Election to decide future of school

As with other schools in Nebraska, cuts in state aid are forcing school board members and administration to look at reduction in staff and programs. The Winside School Board has also been looking into what they can do to alleviate their problems.

Two years ago the Winside School District lost $318,000 in state aid as a result of declining student population and increased costs. Cash reserve was lowered by $100,000 to help meet the budget. Last year the tax asking dropped from $1.10 per $100 of valuation to $1.00. In order for that to happen, though, $149,000 was again taken from the cash reserve. However, the legislature has cut $22 million from state aid which will mean an approximate three percent cut.

Trying to keep costs down and not hurt education, the board recently voted to let 2.25 teachers and 1.5 aides go. There are about 29 teachers and 2.5 aides on staff.

Registered voters in the Winside School District will be voting on Tuesday, May 14, 2002 to determine if the school can exceed the $1 levy limit. Voters are being asked to allow the district to levy property taxes, if needed, up to a levy of 30 cents above the state mandate of $1 for the 2002-03, 2003-04, and 2004-05 school fiscal years.

According to recent town hall meetings, there will be deeper cuts in educational programs and services if the district cannot get extra funds. Also, there has been discussion on the possibility of schools merging together if state aid continues to be cut.

Across the board cuts can't happen because state law requires school districts to pay teachers a comparable wage package as offered by other schools comparable in size. Employee benefits and wages take more than 75 percent of the budget.

The average tax levy for Winside School District residents for the past 10 years is $1.078. A 10-year history of the levy follows:

1992-93	$1.07
1993-94	$1.11
1994-95	$1.10
1995-96	$1.06
1996-97	$1.03
1997-98	$1.09

Community art to be celebrated

In August of 2001, a $10,000 grant was awarded to Wayne State College by the National Endowment for the Arts, Challenge America: Community Arts Development program.

The grant was applied for in partnership with the Wayne Public Schools and the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce to create a clay mural and sculptures. The project, "Embracing Our Past, Present and Future by Connecting to Each Other," has started a community-wide movement of collaboration, art appreciation and the preservation of the community's cultural heritage.

On Friday, May 3, the partners will be debuting the art projects during a community wide celebration. The activities will be held on Third Street, between Pearl and Main Streets, and will include live entertainment, food and a street dance.

There will also be a presentation on the development of these projects in the Chamber building and a self-guided walking tour to the book sculpture locations.

These sculptures are grouped in five different locations including the State National Bank Park, Main Street Park, City Hall, the Library/Senior Center and the Wayne County Courthouse.

"These locations were chosen because of their significance in the community and their proximity to each other. We hope tourists and visitors will take the

Capturing their attention

Dr. Sheila Stearns, Wayne State College president, reads to youngsters at Kiddie College on the WSC campus. Her visit was part of the "Week of the Young Child," April 7-13. In addition to her visit on April 11, the youngsters also dressed for a beach party day including playing the Limbo and the Conga Line. The purpose of "Week of the Young Child" is to focus public attention on the needs of young children and their families and to recognize early childhood programs and services like those at WSC with Mary Sebade, instructor within the Technology & Applied Science Department.

Interest helps to complete project

By Lynn Sievers
 Of the Herald

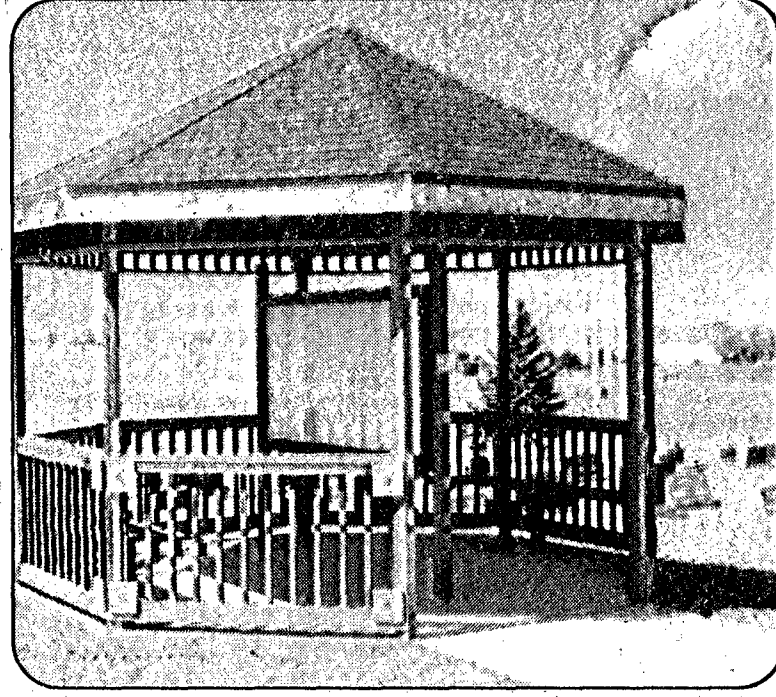

Acting on the advice of her doctor after being diagnosed with cancer, Shirley Keifer of Laurel looked for something to occupy her spare time.

She used her love of research and Laurel history to work on several projects.

First she decided to find all of the teachers and employees and what they did while employed at the Laurel School from the time the school opened. She completed that project and it's recorded in a book about the School, "Celebrate the Century, 1900-2000," written by Roger Tryon of South Sioux City. The book is at the library in Laurel. Tryon is a Laurel native and a historian of the town. He also writes a weekly column for the Laurel Advocate.

She then started updating addresses of Laurel-Concord alumni.

Now she has been gathering information for a project which tells about each person buried in the cemetery at Laurel. The cemetery was started in 1893 and there's

A gazebo was built recently in the Laurel Cemetery where a directory of names and locations of loved ones who are buried there can be found.

2,000 or more buried there.

Her present endeavor started around 1986 through mortician, John Solso, who along with his father and grandfather, had worked in Laurel from 1906-65. Solso moved away from Laurel and wanted to keep the records his family had acquired but he was willing to share, so Keifer took on the project of recording his information.

Working at the school library in Laurel, Keifer was also able to spend time looking through past issues of The Laurel Advocate that's on microfilm. The issues, as well as receiving information and obituaries from people have helped her work towards her goal. When her project is finished, she wants a copy to be kept in Laurel at the mortuary and one at the library. She also wants to put the information on a website on the Internet.

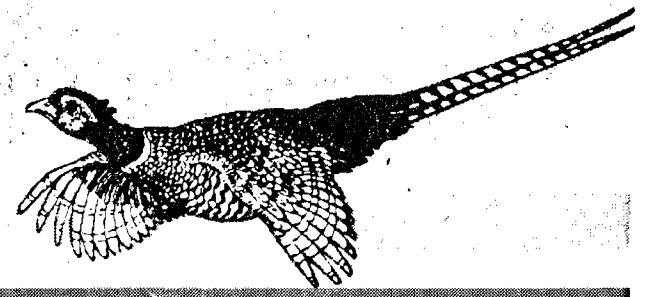

"I want people to know about the life of each person buried in the cemetery in Laurel," Keifer said. "I'm not doing this to make money on the project but to save all

He was preceded in death by his mother and one brother, Harlan.

Latino celebration to promote culture

The community of Wayne will be celebrating Cinco de Mayo early during a Latino celebration scheduled for Friday, April 26.

The celebration will promote all individuals of Latino nations in song, dance and food.

The Latino celebration will be held in Bressler Park located at Ninth and Lincoln Streets in Wayne. The event is free and open to the public. The events will run from 5 to 9 p.m. Concessions will be available.

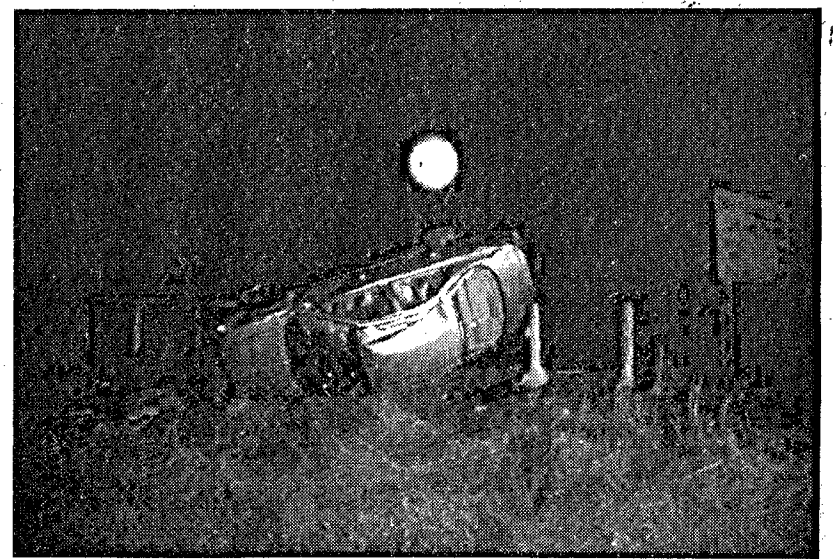

Several Latino women from South Sioux City and Norfolk will perform Ballet Folklorico. Ballet Folklorico is the Latino dance performed to salsa music, where women wear colorful, pluming dresses to accent dance.

Between dances, members of Latinos Uniting, the Wayne State

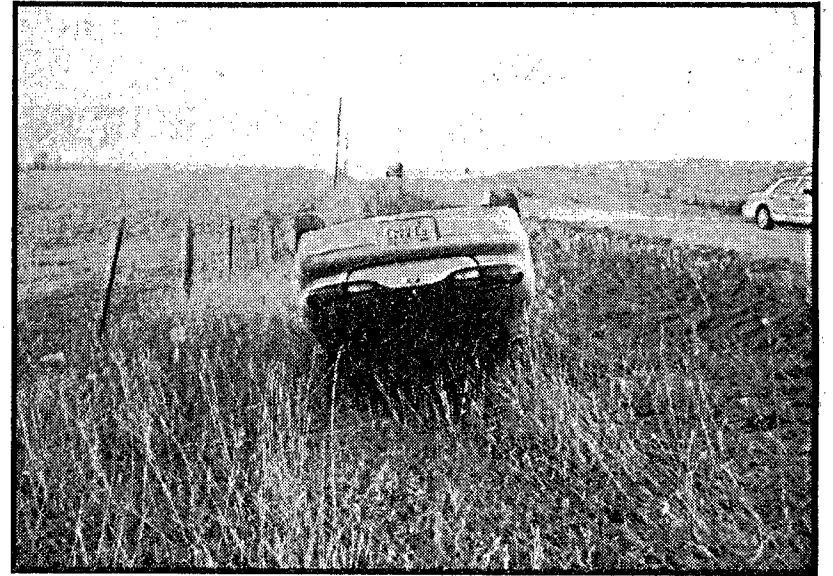

College organization sponsoring the event, will speak about the Latino culture and customs of their native countries. Latin countries include Mexico and Central America and countries in the Caribbean and South America.

"The thing I want people to get from this is an expansion of their minds and culture," WSC student Mary Topete, president of Latinos Uniting, said. "That is why we want to get the community involved, because it is important to us to tell about our culture."

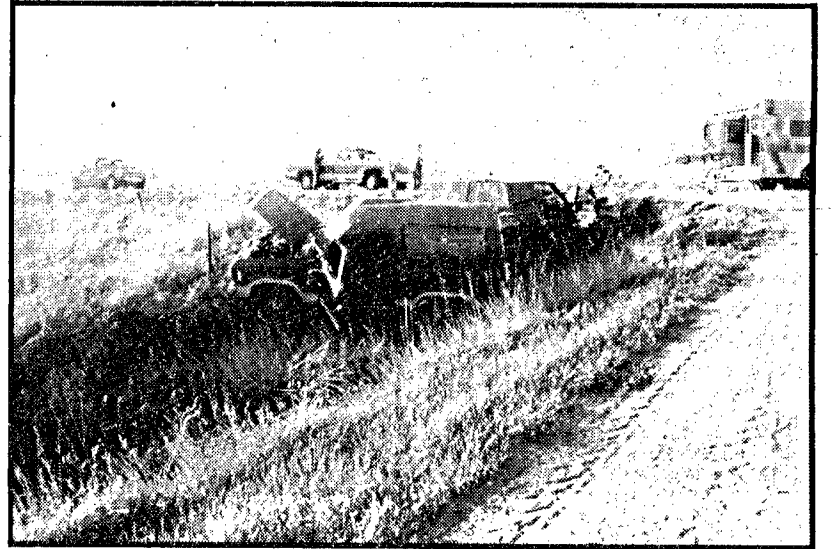

Those attending can receive information about other WSC organizations. Booths will be set up at Bressler Park and information will be available about many organizations, including Criminal Justice, STRIDE and Diversity Council.

Mike Williams of Norfolk was involved in a one vehicle accident south of Wakefield April 11. Williams was treated and released from Providence Medical Center.

A one vehicle accident occurred April 12 northwest of Hoskins which involved a 1999 Ford Taurus driven by Daniel Patterson of Hoskins. Patterson and his two daughters suffered minor injuries which did not require hospitalization.

A two vehicle accident involving Darin Wherley and Mike Ellis occurred at a rural intersection southeast of Wayne on April 18. The men were transported by ambulance to Providence Medical Center in Wayne where Ellis was treated and released and Wherley did not require treatment.

