Blood Bank has served Wayne over 25 years

The Wayne community has been served by the Siouxland Blood Bank for 25 years.

Blood donations are collected at several stops during the year, including Providence Medical Center (the fourth Thursday of each month), First National of Omaha Bankcard Center, Great Dane Trailers, Wayne High School and Wayne State College.

The Siouxland Community Blood Bank serves 16 area hospitals and at the present time it takes over 700 donors a week to keep these hospitals supplied with enough blood for their patients.

"Wayne residents have been wonderful in their donation of blood. We would like to encourage donors to continue to give on a regular basis. While donating once a year is good, donating four times a year is four times better," said Jan King, Donor Consultant for the Siouxland Bloodbank.

Statistics for the year 2000 are not complete yet, but indications are that donors in the Wayne area will surpass their 1999 donations.

In 1999, there 270 units of blood were collected at Great Dane Trailers; 126 at the Wayne Service Center; 195 at Wayne State College; 819 in the community of Wayne and 32 at Wayne High School.

Through October of this year, Great Dane has collected 164 units of blood; the Wayne Service Center has collected 107; Wayne State College, 179; the Wayne community, 749 and Wayne High School, 38.

"From a laboratory perspective, the Medical Technologists at PMC rely on Siouxland Blood Bank to supply the needed blood components on both a regular and emergency basis," said Elizabeth Mohr, of the PMC Laboratory Department.

Over the last 10 year, PMC has transfused an average of approximately 200 units of blood per year, with 1997 holding the record high of 330 units transfused. The hospital laboratory has a regular inventory of 28 units of all the major blood groups.

In the event that more blood is needed than is on hand at the time, the Siouxland Blood Bank has a 24-hour on-call system, so that emergency situations can be dealt with quickly and safely.

Medical technologists employed by the blood bank carefully screen and test every unit of blood and blood-related products before tagging and shipping them to area hospitals.

After the units of blood arrive at the hospital, they are checked in and kept at a constant, safe temperature in the laboratory until a need arises. At that time, further testing on the units are performed by the PMC Medical Technologists to ensure a safe match between the donor's blood and patient's blood.

The earliest blood transfusion known was attempted in 1628. The Dennis Lipp of Wayne has been donating blood regularly for a number of years. While he wasn't sure of an exact number, Dennis said his donations are "between 14 and 15 gallons."

Roger Meyer visits with Marguerite Penning of the Siouxland Bloodbank. Meyer is also a regular donor having donated seven gallons of blood with his recent visit to the Bloodbank.

WSC is recognized for commitment to effort

Wayne State College has earned an award for commitment to multicultural organization development from the Upper Midwest Region of the Association of College and University Housing Officers (UMR-ACUHO).

"I feel very honored that the Wayne State College residence life program has received this recognition," said Larry Emanuel, WSC director of housing.

The award recognizes outstanding housing and/or residence life departments that incorporate diversity through the many aspects of their organization. Active consideration of diversity is evident in the missions, policies, procedures and decision-making processes of awarded organizations.

One of the ways in which the WSC housing staff has worked to promote diversity and multiculturalism has been to raise their own awareness. Orientation programs have been designed to encourage residence hall staff to promote educational and social events that honor diversity.

An award is given each semester for the best multicultural program planned by residents in a residence hall. Criteria for a quality program include promotion or visibility, educational value and acceptance by attendance and enthusiasm at the event.

Wayne State College is celebrating two highly visible residential life initiatives this year in terms of the actual buildings on campus, the renovation of Terrace Hall and the donation of a temporary home for a new multicultural center. This location gives students a place to explore diversity issues and will serve as a multicultural resource to the greater community of northeast Nebraska.

The UMR-ACUHO is an organization of professionals who focus on educating, conducting research and providing service to Wayne State College and other member institutions.

Making his rounds

Although he didn't have a sleigh, Santa was making his rounds in Wayne on Saturday morning, delivering letters and packages to all the houses. Santa, and the U.S. Postal Service, had a busy week just before Christmas, making sure the thousands of greeting cards found their way to the proper places. Here, Santa was about to begin his delivery duties on East Ninth Street.

Highlights of the new millennium

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

From fears of what could happen on Jan. 1, 2000 to championship basketball and golf teams, from severe drought conditions to numerous blizzards at year's end, the first year of the new millennium (or the last year of the old millennium) has been filled with activities, challenges and changes.

Highlighted below are some of the stories that made a difference in the lives of people in our coverage area.

JANUARY

The Wayne girls and Laurel-Concord boys basketball teams captured titles at the annual Great Northeast Nebraska Shootout.

Brooklynn Ann Blohm made her appearance as the first baby of the millennium.

Dr. Ken Liska of the Wayne Veterinary Clinic was named Veterinarian of the Year.

Sister Gertrud Marie Wolfer and Brad Weber were named Citizen and Educator of the Year, respectively, by the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce.

FEBRUARY

The Wayne Softball Association received a $50,000 grant from the Gardner Foundation for improvements at the softball complex.

Karin Vaughn was named Executive Director of the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce.

More than 1,600 youth and adult sponsors attended "True Love Waits" at Rice Auditorium. Featured speakers were Tara Dawn Christiansen, Miss America 1997, and Ron Brown, Nebraska Receivers Coach.

The future of rural school District #57 was being discussed.

Four Wayne wrestlers, Lucas Munter, Gabe Hammer, Chris Woehler and Adam Jorgensen, qualified for state competition.

Winside's Eric Vanosdall finished runner-up at 152 pounds and Jared Jaeger was fourth at 103 pounds during the state tournament.

A feature story was presented on the benefits of recycling in the community.

MARCH

The Wayne State College men's basketball team advanced to the NSIC semifinals with a 100-63 win over Minnesota-Morris.

The WSC men then earned the NSIC title by defeating Minnesota-Duluth.

Eight students at Wayne High School earned the right to compete at the state speech tournament in Kearney.

A new program to help four and five-year olds achieve competence in the English language was started in Wakefield.

The WSC men's basketball team was defeated by the nation's third ranked team, Metro State, by a score of 84-72 in the championship of the North Central Regional Tournament in Denver, Colo. The 'Cats finished with a season-best record of 26-6.

Townhall meetings were planned to discuss the construction of a Community Activity Center.

A series of stories were presented about the four exchange students spending the year at Wayne High School.

A Quality of Life Banquet was planned to recognize the community's 60 service organizations.

Allen High School presented "The Wizard of Oz."

The Wayne Board of Education gave its approval for all day kindergarten for the 2000-2001 school year.

APRIL

Wayne High School students presented "Brigadoon" as the annual musical.

The 42nd annual Children's Play at Wayne State College was "Enchanted Sleeping Beauty."

Rico Burkett was named head men's basketball coach at Wayne State College following the resignation of Greg McDermott.

A list of finalists was announced for the position of City Administrator for Wayne.

Deron Connolly participated in a national basketball tournament in California. He is a member of the Red Dawgs and competed in the National Junior Wheelchair tournament.

The Wayne Municipal Airport is under new management — Reliance Aviation, Inc.

MAY

Five exchange students at Allen High School talked about their experiences in Nebraska.

Lowell Johnson was hired as the new City Administrator for Wayne.

Auditions announced

The Hastings College Department of Music and the Hastings Symphony Orchestra are seeking high school musicians from across Nebraska for the 2001 Hastings Symphony Orchestra Young Artist Auditions on Jan. 20, 2001.

The auditions will be from 2 to 5 p.m. in the Fuhr Hall of Music at Hastings College. All Nebraska high school musicians, grades nine through 12, are eligible to audition.

The first place winner will receive the opportunity to perform as a soloist with the Hastings Symphony Orchestra at its March 4, 2001 concert in Hastings. The top three artists will also receive a cash award and a four-year music scholarship to Hastings College.

Instrumentalists should perform a movement of a concerto or other solo with orchestral accompaniment. Vocalists should perform, with orchestral accompaniment, two contrasting songs or arias, a recitative and aria or a scena.

Minimum length of audition is six minutes; maximum length is 15 minutes. All selections should be memorized.

Contestants are restricted to one audition and former first place winners are ineligible to audition.

For more information, write to Dr. James Johnson, Hastings College, 800 Turner Ave., Hastings, Neb. 68901 or call (402) 461-7361.

GUIDELINES FOR CHARITABLE GIVING Beware of Bogus Charities

Nearly 40 percent of the year's charitable donations are made during the months of November and December. Consumers should be aware that not all groups presenting themselves as charities are legitimate. Some organizations use names that sound similar to your favorite charities with the intent to confuse and deceive givers. Others may misrepresent how your donation will be used. The Nebraska Attorney General's Office suggests that before pledging your financial gift to a charitable organization, you consider the following:

KNOW WHO YOU ARE GIVING TO

With so many promoters and charities asking for contributions, it is easy to confuse one charity with another. Always ask the charity for the complete name and address of their organization. A Nebraska address for the charity does not necessarily mean the charity is Nebraska based, or that your contribution will be used locally. Contributions addressed to a post office box or suite number may be picked up and sent to another state.

