Health Department opens office

The newly established Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department is one of 14 new local health departments in the state of Nebraska funded by Legislative Bill 692. The office is located at 117 West 3rd Street, (next door to the Magic Wok) in Wayne, but the service area for the local (or district) health department is Cedar, Dixon, Thurston, and Wayne Counties.

Deb Scholten, Health Director, and Ruth Beckmann, Professional Office Support Worker, will be at this location to carry out core public health functions: to assess the needs of the community; develop policies that promote good health; and to assure that health care will be available to all through disease prevention and health promotion programs and activities. The overall goals of public health are to increase life expectancy and eliminate health disparities.

Prior to 2001, only 22 of Nebraska's 93 counties were served by a public health department. Now, thanks to a two-year, $11.2 million allocation from the Nebraska Tobacco Settlement Fund, nearly all of Nebraska's counties are, or will soon be, served by public health departments allowing for a statewide public health system. Throughout Nebraska, 14 new local health departments have been created and/or expanded.

Other funding for the public health departments is from the State Health Care Cash Fund, federal bioterrorism grants and other sources; one of which is through a Robert Wood Johnson (Johnson & Johnson) Foundation's Turning Point Project — a four-year grant to the state that funded the Northeast Health Care Partnership (NHCP).

From the nine county areas in northeast Nebraska, eight of those counties have created two four-county public health departments: Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department (Cedar, Dixon, Thurston and Wayne Counties) and Elkhorn Logan Valley Public Health Department (Burt, Cuming, Madison and Stanton Counties). Kathy Nordby, MPA, is the Elkhorn Logan Valley Health Director, with an office in Wisner. Karina Hasenkamp, NHCP Coordinator, was

Partnership is recognized at blood drive

Providence Medical Center and the Siouxland Community Blood Bank recognized their partnership at a community blood drive in Wayne on Oct. 24.

The Siouxland Community Blood Bank presented a partnership certificate during the Wayne community blood drive.

Over the years, the Siouxland Community Blood Bank has furnished Providence Medical Center with all its blood and blood component needs as well as other blood services. According to Janette Twait, blood bank executive director, "the relationship has been very successful. It has been a pleasure working with Providence Medical Center, and with the people of Wayne County who so generously donate blood to help their community."

Since the Siouxland Community Blood Bank began conducting blood drives in Wayne and in surrounding communities, blood donations have steadily grown. "It is important blood donors support their local hospital by donating with the Siouxland Community Blood Bank. It helps assure Providence Medical Center will have a safe and adequate blood supply," said Janette Twait.

Also at the blood drive, the Siouxland Community Blood Bank recognized

Spectacular spooks

The annual Circle K Halloween party was held Sunday at the City Auditorium. Winning prizes in the various age divisions were, front row, Camryn Evans, Ashton Schweers and Bryce Meis. Back row, Bailey Bentjen, Mashayla Ruzicka and Sara Shanks. Approximately 50 youngsters took part in the games and other activities put together by the Wayne State organization.

Local youth selling board game

Board games have been popular for years. Now, residents of the Wayne area have a new board game available with a local twist.

The Wayne, Neb. edition of Hometown USA Family Board Game™ is now available for purchase in Wayne.

In 1990 and 1991, Jeff and Jackie Olsen came up with the idea of developing a board game to promote wholesome values and help local church youth groups and other non-profit organizations raise money.

Through the next several years, the Olsen family shared different ideas for the game. In 2001 and 2002, after much hard work, decision-making, creative thoughts and prayer, Hometown USA Family Fun Board Game™ became a reality and was ready to market.

First Choice Enterprises, Inc., owned by the Olsen family, now brings this promotion to communities across the nation.

The complete packaged board games will retail for $25 and the Our Savior Lutheran youth group will earn a profit of $10 for each game sold. A minimum of 240 games will be sold in the Wayne area through the end of the year.

Local sponsorships help to defray production expenses such as box/board design, rules/trivia development, logo design, marketing, copyright, patent and trademark costs.

For more information, or to purchase a game, contact Larry Wilson at Our Savior Lutheran Lutheran Church or any Senior High Youth Group member or leader. Copies of the game will also be available at Quality Food Center, Carhart Lumber and Pac 'n' Save during the week of Nov. 4.

The Brenner family was the first to purchase the Wayne edition of the Hometown USA Family Board Game™ from members of the Our Savior Youth Group. Present were, left to right, Amanda, Erica, Randy, Jill and Blake Brenner, Jesse Dunklau and Brittany Burke.

Students at Wayne High School rehearse the One-Act play, "Persephone" which will be presented in a dinner theater on Friday, Nov. 8 at the high school.

Dinner theater to be presented

The Wayne High School One-Act Drama team will be presenting its contest selection in a dinner theater on Friday, Nov. 8 in the Haun Lecture Hall at the high school.

Food will be served from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. in the commons area of the high school. Curtain time for the show itself is 8 p.m.

Directors Amy Jackson and Theresa Hypse have selected Ford Ainsworth's "Persephone," a 30-minute romantic comedy that retells one of the best-known Greek myths.

Persephone, played by Katie Straight, arrives in the Kingdom of the Dead, bringing youthful innocence to the somber world of King Hades, portrayed by Jeff Meyer. Hades is used to the shadows of his gloomy kingdom and is uncertain how to handle the sparkling girl he has abducted from her mother, Demeter.

The situation grows more complicated as Charity Kroeker, in the part of Demeter, arrives from Mt. Olympus, demanding Persephone's return and the sleepy dead citizens of Hades' kingdom react to the girl who is life and eternal spring in their world of darkness.

Additional cast members and their characters include Megan Frahm (Charon); Chad Jensen (Prologue); Sean Peterson (Hermes); and Aaron Holt (Cerberus).

The Dead are portrayed by Ray Olson, Chad Jensen, Jessica Monahan, Jordan Elfers, Alex Wieland, Michaela Vander Weil, Cassie Bilbrey, Sarah Replogle, Blair Sommerfeld, Miranda Kietzmann, Emily Buryanek and Charles Holm.

The technical crew consists of Laura Jones, Katie Osten and Ryan Lewon.

Tickets for both the food and performance are $6 each and can be purchased from cast and crew members or by calling Amy Jackson or Theresa Hypse at the high school at 375-3150. They must be purchased in advance.

A limited number of tickets for the performance only will be available at the door for $4 each.

Buying a used car

The price of new cars has climbed steadily over the past few years, making used cars more attractive than ever. Buying a used car is a great way to stretch your dollar, but you should learn the facts about the car before you shop. The Better Business Bureau of the Heartland warns that there are scam artists out there who take advantage of unsuspecting buyers. The BBB offers the following advice:

- Be aware of odometer tampering. The National Highway Traffic Administration (NHTSA) estimates that consumers lose billions of dollars a year to odometer fraud. Odometer readings may be rolled back or can be forged. Making miles disappear helps increase the car's value to the seller, but can mean increased maintenance and repair costs to the buyer. Before deciding on a used car, do the math. Industry standards claim the average vehicle accumulates about 12,000 miles per year. If the mileage seems excessively high or low in comparison, find out why.

1. As if you can see the maintenance records and compare them with the mileage on the odometer itself.

2. Examine the car for telltale signs. Is the wear on the car's pedals, tires and seats consistent with the miles displayed on the odometer?

3. Obtain a detailed vehicle history report. If the seller cannot provide this information, you can use the vehicle's 17-digit vehicle identification number (VIN) to secure a history from either the state or a private vehicle history company. You can search the web to find companies providing this service by looking under the topic of "vehicle history."

- Watch out for damage disclosure, salvage and rebuilt titles. These titles are issued by states when the car has sustained damage as a result of one or more incidents. Salvage titles are issued by the state when an insurance company takes possession of a vehicle as a result of a claim. This usually occurs when a vehicle has been declared a total loss. A rebuilt title may be issued if a vehicle sustained damage and was rebuilt or reconstructed. Junk titles are issued when a vehicle is not road-worthy and cannot be titled again in that state.

- Be careful of individuals selling used cars from a vacant lot or from the side of the curb. These vehicles may be sold by common posing as private individual sellers. The car can come with hidden problems. Before buying any used car, you should thoroughly research the car and the seller. Contact your Better Business Bureau of the Heartland at (402) 391-7612 or 1-800-649-6814 or www.heartlandbbb.org

Exercise your right to vote

Dear Editor,

This is the time of the year when we are again encouraged to use our freedom to VOTE, which cannot be over promoted!

Here in Nebraska, we have a prime example of how every vote counts! We have one of the ugliest, hant to read license plates in America — shared with New Mexico! We remember there were three options on which we were asked to vote. We don't recall voting ourselves, so should not complain. We have yet to converse with anyone — locally or nationwide, but what share the same opinion — and we have to live with the result for three years!

And this is a minor thing compared to all that's at stake in this general election! SO... take time to vote — it's not only a responsibility... it's a PRIVILEGE to be an American!

Merle and Donna Ring, Wayne

Thanks for the effort

Dear Editor,

I would like to take this opportunity to thank several people for their part in the School Board Candidate Forum last Sunday night at the high school.

Thank you to the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce for all they did in organizing, publicizing and helping at the event. Thanks to Mark Ahmann for once again giving of his time to act as the moderator.

Thanks also to candidates Dean Carroll, Bill Dickey, Carolyn Linster, Richard Metteer and Jodi Pulfer for attending and sharing their views on a wide variety of topics.

With elections coming up next week, it is important that we get acquainted with the candidates and make informed voting decisions. These are the people who will be making decisions that will have a great impact on the faculty, staff and students of the Wayne Community Schools.

When you go to the polls next Tuesday, your ballot will have four choices for the School Board. For your information, Richard Metteer is a write-in candidate who is not on the ballot. In order to vote for him, you must both write his name and fill in the oval.

All of the candidates have qualities that will serve them well on the Board. It is up to you to get out and exercise your privilege to vote.

Lang is fighting good fight

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Bless her heart, Catherine Lang hasn't given up the good fight.

The good fight, in this instance, centers on a belief that some day, somehow, Nebraskans might acquire an understanding of "the property tax issue."

Lang is the state's property tax administrator. And anyone who knows anything about what she does will tell you that she is good at it.

Have no doubt: The author of this column has long admired the guts, the professional ability and the determination that Lang has displayed.

Most admired in this corner has been Lang's ability over many, many years to sit in front of state senators and explain matters related to property taxes. Not only has she done it with clarity and objectivity, she has done it without ever once screaming, "Your lack of basic knowledge is appalling, your notions are as ridiculous as they are unconstitutional and your uninformed utterances should leave your constituents aghast!"

There have been lots of legislative committee hearings during which Lang would have been justified in issuing such an indictment.

During the decades that this reporter covered Revenue Committee matters, it was obvious that some lawmakers (especially the freshman variety) had nothing approaching an informed understanding of the property tax system.

In a recent interview, Lang noted that it is not property tax values that increase taxes. It is spending by local governments that causes property tax bills to increase.

And the money the Legislature sends out as aid to local schools helps to hold down the local property tax burden.

"We have a lot of confusion out there on that issue," Lang said. "I could get on a soapbox on that."

"We'll again offer a 'bless her heart' for the former thought. The fact is that neither the Legislature nor the press, nor any governor or candidate for public office, has succeeded in any sufficient measure to get through to the public on the issue of local property taxes.

It was particularly good of Lang to offer her views in a recent newspaper interview because it gave us one more opportunity to offer a long-cherished thought about Nebraska's public school system. To wit:

No one should be given a high school diploma until they exhibit knowledge of those entities of government that can take money from them.

A citizen who doesn't know what level of government taxes property, and what level taxes income, and which levels tax sales, is a citizen who isn't prepared to evaluate government accurately and adequately.

The newspaper story we saw regarding Ms. Lang noted that she acquired a degree in fine arts prior to earning her law degree. It might be more fitting if she had received a degree in theater. Heaven knows that Catherine Lang, and others dedicated to making a poorly understood system function as it should, have an enormous capacity for indulging the human comedy. Even when it isn't really funny.

Meet the candidates

Shuttle bus statistics released

Information has been released by the Wayne Shuttle Bus Management team concerning ridership during the first three weeks of service.

During the first week of service, (Oct. 7-11) a total of 76 riders, or an average of 15 per day used the bus.

From Oct. 14 to Oct. 18, there were 101 riders using the service. This averages 20 per day.

The third week of use included only three days, as the shuttle did not run Oct. 24-25 due to Fall Break at Wayne State College. During the three days it did run, 58 persons took advantage of the free service.

Stops being utilized, from most to least, include, Wayne State College, Main Street Wayne, Quality Food Center/ Pamida, Super 8 and Pac 'N' Sav.

The management team also provided the following general information about the shuttle bus. All advertising has been sold, inside and out; work is now being done for video ads inside the vehicle; the cold snap contributed to an increase in riders; the group is in the process of making an application to the Wayne County Tourism/Visitors Bureau for a grant; and the group has been pursuing and receiving inquiries about off-hour usage.

One class at Wayne State was asked to comment on the shuttle and the following comments were received: "nice addition to the community," "add more stops," "wonderful tool and idea for campus and community," "more feasible than I thought" and "nice to get in a warm bus instead of a cold car."

Periodic updates are planned by Shuttle Bus Management Team.

Snow

You know the routine. When it snows in Nebraska, it can be wet and heavy or light and blowing.

Which ever way it comes, we need to get it off the streets. We will have our usual schedule of starting at 4 a.m. with Main Street, highways and emergency areas and then moving into residential areas.

Residents can help by parking off the street over night on the streets where over night parking is allowed. Cars left with rings of snow around them the next day will be towed.

Sidewalks

During the first snow of the season, a lot of us forget that city ordinances require sidewalks to be scooped within 24 hours.

Delivery people, mail carriers and other people walking use sidewalks in winter also. We get some complaints at the Wayne Police Department and officers also check walks as they have time. We will be citing property owners as we run across snow removal problems.

meeting last night. His retirement is effective Nov. 30. Vern has worked 37 years for the City of Wayne. He has been the city's point man in calling out snow crews and organizing snow removal routes in the past. Our crew at Public Works is well-organized and I don't see that tradition changing.

On a personal note, I have been here at Wayne two years and I have appreciated Vern's knowledge and experience and wish Vern and Dee well in their retirement.

instrumental in organizing the development of the two new public health departments in our area.

At this time, Dakota County in this region has chosen not to participate in the statewide public health system created by LB692 because they have had an existing public health department for several years.

Initial functions of the Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department will include data collection and asset mapping as part of a needs assessment, then presenting it to the board of directors to formulate a strategic plan to address unmet needs in the public health areas in the four counties. The local board of health was formed, as legislated by the Unicameral, to include a county commissioner/supervisor and a consumer from each of the counties served, along with a physician and a dentist.

The NE Neb PHD Board of Directors includes medical providers Mark McCorkindale, M.D. and Steve Becker, D.D.S., Wayne County Commissioner Myron Miller, and Emergency Medical Technician Dennis Spangler, all of Wayne; Cedar County Commissioner Marlen Kraemer and Sandy Kuchta, R.N.; Dixon County Supervisor Jerry Schroeder and Kerri Stallbaum, R.N.; Thurston County Supervisor Teri Lamplot and Roger Mazour, hospital administrator.

Health Director Scholten, has lived in Sioux City, Iowa for 18 years and will relocate here during the week. Her husband is a teacher and is the head baseball coach at Morningside College in Sioux City. The couple has two grown children, (a daughter, Jessica, living in Denver and a son, J.D., who is a senior at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln). Scholten's education includes a B.S. in Health Education, M.A.T. Guidance and Counseling, Registered Respiratory Therapist (RRT). She is working toward her Certification in Public Health through the University of Iowa. Her credentials include Certified Health Education Specialist (CHES), and Licensed Masters of Social Work (LMSW). Beckmann is from Pender. She taught business education at Beemer School and has a strong background in technology. When Beemer School contracted grades 7-12, she decided to go into the business world. Beckmann's maiden name is Lehman; she graduated from Laurel-Concord and her parents live in Dixon County. She has a master's degree in education from Wayne State College.

Thinking about the need for a public health department in the area, Scholten said, "Now with the added threat of bioterrorism, there is a real need for the public health system to become stronger and more coordinated with other agencies. We do not want to replace or duplicate programs such as immunization clinics and home health. Our role is to assure that these services are in existence, and if they're not, we need to find ways to provide services by partnering with existing organizations or to find creative ways to meet the unmet health needs."

Scholten noted that each county has Local Emergency Management Plans and NE Neb PHD intends to tie in with these plans and to work together with agencies, such as the local American Red Cross, hospitals, medical providers. Other health promotional efforts will work with county extension offices, educational institutions, human services agencies and other organizations who wish to work collaboratively to serve the public health needs of the community.

The federal government has been trying to refocus the coordination and collaboration of health services since the late 1980s. After the anthrax attack in the fall of 2001, beliefs about the health dangers were proven wrong and added to the death toll due to anthrax. Now there is an extra push to re-structure and unify the healthcare system and communications across the United States.

Summing it up, "We need to protect the good life," Scholten said. "We live in the rural Midwest because we share common values. Good health and well being are an important part of this." Anyone with questions can call Scholten at 402-375-2200 or stop by the Wayne office. Business hours are Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The Pride of the Blue Devils Marching Band took to the field at Seacrest Field in Lincoln on Saturday, earning a 14th consecutive Superior rating.

