Wakefield youth responds well to cancer treatment

By Lynn Sievers

Of the Herald Looking the picture of health, Jade Olsufka of Wakefield smiles and remembers back a few years ago when she was sick from Wilm's Tumor, a childhood cancer.

Olsufka, a now vibrant 10-year-old and her parents, Jeff and Jamie Olsufka, think back to when Jade was 6-years-old and the first symptom of something wrong was when Jade's stomach was swelled.

"We just thought she was eating too much," Jeff said.

When the swelling did not go away, the couple took their daughter to the medical clinic in Wakefield. From there they went on to Wayne to have Dr. B.J. Martin see Jade. Martin took an ultrasound and told the Olsufkas they had a very sick little girl. Martin referred them to Omaha to the University hospital.

In Omaha, more tests were done such as another ultrasound, CAT scan, bone tests, etc. to get a better diagnosis. Dr. Cossia, the head of pediatric oncology at the University hospital confirmed Wilm's Tumor-stage III. A biopsy was performed. Realizing it was too risky to remove the tumor as it was too large, chemo was started on Jade for five weeks and then the affected kidney was removed even though there really was nothing left of the tumor.

Luckily, Jade had responded very well to chemo.

Being diagnosed in March, Jade missed school most of April and May. During the summer, she made up her studies at home.

Reflecting to when the doctors gave a 75 percent chance of being cured. "Now the percentage would be more like 90 percent," Jeff said. "I want people to realize that's because of cancer research that the cure rate is better for cancer patients. Ten years ago there would have been more like a 50 percent survival rate."

As for check-ups, Jade had to have check-ups every three months for the first year. For the next two years, she had a check up every six months. Now, she has annual check ups with the next one being the end of June.

Jade's mother remembers her little girl being really sick during chemo and losing her hair. Anti-nausea medicine didn't completely stop Jade from being sick to her stomach. "Thinking back, it's hard to realize what a sick little girl Jade was; she was so thin," Jamie said.

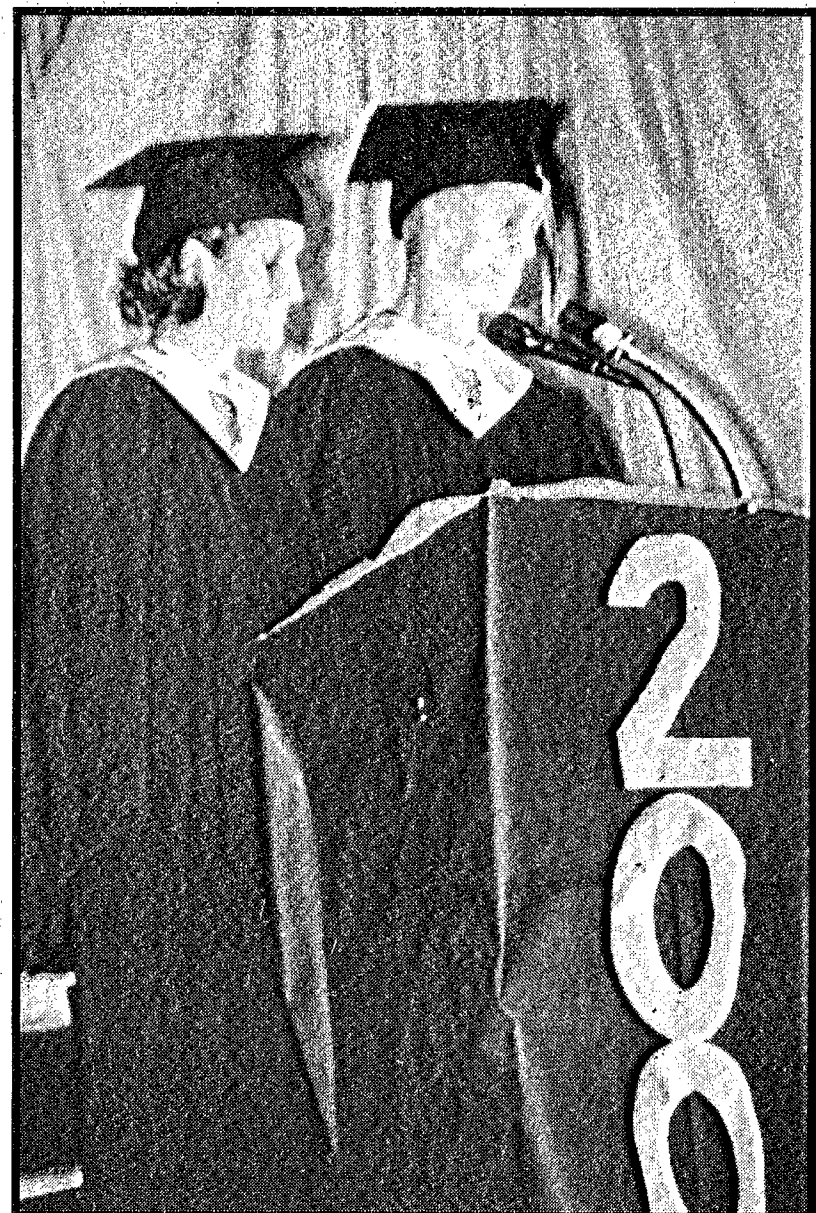

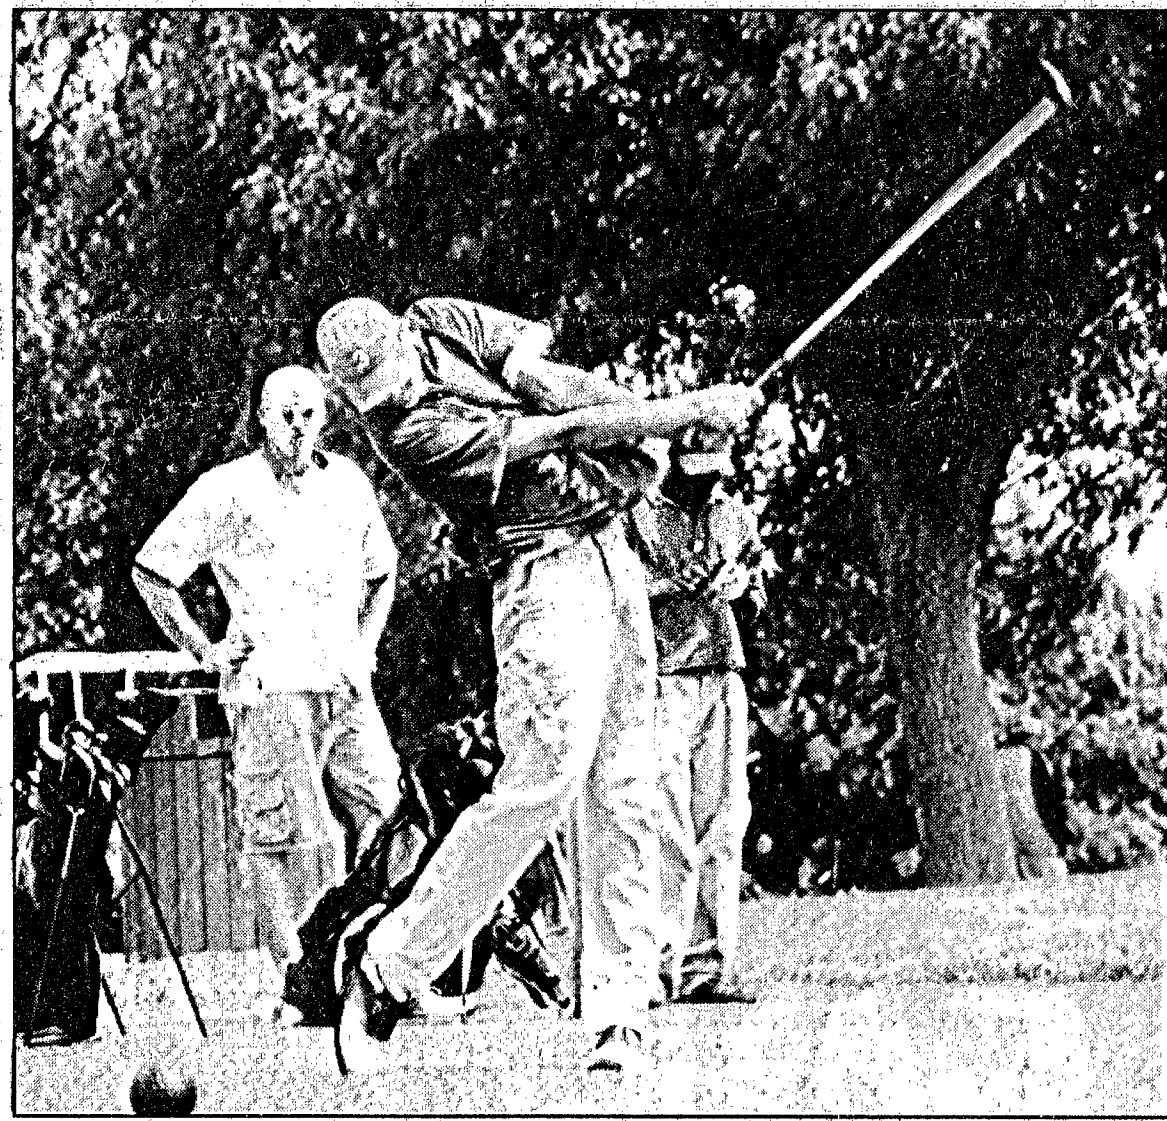

A good memory among the bad ones was when "Make-A-Wish" Foundation granted Jade her wish to go to DisneyWorld after Jade's treatments were done. "Make-A-Wish"

