City electric rates are going up

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Electric customers in Wayne will be paying more for the electricity they use in the future.

Following discussion at Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne City Council, a six percent rate increase for all electric rate classes was approved.

Prior to the start of Tuesday's meeting, the council met as a committee-of-the-whole and listened to a report from Mike Towne of Western Consulting Group in regard to the city's recent electric rate study.

As discussed at the council's last meeting, there has been a negative net cash flow into the electric fund in the last year. Money in this fund is necessary should an ice storm, tornado or some other type of natural disaster damage the city's electrical lines and other pieces of equipment, which could be worth up to $9 million.

The new rates will go into effect with the March billing.

Also approved during the meeting was the city's one and six year street improvement program.

Included in the program is the paving of Grainland Road from Maple Street to Pheasant Run at a cost of approximately $350,000. This project will be funded in part by a Surface Transportation Program funds from the Nebraska Department of Roads and the remaining 20 percent will be assessed to abutting property owners.

In addition, East 21st Street (Country Club Road) from Highway 15 to Claycomb Road will be paved and Claycomb Road will be extended to East 21st Street. The project is estimated to cost $805,000 and will be paid for in part with Surface Transportation Paving (STP) funds.

The STP funds are those from the federal gas tax which allocated to each city based on the number of streets in each city. Wayne receives $40,000 each year, which can accumulate until needed for a project. At the present time, the city has $480,000 available to be used for cost share on the project.

Joel Hansen, Interim Street Superintendent, fielded questions from the council on the Nebraska Department of Road's plans for Main Street through downtown Wayne and the Highway 15 project from 13th Street to 1.04 miles north of Wayne.

The council accepted the membership application of Phillip Monahan to the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department. Robert Woehler, Fire Chief, said this brings the number of members on the department to 40, which has been the maximum in recent years. Woehler said that with added equipment and added space in the new fire hall, that number may be increased in the future.

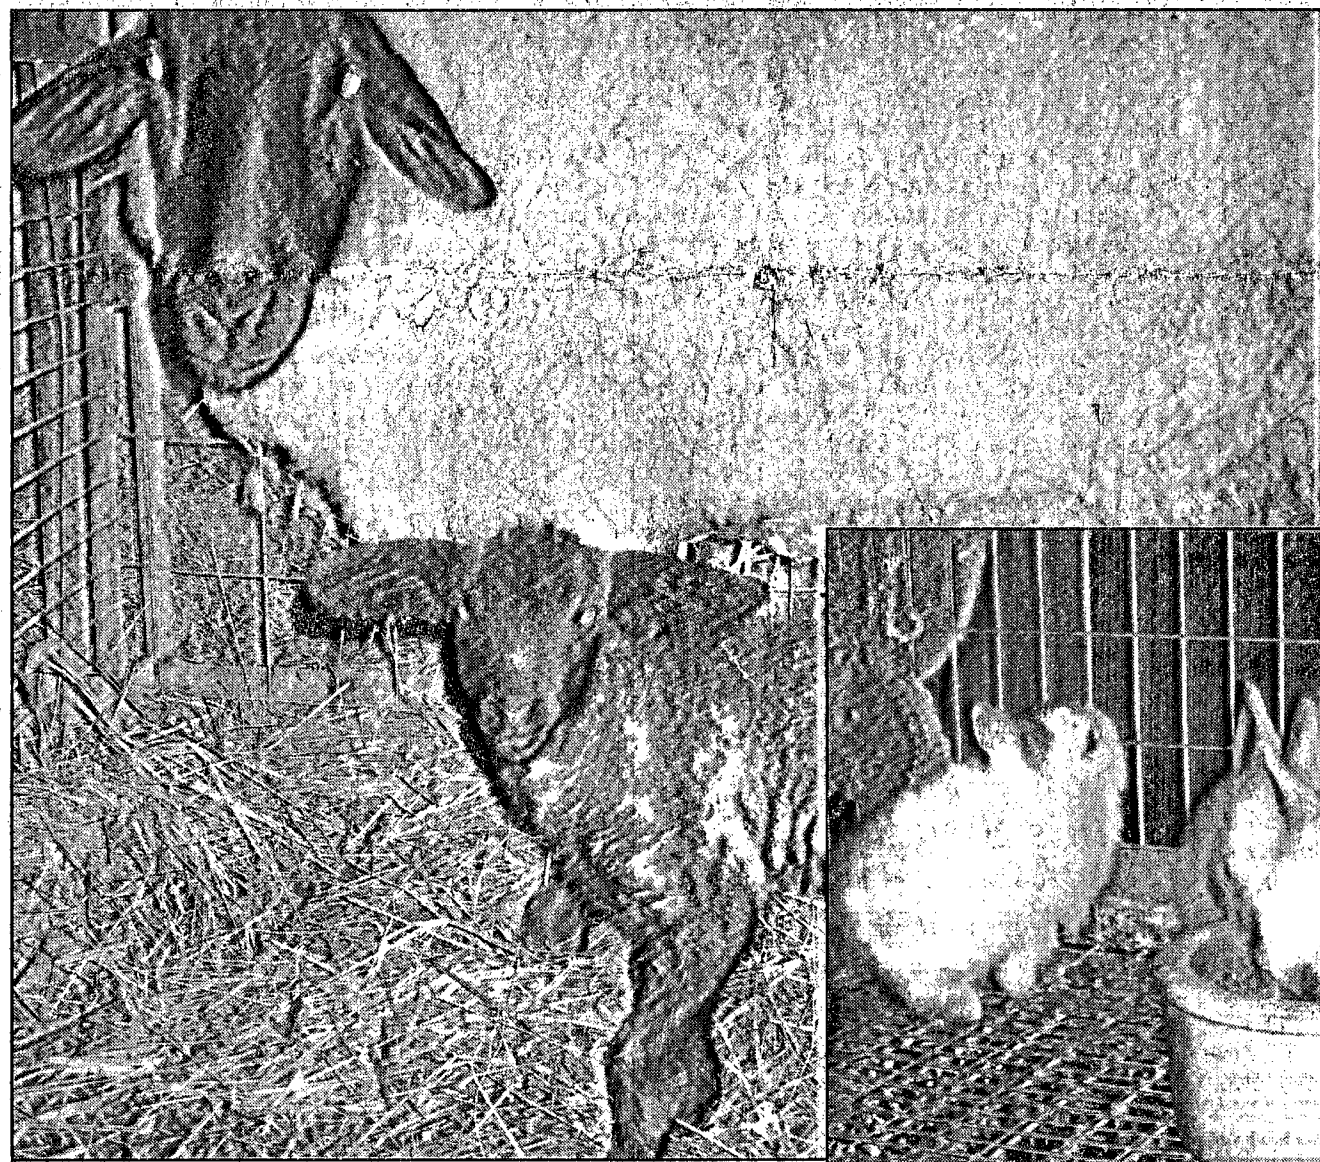

Considerable debate was held on the issue of amending the city code in regard to semi truck parking in residential areas of the city. Two proposed versions of the ordinance were presented to the council.

After discussion, it was decided to make a number of changes in the ordinance language and bring it back to the council at a future meeting.

Also discussed was an ordinance which would amend the city code in regard to the amount of time boats, campers and trailers could be parked on city streets.

Councilman Will Wiseman said the goal was to prohibit long-term parking of these vehicles on the city's streets. He told the council he felt 72 hours was a reasonable amount of time to make allowances for those who park these vehicles on the streets during the week-

Think spring!

Although the weather in northeast Nebraska has been less than ideal in recent weeks, these babies seem to indicate that spring is just around the corner. The baby lamb was born during one of last week's snow storms while the baby bunnies have made it through several cold spells and are now ready to eat and drink on their own. The official first day of spring is only five weeks away.

Jacob Lunz featured in commercial

At the present time, the Nebraska Soybean Board is airing a soy biodiesel TV commercial with a Grandpa explaining the benefits of using soy biodiesel to a young actor.

The young actor is played by Jacob Lunz, the son of Jim and Lisa Lunz of Wakefield.

Jacob attends school at Wakefield Community School and is in the second grade.

His mother, Lisa, serves on the Nebraska Soybean Board as the District 2 Director and the Lunz farm near Wakefield uses soy biodiesel.

"Jacob seems to have a talent for show biz as the actual commercial took two hours of filming in December," said NSB Communications / Marketing Coordinator Dan Benes.

Phil Heckman was the actor who played the "Grandpa."

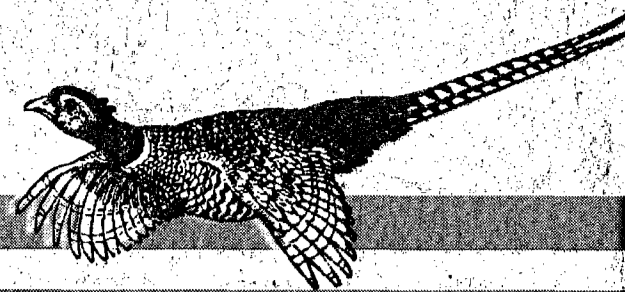

The filming of the commercial took place at H&H Consultants in Lincoln. This commercial, along with another commercial are campaign efforts to inform the public about the benefits of using soy biodiesel. These two new soy biodiesel commercials were released over the holidays.

They are being shown on the following local television channels - KOLN/KGIN - 10/11 (Lincoln); KLKN - 8 (Lincoln); NTV (Kearney); KTIV 4 (Sioux City, Iowa); KME 6 (Sioux City) and KCAU 9 (Sioux City).

They can also be heard on the following radio stations - KRVN (Lexington); KTIQ (West Point); KNEB (Scottsbluff) and KKSL (Bellevue).

Police seeking hit and run vehicle

On Friday night, Jan. 31, a hit and run traffic accident occurred on JG Lewis Drive in front of File Hall on Wayne State campus.

The suspect car is described as a late, 1990's, dark colored sedan. This vehicle will have damage to the front driver side corner.

Anyone with information regarding the incident, is asked to contact the Wayne Police Department at 375-2626.

Plains Writers Series features Spencer

The Plains Writers Series will feature Brent Spencer, a novelist and short-story writer on Thursday, Feb. 20 at 2 p.m. in the student lounge, humanities building on the Wayne State College campus.

There is no admission charge. The public is welcome to attend. Spencer is the author of The Lost Son (Arcade Publishing) and teaches creative writing at Creighton University in Omaha, where he is co-director of the graduate program in English. Among his awards are the Wallace Stegner Fellowship from Stanford, where he was also a Jones Lecturer in Creative Writing, and the James Michener Award at the Iowa Writers' Workshop, where he earned an MFA.

He has also been awarded fellowships from Yaddo, The MacDowell Colony, and The Millay Colony. His fiction and poetry have appeared in The Atlantic Monthly, The American Literary Review, Epoch,

The Missouri Review, GQ, and elsewhere. His most recent book, a collection of stories chosen as one of the best books of 1996 by The Village Voice, is Are We Not Men? (Arcade Publishing, 1996) The Plains Writers Series is dedicated to introducing students and others to contemporary literature of the highest caliber through the voices and presence of the writers themselves, and to supporting writers by enlarging their readership.

Wayne State College initiated the Plains Writers Series in 1977, with a reading by poet Don Jones. The Series has hosted readings by dozens of poets, essayists, novelists and writers of short fiction on the Wayne State campus and, in cooperation with other colleges and universities throughout the state, often with the financial support of the National Endowment for the Arts.

Main Street Focus

By Leo Ahmann

On Tuesday of this week, we held our Annual Meeting. Included in the meeting was manager's report that listed some personal goals for the upcoming year. There were written reports from each of the committees, Organization, Design, Promotions and Economic Restructuring, along with a summation of work during the past fiscal year and goals for 2003.

Our treasurer gave a brief report and will have a full report at the end of March (the end of our fiscal year).

Also included in the Annual Meeting was the announcement of the new board members. Members elected by our "Friends of Main Street," those making monetary or in-kind donations to our program, were Mark Ortmeier (Magic Wok), Sandra Gathje (Tacos & More) and Chuck Parker (Wayne State College). These people will be serving three year terms on our board.

Congratulations to them and a very large thank you to the others who were on our ballot. We search for people who are willing to commit their time and efforts to our program and believe in the Main Street approach.

Anne Nolte, Amy Schweers and Lois Shelton have completed their respective terms on the board. Their contribution to the program has been invaluable and we hope they will continue their dedicated service to Main Street Wayne. Anne and Lois have been with the program even before it became official in April of 1999. They have served as co-secretaries. Amy completed the term of then board member Jack Middendorf. She served as head and then co-chair of the Organization Committee and spearheaded our fund drive.

The commitment of all three to the Main Street Program has been instrumental in our continued success. A "thank you" for your contributions to Main Street Wayne hardly seems adequate.

Tuesday night I had the opportunity to speak at the Yankton Historic Riverfront District Annual meeting regarding the Main Street Approach. (South Dakota does not have a state Main Street Program). Wednesday I attended the Team Management Meeting in Lincoln with the six partnering state agencies that work with the state Nebraska Lied Main Street Program. As I've mentioned before, it's a great opportunity to work closely with those agencies and tap their expertise for our program.

Winter Clearance Days are set for Feb. 20-21-22 here in Wayne, and you don't need to be a downtown merchant to participate. If you received a letter in response to a request for a coupon for shuttle bus riders, we will be in touch. Questions or comments... call 375-5062 or stop in. Until next time...

Taxpayers need sense of humor

By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

A taxpayer needs a sense of humor. That business about laughing to keep from crying has some merit.

On the other hand, as the economists say, too much is enough. My most recent "too much" point came rolling around when it was time to register the ol' pickup.

There is a certain amount of pride invested in that vehicle. It was the first brand new truck that I'd ever purchased. And it looks real nice, too!

