Carroll tractor pull is popular event

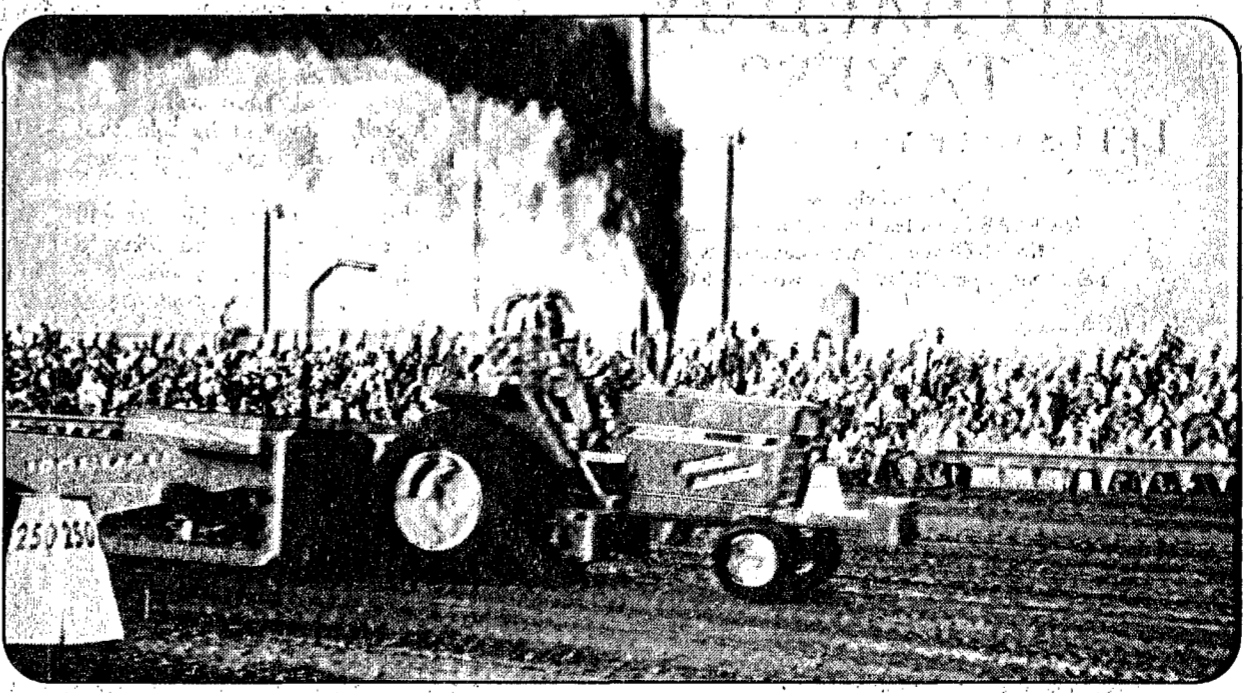

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

Heading north on the highway into Carroll, one can see billboards of local advertisers around the track where the Carroll Tractor Pull is held each year. For those familiar with the event, memories of smoke, turbo-charged engines, lots of people and excitement comes to mind.

Looking back, the Carroll Tractor Pull began as a fill-in after activities were finished at the Carroll Centennial in July, 1986. Dennis Rohde organized the first Carroll Tractor Pull and continues to be in charge of the event.

Not being able to get the dates needed in '87, no pull was held but there have been pulls each year since then. Rohde remembers his friends Randy and Butch Janke and Keith Gamble used to pull and it was through them that Rohde became interested in tractor pulls in the first place.

Through the Jankes', the Rohdes' got the idea of feeding the pullers while they camp out near the track each year. Alice makes taverns for pullers and volunteers each year.

Possibly the largest crowd ever was on hand for this year's Carroll Tractor Pull held in July. Participants from surrounding towns and several states were on hand for the annual event.

Many aspects of our program can help them raise the funds they need."

Police to begin charging to unlock vehicles

Beginning Oct. 1, 2001, the Wayne Police Department will be charging a $20 fee to unlock vehicles.

The Wayne Police Department is one of the few law enforcement agencies in the State of Nebraska that perform this service. On the average, over 480 vehicles are unlocked each year.

This service costs the city of Wayne in wages, tools and training each year.

The concept of charging a fee for this service came from the recent round of municipal budget hearings. The decision to implement the fee was ultimately voted on by the Wayne City Council.

Beginning Oct. 1, when someone calls the police department and requests that their vehicle be unlocked, they will be told that there is now a charge for the service.

Officers unlocking the cars will collect the money and issue a receipt at the time of service.

Stephanek started as the CSFP Coordinator on Aug. 27. She and her daughter, Samantha, 15, live in Wisner. Stephanek was previously employed at First National Bank in Omaha.

The Commodities Supplemental Food Program provides nutrition education and high-iron foods to infants, children to the age of six years, persons 60 years or older, and pregnant or postpartum women who meet income and residency guidelines. Commodity foods are provided in 12 of the 14 counties for which Goldenrod Hills offer services: Antelope, Burt, Cedar, Cuming, Dakota, Dixon, Knox, Madison, Pierce, Stanton, Thurston, and Wayne counties.

Goldenrod Hills Community Services is a community action agency which mobilizes resources to meet the needs of Northeast Nebraskans. In addition to CSFP, GHCS programs include immunization; Kids Connection enrollment; weatherization; lead poisoning awareness and screening; public health nursing; family services; Head Start; early development services coordination for children with disabilities; Every Woman Matters breast and cervical cancer screening; maternal and child health programs; HOME; and Women, Infants and Children Nutrition. Common sense is needed

Main Street Focus

By Leo Ahmann

In light of all we have seen, heard and read about regarding the atrocities that hit our country on Sept. 11, I leave you to your private thoughts, prayers, hopes and wishes.

We need not be afraid but lean on the family unit, your church family and your friends even more. Our country's leaders have asked us to go on . . . and we are.

On Wednesday, Oct. 10 from 7 to 8 p.m. the "America United" Disaster Relief Benefit will be held at the Wayne City Auditorium. Music will be provided by area groups and there will be a short talk given. The citizens

The patriotic music played by the college band before the award presentations was a wonderful touch to the end of a tough week for everyone.

Banners for Pheasants Forever and The Wayne United Way (up now) have made great use of the Main Street banner poles for signage across the highway. We hope that if your group, club, church or organization has something coming up, that you'd take advantage of the poles and get your own banner up. Remember, there is no charge, but please check with us about the specifications on the banners before you have one made.

We do want you to mark your calendar now for Dec. 1!!! That will be the night of the Main Street Wayne's first "Winter Festival on the Main" to be held at Riley's. I won't give you any more details at this time, but plenty of information will be following soon. Do we know that it is also the night of the Big 12 Championship Football game??? Yes, we do. Will there be a TV(s) available? Yes, there will!!! It will be a wonderful evening.

Speaking of winter (what a great segue), Main Street Wayne is looking for a tree that we'll be erecting during the Christmas season again this year on the corner of Seventh and Main Streets.

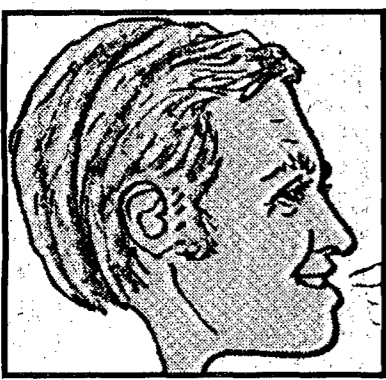

If you are going to be doing some landscaping that would include the removal of a large evergreen, please contact this office at 375-5062.

Halloween and Thanksgiving are next in line, but with some of our other seasonal planning we have to get done, we need to plan ahead.

On Saturday, Oct. 27, youngsters will be able to Trick or Treat downtown, following a movie and costume contest at Hollywood Theatre. There will be more details later.

Until next time . . .

P.S. We changed the date of the "Winter Festival on Main" to Dec. 2.

organizing the event hope it will be an inspirational evening for the young and the not so young.

Free will donations will be taken at the door, or you may make your contribution at the State National Bank in Wayne. Proceeds from the event will go to the New York Firefighters 9-11 Disaster Relief Fund. If you have questions about the event, contact Shelley Frevert, Jeanie Sturm or Conni Davis at 375-1130.

Next week is the Nebraska Lied Main Street Annual Award Banquet in Ogallala and the Haythorne Ranch. At that time, our Volunteer of the Year, Merchant of the Year and our other award winning project will be announced. We'll have the details for you later in the Wayne Herald and on KTCH radio.

I know this is past history, but it was great to see all the bands in the parade this year for the Wayne State College Band Day.

Country needs to come to terms

Dear Editor,

Like all Americans, members of the Wayne chapter of Nebraskans for Peace are stunned by the terrible loss of life and injuries suffered in the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks. As our country begins to come to terms with this tragedy, we urge everyone to be vigilant against religious and ethnic stereotyping of segments of our population, particularly Arab-Americans and members of the Muslim faith.

The acts of violence and bigotry reported in the media are reprehensible and cannot be tolerated any more than the criminal acts of the terrorists themselves. All of us can remind ourselves and teach our children that every one of our fellow citizens should be treated with dignity and respect.

The United States must think long and hard how to respond to this new type of violence visited upon our people and institutions. We must not descend to the level of our attackers by targeting innocent populations in our quest for justice. Instead, we should view the situation globally and attempt to lessen our isolation from the rest of the world.

America should cooperate with the United Nations and the World Court in developing means to finding solutions to what has rightly been termed a world-wide scourge.

We hope the various media will help us to educate ourselves in developing this broader vision so that we can work to alleviate the injustice and suffering that often provides fertile ground for hatred.

We realize that hunting down those who are ultimately responsible will require sacrifices from us all; but we must not suspend our most basic civil liberties in doing so. As we have been reminded so often in recent days, this attack was aimed as much at the American way of life as at buildings and innocent people. The erosion of civil liberties would only give the enemy the victory they most want.

We also urge our government to rethink how our intelligence resources and energies are used: For example, some of the vast resources spent, often fruitlessly, on the war on drugs might well be shifted to combating this more ominous threat.

We invite anyone interested in discussing these pressing issues to the next meeting of the Wayne Nebraskans for Peace meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 2 (appropriately, Mahatma Gandhi's birthday) at 5 p.m. at the Renaissance Coffeehouse.

