Commerce hosted the 61st Annual meeting on Jan. 21 at Riley's Convention Center.

During the evening, the accornplishments of the Chamber over the course of the year were shared. Some of these included developing the Wayne website, creating the eco-nomic development taskforce, collaborating efforts of area communities toward getting the Highway 35 Expressway constructed and bringing DSL to the community through partnerships with Wayne State College and Qwest.

Wayne was also chosen by Peoples Natural Gas as a preferred community which made them eligible to become one of eight LocationOne communities in Nebraska.

"The citizens of Wayne know how to rally together to get things done and it is through this type of collaboration and teamwork that we have achieved so much success," said Karin Vaughn, Executive Director with the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce.

The highlight of the evening was the awards ceremony in which the Educator of the Year and Citizen of the Year were announced. These individuals were nominated by their peers and selected based on their accomplishments and dedication to the community.

The 2000 Educator of the Year was awarded to Peg Lutt who teaches first grade at Wayne Elementary $chool. Mrs. Lutt was commended for her individual respect and interst in her students which gives students a lasting basis for social and Educational success. Lutt not only motivates her students to succeed, but takes time to nurture them as

The 2000 Citizen of the Year was awarded to Ron Wriedt, a local business owner and civil servant. Wriedt has served as a volunteer fireman and EMT for over 20 years. He is an instructor for the Nebraska Fire Service and teaches at the Nebraska State Fire School yearly.

He also volunteers on the severe veather spotting team, serves as the president of the Northeast Nebraska Mutual Aid, assists the worship team at Our Savior Lutheran Church as a Wriedt has also developed a Propane Tank Fire Training program that is utilized in Nebraska and Iowa fire training. He is an ambulance driver, substitute school bus driver and an Eagle Scout Award recipient.

Wriedt has demonstrated his dedication to helping people in an emergency in time of need. He has dedicated countless hours volunteering to make Wayne a better community.

Vaughn said, "We are privileged to honor these dedicated individuals. The hard work of people like Peg and Ron is what gives Wayne an outstanding quality of life. I applaud their accomplishments."

The Principal's Office

by Dr. Don Zeiss, Wayne High Principal Ways for parents to influence legislators on public policy

How can you as a parent influence legislators on public policy matters? There are many things you can do. First, be informed. Learn all that you can about the issues before the legislature. Know who your legislators are and how they stand on the bills being considered. Follow their voting records and see how they have voted on important issues in the past. Finally, ask questions until you feel they have all been answered.

All state legislative bodies are accessible. Most states have websites where you can find e-mail addresses, phone numbers, postal addresses and information concerning your legislators. An e-mail message or a phone call will allow you to voice your opinion, request additional information or make an appointment to invite the legislator to meet with you or with a group of parents to discuss any issue important to

Your elected representative can provide you with the text for pending bills, tell you who introduced the bill, and provide you with a synopsis of the pros and cons. The text of bills is frequently available online on state legislative websites. Information is often available on these sites to let you follow a particular piece of legislation through the lengthy committee process to the floor debate. When committee hearings are held on these bills, you may attend and even voice your opinion concerning the issue.

Important or controversial bills grab/medial attention and information is freely published concerning the issues surrounding these bills. However, for every bill that captures a headline there are many others that receive no public notice, appearing only in an agenda of items to be considered during a legislative session

Share your information with other parents. As a group you can increase your influence in the statehouse. You can even form a political action committee that will act as a "watchdog" group for your school or district or alert your organization or school of important

Remember, the state legislature sets the budget at your child's school. Your legislators allocate the funds that are used to pay the teachers in your child's classroom, buy the textbooks and classroom materials and purchase the buses and fuel that take your child to and from school each day. They also make provisions for funding new buildings or repairing existing facilities and they set the minimum standards used to determine promotion and graduation requirements and provide testing to monitor academic accountability. These are people you should get to know, because they are partners in your child's education.

Parenting Tips:

- Know who your legislators are and whether they support educa-
- Take time to review pending education legislation. How will it affect your child's education experience?
- · How much money is your legislature allocating for education and is this amount adequate?
- · Talk to your district's superintendent or governing board members; they can tell you which education issues would benefit from your support. These individuals are your first line of defense.

The 24 people in attendance were quite surprised to hear some of the figures given by President Nancy Wherley. For example, last year the organization received 65 calls from people wanting to surrender their dogs or cats.

The organization's policy is to take only those dogs that are picked up as strays by the Wayne Police Department and brought to the Wayne Veterinary Clinic for impound. After five days, if the dog's owner has not been found, the humane organization will take the dog and house it until a home can be found. Sometimes this takes a long time. A recently adopted dog had been with the group for a year.

The Wayne Veterinary Clinic assists the organization with shots for the dogs. A donation is requested when the dog is adopted to help in covering the cost of their feeding and care.

At this time, no cats are taken as the organization has no adequate facilities in which to house them.

One of the other efforts of the group is to supply "Kind News Weekly" to some of the elementary school classes. This publication is aimed at promoting responsibility toward animals so that children grow up with respect for those who share the earth with us. In the future, the humane group would like to be able to supply all the ele-per every year.

