Local volunteer returns home

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

Feeling honored to have received a call, Mary Lou George, Red Cross volunteer for the Wayne Chapter, returned Oct. 1 from helping near the World Trade Center (WTC) site in New York.

George, a member of the CAIR team, received her call from National Red Cross requesting her help two hours after the attacks, Sept. 11. On Sept. 12, she, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Dekker of Norfolk, and Kathy Ickler of Verdigré, also on the CAIR team, started their trip by car to New York.

Once reaching New York, the group was put to work at the Family Assistance Center located at Pier 94 on 55th Street. (Ground Zero is located near the southern tip of Manhattan). The mayor of New York set up the Family Assistance Center where many agencies are located to help people affected by the disaster on a long term basis.

George has a DSAR rating in mental health in the Red Cross so she worked in the child care center located in the Family Assistance Center. The child care center was set up as a grieving place for children of victims of the WTC disaster.

As security was extremely tight, George did not get to the Ground Zero site but she was able to board the USS Comfort which was docked right next to Pier 94 and was a place to feed the volunteers working at Ground Zero. Also for security reasons, George said they took photos of the children at the child care center with their guardians as they entered and then they only released the children to those shown in the photos. As the center was a grieving place, no other photos were allowed of the area.

Working in the Family Assistance Center, George notes there were many toys and rocking chairs to help the volunteers give comfort to children ages 6 weeks to 15 or 16-years-old.

During her last week at the center, there were as many as 50-60 children requiring their attention. While in their care, many parents attended the other booths set up in the Family Assistance Center to receive help with their physical, mental, financial, etc. problems brought on by the attacks.

George said, "Our job was to keep the children safe and happy," George said. "We had the easy job compared to those working at Ground Zero."

On a lighter note, George notes while in New York she was very busy but was able to see the Broadway production "Blast." George said the theaters gave Broadway tickets to Red Cross workers so when they did have some time off, they could get their minds off the disaster.

Activities held in Wayne for Fire Prevention Week

The week of Oct. 8-12 has been designated as National Fire Prevention Week. Activities have been ongoing at the Wayne Fire Hall all week.

Included in the week's activities are tours of the Fire Hall for preschool through second grade children and rides on the 1936 fire truck.

Art Barker, fire prevention chairman, noted while this is fire prevention week, fire prevention should be practiced year round.

The Wayne Volunteer Fire Department is part of a fire prevention co-op with other towns where meetings are held quarterly and the group exchanges fire prevention ideas.

Barker said there are fire prevention videos tapes on hand and they will show them to clubs, organizations, etc. and discuss fire prevention.

Also ongoing at the Wayne Fire Hall is Junior Fire Patrol for Wayne and Carroll Elementary and St. Mary's 4th grade students meeting every Monday evening for 8 weeks. During Junior Fire Patrol, various fire prevention elements are studied including fire components, how to put out fires, household inspection, self-protection, rescue, and first aid.

Any ones with questions can call Art Barker at 402-375-1304.

Important visitor

Governor Mike Johanns was in Wayne last week to visit with members of the community and representatives of Inventive Communications. While in Wayne, the Governor was presented a gift package of items representing Wayne, spoke with local officials and toured the Inventive Communications operation. Shown with the Governor are, left to right, City Administrator Lowell Johnson, Councilman Darrell Fuelberth and Russell Gifford of Inventive Communications.

Methodist Church to celebrate

First United Methodist Church located at 516 North Main Street in Wayne will observe the 100th anniversary of their original building on Sunday, Oct. 21. There will be a catered dinner at the church after the 10 a.m. worship service. Bishop Rhymes Moncre Jr. of Lincoln will be the guest preacher during the 10 a.m. worship. Previous pastors and members have been invited to the event. Rev. Mary Browne is the present pastor.

The Methodist Church in Wayne County started with services at La Porte. When the railroad came to Wayne, the people of LaPorte moved to Wayne taking their site of worship with them. Services started in the fall of 1881.

Before the first church was finished in 1884, services were held in the courthouse. On July 4, 1884 a prisoner set fire to the courthouse. The young church's property, consisting mainly of an organ and some songbooks were lost in that fire.

The lot where the present church stands was purchased. At the time this was located at the edge of Wayne. The Church Extension Society loaned the church $400. The first large gift recorded for this building project was one of $100 from Mrs. William Miller.

The Willing Workers Society later changed to Benevolent Workers and then to Ladies' Aid gave festival spelling bees, bag sociables, ice cream and strawberry festivals and food sales to raise money. Through the efforts of this determined group, the funds for completing payment on the church lot were raised.

Rapid growth in the membership between 1892 and 1900 brought the urgent demand for a new church building.

Clifford 'Butch' Christensen Jr.

Clifford "Butch" H. Christensen, Jr. 57, of Laurel died Friday, Oct. 5, 2001 at his home in Laurel.

Services were held Monday, Oct. 8 at United Lutheran Church in Laurel. The Rev. Kenneth Marquardt officiated.

Clifford "Butch" Harry Christensen, Jr., son of Clifford Edward and Wilma Louise (Floh) Christensen, was born Nov. 1, 1943 in Cincinnati, Ohio. He grew up in New Burlington, Ohio, a suburb of Cincinnati. He graduated from Mt. Healthy High School in 1961. On April 23, 1983 he married Denise Rachel Day at Trinity Lutheran Church in Cincinnati. Following graduation he worked at the family body shop beside his father, brother and uncle for nearly 35 years, until moving his family to Laurel in 1996. He tried his hand at fuel oil and fertilizing with his cousins at Urwiler's, and fulfilled a life-long dream of farming with the Rewinkel's in the Dixon/Concord area, until finally opening his own body shop in Laurel in 1998. A year and a half later, he was diagnosed with A.L.S., also known as Lou Gehrig's Disease and was forced to stop working shortly thereafter. He was a member of the United Lutheran Church in Laurel, previous member of Trinity Lutheran Church in Cincinnati, Sportsman's 25 Gun Club, lifetime member of the A.T.A. and Southern Ohio Dog and Game.

Survivors include his wife, Denise; two daughters, Ashley and Tara, all of Laurel; parents, Clifford and Wilma Christensen of Cincinnati, Ohio; brother, David and Sandy Christensen of Okenna, Ohio; three sisters, Nancy Frost of Cincinnati, Sandy and Jack Driscoll of Lexington, Ky. and Lori and Devon Short of Cincinnati; father-in-law and mother-in-law, Bobby and Mary Jane Day of Sparta, Ky.; two brothers-in-law, Robby and Michelle Day of Lebanon, Tenn. and Randy and Tiffany Day of Lexington, Ky.; aunts, uncles, cousins, nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his grandparents, C.P. and Sine Christensen and Othmar and Ida Flohr and one brother-in-law, Harlan Frost.

Honorary pallbearers were Walt Urwiler, Charlie Paulson, Edward "Bud" Hader, Marv Christensen, Mike Rewinkel and Gordon Dennis. Pallbearers were Greg Urwiler, Steve Urwiler, Leland Carson, Marlin Bose, Kurt Rewinkel and Hart Vollers.

Burial was in Laurel Cemetery in Laurel. Schumacher-Hasemann Funeral Home in Laurel was in charge of arrangements.

Sharon Rockhill

Sharon Rockhill, 67 of LaFayette, Ind. died Thursday, Sept. 20 at St. Elizabeth Medical Center in LaFayette.

Services were held Tuesday, Sept. 25 at the Hippensteel Chapel. Pastor Tom Schmidt officiated.

Sharon Lee (Ramm) Rockhill, daughter of Rudolph and Agnes Ramm, was born Jan. 11, 1938 in Stanton County. She graduated from Pilger High School and attended Wayne State College. On Jan. 11, 1958 she married William Edward Rockhill in Yeoman, Ind. She retired as a laboratory technician at the State Chemist Office at Purdue University. She was a member of the Carroll Chapter 475 Order of Eastern Star.

Survivors include her husband, William; one son, Paul and Cheryl Rockhill of LaFayette; one daughter, Penny and Jeff Lewis of Fishers, Ind.; seven grandchildren; her mother, Agnes Ramm of Wayne and a sister, Sally McNeil of Rutledge, Ga.

She was preceded in death by her father, Rudolph Ramm. Memorials may be made to the Leukemia-Lymphoma Society.

Burial was at the Yeoman Cemetery in Yeoman. Hippensteel Chapel was in charge of arrangements.

Margaret Coulter

Margaret Coulter, 77, of Norfolk died Friday, Oct. 5, 2001 at Heritage of Bel Air in Norfolk.

Services were held Wednesday, Oct. 10 at First Presbyterian Church in Norfolk. The Rev. Dr. William Nottage-Tacey and the Rev. Gail Axen officiated.

Margaret A. Coulter, daughter of Hans and Caroline (Hansen) Andersen, was born Sept. 29, 1924 at Winside. She attended school at Winside and recently received a GED certificate from Northeast Community College. On March 23, 1947 she married Melvin O. Coulter at Trinity Lutheran Church at Winside. The couple lived on farms in the Winside and Wayne areas before moving to Norfolk in 1988. She was employed at Norfolk Printing Co. for several years. She was a member of Theophilus Church at rural Winside and its Ladies Aid and a member of First Presbyterian Church after moving to Norfolk.

Survivors include two daughter, Sandra and Randy Helmer of Lindsey and Susan and Mark Craft of Hadar; three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her parents, husband in 1995, one daughter, one grandson, one son-in-law, three brothers and one sister.

Burial was in Pleasantview Cemetery in Winside. Home for Funerals in Norfolk was in charge of arrangements.

Wayne Habitat for Humanity plans kick-off

The Wayne Rotary Club presented a check for $5,000 to Habitat for Humanity members Jeff Carstens and Ann Witkowski at the Oct. 10 meeting.

Unable to be at the presentation were Dick and Becky Keidel, who have also been instrumental in the establishment of a Wayne Habitat for Humanity chapter.

This $5,000 is the first check

Habitat for Humanity has received and being the Wayne Habitat for Humanity kick-off challenging all churches and service groups in Wayne to raise a similar amount. This money will be used to promote the building of habitat homes (not just houses) in Wayne.

Habitat for Humanity International is a non-profit, ecumenical Christian housing ministry dedicated to eliminating substandard housing and homelessness from the earth and to make affordable shelters a matter of conscience and attitude. A kick-off meeting will be held at the Our Savior Center (the former Wayne City Library) on Thursday, Oct. 18 at 7 p.m. Those in charge encourage anyone interested in Habitat for Humanity to attend.

The meeting will feature the Regional Director of Habitat for this area, Margaret Gilmore and several local leaders of the Habitat project in Wayne.

In addition to the Rotary Club Challenge, Julia Shear, independent Advocate Distributor, is donating 5 percent of her sales for the month of November to Habitat for Humanity and she has issued a challenge for other small businesses to do the same.

Main Street Focus

By Leo Ahmann

Congratulations to Jeff Morlok, the Main Street Wayne Programs Volunteer of the Year. Congratulations to Anne Nolte, our Merchant of the Year. (These two individuals will be featured in future articles.)

These two individuals were recognized at the Nebraska Lied Main Street Annual Awards of Excellence Banquet, held this year at the Haythorne Ranch in Arthur.

The Main Street Wayne Program was presented a first place Award of Excellence in the Business Assistance category by Larry Sommer, Nebraska Lied Main Street Governing Board Chairman for our Consumer Preference Survey. An Honorable Mention was given to our "Christmas on the Main" in the Best Promotional category and an Honorable Mention in the Best Newsletter category.

The Beatrice Main Street Program received three first place awards for Most Creative Fundraising Campaign, Best Promotional Event, and Best Facade Renovation over $5,000. Ogallala received a first place for the Most Comprehensive Partnership. Alliance was awarded a first place Award of Excellence in having the best newsletter and McCook received a first place award for the Best Interior Improvement.

It was a busy three days in Ogallala (and the Haythorne Ranch). My Wednesday began with a morning meeting at 11 a.m. with the Main Street Management Team (seven other agencies and departments from the state) and ended that evening with each of those entities from the state making a presentation to Main Street Managers, Board Members and volunteers and other interested individuals.

On Thursday there were presentations and hands on activities to strengthen our knowledge and implementation of each of the four committees that make up a Main Street Program (Design, Organization, Promotions and Economic Restructuring).

Friday concluded the conference with a talk by Peter Brink, Senior Vice-President of Programs at the National Trust for Historic Preservation in Washington, D.C.

As a sidebar, the opportunity to visit the 100 year-old Haythorne Ranch and its operation was outstanding. The Ranch and its 'old-time' methods of operations have been featured on a couple of TV programs.

Lexington was announced as the newest member of the state's Main Program. The central Nebraska community joins Alliance, Bassett, Beatrice, Central City, Fremont, Gothenburg, Kimball, McCook, Ogallala, Plattsmouth, Scottsbluff and Wayne with full-time Main Street Programs.

This past Tuesday representatives of Main Street Wayne, the Chamber and Wayne Industries and others met with representatives from Central City. Central City has a combined Main Street/Chamber Program. Discussions included how they are funded, the dividing of responsibilities and obstacles they do and do not encounter as a combined program. The next column will give you some details of that meeting.

Just a reminder for you... we have changed our date of the "On the Main Winter Festival" from Saturday, Dec. 1 to Sunday, Dec. 2. As mentioned in the last column, Dec. 1 is the date of the Big 12 Championship football game and since the Promotions Committee is a very sharp outfit... Even though it's a month and a half away, we do hope that you'll mark the date. It'll be the conclusion of our "Festival of Wreaths" silent auction. The evening (from 6 to 10 p.m.) will include entertainment, grand prize drawings, food and dance music later in the evening. You'll be able to enjoy valet parking and other amenities of a truly elegant evening. So please make a date to join us. Complete information will be forthcoming.

For your children, Saturday, Oct. 27 is a day they'll enjoy. Participating merchants will be having treats for the youngsters to enjoy in their stores and a costume contest and free movie at the Hollywood Theatre on that date.

Thanks to the people who attended our meeting with the Nebraska State Historical Society Office personnel. They did an exit meeting regarding their "windshield historical buildings survey" in Wayne and the county. The Main Street Office has bound copies of that interesting pictorial and script survey, and if you're interested, we have a free copy for you. Just stop by the Office at 208 N. Main.