Several accidents reported in area

Several accidents have taken place in the area recently. A one vehicle accident occurred approximately 11:30 p.m. on April 11. The accident took place about 2 3/4 miles south of Wakefield on Highway 16.

Mike Williams, age 26 of Norfolk, was driving southbound when he lost control of the vehicle. The vehicle crossed the highway, entered the east ditch and rolled. The vehicle came to rest on the driver's side of the car.

Williams, the lone occupant of the vehicle, was transported to Providence Medical Center by a friend where he was treated and released. The accident was investigated by the Wayne County Sheriff's Office.

A one vehicle accident was investigated by the Wayne County Sheriff's Office on April 12 at about 7 p.m. northwest of Hoskins.

A 1999 Ford Taurus driven by Daniel Patterson of Hoskins failed to make a right turn at a T-intersection. The vehicle entered the east ditch coming to rest on its top. All four occupants were wearing seat-belts.

Patterson and his two daughters suffered minor injuries which did not require hospitalization.

On Thursday, April 18 the Wayne County Sheriff's Office investigated a two vehicle accident which occurred at a rural intersection one mile east and three miles south of Wayne.

A 1986 Ford Bronco being driven by Darin Wherley was westbound and a 1995 Chevrolet pickup driven by Mike Ellis was southbound. The vehicles collided in the intersection and came to rest in the southwest ditch.

The Wayne Fire Department and the Providence Medical Center ambulance responded to the accident. Ellis was treated and released. Wherley did not require treatment.

Wayne is Tree City

Wayne has been named a Tree City USA by the National Arbor Day Foundation. It is the 11th year Wayne has received this national recognition. The Tree City USA program is sponsored by The National Arbor Day Foundation in cooperation with the National Association of State Foresters and the USDA Forest Service. According to John Rosenow, President of The National Arbor Day Foundation, "an effective community forestry program is an ongoing process of renewal and improvement - a program of tree planting and care that continues through the years. The Tree City USA award is an excellent indication that there is a solid foundation for the process of improvement." A ceremony was held on April 11 at the Nebraska State Capitol Building. There were 110 Nebraska communities honored for developing and maintaining a community forestry program. The City of Wayne was honored for its commitment to management and enhancement of the community tree resource.

Main Street Focus

By Leo Ahmann

This week has been National Volunteer Week. I have tried to thank volunteers working for the Main Street Wayne Program with a little reminder each day this week.

They are the program. It really doesn't matter who is the director of a program like Main Street. If the volunteers (Board and non-board individuals) don't step to the plate and commit their time and efforts... success doesn't happen. It's quite obvious by the success and progress of the Main Street Wayne Program, that our volunteers are VERY dedicated. It's a pleasure to work for them.

It's also a great time to say 'thank you' to everyone in the community who volunteers their time to any group, club, church, organization or project. Volunteers plant the seeds of success.

On Wednesday, the Main Street Wayne Program, along with city officials, met with the Nebraska Department of Roads officials to discuss the Highway 15 improvement project through downtown Wayne, scheduled for 2005. The Highway 15 improvement project includes new concrete pavement, sidewalks, driveway entrances, curbs, storm sewer work and lighting. Main Street Wayne has been working on a streetscape for over two and one half years.

We presented what the community, through town hall meetings, voted on for what they wanted to see the downtown streetscape (trees, lighting, sidewalks, etc.) to look like. There was also a town meeting at the city auditorium from 4 to 6 p.m. for the community to give their input. It'll be a vital improvement to downtown Wayne. The inconvenience of the construction will give us a great opportunity to come up with positive promotions to keep people shopping and stopping in Wayne. The wheels are already turning and we'll make it through the construction just fine.

Our fund drive is ready to commence, so be looking for your letter, donation/pledge card and new brochure very soon. Your assistance is necessary to help us work for Wayne. Our focus is downtown and our scope is all of Wayne.

We have been discussing a shuttle service from the campus of Wayne State College to downtown Wayne. To be very honest; however, we have hit some major potholes... the licensing of the driver (CDL with a minimum of two years experience) and insurance costs. We are still looking for ways around the stumbling blocks. If you have any suggestions or solutions, please give us a call at 375-5062.

Until next time...

Tax credits available to contributors

The Community Activity Center Committee is offering an incentive to area businesses that contribute to the completion of the Community Activity Center project.

The committee is applying for state tax credits under the Nebraska Community Development Assistance Act (CDAA). The Act offers Nebraska State 40 percent income tax credits to businesses who contribute to the project. In order for the Wayne Activity Center credit application to be approved, the committee must identify a list of businesses who pledge contributions that would utilize the credits.

For example, when a business makes a contribution of $1,000, it would receive $400 back in Nebraska Income Tax Credits to apply on its next state income tax form.

Contributors have up to five years to use the tax credits.

Process will be revised

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

The Legislature recently passed, and the governor signed, a measure revising Nebraska law on using petitions to force recall elections for local officials.

The change has some critics literally screaming.

From this corner, it seems the change has the potential to be interesting.

The revised law will require that the elected official targeted by a recall petition gets to say a few words, so to speak, to potential signatories.

Elected officials will be allowed to have a statement - up to 60 words - printed on the petition. It gives them an opportunity to explain themselves, rebut allegations and such.

Now, here is what the critics really don't like: People asking you to sign a petition to recall the local school board member, city council person, etc., are supposed to read the elected official's statement to potential signatories. In other words, the person trying to get signatures for the recall election has to read the statement given in defense of the official.

Consider the possibilities. First, there could be some classic little paragraphs from elected officials who have had enough. Like:

"If you are dumb enough to buy into the garbage these knot-heads are peddling, go ahead and sign this thing. I hope you get elected to this job. See how you like it!"

Or:

"Serving on the school board means I take abuse from federal bureaucrats, state bureaucrats, Congress and the Legislature, parents, grandparents, business people, liberals, conservatives, people who own property and people who don't, teachers, administrators and the guy who sweeps out the gymnasium. If the educational system hadn't failed you, you'd be smart enough to know that there ain't no way to make everyone happy."

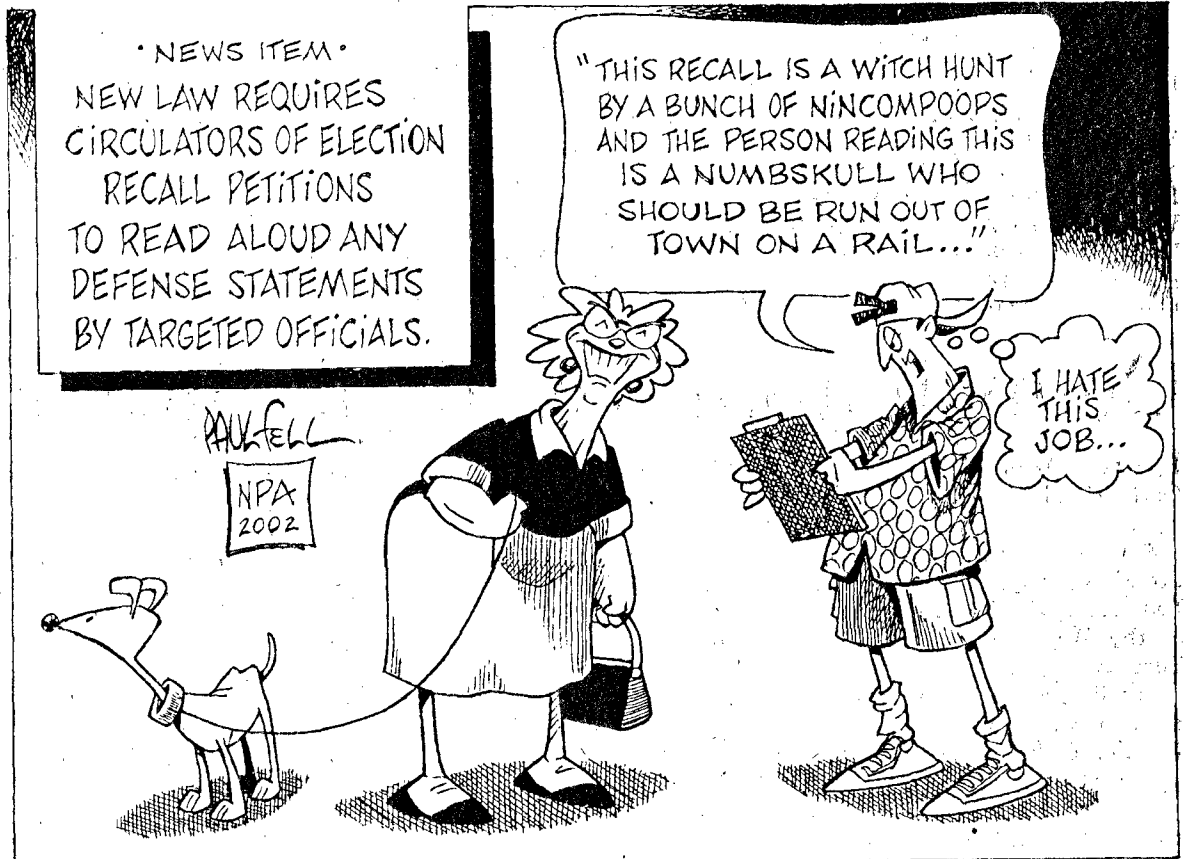

Of course, the circulator who reads the statement has some opportunities as well. After all, inflection and facial expression speak volumes.

You might be approached by a petition circulator who wants you to endorse a recall election for a school board member. The scene: Circulator: "Okay. So, I'm supposed to tell you what he says is his excuse for taxing you, like, out of your home. So, I'll read this stuff (circulator rolls eyes, snickers and/or laughs) he put on here. Now, get this ..." (circulator proceeds to read the official's statement with a yada, yada, yada tone, accompanied by the I can't stand it, facial expression.

Supporters will argue that the revised law only injects an element of fairness - an opportunity for duly elected officials to have some small say in their own behalf. Critics will say that the change will have a debilitating effect on the recall process.

All of this serves to remind us that Democracy, while not a tidy process, isn't a boring one, either.

Legislative session ends for year

The Legislature ended its 60-day session on April 19. It was a very frustrating session, one dominated by a massive revenue shortfall in the state's current two-year budget.

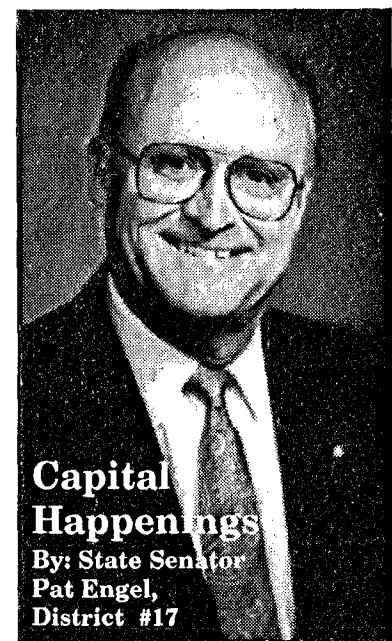

When we started the session, there was a $50.7 million deficit. I thought we could handle this through spending cuts without resorting to tax increases. But when the deficit ballooned to $221.3 million, we were faced with a considerably different matter.

While there was a need to raise taxes of some kind, we had great difficulty in reaching a consensus on a revenue solution. Ultimately, the Legislature enacted a package that temporarily increases income, sales and cigarette taxes and slightly expands the sales tax base on a permanent basis. It was the result of a political compromise.

The revenue package that was adopted was not my ideal solution. I would have preferred to increase revenue solely by raising the sales tax by one cent for two years. The increase in the sales, income and cigarette tax rates will be temporary. This will give the Legislature time to address long-term spending issues.

I believe we must look at all government spending from the state level down to the local level. We cannot continue as we have been doing. We must prioritize what is essential spending and what is not. In the end, we did accomplish

Capital Happenings
By: State Senator Pat Engel, District #17

the main goal of the 2002 session - balancing the budget. We had a constitutional responsibility to do so. However, our budget actions generated plenty of controversy. On one hand, we had people complaining about the spending cuts we made. On the other hand, we had people angry about the tax-increase package that was adopted.

I want to give you some information that puts the budget actions in perspective.

To deal with declining tax receipts, huge budget adjustments were made during the 2002 session and a special session last fall. In a period of six months, the Legislature made $412.2 million in general fund budget adjustments for the 2001-03 biennium. Of the total, $215.8 million (52 percent) came in spending cuts, $79 million (19 percent) involved transfers of funds and $117.4 million (28 percent) came in tax increases.

Spending reductions were significant and widespread. Our budget cuts hurt many programs and eliminated others. There has been much debate about the tax increases. But this debate has left out an important component - increases in state-paid property tax relief that will offset the tax hikes.

The benefits of property-tax relief are most noticeable in the area of state aid to public schools. For the current two-year budget, school districts will receive $146 million more in state aid than the previous biennium.

Meanwhile, the Legislature last week passed the following bills:

- LB 1089, which will allow small banks to open as many branches in the state as desired. The measure is intended to address what some call archaic rules that limit where banks can open satellite offices.

- LB 1211, which will allow the creation of a statewide communications system for public safety agencies. This will correct the current situation in which outdated equipment has left agencies often unable to talk with one another in emergencies.

- LB 905, which will separate Nebraska's estate-tax system from the federal system. Nebraska stands to lose revenue because its estate-tax system is linked to the federal one, which is being phased out.

