Former resident helps refugees

Note: the following is a story from information provided by Pastor Troy Reynolds of First Church of Christ in Wayne through emails he has received from Tom Love, who grew up in Wayne, and is doing mission work to help refugees fleeing Afghanistan.

Living in Penang, Malaysia and doing mission work with Food for the Hungry International (FHI), Tom Love, Disaster and Relief Manager for Asia, is the first contact for nations who need assistance.

Love travels extensively in Asia.

Recently he was sent to Tajikistan for at least two months to assist with the relief effort for the Afghan refugees. His wife, Kathy, and two of their four children, Karyss and Theo, are in Penang, Malaysia. Their two oldest children, Trevor and Kristen, are working and attending college in the United States.

Love is stationed in Dushanbe, Tajikistan and is working seven days a week. He is program manager in charge of organizing all of their operations to get needed supplies to over 250,000 people. Love has been working at CADA (Central Asia Development Agency), the local partner of the ground there to set up cross-border relief operations. He said the obstacles are formidable.

Love's boss, Shaun Walsh, vice president of international relief, recently was in Afghanistan inspecting camps along the northeastern border near Tajikistan and wasn't prepared for how bad it is. In addition to the war, severe drought for the last three years is causing millions of people to starve. Walsh notes if food doesn't arrive soon they will die there or die going to where they think food is.

In one camp of around 4,000 families, there were no children under the age of

Veteran recalls war experiences

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

For John Bean, Dec. 7, 1941 began as a normal Sunday as he got off his ship in Pearl Harbor for breakfast.

Bean, 83, who grew up in Wakefield, had enlisted in the U.S. Navy in November of 1938, partially out of a sense of adventure and partially because of the fact that he was making 35¢ an hour working on a bridge near Wakefield.

He attended training at Great Lakes Training Station and was assigned to a ship in Pearl Harbor.

"It was a World War I destroyer, built in 1920. It had two fire rooms and could travel at 32.6 knots," Bean recalled.

During his first years at Pearl Harbor, Bean was stationed on the flag ship "Ogallala," a mine layer.

"Every day there was just like the last one, the weather was beautiful," Bean said.

He and those in his company made trips to Midway Island, hauling men and materials there.

Just before the attack on Pearl Harbor, his ship was placed in overhaul to be re-built and inspected. The ship's guns had been placed on the pier and port holes in the ship cut out.

"I remember waking up early that Sunday morning. Because of the ship being repaired, we had to walk about six blocks to eat. Most of the men on the ship were still asleep. Then there were lots of loud explosions," he said.

At first, Bean and most of those involved thought that it was just a training mission, similar to those that had been taking place regularly. However, they soon began to see bombs.

"We didn't get hit either time. We found a small gun, a hold over from World War I, and found some shells and began firing, but it didn't help," Bean said.

Bean said he recalled a Nebraskan being in his company. There were approximately 100 men in each "four stacker." He noted that a number of men he has known from his training at Great Lakes Company were killed aboard the U.S.S. Arizona.

"My family knew where I was at and found out fairly quickly that I was okay. At that time we had no access to telephone."

Following the attack by the Japanese, Bean said those in the U.S. military were challenged at all points.

"We had passwords and if we didn't know them, we didn't go anywhere. Security was high and people were on their toes."

Bean was assigned to a 50-foot motor launch and hauled supplies to ships at night, without lights. He served aboard the carrier, U.S.S. Lexington for 3 1/2 years and served eight years in the Pacific. In 1944 he was wounded with shrapnel and a dislocated shoulder while aboard the Lexington in 1944 during a sea battle.

In 1946, Bean and his wife, Helen, originally from Emerson, were married. The couple has

Coroner investigates death of Wayne man

The Wayne Police Department received a 911 call shortly before 7 a.m. on Nov. 7 indicating that there was a possible dead body at 105 West Fourth Street.

When officers arrived, they found Ron Scardino, 47, in the living room of his apartment. It appeared that Mr. Scardino had been dead for several hours.

Officers found no indication of foul play during the investigation. The Wayne County Attorney's Office, acting as coroner, ordered an autopsy to determine the cause of death.

Sherriff's Log

The following is a list of recent activities investigated by the Wayne County Sheriff and was provided by that office:

10-26-01 A hit and run accident about 2 miles west of Wakefield sent the passenger of one of the vehicles to PMC in Wayne for treatment of injuries sustained in the accident. A vehicle driven by Brett Kazemba of Wayne was east-bound when it was struck by a westbound car causing it to lose control and overturn in the ditch.

The vehicle that left the scene stopped and offered to go to Wakefield and contact authorities. The lone occupant and driver of that vehicle did not report the accident and fled the area. The car was recovered later in the week after it was abandoned in a field in Dakota County.

10-26-02 A combine in a field 3 miles east and 1 mile south of Wayne was found after it had been driven around destroying about 5 acres of corn and the combine had sustained major damage.

10-26-01 Another combine was found broken into in a field 3 miles east and 2 miles south of Wayne. It was also used to destroy about five acres of corn. Several items were taken and the combine sustained substantial damage.

10-26-01 Four mailboxes received damage in the area of 5 miles east of Hoskins.

10-27-01 A hit and run accident report was taken in Carroll on a car owned by Jerry and Maureen Fredrickson. The vehicle sustained moderate damage to the left rear corner.

10-27-01 A straight-truck driven and owned by George Bodlak of R.R. Pender overturned along Highway # 35 six and one-half miles east of Wayne when the vehicle wheels went off the road edge and the driver attempted to correct the steering. The truck was loaded with corn at the time.

10-28-01 Deputies responded to a silent alarm at the Winside Alfalfa Mill at 9:12 p.m. No form of entry was detected and the alarm was reset.

10-28-01 Deputies responded to a call of spotlights being shone in the area 2 miles east of the Highway 35 and 16 Junction. Hunters in the area were contacted.

10-29-01 A one-vehicle accident was investigated at a location about 1 1/2 miles north of Hoskins, Nebraska. The vehicle was driven by 19 year old Jennifer Wattier of Wayne. The driver lost control of the vehicle on the country road, went into the ditch and struck a tree. No injuries were reported.

10-30-01 A theft at a vacant farm place two miles north of Hoskins was investigated. Tools valued at about $1,000 were taken.

10-30-01 A car driven by John Dunklau of Carroll struck a calf that was on the roadway about one mile south and one mile west of Carroll. The calf was owned by Terry Roberts. The 1988 Ford was considered to be totaled out after the accident. No injuries were reported by the driver.

10-30-01 A car driven by Matthew Roebor left the county road at a location 5 miles north and about 1 mile east of Wayne and landed on its top. Roebor was thrown from the vehicle and was taken to PMC to be treated. Roebor was the lone occupant in the vehicle at the time of the accident.

