Winside learns about unification

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

During an informational meeting attended by more than 40 interested persons, Al Schlueter spoke in Winside on the process of school unification. Prior to Schlueter's presentation, Winside Board of Education President Dan Jaeger told the audience that the gathering was an informational meeting and discussion of where the school district is headed began last spring during a board retreat. He stressed the fact that no changes were being made at the present time and that the board was exploring its options. Schlueter served as superintendent of Unified District #1, the schools in Orchard, Verdigré and Clearwater. "Unification is not re-organization and is not a merger. Unification is an interlocal agreement that can be terminated. A merger is permanent," Schlueter said. He went on to discuss the process that the school districts had gone through and the benefits of unification. "The interlocal agreement between the schools can be temporary or semi-permanent. It can be written up in any way. It involves general funds only. Each school involved has its own building fund, activity fund, hazardous materials fund and hot lunch fund," he said. In a unified district, a Super Board is created, consisting of at least one member from each school. Each school also maintains its own board and the principal of each school conducts those meetings. In the case of Unified District #1, the district started with one superintendent and one assistant superintendent.

It now has only one superintendent. Schlueter went on to explain that while the schools have the same master calendar, each has maintained its identity in a number of ways. "Each school has its own athletic teams and athletic handbooks. School lunch prices are different at each school," Schlueter said. He listed a number of reasons for and against the unification process. Those positive reasons included the fact that schools and communities have

Increase in holiday drivers means increased enforcement

Fred Zwonechek, administrator for the Nebraska Office of Highway Safety announced that 73 Nebraska law enforcement agencies will be adding extra emphasis to the Thanksgiving Holiday traffic enforcement effort. These agencies will be working with others from around the country in the Operation ABC Mobilization in saving lives on the nation's roadways. "We should all give thanks to the tireless effort by Nebraska's state, county, and local law enforcement for their commitment and dedication to encourage all of us to obey traffic laws and to buckle up," Zwonechek said. "This Thanksgiving period, more families will be on the road than normal and more officers will be patrolling Nebraska roads to help keep us safe." During the past five Thanksgiving holidays, 21 motorists have lost their lives on Nebraska roads and 11 of those were alcohol-related. In addition, 586 people were injured during the past five Thanksgiving holiday periods. The Operation ABC Mobilization will begin Nov. 19 and continue through

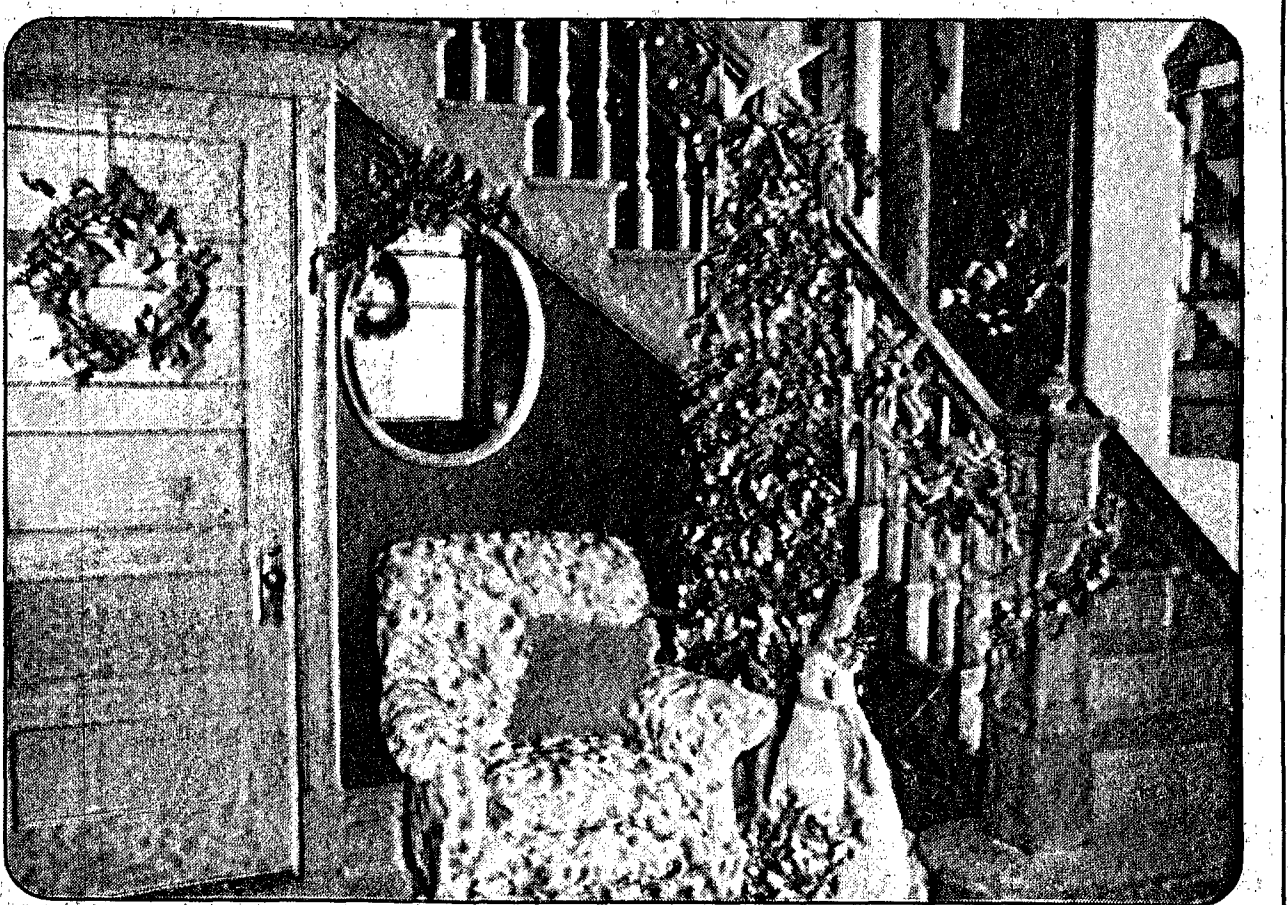

Thankful students

First grade students at Wayne Elementary enjoyed a Thanksgiving Feast on Monday. The students had earlier made 'clothes' appropriate for the occasion, some of the children were dressed as Native Americans and others as Pilgrims. The students then discussed what food was served at the first Thanksgiving and what they were thankful for. They then ate the jerky, popcorn and cornbread muffins prepared for them.

Tour of homes being planned

The Friends of the Wayne County Museum will be hosting a Christmas Tour of Homes on Saturday, Dec. 1 from 1 to 5 p.m. The Wayne County Museum and five Wayne homes will be featured. They include the homes of Mrs. Richard (Marjorie) Armstrong, Dr. and Mrs. James Lindau, Mr. and Mrs. Corby Schweers, Dr. and Mrs. Wayne Wessel and Mr. and Mrs. Reggie Yates. Admission to the event is $7.50 in advance. Tickets may be purchased at the museum for $8 the day of the tour. Advance tickets may be purchased at the four Wayne banks, Antiques on Main and Swans. Raffle tickets are also being sold for a decorated Longaberger Picnic Basket filled with greens and treasures. They are available for $1.50 each or four for $5 from members of The Friends of the Wayne County Museum — Claudia Adams, Marlene Broer, Jodie Jordan, Kaki Ley, Joann Proett, Paula Schwarten, Lois Shelton and Loreta Tompkins. All proceeds from the event will be used for renovation and upkeep of the Historical Society Museum. In this and next week's issue of the Wayne Herald, homes on the tour will be featured, with highlights of each described.

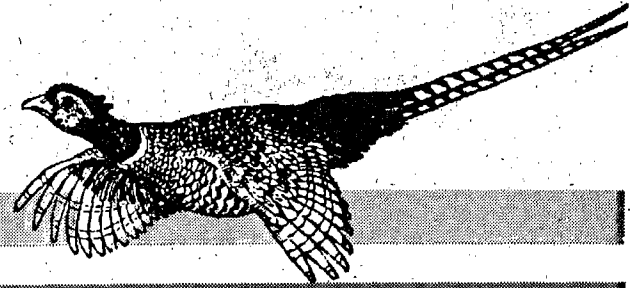

The open staircase at the Schweers home is decorated for the holiday season.

United Way reminder

WAYNE — All Wayne business are reminded to turn in United Way Pledge cards. This year's goal of $34,000 has not been met yet. Call Mike at 375-1502 for more pledge cards.

Merry Mixers gather

AREA — The Merry Mixers met Nov. 13 at the Bank of Norfolk meeting room with nine members and two guests, Carmen Monk and Karen Smith, present.

President Janet Reeg called the meeting to order. Roll call was answered with "Your plans for Thanksgiving." Faye Mann read two poems, "Faith Leads the Way" and "A Prayer for a Solidier."

There was no old business.

In new business, plans were made for the Tuesday, Dec. 11 meeting. Members will eat out with spouses at the Senior Center. The afternoon will be spent with cards.

Carmen Monk and Karen Smith gave a lesson on soap making. Janet Reeg had a quiz of Christmas songs.

Seminar to be held

Questions that individuals may have about the Wayne State College Study Abroad Discover Costa Rica Summer 2002 trip will be answered at an informative session on Thursday, Nov. 29 at the WSC Multicultural Center at 3 p.m. Dr. Adolfo Cacheiro will lead the trip, host the session and show a videotape of some of the activities planned for the trip, June 3 to July 3, 2002.

"This is an opportunity for students to live as well as learn Spanish."

For a month they can experience the unexpected joys of living in a different culture, as they make new friends, try new foods and discover favorite hangouts," Cacheiro said.

Designed for students interested in learning Spanish, this summer program features classes at the Central American Institute for International Affairs, an outstanding academic institution located in San Jose, the capital of the most stable, progressive country in Latin America.

Many other Americans are also touring and visiting Costa Rica.

Assistant professor of language and literature at WSC, Cacheiro will teach classes in Spanish, as well as lead individuals on a balance of cultural activities, educational tours and recreational travel.

Students will experience

Hispanic culture firsthand by staying with middle-class Costa Rican families. The trip is open to any student with at least one year of Spanish or the equivalent. Students are encouraged to speak Spanish as much as possible during the trip and must purchase textbooks before departure.

The trip includes: *Round-trip airfare to and from Costa Rica with departure in Omaha; *Lodging, plus breakfast and evening meals in the home of Costa Rican family; *Laundry service (weekly) in Costa Rican homes; *Orientation session in San Jose; *Walking tour of neighborhood; *Two half-day tours of San Jose; *Two-day/one-night Caribbean Tour with lodging (double-occupancy), meals and transportation; *Half-day tour of the Britt Coffee Plantation; *One-day tour to Grecia, Sarchi and Ox Cart Factory (lunch included); *Dinner and show at the Ram Luna Restaurant;

Application deadline is Feb. 15, 2002. Three payment deadlines are set up to begin Feb. 15. Six credit hours may be earned at undergraduate or graduate levels. Financial aid is available.

For more information on payment deadlines, insurance, tuition costs, expenses and other details, please call Dr. Cacheiro at (402) 375-7407 or e-mail at: adcache1@wsc.edu.

Course offered

Northeast Community College in Norfolk has scheduled another one-session First Aid Course in mid-December.

The class will be offered Wednesday, Dec. 12, from 6-10 p.m. on the Northeast campus in Norfolk.

Successful completion of this First Aid course will satisfy requirements for OSHA. Licensed daycare providers and the public are also encouraged to attend.

Cost of this class is $25. Connie Sue DeBoer is instructor. To register, call Northeast Community College at (402)-844-7000.

The Library Card

This column is written occasionally to inform the Wayne area as to what types of reading material and other items are available at the Wayne Public Library.

"Books are never far from a scholar's hands, just as songs are never far from a singer's lips." Chinese proverb

It's been a great fall at Wayne Public Library. Monday movies are over until the spring, but Thursday afternoon Story Time continues through Dec. 6. This program is designed for pre-school aged children and is every Thursday afternoon from 2-3 p.m. (except Thanksgiving Day). Our theme for this story time is food and because food will be provided, we ask your help in having enough treats to go around. Please register ahead of time by visiting the circulation desk or calling WPL at 375-3135.

Make plans now for Santa Story Time on Thursday evening, Dec. 13 at 6:30 p.m. Children of all ages are invited to visit with Santa, hear him read some of his favorite stories and make a reindeer craft before heading off to bed to dream about Christmas morning.

There have been several winners in recent contests and giveaways. The winners of the five pizza prizes donated by Pizza Hut and Godfather's Pizza were Ben Bareman, Caden Korth, Mark Evetovich, Karen Schardt and LaVera Roemhildt. Winners in the Children's Book Week book jacket and puppet contests were Kaitlyn Centrone, Teana Goodman, Griffin Knottwell, Morgan Centrone, Seth Onderstal, Genelle Gardner, Karley Pilger, Aubrey Workman and Renee Alleman. The winner of a Christmas tree skirt door prize at the recent Christmas Craft demonstration was Donna Mallette.

Next time you visit the Library/Senior Center, take a moment to look at the display case in the lobby. Throughout the month of November, the case is featuring cooking utensils from years past, donated by the Wayne County Historical Society and Questers. The display case located at the entrance to the Library/Senior Center is available for community use year round. The display is changed at the beginning of each month and WPL invites community members to take advantage of this free and very visible site.

Can't decide what to do with all those paperback books around the house? All paperback lovers are invited to exchange their gently used recent paperbacks at WPL's Paperback Exchange just inside the library doors. It is a swap program that lets you bring in paperbacks that you've read and exchange them for others. Since these books are not checked out there are no due dates to worry about and you may even keep the books if you wish.

WPL's Year Round Hours: 10 a.m. to 8:30 p.m., Monday through Thursday; 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Fridays; 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturdays. From Labor Day to Memorial Day, the Library will also offer Sunday hours from 2 to 5 p.m. No Sunday hours in the summer. Our phone number is (402) 375-3135; fax number, (402) 375-5772 (sending or receiving fax charge is $1 per page).