- LB 1003, a comprehensive bill dealing with the environment and game and parks issues. The bill creates a task force to study state water issues. The bill also adds an eighth member to the Game and Parks Commission, giving the Omaha and Lincoln areas more representation on the body.

If there is anything I can do for you, please do not hesitate to contact me at my Lincoln office: Sen. Pat Engel, District 17, State Capitol, P.O. Box 94604, Lincoln, NE 68509; (402) 471-2716; or lengel@unicam.state.ne.us.

the history we can so when someone returns to Laurel they will have some information about their family." Keifer figures it will probably take her at least a couple more years to finish the project.

For extra credit, some of the students in Mrs. Grone's class at Laurel-Concord High School are typing up Keifer's notes.

For his Eagle Scout award, Jon Freeman along with Louie Tolles of the mens' cemetery board recently worked on a directory that lists the names and locations of each person buried in the Laurel cemetery. That list along with a map that Lyle Van Cleave (a teacher in Laurel) and Adam Donner created has been placed in a gazebo located in the cemetery. Keifer walked the cemetery and helped with the list.

The gazebo was built by Thompsen Construction of Laurel and was something the mens' cemetery board had wanted for a long time.

"I know people are using the directory because they call with questions," Keifer said.

Other projects Keifer completed was to research the genealogy of her own family; the McDonalds, Jacobsens, Keifers, Bachs, Jensens and Vanderbils. Plus she has helped to fill in the missing links of others family trees.

Keifer notes she's had people call from California and all over trying to locate loved ones and fill in family tree information. She tries to help them out and often they provide information she's been looking for. She has found out a lot of interesting facts about people buried in the Laurel cemetery. For example, there's a lady buried there that lived in three centuries; from around 1797 - 1904.

Keifer said she would eventually like to move from Laurel to live near her daughter in Sioux Falls, SD. "I won't leave, though, until my project is finished," Keifer said.

Keifer notes that if anyone has family buried in the Laurel cemetery and could share information with her they can call her at 402-256-3746.

Students are recognized

A number of students were recognized for excellence in the district prior to Monday night's Wayne Community Schools Board of Education meeting.

Honored were Ann Temme, Faith Kroeker and Jessica Murtaugh who received second in Class B State Journalism. Temme received second in Theme Development, Kroeker received second in Layout Design, and Murtaugh received second in Feature writing. The group competes this Saturday in Lincoln.

Also honored was Elysia Mann, who was selected for AATG (American Association of Teachers year for AATG. During the meeting, the resignations of Norma Tietz and David Clausen were approved. Tietz is retiring at the end of June. She started June 1, 1982 and Clausen is done at the end of the school year. He started four years ago. He is going to South Sioux City to take a sixth grade resource position. Clausen was a special educator at Wayne High School.

Also approved was the hiring of Rita Keller (who has been teaching math at Emerson-Hubbard Public Schools) for Wayne Middle School Mathematics and John McClarnen as Middle School principal.

Dr. Don Zeiss, WHS principal, discussed the list of recommended graduates for Wayne High this year. There are 79 seniors on the list. May 7 is to be the last day for seniors and final grades are to be computed on May 7. WHS graduation is set for May 11. The board approved the list.

Rocky Ruhl, athletic director at WHS, told the board about the recycled tire grant of $18,375 that was received. The money will go towards the new track which will replace the present one south of the elementary school. Ruhl was instrumental in getting the grant.

Dr. Jean Blomenkamp, a board member and on the foundation committee, spoke on the money coming in towards the new track. Another $5,000 recently came in and the total so far is $170,000 in donations. A goal of $200,000 has been set.

Dr. Joe Reinert spoke on budget considerations. They are still working with numbers but will probably have a preliminary done in May. He noted legislature is done but there may be a special session upcoming.

On technology, Board member John Dunning spoke on the need for working with the budget to see if they can come up with money for upkeep/replacement of the 230 computers that are in the Wayne Schools system.

Policy 9001 which is Technology-Operations - second reading was approved.

For new business, there is a joint board meeting planned with the City of Wayne for May 21. Time and location will be given at a later date.

The board approved the continuing exchange of German students between Steinheim and Wayne. The students from Germany are scheduled to come in October to WHS. Edith Zahniser, instructor of German at WHS, spoke a little on the exchange students scheduled to come here in October.

Future agenda items are: the track project, the budget, and technology policies.

No executive session was held.

The next meeting of the Wayne Community Board of Education is set for Monday, May 13 at 7 p.m. at Wayne High School.

$1.076 average tax levy for last 10 years

The average tax levy for neighboring districts for 2002/03:

	General	Other	Total
Wayne	$1.0121	$2716	$1.2837
Stanton	$1.0692	$2484	$1.3176

Laurel	$1.0456	$6.65	$1.1121

When thinking about what can help generate more money for the school district, the idea of raising property valuations may come to mind. While property valuations going up generates more local tax dollars for the school district, it does not mean the school district has more money to maintain the school. Raising property valuation generates more local tax dollars but the state decreases the amount of state aid to the school district sometimes in equal amounts.

If the levy override is not passed during the May vote, the school board will have to make a minimum of $119,000 (budgetary projection) in cuts for 2002-03 and additional cuts in 2003-04. Also, increases in salaries, benefits, supplies, etc. would have to be accounted for. State aid decreases due to declining student enrollment so programs will have to be looked at.

The levy override vote is scheduled for Tuesday, May 14.

Anyone with questions can call Arden Svoboda, superintendent of schools in Winside at 286-4466 and members of the Winside School Board. School board members are Daniel Jaeger 286-4852, Brian Hoffman 286-4573, Jean Suehl 286-4898, Doug Deck 565-4458, Scott Watters 286-4118, Paul Roberts 585-4710.

A community meeting is planned on May 8 at 7:30 p.m. at Winside Public School in the gym.

Council approves liquor license

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

A Class K (wine only) liquor license was approved for Randy Pedersen during a special meeting of the Wayne City Council on Tuesday.

The license will allow Pedersen do sell wine in his business, Flowers & Wine, which will be open for business soon.

The council also discussed options for lots available to the local chapter of Habitat for Humanity.

City Administrator Lowell Johnson told council members that he and Dan Rose, a member of Habitat for Humanity, have looked at several lots and discussed options available to the group for obtaining the lot(s) at a low or no cost.

At the present time there are several lots available, including those along 10th Street, two near Hank Overin Field and several near the Skate Park.

It is hoped that a lot could be obtained and a house constructed yet this year.

Council member Darrell Fuelberth recommended putting the item on the council's next agenda so that the project can move forward.

No action was taken on an application for a zoning use by exception permit from Jessica Olson for property at 114 East Third Street. The item will be put on the April 30 council agenda after several conditions are addressed.

The majority of Tuesday's special meeting was spent in round table discussion with members of the Wayne Country Club Board of Directors.

Rusty Parker, President of the Board, spoke to the council on needs at the Country Club.

He gave a brief history of the golf course, indicating that the front nine holes, which are owned by the city, have been in existence since the late 1930's. The back nine was established in the late 1960's.

Parker indicated that the course's number one priority is the ability to get water to the course in a timely manner.

In addition, he stated that the board's goal is to keep golfing affordable for both members and non members and that there is a need to protect and enhance the course as a recreational activity for the community.

Members of the board also indicated a need to re-do holes 2 through 8 on the front 9 of the course.

Golf Pro Troy Harder said that the Wayne course is becoming outdated because of the newer courses in the area, leading to more competition. He also stated that if golfers come to Wayne, use the course and leave happy, they will return. This will also bring more money into the community.

Following nearly an hour of discussion, members of the council agreed to consider the golf course improvements when preparing next year's budget.

The council will hold a regular meeting on Tuesday, April 30 at 7:30 p.m. at the council chambers;

Trimble receives honorary doctorate

Charles Trimble of Omaha will receive an honorary doctorate of humane letters at the Wayne State College commencement exercises on May 4.

Trimble will also give the commencement address. Trimble, who recently retired as president of the John G. Neihardt Foundation, has a long and distinguished history of service to the Neihardt Foundation, the State of Nebraska, and to Native American people.

As president of the Neihardt Foundation and director of the John G. Neihardt Historic Site in Bancroft from 1998 to 2001, Trimble worked closely with Wayne State College to initiate and conduct the annual award-winning Neihardt/ Black Elk Scholars' Project held on the Wayne State campus each summer.

He has been instrumental in bringing nationally-acclaimed authors to the Neihardt Spring Conference in Bancroft.

A long-time advocate for Native Americans, Trimble is an Oglala Sioux who was raised on the Pine Ridge Reservation in South Dakota. He received a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in Journalism from the University of South Dakota in 1957 and, following service in the U.S. Army, did further studies in journalism at the University of Colorado. In 1969, he founded the American Indian Press Association (now the Native American Journalists Association), remaining there until 1972, when he became the executive director of the National Congress of American Indians in Washington, D.C.

He was re-elected six times as executive director of the National Congress, which represents the vast majority of tribes in the U.S. (more than 200).

In 1979, Trimble founded the Charles Trimble Company and the Red Willow Institute, both in Omaha. As president of both organizations, he worked to promote economic development on Native American reservations, as well as to provide technical and management assistance to Native American non-profit organizations.

Trimble has served as president of the Nebraska State Historical Society Board of Trustees, the Nebraska Commission on Indian Affairs and is currently a member of the Nebraska Humanities Council, the Nebraska Historical Preservation Board, and the American Folklife Center of the Library of Congress Board of Trustees in Washington, D.C.

Hultman to receive achievement award

Harold Hultman, a 1940 Wayne State College graduate, is the recipient of the Alumni Achievement Award for spring 2002.

He will receive the award at Wayne State commencement ceremonies on May 4.

A native of Lyons, Hultman has had a long and distinguished career in education and business. He served as principal and athletic coach in Millard from 1941 until World War II. From 1944-'46, he served in the U.S. Naval Reserve. He was stationed at Pearl Harbor, where he worked in communications, specializing in coding messages.

After the war, Hultman returned to the Millard Public Schools, where he was superintendent from 1946-'47. He was elected to the Millard Public School board of education in 1947, and served as a board member for 23 years.

Following that, Hultman began a career with Central Securities Company. He joined Piper Jaffray Hopwood Securities, where he opened a co-managed an office in Omaha until 1968. He accepted a position of vice president with the firm where he remained until 1988. The office doubled in size under his leadership. Hultman was consistently one of Piper Jaffray's top 50 salespersons throughout the years he was with the firm, and received an award of excellence from the company.

Hultman has also been active in community and civic organizations including the Millard Lions Club, and the Concord Club-Omaha. He is a member of the Masonic Order, Scottish Rite 32nd degree, and was Grand Master of Masons in Nebraska in 1975-'76. He has served on the board of directors of the Nebraska Masonic Home, and was chairman of the Shriners Children to Shrine Hospital from 1990 to 1997 in Bella Vista, Ark. In 1988, Hultman and his wife, Virginia retired and moved to Bella Vista, Ark. where they currently reside.

"Harold embodies the remarkable combination of an astute and successful businessman with a genuine desire to help his fellow man and make the world a better place," said Deb Lundahl, WSC director of alumni relations.

Moving out

The modular buildings located behind Wayne High School, which have been used for classrooms during renovation of the Middle School, are now being moved out. One left on Tuesday for Hemmingford Public School, two will go to McCook Public School, and five will go to Allen to two different entities. Two mods are staying where they are and will be used as shifting technology offices and classrooms.

self-guided tour, which will lead them through the downtown area and to some of our key points of interest," said Karin Vaughn, Executive Director of the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce.

The clay mural will be located next to the Chamber office on a cement block wall. It depicts elements from our community including images of the courthouse, the American flag, fields of corn, a Model T, symbols of peace, the handprints of the youngest school age children and much more.

Below the mural, there will be an arrangement of clay tiles that hundreds of students created, leaving their mark in the community forever.

One of the goals of this project was to involve community members in the process of creating permanent artwork in the community. As a result, individuals from every walk of like and from any age group have created a lasting symbol of this collaboration.

The public is invited to join in celebration on Friday, May 3 from 6 to 11 p.m. on Third Street.

For more information, contact Karin Vaughn (Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce at 375-2240); Judith Berry (Wayne State College at 375-7356) or Amy Jackson (Wayne High School at 375-3150).

Winside begins construction on new community library

Since its creation in 1996, the Winside Library Foundation has been raising money through donations, fundraisers, memorials and grants to construct a new public library in the Village of Winside.

The cost of the project is estimated at $150,000. With the necessary funds raised, construction has begun on the new library with most of the labor being performed by local area residents.

The new library will be a 40 x 70 foot building that will incorporate children and adult reading areas, meeting room, and computer center.

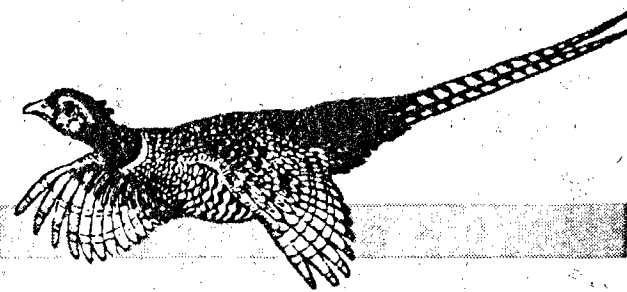

David Warnemunde, right, Winside State Bank president, presents the deed to the lots on Main Street (where the new library will be located) to Dean Janke, Sr., mayor of the Village of Winside, and Lydaisy Janke, chairperson of the Winside Library Foundation.

