Goldenrod Hills meets needs

The relocation of the Head Start Center in Wayne County has furnished a convenient place for children to attend the comprehensive pre-school program offered through Goldenrod Hills Community Services. The new center is located on East Seventh Street in Wayne.

A staff of four at the Head Start classroom provide 17 three to five-year-old children and their families with educational, social, medical and nutritional services. For those with concerns about rental assistance, food needs or housing concerns, Head Start staff refer families to other Goldenrod Hills programs such as Family Services.

Also located in Wayne, Deb Allemann serves as Family Services Coordinator with a satellite office at the Mineshaft Mall. Each week she hears the stories of the working poor from Wayne, Cedar and Dixon counties to whom life has handed difficult situations. She suggests Goldenrod Hills' programs which can help, or makes referrals to area agencies and programs which can also be of benefit.

This is the kind of assistance Goldenrod Hills offers—that little, needed boost so that clients are eventually able to stand on their own. In each of the 14 counties in Northeast Nebraska which Goldenrod Hills serves, the Family Services program offers assistance such as emergency rental and utilities assistance, food pantries, budgeting, car safety seat rental, tax counseling for the elderly, and case management. With all programs combined, the agency helps more than 10,000 clients yearly in Northeast Nebraska.

Many other programs are available to Wayne County residents through Goldenrod Hills. The Weatherization

Program has increased the value of homes by adding weatherization practices to rental and owner-occupied homes, reducing heating and cooling costs. The number of homes to receive improvements to windows and doors, insulation and -this year- furnaces, has remained steady. In the last 12 months alone, five homes, housing 17 people, received weatherization in Wayne County.

New pastor to begin work with WSC students

Pastor Paul Lutter, new Lutheran Campus Pastor has started his role in building partnerships with Wayne State College to benefit students.

"WSC has been very welcoming. I look forward to getting to know more staff, faculty and students," Lutter said.

As a full-time pastor for nine months at Wayne through the ELCA (Evangelical Lutheran Church of America), Lutter begins his ministry with talks at the surrounding communities of Sioux City, Ponca, Pierce and Randolph.

"Most Sunday mornings I will be out telling the story of campus ministry. I hope to provide an adult forum to answer questions about how individuals can become involved in campus ministry," Lutter said. "Area congregations are very supportive. I hope to help them catch the vision of how they can make a difference on the college campus. As a pastor, I am able to reach out to individuals in ways that I wouldn't be able to otherwise."

A native of Cloquet, Minn., Lutter earned his bachelor's degree at the University of Wisconsin - Superior and his master of divinity degree in Luther Seminary at St. Paul, Minn. He is enrolled in the master of theology pro-

Spook-tacular

Volunteer careers begin early

Two Wayne High School students, Jacey Klaver and Tony Carollo, are among those volunteering their time to help with the Wayne County Red Cross.

Jacey Klaver became a volunteer with the American County Red Cross this past summer.

"I got a call from her one day saying she had taken the Hugh O'Brien Youth Leadership (HOBY) course and that she was encouraged to do 100 hours of community service projects and wondered if she could help at the Red Cross," said Lori Carollo, Chapter Manager. Always looking for volunteers, Carollo welcomed Jacey's offer of assistance.

Jacey first started doing some office work to assist Lori. She assisted with a large mailing put out this past summer and also inventoried all of the health and safety books. She then created a system on the computer to help keep better track of the health and safety materials.

"Jacey is a very self-motivated person and very responsible," Carollo said. "It was nice to be able to basically give her a job to do and then go on with my work without having to watch over what she was

Guard unit reports for duty

Members of the Wayne National Guard will be leaving this weekend to provide security at various places.

According to Lt.C Dale Vrana, Public Affairs Officers for the state of Nebraska, "units in Nebraska are serving on a rotating basis, for a four-week time frame."

The Guard members will be going to a number of locations, providing security for National Guard facilities and airports throughout the state.

The rotation is part of the Guard's on-going security policy.

"With the rotations, we hope to minimize the disruption and time spent away from families and jobs," Lt.C Vrana said.

Berneal Gustafson

Berneal Gustafson, 80, of Wakefield died Saturday, Oct. 27, 2001 at the Wakefield Health Care Center in Wakefield.

Services were held Wednesday, Oct. 31 at Salem Lutheran Church in Wakefield. The Rev. Rick Danforth officiated.

Edwin Berneal Gustafson, son of Edwin and Ida (Rodgers) Gustafson, was born Dec. 7, 1920 in Emerson. He was baptized and confirmed at Salem Lutheran Church in Wakefield. He attended rural school and graduated from Wakefield High School in 1938. He attended Wayne State College and farmed. He enlisted in the U.S. Air Force and graduated from the Aviation Cadets. As a B-26 pilot, he was assigned to the 320th Bombardment Group and flew 45 bombing missions out of France. On Aug. 20, 1945 he married Edna Oberg and farmed until he accepted the position of Postmaster in Wakefield in 1948. He transferred to rural carrier in 1958. After retiring as a rural carrier, he was owner of the E.B. Gustafson Agency, Real Estate, Insurance and Land Management business in Wakefield. He also continued to be involved in farming.

He was a member of the Wakefield Lions Club, Community Club, American Legion Post #81 and a lifelong member of Salem Lutheran Church. As president of the Lions Club, he helped promote the hard surfacing of the streets in Wakefield in 1953. He served on the Educational Service Unit Board and the Wakefield District #60R School Board for many years. He was a Commander of the American Legion Post #81, Chairman of the fund-raising project in 1972 for the Wakefield Health Care Center addition to the hospital. He served on the Wakefield Health Care Center Board and Salem Church Council and was Cub Scoutmaster for several years.

Survivors include his wife, Edna; two sons, Ronald of Horby, Sweden and Jack of Ketchikan, Alaska; one daughter, Joan and Kamal Ahuja of London, England; nephews Dale Fischer and Daniel and Cynde Fischer, all of Aurora, Colo.; 10 grandchildren; one great-grandchild; two sisters, Eunice and Art Hansen of Sioux City, Iowa and Faith Olson of Irvine, Calif.; nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his parents and an infant brother.

Burial was in the Wakefield City Cemetery in Wakefield. Bressler-Munderloh Funeral Home in Wakefield was in charge of arrangements.

Road crews continue to work on Highway 35 near Winside. The above picture was taken just south of Winside, looking toward the north.

Road opening delayed

Work on the Highway 35 project, between Winside and Hoskins has been delayed by weather and a number of other circumstances.

According to Pat Boyle, Construction Engineer for the Nebraska Department of Roads, the bottom lift of asphalt was to be in place by Saturday, Nov. 3 and the top lift was to be installed next spring.

Due to the delays, the asphalt will not be poured and gravel will be incorporated onto the road. It is anticipated that this should be completed by Nov. 10.

The contractor for the project will continue working as weather permits and will maintain the road throughout the winter. The Department of Roads intends to keep the road clear of snow during the winter.

Boyle said that while the road will be open to local traffic, he feels it would be in motorists' best interest to use the detour that will remain in place.

Because of wet spots discovered in various locations throughout the project, contractors are still hauling dirt out of the area and will continue to do so as weather permits.

"The surface needs to be 80 to 90 percent gravelled before the road

Margaret Hinnerichs

Margaret Hinnerichs, 88, of Wayne, died Tuesday, Oct. 30, 2001 at Providence Medical Center in Wayne.

Nothing but thanks is given

Dear Editor,
During the last five years I have had the opportunity to experience many hospitals, clinics and medical personnel.

With each new experience, I am more and more impressed by the medical services offered in Wayne. Both Providence Medical Center and Northeast Nebraska Medical Group can boast having a staff who is knowledgeable and kind. More importantly, the caring that comes behind the scenes is second to none.

I can say that I have had the privilege of working with a doctor who has called my house on his time off just to check up on myself or my family. He has spent countless hours trying to figure out my latest dilemma or calming my nerves at either the hospital or clinic.

His kindness often comes at the expense of time he could be spending with his own family although he never complains. I have also worked with most of his partners and have been impressed by each one. Each man has individual talents and strengths, which creates a wonderful team of doctors who are available to my family and the community.

The nurses at both PMC and the clinic are also amazing. I have been in very few facilities that can say their nurses take the time to get to know each patient and truly care about their needs.

These same nurses work endless hours to keep a hospital available in our community 24 hours a day. Countless times I have called the clinic with a sick child and been told that they would "squeeze us in," even though this often means that everyone will have to stay late. They do this with a kindness unmatched by anyone.

I do realize that Wayne is a rural hospital and can not offer all of the services that a larger hospital can. However, the kindness, caring and personal attention that is given, along with a staff which is knowledgeable and continually improving themselves for the community makes the health care services offered in Wayne an excellent choice for my family.

I have nothing but thanks to offer my doctor, his partners and the staff of both Providence Medical Center and Northeast Nebraska Medical Group.

Sincerely,
Misty Bear and family,
Carroll

Proud of kids

Dear Editor,
Thank you for the very good coverage concerning the FRIENDS Red Ribbon Week 2001. God Bless the youth who are brave enough to make a commitment to a drug-free lifestyle.

How sad to read that the Wayne FRIENDS highway sign "Building a Drug-Free Community" was vandalized with beer signs. Our youth aren't 'going to the dogs' — it's the dogs doing evil deeds against our community and our country.

Debate continues on policies

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

The Legislature's special session on budget matters could be concluded by the time this epistle finds its way into print. Thus, there isn't much point in speculating on what might happen. If you're reading this, it might have happened. Yesterday.

What is always ripe for consideration, however, is the discussion of tax policy and the discussion of tax policies.

The first thing to be acknowledged is that one person's noble policy is another's rancid politics. That's why we have elections and at least two political parties.

Gov. Mike Johanns said his policy choice was to avoid cutting state funding for local school districts. He gave two primary reasons. For one thing, he said, a reduction in the flow of money from the state to local school districts would ultimately mean higher local property taxes. For another, he opined, it's important to do the best job possible in educating our youngsters from kindergarten through high school.

That's the policy view of things. And it is a policy that almost anyone could defend if called upon in extemporaneous debate.

Then, there is the tax politics of the matter. Think about it. What might be the political consequences of reduced state aid, and the triggering of higher local property taxes? Especially since such a cut would come on the heels of state-mandated restrictions on the local property tax levy for education? Especially in an upcoming election year!

In Nebraska, as has often been noted in this column, the state puts its big money into social services and into education at one level or another. Don't go looking for whop-pin' big boogey men in state operations. There ain't enough "waste, fraud n' abuse" in Nebraska government operations spending to pad a paragraph in a Ronald Reagan speech. The money is in education and social services, and costs related to them.

Unfortunately for the University of Nebraska, when it comes to cutting funding for education, it is the target of greatest opportunity — in terms of tax policy and tax politics. NU has a comparatively big budget, and the pols are quick to point out they only want to cut the size of the increase that had been planned for NU. The university (almost any university) draws more fire than sympathy from the public.

And there is the geographic reality to be considered. NU is in Lincoln. Your local school district is local. Your local property tax levy is local. Your kid's band concerts and football games are local.

Besides, the football team is winning. How bad can things be?

These periodic budget blues are simply part of the social and political landscape of Nebraska. Consider what former Govs. Charles Thone and Bob Kerrey went through. And then, Ben Nelson. There isn't a lot of diversity in Nebraska's economy, so almost any problem is a real problem.

There is no reason to think this cycle will change. Nebraska wants to offer services and a variety of opportunities in higher education, from NU to the state colleges to community colleges.

There is also no doubt that Johanns thoroughly understands that what Nebraskans don't want right now is higher taxes — of any kind.

Put those realities together and you have the recipe for Nebraska's seemingly perennial budget emergencies, regardless of how comparatively frugal the state's spending policies.

City is undertaking many new projects

Highway 35 Expressway

The 35 Expressway Association has met with the Nebraska Department of Roads at their District 3 Public Meeting in Norfolk. NDOR is preparing a corridor study in 2001 to determine the best general routing within a 600 foot wide strip from South Sioux to Norfolk past Wayne.

The estimated cost is $137 million. Representative Bereuter has taken the initiative on this project and will be seeking 80 percent federal funding. NDOR and the Nebraska Legislature have committed to not use State funding for Highway 35 Expressway or any other new segments of 2-lane highways to the original 600 mile Expressway Project list until all 600 miles are built. Since that date is projected to be 2015-2020, Wayne and the other communities will be working with NDOR to consider regional funding alternatives to finance the 20 percent remaining cost to build the Expressway sooner.

