Legislative forum held at WSC

The 12th annual Legislative Forum, sponsored by the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce, was held at Gardner Hall on the Wayne State College campus Friday.

Three area state senators attended the event—District 16 Representative Matt Connealy of Decatur, District 17 Senator Pat Engel of South Sioux City and Gene Tyson of Norfolk, representative of District 19.

Several groups of students from area high schools attended the forum, along with a group of Wayne State College students who held a rally near Gardner

Hall before the forum to speak out against proposed cuts to Wayne State College.

Topping the list of questions was the proposed state budget cuts to higher education and state aid to schools. Governor Johanns has proposed a 10 percent cut to higher education, but the Appropriations Committee proposed just a three percent cut, which was welcome news for Wayne State College.

Senator Engel, who is a member of the Appropriations Committee, said "We have to protect higher education and keep it affordable. Wayne State College is a great institution."

He warned, though, that the state is in a dire situation, commenting on the $761 million budget deficit, and said that everyone will feel the pain.

Tyson told the gathering that the cuts, being made will not be the last. "I see our problems continuing for another three or four years. Things will get better, then they will get worse again. It's a natural phenomenon, history reflects it."

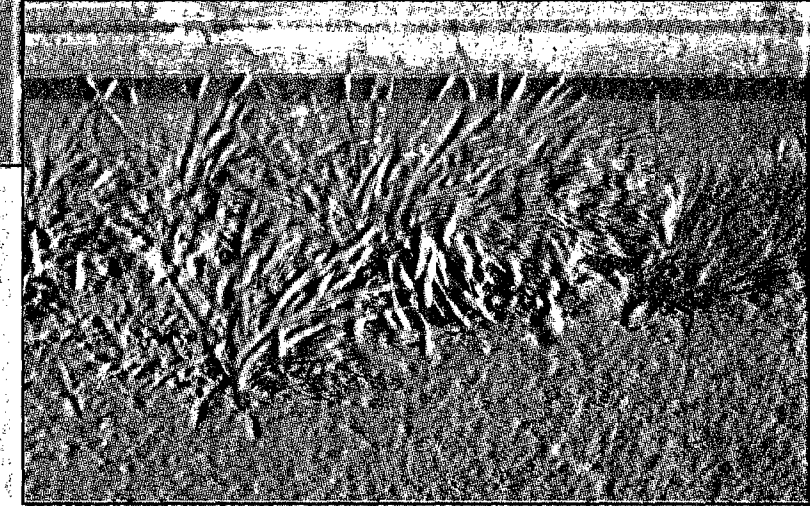

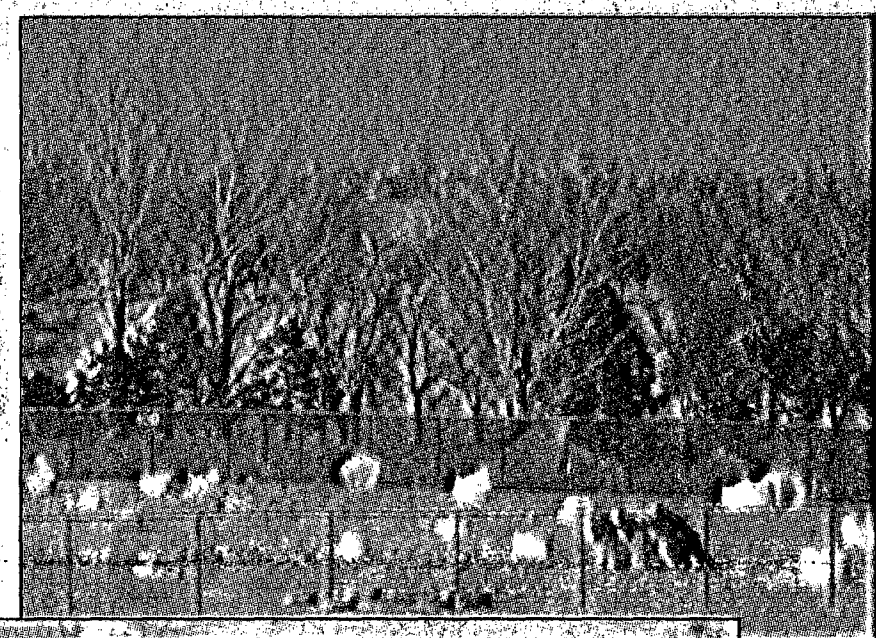

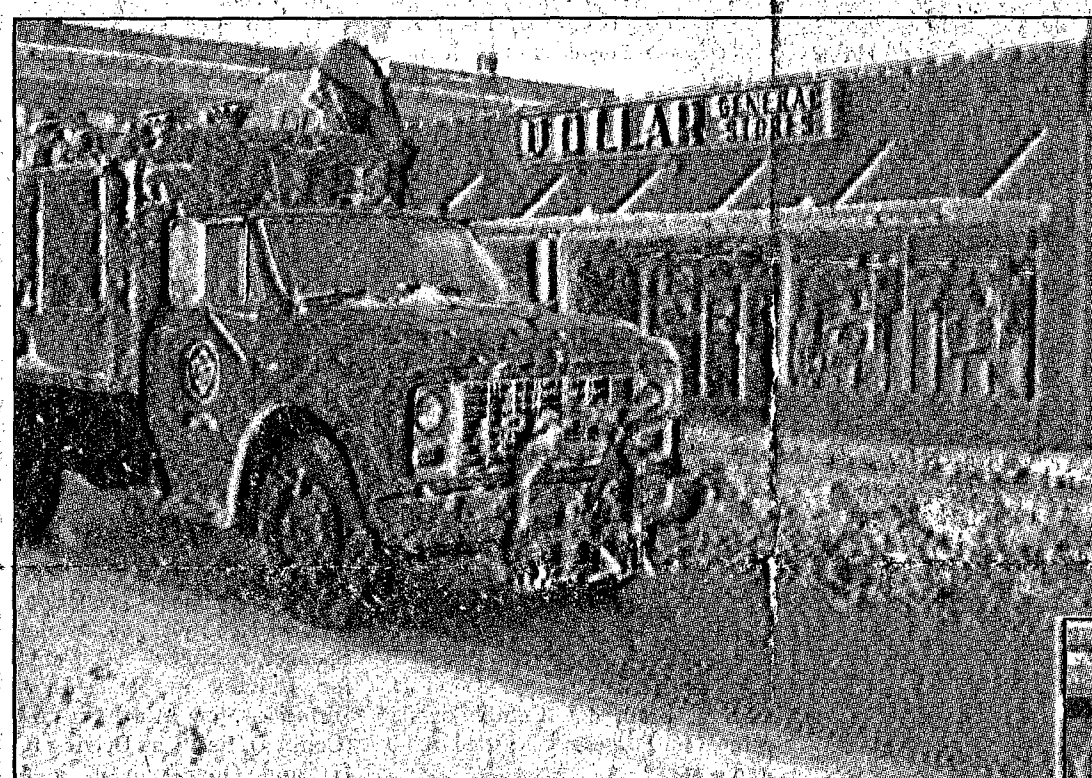

Senator Connealy said input from everyone is needed to help with the budget crisis. "We are going to solve this by June, but we need your help and ideas. He blamed the state's large deficit on a downturn in the economy along with increased costs for Medicaid (13 percent) and health care (18 percent).

Many other topics were discussed during the forum, including the debate on casino gambling. The three senators had different views on the subject.

Connealy said he supported expanded gambling while Engel and Tyson opposed it. Said Engel, "It's a poor way to fund any kind of government."

Nebraska in April

From 77 degrees on April 3 to 18 degrees on April 9, Nebraska weather seems to be having a hard time making up its mind. The Wayne area dug out from eight inches of snow on Monday to find daffodils blooming underneath the snow. This week's weather has left residents wondering if winter is really over.

Surprise wedding is result of call to duty

For most couples, planning a wedding takes months. However, former Wayne resident Lyle "Bear" Lutt and his fiancée, Neisha Twaddle, put together a plan and a week later were husband and wife.

Lutt, a full-time firefighter for the Norfolk Fire Division, and member of the Nebraska National Guard, received word early in January that his National Guard unit might be called into active duty.

He and his fiancée, who were originally planning a January 2004 wedding, decided that there was no reason to wait to get married and began making plans. Only a few essential people were aware of the couple's intentions.

During what was to be a potluck meal and going away party at the Fire Division station, Lutt and Twaddle exchanged marriage vows.

Sgt. Lyle Lutt, a graduate of Wayne High School, is the son Kathryn and Delmar Lutt of Wayne. His grandparents in Wayne include Doris and Russell Lutt. He also has a sister, Lesa, a student at Wayne High School. He has been a member of the National Guard for five years.

His wife supervises the nuclear medicine department at Faith Regional Health Services in Norfolk.

Mrs. Lutt had already selected a wedding dress and made other plans for the 2004 wedding and the couple plan to renew their vows with a 'real' wedding next year.

"This wedding was for us. The next one will be for our friends and family," she said.

Lyle "Bear" Lutt places a ring on Neisha Twaddle's finger in a ceremony that took place in the Norfolk Fire Department station earlier this year. Lutt has since been called to active duty with the Nebraska National Guard.

Main Street Focus

By Leo Ahmann

I hope you caught the picture in last week's Herald . . . Mabel Sommerfeld and Lois Hall for their efforts in getting the yellow bows up around town . . . and to the Vets organizations and their Auxiliaries for their contribution to the project. Let's hope and pray the war is over quickly and the casualty list doesn't grow drastically . . . although one is too many. The TEAM-15 Committee (Together Everyone Achieves More-Highway 15) continues to gather information and costs for the streetscape, establish procedures and organize promotions for the highway construction through downtown Wayne.

The Main Street Wayne Program's Annual Investment Drive will get underway this week for our initial mailing. As we begin our fifth year, we look forward to meeting the expectations of our investors. The Main Street Program wants to continue to be a program that our "Friends of Main Street" can be proud of. We guarantee that the Main Street Program will work in cooperation with other community organizations, for the continued growth and betterment of Wayne.

