Council discusses activity center

Members of the Wayne City Council listened to a proposal on the site and type of building for the Community Activity Center during Tuesday's meeting.

Jeff Morlok of Otte Construction, project manager, told the council that the cost of the new facility would now be approximately $4,212,000, up from the original estimate of $3.7 million proposed by the Community Activity Center com-

The additional revenue is necessary for two reasons — the first being additional costs for site preparation and approximately $244,000 in building upgrades. The upgrade will make the center a YMCA type facility instead of using a metal sided build-

Hazardous conditions

The weather in Wayne during the past week has left many longing for spring. More than eight inches of fluffy white snow fell on the area Monday and Tuesday, causing numerous cancellations and many vehicles, such as the one above, to become stuck. Road crews have been working around the clock to open roads and make travel possible. Drivers are urged to use caution when driving on area streets and highways, especially when following snow removal equipment.

Wayne Police department kept busy

Wayne Police Chief Lance Webster reports that the police department has been busy working with accidents. In December, officers investigated 28 accidents and have investigated 14 so far in January. There vere two injury accidents in Wayne last week

Wayne and Mark Lewon, age 43 of Wayne were involved in an accident at 4th and Logan. Lewon's car was going north when he was struck by Sperry's car that was going east.

Pucker up!

Brendan Dorcey, a teacher at Wayne High School, was the "lucky" winner last week in a Kiss the Pig contest sponsored by the Wayne High School Future Business Leaders of America. Dorcey received the most money and was therefore allowed to kiss the pig owned by Tim Hansen. Other contestants included John Murtaugh, Brad Weber, Duane Blomenkamp, Doris Meyer and Miss Hefner. Money raised from the event goes to Mothers Against Drunk Driving.

Humphrey and Connie White, 42, of rural Wayne were involved in an accithe 100 block of E 2nd Street. White was going west on 2nd Street when Heensacker backed out of a parking stall. A passenger in White's car was treated and released from Providence Medical Center

(PMC) On Jan. 26, Stephanie Irwin, age 19 of Wayne and Tiffanie Wade, age 27 of Centerville, SD, were involved in an accident at 7th and Windom Streets Irwin was going south on Windom and was unable to stop at 7th Street due to icy conditions. She slid into Wade's westbound semi truck. Irwin was taken by ambulance to PMC where she was treated and

Some of the accidents have been weather related, due to poor visibility or icy street conditions but the majority have been caused by simple driver error.

"Drivers need to realize that their stopping distances on snow and ice are much longer so they need to drive a little slower and anticipate the actions of other drivers further in advance. People also need to clean the snow off of their cars, including headlights and taillights," Webster Snow and ice covering or obscuring the lights and windows can both reduce a drivers vision and reduce their visibility.

These are simple driving safety problems that people often don't think about that could lead to acci-

Senior Center hosts an afternoon of elegance

The Wayne Senior Center hosted their first Victorian Style Show on Jan. 25. Over 125 guests attended and 38 models were present.

According to Tracy Keating, Wayne Senior Center Coordinator, the style show was used as an attraction to promote the Senior Center. Clothes and jewelry for the Victorian Style Show were collected from the Wayne Community Theatre, Little Red Hen Theatre, Antiques on Main, Marge Porter, Marge Armstrong, Leona Magnuson, Opal Wriedt, Helen Weible, Kathy Berry, Genevieve Carmichael, Margarite Janke, and Zita Jenkins. Keating notes that thanks goes out to every one who attended or helped in any way. "The vintage clothing consisted of high necklines, beautiful lace, and long flowing skirts," Keating said. "Each model's outfit was completed with victorian jewelry, hats, and shawls. I chose a victorian style show as a special event because I felt it would be of great interest to the senior population."

Keating says the show was rewarding to organize; especially the laughing and sharing of memories and heirlooms.

Relay for Life kick-off event set for Feb. 27

The Relay For Life kick-off celebration "Millennium Magic" will be held Tuesday, Feb. 27 at 5:30 p.m. at Riley's in Wayne.

The purpose of the kick-off is to let businesses and individuals know more about the Relay For Life event planned for Friday, June 8 and Saturday, June 9 from 6 p.m. to 6 a.m. on the Wayne State College

On these dates, teams of walkers and runners from northeast Nebraska will take part in an around the clock event in the battle against cancer. Sponsors and teams are encouraged to register to participate in the 12-hour relay against cancer event.

The kick-off will last around an hour. Snacks will be served and door prizes will be awarded. An American Cancer Society representative will present a short program. The local planning committee and some of articipants will on hand to answe in cestions.

If you would like to get a team together, become a corporate sponsor, have any questions or can volunteer in any way, come to the Wayne Relay For Life kick-off. Those interested in walking and being part of a team can call Coleen Jeffries at 375-3729 or 375-4476.

In a nation where more than one million people will be diagnosed with cancer this year, the community in and around Wayne is invited to celebrate life.

The American Cancer Society's Relay for Life is a unique fundraising event in which teams of participants take turns walking or running the track for hours in an effort to fight cancer. Teams camp out, eat, and play games.

The message of the event is cancer can be conquered. This theme of hope is ignited as the ceremony begins with a cancer survivors' lap This emotional lap honors the courage of all who have defeated cancer. Each survivor is introduced, and then all will walk, run, or wheelhair the opening lap-uni tory and hope.