Boarding Houses

A proposal for revising the definition and requirements for boarding house type residences in Wayne will be presented to the Planning Commission and City Council in the next two weeks for their consideration. Currently boarding houses are permitted as a use by exception in the neighborhoods zoned R-3 in Wayne. For information, contact George at the city office.

Legislature called into special session

The Legislature was called into special session on Thursday, October 25, 2001, to reduce the

Capital Happenings
By: State Senator
Doug Cunningham, District #18

state budget. The Economic Forecasting Advisory Board met on Friday October 19 and revised its estimate of state tax revenue downward for the current biennium, predicting that the state will receive approximately $180 million less than earlier predicted in tax revenue due to the national and state economic recession. Combined with the carryover shortfall, the total budget gap increases to $220 million.

The plan that Governor Johanns has presented to the Legislature addresses approximately $173 million of the $220 million budget problem. The remainder will be dealt with by the Legislature when they meet in regular session beginning in January.

The Governor has proposed across the board reductions of 4% for fiscal year 2002 and 5% for fiscal year 2003 in many state agency budgets, amounting to about $84 million in budget cuts and representing nearly one-half of the budget reduction package. The Governor's plan also includes approximately $54 million in specific reductions in agency and program budgets and another $35 million in miscellaneous budget changes.

The Governor has based his proposal on 4 principles:

- 1) It does not include a tax increase.

2) It protects his priorities from across the board cuts. The priorities include state aid to schools, Medicaid, public safety, public assistance for low-income women and children, the homestead exemption, 24-hour care and treatment facilities and aid to community colleges.

3) It does not touch the cash reserve fund. With the uncertainty of the economy, this fund may be needed in the future.

4) It addresses the greater part of the budget shortfall during the special session.

Cutting $173 million from the state budget is no easy task. I commend the Governor for the package that he has put together. These cuts will not be easy to accomplish but I agree with the Governor that we should not increase taxes.

Although I am sympathetic to the University and the State Colleges and I will be open to looking at alternatives, I will not support any attempt to reduce state aid to K-12 schools. Even with the proposed cuts, the University and State Colleges will still receive more state funding than the previous year. State aid was increased for local school districts this year, but only to replace lost property tax revenue when the levy dropped from $1.10 to $1.00 as mandated by state law.

The special session will last at least 7 days, although it could last much longer if senators cannot agree on their plan of action. After we begin debate, it will be easier to determine how easily a consensus can be reached.

I will continue to update you weekly through my newsletter while the Legislature is in special session. I encourage you to contact my office to inform me of your opinions on the proposed budget cuts. My telephone number is (402) 471-2801, my e-mail address is dunningham@unicam.state.ne.us and my mailing address is Senator Doug Cunningham, District #18, P.O. Box 94604, State Capitol, Lincoln, NE 68509.

Funding helps in number of ways

The following is a report of one more of the agencies that are partially supported by United Way funds.

Haven House Family Services Center is a non-profit corporation formed out of a 1978 seminar conducted jointly by the Association of American University Women and Wayne State College staff.

In 1979, the agency was incorporated and designed to serve the victims/survivors of domestic violence in Wayne and surrounding communities.

In the mid 1980's the first grant request for funds was submitted to and awarded by the Nebraska Department of Social Services. This funding mandated specific services the agency was to provide and designated the area the agency was to provide services to. The areas designated included the counties of Cedar, Dakota, Dixon, Thurston, and Wayne.

Additional funding from the Nebraska Department of Health extended the agency's services to sexual assault victims/survivors. In 1989, a grant submitted Haven House to and awarded from the Nebraska Commission on Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice allowed Haven House to provide services to the Omaha and Winnebago Native American Reservations in Thurston County.

Haven House is a crisis intervention agency that provides the following services free of charge:

- Crisis Intervention Support
- 24-hour Crisis Line
- Emergency Shelter
- Emergency Transportation
- Emergency Financial Assistance
- Protection Order Assistance
- Criminal Justice Advocacy
- Medical & Legal Advocacy
- Peer Support Groups
- Child Advocacy Program
- Resource, Referral Assistance
- Public Awareness Programs

- Community Education Programs
- Volunteer Training

Along with the main office located in Wayne, Haven House has satellite offices located in Hartington and South Sioux City. The agency has two shelter facilities, a long-term shelter facility that opened in 1994 and a short-term shelter facility that opened in 1999.

During the fiscal year, July 1, 2000 through June 30, 2001, the total number of clients served by the agency equaled 381.

Specific programs/activities of Haven House supported by United Way dollars include:

- Publication of the Quarterly Agency Newsletter;
- Rent and utilities for shelter;
- Supplies and furnishings for shelter.

families is lead screening. Parents and children are informed about the dangers of high blood lead levels—delays in physical and mental development, lower IQ levels, shortened attention spans and increased behavioral problems—before blood tests are taken. During the last six months, Stacie Petersen, RN for the Lead Awareness program, screened nearly 400 children for blood lead poisoning throughout the GHCS service area.

The Immunization program offers inoculation against vaccine-preventable disease, vaccinating 5,679 children during the last six months. Of these, 2677 were new clients. Among the clinics held are those at Wakefield and Wayne in Wayne County.

The Commodity Supplemental Food Program (CSFP) and Women,

Infants and Children (WIC) Nutrition program both provide nutrition education and food to clients. CSFP clinics for infants, children, the elderly, and pregnant or postpartum women, are held at South Sioux City, Crofton, Wisner, Norfolk and Neligh. WIC clinics for pregnant women, and women with infants and young children are held at Wakefield where 71 were served, and at Wayne where 114 were served in the last year.

Outreach is completed in Wayne County about Every Woman Matters, a breast and cervical cancer screening program. The health fair in Wayne was among the places that EWM Coordinator Karen Wesche gave presentations, along with other health fairs, churches, and women's groups throughout the area. Last year, through her efforts, the Every Woman Program received nearly 250 applications from women over the age of 40 who are eligible for the program.

Kids Connection Coordinator Amy Doescher and Public Health Nurse Melissa Pokorny distributed more than 1,600 applications for Kids Connection, a health program for uninsured children in Nebraska, and educated clients on proper emergency room use and access to health care. The PHN program also helps families locate physicians, dentists and optometrists to serve low-income families' health care needs.

State treasurer visits Wayne

Nebraska State Treasurer Lorlee Byrd moved her office to Wayne for the day last Thursday.

Byrd and her staff were at the Wayne County Courthouse visiting with the public, answering questions and becoming acquainted with residents.

"Former State Treasurer Dave Heinemann began the practice of taking the office out to the people. He felt, and I strongly agree, that government should be accessible," Ms. Byrd said.

Numerous people took advantage of the opportunity to visit with Ms. Byrd and her staff. While in Wayne, 15 individuals, businesses and organizations were able to claim just over $1,400 in unclaimed property with the assistance of the state treasurer.

"In addition, a number of people stopped by to talk about child support issues and numerous packets were handed out in regard to the state's college savings plan. Our day was very productive," Ms. Byrd said.

During her visit with members of the Wayne Ambassadors, Ms. Byrd gave praise to Wayne State College senior Jim Hervert.

Hervert, a senior majoring in accounting and finance, interned this summer with the State Treasurer's office.

"Jim was very instrumental in finding a number of individuals who had unclaimed property," Ms. Byrd said.

Hervert was also able to sit in on meetings involving child support issues during his internship.

Ms. Byrd has been the State Treasurer for just over one month, replacing Dave Heinemann. Prior to that, she had been Deputy Treasurer for seven years.

Members of the Goldenrod Hills Headstart program visited with local businesses last week, handing out red ribbons and relaying a "Say no to drugs" message. The Headstart program is one of many offered by Goldenrod Hills.

"I'm looking forward to doing new Bible studies, helping college students to make connections of how God can make life meaningful out in the world. I also will be working with other religious groups to attempt to build from our strengths rather than our differences. Working together provides a strong witness for how to share together," Lutter said.

The Lutheran campus ministry has two houses across the street from the Student Center, the Welcome House for men and the Loft for women. This form of ministry helps to model Christian community through five peer minister positions -- worship, evangelism, administration, contact and communication. Lutter said the group is looking for individuals to fill the positions for next year to live in the houses and fill the student ministry positions.

"Everyone is invited to all our events! Wayne has a lot of enthusiasm. We invite the community of Wayne to come and see how God might use us for his glory in the midst of this campus and community," Lutter said. "We are also examining how students can make difference in this community."

doing. She caught on very quickly and when I suggested the inventory project to her, she just took it on and completed it with her own ideas."

"The Wayne Board of Directors has been looking at the option of trying to involve more youth and as many Red Cross Boards have youth representatives in non-voting capacities, Jacey seemed like a perfect candidate for that role. She accepted the responsibility and attended her first meeting in July with the start of the Wayne chapter's new fiscal year," Lori said.

Jacey will also be taking Red Cross disaster and health and safety training through their youth training weekends offered in Omaha.

She has, however, got some "hands on" experience already as she was one of the people who responded to Jackson with the Red Cross unit from Wayne when the area was hit by a tornado in August.

"We left Wayne about 7 p.m. When we got to Jackson I helped hand out bottled water to the workers and made sandwiches for them," Jacey said.

Jacey feels that her work with the Red Cross will be valuable for her future.

"I want to go into some field of medicine and the disaster work will be helpful," she added.

Tony Carollo has been a volunteer at the Wayne County American Red Cross for nearly two years.

He started when his mother, Lori, began her duties as Chapter Manager and would ask Tony to help clean the office.

"He helped a great deal when the chapter moved their office from the Nebraska Bus Barn to the Mineshaft Mall in December of 1999. He put the computer desk together, as well as many bookshelves and other shelving and storage units," Lori said.

Tony has assisted with many monthly office projects such as preparing the board reports to be sent to all board members in advance of meetings and assisting with data entry work on the computer. He has also volunteered in the First Aid booth at the Wayne County Fair, as well as distributing water during the Chicken Days parade in July.

This past spring Tony became even more involved when he took Red Cross Life Guard Training and Water Safety Instruction. He then worked at the Wakefield Swimming Pool as a life guard and taught swimming lessons during each of their summer sessions.

Tony is planning to attend two youth training sessions in Omaha in November. He will attend disaster training education the first weekend in November where he will complete many different areas of expertise and upon completion will be certified to respond to disasters and assist families in various capacities.

The second weekend in November he will attend training to become certified as a Red Cross Instructor in First Aid, CPR and Basic Aid Training. His future plans are to continue to be involved with the Red Cross. He hopes to work with Kris Hinnerichs, the Health and Safety Specialist with the Wayne chapter and eventually become a Life Guard and WSI Instructor as well.

"I'm glad I took the water training classes with Kris Hinnerichs last spring and enjoyed working as a lifeguard in Wakefield last summer. It helped me decide to pursue a teaching degree when I attend college next year," Tony said.

"I look forward to becoming certified as a First Aid and CPR instructor this fall, as well as being able to go out and assist people after they've had a disaster. I know that I will probably always remain active with the Red Cross in some way throughout my life, because I have seen the good things they do to help people and the training I've had may one day help me to save someone's life."

Council approves well-head protection ordinance for city

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

In a meeting that lasted just over a half hour, the Wayne City Council passed three resolutions and one ordinance.

Ordinance 2001-17 designated a wellhead protection area and regulates the drilling and operation of any well within city limits. Harold Reynolds, Water/Wastewater Superintendent for the city, explained the process that has been ongoing for several years to arrive at the designated area. The reason for the wellhead protection area is not to prohibit any other wells within the area, but rather to prevent contamination of the city's water supply.

Resolution 2001-44 approved an agreement with Kirkham Michael for the Grainland Road Paving project. City Attorney Mike Pieper recommended two changes in the original agreement before approval was given.

The Wage and Salary schedule was approved through Resolution 2001-46. It allows for a 1.5 percent cost of living raise for city employees receiving hourly wages. Discussion was held on the differences between salaries of department heads. Each year the city evaluates the wages received by employees in similar situations in various cities.

Resolution 2001-47 will amend the city's personnel manual to clarify the benefits received by city personnel on military duty.

Change orders were approved on the Grainland Road Utility Extension project and the 10th Street paving project.

Additional expenses will be assessed to property owners for hook up of utilities in the Grainland Road project.

In regard to the 10th Street Paving project, additional dirt work was required and the city will be charged according for the dirt to be moved to a new location.

The council's next meeting will be Tuesday, Nov. 13 at 7 p.m.

Blue Devils end season at 18-10 as they fall to Norfolk Catholic Wayne volleyball team upset in finals

The Wayne volleyball team was upended by Norfolk Catholic in the sub-district finals, Tuesday in Randolph.

The Blue Devils had defeated the Knights twice this season by convincing scores but it was Norfolk Catholic that set the tone when the two met for a third time, 15-8, 15-6.

