Nelson, Schwedhelm claim gold

Wayne sophomore Matt Nelson works over his quarterfinal opponent last Thursday night at the Nebraska State Wrestling Tournament in Lincoln. Nelson went 4-0 at 125 pounds and became Wayne's youngest ever state champion.

Matt Nelson points to his uncle who was matside after winning the 125-pound championship last Saturday. Nelson went 36-2 this season and set several Wayne records.

Winside junior Tom Schwedhelm was simply dominant in his 189 pound weight class as he pinned his way through the field in claiming top honors. Schwedhelm chalked up 35 wins this season against just three defeats.

Tom Schwedhelm looks to put the final touches on his Harvard counterpart in the Class D 189 pound championship match. Schwedhelm would pin his opponent in 5:56.

Exchange student finds life friendly

By Clara Osten
 Of the Herald

For Csilla Szentivanyi, adapting to life in a small town in Nebraska has been relatively easy.

The 17-year old is currently an exchange student at Wayne High School through the Rotary Exchange Program.

She is from Chemnitz, Germany, a city of 250,000. Her mother is a doctor and her father has his own business in Rumania. She also has a 14-year old sister.

Csilla arrived in Wayne on Aug. 17, 2001. She spent two months with Dan and Kyle Rose before moving to the Reggie and Marilyn Yates home in late October. In March she will move again, this time to the John and Ann Witkowski home.

She will remain in Wayne until mid-June when members of the exchange program will tour the United States through July 10.

"My home town is a former industrial city which was part of east Germany. It is only 30 miles to the border with the Czech Republic," Csilla said.

She went on to explain that Germany has been divided into 16 states and that Chemnitz is one of the three largest cities in the state of Saxony.

During the last 10 years the region has had lots of unemployment, as most of the factories have relocated to the western part of Germany.

Ironically, Csilla celebrated her 17th birthday here in the Wayne, on Sept. 11.

"My family was very concerned and scared about what happened on Sept. 11. They also told me to tell everyone here how sorry they were with what had happened," Csilla said.

At Wayne High School Csilla is taking Choir, Spanish IV, Entrepreneurship, U.S. History, Algebra II and American Literature. She also took Adult Living during the first semester and is currently serving as a Teaching Aid for Keyboarding.

In Germany, the school system is structured differently than in Nebraska.

"We attend elementary school through fourth grade. Then students decide if they want to attend through 10th grade and graduate or go to high school through 12th grade. These classes are harder and there are more of them," Csilla said.

Students also have different class schedules every day. Through the 10th grade, the government chooses the classes that are required and after that students have a choice in their schedule, which is similar to a college schedule in the United States.

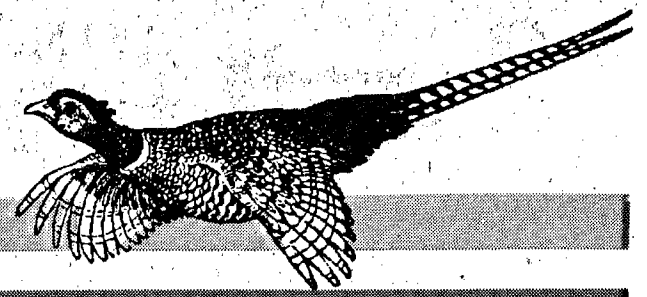

"I will have two more years of classes when I return home. I will have three "hard" classes,

No smoking zone

You don't want your teens to smoke. But how do you tell them? Where do you start? Try bringing up some of these points.

Smoking isn't cool. No one like secondhand smoke. By law, smokers can't even light up indoors in most places anymore.

Smoking smells bad. If you smoke, your clothes, breath and hair will smell like an ashtray.

Smoking looks bad. Some kids think smoking looks glamorous. But smoke dries out your skin, turns your teeth yellow and gives you premature wrinkles.

Letters

These guys are good

Editor's note: This letter was received after the Feb. 9-10 snowstorms.

Dear Editor,

We have been sitting in Carroll with our lights out for a while.

The wind is blowing 40+ miles an hour and it is snowing hard, while we sit at home waiting for the lights to come back on, who do you suppose is making that happen?

My hat is off to the Wayne REA. They have to be out in the worst conditions, climb poles in the worst weather and always get the power back on so we can be warm and safe from the elements. Thank you guys. You did well

Dick Hitchcock, Carroll

Grateful for help

Dear Editor,

Please convey to the Wayne Police, the Volunteer Fire Department and the Peoples' Natural Gas representatives our heartfelt thanks for the prompt, courteous and efficient service we received on Jan. 27.

Our carbon monoxide component beeped. Upon investigation the instrument stated: "If this is sounding, call your fire department." We did.

The beep was a warning that the carbon monoxide unit was expiring.

This letter is written to advise gas users to check their CM expiration dates. Save the fire department a trip.

Our fears vanished because of the dedicated people in the Wayne community who responded so quickly and checked so carefully to insure that safety prevailed for us and our home.

We are indeed grateful — sincere thanks.

Respectfully,

Hallie and Lee Sherry, Wayne

'Speechless' from honor

Dear Editor,

There are just a few times in one's life that you experience a happening that will always be remembered and cherished. And for me, one of those times was Sunday, night, Feb. 10 when I was named the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce Citizen of the Year 2001.

It was one of the few times in my life that I was speechless, or nearly speechless. I suddenly found myself swallowing rather hard and trying not to lose my composure.

And when I finally "recovered" and did manage to get back to my seat next to Janie, I realized that I had not said "thank you" to all those who worked on my behalf to get the award.

I shall never know for sure everyone who helped me get the award. But to everyone who did, "thank you" from the bottom of my heart. And also I have been overwhelmed by all who have congratulated me in the past few days. Janie and I both have enjoyed our 15 years plus in the Wayne community, and hope that we will be able to spend many more years here.

