Wayne is #1 blood donor city

At the beginning of the summer the Siouxland Community Blood Bank announced a new summer donor recruitment campaign, "Heroes Unite, It's About Life!"

The campaign was designed to help sustain the community blood supply throughout the summer when blood donations are normally down and the demand for blood goes up. The theme for the campaign was meant to honor not only the lifesaving blood donors, but community fire, rescue and law enforcement personnel.

The summer campaign encouraged blood donations by stressing community participation in blood drives. From June through September, the blood bank conducted blood drives in over 100 communities in the tri-state region. Blood donors were offered an opportunity to register in support of their local emergency response teams. In doing so, their community was credited a point.

Based on a sponsorship percentage formula, not population, the community with the most participation would receive a sponsored, donated gift certificate of $1,000 to benefit their local fire, rescue and law enforcement squads.

In all, 169 communities in 27 counties were registered by blood donors. The following counties were involved in the campaign: in Iowa — Buena Vista, Calhoun, Carroll, Cherokee, Clay, Crawford, Dickinson, Ida, Monona, O'Brien, Plymouth, Pocahontas, Sac, Sioux and Woodbury; in Nebraska — Boyd, Cedar, Dixon, Dakota, Holt, Knox, Thurston and Wayne; in South Dakota — Bon Homme, Clay, Union and Yankton.

All the communities had significant participation in blood donor drives, but based on the sponsorship formula, the top 25 communities beginning with number one are: Wayne (Neb.), Sutherland (Iowa), Le Mars (Iowa), Hartington (Neb.), Hinton (Iowa), Ida Grove (Iowa), Cherokee (Iowa), Allen (Neb.), Orange City (Iowa), Remsen (Iowa), Sioux City (Iowa), Carroll (Iowa), Sergeant Bluff (Iowa), South Sioux City (Neb.), Pocahontas (Iowa),

Family from Australia enjoys stay

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

Around 18 months ago, Robert Wesener of New South Wales, Australia was in Wayne with a Rotary International GSE (Group Study Exchange) team through his Rotary #9640 in South Wales. He liked it here and wanted to bring his family for a visit. Recently the Weseners were in the California with their son, Rhys, and his baseball team. When the event was finished, the family flew to Nebraska.

Rhys was invited with his fellow 11-year-old teammates to play baseball in Murietta, Calif. His brother, Myles, 9, was the bat boy. Rhys' coach, Brett Ward, is a scout for the Baltimore Orioles and felt the boys would benefit from playing in the United States.

Robert, his wife, Kym, and their boys, along with other Australian families, were in California for 10 days. During their stay, the group went to two major league games, one each in San Diego and Los Angeles, went to Universal

Rotary Club recognizing 'Students of the Week'

The Wayne Rotary Club has recently begun implementing a new program at the Wayne Middle School that they call the Student of the Week.

Members of the Rotary Club began meeting with Middle School Principal John McClarnen shortly after the start of the school year with various ideas of student recognition that would be encouraging and rewarding for the students.

The "Student of the Week" idea was decided upon and officially started the week of Sept. 16-20. It is a recognition program open to all 7th and 8th grade students at Wayne Middle School. Any teacher or staff who works at the Middle School can pick up a nomination form in the office, fill it out and return it to the office.

Criteria for this award are many and include having a good attitude or an improvement in attitude, respectfulness toward teachers or other classmates, cooperation, good deeds done in or out of the classroom, kindness, extra work on a special project, etc. There is an area on the form for the nominator to write reasons why they are nominating a particular student, so various things can warrant a nomination.

Each week the student's name, parents name, reason for nomination and the nominator are announced at the Rotary meeting on Wednesday mornings. A certificate is signed by the Rotary president and taken to the Middle School where it is signed by Mr. McClarnen and presented to the student in the class in which they were nominated (if possible).

"We hope this recognition program will be a self-esteem builder and also something that all 7th and 8th graders will want to try to achieve. Our group felt it was important to recognize the good things that kids do and hopefully through this award program, it will encourage others to try and go above and beyond what is just normally expected of them. We have a motto on the award that states, 'do what is right - even if no one else sees you.' We felt that best described what we were hoping to achieve and pass along to junior high students," said Lori Carollo, Rotary member. "Mr. McClarnen has been wonderful to work with on this project and very supportive of our efforts. But the most rewarding part is going into the classroom and presenting the award in front of their peers. No matter what age you are, it always feels good to make another person smile!"

The Wayne Rotary Club meets at Tacos and More every Wednesday morning at 7 p.m. They invite anyone who might be interested in their civic and community work to join them as a guest. For more information about Rotary, you can contact Vicky Jones at 375-4432, Wilma Moore at 375-3098, or Dan Rose at 375-2340.

Studios and to Disneyland.

As for baseball experience, after visiting the facilities at San Diego State University, Jim Dietz (who coached at the University for over 30 years) drove an hour to Murietta to watch the boys play. At Dodger Stadium, the boys were able to go onto the field to watch the teams during batting practice and while they were there, Tommy Lasorda asked if he could give them a motivational talk.

At the end of their 10-day stay, most of the families went back to Australia but Weseners' stayed in the United States. They flew to Lincoln and were picked up by Merle and Darlene Jansen (he is past district governor for Rotary #5650 - this area). Weseners' were in Lincoln sightseeing awhile.

Jansens' drove them to Wayne where they stayed with the Dan and Kyle Rose. Through Rotary, Roses' often have visitors stay with them. They have Hsiung Yun-Pei (or David as he likes to be called) from Taiwan living with them while he's attending Wayne High School.

Dan led a GSE team to Australia around the same time Robert was here last year, so they met each other in Australia and again in Nebraska. After Robert was in Nebraska in 2001, he met up with Kym in Chicago and traveled to New York and Washington, D.C. Their sons never rode an airplane before so the trip to California and here was quite an experience for them. While in Nebraska, they attended a Huskers game and a high school football game between Lincoln East and Lincoln High.

"While we were at Dan and Kyle's, it was interesting watching the boys talk with David," Kym said. "The boys have been trying to learn Chinese. You don't see the language barrier. That's lovely."

Through Rotary, we've had people stay with us from Switzerland, Sweden, and Brazil," Robert said. "It's very interesting."

While the Weseners like the U.S. and the friendly people, they feel our country is an "upside down" place. Some examples include our light switches flip the opposite direction as in Australia, we drive on the other side of the street, we walk on sidewalks (which they call footpaths) opposite sides than they do, and our jacket zippers open/shut to the other side than those in Australia.

Other differences, they call "Sprite" pop, lemonade; here it's not pop and it's not fizzy. Also, we eat jello with fruit as a salad and serve it with the main course; there it would be served with ice cream as a dessert. Another difference, we celebrate Halloween much more so that they do. Different too is the currency; right now the rate of exchange is not very good. It takes almost double their money to be the same amount as ours.

Overall, many things are similar between the two countries as Australia is influenced by America a lot through T.V. programs.

While the rest of us are dreading the coming of snow, Kym anxiously waited to see it during their visit here. She was glued to the window watching for the white stuff and was quite upset when she found it was too early to see it. The temperatures are sub-tropical in Australia (summers are 90-100 F. with high humidity and high 30s F. for lows in the winter). There is no snow where Weseners live and only a small part of Australia ever gets snow.

Summing up their stay in the U.S. and here, Kym said, "It's been sensational, wonderful; the hospitality has been out of this world. People have been so kind; they've gone out of their way to be nice to us." Weseners left for Australia last week.