Another addition this year has been the involvement of college students to walk the dogs. This provides an invaluable opportunity for socialization of the dogs. They become used to being walked by many individuals and are more likely to become a successful adoption. It also gives the college students an opportunity to interact with the dogs rather than having one of their

One of the organization's longrange goals is to build a shelter to more adequately house and care for the animals. The nearest humane shelters to Wayne are in Columbus and Sioux City. Unfortunately, they are almost always full. It is a need in northeast Nebraska and the group plans to explore how that need can best be served.

Anyone interested in getting involved with this organization is asked to attend a meeting on the second Thursday of each month at Our Savior Lutheran Church.

Opinion

Nebraska Consumer Bulletin

Attorney General Don Stenberg

DON'T FALL FOR A FOREIGN LOTTERY

If you have received a phone call from someone claiming to be a representative of a foreign lottery, and if you have been promised that you are almost certain to be a big winner, you can be sure a foreign lottery scam artist is trying to get your money! Once you have agreed to participate in the foreign lottery, the caller may request your credit card number so that a "small fee" may be charged to your credit card account. The "small fee" may turn out to be anywhere from $1,000 to $4,000 charged to your next credit card statement.

It is illegal for a foreign or out of state lottery to solicit lottery sales in the State of Nebraska. If you receive a phone call or a mail solicitation asking you to purchase lottery tickets or to enter into a lottery "pool", it is a scam. The Nebraska Lottery will never call you on the telephone to ask you to buy Nebraska lottery tickets and they will not solicit ticket sales through the mail.

Foreign lottery scams are big business. These criminal operations take millions of dollars illegally from American citizens across the nation each year. It is often difficult or impossible to get money back from the people who operate these scams.

A new version of the foreign lottery scam involves a scratch-off lottery ticket, sent through the mail. Information included with the ticket states that this is a winning ticket worth $5,000. To claim the $5,000, the consumer must send $210 to a Canadian address for "processing fees", and also send a copy of their drivers license and a small, glossy picture.

In this scam, the consumer not only looses $210, but also important personal information that is on the drivers license.

Here are some suggestions to protect yourself from foreign lottery scams:

- Never give your credit card or bank account number over the phone to a caller promising you a lottery jackpot.
- Never send cash or a personal or cashiers check to pay "taxes" or "attorney fees" to a foreign business promising you a large sum of money in return.
- Never accept a collect phone call from someone claiming to be a lottery official. A legitimate lottery will never call you.
- Never join a "lottery pool". A legitimate lottery will not ask you to join a "lottery pool".

There is such thing as a national Canadian, Australian or German lottery. Anyone representing himself on the telephone as calling from a foreign lottery is a scam artist.

Letters_

Facing life worse than death

Dear Editor

This morning as we were driving on a gravel road south of town, we passed a small kitten sitting in a field shivering from the cold. I went home and got some cat food, thinking that I would leave it something to eat, knowing that I probably wouldn't be able to catch it. (In most instances that is the case when you have an animal that has been abandoned). Much to my surprise the kitten began crying and literally jumped into my arms.

What a sad sight beheld my eyes. This poor little creature had lost her ears and half her tail to the bitter cold that has enveloped Nebraska the last few days. She is a beautiful kitten, black with silvery gray streaks running through her coat and has four white paws.

i really hope that the person who abandoned her reads this letter and agonizes over the misery that the poor kitten must have undergone in the past few days since she was dumped in a ditch and left to fend for herself.

Once again, I will make the plea that so many people have made to persons like yourself... please don't bring home the 'darling little animals' if you don't intend to take care of them for the rest of their lives. This isn't a toy that you can discard when a child tires of it, nor is it an item an adult can throw in a ditch somewhere when they become disillusioned by the chores that an animal brings with it.

We have quite a few of these "throw-always" at our house thanks to people like you. Contact an animal shelter if you feel you are unable to care for the pet you wanted so bad, don't dump them in a ditch to die a horrible death from starvation, cold or being hit by a

Term limits mean real deadlines

By Ed Howard Statehouse Correspondent The Nebraska Press Association

One of the Legislature's freshman members made rather an interesting point last week, having to do with time not necessarily being on his side.

Sen. Mike Foley introduced a proposal that would allow criminal prosecution of someone who causes the death of a fetus in circumstances that don't involve procedures that are legal, such as abortion.

Example: A crook kills a woman who is pregnant. He could be charged with a double homicide. Got it?

The point here, however, isn't just Foley's legislation. It is the fact that someone noted Foley is carrying it as a freshman lawmaker Such proposals are often times carried by senior members of the Legislature or those who are in something other than their first year of Unicameral service. Of course, the proposal has plenty of clout behind it, both within and without the Legislature, regardless of who takes the role of lead sponsor. It has 27 co-sponsors. Gov. Mike Johanns likes it. And several groups, including those that oppose abortion, are for it.

The thing is, Foley was asked why he decided to take on such a task when the ink on his certificate of election was hardly dry.

"Well, term limits," he responded.
"I don't have the luxury of spending my first term - getting to know people. I have to jump right in and start fegislating."

Actually, a first term (like all others) lasts four years. No one spends four years getting to know people. However, Foley's point is understandable and well-taken in several respects.