A fitting Memorial Day Tribute

Memorial Day is a time of remembrance and of thanksgiving. "Remembrance" because we pay our respects to the one-million American men and women who laid down their lives in time of war. "Thanksgiving" because we thank our Creator that such people once lived, and that their legacy is the unparalleled freedom we enjoy in this great country and much of the world.

Too often on Memorial Day we think only of our military patriots as having sacrificed for our freedoms, but there are millions of other unsung Americans who supported their efforts.

And today, there are those who never wore the uniform of our country, but they, too, continue the fight to preserve the values we all cherish. Some of them will probably lead the effort to decorate graves and handle the myriad details of memorial services. Let's remember to say "thanks" to them, too.

Throughout the history of civilization, men and women of good will have honored their war dead. They have paid homage to those who went into Harms Way when their country called. If we expect future generations to answer the call of duty, this is a tradition that we must preserve. And it is fitting that we do so.

All of us, veterans or not, have a duty to do what we can do to pass on to the next generation the blessings of liberty and an appreciation for the values of patriotism, honesty, charity, civility and diligence that provides the firm foundation for our freedoms.

On Memorial Day, we will celebrate the lives of our great patriots in many ways — family gatherings, memorial services, private moments at a graveside where a single rose or tiny American flag has been offered in remembrance.

But as we remember those who paid the price to make our country — and, indeed, much of the world — the place it is today, let us also remember that there is only one symbol that embodies all that they believed as Americans — and that is our flag.

I don't have to tell you what our flag means not only to us but also to freedom-loving people everywhere. Yet, there are those who don't understand. Some elitist members of the media, ACLU officials and general malcontents thrive on sewing strife and discord as they try to make us believe our flag presents the freedom to destroy it.

A five-to-four Supreme Court decision set this belief into law in 1989, contrary to more than 200 years of tradition and jurisprudence, and contrary to the wishes of the American people.

Strange that the very heroes we honor today are the people who would least understand such twisted logic, for it was they who laid down their lives on the field of battle to stop the enemy from burning their flags. They were more willing to suffer death than such disgrace at the hands of a foe.

Still, those would relish such abhorrent conduct, evoke the names of these silent patriots as advocates for this perversion.

But we can change that and we can change the state of the law. We can restore to the American people the freedom to protect their flag by urging our Senators to vote for the flag protection amendment, SJR 40.

And we can show our own support for this amendment by showing our colors on this Memorial Day.

And not on Memorial Day only, but by flying our flag proudly from our homes, our churches and our places of business until the U.S. Senate passes the flag protection amendment.

Let's fly our flags to remind the world that was not the media that gave us the freedom of the press. It was our patriots.

It was not the ACLU that gave us freedom of speech. It was the blood of men and women of all races, creeds and religions who honored our flag as a banner of opportunity and freedom and saw it as an ally against the forces of oppression.

And it was not the demonstrators burning our flag that gave us peace. It was the men and women who served and sacrificed under that flag.

It is their memory that we honor on this day. Let us do so through prayer, reflection, thanksgiving — and, by "Showing Your Colors, America!"

'Economic development' woes

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Some policy decisions ought to be based mostly on arithmetic. Those involving the public treasury should fall into that category.

Take these programs that Nebraska and most other states offer — the business of giving business "incentives" to do business. These giveaways, usually involving tax breaks, began to sweep the country in the 1980s. Once that horse was out of the barn (or, once that hand was in the till) there was no reining it in.

These programs fall under the ever-widening umbrella of "economic development." That's because it's almost impossible for any politician to be against what the mob has decided to call "economic development." Americans lack a healthy self-interest in semantics. If you call something "corporate welfare" or "pork," your survey will show a majority is agin' it. Call it "economic development" and they'll rally round the Chamber of Commerce and hoo-rah all night long. Of course, "welfare" and "economic development" are in the eyes of various beholders.

Our concern today is with how much policymakers (like state legislators) and the people, know in advance about how much will ultimately be spent for these (pick one) welfare or economic development plans.

Sen. Bob Wickersham of Harrison offered the Legislature a dandy idea recently. The Unicameral was all set to dish out some more incentives, most particularly on behalf of the Union Pacific Railroad. Wickersham offered an idea that wasn't exactly original, but it was entirely good.

Wickersham proposed that the Legislature set up a system to project what these giveaways would cost, and to do it before the giveaways were put in place.

Wickersham's idea wasn't really radical. Hardly more than anyone saying, "Say, could I see the price tag before I sign myself into long-term debt for this purchase?"

Well, my guess is that you could write the end of this tale yourself.

Wickersham might as well have proposed a resolution congratulating Bill Clinton for his exemplary work as a role model for young people.

The fact is that Nebraskans have never had a clear understanding of what the state's tax giveaways cost the public treasury.

Another fact is that it almost certainly would not be in the interest of the Union Pacific, or any other big business, to have the people reading in advance about what these programs might cost. Even if the arguments for them were absolutely unassailable (use your imagination) lawmakers get uncomfortable when headlines proclaim that X tens of millions of dollars will be part of some corporation's "economic development" incentive. The public is inclined to think that profits, resulting from good business practices, should provide sufficient incentive. (Okay. They probably don't associate railroads with good business practices, especially not if they are farmers, but you get the point).

In any event, Wickersham's proposal to give taxpayers a hint as to how much might be given away in their names didn't get off the ground, really.

There is no telling if his efforts won him any friends among the voters. You can guess what it did for him in some corporate circles. And, regardless of whether the people remember what Wickersham tried to do for them, the chances are that some silk suits will remember what he tried to do to them.

Legislative session begins to wind down

There are only a few days left in the legislative session! As we wrap up this year's business, debate continues on one of our biggest issues: teacher pay.

We spent a considerable amount of time debating the teacher salary bill, last week and this week. Sen. Chip Maxwell of Omaha introduced an amendment that was offered as an alternative to the plan introduced by the Education Committee.

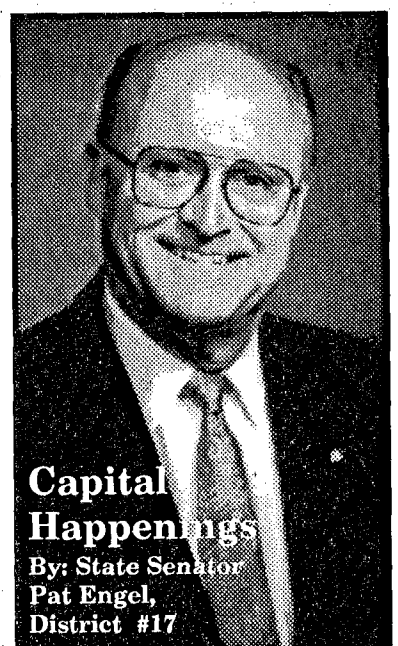

A major distinction of Sen. Maxwell's plan is that it would not raise taxes at all, but would still provide some help in improving teacher pay in the state. Sen. Maxwell's plan included an incentive payment for beginning teachers and funding for the Master Teacher Program, which would have provided an additional $2,500 per year for teachers who have achieved national certification. The plan would have been funded in part with lottery proceeds.

According to the Governor's office, the Governor would not have vetoed the Maxwell plan, but he has said that he will veto a tax increase for teacher salaries, which is in LB 305 as currently amended. The Maxwell amendment failed by a vote of 18-27.

Sen. Roger Wehrbein of Platteville introduced an amendment that would allow school districts to increase spending, if they wanted to do so. The amendment allowed for a 1.5% increase in spending for all schools. The amendment would also remove the sales tax increase proposed by the bill and remove funding for the Master Teacher program.

