Van is captured in California

by Mike Grosz
Of the Herald

Former Wayne flower shop owner and fugitive Roger Van was captured early Saturday morning in California following a high-speed chase that started in Las Vegas, Nev.

The arrest comes exactly one year (Dec. 7) after Van began holding a Houston, Texas man against his will in the basement of his flower shop in downtown Wayne for nine days.

Wayne Police Chief Lance Webster said Van was apparently driving his green 1998 Dodge Caravan when a Las Vegas Metropolitan police officer attempted to stop him for using fictitious or stolen Nevada license plates.

That's when a long distance pursuit began.

Van left Las Vegas on Interstate 15 heading southwest toward California. Speeds during the chase were reported of up to 90 MPH.

During the chase, Van allegedly rammed a Nevada Highway Patrol car, sending it careening into a ditch.

The pursuit left Nevada and entered the state of California, where Highway Patrol officers used spike strips to flatten the tires on Van's vehicle.

Van then drove several miles with flat tires before he pulled off the interstate and into the desert before he was taken into custody approximately 65 miles from Barstow, Calif.

When approached by California authorities, Van refused to leave his vehicle. But after approximately 15 minutes, Van emerged from his vehicle with an ice pick, which he dropped shortly afterwards. An assortment of sexual devices, handcuffs and his two Daschunds were also found in his vehicle at the time of his arrest.

Evidence recovered from Van's vehicle indicates that he had been living in Las Vegas under an assumed name. During a Monday afternoon press conference, Webster could not release any names that Van may have been using because it is a part of the ongoing investigation.

Eihusen to be recipient of alumni award

Robert "Bob" Eihusen, Grand Island, is the recipient of the Wayne State College Alumni Achievement Award for his many achievements in the business profession. He will receive the award at Wayne State winter commencement ceremonies on Friday, Dec. 20 at 2 p.m. in Rice Auditorium.

A native of Grand Island, Eihusen is a 1974 graduate of Wayne State College, where he received a bachelor of science degree in industrial management. A member of the Delta Sigma Pi business fraternity, Eihusen served in the Air National Guard from 1971 to 1977.

Since graduating from Wayne State, Eihusen has been employed at Chief Industries, Inc. in Grand Island, serving in various capacities in the corporation. He was named president of the company in 1991 and chief executive officer and chairman of the board in 1993.

Eihusen has traveled extensively in conjunction with his responsibilities in the company. He was instrumental in Chief Industries' sale and erection of the largest loading/unloading port facility project in Egypt; the purchase of the company's grain bin plants in England and France; and the negotiations and funding for the purchase of the company's ethanol plant and its subsequent expansions to bring that plant up to its 60 million gallon capacity.

He was also instrumental in the acquisition or formation of several other divisions/subsidiaries of the company.

Enjoying the limelight

Students in third and fourth grade at Wayne Elementary School in Wayne were all smiles as they sang a number of Christmas carols for parents, guests and those attending last week's Chamber Coffee. In addition, several students sang solos while others played the piano. The students will also be doing caroling in the community before Christmas. They are under the direction of Cheryl Kopperud.

Athlete named to Kansas Hall of Fame

by Mike Grosz
Of the Herald

When someone is inducted into a Hall of Fame, you picture the inductee as one who has been out of the game for a while.

That is not the case for a Wayne State athlete.

Wildcat basketball player Dodie Martin recently learned of her selection to the Kansas High School Activities Association Hall of Fame.

She is believed to be the second youngest athlete to be inducted, only behind Jackie Stiles, who played college basketball at Southwest Missouri State and now plays in the WNBA.

An even greater thrill for Martin is that she will be inducted with her high school coach, Clarence "Ark" Morris. The two will be inducted together during the Kansas State Track Meet in Wichita on May 31, 2003.

"I couldn't believe it," said Martin, when learning of her induction by mail. "It was a total surprise."

Martin starred in cross country, track and basketball at Stanton County High School in Johnson, Kansas.

She was the first boy or girl in all classes to ever win four state championships in cross country, winning the Class 2A title all four years in high school.

In track and field, Martin earned 22 state medals, including 13 first-place medals. She won the 3200 meter run all four years in high school and won the 1600 meter run three years (she placed second in her freshman year).

On the basketball court, Martin scored 1,523 points in her career and received numerous honors. She played on two state tournament teams, placing third in her senior year.

Martin said she never realized her accomplishments until she graduated from high school.

"I expected to be successful in whatever I was doing," said Martin. "I was very competitive and wanted to win."

When you are successful in so many sports, which one do you choose in college?

"Ever since I was a little girl, my heart told me to play college basketball," Martin said.

Martin received offers to run cross country and track from such schools as Pepperdine, Harvard, North and South Carolina and Arizona, just to name a few of the schools.

Death penalty saga continues

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

John Lotter's attorney went before the Nebraska Supreme Court last week, looking to get the condemned killer off of death row.

It was the latest scene in a continuing, expensive drama involving the state's death penalty.

Lotter was sentenced to die for his part in the infamous 1993 case involving the murders of three people. They included Teena Brandon. Brandon was a woman who dressed as a man and dated women. Her rape and eventual murder took on national significance.

Lotter and Marvin Nissen murdered Brandon, Lisa Lambert and Philip DeVine in a farmhouse near Humboldt. They had beaten and sexually assaulted Brandon several days earlier, and apparently figured that a dead woman couldn't testify against them. This was not a surprising thought process, given that it came from two guys who figured that a beating and sexual assault were good ways to investigate someone's sexuality.

The case drew national attention and eventually led to a feature film and a documentary.

Now, it is again center stage in a legal drama of sorts.

The plot doesn't center on the evil manifested by Lotter and his equally despicable partner in crime. It involves the system Lotter is trying to beat.

The Constitution of the United States is a living document. That means the nation's charter is continuously interpreted by the U.S. Supreme Court. The constitution means what a majority of those judges say it means. They provide working definitions of the rights of the citizenry.

Recently, the highest court in the land said that the right to a trial by jury includes having jurors, and not a judge or judges, decide whether someone is worthy of the death penalty. Nebraska, perennially on the wrong side of the high court, long ago chose a system that had the sentencing handled by the judiciary. A special legislative session was called and the law recently was changed. Still, Lotter hopes his sentence will eventually be reduced, based on the law under which he was ordered to die.

Might he win? Who knows? What is known is that a majority of Nebraska legislators appear wedded to a death-penalty policy. That being the case, the drama and its subsequent legal costs are guaranteed a long run in the theater of public policy debate.

Jorgensen family returns from Make-A-Wish trip

Zach Jorgensen, 5, and his parents, Joel and Shelly Jorgensen, along with his cousin Danielle Gilliland, all of Wayne, recently returned from the Make-A-Wish trip to Disney World awarded to Zach through the assistance of the organization and the generosity of Steve and Pam Pitzer, Make-A-Wish grantors. The trip was from Nov. 23-29.

Zach's highlight of the trip was his first airplane ride; also, his first limo ride that took them to and from the airport. As his mother said, "The limo ride was a definite highlight because it was the only thing during the whole trip that actually made Zach's speechless!" She added, he isn't lost for words very often.

After arriving at Disney World, Zach and his family stayed at Contemporary Hotels (normally Make A-Wish recipients stay at Give Kids the World Village but since they were booked, the family stayed on Disney grounds). Give the Kids the World Village provided the family with additional entertainment as well as morning and evening meals.

As for Zach's favorites at Give Kids the World, Mayor Clayton was on the top of the list. Zach also enjoyed going to the Castle of Miracles which had a number of activities, toys, and games for children to participate in.

As for the rest of Disney World, Zach liked Magic Kingdom best; which they visited twice.

They also went to Epcot, Animal Kingdom, MGM Studios, Sea World, Universal Studios, and Islands of Adventure. Zach wore a button when visiting the parks which normally got him to the front of the line to see the characters and to go on the rides. He usually could then ride as many times as he wanted.

His favorite rides were water rides; as his mother noted, anything that got him wet. He also had to sit in the "soak zone" during the shows at Sea World. Zach liked the roller coasters too; especially the Barn Stormer roller coaster at Magic Kingdom (Mickey's Toon Town). According to his mother, he was allowed to go on the ride 10 times in a row without ever moving from his seat.

The 3-D movies were something he enjoyed too. The family went to a "Bug's Life", "Honey I Shrank the Audience", and "Kermit the Frog".

"We can't say enough about the generosity and "special" treatment our entire family received on this trip," Shelly said. "Hats off to Make-A-Wish!"

Zach has Duchenne Muscular Dystrophy, a progressive muscular wasting disease. He was diagnosed with the disease last year.

City Council

Meets Tuesday, Dec. 17 at 7:30 p.m. in City Hall at Third and Pearl Streets.

Wayne State College

The College and City of Wayne have agreed to share law enforcement services beginning sometime next summer.

Recent cuts in state funding of colleges by the legislature are forcing the state colleges and the University to cut some services and combine others with local entities.

