Local authorities take precautions

In light of a number of reported cases of anthrax exposure in the United States, local agencies are taking precautions and implementing procedures to follow should a possible exposure occur.

At Northeast Nebraska Medical Group, P.C., the following procedures would be followed.

1. Cultures would be done immediately.
2. The State Health Department has given specific instructions about how to handle specimens, which would be sent to a secondary lab or identification.

3. If there is a high concern of anthrax, appropriate treatment would be started immediately while awaiting results.

The American Association of Bioanalysts has released the following information on how to handle worksite mail threats.

1. Stay calm; do not get excited or excite others. Most threats are not genuine. However, you must treat each incident as if it is.
2. Put the letter down. Get three zip lock bags, a pair of latex gloves and a particulate (or TB) mask.

3. After putting on the gloves and mask, double bag the letter in zip lock bags.
4. Wash your gloved hands with soap and water. Remove the gloves and mask and place them in a zip lock bag. Wash your hands with soap and water. Everyone who had any contact with the letter MUST also wash their hands with soap and water.
5. Make a list of all persons who touched the letter or envelope. (Be sure the list includes a contact phone number for each person in case of a follow-up is necessary.

6. Begin notification as follows:
 - a. Notify your supervisor;
 - b. Call your local health department.
 - c. Notify your local police by dialing 911. The police will contact the Federal Bureau of Investigation (who will arrange to collect the letter).
 - d. If health department staff think it is necessary, notify the other building occupants.

State treasurer moves office to Wayne for a day

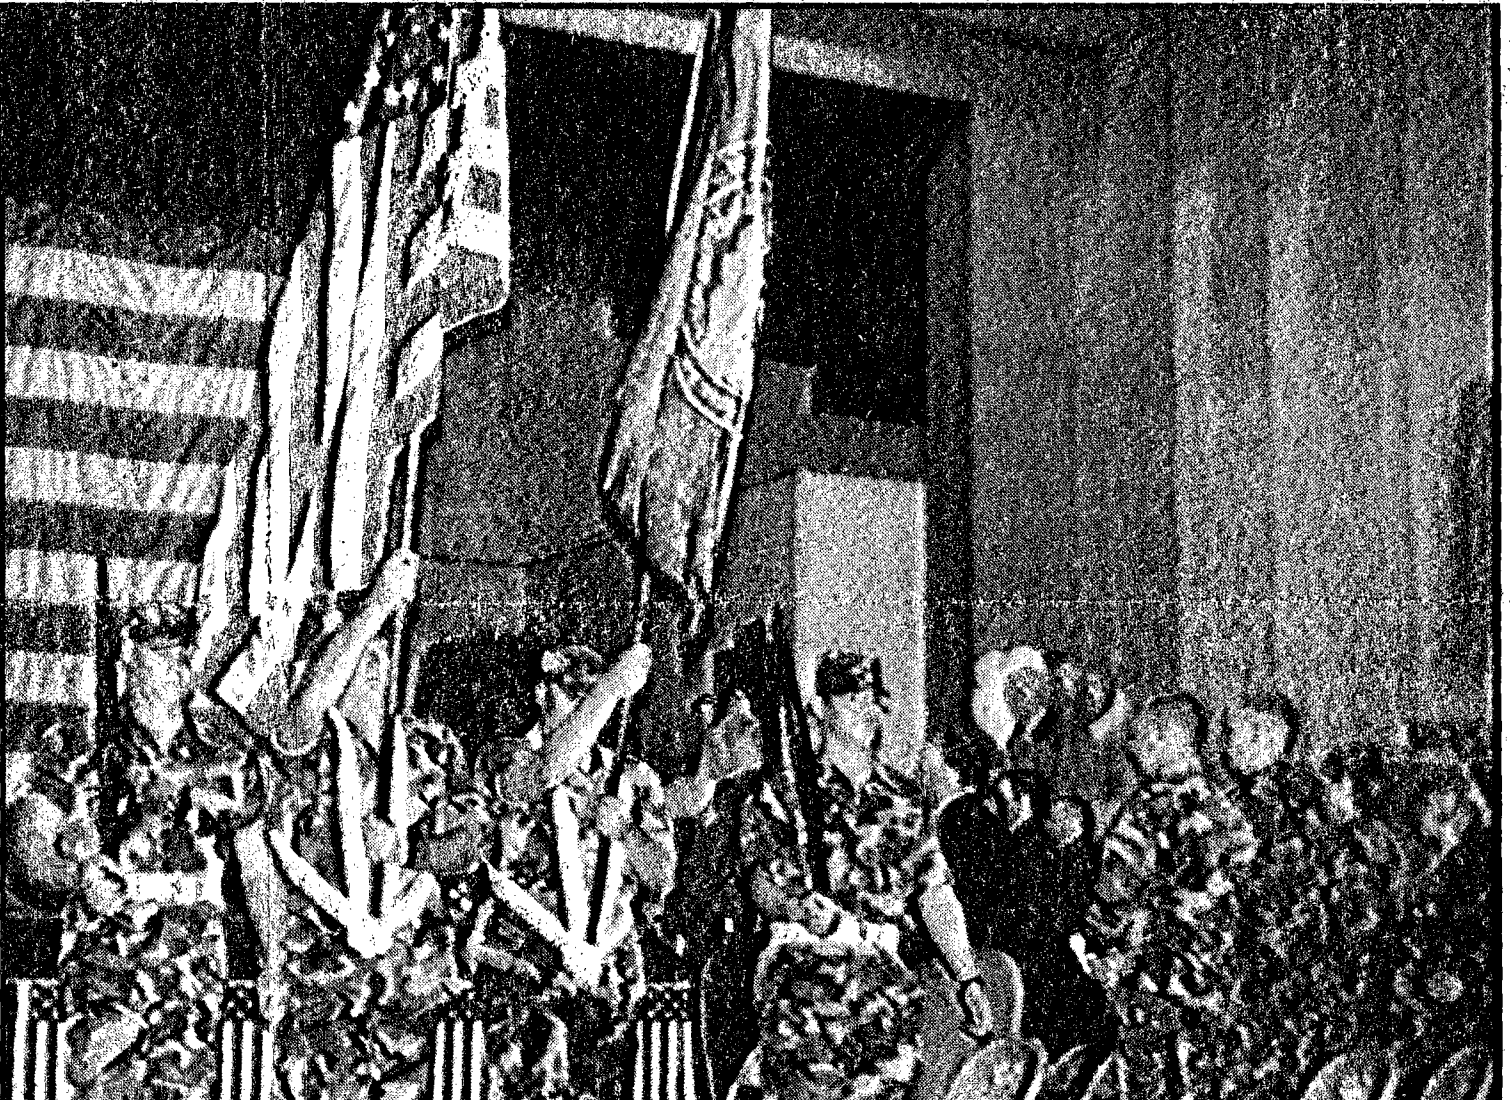

State Treasurer Lorelee Byrd has announced that she will be moving her office to Wayne County for the day on Thursday, Oct. 25.

A native of Stanton, Byrd will be making several similar visits in communities across the state.

Treasurer Byrd will set up her temporary office in the Wayne County Courthouse in cooperation with Wayne County Treasurer Karen McDonald. Starting at 8 a.m. and running through 5 p.m., Treasurer Byrd and a member of her staff will assist citizens with questions about all facets of state government.

People will also be able to check if they or their family have Unclaimed Property. In the last fiscal year, residents of Wayne County received $3,072.25 from the State Treasurer's Office in Unclaimed Property. Citizens will also be able to sign up for Direct Deposit Payment of Child Support and learn about the College Savings Plan of Nebraska.

The College Savings Plan of Nebraska is one of the most successful programs of its kind in the nation. Since Jan. 1, 2001 over $19 million has been deposited by more than 5,000 Nebraskans to save for their children's education.

Honoring those who serve

Members of the Wayne National Guard retire the colors following the Disaster Relief Benefit last week at the Wayne City Auditorium. Also involved in the program were members of the VFW and American Legion, local fire and rescue departments. Mark Ahmann was the featured speaker and patriotic music was provided by Meliza and Michelle Solan, former Wayne State College students, and a quartet made up of Eric Smith, Ken Dahl, Bob Dyer and Cliff Struble.

Members join in anniversary event

Four Wayne State College students were among 1,200 people who attended an international Habitat for Humanity conference that marked the 25th anniversary of the organization, Sept. 13-15. Most conference activities occurred at the Indiana Convention Center (ICC) and in downtown Indianapolis, Ind.

"A couple of hundred students from across the country and students from international campus chapters attended workshops for campus chapters and regular affiliates. Some students worked on five houses built around the Indianapolis area in connection with the conference," said Mark Hammer, Wayne State College Habitat for Humanity chapter advisor and associate professor.

WSC students participating were Christina Rutten and Stefanie Siedschlag, both of Norfolk; Laura Peterson of Bradshaw and Michelle Townsend of Laurel.

"The opportunity to travel was one of the best attributes of the trip. It was also amazing to see how people truly support Habitat for Humanity. Their dedication was amazing," Peterson said.

Peterson is a senior with a major in counseling and a minor in psychology and music. She is the daughter of Willard and Judy Peterson of Bradshaw.

"My major pertains to helping others. The Habitat for Humanity chapter at Wayne State provides me the opportunity to work with people and to help them achieve a goal. Many of the people who have been helped by Habitat said they haven't had a home for a long time. Habitat for Humanity also has strict criteria for people to receive homes," Peterson said.

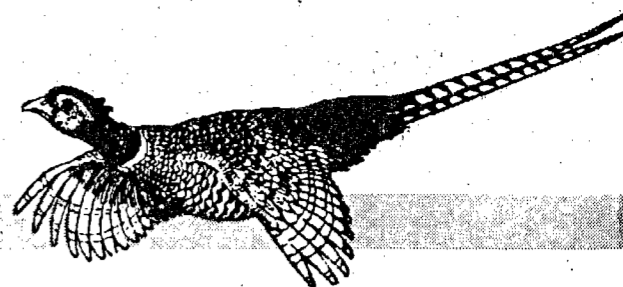

"Attending the conference has put a whole new light on my knowledge and appreciation for the organization. We met a gentleman from Kenya who was chairman of the board and had an opportunity to talk to him about the international aspects of the organization. We met people from Europe, Asia and South Africa who have received homes. It was interest-

Thanks is given for support

Dear Editor,
Individual staff in your media organization worked so well with the Siouxland Community Blood Bank over this last month. I wanted to be sure that you understand how deeply I appreciate your personal and corporate support.

After Sept. 11, thanks largely to the information you provided to the public; the public responded with above normal donations that we would not have normally collected during the same time period. We immediately advised our colleagues in New York and Washington that we were available to help if they needed it, and immediately thereafter, America's Blood Centers (ABC) the national organization representing independent blood centers in the United States, began to coordinate support.

Through the ABC, I got updates on the situation in a timely and regular basis. As it turned out, there was not a huge increase in the need for blood in New York, because the casualties did not survive to be treated. However, we did ship blood products on Sept. 11 and 12 to the New York region. I thank you for your support and generosity to assist us during these eventful times.

I am honored to work with you and your staff. I was extremely proud of our region and the way the citizens responded to us during this whole tragedy. I was also proud of our professional staff, which went well above and beyond the call of normal duty to be sure donors were treated with respect, compassion and professionalism. In turn, the public was most patient and accommodating.

Again, thank you for a great partnership between your organization and staff and the Siouxland Community Blood Bank staff.

Executive Director,

Wondering about little things

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Every so often some little thing occurs in your life and it just makes you wonder.

In the course of life you see things and hear things and read things and live things that will leave a few of those famous, or infamous, indelible impressions upon you.

It is the exact nature of these occurrences, big and little, that can be fascinating. Or consternating. Or something.

There are sufficient goings on, around about the world and the nation and Nebraska, to give a person plenty to ponder.

But for me, life's most enticing, current mystery has to do with a recent theft. To wit.