As part of its pledge, the Winside State Bank donated three lots on Main Street for the home of the new library facility.

In presenting the deed to Dean Janke, Sr., Mayor of the Village of Winside, and Lydaisy Janke, Chairperson of the Winside Library Foundation, David Warnemunde, Winside State Bank President said, "On behalf of our customers, the Winside State Bank is honored to present the Village of Winside with the deed to the land for the future site of the Lied Winside Public Library. The credit for this donation truly belongs to our customers. Everything that we do is because of our customers; you have our utmost admiration and respect."

in 54.7 with Julie Jacobsen, Lindsey Harmeier, Kim Deck and Felicia Reed, and Stacey Rabe was third in the discus (97-6) while Jacobsen added a fourth in the triple jump (33-8.5).

The 4x400 relay team was fifth (4:46.5) and Bowers was sixth in the 1600 (6:19.2) while Lindsey Harmeier finished sixth in the long jump (15-1.5).

Allen was led by the 4x800 relay team which placed second (11:04.6) while Angie Sullivan, placed third in the 1600 (6:07.3) while Jennifer Kistjes was fourth in the same event (6:14.4).

The 4x400 relay team was fourth (4:44.5) and Alyssa Uldrich was sixth in the shot put (32-10).

IN THE BOYS division,

Winside scored 37 points for sixth place while Laurel-Concord managed just nine points for 12th. Allen failed to score.

Wisner-Pilger won the team title with 92 points.

Adam Hoffman paced the Wildcats with a second place time of 22.9 in the 200 while adding a third in the 100 (11.2) and fourth in the 400 (53.4). He also ran a leg of the 4x100 relay team, which placed second in 46.6 with Shane Jaeger, Mike Hawkins and Nate Wills.

Kevin Boelter placed fourth in the 3200 (11:03.6) and Shane Jaeger was fifth in the 200 (23.7) and 100 (11.6) with Nate Wills placing fifth in the 400 (54.3). The 4x800 relay was sixth in 9:46.0.

WSC track squads run in Sioux City

The Wayne State College Track & Field teams competed at the 38th Annual Sioux City Relays on Friday and Saturday held at Roberts Stadium. A total of twelve college and university teams competed. No team scores were kept.

The Wildcats were led for a third week in a row by a pair of victories from sophomores Eric Havranek (Ainsworth, Nebr.) and Brian Dixon (Lincoln, Nebr.).

Havranek won the long jump in an exciting competition that saw him move from third to first on his final jump of the competition.

Heading into his final jump the top three competitors were with in three inches of each other. After the dust had settled, Havranek had outdistanced his nearest competitor by nine inches with a best jump of 23'0". The victory is Havranek's third long jump win in a row.

Havranek also picked up a fourth place finish in the 100 meter dash in a time of 11.23 seconds. In addition, he ran the lead-off leg on the sprint medley relay which placed second in a time of 3:36.76.

Other team members included: Ryan Leriger, Jesse Slaymaker, and Matt Rosauer. He also ran the lead-off on the 4 x 200 meter relay which placed fourth in a time of 1:31.80. Other team members included: Jesse Slaymaker, Travis Woodckman, and Ryan Leriger.

Havranek finished the weekend with an eighth place finish in the triple jump with a mark of 42'4".

Dixon cleared the 110 meter hurdles in a winning time of 14.85 seconds. The win marks Dixon's third 110 meter hurdle victory in a row. He currently leads the NSIC in the event.

Other Wildcats who placed in the top six included: Jesse Slaymaker—fourth, 400 meter dash—50.86; Joe DeMilt—fourth, polevault—14'0"; Shannon Schumacher—fifth, high jump, 6'0"; Travis Woodckman—sixth, long jump, 20'10"; and Dave Dooley—sixth, triple jump, 42'10".

The Wildcats women's team was led by senior Darr Nickerson.

Nickerson earned a third place finish in the women's 3000 meter steeplechase. The steeplechase is a relatively new event for women's track and field, although it has long been contested on the men's side.

The event consists of running 3000 meters over five 30" barriers per lap. The biggest obstacle however is the fifth barrier which is placed in front of a water jump.

This was Wayne State's first time entering athletes in the event. Nickerson established a new record for WSC with her third place finish in a time of 12:50.20.

Teammate April Sachau also competed in the event and placed fifth with a time of 13:21.69.

Nickerson and Sachau both also competed on the distance medley relay on Friday evening. The team placed fourth with a time of 13:22.09. Also running on the relay was Jodi Rhodig and Audrey Emanuel.

The only other Wildcat athlete who medaled was senior Tracie Fehringer, who placed fourth in the shot put with a mark of 40'2".

The Wildcats will be in action on Friday, April 26 at the Hastings College Invitational.

Head Coach Marlon Brink stated, "Overall, we had a pretty good meet. Havranek had a big weekend and turned in some good performances both individually and on the relays."

"Dixon continued to show his strength in the hurdles. He overcame a poor start in the prelims and looked a little better in the finals. If we can get his start a little quicker, he can have a shot at a national provisional qualifying mark."

"Jesse Slaymaker ran a strong 400 meter dash in very cool weather on Friday night."

"Darr looked very good in the steeplechase even though it was her first attempt at the event. I think she could have a shot at doing quite well in the event at the NSIC meet."

States Conference Tournament, finishing third with a 335.

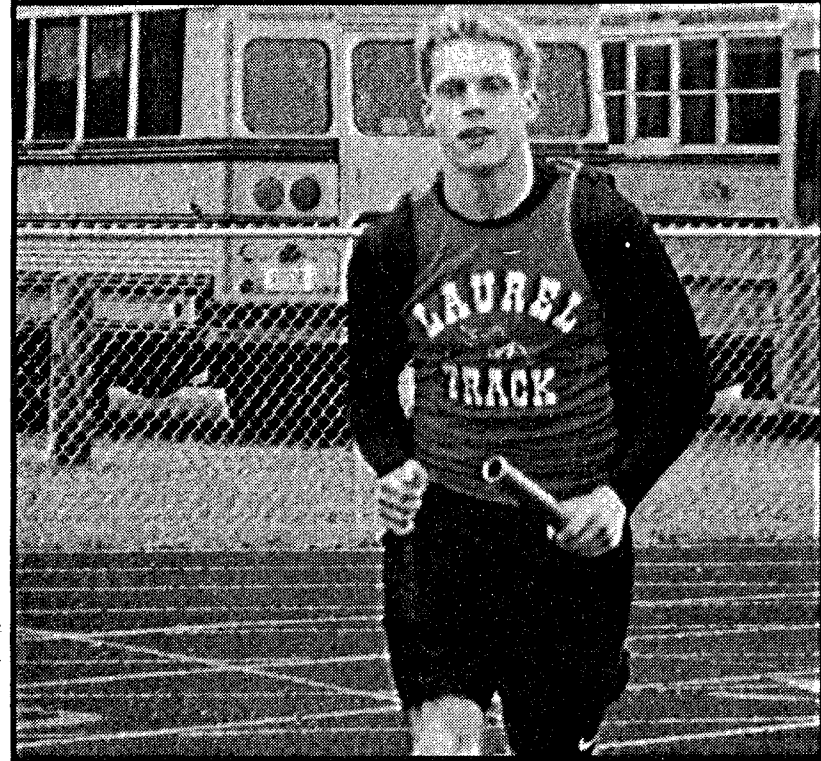

Boone Central won the team title with a 329 while Cedar Catholic carded a 331 in the eight-team field.

Brad Erickson led Wayne with a fourth place finish at 80 while Andy Martin was sixth with an 81 and Tyler Anderson, 10th at 85.

John Jensen finished with an 89. The Wayne JV team did win the conference meet with a 355 while Boone Central had a 361 and Battle Creek, 372.

Eric Sturm was medalist with an 84 while Trevor Krugman carded an 88 and Ric Volk, 89. Brett Parker finished with a 94.

"It was a disappointing finish by our varsity," coach Terry Munson said. "We seem to struggle in the cold and wind. On the positive side however, we had three medal winners and won the JV division."

Baseball team splits twinbill with NSIC foe Winona State

The Wayne State baseball team split a twinbill with Winona State, Monday in Wayne.

The Wildcats dropped the opener, 8-7 despite out-hitting the visitors by a 13-8 margin.

Aaron Hyde was tagged with the loss and going the distance and giving up six earned runs and eight hits.

Tim Richt led the 'Cats offense with a homerun and two singles while Donald Whitmire belted a homerun and one base hit. Joey Baldwin singled twice and singles were hit by Ryan Radtke, Brian Foy, Joe Hartman, Eddie Burns, Gary Redden and Aaron Lavorato.

In the second game the 'Cats won, 6-5 as Jared Hertzelt got the win in relief of starter Justin Carey. Travis McCarter also saw a third of an inning from the mound.

Hertzelt pitched four innings and gave up one earned run and three hits.

WSC out-hit the Warriors, 9-7 led by Donald Whitmire with a double and two singles while Joe Hartman doubled and singled and Joey Baldwin singled twice.

Aaron Lavorato belted a double and Ryan Radtke singled for the 19-19 'Cats who improved to 9-5 in conference play.

WSC will host Southwest State in double-headers on Saturday and Sunday in the final home games of the 2002 conference season.

The 'Cats are also slated to play at UNO on Monday.

THE WEEK AHEAD...

Precipitation

Although the weather models are not in great agreement on the future weather pattern, the likely scenario will have a trough digging in the West and a ridge in the Southeast. This will produce below-normal temperatures in the Rockies and above-normal temperatures along the Gulf coast. Above-normal precipitation is expected in the Plains.

Herbs for Health

Garlic for Cholesterol and Triglycerides

There are many potential uses for garlic - Allium sativum. These include high cholesterol, high triglycerides, hardening of the arteries, and mild hypertension. Garlic also has antibacterial, antiviral, and antifungal properties.

Since 1975 there have been at least 32 human studies demonstrating the blood fat-lowering effects of garlic. Most involved individuals with high cholesterol, high triglycerides, or both. In some studies, a garlic powder tablet standardized to contain 1.3% allicin was used. The daily dose ranged from 600 to 900 mg, and the studies lasted from 4 to 16 weeks. Overall, use of garlic powder for 1 to 3 months resulted in a 9-12% reduction of total cholesterol and an 8-27% reduction in triglycerides.

Odor-controlled garlic powder tablets may be preferred due to halitosis. Side effects may include heartburn, flatulence (gas), garlic taste or odor, and other gastrointestinal problems. Since garlic reduces the clotting time of blood, persons taking aspirin or other anticoagulant drugs should avoid consuming large quantities of the herb. There are no known conditions in which garlic use could cause major problems.

AK-SAR-BEN GOOD NEIGHBOR

Alice Johnson has been named a Knight of Ak-Sar-Ben Neighbor. This is the 58th year the Ak-Sar-Ben in conjunction with the Omaha World Herald has honored people for their neighborly deeds.

Also recognized from this area are Densil and Muriel Moseman of rural Emerson and Marge Fay Bock of Allen. Each winner will be honored during the County Fair and presented a certificate and Good Neighbor lapel pin.

Alice was nominated for her work with her garden club to make improvements to the Main Street flower garden, plus her beautification work on the school grounds and the park.

The Bocks were nominated because they stayed with a neighbor when she suffered a sudden illness and nursed her back to health.

The Mosemans were selected for assisting at the senior center delivering meals and helping set up events.

The award recognizes people who within the past year have performed neighborly acts and deeds unselfishly with personal gain. These Good Neighbors will receive their awards during the Dixon County Fair opening day, July 28.

TREE BOARD HOSTS PROGRAM

The Wakefield Tree Board will again host an Arbor Day Assembly at school. The program begins at 2:45 p.m. in the school auditorium on Friday, April 26. The community is welcome and invited to attend.

The fifth grade class is planning the 2002 program. Wakefield has again been named a Tree City USA. This is the 12th year. The Tree City Flag will be presented to a city official during the program.

The Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District will be providing potted blue spruce trees for the fifth graders to take home and plant. Also according to a tree board member, trees will be planted on the school grounds, but wasn't sure it will take place on Arbor Day.

ORATION CONTEST WINNERS

The Oration Contest was held at the Wakefield School last week. Ryan Klein won the oration contest. Caitlin Gustafson was runner up. Anna Brownell finished third place. Other contestants were Drew Hendrickson, Carly Gardner, Wes Erickson and C.J. Kay.

JUNIOR ACADEMY OF SCIENCE

Five state qualifiers from two divisions were selected from 53 Northeast Nebraska Junior Academy of Science participants at Wayne State College, April 12. State competition is April 26 at Nebraska Wesleyan.

Schools participating were Laurel-Concord, Wayne, Wakefield, Logan View, Columbus, Lake View, Columbus, Lakeview and Shell Creek.

Each student prepared a time-limited presentation with visual aids. Junior high students were given 10 minutes to present their projects. Senior high participants delivered their projects within 15 minutes. After their presentations, the students were questioned about their scientific content and their understanding of their projects by the judges. Each division's judges met and selected the top five projects.

Wakefield participants, their projects and ribbon placings included: Eric Bodlak, "Building Bridges," red; Garek Bebee, "Weights and Difference," red; Ben Henderson, "Vying for Viscosity," red; Mark Schroeder, "Was $80,000 Worth It?" red; Evan Bartels, "Waste-Full Water," red; and Cody Miller, "Eggs, Get the Point."