If you have questions about the legitimacy of a charity, check with the Attorney General's Office, the local Better Business Bureau, or the National Charities Information Bureau, 19 Union Square West, Dept. FT, New York, NY, 10003-3395, phone (212) 929-6300. Be aware, however, that there could still be problems with a charity - even without complaints on file.

FIND OUT HOW YOUR GIFT WILL BE USED

Do not assume that 100 percent of your contribution will go to the charitable cause. All charities have expenses in raising money. Request information in writing concerning the charity's specific programs and services before you agree to a donation. Find out what percentage of the charity's annual income goes to programs and services, administrative expenses, and fund raising activities. Be wary when less than 60% of your donation goes to programs and services, or more than 40% goes to fund raising.

DON'T GIVE IN TO HIGH PRESSURE TELEPHONE APPEALS

Be wary of charities that harass you to contribute or use strong emotional appeals that may distort the charity's purpose. A reputable charity will welcome your questions and will be willing to send you a copy of the charity's annual report or financial statement. Never agree to mail a cash contribution and consider sending your donation by check rather than giving a credit card number or bank account or debit card number to a telephone solicitor.

This is the season when many of us want to share with others. Make sure your charitable donations go to a reputable charity that will use them wisely.

first recorded successful transfusion occurred in England when Richard Lower kept dogs alive by transfusion of blood from other dogs.

The first successful transfusion of human blood came in 1818 when James Blundell, a British obstetrician treated a woman for postpartum hemorrhage by giving her four ounces of blood from her husband.

In 1900 the first three human blood groups, A, B and O were discovered and in 1939 the Rh blood group system was identified. The two discoveries are among the most important breakthroughs in the field of blood donation.

Blood banks, where blood can be preserved and stored, have been in existence since 1937. The American Association of Blood Banks was formed in 1947 to help promote common goals among blood banking practitioners and the blood donating public.

According to statistics released by the Bloodbank, seven out of ten people are eligible to donate blood, but only one out of 20 actually does.

All blood that is donated goes through a minimum of 15 tests before it is released to hospitals.

Statistics indicate that more than 95 percent of all Americans reaching the age of 72 will need blood products in their lifetime.

The leading diseases or conditions that use blood are malignant neoplasms (cancer), heart disease, ulcers, accidents, fractures and traumas, anemia, obstetric procedures, bone and joint diseases, lung diseases, liver diseases and kidney diseases.

Donated blood can be separated into three parts — red cells, platelets and plasma. A patient is given only the part(s) that he or she needs.

Red cells are high in hemoglobin and restore a patient's blood volume and its oxygen carrying capability. The shelf-life of the red cells is 42 days.

Platelets are cells that help the clotting process. They are needed to control bleeding. Most of the platelet supply is used by patients undergoing chemotherapy, organ transplantation or severe bleeding disorders. The shelf-life of platelets is five days.

Plasma is the third component of blood. It is the liquid portion of the blood that supplies nutrients to the body's tissues.

Plasma is needed by patients suffering from burns, shock or bleeding disorders. It can be stored as Fresh Frozen Plasma or as Cryoprecipitate (a clotting factor). Both have a shelf-life of 12 months.

Because of the separation process, one person's blood donation can save three people lives.

The blood donation process takes from 30 to 45 minutes, including the completion of a medical questionnaire before donating blood.

Specific questions regarding the donor's health will be asked in confidentiality by a staff nurse. Following that, blood pressure, temperature and red blood cell count will also be checked.

One pint (unit) of blood will be taken from the donor. The average size person has 9-12 pints of blood in their body, which is seven percent of a person's weight.

Requirements for donation include:

- You must be at least 17 years old and weigh at least 110 pounds.
- You cannot have given blood within the last 56 days.
- A photo identification is required at the drive.
- You must be in good health and have had an adequate meal prior to donation.
- You must be able to give any proper names of medications you are currently taking. Many medications will not disqualify a donor, but they must be documented by the Blood Bank staff.

Donors are encouraged to eat a good meal before donation and drink plenty of fluids both before and after donating.

Following donation, it takes approximately 24 hours to reproduce the fluids lost.

"We would like to encourage donors to donate more than once a year. With today's medical advances, more and more patients are being saved, but often a great deal of blood is required to save a life," Ms King said.

There are eight blood types found in humans. (Cats have three types of blood, dogs have eight, horses have seven and cows have over 800.)

One in three persons (38.4 percent) have O positive blood; one in 15 persons (7.7 percent) have O negative blood; one in three persons (32.3 percent) have A positive blood; one in 16 persons (6.5 percent) have A negative blood; one in 12 persons (9.4 percent) have B positive blood; one person in 67 (1.7 percent) have B negative blood; one person in 29 (3.2 percent) have AB positive blood and one person in 167 (.7 percent) have AB negative blood.

People with O blood type are known as "universal donors" because in an emergency, anyone can receive type O red blood cells. Persons with AB blood type are known as "universal receivers."

At the present time there is no substitution for human blood. It cannot be manufactured. It can only be obtained from healthy donors.

For more information on blood donation, contact the Siouxland Community Blood Bank at 1-800-798-4208.

STATE PATROL BEGINS DNA TESTING IN CRIME LAB

By Governor Mike Johanns

Dear Nebraska Neighbors:

It is vital for the safety of all Nebraskans that state and local law enforcement stay as up-to-date as possible with the latest criminal justice technologies.

Last week, the Nebraska State Patrol announced that it is now conducting DNA analysis at its crime lab in Lincoln. DNA analysis represents the cutting-edge of criminal investigation. It helps investigators and prosecutors link the criminal to the crime scene with absolute certainty, and it provides answers to questions that were previously beyond the capability of traditional techniques.

Law enforcement agencies from across the state can now submit evidence for DNA analysis at no charge. This advancement takes law enforcement in Nebraska to a new level. It ensures that investigations on the part of police and sheriff's offices across the state, as well as the State Patrol, are as thorough as scientifically possible. In addition, it keeps Nebraska in stride with the FBI and law enforcement agencies in many other states where DNA analysis is being conducted.

Any crime that involves the transfer of blood or body fluids could potentially involve DNA testing. Crimes typically associated with DNA analysis are murder, sexual assault, and assault. However, DNA testing can assist investigators in solving many types of crimes if blood or body fluid is discovered at a crime scene. DNA analysis can be especially valuable in clearing unsolved crimes where law enforcement has lacked the intricate evidence needed to pursue an investigation, make an arrest, or provide enough proof for a successful prosecution.

Preparations for the State Patrol's DNA analysis capability have been underway for three years and have been completed in two phases. First, a Nebraska DNA database was established and electronically linked to a national DNA database called the Combined DNA Index System or CODIS which is operated by the FBI. That phase was completed in 1999. The second phase involved the actual DNA analysis. It required equipping the State Patrol's crime lab for DNA analysis, hiring and training personnel, and conducting intense studies of the necessary procedures.

We are working hard to make sure that our state's law enforcement agencies keep pace with the changing times. The State Patrol's new Internet Crimes Against Children Unit, a new and improved law enforcement training program, the Sex Offender Registry notification system, and an upgrade of the statewide crime computer system utilized by state and local law enforcement agencies and the Nebraska court system are just a few examples of some important advancements that have taken place in the last year.

Full operation of the State Patrol's new DNA testing lab is another step in keeping state and local law enforcement on the cutting-edge and our "Nebraska United" a safer place.

Feeling of Christmas lingers

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

For most folks there is a feeling that comes with the Christmas season.

It's not a constant feeling. It seems to come and go.

It is an emotion, combining a sense of charity, warmth and brotherhood, that seems to wash over a person every now and then. Perhaps it is the original, if not official, Christmas feeling. No doubt non-Christians know the same feeling - but since my background has to do with the story about the little guy in the manger (who, by the way, was most certainly not born in December) it is Christmas that provides an important point of reference for me.

Through decades of writing and reporting on public events and public people, nothing has become more clear to me than this: Most folks pretty much want the same, basic things. They want to be warm and dry, have enough to eat, have a job, to be free from desperate concerns about affording health care, and being destitute when they are old. They want the same things for their children.

Of course there are varying ambitions and wants. Some people really are happy with a home and three square meals a day. Others want that Rolex, so that they can glance down at it whilst motoring along in the whoppin' big Mercedes. I don't have a problem with either of them.