You know the drill. Stand in line for a substantial part of what remains of a middle-aged life. Give the nice lady the paperwork. Write a check for a ridiculous sum of money. Get your license plates. And then I saw it. "OAF."

The license plates for which I had just paid Lancaster County a bundle of money proclaimed me an "OAF."

What genius programmed the computer that let this happen? It's not enough that the color combinations on the current plates would insult even the color blind. Now, the state is collecting my money and calling me names at the same time!

By the way, if something like this happens to you, it can be remedied. You can get replacement plates. For an additional fee, of course.

Sometimes the dog really does eat the homework. Imagine the chagrin felt by officials in Lancaster County. They had to announce that they had, uh, lost $150,000. Not "lost," as in a bad investment. "Lost," as in, "Hey! Did anyone see where that $150,000 went? Darn. I hate it when that happens." It's called a discrepancy. That means the money is more likely to have been the victim of bookkeeping problems than of thieves.

The record-keeping system for the Clerk of the District Court in Lincoln has been a problem for years. One former official estimates this particular discrepancy dates back to 1996. The current clerk says it is only four years old. The good news is that officials believe the discrepancy can be cleared up in a short time. They've taken steps to see that the mystery is solved.

They've hired a "temp" to find the money.

The looming war in Iraq and the situation in North Korea are, understandably, at the top of the list of things that President Bush has to handle.

Still, it would have been nice if the president could have found room for a sentence or two about agriculture and drought and such in his State of the Union.

After all, what's the first thing the United States does when it finishes a war or makes a treaty with some saber-rattling dictator? It feeds his country's usually starving population.

Purchases on the internet may be taxed

The Nebraska State Fair and the collection of sales tax on out-of-state purchases were recent issues debated in the Legislature. On Feb. 10, we voted 35-0 to give first-round approval to LB 282, which would make Nebraska part of the national Streamlined Sales and Use Tax Agreement. The adoption of the agreement is a necessary step toward collecting sales tax on catalog and Internet purchases by Nebraskans.

A task force of states is working on the development of computer software that would make it easier for multi-state merchants to collect sales tax for different states. The earliest Nebraska could begin collecting sales tax under the agreement would be July 2004.

The U.S. Supreme Court has ruled that states cannot force out-of-state merchants to collect sales tax because of the burden it would impose.

Officials say that many multi-state companies plan to voluntarily comply with sales tax collection once the agreement takes effect and the collection process is streamlined. Eventually, the U.S. Supreme Court or Congress could mandate compliance.

It is estimated that Nebraska lost $42 million in sales tax last year on Internet purchases.

I support LB 282 because the state needs to take steps to collect sales tax on out-of-state purchases by Nebraskans. The state cannot afford to be losing this tax revenue. It also would even the playing field between Nebraska and out-of-state merchants.

This multi-state effort to collect remote sales tax is still in its preliminary stages. It will take a lot of cooperation between the states to make the system work. On the issue of the Nebraska State Fair, we voted 32-8 on Feb. 4 to give first-round approval to LB 72, which would give a financial $75,000 to set up the checkoff program.

The fair has seen both revenue and attendance slide in recent years. Last year, the Legislature overhauled the governance of the fair as a corrective step.

Supporters of LB 72 say the checkoff program would give needed support to the fair during a time when new management and a new board are trying to get it back on track.

Opponents of the bill questioned why the fair should get special treatment on the income tax forms. Some senators objected to giving an entertainment event a special way to raise money when the Legislature is faced with making deep spending cuts for vital state services.

The Appropriations Committee, on which I sit, is still doing preliminary work on crafting a budget proposal for the next biennium. The budget remains the most important issue we will face this session.

If there is anything I can do for you, please do not hesitate to contact me at my Lincoln office: Sen. Pat Engel, District 17, State Capitol, P.O. Box 94604, Lincoln, Neb. 68509; or by email at: lengel@unicam.state.ne.us; or phone at (402) 471-2716.

Use care

Dear Editor,

I have recently found myself bombarded by a plethora of so called police and sheriff associations wanting contributions to better equipment and provide death benefits to officers killed in the line of duty etc... at which time I was assured that any and all monies donated would remain in my district and benefit officers in this area.

Further investigation determined that not one penny of any donation provided to these organizations has been received by police departments in this area. Upon further questioning as these calls continued to come in, I was given several excuses such as "your departments are required to become a member of this organization" etc. etc. etc. upon request of contact information in regards to membership, no information would be released to me, as contact "must be prompted by the actual police department."

Attempts to collect phone numbers and address information for our departments to access membership were denied.

We all desire to provide our law enforcement officers with the safest and most up to date equipment available. Unfortunately these "Organizations" deceitfully lead us to believe that they are providing this service. In the future if you wish to make contributions to law enforcement in our area, I recommend that you donate directly to that department, and notify all telemarketers that you do just that.

Sincerely,
Brenda Surber, Concord

Talk to senators

Dear Editor,

There was recently a bill proposed to our Unicameral last session and was "killed" when the session ended. This bill, known as LB 1283, was first introduced by John Synowiecki of District 7 from Omaha. It would protect abandoned infants.

Many states including Iowa, Kansas and Colorado have implemented a bill similar to LB 1283. Those are just three of the 18 states that have this bill.

By putting this bill into action, mothers would be able to leave their newborn infants at any health care operation that bears the sign "Safe Haven." There would be no questions asked and the infant would become a ward of the state and be put up for adoption.

By implementing this Safe Haven bill, dumpster babies and other abandoned infants would be eliminated.

I encourage you to contact your senator and make your voice heard. You can write your senator at: Senator, District #, State Capitol, P.O. Box 94604, Lincoln, Neb. 68409-4604.

Please contact your public servants and exercise your right to influence the world around you.

Thank you,
Stephanie Jensen, Wayne

Concerned

Dear Editor,

I have lived in Wayne for the past three years.

Although I have a great appreciation for the Wayne Police Department and Dixon Sheriff, I have a few concerns.

Recently, I was driving back to Wayne from Sioux City. Right before I got to Hubbard, a pick-up truck in front of me was driving on the wrong side of the road. I flashed my brights and honked my horn at the truck while he continued to drive on the wrong side of the road. Finally, after about two minutes and an oncoming car, he swerved over into his own lane.

While in his own lane, he was straddling the center line and driving on the shoulder. It was at this time that I called the non-emergency line, fearing that he was drunk and going to hurt someone. I reported what I had just seen and gave the dispatcher the truck's license plate. The dispatcher on the phone said an officer would be sent out shortly. I assumed that the officer would arrive in about five to 10 minutes and pull the truck over. Meanwhile, 30 minutes had passed and the truck continued to swerve all over the road. It was at this time that I called again. Once again, the dispatcher said an officer would be there shortly.

In a few minutes an officer was following the truck through the town of Wakefield. I continued following the truck and was amazed to see that the truck did not get pulled over. The truck then parked in front of a bar and the sheriff drove away. I was very surprised. Apparently my call meant nothing. I just thought about what would have happened if the driver of that truck had hit and killed someone. It blows my mind that the officer did not pull the truck over.

In Wayne, for instance, many college students get pulled over. Not for driving on the wrong side of the road or swerving, but for having their fog lights on or for having an air freshener hanging from their rear view mirror.

My concern here is not directed toward fairness, but toward driver safety.

I would like to know that the same discretion used toward persons in Wayne was used in all parts of the state, including highways.

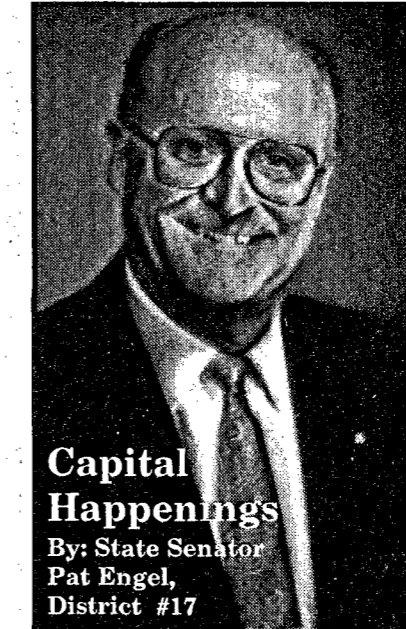

A Concerned Citizen,
Allison Ingenthron,
Wayne

boost to the struggling fair. The bill would allow state income taxpayers, by checking a box on their tax returns, to donate $1 or more of their tax refunds to the fair.

Wayne boys win Mid States Tournament title

by Mike Grosz
Of the Herald

You can call it "Survival of the Fittest." I'm talking about playing in the Mid-States Conference Boys Basketball Tournament.

After fending off Boone Central in Friday's semi-finals 48-43, the Wayne Blue Devils knocked off Pierce in Saturday's championship game 43-42 to win one of the toughest conference basketball tournaments in the area.

"This team accomplished a major feat," said veteran boys coach Rocky Ruhl. "To win three games against the level of competition you face feels pretty good."

Wayne's semi-final game got off to a slow start, with Boone Central taking a 6-0 lead in the first 1:15 of the game. Following a timeout, the Blue Devils came out and found some offensive rhythm, but still trailed 13-8 after one quarter and 21-19 at halftime.

The second half saw the Blue

Devils do a better job of rebounding and according to coach Ruhl "becoming more involved in the game." The Blue Devils would use a 9-0 run late in the third quarter into the fourth quarter to take the lead and then hit free throws down the stretch to preserve the win.

Ryan Schmeits had 12 points to lead Wayne in scoring. Jon Ehrhardt also hit double figures with 11. Travis Luhr scored eight, Andy Martin added seven off the bench. Bryan Fink accounted for four points with Ric Volk and Brady Heithold scoring three apiece.

"The guys buckled down and valued each possession," said Ruhl. "Andy Martin and Ryan Schmeits each stepped up and had big games for us."

Wayne ended the game 16 of 42 from the field (38%) and 12 of 18 from the free throw line (66%).

Boone Central held a slim 26-25 rebounding advantage over Wayne. Martin and Schmeits each had six caroms to lead the Blue Devils.

In Saturday's championship game, Wayne jumped out to a quick lead, then overcame poor free throw shooting and a late Pierce rally to hold on for a 43-42 victory.

The Blue Devils held a 15-7 lead after one quarter. Both teams scored eight points in the second quarter and six in the third, allowing Wayne to take a 29-21 lead entering the fourth quarter.

Wayne could have put the game away in the fourth quarter, but hit just 3 of 10 free throws. Pierce had a chance to tie the game with 2.5 seconds left, but a missed free throw and desperation shot allowed Wayne to hang on.

"We played a great defensive game," Ruhl said. "The guys never gave up and kept the pressure on."

Jon Ehrhardt had 10 points to lead a balanced Blue Devil scoring attack. Ryan Schmeits followed with seven, Andy Martin and Ric Volk had six each, Caleb Garvin, Travis Luhr and Bryan Fink poured in four apiece with Brady Heithold adding two.

Wayne shot 45 percent for the game, hitting 19 of 42 shots while Pierce hit just 25 percent on 11 of 44. Pierce did have the edge at the foul line, canning 17 of 25 attempts to just 3 of 11 for Wayne.

The Blue Devils held a commanding 36-17 advantage on the boards, thanks to 10 caroms from Luhr and seven by Ehrhardt.

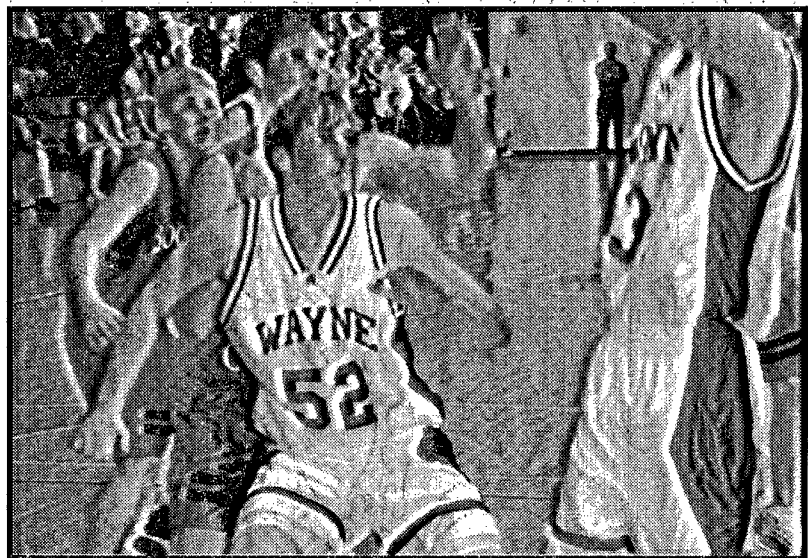

Ruhl said that winning the Mid-States Conference Tournament was one of the team's many goals.

"Winning the holiday tournament was one of the goals and winning this one reached another."

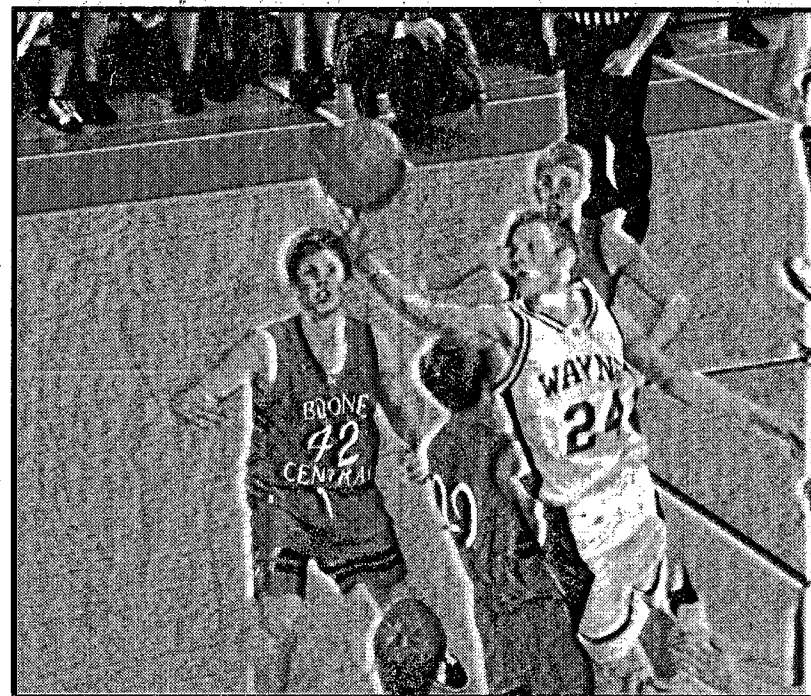

Wayne, now 17-1 on the season, travels to Madison Friday evening and will host West Point Central Catholic Saturday night, both Mid-States Conference games.