The agreement will mean some reduction in WSC security staffing and provide some coverage on campus by the Wayne Police Department.

Wayne officers will provide full time coverage of the campus through the night. Several parking lot security cameras will also be installed and monitored by campus security and Wayne police.

The cost to the college will be $25,000 per year for the services.

Snow

Wayne sidewalks are to be cleared within 24 hours of when the snowplows blade the streets.

Officers will be contracting renters and owners of properties when we see walks that need to be cleaned.

City crews blade snow off the streets first thing in the morning and then come back with sand, salt and liquid ice melt to take off the glaze. We start with highways, streets in the hospital and Main Street areas. We do the alleys when we get time.

Recreation Trails

We are proceeding with design and easement acquisition for Phase I of the Recreation Trail.

Looking Ahead in Wayne... By: Lowell Johnson, City Administrator

Maps of the trail route are available in the city office.

Bids will be advertised in February with construction scheduled for this summer. The trail will be a 10 foot wide concrete sidewalk from the connection with the Wayne State College walking trail to the Highway 35 crossing at Hillside Drive. The width will narrow to eight foot from the south side of Highway 35 around the softball fields and along Logan Creek, under the Highway 15 bridge and to Henry Victor Park.

Selection committee

A committee has been selected by the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce to review nominations for Citizen of the Year. The group will then choose the recipient of the award. Members include, front row, Doug McCartney with the Wayne State Foundation and Russ Rasmussen with the Lions Club. Back row, Ann Milliken (who was filling in for Dr. Paul Theobald, who represents the Kiwanis Club), Laura Hochstein with St. Mary's Church and Nancy Braden with the City of Wayne. The group encourages anyone with nominations to submit them as soon as possible. Letters of support are also welcome with the nominations.

Superior service

Dennis Lipp, left, and Jean Blomenkamp were recognized at last week's Chamber Coffee for their years of service on the Wayne Public School Board of Education. In addition to the plaques, Board President Sue Gilmore present each of the outgoing members with a 'special' gift as a token of her appreciation for their work on the board.

Gratitude given for concert

Dear Editor,

I would like to express my gratitude to everyone involved in the "For the Master" concert. You are ALL to be applauded and thanked for a wonderful way to celebrate, praise and embrace Christ and the essence of Christmas.

I felt as though we (the audience) were sitting in the palms of his hands and listening to His choir of angels.

Thank you for the gift.

the San Bernardino Sheriff's office in California. He is being held for extradition on the charges he faces in Nebraska, but also faces charges of felony evading in California and may face assault of an officer with a deadly weapon relating to the ramming of the Nevada Highway Patrolman with his van. Webster said his department is working with the San Bernardino

County Sheriff's office, the Las Vegas Police Department, the California Highway Patrol and the FBI to piece together any evidence that may show where Van was living in Las Vegas.

Authorities are also looking for evidence that may lead to an accomplice, someone who could have helped Van evade police.

Wayne County Deputy Attorney Chris Connolly says his office is already working on extradition proceedings to bring Van back to Nebraska. He says the time frame of the process depends on how Van cooperates with authorities and whether or not he waives extradition.

Van was free on $10,000 bond after he was found guilty in July on five felony charges relating to the sexual torture case last December.

But Van failed to show for his sentencing hearing on Sept. 23, prompting a manhunt for him.

Just last week, Wayne County District Judge Robert Ensz ruled that Van's bond money was forfeited to the state, saying the funds would be used to pay for the costs of extradition in the event Van is apprehended in another state.

Dinner music

The Wayne High School Jazz Choir provided musical entertainment during the Wayne Rotary Club's soup supper. The event was part of the 18th annual Fantasy Forest held at the Wayne Elementary School. The Jazz Choir, under the direction of Kathryn Ley, is scheduled to perform at several locations in Wayne on Monday, Dec. 16.

Martin's high school coach said she was a great talent.

"Dodie was an all-around leader," said Clarence "Ark" Morris, who coached for 39 years at Stanton County High School, winning 24 state titles and capturing 16 runner-up and nine third-place finishes. "She made everyone around her compete at a higher level."

Morris said the key to Dodie's success was setting goals.

"She was goal-oriented and set realistic goals."

Morris said although he felt Dodie was a better talent in track and cross country, he knew basketball is where her heart was.

The 68-year-old, who also coached Dodie's father, Brent, said that Dodie had a will to win.

"There would be girls who had faster times than Dodie, but she had a great kick at the end and that desire to win," said Morris.

Morris said Dodie is so competitive, she would even want to beat you at dominos or checkers.

Martin credits her older sister Regan for her success.

"When I was younger, I would be out running with her and that made me want to win."

Dodie is the youngest of four brothers and sisters. Coy is 31, Regan is 25 and Wylie is 23.

With the help of her mother Wanita, Martin has saved articles and letters of all her achievements in high school.

Martin was the first to inform her coach, Morris, that he was also being inducted into the Hall of Fame.

"He is so deserving of this award. I couldn't have done it without him," said Martin, who considers her high school coach like a grandpa.

Martin said when she called

Morris about the news, she was wishing to get a "Bear Hug" from Morris, something he is known for giving to his student athletes.

The 22-year-old will graduate from Wayne State in May with a major in exercise science. She will look for an internship this summer and would like to "coach something" someday.

As for being inducted into the Hall of Fame with her coach, Dodie said "it's a dream come true. It will be a special time."

Holiday Gala set for Dec. 15 at Wayne State

The third annual President's Holiday Gala concert and reception will be held at Wayne State College on Sunday, Dec. 15. The concert will take place at 2 p.m. in the newly-renovated Ramsey Theatre in the Peterson Fine Arts Building on campus.

The program is designed as a fast-paced concert presented in a collage-like atmosphere, highlighting some of the select performing groups from Wayne State.

Included in the hour-long program will be performances by the Madrigal Singers, chamber ensembles, the Wind Ensemble, and a combined group of student musicians performing holiday classics. The program will include works by Holst, Mendelssohn, Beethoven, Bach and LeRoy Anderson.

Following the concert, Dr. Sheila Stearns, Wayne State president, will host a dessert reception in the Frey Conference Suite in the Wayne State Student Center.

The concert and reception are free and open to the public. For more information about the concert, please call the WSC Department of Music at 402-375-7359.

Council listens to trail concerns

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Swearing in ceremonies for newly elected and incumbent members of the Wayne City Council and Mayor were held at the beginning of Tuesday's meeting of the council.

Judge Robert Ensz conducted the ceremonies for Betty Reeg and Jim Shanks, new members of the council and Will Wiseman and Lois Shelton, returning members as well as Mayor Sheryl Lindau.

Considerable debate was held on the location of the Recreation Trail during Tuesday's meeting of the council.

Five of the council's agenda items dealt with the trail, including a public hearing for the acquisition of land for the trail.

The hearing involved property owned by Wayne Consignment Auction and First Church of Christ. The two entities have deeded parcels of land to the city. The acquisition of land by the city, in any form, requires a public hearing.

Following the hearing, the council approved Resolutions 2002-68 and 2002-69, authorizing the acquisitions.

Later in the meeting, Mark Christensen, a property owner near the proposed trail presented a petition signed by 12 of the 13 property owners whose property will be adjacent to the trail. Those property owners indicated they were opposed to the trail being only two feet from their property lines.

Christensen expressed concerns

Board approves contracts

The meeting of the Wayne Community Schools Board of Education was held at the Wayne High School Monday night.

The board approved the hiring of a full-time SPED teacher for second semester. Because of the needs of the students, a teacher is needed rather than an aide.

The contract for Suzanne Burbach as a paraprofessional was approved. She will replace Kari Dusatko.

Also approved was the contract for Kenneth Hall as custodian. The position will be for grounds keeping as well as other custodial duties.

Dr. Don Zeiss, high school principal, informed the board of the two applicants for the Science position that needs to be filled before the next semester.

David Lutt, elementary school principal, noted new students continue to be registered at the elementary school. Enrollment is at 312 students.

Kraig Lofquist, SPED director, reported as of Nov. 22, there were 129 students receiving some type of Special Ed which is 13 percent of the students. The state's average is 14.25 percent.

Dr. Joe Reinert, superintendent, presented the board with information on the 2002. Adjusted Valuation of the school district. The school's state aid is based on the adjusted valuation which is calculated by the state. After submitting a written protest of the adjusted valuation received in October, the Nebraska Department of Property Assessment and Taxation changed the adjusted valuation. As a result of this change, the Wayne School district will receive an approximate increase of $130,841 in state aid.

Old business included the possible joining of the Laurel FFA chapter. Dr. Reinert met with the Laurel FFA Chapter sponsor to discuss the possibility of joining the FFA chapter. Three Laurel board members also met with three Wayne board members to discuss the issue. The schools would have an Interlocal Agreement and an Addendum as to what courses would be offered to each other and the cost associated in doing so. By having such an Addendum, all expenses can be run through the cooperative fund. The courses themselves could be Distance Ed courses and a certified teacher would be needed to teach the courses. Registration for Distance Ed courses usually occurs in March or April.