Blood bank gives thanks

Dear Editor,
Did you know that one donation can save the lives of three patients! These patients can have cancer, be victims of accidents, be in need of organ transplants or have chronic illness. Sometimes blood can be utilized to replace lost blood from people in life or death situations.

Plasma, the yellow liquid portion of the blood, reduces bleeding through coagulation factors. The platelets that also assist in the coagulation are fragile cells that are needed by patients with leukemia and other cancers. These platelets should be transfused within the first five days after the donation. So every pint of blood we collect is very important, and that makes our donors very special.

Fifty-six people volunteered and a total of 48 full units were collected. Below is a list of donors that reached certain donation milestones at this last drive. Everyone deserves to be recognized for their commitment to giving the gift of life.

Carmela Marotz 2 gallons
Troy Reynolds 2 gallons
Jeffrey Brady 5 gallons
Darold Beckenhauer 13 gallons
Karen Jones 1 gallon
Jason Trenhaile 1 gallon
Patricia Thompson 10 gallons
Greg Simpson 9 gallons
Connie Kirkpatrick 2 gallons
Thank you all who came and donated or to those who tried to donate...also a big thanks to Providence Medical Center for letting us use their facilities. A special thanks goes out to the people in Wayne who help coordinate these great blood drives, Roger Meyer, Evelyn Jerman, Bonnie Moomaw and Dennis Lipp. With out these people, we couldn't do it.

The Siouxland Community Blood Bank serves all the blood needs of our 23 area hospitals and their patients. The ONLY way blood products are made available for area patients is if individuals in our communities volunteer to donate blood on a regular basis.

Have a safe Thanksgiving

By Ed Howard

Statehouse Correspondent
Nebraska Press Association
Thomas Wolfe said that we never feel so much at home as when we are on the way there.

Thanksgiving is a great time for homecomings. It's also a great time for the horrendous experiences shared by millions of Americans who try to prove that they can, indeed, go home again, and that they can do it via air travel.

The thought of trying to fly anywhere during this holiday season is beyond my own imagination - the latter being a faculty which my spouse and a squad of accountants will confirm is approximately limitless, depending upon the jam I'm in and how I got there.

My favorite childhood memories of turkey day center on "going home" to my grandmother's house in Ohio. Mary Catherine gave birth to a baseball team and there was a time when the entire squad would show up, kids in tow, for the gathering of an extended clan that was so large it probably should have been required to have a permit.

The smell of pumpkin pie still marks the beginning of the holiday season for me. This, even though I agree with Garrison Keillor's observation that, when it comes to pumpkin pie, the best one you ever had wasn't that much different from the worst one you ever had; and that pumpkin pie is mostly an excuse for people to eat nutmeg, or something.

And no thought of Thanksgiving would be complete without mentioning the matter of drumsticks, and the tragedies related thereto, and how to avoid them.

Any little kid worth his/her salt wants the drumstick. The stupid bird only has two of them, and half the time some gluttonous adult with no concern for inflicting permanent emotional scars on a child insists on glomming on to one of them.

In a big family, the kid who gets the drumstick is often 1) the biggest whiner 2) some cutesy pooh little jerk who's likely to grow up trying to get through life on a smile and shoeshine or 3) a bully who can intimidate the other little kids.

Well, in the year 2001 there is no excuse for any kid - whether rug rat, crib lizard, crumb snatcher, goober-faced toddler or third grader - to go without a drumstick. These days, grocery stores sell turkey drumsticks individually. Anyone whose Thanksgiving repast is intended for a family with a passel of kids ought to have the good sense to buy a passel of drumsticks. That way, all the kids can have one.
I totally reject the notion that giving every kid a drumstick will give youngsters a false sense that all of their expectations in life will somehow be met. Their parents usually infect them with that notion before they're old enough to eat turkey out of a Gerber bottle, let alone off the bone.

Besides, expecting too much from turkeys is part of the American way, whether they are birds or politicians.

Drive safely this holiday season. Your family loves you, and I hate the thought of losing a reader.

Dedication ceremony

During the Veteran's Day program at Premier Estates in Wayne, a flag pole was dedicated in honor of those veterans who have served our country. Standing at the flag pole, are left to right, Mark Ahmann, Director of Marketing, Amy Murray, Director of Nursing, Steve Lamoureux, Director of Maintenance, Lori Hansen, Activities Director and David Curtiss, a resident of Premier Estates. Curtiss is a World War II veteran who served in France, Belgium and Germany, entering the service in July of 1941 until his discharge in February of 1946.

City Auditorium
The auditorium renovation committee and city council will get a look at the architect's final design for renovation of the auditorium in December and will advertise for bids in January. The architect is still estimating the bids to total less than or equal to the $735,000 set aside for the project. The new roof was completed this fall. We will be booking events through January in the auditorium.

With the Wayne National Guard Armory temporarily unavailable for public and private events we are getting some requests to book events allowing the serving of alcohol. We have listed that topic as an item on the city council agenda for Tuesday, Nov. 27. Allowing alcohol to be served in the city auditorium would be a change in policy from the past and is being considered by the renovation committee for events after the building renovation.

Millions in tax checks are returned to the IRS

The Internal Revenue Service is urging more than 1,900 Nebraskans whose income tax refund or advance payment checks have been returned to the agency to act now so their checks can be processed and mailed to them by the end of December.

Local ATPC checks returned include: Riffey, Adam and Sullivan, Mike, both of Allen; Landanger, Dustin E. of Carroll; Baldzhyski, Atanas N. and Benson, Brian W., Deppe, Sandra M., and Wetherell, Daniel R., all of Wayne.

Income tax refund checks returned include: Gillming, Elizabeth J., and Obata, Maki, both of Wayne.

The agency's list of undelivered checks for Nebraska taxpayers this year includes more than 1,500 advance payment checks that the IRS started issuing in July. These advance payment checks total more than $451,000 - an average of $296 per check.

Nationwide more than 295,000 advance payment checks totaling over $95 million have been returned to the IRS. There is extra urgency for taxpayers to act quickly on these checks by Dec. 5. After that day, taxpayers can't get an advance payment check. Instead, they'll have to claim it after Jan. 1 on a credit on their 2001 tax returns.

Another 385 Nebraska tax refunds were returned to the IRS from this year and previous years. These "regular" tax refunds are worth more than $205,000 - an average of $531 per check. These checks range from as low as $1 to over $7,000. Nationwide more than 95,000 income tax refunds totaling more than $88 million have been returned to the IRS.

The advance payment checks, add a unique dimension this year, said Donna Migazzi, a spokeswoman for the IRS in Nebraska.

"But our goal remains the same: We want this money back in the hands of the people as quickly as possible."

Taxpayers who think they may be missing a refund or an advance payment check should first check their records or contact their tax preparer. If they believe they are missing a check, they should call the IRS toll-free assistance line at 1-800-829-1040.

Migazzi said, most often, checks don't reach taxpayers because of a move or major life change. "There are many reasons that refund or advance payment checks might not reach taxpayers," Migazzi said, "but it's often because a life change - such as a marriage or name change - causes an address change. If an address changes, and neither the IRS nor the U.S. Postal Service is notified, a check sent to the last known address will be returned to the IRS."

According to the Postal Service, about 43 million Americans move each year. That's more than 800,000 address changes each week. To ensure the IRS has their correct address, taxpayers who have moved since filing their last tax return are urged to file a Form 8822, "Change of Address," with the IRS. The form can be downloaded from the IRS Web Site at www.irs.gov or can be requested by calling 1-800-829-3676.

Choosing to have a tax refund deposited directly to a bank account is the best way to ensure it goes to the right place and to guard against loss or theft, according to Migazzi.

Nearly 34 million taxpayers chose direct deposit for their refunds during the 2001 filing season, an increase of more than 15 percent compared with the previous year. The direct deposit option was not available for advance payment checks.

the opportunity to control their own destiny; each original district can continue to maintain its original activity programs; some small communities in very rural Nebraska may have the opportunity to survive; unification can provide better staff and administrator efficiency, particularly if the member schools are in a close geographic proximity; distance learning facilities can be used more efficiently; unified districts have local and unified boards of education. The local board becomes the sounding board for each community, while the unified board becomes the financial and staff development leader; the unification process can be adapted to any size school; local businesses may be utilized more efficiently.

Reasons against unification include, due to master contract differences, teaching staffs may have a difficult time coming to consensus in determining how and what items are to be negotiated with the board; the unification agreement can be repealed after three years. Some communities do not want to go through the process again; as in a school merger, districts may wish to reorganize in order to receive the incentive aid or to become "sparse" for state aid purposes; unification of school districts will not guarantee the survival of a community; unification does not guarantee a large dollar savings.

Schlueter concluded his presentation by stating that unification can be complicated and that the ultimate question to be asked is "what are you going to put together to educate our kids?"

Since 1913, the house has had numerous owners. For a time the house was used for boarding college students. Amy's grandmother occupied the south middle bedroom while attending college. In August of 2000, the Schiweers family made this house their home.

The house maintains much of its original character and floor plan. The wrap around porch is the trademark for the house.

The floor plan is made up of formal and casual living spaces.

Some of its special features include sitting nooks, colonnades, a built-in buffet, open staircase, beautiful fireplace and woodwork galore.

The family enjoys decorating for the holidays. A primitive-country theme is the flavor for the decorations. Twig stars and rusty jingle bells are a common theme throughout the house. Many of the decorations were handmade by Amy.

The ranch style home of Wayne and Annamae Wessel was built by Roy and Gerrie Christensen in 1955. It was purchased by the Wessels in 1973.

The home features a slate floor entry into the large living room which has floor to ceiling windows.

There are four bedrooms, two bathrooms and two fireplaces on the main floor. The bedrooms, living and family room all have beam ceilings.

The family room was added by Roy in the early 1960's. It was inspired by Roy's purchase of a large leaded curved glass window from a bank that was dismantled in Bloomfield. In addition to the window, the room features a brick floor and large brick fireplace with a mantel that once served as part of a grain elevator. The passage of grain over the wood gave a natural sculpture and finish to the wood.

Christmas has always been a favorite holiday for the Wessels. Their decorations span over some 40 years. The fresh tree in the living is decorated with old and new ornaments. The lighting is done with bubble lights and colored lights with old reflectors.

In the family room, the tree is decorated entirely with a variety of glass pinecone ornaments.

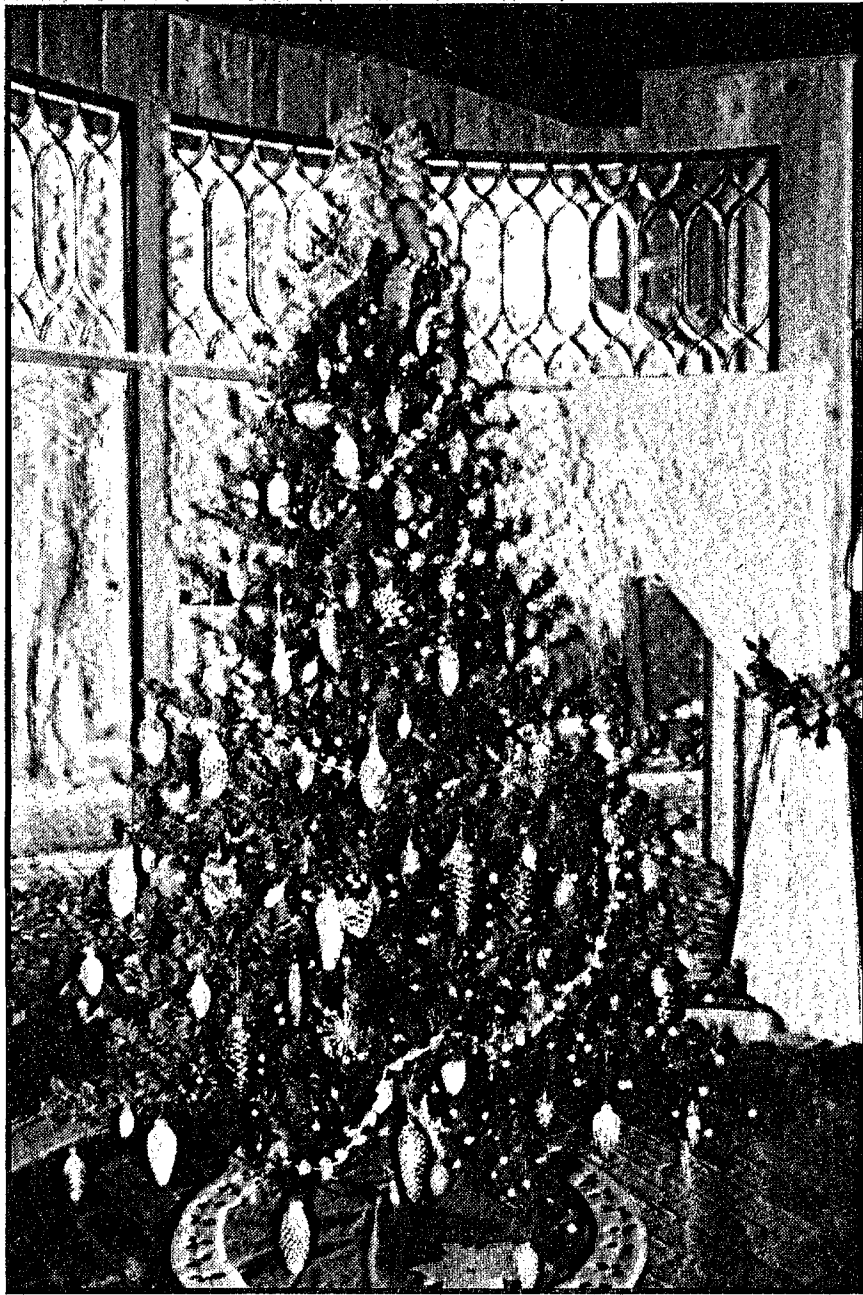

Annamae decorates a tree in the kitchen with pictures of the children and grandchildren which she enjoys while baking and cooking for the holidays.

In the past, there have been trees decorated in all white for brides-to-be, pink and blue trees for the new grandchild to be and now there are little trees in the bedrooms for each grandchild.

Bounty of the season

Area residents have much to be thankful this Thanksgiving. A bountiful harvest and pleasant fall are among the those to be grateful for. The staff at the Herald wishes all its readers a Happy and Safe Thanksgiving.