If you would like to be a part of the Main Street Program for the long haul or assist in a short term project, please give us a call at 375-5062. We'd love to have you on board.

Until next time...

Statehouse Correspondent

The Nebraska Press Association

Let's remember some of the important differences between us and them.

There are people who believe in and are obligated to stand up for certain rights. That's us. There are people who want to decide how everyone else should think and live, and what they can say. That's them.

Think about the old Cold War joke about the American who bragged to the Russian: "In my country, I can stand in the middle of the street and holler 'The leaders of my country are idiots,' and nothing bad would happen to me."

"Me, too!" the Russian said.

"You're kidding!" said the American.

"No, I'm not," said the Russian. "I can stand in the middle of Moscow and yell that the leaders of your country are idiots, and nothing bad would happen to me!"

It is enormously important to remember that when America faces a crisis, Americans do not forfeit their right to argue over how the government handles it, or whether there really is a crisis, or why there is a crisis.

Many of us have, over years of armed conflict or political crisis, heard things akin to: "If you want to criticize the government, move to China!"

While the sentiment is understandable, it is the antithesis of what America is about. The thing is, if you want to live in a country where criticism of the government is a no-no, then you should move to China. Burn a flag over there, or otherwise annoy the gangsters who run the place, and you're a candidate for the Tianamen Square Memorial Target Shoot. As a target.

Nebraska isn't thought of as the Heartland simply because it's sort of in the middle of the country. It has to do with the perceived values of its inhabitants. You know: the work ethic, the patriotism. The faith its people put in the American way of life.

The spirit of America is represented rather well, in part, by something you can find on a dollar bill. "E Pluribus Unum." That translates to: "Out of many, one." That means one people. Not one point of view.

The nation's battle against terrorism is a battle for personal freedom. It is a battle, in part, to ensure that many voices can be heard and that the people behind those voices will not be subject to undue retribution. (You don't have to shake hands or have coffee with them, but you can't throw them in jail or burn crosses on their lawns, either.)

A newspaper ought to reflect a community in conversation with itself - whether that community is your hometown or the country as a whole. In America, the conversation can be disputatious. It is supposed to be disputatious.

Those who disagree with the majority are not the enemy. Neither are those who report that there are disagreements among us.

The enemy is to be found among them - those who would not tolerate disagreement, and don't even like the idea of people being informed that a disagreement exists. The likes of them never seem to disappear entirely. They were rabid supporters of Hitler. And Stalin. And Mao. And even of that psychopathic, murderous ignoramus, Pol Pot. They burned books and stifled free speech, including the press.

Aren't you glad you aren't one of them? And if you are one of them, aren't you glad you live in America? Otherwise, you could easily turn up as dead as the rest of them.

Book on cemeteries is published

Earlier this year, the Wayne County Genealogical Society of Wayne County in Wayne asked for help in locating all the cemeteries in Wayne County.

Several people contacted the Society with cemeteries they did not think were on the group's list. With the information that was given to the Society, it was determined that the cemeteries were known to other people by another name.

Some of the information given to the society was of private burial sites of which were asked not to include in the book, but a few were published. The Genealogical Society would like to thank all those who called society members with information.

The Wayne County Genealogical Society members felt it was important to find and record the burial sites to preserve the information as another source in an effort to save this information for future generations. They also feel that the information is important to the history of the county, the members and to the community before the information is lost forever. The information would be essential for any genealogist doing research in the county.

The the best of the group's ability, every known grave marker in every cemetery in Wayne county was recorded in the book through 2000. Some of the recordings are from records and there is not a grave marker present. Some of the cemeteries belong to churches, while some contain nationalities that have settled there. A few inscriptions were found in the German language. From the private burial sites, the group was able to get part of the information while other burials will be forever unknown. After many years of aging and weathering, some of the grave markers have become fragile, making them difficult to read, as well as some that were unable to be read.

The information is not contained in a three-ring notebook binder. The book consists of nearly 9,000 entries from the 14 cemeteries and a few private burial sites. The names are listed alphabetically for each cemetery. There is a complete index in the back to help locate a specific name. Also included is a brief note about the history of each cemetery and a plat map with each of the cemeteries numbered according to their number of listings in the table of contents.

The Greenwood Cemetery, located within the city limits of Wayne, consists of over half of the entries listed in the book. There is also a map of the Greenwood Cemetery, showing all the sections and then additional mapping to aid in finding the location of a loved one's burial site in a particular section as this information is included in the listing of names.

Other information that can be found in the book includes birth dates and death dates, maiden names, marriage dates, military affiliations and some other facts may also be included.

The Genealogical Society began selling the book at the Wayne County Fair. Since that time, books have continued to be sold.

The cost of the book is $26.50, including tax. Those desiring to have one mailed should send $31. Payment may be sent to the Wayne County Genealogical Society, c/o Nancy Sutton, 220 Sherman Street, Wayne, Neb. 68787 or to the Wayne County Genealogical Society, c/o Donna Shufelt, 314 West First Street, Wayne, Neb. 68787.

The Genealogical Society has tried to be as accurate as possible, but with the various sources used, no guarantees can be made. The group is open to any corrected information that may one has for the book, with plans to update the information every few years and corrected information included.

Society members stated, "with the increasing interest in genealogy, it is important that we keep preserving our heritage and facts about those who came before us. Many of our sources of information are gone and all the information with them."

Wayne County Red Cross proud of the support shown to the organization

Dear Editor,

As most everyone in Wayne County has realized within the last month, the Wayne County Chapter of the American Red Cross was facing some serious financial struggles.

A decision was made to ask some businesses to become "sponsors" for an annual donation of $250. Our goal was to raise enough funds to secure the future of keeping our chapter open and able to serve the needs in not only Wayne County, but the surrounding areas where chapters had already closed.

This "idea" grew more than we could ever have imagined and we not only obtained business sponsors, but we had some civic groups, as well as many individuals who stepped up to support us, with the main idea being that this community wanted to maintain a Red Cross chapter. We are very thankful to each and every person who said "yes" and are happy to report at the time of writing this, we have 86 sponsors. We now have a goal of 100 sponsors, which will help build a base for us to rely on should Wayne County experience a major disaster, as that can never be planned for and therefore, is not part of our annual budget.

But I felt compelled to write this letter to inform the community of one particular group that responded to our need. That group was the Wayne High School Student Council - our high school kids!!!

Our group was overwhelmed at this response - and this was not a one time deal - this is an annual commitment that these kids voted on to meet year after year! As a parent of a high school student, I can't begin to tell you of the pride I feel at what these kids have done.

At a time when many people look at the youth today and wonder where our future is headed, I think this response speaks for itself. They are headed in the right direction. Do they understand what is going on in the world right now? You bet the do! Do they wonder what the future holds? You bet they do! When the time comes, are they going to make competent and able leaders? YES!

This group, who range in age from 14 to 19, saw a need and rose to the challenge to make a difference! And under the leadership of their sponsor, Terry Munson, the classes that enter high school year after year from now on will help honor that commitment and be informed of what they are spending that money on and why. They are helping to keep a Red Cross chapter in Wayne County, Nebraska. A chapter that will be here to respond to an emergency that may affect them, their family or their friends. Or that emergency may happen to me... or to you!

The high school youth response does not stop, though, with just this tremendous financial support. The FBIA (Future Business Leaders of America) group, under the direction of Annette Rasmussen, has been selling Red Cross First Aid kits and recently collected quarters in film canisters to go toward the disasters back east.

We also have three high school youth (Jacey Klaver, Tony Carollo and Jodi Stowater) who are taking entire weekends of their "free time" to take state training in the area of disaster response and to become First Aid/ CPR instructors! We even have one youth, Jacey Klaver, who is a youth member on our Board.

So the next time you wonder where our future is headed, I think it is headed in a pretty good direction - and in very responsible, capable hands! Thank you Wayne High School students. On behalf of the Wayne County Chapter of the American Red Cross, I am very proud of all of you!

Cap Peterson, Wayne

ter for a little bit.

Also while in New York, George got to shake hands with the former President Clinton, saw his family, the U.S. secretary general and many dignitaries including a princess from a foreign country and heard Bette Midler sing patriotic songs.

Thinking about New York, "I came back with a new view of New Yorkers than I had before," George said. "Everyone there was working together. Cab drivers were giving free rides to the Red Cross workers; everyone wanted to help. MCI set up a trailer near the Family Assistance Center so that all victims' families and volunteers could call free anywhere in the world to keep in touch with loved ones, etc. I saw the people as being very gracious to those who came to help but they also wanted to fight back so it never happens again."

The last week she was in New York, death certificates were being handed out to the families of the WTC victims which was starting to bring closure to them.

When leaving, George flew out of La Guardia Airport where security was high level so anything she felt was questionable, such as fingernail scissors, etc. she sent back with the Dekkers who drove back. At the airport, her bags were hand searched.

As for returning to the New York disaster site, "I stayed longer in the first place as I could not be there in October due to commitments at home but I told them I could go back in November or December and I will go if they call me," George said.

Red Cross is prepared for disasters

As for Red Cross training, Mary Lou George has been a member of the Wayne Red Cross board for many years. She has received most of the Red Cross training.

George has helped in disasters locally and in Grand Forks during the flood they had several years ago. Being called to New York, though, was her first national disaster she has been called to since she received her CAIR training.

George said there are three entities responsible for CAIR team training: the National Transportation Board, the American Red Cross, and the Church of the Brethren. (Each faith is responsible for a specific area so if there is a disaster, Red Cross can call on them to send people to help).

Though the Red Cross had processed 7,000 to help the day before George was processed, all of the CAIR team volunteers have been called across the United States and have served at the New York site. Due to a lack of space, the Red Cross processing center located in the armory was closed shortly after the attacks and a new processing center opened in Brooklyn.

Because of the extreme stress associated with a disaster, the Red Cross only wants CAIR team volunteers to work at a disaster site two weeks. When George left, they were trying to train local people in New York to take over CAIR team duties.

George notes when the statistics come in, she feels we will be amazed how much the Red Cross has spent on helping at the World Trade Center disaster.

Summing up her volunteer experience in New York, "I am proud to be part of the Red Cross," George said.

Fire Department responds to fire

A fire was reported at Delmar Lut's farm one and one half miles south and one mile west of Wayne Sunday afternoon around 4 p.m.

Because of dry weather conditions, a bean field started on fire from a possible spark from a combine.

According to Robert Woehler, fire chief, the Wayne Fire Department responded and was able to put out the fire easily as it was fairly small.

Man is arrested

Wayne Police Officers arrested 18 year-old Paul Boisen of Wayne on Oct. 9 for Contributing to the Delinquency of a Minor Child.

Shortly after noon on Tuesday, Boisen allegedly encouraged a 15 year-old girl to leave school and return to his apartment. The minor child was found in his apartment several hours later.

Boisen is being held at the Thurston County Jail, pending the filing of formal charges in Wayne County Court.

Combine fire

The Carroll Volunteer Fire Department responded to a combine fire west of Carroll on Saturday evening. The combine, owned by Perry Jones, appears to be a total loss. It is believed that the fire started with the alternator of the combine. No one was injured in the fire.

'Smart' trailer in Wayne

In the next couple of weeks, motorists may notice a 'smart' trailer in Wayne.

This trailer is equipped with a radar and a digital display to show motorists how fast they are going. The trailer will be placed in several locations around Wayne to help remind motorists to drive the speed limit.

Wayne Police Officer Scott Miller is responsible for the trailer being in Wayne. Officer Miller recognized the need to not only enforce traffic laws, but to educate the driving public also, so he took the initiative to contact the Nebraska State Department of Roads, the owner of the trailer, and made arrangements to get the trailer to Wayne.

Foolish act

A vandal or vandals broke windows in the Bethany Presbyterian Church south of Carroll on Friday night. A brick and beer bottles were found at the scene. It was reported that several mailboxes in the area were also vandalized.

A decision to build the new church was made in August of 1900. By May of 1901, the Building Fund Treasurer reported $8500 on hand toward the total cost of the building, which was $17,000. The cornerstone was laid in 1901. In October the consecration service for the edifice was held with $7000 still needed.

A pipe organ was purchased and presented to the church in 1903, the gift of Mrs. J.H. Pingrey. Also in 1903, the large parsonage was built next to the church for $4,000. In February of 1910, the organ was improved by the installation of an electric pump, electricity having been placed in the church between 1908 and 1910.

Next, the church basement was finished. The church was built almost wholly by volunteer labor. The street in front of the church was paved in 1920.

The present organ was purchased and installed around 1929. Fellowship Hall was added in 1952 with the kitchen, stage and parlor.

The basement Sunday School rooms were remodeled in 1953 and the front of the church was enclosed in 1956. The study and office were remodeled in 1958.

Between the years of 1979 and 1982, much work was done:

*The basement stairway by the north entrance was closed.

*The new south stairway was built with a south entrance and restrooms in the new addition south of Fellowship Hall.

*The stage was removed from Fellowship Hall and the parlor moved to that area.

*The kitchen was enlarged 3 feet into Fellowship Hall.

*The church office was relocated into the old parlor area.

*The old church office was made into the cry room and large hall.

*The Sanctuary was remodeled, and a new 15 foot cross, communion table, lectern and pulpit hand crafted by Willard Wiltse were added. Stained glass was also added to the Sanctuary in the remodeling process.

The organ was renovated in 1982 and new pipes were added.

This work was completed by the 100th anniversary.

In July, 1996, ground breaking began for the new educational unit to be added to the church. The project was chaired by Dick and Becky Keidel. The work was completed and the consecration service was Sept. 4, 1997.

The new addition includes 11 Sunday School rooms, a nursery and an elevator which accesses both levels of the addition as well as the existing building.

At the same time, the basement was remodeled to accommodate the increasing number of community groups seeking to use the building, an expanded church library and larger youth rooms.

The mortgage was burned Sept. 26, 1999. Rev. Gary Main was the pastor.

Also in 1999, air conditioning was added to the church building and church pews were padded.

The year 2001 brought the new sound system to the sanctuary. The project was under the direction of Curt Jeffries and Tim Boeckenhauer.

The First United Methodist Church of Wayne has strong Christian Education, youth programs and worship life with two Sunday services held at 8:15 and 9:30 a.m. The 9:30 service is televised live on HunTel Intercable channel 24. There are numerous study groups offered as well as women's and men's ministries.