Internationally, regionally, and locally, Rotary works on helping promote peace and good will.

All-State Singers and Concert Choir.

Public power in Nebraska

Although only about 25 percent of the nation's electricity customers are served by a consumer-owned electric utility, in Nebraska, that number is 100 percent.

During the month of October, utilities across the nation are celebrating the tradition of public power. Nebraska Public Power District, as one of the largest utilities in the state, is proud to celebrate this tradition as well. We supply electricity to most of the state — directly or indirectly through one of our wholesale partners.

You already know this summer has been hot and dry, placing even more demand on our system than almost any of us could have imagined. In fact, our customers have used 28 percent more electricity than we expected them to — mainly due to increased irrigation and air conditioning needs. The most important part of that statistic to us is this: you never noticed a thing. No blackouts, no brownouts. NPPD power plants across the state worked 24 x 7 to produce reliable, dependable energy for you regardless of the increase in demand. And in fact one of the power plants, Gerald Gentleman Station near North Platte, recently was ranked number two in a national survey of coal plants providing electricity at the lowest possible cost.

That same survey of top plants also recognized the Nuclear Management Company of Hudson, Wis. for having the number one nuclear plant in the nation in terms of producing power at the lowest possible cost. NPPD is negotiating with NMC to operate its nuclear plant, Cooper Nuclear Station in southeast Nebraska. NMC's track record of improving performance and lower costs are two of the major reasons why we're negotiating with them. NPPD will still own Cooper, so its publicly owned status is not in question. And, since NMC owns several nuclear plants around the country, it enhances the employment potential of our employees. NPPD remains committed to the safe operation of Cooper Nuclear Station and we are proud to say that preliminary reports from the Nuclear Regulatory Commission indicate we have passed an extensive exercise conducted recently on the plant's ability to respond to an emergency.

Linemen are the more visible part of any utility, including ours. NPPD is very proud of its transmission and distribution crews who maintain thousands of miles of lines across the state. Reliability on our transmission system exceeds the regional average. And our crews are the only ones in Nebraska using the "bare hand" method of repairing power lines, which means working on power lines while they're still energized. Our crews are highly skilled and deliver on our promise every day to make sure the power is always there when you need it.

Because storms and outages don't confine themselves to an 8 to 5 schedule, neither do we. When you have a downed power line, you'll find someone at our Norfolk-based call center answering the phone around the clock.

In addition to producing reliable, dependable power, we know you want power at the best possible rates. Rates in Nebraska are 20 percent below the national average. This is because as a publicly owned utility, we are able to provide electricity at the cost of service. Even so, we strive constantly to lower our cost of service, and have embarked on a cost-containment effort that has cut $20 million from our budget over the last year.

NPPD's management and locally elected board of directors strive to provide you with reliable, responsive, electric service. We're directly accountable to the people we serve and working hard to be good stewards of your assets. Thank you for trusting us with the investment you've made in public power and the opportunity to serve you.

Nebraska Public Power District*

Dealing with the death penalty

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

The upcoming special session of the Legislature is virtually certain to put a new version of the death penalty in Nebraska's law books.

Sen. Ernie Chambers of Omaha may fight against it mightily, eloquently and at length, but it is hard to imagine a Unicameral majority failing to enact new life-taking authority for the state.

The recent massacre of five people during a botched bank robbery put the death penalty at the top of state government's agenda.

Those suggesting that the senseless bloodletting in Norfolk didn't prompt this gathering of the Legislature would probably argue, straight faced, that the iceberg didn't prompt the Titanic to take on water.

For folks who have the time and inclination to watch the proceedings broadcast by public television, it will also offer some instructive debate.

Discussions will include the appropriateness of the death penalty per se, whether a new law must be passed quickly to make certain the death penalty can be sought in each case where prosecutors wish to seek it, whether the instrument of death should be chemical instead of electrical, and whether to comply with the U.S. Supreme Court's decision that juries (not judges) should decide a sentence of death. Without the latter, Nebraska's days of state-ordered death would be over.

It wouldn't do any harm, and it might do a lot of good, to include a section on mandatory DNA testing of defendants and evidence in applicable cases. A lot of guys have been released from death row around the country on the basis of "actual innocence," proved by DNA.

By now, anyone marginally aware of the legal process knows that any new law is destined to spend years going up and down the judicial ladder before getting final approval, or rejection, from the federal courts. It will be a portion of every death penalty appeal for years to come.

A footnote: Did you know that in the 1980s the Nebraska Legislature passed a measure repealing the death penalty? Gov. Charles Thone successfully vetoed the measure that had the support of such legislative legends as the late Sens. Jerome Warner of Waverly and Richard Marvel of Hastings.

Clarifying a recent press release

Dear Editor,

I feel that I must respond to the Wayne Police Department's press release describing a dispute that occurred after a dance held at Riley's on Sept. 26. It was inaccurate and factually misleading. There are many errors in the "facts" that were reported.

It was Riley's security staff members and I who broke up the fight and dispersed the crowd that night, not the police. By the time the state troopers arrived, there were less than 40 spectators and employees remaining at the scene. Another inaccuracy stated the Wayne police received a call concerning an unconscious man, when in fact the police were already on the scene when the fight occurred and the person was knocked unconscious. (It should be noted that this fight was the first incident that has occurred during or after any events at Riley's this entire year.) The two perpetrators were not locals or Wayne State College students. It was Riley's security staff that restrained the two culprits and turned them over to the police.

As for the rumors that weapons were going to be brought into future dances, they are false acquisitions that were brought to the public's attention in an effort to discourage and scare people from attending future dances.

In addition to these false statements in the press release, there have been other recent occurrences that have been disturbing to our business. On 14 different occasions this year, police officers have visited Riley's to check for minors in possession (none of which have been found on any visit) and to check on the accuracy and validity of the liquor license.

Riley's has also received several visits by officers because of noise complaints from the music. Two of these visits have resulted in citations for noise disturbances that have yet to be proven. The noise levels outside the building measure only 0.5 on a 0 to 10 noise meter scale, certainly not out of line for a convention center in a commercial district.

Inappropriate and unnecessary comments said to me by local police authorities have led me to believe that in the last paragraph of his press release where the Chief of Police states that "he and his officers certainly don't want to discourage people from attending dances at Riley's . . ." is exactly what they are intending to do.

Riley's promotes and produces dances in a fun, safe, well-mon-tored environment. Binge drinking events are not promoted nor condoned. Alcohol is never given away for pennies or nickels to promote business. We believe that these types of binge drinking promotions not only addict young people to alcohol, but can also cause death on occasion.

The dances at Riley's are safe. The well-trained security staff members are capable of dealing with and handling the large crowds that occur on Thursday nights. They did an outstanding job on the night of Sept. 26 and had the situation well under control before the police became involved.

Johnson room; Evelyn Johnson and daughters, the west bedroom and powder room and Tracy Keating, the office.

Members of the committee decorate the butler's pantry and back staircase as well as exterior of the museum.

The formal affair will include wine and hors d'oeuvres. Guests may purchase invitations to the event from any of the committee members. They are $15 each or $30 per couple. Special entertainment surprises will occur throughout the evening.

In addition, those in attendance will be able to purchase a glass of champagne for $10. Each glass will have either a genuine diamond or cubic zirconium.

On Sunday afternoon, Dec. 1, there will be an open house at the museum. Free will donations will be accepted for the tour and coffee, hot cider and cookies will be served. Everyone is invited to come visit the museum and see the decorations and enjoy the Christmas spirit in an old-fashioned setting.