The atmosphere of Relay For Life is one of camaraderie and celebration, providing for cancer survivors to pass the torch of hope on to those still battling cancer or those that might be touched by cancer in

EXPERT ANSWERS TO TAXING QUESTIONS

How long am I required to keep old tax records?

Receipts, cancelled checks, interest statements and any other record that document income of a deduction shown on your tax return should be kept until the period of limitations for what return expires. This is usually three years from the date the return was due or filed, or two years from the time the tax was paid, whichever is later. However, there s not period of limitations when no return is filed or fraud is involved. If you are an employer, you must retain employment tax records for at lease four years.

Let us help you with your tax concerns.

Warning Sirens are explained

The City of Wayne has an emergency alert system to warn residents potential environmental emergencies and to help notify the members of the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department of a fire or car accident.

The City of Wayne provides an emergency management system 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

The emergency management system has several components. The entire system starts with the dispatcher on duty at the Wayne Police Department. In the event of an emergency, the dispatcher pages fire and rescue members, notifies Providence Medical Center of the need for an ambulance and will operate the siren systems when needed. The dispatcher also has the ability to interrupt the cable TV sigand give brief emergency notices over the TV.

The City of Wayne uses three siren tones each with a different meaning. The Fire Siren sounds for up to three minutes and is a continuous high-low sound. The fire siren is used between the hours of 6 a.m. and 10 p.m. to notify firemen of a call. Even though the members of the fire department carry pagers.

The Attack Siren blows with a wavering tone for three minutes. This siren is a vestige of the old Civil Defense era and is used when an actual nuclear attack against the United States in underway. The most important siren for Wayne citizens to recognize is the Tornado Alert Siren. This siren will blow a steady tone for three minutes. The siren is blown only when a Tornado Warning is issued. If the siren is blown, it means Wayne is in eminent danger from a tornado or other natural disaster. This siren can also be used to warn of Hazardous Material incidents or any other situation that may case a direct threat to the life and property of the community.

The siren systems are tested between 10 and 1 a.m. on the first Monday of every month. These tests consist of the dispatcher activating one of the siren tones for a brief period of time. Each individual siren is tested

"We use six sirens located in vari ous areas throughout the city. These sirens are placed to give audible coverage throughout the community," Chief Lance Webster said.

Snow removal policies discussed

Wayne Police Chief Lance Webster said his officers will be following sidewalk snow removal policies beginning this week.

The Wayne City Council gave final approval to an amendment to City Ordinance 70-44 that better defines when a property owner must have his or her sidewalk cleaned of snow or ice and will allow the City to bill property owners for the cleaning of sidewalks should the City have to clean the walks.

The amended ordinance says that all property owners must clean their sidewalks within 24 hours of the City of Wayne Public Works Department cleaning the streets or roads adjacent to the property. This week, for example, all sidewalks should be cleaned by 5 p.m. on Thursday.

The police department will begin contacting tenants and/ or property owners on Friday, Feb. 2 where walks have not been properly

Chief Webster said the police department has, in the past, generally handled uncleared sidewalks on a complaint-driven basis. While he still encourages people to call about uncleared sidewalks in their neighborhoods, the new policy will have officers going out posting notices that the sidewalks need to be cleared.

Webster said that if, after proper notice is given, a sidewalk remains uncleared, citations will be issued. He stressed that he would much rather see voluntary compliance than having officers write a bunch of citations.

In the event that a property owner does not clear their sidewalks after notice, the City will cause the sidewalk to be cleared and bill the property owner for the expense

The biggest problem we face is getting the out-of-town property owners to come into compliance, Webster said. His staff will be working closely with the utility billing clerks so property owners can be contacted in a timely manner if the

Main Street Focus

By Leo Ahmann

Welcome to "Focus and Scope," a new bi-weekly report from the Main Street Wayne Program: What is the Main Street Program? Nebraska is one of 43 states that have Main Street Programs. Wayne is one of 14 cities in Nebraska that is a full time member of the Nebraska Lied Main Program whose offices are in

The Lied Program provides technical assistance, sponsors workshops and conferences and publishes training materials. They set parameters that we "focus" on (in Wayne, it's from Highway 35 south to Zachs and from Pearl to Logan Streets). Our "scope" however is all of Wayne. Our Program is a comprehensive process. Improving economic management, strengthening public participation, and making downtown a fun place to shop are as critical to the Main Street Program's future, as recruiting new businesses and rehabilitating buildings.

The Nebraska Lied Program does not provide financial assistance to the member cities. Therefore, the Main Street Wayne Program depends upon the "Friends of Main" Street." The "Friends" are people that have made monetary contributions or in-kind donations of goods, services and time to our Program The list includes private individuals retailers, service oriented businesses from downtown as well as those not located downtown.

The Main Street approach has earned recognition throughout the United States. Four elements (committees, if you will) are combined to create the program: organization, design, promotion, and economic restructuring. (In following weeks, I will go into detail about these committees).

An insert in the Jan. 15 edition of the Wayne Herald/Morning Shopper, contained a Consumer Survey that we are asking people to complete and return to us. If you did not receive a copy and would like to complete one, stop by our office at 208 N. Main and pick one We would appreciate your thoughts, views, and opinions.