The church facilities are shared with the community and are the meeting place for Girl Scout and Brownies, a Cub Scout troop, Jaycees, 4-H groups, PALS, Gideons, and host the Goldenrod Hills Immunization Clinic.

The mission of First United Methodist Church of Wayne is to respond faithfully to Jesus Christ' call to serve him. There are presently around 562 professing members and 117 baptized children.

From 1901-2001 is 100 years of dedication and faith. First United Methodist Church has a great heritage and the members proclaim it to advance the ministry and mission of the church.

School board meets at Carroll

An honor coffee was held prior to the Wayne Community School Board of Education meeting Monday night at the elementary school in Carroll. Recognized were Wayne School Board members Bill Dickey, Dr. Jean Blomenkamp and Sue Gilmore who received Nebraska Association of School Boards Achievement Awards.

A tax hearing was held at 7 p.m. The amount of the request is $3,709,041.18.

In the regular meeting which started at 7:10, the board approved the refuse bid submitted by Waste Connections of Nebraska, Inc. in the amount of $3,897.

Also approved was continuing the bussing contract with Nebraska School Bus, Inc. as is to Aug. 2002 and then negotiate on a new contract at that time.

Present with pre-scheduled communication were Diane and Bob Kenney and several local Carroll residents. Diane spoke on how upset they were with the closing of the Carroll Elementary School at the end of this school term. She voiced concern for her twin Kindergarten-aged children having to ride the bus for an hour before school and an hour after school. The long bus ride combined with all-day Kindergarten, she fears, will make too long of a day for them.

Board member Sue Gilmore assured the group it was not an easy decision for the board to make but was done for the best interest of the students and for financial reasons. There are 29 children enrolled in Carroll and it's costing the district about $200,000 a year to keep the school open. With the threat of more state aid cuts, the board felt closing was necessary.

The board assured the group there was plenty of room in the elementary school in Wayne for the added children and as for all-day Kindergarten, parents can choose to send children half days.

Speaking on track renovation, Darrel Moeller of Midwest Track and Tennis gave a presentation. He recommended taking out the present track asphalt completely and offered the board three options: 1. Redo base dirt and put new asphalt on 2. Mill off and up present asphalt and put down as base, then asphalt 3. Take out and redo base dirt, rock, and then asphalt.

(#3 is what Moeller recommends). And then put down a polyurethane surface.

He noted when asphalt sits on bare dirt, moisture, freezing and thawing crack it. He told the board the track area needs to be surveyed before bids can be let. He told the board rebate money is available if Nebraska rubber is used in the surface coating.

The second track presentation was from Sam Fisher of Fisher Tracks. He noted drainage problems need to be addressed with the present track. He noted water comes back toward the track and over it. Fisher said it would cost between $17,000-25,000 to fix the drainage problem.

Options Fisher gave the board to improve the track include: 1. Petro tack all cracks and put in 2" overlay ($46,000) 2. Petro mat with fiberglass sheets over cracks plus 2" overlay ($54,890) 3. Tear out present track completely down 8", haul away and put in new track (which would cost $100,000 or more depending if have to haul old track materials away). Fisher recommends a latex surface if option 3 was followed.

Both presenters said tracks need to be maintained and there are costs involved in track upkeep each year. The board is planning more discussion on the subject in upcoming meetings.

Also present was Tim Schmeits of Wayne, representing a group of concerned individuals who would like to see a track and a football field suitable for varsity playing. He noted they would like to combine with the Wayne Foundation on fund raisers, etc. so a quality track and field could become a reality.

Dr. Reinert, Wayne School system superintendent, gave an update on construction/renovation at the Wayne Middle School and said they are on target for the Nov. 29 completion of the building. He said they hope to make the move into the building the week of Dec. 3.

As for an update on the Community Activity Center, Dr. Reinert said water lines are in but not hooked up yet as water testing needs to be done first. The sprinklers are in and grass seeding is done.

Discussion was held on Nebraska legislature special session which is expected to be held Oct. 25. Educational state aid is on the table and there could be reductions of 4 percent (impact would be $84,251) or between 4-8 percent (impact would be $168,503, if there is an 8 percent cut). Plus, there could be cuts in entitlements.

There will be a Oct. 16 meeting at Wayne City Hall where the three senators representing this area and various local school districts representatives will meet on the educational state aid cuts.

During the meeting, the board approved the tax request.

There was executive session for personnel reasons.

The next Wayne Community Board of Education meeting will be Monday, Oct. 22 at 7 p.m. at the Wayne High School. The public is invited to attend.

Council approves power contract

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Following a presentation by Jack Henderson of Nebraska Public Power District, the Wayne City Council approved a 20 year wholesale power contract and capacity agreement.

The city's present contract with NPPD does not expire until 2015; however, the new contract offers a number of benefits for the city and contains possible options for the city, should electric deregulation become a reality in Nebraska.

The council also approved Ordinances 2001-14, 2001-15 and 2001-16. The first directs the sale of a tract of land to John Vakoc; the second amends the city code concerning the zoning requirements and home occupation requirements. The second allows for the sale of a portion of land between 10th and Sycamore Streets to Region IV, Inc.

The Uniform Service Surcharge for the Enhanced 911 Service area will be increased from 50¢ to $1, in keeping with action taken by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners. The action affects those with 375 prefixes.

Preliminary discussion was held on providing water to property west of Wayne owned by Brian and Amy Bowers. It involves an 80 acre tract of land that will be sub-divided for individual houses. More discussion will be held as the project proceeds.

During Tuesday's meeting, Resolution 2001-38 was unanimously approved. It creates an agreement with Service and Product.Net for work with the city of Wayne's web page. The contract, along with action taken at the council's last meeting, could result in substantial savings over the course of the next several years as the web site becomes operational.

Approval was given for the closing of a portion of Eastview Street from Sycamore to 10th Street. The action was necessary to allow for the purchase of property in this area by Region IV, Inc.

A change order was approved for the Community Activity Center Project. The change will involve roofing material not accessible to the elements and will result in a savings of $17,000.

In other action, Mayor Sheryl Lindau appointed Dave Zach to the Wayne Municipal Airport Authority. He replaces Stan Morris, who recently resigned.

'Cats score 28 second half points to erase 10-0 deficit WSC posts homecoming win

It was a tale of two halves for the Wayne State football team last Saturday as Homecoming festivities concluded.

Scott Hoffman's 'Cats were shutout in the first 30 minutes by Minnesota-Crookston and trailed 10-0.

The second half however, proved to be all Wayne State as the 'Cats erupted for 28 points en route to a 28-18 victory.

It took WSC just over a half season to notch win number three whereas a year ago the 'Cats went 2-9.

The 3-3 victors got a stellar performance on both sides of the ball as quarterback Justin Burhoop enjoyed his finest day as a signal-caller at WSC with 319 yards and three touchdowns on 16-of-35 passing with three interceptions.

The 'Cats had two receivers over 100 yards as Tavaris Johnson ran his streak of 100-plus yards receiving a game to five on four catches while Josh Hopwood caught seven balls for 110 yards.

Defensively, WSC swarmed to the ball with five players finishing in double figures in tackles including Mike Baker (15), Adam Long (14), Jeremy Neill (12), Antonio Jackson (11) and Kyle Lingenfelter (11).

The 'Cats also had four interceptions on the day led by Neill with two picks while Baker had one and Ashley Touissaint, one.

Trailing 10-0 in the third quarter, WSC got a 77-yard pass play from Burhoop to Hopwood. Five minutes later Bryce Teager darted over from three yards out to give the host team a 14-10 lead after three quarters of play.

WSC got a 40-yard scoring strike from Burhoop to Johnson just in to the fourth quarter before Crookston cut the gap to 21-18 on a 92-yard pass play.

Minutes later however, WSC struck from long range as Burhoop connected with Johnson on an 85-yard strike for the final margin of victory.

WSC racked up 434 total yards of offense but gave up 462 yards. However, Crookston ran 27 more offensive plays than the 'Cats.

Bryce Teager was the leading ground gainer for WSC with 65 yards on 17 carries. Both teams had four total turnovers.

The 'Cats NSIC record improved to 2-2 while the overall record moved to 3-3.

WSC will travel to play Minnesota Moorhead on Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

 Sacks: Mike Baker (1); Everest Martin (1).

Jeremy Neill earned the Northern Sun Conference Player of the Week honors on defense and Justin Burhoop won the same award on offense.

Neill, a freshman cornerback from Missouri Valley, Iowa had a career-high 12 tackles including eight solo stops. He also had two interceptions.

Burhoop, a senior from Seward, passed for a career high 319 yards and three touchdowns in the homecoming win. He threw for 281 yards in the second half as WSC erased a 10-0 lead at the intermission for a 28-18 win.

Wayne State kick returner Jeremy Neill looks for the assistance of Kyle Lingenfelter, Desmond Grace and another teammate during one of his runbacks. The 'Cats improved to 3-3 with the 28-18 win over Crookston on Homecoming.

Wayne State's defense stiffened in the second half, holding Minnesota-Crookston to just seven points. Here, Bump Christensen looks to aid his teammate in making a tackle.

WSC harriers win their own invite

The Wayne State College cross country teams completed a sweep of both the women's and men's team titles at the WSC Alumni Invitational held Friday at the Wayne Country Club.

The women's team won with a score of 28 points, defeating York College (45 points) and Mount Marty College (48 points).

The men's team also won with a score of 28 points, defeating a WSC Alumni team (62 points), Mount Marty College (68 points), and York College (71 points).

Senior Andy Tucknott was the top finisher for the Wildcats placing second on the 8,000 meter course in a time of 27:14.

The WSC team ran its best team race of the season with the split from the first to the fifth runner at one minute and 34 seconds.

Other finishers for WSC included: Nick Hansen - fourth place in 28:15, James Bruhn - fifth place in 28:18, Kirk Ermels - eighth place in 28:43, Dana Rider - ninth place in 28:48. Rounding out the WSC finishers was David Kortum - 11th, Brett Struebing - 14th, and Dustin Lippman - 16th. James McGown, a former WSC All-American was the individual winner in a time of 26:39.

Senior Darr Nickerson led the women's team for the fourth consecutive year.

Blue Devils bid for a repeat falls short

By Kevin Peterson
Of the Herald

The Wayne girls golf team's bid for a repeat state championship in Class B fell short, Tuesday as Dave Hix's team settled for third place honors at the two-day event in Grand Island at Indian Head Golf Course.

Wayne finished with a two-day team score of 724 with rounds of 368-356.

Gering captured the state title with a 709 (359-350). Minden placed runner-up at 713 (360-353).

McCook was fourth at 736 with Ogallala placing fifth at 750. Columbus Scotus netted sixth place at 782 followed in order by Holdrege, Grand Island Northwest, Aurora, Omaha Duchesne Academy, Gretna and Nebraska City.

Wayne junior Amy Harder erased a disappointing first day score of 86 with a 77 on day two which put her in a three-way tie for first place.

The playoff for the outright state championship went three holes before Gering's Mandi Schlaepfer won the title.

Minden sophomore Kristen Kosch was also involved in the three-way playoff.

Kosch was eliminated on the first hole which left Harder and Schlaepfer.

Both girls bogeyed the second hole which forced a third playoff hole.

"I would say that all three of these girls had numerous chances to win the state championship during their rounds of 18," Wayne coach Dave Hix said.

"Amy was just one over par with less than a handful of holes remaining but finished at five-over-par. The Minden girl double bogeyed the 18th hole which landed her in the playoff after she had birdied the same hole on the first day of the tournament. The Gering girl played pretty consistent golf both days."

Harder settled for runner-up honors. Kari Harder, playing her final state tournament, finished 14th overall with a 178 after rounds of 87-91.

Karla Keller closed out her high school golf career with a 189 on rounds of 95-94 and Megan Summerfield netted a score of 194 after rounds of 100-94.

Lindsey Stoltenberg finished with a 209 two-day score with rounds of 110-99.

Of the top five teams at State, Wayne showed the greatest improvement from the first day to the second with a 12-stroke difference.

Gering was nine strokes better on day two and Minden was seven strokes better and McCook was two strokes worse.

'Cats win streak is at seven

By Kevin Peterson
Of the Herald

Wayne State volleyball coach Sharon Vanis watched her 'Cats sweep past Bemidji State and Minnesota-Duluth over the weekend to improve to 7-1 in NSIC play and 15-8 overall.

After slipping to 8-8 with a loss to Rockhurst in late September, WSC has ripped off seven straight victories—the longest win streak in a decade.

The 'Cats win over Duluth last Saturday also erased a goose egg from the win column as it was the first win over Duluth for WSC in seven total matches against them.

The weekend wins began with a 30-10, 30-23, 30-23 win at Bemidji.

Rayna Nelsen led WSC with 10 kill spikes with Lindsey Koch notching nine and Jessie Erwin, seven while Kasey Meyer netted 30 kill assists.

Janel Moody recorded six service aces with Meyer and Koch each notching four aces.

Defensively, Erwin led the way with 17 digs while Koch had 14. Meyer and Heather Schuller had 11 digs each.

The 'Cats yielded a .355 kill percentage while holding the host team to just .043.

Balance was the key to the 'Cats win over Duluth after falling in the first game, 24-30, 30-23, 30-28, 30-26.

Laurie Schroeder led the way with 16 kill spikes while posting a career-high nine blocks.

Rayna Nelsen had 13 kills and Lindsey Koch, 11 while Jessie Erwin finished with 10 and Heather Schuller, nine.

Kasey Meyer recorded 49 kill assists and Janel Moody posted four service aces while defensively, Erwin notched 21 digs and Koch had 20. Meyer and Schuller each had 12 digs and Angie Kraus posted 10.

"We had a great weekend," Vanis said. "There is always room for improvement but right now the girls are playing very good volleyball and the first game against Bemidji State was almost perfect in every sense of the word."

Vanis said Nelsen hit at a .458 clip over the weekend with Schroeder at .364. The 'Cats still trail Southwest St. in the NSIC as the Mustangs moved to 8-0 over the weekend.

Southwest State comes to WSC on the 24th of this month.

This weekend however, WSC travels to Minnesota-Morris on Friday and Northern St. on Saturday.