"This is our third Christmas Gala we have held for the benefit of the museum. We have been overwhelmed by how the community, individuals and local business have supported us so generously. We hold this event every other year and truly appreciate the generosity of so many within our community," committee members stated.

The museum, which was built in 1900 for Dr. W.C. Wightman and his family, is in constant need of upkeep. Funds from prior years went to the restoration of the bathroom to its original era, a new roof and the painting of the exterior.

Funding for the heat, water and upkeep of the museum comes primarily from donations. The two museums located in Wayne County are allocated a total of $2,500 per year from County funds.

Each year the museum is open on Sundays during the summer months for visitors. This year, approximately 150 persons toured the house.

Wayne Problem Resolution Team
What does the city do with nuisance complaints? What is considered a nuisance?

Most communities receive nuisance complaints in the City Clerk's office and refer them to the police department or city attorney's office. Wayne established a review committee three years ago to field complaints about nuisances within the city limits. The team consists of representatives from the city zoning office, city council, police department, city clerk and administrator, utilities, county welfare office, WSC housing office and Wayne Housing Development Corporation.

The team meets once a month in the city council room and reviews complaints received about unsightly accumulations of debris, potentially dangerous property, excess occupancy over the permitted four unrelated persons in a residence, etc. The team decides whether to move forward on a complaint and have someone contact the property owner or whether to dismiss the complaint because of lack of authority or because it is not considered a problem.

Many times when a property owner is contacted, the issue is resolved without further involvement. If there is a building or zoning violation and the problem is not resolved, we begin a written notice process to document the notice and resolution process and make sure the problem gets fixed. By statute, the city council established the laws through ordinances and the team members and departments enforce the laws in cooperation with the city attorney.

The Problem Resolution Team is generally guided by the International Property Maintenance Code 2000, city nuisance ordinances and the Wayne Zoning Ordinance. Copies of these are available in the city office.

Some complaints don't go to the team. Those complaints regarding unmowed weeds and lawns are referred directly to the public works department for notification and follow-up. We give notice to mow by a certain date and we mow the property and bill the owner if the property isn't mowed by the required time. Abandoned car complaints, noise and disturbance complaints are handled directly by the police department.

The team is headed by the police chief, Lance Webster and the city planner, George Ellyson.

At a ceremony on Oct. 15 in Sioux City, the top 10 communities were invited to receive certificates, and the winning community was

The community of Wayne had the highest participation percentage and was awarded the donated gift certificate of $1,000 by Janette Twait, executive director of the Siouxland Community Blood Bank.

"The Siouxland Community Blood Bank would like to thank all the communities in our region for their participation in the summer 'Heroes Unite: It's About Life!' campaign. We are pleased to award the First Place sponsored

Public Power Month to be observed

October has been designated as Public Power Month and in observance of this event, the Wayne Municipal Electric Utilities will be hosting an open house on Friday, Oct. 25 at the facility at 208 South Main in Wayne.

The open house will be held from 9 to 11 a.m. with the Chamber Coffee to be held at 10 a.m.

The Wayne Municipal Electric Utilities division is divided into two parts. The Electrical Distribution Department, headed by Garry Poutre, has four other employees. The Electrical Generation Department, headed by Gene Hansen, has five other employees. These crews have an average of 20 years of experience with the Wayne department.

Hansen said that while the summer was hotter and dryer, his department was not required to generate electricity, as has been the case in the past.

The city of Wayne and surrounding area receive most of the electrical power from the Nebraska Public Power District. However, approximately 18 percent of the power comes from federal government dams.

Electrical loads have grown one to two percent per year in both the city of Wayne and in Nebraska. However, due to increased efficiency and the building of additional generation equipment, electricity has been available at reasonable rates.

Honor coffee is held prior to school board

Wayne Community Schools Board of Education held an honor coffee prior to their meeting Monday night. They recognized the German students from Steinheim who are here for three weeks through the German-American Partnership Program 2002. And, also the National Merit semi-finalists and commended student at Wayne High School.

Wayne has been part of the exchange program with Germany for at least three years. Through the program, Wayne High German class students accompanied their teacher, Mrs. Zahniser last year to Germany.

The German students, three boys and six girls, are staying with local families during their stay in Wayne. They are in the 12th grade and have been attending classes with their host brother/sisters most of the time but also visit other classes; especially those they don't have at their school. While here, the group visited various tourist attractions in the area; Ashfalls was one of the spots they stopped at and they have been on a few field trips.

Their teacher is Elisabeth Diekniete; she is accompanying them and staying with Katja Hawlitschka. The German students are staying with: Sarah Wedegaertner- Emily Buryanek (Don); Katharina Sieg- Leigh Campbell (Paul); Annika Raedeker- Brandon and Katie Echtenkamp (Larry); Sebastian Siesenop- Jon Ehrhardt (Lonn); Jutta Hoffmann- Elysia Mann (Les); Carmen Kroeger-David Headley; Kerstin Groth-Adam Rudin (Catherine); Julian Behrens- Nathan Shapiro (Charles); Michael Weber- John Whitt (Ron).

As for the National Merit Finalists, they are: Britani Bethune, Elysia Mann, Andy Martin, and Leigh Campbell is the commended student. They are currently seniors.

To become a National Merit Finalist, the student must be enrolled full time in high school, be a US citizen, be fully endorsed and recommended by high school principal, have record of consistently high grades, complete Merit application, and take SAT I and earn confirming scores.

The students will be notified after the first of the year of the National Merit winners.

Through their monthly honor coffees, the school board recognizes their students' achievements.

National Merit semi-finalists include Andy Martin and Elysia Mann. Not in photo, Britani Bethune, and commended student Leigh Campbell.

School Board approves tax rate

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

A tax request hearing notice was held prior to the Wayne Community Schools Board of Education meeting Monday night. Requested was a 1.31 property tax rate for 2002-03.

Dr. Joe Reinert, superintendent, and Dr. Jean Blomenkamp, board member, attended the Northeast Nebraska Superintendent's Meeting at Wayne State College recently. Blomenkamp noted Dr. Doug Christensen, state education commissioner, was there speaking on assessment of standards.

He said the state would set assessments and they were impressed with the Wayne assessment model which takes the standards at grades 4, 8 and 11 and breaks them down into lower level standards that must be accomplished at the lower grade levels to achieve the standards at grades 4, 8, and 11. Dr. Christensen said they will use the Wayne model in their assessment.

Dr. Christensen talked about the "No Child Left Behind" program and the rules for NCLB are not out yet so schools should wait before changes are made. He noted education is the legal responsibility of the state, not the federal government.

The board approved the tax rate requested. Also approved was a bid with Waste Connections of Nebraska, Inc. They had the low bid of $325 per month.

Dr. Don Zeiss, Wayne High School principal, spoke on graduation requirements. The board discussed a graduation requirements survey sent to the school from Auburn Senior High School Principal Duane Backstrom. Zeiss noted 220 credit hours are required at Wayne High for graduation and on the list of schools, that number is average. He said many students graduate with around 270-290 credits as they have to take seven classes a semester.

Zeiss also discussed student fee waivers and remarked few have come back into his office. It's required the forms have to be filled out specifying what they want waived. He noted students must meet criteria to have fees waived. For example, to have an Activity tickets fee waived, the student must be eligible for free or reduced meals and apply for waiver.

John McClarnen, Middle School principal, spoke on the landscape design for a reading garden at the Middle School which was selected by the Wayne Rotary Club. He noted the school could help with upkeep of the garden during the year and outside organizations could keep it up during the summer. He said there are grants for such projects. Also, Rotary contacted him on their 7-3 grade Student of the Week program they've started.