For years I have carried a card with me entitled "Success." It goes like this:

"All of us are born for a reason, but all of us don't discover why. Success in life has nothing to do with what you gain in life or what you accomplish for yourself. It's what you do for others."

A lot of you have done much for Janie and me and we both hope that we can continue to do our part for you.

Mark Ahmann, Wayne

Classes to be held

Dear Editor,

We have set up a Family Services class for Thursday, March 14 and Monday, March 18 to be at the chapter office in the Mineshaft Mall from 6:30 - 9:30.

This class is where you learn to go out after a disaster and give assistance for people involved in the disaster. You learn proper interview steps, how much assistance can be given, and how to fill out the paperwork. Attendance at both sessions is required.

If you would like to become a trained disaster responder for the American Red Cross and are able to attend the training on these dates, please call our office at 375-5209.

There is a video and booklet that you should look at prior to taking this course called "Introduction to Emergency Services." We will loan the video out to you and the book you keep.

All Red Cross training is free, so there will be no expenses to you other than your time! We'd love to have you join our team!

FOR THOSE WHO HAVE ALREADY TAKEN THIS COURSE: There will be two nights that we will offer a REFRESHER course to those of you who feel you would like to "tone up" your skills a little.

This course will be offered on Monday, March 11 and Tuesday, March 12. If you have already taken the Family Services class mentioned above, you can just attend one of these nights to update yourself on the proper procedures and forms. Again - only one night of attendance is needed for this! Please call the office at 375-5209 if you would like to attend one of these trainings!

Thanks to all who have volunteered and to any new people who would like to become trained to volunteer.

Speaking from experience, it is really one of the most rewarding feelings you can have when you have actually gone out and been able to assist a family or even just one individual following something so devastating as losing everything they owned to a fire. You do feel like you are the light in their darkness!! Please call me if any of you are interested!!

Bullies are disgraceful

By Ed Howard

Statehouse Correspondent The Nebraska Press Association

State Senator David Landis of Lincoln sent a good message to school kids when he urged a committee to support anti-bullying legislation.

At least, it was a good message for school kids who read about it in newspapers. The message was that bullies are a real problem, society doesn't approve of them and they ought to be punished.

Adults seem to forget that bullies can make life miserable, almost unbearable, for their victims.

For me, few things are more satisfying than contemplating the rare occasion when a bully pushes some kid too far, and then gets beaten. Badly beaten. Beaten so that the miserable jerk loses a tooth. Or gets a broken nose. Or gets his head slammed in a car door.

A kid who is regularly abused usually has two choices. One is to take it, and try to cope. That means living in fear, being afraid to go some place, or even walk down the hall, or walk home. The other choice is to retaliate so massively that the little SOB doing the tormenting will be incapable of bullying for awhile, or be scared enough to leave his victim alone.

It's unfortunate that the latter doesn't happen often enough. You heard me correctly. I'm for kicking a bully so hard and so often that the creep wakes up wearing his butt for a hat!

But physical retaliation isn't practical for most victims. It's the stuff movies are made of, but seldom happens. What happens is that, sometimes, a kid snaps. Then you have Columbine, or something akin to it in spirit. What happens more often is that kids who are bullied just take it. What truly insults any sense of fairness is that some lawmakers, school officials and parents say truly stupid things about bullying. "Well, gee. Whaddya' gonna' do? It's one of those things we can't really do anything about."

BALONEY! It's one of those damnable things that kids put up with because adults don't do what they ought to do. We can't do anything about it?

How come, when some tormented kid hints out loud that he's thinking that he will "do something to get even," we can do all sorts of things. We haul out SWAT teams, psychiatrists, psychologists, counselors, clergy and hand-wringing do-gooders of all sorts. And then some administrator goes on television to say: "Well, we don't know what Joey's problem is. He apparently was troubled."