11-01-01 A car driven by Katie Lage of Pilger was northbound on a county road 3 miles east and 1 mile south of Winside when it lost control and went into the ditch, landing on its top. No injuries were reported.

11-01-01 A vacant farm place was broken into at a location 1 mile west and 4 miles north of Wayne. An undetermined amount of items were taken from this location.

11-01-01 The Negus and Sons Construction Company reported a theft of construction items from their work site southwest of Winside.

11-03-01 An injury accident about 4 miles north of Hoskins was reported at about 1:30 a.m. A car driven by Levi Trautman of Norfolk left the county road at that intersection and struck the cross-road embankment. He was the lone occupant and was transported to a doctor by a family member to be treated for minor injuries.

11-04-01 Vandalism was reported at the LaPorte cemetery.

11-05-01 Paint-ball vandalism was reported by the Winside Public Schools to some of their school vehicles.

Course is completed

Karin Vaughn, Executive Director of the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce, completed the "Cue-based" Economic Development Sales Process Training course provided by UtiliCorp United Oct. 29-30 in Omaha.

The Cue-based approach emphasizes building relationships, responding to real customer needs and building win-win solutions.

The class reviews specific methodologies that help economic developers better understand a prospect's needs and getting the community's sales message across clearly.

Think about it!

After the 1993 World Trade Center bombing, which killed six and injured 1,000; President Clinton promised that those responsible would be hunted down and punished.

After the 1995 bombing in Saudi Arabia, which killed five U.S. military personnel; Clinton promised that those responsible would be hunted down and punished.

After the 1996 Khobar Towers bombing in Saudi Arabia, which killed 19 and injured 200 U.S. military personnel; Clinton promised that those responsible would be hunted down and punished.

After the 1998 bombing of U.S. embassies in Africa, which killed 224 and injured 5,000; Clinton promised that those responsible would be hunted down and punished.

After the 2000 bombing of the USS Cole, which killed 17 and injured 39 U.S. sailors; Clinton promised that those responsible would be hunted down and punished.

Maybe if Clinton had kept his promise, an estimated 4700 people in New York and Washington, D.C. that are now dead would be alive today.

AN INTERESTING QUESTION:

This question was raised on a Philly radio call-in show. Without casting stones, it is a legitimate question. There are two men, both extremely wealthy. One develops relatively cheap software and gives billions of dollars to charity. The other sponsors terrorism. That being the case, why is it that the Clinton Administration spent more money chasing down Bill Gates over the past eight years than Osama bin Laden? THINK ABOUT IT!

It is a strange turn of events. Hillary gets $8 million for her forthcoming memoir. Bill gets about $12 million for his memoir yet to be written. This from two people who have spent the past 8 years being unable to recall anything about past events while under oath!

Incredible!

How do we deal with terrorists?

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
Nebraska Press Association

There are some things that have always made governments stumble around like clumsy, approximately helpless giants.

On the international scene, terrorists and guerrilla warfare have ever been the bane of established governments.

On the local scene, thugs who abuse various of their rights of freedom to do so until they can be convicted of committing a crime of some type in the process.

It's easier to understand the international difficulties. Whaddya' gonna' do when it comes to people you suspect of being bad guys - kill them all and let God sort them out? Superpowers of the past have taken that approach. It didn't work out for them in the long run. Of course, it did settle some hash pretty quick in the short run.

What is frustrating enough to make a fellow (this one, at least) scream is our inability to deal with penny ante terrorists at home. Not the bomb throwers. The punks. The jerks. The creeps who loiter in a neighborhood and torment the citizenry. Throwing profane insults and walnuts and threats and whatever else at people.

How did we arrive at this point? A place where we are virtually powerless to deal with such cretins until (usually) they hurt someone, or do some serious property damage, or until some tormented citizen lets fly at them with a bat or a gun?

Have you ever thought about all those movies that conclude with some handsome good guy, or some heroic ordinary guy, standing up to such a bunch of slob? The ones that usually end with the jerks getting their attitudes adjusted in such a way as to require a lot of orthodontics and/or orthopedic surgery?

You know perfectly well why such flicks tend to be popular, raise a few cheers from the audience and make a lot of people smile.

Again, I take a back seat to no one when it comes to respect for the First Amendment. But the constitution guarantees the right of the people "peaceably to assemble," etc. How did we get from there to here? And how is it that we let a bunch of jerks and juveniles keep us in such a preposterous societal position?

Committee makes recommendations

After completing the public hearing process, the Appropriations Committee has recommended their proposal for budget cuts during the special session that began on October 25. Since the committee's proposal is similar to what the governor presented to the Legislature when issuing his call for a special session and is just $2.5 million shy of the $173 million in budget cuts proposed by the governor, Governor Johanns has indicated that he will support the Committee's proposal.

I signed on as a co-sponsor of the governor's proposal, supporting the general concept of his plan. Although I would rather not support any budget reductions, the economy is making such action necessary. Like the governor, I support budget cuts over any tax increase.

The major difference in the two proposals is that the governor proposed to cut 4 percent for fiscal year 2002 and 5 percent for fiscal year 2003 from the University of Nebraska and the State Colleges, as well as many other state agency budgets. The Appropriations Committee reduced the percentage of cuts for higher education, to 2 percent in fiscal year 2002 and 2.5 percent the following year for the University. The budget cuts directed at the State Colleges were reduced even further, to 1 percent for each fiscal year.

To make up for the difference in the amount of budget cuts, the Appropriations Committee has proposed that three building construction projects be funded through bond financing.

Capital Happenings
By: State Senator
Doug Cunningham, District #18

Additionally, $13 million in funding from the state lottery that has been directed to education grants in the past will now be diverted to the General Fund. (The lottery money which funds the education grants to K-12 schools may have been targeted because state aid to K-12 schools was not reduced by the budget reductions.)

The legislation must be approved at three different stages of debate before the bills can be sent to the governor for his signature. When the special session is over, senators will return home until the Legislature meets again in January of 2002.

Education adopted state standards in four core subjects. Likewise, the Legislature adopted legislation that required assessment of student performance in those subjects.

On Nov. 9, the Nebraska Department of Education will release the second annual Nebraska Schools Report Card. The first State Report Card was released a year ago, providing a snapshot of our schools using statewide averages. This year's report card will include the same statewide data but will also include a profile of each school district. The paper form of the report card will include only statewide data but there will be a website where interested persons can view information on every school district and building in this state. Nebraska's assessment program differs from those in other states. Nebraska does not require a single statewide test, but allows school districts to develop their own assessment programs, use assessments recommended by the state, or use a combination of local and state-recommended assessments. This allows Nebraska teachers to teach to their curriculum, rather than to a statewide test (which tends to narrow the curriculum), and still meet the state standards. Due to the local control allowed in the selection of the test used, keep in mind when comparing one school district with another school district, that different tests may have been used. However, the data will show a rating for the quality of the test and a rating on how well students are meeting the standards for each school district. I went to a presentation on the report card and the website this past week and was very impressed with the wealth of information that will be available. You may access the individual school data on the Department of Education's website at www.nde.state.ne.us or go to it directly at reportcard.nde.state.ne.us. You will not be able to access this website until November 9 at 1:30 p.m. I will be in Lincoln until the end of the special session.