McClarnen mentioned the Kiwanis Club donated $260 to the school for a 5th grade field trip to Lincoln.

Kraig Lofquist, SPED director, spoke on state legislation calling for para-professionals in special education to have 2-year degrees by 2004-05.

Rocky Ruhl, athletic director, gave an update on the new track. He noted the last coat of latex has been applied and polyurethane will be applied hopefully Friday (temperature has to be at least 50 degrees or more). It must cure and then stripes will be painted on it. Then, the track should be finished except for some dirt work that needs to be done.

Dr. Reinert spoke on the new formula for state aid which is broken down in tiers. The basic funding would be adjusted if the system has less than 390 students, is in the standard cost grouping, and the high school district does not receive federal funds in excess of 25 percent of the general fund budget. Schools with less than 390 students will get half state aid. This formula could close small schools.

The board reviewed the map of Phase III of the Vintage Hill addition. City ordinance calls for the school board to be notified of property changes in town.

Discussion was held on safety procedures for lock down and how the process went when the tragic shootings in Norfolk took place recently. Dr. Reinert noted while the school locked down soon after the shootings, agencies need to let schools know sooner when an emergency event takes place.

Dr. Blomenkamp spoke on a recent foundation meeting. She also noted Mr. Metteer was voted foundation president.

No executive session was held. The next school board meeting is set for Monday, Oct. 28 at noon at the board room at The Oaks in Wayne.

Taking a ride

Students, parents and teachers from Goldenrod Hills Headstart load on to the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department's 1936 fire truck for a ride. The ride followed a tour of the department's new facility during Fire Prevention Week. More than 200 students from pre-school through early elementary learned about fire prevention during the week.

Wayne softball team wins district title

by Mike Grosz
Of the Herald

A memorable opening campaign of Wayne High School girl's softball added another page or two to its scrapbook by winning the Class C District title in Columbus last week.

The Blue Devils will take an 18-3 record to the State Tournament in Omaha today (Thursday) and tomorrow (Friday) at the Seymour Smith Complex.

Wayne posted wins over three state ranked teams to capture the district title.

The Blue Devils, who were ranked fourth at the time in Class C, opened play last Thursday with a 2-0 win over seventh-ranked Boone Central.

Wayne scored single runs in the first and fourth innings and used solid pitching from sophomore Molly Hill to pick up the win.

Hill yielded just one hit in the game while striking out 14 Cardinal batters.

Offensively, Wayne had five hits in the game. Hill was 2 for 3 with an RBI. Ashley Carroll, Missy Nissen and Dawn Jensen added a single each.

Wayne then faced second-ranked Columbus Lakeview in the winner's bracket final with the Blue Devils rallying for a 4-2 win.

Lakeview took advantage of several Wayne errors to take a 2-0 lead in the top of the fourth inning.

Wayne responded with one run in the bottom of the fourth to make the score 2-1.

The Blue Devils erupted for three runs in the fifth inning to take the lead for good.

Carroll, Hill and Rachel Robins each produced RBI hits in the big inning.

Wayne then preserved the lead with several great defensive plays made by Jill Anderson and Missy Nissen.

Wayne had four hits in the game. Tamara Schardt, Hill, Nissen and Jill Anderson each singled.

Hill was the winning pitcher, allowing three hits and two runs, both were unearned. She struck out eight and did not allow a walk.

Friday, Wayne faced Lakeview again in the championship game with the Blue Devils prevailing 4-3 in 8 innings.

Lakeview held a 2-1 leading heading into the top of the seventh inning. But Wayne took the lead by scoring two runs, only to see Lakeview tie the game at 3-3 in the bottom of the seventh.

In the top of the eighth inning, Tamara Schardt's sacrifice fly to right field scored Jean Pieper with the game winning run.

Pieper was 2 for 4 in the game to lead Wayne offensively. Hill, Carroll and Robins each added singles.

"One of our goals at the start of the season was to win districts," said head coach Rob Sweetland. "The girls worked hard for it and reached it."

He also praised his team's defensive play. "We made some great plays in the field, they never quit while trailing several times to Lakeview."

Sweetland also complimented the throwing of Molly Hill. "She had to throw into the wind during both Lakeview games. She did a great job of keeping the ball down."

Wayne now takes an 18-3 record to the State Tournament and the Wayne coach likes his team's draw. "We are the #3 seed and I like that because Cozad is on the other side."

Sweetland says he wants his team to enjoy the state experience. "I want the girls to compete, play hard and stay focused. If they do those things, good things will happen. We have to take things one game at a time."

Wayne meets #6 seed Milford (16-11) at 10 am in the opening game of the tournament, which is double-elimination.

Wayne girl's golf team places fifth at state

by Mike Grosz
Of the Herald

The Wayne girl's golf team placed fifth at the Class B Nebraska Girls State Golf Tournament in Grand Island Monday and Tuesday.

The Blue Devils battled windy conditions on the opening day to post a 369 team score, good for fifth place. A cooler, but milder, day greeted golfers Tuesday with Wayne shooting six strokes better at 363. Wayne's two-day team score was 732.

Omaha Dueschne posted a 682, including a 330 on the final day, to win the state title. Ogallala was second at 700, followed by Columbus Scotus with 706 and York fourth at 718.

Senior Amy Harder picked up the runner-up medal for the second straight year.

Harder carded rounds of 83 and 76 for a two-day total of 159. Kristin Carney of Waverly shot a Class B record 72 in the final round to take individual honors with a 154 two day score.

ing, shooting rounds of 102 and 109 for 211.

"I wasn't disappointed with our performance," said head coach Dave Hix. "I don't think we played to our potential, but close to it. Our goal heading into the second day was for each player to improve five shots from the first day."

Hix praised the play of his two seniors, Harder and Summerfield. "They were a big part of our success over the years. Amy has played in four state tournaments, Megan in three." On losing the two seniors, Hix added "you can't replace experience."

He also said that this state tournament was beneficial for the younger players too.

"It was the first time at a state tournament for Mary, Karissa and Amy. They all gained valuable experience which I hope will help them next year."

Hix said it was another successful season for Wayne High girl's golf.

"I was very pleased with how the girls handled themselves throughout the year. We gained a lot of ground from the start of the season to the state tournament."

Junior Karissa Dorcey shot rounds of 100 and 95 in her first ever state tournament.

Creighton manhandles Laurel-Concord team

Laurel-Concord dropped its fifth straight game Friday evening in high school football, falling at Creighton 63-6.

The Bulldogs raced out to a 35-0 lead after the first quarter and led 56-6 at halftime.

Laurel-Concord's lone score of the game came in the second quarter when quarterback Eric Nelson hit Marc Manganaro on a 70-yard touchdown pass.

Manganaro ended the game with 11 catches for 222 yards and one touchdown.

Throwing the ball, Nelson was 15 of 40 for 279 yards. He had one touchdown and two interceptions.

However, Laurel-Concord gave up 480 yards in rushing to Creighton.

"We had some blown assignments early on defense and against a good team like Creighton, they took advantage and put us behind by a big score early," said head coach Mike Halley.

Eric Nelson was the top rusher with 30 yards on nine carries for the Bears. Cassidy Neuhalfen added 27 yards on nine carries.

In receiving, Bret Burns added two catches for 35 yards and Tim Schroeder had two receptions for 22 yards.