WSC Habitat for Humanity members creating city

Wayne State College Habitat for Humanity members hosted a cardboard city camp in front of Conn Library on campus, Sept. 26. Students began setting up around 7 p.m. and spent the night until 8 a.m.

The group welcomed the public to join in the camp out, to watch or to build their own cardboard shelter to sleep in that evening. Through activities such as this, the club is trying to increase awareness of Habitat for Humanity and its goal of eliminating poverty housing worldwide.

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

In times of crisis, we all know, it is important to do the right things. It is equally important, of course, not to do the wrong things. Panic, for example, is almost always a wrong thing.

Once upon a time I worked with a couple of editors who, when news broke, behaved like the denizens of a squirrel's nest. Their motto seemed to be: "When in danger, or in doubt, run in circles, scream and shout!"

Little got done when they were around, and much of it was the wrong thing, anyway.

When news breaks, it tends to have that same effect on some people, regardless of whether they are in the news business.

The worst examples, naturally enough, are to be found among sub-moronic cretins. They are the sort who, these days, go around throwing rocks at the homes and businesses of Americans who happen to be Muslims. Or, of people who the morons suspect might be Muslims. These are the sorts of "patriots" who couldn't find Afghanistan on an unmarked map.

A more subtle danger is represented by those whose panic can take the form of public policy, or influence the community mood. They are the kinds of people who, whether faced with terrorism or an outbreak of head lice, start throwing babies out with bath water.

Take the FAA crowd for example. That is a group that has done more and accomplished less - other than circle dancing and screaming - than any bunch of blundering Yahoos since the invention of the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

When it comes to silliness, it will be hard for anyone to top the Einstein at FAA who decided to eliminate plastic forks for use on airline food. If you want to make the skies safer, it would be better to ban airline food, period!

The threat represented by international terrorism is tragically real. And it will require very real, common sense responses from government; and cooperation from the public.

What it won't require, at the state or federal level, is the sort of, purposeless, Draconian goings on that have embarrassed us in the past. At one end, there was the internment of Japanese citizens, and the confiscation of their property, during WW II. On the other end, there were the ninnies who wanted to prohibit NU from referring to the football team as "Big Red," during the McCarthy-era disgrace.

Even though he is a Texan (and one who coaches football, at that) we hope Nebraska officials will take heed of what R.C. Slocum had to say last week. Bottom line: In the name of security you can create a hostile environment that might make it impossible to enjoy a football game (or whatever) - but you can't make a football stadium "safe" from everyone and everything.

We could make the Nebraska statehouse look like a prison, but it wouldn't keep bad guys out. It would be more likely to make good people want to stay away.

We cannot protect Memorial Stadium by searching purses, and we probably don't need to protect the football field in St. Paul, Nebraska, by searching anything.

What is required is an application of common sense where it will do the most good, and the maintenance of common decency toward one another.

Red Cross has emergency services for armed forces

The American Red Cross is here to serve military personnel and civilian-based military (Reservists and National Guard) and their families. The Red Cross provides emergency communications, access to financial assistance, verification necessary for emergency leave, counseling, family support and veterans assistance to military members and their families.

One of the fundamental missions of the Red Cross is to keep the American people in touch during times of family crisis with their loved ones in the Armed Forces. In 2000, the American Red Cross provided emergency communication services to more than 475,000 military personnel and their families. The American Red Cross is a lifeline, handling more than 4,000 calls each day. They are gearing up their operations in the recent face of terrorist attacks and the possibility of war.

The American Red Cross speeds

emergency communication around the globe, including ships at sea, remote military installations, and embassies. Active duty service members stationed in the U.S., and their immediate family members can call the Armed Forces Emergency Service (AFES) Center seven days a week, 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. The AFES director for Wayne County is Wayne Denklauf, Veteran's Officer at the Wayne Courthouse. He can be reached at 375-2764. Anyone in Wayne County can contact Mr. Denklauf or the Red Cross Chapter at 375-5209 when needing any military assistance or communication.

When contacting the Red Cross to send an emergency message, please have ready the following information: the service member's full name, rank or rate, branch of service, social security number, military address to include deployed address and the home base unit. It is equally important to have one or more backups such as parents, grandparents, aunts, uncles, or cousins who also have the same information.

In 2000, 58 Red Cross staff members were deployed with the U.S. military forces. These specialists live and work in the same harsh environments as military personnel on special operations.

The American Red Cross sent two staff members to deploy with the U.S. troops on September 21st. As in the past, the Red Cross is prepared to respond to military actions and has a mobile force of trained, prepared staff to meet the requirements for deployments and assignments to overseas locations.

Although the Red Cross has a reserve of trained personnel to support assignments in times of conflict or for military training and exercises, they also rely on their dedicated, trained AFES employees and volunteers (like Wayne Denklauf) in local chapters across the country to respond to the needs of the people in the various communities they serve.

As part of the International Red Cross movement, the American Red Cross pledges and delivers neutral and impartial humanitarian services. The humanitarian work of the American Red Cross is based on the seven Fundamental Principles of the International Red Cross - humanity, impartiality, neutrality, independence, voluntary service, unity and universality. The American Red Cross provides services without taking sides in hostilities or engaging in controversies of a political, racial, religious or ideological manner.

The American Red Cross urges all Americans to adapt these sacred humanitarian principles and apply them with their neighbors regardless of race, religion or national heritage.

Around the clock and around the globe, during times of personal crisis, the American Red Cross keeps the American people in touch with their family members serving in the United States Military.

Remember: For any military inquiries in Wayne County, you should call Wayne Denklauf, Wayne County Red Cross AFES Director, at 402-375-2764 or the Red Cross office located in the Mineshaft Mall, 112 E. 2nd Street in Wayne at 375-5209.

Volunteers have consistently helped run the event through the years and the pull has grown with around 3,000 attending this year. Starting back in 1988, Rohde built up the ground and did dirt work at the track to prepare for the protection and parking of the ever increasing crowds. Among those attending are a number of people from the Grand Island area as there are no pulls around there.

Also increasing has been the number of entries in the local event. Entries this year came from Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa and the Dakotas.

At this year's Carroll Pull, there were six entries in the 5800 pound Super Stock Class tractors category. There were 11 entries in the 6200 pound 4-wheel drive pickups category, 16 entries in the 10,000 Pro Stock Tractor Class, and seven entries in the 7400 Modified Tractors class (which Rohde notes the Texas boys always come up for).

There were seven entries in the 8200 Super Stock Tractors class, 10 entries in the 6200 pound 2-wheel drive pickups (three came up from Texas for this), and 14 entries in the 9200 pound Super Farm Stock Tractor class.

Changing, too is that the pull used to be sanctioned with Nebraska Bush Pullers until around 1990 when Rohde contacted Iowa Tractor Pulling Association and then sanctioned with them. Coming to the Carroll pull each year with his entry, "Magnum Force" is the president of the Iowa Tractor Pull Association and vice president of Outlaw Pulling Association, Dennis Goodwin of Farnhamville, Iowa.

Rohde remembers all area fairs were having Nebraska Bush Pullers so they were having to compete with them. "I felt that in order to keep pulling in large crowds, we had to go with more turbo power." Rohde noted some pullers with Iowa Tractor Pulling Association had four turbos on their rigs compared with only one on the rigs at the local fairs.

Every year Rohde tries to line up something new at the pull to draw more people; one thing that has helped is the Iowa Association combining with the Outlaw Association thus bringing in more categories for entries.

Introduced about three years ago was the "Outlaw Western Sweep" which is three days of pulling within a 60-mile radius of Carroll. Included with Carroll in the sweep are the towns of Onawa and Hinton, Iowa. The sweep is held each year just prior to the Carroll Tractor Pull.

As an incentive to get pullers to enter the sweep, there's bonus prize money presented at a convention in Springfield, Mo. given to the winners attending the three pulls.

Not only do you see every kind of tractor performing at the Carroll Pull, but you see 2 and 4-wheel drive pickups as well.

The Carroll Tractor Pull was voted "Best Pull of the Year" in 1997 by the Iowa Tractor Pull Association which Rohde said was a big surprise!

The Carroll Pull received another award in 2000 from the Iowa Tractor Pull Association where pullers voted. The Carroll Pull was voted best on track facilities, track maintenance, hospitality, restroom facilities, seating, crowd enthusiasm, etc. Coming in second was the Clay County Fair in Spencer, Iowa and getting third place was the Iowa State Fair in Des Moines, Iowa.

Rohde said receiving the 2000 award was a total surprise.

Also each year the Cornhusker 2 Cylinder Club comes to the Carroll pull with their antique 2 cylinder tractors. Displayed during the pull are old John Deere tractors that local people have restored.

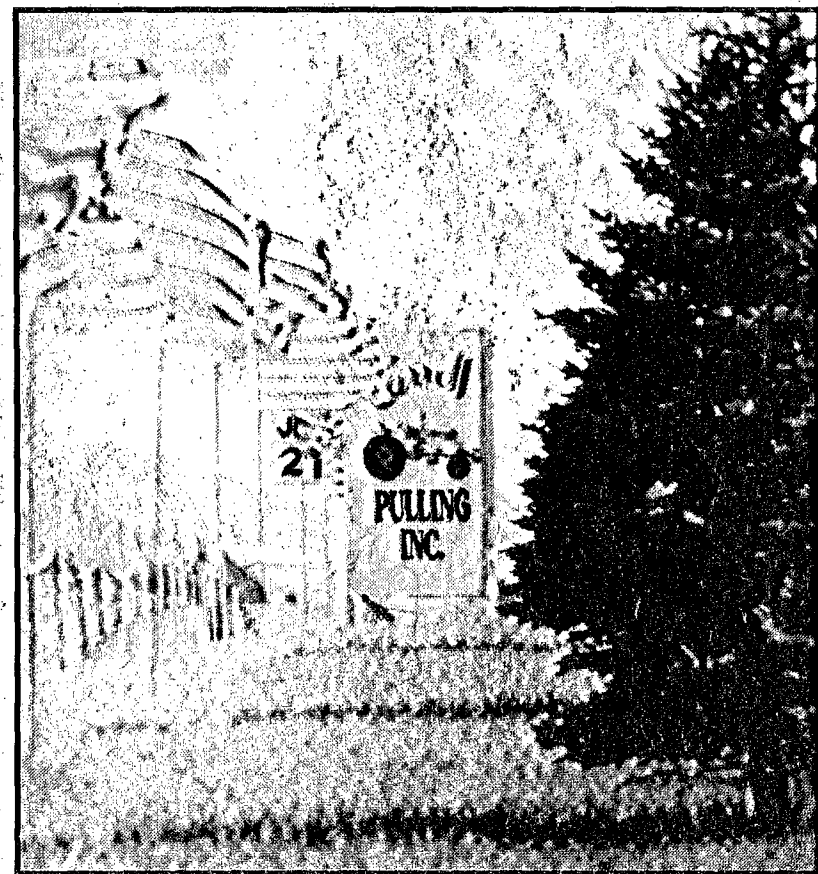

On the Carroll pull, "It's a business; a year round project," Rohde said. "We are working on new rest room facilities and on new security fences. We recently poured cement for the scale, put up some security lights and plan on putting up more lights. Maintenance is ongoing with more improvements each year."

