paint. Seal off work areas by covering floors, doors, windows and vents with heavy plastic.

*Keep your home free of lead dust by washing window sills, floors and walls with soap and water.

Did you know ... If your home was built before 1978, it probably has some lead paint.

Protect your children.

Eating with your family encouraged across Nebraska

"Eat With Your Family" is the message that NU for Families is sending across the state of Nebraska. Mealtime is family time that contributes to the physical and emotional health of the ones who are most important to you.

November 1st was the day we were encouraging all families to make it a point to share a meal together, then continue to make it a practice in your homes routinely. This was the kickoff date for the University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension to teach about six family strengths identified by research conducted world wide. The six qualities of strong families are: time together, appreciation and affection, commitment, positive communication, spiritual well-being and the ability to cope with stress and crises.

Mealtime with your family is considered an essential way to help strengthen your family.

Families are so busy these days with work, school and community activities that family time is limited. Finding time together seems difficult, however it is essential that we find ways for our families be together in order to stay together. Eating with your family can be one solution.

Be creative in developing meal-times. Determine what time works best for your family. It might be that breakfast time is better for your family to be together rather than lunch or dinner. It doesn't matter when it takes place, the important thing is that it does happen. Meals do not have to be a gourmet feast either. It might be a sandwich together before the ball game. Maybe a bowl of cereal with fruit in the morning before work and school. Or the time together could take place over a dessert later in the evening.

No time to cook? Go out for a meal or order take out. The Nebraska Restaurant Association is also teaming up with the University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension to promote family mealtime. Whether you are at home or eating out mealtime is still family time. Have a family meeting while waiting for your order. Or start a conversation that helps you learn about each other to deepen your relationships. Use the free time to plan activities for the whole family.

Carry out food may be perfect for an impromptu picnic so the family can eat and enjoy nature.

When cooking at home, be sure to include the family in the tasks of food preparation. Ask family members to be involved in planning the menus. Create special meals where you can decorate the food and table settings. Always include pleasant and positive conversation as part of your meals. Teamwork and cooperation will be an added benefit of cooking together to strengthen the qualities of your own family.

So, start right now! Join other families across the state of Nebraska and plan to, "Eat With Your Family."

Safe Halloween advisory given

Citing the fact that there is a four-fold increase in young pedestrian deaths on Halloween eve, AAA Nebraska is issuing a motorist and pedestrian advisory as we approach the first Halloween of the new millennium.

"Every year, thousands of pedestrians across the United States and Canada are killed or injured as a result of motor-vehicle crashes," said Rose White, traffic safety director for AAA Nebraska. "While this reality is reason enough for concern and action, government data shows a fourfold increase in deaths among young pedestrians on the evening of Halloween alone."

An analysis of data from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration also shows that among pedestrians ages 5-14, an estimated four thousand injuries occur on Halloween between the hours of 4 through 10 p.m. This compares with an estimated one thousand injuries during these hours on every other day of the year.

On Halloween evening, we're placing our children in a dangerous traffic situation," said White. "Our children are walking across driveways and crossing unfamiliar streets in the dark. They often wear dark colored clothing, which is difficult to motorists to see. Motorists' vision is even further hampered due to daylight savings time, which ends on Oct. 29. As a result, many motorists will be driving home from work in the dark instead of daylight."

Because of these safety concerns, many parents are finding alternative ways for their children to celebrate the holiday, such as attending parties offered by shopping malls or churches. But for parents and children celebrating a traditional Halloween, AAA recommends a few simple tips for a safer holiday:

Children:
 *Avoid wearing masks, which can block your vision. Instead, create a look that's just as dramatic using face paint.

*Wear a light-colored costume. Decorate your costume with reflective tape or glow-in-the-dark accessories. Make certain your accessories will not cause you to trip or fall.

*Carry a flashlight but be sure you don't shine it in the eyes of oncoming drivers or other trick-or-treaters. Or, have some fun by illuminating your treat bucket by placing a flashlight face down in your bucket.

*Walk facing traffic and cross streets only at the corners. Never walk across the street mid-block or between parked cars.

Parents:
 *Plan the trick-or-treating route in advance, and include only neighborhoods you know.

*Be sure children under the age of 12 are accompanied by an adult.

*Have children over 12 travel in small groups and follow a strict cur-few.

 *Wear reflective tape and glow-in-the-dark accessories, too.

*Make certain your sidewalk, steps or porch area is well lit and free from any hazards or yard decorations that may cause someone to trip or fall. Jack-o-lanterns should be placed in a safe area away from children.