Foley, and others entering the Legislature, do so knowing that they won't be around indefinitely. Eight years is not a short time, but it represents a real, absolute deadline. It is easy to understand an enhanced feeling of "let's get on with it," among new legislators.

The fact is that term limits would have cut short the service of only a comparative few Nebraska fawmakers over the last couple of decades. The voters' decision to limit them to two, consecutive terms represented a decision (conscious or otherwise) to eliminate any accumulation of institutional memory among the membership. No matter what anyone tells you, that means more power of various kinds will accrue to staff and lobbyists.

In Nebraska, with its unique onehouse system, the chances of staff influence on lawmakers eventually coming into question might be rather good. It depends on whether senatorial staffers begin to be seen as aligned with particular interest groups and causes.

Now, make no mistake about it. In Nebraska, and everywhere else in the country, the people who work for lawmakers don't live in caves. Many already are aligned with political parties and causes and what have you, just like the rest of the world.

That's not the potential issue. The potential issue centers on whether professional staffers in the offices of individual lawmakers might eventually be perceived as the equivalent of veteran lawmakers - the people with the institutional memory, the people who know everyone (in the context of the Legislature, the lobby, the executive branch, the press), the people who know how to get things done, the people with real and direct influence over the people who cast the votes - votes that choose legislative leaders, write policy and enact budgets.

A REAL PROPERTY.

And that situation could one day be an issue. Or, not:

Legislative bills are explained

Legislative bills can be introduced during the first 10 days of a legislative session. During the 2001 legislative session, 848 bills and 12 constitutional amendments were introduced by senators and committees.

l introduced five bills and signed on as a co-sponsor to numerous other pieces of legislation. I will briefly explain the bills that I introduced this week and will summarize some of the bills that I co-sponsored next week.

Legislative Bill 399 creates the Outpatient Surgical Procedures Data Act. Currently, hospitals have data reporting requirements but no data is available from the ambulatory surgical centers. The bill represents a compromise between the two entities and requires hospitals and free standing ambulatory surgical centers to report certain data to

The data shall include the number of patients, reported by county, the 20 types of procedures most frequently performed, the insurance or government program that paid for the service; and the number of charity care patients treated. This bouild provide our local hospitals with information that will prove beneficial to them. They will be able to determine the number of people leaving the county and going to surgical centers elsewhere as well as the procedures that are being undertaken.

An additional fine of up to $1,000 for persons who litter more than 10 pounds of garbage would be imposed under LB 605. The legislation also provides that the court shall order such violator to keep the area clean for a specific time period. This legislation was modeled after a law in South Dakota and is intended to deal with the perpetual problem of people dumping appliances, tires and other garbage in rural county ditches.

LB 606 would provide for a sales tax exemption on the purchase of E85 vehicles. E85 fuel is composed of 85% ethanol and 15% gasoline. E85 vehicles are flexible fuel vehicles, meaning they can run on 100% gasoline or 85% ethanol, but run best on E85. My intent is to encourage consumers to purchase these vehicles, which will cause more gas station owners to install E85 tanks and pumps. With the high gas prices, I think now is the time to strongly encourage more use of ethanol. This is just one of several bills that have been introduced on the subject of ethanol.

I am well aware of the problem that school districts face when their state aid falls drastically from one year to the next. If several families with school-age children move from a district, it can severely reduce the state aid the school district receives, even though the loss of students isn't enough to warrant fewer teachers.

I introduced LB 812 to help lessen the impact on the state aid a school receives when their enrollment drops. Schools would be able to use a three-year average in determining their adjusted formula students if that would prove more beneficial than the current year calculation.

LB 813 would allow local governments cooperating together to issue bonds for the construction, expansion or renovation of public infrastructure. The bonded indebtedness would be outside the levy and spending limitations. The intent of the legislation is to encourage a more efficient and cost-effective use of facilities, by offering a less cumbersome process to local governments

A recent analysis by the Commission on Local Government Innovation and Restructuring concluded that joint-use facilities lead to lower costs, more complete use of the facilities and elimination of duplicative programs. The legislation requires a public hearing, but does not require a vote of the residents, unless 15% or more of the registered voters sign a remonstrance against the issuance of bonds. The principal amount of bonds cannot exceed $5 million and the annual payments cannot exceed five percent of the restricted funds of the public agency.

I encourage you to contact my office to inform me of your opinions on the various bills that are before the Legislature. My mailing address is Senator Doug Cunningham, District #18, P.O. Box 94604, State Capitol, Lincoln, NE 68509 and my e-mail address is dcunningham@unicam.state.ne.us.

Nebraska NFIB names legislative agenda

National Federation of Independent Business (NFIB) members have said this legislative session should be focused on easing their burdens--mostly.

"There are many issues NFIB could fight for to keep Nebraska's morn-and-pop stores viable, but our members have directed us to pay particular attention to a number of specific issues," said NFIB/Nebraska State Director Bob Hallstrom. "The small-business community pointed to sales tax on services, employee references and repeal of state inheritance taxes for immediate family members as top concerns."

Sales tax on services: While only a handful of states currently impose a broad sales tax on services, the Nebraska Legislature will consider measures to create a sales tax on services in 2001. "Extension of the sales tax to services has a particular damaging effect on small businesses which lack the resources necessary to produce required services inhouse and must routinely contract for such services," Hallstrom said. "This in turn increases their cost of doing business."