When working with other schools, there isn't a lot of flexibility as to when the courses are scheduled. This may reduce the number of students interested when it comes to choosing between two courses. If there is not enough interest, the cost of doing the Interlocal will not be beneficial. The board was given the proposal to look over and in January they may be able to make a decision.

Approval was given by the board for students to attend Close Up next spring.

Communication from the public included Lori Owens from the parents group adding they now have $20,500 pledges for the joining of the Laurel FFA Chapter; enough to cover the cost of the program for the first few years.

Executive session was held.

The next meeting of the Wayne Community Schools Board of Education will be held Monday, Jan. 13 at 7 p.m. at the Wayne High School.

Wayne boys knock off state-ranked Battle Creek

by Mike Grosz
Of the Herald

The Wayne High School boys' basketball team opened their season last Friday evening with a 63-62 win at Battle Creek.

The Blue Devils led a majority of the game, building a 13-point lead in the fourth quarter, before holding off a late Battle Creek rally for the win.

Coach Rocky Ruhl's squad showed its balance early on with seven different players scoring the first 14 points as Wayne built a 14-10 lead after one quarter.

Wayne held a 25-19 lead at halftime and led 35-26 after three quarters. That's when the pace of the game picked up.

Jon Ehrhardt scored the first eight points for Wayne to start the fourth quarter, helping the Blue Devils take a 43-33 lead. Wayne took its biggest lead at 52-39 on a Ric Volk basket with 4:40 left in the game, then had to hold off a surging Braves team that hit numerous three pointers to cut into the deficit.

But the Blue Devils used clutch free throw shooting down the stretch to preserve the win.

"It was fun to go on the road and come out on top," said Ruhl. "We had our typical ups and downs for the first game of the season, but overall I was pleased."

Ruhl admitted that his team used Battle Creek's pre-season ranking as motivation heading into the game.

"The kids wanted to gain some respect from their opponents and from the state, they want to be their own team," Ruhl said.

Wayne had four players in double figures, led by Jon Ehrhardt's 15 points. Caleb Garvin added 14, Ric Volk scored 12 and Travis Luhr added 10. Brady Heithold added four points, Ryan Schmeits and Mike Sturm chipped in three apiece and Bryan Fink had two.

Battle Creek held a slight edge in rebounding over Wayne, 37-35. Luhr had 12 rebounds to lead Wayne. Garvin added eight.

Ryan Schmeits dished out a team-high nine assists in the win.

Wayne shot 36 percent in the game, connecting on 22 of 61 shots. Battle Creek shot 13 of 40 for 32 percent.

The Blue Devils hit 15 of 19 free throws (78 percent) while Battle Creek made 24 of 30 (80 percent).

The Junior Varsity team played at Battle Creek Monday evening and posted a 46-28 win.

Heath Dickes scored 12 points to lead Wayne in the win. Wade Jarvi added seven. The Blue Devils had 12 players score in the game.

Wayne has a busy week of games coming up. The Blue Devils travel to Hooper Logan View Friday evening, host Columbus Lakeview on Saturday evening and then play at Schuyler Tuesday evening.

Wayne senior forward Travis Luhr had 10 points and 12 rebounds in his first-ever start against Battle Creek.

Blue Devil center Caleb Garvin attempts to block a Battle Creek shot in last Friday evening's season opener.

Wayne girls drop opener at Battle Creek

Wayne battled back and forth with Battle Creek before falling late in the game 54-43 in last Friday's opener for the Lady Blue Devils basketball team.

Matt Schaub, in his Blue Devil coaching debut, saw his club get off to a quick start, grabbing an 8-0 lead in the first three minutes of the game.

Battle Creek would then score the next 15 points, taking a 15-8 lead early in the second quarter before Wayne would score again.

The Blue Devils would find some offense and trailed by just five points at halftime, 24-19.

The Bravettes jumped out to a 32-22 lead in the third quarter before Wayne went on a scoring spree.

Baskets by Erin Jarvi, Amy Harder and Jenny Raveling, along with four free throws from Mary Boehle, fueled a Blue Devils rally, making the score 37-36 after three quarters with Battle Creek holding a slight edge.

Amy Harder's basket early in the fourth quarter gave Wayne a 38-37 lead, but Battle Creek would hold the Blue Devils to just five points in the rest of the quarter and record a 54-43 win.

"I was pleased with our effort," said head coach Matt Schaub. "The girls showed a lot of heart by coming back when they were down by 10 in the third quarter."

Schaub added he was pleased with his team's bench play.

"The young players got some varsity experience. They will improve as the year goes on."

Amy Harder had 16 points to lead Wayne in scoring. Erin Jarvi added 10. Kari Hochstein scored 6, Mary Boehle and Jenny Raveling added four points each, Alissa Dunklau had two and Molly Hill contributed one.

The Blue Devils shot 45 percent in the game, hitting 15 of 33 shots. Wayne did struggle from the free throw line, making just 11 of 27 attempts for 41 percent.

Wayne outrebounded Battle Creek in the game, 24-19. Hochstein pulled down nine boards to lead the Blue Devils. Harder added four with Dunklau and Jarvi grabbing three each.

The Junior Varsity team played at Battle Creek Monday evening, losing to the Bravettes 33-28.

Micaela Weber had nine points and four rebounds to lead Wayne. Ashley Carroll, Molly Hill and Stacie Hoeman added four points each. Hoeman had a team-high seven rebounds.

"We allowed too many offensive rebounds and put backs," said coach Chris Loofe. "We were able to get good looks on offense, but didn't shoot particularly well."

Wayne will host Schuyler in the home opener Friday evening at the Wayne High gym.

Wayne senior Amy Harder drives around a Battle Creek player during the Blue Devils' season opener last Friday.

Senior guard Alissa Dunklau takes a shot between two Battle Creek defenders.

Winside boys drop three games to start season

The Winside boys basketball team was greeted with a tough schedule to open the season, dropping the first three games.

Last Thursday, the Wildcats battled with Allen before falling 52-34.

Allen held leads of 9-6 after one quarter, 22-15 at halftime and 33-25 after three quarters before outscoring the Wildcats 19-9 in the fourth quarter to post the 18-point win.

Six foot junior Nate Wills led the Wildcats with 12 points against Allen. Michael Hawkins added six. Adam Pfeiffer, Russ O'Connor and Justin Nathan chipped in four each with Andrew Mundorf and Jared Thies finishing with two apiece.

Winside shot 13 of 37 in the game from the field and 5 of 12 from the charity stripe.

Russ O'Connor had seven rebounds to lead the Wildcats. Nate Wills followed with four.

"We didn't play as hard as I know we can," said head coach Tom Meyer. "We have a whole new team this year and it is going to take a while for them to adjust to what they see in practice to how fast everything happens in a game."

Friday evening, the Wildcats hosted Wynot and lost by a 49-36 score. Quarter scores were not available.

Adam Pfeiffer paced Winside in scoring with 14 points. Russ O'Connor added nine. Nate Wills and Justin Nathan finished with five points each, Michael Hawkins had two and Taylor Suchl one.

The Wildcats made 13 of 30 field goal attempts and 8 of 19 from the free throw line.

Michael Hawkins led Winside in rebounding with four. Nate Wills added three.

"We played a lot harder, especially on defense," said Meyer, "but we still had too many unforced turnovers and are still having trouble getting into our offense."

Tuesday evening, Winside traveled to Laurel-Concord with the Bears winning 71-49.

Laurel-Concord led 20-9 after one quarter and built a 45-21 half-time lead. The Bears led 57-29 after three quarters with Winside outscoring Laurel 20-14 in the final eight minutes for the 71-49 final score.

Nate Wills had a big game for the Wildcats, scoring 24 points in a losing effort. Justin Nathan added six points, Russ O'Connor had five, Michael Hawkins, Adam Pfeiffer and Andrew Mundorf chipped in four apiece and Jared Thies finished with two.

The Wildcats top rebounder was Justin Nathan with six. Michael Hawkins added five.

From the field, Winside hit 15 of 39 shots for 38 percent and was 16 of 31 from the free throw line.

Winside, now 0-3, hosts Lutheran High Northeast Friday evening and travels to Bancroft-Rosalie on Tuesday.

Laurel-Concord wins openers at Crofton

The Laurel-Concord basketball teams opened the season last Friday evening with wins at Crofton.

The Lady Bears posted a 44-25 win over the Warriors.

Laurel-Concord jumped out to a 17-2 lead after the first quarter and never looked back. The Bears led 28-8 at halftime and 35-18 after three quarters.

Tori Cunningham had 14 points and nine rebounds to lead Laurel-Concord. Susan Pritchard also hit double figures, adding 12.

Emily Schroeder added seven points and a team-best 12 rebounds. Katie Peters finished with seven points and five assists with Tiffany Erwin and Maggi Recob scoring two points each.

"We were able to jump out to a 20-point halftime lead thanks to our defense and teamwork on offense," said head coach Susie Koranda. "This was a good test for us to start out on the road and come away with the victory."