"I think we wanted to win so badly that we couldn't relax and play," coach Joyce Hoskins said. "We have a young team and I am proud of how this team developed through the season and look forward to next year with this experience under their belt. April Thede has been a great player and leader for us and she will be missed next season."

The 18-10 Blue Devils were led by Allison Hansen with seven kill spikes while Kari Hochstein had six and Erin Jarvi, four.

Alissa Dunklau tallied 20 kill assists and was 7-7 in serving. Hochstein was 6-7 in serving with two aces while Hansen was 5-5 with one ace. Jenny Raveling was 7-7 and Erin Jarvi, 5-5 with Ashley Loberg, 6-7.

Wayne opened sub-district play with a 15-11, 15-3 win over Plainview on Monday in Randolph.

April Thede pounded out eight kill spikes with Allison Hansen netting six kills and Erin Jarvi, four.

Alissa Dunklau finished with 22 kill assists with Jenny Raveling leading the servers at 14-14. Dunklau was 9-9 and Jarvi, 10-11 while Micaela Weber went 5-5.

Defensively, Hanen and Hochstein had three blocks each with Stacie Hoeman, Jarvi, Dunklau and Loberg each netting two.

Bears capture sub-district title crown

The Laurel-Concord volleyball team remained unbeaten at 21-0 with a pair of wins at the C2-4 Sub-district on Monday night at Wayne High School.

The Bears defeated Emerson-Hubbard, 15-0, 15-6 in the first round before downing Wakefield, 15-13, 15-5 in the finals.

Laurel-Concord will face West Point Central Catholic in the district finals on Thursday at Wayne High School.

The winners will receive an automatic bid to next weekend's State Volleyball Tournament and the loser will also qualify (unofficially) for state as a wildcard in Nebraska's first year of wildcard qualifiers in volleyball.

Susan Pritchard led the Bears against Emerson-Hubbard with six kill spikes while Emily Schroeder and Lani Recob had five each.

Tori Cunningham had 14 kill assists and was 11-12 in serving with an ace. Tiffany Erwin was 10-11 in serving with one ace.

Schroeder had a team-high four blocks while Recob had five digs.

Pritchard and Schroeder were the go-to hitters against Wakefield as each had 11 kills while Lani Recob had nine.

Cunningham finished with 29 kill assists while Katie Peters notched two service aces.

Erwin was 13-13 in serving with Pritchard at 11-11. Schroeder had three blocks at the net and Cunningham had a team-high seven digs.

"The girls played with determination and worked hard to keep the ball in play," coach Patti Cunningham said. "We passed well and ran an aggressive attack."

Allen volleyball team is defeated in district play

Denise Hingst's Allen volleyball team was defeated in the sub-district finals on Tuesday in Wisner against Dodge, 15-6, 12-15, 15-3.

"We played good on offense and our defense wasn't bad but we missed entirely too many serves and we had trouble with a jump-server Dodge had," Hingst said.

Angela Prochaska led the Eagles with 15 kill spikes with Elizabeth Rock netting six. Katie Koester had 15 kill assists and Angie Sullivan led the servers at 13-14 with four aces.

Prochaska had nine blocks at the net and Bock had six digs. The Eagles had defeated Newcastle in the first round of sub-districts, 15-1, 15-5.

"We really played well in this match and we were looking forward to playing Dodge," Hingst said.

Prochaska had 10 kill spikes and was 7-7 in serving with three aces while notching four blocks and five digs.

Elizabeth Bock had four kill spikes and was 6-7 in serving with one ace while notching five digs. Katie Koester had 14 kill assists from her setter position.

Allen finished the season at 21-4 and is still in the hunt for a wildcard spot in Class D-2.

Team concept ruled in Wayne boys title quest in cross country in 2001 season

By Kevin Peterson Of the Herald

Many people consider the sport of cross country as nothing more than just lining up at the starting line and running.

The Wayne boys cross country team, still basking in the glory of becoming the school's first ever state championship team in the male division of the sport, proves that being the best you can be as an individual takes more than just lining up and running.

The Blue Devil six-some say that cross country is like any sport in that it takes teamwork to be successful.

Devin Bethune tasted the spoils of becoming a state champion a year ago when he won the Class C title—but something was missing.

"It was definitely the highlight of my running career—until we won the whole thing this year as a team," Bethune said. "Being a part of the best team in our Class is something special."

For Bethune, Brad Hansen, Nick Lipp and Tony Carollo, winning state was kind of like getting the proverbial monkey off their back.

"A year ago we went into the state meet expecting nothing but a championship," Carollo said. "We had put so much pressure on ourselves that it was kind of hard to succeed because anything less than first place was nearly unacceptable in our minds."

"We didn't run our race a year ago," Lipp said. "We let others dictate our pace."

Although Jeff Pippitt wasn't on that team that had the high expectations, he was a vital part as an alternate and the anguish of seeing his teammates finish below where they intended was something he used as motivation for this year.

"Our goal, like any team was to go win state," Pippitt said. "We knew however, that if we ran our race, we controlled our own destiny."

Pippitt said this year's team was very close knit, on and off the course which sure helped.

Devin Bethune took a different approach to leading the Blue Devils to the state championship—with maybe a little added pressure.

"I approached this season with the attitude of being the leader," Bethune said. "First, I wanted to run to have fun but also to be the one my teammates counted on day in and day out."

So how does Bethune feel about going from first individually in 2000, to 12th individually in 2001—Like a Champion.

"I feel that truly shows what kind of leadership and character this team possessed," he said.

It was the fourth trip to state for Bethune while Brad Hansen and Nick Lipp each completed their third season at state and Tony Carollo, two.

Brad Hansen's (Butter) trip to state was finally sweet after a sour trip last year.

Hansen failed to finish the 2000 state meet after collapsing.

So what about the mental aspects of returning to the so-called scene after a year.

"I tried not to think about it but I can't say I accomplished that goal," Hansen said. "It was on my mind."

During the race Hansen got past the point where he collapsed a year ago and things appeared to be on track.

However, at the 2,000 meter mark things took a turn. "I started to feel kind of weak in the arms and head," Hansen said. "I kept going. At that point Hansen led the Blue Devil gang and he remained the front runner until about the 4,000-meter mark."

At that point a mere 20 meters separated four Wayne runners with Brad, Nick, Devin and Bryan Fink.

Devin passed Brad at that point and 200 meters later Nick passed Brad. "I turned towards him when I went past him and just said, 'YOU GOTTA GO NOW!'" Lipp said. "At that point I looked at Nick and pointed to the guy in front of me and said, 'that's 16th place,'" Hansen said.

Hansen doesn't remember running the final 400-meters and it's not because he was running on air—he was running on instinct.

As soon as he crossed the finish line, down he went. He was carried to the First Aid tent where he received an I.V. and oxygen.

"I really didn't care if I finished first or fourth on the team but I knew I had to finish," Hansen said. "That's about all I remember."

If Wayne had an unsung hero on the team this season it had to be freshman Bryan Fink.

This unknown X factor provided the spark all season that led Wayne to an unprecedented undefeated season.

"We had no idea what he was going to bring to the table on this team," Pippitt said. "He showed up at time trials and ran well. Then he kept running well—all season."

Fink got a quick education on the fine points of running cross country on a team and to say he was a quick learner is a massive understatement.

"I can't say I had any goals since I'd never run before," Fink said. "I went out for cross country to stay in shape for basketball—my real love. I had no idea what tradition meant at this school for this sport and frankly, I didn't realize how good Wayne was compared to other schools."

In fact, his teammates had to convince him that Wayne would be the odds-on favorite to win the first meet of the season.

"He gradually bought in to the program," Carollo said. "And his running ability gradually drew the attention of everyone we raced against."

Wayne's closeness as a group is evident when you're around the six-some but how does closeness equate into winning?

"We all have different styles in the way we run and we feed off each other," Pippitt and Carollo said. "Devin starts off at a slower pace and at the 3,000 meter mark he kicks it in pretty hard for the final 2,000 meters.

"Brad Hansen and Bryan Fink are pace setters and like to lead the pack and Nick Lipp is constant from start to finish. Jeff and Tony concentrate on beating other team's number four runner which solidifies the team championship," the team echoed.

In fact during the state meet, Pippitt made the most of his eyes as well as his feet.

"I knew the competition was being built between Wayne and Centennial so I was confident that if could beat Centennial's number four runner, we'd be in great shape."

Sure enough, during the final stages of the meet, Pippitt sought out a teammate and with a grin, yelled that he was ahead of Centennial's number four runner.

Prior to the state race, Wayne's intensity during warm-ups did not go unnoticed.

"I was told that a spectator actually told my parents without knowing who they were, that Wayne sure looked focused and she bet they'd do well," Carollo said.

"I think we drew an automatic respect from most of the teams because of our tradition," Lipp said. "This team did not lack maturity."

Of course a little intimidation doesn't hurt either.

"Before the race Butter (Hansen) was going in to the restroom and a Centennial runner was coming around the corner and didn't see him," Pippitt chuckled. "When he bumped in to Butter, he went up to his chest and you could tell after he saw that he was from Wayne, intimidation had just taken place."

There were 138 teams in Wayne's way to a perfect season and one-by-one, race-by-race the Blue Devils knocked down the competition.

The gate-keeper for this exclusive group is Rocky Ruhl and the Blue Devil champs say they wouldn't trade their coach for anything.

"He pays great attention to detail and gets us ready accordingly," Carollo said. "He's a smart coach with a laid back but direct approach. He shows great confidence in us and if we train like he wants, he knows all he has to do is get us to the meet and we'll take care of the rest."

There will be more Wayne success stories in cross country but regardless of what happens in the future, the 2001 Wayne boys team have left a legacy that will never be forgotten.

Wayne is shutout in its final game of the season

The Wayne High Blue Devils suffered a loss in their final game of the season last Friday, 24-0 to Norfolk Catholic on Homecoming.

After holding Norfolk Catholic to three points in the first quarter, the visitors scored on two big plays in the second quarter that sent the Knights into the lockerroom with a 17-0 lead at the half. One of the plays was a 75-yard run by the quarterback and the other was a tipped pass in the endzone.

"I thought our kids competed very well. Norfolk Catholic simply made the plays when they had too," coach John Murtaugh said.

"As far as the season is concerned, I am very pleased with this year's team. They improved more than any team I have ever been around."

Ric Volk provided 75 yards through the air for Wayne, by completing eight of 17 attempts. Jon Ehrhardt was the leading receiver for the Blue Devils with three receptions for 37 yards.

Wayne's Brad Hochstein led the way on the ground attack by gaining 44 yards on nine carries. Justin Davis also provided a ground game with 31 yards on 12 carries.

The Blue Devil defense was led by Justin Davis with 21 tackles. Other leading tacklers for Wayne were Marcus Berns with 15, Brad Hochstein with 13, and Brady Heithold with 12. Wayne ended the year at 4-5.

Blake Erwin scored from one yard out to light the fire. Minutes later Bennie Surber made his presence felt for the Bears with a 48 touchdown run, before Surber would find the endzone again with a 70 yard interception return to take a 21-0 lead into the second quarter.

Laurel-Concord continued their scoring triumph in the second stanza, as Marc Manganaro hauled in a 38 yard touchdown pass from Blake Erwin. The Bear's Blake Erwin would continue the scoring burst later in the quarter with a two yard run to take a 35-0 lead into the half.

After a scoreless third period for the Bears, Bennie Surber added the final blow in the fourth quarter with a 45 yard touchdown reception from Blake Erwin.

"I felt we played very well early in the game. It was good to establish our running game right away. Overall, we did a nice job defensively, especially in the first half," said head coach Mike Halley.

Blake Erwin led the aerial attack by completing 12 of 17 attempts for 244 yards and two touchdowns.

The Bear's David Asbra led the receiving corp with five catches for 99 yards.

On the ground attack, Bennie Surber led the way with 170 yards on 20 carries and two scores. David Asbra also made his presence known with 38 yards on 11 carries.

Blake Erwin led the Bears defense with 12 tackles, while David Asbra had 11, and Tyler Stingley, 10.

Allen season comes to a close by large margin

The Allen Eagles concluded their season last Friday with a tough 61-16 loss against Coleridge.

Trailing 28-0 midway through the second quarter, the Eagles found their way onto the scoreboard with a 10 yard touchdown run by Bart Sachau to narrow the gap 28-8, before Coleridge would score again to take a 36-8 lead into the half.

After a Bulldog score early in the third quarter, Allen found the endzone for the last time of the season with a Corey Uldrich one yard run in the 61-16 loss.