"Friends of Main Street," should have received a letter and stamped, self-addressed postcard asking them to rate what they consider the projects/issues that Main Street should address. Please complete and return it to our office. We value your input, because it is your program. "Friends of Main Street" should have also received, under separate cover, a voting ballot for the election of new officers for the Main Street Board. There are six names on the ballot and a write-in option. Please vote for three officer candidates. Ballots need to be returned to our office by Feb. 9. The Main Street Wayne Program will be holding its annual meeting on Tuesday, Feb. 13 at 7 a.m. At that time, the new officers will be introduced

Let me throw another date at you....Friday, Feb. 9 at 10 a.m. Chamber Coffee, Main Street Office. At that time we will present. The "Main Street Wayne-Mary Burt Memorial-Coffee Cup Award" to the (year) 2000 winner. The award is given annually by Main Street Wayne to a Wayne merchant. The award acknowledges the contribu-tion of Wayne merchants, and honors the late Mary Burt for her contributions to Main Street

If you have questions or concerns about Main Street, call 375-5062, write Box 43, e-mail:mainstretwayne@midlands.net or stop by the Office at 208 N. Main. Next time... the committees, what's been done, and a look forward

Nominations sought for pioneer farms

Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben Foundation and the Nebraska Association of Fair Managers has announced that nominations for the 46th annual Nebraska Pioneer Farm Awards are being accepted.

The program honors farm families in Nebraska whose land has been owned by members of the same family for over 100 years or more.

To date, over 6,000 families from Nebraska counties have been honored at various county fairs. Each honoree receives an engraved plaque and gatepost marker as permanent recognition of this mile-

Nomination forms can be obtained from the local County Fair Board Office or by writing the Ak-Sar-Ben Pioneer Farm Awards, 6800 Mercy Road, Suite #206, Omaha, Neb. 68106 or visiting the website at www.aksarben.org The county fair board office in which the land is found must receive all nominations no later than May 1, 2001

A standard element of American humor has to do with poking fun at government, at all levels, when it forms a committee and/or orders up a study

Of course, any analysis is only as good as the information that goes into it. You know the old rule: if it was garbage that went in, it will be garbage that comes out.

And then there is another reality. The fact is that when the folk don't like a particular projection or warning that stems from a study, the folk tend to denigrate it and then ignore

A quarter of a century ago (when environmentalists on the Great Plains were not uncommonly suspected of being Commies) there were those in the agricultural sector who scoffed at all manner of warnings based on all manner of studies. The former had to do with what herbicides and pesticides and pretty much unregulated dumping on agricultural land could do, and was doing, to water supplies.

There was also the matter of what, years ago, was referred to as "land use planning," otherwise known as zoning regulations. The folk in Upstream or Outstate (take your pick) Nebraska didn't want to hear about it, let alone see anything put into law that would limit what a person could do with their real estate. And as for warnings about zoning representing a way for a community to protect itself, especially in rural areas, was generally

From this perch, it seems altogether reasonable to wonder when we will see the first study that begins to promote rural Nebraska as one great big, comparatively crime free, under-appreciated and underdeveloped area, just waiting to be transformed in affordable retirement communities.

Think that's funny? Just wait.

Sen. Engel gives legislative update

Greetings! The Legislature is in its fifth week of session. We are busy with floor debate, committee hearings and briefings right now.

I want to extend my congratulations to a group in our district. The Walthill group Launching Nebraska Value-Added Cooperatives received a grant for $73,375 from the Governor last week. Funding for the grants was made possible through the Nebraska Agriculture Opportunities and Value-Added Partnership Act, legislation I sup ported that passed last session.

The program provides $1 million dollars for grants each year through 2003. Grant money is used to support projects in research, market development, training, cooperative development and other valueadded efforts. The Walthill program was one of 10 recipients of the grants, from a total pool of 30 applications. Congratulations and thank you for making our district proud!

As you may know, many bills addressing teacher salaries have been introduced this session LB 305 encompasses all of the recommendations of the Teacher Salary Task Force, while several other bills provide different avenues for improving teacher pay. Several different methods of raising revenue to fund pay increases have also beein troduced. The Revenue Committee and the Education Committee will be busy hearing many of the this week, including LB 305. I will be following the discussion closely the change is a clarification to existing law and that voting for it would not remove English as the state's official language. The amendment was advanced from the first round of consideration on a 35-8 vote. If passed by the Legislature, the issue will be put to voters again in the 2002 general election.

A bill requiring more training for full-time child-care providers was advanced b. - - Health and Human Services Corporatee. Legislative Bill 400, introduced by Sen. Pam Brown of Omaha, would require full-time child-care providers to obtain 22 hours of training each year, instead of the present requirement of 12 hours. It also would establish a three-tiered rating system for childcare homes and providers to let parents know the quality of their A similar bill was introduced last year, but did not pass.

We voted to advance a bill extending incentive payments for schools that consolidate, merge or incentives are scheduled to expire this year The bill (LB 313) also increases the money for incentive payments to $5 million through the 2004-05 fiscal year. About twenty-six such mergers are being considered across the state.

Transportation Telecommunications Committee held a hearing on LB 165, which would prohibit solicitors from asking for payments from people in order to find out if they have won a prize. Such payments are often described as contributions or processing fees. Sen. Doug Kristensen of Minden introduced the bill.