The family room of the Wessel home contains a Christmas tree decorated entirely with a variety of glass pine cones.

From left are: Jennifer Gaesser, Magdalena Willis, Valerie Watkins, Gretchen Murphy, Rochelle Kai and Angela Tronetti. WSC Madrigal Christmase Feaste tickets are on sale for on-campus dinner performances by the singing student group. The performances will be in the Frey Conference Suite, WSC Student Center, on Saturday, Dec. 1 at 7 p.m. and Sunday, Dec. 2, at 5 p.m. Admission includes entertainment and a traditional Elizabethan Feaste, including prime rib with all the trimmings, bread, salad, wassail drink, and flaming dessert. During the feaste, the audience will be treated to singing, poetry, and comedy (complete with a court jester). Tickets for the Madrigal Christmase Feastes are $17 per person. To order, call Virginia Backstrom in the WSC Fine Arts Department office at 402-375-7359. Group discounts are available.

Who is insane?

A "Drama and Dessert" night was held at Wayne High School last week as students involved with the one-act play performed "The Infamous Soothing System of Professor Maillard." The play, based on a short story by Edgar Allan Poe, revolves around a visit to an insane asylum. The students also performed the play in Norfolk on Nov. 19 and will host the District competition on Friday, Nov. 30.

Turkey tales told

Kindergarten students at St. Mary's Elementary School have been planning for the Thanksgiving holiday.

With the help of third and fourth grade scribes, the kindergarten students described how they were going to prepare the Thanksgiving turkey for their families.

Their stories are told below:

"We will go to Pac 'N' Save and get the turkey. I will brush off the ice off the turkey and cook it. Mom will form my name.

Ben will take it to grandma's house." Told by Ben Barelman to scribes Keegan Dorcey and Lauryn Braun.

"I'll buy a turkey at Quality Foods. Then I'll let it thaw. Then I'll put it in the oven at 400 degrees for two hours. I'll cut it off the bones and eat it." Told by Sadie Miller to scribes Anna Osten and Trevor Beza.

"You get your turkey. You take it out of the bag. You thaw it. You cook your turkey for 375 degrees for two hours. Stuff your turkey. Eat it." Told by Kayla Janke to scribes Kelly Gentrup and Trent Beza.

"Aspen is going to her grampa's farm to get the turkey. She's going to put the turkey in a cage and she's going to Bomgaars to get a gun to shoot the turkey. She's going to put her turkey on the grill for nine hours. She's going to eat it." Told by Aspen Pflanz to Bethany Barelman and Travis Ritze.

'Cats fall to USD and Morningside opening weekend WSC women's cagers start 0-2

By Kevin Peterson
For the Herald

Ryun Williams' Wayne State women's basketball team dropped a pair of games to open the 2001-2002 campaign last weekend in Sioux City, Iowa.

The 'Cats fell to South Dakota in the first game of the Tip-Off Classic at Morningside College, 81-62 before falling to the host team, 68-58 on Saturday night.

In the opener the 'Cats led 3-0 and 4-3 but would never regain the lead after USD went on a short scoring run.

The 'Cats trailed 19-13 at one point in the first half before the Coyotes raced to a 42-25 halftime advantage.

The second half was closer with WSC being out-scored by a 39-37 margin for the final margin of 81-62.

"We knew USD could shoot the ball but we were tentative everywhere," coach Ryun Williams said. "We looked as though we were back on our heels most of the night. Our shot selection in the first half was primarily from the perimeter and not inside."

Williams said he liked the way his team played hard in the second half. "We were more aggressive in the second half and we had some kids step up," Williams added.

Veterans Karen Hochstein and Tracy Williamson shared team scoring honors with 16 points each while Dodie Martin, in her first game as a Wildcat, chipped in 15 points including three, 3-pointers.

WSC hit just 31 percent of its shots from the field while USD connected on 37 percent. The 'Cats were out-rebounded, 49-45 with Hochstein leading WSC with 14 caroms.

The 'Cats committed 18 turnovers compared to nine by USD and the Coyotes posted seven blocked shots. Kim Hefner led WSC with four assists.

On Saturday the 'Cats fell to Morningside, 68-58 after trailing by just two points at the half, 29-27.

"Morningside has a very good team," Williams said. "They can all shoot the three-pointer very well and they did a good job of extending our defense. I thought we played a lot harder however, against Morningside than we did against USD."

Williams said he felt he had a number of players trying to do too much. "We need to identify our roles and get into the flow of our offense and I know we will because we have a good group of kids who have a lot of character. We'll bounce back."

The 'Cats had four players in double figures led by Dodie Martin with 15 as she connected on three, 3-pointers.

Karen Hochstein had 11 points and 10 rebounds for her second straight double-double to start the year.

Tracy Williamson tossed in 11 points and Christi Williams tallied 10.

WSC was out-rebounded by a 41-35 margin with Kiney Larter hauling down eight caroms to go with Hochstein's 10.

Once again, WSC suffered more turnovers than its opponent with 19 while Morningside had 15.

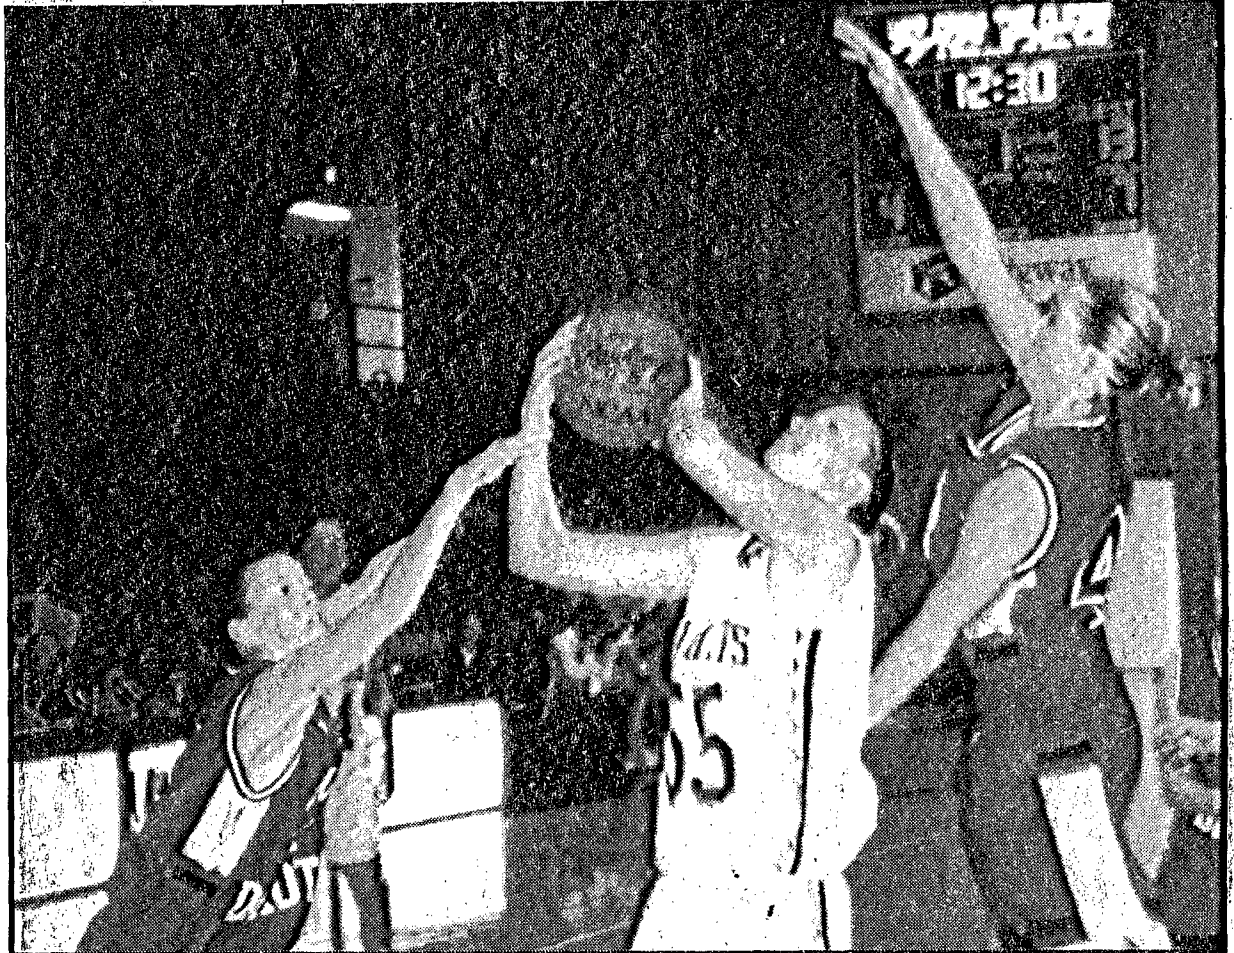

Kim Hefner dished out four assists for team tops. WSC will look for its first win on Sunday at 3 p.m. against Mt. Marty in the 'Cats' first home game of the season.

Wildcat men win opener but fall in championship

By Kevin Peterson
For the Herald

The Wayne State men's basketball team opened the 2001-2002 campaign on a winning note with a 78-72 win over Truman State at the Minnesota State-Mankato Pepsi Tip-Off Classic last Friday.

Rico Burkett's team however, couldn't pull the sweep as the 'Cats fell to Wisconsin-Parkside in the championship of that tournament, 80-68 on Saturday.

In the opener WSC built a six point lead at the intermission at 33-27.

At different points of the second half the lead grew to double digits before a Truman State rally attempt forced WSC into a free throw shooting contest down the stretch.

When it came to free throws the 'Cats were nearly perfect, connecting on 18-of-20 attempts in the second half and 23-of-29 attempts overall.

"I felt we were in the control pretty much the entire game but we just couldn't put them away and they hit some long three's toward the end which made the game seem closer," Burkett said. "We had those normal first game jitters but we played solid and I was pleased with our effort."

Burkett said he felt at times his squad played a little too fast at times which took them out of rhythm.

Todd Klostermann led the 'Cats with 19 points and the sophomore led the way on the boards as well with seven caroms.

It was a career scoring night for two other Wildcats as Kevin Cobs poured in 16 points and Justin Sanny tallied 14.

"We had a number of players step up for us," Burkett said. "Todd struggled some the first half but responded nicely in the second half and Kevin scored 11 of his 16 points in the first half including a stretch of three, 3-pointers."

"Justin, who's finally healthy, played an excellent game and knocked down free throws down the stretch."

WSC was out-rebounded by Truman State, 37-29 but that difference was nearly made up in the turnover category as the 'Cats had 15 but forced 22.

Sanny had a team-high three assists and WSC shot 43 percent from the floor.

"I thought Tim Gesell did a nice job of coming off the bench for us," Burkett said.

Gesell knocked down a pair of 3-pointers on a couple key Wildcat possessions.

In the championship game with Wisconsin-Parkside on Saturday, WSC was downed by an 80-68 margin despite leading by eight points at the half, 37-29.

Parkside connected on 68 percent of its shots from the floor in the second half.

"Parkside is a very disciplined team with a lot of experience in the starting lineup," Burkett said. "We came out in the second half and suffered turnovers on three of our first four possessions which allowed them to hang around and they took advantage."

Burkett said it was a five point game with three minutes left in regulation but the 'Cats just couldn't convert on the offensive end.

"I still feel we played well enough overall to start the season at 2-0 with the exception of a four-minute gap," Burkett said. "I feel like we're coming along right on schedule. I really like this group of guys."

Todd Klostermann was the leading scorer once again for the 'Cats with 23 points. His two game total of 42 points was a tournament high among the four teams.

Kevin Lingenfelter tossed in a dozen points and point guard Jon Moore tallied 10 after hitting seven-of-eight free throw attempts.

The 'Cats were defeated on the boards, 36-29 with Moore leading WSC with five rebounds while Klostermann and Levi Cahill had four each.

WSC committed 19 turnovers compared to 16 for Parkside. Moore also led WSC in assists with four.

The 'Cats will host in-state rival Nebraska-Kearney on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. after the women's game with Grand View.

Wayne State athletic notes...

Volleyball team inks Central City star

The Wayne State volleyball program has signed Central City prep star Jacey Kuck during the early signing period. Kuck, a 5-10 middle hitter, is the first signee for the 2002-2003 class. In 2000, Kuck was named First Team All-State as well as All-Central Conference First Team and to the Class C-1 All-Tournament team. She led her team to the 2000 state championship with a 27-3 record and to a state runner-up team in 2001 and a 29-1 record.

"I am very excited about Jacey joining our program," coach Sharon Vanis said. "She is a fundamentally sound player that comes to us from one of the best teams in the state."

She started all four years in volleyball for Central City, two years for basketball and has been a state track participant her first three years.

"Her high school success and the fact she is a very disciplined player will help her make an immediate impact for the 'Cats,'" Vanis added.

Women's cage team signs Burke player

The Wayne State women's basketball program signed Omaha Burke prep star Kristen Humphries during the early signing period.

Humphries, a 6-1 forward earned all-state honorable mention honors during her sophomore and junior campaigns. She led her Burke team on both scoring (12.2 ppg) and rebounds (7.8 rpg) while ranking 10th in Class A in both free throw percentage and scoring.

"We're very excited about Kristen joining our program," coach Ryan Williams said. "She has the ability to be a very successful player for us. She's got good versatility to her game, having the ability to score on the block combine with an excellent perimeter game. The thing that excites me most is her overwhelming passion for the game. We just got better as a team by signing her. We are anxious to get her in black and gold."

During her junior year Humphries broke the Burke record for points in a game with 29.

She has also started two years on the softball team where she led the state in triples and was second in RBIs. A three-year letterwinner in track, Humphries was fourth in Class A in the shot put last year.

Volleyball team lands five on NSIC team

Three Wayne State volleyball players earned first-team all-conference in the Northern Sun with two others earning honorable mention.

Lindsey Koch, Rayna Nelsen and Kasey Meyer were first-teams with Jessie Erwin and Laurie Schroeder honorable mention.