On defense, Nelson, Ray Stanley and Philip Nelson each had 14 tackles to lead Laurel-Concord. The Bears, now 1-5, host Crofton Friday evening at 7 pm.

Strong second half keeps Wakefield Trojans unbeaten

The Wakefield Trojan football team used a strong second half to rally and win at rival Emerson-Hubbard last Friday evening 20-7.

Emerson-Hubbard put together a 90-yard drive in the second quarter, aided by several Wakefield penalties, to take a 7-0 halftime lead.

Wakefield tied the game in the third quarter at 7-7 when Toan Nguyen scored on a five-yard run.

The Trojans took the lead in the fourth quarter when quarterback Luke Hoffman scampered 69 yards for a score, putting Wakefield up 14-7 after Jeff Banholzer's PAT kick.

Hoffman added a 34-yard run to seal the win, making the final score 20-7.

"Emerson came out very physical and tried to mix in some play-action," said head coach Justin Smith. "We can't make mistakes like we did in the first half and expect to win playoff games. The mistakes are fixable however."

Luke Hoffman had another stellar night rushing the ball for Wakefield. The junior had 178 yards on 20 carries along with two scores. Toan Nguyen added 76 yards on 14 attempts with one score.

Defensively, Hoffman led the team with 15 tackles. Kyle Gardner added 11 tackles, one interception and one fumble recovery.

Wakefield will take a 6-0 record on the road to Homer Friday evening.

WSC spikers take two NSIC matches at home

by Mike Grosz
Of the Herald

The Wayne State volleyball team moved into second place in the Northern Sun Conference standings with a pair of home wins over the weekend.

The Wildcats swept Winona State in three games Friday evening and needed five games Saturday to outlast Concordia-St. Paul.

Wayne State hit .373 to sweep the Warriors Friday night, 30-27, 30-28 and 30-17.

Senior middle hitter Laurie Schroeder of Laurel-Concord led a balanced hitting attack with nine kills. Linsey Boehm and Rayna Nelsen followed with eight each. Jacey Kuck and Chelse Schultz added seven apiece.

Kasey Meyer contributed 35 set assists and on defense, Winside freshman Julie Jacobsen led the way with nine digs. Libero Janel Moody followed with seven.

Kuck and Nelsen had four blocks each.

Saturday, the Wildcats outlasted Concordia-St. Paul in five games to take sole possession of second place in the NSIC. Scores were 32-30, 30-18, 18-30, 23-30 and 15-12.

Nelsen had 18 kills to lead Wayne State in hitting. Schultz added 12 kills, Schroeder had 11 and Kuck finished with 10.

Defensively, Jacobsen recorded 22 digs with Moody adding 14. Kasey Meyer had 12 digs and Kuck finished with 11.

Meyer recorded 52 set assists and Nelsen had five blocks.

The Golden Bears held a slight edge in hitting, .221-.205, but Wayne State capitalized on 14 service errors by Concordia-St. Paul. "Every win is a good win, but the Concordia win was huge," said head coach Sharon Vanis. "Our seniors really came through when we needed it the most."

Tuesday evening, the Wildcats lost a non-conference match at Augustana, falling in four games by scores of 22-30, 29-31, 30-25 and 27-30.

Rayna Nelsen had 18 kills for the Wildcats. Laurie Schroeder added 13.

Libero Janel Moody had 15 digs to lead the Wildcats defensively with Kristin Linderman and Julie Jacobsen adding 10 each. Kasey Meyer recorded 50 set assists.

Last Wednesday, the Wildcats lost a tough battle at home to 10th-ranked South Dakota State in four games, 30-25, 23-30, 26-30 and 22-30.

Wayne State hit just .181 in the match.

The Wildcats were led in hitting by seniors Rayna Nelsen and Laurie Schroeder, who had 14 kills each. Chelse Schultz added 11.

Kasey Meyer had 49 set assists in a losing effort while libero Janel Moody paced the team defensively with 19 digs.

Wayne State now sports a record of 14-11, 6-1 in the NSIC. The Wildcats hit the road this weekend, playing at #2 Minnesota-Duluth Friday evening and at Bemidji State Saturday.

Coach Vanis says the Wildcats can compete with Duluth. "We matchup pretty well with them in the middle. The key will be stopping their outsides. We won in Duluth last year, so we know we can win there."

Libero Janel Moody, a senior from Sioux City Heelan, makes a dig during Saturday's match against Concordia-St. Paul with teammate Linsey Boehm (6) looking on.

Wildcats win at Crookston

The Wayne State College football team won their first game of the season Saturday, a 17-10 triumph at Minnesota-Crookston.

The game was played in blustery conditions, with periodic snow showers, chilling winds and temperatures in the 30's.

Crookston scored first on a John Banks run of nine yards to give the Golden Eagles an early 7-0 cushion. The Wildcats answered on the following drive when Mell Holliday scored from one yard out, capping an eight-play, 63 yard drive to tie the score at 7-7 with 3:30 left in the first quarter.

The lone score in the second quarter came on a Nate Hale 38-yard field goal with just :14 left, into a stiff north wind, to put the Wildcats up 10-7 at halftime. Crookston tied the game at 10-10 with 8:22 left in the third quarter when Dane Johnson connected on a 34-yard field goal.

The Wildcats then battled with the Golden Eagles before coming up with the game winning score early in the fourth quarter.

Sophomore quarterback Brett Edwards found Eric Kjar on a 38-yard pass with 11:06 left in the game. Nate Hale's extra point kick was good to give the Wildcats a 17-10 lead.

A stingy Wildcat defense, which forced six turnovers in the game, held Crookston the rest of the way to secure the win.

It was Wayne State's first road win since the end of the 2000 season when the Wildcats won at Minnesota-Morris, snapping a six-game road losing streak.

Head Coach Scott Hoffman said the key to the game was stopping Crookston when they had the wind at their back. "Our defense came up with some big plays and when we had the wind at our back, we scored. That was the difference."

Wayne State held a slight edge in total offense over the Golden Eagles 222-217. The Wildcats had 150 yards passing and 72 rushing. Minnesota-Crookston had 18 first downs to just nine for WSC.

Brett Edwards had a solid day throwing the ball, completing 13 of 21 passes for 150 yards. He threw one touchdown and had one interception.

Eric Kjar had eight receptions for 102 yards to lead Wildcat receivers. Ryan Kuester added two catches for 13 yards.

Bryce Teager was the top rusher, gaining 30 yards on six carries. Eric Wells followed with ten attempts for 26 yards.

Defensively, linebacker Bump Christensen had 13 tackles and one fumble recovery. Brian Gohr added nine stops and one quarterback sack.

Hoffman said he was pleased with the defensive effort and the number of turnovers the Wildcats forced. "Our defensive line did a great job penetrating. Forcing six turnovers was another positive. We haven't forced alot of turnovers this year and hopefully that trend will continue."

With the win, the Wildcats improve to 1-5 overall and 1-3 in the Northern Sun Conference.

"We took a big step in the right direction with this win," Hoffman said. "A big gorilla has been taken off our back. This was a good team win-offense, defense and special teams."

Wayne State will host Minnesota State-Moorhead Saturday with kickoff set for 12:30pm at Cunningham Field.

Winside volleyball team drops two at home

Winside's volleyball team dropped two matches in the past week.

The Wildcats lost to Wynot last Thursday evening 15-1, 15-4 and fell at Wakefield Monday evening 15-10, 15-7.

In the Wynot match, Winside was led by Melissa Bokemper's four digs. Becky Krause and Annette Boelter added three each. Julie Longnecker handed out three set assists and Katie Behmer had one solo block.