Band completes successful season

The Wayne High School "Pride of the Blue Devils" Marching Band traveled to Lincoln on Oct. 28 and participated in the Nebraska State Bandmaster Association State Marching Band Championships held at Seacrest Field.

The Wayne High band was the last band in Class B to perform, taking the field at 6:45 p.m.

The Blue Devil Marching Band received a Superior rating and trophy, their third during the month of October. This marks the 14th year in a row that the Marching Band has received a Superior rating at all the marching competitions they have attended during the year.

Band Director Brad Weber extended thanks to the people who helped sponsor buses to all the marching competitions this fall, including Dr. Dennis Jensen, Dennis Mitchell, Roger and Carol Niemann and Music Boosters President Ann Ruwe for all their "extra" help with the band this fall.

"A big thanks to all those parents, relatives and friends who travel to the competitions and support the band. A special "thanks" to all the ex-Wayne High Band students who travel to the competitions and support us," Weber said.

"It was truly a heart-warming experience for me to see all those Wayne High Alumni band students there last Saturday in Lincoln, cheering for the band," Weber said.

He added, "Wayne, by far, has the most, the best and the loudest fans of any school at these marching competitions. Thank you to the community of Wayne for all your support of the Wayne High School Marching Band again this fall."

Council debates ordinance

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Nearly an hour of debate took place during Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne City Council concerning restrictions with underage persons in establishments that serve alcohol.

At issue was the clarification of Section 6-16 of the city code which defines where alcohol can be served in relation to minors. City Attorney Mike Pieper read several sections of the code which deal with the issue. He said that what the ordinance allows for alcohol to be served in a restaurant where minors can go, but at issue was the definition of a restaurant. The ordinance allows for alcohol to be served in restaurants and bowling areas.

The issue involves Thursday night dances at Riley's in which hundreds of minors attend. Alcohol is not directly available to the minors but is served in the Pub area of Riley's.

Katie Jorgensen, owner of the Max Bar and Grill, said she was asking for clarification of the code, not intending to change it. She stated that the ordinance needs to be enforced as it is intended.

"The reason I am here is enforcement of the ordinance. The law has to be enforced on a daily basis. My motive for being here is, that as a tax payer, I do not want to see my tax dollars being wasted when they shouldn't have to be," Jorgensen said.

Rod Tompkins, owner of Riley's spoke on what steps his establishment has taken and plans to take to ensure that the alcohol served in the Pub does not make its way to the area where the underage patrons are dancing.

"The state (laws) says we have to keep them (minors and those drinking alcohol) separate. At one time, we had installed a chain-link fence to separate them. Now we have an area sectioned off around the bar. The rest of the ballroom is for those who want to dance. We don't serve alcohol where kids are at. So far, it has worked pretty well," Tompkins said.

He went on to explain that 65 to 75 percent of those attending the Thursday dances are underage and not drinking. He also stated that he and the Wayne Police Department have looked into the possibility of hiring off-duty police officers to patrol the premises.

Several of the council persons expressed their views on the situation.

Councilman Verdel Lutt said,

"we need to keep the drinking and non-drinking people separate. There can be no alcohol in the dance area. I realize we do need a place for those underage to go, but it doesn't make sense to separate who can drink from those who can't by a rail that the alcohol can be handed over."

Wayne Police Chief Lance Webster said that he recommended having two rails, several feet apart, to make it more difficult to pass the alcohol back and forth between the two groups. He also stated that he is looking into the legality of off-duty officers working at the dances. In addition, he questioned what would happen if the ordinance were put before a judge because the liquor license is for the entire establishment.

Councilman Will Wiseman said he felt that the remedies that were presented at the meeting should be given some time to be implemented and that "we can't possibly legislate every possible activity. It is desirable for us to have a place for the younger people to congregate, so we should give this a try. If it doesn't work, the city can get involved again."

In other council action, the council passed Resolution 2002-60, approving the acquisition of a tract of land 50 feet wide by 400 feet long near the Transfer Station.

Two separate sets of courthouse records indicate ownership by both the city and Gene Fletcher. Fletcher has offered to sign a Quitclaim deed on the property, granting it to the city.

Several change orders were granted on the Community Activity Center. City Administrator Lowell Johnson said overall he has been pleased with the fact that the project continues to be on schedule and will come in under the estimated budget.

In a related item, a walk-through of the Community Activity Center was held Oct. 25. Several punch list items are left to be completed but the city intends to take possession of the building by the end of the week. At that time, equipment will be moved into the facility. An open house has been planned for Sunday, Nov. 17.

The council also spent time debating the architect's recommendations to remedy the leaks in the roof of the Library/Senior Center. Three options have been presented to the city by the architectural firm involved in the building of the facility.

Following discussion, it was determined that a decision could not be made without knowing all the costs that could be involved.

Following an explanation by City Administrator Johnson, the council voted to approved the Wage and Salary schedule for city employees for the upcoming year. Johnson said his goal is to put the city of Wayne's employees in the middle of the range for first class cities (of which Wayne is one).

Also during Tuesday's meeting, a letter was distributed to council members announcing the retirement of Public Works Superintendent Vern Schulz. The retirement is effective Nov. 30, but Schulz is currently using up accrued vacation time. He has been employed by the city for 37 years.

The council's next meeting is set for Tuesday, Nov. 12 at 7:30 p.m. at the Council Chambers.

Plans being made for 2003 Chicken Show

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Although the event is still more than eight months away, plans are already being made for the 23rd annual Wayne Chicken Show, which will be held Saturday, July 12.

Organizers meet monthly on the first Friday of each month to discuss plans and make changes in previous year's events.

The committee is presently enlisting the aid of the community in designing a theme for next year's event. These ideas may be submitted to the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce Office. After selecting a theme, a design will be developed to print on next year's t-shirts and other material.

A number of "Cluck-tibles" will be available for sale during the holiday season. It is anticipated that these, including t-shirts from the past two years' shows, will be available at local merchants, as well as at the Chamber office.

The Chicken Show Task Force is also in need of several persons to replace those on last year's team who have since moved away from Wayne. The group will meet on Friday, Nov. 1 at noon at the Chamber Office for a brown bag lunch meeting.

Anyone with ideas and suggestions for the theme, t-shirt design or other activities, should contact the Chamber office at 375-2240.

The Siouxland Community Blood Bank was incorporated on March 17, 1967 as an independent, charitable, and not-for-profit agency through the cooperation of the Woodbury County Medical Society, and four Sioux City medical facilities: St. Vincent, St. Joseph, Lutheran and Methodist hospitals. Their purpose was to Community Blood Bank provides blood services to 27 hospitals in Iowa, South Dakota, and Nebraska. The blood bank conducts blood drives in over 100 communities in the tri-state region.

The Siouxland Community Blood Bank is licensed by the Food and Drug Administration, and accredited by the American Association of Blood Banks. They are also a participant member of a national blood system called America's Blood Centers (ABC) that collects approximately half of the nation's blood supply. It is a network of locally controlled, not-for-profit community blood banks that support not only their local communities healthcare needs, but they also network together to share blood where the greatest need is. This interdependency is needed not only for disasters but also for ongoing community needs of healthcare throughout the year.

On a daily basis more than 32,000 Americans will receive blood or blood products, often in a life-saving situation. Annually, 4.5 million people would die without blood transfusions in the United States. The support of volunteer blood donors throughout the Siouxland Community Blood Bank's service area is necessary to provide an adequate and safe blood supply for our region.

Bryan Fink places second in Class C Wayne boys place fifth at State Cross Country Meet

by Mike Grosz
Of the Herald

A wet course with snow and slush greeted runners last Friday at the State Cross Country Meet in Kearney.

Despite the conditions, the Wayne boys' team came in fifth place in Class C with 80 points. The Blue Devils were just six points away from second place.

Centennial won the team title with 38 points, followed by Gothenburg with 74, Elkhorn Mt. Michael 76 and Gordon with 76.

with any state meet experience, led the Blue Devils with a second-place finish. His time of 17:20.43 was just three seconds behind winner Blayne Tanner of Centennial.

Fink got off to a good start in the race and was in second place early, but then took the lead in the middle part of the race and led until Tanner of Centennial had a strong finish at the end to pass Fink in the final 500-600 meters.

Bryan West followed in 26th place with a time of 18:38.56.

Travis Luhr, the only senior on the team, came in next, ended 40th in 18:55.81.

Junior Chris Nissen followed in 49th (19:06.74), Mat Habrock was 70th (19:43.69) and Ryan Hix came in 71st at 19:44.17.

Head coach Rocky Ruhl said he was very pleased with the team's performance.

"The weather conditions evened the field. We were just six points away from second place."

Ruhl said it was also satisfying to beat district and conference rivals Columbus Scotus and Boone Central.

"It's the first time we beat those schools all season."

Ruhl added that not many people would have predicted a fifth place state finish at the start of the season.

"With what we lost from last year, not many people would have bet on this team getting fifth at state this year. The kids are already talking about what they can improve on to be a better team next year."

Senior Amber Nelson was an individual qualifier for Wayne, and for the third straight year, narrowly missed a medal at state.

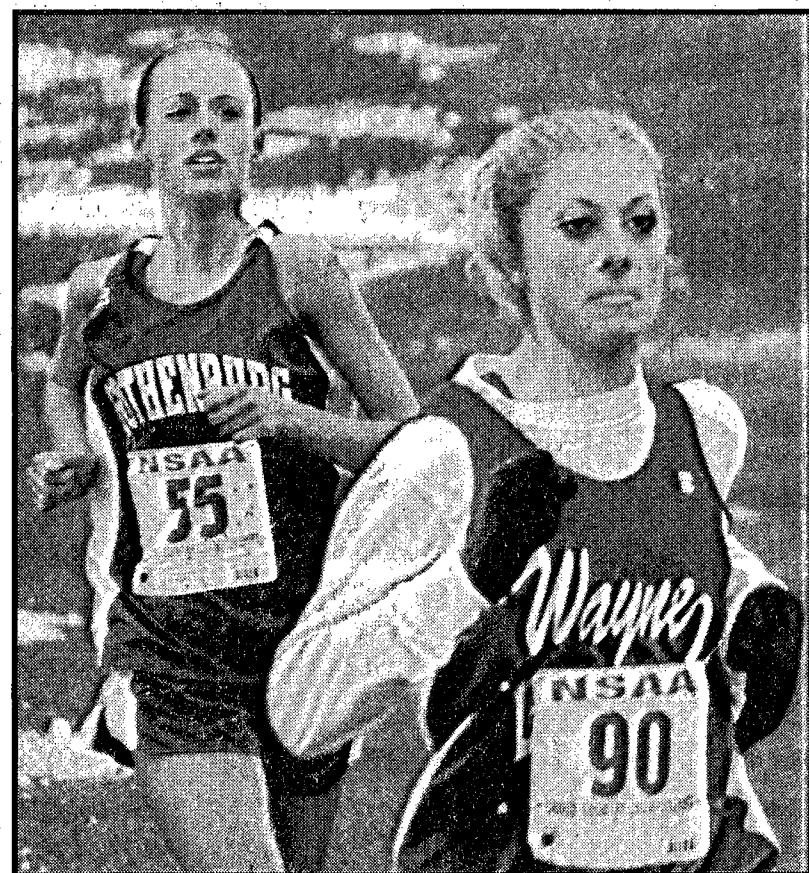

Her time of 16:58.53 was good for 18th place. She placed 19th as a sophomore and was 18th last year. "Amber's goal was to place in the top 15," said Ruhl, "but I was happy with her performance on one of the worst days ever to run."

"She was running on fumes down the stretch. Injuries to her shoulder and an ankle caused her to miss some practice time and that hurt, especially in the last 100 meters."

Ruhl said overall he was pleased with both teams this year.

"The boys had a tremendous season. Not many gave us a chance to qualify, let alone place fifth at state. I would have liked the girls team to qualify, but hopefully that will make the underclassmen work harder next season to get back to state as a team."

Amber Nelson represented the Wayne girls cross country team at State. The senior just missed out on a medal, finishing in 18th place.

Wayne sophomore Bryan Fink led for a good share of the race before finishing in second place to lead Wayne.

Bryan West stays ahead of a Columbus Scotus runner at last Friday's State Cross Country Meet in Kearney.

Winside ends football season with a loss

Unbeaten Coleridge handed Winside its worst loss of the season last Thursday evening in the season-finale at Coleridge 54-8.

The Bulldogs used a quick striking, big-play offense in jumping out to a 41-0 halftime lead, ending the game in the fourth quarter on the 45-point rule with 8:14 left.

Winside also had six turnovers in the game, giving Coleridge great field position throughout the contest.

Coleridge quarterback Todd Hahne scampered 45 yards on the first play from scrimmage to set the tone for the Bulldogs, who enter the playoffs with an 8-0 record.

Hahne completed all six passing attempts in the game for 152 yards and five touchdowns.

Winside's lone score in the game came with :40 seconds left in the third quarter when Wildcat quarterback Adam Pfeiffer found Nathan Wills on a 65-yard pass play. Pfeiffer then found Travis Koll on a two-point pass conversion to make the score 41-8 after three quarters.

The Bulldogs then scored twice early in the fourth quarter to end the game.

Coleridge had 350 yards in total offense while holding Winside to 141. A stingy Bulldog defense held the Wildcats to minus 11 yards rushing.

Pfeiffer had a big game passing for the Wildcats, completing 5 of 15 passes for 139 yards and one touchdown. He had three passes intercepted. Taylor Suehl was 1 of 5 passing for 13 yards with three interceptions.

Nathan Wills had all six pass receptions for the Wildcats, totaling 152 yards and one touchdown.

Shane Jaeger was Winside's leading rusher, held to just eight yards on 11 carries. Russell O'Connor followed with two carries for three yards.

Defensively, Tom Schwedhelm had 12 tackles to lead the Wildcats. Travis Koll, Wills and O'Connor added six stops apiece.

Winside ends the football season with a 4-4 record, giving them a fourth-place finish in the district. The Wildcats missed the 32-team playoff field finishing 34th behind Spencer-Naper.

Bethune is chosen as a Believer and Achiever

Britni Bethune of Wayne High School has been named a Believer and Achiever by the Nebraska School Activities Association.

Believers and Achievers is a state-wide program designed by U.S. Bank and the NSAA to give recognition to Nebraska's future leaders.

Starting in October and continuing through May, 48 Nebraska high school seniors will be selected Believers and Achievers with eight of the finalists receiving $500 scholarships from U.S. Bank to the college or university of their choice.

Bethune was chosen as one of six Believers and Achievers for November.

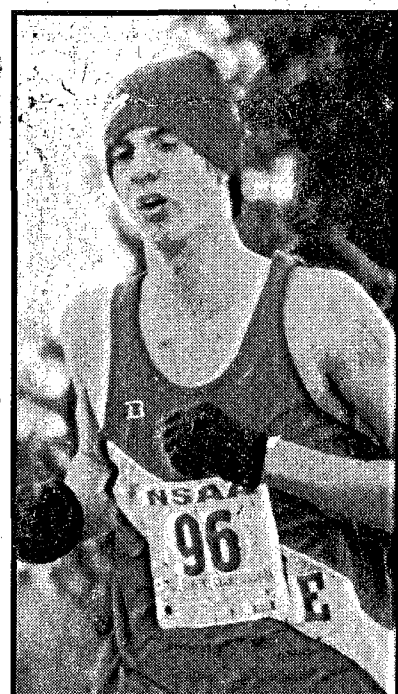

She carries a 4.0 grade point average and participates in cross country, track and field and music. Activity honors and awards include letterwinner in cross country and track and field as a student manager; earned superior ratings as a soloist and in jazz band at the district music contest; member of Wayne State and Conference Honor Band.

Bethune's school and community involvement includes drum major; peer tutor; President of the Future Leaders of America; member of the Quiz Bowl team, Spanish Club, W-Club, Archdiocese of Omaha Youth Congress participant; Parish Youth Council Representative; Community Rescue Mission; Adopt-A-Highway, Mothers Against Drunk Driving, and Norfolk Veterans Home Volunteer.

Travis Luhr was the only senior on this year's Wayne boys cross country team. He finished 40th at state.

Battle Creek beats Wayne

The Wayne football team closed out the regular season last Friday evening with a 28-14 loss at Battle Creek.

Three turnovers plagued the Blue Devils in the loss. Wayne was also using its third different quarterback this season after Ryan Schmeits suffered an injured wrist in last week's loss to Madison. Previous starter Ric Volk was suffering a broken fibula in the Norfolk Catholic game earlier this month.

Battle Creek used touchdowns in the first and second quarters to take a 14-0 halftime lead.

Wayne found the endzone early in the third quarter when new quarterback Brady Heithold found Andy Martin on a 14-yard scoring play, pulling the Blue Devils within 14-7 with 8:04 left in the third quarter.

The Braves used a pair of field goals to close out third quarter scoring to take a 20-7 lead into the final quarter.

Dana Schuett's five-yard touchdown run with 9:17 left in the game moved Wayne to within six points of the Braves at 20-14.

However, Battle Creek iced the game with :50 second left on a short run, giving the Braves a 28-14 win.

Wayne ends the season at 4-4, but still qualified for the playoffs that start tonight (Thursday). The Blue Devils travel to Wahoo Neumann for a 7 pm contest.