Rohde adds that the banks at the track were built up three years in a row and through the years he has built picnic tables, shelter, etc.

Promotion of the Carroll Tractor Pull is also done throughout the year. Rohde's and their friends attend the Clay County Fair and the Iowa State Fair each year to promote the Carroll pull.

Summing up the Carroll Pull, "When the pulls first started, we had no idea it would develop into what it is today," Rohde said.

The next Carroll Tractor Pull is scheduled for July 20, 2002.

A row of flags lead to the Carroll Tractor Pull sign near the track entrance where the event is held each year.

Bow and arrow issue debated

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

A lengthy discussion was held at Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne City Council on the issue of bow and arrow shooting within the city limits.

A number of bow hunters and archers were in attendance at the meeting to voice their concerns for adding an ordinance to the city code prohibiting the shooting of bows and arrows in the city.

During the meeting, Mayor Sheryl Lindau read a proclamation in regard to the recent terrorist acts in the United States. A resolution, approved by the council, urged citizens of the community to carry on with regular activities and support relief efforts in any way possible.

Following a public hearing the council moved forward with the acquisition of a tract of land and the selling of another tract of land, both in the Sunnyside Subdivision of the city. The transaction is actually a land trade but statute requires the city to follow specific procedures before the transactions become final.

Resolution 2001-36 was also passed, allowing for approval of a Wayne Revolving Loan Fund Application of $25,000 from Innovative Protectives, Inc. The money will be matched by a bank loan. It will be used for expansion of the facility, including additional storage space.

Karin Vaughn, Executive Director of the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce, gave an update on a partnership between Wayne State College, Wayne Community Schools and the Wayne Chamber of Commerce in regard to a sculpture and mural project. A $10,000 grant from the National Endowment for the Arts will help educate students on the history of Wayne as well as provide for 40 sculptures and one mural. It is anticipated that the work could be done by the first part of May 2002.

The council approved a request from Main Street Wayne for up to $25,000 for 2000-2001 funding. Reggie Yates, representing Main Street Wayne, presented details on donations, pledges, and expenses of the past year.

Also discussed during the meeting was the proposed hiking/biking trail for the city of Wayne, Michelle Striker of Johnson, Erickson, O'Brien presented a trails report on what has been done so far. She indicated that a $500,000 grant has been applied for through transportation funds. This money would help fund Phase I of the project which is expected to cost $625,000. Additional funding from the local Natural Resources District could also be available. The city will know by the end of December whether or not the grant will be received.

In other action, the council set a public hearing date of Tuesday, Oct. 9 at about 7:15 p.m. for the purpose of listening to the Planning Commission's recommendation to amend Wayne's zoning language.

Renovation completed at former school

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

A refrigerator stands where school desks were once located and bedrooms have replaced bookshelves.

The former District #57 School four miles south of Wayne has been converted into four apartments which are now available to renters.

After the school closed in May of 2000, the building became the property of Steve Glassmeyer, Pam Glassmeyer and Carolyn Osborn. The three formed a corporation and began discussing options for the building.

Early this spring work on renovating the former classrooms into living space began.

The building is now home to two, two-bedroom apartments and two, three-bedroom apartments. The smaller apartments are approximately 850 square feet while the larger two are nearly 1,100 square feet.

Chris Glassmeyer, Steve's son, has been responsible for overseeing the renovation. He and his father gutted the interior of the building and drew up plans for the apartments.

Lindner Construction of Wayne was the contractor for the project.

Each of the apartments has its own washer and dryer and has its own heating system.

The two-bedroom apartments rent for $500 per month and the three-bedroom apartments for $600. This includes water, snow removal, garbage pickup and mowing. Several of the apartments have already been rented.

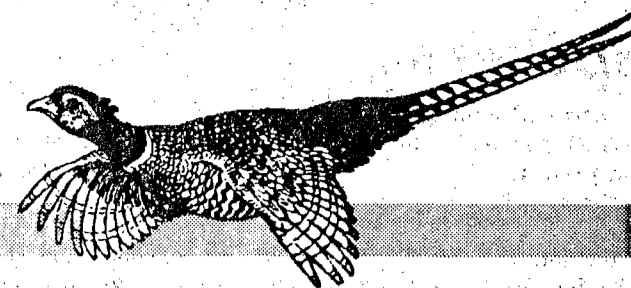

With the completion of the renovation, an open house at the site has been planned for Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 29 and 30. The building will be open from 1 to 5 p.m. on Saturday and 1 to 4 p.m. on Sunday.

Anne Nolte of 1st Realty Sales and Management is managing the apartments. She can be reached by calling 375-1477.

Big play by Tavaris Johnson lifts 'Cats to a 13-7 NSIC victory Wayne State upends Bemidji St.

The Wayne State football team improved to 2-2 on the season after upending Bemidji State, 13-7 in Wayne last Saturday.

Scott Hoffman's troops moved to 1-1 in NSIC play while the Beavers slipped to 0-2 in conference play and 2-2 overall after entering the season picked second in the conference.

The 'Cats opened the scoring in the second quarter on a 10-yard pass from Justin Burhoop to John Sanders just nine seconds into the period.

The drive was a short one after Bemidji State had fumbled a punt from Mike Baker at the 26-yard line.

The visitors however, responded with an 80-yard drive to tie the game at seven which is how the game stood at halftime.

Big play man Tavaris Johnson proved to be the difference maker in the outcome of the contest after he took a short pass from Justin Burhoop, 66 yards to paydirt just two minutes into the third quarter.

The two teams traded field position the rest of the game and had it not been for Mike Baker's punting, Bemidji State would have had shorter fields to work with.

Baker uncorked a 65-yard punt in the fourth quarter that pinned the Beavers at their own six-yard line.

Later in the period Baker had a punt downed at the five-yard line which limited Bemidji State's play-calling ability.

Defensively, WSC played a stellar game, holding a high-powered rushing attack in check.

The Beavers entered the game averaging over 260 yards a game on the ground but the 'Cats held the visitors to just 74 yards rushing.

Desmond Grace paced the defensive prowess with 11 tackles while Adam Long had 10 tackles and Antonio Jackson along with Kyle Lingenfelter had nine each. Nate Herbst finished with eight total tackles.

WSC out-gained Bemidji State, 369-308 as quarterback Justin Burhoop was 20-37 through the air for 260 yards with one interception and two touchdowns.

Tavaris Johnson had his third consecutive 100-yard plus receiving day with seven receptions for 113 yards.

The ground game was led by Bryce Teager with 66 yards on 19 carries.

The 'Cats will be on the road Saturday when they travel to play Winona State in a 1:30 p.m. contest. The Warriors are 3-1 overall and 2-0 in NSIC play. Winona State defeated Minnesota State Moorhead, 27-18 last Saturday.

"I thought we played very well against a very strong Wisner-Pilger team in the final match," Hoskins added.

Tuesday night in Wayne the Blue Devils improved to 10-5 on the season with a sweep of West Point, 15-11, 15-2.

April Thede slammed eight kill spikes with Allison Hansen notching seven kills. Kari Hochstein netted five ace spikes and Erin Jarvi, three.

Allissa Dunklau handed out 22 set assists and was a perfect 14-14 in serving.

Jarvi was 13-14 in serving and Thede, 7-7 while Hansen was 8-8 and Ashley Loberg, 4-4.

"The girls played the net extremely well and they took away a good West Point offense," Hoskins said. "I thought we played good defense and passed the ball well but I want to give credit to Ashley Loberg and Erin Jarvi on passing and serve receive. Because of that we were able to run our offense."

Wayne's JV team won, 15-1, 15-8 as Sarah Jensen had five points. The freshman team also defeated West Point as the Blue Devils enjoyed a complete sweep of the visitors, 15-10, 15-12.

Blue Devil golf team claims first as Kari Harder wins with an 82

The Wayne girls golf team didn't put up the numbers they would have liked at their own Richard Metteer Invite last Saturday but Dave Hix's team had enough to win the 21-team tournament by 14 strokes after a 363.

South Sioux was second at 377 with Humphrey St. Francis' netting third place honors with a 396.

The younger Harder placed runner-up with an 84 while Lindsay Stoltenberg finished 10th with a 95.

Karla Keller carded a 102 and Megan Summerfield finished with a 104 to round out Wayne's scoring.

"Kari finally beat Amy," coach Dave Hix said. "This is what she's capable of. She has been hitting her driver perfect the last few weeks and we hope it continues."

"Amy putted better and Lindsay had a great front nine with a 43 which was valuable in our team scoring."

Wayne senior Kari Harder won the Metteer Invite.

The Wayne JVs were paced by Mary Boehle with a 107 while Kelly Mitchell carded a 112 and Karissa Dorsey, 121. Amy Hyspe finished with a 129. Keely Reinert also competed for the JV team.

"It was a good day for the tournament," Hix said. "The girls got to play in the wind which we haven't had a lot of this fall. We really appreciate the parents for helping with concessions and John Fuelberth for spotting for us and of course for the help for the man whom the tournament is named for, Mr. Metteer."

Wayne will compete at the Columbus Scotus Invite on Thursday before taking part at Oakland-Craig on Saturday.

Wayne drops to 1-3 with 27-12 loss to Logan View

The Wayne Blue Devils football team suffered their third loss of the season last Friday with a 27-12 setback at home against Logan View.

After a scoreless bout through the first quarter, Logan View struck first by scoring two touchdowns in the second quarter to take a 14-0 lead into the intermission.

Wayne fell behind by three touchdowns in the third quarter before the Blue Devils responded with a 15 yard touchdown reception by David Jammer from Ric Volk.