Andy Martin shoots over a Boone Central defender for two of his seven points in Wayne's 48-43 win over the Cardinals.

Wayne senior forward Brady Heithold (52) boxes out a Boone Central defender during Friday's Mid-States Conference Tournament semi-final game in Norfolk.

Wayne's Ryan Schmeits drives the lane to score against Boone Central. The senior guard scored a team-high 12 points in the Blue Devils' Mid-States semi-final win.

Wayne wrestlers place fifth at Mid-States Tournament

The Wayne High wrestling team wrapped up the regular season last Saturday with a fifth-place finish at the Mid States Conference Tournament in Norfolk.

Madison won the meet with 214 points. Boone Central was second at 184, Norfolk Catholic third with 166 and West Point Central Catholic fourth at 78.

Wayne followed with 67 points, Pierce had 63 and Battle Creek ended with 18.

The Blue Devils had five medal winners, led by a pair of second place finishes from Matt Nelson and Josh Hartwell.

Nelson lost a 4-2 overtime decision to Madison's Shane Unger in a matchup of the Class B and C top-ranked wrestlers at 135 pounds. It was the third meeting this season between the two with Unger winning for a second time. Hartwell made the finals at 145 pounds, but lost an 8-6 battle with Brandon Nathan of Madison.

Other Wayne wrestlers winning conference medals were Dana Schuett, third at 171 pounds, Justin Modrell, fourth at 125, and Jacob Kay placed fourth at 130.

Wayne had other wrestlers compete Saturday at the Creighton JV Invitational. Dusty Lutt placed second at 125 pounds. David Loberg wrestled at 145, but did not place.

The Blue Devil wrestling team will compete Friday and Saturday at the Class B District 2 Tournament in West Point.

Wayne hosts district Knights of Columbus free throw contest

The Knights of Columbus District free throw contest was held at the Wayne High School gym Sunday, Feb. 9.

The nine-year-old girls winner was Mary Schreurs of Wayne, Lauryn Braun of Wayne placed first in the 10-year-old division, the 11-year-old winner was Karlene Christiansen of Pender, Anna Brownell of Wakefield was the 12-year-old winner, the 13-year-old champion was Sara Frerichs of Wayne and the 14-year-old winner was Wayne's Leslie Backstrom.

In the boys division, the nine-year-old winner was Zachary Rasmussen of Wayne, Jordan Barry of Wayne was the 10-year-old champion, the 11-year-old winner was Zac Braun of Wayne, 12-year-olds were Connor Heise of Pender, Brent Smith of Ponca won the 13-year-old category and the winner for 14-year-olds was Zachary Kramper of Ponca.

The 12 winners from Sunday's district competition will advance to the Regionals on Sunday, Feb. 16 at Saint Mary's School in O'Neill.

Wayne girls fall in home finale

Wayne was defeated by Hartington Cedar Catholic in the final home game for Lady Blue Devils Tuesday evening 51-39.

The visitors took a 14-10 after one quarter and led 26-19 at halftime. Wayne cut the lead down to five, 30-25 early in the third quarter. But Hartington Cedar Catholic would score the next 11 points to take a 41-25 lead and never look back.

"They got hot in the third quarter and we couldn't come back," said head coach Matt Schaub.

Kari Hochstein had 11 points to lead Wayne in scoring. Any Harder added 10, Molly Hill had eight, Erin Jarvi scored six and Jenny Raveling two.

The Wayne JV team lost to Hartington Cedar Catholic 40-38. Mary Boehle and Sarah Jensen led Wayne with nine points each.

Stacie Hoeman scored five, Carrie Walton had four, Ashley Carroll, Micaela Weber and Natalie Fendrick scored two points each and Jessica Thomsen finished with one.

"We played hard for not having a game in nearly two weeks," said JV coach Chris Looft. "Making only six of 20 free throws in the game really hurt us."

The Wayne JV team, now 8-6 on the season, will play its final game at Madison Friday at 4 pm.

Last Thursday, Wayne dropped a 47-29 contest to Battle Creek in the consolation bracket of the Mid States Conference Tournament in Norfolk.

The Blue Devils struggled from the field, making just six shots in the game. Wayne canned 15 of 26 shots from the free throw line to stay close until the fourth quarter.

Battle Creek held a 9-3 lead after one quarter and led 20-14 at halftime. Wayne would cut the lead down to three, 20-17 early in the third quarter, but would get no closer, trailing 30-20 after three quarters and 47-29 at the end of the game.

"We played an uninspired game," said Schaub. "Poor shooting and a number of turnovers led to the defeat."

Amy Harder's 11 points led Wayne in scoring. Kari Hochstein followed with six, Jenny Raveling five, Micaela Weber and Mary Boehle added two each with Erin Jarvi, Ashley Carroll and Molly Hill each finishing with one.

Wayne, now 8-11, travels to Madison for the regular season finale Friday evening, then begins sub-district play at Norfolk High School Monday evening.

Wayne girls will meet Creighton in sub districts

Wayne is the #4 seed entering Monday's Class C-1 7 Sub-District Girls Basketball Tournament at Norfolk High School.

The Blue Devils (8-11) will meet #5 seed Creighton (6-12) at 6 pm followed by #3 seed Norfolk Catholic (9-8) against #6 seed Plainview (5-13) at 8pm.

A win by Wayne would pit them against #1 seed Pierce (15-4) Tuesday at 6pm. Battle Creek (13-7) is the #2 seed and will play the winner of the Norfolk Catholic/Plainview game Tuesday at 8pm.

Tuesday's winners will meet in the finals Thursday at 7:30 pm.

Wayne State men beat Morris, lose close game to Northern

by Mike Grosz
Of the Herald

The Wayne State mens basketball team earned a split at home in Northern Sun Conference play last weekend.

The Wildcats edged Minnesota-Morris Friday evening 84-81, then lost a close game to league-leading Northern State Saturday night 76-73.

Wayne State trailed for much of the first half against Minnesota-Morris before taking a 38-35 half-time lead.

The Wildcats came out firing in the second half and built a 17-point lead, 72-55 with 7:22 left. But Minnesota-Morris cut the lead down to just one point, 80-79 with :28 seconds left. The Wildcats would get two clutch free throws each from Derek Archer and Dusty Smith to seal the win.

WSC Head Coach Rico Burkett said he was disappointed with his team's play.

"It seemed like we were sleep walking," Burkett said. "We let our guard down and we were fortunate to win the game."

Junior forward Todd Klosterman had 18 points to lead the scoring attack. Justin Sanny added 17 and Derek Archer came off the bench to score 12.

Minnesota-Morris hit a respective 53 percent from the field on 30 of 56 shots. The Wildcats were 32 of 68 for 47 percent.

Wayne State outrebounded the Cougars 38-29. Brett Cain hauled in a game-high 10 boards for the Wildcats with Tim Gesell adding six.

Saturday, the Wildcats battled with league-leading Northern State, but lost a 76-73 decision to the Wolves.

Poor free throw shooting would hurt Wayne State. The Wildcats hit just 16 of 27 attempts (59 percent).

The Wildcats trailed by 10 points on two occasions in the first half, but battled back to tie the game at 29-29 at halftime.

Northern State came out strong in the second half and built an 11-point lead, 52-41 with 12:33 left. Wayne State countered with a 14-2 run to take a 55-54 lead with 6:40 left in the game. The Wildcats held a 68-65 lead with 1:37 left, but several missed free throws and two turnovers hurt the Wildcats late, allowing the Wolves to rally for the win.

"It was a hard fought game like we expected," said Burkett. "They made plays down the stretch and we didn't."

Senior forward Levi Cahill scored a career-high 25 points off the bench to propel Wayne State in scoring. Derek Archer and Brett Cain accounted for 12 points each.

"Levi Cahill had an outstanding game and I thought Brett Cain and Derek Archer gave us opportunities to stay in the game with their solid play," Burkett added.

Wayne State outshot the Wolves in the game. The Wildcats were 48 percent on 25 of 52 while Northern State hit just 40 percent on 26 of 64.

The Wolves had just seven turnovers in the game while the Wildcats had 16.

Wayne State held a 42-35 advantage in rebounding. Tim Gesell had 10 caroms for the Wildcats with Todd Klosterman adding seven.

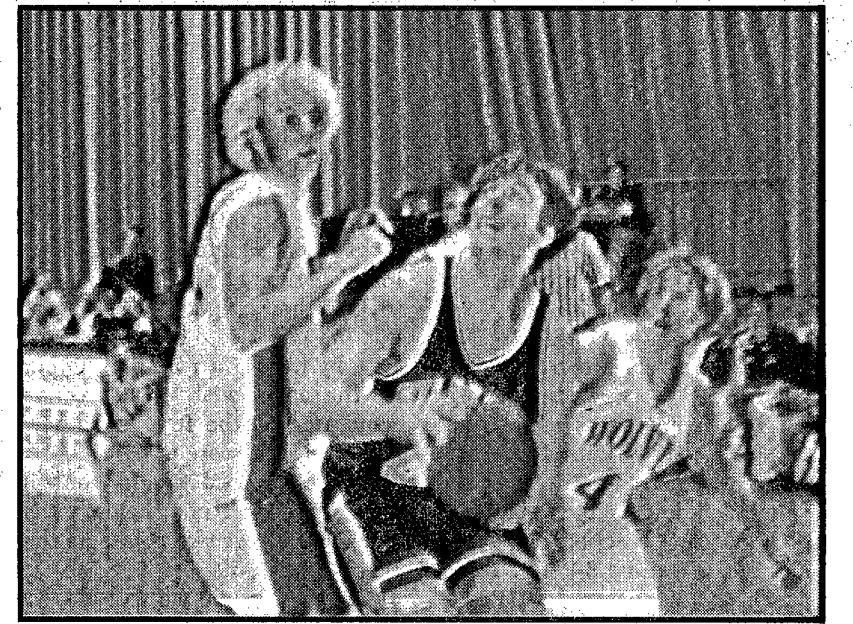

Wayne State owns a 9-13 record overall and 7-6 in the NSIC. The Wildcats are tied with Bemidji State for fifth place in the conference standings. They are two games back of Minnesota-Duluth and Southwest State, who are 9-4, for third place in the conference race. The top four teams will host first round NSIC Tournament games.

The Wildcats play their final road trip in conference play this weekend, visiting Concordia-St.

Paul (3-18, 3-9 NSIC) on Friday evening and Winona State (10-11, 9-3) on Saturday.

Wayne State women earn home NSIC sweep-play at first-place Conc-St. Paul Friday night

by Mike Grosz
Of the Herald

After struggling on the road for the past three weeks, the Wayne State women's basketball team returned to the friendly confines of Rice Auditorium last weekend and posted a pair of wins.

A 73-51 win over Minnesota-Morris Friday night and a 77-73 triumph against Northern State Saturday evening helped the Wildcats snap a five-game losing skid.

Karen Hochstein's 14 points and eight rebounds lifted the Wildcats to a 73-51 win over Minnesota-Morris Friday evening.

The Wildcats led 33-24 at halftime and outscored the Cougars in the second half 40-27 for the final margin of victory.

Coach Ryan Williams said, "We played fairly well, we got to play a lot of girls. They (Minn-Morris) made some tough shots to stay close for a while."

Tracy Williamson added 13 points and Dodie Martin finished with 10.

The Wildcats outrebounded Minnesota-Morris 47-31. The leading rebounder for Wayne State was Hochstein with eight. Martin followed with six.

Senior guard Lesley Menken handed out a game-high seven assists for the Cats.

"Saturday's game against Northern State was much closer."

The Wildcats trailed the entire first half, twice by eight points, but was down by just two points at halftime 34-32.

Wayne State came out strong in the second half and built an 11-point lead, 71-60 with 3:03 left. Northern would make things interesting down the stretch, cutting the lead to just one point, 74-73 with :17 seconds left. Karen Hochstein hit two free throws and Kari Belak added another late to seal the win.

Williams said Northern State played hard and shot the ball well.

"Our girls did a nice job of maintaining their poise and control down the stretch," said Williams. He also praised the inside play of Hochstein, Belak and Kristen Humphries in the second half as another key to the game.

Hochstein's 18 points led four double figure scorers for the Wildcats. Williamson and Kari Belak each added 14 with Humphries recording 11 points. Northern State hit 50 percent from the field on 28 of 55 while Wayne State made 26 of 57 shots for 45 percent.

The Wolves held a slim 33-32 rebounding edge. Dodie Martin pulled down 10 rebounds for the Cats with Hochstein adding five.

Wayne State improved to 14-8 overall and 8-5 in the NSIC with the two wins. The Wildcats are sitting in fifth place in the conference standings, one game back of Southwest State for fourth place.

The Wildcats hit the road this weekend for the final time in the regular season, visiting league-leading Concordia-St. Paul (17-4, 10-2) Friday evening, and Winona State (9-12, 4-8) on Saturday.