"I am proud of how hard our kids played," said head coach John Murtaugh. "We need to maintain this effort and correct a few mistakes in order to be ready for Wahoo Neumann."

Battle Creek held a slight edge in total offense over Wayne, 278-273. Wayne had 160 yards rushing and 113 passing. Both teams had 18 first downs.

Brady Heithold led the Blue Devils rushing attack with 78 yards on 16 attempts. Dana Schuett added 46 yards on 11 carries while Justin Davis contributed 36 yards on 11 attempts.

Throwing the ball, Heithold was 7 of 21 for 113 yards and one touchdown.

Jon Ehrhardt had four catches for 69 yards with Andy Martin adding three catches for 44 yards and a touchdown.

Schuett led the Wayne effort defensively with 14 stops. Justin Davis followed with 11.

The weekly award winners were-Trench Award: Josh Ruwe, Specials Award: Josh Hartwell, Black Hatchet Award: Justin Davis, Sweatknocker Award: Luke Stoltenberg and the Red Star Award winner was Andy Martin.

Allen Eagles end season with convincing win over Niobrara

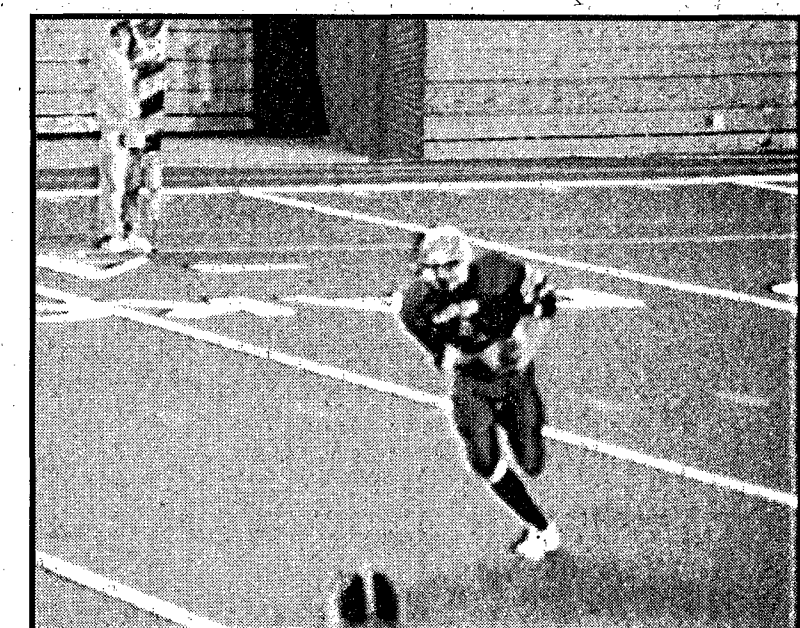

The Allen Eagles football team finished the regular season last Thursday evening with a convincing 54-8 win over Niobrara at the Dakota Dome.

The Eagles struck early after holding the Lions on their initial possession. Junior quarterback Corey Ulldrich raced 52 yards on an option keeper on the second play from scrimmage to put Allen up 7-0.

Later in the first quarter, Ulldrich found Duane Rahn on pass plays of 32 and seven yards to give the Eagles a 19-0 lead after the first quarter.

In the second quarter, Bart Sachau rambled 42 yards for one score, followed by an Aaron Smith three-yard run to put the Eagles up 33-0 at halftime.

After Niobrara scored its only touchdown of the game, Allen responded. Sachau scored on a 31-yard run to put the Eagles up 41-8.

Allen junior quarterback Corey Ulldrich breaks loose for a big run against Niobrara at the Dakota Dome last Thursday. Ulldrich accounted for four touchdowns in the Eagles' 54-8 win.

Ulldrich hit the airwaves again for another score, finding Derrick Nice on a 29-yard pass play to give the Eagles a comfortable 48-8 lead.

The reserves then finished out the game with Brett Koester finding Nice on a 47-yard pass to end the scoring, giving Allen the 54-8 win.

"I was very pleased with our defensive intensity tonight," said coach Dave Ulldrich after the game. "Our line did a great job again, allowing Bart Sachau to rush for over 1,000 yards this season."

Ulldrich also praised the community support.

"I was impressed with the crowd and the noise they made in the Dakota Dome. It was an experience our kids will never forget."

The Eagles win was their third in a row to end the season at 4-4. Allen completed its first .500 season in 24 years.

Wayne volleyball team places second at Mid States Tourney

The Wayne volleyball team closed out the regular season with a second place finish this week at the Mid-States Conference Tournament in Pierce.

Monday evening, Wayne posted an easy first-round win over Boone Central, 15-1 and 15-6.

The easy win allowed all varsity players to see playing time in the win.

Micaela Weber was a perfect 10/10 serving with seven aces to lead Wayne in the win. Erin Jarvi was 18/18 with six aces. She also led the team with four digs.

Alissa Dunklau contributed six set assists in the win.

In the semi-finals, the Blue Devils swept Battle Creek 15-9, 15-6.

Allison Hansen had 16 kills to lead Wayne in hitting. Kari Hochstein added nine and Jarvi had eight.

Dunklau handed out 37 set assists and was a perfect 13/13 serving with one ace. Ashley Loberg led Wayne in serving with three aces.

Jarvi had a team-high 10 digs on defense, followed by Hansen and Hochstein with five each.

Wayne head coach, Joyce Hoskins says she was pleased with how her team played on the opening night.

"We played very well on the first night. I was especially pleased with the Battle Creek win, because I feel they are under-rated."

In the championship match Tuesday evening, Wayne fell to Class C-2 top-ranked West Point Central Catholic 15-6 and 15-7.

Wayne got off to a quick start against the Bluejays, taking a 5-3 lead in the first game.

However, West Point CC got on a roll and went on to record the win in two games.

Coach Hoskins said, "we started out well and came out strong passing. But, they put together some strong hits which I think intimidated our girls a little bit."

She added, "they kept our blockers guessing and things didn't go our way as the match went."

I hope we learned something from this match that will help us in sub-district play."

Hansen had eight kills to lead Wayne in the championship match. Jarvi added four kills and nine digs. Loberg led the team in digs with 10.

Kari Hochstein had two blocks and led the team in serving with one ace. Alissa Dunklau had 16 set assists.

Last Thursday, Wayne won a pair of matches at the O'Neill Triangular.

The Blue Devils handled O'Neill in the first match 15-7, 15-6.

Hansen had eight kills and was 9/9 serving with one ace.

Dunklau led the team in assists with 24 and digs with eight.

Hochstein added seven kills,

Jarvi was 10/10 serving and had six digs while Ashley Loberg had five kills and five digs in the win.

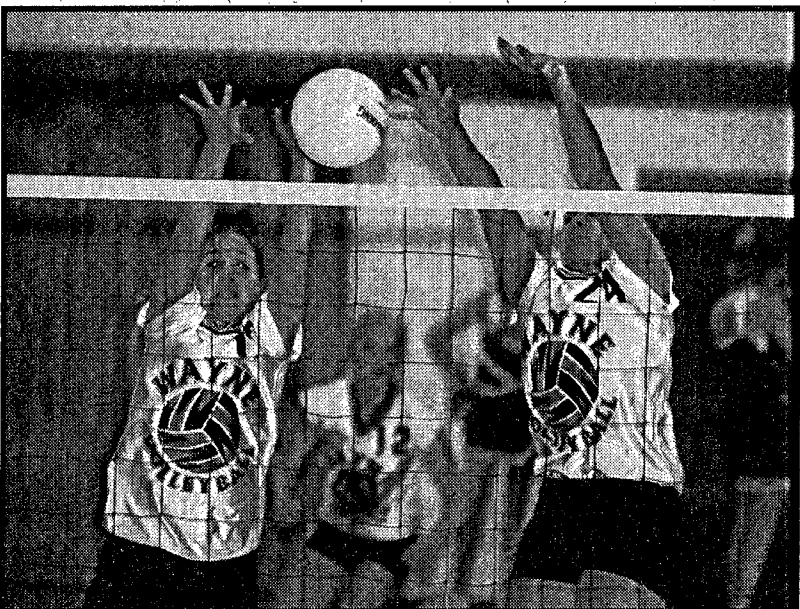

The other match saw Wayne sweep Hartington Cedar Catholic 15-3, 15-7.

Hochstein led a balanced hitting attack with seven kills to go with a team-best three blocks.

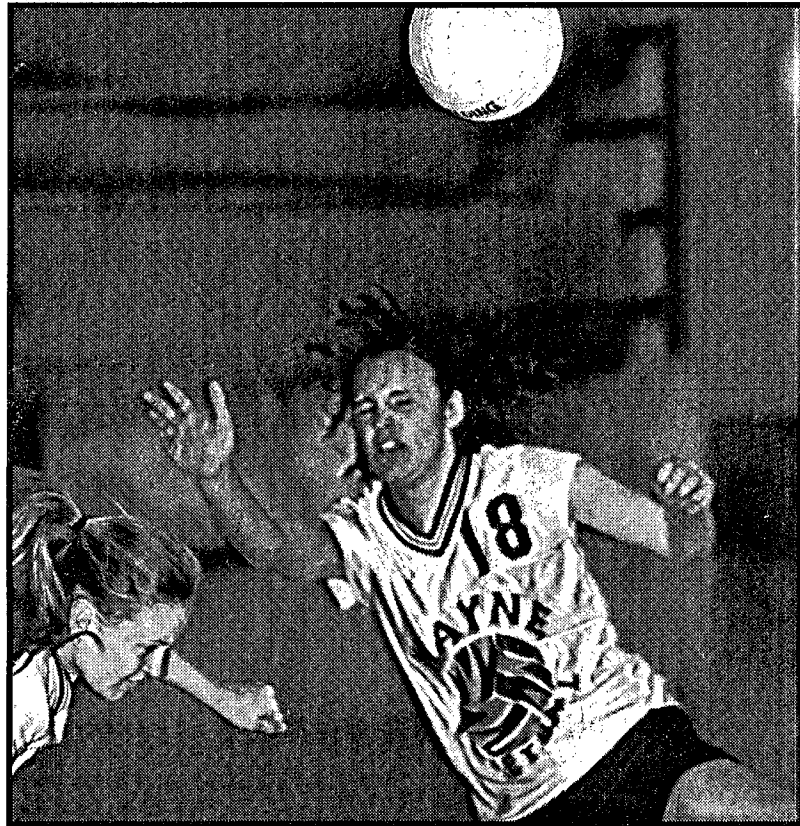

Hansen added five kills and two blocks with Ashley Loberg contributing a team-high seven digs and three kills.

Dunklau had 15 assists and five digs while Micaela Weber led the team in serving, going 13/14 with two aces.

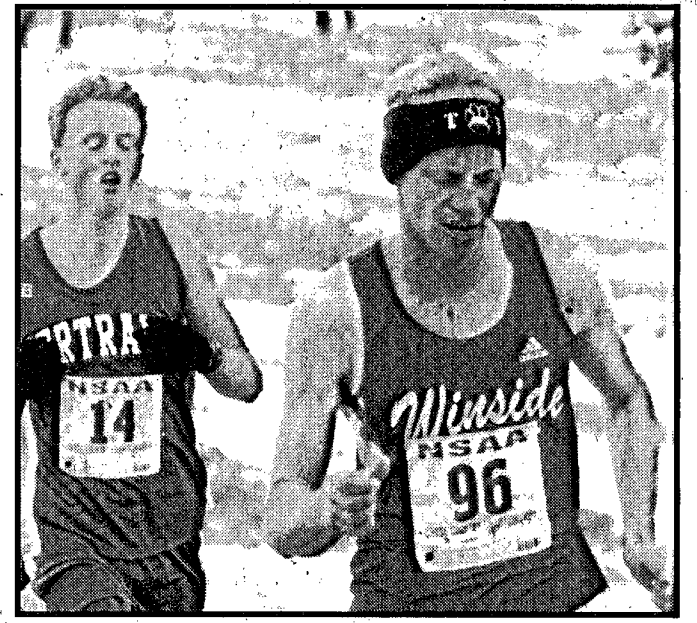

Wayne ends the regular season with a 25-4 record and will be competing in the Class C1-4 sub-district tournament in Wisner Monday evening.

Kari Hochstein, right, teams up with another Wayne player for a block in Monday's action at the Mid-States Volleyball Tournament.

Ashley Loberg dives to keep a ball in play at the Mid-States Conference Volleyball Tournament in Norfolk Monday evening.

Area runners compete at state cross country

Two area runners competed in the State Cross Country Meet last Friday in Kearney.

In Class D, Kevin Boelter of Winside competed, placing 24th with a time of 18:47.25.

Coach Jennifer Kesting says the poor conditions hurt Boelter's time.

"Kevin never wore spikes during the season, and on a wet, slushy course that affected his time. I was hoping for a top 15 finish, but it never worked out."

Kesting added that had Boelter run his regular time, he would have placed in the top 15, but the wet conditions produced slower times.

Laurel-Concord freshman Mindee Haahr also ran in Kearney, placing 52nd in Class D girls with a time of 18:27.77.

Laurel-Concord wins NENAC volleyball tournament

by Mike Gross
Of the Herald

The Laurel-Concord volleyball team won the NENAC Conference Tournament this week, winning three matches on Monday and Tuesday.

The Bears opened the tournament with an easy 15-2, 15-3 win over Bloomfield.

Senior Emily Schroeder had six kills and three ace blocks in the win. Susan Pritchard added four kills and four digs.

Tori Cunningham led the team in serving with four aces. She also had four digs and 11 set assists.

In the semi-finals, the Bears had to rally in both games to beat Randolph 15-13, 17-15.

The Bears rallied in the first game to tie the score at 10-10, then held on for a 15-13 win.

In the second game, the Bears rallied from 12-8 and 14-11 deficits to win 17-15.

Schroeder and Pritchard had 13 kills each to lead the Bears in hitting. Katie Peters added five kills, Tiffany Erwin three and Maggi Recob had two.

Defensively, Pritchard had 12 digs, Cunningham added 10 and Peters finished with six.

Cunningham had 34 set assists and led the team in serving with four aces.

"This was a competitive match which featured strings of points by both teams," said head coach Patti Cunningham. "The athletes played with a lot of determination."

Laurel-Concord met Elkhorn Valley in the championship match with the Bears prevailing 15-10, 16-14.

Schroeder had 13 kills in the win. Pritchard added 10 kills while Peters contributed five.

Pritchard had 11 digs to lead the Bears on defense. Peters followed with nine while Schroeder and Cunningham contributed six each.

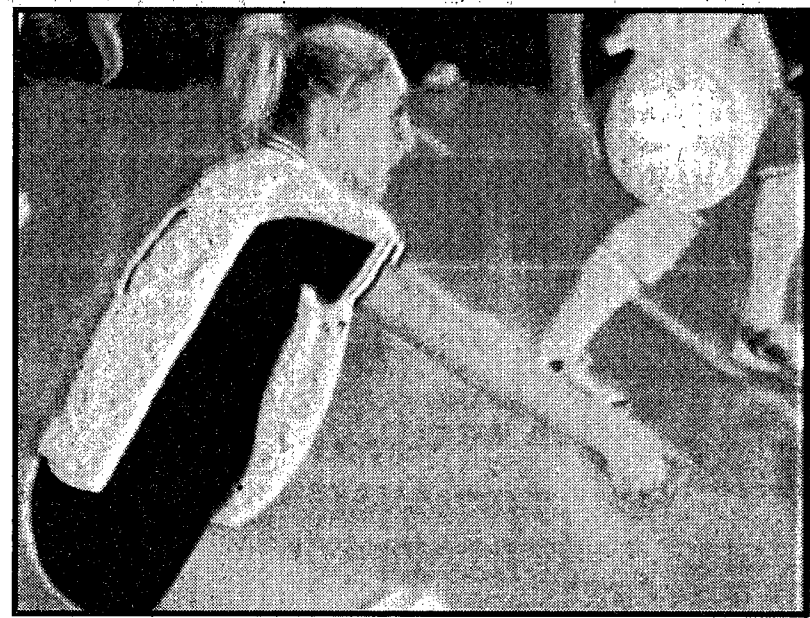

Cunningham had two ace serves and dished out 29 set assists in the win.

Coach Cunningham said, "the team was very goal-oriented about their conference matches. They approached each match with intensity and worked hard to become the season and conference tournament champions."

Tiffany Erwin bumps the ball to a teammate during Monday's NENAC Tournament action.

Laurel-Concord falls to Hartington Cedar Catholic

Hartington Cedar Catholic dealt Laurel-Concord a season-ending 49-7 loss in Hartington last Friday evening.

The Trojans built a 28-0 halftime lead and led 42-0 after three quarters before the Bears found the endzone.

Marc Manganaro's four-yard run was the lone score for Laurel-Concord.

Hartington CC had 492 yards in total offense while Laurel-Concord gained 253. The Bears had 42 yards rushing and 211 passing.

Eric Nelson completed 19 of 36 passes for 211 yards. Manganaro was 1 of 1 for 16 yards.

Manganaro had eight catches for 77 yards to pace the Bears in receiving. Jon Dickey added seven receptions for 80 yards. Tim Schroeder had two catches for 23 yards. Eric Nelson had one grab for 16 yards, Phillip Nelson had one catch for 15 yards and Nic Roeder hauled in, one pass for 14 yards.