In the boys game, Laurel-Concord needed overtime before holding off Crofton 50-45.

The Bears got off to a quick start, grabbing a 15-6 lead in the first quarter. Crofton slowly cut into the deficit and eventually sent the game into overtime. Laurel-Concord led 21-15 at halftime and 31-26 after three quarters before Crofton tied the game late at 41-41 heading into overtime.

Laurel-Concord then outscored the Warriors 9-4 in overtime to pick up the win.

Junior guard Eric Nelson had 15 points and eight assists to lead the Bears. He was also 4 of 5 from the foul line.

Marc Manganaro added 11 points and eight rebounds. Cassidy Neuhalfen chipped in eight points and nine rebounds in helping the Bears outrebound Crofton 32-23.

Other scoring included Josh Hart with eight points, Chance McCoy and Philip Nelson added four apiece.

Laurel-Concord will host NENAC rival Randolph Saturday evening.

Wayne State women win two games at Southwest State Classic, now 4-2

by Mike Grosz
Of the Herald

The Wayne State College women's basketball team knocked off North Central Conference schools Minnesota State-Mankato and St. Cloud State last weekend at the Southwest State Hardees/Coca-Cola Classic in Marshall, Minnesota.

The Wildcats used two big-game performances from seniors Karen Hochstein and Dodie Martin to improve its season mark to 4-2.

Friday, Wayne State defeated Minnesota State-Mankato 81-66. The Wildcats led 33-29 at halftime, then outscored the Mavericks in the second half 48-37 to post the 15-point win.

Senior forward Karen Hochstein finished with a game-high 27 points and 11 rebounds to pace the Wildcats. The Hartington Cedar Catholic product was 9 of 13 from the floor and canned 9 of 12 free throws in the contest.

Dodie Martin was the only other Wildcat in double figures with 11 points and dished out a team-best nine assists.

"We played extremely hard," said head coach Ryun Williams. "Our intensity was sky high and Karen Hochstein had a big game for us."

Wayne State shot 52 percent from the floor, connecting on 28 of 53 shots while Mankato hit just 37 percent on 22 of 59.

The Wildcats hit 21 of 28 free throws in the contest while MSM was 19 of 23.

Wayne State held a 41-30 advantage in rebounding, led by Hochstein's 11. Lesley Menken added eight boards.

Saturday, the Wildcats rallied to beat St. Cloud State 70-60.

After trailing 31-30 at halftime, the Wildcats came out strong in the second half and outscored the Huskies 40-29 in the second half to win 70-60.

Wayne State hit 13 three-pointers in the game, including eight from senior guard Dodie Martin, who ended the game with a career-high 31 points. Martin was 9 of 12 from the floor, including 8 of 10 on three pointers, to go with 5 of 7 foul shooting for her 31 points. She also played all 40 minutes in the game.

Karen Hochstein added 13 points while freshman guard Ashley Arndorfer chipped in 10.

Coach Williams said his team was a little sluggish against the Huskies.

"It wasn't the prettiest of games," said Williams, referring to his team's 22 turnovers. "But we found a way to win the game. The girls made a great adjustment at halftime and Dodie Martin was just outstanding."

St. Cloud State outshot the Wildcats in the game, but Wayne State hit eight more three pointers and made ten more free throws than the Huskies.

WSC hit 20 of 48 shots (41 percent) compared to St. Cloud's 24 of 52 for 46 percent. The Wildcats were 13 of 24 on three pointers (54 percent).

The Wildcats outrebounded St. Cloud 38-29. Hochstein had eight rebounds to lead Wayne State.

"These two wins have given our team a lot of confidence," Williams said. "We rebounded really well in both games and our defensive intensity was really solid."

Wayne State, now 4-2, host York College Friday evening at 7 pm and travels to Augustana Saturday evening for a 6 pm contest.

Wayne State men drop two at Southwest Tournament

by Mike Grosz
Of the Herald

The Wayne State College men's basketball team lost a pair of games at the Hardees/Coca-Cola Classic in Marshall, Minnesota last weekend, falling to Minnesota State-Mankato and nationally-ranked Michigan Tech.

Friday, the Wildcats lost to Mankato 66-55.

Wayne State jumped out to a 20-12 lead with 7:05 left in the first half, but would not score another point the rest of the half. The Mavericks reeled off 16 straight points to take a 28-20 lead at intermission.

The Wildcats would get as close as seven points the rest of the way, 32-25 with 16:49 left, and eventually fall 66-55.

"I was pleased with our performance," said head coach Rico Burkett. "They (Mankato) went to a zone and we missed some good shots in that stretch where we couldn't score. For most of the game, I thought we played with them." Wayne State shot 45 percent in the game, hitting 19 of 42 field goals. Mankato ended the game 26 of 56 for 46 percent.

From the free throw line, WSC was 11 of 15 (73 percent) while the Mavericks hit 10 of 14.

Todd Klosterman led the Wildcats with 18 points. Derek Archer added 12 off the bench.

Minnesota State-Mankato held a 32-28 edge in rebounding. Klosterman had eight caroms to lead Wayne State.

Saturday, the Wildcats met 11th-ranked Michigan Tech, falling to the unbeaten Huskies 78-59.

Michigan Tech raced out to a 44-26 halftime lead, but held just a one point edge over the Wildcats in the second half 34-33, to make up the final margin of 78-59.

"They are very good," said Burkett, "but I think we gave them too much respect and were on our heels early in the game."

Burkett added, "I think we learned some things about ourselves at this tournament. We've had too many lulls against good teams, and we can't afford to do that. Being on the road has also taken its toll."

Todd Klosterman paced the Wildcats with 17 points.

Sophomore guard Troy Malone added 11.

Wayne State made 22 of 52 shots in the game for 42 percent. Michigan Tech was 26 of 57 for 45 percent.

The Wildcats won the rebounding battle with the Huskies, 35-30. Brett Cain and Todd Klosterman each pulled down eight rebounds.

Wayne State had 16 turnovers in the game to just eight for Michigan Tech.

Martin, Klosterman earn honors

WAYNE--Dodie Martin and Todd Klosterman have been named the Nebraska Division II Basketball Players of the Week. Martin was also named the Northern Sun Conference Women's Player of the Week.

Klosterman, a 6'6 junior forward from Manchester, Iowa, averaged 18.7 points and 7.3 rebounds per game in three contests last week. He had a team-high 21 points at Nebraska-Kearney last Tuesday night.

Martin, a 5'7 senior guard from Johnson, Kansas, averaged 19.7 points, 4.7 assists and 3.3 rebounds in three contests last week. She had career-highs in points (31), assists (9) and three-pointers (8) in a 70-60 win over St. Cloud State Saturday at the Hardees Southwest State Classic.

It's the second time in three weeks that Martin has earned player of the week honors.

WSC linebacker named All-Region

WAYNE--Sophomore linebacker Adam Long was recently named to the 2002 D2football.com All-Midwest Region honorable mention football team.

Long, a 6'0, 230-pound middle linebacker from Bennington, led the Wildcat defense this season with 113 tackles. He also led the team in tackles for loss with 16 for minus 42 yards. Long was the fourth leading tackler in the NSIC, averaging 10.4 tackles per game. He also had 2.5 quarterback sacks, two pass breakups and one forced fumble.

Wakefield girls split four games in opening week

The Wakefield girls basketball team opened the season with four games in the opening week, winning two and losing two.

Last Thursday, the Trojans won at Pender 35-28. Wakefield held a 7-6 lead after the opening quarter, led 17-14 at halftime and 25-19 after three quarters before posting a 35-28 win. The Trojans hit 10 of 12 free throws, many coming late in the game, to preserve the win.

Sophomore Gina Dutcher led Wakefield with 12 points. Tanya Kay added eight, Katie Jensen finished with seven, Amanda Brown had six and Diana Potter chipped in two.

Jensen had 10 rebounds to lead Wakefield. Brown added five. "We played a very aggressive game defensively and shot free throws well down the stretch," said head coach Matt Brenn.

Saturday, the Trojans hosted Allen with the visitors winning 51-47.

Katie Jensen had 12 points and 11 rebounds to lead Wakefield in a losing effort. Gina Dutcher contributed 11 points and had six

Area athletes receive all state recognition

A number of Wayne Herald area athletes have received All-State honors this week.

In football, Wayne's Jon Ehrhardt was named All-State tight end by the Nebraska Prep Report in Class C-1.

In Class C-2, Wakefield's Luke Hoffman, a 6'1, 200-pound junior, was named All-State linebacker by the Omaha World Herald and Nebraska Prep Report along with Laurel-Concord senior wide receiver Marc Manganaro.

Players named honorable mention include Justin Davis, Brady Heithold and Ryan Schmeits of Wayne; Jeff Banholzer, Rodney Cole, Andy Jensen and Nick Miller of Wakefield; Tom Schwedhelm of Winside and Corey Ulrich and Bart Sachau of Allen.