Wayne State track teams place well at Dordt meet

The Wayne State College indoor track and field teams competed last Saturday in the Dordt College Invitational at Sioux Center, Iowa.

The Wildcats were very competitive in the 11-team meet, picking up a total of four first-place finishes, five second-place medals and four more third-place finishes.

On the men's side, sophomore Brian Dixon won the 55 meter hurdles in 7.79 seconds, junior Eric Havranek took first in the 55 meter dash (6.61) and freshman Matt Schaffer won the 400 meter dash in a time of 50.63 seconds.

All three athletes also lead the NSIC in their respective events. Other top placings for the men included Havranek placing second in the long jump (22'3"), sophomore Zach Molacek was third in the 55 meter dash (6.71 seconds) and senior Jason Kneif finished third in the high jump (6'3").

The WSC women were led by freshman Katie Malander of Fullerton, who set a new school record by winning the pole vault with a mark of 9'8".

The Wildcats had a 1-2-3 finish in the event with sophomore Angie Kraus placing second (9'0") and freshman Melissa Green coming in third at 9'0". The women's team also had two different athletes equal that of the winner, but due to technicalities ended up with second-place finishes.

Sophomore Amber Johnson cleared 4'11 in the high jump, the same height as the winner. Because of more misses at earlier heights, Lindsey Buche of Northwestern College was declared the winner.

In the shot put, freshman Lindsey Stockwell had the same distance as the winner, but Sarah Greenup of Midland Lutheran had a better second mark and was named the winner of the event.

Sophomore Jodi Rhodig picked up a second place finish in the 400 meter dash (1:00.30) and was third in the 200 meter dash in a time of 27.04 seconds.

Head coach Marlon Brink said the team competed very well at the Dordt meet.

"I think our athletes felt good about their performances and gained some valuable confidence from this meet," said Brink.

Wayne State will be in action this Saturday, Feb. 15, hosting the Wildcat Open at the WSC Rec Center with field events starting at 9 am and running events set to begin at noon.

"We are excited about our final home meet of the season," Brink said. "We should have a good crowd there to support us."

Wayne State women's soccer team signs two

Wayne State College women's soccer coach Rollie Bulock has announced that two high school seniors have signed letters of intent to attend Wayne State College and play soccer.

Mary Liebenritt is a 5'6 forward/midfielder from Lincoln, NE and was a three-year starter at Pius High School. She was an all-state honorable mention selection last fall and was voted the team's most valuable player on offense.

Melissa Benson, a 5'7 forward from Maple Grove, Minn., was a four-year starter receiving all-conference and all-state honorable mention honors.

Lady Bears win third straight NENAC Tournament title

Laurel girls need overtime to top Neligh in NENAC Finals

The Laurel-Concord girls basketball team needed two overtimes to outlast Neligh-Oakdale last Thursday evening 64-59 in the championship game of the NENAC Tournament in Laurel.

It was the third straight tournament championship for the 17-1 Lady Bears. The two teams will meet again Friday evening to close out the regular season.

The game saw 11 ties and 13 lead changes between the two clubs and saw a new state record for three point shots made in a game with 17. Laurel-Concord sank nine three-pointers with Neligh-Oakdale canning eight.

The visiting Warriors set a fast pace early, leading 9-2 and 13-10 after one quarter. Laurel-Concord came back and took a 23-17 lead in the second quarter before settling for a 26-26 tie at halftime.

The game stayed close throughout the second half, with Neligh-Oakdale holding a 36-35 edge after three quarters. Laurel-Concord held a 48-45 lead late in the game, but Neligh-Oakdale freshman point guard Amy Gallagher hit a three-pointer with eight seconds left to send the game into overtime at 48-48.

Gallagher helped the Warriors put the game into a second overtime by hitting a running jumper in the lane with five seconds remaining in the first extra session to tie the score at 57-57.

Laurel-Concord would control the second overtime, holding the Warriors to just two points as the Bears won 64-59.

"This is a game we will always remember," said head coach Susie Koranda. "It was a great team effort, where we were able to stay focused and come away with the victory."

Emily Schroeder and Susan Pritchard each scored 20 points to pace Laurel-Concord in the win. Katie Peters followed with 11, Tiffany Erwin had nine and Tori Cunningham finished with four.

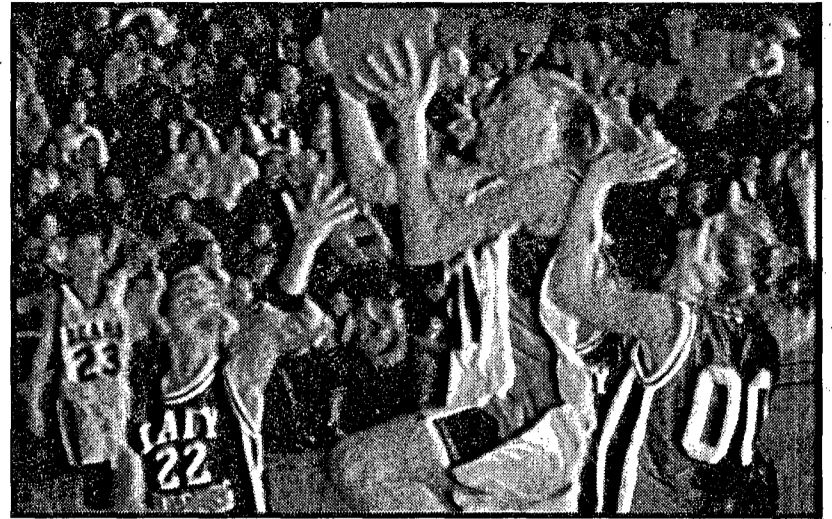

Laurel-Concord hit just 21 of 58 shots in the game (36%) compared to Neligh-Oakdale's 22 of 53 (41%). The Bears hit 13 of 17 free throws to 7 of 12 for the Warriors.

Neligh-Oakdale held a 38-30 rebounding edge. Schroeder pulled down 11 rebounds to lead Laurel-Concord.

Tuesday evening, the Laurel-Concord girls won at Coleridge 63-29. Stats on the game were not available at press time.

Laurel-Concord, now 18-1, will host Wisner-Pilger tonight (Thursday) and Neligh-Oakdale on Friday evening before beginning sub-district play next week.

Emily Schroeder of Laurel-Concord drives between two Neligh-Oakdale defenders in the NENAC Tournament championship game last Thursday.

Laurel-Concord junior guard Tiffany Erwin passes the ball inside against Neligh's Ashley Peterson during Thursday's NENAC girls championship game in Laurel.

Wayne State football team signs 11 players to letters of intent

Wayne State head football coach Scott Hoffman has announced the signings of 11 players to national letters of intent to attend Wayne State College and play football for the Wildcats.

Nine high school players and two college transfers makeup the 2003 recruiting class.

Head Coach Scott Hoffman said, "We are happy with the quality of our recruits, we have signed some kids that will continue to help us turn our program around. We got some good kids from Nebraska, Iowa and South Dakota."

He added, "We are looking to add some depth at both the offensive and defensive line and some of these kids will make an immediate impact into our program."

Last season, the Wildcats went 3-8 in Hoffman's third season as the head coach at Wayne State College and 3-6 in the Northern Sun Conference.

The Wildcats will look to add between 6-10 more signings during the signing period.

Following is a list of players who signed letters of intent with Wayne State last Wednesday:

Nebraska signees

Drew Easterling-5'10, 170 pound defensive back from Plattsmouth.

Justin Hans-6'1, 180 pound wide receiver from Wynot.

Rob Witte-6'2, 220 pound linebacker from Crawford.

Out of state signees

Jamison Chambers-5'10, 180 pound defensive back from Treynor, Iowa.

Ted Hall-6'1, 235 pound defensive lineman from West Monona High School in Onawa, Iowa.

College transfers

Justin Mohr-6'2, 280 pound offensive lineman from Iowa Western Community College in Fort Dodge, Iowa. He is a 2001 graduate of Coon Rapids High School in Iowa.

Vahn Schumacher-6'3, 235 pound linebacker from Iowa Central Community College. He played high school football at Vinton Washington High School in Iowa.

Allen boys lose to Emerson-Hubbard in Lewis and Clark Conference Tournament

The Allen Eagles were tripped up by Emerson-Hubbard 48-43 last Thursday evening in the Lewis and Clark Conference Basketball Tournament at Ponca.

The win by the Pirates avenged a 47-43 loss to the Eagles just six days earlier in Allen.

This game was similar to the first meeting with the two teams battling right to the end. This time, the Pirates would get the breaks in the final two minutes to post the win.

Allen jumped out to a 15-11 first quarter lead, but the Pirates rebounded in the second quarter and outscored the Eagles 16-10 to take a 27-25 halftime lead.

In the third period, the Eagles fell behind by five to trail 40-35. But Allen, battled back in the fourth quarter to forge a 43-43 tie with 5:25 left. That would be the last time the Eagles would score. Emerson-Hubbard hit some crucial free throws late to win 48-43.

"This game was just like the last game we played against them," said head coach David Uldrich. "But this time they made a couple of more plays than we did late in the game," Uldrich added.

Corey Uldrich led the Eagles with a game-high 25 points, including five for five from the three-point line. Brett Koester scored six, Bart Sachau five, Duane Rahn had four, Andrew Sachau two and Scott Blohm one.

Allen was 15 of 33 from the field and just five of 10 at the charity stripe. Emerson-Hubbard won the rebounding battle 18-15. Uldrich hauled in seven boards to lead the Eagles.

The loss dropped the Eagles to 11-4 on the season.

Allen will host Santee on Friday for Parent's Night and the Eagles will host the Norfolk sophomore and JV team at 6 pm Saturday.

Laurel-Concord boys fall in NENAC title game to Creighton Bulldogs

The Laurel-Concord boys basketball team came up short in their bid to repeat as NENAC Tournament champions last week.

The Bears lost in the title game last Friday evening in Randolph to the Creighton Bulldogs 58-53.

The game was close throughout, with Laurel-Concord leading 16-15 after the first quarter and 28-26 at halftime. Creighton would outscore the Bears 14-11 in the third quarter to take a 40-39 lead heading into the fourth quarter. The Bulldogs would hit several key baskets and can 5 of 7 free throws late to hang on for the win.

The loss offset a 27 point performance from junior Cassidy Neuhalfen. He was 9 of 12 from the field and a perfect 9 of 9 from the free throw line. Marc Manganaro added 12 points, Eric Nelson and Jeff Knudsen had six each and Josh Hart finished with two.

Laurel-Concord was 18 of 41 from the field and 15 of 18 at the foul line. The Bears held a slim rebounding advantage in the game, 25-24. Neuhalfen hauled in eight boards to lead the Bears and Manganaro added seven.

In the semi-finals last Tuesday, Laurel-Concord used a strong second half to put away Plainview 76-58.

With the Bears holding a 32-30 halftime lead, Laurel-Concord would outscore Plainview 28-13 in the third quarter to take a 60-43 lead and go on to win 76-58.

Four players hit double figures for the Bears, led by Marc Manganaro's 18 points. Eric Nelson and Josh Hart followed with 15 points each and Cassidy Neuhalfen scored 13. Chance McCoy added six points, Jeff Knudsen had five with Jon Dickey and Brady Hartman scoring two each.

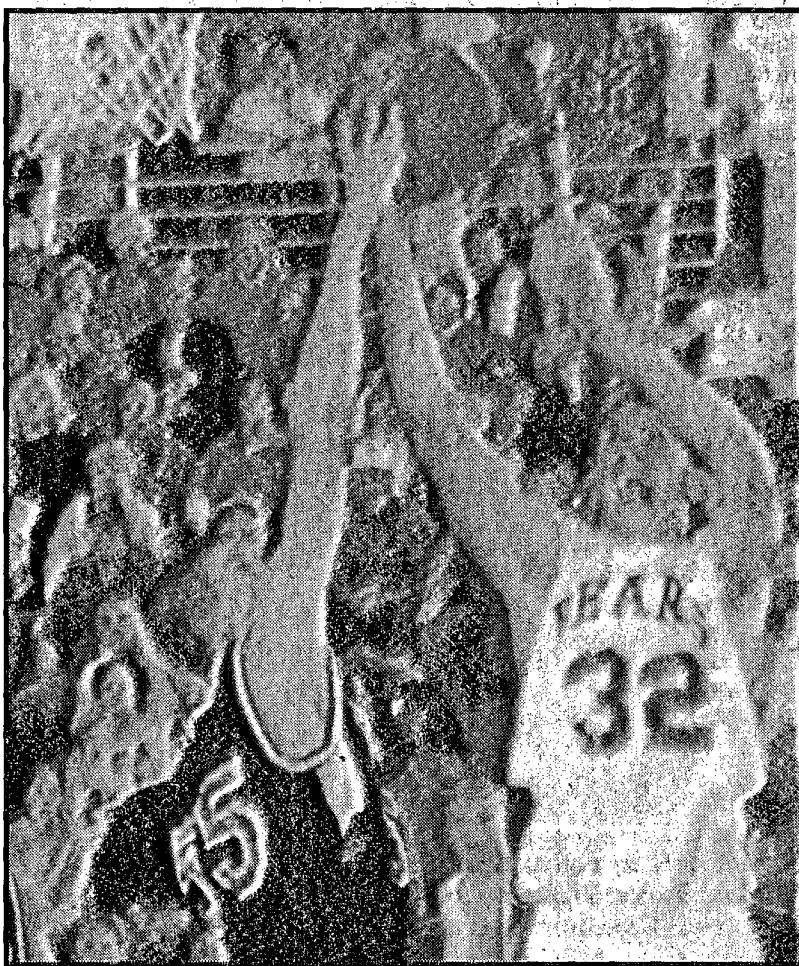

Laurel-Concord won the rebounding battle, 34-22. Manganaro had 15 caroms for the Bears with Neuhalfen adding nine.