I encourage you to contact me regarding your opinions on the budget reductions that the Legislature is considering during the special session. My address is: Senator Doug Cunningham, District #18, P.O. Box 94604, State Capitol, Lincoln, NE 68509, my e-mail address is dcunningham@unicam.state.ne.us and my telephone number is (402) 471-2801.

High school drama group to present performance.

In anticipation of conference and district one-act play competition, the Wayne High School drama group has scheduled a public performance of its contest piece.

The event will take place on Tuesday, Nov. 13. The evening has been labeled "Drama and Dessert" with the cast and crew members presenting the play at 7 p.m. followed by a dessert bar and a chance for the audience to visit with performers.

The play selected is "The Infamous Soothing System of Professor Maillard" and is based on a short story by Edgar Allan Poe.

Mike Elfers plays the part of Professor Maillard, the man in charge of the inmates who have taken over an insane asylum.

Frank Holm is the hero who has heard of the professor's soothing system and make the mistake of visiting the asylum.

Other cast members include Katie Straight, Faith Kroeker, Chris Jones, Jordan Elfers, Luke Grone, Charity Kroeker, Kelsey Schlimes, Emily Kinney, Jared Yates, Alex Wieland, Jessica Monahan, Chad Jensen, Megan Frahm, Kyle Triggs and Ray Olson.

Crew members providing various forms of support include Heather Stauffer, Heather Headley, Laura Jones, Brittany Jareske and Katie Osten.

Tickets for "Drama and Dessert" are available from cast and crew members for $4 each. Fifty seats have been set aside for walk-ins the night of the show.

Those wishing to purchase a ticket in advance are asked to call the school at 375-3150.

Daehnke inducted into society

Hailey Daehnke of Wayne has accepted membership in Golden Key International Honour Society and was individually honored during a campus ceremony.

"It is only fitting that a high academic achiever like Hailey be recognized by Golden Key," said Kali Boatright, Golden Key assistant executive director. "Our members are inspired and motivated by the challenge not only to be recognized for their outstanding accomplishments but also to make a positive impact on our world through the Society's commitment to service."

Golden Key International Honour Society is a non-profit, academic honors organization that provides academic recognition, leadership opportunities, community service, career networking and scholarships.

The Society has more than 300 chapters in the United States, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Australia, Canada, Malaysia, South Africa and New Zealand. Membership into the Society is by invitation only to the top 15 percent of juniors and seniors in all fields of study.

two. Life threatening conditions kill the vulnerable; the children.

FHI, World Concern, Northwest Medical Teams and CADA are providing shelter, food and medicine to people trapped in Badakshan and Takhar near Tajikistan. Their goal is to help 38,000 families (266,000 people) survive the winter, which will be starting soon, and help them prepare for spring planting season.

Walsh notes corruption is the worst he has seen with very little food getting into the region. Moldy bread is all he saw people eating. Walsh and others are trying to get food to the people but there is only one way to truck food in from Tajikistan and that's in the area controlled by the Northern Alliance on a small ferry which can only carry two 16-ton trucks at a time.

In addition to the limited process of getting trucks into Afghanistan, there are four border check points, Russian and Tajik controlled, to get through. Plus, the government is slow to process visas and permits so workers can get into Afghanistan in the first place.

Dushanbe, the capitol of Tajikistan, is 250 miles away from the border and Tajikistan has had three years of severe drought so food sources in neighboring countries have to be brought in. Work is being done on proposals to donor agencies to raise money to fund this.

Love asks for prayers for those in need, for his co-workers to get through the bureaucracy and corruption so they can help the needy, for their safety in doing so, and for Love and his family plus his team mates and their families as they are apart.

Pastor Reynolds notes the local ministerial association will be raising funds for FHI's work with Afghan refugees at the Community Thanksgiving Service on Sunday, Nov. 18 at 5 p.m. at Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne.

Cultural awareness day include speech on Islam

"There is nothing in Islam to support what happened on September 11th. And there is nothing in the Koran to support suicide. I believe the terrorists went straight to hell."

Those were just a few of the remarks of Sadia Shoiab, a Northeast Community College student from Pakistan. She was part of a daylong series of activities during the 5th Annual Cultural Awareness Day at Northeast.

Shoiab, who is married to a psychiatrist who practices at Faith Regional Health Services in Norfolk, spoke about her faith in a speech entitled, "What Is Islam, Really?" She said that Islam is a faith of peace, submission and love. Those that practice the Islam faith are called Muslims.

When further discussing the September 11th terrorist attack, she said, "We do not believe in killing civilians. People forget that several hundred Muslims also died in the terrorist attack."

Shoiab believes those that car-they believe that Muhammad was the last prophet of God. Shoiab described the Koran as a guide for the Muslim way of life. "We believe that the Koran came from Allah through Gabriel to Muhammad."

In discussing Islam traditions, she said Muslims pray five times a day (called Salat) and always wash thoroughly before prayers. The Salat is usually done in a mosque, but Shoiab prays at home while in Norfolk. Muslims also observe a sunrise-to-sunset fast during the entire month of Ramadan and once in a lifetime go for Hajj, a pilgrimage to Mecca.

She said that Muslim women cover their hair, dress modestly in loose clothing and are taught to behave properly around men. Her marriage of 10 years is an arranged marriage, and she said arranged marriages in her homeland have a very high success rate. "Our divorce rate is something like 10 per cent," she said.

Other activities of the Cultural Awareness Day included a speech

ried out the attacks had misinterpreted their religion. The Taliban is made up of radical students, she said, who oppose U.S. policies. "I don't believe other Muslims support Osama bin Laden," she observed. In discussing Jihad, she said the terrorist attack was not Jihad. "Jihad is striving for the way of God, striving for justice. Not this," she explained.

Shoiab said she and her family, including three children, have been treated very well in Norfolk since the terrorist attack. "My friends here are calling me and asking me if we are all right," she said. "But we have friends in New Jersey and New York who are being treated very badly. I think Muslims in large cities are being treated much differently than we are here."

In discussing the basic differences between her faith and Christianity, she said that Muslims believe in God (which they call Allah) and believe that Jesus is a messenger of God, not the son of God. "We do believe that he was born in a miracle birth, a virgin birth. And that he was raised into heaven," she said.