Wayne continued its comeback early in the fourth quarter with an eight yard touchdown run by Brad Hochstein to narrow the gap to 20-12, before Logan View would answer again with a late touchdown to notch the win.

"The effort is there but we need to work on putting together four solid quarters of football in every game the rest of the season," said head coach John Murtaugh.

Ric Volk led the aerial attack for the Blue Devils by completing 14 of 26 attempts for 162 yards and one touchdown.

Brady Heithold led the way in the receiving column for Wayne by hauling in five passes for 49 yards. Jon Ehrhardt, Caleb Garvin, and David Jammer provided their own receptions for Wayne with two apiece, with Ehrhardt gaining 25 yards, Jammer with 33, and Garvin with 18 yards.

Brad Hochstein provided the big ground attack for Wayne by carrying the ball 113 yards on 18 carries.

The Blue Devil defense was led by Brad Hochstein with 13 tackles. Other leading tacklers were Marcus Berns with 12, Jon Ehrhardt with 11, and Brady Heithold with 10.

Wayne will travel to play high ranked Pierce on Friday.

Wakefield notches first win of year in a big way

Wakefield used a dominating first half last Friday night to pull out their first victory of the season, 41-14 over visiting Emerson-Hubbard.

Wakefield opened up the flood gates early by scoring 34 points in the first half to run-away with the victory.

"The 1st half we played nearly flawless. We had only one penalty and 300 total yards. Everything was working," said head coach Justin Smith.

Ross Hansen led the way at the helm for Wakefield by completing seven of eight passes for 217 yards and three touchdowns.

Zach Dolen led the way receiving by catching three balls for 93 yards and two touchdowns. Eric Klein and Luke Hoffman showed off their own skills with each hauling in a pass, with Klein gaining 76 yards for a touchdown, and Hoffman with 30 yards.

Luke Hoffman led the way pushing by gaining 99 yards on six carries. Ryan Otte also had a solid night by carrying the ball 20 times for 84 yards.

Luke Hoffman led the Wakefield defense with 13 tackles. Other big tacklers were Rodney Cole and Ryan Carson with 12 apiece.

Wakefield will go for their second straight win this week as they host Ponca for homecoming Friday night.

Allen soars late to edge Wynot; Eagles now 2-2

The Allen Eagles used some fourth quarter heroics last Friday night to pull out a 28-27 victory over Wynot.

Corey Uldrich used his arm early to get the Eagles on the board first by completing a 43 yard touchdown reception to Brett Keitges. Wynot then responded with its own two scores to gain the lead, before the Eagles would strike again with a 68 yard kickoff return from Bart Sachau. After an ensuing kickoff touchdown by Wynot, Allen's Corey Uldrich would take over by himself with a 35 yard interception return for a score to take a 20-19 lead.

Down 27-20 at the half, Allen found their way into the endzone in the fourth quarter to get the come-from-behind victory with a two yard run from Corey Uldrich and a two point conversion from Brandon Kelly to Uldrich to get the 28-27 victory.

Corey Uldrich led the way at the helm by completing 15 of 26 attempts for 218 yards.

Brett Keitges provided six catches for 54 yards and one touchdown to lead the way receiving, while Kyle Oswald hauled in three passes for 67 yards.

The ground attack was led by Corey Uldrich with 54 yards and two touchdowns on 16 carries.

Bryan Gotch led the way on defense with 16 tackles, while Corey Uldrich showed his own strength with 14 tackles. Other tackles came from Bart Sachau and Brett Keitges with 10 apiece.

The Eagles will go for another victory this week as they host Newcastle for homecoming, Friday night.

Laurel-Concord tastes rare defeat in 34-16 loss

The Bears watched their undefeated season come to a halt last Friday night with a 34-16 loss against Oakland-Craig. It was the Bears first loss since 1999 after 16 consecutive wins. It was also the first loss ever at the helm of the Bears by coach Mike Halley.

With an early 22 yard field goal by Laurel-Concord's Cassidy Neuhalfen, Oakland-Craig rallied for 14 unanswered points to take a 14-3 lead through the first quarter.

The Bears got rolling in the second period as David Asbra scampered 15 yards into the endzone to narrow the gap. Shortly later, the Bears found the endzone again with a one yard touchdown run from Tyler Stingley to take a 16-14 lead into the half.

On the first play of the second half, Laurel-Concord watched its lead disappear with an Oakland-Craig 63 yard kick off return for a touchdown. The visitors added two more scores in the fourth quarter for the 34-16 advantage.

"Our kids played hard and have nothing to hang their heads about, they were beaten by a good football team", said head coach Mike Halley.

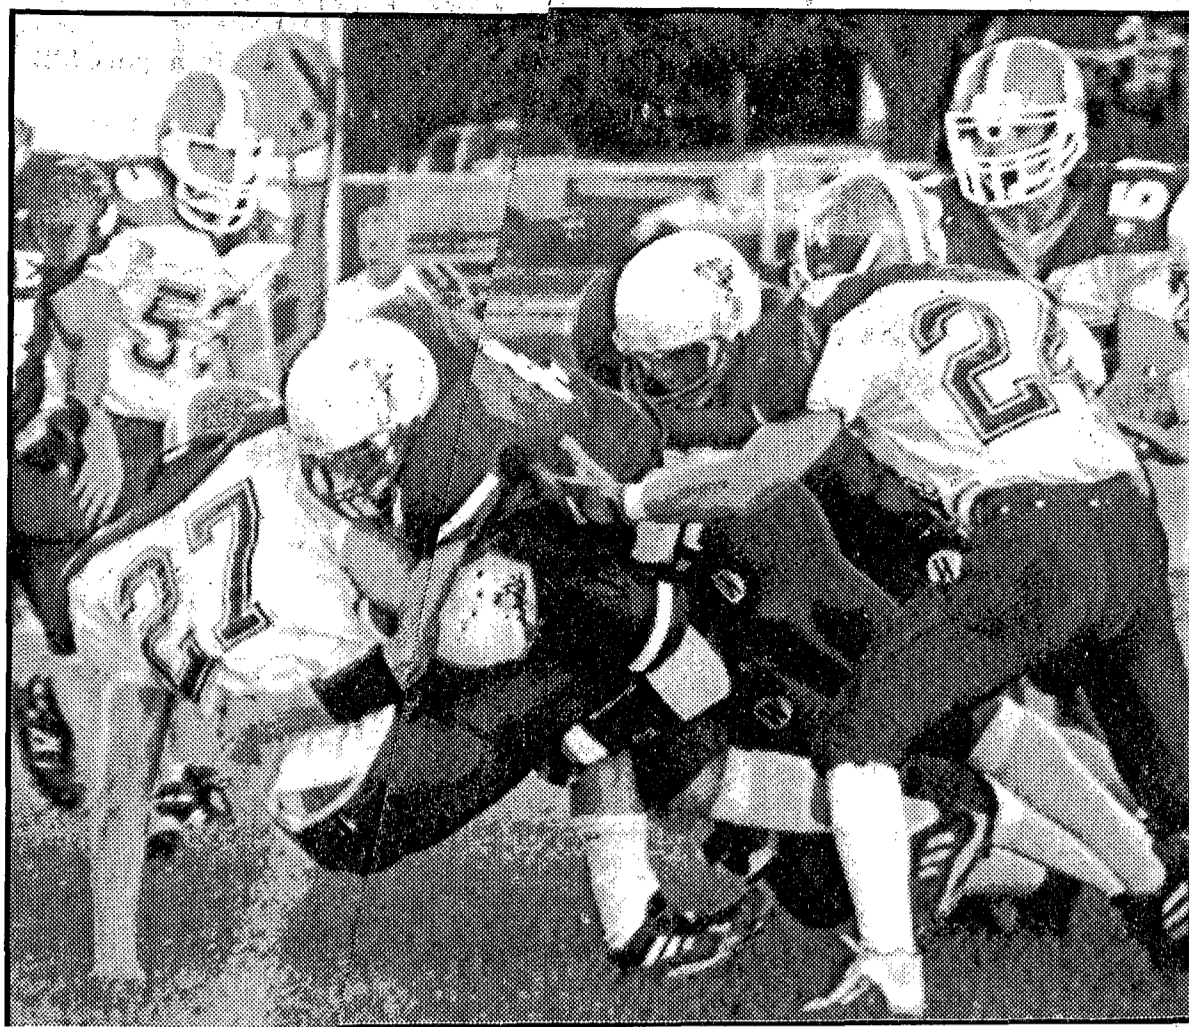

Blake Erwin led the aerial attack by completing 10 of 17 attempts for 135 yards.

Marc Manganaro hauled in 5 passes for 67 yards to lead the way receiving for the Bears, while David Asbra gathered three receptions for 28 yards.

