Bomgaars expands further in Nebraska

Special to the Wayne Herald
 Continuing an expansion that will double its number of locations by this summer, Bomgaars announced plans to reopen six more farm and country stores in Nebraska that a Michigan-based company closed recently. Bomgaars has acquired former Country General stores in O'Neill, Neligh, Creighton, Albion, Wahoo and Schuyler, said Roger Bomgaars, president of the Sioux City-based chain. The acquisitions bring to 13 the number of new stores Bomgaars intends to open this spring and summer. In December, the company purchased former Country General stores in Carroll, Denison, Harlan and Onawa, Iowa, and Blair, Hartington, and Tekamah, NE. "Obviously, this strengthens our presence in Nebraska and to the south," Bomgaars said of the acquisitions, which represent the largest expansion in the family business' 58-year history. "This is a once in a lifetime opportunity in our type of business. We're very excited and looking forward to it." By July, Bomgaars expects to have a total of 31 stores operating -- up from 15 a year earlier. The total includes stores in

Wayne, West Point, and Fremont, NE, that opened in July 2001. The former Country General stores were among 133 farm and ranch stores west of the Mississippi that Quality Stores Inc. of Muskegon, Mich. closed last fall. In November, Quality filed a chapter 11 bankruptcy petition, and, in an effort to raise funds while it reorganizes and pays off creditors, offered to sell the stores singularly or in groups. Bomgaars offered to buy all 13 stores, but only its bid for the Carroll, Denison, Harlan and Onawa, Blair, Hartington, and Tekamah locations were originally accepted. The O'Neill, Neligh, Creighton, Albion, Wahoo and Schuyler stores were sold instead to a group headed by Grand Island businessman Tomy Seitz. But after that deal fell apart, Bomgaars successfully secured the remaining six stores. Roger Bomgaars said the company also is working to acquire the former Country General store in Ainsworth, NE. "We are currently restocking and realigning the stores in Carroll, NE." See BOMGAARS, Page 4A

Neighbors locate owner of a ring found at WSC

By Lynn Sievers
 Of the Herald
 A place for everything and everything in its place. This is what a custodian does but when Mabel Sommerfeld found a class ring while she was custodian at Wayne State College back in the early 90s, she didn't know who the ring belonged to or how to get it to the owner. Thinking back, "I was cleaning out an office in Conn Library to get ready for a staff member," Sommerfeld said. "A box dropped and out rolled a high school class ring." Sommerfeld was busy so stuck it in her pocket to deal with it later. The ring ended up in a drawer in her home until she found time to look for its owner. Years went by and Sommerfeld noticed the ring a time or two but was still busy and it waited. Finally this January she took a good look at it and decided the time had come to find the owner. The ring had "Bergan" printed on it by a shield with the initials D.K. and the year 1967. Where should she start to find the owner? Needing some help, she thought of one of her neighbors, Beth Ann Sharer, a librarian at the Wayne Public Library. Sharer said, "I had Bergan Mercy Medical Center in mind. So, I started looking in a Omaha phone book. See RING, Page 2A

Wayne second graders to celebrate

Mike Jaxien's second grade class of 32 students of West Elementary was selected as the second place winner in the 2001 Make A Difference Day contest, sponsored by the Pizza Hut® BOOK IT!® National Reading Incentive Program. Prizes include $3,000 from BOOK IT! to purchase books, a class pizza party from Pizza Hut, five videos from "Between the Lions™, the award-winning PBS series that helps children learn to read and a visit from one of the show's costumed characters. A school assembly to award prizes will take place on Tuesday, Feb. 19 at 10:30 a.m. The class is also eligible for one of ten $10,000 national awards from actor Paul Newman and his food company Newman's Own. BOOK IT! students were asked to perform good deeds related to reading and literacy. The good deed performed by the Wayne Elementary students was giving community businesses and organizations books-on-tape packages "that could be enjoyed by children of all ages." Each package contained books recorded by Jaxien's students, as well as students in other second grade classes, copies of the books and a cassette player. Nine businesses, including two family services, received the packages. Teachers said they were not

I believe the contest has been a jump-start for many schools in promoting the use of literacy to make a difference. This will now be an annual project." See CELEBRATE, Page 4A

Steel Magnolias to be performed

Wayne State College's Theatre Department will present "Steel Magnolias," written by Robert Harling in Ley Theatre, located in the Brandenburg Education Building at WSC, on Feb. 17 - 19. Performance times are 2 p.m. on Feb. 17 and 8 p.m. on Feb. 18 and 19. Admission is free.

"Steel Magnolias" is an emotional story that revolves around six women in a beauty parlor located in Chinquapin, La.

but then thought of Bergan High School in Fremont.

The ladies called the school and gave the information about the office gal.

It just so happened she had also graduated in 1967 so it didn't take her long to call them back with the name, Dave Kucera.

Sommerfeld then called her next door neighbor, Lavah Maciejewski, who used to live in Fremont for 20 years before moving to Wayne in 1972. She wondered if Maciejewski knew the Kuceras.

"I had heard of the family before but didn't know them personally," Maciejewski said. "So, I called my brother, Ronnie Poeschl in Fremont, to ask him if he knew Dave Kucera. He didn't know him either."

Next, Maciejewski called her friend, Delores Hansen who knew Jackie Kucera. Jackie told her to call Dave and Anita Kucera who live in Kearney and gave her their number.

The next morning, Sommerfeld gave Dave Kucera a phone call and explained the situation and why she was calling. He was speechless. So, she dropped him a note explaining everything in more detail and also sent him a Wayne State College photo identification taken of her when she worked there.

Kucera responded with a letter to Sommerfeld thanking her for finding his ring and giving her some background on him.

Kucera explained, "I only had the ring about six months when I lost it back in 1967." "I figured I would never see it again."

He had attended Wayne State from August, 1967 to December, 1968. He then transferred to

Dave Kucera

Midland College, back in his hometown of Fremont.

While he was at Wayne State, he played football for the Wildcats as a freshman and then sat out his sophomore year as a red-shirt. Two of his cousins, Pam and Jim Kucera, both graduated from Wayne State in the early 70s. From 1971 to 1974, he spent four years in the U.S. Air Force and then went back to college in 1976 to finish his degree, this time at Kearney State College.

He graduated from Kearney State and is a teacher and guidance counselor for the past two years at Kenesaw Public School (about 30 miles southeast of Kearney). Kucera's wife, Anita, works as the assistant director of campus housing at the University of Nebraska-Kearney. They have one son, John, who is 26 and lives with his wife in Eugene, Ore.

Kucera has fond memories of Wayne where as a young college student, it was the first time he had been away from home and he really enjoyed being in college.

Sommerfeld plans to send Kucera's ring to him. He is anxious to see it again and happy that Sommerfeld and her friends took the time to find him after all these years. It confirms what he has known all along; there are wonderful people in Wayne.

Thanks for the great concert

Dear Editor,
I just returned home from another great concert by the Wayne High band and Jazz bands. If any of you in the Wayne community would like to hear the greatest high school band in the state, attend the next performance.
Mr. Webber, Mr. Kopperud, thank you for all the time you put in with our youth.
Thank you, kids, for taking the time to be a part of the Wayne High Band and Jazz Bands.
You are the greatest and we are very proud of you.

John Melena,

Wayne doesn't need Keno

Dear Editor,
This is my opinion on the Keno proposal. I have a few questions that I would hope the city council will make public before okaying.
How is the money taken in split between the city, state and the licensee?
Was a vote taken in Wayne concerning Keno or statewide regarding types of gambling? I don't recall either. How can Mr. Harvey estimate the amount of income as his parlors are all in larger populated areas?
Do we really need to exploit mainly the college age as is now the case in alcohol sales? I am not against responsible actions, but, contributing to the next generation of "deaf alcoholics" do we need to add gambling? To say Keno is not a compulsive endeavor or is a bit ludicrous. In this economical climate does anyone think there is a lot of disposable income?
People will gamble and sad to say, become addicted but do we need to make it so easy for them as a city's way to make money? As I see it the main benefactors will be, the Keno parlor operators which I'm sure will need liquor licenses as well.