She explained that Muslims believe in all the prophets, including Abraham, Moses, David, but by Dr. Rodney Moore, Director of Equity and Diversity for the State of Nebraska. He encouraged those in attendance to reach out to those who are different, to learn about them.

In discussing things parents have taught their children, Moore asked students what they have been taught about religion, politics, drugs and alcohol, marriage and sex, racism, strangers, friends and food at home. "Sometimes what we learn at home doesn't make any sense. You may not be able to change your parents, but you can change yourself," he said.

"Remember what we were told about strangers? Just remember...before you can be a friend, you have to be a stranger. But if you don't open your hand, you may be missing the greatest friend in the world," Moore concluded.

Dickey accepts invitation

Bob Dickey of Laurel nearly threw away an invitation to spend an evening with President George W. Bush in Washington, D.C.

Dickey received what he thought was junk mail on Oct. 14 inviting him to travel to the nation's capitol. He said no one else from Nebraska received such an invitation.

"I didn't believe it was real and thought some of my friends were playing a joke on me. I called for details and they told me it was legitimate. I asked if I could bring my wife, Mary, and when they said 'yes' I told them I would talk it over with her and get back to them," Dickey said.

The event, held Oct. 25, was in conjunction with the National Republican Governor's Convention. Dickey said he has been a member of the National Republican Party Committee since 1972 and this is where the invitation may have come from. After finding that the couple could get inexpensive airfare to Washington, D.C., a decision was made to accept the invitation. They arrived in the capitol city several days early to attend several other events.

Among the speakers during the Washington trip was Karl Rove, Senior Advisor and Assistant to President George W. Bush. Rove was with the president in Florida on Sept. 11 when the bombing took place and spoke of the activities of that day.

Due to the events occurring in the United States, President Bush unable to actually attend the reception. Instead, Vice President Dick Cheney spoke to the group of approximately 400. He explained what is happening in the government at the present time.

Later Dickey got a chance to speaking with the governor of Oklahoma who, during an invocation, had prayed for an Oklahoma victory over Nebraska. The two men later had a chance to discuss this prayer request.

"The atmosphere all over is tense. We had to pass through security to get into our hotel," Dickey said. "There was also lots of security around the Capitol and the monuments."

"This was a unique experience, a once in a lifetime event. I was disappointed that we didn't get to visit with the president, but I understand why."

lived in numerous locations throughout John's 30 year military career.

In 1950, John was sent to Guam, where he served for 27 months. Later he lived in Greece, Italy and France. After living in numerous locations on the east coast, the Beans returned to Nebraska in 1989. They lived in Wayne until recently moving to Norfolk for medical reasons.

When comparing the events of Dec. 7, 1941 with those of Sept. 11, 2001, Bean said, "In both cases, I feel there was a lack of communication. Somewhere in the government, somebody knew something."

He also stated that he and many others are having the same feelings today as they did after Pearl Harbor. He does not feel this will be a war like World War II and stated that with the Taliban people, "life means nothing to those people."

Super singers

Wayne High School hosted the Mid-States Conference Choral Clinic on Nov. 6 in the Wayne High School Gym. Choirs from the Conference performed in an Honor Choir and a Mass Choir. Small groups from each school also performed in the evening concert. Meals and concessions were provided by the Wayne Community School's Music Boosters.

invited to design a cover for their favorite book. There are five age brackets and both the cover and the puppet entries will be judged on Thursday, Nov. 15. In addition to prizes for winners in each bracket, two grand prizes will be given away. The grand prize for the two youngest brackets is a set of Curious George books (Curious George turns 60 this year). The grand prize for the upper three age brackets is a set of the first four Harry Potter books.

Students selected to All-State

Each year over 2,000 of the best high school musicians in the state audition for the Nebraska All-State Band, Chorus, Jazz Band and Orchestra sponsored by the Nebraska Music Educators Association.

Selection as a member of one of these groups is one of the highest musical honors attainable in Nebraska.

The selected students rehearse Thursday, Nov. 15 through Saturday, Nov. 17 on the University of Nebraska-Lincoln campus, the host site of the 2001 NMEA Conference/Clinic.

A final public concert will be held Saturday, Nov. 17 at the Lied Center for the Performing Arts on the UN-L campus.

The following Wayne High School instrumental music students will be performing in the groups listed below:

Nebraska All-State Orchestra — Charity Kroeker, violin; Chad Jensen, double bass; Megan Jensen, clarinet.

Nebraska All-State Band — Emily Brady, bass clarinet; Britni Bethune, clarinet (alternate).

Nebraska All-State Jazz Band — Nick Lipp, drum set.

Bridge open

The Newcastle/Vermillion Bridge was opened to traffic Nov. 1. Travelers took advantage of the nice weather for weekend drives across the new bridge. A dedication and ribbon cutting is planned for Nov. 10 at 10 a.m. at the bridge site. If there is inclement weather, the event will be held in Newcastle at the Fire Hall.

Anniversary celebration

Tom's Body and Paint hosted an open house last week in honor of the business' 25th anniversary. On hand to greet people were, left to right, Tom Rose, Helen Rose, Dan Rose and Doug Rose. Also on hand were a number of company representatives that work with Tom's Body and Paint. Door prizes were given away throughout the day.

Bears to play Heartland in first round of State, Friday Laurel-Concord wins districts

Patti Cunningham's Laurel-Concord volleyball team clawed their way back from an 11-0 deficit in the first game to previously unbeaten West Point Central Catholic in a C-2 district final last Thursday in Wayne with a 15-1 scoring burst en route to a 15-12, 15-9 championship.

The Bears, defending state-runner-ups are headed back to Lincoln this weekend for the annual State Volleyball Tournament.

"It was a tremendous representation of our team's character to come from behind in that first game against a team the caliber of West Point Central Catholic," Cunningham said. "It was rewarding to see several of our athletes rise to the occasion and remain focused despite a huge deficit."

The 22-0 Bears were led by lone senior Lani Recob with 13 kill spikes while Emily Schroeder and Susan Pritchard had eight kills each.

Tori Cunningham was 56-57 in setting with 24 assists and was 13-14 in serving with one ace.

Tiffany Erwin was 11-11 in serving and Pritchard, 9-9 while Schroeder was 6-7 with an ace.

Defensively, Emily Schroeder was the difference in the match with 12 blocks including four aces. Katie Peters, Maggi Recob and Tori Cunningham each had four blocks.

Cunningham led the team in digs with seven while Pritchard and Tiffany Erwin had six each and Lani Recob, five.

Despite being top-ranked all season, the 22-0 Bears head to Lincoln as the number two seed as West Point Central Catholic drew the top spot—even with the loss to Laurel-Concord.