Last week I was walking out of a paddock and I noticed that there was a pile of grain on the ground, near the gate. This particular pile of grain had already been run through a horse, if you get my drift. So, I grabbed a plastic bucket that had previously held some of those treats that you give to horses that don't try to kill you. Into this bucket I put the aforementioned grain which had already been enjoyed by the horse.

The bucket was then placed in the bed of my pickup truck.

This was a day for doing a few errands so I and the truck (and the bucket) went downtown.

Having run the errands requisite to maintaining domestic tranquility, I returned to my truck.

The bucket was gone.

Someone had stolen a bucket of raw, fresh-from-the-horse, fertilizer!

In downtown Lincoln! Okay. Let all the obvious little jokes run through your mind.

"Probably some politician needed new material for a speech." Or, "A Colorado fan musta' been looking for a personality transplant!"

Finished? Fine.

Now, think about it. Not too long; but think about it.

Who would steal a bucket of meadow muffins?

And, why?

Ask almost anyone about the fight against terrorism, cutting the state budget, HMOs or Nebraska football, and you will get some sort of response. More than you needed in a good many instances.

But look someone in the eye and say: "By the way, Suzy, I was wondering ... Uh, what would be your view on why someone would steal a bucket of equine excreta from the back of a pickup?"

You get stares. And stammering.

Ultimately, the economy will right itself, the world will know war and peace, Nebraska will win some and lose some. But I will, forever and always, wonder what happened to that bucket and its contents.

Will it ultimately lend strength to a garden? Decorate the front porch of someone despised by the thief? Be passed off on some unsuspecting soul as the first draft of Bill Clinton's autobiography?

My favorite response to date came from someone formerly on my Christmas list.

"They just took it as a joke. And when they realized it was useless, they probably wrapped it up in a newspaper and threw it away!"

Ah, life.

Highway 35 Expressway

The 35 Expressway Association consists of people from Norfolk through Wayne and South Sioux City and was formed to promote development of a four lane high connecting these towns. The Nebraska Department of Roads is preparing a corridor study this winter to determine the best general routing from South Sioux City to Norfolk past Wayne. Expressway Association members met yesterday and set a deadline of Jan. 1, 2002 for all towns and counties along Highway 35 to determine their preference of the general expressway route. These local preferences will be submitted as part of the corridor study. Wayne and other communities will be soliciting local input in the next two months.

Visiting Wayne

Chancellor Harvey Perlman from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln was in Wayne last week to visit with citizens and answer questions from his audience. He spoke briefly about the undergraduate program at UN-L and talked about changes occurring at the University. One of the goals of his trip to outstate Nebraska was to connect the University with Nebraska. Perlman also visited with students and Wayne and Laurel-Concord High Schools.

'Fridays at WSC' scheduled

A new program, "Fridays at WSC," is being offered this fall by the Wayne State College admissions office to prospective students and their parents. Scheduled for three dates--Oct. 26, Nov. 9 and Dec. 7--"Fridays at WSC" will provide an opportunity for students and parents to talk with faculty, staff and students; obtain information about admission, financial assistance, academic programs and extracurricular activities; tour campus; visit academic areas of the students' choice; and have lunch in the WSC cafeteria.

"Fridays at WSC" will give prospective students a chance to learn about our programs, get the 'scoop' from our students, and find out what Wayne State College has to offer," said Teresa Moore, director of admissions. "We want to give students every opportunity to explore the campus and the programs in which they are interested."

Each of the programs will begin with registration at 8:45 a.m. and will conclude by mid-afternoon. Those wishing to participate in one of the "Fridays at WSC" are requested to register by calling the admissions office at 1-800-228-9972, ext. 7234 or 402-375-7234, or e-mail admit1@wsc.edu.

The admissions office will send a confirmation of the date as well as a schedule for the day and a campus map as soon as a reservation is received.

Anyone who is not able to attend one of the three "Fridays at WSC" is asked to call the admissions office to arrange an individual campus visit.

Scam letters come to Wayne

The Wayne Police Department is warning people not to respond to the so-called Nigerian Scam Letters that are circulating in the Wayne area.

The Police Department got a copy of one such letter telling the recipient that they would share 20 percent of over $27 million if they would just help the letter writer get some money out of Nigeria.

According to Wayne Police Chief Lance Webster, the scam works this way, "the scam artist wants you to send them your bank account information so they can ostensibly send you the money promised. What they really do is clean out your bank account using the information you provided them."

Webster cautioned, "remember, if it sounds too good to be true, it probably is!"

Anyone receiving one of these letters is asked to turn it over to the police department or contact the Nebraska Attorney General's Consumer Protection division.

"What you shouldn't do, is respond," Webster said.

Thanksgiving dinner is planned at Wayne church

An invitation has been extended to anyone who is alone or anyone whose family lives a great distance away to a Thanksgiving Day meal.

The meal will be served at noon at Our Savior Lutheran Church Social Room. There is no charge for the meal and all are invited to attend.

The meal is being made possible by a group known as Thanksgiving, Fellowship and Food. This group consists of approximately 14 members from Our Savior Lutheran Church, First Presbyterian Church, United Methodist Church, St. Mary's Catholic Church and First Church of Christ.

The idea for a dinner of this type came from Sioux Falls, S.D. where a "Banquet" was held on Thanksgiving. It has now evolved to the point where meals are served five days a week.

Jim and Vera Hummel of Wayne became familiar with a program in Yankton, S.D. that their son's family is involved with. The Yankton program serves meals one day a week and volunteers from throughout the community sign up for a time to prepare, serve and clean up after the meal.

The core group stated that "the financial support for our project has been phenomenal."

Those wishing to participate in the meal are encouraged to sign up at any of the grocery stores in Wayne, the five churches listed above or at the Wayne Public Library/Senior Center. The deadline for registering is Thursday, Nov. 8 so those preparing the meal know how much food to prepare. Reservations may also be made by calling Our Savior Lutheran Church Office at 375-2899.

Transportation to and from the meal will also be provided for those who need it.

The group is also working with Wayne State College to ensure that students who cannot be with their families for the holiday have the opportunity to enjoy a holiday meal and fellowship.

For more information about Thanksgiving, Fellowship and Food, contact Jim or Vera Hummel at 375-1714.

ing to experience how grateful these people were to receive homes and how happy they were that we were attending and involved with Habitat for Humanity. Jimmy Carter's talk was also very inspirational."

Featured as keynote speaker at the conference gala on Sept. 15, former U.S. President Jimmy Carter addressed the audience on the cause for celebrating lives changed by Habitat and for mourning the lives lost in the tragedies of Sept. 11. Carter discussed the week's events and reflected on the reasons he and his wife Rosalynn build with Habitat.

"Wayne State students learned about the structure of the Habitat for Humanity organization and its foundations," Hammer said.

During the anniversary celebration, the Wayne State group attended a chronological look at Habitat for Humanity International. The session told how the organization evolved from an obscure racially integrated Christian farming community in Georgia in the late '60s to a worldwide network of local nonprofit chapters.

"The session talked about the idea behind Habitat for Humanity. The organization is based on the belief that if people have a decent place to live, it will influence other areas of their lives," Hammer said.

Habitat's opening anniversary event included a dinner and welcome speeches from Habitat founder Millard Fuller and Jack Kemp, former congressman and chairman of the "More Than Houses" campaign.

Wayne State individuals also met Habitat homeowners and helped some homeowners working on their homes in Indianapolis. These Habitat partners pay no-interest mortgages and donate hours towards building their home as well as other Habitat partners' homes.

Habitat for Humanity International is an ecumenical Christian ministry dedicated to eliminating poverty housing. Founded by Millard Fuller along with his wife, Linda. The Habitat organization has more than 1,916 affiliates.

The silver anniversary of Habitat was the most significant milestone yet for the charity that has rocketed from 100 homes in Zaire to 20,000 homes a year in 79 nations. 500,000-plus people live under Habitat roofs worldwide in 100,000-plus houses worldwide.

From Australia to Zambia, Habitat representatives from 79 countries came to Indianapolis for the Global Leadership Conference, an invitation-only event occurring in connection with the anniversary celebration.

of suspicious letters, but those dealt with a scam to collect money.

He did advise anyone who received a suspicious letter to give his office a call. The letter will be picked up and sent to the state laboratory for testing. His office will then forward the information to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Authorities at the Wayne Post Office indicated that there is a policy in place in regard to suspicious letters and packages. Postal workers have been trained to look for suspicious letters and packages and anything else that looks unusual.

If anything is found, management would be informed of the situation. They in turn, would notify postal inspectors who would instruct them on what should be done, such as informing the police department, fire department, etc.

"It has been business as usual here. We don't expect anything and there has been no change in how we handle the mail," said Postmaster Kevin Tonjes.

First hunt

Twenty youth, ages 12 to 15 took part in the third annual Youth/Mentor Hunt sponsored by the Logan Creek Chapter of Pheasants Forever. Approximately 40 adults were also on hand to assist. The majority of those hunting were able to shoot a pheasant and several even bagged two birds. Kyle Straight was the winner of a 20 gauge shotgun donated by Kenneth Schroeder. In addition, people making presentations to the hunters included Dr. Lauri Zink of the Wayne Veterinary Clinic, Russ Hamer of the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission and Marion Schafer of the Nebraska Game and Parks.

Red Cross estimates costs nearing $300 million

The American Red Cross estimates it will spend more than $300 million over the next several months to provide ongoing disaster relief following the Sept. 11 tragedies. By far, it is the costliest and most extensive response to any disaster in the 120-year history of the American Red Cross.

The $300 million includes roughly $100 million in ongoing relief services, which to date have involved more than 35,000 Red Cross employees and volunteers working at the three primary disaster sites providing food, shelter and grief counseling.

The $300 million total also includes $100 million estimated for Red Cross cash gifts now providing immediate, interim financial relief for families and individuals who suffered the loss of a loved one in the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks.

This is the first disaster in Red Cross history in which all its services were simultaneously mobilized nationwide. Disaster Services, Blood Services, International Services, Armed Forces Services, and even Health and Safety services through the provision of 3,000 first aid kits at the disaster sites.

In the aftermath of the September 11 tragedies, more than 35,000 dedicated American Red Cross disaster relief workers have been tirelessly providing humanitarian assistance from providing safe havens to people who lost their homes to feeding and caring for the firefighters and other emergency services personnel.

The American Red Cross has provided safe refuge for more than 4,000 people in 76 shelters, serving 6.5 million meals and snacks to survivors, emergency personnel and stranded travelers. The Red Cross has also directly helped 90,000 people with crisis, grief and spiritual counseling.

The barbaric attacks on Sept. 11 in New York City, at the Pentagon and in Pennsylvania have brought this nation face to face with a disaster of magnitude, intensity and duration akin to none other. Even the costliest natural disaster response in Red Cross history, Hurricane Georges in 1998, which exceeded $100,000 million, had a beginning and end with a predictable course of response.

The estimated near-term response costs listed here are obligations of the American Red Cross on behalf of the American people.

The American Red Cross also has the responsibility to invest additional resources in preparedness and mitigation for present and future terrorist threats in the aftermath of what took place on Sept. 11. These longer-term efforts are underway as a phase II effort under the American Red Cross Liberty Fund.

Blue Devil cross country girls and boys qualify for State Wayne boys capture districts

By Kevin Peterson
Of the Herald

The Wayne boys cross country team kept their unbeaten record in tact with a district championship last Thursday in Wayne.

Rocky Ruhl's troops tallied 23 points to out-distance runner-up Elkhorn Mt. Michael by 21 points.

Wahoon Neumann finished third with 51 points. The top three teams qualified for this Friday's State Cross Country Meet in Kearney.

Wahoo finished fourth with 61 points with Norfolk Catholic netting fifth place with 89 while Arlington was sixth with 101.

Columbus Scotus finished seventh with 108 points while Pierce was eighth with 127. Boys Town, 154 and North Bend, 194 rounded out the field of teams.

Individually, Arlington's Jon Morrison was the district champ in 17:05.

Wayne's Devin Bethune placed third in 17:40 followed in fourth by Bryan Fink, 17:43. Brad Hansen finished sixth in 17:59 and Nick Lipp was 10th in 18:29. Jeff Pippitt finished 22nd in 19:08—one second ahead of Tony Carollo.