If it's such a good deal, why doesn't Norfolk have a parlor?

ML Hunt,
Wayne

Maybe we can make a difference

Dear Editor,
We have been hearing "rumors" that prescription medicine is considerably less expensive in Canada and Mexico. Donna and I have had opportunity in recent months to check out both situations.
As a cancer survivor (and there are many of us) I'm required to take one capsule a day, probably for the rest of my life. Locally, it sells for a little over $3 per capsule ($1,000 per year!)... I'm not complaining; that may sound inexpensive daily medication for many people, BUT, in Canada, the same prescription sells for a little over $1. And, in Mexico, the same product sells for about 66 cents. There is something wrong in the United States.
I must mention that I'm confident that the disparity — 300 to 500 percent markup — is not with our local pharmacies. In fact, the price in Wayne is LESS than Walmart.
We were pleasantly surprised when crossing the border at Tijuana. The immediate area has really been transformed from the last time we were there years ago. There are a number of new, modern pharmacies in a clean atmosphere, all begging for your business?
Occasionally, network news indicate some members of Congress are "looking into it!" Maybe they could use some encouragement!
With the risk of sounding egotistic, I would like to share a past experience: Several years ago, the USDA initiated a farm program in which farmers could "seal" their corn at harvest time. For city folk,

Dealing with the truth

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Jack Nicholson could have been talking about taxpayers when he shouted out that famous line: "You can't handle the truth!"

Taxpayers most especially can't handle unpleasant truth. Especially when it involves government's need for more money. That's partly because they figure government, at every level, is a chronic screw up.

Taxpayers are likely to suspect that giving government more funds is, like giving a chronic heroin addict money to buy lunch. There is evidence to support that view, especially at the federal level.

The thing is, sometimes state government really does need more money to fund legitimate services demanded by the public, or mandated by the feds.

There is evidence that the State of Nebraska is facing such a legitimate need.

Now, before you begin yelling things that your children and clergymen shouldn't hear you say, take a deep breath.

Having taken that breath, listen to Sen. Roger Wehrbein of Plattsmouth. He is a rock-ribbed conservative Republican when it comes to fiscal matters. He is also chairman of the Legislature's Appropriations Committee. And he is also a fellow with enough guts to gently, but firmly, tell you the truth.

Nebraska is facing a revenue shortfall. That's one fact. The other fact is that there are only two places where the Legislature can, technically, rip real money from the state budget. One is at the University of Nebraska. The other, arguably is in state operations.

Another fact is that the Legislature has pared both of them, good and plenty. If the Legislature bailed out the budget by taking sufficient funds from NU, and day-to-day government operations, there would be howls (from the taxpayers, of course) from the Panhandle to the Missouri.

Wehrbein is among the few lawmakers who have begun to tell people, in large organizations and individually, that the state has to consider increasing its revenues. That means considering expanding the sales tax, at least for awhile, to include food or services. (Wehrbein said any sales tax on food should include a $60 annual rebate). Or, it means doing something else to raise more money.

Virtually no one in public office, in any state, wants to tell you that government needs more funding to do its job. When such is the reality, lawmakers are stuck with it. Governors often can duck, veto a needed tax increase, then leave it to the conscience of lawmakers to face the political music. Of course, if lawmakers don't have a collective conscience, they can reduce legitimate state programs to rubble. Nebraskans don't want to close a state college. They don't want the state to reduce aid to local governments (which helps to hold down local property taxes). They don't want tuition to go through the roof at NU. And they don't want to pay a penny more in taxes.

What Wehrbein and a few others like him are doing is simple. They are telling Nebraskans that, the truth is, the economic choices facing them at the moment are not pleasant, but they have to be faced, anyway.

And that's the truth.

Redistricting is still an issue

By Senator Pat Engel
District 17

A move to reshuffle the state's legislative districts to keep two seated senators from northeast Nebraska has failed.

Sens. Cap Dierks of Ewing and Doug Cunningham of Wausa were thrust into the same district when the Legislature completed redistricting last spring.

When Sen. George Coordsen of Hebron announced he would not run for re-election, Dierks and Cunningham pushed LB 1257 to change the boundaries of the districts again. The bill would eliminate Coordsen's district in southeast Nebraska and keep the districts of Dierks and Cunningham in northeast Nebraska intact.

The Legislature's Executive Committee voted not to advance LB 1257 to the floor.

A procedural move in the Legislature to try to bring the matter to the floor failed on Feb. 11. The vote to suspend the rules was 29-18, one vote short of the number required. I was in support of LB 1257.

In other matters, the Legislature considered bills dealing with the testimony of jailhouse informants and a name change for the Department of Roads.

The Legislature on a vote of 26-0 gave first-round approval on Feb. 8 to LB 752, which would make it tougher for prosecutors to use the testimony of jailhouse informants in trials. I voted for the bill.

Sen. Ernie Chambers of Omaha, who sponsored the measure, said require a pre-trial hearing where a judge would determine the probable truthfulness of the testimony.

LB 283, which would have changed the name of the Department of Roads to the "Department of Transportation," failed to advance during the first-round of consideration on Feb. 7.

The bill failed on a 21-18 vote, falling four votes short of the 25 needed for advancement. I voted against the bill. The bill could be scheduled for debate again later.

Opponents of the bill argued that the name change could take the focus off the department's mission of building and maintaining roads. Supporters said the change would better reflect the growing responsibilities of the department in other areas.

If there is anything I can do for you, please do not hesitate to contact me at my Lincoln office: Sen. Pat Engel, District 17, State Capitol, P.O. Box 94604, Lincoln, NE 68509-4604; (402) 471-2716; or lengel@unicam.state.ne.us.

Main Street Focus

By Leo Ahmann

Congratulations to Kate Lütt, Irene Fletcher and Marie Mohr for their election to the Board of Directors. Their election was announced at our Annual Meeting on Tuesday of this week. They fill board positions of Reggie Yates and Jeff Morlok whose terms expired.

Irene Fletcher, who had been completing the term of a previously mid-term vacated Board position, was on the ballot and as mentioned, was elected to a full term.

Nearly 70 percent of the ballots we mailed out to the "Friends of Main Street," were returned. We thank all of those who voted. Our heartfelt thanks go out to Reggie Yates who has been the chairperson of this program since its inception. Reggie also initiated the initial serious discussions about starting a Main Street Program in Wayne, back in 1997. Thanks also to Jeff Morlok, who has been the only treasurer that the Main Street Program has known. Again, my heartfelt thanks to these two individuals for their commitment and efforts for Main Street. Both have assured me they will continue to stay involved which will simply add to the expertise of this program.

Along with my report to the Board, other items on the Annual Meeting agenda were reports from each of the four committees, their accomplishments during 2001 and their goals for this year. The treasurer also gave a financial report to those in attendance. A terrific breakfast was prepared by Sandra Bartling and Lois Shelton and we thank them.

Next Tuesday, Feb. 19, at our regular weekly meeting, we will vote on the election of officers. There will be an entirely new slate of officers for 2002.

It is with a great deal of pride that Nancy and I offer our congratulations to my brother, Mark, on being chosen as Wayne's Citizen of the Year. The Main Street Wayne Program also salutes Mark who is on our Promotions Committee and has done emcee work for us as well. A Main Street congratulations to Mr. Bill Wilson, a teacher at Wayne High School, who was chosen as Educator of the Year.