"We never had a good continuity offensively in this game. The Coleridge defense played well. We had a difficult time stopping their passing game, which in turn made their running game very good." Thanks go out to our seniors for making this a very enjoyable season for our underclassmen and coaches," said head coach Dave Uldrich.

The Allen aerial attack was led by Corey Uldrich by completing 10 of 32 attempts for 117 yards.

Brett Keitges had a solid night receiving by hauling in five passes for 44 yards. Dustin O'Quinn also had a good game with two catches for 55 yards.

On the ground Corey Uldrich made his presence felt by carrying the ball 17 times for 56 yards and one touchdown.

The Eagle Defense was led by Bart Sachau with 10 tackles. Other leading tacklers for Wayne were Corey Uldrich, Brandon Kelly, and Dustin O'Quinn, with nine apiece. Allen finished at 3-6.

Winside closes season on high note with 62 points

Winside continued to put up big numbers for the second straight week, with a 62-20 win over Clarkson in the final game of the season as the Wildcats finished the year at 4-5.

Winside took command of the game in the first quarter as Shane Jaeger scampered 60 yards for a score on the opening drive. Minutes later Adam Hoffman answered again for Winside with a 50 yard run, before Hoffman would score again from two yards out to take a 20-0 lead into the second quarter.

Winside continued to control the game in the second quarter, as Ben Lienemann hauled in a 38 yard touchdown pass from Adam Hoffman. With time running down in the first half, Shane Jaeger made his presence felt again on the scoreboard with a 21 yard gallop to take a 32-6 lead into the half.

The second half continued to be a shootout for Winside as Shane Jaeger reached the endzone again from three yards out. Minutes later, Ben Lienemann answered with a 25 yard touchdown reception from Adam Hoffman, before Winside's Russell O'Connor would find the endzone with an 11 yard run to end the third quarter.

Winside's final score of the season came from Adam Hoffman to Shane Jaeger on a 56 yard completion.

Adam Hoffman led the passing attack for Winside by completing nine of 12 attempts for 243 yards and three touchdowns.

Top receivers on the night were Ben Lienemann with five receptions for 112 yards, and Shane Jaeger with two receptions for 64 yards.

Jaeger provided the big ground attack for Winside by rumbling 126 yards on 18 carries. Adam Hoffman also showed his rushing skills by gaining 55 yards on 11 carries.

Tom Schwedhelm led the Winside defense with 12 tackles, while Ben Lienemann concluded the game with six.

Bears wrap up regular season with 41-18 win

The Laurel-Concord Bears returned to their old form last Friday night with a 41-18 win on the road over Ponca to improve to 7-2.

The Bears got the scoring going right away, as

Wayne State volleyball team moves back in to first place

The Wayne State volleyball team moved back to first place tie in the NSIC standings after downing former leader Southwest State in four games last week in the friendly confines of Rice

Auditorium, 31-29, 22-30, 30-25, 30-23.

Lindsey Koch paced the winners with 21 kill spikes while Rayna Nelsen had 15 and Heather Schuller, 11.

Kasey Meyer tallied 55 kill assists which is just four shy of the all-time school record of 2710 career kill assists held by Tracy Wessel.

Jessie Erwin led the defense with 24 digs while Janel Moody had 18 and Heather Schuller, 14. Koch finished with 13 digs and Meyer, 12.

Rayna Nelsen led the defense at the net with five blocks.

WCS hit .246 for the match with the Mustangs netting out at .170.

Tuesday in Wayne, the 'Cats moved to 20-9 on the season and 12-2 in NSIC play with a narrow victory over Northern State, 23-30, 30-21, 30-28, 24-30, 15-9. WSC struggled in the hitting department, posting just a .092 kill percentage but still managed to pull out the win.

Lindsey Koch had 21 kill spikes to lead the winners and the senior also had a team-high 21 digs along with four blocks while netting three ace serves.

Rayna Nelsen had 13 kills and Heather Schuller, 11. Kasey Meyer posted 54 kill assists, and becomes the all-time career leader in that category with 2761 to her credit.

Jessie Erwin had 19 digs and Janel Moody, 17 while Schuller notched a dozen digs. Laurie Schroeder had five blocks.

The win over the Wolves puts WSC in sole possession of first place by virtue of the tie-breaker.

The 'Cats final regular season road trip takes place this weekend at Minnesota-Crookston on Friday and Minnesota State Moorhead on Saturday.

Wayne State defensive specialist Janel Moody passes the ball to her setter Kasey Meyer.

Wayne State comeback try just short

The Wayne State football team rallied ferociously in the final quarter of last Saturday's game at Southwest State, only to come up one point short in a 35-34 setback.

The 'Cats trailed 35-6 before a 28-point fourth quarter scoring barrage.

The host team took advantage of miscues in the Wildcat punting game to score three touchdowns in the second quarter.

In fact, WSC had five punts in the game for a net average of five yards each. All five punts however, were kicked in to a strong wind. Southwest State averaged just 26 yards a punt in six attempts.

At any rate, the Mustangs scored 28, second quarter points with the latter three scores coming on drives of 20, 13 and 30 yards.

WSC had multiple scoring opportunities in the opening stanza but suffered a fumble in the endzone for a touchdown, missed a field goal and missed on a fourth down attempt at the Mustang 25-yard line.

The 'Cats first score came at the 5:15 mark of the third quarter when Tavaris Johnson caught a 14-yard scoring strike from Brett Edwards.

Running back John Ostermeyer scored on a 12-yard run early in the fourth quarter and Ostermeyer countered with a 35-yard sprint to paydirt on a short pass from Edwards, midway through the final stanza to close the gap to 28-21.

The Mustangs however, got a 94-yard kickoff return from Ken Sather to give the host team a 35-21 advantage.

Still, the 'Cats were not done. Bryce Teager darted in from two yards out with just under four minutes left in regulation.

Following a failed on-sides kick attempt by the 'Cats, the defense stiffened and forced Southwest State to punt the ball.

WSC took over at its own 14-yard line at the 2:32 mark. Edwards hooked up with Tavaris Johnson on a third and 10 play for 40 yards. On the next play Edwards connected with Bryce Teager for a 34-yard touchdown with still 1:41 remaining.

On the point after attempt, Justin Burhoop had trouble handling it, and tried to run it into the endzone for two points but was stopped short.

The ensuing on-sides kick was again covered by the host team, who ran out the clock.

Coach Scott Hoffman was disappointed the 'Cats didn't leave Marshall, Minnesota with their fourth win of the season.

"We had our opportunities to come away with the win, we just didn't capitalize," Hoffman said. "We had a number of young players step up for us however, including quarterback Brett Edwards."

Edwards, in his first start at quarterback, completed 15 passes in 28 attempts for 267 yards and three touchdowns and no interceptions.

WSC won the total yards battle by a convincing 390-210 margin after holding the Mustangs to just 72 passing yards.

Bryce Teager rushed for 100 yards in 20 carries while Tavaris Johnson had eight receptions for 110 yards as he continues to pile up career receiving yards to his already school record total.

WSC will close out the home portion of the 2001 season on Saturday when the host Minnesota-Duluth at 12:30 p.m.

The 'Cats fell to 3-6 on the season and 2-5 in NSIC play.

Wayne State volleyball coach Sharon Vanis talks strategy with Rayna Nelsen.

Wayne State setter Kasey Meyer rewrote the Wildcat record books during Tuesday's win over Northern State. She surpassed Tracey Wessel as the all-time career kill assists leader. Meyer, only a junior has 2,761 career assists. She has led the Wildcats to a 20-9 record to date this year with just two weeks of regular season play remaining. Wayne State currently sits atop the NSIC standings with the winner of the regular season conference crown earning an automatic bid to the NCAA Regionals.

a 2-0 lead into the half. The Wildcats closed the door in the second half as Sarah Lund added the icing on the cake with a goal to pull out the 3-0 shutout.

The Wildcats outshot Minnesota-Crookston 25-7 in the outing.

"This was a tough day to play a match. They had about 11 inches of snow on Thursday and it was a miracle that we weren't playing in and around drifts. The temperature was about 25 degrees and the wind was blowing about 2-30 mph. But, our girls sucked it up and played through the discomfort and got a win. That was one they'll tell their grandchildren about," said head coach Justin Cole.

Wayne State continued its success on Sunday as they defeated Moorhead State.

"What a quality win. To come into Moorhead and beat this team after giving up a goal within the first five minutes was a great achievement. This was a good team that has played very well of late. From top to bottom it was one of our better defensive efforts of the year. We played with some fire and intensity and I think this was a great weekend to kind of find that kind of spark. I really believe we're peaking at the right time as we head into the confer-

Watching intently

Students at St. Mary's Elementary School watch Kyle Kopetzky, a Wayne State junior, as he demonstrates the proper techniques to bow hunting. The activity was part of the students' Physical Education class. Kopetzky explained to the students the skills necessary to hunt with a bow and did target shooting as part of his demonstration.

Northeast to offer first aid course

Northeast Community College in Norfolk has scheduled another one-session First Aid Course in mid-November.

The class, with course number COHE 0332-05/01F, will be offered Wednesday, Nov. 14th, from 6-10 p.m. in the Ag-Allied Health Building, Room 237, on the Northeast campus in Norfolk.

Successful completion of this First Aid course will satisfy requirements for OSHA. Licensed daycare providers and the public are also encouraged to attend.

Cost of this class is $25. Connie Sue DeBoer is the instructor.

To register, call Northeast Community College at (402)-844-7000.

Predator control - the key to more pheasants and waterfowl

Pheasant populations like other wildlife, runs in a cycle, good for a couple of years and then their population drops, its Mother Nature's way!

The number one factor when it comes to wildlife populations is habitat, and with farming methods the way they are, habitat can be pretty slim.

The fence rows are gone, waterways that used to be good habitat are now bailed, clipped short or grazed by cattle. The corn and bean rows that used to contain some weeds are now clean as a whistle.

When habitat diminishes, pheasants are forced to nest in ditches, in narrow grass strips next to small ponds and other small tracts of grass and weed.

These small tracts give the predators an easy corridor to follow, picking off the nesting birds or eating the eggs and destroying the nests with very little effort.

Predators will travel down these corridors because they no it's a place to find an easy meal.

Raccoons, skunks, fox and opossums are the worst as they have developed a taste for fresh eggs. They have large litters and have become very efficient at finding and destroying nests. These egg-sucking thieves are capable of cleaning out an entire field in short order.

Since predator numbers are high, we'll see more of the critters being forced out of the country, into the farms and into town looking for food. Opossums and raccoons have become pretty common in most areas.

Coyotes and fox will come onto farm places, eating out of pet dishes

Gary Howey
'Of the Outdoors'

es and taking an occasional pet, chicken or duck.

When fur prices were high and habitat existed, pheasant numbers were good. Since the price of furs has dropped and the price of gas has risen, predator numbers have skyrocketed and the birds and their nests have become easy targets.

Trappers and hunters used to be able to go out after raccoons and coyotes, pay for their gas and maybe make a few bucks. When they were doing this, they were removing excess animals and predators that would have destroyed nests and killed nesting birds.

Studies by groups such as Delta Waterfowl have proven that in areas were predator numbers have been controlled, upland game and waterfowl production numbers increased.

While were out hunting, we do our best to take care of any predators that we come across.

So far this year, we've run into more predators while hunting than we have in past years.

My Lab Duke has tangled with a couple of skunks and a big boar raccoon. The skunk gave him an education and the raccoon got beat up pretty bad.

He came out bruised and smelling pretty bad, but there were two less egg thieves after we finished.

We need to take care of a few predators, to balance things out.

Fur prices are pretty low on raccoons and coyotes, but by taking a few, we'll be able to pay for our ammunition, help to control the over population and save a few pheasant and waterfowl nests.

Herbs for Health
Cranberry Juice or Extract for Urinary Tract Infections

Since the mid-1800's, cranberry has been used to prevent and treat urinary tract infections. The mechanism was thought to be acidification of urine. Now we know that cranberry's protective effects are due to prevention of the bacterium E. coli from binding to the bladder cells and other sites. The primary use of cranberry is treatment of urinary tract infections, and the secondary use is as a deodorant for incontinent patients.

The most cited study was a double-blind, placebo-controlled trial of 153 women. The women consumed 10 ounces per day of a cranberry drink or a placebo. Women who drank the cranberry drink were 58% less likely to have bacteria and pus in their urine as compared to women who received the placebo.

Dosing for adults is one 300-400 mg cranberry extract capsule daily or drinking several glasses of pure cranberry juice. The juice must be 100% cranberry, not the cocktail, which is heavily diluted and loaded with sugar. Side effects are rare, and there are no known drug interactions or contraindications.