State qualifiers in the junior high division were Joe Broggie of Shell Creek, Phillip Goering and Ryan Brock, both of Columbus

Lakeview, Emily Buryanek and Natalie Fendrick, both of Wayne.

Senior high division state qualifiers included John Brogie, Kelly Kinzer and Nich Dobesh, all Columbus Lakeview, Jared Hartman and Emily Gubbels, both of Laurel.

COMMUNITY CLUB

During the regular monthly coffee on April 11 of the Community club, members voted to contribute $2,000 to the park restroom project. City Administrator Dan Zulkosky stated plans for the city to pay for one third of the funds and the balance will come from private donations such as that of the Community Club.

Zulkosky also introduced Nicki Decker, the city's administrative coordinator. In Zulkosky's report were details on up date of the community access channel which is now 24; electrical up date currently in progress; information on red tag notices, and he said the city is planning on town hall meeting to help citizens learn about the community such as garbage pickup, parking, etc.

Pastor Ross Erickson reported for the ministerium stating that there is a lot of need for the food pantry. Supplies are getting low and Pastor Erickson urged people to donate. Erickson also stated the ministerium felt the fitness seminar was a success with 30 people attending.

The library report was given by Nancy Fredrickson. She stated 469 childrens books and 760 adult books had been checked out and 382 people had visited the library. She also told club members that the library will be receiving two computers from Linda and Bill Gates Foundation and that the library had also applied for one of the computers being given away by Gateway after their use at the Olympics this winter.

Sylvia Olson spoke on the Wakefield Heritage who met April 13. The group is planning a barn dance during the BRAN visit.

Senior Center Director Becky Krueger reported that the center would be receiving reimbursement funds from the Nebraska Department of Roads for expenses to operate the van such as for gas, repairs, etc.

The ham the center raffled at Easter was won by Esther Oberg. Next project is red, white and blue quilt to be given away July 4. She also reported that the center was working on a book club project with Graves Library.

There was a BRAN committee meeting held April 22. Michelle Tullberg asked for donations of used light bulbs for a BRAN project. The bulbs may be left at the Gardner Foundation office or at the Little Red Hen Theatre.

The next Community Club Coffee will be May 9 with Benson Auto Sales as host. There will also be a ribbon cutting at Benson Auto.

ATTEND EMS CONFERENCE

Four members of Wakefield's Rescue Squad were among 420 individuals who attended the 2002 Nebraska Emergency Services Association Statewide Spring Conference in March in Columbus.

Participants included Lawrence Anderson, Ruth Peters, Jeri Sherer and Rosalind Woods. Participants attended sessions on animal disease; bioterrorism, seizure disorders, sports injuries, triage, mass casualty and the incident commands system, vascular access techniques and devices and other topics.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETS

The Wakefield Community School Board of Education met on April 11. Tracy Anderson reported on past and upcoming vocal contests and performances. Jim Jordan reported on the need of replacing the 1983 band uniforms. It is the hope of replacing them with ones that would be suitable for marching, concert, contest, and honor bands.

Mr. Clay reported on the Close-up trip to Washington, D.C. Due to Sept. 11, attendance at Close-up was down 50 percent nationwide. Mr. Torczon presented an American Presidents trivia quiz to the Board.

Elementary principal report: April and May are busy months with field trips, visitors and assemblies planned. Mrs. Widner attended a meeting on the new Title 1 changes of how the program was going to be funded by the federal government.

Kindergarten roundup was held April 19 with the possibility of 37 students for next year's class.

Secondary principal report: Various state conferences and competitions were attended in April. A meeting for the sixth grade students and parents was held on April 25 to work on the orientation process for the next school year.

The curriculum committee has met and has made policy recommendations concerning graduation requirements in the Science and PE areas.

Superintendent report: Marcia Kratke and Mr. Moody are attending the Nebraska Association of School Business Officials in Lincoln on April 25 and 26. The major session is about managing the district's tax/valuation base. Moody attended the Wayne Legislative Forum on April 12. The joint meeting of the city council and school board concerning the activity center will be on May 23 at 8 p.m. Discussion was held concerning communications with the post prom committee.

Committee reports: Personnel: The committee met with WEA negotiation team and agreed on an array. The next meetings will be April 29 and May 9 at 5:30 p.m.

Curriculum: State standards are not being met in the Physical Science instead of one semester. Twenty credits are now required for PE. It was proposed to drop PE 10 as requirements so students could pursue other courses and electives.

Buildings and Grounds: A walk through was done preceding the meeting to help prioritize what projects will be done this summer. A new parking lot with the possibility of black top instead of concrete was discussed.

Policy: Changes to the student attendance policy committee were presented for the coming year.

Old business: They approved to roll over Mrs. Widner's contract for another year with a release clause option added.

They approved to roll over Mr. Heimann's contract for another year with salary to be negotiated at a later date.

The approved to roll over Mr. Moody's contract for another year with salary to be negotiated at a later date.

New business: They approved to accept the calendar for the 2002-03 school year as presented.

They approved a new SPED van with the lowest bid and upon arrival declare the '82 Dodge as surplus.

They approved to accept the low bid of $8,933 to complete the floors for carpet replacement.

They approved to accept Klein Electric's low bid of $4,350 for lighting replacement.

They approved the first reading of the attendance policy as follows:

A. High school attendance policy. 1. More than seven absences from ANY class or classes per semester, for any reason, with the exception of school sponsored activities, and out-of-school suspension absences, shall constitute loss of credit for the subjects involved.

B. No Change C. No change D. No change 2. Advisory

Procedures: a. Advisory letters will be sent to the parents/guardians when their child has accrued five absences in a class during the semester. b. Heidi Kirsch

Heidi Kirsch to present honors project

Heidi Marie Kirsch will present her honors project, The History of the Clarinet Family: Technical Improvements, Composers, and Players, on Friday, April 26, at 10 a.m.; in Ley Theatre, Brandenburg Education Building. Her advisor is Dr. Jay O'Leary.

Kirsch researched early primitive forms of the clarinet in Egypt in the third millennium, and discovered how the clarinet has changed dramatically into its modern form.

Kirsch is the daughter of Linda Faye Kirsch of Winside. A 1998 graduate of Winside High School, Kirsch is majoring in music education with an endorsement in K-12 vocal and instrumental music. She is a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, a freshman academic honorary, Kappa Delta Phi, a national education honor society, MENC (Music Educators National Conference), Tau Beta Sigma, a national honorary band sorority, and Nebraska Band Masters Association.

She has been featured in The National Dean's List and Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities. She has also been a member of the wind ensemble, concert choir, jazz band, marching band and woodwind ensemble. She is the music tutor for the Wayne State College Learning Center. Heidi will graduate in December 2002.

For 25 years you trusted me as your nurse. Now I have the time, interest and dedication to work for your concerns on the Wayne City Council.

NEW PASTOR

Winside St. Paul's Lutheran Church installed Reverend Timothy J. Steckling on April 7 during an evening worship service.

Rev. Steckling was born May 27, 1971, in Neenah, Wis. to Rev. Larry and Mary Steckling. He was reborn through Holy Baptism on June 13, 1971 at Trinity Lutheran Church in Menasha, Wis. He has an older sister, Laura, who lives in Menominee, Mich. with her husband and six children and he has a younger sister, Kristie, who lives with their parents in Almaty, Kazakhstan, where their father serves as Missionary Counselor.

Pastor Steckling attended several schools throughout his childhood, moving with his family while his father pursued studies toward the Holy Ministry from 1974-1982. He was confirmed at St. John's Lutheran Church of Chester, Neb. in 1985. He attended high school in Marinett, Wis. and graduated in 1989. He earned a B.A. in Natural Sciences from Concordia University in Mequon, Wis. in 1993, then attended Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, Mo. where he received his Master of Divinity degree in May of 1998.

As part of his seminary training, he served a year of internship as Vicar for St. Matthew's Lutheran Church of Esko, Minn. (1996-97). After graduating from the seminary, he was ordained and installed as pastor of Immanuel Lutheran Church in Houston, Texas (1998-2002). There he served also as Pastoral Advisor to the Houston Chapter of Lutherans for Life.

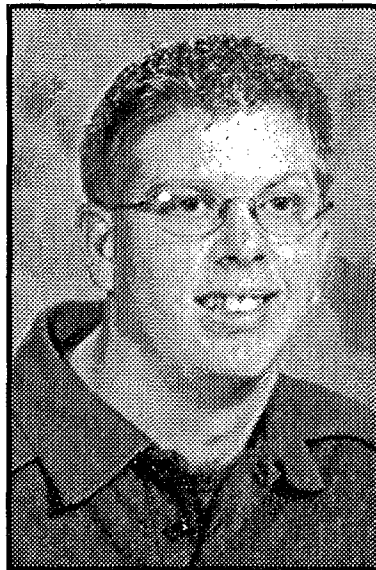

In July of 1996, he married Heather Gribbins in Polo, Ill. Heather currently works at home raising their three children, Hannah (4 years), Isaiah (2 years), and Rebekah (newborn).

Besides spending time with his family, Pastor's favorite pastimes include reading, fishing and camping.

Aggressive turkey hunting strategies revealed

Everyone who has ever hunted gobblers in the spring thinks that the hunter has found a wide comfortable tree to put his back against and makes a few subtle calls and the full strutting tom walks into range.

The sunlight glistens off the big birds feathers as the hunter slowly brings his gun up, taking careful aim, tipping the bird over with one shot.

Well I'm here to tell you, that happens from time to time, but in most cases, you aren't fortunate enough to get the perfect set up.

There are times when you have to adapt to the ever changing weather conditions and the mood of the turkeys.

On many occasions, my spring turkey hunts have been cold and damp.

We spent seven of the cloudiest, nastiest days hunkered down in our motel rooms waiting for the sun. The sun which the national weather guy said would arrive the following day or was that the next day.

We had planned on hunting just a few days as that's the way it had always been. A week later we had taken one of our three birds, but only because we used aggressive turkey hunting tactics, excellent camouflage and decoys.

Aggressive turkey hunting tactics are something you never hear or read about.

You see videos where the hunter clucks or puts and then sets in one spot for a long period of time. This works when you are in your own area, an area that allows you to watch the birds on a regular basis and know exactly where they are at.

We come into an area the day before a hunt and scout as time allows, but there are days when our schedule puts us in an area after dark and scouting isn't possible.

This is where aggressive turkey calling comes into play. We usually are headed for the field well before day break, in the general direction that we've seen birds in. To locate the birds, we work from one ridge to another using an owl or crow call trying to get a gobbler.

Once we locate a gobbler, we then set up and if we have a tom that wants to work with us, we'll call aggressively. Just what is a tom that wants to work with us?

If a tom gobbles while I'm calling, then double and triple gobbles; he's hot and these are the birds that we get aggressive with.

Loud and long is the key. Not so loud that you spook the bird, but loud enough so the tom knows you're there.

Gary Howey 'Of the Outdoors'

My hunting partner, Larry Myhre from Sioux City and I have taken 20 toms this way and most of them have been 20 pound plus birds.

We've had to compete with other hens as well as five or six toms at times and by calling aggressively for up to a half hour, we've pulled birds in from long distances.

When hunting aggressively, you need to make sure that everything is covered, you have to carry numerous calls. I have a dozen diaphragm calls, slates, box calls and push button yelpers. It just seems that on certain days the birds like a different call and I want to have them when I've got a gobbler just over the ridge.

Camouflage is also important as you don't have a whole lot of time to find a place to "blend" into when you hunt this way. I mix and match camouflage patterns so I can blend in with terrain.

A combination of greens & browns camo works great for the area I hunt. I use a multi-pocketed camo turkey vest, camo face mask and cap as it helps me to blend in with all most any terrain I may be hunting. Dark on the bottom and lighter on the top was the key to tagging birds on last seasons hunt.

Don't forget to camouflage your shot gun as it sticks out like a sore thumb if it isn't.

I use a 12 gauge semiautomatic with Mossy Oak camo pattern. It comes camouflaged when you buy it and fits in well with any area that you'll be hunting in.

Since we're using the walk and talk method where we move from ridge to ridge and call or as others call it, "the run and gun method", we need to travel light and a big full body decoy banging against every thing, just doesn't cut it.

Last year we used the silhouette decoys and they are not only light weight, there quiet, easy to transport and they really work.

This season both Larry and I have switched to the Buckwing decoys. They fold and fit easily into our vests, are hand painted to look very lifelike and have an umbrella style expander that spreads the decoy quickly. The staking system is made so that the decoy works slowly from side to side and doesn't spin in the wind.

We pursued numerous species of turkeys over the years in half a dozen different states.

The areas we've hunted in have been full of wildlife as we saw turkey, elk, deer, eagles, ducks, geese, pheasants and grouse.

We've bagged turkeys that have run from 13 to 25 pounds. Most were older birds in the 20 pound range.

We've hunted in rain, snow, wind and sunny warm days. The best hunting conditions are two or three days of consistent weather. Sunny warm days seem to be the best, but as long as the wind isn't blowing 40 miles per hour and the last couple of days had weather conditions that were similar, the toms should respond. If you run into "fowl" weather, this is when the aggressive calling really pays off.

By using aggressive calling tactics, covering ground and hunting smart, you don't need perfect conditions to take a gobbler. Let's be honest, how many times do you choose a weekend to hunt gobblers that are perfect? Not many, so try hunting aggressively and you'll find that your Thanksgiving supper will be wild turkey and not ham like it's been for so many years.