In action Tuesday evening, Laurel-Concord topped Coleridge 58-49.

The Bears led 11-9 after one quarter, 29-17 at halftime and 41-33 after three quarters.

Marc Manganaro scored a game-high 21 points and pulled down 10 rebounds to pace Laurel-Concord in the win. Eric Nelson accounted for 11 points and Jeff Knudsen added 10. Rounding out the scoring were Cassidy Neuhalfen with eight points and Chance McCoy with seven.

Laurel-Concord, 14-4 on the season, will host Wisner-Pilger tonight (Thursday) and Neligh-Oakdale on Friday.

Laurel-Concord's Cassidy Neuhalfen takes a shot against Creighton's Ben Borgmann in Friday's NENAC Tournament championship game in Randolph. Neuhalfen scored 27 points in the Bears' 58-53 loss.

Winside grapplers win Clearwater Invite

The Winside wrestling team tuned up for this weekend's Class D-2 District Tournament by winning the Clearwater Invitational last Friday.

The Wildcats scored 189 points with Pope John in second at 151.5 and Howells third with 118.5. Plainview was fourth with 93.5 points, followed by Osmond (92), Newman Grove (77) and Burwell (68).

Rounding out the team scoring were Humphrey St. Francis, Clearwater, Creighton JV, Cedar Rapids and Elgin.

Wildcats head coach Paul Sok said his team had a very good tournament.

Winside had 10 wrestlers pick up medals in the tournament with nine advancing to their respective championship matches.

Bo Brummels (119), Josh Sok (152), Eric Morris (171), Tom Schwedhelm (189) and Mike Tomasek (HWT) each brought home first place medals.

Finishing runner-up were Jesse Thies (103), Andrew Sok (112), Dan Morris (125) and Travis Koll at 145. Collin Prince came in third at 215 pounds.

The Winside JV team had four wrestlers compete with two picking up medals. Josh Staub (112) and Bryce Roberts (215) each placed fourth. Chris Thies (103) and James Neel (125) also competed.

Saturday, Winside sent five wrestlers to the Creighton JV Tournament.

Josh Staub (112) and Bryce Roberts (215) took first place, while Chris Thies (103) and James Neel (125) placed third. Brandon Bowers competed, but did not place at 135 pounds.

Winside will host the Class D-2 District Tournament with first round matches starting Friday at 3 pm. Saturday's action resumes with the semi-finals at 10 am.

"I think it is a definite advantage to have the meet at home this year and hopefully we will capitalize on the situation," Sok said.

Clearwater Invite results
103-Jesse Thies (2nd): Won by pin, won by pin, won 12-0, lost by pin to Cody Dennis of Osmond.
112-Andrew Sok (1st): Won by pin, Won 9-2, lost 6-1 to Lukas Borer of Elgin Pope John.

Work chosen for Art show

A wood carving by Dick Carman of Wayne was chosen to be in the 2003 Wings Over the Platte Art Show and Sale which opened Feb. 7 at the Stuhr Museum in Grand Island. Carman's three-dimensional piece, "American Wigeon Drake" is part of the show. The show closes March 30.

This is the 15th year that Stuhr has hosted the nature inspired art show. Amateur and professional artists from around the country are invited to submit pieces that reflect the wildlife and landscape of the Platte River.

The art show allows Stuhr

Museum to emphasize a community focus on the arts during the time that central Nebraskans once again begin to recognize the familiar shapes and sounds of migrating Sandhill Cranes. Not only does Wings Over the Platte bring attention to the natural surroundings, but it helps promote the local arts community by allowing the art that is on display to be sold by the artists.

Questions can be directed to Joe Black or Janie McBride at the Stuhr Museum at 308-385-5316, or visit www.stuhrmuseum.org.

Siouxland Blood Bank conducts blood drive in Wayne

The Siouxland Community Blood Bank made a stop at Providence Medical Center on Jan. 24.

Kroeker named to Dean's List at Bethel College

Faith Kroeker, daughter of Calvin and Deanna Kroeker of Wayne, is among students named to the dean's list at Bethel College in St. Paul, Minn., for academic excellence during the 2002 fall semester.

The dean's list honors students who achieve an outstanding scholastic record during a semester with a grade point average of 3.6 or greater.

Fifty-two persons registered to donate and 46 whole blood units were collected.

Those donors reaching milestones included Robin Stauffer, Staci Greunke and Darci Slama, two gallons; Mary Bose and Mark Kai, eight gallons and Kenneth Jorgensen, 11 gallons.

First time donors were Teresa Kay, Joel Kubik and Matthew Robbins.

Every three seconds someone needs blood.

"Thank you for all your support, your community makes a difference. Volunteers who coordinate blood drives and the volunteer blood donors are very special people. They give the ultimate gift for others...they give of themselves," said Jessica Clark, Donor Consultant for the Siouxland

Community Blood Bank.

The Siouxland Community Blood Mobile unit will be in Wayne on Thursday, Feb. 27 at Providence Medical Center from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Valentine's supper planned

"I Couldn't See The Speedometer..."

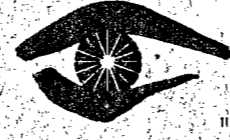

"I've been with Dr. Feidler about 33 years now. I wouldn't be with anybody else. When you're satisfied with what you got why would you go anyplace else? I got the best place there is.

I recently had cataract surgery on both eyes. Before the surgery things were fuzzy, like the basketball game on TV, I couldn't read the score. I always had to ask somebody else. I like to play cards at the VFW but I couldn't see the cards, either. I also couldn't read the speedometer when I was driving!

My vision is really good already and it's going to be better than I can remember."

Two Herbal Products May Ease Eye Strain

A common eye problem may respond to herbal products. Symptoms of eye strain may include watery and burning eyes, twitching of the eyelids, headache, and blurred vision. Eye strain occurs when a person focuses on a single project or object, such as close work on a computer, for a prolonged period of time. Straining the eyes can be made worse if there is poor lighting or glare present. Prevention measures include taking scheduled breaks every 15 to 20 minutes, wearing sunglasses when outdoors on sunny days, and resting both eyes for a few minutes. If the strain is from prolonged work on a computer, consider using a non-glare filter on the computer monitor. Experts recommend that monitor screens be 20 to 26 inches from your eyes as you work.

Herbal products, such as those used in commercial eyewashes can help get the red out of tired eyes and relieve burning. Eyebright and elderflower are herbal products with anti-inflammatory properties. Elderflower water is used as a vehicle in eye and skin lotions.

Board of Education holds meeting

By Lynn Sievers
Of the Herald

The regular meeting of the Wayne Community Schools Board of Education was held Monday night. The agenda was amended to include the approval of the Wayne Education Association as the teachers bargaining agent for the district for the 2003-04 school year.

Also approved was the contract of part time technology assistant Melissa Urbanec. She replaces Terry Wert who recently resigned the position.

Discussion was held on considerations for the high school music teacher as Kaki Ley has given her resignation. Further discussion will be held at the next meeting as to whether the position should be covered in-staff or advertised. The board decided to wait to see what budget cuts will come before making decisions.

Plans are being made by the Wayne High School Foundation for the Kern Track Dedication on Oct. 3. Homecoming for both Wayne High School and Wayne State College are scheduled the week of Oct. 3.

The board approved renewing membership in the NASB (National Association of School Boards). Membership provides benefits to the board such as extra education, being able to attend state conference and support from lobbying. Dues are $3,471 annually.

School principals gave reports on their buildings. High school, Don Zeiss gave an update on the defibrillator they recently received. Training is set for March 1 with 14 staff members signed up for it.

Elementary School Principal Dave Lutt attended a workshop on the No Child Left Behind; a federally mandated program. Another requirement is Language surveys of students or ESL must be assessed.

SPED Director Kraig Lofquist discussed mandates for the No Child Left Behind program which they are working to meet. He discussed SPED funding cuts which are set for 15 percent. Lofquist noted there will be a state evaluation in the fall.

A track update was given by Rocky Ruhl, athletic director. Bids are being accepted for equipment. Nordby Pencing of Madison has been hired to put in fencing around the track. Ruhl said they want to put in concrete in the shot put and discus areas so they can host a meet in early April.

Dr. Joe Reinert, superintendent, discussed the audit report received which they will use next year to build the budget.

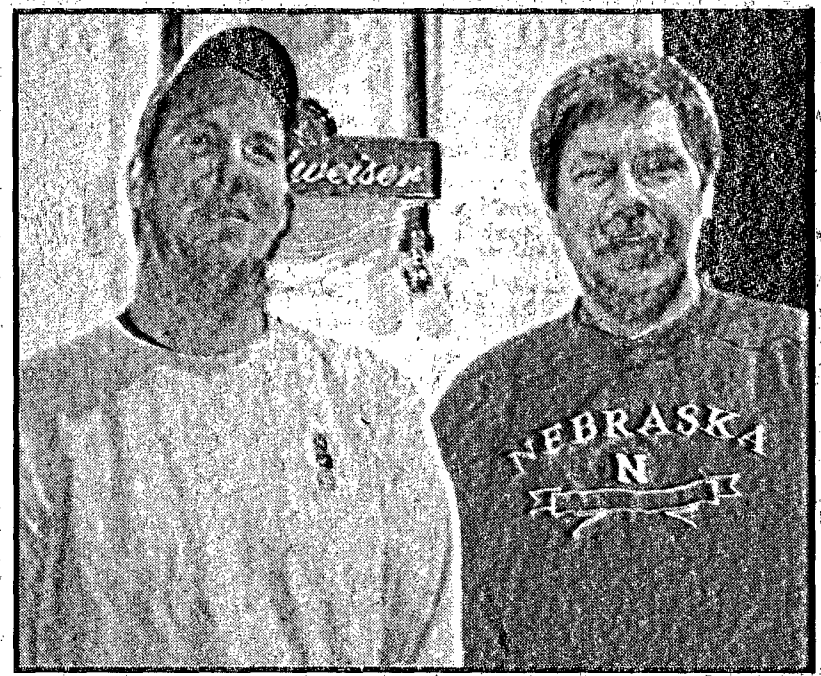

Cooperative education was discussed. The idea of a distance learning co-op with Laurel, Winside, and Wakefield is a possibility.

Dr. Reinert discussed a curriculum. He noted he is investigating the possibility of contracting two periods of an instructor from Laurel-Concord ag program at $5,000 per class per year, which would be paid by ag boosters. Also, he is checking to see if Mead Schools is providing an instruction on distance learning, which they should know about soon. More discussion will be held on this subject.

Also discussed were school activities on Sundays. The board feels school activities should not be held on Sundays but knows there are exceptions. The board feels they need to establish guidelines (administrative ruling) on this.

Executive session was held. Future agenda items include high school music teacher, co-op education, ag classes, and administrative rule.

The next meeting is set for March 10 at 7 p.m. at the high school.

Jason Miller and Ken Jorgensen

Jorgensens sell long-time business to Lincoln man

Long time business owners Ken and Katie Jorgensen have sold "The Max" Bar & Grill to Jason Miller of Lincoln. Miller recently took over and named the business "Uncle Dave's."

Miller plans on maintaining good food and service and keeping everything pretty much the same as before with the exception of adding some items to the menu such as Mexican night on Wednesdays. Doug Manz will remain the manager.

Miller is originally from Decatur, Ill., where he still has family. He moved to Lincoln in 1993 and attended the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. While attending college, he worked at Firethorn Golf Club. Later, he was assistant manager of Terrace Grille in the Cornhusker Hotel. He then went into partnership in Bleachers Bar & Grill in Lincoln, sold out and was looking for a reinvestment when he found out the Max was for sale.

"I liked what I saw," Miller said. "Ken has a good business. I was impressed with the people in Wayne and he has a good college crowd. It's the best of both worlds."

Looking back, Jorgensen graduated from Wayne High School in 1970 and moved to Chicago, Ill. in 1973 to work for Delta Airlines. He later moved back to Wayne and bought the bar (White Dog, now from Mike Looft of Wakefield. Jorgensen named the bar, "The 4th Jug." (Jorgensen's dad, Gordon, was called Jug and his children had the nickname too).

After having the 4th Jug for 17 years, the bar across the street (Uncle Dave's, now) was for sale so Jorgensen bought it, too. (It was called the Varsity when he bought it in 1992). Jorgensen renamed it The Max after long-time owner of the building, Max Hendrickson. Jorgensen ran both bars for a couple of years until he sold the 4th Jug to Jim Milliken who renamed it, White Dog.

At the Max, Jorgensen started by adding a small grill, fryer, and freezer and serving food in the evenings only. With both the El Toro and the Black Knight having burned down, Jorgensen was pressured into expanding his food business to be open during noon hours.

"I learned as I went along," Jorgensen said. "I've had a lot of folks help me out along the way. Hundreds of college kids have worked here. Mike Sievers has helped me for a long time. And family has been a big help."

As for the future, a move towards Omaha may be in Jorgensen's plans when school is out. Jorgensen has three sons, Quentin, 9, Ramsey, 8, and Hunter, 3. Ken also has two children from a previous marriage, Andrea, 21, and Tyler, 19. Andrea lives and works in Omaha; Tyler lives in Lincoln and attends UNL. Katie is attending law school in Omaha.

"We want to thank the surrounding community and the college for all the business and support through the years," Jorgensen said. "People can expect the same quality from Jason as they did from us. We will miss everyone."

Wayne High students winning Peter Kiewit Foundation Distinguished Scholar Awards were among 50 recipients chosen. Each award has an annual value of $6,500 and is renewable for a total of up to four consecutive years of aid.

As for the Reader's Digest National Word Power Challenge, Robinson, grade four, competed with other Grade Level Champions from schools across Nebraska in the State Level Championship

Cholesterol testing to be held at PMC

Providence Medical Center will once again be sponsoring a cholesterol/lipid screen on Thursday, Feb. 20.