Employee reference: NFIB/Nebraska supports legislation designed to provide clear standards for actions taken by employers in making employee references.

"There is an ever-growing need for employers to obtain reliable and meaningful information when conducting reference checks on perspective employees," Hallstrom said. "Unfortunately, despite the need for better reference information, fear of litigation prevents employers from providing much more than 'name, rank, and serial number.'"

Inheritance tax repeal: NFIB/Nebraska will pursue legislation to repeal the state inheritance tax or significantly increase the exemptions for property inherited by immediate family members. "Srmall-business owners object to paying taxes 'from the grave' after having paid various taxes on wealth accumulated during their lifetime," said Hallstrom. "It's time to stop taxing them to death."

Note: The NFIB is the nation's largest small-business advocacy group. A non-profit, nonpartisan organization founded in 1943, NFIB represents the consensus views of its 600,000 members in Washington and all 50 state capitals.

Herbs for Health

Older Antidepressants Often as Effective as Newer, Costlier Ones

According to new guidelines from the American College of Physicians - American Society of Internal Medicine, both newer and traditional antidepressant medicines are equally effective for many persons with depression. Older medicines typically are in the class termed tricyclics (e.g., Tofranil, Elavil) The newer agents include selective serotonin reuptake inhibitors, or SSRIs (e.g., Paxil, Zolofi, Prozac)

The major difference cited between tricyclics and SSRIs are side effects. SSRIs are more likely to cause diarrhea, nausea, headache, and sleeping difficulties. Tricyclics are more likely to cause blurred vision, constipation, dizziness, dry mouth, and tremors. Interestingly, according to the new guidelines it is noted that St. John's wort may be effective around the depression, allease on a short-term hasis. guidelines it is noted that St. John's wort, may be effe against mild depression, at lease on a short-term basis.

WSC women notch weekend NSIC sweep

The Wayne State women's basketball team swept a pair of NSIC tilts over the weekend in the friendly confines of Rice Auditorium.

Ryun Williams' troops defeated Bernidji State, 79-59 on Friday night before upending 10-time defending NSIC league champs, Minnesota-Duluth on Saturday, 61-52.

The Wildcats improved to 11-5 overall and upped their NSIC mark

Southwest State currently holds the top spot in the NSIC at 8-1 with Minnesota-Duluth at 7-2 and Northern State at 6-2.

The 'Cats are tied for the fourth with Minnesota State-Moorhead.

In last Friday's win over Bernidii State, Sara Miller sparked the winners with 19 points including three, three-pointers. She also had a game-high seven assists and pulled down a pair of rebounds.

WSC never trailed in the contest and led by eight points at the break, 34-26 before opening it up in the second half for the 20-point win.

It was Bemidji State's seventh conference loss against one win. The 'Cats had four players in double figures as Karen Hochstein poured 16 and Krista Bernadt, 13 while Christi Williams added 10.

Tracy Williamson neared the double digits mark with nine points on three, three-pointers

Bernadt led WSC on the boards with six caroms but the 'Cats were out-rebounded, 38-34.

WSC however, was nearly perfect at the charity stripe, hitting 21-of-23 attempts for 91 percent.

Wayne State's defense reared its tenacious head on Saturday night, especially in the first half, limiting a potent Minnesota-Duluth team to just 15 points as the 'Cats raced to a 29-15 halftime lead.

"Our gals understood the importance of this game with Duluth and they rose to the occasion," Williams said. "I also felt like we were the aggressor in the first half."

Duluth however, responded early in the second half, cutting the gap to just five points before Sara Miller drained a long three-pointer to push the lead back to comfortabili-

grapplers runner-up

The Winside wrestling team had what coach Paul Sok labeled, "an off day," at last Saturday's Oakland-Craig Invitational.

The Wildcats placed runner-up with 128.5 points—well behind Norfolk Catholic at 189.5 points.

Oakland-Craig placed third with 116 and West Point C.C. followed with 110, a half-point ahead of Pender. Howells finished sixth with 107.5 and they were followed in order by Battle Creek, North Bend, West Point, Ponca, Laurel-Concord, Scribner-Snyder, Randolph, Tekamah-Herman reserves, Oakland reserves, and Logan View reserves.

Although eight Wildcats came away with medals, only two reached the finals where Winside

Eric Vanosdall upped his season record to 21-0 by winning the 160 pound weight class.

Vanosdall continues to be the top ranked wrestler at his weight in Class D. "Eric dominated a very strong weight class at this tourna-ment," Sok said. "Tom Schwedhelm avenged an earlier loss to Conroy of Pender in the semi's but was edged in the finals by a 1-0 margin to lason Greer of Norfolk Catholic who sports a 22-1 record.

Sok said his team suffered its worst semifinal round in the six tournaments they've competed in

"We had six kids lose in the semifinals but to their credit, all six came back to place," Sok added.