This year's brackets were determined by power points based on schedule and record along with opponent's records.

Laurel-Concord will play Heartland at 11 a.m. on Friday at Waverly—the site for all C-2 games through the semifinals.

A Bears victory would put them in the semifinals against the winner of Wisner-Pilger/Elkhorn Valley at 7 p.m. That match takes place immediately following the Bears contest.

The other side of the bracket pits West Point Central Catholic against Southern Valley at 3:30 p.m. with the winner playing the winner of Fremont Bergan and Kearney Catholic at 8:30 p.m.

The championship of the C-2 tournament will be played at 10:30 a.m., Saturday at Pershing Auditorium.

The Laurel-Concord volleyball team finds themselves in a very familiar sport again this week—another trip to Lincoln for the State Volleyball Tournament. The Bears captured districts with a sweep of West Point Central Catholic.

Wildcats defeated in home finale

The Wayne State football closed out the 2001 home schedule with a 37-7 setback to Minnesota-Duluth in the annual Incredible Edible Egg Bowl last Saturday.

The visiting Bulldogs scored 15 points in the first quarter and took a 21-0 lead in the second stanza before the 'Cats posted their lone score of the game with Tavaris Johnson catching a six-yard touchdown pass from Brett Edwards.

The 'Cats were down 21-7 at the half but could not mount a second half comeback as Duluth scored the game's final 16 points—all in the third quarter.

WSC suffered five turnovers in the contest and fell to 3-7 on the season while Duluth improved to 9-1 on the season including a 7-1 NSIC record.

Scott Hoffman's team was held to 43 yards rushing on 28 attempts with Edwards completing 20 passes in 37 attempts with three interceptions, for 193 yards for 236 total yards.

Duluth meanwhile, racked up 242 rushing yards along with 132 through the air for 374 total yards.

Bryce Teager led WSC's ground game with 36 yards on nine carries with Tavaris Johnson leading the WSC receivers with eight catches for 84 yards. Teager had five receptions for 36 yards.

Defensively, WSC was led by Antonio Jackson with 13 tackles while Kyle Lingenfelter had 10 along with an interception. Mike Baker finished with nine tackles with Desmond Grace and Jeremy Neill netting six each.

Antonio Jackson was named the MVP of the Egg Bowl for WSC with Duluth quarterback Ricky Fritz earning the award for the Bulldogs.

WSC will close out its season on Saturday at 11 a.m. at the Metrodome Classic in Minneapolis, Minnesota against Minnesota-Morris.

Wildcats defeat third and fourth seeds at conference tournament WSC soccer team nets third in NSIC

Justin Cole's Wayne State soccer team closed out their season at the annual NSIC Conference Tournament last weekend at Northern State in Aberdeen, S.D. and the Wildcats coached was pleased with his 'Cats performance.

WSC finished third in the tournament following a fifth place finish in the regular season standings.

"It was a great way to finish our season," Cole said. "We defeated two very good teams and finished the season by winning four of our final five games."

Cole said he was proud of the way the team persevered during the season despite a 14-9 record. "To finish third in the conference tournament was a nice achievement," Cole said. "This was not the blueprint we had for our season last August, but to overcome some of the injuries and things that didn't go our way early shows a lot of character."

WSC defeated fourth seeded Minnesota State Moorhead, 2-1 in the first round.

It was the second time in a week the two teams clashed with both final scores ending at 2-1 in favor of the 'Cats.

Sarah Lund scored off an assist from Sarah Herrick and Brienne Abshier to give WSC a 1-0 lead at half.

Lund scored again in the second half off an assist from Mary McDaniel. Moorhead scored late to cut the gap in half.

WSC out-shot its counterparts, 19-9.

The 'Cats were defeated by top seed Winona State in the semifinals, 4-0. The Warriors led 2-0 at the half and added a pair of second half goals for the 4-0 margin.

WSC was out-shot 16-9 including an 11-3 deficit in shots on goal.

In the match for third place against the host Northern State squad, WSC posted a 4-2 win over the third seeded Wolves.

Northern State held a 2-1 lead at the half but the 'Cats scored three times in the second half and held the host team scoreless.

In a strange twist of fate, two of WSC's goals were scored by the opponent who had the ball kicked in to their own net.

The 'Cats other two goals were scored by Tanya Mitchell, off assists from Nikki Field and Jill Eschliman while Bria Cunard scored a goal unassisted.

"There was no better way for our seniors to go out then to beat our rivals on their turf," Cole said. "We have a lot of respect for Northern State but this is a game we really wanted."

"Sarah Herrick, Jill Eschliman, Brienne Abshier and Alana Pfeffer have done so much for this program in their careers that we wanted to give them one more memory for the road in an emotional finish."

Incidentally, the win over Northern State was coach Justin Cole's 50th soccer victory as the 'Cats soccer general sports a healthy 66 percent winning mark at 50-24-1.

Wayne State's soccer team placed third at last weekend's Northern Sun Conference Tournament. WSC ended the season with a 4-2 win over Northern State.

US Government Report on Asthma: A Major Problem

The US Centers for Disease Control and Prevention recently released the first state-based asthma figures ever collected for all states, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico. Based on responses from over 180,000 persons age 18 years and older, it was determined that at least 14 million American adults, over 7% of US adults, reported having asthma in 2000. Some adults have asthma and are unaware of their problem, so it is likely that the actual percentage of adults with asthma may be much higher. And since the report did not consider children, the percentage of persons with asthma in the US may be staggering.

We now have prescription oral medicines and inhaled medicines that - when used correctly - help prevent asthma symptoms in most sufferers. Persons with asthma usually can lead normal lives and engage in rigorous physical activity.

International Education Week to be observed

According to Secretary of State Colin L. Powell, "International education prepares our citizens to live, work, and compete in the global economy and promotes tolerance and the reduction of conflict."

"I encourage schools, businesses and communities to join with us in commemorating International Education Week," Powell said in a letter on the State Department's web page.

Following the encouragement of the U.S. Department of State and U.S. Department of Education, Northeast Community College in Norfolk will join other educational institutions in the observance of International Education Week 2001 Nov. 12th-16th.

Sponsored by the Global Education Committee at Northeast, special activities are planned each day.

On Monday, Nov. 12th, a Lunch and Learn is scheduled in the Student Center Cafeteria at noon. An educational video, "What Is Islam?" is scheduled on that day.

Tuesday's activities include a Foreign Film Night featuring the movie, "Crouching Tiger, Hidden Dragon," in the Cox Activities Center Theater at 7:30 p.m.