Scholarships are awarded

P.E.O. Chapter 1D of Wayne recently recognized two local area women as scholarship recipients, according to President Kaki Ley.

Karie Mitchell of Wayne was honored at a chapter meeting as the recipient of the Chapter's $200 local scholarship. Karie, a 2001 graduate of Wayne High School, is a freshman majoring in Nutrition Science at South Dakota State University in Brookings. She is the daughter of Dennis and Kathy Mitchell of Wayne.

Danette Frahm of Carroll is the recipient of the P.E.O. Program for Continuing Education (PCE) $1,500 national scholarship grant. Danette is enrolled at Northeast Community College's nursing program, pursuing a degree in Licensed Practical Nursing. She and her husband, Mark, reside in Carroll.

Presentation to be given

Wayne State College theatre students will present "School for Husbands," a 17th century play written by French comic genius, Moliere in Ley Theatre. Directed by Janet Roney, WSC professor of theatre, the production dates are Nov 10 at 8 p.m., Nov 11 at 2 p.m., Nov 12 at 8 p.m. and Nov 13 at 8 p.m.

The story revolves around

Isabelle, a woman promised in marriage at very young age to her over-protective guardian, Sganarelle. Isabelle has fallen in love with Valere, a young man to whom she has never spoken, but only exchanged furtive glances. Isabelle and Valere must use their wit and cunning to trick Sganarelle into arranging their marriage.

Ready for Halloween

Bob and Katie Fletcher of Hoskins have their yard all ready for the Trick-or-Treaters who will be appearing on Halloween night.

Receive Scholarships

Erin Simpson of Wayne and Sandra Becker of Wakefield are recipients of 2001-02 scholarships at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Simpson, daughter of Edward and Janelle Simpson and Colleen Simpson, is a sophomore at UN-L majoring in textiles, clothing and design. She was awarded the following: Edward and Catherine Martin Scholarship ($610), Aural Scott Burr Scholarship ($200), Charles D. and Betty McKinsey Scholarship ($190), Ida Wilkens Berger Scholarship ($1,000).

Becker, daughter of Tom and Carol Becker, is a senior at UN-L majoring in family and consumer sciences. She was awarded the Dortha E. Lutjeharms Scholarship worth $1,000.

Walking Daily May Help To Prevent Diabetes

According to an 8-year study in the Journal of the American Medical Association, cutting your risk of Type 2 Diabetes may be as simple as taking a brisk one hour walk daily. Researchers found walking as effective as doing more vigorous exercises such as running or jogging. They believe walking is beneficial because it aids in weight loss and helps your body use insulin more efficiently. Walking is easy to do, can be done anywhere, and it rarely leads to injury.

Wayne High royalty

The 2001 Homecoming Royalty at Wayne High are Lacey Ball and Marcus Berns (center). They were crowned during ceremonies at the school last Wednesday. Other candidates included, left to right, Karla Keller, Andrea Simpson, Kayla Schmale, Jessica Murtaugh, Brad Hansen, David Jammer, Brad Hochstein and Nick Lipp. Crowning this year's king and queen were last year's royalty, Trevor Wright and Katie Walton. This year's crown bearers were Kennedy Stowater and Ian Campbell. The week's activities also included Dress Up days, a parade, football game and dance.

Veteran's Day program to be held in Northeast

The public is invited to honor veterans at the third annual Veteran's Day observance Monday, Nov. 12th, at 10 a.m. at Northeast Community College in Norfolk.

A special Veteran's Day program is scheduled in the Cox Activities Center Theater at 10 with broadcaster Mark Ahmann of Wayne as the featured speaker. At 7 that morning, there will be a flag raising ceremony at the entrance to the campus on East Benjamin Avenue in Norfolk.

Ahmann has 40 years' experience in the broadcasting business, most recently at KTCH AM/FM in Wayne. He also does Wayne State College football and basketball play by play for KTCH.

The NECC Veteran's Committee hosts this event to recognize veterans on the NECC campus, whether they are students, faculty, staff, or administration. Other activities are planned for NECC veterans in observance of Veteran's Day.

For more information, contact Les Richmond at (402)844-7104.

Emergency medical workshops planned

Northeast Community College and the State Health Department will co-sponsor several continuing education workshops for emergency medical personnel throughout northeast Nebraska.

All workshops are from 7-10 p.m. Most classes are held at the city fire halls. The long distance classes are at community high schools in the distance learning classroom.

These workshops are provided to update current knowledge of procedures and for continuing education units toward re-licensing. Pre-registration is required for long-distance workshops because of limited classroom space. Pre-registration is also recommended for other workshops.

The workshops, their sites, dates, and instructors include:

Medical Emergencies, course number EMT 0248-60, Bartlett long distance site, Nov. 15th. Julie Mertens is the instructor;

High Blood Pressure Not Treated in US?

The New England Journal of Medicine indicates that 27% of adults in the US have high blood pressure, or hypertension. Over time uncontrolled high blood pressure can damage small blood vessels and produce numerous health problems - including stroke, heart attack, vision loss, and kidney disease.

A variety of prescription medicines can reduce one's chances of having serious health problems due to high blood pressure. Many of these medicines are relatively safe and inexpensive. yet, based on a national survey of more than 16,000 adults, only about 1 in 4 adults with high blood pressure is taking medicines to control pressure.

Persons having blood pressures of at least 140/90 mm Hg were considered to have hypertension. Interestingly, 30% of them were unaware of their condition. Persons most likely to be unaware of their high blood pressure tended to be at least 65 years old, male, and/or black.

Helping kids cope with stress

Children must learn to think through a problem. Some specific strategies include self-talk, writing about the problem and making a plan. Thinking positively and thinking up real solutions is important.

Adults can:

Show how they can cope in a healthy way. Keep calm, control anger, think through a plan, and share the plan with the family.

Be proactive. Plan plenty of playtime, inform children about changes, and plan activities where children can play out their feelings. Books, art, puppetry, play and writing help children think through and name their feelings.

Develop thinking skills. Help children think through the consequences of actions. Pose situations (friendship, stealing, emergencies) and think through actions. Ask open-ended questions about what the solutions to problems could include, such as "What could we do about this?"

Help children tell reality from fantasy. A child's behavior, for example, did not cause his or her parents' divorce.

As an adult, focus on the stressor. Model how thinking through options for dealing with difficult people, situations or problems helps you find solutions.

Find individual talking time. Talk about stressful events and everyday events.

Use stories and books. Stories can help the child identify with the feelings of the character and tap their own feelings to ease them out for discussion and to discuss coping strategies.

Use art for expressing feelings. Paint, clay, sand and water all allow for active expression.

Encourage children to act out coping skills. Playing with dolls, boxes, toy telephones, puppets, blocks, cars and similar items provides another avenue to bring feel-

Ignoring problems, changing the subject, not worrying about it, or changing an action can be coping strategies.

Identify what could cause stress and plan ways to avoid it or deal with it.

Encourage children to be proud of themselves in some way. Developing a special interest or skill can serve as a source of pride and self-esteem.

Use gentle humor or read a silly book to create laughter and to reframe negative thoughts into opportunities.

Offer personal space. Modify the environment. Quite space and alone time should be allowed. (Adjust noise levels and check the traffic pattern.)

Teach relaxation and deep breathing techniques. Ask children to close their eyes and imagine a quiet and or happy place (the beach with waves, a birthday party, a cup of hot chocolate).

Teach conflict resolution strategies. Teach children to think through alternative ways to solve problems. Who else can help solve given problems? What additional information do they need?

As adults, we can make sure we don't add to children's stress by expecting them to act in adult ways. We can praise, be positive, seek positive solutions, help children name their feelings, teach fairness, help children learn to like themselves, be patient, teach honesty and give lots of love and encouragement, particularly during difficult times.

Source: NF98-387 Children and Stress. Herbert G. Lingren, Former Extension Family Scientist

ings out for discussion.

Give the child some degree of control. Children should be allowed to choose within the framework of what is expected. Allow them to make some manageable decisions, such as how to arrange their room, to voice their opinion in some family decisions, which activity to complete.

Foresee Stressful Situations and Avoid Them

If we can foresee an event, we can often block it as a stressor.

Baptism

Caden Gary Hank

Caden Gary Hank was baptized at Grace Lutheran Church in Wayne on Oct. 14. He is the son of Chad and Holly Hank of Tea, S.D. Sponsors were Kristen Hank, Jessica Sebade and John and Robyn Ostermeyer. Pastor Jeff Anderson officiated.

A dinner followed in the church basement. Approximately 60 people attended from Laurel, Emerson, Wakefield, Wayne, Carroll, Columbus, Norfolk, Omaha, South Sioux City, Tea, S.D., Dennison, Iowa and Carson, Calif. Caden was born Sept. 10, 2001.

Kid Care program is scheduled

Child care providers can learn more about: Food, it's more than just eating at the Kid Care Video program on Thursday, Nov. 8. The program includes: Fun times with foods; Ten ways to explore foods; Playing with food...right or wrong?

The program will be held at the Haskell Ag Lab, east of Concord on Thursday, Nov. 8 from 7 to 9 p.m. There is no cost and child care providers can receive training hours for attending. Pre-registration is being requested by noon the day of the program. A minimum number of people participating will be required to hold each session. The videos will be maintained for one year, and they may be checked out any time after the program.

Each participant will receive a certificate verifying their attendance and indicating two hours of continuing education credits earned. If you have any questions or to pre-register, call the Dixon County Extension Office or Amy Topp in the Wayne County Extension Office.

The Dixon County number is 402-584-2234 and the Wayne County number is 402-375-3310.

Outdoor wedding unites Winside couple on Sept. 1

An outdoor wedding was held Sept. 1, 2001 for June Lorene Topp and Richard Bernie Bowers, both of Winside.

Briefly Speaking

Women's Club to gather

WAYNE — The Wayne Women's Club will meet Nov. 9 at the Club rooms.

Roll call will be "the most unusual trip you have taken." The program will be presented by Pastor and Mrs. Bill Koeber speaking about their trip to Germany. Hostesses will be Martha Svoboda and Ruth Reed.

The group met on Oct. 12 at the Club rooms. There were 17 members and one guest, Nana Peterson, present.

Roll call was the bringing of something old that had handed down to each person. Nana Peterson gave a discussion on antiques and told members the value of each piece of antique that they had brought.

Helen Beckman and Marjorie Olson were hostesses.

P.E.O. Chapter ID gathers

AREA — P.E.O. Chapter ID met in the home of Rita Keller on Oct. 29 with Betsy Maryott and Marian Clark serving as co-hostesses.

Jeanne Reigle of Madison was a guest. Ms. Reigle serves as state organizer for Nebraska P.E.O. chapters and was present to review chapter activities and proceedings. She met with chapter officers prior to the meeting at a dinner hosted by Marilyn Yates of Wayne.

The next regular meeting of Chapter ID will be on Monday, Nov. 12 in the home of Donna Ewing. Kathy Johnson and Patricia Arneson will serve as co-hostesses with Susan Holstedt giving the program.

Recent initiates into Chapter ID P.E.O. include Connie Barry, Kathy Johnson, Erin Arneson and Tracy Anderson.

Local agent is honored

Gene Kosch of Wayne, Field Agent for the Knights of Columbus was cited for his outstanding life insurance service at the 51st Annual Convention of the National Fraternal Insurance Counsellors at the Denver Marriott Tech Center in Denver, Colo.

Gene Kosch

Kosch was presented the Quality Service for One Year Two Million Club award based on 2000 production.

As a Fraternal Insurance Counsellor, he was required to complete an extensive basic and advanced training course, pass three comprehensive examinations and meet established requirements. Kosch has been a representative in this area since 1998.

Council recognized for its achievements

Father Kearnes Council #86 of Wayne was recently recognized for its achievements.

The council was named a Star Council for 2000-2001. A total of 1,326 councils received the Star Council Award for this fraternal year.

The award recognizes excellence in volunteer fraternal and charitable activities, membership recruitment and insurance promotion.

These councils conducted at least 20 charitable and fraternal programs — four in each of the five "Surge . . . with Service" areas (church, community, council, family and youth). The councils also achieved their membership and insurance quotas.

The Grand Knight of each council received an engraved plaque from the Supreme Council in recognition of their accomplishments.

Bible institute continues

The fourth session of Lutheran Bible Institute sponsored by the West Point Circuit of the Lutheran Church Missouri Synod was held Oct. 28 at St. John Lutheran Church of Pilger.

The welcome was given by the dean, Pastor Richard Pingel of St. John's in Pender and the introduction of the Children's Bell Choir of St. John Lutheran Church of Lyons, under the direction of Priscilla Warren.