Denison, Harlan and Onawa, Blair, Hartington and Tekamah, with those openings scheduled for mid-March," said Bomgaars. "The Wahoo and O'Neill stores are also set for April openings, while the Neligh, Creighton, Albion and Schuyler locations are expected to open by mid-summer."

"We will try to hire as many of the former County General employees as possible," he added. "We're not looking for any extensive changes in management or staffing either one. A large part of the value we're looking for come through the crews that are already there."

Since Country General stores closed, customers have had to drive up to 120 miles to get their supplies," Bomgaars said. "We're getting lots of phone calls and e-mails."

They're very anxious for the stores to open. With the exception of Carroll, these rural communities have no other general merchandise farm supply stores."

Bomgaars will carry a broader assortment of merchandise than the Country General stores, with more automotive, lawn and garden, clothing and outer wear. Bomgaars sells a wide variety of retail merchandise, from animal feed and farm chemicals to housewares and toys, paint, hardware, pet supplies, power tools and seasonal products.

W.H. Bomgaars founded Bomgaars in 1944 in downtown Sioux City as an automotive jobber. In 1952, the company incorporated and started selling retail to the public. The company today employs some 450 people in Iowa, Nebraska and South Dakota with around 150 more projected for the expanded operations.

"To help meet the recent growth, the company has been adding warehousing and distribution capacity in Sioux City," Bomgaars said. "That's already created an additional 10 distribution jobs and six office positions." The company now operates four distribution facilities in Sioux City. The merchandise is shipped into the central warehouses in Sioux City, and loads are then sent out to the stores on a weekly basis.

Bomgaars also is associated with Ace Hardware, which handles the direct shipments of electrical and home hardware to each store. The main 155,000-square foot warehouse at Fourth and Water Streets opened in August, 1973. The others have been added in the last three years.

Council debates auditorium issue

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Discussion was held again on the fate of the Wayne City Auditorium during Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne City Council.

The council listened to a presentation from Galen Wiser, representing the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce and Karin Vaughn, Executive Director of the Chamber.

The two told the council that Chamber Board members had discussed the best way to use the money that has been set aside for renovation of the auditorium.

Wiser said that while the Chamber Board values the building, they felt there were better ways to use the money, rather than renovation.

Vaughn said that the expense of remodeling work would not bring business to the community. She indicated that the best interests of the business community should be considered when spending the money.

Paul Lindner, who is a member of the Auditorium Renovation Committee, stated that the costs of the anticipated improvements were estimates and the project needs to be bid before anyone will know exactly what the cost will be.

Leo Ahmann, representing Main Street Wayne, said that should the money set aside for renovation be used for something such as a new building, that building would not be in downtown Wayne. He stated that the present building is part of the downtown and "the auditorium was built for the community to use as they see fit."

Following the debate, the council approved the current design and allowed for bid letting to take place.

A public hearing was held during Tuesday's meeting for the purpose of discussing the Planning Commission's recommendation to re-zone property from R-1 (Residential) to A-2 (Agricultural).

The council listened to City Planner George Ellyson explain the reasoning behind the request to re-zone land that had been rezoned last year. It involves a portion of land which has not been developed at this point and would affect the assessments of sewer service for the property.

Following Ellyson's presentation, the council gave first-reading this is simply a cash loan program. Good!

However, there was no provision for cattlemen, who stored "high moisture (HM) shelled corn. I didn't think this was right or equitable. From the "grass roots level," I made an appointment (perhaps through our congressman) with the Secretary of Agriculture in Washington, D.C. (at my own expense).

On the first day, I was "hosted" by several under secretaries. But when they understood I was persistent, I was granted a hearing the next day. When I appeared (with a sample of our HM corn from home) no one was more surprised than I. Around a large table was the Assistant Secretary of Agriculture and a number of his close associates!

To make a long story short, I left that afternoon with no assurance that I'd accomplished anything! Shortly after returning home, I received a phone call from the Department of Agriculture that they had taken affirmative action on my proposal: Memos to include HM corn were going out to all USDA offices in the United States!

Maybe some of us could make a difference, nationwide? We would much rather purchase medications (and everything else) in Wayne!

approval for the request.

Council also approved a three-year lease agreement with the Wayne Softball Association which is similar to an agreement between the two which is currently ending. In addition to those items which the city is currently responsible for, the city will now be responsible for a larger share of the fertilizer bill for the softball complex and will be responsible for the restrooms at the facility.

Bids were discussed in regard to the geothermal well design for the Community Activity Center. At a previous meeting, it was determined that 90 wells, 240 feet deep, would be necessary to heat and cool the building. After discussion, the council accepted a bid from Christiansen Construction for 80 wells, 240 feet deep at a cost of $149,437. It was determined that the additional cooling provided by the extra 10 wells would not be necessary.

A total of seven bids were received for the project.

Approval was given for Wayne Boy Scout Troop #174 to construct a plaque measuring four feet by four feet in the Youth Center of the Community Activity Center to acknowledge past, present and future Wayne Eagle Scout recipients.

The council approved a five-year moratorium on sidewalk improvement projects. It is intended that the money saved from this move will be used as a city match for the funding of Phase II of the Trail Project.

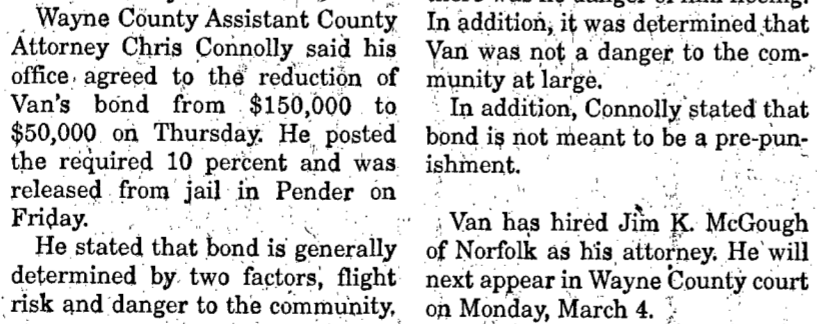

In other action, the council voted to change its meeting time back to 7:30 p.m., effective the Feb. 26 meeting.

Van has posted bond

Roger Van, the 55-year old Wayne man accused of sexual torture, has posted bond and been released from jail.

Wayne County Assistant County Attorney Chris Connolly said his office agreed to the reduction of Van's bond from $150,000 to $50,000 on Thursday. He posted the required 10 percent and was released from jail in Pender on Friday.

He stated that bond is generally determined by two factors, flight risk and danger to the community.

Van has hired Jim K. McGough of Norfolk as his attorney. He will next appear in Wayne County court on Monday, March 4.

He said that Van has family and businesses in the community and the County Attorney's office felt there was no danger of him fleeing. In addition, it was determined that Van was not a danger to the community at large.

In addition, Connolly stated that bond is not meant to be a pre-punishment.

Van has hired Jim K. McGough of Norfolk as his attorney. He will next appear in Wayne County court on Monday, March 4.

Condemned building is being fixed

Desiring to bring the recently condemned building at 111 North Main Street in Wayne up to code, and re-open it to businesses on the main floor and apartment on the top floor, owner Chad Sebade said, "We are taking out the wood floors in the basement and getting ready to put a plastic vapor barrier on the floor. There will be a half inch granite solid concrete applied to all the basement walls and two inches of concrete on the basement floor."

Sebade noted on the front of the building, they will take out the bricks and put new wood in from bottom of the windows to the top of the roof (second story windows). Contractors from Omaha are fixing the bulge on the north side of the building.

He also said there will be other minor remodeling done and wiring will be brought up to state fire marshal and other codes. Schroeder Engineering of Sioux City, Iowa is giving their stamp of approval on this project.