"It was a great atmosphere," Ruhl said. "The athletes really appreciate the large crowd we had for the meet. "The boys began working for this moment as soon as last season ended. All of them have the same idea in mind and it's a pretty tight nit group," Ruhl added.

"Centennial has been rated number one all year and that has kept us hungry. We are looking forward to a great day in Kearney," Ruhl said.

"Though the boys were favored to win the district meet and contend for a state title this week, the Blue Devil girls team was a slight question mark.

However, that question mark turned to an exclamation point as Wayne darted to a runner-up finish at the district meet to qualify for this week's state tournament.

Columbus Scotus was crowned district champs with 22 points with Wayne netting 62 with Wahoo Neumann placing third with 63.

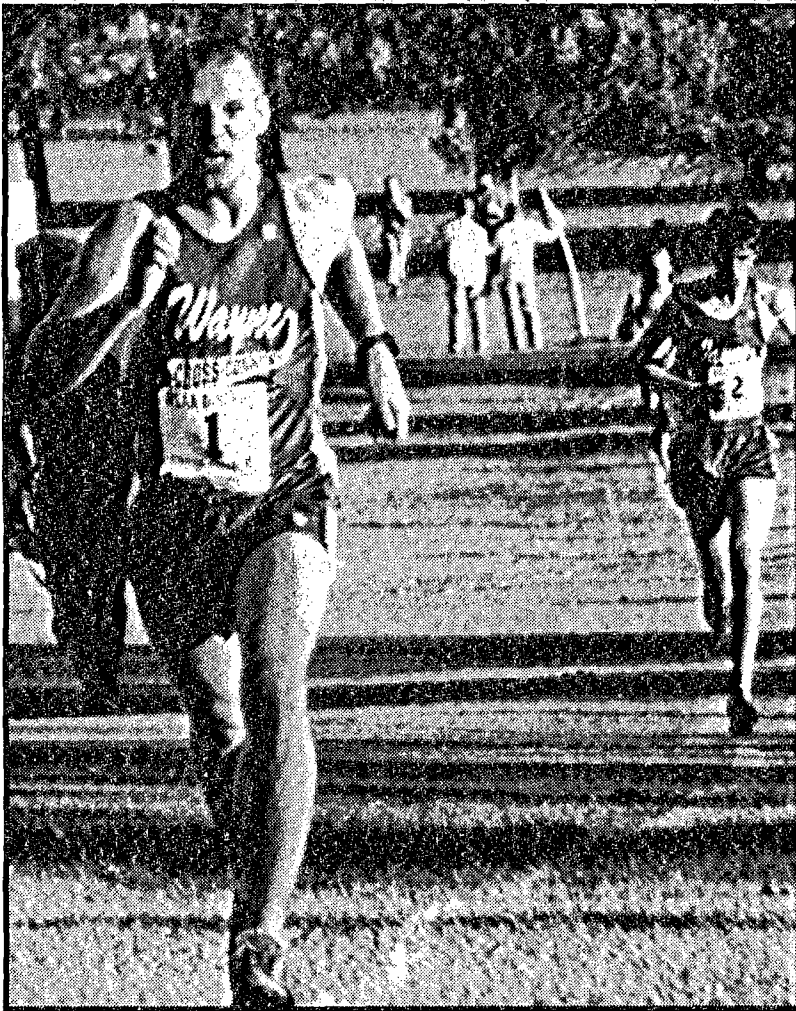

North Bend finished fourth with 67 points while Logan View was fifth with 76 followed by Wahoo with 90, Boys Town, 103 and Arlington, 128.

Amber Nelson led Wayne to a fourth place finish in 17:03 while Andrea Bethune was 15th in 17:57. Call Broders finished 18th in 18:04 and Jessica Murtaugh, 26th in 18:41. Leah Pickinpaugh was timed in 19:12 and Jacey Klaver, 19:35.

Allen volleyball team tops Winside; Streak now at 16

Wayne's Cali Broders stays ahead of a Columbus Scotus runner during the final stages of the district race.

By Kevin Peterson
Of the Herald

The Allen Eagles volleyball team just keeps winning. In fact, they've won 16 consecutive matches dating back to the season-opening tournament in Beemer and Wisner where they fell to Wayne and Fremont Bergan.

They've already avenged the loss to Wayne—which started the win streak back on Sept. 1.

Denise Hingst has watched her Eagles soar over everyone but that doesn't mean she thinks the Eagles have a free ride to state.

Allen, competing in Class D-2 has been ranked most of the year and deservedly so.

They sport one of the finest hitters in all of Northeast

Nebraska, regardless of class size in Angela Prochaska.

Prochaska, seemingly a quiet leader by example is also fortunate to have more than adequate hitters in the likes of Alycia Stewart and Elizabeth Bock with Katie Koester filling in nicely at the setter position.

Last Thursday in Allen, the Eagles played host to Winside. When these two teams square off you can usually plan on a three-game match—and this was no exception.

Allen prevailed despite losing the first game, 13-15, 15-8, 15-7. The Eagles had a chance to close out the Wildcats in straight games after leading 13-7 in the first game but Winside, under the direction of Tori Moser, fought back to score the final eight points to get the win.

"I thought we made great strides within ourselves to come out and take that first game," Moser said. "We trailed 13-7 and Crystal Jaeger came in to serve and we scored the next eight points for the win."

Moser however, felt her team began playing with emotions instead of playing with their heads.

"What matters as tournament time approaches is that we are beginning to gel," Moser said. "Despite this loss I feel we are doing that."

"We know Winside is a solid team," Hingst said. "We always seem to go the distance with them. I think one of our team strengths is serve receive which is the propeller to the offense and I didn't feel we had a stellar performance in that part of our game which affected our offense."

Hingst said it may not have been one of the Eagles' finest performances of the season but it proved they can come together as a team when they are behind and win.

Angela Prochaska was a force on offense for Allen with 23 kill spikes with Alycia Stewart pounding out seven.

Katie Koester tallied 35 set assists and Elizabeth Bock was 14-16 in serving with two aces while Angie Sullivan was 12-14.

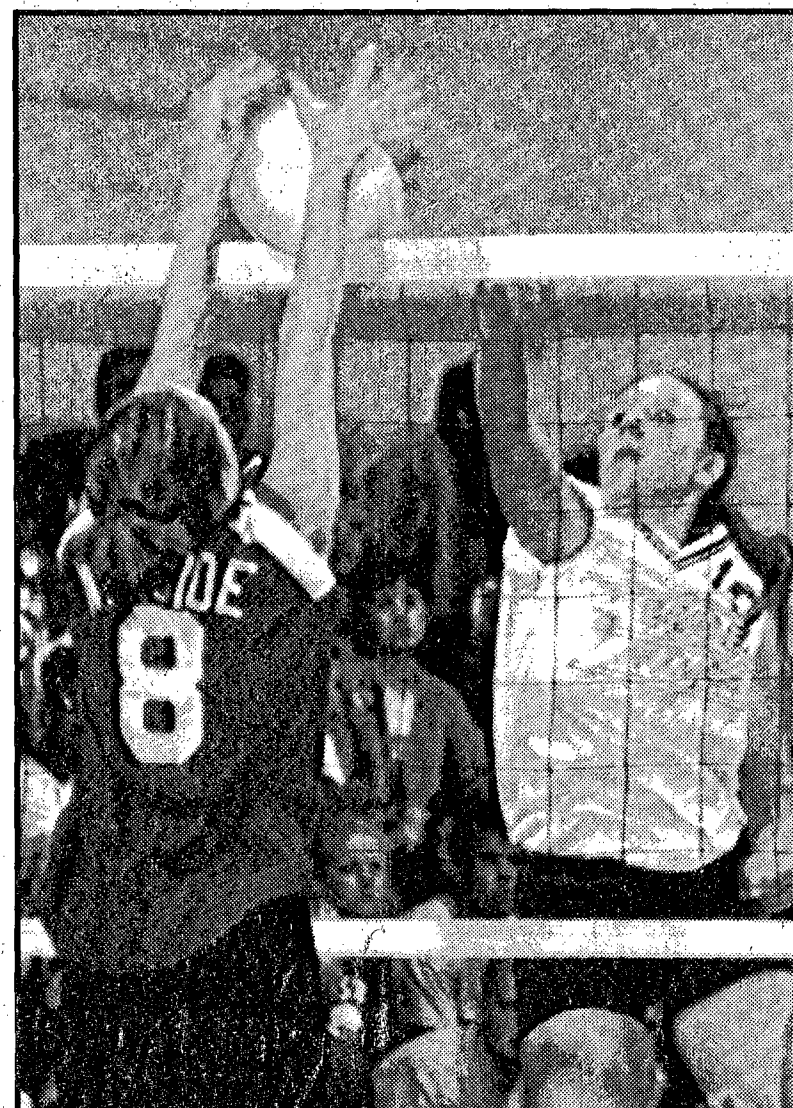

Prochaska had 14 blocks at the net with three aces and the senior notched 15 digs with Bock and Stewart each netting 11 digs.

Winside was led by Julie Jacobsen with 17 kill spikes. Jacobsen is nearing the state record for career kill spikes in her class.

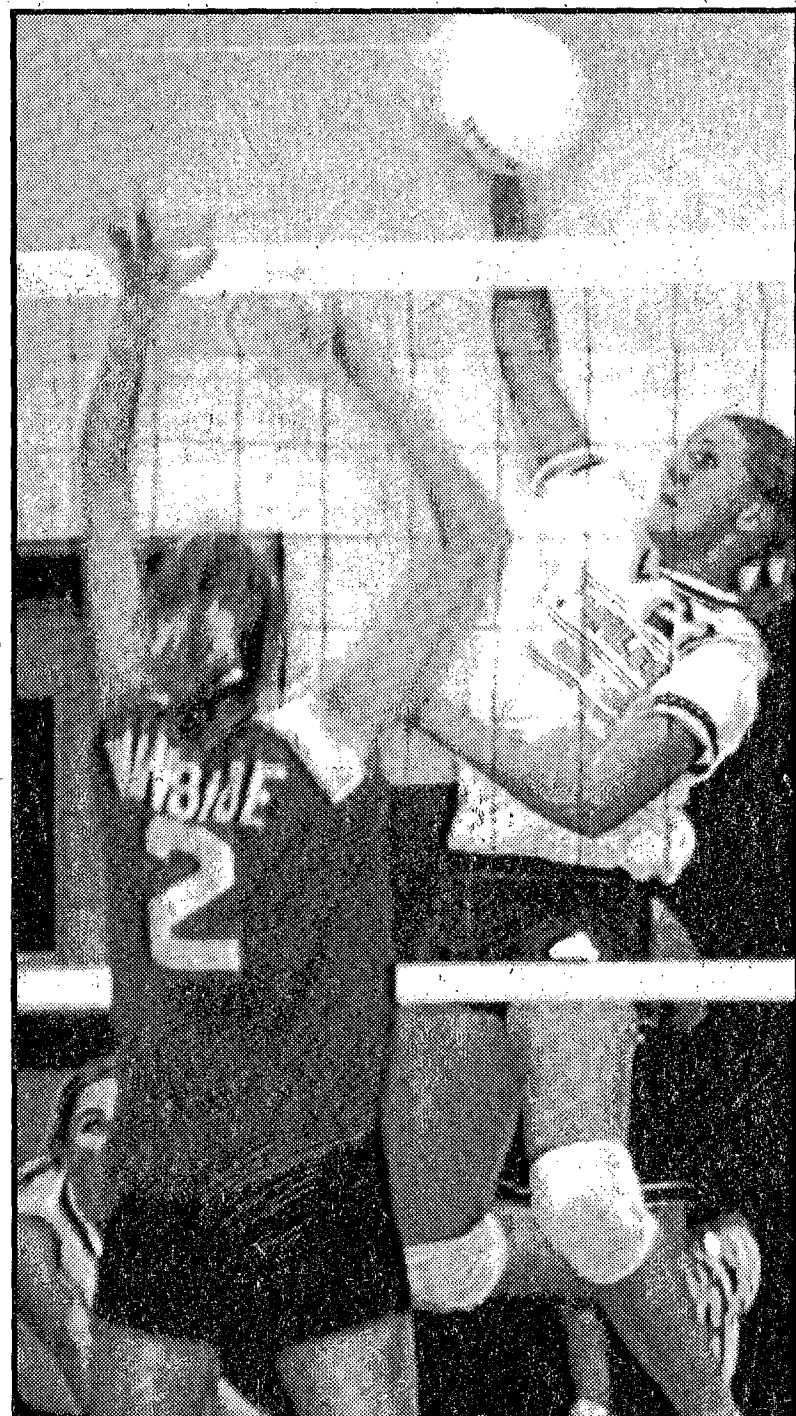

Amy Rademacher had seven kills and Ashley Hoffman, five. Hoffman also had 21 set assists and Jacobsen had eight while notching two service aces.