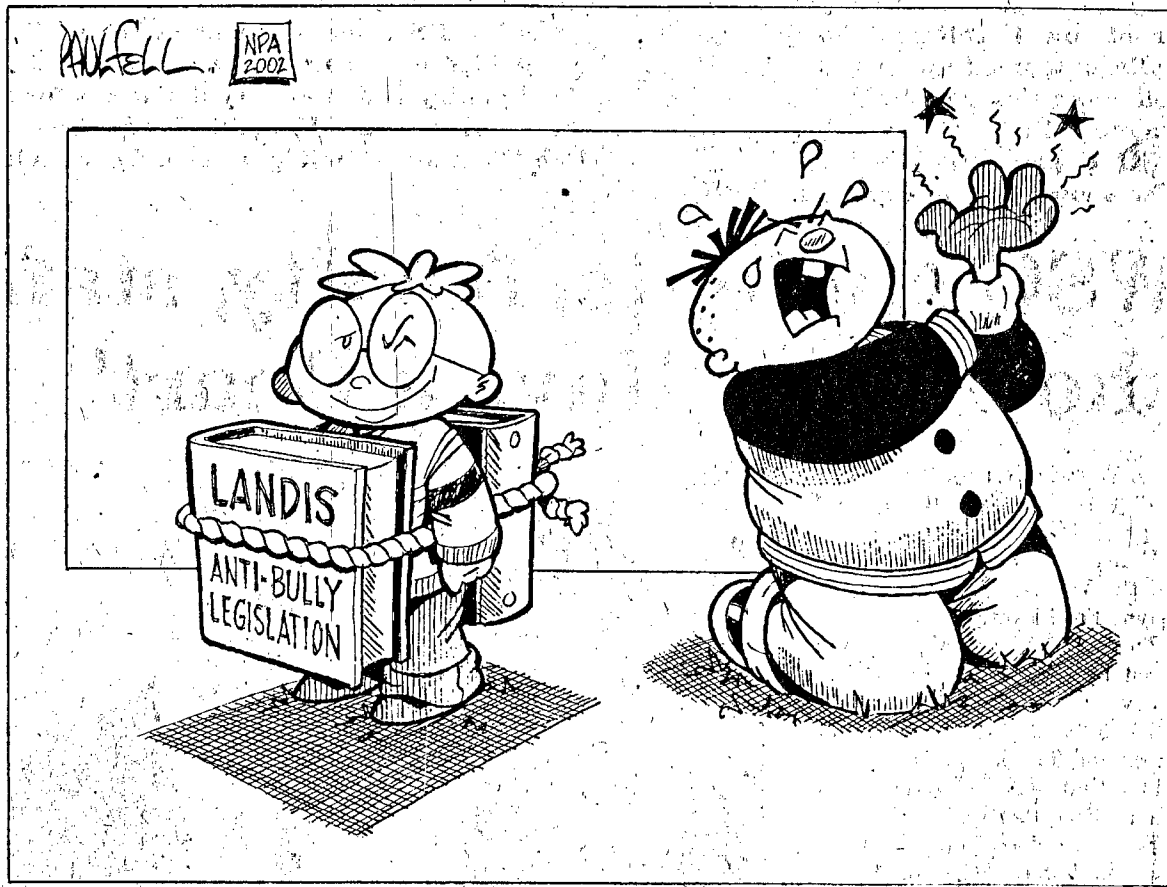

How come we can lower the boom on some kid who's thinking about doing something, but we can't do much about the two-legged excreta that goes around actually bullying people?

When adults are threatened and bullied they can call cops, obtain protection orders, file grievances and file lawsuits.

When children are threatened and bullied, mostly what they can do is wish that adults would act responsibly.

Landis at least sent a message of civility to kids: You're right. Bullies are disgraceful. We should do something about them. Hang in there!

Increased shortfall

Budget situation looking bleaker

The state's budget situation is looking bleaker.

The state's revenue shortfall for the current two-year budget period is growing larger and probably will surpass $100 million. After the Legislature's special session last fall, the shortfall stood at $50.7 million.

A recent Appropriations Committee report cites several reasons for the increased shortfall, including a slower rate of tax revenue growth and increased spending in such areas as state aid to schools, Medicaid and other public assistance programs, and operation of the new Tecumseh prison.

There will be growing pressure in the Legislature to consider revenue increases to deal with the problem.

I would prefer that our emphasis be on spending reductions. We need to get our spending in line on both a short-term and long-term basis.

In other matters, the Legislature last week considered the topics of a lawsuit against the state and railroad safety.

The Legislature on Feb. 13 gave second-round approval to LB 1101, which would appropriate $4 million to help pay for the state's legal costs in a suit involving the proposed Boyd County facility to store low-level radioactive waste. The bill would transfer the money from a permit to build the Boyd County facility.

The lawsuit is an issue that is fraught with danger for the state. If it loses, the state could be liable for $160 million in damages. Therefore, the Legislature has to take all necessary steps to protect the state's interests.

The Legislature last week spent three days on first-round debate of a controversial railroad bill. LB 185 would require long-haul trains traveling in Nebraska to have at least two operators. Further first-round debate on the bill is scheduled.

Sen. Don Pederson of North Platte, sponsor of LB 185, said he introduced the bill because of safety concerns, noting trains commonly carry toxic chemicals and flammable liquids. I believe LB 185 is a good safety measure.

If there is anything I can do for you, please do not hesitate to contact me at my Lincoln office: Sen. Pat Engel, District 17, State Capitol, P.O. Box 94604, Lincoln, NE 68509-4604; (402) 471-2716; or lengel@unicam.state.ne.us.

WSC students, faculty, staff show they 'Have a Heart'

On Valentine's Day, Wayne State College students, faculty and staff responded in a big way to the 'Have a Heart' campaign which benefited the Wayne Red Cross and the Wayne Food Pantry.

The one-day campaign, co-sponsored by Chartwells and Roberts Dairy Co., resulted in a total of $223.85 donated to the Wayne Red Cross and 354 non-perishable food items that will be given to the Wayne Food Pantry.

For every donation of $1.00 or a non-perishable food item, Roberts Dairy donated a free ice cream treat. Donation sites were set up near the main cafeteria as well as in the lower food court in the WSC Student Center.

"This is the first time we've tried this promotion," said John Sinniger, manager of the Wayne State Chartwells food service. "We have been overwhelmed with the response from students, staff and faculty. I want to thank Roberts Dairy for providing the ice cream treats to those donating to the 'Have a Heart' campaign. We're hoping to make this an annual event."

English, German and Math which I will go to for five hours each week. I will also have classes in geography, biology, Spanish, history, music, ethics, Hebrew, Communications and government. Our system is somewhat complicated, but I will have to complete 65 hours within two years," Csilla said.

She said classes here are relatively easy with the exception of American Literature which requires a great deal of reading.

She noted that students in Germany generally do not have jobs during their school years as they are expected to devote their time to school work.

Csilla is fluent in several languages, including English, Spanish, Hungarian, Latin and Hebrew. She has plans to learn even more languages in the future.

In her spare time Csilla likes to swim and get together with her friends. She said dance clubs are very popular as students gather there to listen to music. She also spends time on the internet. In addition, there is a great deal of American influence in Germany, including food, music, fashion and other products.

Since arriving in Wayne, Csilla has had the opportunity to go skiing with the Yates family in Colorado, has gone to Lincoln, Omaha and Grand Island and attended football, basketball, wrestling and volleyball games both at Wayne High School and at Wayne State College.