The Wolves of Northern St. are currently 8-0 at home this season

Golf

"It's not the finish we were hoping for but a pretty successful season overall," Hix said. "This group of girls set a school record for a team score as well as individual. We won the South Sioux meet whereas we were the only school that wasn't Class A.

"We had five medal winners at districts for the first time in school history and we won the Mid-States Conference title in our first attempt."

Hix said his squad just quite simply played poorly the first day and dug themselves a hole they couldn't get out of.

"I was very proud of the way our team tried to fight back the second day," Hix added. "I also, on behalf of the team, want to express our sincere thanks to the parents and fans for making the trip to Grand Island. It means a lot to our program."

Wayne junior Amy Harder chips on to hole 16 after driving the ball on the par four to pin high. Harder placed runner-up at the Class B State Golf Tournament after dropping a three-hole sudden-death playoff. The Blue Devils placed third as a team. At right, Karla Keller putts for a par during state tournament action.

Megan Summerfield putts downhill to the pin on the back nine of Indian Head Golf Course in Grand Island.

Lindsey Stoltenberg tees off on hole 12 during day one action at State.

Gridiron teams compete

Wayne's fifth and sixth grade football teams were in recent action.

The fifth graders beat Allen, 30-0 behind Drew Workman's three touchdowns.

Workman scored on 35 yard punt return, a 30 yard punt return and a 55 yard interception return for a touchdown. Tyler Schaefer also scored on a 20 yard run.

Workman also scored on a two-point conversion run while John Murray scored the same way. Andi Diediker caught a pass from Ryan Pieper for a third, two-point conversion.

The sixth graders beat Allen, 22-0. Micah Agler scored on an eight-yard run and later scored on a fumble recovery in the endzone.

Cory Harm threw a 15 yard touchdown pass to Sheldon

Onderstal for the third touchdown. Sam Kurpogweit ran for a two-point conversion and Harm hit Taylor Racely for the other two-point conversion.

Wayne's fourth grade team beat Dakota Valley, 8-0 as Joey Grone scored on an 18-yard run and Tory Boothe ran for the two-point conversion.

The fifth grade downed Dakota Valley, 26-0. Drew Workman scored four touchdowns on runs of 28, 2, 30 and 8 yards. Ryan Pieper's pass to Zach Long was good for a two-point conversion on one of those scores.

The sixth grade fell to Dakota Valley, 22-8. Wayne's lone score came on an 11-yard run by Taylor Racely with Racely throwing to Sheldon Onderstal for the two-point conversion.

Allen volleyball squad captures 15th consecutive win; Now 16-2

The Allen volleyball team ran their season record to 16-2 with a 15-11, 16-14 win over Bancroft-Rosalie on Tuesday.

"This was a tough match," coach Denise Hingst said. "Bancroft has a nice team. We had to really work for every point. We did a nice job of serving which keyed the win."

Angela Prochaska had 12 kill spikes for the winners with Elizabeth Bock netting nine kills.

Katie Koester recorded 25 set assists and was 16-16 in serving with an ace while Angie Sullivan was 13-13.

Prochaska was a force on defense with 11 blocks including four aces. Alycia Stewart notched five blocks. Bock had a team-high 13 digs while Prochaska had 11.

Allen also belted Winnebago on Tuesday, 15-0, 15-0. Kelli Rastade had six kill spikes to lead the winners with Alyssa Uldrich had three ace hits.

Rachel Strehlow had seven set assists and Katie Koester finished with six while Angie Sullivan was 13-13 in serving with six aces. Strehlow was 6-7 in serving with three aces.

The Eagles will host Winside on Thursday.

Bears still undefeated on season

The Laurel-Concord volleyball team improved to 14-0 with a 15-4, 15-6 win over visiting Elkhorn Valley, Tuesday night.

Patti Cunningham's team got eight kill spikes from Lani Recob and six from Emily Schroeder while Katie Peters netted five kills and Susan Pritchard, four.

Tori Cunningham had 24 set assists while Peters led the team in serving at 17-17 with three aces. Cunningham had two service aces.

Schroeder led the defense with four blocks with Peters and Lani Recob each netting four digs.

"The girls came out focused on the goal of this conference match," Cunningham said. "We served aggressively and ran a diversified attack."

The Bears "B" team fell, 8-15, 16-14, 11-15 and the "C" team won, 8-15, 15-10, 15-12.

Soccer teams splits pair

The Wayne State Soccer team continued their conference play last week on the road by splitting games with a win against Minnesota-Morris and a loss against Northern State.

The Wildcats began the week-end on the right note with a 5-2 victory over Minnesota-Morris.

Wayne State jumped out of the gates early with three straight goals and never looked back in cruising away with the victory.

Mary McDaniel led the way in scoring for the 'Cats with two goals and one assist.

Other goals on the day came from Sarah Herrick, Anne Paulsen, and Sarah Lund.

The Wildcats out-shot Morris 26-18.

"We needed this win. Morris finished 5th in the NSIC last year and I knew this would be a critical game if we are to finish in the top half of the conference again. We've done a nice job this season on the road and this was another quality win," said head coach Justin Cole.

The Wildcats returned to action the following day with a hard fought 3-1 deficit to Northern State.

The Wildcats were able to head in to the half with a 1-0 lead, thanks to a late Sarah Herrick goal assisted by Tanya Mitchell.

In the second half, Northern State rallied with two goals, and put the fire out on any Wildcat comeback.

The 9-5 and 2-2 Wildcats out-shot the Wolves 13-10 in the outing.

"Northern is now the 10th ranked team in the region and 11-3 on the season. Again, we're proving that despite our injuries we can play with most anyone. Now we just have to find ways to get the win. This weekend will be very important in terms of our finish in the conference and we'll need to do the little things very well to defeat Concordia St. Paul and Winona State," said head coach Justin Cole.

The 'Cats the weekend tilts with the St. Paul match at 12:30 p.m., Saturday and the Winona State match at 12:30, Sunday.

Wayne State senior defender Jill Eschliman of Ericson, Nebraska, uses her head to pass the ball.

Blue Devils win on the road against Madison

The Wayne High Blue Devils played a hard fought, nearly perfect game last Friday, culminating with a 19-14 win at Madison who came into the game at 4-1.

Wayne came roaring out of the gates early with a 25 yard touchdown run by Ric Volk to take a 6-0 lead into the second quarter.

The Blue Devils continued their momentum through the second quarter as Justin Davis found his way into the endzone from 15 yards out to add onto the lead, before Wayne would score again with nine seconds left on the clock with a one yard touchdown run by Brad Hochstein.

In the second half, Wayne had to rely on its defense and the clock as Madison went on to score 14 unanswered points before the clock would run out.

"I am proud of our team. The kids played with a great desire and our seniors provided super leadership," said head coach John Murtaugh.

Wayne's Ric Volk led the way through the air by completing four of 13 attempts for 77 yards.

Ryan Schmeits led the way in receiving for the Blue Devils with two receptions for 23 yards.

The Blue Devils ground attack played a huge role in the game as Justin Davis carried the ball 18 times for 119 yards and one touchdown, Brad Hochstein with 18 carries for 54 yards and a touchdown, and Ric Volk with seven attempts for 35 yards and one touchdown.

Justin Davis led the way for Wayne's defense with 15 tackles, while Brad Hochstein hauled down 14, and Marcus Berns with 13 tackles.

Wayne, 2-4 will try to carry their momentum through the week as they travel to Crofton on Friday.

Allen Eagles suffer big loss against Clearwater

Dave Uldrich's Allen Eagles watched their two game winning streak come to an end last Friday with a 47-2 loss against Clearwater.

After 21 Clearwater points in the first quarter, Allen responded with its lone score in the second quarter thanks to a Clearwater Cardinal miscue for a safety for the Eagles.

Clearwater then responded with 26 unanswered points to pull away with the easy win.

"They physically dominated us, but we played very hard. We did make a few mistakes on assignments that allowed some big plays to occur. They are a very, very, good team," said Uldrich.

Bart Sachau led the ground attack for the Eagles by gaining 46 yards on 14 carries.

Dustin O'Quinn led the Allen defense with 10 tackles, while Bryan Gotch, Bart Sachau, and Corey Uldrich all finished with nine tackles each.

Allen, 2-4 will look to bounce back this week as they play at Walthill.

Laurel-Concord defeats highly touted Cedar

The Laurel-Concord football team, led by head coach Mike Halley, showed their state champion grit last Friday with a big 20-19 victory on the road over Hartington Cedar Catholic.

After trailing 6-0 through the first quarter, Laurel-Concord began to put it in high gear in the second quarter with a David Asbra three yard touchdown run to open up a 7-6 lead. Minutes later, the Bears found the endzone again with a Tyler Stingley 79 yard interception for a touchdown and a 13-6 lead heading into the second half.

As the second half got going, Cedar Catholic answered with their own score to tie it up at 13.

With the score notted at 13 apiece through three quarters of play, the Bears gained the momentum back with a 46 yard touchdown gallop by David Asbra to take a 20-13 lead.

As the final minute ran down in the game, Cedar responded again with a score, which led to the play of the game, as David Asbra blocked the extra point attempt to give the Bears the victory.

"Our seniors played very inspiring football by giving a tremendous effort and making outstanding plays at crucial times. Many outstanding plays were made, but two that stand out are Tyler's interception return, and David's blocked kick on the final pat attempt. I was extremely happy with the effort and heard the Bears showed throughout the entire game," said Halley.

Blake Erwin led the aerial attack by completing seven of 13 attempts for 73 yards.

The Bears' Marc Manganaro and Bennie Surber led the way in receiving with Manganaro catching two passes for 33 yards, and Surber with three catches for 22 yards.

Laurel-Concord's ground attack was led by David Asbra with 120 yards on 19 carries and two touchdowns.

David Asbra led the way on defense with 17 tackles and an interception. Blake Erwin also had a solid game with 14 tackles, while Ray Stanley and Tyler Stingley each finished the game with 11 tackles.

The Bears, 5-1 will seek win number six this week as they travel to play Wakefield, Friday.

Winside comes up short against Leigh

The Winside Wildcats football team slipped to 2-4 on the season with a 38-32 setback to Leigh last Friday night.

The Wildcats got the scoring going late in the first quarter with a 55 yard fumble return by Adam Hoffman to tie the game at six apiece. After a Leigh score late in the quarter, Winside rang the scoring bell seconds later with a 45 yard touchdown run from Adam Hoffmann to close the quarter at 14-12 in Leigh's favor.

The second quarter led to the same results for Hoffman and the Wildcats, as Hoffman galloped in from five yards out to take the 18-14 lead. After the Winside score, things began to go sour as Leigh rallied for 24 straight points to take a 38-18 lead into the final quarter.

Down by twenty with a quarter to go, Winside went back to work with another Hoffmann touchdown run from two yards out to narrow the gap. Minutes later, Winside would answer again with a five yard touchdown pass from Hoffman to Ben Lienemann to close with in six points, before the clock would run out on any additional Winside heroics.

Adam Hoffmann led the way passing for Winside by completing 11 of 16 attempts for 112 yards and one touchdown.

Ben Lienemann and Jared Jaeger provided three receptions apiece, with Lienemann gaining 38 yards, and Jaeger with 37 yards.

Adam Hoffman led the ground attack by gaining 121 yards on 19 carries and three touchdowns.

The Winside defense was led by Tom Schwedhelm with 17 tackles and Ben Lienemann with 13 tackles.

Winside will try to rebound this Friday as they host Howells.

Wayne boys finish first at Bloomfield invitational

The Wayne boys cross country team closed out the regular season in the same fashion they've competed in every meet this season—on top.

Rocky Ruhl's troops captured their first ever Mid-State Conference Crown at the Bloomfield Invite last Friday.

The Blue Devils had an unusual happening as they won two championships in one day in the same event.

The Mid-States Conference meet was held at the same time as the annual Bloomfield Invite.

In the conference part of the meet, Wayne netted 15 points to win with Boone Central placing second with 26 and Madison, third at 66. Norfolk Catholic was fourth with 67 points and Pierce was fifth with 72.

Brad Hansen led Wayne with his second place finish of 17:07 with Devin Bethune placing third in 17:15. Bryan Fink was fifth in 17:29 and Nick Lipp, seventh in 17:42. Jeff Pippitt finished 10th in 18:12 and Tony Carollo was 15th in 18:45.

"Brad Hansen really ran well," Ruhl said. "The rest of the team also did a great job."

In the girls division, Wayne placed second to Boone Central, 23-13.

"Now I Can See How Much I Wasn't Seeing Before!"

"My vision was bad, it was distorted. I could only read about 10 minutes, that's all. Driving bothered me tremendously, especially at night. My vision extremely limited my ability to do things.

You get to a point where the surgery is not a big point anymore. You gotta try it. I had people in my family try it, one had been blind for 5 years. She had the surgery and could see again.

The surgery was quite easy, it didn't take long to do. I woke up great, very little discomfort. I'd tell my friends to get it done. Don't wait as long as I did!

I like Feidler Eye Clinic very much. Dr Feidler informed me very well. Now I can see how much I wasn't seeing before! I can see the leaves on a tree now, before they were just blobs."

Wayne State golf teams compete in NSIC

WAYNE—Wayne State's men's golf team finished fourth at the NSIC Conference Meet in Sauk Centre, Minnesota with a two-day score of 672.

Winona State was the NSIC winners at 625 while Bemidji State was second at 637 followed by Minnesota Crookston at 642. Minnesota Morris and Northern State placed behind WSC.

Tim Hornbeck earned all NSIC honors by placing in a tie for eighth place with a 160. Other WSC scorers included Jeff Kuhn, 168; Klinton Keller, 172; Adam Lohman, 172 and Kyle Lindstrom, 180.

On the women's side, WSC placed fifth with a 798 two day score. Southwest State was the NSIC winners at 684 followed by Winona State at 696 in the eight-team field.

Renee Mahrt led WSC with a 193 which was 18th overall. Jackie Harrison carded a 199 and April Schmidt, 202 while Becky Burkett netted a 210 and Jessi Moss, 222.

Winside runners compete at Bloomfield

WINSIDE—Six cross country runners from Winside competed at the Bloomfield Invite last Friday. In the girls division, Kayla Bowers placed 13th in 17:09 followed by Cassie Anderson at 18:05 and Emma Burris, 19:25.