Sen. Wehrbein promoted the amendment as an effort to improve teacher pay that would at least make a step in the right direction, as the Governor has pledged to veto LB 305 as it stands. I supported the amendment because I think it would help address the budget situation in the South Sioux City School District, among others.

South Sioux is in the predicament of having access to additional money in the form of state aid and property taxes, but the district is unable to spend all of that money due to restrictions on budget growth. School districts are only allowed to increase their budgets by a certain percentage from year to year, and districts that have not increased spending in the past lag behind other districts in spending on education. South Sioux is one of those school districts. Unfortunately, the amendment failed with a vote of 13-33.

Sen. Ron Raikes, chair of the Education Committee, moved to invoke cloture on the bill, which means that debate ceases. Cloture is permitted after 8 hours of debate on the bill. The motion for cloture failed with a vote of 18-26. Debate on the bill will continue. Again, as I have said in the past, teacher pay needs to be a local school board priority, and I cannot support an increase in taxes. In particular, I do not want to increase the sales tax, because it is a regressive tax and has a disparate impact on the poor.

I also do not think that an across-the-board increase in teacher pay is the right way to address the needs of all school districts. Some school districts can afford to increase teacher pay on their own without the state's help, while others need far more funding from the state to improve pay.

However, I do support lifting the spending lids to allow for increases in teacher salaries. This requires more financial commitment on a local level, while still providing additional state aid that can be used for teacher salaries. This is an aspect of the bill that I support. I also supported funding the loan forgiveness program for teacher education students who teach in Nebraska. That funding is part of this year's budget. The redistricting process is progressing.

As I mentioned last week, we advanced plans for legislative and congressional districts to Select File. We will be making further progress on redistricting this week.

We advanced a bill that would help increase Nebraska's sales tax revenue on mail-order sales by authorizing the development of a multi-state sales tax collection agreement. LB 172 would authorize the Governor to sign an agreement with other states. The agreement would include a uniform state rate and other restrictions that would promote uniformity for the

Genealogy research ongoing

Dear Editor,
The Wayne County Genealogical Society has been working on a book that will contain a listing of all burials in the cemeteries in Wayne County.

This book would aid people who are doing genealogy research to help locate where loved one are buried. Some information that you may find in this book might include names, maiden name, birth and death dates, spouse's name, marriage date, a listing of children and whether the deceased served in a branch of the U.S. military. For some listings, it will give you a location to lead you to the section in a cemetery where they are buried.

This information was gathered in various ways including many countless hours of walking the cemeteries and documenting the information from the stones as well as getting information from obituaries and from information compiled by the Genealogy Society. At present, we are estimating the book to be 200 pages.

The listing of cemeteries that we have are as follows:

1. Greenwood Cemetery in Wayne;
 2. Altona Trinity Lutheran, also known as the German Lutheran Church;
 3. St. Paul Lutheran;
 4. Wayne County Cemetery;
 5. LaPorte Cemetery;
 6. Sons of Herman;
 7. Bethany Presbyterian Church;
 8. Elmwood Cemetery in Carroll;
 9. Evangelical Lutheran Zion Church;
 10. Immanuel Reformed Church also may be known as Evangelical Church;
 11. Pleasant View Cemetery in Winside;
 12. Hoskins Cemetery;
 13. Theopolis Cemetery;
 14. Swedish Cemetery.
- We have tried to make this book

as complete as possible to include all cemeteries in Wayne County. If anyone knows of any other cemeteries in Wayne County that we have not included or one that may also be known by another name, please contact one of the people listed later in this letter.

In this book we would also like to include as many private burial sites as possible. In order to do this, we need your help. Any information given to us about private burial sites will be included in our book. If you would prefer we come and gather the information, contact us with the location and we will do so. Any private burial sites that we are not contacted about will not be included in this book.

Our goal is to have this book printed and available for sale at the Wayne County Fair. In order to try to meet this goal, we are setting a deadline for June 15 to receive information from you on any Wayne County Cemeteries we have missed and any private burial sites located in Wayne County.

Humane Society in need of shelter

The Wayne Humane Society is currently seeking a building to house the dogs taken in by the organization. At the present time the dogs are staying at the Peg Schaffer home just south of Wayne. However, the kennels are not suitable for housing animals in the winter and other arrangements need to be made.

Schaffer, who is member of the Humane Society, said that the group is willing to consider a building that may be in need of some repairs as long as there is adequate ventilation.

"We have too many things coming and going on here, making it unsuitable for the dogs," Peg said.

In addition to the need for a building, donations are needed to help provide for food and other necessities for the nine dogs currently being care for by the Humane Society.

Also needed are volunteers to walk the dogs, spend time with them and brush them on a regular basis.

"We also need straw for bedding for the dogs," Peg said.

Schaffer said the building would not be needed permanently as Humane Society is in the process of developing a permanent facility in the Wayne community.

Anyone interested in finding out about the dogs available, wishing to volunteer or wanting to make a donation to the Humane Society can contact Peg at 375-3784 or 375-1830 or Nancy at 375-4420 or 375-5148.

Jamie added, "We stayed in a village of around 80 condos and our neighbors were from Sweden. Everything was set up for sick children."

The Olsufkas said there is a star with the name of every sick child who has visited and the family (Jade has two brothers, J.J., 16, and Jake, 14) would like to go back some day to see Jade's name on her star.

A happy thought for Jade and her family is the upcoming Relay for Life

Together for one last time

Recent District 51 students, teachers and several people who were students of District 51 in the past gathered at the final school picnic held at the school on May 10. Teachers Geneva Broomfield and Robin Sebade along with their 2000-01 students put on a Parents Day Program following a picnic supper. Main Street Focus

By Leo Ahmann

Congratulations to all the students in the area who graduated this past weekend. I hope the weather was somewhat cooperative. It appears there will be a few furnaces running this week perhaps.

A fun week at the Main Street Office last week as we continued to receive donations from the businesses and individuals that believe in Main Street Wayne. Also last week, Main Street Wayne agreed to move forward and purchase the two banner poles that will be placed in the alleys between The Diamond Center and Schaeffer's Maytag and across the street between The Renaissance and Inventive Communications. These poles when erected will hold the cables to run banners across the high, to give people passing through information about upcoming events in the community. The bolts and templates are on the way and hopefully, you'll be seeing some activity in these areas very, very soon.

Along with other activities connected with Main Street, Cut Frye, Vice-President and Dean of Students at Wayne State College, contacted this office and asked if we were interested in doing our promotions again this fall for new Wayne State College students. We enthusiastically said yes. Both promotions, a coupon book and a camera scavenger hunt throughout Wayne, were hugely successful and enjoyed by the students.

Speaking of promotions, we are wrapping up plans for Customer Appreciation Night on June 14. That is the evening Wayne businesses offer great store promotions as well as offer free food to those attending. It's the businesses way of saying "thank you" to their customers. It should be noted that we did have participation from businesses not directly located downtown.

Information on the evening will be hand-delivered or mailed to you in the near future.

Plans also continue for Henoween activities for Friday, July 13... followed on Saturday, July 14 by the 21st Annual Wayne Chicken Show to be held this year on the Wayne State College campus. We meet frequently with the Chamber to keep them abreast of our plans for Henoween. There is (was, depending on when you get your newspaper), an informational meeting at The Max, Thursday, May 24, beginning at 7 p.m., regarding the Chicken Show. Be sure to purchase your Chicken Show t-shirt at various locations in Wayne.

Henoween will be an evening of great food, fun and entertainment for the entire family, with some evening activities planned especially for the teenagers (and "young-at-heart" adults). I'll have more info for you in future columns.

Main Street Wayne has geared up to get the area between Doeschers Appliance and Edward Jones Investments developed into a pocket park, with gazebo, benches, flowers and more. You've heard me talk about this in the past but we ran into some stumbling blocks. Now we have revitalized the idea and have had some major contributors step forward with many volunteers ready to put on the work gloves and get started. It should be a beautiful addition to downtown, similar to the park at the corner of Second and Main Street, and an attractive view to people traveling through Wayne. We thank the City for their assistance already and are working with the Chamber on some possible future additions to the area.