The testing will be from 7 to 10:30 a.m.

The cost is $10 and the results will be returned directly to the participant.

To obtain accurate results it is recommended that participants fast for at least 12 hours and consume no alcohol for 48 hours. Water and medications are allowed during this fasting period.

end. No action was taken on a proposal to make job description changes in the City Recreation Department.

The council approved a request from the Wayne Community Housing Development Corporation (WCHDC) requesting the first half of its budget allocation.

Della Fries spoke to the council on the new programs being offered by the WCHDC and indicated that her office was in the process of helping several persons become homeowners.

Discussion at Tuesday's meeting also included the current city code of enforcement of the International Property Maintenance Standards within the city of Wayne.

George Ellyson, City Planner, handed out a list of properties that have code violations. He asked the council for guidance in dealing with these situations.

Councilman Will Wiseman said he felt that additional discussion time was necessary before making any decisions.

A tentative date of Tuesday, March 4 was set for the council to allow for discussion of this item. This date is not a regularly scheduled meeting time and the code enforcement would be the only item on the agenda.

The council also listened to a recommendation from the Planning Commission regarding an alley easement.

The issue involves property owned by Paul Campbell and concerns a deck built on the house that encroaches on the alley.

The house was remodeled last year and because property lines could not be found, the deck was built on the city's property.

A motion to approve the Planning Commission's recommendation died due to a lack of a second and Campbell will be required to remove the deck.

Mayor Sheryl Lindau appointed Todd Hoeman to the Safety Committee and Lee Wrede to the E-911 Committee.

The council's next meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, Feb. 25 at 7:30 p.m.

Nominations for Hall of Success being accepted

Nominations are now being taken for Hall of Success inductees at Northeast Community College in Norfolk. Nominations will be accepted through Thursday, May 1, 2003.

The Hall of Success awards are given to alumni of NECC or its predecessor colleges who have achieved significant success in their professions, exhibited exemplary citizenship qualities, or made significant contributions to their communities and/or community affairs. Predecessor colleges include Northeast Technical Community College, Northeast Nebraska Technical Community College, Northeast Nebraska Technical College, Northeastern College, and Norfolk Junior College.

Criteria for induction into the Hall of Success include completion of a recognized diploma or degree or completion of at least 30 credit hours at Northeast that were applied toward a degree at another college or university. Two letters of recommendation must accompany the nomination.

Newly-selected members of the Hall of Success will be inducted in October.

For more information about the Hall of Success award and nomination materials, contact Connie Sixta at Northeast at (402)844-7065.

County Sheriff's office investigating accidents

At about 1:15 a.m. Sunday morning, the Wayne County Sheriff's Office was called to the scene of a two-vehicle crash on a county road one mile south and three-fourths of a mile east of Wayne.

An eastbound car driven by 22-year-old Carol Longe of rural Wayne went out of control, was sliding sideways and was struck on the passenger side by a westbound Chevy Blazer driven by 19-year-old Aaron Flies of Wakefield.

Longe was alone in her vehicle and Flies had two passengers with him. Providence Medical Center Ambulance transported all four persons to the hospital where they were treated for their injuries and released. Longe and the two passengers in the Blazer were wearing their seat belts.

The Wayne Fire Department Rescue squad and the Providence Medical Center Ambulance assisted the Sheriff's Office at the scene of the accident, which is still under investigation at this time.

Another accident involved a worn tire which blew out and that is believed to be the preliminary cause of an early Monday afternoon incident that occurred about six and one half miles east of Wayne on Highway # 35.

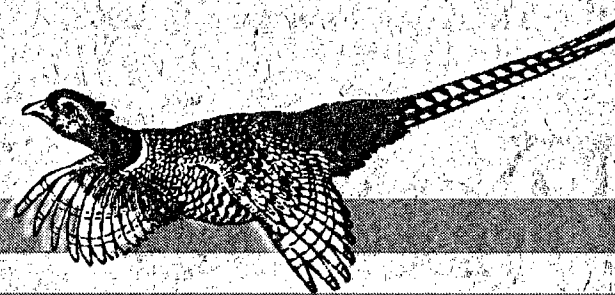

At about 2:15 p.m., the Providence Medical Center ambulance and Wayne Fire Department Rescue Squad responded to the single car rollover that was investigated by the Wayne County Sheriff's Office.

According to witnesses, an eastbound car driven by 19-year-old Jeremy Sudbeck of Wayne suddenly veered to the left, crossed the centerline of the highway and struck a guardrail. After striking the guardrail the car proceeded east down into the ditch until it struck a washout and rolled end for end and then came to rest on its top.

Sudbeck was the only person in the car and was taken to Providence Medical Center where he was wearing his seatbelt and the airbags were also deployed.

Our relationship . . . making it stronger

Setting Realistic Expectations

Today, most individuals want respect, commitment, passion, friendship, companionship, sexual gratification and probably more from their marriage partner.

It is not wrong to expect these things from your partner. It is not wrong to discuss your needs and wants openly with your mate. What happens, too often is that individuals think their partner "should just know what I need." Having realistic expectations will enable partners to meet each other's needs and wants and encourage personal and relationship growth.

Nurturing Your Relationship

In order for your relationship to grow, you must be willing to nurture it. Usually this is done by spending enjoyable time together and communication with each other. Each couple must determine the appropriate amount of connectedness and separateness best for them.

What happens all too often is that one partner needs more (or less) connectedness than the other partner. You will want to consider your partner's needs and wishes while not neglecting yourself. Therefore, to have a reciprocal relationship, it is important to talk together, listen to each other, resolve conflict (compromise), forgive each other, respect each other, have fun together, be committed to each other and love and be loved.

Committing to the Relationship

Commitment is the glue that holds the relationship together both in good and difficult times. Commitment is essential to help a couple share joys together as well as weather tough times. However, commitment alone, is not enough to create an atmosphere of love, respect, intimacy and happiness. A strong relationship is built with many components.

Minimizing Conflict

Intimacy is best attained in an atmosphere without much conflict because feuding and unresolved conflict often cause hurt feelings. Even couples who love and respect each other will fight, but they tend to use "fair fighting" techniques. Fighting fairly means you will tackle the problem, but not your partner. You will avoid holding grudges or using the silent treatment. Learn to say, "I'm sorry!" and "I care about your feelings. Please share them with me."

Amy Topp Extension Educator 4-H & Youth

You must take the responsibility to share your feelings and say to your partner, "I would like to talk with you and tell you how I feel." Being thoughtful and considerate of each other will minimize conflict or unspoken animosity.

Fostering Intimacy and Friendship

Perhaps friendship between partners is the major determinant of whether a relationship will endure. Several leading researchers say that connectedness and friendship between a couple is more important than knowing how to communicate, fight fairly or resolve conflict. If you are not friends, your relationship will likely be facing some hardships. The purpose of staying together should not be only for the children's sake. Living in a home where parents experience and show friendship, love and respect is a healthy environment for the couple and their children.

Sharing Intimacy, Romance and Sexual Relations

Intimacy often includes sexual relations. Be willing to touch each other and be romantic. Know what your partner likes. Do little things for each other that demonstrate your love. Actions to enhance romance in your relationship should be a part of your daily life, not only once-in-a-while occurrences.

The way you demonstrate your love must be respectful of the other person's wishes and should be something you want to do willingly, not grudgingly. Of course there will be times when you do something you would rather not do, but you do it for your partner because your partner desires it. However, this should be the exception, not the rule. Activities that are not mutually enjoyed become a chore to one partner and do not nurture the relationship.

List the Things You Enjoy Doing Together

Activities you do together need not cost huge amounts of money. In fact, some of your most fun times may not involve monetary cost. You can decide this according to your economic means.

There will be times you want to do something that takes money such as a weekend away, going to a game or eating dinner out, but these special occasions can be planned. They also can be planned on a budget. Try to avoid using money as an excuse for not spending time together. It can be a trap to say there is no extra money for entertainment or to go on a vacation when indeed there are hundreds of ways to have fun with your partner without spending much money.

Expressing Intimacy

You simply need to make time and be creative. Even when you are away from each other you can show love and connection. Today, many couples are communicating through technology by using telephone calls, voice messages, and e-mail. Although these techniques help with communication, care must be taken not to overuse this approach. Work loads and daily responsibilities may be demanding but neglecting your partner is not an effective way to manage time. Start thinking about How will I prioritize my schedule to have (more) time with my partner? If your relationship is given the necessary time and attention your quality of life and level of happiness will likely increase. Being in a mutually respectful partner relationship with an element of romance, passion and intimacy will allow both partners to achieve a sense of balance and increase levels of self-esteem.

Adkins-Gangwish married in Lincoln

Megan Adkins and John Gangwish, both of Kearney, were married Jan. 4, 2003 at Trinity United Methodist Church in Lincoln.

Mr. and Mrs. Gangwish

The Rev. Lauren Ekdahl officiated at the 4 p.m. ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Rick and Joan Adkins of Laurel and Rod and Jane Gangwish of Shelton.

Grandparents include Mollie Adkins of Osmond, Jesse and Edith Skinner of Wisner, Treva Gangwish of Wood River and Lory Wrenn of Grand Island.

The organist and pianist for the ceremony was Carla Post of Lincoln. Soloist was Lindsay Watts of Madison, Wisc., friend of the couple.

Candlelighters were Laura Colvin of North Platte and Megan Wray of Ord, friends of the couple.

Escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride wore a strapless gown of candlelight ivory satin adorned with beaded embroidery, sparkling floral designs, silver glitter leaves and pearl accents. The back of the Alfred Angelo gown featured a wrapped apron effect highlighted at the waistline by a satin rose cluster. The chapel length train of satin was overlaid with a semi-cathedral length, soft tulle train accented with bugle beads and seed pearls.

A beaded band held the double illusion veil which featured ivory satin edging. Ivory elbow length gloves completed the ensemble and the bride carried a bouquet of ivory roses accented with pixie carnations, holly berries and greenery.

Sara Landgren of Lincoln, sister of the bride, served as Matron of Honor.

New Arrivals

JENSEN — Colby and Kellee Jensen of Norfolk, a son, Porter Thomas, 7 lbs., 1 oz., born Jan. 30, 2003. He joins a brother, Taelon, 21 months. Death claims former president of nation

Woodrow Wilson passes away peacefully at his Washington home

Former President Woodrow Wilson, after suffering broken health for four years, passed away at his home in Washington City Sunday morning at 11:15 o'clock. The sad news was broadcast over the country a few moments later.

The funeral took place in Washington city yesterday afternoon and the body of the departed statesman will have a permanent resting place at the capital city.

Mr. Wilson suffered broken health before he left the presidency, and since then he had been living quietly in Washington with every attention calculated to restore his strength.

President Coolidge issued a proclamation of thirty days' official mourning for the death of Mr. Wilson, during which period the flags on all American government buildings throughout the world will be flown at half-mast and official entertaining will be suspended.

Briefly Speaking

P.E.O. Chapter hears about projects

WAYNE — P.E.O. Chapter AZ met Feb. 4 at the home of Amy Bowers. Hostesses were Jill Sweetland, Ginny Otte and Carol Mosley. Annette Rasmussen presented the program about P.E.O. projects and the local scholarships.

The next meeting will be Tuesday, Feb. 18 at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Sheryl Lindau. Lucille Peterson will be in charge of the program.

Pair wed in Colorado ceremony

Jennifer Marie Wilson of Greeley, Colo. and Ahmad Ali Sedaghat of Dallas, Texas were married at Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church of Greeley, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. Sedaghat

Pastor Timothy Kennitz officiated at the 6 p.m. double ring ceremony.

Parents and grandparents of the bride are Jon and Dianne Wilson of Greeley and Les and Pearl Youngmeyer of Wayne. Parents of the groom are Hessein and Sogra Sedaghat of Tehran, Iran.

Music for the ceremony was provided by pianist Karla Whitmore. Soloists were Thomas Krafft and Laura Thomas. The congregation sang "Love is the Gracious Gift" and the students of Shepherd of the Hills sang "God of Love and God of Marriage."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a white satin and lace long sleeve floor-length gown. She carried a bouquet of white and purple roses with ivy. In the bouquet was a white lace hanky of her Grandmother Youngmeyer had in her wedding 56 years earlier.

During the ceremony, the bride and groom lit the unity candle on the altar.

Matron of Honor was Monika Walker. Maid of Honor was Denise Hitchcock, both of Greeley. Bridesmaids were Julia Cabral, Lori Garcia and Catherine Hansen.

The women wore black dresses and carried a bouquet of white and purple flowers.

The flower girls were Adele McKenna and Abby Zimmerman. Ringbearers were Adam Abuso, Caleb Kennitz and Tyler Whitmore. All are of Greeley and were students of the bride.

Anne Gaspers of Greeley was the bride's personal attendant. Best Man was Thomas Krafft of Ft. Collins.

Groomsmen were Gary Juergens, Clay Welch, Lance McMorrow and Tom Park.

Ushers were Shawn Wilson of Greeley, brother of the bride and Karl Gartman and Seth Haakenson.

The men wore black tuxedos, white shirts and purple vests.

The reception dinner and dance for 265 guests was held at the Ebohy Room in Evans, Colo. Hosts were Paul and Gail Youngmeyer of Colorado Springs and Ronnie and Jill Hanselman of Denver, aunts and uncles of the bride.

After spending the summer in Dallas, the couple is now at home in Evans, Colo.

The bride graduated from the University of Northern Colorado in Greeley. She is the kindergarten through second grade teacher at Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran School.

The groom graduated from Martin Luther College in New Ulm, Minn. He completed a year in staff ministry in Dallas, Texas and now is enrolled in the graduate program in counseling at the University of Northern Colorado.