Last week I attended the Annual Spring Nebraska Lied Main Street Conference in Lincoln. The opening meeting was held at the State Capitol with a brief visit from state senators representing communities that have a Main Street Program. Session one dealt with public art projects, how they are born, designed and executed. It's public fun in public spaces that can be used to enhance the image of a community. Chicken?????

Session two was facilitated by Rich Lombardi, Chairman of the American Communications Group. He talked about one of the basic tools of good citizenship, which is to build an organization of like-minded people to change or develop the things worth enhancing. The final couple of sessions, facilitated by individuals of the Nebraska Community Foundation and the Nebraska Department of Economic Development, talked about conventional and unconventional fund raising. A very informative couple of days. It's always interesting to talk with the managers of the other Main Street communities about their successes and share ideas.

We continue to work with the Chamber on Henoween/ Chicken Show which is coming up before we know it. We're also working on an event downtown during National Hospital Week. We enjoy doing things for different organizations and we also are about having fun as well.

You are more than welcome to attend our weekly Tuesday meetings at 8 a.m. and our Promotions Committee meeting . . . held Wednesdays also at 8 a.m. We love new ideas and approaches to creativity and YOU can provide it.

Questions or comments . . . call 375-5062 or stop in. Until next time.

Capitol View Reporting war news is tricky

By Ed Howard

Statehouse Correspondent The Nebraska Press Association

The old temptation to "shoot the messenger" is never more in evidence than when there is controversial news from a war zone.

Secretary of Defense Donald Rumsfeld recently stood shoulder-to-shoulder with the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, saying reporters ought not report criticism of 'the war plan' from field commanders in Iraq.

Now, before you jump on the Rumsfeld wagon, think a little bit about what that means.

The Rumsfeld argument was that 'the plan' was a good one and that, therefore, no one should report what commanders (we're talking colonels and generals here) say about it - if what they say is critical.

Do you like that idea? My thought is that when high-ranking commanders are willing to say there is a problem, and they want it reported, it's probably news.

The certainty in such situations is that "the press" isn't going to win any popularity contests, no matter what. If complaints from field commanders are reported, the brass at the top will suggest it's "not helpful" to the war effort. If they are not reported, you will have men in the field who figure that reporters are no more than PR people for the top dogs.

It wouldn't be hard to envision a veteran, some years down the road, sitting on his front porch in the Sandhills. "Hey, we told those reporters that if we didn't get more troops there would be problems, but they wouldn't print it!"

Of course, the case for the press doing its legitimate job is complicated when entertainers like Geraldo Rivera manage to pass themselves off as journalists. What can you do with a guy who, on camera, draws a map of troop movements in the sand? (This is a question that Gen. George Smith Patton could have answered without hesitation.)

Folks around the state continue to complain that their property taxes are too high. And they continue to vote to raise their own property taxes.

A recent example came from Laurel. Voters gave the Laurel-Concord School District permission to boost its property tax levy by up to 26 cents more than the state-imposed lid of $1 for every $100 of assessed property valuation.

The vote came in the face of declining state aid and higher operational and insurance costs.

Legislature works with controversial subjects

Two controversial subjects - casino gambling and concealed handguns - were before the Legislature last week.

LR 11CA, the proposal constitutional amendment to allow casino gambling in Nebraska, advanced April 3 on the second of three rounds of consideration. Despite its advancement, the measure may be stalled for the year.

The measure passed second-round debate on a vote of 25-20, the minimum needed to advance. Supporters will need to gain five more votes because the measure will require 30 votes to pass on the final round.

Sen. Ray Janssen of Nickerson, sponsor of LR 11CA, said he would not risk a final vote this year on the measure unless he was assured of victory. If a final vote is not taken this session, the measure will be waiting for us when we return in January 2004.

If passed by the Legislature, the measure would then be submitted to voters for their approval.

The measure would allow up to eight casinos in Nebraska. If the measure is enacted, Native American tribes in the state would have the right under federal law to establish casinos on their reservations. The Native American casinos would be in addition to the eight state-licensed casinos.

In line with my long-held opposition to expanded gambling, I continue to oppose the casino measure. I believe that the economic and social costs of casino gambling will far outweigh its benefits.

Turning to another subject, we gave first-round approval April 1 to LB 265, which would allow people to carry concealed handguns. The bill advanced on a vote of 31-14 after two days of debate.

Proponents say the bill would allow law-abiding citizens to protect themselves. Opponents say it would lead to more guns on the streets, more accidental shootings and more gun deaths.

The bill would enact a permit system and require a training course for those who want to carry concealed handguns. A person would be ineligible for a permit if he or she had a history of violence, was a habitual substance abuser or had been found to be a mentally ill dangerous person.

On March 16, Sgt. Lutt's unit, the 24th Med Air Ambulance Unit from Lincoln, left Nebraska and is presently stationed at Ft. Stewart, Ga. He will spend several months there in training before returning to Nebraska for a short time. Plans call for him to be sent to Kosovo for six months later this year.

Sgt. Lutt is a flight medic on a UH-60 Blackhawk helicopter. He works with a team of four people, two pilots, a crew chief and the medic.

He describes his duties as "a lot like what Life Net, the helicopter in Norfolk, does on the civilian side, except with a little more excitement."

"We do everything from transporting patients from the field to the hospital, working with ground units on medical training and going out and picking up downed pilots," he said.

Each of the helicopters is equipped with a hoist that swings out the door so a person can be sent down on a 'jungle penetrator' to rescue people who are in places where a helicopter can't land.

"Each morning we go out and fire up the helicopter and do daily checks on it. Then when we have a Medevac (a call), we hurry up, get dressed, get the dispatch information and take off. So, it is a lot like working at the fire station, except with a lot of different 'toys,'" Lutt said.

Sgt. Lyle Lutt, aboard UH 60 Blackhawk helicopter, recently left Nebraska to begin active duty with the National Guard.

Between 30-40 students gathered on the WSC campus before Friday's legislative forum to speak out against proposed budget cuts at Wayne State College.

Other topics discussed at the hour-long forum included term limits, pay for raises for state senators and the governor, the concealed weapons bill, paying college student-athletes, the war in Iraq and taxing pop and candy.

The trio also had differing views about the future of small communities and farms in Nebraska.

Connealy said, "We are not doing enough to generate rural economic development in the state. We can't overburden rural Nebraska with taxes. I think we are playing defense more than offense."

Engel agreed with Connealy, but Tyson said it is an economic problem and not a political problem.

"There are farms in this state that make money. We have pieces

Revenue Committee, said that even with higher taxes on items like cigarettes and selected services, the state would only generate an extra $180 million a year, not enough to help balance the budget.

The legislature is expected to finalize budget cuts sometime in May and present its plan to Governor Johanns.

Health department to host grand opening

The Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department (NNPHD) will celebrate National Public Health Week by holding a grand opening on Friday, April 11 from 9:45 a.m. - 4 p.m. at their Wayne office at 117 West Third Street. The ribbon-cutting ceremony at 9:45 a.m. will be followed by a Wayne Chamber of Commerce coffee from 10 a.m. - noon, and an Open House until 4 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department is one of the new district public health departments forming the first Nebraska statewide public health system created through LB692 in May, 2001. Cedar, Dixon, Thurston and Wayne Counties comprise the health district served by NNPHD.

Northeast Nebraska Public Health Department is responsible for strategic planning for bioterrorism (BT) preparedness and West Nile Virus surveillance (mosquito trapping and dead bird pick-up). Health education, enforcement of the Nebraska Clean Indoor Air Act, smoking cessation programs, radon testing, maternal child health, strategic planning, and disease epidemic investigation are other activities planned for the near future.

Medicaid and health insurance were also discussed. Tyson stated that Medicaid costs are "breaking the bank."

Engel stated, "We have to take care of those who can't take care of themselves, but others may be asked to sacrifice a little something to help out."

On the subject of more taxes, Engel said, "We have to broaden the tax base, but not with property taxes."

Projects at WSC explained

By Dr. Sheila Stearns
WSC president

I have had many questions this year about campus construction projects. Recently a campus advisory group suggested that I write a column explaining how we can afford some of these projects when we are cutting the budget.

Our operating budget comes from tuition and state appropriations. Funds for major construction do not come from the operating budget. They come from six possible sources, none of which can be raided to save jobs.

One source is from a legislative appropriation for a specific construction project, and that is where it must be used, by law. That is how our new energy plant was funded by the 2001 legislature. The project is just about finished, and will give the College expanded service at lower cost.

A second source for construction is from "user fees" to repay revenue bonds. A good example is the renovation of Neihardt Hall, currently in full swing. No residence hall improvement is ever paid for by tax appropriations or tuition. The improvements are paid over many years by those who live in the halls, just as we pay off our home mortgages or home equity loans.

A third source is from student fees specifically for modest capital improvements. The Board of Trustees levies a capital improvement fee at all three state colleges. An example is the recent construction of new broadcast journalism studios. This fee provides our students with some of the quality facilities they deserve. We are legally obligated to spend it for the purpose it was levied: capital improvements.

A fourth source for selected construction projects comes from a state fund called LB 309 Building Renewal. Representatives of the LB 309 Task Force visit campuses and state agencies during the year to identify major maintenance priorities. This wise public policy funds projects related to accessibility, fire and life safety, energy conservation, and structural integrity. It won't renovate buildings to make them look nicer. The source of funds is partly the state cigarette sales tax. The projects can only be in state buildings, not "revenue" facilities such as residence halls. The west entrance of Rice Auditorium will soon be accessible thanks to this fund.

A fifth source is from Nebraska's one percent For Art statute. Passed years ago, the law requires that public buildings reserve one percent of construction costs for art in or around the new buildings. The art projects are selected in a competitive process overseen by a campus committee, the Nebraska Arts Council, and by the President (yours truly). "The Rocks" behind Connell Hall were funded from one percent funds. Most states in the country have a similar law. Some think it is wasteful. I disagree. By now many public buildings in America feature objects of art for a modest cost because they are funded along with the original project.