Motorists:
 *Slow down and drive 5 mph slower than the posted speed limit to give you extra time to react to children who dart out in front of you.

*Stay alert to children crossing the street between parked cars or in the middle of the block.

*Broaden your scan looking left and right into yards and front porches.

*To make your vehicle more visible, turn your lights on even in daylight.

*Arrive home a little earlier on Halloween. Use extra caution when turning into driveways.

"The various elements involved with this holiday challenges our ability to keep kids safe," said White.

"We must realize that young trick-or-treaters are focused on gathering candy and having fun rather than traffic safety. Since there are thousands of accidents just waiting to happen, parents and motorists must make it a priority to put safety first and drive with extra care."

The Madison team conducted a class competition to gather toys and clothing for families at Christmas. The Lindsay Holy Family team focused on doing a lock-in, doing a living Nativity, a grim reaper and collecting supplies for "tools for the mind" program.

The Winside Youth Leadership Council project focused on "Drug Awareness and stressed the "40 Developmental Assets."

Those involved with like to extend thanks to State Senators Bob Dickey, Cap Dierks, Pat Engel, Gene Tyson and former Senator Jerry Conway for sharing how they developed their leadership skills, issues in the State Legislature and how teens can influence public policy.

Sponsors of the program include Nebraska Cooperative Extension, Northeast Community College, the Gardener Foundation of Wakefield, Northeast Nebraska Resource Conservation & Development Office and the Upper Missouri Chamber of Commerce.

Members of the Youth Leadership Team include Diane Broyhill of Dakota City, Megan Beckwith and Jennifer Joe and Scott Levander, all of Albion, Brandy Jones and Ann Temme, both of Wayne, Laurie Keogh of Stuart, Katie Lewis of madison, Beth Loberg of Carroll, Katie Prothman and Shayna Wirges, both of Petersburg, Jessica Wade of winside, Melissa Weeder of Lindsay, Sara Weeder of Genoa and Kaitlin O'Connor of Columbus.

COMBINE FIRE

An over-heated combine belt was responsible for starting a dry field on fire on Oct. 18.

The field is located three and one-half miles south of Winside on property farmed by LeRoy Ruback.

The fire spread to approximately 200 acres of ground that was mostly harvested crops or government acres. A rental home owned by Randall and Connie Bargstadt was the main property threatened but fortunately was not reached due to mutual aid efforts of the Winside Volunteer Fire Department as well as the Hoskins, Carroll and Wayne Department.

Winside Fire Chief Terry Thies said the department really appreciated the help and use of tractors and disks from area farmers Randall Bargstadt, Mick Topp and Ernie Jaeger. The call came in about 3:45 p.m. and the fire was under control by about 5 p.m.; however, the Winside Volunteer Fire Department kept a check on it for a number of hours.

Thies said there was no major damage to the Ruback combine.

Urges votes for Cunningham

Dear Editor,

Election Day will soon be here and I encourage you to be informed on the issues and all of the candidates.

My late husband, State Senator Stan Schellpeper and I have had the pleasure of meeting and getting to know a candidate for Legislative District #18, Doug Cunningham. Doug always felt it was necessary to be aware of legislation that might impact rural Nebraska.

He voiced his concerns and opinions to Stan and other State Senators at various meetings and hearings.

As a small town business owner, Doug knows his business and many other businesses like his, cannot compete with the Wal-Marts, Hy-Vees and Menards. Their success depends on a strong rural economy.

I appreciate the positive campaign Doug has carried out. His message has been to tell people his view and what he would like to accomplish as a State Senator.

I believe Doug Cunningham is capable of representing all of the people of District #18 and will do it with honest and sincerity.

Please vote on Nov. 7th.

Faye Schellpeper,

Supports DOMA

Dear Editor:

Initiative Measure 416, Defense of Marriage Act (DOMA), would add the following paragraph to the Nebraska Constitution:

"Only marriage between a man and a woman is valid or recognized in Nebraska."

The uniting of two persons of the same sex in a civil union, domestic partnership, or other similar same-sex relationship is not valid or recognized as valid in Nebraska.

A legal marriage as stated in this paragraph should not shock anyone. There is nothing new here; nothing out of the ordinary. It does not deny people the right to live together, nor does it put boundaries on "relationships". And it does not threaten any business, corporation, agency, bureau, or educational institution, large or small.

It simply defines a legal marriage, which is a man (male) and a woman (female), who come together for the purpose of family. This is how it has been from the beginning. It is quite civilized.