Manganaro was the leading rusher, gaining 37 yards on nine carries. Chance McCoy added seven yards on four attempts.

Josh Hart led Laurel-Concord on defense with eight tackles. Manganaro followed with six.

"Our season was a base for our younger players to build upon," said head coach Mike Halley. "Many players gained valuable experience."

Laurel-Concord ends the season with a 1-7 record.

Wildcats fall at Concordia-St. Paul

Concordia-St. Paul raced out to a 28-0 second quarter lead en route to a 38-17 win over Wayne State in Northern Sun Conference football Saturday afternoon in St. Paul, Minn.

The Golden Bears used a Chris Washington six-yard run and a Joseph Mapson 67-yard punt return in the first quarter to take a 14-0 lead.

Joe Mapson's 15-yard pass from James McNear and a Washington run of nine yards put the Bears up 28-0 before the Wildcats got on the scoreboard.

Nate Hale connected on a 24-yard field goal with 3:32 left in the half, making the score 28-3 at halftime. The score capped a seven-play, 69-yard drive for the Wildcats.

Concordia-St. Paul scored first in the second half on a Chris Washington three-yard run, his third score of the game, to put the Bears up 35-3.

Wayne State cut into the lead by scoring a pair of touchdowns.

Bryce Teager hit paydirt on a 37-yard run with 7:14 left in the third quarter and Ryan Kuester hauled in a 48-yard pass from Brett Edwards to make the score 35-17 after three quarters.

The only score in the fourth quarter came on a Concordia field goal, making the final tally 38-17.

WSC Head Coach Scott Hoffman said Concordia has a very good football team.

"They have so much athletic ability. We haven't seen that kind of speed all season."

Hoffman added that his team played well in the second half.

"We played some pretty good ball in the second half. Ryan Kuester stepped up and had a big game for us and I thought Brett Edwards showed alot of leadership in the second half."

Concordia-St. Paul outgained Wayne State in the game 411-294.

The Wildcats had 80 yards rushing and 214 yards passing.

On the ground, Bryce Teager had a season-high 91 yards on 11 carries, scoring one touchdown. Mel Holliday had one carry for nine yards and John Sanders added two carries for one yard.

Sophomore quarterback Brett Edwards was 14 of 33 passing for 214 yards with one touchdown and no interceptions.

Ryan Kuester led the Wildcats in receiving, hauling in six passes for 163 yards and one score. Travis Mattox followed with two catches for 14 yards while Josh Hopwood added two receptions for 13 yards.

Defensively, Jon Carlson and Kyle Lingenfelter made nine tackles each for Wayne State. Robert Sellers, Jeremy Neill, Adam Long and Bump Christensen followed with seven apiece.

Wayne State falls to 1-7 overall and 1-5 in the NSIC while Concordia improved to 7-1, 5-1.

The Wildcats will host Southwest State Saturday in the Egg Bowl game with kickoff set for 12:30pm.

Junior Nick Hansen placed 11th at the NSIC Meet to lead the WSC men's team.

Audrey Emanuel led a young women's team in the NSIC meet, placing 31st.

WSC runners compete at NSIC meet

The Wayne State College cross country teams competed at the Northern Sun Conference Championships held in Bemidji, Minn. last Saturday.

The women's team placed eighth with a score of 188. Minnesota-Duluth took first place with 26 with Winona State a distant second at 76.

Sophomore Audrey Emanuel led the Wildcats with a 31st place finish. Her time on the 6,000-meter course was 25:39.

Freshmen Nicole McCoy and Erin Norenberg placed 43rd (26:44) and 46th (26:52) respectively.

Betsy Gahan and Jillian Kinzer followed with Gahan placing 49th in 27:16 and Kinzer finishing 58th in 29:47.

Head coach Marlon Brink said his young team gained some valuable experience at the meet.

"Our girls learned a lot about the intensity of conference competition, which will be valuable for them in the future."

Junior Nick Hansen led the men's team, as he narrowly missed earning NSIC All-Conference honors. His time of 27:27 was good for 11th place, one spot away from All-Conference recognition.

Freshman Chuck Bitker was the second Wildcat finisher, placing 28th at 29:10. Ben Crabtree, another freshman, was 33rd in 29:52 while first-year runner Tom Richey was 39th for the Wildcats at 32:05.

Senior Dustin Lippman was unable to finish due to an ankle injury sustained during the race.

Due to the injury, Wayne State was unable to field a team score with only four runners finishing.

Minnesota-Duluth won the team competition with 17 points. Minnesota State-Moorhead was distant second at 73.

"We thought Nick had a very good shot to be in the top ten," stated head coach Marlon Brink. "He still improved upon his performance from last year (13th)."

Brink added he was disappointed about the men's team not running a full squad.

"We knew going in that an injury could really hurt us."

The Wildcats will compete in the NCAA North Central Regional Championships in Hays, Kan. on Saturday, Nov. 9.

WSC women's soccer team ends regular season with home split

The Wayne State College women's soccer team closed out the regular season at home last weekend.

The Wildcats blanked Minnesota-Crookston Saturday afternoon 4-0, scoring two goals in each half.

Senior Becky Woelfel put the Wildcats up early 1-0, scoring an unassisted goal just 1:47 into the game.

Sophomore midfielder Michaela Blaylock scored on a penalty kick at the 34:33 mark to put Wayne State up 2-0 at intermission.

Tanya Mitchell (55:38) and Anne Paulsen (89:54) scored goals for the Wildcats in the second half.

"We played extremely well," said head coach Rolie Bulock. "It was an up tempo kind of game. We played our game and took it to them."

Wayne State outshot the Golden Eagles 27-7. Kalle Wamsat recorded four saves while posting a shutout for the Wildcats.

Sunday, unfortunately, was a different story due to the weather. Minnesota State-Moorhead, just 3-13-1 on the season, scored on a break away goal with just 2:13 left in the game, giving the Dragons a 1-0 win over the Wildcats.

"Weather is a great equalizer," stated Bulock. "On a sunny, dry day, we would have won easily. Unfortunately, there is nothing you can do about the weather."

Bulock added it was a frustrating loss.

"We hit the crossbar once and twice had shots stopped on the line."

The Wildcats outshot Minnesota State Moorhead 16-6 in the game. Goalie Erika Mather was credited with three saves.

Wayne State, now 7-12 overall and 5-4 in the NSIC, will be in action again Tuesday, Nov. 5 as they take part in the NSIC Postseason Tournament.

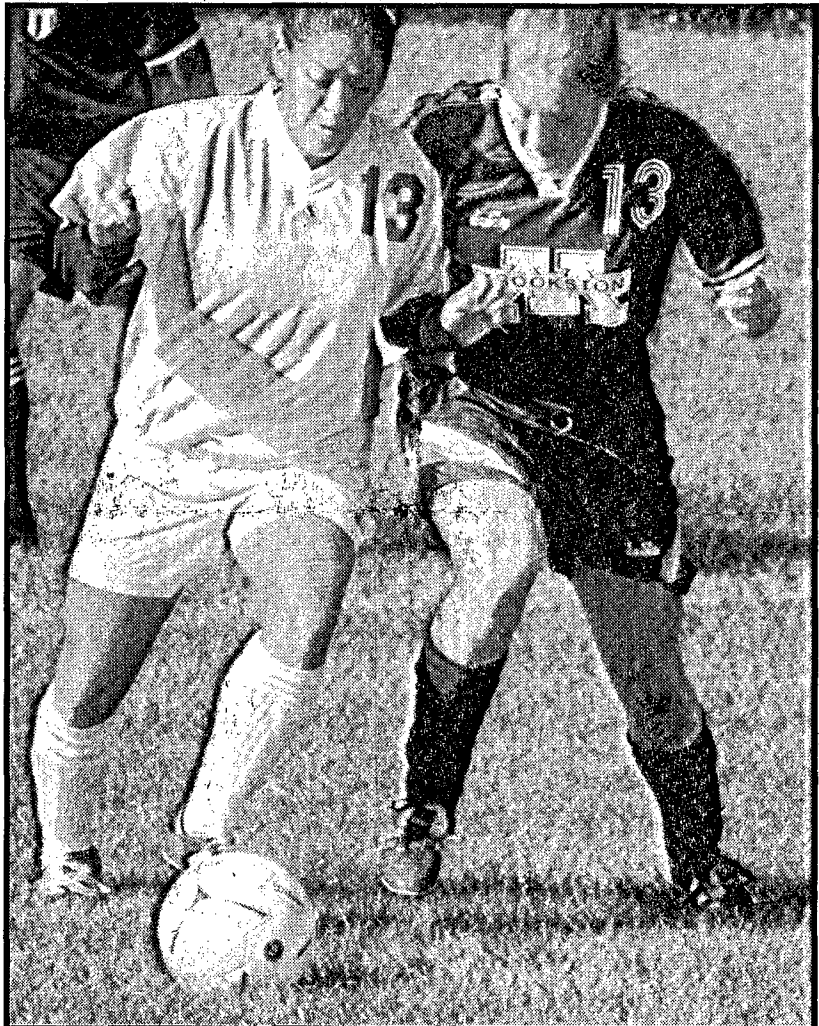

The Wildcats (#5 seed) will face Southwest State (#4 seed) in Marshall with game time set for 1pm. The Mustangs edged Wayne State 3-2 earlier this season in Wayne.

Coach Bulock says this is a huge revenge game for the Wildcats.

"We know we're a better team and we know we can beat them."

Sophomore midfielder Michaela Blaylock attempts a penalty kick against Minnesota-Crookston. Blaylock scored a goal on the free kick.

Wildcat freshman Maria St. Martin battles a Crookston player for the ball in Saturday's 4-0 win.

WSC spikers split NSIC road matches

The Wayne State volleyball team wrapped up a five-game road swing Tuesday evening with a four-set win at Minnesota-Morris. Scores were 20-30, 30-18, 30-19 and 30-28.

The Wildcats were led in hitting by senior Rayna Nelsen's 15 kills. Laurie Schroeder and Kristin Linderman added 11 kills each while Jacey Kuck added 10.

Libero Janel Moody had 12 digs to lead Wayne State on defense. Julie Jacobsen added nine.

Sette Kasey Meyer handed out 52 set assists in the win. Rayna Nelsen had five ace serves.

The Wildcats outhit Minnesota-Morris 255-235.

Last Wednesday, the Wildcats lost in four games at Northern State, 27-30, 23-30, 30-28 and 26-30.

The Wildcats struggled, hitting just .112 in the match with 36 errors.

Schroeder had 14 kills with Nelsen contributing 13. Both players had four ace blocks.

Moody had 26 digs on defense, with Jacobsen adding 20.

Meyer had 50 set assists in a losing effort.

Wayne State now begins a five-game homestand, hosting Minnesota State Moorhead Friday at 7 pm and Minnesota-Crookston Saturday at 5pm. The Wildcats are 8-3 in the NSIC and 17-13 overall.

Wayne State College will honor veterans during the Saturday, Nov. 16 home football game against Minnesota-Morris. Any veteran with spouse will be admitted free to the 12:30pm game at Cunningham Field. All veterans will be recognized during halftime.

Sub-District volleyball pairings announced

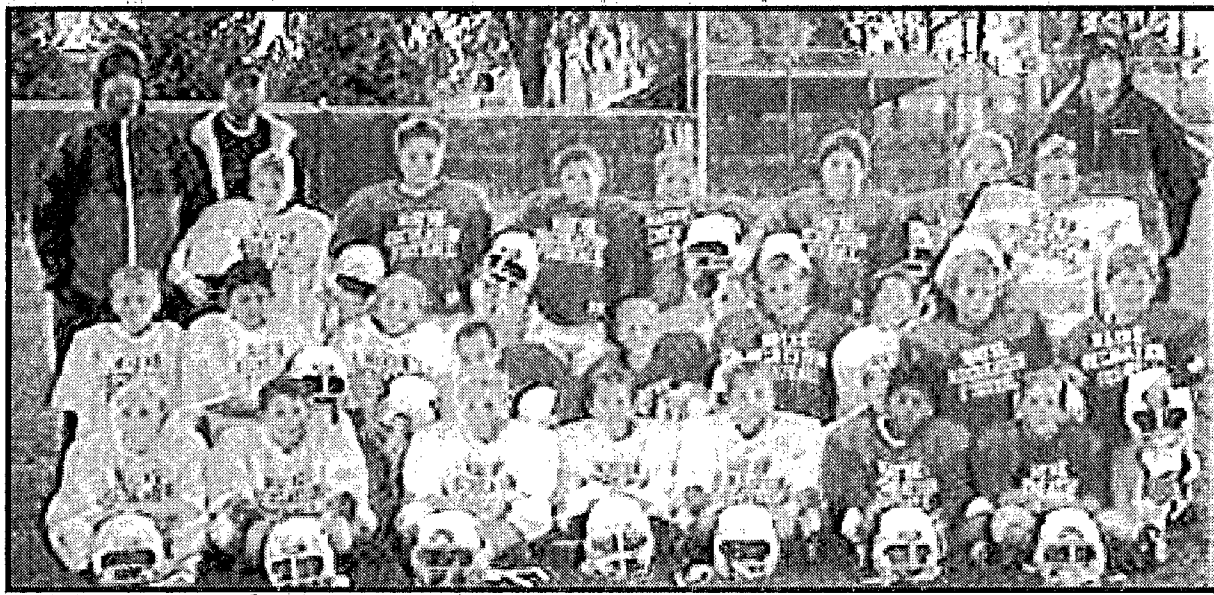

Sub-district volleyball pairings for area high school teams were announced this week.

Wayne will be the top-seed in the Class C1-4 Tournament at Wisner starting Monday evening. The 25-4 Blue Devils will play at 6 pm against the winner of the Stanton(8-17)/Madison(1-20) match, which is played at 5 pm. Norfolk Catholic(14-10) meets West Point(19-3) at 7 pm with the winners facing off in the championship match at 8 pm.

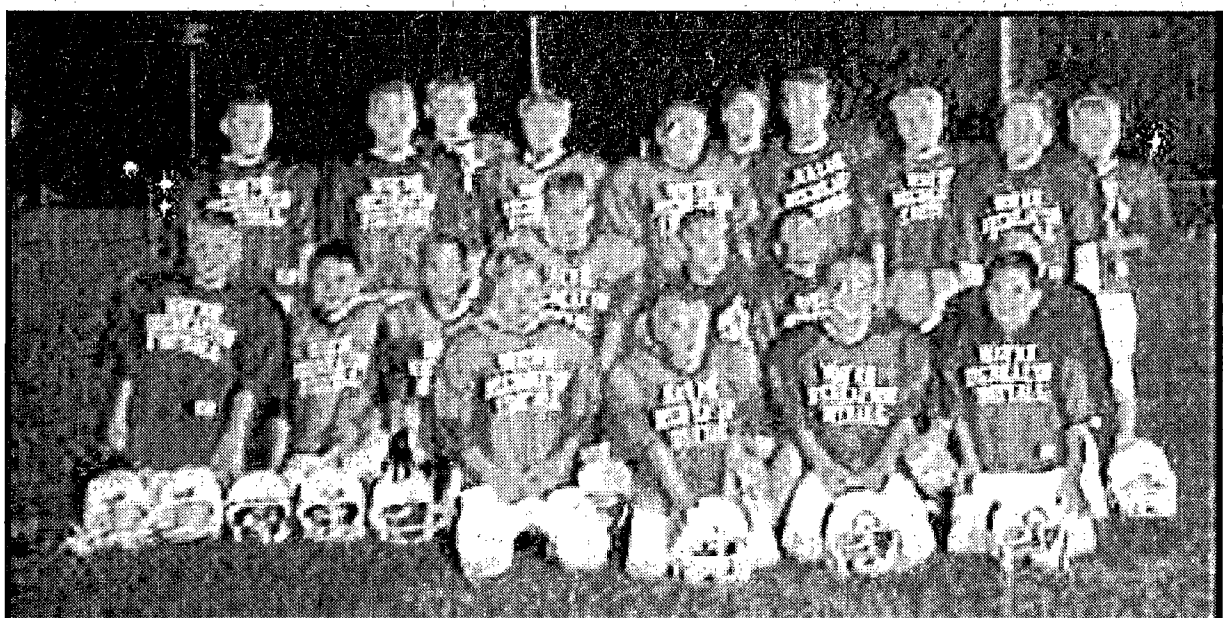

Laurel-Concord is the top seed for the C2-5 Sub-District at Wayne High School Monday evening. The first match has Ponca(5-14) meeting Hartington Cedar Catholic(7-14) at 5 pm with the winner playing Laurel-Concord(20-1) at 6 pm. Wakefield(16-13) plays Emerson-Hubbard(15-8) at 7 pm with the championship match set for 8 pm.

Winside will compete in the Class D1-7 Sub-District that will be played Tuesday evening at Wayne High School. The 2-18 Wildcats play in the opening match at 5 pm against Omaha Nation, who is 7-8 on the year. The winner of that match meets top-seed Hartington High(15-3) at 6 pm. That will be followed by the Osmond(8-10) vs. Bancroft-Rosalie(14-6) match with the two winners meeting in the title match at 8 pm.

Allen is the top-seed for the Class D2-3 Tournament at South Sioux City Tuesday evening. The opening match

Sports Briefs

Hill named to All-State softball team

WAYNE-Molly Hill of Wayne High School has been named to the Class C All-State softball team.