"It will probably be around May before we get everything done that we plan to do," Sebade said.

Former resident recognized

Renee Carlson, formerly of Wayne, was recently recognized as the Missouri Court Appointed Special Advocate (CASA) Volunteer of the Year.

Carlson, the daughter of Lorene Gildersleeve of Wayne, was a nurse prior to her car being slammed into by a drunk driver in 1994. The accident critically injured Carlson and her daughter.

Although medical disabilities prevented Renee from returning to her nursing career, she wanted to repay the kindness of the countless medical personnel, therapists, aides, family friends and other volunteers who cared for and supported her on her long, difficult road to recovery. She searched for a cause where she could make a difference in someone else's life.

Her search brought her to the Jackson County, Kansas City, Mo. CASA. In early 1998 she became a CASA volunteer. Since that time she has been assigned cases involving two premature babies with medical needs and an uncertain future.

The statement of Renee's accomplishments state she has volunteered a minimum of 15 to 20 hours per month in the interest of her CASA children.

In February of 2001, she watched quietly, and with great joy, as the first of the two boys was adopted. The second child's adoption is scheduled to be completed soon.

The award was presented to Renee by Rob Riseman of Lee's Summit, Mo., who, ironically, happened to be the driver who was the first on the scene when Renee was critically injured by the drunk driver.

Winside wrestlers place second

The Winside wrestling team placed runner-up at the D-2 District Tournament in Randolph last Saturday.

Paul Sok's team racked up 145.5 points to place behind Newman Grove who scored 150.

Elgin Pope John was third at 121 and Howells, fourth at 117. Sargent scored 96 and finished fifth followed in order by Randolph, Osmond, Greeley, Burwell, Ponca, Humphrey St. Francis, Clearwater, Cedar Rapids, Scribner-Snyder, Rock County, Elgin, Lindsay Holy Family, Plainview and Wakefield.

Six Winside wrestlers earned a trip to this week's State Wrestling Tournament in Lincoln's Bob Devaney Sports Center.

Bo Brummels (112), Jared Jaeger (119) and Tom Schwedhelm (189) each captured district titles with Brandon Suehl (125) and Mike Tomasek (275) each placing runner-up.

Josh Sok also earned a state berth with his third place finish at 152.

Brummels pinned Chris Dostal of Howells in the finals and went 4-0 in the tournament with two pins.

Jaeger had to wrestle just twice after receiving a bye and he won both by pin including a pin over Josh Curry of Ponca in the finals.

Schwedhelm went 3-0 with his first two matches being won by pin before he defeated previously top-ranked Michael Bayer of Howells, 4-1 in the finals. It was Schwedhelm's second straight win over Bayer after falling to him four times before.

Suehl lost an 8-2 decision to Craig Brester of Howells in the finals and went 2-1 during the tournament and Tomasek went 2-1, falling to Jared Nygren of Newman Grove in the finals—a two-time state champ.

Sok went 3-1, falling in the semifinals in overtime before fighting back to place third with a 4-2 decision over Mauricio Arreguin of Newman Grove.

Nathan Stevens went 2-2 at 130 and Dan Morris was 3-2 at 135 while Brandon Bowers went 1-2 at 140. Travis Koll was 2-2 at 145 and Eric Morris was 2-2 at 160 while Katlyn Pokorny went 1-2 at 171. Bryce Roberts went 0-2 at 215.

"I thought we had a pretty good tournament," coach Paul Sok said. "We had four guys that were just one match away from qualifying."

Sok said his squad competed in one of the stronger districts and the competition pretty much chewed each other up.

"Our top district teams qualified six or seven wrestlers while other districts had up to 11 qualifiers," Sok added. "This really puts pressure on all of the individuals to perform at State if you want to make it into the top 10 as a team."

Paul Sok was also recognized as the District Coach of the Year for the second straight season and eighth grader Andrew Sok was one of four eighth graders across the state to be selected by the NSAA to be one of the mat assistants at the State Tournament this weekend.

WRESTLER OF THE WEEK
Casey Campbell

Activities: Wrestling
Coach Murtaugh's comments: "Casey has been a pleasure to coach. He works hard and he never complains. The entire Campbell family has contributed a lot to the wrestling program."

Wayne qualifies a pair for State meet

The Wayne wrestling team competed in Class B's strongest district last Friday and Saturday at Boys Town High School and the Blue Devils qualified two grapplers for this year's State Wrestling Tournament which gets under way, Thursday at Lincoln's Bob Devaney Sports Complex.

Sophomore Matt Nelson shook the competition to win gold at the district meet, defeating Omaha Skutt's Nick Rotella in the finals, 12-7.

"Matt wrestled well and was never seriously challenged," coach John Murtaugh said.

Senior Casey Campbell has experienced state tournament wrestling but it's been a while. Campbell qualified as a freshman and will make a return trip to round out his high school career at State after placing fourth at 140 pounds.

"It was great to see Casey qualify in his senior season," Murtaugh added.

Wayne scored 57.5 points to place 10th in the 12-team district which was won by Skutt with 188.5 points.

Gretna was second with 179 and Omaha Gross, third with 172 while Boys Town finished fourth with 108 and Hooper Logan View, 98.5.

Valley, Schuyler, Wahoo and Blair placed ahead of Wayne with Pierce and Omaha Roncalli finishing behind the Blue Devils.

Nelson won his first two matches by pin before his 12-7 finals decision while Campbell lost his first round but fought back to win the next three rounds before falling in the consolation finals.

Matt Roeber went 2-2 at 130 pounds with a pair of wins by pin while Dan Reinhardt went 2-2 at 135 with a pin and a 15-7 decision in his favor.

Josh Pieper experienced a fantastic senior season but was edged out of qualifying for State. Pieper won his first two matches by pin before falling in back-to-back matches at 152 pounds.

Dana Schuett went 1-2 at 160 pounds with a pin to his credit and Aaron Jorgensen went 1-2 with a pin at 215 pounds.

Josh Widner (103), Justin Modrell (112), Dusty Lutt (119), Josh Hartwell (145) and Kevin Modrell (189) each went 0-2.

Winside squads split with Tigers; Gals season ends

Winside's girls and boys earned a split with Osmond last Thursday, with the girls posting a 59-52 win while the boys lost a 64-44 decision.

In the girls contest Winside led by one point at the half, 26-25 and the Wildcats trailed by seven after three quarters of play at 44-37 but a 22-8 scoring burst in the final quarter propelled Marlon Erbt's team to the win.

Amy Rademacher poured in a career-high 25 points with Julie Jacobsen adding 18. Makayla Marotz scored five with Susan Wittler and Kalynda Hokamp adding four each and Stacey Rabe, three.

"Everyone stepped up the last quarter and contributed," Erbt said. "Kayla Bowers had a career-high 12 rebounds and of course amy Rademacher's 25 points was a career high."

Winside was 24-33 from the free throw line.

The Wildcats season came to an end on Monday however, as Winside fell to Newman Grove in sub-districts at Columbus Lakeview High School, 51-35.

Amy Rademacher scored 16 and Julie Jacobsen, 14 while Becky Krause added three and Makayla Marotz, two.

Winside was out-scored 30-16 in the second half after trailing by just two at the break, 21-19.

The season-ending record was 6-

13. In the boys contest with Osmond the Wildcats were out-gunned to the tune of 41-14 at the half and could never recover.

It was a tough shooting night for leading scorers Adam Hoffman and Ben Lienemann with Hoffman scoring nine points and Lienemann, eight—well below their season averages.

Adam Pfeiffer scored nine and Denton Cushing, eight while Michael Hawkins added four. Russ O'Connor, Christopher Kirsch and Taylor Suehl each added two.