Brandon Suehl (103), Josh Sok (135), Nathan Suehl (171) each placed third while Jared Jaeger (112), Justin Koch (140), and Eric Morris (152) all placed fourth

Sok was pleased with the decision to have Eric Morris, Nate Stevens and Mike Tomasek wrestle in Oakland instead of a freshmansophomore meet in Wisner because as it turned out, the 15 points these guys generated allowed Winside to go home with a runner-up trophy as

The Wayne boys basketball team's attempt to knock the state's topranked team in Class C-2 fell just shy last Friday night, 47-40 in Wayne.

Rocky Ruhl's Blue Devils played fenacious defense in the early going against Hartington Cedar Catholic and the result was a 13-7 lead after one quarter of play.

Cedar managed to hold Wayne to just five, second quarter points but the game was still knotted at 18 at the intermission.

The visitors took a 33-29 lead to the fourth quarter and the score was tied around the two minute mark.

It was the little things that did us in down the stretch," Ruhl said. "When Cedar had a run we didn't always get the look we wanted on the offensive end. We need to execute better down the stretch."

Ruhl felt Cedar's press in the second half created the tempo they wanted. "We got in a situation-where I think we rushed a few shots," Ruhl added. "I thought, we played hard overall but just didn't get the job finished.

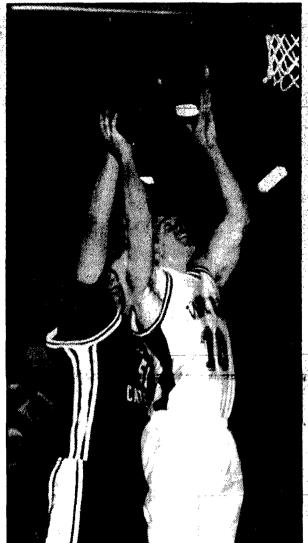

Brad Hochstein led Wayne with 16 points while Eric McLagan added 14. Craig Olson finished with four while Shane Baack and Ben Meyer added three each.

Cedar's trio of Neil Wortmann, Matt Hames and Jeff Jones combined to score 45 of the Trojans 47 points

The 8-5 Blue Devils will play host to West Point on Friday.

In the JV game the Blue Devils upped their record to 8-2 with a 56-41 win over Cedar as the visitors suffered their first loss of the season.

Caleb Garvin poured in 19 points to lead Wayne with Ric Volk adding 11 and Jon Ehrhardt, eight. Brady Heithold tossed in six points, and Eric Sturm, Heath Dickes and Chris Nissen added two each while Ryan Schmeits and Mike Sturm each converted one free throw.

Trevor Wright pulls down a rebound while Cedar's Jeff Jones tries to knock it out of his grasp.

Wayne State men back in the NSIC hunt after sweep team posted two NSIC victories last weekend to move into sole possession of third place in the NSIC standings.

Burkett's team blasted Bernidji State on Friday, 91-65 before beating Minnesota-Duluth on Saturday night, 82-69.

In Friday's contest WSC broke the game open early as they went on a 20-4 run to lead 28-10 at the eight minute mark.

The 'Cats led 41-26 at the half which was as close as Bemidji State would get the rest of the way

Four players finished in double figures led by Jason Herlitzke with 21 while Nathan Mulder poured in 17 and Brad Joens, 14. Kevin Lingenfelter was also in double dig-

Todd Klostermann was close to double digits with nine points and Tim Gesell posted career marks in scoring and rebounding with eight

"We kind of took the wind out of Bemidji's sails early when we built a 19 point lead," Burkett said. "The guys are doing a better job of understanding the roles they need

Burkett was also pleased with the lift he got from his bench. "Tim Gesell really did a nice job for us," Burkett added. "As a team we did a good job of knocking down our free throws, hitting 19-of-22."

WSC won the battle of the boards, 41-27 with Herlitzke notching eight caroms while Mulder and Gesell had seven each.

'Saturday in Wayne' the Wildcats notched a win over Minnesota-Duluth, 82-69. The sweep by WSC on the weekend leaped them into third place in the NSIC standings with a 6-3 mark while the overall record improved to 7-11.

WSC jumped out to a quick 5-0 lead and despite an eight-all tie,

The 'Cats led 45-35 at the half and the close as Duluth got in the second half was six points at the

"We played very well as a team," Burkett said. "Again, we got some solid bench play and Jason Herlitzke showed what he can do with 25 points and 10 rebounds."

Herlitzke recorded his sixth, double-double of the season. In fact, the 'Cats had two players with double-doubles as Nathan Mulder notched his first ever double-double with 10 points and a career high 10 rebounds.

Brad Joens tossed in 19 points including four, three-pointers and Kevin Lingenfelter poured in 18 points.

EXPERT ANSWERS TO TAXING QUESTIONS

What if I won't be able to file my return by April 15th?

You can get an extension by filing Form 4868, Application for Automatic Extension of Time to File U.S. Individual Income Tax Return. However, you must do this by April 15th to avoid incurring a late filling penalty. Keep in mind that the file of this form does not extend the time to pay any income tax owed the Graves Public Library Board along with Pastor Susan Banholzer, Barb Brazie and Tim Rouse.

It is the intention of the Foundation Board to incorporate fixtures and some of the stained glass windows from the old building into the new facility. The artifacts and collections that are currently in the old library basement are to be displayed in new cases in the onefloor building.