The sophomore pitcher had a 17-5 record this fall in helping Wayne make the State Tournament in its first season of play.

Freshman outfielder Jean Pieper received honorable mention honors.

Veterans to be recognized at WSC game

WAYNE-Wayne State College will be recognizing all veterans during the Saturday, Nov. 16 home football game against Minnesota-Morris.

Any veteran and spouse will be admitted FREE to the 12:30pm game and will be cognized during halftime.

WSC Athletic Director Todd Barry says this is a way to say thank you for what all veterans have done for our country.

Wayne JV's end season with win

WAYNE-The Wayne junior varsity football team ended their season with a 26-6 win at Laurel-Concord on Monday, Oct. 21.

Josh Hartwell rushed for over 100 yards, scoring on a 43-yard run. He also added a pair of two-point conversion runs.

Todd Poehlman had an 11-yard touchdown run along with a two-point run, Wade Jarvi scored on a one-yard run and Wayne had a team safety to close out scoring.

The Wayne JV's end the season with a 2-4 record.

Wakefield wins conference tourney

WAKEFIELD-The Wakefield volleyball team won the Lewis and Clark Conference Tournament this week.

The Trojans won two games in Wynot Monday evening, beating Coleridge 15-8, 15-13 and knocking off Wynot in three games, 15-13, 9-15 and 15-4.

Tuesday evening at Wausa, the Trojans won the Clark Division final over Osmond, 15-9 and 15-12, then beat Emerson-Hubbard in the Lewis and Clark Finals 15-5, 15-7.

Winside lost its opening round match to Hartington High Monday evening in Hartington 15-11, 16-14.

Stats on the matches were not available at press time.

Wakefield will play in the C2-5 sub-district at Wayne High Monday evening while the Wildcats compete Tuesday in the D1-7 sub-district, also at Wayne High.

Allen volleyball team falls to Homer twice

The Allen volleyball team faced Homer twice in the past week, falling to the Knights on Parent's Night in Allen last Tuesday and dropping a second match at the Lewis and Clark Conference Tournament Monday evening in Homer.

After beating the Knights in the Newcastle Tournament earlier this month, the Eagles dropped a 15-9, 15-10 match to the Knights on Parent's Night.

The Eagles struggled with serve receive and had several errors in allowing Homer to score easy points.

Kelli Rastede and Angie Sullivan led the Eagles in hitting with eight and six kills respectively. Sullivan led the team in serving, going 13/13 with three aces and had a team-high six digs.

Samantha Bock handed out 22 set assists.

Allen won the "B" match 17-15, 15-2 to cap an unbeaten season.

Andrea Liebsch had 10 kills and was 11/11 serving with six aces.

Alissa Koester had eight set assists and Diana Diediker had six digs.

The "C" team also won in two sets, 11-5 and 11-7.

The team combined to hit 24/26 with 11 kills in the win.

Erin Stewart led the team with four kills. Erin Keitges was 8/9 serving with four aces and Alissa Koester had six set assists and three digs.

In the Lewis and Clark Conference Tournament at Homer Monday evening, Allen swept Winnebago in the first match 15-8, 15-3, but lost to Homer 5-15, 15-13 and 15-9. Stats on the two matches were not available.

Allen will compete in the Class D2-3 sub-district at South Sioux City Tuesday evening.

RC & D celebrates another successful year

Celebrating accomplishments of the RC&D's year was the theme of the Northeast Nebraska group's annual meeting on Oct. 28th. Allen Grell, Keep Nebraska Beautiful complimented the six counties and the RC&D Council for their involvement in the Used Oil Collection program. It is a sound environmental project and is making a difference. Tom Schindler, Antelope County was honored as the "#1 Collector" with 3,800 gallons properly disposed of since April 1st.

Seven members of the Ponca

Tribe provided entertainment and education through Native American dancing. Gary Robinette and Larry Wright explained the meaning of the dancers' regalia, differences in drum music and responsibilities of positions within the dance groups. Oct. 31st is Restoration Day for the Ponca Tribe - the day in 1990 that they again became a federally recognized tribe.

Vice President Bob Porter presided over the business meeting. Barb Hoffart reported on information from the Nebraska Tourism conference last week and that the Outlaw Trail and Shannon Trail both received awards. The visit to the RC&D area by Natural Resource Conservation Service Chief Knight and others recently provided them an opportunity to see and learn about the variety of projects RC&D is engaged in with local groups.

The annual report showed 15 completed and 24 new projects, over $291,000 in grants funds for projects, and 80 local people contributed almost 5,000 volunteer hours in support of the efforts. New officers elected were President Bob Lingenfelter, Plainview, Vice President Bob Porter, Wayne, Secretary Linda Kastning, Ponca and Treasurer Mary Rose Backhaus, Randolph. Announcements included Creighton's Haunted House on Oct. 31, Nov. 1 & 2, and Hartington's Candlelight Kick-Off Nov. 21st including a lighted machinery parade and living window displays.

The next meeting is Monday, Nov. 25th in Plainview. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Fine Arts presentations scheduled at Wayne State

The public is welcome to attend early November fine arts presentations by Wayne State College students. Student chamber music ensembles will perform on Tuesday, Nov. 5 in Ley Theatre, Brandenburg Education Building at 8 p.m. An art exhibit may be viewed from Nov. 4 through Nov. 15.

Michael Hassler of Wayne and Amanda Rector of Omaha will feature their work in a student art exhibit in the Nordstrand Visual Arts Gallery, Peterson Fine Arts Building.

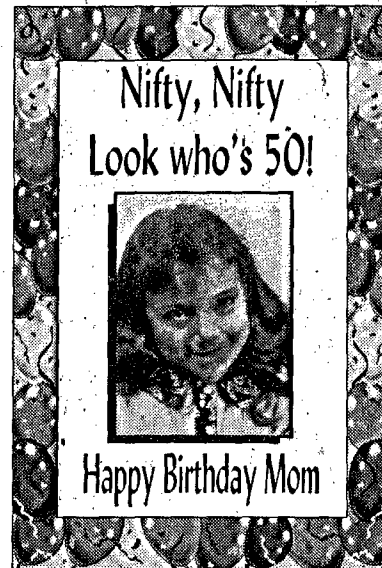

Hassler has recently completed watercolor and pencil illustrations for a children's book, The Ring Bearer, by N.L. Sharp. His illustrations relate to the story of a little boy who is going to be a ring bearer for a wedding. He mistakenly believes he is to be a ring bear. Hassler will display primarily watercolors and prints with a sports theme during his upcoming show.

Rector's work will include prints, drawings and paintings with a majority of animal-form themes.

The Nordstrand Visual Arts Gallery is open Monday through Friday, from 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. when classes are in session.

There is no admission charge for these events. For more information, please call (402) 375-7359.

Herbs for Health
Cranberry Juice or Extract for Urinary Tract Infections

Since the mid-1800's, cranberry has been used to prevent and treat urinary tract infections. The mechanism was thought to be acidification of urine. Now we know that cranberry's protective effects are due to prevention of the bacterium E. coli from binding to the bladder cells and other sites. The primary use of cranberry is treatment of urinary tract infections, and the secondary use is as a deodorant for incontinent patients.

The most cited study was a double-blind, placebo-controlled trial of 153 women. The women consumed 10 ounces per day of a cranberry drink or a placebo. Women who drank the cranberry drink were 58% less likely to have bacteria and pus in their urine as compared to women who received the placebo. Dosing for adults is one 300-400 mg cranberry extract capsule daily or drinking several glasses of pure cranberry juice. The juice must be 100% cranberry, not the cocktail, which is heavily diluted and loaded with sugar. Side effects are rare, and there are no known drug interactions or contraindications.

Pheasant season 2002 is discussed

The gaudy cackling rooster was trying desperately to gain altitude, but the added weight of the mud clod clinging to its feet wouldn't allow it.

I had no shot because we had hunters pushing the Milo field and they were directly behind the bird. At the angle the bird was heading, it looked like I might have a better shot at hitting it with the butt of my SKB or getting hammered in the chest by the frantic bird.

A few yards in front of me, the mud dropped from the bird's feet, allowing it to gain altitude and slide just above me and off to the right.

By the time I turned around, the bird had put considerable distance between the Milo field and the hunters. The two shots that I touched off as I turned around only helped to move the fleeing bird along a bit quicker.

Our host, Mike Finley, had brought our group to hunt part of his Funderosa Ranch which is located near Vivian S.D.

With the birds that were coming out of the field, it looked as if this would be an excellent hunt.

I was one of the team nine members in the 2002 S.D. Governor's Hunt. Our team consisted of 12 hunters including a few hunters that I was had hunted with or was familiar with, including our team captain Mark Meierhenry, Sioux Falls, Pat Postrollo, Madison, Bob Timm and Jim Roby Watertown, Loren Mullett and Charlie Van Gerpen, Pierre.

Gary Howey
'Of the Outdoors'

The birds weren't the only ones that were picking up mud on their feet as our boots went in clean and came out looking more like snowshoes than boots. An early wet snow had muddied up the fields pretty well, making for some excellent hunting with dogs as they could scent better with the moisture, but the gumbo made it messy for the walkers.

As the birds rose, the guns cracked and very few if any birds escaped the walkers, it was evident that we had some good shooters in this group.

Our group was out of the field by 2:30 just a couple birds short of our full limit.

This story is repeated each fall throughout the Midwest, as groups of friends and families head out into the fields to enjoy yet another pheasant season.

Some of the hunters do well as we did, while others have to hunt all day to bag a three bird limit.

The key to good wildlife populations is cover or habitat and where it exists or is abundant, so are the birds and other wildlife.

In S.D. landowners have realized the value of leaving grass, sloughs, strips of row crops and ungrazed shelterbelts for pheasants and other wildlife.

Farming methods have changed and the days of dirty row crops, quarter sections of sloughs and weedy fence lines are gone.

The CRP has helped, but it too has its limits and early CRP, like the early Soil Bank with its weeds and legumes produced more birds than the older plantings that were in over seven or eight years.

It's been said that were a healthy wildlife population exists, a healthy environment also exists. Habitat not only benefits wildlife, it also benefits man.

Buffer strips and grasses serve as a filter, preventing soil erosion by catching sediment before it runs into our streams or fills our road ditches.

Trees not only provide shade, they help to decrease the amount of wind erosion, use carbon dioxide and produce oxygen.

The roots of these plants hold the soil in place, use and capture harmful chemicals that would eventually work their way into our aquifers and water systems.

In order to ensure the future of pheasant hunting, we need to leave a little, a little grass a few weeds, a few trees.

If we fail to do this, we won't have the wildlife and the wildlife won't be the only thing on this earth that loses as man will have lost a part of his heritage that has been around since the beginning.

He'll lose the opportunity to head out to the field with friends and family. The opportunity to enjoy the beautiful fall colors that the Midwest is famous for and the cackle of a rooster pheasant as he thunders skyward into the autumn sky.

RC & D bus tour postponed until November 4

Due to the weather, the Northeast Nebraska RC&D had to postpone the bus tour to St. Edward to Tom Larson's organic/agroforestry farm scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 30th. The tour has been rescheduled for Monday, Nov. 4.

Participants should plan to board the bus at the Northeast Nebraska RC&D office in Plainview on Monday, at 8 am.

The second and third workshops are still scheduled to meet in Plainview on Nov. 6 and Nov. 13 at 8:45 am.

If you have any questions or still wish to register, please call the Northeast Nebraska RC&D office at 402-582-4866.

Oct. 23-27.

Karlen and Dr. Randy Bertolas, associate professor of geography, led a contingent of nine Wayne State students to attend the convention. All nine students are members of PGM; five of the students were selected to give paper presentations on their research.

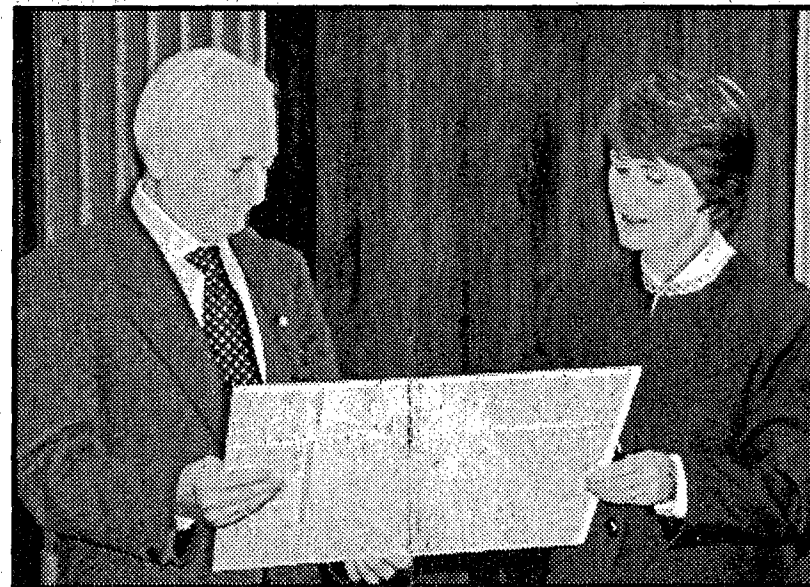

As the new international president, Karlen will serve a three-year term.

In her acceptance speech, she pledged to broaden participation by active PGM chapters across the country in addition to starting new chapters in underrepresented regions. Karlen promised to make inclusiveness part of the foundation of her administration and reiterated her commitment to serving all the social sciences. She has served as first vice president of the organization for the past six years.

Karlen participated in the reactivation of the WSC chapter in 1978 and has served since then as faculty advisor. Currently, Karlen and Bertolas are co-faculty advisors for the Wayne State PGM chapter, which is now approaching its sixtieth anniversary. Dr. Ali Eminov, professor of anthropology, completed 20 years as faculty treasurer for the local chapter.

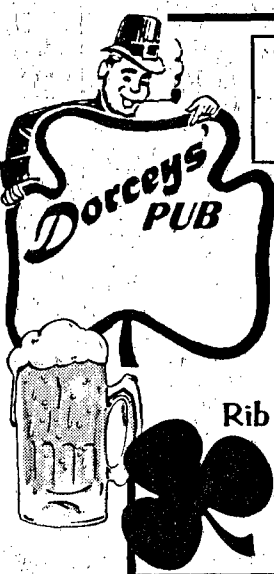

Pi Gamma Mu is an international social sciences honor society co-founded in 1924 by Southwestern College in Kansas and the College of William and Mary in Virginia. Seventeen founding chapters were organized initially; more than 150 chapters are in existence today.

Pi Gamma Mu is a member of the Association of College Honor Societies, on whose council it has a representative. It is affiliated with the American Association for the Advancement of Science. PGM also publishes an interdisciplinary journal, International Social Science Review.

Exchange gifts

Dr. Yucel Yilmaz, the rector of Kadir Has University in Istanbul, Turkey exchanged gifts with Dr. Sheila Stearns, Wayne State College president during a campus visit on Oct. 29. He met with President Stearns, administrators and various faculty members to explore the possibilities of a student and faculty exchange between institutions. Stearns presented Yilmaz with a print of a watercolor of the Wayne State College Willow Bowl by Vic Reynolds. She received a plate of traditional Turkish design.

Family finances and children: When and how much?

When finances are tighter than usual, parents want to protect their children from the reality of the situation. They want them to have happy, carefree and innocent lives. But children, just like their parents, are affected by financial stress.

Even if you don't talk with your where to spend less money and how you all can still do what the family enjoys.

Just how much detail you share with a child depends on the child's age, maturity, and personality, as well as your family's values. Especially in difficult times, all children want to know the family will be okay. While teenagers and older children will be able to handle more detail than younger ones, talk with your kids about the situation. Use language they can understand to tell them how they will be directly affected. Above all, answer their questions and allow them to verbalize their concerns.

Share that you are afraid, angry or frustrated. Then they'll know they aren't the only ones with these feelings. Also share how you deal with your feelings. Perhaps you use exercise, art, writing, music, meditation or prayer as a way to get your feelings out. Show them such feelings are normal, and having a creative way to express them is better than holding them inside or exploding verbally or physically.

Even if your own family isn't having financial difficulties, children may be concerned for others they hear about through the media or observe in the community. Explore how they perhaps can help others by raising money or collecting food for the local food bank. Help them understand that reducing stress means taking action, not just holding your feelings inside. And when your children take action, join them. Taking action will make you feel more involved and hopeful.

kids, don't assume they don't know what's happening. They overhear conversations and pick up on signs of stress in their parents. They may even imagine a worse situation than what is really true. A parent who remains silent communicates that there is a problem but it can't be talked about. And children who lack information may blame themselves for the problem or try to take on adult roles to try to fix things.

If you're the parent, remain open to your kids. Let them know it's okay to talk about the changes.

Help them understand how their lives will be changed. For example, there might be less money for things like school activities or eating out. Ask them for ideas about

Our Savior to hold Memorial Service

All Saint's Day is the traditional time that the Christian Church has celebrated the lives of saints, both living and dead.

In keeping with this tradition, Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne will hold worship services whose theme is "Remembering Relationships - Celebrating Life." These services will be held at 6 p.m. on Saturday, Nov. 2 and Sunday, Nov. 3 at 8 and 10:30 a.m.