In the boys division, Kevin Boelter led Winside at 19:09 with Nathan Staub clocking a 19:20 time and Jesse Thies, 21:40. Winside will compete at districts on Thursday in Bloomfield.

Laurel-Concord harriers place

LAUREL—The Laurel-Concord cross country teams competed at the Bloomfield Invite last Friday with the girls placing fifth as a team led by Sarah Stark's 14th place time of 17:10. Amber Haahr finished in 17:51 and Jamie Lackas, 18:43 while Bridget Haahr was timed in 18:53 and Hollie Tyrell, 19:42. Mollie Stapleman netted a 19:50 time and Tara Vollbrecht, 20:08 while Sarah Kneiff was time in 21:02 and Emily Gubbels, 21:26. Kylie Owen was timed in 22:11.

On the boys side, Micah Hansen led the way in 18:51 for 29th place. John Freeman was timed in 21:30 and Greg Knudsen, 22:19.

Junior high gridders fall to Schuyler

WAYNE—Wayne's junior high football teams lost to Schuyler in recent action with the seventh graders losing, 17-0. Ransen Broders led the offense with 48 yards rushing while Josh Fink had six tackles on defense with a fumble recovery. Brian Zach and Tyler Murtaugh each had five tackles and Broders had four. Jon Pieper also had a fumble recovery.

Wayne's eighth grade team fell, 26-6. Kyle Straight caught a 20-yard pass for the lone score. Straight had four catches for 37 yards and rushed for 12 yards. George Sherry had 37 rushing yards and Scott Baier was 5-18 in passing. Defensively, Tyler Murtaugh and Chris Shultheis each had eight tackles with George Sherry notching seven with a fumble recovery. Jess Dunklau netted five tackles and Straight recovered a fumble.

secutive time this season. She finished the 5,000 meter course in a time of 20:27 for second place.

Three other WSC women placed in the top ten. Laurie Deck was third in 20:46, April Sachau was fourth in 21:43, and Audrey Emanuel was seventh in 22:30.

Jackie Reese rounded out the Wildcat scoring by placing 12th in 23:48.

The WSC women also recorded their best split of the season from the first to the fifth runner. Their gap was three minutes and 21 seconds.

Katie Hulstrom of York College was the individual winner in a time of 20:13.

The Wildcats will next compete at the Dakota Wesleyan Invitational on Saturday, October 13 at the Wild Oak Golf Course in Mitchell, SD. The women's race begins at 10:00 am, followed by the men's race at 10:45 am. This meet is a change from the previously published schedule which had the Wildcats at the University of Wisconsin-LaCrosse.

Stated Head Coach Marlon Brink, "I was very pleased with how we ran as a team. We knew it would be a small meet, but we had some definite goals we felt we needed to achieve if we were to continue to make progress this season. We met those goals, so now we can set our sights higher as we get closer to peaking at the conference meet."

"I thought Laurie ran a very strong race on the women's side. She has been running very consistently all year. I think she will surprise some people at the NSIC meet."

Jackie Reese is also continuing to improve each week.

"On the men's side, Nick Hansen had his best race of the season, as did James Bruhn. Those two worked well together throughout the race to overtake two guys late in the race. They will be critical to the success of our team at the conference meet."

The Wayne State College cross country teams competed at the Les Bolstad Golf Course in Minneapolis, recently.

The meet has become one of the largest meets in the U.S. This year's edition was the largest in the 17 years of the meets existence. A total of 251 teams were represented in six races.

The top finisher for the Wildcats was Andy Tucknott. Tucknott covered the 8,000 meter course in a time of 27:49, which was good for 163rd place. Other finishers for WSC included: Nick Hansen (28:37/223rd), David Kortum (28:46, 235th), Kirk Ermels (28:50/240th), Dana Rider (29:22/264th), Brett Struebbing (29:29/270th), Dustin Lippman (29:40/282nd), and Nick Peterson (31:57/334th). the individual winner in a time of 24:46. A total of 364 men finished the race. Wayne State College placed 29th overall with 903 points out of 41 teams. The University of Wisconsin-LaCrosse won the team title with 98 points.

Darr Nickerson was the top finisher for the Wayne State College women's team. She finished the 5,000 meter course in a time of 19:58, which was good for 103rd place. Other finishers for WSC included: Laurie Deck (20:38/203rd), April Sachau (22:05/348th place), Audrey Emanuel (22:37/388th), and

Jackie Reese (24:04/453rd). A total of 508 women finished the race. Wayne State placed 38th out of 43 teams with a total of 1063 points. Jessica Neva of the University of North Dakota was the overall winner in a time of 18:08. The University of North Dakota won the team title with a total of 103 points.

The Wildcats will next compete at the Wayne State College Invitational on Friday, October 5 at the Wayne Country Club. The women's race begins at 4:00 pm, followed by the men's race at 4:45pm.

Stated Head Coach Marlon Brink, "This meet was a real learning experience for us. None of our runners had ever raced in fields as large as what we saw there, so it was maybe a bit overwhelming to them. However, it was a good meet for us to see many of our conference schools run on the same course as us so that we could gauge where we are at in the NSIC."

"Overall, I thought our women ran quite well. This was the first time we had all five of our girls together to score as a team. Darr place finish last year." "The guys as a group did not get out fast enough at the start, which in a race as large as this meet was, made it very difficult to move up through the pack. David Kortum ran his first race of the year and did a nice job. I think we will see more good things from him this season yet."

Harriers

Amber Nelson was third in 16:35 with Andrea Bethune placing fifth in 17:04 and Cali Broders, seventh in 17:20. Jessica Murtaugh was eighth in 17:41 and Leah Pickinpaugh finished 11th in 18:08 and Jacey Klaver, 19th in 19:12. Jill Meyer was timed in 20:45 in the JV meet and Sheila Meyer, 21:45.

In the overall Bloomfield Invite with all teams, Wayne's boys placed first with 20 points with Boone Central placing second with 41 and Spencer-Naper, third with 71. Bloomfield was fourth with 110 and Madison, fifth with 113 in the 12-team field.

Individually, Wayne's times of course were the same with Hansen placing second, Bethune, fourth and Fink, sixth. Lipp was 10th and Pippitt, 16th while Carollo was 27th.

In the JV meet, Bryan West was fourth in 19:52 while Ryan Hix was 10th in 20:17 followed in 11th by Chris Nissen, 20:23 and Joe Holstedt, 13th in 20:31. Brian Wetmore was 18th in 21:15 and Tyler Anderson, 21st in 21:22.

Josh Rasmussen (21:28), Casey Campbell (21:29), Judd Giese (21:43), Brett Parker (23:25), Joe Brumm (23:36), Andy Costa (24:52), Sean Peterson (25:21) also competed for the JV's.

In the girls division, Wayne was third with 43 points. Boone Central finished first with 25 with Stuart at second with 26.

Spencer-Naper was fourth with 56 points and Laurel-Concord, fifth with 81 in the eight-team field.

Adequate habitat is the key to a healthy wildlife population

With the decline of pheasant numbers in some areas, people are wondering where have all the Pheasants gone?

The answer is quite simple; they went the same place that our Soil Bank and much of our CRP acres have. They're gone, disappeared, left the country, out of here!

Without habitat, we have no Pheasants and eventually no wildlife!

Habitat, what is it? Some people think it's a corn or bean field, a fence line with a few weeds or a shortly cropped road ditch while others think it's a small strip of slough grass.

Wrong! Habitat is an environment that supplies everything wildlife needs for life-food, cover, water and space. Habitat can consist of newly planted native grass, contour strips along creeks and rivers. It can be tree plantings or food plots in CRP. It needs to be big enough so the birds will be able to nest and roost safely.

Narrow vegetated strips, such as a fence line or road ditch aren't good habitat because it gives predators a trail or lane to follow making roosting, nesting bird and their eggs easy prey for predators.

When these habitat factors are in good supply, they contribute to the well being of wildlife (Pheasants). If any of the habitat factors are in short supply, it limits the number and distribution of wildlife.

Another thing that determines wildlife numbers and distribution is the arrangement of food water and cover.

The best arrangement is when the food, cover and water occur in small blocks close to each other.

Wildlife is described as edge species, because they often live along the edge, not in the centers.

When food, water and cover (habitat) are close together, it creates an edge effect, giving wildlife several edges to relate to. It also allows them to move from their roosting, loafing and nesting areas to food or water without being easy targets of predators such as hawks and coyotes.

Gary Howey
"Of the Outdoors"

Food

Young chicks feed primarily on insects for the first part of their life. Throughout the rest of their lives, Pheasants will feed on insects, grasses, weed seed and row crops.

Water

Water comes from insects that the birds feed on and from the dew off the plants, so a flowing stream or water hole isn't a necessity.

Habitat

Cover (habitat) is anything that gives the Pheasant a place to roost, nest and escape from predators.

The Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) program created a diversity of habitat or cover in places where no or very little habitat had existed and Pheasant populations skyrocketed in many areas.

As the CRP plantings neared the end of it's 10-year contract, the value of the habitat decreased because the plant diversity was gone. Instead of being a diversity of plants and weeds it became a switch grass or bluestem planting. It wasn't as effective habitat as it was when it contained a wide variety of plants and forbs.

Old CRP fields can become excellent habitat again by burning off the old habitat after the nesting season, allowing a variety of plants, forbs and weeds a chance to re-grow.

Human habitat is a neatly trimmed lawn that is short and free of weeds. Wildlife can't live in neatly trimmed fields, they need cover, weedy, brushy areas to survive.

Habitat is the key to healthy wildlife populations and once habitat is created or improved, wildlife populations will increase and the Pheasant will return.

Fundraiser is successful

The dining room at the Magic Wok over-flowed with people who came out to support the work that the American Red Cross does and has especially been doing the past few weeks. Youth from the Methodist Church in Wayne helped clear tables and do dishes. The community response was outstanding and with the generosity of Mark and In Sun Ortmeier, owners of the Magic Wok, a total of $1,969.50 was raised for the Red Cross

Therapists attend convention

Local physical therapists Gail McCorkindale, Amy Bowers and Diane Peterson attended the Fall State Meeting of the Nebraska Chapter of the American Physical Therapy Association (NPTA) held Sept. 21-23 in Grand Island.

The NPTA holds two conferences per year throughout the state where continuing education classes are presented.

The therapists attended "The Mulligan Concept: Spinal and Peripheral Manual Therapy Treatment Techniques" taught by Rick Crowell, Pt., MS, GDMT of Duluth, Minn. Mulligan Concepts were originated by Brian Mulligan, FNZSP (Hon.), Dip MT of New Zealand and have been proven highly effective for treatment of neck, back and joint pain. Herbs for Health

Purple Coneflower Enhances Immunity

The purple coneflower was the most widely used herb in the US during the nineteenth century. This flower, which is one of the several from the species echinacea, is native to the great plains. It was used by American Indians to treat everything from coughs to snakebites. During the first half of this century, Echinacea was listed in the National Formulary, a book of "remedies" that generally were recognized as being useful. With the advent of antibiotics, the herb fell from widespread use by most physicians.

Echinacea seems to enhance a nonspecific type of immunity. The herb stimulates the body to make chemicals that fight illness caused by bacteria, viruses, and fungi. Numerous studies have shown that the herb does enhance immunity. One such study involved persons who were prone to have upper respiratory infections. Study participants were given either fresh juice from Echinacea purpurea or a placebo two times a day for 8 weeks. Those who received the herb had about 40% less illness. They also had 40 days between episodes of illness as compared to 25 days in the group that received the placebo.

Cargo spilled by train tracks near Laurel

A recent train derailment near Laurel left tangled box cars and spilled cargo along the tracks east of Laurel. Piles of potatoes and soybeans lay along side the wreckage. As part of the clean up, local residents were told to stop by the location and help themselves to as many potatoes as they wanted. Many took advantage of the offer.

Sarah Stauffer, left, assists with the annual Optimist sponsored NFL Gatorade Punt, Pass and Kick competition held in Wayne recently.

Punt, pass and kick competition held

Nearly 40 participants from four area communities took part in the NFL Gatorade Punt, Pass & Kick Competition sponsored by the Wayne Optimist Club on Sept. 22.

The NFL Gatorade Punt, Pass & Kick Football Competition provides boys and girls, ages eight to 15 with an opportunity to showcase their talents in punting, passing and place-kicking with scores based on distance and accuracy.

Each youngster received an NFL Gatorade Certificate of Excellence for their participation. The top three finishers in each of the four age categories were awarded NFL Gatorade ribbons.

In the eight year-old boys' age group, first place for Wayne was Seth Onderstal and the first place for area towns was Ethan Thies of Winside.

First place for the nine year-old group was Taylor Carroll of Wayne. In the 10 year-old boys' age group, first place went to Jared Clausen of Wayne and for the area, Scott Wageman of Emerson was the winner.

The 11 year-old winners were David Erickson of Wayne and Dusty Rhodes of Wakefield. Twelve-year old winners were Tyler Murtaugh of Wayne and Tucker Bowers of Winside.

In the 13-year old boys' category, Jon Pieper of Wayne and Justin Tullburg of Winside were the winners. The 14 year-old winners were Derek Carroll of Wayne and Aaron Klein of Wakefield. Kassius Leaks of Winside was the 15 year-old winner.

Only four girls participated in the competition and three were awarded first place ribbons in their respective age groups.

Abygayl Holloway of Laurel was the eight year-old winner; Gina Smith of Wayne, the nine year-old winner and Samantha Dunklau of Wayne, the 11 year-old winner.

The top boy and girl finishers from each age group will advance to a Section Competition sponsored by the Nebraska District of Optimist International to be held on Sunday, Oct. 14 at Memorial Stadium at the University of Nebraska in Lincoln. They will compete for trophies, medals and a chance to advance to the Kansas City Chiefs Team Championship Competition at Arrowhead Stadium in Kansas City, Mo.

Participants who failed to receive a participation certificate or need clarification of the results may contact Robert Wriedt at (402) 375-2569, Wayne Optimist Club Punt, Pass & Kick Coordinator.