Every Nebraska voter should support this measure on election day.

Allen O'Donnell
Wayne

Support Stenberg

Dear Editor,

Having worked with Don Stenberg, we can testify that he is a man of character, integrity and honesty. We are asking you to support him in the Nov. 7 election.

We need Don Stenberg in Washington, D.C. to vote with Chuck Hagel. There is no doubt that Nelson will vote with the Democratic Party and cancel Hagel's vote.

Stenberg will support placing judges on the bench who will interpret the Constitution. During his term as Governor, Ben Nelson appointed seven judges to the Nebraska Supreme Court; all seven were Democrats. He is not non-partisan as he claims to be.

Let's work to bring back the character, morals, trust and family values that have been lost in the last eight years.

Let's send Don Stenberg to the Senate.

Former Senators,
Merle Von Minden
Elroy Hefner
Richard Peterson
Howard Lamb

For Stenberg

Dear Editor,

Regarding statements made by Governor Ben Nelson.

A few short years ago he stated that if he was elected governor that he would finish out the term of that office without seeking another office during that time period. Low and behold, a vacancy became available in Washington, D.C. and he broke his promise to the Nebraska voters and sought election for the vacancy.

However, the voters of Nebraska took offense to his going back on his word (lying) and soundly defeated him in his quest to secure another political position while he was still serving as Governor of Nebraska. Thus his credibility is ruined and voters should hold him accountable and again defeat him in November. Let's remind him of his falsehood and show him that the voters in Nebraska are not suffering from mass amnesia!!!

A vote for Don Stenberg will send this message directly to him. Voters are tired of their elected representatives misleading them, and they remember those that pursue that path by not voting for them in other elections.

One who does not have amnesia,
Tom Roberts,
Wayne

In favor of Dickey

Dear Editor,

Recently I had an opportunity to attend the candidate debate in Randolph between Bob Dickey, a farmer, and Doug Cunningham, a grocery store owner.

The discussion was good and there were good questions asked by the crowd. Both candidates answered well. It would be nice if we could send both of them to Lincoln to work for us and get rid of one of the urban senators from Omaha, but we can't. We need to choose one.

Both candidates agree that agriculture is the top priority for our district. And I agree. And since that is the case, I think our choice narrows quickly.

We are very fortunate to have someone with Bob Dickey's experience in serving the ag industry on the ballot. He is well-respected by other senators and has earned their support on ag issues. No doubt about it, if retail grocery stores' success was the number one priority, I would vote for Doug. But since I believe that agriculture is the center of our rural economy and is our main concern, I have to vote for the best ag candidate, Bob Dickey.

Secrets of happy families

One of today's challenges for most adults is juggling the demands of work, family and personal needs. We usually take the time and learn the skills to meet the work

Amy Malchow
Extension Educator
4-H & Youth

demands but often do not do the same with our family or ourselves. Hopefully, the following seven habits of a happy family will help reinforce what families are already doing.

Habit #1 — Be Proactive. Members of happy families show each other kindness and consideration. They do not blame each other for problems or take out their anxieties on each other. They keep their promises to each other and apologize when they have said or done careless or hurtful things.

Habit #2 — Begin with a Vision. To nurture the values that build a successful family, you need a shared vision of where you are going together. During those few spare moments, or over dinner, try asking: What do each of you see as the purpose of our family?

Habit #3 — Establish Priorities. To put your vision into action, you need to set the right priorities. Sit down with your family during any spare moments and plan the week. Schedule important activities first such as birthdays, homework assignments, dental appointments, concerts, practices. Then as time allows, fit less important demands around them.

Habit #4 — Think Win-Win. The opposite of win-win thinking is self-centeredness. When conflicts arise, do not put energy into trying to prove you are right. Instead, use mutual benefits as your guiding principle. That does not mean your kids have to be happy with every decision you make. It means you need to take their desires into account - even when you can not always grant them. Let them know that you respect their rights to their own opinions.

Habit #5 — Seek to Understand. Then be Understood. Practice the simple skills of reflective listening-repeating back what the other person seems to be thinking and feeling.

Habit #6 — Synergies. Some people deal with disagreements by insisting on their own ways and treating everyone else's needs as secondary. Others try to compromise and may resent having given up too much. There is a third, more effective approach called synergy—using creative cooperation to come up with a better solution than the options any of you would have thought of on your own.