Koch leaves WSC as one of the greatest players to ever wear a Wildcat uniform. She finished as the school's all-time leader in digs (1874), attacks (4671) and kills (1651). This past season she had 461 kills and 473 digs.

Nelsen led the Wildcats with 85 block assists, and was second on the team with 100 total blocks and 15 solo blocks. She notched 368 kills on the season and currently sits seventh on the school's all-time list with 983.

Meyer became the all-time set assists leader in Wayne State history with 2944. She had 1557 set assists this season while adding 92 kills, 272 digs and 33 blocks.

Erwin led the conference in digs with 543 this season which was second for a season on the WSC all-time charts. She also compiled 288 kills and 30 service aces.

Schroeder had a solid season off the bench with a team-leading 17 solo blocks, 101 total blocks and 84 block assists. She also posted 344 kill spikes.

Eight Wildcat gridders earn NSIC

Senior linebacker Antonio Jackson was named to the 2001 All-NSIC first-team while receiver Tavaris Johnson and defensive back Desmond Grace were chosen to the second team.

Those earning honorable mention included Bryan Freeland, Heath Keim, Tim Rexius, Mike Baker and Kyle Lingenfelter.

Jackson leaves WSC as the seventh all-time leading tackler with 325. He had 95 tackles this season, 53 of which were unassisted and 12 were for losses. He also posted four sacks and recovered two fumbles.

Grace, playing just his second season on the defensive side of the ball, accumulated 68 tackles, 35 of which were unassisted, and two for a loss.

Johnson leaves WSC as the all-time leader in career receiving yardage with 2464. He finished second behind Byron Chamberlain, now with the Minnesota Vikings, with 153 career receptions.

This season Johnson had 70 catches for 1159 yards and 10 touchdowns. He also ran for 90 yards and a touchdown.

School-based medicaid payments are available

Nebraska school districts can now receive payment from medicaid for administrative expenses they incur when identifying and assessing health care needs and accessibility to resources for medicaid eligible students.

"Schools have provided screening and student referrals to needed health services for many years," said Steve Curtis, director of Finance and Support. "Now they can be reimbursed for administrative costs associated with those activities." Payments will be provided through the federal School-based Medicaid Administrative Claiming Program.

The Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) approved federal participation relating to school-based Medicaid administrative activities in Nebraska effective Sept. 1. Medicaid already pays for physical, occupational and speech therapy provided at schools to eligible children. Participating schools will receive their first payments in November.

LB 548, introduced by Senator Don Pederson of North Platte, enabled Nebraska schools to access federal Medicaid dollars for reimbursement of administrative expenses, including outreach activities.

Trespassing laws are discussed to help hunters through season

If you talk to landowners and Game & Parks personnel, they'll tell you that the biggest complaint and violation they deal with is trespassing or hunting on closed areas.

When I grew up, the rule of thumb for hunting on private land was the number of strands of barbed wire or hog wire. If the field had four strands of barbed wire or hog wire along the bottom, we wouldn't hunt it because it meant that there was livestock in field. We didn't hunt near farms or other group of buildings, including any place that might have livestock near by.

I'm not sure if that was the law back then, but it was an understanding between the hunters and the landowners and if you obeyed these unwritten rules, you very seldom had any problems.

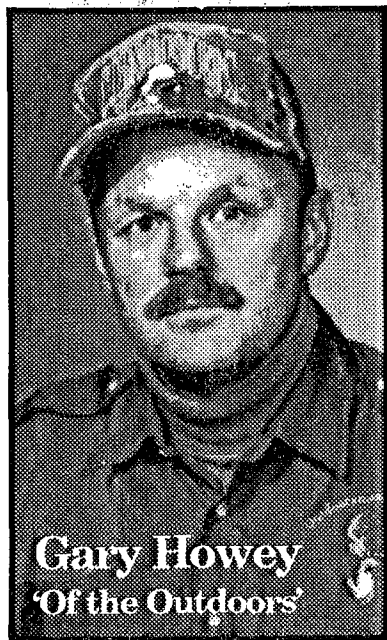

Trespassing laws vary from state to state. In most states, you need permission to hunt on any private ground.

Hunters who travel from state to state need to be aware of the difference in trespassing laws.

In Nebraska, you'll need permission to hunt on any privately owned ground. If you're hunting on someone's land without permission you're guilty of trespassing.

Another trespassing violation that occurs is shooting game over an adjoining landowners land. If you're walking a fence line, on land that you have permission to hunt and shoot a bird or deer that drops on the neighbor's ground, legally you'll need permission before you go onto the neighbor's ground to retrieve your game.

Road hunting in Nebraska is

Gary Howey
'Of the Outdoors'

illegal, which means that you can't hunt the road ditches, this includes the right of ways between roads or highways.

Hunters in Nebraska have to be inside the fences to legally hunt and you'll need the landowner's permission to be on private property.

It's also illegal in Nebraska to hunt, take or trap any wild mammal or bird within a 200-yard radius of an inhabited building or livestock feedlot without permission from the owner or tenant of that dwelling or feedlot.

In South Dakota, road hunting for small game and waterfowl is legal and as long as you're out of the vehicle, you don't need permission to hunt the ditch. You'll need to remember that it's illegal to hunt big game from the road in South Dakota.

It's also illegal to hunt within 660 feet from a farm, occupied dwelling, church, school and livestock. This rule applies to all land unless you have the permission of the landowner.

Section lines that were ever used by the public can be hunted in South Dakota as long as these section lines haven't been vacated or returned back to private ownership.

The only exception to this rule would be on state or federal refuge land. It is illegal to do any hunting on refuges, unless there is a special season and special permits are required for these seasons.

If you drop game on private land in South Dakota, legally you can retrieve the game with out permission as long as you don't carry your shotgun or rifle onto the private ground.

In South Dakota, pass shooting from the ditches for geese is legal. If your goose drops on private land, you'll have to leave your shotgun behind and run the bird down unless you've got permission to be on the land.

Don't think that game laws are similar from one state to another. Each state has different laws, limits and game rules and you'll need to check the game laws of the other states you plan on hunting.

Nebraska visit

Six members of the U.S.S. Nebraska submarine toured several places in Wayne recently, including Heritage Homes, Great Dane Trailers and Wayne State College. Members of the "Gold Crew" were on a homestate visit for a week before returning to their submarine. The trip was sponsored by the Big Red Sub Club. Pictured with the crew are Heritage Homes employees, Mike Mattison, sales manager (left), Lonnie Matthes, regional manager and Patti Weiland, sales associate.

Maj. John Chace is deployed

Air Force Maj. John B. Chace has deployed to a forward operating area to support the mission of Operation Enduring Freedom.

Enduring Freedom is the biggest military mobilization ordered by President George W. Bush since the Gulf War in 1991. Members of all branches and components of the U.S. Armed Forces have been deployed and activated to support the war against terrorism outside the United States, mainly in Afghanistan. The operation also includes humanitarian relief airdrops of daily rations for the Afghan people who do not support the terrorist network or regime.

As a result of the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks on U.S. soil at the World Trade Center and the Pentagon, U.S. military service-members have been mobilized to provide air, land, sea, and intelligence support specifically aimed to disrupt and cause damage to Osama bin Laden's Al Qaeda terrorist network and the Taliban regime that supports his cause.

U.S. military strikes in Afghanistan target airfields, air defense sites, training camps, and infrastructure of terrorist organizations.

The major, a surgeon/mobile field surgical team member, is the son of Walter R. and Alice J. Chace of Laurel.

Chace is a 1984 graduate of Laurel-Concord High School, Laurel, and received a bachelor's degree in 1988 from the University of Nebraska, Lincoln.

Herbs for Health
Caffeine May Boost Mental Awareness in Some Persons

A study conducted at Hofstra University in New York suggests that heavy caffeine users may not get the same boost from the stimulant as do conservative users. Volunteers were divided into groups - frequent and infrequent users. Persons in each group were given either a moderately high dose of caffeine or an inactive placebo. All participants were then instructed to type a page of randomly selected words and phrases. Of those who received caffeine, typing speed increased among both the frequent and infrequent caffeine users. Interestingly, the infrequent caffeine users produced fewer errors, indicating that they may have been more mentally aware than were the heavy caffeine users.

The results of this study may support the occasional use of caffeine as a supplement for mental awareness. Yet, use of caffeine is not without its drawbacks. Caffeine can increase blood pressure and may not be appropriate for persons with high blood pressure, heart disease, and anxiety.

THANKS, ALLEN!

Tili Hunt, agricultural intern from Argentina who has been living with Larry and Kathy Boswell, has returned home for a short visit before continuing her program work in Florida. Tili thanks the Allen community for making her stay in the States so special. She found the people here very friendly and was pleasantly surprised how interested they were in her country. Tili's seven month stay in Allen is something she'll always remember.

MUSIC BOOSTERS

The Music Boosters met on Nov. 12. Each family with child/children in choir or band is to bring one baked or one craft item to the Dec. 10 Christmas concert for the Music Boosters Bake/Craft Sale. The committee will price the baked items, but you are asked to price any craft items that you bring. The quilt made and donated by Joann Quinn will be raffled at the concert.

Tickets may be purchased at the bank, Cash Store, or at basketball games. The community birthday, anniversary, and activity calendars are nearing completion and will be available for sale at the Christmas concert. There are many changes from the last published calendar and encourage to purchase one.

NINE PATCH QUILTERS

Nine Patch Quilters held their monthly meeting at the Senior Center on Nov. 5. Several members had completed tops from the Fanfare Log Cabin class. Other show and tell was a baby quilt made by Sharon Brentlinger and several quilts, a pillow, wall hanging and table runner made by Pam Doescher.

The next meeting will be at the Center on Dec. 3. Everyone is to bring finger foods for lunch. Also, bring ideas for next year and a 12 and a half inch block (unfinished measurement) made from scraps. The block must contain a minimum of five fabrics. New members and visitors are always welcome.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

American Legion Auxiliary met at the Senior Center on Nov. 12. Roll call was answered by telling a Thanksgiving tradition in your home or family. Wanda Novak thanked everyone for their help with the brunch. A total of $1187.50 (including $400 from the AAL) was raised for the Jackson Relief Fund. Donna Stalling reported on all the cards she sent during the past year. A leadership award was presented to Deenette Von Minden for 15 years of consecutive service as president. A memorial service was held in memory of Evelyn Trube.

The Christmas Party will be Dec. 10 at 6 p.m. at the Village Inn. Contact Pearl Snyder if you plan to attend.

CHEERLEADER RAFFLE

The new Allen Cheerleader squad is raffling off two season passes to the boys and girls basketball games for the 2001-02 school year. If you'd like to purchase a raffle ticket, talk to cheerleaders or their sponsors Shawnee Isom or Sara Kumm.

Sharon Walde of Winside is shown with one of the angels she made and will be displaying them at the RC & D office in Plainview.

Artist will display work

Sharon Walde of Winside is showcasing her Angels during the months of December and January at the Northeast Nebraska Resource Conservation & Development (RC & D) office in Plainview. Her Angels come in all shapes and sizes and can be used as Christmas tree toppers and ornaments.

Walde and her husband, Stan, live on a farm near Winside and are the parents of three children Turena Ehlers and family of Moorefield, Cynthia Wagner and family of Columbus, and Paul Walde of Richmond, VA.

About 10 years ago, Sharon became interested in craft shows and began doing a few during the holiday season. One of her specialities is birthstone Angels, which add a personal appeal to her craft. Each Angel is 6-8 inches tall and made from a glistening yarn, which gives the appearance of strings of pearls and dons a rhinestone at the neck in the color of individual's birthstone.

The public is invited to stop by the RC & D office located at 702 East Park in Plainview to see Sharon's work. Office hours are 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

An open house is being planned for Saturday, Dec. 1, in conjunction with Plainview's Hometown Holidays. Her Angels along with Mike and Chris Holton of Plainview and their wooden toys and crafts will be on display and for sale.

Super clinic to be held

Goldenrod Hills Community Services will hold the Wakefield Super Clinic on Monday, Nov. 26 from 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

The clinic is held at the Family Resource Center, 403 Johnson Street in Wakefield. This is the change in the day the Super Clinic is held. Wakefield Super Clinic will now be held the fourth Monday of the month instead of the fourth Tuesday of the month.

The Super Clinic offers Immunizations, WIC, Women Infants and Children Nutrition, Well-Child checks - a complete head to toe physical, Lead Screening and enrollment in Kids Connection, a state insurance program for children.

inability to pay. Goldenrod Hills is not offering pneumococcal conjugate vaccine (Prevnar) which can prevent pneumococcal disease, the leading cause of bacterial meningitis in the U.S. Prevnar is available for VFC (Vaccine for Children eligible children).

To make an appointment regarding immunizations, Women, Infants and Children Nutrition, well-child checks or for more information, call (402) 529-3513 or 1-800-445-2505 for an appointment.

Magazine sales are successful

The Wayne-Carroll Music Boosters have just completed the annual Magazine Sales campaign.

This year the Middle School and High School music students have sold more than $18,500 of magazines.

The proceeds from this campaign are used to purchase and clean uniforms for the band and choir, help purchase risers, pay for instructors for the color guard, purchase awards and fund the band and choir trips to Worlds of Fun in Kansas every four years. The Music Boosters also provide pizza for the Middle School annual picnic and the High School Music Awards night.

For those who were not contacted and would like to subscribe or renew any subscriptions, contact Cindy Brummond or Diane Roerber at 375-1130 or Ann Ruwe at 375-4648.

Orders can be sent via the internet by visiting the web page at www.gsp.com. By ordering through the Boosters or the web site, the school will receive a percentage of the subscription rate.

HOSKINS GARDEN CLUB

Hoskins Garden Club met on Nov. 8 for a pot luck dinner at the community center. Guests were: Julius Rechtermann, Bill Fenske, and Bob and Lorraine Wesely.

After dinner, President Hildegard Fenske opened the meeting with the reading "For Thy Blessings Great." Christine Lueker read the poem entitled "Only a Word."

Lorraine Wesely was welcomed as a new member. Christine read the minutes of the September and October meetings. Their report and the treasurer's report were approved.

