Business provides alternative

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Striving to provide improved nutrition, improved taste in foods and the enhancement of the state of well being, John and Linda Morris are opening Cedar Knoll Farm, a retail greenhouse next week.

The farm is located nine miles north of the intersection of Highways 15 and 35 in Wayne (County Road 865) and one and one-half miles west. From Laurel, the farm is located 6.5 miles south and one and one-half miles west.

John's son, John Morris, Jr., a graduate of Laurel-Concord High School, constructed the 30 foot by 90 foot commercial greenhouse in which the herbs, heirloom vegetables and traditional tomato plants are grown.

Linda has been a registered nurse for more than 30 years. She is a native of Lansing, Mich. and has been interested in growing things all her life and has had a 12 foot by 24 foot greenhouse for several years.

Her husband was born and raised in Los Angeles and is a retired police officer from that area.

The couple moved to Nebraska almost 10 years ago from southern California.

"I do not believe there is another greenhouse of this type in the area," Linda said.

She stressed that "she is not trying to step on doctors toes" with her business, but rather encourages everyone to consult with his or her physician before using the herbs for medicinal purposes.

Linda has received a Certificate of Nutritional Herbology from the School of Natural Healing in Springville, Utah and is studying toward her goal of Master Herbalist.

"Our main focus will be on the chemical free, commercial growing of medicinal herbs, culinary herbs, heirloom tomatoes and peppers," Linda said.

As of yet, the farm is not certified as organic (the process takes several years), but uses only organic means of growing the plants.

The majority of seeds that have been planted this spring came from an association in Iowa which specializes in collecting seeds that have been passed down for generations. The remainder of the plants came from Bluebird Nursery in Clarkson.

"We hope to increase our public's awareness of how vital plants are for their nutritional and healing aspects, ability to improve taste and pleasing fragrances," Linda added.

The retail greenhouse will open on Friday, April 27. An open house is planned at Cedar Knoll Farm on Saturday, May 5. At that time, a discount will be offered on purchases, door prizes will be awarded and at 11 a.m. a tour of the greenhouse will be given, along with a discussion of heirloom vegetables and uses of herbs.

Regular hours will be Wednesday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Other hours will be by chance or by appointment by calling (402) 584-2542.

Information about Cedar Knoll Farm is available on the internet at www.cedarknollfarm.com

The Morris' began growing plants in the new greenhouse on Feb. 5 for this year's growing season.

Global positioning system is being implemented

The City of Wayne is implementing a Global Positioning System (GPS) to facilitate locating curb stops, valves and manholes.

The Water and Wastewater Departments are locating and marking each of these items so the engineers can come along and take a GPS reading at each and every curb stop, valve and manhole in the city.

The engineers are scheduled to start taking readings on Monday, April 23. To stay ahead of the engineers, the Water and Wastewater departments have started locating the necessary points.

The blue and green flags and paint may need to be left in place for two to three weeks or until the engineers have been seen taking readings.

Members of the City Departments have asked for the cooperation and understanding of the city's residents in this matter.

Anyone with questions is asked to contact the Water and Wastewater Departments at (402) 375-5250.

Carnival benefits school

The 13th annual WEB (Wayne Elementary Boosters) Carnival will be held Saturday, April 28 at West Elementary School in Wayne.

Activities begin at 9:30 a.m. and last until noon that day.

Organized by parents of elementary students, the carnival includes a cake walk, face painting, Plinko, fish pond, duck pond, fingernail painting, golf, arcade basketball, basketball throw, car racing, ring toss, lollipop tree, balloon darts and a bean bag toss.

New to the list of activities this year will be the toilet paper toss.

Proceeds from past carnivals have been used to purchase playground equipment for the school, computer software, computer printers, ceiling fans for the classrooms, library materials and the sign in front of the elementary school.

Funds raised in 2000 were used to purchase a horizontal climbing wall that is located on the north wall of the elementary school gym.

Plans call for this year's proceeds to go toward the purchase of library materials.

For more information on the carnival, contact Laurie at 375-2415.

City attitude surveys are discussed

Approximately 30 people were on hand for a townhall meeting in Wayne on Monday.

Judi Meyer-Ogden and Renee Robison-Scheer with the Northeast Nebraska Economic Development District facilitated the meeting.

The purpose of the meeting was to continue the community's assessment process which will help prioritize the city's future goals.

Items discussed included education, community betterment, business, parks and recreation and housing.

During the meeting, the results of a recent Community Attitude Survey were released. The survey had been filled out by residents of the city, Wayne State students and Wayne High School and Junior High students.

There were a total of 775 surveys returned, 235 from city residents, 251 Wayne State students and 289 high school and junior high students.

Survey results will be used toward the application of a $350,000 grant for the meeting room and youth center portions of the Community Activity Center.

Dr. Sheila Stearns spoke during the meeting and stated that she would like to see some type of shuttle transportation for Wayne State students to the downtown area.

She also stated that Wayne State College has become known as a "suitcase college" and a large number of students leave town to work in places as far away as Omaha on the weekends.

Dick Keidel, President of the Wayne Industries, expressed a desire to keep Wayne residents in Wayne and by getting them to shop locally, the demand would be created for more retail businesses.

Winside school students will present 'Krazy Kamp' April 26

By Dianne Jaeger
Winside Correspondent

Winside High school students will perform "Krazy Kamp," a comical farce on Thursday, April 26, in the elementary school multi-purpose room with a 7:30 p.m. performance. The play is open to the public. There is a charge. "Krazy Kamp" was written by Tim Kelly.

The setting is at Camp Pocahontas, a typical summer camp for young ladies. It sits on the banks of Lake Lookeloo, and just across from Camp John Smith, a camp inhabited by a wild bunch of unruly males. When Camp John Smith fails its inspection, its director is desperate for help and a place for his boys to stay. The boys move into Camp Pocahontas and things get complicated and are never the same again.

There is a cast of 23 students and two crew members.

The four main characters are Miss Eve Hunnicutt, the college-aged capable director of Camp Pocahontas played by Crystal Jaeger; Ms. Alva Dought, the young assistant to Eve, played by Emma Burris; Adam Apple, the wheeler dealer con man who is the director of Camp John Smith, played by Eric Morris; and Adam Side Kick, played by Nathan Stevens.

Other cast members include Kayla Bowers, Katie Barg, Cassie Anderson, Nathan Staub, Angie Gnirk, Susan Witter, Stacey Gnirk, Kalynda Hokamp, Amy Rademacher, Jennie Cleveland, Adam Hoffman, Ben Lienemann, Travis Yosten, Kim Stenwall, Nathan Trautman, Nikki Stueckrath, Scott Marotz, Lindy Flee, and Samantha Deck. Stage crew members are Samantha Bussey and Katie Behmer.

Winside High School Instructor Terri Hypes is the director.

Lucky hunter

Todd Koeber, center, was the winner in this year's KTCH Easter Egg Hunt. Koeber found the 'egg,' which was actually a piece of chain, entwined on a chain at the fire hydrant at Bressler Park on Friday. With him are Lacy Bebee from KTCH and Gary Van Meter of Mines Jewelers, one of the co-sponsors of the event. Koeber received over $1,000 in prizes from Wayne merchants for finding the egg.

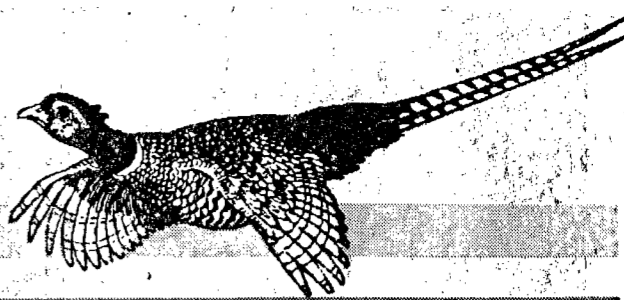

Shown are the Winside High School cast and crew of the "Krazy Kamp" play to be held April 26.

Receives Butler Scholarship

Erin Palu, a senior at Wayne High School and daughter of Valerie Palu of Wayne, has been awarded a Butler Scholarship to attend Doane College.

This award, named in memory of Hugh Butler, former United States Senator representing Nebraska and former member of Doane's Board of Trustees, is valued at $12,000 for a four-year period.