A full line-up of special events is planned by the Global Education Committee on Wednesday, Nov. 14th. A discussion, "Where in the World is Afghanistan?" will be presented at noon in the Cox Activities Center Theater. This discussion is Part III of "The War On Terrorism Examined" series being offered at Northeast this fall. A videoconference in the Maclay Building Boardroom entitled, "Managing Liability and Risk in International Programs," is scheduled for Wednesday, the 14th from 1-3 p.m.

An International Coffee with "Experience Sudan" as the theme, is set for Wednesday at 3 p.m. in the Student Center Cafeteria.

Northeast business instructor

Lin Behmer will present a program, "Globalizing Nebraska," Thursday at 12:30 p.m. in the Student Center Private Dining Room, Room 112A. Behmer is currently assisting with the development of Northeast's new International Business program.

Friday, the 16th, Northeast English instructor Dr. Pat Keating will present "Educational Opportunities in Thailand" at 10 a.m. in the Student Center Private Dining Room.

International foods will also be served in the Student Center Cafeteria during the week as part of the International Education Week observance at Northeast.

According to Tammy Day, chairperson of Northeast's Global Education Committee, "We, as a committee, feel it is important to observe International Education Week, especially in view of what's happened in our world recently.

We must continue to educate and share the positive aspects of other cultures in this world," she said.

Todd M. Davis, Institute of International Education 2000, said in an Open Doors Report on International Educational Exchange that community college international enrollments have grown by over 40 per cent since 1993. He said 87 per cent of international students at community colleges are self-financed. He also said that international education contributes $12.3 billion to the U.S. economy.

In his web page letter, Powell also said, "The Department of State recognizes the role that international education and exchange play in strengthening our nation and our relations with other countries. It is important for American students to learn other languages, experience foreign cultures and develop a broad understanding of global issues."

All International Education Week activities at Northeast are free and open to the public.

Giving presentations

Main Street members attend state conference

Five members of Main Street Wayne attended Community Quest 2001, the 38th Annual Conference of the Nebraska Community Improvement Program (N.C.I.P.)

Attending from Wayne were Sandy Bartling, Marie Mohr, Tony Kochenash, Anne Nolte and Leo Ahmann.

The welcoming keynote address at the conference held in Columbus on Nov. 2 was given by Milan Wall of the Heartland Center for Leadership Development. His talk centered around 15 years of work done by the Heartland Center, and its insights on what small towns can do to survive even in tough times.

The rest of the day was spent in concurrent workshops, among them a presentation by youth from the state on projects they are doing for their communities, motivation, business retention and expansion surveys and effective methods for preparing successful grant requests.

The Conference concluded with the NCIP Awards Banquet with Governor Mike Johanns presenting the awards.

Winside scouts conduct fundraiser

The Winside Village Board enlisted the aid of the Scouts in Winside to chair a community-wide fundraiser for relief efforts following the attack on the World Trade Center and the Pentagon.

It was decided by the group to donate all proceeds to the American Red Cross.

Through the week, Brownies, Juniors and Webelos made patriotic yard signs. Auxiliary members made patriotic pins and ribbons and painted business windows. The Winside High School Student Council enlisted the aid of the seventh through 12th grade students to paint windows at the school. The Winside High School Drill Team and Band practiced for a special patriotic performance.

American Legion Post #252 donated a 24' flagpole and the Auxiliary donated an American flag to be raffled off. Several businesses sold raffle tickets and had containers for patrons to make donations. They also flew American flags, decorated their windows and hung banners over their doorways.

On Sept. 28, the scouts and their parents met before the high school football game. They divided into 13 groups of six to seven people to canvass the town for donations and to hand out patriotic items in return. One group set out yard signs. Two other groups accepted donations at the game.

The Legion presented colors prior to the game while the band played patriotic music. At half-time, a reading about the American flag was presented. Then the drill team had a special American flag presentation and the band played, with a display of fireworks in the background.

The drill team also had a pie-throwing booths with representatives from the Wayne County Jaycees and the Winside Elementary principal/ counselor as the recipients. The girls donated some of the proceeds to the American Red Cross also.

All flag and pole raffle donations went to the local Wayne County Chapter of the Red Cross. A total of $625 was collected.

All other donations, which amounted to $558.49, were sent to the National Red Cross. The local AAL Branch #5296 offered to match funds, but the matching funds ran out. Up to $1 million was to be matched.

Those in charge said, "Hats off to all the wonderful people in the Winside area. This was truly a community effort by all. Be proud of it!"

They would especially like to thank the youth: Scouts, Boy Scout Troop #179, Cut Scouts Pack #179, Juniors Troop #179, Brownies Troop #1167 and the parents and leaders for their unselfish acts of kindness.

Carrie Christensen

Christiansen joins 1st Realty

Carrie Christensen has recently joined the staff at 1st Realty.

Carrie recently became a Sales Associate, after completing real estate pre-licensing classes at the Greater Sioux City Board of Realtors.

She said that she was attracted to 1st Realty because of the professional and friendly atmosphere and "hope to be able to do the same."

Christensen graduated from Wayne State College in 1988 with a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration.

She and her husband, Mark, and their children, Luke, Kyle, Laura, Vanessa, have lived in Wayne for 11 years. They moved here from Laurel.

She is a member of Our Savior Lutheran Church where she is on the Christian Education Committee and the Church Choir. She enjoys activities with her children, reading and walking.

"I'm excited to be working with the people of Wayne and surrounding communities. Wayne is a great place to work and raise a family," Mrs. Christensen said.

She will be working full-time at the office and is available to assist in the purchase or sale of residential, commercial and farm properties.

"We are happy to have Carrie as part of our team. She will be a great asset to us and to the community," said Anne Nolte, owner of 1st Realty.

Festival of trees planned

Seasonal decorating ideas and plenty of holiday spirit will be on display at the Festival of Trees, scheduled for Nov. 16 and 17 at the Lifelong Learning Center at Northeast Community College.

Organizers say the event will include more than 20 decorated trees with a dozen displays of table settings and holiday decorating ideas and gifts.

Most of the decorated trees and displays will be sponsored by area retailers and decorative craft vendors. While no items will be for sale at the event, those attending will have an opportunity to see the new holiday merchandise available from the various vendors.

There will also be several uniquely-themed trees and displays set-up by individuals and organizations.

Hours for the event are Friday,

Nov. 16, from 3 to 7 p.m., and Saturday, Nov. 17, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Admission to the Festival of Trees is $5.00, which includes seasonal refreshments in the festival's tea room.

The Festival of Trees is sponsored by the American Association of Women in Community Colleges (AAWCC) chapter at Northeast Community College.

Proceeds from the event will go to scholarships and campus improvement projects.

Tickets are available at US Bank, Treasure Chest, Just-A-Buck and Herbergers in Norfolk, Bank of Madison in Madison and Healing

Hands in Plainview. Tickets are also available through AAWCC members, on-campus, and at the door.