Walking Daily May Help To Prevent Diabetes

According to an 8-year study in the Journal of the American Medical Association, cutting your risk of Type 2 Diabetes may be as simple as taking a brisk one hour walk daily. Researchers found walking as effective as doing more vigorous exercises such as running or jogging. They believe walking is beneficial because it aids in weight loss and helps your body use insulin more efficiently. Walking is easy to do, can be done anywhere, and it rarely leads to injury.

Several attend state optometric convention held in Kearney

The Nebraska Optometric Association and the Nebraska Association of Paraoptometric Section's Annual Convention was held in Kearney at the Holiday Inn Sept. 21-23.

Melia Hefli, Ann Sharer, Maureen Nelson, Londa Stowater and Janet Schmoldt were among more than 200 Paraoptometric who attended the 2001 Convention.

Melia, Ann, Maureen, Londa and Janet are employed by Dr. Larry Magnuson of Magnuson Eye Care in Wayne.

Excellent educational opportunities are available on topics such as instrumentation, anatomy, contact lens training and insurance claims and filing. A motivational speaker provided attendees with a new sense of enthusiasm and creativity to better serve the patient. Paras also had the opportunity to view new equipment and products available in the optometric field.

The staff at Magnuson Eye Care gained the expertise necessary to take patients into the year 2002.

Headstart Month is being observed with numerous activities

Quote for the Week: "You have to color outside the lines once in a while if you want to make your life a masterpiece."

October is Head Start Awareness Month, so we thought this would be a wonderful opportunity to let the public know what we are about and some of the things we do at our center.

Head Start is a part of Goldenrod Hills. Head Start is a federally funded, comprehensive preschool program for 3-5 year old income eligible children/families. Head Start is a program concerned with the mental, physical and social development of the individual children.

Our center is able to serve 17 children. We take applications year around. Call (402) 375-2913 for an appointment.

This week is Fire Prevention Week. We at Head Start would like to take this opportunity to thank all the volunteer firemen for the hard work they do in providing a safe community for all of us. Our children are fortunate to have the opportunity to learn about fire safety at the fire station this week. The firemen spend time with the children, teaching them about safety, so the children won't be afraid of a fireman, they show the children what they would look like with a helmet on, if they came to their house at night during a fire. It is a wonderful time for the children. They learn a lot and end with a ride back to the center on a fire truck.

During this week also, the Women, Infants and Children (WIC) clinic will be held Tuesday, Oct. 9 at the Wayne Women's Club Room.

Wayne State College is helping the children out with Literacy. Some of the students from the Calculus 3 class will visit the next two Mondays to read to the children during story time. The week will end for the children on Friday with a food experience. This is a project with food the children get to help make. This week they will be challenging the stuffed apple.

Each week in Head Start we have a different theme. The week of Oct. 14 is the Vegetables/Harvest Week. The Head Start Parent meeting will be held on Monday, Oct. 15 at 6 p.m. Burdette Kratke will be the speaker. She will be speaking on Seat Belt Safety. The program will last about 40 minutes and is open to the public. There is also a Car Seat Clinic in Pender on Oct. 18. If you would like information on either of these events, please call Peggy Triggs at (402) 375-2913.

The children start off with a fun trip to the Pumpkin Patch in Norfolk on Oct. 16. They will leave after breakfast and take a sack lunch with them. It is a full day with things like petting the animals and picking out a pumpkin.

Thursday, Oct. 18 from noon to 2 p.m. is the Immunization Clinic at First Methodist Church. They are encouraging you to call for an appointment at 1-800-445-2505.

Have a safe couple of weeks and look for us again for a list of upcoming events at Head Start.

Wayne State students can register on line

WebCat On-line Registration, a new feature of the WSC Web for Students, will soon be available to WSC students. Students have had on-line access to their student records in the business, financial aid and records & registration offices since the beginning of this semester.

In November, they will also be able to complete on-line registration via the Internet from their residence hall, lab, or any off-campus address.

WebCat On-line registration for Spring 2002 courses will begin on Nov. 9 and will continue through Jan. 11, 2002, the end of the first week of classes. Current students will be able to register for most on- and off-campus courses by clicking on the WebCat icon on the home page of the WSC Web site at www.wsc.edu.

"We're asking students to access their personal WebCat On-line account and to familiarize themselves with the system so they will be ready when their registration time is open after Nov. 9," said Ken Murphy, WSC director of administrative services.

All undergraduate students will need advisor approval in order to register for on-campus courses. Students do not need advisor approval to enroll for continuing education courses. Graduate students do not need advisor approval.

Students may register in person at the records & registration office in Hahn Administration Bldg. #105 if they cannot access their account.

Students who have questions about the process should call the records & registration office at 375-7239.

In July, WSC also implemented Web for Faculty and Advisors, which enhances faculty members' and advisors' ability to advise students and enter mid-term and final grades from their office or home.

Showing their support

Justin Modrell presents Bill Claybaugh, Dan Rose and Lori Carollo, representing the Wayne Red Cross, a check for $400 from Boy Scout Troop #174 on Sunday evening, September 30th. This donation came from the money that the kids raise in various projects, like their paper drive, and goes to buy scouting supplies and pay for the boys' summer camping trips. The boys voted to give this donation to the Red Cross to help support the important work that they do. Boys and leaders in this picture are: Justin Modrell, Nick Klassen, Eric Carstens, Adam Reinert, and Jarrod Klassen. Scout Leaders were Jim Modrell, Charles Shapiro, Jeff Carstens, Mark Klassen, Joe Reinert, and Greg Vander Weill.

Leading the group

Climate changes could have impact

Designing roads, bridges, dams and buildings to withstand 100-year floods may not be good enough in the future. That's because climate change likely will generate more extreme weather, including floods, University of Nebraska research shows.

Future structures need to stand up to perhaps 300-year floods. That will boost construction costs, but research indicates the extra measure of safety is justified and could cost less in the long run, said Joe Szilagyi, hydrologist with the university's Conservation and Survey Division and School of Natural Resource Sciences.

"The main point to consider is that, in any future planning, it might not be enough to base our planning on past statistics. We need to use wider margins of error. For example, when designing a bridge or a dam, build for a 200- or even a 300-year flood instead of just for a 100-year flood," Szilagyi said.

Szilagyi bases his recommendations on his research that confirms climate change is intensifying Earth's hydrologic or water cycle. This natural system continuously circulates water from the atmosphere to earth and back through condensation, precipitation, evaporation and transpiration, the vegetative equivalent of respiration. In an intensified water cycle, more water will move through the system faster, producing more severe effects.

Szilagyi focused on measuring evapotranspiration, or ET, a major component in the water cycle and one of the most elusive to calculate. ET is the amount of water that plants release into the atmosphere and the amount that evaporates from soil, lakes, wetlands and rivers.

He found that ET increased an average of 3 percent in the contiguous United States in the past 50 years and should continue to increase. In a separate study of the 1961 to 1990 period, he showed that ET increased an average of 2.5 percent overall and three percent for the growing season. ET increased four percent overall in the eastern United States and 4.5 percent for the region during the May-September growing season.

Scientists have known for some time that precipitation and runoff have increased nationwide, Szilagyi said, although it has varied greatly from region to region.

"To have an intensified hydrologic cycle, you also need to show that there has been an increase in ET," he said. "We show that probably this is the case for the past 50 years."

Through this research, Szilagyi developed a better method to calculate ET, which had been the part of regional water budgets that's most difficult to figure. These budgets estimate how much water is moving through what parts of the hydrologic cycle in a given area. Using satellite imagery of vegetation, he found an inexpensive way to monitor ET changes by assessing moisture change in plants over large or even regional scales. Previously, such studies were only valid for very small areas, 30 to 50 acres at most, and were quite costly.

Natural resources managers, county officials, planners and agricultural producers, should benefit from an improved method of figuring the water budget for a given area, he said.

It's hard to predict how much more the hydrologic cycle will increase, he said, but most signs point to further intensification, which means more severe weather. These changes will affect planning and building directly, especially projects related to streams, flood plains, lakes, wetlands and even crops.

The eastern half of the nation should see more moisture overall in the coming decades, often dumped in larger amounts. The western United States may receive less moisture in general but severe storms may dump many inches at a time, challenging flood preparedness, he explained.

Restoration of wetlands also should be based on greater variations in water supply. This aspect of his research became evident during a meeting of experts discussing restoration of wetlands in the Rainwater Basin region of south central Nebraska. After a proposal was laid out, Szilagyi said he urged the group to consider a detailed, long-term water budget study for the area.

Probable changes in evapotranspiration and precipitation mean experts might do everything right in planning to restore a wetland, but restoration could fail if they base decisions on previous conditions that are no longer relevant. More or less water might change the wetland, he explained.

For crop production, it would be wise to rely both on varieties more resistant to temperature and moisture extremes and probably on a broader diversity of varieties to hedge against these extremes, he explained.

"People should start doing water budget studies for different regions. I think every state should be doing these studies," Szilagyi said of agencies concerned with natural resources management.

The Conservation and Survey Division is part of NU's Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

Area Girl Scouts participate in the 2001 Beach Party as one of the many activities they were able to enjoy with the assistance of the Wayne United Way.

Youth benefit from United Way funds

Editor's note: The following is an update on the activities of one of the organizations which benefit from United Way Funds. Several additional articles will be published during the month of October which is United Way campaign month.

Among the organizations benefiting from United Way funds is the local Girl Scout troop.

The members of Service Unit #16 were involved in the 2001 Beach party.

The Beach Party was a family fun day of Beach Ball, volleyball, relay games, crafts and good food.

This is just one of the events that the Girl Scouts participate in during the year. Others include Daisy Day Out, Brownie Adventure Day, Junior District

Day and Cadette Senior Spring Fling.

The United Way helps to support these activities with the money they contribute each year.

"We thank the United Way for their assistance," said Susan Schroeder, a long-time Girl Scout leader.

Service Unit #16 includes Wayne, Wakefield, Winslow, Carroll and Emerson.

Dates set for school conferences

Wayne Community Schools have scheduled Parent-Teacher Conferences this year on Monday, Nov. 5 and Thursday, Nov. 8.

To accommodate parents, Monday evening, Nov. 5 and Thursday evening, Nov. 8, have been set aside for parents unable to attend afternoon conferences on Thursday.

There will be no school on Friday, Nov. 9.

Conferences will conclude at 9 p.m. on Thursday, Nov. 8.

The conference schedule is as follows:

Session I: Monday, Nov. 5, from 6 to 9 p.m.

Session II: Thursday, Nov. 8 from 12:15 to 4:15 p.m.

Session III: Thursday, Nov. 8 from 6 to 9 p.m.

Conferences should last approximately 15 minutes each. Teachers will be located in classrooms and National Honor Society members will be present to assist parents in locating all staff at the high school.

Parents are requested to comment to teachers regarding the success of the conferences.

Wayne Middle School will follow the same format as the High School. Middle and High School parents may attend conferences any time during the scheduled sessions.

Elementary conferences for Wayne and Carroll will also begin at 6 p.m. on Monday and will be scheduled for parents as they have in the past. Parents will be notified of their scheduled conference time. Conferences in all buildings will conclude at 9 p.m.

Middle School conferences will be held in the High School gymnasium.

Buses for all students will run at 11:15 a.m. on Thursday, Nov. 8. Elementary students will dismiss at 11 a.m. Middle and High School students will dismiss at 11:15.

There will be no school on Friday, Nov. 9.

The National Honor Society will be present to assist parents in locating teachers at the High School and to assist parents to the gym to meet with Middle School teachers.

National 4-H week

4-H is for families

October 7-13 is National 4-H week. As we look to 2002 as the Centennial of Nebraska 4-H it seemed like a good time to share some of the information about what 4-H does for families.

4-H Teaches Family Citizenship

4-H members are encouraged to be good citizens by carrying a part of the load, helping make good decisions, sharing with others and participating in community service activities. It is a hands-on way of learning responsibility and the power of working together. Parents can teach their children that they have something valuable to offer by showing respect for the child's interests and work.

4-H Encourages Family Learning

Working together, families model good decision making, help children build self-esteem and gain skills that will last a lifetime. Parents help their children investigate possibilities. Together they make wise choices based on interests, skills and resources.

4-H Supports Family Communication

In a busy world it can happen that children are pulled in one direction, parents in another. 4-H provides a common experience that keeps families talking together about positive growth experiences. Research show that children and youth often share the values of their parents and grandparents and look to them when making important decisions in their lives.

4-H Families Can:

- Share learning experiences
- Support each other
- Connect with the community

Sandy Preston
Cooperative Extension Director
Dixon County

Develop common interests
Create a sense of togetherness
Appreciate each other's differences.

4-H is based on Sound Child and Youth Development Principles. Recent work being done by the Search Institute, the Carnegie Corporation, the Academy for Educational Development, and other organizations find that children today need:

- Safe environments
- A sense of ownership and belonging
- To discover self
- To discuss conflicting values and to form their own
- Time to develop a sense of self-worth by making meaningful contributions in the home and community

4-H Parent Involvement is Key to a Child's Success

By supporting the learning of their child, parents ensure the best growth experience possible. Working with the 4-H club, the projects and the leadership of a local program shows a child that the adult cares, and is willing to give of time and energy. Children need strong adult role models in all aspects of their lives.

Those involved in the St. Jude's Bike-a-thon, sponsored by they Wayne Eagles Auxiliary gathered for a photo following the event.

Bike-a-thon is held

The St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Bike-a-thon was held Sept. 22. The Wayne Eagles Club hosted the event with co-chairmen Cec Vandernick and Jan Gamble.

This year's event, "Wheels for Life" had 23 participants and raised $845. Zachary Jorgensen again raised the most money and donated his jam box to a drawing won by Brady Ping.

Following the event, a free supper was given to all riders and their families.

Food certificates and prizes were received from the following Wayne merchants, Pamida, Subway, Runza, Pizza Hut, Tacos & More, Dairy Queen, Godfathers and Dollar General.

The following were participants: James and Brady Ping, Rachel and Lauren Gilliland, Syler Gamble, Cody Hames, Taylor Gamble, Quentin and Ramsey Jorgensen, Ashley and Danielle Gilliland, Zachary Jorgensen, Drew Carroll, Hannah and Kendall Gamble, Blair and McKenzie Sommerfeld, Ande Schulz, Sadie and Malik Knox, Elizabeth Hines, Josh and Sydney Barker. McKenzie Sommerfeld rode as many miles as her age, which was 10 miles.