In addition, she likes to spend time with her new friends watching movies, going to the Rec Center and shopping.

"I like America. The people here are friendly and understanding. I like the whole way of life here. There are so many opportunities and it seems easier to be successful," she said.

When compared to her home town, she did note that there is not as much to do here and that the winters are colder and the summer was hotter than in Germany.

The Yates' say that having a "daughter" in their home has been a good experience and that Csilla has acclimated well.

"Overall, it has been a good experience," Reggie said.

Csilla agreed, stating that she loves to travel, meet new people, learn about new cultures and learn from them. She said her experience has encouraged her sister to want to become an exchange student.

Job Fair to be held in Norfolk

Northeast Community College in Norfolk will host a Spring Job Fair on Wednesday, March 13, from 10:30 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. in the Cox Activities Center gymnasium.

Over 60 employers are expected on campus to recruit students to work in their organization. Rose Ann Rogers, Student Employment Coordinator at northeast, encourages students to bring resumes, lots of energy, a 30-second sales pitch, a smile and a strong handshake to these job fairs. "Those first impressions are so very important to both the employer and prospective employee," she said. "And as students prepare to graduate and enter the very competitive job market soon, we want to do everything we can to help them find the right job."

Northeast students are invited to stop by the Student Employment Services office in the Maclay Building, Room 105, and get a copy of the public, "Tips for a Successful Job Fair" before the event, Rogers said.

For more information or to attend as a business representative, call Rogers at (402) 844-7263.

Accident occurs at intersection

The Stanton County Sheriff's Department is continuing to investigate a two-vehicle traffic accident that critically injured a 22-year-old Wayne woman late Friday.

The accident, which occurred at the intersection of Highways 275 and 15 (Wayne junction) took place when a vehicle, driven by Tim Rexius, 21, of Wayne, was attempting to turn onto Highway 15 from Highway 275 and was struck broadside by a westbound car, driven by Sarah Mahlendorf, 19, of Bristow.

Impact from the collision pushed the Rexius vehicle into a southbound Dodge school bus, which had just stopped at the highway intersection.

Jessica Karli, a passenger in the Rexius vehicle, suffered serious head and internal injuries in the accident. She was transported from the scene by Life Net medical helicopter to Mercy Hospital in Sioux City.

Rexius was transported by Pilger

Rescue to Providence Medical Center in Wayne for possible neck injuries, while Mahlendorf declined medical treatment at the scene.

Seatbelts were in use in both vehicles. The two vehicles were considered total losses.

No one on the school bus was injured, while the vehicle suffered minor damage.

The accident was reported to the sheriff's office at approximately 11:10 p.m.

Backflow prevention program is explained

The purpose of the backflow program is to protect the public water supply system of the City of Wayne from the possibility of contamination by isolating real or potential sources of contamination or pollution that may backflow or back-siphonage into the public water supply system.

Any arrangement whereby contamination due to backflow or back-siphonage can occur is called a cross-connection. Cross connections between potable water and potential pollutants are encountered everyday by nearly everyone. The potential cross-connection between potable water and wastewater can occur in the sink and bathtub. Sinks and bathtubs are protected by an air gap. An air gap is the distance between the faucet and the flood rim of the sink or tub. This has to be at least two supply pipe diameters, measured vertically above the top of the receptacle and in no case less than one inch.

Some mop sinks and laboratory sinks are equipped with faucets that allow hoses to be attached that extend below the rim of the sink. This results in a cross connection between the drinking water and wastewater. If there were a plugged sewer and waste backed up into the sink and the repairman broke a water main while fixing the plugged sewer, all the waste could be backsiphoned through the hose into the water supply as well as the public water lines.

When the water is turned back on, the resident will be drinking water that has been contaminated by wastewater.

"How many of your water softer's drain lines are stuck in the drain or hard plumbed into the sewer line?" asked Wayne Water/Wastewater Superintendent Harold Reynolds. "If they are, they are cross-connections with the potential of polluting your drinking water."

Yard hydrants and hose bibs are used with a hose to fill buckets, fertilizer tanks, wash cars and other things done with a garden hose. Everyone has the potential for a cross-connection. Installing hose bib vacuum breakers can control 90 percent of all cross connections.

Nearly all businesses that use water have the potential to have a cross-connection. Some are a greater health risk than others.

Examples of consumers which pose a health or pollution hazard to the public water supply in Wayne include hospitals, mortuaries, convalescent homes, film laboratories, chemical and petroleum storage facilities, sewage treatment plants, power plants, car washes, laundries, boilers or cooling systems, veterinary and pet grooming, beauty salons, barber shops, fire suppression systems, schools and colleges. This is only a partial list and others could be listed.

The City of Wayne recognizes these potential backflow areas and has done and is doing, several things to ensure the safety of our public water supply. The city has adopted an ordinance fashioned after the state regulations on backflow control. This ordinance recognizes the potential for backflow and states "An approved backflow prevention device shall be installed between the service connection and the point of potential backflow into a consumer's water supply system when in the judgement of the water commissioner a health, plumbing, pollution or system hazard exists."

Every five years surveys are sent out to every consumer in the City of Wayne. Surveys are used to identify a business or homeowner who may have a potential cross-connection. These surveys need to be filled out by each customer or owner and sent back to the city. "We have to have a 100 percent return on these surveys. We sent out 2200 surveys in 1998 and did a repeat in 1999. We are still 235 surveys short of reaching the 100 percent return," Reynolds said. "We are going to be sending out those 235 again so please send them back - city ordinance requires it."