What occurs to me at Christmas, though, is that we seem to have something of a collective realization, consciously or otherwise ...

the realization, in various ways, that if mankind simply had the capacity for generally observing the Golden Rule (that's the one about doing unto others, etc.), then mankind would be taking a big step toward what old Scrooge was shooting for - keeping Christmas in his heart throughout the year.

Failing to live up to this admittedly Mary Poppins-like ideal, it has often been my thought that if mankind could rid itself of its self-indulgent tendency toward gratuitous unkindness, it would probably seem like Christmas when July rolls around. This would be the case, I suspect, if only unkindness of the gratuitous type could be melted.

For most of us, this is a season of dreams. Of good feelings. Of wishes.

What does all of this have to do with politics, government and what goes on around and about the Capitol?

Well, think of how much government we wouldn't need if we could ante up some honesty, charity and good faith for one another.

Let the record reflect, however, that as a long, long-time observer and analyst of people in general and politics in particular, the author does not suggest that a campaign based on such notions would have much practical value in securing the confidence of the electorate. Such notions are, in fact, only the equivalent of the sugar plums that dance in my head - about as often as a White Christmas rolls around.

Christmas gift should be available to all residents of the city

Dear Editor:

Oh, the joy of Christmas! For it must be the holiday season that has put our City Council in such a generous mood!

And what is this wonderful gift that the City Fathers have seen fit to bestow upon the citizens of this fair community? Why, at their Dec. 19 Council meeting, they passed a resolution that says in so many words, that if those nasty snow plow drivers come along and push all that heavy snow from the street up on to your sidewalk, then the city will come along and remove that snow for you!

But, wait! It seems that this gift only applies to those poor, suffering souls that have the misfortune to live on Seventh Street! After all, through no fault of theirs, the State widened Seventh Street and now their sidewalks are too close to the street and they get all that snow pushed onto them. I think that it is wonderful that these people receive this gift from the City. However, I think that those of us that have real curbside sidewalks should be afforded the same gift.

I attended this meeting and as I made my way to the podium to voice my opinion on this matter, a member of the Council made a remark to the effect that all they wanted from me was not to park at the corner! Parking on the corner had absolutely nothing to do with the matter at hand and although I thought the remark was uncalled for and in bad taste, I simply considered the source and voiced my opinion on the snow removal issue.

I was told, in no uncertain terms, that they were only considering the proposal before them, leading me to believe that they could not even consider amending it. I was also told that I do not get that much snow on my sidewalk from the snow plows as a three-lane highway. Maybe not, but I will put the amount of snow plowed up onto my sidewalk up against any of those along Seventh Street any time! I was given no assurance or consideration that the Council might even look into the possibility of giving those of us with curbside sidewalks the same service as will now be provided to those residents of Seventh Street.

Strange that the Council could not consider amending the resolution. Not more than 15 minutes later, they passed the first reading of an ordinance dealing with a minimum amount of snow on the sidewalk before needing to be cleaned with several proposed amendments that were not even in writing! Granted, that this was with the understanding that these amendments would all be included in the second reading of this ordinance.

It is my guess that most people in the City of Wayne have no idea what measures the Council is discussing. There is no agenda published in the local newspaper to inform us what is going on. The reasoning for this has always been that the agenda is not prepared until Friday before the council meeting, and thus, too late to get into the Wayne Herald. Oh, Heaven help us if we were to break tradition and prepare the agenda a couple of days earlier every time so it could be included! But, then, people would know what was going on and chances are they would have more people like me attend council meetings to voice their opinions. Wouldn't want that.

I must give credit to Councilman Lutt, the one who voted against the passage of this resolution. He voiced the same concerns that I had, but to no avail. I am not sure that he was against the resolution, as much as he was against the idea that it presented preferential treatment to a few citizens of the community.

I guess that those of us with curbside sidewalks will just have to continue to move the snow pushed onto us by those nasty snowplow drivers the same way as we always have. Because it would appear that we just do not rate as well as our neighbors on Seventh Street. Those of you with sidewalks as near the street as those on Seventh Street will just have to do your own cleaning too, since you don't rate either.

Vern D. Fairchild,
Wayne

Students share writings, feelings about the holiday

A number of students at Wayne Middle School are involved in an after-school Creative Writing Club.

They and their teacher, Joyce Mitchell, shared their writings for the holiday.

The compositions are as follows:

Tiny Tree
By Molly Hill

Placed in a corner
Among a mound of gifts,
My grandparents' little tree
Stands in peacefulness

Often I've wondered why
It seems so very small
For our own tree is much bigger
Christmas trees must be tall!

Its image brings me a smile
For it is so very bright,
Garland wrapped around the limbs
With many colored lights

Ornaments adorn the branches
With a star brilliant as could be,
It seems I love the memories
Inspired by that little tree

So perhaps Christmas cheer
Lies not within the tree,
But deep in my heart
The joy within me!

"O Christmas Tree"
By Katie Echtenkamp

Hello, my name is Everly Green. I am a Christmas tree and very proud of it! You see, a few years ago I wasn't happy with being a part of this very festive season because I lost my Christmas spirit by being angry at my owner. I was tired and full of pain from holding heavy ornaments. Nighttime was the worst because the bright candles burned my branches. I'm going to tell you how I got my Christmas spirit back.

One night while everyone was sleeping, including myself, an angel appeared to me and woke me up. The sound that came out of her mouth was beautiful; it was the song, "O Christmas Tree."

The angel's song reminded me that I bring pleasure to everyone and that my candles shine brightly for everyone. Now I am proud to hold heavy ornaments and bright candles.

Christmas Tree
By Rachel Jensen

You seem smaller this year,
As you come from the box,
A little less green
receiving more knocks.
The lights are untangled,
Ornaments ready to hang,
We laugh at memories
as we decorate again.
The lights are now up,
The ornaments hung.
The star at the top represents carols unsung.
The tree still seems straggly
as we plug in those lights,
but as we take a step back,
and look at our work,
the tree is now pleasant,
the branches begin to perk.
To anyone else
The tree may look tragic,
but to us it's beautiful;
a time full of magic.

Community is very fortunate

Dear Editor,

The citizens in and around the community of Wayne, Nebraska are fortunate to have available customer shopping at home.

December 24 is an important day for shoppers who don't manage to get everything (anything) purchased before Christmas. Returning to visit Mom and Dad and the rest of the clan with an empty trunk has allowed me to feel the terror of last minute shopping year after year.

Pamida, Diers, Sav Mor, Wayne Greenhouse, Dollar General Store, Radio Shack, Mines Jewelry and the Student Bookstore stocked exactly what I've needed to be a fill-in Santa.

This year shopping started on Sunday, the 24th after church with a store closing 4 p.m. deadline. Legends and Swan's had wonderful merchandise for family from 9 years old to the 70's. Sales staff were fun to be around and efficient. The selections and quality available were more than adequate. The prices matched or were better than similar products found in malls and chain stores.

Certain disaster was avoided and the gift exchange part of Christmas was salvaged in remarkably good fashion.

My complements are extended to the entire business community of Wayne and the above merchants in particular. People who live in and around the community are fortunate to have these resources close to home.

Sincerely,

Bruce Ring, M.D.,
Crookston, Minn.

Herbs for Health

Older Antidepressants Often as Effective as Newer, Costlier Ones

According to new guidelines from the American College of Physicians - American Society of Internal Medicine, both newer and traditional antidepressant medicines are equally effective for many persons with depression. Older medicines typically are in the class termed tricyclics (e.g., Tofranil, Elavil). The newer agents include selective serotonin reuptake inhibitors, or SSRIs (e.g., Paxil, Zoloft, Prozac).

The major difference cited between tricyclics and SSRIs are side effects. SSRIs are more likely to cause diarrhea, nausea, headache, and sleeping difficulties. Tricyclics are more likely to cause blurred vision, constipation, dizziness, dry mouth, and tremors. Interestingly, according to the new guidelines it is noted that St. John's wort may be effective against mild depression, at least on a short-term basis.

Both teams net three individual champs at annual Blue Devil Tournament

Wayne grapplers second, Winside third at invite

The annual Wayne Blue Devil Wrestling Invitational was held last Thursday with Schuyler claiming the team title with 151 points.

The host Blue Devils placed runner-up with 138 points while Winside was third with 131. Wisner-Pilger placed fourth with 124.5 and Madison rounded out the top five with 118.

Pender placed sixth with 104 and Laurel-Concord was seventh with 33. An unattached JV team netted 31 points and Sioux City East JV's scored 13.

Wayne's varsity yielded eight medal winners led by a trio of champions in Lucas Munter (135), Danny Roeber (145) and Lynn Junck (189).

Munter decided Shay Norgard of Wisner-Pilger in the finals, 6-2 to claim top honors while Roeber won an 8-3 decision from Nathan Higby of Madison in the championship match. Junck pinned Schuyler's Daryl Lancaster in just 1:34 to win the 189 title match.