The design also includes a children's corner, reading and research space, technology area equipped with computers and internet access plus a meeting room for approxi mately 50 people with a small kitchen area (sink and counter).

Anyone interested in contributing to the project should contact one of the members of the Foundation Board or the Library Board.

The Foundation Board noted that this winter-has emphasized the need for a new building. The front entrance steps are covered with ice and the building is cold and drafty. It is not a comfortable place to relax COMMUNITY CLUB

Prior to the Wakefield Community Club Coffee meeting, a ribbon cutting was held at the Stitch Stable Craft and Gift Shop to welcome Tom and Lynda Turney as new members.

The meeting, hosted by the Waldbaum Company, was called to order at the Senior Center with 31 members and quests present.

Thank you notes were expressed to Wakefield Advance for organizing the Christmas promotion.

"It was a great turn out and went well," said President Val Bard.

Thanks were also expressed to the Lions Club for the soup supper. Mike Moody, a Lions member, said the group's Christmas project was a success and helped about 26 fami-The Lions will host a pancake supper on Feb. 9 at the school for the Youth Baseball program

BOARD OF EDUCATION

The Wakefield Community School Board of Education meeting was held Jan. 8. Visitors were Daryl Harrison, Jon Carlson of Carlson West Povandra and Dave Brown of ME Group, Inc.

ITE Instructor Daryl Harrison nformed the board that the weight fifting building that his class constructed came in at approximately $12,000 or about $3,000 under the amount allotted for the project. The equipment has been moved into the new facility and Mr. Harrison has reclaimed classroom space for his industrial technology classes. He also reported that the first semester for the Aplus class is nearly complete and that members of the class have been learning how to repair computers

The VICA students are currently constructing two utility sheds that will be raffled. Mr. Harrison also informed the board that he plans to attend a Briggs and Stratton conference next summer at his own

The board members and visitors toured the shop and new weight

Ion Carlson and Dave Brown provided an update on the new facility construction. Inclement weather in November and December has put the project behind schedule. The new water heater, which will serve existing facilities as well as new building needs, has been installed. Mr. Carlson and Mr. Brown asked to board to consider a change order for sewer installation. Come problems arose with the original plan and an alternate connection is being considered. The board consensus was to have the Building and Grounds Committee members meet with RaDec and Johnson representatives to review alternatives Elementary Principal Jennifer Widner informed the board members that eight new students enrolled after the Christmas break Several staff members attended High Scope training. Upcoming events include the Geographic Geography Bee and a teacher workday. Mrs. Widner shared an evaluation status report.

Secondary Principal Bill Heimann brought the board up to speed on progress and future plans for the district's technology. Mr. Heimann reported that Mrs. Vander Weil and Mrs. Theobald have welcomed Wayne State College student teacher Diane Schieffer for the second semester.

The Science Fair for students from grades 5-8 is scheduled for Feb. 8. Preparations are underway for the Wakefield Institute, which will be held March 19-23

Superintendent Moody asked if any board members were interested in going to the Labor Relations Conference in February and Stan McAfee and Marcia Kratke volunteered to attend. Mr. Moody and Mrs. Widner have been asked to be part of a North Central Accreditation team at Norfolk Public

In an effort to realize maximum earning potential, Barb Preston and Mr Moody are evaluating the district's financial holdings in a joint effort with the Iowa-Nebraska State Bank representatives. Mr. Moody also distributed a short 'bio' on Senator Ron Raikes who has been elected as the Chair of the Education Committee and a districtby-district comparison of achievement scores from the initial state report card. The Board concluded that a retreat should be scheduled for Jan. 20 to be used for bringing new board members up to speed and also to be used for a goal-setting session.

Marcia Kratke shared some possible policy amendments in the areas of communicable disease, board committee 're-organizations, early retirement program and added that any new or amended policies require two readings to be formally

Mr. Moody asked to Board to consider re-scheduling the February board meeting because of a possi-ble conflict with girls' sub-district basketball competition. No final decision was made.

The Safety Plan, presented by Superintendent Moody at the December meeting was reviewed and a few modifications were suggested.

They approved the amended Security and Safety Plan.

The board approved the addition of an indemnification clause to the superintendent, secondary principal and elementary principal's contracts as amendment.

Superintendent Moody administered the oath of office for newly elected members, Tim Bebee, Mark Victor and Stan McAfee.

Alan Johnson was chosen to be board president; Stan McAfee, board vice-president and Marcia Kratke, board secretary. Johnson, McAfee and Kratke were authorized to sign checks for the district's genspecial building, depreciation and bond funds.

The board set the driver's education program fees for 2001 at $135 student. Yolanda Dutton resigned as Migrant Recruiter. The board approved the position of Migrant Recruiter to Rosa Conzalez facts about violence, school failure, substance abuse, eating disorders and suicide. It's frightening, frustrating and depressing, but it does not have to be that way.

The Search Institute analyzed a nationwide survey involving more than 273,000 students. It was discovered that the difference between troubled youth and those leading healthy, productive, positive lives was strongly affected by the presence of developmental assets:

developmental strengths that are the building blocks for human development in a young person's life. They provide a sense of security. They are resources upon which a child can draw again and again. They are cumulative, meaning that the more a person has, the better.