Hoffman did haul down 15 rebounds to lead Winside with Cushing netting 10 caroms.

Spring turkey - when they won't come in

One of the things that I hear most frequently about spring turkey hunting is that the Toms will gobble their heads off but refuse to come into shooting range.

This is a common problem for spring turkey hunters and there are several reasons why a bird won't come in or hang up just out of range.

In the real wild world, the hen hears the Tom gobble and comes to him. Hunters need to reverse the roles in order to get a Tom into range. Can you imagine how hard this is on a big old Tom's ego? He's the big boy, the dominant Tom and he's proved it, kicking the daylight out of any other Tom that got in his way. The hens have flocked to his boisterous gobbles and strutting and now here's a hen that just doesn't get it, she's suppose to come to him and won't play the game right.

Well, if he's going to get the opportunity to get close to this hen, he's going to have to forget about the ego thing and go to her and some Toms take a little longer to swallow their pride and go to the hen.

The most common reason for a Tom to hang up is that he already has hens with him. It doesn't take a rocket scientist to figure out that if an old Tom has several hens in his harem already, he isn't going to leave two or three hens for a chance at a single hen.

When a bird hangs up and you suspect that he has hens with him, there are a couple of things that you can do.

The first is to become real vocal, call as if there are several different hens talking to him. Use a couple of different calls and change your pitch. Many times, this will draw the Tom towards you. Don't get to upset if the Tom takes his time coming your way, because he will have to bring his hens with him or take the chance of leaving them and having some subordinate Tom take over his harem.

There are always subordinate Toms following in the shadows or with the flock. The ones with the flock are generally the younger birds or birds that haven't acted aggressively towards the domi-and they know better than to get too close, but are hanging around just in case something happens to the dominate bird or a hen strays from the fold.

If the dominate bird hangs up and doesn't come in, many times the loud boisterous calling will pull one of the subordinate Toms in and you'll be able to tip one of them over and fill your tag.

Another method that I've used to call Toms with hens into range is to call the hens. There is usually a dominate hen with the group and if you talk sweet enough, long enough and loud enough, she might just come over and see who or what's trying to take her man away.

I used this method on a hunt on the Rosebud Reservation up in South Dakota to help Larry Myhre from The Sioux City Journal to fill his tag.

Most of the larger Toms had collected their harems and weren't about to leave their flock to check out a single hen.

The Tom was over the hill, so I set up down the hill from Larry, putting my decoy in between us.

I started calling with a slate call and immediately heard several responses from different Toms. I worked the birds for about 10 minutes and couldn't get them to come any closer, so I started to call louder and more frequently to the hen. She got louder and started coming our way. This went on for over 10 minutes, but the hen was getting closer and I knew that if the hen left the Tom, he'd have to follow her over the hill and give Larry the opportunity for a shot.

The slate would get squeaky, so I'd switch to my diaphragm call as I made an attempt to rough up the surface of the slate call. When my mouth got dry, I'd switch back to the slate and kept going back and fourth or used them together to make the Tom think that there were several hens just over the hill.

I kept it loud, because the Tom was hung up and I needed to bring the hen over in order to get Larry a shot.

Fifteen minutes after I started calling, the hen appeared at the top of the hill and headed directly towards my decoy clucking, spitting and putting all the way. She was "MAD!"

Fortunately for my decoy, another Tom had been responding to my calls and after 20 minutes of calling, she lost interest in my decoy and the Tom over the hill and headed off looking for the other bird.

When she shut up, I backed off on the calls and waited for the Tom to come looking for the hen. It didn't take long after the hen moved off when a blue and white head popped over the rise. A few more clucks and purrs and the Tom stepped over the hill and into Larry's sights and it was all over.

It took over 30 minutes to get it done, but with a little patience and a lot of calling, we filled the tag.

Another trick that I've used to call in spring Toms that become hung up is to make it sound like the hen is moving away. The Tom thinks he's about to loose the opportunity and heads in the direction of the departing hen, usually gobbling and drumming all the way in.

You don't have to get up and move to fool the Tom! Simply call in the opposite direction of the bird. If he's off to your left, turn and call to the right, making the Tom believe that the hen is heading away. Call quieter and then wait for the Tom to respond. Many times he'll come running thinking that he's blown his chance.

There are times when it seems like no matter what I try nothing seems to work and that's when I try to cautiously cut the distance between the Tom and myself. You'll need to keep your eyes open and keep alert, because the Tom might have come closer, not making a sound.

Toms that hang up and refuse to come in are part of spring turkey hunting, so if you find that the Toms keep hanging up and refuse to come in, move to another calling area, perhaps the birds there are more receptive to a call or are looking for hens.

Give spring turkey hunting a shot, it's a great sport and an excellent way to get out and enjoy spring.

Herbs for Health
Saw Palmetto for an Enlarged Prostate
Problems related to an enlarged prostate (called BPH or benign prostatic hyperplasia) most often occur in men after age 45. However, symptoms typically do not appear until age 60 or later. Up to 40 percent of men aged 70 years and older have symptoms that include an urge to urinate and difficulty emptying the bladder completely. If BPH is allowed to continue without treatment bladder infection and possibly kidney damage can occur. Prescription medicines used to treat BPH symptoms include finasteride (Proscar) and terazosin (Hytrin).
According to a recent report in The Journal of the American Medical Association, an extract from the saw palmetto plant may provide a safe and effective alternative to treating BPH. Dr. Timothy Witt and colleagues reviewed 18 carefully controlled, scientific trials involving the use of saw palmetto in 2,939 men with BPH. Side effects from the herb were mild as compared with prescriptions medicines. They concluded that saw palmetto was effective in improving BPH symptoms and the flow of urine.

Scarlet & Cream Singers will be in Wayne

The University of Nebraska Scarlet and Cream Singers will be performing in Wayne on Saturday, Feb. 16. The performance begins at 5 p.m. at Wayne High School.

For 29 years, the Scarlet and Cream Singers have captured the hearts of audiences across the country with their vibrant and versatile presentation of song and dance. Scarlet and Cream is composed of 23 full-time NU students: 16 singers, five band members and two technicians.

The students represent a variety of academic majors and hometowns, but all share a love of and a talent for music. The show is a collaboration among the director, the students and Scarlet and Cream alumni and others who contribute to the show by arranging music and designing costumes and choreography.

Wayne High School graduate Jon Gathje is a current member of the group. Jon is the son of Richard and Sandra Gathje. The 2000 grad was active with band, choir, jazz band and jazz choir during high school. He is a sophomore music education major and is involved with the University Singers. Jon also enjoys playing the trumpet. This marks his second-year as a Scarlet and Cream Singer.

Scarlet and Cream performed for more than 70,000 audience members last fall, including the singing of "God Bless America" at the Nebraska-Rice football game following the events of September 11, 2001. In December, they traveled to California where they performed for more than 20,000 people at Universal Studios, the Nebraska Pep Rally on the Santa Monica Pier, and the official Husker Huddle pregame event at the Rose Bowl.

University of Nebraska Scarlet & Cream Singers will perform in Wayne on Feb. 16, 5 p.m. at Wayne High School. Wayne High graduate Jon Gathje is a current member of the group.

The group entertains at university and alumni events, business meetings, private parties and school programs across the state and the country. Auditions are held in May and dozens of students compete to capture or maintain a spot in the group. Successful candidates learn the core of the show at a week-long rehearsal camp in August.

Once the academic year begins, the students polish their original material and add to the show at twice-week rehearsals. The performance season runs from September through April. This year's show opens with a tribute to some of music's greatest hits including Higher and Higher, Blue Skies, and Down by the Lazy River. Also on the program for this year's Scarlet and Cream Singers is Swing, Swing, featuring the singers' dancing skills as they take on such hits as Fever, Sing Sing Sing, In the Mood, and Jump Jive & Wail.