The Blue Devils also had three, second place finishers including Matt Nelson (119), Chris Woehler (152) and Adam Jorgensen (171).

Nelson lost an 8-6 overtime decision in the finals to Shane Unger of Madison while Woehler lost a 10-2 decision to Jacob Faltys of Schuyler. Jorgensen was defeated, 6-2 by Nathan Suehl of Winside.

Casey Campbell (130) finished fourth and Keith Shear (215) placed fourth as well.

"I was impressed with the effort of our kids," coach John Murtaugh said. "It's always nice to win a trophy at your own invite."

Murtaugh said his seniors did a super job as he credited, Lucas Munter, Danny Roeber, Chris Woehler, Adam Jorgensen, Lynn Junck and Keith Shear.

Wayne senior Danny Roeber looks for a pinning combination of Pender's James Williams at 145 pounds in first round action. Roeber went on to win the championship at 145 pounds with an 8-3 win in the finals after pinning his first two opponents. Wayne will travel to dual Creighton on Jan. 4.

Chris Woehler looks to finish off his semifinal foe while looking toward the Wayne coaches. Woehler would go on to place runner-up in the 160 pound weight class.

Wayne coach John Murtaugh gives a hearty, "good job" compliment to Chris Woehler after his semifinal win. The Wayne boys placed second to Schuyler in the team race.

Travis Koll of Winside works over his Pender opponent during second round action of the Wayne Invite. Koll placed second in the 125 pound category.

Winside coach Paul Sok gives a little fatherly advice to his son Josh after the semifinal match. Josh, a freshman, placed third at the invite at 135 pounds.

Blue Devil boys thrash Columbus Scotus while girls lose for first time

The Wayne boys basketball team improved to 4-2 with a convincing 66-44 thumping of Columbus Scotus last Thursday in Columbus.

The Blue Devils raced to a 19-4 lead after one quarter of play and never looked back as they led 33-20 at the half and 50-32 after three quarters of play.

"We got a quick lead in the first quarter and played solid full court man-to-man defense," assistant coach Duane Blumenkamp said.

Brad Hansen led the winners with 16 points with Eric McLagan tossing in 15 and Craig Olson, 11. Jon Meyer tallied nine points and Brad Hochstein along with Shane Baack scored six apiece. Ethan Mann closed out the scoring with three points.

Wayne won the battle of the boards, 28-23 as McLagan had eight caroms to lead the way and Jon Meyer dished out a team high four assists while Hochstein had a team high four steals.

The Wayne JV's fell by a 51-47 margin as the Blue Devils fell to 4-2 on the season.

Luke Christensen led Wayne with nine points with Brady Heathold and Ric Volk adding eight each and Jeff Pippitt, six. Ryan Schmeits finished with five points with Jon Ehrhardt and Caleb Garvin scoring four each. Eric Sturm scored three points.

Wayne will host Norfolk Catholic next Thursday night.

WAYNE'S GIRLS basketball team suffered their first loss of the season at second ranked Columbus Scotus, 46-31.

John McClarnen's 5-1 Blue Devils got off to a slow start, trailing 24-9 at the half before playing the second half even with the Shamrocks.

"We had a disastrous second quarter," McClarnen said. "We had more turnovers (nine) than shot attempts (seven) and Scotus had more offensive rebounds (eight) than we had total rebounds in that period, (six)."

Wayne did manage to cut the 15 point deficit to seven in the third quarter but could draw no closer.

Leah Dunklau led Wayne with eight points with Katie Walton adding seven and April Thede, six. Amy Harder scored four points and Monica Novak, Kallie Krugman and Mary Boehle tallied two each.

Wayne's JV team defeated Scotus, 35-34 in overtime as Kari Hochstein led the way with 13 points while Amanda Munter added 11. Erin Jarvi scored four points with Ailissa Dunklau, Lindsey Stoltenberg and Mary Boehle adding two each. Christina Gathje finished with one point.

Wayne will host Pierce in action next Friday night.

Allen girls beat Wausa in OT while boys falter

The Allen girls and boys basketball teams split a twinbill with Wausa last Thursday night.

Lori Koester's girls overcame a dismal night of shooting to down the Vikings, 38-28 in overtime.

Allen shot just 12 percent from the floor but out-scored Wausa, 10-0 in overtime to post the victory.

"Despite the shooting woes it was a nice win for us and should give us a boost of confidence coming off our Christmas Break," Koester said. "Our girls played with passion and played smart, aggressive defense, notching 29 steals."

Koester said it was poise and control which allowed Allen to shutout the visitors in overtime.

Elizabeth Bock led the winners with 12 points and six steals while Melissa Wilmes had eight points and seven rebounds.

Danielle Bertrand notched seven points and seven boards and Alicia Liebsch had six points, six rebounds and nine steals. Michelle Marks tallied five points and six steals.

The Allen boys were hoping to notch a second win prior to the Christmas Break but it was Wausa rolling to a 66-44 win.

"We just got out-hustled in every phase of the game and then we shot under 30 percent which compounded our problem," coach Dave Uldrich said.

Mick Oldenkamp led Allen with 13 points with Corey Uldrich, Brett Keitges and Bart Sachau netting seven each. Justin Warner tossed in three with Bryan Gotch, Aaron Smith and Lyle Rahn each scoring two. Duane Rahn rounded out the scoring with a free throw.

Both the girls and boys teams from Allen will play at Ponca next Friday night.

Wayne's Casey Campbell tries to keep his hold on his semifinal opponent at 130 pounds.

Locating fish in cold weather

For years, hard water anglers have chopped or cut holes through the ice hoping to drop their bait into a pocket of fish.

Growing up in Watertown, S.D., you had to be an outdoorsman, what else was there? I started ice fishing when I was 12-years-old, my brother and I'd walk the mile of the frozen Sioux River to Lake Pelican on an ice fishing expedition.

We'd head for spots that we'd seen people catch fish in the summer. We didn't have a boat and once the ice got hard, we could fish those spots that the summer before, we only dreamed of fishing.

With a sharpened steel "spud" bar, we'd chip our way through a foot or more of ice and begin fishing. We wouldn't chip very many holes, because using a heavy spud bar would flat tire you out. If the fish weren't there, we'd wander around the lake aimlessly looking for the "hot" spot.

Most of the time, we'd either end up fishing out of the one or two holes that we had chipped out, unless we'd stumble across a hole another angler had dug. If we were lucky, he'd been fishing in the right place and we'd catch a fish or two.

Thank God, things have changed and locating fish has gotten easier for the hard water angler.

Years ago, locator companies such as Lowrance and Humminbird came up with portable locators that could be used for ice fishing.

About 10 years ago, I came across a tri-colored flasher, Hondex that would allow me to watch my minute ice lure and allowed me to see the fish.

Gary Howey
'Of the Outdoors'

Hondex, later became Vexilar and the FL-8 has been changing the face of ice fishing ever since.

The FL-8 is totally portable, comes equipped with gel battery, charger, charge indicator, soft case, and a floating transducer.

Place the transducer in the hole, turn the unit on and drop your lure and bait in the water. As the bait descends, your locator will show a green line heading for the bottom. If you're using a large bait, you could see a small red line inside the green line, depending on the size of your bait.

The bottom will appear as a solid red line and fish off the bottom will show up as a wider red line. Fish on the bottom will cause the solid red line to be broken up by small yellow lines.

When I see a red line above the bottom or the small yellow line blending in the bottom, I bring my bait up to the same level as the red line, which is a fish. When my bait reaches the same level as the fish, the red mark will become wider. I know now that I'm at the same level as the fish and I'll jig my bait trying to entice a bite. Unless my bait is too small or too large, the fish will nibble or take the bait.

When the yellow lines appear in the bottom line, I'll lower my bait to the bottom and then bring it up a foot or so, jig it a bit and keep my eyes on the screen of the FL-8.

When the fish moves up to my bait, I'll see a red line pull away from the bottom and move up to my bait. I'll work it a bit and if everything works according to my plan; the fish will take the bait. If the fish seems hesitant to take my offering, I'll move up a couple of inches and let the bait free fall past the fish and then bring it up so it's in his face.

Unless my live bait is worn out or the bait is the wrong size, most fish will stake a swipe at the bait.

The width of the red line (fish) also indicates the size of the fish, so you know that a wider line is probably a large panfish, bass, walleye, or pike. The thinner flickering line is usually a small (potato chip) size panfish.

Even though I know that the fish are below me and I have an idea as to the size of the fish, I still have to have the right bait and work it to entice the fish to bite. And there are days when no matter how seductively I jig my bait or what color I use, the fish just aren't in the mood.

The FL-8 isn't the magic piece of equipment that makes fishing a sure thing, it's one that makes ice fishing more fun.