Officers for 2002 were elected. They are: Shirley Mann, president; Lorraine Wesely, vice president; Esther Rechtermann, secretary/treasurer.

Hildegard thanked the members who kept the village flowers watered during the summer.

The ladies will meet at the community center at noon on Dec. 13, go to a restaurant for dinner, then return to Hoskins for the program and a cookie and candy exchange. Each will bring a $2 food gift for the food pantry.

The birthday song was sung for Hildegard. For the comprehensive study, Esther chose the reading: "A Christian is Like a Pumpkin." Shirley had the lesson on: Bulbs: Tulips and Daffodils and "Forcing Bulbs."

The watchword for November was: "God's promises have no expiration date."

ZION LADIES AID & LWML
Zion Lutheran Ladies Aid &

LWML met Nov. 1 with nine members and Pastor Riege present.

Christian Growth Chairman LaVerda Kruger had a devotion. They then sang "I am Trusting Thee Lord Jesus." Pastor Riege gave a study on "What about the Bible" by President Barry.

President Inez Freeman opened the meeting. Penny Pot was 10 cents if you had left over food from the day before and five cents if not.

Card committee reported two cheer cards and two visitor cards had been sent.

Inez Freeman gave a report on LWML fall rally. Twenty four quilts were packed up and given to Orphan Grain Train, Bright Horizon, Lutheran World Relief, and Norfolk Rescue Mission.

Donations of $10 were sent to nine organizations: Lutheran World Relief, Lutheran Hour, Bethesda Lutheran Family Service, Lutheran Home Foundations, Camp Luther, Good Neighbors, Orphan Grain Train, and Norfolk Rescue Mission.

Election of officers: Vice President: Ione Fahrenholz, Treasurer: Joyce Saegbarth, Card Committee: LaVerda Kruger and Hilda Hamm.

December 6 will be the Christmas Party with a noon pot luck with each aid member to bring four bake sale items and two covered dishes. Anyone may bring craft items.

Reminders for November:

Altar Guild: Diane and Micki Koepke, Jill McElhose and Shari Kruger. Flowers: Hilda Hamm. Donna Kruger served as November Hostess. Birthday song was sung to Lorena Weich. Hostesses for December will be Donna Kruger and Joyce Saegbarth.

SENIOR CITIZENS MEET

Hoskins Senior Citizens met at the community center on Nov. 6 to play cards. Winners were: Virginia Kleensang, Betty Andersen, and Shirley Mann. A no-host lunch was enjoyed. The next get together will be on Nov. 20.

SADDLE CLUB MEETS

The Hoskins Saddle Club met at the Hoskins Firehall for their monthly meeting on Nov. 12. Meetings are on the second Monday of the month to accommodate the "youth" who belong to 4-H Clubs who meet on the first Monday of the month.

The annual Christmas "Potluck" Party will be at the Firehall on Sunday, Jan. 13, 2002 at 5 p.m. It was decided to spend $50 for the prizes: card, bingo, and door prizes will be given.

It was also decided that annual dues must be paid at the Christmas Party in January. Election of Officers will be held at the February meeting. President's and secretary's offices will be open to elect new officers as the present ones have served their two year fulfillment. Vice president and treasurer each have one more year to serve.

A brief newsletter will be sent to members and interested people concerning upcoming events. A welcome to all who are interested in enjoying and promoting "horse happenings" in this area.

The next meeting will be on Dec. 10 at 7 p.m. at the Firehall.

Christmas Fair set for Dec. 1

This year's Christmas Fair at First United Methodist Church in Wayne will be held Saturday, Dec. 1 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Everyone is invited to attend; please use the north door of the church.

In addition to various booths, the fair will again feature a hot turkey sandwich served at the church from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. The dinner can also be delivered personally to homes or offices free of charge. Please call 375-2231 to place an order. Meals can also be purchased at the church and taken home.

This year's menu includes a hot turkey sandwich, mashed potatoes and gravy for $4; half portions for $2.50; cold turkey sandwiches for $2; pie for $1.50 and coffee or milk for 50 cents. Those wishing to have their food delivered, may place orders as early as 9 a.m. with delivery beginning at 11 a.m. Call the Methodist Church at 375-2231 the morning of Dec. 1 to place a meal order. For those dining at the church, live music will be performed by various performers of all ages. Monica Jensen and Coleen Jeffries are in charge of music.

This year's fair will include the following booths:

Silent Auction: Many nice items have been donated to this booth. Shoppers will be assigned a number and can bid on the items they would like to purchase. People can come back and see how their bids are doing and re-bid if they want to. Chairpersons are Don or Sue Buryanek.

Christmas Cake Walk: Children of all ages will be able to buy a chance for a decorated cake or Christmas goodie. Stacey Varley is chairperson, assisted by Ardie Sommerfeld.

The Taste of Christmas: Shoppers can purchase homemade pies, cakes, breads and rolls, cookies, candies, eggs, canned goodies, jellies and jams. Chairpersons are Sue Denklaue and Denise Rott.

Homespun Crafts: Sewn, crocheted, and knitted items, embroidery, cross stitch and other needlework will be featured, along with wood and decorator items. Chairpersons are Beverly Eitter and Lynn Sievers.

The Attic: Good, used items of every kind, except clothing may be purchased at the attic. Chairperson is Connie Webber.

Sugar & Spice: For a small price, sugar cookies can be decorated by individuals of all ages. An added treat this year will be Christmas dough ornaments that can also be decorated. This booth will have a limited number of plates for decorated cookies for sale the day of the fair, but they will take orders the day of the fair and deliver those cookies the following week. Chairpersons are Amy Carlson and Diane Hjorth.

There will be a Corsage for Missions table where a $1 donation to mission will entitle the shoppers to a bright, colorful ribbon corsage. This is a special way to say "Thanks," "I love you," or "I'm glad we're friends."

Knives and seasonal napkins and a variety of boxed cards will also be available. Mary Wax, Kay

Kemp and Maxine Robins assist with these sales.

Overall chairpersons for the 2001 Christmas Fair are Ilene Nichols and Connie Hall. Other chairpersons are Sheila Puls and Susan Schroeder, kitchen; Stacy Brasch, take-out; Diane Vovos and Sandy Bull, pies; Nancy Fuelberth and Julie Claybaugh, dining room; Ruth Leonard and Jerry Sharpe will be in charge of coffee; Doris Stipp and Shirlene Boeckenhauer, cashiers; and Diane Long and Lori Carollo, publicity. Chris Costa and Wendy Vawser were in charge of the holly, greens and wreath orders. They may have extra items for sale the day of the fair.

Money raised from this event goes to support Mission work through the United Methodist Women. Anyone wanting more information can call the church office at 375-2231.

Candy or canned food?

On Halloween night, Phi Beta Lambda Business Fraternity visited homes in Wayne. The chapter tried not to see who could collect the most candy but who could collect the most canned goods. Donning their best costumes, the chapter knocked on many doors and gratefully collected over 500 cans in less than two hours. The cans were delivered to the Wayne Food Pantry and all other items were given to the Norfolk Rescue Mission. Back, Jennifer Kuhlman, Trisha Hansen, Wendy Felber, Melissa Kalin, Beth Johnson, Gina Shefl, Rich Hinkhouse. Front, Kelcy Hummel, Lindsey Ehrisman, Jamie Vesely, and Mark Weeder.

Check media sources before traveling

Show fall will announce winter's arrival and serve as a reminder for Wayne State College winter storm procedures and safety concerns.

Individuals may check a posting on the home page of the WSC Website, www.wsc.edu, if classes are cancelled. In the event of a weather emergency, WSC faculty and students should tune into the following media sources for cancellation information:

KBRX Radio-Yankton, S.D. - WNAX Radio-Columbus - KJSK/KLIR Radio, KKOT/KTTT/KZ100 Radio-Omaha - KFAB Radio, WOW Radio

When students are returning from a weekend or holiday break, additional media sources include: Fremont - KHUB/KFMT Radio - Grand Island - KRGI/KLRB/KMMJ Radio, KSYZ Radio - Kearney - KQYKRN Radio - Lincoln - KFOR Radio, KLIN/KEZG Radio, KOIN/KGIN TV - Omaha - KETV TV, KMTV TV, WOWT TV, KPTM (Fox 42) TV - Storm Lake, Iowa - KKIA Radio-Sioux Falls, SD - KSFY TV

On-campus safety in snow and ice conditions calls for awareness of snow removal equipment. "Safety is a major consideration," said Dick Carmichael, assistant director of the physical plant at Wayne State College. "Everyone should stay clear of snow removal equipment. Don't pull out in front of them. They can't stop like a car. It takes snow equipment four or five times the distance to stop."

People need to understand when crewmembers are working in snow plows or tractors, it's hard to see people or vehicles.

If you see a snow-removal vehicle, make sure the operator sees you.

Leave as much distance as possible. Use your lights or horn to let the operator know you're around," Carmichael said. "Taking safety seriously and maintaining patience are two important tips to make snow removal go smoother for everyone."

Internet for beginners class is set for Nov. 28

Essential Internet basics will be made easy in an Internet for Beginners class being offered at Northeast Community College in Norfolk later this month.

The class, with course number DP 0300-10/01F, is scheduled for Wednesday, November 28th, from 6:30-9:30 p.m. in the Lifelong Learning Center, Suite K, on the campus in Norfolk.

Instructor David Heckert will review Internet Explorer, search engines, e-mail, copying pictures from the web and copyright issues. Virus protection, downloading, how to screen web content, and changing your homepage will also be reviewed.

Cost of the class is $10. Previous experience with a computer and mouse is required.

To register for the Internet for Beginners class, call Northeast Community College at (402)844-7000.

Watch batteries sales benefit Wayne Red Cross

Veterans receive honorary high school diplomas

Four local veterans, Richard Baier, Harry Bargholz, Eddie Baier, and Frederick Temme recently received their honorary high school diplomas through the 'Operation Recognition' program.

Richard Baier, completed eighth grade at District 8 school. He was drafted into the U.S. Army in 1942 and inducted at Fort Crook in Omaha, sent to Fort Leavenworth, Kan. for clothes, and then to Fort Crowder, Mo. for basic training.

After basic training, Richard was sent to Fort Dix, NJ where he was placed in the 829th Signal Service Company. From there, he was shipped overseas to England.

From England, he was transferred to Fort Oran, Africa, then on to Sardinia, Sicily and Corsica Island, southwest of Italy. His remaining tour of duty was spent in Naples, Italy. He returned to the United States and, was discharged in 1945.

Harry Bargholz completed the eighth grade at District 2 country school. Harry was drafted into the Army in 1944 and inducted at Fort Leavenworth, Kan. He began basic training in 1945 at Camp Hood. From there he was transferred to Fort Meade, Md. and Camp Stoneman, Calif. From Camp Stoneman, he was shipped overseas to the Philippines, where he joined the 43rd Infantry Division.

From the Philippines, Harry was transferred to Japan where he joined the first Cavalry and served on guard duty and in parades for a year. He left Japan in 1946 and was discharged in November of that year.

Harry received the Army of Occupation Medal, Philippine Liberation Medal with one Bronze Service Star, Victory Medal, and Asiatic Pacific Medal.

He was a squad leader with a rank of Corporal, and he served in three capital cities of the world: Washington, D.C.; Manila, Philippines; and Tokyo, Japan.

Eddie completed eight years of school in rural Wayne Districts 20 and 15. An older brother, Richard, was drafted and farm help was needed. Economically, with gas rationing and tires not available, it wasn't possible to continue with a high school education.

Eddie was drafted into the U.S. Army on March 17, 1951 and left from Wayne on March 19, 1951, to be inducted at Omaha and then on for 12 weeks of basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. After that the assignment was with the First Cavalry, Seventh Regiment. Overseas duty was near Pusan and Seoul (both in Korea), with military action near "Old Baldie" just south of the 38th Parallel.

Weapons used were carbine rifles, 57 mm recoilless rifles (used to knock out tanks and bunkers,) bazookas and flame-throwers (sometimes from a tank). Part of the second part of the duty was to guard military supply trains.

In March, 1953, Eddie left Korea and was sent back to Japan to sail aboard the Navy Transport, the General William Gordon, to land in San Francisco. He returned to Nebraska to resume farming.

Honorable Discharge papers finally arrived April, 1957, after serving four mandatory years as a member of the Army reserve.

Frederick Temme completed the eighth grade at District #15 in 1943. His father had Parkinson's, so he stayed home to help with the farming instead of entering Wayne High in the fall.

He was drafted into the Army and left Oct. 30, 1951. After basic training at Fort Knox, Ken., he was sent to the Panama Canal Zone where he served in transportation.

He worked on his G.E.D. while in the service, but was discharged on Sept. 17, 1953 before he completed the Nebraska requirements.

Frederick returned to farming. In 1955, dairy was included in the farm operation. Milk was sold to Paul Burman's Dairy in Wakefield until Paul's retirement, and then milk went to AMPI in Laurel.

Frederick served six years on the AMPI Corporate Board and is currently a director on the Dairy Council/ADA of the Nebraska Board. He was appointed by Governors Nelson and Johanns to serve on the Nebraska Dairy Industry Development Board and presently serves as Vice Chairman.

This is the third year local veterans have been able to take part in the Nebraska Operation Recognition program which takes applications for veterans of both World War II and the Korean Conflict so they can receive their honorary high school diplomas. Operation Recognition is a way to recognize veterans for the sacrifices they made for their country.

Daily Aspirin May Save Your Life

According to a report in The Journal of the American Medical Association, taking an aspirin tablet every day may reduce risk of death from any cause by more than one-third. Researchers at the Cleveland Clinic Foundation compared death rates in patients referred to them for stress testing. They studied a group of 1,351 adult aspirin users and 1,351 adult non-aspirin users. Overall, during the 3-year study, 6% of the study participants died. Among aspirin users, the risk of death was found to be 4%, while the risk of death among persons who did not use aspirin was 8%.

In an editorial accompanying the article, health experts at Yale New Haven Health suggest that a finding like this, which is based on sophisticated analytical techniques, makes a convincing case for expanding aspirin use. Clinical decisions based on this finding "helps to guarantee that as many patients as possible are considered for effective therapies."