The groups' remaining sets include music from the hit Broadway musical, Smokey Joe's Cafe, a Beatles medley and a vacation set. And of course, no Scarlet and Cream show would be complete without the spirit of the Nebraska School Songs. A free will offering will be accepted at the door the evening of the concert with the proceeds to be split between the Scarlet and Cream Singers, the Wayne High School Music Department and Camp Kindle.

Camp Kindle is a cost-free camping experience for young people infected and affected by HIV and AIDS. It will be holding its fourth summer session this August at a campground facility near Ashland.

The camp is staffed by 20-25 volunteers who undergo 40 hours of training prior to the camp. Jon Gathje served as a part of the group's volunteers last summer.

PROGRAMS OFFERED

The Allen Waterbury Volunteer Fire & Rescue Department along with State Farm Insurance Company, in cooperation with the Dixon County Sheriff's office and the Allen Elementary School, are introducing two new programs to students on Wednesday, Feb. 20.

The first program offered will be the 911 Simulator. This program will teach children the correct way to talk to a 911 dispatcher. There will be a dispatcher from the Dixon County Sheriff's office on hand to speak with the children and together they will practice a 911 simulated call. The children will need to give their name (who), the nature of the call (what), which department to be dispatcher (fire, rescue, or police) and then the address (where) of the emergency.

The second program is called Kiddy ID. The "ID CARD" is a laminated wallet-sized card that will include your child's photo, thumb print, social security number, date of birth, height, weight, hair and eye color and any other identifying information you wish to include. This information is tremendously helpful if you were ever in need of current, accurate ad complete identification. Each student was sent home a written permission paper which will have to be returned before your child can take part in the programs. First Aid For Minor Burns Run cool water over burned area to cool the burn and reduce the pain. Don't use ice because of the risk of frostbite. If the skin is intact you may apply a lotion like aloe vera or a burn creme for comfort. If blisters develop it's best not to break them because they protect against infection. However, if the blistered area is tender, use a sterile scissors to snip a small opening in it. Wash area with soap and water and apply an antibiotic creme. Loosely cover the burn with a sterile gauze bandage.

More Good News: Aspirin May Reduce Severity of Stroke

In the most common type of stroke a blood clot or some other form of blockage reduces blood flow to the brain. According to a new study reported in the medical journal Stroke, persons who took a single aspirin tablet during the week before they had such a stroke lowered their risk of severe stroke-related damage - including loss of speech or speech difficulty and paralysis. In the study of more than 1,200 persons it was found that about 50% of aspirin users had mild strokes, and only about 10% had severe strokes, however 43% of individuals who did not use aspirin had mild strokes, and 15% had severe strokes.

Many physicians recommend a small daily dose of aspirin for patients who are at special risk for heart disease or stroke. Yet, chronic use of aspirin is not without risk, including bleeding problems. Ask your physician if taking aspirin every day is right for you.

New programs set for WSC

Two new programs at Wayne State College this year welcome prospective students and their parents to campus. "Fridays @ WSC" began last fall, taking the place of "Senior Preview Days." "Just Juniors" is geared to high school juniors and their parents.

Scheduled for several Fridays each semester (including one Monday), "Fridays @ WSC" provides high school seniors and their parents with a variety of activities and information. The program is coordinated by the WSC admissions staff. "Fridays @ WSC" are scheduled for Feb. 22, March 1, 15, April 12, and Monday, Feb. 18 (yes, it's 'Fridays' on a Monday!).

During their day on campus, students attend sessions on admission, financial assistance, academic programs and extracurricular activities at WSC. They have an opportunity to meet with current students, visit academic areas of their choice and tour campus as well as eat lunch in the WSC cafeteria.

In addition to "Fridays @ WSC," another special day, "Just Juniors" will be held on Saturday, March 23. Included in this day's activities will be an optional "Preparing to Take the ACT" workshop, as well as many other activities for high school juniors and their families.

If you know of a high school junior or senior who would like to attend either "Fridays @ WSC" or "Just Juniors," please call the WSC Admissions Office at 800-228-9972, ext. 7234. Information can also be found on the WSC Web site at www.wsc.edu.

John Brogie to present project

John Brogie, a Columbus Lakeview High School senior and former Wayne resident, is currently attending the Junior Academy of Sciences annual meeting in Boston, Mass.

Scientists from around the world, including Nobel Prize winners, will be looking at the participating students' on going projects, offering tips and insights into the world of scientific theories.

"I like seeing what other people have done and meeting new people, important people," Brogie.

This will be the third time Brogie has attended one of the conferences. He qualified the first time after winning the state's science fair for his portable biological safety cabinet. Brogie said that those who visit one of the national events are invited back again the next year. Last year the project he took along with him for the scrutiny of the world-wide scientists was a preliminary study on Lumbricus variegatus — the California mud worm.

This year's project is a more in-depth study of the worm that lives in water and which is about 10 centimeters long. John is trying to see if a dissected part of the worm can regenerate itself in a special solution.

Right no, finding the right solution to start the process is Brogie's biggest challenge.

John attends a special science research science class that is one of only about five such specialized classes in the state, according to his teacher, Ed Kinzer.

Do homework before making purchases

Consumers who do their homework before making a large purchase will have a better chance of being satisfied.

Consumer homework involves reading up on several models and brands of the item to be purchased to decide which features are needed and which are options. Checking out product literature, warranties and reviewing consumer publications that rate things such as quality, customer satisfaction and repair history or provide general information about the product also are helpful. Time invested in reading these materials may prevent buying a poorly made product.

After the purchasing decision is narrowed down to several choices, check the availability and price at several businesses. If time or distance makes that difficult, use catalogs or make a few phone calls. The Internet also can be useful for comparison shopping, but if a business's phone number isn't available, questions may go unanswered.

Check the reputation and ask people about their experience with the business in terms of products, service and handling complaints. It also may be wise to contact the Better Business Bureau or Small Claims Court clerk in the busi-

If trying to resolve the problem over the phone, keep a phone log by jotting down the date, time, who was spoken to and what was promised. Send a follow-up letter summarizing the discussion and promises made. Be sure to keep a copy of the letter and send copies (not originals) of documents requested.

ness's location for any indication of complaints or legal actions and how these complaints or actions were resolved.

Before buying, check return policies and provisions. Even customers who do their homework occasionally buy a defective product or one that doesn't work as promised. To avoid frustrations, keep receipts, warranties and guarantees. Read product instructions carefully. A retailer shouldn't be expected to replace a misused product. Keep product packaging until certain the product works correctly.

If a problem occurs, contact the seller or manufacturer as soon as possible. Professionally and specifically explain the problem. Be prepared to suggest a satisfactory solution. If the problem is not handled adequately or in a reasonable amount of time, ask for the name, address and telephone number of the company headquarters.

Missionary to speak at church on Feb. 17

Reverend John Fransisco, Assemblies of God missionary to Peru, will be the featured guest speaker at Praise Assembly of God, 1000 East 10th Street in Wayne on Sunday, Feb. 17 at 10 a.m., according to Rev. Mark Steinbach, pastor.

Peru, the ancient land of the Incas, is divided into three distinct geographical regions: the Pacific coast, the Andean highlands and Amazon rainforest. The current population of approximately 27 million people includes about eight million who live in and around the capital city of Lima. Over the past 10 years, the country has suffered through drug trade, terrorism and political corruption. The first Assemblies of God missionary came to Peru in 1919. Today, about one percent of the population would identify themselves with the church, making it the largest Protestant group in the country.

John and Kerri Fransisco have recently returned from their first term of ministry in Peru.