A sixth source for construction comes from private donations. The Wayne State Foundation raised funds for the new track complex, for part of the Studio Arts building and a portion of the Ramsey Theatre addition. Naturally, we could not break faith with donors by spending their money for general operating expenses (jobs, for example) if that isn't what the donor intended. Even if it were legal, it would not be smart. We have hundreds of loyal donors. The Foundation earns loyalty by keeping promises.

Don't get me wrong, the Foundation welcomes gifts with no restrictions. All of us who support Wayne State should designate at least some of our gifts to "greatest needs" for the College to take advantage of opportunities. Many of you already do that, and to you we say Thank You! Your unrestricted gifts supplement our scholarship endowment to help bring more students to the College. That not only helps worthy students, it also creates jobs on campus and around town.

At Wayne State, we have aggressively worked for these funds to improve the campus for our students. When we celebrate our Centennial in 2010, we will showcase a campus that is beautiful, safe, and ready for another century of service!

Chamber rolls out Red Carpet

Leading retailers in the Wayne area under the coordination of the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce are making visitors feel welcome and wanting to come back through the generosity of some gas station and restaurant owners. As members of the Red Carpet Program, participating retailers offer special incentives to visitors who come to Wayne in large groups for events such as music contests, athletic contests, meetings, etc.

Special incentives, at this time, range from free bags of popcorn and a large drink to drivers who fill-up before heading home to special restaurant discounts not usually offered. In time, it is expected that many other "deals" will be

"hatched by the home of the Wayne Chicken Show," announced chamber Chairman-Elect Galen Wiser, who further added,

"We have such an outstanding community with first class recreational facilities, a four year college campus, and specialty shops not found in other communities our size, that we are proud to welcome organizations planning group outings."

For more information about the Red Carpet Program, contact the chamber at 402-375-2240 (fax 2246) or via email at waynecamber@hotmail.com.

Adams pleads not guilty

Wayne businessman Keith Adams pled not guilty April 2 in Wayne County District Court on charges that he allegedly assisted former Wayne flower shop owner Roger Van in his flight from justice.

The 47-year-old Adams is charged with aiding and abetting, accessory to a felony, perjury, criminal conspiracy and false reporting.

All charges, except false reporting, are Class IV felonies. False reporting is a Class I misdemeanor.

Each felony count carries a penalty of up to five years in prison and/or a $10,000 fine. The misdemeanor charge has a penalty of up to one year in prison and/or a $1,000 fine.

Adams' attorney, Clarence Mock of Oakland, made a request to Wayne County District Court Judge Robert Enz that his client's bond be reduced. Mock told Enz that posting $50,000 cash, 10 percent of the $500,000 bond on Adams, has caused the family financial hardship. But Enz denied the request.

A trial date of July 7 was set for Adams.

In other district court news, 34-year-old Thomas Rott of Carroll pled not guilty to two counts of first degree sexual assault and one count of sexual assault of a child.

First degree sexual assault is a Class II felony that carries a minimum of one year with a maximum of 50 years imprisonment. The charge of sexual assault of a child is a Class IV felony and carries a penalty of up to five years in prison and/or a $10,000 fine.

Rott faces a May 27 trial date.

In another case, 33-year-old Dawn Hawkins of Wakefield and 35-year-old Tammy Osbahr of Laurel pled not guilty on numerous charges involving a string of check forgeries late last year in Wayne County.

Hawkins faces 24 counts of forgery in the case. The severity of the counts is determined by the dollar amount of the checks involved. One count is a Class III felony, eight are Class IV felonies with the other 15 being Class I misdemeanors.

Osbah faces 26 counts, one forgery and the other 25 aiding and abetting. Two of the charges are Class III felonies, eight are Class IV felonies with the other 16 Class I misdemeanors.

Hawkins, Osbah and another suspect in the case, 22-year-old Joel Schauer Jr. of Laurel, allegedly used checks from a deceased person's account that was closed in 2000 to forge over $2,300 worth of checks during the month of December, 2002. The checks were used to purchase items at 14 businesses in Wayne.

A trial date of May 27 was set for Hawkins and Osbah.

Council votes to sell fire hall

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Following a brief executive session the Wayne City Council voted to sell the old fire hall to State National Bank & Trust Company.

A final decision has not been made on what will be done with the building.

In other action, the council granted a liquor license to Randall Pedersen of Flowers & Wine and approved an application for Connie Dangberg as corporate manager of Heritage Express.

The council unanimously approved an agreement with the Wayne Country Club.

Country Club Board President Rusty Parker told the council that the Country Club owns 10 acres of land on the south side of Country Club Road and agreed to donate the land to the city of Wayne to be used for housing development.

The council approved a lease agreement on two parcels of land owned by the city. The land will be leased to Kelvin Wurdeman for one year with option to renew the lease. Several change orders were approved for the City Auditorium renovation.

Jeff Morlok of Otto Construction spoke to the council about the changes.

They include a four foot wall in the upper seating area on the east side of the building which will lower the occupancy rate of the building and satisfy the State Fire Marshal's guidelines.

The second involves adding an additional exit from the Wayne

Women's Club room and the third involves thermostats in the building which will allow for easier control of temperature in different parts of the building.

The final change deals with the use of acid and tuck pointing to clean the walls in the entryway of the building.

The total estimated cost of these changes is approximately $13,000. Council members asked City Administrator to comment on the costs of the renovation in regard to the amount of money set aside for the project.

Johnson said that approximately $660,000 was generated through the city sales tax. That amount has been accumulating interest and has grown to $730,000.

An architectural fee of $60,000 has been spent, as well as $45,000 to make improvements in the roof of the building.

Additionally, $5,000 was spent on an agreement with the Wayne Women's Club for the purchase of their portion of the building and the relinquishing of their 99-year lease on the property.

A total of $529,000 has been awarded to Otto Construction for the work currently being done in the building.

With the changes orders approved at Tuesday's meeting, nearly $86,000 remains in the auditorium renovation fund.

On a vote of 5-3, the council voted to approve an application for a Community Development Block Grant for the Wayne Community Housing Development Corporation to conduct a housing survey.

The city would serve as the entity applying for the grant but would not be required to spend any money for the survey.

Discussion was held on what the survey will do for the city and the need to provide affordable housing to both those in the low/moderate income and higher categories. Council members Dennis Linster, Will Wiseman and Jim Shanks will serve on a committee to assist with the survey.

Resolution 2003-14 was passed; it will establish a policy and timeline for processing substandard building complaints and abatement of these issues.

Discussion was also held before Resolution 2003-15 was approved. The resolution will allow for the joint operation of the municipal water systems and the wastewater systems of the city of Wayne and the Village of Carroll.

Harold Reynolds, Water/Waste water Superintendent told the council that he had some concerns because if anything went wrong, he was ultimately responsible.

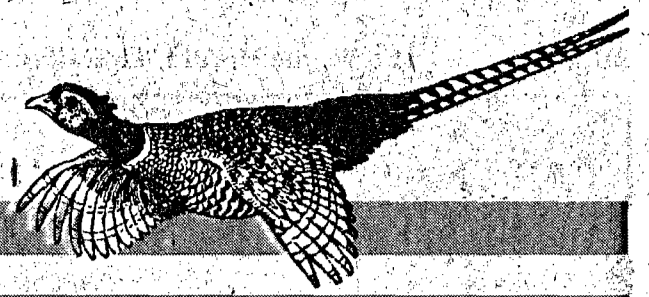

The agreement outlines the responsibilities of the village of Carroll and allows for flat fees for services to be passed on to the village. The agreement will be reviewed in six months.

The council approved the mayor's appointments to the Police Retirement Committee. Named to this committee were Jim Shanks, Marlin Chinn and Betty McGuire.

The council's next meeting will be Tuesday, April 29 at 7:30 p.m.

Thanks to the weekend snowstorm, the Wayne State baseball team played just one game in the last week.

The Wildcats dropped a 13-11 decision at South Dakota last Wednesday afternoon in Vermillion.

Wayne State enjoyed a comfortable 6-0 lead after three and a half innings, but the host Coyotes erupted for seven runs in the bottom of the fourth, plated two more runs in the fifth and added four more in the seventh inning. The Wildcats would make the game interesting in the ninth inning, scoring five runs, to make the final score 13-11. Both teams had six errors in the game.

USD outthrew the Wildcats 14-11. Senior centerfielder Ryan Radtke led the Wayne State offense with four hits in six plate appearances. He had two doubles, a home run and six RBI.

Brian Foy also had four hits, including a triple and double, for the Wildcats along with two RBI. Justin Conley, Don Whitmore and Chris Pedroza had the other hits for Wayne State.

Wayne State used five pitchers in the game. Mark Bignell worked the first three innings, followed by Ryan Wetterberg, who worked the next three and one-third innings and was tagged with the loss. Also seeing action on the hill were Josh Anderson, Joe Wall, Dustin Niluis and Jon Pitts.

The loss dropped Wayne State to 14-6 on the season. The Wildcats had a four-game weekend series at Winona State cancelled due to the snowstorm.

If conditions allow, Wayne State is scheduled to host Bemidji State, Friday (1:30pm) and Saturday (12pm) for a four-game NSIC series at the WSC Baseball Field. The Wildcats will also host Augustana College on Tuesday, April 15, in a nine inning game starting at 2pm.

WSC ranked fourth in first NCAA Central Region rankings

The Wayne State College baseball team is ranked fourth in the first NCAA Division II Central Regional baseball rankings released on Tuesday.

The Wildcats are 14-6 overall and 4-0 in the NSIC entering this weekend's home NSIC series with Bemidji State Friday and Saturday.

Central Missouri State tops the region rankings, followed by Northwest Missouri State and Rockhurst College. Northern Sun Conference rival Southwest State follows Wayne State in the fifth spot.

The top four teams in the region will advance to the NCAA Division II Central Region Tournament May 15-17.

Wayne State track teams compete at Emporia State

The Wayne State College track and field teams competed last Saturday at the Emporia State Relays in Emporia, Kansas. Over 500 athletes from 14 different college and universities were in attendance.