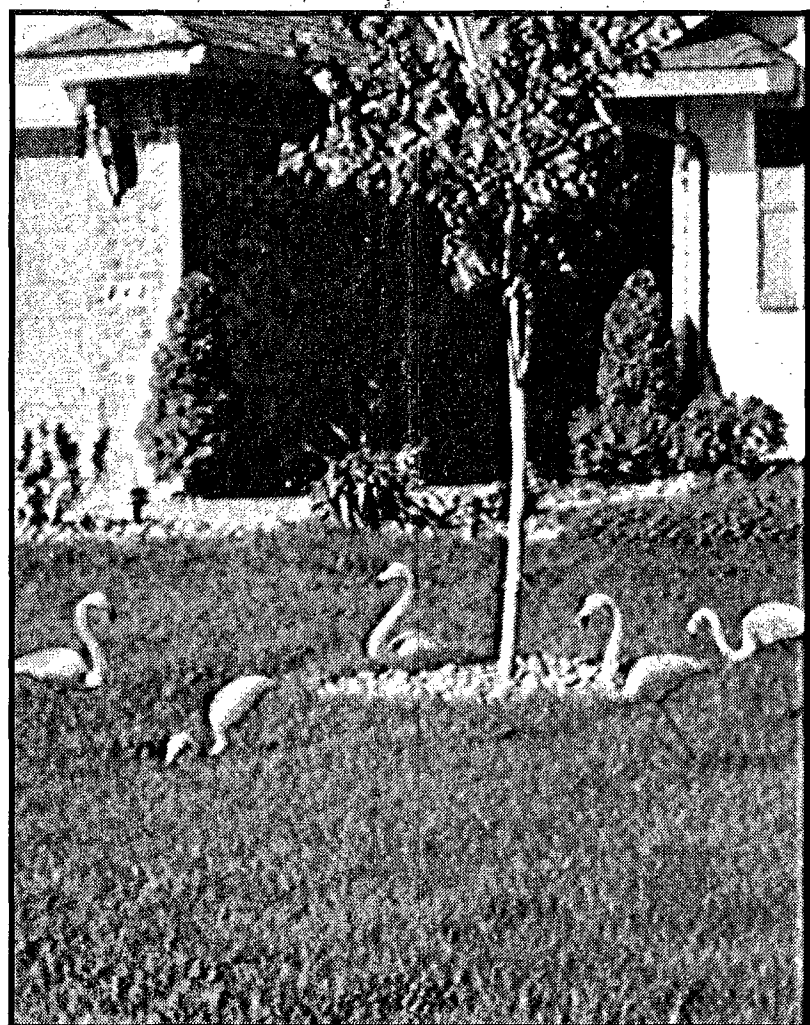

The summer sprint has begun and everyone seems revitalized. Everyone is working to make Wayne a place where people want to live, work, shop and have fun.

Main Street Wayne is just one of the many groups, clubs, churches and organizations working for the betterment of Wayne. Come join us. Questions, concerns, comments, call us at 375-5062, mail us at Box 43 or e-mail us at mainstreetwayne@midlands.net.

Until next time...

District 51 students say goodbye to classmates, teachers and school

Food, fellowship, and memories were shared at the last of many programs that were given through the years at District 51. The 10 students during the 2000-01 school year will be attending school in Wayne this fall, Geneva Broomfield will be teaching in Osmond, and Robin Sebade who was the P.E. and Music teacher during the 2000-01 school year is a student in elementary education at Wayne State College and will graduate next May. Some of the recent events Sebade organized were Jump for Heart, the Christmas Program, and the Parents Day Program. Sebade also helped the children make a video on the Husker Team, wrote and sent the video to the Husker players asking them to attend their school. The players couldn't attend but sent a "School is Cool" video back to the children. District 51 was the last rural school in Wayne, Dixon, and Cedar counties.

Flamingos to go

Kaye Morris' team members in this year's Relay For Life have been working toward raising funds in a unique way. They have been delivering flamingos to various spots throughout town. The flamingos will remain on someone's lawn until a donation is received. These flamingos were spotted in the northeast portion of Wayne several days ago. For more information on this project, call 375-1500 (days) or 375-3243 (evenings).

Relay for Life update

Two more corporate sponsors have been added to the list for this year's Relay for Life event to be held Friday, June 8 and Saturday, June 9 at the athletic field at Wayne State College. Godfather's and Restful Knights (Pacific Coast Feather) are the newest corporate sponsors. Other corporate sponsors include: The Wayne Herald, KTCH, Taco's and More, Pizza Hut, State National Bank, Village Inn, Runza, Dairy Queen, Sav Mor Drug, Copy Write, Stadium Sports, The Max Bar & Grill, Providence Medical Center, First National Card Center, Quality Food Center, Pac N Save, Riley's Convention Center & Tuscan Grille, and Wayne Motors. In Kind sponsors (those giving money or services) include: First National Bank, Wayne East, Bailey's Hair & Nails, and the Wayne Greenhouse.

purpose of collecting sales tax on remote sales, such as catalog orders and Internet commerce. The goal of the multi-state agreement is to lessen the complexity of sales tax collection while allowing states the flexibility to make their own sales tax policies. The bill was advanced to select file with a vote of 26-3.

We also gave final approval to a bill that would extend a program to provide funds for a statewide distance learning network. Distance learning programs utilize technology, including two-way cameras, to allow students at one site to receive instruction from a remote site. This gives students access to a broader range of unique classes that may not be offered at their own schools, which particularly benefits students in rural parts of our state.

The program is funded with a grant from the Education Innovation Fund. The fund receives money from state lottery proceeds. The bill extends the deadline for completion of the network from June 30, 2000 to June 30, 2002. Sen. Curt Bromm of Wahoo introduced the bill, and I signed on in support. The bill was signed by the Governor at a public ceremony on Monday, which I attended.

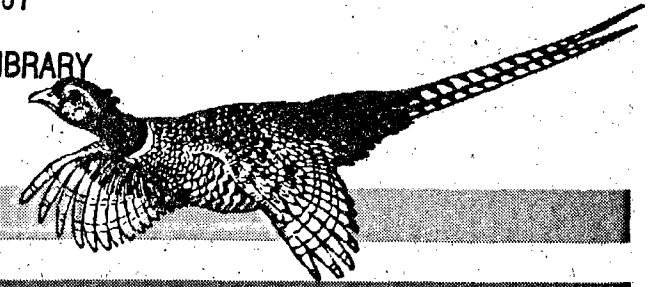

We advanced a bill that would establish a tax credit for new ethanol producers. The credit would be 20 cents per gallon. The credit would be funded from an excise tax on corn and sorghum and from the Ethanol Production Incentive Cash (EPIC) Fund, which would receive a $3 million general fund appropriation each year until 2008.

Sen. George Coordsen of Hebron introduced an amendment that would suspend the collection of the excise tax if the EPIC fund reaches $15 million, and would reinstate collection if the fund later dropped to less than $8 million. The amendment was adopted. Several other amendments were introduced and discussed, and after eight hours of debate, we invoked cloture and ended debate on the bill. The bill was advanced to final reading.

Two of the main issues remaining this session are congressional redistricting and the remainder of the debate on teacher pay. I will continue to keep you updated. In the meantime, if you have any comments or questions about any matter pending in the Legislature, please do not hesitate to contact me at my office: Senator Pat Engel, District #17, Box 94604, State Capitol, Lincoln, NE 68509; 402.471.2716 or e-mail lengel@unicam.state.ne.us.

WSC baseball team falls at Regionals; 'Cats set record

The Wayne State baseball team's most celebrated season in history came to an end at the NCAA Regionals last Saturday in Warrensburg, Missouri. John Manganaro's team posted a school record 35th win in the opening round 2-1 victory over Minnesota State-Mankato who were the champions of the North Central Conference. Brady Borner was the winning pitcher, tossing a complete game with five strikeouts while scattering seven hits. WSC had eight hits and scored two runs in the bottom of the eighth inning to break a scoreless tie. Andy Schultz broke that tie with a one-out, two-run single. Borner struck out the game's final batter with the tying run at second base. Joey Baldwin had three base hits to lead WSC with Schultz belting a double and single. Joel Tremblay, David Murn and Eric Fitch each had singles. The 'Cats scored three runs in the top of the first inning against host Central Missouri State but the Mules got things going in the fourth inning with six runs and never looked back as WSC fell, 12-3.

Nathan Miller was tagged with the loss with Andre Duval and Chad Walker also seeing action from the mound. WSC was out-hit by a 12-10 margin with David Murn and Joel Tremblay each doubling and singling. Andy Schultz had two base hits with Joey Baldwin, Brian Zimmerman, Eric Fitch and Joe Hartman each netting one single. Wayne State tangled with Minnesota State-Mankato for a second time in the loser's consolation final and this time it was Mankato coming out on top of a 11-5 decision. Both teams managed 11 hits. It was a 6-4 game after seven innings of play but Mankato scored five times in the eighth to put the game away for an 11-5 win. Tony Manganaro was tagged with the loss for the 35-10 Wildcats. Aaron Hyde and Courie Weber also saw pitching time. Andy Schultz paced the 'Cats offense with four singles while David Murn had a double and two singles. Gary Redden singled twice with Joel Tremblay and Brian Zimmerman each notching one base hit.