All those who have lost loved ones are invited to attend. "The purpose of these worship services is to give people the opportunity to deal with their grief in the supportive fellowship of Christians in worship," said Pastor

Kevin Ruffcorn, Senior Pastor of Our Savior Lutheran Church. "We want to remember how God has richly blessed us with relationships and also celebrate the life that God continues to give us each day and the promise of new life that we have."

The worship services are open to the community. Anyone who has lost a loved one is encouraged to attend one of the services this weekend.

For more information concerning the ministries of Our Savior, contact the church office at (402) 375-2899. The church is located at the corner of Fifth and Main Streets in Wayne.

New Drug Approved for Colon Cancer

Colon cancer is the nation's second leading cause of cancer death. In the fastest review to date, the FDA has approved the use of the drug Eloxatin. Eloxatin has previously been used as a "last-ditch" treatment when all other options failed. When used in these late stages, Eloxatin's success rate was low. However, the FDA is hopeful that results might be better when administered in the cancer's earlier stages.

CONFIRMATION HELD

Reformation Sunday services on Oct. 27th at First Lutheran Church in Allen included the rite of Affirmation of Baptism for eight students: Jennifer Fahrenholz, Zeena Fahrenholz, Codi Hingst, Derek Hingst, Jacob Malcom, Joshua Malcom, Kyle Sperry and Robbie Sperry. (Affirmation of Baptism is otherwise known to most as 'confirmation'.)

Rev. Sarah Lutter led the service in which the students, along with the congregation's support and encouragement, affirmed their baptism and their Christian faith. In doing so, the students are committing themselves to life-long Christian education and service in the ministry of the Church wherever their life's journey takes them.

SCHOOL BOND INFORMATION

Did You Realize...
*Although a lid override passed in 1998, the Allen Board of Education, in an effort to keep taxes low in our District, has opted not to raise taxes to the $1.30 allowed in that election.

The current Board also voted to use $300,000 of current District funds to keep the proposed tax levy as low as possible. This consists of $150,000 from the special building fund and $150,000 from the general fund.

*Interest rates today are near historic lows. This is an excellent time to issue bonds.

*It is more economical to build new. Renovating the existing facility has been estimated to cost in the excess of $2,140,000. New construction could be completed with current building technology for approximately $2,131,000.

*The current building is not cost efficient. The average heating and utility bills will be much lower with a new building. Annual maintenance costs will also be lower with a new building.

*Facilities in a new building- Commons area for meetings, Distant Learning Center, library and possible a fitness center - will hopefully be available for public taxes.

*Property owners will pay taxes somewhere. Why not vote yes to make improvements in our own community? Don't forget to vote on Tuesday.

BLOOD DRIVE

The Siouxland Community Blood Bank will be in Allen on Monday, Nov. 4 from 3 - 7 p.m. at the Allen Fire Hall.

The Community Club will be serving soup and dessert as a fund raiser for the Fire and Rescue Department from 3 - 7 p.m. Did you know that more than four million Americans would die every year without life-saving blood transfusions?

To be eligible to donate you must be at 17 years old, weigh 110 pounds, in general good health, and not have donated whole blood in the past 56 days.

AUXILIARY NEWS

Auxiliary met at the Senior Center for the October meeting. Roll call was answered by naming your favorite fall vegetable or flower.

Chairman reports were heard from Wanda Novak - membership - and Donna Stalling - Sunshine & cards. It was reported that there was a good turnout for the Make A Difference Day coffee.

We will make donations to County Government Day and Gift for Yanks Who Gave. Plans were made to observe education week on Nov. 17 - 23.

County convention will be held in Wakefield on Nov. 11. The tea will begin at 4 p.m. followed by the meeting at 4:30 pm. Supper will be served at 6. The Allen unit has been chosen to judge publicity books prior to the District Convention in March.

Next month's meeting will be Nov. 4 because of county convention falling on the regular meeting day. Hostesses will be Judy Olson and Sharon Puckett.

NINE PATCH QUILTERS

Nine Patch Quilters next meeting will be Nov. 4 at 7:30 p.m. at the home of JoAnn Quinn. Please note the change of place for this one meeting. Pat Philbrick and Sharon Brentlinger will demonstrate the election quilt computer program.

Wayne State College to be host to Nebraska Futures Conference

"Strategies for Sustaining Rural Communities" is the theme of the 2002 Nebraska Futures Conference, set for Wednesday, Nov. 20, at Wayne State College. Topics to be covered during the day-long conference include "Encounters with Nebraska's Future," "Budget and Public Policy Forecast for Nebraska," "Cultural Diversity: Challenges and Opportunities in Our Communities," and "The Future of Nebraska Health Care."

Keynote speaker Dr. Marvin J. Cetron, who has been cited as one of the nation's foremost futurists, will present "Encounters with Nebraska's Future."

Cetron is founder and president of Forecasting International, which advises industry and government on management techniques, technological forecasting, corporate strategic planning, technology assessment, R & D planning, project selections, resource allocation, economics, marketing and the behavioral sciences. He has been featured on "The Today Show," "Good Morning America," "CBS Morning News," "Crossfire," and "Larry King Live," as well as in many magazines and newspapers.

"Budget and Public Policy Forecast for Nebraska" will be presented by Nebraska Lt. Governor David Heineman. Heineman serves as Director of Homeland Security for Nebraska. He is chairman of the Governor's Homeland Security Policy Group, chairman of the Nebraska Information Technology Commission, and is Gov. Mike Johanns' administrative liaison to Nebraska's two U.S. senators and three U.S. congressmen regarding federal issues.

Alfonza Whitaker and Blanca Ramirez-Salazar of the Nebraska Equal Opportunities Commission will present the session, "Cultural Diversity: Challenges & Opportunities in our Communities." The final session, "The Future of Nebraska Health Care," will be presented by Robert Driewer, Administrator, Faith Regional Health Services, Norfolk, and Roger Keetle, Senior Vice President, Advocacy, Nebraska Hospital Association.

The public is invited and encouraged to attend the daylong conference, which will last from 9 a.m. to 3:45 p.m. Cost is $25 per person, including lunch and breaks. Registration materials are available by contacting Judy Johnson, College Relations Office, Wayne State College, at 800-228-9972, ext. 7325. They are also on the Wayne State Web site at www.wsc.edu.

Leadership We Trust Re-elect Governor Mike Johanns

As Governor of Nebraska, Mike Johanns has demonstrated true leadership, delivering on Nebraska's agenda.

"Our endorsement of Governor Johanns in his bid for re-election is based, not on his politics, nor is it based on what he has done for us or may do for us in the future. Our endorsement is based on something much simpler than that. It is based on the man's character and integrity. Governor Johanns impresses us with his straightforward manner and his honesty."

Iron: Why Boys May "Outsmart" Girls

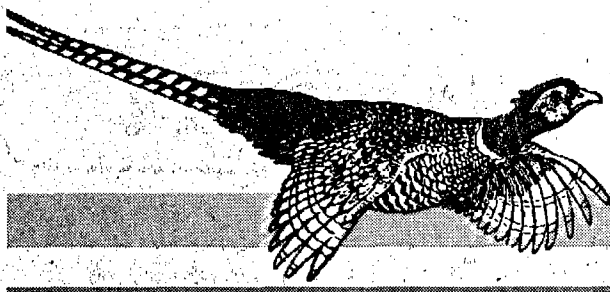

According to a recent report in the medical journal Pediatrics, iron deficiency may be responsible for girls not keeping up with boys in solving math problems by the time they reach high school. Iron is required for red blood cell production. Having too few red cells is termed Anemia.

Researchers at the University of Rochester School of Medicine and Dentistry studied more than 5 thousand children aged 6 to 16 years. They found that iron deficient children were twice as likely to have below average standardized math test scores as compared to children who had adequate amounts of iron in their blood.

In this study 3% of children overall were found to be iron deficient. However, 9% of teenage girls were iron deficient. Test scores were lower even if iron deficiency was not so serious as to cause anemia.

Cooperative extension personnel honored

University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension recently honored several faculty and staff during its fall conference.

Elbert Dickey, dean and director of NU Cooperative Extension, announced the recipients Oct. 23 in Grand Island. Honorees are: Jim Emal, director of strategic technologies; Charles Shapiro, soils specialist; Deborah Rood, programs coordinator, agricultural economics; Charles Burr, extension educator and unit leader, south central district; and Susan Pearman, extension assistant, west central district.

Two Excellence in Team Programming Awards were presented to the NU for Families and the Nebraska Ranch Practicum programs.

Emal, based in Lincoln, received the Chester I. Walters Extra Mile Award. An information technol-gist and extension computer specialist for nearly 20 years, Emal has been instrumental in leading Technologies Across Nebraska, an extension-led program that seeks to resolve obstacles to high-speed Internet access and related issues in rural Nebraska.

Shapiro, who is based at the Haskell Ag Laboratory near Concord, received the Distinguished Specialist Award. Since 1991, Shapiro has served as co-principal investigator and supporting investigator on extension grants totaling about $2.5 million. Last year, Shapiro worked with others to obtain a $225,000 grant to promote use of animal manures and other organic residuals as inputs in cropping systems through the Controlled Nutrient Management Program.

Rood, based in Lincoln, received the Distinguished Assistant Award. Through her work in extension programming for the past 19 years, Rood has spoken to hundreds of Nebraska families at programs such as the Women in Agriculture Conference. She also helped design extension's Decisions Now program and has inspired creation of Women in Ag gatherings in other states.

Burr, based at Clay Center, received the Distinguished Educator Award for his work in south central Nebraska for the past 12 years. Burr was coordinator of the multi-agency Elm Creek Water Quality Project and authored an irrigation scheduling newsletter that helped farmers adopt improved practices on nearly 2,500 acres. In 1998, he led a team effort to develop an irrigation management home study course. One of the founders of the Farmers and Ranchers College, Burr serves as secretary on its board of directors.

Pearman, based at Theftord, received the Extension New Employee Award. As extension assistant for the Central Sandhills Area since 1999, Pearman has initiated a Character Counts program in eight area schools, reaching about 360 children per year. Pearman received a grant to begin the Rural Health Career Recruitment Project, which provides students with an opportunity to learn about rural health care. She is involved with leadership of the 4-H program, serving as a member of the State 4-H Camp Board, District 4-H Advisory Committee and Nebraska 4-H Curriculum Committee.

NU for Families, winner of one of the team awards, began in 1999 with a series of satellite programs on family strengths. The extension team's programming, which seeks to raise awareness about family assets and help families build on their skills, has reached more than 26,000 families.

The Nebraska Ranch Practicum, recipient of the other team award, teaches ranchers an integrated systems approach to managing cattle, forage and economics. Sessions taught by extension educators and specialists involve two days in a classroom and five days performing field laboratory activities. Participants from the 2000 practicum, who manage about 1.5 million acres of range crop and hay land and about 131,000 head of cattle, estimate the knowledge gained is worth $34 per head.

Cooperative Extension is a division of NU's Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

Attend wedding in Ireland

The occasion of the trip across the pond was the wedding of Karen Campbell and Roger Paden in Coleraire, Northern Ireland, on Saturday, Oct. 19.

Karen was in Jon's class at Nebraska Wesleyan, in Sue's pledge class at the AGD house and Kay's roommate all one summer. Plus, she helped me immensely by sitting with Kay and Ann at the hospital after their car accident, so I could go to my Mom's and take a shower and get a break. She showed up at Kay's wedding with this Irish bloke and we had a feeling this might be it.

They met in San Francisco; she works as an occupational therapist and he is in computer design. They were married in the Little Church of the West in Las Vegas a year ago and moved to London shortly after that. This was to be a celebration of the marriage in a year old castle. It sounded like a golden opportunity to visit Britain. Jon offered to meet us in New York and be a "special escort." We took him up on it and visited the AAA lady.

A friend of a friend offered housing in London and volunteered his son as chauffeur. It takes three years to prepare to be a cab driver in London; they call it "The Knowledge" and they have to take a stiff exam to be certified. I can see why! There is no rhyme or reason to the streets, they are all narrow and all jammed with traffic. I just read this morning that Americans will put up with anything except being stalled in traffic. Make that human beings the world over.

On the 16th, we flew to Dublin and met Sue and Kay. There, we did an Irish pub and the city tour, including Trinity College and the Guinness brewery. Then, we headed north of Belfast in a rented van; driving, of course, on the left side of the road.

The wedding was everything we had hoped it would be, with the added attractions of kilts worn by the groom and several of his friends. It seems this area of Ireland was settled by Scottish Highlanders and Roger is descended from the Macdonalds. Incidentally, his father stated in his welcome at the castle that the Macdonalds and the Campbells have a long history of dissension.

It was a truly international affair with a large contingent of folks from Frisco, some from Canada, London and I don't know where all. Karen planned the seating at the dinner with the personalities in mind. For instance, our Big Farmer sat next to Roger's uncle, also a farmer. Jon was at a table full of Highlanders and there was a lot of laughter from the group at the girls' table.

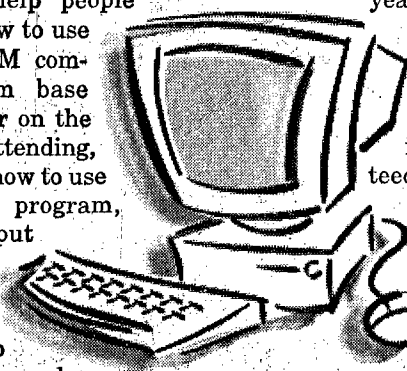

I forgot to mention that the organ in the church was a pump organ and the gal who played it did a marvelous job. The minister said she serves three churches, they all have pump organs, and some Sundays, the same organist plays for all three services. She must have the strongest legs in Ireland.

We didn't encounter any car bombs, almost everyone was polite and helpful, the food on the planes was very good and Customs was not a problem. We did have cool, cloudy weather and were hoping for some sunshine at home. So far, no luck. Maybe this weekend, farmers need to get back to the harvest!

Satellite program on farm program options

A timely satellite information session will be held Friday, Nov. 8, 2002 at the Haskell Ag Lab near Concord from 10 a.m. - noon (CST). Daryl McGee from the Dixon County FSA office will serve as a local facilitator.

The main purpose of the program is to help people understand how to use the Texas A&M computer program base option analyzer on the Internet. By attending, you will learn how to use the computer program, correctly input the information and how to use the printout to make an informed decision for your farm.

gram benefits. The update decision is complex, as it may involve several different commodities and uncertain market conditions, which drive future counter-cyclical payments. After April 1, 2003, the base and yield elections made will stay with the farm for six years or longer.

The primary benefit of running the Texas A&M computer program is to study guaranteed direct payments and counter-cyclical payments that are not guaranteed. The computer analyzes each base option using 500 different counter-cyclical prices.

The results of simulating the six base and yield alternatives on a farm unit amounts to 21,000 estimates of government payments per crop. The price model helps a producer or landlord see which option ranks the highest out of 500 times.

For more information on the 2002-2007 Farm Program Options meeting, contact the at the Cooperative Extension Office in Dixon County at 402-584-2234.

Showing off

Fifth grade students at Wayne Middle School were able to show off their accomplishments last week during an open house at the school. During the evening parents and others in attendance were able to view the students' landforms that they created in Social Studies, tree posters and inventor biographies they designed for Science class and their "Inventions" they developed for the annual Invention Convention. Above, the fifth grade, under the direction of Keith Kopperud, display their musical talents. The students are taught by Ellen Imdieke, Diane Long, Phyllis Trenhaile and Leah Agler.

LEGAL NOTICE OF MEASURES TO BE VOTED UPON AT THE GENERAL ELECTION OCCURRING ON NOVEMBER 5, 2002

BALLOT TITLES AND TEXT OF CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS PROPOSED BY THE NINETY-SEVENTH LEGISLATURE

Also included are Statements of Explanation in Italics Prepared by the Executive Board of the Legislative Council for Amendments Proposed by the Legislature

PROPOSED BY THE 2001 LEGISLATURE PROPOSED AMENDMENT NUMBER 1

A vote FOR this proposal will amend section 27 of Article I of the Nebraska Constitution to eliminate language requirements for private, denominational, and parochial schools.

A vote AGAINST this proposal will retain the current section 27 of Article I of the Nebraska Constitution and will not eliminate language requirements for private, denominational, and parochial schools.

A constitutional amendment to clarify English language requirements in schools.

- For Against

TEXT OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT NUMBER 1

THE MEMBERS OF THE NINETY-SEVENTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION, RESOLVE THAT:

Section 1. At the general election in November 2002 the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of Nebraska shall be submitted to the electors of the State of Nebraska for approval or rejection:

To amend Article I, section 27: I-27. "The English language is hereby declared to be the official language of this state. All, and all official proceedings, records, and publications shall be in such language, and such language shall be used in the public schools, and the common school branches shall be taught in said language in public, private, denominational and parochial schools."

Sec. 2. The proposed amendment shall be submitted to the electors in the manner prescribed by the Constitution of Nebraska, Article XVI, section 1, with the following ballot language:

"A constitutional amendment to clarify English language requirements in schools. For Against"

PROPOSED BY THE 2002 LEGISLATURE PROPOSED AMENDMENT NUMBER 2

A vote FOR this proposal will amend section 2 of Article XIII of the Nebraska Constitution to permit the Legislature to authorize counties, cities, and villages to acquire, own, develop, lease, and otherwise finance real and personal property to be used by nonprofit enterprises. In addition, the Legislature would be empowered to authorize counties, cities and villages to issue revenue bonds for such purposes.