"Our primary focus," John said, "has been church planting among the professional and business class of Lima, a largely unreached group. In October of 1999, we started El Oasis de Esperanza (The Oasis of Hope), a church that targets this class in Lima's La Molina community. Church attendance is normally 40-50 on Sundays and there are ministries in both Spanish and English."

John's doctor of ministry degree and Kerri's law degree, have helped them integrate with the business leaders they are trying to reach. Other ministry projects for the Fransiscos included church construction in Lima's San Juan de Miraflores community, the jungle town of Uchiza and the remote Andean town of Ocobamba.

"Near the Andean city of Acobamba," Kerri said, "we started a Christian radio station which reaches a large section of the Department of Huancavelica. We supplied the construction materials and the programming. John has served as the national director of communications for the Assemblies of God of Peru. The department published a national church newspaper and started a national radio broadcast called 'La Vision Asambleista' during his time of service."

John has also spoken at conferences, seminars and conventions across Peru and taught at two different Bible schools in Lima. The Fransiscos serve as missionary representatives for "The Book of Hope," a special printing of the New Testament Gospels, which was distributed to nearly 2.5 million students last year.

The public is invited to attend the Fransiscos' missions presentation on Feb. 17 at 10 a.m.

Kevin and Faye Ruffcorn pose for a picture during their recent trip to Spain, Portugal and Morocco. The Rock of Gibraltar is in the background.

Tour opportunity is being planned to Italy

Tour hosts Pastor Kevin and Faye Ruffcorn are packing their bags and making plans for a trip to Italy in early November and have invited members of the community to join them.

The 14-day trip will include visits to the picturesque cities of Rome, Florence, Venice, Sorrento and Assisi. They will tour the resort island of Capri and discover the historical treasures of Pompeii, a city covered by volcanic ash from Mt. Vesuvius in 79 AD. While in Rome, they will tour Vatican City and visit the Sistine Chapel and St. Peter's Basilica.

This will be the sixth tour that the Ruffcorns have hosted. Previous excursions have included trips to Israel, Great Britain, Turkey and Greece, Spain and Portugal and Scandinavia. With a desire to travel and a love for people, the Ruffcorns have discovered that hosting tours is a rewarding and fulfilling hobby.

The Ruffcorns are preparing for their trip to Italy by gathering a group of fellow travelers to go with them. A travel information meeting on Sunday, Feb. 24 at 2:30 p.m.

will give people the opportunity to learn more about this adventure.

The meeting will be held at Our Savior Lutheran Church at 421 Pearl Street in Wayne. The public is invited to this meeting.

The tour itinerary will be presented at this meeting and any travel questions answered. Anyone who is interested in touring Italy with the Ruffcorns, but who is not able to attend the meeting, should call (402) 375-3027 for a tour brochure.

Pastor Kevin is Senior Pastor of Our Savior Lutheran Church. He has served the congregation since May of 2001.

Special services planned at Our Savior Church

During the season of Lent, Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne will be hosting special worship services on Wednesday evenings, Feb. 20 through March 20 at 7:30 p.m.

"We invite all people to join with us in worship and to share in the special Wednesday evening suppers prior to worship," said Pastor Kevin Ruffcorn, Senior Pastor of Our Savior Lutheran Church.

"The worship services focus on the theme 'In the Cross of Christ I Glory.' How does this common phrase impact and shape your life? You probably haven't given much thought to this lately, during the season of Lent, though, you will be encouraged to do so. We will ask this question together as we gather for mid-week worship and hear our brothers and sisters in Christ share their personal journeys of faith. Together we will learn and together we will grow," Pastor Ruffcorn said.

Each week during the Wednesday evening Lenten worship services, a member of Our Savior will be sharing their faith stories with the congregation.

Members who will be sharing their faith stories are Ron Lofgren, "How Many Times?"; Melissa Ehrhardt, "Answering Yes!"; Lowell Johnson, "The Common Person"; Tracy Anderson, "The First Day I Felt God" and Jewell Schock, "Planning Your Future? First Give Your Life to Jesus Christ."

Prior to each Wednesday evening service, a supper will be served at the church social room from 6 to 7:15 p.m. There is no cost, but there will be a free-will offering with the proceeds supporting the summer mission trip and national youth gathering.

The menu includes: Feb. 20 — Taverns; Feb. 27 — Baked potato bar; March 6 — Salad Bar; March 13 — Soup and March 20 — Scalloped Potatoes & Ham.

For more information, call the church office at (402) 375-2899.

BUILDING YOUR SON'S CHARACTER -- The Wayne Boy Scouts --

The Wayne Boy Scouts, as part of the national program, have the duty to teach the importance of values and responsibility to the children of our community - not only right from wrong, but values such as fairness, courage, honor, and respect for others.

Unfortunately, no one is born with good character. The difference between right and wrong, as well as values such as fairness, courage, and respect for others different from ourselves, are things we learn by example. The Boy Scouts of America - since its beginnings - has promoted a universally recognized set of values, morals and constants evidenced in its oaths, pledges, and activities.

A recent poll of Scouts and their parents found that:

- 94 percent of Scouting parents feel their children learn morals and values in the BSA program; and
- 74 percent of Scouting youth feel the BSA program helps them tell the difference between right and wrong.

At a time when parents worry about the pervasive "anything goes" mentality that youth are exposed to in popular cultures, it is refreshing to know that the BSA program is infused with character-building activities.

Youth are able to apply what they learn in Scouting to real-life situations. They come to realize that, contrary to what popular culture may have them believe, there are consequences to making bad decisions.

"Scouting is fun because we go camping often. When camping, we fish, sled (when there's snow) and basically play and mess around. At Summer Camp you can shoot the guns which is cheap and great fun. If you're not in Scouts, you should join. Talk to your friends who are in Scouts already...and join."

SPACE FOR RENT

Trees and shrubs are available

Each year the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District (LENRD) makes available low-cost tree and shrub seedlings to landowners through their conservation tree program.

The state of Nebraska has a long history of encouraging landowners to plant trees. Early programs encouraged landowners to plant trees by offering real estate tax relief through exemptions on forested acres. Other programs such as the Timber Culture Act of 1873 provided additional land for settlers that planted trees.

The Federal Government established the Prairie States Forestry Project in 1934 as a response to the "Dust Bowl." The purpose of this program was to "plant shelterbelts on the Great Plains, to an extent and degree sufficient to have some measurable effect on the physical conditions of the area." The goal of this project was to plant trees to ease drought conditions; protect soil, crops and livestock; and provide useful employment for drought stricken people.

This was the largest single tree planting program in the history of our nation. It was responsible for planting many of the windbreaks that some of us still enjoy today. It also reinforced with many Nebraskans their longstanding commitment to planting trees, which shows in the many new windbreaks that are planted each year.

Our present-day Conservation Tree Program has its roots in the Clarke-McNary Act. The Clarke-McNary Act allowed states to sell tree seedlings and seeds for conservation purposes either at or below the cost of production. This program would then directly reimburse states for up to 50 percent of their losses for operating a Conservation Tree Program.

Although, the Federal Government repealed the Clarke-McNary Act in 1978, Nebraska, like many other states, continues to provide low-cost tree and shrub seedlings for conservation practices through the conservation Tree Program.

The LENRD's conservation Tree Program offers a variety of services to landowners interested in planting windbreaks, woodlots or improving wildlife habitat on their property. These include the sale of conservation tree and shrub seedlings, tree planting service, chemical weed control services, weed barrier mats and water conservation mulch and installation.

The costs of these services are as follows:

Tree and Shrub Seedling:

- Seedlings are sold in bundles of 25 by species ($12.50 for 25 seedlings).