Eric Sturm hits his tee shot during first round action of the State Golf Tournament, Tuesday in Lincoln at Pioneer Golf Course. Wayne was 10th after day one with a 345.

Herbs for Health

St. John's Wort May "Interact" with Sun

A few prescription medicines have been shown to increase one's sensitivity to sun exposure. The result can be a sudden and painful sunburn after only a brief period of time in the sun. Now there is evidence that the popular herbal remedy St. John's Wort also may "interact" with radiation from the sun -- but in a different manner. A report in the prestigious medical journal The Lancet describes the experiences of a 35 year old woman who used 500 mg of St. John's Wort each day for four weeks. She began to feel a stinging-type pain on her face and on the back of her hands following sun exposure.

The physician who examined her could find no evidence of sunburn. She complained of pain after light touching. Exposure to cold temperature caused acute pain in areas that had been sun-exposed. Use of the herb was stopped, and symptoms disappeared over a two-month period.

The author of the report noted that St. John's Wort contains compounds that can damage certain cells upon exposure to sunlight. Myelin in nerve cells can be damaged, resulting in pain.

Learning a body of water makes fishing more enjoyable

Fishing is an excellent way to enjoy the outdoors as long as you can catch a fish from time to time.

In order to catch a fish, you need to know where they're located.

As I mentioned in previous articles, all species of fish relate to structure. Structure can be any change in the bottom — it can be as subtle as a change from mud to gravel or as extreme as a sharp drop off into the old river bed on the Missouri reservoirs.

You'll need to know where these changes are in order to locate the greatest number of fish.

It's pretty easy to find the structure on a river like the channelized Missouri. The dams control the amount of water flow and several times during the year, the spring and fall, discharge from the dams is slowed down due to flooding or lack of water above.

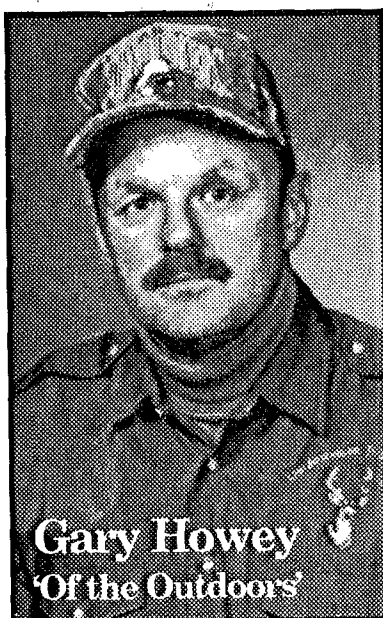

This is an excellent time to get out and look the river over as the points, snags, sand bars and deep holes will all be visible.

All you need to do is make a mental map of these areas or enter their coordinates into your GPS and once the water comes up, you've got a place to start.

This has worked well for me, especially when I don't have a whole lot of time to pre-fish an area.

I make numerous trips over the bridge at Yankton during low water periods and each time I do, I see new areas that will hold fish once the river is brought back to full pool. When it comes time to fish the area, I head right for these newly discovered spots and look for fish.

On lakes, the easiest way to find fish holding structure is to purchase a contour map of the lake. These maps show changes in depth and indicate the distance between depth changes. They are usually quite inexpensive and a lot easier to read than you might think.

Gary Howey
'Of the Outdoors'

The time of the year will also be a factor when it comes to fish location!

In the spring and fall, look for areas that will warm up quickly. Areas with a dark mud bottom or an area with a lot of rocks will attract fish earlier because the dark bottom and rocks will heat up and stay warm longer.

Fish will be coming out of their slow period and looking for areas of warmer water to prepare for the spawn.

Another good indicator as to where the fish are located is the wind. No matter what time of the year it is, I always try to fish the windy side? I know what you're thinking! What a pain fighting the wind. The reason I fish the windy side is because that's where the fish are located!

The aquatic life has to follow its food around. They don't have a Wendy's or Pizza Hut swim-through pickup window. They have to follow their food source or go hungry.

The tiny microscopic aquatic life moves around in the water with the current or are carried in the waves by wind. If all of the smaller aquatic life are blown to one side of the lake or pond by the wind, you can bet that the minnow which feed on these microscopic creatures will be close by. The larger prey fish that feed on the minnows will also be tagging along looking for dinner.

There's no such thing as a bad fishing trip! The only difference between a good fishing trip and an excellent fishing trip is catching a few fish.

In order to catch them, you'll need to locate either the structure they call home or the food that they prefer and by keeping your eyes open, you'll find and catch more fish.

DIXON COUNTY MUSEUM VISITORS
On the afternoon of May 10, the Allen fourth grade class and their teacher, Mrs. VonMinden, visited the Museum, School House and Machinery building.

Storyteller Alice Dietz of Norfolk presented "Sagagawea" in costume and displayed artifacts used by her people. Afterwards, the students saw exhibits of things used in pioneer days in Dixon County.

Next, Shirley Stohler demonstrated grinding corn into meal. When asked the children thought it took quite a long time to make enough meal for a pan of corn bread. Grace Green then explained displays, which were located in the basement and answered questions.

At the schoolhouse, Roy Stohler and Micky Bicknell told about attending school in the country. They next went to the Machinery Building where Ed Fahrenholz and Lowell Nygren demonstrated how to make a rope. The children then got a chance to help make a rope, which they were able to take back with them to school.

After the tours, cookies and lemonade were served. The students said that one exhibit they liked was a buffalo robe used by an early doctor from Newcastle.

Too tired to discipline

All of us, no matter how much we love our children, have been known to crack under the combined pressure of our own stressed lives and our children's ability to pester us to the brink of insanity.

Caving in just makes small problems bigger. Caving in tells the children that misbehavior works.

So, no matter how exhausted you are, you don't really have any choice — you've got to do something.

Here's how to stand firm and find peace.

1. Slow and steady wins the race — discipline means more than the Evil Eye or a prolonged stay in time out. Discipline is everything we do to teach our children how to make healthy, positive decisions for themselves.

2. Nip problems in the bud — In the best of all worlds, our kids wouldn't misbehave to begin with. If we anticipate potential trouble spots and plan ahead, we can find ways to short-circuit them.

3. Teach kids to help them- selves — When the inevitable breakdown does occur, we need to react in a way that will help not only to defuse the situation but also teach our children to solve problems for themselves.

4. Go to the rule book — Develop a set of family or household rules and use them. When chaos enters, let the house rule be the guide.

5. Don't wimp out — Despite our best-laid plans, children do break rules. When this happens, parents need to enforce the rules. With today's fast paced schedule, it's easy for parents to give into the stress of life.

Kids need to know that both their good behavior and their bad behavior have consequences. As parents, we only have a few hours a day with our kids, so it is important to stand firm and make the time we have with their our children pleasant.

Underactive Thyroid Increases Women's Risk Of Heart Attack

A study in the Annals of Internal Medicine found that women having even a mild case of underactive thyroid were twice as likely to have blockages of their heart arteries. An underactive thyroid leads to an increase in cholesterol levels and blood pressure, risk factors for heart disease. About 10% of women in their 60s and 70s have underactive thyroids. Just a simple blood test can detect the condition, even when it is so mild you have no symptoms.

Wang to speak at Praise Assembly

Reverend Solomon Wang, recently approved Assembly of God missionary to Southern Asia, will be speaking at Praise Assembly of God, 1000 East 10th Street (north on Hillside Drive or east on 10th Street), on Sunday, May 27 at 6:30 p.m. according to Pastor Mark Steinbach.

Solomon and his wife, Lori, are the first Assembly of God missionaries, and the first known Christian missionaries, to be assigned to a small region in Southern Asia, which is predominantly Buddhist.

Solomon's grandfather was one of the first people to accept Christ in the small nation of Bhutan, and was eventually martyred for his faith in Jesus. Solomon's father ended up in India as a refugee during World War II. Solomon grew up in Calcutta under the care of Missionaries Mark and Huldah Buntain, who began a ministry called, "Mission of Mercy."

"Mission of Mercy" has orphanages, schools, hospitals, feeding programs, etc. which are largely sponsored by monthly donations of individuals. A Canadian family sponsored Solomon when he was a child in the amount of $20 per month.