Sally Schroeder

Honors project presented at Wayne State

Sally Ann Schroeder presented her honors project, Quilting in Literature, on April 24 in the Humanities Student Lounge on the Wayne State College campus. Her advisors are Dr. Siobhan Kelly and Dr. Andrew Alexander.

Schroeder researched themes and authors' writings which help show that life is like a quilt. Her inspiration was her experience in quilting.

Schroeder's husband is Dr. John Schroeder and they live in Cedar County. She is the mother of five children. She majored in English Literature while obtaining her Bachelor of Arts degree at Wayne State College. She remained on the Dean's List while majoring in English Literature and minoring in Political Science.

She was vice president of Sigma Tau Delta Honorary Literature Fraternity and inducted into Theta Sigma National Honor Society for non-traditional students. She was also a recipient of the Balsey-Whitmore Tour of England Scholarship in 2001. After graduation, she plans to attend law school at the University of South Dakota and eventually open a general law practice in her home area of Cedar County.

Science students compete at Wayne State

Five state qualifiers from two divisions were selected from 53 Northeast Nebraska Junior Academy of Science participants at Wayne State College, April 12. State competition is April 26, 2002 at Nebraska Wesleyan.

Schools participating were: Laurel-Concord, Wayne, Wakefield, Logan View, Columbus Lakeview and Shell Creek.

State Qualifiers were:

Junior Division:
Joe Brogie (Shell Creek); Phillip Goering (Columbus Lakeview); Ryan Brock (Columbus Lakeview); Emily Buryanek (Wayne); Natalie Fendrick (Wayne)

Senior Division:
John Brogie (Columbus Lakeview); Jared Hartman (Laurel-Concord); Kelly Kinzer (Columbus); Nick Dobesh (Columbus Lakeview); Emily Gubbles (Laurel-Concord).

Each student prepared a time-limited presentation with visual aids. Junior high students were given 10 minutes to present their projects.

Senior high participants delivered their projects within 15 minutes. After their presentations, the students were questioned about the scientific content and their understanding of their projects by the judges. Each division's judges met and selected the top five projects.

CPR instructor class will be offered at NECC

Individuals who are qualified in basic life support can learn how to teach these life-saving skills to others with an upcoming CPR Instructors Course at Northeast Community College in Norfolk.

This CPR Instructors Course, with class number HLTH 1720-01/02A, is scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, May 18th and 19th, from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. in the Lifelong Learning Center, Suite L, on Northeast campus in Norfolk.

The course includes background materials, teaching techniques and aids to enable individuals to instruct others in the knowledge of local emergency care systems, understanding of risk factors, signals, and actions for survival and recognition of indications for life support and accurate performance of same.

The cost for the course is $51.25 and students will earn one credit hour for successful completion of the CPR Instructors Course.

Students may register by calling Northeast Community College at (402)844-7265. Students may also register on-line for this course using HawkNET at www.northeastcollege.com and entering call # 10392 at the course registration screen.

TIAs - A Warning Sign For Future Stroke

A TIA, or transient ischemic attack, is a condition that can be a warning sign for a future stroke. The symptoms of a TIA are similar to those of a stroke. Loss of feeling in face, arm or leg on one side of the body, blurred vision, dizziness, etc. The symptoms usually last less than an hour and leave no permanent effects. If you think you may have had a TIA, even if the symptoms have passed, you should see a doctor immediately to determine the cause. With proper medical treatment you can often lower your chance of a stroke.

Tom Osborne to be in Wayne this weekend

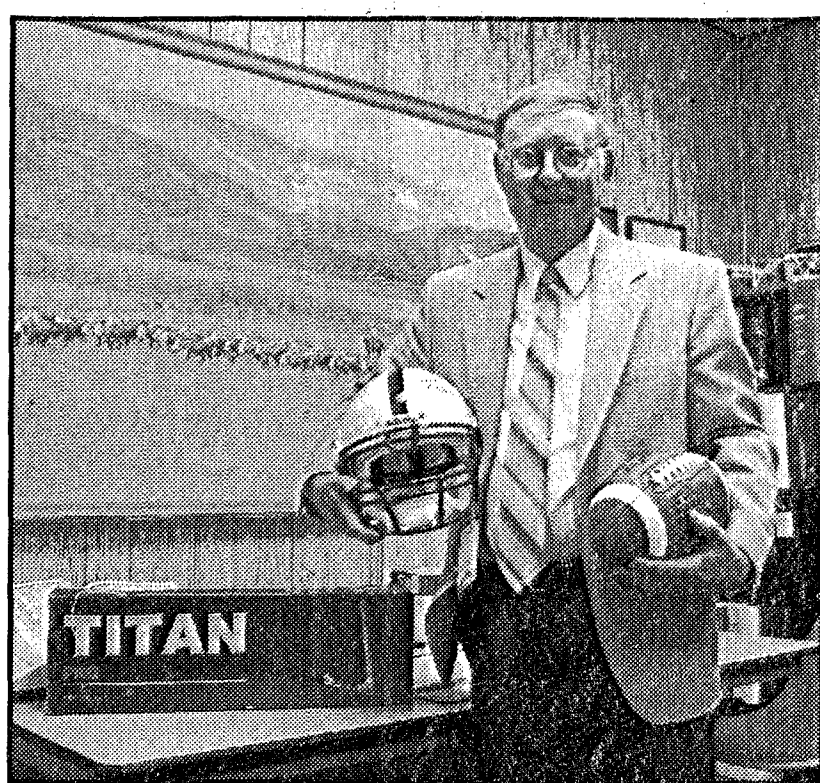

Tom Osborne, founder of the TeamMates™ mentoring program, will be in Wayne on Saturday, April 27 as part of a fund-raising effort for the Wayne TeamMates™ program.

Osborne's visit will be at 6 p.m. on April 27 when the doors open and a silent auction begins at the Frey Conference Suite at Wayne State College. Dinner is scheduled to begin at 6:30 p.m.

Following dinner, a program featuring Dr. Osborne and the introduction of the mentors and mentees of the community will be held.

Time has also been allotted for photo opportunities with Dr. Osborne. These will be sold as part of the fund-raising effort.

At the present time, silent auction items include Husker memorabilia and Wayne State College memorabilia. Local business donations include coupons from Subway; a football signed by Ahmann Green; a down throw from Pacific Coast Feather; a Nebraska Denim Jacket from Legends; a ceramic tea pot with flowers from Antiques on Main; a stein from Rain Tree; one night's stay at Grandma Butch's; two pullover warm-ups and two jerseys from Wayne State College; a Yankee candle from Wayne Greenhouse; a Titan Pro Scooter from K&G Cleaners; 10 Nebraska posters with Osborne's autograph donated by Galen Wiser; an 8 x 10 wooden frame from Jammer Photography; two Beanie Babies from Children's Collections; a $50 Savings Bond from Farmers & Merchants Bank; a box of chocolates from Medicap Pharmacy and a pair of Nebraska gloves from Swan's.

Galen Wiser displays several of the items that will be sold at a silent auction to benefit the TeamMates Program.

Tickets for the event can be purchased by contacting Galen Wiser at State National Bank at (402) 375-1130. They are $25 for adults and $15 for children 12 and under. They will also be available at the door.

TeamMates of Nebraska is a mentoring program modeled after the original program begun by Tom and Nancy Osborne in 1991.

The following are additional testimonials as to the benefits of mentoring as submitted by several current mentors. Together Each week

Always Making time. Mentor and mentee Are a Team Equally Special.

To me, mentoring is making a difference in someone's life.

Through TeamMates, I believe it works both ways - I am making a difference in a child's life and she is making a difference in my life as well. Spending time with my Team Mate is one of my favorite times of the week. The rewards, though may be not obvious to others, are plenty and never ending for each of us.

Jill Domina

I've enjoyed the TeamMates program ever since I started. The hour I spend every Tuesday morning makes me feel good and it puts me in a good mood the rest of the day.

Best of all, I believe the mentee enjoys the time we spend together. We don't do anything special, but I think that I am someone he can talk to. Hopefully, he can learn something from me. I love the strong individuality my mentee portrays. He's not afraid to be himself whether other people like it or not. I enjoy working with younger kids. Younger kids often think they can do anything and they are willing to try anything.

I think as we get older, we sometimes need to think like kids do. We need to believe that we can do anything. Being a mentor and working with the mentee helps me realize this more everyday. It is weird the number of benefits you receive by just sticking your hand out to help.

Northeast Nebraska Humane Society National Event
Be Kind To Animals Week - May 5-11

May 6th: 6:00 p.m. - Sioux Valley Kennel Club - Obedience training demonstration
May 7th: 11:00 a.m.; Nebraska State Patrol Dog Demonstration
May 8th: 12:00 p.m.; Diane Uhing - grooming demonstration
All events taking place at the Willow Bowl and in the event of rain events will be at Rice Auditorium

The Northeast Nebraska Humane Society is devoted to providing for the welfare and the humane treatment of animals in northeast Nebraska. The society is a private, non-profit 501 C 3 organization, depending on donations and volunteer assistance to support a limited shelter for dogs and events to promote the humane care of animals.

Special events in the local schools -- The Wayne elementary school children have decorated grocery sacks to be used by the local grocery stores during Be Kind to Animals Week. Created "Be Kind to Animals" theme posters that will be posted around the community during Be Kind to Animals Week. Decorated donation cans to be distributed around the community. Wrote stories with animals being the theme of the stories. KITCH radio will read a few of the stories. One of the radio personalities will come to the school to record the stories during the week of April 29. The Wayne Herald has been asked to publish several of the stories. Wayne veterinarians and Kim Sperry from Four Paws will visit 4th graders for a Careers class with Ms. Sudiman during Be Kind to Animals Week.

Be Kind to Animals Week Kind Kid Essay Contest -- A special essay contest is being hosted by the Northeast Nebraska Humane Society in conjunction with Be Kind to Animals Week. Kids between the ages of 6 and 13 are eligible to enter this contest and write 2-3 paragraphs about something kind done for an animal during this past year. Essays will be judged by a panel and the top three essays will receive awards and gifts. Winners will be announced and certificates presented on Sunday, May 5 at 3:00 p.m. at the Humane Society animal shelter. Selections of the essays will be published and the winners will have a chance to read their essays over the radio during Be Kind to Animals Week.

The publication of For the Love of Animals (newsletter) -- The first edition of the official newsletter from the Northeast Nebraska Humane Society will be published and distributed. The newsletter includes stories and tales, articles about pet care, plans for the Humane Society, notices about dogs waiting for good homes, and information about Be Kind to Animals Week.

Humane Society Animal Shelter Open House -- On Sunday, May 5 from 2-4 p.m., the Northeast Nebraska Humane Society will be hosting an open house at our Society's shelter. Located one and 1/2 mile south of Wayne on Highway 15 (east side of the road next to the daycare), the animal shelter will be open for tours, meeting the members of the Society, seeing and meeting our animal friends available for adoption, and participating in two other special events Blessing of the Animals at 2:30 p.m., and the announcement of the Be Kind to Animals Week Kids' Essay Contest. Balloons for the kids and refreshments will be served. Look for the sign and balloons with new logo.

Be Kind to Animals Week Dog Walk -- To show off our dogs at the shelter and to draw attention to the American Humane Association national "Be Kind to Animals Week," the friends of the Northeast Nebraska Humane Society and all our shelter dogs will be walking from the shelter to downtown Wayne. Candy and gifts for kids and pets will be handed out along the way in celebration of this special event. Animals and friends of the society will be showing off our dogs and cause starting around 7:00 p.m. on Thursday night, May 9.

Blessing of the Animals -- All pet owners are invited to attend the special ceremony "Blessing of the Animals." This special event will be led by Reverend Ruffcorn, pastor at Our Savior Lutheran Church, and held at the Northeast Nebraska Humane Society Shelter, May 5, at 2:30 p.m. This special event will include Pastor Ruffcorn's words in honor of animals, and followed by a general blessing and individual blessing of the pets brought to the ceremony by visitors. For the safety of the animals, we ask that all people bring their pets to this ceremony with dogs on secure leashes and cats brought in secure carrying cases.

Radio Programs -- The week prior and during the week of the "Be Kind to Animals" celebration friends of the society, elementary students, and program coordinators will be interviewed to talk about the celebration and the special events.

Announcements in the Wayne Herald -- Descriptions of the special events, schedules, locations and information about Be Kind to Animals week and the Northeast Nebraska Humane Society will be run in the Wayne Herald. Other announcements on the local television channel will run as well.

Pet care and Humane education presentations -- On Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday evenings, the Northeast Nebraska Humane Society will be sponsoring three special presentations of interest to pet owners and animal lovers. Running from 5:30-6:30 on the three evenings, a workshop by the Sioux Valley Kennel Club, and demonstration by the Nebraska State Patrol's K-9 unit, and a workshop by a local veterinarian on caring for your pet.

Volunteers are saluted

Each year, thousands of volunteers in Nebraska donate their time and energy to make their communities a better place to live. Those volunteers will be among the millions across the country

Amy Topp
Extension Educator
4-H & Youth

that will be spotlighted during National Volunteer Week, April 21-27, 2002.

4-H is one group that relies heavily on volunteers. This year, 120 volunteers have served as club leaders and project leaders for fourteen 4-H clubs in Wayne County.