"There was some very good competition from several Division I schools, as well as some good Division II and junior college competitors," stated head coach Marlon Brink. "This was a good meet for our athletes to really be tested."

The top finisher for the Wildcats was Matt Schaffer, who placed second in the 400 meter dash with a personal best time of 49.3 seconds. The freshman from Nebraska City currently leads the NSIC in the event and is the defending NSIC Indoor Champion. "Matt is getting better each week and really proving that he is a force to be reckoned with in the 400 meter dash," said Brink.

Other athletes who placed in the top six for the men included: Brian Dixon, fifth place in the 110 meter hurdles (14.9 seconds) and Eric Hávranek, sixth in the long jump (22-5).

"Brian Dixon looked pretty good in his first outdoor races of the season," added Brink. "He will improve as he gets in better shape."

Leading the Wayne State women's team was freshman Lindsey Stockwell of Geneva. She placed sixth in the discus with a throw of 125-9. Freshman Katie Malander (Fullerton) set a new WSC school record in the pole vault with a mark of 10 feet, placing tenth in the event.

"Katie is vaulting very consistently right now," added Brink. "She is on the verge of a really big breakthrough meet I believe."

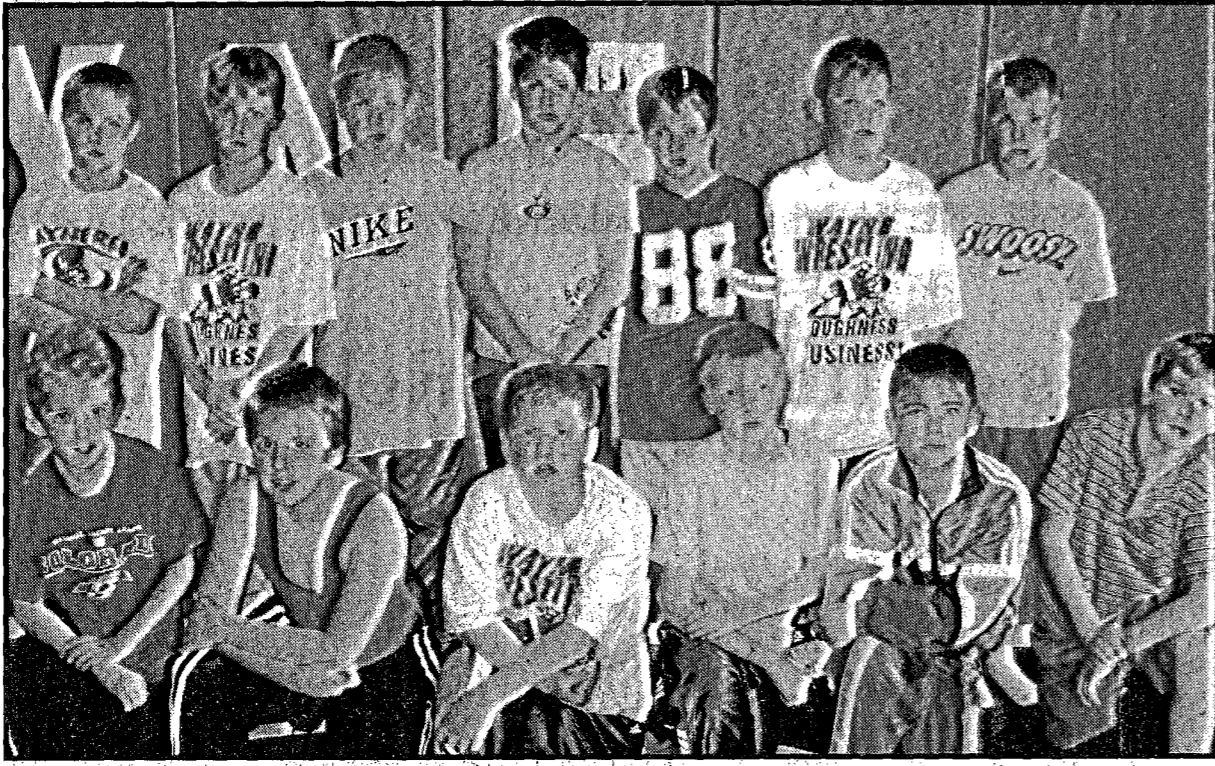

The Wildcats will compete at the Concordia Invitational in Seward on Saturday, April 12.

Wayne State sophomore Brian Dixon keeps his balance after hitting a hurdle at the Emporia State Relays Saturday in Kansas. He placed fifth in the 110 hurdles.

The Health Benefits of Coenzyme Q-10

A supplement called Coenzyme Q-10 is described as a vitamin-like substance produced naturally in small amounts by the body. It also can be found in meats and seafood.

Several disease states have been described as having low levels of coenzyme Q-10. This has led to studies which could help us better understand this naturally occurring compound and the possible value of supplementation. For example, a recent study in persons with Parkinson's disease found that those who got coenzyme Q-10 fared better than did those on dummy (placebo) pills. It has been suggested that coenzyme Q-10 also may be effective in congestive heart disease, angina, and asthma. Finally, researchers have found that coenzyme Q-10 could be beneficial to persons who have high blood pressure. Future research may show that supplementation with coenzyme Q-10 might allow for a reduction in the number and/or size of doses of some high blood pressure medicine.

WSC Criminal Justice Association heads west

Members of the Wayne State College Criminal Justice Association returned recently from a trip to South Dakota and Wyoming.

The Organization toured the Custer Boot Camp in South Dakota and the Department of Corrections Boot Camp in Newcastle Wyoming.

The group also spent a morning with the Sturgis South Dakota Police Chief learning about law enforcement in regards to the annual biker rally, and spent an afternoon with the head of security at Mt. Rushmore. Mt. Rushmore is on high alert for a possible terrorist attack. Wayne State students went through significant security clearance to gain access to monument headquarters. Mt. Rushmore and the adjacent trails are now patrolled by park rangers with M16 assault weapons.

Premier Estates selected to take part in initiative

Premier Estates has been selected to participate in the Nursing Home Quality Initiative, conducted by CIMRO of Nebraska, the Quality Improvement Organization for Nebraska.

Thirty-eight selected nursing homes will participate in a quality improvement project consisting of a series of training modules for three clinical topics. Modules will cover topic areas planning and monitoring care processes.

"Improving the quality of care in our nursing home has always been a priority and is always a work in progress. We strongly feel that there is always room for improvement and look forward to working with CIMRO of Nebraska to implement some new quality improvement processes. Everyone has the same goal and that is to improve the quality of nursing home care for all in Nebraska. We are proud to be selected as a participant in this initiative," said Diane Schlotman, Administrator at Premier Estates.

The overall goal of the Nursing Home Quality Initiative is to improve the quality of care provided to residents of Nebraska nursing homes.

Over the next three years, CIMRO of Nebraska will increase public awareness, build partnerships with providers and other partners, and will provide resources and education to help the nursing facilities evaluate their methods of ensuring quality and improve the processes where it might need reinforcement. CIMRO of Nebraska will provide nursing homes with natural, technical support and strategies to upgrade the clinical and organizational systems of the nursing homes. Premier Estates will work collaboratively with CIMRO of Nebraska and other select nursing homes to learn and share quality improvement techniques related to the topic areas.

"We are impressed with the enthusiasm of nursing homes to participate in this groundbreaking project, as well as their interest in continually improving the quality of care provided to their residents," said Tina George, RN MS, Chief Executive Office of CIMRO of Nebraska.

"Premier Estates is to be congratulated for assuming a leadership role in working to continually improve their quality of care. We'll then take the lessons from these select nursing homes and apply the same concepts to other Nebraska nursing homes." Premier Estates Senior Living Community is a Medicare and Medicaid certified 60 bed nursing home in Wayne. Premier Estates provides Assisted Living Units and an Alzheimer's Special Care Unit.

Gubbels to perform at Joslyn Art Museum

Maureen Gubbels of Randolph will perform with the Dana College Concert Band at a special concert on April 13 in the Witherspoon Concert Hall at the Joslyn Art Museum, 2200 Dodge, Omaha. Admission is free and a reception will follow the concert.

The performance will feature the world premiere of Conductor William Hall's critical performing edition of Franz Krommer's "Parthia for Band." The piece, originally written in 1825 and never before published, was completed as part of Hall's doctoral dissertation. It is a three-movement concert work written by one of the most important composers of the time. Krommer was the last court chamber music composer for the Austrian Empire and held great influence over his peers.

Also featured during the concert will be guest soloist Michelle Hall on "Concerto for Clarinet No. 1 in F minor," Op 73" by Carl Maria von Weber. Other selections include "Noisy Wheels of Joy" by Eric Whitacre, "The Black Horse Troop" by John Philip Sousa, "Satiric Dances for a Comedy by Aristophanes" by Norman Dello Joio, "The Padstow Lifeboat" by Malcolm Arnold and "Of Sailors and Whales, Five Scenes from Melville" by W. Francis McBeth.

The concert will be the highlight of the Dana College Concert Band's season. Their final concert for this season will be the Spring Concert, May 8, in the Lauritzen Theatre, Madsen Fine Arts Center, on Dana's campus.

Gubbels is the daughter of Randy and Jenny Gubbels of Randolph, and is a Senior majoring in Biology. She graduated from Winside High School in 1999.

You Can Stay in the Area for Cataract Surgery... So You Can Focus on the Little Things.

Cataracts affect over 80% of our senior citizens. In fact over one million cataract surgeries are performed annually in the U.S. alone.

New technological developments in implants, ultrasonic equipment, lasers, diagnostic testing, and surgical techniques have made cataract surgery one of the most effective procedures today. Currently, over 98% of cataract patients experience significant improvements in vision, without major complications.

Until now, the high cost of this new technology for cataract surgery was only available in the larger surgical facilities. This meant that you would have to travel for a complete eye examination and surgery. Not any longer.

Complete eye care and cataract surgery is now available at Providence Medical Center in Wayne. You don't have to travel outside of your community to have your vision tested for cataracts. With Dr. Willcockson, Dr. Koeber and Dr. Magnuson offering comprehensive diagnostic and surgical services, you now have the most advanced eye care available right here in town.