Habit #7 — Sharpen the Saw. The term "sharpen the saw" comes from the story of a man who was trying to saw through a log but was not making much progress. As he became more exhausted, his companion finally asked, "Why don't you sharpen the saw?" The man replied, "because I do not have time." Unless people make time for self-renewal, they do not have the energy or the tools to build effective families. Family members need to support each other in renewing themselves in the following areas of life:

Physical: Taking care of our bodies so that we are strong and healthy enough to function at our best.

Social/emotional: Improving our capacity to love and be loved. This means showing you care in actions and words.

Spiritual: Connecting to the world beyond the family. Making a greater contribution to society.

No family is perfect, but developing these seven habits can help build a trusting, supportive environment that nourishes every aspect of our lives.

Church Women United to celebrate World Community Day on Nov. 3

Church Women United will meet at First United Methodist Church in Wayne on Friday, Nov. 3 to observe a World Community Day 2000 service.

This year's WCD service is centered around the theme "Standing Up With Those in Need." Today it is our brothers and sisters with chronic illnesses, especially women and children with HIV/AIDS who particularly call out for God's love and comfort.

Members of Church Women United invite all women, their families and the community of faith to join in the World Community Day 2000 celebration and worship.

They invite everyone to come and support women's ecumenical ministries toward peace and justice.

Youth will go caroling

High school youth from Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne will be Halloween Caroling on Tuesday, Oct. 31.

Dressed for the occasion, they will wander the streets of Wayne bringing a treat, rather than gathering a treat.

The youth will be singing Halloween Carols for everyone's enjoyment and then asking for an optional canned good instead of candy. The canned goods will be given to the local food pantry.

After caroling the group will return to the Front Porch for an evening of fun and food.

Former confirmands of Immanuel Lutheran Church near Wayne gathered recently at the Wayne Senior Center for an afternoon of visiting.

Immanuel confirmands hold reunion

The Confirmands of Immanuel Lutheran Church northeast of Wayne held their annual reunion at the Wayne Senior Center on Oct. 10.

Eighteen members were in attendance and enjoyed a dinner prepared by the Providence Hospital and served by the Center.

The afternoon was spent by a short meeting.

Hostesses for next year will be Lois Krueger of Winside and Ruth Erwin of Concord. The gathering is usually held the second Tuesday of October.

Any confirmands who wish to join in next year's reunion are asked to let the hostess know. The remainder of the afternoon was spent visiting and playing cards. It ended with a dessert and coffee prepared by the hostesses, Bernita Sherbahn and Alice Roerber, both of Wayne. It was served by the Center ladies.

Charitable donation

Recently, the Lutheran Brotherhood, Wayne County Branch #8212, worked with the Nebraska Health & Human Services Office in Wayne to provide school shoes and clothes for eligible families. Pamida management worked with the LB volunteers and children involved. Volunteers who assisted with the project included, left to right, Lanora Sorensen, Lynette Lentz, Phyllis Rahn, Lynette Krie, Nancy Judson and Nancy Powers (sitting in the center).

Simplifying Drug Label Instructions Part II

According to research, almost half the people use medicines improperly. When instructed: "Take on an empty stomach" - Take two hours or more after eating a full meal or at least an hour before eating. Food can prevent a drug from being fully absorbed into your body.
 "Avoid Excessive Sunlight" - You should use sunblock and/or wear protective clothing. Some drugs increase your risk of sunburn or can cause an allergic reaction to sunlight.

HOUSING GRANT

The officers of Govern Mike Johanns and Al Wenstrand, Director of the Department of Economic Development (DED), have informed the City of Wakefield that its application for a Regional Homeowner Program has been approved in the amount of $314,650.

The grant will be used to fund new construction down payment assistance (with existing infrastructure) and down payment assistance for existing home. The program is geared toward low to moderate income families. The completion date of the contract is Oct. 6, 2002.

Any interested parties are asked to call Kathy Skinner, program administrator, at City Hall (287-2080) or stop in for application. The program will be administered by the Wakefield Residential Development Group.

Nine different organizations share more than $1.8 million in Nebraska Affordable Housing Trust Fund Money.

VETERAN'S DAY PROGRAM

The Wakefield Community School is planning a Veteran's Day Program on Wednesday, Nov. 8 at 9 a.m. in the auditorium.

During the program, a number of area veterans will be honored with the presentation of an honorary high school diploma or with a Korean War medal.

Veterans are encouraged to advise principal Bill Heimann if they have applied for a diploma or have received a war medal currently being offered by the Korean government.

Scheduled to be recognized are Joe Mattes of Wakefield, James Mitchell of Allen and Frederick Puls of Wayne with honorary high school diplomas and Korean medals to Eugene Johnson and A.D. Pete Brown, both of Wakefield.