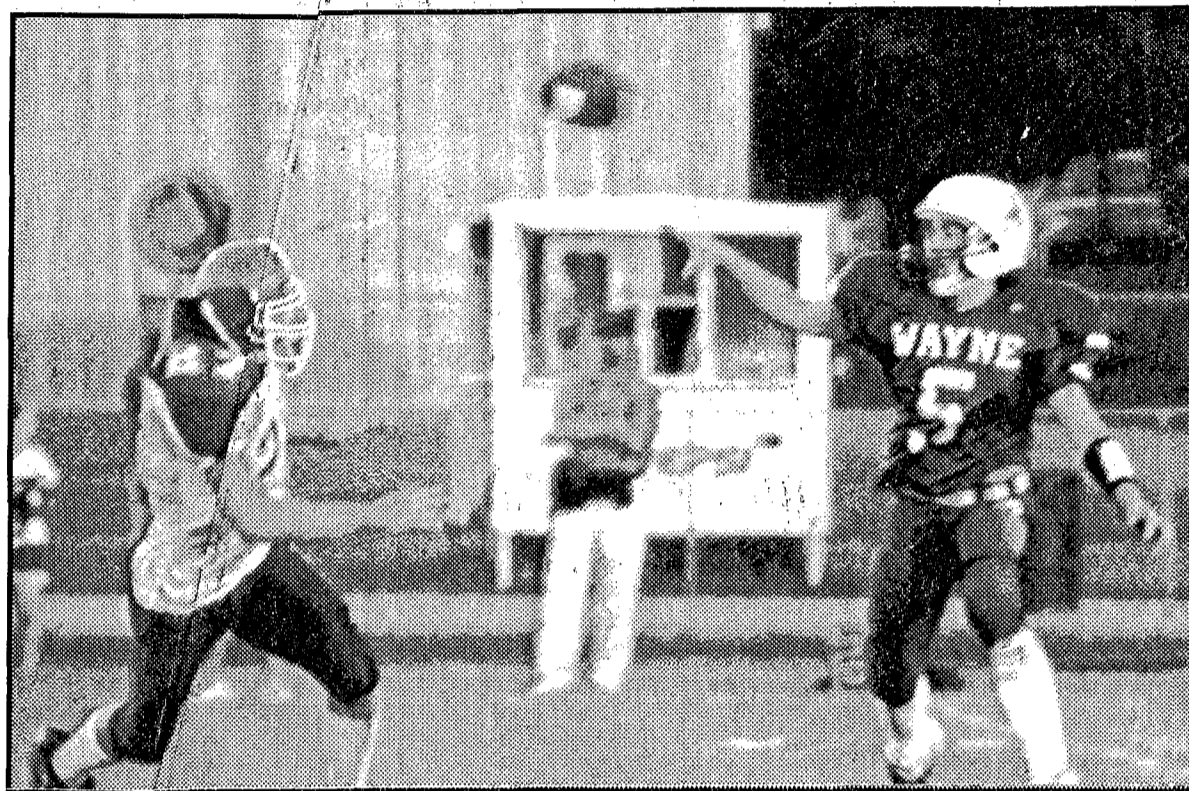

The Bears ground attack was led by Bennie Surber with 18 carries for 62 yards. David Asbra contributed with his own ground force by gaining 37 yards on six carries and one touchdown.

David Asbra put on a strong defensive showing with 14 tackles, while Tyler Stingley also looked solid with 12 tackles of his own. Other tackles came from Blake Erwin with nine and Kyle Thompson with eight.

The Bears will try to put together another streak of wins this week as they host Creighton for homecoming, Friday night.

Arrival of fall means hunting season's here

Can you feel it? Can you see it? It's in the air, the cool brisk temperatures and the breeze that will soon bring the cold weather into our area.

My hunting dogs knew it was here; they had a little more bounce in their step when I let them out for a run.

They came out of the kennel on a dead run, their nose to the ground, their tails high in the air, and after two or three laps around the yard, they ran to the back of the Suburban thinking that it was time to go hunting.

This weekend, you didn't need to look at a calendar to know that fall had arrived. You just knew it was here!

With the arrival of fall outdoorsmen and women know that hunting seasons are just around the corner.

Grouse season opened up first, and in most areas hunters spent at least part of opening weekend hunting in the rain.

Game & Parks reports indicated that spring populations of Grouse appeared to be smaller this year than in 2000.

Since Grouse aren't easy to count on the Game & Parks roadside surveys, hunters didn't know what to expect when they hit the field.

Range conditions in the Grouse producing areas were in good shape and most hunters felt that good Grouse numbers would be out there for those hunters who were willing to work for them. Our group hunted south west of Winner, SD and had a tough hunt on Saturday because of the rain. On Sunday after the rain subsided we were able to get into several good bunches of Grouse and Prairie Chickens.

Nebraska's regular Pheasant season will open Oct. 27 and continue through Jan. 31, 2002. The special youth Pheasant season opens the previous weekend Oct. 20-21.

The reports coming in from the Game & Parks pertaining to the upcoming Pheasant season in our area aren't very optimistic.

Reports indicate that the Pheasant populations statewide are down 17%. In northeast Nebraska numbers are down 20 to 30%. In the Panhandle and south-central regions brood counts indicated that these areas had experienced over 50% decline over last season.

These reports didn't surprise many people because we could see it coming.

The Pheasant habitat, mainly CRP acres had been cut in half when thousands of acres were put back into production when corn prices increased. A wet spring and a cold hard winter had made it tough for the birds to survive.

This along with the fact that the remaining CRP in northeast Nebraska is primarily 9 or 10 year old switch grass didn't add up to good Pheasant numbers.

Once the switch grass has reached this point, it isn't the best habitat and needs to be burnt off or inter-seeded to develop new growth.

The South Dakota regular Pheasant season will open Oct. 20 running through Dec. 31. The special youth Pheasant season opens the previous weekend Oct. 13-15.

In South Dakota, there was some good news for Pheasant hunters as well as some bad news. The good news is that Pheasant numbers are up 38% in the Pierre area and up 25% in the Chamberlain area.

Statewide the Pheasant population had decreased 19%.

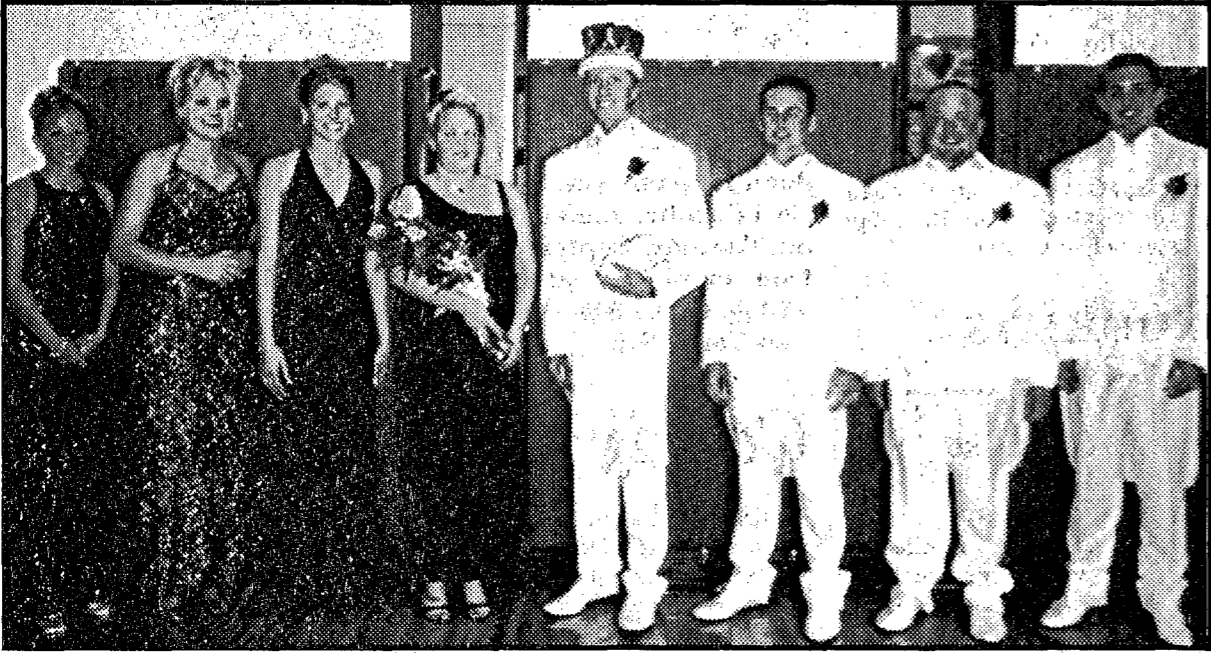

The bad news is that Pheasant numbers are down 56% in the Yankton area, down 52% in the Sioux Falls area and down 43% in the Huron area.

These areas experienced the same weather conditions that much of the Midwest did. Spring rains that fell about the time that the Pheasant chicks hatched and a nasty cold, wet winter that further hurt the pheasant numbers.

To many people, the Pheasant opener is an annual family gathering, a time when friends and classmates get together to spend some time together.

Hunters will find birds where they found them last year unless some drastic natural disaster has occurred or drastic changes in farming practices have destroyed the habitat.

Even though numbers are down in some areas, hunters will still get together and spend some time enjoying each others company and the great outdoors.

Herbs for Health

Purple Coneflower
Enhances Immunity

The purple coneflower was the most widely used herb in the US during the nineteenth century. This flower, which is one of the several from the species echinacea, is native to the great plains. It was used by American Indians to treat everything from coughs to snakebites. During the first half of this century, Echinacea was listed in the National Formulary, a book of "remedies" that generally were recognized as being useful. With the advent of antibiotics, the herb fell from widespread use by most physicians.

Echinacea seems to enhance a nonspecific type of immunity. The herb stimulates the body to make chemicals that fight illness caused by bacteria, viruses, and fungi. Numerous studies have shown that the herb does enhance immunity. One such study involved persons who were prone to have upper respiratory infections. Study participants were given either fresh juice from Echinacea purpurea or a placebo two times a day for 8 weeks. Those who received the herb had about 40% less illness. They also had 40 days between episodes of illness as compared to 25 days in the group that received the placebo.

Cmdr. Debra Bodenstedt, U.S. Navy, recently participated in the recovery of the legendary Civil War ironclad USS Monitor.

Former Wayne resident helps recover wreckage

By Ligia Cohen

After 138 years at the bottom of the ocean, the legendary Civil War ironclad USS Monitor has deteriorated significantly. Salt water has eaten away its once formidable iron hull. To help recover and preserve this important piece of American and naval history, the newest generation of Navy divers uses the latest diving technology to stabilize the wreckage and recover selected pieces of the ship.

Cmdr. Debra A. Bodenstedt, daughter of Robert and Marilyn Bodenstedt of Wayne, participated in the recovery of the Monitor's 30-ton steam engine from 230 feet of water off Cape Hatteras, N.C.

Bodenstedt, a special operations officer with Atlantic Ordnance Command, lent her expertise to support the project.

"My entire career has been in diving and salvage. I'm a surface-supplied diving officer," explained Bodenstedt. Because of the great depths and dives up to eight hours long required by the Monitor project, Sailors have the opportunity not only to preserve history but also to train in one of the most challenging underwater environments, thus enhancing the Navy's diving and salvage capability.

"It's a privilege to be a part of this historic project," said the 19-year veteran.

Since the discovery of the Monitor wreck in 1973, the Navy has been working in collaboration with scientists from the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration to help stop corroproficiency," Bodenstedt said.

Unique and challenging opportunities like the Monitor project were among Bodenstedt's considerations when she decided to join the Navy.

"I also wanted a job that was non-traditional for women," said the 1974 graduate of Wayne High School, who earned a bachelor's degree from Wayne State College in 1978 and a master's degree from St. Ambrose University in 1997. As the first modern battleship, Monitor was an innovative example of advanced naval technology in its day. It initiated a new era in naval history when it engaged the confederate ship CSS Virginia, formerly USS Merrimack, in the first battle between ironclads.