Hose bib vacuum breakers are required on all hose bibs, as stated earlier, this can eliminate 90 percent of all cross-connections. The City of Wayne is going to offer these at our cost of $6 and can be picked up at City Hall where you pay your utility bill. If you decide to purchase your own from a hardware store, make sure it are frost-proof, self-draining units. All new installations of hose bibs in Wayne should already have vacuum breakers. Anyone with questions about a hose bib or unable to install it, should call the water department at 375-5250 for assistance.

Most of the businesses and schools in Wayne have been inspected and have appropriate devices installed in their service line or on appliances. Those who have testable devices need to have these tested years and a copy of the test sent to the water department to be kept on file. This is required by city code and state regulation. All testers have to Grade VI certified by the State of Nebraska.

Woods, Volkman and Johnson Plumbing all have Grade VI certified employees that can test backflow preventers.

Any business or school that has not completed a survey or does not have test results from their devices on file will be re-inspected and any violations of the backflow ordinance will have to be brought into compliance.

Fire suppression systems that have testable backflow prevention devices also need to be tested every year. Testing of these devices has to be inspected by a certified fire suppression specialist. Bullseye Fire Protection of Norfolk is one firm which does this kind of testing.

"Backflow prevention is a necessary tool to keep our water system safe. It takes a lot of effort, time and money to make it work. Cooperation between the City and you, the consumers, is a vital part of a good program. When you get surveys in the mail, fill them out as soon as possible and send them back to us," Reynolds said.

Hose bib vacuum breakers can eliminate 90 percent of potential back flows.

Reynolds encourages all residents to purchase and install one if they have not already done so. Commercial consumers need to have all devices tested once a year and a copy of the results sent to the water department.

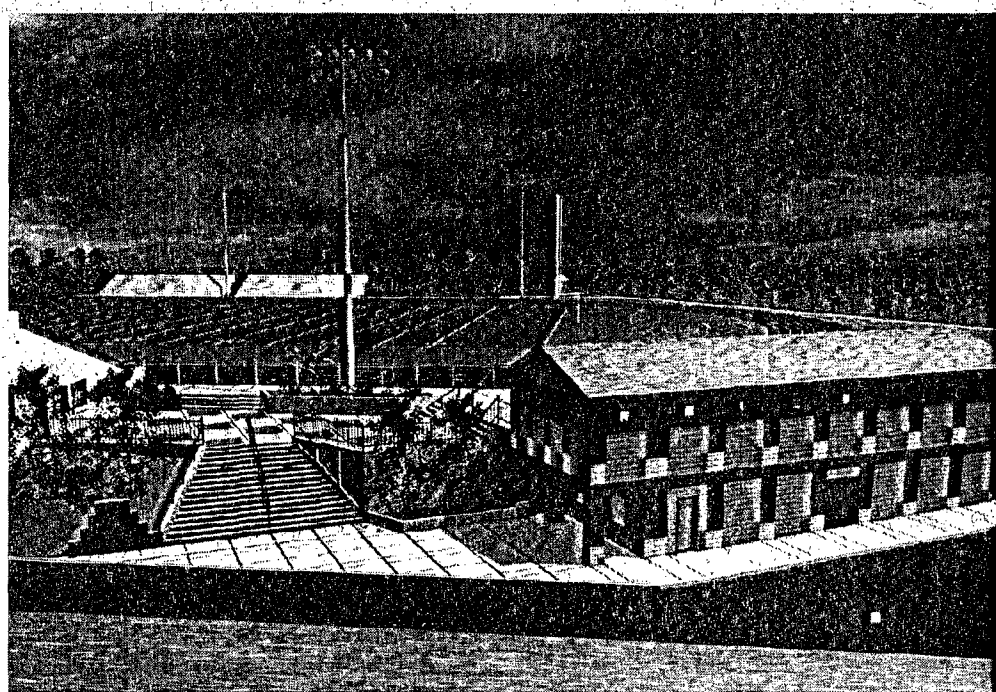

"If we work together, we can eliminate backflow situations from occurring in Wayne. The goal is to deliver safe water to everyone in Wayne every time they turn on a faucet. Another benefit of having a good program is that we may not have to chlorinate when the new groundwater rule goes into effect if we are up to par," Reynolds said.

Thanks for your support!

As the business drive phase of the Wayne State College Track/Entry Plaza project draws to a close, we want to say thank you to all of the businesses and individuals who have pledged or given their support to this important regional project. With your help, we are much closer to reaching our goal of raising $1.3 million for construction of a new track in Memorial Stadium, as well as constructing ADA-accessible rest rooms and entry area into the stadium. The Gardner Foundation has provided the lead gift of $1 million to the "All About Students" campaign. Leslie and Tim Bebee of the Gardner Foundation are campaign co-chairs. We have currently received over $710,000 in gifts and pledges to the track/entry plaza portion of the "All About Students" campaign.

WAYNE STATE COLLEGE
Restrooms, Plaza, and Track Improvements

The project at a glance:

Track:

The new track will have eight lanes of polyurethane surface, appropriate drainage and infrastructure. The project will also include a high jump pit, long jump/triple jump pit, pole vault pit, steeple chase, and handicap-accessible seating in the stadium.

Entry Plaza:

The entry plaza will feature rest rooms that are accessible and adequate in number, benched seating area, three ticketing stations, storage area, donor recognition wall, and complete cement for stairs, ramps and entrance.

WAYNE STATE COLLEGE

Your help is still needed!

Not only is the construction of the track and entry plaza crucial to Wayne State College, it is also vital to the Wayne Public Schools, the Wayne community and the entire northeast Nebraska region. In the past, Wayne State College has hosted several track meets each year for junior and senior high schools in the region, as well as regional collegiate meets. Because of the deteriorated track conditions, neither track meets nor practices can be held on the current track.