Maddy Moser was selected to take the rats home after the project was completed.

Rats teach science

Students at Wayne Middle School recently conducted an experiment. Two albino rats helped the students gain hands-on experience with research methods while helping them explore nutrition.

For five weeks the students in Ellen Imdieke's class worked to discover how much milk 'does a body good' by studying the bodies of the two lab rats.

The students weighed, measured and observed the rats as they grew on exactly the same diet and the same number of calories with the exception of milk.

Both rats ate meat, fruit, vegetables and grains but the control rat drank milk and the test rat drank sugar water. The students' hypothesis was that the rats drinking milk will be healthier, stronger and grow bigger. The students weighed the rats weekly on a metric scale and measured their tails in centimeters.

The results indicated that milk does make a difference. The milk drinking control rat benefited from the bone-building calcium and eight other essential vitamins and minerals milk and dairy foods provide.

R.A.T.S. (Rats are Teaching Science) is offered by the Dairy Council of Nebraska to 200 schools and reaches 15,000 students each year.

You Can Stay in the Area for Cataract Surgery... So You Can Focus on the Little Things.

Cataracts affect over 80% of our senior citizens. In fact over one million cataract surgeries are performed annually in the U.S. alone.

New technological developments in implants, ultrasonic equipment, lasers, diagnostic testing, and surgical techniques have made cataract surgery one of the most effective procedures today. Currently, over 98% of cataract patients experience significant improvements in vision, without major complications.

Until now, the high cost of this new technology for cataract surgery was only available in the larger surgical facilities. This meant that you would have to travel for a complete eye examination and surgery. Not any longer.

Complete eye care and cataract surgery is now available at Providence Medical Center in Wayne. You don't have to travel outside of your community to have your vision tested for cataracts. With Dr. Willcockson, Dr. Koerber and Dr. Magnuson offering comprehensive diagnostic and surgical services, you now have the most advanced eye care available right here in town.

Nuisances

We have been receiving some complaints and observing some properties that are showing need for clean-up since the snow melted off. We are contracting the owners and about 95 percent have been following up and taking care of the problem. We are working with the rest of the property owners to get them on a schedule for clean-up or advising them that if problems have to be cleaned up for them, they have to pay the cost. Wayne is a pretty clean city.

Website

A committee of council members and city staff are preparing a job description to consider hiring a staff person to share with the school to manage a city website that will be connected with the Wayne Chamber site to provide information to residents and prospective employees or businesses who want to check out Wayne before coming here.

Surveys, surveys, surveys

We have all seen enough of them for now. We received 775 back out of the 3,300 city surveys we sent out and are evaluating the results and the list of comments. These are available at the city office if you would like a copy. If you filled one out — THANKS.

Fetal tissue research is discussed at length in legislature

Almost eight hours were spent this past week discussing the fetal tissue research issue. Legislative Bill 462 would make it unlawful for any person employed by the state or any political subdivision or for any public institution to utilize human fetal tissue from an induced abortion for research purposes.

The University of Nebraska Medical Center started using fetal tissue from abortions for research in 1991. However, it wasn't until 1999 when the public became aware that the University was using such tissue for research into Alzheimer's and Parkinson's diseases and AIDS-related dementia.

Capital Happenings
By: State Senator Doug Cunningham, District #18

In the 2000 legislative session, a similar bill was introduced. However, Omaha Senator John Hilgert asked to withdraw the bill from the agenda when it became apparent that he didn't have the necessary votes. This year, LB 462 ran into the same fate.

LB 462 did not have the necessary 5 votes for advancement from the Judiciary Committee. However, the motion to pull the bill from committee and place it on General File was successful with a 31-15 vote. I voted in support of the motion to pull LB 462 from committee.

Just like last year, Omaha Senator Ernie Chambers and other senators opposing LB 462 began a filibuster, which is a method of extending debate on an issue in an effort to prevent a vote on advancement of the bill. The Legislature adopted a "cloture" rule several years ago to allow debate to cease after 8 hours of discussion. A motion to invoke cloture requires 33 votes.

Again, it was apparent to the sponsors of LB 462 that they did not have the necessary 33 votes to shut off debate. If a cloture motion fails, the bill would not be placed on the agenda again unless supporters could prove that circumstances had changed.

As the 8-hour mark approached, the sponsor of the bill, Elkhorn Senator Dwite Pedersen, made the motion to bracket LB 462 until January 9, 2002. The motion was successful on a 40-2 vote, which will allow the bill to be taken up again during the first part of the 2002 legislative session.

Legislation to eliminate the "marriage penalty" from Nebraska's income tax code has been given second round approval. In order to keep the bill fiscally manageable, amendments provide that the cost of eliminating the marriage penalty would be partially borne by single taxpayers. As introduced, LB 277 had a $39 million fiscal impact. As amended, the bill will result in an approximate $9 million loss in tax revenue over the two-year period.

Currently, many two wage-earner families pay more in income taxes than each person would pay if single. Under LB 277, individuals working outside the home would pay the same income taxes whether single or married. However, even with the reduced fiscal impact, the bill will have to compete with other spending items for limited state appropriations.

I was pleased to participate in a ceremony during Community Development Week at the State Capitol, honoring the Top Ten Rural Development Initiatives. This award honors projects, programs and communities that represent excellence and innovation in support of community and economic development in rural Nebraska. One of the Top Ten Initiatives honored this year was the Allen Development Group, Incorporated.

Established 10 years ago, this group has helped build a 25-lot subdivision, converted an abandoned house into a daycare facility, worked diligently to attract a buyer for the village's only grocery store and assisted 47 first-time home buyers. This is a great example of a small town, not just surviving, but prospering due to the hard work of community members.

Communities are being encouraged to participate in the Great American Cleanup, America's largest organized litter prevention, beautification and community improvement program. If your group, organization or business is interested in participating in a litter cleanup in your community, please contact Keep Nebraska Beautiful at (402) 486-4562 and they will mail you the trash bags and other supplies.

I encourage you to contact my office regarding any issue that the Legislature is debating. My telephone number is (402) 471-2801, my e-mail address is dcunningham@unicam.state.ne.us and my mailing address is Senator Doug Cunningham, District #18, P.O. Box 94604, State Capitol, Lincoln, NE 68509.

Happy for return of Osborn and Sluti

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association
Human beings have some wonderful gifts.

Among them is the ability to feel joy of the overwhelming variety.

Sometimes, although not often, adults can even get a rush of emotion that rivals anything they knew as children, young lovers or first-time parents.

You can bet that, on the day that this was written, there was more than a little of that sort of happiness being experienced in Kearney and in Norfolk.

It is unlikely that anyone in either town was thinking about the Statehouse for awhile.

Word had come that Anne Sluti, 17, of Kearney, had been released by her abductor in Montana.

That bit of good news followed on the heels of an announcement from Washington. Navy Lt. Shane Osborn, the current pride and joy of Norfolk, was being released along with other military folk whose spy plane made a forced landing on a Chinese island.

Talk about your happy endings!
Talk about your hometown celebrations!

The fact is that Americans have learned not to presume that a happy ending is likely when things go wrong in the world. In the episodes involving these two Nebraskans, two important things happened.

The man who abducted Anne Sluti did, in the end, listen to reason. He did what was in the best interest of everyone.

The Chinese government made what was, for it, an uncommon showing of civility in international affairs.

For two such things to happen in one week is, alone, cause for celebration. That such happenings would bring so much joy to so many Nebraskans makes it, by our lights, all the better.

As for the Statehouse: Well, you can bet that regardless of what the military does, Lt. Osborn is destined to be an admiral in the Great Nebraska Navy, at least. We suspect Norfolk began thinking about a parade within two seconds after the plane carrying Osborn to freedom lifted off.

Anne Sluti, bless her heart, is destined to answer more questions than Julia Roberts on Oscar night. She will get so many hugs she'll think that she's living in a den full of bears.

In Norfolk and in Kearney, the folk are reminded of what life eventually teaches most of us. Tears of joy are never wasted.

As for the Capitol. Well, the Legislature can pass resolutions saying well-deserved, fine things about Miss Sluti and Lt. Osborn.

Gee. What will Nebraskans do if the TV movies about their adventures run on the same night - on opposite networks?!