Crystal Jaeger was a perfect 16-16 in serving with three aces.

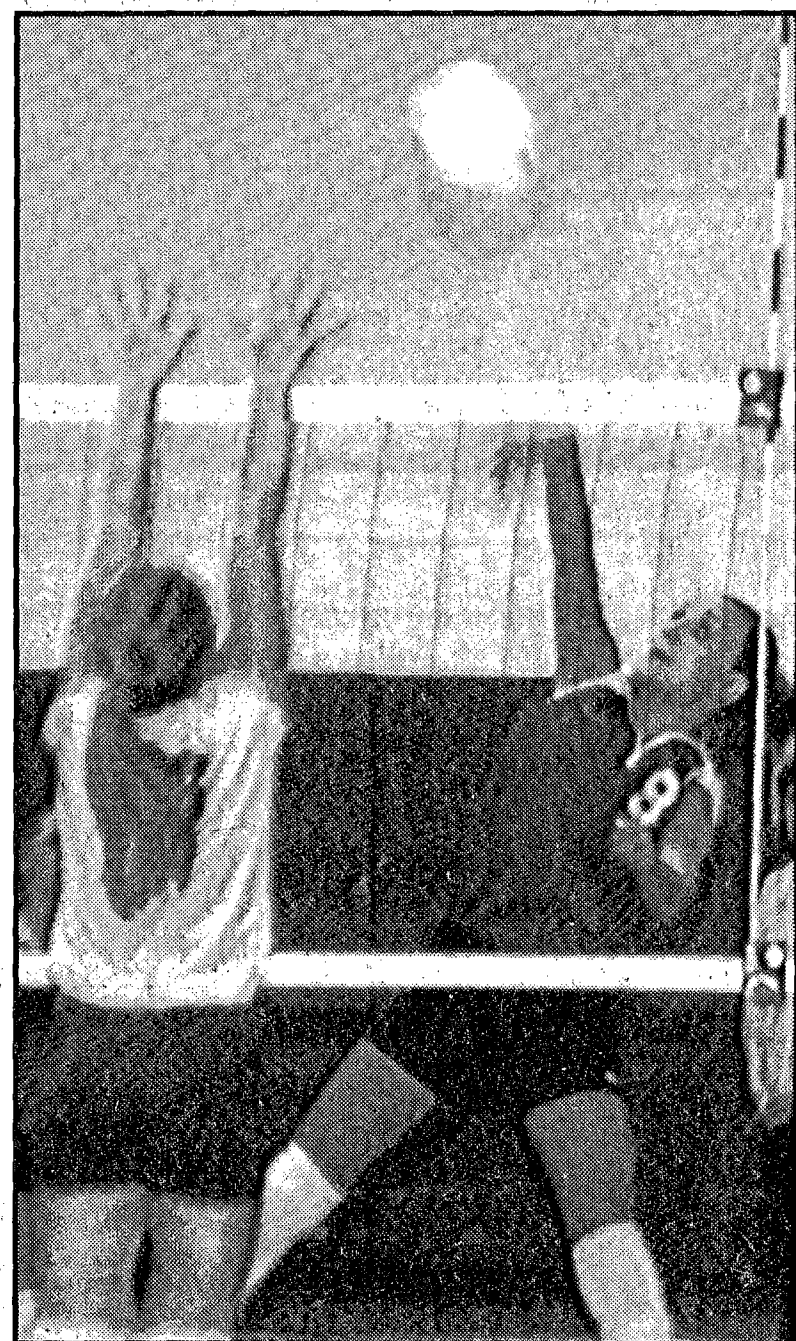

Allen made it a clean sweep of Winside as the JV team won, 15-6, 15-8 and the "C" team won, 11-3, 11-1.

Allen's Andrea Swetnam spikes the ball through the defense of Winside's Kalynda Hokamp.

Alycia Stewart of Allen skies for one of her seven kill spikes against the Wildcats.

Winside's Kalynda Hokamp notches an ace spike.

"I thought the girls ran a great race," Ruhl said. "Jessica Murtaugh made my heart stop a little bit when she hesitated for a few seconds with about 450 meters to go."

"I have to thank her dad (football coach John Murtaugh) for extra motivation for her and because of her finish, we netted second place."

Ruhl said all of the girls worked very hard throughout the season and the reward is a state berth.

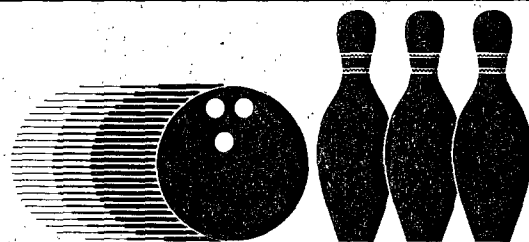

"I thought Amber Nelson ran a great race, finishing fourth after battling foot problems all year. Andrea Bethune, Cali Broders, Leah Pickinpaugh, Jacey Klaver and Murtaugh have to be commended for their great effort."

Wayne football team on a roll; Defeat Crofton

The Wayne High Blue Devils continued to improve as a team with a 14-7 victory over Crofton on the road last Friday night.

John Murtaugh's Blue Devils drew first blood late in the first quarter with a seven yard touchdown run from quarterback Ric Volk to take a 7-0 lead.

After a scoreless second quarter, Wayne returned to the endzone late in third quarter with a Justin Davis three yard run.

The Blue Devils defense gave up their only score late in the fourth quarter in the 14-7 win.

"I'm very pleased with our team. Allen notches third win of season via blowout

The Allen Eagles football team posted their third win of the season last Friday with a 50-6 blowout of Walthill.

The Eagles came flying out of the gates right away, as Bart Sachau scampered 27 yards into the endzone. Allen's Brandon Kelly continued the scoring barrage minutes later with a three yard run to open a 14-0 lead heading into the second quarter.

After a Walthill score in the second quarter, Bart Sachau made his second visit into the endzone from 40 yards out to regain the momentum. With time winding down in the first half, Corey Uldrich added six more points to the board with a one yard run to head into the locker room up 30-6.

The second half led to the same results, as Allen's Corey Uldrich galloped 19 yards into the endzone. The Eagles added the final insurance scores in the fourth quarter with a couple touchdown passes from Uldrich to Brett Keitges and Kyle Oswald to capture the victory.

Laurel-Concord takes care of Wakefield 33-7

The Laurel-Concord Bears improved to 6-1 on the season with a 33-7 win at Wakefield last Friday night.

The Bears gained the lead in the opening quarter with a David Asbra 15 yard touchdown reception from Blake Erwin to take a 7-0 lead heading into the second quarter.

Wakefield responded with its own score in the second quarter with a Toan Nguyen six yard touchdown scamper to tie the score, before the Bears would regain the lead and pull away with a nine yard run by Bennie Surber to capture a 13-7 lead at halftime.

The second half continued from where the Bears left off as Marc Manganaro hauled in a 23 yard touchdown reception from Blake Erwin. Laurel-Concord continued to add points with another Bennie Surber run from 26 yards out.

The Bears put the final nail in the coffin in the fourth quarter with a blocked punt by Anthony Hansen and a recovery in the endzone.

"The kick coverage unit did a nice job this week in holding Wakefield inside their own 30-yard line every time on kickoffs."

"Special teams also did a good job in blocking a punt and scoring a touchdown off of it," said Laurel-Concord head coach Mike Halley.

Blake Erwin went 13-18 for 133 yards with two touchdowns through the air to lead the winners.

David Asbra and Bennie Surber led the way in receiving with five receptions apiece, with Asbra gaining 39 yards, and Surber with 45 yards.

Winside Wildcats tamed by defending champs

Winside's Wildcat football team fell behind early and couldn't fight their way back last Friday in a 58-14 defeat to Howells, the defending state champs in Class D-1.

After a 30-0 lead by Howells through the first quarter, Winside got on the scoreboard in the second period with an Adam Hoffman ten yard touchdown scamper to head into the half down 46-6.

With a scoreless bout through the third period, Winside captured its final score midway through the fourth quarter with a four yard touchdown reception from Hoffman to Ben Lienemann.

Adam Hoffman led the Winside aerial attack by completing six of 28 attempts for 79 yards and one touchdown.

Ben Lienemann led the receiving corp for Winside by hauling in four passes for 56 yards.

The Winside ground attack was led by Adam Hoffman gaining 42 yards on 27 carries.

Tom Schwedhelm led the Winside defense with ten tackles, while Ben Lienemann contributed with six.

Winside will try to rebound this week as they travel to play Lutheran High Northeast.

'Cats soccer team thumps Concordia

The Wayne State Soccer team split a pair of conference games last weekend with a win over Concordia-St. Paul and a loss to Winona State.

The Wildcats got going on the right foot Saturday with a convincing 8-0 shutout victory over Concordia-St. Paul.

The 'Cats outshot the golden Bears 48-7.

Sarah Lund provided the big offensive threat for the Wildcats by scoring four goals and one assist.

Other Wayne State scores came from Sarah Herrick, Mary McDaniel, Tanya Mitchell, and Anne Paulsen with a goal apiece.

"This was probably one of our best efforts of the year. We were working our passing game really well and we made a lot of unselfish plays to help our teammates. That's fun to watch," said head coach Justin Cole.

After an excellent showing from the day before, the (10-5, 3-2) Wildcats returned to action at home against the (12-3, 5-0) Winona State Warriors and fell 4-3 in overtime.

Wayne JV girls posts two wins to end the year

The Wayne junior varsity girls volleyball team closed out the regular season with two wins at the Lutheran High Northeast Triangular.

Wayne defeated Wakefield, 15-12, 15-8 before downing the host team, 15-17, 15-13, 15-8.

"It was an excellent team effort," coach Dale Hochstein said. "We came out flat against Lutheran Northeast after we had played two good games in our win over Wakefield. We knew Wakefield had defeated Lutheran Northeast in the first match and we just weren't focused."

Jessica Thomsen led the winners with 16 points throughout the two matches while Ashley Carroll scored 13 points. Stacie Hoeman tallied nine points and Jenny Raveling, eight.

"It was a solid team win," Hochstein added. "The type of experience gained in playing back-to-back matches is really important to varsity maturity. The JV's finished the year at 7-7-2."

Earlier last week, the JV's fell to South Sioux, 10-15, 15-11, 10-15.

Micaela Weber and Sarah Jensen led the team in scoring with seven points each while Rachel Jensen finished with five points.

Bears notch 15th win to stay perfect

Patti Cunningham's Laurel-Concord volleyball team remained perfect on the season at 15-0 last Thursday with a 15-12, 15-7 win at Neligh-Oakdale.

The Bears got 12 kill spikes from Lani Recob while Emily Schroeder had seven and Susan Pritchard, six. Katie Peters and Maggie Recob also had two kills each.

Tori Cunningham finished with 26 set assists and was 8-9 in serving with three aces.

Tiffany Erwin and Susan Pritchard were each 10-11 with one ace while Katie Peters was 10-12 with one ace.

Defensively, Schroeder led the way with six blocks while Cunningham had four, Tiffany Erwin had a team-high six digs while Peters and Cunningham added five each and Pritchard, four.