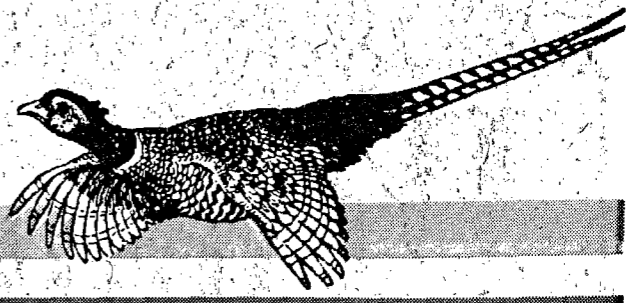

Hosting track meets will bring about 3,000 track student-athletes and 10,000 fans to campus and the community each year. In addition, many non-college events are hosted at Memorial Stadium each year. These include the Junior Olympics; Punt, Pass and Kick Contest for elementary students; American Cancer Society's Relay for Life; and many other activities. The addition of the entry plaza, ADA-compliant rest rooms and entry into the stadium will allow all to attend events.

Thanks to Anchor Committee members Ralph Barclay, Todd Barry, Leslie and Tim Bebee, Doug Hutchinson, Bob Jordan, Dennis Linster, Randy Pedersen, Cap Peterson, Don Koeber, Bill Reeg, Bob Reeg, Joe Reinert, Rocky Ruhl, LeRoy Simpson, Regg Swanson and Reggie Yates for their dedication in making the business drive a success.

Sophomore is youngest ever champ at Wayne Matt Nelson finds gold at State

By Kevin Peterson
Of the Herald

Wayne sophomore Matt Nelson made a little history for himself at last weekend's Nebraska State Wrestling Tournament in Lincoln.

The son of Ray and Marta Nelson became the youngest state champion in Wayne wrestling history and that was only the beginning of a "vision quest" weekend.

Nelson defeated Seward's Brandon Mueller, a senior by a 13-7 margin in a match that really wasn't that close as Nelson led throughout.

In fact, after 30 seconds of the finals match Nelson had a 5-0 lead and his continued aggression and solid footwork kept the Seward grappler at bay the entire six minutes.

Nelson's four wins at State put him with a season ending mark of 36-2—another school record, breaking the win total of 35 set by Jason Ehrhardt in 1991 and Josh Murtaugh in 1999.

A third school record was broken in the takedown total as Nelson racked up 130 on the season, breaking the mark of 76 set by Ehrhardt in 1991.

"Matt is a very talented wrestler," Murtaugh said. "He can go from one move to another in a split second and not many wrestlers have that ability. When Matt gets his motor running he is very difficult to stop."

A fourth record set by Nelson was becoming the first state champion wrestler that wasn't the son of a coach.

Kevin Koenig, Jason Ehrhardt and Josh Murtaugh—previous champs were all coached or assisted in coaching by fathers Don Koenig, Lonnie Ehrhardt and John Murtaugh.

Nelson became Wayne's fifth state champ as Ehrhardt garnered two titles along with one each from Koenig and Murtaugh.

Nelson became state tournament action with a pin of Carlos Aldana of Nebraska City in 3:25. He then defeated Derek Harris of Alliance, 13-7 in the quarterfinals before an 8-4 win in the semifinals over Platteview's Brandon Cox.

Wayne senior Casey Campbell also competed at the State Tournament and finished 1-2 and an overall season mark of 19-18.

Campbell was pinned by Pat True of Gering in the first round but he came back to down Alex Woita of Waverly, 6-4 in the first round of consolations. He lost a 4-0 decision to Levi Woffard of Aurora in the second round of consolation.

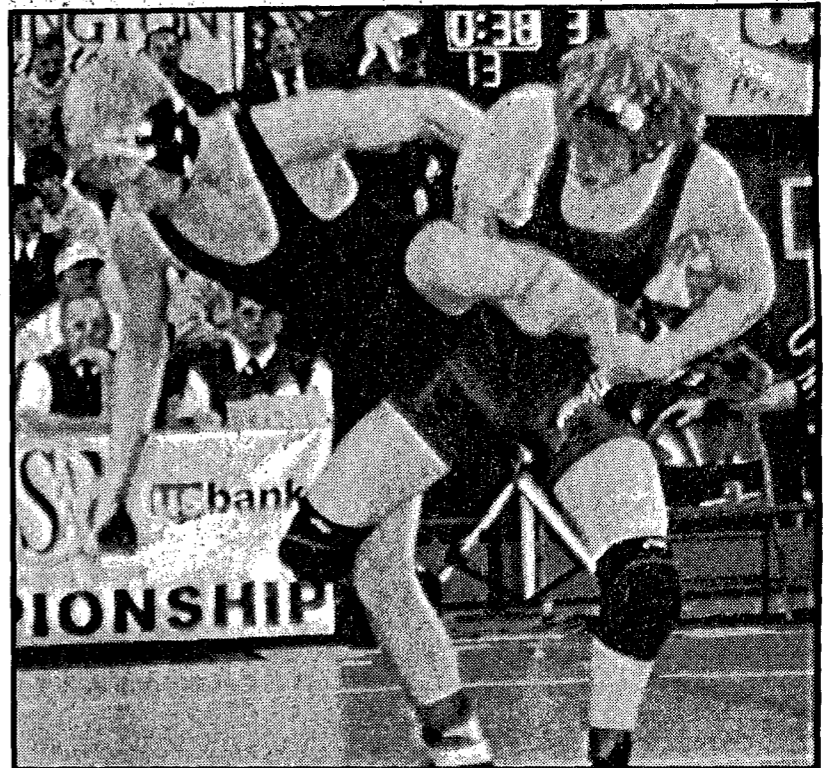

"I am very happy with how Casey and Matt wrestled at State," Murtaugh said. "They both represented our program with great pride."

Wayne finished with 25 team points which placed them 26th out of 42 teams.