In volleyball, Laurel-Concord's Emily Schroeder was named to the Class C-2 All-State Team. The 5'11 senior will play at Nebraska next season.

Named Second Team All-State were Wayne junior hitter Allison Hansen and Laurel-Concord senior setter Tori Cunningham. Players that were tabbed honorable mention include Alissa Dinklauer and Kari Hochstein of Wayne; Katie Peters and Susan Pritchard of Laurel-Concord and Becky Krause of Winside.

Congratulations to all area athletes who received all-state honors from the Wayne Herald Sports Department.

Wayne wrestlers place second at York Invitational

The Wayne High wrestling team placed second at its first tournament of the season Saturday, the York Invitational.

Schuyler scored 124.5 points to edge the Blue Devils by eight points to win the 11-team tournament.

Wayne had four wrestlers make the finals with two taking individual titles.

Leading the way was defending state champion Matt Nelson. The 135-pound junior won his first two matches by pin, then handled Danny Bulder of York by technical fall in the finals to be named the Outstanding Wrestler of the tournament.

Sophomore Dana Schuett (171) also took home a first place medal, winning all three matches by pin. Josh Widner (103) and Matt Roebler (140) each placed second. The Blue Devils had two other wrestlers pick up medals. Justin Modrell (119) and Josh Hartwell (145) finished third.

Head coach John Murtaugh

said his team gave a solid performance in the first tournament of the year.

"The kids did a good job of pulling together and wrestling tough throughout the entire tournament."

At the York JV tournament, Brandon Pilger placed third at 140 pounds with David Loberg earning a fourth-place finish at 145.

Wayne also had two duals in the opening week of the season.

The Blue Devils posted a 60-16 win at West Point Tuesday evening. Wayne won five matches against the Cadets while taking advantage of five forfeits.

Matt Nelson needed just 13 seconds to pin his opponent at 135. Josh Widner (103) won by a pin in 1:13. Dana Schuett (189) pinned his opponent in 1:30. Jacob Kay (130) won by pin in 5:12 and Dan Reinhardt (152) recorded a win by pin in 5:38.

"I thought the kids performed well in the few matches that were actually wrestled," said head coach John Murtaugh.

Last Thursday evening, Wayne opened the season at home with a dual against Schuyler.

The Warriors took advantage of five open weights to record a 48-24 win. Of the nine matches that took place, Wayne won five.

Josh Widner (103), Jacob Kay (130) and Dana Schuett (171) won their matches by pin in the first period. Matt Nelson posted an 18-11 win at 135 and 145-pounder Josh Hartwell posted a 9-6 decision for the other Blue Devil wins.

In JV results, Nate Shapiro won 13-3 at 145 pounds.

Wayne will compete at the West Point Invitational Saturday and host a triangular with the Norfolk JV team on Tuesday, Dec. 17.

Defending state champion Matt Nelson of Wayne scores a takedown against Jeremy Mundiil of Schuyler in their 135-pound match during last Thursday's dual.

Jacob Kay, wrestling at 130 pounds, pinned Corey Schultz of Schuyler in the season opening dual at the WHS gym.

Winside wrestlers take second at Creighton Invite

The Winside wrestling team finished second Saturday at the season-opening Creighton Invitational.

The Wildcats scored 202.5 points, but trailed champion Neligh-Oakdale by 30 points to the team trophy.

Winside had 10 of their 13 wrestlers pick up medals with four of them winning their respective weight class.

Defending state champion Tom Schwedhelm, a senior at 189 pounds, cruised in his three matches to take first place.

Other champions for the Wildcats were Andrew Sok, a freshman at 103, senior Brandon Suehl at 135 and junior Josh Sok at 152.

The younger Sok had a strong meet according to head coach Paul Sok by not allowing any points to be scored against him while avenging a couple of losses in junior high last season to Gage Bowder of Pender.

Jesse Thies (103), Kass Holdorf (140) and Collin Prince (215) each earned third place medals.

Veteran head coach Paul Sok said he was pleased with the start to the season.

"We had 13 weights filled and 12 of the 13 won matches. Condition-wise, we are where we need to be. Our main priority right now is to sharpen up on our technique with some very tough matches coming up."

Tuesday evening, the Wildcats hosted Wisner-Pilger in a dual and posted a 67-9 win.

The Wildcats scored the first 51 points in the dual and won seven of the nine matches that took place.

Jesse Thies (103), Andrew Sok (112), Dan Morris (125), Nathan Stevens (130) and Collin Prince at 215 all won by pin.

Brandon Bowers (145) and Mike Tomasek (275) each won by decision.

In JV matches, James Neel and Bryce Roberts each won by pin for the Wildcats.

Winside will face Pender and West Point CC in a triangular tonight (Thursday) in Winside before facing teams like North Bend, Wahoo and David City on Saturday at the North Bend Invitational.

Creighton Invitational results
103-Jesse Thies (3rd): Won 5-0; lost by pin; Won by pin; Won by pin(2:51) over Chris Schumacher of Randolph

Allen boys start season 2-0, knock off state-ranked Coleridge Bulldogs

The Allen Eagles opened the 2002-2003 boys basketball season with a pair of wins last week.

The Eagles turned back Winside on the Wildcats' home court Thursday evening 52-34, then shut down state-ranked Coleridge in the home opener Friday evening 42-27.

Allen battled with Winside for three quarters before putting the Wildcats away in the fourth quarter to the 18-point win.

The Eagles led 9-6 after one quarter and 22-15 at halftime. Allen held a 33-25 lead after three quarters before building a 20-point lead in the final stanza, outscoring the Wildcats 19-9.

Corey Uldrich had a huge opening game for the Eagles, scoring 27 points and grabbing 15 rebounds. Bart Sachau chipped in with 15 points, Brett Koester added five, Andrew Gensler two and Scott Blohm, Andrew Sachau and Nathan Sturges with one each.

Both teams struggled from the field in the opener, both shooting under 35 percent. Allen hit 18 of 45 while Winside made 13-36.

The Eagles were 12-22 from the free throw line while Winside hit 5 of 12.

Allen outrebounded Winside 34-18. After Uldrich's 15 rebounds, Blohm, Aaron Smith and Duane Rahn added four each.

"I felt our defensive intensity was a big difference in this game," said head coach Dave Uldrich. "We gave up a few perimeter shots, but got that corrected and did a good job down the stretch when it counted."

Friday evening, the Eagles hosted state-ranked Coleridge and came away with a 42-27 win.

Coleridge raced out to an early 14-3 lead and led 14-6 after one quarter. But the Eagles came alive in the second quarter, outscoring the Bulldogs 17-10 to trail by only one point at halftime, 25-24.

The Eagles then put on a defensive clinic in the second half, forcing Coleridge into numerous turnovers and hurried shots.

Allen outscored Coleridge 9-1 in the third quarter and 10-2 in the fourth quarter to post the final margin of 42-27.

Brett Koester led the Eagles balanced scoring attack with 14 points. Corey Uldrich and Bart Sachau pitched in 13 and 12 respectively. Andrew Sachau added three off the bench.

The Eagles made 14 of 37 shots in the game compared to 12 of 30 for Coleridge.

Allen outrebounded the Bulldogs

25-19. Uldrich had seven to lead the Eagles while Bart Sachau and Duane Rahn added four each.

"This was a very good win for our team," Uldrich said. "We had a terrible start to the game, but yet found a way to win. Limiting them to three points in the second half just amazed me."

Allen will play in the Homer Tip Off Classic this weekend, playing Homer Friday evening at 8 pm and then facing either Ponca or Emerson-Hubbard Saturday evening.

WRESTLER OF THE WEEK

Josh Hartwell

Activities: Football, Wrestling, Track, Baseball
Coach Murtaugh's comments: "Josh is a tough kid who loves to compete. He has been very impressive in the early stages of the season."

Josh's comments: "Wrestling has been fun so far this year. Our team is really dedicated. We work very hard in practice and it shows on the mat."

Winter weather brings hard water fishing season

Well it's the middle of December and winter weather is supposed to be here. With 40 degree days and lots of sun, the ponds aren't freezing over very quickly.

Some anglers up north have told me that they had 2 to 3" of ice on the bays the first of December, but with the warm weather, it has softened up quickly.

I like to wait until we get 4" of "good" hard ice before I venture out.

Over the years, I've had some of my best ice fishing during the early season. Some of my best "hard water" fishing has been on the first ice. The ice is still fairly clear and weeds are still standing upright offering protection and producing oxygen, so the fish will be located throughout the lake.

Fish haven't had time to go into their super slow mode yet and are still roaming around looking for a meal.

The best early season ice fishing comes in areas that still have good weeds. The weeds give the smaller pan fish a place to feed and some protection from the larger prey fish.

A good starting place is an area that has weeds protruding from the ice. Drill several holes around them until you find the edge or a pocket in the weeds. Bluegills, perch and crappies like to hang out around the edges.