Solomon later helped the Buntains and oversaw the school and other ministry departments. He has traveled to 34 countries, and has pastored two churches in Nebraska. He and his wife and three children, will be leaving the country in October of this year to begin a new life as Missionaries.

Solomon is a dynamic speaker with great stories and a powerful message of hope and God's grace and love. The public is invited and encouraged to attend and an offering will be taken to help bring Jesus to Southern Asia.

Altona church to celebrate

First Trinity Lutheran Church of Altona will celebrate its 120th anniversary on Sunday, June 10, 2001.

The Anniversary Service will be held at 10:15 a.m. The Rev. Roy T. Radloff of Sioux Falls, S.D. will be the guest speaker. A potluck luncheon will follow the service.

First Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, Altona, was organized on Trinity Sunday, June 12, 1881, under the leadership of Rev. G. Bullinger at the home of Carl Erxleben, Sr. It is believed that worship services were held in the homes of members.

After this, services were held in the public school in the area. It is also thought that a room was later added to the Erxleben home for the worship services.

The first church building was erected in 1887. It was located on the south side of the road, across from the present church. The present church was erected in 1911, between May and December.

The present church officers include: Board of Elders — Harris Heinemann, Richard Siefken and James Youngmeyer; Board of Trustees — Neal Greenwald, Wilbert Stuthman and Les Youngmeyer; Secretary — Clara Heinemann; Treasurer — LeRoy Janssen and Financial Secretary — Steve Heinemann.

The Rev. Keith Kihne serves as the present pastor of the church.

Each year the Northeast Board of Governors offers a half-tuition scholarship for four consecutive semesters to an outstanding senior in each high school within the 20-county area served by Northeast Community College.

Warner will be a Freshman at Northeast Community College in the fall of 2001. Warner is the son of Jack and Rhonda Warner of Allen. He is enrolled in the study for associate of applied science degree-residential and commercial electrician.

Chris Loofe

Receives master's degree

Chris Loofe, son of Mike and the late Kathy Loofe, was among the approximately 1,000 students to receive degrees from the University of Nebraska - Omaha on May 5 at the Omaha Civic Auditorium.

Chris, a 1990 graduate of Wakefield Community School and a 1994 graduate of Wayne State College, received his Master of Science in Education degree in Special Education.

He is a Special Education instructor at Millard West High School and is also an assistant coach for the boys' varsity football and basketball teams.

Chris and his wife, Kim (Liska) and their twin daughters, Lauren and Madeline, reside in Omaha.

His grandparents include Gloria Rennerfeldt and Bill Bolton, both of Wakefield and Irene (Loofe) Fuller of Walthill.

Survey being conducted

Kim Buoy of Laurel will contact some Wayne County farmers and ranchers during June and the first half of July to ask them to take part in a nationwide survey of American agriculture.

As a primary source of agricultural information, this survey is one of the largest and most important conducted by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's National Agricultural Statistics Service (NASS). The resulting information will be used to make reliable state, regional and national estimates of crop acreage, grain stocks and livestock inventories. The NASS office in Lincoln is handling the Nebraska portion of the survey.

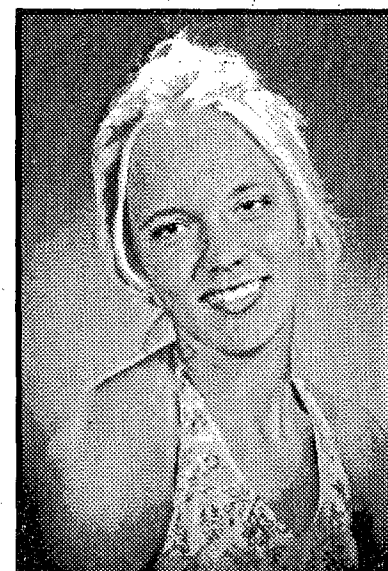

"Farmer and rancher cooperation is vital to provide accurate crop and livestock reports. Without the help of Nebraska producers, these reports may not be as accurate as they can be and could give the wrong picture," said Kim Buoy, the trained interviewer who will carry out the survey in this area. Most producers selected for interviews have already been notified by mail.

This survey will provide the first clear indication of the potential production of major crops for 2001. Producers themselves rely on the data to reach valid production, marketing and investment decisions.

Congress and regulators use the information to produce better regulations and farm programs. Industry analysts, extension agents, farm organizations and agricultural lenders need the information for a variety of reasons.

"We safeguard the confidentiality of all survey responses," said William G. Hamlin, director of the State Office. "Data about individual operations are used only in conjunction with information from other producers to arrive at state and national totals," according to Hamlin.

For a copy of the finished report or to obtain other agricultural statistics, visit the NASS website at www.usda.gov/nass/ or call 1-402-437-5541.

Advice offered is to let your children play

By Jon Meierhenry
filling in for 'Farmers Wife'

A few months ago, my sister Sue had the opportunity to talk about her passion and experience with music and how the grade school and high school memories really molded her and had an influence on the rest of her life.

Well, having a mother who also happens to be "The Farmer's Wife" has its advantages. Now I get the chance to speak on the passion I have with a similar topic, athletics, and specifically how it shapes your child's life. And better, yet, I can say just about anything I want and get away with it.

I can remember as far back as grade school and how excited I was to hit recess and pick up any ball available and play. I now look at it differently when I take my 7 and 3-year-olds to "biddy basketball" or gymnastics or even that one sport I still don't get, soccer.

(Come on parents I know some of you are with me). I now see it as an opportunity for letting your child experiment with a sport, any sport, regardless of success or failure. It's not the competition or how good they may become, but the valuable experience they get in learning about the "team" concept, rules/structure, success/failure, and most importantly respect for coaches, officials and parents.

I look back and realize how important it is for kids to have positive teachers, coaches, and parents. How lucky we were to have Mrs. Monroe or Mrs. Scott as our Winside Physical Education teachers. I ask Randa, my 7-year-old, almost weekly what she learned at school today and what she did in P.E. "Did you play on scooters, dodge ball or capture the flag?" I loved those games! The tough days were when Mrs. Monroe made Brian and I be on opposite teams. We would almost kill each other.

Which reminds me of another characteristic of early athletics for kids. Passive vs. Aggressive. The kids that get the most out of the early games are the ones whose parents help them to be outgoing, communicate, try new things, and socialize. That's right, socialize. The single most important thing that kids should get out of these early activities is how to talk, walk, laugh, yell, scream, high five and cry when the situation calls for it.

By: Pat Meierhenry

"It's OK to cry if you're hurt," I hear myself say constantly. During Randa's first soccer game she attempted to kick the ball and instead kicked the leg of one of the opposing team members. She quickly took her attention off the ball and stopped to say, "Sorry, are you O.K.?" While the other team headed in for a goal. Now that's socializing. I've learned there is no right or wrong reaction, except no reaction at all.

In case you haven't noticed a recurring theme in what I'm saying, it has to do with parents and parental involvement with your kids. Whether it's athletics, music, reading, or homework, it's absolutely imperative that you get involved in the activity. However, that does not mean criticizing coaches for not playing your child or being jealous of another child for his/her ability, or looking down on another for his/her lack of ability. It means being supportive and enthusiastic of your child so that your child understands it's OK to scream, yell or groan at their own successes or failures.

My father-in-law has coached girls softball for the "Lincoln Swingers" for over 25 years. He will be the first to tell you that his most rewarding years were when he had supportive and enthusiastic parents of the kids he was coaching. He went as far as to quit for a couple of years because of the actions of some of the parents. He tells the story of how once the complaining and bickering from the parents got so bad he had to do something about it. Before the next game he called all the parents together and told them they had this chance to put together the lineup. The parents wanted to know if everyone would see what they had written down. Merle said, "Absolutely, you get to see my lineup every game!" Not one parent turned theirs in and that was the end of the problem. For that season anyway.

Parents should cherish this opportunity to watch your child perform. How exciting and rewarding it is when your child is competing in sports, spelling bees or recitals. Can you believe your child can do those things?

We live in such a technological age. Randa is double clicking and downloading everything in sight. I'm writing this on Microsoft Word and I have to wait till Kristi gets home so she can show me how to print it. Maybe Randa knows, but I'll have to wait till she gets off the Net.

Parents also have gone cam-corder crazy. What a great way to capture each moment in time for your kids. My kids go to sleep watching old videos of themselves on the television/VCR combination in their room. Whatever happened to reading comic books with a flashlight under the blanket? All these things contribute to a child's awareness of their own abilities. But nothing contributes more to their success later in life than giving them a chance to discover their strengths and weaknesses and how to interact with other kids.