Another busy week! I will continue to keep you updated. In the meantime, if you have any comments or questions about any matter pending in the Legislature, please do not hesitate to contact me at my office: Senator Pat Engel, District #17, Box 94604, State Capitol, Lincoln, NE 68509; 402.471.2716 or e-mail lengel@uni-

WSC gals move into third place after weekend sweep

women's basketball team took care of business at home last weekend, earning wins over Minnesota-Morris and Northern State to up the season record to 13-5 while improving the NSIC mark to 8-3:

The Wildcats drilled Morris, 87-57 before edging Northern State, 71-69 on Saturday.

In Friday's tilt the Wildcats sprinted to a 13-2 lead over the first six minutes and never looked back as they led 40-25 at the half.

WSC out-scored the Cougars by 15 in the second half as well for the 30-point win. It was a good night for a trio of

'Cats as senior Krista Bernadt etched her name in the record books as the all-time three-point leader in WSC

Bernadt drained her 182nd three-pointer to break the record. She added one more on Saturday as the tally climbed to 183

She was one of four players to score in double figures with Karen Hochstein notching a double-double (her sixth of the season) with 22 points and 11 boards.

Sara Miller posted her first career double-double at Wayne State with 12 points and a career-high 10 assists. Christi Williams tossed in 13 points and Bernadt scored 11.

"We got some quality performances and accomplished what we wanted in the way of executing our game plan and staying competitive within ourselves despite the score, Williams said. "I liked our balance on offense."

The 'Cats dominated the boards, 46-26. About the only stat that didn't appear positive was free throw shooting where WSC was just 7-18.

SATURDAY'S GAME with

Northern State was tightly contested throughout as the visiting Wolves jumped out to an 11 point lead in the first half only to have the 'Cats respond with a run of their own, to lead 42-35 at the break.

"I thought early on that Northern did a good job of taking advantage of some mis-matches," Williams said. "They ran a lot of different sets at us. When we switched our defense to a zone I felt we threw them off a little bit."

The Wayne State mentor was pleased with the way his team answered each of Northern's runs.

"We got up by nine in the second half and then we went on a four or five minute stretch where we didn't get many good looks," Williams said. "One thing that remained constant throughout the game however, was our defensive intensity."

The 'Cats, winners of six straight games, were led by Karen Hochstein as she notched her seventh, double-double of the season with 20 points and 15 rebounds.

Sara Miller led all scorers with 23 points with six, three-pointers. "Sara is on a roll right now," Williams said. "She hit some really big shots for us, shots that were team went 1-1 in Northern Sun Conference action last weekend as the 'Cats downed Minnesota-Morris, 91-65 before falling to Northern State, 75-70.

Rico Burkett's squad fell to 8-12 on the season and 7-4 in NSIC play. WSC remained in third place in the NSIC standings but the 'Cats now share that position with Minnesota-Duluth. Southwest State is currently first and Winona State, second.

In last Friday's game with Morris the 'Cats cruised to a 37-16 lead late in the first half before settling for a 43-31 halftime cushion.

The lead never fell below double digits in the second half as WSC opened up a 24-point cushion at 74-50 with 8:55 remaining before

"Brad Joens really sparked our run early," coach Rico Burkett said. "He some clutch shots, Jason Herlitzke had a solid second half and overall, I felt our bench contributed very nicely.

Burkett also singled out the play of freshman Todd Klostermann who notched his first career double-double with 13 points and 12 rebounds. Tim Gesell also grabbed the spotlight with nine points and nine rebounds.

Joens led WSC with 21 points including four, three-pointers while Herlitzke poured in 16. Kevin Lingenfelter was also in double figures with 11 points.

WSC won the boards battle, 51-

SATURDAY'S GAME WITH Northern State left a sour taste in the mouths of Wildcat fans as the Wolves escaped with a 75-70 win. The visitors led 41-38 at the half but WSC quickly erased that deficit in the second half as they built a five-point lead of their own

"We took control early in the second half but we hit a spell where we connected on just one possession in 12 and Northern Stace regained the lead and built it to nine," Burkett said. "The closest we got after that was three with 12 seconds left but we just simply ran out of time.

Nathan Mulder paced WSC with 19 points while Brad Joens poured in 17 and Jason Herlitzke, 12, WSC did edge the Wolves on the boards, hauling down eight caroms each.

Rocky Ruhl cracks the 100-win barrier; McLagan pours in 29 as Wayne boys blast West Point

Wayne boys basketball coach Rocky Ruhl watched his Blue Devils shake off a stubborn West Point team last Saturday night with a 55-36 victory.

The win left Wayne at 9-5 on the season and for Ruhl—a milestone as he cracked the 100-win plateau.

The Ruhl era began in 1993 with Rocky winning his first career game, 47-46 over Battle Creek

Wayne trailed the Cadets, 7-6 after one quarter of play but the Blue Devils used a 13-5 scoring advantage in the second quarter for a 19-12 lead.

Wayne continued its surge in the third quarter with a 22-12 run for an insurmountable 41-24 lead. "Our defense played well in this typical Wayne-West Point battle," Ruhl said. "I thought we did a much better job of executing our offense in the second half."