The next time you see me or another ice fishermen on the ice using a locator, ask to see how they work, it'll make you a much more knowledgeable angler and more successful.

Antibiotics Affected By Some Over-the-counter Products

If you are taking calcium, including Tums, it can bind onto the deactive up to 75% of the antibiotics known as quinolones. Trade names are Floxin, Cipro, Levaquin, etc. Other substances that affect these antibiotics are: iron, aluminum (found in Maalox, Mylanta, etc.) And magnesium (found in Milk of Magnesia, etc.) If the antibiotic is being taken for a severe infection this could cause a serious problem. Do not take these products six hours before to two hours after taking these antibiotics. Always tell your pharmacist if you are taking any over-the-counter products.

Snow

By Molly Hill

Snow is falling lightly on my face, The chill in the air quickens my pace!

My nose stings my face turns pink, On the snow lathered sidewalk my feet seem to sink!

I walk indoors oh, the warm air! I glance out the window and know I'd rather just look out there!

My Perfect Christmas
By Amy Hypse

My perfect Christmas consists of this, Ginger snap cookies and lots of gifts. The tree put up with lights all aglow. And glitter-like sparkles outside on the snow.

The smell of lasagna on Christmas Eve Night And sugar enough to give dentist a fright. The cookies piled high, And we kids who just sigh, As Mom tells us only four, That and NO MORE!

The sound of the cards being shuffled around, And shrieks of the children as they fall to the ground. The rustle of paper, the sound of the carols. As laughter rings out and Grandpa's laugh barrels.

Grandma sobs as she opens a gift, Grandpa gave her a new ring that fits.

Then after the paper's picked off the floor, Grandpa says, "Wait there's one more!" "I just need to find it. You'll love what's in store!"

And after she finds it we head to the kitchen, We rip open boxes and try them all out. One more cookie puts me on the floor, Groaning why did I eat just one more?

Then down rushes Danny To watch Toy Story 2 And play a game that is new.

And pretty soon everyone's asleep, And no one hears Santa Claus come.

Giving
By Ashley Burke

She always wants jewels, He always wants tools. They've never know the reason, Of the Christmas season. Even if it means giving up all of your money, The best gift of all is seeing someone happy.

Christmas
by Ashley Gentrup

The woody pine and oh so sweet berry, Make Christmastime especially merry.

The tender, juicy turkey and smoked, pink ham, Causes other meals to taste worse than Spam.

The hot apple cider has lots of spice, While you drink it you magically become nice.

The big yummy cookies are so very sweet, The more we make the more we eat.

The lights outside on the neighbor's house, Are so bright, you could see a little mouse.

Some trees are fat, skinny, short or tall, But ours is the greatest of them all.

The big presents we hope bear our name, But we hope it wasn't another lame game.

The talking and laughing lasts all night, Sometimes gets loud and gives the babies a fright.

The hugs that you give relatives with care, Seems like you're getting one from a bear.

Finally you're home again in your bed, And fall asleep soon after you lay down your head.

Santa
by Lesa Lutt

I was devastated when I heard the news, I may have a case of Christmas blues!

If that jolly old fellow isn't real, Who's been eating my milk and cookie meal?

What about that naughty and nice list, and that bag of toys he carries on his wrist?

How dare my parents lie, about the reindeer in the sky!

Now I know why Grandpa had leave, When Santa came to visit Christmas Eve!

Who's the guy at the mall, with the beard and all?

What about the North Pole, and belly that shakes like jelly in a bowl?

Or Rudolph and his nose, that guides the way when it glows?

I guess it's ok though you see, Because Santa lives inside you and me!

"Presents"
By Katie Heggemeyer

Haven't you ever wondered what your presents were before you opened them on Christmas Eve? I feel like that right now! I'm sure it wouldn't hurt if I took just a little peep.

No, no, no. I can't or it won't be mine to keep. Whatever could be in there? Could it be a bat and a ball, a deer call, a baby doll, or a brick wall that breaks when I crash my cars against it. This is very nerve wracking! Well, maybe if I go to sleep Christmas will come faster. ZZZzzz... a dog... ZZZzzz... a pog... ZZZzzz... a bog monster... ZZZzzz... a hog... O Jimmy! Come open your presents! Oh boy. Christmas is finally here! Maybe I got a mirror, Or a toy deer, Or maybe a Batman action figure still new in the box... Oh great it's just SOCK!

A Special Christmas Gift
By Joyce Mitchell

Many times I ask my students to remember a special Christmas gift. This is the story I then share with them.

As a child, we were rich in everything but money. (In later years Dad prided himself on the fact that we kids never felt the lack of material things.) My parents and grandparent had lost their farm several years back due to a bank closing. Dad started over, but Grandpa was too old. Thus he and Grandma survived by doing odd jobs, cleaning houses, hiring out for farm help, and using extreme thrift.

I was probably seven years old, and Christmas was upon us. Grandpa and Grandma were coming to visit. Dad took my brother and me aside and explained that our grandparents had very little money and that we should not expect Christmas gifts. To act like we were expecting one would hurt their feelings.

So when Grandpa's blue '39 Chevy coupe pulled into the yard, we excitedly raced out to greet them. Hugs and kisses were exchanged, and then Grandpa and Grandma proceeded to remove packages from the car! My brother's eyes locked into mine, and I raised my eyebrows, but we nonchalantly escorted them into the house.

Our curiosity was killing us because, of course, we had to visit and then eat dinner. Besides since no one had mentioned the packages, we had no idea whether they were even for us.

Then Grandma rose from her chair, picked up a package about 24 inches by 18 inches by 18 inches and deposited it in front of me. As I tore off the brown paper wrapping, my eyes lit on the most beautiful dollhouse I have ever seen. It was constructed from corrugated cardboard boxes, cut and sewn together with twine-strength thread, and painted white with a red roof. One side of the house was a flap that folded out to reveal partitioned rooms, hand sewn curtains at the windows, pictures of rugs from catalogs glued on the floors, cut out pictures pasted on the walls. Homemade slip covered sofas, chairs, bedclothes, etc. graced the rooms as well as a plastic table, chairs and high chair with a three inch plastic doll with hinged limbs. (For these latter items I am sure Grandma pinched every penny.)

Never had I received such a wonderful gift. I treasured that dollhouse until it literally fell apart. Such was my excitement that to this day, I have no recollection of what my brother was given.

The interesting footnote to this story, which adds to the sentimentality, is that fourteen years later, after my grandparents' deaths, I inherited Grandma's New Home treadle sewing machine. Tucked away in one of its magical drawers, I discovered a clipping from The Sioux City Journal — an advertisement and mailing address to order a pattern for a cardboard dollhouse!

Spending plan is vital

Did you know that the average teen in the United States spends approximately $3,500 each year? This is a sizable amount of money for many families. Many teens earn

Amy Malchow
Extension Educator
4-H & Youth

their money through employment while others rely on their parents to provide the money.

What is the money spent on? Teens (and adults) often have trouble distinguishing wants from needs. Needs are basic for survival while wants are desirable to make life more comfortable.

Teens often think that they need the latest CD or that they need a new outfit for the upcoming dance. In reality, it is usually that they WANT these items, not that they NEED these items for survival.

Deciding what is a want and what is a need can be hard and frustrating. Developing a spending/savings plan is a good way to learn to manage money. A spending/savings plan is a working tool that will help set goals and take control of your money.

How do wants and needs fit into the financial goals? Goals can be short term (this week), medium term (six months) or long term (four years or more). Saving towards a goal is an important life skill and should be treated as an expense when setting a budget.

Learning to manage money is a life skill. Regardless of how much money is available, it still needs to be managed. Learning to manage a small amount of money as a teen builds money management skills for a lifetime.

Why have a spending/savings plan? They:

- help determine where you are currently spending your money;
- help decide where to spend your money in the future;
- help develop a savings plan;
- put YOU in control of your financial future NOW.

Key parts of a spending/savings plan are:

- Income — where do you get your money and how much;
- Expense — what are your expenses? Are they fixed (same every month) or flexible?

Carroll Women's Club gathers for annual holiday party activities

The Carroll Women's Club held a Christmas party on Dec. 13 at St. Paul's Social Room. Twenty-one members answered roll call by sharing a Christmas memory.

President Eleanor Owens opened the meeting with two Christmas selections. The group sang a collection of carols, ending with "Silent Night."

After the flag salute, minutes were read and the treasurer's report given.

Members reported on gifts to the shut-ins.

The birthday song was sung for Pauline Frink and Joyce Sandahl.

Joyce and Doris Harmer led the group in remembering Christmas customs and products which have changed in 75 years.

A dollar gift exchange followed. Refreshments were served by Jackie Owens and Eleanor Owens.