Main Street plans several holiday events

The Main Street Wayne Program is finalizing plans for their holiday festivities. Underway at the present time is the "Festival of Wreaths." The donated wreaths are on display in businesses so people may view them and enter their silent bid. The conclusion of the silent auction will be held Sunday, Dec. 2 at "Holidazzle - Puttin' on the Glitz," a holiday festival at Riley's Convention Center from 6 to 10 p.m.

"Holidazzle" (a black tie optional event) will be an evening of holiday entertainment and music, dancing, hors d'oeuvres, a cash bar, valet parking and the drawing for two grand prizes — a $300 shopping spree, and a $200 shopping spree donated by Quality Food Center in Wayne. An admission ticket is an automatic entry in the drawings, as is each and every bid made on a wreath. (You need not be present to win).

Admission of the evening is just $5 in advance or $7.50 at the door. Advance tickets may be purchased at Antiques on Main, Children's Collections, Legends and Swans, all in Wayne, or by calling the Main Street Office in Wayne at (402) 375-5062.

The following Thursday, Dec. 6, Main Street will host the "Parade of Lights," "Living Windows" and a visit from Santa.

For further information on "Holidazzle" or any of the events, contact the Main Street Office in Wayne by calling (402) 375-5062, Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.; mail to Box 43 or e-mail to mainstreetwayne@midlands.net

Halloween dance held for PALS

Lutheran Brotherhood Branch #8212 hosted a Halloween dance for PALS on Oct. 27 at the Wayne City Auditorium. The evening began with a lunch. Sandwiches from Subway and pop from the Pepsi Company were served by the teens. Coupon donations from Dairy Queen and Runza were also distributed by the teens.

PALS and approximately 17 staff to an evening of fun and food. During the dance pumpkins donated by the Mark Lundahl family and decorated by Kay Hilsinger were distributed to 15 lucky PALS. The teens also helped decorate and clean up after the dance. Tom's Tunes furnished music for the dance.

PALS is a United Way sponsored organization.

Several students recognized at dinner

Bradley Hansen and Anne Temme, both Wayne High School students, and Andrea Swetnam, a Allen High School student, were recently recognized as Distinguished Scholars at the annual Omaha World-Herald recognition dinner at the Embassy Suites Hotel in Lincoln. UNL recognized top Nebraska high school seniors as Distinguished Scholars for their academic excellence. The students have demonstrated a high level of ability and a strong commitment to superior performance in academics as indicated by their class ranking, combined with their ACT or SAT scores. All Nebraska National Merit semifinalists and National Achievement scholars were also recognized.

A recognition dinner capped off a full day of activities for the distinguished scholars. Distinguished Scholars Day gives students the opportunity to learn more about the academic programs offered at Nebraska through the University Honors Program.

Students and parents joined in a "Creation of Knowledge Tour" to get a glimpse of the research and other academic opportunities for undergraduate students in music, plant genetics and engineering. Students interacted in small seminar classes on subjects including ethics in business, history, language and images, philosophy, photojournalism, biotechnology, political science, management, and chemistry.

Cranberry Juice or Extract for Urinary Tract Infections

Since the mid-1800's, cranberry has been used to prevent and treat urinary tract infections. The mechanism was thought to be acidification of urine. Now we know that cranberry's protective effects are due to prevention of the bacterium E. coli from binding to the bladder cells and other sites. The primary use of cranberry is treatment of urinary tract infections, and the secondary use is as a deodorant for incontinent patients.

The most cited study was a double-blind, placebo-controlled trial of 153 women. The women consumed 10 ounces per day of a cranberry drink or a placebo. Women who drank the cranberry drink were 58% less likely to have bacteria and pus in their urine as compared to women who received the placebo.

Dosing for adults is one 300-400 mg cranberry extract capsule daily or drinking several glasses of pure cranberry juice. The juice must be 100% cranberry, not the cocktail, which is heavily diluted and loaded with sugar. Side effects are rare, and there are no known drug interactions or contraindications.

Stress is the body's reaction to something perceived as a threat

What does stress feel like? Stress creates many physical symptoms in your body. Not everyone will feel the same symptoms, but they include headaches, muscle aches, upset stomach, diarrhea, dizziness, blurred vision, rapid breathing, rapid heartbeat and low resistance to colds and flu.

What can I do about the physical symptoms of stress? For relief, focus your eyes, and thus your thoughts, on something in the distance. Take a vacation in your mind. Think about a relaxing location and imagine the sights, sounds and smells of that place. Practice muscle relaxation. Tighten, then relax each small part of your body, starting with your toes and working upward to the top of your head. Make your body feel like a soft rag doll.

But stress is more than physical symptoms. It is very complex. Different people need to do different things. Sometimes when we are under stress, we continue doing the same thing we have always done, only harder. Back off from your problem, and consider how you could approach the problem in a new way. Try a new way and see if it works.

Some problems don't have an obvious or easy solution. Talk your problem over with people who care, or write it out on paper.

Learn to let go of things over which you have no control. Take care not to resort to destructive behavior such as alcohol abuse. Take a few minutes a day to recharge your batteries.

Tune up your attitude and give yourself a pep talk. And don't forget to keep your spiritual health with prayer or meditation. Ask your family for support.

Remember that in trying times, the most important thing is your family. You can be rich beyond compare if you have supportive family.

Eagles auxiliary meets

The Nov. 5 meeting of the Wayne Eagles Auxiliary was called to order by Madam President DeAnn Behlers.

Winners of the Halloween Party "Haunted Hunt" were Kim Triggs, Brian Zila, DeAnn Behlers and Mary Beth Sukop. Prizes were awarded for various things and finger foods were served for all ghosts and goblins.

A thank you was extended to all who donated their time, money, food, etc. for the Hunters' Breakfast. There was a large turnout of hunters and non-hunters.

A thank you was also given to those who helped with the Steak Fry.

The auxiliary will have a Thanksgiving Potluck supper on Saturday, Nov. 17 at 7 p.m. Those attending are asked to bring one meat dish and one other dish. A box will be set up for food items to be donated to the Food Pantry.

The Men's State President, Kip Lytle will be in Wayne on Friday, Nov. 30 for a Potluck supper. At that time he will take back clothing and other items that have been collected for the Nebraska Children's Home. If anyone has anything to donate, it should be brought in before Nov. 30.

A Steak Fry will be held on Saturday, Dec. 1 from 6 to 9 p.m. Soup and sandwich suppers will be held on the Thursday's in December. Anyone who would like to make soup or sandwiches is asked to sign up at the Club.

The group will have a table at the Women of Today Craft Fair. Anyone who would like to provide baked items is asked to take them to the Our Senior Center on Saturday, Nov. 10 by 9 a.m. Donations of $5 could also be given to go toward one of the group's Humanitarian Projects.