Bordetella can cause concern

Dear Editor,

To all dog owners, questions from clients about Bordetella (canine cough) and the need to have dogs vaccinated prompt this letter.

Bordetella, also known by its scientific name, tracheobronchitis, has been around for over 10 years. It is a canine respiratory disease. Some of the symptoms commonly associated with Bordetella are coughing, gagging, loss of appetite, lack of energy and a poor appearance. Bordetella can also lead to pneumonia. The virus is airborne. There are no other effective ways of controlling the disease except for prevention. There is no manner of housing or cleaning that will keep a dog from becoming infected.

Bordetella can be spread through the air and by human contact (on hands, shoes and clothing). All healthy dogs that are kept at or visit boarding kennels, veterinary clinics, pet shops and shelters should receive the vaccination. Healthy dogs that are exposed to other dogs during walks, obedience classes and infected neighborhood dogs should also be vaccinated.

The prevention of Bordetella is easy. The vaccine is given annually, through nasal applicator or injection. Protection usually starts within 48 hours. Most veterinarians prefer to give the initial dose as nose drops then follow with an annual booster.

A recent informal phone survey of area veterinarians and boarding kennels covering Norfolk, Pierce, Laurel, Emerson, Pender, Dakota City, Wayne and the Iowa State Veterinary School and Clinic, revealed that most either strongly suggest or require the vaccination prior to boarding. The majority of these places accept dogs that are vaccinated the day of arrival.

The also agree that it is better to prevent an illness than it is to cure it. My peers in the kennel industry and most veterinarians require the Bordetella vaccination and frown upon places that don't. A pet care facility's credibility, reputation and a pet's health is put at risk when it accepts animals that are not vaccinated for Bordetella.

The price of this vaccination ranged from $9 to $15. The cost is minimal compared to the time and cost of veterinary care your dog would require should it become infected. Bordetella is so contagious that veterinarians treat it on an out-patient basis, to prevent the spread of the virus to other hospitalized dogs.

So please, the next time you have your pet vaccinated, have your veterinarian add Bordetella along with the Rabies and Distemper/parvo combo vaccinations it is already receiving. Or call your clinic today for an appointment.

The only people that can protect your pet from respiratory diseases are you and your veterinarian. Also, cats that are boarded or venture outside should receive Rabies, FVRCP (Distemper combo) and the Feline Leukemia vaccinations.

April is public health month

Dear Editor,

April has been declared Public Health Month by Governor Mike Johanns. While most other states only observe a week, Nebraska makes it a month-long observation so that we can take the opportunity to focus attention on as many aspects of public health as possible.

April is also Minority Public Health Month in Nebraska.

The 10 great achievements of public health include: Healthy mothers and healthy babies, Promoting mental health, Preventing AIDS and other sexually transmitted diseases, Assuring clean water and sanitation, Educating citizens about emerging health problems, Early screening and detection, Reducing youth alcohol, tobacco and drug use, Assuring quality health care, Enforcing laws and regulations to ensure public safety and immunizing children.

As a local Community Action Agency, Goldenrod Hills Community Services offers many programs. There is a Public Health Nurse on staff to provide outreach and education to Kids Connection clients and Medicaid. She is a liaison between emergency departments, medical providers and the patients to ensure the most cost effective health care possible. The Kids Connection Coordinator offers outreach to families who may need insurance for children under the age of 19.

Maternal and Child Health establishes SUPER (Selecting Ultra-healthy Practices for Effective Results) clinics, combining a variety of health services in a one-stop-shop approach.

Lead Screening offers education and screening concerning high blood lead levels in children.

The Immunization program provides inoculation against vaccine-preventable disease at community and school based clinics.

Early Development Services Coordination helps families with infants or children who have a disability and who qualify for a special education in the Norfolk area.

The Every Woman Matters program encourages women 40 years of age and older to receive breast and cervical cancer screening.

The Weatherization program helps families lower heating and cooling costs for income eligible and elderly by applying weatherization materials and practices to their home.

Head Start is a comprehensive pre-school program, providing children and their families with educational, social, medical, nutritional and child care services.

Women, Infants and Children (WIC) provides nutrition education and special foods to women who are pregnant, breastfeeding or have recently had a baby, infants and children.

Commodity Supplemental Food Program provides nutrition education and foods to infants, children, the elderly and pregnant women. Family Services promotes client self-sufficiency through a variety of programs including food pantries; rent, utilities and other emergency assistance, tax counseling, homeless prevention; case management and car safety seat rental.

HOME funds provide safe, decent and affordable housing to qualifying people in the service area.

Goldenrod Joint Housing Authority is a separate entity which provides HUD Section 8 Certificates and Vouchers for rental assistance.

These programs have all helped to enhance the achievements listed of Public Health.

As April is also Minority Public Health Month, the needs of the area have changed in recent years as the number of minorities in the area has increased, as the new 2000 Census data has been released Dixon and Cuming counties are two of the three highest rated counties in the region for increases in minority health. As these counties grow, so does the need for Public Health.

Please help us recognize the importance of Public Health Month in Nebraska.

Health Services Director,

Happy with Bush's tax plan

Dear Editor:

There is a political ad on radio put on by a group calling themselves, "The fair tax for all coalition." In one-minute they say that the President's tax-cut plan is too big and too much, and they try to frighten the elderly and the sick.

They claim the President's plan gives breaks only to the rich, with a bare minimum to the middle-class, and it ends up with a call for a fair tax cut for "working families" and a suggestion to call Senator Ben Nelson.

But the ad does not say "why they are" or even how to reach them, and it does not offer an alternative tax plan. Most Americans will not be "tax free" this year until well into the month of June! American workers have been overtaxed since the Clinton tax increase of 1993 which was the largest tax increase in modern history, and which taxed social security for the first time in history!

President Bush's tax plan will do just fine.

Allen O'Donnell

Bringing them in and putting them down

The key to bagging your spring turkey is getting the bird into range. Talking turkey isn't as complicated as it seems. There are calls on the market that make calling turkeys very easy.

When I started turkey hunting years ago, I started with a box call, the basic turkey call.

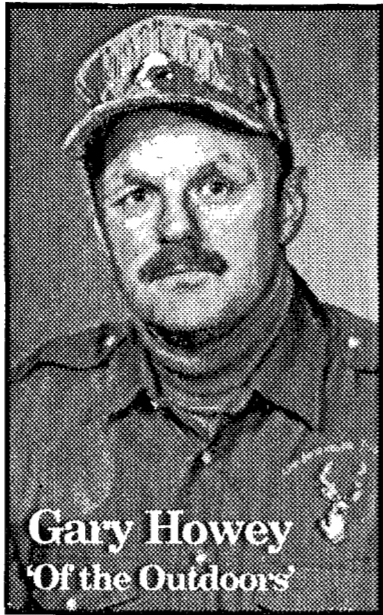

They're easy to use and are pretty fool proof. All you need to do is drag the cover across the box, the friction created between the chalked lid and the box creates the yelps, purrs and putts that the hen turkey makes.

You'll need to develop a rhythm, one long and four or five quick short yelps is the basic turkey call. Turkeys use the yelp to locate each other and regroup.

The only problem with the box call is that they require chalk in order to work properly. In wet weather the chalk gums up and the call becomes squeaky.

If I have to use my box call in damp weather, I'll put it into a large

Gary Howey
'Of the Outdoors'

There are numerous other calls on the market, many of them are simple to operate. I'd recommend that you don't put all of your eggs in one basket and have several styles of calls available as turkeys moods, likes and dislikes seem to change from day to day.

Decoys are another item that I use to help me bag a spring turkey. They started out as a hard plastic type decoy, which worked great, but they make a lot of noise and are bulky to carry.

Later on I switched to the silhouette decoys with photo quality images, they worked excellent, but were a bit bulky.

The new hand painted Buckwing Lifelite Turkey soft foam collapsible decoys look very realistic and have worked very well. You can fold them up and stuff them in your vest or back pack and they can be put out with very little effort.

I use two or three of these decoys, one Hen and two Jakes. I'll position the decoys out between 20 & 30 yards. Place them off to either side of your position. Since I'm right handed, I place the jakes to my left and the Hen to the right. This way I have a good shot as the Tom approaches the jakes.