A vote AGAINST this proposal will retain the current section 2 of Article XIII of the Nebraska Constitution and will not grant authority to the Legislature as set forth above.

A constitutional amendment to authorize the use of revenue bonds to develop and lease property for use by nonprofit enterprises as determined by law.

- For Against

TEXT OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT NUMBER 2

THE NINETY SEVENTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, SECOND SESSION, RESOLVE THAT:

Section 1. At the general election in November 2002 the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of Nebraska shall be submitted to the electors of the State of Nebraska for approval or rejection:

To amend Article XIII, section 2: XIII-2 "(1) Notwithstanding any other provision in this Constitution, the Legislature may authorize any county or incorporated city or village, including cities operating under home rule charters, to acquire, own, develop, and lease real and personal property suitable for use by manufacturing or industrial enterprises and to issue revenue bonds for the purpose of defraying the cost of acquiring and developing such property by construction, purchase, or otherwise. The Legislature may also authorize such county, city, or village to acquire, own, develop, and lease real and personal property suitable for use by enterprises as determined by law if such property is located in blighted areas as determined by law and to issue revenue bonds for the purpose of defraying the cost of acquiring and developing or financing such property by construction, purchase, or otherwise. Such bonds shall not become general obligation bonds of the governmental subdivision by which such bonds are issued. Any real or personal property acquired, owned, developed, or used by any such county, city, or village pursuant to this section shall be subject to taxation to the same extent as private property during the time it is leased to or held by private interests, notwithstanding the provisions of Article VIII, section 2, of this Constitution. The acquiring, owning, developing, and leasing of such property shall be deemed for a public purpose, but the governmental subdivision shall not have the right to acquire such property by condemnation. The principal of and interest on any bonds issued may be secured by a pledge of the lease and the revenue therefrom and by mortgage upon such property. No such governmental subdivision shall have the power to operate any such property as a business or in any manner except as the lessor thereof.

(2) Notwithstanding any other provision in this Constitution, the Legislature may also authorize any county, city, or village to acquire, own, develop, and lease or finance real and personal property, other than property used or to be used primarily for sectarian instruction or study or as a place for devotional activities or religious worship, to be used, during the term of any revenue bonds issued, only by nonprofit enterprises as determined by law and to issue revenue bonds for the purpose of defraying the cost of acquiring and developing or financing such property by construction, purchase, or otherwise. Such bonds shall not become general obligation bonds of the governmental subdivision by which such bonds are issued. Notwithstanding the provisions of Article VIII, section 2, of this Constitution, the acquisition, ownership, development, use, or financing of any real or personal property pursuant to the provisions of this section shall not affect the imposition of any taxes or the exemption therefrom by the Legislature pursuant to this Constitution. The acquiring, owning, developing, and leasing or financing of such property shall be deemed for a public purpose, but the governmental subdivision shall not have the right to acquire such property by condemnation. The principal of and interest on any bonds issued may be secured by a pledge of the lease and the revenue therefrom and by mortgage upon such property. No such governmental subdivision shall have the power to operate any such property as a business or in any manner except as the lessor thereof.

(3) Notwithstanding any other provision in this Constitution, the Legislature may also authorize any incorporated city or village, including cities operating under home rule charters, to appropriate from local sources of revenue such funds as may be deemed necessary for an economic or industrial development project or program subject to approval by a vote of a majority of the registered voters of such city or village voting upon the question. For purposes of this provision, funds from local sources of revenue shall mean funds raised from general taxes levied by the city or village and shall not include any funds received by the city or village which are derived from state or federal sources."

Sec. 2. The proposed amendment shall be submitted to the electors in the manner prescribed by the Constitution of Nebraska, Article XVI, section 1, with the following ballot language:

"A constitutional amendment to authorize the use of revenue bonds to develop and lease property for use by nonprofit enterprises as determined by law. For Against"

Respectfully Submitted,

John Gale

NEW MEMBERS

Five new members were selected to the Wakefield High School National Honor Society in ceremonies at the school recently.

Named were Lori Brudigam, Vanessa Nelson, Luke Hoffman, Nicole Hansen, and Randi Barge.

Juniors and seniors with qualifying grade point averages are eligible. Candidates are rated on the areas of scholarship, service, leadership, and character. Five new members join seniors Katie Davis, Nathan Henderson, Toan Nguyen and Brian Schwarten.

Randi Barge and Nicole Hansen are also seniors, the other three are juniors. There were a total of 24 candidates. Mrs. Roberta Rossiter is the National Honor Society Chapter Advisor.

ARTISTS OF THE MONTH

Art Instructor Kirby Mousel has chosen 15 elementary students and 13 secondary students to honor with the title of Artist of the Month for October. The pieces of art work which impressed the instructor are on display in the school library and people are welcome to stop by and view it during school hours.

Artists are Zach Dolen, Owen Salmon, Devin Anderson, Whitney Echtenkamp, Gilberto Barba, Anthony Muson, Abby Schultz, Jake Henderson, Sarah Mousel, Jake Lundahl, Brock Soderberg, Katie Weinrich, Mariah McCoy, Adam Hansen, Nicole Hansen, Cody McAfee, Victor Tello, Vera Benenson, Toan Nguyen, Erin Bird, Anthony Storm, Alfonso Jimenez, Taryn Hingt, Brianna Samuelson, Shay Tullberg, Drew Rose, Ben Henderson and Salvador Sanchez.

STATE TRACTOR PULL

Daniel Muller, eight-year-old son of Mark and Anita Muller, earned a fourth place medal at the Pedal Tractor Pull held during the Nebraska State Fair this summer. Competitors qualified by placing at a pull prior to the fair.

Daniel competed against 71 boys in his age division from Nebraska and surrounding states.

Present to watch Daniel pull were his sisters Kristyna and Megan and aunt Ann Muller of Omaha.

BOARD OF EDUCATION MEETS

A special hearing was held of the Wakefield Board of Education on Oct. 14 at 7:55 p.m. President McAfee opened the meeting with the following members present: Victor, Lueth, Bebee, Johnson and McAfee. Absent, Brown.

Also present were Supt. Mike Moody, secondary principal Bill Heimann, Elementary principal Jennifer Widner, Kathy Muller, Linda Steinman, Lisa Lunz, Jan Johnson, and Janyce McQuistan.

The purpose of the hearing was to hear support, opposition, criticism, suggestions or observations from district patrons relating to the district property tax request for the 2002-03 fiscal year.

Moody explained the tax levy document and answered any questions concerning the tax levy.

President McAfee closed the hearing at 8 p.m.

President McAfee opened the regular meeting at 8:01 p.m. Brown joined the meeting at 8:26 p.m.

Jan McQuistan reported on the reading program and phonics supplement they are using in second grade. Each year they also write to a library book author.

Jan Johnson reported on the class trip to Lewis and Clark Park in Onawa. She also shared comments on the New Math series.

Kathy Muller and Linda Steinheim's classes visited the Poppy Pumpkin Patch in Norfolk and the Borg farm to see the harvest. They were also appreciative for the student aides that come to help during the day.

Elementary principal report: Widner reported there are 12 Wayne State College field experience students spending 25 hours each in the elementary classrooms for this semester.

Three WSC students are coming to the K-3 grades in cooperation with the America Reads program. A teacher inservice was held on Sept. 24 with staff reviewing the School Improvement process and preparing for the external visit. Firemen visited classrooms during fire prevention week.

Secondary principal report: Heimann reported there was a need for an assistant coach in speech because of high numbers participating. Christy Clay has been hired as the One-Act Play sponsor this year. Earlene Anderson and Terri Sampson attended the Science Assessment workshop held at the ESU#1 on Sept. 21. Russell Simon presented an assembly on "Ten Seconds can Change Your Life" concerning experiences with drugs and alcohol.

Widner and Heimann attended LITA training in Columbus and received laptop computers as part of the Gates grant for administrators in Nebraska training for the student management program. Altona Ed is being held for office personnel. Teacher training will be held at a later date.

Superintendent's report: Moody presented the date on enrollment figures on the last Friday in September. Key categories that are used in the state aid formula are poverty, minority, and total enrollment. Enrollment for this date shows an increase of 15 students. He also presented data illustrating revenue, cash balances and tax draws since 1996.

A result of a motivation and school culture survey that was given to the teachers was shared with the board. It is hoped there is improvement on weaknesses and success in the the school can be shared.

Committee reports: Building and grounds/transportation: The bleachers in the gym are in need of being replaced. Additional concrete needs to be replaced in the circle drive area. Protocol for planting trees needs to be established.

Business/finance: Audit report in complete; copies distributed to the board.

Personnel: Personnel meeting on Oct. 16; discussion of the culture survey.

The consent agenda was approved as presented. There was no old business.

New business: The property tax request resolution was approved as presented. Approval was also made to replace broken concrete in the circle drive.

They approved the waiver request of the children of Dan and Amy Sowards upon receiving the completed enrollment request.

They approved a staff member's request for personal leave on Nov. 27.

The process for superintendent evaluations was discussed and evaluation forms were distributed to board members. A work session of the board will be held on Nov. 4 at 7 p.m. to disseminate informa-

Planetarium show is planned at Wayne State

The public is invited to Wayne State's new planetarium show, "November Nomads." Show dates are Sundays on Nov. 3, 10, 17 and 24 in the Fred G. Dale Planetarium at 3:30 p.m. There is no admission charge.

"This show emphasizes the special objects moving nightly across the dark skies of November. Traveling against the backdrop of slowly shifting stars and constellations are such objects as asteroids, satellites, meteors, and the flickering northern lights. Special emphasis is placed on the Leonid meteor shower on the morning of Nov. 19," said Carl Rump, WSC planetarium director.

The planetarium is located at the south entrance of the Carhart Science Building on the WSC campus.

Special showings may be arranged for school groups and other organizations by calling (402) 375-7343.

Drought requires different management practices

Varying yield and moisture levels in corn and soybean fields along with poor crop stands will make harvest difficult this year, a University of Nebraska agricultural systems specialist said.

Crop harvest, drying and storage this fall requires special attention to avoid further losses in a year when each ear, head and pod is important economically, said Bill Campbell, NU agricultural systems specialist.

"Moisture content could range from 5 percent to 40 percent and yields could range from 15 to 150 bushels per acre in the same field," he said, referring to corn.

Combine adjustments are key to preventing excessive damage. Producers should consult their combine operator's manual for guidance on proper operation in these conditions, Campbell said.

Low dryland crop yields make it difficult to keep enough plant material flowing into the combine to effectively thresh the crop without damaging kernels and soybeans, the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources specialist said.

One possibility is to increase the combine's speed and make other corresponding adjustments to controls.

"Be sure to monitor both the amount and the evenness of material flow through the header to the feeder house," Campbell said. "Uneven flows will indicate improper adjustments and can result in increased grain damage or combine plugging."

Adjustments also may be needed to compensate for potentially smaller ears and stalks, he said.

"Check your owner's manual to set the machine for expected conditions and make refinements as field conditions change," he said. "You will have to be on your toes when it comes to in-field adjustments."

In addition, dry years also cause lower corn and soybean test weights and smaller kernels or beans.

"Again, start with the owner's manual settings and fine tune as you go," Campbell said.

Crop plant maturity likely will be off schedule this year, Campbell said.

"Stalks may dry faster or slower than the ears, depending on the variety and severity of stress, causing the increased possibility of lodging and pod or ear losses as the fall progresses," he said.

Maturity concerns and a potential increase of stress-induced fungus infestations may mean farmers will need to harvest sooner instead of waiting for crop moisture to drop to optimal levels. This will help prevent field losses and storage problems.

Crops should dry quickly in the field because there's less vegetation this year, but shattering losses could increase if crops become overly dry.

Drying grain for storage also will be tricky, Campbell said.

"This year's crop is going to require frequent monitoring to make sure it stays in condition during the storage season," he said.

Over- or under-drying and shrinking of already low test weights during drying can contribute to storage problems and crop marketability.

"Decrease dryer temperature and consider relying more on combination drying or natural air drying and aeration to minimize test weight losses and more evenly dry the entire grain mass," he said.

For more information on drought-related grain harvest and storage, visit NU's Crop Watch Web site at <http://cropwatch.unl.edu/> or contact a local Cooperative Extension office.

Emily Lutt has part in play with Augustana Theatre Company

The Augustana College Theatre Company presents a unique and exciting updating of the most famous play from the Middle Ages—'Everyman: As Death Sits on My Shoulder.' Emily Lutt of Wayne is a cast member.

The production will be presented on the main stage of the Edith Mortenson Center at 7:30 p.m., Nov. 14-16 and Nov. 21-23. Tickets are $7 for adults, $5 for senior citizens, $3 for non-Augustana students and children, and $1 with a valid Augustana ID. For reservations call 274-5320.

The Edith Mortenson Center is located in the center of campus, north of the Morrison Commons. Parking is available in the Humanities parking lot at 30th street and Grange Avenue.

"Everyman: As Death Sits on My Shoulder" raises the ever-timely question: "On a day like any other, death will call for you. Are you ready?"

This production takes audiences back to one of the great morality plays of all time and hurls the play forward through time until it crashes into our world.

Medieval ideas and stories cross over into our modern, technology-driven society, reminding us that we haven't really come that far in our understanding of life and how best to live it. This modern adaptation relies heavily on a wide range of theatrical conventions and styles from Indian shadow puppetry to digital technology.

The Augustana production is adapted and directed by Julia Pachoud, associate professor of communication and theatre.

Harvest season requires caution

The message doesn't change from one harvest season to the next: Be careful, a University of Nebraska safety engineer said. But this year, the drought -- coupled with poor yields and low farm income -- has put farmers under a lot more stress and emotional distraction than usual, which can lead to more farm accidents, said David Morgan, NU safety engineer.

Lack of concentration, stress and reduced coordination contribute to many farm accidents, he said.

"Worries on top of what you're doing divides your focus and can lead to accidents," Morgan said. It's important to get plenty of rest, eat regularly, avoid alcohol and take regular breaks.

"When you need a break, stop and take one," the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources specialist said. "Taking 15 to 20 minutes to relax the body and mind can be invaluable and prevent injury accidents from happening."

Avoid stress associated with broken-down equipment by doing preventive maintenance on machinery, he said.

"Prevention is cheaper than repairing equipment," Morgan said.

The general public also should be aware of farm safety, Morgan said.

More farm implements on the road means drivers of non-farm vehicles need to be cautious and share the roads.

"Drivers should slow down when they see they are approaching farm implements because they are generally slow-moving and wider than other vehicles," he said.

Machine operators should have all warning lights, reflectors and slow-moving vehicle signs visible and working. Nebraska law requires slow-moving vehicle signs for vehicles traveling 25 mph or less.

Also keep lights and windows clean, avoid multiple hook-ups, wear seatbelts and use training seats only for training purposes.

With no state regulations on children helping out on the farm -- except they cannot be hired before they are age 14 -- parents need to make the decision.

"It's not something someone else can tell them," he said. "They need to make the decisions about having their kids do things and understand the consequences."

Adults should set good examples to their children by practicing proper farm safety procedures.

"Farm kids learn from their parents," he said. "They see their parents do something and they follow them, whether it's good or bad."

Proper clothing, including sturdy shoes -- steel-toed work shoes rather than tennis shoes -- to protect feet and gloves to protect hands, also is important while working on the farm. Avoid tattered and torn clothing or jackets or sweatshirts with drawstrings because they can become entangled, he said.

It's also a good idea for farmers to let family members know their schedule so if something happens, family know where to look. The increased popularity of cell phones and low-cost handheld radios makes it much easier to stay in touch with family members from the field.

Rosberg for Governor

ABORTION

An amendment was introduced at the NE Republican convention in June 2000 that would have prevented candidates that supported partial birth abortions from getting financial support from the party. Johanns lobbied against that and was successful. See (Omaha World Herald, "GOP Backs Johanns Choices" by David Kotok, June 25, 2000). If you especially like partial birth abortion, I encourage you to vote for Johanns. Rosberg is pro-life. He will do all he can to stop this barbaric practice.

Jump Rope for Heart schools being sought

The American Heart Association is busy recruiting Nebraska schools to participate in its popular Jump Rope for Heart and Hoops for Heart event during 2002-2003 school year.

Both fund-raising activities are designed to raise money for the Association as well as teach children the importance of life-long fitness.

Jump Rope for Heart, co-sponsored since 1979 by the American Alliance for Health Physical Education, Recreation and Dance, is geared toward elementary school children. Hoops for Hearts follows students into middle school and beyond.

Last year, there were 506 jump and hoops events held in Nebraska, raising a total of $611,783 to help fund the American Heart Association's educational programs, outreach efforts and sponsored research at three Nebraska Universities.

Participating schools receive educational and other support materials. In addition, depending on the dollars raised, schools may be eligible for up to $1,000 in U.S. Games gift certificates for physical education equipment.

For more information on how a school can participate, contact Melanie Rummel, the Associations youth market manager in Nebraska, at 1-800-579-1977, extension 5648.

"In addition to teaching students the value of community service, it's more important than ever to instill in children the importance of exercise," Rummel says. "The percentage of children and adolescents who are overweight has doubled since the 1970's. Getting our kids moving at an early age can help reduce their risk of chronic diseases as adults."

Red Ribbon Week celebrated

The Wayne Middle School FRIENDS promoted the Drug-Free message with many activities celebrating Red Ribbon Week.