In 1999 Kermit Turner and Walden Kraemer received diplomas in a special ceremony.

DROP BOX PROBLEMS

The Wakefield Music Boosters are still experiencing problems with people leaving other items at their clothing drop box on the lot next to the Water Tower. The officers report they are finding items like cardboard, empty bottles, cans, etc.

People are also not putting donations inside the building, the officers added.

If this is to continue to be a service for the community and a fundraiser for the Boosters, the officers said they need people's cooperation in donating only clothing and leather items such as shoes and purses.

A company is supposed to be picking up donated items on a regular basis, but if the building is full, contact one of the officers — Renee Bartels (287-2708), marcy Roeber (287-2769) Essie Kathol (287-9088) or lone Bendt (287-3064).

The boosters also said they appreciate the support that has been shown towards the organization by many people in the community and hope with cooperation, it can continue.

VISIT FAMILY

Al and Lorraine Hitz of Wakefield spent a weekend recently in Grapevine, Texas (which is in the Dallas area) visiting their son, Mark and Rendy Hitz and daughters, Ashley and Laura.

While there, the Hitz's attended the Colleyville Heritage High School homecoming game. They also watched a marching band contest at Standridge Stadium in Carrollton.

Fourteen-year old Ashley Hitz is a member of the Colleyville's 250-member marching band and plays the flute.

There were 25 bands in the competition.

FUNDRAISING PRIZE

The Wakefield Future Business Leaders of America Chapter is giving away two tickets to Nebraska's homecoming game with the Colorado on Nov. 24 as a fundraiser for the organization.

The tickets are on the 40 yard line of the West Stadium and were donated to the FBLA by Tim and Leslie Bebee.

ATTEND COUNCIL EVENT

Over 190 Junior Girl Scouts and adult chaperones from Prairie Hills Girl Scout Council learned about personal health and beauty while attending Sweet, Sassy and Sophisticated. The event was held at the Norfolk Senior High School on Oct. 7.

Representing Wakefield Troop #73 were Cortnie Allvin, Kelsey Bard, Jennifer Barge, Stephanie Bjorklund, Jade Olsufka, Crystal Phipps, Tina Roberts and Alissa Stark, along with Nadine Bjorklund and Girl Scout leader Val Bard.

The day's activities included nutrition and fitness, color swatching, hair styling, public speaking, skin and nail care, invitations and thank yous and table setting.

Council activities are just one of the many opportunities for girls ages 8 to 11 as members of the Girl Scout program.

They held discussion for the consideration of approval or modification of the District's tax request for the 2000-2001 school fiscal year for the General Fund, Bond Fund, Special Building Fund, Hazardous Material Abatement/Handicapped Accessibility Fund.

Visitors included Terri Samuelson, Deb Garwood, Linda Steinman, Sara Jaixen, Jim Jordan and Tracy Anderson.

Tracy Anderson proposed ways to get the community involved in the music program. The students are planning a quality "Broadway show and have been working very hard to get ready.

Mrs. Widner and Mr. Heimann attended the Northeast Nebraska Teacher's Academy at Wayne State College. This will allow the school to use Wayne State College students as substitute teachers.

Classroom mothers met with elementary mothers on Sept. 26 to play the 2000-2001 parties. The first party is Halloween and students in grades K-3 will parade their costumes at the Wakefield Health Care Center at 1:45 p.m. on Oct. 31. They plan to be in the downtown area around 2 p.m. Grades 4-6 are looking into the possibility of bowling again this year. Parties at school should be in progress around 2:30 p.m.

Mr. Heimann informed the board that Channel 23 is underway at the school. Mr. Harrison and several students are working to provide the community with information and entertainment.

for the purpose of staff development, the school is planning to have one early dismissal or one late start each month. Late starts will begin on Nov. 15, Jan. 24 and March 14. Early dismissal will begin at 2 p.m. on Dec. 13, Feb. 21 and April 25.

Mr. Heimann expressed thanks to Mrs. VanderWeil and all who helped make the annual Nebraska Theater Caravan a success. The event was held Oct. 8 and 9 and students from Wayne and Pender also attended.

In addition, Mr. Heimann reminded the board of the following dates — County Government Day which was to be held Oct. 25 and the first quarter ending on Oct. 27.

Superintendent Moody reported that he is working on the school's safety and security plan. He has attended one meeting at ESU #1 and has registered for a two-day training at Norfolk in November. He will have a preliminary draft of the plan prepared for the January 2001 board meeting.