Today, Sailors like Bodenstedt write new pages of naval history as they perform the feat of recovering the old ironclad and maintaining the legacy for future generations.

(Ligia Cohen is a public affairs officer assigned to the Navy Public Affairs Center in Norfolk, Va.)

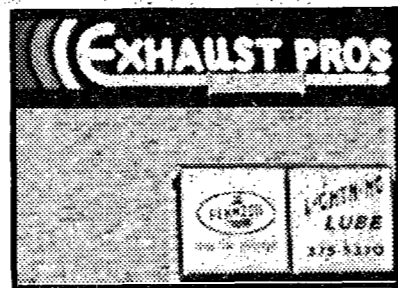

sion and recover important artifacts. The Navy is one of the only organizations with the equipment and training to accomplish a project of this scope. "It's important for the Navy to cooperate with other agencies to help preserve this historic relic. It is also very important to exercise the Navy's capability for deep-ocean salvage. Using both mixed-gas and saturation diving operationally is vital to maintaining

Quick service is the goal for Exhaust Pros

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

Employees at Exhaust Pros & Lightning Lube in Wayne strive to meet customer needs without expecting them to have appointments first. Owner, Brian Nelson said he felt the Wayne area was ready for fast auto service.

Besides owning Exhaust Pros, Nelson is a commercial airline pilot so travels a lot. It was because of this he realized the need of being able to get in and out quickly when needing repairs.

Nelson said he felt there was a huge void in this area for drive up service and wanted Wayne area residents to be able to experience the ease of being able to get right in when they had auto needs.

"I felt that especially with oil changes, being able to drive up and get what you want and get out right away without an appointment was needed," Nelson said.

Some of the services offered at Exhaust Pros include suspension work (including alignments, tire balancing, tire repairs, shocks/strips, etc.) custom and original exhaust work, brake work, oil changes, light mechanical work, belts, hoses, transmission replacement; being able to work on foreign and domestic vehicles.

Oil changes run $19.95 for bulk oil. Bulk oil brands offered include Quaker State 10-30, Valvoline 5-30, Penzoil 5-30. Chadd Frideres, manager at Exhaust Pros, notes they can get any type of oil the customer wants.

Employees at Exhaust Pros are Justin Davis of Carroll, Josh Mrsny, Chadd Frideres, and Lynne Allemann, all of Wayne.

Davis is ASE (Automotive Service Excellence) certified with training in steering, suspension, and brakes; certified with Hunter Engineering for alignments.

Frideres is also ASE certified with training in steering, suspension, brakes, exhaust. He is classified as under-car-specialist and Hunter Engine certified for alignments-also with specialty alignment products. Plus, he has advanced wheel alignment as a specialty.

Mrsny is in charge of oil changes, tire repair, and light mechanical work.

Allemann is bookkeeper and receptionist at Exhaust Pros & Lightning Lube.

Business hours at Exhaust Pros & Lightning Lube are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday-Friday, and 8 a.m. to noon on Saturdays. The telephone number there is 402-375-5370 or 1-800-713-9776. The business opened in April of 2000.

Frideres also stresses their commitment that appointments are not necessary. Service, he said, should be quick; especially on oil changes. He notes they have a nice, big waiting room.

Many Fail to Check Most Important Vital Sign - Blood Pressure

High blood pressure or hypertension affects at least 50 million persons in the U.S. When left untreated it can be fatal without warning, even when you feel well. Hypertension puts strain on your heart and is the major treatable factor for heart attacks and strokes. Unfortunately, hypertension has no symptoms, which is why it is called "the silent killer." Have your blood pressure checked. If tests show that you have high blood pressure; get treatment and keep taking your medicine even if you feel perfectly well.

Partnership documents housing needs

The most pressing housing issues in the community have been identified by the newly formed Dixon County Housing Partnership, which used a needs assessment at its last meeting to develop a comprehensive community profile and database.

The assessment identified the local housing situation as well as the type of consumers, institutional structures, public and private resources and relevant public policies that affect housing in the community.

The results of the assessment revealed that the population in Dixon County grew from 3.2 percent to 6,339 in 2000, with a projected population of 6,440 by 2005. In 2000, 18 percent of the people in Dixon County were elderly and 5 percent were minorities. There were a reported 2,413 households in Dixon County, with approximately 2.58 persons per household. In 1990, 15 percent of the population in the county fell below the poverty level in 1990. Twenty-four percent of the elderly and 5 percent of adults age 16 to 64 years of age in Dixon County reported a self-care or mobility limitation.

Total employment in the county declines from 3,320 in 1995 and 3,129 in 1999. The largest growth occurred in the service and construction sectors. The major occupational categories in Dixon County included farming, forestry and fishing, administrative support and clerical, and precision production, craft and repair. Average earnings per job in 1999 were reported at $19,722.

Sixty-six percent of the housing stock was built over 50 years ago. Ten units lacked complete plumbing facilities, 19 lacked kitchen facilities and 33 were reported to be overcrowded in the 1990 census.

The 2000 estimated median family income in Dixon County was $42,667 making the maximum affordable monthly housing cost less than $1,067 for those at or below area median income. In contrast, the 2000 estimated renter household income was $26,151 making affordable housing cost less than $654 for those at or below renter median income. Households at 80 to 115 percent of the area median income could afford to purchase a home with a market value of $80,000 to $115,000 plus a downpayment.

Based on the assessment, the partnership identified the most pressing housing needs. Policies that need to be adopted or changed include neighborhood preservation, comprehensive planning, development regulations, countywide housing task force and infrastructure development. Programs that need to be created or expanded include homebuyer education, a homeownership program, and credit counseling. Projects that should be encouraged or undertaken include owner-occupied rehabilitation, an exterior paint program and a starter home initiative.

The report was developed to create awareness of housing issues and to establish action plans for choosing development and promotion. In addition, the report will be used to document housing needs and market feasibility to housing developers, lenders and other funding sources.

The Dixon County Housing Partnership, created with assistance from the Federal Home Loan Bank of Topeka, will meet for the third time from 6:30 to 9 p.m., Sept. 27 at the Concord Village Office. Participants will establish goals and learn what resources are available to enhance the partnership's efforts. Interested persons are encouraged to attend.

Stress affects adolescents too

Adolescence can be a very stressful time for today's youth. Studying for an exam scheduled the next day, working on other assigned homework, participating in sports practice, trying to fit in with peers and maintaining relationships and staying in tune with family members at home can be enough to worry about.

In addition to these stressors, the majority of youth will experience one or more major life challenges or changes during this time, including transferring to a different school, a family move, a death or illness of a family member, an ongoing parental conflict or divorce, substance abuse within the family or family economic stress.

These factors combined with the daily struggles of school, minor peer and family arguments, time-management challenges and the physical, social, hormonal and cognitive changes of growing up, may lead to feelings of stress, anxiety and depression.

Depression, alcohol abuse, delinquency and school problems are all associated with the stresses of adolescence and the feeling of hopelessness and frustrations some adolescents experience. Some stress is common. Most youth emerge through stressful periods without any long-term negative effects. However, some adolescents are at greater risk.

Research finds three factors influence an adolescent's vulnerability to negative effects or stress, including the number of stressors, the presence of internal and external assets and coping skills.

If only one source of stress is present, it is less likely to be a problem than if there are two or more. Also, assets or factors, such as healthy self-esteem, feelings of competence, close friends, good social skills and close and trusting relationships with parents protect youth from stress. Finally, adolescents who take specific and purposeful actions to change the source of the stress often fare better than those who avoid problems or deny them.

It is important to remember stress is not always bad. It can help adolescents to improve overall coping abilities and concentrate on problem solving. However, adults need to be supportive during this time in children's lives.

Life Chain planned for Wayne

The Tri-County Right to Life group is encouraging Christians and their clergy for the area to participate in the 5th Annual Life Chain to be held in Wayne on Sunday, Oct. 7 from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m.

Those participating in Wayne will join thousands of fellow Americans and Canadians in silent prayer, praying for an end to abortion.

According to statistics provided by the Nebraska Department of Health & Human Services, a 12 percent drop in the number of abortions performed in Nebraska took place from the first quarter of 2000 to the first quarter of 2001.

The number of abortions done in the first four months of 2000 was 1,595 while the number done in the first four months of 2001 was 1,408.

A number of factors, including the institution of prayer and fasting, specifically on the abortion issue; further abstinence education and the fact that one abortion provider in Omaha stopped doing abortions due to retirement have contributed to the decrease, according to information provided by the Tri-County Right to Life.

Anyone interested in joining this peaceful stand against abortion can pick up signs at D & N Phillips 66 on the southwest corner of Seventh and Main Streets in Wayne by 2:15 p.m.

For more information, contact Bonnie Hoffman at (402) 287-2161 or Ann Witkowski at (402) 375-4509.

Rural communities holding their own

Despite economic stresses, most rural Nebraskans see their towns as positive places to live. However, fewer people than in the past say their town improved in the past year while more say it stayed the same, according to the Nebraska Rural Poll.

The sixth annual poll, conducted last spring, found 28 percent of respondents said their community changed for the better in the past year, down from a high of 38 percent in 1996. Fifty-three percent said their community stayed the same during the past year, up from 38 percent in 1996.

The number who think their community has changed for the worse has remained at around 19 percent, said John Allen, the University of Nebraska rural sociologist who conducts the scientific poll, the largest survey of rural Nebraskans' views on quality of life and policy issues.

The good news is that most rural residents say their towns are holding their own and not getting worse, he said. The bad news is that the perception of what's happening in rural communities changed relatively quickly.

"It's another indication of rural Nebraska under stress," the NU Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources researcher said.

Rural Nebraskans continue to view their hometowns positively in other ways. Nearly three-fourths rated their community as friendly while 62 percent said their community is trusting and supportive, about the same as in past years.

"As a sociologist, that tells me that there are high levels of social capital in our rural communities that allow us to make good decisions locally about our future," he said.

The poll also asked how satisfied respondents were with 26 services and amenities from medical care and shopping to roads and education.

Satisfaction levels and what rural residents are satisfied and dissatisfied with have remained fairly stable since 1997.

Topping the satisfaction list are parks and recreation, basic medical care services, library services and K-12 education with 70 percent to 74 percent of respondents saying they are satisfied with these services. At least one-third of respondents said they are dissatisfied with entertainment, retail shopping, streets and restaurants.