Many hunters think that the Tom will move right to the Hen, but in most cases this isn't the way it happens! The Tom will approach the Jakes and if they don't run off, the Tom will stomp him.

If you find the Tom running up and not coming in, it might be a good idea to put one of the Toms near the Hen and have the Hen in a ready or low to the ground position. I've done this and had Toms that had hung up come charging in.

A mistake that I and many new turkey hunters make is to not pattern their shotgun before heading for the turkey woods.

Since most of my turkey shots are taken at 20 to 30 yards, I'll need a right patterned shot gun. I started with a full choke, which worked pretty well. I now have an xtra-full, xtra-full and an xxtra full choke for my shotgun.

It's a good idea to test fire your shotgun with different loads. Whenever I change shells or shotguns, I'll test fire the gun from several distances just to see if the shotgun patterns the way I want it to.

I've found that a Winchester 5 shot Copper Clad 3" shell have a good pattern from 20 to 30 yards. With the right equipment, patience and little luck you'll be able to tag a turkey this spring and once you do, you're hooked and you'll be counting days until the next spring turkey season.

Herbs for Health

Older Antidepressants Often as Effective as Newer, Costlier Ones

According to new guidelines from the American College of Physicians - American Society of Internal Medicine, both newer and traditional antidepressant medicines are equally effective for many persons with depression. Older medicines typically are in the class termed tricyclics (e.g., Tofranil, Elavil). The newer agents include selective serotonin reuptake inhibitors, or SSRIs (e.g., Paxil, Zoloft, Prozac).

The major difference cited between tricyclics and SSRIs are side effects. SSRIs are more likely to cause diarrhea, nausea, headache, and sleeping difficulties. Tricyclics are more likely to cause blurred vision, constipation, dizziness, dry mouth, and tremors. Interestingly, according to the new guidelines it is noted that St. John's wort may be effective against mild depression, at least on a short-term basis.

WSC's 13-game ride halted by South Dakota State; 'Cats now 23-5 Baseball team has win streak snapped

The Wayne State baseball team went 5-1 during the past week, but John Manganaro's team had their 13-game win streak snapped.

WSC improved to 23-5 on the season and the 'Cats are 6-0 in NSIC play and on top of the conference standings.

Brady Borner tossed a no-hitter at Minnesota-Morris last week and the 'Cats exploded for 22 runs in a 22-0 rout.

WSC pounded out 17 hits led by Gary Redden with a double and two singles while Andy Schultz and Pat Zahourek each doubled and singled.

Joel Tremblay and Joey Baldwin each singled twice and Justin Conley blasted a homerun.

Wayne State notches first place at Dordt

The Wayne State College men's track and field captured the team title at the Dordt College Invitational held Saturday in Sioux Center, IA.

The Wildcats outdistanced runner-up Midland Lutheran by 18 points as they collected 129 points to Midland's 111 points.

A total of 9 teams were represented in the meet. "This was a nice win for our men's team. We were very balanced and scored in almost every event we entered. Matt Kneiff who has been in the program for four years told me that it is the first team victory since he has been a Wildcat.

I will have to check the record books, but I suspect it has been quite some time since we have won an invitational. That makes this all the more monumental for our young team," stated first-year head coach Marlon Brink.

Senior Matt Kneiff was very instrumental in helping the Wildcats to the win. He won the 110 meter hurdles in 15.45 seconds. He also won the 400 meter intermediate hurdles in 54.31 seconds.

He also contributed to helping the Wildcats pick up two third place finishes in the 4 x 100 meter relay and the 4 x 400 meter relay. "This was Matt's first outdoor meet of the season. He missed the first meet due to illness and last week's meet was cancelled due to weather. He looked really good in the 400 meter hurdles. His time was less than a second off of the national qualifying mark. He also ran a 49.7 split on the anchor leg of our 4 x 400 relay, which is his best split time ever. I think he will continue to have a strong season as he shoots for an outdoor national qualifying mark," stated Brink.

Joe DeMilt won the pole vault with a leap of 14' 0". The mark broke his old meet record which he had set in 1999 at 13' 6". It was also a lifetime best for him in the event. "It was nice to see Joe get a personal best. He has been flirting with it throughout the year. This may be his breakthrough that he needs to consistently vault at that level," noted Brink.

Dave Dooley took the title in the triple jump with a mark of 43' 10". "Dave has become a solid 43 plus jumper. He had a good series of jumps today which proves that," stated Brink.

The Wildcats picked up several other top three finishes which helped to boost their point total. Second place finishes included:

Andy Tucknott 5,000 meter run 15:46.58; Jason Kneiff, High Jump 6' 5"; Eric Havranek, Long Jump 21' 10"; Eric Havranek, Triple Jump 43' 7"; 4 x 800 meter relay, 8:21.76 (Matt Rosauer, Nick Hansen, James Bruhn, Dustin Lippman).

Third place finishes included: Jesse Slaymaker, 400 meter dash, 51.09; Jason Kneiff, 110 meter hurdles, 16.45; Shannon Schumacher, High Jump, 6' 3"; 4 x 100 meter relay, 44.04 (Travis Woodman, Matt Kneiff, Antonio Jackson, Eric Havranek); 4 x 400 meter relay, 3:24.72 (Ryan Leriger, Andy Schmoltdt, Jesse Slaymaker, Matt Kneiff)

"I thought Jesse Slaymaker had a great day. He had a 1.6 second personal best in the 400 meter dash. He also ran a very good leg on the 4 x 4 relay. This will give him the confidence that he can run that fast and even faster in the future meets," noted Brink.

"Andy Tucknott ran a strong race in the 5,000 meter run. This was his first meet since winning the 5,000 at the NSIC Indoor Championships. He appears ready to have a strong outdoor season," stated Brink.

"Jason Kneiff nearly had 6' 7 in the high jump and just caught it coming down with his heels. It is just a matter of time before I think he gets a really big jump," commented Brink.

On the women's side the Wildcat women placed fourth with 29 points. Host team Dordt College won the competition with 229 points.

Sophomore April Sachau collected the lone win for the women's team. Sachau led the 3000 meter race from start to finish winning in a time of 11:24.08. "April completely controlled the tempo of the race. She is ready to run a fast time this next weekend at the Sioux City Relays," noted Brink.

Tracie Fehring continued to throw well in her specialty events - the shot put and the discus. Fehring placed second in the shot put with a season best throw of 41' 0". She took third place in the discus with a toss of 118' 1".

The Wildcats will take a partial squad to the Concordia Twilight Meet on Wednesday night in Seward, NE. The full squad will compete on Friday and Saturday in Sioux City at the Sioux City Relays.

He was the winner of the nationally known Heisman Trophy, the most prestigious award for a college football player, in 1972 also. Husker Rugby team to play UNI in Wayne

The Nebraska Cornhusker rugby team will play Northern Iowa on Sunday at the Wayne high school practice football field at 2 p.m.

The game will be followed by a women's rugby contest between Nebraska and South Dakota at 4 p.m.

Cost is $2 for general admission and $5 for a VIP pass.

Rugby is the fastest growing sport on American campuses and former Wayne football player and Wayne State football player Darrin Barner is trying to promote rugby in Wayne.

Southwest Airlines is one of the sponsors and they will host a half-time field goal kick worth two airline tickets anywhere in the United States.

"I'd like to see Rugby on Wayne State's campus," Barner said. "Many colleges half of WSC's size already have it."

Rugby is the game that evolved football. Each team has 15 players and players have often been known to run up to eight miles in a game.

The ball can not be passed forward. When the carrier is tackled, he must let go of the ball in which anyone can pick it up.

Rugby is also the sport that comes up with unique clichés,

"If you can't find a rugby score in the sports page, look in the obituaries."

"Scrum is a strange word but assault and battery was already taken."

"Players wear numbers on their jersey's, just in case the corner can't identify them by dental records."

"Trample the dead, hurdle the weak."

A touchdown in rugby is worth five points with a field goal being worth three. A successful drop kick is worth three points and a conversion kick is worth two points.

Wayne State men's cage team inks two high school stars

Head Coach Rico Burkett announced the signing of Brett Cain from Cedar Rapids, Iowa and Eric McLagen of Wayne.