Nola Briggs, Family Service Worker with Goldenrod Hills Head Start in Walthill recently presented a check for $302 to Loren Park, Disaster Services Director of the Wayne County American Red Cross. Briggs presented this check on behalf of the Walthill Head Start Parent Group, children (some pictured), and staff. The project was sponsored by the parent group and the children went to local businesses and handed out ribbons to everyone (the children are holding the red-white-blue striped ribbon they used). They took donation jars with them when they distributed the ribbons and then they placed two jars in local businesses with more ribbons. Other staff at the Walthill center are Lori Marr - teacher, Wendy Simpson - teacher aide, and Stacy Warnock - center aide.

Funding for heating bills is available

The Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) has funding available through the Low-Income Home Energy Assistance Program for the upcoming heating year.

The money will help the state respond to requests from low-income households whose heating bills are high due to cold weather and high heating oil prices. The program helps those with limited incomes offset the cost of heating (and cooling) their homes.

The Nebraska Low-Income Energy Assistance Program will partially pay the cost of electricity, fuel oil, gas, coal, wood, kerosene, propane, or other fuel sources. It also can help with some utility shutoffs and utility reconnections, but may not be able to help with the entire cost.

"Older adults and low-income families shouldn't have to cut back on necessary expenses like groceries and medications in order to pay their heating bills," according to Mike Kelly, a HHS program specialist. "The Energy Assistance Program can provide some financial assistance."

Nebraska's Low-Income Energy Assistance Program is available to help applicants who qualify for the program.

Eligibility is determined by checking the applicant's resources and income. Some resources aren't counted, such as a home, one car and personal belongings like furniture and clothing. The income level for a single person family is $9,688 and $13,057 for a two-person family. Grant amounts are based on income, type of residence, and the type of fuel used. The maximum grant currently available is $566 per family during the heating season. If an individual or family has been threatened with a utility shutoff, up to $500 in additional assistance may be available.

For more information contact your local Health and Human Services office to apply for the Low Income Home Energy Program.

Recent graduate speaks to students

Recent Wayne State graduate Scott Ashoff, a sales representative at Aflac in Omaha, talked to WSC students about the importance of getting involved in college as a member of the panel invited to speak at the annual Delta Sigma Pi Shirtsleeve Workshop, Nov. 7.

Meyer to attend seminar

Wayne High School, through the support of the local Kiwanis Club, is able to send one sophomore to the Hugh O'Brian Youth Leadership Seminar (HOBY).

This seminar is an all-expense trip paid to the three to four day workshop held each summer in the Omaha area. Other sophomores from around the state will gather together to have the opportunity to identify and further develop their leadership talents through interactive activities.

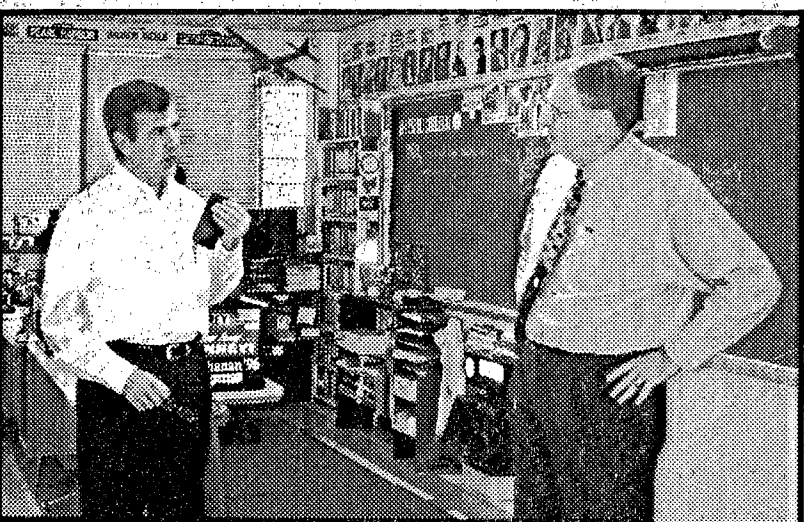

Each HOBY representative will be asked to undertake a community service project requiring a minimum of 100 hours.

The 2001 HOBY Wayne High School sophomore representative is Sheila Meyer, daughter of Mike and Michelle Meyer. The HOBY alternate is Mary Boehle, daughter of Gary and Pam Boehle.

Visits school in Laurel

Governor Johanns visited Laurel-Concord High School on Friday, Nov. 16. He addressed the student body at a short assembly and then met with the LCHS Current Issues Class. Johanns had previously been scheduled to visit Laurel-Concord on Sept. 11, but due to the terrorist attacks his visits for that day had to be rescheduled. Also shown is Social Studies Instructor, Mr. Jim Clark.

'Salute the Military Day' welcome given
 Director of Career Services Jason Barelman welcomes participants in the Career Services "Salute the Military Day," Nov. 8. Wayne State College students had the opportunity to visit booths with representatives of the various branches of service to find out about career opportunities.

Three concerts in six weeks planned at NECC

With three concerts in six weeks, the music department at Northeast Community College in Norfolk is in full swing for the 2001-2002 school year.

The next concert sponsored by the Northeast music department is scheduled for Monday, Dec. 3rd, at 7 p.m. in the Cox Activities Center Theater. The Holiday Concert will feature the Northeast Concert Choir, Ebony and Crimson, the Northeast Singers Express and Northeast College/Community Concert Band. A Touch of Brass, Windsong and another brass ensemble are also scheduled to perform.

Refreshments will be served during intermission. The event is free and open to the public.

Under the direction of vocal music instructor Linda Boullion, the Northeast Concert Choir will present "Variations on Jingle Bells," arranged by M. Hayes, "Do You Hear What I Hear?" arranged by E. Crocker, and "Over The River and Through The woods," arranged by D. Moore.

Local members of the Northeast Concert Choir include: Alicia Gothier, Laurel; Carla Rahn, Wayne.

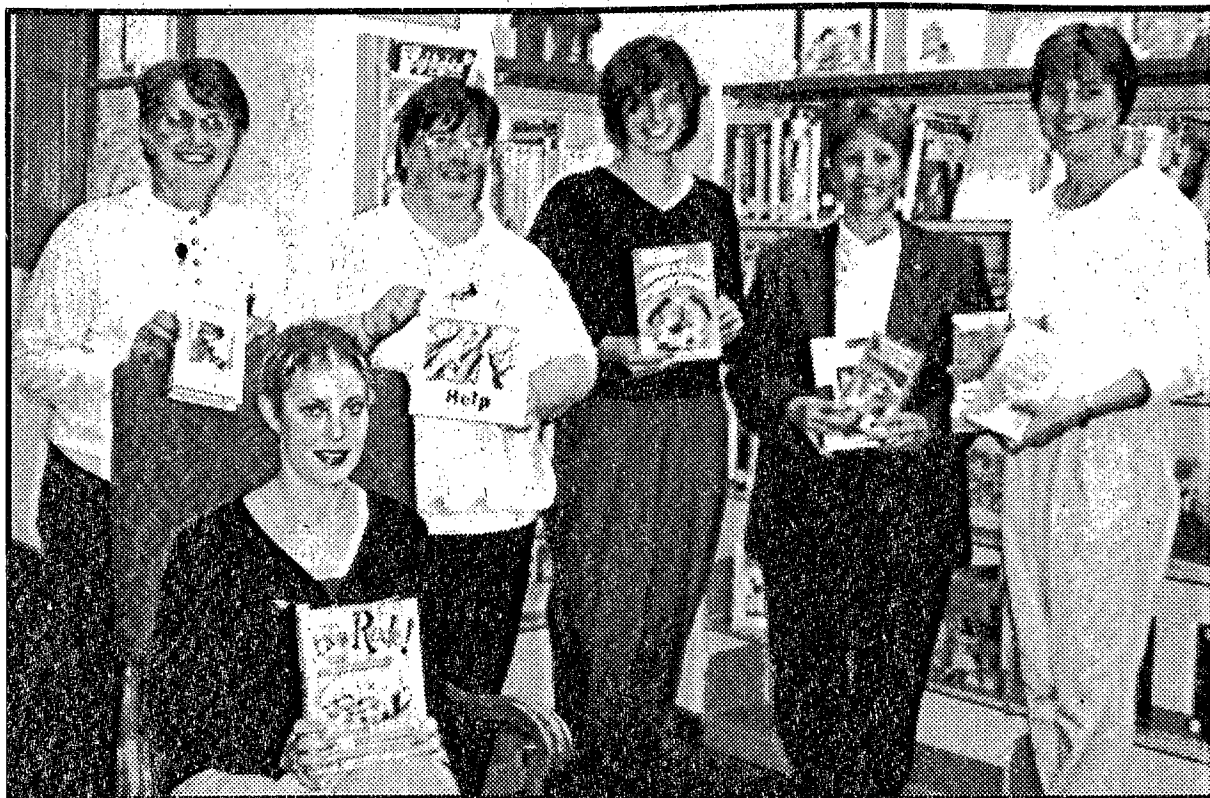

Members of Ebony and Crimson, an 18-voice audition group of male and female Northeast students under the direction of Boullion, will offer "Ave Maria," arranged by Patrick Liebergen, and "Festival Deck the Hall," arranged by J. Althouse, at the Holiday Concert. Local Ebony and Crimson member is Gothier of Laurel.

The Northeast Singers Express, a 12-voice audition swing choir directed by Boullion, will present "Yule Be Swingin'," arranged by M. Huff, and "Baby, It's Cold Outside," arranged by K. Shaw, at the Dec. 3rd concert.

The Northeast College/Community Concert Band, under the direction of Dr. Randall Neuharth, is made up of Northeast students and area musicians who enjoy performing. Locally they include: Gothier, Laurel; Virginia Maas, Hoskins.

The Northeast College/Community Concert Band will present "Ski Run" by Caesar Giovanni, "Christmas Recollections," arranged by John Edmondson, and "Nutcracker Suite" by Tchaikovsky, arranged by C. Johnson, at the Dec. 3 concert.

The Northeast Area Jazz Machine, with Dr. Neuharth as director, is a jazz ensemble of select students who perform concerts on campus, play at occasional sporting events and tour in the spring performing at area schools. Local member of the Jazz Machine includes: Gothier, Laurel.

Promoting parenting

As part of on-going additions to the Wayne Public Library, those instrumental in developing the Parenting Corner at library gathered recently. Funds for the parenting collection, which includes books and videos, were obtained through a grant through the Nebraska Library Commission and the Wayne County Extension Board. Additional funds were obtained from the Wayne United Way. Those involved included, left to right, Charlene Rasmussen, (Library Board), Peggy Nelson (Children's Librarian), Lauren Lofgren, Library Director, Karin Vaughn, Wayne Chamber, Deb Allemann, Goldenrod Hills and Amy Topp, Extension Educator.

Scanners, digital camera class offered

Northeast Community College in Norfolk will offer a class on scanners and digital cameras in late November.

Focus On...Scanners, with course number DE 0300-06/01F, is scheduled for Tuesday, Nov. 27th, from 6:30-9:30 p.m. in the Lifelong Learning Center, Suite K, on the Northeast campus in Norfolk.

Instructor Walt Pinnt will review comprehensive information about scanners, various types of scanners, pricing factors, speed comparisons, and resolution capabilities.

A scanner and printer will be used to demonstrate how to save and archive documents, scan old photos and forms, and insert scanned documents or photos into e-mails.

Another class, Focus On...Digital Cameras, with course number DP 0300-07/01F, meets Thursday, Nov. 29, from 6:30-9:30 p.m. in the Lifelong Learning Center, Suite K.

This class will include an in-depth review on the latest digital cameras, their unique features, and ownership advantages.

Instructor Pinnt will teach students how to transfer pictures from the camera to the computer and save and archive pictures. He will also review how to put those pictures in an e-mail and how to put pictures on the internet free to share with friends and family. Pinnt will also show students how to make prints of photos. A camera and printer will be used for demonstration purposes.

Cost of each of these classes is $10. To register, call Northeast Community College at (402)844-7000.

Flag facts

A number of Wayne Middle School sixth grade students took part in a Veterans' Day Program in front of the Wayne County Courthouse last week. Students in Jill Pickenpaugh's homeroom related the history of the flag, from the first time it was flown in the United States until it flew on the moon. Each student drew a picture representing one of the flag's "firsts." Those displaying their posters include, left to right, Sam Kurgeweit, Micah Agler, Brett Dorsey, Samantha Dunklau and Jessica Kranz.

Lifestyle

The Wayne Herald

Family time contributes to well-being

Spending time with family during the holiday season is more than a social engagement, it can benefit a person's well-being.

People usually choose to spend the holidays with those who show them the most love and acceptance. While nurturing, love and acceptance are natural human needs, the time together with family and friends can fulfill those needs by giving a sense of belonging. The holidays can be a time to reinforce relationships with family and friends.

Family traditions reinforce a sense of belonging. Every family has holiday traditions — some dating back several generations. Family traditions offer a sense of security and a connection to the past that can add value and meaning to life. Traditions add to family history and offer something identifiable to family members associated with the season. Looking forward to these traditions and carrying them out is part of what building individual self-worth. Starting new traditions, such as a neighborhood cookie exchange, can also be fun.

Not all families are able to be with their loved ones because they may live far away or choose to spend the holidays with in-laws or friends.

This separation of miles doesn't mean connections can't be made. Call family members who aren't present and let them know they are loved. Parents should try not to pressure adult children to choose between families. If the entire family can't get together on the holiday, try making plans to celebrate later in the month. Focusing on the entire holiday season and not just the actual day will make everyone happier.

Amy Topp

4-H & Youth

Spending holidays alone isn't recommended. If it isn't possible to be with family, make plans to visit a friend, volunteer or travel.

Many people start to feel time and economic stress as the season approaches. It also can be stressful when food preparation, baking, household cleaning and gift buying start to overshadow time spent with family. When people try to do too much to please everybody, they are setting themselves up for failure.

To avoid feeling too frazzled, prioritize and decide which things are important. Hold a family meeting to decide which activities are significant to each member. Spending time together is often more important than getting things done during the holidays and don't forget to ask for help when needed. One suggestion could be to hire a student looking for extra money to clean the house or bake cookies can save time and effort. Another idea is to exchange favors or baked goods with a neighbor.