Enjoy the chance you have to watch your kids play. Some parents never get that opportunity.

Restoration of Maskenthine Lake Continues

NORFOLK - Maskenthine Lake, north of Stanton, will be getting a "face-lift" this year. The Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District (LENRD) received a grant from the Nebraska Environmental Trust Fund in the amount of $225,000. The grant will be used to remove sediment and to restore the upper end of the lake to its original excellent fishing area. The LENRD has matched the grant up to $100,000. Other improvements, funded by a Land and Water Conservation Grant from the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission, will include more camper pads, another playground, a second lane on the boat ramp, and adding winter sports to the area.

The sediment removal from the lake will take the most time and will be the most extensive step in the restoration process. In the 1980's, major storms caused large amounts of sediment to wash into Maskenthine Lake. The sediment filled in the good fishing areas in the upper end of the lake making it too shallow for bank fishing. The plan is to remove the sediment from the lake, making an eight-foot deep channel in the north half of the lake from near the existing boat ramp to the county road. The project will improve bank fishing and boat fishing and will improve the fisheries as well. The Nebraska Game and Parks Commission currently manages the fisheries at Maskenthine Lake for the LENRD.

LENRD Recreation Area Superintendent Leonard Boryca said, "To begin the process, the lake level will be drawn down three to four feet. There will be less water in the lake this summer and we ask that the public be patient and understanding during the stages of construction." He added, "As the eight-foot channel is constructed, a series of four jetties will also be built. These jetties will give people access to good bank fishing. They will be able to walk on the jetties and fish off the sides."

Draw down of the lake's water has already started and construction will begin in early June and continue until the end of the year. Because there will be less water in the lake, the swimming beach may have to be closed most of the year and the public will not be allowed near the construction area. The construction area will extend from near the existing boat ramp north to county road 839. Jensen Construction of Stanton will do the sediment removal.

The new channel being constructed will remain open for many years due to the better conservation practices that are being implemented up stream in the watershed. The sediment trap that was constructed in 1996 on the north side of the lake will continue to work on keeping sediment and chemicals from returning to Maskenthine, and the wetland north of the county road will provide an additional filter for incoming water. LENRD Assistant General Manager Ken Berney said, "I'm really excited about the improvements we're making at the lake. The new channel and jetties will provide excellent bank fishing. We'll be going from practically no bank fishing to several good locations on the jetties."

The LENRD is working together with the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission to treat the annual "curly pond weed" problem that affects most area lakes. The weed usually grows for about four to six weeks before it expires naturally. "Since it is too expensive to treat the entire lake, we will be focusing on key areas such as the boat dock and fishing pier." Berney commented. He added, "The curly pond weed is an aggravation, but fortunately is short lived. Thanks to the public for their patience in this matter. On a more positive note the weed does provide fish habitat for greater fishing opportunities."

Other improvements include the removal of the old Blattner farmstead, on the east side of the lake, to allow more area for future recreational development.

The LENRD hired a full-time superintendent last spring. Leonard Boryca is the Recreational Area Superintendent for both Maskenthine Lake and the Pilger Recreation Area. For more information on these projects, contact Leonard Boryca at the lake or contact the LENRD office in Norfolk.

FAN OF THE YEAR

Pam Haglund and her son Kevin were presented the "Fan of the Year" award during the Athletic Booster Banquet May 8 at the Legion Hall.

Male and female athlete of the year awards were presented to Timarie Bebee and Ty Nixon. The awards were presented by Activities Director John Torczon.

In making the presentation, Torczon explained how these awards are determined. He said there is a long list of accomplishments which he records during the school year. Various honors (i.e. all conference or all district honors) are rated by the point system.

In the spring, those points are totaled to determine the honorees.

Around 225 students, athletes, coaches, parents and fans attended the banquet. The boosters expressed appreciation to everyone who attended and/or donated in some way to help make the event successful.

PRESENTS BUSINESS PLANS

The Wakefield Community School Art and Entrepreneurship class hosted a Community support Team on May 1. At the meeting, students presented their business plans and extended thanks to their parents and members of the Support Team.

Professional presentations were made utilizing Microsoft Powerpoint software. Students in the class this year created business products, wrote business plans and are now in the process of product marketing and product development, according to class instructors Jennifer Goos and Kirby Mousel.

Andrew Hickson, Anthony Lunz and Matt Petersen were named as the recipients of the "2001 Product Development and Business plan of the Year."

Presentations were made by Jennifer Haglund and Victor Tello on Snazzy Snacks; Loretta Nelson, Barn Candles; Matt Petersen and Anthony Lunz, The Barn Game; Andrew Hickson and Lino Ramones, Barn Notes; and Nate Henderson, Jose Vega and Marcelo Manjarrex on Midwestern Barn Collection.

Natural "Medicine" for Heart Disease

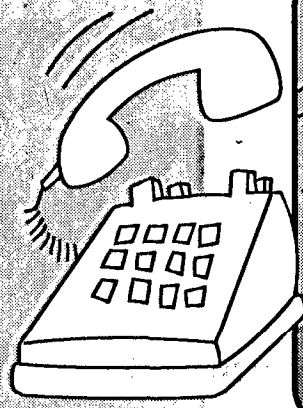

According to a recent study, a natural compound known as coenzyme Q-10 or ubiquinone may be useful in a number of conditions involving the heart. Uboquinone was first identified in 1957. Today, according to some reports, it is one of the "medicines" of choice in treating heart disease in Japan, where 250 different commercial ubiquinone products are available. These products are used for congestive heart failure, high blood pressure, and heart irregularities. Other uses include increasing exercise tolerance and protecting the heart from low oxygen blood levels. Although ubiquinone is not an herb, it is included in some herbal formulas.

One study of ubiquinone involved 2,664 persons with mild to moderate heart failure. Improvements in edema, shortness of breath, and palpitations (being able to feel the heart beat) were reported. In another study of 19 chronic heart disease patients, there was an increased ability to tolerate exercise with ubiquinone. Twelve of the 19 showed marked improvement, and no serious side effects were reported.

May 14, 2001

The regular meeting of the Wayne Community Schools Board of Education was held at the Wayne High School in Wayne, NE on Monday, May 14, 2001 at 7:00 p.m. Notice of the meeting and place of agenda was published in the Wayne Herald.

The following board members answered roll call: Jean Blomenkamp, Bill Dickey, Sue Gilmore, Dennis Lipp, and Kaye Morris. Board member John Dunning was absent.

Adoption of the Agenda: Additional Item IX.A. New Business - Policy 9110 -

Computer Filtering of the Internet and Executive Session will be held to discuss personnel. Motion to adopt the agenda with amended changes. Motion carried.

Approval of Minutes from Previous Meeting: Motion to approve the minutes from April 9, 2001 and April 23, 2001 regular meetings. Motion carried.

Personnel: Resignation & Employment of Volunteer Teacher (William Wilson) - Resignation and letter of understanding between Dr. Reinert and Mr. Wilson was given to board members to review prior to the meeting. Mr. Wilson will be a volunteer teacher for the first semester of 2001-02 school year and will be a contracted teacher for the second semester of the 2001-02 school year. Dr. Reinert explained that a precedent may be set but if the situation presents itself again, each situation will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis. Motion to approve the resignation and letter of understanding between Dr. Reinert and Mr. Wilson was given to board members to review prior to the meeting. Mr. Wilson will be a volunteer teacher for the first semester of 2001-02 school year and will be a contracted teacher for the second semester of the 2001-02 school year. Dr. Reinert explained that a precedent may be set but if the situation presents itself again, each situation will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis. Motion to approve the resignation and letter of understanding between Dr. Reinert and Mr. William Wilson. Motion carried.

Teachers Eligible for Tenure - Three teachers had been overlooked in previous years for tenure: Kay Mader, Denell Parker, and Elizabeth Guill. Teachers also eligible for tenure based upon three years of successful teaching experience in the Wayne Public Schools include: Amy Jackson, David Clausen, Robin Marlowe, Jean Dorsey. Motion to tenure be granted to Kay Mader, Denell Parker, Elizabeth Guill, Amy Jackson, David Clausen, Robin Marlowe and Jean Dorsey. Motion carried.

Non-Certified Staff: John Redel and Sharon Grimm were not included on the rehires list approved in April due to summer hours needing to be worked out. Motion to approve John Redel and Sharon Grimm as custodians for the 2001-02 school year. Motion carried.

Financial Claims and Reports: Motion to approve the financial claims and reports as presented. Motion carried.