Cain, from Cedar Rapids Prairie High School, averaged 16 points and eight rebound per game during his senior season. Cain, a 6'8" forward, was tabbed a second team all-state honoree by both the Iowa Newspaper Association and the Des Moines Register.

He was the Player of the Year in the Mississippi Valley Conference in his senior season while also being a first team all-conference selection and first team all-metro pick. Cain guided his team to an 18-4 record this past season.

"Brett has all the tools to become an excellent post player. I was impressed with his understanding of the game and his ability to play at both ends of the floor," said Head Coach Rico Burkett.

rebounds per game this past season.

"It's important to our program to attract the top prospects from Northeast Nebraska. We have accomplished that with the signing of Eric. We expect him to make a significant contribution to our program and at 6'7" he will give us some depth upfront," said Coach Burkett.

Burkett comments, "The most impressive aspect of this group is that they are not only excellent basketball players but quality young men as well. They will bring to our program an attitude and work ethic that will enable us to continue to progress as a basketball program."

McLagen, a local product from Wayne, guided the Blue Devils of Wayne High School to a 14-8 record, losing to eventual Nebraska Class C-1 State Champion Columbus Lakeview in the district finals. McLagen, who will also play baseball at Wayne State, is a Class C-1 second team all-state selection by the Omaha World Herald. He was also selected as a First Team All-State pick by Huskerland Prep Report.

McLagen, who in August will play on the North team of the Nebraska Coaches Association All-Star Game, averaged 20 points and 9.5

The Wayne State College volleyball program signed four prepsters today during the national spring signing day. Those players include: Angela Kraus, Chelse Schultz, Tiffany Shepherd and Kylie Bathen.

Angela Kraus, a 5-8, outside hitter, from Broken Bow, was a two-year starter for Broken Bow High school. As a senior, she earned Nebraska all-state honorable mention honors, was selected 2nd team all-area and was chosen to the Southwest Conference 1st team. She also earned Nebraska Academic All-state honors.

During her senior season, she recorded 186 kills and 210 digs, while leading her team to a 2nd place finish in the Southwest Conference and a trip to the Nebraska State Volleyball Tournament. Krause also plans to run track for Wayne State College.

Head Coach Sharon Vanis said, "Angie will be walking on for the Wildcats, however I feel she will come in, work hard and contribute her first season."

Chelse Schultz, a 5-11, right side hitter from Elkhorn, was a three-year starter in volleyball and a four-year letterwinner in track for Elkhorn High School. While being the team captain her senior season, Schultz had 106 digs and 158 kills for Elkhorn High School.

"I'm very excited to have Chelse join our program. I feel she is a very talented athlete that will bring a new look to our offense. She has outstanding fundamentals and we look for Chelse to make an immediate impact for the Wildcats," mentioned Vanis.

Vanis stated, "I feel Tiffany has a great deal of potential and has yet to play her best volleyball. Once she gets used to the level of play at the Division II level, I feel she will become an important part of our program."

Kylie Bathen, a 5-9, outside hitter from David City, was a four-year starter for David City High school. During her career, she was a three-time Central 8 1st team selection, while earning Nebraska all-state honorable mention honors all three of those years. Kylie was also a two-time Nebraska Academic All-State selection.

Over Bathen's career, she totaled 458 kills, 66 blocks, and 76 ace serves.

"Kylie may be one of those that some may call a 'diamond in the rough.' I feel Kylie has a great deal of natural athletic ability and with some fine tuning will add a great deal to our program," quoted Vanis.

Ideas given for successful early season bass fishing

As the sun starts to shine and temperatures begin to warm and love is in the air, many a young man's fancy turns to "Bass fishing!"

Well, maybe not all young men think of Bass fishing this time of year, but there are a certain percentage of us outdoor types that can't wait for the ice to leave, the water to warm up and the bass to move shallow.

Bass, like all members of the sunfish family move shallow in the spring to build nests.

This generally occurs when water temperatures hit 60 degrees.

The male moves from the deeper winter haunts into 1 to 4 foot of water. Firm bottoms are preferred by Bass as are areas with weeds, logs and rocks. Nests are often built next to this debris to help protect the eggs and fry.

Once the male has found a suitable spot, he'll shake his head and tail, sweeping away the bottom silt and debris, creating a saucer like depression.

Spawning occurs when the water temperatures reach the mid sixties. The female will move up into the next area and the male will guard and prod her until she drops her eggs. The male then fertilizes the eggs while the female moves off into deeper water to recuperate.

From that point on it's the male's job to guard the nest, chasing off the bluegill and other predators that feed on the bass eggs and fry.

If you're looking for a really big bass, you'll want to work on the pre-spawn female. They'll lay just of the breaks in deeper water, waiting for the water temperatures to warm up.

Since spring Bass are still in their slow mode, you'll want to use a slow presentation. A plastic, worm, lizard, crawfish, or jig and pig will work well at this time of year.

As I mentioned many times before, use as light as line as condi-the intruder from the area.

One thing you'll want to remember is that once the male is removed from the nest site, the predators will move in and gobble up the fry.

Try to get the male back into the water as quickly as possible to avoid having the nest destroyed.

In the spring, Catch and Release is very important, if you want one for the wall, take it, but put the others back as this will ensure good numbers of Bass for next season.

In the spring, you may not catch a lot of Bass, but your chances of catching a trophy are probably better than any other time of the year.

tions allow. Heavier if your fishing in debris and lighter in open water.

You might have to down size your weight in order to entice the larger Bass to bite. Try 1/8 to 1/4 ounce early in the season for best results.

Work the bait slowly from the deep water up the bank or parallel to the bank. A subtle cast in the spring is your best bet, as even a light bait can make quite a disturbance if allowed to slam down in the water.

Once the larger females have spawned, they will take a few days to rest up from the ordeal. You'll have to put your bait right on their nose to get them to bite after the spawn.

The males will stay at the nest until the fry are about 1" in length and it's during this time that they are more susceptible to shallow water fisherman.

Lighter lures retrieved or drug across the nest site will tempt them to chase off or pick up and remove

Mundahl among students presenting honors research

College students will present their honors research during open forums, April 24 through 27 on campus.

Students include: Diane Mundahl of Laurel; Jason Brozek of Brunswick; Richelle Cech of Clarkson; Tasha Howland of St. Libory; Jeff Kesting of Pierce; Jeana Luebbe of Utica; Danielle Morrison of South Sioux City; Matthew Nykodym of Tilden; Linda Rasmussen of Homer; Kourtney Roerber of Wausa; Angela Schaecher of Battle Creek; and Jackelyn Thomas of Scribner.

Local student, Diane Mundahl, will present Theoretical and Practical Considerations in the Database Development Process on Friday, April 27 at 3 p.m. in Gardner Hall, Room 208. Her advisor is Dr. Tim Garvin.

Development of a database involves multiple phases. Many issues involved in database design and development were encountered during this project.

The paper and presentation will define and examine these issues and offer reflections on the planning and management of the database design and development process.

Mundahl will graduate in May 2001 with a bachelor's degree in computer information systems and minors in business administration and philosophy.