Laurel-Concord's JV team won, 14-16, 15-13, 15-11 and the "O" team fell, 2-15, 15-9, 10-15.

"We trailed 9-4 and 12-10 in that first game but were able to regroup and overcome big scoring deficits," Cunningham said. "We will focus our attention on speeding up the offense as we head into tournament play."

Herbs for Health
 Purple Coneflower
 Enhances Immunity

The purple coneflower was the most widely used herb in the US during the nineteenth century. This flower, which is one of the several from the species echinacea, is native to the great plains. It was used by American Indians to treat everything from coughs to snakebites. During the first half of this century, Echinacea was listed in the National Formulary, a book of "remedies" that generally were recognized as being useful. With the advent of antibiotics, the herb fell from widespread use by most physicians.

Echinacea seems to enhance a nonspecific type of immunity. The herb stimulates the body to make chemicals that fight illness caused by bacteria, viruses, and fungi. Numerous studies have shown that the herb does enhance immunity. One such study involved persons who were prone to have upper respiratory infections. Study participants were given either fresh juice from Echinacea purpurea or a placebo two times a day for 8 weeks. Those who received the herb had about 40% less illness. They also had 40 days between episodes of illness as compared to 25 days in the group that received the placebo.

Cataracts affect over 80% of our senior citizens. In fact over one million cataract surgeries are performed annually in the U.S. alone.

New technological developments in implants, ultrasonic equipment, lasers, diagnostic testing, and surgical techniques have made cataract surgery one of the most effective procedures today. Currently, over 98% of cataract patients experience significant improvements in vision, without major complications.

Until now, the high cost of this new technology for cataract surgery was only available in the larger surgical facilities. This meant that you would have to travel for a complete eye examination and surgery. Not any longer.

Complete eye care and cataract surgery is now available at Providence Medical Center in Wayne. You don't have to travel outside of your community to have your vision tested for cataracts. With Dr. Willcockson, Dr. Koerber and Dr. Magnuson offering comprehensive diagnostic and surgical services, you now have the most advanced eye care available right here in town.

Call Dr. Koerber or Dr. Magnuson for a complete eye examination and cataract vision screening today! If you would like more information on cataracts for yourself or someone you know who may be experiencing loss of vision, call today for a free informational brochure.

Walking Daily May Help To Prevent Diabetes

According to an 8-year study in the Journal of the American Medical Association, cutting your risk of Type 2 Diabetes may be as simple as taking a brisk one hour walk daily. Researchers found walking as effective as doing more vigorous exercises such as running or jogging. They believe walking is beneficial because it aids in weight loss and helps your body use insulin more efficiently. Walking is easy to do, can be done anywhere, and it rarely leads to injury.

TeamMates is seeking mentors

TeamMates of Wayne is a mentoring program modeled after the original program begun by Tom and Nancy Osborne in Lincoln in 1991. Mentors are being sought for TeamMates of Wayne. A mentor is an adult volunteer who meets one-on-one with a middle-aged child once a week for one hour during the school day at the school site. During that time, the TeamMates mentor and mentee may visit, do a mental activity such as homework or puzzles, play a game, discuss a topic. A mentor receives training and is given resources to make the meeting time successful. A mentor is someone who, along with parents, provides young people with support, counsel, friendship, reinforcement and constructive example. Mentors are good listeners and are people who care; who want to help young people bring out their strengths. For more information on the TeamMates program, or to volunteer to mentor to a student, contact Fauneil Bennett at (402) 375-3542.

Grant provides for infusion pump

The Providence Medical Center Foundation of Wayne recently applied for and received a $1,000 grant from the Eagles D.D. Dunlap Kidney Fund. Grants from this fund are made available every year to qualifying institutions. "The PMC Outpatient Clinic was in need of an additional volumetric infusion pump and once again our local Wayne Eagles Auxiliary stepped forward and guided me to this particular fund which had monies available," said Sandra Bartling, Foundation Director.

"This is the fourth grant that Providence Medical Center has received from the Eagles and to say that we are grateful is an understatement. The members of the Wayne Eagles organization have proven over and over again that they are loyal supporters of our health care mission." Khristy Long, Director of Nursing at PMC, explained that an additional infusion pump will assist the staff at PMC in the treatment of patients, especially those experiencing acute renal failure. "This infusion pump allows nursing staff to select a desired medication, weight of the individual and will calculate the rate to ensure proper delivery of the medication. It also has a feature, label library, which allows staff to label the screen of the pump to ensure the proper medication is being delivered. With numerous medications being delivered to patients with renal failure, this infusion pump allows medications to be delivered in succession, saving valuable nursing hours," Long said. The Wayne Eagles Aerie and Auxiliary were instituted May 1, 1977 with the motto, "People Helping People." National charities supported are the Golden Eagle Fund, Max Baer Heart Fund, Art Ehrmann Cancer Fund, Jimmy Durante Children's Fund, City of Hope, Kidney and Diabetes Funds. The group also supports the State President's Project which is the Nebraska Children's Home in Omaha this year. The Nebraska Boys Ranch at Alliance is another statewide project. Since being instituted, the Wayne Eagles have obtained numerous grants for the Wayne Library Foundation, Wakefield, Carroll and Winside libraries, Region IV, Wayne Senior Citizens and the Providence Medical Center. Anyone interested in further information about the Eagles or membership should contact the club at 375-9956 or any Eagle member.

Reading All Over

Teens who read a lot have an advantage in school. They tend to read faster and understand what they read better — and they usually write better, too.

Practice Makes Perfect

So, how can you help your high schoolers read well? The answer is practice. Reading is a skill, so the more your kids do it, the better they'll get! And believe it or not, it doesn't much matter what they read — just as long as they read regularly.

Stock Every Room

To get your kids to read more, try stocking your whole house with fun or useful reading material. If it's there, your teens are likely to pick it up. Even if they read only for a few minutes a day, they'll be getting extra practice. Here are some suggestions.

- In the kitchen: cookbooks, catalogs;
- In the living room: newspapers, magazines, TV listings;
- In the bedroom: novels, hobby manuals;
- In the bathroom: comics or joke books.

Dr. Deb Whitt and Barb Engebretsen directed two classes of Wayne State students involved in a service learning project to plan a 6.2-mile (10K) walk-a-thon on Oct. 5 at Wayne State College to help raise funds for finding a cure for cystic fibrosis. The group of more than 40 students presented a check for $1872.35 to Denny Borgen of Columbus, father of Jeff Borgen, who was diagnosed with cystic fibrosis as an infant. Whitt has been involved with the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation for 20 years. She has organized various events in Wayne and surrounding communities to raise funds for finding a cure.

This is the highest undergraduate honor given at the college. To qualify for this distinction, a senior must have earned a total of 90 graded credits at Doane and rank in the upper eight percent of the class. This honor was first given in 1924.

Sharpnack also received the Honors in Course Award at the fall honors convocation on Oct. 6. This honor, based on two terms of college work, was first given in 1924.

To qualify for Honors in Course, the student must have been named to the Dean's List for both terms of the previous year and must have an accumulation of 30 graded credits for the year.

Drug Free Week celebrated

Red Ribbon Week 2001 is Oct. 23-31. This is a week when Nebraskans come together to promote National Red Ribbon Week, a campaign against alcohol and other drug abuse.

The campaign originated from the tragic death of Federal Agent Enrique Camarena in 1985. When Enrique was murdered by drug traffickers, he left behind many loved ones who wanted to show their respect for his courageous work. Spontaneously, his friends and family began displaying red satin ribbons, one by one, until the idea spread throughout the entire community.

In Wayne, there are over 150 youth who have made a commitment to a drug-free lifestyle by signing a pledge and joining the Wayne FRIENDS. The name, FRIENDS, stands for "Facts Raising Interest Ending Needless Drugs."

FRIENDS is a drug-free, youth group that was formed in 1980 for the purpose of supporting drug-free recreational opportunities for junior and senior high students and promoting awareness in the community.

The Wayne FRIENDS is part of a statewide network of drug-free youth groups. At a time when studies show that one half of the middle school age youth are experimenting with alcohol and cigarettes, it is crucial to establish a strong support for those who aren't and to reach those who are heading down that road with the message that "Drug-Free is the way to be!"

The Wayne FRIENDS sponsored a Fall Fun Fest on Oct. 6 at Wayne High School which was attended by 170 youth from six drug-free youth groups around the region. The day included a one-act play about alcohol abuse and a speaker, Todd Campbell, who talked with the youth about the consequences of drug and alcohol abuse. Fun included inflatable games, basketball, volleyball, pizza, pop and snacks and a dance.

A fundraiser for disaster relief was also sponsored that day by the Wayne FRIENDS during which $264.25 was collected. In cooperation with the Middle School Student Council, which also collected funds, $300 has been donated to the New York Firefighters Disaster Relief Fund and $60 has been donated to the Wayne County Red Cross.

Many activities are planned to promote Red Ribbon week, including handing out ribbons and stickers to the students, posters and red ribbon decorations at school, a "wear red day" with prizes and home room announcements promoting the drug-free message. Wayne FRIENDS members are also involved in publicity efforts to get the drug-free message out to the community.

Wayne FRIENDS, which is a United Way agency, appreciates the support of the Wayne community.

High School sponsor is Terri Hyspe and officers are: Shawn Ford, president; April Theide, vice president; Laura Sutton, secretary; Shawna Hefti, historian and Ashley Loberg, Student Council representative.

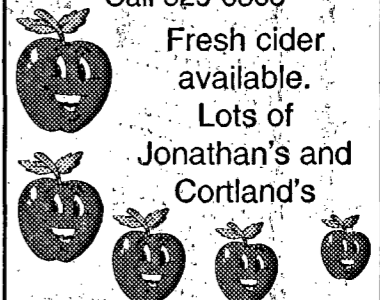

The Middle School sponsor is Joan Sudmann and officers are: Jessica Dickey, president; Jessica Volk, vice president; Jean Pieper, secretary; Amanda Brenner, treasurer and Brittni Sprouls, historian.

Recently the Wayne FRIENDS "Building a Drug-Free Community" Highway sign west of Pac 'N' Save was vandalized with beer signs. Any information about who committed this crime may be shared with the adult sponsors or the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

The Wayne FRIENDS recognizes that there will always be those people who will try to destroy the efforts of others to make the world a better place.

"To those who may have thought it was funny to obscure the drug-free message with beer signs, we say, 'Think about the damage done to so many lives by drugs and alcohol, and in particular by teen drinking and drug use. Think about the suffering and think about the drug trade that finances the terrorist network. Ask yourself, Whose side are you on,'" said Joan Sudmann, Middle School sponsor.

The Library Card

This column is written occasionally to inform the Wayne area as to what types of reading material and other items are available at the Wayne Public Library.

"Books that you may carry to the fire and hold readily in your hand, are the most useful after all." — Samuel Johnson

The fun has just begun! Children are invited to join in two new fall activities at the Wayne Public Library. Every Monday after school a movie will be shown in the children's room at the library from 4 to 5 p.m. (Longer movies will be shown in two parts.) This is a great time for kids in grades 2 to 6 to unwind and munch a little popcorn. Monday movies will run through Nov. 19.

A Thursday afternoon Story Time is also now in full swing. This program is designed for pre-school aged children and is every Thursday afternoon from 2 to 3 p.m. Our theme for this story time is food and because food will be provided, we ask our help in having enough treats to go around. Please register ahead of time by visiting the circulation desk by calling WLP at 375-3135.