Whatever your plans for the holiday may be, remember to be thankful for those special moments that can create memories for a lifetime. SOURCE: Kathy Bosch, Ph.D., family life specialist, Panhandle Research and Extension Center, NU/IANR - Educator Extra Nov. 2001.

LaVern Walker

LaVern Walker to celebrate birthday

The family of LaVern E. Walker is planning a card shower in honor of her 80th which is Nov. 28, 2001.

Her family includes Judy and Phil Christensen of Bellevue, Susan and Guy Lossing of Lincoln and Roger and Bonnie Walker of Hoskins. She also has six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

LaVern lived in or near Hoskins nearly all her life. She was married to the late Myron Walker.

Cards may be sent to her at Mission House View, 406 East Mission Ave. #108, Bellevue, NE 68005.

Lutt - Novak wed

Karie Engle Lutt and Brandon Leo Novak were married July 21, 2001 in a 4 p.m. candlelight ceremony at Our Savior Lutheran Church.

The Rev. Bill Koeber officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Gene and Marcheta Lutt and Raymond and Carol Novak, all of Wayne.

Grandparents of the bride are Hazel Engel Everett of Taveres, Fla. and Harvey Lutt of Wayne. The groom's grandparent is Ferne Kempeke of Lyons.

Music for the ceremony was provided by organist Colleen Jefferies of Wayne and soloist Mike Robb of Lincoln. Videographer was Robert Lutt of Dakota City.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a gown of pearl satin featuring an embroidered beaded bodice, A-line skirt with chapel train, accented with seed pearls and crystals.

She wore a crown of pearls and crystals with a fingertip-length veil and carried a bouquet of soft yellow and white roses, white lilies, white with lavender alstromeria, misti and light purple statice.

Jennifer Lutt of Omaha, sister of the bride, served as Maid of Honor. Bridesmaids were Andrea Bieganski of Omaha, Katie Robb of Lincoln and Monica Novak of Wayne, sister of the groom.

The women were attired in floor-length lavender satin and crepe gowns and carried bouquets of lilies, larkspur, light yellow mini carnations, white with lavender alstromeria and pink minis.

Keanna Swanson of Wayne was flower girl.

Josh Swanson of Wayne was Best Man.

Groomsmen were Nate Robins of Wayne, Gunnar Spethman of Wayne and Mike Pagels of Ogallala.

Ushers were Lyle Lutt of Norfolk, Scott Sievers of West

Mr. and Mrs. Novak

Point, Marty Simonsen of Pender and Brian McKenzie of Omaha.

The men wore black tuxedos with silver and black vests.

The church hostesses were Stephanie Sides of Sioux City, Iowa and Jackie DeWeerd of Omaha, aunts of the couple.

Kim Ely of Guide Rock and Angie Worth of Wellfleet attended the guest book.

The bride's personal attendant was Melissa Heikes of Sioux Falls, S.D.

A dinner reception and dance, hosted by the parents of the bride, were held at Riley's Ballroom following the ceremony.

Sandra and Roger Lutt of Wayne and Dee and Ron McKenzie of Elkhorn, aunts and uncles of the couple, were host couples at Riley's.

Following a honeymoon to Breckenridge, Colo., the couple has made their home in Marshall, Minn.

The bride is a physical therapist at a Health Care Center and the groom is a systems developer for Schwanna Sales Enterprises.

VFW auxiliary gathers

Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary Post #5291 met in the Neva Lorenzen home on Nov. 13. The meeting date was changed so members could attend the Veteran's Day observance at the Wayne Senior Center.

The auxiliary wishes to thank all who helped in any way to plan and make this such a nice tribute to veterans.

President Glennadine Barker called the meeting to order. It opened according to ritual with nine members answering roll call. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and accepted and the treasurer's report read and filed subject to audit.

Official communications read included excerpts from the Department President's letter, "The Clipper" with the approaching holidays, contributions need to be sent to V.A.M.C.s and homes.

Dates for the Christmas parties in the area were announced. They are Thursday, Dec. 6 at 1 p.m. at the Norfolk Veteran's Home and at 7 p.m. that day at the Norfolk Regional Home.

A thank you from the family of Amy Lindsay was read for the memorial which was given to the Methodist Church in Amy's name.

Committee reports were read. Eveline Thompson, Cancer Aid and Research Chair, reported that there are still a few of the Patriotic Angel pins available for a $2 donation. Any left after the December meeting will be returned.

Eveline Thompson reported that there are 37 paid up members with three still outstanding. Neva Lorenzen reported that some of the members have received the Holiday stamps.

Community Activities Chairman Ruth Korth reported on the Veteran's Day Program at the Senior Center. Fauneil Hoffman, Auxiliary Chaplain, gave the closing prayer.

In unfinished business, it was voted to pay the group's share of the supper for the veteran's at the Norfolk Home.

In new business, the auxiliary voted to contribute the same amount as last year to the Hospital Christmas Fund.

Eveline Thompson, D.A.V. representative for the Norfolk Veteran's Home, told the auxiliary of the events happening there.

A suggestion was made to wait on sending in store coupons to the military in Germany for the time being. Thanks were offered to everyone who saved and clipped coupons.

The new bond has arrived. The Charter will be draped and a memorial service held for the departed sisters at the December meeting.

Belated cards will be sent to members who were hospitalized recently, including Wilma Allen, Jean Anderson and Margaret Kay.

Closing ceremonies were conducted according to ritual to reopen on Monday, Dec. 10 at 2 p.m. It will be a Christmas Program and salad luncheon. Those attending are asked to bring a $3 gift exchange.

In the event of bad weather, it will be cancelled.

National Home Care Month

"Northeast Nebraska is so very fortunate to have a medical facility like Providence Medical Center in Wayne. We would like to thank the Providence Home Care professionals for all that they have done and continue to do for us. We have had their services since May of 2000, and we could not get along without them. It is nice to have such friendly, competent help coming into our home."

Friends of Providence Home Health / Personal Care Services

"I have found Providence Home Health Care, including nurses and support staff, to be caring and professional health care providers — willing to go the extra mile to offer services to their patients."

Dave Felber, M.D.

"If I didn't have it, I'd be in a nursing home. I can't say enough good about the loving service that I'm receiving. My caregiver is so very pleasant, efficient and willing to do anything I ask. For two years I have been looking forward to her twice-weekly visits. I consider her more than my helper, she's my friend. And the RN visits are also a joy. The service is truly worthwhile in all respects."

Grace ladies aid holds business meeting

Grace Lutheran Ladies Aid and LWML met Nov. 14 with 32 members, guests Norma Janke and Laura Jaeger and Pastor Anderson present.

Joann Temme led devotion, "We Live by God's Design, Hopefully," indicating all that we have and are has been from God. The hymn, "We Praise Thee, O God, Our Redeemer, Creator," was sung by the group. Joann closed with prayer.

President Beverly Hansen conducted the business meeting. Guests were welcomed. Secretary and treasurer's reports were given.

A memorial service, lighting of the candle, was given in memory of Irene Victor, Ladies' Aid member. Irene's funeral was Oct. 23. Members of the Ladies' Aid were honored to serve as honorary pallbearers at the funeral.

Esther Brader reported that the Premier Estates residents were to be entertained on Nov. 16.

Funeral lunch reports were given by Ardene Nelson and Ruth Victor for funerals on Oct. 23 and Nov. 2.

Esther Brader, Sewing Chair, reported that seven ladies tied eight quilts on Oct. 18, bringing the total quilts made this year to 37. Esther and Harvey Brader delivered eight quilts to World Relief, seven to Norfolk Rescue Mission and seven to Haven House.

Some will be delivered to the Veterans' Home in Norfolk after they move into their new facility. The remaining quilts will be given to specified needy. There will be no sewing in November or December and will resume on Jan. 24, 2002.

Esther thanked all who helped make quilts this past year.

Leoma Baker gave the Visitation report. She stated that the group sent many get well and sympathy cards and made hospital and care center visits. A visit to The Oaks gathered the 12 members of Grace. They were served coffee and cookies.

Ardene Nelson, Mission Service chair, suggested taking used magazines, especially Christian magazines, to the care centers and hospital and clinic waiting rooms.

Elsie Echtenkamp received a thank you note from Seminarian Ernst.

A selection of Christmas cards are available for sale.

Members at the care centers will be remembered at Christmas with cookies and small gifts.

The Annual Cookie Walk will be held Saturday, Dec. 8 at 9 a.m. and last until all the cookies are sold. It will be held at the Student Campus Center at 111 East 10th Street in Wayne. Those bringing cookies should do so on Friday, Dec. 7 from 4 to 6:30 p.m.

Election of officers was held with the following results: Mary Janke, president; Delores Utecht, first vice president; Rhonda Sebade, second vice president; Betty Wittig, secretary and Ruth Victor, treasurer.

All correspondence was acknowledged.

Joann Temme presented a Thanksgiving program, "An Act of Thanksgiving and Supplication." The responsive reading included singing of four Thanksgiving hymns.

The Lord's Prayer and table prayer were said in unison.

The mite-box contributions were received.

The birthday song was sung for Bonnadell Koch, Elsie Echtenkamp and Leona Janke.

Hosting were Mary Janke and Betty Wittig.

Hosting the Christmas luncheon on Wednesday, Dec. 12, a carry-in luncheon at 12:30 p.m., will be Delores Utecht, Renata Anderson, Dorothy Meyer, Marja Ritze and Phyllis Nolte.

Mission group returns

Our Savior Lutheran Church's Mission Group spent July 9-13 working at the Agape Center in Omaha. During that week, their work included tearing off shingles plus numerous other projects.

On Nov. 2-3 some of the group returned to assist in replacing these shingles.

Eight students from Wayne State's Industrial Technology program worked with the mission group from Our Savior to re-roof the Agape Center in North Omaha. The students are currently enrolled in an introduction to construction management class and were provided the opportunity to participate in lieu of a traditional assignment.

Industrial Technology classes will utilize various community projects to facilitate student knowledge and skill development and the articulation with the mission group from Our Savior provided and excellent service-learning experience.

All students enjoyed the opportunity to work and learn and Wayne State College expressed its gratitude that Rowan Wiltse continues to include Industrial Technology majors in such commendable projects. "Rowan's leadership and support of the Technology and Applied Science Department has continued for over 30 years and the faculty appreciates his many efforts," college officials stated.

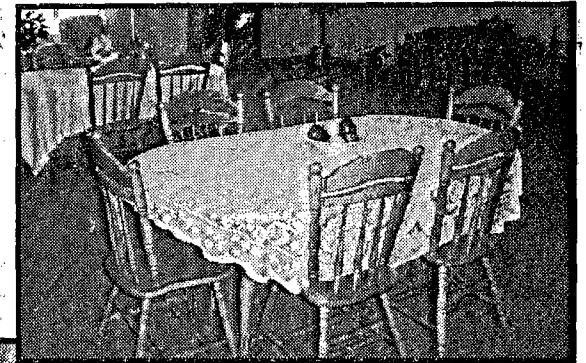

Confirmation celebration

DONATE BLOOD

Forty-two people volunteered to donate blood during the Siouxland Blood Bank drive in Wakefield on Nov. 7 and a total of 33 units were collected.

James Stout became a five-gallon donor; Morris Jacobsen and Rosalyn Wenstrand reached the four-gallon level each; Lynn Jepsen reached two gallons and Janyce McQuistan and Esther Oberg each became one-gallon donors.

DONATION RECEIVED

The Wakefield Heritage Organization (WHO) has received a donation for a round barn fundraiser. Jim Lemkuhl, of Wakefield, who represents Iowa Beef Packing in Madison, informed the group that IBP will provide two 40 pound boxes of boneless pork loins and five spiral sliced smoked hams to be used.

Tickets are currently on sale for the pork products and the winners will be announced Dec. 18 during the half time of the Osmond/Wakefield boys basketball game.

Anyone wishing to enter the drawing can inquire at school or tickets may be purchased at Viken's Antiques, Anderson Lumber/True Value or Pam's Barber Shop in Wakefield.

Donations of $150 or more are also still being accepted at Iowa-Nebraska State Bank. In return the donor will receive a hand painted model of the barn, which is currently on display at the bank.

ACTIVITY CENTER TO OPEN

Opening day of the new Wakefield Community/School Activity Center is set for Saturday, Dec. 1. The facility will be supervised by a combination of volunteers during non-school hours and school staff.

The center will be open for public use on weekdays from 6 a.m. until 9 p.m.; Saturdays, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday afternoons from 1-5 p.m. The center will be closed on holidays.

The committee which was appointed to set use guidelines and organize volunteers, issued the following statement. "We believe that Wednesday evenings are an important component of our church offerings. We also realize that there will be some demand for the activity center on Wednesday evenings."

DEDICATION

A ribbon cutting and dedication ceremony of the new community/school facility is set for Friday, Nov. 30. There will also be an Open House to allow the public to see the new center.

RESCHEDULE MEETING

Due to a conflict, the meeting for people who have volunteered to supervise the facility has been changed to Monday, Nov. 26 at 7 p.m. at the school media center.

Volunteer responsibilities will be discussed and a schedule of work times for December set up. More volunteers are still needed. Hours to be covered are from 6-9 p.m. weekdays, Saturdays, and Sundays.

Volunteers must be out of school and at least 18 years of age. The primary responsibility of the volunteer will be to monitor the people coming to use the facility due to age restrictions.

No fee will be charged at this time to use the facility on an individual basis. It is the organizing committee's hope that the people who use the center will donate a few hours a month to help keep costs at a minimum.

If you are willing to volunteer some time please call the school office at 287-2012.

USE GUIDELINES

Two main guidelines have been set for usage and will be followed due to the safety of individuals.

No one under the seventh grade will be allowed in the fitness area.

All minors must be accompanied by an adult. The activity center is not a babysitting service. An individual is considered to be a minor if he or she is still in high school or under the age of 18.

CROP WALK

The Wakefield Ministerial Association sponsored a Crop Walk on Oct. 21. The ministerium reports that all pledges have now been collected and turned in and $1,000 was raised.