Serving at the meeting was Barb Heier. Serving at the Monday, Nov. 19 meeting will be Glendora Weisler and Traci Gamble.

The combined Choir provided music for the Methodist Church's 100th anniversary celebration.

Wayne Methodists celebrate

Wayne United Methodists celebrated 100 years in their church building on Oct. 21 with Bishop Rhymes Moncure, Jr. preaching.

District Superintendent Dr. Marvin Koelling was liturgist and Rev. Mary Tyler Browne was worship leader. The combined choirs of the church sang under the direction of Connie Webber, Monica Jensen and Gretchen Murphy.

Following the service, a dinner was held in the Fellowship Hall. Former pastors and their wives were honored. They include Rev. Bill and Blanche Simmer, Rev. Ken and Bobbie Edmonds, Rev. John and Mary Ellen Craig and Rev. Gary and Chris Main and family.

Lay Leader Donna Liska spoke about the All Church Family Quilt Project with squares from 140 families as well as a memorial banner, historical banner and a banner with additional member squares.

"Speaking of Methodists," memories of members and a cook book from the early days of the church were also presented.

Bishop Rhymes Moncure, Jr.

CROP Walk raises funds

A total of 43 CROP Walkers this year raised $1,668.18 for needs in the Wayne area and around the world.

Seventy-five percent of the money goes to feeding the hungry, providing safe, clean drinking water and removing land mines which kill and maim people and livestock.

Twenty-five percent of the funds raised stays in the community to help people with food shelter and medicine.

Our Savior Lutheran Church raised $983.18; Wayne United Methodist, $590; Calvary Bible $50 and Carroll United Methodist, $45.

Pastor Mary Tyler Browne of the Wayne and Carroll United Methodist Churches extended a thank you to all those who gave to CROP this year.

Annual meeting is held

'Is this November?'

It's Tuesday morning, the 6th of November, and I'm getting ready to help the school nurse at Weeping Water with screenings. It's 60 degrees out, with the promise of another gorgeous day. As Mike's cousin asked at the birthday party on Saturday, "Is this November, and is it really Nebraska?" It wasn't even windy!

The party was for the 90-year-old aunt who has only recently given up choir. She lives in Kearney, which is only a three-hour drive, so we certainly planned to be there. Her sons would be coming from Virginia and Arizona; and a nephew from North Carolina and a niece from Arizona were also planning to attend. It sounded like a good time to see family.

Ella was married to a minister who died suddenly when their sons were small. She was left with a small house and very little else. She converted the basement to an apartment and went to work. Through all the hard years, she stayed involved in her church and "kept the faith."

The older son became an engineer and worked in the space program, retiring to Tucson just this year.

The younger one graduated from Westmar and has lived all over the world, prompting some wonderful trips by his Mom. Along the way, he invented and patented the Veriphone. In case you don't know what that is, glance at the brand name on the devices that verifies your credit card the next time you use it. These days, he manages the foundation he established to give away the fortune he's accumulated.

He built his mother a new house, and keeps her in dependable automobiles. One of the main organizations Ella has been active in is Women's Christian Temperance Union: WCTU. In fact, when the World Herald did an article on this band of determined ladies, Ella was interviewed and there was a colored photo of her in the paper. That was a surprise when we received that edition in the mail.

Obviously, we think Ella is quite a lady. Several years ago, she wrote a family history called "Papa, I want to go to School" that detailed the educational struggles of this clan of pioneer children. The desire for learning and achievement has been passed on to the next generation. We in laws observe that they are all "over-achievers." And, obviously, it was fun to honor this 90 years young lady.

Assistance program announced

Brian Wolford, state executive director for the Nebraska Farm Service Agency announced USDA intends to issue new rules to extend the Lamb Meat Adjustment Assistance Program (LMAAP) for an additional year through July 31, 2003.

In addition, Wolford said USDA plans to implement a ewe lamb expansion payment through the program that will provide incentives for producers to purchase or retain breeding ewes, expand their herds and increase the available supply of domestic lamb meat.

"This program is designed to help relieve economic injuries suffered by the domestic lamb and sheep industry and to help stabilize market conditions," said Wolford. "USDA has allocated an additional $37.7 million for the extension of the program. Of that amount, $26 million will be allocated to the new ewe lamb expansion payment for years three and four of the program. The remaining funds will be restricted to payments for feeder and slaughter lamb marketings during year two through year four of the program."

To be eligible for the planned new ewe lamb expansion payment, a sheep and lamb operation must have been purchased or a ewe lamb retained to expand the sheep herd during the period Aug. 1, 2001 through July 31, 2003. The producer would also have to certify that the ewe lamb was no older than 18 months of age, had not produced an offspring, had identified with an Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service approved scrapie program and did not possess parrot mouth or foot rot.

Payments for retaining or purchasing qualifying ewe lambs during years three and four would be targeted at $18 per ewe lamb. Signup dates will be announced later, according to Wolford, and other program restrictions may apply. Implementing regulations will be published in the Federal Register as soon as possible. Wolford said additional program information would be available from local USDA Service Centers or on FSA's web site at: www.fsa.usda.gov

Emergency loans available

Farm Service Agency (FSA) Wayne County Office has announced that family farmers in Dakota who suffered physical or production losses due to damages and losses caused by severe storms and a tornado that occurred from Aug. 17, 2001 through Aug. 18, 2001 may be eligible for FSA Emergency (EM) loans.

Dixon and Thurston counties also became eligible because they are contiguous to one or more of the designated counties. The current interest rate for the EM loans is 3.75 percent.

Family farmers interested in finding out if they are eligible should contact either Everett Moore, County Executive Director, or Mark P. Moser, Farm Loan manager, for information. They can be reached Monday through Friday between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. at the Farm Service Agency office in Wayne or (402) 375-2453, ext. #2 or Thurston at (402) 846-5322.

Emergency loan applications are available and must be submitted through the local FSA county office from any applicant who qualifies for a physical or production loss (at least a 30 percent reduction from normal) in a single enterprise from this disaster in Dakota, Dixon or Thurston counties.

To qualify for an EM loan, an applicant must be an established family farm operator; provide evidence of having suffered a qualifying physical or production loss; be unable to obtain suitable credit from a source other than FSA. The low interest loans may cover up to 80 percent of their actual production losses, or $500,000 whichever is less.

The applicants must show ability to repay the loan and must be adequately secured. Funds may be used to buy feed, seed, fertilizer, livestock or to make payments on current real estate and chattel debts.

The deadline for submitting applications is June 12, 2002. Applicants for all FSA programs will be given equal consideration without regard to race, color, sex, creed, marital status or national origin.