When I Must Leave You

When I must leave you For a little while Please do not grieve And shed wild tears And hug your sorrow to you Through the years, But start out bravely With a gallant smile; And for my sake And in my name All things the same, Feed not your loneliness On empty days, But fill each waking hour In useful ways, Reach out your hand In comfort and in sheer And I in turn will comfort you And hold you near; And never, never Be afraid to die, For Dam walting for you in the sky!

Prayer concerns were for Lloyd Brown, Don Wacker, Jociell Bull, Janice Ellis and Orval Brandstetter.

Lori Carollo, Chapter Manger for the local Red Cross, gave an infor-mative talk on the work they do when emergencies arise in Wayne and surrounding communities.

Irma Barker and Connie Webber served a dessert luncheon.

The next meeting will be Saturday, Feb. 10 at 9 a.m. Members are asked to bring paper products for the Food Pantry. Chonda Pierce will be the guest rocker She in a minister? Auch speaker. She is a minister's daughter, speaker, comedian, author, singer, wife and mother.

Singles group begins

Wayne now has a Singles Support Group that meets the second and fourth Thursday of each month at Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne.

This is an opportunity for men and women who are divorced, separated, widowed or never married to gather and experience fellowship with other singles.

Knowing that many singles are writing a new life script, the Singles Support Group creates Christian connections and support for individuals. The program offers personal growth, social and recreational experiences that build and strengthen community. The group is Christcentered and outreach-oriented.

Good Neighbors sought

The Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben Foundation and the Omaha World-Herald have announced that nomination forms for the 57th annual Good Neighbor Awards program are now being accepted.

This recognition program honors individuals and groups cited by neighbors for performing unselfish, neighborly deeds during 2000 without compensation or personal gain Nominations are accepted from organizations and/or individuals throughout Nebraska and western lowa and approved by an Ak-Sar-

Ben volunteer in the community. Nomination forms and instructions are available by writing the Ak Sar-Ben Good Neighbor Awards Committee, 6800 Mercy Road, Suite 206, Omaha, NE 68106.

All nominations must be received no later than March 15, 2001. Certificates are awarded annually to those selected by a statewide judging committee. Honorees will be announced in early June.

This program is just one of those supported by the Knights of Ak-Sar-Foundation which was founded in 1895 "to build a more prosperous Heartland, where communities can flourish and every child can suc-

The Allen Community Club met on January 15 at the Village Inn with very few members present. We want to invite all Allen residents to consider joining this communityoriented organization.

All the projects we do and /or help finance are for the benefit of Allen Residents both young and old Some of those projects are the Children's Easter and Halloween parties, summer recreation program, end of summer community pot'uck meal, Christmas carnival ano gazebo lighting, Christmas drawing, spring clean up day, summer garage sale day, and Historical and Nature Groves projects (and most Allen town and rural residents do), you are encouraged to help support them by becoming members of the Allen Community Club.

Meetings are held on the third Monday Evening of each month at the Village Inn. An optional meal is at 6:30 pm and the meeting follows at 7. Dues of $25 for an individual/couple, $35 for a small business, and $50 for a larger business are payable to Treasurer Ronnie Gotch

Scholarships available for farm family high school seniors planning career in agriculture

Nebraska high school seniors from farm families who plan a career in agriculture can apply for one of 100 scholarsaips valued at $1,500 to be awarded this spring by American Farm Foundation for Agriculture and Monsanto Company.

Nebraska has had eight winners of these "Commitment to Agriculture" scholarships since they were begun in 1999, according to Doug Gibson, chief administrator for Nebraska Farm Bureau, which promotes the program in the state. The scholarship program is supported by funds received through settle ments involving seed stewardship violations, he said.

"We're pleased to be able to help with this program," Gibson said.
"Providing educational assistance to those who represent the future of our industry is crucial, especially during the tough economic times agriculture is currently facing. Some past recipients have said this schol arship made the difference in their financial ability to attend college

To be eligible, the students must come from farm or ranch families and plan to pursue careers in agriculture. One-time awards $1,5000 will be made to 100 high school seniors chosen by an impartial selection committee of agricultural educators and industry leaders.

To qualify, a high school senior must have an average to above-average academic record, plan to enroll as a full-time student in an agriculture-related academic major in an accredited school and be committed to pursuing a career in agriculture Applicants will be evaluated on their high school records, standardized test results, extracurricular activities and personal essays submitted as a part of the application process.

Applications are ravailable from Nebraska county Farm Bureau offices, Monsanto dealers and at these web sites: www.farmsource.com www.agfoundation.org

Application forms must be completed and postmarked by Feb. 15, 2001 and applicants will be notified of the competition results by May 1, Thirty Nebraska LEAD XIX Fellows recently returned from an International Study/Travel Seminar in the Czech Republic, Slovakia, Hungary and Austria.

The seminar is designed to provide firsthand appreciation and understanding of the global/international community and the potential for people of all nations to work together, said Allen Blezek, Nebraska LEAD Program director and group leader.