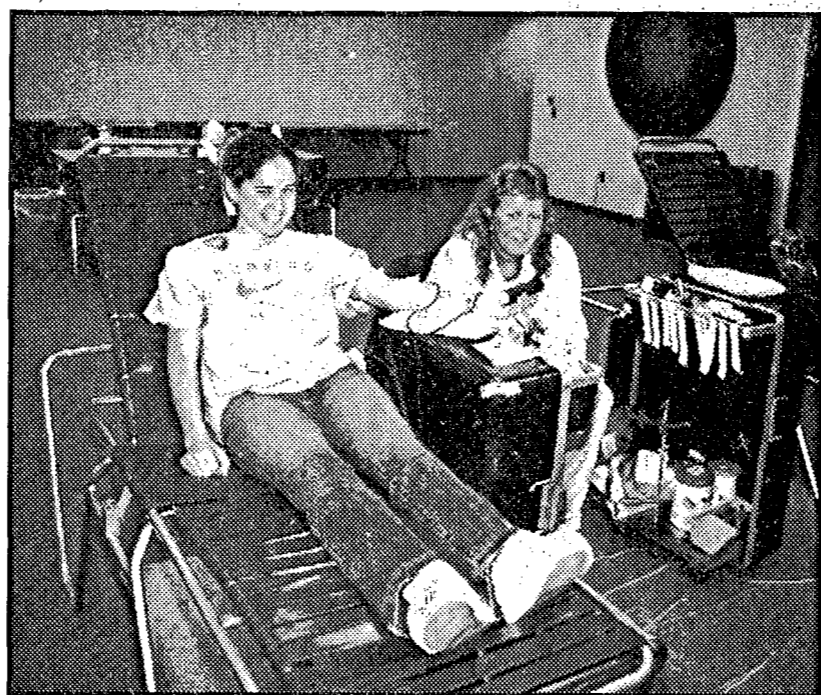

Did you know that October is National Pizza Month. We decided to celebrate by giving away five pizza prizes. All you need to do is check out library materials during the month and you can sign up for a chance at this tasty treat. We want to thank Godfather's Pizza and Pizza Hut for their generous donations of the pizza.

This is really a big month at the Library. In addition to all the fun things just mentioned, we also have started new hours. Beginning Oct. 1, the Library is open 10 a.m. to 8:30 p.m., Monday through Thursday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Friday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday and 2 to 5 p.m. on Sunday.

Check out our new "Literacy Cube" located in the children's room. This four-sided fun and educational center has just been added through a gift from the Wayne Library Foundation. The 'cube' offers children a place to play with markers, magnetic letters and felt characters. We know it will be a big hit with our younger patrons. If you are interested in the work of the Wayne Library Foundation, feel free to call or stop in and chat with Lauran Lofgren.

New titles keep arriving throughout the Library. For our audio book fans, we have started adding a "New" sticker to the covers of the newest titles in the Books on Cassette and Books on CD sections.

As September ended, so did our fiscal year. It has been a good year, with lots of things happening here. The entire staff wants to thank our patrons for making WPL such a fun place to work.

Starting a good habit

Checking out the office

The weekly Chamber Coffee was held recently at the newly renovated Chamber Office building on West Third Street. The building was damaged earlier this year in a fire. This led to a number of changes in the building including making it handicap accessible. A number of community members were involved in the actual renovation of the office.

Housing partnership to meet

The Dixon County Housing Partnership will meet again from 6:30- 9 p.m. on Oct. 30 at the Fire Station in Allen to discuss the financial feasibility of housing initiatives and learn what resources are available for funding.

At the meeting, representatives from USDA Rural Development, Nebraska Housing Finance Authority, U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, Nebraska Department of Economic Development and the Federal Home Loan Bank are scheduled to present information on their various funding programs. Interested citizens are invited to attend.

A group of dedicated citizens is continuing its quest to equip Dixon County with the most effective tools for addressing local housing issues. The Dixon County Housing Partnership is composed of city and village officials, local banks, realtors, local and federal housing organizations as well as interested citizens who have come together to address the affordable housing needs of the county.

Security National Bank is sponsoring the program offered by the Federal Home Loan Bank of Topeka (FHL Bank). At the last meeting of the partnership, participants developed goals regarding key issues and discussed strategies to address the issues.

Melissa Miller-Atwood, Rural Technical Assistance Program manager for the FHL Bank, which helped create the partnership, is helping the group set specific and measurable goals and develop strategies to achieve its objectives.

Partnership members believe that housing priorities in Dixon County include developing a countywide housing task force that will work cooperatively in promoting neighborhood preservation to regulate the repair or removal of blighting conditions on private property or the immediate vicinity.

They also feel that credit counseling and homebuyer education should be expanded to address identified needs in the county and a homeownership program should be instituted and promoted countywide to provide downpayment, closing cost assistance and low-interest loans. Housing projects were discussed including owner-occupied rehabilitation, an exterior paint program and construction of entry-level homes.

Fishermen place in tournament

Steve Hampl of Winslow and Russell Schultz of Wisner, and Glen Nichols of Wayne and Bob Eckhoff (formerly of Wayne) recently placed in the 4th annual O'Connor's Convenience Center Walleye Open at Weigand Marina State Park, located North of Crofton.

Hampl and Schultz received second place with eight fish weighing in at 19.1 pounds, with a big fish of 3.65 pounds, worth $650.

Nichols and Eckhoff received fourth place with four fish weighing in at 15 pounds and a big fish of 6.25 pounds. They won $300. The Nichols/Eckhoff team also got the big fish prize and won an additional $610 with a total days "work" of $910.

Glen Nichols also caught a Master Angler Sauger that weighed 3 pounds. He will also receive a Master Angler Award from the Nebraska State Game and Parks Division.

The Open was held on Oct. 6 with 66 anglers forming 33 teams from six states. Teams were from Nebraska, South Dakota, Iowa, Ohio, Kentucky, and Arizona.

After inspections and a rules meeting, the anglers left the Weigand Marina at 8 a.m. and when they returned at 4 p.m., the results were staggering. There were 98 walleyes caught with a total weight of 207.75 pounds.

All fish were released back to the lake to promote "Catch and Release."

All participants also received door prizes that were donated from businesses in Crofton and from tackle companies from all over the United States.

Next year's event will be at Weigand Marina State Park on Oct. 5, 2002. O'Connor's Convenience Center is located in Crofton.

Fever-Fighter May Help After Stroke

According to a recent Journal of the American Heart Association report, 20% to 50% of persons who experience stroke also have a slight rise in body temperature. Although not high enough to result in fever, this rise in body temperature is associated with increased risk of poor outcomes, including death. Researchers in The Netherlands tested the theory that giving the fever-fighter medicine acetaminophen (the active ingredient in Tylenol and many other nonprescription fever medicines) could improve stroke outcomes.

Stroke victims were given acetaminophen immediately after the type of stroke in which the blood supply is cut off from the brain. A temperature drop of 0.4 degrees C was noted. Although this decrease in temperature in stroke victims is modest, it has been estimated that risk of death doubles for every 1 degree C increase in body temperature. The researchers described the treatment as "very promising."

Comparing urban, ag household expenses

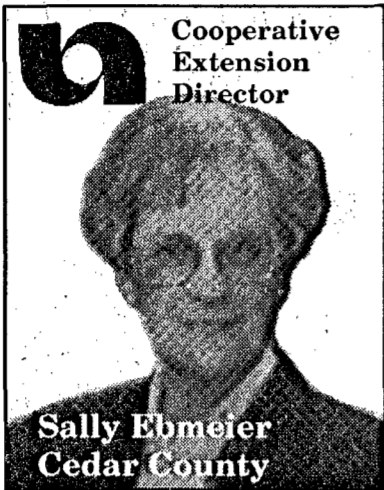

The fact that agricultural producers have hundreds of thousands of dollars in land, machinery and other assets does not necessarily mean they are well-to-do. Expenses are tremendous, and when subtracted from the check-book, may leave a modest income at best for the family living expenses.

Ninety-eight percent of the population in this country earns a living off the farm, most of them by working for someone else. That means bringing in a regular paycheck, the first major difference between farm and urban costs of living. Agricultural producers have irregular and untimely incomes. This makes planning for expenses difficult, as people who own their own business realize. On top of that irregularity are the unpredictability of weather, weeds and insects, which also can greatly reduce farm income. Still, costs of living and farm business expenses remain the same or increase.

Some differences between urban and rural family living expenses follow.

•Business expenses: Farm families work with large business expenses. For example, fertilizer and seed expenses often run tens of thousands of dollars. At the same time, the family probably lives on a fraction of that amount. Planning for the smaller figure

Sally Ebmeyer
Cooperative Extension Director
Cedar County

may not seem important as planning for business expenses.

•Health insurance: Like other independent business people, agricultural producers must buy their own health insurance policies. This can run several hundred dollars per month. Many people working for someone may have a share of the costs of their insurance and other benefits provided.

•Utilities: On a farm or ranch, the utility bills are much higher because they usually include electricity, natural gas or propane to run the farm, grain drying and animal housing. Because of these business expenses, a portion of the household utility costs may be paid by the farm business. Non-farm households do not have the business paying some of their utility costs.

•Transportation: Transportation costs vary greatly depending on how far each person has to travel. Both farm and non-farm households might have to drive 12-20 miles or more to work, school or for shopping and services. Agricultural producers, like other self-employed individuals, may legitimately write off some transportation expenses on income taxes.

•Food Depending on the opportunities the agricultural family has, a portion of their meat and produce may come from their own operation, but some non-farm families spend from eight to 38 percent of their income on food depending on their income level, number of family members and other variables.

•Taxes: Just like non-farm families, farmers pay thousands dollars in income and other taxes each year. In a profitable year, an agricultural might pay as much in income taxes as a city dweller earns in a year. In a year when prices paid for farm-produced items are low, farmers pay less income tax but still owe other taxes such as property taxes.

Agricultural families can better plan their yearly spending by looking at past records of family living expenses. If past records are not as good and accurate as one would want, the family may not know how much actually was spent for family living. Start now to keep better records. Some expenses will be very fuzzy. For example, a check written at the local discount or farm supply store may include both family living and farm business expenses. When writing the check, note in the check record or on the memo line how much of the total was for each category.

Farm families, like non-farm families, may choose to deposit a percentage of their income for living expenses each time they have income. Or agricultural households may decide to transfer money from the farm business account to the family living account at regular intervals.

Agricultural families, like a lot of self-employed people, face competition for cash. When receiving income, decide what portion will go for business expenses and what portion for family living.

Living expenses may seem insignificant to agricultural families because these figures are much smaller, and family members may be more focused on the operation than family living expenses. However, expenses should be planned just like business expenses. Remember, also, that planned expense figures periodically throughout the year will allow for adjustments to be made.

For more information about making money work, see the Dollars & Sense newsletter at ruralroutes.unl.edu or ask for it at a local Cooperative Extension Office.

Fall grazing of crop residue calls for added attention

Fall grazing on crop residues such as cornstalks and sorghum or soybean stubble takes some planning, but the benefits are well worth the effort, a University of Nebraska forage specialist said.

Grazing harvested cornstalks or crop stubble can provide great nutrient value. Pastures also benefit from a late fall rest, which allows them to grow more vigorously next spring and be ready for grazing, said Bruce Anderson, NU Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources forage specialist.

Using these resources requires planning. Cornstalks should be grazed as soon as possible after harvest because their nutrient value declines the longer they weather. Producers also need to make sure there isn't excess grain still in the field, which can cause acidosis and founder. Feeding cattle some extra grain before grazing cornstalks will solve this problem, Anderson said.

Producers also need to decide how to graze. Strip grazing, or fencing off portions of the field for grazing, permits higher stocking rates and provides a more uniform diet. However, Anderson warned that good quality feed can be lost due to mud or snow cover if animals have not grazed all the acres before bad weather. Allowing livestock to graze the whole field is more common, he said. It allows livestock to eat the best feed, the grain and stalk, before snow or muddy conditions. Supplements such as salt, calcium, phosphorus and vitamin A should be provided at all times during fall grazing. Once cattle consume the grain left in the field, extra natural protein supplements also are needed.

Black nightshade, a potentially deadly weed, is another concern when grazing cornstalks, bean stubble or even feeding weedy seedling alfalfa hay this fall.

Black nightshade can be toxic, but Anderson said it usually isn't a problem. Guidelines say if a 1,000-pound animal eats one to three pounds of fresh black nightshade it is at risk of being poisoned. However, it's difficult to determine if animals will eat that much, Anderson said.