Moore — Stanley

Amanda Lyn Moore of Laurel and Jeffrey David Stanley of Dixon are planning a Dec. 30, 2000 wedding at Praise Assembly of God Church in Wayne.

The bride-to-be is the daughter of Bert and Karla Moore of Laurel. She will graduate from Laurel - Concord High School in May of 2001.

Her fiancé is the son of Jerry and Alvina Stanley of Dixon. He is a 2000 graduate of Laurel - Concord High School and is attending Northeast Community College in Norfolk. He is employed by Nucor in Norfolk.

Anniversary noted

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Gilliland, formerly of Wayne, celebrated their 61st wedding anniversary on Dec. 21, 2000.

Belated cards will reach the couple at P.O. Box 202, Stanton, Neb. 68779

Thompson-Jorgensen wed in July wedding

Ashley Thompsen and Michael Jorgensen were married July 22, 2000 at Trinity Lutheran Church in Belmond, Iowa.

Parents of the couple are Douglas and Fonda Thompsen of Belmond and Gordon and Mary Jo Jorgensen of Milford, Iowa. Grandparents of the bride are Emma Thompsen and Fannie Lindaman. Grandparents of the groom are Edith Cook of Carroll and Gordon and Frieda Jorgensen of Wayne.

The bride wore a strapless gown of Duchess stain, featuring a wide cuff at the bodice. The cuff and skirt band were trimmed with a pattern of crystals, seed pearls and satin bugle beads. The princess-styled skirt featured miniature beaded bows running the length of the train.

The head-piece was a gold wire tiara with crystals and pearls, with a two-tier veil.

Lindsay Thompsen served as her sister's Maid of Honor.

Karina Jorgensen, sister of the groom, Mindy Schardt, Allie Brauhn and Tess Gehrke were bridesmaids. Lindsay Cook, cousin of the groom, was the flower girl.

Kerrie Liedke and Cory Miller were personal attendants.

The groom's brother, Greg Jorgensen, served as Best Man.

Levi Marquardt, Brandon Patten, Shane Potratz and Pete Knoebel were groomsmen.

Ushers were Matt Richter, Jon Lindaman, Dan Taylor and Nick LaPointe.

The bride is a 1996 graduate of Belmond-Klemme High School and a 2000 graduate of Wartburg

Mr. and Mrs. Jorgensen

College. She is employed with Lutheran Brotherhood in Minneapolis, Minn.

The groom is a 1996 graduate of Okoboji High School and a 2000 graduate of Wartburg College. He is currently attending Northwestern Health Sciences University in Bloomington, Minn.

After a honeymoon in Eureka Springs, Ark., the couple is at home in Bloomington, Minn.

Briefly Speaking

Happy Workers meet with Mary Davis

CARROLL — The Happy Workers Pitch Club met Dec. 20 with Mary Davis. There were eight members and three guests, Ruth Paulson, Margaret Kenny and Doris Harmer, present.

Ten point pitch was played with prizes going to Margaret Kenny, high; Phyllis Frahm, traveling and Evelyn Hall, low.

Later, the group enjoyed listening to the Carroll Brownie troop singing Christmas carols.

The next meeting will be Wednesday, Jan. 17 at the home of Lucille Nelson.

Former Wayne resident named senior vice president

Aid Association for Lutheran (AAL) has named Bryan Stoltenberg senior vice president, effective Jan. 2.

Stoltenberg currently is an AAL general agent in Sioux Falls, S.D. and serves as an assistant director of AAL agencies. He will move to Appleton, Wis. where AAL's home office is headquartered, and will resume responsibility for the Member Services Maintenance, Customer Service Center and Investment Product Services departments.

Stoltenberg began his AAL career in 1985 as a district representative in Wayne. He was appointed district manager in 1988, assistant general agent in 1990 and general agent in 1991.

Stoltenberg received his master's degree in counseling from California State University, Los Angeles.

Stoltenberg earned his Chartered Life Underwriter (CLU) and Chartered Financial Consultant (ChFC) designations, and is a member of the National Association of Insurance and Financial Advisors and of the General Agents Managers Association (GAMA). In addition, he is a four-time qualifier for the GAMA Career Development Award.

Aal, a Fortune 500 organization, is a fraternal benefit society of 1.8 million members who join together for insurance, educational and volunteer opportunities.

St. Paul Women of Carroll hold Christmas gathering

The St. Paul Lutheran Church and LWML of Carroll met for the annual Christmas Dinner on Dec. 13.

Those attending, other than members, included Pastor and Mrs. Kihne, Lynette Grantfield, Sandra Hall, Bev Hitchcock, John and Norma Peterson, Margaret Wittler, Dennis Junck and Arnold Junck.

Following dinner, a brief meeting was held and several bills allowed. Mr. Kim Kanitz was given a gift of money. He is a student at Fort Wayne, Ind.

Approximately 30 people attended Carl Peterson's birthday party at the Hillcrest Health Center in Laurel on Dec. 8. He enjoyed his special day.

Pastor and Mrs. Kihne had a program following the dinner. Mrs. Kihne prepared the Christmas Quiz and Word Scramble of Holiday Songs. Prizes were awarded to Edith Cook and Donna Leicy.

Pastor and Mrs. Kihne led the Bible reading with Christmas hymns interspersed.

The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer.

Bringing Christmas joy

A total of 26 members of the Presbyterian Church braved the snow and wind on Dec. 20 to bring Christmas carols to the Care Centre, The Oaks and to various families confined to their homes. Following the carolling, the group returned to the church for a soup supper.

Carroll Presbyterian women meet

The Carroll United Presbyterian Women met Dec. 20 for a noon dinner.

There were eight women and five men present. JoAnn Owens was hostess.

Jacquelyn Owens opened the business meeting with the Christmas story taken from the Book of Luke.

Roll call was taken and minutes of the last meeting read.

The lesson was "Christmas Devotions given by each member.

A gift exchange was held at the close of the meeting.

Grant will help small farms

A $2.5 million grant awarded to two University of Nebraska-Lincoln faculty will fund an initiative to boost profitability for small and mid-sized farmers and ranchers. The three-year grant from the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Initiative for Future Agriculture and Food Systems will fund the North Central Initiative for Small Farm Profitability. The four-state, multi-institutional, farm-to-fork initiative combines research and Cooperative Extension efforts to improve profitability and competitiveness of small and mid-size farms and ranches. It's headed by NU Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources faculty John Allen, director of the university's Center for Applied Rural Innovation, and Steve Taylor, head of the Department of Food Science and Technology and director of NU's Food Processing Center. Small and mid-sized farms throughout the Midwest struggle to survive, hit hard by low prices for their traditional commodities and market domination of seed-to-shelf food conglomerates. As farms fail, the entire countryside suffers — non-farm jobs vanish along with each farm that disappears, Allen said. "The question is: are we serious about changing the economy in the Great Plains? That's what this project is about," he said. By analyzing successful smaller farms and developing case studies of strategies that work, the team hopes to give farmers and ranchers opportunities to earn acceptable incomes and to stem the tide of people leaving rural areas.

Key to the initiative are producer clusters, which are groups of farmers and ranchers committed to exploring and applying innovative strategies. The 20 clusters, organized in the participating states of Nebraska, Iowa, Wisconsin and Missouri, will work with researchers to put findings into action in their communities and will provide input on future research.

"We want to be engaged with the farmers so they will trust our research," said Allen, a rural sociologist. "The producer clusters will force us to translate our research into the information they need."

Alternative high-value products and markets are key areas of study, with emphasis on market analysis research.

"I think a lot of the decisions about alternative crops should be market-driven and they often aren't," Taylor said. "My favorite story is the guy who came into my office with an ice chest full of fish and said, 'Now where can I sell these?' Producers often get into alternative crops without thinking about whether or not there is a market for it." The Food Processing Center's marketing group will head market analysis work.

Alternative crops/products to be studied in the grant's first two years are pastured poultry, specialty cheeses and specialty barley. A steering committee, including representatives from all producer clusters, will determine second- and third-year research topics.

"We're interested in seeing what the impediments are for some of these crops. The main impediment for some may be lack of processing facilities. Then we have to solve that problem," Taylor said.

The initiative will form a consortium that joins university researchers with farm-based, non-profit organizations. Consortium members are UNL, Iowa State University, University of Missouri, University of Wisconsin, the Center for Rural Affairs in Nebraska, Practical Farmers of Iowa and the Michael Fields Agricultural Institute in Wisconsin.

"We're building a consortium, and part of why it's working is that we have a consensus about the value of this work and the importance of small and mid-size farms and ranches to rural life across the country," Allen said. "We look at this grant as seed money for the consortium."

John Deere Day to be held Jan. 4

Northeast Equipment of Wayne will hold its annual John Deere Day celebration on Thursday, Jan. 4, 2001 at their dealership.