Pastor Terry Daberkow of St. Paul Lutheran Church of Bancroft conducted opening and closing devotions. Included in the devotions was the singing of the hymn "By Grace I'm Saved," and "My Hope is Built on Nothing Less," accompanied by Mrs. Marvin Daberkow of Bancroft.

Pastor Robert Hedtke was the moderator for a panel of pastors who answered questions from the audience. Panel members were Pastor James Carretto, Pastor Ricky Jacob, Pastor Jeffery Bloom and Pastor Roger Sheppmann.

There were 129 people registered at the Institute. Members of St. John Lutheran Church of Pilger served lunch.

A special Reformation Service was held Oct. 31.

Board members this year are Pastor Richard Pingel of St. John Lutheran Church of Pender, dean; Kenneth Schoch of St. Paul in Bancroft, chairman; Virgil Loewe of St. Paul in Wisner, treasurer; Mae Broekemeier of St. Paul Lutheran in West Point, registrar; Marian Woltemath of St. John Lutheran in Pender, publicity; and Marian Metzger of Zion Lutheran in Bancroft, secretary.

All board members will continue for the upcoming year.

Women of the ELCA meet

Members of the Faith and Joy Circles of Our Savior Lutheran Church met for the October meeting in the church's social room on Oct. 10.

A short business meeting was held prior to the program. Noteworthy items included a Convention report given by Phyllis Rahn and Lila Splittgerber who attended State Convention in Kearney. All members present received minutes of the October Executive Board meeting.

The visitation report was handed out, stating 13 members and Pastor Bill were present. There were 53 members visited and 57 cards sent to members.

The sewing report was also

Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne has begun a new series of messages that will continue through the month of November.

The series, entitled "The Fruit Filled Life," is based on Galatians 5:22. On Sunday evening, Nov. 4, "Peace" will be the fruit discussed, followed by "Patience," "Kindness" and on Nov. 25, "Self-Control."

Our Savior's weekly contemporary service is casually called "The Seven" because worship is held each Sunday evening, beginning at 7 p.m.

"The Seven's Praise Worship format is designed to have a different flavor than traditional worship services and offers a unique style of worship to the Wayne community," said Sherie Lundahl, who is Director of Worship and Music Ministries at Our Savior Lutheran Church.

"Each week we utilize thought-provoking dramas, inspiring music and people-friendly messages to reach out to our worshippers. We encourage worshippers to lift up their voice in song and their hands in praise. We extend a special invitation to the community to come and worship with us."

"We have an advanced sound system here at Our Savior, which is a great avenue for the use of our guitars, keyboards, drums and congas. We are very excited about our talented worship team who lead worshippers each week in uplifting songs of praise. We also have an exceptional team of actors who provide Christian-based dramas on a regular basis."

Our Savior continues to offer weekend worship services on Saturday evenings at 6 p.m. and Sunday mornings at 8 and 10:30 p.m. Our Savior is located at the corner of Fifth and Main Streets. For more information, contact the church office at (402) 375-2899.

All Saints Day to be observed

Wayne United Methodist Church will observe All Saints Day by remembering members who have passed away during the year.

The Charge/Church Conference will also be a part of this Sunday's 9:30 a.m. worship with District Superintendent Dr. Marvin Koelling preaching.

Communion will be served during the 8:15 a.m. service only.

CROP Walk raises funds

A total of 43 CROP Walkers this year raised $1,473.18 for needs in the Wayne area and around the world.

Seventy-five percent of the money goes to feeding the hungry, providing safe, clean drinking water and removing land mines which kill and maim people and livestock.

Twenty-five percent of the funds raised stays in the community to help people with food shelter and medicine.

Our Savior Lutheran Church raised $788.18; Wayne United Methodist, $590; Calvary Bible $50 and Carroll United Methodist, $45.

Pastor Mary Tyler Browne of the Wayne and Carroll United Methodist Churches extended a thank you to all those who gave to CROP this year.

Pastors to attend synod conference in Kearney

Kevin E. Ruffcorn and Bill A. Koeber, pastors at Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne, will be attending the 2001 Nebraska Synod Theological Conference Nov. 4-6 at the Holiday Inn in Kearney.

They will be joining Evangelical Lutheran Church in America pastors from across the state of Nebraska as well as other Nebraska church leaders for a time of inspiration and fellowship.

The theme for the Theological Conference is Transformation: Vision and Leadership.

Keynote speakers for the event at Bill Easum and Elna Solvang. Easum recently published "Leadership on the Otherside: No Rules, Just Clues" and is also the author of "Dancing with Dinosaurs, Sacred Cows Make Gourmet Burgers" and "Growing Spiritual Redwoods" with Thomas Bandy. Elna Solvang is Assistant Professor of Religion at Concordia College in Moorhead, Minn. She received a Ph.D. in Old Testament from Princeton Theological Seminary and previously serves as an assistant Executive Director for the ELCA's Commission for Women.

A Tanzanian Youth Choir that is visiting Nebraska during the month of November will sing at the Sunday banquet and Monday worship. Offerings taken at the conference will go to the Ngarony Youth Camp in Tanzania. The Tanzanian Choir will be singing at Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne on Saturday, Nov. 10 and Sunday, Nov. 11.

For more information, contact the church office at (402) 375-2899.

Bethany Presbyterian women hold meeting

Bethany Presbyterian Women of Carroll met Oct. 17.

Moderator Charlene Jones conducted the business meeting. She read Psalm 67.

Ten members were present.

It was announced that lunch was served to 60 people after Lois Jenkin's funeral on Oct. 6.

A special quilting meeting will be held on Nov. 14. There will be a meeting on Wednesday, Dec. 5 at 2 p.m. Dorothy Rees will present a program on Christmas music. Each member is to bring one-half dozen cookies and a $2 non-perishable item for the Wayne food pantry instead of a gift exchange.

The group voted to provide a Christmas gift for a nursing home resident.

Plans were made for a cooperative Harvest Supper on Wednesday, Nov. 7 at 6:30 p.m. Guests are welcome to attend.

JoAnn Owens presented the program on the beauty of autumn. She read from Psalm 105, closing with prayer and the hymn "Blessed Assurance."

Family Math night is held

Winside Elementary recently hosted the K-1 Family Math Night at the school. Sixty students, siblings, and parents attended the event. The theme of the evening was Exploring Math. Participants worked at six different stations that included activities correlated with each of the six K-1 Nebraska Math Standard Strands. At the close of the evening, K-1 students received a special math-literature book and a certificate. Coordinators for the event were Laura Straight, kindergarten teacher; Eilene Loetscher, first grade teacher; Nicole Cross, first grade student teacher and Barb Kollath, Title 1 and Computer Coordinator. First grader Brittany Janke works on a tangram puzzle with her mom Lisa while brother Nathan creates his own pattern.

Library to host Christmas Craft information evening

The Wayne Public Library will be hosting a Christmas Craft Demonstration on Monday, Nov. 12 at 7 p.m.

Featuring Amy Wriedt Schweers, the evening will include information about craft booths and shows, as well as current trends in crafting.

Schweers will talk about the use of recycled items such as chenille blankets, window screens, and barn wood, as well as methods of using fabric in crafts. The evening will also include a step-by-step demonstration for assembling a chenille snowman.

Several examples of finished craft products will be on display and chenille snowman kits will be available to take home for the cost of materials.

The program is free and open to the public. Refreshments will be served after the demonstration and a drawing will be held for the door prize of a Christmas Tree Skirt.

Ladies Aid of Immanuel Church gather

Thirteen members of the Ladies Aid of Immanuel Lutheran Church of rural Wakefield met Oct. 18.

Pastor Handrich led the study of Love, one of the fruits of the Spirit. Hazel Hank opened the meeting with the reading, "The Riches from Above."

Thank you notes were read from the Wayne Chapter of the Red Cross for health items that had been donated and from Nila Schuttler, the LWML Zone President, for hosting the LWML Fall Rally.

Hazel Hank read the Fall Rally minutes and a letter for Stuart Rethwisch. She also read the report of Mrs. Merle Roeber about her shut-in visiting. Neva Echtenkamp said the Christmas cards and napkins have arrived.

She thanked the Fall Rally committees. Dorothy Meyer will write to the seminary students. Beverly Ruwe's birthday was acknowledged.

Hostesses were Neva Echtenkamp and Dorothy Meyer.

The next meeting is scheduled for Thursday, Nov. 15 at 2 p.m.

Loves the autumn beauty

Livestock Market Report

I've tried to pack as much enjoyment of autumn beauty as I possibly could this month. And, it's been a great month for it. There have been all kinds of yellows and golds, with a few orange and once in a while, dark reds among the trees.

I had to make a quick trip to Norfolk a couple of weeks ago, and I feasted on corn fields, soy bean bushes, combines and trees all the way.

Two grandsons spent a few hours at Platte River Park with me on a sunny afternoon; and last week, we caught some Missouri color on Lake of the Ozarks.

Even doing hospice visits in Lincoln, there are stretches along Holdrege Street, Cotner Boulevard and Pioneer that have huge established gorgeous trees. Only problem is, some have very odd shapes because they have been trimmed for electric and telephone wires. There are some purple bushes, and a few flaming ones. Our local church choir is gradually declining in membership. Older members stop coming, and

By: Pat Melerhenry

younger ones never start. The director had twin grandsons a year ago, and we haven't met regularly since. (I believe we just had the fifth set of twins in five years in our church; and this is not a large congregation.) I've already told you I learned I have a choir voice rather than a band one.

Consequently, when our church bulletin announced auditions for the Lincoln Lutheran choir, I called the phone number listed. It was the home of the director, a professor at Concordia.

This choir has a long, illustrious history; and I've attended some of their concerts. As Garrison Keillor says, "Lutherans sing four-part harmony. They practice in Lincoln on Sunday afternoons; I've mentioned that in a previous column.

The concert is in two weeks. One of the songs is a motet by Bach, Johann Sebastian, no less; whom Lutherans love to claim. Well, I'm about to disown him! It is so hard, and so high, and has such strange rhythm patterns; and it goes on and on. I feel like we are plowing behind horses!

Finally, yesterday it was coming together; after spending the whole first hour of rehearsal in sections, picking it apart. I began to glimpse the beauty of all the counter point. And I came home hoarse again.

You do wonder sometimes why you do it. I'd love to take a nap on Sundays instead. I hope it's because of the way Bach signed all his compositions: "Soli Des Gloria," To God Be the Glory. I have a sign that reads, "Music is well said to be the speech of angels."

Mike's Aunt Ella is 90-years-old in November. This is the first year she isn't singing in choir. She doesn't like to drive at night, and the stairs to the choir loft are getting too steep. That's what I call commitment! She can be my role model.

Wayne County 4-H youth and leaders to be honored

Wayne County 4-Hers and leaders will be receiving special recognition at the Wayne County 4-H Achievement program to be held Sunday, Nov. 4, beginning at 6:30 p.m. at the Wayne United Methodist Church in Wayne.

Several 4-Hers will be awarded county medals for project achievement. Special awards and trophies will be presented in the family and consumer science and livestock areas. Those 4-Hers with one, five, 10 and 11 years of 4-H membership will be acknowledged, as well as leaders with two, five, 10, 15 and 25 years of leadership service.

Wayne County 4-H Council members will also be elected in conjunction with the Achievement Program. All 4-H parents and leaders will be eligible to vote for adult members. A slate of nominees is being prepared. All 4-H youth will be eligible to vote for the youth members.

Newly elected council members will replace outgoing adult members Pam Ekberg and Jack Sievers, and youth members Ann Temme and Tim Puntney. Council members with one year yet to serve are Diane Roeber, Kevin Davis, Tamara Schardt and James Felt. The Wayne County 4-H council plays an important role in improving the county, developing policy for 4-H events and coordinating the awards and recognition program.

All 4-H families, as well as prospective 4-H members, are invited to attend. A light supper, sponsored by the Wayne County banks, will precede the program.

EMERGING AGRICULTURAL TECHNOLOGY

Ken Wolfgram, Technical Manager, Caterpillar, Inc. congratulates Kylie Bearnese of the Laurel-Concord FFA chapter.

Bearnese is finalist in FFA program

Kylie Jeannine Bearnese, 19, of the Laurel-Concord FFA Chapter is one of four national finalists who competed for the title of national winner in the Emerging Agricultural Technology proficiency award program at the 74th National FFA Convention held Oct. 24-27 in Louisville, Ky.

Proficiency award programs recognize FFA members who excelled as agricultural entrepreneurs, employees or volunteers while they gained hands-on career experience. Emerging Agricultural Technology is one of 46 FFA proficiency Award Programs sponsored by Caterpillar, Inc., as a special project of the National FFA Foundation.