During the Jan. 5-20 seminar, fellows attended briefings at American embassies and met with American business, agricultural trade and commodity groups. They also visited schools, hospitals and cultural

"The Nebraska LEAD Program's International Study/Travel Seminar has reminded me that there is more to this world than just the little area where we live," said participant Roger Berry of Farnam, Neb. "The world is becoming smaller and smaller and it is now even more imperative that we regularly step back, take off our blinders and get rid of the tunnel vision that we often develop. We must look at the big picture for solutions to the challenges facing agriculture today.

The realm of possibilities that I have gained, now that a door has been opened by the Nebraska LEAD experience, is great and I now only need to reach within and use these newly discovered abilities," said Tony Johnson of Crawford, Neb.

Other LEAD XIX Fellows are: John Beshaler, Arnold; Brian Zimmerman, Beatrice; Lyle Meaike, Beemer; Tim Else, Belvidere; Sandra Lowery, Burwell; Richard Dubas, Clarks; Rod Chyatal, Colon; William Luckey, Columbus; Jonathan Montgomery, Cozad; Marcel Kramer, Crofton; Tony Likens, Fairbury; Brian Poppe Falls City; Chris Scow, Firth; Derek Wilson, Grant; Patricia Schumacher, John Maddux. Cargill will award $500,000 in scholarships this year to high school seniors planning to enroll in accredited post secondary education institutions in the fall of 2001.

Cargill sponsors two scholarship programs for students in rural communities and communities where Cargill has a business presence.

The Cargill Scholarship Program for Rural America supports students from families who derive at least 50 percent of their income from farming. The program, administered by the National FFA Organization, awards $1,000 scholarships to 250 students each year. Students are selected based on financial need, academic achievement and involvement in extra curricular activities.

Cargill

Community

Scholarships Program supports students in communities where Cargill has a business presence. Each year, 250 students are selected based on academic achievement, leadership and involvement in extra curricular activities. In addition to receiving a $1,000 scholarship, Cargill will contribute $200 to each recipient's high school for library materials. The program is administered by Citizen's Scholarship Foundation of America.

High school seniors interested in applying for a Cargill scholarship should contact their nearest Cargill location for guidelines and applica-tions or visit the Cargill Scholarship site

Order Your NRD Tree Seedlings Today!

NORFOLK -- Each year the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District (LENRD) makes available

NORFOLK - Each year the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District (ELNKI) makes available low-cost tree and shrub seedlings to landowners through their conservation tree program. The state of Nebraska has a long history of encouraging landowners to plant trees. Early programs encouraged landowners to plant trees by offering real estate tax relief through exemptions on forested acres. Other programs such as the firmber Culture Act of 1873 provided additional land for settlers that planted frees.

The Federal Government established the Prairie States Forestry Project in 1934 as a response the "Dust Bowl." The purpose of this program was to "plant shelterbelts on the Great Plans, to an extent and degree sufficient to have some measurable effect on the physical conditions of the area." The goal of this project was to plant trees to ease drought conditions, protect soil, crops, and livestock; and provide useful employment for drought stricken people. This was the largest single tree planting program in the history of our nation. It was responsible for planting many of the windbreaks that some of us still enjoy today. It also reinforced with many Nebrask ans their largest and in a communical to planting trees. Which shows in the many new Nebraskans their longstanding commitment to planting trees. Which shows in the many new windbreaks that are planted each year.

our present-day Conservation free Program has its roots in the Clarke-McNary Act of 1924. The Federal Government, trying to encourage tree planting for conservation purposes, passed into law the Clarke-McNary Act. The Clark-McNary Act allowed states to sell tree seedlings and seeds for conservation purposes either at or below the cost of production. This program would then directly reimburse states for up to 50 percent of their losses for operating a Conservation. Tree Program. Although, the Federal Government repealed the Clarke-McNary Act in 1978, Nebraska, like many other states, continues to provide low-cost tree and shrub seedlings for conservation practices through the Conservation Tree Program.

The LENRD's Conservation Tree Program offers a variety of services to landowners interested in planting windbreaks, woodlots, or improving wildlife habitat on their property. These include the sale of conservation tree and shrub seedlings, tree planting services, chemical weed control services, weed barrier mats, and water conservation mulch and installation. The costs of these services are as follows

Tree and Shrub Seedlings - $1. 1 / seedlings

Seedlings are sold in bundles of 25 by species ($12.50 for 25 seedlings)

Tree Planting Services by NRD contractors

Machine planting services - $0.30 / seedling
 There is a minimum planting charge of $100.00 per project

Chemical Weed Control by NRD Contractor - $2.00 / 100 linear feet of tree planting row The NRD offers the chemical weed control service as a part of their tree planting service

Water Conservation Mulch - $0.30 / linear feet Installation by NRD Contractor costs an additional $0.20 / linear foot

Minimum order of 300' feet with mulch sold in either 300' or 500' foot lengths

Weed Barrier Mats - $1.00 / mat

Landowners must order weed barrier mats in lots of 25 ($25.00 for 25 mats), the NRD does not offer an installation service for the mats.

Last year the LENRD sold more than 164,000 tree and shrub seedlings to landowners throughout the district for conservation purposes. According to LENRD Assistant General Manager, Ken Berney, "The conservation tree program is an important part of the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District's commitment to conservation and land stewardship. Through this and other programs we work with landowners to promote the wise use of our