Special guests at the ceremony were Les and Pearl Youngmeyer of Wayne and the groom's adopted American mother, Mrs. Ruth Glaeske of Scroggins, Texas and adopted grandmothers, Mrs. Evelyn Schuppenhauer of Houston, Texas and Mrs. Ruth Braun of Windsor, Colo.

Rev. Lee to make School Lunches presentation

The Rev. Kenneth W. Lee will make a presentation at Praise Assembly of God Church in Wayne on Sunday, Feb. 16 at 6:30 p.m.

The event will be held at the church at 1000 East 10th Street in Wayne.

Rev. Lee was born and raised in the inner-city of Kansas City, Mo. He graduated from Evangel College in Springfield, Mo. in 1972 with a major in speech education and a voice minor. In 1977 he completed his class work toward a Master's degree in Theatre at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Since that time, he has received a Master of Arts in Teaching degree from Webster University in south St. Louis County and taken graduate courses in vocal music from Washington University.

Rev. Lee taught vocal music in public middle and high schools in St. Charles County, Mo. and served as Associate Pastor at Florissant Assembly of God and Wood River Assembly of God, both in the St. Louis metropolitan area. He and his wife, Dr. Sharon Shockey Lee served First Assembly of God in St. Charles and West County Assembly as interim choir and drama directors.

Ken Lee is an ordained minister of the Northern Missouri District of the Assemblies of God, but he has been commissioned to go into churches of all denominations. He has been traveling as a full-time drama evangelist since 1980. His work has been seen in churches of 40 states, at least 30 separate denominations, Christian television networks including TBN, CBN and several independents, Christian radio stations in at least 12 states and many Bible schools. Ken and his wife, Sharon, live in St. Charles, Mo. with their son, Jared.

Refreshments will be served following the service. For more information, contact Pastor Steve Snead at (402) 375-3430.

Watching your Weight
According to the American Medical Association, almost two-thirds of Americans are clinically overweight. Obesity has risen dramatically in just the past 10 years. The reason seems to be more sedentary lifestyles coupled with eating more prepared and "fast" foods. There is only one way to lose weight and keep it off. Eat less calories and/or burn more calories. People who consistently keep weight off make a conscious decision to change their lifestyle; they eat smarter and get regular exercise.

Counselors available for community

The Help Clinic at Wayne State College invites anyone with difficulty coping with personal issues to call and arrange an appointment with one of the new counselors.

The counseling services are made available at no cost by Wayne State College.

The counselors understand the stress involved in dealing with problems such as grief, worry, family and relationship conflicts, emotional pain and alcohol and drug abuse. They are aware that talking to a professional about these issues can provide support, guidance and sometimes new solutions.

The Help Clinic would be happy to answer any questions about the counseling. The phone number is (402) 375-7210. If you reach the answering machine, leave your name and phone number to have your call returned.

The new counselors this semester include Tom Barr, a Stanton native who has received associates degrees in Broadcasting and Audio Recording, a bachelor's degree in Communications from Wayne State and is nearing completion of the MSE in Counseling. He has experience working with adolescents at the Northeast Nebraska Juvenile Detention and the Boys and Girls Home. He is currently employed with the Siouxland Mental Health Center in Sioux City, working with adults with mental illness during and after incarceration at the Woodbury County Jail.

Carissa Kollath is from Norfolk. She earned her bachelor's degree in Psychology from Wayne State College in 2002 and is working on her MSE in Counseling. She is currently an Assistant Residence Hall Director at Wayne State College.

Mark Garlick is currently pursuing his MSE in Counseling.

The counselors are supervised by Dr. Keith Willis, a psychologist with 25 years of experience in private practice and at Valley Hope in O'Neill, Willmar State Hospital and the Lincoln Regional Center.

Help Clinic counselors include, Dr. Keith Willis, Carissa Kollath, Mark Garlick and Tom Barr.

Late winter and early spring walleyes

Over the years, some of the finest fishing that I've ever experienced was in the late winter or early spring.

It's this time of year that the walleye are moving towards or into their spawning areas, which means large concentrations of fish.

On a river, walleye and sauger will move up stream, looking for their traditional spawning grounds.

Many of their journeys are cut short by man made dams forcing the fish to stack up below the dam.

On a reservoir or lake, you'll find them in the deeper water near a shoal or rocky point that are exposed to the wind.

The smaller males are the first to arrive and these large schools of aggressive fish are easier to catch than the larger females.

The males will move up in preparation of the spawn when water temperatures are just a few degrees above freezing.

They'll move up tight against the dam, roaming around the area looking for receptive females.

Since the females aren't as aggressive as the males, they're using less energy and need to feed less often, so you'll catch many more smaller males than you will the larger females.

The females will stay deep most of the time, moving up to the dam or other obstructions occasionally to feed and then move back into the deeper holes or other slack water areas to rest.

The females can be found lying

When the water has warmed up, the females will move up into one to six foot of water to spawn.

Their spawning grounds are generally an area that has a gravel bottom or a rock bottom with rocks up to about the size of your fist.

On a lake or reservoir, the spawning beds are generally in an area exposed to the wind as their eggs require aeration in order to hatch.

Wind isn't an important factor on a river as the continual current flow aerates the eggs.

Catching walleye and sauger during the post spawn requires a lot of patience, lighter and smaller tackle than it would during other times of the year.

Light jigs (1/4 ounce or smaller) tipped with small minnows that are attached to a light limp line work very well when jigged vertically or drag along the bottom during this time of the year.

Since the fish are lethargic this time of year, you might want to use a stinger hook behind your jig. The stinger hook is simply a small treble hook tied behind the jig that allows you to have an additional hook in the tail of the minnow.

Walleye and especially sauger are famous for grabbing onto the tail of the bait and simply holding on, not allowing the jig hook the opportunity to get into their mouth.

The stinger hook catches many of these short striking fish as it hangs down behind the jig.

The lighter limp line allows the bait to appear more lifelike and reduces the coils that would be present with heavier line, making it easier to set the hook.

Since fish are cold blooded, they'll be moving super slow, feeding less and have more time to look over your bait. You'll want to slow down your presentation and at times many strikes will happen when you aren't moving the bait at all.

Besides jigs, another bait presentations that work well during this time of the year is a live-bait rig known as the Lindy rig.

Developed by Al and Ron Lindner years ago, this simple yet effective rig fools walleye and sauger throughout the year.

A Lindy rig consists of a small hook (or double hooks for warm water fishing) that are attached to a short monofilament leader. The leader is then hooked into a swivel and a sliding sinker is put above the swivel on the line.

When fish are in a slow mood, as they are this time of year, they'll mouth the bait and feeling any resistance will drop the bait.

With the Lindy rig, you can let line out when you feel the fish pick up the bait, which gives the fish time to inhale the bait.

After a couple of seconds, the angler then reels up the slack and if there is still weight on the line, sets the hook.

The key to catching fish this time of year and in the early spring is to use the old K.I.S.S. method, which means Keep It Simple Stupid!

The simpler the better this time of year!

Use small baits, fish slow and this may be the time of year that you catch that big fish for the wall.

behind sand bars, islands or other obstructions in the river. A week or two prior to the spawn, as the water temperature warms, they'll move shallower and start to feed more aggressively.

Both male and female will now roam around the shallows during low light periods and then move back into deeper water as the sun begins to rise.

In the northern regions, spawning occurs when the water temperatures reach 50 to 55 degrees.

Rev. Lee to make School Lunches presentation

The Rev. Kenneth W. Lee will make a presentation at Praise Assembly of God Church in Wayne on Sunday, Feb. 16 at 6:30 p.m.

The event will be held at the church at 1000 East 10th Street in Wayne.

Rev. Lee was born and raised in the inner-city of Kansas City, Mo. He graduated from Evangel College in Springfield, Mo. in 1972 with a major in speech education and a voice minor. In 1977 he completed his class work toward a Master's degree in Theatre at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Since that time, he was received a Master of Arts in Teaching degree from Webster University in south St. Louis County and taken graduate courses in vocal music from Washington University.

Rev. Lee taught vocal music in public middle and high schools in St. Charles County, Mo. and served as Associate Pastor at Florissant Assembly of God and Wood River Assembly of God, both in the St. Louis metropolitan area. He and his wife, Dr. Sharon Shockley Lee served First Assembly of God in St. Charles and West County Assembly as interim choir and drama directors.

Ken Lee is an ordained minister of the Northern Missouri District of the Assemblies of God, but he has been commissioned to go into churches of all denominations. He has been traveling as a full-time drama evangelist since 1980. His work has been seen in churches of 40 states, at least 30 separate denominations, Christian television networks including TBN, CBN and several independents, Christian radio stations in at least 12 states and many Bible schools.

Ken and his wife, Sharon, live in St. Charles, Mo. with their son, Jared.

Refreshments will be served following the service.

For more information, contact Pastor Steve Snead at (402) 375-3430.

Forgiving and forgetting is good for your health

I've been thinking about Love and Forgiveness this week. Mainly, because I've been asked to do a presentation on that subject tomorrow. As usual, I'm not quite ready. But, I did read a couple of books on the subject last month and took some pretty good notes. And, I have an outline of a little talk I did in Battle Creek in 1989 entitled, The Healing Power of Forgiveness.

I first became interested in the subject when reading a book called Getting Well Again by the Simontons. They are a husband and wife, an MD and a psychologist, who have specialized in treating cancer. A member of an I Can Cope class we did in Norfolk a long time ago recommended the book to me.

It's full of interesting stories and examples of alternative treatments. One whole chapter is devoted to Visualization. This is the art of visualizing themselves doing it perfectly, over and over. What the book is suggesting is the tactic of visualizing your white blood cells attacking the cancer cells. One participant imagined these as Pac Man, eating the cancer cells. I'm not very good at this technique, but if I had cancer, I would certainly practice it.

There is also a chapter in this book on the power of forgiveness...there are amazing stories of folks with tumors that shrank after they identified sources of grudge-bearing in their lives and dealt with them. You know the saying, "No matter how long you nurse a grudge, it never gets well."

It goes along with an old Ann Landers column in which the reader suggested a "Reconciliation Day" in which we would reach out and make amends. She had both positive and negative feedback on that. But the idea is powerful. When we admit someone to hospice, we fill out a spiritual assessment form. One of the questions is "Are there any reconciliation needs?" Often, on the first visit, the answer is "no." But the patient and the caregiver have time to consider, and many times, they do identify these. One thing about hospice, knowing that your time on earth is limited gives us the impetus to deal with such things. And, often, there is tremendous healing, at least in the emotional realm, when they do deal with reconciliation needs.

So, I bring this to your attention while the shops are touting expensive things for Valentine gifts. I really don't think $100 handbags and expensive jewelry are necessary. (Flowers and chocolate are nice, though). But looking inside ourselves to really prove if there are events and people who have hurt us in the past; and then getting rid of it, is what love is all about. It's not often possible to live peaceful lives in families and neighborhoods and jobs when there aren't offenses given, intentional or not.

I've learned that I don't even have to talk to the offending person about it. Sometimes, they don't even realize they've hurt me. But there is tremendous release of stress and tension when we are able to say to ourselves, "I forgive it. Maybe I won't forget it, but I'm not going to let it interfere with my enjoyment of life." And then, really let it go. Visualize a balloon carrying it aloft, or a fire burning it up, or whatever works for you. You could even send that person a Valentine, just to satisfy an inner need. Good luck!

Garden planting tips discussed

Companion planting — planting of garden crops together in the same space or row at the same time allows one crop to act as a nurse crop or protector of the other.

UNIVERSITY OF Nebraska Lincoln

Common examples are planting lettuce and carrots together, pumpkins and corn, radish and lettuce, radish and spinach or potatoes and corn. These companion plantings save space, control weeds and the plants compliment each other by each plant helping the other in a beneficial way. There might be some shade responses, fertility benefits, or even some insect disorientation caused by the closeness of the plants. Incorporation of herbs into the garden has insect control benefits as well as providing fresh herbs for seasoning or tea. Herbs such as parsley, chamomile and various aromatic herbs work well and adapt to most climatic areas. Herbs can be very aggressive once established so care must be taken to keep herbs contained in a small area.

Examples of other plantings are cauliflower and dwarf zinnias, potatoes and sweet asyllum cucumbers and nasturtiums. Companion planting has been a common practice in agriculture for many years. Planting oats with alfalfa, sweet clover and wheat, alfalfa-brome grass mixture or turnips and oats are just a few examples. These practices help save the topsoil, allow the legume plants to produce nitrogen, provide weed control or help on insect control.

Companion planting also creates a better environment for beneficial insects to become established and feed on the less desirable insects. Plants best suited to attract beneficial insects are: Bachelor's Button, Sweet Asyllum, Borage, Fennel, ornamental grasses and pussy willow.

Recognition of those beneficial insects is a must. Most gardeners and crop producers know that the lady beetle is a beneficial insect and can recognize the adult beetle. The larva of the ladybug is beneficial and often not recognized because it looks much different. If lady beetles are present, there is larva around also. Make sure that you are able to identify any insects on plants in order to keep from destroying the beneficial to allow them to do their work in keeping the unwanted insects in check.

Let's think about new ways to be creative and innovative in making use of companion crops. Try something new this year with companion planting. If you have internet access, try out the website: www.attra.ncaat.org

What has worked for you? I'm sure that you have some favorite companion planting ideas of practices that have worked. Share them with others who need new ideas in gardening or if you have internet access, leave a message for Del Hemsath. Next time - trees.

Derek Schardt receives 4-H recognition

Derek Schardt, 14, of Wayne County, had project records which were among the 20 that were judged for achievement in a variety of 4-H project areas.

A number of 4-H leaders and staff from Antelope, Madison, Pierce and Stanton counties recently met at the Lifelong Learning Center in Norfolk to review the 4-H records. The 4-Hers from eight counties were competing for the chance to represent the Northeast District at the state competition in February.