Dave Olson, manager of Northeast Equipment, says this year's event is about the people of agriculture, not just the products. "People are the future of agriculture," Olson said, "not just new crops and new products. So we want to take this day to show appreciation to the people who have made John Deere part of their operations, part of their future and part of ag's future."

Every year John Deere Day gives area producers and their families the chance to see old friends, meet new neighbors, learn about the latest agricultural techniques and ideas and get a preview of new equipment being offered by John Deere.

"This year," Olson said, "we'll be showing the 7000 series tractor with the new auto-quad transmission as well as the 50 series combine. We're also have Colonel John do his broadcasts from our event."

Northeast Equipment is located on East Highway 35, just east of Wayne. John Deere Day activities begin at 10 a.m. and last until 8 p.m. The John Deere Day film also begins at 10 a.m.

John Deere is the world's premier producer of agricultural equipment, a leading manufacturer of construction, forestry, commercial and consumer equipment; and a business leader in parts, engine, financial services and special technologies.

Is There A Santa Claus?

Dear Editor... I am eight years old. Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus. Papa says "If you see it in The Sun, it's so." Please tell me the truth: is there a Santa Claus?
...Virginia O'Hanton

115 West Ninety-fifth St.

Virginia, you little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except what they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds.

All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's, are little. In this great universe of ours, man is a mere insect, an ant. In his intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole of truth and knowledge.

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to our life its highest beauty and joy. If only the world were like this! If there were no Santa Claus, it would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance, to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

Not believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your papa to hire men to watch all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign there is no Santa Claus.

The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders there are unseen and unseeable in the world.

You may tear apart a baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, nor even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived, could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside that curtain and view and picture the supernal beauty and glory beyond. Is it all real? Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else real and abiding.

No Santa Claus! Thank God he lives and he lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay, ten times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood.

Christmas activities and snow create excitement

It's the day after Christmas, and all through the house... the very expensive propane is burning up, trying to keep the Farm House warm in all the cold weather. The weather map on the "Today Show" shows the current storm to the south and east of us.

We were literally snowed in for a week. I got out on Sunday, the 17th, to get groceries; and on Tuesday to do a couple of insurance assessments and finish shopping. Traffic was awful and the mall was congested. One clerk told me he had worked there for three years and had never seen it so crowded on a Tuesday evening.

I had to explain to him about country roads, 40 miles per hour winds and moving snow. I have to realize that some folks do not watch the weather reports like the Big Farmer still does.

We've scooped a lot of snow, but still don't have the steps to the back door cleared because it's so deep and crusted there. Plus, we can't get to the front door at all. Needless to say, there have been some cancellations.

On Monday evening, the 18th,

The Farmer's Wife
By: Pat Meierhenry

our son-in-law, Monte Bainter, was hit by a semi-truck outside Seward. He was blessed because of a seat belt and an air bag, so that the only injury was a fractured hip. But he spent the holiday in the hospital, having had surgery on Wednesday, and now needing rehab. We all are thanking God, especially when we read about fatal accidents in that awful weather.

Everyone made it to Norfolk on Saturday, where we all ate too much, of course. The kids' gifts tended to be Barbie, Buzz Lightyear, transformers, and sweat shirts. We also enjoyed wedding photos.

We attended the children's program in Winside on Sunday evening, a tradition a lot of churches have moved to an earlier evening because so many families travel many miles for Christmas.

I especially enjoyed the pre-service music, which featured instrumental numbers by the kids. Then, we heard the age-old story and sang the wonderful old songs.

It brought back lots of memories, as there were several years when I headed up the project. I smiled when I complimented one of the teachers, who admitted that the last rehearsal had been awful. It always is. Then, the little cherubs don their holiday duds, get their hair smoothed down, and hear promises of what Santa will bring if they speak up real loud. They smile and wave at grandparents, sing their hearts out; and give us all the warm, fuzzy feelings that say it really is Christmas.

Now, it's on to the new year, the actual beginning of the millennium.

Market Report

The Norfolk Livestock Market fat cattle sale was held on Friday with a run of 281 head sold. Prices were steady on steers and heifers and $1 to $2 higher on cows and bulls.

Strictly choice fed steers were $76 to $77.90. Good and choice steers were $75 to $76. Medium and good steers were $74 to $75. Standard steers were $55 to $61. Strictly choice fed heifers were $76 to $77.80. Good and choice heifers $75 to $76. Medium and good heifers were $74 to $75. Standard heifers were $55 to $61. Beef cows were $40 to $47 and utility cows were $40 to $47. Canners and cutters were $32 to $40 and bologna bulls were $45 to $52.

Stocker and Feeder sale was held Thursday. The market was $2 higher.

Good and choice steer calves were $95 to $115. Choice and prime lightweight calves were $95 to $125. Good and choice yearling steers were $75 to $97. Choice and prime lightweight yearling steers were $90 to $104. Good and choice heifer calves were $90 to $100. Choice and prime lightweight heifer calves were $95 to $120. Good and choice yearling heifers were $75 to

Butcher hog head count at the Norfolk Livestock Market on Tuesday totaled 162. Butchers were $1 to $1.75 lower and sows were untested.
U.S. 1's + 2's, 220 to 260 lbs., $38 to $38.70; 2's + 3's, 220 to 260 lbs., $37.50 to $38; 2's + 3's, 260 to 280 lbs., $37 to $38; 2's + 3's, 280 to 300 lbs., $34 to $37; 3's + 4's, 300 + lbs., $30 to $34.

Natural Resource District offers seedlings

Each year the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District (LENRD) makes available low-cost tree and shrub seedlings to landowners through their conservation tree program.

The state of Nebraska has a long history of encouraging landowners to plant trees. Early programs encouraged landowners to plant trees by offering real estate tax relief through exemptions on forested acres. Other programs such as the Timber Culture Act of 1873 provided additional land for settlers that planted trees.

The Federal Government established the Prairie States Forestry Project in 1934 as a response to the "Dust Bowl." The purpose of this program was to "plant shelter belts on the Great Plains, to an extent and degree sufficient to have some measurable effect on the physical conditions of the area."

The goal of this project was to plant trees to ease drought conditions; protect soil, crops and livestock; and provide useful employment for drought stricken people. This was the largest single tree planting program in the history of our nation. It was responsible for planting many of the windbreaks that some of us still enjoy today. It also reinforced with many Nebraskans their longstanding commitment to planting trees, which shows in the many new windbreaks that are planted each year.

The present-day Conservation Tree Program has its roots in the Clarke-McNary Act of 1924. The Federal Government, trying to encourage tree planting for conservation purposes, passed into law the Clarke - McNary Act. The Clarke - McNary Act allowed states to sell tree seedlings and seeds for conservation purposes either at or below the cost of production. This program would then directly reimburse states for up to 50 percent of their losses for operating a Conservation Tree Program. Although, the federal government repealed the Clarke-McNary Act in 1978, Nebraska, like many other states, continues to provide low-cost tree and shrub seedlings for conservation practices through the Conservation Tree Program.

The LENRD's Conservation Tree Program offers a variety of services to landowners interested in planting windbreaks, woodlots or improving wildlife habitat on their property. These include the sale of conservation tree and shrub seedlings, tree planting service, chemical weed control services, weed barrier mats and water conservation mulch and installation. The costs of these services are as follows:

Tree and Shrub Seedlings — 50¢ / seedling (Seedlings are sold in bundles of 25 by species — $12.50 for 25 seedlings).

Tree Planting Services by NRD Contractors — Machine planting service — 30¢ / seedling (There is a minimum planting charge of $100 per project).

Chemical Weed Control by NRD Contractor — $2 / 100 linear feet of tree planting row (The NRD offers the chemical weed control service as a part of their tree planting service).

Water Conservation Mulch — 30¢ / linear foot (Installation by NRD Contractor costs an additional 20¢ per linear foot and minimum order of 300 feet with mulch sold in either 300 or 500 foot lengths).

Wind Barrier Mats — $1 / mat (Landowners must order weed barrier mats in lots of 25 ($25 / 25 mats and the NRD does not offer an installation service for the mats).

Last year the LENRD sold more than 164,000 tree and shrub seedlings to nearly 800 landowners throughout the district for conservation purposes. According to LENRD

WIN FIRST PLACE

The lighting display at the home of Jerry and Edith Anderson at 507 West Third Street was selected as the winner of the Community Club's Home Decorating Contest. The Andersons will receive 50 Wakefield $$$ for their efforts.

The Andersons' neighborhood seemed to catch the judge's eye as the display just down the street of Harvey and Irene Rhods, 212 Michener (corner of Third and Michener) was chosen as the second place winner and third place went to Josie and Ron Paulson at 502 West Third Street.