More than 30 walkers from all five local congregations helped to raise the funds to fight hunger.

"The young people of our community did a great job," said one of the pastors walking with the group. "These funds will help feed people around the world and right here in the community too," added the ministerium.

Two hundred fifty dollars will stay here in Wakefield to be used at the local food pantry to purchase meat, milk and fresh produce for people in need.

The Ministerial Association expressed thanks to everyone who helped with this year's Crop Walk and added a big thank you to Val Bard and the Girl Scouts who helped provide water to all the walkers.

"We look forward to another successful walk next year," stated the ministers.

MOTO-CROSS AWARD

Dave Lunz of Wakefield was among the honorees at a banquet held Nov. 10 at the Hamilton Inn in Sioux City, Iowa. The event was hosted by the Iowa/South Dakota Moto-Cross Association.

Lunz placed sixth in the Veteran Class (over 30) in the point standings for the 2001 season.

Also receiving awards during the event were Jayce and Daniel Gustafson, grandsons of Dan and Sharon Gustafson of rural Wakefield.

FALL FESTIVAL REPORT

The Wakefield Health Care Center Auxiliary met during the afternoon Nov. 7 in the Assisted Living dining area.

Twenty-six members and five guests including Ruth Nelson Miner of Sweden were present. Devotions were given by Sylvia Olson. Guest speaker was Dr. Marvin Bichel who spoke on over 40 varieties of plants. Bichel explained many truths, myths, and even dangers of the past and present associated with those plants.

Terry Hoffman reported on storm damage repair that will take place, the time change for resident activities to 2:45 p.m. and his disappointment with current legislation that will once again cut funding to health care facilities including Wakefield.

Various committees reports were given regarding the Fall Festival and Potato Bake on Oct. 28. Lois Berns reported a new profit of $2,292.47. Raffle donations were down from years past. Carol Sharpnack reported receiving $275 towards Blue Lights during the Fall Festival. She also reported that this is the 30th year for the Blue Light Tree and since its start in 1972, it has raised $14,185. Her goal for 2001 is to raise $1,000.

Auxiliary treasurer Lois Berns reported that the funds from last year's festival helped pay for physical therapy equipment including a portable mirror to encourage patients to look forward instead of down while doing waking exercises. Since more money will be needed to purchase a new whirlpool with side entry, it was decided to continue raising funds through next year for that project and at this time honor the request of the nursing staff to two new therapy carts to assist with the overcrowding of their medication carts.

The group acknowledged a great appreciation for several individuals and their countless hours of dedicated service with Auxiliary activities. Lola Erlanson with the quilts each year for the raffles, Lois Berns for coordinating the fall festivals and Lois Schlines for coordinating the blood drives for the blood mobile. Thanks was also made to the American Legion for the facility use each year and to the Wakefield Republican for all the publicity coverage.

Lunch was served by Lois Berns, Ruth Boeckenhauer and Betty Bressler.

Salvation Army to begin Wayne kettle campaign

This Christmas season is the first time that Wayne will have a Salvation Army Christmas Kettle Campaign.

The Salvation Army helps Wayne area residents with emergency food, rent, utility bills and prescriptions.

The Salvation Army receives help from the Wayne United Way which covers about 42 percent of the projected need for 2002 and the organization hopes to cover the rest with the kettle donations.

By donating to the red kettles or offering your time to bell ring, next year can mean a brighter future and a renewed chance for many Wayne area residents.

Anyone having questions about the Salvation Army or anyone or group able to bell ring is asked to contact Ilene Nichols at 375-5348 or Rev. Mary Browne at 375-2231.

Grace Evening Circle meets

Grace Lutheran Evening Circle met Nov. 13 with 14 members present.

Christian Growth Leader Bea Kinslow, with the assistance of Carol Rethwisch, read a script on the Lord's Prayer.

Bonnie Sandahl informed the group of the wish list for Haven House. Verna Mae Baier sent in a request to Lutheran Braille Workers, gave Betty Crocker coupons to an unwed mothers' home in Omaha and box tops to the Wayne educational system.

Cards were sent to the care center by Orvella Bloemenkamp.

Lee Larsen and Lanora Sorensen attended the guest night at Immanuel Lutheran in Laurel and reported on the event.

The Evening Circle's December meeting will be on Tuesday, Dec. 11 at Geno's Steakhouse at 6 p.m. with guests to be spouses, friends or family. Secret sisters will be revealed at that time.

Lorraine Johnson will purchase a Christmas gift for a resident of Premier Estates.

Election of officers for 2002 was held with the following elected:

Mary Lou Erxleben, Vice-president-elect; Marilyn Rethwisch, secretary and Verna Mae Baier, treasurer.

Mites were collected and the meeting concluded with Bonnie Sandahl and Orvella Bloemenkamp presenting a program entitled "Why Bother with Church?"

The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer.

Hostesses were JoAnn Malchow and Carol Rethwisch.

Women of ELCA hold November business meeting

Women of the ELCA of Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne held a meeting in the Social Room of the church on Nov. 14.

Faith Circle met at 9:15 a.m. There was a short business meeting with Chairman Eva Nelson presiding. Hostesses were Rodella Wacker and Eva Nelson. The lesson, "The Joy Goes on With Thanks," was presented by Dorothy Grono.

Joy Circle met at 2 p.m. Hostesses were Donna Lutt and Freida Jorgensen.

Donna Lutt gave the lesson. Thanksgiving boxes were turned in by members of both Faith and Joy Circles.

The minutes of the Executive Board meeting on Nov. 12, the Visitation report of Oct. 17 and the Sewing Group report and a listing of the items packed for Lutheran World Relief were presented to members of both Faith and Joy Circles.

The WELCA meeting in December will be a general meeting, a Christmas pot luck dinner at noon in the Social Room on Wednesday, Dec. 12 with Rodella Wacker and Eva Nelson in charge. All women of the church are invited to join the group. All are asked to bring one dish for the dinner.

Agriculture

Activities abound

It's Monday morning of Thanksgiving week. The sun's shining, but it got down to 32 degrees last night. My Hawaiian "tiki" plant is looking kind of sad. However, the anthurium has eight blooms; and more coming! I've only had it a year and a half; I'd about given up on it.

The weekend of the choir concert was like a marathon. On Friday night, rehearsal in Lincoln with the church choir that would be singing along on a couple of numbers, the organ, the brass, and the timpani. Wow! It gave me goose bumps.

On Saturday afternoon, rehearsal in Omaha at 3 p.m. with that church's choir. Unfortunately, this was during the K State game; and some singers were having a hard time. One had a small radio with earphones; one fellow called home on his cell phone. We watched the ending in the church basement on a tiny black and white set.

There was a service at 5:30, so I attended that; and then our concert was at 7. On Sunday, we were at the church in Lincoln by 1:30, with the concert at 3. About the Bach motet: let me just say that we got through it, and ended up on the same notes.

This past weekend was just as busy, but not quite as wearing. We had guests on Friday night, so I cleaned and laundered on Saturday morning.

By: Pat Meierhenry

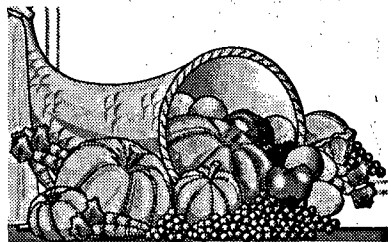

I left at 10:30 a.m. for downtown Omaha, the corporate office of Lutheran Family Services. This is my second year on that board, and this was the last board meeting of the year.

Then, it was on to the "Faith in Action" Banquet that culminates LFS activity for the year. This year, adoption was featured; which was very appropriate because November is adoption month. The adoptive mother was from Norfolk originally; and she had received twins 13 years ago. It was all very heart-warming.

Sunday morning, I was the organist for the Murdock Methodist Church while their regular gal is on a family Disney cruise to celebrate a 40th anniversary. That was at 9:30. At 10:30, I drove to our church to sing with the choir there. At noon, I ate fried chicken served by the youth; and at 2, I was ensconced at the Aldrich House.

Needless to say, I took it easy last evening; read the Sunday paper, watched an Aldrich video, and went to bed early. Now, it's "get ready for Turkey Day."

The minister yesterday quoted Paul, "Rejoice in the Lord always. Do not be anxious about anything, but in everything, by prayer and petition, with thanksgiving, present your requests to God. The peace of God, which transcends all understanding, will guard your hearts, and minds in Christ Jesus." Amen!

4-H News — Production meetings are being scheduled

COMBINATION KIDS
The Combination Kids 4-H Club met Nov. 4 at Our Savior Lutheran Church.

Two new members were welcomed into the group. Members made ornaments to display on a Christmas tree at Fantasy Forest. The tree will be set up on Wednesday, Nov. 28 after school in the Elementary School gym.

The next meeting will be Sunday, Dec. 2 at Our Savior Lutheran Church at 1:30 p.m.

LEAD Fellows get briefing

Wayne State College hosted participants in the Nebraska LEAD (Leadership Education/Action Development) Program. The LEAD fellows group were on campus, Nov. 11-13, to receive a "global briefing" on the region in which they will be traveling.

"We utilize the faculty and staff at WSC to give perspectives dealing with a region's geography, history, culture, politics, and economics. In addition, the fellows are given a presentation about WSC and also receive training in giving proper toasts and holding efficient meetings," said Randy Bertolas, WSC associate professor of natural and social sciences.

Established in 1981 with initial funding from the W. K. Kellogg Foundation, LEAD is under the direction of the Nebraska Agricultural Leadership Council, Inc.

A statewide agricultural leadership development program, the LEAD Program provides Nebraska's most promising adult men and women agriculturalists an opportunity to participate in an intensive two-year educational program.

Their destination has not yet been scheduled, but will probably be Malaysia, Thailand and Singapore. The briefing schedule at WSC will include: Dr. Jim Knotwell (geography), Dr. Joe Blankenau (politics), Dr. Ali Eminov (anthropology), Dr. Kent Blaser (history) and Dr. Meena Dalal (economics).

Election ballots mailed

Election ballots have been mailed to all known eligible voters for LAA 1 in Wayne County.

Voters have until Dec. 3, 2001 to submit a ballot for the person of their choice to serve on the Wayne County FSA Committee. Tabulation will take place at the Wayne County FSA Office on Dec. 5, 2001 at 9:30 a.m. which is open to the public.

A brief biography of the candidates follows:

Perry Backstrom resides at 85174 574th Ave. Wayne and has lived in Wayne County his entire life. He has produced corn, soybeans and alfalfa and raises stock cows. He loves sports including hunting and boating.

Kris Loberg resides at 86330 568th Ave., Carroll and has been serving as an advisor on the County Committee for the past two years. She has been active in all phases of grain production and has been farming for more than 20 years. Kris produces corn and soybeans.

Ronald Magnuson resides at 86133 570th Ave., Carroll. Ron has been active in farming since 1975. He raises corn, soybeans and alfalfa. He also has a cow/calf herd and feeds out cattle.

Douglas Spahr resides at 57428

858th Road, Wayne. Doug is currently serving on the County Committee. He has been active in farming for more than 25 years and produces corn, soybeans, alfalfa and raises cattle and hogs.

All of the candidates are willing to serve if elected.

Do vote for the candidate of your choice by Dec. 3, 2001.

Conservation Buffers to Enhance Water Quality & Farm Income a Long-Term Education & Demonstration Project

In spring 2001, planting began on a unique and highly visible demonstration and research project at the University of Nebraska Haskell Agricultural Laboratory (HAL) near Concord, NE. Approximately 22 acres of conservation buffers will be located adjacent to the stream channel running through the center of the HAL. Agencies and people involved in the Spring 2001 planting were: Northeast Research and Extension Center: Dave Shelton and Mitiku Mamo; District Extension Forester: Steve Rasmussen; Extension Forester: Scott Josiah; Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS): Julie Lamphere, Allan Bauman, and Jim Harder; UNL students: Pete Skelton and Tad Nakamura; and AmeriCorps Members: Donna Christiansen and Laurie Wilkinson.

Primary features of the HAL buffer include:

- Certain trees and shrubs that have income-producing potentials such as decorative florals, specialty woods, and food products (fruits and nuts), as well as "conventional" buffer plant materials.
- Pure stands of selected native grasses, wildflowers, and other forbs that may be used in buffers.
- Non-conventional designs that take advantage of natural forces such as erosion and sedimentation to maintain uniform flow conditions across the buffer and/or to reshape areas where concentrated water flow has caused damage. These areas and evaluations will provide valuable information regarding techniques that have the potential to reduce maintenance and upkeep of buffers.
- Comparisons of tree and/or shrub establishment using both direct seeding and seedling transplants.
- Weed management evaluations.

The HAL project is part of a larger project to showcase and evaluate a range of buffer maturities and types, including: newly planted riparian buffer areas with both conventional and alternative designs; recently planted riparian buffer areas with both conventional and alternative designs; recently planted (within three to five years) grass and riparian buffers; long-term mature grass buffers (greater than 25 years old); and long-term forested riparian buffers (greater than 50 years old).

The overall project objectives are: 1) to provide producers, landowner, agency personnel, and others with field examples and compare and evaluate the installation, management, and performance of a wide gamut of buffer systems, and 2) to provide a spectrum of buffer designs and maturities for workshops, tours, photographs, video footage, etc., showing these plant materials and systems in a natural and working agricultural environment.

A peer-based outreach component will use local people (farmers, crop consultants, etc.) who are respected in the community to conduct on-farm visits to help farmers and landowners better understand the water quality and other benefits of buffers, the value of buffers to themselves and the greater community, and to inform and assist them with the application process for program assistance. A goal is to directly contact and work with 30 to 50 landowners each year through this program.

A multi-faceted educational program will consist of meetings, tours, workshops, training sessions a website, electronic presentations, and other techniques to substantially increase awareness of the environment, economic, and other benefits of buffers. A video will be developed featuring buffer installation, growth, maintenance, and performance, as well as the feasibility of incorporating potential income-producing plant materials into buffer designs.

This project directly supports the National Conservation Buffer Initiative, and represents a win-win situation for water quality and farmers.