The school was decorated inside and out by a committee headed by Treasurer Leslie Backstrom; Historian Sheree Kathol and Secretary Stephanie Kay, organized committees that distributed red ribbons, stickers, pencils and candy in the middle and elementary schools.

The publicity committee, co-chaired by President Many Nevala and Vice President Angie Ahrenholtz, coordinated a Wear Red Day on Oct. 25 with a contest and prizes for creativity and spirit.

Student wore red ribbons, FRIENDS turtle buttons with the message, "Don't let drugs slow you down" and "Too cool to do drugs" tattoos. FRIENDS members received Red Ribbon Week bracelets. Announcements and lunch room activities also helped raise awareness.

On "Don't Monkey Around with Drugs Day," Middle School students were treated to bananas and a visit by a gorilla.

This Thursday, Oct. 31, which has been designated as "Don't Get Mixed Up with Drugs Day," students will wear mismatched, backwards or inside out clothing. Elementary students will get the "Don't Monkey Around with Drugs" message at their birthday assembly on Thursday with bananas and a visit from the gorilla.

Middle School Wear Red Day contest finalists were: (seventh and eighth grade) — Larry Grashorn, Tyler Murtaugh, Brooke Jones, Becca Dowling, Brittany Lazano, Brett Dorsey, Renee Allemann, Erica Brenner, Melissa Heggemeyer, Kendall Jones, Owen Rickner and Megan Kardell; (fifth and sixth grade) — Hannah Mitiku, Ryan Dowling, Anna Osten, Zach Wacker, Molly Legler, Logan Owens, Adrienne Rott, Tasha Murtaugh, Jon Mrsny, Ambre Ruzicka, Joe Whitt and Michaela Kinney.

Wear Red Day winners were: (seventh and eighth grade) — Derick Dorsey, first; Faye Roerber, second and Samantha Dunklau, third; (fifth and sixth grade) — Alexa Hochstein, first; Courtney Long, second and Nathan Sieler, third.

Red Ribbon Week originated in 1986 when the widow of slain federal drug agent Enrique Camarena began the tradition. Camarena was kidnapped, tortured and brutally murdered while investigating drug dealers in Mexico. The red ribbon reminds everyone of the dangers of illegal drug use and alcohol abuse.

Middle School FRIENDS sponsor is Joan Sudmann.

The Wayne FRIENDS group receives support from the Wayne United Way.

Karie Mitchell is part of Dakota Marching Band

The South Dakota State University Pride of the Dakota Marching Band is attending the 2003 New Year's Tournament of Roses Parade in Pasadena, Calif. Karie Mitchell of Wayne plays percussion in the band. Music fans have the chance to preview the band during an indoor concert Saturday, Nov. 16.

The concert will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Brookings MultiPlex, located on the east side of the Interstate 29 Brookings exit.

The 350-plus member band will perform selections orchestrated for the Tournament of Roses parade. The SDSU Drumline and the Dakota Blue Flag and Danceline will also perform.

"We're very excited about the program we've got lined up," said Pride Director Jim McKinney. "These band members are phenomenal musicians and have put together quite a show."

McKinney has taken the Pride to Washington, D.C., for Bill Clinton's inauguration in January 1997 and for the 4th of July parade and Capitol performance with the National Symphony in 2000. The band has also performed at numerous events throughout the U.S. and Canada.

Assistant Director Jim Coull has written special arrangements for the performances and this year, percussion assistant director Stephen Tobin will help the renowned SDSU Drumline perform their unique arrangements.

The Pride will be the fifth entry in the Tournament of Roses parade New Year's Day, coming immediately after parade chairman Gary Thomas, who said he wanted a "Big sound" to follow him. Thomas gave the Pride an immediate nod when he viewed a tape of their Washington performances.

Tickets for the indoor concert can be purchased in three options. At tables for 10 arranged on the floor in front of the band, viewers will be served desserts, coffee, and beverages for $200 a table. Reserved seats can be purchased for $10 a ticket and "Rabbit Hole" bleacher seats on the opposite end of the arena will sell for $5 a ticket. Groups of 10 or more can purchase reserved seats in a special section, also for $5 a ticket.

Bleacher and reserved tickets can be bought at the door, at the Brookings Area MultiPlex Box Office or online at www.brookingsareamultiplex.com or www.ticket.com.

Winning raffle tickets will be drawn for two Volkswagen Beetle yellow and blue cars. Ticket owners need not be present to win. Other SDSU Pride items, like pins, watches, jackets, and T-shirts, will also be available for sale.

Young band students, parents of Pride members and music lovers from the area are encouraged to attend. For more information, call the SDSU Music Department at 688-5187 or the MultiPlex at 692-8499.

Presentation describes flag-folding

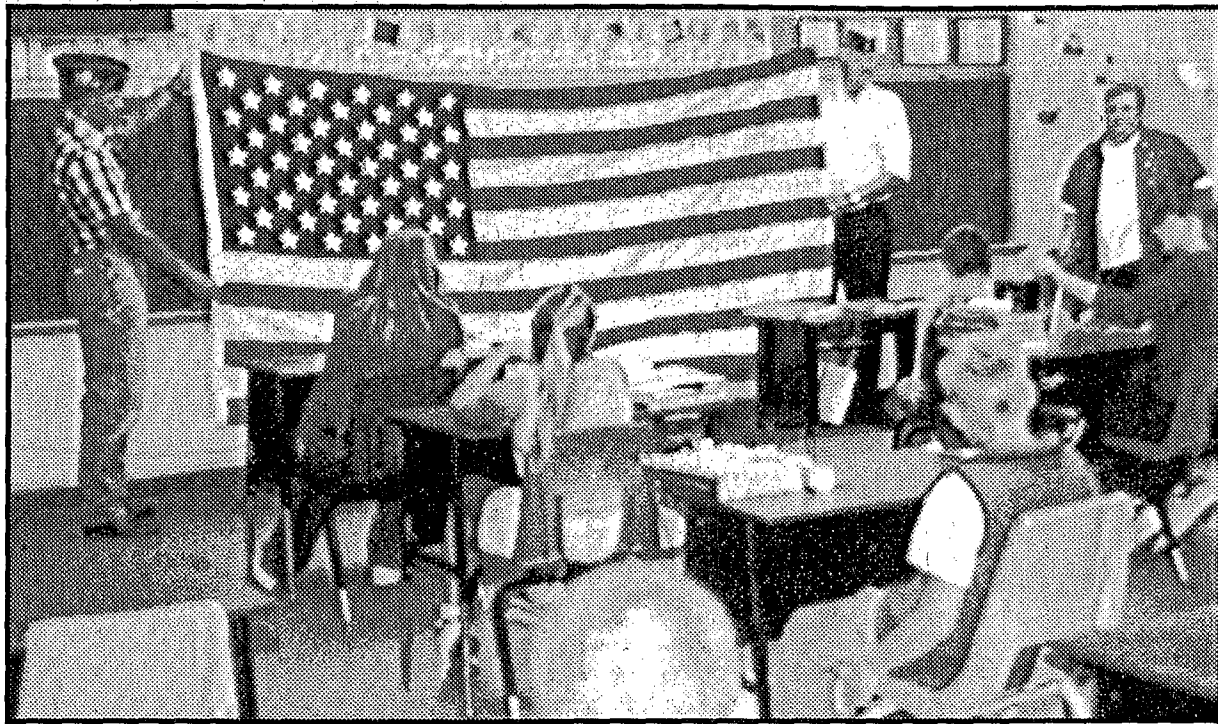

Visiting the Winside Public School sixth grade class for a presentation on how to properly fold the American flag recently were the American Legion Post 252 and Auxiliary.

Proper folds and the meaning and history of the folds were discussed.

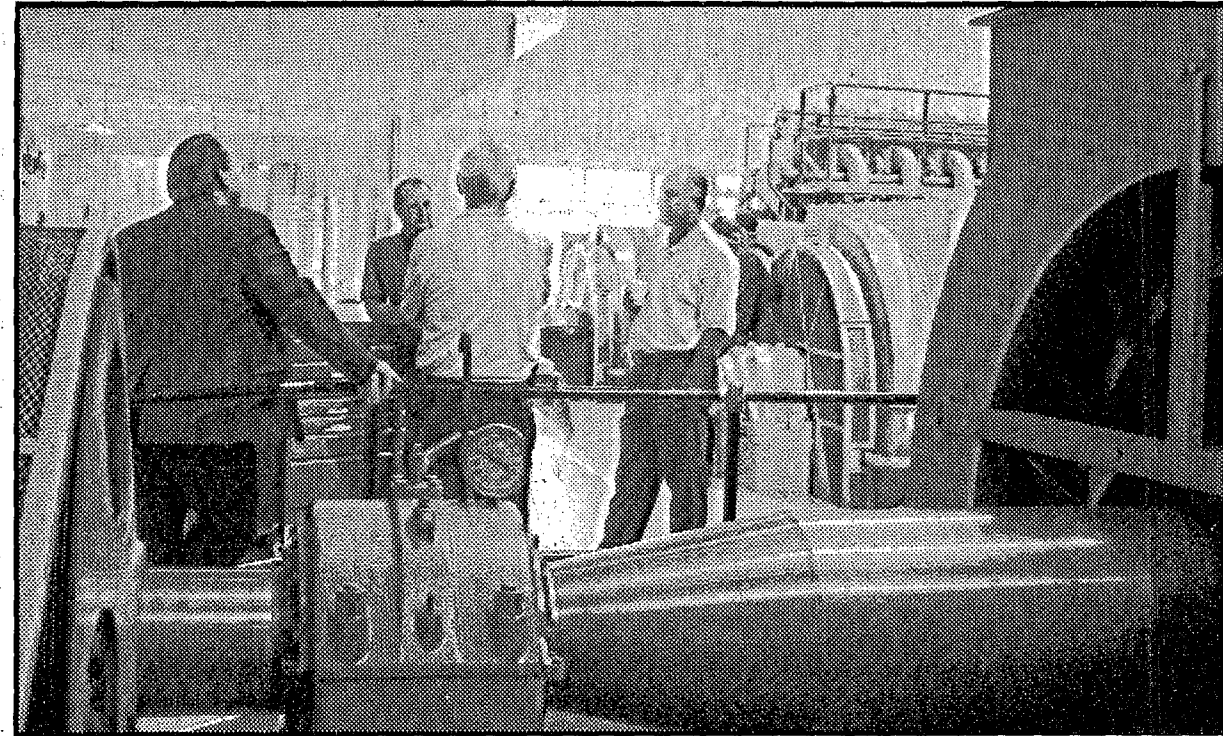

Involved in the presentation were Commander Bob Koll; Chaplain Virgil Rohlf; and Auxiliary member Judy Jacobsen.

Also during the presentation, the Pledge of Allegiance was explained.

The program was presented to the sixth grade because they are in charge of raising and lowering the school grounds flag.

Students at Winside Elementary recently listened to a presentation on how to properly fold the American flag.

Public power awareness

An open house was held last week at the Wayne Electric Department in honor of Public Power Month. The event, hosted by the Wayne Electrical Department and Northeast Nebraska Public Power District. The weekly Chamber Coffee was also part of the day's activities.

MRI can predict risk of heart attack

For the first time, researchers have shown that magnetic resonance imaging (MRI) can predict the risk of heart attacks or cardiac deaths in coronary heart disease patients, according to a report in the Oct. 15 rapid access issue of Circulation: Journal of the American Heart Association.

MRI can be used to locate tissue damage in a heart attack or pinpoint blockages, but it has not been used to predict heart attacks.

"This study is the first to determine that MRI is a strong prognostic forecaster," says lead author W. Gregory Hundley, a cardiologist and associate professor of internal medicine and radiology at the Wake Forest University School of Medicine in Winston-Salem, N.C. "Such information is important because it helps us identify which patients should receive more aggressive treatment."

Some medical centers use MRI to identify sites of reduced blood flow in the heart, which can cause chest pain, and no measure how much blood is ejected by the left ventricle - the heart's main pumping chamber.

Hundley and his colleagues examined 279 men and women referred for MRI stress testing after their ultrasound screenings for heart disease were inconclusive. In an MRI stress test, drugs are used to stress the heart, then researchers study the reaction. Hundley notes the study yielded several important findings:

- Regardless of other risk factors, MRI can predict fatal and non fatal heart attacks in patients whose left ventricle pumps out less than two-thirds of the blood a normal heart ejects;

- Someone whose damaged heart wall moves better at rest than when stressed also has an elevated risk; and

- The location in the heart of reduced blood flow or muscle damage apparently influences risk. Reduced blood flow in the apex of the left ventricle indicates a higher risk. "These findings have interesting implications," Hundley says. "Patients with isolated disease near the base and middle of the ventricle often are referred for procedures to restore blood flow. This study suggests that in doing so, you might alleviate chest pain but not prevent a cardiac death."

Nominations sought

The American Heart Association is seeking nominations for its annual 2003 Nebraska Heartsaver awards. The deadline to submit nominations is Nov. 22.

The 2003 awards will recognize people who performed cardiopulmonary resuscitation or used an automated external defibrillator in an effort to save a life between February 2002 and February 2003.

In order to be eligible for an award, a rescue must:

- Have been trained according to the American Heart Association, American Red Cross or another appropriate organization's CPR and/or AED guidelines.

- Live or work in Nebraska or attempted to save a life in the state. The attempted save is eligible for recognition regardless of the outcome.

- Not be a healthcare professional on duty at the time of the rescue attempt. An off-duty professional is eligible.

To receive nomination forms, contact Michelle Parks at the American Heart Association, (800) 642-8422 or e-mail Michelle.Parks@heart.org.

An estimated 680 American men and women die daily from sudden cardiac arrest. About 95% of them die before reaching the hospital.

When performed effectively, CPR can double a cardiac arrest victim's chances of survival by adding critical minutes to a patient's life until emergency medical care arrives.

Emily Kinney chosen to be part of Wesleyan choir

Emily Kinney, a 2002 graduate of Wayne High School, is among those who have been selected to the 2002-03 Nebraska Wesleyan University Choir.

Under the direction of Dr. William A. Wyman, professor of music at Nebraska Wesleyan, the Choir has performed throughout the world, presenting concerts on four continents. The Choir's 1998 tour of Brazil included a concert in Rio de Janeiro at Candelaria Cathedral, the largest cathedral in South America, with the National Symphony of Rio de Janeiro and two Brazilian choirs.

The group has performed with a tour of Romania, western Europe, Hong Kong, China, Japan and Korea, England and Scotland and Russia, Czechoslovakia and Austria.

The University Choir's fall 2002 schedule includes: participation in the Christmas Choral Concert with the Lincoln Civic Choir, the Plymouth Brass and the Kahoa Choir at O'Donnell Auditorium on Dec. 15 at 3 p.m.; and the Wesleyan University Choir Concert at O'Donnell Auditorium on Jan. 19, 2003 at 7:30 p.m.

The choir will also tour Nebraska; Kansas, Missouri, Tennessee, Louisiana and Texas in January of 2003.

Jarvi awarded honor scholarship to Northwestern

Erin Jarvi, a senior at Wayne High School, has been awarded an academic honor scholarship from Northwestern College, Orange City, Iowa, for the 2003-04 school year.

Jarvi is the recipient of a Collegiate Scholarship, which ranges from $3,200 to $5,300 per year. She is the daughter of Keith and Mary Jarvi of Wayne.

Teach honored

Frank Teach received a plaque for more than 25 years of service to the Wayne Boy Scout program. Teach, shown left, is presented the plaque by Scoutmaster Mark Klassen. Teach's wife, Linda, was also honored for nearly 30 years of service to the Boys Scouts in First Aid requirement.

GARDEN CLUB

The Hoskins Garden Club met Oct. 24 at the Community Center with Christine Lueker as hostess. A dessert lunch was served.

President Shirley Mann opened the meeting by reading the watch word which tied into the reading which followed entitled "How Does This Fit You?" She then read the poem for the month, "The Wishing Pumpkin."

Six members answered roll call by naming a flower that started with their initial. Secretary Esther Rechtermann read the minutes of the August and September meetings. She also read the correspondence. Bills were paid and the treasurer's report was given and approved.

The birthday song was sung for Shirley Mann who had a September birthday and Christine Lueker who had an October birthday. Election of officers will take place at the November meeting.

Lorraine Wesely gave the lesson on "Things We Should Have Done in October." and "All About the Varieties, Planting and Care When Growing Amaryllis."

The next meeting will be on Thursday, Nov. 14 at the home of Esther Rechtermann.

The Watchword for October was "You Are About as Happy as you Decide To Be."

UNMC chancellor to be in Wayne

The public is invited to a reception for University of Nebraska Medical Center Chancellor Harold Maurer on Monday, Nov. 4, on the Wayne State campus. Dr. Sheila Stearns, Wayne State College president, is hosting the 5 p.m. reception in the Connell Hall foyer.

Chancellor Maurer will be on campus to meet with faculty and students in the Rural Health Opportunities Program, a cooperative program between the two schools. Students who are accepted into RHOP and who successfully complete their pre-professional studies in medicine, pharmacy, physical therapy or dentistry at Wayne State are automatically accepted to UNMC for their professional studies program.

"The Rural Health Opportunities Program is one of the premier programs in higher education in Nebraska," said Dr. Stearns. "We are pleased to be a part of it, and welcome Chancellor Maurer to our campus."