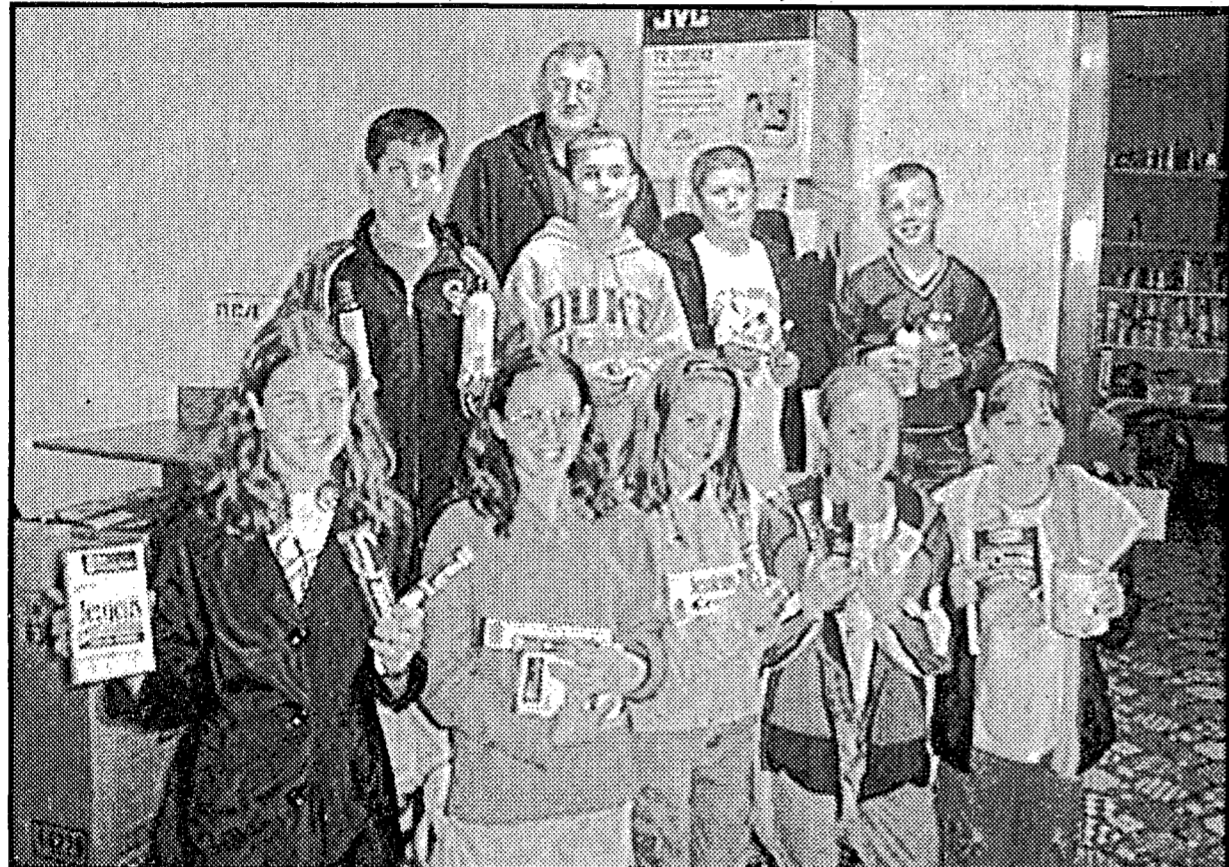

Prior to attending Wayne State College, Mundahl worked in a variety of computer-related positions and taught adult education computer classes.

She was inducted into Alpha Lambda Delta national honorary and the Theta Sigma chapter of Alpha Sigma Lambda, and was actively involved in AAUW (American Association of University Women). Mundahl plans to begin graduate school in August 2001.

George has done a lot of work with the youth of the area and taught them about being responsible community members.

Completes National Child Care in Aviation Incident Response training

Mary Lou George of Winside and a National Red Cross Disaster Responder in the area of mental health recently completed a course in Child Care in Aviation Incident Response Training (CAIR) that was held in New Windsor, Conn. on March 14-16.

The focus of the training was the responsibilities assigned to the American Red Cross when respondtain appropriate childcare for families affected by an aviation disaster.

The training was led by Dusty Bowenkamp, Senior Association for Disaster Mental Health Services with the National American Red Cross, Brian Finnick, Forensic Operations Manager for the National Transportation Safety Board, Lydia Walker, and CAIR Administrator.

The CAIR Team is dedicated to ensuring that children involved in aviation disasters are provided a safe and secure environment to play while their families are at the Family Assistance Center. The CAIR Team operated within the policies, regulations and procedures of the Red Cross Disaster Services and the ERSM.

Following this two day training, Mrs. George is now certified to be a member of the National CAIR Team and will be assigned an approximate two-month, "on-call" status where she will commit to being available to respond immediately after being notified of an aircraft accident within the United States involving an air carrier or foreign air carrier and resulting in a major loss of life.

Mrs. George is a former member of the Wayne County American Red Cross Board of Directors. She is currently the only DSHR (Disaster Services Human Resource) person with the Wayne Red Cross. These specially trained people are the ones who can respond to national disasters across the country where the American Red Cross has been called into assist. Mrs. George's responsibilities and training are in the area of mental health services. She also serves on the local chapter's disaster team in the mental health area as well.

Industrial Technology

Area students involved in competition

A total of 160 students from area communities had an opportunity to test their knowledge and skills in industrial technology at the 19th Annual Industrial Technology Competition, March 14, on the Wayne State College (WSC) campus.

Competition coordinator was John Renzelman of the WSC Applied Science Division. The industrial technology students and faculty of WSC sponsored the competition.

Thirteen area schools participated including Arlington; Chambers; David City; Gayville-Volin, SD; LeMars, Iowa; Madison; Norfolk; O'Neill; Roosevelt High School (Sioux Falls, SD); Wakefield; Washington High School (Sioux Falls, SD); Wayne; and Winside.

"It's exciting to watch the kids compete. It's a great competition. We appreciate having somewhere close for competition. I think it challenges the students. Some of the kids compete in the same events they will be doing at State USA VICA (Vocational Industrial Clubs of America)," said Wayne Gross, an instructor from Madison. Gross said his school has been involved in Industrial Technology Day at Wayne State almost every year for 19 years.

"It was well planned out. I enjoyed the experience," said Tim Majeres, a LeMars, Iowa junior.

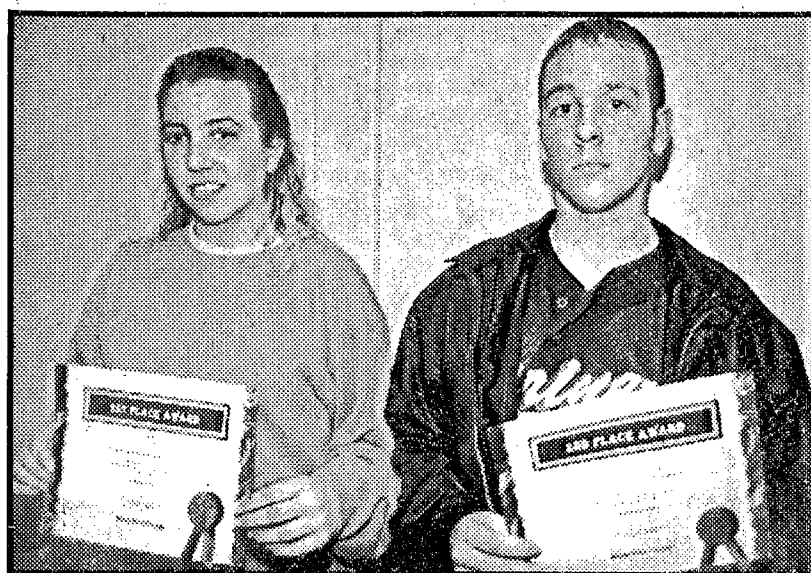

"It's a good experience for our students to see other students and have an opportunity to see what other kids are doing with projects and competition," said Ken Schaffer, an instructor from Washington High School in Sioux Falls, S.D.

"This is my first time here at the competition. From what I've seen, we need more of this type of activity because of the self-confidence it brings," said Larry Kruse, another instructor, from Washington High School.

Wakefield instructor Daryl Harrison said he's attended Wayne State's competition for two years. The first year he said he came to see what the day was like and what it offered for his students. This year he brought five students. Among the reasons his students are attending, Harrison said one student is preparing for State VICA and another student wanted to test his knowledge.

"The most important reason for students to attend is to come and see if industrial arts would be something that the students may want to teach.