Gary Howey
"Of the Outdoors"

You'll want to move around and drill a bunch of holes when ice fish. You'll get the majority of bites the first couple of times you drop your bait down the hole. I've seen anglers pull a couple of fish out of a hole and then sit there for hours waiting for the next bite.

Not me, I like to fire up the Jiffy and drill dozens of holes and jump from one to another. It can be quite a job if you're using a hand auger and if you're using a hand auger, look for holes made earlier by other fishermen. I'll punch a few of my own holes and also use the old holes. I believe that the more holes you punch and fish through the better your catching percentage will be.

Use a light limp line as it has less memory and doesn't coil up on you. If the water is real clear, I'll go to either 2 or 4 pound test monofilament.

Try a small ice fly, jigging Rap or just a small gold hook with a split shot for pan fish. Tip the hook with a wax worm or maggot. I suspend my bait under the smallest float or bobber I can find. Your bobber should just barely protrude above the water. The less force it takes to pull the bobber under, the better your chances will be of hooking the fish. When using a foam or cork bobber with the small tooth pick that snubs against the line, I like to have just the toothpick or the very top of the bobber above the water. This way the fish can take the bait into his mouth and not feel any resistance.

Rods for panfish need to have a soft touch. They need to be limber enough to detect a bite, yet solid enough to be able to set the hook on the fish. I've found that a short fiberglass light weight rod works as well as any rod for hard water fishing.

If you fish out of an ice sled or ice house, a short rod is the only way to go, because in most cases, you don't have room to set the hook with a longer rod.

When I'm fishing on a pond for panfish, I very seldom use a reel as most of the ponds aren't that deep. You'll hook an occasional bass in a pond and you can bring him in hand over hand as long as you don't try to rush him.

As the season progresses fish will move out into deeper water looking for more comfortable temperatures. If you have a fish locator such as the Vexilar FL-8, it makes the looking a lot easier and they'll help you to pin point the exact depth that the fish are holding at.

Fish will suspend and move up and down as they feed. Don't get stuck in a rut and fish only deep, because fish move both vertically and horizontally. Try one depth and then another, keep experimenting until you find the right spot.

When fishing early ice, safety is a big concern. Let the ice get good and hard before you venture out onto it. Watch for soft spots such as areas where springs are present or where the water is moving under the ice as these areas take longer to become hard.

Just in case you need it, carry a flotation cushion, rope and some ice spikes with you. If you happen to break through the ice, you can use the ice spikes to dig into the ice and climb out of the hole. A flotation cushion works great for kneeling or sitting on and can be thrown to anyone that might fall through the ice.

Early season ice fishing can be fast and furious, keep warm, mobile and have a great ice fishing season.

Wayne State registration continues

Registration for Wayne State College students is under-way. Students may register for spring 2003 classes through Jan. 17, 2003. Spring classes begin Jan. 13, 2003.

Wayne State students are able to register via their computers through the WebCat Online system. Students are also able to access their records in the Business Office, Financial Aid and Records and Registration via the Internet from their dorm, lab or any off-campus address.

WebCat Online is available from 7:30 a.m. until 11:55 p.m., Mondays through Saturdays and 1 p.m. to 11:55 p.m. on Sundays.

All undergraduate students need advisor approval in order to register for on-campus courses. Students do not need advisor approval to enroll for continuing education courses. Graduate students do not need advisor approval.

New students need to contact the admissions office for application, registration and PIN (Personal Identification Number) information.

Students need their PIN to log in to their WebCat screens. For security reasons, PINs can't be given out over the phone. Questions regarding this process will be answered at (402) 375-7239.

For more information, check the Wayne State College Website at www.wsc.edu.

Herbs for Health
St. John's Wort for Depression

St. John's wort (Hypericum perforatum) has been used to treat depression and has been popularized by the media - including coverage in Newsweek and 20/20. This herb has three main actions - antidepressant, antiviral and antibacterial. The mechanism of action has been shown to be through inhibition of the reuptake of serotonin - a chemical transmitter in the nervous system.

A review of 23 trials on 1,757 patients diagnosed with mild to moderate depression demonstrated that hypericum extracts were significantly superior to a placebo and just as effective as standard antidepressants. Side effects were reported by only 20% of patients on hypericum versus 53% of patients on standard antidepressant medications.

The recommended dose of St. John's wort for an adult is 300 mg of the standardized extract (0.3% hypericin extract) three times daily. Reported side effects include mild stomach disturbances, fatigue and itching. The herb should not be taken with prescribed antidepressants such as fluoxetine. Tyramine-containing foods, alcoholic beverages, narcotics and amphetamines should be avoided. Safety in pregnancy and lactation has not been established.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Due to a lack of quorum for the Dec. 9 Village Board meeting, the Village of Allen monthly meeting of the Board of Trustees will be Wednesday, Dec. 18 at 7:30 p.m. at the Village Office.

CHRISTMAS DRAWING

Be sure to make a trip to town on Saturday, Dec. 14 for the Community Christmas drawing. The annual drawing will be at 2 p.m. on Main Street (weather permitting) in Allen.

MAKING STOP IN ALLEN

Santa will be making a stop in Allen on Saturday, Dec. 14 at 1 p.m. at the Allen mini mall. He'll be all set to listen to each child's Christmas List while they sit on his lap. Be sure to bring in your child to visit with Santa and to receive their bag of goodies!

K-12 CHRISTMAS GOODIES

The Allen K-12 Christmas Concert will be Monday, Dec. 16 at 7:30 pm in the gym. The Music Boosters will be holding their annual bake and craft sale during the intermission between the elementary and high school concerts. Be sure to come out and pick up your favorite holiday goodies!

VOLLEYBALL NATIONALS

Stacey Martinson, a 2000 graduate of Allen Consolidated, is a member of the Doane Tigers Volleyball team of Crete. The

Stacey Martinson

Tigers won the NALA Region IV tournament in November by beating Dordt and Morningside College.

This enabled them to advance to the NALA National Tournament at Point Lama University in San Diego, Calif. on Dec. 4-7.

The Tigers then went 1-3 in the tournament. The Tigers played Lee, Tenn.; Westmont, Calif., National America of South Dakota, and Graceland, Iowa. National America went on to win Nationals.

Over the four day tournament, Stacey had 11 points, 24 service attempts with one ace serve, seven digs, and 18 service receive passes.

Stacey is a junior at Doane College majoring in Psychology with a 3.8 GPA. She was recently selected for membership in Phi Chi, a psychology honorary. Membership is based on grades earned and accumulated during the 2001-02 school year. To qualify, one must be a psychology major, rank in the top 35 percent of their class, and maintain an average of B.

Stacey is the daughter of Barry & Linda Martinson of Allen.

Receive computers through grant

Area libraries, Carroll Public Library, Laurel Community Learning Center, Winside Public Library, Wakefield, Graves Public Library, and Wayne Public Library are among many libraries across Nebraska that are benefiting from a grant program from the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation.

Staff and board members from public libraries across Nebraska recently attended training as part of the grant program. The grants provide computers that will be available for the public to use free of charge and the training focused on assisting libraries as they order equipment and set up computer systems. The computers will be installed and ready for use in early 2003.

Through this grant from the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation and in conjunction with support from the Nebraska Library Commission, libraries will be able to ensure that citizens across Nebraska have access to computers and the Internet. Workshops and individual assistance will be offered at no charge for those who would like to learn the basics of using a computer, from learning to use the mouse to navigating the Internet and using free e-mail services.

"New technologies have helped all libraries, but have been especially important in our many rural communities," said Rod Wagner, Nebraska Library Commission Director. "Public libraries are the most commonly used place (outside the home or office) for accessing the Internet.

For more information about this grant contact Richard Miller, 402-471-3175, 800-307-2665, email: rmiller@nlc.state.ne.us or Pam Scott at 402-471-2694, 800-307-2665, email: pscott@nlc.state.ne.us

HAPPY HOLIDAYS

The Wayne
Herald

Everyone needs a good laugh

Everyone enjoys a good hearty laugh. It makes us feel good and that feeling can stay with us even after the laughter subsides. Laughter helps us see that small things are not the earth-shaking events they sometimes seem to be.

It enables us to look at a problem from a different point of view, make it seem less serious and realize opportunities for increase objectivity and insight.

Humor is an effective way to relieve stress. Laughter leads to a cathartic release of emotion, can help to release pent-up feelings of anger and frustration in a socially acceptable way and is often followed by a state of relaxation and a feeling of reduced tension. Aside from the psychological benefits, laughter affects the body in a number of positive ways as well.

Laughter releases endorphins—natural chemicals in the body that create a feeling of pleasure and have a pain-relieving effect.

Laughter is the shortest distance between two people. It binds us together, lightens our burdens and helps us keep things in perspective. Our work, marriage and family all need humor, celebrations, play and ritual as much as record keeping and problem-solving.

We should ask the questions "Do we laugh together?" As well as "Can we get through this hardship together?" Laughter can help us see the silver lining instead of just storm clouds. Humor unites us, especially when we laugh together.