Fall Festival planned

Square dancers throughout northeast Nebraska will meet Sunday, Oct. 14 at the Madison City Auditorium, 120 West Third Street in Madison for their annual "Fall Festival." Spectators are welcome free of charge.

The event is sponsored by the Northeast Nebraska Square and Round Dance Federation. Guest call is Marshall Poole of Axtell. Pat Schrant of Norfolk will be the cuer. Registration begins at 2 p.m. A round dance workshop will be conducted from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m.; square dance workshop from 3:30 to 5 p.m. Evening festivities will begin with a Plus Workshop from 6:30 to 7 p.m. The Grand March will begin at 7 p.m.

The Square and Round dance will be from 7 to 9:30 p.m. The Yellow Rockers Relay for Life Team will serve a ham dinner from 5:30 to 6:30 with a $6 per plate. All proceeds will go to the Yellow Rockers cancer research project.

Omaha couple are wed in Nebraska City

Heather Shemek and Matthew Joel Clemens, both of Omaha, were married Sept. 29, 2001.

The Rev. Neal Early of Faith Presbyterian Church in LaVista performed the ceremony at the Lied Conference Center in Nebraska City.

Parents of the bride are Franklin and Evelyn Shemek of Bellevue. Grandparents of the bride are Edward and Florence Shemek of Fullerton. Parents of the groom are Edgar and Jayne Clemens of Hickman. Grandparents of the groom are Malvin and Ruth Bruns of Wayne.

The bride's honor attendant was her brother, Heath Shemek of Elkhorn.

The Best Man was the groom's brother, Sam Clemens of Hickman. Ushers were Michael Clemens of Omaha, Danielle Clemens of Denver, Colo., both sisters of the groom.

Personal Attendants were Kelly Shemek of Elkhorn, sister-in-law of the bride and Kate Clemens of Hickman, sister of the groom.

The bride attended the University of Nebraska-Lincoln where she became a member of Phi Mu Sorority. She is currently employed at Mutual of Omaha.

The groom attended the University of Nebraska-Lincoln where he joined Acacia Fraternity. He is currently employed at Data Transmission Network.

Following the wedding, the couple will live in Omaha.

The event is sponsored by the Northeast Nebraska Square and Round Dance Federation. Guest call is Marshall Poole of Axtell. Pat Schrant of Norfolk will be the cuer. Registration begins at 2 p.m. A round dance workshop will be conducted from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m.; square dance workshop from 3:30 to 5 p.m. Evening festivities will begin with a Plus Workshop from 6:30 to 7 p.m. The Grand March will begin at 7 p.m.

The Square and Round dance will be from 7 to 9:30 p.m. The Yellow Rockers Relay for Life Team will serve a ham dinner from 5:30 to 6:30 with a $6 per plate. All proceeds will go to the Yellow Rockers cancer research project.

Engagements

Buhrman — Bellar

Gary and Beverly Buhrman of Wisner have announced the engagement of their daughter, Melissa Ann Buhrman of Omaha to Travis J. Bellar of Wisner.

The bride-to-be is a 1998 graduate of Wisner-Pilger High School. She received her associate degree in nursing from Southwest Community College in Creston, Iowa in 2000. She is a registered nurse at Clarkson Hospital in Omaha.

Her fiance, the son of Gary and Marj Bellar of Wisner, graduated from Wisner-Pilger in 1994 and received a degree in agri-business in 1996 from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. He is self-employed at Bellar Feedlots.

Grandparents of the couple are Kenneth and Lucile Timperley of Fremont and Marvin and Evelyn Buhrman, Richard and Alice Breikreutz and Francis and Evelyn Bellar, all of Wisner.

A Nov. 17, 2001 wedding is being planned at St. John's Lutheran Church in Pilger.

Deck — Koch

Laurie Deck of Hoskins and Justin Koch of Pierce are planning a Nov. 24, 2001 wedding at Trinity Lutheran Church in Hoskins.

The bride-to-be is the daughter of Doug and Beth Deck of Hoskins. She is a 2001 graduate of Winside High School and is currently attending Wayne State College, majoring in nutrition.

Her fiance is the son of Janie and Joe Ellis of Lompac, Calif and Tom Koch of Winside. He is a 2001 graduate of Winside High School and is presenting in the U.S. Army, stationed in Colorado Springs, Colo.

THANKS!
The Wayne County Chapter of the American Red Cross would like to thank Mark & In Sun Ortmeier, owners of The Magic Wok for hosting the Sunday Buffet of September 30th. Mark came to the Red Cross with the idea and also to give the ENTIRE cost of the meal to the Red Cross!
Because of their tremendous generosity, they presented the Red Cross with $1,969.50. It was estimated that over 300 people were served!
Thanks also go to the Senior High Sunday School class from the Methodist Church for working so hard cleaning tables, doing dishes and even going to get more tables and chairs to set up outside (thanks to God for a beautiful day!).
And finally, a big THANK YOU to the community of Wayne for your wonderful response in coming down to the Magic Wok to eat and to those that even gave an extra donation above the cost of their meal. Everything was greatly appreciated and will go to very good use.
Again, we can't say "Thank You" enough for the wonderful idea and thoughtfulness of Mark and In Sun, and we hope that the people of the community will also express a word of thanks to them the next time you are enjoying your meal at the Magic Wok!

Youth attend gathering

This summer 11 area youth from various churches attended The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod Youth Gathering in New Orleans, La. They were among the 35,000 others from across the U.S. who gathered to experience Christian fellowship and fun as youth in service to Christ.

The youth spent their time in New Orleans helping with various service projects for the City of New Orleans, attending workshops, touring a swamp, checking out the French Quarter, sampling Cajun cuisine and dancing into the wee hours of the morning.

Reunions

Junck family

The Junck family gathered Sept. 30 for a no-host dinner at the Dennis and Nancy Junck farm shop.

Approximately 45 people were in attendance. They came from Crete, Lincoln, Omaha, Norfolk, Pierce, Winside, Wayne and Carroll and Tyndal and Winner in South Dakota.

Faith Junck, daughter of Duaine and Priscilla Junck, was the youngest child present.

Kathy Rutenbeck was in charge of the program. She read a letter from Ralph and Cecil Childers of Houston, Texas. He is the great-grandson of William Henry and Sarah Elizabeth Junk. They attended last year's reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Bear, are the parents of a baby girl, Madison Anne, who was born the morning of the reunion.

Virginia Thies, mother of Peggy Thies Junck (Mrs. Richard Junck), was to be buried on Oct. 1.

Bette Echtenkamp made a wall hanging. It depicted a pioneer family in a covered wagon. It was signed by all in attendance. She then presented it to Arnold Junck as a gift.

Pearla Benjamin made a collage of the Junk family. Great-grandparents Wm. Henry Junk and Sarah Elizabeth Jefferson Junk and their children, Floyd, John, Oscar, Charles and Ora.

The family will meet again on the second Sunday in September. Arnold Junck will send invitations.

August Meyer family

The August Meyer family reunion was held Sept. 22 at the American Legion Hall in Pender.

Seventy-five members were in attendance. The oldest person present was Wilma Koepke, 87, of Pender. The youngest was Gage Holt, seven month-old son of Matt and Traci Holt of Wilcox, the grandson of Dennis and Ida Hingst of Holdrege and great-grandson of Wilma Koepke.

States represented at the reunion were Iowa, Illinois, South Dakota, Kansas, Colorado and Florida. Nebraska towns represented were Pender, Lincoln, Pawnee City, Norfolk, Grand Island, Pierce, Osmond, Holdrege, Elkhorn, Emerson, Gretna, Walthill, Omaha, Thurston and Wilcox.

The 2003 reunion will be held in September at the American Legion Hall in Pender.

Fall church rally is held

The Wayne Zone Lutheran Women's Missionary League held their Fall Rally on Sept. 25 at Immanuel Lutheran Church of rural Wakefield.

The Rev. Gary Klatt, Zone Counselor, of Martinsburg led the Bible Study on "Why Does God Bless Us?"

President Nila Schuttler of Immanuel conducted the business meeting. The following were elected and installed as new officers: Rhonda Sebade of Wayne, vice president; Carol Rethwisch of

Special weekend planned

Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne is preparing to celebrate Consecration Weekend on Oct. 13-14.

"As we celebrate Consecration Weekend at Our Savior, it will be an honor to welcome Dr. Jennifer Braaten, who serves as the President of Midland Lutheran College in Fremont as our guest speaker," said Pastor Kevin Ruffcorn, Senior Pastor of Our Savior.

Dr. Braaten is a person of deep faith who is known for her dynamic, visionary leadership. She has served as the president of Midland Lutheran College since Aug. 1, 1999. She was previously Provost/Vice President for Academic Affairs at Lynn University in Boca Raton, Fla. Dr. Braaten was born in Fergus Falls, Minn. She and her husband, the Rev. Conrad Braaten have two children.

Pastor Ruffcorn added, "Our goal is to have every member and friend of the congregation present for a worship service and celebration meal this weekend."

Following the congregation's three festive worship services, a catered meal will be served to the congregation as part of the Consecration Weekend celebration. Jack and Leslie Hausmann will provide special music at the Saturday night service and the Handbell Choir and the Our Savior Adult Choir will be providing special music at the Sunday morning worship services.

Weekend worship services at Our Savior are held at 6 p.m. on Saturday evenings and at 8 and 10:30 a.m. on Sunday mornings. The 7 p.m. service will be held Sunday evening, but a meal will not follow that service.

Our Savior is located at the corner of Fifth and Main Streets in Wayne. For more information, contact the church office at 375-2899.

Silent vigil

A number of residents from throughout the area were on hand Sunday in Wayne for the Fifth Annual Life Chain, sponsored by Tri-County Right-to-Life. Those participating stand, knelt or sat in silent prayer holding signs against abortion. They joined thousands of others throughout the nation who were doing the same that day.

Carroll Legion auxiliary gathers

The Carroll American Legion Auxiliary met with Joyce Harmer on Sept. 25. Nine members were present.

The group voted to order 1,000 poppies and meet all assessments. Members will contribute individually to the needs and supplies for the Annex at Norfolk.

Fifteen new wreaths for decorating graves were made by Jo Ann Owens. The group also made pumpkin table decorations for the Annex. President Jo Ann Owens closed the meeting with an article, "Freedom is not free."

The next meeting will be Tuesday, Oct. 23 at 2 p.m. with Doris Harmer as hostess.

SCHOOL CENTS
The Southern Hills Mall School Cents has started for the year. This is the 6th year that Allen Schools will participate in the program.

The School Cents program has benefited Allen in a variety of ways. It has enabled the purchase of a variety of software for the classrooms, lift chairs in the MacLab, computers for the Chapter/Title I and Resource Rooms, a VHS tape dubbing machine, CD Rom drives for the machines donated by the 185th, network capacity for the Science Room, assorted printers, etc.

The program started October 1 and will run until December 31, 2001. Just turn in your registration slip at the yellow collection box at Center Court, if you want to keep your receipt go to Customer Service and get a mall points pass. Mrs. Levine also has an orange box at the school for your receipts in which she will deliver to the mall.

Each dollar spent at the Mall is worth 3 points for Allen. The stores located around the mall are also included in the program and Allen receives 1 point for each dollar spent. If you have any questions, contact Mrs. Levine at the school.

KID'S KLUB

The United Methodist Church is hosting Kid's Klub. Kid's Klub will start at 3:30 p.m. every Monday and is open to all children in preschool and up. Kid's Klub will last about ninety minutes each week. Last reported, 32 children attend Kid's Klub.

Kid's Klub is a place for children to have fun and learn about God.

Food Day supported

"World Food System: Serving All or Serving Some?" is the theme of the Oct. 16 World Food Day, an international awareness program coordinated locally through University of Nebraska International Programs.

World Food Day is organized through the National World Food Day Committee, a volunteer effort recognizing the creation of the Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) of the United Nations.

International Programs, within NU's Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources, is involved because both it and the FAO are involved with international food production, said Sue Miller, assistant to director Arlen Edling. FAO estimates 800 million people in the world are chronically hungry, with one child dying every eight seconds due to hunger.

World Food Day begins with 8 a.m. registration in NU's East Union. Edling will give a welcome at 8:25, followed by comments from the Rev. Norman Leach, executive director of the Lincoln Interfaith Council. Don Reeves, past president of Bread for the World, is to speak at 8:45. UNL graduate students from various countries will hold a panel discussion on food production challenges at 9:45. At 11:15 a bus will leave for the Kimmel Orchard at Nebraska City to look at alternative cropping systems such as row crops planted among fruit trees. Tour participants are asked to bring a sack lunch. Although there's no charge, please call Miller at (402) 472-2758 so accommodations can be made as bus space is limited.

World Food Day study packets are available now, and a videotape of an international satellite program will be after Oct. 16.

World Food Day can help Nebraskans identify links between international food systems and U.S. policies.

"Our farmers operate in a world market," Miller said. "Prices are set by the world market."

PUBLIC POWER IN NEBRASKA

You've Got the Power.

Nebraska is the only state totally served by a consumer-owned public power system that delivers electricity as a nonprofit service. Publicly owned power guarantees that Nebraska residents enjoy local control with some of the lowest rates in the country, and exceptional customer service. Public power is a Nebraska invention and, since 1936, a Nebraska tradition.

Public Power Week is October 7-13, 2001!

No 'slice and bake' Meals here made from scratch

I presented on Humor at a workshop for 150 nurses last week. My premise was that laughing does not denigrate the tragedy we have experienced. And that the human spirit has an innate need to "lighten up" during such times. Hence, the Depression jokes, Polish jokes, Jewish jokes; even Jeffrey Dahmer jokes.

On the "Today Show" this week, Jerry Seinfeld and Chris Rock were promoting a comedy special fund raiser they will be doing, and Seinfeld pointed out that the U.S. is probably the only country that sends comedians to the front lines. I had an instant flashback of Bob Hope.

I had to chuckle when Jerry said that he and his wife had been baking cookies for the firemen, "from scratch." He said they were not the "slice and bake." I can't remember ever buying that kind. I made a batch of chocolate chip this week, from scratch.

But, I have also cut up watermelon and cantaloupe, made cole slaw; and potato soup, complete with carrots, celery, and onion; and two apple pies, from scratch.