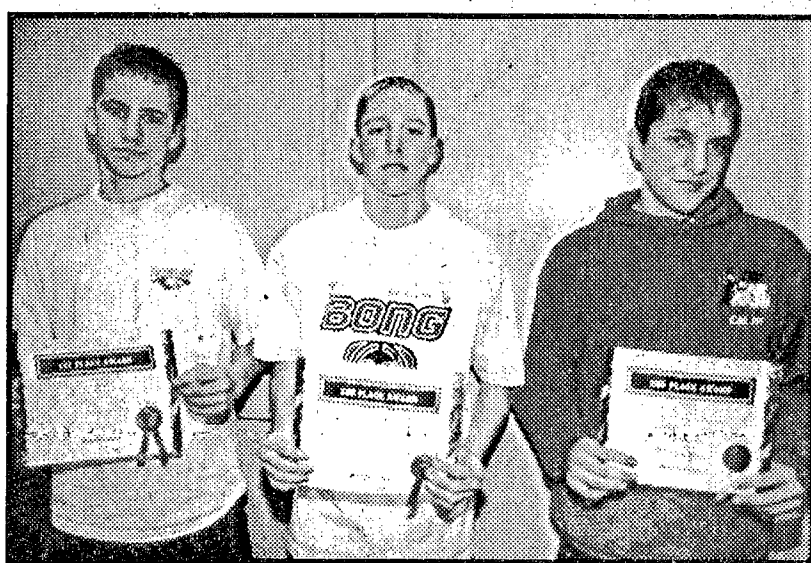

There is a lack of qualified teachers right now with four-year degrees," Harrison said. "All the events are useful. There is a wide enough array of events for students. The day gives an opportunity to test the students' skills and learn from others. They pick up useful tips from other kids and pick up information on technology."

An instructor from Norfolk Junior High, Larry Inness said his group of seven who attended the WSC event were selected through local competition.

Receives scholarship to attend Doane College

Melissa Wilmes, a senior at Allen High School and daughter of Thomas and Kathy Wilmes of Allen, has been awarded an Academic Excellence Scholarship to attend Doane College. The award is valued at $22,000 for a four-year period.

Wilmes current activities are: National Honor Society, Class Officer, Band, Choir, Problem Solving Team, Quiz Bowl Team, FFA, Volleyball, Basketball, Track & Field, and A-Club.

Her Community involvement includes: attends St. Annes Catholic Church, Songlead, youth group, CCD, Trash pickup, visit Care Centers, Christmas caroling, community musical/madrigal, Drug Free rally, soup kitchen.

Generous donation

Members of the 4-H Wranglers 4-H Club of Wisner recently donated 12 helmets to the Rainbow Riders program. Those involved in the presentation included, left to right, Karen Marx, organizational leader of the club, Bryce Anderson, one of the club members, Marla Carmichael, a rider in the Rainbow Rider program and Melissa Henrich, director of Rainbow Riders.

"We have 10 to 12 local winners who go on to state-level competition. Some individuals may go on to national competition. It's still early in the year to tell if any students will advance. We entered Mechanical drawing, Quiz Bowl, Carpenter of the day, Metric 500, and Mouse trap derby. We were very pleased with our students results and plan on attending next year. We've been coming to this annual event for more than 15 to 20 years. It's a great opportunity for kids to expose their projects. It's a really wonderful thing to be involved with. We really appreciate it."

A recent Wayne State alum, now an industrial arts instructor, Jason Novotny brought his first class from Arlington back to campus to compete in the contest day that he had helped with as a student.

"It's really different being on the other side," Novotny said. "My view is different from this angle. The day gives kids the opportunity to see what skills they possess against the skills other kids possess. It opens you up to the real world and helps prepare you for your career."

Inhaled Steroids Are Life-Saving in Asthma

Our bodies produce a type of steroid known as corticosteroid. This is NOT the steroid used by body builders with the intension of boosting muscle mass. Rather, corticosteroids - such as cortisone - help us handle many types of stress.

Cortisone-like steroids have been used for decades to treat lung diseases, including asthma. They have been taken my mouth and, more recently, by inhalation. A Canadian study recently published in The New England Journal of Medicine concludes that asthma sufferers who regularly use steroid inhalers also lower their risk of death due to asthma. Persons with asthma who dies were compared to those who lived. It was found that the survivors averaged using about one-third more inhaled steroids than those who died. Over 17 million persons in the US have asthma, resulting in over five thousand deaths each year.

What if I can't pay my entire tax bill?
 If you cannot pay the full amount due with your return, you may ask to make monthly installment payments. Even if your request is granted, you'll still be charged interest and a late payment penalty on any taxes not paid by April 15th. Therefore, before choosing this option, you may want to consider a less costly alternative such as a bank loan.

Cooking safely in microwave ovens

Microwave ovens have taken their places in American kitchens as vital parts of most every meal. While they are convenient and save time, proper precautions need to be taken to ensure that microwaved food is safe.

Remove food from its packaging when defrosting it in the microwave. Foam trays and plastic wrap can warp at high temperatures and cause harmful chemicals to migrate into food. Cook meat, poultry, egg casseroles, and fish immediately after defrosting as some areas of the food may begin to cook as it defrosts.

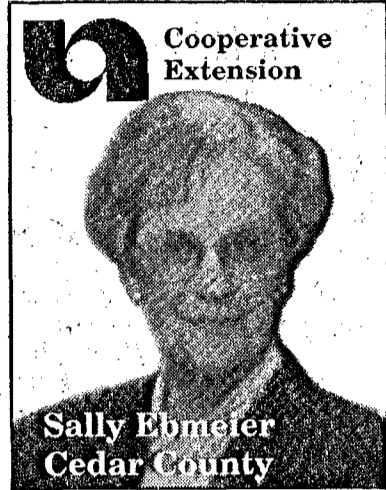

When cooking food, arrange it evenly on a covered dish and add some liquid if necessary. Vent the lid or wrap to let steam escape. The moist heat that is created will help destroy bacteria.

Transfer partially cooked food to the grill or oven to finish cooking immediately after removing from the microwave. Never partially cook food and store it for later.

Cook large pieces of meat on medium heat instead of high heat so heat can reach the center without over cooking the outer edges. Stir or rotate food midway through microwaving to allow more even cooking. Avoid cooking stuffed poultry as the stuffing may not reach the temperature required to kill bacteria.

Place a food thermometer into the thickest part of meat, away from bone or fat, to verify it has reached safe.

Sally Ebmeier
Cedar County

a safe temperature. Red meat and egg casseroles should be 160 degrees and whole poultry should be 180 degrees. Fish should flake with a fork. Allow food to stand before checking its temperature to complete cooking.

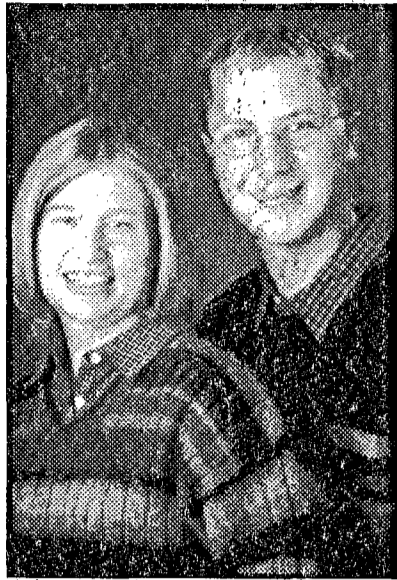

Heat ready-to-eat foods such as hot dogs, lunch meat, and fully cooked ham until steaming hot. Cover leftovers with a lid when reheating and make sure the food has reached 165 degrees.

Use cookware that is specifically labeled for microwave use. Plastic containers such as margarine tubs and whipped topping bowls should not be used in microwaves as they may warp. Wax paper, cooking bags and white microwave-safe paper towels can be used. Never use aluminum foil in the microwave.

Guests help stir memories

One of the neat things that transpired this month was a short visit by a roommate in grad school of the Big Farmer's. Murray was from Canada; after he earned a master's at UNL, he went on to Ames for a doctorate. (An awful lot of Mike's friends did that instead of returning to the farms from whence they came). He's since been in provincial government, including a few years in Ottawa.

We usually hear from them at Christmas, but had not seen them for years. Since they have a son in Colorado, they came south on I-29, and west on 80, with a stop at the Farm House for lunch.

His wife, Catherine, told us that when she had come to Lincoln about 1958 for Easter weekend, they had been invited to my Mom's for dinner. (She had a way of doing that). And, the thing she remembered was an Easter bunny cake that Mom had baked and decorated.

The Farmer's Wife
By: Pat Meierhenry

Not only did she remember it, she recreated it. And, had one every Easter since. Their four boys are now grown up, but they still expect that cake. Needless to say, I instructed my Mom to bring one to our celebration last Sunday. Thus, are traditions born.

The group, of course, brought each other up to date on all the old pros and fellow grad students. Duane, the friend in North Carolina who had a heart transplant last year, was also an inhabitant of the basement apartment on Dudley Street.