Mr. Moody was encouraged that the national leaders were paying so much attention to schooling in America during the recent presidential debate and hopes they can keep their focus on process and product. He was further encouraged by the positive emphasis given to pre-kindergarten programs. He stated the Wakefield Family Resource Center's program is of the highest quality and will have a positive impact on the students who will attend Wakefield Elementary School.

The board discussed policy updates and approved the District's tax request.

The board also accepted the resignation of Molly Curyn as book-keeper.

Rick and Sandra Gathje representing Tacos & More, were honored by the Wayne Rotary Club by being selected as the Friend of Rotary Business of the month for October. They were presented the award by the President of Rotary, Lance Webster. Tacos & More was selected from a random sample of non-Rotary businesses. The membership selects the business that they feel has made the most significant contribution to the Wayne Community and exemplifies the ideas of Rotary, "Service above Self." Among the reasons given by the membership for the selection of Tacos & More were: "They cater to our every whim." I've had a lot of good food at a lot of community activities. Thank you. You enhance the town."

Challenger
Doug Cunningham

- Ⓛ Is not a farmer, nor has he provided any specific ideas to improve the farm economy.

- Ⓛ Has no experience on this issue
- Ⓛ Has no experience on this issue
- Ⓛ Has no experience on this issue
- Ⓛ Accepting campaign money from tobacco industry.
- Ⓛ Has no school board experience.

Bob Dickey is intentionally misleading voters about Doug Cunningham...

Here is the truth:

Doug Cunningham is Pro-Life:

Doug Cunningham is solidly pro-life and Bob Dickey knows that. "I am offended that my opponent has intentionally misled voters into thinking I am pro-choice. That is not true. I have been a life-long advocate against abortion, and to say otherwise is absolutely not true"

Doug Cunningham is opposed to expanded gambling:

Doug Cunningham is opposed to expanded gambling, but does support the right of Nebraskans to vote on the issue of expanded gambling on Indian Reservations. Bob Dickey does not trust Nebraska voters to decide this issue for themselves.

Doug Cunningham is experienced:

Doug Cunningham has lived in Wausa, Nebraska all his life, and grew up on a family farm. Doug helped lead a coalition of small school supporters against harmful changes to the state school aid formula. As your state senator he'll fight for greater economic development and lower property taxes.

Nobody owns Doug Cunningham:

Doug Cunningham has received campaign contributions from over 100 individuals, 42 companies and 25 Political Auction Committees (PACs). Both candidates have been endorsed and accepted contributions from a variety of state and national groups.

Doug Cunningham is talking about the real issues:

Instead of distorting the record and views of his opponent, Doug Cunningham is a positive voice for Northeast Nebraska. "As your state senator, I'll fight for agriculture, education, economic development, promotion of ethanol and lower property taxes, and I'll be a staunch pro-life supporter. Instead of misleading voters about me, Bob Dickey should be discussing the issues."

Questions? Call Doug Cunningham:

"As we get closer to election day I anticipate that Bob Dickey will continue to misrepresent me, and my record. If you hear something that concerns you please call me at (402) 586-2224, or e-mail me at dougc@bloomnet.com"

Time to recuperate

It's one week after the wedding, and I think we have both recuperated. Actually, we had very little to do with the planning. When a couple in their 30's, who have lived away from home for a number of years, decide to get married, they know what they want. Problem is, in a city the size of Omaha, it has to be served a long time ahead.

They looked first for a reception hall on Sept. 16, Nebraska's one open date. Keep in mind, this was one year ago. None to be had. So, they settled on an away game, as far away as possible. They actually reserved the hall and the church last fall. Then, they quickly found a photographer, and the rest was much easier.

Kay is an accountant, better known as a "bean counter." She is, shall we say, detail oriented. She obviously gets this from her Dad; certainly, not me. This makes for a well-organized event, but might drive some participants crazy. We don't have Internet access; but we know she kept the emails flying, to Kansas City, Seward, and Norfolk.

The finale was a five-page computerized list of who should do what; handed out to bridesmaids, ushers, personal attendants, host and hostess, etc! There were a lot of groans and rolling of eyes when this appeared on Friday.

Friend Anna, who attended the Vrbka wedding in Columbus on Friday, actually went through the list with a high lighter when she got home that night.

Both Anna and big sister Sue admitted privately to me that the darned thing was a good idea, and did contribute to things going smoothly. Which usher escorted Grandma, who took the altar flowers to the reception, whose van hauled presents: it was all on the list.