One of the things that divides humans is the energy we put into coping with life's problems or concentrating each other's limitations. Our friends and neighbors are not perfect and neither is our marriage or family life. When we laugh together, it can bind us closer together instead of putting us in opposite camps.

Laughter heals. Laughter activates the chemistry of the will to live and increases our capacity to fight disease. The chest expands when laughing, respiration increases and forces exhausted air funny tape;

• If you hear a joke you really like, write it down, or tell it to someone else to help you remember it.

Try to remember that even in the most difficult of times, a laugh or even simply a smile, can go a long way in helping you feel better. Laughs and smiles are enjoyed best when shared with others. To laugh or not to laugh, is your choice.

Briefly Speaking

Women's Club plans Christmas luncheon
 AREA — Wayne Women's Club will meet Friday, Dec. 13 at 11:30 a.m. for a Christmas luncheon at The Oaks. Roll call will be "A Christmas tradition in your family." Visiting will follow the luncheon.

Connie Glassmeyer hosts Minerva Club
 AREA — Eleven members of the Minerva Club met Dec. 9 at the home of Connie Glassmeyer. Hollis Freese read minutes from the December meetings of the first year of the club, 1896. At that time, the Minerva Club met each week. After opening gifts, each member related something special about a certain Christmas.

P.E.O. chapter holds Christmas party
 AREA — P.E.O. Chapter AZ met Dec. 3 at the home of Amy Schweers. A Silent Auction was held. Ginny Otte was in charge of the program. Martha Brodersen and Annamae Wessel were co-hostesses. The chapter held its Christmas party on Dec. 8 at the home of Donna Liska. The next meeting will be a Founder's Day meeting on Saturday, Jan. 18 at 10:30 a.m. at the home of Debra Morlok. It will be followed by a luncheon with PEO Chapter ID.

Christmas cantata is being planned

"The Wonder of Christmas" is the title of a cantata to be presented by the Concord Evangelical Free Church on Sunday, Dec. 15. The concert, which was arranged by David Hamilton, will be presented at the church beginning at 7 p.m. Refreshments will be provided in the church basement following the program. The public is invited to attend the concert.

Schedules being sought

The Wayne Herald staff would like to put together a schedule of special services being held for Christmas at all the churches in Wayne and the surrounding area. These schedules will be printed in the Thursday, Dec. 19 issue of the Herald and should be in the office by Monday, Dec. 16. They may be mailed to P.O. Box, Wayne, Neb. 68787; faxed to (402) 375-1888 or received by phone at 375-2600. The Herald appreciates the efforts of all area church representatives in completing this project.

Fish for Health
Fish, especially fatty fish such as salmon and tuna, contains omega-3 fatty acids. Recent studies have shown two meals of fish a week reduced the risk of sudden cardiac death. These fatty acids help improve immune function, reduce dangerous blood clotting and lower blood pressure. They may also reduce symptoms related to inflammatory bowel disease, rheumatoid arthritis and bipolar disorder. Green leafy vegetables, soybeans, flaxseed and walnuts also good source of omega-3s.

Journey to find Christmas

The students at St. Mary's Elementary School, as well as the Little Lambs pre-school and pre-kindergarten students presented "Journey to the Center of Christmas" on Sunday. The program focused on a group of aliens who landed on Earth and attempted to find the true center of Christmas. The program, based in part on a story, "Journey Into the Center of Christmas," by Dennis and Nan Allen, was under the direction of Monica Jensen.

Haven House releases wish list

Haven House has released a wish list for its program needs, if you can help with some of the following, please call the staff at 375-5433.

Shelter Needs: Shampoo and conditioner, lotion, shaving cream; Kitchen towels and dish cloths; Cleaning supplies (toilet, window, dusting, etc.); Laundry detergent & fabric softener; 13 gallon garbage bags & zip lock bags; Paper products (toilet paper, paper towels, Kleenex); Alarm clocks; Aluminum foil, Saran wrap, wax paper; Boxed foods and canned goods; Queen, full, and twin size sheet sets and blankets; Table lamps, wall hangings and decorations; Furniture (please call before donating; Book shelves and storage cabinets; Large Rubbermaid storage containers; Deodorant, body wash, toothpaste and toothbrushes; Iron, laundry baskets, and hampers; Ladder, portable dishwasher, and vacuum cleaner; Dish sets, cookware, and bakeware; Over-the-counter cold medicines.

Office needs: Tools (pliers, screw drivers, etc.); White and colored copy paper; Heavy duty stapler Client needs-Women: Seasonal clothing; New undergarments (all sizes); Barrettes, hair ties, etc.; New hair dryers and curling irons; Make-up, bath gels, etc.

Service organization needs your support

Every 15 seconds a woman in this country is beaten by her current or former husband or intimate partner. Studies report a range of between two and four million women are abused annually. American women have more to fear from the men they know and once loved than from any stranger.

There is good news and bad news about domestic violence in Northeast Nebraska:

*The good news is that Haven House had an overwhelming response last year. Because of many generous donations, a third shelter facility, was opened and this one is located in South Sioux City.

*The bad news is that in the proposals just sent to Gov. Johanns, money was cut from domestic violence programs in the Department of Health and Human Services budget.

*If the Governor adopts the proposal, 25 percent of the annual budget could be lost, and the number of individuals served is on the rise.

As you know, Haven House offers crisis intervention and support services for domestic violence and sexual assault victims. Established in 1978, Haven House, a non-profit organization operated by a board of directors, paid staff and volunteers, serves five counties in Northeast Nebraska.

Haven House is able to provide shelter to families tormented by abuse. They provide education and counseling to women who want to break free from the cycle of violence. Haven House also provides legal and financial advocacy. In fiscal year 2001, they served 433 individuals struggling with domestic violence and sexual issues. But they cannot do it alone - especially in this year of a diminishing budget - they depend on you.

contribution could mean so much to a woman who made the brave choice to leave. A donation of $37.50 or more could mean a restful night of sleep, warm clothing and a warm meal for a woman and two children who are homeless due to violence. For the cost of a movie and dinner, a mother could take the first step toward a peaceful life with her children. Anyone interested in making a monetary donation to this necessary and worthwhile cause can send it to Haven House, 112 West 3rd Street, P.O. Box 44, Wayne, NE. 68787

If anyone knows of someone who is suffering from domestic violence, call 1-800-440-4633; Haven House wants to help.

Northeast to offer class on conversational sign language

A one-credit Conversational Sign Language class is scheduled to begin Wednesday, Jan. 8, and conclude Wednesday, Feb. 12, at Northeast Community College in Norfolk.

Kathy Fick is the instructor for this one-credit class that meets from 6:30-9 p.m. in the Ag/Allied Health Building, Room 237. Cost of this class, with course number SPCH 1000-01/03S or HawkNET Call #11198, is $53.50.

This class is an introduction to sign language, including the elements of ASL and SEE II. The class will emphasize the development of receptive and expressive skills in the use of the manual alphabet, numbers, and basic signs.

To register for this Conversational Sign Language class, call Northeast Community College at (402)844-7265.

Christmas musical to be presented

The children and youth of Calvary Bible Evangelical Free Church will present the Christmas musical, "The Bethlehem Project." The production will be Sunday, Dec. 15 at 6 p.m. at the church at 502 Lincoln Street in Wayne.

"The Bethlehem Project" features the Christmas story but with a fresh twist that provides both fun and life relevance for kids. The Bethlehem Kids and the Shepherd Kids don't get along until they find the same Savior.

The production includes a wide variety of styles, including contemporary, country, '50s rock and roll, rap, calypso and others. There are also fresh treatments of traditional carols and new songs.

A free will offering will be taken. Fellowship and a potato bake will follow the program.

Trying to stop Christmas

The "Grinch" visited The Oaks on Saturday in an attempt to stop the coming of Christmas. The visit coincided with the showing of "How the Grinch Stole Christmas" for the residents and several visitors. In spite of attempts to deny a love for the holiday, the Grinch did hand out candy canes to all those in attendance. The movie was one of several activities planned for the holidays.

Who will make the Pfefferneuse?

It's December and the annual craziness is in full swing. At the beauty shop the other day, two mothers were bemoaning all the work. It occurred to me that for some, it isn't fun at all, and that's sad.

The talks I've been doing this month are called Keeping Christmas, and I've been asking the listeners to recall the important memories of this special time.

One older fellow in the back row at NPPD called out "lutefisk!" And there was much laughter, which helps us handle the stressors of the season. And then everyone chimed in with the traditional foods of their culture. Of course, most of us were German, so there was talk of springerle and stollen and pfefferneuse, Peppernuts, in English.

I don't really care for the things. They're made with anise; they're small and hard, and are really only good when dunked in coffee. But, my kids like them, and both our mothers made them.

The Farmer's Wife
By: Pat Meierhenry

It suddenly dawned on me that I haven't ever made them. Eventually, who will? And the lefse, and the potato sausage, and the latkes? Somehow, we need to keep the tradition alive.