Gifts: None.

Bids and Contracts: Eastern Nebraska Distance Learning Consortium (EN-DLC) - Dr. Reinert explained to board members the purpose of this contract. The district is a member of the consortium to offer distance learning classes. The three-year grant period is up and now costs associated with the consortium will need to be covered by member school districts. An estimate of $6,000 was given to cover operations and maintenance. The consortium is looking to add five schools, which Winside is one of. Dr. Reinert is working with Winside and Pender to possibly offer Spanish as a distance learning class. Dr. Zeiss stated that 188 students have registered for Spanish for the 2001-02 school year. This past year, during first semester, Dale Hochstein taught Psychology via distance learning to three other schools besides Wayne. A concern of the board members was the length of the inter-local agreement for seven years. Member school districts may withdraw, as stated in the terms of the agreement. If we have the capabilities and resources to offer distance learning classes, we should utilize the facilities. Motion to approve the Inter-Local Agreement for the Eastern Nebraska Distance Learning Consortium (EN-DLC) for seven years. Motion carried.

High School Fire Alarm Bids - Model Electric of Norfolk was the low bidder for the phased process of updating the high school fire alarm system, phase I - $85,380.00 and phase II - $14,370.00, total of $99,750.00. It was discussed that this project may be a lease purchase with other projects. Model Electric also included $8,720.00 deduct to install plenum fire alarm cable instead of conduit. Board member John Dunning pointed out that plenum cable will stop burning in the event of a fire and may not alert the rest of the building that there is a fire. Motion to accept the bid from Model Electric in the amount of $99,750.00 with no deduct. Motion carried.

Transfer of Land & Title for Community Activity Center - The purchase agreement with the City of Wayne for the land and title for the Community Activity Center was presented to the board. Mr. Chris Connolly, Board attorney, stated that this purchase agreement is one of three yet to be drafted. This specific agreement includes construction access and easement. More details are yet to be agreed upon between Dr. Reinert and Lowell Johnson, City Administrator, in regards to movement of soil, and watering. Motion to approve the purchase agreement with the City of Wayne for Community Activity Center. Motion carried.

Track/Football Facility - Mr. Rocky Ruhl, presented to board members information he has gathered on possible options for the track and football facility. Several companies came to look at the present facility and gave suggestions on what can be done. Different options looked at included: 1) tear out existing asphalt and replace with compacted dirt; 2) repair by filling cracks with polyurethane rubber, then topcoat with a 3/16" this sealer and re-strip; 3) clean, install, petrotac on the major cracks, install hot mix asphalt to level low areas and 2" overlay of asphalt; and 4) completely remove asphalt, grade and compact a new base using rock and possibly old asphalt, put in adequate drainage system around the track to maintain a stable base, asphalt with proper slope inward, a top running surface and stripe. Polyurethane track would be ideal and top of the line, lasting 10-12 years. If the poly track is installed, there is the issue of cost of maintenance and budgeting the money. If the district doesn't want to put in the poly track, then does the district fill in the cracks to make it suitable for physical education and community use and partner with Wayne State College for their track and football renovation. If the district is going to have the track program, then we must provide the facilities. If the district cannot provide the facility, then the program cannot be offered. We must keep our athletes safe. Engineering firms will be contacted to get samples taken of the track/football facility to see what we have and what is wrong with it. Motion to pursue the track project study proposal and submit a recommendation to the board. Motion carried.

Communications from the Public on Agenda Items: None.

Informational Items or Reports: High School Breakfast Survey - Dr. Zeiss conducted a survey of high school students and results are as the following. Students who would eat (218 surveyed): daily - 39 (18%), never - 36 (17%), sometimes - 143 (65%). Several high school students are here for early morning practices such as jazz and marching band, jazz choir, junior high athletics. Currently, there is not grant money available to start a breakfast program. A new convocation oven is being planned for the high school kitchen. Items that could possibly be served would be muffins, fruit, juice, milk and other a la carte items. Dr. Zeiss stated that the Emporium School Store sells tremendous amounts of muffins and pop tarts to students in study halls in the morning. The breakfast program may be one to two years away before being started.

North Central Association (NCA) Accreditation - A letter of congratulations was received by Dr. Zeiss from the North Central Association. The North Central Association of Colleges and Schools (NCA) has accredited Wayne High School for the 2000-2001 school year. The accreditation process is based upon course offerings, how many periodicals are purchased, teacher qualifications, etc. The different between State accreditation and NCA accreditation is that the school district is accredited by the state and the NCA accredits specific building such as the high school.

High School Instructional Hours/ Attendance Summary - Dr. Zeiss provided information for the Board on how many days school were in session during the 2001-2001 school year. Classes were in session or 175 days and 1159.92 hours. Five snow days were used during the year. There are 410 minutes in each school day.

Scholarship Announcement at Graduation Ceremony - Dr. Zeiss spoke to the board about the survey conducted by Guidance Counselor Terry Munson, with regards to reading scholarships at graduation. The Class of 2001 was not in favor of reading these for various reasons. Board members agreed that it illustrates achievement of excellence for students and school district. Academic and athletic scholarships are awarded, with other scholarships being sought out by the students. For those students who do not receive scholarships, they have the opportunity to achieve academically over the four-year career in high school.

Special Education Update - Mr. Lofquist, SPED Director, shared with board members a monthly update from his department. Several meetings have been held over the past month: 11 MDTs, 8 IEPs, and 1 "504" review. Summer school will be session from July 30 - August 10, 2001. The Flex-Funding Program had another successful year. Mrs. Lisa organized a study lab to help "at-risk" students. The online IEP system is ahead of schedule. An annual meeting has been set for school districts and ESUs who provide services to the 0-5 population. This meeting is required by law.

Superintendent Report: Building Renovation / Construction Update: Parapets on the north and south sides of the existing building have been removed and roof re-shingled. Crews are ready to begin painting on the third floor and finish dry walling on the second and third floors. The gym and commons are still muddly and construction crews have not been able to pour the cement floors. The gym roof is complete. Cabling and telephone contractors will begin wiring in the building on June 1. Dr. Reinert has asked the architects and construction crews to give any cost-savings from not pouring the front driveway, moving outside lighting, etc. Tentative completion date has been set for December 5, 2001. The high school had a leak in the new science roof addition. A vent problem was discovered and the company who put it in was contacted and has come to take care of the problem.

Track/Football Facility - Discussed earlier in the meeting.

Statewide Writing Assessment Results - Each building principal received individual scores for their students. Students in grades 4, 8, and 11 were tested. Tests were then sent to various ESU sites across the state to be graded. Each ESU received 2,500 tests with 40-50 people reading them. Results from students this year will be compared to students who take the test next year that won't be the same students. Our students did exceptionally well.

Purchase of Property - The Region IV parking lot, third to the west of the high school parking lot, has been listed for sale. Bill Dickey, had visited with Alan Zavodny, CEO of Region IV/Northeast about the house. A market analysis was conducted and returned with a cost of $70,000. The property could be used for administrative offices or storage. Dr. Reinert mentioned that the storage shed downtown may no longer be available where all the middle school furnishings are being stored, along with paper inventory. A tour of the property has been set for Thursday, May 17, 2001 at 10:30 a.m.

Board Committees: Facility - Tour of possible property purchase scheduled for Thursday, May 17, 2001 at 10:30 a.m. for board members.

Foundation - Waiting on class lists to be finished.

Legislative - The teacher salary bill has passed to the second reading, with 31 votes needed from the senators to get it this far. Governor Johanns has said he would veto the bill if it would support tax increases. If Johanns would veto the legislative bill, there would not be enough votes to override it, as 31 of senators are changing their position on it. Our state Senator was one of six who voted no for the bill approval.

Negotiations - Waiting to see what the Legislature does.

Policy - A meeting needs to be scheduled for policies that Phyllis Spethman has recompiled prior to the June meeting.

Planning - No report.

Community Relations - No report.

Finance - No report.

Technology - Dr. Reinert has been writing a Technology Literacy Grant to hire a certified trainer for staff development, replace servers and purchase 80 new computers - to have labs in each building.

Summer 2001 Drivers Education Program - Motion to increase the resident tuition to $150.00 (increase of $10 from 2000) and non-resident tuition to $185.00. Motion carried.

Approval of 2001-02 Calendar - With Wayne becoming a member of the Mid-States Conference, dates need to be investigated further for scheduling. No action was taken on the calendar. Mr. Ruhl conducted a survey about the school's mascot. The student body was in favor of keeping the blue devil mascot. We will be buying conference signs from Stanton who offered to sell them to us.