Second place is good for 25 Wakefield $$$ The other three winners will receive 15 Wakefield $$$.

The displays of Sherri Hample at 311 West Seventh Street and Dick and Jane Brownell at 408 West First Street, was tapped out by the out-of-town judges for honorable mention.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETS

The regular meeting of the Wakefield Community School Board of Education was held on Dec. 11. Visitors were Cathy Stading, Matt Brenn, Tim Bebee, and Mark Victor.

Stading highlighted the reading program that the first grade is using their year. Both first grade teachers (Mrs. Muller and Ms. Stading) are pleased with the progress being made by their students. The use of leveling seems to be working well for reading.

Brenn reviewed the classroom progress being made in the sixth grade in reading, math and science. The sixth grade is following the daily fluctuations of the national debt and are studying mixtures and solution in science. Brenn informed the Board that his students have cut and bundled around 20,000 Campbell's soup labels and plan to order physical education equipment and a butterfly tower, which would allow students to observe the life cycle of a caterpillar.

Elementary principal report: From Mrs. Widner's written report, Board President Johnson highlighted the good rate of attendance at parent-teacher conferences; 90 percent overall and 100 percent for Stading and Jaixen.

Secondary principal report: Heimann presented his written report with Board members. Secondary English teachers attended a Traits Based Workshop at ESU #1 and the local assessment plan has been approved in preparation for the State Standards requirements.

The garage/weight room built by the ITE class is complete and several students are taking advantage of a Cisco computer class being offered. Those students are refurbishing old computers to create usable computers to be used for basic applications at the Resource Center. Technology upgrades are continuing to take place and plans are to upgrade the available memory of the server. Heimann plans to present a reward to students who obtain perfect attendance for the semester.

Superintendent's report: Mr. Moody shared information on the New Board Member workshop held on Dec. 5. In addition, Moody distributed copies of the preliminary safety and security plan to board members. Satellite technology is now in place and has enhanced the curricular offerings available to both students and staff.

Committee reports: Marcia Kratke shared information from recent conferences and meetings that she attended. Board member Kratke also reviewed items discussed at a recent meeting of WEA and Board representatives. The group has scheduled meetings for Jan. 22 and April 10.

Moody briefly reviewed the 1999-2000 audit with Board members, explained that accounts used for district financial transactions are being streamlined and shared information regarding the upcoming Labor Relations Conference scheduled for Feb. 6 and 7.

Old business: Moody brought the Board up to date on the construction project by informing them that plans are underway to move and install the new water heater in the existing basement area, that the heating project is progressing and that walls are going up on the new fitness area.

New business: Information regarding payment of the first request and a recommendation by Phil Lorenzen was presented.

It was approved the temporary advancement of $19,826.92 from the Bond Fund for the purpose of making payment of interest due on the current building project and that said funds be reimbursed to the Bond Fund through pending tax collections levied for said special building project.

A request by Michael Pommer, CPA, to be included on the bid list for preparation of the 2000-01 fiscal year audit and final financial report was discussed. The board thanked Pommer for his interest and a decision was made to seek 1, 2, and 3-year bids from area firms for preparation of the audit.

Board members discussed a proposal for a maintenance service agreement with R. W. Rice and felt that the cost did not adequately match the benefit for the service.

They approved Austin Lueth as a paid junior high basketball coach for the 2000-01 season.

IT'S SIMPLE TO UNLOCK THE INTERNET.

CALL AND TRADE IN NEBRASKA'S MODERN AND HAVE ACCESS TO ALL THE INFORMATION AND KNOWLEDGE THAT SURFING THE INTERNET OFFERS!

What is DSL?

DSL stands for digital subscriber line. The technology uses regular copper telephone lines to connect homes and small businesses to the Internet at high speeds. Those speeds typically range from 256K to 1.544 mbps (nearly 30 times faster than a 56K modem) for downstream transfers, which are downloads or file transfers to your PC.

What do these numbers mean? Simply put you can have an Internet connection at speeds approaching those of a T1 line for a fraction of the price.

How does it Work?

DSL uses digital technology to send oodles of compressed data over traditional telephone lines. The trick involves using special modems at both ends that encode the data and then transmit it over an unused frequency on the line.

Qwest will provide you a line back to the Central Office and then you choose Northeast Nebraska ComNet as your Internet Service Provider. It's easy and fast. You won't have to change your email address or the great service you currently receive.

How much does it Cost?

There are two options available from Qwest for the Line. Northeast Nebraska ComNet's charges will not change. Currently Qwest has a promotion that was extended for a free modem and activation.

Northeast Nebraska ComNet has no control over busy signals with DSL as Qwest Communications acts all this. If you have troubles with connecting and with busy signals please contact Qwest Communications. Please contact Qwest on the current promotion for more information.

With DSL Services

from Northeast Nebraska ComNet you will continue to have access to quality Internet Services, Outstanding Technical Support and the knowledge of many years experience in the Internet Industry. October of 1999 ComNet had a solution for DSL services that we wanted to bring to Wayne. US West would not let ComNet provide those DSL services to You. We will continue to fight to bring quality services and advanced technologies to Wayne and all of our other communities.

Flu vaccine is available

The flu is here and vaccine is available, so get your flu shot. That's the message from Dr. Tom Safranek, state epidemiologist for the Nebraska Health and Human Services System.

"The vaccine shortage is over and a vaccine is being shipped by manufacturers to various places across the state," Dr. Safranek said. "It's real timely because we've just had our first flu cases reported so far this season."

Dr. Safranek said a half dozen cases of flu have been reported from Douglas and Sarpy counties, with scattered cases from other parts of the state, both A and B types.

The body develops protective antibodies from the vaccine about two weeks following the shot. The influenza season normally reaches its peak in January and February.

"The next couple of weeks is an ideal time to get immunized," Dr. Safranek said. "People get together over the holidays and the virus spreads."

Getting immunized is especially important for people age 50 and older and anyone with certain health problems, such as heart, lung and kidney disease, cystic fibrosis, diabetes, anemia, and severe asthma.

Immunization is recommended for children who are on continuous aspirin therapy.

It is also recommended for pregnant women who will be in their second or third trimesters of pregnancy during the flu season, and for pregnant women with medical conditions that place them at increased risk of complications. Family members or others who provide care to high-risk persons should also be vaccinated. Getting immunized is a good idea for anyone who wants to avoid influenza and its complications.

Dr. Safranek said that if health care providers need vaccine, they can call the Health and Human Services System at (402) 471-0920.

Holiday gift

Vicki Kleinschmit, left, and Mike Bentjen, right, of First National Bank Of Omaha Service Center presented a check to Craig Holstedt of the Wayne Food Pantry. Employees donated $187.50 by depositing loose change into jars in recent weeks. Several boxes of food and numerous coats were also donated to help those in need during the holiday season and throughout the year.

Plumbing course to be offered at Northeast College in January 2001

Northeast Community College will offer a Basic Plumbing Class in West Point in January and again in February.

Students may take Basic Plumbing (INDT 1100-30) from Monday, Jan. 8 through Monday, Feb. 5 from 6:30 to 9:15 p.m. in West Point. Or, they may take the same class, Basic Plumbing (INDT 1100-31) from Monday, March 26 through Monday, March 26 from 6:30-9:15 p.m.

The course is an introductory study of safety, tools, terminology, and techniques of plumbing installation and maintenance with emphasis on basic skills for residential and industrial systems. The class may be taken for one credit hour toward a degree or audited.

Students who audit classes can attend the class sessions for information and enjoyment without doing assignments or earning credit. Students are required to pay for audited classes.

For more information about this Basic Plumbing Class, call Gene Bourelle (402) 644-0652. All new and transfer students must contact the Admissions Office at Northeast at (402) 644-0460 for an application for admission and registration instructions. Northeast offices are closed for the Holidays through Jan. 1, so students interested in the class may register beginning Jan. 2.

Feverfew for Migraine Headache

Feverfew (Tanacetum parthenium), was used as a fever reliever as far back as 78 AD. Now, this herb is used to prevent migraines by reducing the severity and frequency of the headaches. Other uses include relief of menstrual pain, asthma, dermatitis, and arthritis. The active ingredient is parthenolide which inhibits the release of serotonin from the blood platelets. Parthenolide relieves inflammation by inhibiting prostaglandin synthesis and the release of arachidonic acid.

Few studies have been conducted on the use of feverfew for migraine headache prevention. A randomized, double-blind, placebo-controlled, crossover study of 76 patients showed a 24% reduction in the number of attacks, but no change in the duration of attacks. There was a significant reduction of nausea and vomiting.

In another study, migraine sufferers received either a freeze-dried, powdered feverfew extract or a placebo. Fewer headaches were reported each month by the individuals who received feverfew. However, headache frequency increased significantly in the group receiving the placebo.