Even the weather cooperated: from hot, dry winds all week, we had a nice rain on Friday evening during rehearsal. The sun came out, and the wind stayed away, on Saturday.

Everyone appeared at the church, dressed and ready for pictures, by 1 p.m. Grandma sent homemade buns and ham for sandwiches, Kristi brought toys and colors for the kids (nine of them), the French horn player came at 2 p.m. to practice with the pianist, and I got through the high notes in Malotte's Lord's Prayer.

The 3-year-old flower girl dispersed each and every rose petal in her basket, and ring bearer carried the actual rings after declaring there would be no fake ones for him, and the father of the bride did give his last daughter away without crying.

To top it all off, Nebraska demolished Texas Tech during the reception, so we could visit without tension. What could be more perfect?

Ballots will be counted soon in pork checkoff vote

Debra J. Pieper, County Executive Director, has announced final procedures and dates for the referendum on continuation of the pork checkoff program.

The final referendum rules provided for in-person voting Sept. 19-21 at the Wayne County FSA Office in Wayne.

Absentee ballots were requested through Sept. 18. Absentee voters are subject to challenge even though they may not have returned their ballot. The period for challenges is through Oct. 27, 2000.

The public is invited to observe the counting of the ballots at the Wayne County FSA Office on Nov. 29, 2000 at 9 a.m.

Producers who have owned and sold one or more pigs or hogs at any time from Aug. 18, 1999 through Aug. 17, 2000 were eligible to vote.

Riparian Buffer Tabletop Displays

Three distinct eye catching Riparian buffer Displays are now available for your use to promote riparian buffers. Each display illustrates a distinct theme related to riparian buffers. The first shows the overall benefits of buffers, including water quality, income production, and wildlife. The second display concentrates largely on their economic benefits, and the third focuses primarily on wildlife benefits. All emphasize that buffers protect and enhance water quality. Use them to grab peoples' attention, to encourage them to stop and take publications, or to engage with the person stationed at the display.

The curved tabletop display is 6' wide by 5' tall, made of lightweight aluminum and covered with carpet panels to which the plastic-coated subject panels are attached (with Velcro). The entire unit (display plus subject panels) comes in a convenient carrying case that can be checked as luggage, fits in a car trunk, or can be shipped via UPS. It is completely self-contained and sets up in less than 10 minutes.

Plan to use these displays at county fairs, producer and acreage owner meetings, workshops, trainings, conference, etc. and at any events where landowners, producers, and/or natural resource agency personnel are present.

If you would like to reserve the display simply contact Jeanine Lackey, Extension Forestry and Wildlife, at the number below.

Time: 7:30 p.m.
Place: National Guard Armory
800 E. 7th St.
Wayne, Nebraska

The Nebraska Department of Roads along with the State Highway Commission will hold a Public Hearing concerning Project STPD-15-4(116), known as Wayne North. The project involves reconstructing Nebraska Highway 15 from 13th Street to just south of Dog Creek. The improvement will include a new two-lane concrete roadway, concrete shoulders and curbs, storm sewer, culverts and grading. To avoid impacting the golf course, the highway will be shifted 16 feet to the west in the area of the course. Additional right-of-way and control of access will be required.

No detour will be needed during construction, but traffic will be routed on temporary roadways around work zones during some phases of the project. The project involves potential impact to wetlands areas and may require mitigation. A channel relocation will be required. The public hearing is being held to provide information about design features of the project. All people are invited to attend and present relevant comments and questions. Written statements and exhibits may be presented at the hearing, and they will be accepted as part of the public record for 10 days after the hearing.

The public is invited to stop at the hearing location from 3 - 5 p.m. for an informal discussion of any aspect of the project. Personnel from the Department of Roads will be available to visit one-on-one regarding the proposed improvements. Where possible, the Department of Roads will provide an accessible meeting facility for disabled people. Appropriate provisions for people who are hearing and visually challenged will be made if the department is notified by Oct. 23, 2000. ELECTION PREVIEW

EDITOR'S NOTE
Nebraskans will be voting on nine issues when they go to the General Election polls on November 7, 2000. So that voters can better understand these important proposed changes to the state Constitution, the Nebraska Press Association in cooperation with this newspaper has prepared a series of reports on these issues. This report briefly defines the issues, explaining their purpose and finally stating the arguments for and against. This is the second report in this series.