"Common sense and good observation must be your guide," Anderson said. Producers should keep close track of bales from areas heavily infested with nightshade. "Either don't feed these bales or use them with other feeds to dilute the problem."

Freezing also changes plant metabolism, which can cause poisoning, Anderson said. Sorghum-related plants, such as cane, Sudan grass and shattercane can be highly toxic for a few days after frost. Freezing breaks plant cell membranes, which allows prussic acid to form and be released rapidly. Livestock that eat frozen sorghum can get a sudden, high dose of prussic acid.

Anderson recommended waiting three to five days after a freeze before grazing sorghums. Freezing also can stress plants and cause nitrates to accumulate in growing plants, especially grasses. This buildup in green chop or hay cut right after a freeze can be more dangerous.

Alfalfa also reacts to a hard freeze, so it's best to wait several days before grazing it, Anderson said. Nitrates can increase, though rarely to a hazardous level, but the risk of bloat can be especially high for a few days after frost.

For more information on fall grazing of crop residues, consult NU Cooperative Extension Circular 98-278-B, Grazing Crop Residues, available at local extension offices and on the web at <http://www.ianr.unl.edu/pubs/hec278.htm>.

Week is full of guests

I'm still slicing and chopping! The Big Farmer keeps bringing in cantaloupe, and I'm blessing all the neighbors. In turn, one brought over pears which had brown spots. So, I cut them up and put them in the dehydrator. I want to know where those gnats come from the minute there's fruit laying around!

We had nine straight days of guests. Five of those were of four people from Belgium, here to visit relatives. The family had come from Europe with no other relatives. They sent letters back, which were kept and handed down. Last year, a daughter of a cousin contacted the Louisville folks. Emails flew and a visit was planned. Originally, they were to arrive Sept. 14. Obviously, their flight was postponed. They did get here on the 27th. After a day of rest (they were en route for 24 hours) they went to Colorado and South Dakota to sight see. Then, they came back and got better acquainted with the relatives here. On the agenda was a hayrack ride, which none of the four had ever been on.

On the evening of their arrival,

Mike had a Crocodile Dundee movie on, and they recognized him immediately. Greta said her husband loves the "Rocky" movies; and they have a dog named "Rambo."

But they had never eaten banana bread, carrot cake, or French toast. They did bring us some delicious Belgian chocolate; and they made good use of the Internet to send messages in Dutch.

Before they left, an email arrived to say that people in Brussels were panicked, and buying up food and supplies.

They departed for home on Wednesday and a couple from Oklahoma City arrived that evening. They are volksmarchers, and were visiting communities in Nebraska by walking the volksmarch paths.

After doing Nebraska City on Thursday, they left for Lincoln on Friday. That afternoon, a young couple from Boulder met her parents from Illinois here. We are a day's drive from Cheyenne, Denver, and Chicago, and not far from the Interstate.

But, needless to say, I slept in on Monday morning! It was back to the Cheerios! It was enough of a good thing. I did enjoy taking the deposit to the bank, though. We'll be ready for more by the weekend.

Forecast calls for cooler fall and warmer winter

Nebraska is likely to have a cooler fall and a warmer than normal winter this year, said a University of Nebraska climatologist.

This temperature pattern also could be coupled with above normal precipitation through February, said NU climatologist Steven Hu.

The Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources specialist said his forecast has about a 70 percent chance of holding true.

"In the past two years, this forecast has worked out reasonably well. I have confidence in this forecast," he added.

The forecast is good news for Nebraska farmers. Abnormally dry weather in some areas this summer left the soil profile still depleted from the drought of 2000, Hu said.

"The prediction calls that both fall and winter will have average and above average precipitation for most parts of state," Hu said. Warmer weather this winter also means snow will melt sooner and work its way down into the soil profile.

Hu predicted fall temperatures of 5 to 8 degrees below normal in north central and western Nebraska. Near average temperatures are forecast in eastern and central Nebraska. However, this winter temperatures are predicted to be 3 to 5 degrees above average, except in the Panhandle, central and south central Nebraska, where temperatures should be normal for the season, Hu said.

Hu expects precipitation this fall to be 10 to 15 percent above average in most of Nebraska, except for a portion of east central Nebraska. Precipitation up to 20 percent higher than the seasonal average is expected in north central and northeast Nebraska, and average precipitation is predicted for the east central region.

Hu said winter precipitation also is predicted to be 10 to 15 percent above normal for most regions in Nebraska with near seasonal precipitation in central and southern Nebraska.

ANSWER TWO FIRE CALLS

The Wakefield Fire Department responded to two rural fire calls recently, neither was serious. One call was to a combine fire north-west of Wakefield. Operators of the equipment had used up their fire extinguishers, and according to Fire Chief Dean Ulrich, damage was limited.

The second call was also to a rural fire which, according to Ulrich, was outside the Wakefield District and the people burning had a permit. It is presumed that a passerby saw the fire and reported it and Wakefield was dispatched.

2001 QUILT FINISHED

The 2001 Wakefield Health

Care Auxiliary Quilt is completed and on display at the Iowa-Nebraska State Bank. This year's embroidered design is entitled "Pinwheel." It is queen size and will be awarded to some lucky person during the Auxiliary's annual fall fundraiser, Oct. 28.

Members of the Auxiliary who worked on the quilt are Emma Brown, Ardath Utecht, Lola Erlanson, Ruth Felt, and Dorothy Driskell.

ITEMS FOR FOOD PANTRY

The Wakefield Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts collected over 750 items of food during their "Scouting for Food" campaign recently.

The boys distributed bags asking for donations and then collected the bags. Donated items included over 300 cans of vegetables, 60 cans of fruit, 100 cans of various soups, 70 cans of meat, 165 containers of dried goods, such as pasta and 30 miscellaneous items.

The Scouts appreciated the community's donations and assistance with their community service project. The food was taken to the Wakefield Food Pantry to be given to people in need.

If anyone placed a donation outside their home and was missed, or still would like to contribute, please take your contributions to the Wakefield Family Resource Center where the Food Pantry is located.

HALLOWEEN PARADE

Ghosts and Goblins and lots of other characters will haunt the Wakefield Health Care Center and the Main Street Business District on Halloween.

A costume parade will be staged by elementary students in Kindergarten through Third grade. Businesses wanting to provide treats should note the change in time to 2:45 p.m.

The students will be dismissed at around 2:15 p.m., board school buses, go to the Care Center and then downtown.

Elementary students in the upper grades will spend time in the classrooms recognizing the day in different activities decided upon by the students and teachers. There will be no classroom parties for Halloween.

SELLING POPCORN

The Boy Scouts' annual popcorn sales are currently underway. Over 70 percent of the monies collected in the sale of the popcorn products goes to the local scout troop and the scout council to help maintain scouting programs and camps such as Camp Cedars near Fremont and Camp Butterfield located in the Bloomfield area.

Members of the Wakefield Boy Scout Troop will use the funds they earn to go to summer camp next year and for camp equipment for the troop.

The popcorn items include gift packs as well as regular popping corn and microwave popcorn. Specialty items include Caramel Corn with peanuts, Chocolate Caramel Crunch and Caramel Corn with almonds and pecans. Most of the items are in decorative tins and make great gifts.

If you would like to support the Scouts and are missed in their door-to-door sales, you may contact Scoutmaster Cheryl Roberts. Popcorn sales end Nov. 1.

WHO'S WHO

James Felt, son of Merlin and Delores Felt of Wakefield, has been chosen to be published in "Who's Who Among American High School Students," a national publication.

Who's Who recognizes students for their achievement in academics, athletic and extra curricular activities. Only five percent of all high school students receive this award each year.

James is a senior enrolled in Wakefield High School. He has been involved in VICA, a teacher's aide, football, golf and was chosen homecoming king royalty. He was awarded a national math award this spring.

James is a member of the Coon Creek Clover 4-H Club and currently serves on the 4-H Council.

He is a member of the National and Nebraska Simmental Associations. Currently, James is serving as trustee for the Nebraska Junior Simmental Association.

James is also a member of the Evangelical Covenant Church.

TOP READERS

Jordan Schut, son of Pastor Bruce and Jan Schut, was the top reader in the Graves Public Library summer reading contest.

Jordan said he spent a lot of time this summer reading to his little brother, Micah.

Karen Kluthe was the coordinator for the summer reading program which included a week of special activities and a weekly story hour with special guests.

INVITING FRIENDS

The Evangelical Covenant Church located at 802 Winter Street in Wakefield will host their first Friend-To-Friend event during their 10:45 a.m. worship celebration on Sunday, Oct. 21.

The thought behind the Friend-To-Friend event is simple and if the entire church family is committed to the task, the congregation's pastor, Ross Erickson, believes that the Covenant Church could potentially double in size of their present number in Sunday morning worship in just one Sunday.

Pastor Erickson says, "This is not intended to be a 'musical pews' Sunday in which members of the Covenant Church would invite already church friends to 'come be our guests.' Rather we see the Friend-To-Friend event as a time to reach out to unchurched families, friends, classmates, neighbors and fellow workers—inviting them to be our friends in church."

Pastor Erickson has said, "We know that if everyone will do their part in inviting friends to join us on Friend-To-Friend Sunday, Oct. 21, that several positive things will happen: 1. People will come first, because a friend asked them and then because most people want to draw nearer to God; 2. Worship will be highly spirited and exciting because people will sense they are sharing something profoundly eternal with friends; 3. Some of these friends will return—again as the result of God's Spirit moving in their hearts and an undeniable spiritual tugging and prodding and 4. Many families will connect with the church and their lives will be forever changed. Pastor Erickson has suggested that members consider providing transportation to and from church for invited friends. He has reminded the congregation that they are sharing one of the most precious of life's gifts, God's great love and their church home.

CHURCHES SPONSOR WALK

The churches of the Wakefield Ministerial Association are sponsoring a "Crop Walk" to help fight hunger in our community, nation, and the world. This year's theme is "Walk with the World" and will take place Sunday, Oct. 21.

The walk will start at the Presbyterian Church and will wind through town past each church and finish in the park. Anyone interested in being a walker to help raise funds is asked to see one of the local pastors.

For more than 30 years, cropwalkers have been walking with the world so that families can have food and shelter as they rebuild their homes and lives.

Cropwalkers have been walking to help communities have wells that provide clear drinking water. Cropwalkers have been walking to help provide food for local emergency food programs throughout the United States.

Twenty-five percent of the proceeds from this year's walk will be given to the Wakefield Food Pantry.

For more information, please call Pastor Rick Danforth at Salem Lutheran Church, 287-2820.

PROCEEDINGS WAYNE BOARD OF EDUCATION REGULAR MEETING

October 8, 2001
The regular meeting of the Wayne Community Schools Board of Education was held at the Wayne High School in Wayne, NE on Monday, October 8, 2001 at 7:10 p.m. Notice of the meeting and place of agenda was published in the Wayne Herald.

The following board members answered roll call: Jean Blomenkamp, Bill Dickey, John Dunning, Sue Gilmore, Dennis Lipp, and Kaye Morris.

Adoption of the Agenda: Amendments to the agenda includes Executive Session will be held to discuss personnel and Item IV.A.I Hiring of Custodian was removed. Motion to approve the agenda with the amended changes as noted. Motion carried.

Approval of Minutes from Previous Meeting: Motion to approve the minutes from the two special meetings and regular meeting minutes held on September 10, 2001. Motion carried.

Financial Claims and Reports: Motion to approve the financial reports and claims as presented. Motion carried.

Bids and Contracts: Motion to approve the low refuse bid submitted by Waste Connections of Nebraska, Inc. for one year. Motion carried.

Bussing Contract (Addendum): This is an addendum to the existing contract between the Wayne Public School District and Nebraska School Bus, Inc. The addendum follows the terms of the original contract that was entered into on August 10, 1998. It also serves as a nine-month notification to the bus company that the school district would like to negotiate a new three-year contract. Negotiations for a new bussing contract will begin in March 2002. This addendum will be valid until August 31, 2002. Motion to approve the addendum to the existing bussing contract with Nebraska School Bus, Inc. Motion carried.