Call Dr. Koeber or Dr. Magnuson for a complete eye examination and cataract vision screening today. If you would like more information on cataracts for yourself or someone you know who may be experiencing loss of vision, call today for a free informational brochure.

Used pesticide container recycling locations given

Northeast Nebraska's 2003 Used Pesticide Container Recycling Program is about to get underway. Be sure to remove the label booklets, slipcover plastic labels and lids. The containers, after properly triple rinsed, must be left to dry inside and out including the threads of the neck. Stained containers that are otherwise clean are acceptable.

Locations in this area accepting the clean plastic containers within the Northeast Nebraska Resource Conservation and Development (RC&D) Council area includes Precision Agronomy, Wayne, 402-375-3510 and Farmers Co-op, Allen, 402-635-2175. Recycling clean plastic containers is a way of helping protect Nebraska's water and the environment. All properly pressure-rinsed or triple-rinsed 1.0 and 2.5 gallon plastic pesticide containers can be recycled. These used products are then turned into new 2.5 gallon pesticide containers, plastic pesticide shipping pallets, dimension lumber, fence posts and parking lot tire bumpers.

Please call the site for specific information on collection times. If interested in becoming a collection site, contact the RC&D office at 402-582-4866.

 Golf/Tennis elbow or tendinitis occurs when the tendons which attach muscles to bone become inflamed or irritated. Repetitive use can result in tiny tears in the tendon. Try resting the arm and wear a forearm strap or splint to reduce the pull of the muscles on the tendon. Apply an ice massage for five minutes three times a day. Speak to your doctor or pharmacist regarding the use of pain relievers such as acetaminophen or ibuprofen. Some physical therapy and exercise to strengthen muscles can help. A sports professional can also be consulted to correct improper technique.

College to host fitness challenge

Department of Health and Human Performance and Sport, Running/Walking, SHAPE and SPORTS clubs will sponsor the first Wayne State College Spring Run-Off at the Wayne State College Rec Center on Saturday, April 12 at 8 a.m.

A Kids Run and Fun event and a Runners Yoga Workshop will also be available free of charge. At the conclusion of the race, several awards will be given and refreshments will be provided by Pepsi along with music by Eddie Elfers and Jeff Howlet.

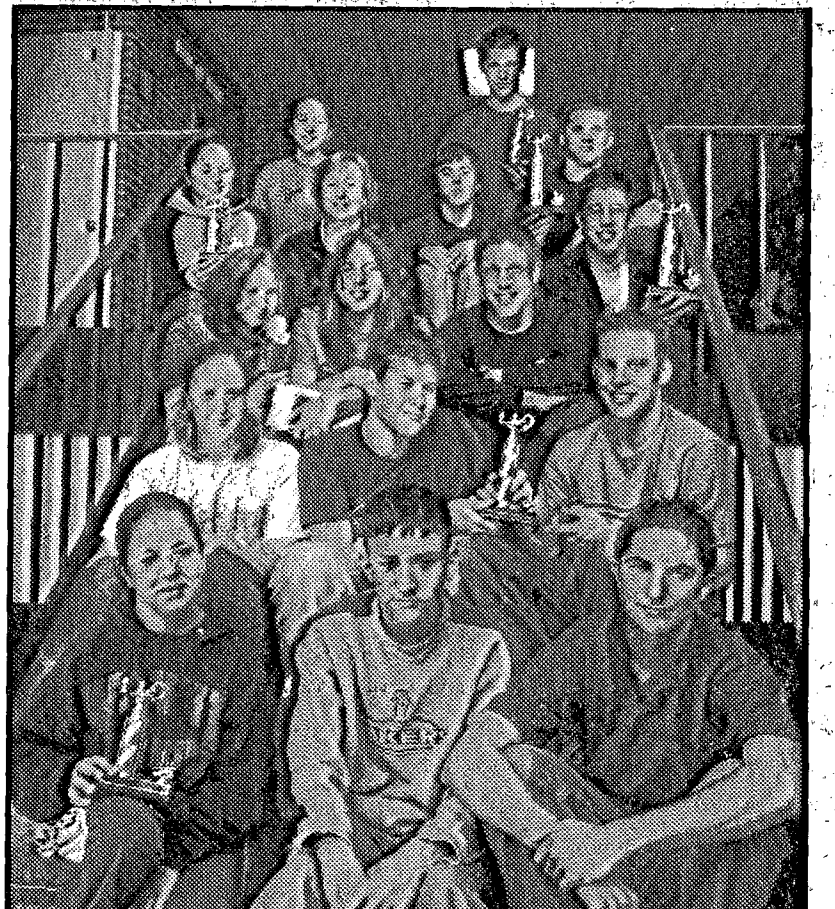

Former WSC track and cross country coach "Doc" Simpson and his wife Marian will act as honorary race officials. The Road Runners Club of America will be managing the race. The Simpsons retired after more than a quarter of a century of teaching and coaching at WSC. They reside in Woodland Park, Colo. and serve as volunteers at the Olympic Training Center, the United States Air Force Academy and the American Alliance for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance.

While in Wayne, Doc Simpson started the women's track program and coached numerous All-Americans. Marian Simpson worked with "Project Success" as a motor perception specialist. She serves as vice president for Dance in the Central District AAPERD, a professional organization that she has been active in throughout most of her career.

The American Alliance for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance (AAHPERD) is the largest organization of professionals supporting and assisting those involved in physical education, leisure, fitness, dance, health promotion, and education and all specialties related to achieving a healthy lifestyle.

SHAPE (Students Helping Achieve Physical fitness and Exercise) and SPORTS (Students Pursuing Opportunities Related to Sport) are Wayne State College student organizations that help develop interests and opportunities for students involved in the sports management field or in service-oriented activities.

Run-Off entry fee will be $10 for adults and includes a t-shirt. For more information, please call or contact Barbara Engebretsen, assistant professor in the Health and Human Performance and Sport Department, Rice 101, Wayne State College, 1111 Main Street, Wayne NE 68787, Phone (402) 375-7069 or Fax (402) 375-7024 or check out the Website at: www.wsc.edu for "Spring Run-Off" information and downloadable registration forms.

Students compete in convention

The Wayne High School German students competed successfully at the German Student Convention at Millard North High School on March 29.

The convention was one of the biggest in recent years, attracting 375 students and 22 teachers, primarily from the Omaha area, including schools from OPS, Bellevue, Omaha-Westside and Millard. It was a day with strenuous competitive events, as well as sessions on soccer, folk dancing, scissor-cut craft, German films, etc.

"The Wayne students did very well, earning five first place trophies and one for second place," said Edith Zahniser, German instructor at Wayne High School.

Wayne's music video, featuring the Rammstein song "Sonne," by Nathan Shapiro, Adem Rudin, Summer Bethune, Jeff Meyer, Charles Holm and Sarah Replogle received first place.

Nathan Shapiro and Adem Rudin won first place for their Power Point presentation.

The Eichendorff/ Glueck song "In einem kuehlen Grunde" brought another first place to Nathan Shapiro and Adem Rudin, together with Josh Austin, Jon Ehrhardt and Jeff Meyer.

There were several categories for baking. Britni Sprouls took home first for a fresh-fruit tart, and Katie Echtenkamp, Jessica Johnson and Allyson Karel received first for a short pastry cake.

This year's Wayne High German Club shirt won second place.

John Whitt was fourth in the Level I spelling contest. Other Wayne students competing were Ashley Bouck, Brandon Foote, Emlyn Mann, Adam Lutt and Todd Wical.

As in previous year, Mrs. Barb Lutt was one of the van drivers and Edith Zahniser was the other.

Support group to host speaker

The Pender Chronic Pain/Illness Support Group will be hosting a special speaker at the next monthly meeting on Monday, April 14.

Dr. Matthew Felber from Pender Mercy Medical Clinic, will be speaking on Irritable Bowel Syndrome, a common problem among the chronically ill. He will follow with a question and answer period.

The Pender Chronic Pain/Illness Support Group hopes that anyone in the community who needs the resources, education and support the group can offer will feel welcome to attend.

The regular monthly meeting is held the second Monday of each month at 7 p.m. in Pender at the House, Memorial Library, 220 Thurston Avenue.

Since chronic illness affects the entire family, not just the sufferer, family and friends are welcome to attend any meeting. Those attending are asked to bring questions and concerns to a safe, supportive and uplifting environment where they can learn to enrich themselves and others.

Diann Toler, co-facilitator of the group, is available at (402) 385-3010 to discuss personal needs and concerns with the group. She may be reached by email at dtoler@nebraska.com to request a list of topics for the coming year.

Ships blood in support of military

On April 1, the Siouxland Community Blood Bank shipped blood to the Mississippi Valley Blood Center, its designated "hub center" as part of the wartime contingency plan. The "hub center" based in Davenport, Iowa has sent blood directly to a military location.

The Siouxland Community Blood Bank, in conjunction with a national agreement made by America's Blood Centers and the Department of Defense, acts as a support center that ships replacement blood to "hub centers" in readiness for further requests for blood.

"We are not allowed for security reasons to disclose the amount that we have transferred," says Jan Twait, executive director of the Siouxland Community Blood Bank, "but we do encourage citizens to donate regularly either at our fixed site in Sioux City, or at a mobile blood drive in their community."

To help ensure an adequate blood supply regionally and nationally, for emergencies, the Siouxland Community Blood Bank initiated a "Call to Action" blood donor recruitment campaign. Locally, over 27 area hospitals rely on the Siouxland Community Blood Bank to provide blood and blood products for patients affected by surgery, accidents, cancer and disease. The blood bank may also assist nationally in disasters, critical blood shortages, and in the event of military action.

"The blood needs of our 27 regional hospitals will always be met first, but emergency needs are not predictable so we must be prepared," says Jan Twait. "The 'Call to Action' donor recruitment campaign will help encourage blood donations, and inform our community of blood inventory levels on a weekly basis."

It is vital that there be a steady flow of volunteer blood donors, maintaining the blood supply. "We encourage citizens to answer the 'Call to Action' and donate regularly throughout the year," says Jan Twait.