A few days later, I got in the mail from NPPD a very funny column from the Appleton, Wis. paper about a Viking dinner that featured lutefisk. It's cod, you know, soaked in lye. I think I'll stick with pfefferneuse!

Besides seasonal memories, I'm collecting stories. I read about a Sunday School teacher who was telling her class about Joseph and Mary making their way to Bethlehem. She asked the class, "Who can tell me why there was no room for Mary and Joseph at the inn?" Suzie raised her hand and answered, "I bet Joseph did what my daddy always does and forgot to make reservations."

Those are the kinds of stories that help us get through December. Here's hoping you are collecting some, too.

Grant presented for outdoor classroom

Northeast Community College in Norfolk recently received a $650 grant from the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District (NRD) in Norfolk to help fund an outdoor classroom.

Kim Radenz, Northeast horticulturist, said the funds will be used to buy signage for trees in the Northeast Arboretum west of the Lifelong Learning Center.

"We will be able to reapply for these funds every year and hope to continue with the signage project throughout the campus," Radenz said. "This signage not only helps our students learn, but also helps visitors to our Arboretum identify different plantings."

Julie Wragge, Lower Elkhorn NRD Information and Education Specialist, said the NRD is pleased to provide this grant to Northeast.

"This grant is a gift from the district to ensure that students will learn valuable lessons through the educational opportunities of the outdoor classroom now and in the future," she said. "It is our hope that these students will develop a deeper respect for nature and wildlife through their involvement in this project."

For more information about the Northeast Arboretum, call Radenz at (402) 844-7106.

Pork Seminars help producers deal with industry challenges

A University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension seminar series in 2003 will teach pork producers how to improve their competitive position in the pork industry.

Improving Your Ability to Compete will be presented across Nebraska in a series of five, one-day seminars in January, March, June, August and November. To gain maximum benefit from the program, attendance is strongly recommended at all five seminars.

"It used to be pork producers could keep a watchful eye on input costs, pig performance and cash hog prices to earn sufficient profits," said Al Prosch, NU Pork Central coordinator and seminar co-coordinator. "Today, the pork industry is faced with new challenges that will become the critical competitive advantage for producers."

Seminars will be at the Life Long Learning Center in Norfolk, the Nebraska East Union on UNL's East Campus, College Park in Grand Island, the 4-H Building in Chadron or the West Central Research and Extension Center at North Platte. The seminars are from 9 a.m.-3:30 p.m. central time.

Speakers will be at the Norfolk, Lincoln and Grand Island sites. At the other sites, presentations will be live via video conference.

Additional extension or Nebraska Pork Producer Association staff will be present. Speakers include industry specialists from: NU, Minnesota, Ohio, Missouri and Illinois.

Registration is $40 per session for the Norfolk, Lincoln and Grand Island sites or $20 per session at Chadron and North Platte. If participants preregister for all five seminars by Jan. 4, a discount rate of $150 is available. Registration includes lunch and handout materials.

For more information or to register, call Pork Central at 1-800-767-5287 or visit the Web site at <http://porkcentral.unl.edu/>.

The five seminar titles, dates, locations and topics are:

Getting the Production Basics Right - Jan. 7, Norfolk; Jan. 8, Lincoln, Grand Island, Chadron and North Platte. Pork producers will learn basic production-oriented factors that influence profitability and how to cover those factors in their operations. Topics include: the new competitive advantage in the pork industry, importance of getting the production basics right and mistakes that make in production aspects that afford to be made.

Hog Marketing Basics - March 4, Norfolk; March 5, Lincoln, Grand Island, Chadron and North Platte. This seminar will cover the changes in market for hogs and marketing tools for the future. Topics include: understanding markets, risk in today's world, the banker's view, role of packer contracts and price management in contracts.

Pork Quality Basics - June 24, Norfolk; June 25, Lincoln, Grand Island, Chadron and North Platte. Participants will learn what pork quality is and what they can do to impact quality before pork reaches the consumer.

Topics include: fresh pork quality, a pork quality system, hog and carcass valuation, fabrication and cut valuation and assuring pork safety.

Marketing Quality - Aug. 12, Norfolk; Aug. 13 Lincoln, Grand Island, Chadron and North Platte. Producers will look at the value created and how to capture more. New marketing ideas and tools will be necessary to effectively market quality in the future. Topics include: the packer and consumer views, selling regulatory and role of niche markets and exports.

Pulling It All Together -

Conservation agreement signed

Governor Mike Johanns and USDA Farm Service Agency Administrator Jim Little signed a 15-year Conservation Reserve Enhancement Program agreement in a public ceremony at the Nebraska State Capitol on Dec. 11.

The Nebraska Conservation Reserve Enhancement Program agreement, a first for the state, targets 100,000 acres in 37 central and eastern counties to address water quality and wildlife habitats. Over a 15-year period the federal government will provide $143 million and the state and private organizations will provide $66 million for conservation projects in the 37 counties.

Those involved in the signing ceremony, which took place in the Warner Legislative Chamber at the State Capitol, included Nebraska Governor Mike Johanns, USDA Farm Service Agency Administrator Jim Little, Nebraska USDA Farm Service Agency State Executive Director Brian Wolford, USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service State Conservationist Steve Chick, Nebraska Game and Parks Commission Asst. Director Wildlife and Fisheries Kirk Nelson and Nebraska Department of Environmental Quality Director Mike Linder.

Iron: Why Boys May "Outsmart" Girls
According to a recent report in the medical journal Pediatrics, iron deficiency may be responsible for girls not keeping up with boys in solving math problems by the time they reach high school. Iron is required for red blood cell production. Having too few red cells is termed Anemia.

Researchers at the University of Rochester School of Medicine and Dentistry studied more than 5 thousand children aged 6 to 16 years. They found that iron deficient children were twice as likely to have below average standardized math test scores as compared to children who had adequate amounts of iron in their blood.

In this study 3% of children overall were found to be iron deficient. However, 9% of teenage girls were iron deficient. Test scores were lower even if iron deficiency was not so serious as to cause anemia.

Ten members of the American Legion Roy Reed Post #252 of Winside met Dec. 3 with Commander Bob Koll presiding.

There was no secretary's report but the treasurer's report was read and approved.

Brian Petzoldt has volunteered to be the 2003 Memorial Day speaker.

The Legion must inform the public that they will no longer be able to loan wheel chairs or walkers to individuals do to the extreme cost of insurance coverage.

Other items discussed included Chris Hansen and his Eagle Scout promotion, a donation to the Norfolk Veterans Home Van fund and the Winside Library Fund.

The Legion will host an omelet, sausage and pancake feed on Sunday, Dec. 15 from 9 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. for the general public.

The next regular meeting will be Tuesday, Jan. 7 at 8 p.m.

CHURCH WOMEN

Helen Holtgrew presided at the Nov. 19 United Methodist Women meeting with four members present.

The secretary and treasurer's reports were given.

A bake sale will be held Saturday, Dec. 14 at Porky's in Winside from 8 a.m. to noon. They will have free coffee.

The children Christmas

Members and crafters from St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Winside gathered to create 22 miniature button Christmas trees to be delivered to shut-ins.

Program will be Sunday, Dec. 15 at the 11:15 a.m. worship service. There will be a candlelight service on Christmas Eve, Dec. 24 at 5 p.m. Connie Hawkins became a new member of the group. The program was a World Thank Offering titled, "Healing the Whole Person" given by Helen Holtgrew.

The next meeting will be a noon carry-in Christmas dinner on Tuesday, Dec. 17.

CENTER CIRCLE CLUB

Eleven members of the Center Circle Club met Dec. 6 at JD Brothers in Norfolk for a noon Christmas dinner and party.

Po-Keno was played for fun with everyone winning a prize.

Nominations being sought for athletic hall of fame

Nominations are now being accepted at Northeast Community College in Norfolk, for the 2002-2003 inductees into the Athletic Hall of Fame.

The athletic achievements of male and female athletes, coaches, and/or teams will be recognized in those chosen. The induction will be announced at the annual Spring Athletic Banquet in May.

Criteria for selection will be based primarily upon athletic achievements while a student or coach at Northeast. Accomplishments after leaving Northeast will also be considered. The nominee must not have been an active NECC athlete or coach for at least five years. Team qualifications include record, national ranking, and post-season tournament success. An active NECC coach is not eligible.

Nominations for the NECC Athletic Hall of Fame must be submitted in writing by Feb. 1, 2003, to NECC faculty members or coaches, including Jerry Holmberg, Paulette Theisen, Matt Svehta, Dan Anderson, or Marlin Sekutera. Nominations may also be submitted to NECC Booster Club President Jeff Means or Deb Potts. A selection committee will determine how many inductees will be recognized each year.

Each inductee will receive a nameplate placed upon a plaque that will be displayed in an area designated by the Athletic Director. He or she will also receive a personal certificate at an appropriate awards ceremony and the names will be printed in the program for the Spring Commencement Ceremonies.

For more information, contact Jerry Holmberg or Deb Potts at (402)844-7272.