Pre-Scheduled Communications from the Public: DiAnn and Bob Kenny, parents who have students attending Carroll and live/farm two miles west of Carroll, spoke on behalf of closing the Carroll Elementary School. She has had children in the school district for 20 years and twin daughters who will be attending Kindergarten next fall (2002-2003). She has had two sons graduate from the Wayne Schools. They were upset with the decision made and felt as if they were left out. She had heard in the past few weeks that the school would be closed; property was sold and torn down. She also questioned if the children were thought about in the decision or if it was all about the financial aspects. As parents, they are concerned about their daughters getting on the bus at 7:00 a.m., spend all day in school and not arrive home until 4:20 p.m. and safety of younger students riding with older students. Enrollment has declined in Carroll and some parents have opted to have their children attend in Wayne because they work in Wayne. Patrons of Carroll have felt punished and robbed. They questioned why the decision was made so early, and hoped a family would move in with children and boost the enrollment numbers. Carroll is only in their third year of having less than 30 students enrolled.

When the bond issue did not pass the first time, Carroll was then added to the bond proposal and would allow modulars to be moved to Carroll to use for classrooms. Now, that is not going to happen and felt useless. Is it all about politics? She stated, this summer the grounds were mowed 2 or 3 times and looked pathetic. The residents of Carroll have pride in their town and school and have something to offer young families but it will be more difficult to attract families with children. The last open house was held at Carroll and only one board member showed up—she questioned where the rest of the board members were. She also stated that all of her children have received great educations. Closing of Carroll Elementary could have an affect on businesses and real estate values. With it being a prominent building, a landmark, can't it be used and not torn down. How can the school board close Carroll and yet contribute to the Community Activity Center and add softball as a varsity sport if there are financial concerns?

Board President Sue Gilmore addressed some of the concerns illustrated by Mrs. Kenny. Herself and Lori Owens started attending board meetings seven/eight years ago to address the possibility of closing Carroll. At that time, their enrollment was above 50 students. They worked with the board at the time and the board came to a decision that if enrollment declined to 30 or less students for 3 consecutive years then Carroll would be closed. When the time came to make the decision to close Carroll, the board had to look the financial aspects of the district as a whole. She made a special trip to the Department of Education to look through old records to see if there was anything in writing about Carroll always remaining open before the motion of 30 students was passed. When the closing of Carroll was first brought up several years ago, West Elementary in Wayne did not have room to absorb 50 students. The school district is under a very tight budget with the state mandating $1.00 tax levy. If the State Legislature decides to cut state aid, the school district could possibly lose between $85,000-$170,000 plus entitlements. One person has expressed interest in the building.

Superintendent Dr. Reinert stated mowing at Carroll requires special equipment, such as a driving tractor over every time it needed to be done and was probably mowed more than 2 or 3 times as Mrs. Kenny stated. Closing Carroll Elementary would save the district an estimated $200,000. No financial contributions have been made to the Community Activity Center project except for the land. As for the day kindergarten, parents are given the option to only have their child(ren) attend a half-day. Board member Bill Dickey suggested that parents of future kindergarten students visit with the teachers. As for adding softball as a varsity sport, it was implemented in order for the school district to be in compliance with Title IX. Board member Jean Blomenkamp stated the board as always focused on the children, whether it is curriculum, facilities, etc. The district has to make the best use of property taxes and use it wisely.

Track Company Presentations—
Midwest Track and Tennis (Darrell Moeller): Mr. Moeller gave a brief overview of what their company would do with our existing facility. Lack of maintenance on tracks is part of what causes them to be in such terrible conditions, as our asphalt is and there is nothing to take care of the moisture problems. One option he suggested was taking the asphalt out and redo the base dirt but would need to address the drainage. Another option would be to redo the base dirt, put rock down to help absorb moisture and lay two new layers of asphalt. A survey would need to be done at an estimated cost of $3,500 and plans would need to draw up in order to let contractors bid it properly. Latex surfaces are less expensive than polyurethane surfaces (last 20 years). The scope of plans would show the existing facility and allow administrators and coaches to make comments on what they would like to see happen, indicates elevations, and drainage. Nebraska rubber grants are also available and this company gets the rubber material from Nebraska City. However, those grant funds aren't available until after the project would be paid in full. Mr. Moeller estimated a cost of $225,000-$250,000. The project would not get started until May or when the temperature is above 50 degrees.

Fisher Tracks (Sam Fisher): Mr. Fisher was presented before the board in 1994, 1996, and again in 2001 and the school's situation hasn't changed—the track needs to be fixed. The price of asphalt has risen considerably over the years. The base and drainage system have to be addressed from the beginning. He gave three possible options on how to fix the track: 1) use petrotac (a fiberglass material) to fill the cracks and cover with two 2-inch overlays of asphalt @ $48,200; 2) use petromat (a fiberglass material) sheets to cover entire track and cover with two 2-inch overlays of asphalt @ $54,890; 3) tear up 8 inches of base dirt, half of dirt and asphalt, bring in new base dirt and cover with a 4-inch overlay of asphalt @ $100,000 (cost to half off waste would increase project cost to $112,200). Drainage issue would need to be addressed and would cost between $17,000-$25,000. Latex running surface would cost between $42,000-$45,000, where as polyurethane running surface would cost between $70,000-$80,000. Maintenance estimates would be about $3,000/year and the district would have to set the money aside each year. Fisher Tracks installs 200 tracks across the United States each year. Eighty percent of tracks they install are latex.

Communications from the Public on Agenda Items:
Tim Schmeits addressed the board about the track and football field facilities. If the school decides to redo the track, the football field should be included for the varsity games to be played there instead of at Wayne State College. A group of people is starting to get organized and trying to expand to get more people involved and maybe even to help do some fundraising for the track and football field.

Wayne State College Athletic Director Todd Barry pointed out some items of interest. If the project would be done early enough in the spring, there may be a discount offered by track companies. Mr. Barry had been contacted by a sales person about Ford and Firestone crumb rubber, who were offering 60% rebate on projects.

Informational Items or Reports:
Faculty—

Second Grade Reading Presentation: Second grade teachers Mike Jaxen, Cheryl Suehl, Nadine Fredrickson, and student teacher Christine Brugger-Ison shared with board members their community service project in connection with Make a Difference Day on October 27, 2001. Their project is to have second graders read books and put them on audiotapes. Books, tapes, cassette players, and headphones will be provided for businesses to place in their waiting rooms (i.e. doctor, dentist, hospital, eye doctor). Parents have ordered and donated 83 books to be used in conjunction with the project, donated audiotapes, purchased cassette players/headphones, and donated money. Nine businesses in Wayne are interested in the project and have offered their support. Parents were also asked to volunteer their time to come in and help students record their books on tape and 14 have responded. On October 26, 2001, at 10:00, the second grade class will be making books on tapes presentation to Providence Medical Center and at 10:30 to Goldenrod Hills Community Services. Everyone is welcomed to attend.

Elementary Informational Meetings: Within the first few weeks of school, West Elementary put together and held parent informational nights for each grade. Elementary principal Mr. Lutt asked that the staff address curriculum, student management program, daily schedule and they could go into greater detail if they wished to do so. Times for meetings were set up between 5:15-6:30 p.m. to allow parents to eat supper and spend more time with their student in the evening. It was also beneficial to allow teachers to answer questions instead of waiting until the open house when it is hard to visit with everyone. The turn out rate for these meetings was 70-75%. It was well received by all parents and will be held in the years to come.

Administration—
SPED Update: During the month of September, there were 16 IEPs, 2 IFSPs, 3 MDTs and variety of SAT meetings. Mr. Lofquist attended the Nebraska Association of Special Education Supervisors (NASES) annual meeting. Dr. Buehler from UNO addressed genetic disorders and their relationship to special education. Mrs. Dorsey and Mr. Clausen attended a two-day workshop given by Dr. John Maag, UNL Professor who spoke on adverse behaviors and managing resistance in the classroom. Staff evaluations were completed in September. Early childhood, school age and transportation budgets have been completed for 2001-2002. There will be kindergarten students next fall who have already been identified and have lived in the district for sometime. Mr. Lofquist and Dr. Reinert worked together to establish an administrative regulation regarding graduation options for students with disabilities.

Assistant Principal Duties: Mr. John McClarnen and Mr. Rocky Ruhl each gave a listing of what they have been doing the first months of school as assistant principal. Dr. Reinert pointed out that Mr. Ruhl has been dealing with the athletic director activities and hopes that he can get more experience with his principalship. Mr. McClarnen has worked with Mr. Lutt and Mr. Mettler on various projects and has worked with special education students.

Superintendent:
Building Renovation/Construction Update: Contractors are making progress and each day something new has been completed. Completion date is still slated for December 1*. The gym has been closed for an estimated 2-3 weeks to allow the finish to be put on the floor and to keep the cement dust off the floor. Mr. Ruhl has been busy taking down basketball boards to be installed at the middle school and new basketball hoops are being installed at the high school. A cleaning crew should be starting in the next week or so to start cleaning the third floor. As they finish cleaning, we should be able to go through the punch list. It would then be possible to start moving bigger items that the teachers would not be using. The moving date is December 5*. We would start moving on that evening, not have middle students in session on December 6-7 to allow teachers time to settle in their rooms and be ready for students on December 10*. They will begin grading along the north side of the building.

Community Activity Center Update: The City of Wayne asked if they could hook up to an existing water line until testing is done on the new water line they have recently installed, which may take 10 days. The sprinklers have been installed and seeding completed. Grass is visible if one can look at the right angle. An electrical box has been placed on the scoreboard down by the track to provide power for the sprinklers. Contractors have begun to pour footings and would like to have the walls up before the weather gets bad.

Physical Education Update: We have not been notified as to the status of the grant that was applied for.

Nebraska Legislature Special Session: A special session of the Nebraska Legislature has been set for October 25 and must be in session for a minimum of five days. Dr. Reinert put together some financial information on how budget cuts would affect the school district. Reduction in state aid by 4% would be $24,251 and reduction in state aid by 8% would be $168,503. Senators would also be able to cut budget entitlements (money we haven't spent) before it is dispersed by the state. The Wayne Chamber of Commerce, Wayne State College and three area senators will meet on October 16th for school districts to give their senators information on how the budget cuts would affect various districts. At the Northeast Nebraska School Superintendents Association meeting, Roger Breed, Superintendent of Elkhorn Public Schools, pointed out that why doesn't the state look at their non-core functions and make cuts there; education is a core function in the state. School districts would be able to take out loans from the Nebraska Association of School Boards to make up the shortfall but would have to repay them the following year. The Attorney General reviewed the Legislature's possible budget cuts to state aid and indicated that there are no statutes, which would prevent or otherwise limit the Legislature's ability to reduce state aid.

Update on Track and Field Facilities: Four track companies have presented to the board. The Wayne Community Schools Foundation has met and discussed helping with fundraising once it is decided what the district would do. Until we are notified about the federal grant, the board cannot make a definite dollar commitment either way. Track coach Dale Hochstein stated that he does not allow his athletes to practice on the track, as parents have threatened lawsuits from injuries and shin splints. Last spring, there were 143 students in grades 7-12 who participated in track. If the school district were to redo own facility, it would likely be an 8-lane track suitable for high school practice, elementary and middle school physical education classes and middle school track practices. The schools could also join Wayne State College in a joint venture to use each other's facilities, whether for practice or additional meets when the college has been booked up. Board members and administration need a sense of direction as to where the district goes from here and what we are actually looking at, whether we rebuild our own or joint venture with Wayne State College. Motion by Dunning, second by Dickey to move in the direction of 8-lane track, fairly quickly, (look outside the general fund for resources) to provide a quality track and running surface for the safety of athletes; whether it be a cooperative effort with Wayne State College in order to find the best fit for the community and Community Activity Center and best approach for a competitive facility. A cooperative effort doesn't mean a joint facility. Motion carried. Roll call vote: Blomenkamp, yes; Dickey, yes; Gilmore, yes; Dunning, yes; Lipp, yes; Morris, yes.