Tree Planting Services by NRD Contractors:

- Mulch planting service — $30/seedling.
- There is a minimum planting charge of $100 per project.
- Chemical Weed Control by NRD Contractor — $2/100 linear feet of tree planting row.

- the NRD offers the chemical weed control service as a part of their tree planting service.

Water Conservation Mulch - $30/linear feet.

- Installation by NRD contractor costs an additional $.20/linear foot.

- Minimum order of 300 feet with mulch sold in either 300 or 500 foot lengths.

Weed Barrier Mats

- Landowners must order weed barrier mats in lots of 25 ($25 for 25 mats).

- the NRD does not offer an installation service for the mats.

Last year the LENRD sold more than 170,000 tree and shrub seedlings to nearly 800 landowners throughout the district for conservation purposes.

According to LENRD Forester Erik Duncan, "The conservation tree program is an important part of the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District's commitment to conservation and land stewardship. Through this and other programs, we work with landowners to promote the wise use of our natural resources."

He continued, "With cost-share program available, you can actually make money by planting trees on your cropland. Don't miss this opportunity. Order deadline is March 1, so it's important it's important to order your trees today."

He added, "This year we will be distributing the trees at Maskenthine Lake again. The LENRD has built a new tree cooler on site which will be the permanent home for our Tree Distribution Center."

For more information on the LENRD's conservation tree program or to receive an order form, contact the LENRD at (402) 371-7313. Anyone needing assistance designing a conservation tree planting project, is asked to contact the county Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) office or call Eric Duncan, LENRD Forester. Assistance with the design and development of a planting plan is free of charge.

VISIT NEWSPAPER OFFICE

The Tiger Cub Scouts visited the Republican Feb. 5 along with their leaders and parents. The young scouts are working on their communication badges.

The boys had some questions about the newspaper for the publishers and were shown some of the machines that are used for preparing each issue of the paper and to do commercial printing.

Scouts visiting the newspaper were Schuyler Mahaney, Justin Stark, Devin Anderson. Timmy Anderson also attended though he was not old enough for scouts, but accompanied his dad, Mike Anderson, who is one of the leaders and big brother to meetings. The other leader is Larry Lueders.

Mindy Anderson, daughter of Jerry and Edith Anderson of Wakefield, is among the students in the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln to be named to the Dean's List for the fall semester.

Anderson achieved a semester grade point average of at least 3.7 for 12 or more grade hours.

In making the announcement, Dean R.J. Hoffman said, "An excellent academic record requires ability, motivation and above all, hard work. These are qualities that will serve a student well in the future."

CONFERENCE ART CONTEST

Six young artists from Wakefield Community School earned conference ribbons for their exhibits in the recent competition hosted by Wakefield this year.

Farm Bureau members

Leaders attend conference

Several members represented northeast Nebraska County Farm Bureau at Nebraska Farm Bureau's 2002 Legislative Conference, held Feb. 6 and 7 in Lincoln. They also hosted State Senator Doug Cunningham at Legislators' Appreciation Luncheon.

Those attending included Donald Liedman, Farm Bureau State Board member for Wayne County; Clarke Kinnison of Pierce County; Courtland Roberts of Dixon County; Gary Kuester of Stanton County; Dorrine Liedman of Wayne County and Kathy Koops of Knox County.

Conference speakers emphasized current state and national issues. Dr. Barry Flinchbaugh, a Kansas State University agricultural economist, said Congress will probably pass a farm bill this year, but it's not strictly necessary. The 2002 crop is adequately covered by the 1996 bill and federal government contingency programs. "Why the urgency, I don't understand," he said.

Currently, three farm bill proposals remain viable: the House-passed bill, the Senate Agriculture Committee proposal and an alternative Senate bill called Roberts-Cochran, for its sponsors.

All address marketing loans, fixed payments and conservation payments and lawmakers will be able to reach compromises on where to set levels in these areas, Flinchbaugh said.

The real battleground will be in determining how to provide counter-cyclical payments which he said will formalize ahead of time the kind of support that has previously been provided through emergency appropriations. Counter-cyclical payments based on price are simple to understand and administer, he said, but income-based payments provide better protection to producers. However, they are very complex and difficult to explain and administer, he cautioned.

Rex Amack, director of the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission, said his agency doesn't believe prairie dogs qualify as an endangered species. The commission warned the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, when it sought the listing, that its action could result in reduction in prairie dog numbers.

"We have had a considerable reduction in prairie dogs. Landowners don't want to deal with them (if listed) and eliminated colonies on their land," he said. Amack said he believes it would be "rough sledding" for Fish and Wildlife to get the prairie dog protected as it wants. Fish and Wildlife has exerted pressure on 11 states with historic prairie dog acres to develop state conservation plans, to avoid the federal listing.

In a session on County Farm Bureau involvement in political campaigns, State Senator Carroll Burling of Kenesaw described his campaign strategy and the support he received from Adams County Farm Bureau.

Burling, a former Nebraska Farm Bureau first vice president, said campaigns are like farming: "After harvest, you know what you did well but you're not sure if you should do it the same way again." Each campaign is unique, he said, and should reflect the personality of the candidate. Voters look for continuity and predictability in a campaign, he said, so a campaign should work its own plan, rather than let its actions be determined by what an opponent does or says.

New Home study course available

Confused by the regulatory process for livestock waste facilities in Nebraska? If you are, you may want to participate in a new home study course developed by University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension Specialists.

The four-lesson course is designed for both livestock producers who might be affected by the regulations, and the general public, both of whom often don't understand the current Nebraska regulatory process.

The course includes lessons on the history of livestock waste facility regulation in Nebraska, who is regulated, the permit process and operating requirements for permitted facilities.

In Lesson 1, participants will learn the difference about Nebraska Department of Environmental Quality (NDEQ) permits, Federal EPA NPDES permits, and proposed changes to the federal permit process.

The description of animal units and the inspection process by NDEQ is the highlight of Lesson 2. Lesson 3 focuses on the NDEQ permit process, including application fees, expected time lines, and required information in an application.

The final lesson focuses on the record keeping requirements for approved permits.

The course will be mailed to participants, and each lesson has a quiz. Upon completion of the four-lesson course and quizzes, enrollees will earn a certificate of completion. To enroll in the course, send $10 to Dixon County

Honor choir to be held at Wayne State

Wayne State College will host its annual High School Honor Choir on Feb. 16. The Honor Choir concert, which is free to the public, will be performed at 4 p.m. in the Frey Conference Suite in the Student Center at WSC.

High school choir directors from around the region nominated the singers in quartets. These quartets represent student who made significant contributions to their high school choirs.

About 35 students from Nebraska have been nominated to perform. Quartets, consisting of soprano, alto, tenor and bass singers, were nominated from the following schools; Valley High School, Sergeant Bluff-Luton High School, Fort Calhoun Schools, Ponca Public Schools, Kearney Catholic High School, Pender High School and Emerson-Hubbard High School.

Dr. Ronald Lofgren, director of choral activities at WSC, chose the music for this year's honor choir because of its patriotic theme.

"As I was choosing music, the terrible events of Sept. 11 took place. In the aftermath I decided to pick music that speaks about America and all it stands for. 'The Testament of Freedom' is such a work," Lofgren said. "This promises to be a very special concert, and I hope the community will come out and support the fine singers who will be here."

Also performing in the concert will be the Wayne State Concert Choir. Its repertoire will be chosen from the "Neue Liebeslieder" by Johannes Brahms (Op. 65), the "Five Mystical Songs" by Ralph Vaughan Williams, "Kansas Boys" from "American Madrigals" by Kirke Mechem, and "Virgin Mother of God, Rejoice" from the "All Night Vigil" by Sergei Rachmaninoff. Featured soloist for the "Five Mystical Songs" will be John Gallup, III, WSC senior