In the Ag Econ building on East Campus was a lounge/coffee place called the Bullpen; aptly named, I'm sure. Both vividly remembered having their first pizza in Lincoln; Murray says his was in the Bullpen, after a late night session.

He had never heard of a pizza; so, when they ordered out, he chose a hamburger. When all the pizzas arrived, he couldn't imagine what they were going to do with them; as he was used to eating one slice of a "pie." He was amazed to learn they were each going to eat a whole pie!

At that time, Valentino's on Holdrege Street, had only recently converted from a "mom and pop" grocery store to a pizza parlor. Who could have imagined what they started.

These are the fun times of retirement; connecting with the past. Now, we're going to work on getting Carlos, another roommate at one time, back to the Midwest. He lives in California and is an avid Husker fan. Wish us luck!

Kevin Peterson, Wayne Herald general manager and speaker for this year's Allen Athletic Banquet, congratulates Senior Athletes Melissa Wilmes and Micky Oldenkamp.

Athletic banquet held at Allen High School

The Allen Athletic Banquet recognizes the Allen athletes for all their hard work, dedication, and heart.

On April 10, the coaches and community recognized these athletes with the annual Athletic Banquet. There were many in attendance for the event with only a few empty seats. The night began with a full course meal of roast beef, baked potato, corn, coleslaw, fruit salad, cake and ice cream. A special thanks went to the cooks who helped prepare the meal.

The Junior High girls, sponsored by Sandy Chase, were in charge of waiting the tables. Each coach got a chance to talk about their season's accomplishments and recognize their participants and letter winners. Many students were recognized with lettering in 1 or more sports.

The guest speaker was Mr. Kevin Peterson, sports editor of the Wayne Herald. He spoke on the advantages of participating in high school sports programs especially in small schools. Dominic Raiola, of the Nebraska Cornhuskers, was scheduled to speak at the banquet but could not attend due to previous commitments. But Dominic did send many items that were put up for auction.

Items for auction were two pictures of Dominic in the game versus Kansas. The third picture of Dominic was in black and white was autographed, "Best wishes & GO Big Red!" The last picture caused quite a stir. It was an autographed picture of #7 Eric Crouch.

The last two items were autographed footballs. The first one was autographed by Dominic Raiola and Frank Solich. The second football had a lot of people bidding. It was autographed "Good Luck Allen Eagles!" signed Frank Solich. The A Club raised over $700 on these auction items.

Last on the agenda was the announcing of the Senior Athletes. To be included for this special honor, you must participate in at least two sports. Each Candidate was given a $50 scholarship from the A Club, money raised from the sale of Cornhusker season basketball tickets. Senior Candidates were Lyle Rahn, Micky Oldenkamp, Danielle Bertrand, Alicia Liebsch, Jennifer Smith, and Melissa Wilmes.

Boils (Part II)

A boil usually grows quickly, fills with pus, bursts, drains, and heals all in about two weeks. Never squeeze or lance a boil; that may spread the infection. Apply a warm, wet washcloth or compress for 20 minutes three times a day to help it drain. Wash the area with antibacterial soap. When the boil drains cover it with a loose dressing to avoid spreading the infection. If the boil is over your spine, on your face, or if it hasn't disappeared in two weeks see a doctor.

MISSING IN ACTION MARKERS

Plans are being made for the dedication of markers on Memorial Day for three servicemen who were lost in action. The three are Lt. Paul Hart, lost at sea in 1942 at the beginning of World War II; Lt. (j.g.) Allen Keagle, lost at sea near the end of WWII in 1945; and SGM Willie Stark who was lost in action in 1966 during the Vietnam War.

There are no markers in the Wakefield Cemetery to honor these brave soldiers and as a result, some local veterans are organizing a fund drive to purchase a stone, markers, and pay for the placement.

The goal is to cover the $2,000 cost with donations from individuals and groups. In the event a substantial surplus is collected, it is proposed to establish a perpetual scholarship fund for Wakefield High School graduates in honor of these three men.

If you or an organization you belong to would like to contribute to the project, please send your tax-deductible donation to American Legion Post 81, PO Box 332, Wakefield, NE 68784. Make the check payable to the Post and indicate that the contribution is for the Missing in Action Markers.

Foundation. It is the 11th year the City of Wakefield has received this national recognition.

The 2000 Tree City USA Awards program was recently held at the State Capitol in Lincoln.

To become a Tree City USA, a community must meet four standards: a tree board of department, a tree care ordinance, a comprehensive community firestart program and an Arbor Day observance.

An Arbor Day program is being planned by the Wakefield Tree Board for Friday, April 27 at 2:45 p.m. at the school. A guest speaker has been invited and the community is invited to take part.

Other northeast Nebraska communities recognized included Allen, Wausa, Hartington, Pierce, Pilger as a first year city, and Plainview was awarded a growth award, according to State Senator Doug Cunningham who was present for the presentation ceremony.

MMR vaccinations needed

A recent state ruling requires vaccination from measles, mumps and rubella for children attending school in Nebraska. Two doses of MMR vaccine are mandatory for all students, grade K through 12, by the beginning of the 2001-02 school year.

Goldenrod Hills Community Services offers MMR vaccinations plus inoculation from other vaccine-preventable diseases at monthly clinics throughout its 14-country service area.

For more information or to make an appointment, contact Immunization Clerk Anita Ludwig at Goldenrod Hills, (402) 529-3513 or 1-800-445-2505, Ext. 30. An administration fee of $10 per child is requested, however, no one is denied immunization for inability to pay. A parent or guardian must accompany the child. If someone else brings the child, he or she must bring an official signed proxy form.

The monthly schedule for a GHCS Immunization clinic in the local area is: Cedar County, fourth Friday of the month, 10 a.m. to noon, alternating between Laurel and Hartington, Laurel City Auditorium, 101 West 2nd St., Laurel; or Hartington Cedar Catholic High School, 401 S. Broadway, Hartington.

Dixon County, second Tuesday of the month, noon-2 p.m.; Ponca Fire Hall, 123 3rd St., Ponca.

Wakefield, fourth Tuesday of the month, 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., Wakefield Family Resource Center, 403 Johnson St., Wakefield

HOSKINS GARDEN CLUB MEETS

Hoskins Garden Club met on April 9 at the Home of Hildegard Fenske for a dessert luncheon.

President Hildegard opened the meeting with the poem "Springtime Fancy." Roll call was answered by telling which spring-time job they liked the most. Annual dues were paid.

Christine Lueker read the secretary's and treasurer's reports, which were approved.

The members decided to plant flowers in the town barrels in May. A garden tour is also planned for May. A donation was given for the best over-all rose at the 2001 Wayne County fair.

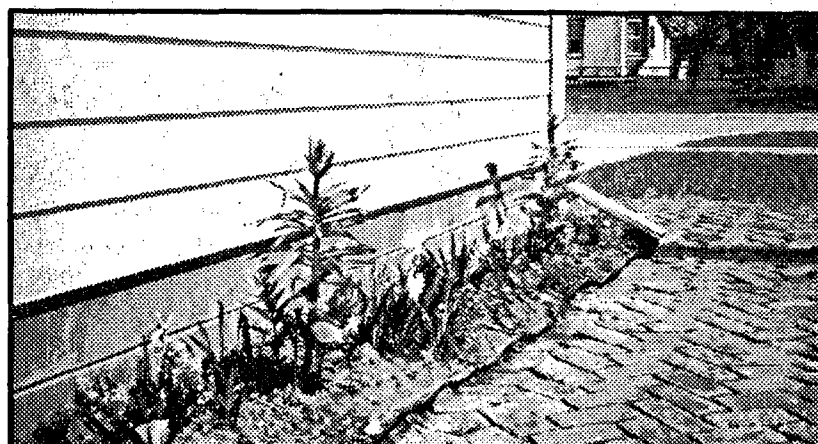

The hostess read some Fun Facts and had a Nebraska quiz for entertainment. Esther Rechtermann read the article "Agro-Forestry" for the comprehensive study. Christine presented the lesson on the Lantana flower and some specific rose names.

The Watchword for April was: "Giving makes living more loving." OMAHA VISITOR DURING BREAK Ethan Wheeler, great-grandson of Bill and Hildegard Fenske, visited in their home from April 10 until April 14.