Many caring volunteers allow the 4-H program to have a positive impact on youth in the community. Volunteers spend numerous hours working on tasks such as helping organize an event at their club meetings and county fair, or helping a child with a 4-H project or assisting with a community service project.

We may not always take the time to thank volunteers for all that they do, but we want them to realize that they are appreciated everyday. Appreciated for helping provide leadership to over 200 youth who are involved in the 4-H program in Wayne County.

We also know that besides volunteering for the 4-H program, a large number of the 4-H volunteers are also very active in other community organizations. These volunteers are setting a positive example for youth.

Through 4-H and volunteer opportunities, the youth involved in 4-H are also able to experience volunteering as part of service learning projects. This may mean volunteering to help with a project for an elderly neighbor, volunteering to be a part of a community event, pickup road ditches or serving as a youth volunteer leader to share a skill with a younger member. Youth Search Institute (A Minnesota organization that promotes principles of positive youth development), volunteering has been identified as an asset a youth needs to succeed. Many of these assets come through volunteering.

For example, youth who volunteer:

- Develop good relationships with adults;
- Get support from adults;
- Experience caring neighbors;
- Believe their community values them;
- Participate in school or community service;
- Learn actively about civics;
- Take responsibility;
- Plan and make decisions;
- Get along with others from different cultures.

4-H Club volunteers and youth volunteers are only one group of leaders across the state who are instrumental in carrying out the 4-H mission of Nebraska Cooperative Extension. There are numerous individuals involved in various programming efforts of Cooperative Extension who help carry out the Cooperative Extension mission of "putting knowledge to work." The work of Extension volunteers is continuous.

Thank you to everyone who volunteers in the 4-H program, but also to all volunteers in the community who make it a great place to live. It truly is an asset in our community that we can be thankful for.

Friendship Day planned

Women of all faiths are encouraged to attend Friendship Day on Thursday, May 2.

This annual event unites Protestant, Roman Catholic, Orthodox and other Christian women in a common worship experience!

With the theme, "Sharing Our Stories, Healing Our Hearts, Celebrating God's Love," all are invited to hear stories of faith, to share yours and to celebrate the healing power of God's love.

The event begins at 9:30 a.m. on May 2 at the Fellowship Hall at the First United Methodist Church. This is a time to honor young women while celebrating the wisdom of older women.

For more information, contact Dorothy Stevenson at (402) 375-2090.

The Clerk of District Court is: A Public Servant

Most people never see what happens in District Court. But the people who come to Court are often in crisis: Families going through divorce, or child support or custody battles; People who are victims or who are accused of serious crimes; The families of the victims and the accused, all struggling to understand what is happening and to support the people they love.

Elect Experience
Sheryl Connolly for Clerk of District Court
(Republican Candidate)

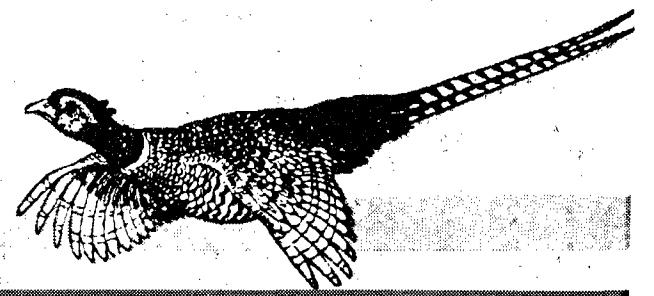

Everyone who has business with the Court should be treated with patience, understanding and respect. Court personnel cannot give legal advice, but my experience and knowledge of the system helps me to help people understand what is happening and what to expect of their court experience. In addition, I can offer quick and effective assistance when it is within my power to do so.

(Paid for by Sheryl Connolly, 2206 Highview Drive, Wayne, NE 68787)

Please join me at the Wayne Senior Center on Wednesday, April 24 at 12:15 to visit and test your knowledge with my county government game. Hope to see you there!

Quilt raffled to raise funds

A quilt, made and donated by Sandra Wriedt and Glenda Reinert, brought in $745 during this past month at Our Savior Lutheran Church.

The money will be given to their sister congregation, Kotela Lutheran Parish in Tanzania.

On Aug. 10, a mission team, which will be comprised of six members of Our Savior Lutheran Church, will depart for Tanzania. Their purpose is to strengthen ties with their companion synod, the Northern diocese of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in Tanzania and with their sister congregation in Kotela.

There is a great need for the renovation of the church building at Kotela and for support of its ministries. The church building is in need of re-roofing, interior as well as exterior walls are in need of repair and the main entrance of the church needs to be reconstructed. The Church of Tanzania is people rich, but financially poor.

For three years Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne has shared a relationship with Kotela Lutheran Parish on the lower slopes of Mount Kilimanjaro in the East African country of Tanzania.

The Kotela Parish is a large congregation with nearly 3,000 adults and 2,000 children. The 100 year old congregation has a rich history and was established after missionaries arrived from Germany in 1893.

Additional projects will be undertaken during the coming months to raise money for the Mission Group to take with them to assist in the renovation. Those making the trip will also have the opportunity to actually assist with the work while they are in Tanzania.

For more information concerning the ministries of Our Savior, contact the church office at (402) 375-2899.

UMW gather

The Wayne United Methodist Women met for a general meeting on April 10 at the church.

President Mona Claybaugh opened the meeting with a devotional reading. There were 20 members present. Minutes were read and approved. There was no treasury report.

An invitation to the Laurel Guest Day on Thursday, May 2 was read.

Church Women United's may Fellowship Day will be held at the Wayne United Methodist Church on Thursday, May 2 at 9:30 a.m. Coffee, juice and a variety of breakfast breads will be served. Donna Shufelt and Norma Ehlers are on the serving committee.

Donna Shufelt, Spiritual Growth Coordinator that she is unable to find a tape. Anyone who has a tape belonging to the UMW Library is asked to let Donna know.

Mona Claybaugh gave a short book review on "Mother Teresa." Hallie Sherry will give the book review in May.

A thank you will be sent to the confirmands for making the Health and School Kits. More will be made by UMW.

Prayer concerns were for Doris Stipp and family, Quenton Preston, Dorothy Brandsfetter and Rosalind Woods.

UMW will purchase the remaining items that Becky and Dick Keidel brought from Guatemala to be used as gifts for our Guest Day. The money will be given directly to a mission of Becky's choice. Guest Day will be Wednesday, June 12.

The secretary gave a short report on the District Meeting held at Osmond. Attending were Mona Claybaugh, Donna Shufelt and Lila Brown.

Connie Webber gave the smile for the day.

The birthday song was sung for Pastor Mary. Mona Claybaugh closed the business meeting with prayer.

Sandra Bartling from Providence Medical Center introduced Marcie Thomas, Administrator of PMC, who gave an informative talk on some of the operations of the hospital.

Serving were Kay Kemp and Eileen Mitchell.

Local youth's artwork published in national collector's magazine

Artwork by Blake Otte, 7-year-old son of Bowdie and Heather Otte, has been published in the April issue of Farm Collector magazine.

Blake drew a picture of a tractor that was accepted for publication in Farm Collector, a national monthly magazine that focuses on the preservation of vintage farm equipment. Children are invited each month to submit relevant artwork for publication.

A first grader at Woodland Park Elementary, Blake is also the grandson of Gerald and Marilyn Otte, and Randy and Diane Pick.

Down payment assistance available

The Wayne Community Housing Development Corporation has four programs that might fit the needs of those thinking of buying a first home or already owning a home that is in need of some repairs.

The Home Purchase/Rehab/Resell (HPRR) utilizes HOME funds from the Department of Housing and Urban Development to provide down payment assistance to any homebuyers who meet the income eligibility requirements and wish to purchase an older single-family residence needing some rehabilitation.

The Wayne Community Housing Development Corporation (WCHDC) works with eligible homebuyers to identify older housing stock that requires improvement to bring them in line with current housing standards. WCHDC will purchase the property, perform the necessary improvements in cooperation with the family's wishes and resell the residence to the family with 20 percent down payment assistance to help make the first mortgage financing possible.

The First-time Homebuyer program offers down payment assistance in the amount of 10 percent of the home purchase price to families whose income falls within 80 percent of the Wayne County median income as prorated by family size. For example, the income of a family of three must be under $33,000.

For households meeting slightly higher income limits, the five percent down payment assistance is offered. The income limits are $44,080 for a one or two-person household and $50,692 for households with three or more persons. Households that may exceed the 80 percent limits and do not qualify for the 10 percent down payment, may still qualify for five percent down if they are within the expanded limits.

A 12 hour Homebuyers Education Workshop will be held Tuesdays and Thursdays, June 4, 6, 11, 13 from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Wayne Area Chamber for First-Time Homebuyers or people who are interested in how the home buying process works.

Some of these programs have limited funding and assistance will be granted on a first-come, first-serve basis and some programs are dependent upon availability of funds.

Anyone who is interested in any of these programs is asked to call Della Pries at the Wayne Community Housing Development Corporation at (402) 375-5266. Business is done in accordance with the Federal Fair Housing Law.

Students earn UN-L scholarships

Area students earning scholarships from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln are: Laura Creamer, Blake Erwin, Jared Hartman, all of Laurel-Concord High School, Rebecca Lance of Stanton High School, Nickolous Ekberg and Kathryn Taber, both of Wakefield High School, and Maggie Heithold, Brad Hochstein, Frank Holm, Andrea Simpson, Heather Stauffer, Ann Temme, all of Wayne High School, and Crystal Jaeger of Winside High School.

More than 1,700 scholarships were awarded to seniors at Nebraska high schools in addition to the 406 Regents Scholarships announced recently.

Scholarships for the local students include: Creamer, Canfield, accounting; Erwin, Canfield, undeclared-arts and sciences; Hartman, Canfield and CLC, animal science; Lance, Canfield, pre-optometry; Ekberg, Canfield, finance; Taber, David, pre-medicine; Heithold, Canfield, undeclared; Hochstein, Canfield, biological sciences; Holm, Canfield, English; Simpson, Canfield, pre-interior design; Stauffer, Canfield, undeclared; Temme, Pepsi, undeclared; Jaeger, Canfield, undeclared.

The scholarships given out by UN-L include: 1,361 James H. Canfield, 159 John and Nettie David, 35 Distinguished Scholar awards, 130 Chancellor's Leadership Class Awards and 54 Pepsi scholarships for outstanding service.

The potential value of scholarships awarded by UNL to Nebraska high school seniors this year is more than $8.3 million.

David and Distinguished Scholar Awards offer full-time students $1,000 annually for up to four years if they maintain a grade-point average of 3.5 or above on a 4-point scale. David Scholarships are funded from a trust established in 1973 by the late Adrian H. David, a former Minneapolis attorney, in honor of his parents. Adrian David was a 1908 graduate of the NU College of Law.

Canfield Scholarships, named for the chancellor who led the University of Nebraska to position of national prominence in the 1890s, offer full-time students a one-year award of $1,000.

Members of the Chancellor's Leadership class are awarded one-year scholarships of $1,000. The award was created to recognize and reward students who have excelled both academically and in leadership roles in school and community activities throughout high school. Members must be full-time students and participate in scheduled Chancellor's Leadership Class activities.

Shear part of Doane College's presentation

Natalie Shear of Wayne was a crew member in the recent Doane College Theatre Department production of "The Last Flapper," by William Luce.

"The Last Flapper" is a one-character play based on the life of Zelda Fitzgerald, wife of F. Scott Fitzgerald. Set in an insane asylum on the last day of her life, the play unfolds as a hypnotic session about her rebellion as a southern belle, her marriage, and her mental disintegration.

Shear is a sophomore at Doane College and is the daughter of Philip and Julia Shear of Wayne.

NSC Board recently establishes Educational Enhancement Fund

The Nebraska State Colleges (NSC) Board of Trustees recently approved a resolution to establish an Educational Enhancement Fund. The fund will be used to support the system-wide Teaching Excellence Award, which recognizes innovation and leadership in teaching and service at the Nebraska State Colleges.

The Teaching Excellence Award includes a $3,000 stipend and was first given in 1985 with funds donated in memory of George Rebensdorf, a former member of the Board of Trustees.

Dr. Sara Brandes Cook, faculty member at Peru, is the recipient of 2002 Board of Trustees Teaching Excellence Award. Dr. Paul Karr, associate professor of chemistry at Wayne State College was a nominee as well as Dr. Mike Leite, associate professor of earth science at Chadron.

Chadron, Peru and Wayne each have a campus Teaching Excellence Award, which provides a stipend of $1,000. Information about the recipients of the college awards is forwarded to the board. A system winner is then chosen through a selection process.

Local Nebraska State College's Board members include Sheryl Lindau, vice chair, and student trustee Jenni Chleboun, a Wayne State College junior, both of Wayne.

The next Trustees meeting will be on April 25 and the following meeting is set for June 10-11 in Omaha.

Supplements Could Save Lives

According to a recent Reuters Health News report based on a study published in Journal of the American Medical Association, persons with high blood levels of the amino acid homocysteine are at special risk for heart attack and death from heart disease. Taking two inexpensive and safe B vitamins - cyanocobalamin (vitamin B-12) and folic acid - could lower homocysteine levels and protect against heart attack and heart disease death.

Researchers developed a computer model to estimate the benefit of grain fortification with vitamins and taking supplements. If individuals with known heart disease took 0.5 mg of B-12 and 1 mg of folic acid daily, about 310,000 fewer persons would die from heart disease over a 10-year period as compared with grain fortification alone. The researchers predicted that supplements also could help some persons with no known heart disease.