Eric McLagan led the winners with a double-double, scoring 19 points and hauling down 10 rebounds

Brad Hochstein added 10 points and dished out a season-high seven assists. Jeff Pippitt tossed in five points and Ben Meyer tallied four while Trevor Wright scored three Ethan Mann and Craig Olson added two each

Hypothermia (Part Two)

Hypothermia is defined as an abnormally low body temperature. The symptoms may appear so gradually that those around him or her or the person himself might not realize what is happening. The person may be slow, clumsy, shiver, slur words, and then feel lethargic. According to one study, nearly half of all body heat is lost through an uncovered head. When outside dress in layers. Keep your head covered. A person with even a mild case of hypothermia should seek emergency medical help.

Bruhn also placed fourth in the 600 meter run in a time of 1:26.95. Freshman Eric Havranek placed fourth in the triple jump with a mark of 42 feet 9 inches. He also placed fifth in the long jump with a mark of 20 feet 7 fourth in the long jump with a mark of 20 feet 8 _ inches. He also placed in the 400 meter dash with a time of 53.61. Sophomore Dana Rider placed fifth in the 5,000 meter run in a time of 16:36.13. Junior Jason Kneifl placed sixth in the high jump with a mark of 6 feet 2 inches

"Matt ran a very good race today, and accomplished one of his goals by getting a provisional national qualifying mark. His form is looking good and he is running as well as any hurdler in NCAA Division II right now. It was also a nice honor for him to be recognized as the Male Athlete of the Meet. He is definitely one of the hardest workers on the team, so it is nice to see him rewarded for those efforts."

"Antonio had a great opening meet. He nearly equaled his season best mark of last year. I think we will continue to see improvements in his marks as he is a much stronger athlete than he was last year."

"loe DeMilt looked good in the pole vault on three attempts at 14 feet 1 inch which would have been a school record. I think he has an excellent shot at getting over 14 feet very soon." "April Sachau set a personal best by over 24 seconds, a terrific race for her. She is gaining confidence in her abilities each week." "Tracie Fehringer got off a decent throw. She should continue to improve as her technique gets better in competitive situations."

"Overall, we had a very good meet. Our athletes competed well in every event we were entered in. We had a few athletes that didn't compete due to injury or illness. Hopefully, we can be back to one hundered percent health for the next meet to be quick and easy don't need to sacrifice nutrition for convenience. TV dinners and boxed food makes meal preparation easier, but they're often costly and high in fat and sodium. Speed-scratch cooking -- a combination of home-cooking and carry- out meals -- is a outritious way to save time and money without sacrificing nutritional value

Wanda Koszewski, Extension Nutrition Specialist, shared some hints to on "speed-scratch cooking Stock up on versatile foods and use these economical, time-saving tips to make meals with fewer calories

-- Cook when it's convenient and make meals go the extra mile. Serve hot-cooked pasta at one meal, then mix leftovers with salad dressing and vegetables to make a pasta salad for another meal. Try cooking large quantities of ground beef and freezing leftovers for future use.

-- Buy healthy convenience foods and stock the refrigerator with staple items. Keep pre- cut vegetables, salad mixes and pre-cut meats on hand to speed preparation time Stock the pantry with canned fruits, vegetables, pasta and rice, and fill the refrigerator or freezer with milk,

The student rotations are part of the UNMC Rural Health Education Network (RHEN), an innovative program developed to help address the shortage of health care professionals in rural Nebraska.

The students represent the colleges of dentistry, medicine, nursing and the School of Allied Health

The purpose of RHEN is to change how and where primary care students at UNMC are educated. RHEN was developed to expose students to a rural health setting with the idea that if students receive their training in a rural area, the chances are much greater that they will return to a rural area once they complete their training.

MUSIC BOOSTERS

The Music Boosters, in conjunction with the school music department, are busy planning a number of special events during the second semester. The annual music trip for students has been reformatted and the events are to raise funds for the

In the past, the music trip has been an annual, mostly recreational trip only for seniors. Beginning in 2001, it will be an educational, biannual trip for eligible students in grades 9-12.

Both the band and choir will per form during the trip and possible attend workshops and/or clinics. This year the destination is Minneapolis and the scheduled days are May 11, 12.

This year, in conjunction with the Community Calendar, there is a companion pocket calendar/plan-These planners are imprinted with the same activity dates and birthdays as the familiar wall calen-

Students are conducting door-todoor sales of the pocket calendar which sells for $5. The calendars will also be for sale at from music booster officers. If interested, contact Renee Bartels at 287-2708

The music groups are seeking donations of old jeans to be used in construction of a denim quilt to be raffled. Volunteers are also needed to assist with the quilt construction.

There will be a lasagna dinner in conjunction with the band and choir concert on Saturday, March 17. Tickets for the event will go on sale in February.

The boosters also remind people that they are still accepting items at the clothing drop box on the east third street lot near the water tower In addition to clothing, curtains and leather goods, shoes and purses are being accepted.

PRESIDENTIAL SCHOLARS PROGRAM Josh Henderson, who is scheduled to graduate from Wakefield High School in May has been named one of more than 2.600 candidates in the 2001 Presidential Scholars Program. The candidates were selected from nearly 2.8 million students expected to graduate from U.S. high schools in the year 2001.

Josh is the son of Marcia and Tom Henderson.

Now in its 38th year, inclusion in the Presidential scholarship Program is one of the highest honors bestowed upon graduating high school seniors. Scholars are selected on the basis of superior academic and artistic achievements, leadership qualities, strong character and involvement in community and school activities.