Omaha Skutt Catholic won their fifth straight title with 125 points while Aurora was second at 101.5 and Omaha Gross, third at 99. Platteview, Seward, Gretna, Cozad, Gering, Alliance and Lexington rounded out the top 10 in order.

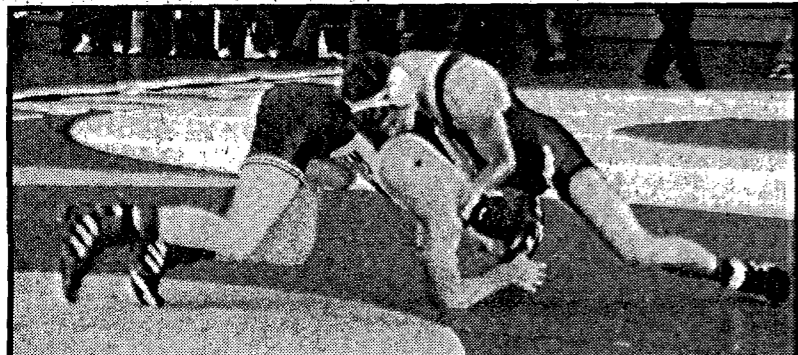

Nelson incidentally, defeated all five other medal winners at 125 pounds in Class B at some point during the season.

Matt Nelson looks to trip his Seward counterpart in the Class B championship at 125 pounds. Nelson posted a 13-7 victory.

Matt Nelson appears to be letting his Seward opponent up for an escape point but he thwarts the effort.

Wayne senior Casey Campbell looks for a takedown during state competition last Friday.

Five of six Wildcats bring home medals from State Schwedhelm dominates at 189

By Kevin Peterson
Of the Herald

The Winside wrestling team had a sensational opening two rounds of the Nebraska State Wrestling Tournament, propelling Paul Sok's Wildcats to a fourth place finish.

Leading the way was junior Tom Schwedhelm who pinned his way to a state championship at 189 pounds, becoming Winside's 27th champ in school history.

Schwedhelm became just the second wrestler in Wildcat history to pin his way through the state tournament with the other being Scott Jacobsen.

Winside got all six grapplers through the first round and the Wildcats put four in the semifinals, advancing two to the finals on Saturday.

Schwedhelm received a forfeit from Cole Malone of Lawrence-Nelson in the first round and needed less than two minutes to pin Bo Fisher of Amherst in the quarterfinals before he pinned Shane Jisa of East Butler in 2:53 of the semifinal match.

The 35-3 junior recorded a pinfall with four seconds left in the championship match against Jarod Owens of Harvard.

Schwedhelm was as dominant as anyone at the State Tournament which was evident through pinning all competitors he faced.

Winside had five medal winners at State including Brandon Suehl as the junior placed runner-up at 125 pounds.

Suehl opened state competition with a pin of Ryan Faeh of Nebraska Christian in 1:46.

In the quarterfinals he defeated Chase Gealy of Shelton, 12-5 and in the semifinals he edged Dusty Loeffelholz of Amherst, 3-2.

In the championship match he was decisively by Craig Brester of Howells, 4-1.

Suehl finished his junior season with a 32-7 record.

Jared Jaeger, a senior at 119 pounds placed third. Jaeger needed just 30 seconds to pin David Hraskey of Sumner-Eddyville-Miller in the first round before posting a 6-3 win over Andy Valenti of East Butler in the quarterfinals.

Jaeger was edged by Nate Hays of Elm Creek in the semifinals, 10-8 but he fought back to place third with consecutive wins over Keith Meints of Shelton, 9-4 and Bobby Moore of Rushville, 6-4.

Jaeger closed out his senior campaign with a 31-5 record.

Freshman Bo Brummels surpassed the 30-win mark with a sixth place finish at State at 112 pounds.

Brummels pinned David Hiatt of Harvard in 4:56 of the opening round before falling by pin to Travis Kezar of Garden County in the quarterfinals.

Brummels bounced back and won by pin over Jesse Elder of Louisville in 19 seconds in the second round of consolation.

In the third round of consolation Brummels defeated Tyson Larson of Weeping Water by pin.

He fell to Austin Garbers of Palmer, 17-12 in the consolation semifinals and he lost an 8-3 decision to Sam Wagoner of Franklin in the match for fifth place.

Brummels finished his freshman year with a 31-12 record.

Sophomore Josh Sok won his first round at State by technical fall at 152 pounds over Shaun Pfeil of Alma. He then decisively Steve Dent of Mullen, 4-2 in overtime in the quarterfinals before falling to Evan Friedrich of Osmond in the semifinals, 5-4.

Sok was then defeated 4-2 in overtime to Roy Bierman of Arnold in the consolation semifinals and he lost a 4-3 decision to Shane Powell of Kenesaw in the fifth place match.

Sok ended his sophomore campaign with a 28-14 record.

Mike Tomasek won his opening round at State by pin in 5:09 over James Treacle of Sandhills at 275 pounds.

The junior was then pinned in the quarterfinals by Josh Daake of Elm Creek before being pinned by Josh Dalby of Anselmo-Merna in the second round of consolation.

Tomasek closed out his junior year with a 27-9 record, notching one of the largest turnarounds in a year in Winside history.

Winside scored 91.5 points to finish behind team champs Rushville with 135.5 and Amherst at 128.5. Louisville placed third with 106 points.

East Butler was fifth at 79 followed by Medicine Valley, Weeping Water, Elm Creek, Newman Grove and Howells.

Fifty-four of the 62 teams competing scored points.

Winside's Brandon Suehl looks for the pin during action at the State Tournament. Suehl went on to place runner-up at 125 pounds.