New automated caller

'Sub finder' is annoying

There's another invention that has disturbed my sleep lately. It's called "Sub Finder," an automated service that purports to take the place of that poor individual who has been arriving at the Lincoln Public Schools central office at 5 a.m. to begin calling teachers and nurses to ask them to substitute that day.

I had always thought that was a job I wouldn't want. Unless you wanted to work that day, you would not welcome that call at 5:30 a.m.

Since my first obligation is to Tabitha and I am retired, after all, I haven't wanted to work in the schools that often. Typically, the days that I did were arranged by the secretary in the health office when she knew of an impending absence. So, I had not had many of those early calls.

When I did, if I said no, or simply did not get out of bed to answer, that was the end of it.

Not so with Sub Finder, my new torturer. It's totally automated, with a very large menu of numbers to push. It begins calling in the afternoons, even on weekends.

The phone rings, I answer, and a recorded voice says cheerfully, "Hello, this is Sub Finder. Please punch in your PIN." After I punch in my social security number, it announces the job

The Farmer's Wife
By: Pat Meierhenry

it is calling about. If I accept, I punch one number. If I decline, I hit 9. But that's not the end of it. Then, it asks the reason I am declining, with a number for each; no child care, no transportation, etc.

After being called three times for the same job one evening, I learned that I could hit "star" if I did not want to have any more calls for that time period, meaning the next day, right?

So, Thursday evening, I hit star for Friday. Friday morning, at 5:30, it rang, and rang, and rang. Every time the message machine picked up, it stopped, and then began again. I finally stumbled into the kitchen and hit star, but never got back to sleep.

I can't tell it I won't drive into Lincoln for a 2 hour time period, or that I prefer schools on the east side of town. I finally found a Do Not Disturb choice that evening, and hit that for the rest of this week.

Consequently, the phone did not ring until 8:30 this morning, which is why I'm just now leaving for Lincoln! Technology, isn't it wonderful?

Relief is offered to lamb producers for losses

Signup is currently underway for the U.S. Department of Agriculture incentive payments to help ewe lamb producers suffering financial losses due to current poor market conditions, according to the head of the Nebraska Farm Service Agency.

"Nationally, the sheep industry has suffered a sustained drop in profitability and a loss in equity," said Brian Wolford, state executive director for the Nebraska FSA.

"To enhance the competitiveness of the domestic lamb and sheep industry, Agriculture Secretary Ann Veneman authorized an additional $37.7 million to fund the Lamb Meat Adjustment Assistance Program. Of that amount, $26 million will be available as incentive payments to help producers increase the supply of domestic lamb meat."

Applications for the new ewe lamb incentive payments are available at USDA Service Centers. The incentive payments have two application periods. Applications for the first period (Year 3), which lasts from Aug. 1, 2001 through July 31, 2002, are due by Aug. 15, 2002. Applications for the second period (Year 4) which lasts from Aug. 1, 2002 through July 31, 2003, are due by Aug. 15, 2003.

To be eligible, Wolford said producers must purchase or retain a ewe lamb to expand the sheep herd from Aug. 1, 2001 through July 31, 2003. The producer must also certify that each ewe lamb is not older than 18 months of age, has not produced an offspring, does not possess characteristics of parrot mouth, foot rot or scrapie and is identified according to state identification requirements that comply with a USDA Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service approved scrapie program for interstate movement.

Payments will be $18 per ewe lamb, subject to the availability of funds. If application amounts exceed the funding limit of $26 million, USDA will prorate payments. Funds not utilized during the first application period will be carried forward to the next year.

The LMAAP final rule was published in the Federal Register on March 26, 2002. Further information on program restrictions and other LMAAP payments is available from local USDA Service Centers and on FSA's web site at: www.fsa.usda.gov

Soil & Water Stewardship Week - "The Gift of Trees"

The theme of this year's Soil and Water Stewardship Week observance is The Gift of Trees, set for April 28 - May 5. The objective of this year's national observance is to urge citizens to support improved management and conservation of trees and forests from the nearest city street to the most remote hillside.

"In most situations, the knowledge of conserving and managing trees and forests is available. What is needed is the willingness of people to do what is necessary to conserve our natural resources," said Julie Wragge, Information/Education Coordinator for the Lower Elkhorn natural Resources District (LENRD). "The LENRD wants to take the leadership to bring all interested groups and individuals together to discuss how to improve the health of the trees in our area," she added.

Urban trees, from the street trees in front of a store to the large trees in many parks, are extremely important for both ecological and economic reasons. Besides making our cities look nicer, trees help filter pollutants out of urban air, they help reduce runoff from rainstorms, and they buffer "wind tunnels" created by buildings and streets. City planners and individuals who nurture the right mix of trees can do much to reverse the current decline of forest cover in our cities and towns.

Trees have long been an important conservation tool on farms and ranches. Trees and shrubs are planted as windbreaks and shelterbelts around farmsteads, livestock facilities and crop fields. Natural Resources Districts (NRDs) are currently promoting the establishment of buffer strips along rivers and streams to improve water quality and wildlife habitat.

The variety of products we get from trees would surprise most of us. Tree products can include chemicals and dyes, food and spices, clothing, and medicines. Researchers are even studying how to produce electricity and liquid fuels from wood and other crops that can lead to renewable energy sources.

"While you may not be a farmer or forester, there are opportunities to exercise a positive forest stewardship role. We can do that by planting the right tree in the right place. Our actions will affect many generations to come," said Wragge.

To learn more about how you can help conserve natural resources, contact the LENRD at 371-7313.

ATHLETES ANNOUNCED

The 2001-2002 Athletic Banquet was held on Friday, April 19th.

The event recognized all of Allen's High School Athletes and acknowledged them for their accomplishments.

The Agenda for the evening began with a meal of ham, baked potatoes, corn, beans, coleslaw, pasta salad, cake, ice cream and beverage followed by the raffling off of a season pass and raffle item.

Denise Hingst gave a speech on Volleyball and girls track. Dave Uldrich talked on Football & Boys Basketball. Lori Koester spoke on Girls Basketball and Doug Veik told of his boys track team.

The Guest Speaker was Brad Pautsch of Sports Anchor at KTIV Channel 4. Mr. Pautsch spoke on taking advantage of being young and growing up in a small community. He told of some of his high school stories and brought along his high school football jersey to show. The auction then followed. Items auctioned off were the 2 best "seats" in the Allen Gym along with two season passes.

The winner gets their choice of where they would like to sit for the 2002-2003 sports season. Also raffled was a T-shirt autographed by the 2000 Nebraska Volleyball team. Dan Hamil had purchased this T-shirt at the Athletic Banquet 2 years ago and donated back this year it to be raffled.

The final event for the evening was the Senior Athlete Awards. To be eligible for the Senior Athlete Award, they must have participated in at least sports. Those eligible this year were Bryan Gotch, Brett Keitges, Kyle Oswald, Elizabeth Bock, Angela Prochaska, and Katie Koester.

The awards went to Elizabeth Bock, Daughter of Robert and Joy Bock, and Bryan Gotch, son of Larry Gotch and Tom and Cheri Twohig.

NAMED TREE CITY

Allen has been named a Tree City USA by the National Arbor Day Foundation. It is the ninth year Allen has received this national recognition.

The Tree City USA program is sponsored by The National Arbor Day Foundation in cooperating with the National Association of State Foresters and the USDA Forest Service.

To become a Tree City USA, a community must meet four standards: a tree board or department, a tree care ordinance, a comprehensive community forestry program, and an Arbor Day observance.

"More than ever, today we understand the importance of trees to our cities and towns," said John Rosenow, president of The National Arbor Day Foundation. "Trees help clean our air and water, moderate heat and cold, and bring warmth and grace to our homes."

"Tree City USA recognizes communities that have proven their commitment to an effective, ongoing community forestry program," Rosenow added. "Such a program is one marked by renewal and improvement."

LOV-A-LOP EXOTIC ANIMALS

There will be an Antique Car Show at the Lov-A-Lop Exotic Animal Farm on Saturday, April 27 at 10 am. Also on Sunday, April 28 they will be hosting a Picnic for Area Foster Care providers and their foster children.

The event will be held from 2:30 p.m. - 6 p.m. All are invited to come and look at the animals as well as the antique cars!

ROBERTS RECOGNIZED

Everyone is invited to an open house reception held at the Allen Fire & Rescue Building on Friday evening, May 3rd, beginning at 7:30 pm to recognize Darlene Roberts as a 40-year volunteer 4-H leader.

All former members of her club, Pleasure and Profit, are especially invited to attend and thank Darlene for her years of service to the Dixon County 4-H program.

COMMUNITY CLUB

The Allen Community Club met on April 15 for its monthly dinner and meeting at the Village Inn. President Donna Schroeder called the meeting to order.

The secretary and Treasurer's reports were read and approved. The caboose renovation project is well under way. Donna Schroeder will continue with the project by getting the needed decals.

Anyone wishing to donate to this project may send contributions to Ronnie Gotch. Dues of $25 for individual/couple, $35 for a small business, and $50 for a large business can also be given to Ronnie Gotch.

LeAnn Hoffman reported that the Easter Children's Party in the park was successful with over 40 children in attendance and prizes and coloring items donated by the Cash Store.

The visit from the Easter Bunny was a hit with the children. The Community Cleanup day will be on May 8 beginning at 1 p.m. Volunteer drivers and pickups are needed to help the junior high students who will be working.

All items to be taken must be on the curbside. Students will not be allowed to go into houses or garages. Volunteers are also needed to accompany the fifth grade on their fishing trip on May 7. Contact John Werner if you are able to help with this outing.

ViAnn Stange has volunteered to do plantings around town with the Community Club donating money to purchase plants and bulbs.

Garage sales will be held in conjunction with the Isom Swap Meet in June. Anyone wishing to have a garage sale and be included on the map of the sale locations should contact Marcia Rastede.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

American Legion Auxiliary met at the Senior Center on April 8, 2002. President Norma Smith conducted the meeting. Roll call was answered by telling your favorite thing about spring.

It was reported that Sharon Puckett and Kelli Rastede won the grocery baskets at the pancake breakfast.

Poppy Day was set for May 18th. Poster contest information will be delivered to the school soon. Correspondence was read from Beverly Neel and from the Dept. of NE. Norma Smith reported on District Convention in Wakefield.

Hostesses were Mary Lou Koester and Delores Koch; Next month hostesses will be Norma Smith & Jean Morgan.

EVEN DOZEN CLUB MEETS

The Even Dozen Club met on April 16 with Edna Hansen as hostess.

Twelve members answered roll call and Lynnett Hansen was a luncheon guest. President Delores Siebrandt presided at the business meeting. Leona Hammer read the minutes of the last meeting and Donna Roeber gave the treasurer's report. The birthday song honored Leoma Baker on her April birthday. Cards were played following the meeting.

Guest day is planned for the next meeting. Members are to bring a guest and a Mother's Day poem or reading. Verona Henschke will be hostess for the meeting on May 21.

SERVE ALL CLUB HAS MEETING

The Serve All Club met on April 17 with six members present. Edna Hansen was hostess. Six members attended noon luncheon at the Wakefield Senior Center with business meeting following.

Meeting opened with roll call answering the question "If health, time or money were no problem what would be your dream vacation?"

Debt-free seminar scheduled

The Calvary Bible Evangelical Free Church will host a "Debt-Free Prosperous Living" Seminar on Sunday, April 28 from 6 to 9 p.m.

The seminar will help people to learn how they can get completely out of debt, including their home mortgage, in six to eight years. And if they don't have a mortgage, they can get debt free in one to three years.

Attendees will learn specific proven strategies that are designed to get them out of debt in the shortest possible time. They will learn how to operate on cash in a "plastic" society, and how to live without debt the rest of their lives.

They will learn how to do this with their current income and without second jobs or austerity budgets.

Jeff and Sheryl Meyer of Lincoln will be the instructors for this life-changing workshop. They have

AAL HOLDS MEETING

The Aid Association for Lutherans met on April 21 at St. John's Church in Wakefield. Sixteen members were present. Melvin and Neva Kraemer and Edna Hansen served. Larry Baker presided at the business meeting, and Evelyn Linemann read the minutes of the previous meeting. Reports were given on the BRAN activities which will be June 13. The group also discussed the annual bus trip in August.

Larry Baker had the program on the AAL merger with Lutheran Brotherhood, showing slides and discussing information.

The next meeting is May 19 with hosts Les and Elaine Menke and Gene and Delores Helgren.

offered this workshop in business, 40 universities and colleges around the country and in churches. They personally implemented the strategies and concepts they teach before they began sharing it with others.

Debt-Free & Prosperous Living is a Bible-based money management system that melts away personal debt in the shortest possible time. It teaches how to use the money being made to eliminate all their debt - the chief cause of stress in their career, their marriage, their relationships with their children and their whole life.

The three-hour workshop will cover not only the problems with debt and how we get into trouble with it, but it will provide the solutions and look at the definition of prosperous living. Solid answers to the questions about how to invest resources will be given.

People are urged to bring a list of all their debts (principal balances and monthly payment amounts), a pencil and calculator. They then will leave with their own personal debt elimination plan ready to be implemented in their lifestyle.

The cost for the class is $20 per single and $30 per family.