Last week, the Siouxland Community Blood Bank distributed over 1,000 units of blood. They need to collect blood to replace what has been used and continue to build the emergency supply. To be eligible to donate, individuals must be at least 17 years of age, in general good health and have not donated whole blood in the past 56 days.

For more information, contact the Siouxland Community Blood Bank at 712-252-4208, 800-798-4208, or visit their website at www.siouxlandbloodbank.org

Students on UN-K dean's list

Several University of Nebraska-Kearney students from the area were named to the Dean's List at UN-K for the fall 2002 semester. They are: Jeff Ensz, Amanda Maryott, Dustin Schmeits*, Heather Stauffer, and Kristin Wilson, all of Wayne; Ross Gardner of Wakefield; Aaron Lessmann of Winside; and Elizabeth Sohler* of Laurel.

To earn a place on the Dean's List, university students must complete 12 hours or more (for which quality points are awarded) with a grade point average of 3.5 or better on a 4.0 scale. Students earn a 4.0 for an "A," a 3.0 for a "B," and a 2.0 for a "C." Courses taken on a credit/no credit basis cannot be included among the necessary 12 credit hours, because quality points - A,B,C - are not awarded.

Students who earned a 4.0 (straight A's) average are noted by an asterisk by their names. In recognition of their academic achievements, students will receive a Dean's List Certificate from their respective deans.

Letters

Thanks to the community

Dear Editor,

This letter is sent with thanks to the volunteers and supporters of the American Cancer Society's 2003 Daffodil Days.

The Wayne County volunteers who worked on advance sales, promotion and coordination of the event continually prove their commitment in the fight against this disease.

The generosity of Wayne County residents was outstanding. Your donations will be used for the American Cancer Society's research, education and patient service programs.

Please visit our website at www.cancer.org or call the toll free number at 1-800-ACS-2345 to find out more about the services available for those dealing with cancer. These two sources of information are invaluable to cancer patients and their family or friends.

They are made possible through generous donations to the American Cancer Society.

Again, a sincere thank you goes out to all those who supported Daffodil Days.

We live as many, yet stand as one in the fight against cancer.

Community Specialist

Cuts will hurt state museum

Dear Editor,

On March 10, the University of Nebraska Administration announced its proposal to eliminate the entire research division of the State Museum as part of the Governor's mandated 10 percent cut of the University.

The implications of this proposal are staggering. It literally cuts the heart and soul from the State Museum. Scientific research is the engine that drives the Museum that the public is exposed to through outreach programs at the Ashfall Fossil Beds, Morrill Hall, and Trailside Museum.

The State Museum was established in 1871 as an academic unit of the University of Nebraska and includes over 14,000,000 artifacts and specimens, collected and preserved over the past 131 years. The Museum houses the earliest records of biodiversity in Nebraska and the Great Plains and serves as the repository for specimens for several state agencies. The Museum's fossil land animal collection is the second largest in the country.

It is no coincidence that the Museum's collection of fossils is so large and highly regarded. Nebraska is widely known as one of the most fossil-rich areas anywhere on earth. Important Nebraska fossils range from the earliest known flowering plants, to the incomparable complete skeletons at Ashfall, to the world's largest mounted mammoth skeleton.

Many of the fossils in the museum collections are one-of-a-kind specimens and scientists from around the world travel to Nebraska to study them. These collections and everything that is known about them are due to the research of our paleontologists and other scientists. Nebraskans who take pride in their natural heritage should take pride in the collections and staff that make the State Museum the timeless treasure that it is.

On March 14, twenty-two (22) museum staff in each division of research received letters of termination; this includes all six paleontologists on staff. Dr. Mike Voorhies, the paleontologist whose field work led to the discovery of the Ashfall Fossil Beds and whose research is widely responsible for the development and interpretation of the site, is among those whose positions are being terminated.

Greg Brown and Ellen Stepleton, who contributed significantly to the exposure of the skeletons at Ashfall are also being cut. These individuals will no longer be available to assist with future excavation and conservation of fossils at Ashfall. Dr. Voorhies will have no funding to continue research at the site (or anywhere in Nebraska for that matter).

Scientific work on Nebraska's 40-million-year record of prehistoric animals will cease or be taken over by well-funded groups of outsiders. No new exhibits of Nebraska fossil treasures will be mounted and existing exhibits at Ashfall, Morrill Hall and Trailside will suffer deterioration.

Compounding these losses, the proposal also cuts 38 percent from Ashfall's state funding. While the park operates as much as possible through revenues generated on-site, the cuts will reduce the number of students hired to provide interpretive demonstrations and other programs for visitors from five students to two.

Clearly, the ability for the Museum's outreach facilities to continue to provide quality programs without the resources of an expert research staff, well-managed collections, and sufficient student staff, is greatly diminished if not completely impossible.

Though this letter specifically addresses Nebraska fossils and paleontologists, you should be aware that the proposed cuts would also eliminate staff for the largest parasitology collection in the country, the fourth largest beetle collection in the world, archaeology collections, botany collection, and zoology collections. The cut would include dispersing some of these collections and leaving inadequate staffing for the care of those that remain.

The State Museum should be a point of pride in Nebraska, supported by all for the unique service it provides in both preserving our heritage and giving us access to it. Heritage is a living thing that does not cease when budgets are tight. Please don't let the preservation of it cease. Please contact your state legislator, members of the appropriations committee, and UN-L Chancellor Harvey Perlman if you feel that the State Museum is worth saving.

Sincerely,

Lynn Sobotka
President, Ashfall Chapter
Univ. of Nebraska State Museum

Purpose of meeting given

Dear Editor,

I am writing to help clarify any misunderstanding regarding some Nebraska legislators' participation at a recent public policy meeting in Las Vegas.

First and foremost, this annual task force summit, sponsored by the American Legislative Exchange Council (ALEC), is a valuable forum for state legislators to meet and discuss ideas with fellow colleagues from all over the country. All of the participants are committed legislators and leaders who advocate positive change in their respective legislatures. The last thing we want to do is leave a false impression about the hard work conducted at these meetings.

It was a mere coincidence that the Las Vegas meeting was held at the Venetian, a casino hotel. The meeting was scheduled before the Nebraska Legislature took up the issue of casino gambling this year, and the hotel was chosen on a bid basis.

Like Nebraska, nearly every state is facing similar problems such as budget shortfalls, the need to reform Medicaid and the need to improve education. In all these areas and more, ALEC provides some of the finest experts to address these complex issues. We're all about improving the condition of our states and nation.

For instance, during the Medicaid briefing we heard from several key panelists, including Dennis Smith, director of the Center for Medicaid and State Operations at the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services. We also heard from retired U.S. Army General Norman Schwarzkopf as well as former New York Mayor Rudy Giuliani. General Schwarzkopf shared some great advice on how to be an effective leader and urged all Americans to support U.S. troops fighting in Iraq.

At the Las Vegas summit, ALEC's individual national task forces provided the necessary resources, or scholarship funds, for state lawmakers to attend this meeting. These task forces - made up of legislators, policy experts and leaders in the private sector - play a critical role in shaping public policy. The scholarship is essentially reimbursement of expenses to attend its business meeting, which is very similar to the way most boards and commissions operate.

For more than 30 years, ALEC has been involved in ways to improve public policy both at the state and federal level, and I am proud of my involvement with this great organization. Past members include U.S. House Speaker Dennis Hastert, Health and Human Services Secretary Tommy Thompson and Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld.

With respect to ALEC meetings, it's important to note that nothing is ever paid for by Nebraska taxpayers, nor will I ever ask our taxpayers to provide such funding.

Nebraska Senator Pat Engel
ALEC State Chairman

Need to stand up for rights

Dear Editor,

I don't believe in Santa, but I'm not going to sue anybody for singing a Ho-Ho-Ho song in December.

I don't agree with Darwin, but I didn't go out and hire a lawyer when my high school teacher taught his theory of evolution.

Life, liberty or your pursuit of happiness will not be endangered because someone says a 30-second prayer before a football game.

So what's the big deal? It's not like somebody is up there reading the entire book of Acts. They're just talking to a God they believe in and asking him to grant safety to players and the fans going home from the game.

"But it's a Christian prayer," some will argue. Yes, and this is the United States of America, a country founded on Christian principles. And we are in the Bible Belt. According to our very own phone book, Christian churches outnumber all others 200-to-1.

So what would you expect - somebody chanting Hare Krishna? If I went to a football game in Jerusalem, I would expect to hear a Jewish prayer. If I went to a soccer game in Baghdad, I would expect to hear a Muslim prayer. If I went to a ping pong match in China, I would expect to hear someone pray to Buddha. And I would be offended. When in Rome

"But what about the atheists?" is another argument. What about them. Nobody is asking them to be baptized. We're not going to pass the collection plate. Just humor us for 30 seconds. If that's asking too much, bring a Walkman or a pair of ear plugs, go to the bathroom or visit the concession stand. Call your lawyer. Unfortunately, one or two will make that call. One or two will tell thousands what they can and cannot do. I don't think a short prayer at the football game is going to shake the world's foundations.

Christians are just sick and tired of turning the other cheek while our courts strip us of all our rights. Our parents and grandparents taught us to pray before eating, to pray before we go to sleep. Our Bible tells us to pray without ceasing. Now a handful of people and their lawyers are telling us to cease praying. God, help us. And if that last sentence offends you, well, just sue me.

The silent majority has been silent too long. It's time we let that one or two who scream loud enough to be heard know the vast majority don't care what they want... it is time the majority rules.

It's time we tell them, you don't have to pray... you don't have to say the pledge of allegiance, you don't have to believe in God or attend services that honor Him. That is your right and we will honor your right... But by golly, you are no longer going to take our rights away... we are fighting back... and we will WIN!!! After all the God you have the right to denounce is on our side.

God bless us one and all, especially those who denounce Him... God bless America, despite all her faults... still the greatest nation of all... God bless our service men who are fighting to protect our right to pray and worship. May 2003 be the year the silent majority is heard and we put God back as the foundation of our families and institutions. In God WE Trust.