The candidates were selected for their exceptional performance on the college Board SAT or the ACT assessment. Further consideration is based on students' essays, self-assessments, descriptions of activities, school recommendations and school transcripts. A distinguished panel of educators will review these submissions and select 500 semifinalists in early April.

The White House Commission on Presidential scholars, a group of some 30 eminent citizens appointed the President, will make final selection of the scholars. They will select one young man and one young woman from each state, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and U.S. students living aboard; up to 20 students from the creative and performing arts, and 15 students at large. The U.S. Department of education will announce the scholars in

Scholars will be invited to Washington, DC for several days in June to receive the Presidential

Scholars medallion at a recognition ceremony and to participate in activities with their selected representatives, educators, and others in

Disaster loans available from SBA for Wayne, Dixon, and Cedar counties

Because of drought and excessive heat that occurred from July 1, 1999 and continuing, Wayne, Dixon, and Cedar counties are among many in Nebraska, South Dakota, and Wyoming that are eligible to apply for low interest Economic Injury Disaster Loans from the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA). These loans are available to help businesses meet normal operating expenses that cannot be met due to the effects of a disaster. Adverse weather conditions, caused many farmers and ranchers to experience reduced incomes which may have had an adverse economic effect on businesses depending upon these producers.

Farmers and ranchers are not eligible for this loan program but may be eligible for disaster assistance through other Federal agencies. However, nurseries that are victims of drought disasters can apply.

To obtain an application or receive additional information, interested business owners may call the SBA toll free at 1-800-366-6303 to TDD 817-267-4688 for the hearing impaired. The deadline for filing an application is Sept. 11, 2001.

Due to the weather, many producers experienced crop losses and were not able to purchase goods and services at normal levels. Businesses that are dependent upon these producers may have experienced decreased sales, reduced gross profit margins, increased accounts receivable or difficulty in moving inventories at normal levels.

The loan can help a business meet installments on long-term debt, accounts payable and overhead expenses that would have been met had the disaster not occurred. Refinancing of long-term debt, however, is not eligible under this program. The loan is designed for those businesses with substantial disaster-related needs and is intended to supplement monies the business owner can provide from other sources.

Loans may be approved for up to $1,500,000 for actual disaster-related financial needs of the business. Interest rates are four percent (4%) and terms may extend to thirty (30) years, depending upon the repayment ability of the individual applicant. To qualify, businesses must be Businesses which can meet their financial needs through other sources are not eligible.

Soybean seed affected by hot, dry weather

Lots of heat-and little water last summer means this year's soybean seeds are small in size, lower in qual ity and short in supply. Farmers switching acreage from corn to soybeans, which require significantly less nitrogen, to avoid skyrocketing fertilizer prices could exacerbate the situation

"Last year's hot, dry weather was devastating to dryland soybeans, which is the majority of soybeans planted in Nebraska," said Steve Knox, field services supervisor for the Nebraska Crop Improvement Association, based at the University of Nebraska.

The quality of soybean seed is measured by the germination percentage, or the number of seeds per 100 that are viable. Most years, samples sent for testing by NCIA members have germination rates above 90 percent, with 80 percent being the standard. This year the average germination has been 70 percent to 75 percent, the lowest in 20 years, Knox noted.

"We have seen a huge range of germination percentages this year, from above 90 percent to as low as 30 percent," he said. "There are some good seed lots out there, but there is also some seed that will have to be discarded."

Hot, dry weather also produced seeds that are smaller than average. During normal seed cleaning, which is designed to remove the smallest and poorest quality seeds from the mix, a greater number of seeds will be lost this year.

"When you have smaller seeds, a greater number will fall out during cleaning," said Gary Cross, founda tion seed manager for NU's Institute Agriculture and Natural Resources. "This year we are seeing 25 percent to 30 percent cleanout compared to around 10 percent most years."

Poor germination percentages and increased cleanout means that Nebraska farmers should expect to find shortages when purchasing soybean seed for this season. Many seed sources already are sold out or over-booked and the seed that is available ma ailable mages of be top quality.

"We have about half of the soybean seed that we planned to have available for sale this year," said Ken Anderson, a marketing manager with NC+ Hybrids. "We have lowered our germination standard from

90 percent to 85 percent to increase supplies and we are still short. Some other companies have even lowered the standards to 75 percent or

Prices are high and supplies are short this year for anhydrous ammonia, the most common nitrogen fertilizer for corn. That has some farmers looking to switch some of their acres from nitrogen-needy corn to soybeans, which demand less fertil-

"I have heard from some farmers who are going to switch some of their acres from corn to soybeans. With soybean seed supplies already short, more demand for soybeans will make the situation even worse, said Len Nelson, an NU crop variety and seed production specialist. "Farmers who decide to plant more soybeans may find that they don't have as many options in terms of variety or even quality. There will be some limitations to switching.

Farmers considering planting more soybeans now should also consider the impact of oversupply on market prices in the future.

"If this situation also results in an oversupply of soybeans at harvest, it will certainly bring the price down, Nelson said.