AMENDMENT FOUR:

Nebraska's Supreme Court judges are supposed to be the state's highest-paid judges. But, because of a quirk in the timing of judicial pay raises, the state's high-court judges presently are paid more than $3,800 per year less than intermediate appeals court judges and more than $1,000 per year less than trial court judges.
In May 1999, the State Legislature approved raising Supreme Court salaries from $101,648 per year to $111,003 per year. The quirk means the judges won't see the results of that raise until they get their January 2001 paychecks.
It will take a vote by the people of Nebraska to change the situation, because the timing of judicial pay raises is set out in the State Constitution. Upon Chief Justice John Hendry's request, state lawmakers introduced a resolution calling for a constitutional amendment and approved it by an overwhelming 43-1 margin.

The proposal will appear on the Nov. 7 ballot as Proposed Amendment No. 4. If approved, the amendment would result in all judges at all six levels of Nebraska's court system getting legislative pay raises at the same time.
Under the current constitution, judicial pay raises are handled like those of the governor and several other statewide elected officials. The Legislature approves the pay raise but it doesn't take effect until the next term of office begins.

The problem is, Nebraska has six court levels: Workers Compensation Court, County Court, Juvenile Court, District Court, Court of Appeals and Supreme Court. The terms of office for each begin at different times and don't always begin on a predictable date.
For judges, a new term of office begins either when at least one judge at that level is reconfirmed by voters or when a new judge is named to that court. District courts and county courts tend to get their raises sooner because they have more judges and more turnover.
But the higher-level courts, with fewer judges and long tenures, can wait years to see the results of legislatively approved raises. The Court of Appeals, for example, would have had to wait until the 2003 the soonest any of the six judges were scheduled for reconfirmation to get its raise. However, when Judge Wesley Mues was killed in an accident last year, a new term of office was triggered by the selection of his successor. The death triggered a pay raise of nearly $8,900 per year for the judges.

The amendment would address the problem by stating that the new term for all courts will start when any judge in the state is reconfirmed or replaced.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT 4:
A constitutional amendment to allow all judges to benefit from legislatively approved pay raises as soon as possible. A vote for the amendment would amend Article III, Section 19 to provide that changes in the compensation of judges will take effect at the same time for all judges, rather than on a court-by-court basis. A vote against the amendment would keep current provisions regarding different effective dates for changes in compensation for judges.

SUPPORT: Those supporting the measure include several court and legal organizations including the Nebraska State Bar Association and the Nebraska Association of Trial Attorneys. Supporters say the amendment is a matter of fairness, for judges to receive raises already approved by the Legislature in a timely and equal manner. The measure would have minimal financial cost, because judges still will not receive raises in the future without legislative approval. Establishing a uniform effective date will make it easier to plan and budget for pay raises.
OPPOSITION: There is no known organized opposition to the amendment. Some critics say the amendment is too complicated for anyone but the judiciary to understand. They say the proposal will provide financial benefit to judges because they will receive pay raises more quickly.

AMENDMENT 5:
Sometimes called the "Kate Witek" amendment, this proposal is designed to prevent situations like what occurred in 1999, when Witek, then a state senator, was elected State Auditor. Witek still had two years left on her legislative term and was not required to resign before she took office as auditor, on the second day of the legislative session.

She refused to step down from the Legislature until departing Gov. Ben Nelson promised to appoint a successor chosen by Mike Johanns, who had not yet taken office after winning the 1998 election.

This amendment would have required Witek to resign before the legislative session began. Legislative Speaker Doug Kristensen of Minden introduced the proposed constitutional amendment, placed on the ballot by a vote of the Legislature. He does not think departing lawmakers should be permitted to vote on new legislative leadership, as could happen under the current system.

Witek, however, defends her actions and sees no need for this amendment. She said she did not intend to vote on legislative leaders, but she felt she was serving her constituents by insisting that Johanns be the one to choose her successor. In addition, she said, the amendment wouldn't affect all lawmakers — only the half of the Legislature that stands for election in the middle of the term for constitutional officers.

AMENDMENT 5: This amendment would provide that any member of the Legislature elected to another state or local office prior to the end of the member's legislative term shall resign from the Legislature before the start of the legislative session during which the term of the new office would begin.

SUPPORT: This amendment would prevent situations where state senators who have been elected to other state or local offices would be able to vote in legislative leadership elections. It is the senator appointed to serve out the term who should help choose committee chairmen and other leaders of the Legislature.

OPPOSITION: The current system gives a departing lawmaker a chance to ensure the incoming governor will appoint his or her successor in the Legislature. Changing the system would affect only half of the State Legislature — those lawmakers who stand for election in midterm.