Working on building

Chad Sebade, owner of the building at 111 N. Main Street in Wayne, is in the process of fixing it up. The building was condemned recently by city officials because of structural problems and safety reasons. Sebade and his crew are working on bringing the building up to fire codes and other specifications. They plan to be done some time around May.

Students satisfied with college opportunities

The survey results are in and they indicate that students at Northeast Community College in Norfolk view the educational opportunities offered at Northeast very favorably.

Last fall semester, students were asked to complete a Student Satisfaction Inventory (SSI) Survey. At the same time, faculty and staff completed the Institutional Profile Survey (IPS), which has parallel questions to the student survey.

Both surveys were developed by the Noel-Levitz Company, a consulting firm known nationwide for its work in assisting colleges with student issues. The surveys are used to assist colleges in their student retention efforts and to identify areas for new initiatives that would be well-received campus-wide.

Northeast's surveys asked respondents to rank a wide range of college-related services and programs first by how important the items were, and then by how well the college was doing at meeting student and employee expectations.

According to Dr. Dennis Brandt, Director of Assessment and Institutional Research at Northeast, the SSI indicated a high level of student satisfaction on areas that were deemed to be most important.

The employee IPS survey confirmed the opinions of the students.

The most important factor to NECC students was cost of tuition, and students were very satisfied with the affordability of the college.

Other important factors on which Northeast received high ratings from students included the quality of instruction they received from instructors, the fact that faculty were knowledgeable in their fields, and that the academic advisors were seen as both approachable and knowledgeable about program requirements.

Other areas with high student satisfaction were the registration process, academic advising, admissions and academic services.

In a further review of the data, Dr. Brandt said the students have a strong sense of satisfaction regarding the campus climate at Northeast. "They have a strong sense of belonging here, they feel safe and secure, and they are made to feel welcome on this campus," he said. "These things are very important to us, the faculty and staff, because we look at each one as a customer whom we are trying to please."

Although students responded they were very satisfied with campus safety and security, they did express some concern about parking availability on campus. This is not surprising, Dr. Brandt said, because parking gets a low satisfaction at every campus. "There are over 1,600 available parking stalls at NECC, but they are not always located close to the entrance of every building," he concluded.

The survey also showed satisfaction with technology. "Northeast prides itself on having the latest technology in the classroom available to its students," said Dr. Brandt. "Our students feel that our computer labs are adequate and accessible."

He noted that many of the faculty and staff answered specific questions more critically than the students. "That tells me," he said, "that our faculty and staff feel they must constantly work towards improvement. They are not at all complacent in trying to provide the best education for their students."

Computer intro classes scheduled at Northeast

Northeast Community College in Norfolk has scheduled a four-session class for those with no computer experience.

New technology being used at dentist office

Using a camera, a computer and a milling machine, Dr. Stephen Becker, a Wayne dentist, is preparing and placing natural-looking ceramic fillings for patients in a single office visit.

The new dental components belong to a CAD/CAM (Computer Aided Design/Computer Aided Manufacturing) instrument called CEREC. The instrument allows dentists to repair a damaged tooth in about one hour using tooth-colored restorations or "fillings." Dentists no longer need to take impressions or create temporaries.

And, unlike the old procedures where patients made a second visit to insert the restoration, this procedure is done in one visit.

The CEREC system enables Dr. Becker to satisfy patients seeking a long-lasting, esthetic alternative to silver or plastic fillings, Veneers and partial to full crowns, and all other single-tooth restorations can be created by CEREC.

To make the restoration, Dr. Becker first paints a reflective powder over the prepared tooth. Using a special camera, he takes an accurate picture of the tooth. This optical impression is transferred and displayed on a color computer screen, where the dentist uses CAD technology to design the restoration. Then CAM takes over and automatically creates the restoration while the patient waits. Finally, the dentist bonds the new restoration to the surface of the old tooth.

CEREC has over a decade of clinical research and documentation to support the technology. The restorations have been proven precise, safe and effective. Over four million restorations have been performed worldwide.

Dr. Becker has been practicing dentistry for 24 years and is located at 401 North Main in Wayne.

Spay Day U.S.A. to be observed

Wayne Humane Society encourages everyone to spay or neuter their pets.

One female dog and her offspring can produce 67,000 puppies in 6 years. A female cat and her offspring can produce 420,000 kittens in 7 years. These are astounding numbers. There are not near enough homes or people to take care of these animals.

It doesn't make sense to let our pets reproduce just to have to perform euthanasia to these animals. There are health reasons to spay and neuter these pets. Your pet is generally healthier and there is less chance of developing cancer if your pet is fixed.

Please support the cause by taking your pet to be neutered. It is a one time cost that will save thousands of unwanted animals from being born and having to eventually perform euthanasia on them.

The family of Violet Arp wish to thank everyone for the cards, food, flowers and expressions of sympathy received during her illness and following her death. It is all very much appreciated.

The Rose Beyond the Wall

*A rose once grew where all could see, sheltered beside a garden wall.
And as the days passed swiftly by,
it spread its branches straight and tall.*

*One day a beam of light shone through a crevice that had opened wide -
The rose bent gently toward its warmth then passed beyond to the other side.*

*Now, you who deeply feel its loss, be comforted - the rose blooms there.
Its beauty even greater now, nurtured by God's own loving care.*

You Don't Need An Invitation To Shop Locally ... But, In Case You Were Waiting

Your Invitation to Shop at Home

You know that it doesn't require a written invitation to shop at your local merchant's place of business. However, many people seem to be waiting for one. The truth is that the prices and selection speak for themselves. Chances are your local merchants have lived in your community for many years, so they know your wants and needs. They have in stock the items for which you are looking. If they don't have an item, they can probably get it ... or at least refer you to the local business that does.