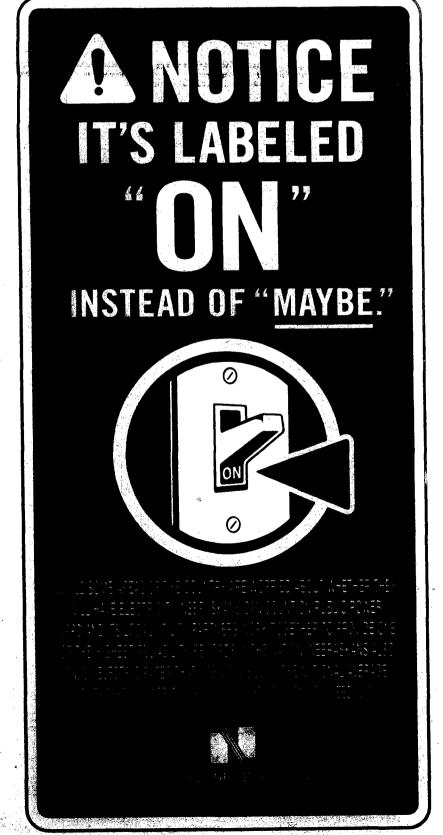

Nearby states such as lowa, Missouri and Illinois that normally might have soybean supplies suitable for use in Nebraska are in the same situation. Cross said. He also warned against looking to warmer, southern states for soybean sup-plies, because those soybean varimature faster and may not work well in Nebraska's longer cold season in spring

Farmers need to talk with their seed suppliers as soon as possible and find out what is available. While the popular Roundup Ready beans may be sold out, conventional and STS varieties still may be available and are good options for Nebraska farmers, Knox said.

'You will also need to adjust your planting rate to account for smaller seeds and smaller germination per-centages," he said. "There are printed materials available as resources for calculating planting rates, and you can talk to local Cooperative Extension educators about adjusting these rates, too.

A planting rate of 150,000 live

Farmers and ranchers are eligible to apply for conservation work funds

Farmers and ranchers have until Friday, Feb. 16, 2001 to sign up for over 4.2 million in Environmental Quality Incentives Program (EQIP) funds at their local USDA service center, according to a local official.

Steve Chick, State Conservationist with the Natural Resources Conservation Service said, "This is an annual program so people could have been signing up all along. This Feb. 16 cutoff will allow enough time to work with individuals to identify the conservation work to be doile arid estimate the costs." All we need now is a signature to know they are interested in funding assistance," he said.

These funds are used for grazing land improvements and soil and water conservation practices.

NRCS will work with individuals who sign up for this program through the end of April. In May, all the applications will be ranked and those that will return the best environmental benefits for the least cost will receive funding. Last year, over 370 contracts were awarded.

There are two categories of funding. One category is for priority areas and the other is for people not in a priority area. Over $2.7 million of the funds are directed at 19 priority areas across the state. The remaining nearly $1.5 million will be for individuals not in a priority area.

"There are 19 priority areas and six of those are new this year," said Chick. The six new projects are Cunningham Lake Water Quality area near Omaha; Middle Republican Irrigation Water Management area in Hayes, Frontier, Red Willow and Hitchcock counties; the Bruning/ Highland Water Quality area in the corner of Thayer, Filmore and Jefferson counties; the Upper Republican Sandhills area in parts of Perkins, Chase and Dundy counties; Weeping Water Creek-South Branch Erosion Control area in parts of Cass and Otoe counties and the Dakota-NE Eroded Tableland area in parts of Cherry and Keya Paha counties.

The Environmental Quality Incentives Program, created in the 1996 Farm Bill, provides technical, financial and educational assistance for natural resource needs. Fifty percent of the dollars are targeted to livestock related problems like grazing distribution or manure management with the remainder aimed at more general conservation practices like terraces, grassed waterways or pest management.

The program allows for 5 to 10year contracts that provide incentive payments and cost share dollars, up to 75 percent, for these practices Contracts have a $50,000 maximum limit.

Funding for EQIP comes from USD's Commodity Credit Corporation, which funds several other conservation programs. The Nebraska Environmental Trust Fundis also contributing $400,000 to this program, which is included in the $4.2 million total available seeds per acre works well for soybeans in Nebraska, said Jim Specht, an NU crop scientist. This leaves a margin of error for plants damaged by pests, bad weather and other variables.

"At harvest, you want to have 100,000 mature plants per acre, so the margin of error is very important since not all of the plants will make it that far," he said. "It is also important to note that the germination percentage shown on the bag is from a warm germination test, not a cold stress test, so it may be a high estimate of the number of seeds that will germinate in cooler field conditions."

To find the correct planting rate, Specht said, divide the desired number of live seeds per acre by the decimal equivalent of the germination percentage. For example, for seed that has 75 percent germination, divide 150,000 by 75 For 150,000 live seeds per acre with this seed, farmers would need to plant 200,000 seeds per acre.

The good fiews about poor quality soybeans is that the shortage is less likely to drive up seed prices this year, Knox said

"You shouldn't charge a high price for a lower quality product," he said. "But sometimes supply and demand does funny things to the market, so it's difficult to tell what will happen at this point."

At the Farm House

'Family style' observed

The first time I heard the word "presentation" in connection with the way a dish is served, we were at a B & B in Walnut, lowa. The owner was describing a local restaurant by reporting, "The presentation is okay, but the food lacks a bit." We later ate there, and thought the food was fine. I guess the presentation was, too.