Utilizing a job with Syngenta Seeds, Kylie has been able to learn about seed production and the development of research in the seed industry. She has been involved with research plots and as an assistant with a local agricultural research laboratory. Working over 1,400 hours during the past two years, Kylie has developed skills in areas such as plot maintenance and defoliation simulation. She is currently enrolled at the University of Nebraska where she is majoring in Biochemistry.

Kylie is the daughter of Kent and Kim Bearnese. Her advisor is Curt Friedel.

FFA is a national organization of 457,298 members preparing for leadership and careers in the science, business and technology of agriculture. Local, state and national programs provide opportunities for students to apply knowledge and skills learned in the classroom.

The organization has 7,331 local chapters located throughout the United States, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. The FFA mission is to make a positive difference in the lives of students by developing their potential for premier leadership, personal growth and career success through agricultural education.

Series being presented in Norfolk on terrorism

An in-depth look at America's war on terrorism will be the focus of a six-part series of educational forums sponsored by Northeast Community College.

Open to the public at no charge, the series will begin November 1. No registration is required and interested individuals may attend as many of the forums as they wish. The events will be held at varying dates and times to allow maximum participation and each forum will last about an hour.

"We felt that many Northeast students have a hard time understanding the terrorist activities and U.S. war efforts since they don't have a frame of reference from past events," said Tammy Day, a counselor at the college and one of the event's organizers.

"There is also a lot of fear, anxiety, and anger among students as well as the general public," Day said, "and the best way to alleviate those emotions is with information and education."

The forums and schedule information:

"What Does This Crisis Mean to Me?" Thursday, November 1 at 11:00 a.m. in the Cox Activities Center Theatre. Topics will include a review of the events since the September 11 attacks and overview of the upcoming series topics.

"Terrorism Exposed" will be on Tuesday, November 6 at 5:30 p.m. in the Lifelong Learning Center. Topics covered include the reasons terrorism is used, the background of Osama bin Laden, U.S. foreign policy on terrorism, and more.

"Where in the World is Afghanistan?" is scheduled for Wednesday, November 14 at 12:00 noon in the Cox Activities Center. Discussion will center on the geography of the Middle East, the Islamic culture, and how Osama bin Laden's Islamic beliefs may vary with others.

"How Do We Cope?" will be Monday, November 19 at 2:00 p.m. in the Cox Activities Center. The focus of this series will be the psychological impact of the terrorist attacks, how to cope with the varying emotions people are experiencing, and information overload.

"The Impact of the War on Terrorism: Effects on Northeast Nebraskans" will be held Tuesday, November 27 at 7:00 p.m. in the Lifelong Learning Center. The local impact will be discussed, including economic issues, community preparedness, health issues, and agricultural concerns.

The series will close with "Winning and Losing the War on Terrorism: Where Are We Now?" It will be held Thursday, December 6 at 9:30 a.m. in the Cox Activities Center. Forum planners say topics for this event have not been set, since things will likely change by this time and they want to remain flexible in the forum focus.

Speakers at the forums will be local and regional residents with expertise or personal experiences in the particular topic area. Anyone interested in participating on the panels should contact the forum organizers as soon as possible.

For more information or to provide information and expertise at one or more of the forums, contact Tammy Day at 844-7277.

Carroll Legion Auxiliary makes favors for Annex

The Carroll American Legion Auxiliary met in the Doris Harmer home on Oct. 23 with nine members present.

President Jo Ann Owens opened the meeting with the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag followed by a reading of "I Am the Flag" and group singing of "God Bless America."

The group will bring useful items for residents of the new Norfolk Annex. Members made 75 Christmas table favors for the Annex.

Jo Ann Owens will host the next meeting which will be on Tuesday, Nov. 27 at the Carroll Fire Hall.

Sharing books

HOUSE LEFTY'S MEMORABILIA
Sylvia Olson, wife of the late Merlin "Lefty" Olson, has okayed the inclusion of her husband's Wakefield Main Street Memorabilia Collection to be housed in the Barelman Round Barn when it is restored.

The Wakefield Heritage Organization met on Oct. 20 with Mrs. Olson. The group wants to move the round barn, which is currently located on a farm south of town, into Wakefield and use it as a heritage learning center and museum.

The WHO group will continue its fundraising efforts with a soup lunch and auction on Saturday, Nov. 3 at the Gardner Senior Center. At that time, cast resin sculptures will be presented to Ward and Laura Barelman and family and Sylvia Olson. The Barelmans have donated the barn to the community for restoration.

The sculptures created by artist Kirby D. Mousel are numbered. Numbers 1 and 2 will be given to the Barelmans and Mrs. Olson. Numbers 3, 4, and 5 will be auctioned Nov. 3 with Pete Crown serving as auctioneer. The sculptures will then be available free exclusively at the Iowa-Nebraska Bank for a minimum donation to the project of $150.

The lunch on Nov. 3 will feature chicken noodle soup and chili along with dessert for $4 per person. Serving will begin at 11 a.m. Those attending will be eligible for WHO hats which will be given away as door prizes.

PENNIES FOR PEACE

Students at the Wakefield Community School have joined the Aid Association for Lutheran's "Pennies for Peace" campaign. AAL has announced it will match up to $1 million nationwide in pennies collected for peace and contribute the proceeds to the American Red Cross to help the victims of the Sept. 11 terrorist attack.

The fourth graders are charting the pennies each elementary classroom has donated so far. The fourth grade students are students of Jaime Manz. They and their classmates are doing the calculations and recordings as a math project.

The students report that so far 266 pounds of pennies have been collected. The Republican calculated there are about 165 pennies in a pound so 266 pounds would equal approximately 43,890 pennies or $438.90.

After the students dropped their five-gallon buckets of pennies off at Iowa-Nebraska State Bank on Tuesday, they have not checked to see how close their calculations were.

The collection began Oct. 17 and will end Oct. 31. Mrs. Linda Steinman's Kindergarten class has collected 66 pounds. The room which collects the most pennies will be treated to a pizza party.

Secondary efforts: The student council is promoting the project among junior high and high school students and also in the community. Donation containers are in several locations at school including the lunchroom, the office and Mrs. Remer's office.

Collection containers are also at the Fair Store, Iowa-Nebraska State Bank and the C Store.

"We would appreciate your support for this worthwhile project," state student council members. "Although this is a penny drive, we would welcome your contribution in any denomination."

Community Club contributes: The Wakefield Community Club voted at its October coffee to donate $300 to the AAL's effort. The Community Club also challenged adults to match the efforts of the young people in donating to "Pennies for Peace."

GRANTS PROVIDE NEW BOOKS

The Library Media Center at the Wakefield Community School was the recipient of two grants from the Northeast Library System this spring. The funding has allowed the library to purchase replacement copies of 20 Newberry Books and purchase 25 Golden Sower books for students from Kindergarten to grade nine.

Students have enjoyed checking out the new books, according to Librarian Jolene Klein, and the school is grateful for two Collection Development Grants which have allowed the addition of high-quality fiction books.

MAIL CALL PROJECT

The Wakefield American Legion Auxiliary Unit 81 is supporting a Military Mail Call Project. The local unit also extends an invitation to interested persons to join them in writing letters of support and encouragement to US military personnel around the world.

The addresses for mailing letters for this project are: U.S. Army or U.S. Air Force, Any Service member, APO AE 09397 or U.S. Navy, Any Service member, APO AE 09398.

These addresses create a central point where mail will be collected and dispersed to all members of the services.

This project is similar to one instituted during Desert Storm. It was well received by service personnel and to date many continue to correspond with those who were involved in the project.

Unit 81 states, "We hope many will join the Auxiliary in lending support to the efforts being made for world peace."

HOSTING BOOK FAIR

The School Library Media Center will host a Scholastic Book Fair on Nov. 6 and 8. The center will be open from 5:30-9 p.m. each night to coincide with Parent-Teacher Conferences. The book fair will feature books for all ages, as well as posters, craft kits and other miscellaneous items.

Elementary students will have a chance to browse through the books and make a wish list before the event. Students in grades 7-12 will be able to browse after school hours. Teachers will have wish lists for their class rooms that families may consider for donation. Name plates will be placed in the donated books to recognize the child of family who made the gift to the classroom.

The Book Sale will also be open after school until 4:30 p.m. on Monday, Nov. 5 and Wednesday, Nov. 7.

The Scholastic Book Fair benefits both the children and the Library Media Center through your purchases. Children who are encouraged to read, especially good quality material, may read more, improve reading skills, score better on reading tests and be more likely to develop the habits of life-long reading and learning.

For every item purchased at the book fair, the Library Media Center receives a portion towards free books and cash to purchase additional titles for the library. "Your support is greatly appreciated," states Librarian Jolene Klein.

Speaker gives insight on 'real world'

In an effort to prepare teens for the real world and the world for a new generation, Eric Chester of Lakewood, Colo. spoke recently at Laurel-Concord Public School to over 1300 students. On Oct. 18, a general assembly was held, workshops were held during the afternoon and evening, and on Oct. 19, there were staff and afternoon workshops.

Eric Chester motivate and understand America's youth. Chester is publisher and a contributing editor for the book, "TEEN POWER: A Treasury of Solid Gold Advice for Today's Teens by America's Top Youth Speakers, Trainers, and Authors," of which more than 200,000 copies have been sold. His new book, "And You Thought Generation X was Tough! A Guide to Working with America's Newest Generation" is set for release in late 2001.

A great deal of Chester's experience with "Generation Why" comes from his role as father/stepfather to four "Generation Why" youth. He is married and lives in Lakewood, Colo. and serves as president of Generation Why. Chester has a Masters degree in education from Northern Arizona University and holds CPS (Certified Speaking Professional) credential awarded by the National Speakers Association.

Twelve schools were involved in bringing students and staff to listen to Chester's motivating words. Schools participating in this event were: Allen Consolidated, Bloomfield Community, Coleridge Community, Emerson-Hubbard Public, Laurel-Concord Public, Pender Public, Ponca Public, Niobrara Public, Norfolk Public, Osmond Public, Wakefield Public, and Wynot Public. Many area parents also attended.

It was through Leslie Bebee and the Gardner Foundation along with many Laurel businesses and several businesses in the local area that Chester's visit was made possible.

Today's teens (those born after 1977), coined by Chester as "Generation Why" are entering the workforce and society with new attitudes, values and beliefs and America is baffled. Chester has been speaking to and working with "Generation Why" youth since 1986. He also appears frequently on national media such as "Good Morning America," "NSNBC," "FoxNews," "CNN," etc. providing insight and perspectives to adults.

Chester presents programs that help adults effectively manage,

Pheasant Season 2001 begins

Pheasant season has arrived and hunters took to the field for the regular South Dakota Pheasant season which opened October 20 at 12:00 noon.

Our Nebraska season will open this weekend, the 27th hour before sunrise.

Forecasts indicated that areas with good habitat would be where hunters would find good concentrations of pheasants.

The cold, windy winter, which occurred in both South Dakota and Nebraska, really hammered the pheasant population last year.

CRP fields planted to the taller Switchgrass didn't fair well last winter. The heavy snow, which covered much of the area, knocked down the tall grass, suffocating many of the roosting birds.

Fields planted to the shorter native grasses, which are generally not as thick as the Switchgrass stands don't catch as much snow and didn't get knocked down as quickly as the taller grasses, providing some habitat for the birds.

In our area, shelterbelts help the birds to survive the winters, but strong winds filled the trees, forcing the birds into the open into any remaining habitat that remained.

Late last winter the larger concentrations of birds were found feeding in or around cattle feedlots feeding on the waste grain.

Reports from South Dakota show the Huron, Chamberlain and Pierre had good numbers of birds on both public and private ground.

Brood surveys indicated that these areas would have the best population this season.

The Game & Parks survey showed that Huron had a 43% increase over last year, Pierre a 38% increase and Chamberlain a 25% increase.

Hunters were able to find larger concentrations of birds in areas where the crops had been harvested. The corn being out helped the hunters, as it cut down the number of places that the birds would be located.

The key to locating pheasants in heavy cover is a good hunting dog. They will not only help you to kick up birds, they are a blessing when looking for a downed bird.

One thing that hunters need to dogs strength and can kill them if they over heat.

By carrying squirt bottles filled with water in our game vests, we can give the dogs a quick shot of water to keep them cool, which allows them to hunt without the worry of a dog going down from heat exhaustion.

In N.E. Nebraska, reports from the field have been pretty bleak. Game & Parks reports indicate that N.E. Nebraska pheasant number will be down.

Generally farmers report hitting nests while taking the first cutting of alfalfa and this year there were very few birds seen this spring.