Derek earned the right to move on to state competition in the following areas, Animal Science, Wayne and Communication and

Expressive Arts. The Nebraska 4-H Incentive Program has been implemented in five districts across the state. It provides incentive and motivation to youth through recognition for 4-H Achievements as recorded in their record materials. Through this recognition program many 4-Hers will compete for the opportunity to attend the National 4-H Conference in Washington, D.C., National 4-H Youth Congress in Atlanta, Ga. or other 4-H multi-state events.

Several corporate and individual donors, as well as Nebraska 4-H Alumni sponsor individuals from across the state to attend these events. Without their help this recognition of accomplishment by young people would not be possible.

Nebraska businesses may sponsor one or more delegates to insure broader recognition for Nebraska young people.

Producers warned of pesticide solicitors

The Nebraska Department of Agriculture is warning farmers and ranchers to be wary of recent telemarketing sales of farm chemical pesticides.

Agriculture Director Merlyn Carlson said the Nebraska Department of Agriculture has received complaints about telemarketers who are calling the state's farmers and ranchers and making false claims about the pesticides they are trying to sell. Many of the pests that the telemarketers indicate will be controlled are not listed on the label and will, more than likely, provide no acceptable control for the additional pests.

"In the cases we have been alerted to, the pesticide products have been grossly overpriced, sometimes as much as 10 times what the product is really worth," Carlson said. "You are more assured of getting a credible product at a fair price if you do business with your local pesticide dealer."

The Department of Agriculture is asking that Nebraska farmers and ranchers question the reliability of any phone solicitation of farm pesticides. If you receive a pesticide you did not order, do not feel obligated to pay for the prod-

Mountain Climbers May Experience AMS

AMS refers to Acute Mountain Sickness, a condition of flu-like symptoms that are brought on by rapid climbing and exposure to high altitudes. Symptoms may not occur for one to two days and may include headache, nausea, sleeping problems, and loss of appetite. AMS occurs in about 25% of those who experience heights of 8,000 feet. The percentage increases with heights greater than 8,000 feet. The best prevention is to allow time for the body to adjust slowly as the person continues to go higher. It is believed these symptoms are caused by the body's attempt to maintain normal levels of oxygen in thin air. At 11,000 feet the blood vessels may become leaky, which can lead to more serious forms of AMS such as that which involves swelling in the lungs or brain.

Acetazolamide (Diamox) is a medicine used for both prevention and treatment of AMS. It helps change the body's acid balance to stimulate breathing. Some medical experts recommend the steroid dexamethasone either by itself or in addition to acetazolamide. If swelling in the extremities is present, diuretics like hydrochlorothiazide may be prescribed. Ibuprofen or acetaminophen can help ease headache pain.

AWARDED PROJECT GRANT

Last October, five sophomore students attended the Tomorrow's Leaders Today Youth Leadership Conference sponsored by the UNL Cooperative Extension Northeast District. While there, they listened to speakers and participated in discussion of leadership activities.

When those students returned from the workshop, they and their classmates decided to apply for the 2002 Youth Leadership Project Grant. This is money for schools to initiate leadership programs and/or community service projects in the local community or school.

The class decided to apply for money for the Allen Day Care. Trish Grone, Day Care Director, visited the class describing various needs of the facility. It was decided to apply for $300 to be used for two cribs, two mattresses and two sheets.

A $150 grant was awarded if the class made a 25% match, which they did with a "split the pot" at the Wynot basketball game. The other $150 was awarded because the class members will be helping at the spring health fair. The class will also help carry items from the present facility to the new one when the move is made.

At the next year's Youth Leadership Conference on October 8, 2003, a delegation will show pictures of and report on the success of this project.

Other schools and projects receiving grant money were O'Neill - Families Reading Together, Stuart - Equipment Fun, and Leigh - Drug and Alcohol Assembly.

POPS CONCERT

The Annual Pops Concert will be held Thursday, Feb. 13 at 7:30 p.m. There will be no formal admission, however a "free will" donation drum will be placed at the door.

The Eighth grade students will be selling 1b. packages of Valentine's candy supplied by Palmer candy. Make sure you purchase your "Sweets for your Sweetie!" for Valentine's Day.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY

There is NO meeting in Present were Allen High School sophomore students with Trish Grone, Daycare Director and some of the children. The students presented her with a check that they received as a grant from Tomorrow's Leaders Today Youth Leadership Program. The money will be used to purchase 2 cribs, mattresses, and sheets.

GEOGRAPHY BEE

All students in grades 5-8 competed in the geography bee sponsored by National Geographic Society. After the first round of questioning, Jacob Woodward, Cally Tschirren, Caitlin Mahon, Brandon Stewart, Jenny Warner, Michael Bock, Codi Hingst, Luke Woodward, Derek Hingst, Amber Rastede, and Ross Rastede advanced to the second round.

The top winner was Derek Hingst who then took the written test, which was sent to the National Geographic Society for grading. The top 100 students in the state will be notified in March and will compete in the state contest held in April.

DIXON COUNTY SPELLING BEE

The Dixon County Spelling Bee on the school level was held for grades 5-8 with Cally Tschirren, Daniel Johnson, Scott Wilmes, Amanda Mischke, Josh Sievers, Whitney Smith, Luke Woodward, Codi Hingst, Lacey Sprague, Ross Rastede, Derek Hingst, and Amber Rastede advancing to the school spell-down.

The top five winners were Codi Hingst, Amanda Mischke, Ross Rastede, Josh Sievers, and Scott Wilmes who will now compete on the county level at the Haskell Ag Lab at Concord on Feb. 27 at 1 pm. The public is invited to attend this event.

Valuable surprise

The Wayne Kiwanis Club was surprised when Lt. Governor of Division 18, Everett Breach, right, came to Wayne to present the club with a check for $750. The club won the money at the Kiwanis Mid Year Conference. It will be used for projects aimed at helping children. Involved in the presentation were Breach's wife, Janet, left, and Dennis Linster, representing the Wayne club.

Illustrator to exhibit work

Artist Bruce Preheim of Parker, S.D. will display his drawings at Wayne State College, Feb. 17-March 7 in the Nordstrand Visual Arts Gallery, Val Peterson Fine Arts Building. The public is welcome to attend an opening reception for the artist at the gallery on Feb. 17 at 4:30 p.m. There is no admission charge.

Preheim works as a therapist at residential programs of Volunteers of America (Turning Point) in Sioux Falls, S.D. He is writing and illustrating a book about songwriting and how songwriters work. Included in his book will be memories and drawings from road trips in the '70s and '80s.

Preheim has also illustrated several Steven Roy books, "How Fire Got Into the Rocks and Trees" and "How the Baby Deer Got Spots."

Preheim earned a bachelor of fine arts degree in visual arts from the University of South Dakota and a master of arts degree from West Virginia University. One of his works is in the private collection of Willie Nelson.

The Nordstrand Visual Arts Gallery is open Monday through Friday, from 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. when classes are in session.

Development conference held

The 2003 Midstates Community Development Conference will begin at 9:00 a.m., Tuesday, March 25th at the Marina Inn in South Sioux City, Nebraska.

This Conference is designed to bring together community leaders, volunteers, professional developers, rural leaders and elected officials from the three-state (Nebraska, Iowa and South Dakota) area to share their experiences and learn new ideas for community and rural development. Everyone from rural communities is invited and welcome to attend.

The Keynote Address will be presented by Chuck Fluharty, Director of the Rural Policy Research Institute at the University of Missouri.

At the noon luncheon, Mary Plettner, Nebraska Public Power District from Columbus will demonstrate an exercise that can be used to obtain citizen input to determine public policy.

Breakout Sessions will include Workshops on Community Development, Technology, Entrepreneurship and Citizen Involvement.

The Conference is planned by various local, state, economic development and USDA agencies and is sponsored by numerous area businesses.

Registration for the Conference is $25 and must be received by March 17, 2003. Conference brochures are available from local Extension, Rural Development (RD), Resource Conservation and Development (RC&D) and USDA Service Center offices.

For more information call (712) 278-2157 or obtain a brochure from the Website at: <http://www.extension.iastate.edu/communities/>

Concord to be site for training for Fire Boards

On Feb. 25, the Dixon County Extension office at the Haskell Ag Lab, Concord, will be a downlink site for a teleconference from NSVFA and Nebraska Forest Service, starting time is 7 p.m.

Items being covered will be the responsibilities of the rural fire board based on Nebraska law; the legal liabilities and limits based on statute and court decisions; the prevention of liability exposure; insurance coverage available to protect rural fire boards; a discussion of the possible formation of a statewide association for Rural Fire District Boards similar to the League of Municipalities for cities and villages.

This program will be much like the Nebraska Forest Service class at the State Fire School entitled "Firefighters and Elected Officials Responsibilities in Fire Protection."

If you plan to attend, please notify the Dixon County Extension Office at 584-2234.

Tell us where it hurts.

- My life savings are in CDs that are about to mature, but I'm not too happy about renewing them at such low rates.
- I'm afraid I am missing opportunities to save taxes in light of the recent tax reform.
- I'm worried about how I'll be able to pay for my children's college education.
- I've invested heavily in the stock market and I'm worried the market's instability will take my investment down with it.
- I'm about to receive a large pension plan distribution and I'm not sure how I should invest it.
- I'm retired and thought I had enough saved to last through retirement. Now, I'm not so sure.

Whatever "financial symptom" you may be experiencing, stop by and talk to Rod Hunke, Investment Representative, with Investment Centers of America. He will listen to your problem and recommend an appropriate financial treatment. So call today — and just tell us where it hurts.

Great Dane Trailers invites you to investigate our exceptional opportunities for off-season and year-round employment. Three different shift options are available (depending upon openings at time of application); one of the best Wage and Benefit packages anywhere in Northern Nebraska; and all training provided.

Our Weekend shift could provide an exceptional opportunity. Work three 12 hour shifts, Friday thru Sunday (late start Sunday for church) and be paid for 40 hours! That equates to $11.11 per hour compared to a 40 hour work week. Four days off!

But that's not the half of it: if you meet the time requirements; continue employment; and meet our attendance guidelines, you could also qualify for on-going company benefits. You've seen the ads. Those benefits can include:

401k Matching Savings Plan
Medical & Disability Insurance
Dental, Prescription & Vision Care
Paid Breaktimes, Funeral, etc.
Credit Union

Company Paid Pension Plan
Basic Life & Optional Life
Vacation, 10 Paid Holidays
Gain Sharing/Pay Increases
And Much More!

NOTICE OF PUBLIC BIDDING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON PROPOSED PLANS AND SPECIFICATIONS, FORM OF CONTRACT AND ESTIMATE OF COST FOR CONSTRUCTION FOR THE ALLEN CONSOLIDATED SCHOOL, AND THE TAKING OF BIDS FOR SUCH CONSTRUCTION.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN in accordance with the provisions of the Code of Nebraska, by the Allen Consolidated School, that the School proposes an addition to Allen Consolidated School; that the Work will be issued in bid packages to Sioux Contractors as Construction Manager. Proposed plans and specifications, as well as proposed form of contract, have been adopted therefor by said Board of Education, a copy of said document is now on file and available for inspection at the office of the Superintendent; that a public hearing will be held as by Law at a date and time set by the board to accept and bid packages at which time and place, any and all interested persons may appear and file objections to said Proposed Plans, Specifications, and Contract Form, or cost of such improvements.

All proposals and bids in connection therewith shall be submitted to the office of the Architect on or before the time herein set for hearing and letting. All proposals shall be made on certified forms furnished by the Architect, and must be enclosed in a separate sealed envelope and plainly identified and addressed to the Allen Consolidated School.

The bid date for CP-01 Demolition/Site Prep/Grading, CP-02 Footings and Foundations, and CP-03 Structural Steel Joins and Deck is Tuesday, February 18, 2003.

Each proposal shall be accompanied by a bid bond, certified check, cashier's check or certified share draft in a separate sealed envelope in amount equal to five (5%) of the total amount of the proposal. If bid bond is submitted, it must be in the form provided in the specifications. The certified check or cashier's check shall be drawn on a bank in Nebraska or a bank chartered under the laws of the United States of America or the certified share draft shall be drawn on a credit union in Nebraska or chartered under the laws of the United States and payable to the Treasurer of the Allen Consolidated School. Said check or share draft must be cashed, or the bid bond forfeited as liquidated damages in the event the successful bidder fails or refuses to enter into a contract within ten (10) days and post bond satisfactory to the School insuring the faithful fulfillment of the contract and maintenance of said improvements as required by law. The bid bond should be executed by a corporation authorized to contract as a surety in the State of Nebraska, and must not contain any conditions either in the body or as an endorsement thereon.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish a corporate surety bond in an amount equal to one hundred percent (100%) of the contract price, said bond to be issued by a responsible surety approved by the School and shall guarantee the faithful performance of the contract and the terms and conditions therein contained, the payment for materials used in the project and the maintenance of said improvements in good repair for not less than one (1) year from the time of acceptance of said improvements by the school.

The School reserves the right to defer acceptance of any proposal for a period not to exceed thirty (30) calendar days from the date of hearing and letting. The School reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to waive formalities.

Plans and specifications governing the construction and proposed improvements have been prepared by the Architect. These plans and specifications, and the proceedings of the School referring to and defining said improvements, are hereby made a part of this Notice and the proposed contract by reference, and the proposed contract shall be executed to comply therewith.

Copies of said plans and specifications and form of contract are now on file in the office of the Superintendent for examination by bidders. Copies may be obtained from InVision Architecture Ltd., 117 Pierce St., Sioux City, Iowa, 51101, 712.252.4014, upon deposit of Fifty Dollars ($50.00), refundable in full if documents are returned in good condition within 15 days of date of receipt of proposals.

Published upon order of Allen Consolidated School, Allen Nebraska.