On the farm, food is "presented" in serving bowls and passed around the table. Even when pie is "dished up" on individual dishes, we worry more about the serving size than how it looks on the plate.

In the Farm House, we have continued the same process. Breakfast dishes are placed on the table, and guests served from them. I believe it's known as "family style."

But I have been observing presentation. When I order cheese cake in certain restaurants, it arrives on a large plate with chocolate sauce or raspberry jam swirled beside the cake.

Last year, an old friend called about the possibility of a group of her husband's colleagues and their wives eating here while they were at Mahoney Park. I advised her that the best way for me to do that would be to ask our local caterer to bring her wares here

Annette has such a busy catering service she has built a separate kitchen from her home, complete with walk-in refrigerators and stainless steel stoves. She gave me her sample menus and I mailed them to my friend ,They chose menu #3-chilled sangria soup, fresh greens with raspberry vinaigrette, Italian chicken, parmesan potatoes, stearned vegetables and one of her famous desserts

I set a pretty table, Annette arrived in her van with the food in heated transporters, and the guests drove across the river to partake. I learned a lot about presentation that night. My good silver, which is flatware, doesn't even have salad forks. (I do have some now). So we had to wash in between servings. It was all lovely, but I had to scurry.

But, when they left, I said to Mike, "You know, they are all farmers. I have a feeling they would just as soon have had meat loaf and mashed potatoes, family style

Therefore, when another group called to ask for a pre-Christmas meal, I gave them some choices. They did, indeed, choose ham loaf and scalloped potatoes; and it was much easier for me.

When we attended the Mannheim Steamroller concert last month, we decided to eat at the Doubletree Hotel so we could park early. First, we waited to be seated. Then, we waited to have our order taken. Finally, we really waited to be served. Mike had an absolutely huge hambutger, and I had a pasta dish. Both were elegantly presented when they arrived.

But we paid for the privilege of eating in the lovely drining room just a block from the auditorium. And I think we would have been just as comfortable at Country Buffet
I watched a chef from Austin

I watched a chef from Austin doing a dish on the "Today Show" yesterday. There was lots of presentation. I guess it's whatever we are willing to pay for Meanwhile, we will continue to serve country style at the Farm House. It's our style, and there's no need to change it.

Wayne Dental Clinic is now using new x-ray technology

advanced digital x-ray technology used by elite medical institutions. This is the first digital dental xray in northeast Nebraska.

"It's a major investment for our dental practice," reports Dr. Stephen Becker. "This new technology allows us to look at x-rays in ways that were impossible before.

stand our patient's needs more accurately."

This new computer-based technology uses storage phospher imaging. It's called the "DenOptixTM Digital Imaging System" and was developed by DENTSPLY-Gendex, a firm known and respected by dental

The DenOptixTM System makes taking dental x-rays "faster and more comfortable for patients," Dr. Becker explains.

Dr. Becker and his associates are now able to enlarge, colorize, emboss, measure, control brightness and contrast, and sharpen images-techniques that make x-rays more informative to the trained pro-

Wayne Taco Bell recognized

Taco Bell Express at Wayne State College was recently recognized nationally for finishing second in the nation in Taco Bell's Golden Bell Champions 2000 program. More than 1,000 Express units participated in the company's national pro-

"Golden Bell Champions 2000 is recognition vehicle CHAMPS, the international initiative that focuses on and measures performance in critical operational areas," said John Sinniger, RGM (restaurant general manager) and WSC's Director of Dining Service. "CHAMPS effort is to focus on and measure performance in six opera tional areas: cleanliness, hospitality, accuracy, maintenance, product quality and speed of service.

Each unit was scored monthly by Taco Bell mystery shoppers. Taco Bell ranks the restaurants on a month to month basis, so we knew monthly where we stood nationally," said Sinniger. "We continued to climb the ladder as the year passed On only one occasion did we score below 100 percent."

After the fiscal year was completed and the scores were tallied, WSC's Taco Bell ranked second and BEST of the BEST in the nation. "It was a tremendous accomplishment," Sinniger said. "We finished the year with an average score of 99.28 percent, only .07 percent behind first place which came in at 99.35 percent. That Taco Bell is located in Ava, Mo. WSC's Taco Bell Express is a licensee of Chartwells, Wayne State College's contracted food service.

"John and his staff are consistent in backing up the Chartwells' motto, "Setting the standard for educational dining services," said Curt Frye, WSC vice president and dean of students accomplishment.

Feverfew for Migraine Headache Fevertew (Tanacetum parthe

ninimo, was used as a fever reliever as far back as 78 AD Now this herb is used to prevent migraines by reducing the severand frequency of the headaches. Other uses include relief of menstrual pain, asthma, dermatitis, and arthritis. The active ingredient is parthenolide which inhibits the release of serotonin from the blood platelets. Parthenolide relicus inflammation by inhibiting prostaglandin synthesis and the release of arachidonic acid

Few studies have been conducted on the use of feverfew for A randomized, double-blind, placebo-controlled, crossover study of 76 patients showed a 24% reduction in the number of attacks, but no change in the duration of attacks. There was a significant reduction of nausea

In another study, migraine sufferers received either a freezedried, powdered feverfew extract of a placebo. Fewer headaches were reported each month by the individuals who received feverfew. However. headache frequency increased significantly in the group receiving the placebo.