The Wildcats played better Monday against Wakefield, but fell in straight games.

Krause and Longnecker had six digs each to lead the Wildcats. Stacey Rabe added five digs and had a team-high four aces. Behmer had a team-high five kills.

Coach Tori Moser said a new drill added in practice has helped her team. "The girls saw a story about the Nebraska volleyball team running this drill in practice and asked if we could incorporate it into ours. I think it helped as we saw a big difference in our passing in the Wakefield match. The intensity was there for the first game, but we need to carry that over to the second game"

Winside's record is now 2-13. The Wildcats will host Allen tonight (Thursday) and play at the Hartington Tournament on Saturday.

Tips given on snagging Paddlefish in the Missouri

When you first see the Paddlefish, you wonder how this boneless, excellent tasting, strange looking fish has survived for so long.

Today the prehistoric fish exist in only two river systems, the Missouri River which runs from Montana through the central U.S. on down to join the Mississippi. The only other place the Paddlefish is found is in China on the Yangtze River, which is China's largest river.

It wasn't too many years ago in Nebraska and South Dakota that snaggers were allowed to take three fish a day during a season that ran from November to the end of March. All that was required at that time was a state fishing permit and a strong back.

Now because of concerns about the Paddlefish population, permits are issued in a drawing for a limited number of permits.

The 30 day season started Oct. 1st in Nebraska and South Dakota and this year each state issued approximately 1200 tags.

The body of a Paddlefish resembles that of a shark except for the head. Their large forked tails allow them to move quickly and swim upstream against the strongest of currents.

The head of a Paddlefish is rather unique. It has a long paddle that is entirely composed of cartilage. The huge mouth opens up to reveal row upon row of gill rakers.

As the Paddlefish swims along its huge mouth is open which allows water to enter there through the mouth and then flow over the gill rakers, which siphon off the plankton, which is their or over size spinning reels spooled with heavy monofilament line.

The cotton or Dacron line seems to work best as it doesn't have the memory or coils that the heavy mono does.

You're allowed one hook, which has to have an inch gap or smaller, below this is attached a weight that runs from 4 ounces to one pound depending on how you're fishing and the amount of current.

Last weekend, I was one of the many people on the waters of the Missouri River during snagging season.

After two years of applying, my daughter Mieke had drawn her first tag and was really excited about her first snagging trip.

My good friend Marlyn Wiebelhaus of Wynot, NE, took some time out from his busy guiding schedule to take us out.

Marlyn would drive the boat, I was filming for my television series Outdoorsmen Adventures and Mieke, who is very petite would be handling the 10 foot rod and heavy snagging gear.

Marlyn showed Mieke how to handle the rod and how we would be trolling. When he indicated to her that she might have to do this all day, her comment was, "all day!"

Snagging is like any other outdoor sport, it may take all day or it may take an hour, your hook has to be at the right place at the right time.

As we worked our way up river, we ran through a hole and several wakes moved away from the boat. Marlyn decided to give the hole a try and we slowly trolled through the hole to no avail, it looked as if the paddlefish had moved out when we pulled in.

The next spot was one of Marlyn's favorite and after explaining the game plan to Mieke, she began to work the heavy rod back and forth as we slowly trolled the slack water pocket.

Marlyn indicated that he had seen several fish the first part of the week on the inside edge of the hole.

As he made the turn, Mieke switched sides and started ripping the hook through the water.

The rod stopped, throb a second and then went slack, Mieke had ran over a paddlefish, but the hook had failed to stick.

As Marlyn and I both told her to rear back hard when that happened again, the rod started to jump and Mieke set the hook.

Excited, doesn't describe what Mieke was as she stood up to fight the fish! "I can't believe I got one" she said as she attempted to gain line on the fish.

It was a see saw battle for a while and we weren't sure if Mieke had the fish or the fish had Mieke.

When the fish finally popped to the surface, Marlyn looked at me and shook his head, it looked as if the fish might fit into the slot.

If it was 35" to 45" between the eye and the fork of the tail, it had to go back as these were the spawners, anything below or above the slot could be kept.

As Marlyn brought the fish into the boat, he reached for the tape measure and checked the fish.

It was very close to 35", 34" — to be exact, we measured and re-measured to make sure, but it was a legal fish and as Mieke yelled, "yes, it's a keeper", as a big grin came across all of our faces.

She's taken her first Paddlefish in a couple of hours on a beautiful day in the great outdoors and she did it with her Dad.

Man it doesn't get any better than that!

If you haven't had the opportunity to try for Paddlefish, give it a try, it can be a lot of work, but the thrill of hooking into a big fish and the great eating from the fish make it all worth while.

THIS WEEK'S WEATHER FORECAST

Herbs for Health

Ginger for Nausea, Vomiting, and More.

According to a recent review of "herbal medicines" in The American Journal of Managed Care, 940 mg of powdered ginger is more effective than a popular nonprescription motion sickness prevention medicine. A Swedish study found ginger to be more effective than a placebo in reducing vertigo. A Danish study found that 1,000 mg of ginger daily in four divided doses was "extremely effective" in reducing nausea and vomiting.

Ginger is an underground plant stem of Zingiber officinale. This stem is aromatic and is the source of the dried, powdered spice. Ginger is used as a spice of flavoring agent throughout the world, but has also been shown to act as a digestive aid and antiemetic. In Germany, health authorities allow ginger products to be labeled as a remedy for dyspeptic complaints and travel sickness prevention. There are no known reports of severe toxicities to ginger.

Fall Festival planned in Wayne

Calvary Bible Evangelical Free Church of Wayne, assisted by First Church of Christ and Praise Assembly of God Church have planned a "Fall Festival" for Saturday, Oct. 26.

The event is designed to be a Halloween alternative and will run from 4 to 8 p.m. at the church at Fifth and Lincoln Streets.

The event is being coordinated by Teresa Keeney. Assisting her are Pastor Cal Kroeker, Rose Maxson, Karen Kai and Scott Kudrna.

The theme for the festival is "Heroes of the Bible," and will feature Bible theme rooms such as David and Goliath, the Garden of Eden and Heaven and Hell which children and parents can walk through. A fishpond and cake walk will also provide entertainment. Live animals will be located in some of the rooms.

In addition, a maze constructed of more than 100 appliance boxes will be located in the church sanctuary for those in attendance to walk through. The sanctuary will be completely dark and children will crawl through the boxes, encountering many dead ends, in an attempt to find their way out. High school students are invited to go through the maze on Friday evening, Oct. 25.

Other activities will be located throughout the church and outside on the lawn.

"We got the idea from the church in Iowa where we served before coming to Wayne. It has been in the planning stages since late August," Mrs. Keeney said.

The festival will have carnival type games in each room and those attending are welcome to wear costumes. It is designed for pre-school through elementary age students but the whole family is invited to come watch children play games.

"This is designed to be a wholesome, fun activity for the whole family. We will have a place where kids can have their pictures taken. Hot dogs, chips and pop will be available for a small fee," Mrs. Keeney said.

Admission price for those children attending will be an unopened bag of store-bought candy.

For more information, contact the church office at 375-4946.

Balloon popping activities and a fish pond will be available at Calvary Bible's Fall Festival.

Young author speaks about affects of Alzheimer's disease

"Still Holding Hands" was the title of a presentation by Stacie Stoelting last week in Wayne.

Stoelting's presentation was part of a program sponsored by the Northeast Nebraska office of the Alzheimer's Association.