City/village government garnered 32 percent dissatisfied; county government, 29 percent and law enforcement, 26 percent. That worries Allen.

Rural areas are grappling with increasingly complex economic, legal, political and social issues. They need the governmental capacity to respond, he said, yet this indicates a significant minority of residents lack confidence in local government.

The poll continues to show about a fifth of respondents are dissatisfied with public transportation. Lack of air, rail and bus service is a disadvantage for rural entrepreneurs or existing businesses and an obstacle for recruiting new businesses, Allen said.

"Literally, if you don't drive, you're limited in your ability to move in and out of these places," he said.

Each year, the poll asks whether people plan to move from their community. The number of people planning to move from their community in the coming year has remained fairly low at 3 percent to 4 percent. This poll is revealing some trends in who plans to move, where they're headed and why.

Losing young people is among rural communities' greatest worries.

However, Allen said, the trend isn't surprising given earlier poll findings that showed rural young people were among those most likely to face economic hardships. "It looks like lack of opportunity is increasing, not decreasing," he said.

For people under age 50, lack of economic opportunities locally, desire for lower taxes and finding a better job were the top reasons for moving. For people over 65, lower taxes, a lower cost of living, better access to health care and a more desirable climate are leading considerations.

Fewer people are leaving the state while more are moving to Nebraska's metro areas, the poll showed. This year, 44 percent plan to move out of state, down from 1999's high of 52 percent. The number moving to the Lincoln and Omaha areas climbed to 18 percent from 10 percent for the same period.

Traditionally, many Nebraskans leaving small towns and farms moved to nearby retail hubs, such as Norfolk, Scottsbluff, Grand Island or North Platte, with some later moving to larger metro areas or out of state. The poll indicates a trend toward people moving directly to metro areas.

"That has implications for our retail hubs as well as small towns," Allen said. "If you're living at a nearby hub, you can still be connected to your community. You can go back more easily."

Allen emphasized the vast majority of rural Nebraskans are staying put and are closely connected to their communities.

"The people who are there are attached to those places," he said. "Even if they are uncertain and don't know what the economy is going to do, it looks like they almost have to be pushed out before they will move from the area. That's a very positive aspect of rural Nebraska and we haven't capitalized on it."

IANR's Center for Applied Rural Innovation, which Allen heads, conducts the poll. Results are based on 3,199 responses from Nebraskans in the state's 87 rural counties. The response rate was 50 percent. The margin for error is plus or minus 3 percent.

The Partnership for Rural Nebraska and IANR's Cooperative Extension Division and Agricultural Research Division help fund the poll.

BEWARE OF SCAMS IN WAKE OF TERRORIST ATTACK

Watch Out for Bogus Charities

Incomprehensible as it may seem, there are people who will seek to use the recent tragedy of the terrorist attack for personal gain. Some may pretend to be legitimate charities collecting funds to help victims of this recent disaster.

Bogus charities prey on people's generosity. However you should not be discouraged from donating to legitimate charities. Just remember to ask questions and check out the charity before donating.

Some organizations use names that sound similar to charities you know and trust, and others may misrepresent how your donation will be used. Check out charities before making a donation. Ask questions and gather information so that you know how your donation will be used and who will be using it. Avoid charitable requests that come by email. These solicitors are difficult to trace, and may use your credit card or bank account information fraudulently.

Here are some important questions to ask before donating:

- What is the exact name and address of the charity? How will your donation be used?
- What percentage of your donation will go to fund raising costs? What percentage to administrative cost? What percentage to the charitable cause?
- Will the charity mail you a current financial statement?
- Is the solicitor a volunteer for the charity or a paid solicitor?

Follow these suggestions for wise giving:

- Request printed information that explains the charity's purpose and goals.
- Be aware of "look-alike" charities. Some bogus charities use names that sound like well-respected organizations.
- Never give credit card or checking account numbers over the phone unless you initiated the call. Do not give cash donations.

If the solicitor cannot answer your questions about the charity; uses high pressure tactics; or insists on sending someone to pick up your donation; DON'T GIVE.

If you have questions about a charity, check with the Attorney General's Office, the local Better Business Bureau, or the BBB Wise Giving Alliance at 703-276-0100 or www.give.org. Be aware that there could be problems with a charity — even without complaints on file.

Area Schools Compete in Annual Wonderful World of Water Program

PIERCE -- The 12th Annual Wonderful World of Water Festival was celebrated September 19 at the Willow Creek State Recreation Area near Pierce. Twenty-eight teams of ninth and tenth grade students from 16 schools across Northeast Nebraska competed in the day-long program vying for championship honors.

Each team competed in a track of hands-on activities focusing on water quality and other water related issues. Natural resources professionals from across the state volunteer each year to share their expertise and work with students who might choose a career in a natural resources related field. Following the educational sessions teams competed in Water Wheel of Fortune and the Wonderful World of Water special project.

This year's special project was Water Rockets which is a program taught through the Jr. Academy of Sciences Winter Program each year at Wayne State College. Each team was invited to build a water rocket and demonstrate their knowledge of mass, velocity and engineering. The rockets were judged on distance, time in the air and creativity. Several rockets were launched Wednesday with prizes being awarded in the previous categories.

Following the presentation of the special projects the winners of the 2001 Northeast Nebraska Wonderful World of Water were announced. The winner of the South Track was Team 2 from Norfolk Catholic High School. The winning team from the North Track was Team 2 from Stuart High School. Members of the Norfolk team were: Heather Kollars, Desirée Ceryeny, Dani Flower, Amber Drummond, Brittany Love, Lindsey Bayer and Team Sponsor, Marsha Stewart. Other schools participating in this year's program included: Winside Public School, Battle Creek Public School, Lynch Public School, O'Neill High School, Orchard High School, Ewing Public School, Clearwater Public School, Elgin Pope John, Lutheran High Northeast (Norfolk), Bloomfield High School, Laurel-Concord High School, Pierce High School, Elkhorn Valley Schools (Tilden), and Oakland-Craig High School.

The Wonderful World of Water is sponsored by: The Upper Elkhorn NRD; Lower Niobrara NRD; Lower Elkhorn NRD; Lewis and Clark NRD; University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension; and, the Natural Resources Conservation Service.

Weekend spent reminiscing

I spent the morning washing sheets, making beds, washing towels, and cleaning bathrooms. I spent part of the afternoon taking a nap! Now, I believe I'm ready for the rest of the week.

One of my old roommates has lived most of her adult life in California, where she married and became the mother of three sons. But, every summer, she comes back to Nebraska to see her parents and old friends. Occasionally, when the boys were small, they spent a couple days on the farm; once, the middle boy stayed for a week.

Now, they're all grown, two are married, one is a father. One lives in Nashville, the youngest in Indiana. Their grandfather has died; their grandma now lives in an apartment and had a 90th birthday party on Saturday. So, the whole crew stayed here. It was good to see everyone again.

I've never been to a 90th birthday before. It was a wonderful occasion, and a fun weekend. On Sunday evening, after everyone had gone home; another nurse friend and her husband, from Scottsbluff, came to spend the night. This led to some reminiscing about days (and nights) in the emergency room at Lutheran Hospital.

We've had reservations all summer for four people from Belgium who have relatives in the area. They were scheduled for the 14th; but, of course could not fly then. Now, they are coming on the 27th. That should be interesting, and we're looking forward to it.

Since I decided this summer that I was a choir singer and not a band vocalist, I rejoined the Lincoln Lutheran choir this month. We practice on Sunday afternoons.

The director brings his small daughter along, and she reads while we struggle with choral music. It reminds me of the days of the Norfolk Community Chorus, when we practiced at Norfolk

High with Dave Anderson leading. Sometimes our kids went along and played in "the Green Place," the forum at the entrance of the building which was carpeted in green. Eventually, a couple of them went along to rehearsal and sang in "The Messiah," too.

I'm reading my new Guideposts magazine tonight. As I contemplate the news, I appreciate the quotes. One is "worry drives us to prayer and prayer drives away the worry." Another, "Fear is useless. Faith is necessary. Love is everything." And, last: "People are not watching us when times are easy. They watch us when times are hard because that is when we are really ourselves." Amen.

Champion animals

Jessica Warner of Allen received a number of awards on her dairy animals at the 2001 Nebraska State Fair. In FFA competition, she received a first purple for her fall yearling heifer, reserve junior champion and Reserve Overall Champion Milking Shorthorn. She also received first purple on a spring yearling heifer, junior grand champion and Overall Grand Champion Milking Shorthorn. In addition, she received first purple on a spring yearling heifer and Junior Grand Champion Ayrshire.

High rating is attained

Heritage of Emerson received the Nebraska State Health Department's highest survey rating during their recent survey. It is unusual for a nursing home in the State of Nebraska to receive a deficiency-free survey, meaning all services provided at Heritage of Emerson meet or exceed all state and federal standards.

All nursing homes are inspected annually to evaluate services and renew state licensure. Unannounced, surveyors come in to interview, observe and check records for up to four days. If each of the hundreds of regulations are met, the nursing home is awarded a "deficiency-free" survey.

Heritage of Emerson is one of 31 facilities owned and managed by the Vetter Health Services (VHS) group of Omaha. The care center's administrator and staff develop plans to continuously improve their services and facility with the support from the VHS network. Operating decisions are made locally to assure that Heritage of Emerson remains responsive to the needs of its residents and community.

Fever-Fighter May Help After Stroke

According to a recent Journal of the American Heart Association report, 20% to 50% of persons who experience stroke also have a slight rise in body temperature. Although not high enough to result in fever, this rise in body temperature is associated with increased risk of poor outcomes including death. Researchers in The Netherlands tested the theory that giving the fever-fighter medicine acetaminophen (the active ingredient in Tylenol and many other nonprescription fever medicines) could improve stroke outcomes.

Stroke victims were given acetaminophen immediately after the type of stroke in which the blood supply is cut off from the brain. A temperature drop of 0.4 degrees C was noted. Although this decrease in temperature in stroke victims is modest, it has been estimated that risk of death doubles for every 1 degree C increase in body temperature. The researchers described the treatment as "very promising."

WAYNE COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

Chairman Miller, Members Nissen and Wurdeman, and Clerk Finn answered roll call. Advance notice of this meeting was published in The Wayne Herald, a legal newspaper, on September 6, 2001.