The Big Farmer has nurtured and watered his one hundred spruce trees all summer, and several summers prior to this one. Some of the trees are behind the garage, and we dump melon rinds out there. It's organic garbage. This year, some of the seeds grew vines. So, he weeded and watered these, too. Now, he expects us to eat melon three times a day! The watermelon each weighed 40 pounds; I could barely get them to the house! One relative, who will remain nameless, told me he eats it "if he goes to the trouble of cutting it up!" Yes, it is trouble to cut up, and store, and take the seeds out.

By: Pat Meierhenry

Then, for the soup, you peel and cut up the potatoes, chop up the other vegetables, and add them all to a white sauce. But, delicious!

Finally, the apples, brought to the antique shop by one of the partners. They aren't very big, but they taste good, and aren't wormy. I got out the trusty peeler, corer, slicer. It didn't do a perfect job, but the pie is good.

Oh, yes, the cabbage. I have an old shredder that Marge

Schroeder gave me years ago. It turns hard because it's old, and I get shredded cabbage all over the kitchen table, but we like slaw. And, we can add apples to it; chopped, of course.

All in all, cooking from scratch is time-consuming, and old-fashioned, but it's really the only way I know. I just wish we could freeze melon. Oops, our guests from North Platte brought tomatoes. Oh, well, chili doesn't take as much time. Only the onion needs chopping.

Kenneth Liska is alternate to annual meeting

Dr. K. R. Liska of Wayne has been elected as an alternate delegate to the 118th annual meeting of the American Angus Association to be held Nov. 12 in Louisville, Ky., reported Richard Spader, executive vice president of the American Angus Association.

Liska, a member of the American Angus Association with headquarters in St. Joseph, Mo. is one of the 336 Angus breeders who have been elected by fellow members to serve as an alternate state representative at the annual meeting.

Representing 46 states and Canada, the state delegates will participate in the business meeting and elect a new president, vice president and five directors to the American Association board.

The annual meeting is held in conjunction with the annual banquet, and the Super Point Roll of Victory Angus show, Nov. 11-13 during the North American International Livestock Exposition.

The American Angus Association has more than 35,000 active members and is the largest beef breed organization in the world.

Century of service to be celebrated

The 4-H programs began in response to young people and their need for better agricultural education.

In 1902, a large percent of American lived on farms. The community club model engaged youth through 'learning by doing.'

Organized outside of school, parents served as volunteer leaders partnering with educators to provide appropriate curriculum materials. No one individual is credited with originating the 4-H program; rather it was founded through collective efforts over the course of a few years.

However, it was in 1902 at A.B. Graham, Superintendent of Schools in Clark County, Ohio organized a boys' and girls' agriculture club. In 1907, the first boys' and girls' demonstration clubs under USDA sponsorship began in Homes County, Miss.

In 1907 or 1908 the first emblem designed by O.H. Benson was used nationally. It was the three leaf clover representing head, heart and hands. In 191 Benson suggested a fourth leaf and H be added. Originally, the fourth H was to stand for hustle, but it was later changed to health.

By 1912, there were 96,000 youth enrolled in 4-H club work and in 1914, the passage of the Smith-Lever Act established Cooperative Extension Service of which 4-H is a part. In 1919 the first use of the term "4-H Club" appeared in a federal document.

Today, more than 6.8 million youth, ages five to 19, are involved in 4-H. There are an estimated 45 million 4-H alumni. 4-H program exist in all 3,067 counties, U.S. territories and the District of Columbia.

More than 35 percent of 4-H participants live in urban communities, and 30 percent represent minority, racial, cultural and ethnic populations.

As in 1902, 4-Hers today are involved in experimental learning in projects that are important and of interest to them. Today's project areas range from theater to aerospace.

World Food Day annually, it works year-round on faculty exchanges, collaborative research, student opportunities to study abroad, stimulating more student interest in international agriculture studies and tours for international visitors.

Collaborative research helps countries become more self-sufficient, and sharing knowledge is valuable for everyone involved. Miller noted. For example, U.S. research conducted in Morocco developed U.S. wheats more resistant to Hessian flies. And sharing genetic plant materials has helped develop new varieties of sorghum and dry edible beans in the United States.

Faculty exchanges also help expand the U.S. export market. For example, Miller said countries producing their own food have higher standards of living and are more likely to import U.S. value-added food products.

Among visiting faculty currently at IANR are five agricultural economists from Russia, Ukraine, and Kazakhstan; one food scientist and one textile specialist from Tajikistan; and one Fulbright scholar from Mexico studying entomology.

Building international relationships can have long-term benefits. Many students who study at IANR return home to become government leaders, Miller said. She said Nebraska producers and manufacturers who generously give their time when international travelers visit are "great ambassadors. People remember Nebraska with a great deal of warmth," Miller said.

For example, of the many notes International Programs received after the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks, Miller said one phrase from Argentina, "We are with you," was a representative summary.

TRAINING WITH MARINE CORPS

Brian Boeckenhauer of Wakefield began basic training with the Marine Corps at Camp Pendleton near San Diego, Calif. last month. The recruit was scheduled to leave from Sioux Falls on Sept. 11 for camp but his departure was postponed due to the terrorist attack.

Brian left for San Diego on Sept. 17 to start training. He signed up for a five year enlistment and hopes to go into aircraft mechanics following his basic training.

Brian graduated from Wakefield High School in May 2001 and is the son of Keith and Julie Boeckenhauer.

His address is: Recruit Boeckenhauer, 2nd BN Fox Company Platoon 2010, 36001 Midway Ave., Unit 3, San Diego, Calif. 92140-5102.

TAKE A STAND

Thirteen young people are taking the stage to promote an anti-alcohol message to other young people. In "ALKY", by Jerome McDonough, young people from Wakefield portray 13 kids who have chosen to drink alcohol at a party hosted by one of their friends. The one-act play reveals some very serious consequences with underage alcohol use.

The youth presented the drama Oct. 6 at the Friends Fun Fest, co-hosted by Wayne Wakefield youth opposed to drugs and alcohol. The Wakefield youth also present the one-act to some of the students at school, to the community and to a variety of other area young people.

"ALKY" is funded in part by the Wakefield Community Club. Students involved are: Randi Barge, Timarie Bebee, Myles Brown, John Danforth, Janna Erickson, Adam Hansen, Luke Hoffman, Bonnie Kluthe, Vanessa Nelson, Toan Nguyen, Cory Nicholson, Kami Roberts, and Kendra Thompson.

EXPLORE NATURE CENTER

The Wakefield second grade class, along with teachers Jan Johnson and Janyce McQuistan, visited the replica of the Lewis and Clark keelboat on Sept. 25 at Lewis and Clark Park at Blue Lake, Onawa, Iowa. Here the students learned how Lewis and Clark maneuvered this large boat up the Missouri River against a strong current with poles and strength and collected many animal and plant specimens new to the 'white man.' The explorers eventually reached the Snake and Columbia Rivers before arriving at the Pacific Coast in Oregon.

The second graders climbed aboard the boat for a closer view and later met the man who had built the keelboat. He explained to the students how he had built this boat and others right in his shop at the park.

The class also got to see two other full scale replica boats he was building for museums around the United States.

After the keelboat tour, the second graders visited the Dorothy Pecaut Nature Center in Sioux City for a lesson on Monarch butterflies and their migration. Complete with butterfly nets, the children searched the center's grounds for Monarchs to net and tag but all had seemingly left for warmer climates already.

Other small butterflies and moths were captured in the nets for closer inspection and then released to the wild again unharmed.

"It was an interesting day filled with lots of learning experiences," Mrs. Johnson said.

SCHOLARSHIP

Sandra Becker, daughter of Tom and Carol Becker of Wakefield, has received a $1,000 Dorothea E. Lutjeharms Scholarship to attend

The University of Nebraska at Lincoln.

Sandra is a senior in the College of Human Resources and Family Sciences. Her major study area is family and consumer sciences.

people were in attendance. The meeting was called to order by President Alvin Sundell. Secretary Tom Gustafson read the minutes from the last annual meeting.

Terry Hoffman, WHCC Administrator, went over the auditor's report for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2001. He gave a report on the previous year's activities.

Reports were given by Esther Oberg for the Auxiliary and Dan Zulkosky for the city.

There was no old business; new business was the election of directors for the board for three-year terms. Nominated were Sue Nelson, Tom Gustafson, Ken Thomsen, and Allen Trube. Allen Trube, Tom Gustafson and Ken Thomsen were elected to the board.

The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served.

In the boards' reorganization meeting following the annual meeting, Alvin Sundell was re-elected president, Ken Thomsen vice president and Tom Gustafson secretary. Sharon Salmon was appointed treasurer.

STAFF/VOLUNTEERS AWARDED

Members of the Wakefield Health Care Center Staff attended the annual convention of the Nebraska Health Care Association held Sept. 17-20 at the Embassy Suites and Holiday Inn at Lincoln. Over 1,000 long term care owners, administrators and staff participated in the convention. The convention offers long term care professionals a time to renew their pledges to continue quality in their work and offers educational opportunities and trade show.

Outstanding individuals were honored at an Awards luncheon on the last afternoon. Three Wakefield Health Care Center employees received awards. Kristi Schroeder was named Young Adult Volunteer of the Year. She was selected from nominees throughout the state of Nebraska.

The association is divided into six districts and awards were presented in each district in six categories. Rose Wenstrand received the nursing award and Faye Greve received the social service award.

The awards, according to WHCC Administrator Terry Hoffman, were a surprise to the employees.

In nominating Kristi, Hoffman said she is a young girl who volunteered off and on before choosing to become a regular volunteer as she identified a need and desire to help out. Kristi, the daughter of LeAnn and Jerel Schroeder, is a freshman at Wakefield Community School.

"She has been a great help to the activities staff on van outings, for shopping, the circus and picnics at Ponca State Park. She helps with crafts, bake days (one of her favorites) and bingo. Kristi has even convinced her friend to join her whenever she can to assist with activities.

The fact that Kristi was home schooled allowed her to adjust her schedule to be able to be a part of specific activities. Hoffman said she requests a monthly calendar and then asks if extra help is needed for a particular activity.

Kristi enjoys being around the residents, assisting them as she can safely and within the rules and regulations of the care center and observes strict confidentiality requirements, Hoffman added.

"Kristi has the kind of spirit that is contagious and is naturally a good public relations representative, especially for young adults. She loves the personal reward she experiences when providing tender loving care to the residents and the residents and staff enjoy being around her. Kristi certainly deserves the honor of the Young Adult Volunteer of the Year Award, Hoffman added.

Rose Wenstrand, according to Hoffman, has a cheerful positive attitude. "She is calm, thoughtful, and looks into situations before reacting to them and thus rarely overacts. She takes pride in quality of care and expresses this to potential residents and family," Hoffman added.

Rose is the Director of Nursing at the Wakefield Health Care Center and has worked for 30 years.

"She is honest and dedicated to her job and the facility. Her loyalty is deeply appreciated. She is willing to lead by example and is not afraid to show staff how things should be done. Rose does an excellent job of encouraging her staff to provide quality care with compassion to the residents," Hoffman's nomination states. "She does her own scheduling and bends over backwards to accommodate staff requests. She is very understanding of their needs and this ensures staff loyalty."

"She is always smiling and constantly has a kind word for residents and encouraging them in positive ways. She pitches in and helps with feeding, making beds or wherever there appears to be a need, she lends an extra hand," Hoffman adds.

Faye Greve is also a long time employee at the Care Center beginning in March 1975. Faye is the Social Service Director at the center.

In nominating Faye for the award, Hoffman said, "Faye has a wonderful work ethic and is extremely considerate of the residents and their needs. She does an excellent job of keeping family members updated about current care plans."

"She is very compassionate, very loyal and fiercely proud of the facility's reputation. Faye is not afraid to tell people her concerns, especially when they involve a resident."

"She does personal things like going downtown to get French fries for a resident who wanted something different and she's been known to do personal shopping for residents on her own time. She has never had a concern raised by surveyors about her documentation or work."

"Faye went the extra mile when getting the conversion project and nursing home remodeling project ready for open house by spending evenings cleaning and decorating. Faye is the kind of person who doesn't wait for the weekend until everything is caught up," Hoffman concluded.

CellularOne Announces $120 Million Investment in Nebraska for Wireless Infrastructure and Service Advancements

Local Communities to Benefit From Massive Investment in Nation's Largest Dedication Rural Wireless Network

LINCOLN, Neb. (BUSINESS WIRE) --Sept. 25, 2001-- CellularOne announced today that by the end of 2001, the company will have invested approximately $120 million in Nebraska's wireless infrastructure, the largest dedicated rural wireless investment in the state by any carrier.

This investment includes a $22 million system expansion and digital upgrade of its wireless network in Nebraska. In building on its legacy of service to rural America, CellularOne's Nebraska Investment will result in a significantly increased capacity for wireless calls, improved billing services and advancements in customer services.

"Our Nebraska customers are looking for reliable coverage and exceptional a customer service," said David Blair, CellularOne's Executive Director of Sales, Midwest Region. "CellularOne is listening and we believe our investments in state-of-the-art digital technology and other infrastructure improvements will help us meet and exceed our customer's expectations."

CellularOne's investment in Nebraska includes:

- $22 million system expansion and digital upgrade for 2001, significantly increasing system capacity, with additional investments in 2002.
- $120 million total investment in towers, antennae, base stations, switches and Federal Communications Commission (FCC) licenses.
- A 100 percent increase in statewide system capacity.

Fever-Fighter May Help After Stroke

According to a recent Journal of the American Heart Association report, 20% to 50% of persons who experience stroke also have a slight rise in body temperature. Although not high enough to result in fever, this rise in body temperature is associated with increased risk of poor outcomes, including death. Researchers in The Netherlands tested the theory that giving the fever-fighter medicine acetaminophen (the active ingredient in Tylenol and many other nonprescription fever medicines) could improve stroke outcomes.

Stroke victims were given acetaminophen immediately after the type of stroke in which the blood supply is cut off from the brain. A temperature drop of 0.4 degrees C was noted. Although this decrease in temperature in stroke victims is modest, it has been estimated that risk of death doubles for every 1 degree C increase in body temperature. The researchers described the treatment as "very promising."