Also included in the program was a presentation by Renee Kurpogweit, Outreach Coordinator for the Alzheimer's Association. She spoke on the Safe Return Program available to those affected by the disease and their families. The nationwide program assists in the identification and safe, timely return of individuals with Alzheimer's disease and related dementias who wander and become lost. Since 1993, more than 70,000 individuals have registered with Safe Return nationwide.

Stoelting's book, "Still Holding Hands," describes her grandparents' story of "love, faith and courage" in dealing with her Papa Ray's life with Alzheimer's. She wrote the book as a 15 year old to help her deal with the changes that took place with her grandfather and other family members.

She told her audience in Wayne about the changes that took place in her grandfather from his days as a superintendent of schools to developing a fear of water and refusing attempts to clean him. She also talked about his verbal abusiveness to his wife and those around him.

The book is available at the Wayne State College Bookstore or on line at www.amazon.com; www.alaskabooks.biz; www.bordersbooks.com and at other bookstores.

Stoelting has been a speaker at a number of Alzheimer's Association Continuing Education Seminars, conferences and serves as an Ambassador for Alzheimer's awareness.

For more information on Alzheimer's disease, contact the Alzheimer's Association at (402) 375-1790.

Among the Bible theme rooms planned for the Fall Festival is David and Goliath.

Brey speaks at Wayne State

Miles Brey, 1985 Wayne State College graduate and U.S. Secret Serviceman addressed audiences, Oct. 4 on the Wayne State College campus.

Brey was a geography student at Wayne State and credited his education at Wayne State with helping him, "learn to be well prepared." He said he began his career with the Secret Service in 1990. He now instructs other Secret Servicemen. The Secret Service employs only 5,000 people nationally.

Brey said he took many writing and speech courses at Wayne State and found the relationship with his instructors was valuable as a resource.

Hospital employees raise funds for research

Linda Carr, Director of the Providence Wellness Center, has announced that Providence Medical Center employees participated in the Susan G. Komen Foundation Blue Denim Day on Oct. 4 to help raise money for breast cancer research.

This was the third year that PMC participated in the drive. Twenty-seven PMC employees raised $145. PMC's Janelle Fler won the pink "Early Detection is the Best Protection" t-shirt.

This month, on Oct. 4, more than 1.2 million individuals from more than 21,500 companies and organizations nationwide wore denim to work in exchange for a donation to the Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation. The Komen Foundation receives 100 percent of the donations to fund research, education, screening and treatment programs.

The Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation was established in 1982 by Nancy Brinker to honor the memory of her sister, Susan G. Komen, who died of breast cancer at the age of 36. Since its inception, the foundation has raised more than $214 million for the fight against breast cancer. The Komen Foundation is the largest private funder of research dedicated solely to breast cancer.

Breast cancer is the leading cause of cancer deaths in women between the ages of 40 and 59.

PURCHASING MAGAZINES OVER THE TELEPHONE? Beware of Deceptive Sales Tactics

Thousands of consumers buy magazine subscriptions over the telephone from legitimate salespeople every year. However, unscrupulous telemarketers mislead some consumers into paying hundreds of dollars for long-term subscriptions that they really did not want and could not afford.

Listen carefully to telephone sales presentations and ask questions if the terms of the sale are unclear. Fraudulent sellers make presentations so slick that consumers may be unaware they have agreed to purchase magazines until they receive a bill in the mail. Consumers who give bank account or credit card numbers may find that money has been withdrawn from their checking account or a charge has been placed on their credit card.

One of the tactics used by magazine sales telemarketers is to send post cards in the mail with an urgent sounding message asking recipients to call an 800 number immediately about their "sweepstakes win". Those who call the 800 number will find that they have not won a sweepstakes, but if they agree to buy a quantity of magazines they are told they may be entered into a sweepstakes.

Watch out for these questionable tactics deceptive telemarketers may use:

- The caller may imply that he represents a major credit card company or magazine publisher but may be reluctant to give the name of the business.
- The caller may avoid giving, or refuse to give the total cost for subscriptions, and may emphasize that the purchase will cost only a few dollars a week.
- The caller may say the business is "approved" or "regulated" by the federal or state government when in fact, no governmental body actually approves magazine sales operations.

Here are some tips to follow if you receive a telephone sales call regarding magazine subscriptions:

- Ask callers for their name and the name, address, and phone number of the company they represent.
- Ask what the total cost of the subscription package will be. Then determine if this is a "bargain" price.
- Request that a written copy of the sales terms and cancellation provisions be mailed to you before you agree to buy anything.
- Don't give your bank account or credit card number over the phone for "verification", "computer purposes", or any other reason. If you give this information, you may later find you have been charged for magazine subscriptions you did not agree to purchase.

If you receive a bill for magazines you did not order, or if your bank account has been debited or your credit card charged for magazines you did not agree to purchase, contact:

Participants are asked to bring a list of debts and calculator and they will leave the class with a debt-elimination plan.

Cost of the course is $19. The $49 text is available from the instructor and optional. To register, call (402)-844-7000.

Streets, beginning at noon.

According to organizers of the event, "Thanksgiving is a time to give thanks, share in fellowship and friendship and enjoy the bounty of a fall harvest in the form of a turkey dinner and all its trimmings. Holidays are more joyful when they are spent in the company of others, and some people may be interested in a place to share a Thanksgiving meal with others."

If you want fellowship, friendship, or good food, plan to share in a community-wide Thanksgiving feast. There will be no charge for this meal; it is a gift to those who come from those who participate in the preparation, serving, and enjoying of this meal.

At last year's event, more than 100 persons were served and 20-25 volunteers assisted.

Anyone interested in assisting with this project is asked to contact Bob and Kathy Burke, Jim and Vera Hummel, Randy Brenner, Lila Splittgerber, Kathy Woods, Herman and Mary Oetken,

Islamic Studies professor speaking at WSC

The Wayne State College Department of Language and Literature will host Reza Aslan, visiting professor of Islamic Studies at the University of Iowa, on Oct. 17 and 18.

Aslan will speak to students and make a public presentation entitled "The Clash of Civilizations" on Thursday, Oct. 17 at 4 p.m. in Connell Hall room 131 on campus. Aslan has lectured extensively on the Middle East and has published numerous articles on Islam, Iran, religion and human rights. There is no admission charge and the public is welcome.

In 1998 Aslan was elected president of Harvard's chapter of the World Conference on Religion and Peace (W.C.R.P.), a United Nations organization committed to the cause of global understanding. Aslan brought U.S. Deputy Secretary Denis Halliday to Harvard for his first public appearance after resigning as the humanitarian coordinator in Iraq in protest of sanctions.

After consecutive nuclear tests by India and Pakistan, the W.C.R.P. under Aslan's leadership brought the ambassadors of the two countries to Harvard to discuss for the first time their shared nuclear future in 1999.

His work with W.C.R.P. led to a position as legislative assistant for the Friend's Committee on National Legislation in Washington, D.C., where he worked as a liaison to Congress on issues of arms control and the Middle East.

When the Pentagon and World Trade Center were attacked in September 2001, Aslan began speaking on the Middle East. He also provided insights for articles and interviews to a number of major newspapers. He has become a frequent guest on the NPR program, Iowa Talks. Aslan's efforts in Iowa have received national attention in such periodicals as U.S.A. Today, U.S. News and World Report, and The Chronicle of Higher Education.

Winner of the Truman Capote Fellowship in Fiction at the Iowa Writer's Workshop at the University of Iowa, Aslan has earned degrees from Santa Clara University and the Harvard Divinity School, and is a Ph.D. candidate in Near Eastern Religions at The University of California at Berkeley.