Support local school system

Dear Editor,

I would like to make an appeal to the parents of Wayne Public School students and community members to right now take a stand of support for our Public Schools.

Now is the time for people who want to keep an excellent school system her in Wayne to stand behind the system in this time to state budget cuts.

Last week I was surprised to learn that if the proposed state budget cuts in education go into effect this year our system will lose over $430,000. The school system will have to cut back on needed supplies, cut back excellent programs of Vocational Technology and German language classes and lay off excellent teachers to deal with this financial cut-back.

As a parent and taxpayer, I have been a satisfied customer with the education that my children have received here in Wayne.

I am very concerned that financial cutbacks are going to weaken our school system. I have talked to school personnel who have said that this cutback will hurt not only our present students, but also future students quality of education.

Last week I went to the legislative forum and asked the senators why education must take such a deep cut. They said that the money is not there in the state and everyone is going to hurt over this. But they also said that they would be prioritizing budget cuts. They realize a straight across the board is not realistic.

That is where we are parents, and community members can do something. I appeal to you to write Senator Engel and other Nebraska senators and let them know that you as a parent, taxpayer and a voting citizen want the legislature to put public education as a priority in terms of state funding. Let them know that when it comes to cutting back on funds, they should see that you feel education should not be cut back, at least no to the extent that has been proposed.

We also may need to be willing to help do some personal and private funding to our school district if this budget cut actually takes place to help meet the needs to keep a great school system. I am grateful to our teachers and administrators for the quality education they have given my children. I have told them. If you have not told them recently, I encourage you to do so.

Thank you for responding to this appeal.

Tips help protect Nebraska consumers from identity theft

By Attorney General Jon Bruning
As Nebraska's Attorney General, I've made it a top priority to protect Nebraska consumers from identity theft.

In 2002, there were 1,076 fraud complaints in the State of Nebraska. Of those, 454 were identity theft complaints. Most people reporting identity theft had no idea how their personal identification was stolen. Typically, an identity thief will steal a person's Social Security number or other personal information to obtain credit in their name.

Despite an individual's best efforts to manage the flow of his or her personal information, skilled identity thieves may use a variety of methods to gain access to personal data. The thief assumes a person's identity by using personal information as if it were his or her own. They use it to open credit card accounts, rob bank accounts and retirement savings, obtain employment opportunities or make deposits on cars or housing. Of the 454 victims of identity theft in the State of Nebraska, nearly half resided in areas outside the cities of Omaha and Lincoln.

To help protect you from becoming a victim of identity theft, take the following steps:

*Don't carry your Social Security card, birth certificate or passport in your wallet or purse except when needed.

*Never have your Social Security number or your driver's license number printed on your bank checks.

*Order your credit report once a year from each of the three credit bureaus. Review the information for any unusual transactions.

*Use a paper shredder to carefully dispose of all materials that contain your Social Security number, bank account or credit card numbers.

*Never give personal information over the telephone to an unknown caller.

*Use a secure browser, regularly update your virus protection software and do not download files to your computer that were sent to you by strangers.

In an effort to address identity theft issues, in 2002 the Nebraska Unicameral passed the Personal Identity Defense Act. The Act defines identity fraud, provides criminal penalties and orders restitution for the costs incurred or losses suffered by the victim.

If you feel you have been a victim of identity theft or if you have any other type of consumer complaint, please contact the Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's Office toll free at 1-800-727-4384. Ask to receive a complaint form that you can fill out and return to our office, or fill out a complaint form online at www.ago.state.ne.us. Please, contact our office if you have any comments, or questions. Knowledge is power. Let us provide you with the tools that can help protect you from consumer fraud.

Guidelines presented for handling eggs

With spring in our midst, we begin to think about those things associated with spring, such as warm weather, the blooming of flowers, rain, baby bunnies and chicks.

Amy Topp
Extension Educator
4-H & Youth

We may even think about what different foods we will prepare with the change of the weather. Whatever the case, when handling eggs or preparing eggs, there are some things that should be remembered.

Guidelines for safely handling and preparing eggs

1. Wash hands, utensils, equipment and work areas with hot, soapy water before and after they come in contact with eggs and egg-containing foods.
2. USDA graded eggs are washed before the egg packer puts them into cartons. Eggs should not be washed at home.

3. At home, keep raw eggs in their original carton on an inside shelf in the refrigerator at 40 degrees or below. Eggs should be used within five weeks of being purchased.
4. Avoid keeping eggs out of the refrigerator for more than two hours, including time for preparing and serving (but not cooking).
5. Remove only the number of eggs needed from the carton and return the carton to the refrigerator immediately.
6. Keep hard cooked eggs refrigerated at all times, whether in the shell or peeled and use them with-

- in one week after cooking them. For an egg hunt, the total time for hiding and hunting the eggs must not be more than two hours.
7. When preparing any recipe that contains eggs, such as cookie dough, resist the temptation to taste-test the mixture during preparation. Egg-containing foods should be thoroughly cooked before eating.
8. Cook all eggs and dishes that contain eggs to the temperature of 165 degrees.

Good Friday service planned at Our Savior

Good Friday is a day traditionally set aside to reflect on the sufferings of Christ and our indebtedness to His sacrifice and death on the cross.

Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne will be dramatizing the last days of Jesus Christ, focusing on the Last Supper, the washing of His disciples feet, His time in Gethsemane and His betrayal and crucifixion.

Under the direction of Sherie Lundahl, Carolyn Harder and Sheryl Connolly, several members of Our Savior will contribute their musical and theatrical talents to this worship service. Those sharing their talents during this worship service will be the adult choir, Mitch DeBoer, John Dunning and numerous actors portraying the 12 disciples, the two thieves and the crowd that followed Jesus.

This special service will give worshippers the opportunity to examine the last hours of Christ, using music and prayer to examine the incredible suffering of the Great Teacher.

In addition to the special Good Friday Service, Our Savior will have worship with communion on Maundy Thursday, April 17 at 5:30 and 7:30 p.m.; a Saturday service at 6 p.m.; a Sunrise Service at 6 a.m. on Sunday and Festival Worship at 8 and 10:30 a.m. The youth of the congregation will be serving an Easter Breakfast from 7 to 10 a.m. on Sunday.

Week filled with music

Livestock Market Report

Last week's column was sitting in the fax machine on Wednesday morning when I started to use it for something else. Apparently, I dialed the number and it was busy and didn't go through, I didn't notice it, and didn't redial. Makes me mad when I go to a lot of trouble to keep this thing going when I'm out of the country, and then don't get it there when I'm 125 miles away.

Mother Nature played a trick on us this past weekend, though we didn't get the amount of snow that was predicted and not as much as you folks in Northeast Nebraska did. The Forsythia bush at the back door was completely in bloom on Friday, so it looks kind of droopy today.

This week in the PUSH week for the community choir I sing in in Lincoln. There is a concert in Columbus on Saturday eve, and the usual one in Lincoln on Sunday afternoon. Therefore, in addition to the regular rehearsal on Sunday afternoon, we have extra ones tonight (Monday) and Friday night. On Friday, we add the organ and brass and percussion. Since our director is the band director at Concordia, he has access to students with lots of ability. And the instruments add so much to the effect.

I have sort of enmeshed myself in music the past two weeks. The churches around here never seem to get through Lent without recruiting some extra organists. Since I don't consider myself an organist, I'm sort of, the last resort. But I can get a congregation through a service, and I have some well-worn piano and organ music for the season. So, I did two Lenten services at my church, and two Sunday mornings at the Methodist church in Murdock.

Unfortunately, this is often the only time of the year I practice. So, between the piano, the organ, and the choir concert, plus, our church choir rehearsing for Easter sunrise service, I've been

Youth compete in regional speech contest

Three 4-H'ers from Wayne County were among 4-H members from counties in the Northeast District who competed in the 2003 Regional Public Speaking Contest held April 5 at the Lifelong Learning Center in Norfolk.

The 4-H Public Speaking Program is designed to give young people the opportunity to speak before groups and tell the 4-H story. In the process, 4-H'ers improve their speaking skills and gestures, posture and movements become natural. This experience allows members to learn more about speech development and components involved in the art of public speaking.

All contestants qualified for district competition by being a top presenter in their county 4-H public speaking contest.

Contestants are judged on the basis of subject matter, organization, physical behavior, gestures, voice, effect and how well the subject is related to 4-H.

Participants and their ribbon placings, in the speech category from Wayne County were: Senior Division - Emilie Osten of Carroll - purple. Junior Division - Morgan Quinn of Winside, Red. Brandon Wurdeman of Wayne participated in the junior division of the Public Service Announcement category and received a blue ribbon.

getting a workout. I commented to the Big Farmers the other night, after I came from practice at Murdock, that being alone in an empty church is a very peaceful feeling. We should all do that once in awhile. Problem is, because of the world we live in, churches need to be locked now. So, I have to plan for when the secretary is there, or when the Ladies Aid is meeting in the basement.

I've committed to pray for our troops and for peace every night at 9 p.m. I got an e-mail stating that Churchill had asked the Brits to do so during WWII; and someone thought it would be a good idea for the US right now. I pray almost continually these days, but our church's commission on worship sent one that covers about everything, and I use it every eve.

Most gracious and merciful God, you hold all the power and might of this world in your hands, raising up rulers to govern the people in every land. Watch over this nation, its rulers, and all our people. Give wisdom to our President and all his advisers, to the members of Congress and to all who serve to execute justice in our land.

Guard and defend our soldiers whose lives are in peril. Give them courage as they enter into battle and comfort them through your Word with the good news of forgiveness, life and salvation through your Son. Grant wisdom to our military commanders, that their plans may lead to a swift conclusion to this conflict with a minimum of casualties.

Comfort the families of our soldiers who have been killed, wounded or taken prisoner. Give them lasting peace as they are reminded that your will never leave them nor forsake them. Watch over as well the civilians in Iraq. Enable us to provide for their physical needs, that they may dwell in peace and safety. Hear us for the sake of your dear Son, Amen.