The agenda was approved.
The minutes of the September 4, 2001, meeting were approved as printed in the Commissioner's Record.

Stevé Muir of First National Insurance Agency presented United Health Care of the Midlands health insurance renewal rates. The renewal rates reflect a 22.5% increase effective November 1, 2001-October 31, 2002. Motion by Nissen, second by Wurdeman to accept the renewal rates. Roll call vote: all ayes, no nays.

A letter to the Department of Health and Human Services requesting planning money for infrastructure development of a public health department, as per LB 692, was approved and signed on motion by Wurdeman, second by Nissen. Roll call vote: all ayes, no nays.

An addition of securities by Elkhorn Valley Bank was approved on motion by Nissen, second by Wurdeman. Roll call vote: all ayes, no nays.

Motion by Wurdeman, second by Nissen to adopt the following resolution:
Resolution No. 01-28: Whereas, on September 11, 2001, the United States was suddenly and brutally attacked by foreign terrorists; and

Whereas, these terrorists hijacked and destroyed four civilian aircraft, crashing two of them into the towers of the World Trade Center in New York City, a third into the Pentagon outside Washington, D.C., and a fourth southeast of Pittsburgh; and

Whereas, thousands of innocent Americans were killed and injured as a result of these attacks, including the passengers and crew of the four aircraft, workers in the World Trade Center and in the Pentagon, rescue workers, and bystanders; and

Whereas, these cowardly acts were by far the deadliest terrorist attacks ever launched against the United States, and by targeting symbols of American strength and success, clearly were intended to intimidate our nation and weaken its resolve; and

Whereas, these horrific events have affected all Americans. It is important that we carry on with the regular activities of our lives. Terrorism cannot be allowed to break the spirit of the American people, and the best way to show these cowards that they have truly failed is for the people of the United States and their countries to stand tall and proud.

Therefore be it resolved, that the governing board of Wayne County condemns the cowardly and deadly actions of these terrorists; and

Be it further resolved, that the governing board of Wayne County supports the President of the United States, as he works with his national security team to defend against additional attacks, and find the perpetrators to bring them to justice; and

Be it still further resolved, that the governing board of Wayne County recommends to its citizens to support relief efforts by giving blood at the nearest available blood donation center.
Roll call vote: all ayes, no nays.

A listing of Personal Taxes to be Stricken from Tax List Report and Analysis of Delinquent Personal Taxes by the County Board was examined and approved.
Motion by Nissen, second by Wurdeman to approve the following resolution:

Resolution 01-27: Whereas a short bridge on 854th Road, Mile 559, on the line between Sections 20 and 29, T. 26 N., R. 1 E. of the 6th P.M., Garfield Precinct, Wayne County, Nebraska, 5.0 miles south and 7.1 miles west of Carroll has deteriorated and must be removed and replaced; now therefore

Be it resolved by the Board of County Commissioners of said county that such removal and replacement be added to the current One Year Road Plan of said county as Project C-90 (481).
Roll call vote: all ayes, no nays.

A check from Moorhead Electric in the amount of $2,440.62 for gravel loss due to utility line placement in county road rights of way was accepted.

An agreement with the City of Wayne and the Nebraska Department of Roads in which the County would allocate parts of its Federal Aid Surface Transportation Program (STP) fund to the joint City-County project was discussed. The creation of an assessment district was referred to County Attorney Pieper.

Proposals submitted by Speece Lewis Engineers, Mainelli Wagner & Associates, Inc., and JEO for Federal Aid bridge project BR0-7090 (16), Wayne Southwest, 3 miles south and 3 miles west of Wayne were reviewed. Motion by Wurdeman, second by Nissen to accept the Speece Lewis Engineers proposal. Roll call vote: all ayes, no nays.

The installation of rural addressing signs showing the Enhanced 911 house numbers was discussed. The signs will be installed on the road ditch side of the mail box, unless the mail box is not near the house or if there are two or more mail boxes, then the sign will be installed at the driveway.

Acting as a Board of Equalization a tax list correction was signed for DV Industries.
The Owner-Architect Agreement with Glenn H. Mannes for a courthouse improvement project was reviewed with County Attorney Pieper. Final negotiations will be conducted with Mannes; a contract will be submitted at the October 2, 2001 meeting for signatures.

Darcl Frahm was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Lori Hansen on the Wayne County Convention and Visitors Board on motion by Nissen, second by Wurdeman. This term of appointment will be from September 18, 2001 to May 31, 2003. Roll call vote: all ayes, no nays.

The Commissioners meeting recessed for budget hearings.

Motion by Wurdeman, second by Nissen to approve the 2001-2002 budget as prepared, with the distribution of county road funds by function to be determined later, and to adopt the following resolution:

Resolution No. 01-28: WHEREAS, a proposed County Budget for the Fiscal Year July 1, 2001 to June 30, 2002 prepared by the Budget Making Authority, was transmitted to the County Board on the 18th day of September 2001;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners as follows:
SECTION 1. That the budget for the fiscal year July 1, 2001 to June 30, 2002 as categorically evidenced by the budget document is, and the same hereby, is adopted as the budget for Wayne County for said fiscal year.

Total	$1,907,599.60

Roll call vote: all ayes, no nays.
Motion by Wurdeman, second by Nissen to adopt the following resolution:
Resolution No. 01-29: WHEREAS, Nebraska Revised Statute 77-1601.02 provides that the property tax request for the prior year shall be the property tax request for the current year for purposes of the levy set by the County Board of Equalization unless the Governing Body of Wayne County passes by a majority vote a resolution or ordinance setting the tax request at a different amount; and

WHEREAS, a special public hearing was held as required by law to hear and consider comments concerning the property tax request; and
WHEREAS, it is in the best interests of Wayne County that the property tax request for the current year be a different amount than the property tax request for the prior year.
NOW, THEREFORE, the Governing Body of Wayne County, by a majority vote, resolves that the 2001-2002 property tax request be set at $1,907,599.60.

Band Behind the Music

has been a large part of many high school. Although early practices and weekend take up a lot of sleep or free time, the band member is incredible for most, band a, or for a select few, ninth grade. There are about a group of more than a hundred come together and do such a wonderful job. something special about the bands director. er, of Wayne High School, is the school's y year for the past twelve years he has led ing. Band to superiors. He tells the band that it charts and directions and that we must do s; he leads, he helps, he motivates, and he perience as it is a class and Mr. Weber is the

I the members. As a senior I look back on the s have been made. Marching competitions, and districts, each played a role in the band Weber, laughs at the drummers, and lectures it helped us with our lives. When I graduate of these memories will come back to me. In and is something I will never forget.

Ann Temme, Senior

continuously strives for perfection.

I will always remember the sheer and absolute respect our band receives from so many people. While marching down Main Street on Band Day, I heard many comments about our band. "Wow, I want to be in band!" from a little kid along the street. "They're ALL so serious," from Wayne State College color guard members. "Wow, that's a lot of sound," from member of other bands competing that day. I will always remember the pride I felt when I heard these comments because I know how hard we work to get to that point.

In my life I've met a lot of people who have never heard of the Wayne High School Band. In many of these people's schools the band is a clique, a group of people who are all friends and are always together. They can't seem to fathom that at Wayne the band is half of the school. Our band contains people from every clique in the school, it is the only thing many of us have in common.

I truly appreciate the experiences I've been able to have through band. There's really nothing like the feeling you get when stepping out onto the field in Lincoln to march at state or onto the state at districts and I know that I will not soon forget my time spent in this band.

The Wayne High School Pride of the Blue Devils Marching Band has received superiors at all marching competitions for 12 straight years. This is an unprecedented and unequaled feat. Our band has been getting superiors since most of us in the band right now started school. Because of this and because of Mr. Weber's encouragement everyone in the band

The Wayne High School marching band does a great job of performing at a superior standard every time they step out on the field. One can always differentiate between this band and other bands in the level of pride expressed.

This is my fourth year in Mr. Weber's marching band, and the one aspect I can truthfully say I like the most about our contests and performances is the sense of pride. It's no news to anyone that Mr. Weber's band has maintained a superiors rating for over a decade. With over 150 members, we are among the top in our class (B1) - very capable of carrying on the tradition.

The marching band isn't all we have going for us by expectation. Our coaches and players always value highly our commitment to pep band. We play at basketball games, football games, volleyball games and wrestling matches, both at home and away. The concert band is something to be proud of too. It is extremely difficult to take 150 plus people and put together an outstanding concert piece, but every year, I think we manage to astound even ourselves. I think the most valuable part of Mr. Weber's band is the pride.

The Pride of the Line

The pride behind the Wayne High School Band lies in its straight lines. The hardest thing to accomplish while marching and the most impressive to watch, lines bring a sense of unity to the band. In organized rows and columns the band marches down streets and across fields. Hats parallel to the ground, horns slightly above parallel, wrinkle-free uniforms, and hard eyes starring ahead display the pride in each band member.

On Sept. 11 we all needed that pride. Life seemed to go crazy. It was like something picked up the United States, shook it around, and threw it down in a tangled rubble of cement. Amidst the horrific news reports of falling buildings and paralyzed air traffic, the Pride of the Blue Devils Marching Band played on.

I felt so proud while I was marching in the Wayne State College Band Day Parade. I was proud to live in a nation that stands together. I was proud of my community with its American flags flying in the breeze. I was proud of our cheering supporters. And most of all, I was proud to be marching in a straight, even line. Somehow I knew that order still exists in a world of chaos.

United the Wayne High Marching Band stands, in a proud line.

Members share on being a part of The Pride of the Heather Steinbach, Senior he can only give of the rest, but he does more than that. He inspires and cares. Being in band is as much a life learning experience as it is a reason.

Band has been a time full of experiences for all of us. In the last three years and realize how many memories we have made. Game exhibitions, band day, the Kansas City trip, and the experience. Practices full of side jokes from Mr. Welton that usually helped, not only drew us together, but also made this spring and watch the band play I know all of this. In conclusion, being a part of Wayne High Varsity band is a great experience.

Jacey Klaver, Junior

In the past few weeks, we have been working extremely hard for our upcoming competitions. Every moment in our rehearsals adds up, and every member in our band knows we need to make the best of each one in order to meet the expectations the Wayne High Varsity Band has. Each day the leadership in the upperclassmen gets stronger, and I can't wait until the time for competition comes because I know we are going to be so much stronger as a whole.