When corn prices rose, a lot of the N.E. Nebraska CRP, which was excellent wildlife habitat was taken out of the program and put into crop production.

The following year we were hit with untimely wet weather during the pheasant hatch, which caught the young birds in the down stage. This is when they are very susceptible to hypothermia. The down soaks up the moisture and the chicks become cold and eventually die.

These items along with the bad winter really dealt a blow to our bird population.

Hunters will find pockets that will hold good numbers of birds, but as a whole it looks like the opener will be a tough one.

Pheasant numbers may not be at an all time high, but you can bet that throughout the Midwest, family and friends will come together to enjoy some great times this pheasant season.

Hunt often, hunt ethically and take a kid with you!

remember when hunting during warm weather conditions is to take water along for the dogs as the warm temperatures will sap a

Making a difference

In observance of "Make a Difference Day," Oct. 27, the second graders at Wayne Elementary read books on cassette tapes and then donated these to local businesses and organizations who serve young children. This a way to get literature into the hands (and ears) of children of all ages. Parents of second graders donated books, cassettes and money to make this project possible. They have contributed nearly $200 in cash and materials thus far. Students read at home every night and parent volunteers helped with the recordings. Above, the entire class went to Providence Medical Center to present the books. They later traveled to Goldenrod Hills (below) for a similar presentation.

Tickets on sale for Madrigal Feaste

Tickets will go on sale on Nov. 1 for the upcoming Madrigal Christmas Feastes presented by the Wayne State College Madrigal Singers.

The on-campus dinner performances will be in the Frey Conference Suite, WSC Student Center, on Saturday, Dec. 1 at 7 p.m. and Sunday, Dec. 2, at 5 p.m.

The Madrigal group, clad in sixteenth-century attire, will transport audiences back to Renaissance England under the rule of Queen Elizabeth I. Included in the evening's festivities are a traditional Elizabethan Feaste, including prime rib with all the trimmings, bread, salad, wassail drink, and flaming dessert. During the feaste, the audience will be treated to singing, poetry, and comedy, (complete with a court jester).

The Madrigal group has given more than 230 performances in their 30-year history, both in the United States and abroad. They have performed in the Westminster Cathedral in London, the Notre Dame Cathedral in Paris, the Pantheon and St. Peter's Basilica in Rome, and the Kremlin and Pavlovsk Palace in Russia. They are under the direction of Ronald R. Lofgren, D.M.A.

Tickets for the Madrigal Christmas Feastes are $17 per person. To order, call Virginia Backstrom in the WSC Fine Arts Department office at 402-375-7359.

Streak continues

The Pride of the Blue Devils completed another season of receiving Superior ratings at all of their competitions last weekend at the Wayne State Cavalcade of Bands.

First Fridays to feature Judith Berry

Judith Berry, Wayne State College art instructor, will speak on "Embracing Our Past, Present and Future by Connecting to Each Other," the only arts grant project of its kind to be awarded this year in Nebraska, during the First Fridays forum in the Niobrara Room of the Student Center on the Wayne State College campus, Nov. 2 at 9 a.m.

The $10,000 grant is a National Endowment for the Arts grant awarded to WSC and a partnership developed with the community to create public art as a civic design project.

The Wayne project is one of 164 grants awarded through the $1,470,000 Arts Endowment's Challenge America: Community Arts Development program. The project will support a partnership with the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce, the County Clerk and the Wayne School District Superintendent to aid the creation and installation of collaborative public art strategically placed throughout the Wayne area.

Area children and their parents in workshops developed by college art faculty and art students will create 40 clay sculptures and a mural in the hope that arts learning will be encouraged and pride in community heritage will be fostered. The mural will be located on the wall next to the Wayne Area Chamber office.

"The goal is to include as many members of the community as possible in various capacities throughout the creation and completion process," Berry said.

Key partnership people include the WSC Art & Design Department, Judith Berry project director, and Ray Replogle, sculptor, Wayne Public Schools, Amy Jackson, art educator; the Area Chamber of Commerce, Karin Vaughn, executive director.

National response to the Challenge America program has proven significant. The Arts Endowment received 284 applications requesting over $2,545,000 from organizations across the country, attesting to the demand for funding to support community-based arts projects. Organizations in 48 states were awarded grants to support projects that use the arts to encourage the vitality and growth of their communities.

A free continental breakfast will be served. Although designed for senior citizen appeal, all ages are welcome to attend. There is no admission charge.

During each First Fridays event, a special guest of honor is recognized, birthdays are acknowledged and a talk or performance by a member of WSC's faculty or staff completes the session. The First Fridays event series is co-sponsored, by the Visual and Performing Arts Office and the Wayne State Foundation.

Ewing part of Red Cross in Texas

Lisa Ewing, a staff member from the Lancaster County Chapter of The American Red Cross, is part of the Red Cross disaster relief effort in the Hondo area. Ewing and other Red Cross volunteers are providing emergency assistance to hundreds of South Texas residents who were affected by tornados on Oct. 12. Ewing became a part of the relief operation on Oct. 20 and immediately joined almost 200 other disaster workers on the relief effort.

"It's wonderful to be a part of the American Red Cross," Ewing agreed. "It's a great feeling knowing that we are helping the Hondo area community in its time of need."

Because of Ewing and other specially trained disaster relief workers, the American Red Cross was able to provide a wide range of relief and recovery services to disaster victims, including food and shelter, emergency medication, crisis counseling and more. So far, the Red Cross has provided more than 14,744 meals and snacks to affected residents, and opened three shelters.

Ewing was on the front line of delivering emergency assistance to families and individuals. She was a member of the Public Affairs Team, issuing media releases and handling interview requests. She is one of the specially trained members of the Red Cross National Disaster Team.

All Red Cross disaster assistance is free, made possible by voluntary gifts of time and money from the American people. To help the victims of this and other disasters, you may make a financial contribution to the American Red Cross Disaster Relief Fund by calling 1-800-755-6803.

PROCEEDINGS

WAYNE BOARD OF EDUCATION
REGULAR MEETING

October 22, 2001

The regular meeting of the Wayne Community Schools Board of Education was held at the Wayne High School in Wayne, NE on Monday, October 22, 2001 at 7:00 p.m. Notice of the meeting and place of agenda was published in the Wayne Herald.

The following board members answered roll call: Jean Blomkamp, Bill Dickey, Sue Gilmore, Dennis Lipp, and Kaya Morris. Board member John Dunning arrived at 7:02 p.m.

Adoption of the Agenda: Motion to approve the agenda as published. Motion carried.

Communications from the Public on Agenda Items: No one was present to address the board about football field/track facility but the board visited the issue. The Wayne Community Schools Foundation met and discussed their direction they want to take. Board members of the foundation include: Ken Dahl, Judy Peters, Bob Reeg, Tim Sharer, Don Koeber, and Jean Blomkamp. It was discussed to have three major areas in which alumni could donate to: athletics (track), fine arts, scholarships. Direction has also been received that something should be done with field to crown it while doing the track. If the track is done and decision is made to work on the field, heavy equipment would have to be brought across the new surfaced track. Wayne State College (WSC) and Wayne Community Schools (WCS) are going to be working on the same type of project in the same community, both Foundations need to talk and communicate how each is going to solicit financial resources. The WCS Foundation has a plan on how to contact alumni. Class lists have been compiled and key people in each class will be contacted and asked to follow-up with their classmates. Rocky Ruhl contacted Firestone about rebate offers using Nebraska tires. The rebate would come from the Ford Company. The application materials are to be sent to the school district. It was noted that the grant would pay for 65% of the cost of the total project. Todd Barry, WSC Athletic Director, was present and will set up a time with Jean Blomkamp to have the two foundations meet.

Informational Items or Reports:

American History Grant: Dr. Reinert had applied for Teaching American History Grant Program, funded by the U.S. Department of Education. Our application was not selected for funding.

Physical Education Grant: Dr. Reinert had also applied for Physical Education for Progress grants, funded again by the U.S. Department of Education. It was written to help fund the track renovation to be used for elementary and middle school physical education classes. Our application was not selected for funding.

Results of TAGLIT Survey: TAGLIT (Taking a Good Look at Instructional Technology) was funded by Bill and Melinda Gates, founder of Microsoft. Teachers in the high school and middle school were grouped in one survey and elementary school was another survey. Ten percent of students completed the survey in grades 3-12. Board members found it interesting and concerning to read the teachers and students comments. Individuals are putting the solution before the problem. Life cycle funding is what the technology committee is trying to achieve. In the elementary school, references were made to having stand-alone machines, yet it takes someone to maintain those machines. There is elementary software teachers like to use and load on their computers without realizing it takes space on the server and maybe only one teacher uses it. These results will be given to the A-Data Collection committee to define the areas that the district needs to address, whether it is staff training, familiarity with applications, etc. Copies will also be given to the technology committee. It was discussed how Laurel handles their staff training. Technology staff personnel train teachers to be trainers, in which oversee three or four other teachers in close proximity to their rooms to answer questions.

Discussion of 2001-2002 Board Goals: Information gathered from the board retreat held on August 27, 2001 was discussed and evaluated. Three main areas of concern are: 1) money/financial status; 2) technology; and 3) strategic plan for track facility. Ideas and changes were discussed to set new goals and how to accomplish existing goals. Information will be compiled and reviewed at the next meeting in November.

With the special legislative session coming up, the school district is not able to commit any monetary figures until the legislature makes their decisions on budget cuts. State aid is a commitment to public education. Private entities that receive money from the state probably will not be considered for budget cuts in the special session. Dr. Reinert and Jean Blomkamp will compose a letter on behalf of the Board to the state Senators on how cuts in state aid would affect school districts and are legally dependent on that money.

The open house/dedication committee for the middle school has met. They have set a date for the evening of Monday, January 7, 2002 at 6:30 p.m. They have set a snow date of Sunday, January 13, 2002 at 2:00 p.m.

Superintendent's Evaluation: Board members were given packets to complete and return. Dr. Reinert will provide information to board members about his accomplishments over the past year to help them complete their evaluation.

Superintendent: 2001-2002 Budget: Dr. Reinert provided board members with a breakdown of outstanding expenditures. Currently, there is $130,000.00 in outstanding bills that will be paid in November. The budget does include a cash reserve of $500,000 but most of that would be used for payroll. He wanted them to be aware of the financial status of the district and to see how the legislature cuts in state aid could affect the district.

Board Committees:

Americanism — It is state law to have an Americanism committee. Dennis Lipp has served on the committee and will be joined by Sue Gilmore and Bill Dickey. The state statute is 79-724 and outlines various items that should be done in schools to promote Americanism.

Policy — Administrative Regulation 4001 Personnel Certified Employment was discussed and changes made, with some sections needing to be reworked. It will be reviewed again at the next meeting in November.

SPED Director Kraig Lofquist explained administrative Regulation 5500 Students

Graduation Guidelines for Special Education. Due to unique Individualized Education Plans, students may graduate at different times under different circumstances and those have been addressed in this administrative regulation. Currently, there 104 IEP's for students who have been identified.

Facilities — Modulars-Dr. Reinert has received several phone calls inquiring about the modulars after we have moved back into the middle school. Heritage Homes has provided floor plans to create a flyer to be put in Bahr, Venneer, Haecker booth at the State School Boards Convention. Interested parties can then contact the school to inquire about them in more detail. Dr. Reinert hopes bids received are enough to pay off the modulars. If the school district does not receive the right bids, the board inquired what it would cost for modulars to sit there for a year (heating, insurance, etc.) If they would be moved within a 3-mile radius of Wayne, they could be moved as one; but, if they are moved out of town, they would have to be split apart.

Carroll Elementary-Board President Sue Gilmore attended the Village of Carroll meeting on Wednesday. She told them it was the consensus of the Board of Education to close Carroll and to not let it become an eye sore in the community. Jeff Morlok of Otte Construction also attended the meeting to discuss options with the village. The school district could tear it down at an expensive cost. An individual could buy it to rehab and convert into apartments. The school occupies a full city block and the building sets on the northeast quarter. Carroll is in the process of conducting a housing survey.

Future Agenda Items: Items for the future agenda includes: administrative regulation 4001 and 2001-2002 Board of Education goals.

The Board did not enter into executive session.

Adjournment: Motion to adjourn at 9:30 p.m. Motion carried.

The next regular meeting of the Wayne Community Schools Board of Education will be held on Monday, November 12, 2001 at 6:00 p.m. at the Wayne High School in Wayne. Board members will be touring the new middle school at 5:30 p.m., prior to the meeting. An honor coffee will be held at 7:00 p.m. to honor four veterans who will receive their high school diplomas.