I know this will be a Lenten season I will always remember, mainly because of the photos we are receiving from Iraq every day. Dare we hope that it will be over by Easter? We can hope and pray so.

Save water by limiting lawn watering during drought

Long-term forecasts predict Nebraska is in for another hot, dry, summer. Another scorcher will be tough on lawns, but homeowners can take steps to protect their turf and minimize water use, a University of Nebraska turfgrass specialist said.

Drought and water restrictions make water conservation a top priority this season, said Roch Gaussoin, turfgrass specialist in NU's Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources. Wise watering is also good for lawns.

"Many homeowners are notorious for applying too much water to their lawns," he said. "Water restrictions in 2002 actually resulted in better lawns because homeowners were not overwatering."

A drought year isn't time to think about keeping a lush, green lawn, he said. This spring and summer, lawns will require new management practices.

During spring, the goal should be to increase grass root development. This is important every spring, but it's essential during drought, he said. Strong roots that reach deeper into soil allow grass to better withstand hot weather and water stress.

Homeowners should avoid excessive nitrogen fertilization and consider core aeration, or plugging, to promote root growth and increase water infiltration, he said.

"Consider reducing your fertility applications this spring if drought and potential restrictions appear to be unavoidable," he said. "Rather than two fertilizer applications consider applying only one, possibly with a crabgrass preventer or pre-emergent herbicide."

The herbicide/fertilizer combination should be applied no earlier than April 15 and no later than the first week in May for optimal weed control.

Gaussoin recommends not mowing too low this spring. Instead of lowering the mowing height, set it at about 2.5 to 3 inches for Kentucky bluegrass and 3 to 4 inches for tall fescue. Using a higher mowing height will result in deeper roots.

"Do not remove grass clippings," he said. "Clippings are a great nutrient source and the organic matter addition helps conserve moisture."

This may not be the year to restore lawns thinned and damaged by previous years of drought, Gaussoin said. Previously, many municipalities that enacted water restrictions made allowances for establishing new lawns, but that may not be true this year, he said. Homeowners should check with local authorities about voluntary or mandatory guidelines for lawn establishment before seeding or sodding.

On established lawns this spring, irrigate deeply and infrequently, he said. "About an inch per week in a single irrigation will do. Do not put more water on than the soil can take. Runoff, especially during drought, is unacceptable."

During summer months, irrigation can be decreased and frequency increased. About a half-inch every two to three days for a total of 1.5 inches per week will do. If it rains, subtract the amount from weekly waterings.

Deadline approaching to register for youth institute

High school juniors and seniors interested in exploring agriculture issues and strengthening their leadership skills are encouraged to apply now for the 2003 Nebraska Agriculture Youth Institute (NAYI).

The event will be held July 13-17 in Lincoln. Approximately 120 students will be selected based on their leadership skills, interest and involvement in agriculture. The application deadline is April 15.

Austin Benes, Ag Youth Coordinator for the Nebraska Department of Agriculture and a former NAYI delegate, is overseeing the day-to-day planning of the Institute.

"NAYI is an outstanding program," Benes said. "It not only expands young people's understanding of agriculture, but it also develops the individual as well."

The five fun-filled days will include motivational speakers, discussion on agricultural issues and opportunities, a computer-simulated from management program, as well as a picnic, formal banquet and dance.

The Nebraska Agricultural Youth Institute is celebrating its 32nd year with the theme, "Blazing our Brand of the Future of Agriculture." Past delegates have come successful farmers, ranchers, senators, agribusiness men and women and educators.

The Nebraska Agricultural Youth Council, made up of 15 college-age men and women selected by the Nebraska Department of Agriculture, coordinates the event. The Council's purpose is to provide young Nebraskans with a better understanding of agriculture, including agricultural opportunities available to today's youth.

Applications are available through county extension educators, high school guidance counselors and agricultural education teachers. Those interested can also contact the Department of Agriculture at 1-800-422-6692 to receive an application.

Kaitlin Kietzmann, left, and Justin Puls, fifth graders at Wayne Middle School hold the rats that have been used to teach science.

Rats are teaching science

They're not exactly a welcome sight in your home, but kids at Wayne Middle School are thrilled with the rats that are helping teach science in their classroom, as part of the Rats Are Teaching Science (R.A.T.S.) program.

They are conducting experiments with two albino lab rats. These rats will help them gain hands-on experience with the scientific method while they explore nutrition.

Ellen Imdiecke's class will discover just how much milk does a body good by studying two bodies — those of two lab rats. Students weigh, measure and observe two rats as they grow up on exactly the same diet and the same number of calories, with one exception: milk.

Both rats eat meat, fruit, vegetables and grains. But the control rat drinks milk and the test rat drinks sugar water. The hypothesis: Rats drinking milk will be healthier, stronger and grow bigger.

Weekly, students weigh their rats on a metric scale and measure their tails in centimeters. Then they figure out the growth and plot their findings on a graph. The results: Milk does make a difference. The milk-drinking control rat benefits from the bone-building calcium and eight other essential vitamins and minerals milk and dairy foods provide.

At the end of the project, milk is added to the rat's diet to allow him to catch up to the control rat's size. R.A.T.S. is offered by the Dairy Council of Nebraska to 200 schools and reaches 17,000 students each year.

For more information, contact the Dairy Council at (402) 592-3355 or 1-800-279-2463.

What To Do About Fatigue & Drowsiness

There are many reasons why people get drowsy and sometimes suffer from bouts of fatigue. Pushing a deadline or studying for an exam is just one of many potential causes. Anytime the body experiences an infection it draws on various energy stores to fuel itself. In such cases the immune system may require extra energy which can leave a person feeling fatigued. Some medicines cause drowsiness as a side effect. Poor nutrition and dehydration are common causes of weakness and tiredness. Other health problems could be the cause.

Self correction of known causes of fatigue, such as staying up late or working extra hours, is a suggested first step. moderate amounts of caffeine from coffee or tea or from over-the-counter products such as No-Doz or Vivarin may improve concentration and increase energy. However, when contemplating the use of nonprescription stimulants, consult with a physician first to make sure there are no underlying medical problems that need to be addressed.

ACM Club to lead National Youth Service Day

ACM (Association for Computing Machinery) Club members will staff a display in the atrium of the WSC Student Center from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. for National Youth Service Day on April 11. The Youth Service America (YSA) organization awarded $1500 to the Wayne State College ACM through the State Farm Good Neighbor Service - Learning Awards.

Wayne State College's computer club, ACM is comprised of computer science and computer information system majors. The group's service-learning project is to design and ship computers to Ugandan children. They are also working with their Ugandan contacts to assure delivery where the need is the greatest. The $1500 award will be used to purchase equipment and pay for shipping. In addition to this project, the ACM Club is involved with projects to serve the local community and campus.

"We are committed to providing activities such as this to develop a service-learning attitude among our students at Wayne State College," said Lori Nicholson, ACM co-advisor and instructor of the School of Business and Technology. "The ACM club members are excited about this award as it allows them to help the Ugandan children fulfill their dreams of learning to use today's computers. We want to thank State Farm and Youth Service America for providing this award."

On April 11, ACM Club members will provide information about the Ugandan children's computers project and the club, answer technological questions and raffle off WSC T-shirts and Sweatshirts. Jean Lutt, instructor of the School of Business and Technology, is also a co-advisor of the club.

YSA awarded 150 service-oriented project grants from among 1,000 applicants through the organization's State Farm Good Neighbor Service - Learning Awards and AT&T Cares Youth Service Action Fund. State Farm Companies Foundation is the presenting sponsor of National Youth Service Day 2003.

National Youth Service Day is a celebration of the energy of young people and an opportunity to recognize the contributions they make in their communities every day. ## WSC offers Lewis and Clark workshops this summer

Three Lewis and Clark workshops are being offered by Wayne State College this summer.

Dr. Hal Stearns, a nationally-recognized researcher, historian and guide will conduct two of the workshops. The first, EDU 568-87, Tales of Lewis & Clark and the Mid-Missouri, is a two-day workshop at the Visitors' Center located near Gavins Point Dam south of Yankton, S.D. on June 2 and 3 from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day.

Appropriate for teachers and others interested in the history of Lewis and Clark, the workshop will consist of one day of presentations and a one-day field trip by motor coach to points of interest along the actual Lewis & Clark Trail between Onawa, Iowa and Yankton.

The workshop may be taken for one graduate hour of credit or for non-credit (if space is available); there is a charge of $45 for those taking it for non-credit. Those interested in camping at Lewis & Clark Lake during this time may call 605-668-2985. The workshop is limited to 40 participants.

Stearns will also lead a second workshop, EDU 568-88 Journeys: From Lewis & Clark to the Steamboat Era, will be held June 4 and 5 at DeSoto National Wildlife Refuge near Blair.

The workshop will include two morning presentations by Stearns at the DeSoto National Wildlife Refuge Visitor's Center, and two afternoon tours—one within the refuge that includes a program related to the excavated steamboat BERTRAND, and a second tour of Fort Atkinson at Fort Calhoun. The workshop may be taken for one hour of graduate credit or for non-credit (if space is available). There is a charge of $45 for those taking it for non-credit. A third Lewis and Clark workshop, HIS 568-90 Lewis Clark: Journey of Rediscovery Workshop, will be held from July 8-11. Taught by Rae Brown, award-winning educator from Pender, the workshop will include a four-day journey retracing a portion of the Lewis & Clark Expedition, one of the most dramatic and significant episodes in U.S. history.

Participants will visit, study and camp along the Lewis & Clark Trail from Blue Lake, Onawa, Iowa to Chamberlain, S.D. Everything, including food, will be provided. Participants will need to bring a sleeping bag.

The workshop may be taken for three hours of graduate credit or for non-credit. Cost is graduate credit plus a $200 fee to cover expenses for food, camping equipment, and transportation. Enrollment is limited; preference will be given to for-credit applicants; non-credit applicants will be placed on a waiting list. The non-credit fee is $135.00.

Enrollment deadline is June 27. To register, or for more information about any of the Lewis & Clark workshops, call the Wayne State College Office of Continuing Education at 800-228-9972, ext. 7217.