Children need to have some kind of physical activity on most days

Children can have fun and improve their health by being physically active every day. Children should aim to get at least 60 minutes of moderate physical activity on most days. Parents can help.

1. Create safe places. Watch over children's activities.
2. Set a good example. Be active with your children.
3. Promote physical activity.

Encourage children to be physically active at home, at school and with friends.

4. Limit sitting-around time. Alternate time spent sitting with time spent moving.

5. Establish a routine. Set aside time each day as activity time.

6. Coach a team. Encourage children to participate in community sports.

7. Set up a home gym. Get children involved in creating a gym using household items. Canned foods make good weights.

8. Try aerobic activities. Check

Sandy Preston
Cooperative Extension Director
Dixon County

children's hear rates before, during and after activities to see how hard they are working.

9. Throw an activity party. Made your child's birthday party activity-centered.

What level is the right level of activity? If you can talk without being breathless, you're okay. If you can sing, you're not moving enough.

The USDA has developed an activity pyramid, similar to the food guide pyramid. The bottom level is to have plenty of moving, whenever you can. The second layer encourages more activity that makes your heart work harder. The third layer includes stretching and building up muscles. The top layer is to have less setting around.

As we work towards a healthier lifestyle, we need to remember to include activity as well as nutrition in our lifestyle. It is important for us, but also for our children. For more information check out the USDA Team nutrition website at www.fns.usda.gov/tn or the University of Nebraska Extension Office.

Ladies Aid welcomes new member

Grace Lutheran Ladies Aid and LWML met Oct. 9. President Mary Janke called the meeting to order.

Vice President Delores Utecht had opening devotions entitled "You Are the Light of the World." The letters of the word "Light" love, interest, grace, helping hands and tolerance, show us how to be a better 'you' so we may let our light shine to others. The group closed with the singing of "Take My Life and Let it Be."

Twenty-nine members answered roll call. Mrs. Marj Forney was a guest and also joined the group.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The treasurer's report was given and filed for audit.

The visitation committee sent appropriate cards. Esther Brader reported for the sewing committee, stating that 30 quilts are ready to give to various organizations. The next sewing day is scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 24.

Ten members and Pastor Jeff attended the Fall Rally in Wakefield on Oct. 8.

Ruth Victor, Maria Ritze and Elinor Jensen prepared and served the Pastor's Conference on Oct. 1.

Discussion was held on the use of upcoming Cookie Walk proceeds. Suggestions noted were continuing the landscaping around the church and new flooring for both south entrances. Members are to bring added suggestions to the next meeting.

President Janke appointed Esther Brader and Millie Thomsen to make constitution revision proposals, updating the constitution and presenting this to the group next month to be acted upon.

Mom was right! Breakfast is still the most important meal of the day. Recent studies have shown that people who eat breakfast perform better in school, have healthier body weight, and are less likely to catch cold. It appears that a bowl of healthy cereal is a better choice than many "fast food" options which have nearly four times more calories and fat. One study found that those who had cereal for breakfast were less depressed, had less perceived stress, and were less likely to smoke or drink alcohol.

INTERIM PASTOR

Pastor Daniel E. Monson has been asked to serve as Interim Pastor by the Salem executive board.
On Aug. 1, he had completed a full year of interim ministry at Emmanuel Lutheran in Tekamah and has previously served as an interim in Otis, Colo.
Pastor Monson and his wife, Mary, live in Fremont close to their daughter's home.
Before moving to Fremont, Pastor Monson served his last call before retirement at Christ Lutheran Church in Cheyenne, Wyo. In Cheyenne, both Pastor and Mary were involved in ecumenical activity, serving as Director and Associate Director of the Wyoming Church Coalition. That position also brought them into contact with the State officials and legislature since they were the official advocates for almost all the churches in the state.
Since ordination in 1957, the family has also lived and worked in Minnesota, California, Nebraska and Colorado. From 1980 through 1987, they served in Wayne at Redeemer Lutheran Church.
Pastor Monson graduated from the University of Saskatchewan and from Augustana Seminary in Rock Island, Ill. (1957). He has also completed a second Master's Degree in Biblical studies, with special attention to the Old Testament, at the Lutheran School of Theology at Chicago. He has taught at several levels, including Community College. In addition to Biblical studies, he has an ongoing interest in Church History.
The Monson family has deep roots in Nebraska, dating to the 1870's. Practically all of his ancestors came directly from Sweden, and Dan's father, the Rev. G.T. Monson, was totally bilingual in Swedish and English.
The Monsons settled in Burt County where most of the family was active in Elim Church (once called Swaburg, but now identifies as Hooper). Dan's mother's family was a part of Fridem Church in Funk, in Phelps county near Axtell and Holdrege. A substantial number of relatives on both sides of the family have been clergy or missionaries (four great uncles plus a brother-in-law and many second and third cousins).
Mary's background is half Danish and half old time American settlers in New England dating back to the 1600s. Her hometown was St. Charles, Ill. And, her home church (also Augustana) was Bethlehem Lutheran.
There are four grown children, five grandchildren and one great grandchild. Most live in Nebraska or close by and visit the home in Fremont occasionally.
The Monsons share an interest in gardening and have an acreage with space for stabling four horses. Presently, the pets include two registered Morgan mares and two foals. There are also a collie and a cockatiel.
Pastor and Mary are active in gardening with a number of raised beds planted in perennials. The raised beds are needed because of slow draining valley gumbo soil that effectively kills all perennials that are not planted where there is drainage.

There is also a family interest in drama with each of the family members playing at least one leading role. Pastor Monson played and sang the part of Emil deBep in the Wayne Community Theater presentation in the 1980's. They have also been active in musical groups. Pastor is a member of the Master singers in Omaha and sings in the four annual concerts in a variety of musical styles.
Mary has a craft store and is involved in various forms of needle art and wheat weaving.
Pastor Monson can be reached at Salem Church office at 287-2861 or at his home phone at 402-753-0027.
Pastor will likely be in Wakefield all day Wednesdays, Thursday mornings, all day Saturdays, and Sunday mornings.

PASTOR DANFORTH'S ADDRESS
Pastor Rick Danforth resigned as pastor of Salem Lutheran Church on Aug. 27. His last Sunday as worship leader was Sept. 22; his final day in the office and on call was Sept. 24. He finished the month of September with his vacation days.
A farewell picnic for the Danforths was held at the church on Sept. 22.
Pastor Rick has accepted a call in Rock Port, Mo. The new address for the Danforths is: 103 Skyline Drive, Rock Port, Mo. 64482. Phone: (660) 744-5380.

The Wakefield Chapter of the National Honor Society held its annual ceremonies Oct. 16 in the school auditorium. ## Oral Dosage Forms "Go the Distance"

Most medicines that are taken by mouth begin as powders that must be made into dosage forms that can be swallowed. In the past most oral dosage forms were simple compressed tablets or capsules. Because many medicines have a short duration of action in the body, it is necessary to take such simple tablets or capsules as many as 6 times a day.

Although we often consider how new medicines affect health and quality of life, we may take modern dosage forms for granted, many tablets and capsules in today's pharmacies are engineering marvels - complex entities that slowly release medicines. A tablet or capsule can be "programmed" to provide medicine to the body over an extended period of time - typically 8 to 24 hours. When short-acting medicines are made into these long-acting dosage forms, they are designed to be taken once or twice a day, providing convenience and increasing the likelihood that they will be taken.
